Sen. Goldwater Guest Speaker At Price Dinner

Barry M. Goldwater, United States Senator from Arizona and Republican Presidential nominee in 1964, will be principal speaker at a "Salute to Bob Price" dinner next Saturday night in Amarillo.

Goldwater has indicated strong personal support for Congressman Price, whose conservative voting record is similar to his own.

The event will provide a backdrop for a major address by Senator Goldwater. Now serving on the Senate Armed Services and Senate Aeronautical and Space Sciences committees, the Arizona Senator will bring to his Panhandle audience a perceptive analysis of the current foreign scene. In addition to his remarks concerning Price, Senator Goldwater will discuss pressing domestic issues as well as world affairs.

The "Salute to Bob Price" dinner will be held at the Amarillo Civic Center, Saturday, Sept. 18. Reception is at 6 p.m., dinner at 6:45, and the program begins at 8 p.m.

Tickets for the entire affair are $50 per person and may be obtained from Republican leaders throughout the Panhandle, or by contacting Jack Seale at 918 Houston Street, Amarillo.

Officials in charge of the Price dinner program and arrangements said all money raised at the banquet will go into the Bob Price campaign fund.

Price will be seeking a third-term re-election as U.S. representative from the Panhandle District.

Senator Goldwater was elected to his first term in the U.S. Senate in 1952, re-elected in 1958 and resigned his senate seat in 1964 to become the Republican Presidential nominee. He was again elected to the U.S. Senate in 1968.

SWEDE LEE SEES

Big Year Ahead For Harvesters

By TEX DEWESE
Head Coach Swede Lee, his assistant coaches and the entire Harvester football squad are thinking only in terms of a district football championship for Pampa High School this year.

That's what Coach Lee told members of the Downtown Kiwanis Club at their noonday luncheon Friday.

As a follow-up the football team took to the gridiron at Harvester Field Friday night and backed up the coach's statement with a 20 to 7 victory over the Hereford Whitefaces in the season's opener.

They have a commitment to bring home another victory when Pampa plays Odessa High in Odessa next Friday night.

Coach Lee told the Kiwanians he has the best coaching staff he has ever assembled in 13 years of high school coaching, plus a Harvester team loaded with all-around talent.

The Harvester coach made a plea for support from the fans. However, he said Saturday he thought that would be no problem this year, judging from the 5,000 fans who turned out for Friday night's game.

GARFIELD, Colo. (AP) — Eight teen-aged boys and their junior varsity football coach were killed and 22 other youths hospitalized Saturday when their runaway school bus hurtled two miles down a mountain pass and overturned in a filling station's lot.

Thieu Would Quit If He Gets Less Than 50% Votes

SAIGON (AP) — President Nguyen Van Thieu told a nationwide television audience Saturday night he will quit if he receives less than 50 per cent of the votes cast in the Oct. 3 election, in which he is the sole candidate.

There will be only one ballot he said, and people may vote for him by placing the ballot for him in the voting envelope and placing it in the ballot box.

To vote against him, Thieu explained, it will be necessary to invalidate or mutilate the ballot and thus vote "illegally."

The invalidated ballots will be counted as "no" votes or as votes against Thieu, he added.

"I will consider all regular ballots as expressing confidence and all irregular votes as expressing nonconfidence," he asserted.

Cameron Marsh said it was the largest opening game crowd in Harvester Stadium for many, many years.

Lee told the Kiwanians of a three-year program he had been working the Harvesters and potential Harvesters on the Junior High and Shocker teams. "We worked them hard," Lee said, "and now we are getting results—that's why we are thinking in terms of a championship."

The coach said three things are needed to produce a good football team—quality players, good coaching and loyal fans in the stands.

"I think we have all three ingredients now," Lee added. He placed particular stress on the importance of "winning fans" needed to support a "winning team."

Full backing of Pampa fans and their commitment on attendance at games are just as essential as the work put in by the coaching staff and the players, he said.

"I hope the fans will think of the Harvesters as 'our team'—not 'your team.' And I hope Pampans will always reserve game night as a must for attendance."

"One of the best ways to tell the players they have your support," Lee said, "is to be the grandstand at every game. I am confident a great year is in store for Harvester football and we want you to be part of it," the coach concluded.

Due to the stepped-up interest in this year's Pampa High football team, Harvester Booster Club officials are expecting increased attendance at Tuesday night's 7:30 p.m. meeting in the High School cafeteria.

Lubbock Curfew Lifted By Council

LUBBOCK (AP) — The City Council lifted the curfew Saturday in this racially-tense city but stood by to reimpose it should more trouble break out.

A curfew ordered Friday night resulted in more than 100 arrests for violations, filling the city jail.

An extraordinary session of the municipal court was held Saturday to permit those arrested to pay their fines or make bond.

The trouble broke out Thursday when a white pupil shot and killed a 16-year-old Negro classmate with a rifle at Dunbar High School.

In resulting disorders that night, Patrolman Russell McKenzie, 27, was shot in the throat by a sniper. An artery was severed but the officer was in satisfactory condition Saturday.

That would give Nixon another week or two to make final decisions after further consultation with interested economic interest groups, he said.

Nixon conferred with the full Council for the first time today. The session lasted an hour and a half.

Connolly declined to discuss potential elements of a second-stage stabilization plan.

Nixon met Friday with leaders of organized labor, a conference which seemed to indicate that the government and labor could agree on a national anti-inflation program.

Public Hearings Set At Tuesday Council Meeting

Two public hearings are scheduled at Tuesday's meeting of the Pampa City Commission at 8:30 a.m. in City Hall.

The first will be on the city's proposed $2,198,462 operation budget for fiscal 1971-72.

The other public hearing will be on the contract with Metropolitan Ambulance Service of Amarillo. This, City Manager Mack Wofford explained, is a formality required by state law.

Metropolitan is scheduled to begin service in Pampa Wednesday when the city's two funeral homes discontinue ambulance operations.

Other business on the Tuesday agenda will include:

Authorization to advertise for bids for removal of a surplus elevated water tank.

Payment of construction estimates to contractors building the city filtration plant, water distribution lines and sewerage system.

Approval of routine salary changes and payment of monthly bills.

President Nixon To Announce Plan In Mid-October

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Nixon told his Cost of Living Council today he wants to announce by mid-October a wage-price stabilization system to succeed the current freeze that expires Nov. 13.

Reporting this to newsmen at the White House, Secretary of the Treasury John B. Connally said Nixon wants specific recommendations for "Phase II" restraints from the Council by Sept. 30.

Connally, who heads the Cabinet-level panel, said he was confident the deadline could be met.

That would give Nixon another week or two to make final decisions after further consultation with interested economic interest groups, he said.

Most of the country for 150 miles north—to San Antonio—was warned of possible flooding.

A thousand persons took shelter from high water here Friday night with 200 others housed at nearby Robstown in a livestock show barn.

Most left shelter during the day out buses stood by to return them Saturday night—with possibly even more refugees.

Extensive flooding was reported Saturday afternoon from the deluges at Odem, 8 miles northwest of Corpus Christi, and at Sinton, 16 miles northwest of this port city.

MANY AREAS FLOODED

Hurricane Fern Still Lingering In South

By RICHARD BEENE
Associated Press Writer
CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP) — Tropical Storm Fern, once a mighty, 90-mile-an-hour hurricane, crept down the Texas coastline Saturday, taking her time and touching off massive rains.

Odem Mayor David Kern said the flooding was worse than that following Hurricane Beulah in 1967.

Sinton City Manager Bill Box said the Army Reserves and the Navy dispatched seven trucks to assist in Sinton area evacuation efforts.

Several school buses were used for evacuation, also, said Cox, "operating just like taxis going from door to door. That's what you call real busing."

More than eight inches of rain was reported at Sinton. Officials at Odem estimated 13 inches of more fell there.

Twenty-nine patients were taken from the Sinton Nursing Home to the Army Reserve Center and about 100 families in Odem left their homes for evacuation shelters.

Representatives From 9 States Convene In Dallas

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Representatives of anti-busing forces in nine states convened in Dallas Saturday, calling for a nationwide student boycott of schools where busing is used, constitutional amendment and a massive grassroots political uprising.

In addition to out-of-state visitors, anti-busing leaders from more than a dozen Texas cities were on hand for the meeting.

But some leaders expressed dismay and disappointment at the turnout. A crowd of about 200 was virtually swallowed up in the downtown hotel's ballroom.

"This place should have been packed," lamented George Hughes, chairman of Citizens Against Forced Busing, one of three anti-busing groups sponsoring the meeting.

Mrs. Irene McCabe, a leader of the National Action Group in Pontiac, Mich., said she was "amazed" at the relatively small crowd here.

"In Pontiac," she said, "we can draw 10,000 people on one day's notice. We're totally committed to the fight in the North."

Mrs. McCabe told the group that a boycott of schools in Pontiac has resulted in a 50 per cent student absenteeism rate during the first days of school this fall in the Michigan City.

She said parents were sticking with the boycott despite state laws prohibiting parents from keeping their children out of school intentionally.

"I have nine friends in jail right now," Mrs. McCabe said, "and I expect to be there myself before long, but that isn't going to stop the boycott."

Through the boycott, plus a series of planned strikes and picketing actions, she said, Pontiac anti-busing forces hope to demonstrate the "power of the people" to Congress, President Nixon and the federal courts.

"Once the politicians are impressed with the power the people have, they'll listen," she predicted.

Bill Lynch of Austin, where students continue to go to their neighborhood schools, but are then bused to cluster-group learning centers, said most people in the Texas capital have been tricked into thinking they have beaten forced busing.

"I'm convinced that the only solution is a constitutional amendment," Lynch said. "The courts might have to abide by the will of the people, as represented by a constitutional amendment, even though they are ignoring the Civil Rights Act" (See BOYCOTT, Page 2)

Service Awards Presented At Municipal Picnic

R.B. Cooke, public works director, received the top award Saturday when he was presented with a 25-year lapel emblem for a quarter century of service to the City of Pampa.

The presentation was made by Mayor Milo Carlson in a ceremony during the annual picnic of Pampa municipal employees in Hobart Street Park.

A total of 53 awards were made for service periods all the way down from 20, 15, 10 and 5 years.

Other features of the picnic were a noonday barbecue luncheon, sports contests and games and entertainment by Roy Underwood and the Catalinas.

More than 400 persons, employees and members of their families, attended the annual affair.

Khrushchev, Who Pushed Russ Into Space Age, Dies In Obscurity

MOSCOW (AP) — Nikita S. Khrushchev, who ruled the Kremlin for 11 years and pushed his country into the space age, died today in the obscurity to which his rivals had banished him.

The successor to Joseph Stalin had suffered from heart trouble for several years, and he evidently succumbed to a heart attack. He was 77.

Hours after the death it had not been disclosed to the Russian people.

But the Foreign Ministry confirmed the bare facts to foreign correspondents. A duty officer there said: "I can only confirm privately that death has occurred."

One informant said death came at Khrushchev's country home outside Moscow, but other sources said the death was at a hospital for Kremlin officials—that he had been admitted to the hospital several days ago.

Khrushchev was top leader in the Soviet government from 1953 to 1964.

He was the only Russian leader ever to travel across the United States. That was in 1959, and it turned into a tumultuous affair. He complained bitterly because security arrangements kept him out of Disneyland.

But Khrushchev is remembered in the United States mainly, perhaps, for his colorful appearances at the United Nations, including one in which he rapped a shoe on a desk.

While he retired in disgrace, condemned by rivals bidding for Kremlin authority, many Russians felt that Khrushchev left them better off than they were when he took office.

In his retirement as a sort of "nonperson," rarely seen by the public except when he voted, the ousted premier could take pride in the fact that he reversed the terroristic trends established by Joseph V. Stalin, his predecessor. And during Khrushchev's reign Soviet cosmonauts orbited the earth and challenged the United States to a race for the moon and other planets.

His last public appearance was for an election June 13, when he once again voted for the Kremlin leaders who engineered his ouster. He appeared to be in good health, smiled and exchanged brief remarks with correspondents waiting to see him.

