

GOVERNMENT TO TRY TO INSTALL LABOR BOARD AS STEEL PEACE OFFICER

BIG COMPANY IS OBJECT OF NEW ATTEMPT

THREATENED STRIFE IN INDUSTRY CITED IN PETITION

WASHINGTON, July 6 (AP)—Warning that industrial warfare threatens, the government stepped into the steel union today as the struggle over unionization in the $5,000,000,000 industry headed rapidly into its first crucial phases.

With John L. Lewis spurring the drive to organize all 500,000 steel workers into one big union in defiance of the bitter opposition of employers, the National Labor Relations board re-opened a fight in the courts to force steel companies to accept the National Labor Relations act as a means of keeping peace.

The board announced it was petitioning the federal circuit court of appeals at New Orleans today in a new effort to enforce the act against the big Jones and Laughlin Steel corporation.

The petition said "the need for remedial legislation such as this act is now being amply illustrated by the threatened strife in the steel industry which will by its nature directly burden interstate commerce."

The act, among other things, guarantees the right of collective bargaining, seeks to outlaw employer-dominated unions and lists "unfair practices" for which employers could be penalized. It is now the subject of court battles in which its constitutionality is being challenged and defended.

The labor board some time ago issued an order directing Jones and Laughlin to cease alleged interference with its employees' attempts at self-organization and to take back ten discharged employees at its Allquippa, Pa., plant.

The board asked the court at New Orleans to enforce this order. The court refused, declaring that the steel laborers were engaged in manufacture, not interstate commerce, and that the con-

FLOOD BEGINS TO REGEDE IN SOUTH TEXAS

WATERS STILL COVER HUGE FARMING DISTRICT

VICTORIA, July 6 (AP)—Flood waters of the Guadalupe river began to recede rapidly but overflow still covered a vast farming area between Victoria and the Gulf of Mexico. No new casualties were reported.

The Red Cross chapter here was feeding 500 flood refugees and the Texas Relief commission was shipping in supplies of food, clothing, bedding and medical supplies.

Sanitation work was interrupted by the sudden death of Dr. O. S. McMullen, county health officer, who expired from a heart attack today.

The river's main channel here had fallen 2.3 feet to a stage of 31.2 feet. The stage upstream at Cuero was 25.9 feet, a fall from 43.2. Gonzales had a stage of 19.6, as compared with 38.4 at the peak. There had been no more rains on the river's watershed in the last 24 hours and when the Guadalupe dumps its burden into the Gulf, danger was believed alleviated.

Railroad and highway traffic was resumed between Victoria and San Antonio today, cars traveling by way of Nixon.

The highway between Cuero and San Antonio via Gonzales still was in bad condition but motorists were being allowed over it at their own risk.

Highway 128 was reopened through the Greta oil field nine miles north of Refugio for the first time in a week. A wild gasser near the highway had blocked that route.

From Rollo, Mo., comes news that the once isolated and distinctive hill communities in the Ozarks are going modern fast.

Automobiles, hard-surfaced roads and radios have knocked down barriers, bringing the outside world to the mountains.

"The old time Christian harmony and ballads rapidly are becoming a thing of the past," laments S. H. Lloyd Jr. of the psychology and sociology department at Rollo. Lloyd has studied the mountaineer and his family for 15 years.

"Fiddle music is being immensely influenced by radio," he says. "Teachers say the students prefer to get their versions of old time tunes from the so-called hill-billy bands on the air. These bands have jazzed up the music and altered the tempo until it sounds as much like Hawaiian as Ozarkian."

"The square dance, although still common, is being crowded out for amusements offered by the folk in town."

"Many of the younger generation drive to town on Sunday, so the itinerant pastor has retired to other fields. Much of the religious superstition no longer is accepted by those who have had the advantages of a few years' schooling."

Hill feuds mostly have ceased, Lloyd says—because "in his perambulations the Ozark dweller found there were simply too many persons who differed with him on this point or that to enable him to settle all difficulties with his fists, knife or gun."

This passing of the hill-billy jerks a bit at the heart. It recalls the time when we reached the age of seven, only to learn all about Santa Claus—and the subsequent disillusionment about the Easter bunny.

Now, that we know hill-billies, too, are about to become mythical, one fears it's going to take a long stretch of the imagination to tune in our radio, listen to a hill-billy burn long enough to light the match stems.

Three fire alarms yesterday sent the total for the month to six. The first call was to the west alley in the 100 block, North Cuyler street. It was a trash fire which was extinguished with water from the booster tank.

Both trucks were sent to the Dunaway Brothers Lumber yard at 1148 South Wilson street yesterday morning at 11:40 o'clock. The fire, in a bedroom, was confined to the one room and extinguished with water from a nearby plug. Spontaneous combustion was believed to have caused the blaze. The fire was in a small house in the yard.

Yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock a truck was dispatched to extinguish a trash fire in the draw on Houston street between Francis and Browning avenues.

It was 71 at 11 a. m. today and 72 at 2 o'clock this afternoon. The sun had failed to make an appearance up to that hour, and skies were overcast.

Hail and rain to the south and west yesterday afternoon are believed to be responsible for the cooler weather which was being enjoyed here today.

Four Men Scheduled To Die in Chair On Friday

AUSTIN, July 6 (AP)—The Board of Pardons and Paroles recommended adversely on a clemency plea of Glenn Warren, sentenced to electrocution Friday for the murder of C. E. Cansler, Sr., aged Zavalla resident.

The board also recommended against commutation of death sentences assessed Oscar and Mack Couple Brown, negroes, in Refugio county for the murder of Byron Belschner, Edna filling station operator, in Jackson county last July 12.

A report on the clemency plea of a fourth man scheduled to be electrocuted Friday, Grady Warren, was delayed by the board pending a hearing of his family.

Edward Clark, secretary to Gov. James V. Allred, said the governor would announce his decisions on the four cases Thursday.

Glenn Warren was convicted in Angelina county of the murder in 1934 which occurred during a robbery. He was jointly indicted with Bernard Lacome, who has been executed, and Roy Cusack, who was sentenced to life imprisonment.

When he was sentenced June 1, Warren addressed a strong denial of guilt to the court, contending one of the three men killed Cansler and the other two were innocent. Clark said the pardon board's report expressed the opinion that Warren was equally guilty.

Awaiting study of the governor was a petition in Warren's behalf, contending the death penalty should not be consummated on the grounds he should not have been convicted of murder for his part in the robbery.

A bizarre angle was injected into the case Saturday when Albert Warren, Glenn's father, was shot to death near Zavalla. M. H. Cansler, son of C. E. Cansler Sr., surrendered to police.

Officers said they were informed Warren was shot after an argument over where Glenn Warren was to be buried.

Grady Warren, not related to Glenn, was convicted of the murder of E. C. Brown in Smith county. Brown was beaten to death in a robbery. Two juries rendered death penalty verdicts against Grady Warren, the second in Upshur county, after the court of criminal appeals had reversed the first conviction.

TYLER, July 6 (AP)—Four Gilmer citizens who did not know Grady Warren, convicted murderer, or his family before the crime for which he is sentenced to die, said today they had banded together to save him from the electric chair.

Carroll Florence, Gilmer attorney and brother of Leslie Florence, said Sheriff J. W. Bright of Upshur county, the Rev. A. A. Clifton, Baptist minister, and R. W. Taylor, chairman of the Gilmer Methodist

Pampa took its place as an air-minded city in the Denver Air circus staged Saturday and yesterday at Denver, Colo., according to a message received by the Texas Eagle club here.

Frank Shaw, one of Pampa's first pilots, placed second in the 800 cubic inch displacement free-for-all race on Saturday afternoon. Shaw flew the new Cessna monoplane recently purchased by Howard Bean, local oil man.

First place in the event went to Lee Miles of Wichita, Kan., also flying a Cessna monoplane. Miles is well known in local aviation circles and to air-minded Pampans. Miles won several events in the air show staged here during the Panhandle Centennial Celebration.

It had not been learned here this morning whether Shaw placed in any events yesterday.

Cooling Breeze Welcomed Here

Pampans were sighing with relief today as cooling breezes, which blew in Sunday evening, had sent the thermometer down to the 70s after a three-week stretch of blistering weather.

Saturday and Sunday were hot days. At mid-afternoon yesterday the mercury in Pampa registered 101. At 5 p. m. it had turned back to 92, and at 1 a. m. today was down to 66 degrees.

It was 71 at 11 a. m. today and 72 at 2 o'clock this afternoon. The sun had failed to make an appearance up to that hour, and skies were overcast.

Hail and rain to the south and west yesterday afternoon are believed to be responsible for the cooler weather which was being enjoyed here today.

NEW RECORD HUNG UP BY SPEED RACER

English Captain Drives Car 162.5 Miles An Hour On Salt Flats Of Utah.

BONEVILLE, SALT FLATS, Utah, July 6 (AP)—Capt. George Eyston, steel-nerved English speedster, drove his shark-nosed racer to a new world's one-hour record with an average speed of 162.5 miles an hour today.

In setting the new mark in his specially-built Rolls Royce, Eyston bettered his own former record of 159.3 miles an hour.

Official AAA timers caught the record.

Three Injured, 4 Cars Damaged In Road Crashes

Two cars were so badly damaged in a collision east of the city on U. S. Highway 60 early Sunday morning that they could not be towed to Pampa by a wrecker. Five passengers in the cars escaped serious injury.

While three of the passengers, Mrs. Josie Young and her two children, were being placed in a G. C. Malone ambulance another car crashed into the wreckage and was badly damaged. No one was injured in that crash.

Before the wreckage could be removed from the highway, another car ran into it. Again no one was injured.

County and city officers investigated the accident but left no reports at the sheriff's office or at the police station. Names of the drivers of the cars could not be learned today because of absence of investigating officers from the city.

Mrs. Young was treated at Pampa-Jarratt hospital for a severe cut on her head and a laceration on one leg. The two children were hospitalized after emergency treatment. Mrs. Young and children were on their way home from Canadian with S. C. Bowers when the accident happened.

People You Know

Men who have animals for friends do not have to depend so much on the frailties of mortals, and that brings up the touching story of Pony Grey and his master which the two gave in pantomime at Studer's Anvil Park rodeo.

The horse stepped into a hole and fractured his leg. His master tore his clothing in strips and bound the leg in splints. The pony struggled to his feet and limped slowly homeward to the distant ranch, led and encouraged by his loving master. Hours later, the man, overcome by heat, collapsed and lay still on the ground. The faithful horse, though it caused excruciating pain, fell to the earth beside his friend, the man who had saved his life instead of putting a bullet through his brain. The master finally recovered sufficiently to crawl across the saddle. Once more, the pony struggled to his feet and hobbled off toward the ranch house with his master.