He was completely excluded from the celebration of the 50th anniversary of Soviet communism in 1967. His name was never uttered in public by his successors, the general secretary of the Communist party, Leonid I. Brezhnev, and Premier Alexei N. Kosygin, as they led the anniversary festivities.

When he emerged onto the world scene, his wart-spotted face and his name were unknown outside the Soviet Union.

But by the time his remarkable career crashed 11 years later he had carved himself a niche in history. He rose to rule much of the Communist world, but he couldn't find the formula to hold power in the sprawling, complex Soviet system.

Basic errors in economic planning, a certain recklessness in foreign policy and his own personal lust for power led his colleagues in the Kremlin to depose him in 1964.

His boldness had served him well as he worked his way up from shepherd and locksmith to first secretary of the Soviet party and premier. But boldness was not enough to keep him afloat as the top man. To other Communist leaders, his triumphs in space and personal diplomacy were offset by his defeat in the Cuban missile crisis and his mishandling of Soviet agriculture and economics. He became notorious in the West as the man who crushed the Hungarian revolt in 1956.

Soviet history books published in the period after his downfall ignored his role in all these events.

Although officially imposed seclusion undoubtedly was a heavy burden for a man of Khrushchev's high spirits, he lived his final years in comfort.

His home was staffed with servants, he had a car at his disposal and he was visited regularly by old friends and members of his family.

He is survived by his widow, (See KHRUSHCHEV, Page 2)

Donohue Urges Increase In UF Contributions

Henry P. Donohue, United Fund president, told Pampa Kiwanians at their noonday luncheon Friday, this year's fund campaign must be a community-wide project.

Donohue said: "We can no longer depend upon the goal being achieved simply through contributions by a few large donors."

"It must be put across by the addition of individual contributions."

Donohue urged fund contributors to increase amounts they have given in previous years.

"Many persons," he said, "seem content to give the same as they gave five years ago."

He said the budget has been doubled since that time and the $92,000 goal this year cannot be reached unless contributions are increased.

D.W. Bond, club president, reminded Kiwanians of the club's annual installation of officers banquet scheduled at the Pampa Country Club at 7 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 23.

New officers and directors will be installed by District VI Lt. Gov. - elect Curtis Crofford.

C. R. ANTHONY

C. R. Anthony Store Markin Anniversary

The C.R. Anthony Company beginning its 50th year this month.

The store now located at 118 North Cuyler, managed by Gary Sewell, was number sixteen in the chain that has grown in 50 years to over 320 retail outlets in 21 states.

Ken Shearer manages the local store in Coronado Center. It was opened in November of 1964 and was number 319 in the chain.

Charles R. Anthony, who founded the company that bears his name, is still very active in the corporation and serves as the chairman of the board.

Anthony, the son of poor Tennessee farmers, lost both his parents at an early age and the rest of his life has been a "rags to riches" story.

While still in his teens, Anthony "headed west," stopping in Indian Territory that was later to become Oklahoma.

His first job there was in Holdenville, Oklahoma helping a widow in the general store she owned. His salary was $1. a month.

In a few years he had saved $45 and with this amount bought 40 acres of unfarmable land from an old Indian woman.

His first investment paid off handsomely when he sold the property for a $1,500 profit a short time later.

Anthony's luck was not all good. He bought his former employer's store but the venture failed and two years later he sold out.

Finally, after running several general stores for others, Anthony leased land in Cushman, Oklahoma and in 1922 opened the first C. R. Anthony store.

The chain grew quickly and

All along, the Soviet Union had been supporting the Fidel Castro government in Cuba, and in October 1962 President Kennedy announced the United States had evidence that the Soviet Union was sending atomic missiles to the Caribbean island, only 90 miles from Florida.

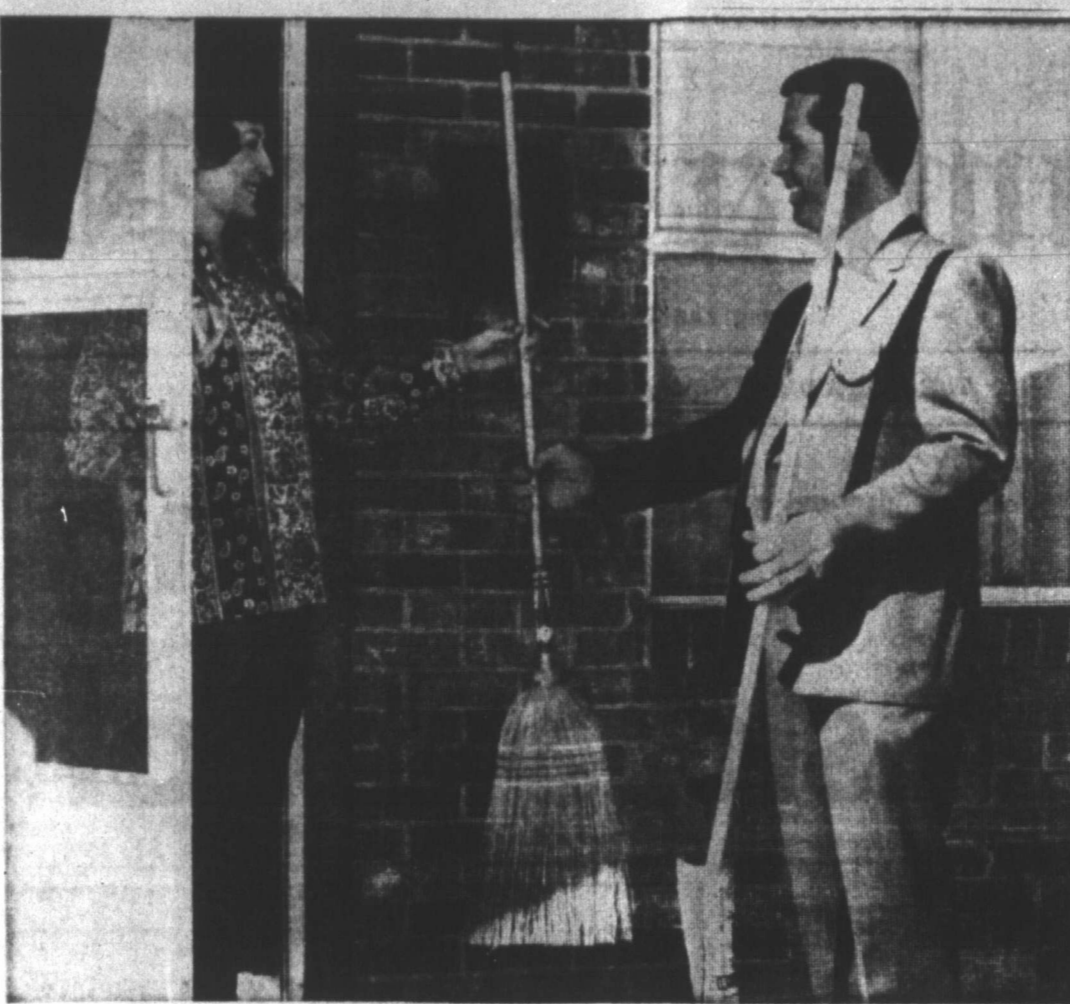

Kennedy said the Soviet Union had been assuring the United States that only defensive weapons were going to Cuba. He called on Khrushchev to withdraw the offensive weapons already there, and to cease sending such weapons, Kennedy ordered a quarantine on such shipments.

Within five days a full-blown crisis had erupted. The State Department was saying "further action will be justified" if preparation of the missile sites continued.

The world seemed to be on the brink of nuclear confrontation.

Charles R. Anthony still looks after them, traveling in the company's Lear Jet to as many as five stores in a day.

blind-craftsmen in Texas Blind Shops.

Local Lions projects include a scholarship fund, High Plains Eye Bank support, Crippled Children's Home in Kerrville and securing eye glasses for local children in need of visual aid but unable to purchase glasses.

Boy Scouts are also supported by Pampa Lions who sponsor the annual broom drive as a community project.

Police Investigate Break-In At PHS

Police officers investigated a report of a break-in at Pampa High School Friday night after a janitor spotted about five boys inside the building during the Harvester-Herford football game.

Investigating police said entrance was probably gained through the boiler room, but someone had left the building through two windows on the east side of the building.

A sharp object had been used to pry the lock on the student lounge door, but officers reported the would-be burglars were probably frightened away by the janitor or the arrival of police. Nothing could be listed missing by school officials, police said.

The inmates, armed with bats, knives and clubs, seized four cellblocks Thursday and with the 28 prison guards and 11 civilians as their captives, managed to hold off a force of state troopers equipped with high-powered rifles on the rooftops of buildings around the prison yards.

Meanwhile negotiations were carried on with both sides.

The convicts' demands include greater political and religious freedom in prison, an end to censorship of reading materials sent from publishers, unlimited communications with the outside world and training of guards to better understand their problems.

Kunstler said Corrections Commissioner Russell G. Oswald did not agree to the demands for an increase in the minimum wage for inmate employment or the demand for an end to the state's parole system. Oswald told the prisoners that those matters require legislation.

No agreement was reached either on the prisoner demand that walls inside the Attica yard be removed to allow freer movement of inmates during their outdoor hours. The yard is currently divided into four sections.

Legal Efforts Underway To Halt Court-Ordered Busing Program

By Associated Press — Legal efforts to stop court-ordered busing to achieve racial balance in schools are under way after a week of bus-blocking, class-boycotting and racial fighting that marked the opening of public schools in some Northern and Southern cities.

As violence and picketing tapered off Friday, the Winston-Salem, N.C., school board and a Pinellas County, Fla., group sought court measures to halt such busing of thousands of pupils.

Former Florida Gov. Claude R. Kirk Jr. said in Washington he was launching a campaign by parents throughout the nation to seek a constitutional amendment against "abusive busing."

In San Francisco, where the largest Northern school-integration plan begins Monday with the busing of 26,000 pupils, a practice run for parents went off without incident Friday. But low participation by parents appeared to bear out busing opponents' forecast of an attendance boycott.

Ten persons were arrested on disorderly conduct charges in a racial scuffle at a Pontiac, Mich., high school. The incident was the only one reported Friday in that city, where police patrols were beefed-up and anti-busing picketing decreased.

U.S. marshals were ordered by U.S. District Court Judge Damon J. Keith to investigate local police enforcement of court-mandated busing of 9,000 of Pontiac's 24,000 public school pupils.

The Pontiac Board of Education and the NAACP had sought intervention by marshals, charging the city's police force had failed to halt the disruption of pupil busing ordered by Keith.

Since "school began Tuesday, 48 people have been arrested in antibusing protests and school-yard violence. Six Ku Klux Klansmen have been charged with conspiracy in the bombing of 10 empty buses Aug. 30.

Woman Suspected Of Shoplifting Sought By Police

Police are looking for a suspected shoplifter reported by Anthony. Store located in Coronado Center.

A store spokesman told officers a tall slender woman, black-haired and wearing heavy make-up removed a two-tone grey knit dress, size 12, from the store late Friday. The Butte knit dress is valued at $44.

Police reports said a store spokesman told investigating officers the woman left the shopping center in a red Buick or Oldsmobile, 1967 or 1968 model, after picking up a man in the lot.

They said the suspect also had a small girl, about five years old with her.

Boycott ...

"Everyone's against us, from Gov. Smith and the legislature down to the NAACP."

Earlier, the group heard Casey Jenkins, of the Concerned Parents Association of Nashville, Tenn., tell how a boycott in that city resulted in 29,000 students being kept at home on the first day of classes.

Jenkins said his group, claiming some 165,000 members, succeeded in getting the Tennessee Legislature to ram through a state law in its last session stating that parents cannot be punished for keeping their children out of school if the children are refused admission to their neighborhood schools.

Hughes, admitting that the Dallas boycott has not worked as well as some others, urged parents to withhold their children from classes on a selective basis one day each week.

"If the judge can give the kids Friday off, we can give them Monday off," Hughes said, referring to Judge William Taylor's plan to give students taking advantage of majority-minority transfers Fridays off.

Battery Stolen From Automobile

Culberson-Stowers Chevrolet, 805 N. Hobart, reported a battery missing Saturday.

Local police reports said the battery was removed from a 1966 Chrysler and thieves had attempted to remove a battery from a 1965 Chevy II parked nearby.

The battery was valued at $30 and $16 in damage was done to the Chevy when battery cables were cut.

If you are interested in playing, please call George Smith at the Center. There is also a need for more mixed teams. The men's league will play on Thursday nights this year with about 6 teams entered.

DOLPHIN SWIM CLUB—The Center has reorganized the Dolphin Swim Club during the past year for the purpose of entering again into competitive swimming. The Dolphins are presently meeting each open day at 6:00 p.m. to workout and would invite any boy or girl who is interested and knows how to swim to join the club. Swimmers are needed in all age groups to complete relay teams so that we can have relay representation at all of the meets. All interested swimmers are urged to contact George Smith or Jackie Marlar and come out for practice. All that is required is a Center membership.

WOMEN'S EXERCISE TIME
—The exercise class for women will start up again on Monday morning, Sept. 13 at 9:30 a.m. The women exercise by records from 9:30 to 10:00 then swim from 10:00 to 11:30 a.m. This class is for women only and children are not allowed to participate. However, we do have a baby sitting service for the parents during this time period. You may leave your children with the sitter in the Center and participate in either or both of the classes. Mats are furnished. You must be a member of the Center to participate.

BUFFALO (AP) — John G. Burgio discovered Sunday that his recently purchased home had an unexpected extra feature—a World War I vintage bomb in the basement. "I was poking around in an old box in the cellar when all of a sudden I saw its fins," Burgio said. "I knew right away what it was."

Burgio called police and the bomb was removed for demolition. "We're always sending men out to that address," said Assistant Detective Chief Robert Gavin. "Burgio found some old grenades up in his attic a few weeks ago."

Gavin said the house was owned shortly after World War I by a retired Army colonel. It had been occupied since 1929 by a single woman. About an hour after taking away the bomb, police were again summoned to the home. Burgio, doing more searching in the cellar, had come across the bomb's detonator.

CHICAGO (AP) — An attempt to get a kiss turned out to be quite painful for William Bolden, who is recovering from a gunshot wound in the leg. Police said Bolden, 15, entered a grocery store Sunday to buy a soda pop but also attempted to kiss a 20-year-old grocery clerk. She responded with gunfire. "He tried to kiss me and moved around the counter toward me," said Jessie Norman. She was charged with aggravated battery.

JUDO LESSONS — Attention all boys and girls. The Center will begin the new judo season this Thursday night at 7:00 p.m. in the Youth Center recreation hall. At this time an orientation class will be held to acquaint all new people just what judo is all about. If you have ever wanted to start in the art of self defense, now is the time to do so.

SWIM LESSONS — The school schedule of swim lessons is now in full swing at the Center, and enrollments for all classes for the remainder of 1971 are being taken. A list of classes is listed below and parents should check early to enroll their children. Our classes during the school year are held after school is out in the evenings either from 4:45 p.m. to 5:6 p.m. Classes make each class last 2½ weeks. All classes are taught by our own water safety instructor, Ruth Carter. All classes are Red Cross lessons and are free to Center members or $4.00 for non-members.

NEW YORK (AP) — The nation's 670 commercial television stations start their fall season this weekend operating under the new prime time rule.

The Federal Communications Commission has ordered a return of three-and-one-half hours weekly evening time to stations in the top 50 markets for local programming.

The idea is to encourage local production of shows and, hopefully, to improve quality and over-all creativity.

However, what we are likely to be seeing and in even greater quantities than ever are reruns of bygone series like "Tarzan" and "I Dream of Jeannie," plus some syndicated programs spun out of network series like "Hee Haw" and "To Tell the Truth."

Most popular purchases at the moment are some programs canceled by the networks last season but continuing on with new syndicated programs. The current sales champ appears to be "The Lawrence Welk Show" which has been sold, at last count, to 217 stations—more than the champagne music maker had during his ABC years. "Wild Kingdom," which comes from NBC equipped with a built-in sponsor, and "Lassie," with half of its commercial time filled, as always by a soup commercial, are close seconds.

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — "people were in a relaxed mood" and "there were more than 600 lonely but affluent sailors here" during the Australian bicentenary celebration, a medical official said.

Floating Of Mark May Cost GIs More In Europe

By OTTO DOELLING
Associated Press Writer
FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — The floating of the West German mark may cost the U.S. Army in Europe more than $30 million this fiscal year. For the individual serviceman, it means higher rents, tighter budgets and less travel and entertainment.

Young GIs arriving in Germany for the first time encounter a new kind of cultural shock. They compare the hard marks and pennings of reality with the tales they heard from their fathers and big brothers about the good old days when a carton of American cigarettes could buy practically anything here.

With a note of disillusionment, Spec. 5 Frank Godec of Pueblo, Colo., remarked, "I had the idea things would be dirt cheap over here. After all, the dollar was king."

But now Godec says he and his wife are finding "it's really hard to get by on the 'economy.' If you try to use dollars they only give you three marks or less. Sometimes they won't even accept dollars for marks. Since the mark was floated I've been paying $10 dollars a month more rent."

The "economy" is military jargon for the marks-and-pennings world outside of American military compounds. Godec is one of thousands of married American enlisted men living "on the economy" because military dependent housing is not authorized or available.

The Godecs pay 500 marks a month for rent. Before the float, this came to about $137.

Now it is about $147. But this figure is subject to fluctuation.

West Germany allowed the mark to float, or seek its own level on the international money markets, on May 9. The move was designed to stem the inflow of unwanted U.S. dollars and halt domestic price rises.

Two years ago, the value of the dollar was dropped from four marks to 3.66 marks. Since it was floated three months ago, the mark has risen about 8 per cent in value and Americans now are getting 3.38 marks or less for each dollar.

A long-time Army employee, who remembers the good old days, remarked, "I just don't go out on the 'economy' any more. I eat at the American clubs. I tell my wife: Don't buy on the 'economy,' go to the PX and commissary."

A PX, or post exchange is comparable to a department store, and a commissary is like a supermarket. Prices of American products in both the post exchanges and commissaries have been frozen in line with President Nixon's new economic policy.

Spec. 4 William Jeter of Hays, Kan., said he and his wife "used to buy most of our groceries on the 'economy.' But since they floated the mark, we just can't afford it. Besides, we don't know from day to day how much our dollar is worth. We do our shopping in the commissary now."

But there is no comparable way to offset such higher fixed costs as rent, and the Jeters—like the Godecs—are paying $10 more a month than when they arrived last March.

If Congress doesn't unfreeze quarters' allowances for enlisted men, a 3rd Armored Division lieutenant said, "the guys really are going to be hurting."

Some lower-ranking enlisted men not authorized to transport their wives and children to Germany at government expense are said to be reconsidering plans to bring them over.

"They felt that, with the money situation being what it is, it's just not worth it," one enlisted man said.

U.S. Army headquarters in Heidelberg also is feeling the pinch. It estimates that each percentage point the mark floats upward from its official pegging will increase the command's operating costs by $3,767,000 this fiscal year.

"As of now, the change caused by the floating mark is about 8.3 per cent, or a fiscal year dollar impact of approximately $31.5 million," a spokesman said.

Heidelberg headquarters has made representations to the Department of the Army on this added cost, seeking assistance in obtaining additional funding to cover it," the spokesman said.

But the West German finance and economics minister, Karl Schiller, already has served notice that Bonn will not increase its payments to Washington to offset the costs of stationing 200,000 American troops in West Germany.

HARVESTERS POUND HEREFORD

LEFT TURN SIGNAL? — Dale Ammons, Harvester quarterback, keeps them guessing as he runs wide followed closely by halfback Garvin McCarroll in the Harvester, Whiteface game Friday night in the Harvester Stadium, final score being 20-7.

Depth Factor Plus In 20-7 Victory

By RICK WRIGHT
Staff Writer

A steamrolling would best describe how the Harvesters darted past the Hereford Whitefaces Friday night with the ending score 20-7.

Scoring was lead by Garvin McCarroll, as Pampa moved the ball down into the 5 yard line. Here senior halfback McCarroll skipped in twice in the first quarter. The extra point attempts were kicked by junior Rick Musgrave. The first of these was unsuccessful, but the second tallied the score at 13-0 in the first 6 minutes of play.

Later in the first quarter Hereford battled up the 4 yard line and Hereford's junior quarterback Keith Kitchens tossed to their end Alan Cornelius, also a junior, making good a touchdown. The Whiteface extra point was kicked by junior Larry McNutt, setting the score at 13-7, which was unchanged until the fourth quarter when sophomore halfback Estephan Mathis scampered one in from the 4 yard line. The extra point was kicked by junior quarterback Rick Musgrave.

"I thought, for the first game, we played good," said Head Coach and Athletic Director Robert E. (Swede) Lee. "We started offensively 8 boys that had never started before and we made a lot of silly little mistakes."

"If we could have prevented those penalties it could have helped our offense a lot," said Lee. "We will probably have the mistakes worked next week. I think we will be ready to go next Friday against Odessa High."

"On offense some outstanding players were Billy Lemons, who got a top grade in the film study for filling out his blocking assignments." Commented Lee "Harmon Staus also did a real good job and Mike Reddell did a fine job."

Lee felt the offensive backs showed their stuff as John Roth carried the ball 8 times for a 4.4 yards per carry average. Garvin McCarroll scored twice and carried the ball 13 times for 59 yards. Bobby Owen, Estephan Mathis, and Richard McCampbell all carried the ball 7 times with Owen averaging 4.7 yards per carry.

Five passes were attempted and only three were completed, Mike Reddell being the receiver of all three," commented Lee. "This may be a little misleading as to how many were actually called, because we train the quarterbacks to run if they think they can."

Lee seemed very pleased with the crowd of supporters, as he said, "I thought we had a real good crowd; they were very responsive to our team and gave fine support to our players."

Defensively Alvin Ferguson lead in tackles and assists with 13. Also Ferguson blocked Hereford's attempt at a quick kick and broke three passes. Jessie Hunnicutt had 11 tackles and assists. Coach Lee commented on the playing of Ed Townsend, Richard McCampbell, Bobby Owen and Randy Stephens as being commendable.

SCORE BY QUARTERS
Pampa 13 0 0 7—20
Hereford 7 0 0 0—7

GREASED PIGSKIN — Harvesters and Whitefaces alike scramble for the fumbled football as Dale Ammons, quarterback, loses possession in the Harvester vs. Hereford game held in the Harvester Stadium Friday night. The final score was 20-7, favor of Pampa.

Colorado Football Team In Fatal Bus Accident

GARFIELD, Colo. (AP) — Eight teen-aged boys and their junior varsity football coach were killed and 22 other youths hospitalized Saturday when their runaway school bus hurtled two miles down a mountain pass and overturned in a filling station's lot. Forty-seven persons were hurled from the bus. Three died trapped inside, the State Patrol said. Football helmets, uniforms and other personal belongings were scattered near the wreckage. Six of the victims died at the scene and three more were dead on arrival at St. Lukes Hospital in Denver 112 miles northeast of Garfield.

The bus, carrying members of the Gunnison High School junior varsity and their coach and other students, was en route to Salida, 13 miles to the east. State Patrolman Cliff Watson, who saw the accident, said the eastbound bus appeared out of control as it hurtled around a bend on U.S. 50. "It did not appear to be in gear," the trooper said, "and was traveling about 50 miles per hour."

He said the bus came up behind a small car and a tractor-trailer truck and the driver successfully passed the two vehicles on the right side, riding the highway's shoulder. But then the bus veered broadside off the highway and skidded sideways through a service station lot, striking a large advertising sign before overturning on its side, Watson said.

West Texas Downed
Gene Mayfield's West Texas State University Buffaloes lost their opening bid to Memphis State 30 to 0 in a late Saturday game.

The loss was the first posted by the West Texas Buffs in the Missouri Valley Conference and the first under new head mentor Gene Mayfield.

Mayfield replaced Joe Kerbel after a shake up in the WTSU coaching staff last year. The Buffaloes will be meeting Lamar Tech next Saturday.