SPY IS GIVEN 15 YEARS FOR HELPING JAPS

SOLD NAVY SECRETS TO KINGDOM OF JAPAN

LOS ANGELES, July 6 (AP)—America's first peace-time spy, Harry Thomas Thompson, former United States Navy yeoman, was sentenced by Federal Judge Leon Yanovich today to 15 years in federal prison.

The judge in sentencing Thompson, convicted of conspiracy to sell secret navy information to an agent of Japan, said he took into consideration the youth of the defendant in failing to impose the maximum sentence of 20 years. He said also that Thompson was not of "the criminal type."

The court, however, severely denounced the convicted spy, declaring "the highest quality of man is loyalty and we have the right to expect loyalty to all human associations."

"That is why the name of Judas Iscariot has been execrated through the ages," said the judge. "He betrayed for silver."

"You've been convicted of a most serious offense which strikes at the very foundation of the nation, espionage in matters relating to the national defense."

"You were paid to secure information—secret information—as to naval matters and movements which would help the kingdom of Japan."

Weldon Smith Stricken While Running Grader

Weldon Smith, maintainer-man for Precinct 2, Gray county, was found about 11 o'clock this morning lying unconscious by the side of his machine west of the Cabot company Kingsmill plant. He was rushed to Worley hospital in a Charlie Duenkel ambulance where preliminary diagnosis revealed a probably acute attack of appendicitis.

Smith told attending physicians that he felt a pain in his side when he jumped from the machine earlier in the morning. He said the pain struck him again while near the Cabot company plant and that he remembers cutting the motor and falling. Cabot employees carried him to the plant where first aid was given.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Smith, farmers west of Pampa. He resides on West Foster avenue.

The Pampa fire department has a new "toy" of which it's justly proud. It is a 55-foot American LeFranc extension ladder, the gift of R. G. Allen of the Cabot Co.

The ladder will reach the top floor of Pampa's tallest building, the Combs-Worley five story building. The tip of the ladder will reach the window sill of the top floor when the base is placed 13 feet from the wall.

Only short two-length ladders have been available in the past.

Among out-of-town attorneys who came to Pampa today to participate in district court actions were Clem Chahoun, Amarillo; Dennis Reynolds, Shamrock, and Thurman Adkins, McLean.

BORAH ANNOUNCES FLATLY HE WILL NOT BOLT GOP TICKET

BOISE, Idaho, July 6 (AP)—Senator William E. Borah (R-Idaho) announced flatly today that he "will not bolt the Republican ticket."

At the same time, the veteran statesman declined to deny or confirm the statement of a friend that he will seek reelection to the office he has held 30 years.

"I have no intention of bolting the ticket," the dean of the Senate said in an interview.

He added: "I am supporting the platform and I have been supporting the platform from the beginning. "I had very considerable to do with making it."

17 Jap Rebellion Leaders Will Die

5 Others Sentenced To Prison for Life

TOKYO, July 6 (AP)—A special court martial early today sentenced 17 leaders of the February 26 rebellion to death and five others to life imprisonment.

The charges against them included murder, rebellion, and disobedience to the commands of the emperor himself.

It was in this rebellion that the premier Admiral Ketsuke Okada, narrowly escaped assassination. Three other statesmen were killed.

Shortly after midnight February 26 the officer-leaders of the coup ordered some 1400 men under their command out of their barracks in Azabu ward and marched them to the heart of the capital.

No Arrests Are Made in City in Week-End Period

An unusually quiet and sane Fourth of July holiday period was reported Monday by attaches of the Gray county sheriff's office who said that there were no arrests Saturday night or Sunday and no fatal accidents were reported in the city or county.

Sheriff's deputies expressed the belief that raids of Friday night which resulted in 12 arrests in various Pampa resorts had turned down the damper in the city proper.

A sheriff's squad made the rounds again at midnight Saturday. Deputy O. T. Lindsey said today they found few traces of disorder.

Vigilance to preserve order will be maintained, he said, and a systematic check will be kept on places about which complaints have recently been received.

Several arrests in the Friday night round-up are scheduled for trial this week, following pleas of not guilty at the time of arraignment in justice court Saturday.

Atty. Bruce L. Barker, of Pampa, had a narrow escape from death in a river swimming hole on the Parker ranch, north of Higgins.

Parker, one of a party enjoying the week-end Fourth of July holiday as guests of his father, Pearl Parker, struck his head on a ledge in a dive from the river bank.

The accident happened about 6 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Parker was knocked unconscious and was rescued from the water by other swimmers.

It was ten minutes before his rescuers were able to restore consciousness. For a time it was feared his neck had been broken.

Parker was able to be around Monday but still was suffering from a sprained back and is under the care of a doctor.

DROUGHT-HEAT BOOST PRICES IN GRAIN PITS

SPRING WHEAT CROP IS ABOUT GONE, SAY REPORTS

CHICAGO, July 6 (AP)—Wheat and corn prices shot up the full fluctuations in the seventh consecutive crop failure in the spring wheat belt. Canadian advices indicated grain growing in sections of the prairie provinces also was damaged seriously.

July wheat was bid up to around $1.06 and December was around $1.07 5-8 within two cents of its 1935 peak. Wheat prices have advanced more than 12 cents a bushel in two weeks and were now 23 to 25 cents higher than they were a year ago.

Strength on grain values found a sustaining factor in Washington official forecasts of widespread unseasonable high temperatures and little moisture this week. Domestic mills were reported as buying all winter wheat available southwest with the movement from farms apparently having passed the season's apex.

Provisions rose with hog values and with grains.

Around 11:15 a. m., wheat was 4 5-8 4 7-8 cents higher compared with Friday's finish, July 1.05 5-8, September 1.06 1-4, and corn was 3 7-8 4 cents up, September 75 1-8, December 10 1-8.

HOUSTON RAILROADERS WILL PLAY ROAD RUNNERS TONIGHT AND TUESDAY

SP. NINE WINS 3-0 DECISION FROM PHILLIPS

VISITORS TO DISPLAY ONE OF BEST CLUBS OF SEASON

Panhandle baseball was in another hectic week-end in which the Pampa-Dancer Road Runners split games with the Huber Black-faces and the Amarillo-Phillips nine won a slugfest from the Borger champions. Then Houston's Southern Pacific Railroaders came along to down the high-stepping Amarilloans.

Tonight at Road Runner park, the Houston semi-pro champions will tangle with the Road Runners and tomorrow night the same two teams will meet again. Game time will be 8:30 o'clock with admission 40 cents for men and 25 cents for women.

Yesterday afternoon in Amarillo the Railroaders won a 3 to 0 game from Phillips. Lefty Parks let the Parrots down with three scattered hits. Coburn was nicked for only six singles, including a pair of doubles, but two costly errors helped the Houston cause.

The Road Runners will take the field tonight with Al Summers on the bench. The fiery little Summers was injured Saturday in Borger when Spencer crashed into him at second base. His knee was bruised but no bones were broken. X-ray pictures taken yesterday revealed Summers is undergoing treatment and may be able to play tomorrow night.

With Summers out of the lineup, Manager Sam Hale will have to be at third base so that Don Bailey can go to second. Hale was unable to play Saturday because of a wrist injury received here Friday night when he was struck by a pitched ball. Although the wrist on the throwing arm is not better, Hale will be able to play tonight. Gene Poindexter, who has been hitting the ball at a fast clip the last few weeks, will go to left field in place of Bailey.

Several members of the Road Runner team saw yesterday's game in Amarillo. They returned with the report that Houston has one of the best teams to enter the Panhandle this year. The players, in a like clock-work in the field and are at the plate cutting all the time.

Shortstop Higgins, cousin of the one and only "Pinkie" Higgins, has a remarkable throwing arm. Andrus, rightfielder, is one of the many powerhouse hitters being developed by a single and double yesterday.

Parish, a speedball righthander, will be on the mound tonight. Manager Hartrick told the Pampanns. Tomorrow night he will send Partrischer, a young left-handed pitcher, to the mound. Both hurlers warmed up yesterday after the long train ride from Houston.

Manager Sam Hale will probably start Lee Daney tonight, with the selection tomorrow a toss-up. Daney has been having a fine season the past few weeks. He pitched less than an inning Saturday in Borger and was charged with the loss of the game.

Abilene Youth Loses Tournney To Cowtown Boy ABILENE, July 6. (P)—Derald Lehman, Fort Worth, Sunday won over J. P. Bohannon, Abilene, in the Abilene invitation golf tournament final, a match in which youth was served and a tradition was preserved.

Abilene, which falls in Abilene almost as regularly as a golf tournament is held here, beat down during the last half of the match. It had no effect on the outcome, however. The Fort Worth youngster had taken a six-hole lead, and during the dry morning round, and coasted through the matinee to win, 6 and 5.

The final showing for both contenders was poor in comparison with form that marked their earlier play. Bohannon strayed fourteen strokes from par for the 31 holes and the winner was nine over Lehman brightened the match with an incoming par 35 in the morning, a spurt which sewed up the victory.

First prize in the consolation division went to Gordon Young, Dallas, for the second successive year when Don Schumacher, also of Dallas, defaulted.

Peewees, Borger, Danciger Win Tilts By Large Scores

66 Juniors Hold Foes Scoreless for 4 Innings

The Magnolia Peewees, the Danciger Little Road Runners and the Borger Christians beat the second division clubs in the Junior baseball league by lopsided scores yesterday afternoon.

Borger chalked up the most impressive victory, trouncing Mc's Pirates 12 to 3 in five innings. The game was played at Shaw Park, and the juniors had to vacate the diamond for two other clubs.

The dashing Danciger lads came from behind in the fifth inning to blast Phillips 20 to 4 at the local park. Phillips led 2 to 0 until the first of the fifth.

Opens With Homer. Duane Turcotte, Hoover catcher, was the first man up for Hoover and he scored a home run on a fly that could have been caught under favorable circumstances. That was the last time Hoover scored until the first of the ninth inning, their last time at bat when they run in four tallies. The Peewees lambasted their older and bigger rivals with a barrage of base hits and 21 runs, 14 of which were scored in the eighth inning.

The Phillips boys collected 10 hits off Matt Keyser, as follows: Isler 1, F. Vanderberg 1, Esslinger 1, N. Cox 3, Sharp 2, S. Cox 1, E. Vanderberg 1. The fledglings got only three hits off Norman Cox in the first four innings, but thereafter they hit frequently and effectively for a total of 14 bingles.