Longhorns Swamp Groom Tigers 29-8 Behind Robinson's Running

Friday night the Groom Tigers were swamped under by the Vega Longhorns by a margin of 29-8.

Vega scored in the first quarter on a triple option to Dickie Robinson who scampered 45 yards to pay dirt. The conversion attempt was no good.

The next touchdown was again made by Vega as Tony Cassity powed in from 12 yards out. The conversion was run in by Dickie Robinson to set the score at 14-0 for the first quarter.

The second quarter held in store the only touchdown made by Groom, when Nolan Weiberg caught a pass from Terry Nepper. The conversion was made successful by Mike Olinger putting the score at 14-8, which didn't change until the third quarter.

Vega tasted pay dirt once in the third quarter of play as Dickie Robinson came through from 6 yards out. This time the Longhorns kicked the extra point, and Vega scored one more time as Keith Ringel received a pass from Bronc May from 15 yards out fixing the final score at 29-8.

Head Coach Roger Arnold viewed, "we were real pleased with the players, though we made a lot of mistakes."

He went on to add, "We showed a lot of promise and we are looking for better things."

Players coach Arnold seemed to be pleased with being Randy Garmon defensive end and offensive tackle, and John Crowell the offensive fullback.

The Tigers will host the Claude Mustangs next Friday in Groom.

Basketball Around Corner For Houston

HOUSTON (AP) — The new Houston Rockets of the National Basketball Association greeted 20 rookie candidates Sunday to open pre-season workouts, and there was a heavy Texas flavor to the newcomers.

The Rockets, who transferred here from San Diego last June 23, already had a natural drawing card in Elvin "Big E" Hayes, the former All-American at the University of Houston.

But just for an extra home state flavor, Coach Tex Winter, a Texan himself, of course, has invited three other former University of Houston greats, Melvin Bell, George Reynolds and Ken Spaul, and Rice Gary Reist to try out for the Rockets.

The Rockets apparently opened camp without their No. 1 draft choice Cliff Meely, the 6-foot-8 All-American forward from Colorado. Meely and the Rockets have been unable to reach contract agreement.

Astródome. The Astrodome game will be a return match between Alcindor and Hayes.

In the 1968-69 season, Hayes led the University of Houston to a 71-69 victory over the unbeaten UCLA Bruins led by Alcindor.

The top rookie draftee in camp will be second round choice Mike Newlin of Utah.

Other draft choices on hand include Rick Katherman, Duke, eighth round; Doug Rex, California at Santa Barbara, 11th round; Dick Gibbs, Texas-El Paso. Reist was picked in the sixth round.

Winter held a rookie camp shortly before the franchise was shifted to Houston. At that time Newlin, Gibbs, Katherman and Rex were invited to pre-season drills which start Thursday.

Yankees Outlast Cleveland, 10-8

CLEVELAND (AP)—The New York Yankees outlasted the Cleveland Indians 10-8 in a slugfest Saturday.

The Yanks belted six Cleveland pitchers for 15 hits and built a 10-2 lead before the Indians' late rally in the ninth inning.

Cleveland scored four runs in the ninth inning on a pair of two-run homers by Ray Fosse and Kurt Eavacqua off reliever Alan Closter, Roger Hambrick finally retired the side.

Mike Kekich, 19-7, the New York starter, was the winner. Rich Hand, 2-5, took the loss.

Expos Pound Pirates Behind Strong Hits
MONTREAL (AP)—Doubles by Rusty Staub, Jim Fairley and Bob Bailey keyed a three-run fifth inning and carried Ernie McAnally and the Montreal Expos to a 4-1 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates Saturday.

Buckeyes Win 52-21 Over Iowa State

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Quarterback Don Lamka, a defensive reserve for the last two seasons, scored four touchdowns and piled up 211 total yards Saturday, leading defending champion Ohio State to a 52-21 victory over Iowa in a Big Ten opener.

Lamka, a Cleveland senior who filled in for All-American quarterback Jack Tatum in 1970, dashed 21, 19, 6 and 1 yards for his 24 points, making a flashy debut in the rain.

Coody Three Strokes Ahead In World Series

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Masters champion Charles Coody, fired a two under par 68, and grabbed a surprising three stroke lead Saturday in the first round of the World Series of Golf.

The anticipated duel between Jack Nicklaus and Lee Trevino didn't materialize as Nicklaus took a 71 and Trevino had a 72.

Australian veteran Bruce Crampton trailed the four-man field with a 73 with 18 holes to go in the chase for the $50,000 first prize.

Coody, making his first appearance in this tournament that brings together the winners of the world's four major titles; picked up two strokes on the field when he hit a two-iron shot eight feet from the flag and made the putt on the seventh hole.

The other three players bogeyed it, all from a trap.

The range Texan, winner of only two tour events in his career, had a three-putt bogey the 10th but got the stroke back with a 15-foot birdie putt on the 17th, despite hitting a fairway trap.

He didn't trail at any time after the big swing on the seventh. The 34-year-old Coody put.

Fighting Irish Sway McLean In 39-14 Victory

McLean Tigers were swayed by the Shamrock Irish, 39-14 in Friday night's clash.

"There isn't really much I can say," said coach Bob Langford. "They just came to play and we didn't."

"The boys were pretty upset, as the coaches were," added Langford. "We know we are capable of doing better."

"Our size isn't bad for a school this small," said Langford. "Our backfield is good, but our line is small. The backfield averages about 204 and the line about 160."

Langford felt that David Haynes senior tackle and team captain was the most outstanding player on the McLean Squad.

Next week Lefors will be hosted by McLean in the Tiger Stadium Friday night.

American And Australian Will Share Favorite Spot In Open

PORTSMOUTH, Va. (AP) — America's Julius Boros and Australia's Ken Nagle meet here Sunday for the World Seniors golf championship with Boros seeking to make it four in a row for the United States the 36-hole match.

The host for the third straight year will be the Bid-A-Wee Golf Club, where the host professional is former PGA champion Chandler Harper, who began the three-year run for the United States with a victory over Great Britain's Max Faulkner in 1968.

Scotland's John Panton had beaten Sam Snead the year before for the last British victory, but Panton lost here in 1969 to America's Tommy Bolt in a 39-hole match. Snead was the winner here last year, defeating Faulkner for the title.

Boros earned the right to represent the United States this year by winning the American title in January at the PGA National course in Palm Beach Gardens, Fla. Nagle won the British championship in June. It was the first seniors tournament for the 51-year-old Boros, a native of Fairfield, Conn., and a resident of Fort Lauderdale, Fla.—but it wasn't his first golf victory by a long shot.

Steve Scott Has Top Honors At Montana Tech

Montana Tech announced it's favored few honored with Player of the Week distinction following Saturday's game with Black Hills State College.

According to the Orediggers Steve Scott, 5'10 1/2", 175 pound flanker from Pampa did some great downfield blocking. The coaches said he caught two passes for a total of 52 yards, one of which set up a touchdown for the Orediggers.

The Orediggers were defeated by Black Hills despite the brilliant play. Tech gained 218 yards rushing and passing to Black Hills' 153. The Orediggers also had the edge on first downs with 12 compared to Black Hills' 9.

Langford felt that David Haynes senior tackle and team captain was the most outstanding player on the McLean Squad.

Next week Lefors will be hosted by McLean in the Tiger Stadium Friday night.

Boros, who has been on the PGA tour since 1950, won the U.S. Open in 1952 and 1963 and the PGA championship in 1968.

"He was the PGA's leading money winner in 1952, earning a grand total of $37,032.97. His biggest year was 1968, when he won $148,810.

Nagle, although a former tour participant, is not as well recognized these days in this country because he no longer plays on the American tour. But he keeps his game sharp competing in British and Australian tournaments.

He won the Otago Charity golf classic last December on the New Zealand tour and also won the Stars Travel PGA at Mount Maunganui. On the Australian tour he won the New castle at New South Wales.

"On paper you have to figure this match even up," says Harper of the 36-hole encounter—11 holes in the morning and 18 the afternoon.

U.S. Dominates Swim Meet In Minsk, USSR

MINSK, U.S.S.R. (AP) — The U.S. swimming team completed its domination of a three-way meet with Russia and Britain Saturday, bringing its world record haul to five as Ann Simmons of Long Beach, Calif., and a women's relay team shattered existing marks.

Miss Simmons became the first woman to crack the nine-minute mark in the 800-meter freestyle, flashing home in 8:39.37 and surpassing the listed record of 9:02.4 set by Karen Moras of Australia last year.

Then, as the three-day meet wound up, the 400-meter medley relay team came through with a 4:27.33 clocking that bettered the existing record of 4:27.4 set by the U.S. team in Japan last year.

The relay team was composed of Susie Atwood of Lakewood, Calif., Claudia Clevenger of Cupertino, Calif., Ellie Danitil of Drexel Hill, Pa., and Linda Johnson of Lakewood, Calif.

The relay victory also gave the United States a sweep of all Saturday's nine events, a total of 27 victories in 29 events over three days and a point total of 342 to 205 for the Soviet Union and 141 for Britain.

The only American defeats were administered by Galina Stepanova, a gold medal winner at the Tokyo Olympics, who captured the 100 and 200-meter breaststroke.

Besides Miss Simmons' record and the women's medley relay, the United States also took home Mark Spitz' record of 1:53.5 in the 200-meter freestyle, a 4:00.7 clocking by the women's 400-meter freestyle relay team and a 7:43.33 clocking by the men's 800-meter freestyle team.

The boys' 400-meter freestyle relay team also took home a gold medal, with a 4:00.7 clocking by the women's 400-meter freestyle relay team and a 7:43.33 clocking by the men's 800-meter freestyle team.

The boys' 400-meter freestyle relay team also took home a gold medal, with a 4:00.7 clocking by the women's 400-meter freestyle relay team and a 7:43.33 clocking by the men's 800-meter freestyle team.

Perryton Rangers Edge Borger Bulldogs 14-13

Handing Borger a defeat isn't an easy task for most AAAA schools but Perryton, in 3-AAA class, gave the Bulldogs the shock of the year in capturing a 14-13 victory Friday night in Ranger Stadium.

The Ranger coach, Don Smith, had only one comment after the game, "We beat a good ball club, we deserved to win all the way."

"Both teams were equally great on the playing field but our boys had more determination especially on the last play of the game when we held Borger back from inside our 10 yard line."

In the last 40 seconds of play Borger had the opportunity to catch and pass the Rangers when they went 45 yards inside to the Ranger 10 yard line.

Three plays later found the Dogs still inside the 10 and the Rangers on top.

When asked about outstanding players coach Smith said, "We had several boys who played better than average last night. Truthfully, I can only say that the whole team played football like the game was meant to be played."

David Flowers led the Ranger attack with a one yard dive after an 80 yard drive by his team-mates to place the Rangers on the scoreboard.

In the second quarter it looked as if Borger might be

Wildcats Run Away With Victory Over Booker Kiowas In Canadian

Runaway. Runaway with the Canadian Wildcats was the key word in their 59 to nothing slaughter of the Booker Kiowas Friday night in Booker.

The Wildcats under a complete new coaching staff looked good under the lights Friday night as head coach Jack Hawthorne guided the Wildcats to a season opener win.

The Wildcats dominated the field all night long as in the first quarter they jumped to a 12 nothing lead.

In the second quarter they added 22 points and in the third 22 more on the board. In the fourth quarter playing bench strength the Wildcats hit a 36-yard field goal in the final seconds of the game to ice the cake.

Coach Hawthorne said they "still have a lot of mistakes to correct as there is no consistency on offense and the defense is just a little ahead of the offense."

"Overall I am not satisfied with the performance Friday night. We worked mainly on ball control during the fourth quarter keeping to the fine points of the game," he continued.

"Our real test is coming up this Friday when we face Erick, Oklahoma on their home ground. Erick has an average of 230 pounds in their backfield and just about as much meat on the line."

"Our boys aren't small by any means but they will have to work for a victory against Erick," Hawthorne said. "I only hope we can work a few more bugs out before then."

Forgan Scalps Warriors 20-16 On Oklahoma Field

The Miami Warriors were taken under by the Forgan Bulldogs of Forgan, Oklahoma, 20-16, Friday night at Forgan.

In the first quarter Craig Baily took a pass from David Faulkner over the line to score and the conversion was a roll out run in, by Joe Bill Seus fixing the score at 8-0 favor of Miami.

The second quarter revealed a touchdown with no conversion by the Forgan Bulldogs, resetting the score at 8-6 till the half.

Forgan took the lead in the first part of the third quarter making the score 14-8. Miami regained the lead later in the third as Joe Bill Seus hopped in from the 2, and then skipped over for the conversion giving the Warriors a 2 point margin with a score of 16-14.

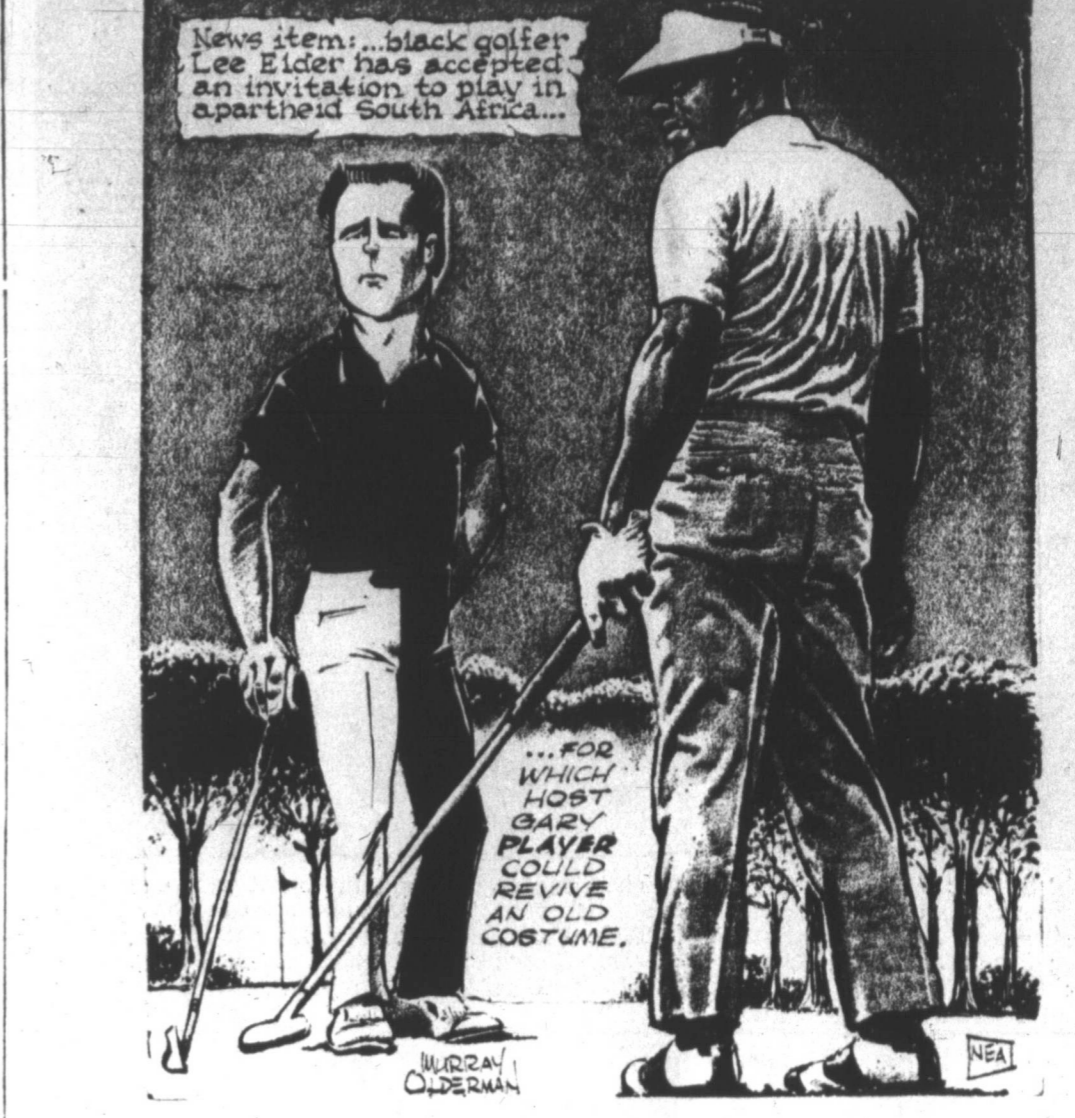

The deciding play was a 60-yard pass for Forgan in the last 45 seconds of the game, which in turn ended the scoring at 20-16 favor of Forgan.

Head Coach Harold McCreary said "I think our kids whipped them, though we were considerably outsize. Forgan has the biggest team I have ever played with two tackles weighing in at 230 and 280. I was really proud of our boys' effort."

Coach McCreary felt some of the outstanding players were: Joe Bill Seus, Craig Baily, and defensive linebacker Joe Lunsford.

Next week the Miami Warriors will travel to challenge Moscow, Kansas.

BLACK-AND-WHITE TOGETHERNESS

Bucks Injury Plagued After Downing Memphis

Injuries will be plaguing the White Deer Bucks for the rest of the season despite a 43 to 8 victory over Memphis Friday night.

The Bucks started the season shorthanded as they lost Kenny Thurman to a knee injury and Mitch Abbot to a groin sprain. In Friday's game coach J.T. Hill said, "We were on the field with about 16 players able to start, when we finished we possibly had one who wasn't banged up in one way or another."

Early in the game, all state potential Mike Trantham went out with a mild concussion, the Bucks were soon to have Kim Slagle fall to a hand injury and Randy Blumer went out with a groin sprain.

According to Hill, "We thought we were starting the season in rough shape last year, this year makes last year look like ice cream. We've never had so many injuries this early in the season. I can only hope that these boys will be able to play in top shape by the start of district competition."

"As it stands now we aren't real sure if we will even be able to field a team against Clarendon this coming Friday night. We are hurting and I'm not ashamed to say that injuries may give us more defeats than anything else."

"We played boys who have never had experience in our game against Memphis," Hill continued, "some were playing positions totally different as one example we had a back on the line."

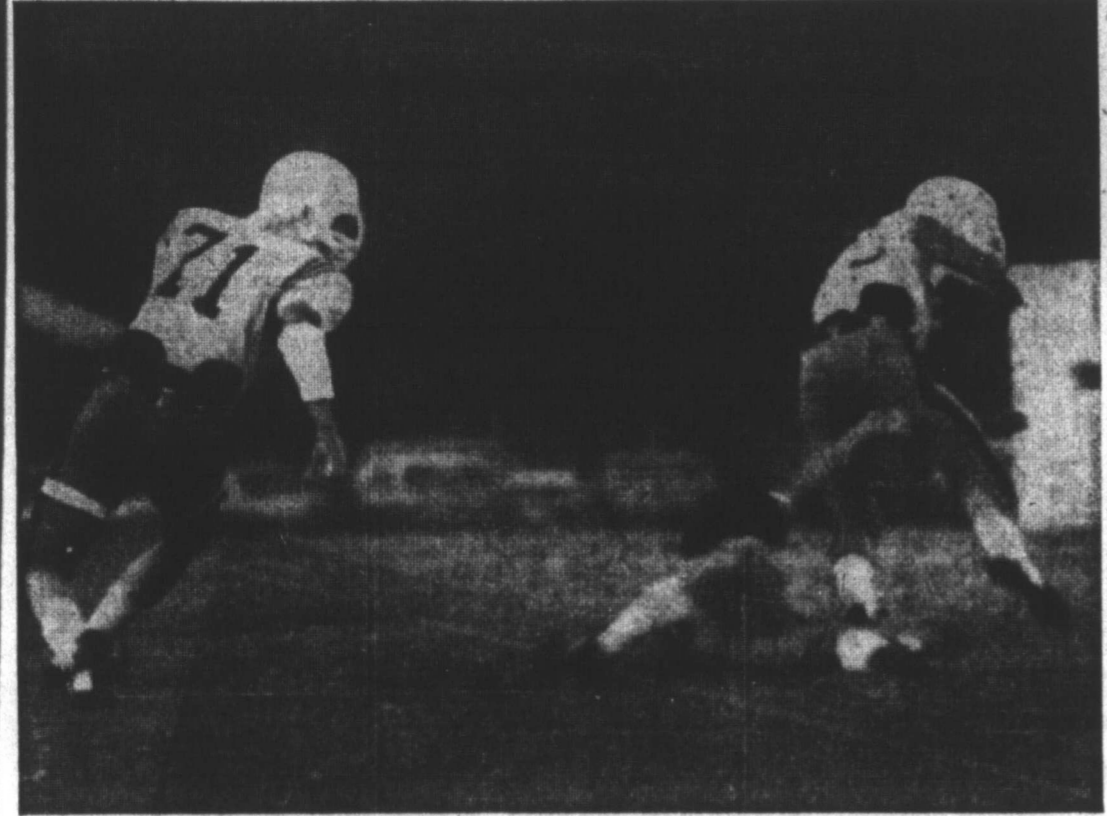

When questioned about outstanding players Hill stated, "Players we have a lot of but the only outstanding thing about White Deer is our team. All of the boys were outstanding and all were thinking about the team and not themselves."

In the first half of Friday's game against Memphis White Deer scored everytime they had possession of the ball. Kim Slagle was the first Buck over the line with a 47 yard run. An 18 yard pass to Hudgins from Hoskins gave the Bucks their second tally of the night.

Other scores for the Bucks came on a six yard run by Slagle, a one yard dive play by Sargent, a screen pass play that covered 58 yards from Hoskins to Slagle and Urbanczyk on a 30 yard trap play.

Memphis' only score came in the bottom of the fourth quarter when Lewis Davis ran 70 yards on the first play from scrimmage for the score. Davis ran the two point conversion making the score 43-8 as the whistle blew.

LARAMIE, Wyo. (AP) — Lloyd Eaton, assistant athletic director and former head football coach at the University of Wyoming announced his resignation Friday to become a pro grid scout.

WHEELER VICTORY — Grid action started all over the Texas Panhandle over the week-end with the Wheeler Mustangs (light jerseys) defeating the Lefors Pirates, 30-0, in their season opener. (Staff Photo)

Pirates Blanked 30-0 By Wheeler Mustangs

The Wheeler Mustangs clobbered the Lefors Pirates with their height and weight advantage for a 30 to nothing shut-out victory in Lefors.

Both teams playing hard hitting ball were stymied by penalties through-out the game.

Dale Stevens opened the attack for Wheeler with a long run for the TD with 5:54 remaining.

Stevens exhibited his running abilities against the Pirates all evening long, however, he wasn't alone as Jimmie Cole opened the second quarter for Wheeler with a touchdown with 10:14 showing on the clock.

Cole's rambles carried him some 50 yards against the Lefors defense and over the goal line. Both attempts for the extra point were failures.

The combination of David White and Ronnie Sims could prove to be a winner as both showed great potential against Wheeler.

The second quarter began to look like a see-saw battle on penalties as six fouls were called against the two battling teams.

Gary Fischer ended the toss up with a pass to Jerry Beaty on the Lefors 9 yard line. With 2:28 Cole went over the goal line for another Mustang victory step.

The Mustangs weren't going to give up with an 18 point lead as Cole crossed the line again with 22 seconds remaining in the first half to bring the score to 24-nothing.

Wheeler's final touchdown came in the third quarter with 6:08 showing on a run by Stevens. The fourth quarter was pretty well a defensive battle between the Mustang second string and the determined Pirates.

Satchel To Display His Legs On Tuesday

KIAMESHA LAKE, N.Y. (AP)—Satchel Paige, the great Negro pitcher whose right arm got him into baseball's Hall of Fame recently, will put his legs on display Tuesday.

Pancho Gonzales can't wait. "I have played tennis all over the world," said veteran Pancho Gonzales, still one of the world's leading players. "I have played with kings and movie stars and Texas millionaires. But I think my most memorable moment will come when I see Satchel Paige in Tennis shorts."

Gonzales is the tournament chairman and Paige in his late 60's is among those entered in the first annual Sports Celebrity Tennis Tournament for the Dewar's Cup. It will be held at the Concord Hotel.