Little Keyser started the rally for Danciger by knocking in two runs. Nicholson got three hits, Denver Hubert two, McGahy 2, and Keyser, who pitched a nice game, Bailey, and Cunningham also hit. Phillips made three errors, compared with four for the Pampa team. However, the Phillips weakness was on the mound. Pitchers who succeeded Cox threw about 15 passed balls. Keyser whiffed a flock of batters. He had his out-drop working pretty well.

The lineup: Phillips—N. Cox p, Sharp c, S. Cox 1b, Fred Vanderberg 2b, Esslinger 3b, Isler 3b, Haughwout if, E. Vanderberg cf, Moddrell rf. Danciger—Keyser p, Cunningham c, Bailey 1b, Hubert 2b, Nicholson 3b, McGahy ss, Crane if, Boyington of.

Sharp, the Phillips catcher, a slip of a kid, drew the admiration of spectators and players by catching just about everything that was thrown over the plate. He impressed the stands by throwing two would-be base-thiefs out at second.

All Peewees Hit. Every one of the Peewees hit. E. W. Hogan started on the mound for Hoover but he was knocked out by the fourth and he was replaced by Dude Cole. Hogan going to first. In the latter part of the game, the Peewees began hitting Cole all over the field, and Hogan again took the mound. Mills, Reed and Claude Heiskell hit two doubles. Reed went the route for the Peewees giving up a total of eight hits.

The lineup and hits: Peewees—Grover Lee Heiskell ss, 1; Buckingham 2b, 1; Mills 3b, 2; Claude Heiskell 1b, 4; Foster if, 2; Deat cf, 1; Avild; Tiedwell rf, 1; Reed p, 2. The Peewee hits totaled 18.

Hoover—Turcotte c, 1; Colvin 2b, 1; E. W. Hogan p, 1; Maddox 1b, 1; C. Hogan rf, 0; Johnston cf, 1; Cole 3b and p, 2; C. Lewis if, 0. Hoover whiffed 10.

Sunday Schedule. Borger got 13 hits off T. Simmons and Barnett, one of them a triple by White and another a double by Nolan. LeFors hits were made by Carruth who smacked a triple and by Garner and Barnett who hit singles.

Sluggers Beat Canadian 23-10 The Pampa Sluggers tamed the Canadian bats for the third time Friday night when the Pampanns slugged out a 23 to 10 victory under the lights at Canadian.

De Ann Heiskell pitched great ball excepting in the fifth inning when she threw two home run balls which accounted for six runs. Besides holding the Willets in check, she scored five runs. Doris Gee pooled out a home run with one on in the first inning to put the Sluggers out in front.

Most of the Canadian runs were scored on four-ply wallops which went to Verker, Owens and Hayes. Owens was the Canadian pitcher. Heiskell's fast ball was working to perfection. She fanned 16 opposing batters and walked three. Owens fanned six.

TRIBE SPLITS DOUBLEHEADER WITH DALLAS

Huga Klaerner, broad-shouldered freshman from Fredericksburg, Tex., silenced the big bats of the Dallas Steers and dropped the league-leaders yesterday with a one-hit performance which gave his Oklahoma City teammates a 2 to 0 victory in the second game of a double bill.

Jim Mosoff, chairman of the Texas league at present, propelled a looping hit in short left in the seventh and final inning to rob Klaerner of his perfect game.

Dallas took the opener, 7-6, barely staying off a rally in the ninth which netted four runs for the Indians.

The Beaumont Exporters clung firmly to their second-rung perch on the loop ladder, squeezing out a 4-3 victory over the San Antonio Missions.

His ninth victory of the season came as Johnny Stevenson, young right-hander, led down the Galveston Buccaneers with six hits to give the Houston Burfs a 7 to 1 victory.

The win pushed the Houston nine into the first division but only for a while. A few hours later Tulsa turned back Fort Worth, 8 to 2, and went back into fourth place by two points.

Sports Roundup

NEW YORK, July 6. (P)—Is that Cincinnati team going, or is it going? ... And we hope to let you, good old Glenn Cunningham showed his best at a long or two down at Princeton, Saturday.

Looks like a sell-out for the all-star game at Boston tomorrow ... You can find plenty of dough around if you want to bet on the National league.

The jinx continues to trail Danny MacFayden of the Bees ... He has tried and failed six times to hang up his ninth victory of the season ... The Dodgers aren't the only daffy folks in Brooklyn ... fifty flatbush fans went all the way to Philadelphia to see the Stengeles bunched off twice on the fourth.

Joe Gould, who has been flirting with Mike Jacobs, went to the boat to see Col. John Reed Kilpatrick, president of Madison Square Garden, off to Europe ... Today's football special: a 195-pound, six-foot, two-high school tackle who wants to go to college ... Coaches can have his name on request ... Why are there so many more 300 hitters in the American league than in the National?

BAER CLAIMS TEXANS' BOOS UNJUSTIFIED

BIG PALOOKAS WOULD NOT FIGHT, HE DECLARES DALLAS, July 6. (P)—Outspoken Ancil Hoffman, guardian of Livermore's most prominent butcher man, Maxie Baer, doesn't mind admitting the Jewish lad's brush-beating "comeback campaign" net, in addition to considerable boozing, something between $3,000 and $4,000 weekly.

He said so after conferring with James J. Johnston of Madison Square Garden by telephone over a possible Baer-Jack Sharkey reunion. Hoffman didn't exactly snub a fight with the aging Boston tar, but he did remark "it would take lots of potatoes to get Maxie in there with Sharkey." This fall.

They booted the former champion on his recent swing through the Texas "potato" belt. Maxie protests it wasn't his fault. "That Indian guy, Wilson Dunn, I fought at San Antonio, ought to be back on a reservation," he growled. "I tried to fight him but he just wanted to butt."

At Dallas, one Buck Rogers, who demanded $500 to fight Maxie—but didn't get it—pulled his head in a shell and covered before Baer's light taps ... The fans, incensed at last-minute announcements that Buddy Baer and Tony Herrera, two other attractions, could not fight because of injuries, yowled ... Let it be said for Baer that he tried to punch Rogers and finally did land a short right that dropped him ... "You can't knock a fellow out by hitting him on the back," Maxie said later.

Hoffman, believes Maxie is rounding into shape for the tour ... He stands alone in that belief ... Others fear motoring from town to town, sometimes on overnight jumps, is doing Baer no good ... His work is light even after he reaches his destination.

A ball player has to be able to take it, and there is no reason why he shouldn't when he is well paid as Mungo.

The South Carolina planter made no hit with officials of other clubs or his teammates in deserting the "Platfish" frigate when it needed help most.

Branch Rickey, director of the St. Louis Cardinals, who made many offers for Mungo, spoke for other club heads when the fireball king jumped.

"I don't want Mungo now," said Rickey. "I wouldn't claim him at the waiver price."

"Mungo isn't as good a fellow as I thought he was," asserted one of the Dodgers. "He feels that he was pitched against by the Pirates. He was in the game less than two innings and walked a half dozen. I wonder if he thinks errors by infielders and outfielders put those six runners on the bases?"

"Van erred when he quit the team, and erred again when he popped off in Brooklyn."

"You bet I'm peeved," barked Mungo when he left the Dodgers flat in Pittsburgh. "Why shouldn't I be peeved? I've been mismanaged and mishandled. By who? By Casey Stengel, that's who. I've had my troubles with him before. I've always given everything I had for the club."

"Sure, I exploded. Why shouldn't I? I'm in baseball to win games and benefit myself. But the way I've been mismanaged, the sort of semi-pros I've had backing me up and losing off ball games for me is enough to burn a fellow up."

"I want to be traded. Make no mistake about that. I believe that I can benefit myself and also help the Brooklyn club if it would send me somewhere else. As it is, I'm not satisfied."

But Mungo wasn't traded, and under the circumstances, things can't be too pleasant for him with the Dodgers.

There is little question but that Stengel's future as manager of the Brooklyn club was thrown into jeopardy by the act of insubordination on the part of the pitching ace.

What makes Stengel's future all the more uncertain is the fact that Mungo's desertion came within a month after Outfielder Freddie Lindstrom quit the club. Lindstrom did not leave in a huff, as did Mungo, who is the team's most valuable player, but the fact remains that he refused to continue. Lindy gave a minor leg injury as the excuse for his decision to retire.

NEW YORK—With the time limit on a major league player exchange expired and Van Mungo back with the Brooklyn Dodgers, the large right-hander no doubt now agrees with his roommate, William Watson Clark, that he made a mistake in running away.

A ball player has to be able to take it, and there is no reason why he shouldn't when he is well paid as Mungo.

Peewees, Borger, Danciger Win Tilts By Large Scores

66 Juniors Hold Foes Scoreless for 4 Innings

The Magnolia Peewees, the Danciger Little Road Runners and the Borger Christians beat the second division clubs in the Junior baseball league by lopsided scores yesterday afternoon.

Borger chalked up the most impressive victory, trouncing Mc's Pirates 12 to 3 in five innings. The game was played at Shaw Park, and the juniors had to vacate the diamond for two other clubs.

The dashing Danciger lads came from behind in the fifth inning to blast Phillips 20 to 4 at the local park. Phillips led 2 to 0 until the first of the fifth.

Opens With Homer. Duane Turcotte, Hoover catcher, was the first man up for Hoover and he scored a home run on a fly that could have been caught under favorable circumstances. That was the last time Hoover scored until the first of the ninth inning, their last time at bat when they run in four tallies. The Peewees lambasted their older and bigger rivals with a barrage of base hits and 21 runs, 14 of which were scored in the eighth inning.

The Phillips boys collected 10 hits off Matt Keyser, as follows: Isler 1, F. Vanderberg 1, Esslinger 1, N. Cox 3, Sharp 2, S. Cox 1, E. Vanderberg 1. The fledglings got only three hits off Norman Cox in the first four innings, but thereafter they hit frequently and effectively for a total of 14 bingles.

Little Keyser started the rally for Danciger by knocking in two runs. Nicholson got three hits, Denver Hubert two, McGahy 2, and Keyser, who pitched a nice game, Bailey, and Cunningham also hit. Phillips made three errors, compared with four for the Pampa team. However, the Phillips weakness was on the mound. Pitchers who succeeded Cox threw about 15 passed balls. Keyser whiffed a flock of batters. He had his out-drop working pretty well.

The lineup: Phillips—N. Cox p, Sharp c, S. Cox 1b, Fred Vanderberg 2b, Esslinger 3b, Isler 3b, Haughwout if, E. Vanderberg cf, Moddrell rf. Danciger—Keyser p, Cunningham c, Bailey 1b, Hubert 2b, Nicholson 3b, McGahy ss, Crane if, Boyington of.