Houston Faces Saints To Wind Up Exhibition

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—The New Orleans Saints wind up their exhibition season Sunday night against the Houston Oilers with the stumbling hometown looking for its first victory in 11 games.

The Saints offense has been dismal in their last two games but the return of rookie quarterback Archie Manning to at least part time duty should inject some spark against the improved Oilers.

Manning injured a foot Aug. 21 against the Kansas City Chiefs and has practiced very little since then. Further hampering the rookie sensation's development was his late arrival at training camp because of a delay in reaching agreement with the Saints on a contract.

Team trainers fitted Manning with a special plastic arch support this week to help distribute his weight more evenly over the injured foot.

The Oilers are 3-3 in exhibition play, including a 37-17 victory over the Chicago Bears last week while the Saints were being embarrassed by Philadelphia, 31-0.

"We'd prefer to be going into the Houston game with the same lineup that we know would be opening the season against Los Angeles the following week," said Coach J.D. Roberts. "But we're still experimenting at several key positions, due to injuries and disappointments."

John Shimmers, the Saints No. 1 guard, has missed the entire exhibition season with a broken hand. He returned to practice this week and probably will play, although he is not expected to start.

Coleman Pitches No-Hitter For 1-0 Win Over Boston Saturday

DETROIT (AP) — Joe Coleman pitched no-hit ball for seven innings and finished with a three-hitter while Gates Brown drilled his ninth home run of the year to power the Detroit Tigers to a 1-0 victory over Boston Saturday.

Coleman, striking out 11 en route to his 17th victory, checked the Red Sox until rookie Cecil Cooper led off the eighth with a pinch single, a slow bouncer that just eluded third baseman Aurelio Rodriguez.

DEAR ABBY: If I knew Nanette Fabray's address, I would send her an orchid. What a wonderful thing she did for the hard of hearing by writing to you and letting you tell the world that she has worn a hearing aid for years. Bless her! She is a fine performer, a great lady and a good sport.

I wear a hearing aid, too, and I'd like to add, it would help those of us with a hearing loss if people would not shout at us. They should look at us, and talk directly to us so we can read their lips more easily. Thank you.

LIP READER

DEAR ABBY: You certainly hit close to home when you ran Nanette Fabray's wonderful letter!

My mother has been hard of hearing for years, but she's too vain to admit it. She sits there, pretending to hear, and she's missing 75 per cent of what's going on. She wears eye glasses but she won't see a doctor about her hearing because she's afraid he might tell her she needs a hearing aid. Meanwhile she's 58 and missing a lot because she won't let anybody help her.

HER SON

DEAR SON: You don't need me to tell you how foolish your mother is. But her vanity can cost her her life if she ever steps into the path of an oncoming automobile which she has not heard approaching. Please show this to her. It may help.

DEAR ABBY: Thank you for printing Nanette Fabray's letter saying she wasn't ashamed to let people know she wears a hearing aid.

I am a 15-year-old girl who is very hard of hearing. I had the measles and a high temperature when I was 3 and have been wearing a hearing aid ever since. It helps some, but not a whole lot. I had an operation, too, but that was not successful.

It is so hard for a person who can't hear to make friends, Abby. In school I hate to ask people to please speak up because they start saying "Oh, don't talk to her—she's deaf!" Abby, I'm not deaf, I'm hard of hearing. If I ask someone to repeat something, they say, "Never mind. It wasn't anything important."

I sure wish you would tell people who can hear that they don't know how lucky they are.

NOT THAT LUCKY

DEAR NOT: One of life's tragedies is being unable to hear. But sadder still are those who can hear, but will not listen.

DEAR ABBY: Thank you for publishing Nanette Fabray's letter, urging the hard-of-hearing to wear hearing aids. Please advise those with a hearing problem to always ask to have repeated that which they have not heard. (So many will pretend that they have heard when they have not.) I am a nurse, and on one occasion the doctor instructed his patient in the taking of medication. She did not hear him correctly, and a tragedy nearly resulted.

Fun Felt Hats

Felt hats can be made to your own liking by adding ornaments or cutting holes in them to give a swiss cheese effect. Add feather, patches or old jewelry to make those hats suit any occasion.

Focus on Legs

Again the fashion focal point is the legs. So be prepared to pick up on those textured tights, over-the-knee socks, laced boots and shoes to complete the picture.

The classic blazer has returned and is a big part of the new look for fall. This time the blazer is soft suede or crushed velvet and can be matched with many outfits. Along with the blazers come the bright colors and traditional plaids in kilts, skirts and HotPants.

Dry Shampoo

A must for the gal on the go is the dry shampoo. It takes about five minutes and leaves your hair looking clean between regular shampoos.

A number of measurement problems may be camouflaged by the layered look in clothes. The look is achieved with vests and tunics over the long skirt with HotPants underneath.

They carried nosegays of blue and white daisies accented with blue streamers. All of the attendants wore gold drops, gifts of the bride.

Flower girls were Cathi Rosato and Kathy Roberts of Fort Worth. They wore gowns identical to those of the honor attendants and carried baskets of flowers. Randall Hunt and Jimmy McAndrew, brothers of the bride, served as ringbearers and escorts for the flower girls.

Serving as best man was Norman Cox, brother of the bridegroom. Groomsmen were Gerald Burns, James Spurgeon, and Allen Taylor, all of Ft. Worth. Ushers were John McAndrew and Chuck McAndrew, brothers of the bride. Altar attendants and candlelighters were Lowry Hunt and Rodney Hunt.

MOTHERS

The bride's mother was attired in a two-piece ensemble of rust crepe featuring a smocked hemline, jeweled trim and matching accessories. Her corsage was of yellow rosebuds. The bridegroom's mother wore an A-line ensemble of beige lace over linen which was accented by matching accessories. Her corsage was of baby yellow rosebuds.

MRS. ROBERT EARL COX

Mrs. Gerard A. Leger, Pampa, grandmother of the bride and special guest, wore a two-piece ensemble of navy blue and white with a touch of winter green. Her corsage was of white daisies, and she wore matching accessories.

THE CEREMONY

During the processional, the bride presented her mother with a white rose. She was given in marriage by her father. During the recessional, she presented a white rose to the bridegroom's mother. The church was decorated with urns of white gladioli and daisies. Candelabra formed a semi-circle around the altar and the altar rail and pews were marked with greenery, white daisies and ribbons.

RECEPTION

Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Hunt were hosts for the wedding reception at home with the assistance of Mr. and Mrs. Carl D. Montgomery of Fort Worth. The bride's table was covered with a sheer linen cloth, centered with white candelabra, and accented with the bouquets of the wedding party. The five-tiered Grecian-columned wedding cake was topped with fresh white daisies. Mrs. Rob Dixon, sister of the bridegroom, presided at the punch bowl, and the cake was served by Mrs. Carl Skidmore. The bridegroom's table was served by Miss Linda Rosato and Mrs. Carl D. Montgomery.

For the wedding trip to Galveston Island, the bride wore a two-piece ensemble of red, white and blue, with matching accessories.

The Pampa Daily News

A Watchful Newspaper

NEVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

Our Capsule Policy

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capability.

The News believes each and every person would get more satisfaction in the long run if he were permitted to spend what he earns on a volunteer basis rather than having part of it distributed involuntarily.

Playful Supreme Court

The State Supreme Court decision that overthrows property taxes for school purposes runs to 63 pages. The only other certain thing about it is the uncertainty that will flow from it. The ruling thus is in line with the holdings of higher courts generally for the last 50 years; that is, more a playing about with slogans than a serious interpretation of law.

The slogan in this case is "equal protection." That comes from the Fourteenth Amendment to the U.S. Constitution which forbids any state from denying "any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws." From that point, to judge by what we can learn at this early date, the court apparently equated schooling with protection so that in effect the Fourteenth Amendment reads that no state shall deny any person within its jurisdiction equal schooling. In the court's view, equal schooling must mean that you have to spend an equal amount of money per pupil regardless of where the pupil happens to live, or how wisely or foolishly you spend.

One could go on endlessly speculating what the court was intending to do. We suspect the justices did more than what they intended. For instance, if "equal protection" can be applied to the school problem, it certainly can be applied to police departments. In short, local financing is outlawed for local services. Such other questions are raised as the validity of property-tax collections when used for the forbidden purposes and the security of banks and pension funds that hold municipal bonds.

We suspect that when these several significant interests voice their concerns to the U.S. Supreme Court, the administrative difficulty of the California decision will be sufficient for the review court to temper the results markedly.

In commenting on the all-too-obvious short-comings of the California Supreme Court, we hope not to appear to defend the property tax. The levy is unfair, impossible rightly to administer, and constitutes an obstacle to progress. Like all other taxes, it falls upon the consumer and hence, like all other taxes, is felt heaviest by the person who consumes all he earns. For 36 years, The News has pointed out the evil of taxation generally and the advisability of substituting user charges as a way of paying for desired governmental services. Intentionally or unintentionally, the California decision uncovers one portion of the factual evil. The resulting headlines and news stories probably make better education than the decision itself makes law.

Motorbike Riders' Problem

As you have no doubt noticed, motorcycles are becoming more and more popular in our area, as all over the United States. Now that so many people have on for more bikes, the problem is: Where to ride them?

As a motorcycle owner and enthusiast, I have come against the problem that hundreds of other cyclists are a plagued with.

We have been run out of lakes, river beds, vacant lots and anywhere else you can ride trail bike.

A lot of very good riders are too young to get street license, so that leaves them out in the cold. Even in Amarillo, Hand-diebar Hills has been closed. If someone would take a few of their brain, they could make a lot of money and allow a lot of motorcycle fans to have fun. If someone would take a few acres of land, make safety rules, and charge a small fee for riding on it, it would bring in cycles from all around.

Of course there are a few riders who would abuse the privilege, but on the whole, I think most cyclists would be so glad to have a place to ride, they would gladly pay a small fee and abide by rules set up by someone with a knowledge of cycles.

Surely someone has a piece of land we could use. It's a growing problem and there has to be a solution.

The Romney Remedy

George Romney was born in 1907, got out of school in 1930, worked for private industry in capacities from apprentice to board chairman until 1963 when he became governor of Michigan. In 1969, he became secretary of the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Affairs. Thus his adult years number 41. Of those, 33 were devoted to enterprise and only 8 to political office. So you would suppose that Secretary Romney today would be about 80 per cent enterprise in his viewpoint and not greater than 20 per cent socialist.

That's the way the arithmetic works about, but the factual results seem somewhat different. At a Friday news conference, the secretary said both business and unions had grown so strong that "our economy is no longer predominantly based on a policy of free competitive enterprise."

Certainly competition is not as free as it ought to be. So we do not quarrel with the accuracy of that part of the statement. But then the secretary went on to add that he had a treatment for the disease that he had so precisely diagnosed.

"In my opinion," Mr. Romney stated, "it is at least time for us to curb this abuse of accumulated power used by both companies and unions."

The thing wrong with the prescription is that it applies government interference to the sore spot, a remedy polluted with the same germs that caused the harm in the first place. Government interference is the leech that bleeds free competition. Government interference has provided the license for the powerful union.

For instance, the high tax on corporate dividends means that major shareholders sought their gains from growth which is taxed at a lower rate. So the bigger companies were driven to buy out the smalls.

As companies grew, the union expanded its size in order to maintain its negotiating strength. Moreover, governmental legislation gave to the union a weapon of force that could not have otherwise acquired.

In the face of those facts, so well-known now that they seem almost tired, Doctor Romney offers a "more government" is staggering from an overdose. "tonic" to a patient who already The intoxication may be popular, but it certainly isn't healing.

Nixon Aim: Buy More, Save Less

By RAY CROMLEY
NEA Washington Correspondent
WASHINGTON (NEA) — Look carefully at the figure 8.1. That's the percentage the average American is now saving out of his income — 2 to 2.5 percentage points higher than normal.

That 8.1 is what Nixon's economists aim at. They say it is the fox in the chicken coop, the reason recovery is limping, not booming along.

Nixon's men say if Americans — all of us — were spending as much of our incomes as we customarily have done, this would fuel the economy another $14 billion annually.

Increased spending would in turn spur businessmen to boost their purchases of new plants and machinery.

Except for consumer spending, the economy is coming along nicely. So much so that one of this country's most respected economists has told this reporter that if we consumers had been spending at the normal percentage rate these past 12 months, we'd have recovery by now.

Counting indirect effects, the Gross National Product would be up $25 billion.

Nixon's proposed increase in personal income tax exemptions won't yield any comparable sum. Nor will scratching the federal tax on automobiles. This is come-on money, the President's own variety of psychological warfare aimed at stirring the consumer out of his fears. There's a great deal of argument here over why the consumer isn't spending. Economists this reporter has talked to argue it's a matter of confidence. The consumer is spending. He's holding his charges as a way of paying for desired governmental services. Intentionally or unintentionally, the California decision uncovers one portion of the factual evil. The resulting headlines and news stories probably make better education than the decision itself makes law.

Then there's the general uncertainty — violence in the streets, narcotics, racial tensions, the war, the crisis in the Middle East — a feeling we're drifting nationally, with a lack of strong leadership in the White House. Uncertain people spend less.

No one knows whether Nixon's program will ease these fears, create confidence and send consumers flocking to spend their money. But it is certain what he's aiming at. The Kissinger mission to China was intended to show imaginative leadership, ease domestic tension over Vietnam and the shaky world situation.

Nixon's dramatized drives against dope, crime on the streets and employment for Vietnam veterans was aimed at diffusing uncertainty and emphasizing that the President has a firm grip on the reins.

Nixon's package of economic measures was to be the clincher — shocking enough to jolt the consumer into the confidence that his President was master of the situation, determined to lick inflation and to prevent unfair foreign exchange rates and trade barriers from taking jobs from Americans.

For instance, the high tax on corporate dividends means that major shareholders sought their gains from growth which is taxed at a lower rate. So the bigger companies were driven to buy out the smalls.

As companies grew, the union expanded its size in order to maintain its negotiating strength. Moreover, governmental legislation gave to the union a weapon of force that could not have otherwise acquired.

In the face of those facts, so well-known now that they seem almost tired, Doctor Romney offers a "more government" is staggering from an overdose. "tonic" to a patient who already The intoxication may be popular, but it certainly isn't healing.

And I Quote

"I love the man that can smile in trouble, that can gather strength from distress, and grow brave by reflection." — Thomas Paine, political leader of the American Revolution.

"Down, Boy!"

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Linda is proof that when you "package" Bible facts attractively, you can win the interest of modern teen-agers. And even enlist their active leadership in church as well as Sunday School. But don't think religion is based merely on miracles. It is as dependent on high intelligence, as is mathematics!

CASE R-500: Linda J., aged 19, is a college coed.

"Dr. Crane," she began, "I became interested in the Bible after I sent for your booklet with its wide variety of 4-answer Bible questions. And I have recently agreed to teach a Sunday School class of freshmen high school girls.

"One of them thinks it is impossible that Jesus could have Peter pay their taxes with a coin which would be in the mouth of the first fish Peter caught on a hook, Dr. Crane, was this just a miracle? And how can we explain miracles?"

Miracles are usually regarded as effects whose cause we do not comprehend. Our modern radio and television, as well as airplanes and submarines, thus would have rated as miracles even to Christopher Columbus, plus all the native Indians of that century.

Putting an astronaut on the moon would likewise have been deemed a pure miracle even at the end of World War II in 1945. Many literalists waste a lot of time trying to deny the various miracles mentioned in the Bible. But none of them can even yet produce a grain of wheat that will germinate and grow! Nor a blade of grass or any other living thing!

Oddly enough, the Chicago TRIBUNE on March 1, 1971, carried this news item from Bacton, England:

"Things are becoming luckier for George Dean. Three weeks ago he thought he struck it rich when he caught a codfish in the English Channel, cut it open and found a slot machine token.

"Last week he caught another cod, opened it, and found a bronze 4th Century Roman coin that museum officials believe is worth about $240."

Occasionally fishermen have reported catching fish that had swallowed a gold ring or a bracelet or a wristwatch. Although I am not an expert fisherman, I once landed a bass that I had hooked a few weeks earlier on an artificial minnow. But it broke my line and thus got away.

Later, I landed the same bass for that artificial minnow I had lost was still fastened to its lip." But intelligent people must realize that religion is not a matter of which menu items are approved or disapproved, nor of whether we wear hats or omit hats in church. For true religion is a matter of logic instead of miracles.

The latter often attracted crowds and thus served as excellent devices for gaining large audiences quickly. But the essential merit in Christianity is its unique reversal of all previous customs regarding sacrifices.

Therefore, all peoples tried to bribe the favor of their cruel, sadistic gods via sacrifices of food, wine and even live human infants, as well as adults. But God reversed this inexorable custom of one-way sacrifice from puny mortals to deity, by sacrificing his son Jesus. Why?

To prove his vast concern and affection for us human children, since we were told in Genesis we were created in God's image, as his own offspring. But nobody had believed God to be comparable to a modern devoted father, raised to the nth degree.

Calvary is thus unique in all religious history! Send for my booklet "The Logical Proof of God."

(Always write Dr. Crane in care of The Pampa Daily News, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 25 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

Clearing House

Got something you would like to "get off your chest"? That's what the "Clearing House" is for. It has been suggested there should be more letters to the Editor, that people should speak their mind, so, in the public interest, write to the Editor and "get it off your chest."

Editor: There were 93 mistakes in the front section of the Sunday August 22nd paper (not counting the sports section, I don't read it) 17 on the front page.

I'm not a good speller and don't know anything about punctuation, but someone working for your paper should. To some of us coming here from other places, your paper is a joke for more reasons than one. Why not print the liberal point of view sometimes so the people here won't have to go out of town to find out what is going on. You are fifty years behind.

Editor's Note: We have been feeling the pains from our conversion from letter press to offset for more than a month now.

Due to early deadlines that have had to be established, we are making more errors than ever before. The thing that hit us hardest was when a machine that reads little holes in tapes broke down for 14 days.

We called for the part to be air-freighted to us and were promised delivery within 48 hours. Two complete weeks passed before it arrived. The part was installed a little more than a week ago and the number of errors has decreased.

People tend to remember the number of mistakes we have printed rather than the number of correct words actually produced. We are sorry for the inconvenience placed on you and our many other readers.

Regarding the news not printing the liberal point of view, we assume that it is in reference to our editorial page. Our conservative nature will maintain this position as in the past, and most likely for the next 50 years.

Wit and Whimsy

School is "in," but it's way-out for some of the kids.

The person with a broken heart usually has a poor diagnosis: It's usually a case of wounded vanity.

The man who "doesn't recall" can be believed; the man who says he was "never informed" should be dealt with in nothing less than registered letters.

Inside Washington

Next Economic Target? Nation's 5.5 Percent Jobless

ROBERT ALLEN

WASHINGTON — As the popular expression goes, you ain't seen nothing yet — in new sweeping economic measures. Under consideration are ideas and proposals, as drastic and far-reaching as the spectacular wage-price freeze, to deal with the persistently excessive unemployment rate — upwards of 5.5 per cent in recent months.

This grievous jobless level is President Nixon's next crucially momentous target.

It is his determined intention to cut it by at least one-third by next spring.

That's the emphatic directive given his inner advisers. They have been told plans must be devised that will quickly and effectively put millions of idle on payrolls.

The President wants that dramatic undertaking set in motion by the expiration of the 90-day wage-price freeze.

The inside White House word is that no concepts, theories, formulas or anything else, new or old, are barred to accomplish this objective. The overriding aim is to massively reduce unemployment in the shortest possible time.

The primary concern is not how it's done but to get it done. One measure being deliberated is a version of the New Deal's WPA (Works Progress Administration) — under which millions were put to work on a wide range of jobs from raking leaves to painting murals in public buildings, writing plays and staging shows.

As being discussed, workers would be paid prevailing minimum wages of $1.60 to upwards of $2.00 an hour, with the Federal government footing the bill.

The government already is doing that to a limited extent under the recently enacted public service employees law. Under it, an estimated 200,000 will be hired by local authorities. Last Congress, President Nixon vetoed such a bill but signed it this time.

Now apparently he is prepared to extend this policy to the whole range of joblessness.

Special Target

Of particular concern to President Nixon is providing jobs for Vietnam veterans and youth in general.

He has stressed the urgent importance of that in his talks with advisers and lieutenants. Several "innovative" proposals reportedly are being formulated, but details are unknown.

That there is impelling reason for the President's concern is forcefully underlined by Sen. Strom Thurmond's blunt demand that "special attention and assistance be given Vietnam veterans in placing them in the job market."

Not only is the South Carolinian a ranking Republican member of the Armed Services Committee, Judiciary Committee and Appropriations Defense Subcommittee, but he is a powerful leader of his party throughout the South. Also, he generally supports the Administration's legislative policies.

It is highly significant, therefore, that Thurmond singled out unemployment among veterans as a pressing problem and sharply called for prompt remedial action.

He minced no words in pinpointing the issue and its magnitude.

"There are 223,000 Vietnam veterans between the age of 20 and 24 who are without jobs," said Thurmond. "This amounts to 13.4 per cent compared with 9 per cent of non-veterans in that age bracket who are not employed. Of those who are 25 to 29 years old, 5.9 per cent of the Vietnam veterans are unemployed, and 4.5 per cent of their non-veteran counterparts are without employment.

"These figures alarm me for several reasons. The stability of a nation's economy is directly related to the employment of its citizens. Such a high percentage of unemployment is always a matter for serious concern. However, the fact that the percentage of unemployment among Vietnam veterans runs higher than the national average shows that rapid and corrective measures should be applied to this particular category immediately."

What They're Saying

Economic measure most favored by members of Congress, returned from a month's vacation, is an individual tax cut of some kind — particularly for low-income brackets.

That's clearly indicated in talks with a wide range of legislators.

In these discussions, they say their mail is heavily in favor of the President's wage-price freeze; also in demands for drastic measures to reduce unemployment and for tax relief. Preferred tax plan among the lawmakers is increasing the minimum standard deduction for low-income families by making an increase in personal exemptions effective as of Jan. 1, 1971, instead of Jan. 1, 1972, as proposed by President Nixon. Under the existing law, this tax break does not become operative until Jan. 1, 1973.

By making the exemption retroactive to January of this year, taxpayers could claim a $750 deduction on returns due next April 15. This would directly benefit millions in the middle-income brackets.

Most legislators also strongly indicated they would like to see this exemption raised to $1,000.

Significantly, Rep. Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., chairman of the powerful Ways and Means Committee, is for that. He holds it would be an immediate and decisive stimulant to the national economy.

Illustrative of the mail received by members of Congress are the following extracts from all sections of the country:

Panhandle Water

By FELIX W. RYALS
Members of the Water, Inc. group that toured California's giant water project in August of 1971 were fascinated by the various features of the project. The group was primarily concerned with how the water was moved from the "surplus water" end of the state to the "water shortage" end of the state. We all knew why they needed to move the water from Northern California to Southern California. The reason was simple — the people were in the south, the water was in the north.

The tour group was also interested in the cost of the conveyances that moved the water. A number of the tour group were irrigation farmers. These people were keenly interested in the cost to the farmer for water delivered to the individual farm.

Some of the particular features of the project had been looked forward to before the tour was made. The Oroville Dam, the San Luis Dam, and the Tehachapi Mountain Lift had been billed as unforgettable sites. These features of the California Water Project lived up to all expectations. All answered the question — How Big is Big?

In today's column we will try to tell you about the bigness of Oroville Dam.

OROVILLE DAM
Located on the Feather River near the community of Oroville, the Dam was completed in late 1967 — the highest earth-fill dam in the world today, and the highest dam of any kind in the United States. Its huge embankment is built of more than 80,000,000 cubic yards of dredger tailings left behind when the 49'er gold miners deserted the hills for the farms and the cities.

The Oroville Dam embankment contains 10 times the combined mass of the six largest pyramids of Egypt — a bulk large enough to fill 1,500,000 standard railroad cars. Standing less than 500 feet below the height of the Empire State Building, the Dam's height of 770 feet is the equivalent of a 77-story office building its length almost twice that of the Golden Gate Bridge.