Sharp, the Phillips catcher, a slip of a kid, drew the admiration of spectators and players by catching just about everything that was thrown over the plate. He impressed the stands by throwing two would-be base-thiefs out at second.

All Peewees Hit. Every one of the Peewees hit. E. W. Hogan started on the mound for Hoover but he was knocked out by the fourth and he was replaced by Dude Cole. Hogan going to first. In the latter part of the game, the Peewees began hitting Cole all over the field, and Hogan again took the mound. Mills, Reed and Claude Heiskell hit two doubles. Reed went the route for the Peewees giving up a total of eight hits.

The lineup and hits: Peewees—Grover Lee Heiskell ss, 1; Buckingham 2b, 1; Mills 3b, 2; Claude Heiskell 1b, 4; Foster if, 2; Deat cf, 1; Avild; Tiedwell rf, 1; Reed p, 2. The Peewee hits totaled 18.

Hoover—Turcotte c, 1; Colvin 2b, 1; E. W. Hogan p, 1; Maddox 1b, 1; C. Hogan rf, 0; Johnston cf, 1; Cole 3b and p, 2; C. Lewis if, 0. Hoover whiffed 10.

Sunday Schedule. Borger got 13 hits off T. Simmons and Barnett, one of them a triple by White and another a double by Nolan. LeFors hits were made by Carruth who smacked a triple and by Garner and Barnett who hit singles.

The lineup: Peewees—Sangster ss, Robertson 2b, White 1b, Nolan rf, Hensley 3b, Dillon Wright if, Foster p. LeFors if, McDonaid c, Carruth 1b, T. Simmons and Barnett p, Garner 3b, W. Simmons rf, Barnett ss, Williams 2b.

Next Sunday the Peewees will go to Borger for their crucial game of the season. Hoover will make a stand at Road Runner park and LeFors will go to the Phillips diamond.

SANCTIONS TO BE SUSPENDED THIS JULY 15

HAILE SELASSIE GOES TO LONDON, HIS PLEAS DENIED

BY WADE WERNER, Associated Press Foreign Staff. GENEVA, July 6 (AP)—The League of Nations coordinating committee adopted a resolution today fixing July 15 as the date on which to suspend economic and financial sanctions against Italy.

The vote on the motion was unanimous. The recommendation will be placed before the league assembly for final action.

The resolution said: "The coordinating committee set up in consequence of the assembly recommendation of October 10, 1935, with regard to the dispute between Ethiopia and Italy proposes the governments which are members of the league should abrogate July 15 the restrictive measures taken by them in conformity with its proposals."

Augusto Vasconcellos of Portugal, president of the committee, opened the session with a lengthy review of the league's first attempt to apply "punitive measures against an aggressor."

He said it was obvious from the outset sanctions "could not be complete" because important countries are still outside the league.

As the committee deliberated, Emperor Haile Selassie sped toward London, heavy-hearted and empty-handed. His two appeals for "justice" denied, the king without a country was reported to be ill, "affected physically by the strain of the past few weeks."

League delegates, freed of the embarrassing presence of the Negus, looked toward fresh discussions of what they considered a more vital subject—reform of the league system of collective security.

Mexicans Like San Jacinto as Picnic Grounds

HOUSTON, July 6 (AP)—The San Jacinto battlefield where 100 years ago Gen. Sam Houston and his dwindling army ended the Texas revolution with a decisive victory over Mexico's Santa Anna, has become a favorite spot with week-end tourists.

Automobiles from many parts of Texas and from other states stop at the historic state park. Granite markers point out the spots at which important incidents in the battle occurred. The Sam Houston Oak, the giant tree under which the wounded Houston received Santa Anna after the Mexican leader's capture, is the one thing all visitors make it a point to see.

The tree stands at the edge of a clearing a short distance from a beautiful, moss-covered grove of big trees. Souvenir hunters have pruned many pieces of loose bark from the tree, giving it a spotted appearance. The ground to a height of about six feet.

Another place of interest is where Gen. Houston was wounded and his horse killed. The various markers give a complete account of the battle. The well-kept park extends about 20 miles east of Houston. It is a favorite picnic spot with Mexicans.

Robert Taylor Is Centennial Star

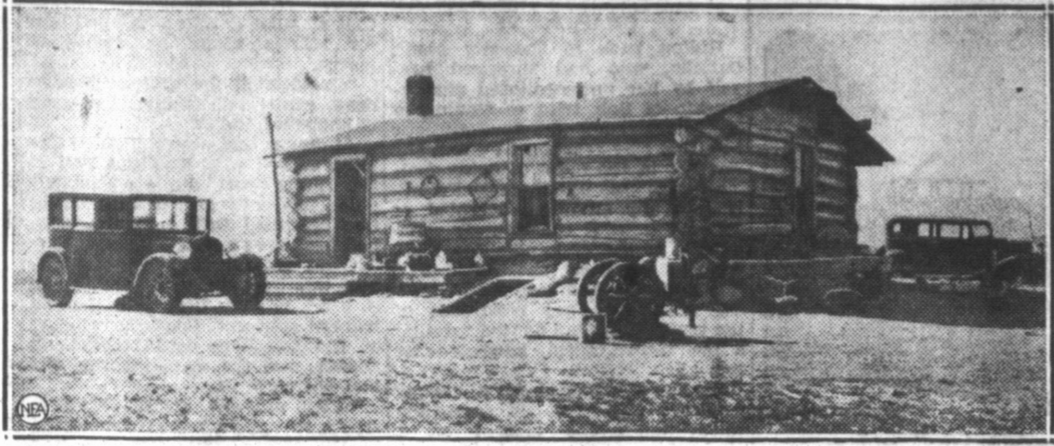

DALLAS, July 6 (AP)—Robert Taylor, movie star, was again the principal attraction at the Texas Centennial exposition today.

When the second performance of "The Queen's Night" was rained out last night, Centennial officials announced that Taylor, who had been a principal in the pageant, would appear tonight with an all-star supporting cast of musicians and entertainers.

Rain yesterday held the attendance to 50,906. Total to date is 1,437,290.

Nanking's most magnificent mansion and grounds are those occupied by the ambassador and staff of the Soviet Russian embassy.

1. HERE, FOR THREE GENERATIONS— Their acres ravaged by grasshoppers and chinch bugs and seared by a drought that may be as bad as that of 1934, northwestern farmers have already sustained a loss of $100,000,000 in destroyed crops from the Ohio and Missouri rivers north to the Canadian border. Typical of them is Harold Speaks, North Dakotan, whose family has lived three generations in this log house, hewn from cottonwood logs along the Missouri river bottoms. Speaks has not had a profitable year since 1919.

2. HERE SHOULD HAVE BEEN WHEAT— Speaks trails a drag through his wheat fields in a cloud of dust, which is all the land will raise now that it has been pulverized by weeks of blazing sun and with no rain to nourish the plants. This field was planted to wheat in April. Only a few green shoots ever crept up through the powdery surface. But he has not given up even now, and Speaks piles his drag faithfully, hoping again hope that rain will come and he can still make a late crop in his field.

3. ONLY THISTLE AND STINKWEED— In what should be a pasture, above, Speaks is forced to carry water and feed to keep his gaunt stock alive. His waterhole dried up in 1934. In this "pasture" are only a few green stalks of Russian thistle and stinkweed, which the cattle will not touch, though they died of hunger and thirst. A brown, burned mat covers the ground, all that is left of what was once green pasture for the cattle and horses on which the farmer depends for his living.

ESCAPED TEXAS CONVICT JAILED IN BOY'S DEATH

Newsboy Run Down Following Cafe Robbery

CANON CITY, Colo., July 6 (AP)—Warden Roy Best of the Colorado state penitentiary said today E. R. Madden of Arkansas City, Kansas, held in connection with the death of an 11-year-old newsboy following a cafe robbery here July 3, had been identified as T. B. Atkinson, an escaped Texas convict.

Best said the only information officials had here was that the man fled from the Texas penitentiary in a prison break in which three men were involved and a guard shot.

Madden is being held pending the filing of charges against him for the death of Jack Hundley, newsboy. Hundley was run over at a street intersection by a car assertedly driven by Madden as Madden was trying to escape from officers who sought to question him about the theft of $38 from a cafe near the edge of the city.

A coroner's jury Friday returned a verdict holding Madden responsible for the boy's death, and said the accident occurred as he fled from the cafe robbery.

Madden was caught after he abandoned his car several blocks from where the boy was killed. He at first gave the name of T. R. Truman, Best said, and represented himself as an oil man from Wichita, Kansas. Later he told officers he was E. R. Madden.

Eight Inches of Rain Falls Near Sonora on Sunday

SAN ANGELO, July 6 (AP)—Rain fell ranging from one to 8.87 inches fell throughout the San Angelo section last night and this morning. The precipitation here was two and a half inches.

The cloudburst at Sonora started about 11 o'clock last night. Many cars were stalled on the highways in that vicinity and traffic held up until late this morning between Sonora and San Angelo. The highway department closed highway 30 through noon south of Sonora to Del Rio.

Neither loss of life nor livestock was reported. The record precipitation at Sonora was local. The range and crops were both benefited by the moisture.

Thompson To Be Sentenced Today

LOS ANGELES, July 6 (AP)—Harry Thomas Thompson, former United States navy yeoman, is to be sentenced in federal court today as the first man ever convicted of espionage in peacetime America.

U. S. District Judge Leon Yankwich was empowered to impose a maximum sentence of 20 years on the 39-year-old defendant, convicted by a jury in five minutes deliberation at the close of a two-day trial. The government called witnesses to prove Thompson, in the uniform of a naval officer, boarded war vessels here and at San Diego and obtained confidential information concerning their equipment and movements which he sold to an agent of the Japanese imperial government.

DIES AFTER ATTACK

HUGO, Colo., July 6 (AP)—Mrs. Anna Griffin, 74-year-old invalid, who was attacked at her home last Tuesday, died today. Fred J. Lozero, 26, Denver CCC enrollee, who was arrested shortly after the woman was found in bed, her jaw broken and other injuries about the head, remained in jail at Colorado Springs under an open charge.

RESUME WORK ON BUCHANAN DAM IN TEXAS

CONCRETE MIXERS ARE HUMMING AGAIN ON COLORADO

AUSTIN, July 6 (AP)—Concrete mixers hummed again today in filling yawning forms of the Buchanan Dam, original unit in the $20,000,000 Colorado river flood control and power project. Hill country folks rejoiced for once more the structure was "going up."