The Dam impounds a reservoir which will contain 3.5 million acre-feet of water — enough to supply the household needs of California's current population for one year. Recreational opportunities will be provided on the reservoir's 24-square-mile surface.

Construction of Oroville Dam embankment began in July, 1962. Thirty months later, with the Dam only partially complete, the Feather River went on a rampage, threatening lives and property with a flow that exceeded that of December, 1955 when 400 homes were destroyed and 36 people killed. The embankment in place at that time held back a floodflow of 250,000 cubic feet per second, almost 50,000 cubic feet per second greater than in 1955, and saved the cities of Marysville and Yuba City from almost certain inundation.

Keystone of the $2.8 billion California State Water Project, Oroville Dam provides flood control, water service, a hydroelectric power source, and recreation and wildlife enhancement for Californians. The water stored in its vast reservoir can be gathered during the winter months, when rivers are full, and then released downstream when water is scarcest in the southern regions. From its source will come 2,847,900,000 gallons of water per day to be delivered to a thirsty and populous Southern California.

Two big powerplants — one underground in the left abutment of Oroville Dam, and the other downstream at Thermalito — will have a total dependable capacity of 725,000 kilowatts — roughly equivalent to the power requirements of a city of 1,000,000 people. The Hyatt Powerplant at Oroville Dam is one of the nation's largest underground hydroelectric powerplants.

Texas Water Development Board Releases Data

AUSTIN — The seventh volume of a projected 24-volume Catalog of Water Oriented Data has been published by the Texas Water Development Board and is now available to those who desire the volume. Volume 8, covering the Trinity River Basin, catalogs data that have been or are being gathered within the river basin in the fields of water quantity, water quality, supplementary data, and control facilities. Each of these fields constitutes a chapter in the volume. Within each chapter data are sorted by subject, county, and reporting agency, with the county being the major unit of identification.

Eight state agencies involved in collecting information relating to water in Texas combined their efforts to produce the water-oriented catalog.

Representatives from the state agencies constitute the Water Oriented Data Programs Section (WODPS) of the Interagency Natural Resources Council, one of the interagency councils of the Planning Agency Council for Texas, an umbrella organization of state agencies whose activities are coordinated by the Governor's Division of Planning Coordination.

The WODPS agencies include the State Department of Health, the Texas Highway Department, Parks and Wildlife Department, Railroad Commission, the Texas State Soil and Water Conservation Board, the Water Development Board, Water Quality Board, and the Water Rights Commission. The Division of Planning Coordination also works with the section to assure coordination with other related state functions.

Gray County Agent Advises Army Worms Active In Area

During the past several days fall armyworms have been reported on lawns and certain crops in the Panhandle area, reports Foster Whaley, Gray County agricultural agent. Infestations are generally light and spotted but producers and homeowners should pay careful attention in case damaging infestations develop.

Fall armyworms feed on small grains, native and lawn grasses and other types of lush growth. Small grains planted for fall and winter grazing are especially susceptible to damage by this pest which is mainly a night feeder.

The larval or "worm stage" may last for 10-25 days during which time they may reach 1-1½ inches in length. When they are full grown the worms burrow into the soil where pupation occurs. The larvae or worms may vary in color from pale green to almost black. Whaley explains that the worms have two characteristic markings. Three parallel yellow lines extend along the back. A prominent white inverted "Y" also appears on the front of the worm's head.

Large numbers of fall armyworms can destroy entire fields or lawns and then often invade adjoining areas. Buildups are generally heaviest after cool, wet weather. However, when host plants are limited by dry weather, fall armyworms may be found in large numbers in grain sorghum or small grain fields. Areas that have been irrigated or that are in lush green growing condition are especially vulnerable to infestation.

Producers and homeowners are urged to pay close attention to their small grains, grasses and lawns and carefully examine any signs of possible feeding activity of this pest. Insecticidal control of fall armyworms is accomplished most effectively when larvae are small, points out Mr. Whaley. For information on insecticides for controlling fall armyworms, contact our office which is located on East Highway 60.

Fertilizer Must For Top Yields

LUBBOCK—Fertilizer is necessary for top wheat production for both grain and forage on the High Plains.

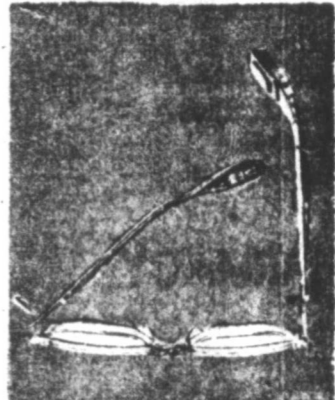

This is the word from Dr. Arthur Onken, soil researcher at the Texas A&M University Agricultural Research and Extension Center at Lubbock. And the best method of determining fertilizer needs is through proper soil tests, he says.

"Any sound fertilizer program must be constructed around soil test results," Onken emphasizes. These tests need to be tied in with actual yields on the same type soil. This is the system used at the Center's soil testing laboratory, which is operated by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service with the cooperation of Texas Agricultural Experiment Station personnel.

The first limiting factor for irrigated wheat production is nitrogen, which is necessary for optimum yields on most High Plains soils. On some of these soils, phosphorus may be needed when adequate amounts of nitrogen are applied.

Price Introduces New FHA Insurance Policy

Congressman Bob Price took the opportunity the first day following the August Congressional recess to introduce legislation permanently extending the authority of the Farmers Home Administration to insure loans made to farmers and rural residents by private investors.

"It is vitally important that the Farmers Home Administration be able to continue insuring loans to farmers and groups in rural areas if adequate credit is to be available in rural America," Price said.

The Congressman noted that the growth of Farmers Home Administration can be linked almost directly to the authority to insure loans rather than make them directly from government funds.

"This loan guaranty program has worked well, producing maximum effectiveness of FHA programs at minimum cost to the taxpayer. If this authority is allowed to expire it will mean irreparable damage to rural America," Price said.

He urged quick action on the bill since the present insurance authority expires on October 1. The House Agriculture Committee member has also introduced legislation to bring the FHA Operation Loan program under the insured authority.

Panhandle SWCD Association Announces Fall Meeting Plans

Curtis Schaffer, Chairman of the Panhandle Association of Soil and Water Conservation Districts, has announced that the fall meeting of the Panhandle Association of SWCD's will be held at the Gray County Courthouse Annex on Sept. 15.

The Panhandle Association is made up of 125 Directors in the Area representing 25 Soil and Water Conservation Districts. Each District is a local political sub-division of the State, and is governed by an elected five man Board.

The meeting is being planned and sponsored by the Gray County Soil and Water Conservation District. LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Louisville is only 39th in population among American cities, but it is second in buying 100-proof bourbon whisky.

The statistic comes from the Bourbon Institute, which reports that Chicago was first and New York third.

It's only natural, explains a spokesman for a Louisville distillery. Most bourbon is made in Kentucky and "how many Scotch drinkers do you know who are Kentuckians?"

Agriculturally Speaking

By FOSTER WHALEY

Reporting Service forecast the Texas production would fall seven per cent from 1970. They reported the state harvest was twenty-eight per cent complete as of August 1. A slight increase in the potential production was noted for the High Plains. Most other crop reporting districts reported drastic drops in potential production.

Corn production, which is not too significant, is forecast to drop in Texas. Wheat was off forty-two per cent. Oat production was only twenty-one per cent of the 1970 production. Barley production was down sixty-nine per cent from a year earlier. Rye production was down thirty-three per cent.

Even though the Texas production of grain sorghum was forecast to drop, production for the United States was expected to be above year earlier levels by about thirty-one per cent.

Each week I get reports on weather in Iowa and other cornbelt states. The last several have indicated dry weather. I will quote you from the most current Iowa Report I received, dated Sept. 7. "During the past eight weeks rainfall has totaled about one-third or normal in the West Central division, near forty per cent of normal in Southwest, Northwest, and North Central Districts and about 95 per cent of normal in Central and Northeastern Districts. August 1971 was the driest on record in several Iowa localities."

The big corn crop might not be as great as was first anticipated. Now you have the facts. Make up your own mind. I personally feel this would be an excellent year to store your milo. A lot of people get their information secondhand from someone that don't bother to look at the facts.

Now I'll stick my neck out on what I think milo prices will be.

As we approach harvest you will see milo prices edge downward. Feedlots will buy hand to mouth in anticipation of a big milo crop. There is very little milo left in storage today. By the time harvest is in full swing you will see milo prices fall below $2 a CWT not much though. Soon after harvest the price will rise to about $2 and will continue to rise into the spring and summer of 1972. Storage will be profitable to the producer. You can place your bets for or against this position through a good broker in the commodity futures market on grain sorghum.

People In The News

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP) — All Landon, one of the Republican party's elder statesmen, is 84 today.

Alert, interested and active, the 1936 GOP presidential nominee and former governor of Kansas, looks far younger. A daily horseback ride over his estate on the northwest edge of Topeka keeps him trim.

His greatest concern, Landon said, is whether the United States will adopt a permanently managed economy and whether it will become militarily subordinate to the Soviet Union. Landon's wife, three children and three of his grandchildren will observe his birthday with a family dinner at home tonight.

NEW YORK (AP) — John Lennon, the onetime Beatle, says his second wife Yoko Ono didn't break up the British rock group, but if she had "she should get credit for all the nice music we've all made since we broke up."

Lennon appeared with his wife in a two-hour taping with television interviewer Dick Cavett Wednesday. Ninety minutes of the conversation will be shown on Cavett's late-night show next month.

"How could one girl, or woman, split the Beatles?" Lennon asked. "We were drifting apart on our own. It could have gone on being fun off and on, or it could have gotten worse. I don't know. We didn't want to be the Marx Brothers, dragged on stage when we were 50 with asthma and TB. I didn't want to be singing 'She Loves You' at 30. I said that at 25. I was 30 last October—that was about when my life changed."

Asked if he ever spoke to Paul McCartney, his song-writing collaborator on many of the Beatles' hits, Lennon said: "Three weeks ago we were an hour or so on the phone. I hugged George (Harrison) two days ago and I sent a postcard to Ringo (Starr) last week. All right?"

Sufficient Water For High Plains Vital To State Economy: Official

PLAINVIEW — Adequate water for High Plains agriculture is a necessity if the state is to continue to grow in other areas of its economy, Texas Agriculture Commissioner John C. White said here during the annual meeting of the High Plains Research Foundation Friday.

"When you get down to basics, water is going to determine the future growth of the state, not just in agriculture but all our economy. Just as agriculture turns the economic wheels of the state, water and irrigation turn the wheels of agriculture," White said.

Sufficient water for the High Plains, he said, is vital to the entire economy of the state. Cattle feeding, he said, has opened new markets for agricultural producers in many parts of the state. Without enough water to maintain that industry, other sections of the state would suffer. "There would be less demand for grain sorghum and feeder cattle from other parts of the state; thus, the state's agriculture economy is tied in closely with adequate water for this area," he said.

White suggested that agricultural producers in the High Plains do two things:

1. Continue to support research relating to water conservation and to put into practice all known measures to conserve water.
2. Become, "if you have to," militant about telling the rest of the state of the value and necessity of adequate water for the High Plains.

"By your very nature, an agricultural producer is not a militant."

"But the time has passed when you and everyone in agriculture needs to tell your story to the general public. Once you get this story across, the needs for adequate water can and will be met," White said.

"We in agriculture, I'm afraid, are running out of time in getting our story across to the rest of the economy concerning the vital necessity of adequate water for agriculture," White said.

Texas' population is projected to be 30.5 million by 2020 providing water is adequate.

"The water resources problem affects Texas agriculture directly through irrigation. As Texas water resources diminish, our agricultural prosperity will also diminish proportionately. The real problems facing us center around this basic relationship between water and agriculture. We simply must meet the challenge of a steadily declining water supply," he said.

By 1965, he warned, if a supplemental surface supply of water has not reached the High Plains, "this vast area will have begun an area-wide retrogression in dryland farming which will have profound economic consequences throughout all the state."