Five years ago the booming of a stock market collapse silenced the machinery which had echoed employment and prosperity through the hills of Burnet and Llano counties.

Years of inactivity followed in the wake of the depression while government agencies were created and federal financing arranged. A year ago in September the lower Colorado river authority, a state agency armed with $20,000,000 federal funds took over the properties.

Originally the United States reclamation bureau was allotted $5,000,000 and assigned the task of completing it as a flood control unit. The authority added $5,000,000 of its funds. The bureau completed much preliminary work.

Actual pouring of concrete, marking initial resumption of upward construction, started on the sixth day after control of work was transferred from the reclamation bureau to the authority.

First permanent construction on the half-finished structure was directed to closing an open section in the river portion. The gap dammed, about 20 feet of water will be impounded by September. Additional tiers of about 20 feet will be placed across the section now open.

This summer the reclamation bureau will call for bids on the largest of the three dams planned to tame the turbulent river which year after year has caused enormous flood damage. Named the Marshall Ford Dam, because of its site, it will be located in Travis county about 70 miles airline downstream.

Engineers are undecided if it will be 167 or 197 feet high. At the greater height it would impound 4,000,000 acre-feet of water and at the lower height, about 2,400,000 feet, creating a 60-mile long lake. Its cost will be approximately $7,000,000.

Beset by an injunction suit brought by seven Texas utilities, the authority obtained modifications to permit construction for flood control purposes. Expenditure of federal funds for generating electricity, however, was restrained pending a trial set for December.

Mrs. Rogers Loses Battle for Wealth

RIVERHEAD, N. Y., July 6 (AP)—Mrs. Pauline V. Rogers, comely 42-year-old widow of Col. Henry Huddleston Rogers, today lost her fight in surrogate court to obtain dower rights in the huge Rogers fortune.

The decision was not announced by Surrogate Robert S. Pelletreau in open court, and none of the principals to the legal tussle over the $16,000,000 estate, nor their attorneys, were present.

Under the ruling, filed with his clerk, the surrogate refused to set aside the will to her dower rights.

Her request from the estate remains at $100,000 outright and a sum roughly estimated at $125,000 as an annual income from the estate.

Elsie, Mae, Lucille and Billie Colquitt, of LaGrange, Ga., have their birthday parties together. All were born on August 11.

Slain in Newest Chicago Mystery

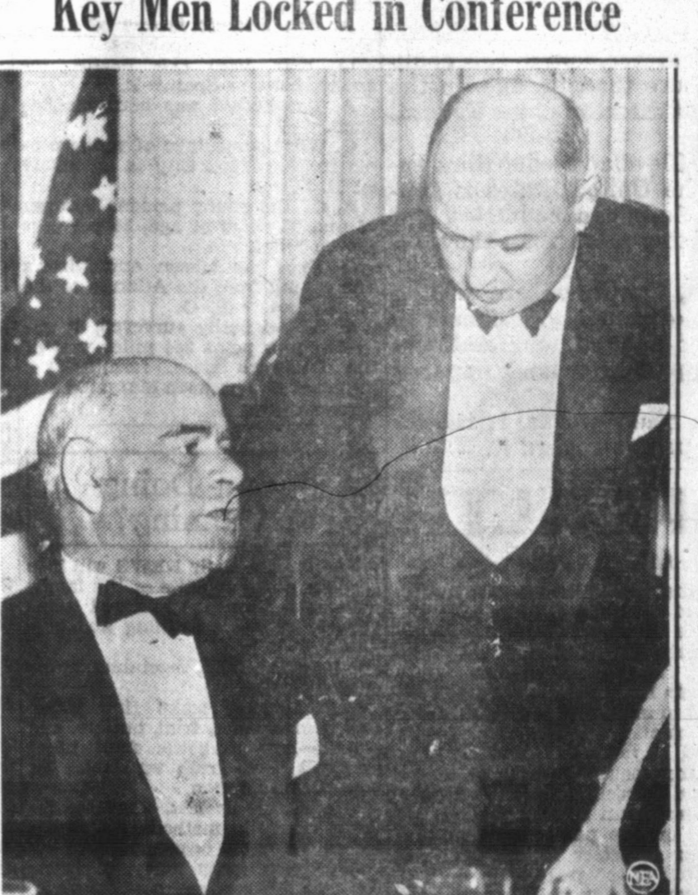

In the second mystery of the kind to baffle Chicago police within a week, Miss Audrey Vallette, above, 31, former showgirl-singer, was found shot to death in her bed in a Chicago North Side hotel, where she had registered as A-nabelle Blake. She was the daughter of a Gary, Ind., steel official. Four days earlier, Mrs. Florence Castle, night club hostess, was found slain in another Chicago hotel.

Tiny Plane 'Takes Off' in Contest

Miniature gasoline-powered planes, such as that being launched above by Vernon Boehle, Indianapolis, rubber-powered and radio-controlled craft filled the air over Wayne County airport, Detroit, as 400 model plane flyers from every state in the Union, and from Canada, England, and France competed in the Wakefield international trophy contest. Most of the midget planes, so small they had to be fueled with an eye-dropper, were built of balsa wood, glue, paper, and rubber. Boehle, an alternate United States flyer, was one of those competing for the trophy given by Viscount Wakefield of Hythe, England.

Key Men Locked in Conference

The refusal of Governor Herbert H. Lehman of New York to join his old pal, Alfred E. Smith, in "taking a walk" out of the Democratic convention, gives this scene special significance. For that's Postmaster General James A. Farley, Roosevelt generalissimo, who's conferring with Lehman (left) at Philadelphia.

Bloodhound Heads Hunt for Gunmen

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 6 (AP)—Headed by "Old Boston," famed McAlester penitentiary manhunter, prison bloodhounds joined state crime bureau operatives and county officers today in a wide search for two gunmen who killed Harris Whitson, 52, Seminole policeman.

Jerry Sears, Oklahoma county radio operator, sent a hurried call to McAlester penitentiary for bloodhounds as the chase warmed near Nowalla. A few minutes later, a carload of guards and dogs sped from the penitentiary.

Armed officers flushed the fugitives from wooded country six miles west of Shawnee earlier in the day. Fifteen registered Jersey helters are in the hands of Eastland county 4-H club boys. Banks of Eastland county are assisting in financing the purchase of the calves which the boys will show at the Centennial.

RECORD HEAT AGAIN ASSAILS MIDDLE WEST

3,000 FARMERS TAKE JOBS ON RELIEF PROJECTS

CHICAGO, July 6 (AP)—Record heat increased damage and distress in the midwestern drought belt today. Despairing farmers pinned their hopes for a break in the protracted siege on a change in the weather. But none was sighted for the immediate future. Instead, a broadening of the high temperature blanket was forecast. Abnormal heat seared the prairies from the Rocky mountains to western Kentucky yesterday.

Scattered showers fell in southern and Atlantic states. Light precipitation was indicated for tomorrow in some parts of the Dakotas, Wisconsin and Indiana but the general prediction was for hot, dry weather. With corn in a critical period, the moisture or aridity of the next fortnight will determine whether the drought destruction of 1936 will equal the devastation of 1934 in the opinion of Secretary of Agriculture Wallace.

Approximately 3,000 resourceless farmers in Wyoming, North Dakota, and Montana were called to work on WPA relief projects. Administrators planned to employ at least 50,000 in building water conservation dams and farm-to-market roads in those states and South Dakota and Minnesota.

Harried planters looked to Washington for the completion of a full program, coordinating the activities of all federal agencies acting in the emergency. There—today or tomorrow—government relief officials planned to lay a detailed report on the midwestern drought situation.

End of League Control Over Danzig Sought

BERLIN, July 6 (AP)—Sixteen years of League of Nations control over the free city of Danzig must be brought to an end quickly Dr. Arthur Karl Greiser, president of the Danzig senate, insisted today.

In an interview with a Nazi newspaperman, Greiser reiterated his demands made before the league assembly at Geneva Saturday that Sean Lester, league high commissioner for the free territory, be removed.

"Danzig will refuse to appear again before the bar of the League of Nations if her internal affairs are to be the subject of discussion," the senate president was quoted.

Greiser, who with Albert Forster, youthful Nazi leader in Danzig, has sponsored the move to end league control over the territory, declared his government would participate in all other negotiations with the league except a debate on the free city's affairs.

German-Polish friendship would not be disturbed, he asserted, if the league were to recall its Irish officer charged with supervising the seaport's administration.

Greiser's declarations, both in Geneva and Berlin, followed in principle the statements of Forster made recently in a "declaration of independence" published simultaneously in Danzig and Germany.

Doomed Man's Father Killed By Victim's Son

ZAVALLA, July 6 (AP)—M. E. Cansler, son of a robbery and slaying victim for whose death Glenn Warren awaits electrocution in the state penitentiary, was held in jail today in connection with the fatal shooting of Warren's father Saturday night.

Cansler surrendered. Constable H. F. Simmons said, shortly after Albert Warren, 60-year-old sawmill employe, was shot to death in what was described as an argument over the site of Glenn Warren's grave after his electrocution.

Warren is to die in the electric chair at Huntsville state prison Friday for the slaying of aged C. E. Cansler Sr., two years ago in a robbery.

The shooting of Albert Warren took place in the highway near Warren's home.

HURT IN WRECK

GREENVILLE, July 6 (AP)—W. H. Wrye of Huntsville, Ala., was in a critical condition and her husband, the Rev. Wrye, was less seriously hurt in an automobile wreck near Caddo Mills yesterday. She was not expected to live. Physicians today said Mrs. Wrye was suffering from a fractured skull and a severe gash on her face, as well as other injuries. The Rev. Wrye received chest injuries and was bruised.

ONE THING CERTAIN

Wisconsin's unemployment insurance act, first in the field, has gone into operation. Texas and 46 other states will watch it closely.

Wisconsin started to carve out jobless insurance legislation in 1931. The depression came along and delayed the project. In 1934 it was resumed. In 1935 the federal government passed the social security act and caused another year's delay in Wisconsin while adjustments were made.

In the opinion of many forward lookers, it won't be long until some more adjustments will be necessary. The federal government's new law isn't expected to look nearly so good in operation as it looked on paper, and it looked pretty bad on paper. Apparently, something will have to be done about it in the near future.

The one thing certain about unemployment insurance at the moment is that no one knows anything about it, including most of the experts who don't hesitate to act as though they knew all about it. Ohio, which is getting ready to try its own experiment, would do well to wait at least long enough to see what is going to happen to the cardboard social security structure thrown up overnight before building that state's unemployment shelter house on top of it.

"WORLD'S FAIR" REVIVALS

The old American habit of going to expositions seems to be reviving.

A generation ago the "world's fair" was a more or less regular feature of the landscape. When St. Louis, Chicago, or Buffalo put on a show of that kind, it would draw visitors from all over the country. People would go to be amused and stay to learn something.

And then, somehow, the habit fell into eclipse. After the San Francisco exposition of 1915 we had very few such ventures; and when the Philadelphia Sesqui-centennial flopped, it looked as if the country had outgrown the habit for good.

But now it has returned to us. Chicago set the style a couple of years ago. This summer the Texas Centennial is going great guns; in a more modest way, the Great Lakes Exposition at Cleveland is causing a stir. New York is planning a fair for 1939.

The "world's fair" is usually a lot of fun. It is good to see it staging a vigorous comeback.

JAYWALKER CONTROL

It's decidedly encouraging to note that the law has at last caught up with one of the leading annoyances of American city life—the jaywalker.

St. Louis has done just that. There the board of aldermen recently approved a pedestrian control bill which provides fines of $3 to $500 for jaywalking. St. Louis acted, officials explained, because they found jaywalking contributed in great measure to traffic fatalities and serious injuries.

And doubtless there is not another large city in the country in which this condition does not exist. The St. Louis system, possibly, is the answer.

POTENTIAL LEADERS

It now appears that the growing usefulness of American women in public life is going to refute the frequent criticism of Europeans that our women aren't politically important.

The recent session of the American Association of University Women indicates a healthful trend toward greater feminine leadership. In the last six years 52,000 women have joined under this banner with the common goal of civic leadership and good neighborliness.

The American woman is finding the key to a sound national life. One only hopes that the men are doing as well!

THE PUBLIC'S FAULT

Whatever is the status of law enforcement in this country, the public is getting much more than its due, in the opinion of Harold Nathan, assistant director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Mr. Nathan told a group of Cleveland educators recently that law enforcement in the United States is generally inferior to that of many European countries, but that, even so, Americans "are getting more than they deserve."

"Moreover," says Mr. Nathan, "until we are willing to pay for more than the services of a night watchman to arrest a burglar he picks up red-handed, our statistics will continue to read in totals appalling when compared with those of other nations."

The major cause of crime, in other words, is the incredible nonchalance with which people regard it.

HOW'S your HEALTH

The Psychology of The Cripple Dr. Alan DeForest Smith of the New York Orthopedic hospital draws on his experience to formulate a few guiding principles for dealing with crippled children. Some are cheerful; others resent their misfortune and appear to blame all mankind for their lot. Some are independent and insist on supporting themselves, while others feel that the world owes them a living.

Their attitude is largely determined by the way people treat them. It is natural to sympathize with the handicapped child, but a grave mistake to induce self-pity.

Crippled children should be encouraged to take part in every activity of which they are capable, and to attempt things which may seem difficult or impossible. So encouraged, it is astonishing to see what can be done in spite of severe handicaps and such achievements bolster the child's confidence here at 127 a. m. today (8:27 CST, Sunday), completing its fourth eastward crossing from the United States. The airship left Lakehurst, N. J., 10:44 p. m. (CST) Friday.

AROUND HOLLYWOOD

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD, July 5.—The Lockharts—Gene and Kathleen—after 12 years of married life would rather work together in pictures than individually.

Their big idea, at present, is to revive the "Mr. and Mrs." light comedy angle on the screen, much in the manner Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Drew made famous in silent films—"a couple," Gene explains, "whose marriage is based on a deep foundation of love and respect, yet subject to the foibles of everyday American family life, dramatized in the pin-prick of the husband's day that amuse the wife, the wife's petty worries that are only amusing to the husband."

How It Starts. Gene writes their comedy. Kathleen's part in it is editorial.

"I pick out the things I know no woman would ever say," she says. "And write in," puts in Gene "the things you think a woman would say."

"Try to write them in," amends Mrs. Lockhart, "you really don't pick out the things I'm talking about, do you now?"

"Why, darling!" says Mr. gallantly. "Of course I do."

And so was launched, good-naturedly, a gentle imitation of "Mr. and Mrs." on the screen.

The Lockharts were married in Chicago in 1924. The year Hoover was elected, or Coolidge, or was it Hoover? Gene patterned—and they have a daughter, June, aged 12.

"Mr." was born Eugene Lockhart in London, Ont., and "Mrs." was Kathleen Arthur, or Kitty, of Portsmouth in England.

And So They Were Married. They had been engaged a couple of years when Eugene consulted a numerologist and changed his name to Gene. Then he asked the seer how it would be if Miss Arthur changed her name to Kathleen.

"Fine," said the numerologist. "And so," says Gene, "I married this little lady and life has been one sweet song ever since!"

"Ta-da-a-a-a!" trumpets his Mrs. Lockhart. "After varied experience in the theater and in broadcasting, the Lockharts came to Hollywood, he originally to repeat his stage role of 'Ah, Wilderness!' He never did roles elsewhere, and so did Mrs. Lockhart. Eventually they played 'Ah, Wilderness!' in roles, and are at it again in 'The Devil is a Sissy' with Freddie Bartholomew."

Talks to parents

Gilded Youth

By BROOKE PETERS CHURCH

The difficulty which young people find in getting work is not entirely a result of the depression. To some extent it is the result of their upbringing. For the last 20 years or more, life has been increasingly simplified for children, and the depression has in many cases simply increased the trend.

When there is too little work to go around and the schools are free, the children are kept in school longer, so as to postpone as far as possible the time for looking for a job. They are not urged to study hard, and not kept up to a standard of scholastic perfection with the idea of gaining education. They are simply marking time.

During the summer vacations they loaf, because again there is no incentive to do anything else. Everyone is talking about the poor children and the handicap of the depression. Ten years ago they did no work because times were easy, today they are again idle because times are hard.

Then there is also the shibboleth of finding the right job for the child. He must enjoy his work. If, having secured a situation, he finds that it is ungenial, or too exacting, or that he does not like his boss, he does not hesitate to walk out. He has no ideals which lead him to go through with a thing whether he likes it or not, no pride in overcoming adverse circumstances.

Unconsciously, but quite deliberately, we have been and are bringing up a generation of neurotics, and it might be well to take stock. Whether there are jobs or not, there is always work to be done. If there are no paid jobs there is work in the home which will save money and relieve the parents.

We are doing the children an injustice and not a kindness by our over-solicitude. It would do them good to have to work whether they like it or not.

Eight principal maritime nations now own 28,500,000 gross tons of vessels engaged in international seaborne trade. Great Britain leads with 13,000,000 tons while the United States has slightly over 3,000,000 tons.

FDR to Cruise On Maine Coast

WASHINGTON, July 6 (AP)—Cruising back to the capital from Virginia on the yacht, Potomac, President Roosevelt planned today to perfect plans for the campaign war ahead before going northward for a sailor's vacation off the New England coast.

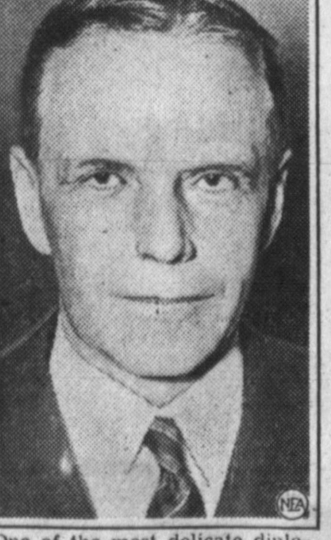

After dedicating Shenandoah National Park and making a speech at the Jefferson's home last week, the President left Virginia's shores at Yorktown last night. He boarded the Potomac, the presidential vessel, which returned to the capital.

Today the President summoned Democratic National Chairman Jas. A. Farley for a conference on the political campaign.

Some time this week, the President is expected to head northward for a fleeting stay at his home at Hyde Park, N. Y. Then he will heed the call of the sea again. Perhaps late this week, he will join his son, James Roosevelt, aboard the latter's schooner, Seawanna, for a two weeks' cruise along the Maine coast.

On the fourth of July, he stood at the portico of Thomas Jefferson's home, Monticello, in Charlottesville and eulogized Jefferson. Describing him as a man who was not satisfied with "things as they are" but devoted himself to "things as they ought to be," Mr. Roosevelt called on the nation to renew the struggle for "true freedom."

Faces Difficult Diplomatic Task

One of the most delicate diplomatic assignments in recent U. S. history has been given to William Phillips, above, undersecretary of state. He will go to Rome to seek solution of the problem raised by Italy's conquest of Ethiopia as it affects future U. S. diplomatic relations with the seized country. Recent U. S. policy has been to refuse to recognize territorial gains made by force.

RUIN-A-WAY BRIDE

By Helen Welshimer

CHAPTER VI

Riding back to the city alone, Camilla, who had surprised herself by her unremediated championship of Bob, tried to regain her customary composure. It was idiotic... this silly reaction... and she was not in the habit of doing foolish things. She usually looked clearly into any situation, accepted or rejected it, with self-interest paramount. If the cost were too high, the risk too great, she didn't play. She and Bob had met for a fleeting week at a gay crossroads of the world. They had danced together a few times, talked, laughed—that was all.

At home, wrapped in a creamy negligee, slim feet in matching velvet mules, she relaxed on a chaise longue. She was half asleep when the telephone gave a faint tinkle.

"Yes?" she asked, prepared to be nice, stern, cross to half a dozen people—not prepared to be anything to Bob. But it was Bob. She had not heard his voice on the telephone before, but she recognized it instantly.

"Camilla?" I'm mighty sorry to disturb you, but I'm hunting Marcia. Is she with you, by any chance? Or have you seen her? Or Jimmy?"

Camilla laughed. "She's not with Jimmy, Bob. I haven't seen her since breakfast, though. As for Jimmy, he's gone off in a huff." She was afraid he would hear the tremble in her voice—she hoped she imagined it only.

Any idea where I can reach Jimmy and his brass bottom?"

"He might be at the Embassy. More likely, though, at a sidewalk cafe."

"If he comes or calls will you answer the phone in touch with me? It's important."

"Of course, but don't count on hearing. He left without saying goodbye. He's gone."

"Gone? From Paris? Good grief! No, gone from me. I didn't buy this title."

"Oh!" Camilla caught the relief. It was due to the fact that Jimmy was still around, of course, she told herself. Still—

"I'll ring up the Embassy," Bob was saying.

"After that, why don't you come up and have tea with me?" Camilla asked. "I'm alone and I'm lonesome."

"Thanks, I'd like it. I'm at loose ends."

When he came, 10 minutes later, Camilla had replaced the negligee with a simple printed crepe pajamas and bright red mules that matched the poppies in her print. She was wandering aimlessly about the living room, biting into bonbons, throwing them into ridiculous wastepaper baskets, arranging and rearranging flowers. When the maid admitted Bob, though, she was standing, quiet and composed, near a tall window. She was aware that there was a strange electrical tension in the air when he neared her and scolded herself for being an imaginative simpleton.

She murmured, under her breath, "He loves Marcia, Marcia loves him, and one and one makes a wedding!"

So she was a gracious hostess, no more. When the telephone rang and a contrite Jimmy began to apologize, she interrupted him. "Never mind, Jimmy. Let's skip it. Bob's here and he wants to talk to you."

She did not listen to the conversation. Instead she went into the bedroom, powdered her nose with a ridiculous scrap of powder, put some perfume, bought the preceding day at a shop in the Champ Elysees, on her dark gold hair and outlined her lips a brighter red.

She came back to the sitting room in time to hear Bob say: "Tuesday night, wasn't it? Good. Why in the name of Rosie did you let me in?"

"Never mind, Jimmy. Let's skip it. Bob's here and he wants to talk to you."

When he had hung up he turned to Camilla and shook his head.

"You're a woman, a darned intelligent one. Maybe you can throw some light on this. It's the one I'm stuck on. When I heard her about Rosie's unexpected appearance at the little park in Montmartre, and her statement that she had been there with Bob."

Camilla shook her head. An intelligent woman, she was thinking. Now, if I could only get a scrap of Greek literature, that might be a compliment. But for a girl who majored in the lighter, gayer arts—aloud she said: "Maybe it's your charm, Robert. I've felt it at times—a strange warmth, you know."

Then she changed her sentence. "Rosie's a temperamental girl, a firecracker and if she wants you, mon cheri—well, she wants you."

"Rosita isn't important." He dismissed the dancer casually. "But you are. And so is Marcia. I wonder where she is?"

"Shopping or having tea with friends or any one of a hundred things." Camilla's voice was a little impatient. After all, when you are fond of a man who is fond of another girl—"Have another sandwich," she urged.

Had he done them. While he ate them he mentioned the fact that he was returning to New York in a week or two.

"I'm staying on for awhile—going to the lakes in northern Italy." Camilla explained, wondering why she was going to the lakes anyway.

"Why don't you come? You and Marcia and Phil? I have a villa there and we would all have fun!" She was slim and lovely, and her hair was bright, and her eyes deep and quiet, in the lamp-lighted room.

"Why don't you?" A sudden splash of rain against the window interrupted her mood. "There's a storm coming! Let's watch it."

So they stood, side by side, watching the outline of the Eiffel Tower as the lightning brought it into silver relief—letting the thunder sweep by—feeling the import of the rain as it came, faster and faster against the protecting glass.

When Bob put his arms around her and kissed her, Camilla was almost sorry, it was part of an act to him, of course—an act that he had performed with many girls—an act which had nothing to do with that singular devotion he must bear for Marcia whom he wished to marry.

"Oh, don't!" she said, and withdrew, gently but firmly. "I'm sorry it happened, Bob."

At dinner that evening, which Camilla shared with Bob and Phil in the dining room, she was strangely quiet, unusually gay, in turn. Silver net, entwined with turquoise, slipped from her smooth white shoulders without falling too far, and her hair was honey-colored, wrapped in a band around her head. Marcia had not appeared. Continued ringing of the telephone had brought no answer, and the maid reported she had not come in.

"After you seem able to take care of yourself," Bob commented to the others, when someone had made a remark, for the dozenth time, that it was strange Marcia had left no message.

"She should have left her destination at the office," Bob said, but without any leaning, straining, either toward or away from others.

The two men studied her. She was slim and lovely, not very tall, very beautiful. But she seemed to stand alone. Not alone, but without any leaning, straining, either toward or away from others.

No plans had been made for the evening. There was all Paris in which to play. There was a new show opening at the Folies Bergere. Josephine Baker was singing that night, and Mistinguette was dancing. No one in the group had seen the puppets at the Grand Guignol.

One after another, suggestions were made and refused.

"How about going to the Dome?" Bob asked at last. "We might precede it with a movie."

"Not tonight," Camilla answered. "I think I would like to ride thru Paris in the rain."

"Serious?" Phil asked, a pleased expression on his face. "I had the same idea. What about it, Bob?"

Bob shook his head. "Paris, in the rain, in enchantment for two, not three. You run along and I'll see a movie and turn in early. Leaving?"

"We can go out together."

Paris, in the rain, is enchanting for two, not three. Bob's head higher as she passed Bob on her way to the dining room exit.

At the desk they paused, two tall young men in the conventional black and white, a girl in a turquoise-velvet evening wrap. The man with the wind-burg out of his face was wondering why, when he had traveled an ocean to reach the girl he loved, moments of happiness were so far between and so fleeting. The man with the dark, thin face was wishing this new, disturbing woman had not come along, just when there must be no unsettling of his affections. It was Marcia he wanted, he reminded himself. It would be a good marriage, she would be a charming wife, and as for the kind of a husband he would be—well, she was as stable as she wished.

The girl, standing between the two men, despised herself because she was going riding with one man when she wanted to drive in the rain with the other. Because she had some sense of duty, she slipped her hand through Phil's arm, an external payment for her internal confusion. He smiled, and for a second she felt kind and gentle and patted the coat sleeve. Perhaps...

"Will you leave word for us if Miss O'Brien returns before we do?" Bob was asking the elderly desk clerk.

"Certainly, monsieur."

"Do you recall seeing her go out?" Phil added.

"There was a lady waiting for her when she came in and they were away together," the clerk answered.

"An old lady?" Bob ventured.

"No, a young lady. A dancer or some such person, I should say, monsieur."

"Rosita!" Camilla said suddenly. (TO BE CONTINUED.)

TOTAL OF 390 DIE VIOLENTLY IN WEEK-END

NUMBER IS GREATEST SINCE 483 IN 1931

(By The Associated Press)

The nation today counted 390 violent deaths in the week-end celebration of Independence Day.

It was the largest Fourth of July fatality list since 1931, when 483 died, and the second largest in the last nine years.

Fireworks resulted in 8 deaths—the greatest number in that category since 12 were killed in 1930. The figures, however, confirm advance estimates that the sale of protective masks had increased substantially this year.

Motor vehicle fatalities numbered 230 and drownings 97.

Others lost their lives in tavern brawls, airplane crashes, wild shooting, and railroad and other accidents. Fires and lightning claimed still other victims.

The record compared unfavorably with the list of 205 in 1928; 159 in 1929; 178 in 1930; 243 in 1932; 185 in 1933; 175 in 1934, and 216 in 1935 despite widespread appeals for a safe and sane celebration.

National guardsmen occupied Remsen, Ia. A firecracker there started a blaze that resulted in a loss estimated at $500,000. Four blocks of business buildings were wrecked. Fifteen families were homeless.

Balloon Soars 385 Miles to Capture Race

DENVER, July 6 (AP)—Landing his new Goodyear balloon from Akron, O., near Fresno, S. D., Frank A. Trotter, veteran aviator in lighter-than-air craft, apparently was the victor today in the twenty-fourth national balloon race.

Trotter was the only one of the five entrants which took off here Friday night to find good fortune in the variable winds, which kept the others from getting out of Colorado.

Presho is about 385 miles by airplane northeast of Denver.

33 TEXANS DIE VIOLENTLY IN 4TH WEEK-END

SIX SHOT TO DEATH IN GUN FIGHT AT LUFKIN

(By The Associated Press)

Texas today counted a fourth of July weekend toll of 33 violent deaths.

At least 50 more were injured as a wave of automobile accidents, gun battles and drownings swept the state.

Six deaths marked the holiday in the Lufkin area of East Texas. Albert Warren, father of Glenn Warren, who is awaiting electrocution in the state prison Friday, was slain at Zavalla, 30 miles south of Lufkin. M. H. Gansler, son of C. E. Gansler Sr., for whose death Glenn Warren must die, surrendered to police.

In a gunfight resulting from an argument of payment for use of a taxicab at Lufkin, five persons, all the principals in the trouble, were wounded fatally. They were the taxi operator, Charles Newberry, and his sons, J. B. and Elmer, and two negroes, Willie Castle and O. T. Boatright.

Eleven persons were killed in and near Houston in traffic accidents. Recapitulation showed 20 dead in highway accidents over the week-

CAPITOL JIGSAW

By HOWARD C. MARSHALL

AUSTIN, July 6. (AP)—Lieut.-Gov. Walter F. Woodul does not think much of men who beat their wives.

While acting governor in the absence from Texas of Gov. Alfred Woodul had opportunity to give force to his opinion. On an application by a convict for clemency, he wrote:

"Refused—Not interested in a fellow who beats his wife, drunk or sober."

The convict had served two years of a three-year sentence for assault with intent to murder his wife. The board of pardons recommended clemency.

Sighting down the top of a gun barrel may be a satisfactory way for some peace officers to shoot, says Capt. J. W. McCormick of the Rangers, but not for him.

Long ago he learned to shoot from the hip and considers it the most practical method of meeting a dangerous adversary in a gun duel—and surviving.

"In a gun duel, sighting down the barrel would be suicide," he explained. "The other fellow would get the first shot."

McCormick said he learned to be wounded fatally. They were the taxi operator, Charles Newberry, and his sons, J. B. and Elmer, and two negroes, Willie Castle and O. T. Boatright.

Eleven persons were killed in and near Houston in traffic accidents. Recapitulation showed 20 dead in highway accidents over the week-

good judgment, "the same way I learned to throw a baseball."

He once played with Little Rock, Memphis, Mobile and New Orleans in the Southern association.

Some time ago when there was talk of a special legislative session a well-known lobbyist walked into the press room.

"Well, here it is," cried a correspondent. "Copy of the governor's proclamation. Regulation of gas, telephone and electric utilities first in purposes."

The lobbyist started and hurried over. Then he laughed. It wasn't a call, merely a bit of publicity from a department.

The revenue agents appear to be getting the jump on the moonshiners in the cedar-covered hills about Austin.

In federal court recently, Judge Robert J. McMillan asked a defendant how long he had been making whiskey.

"I'd just started when they caught me," was the answer.

A week later two young Mexicans stood before Judge McMillan.

"How long had you been making whiskey?" came the usual question to one of the defendants.

"I'd just started."

"And you?" the judge asked the other.

"I'd just started too," Judge McMillan smiled and shook his head.

"We must have an awfully good bunch of officers around here," he said. "They always get 'em before they get started."

Ed Clark, Gov. Alfred's secretary, put on his hat and started for the door.

"I've gotta go out for a little wild life," he said.

Then he departed to make a speech before a statewide conference on wild life preservation.

UNCLE BUD BELIEVES 90 PER CENT OF CONVICTS IN TEXAS PEN ARE WORTH RECLAIMING

HUNTSVILLE, July 6. (AP)—Bud Russell, the Texas prison agent who has transported more than 100,000 convicted men and women to the penitentiary, believes ninety per cent of them were "worth reclaiming."

Looking back on 28 years experience handling felons, Russell has decided that among the remaining ten per cent "are men who sometimes find themselves and force to the front."

As a general rule he thinks these incorrigibles should be kept in prison the rest of their lives because, if released, they would continue to be enemies of society.

It is his opinion sheriffs ought to carry out their own executions, as they once did their own hangings. The grim business of putting condemned men to death is too much for one executioner, Russell says.

Russell contends only about two per cent of the incorrigibles deserve the death penalty, and he would rather, he says, "they get it at home."

The veteran transfer agent has established a remarkable record in his long and dangerous service, only one prisoner having escaped. This fugitive was shot running away and recaptured two weeks later. Officers found him hiding in the West Texas brushlands.

Of the various southwestern cities from which Russell collects batches of convicts destined to the penitentiary, El Paso is the place where he takes the greatest precautions. Perhaps it is because the only prisoner who escaped him—a Mexican—came from there.

Russell explains that when he gets to El Paso with his barred truck to pick up a load, he always makes prisoners take off their shoes. He takes the greatest care for huck saw blades.

He doesn't do this in other cities but, it seems, from Russell's experience, Mexicans, who form a large part of his El Paso cargos, like the soles of their shoes for hiding places.

The time the prisoner escaped, Russell was in a hurry and let the Mexican get in the barred truck without inspecting his shoes. The prisoner saved off the cell chain with which he was fastened to other convicts and, when Russell made a stop at Midland, jumped out and ran. The agent shot and hit him but the fugitive managed to run into the brush.

The main reason Russell's record is so free from escapes is his great caution. Before he loads his transfer truck, he collects all the convicts in one room, with armed officers standing around. Russell and his assistant then chain the prisoners together, two and two, a thorough search is made of each man before loading on the truck.

Russell even feels along the prisoners' backbones. Once he found a negro with a huck-saw blade taped to his spine and, since then, he has never failed to inspect this possible hiding place.

The veteran agent has had little trouble with his work and has a soft spot in his heart for the men he has to take to prison. He makes a strong plea for friends of these convicts to remember them.

"There are hundreds of men in prison who never receive a letter," he says. "Their hearts are turned to stone."

stitution gives the federal government no power to regulate labor relations in manufacture.

The court pointed to the supreme court decision which struck down the labor provisions of the Guffey Coal control act on the ground that they were an invasion of state's rights.

The labor board, in its petition today for rehearing, argued that the Guffey acts type of regulation is different from the employment of means to protect commerce itself provided in the National Labor Relations act.

but the well was capped, allowing travel to be resumed.

The Missouri Pacific was preparing to build a spur track around the well, which is on the railroad's right of way and, if it should crater, might block the line. Missouri Pacific trains were still being detoured from Bloomington to Sinton by way of Victoria.

Washed out approaches to the Missouri Pacific bridge over the Guadalupe below Bloomington made detours doubly necessary.

Highway 12 was opened to light traffic between Victoria and Beeville.

The bulk of the flood water, moving to the mouth of the Guadalupe on San Antonio bay, blocked the hug-the-coast highway between Green Lake and Tivoli.

Copano creek was more than a mile wide in the Greta oil field, due to excessive rains in Refugio and Goliad counties.

Mayor Ben T. Jordan of Victoria planned to attend a meeting in Gonzales tonight relative to work on relief projects for destitute refugees of the flood.

"After talking to Warren we are convinced he now has the proper views toward life," Florence said. "We believe we should try to save him and give him a chance to do the right thing, which we are certain he will do if allowed to live."

Florence said a petition had been signed by eleven members of the jury which convicted Warren and the instrument would be forwarded to the pardon board. His brother, he said, did not subscribe to his views.

Terry to Enter Olympic Tryout

ABILENE, July 6 (AP)—Alton Perry, Hardin-Simmons junior and holder of the American record in javelin throw, left Abilene this morning for New York where he will compete in the final Olympic tryouts.

Terry tossed the spear 226 feet in the National Intercollegiate meet at Chicago to break his own American record.

HIT-RUN VICTIM
TYLER, July 6 (AP)—J. L. Locke, aged Palestine resident, whose arm was torn off by a hit and run driver on the Arp highway Saturday night, was reported improved in a hospital here today. He was in semiconscious condition and unable to tell what happened before he was found lying beside the road, but said he thought the car struck him from behind. The arm had not been found.

Triple Funeral For Victims of Shooting Planned

LUFKIN, July 6 (AP)—Triple funeral services were planned here today for a father and two sons, victims of two negroes who mortally wounded them Saturday night in a gun battle in a taxicab office.

The negroes were later shot to death.

J. B. and Elmer Newberry followed their father, Charles, in death last night. The father died a half hour after four bullets entered his left side Saturday.

J. B. Newberry chased O. T. Boatright, one of the negroes, for two blocks and killed him. The second negro, Willie Castle, 30, was trapped in an attic by a posse of officers last night and killed by a hail of bullets when he refused to surrender. He died with a load-bearing pistol in his hand.

The sons were visiting their parents here when the shooting occurred. J. B. had come from Jasper, Elmer from Houston.

The argument was said to have begun over the payment of taxicab fare.

It just occurred to us that this is Monday and we really should have taken a back seat to let you read what other editors have to say. That's the way our mind wanders. But there's still a little space left and we'll squeeze in a few. Here they are:

One thing about this prairie country, styles never cut in on our personal liberty far enough to make us wear ties, socks or hats. Some of the women wear shorts, but the men folks are trying to maintain that bashful attitude of a pioneer cow hand.

Says R. B. Haynes in the Miami Chief:

The more prominent you are in your work the fatter the pay envelope. So we would advise young people instead of loafing the streets to be studying some trade you would like to follow and make yourself skilled in it, and people will soon be looking for you to fill a paying position.

L. D. Shaw in The Higgins News: Balancing the home budget is a task that proves difficult in most families and mother is a sort of lion tamer when dad has to pay the grocery bill.

T. A. Landers, editor of The McLean News, says:

With many good men in each party, it is too bad that so much mud slinging is done. It is much better to talk the merits of your party or favorite candidate, than to talk the demerits of the other party or its candidates.

Shark Legend Is Beaten by Sailor

SAN PEDRO, Calif., July 6 (AP)—Michael Dwyer, 20, of Galveston, Texas, seaman of the freighter Aquarius, was in the San Pedro hospital today recovering from a severe nose hemorrhage. He had beaten, thanks to the fast liner Santa Rosa, the ancient tradition of the sea that sharks following a ship mean death aboard.

Dwyer was transferred to the Santa Rosa south of Mazatlan, Mexico. He was in serious condition because of loss of blood. Sharks started trailing the ship. The crew, to show their disregard of the tradition, landed three 600-pounders. Dwyer, being repatriated from Shanghai as an ordinary seaman, was without funds when stricken.

The crew of the Santa Rosa raised $50, and passengers aboard the liner increased the fund to $220.

Owner of 'Nut House' Gives up For Questioning

CHICAGO, July 6 (AP)—Edward Freed, part owner of the "Nut House," North Side night life spot, surrendered to police today to be questioned about the love affairs and slaying Thursday noon of Audrey Vallette, 31-year old "platinum blonde butterfly."

Freed appeared at the Hudson avenue station with his attorney, Abraham Marvitz. He showed no outward appearance of the illness which his attorney had reported.

He was not accompanied by his wife, Ruth, whom police have sought since her photograph was pointed out as resembling that of the woman who visited Miss Vallette's apartment just before she was slain.

Freed was taken to the office of Police Capt. Andrew Barry.

Murder Theory In Death Grows

REDWOOD CITY, Calif., July 6 (AP)—A theory of murder in the death of Junius Cravens, art director and critic, grew today as officials waited for the tide to recede in the search for clues.

A brother, George Cravens, of Westfield, N. J., telegraphed to have the body cremated and the ashes sent to New Jersey. The brother also said he was sending a letter which might bear on the victims recent actions and acquaintances.

Mrs. Luella Pepper, deputy coroner, said she was convinced Cravens, whose body was found on the beach at Mussel Rock Saturday had been slain. She said she had discarded theories of accidental death or suicide because Cravens' head and face bore marks of a terrific beating.

While possibilities of accidental death or suicide were put forward by Sheriff James McGrath, a coroner's report indicated Cravens may have been killed by a powerful assailant.

OIL PRODUCTION REPORT

AUSTIN July 6 (AP)—The Railroad commission's oil production and transportation division reported today that under-production of oil during May was 2.34 per cent of the allowable, the highest in 12 months.

Production of 35,775,036 barrels was reported and 172,281 barrels were added for leases not reported. Allocated during the period was calculated at 36,710,054 barrels, leaving net under-production of 862,737 barrels.

In proving its calculations, the division said lease storage increased 48,545 barrels to 3,979,194 barrels while reported production exceeded the sum of pipe line runs and other disposals by 48,786 barrels, "thus indicating a total net discrepancy between storage fluctuations and production and disposals of 241 barrels, 250 barrels."

MARKET BRIEFS

NEW YORK, July 6 (AP)—Stock market specialties swung into a quiet advance today while many of the leaders, including steel, motors and farm implements, fell by the wayside.

Although favorable earnings helped to lift a number of issues, the drought and steel labor controversy acted to chill general buying ardor. The close was irregular. Transfers approximated $89,000 shares.

Absentee Votes May Be Cast at That's Office

Gray county court house was closed to business Saturday and Sunday, but it didn't stop County Clerk Charles Thut from getting down to work at 4 a. m. yesterday.

Thut made the early morning visit to his office to accommodate some absentee voters who were leaving town and wished to make their votes count.

The clerk also announced that voters who will be out of the county on July 25, first primary day, may now cast their absentee ballots at the clerk's office in the court house.

Time for casting the ballots has been extended to 20 days instead of ten, he said. Absentee votes will be taken from now until three days prior to the election.

Eight absentee ballots had been cast up until noon today, the clerk stated.
