

Worry Clinic

By GEORGE W. CRANE
Ph. D., M.D.

Heed the sage remarks of Rev. Mark. For pulpits are not supposed to become sociology podiums. Besides, mere sociology in Russia is the same as sociology in the U.S.A. But America's moral code is radically different from Communistic atheism! So it is religion, not welfare, that sets us apart from Russia!

CASE S-524: Rev. Mark, aged 36, has a zooming church.

And by "zooming," I mean its attendance keeps rising every month.

Its budget is over subscribed.

And it produces scores of "conversions."

"Dr. Crane," he added, "we are an evangelistic type of church.

"And we expound the Bible precepts, instead of giving sociology lectures about the ghetto, drug addiction, etc.

"Those latter items are very important but not until men and women have a change of heart and get right with God."

"For we feel that a church pulpit is not to be confused with a sociology classroom podium!"

CHRIST'S PREACHING

Jesus, as the Bible tells us, went about doing good.

But he didn't advocate street riots or overthrow of the Roman government.

In fact, he urged His followers to obey the laws, pay their taxes, and even warned the soldiers to be content with their wages.

—Christ didn't even advocate socialized medicine, though He once tried it when He healed the 10 lepers.

And not one of them even offered to repay Him with a sandwich, not to mention a dinner invitation.

In fact, only ONE even came back to say "Thank you."

Jesus also started the first church picnic when He fed the 5,000 with the lad's loaves and fishes.

But He found that such mass welfare projects were futile!

When the crowd surged around Him again, looking for a second free meal, Jesus reproved them for being interested only in the free hand-out of the previous day.

Jackson Announces Candidacy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Henry M. Jackson, a self-described underdog, Friday announced his candidacy for the Democratic presidential nomination.

The 59-year-old Washington senator said President Nixon is not trusted and suggested the other Democratic candidates are too extreme for American voters.

Five-and-a-half million workers are out of jobs, one-fourth of the U.S. industrial capacity is shut down and trade and budget deficits are going up every month, Jackson said in pegging the economy as the top issue of the 1972 election year.

— Jackson's announcement had been long expected. He has been traveling three and four days a week for the past nine months, visiting 32 states and 126 cities, many of them several times.

— Jackson and his advisers, some of whom worked for former President Lyndon B. Johnson and the late Adlai E. Stevenson, decided about midsummer to go after the Democratic nomination.

— The No. 1 priority in this country must be to put people back to work," Jackson said in his prepared remarks Friday.

Women To Be Secret Agent Considered

By ANN BLACKMAN
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — For the first time in its 106-year history, the Secret Service is considering women for its chief investigative job: special agent.

Seven women are under consideration to join the 1,111 men whose duties include protecting the president, the vice president and their immediate families, and guarding the nation's currency against counterfeiters.

"This has all stemmed from the President's policy directive to get more women in responsible government positions," said Eugene T. Rossides, assistant secretary of the Treasury Department, which has purview over the Secret Service.

The seven women are under 30 and college graduates. Whether they are accepted will be announced within several weeks, an official said.

Under consideration are Laurie Beth Anderson, 23, of Watchung, N.J.; Kathryn I. Clark, 23, of Colorado; Phyllis F. Shantz, 24, of Rome, N.Y.; and Denise M. Ferrenz, 22, of the Washington area; Sue Ann Baker, an Ohio University graduate; Holly A. Hufshmidt, a 1966 University of Wisconsin graduate; and Judith T. Michelsen, a 1967 Brigham Young University graduate. No further information was provided on the latter three.

These same seven women, referred to in Secret Service brochures as "our girls," received public attention a year ago when they became the first of their sex appointed to the Executive Protective Service. The EPA, the White House uniformed police force supervised by the Secret Service, protects the White House, the president and members of his immediate family when they are in residence, as well as 117 foreign diplomatic missions in Washington.

Connally's Brother Wants To Be Next Lt. Governor

MESLEY (AP) — The Senate announced the resignation of W. Lee Connally, brother of the late Lt. Governor W. Lee Connally, today in a move that could lead to his being elected next Lt. Governor.

Connally, 47, is the youngest son of the late Lt. Governor W. Lee Connally. He was a member of the Texas House of Representatives from 1964 to 1968.

He was elected to the Texas House in 1964 and served until 1968. He was re-elected in 1970 but resigned in 1971 to accept a position with the Texas Department of Transportation.

Connally's resignation was announced today by the Texas Department of Transportation. He is currently serving as a consultant to the department.

Judgment On Fraud Amended

DALLAS (AP) — U.S. Dist. Judge Sarah Hughes has amended her judgment and findings of fact in the Texas stock-fraud case to rule that Houston promoter Frank W. Sharp and his associates tried to influence federal and state officials in a bid to further their banking schemes.

She did not name the officials concerned.

Judge Hughes earlier enjoined Sharp and eight others against manipulating stock prices and selling unregistered shares.

Now Judge Hughes has ruled that Sharp built his now toppled financial empire on a pile of promissory notes which were paid off with the assets of companies he acquired in building it.

Four of the defendants, including former Texas Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr and former State Insurance Commissioner John Osorio, have appealed Judge Hughes Sept. 16 ruling which ended with permanent injunctions being issued against them following a two-week trial.

Sharp, central figure in the case, testified after being granted immunity from further prosecution, but he did not contest the injunction.

In her latest judgment, the jurist wrote that Sharp, using contacts with Osorio and others, attempted to obtain passage of legislation, concerning insurance of deposits in state banks by a state-chartered insurance company by causing stock of National Bankers Life Insurance Co. of Dallas to be sold to certain state officials in the legislative and executive branches and by causing this Sharpstown State Bank of Houston to finance purchases of NBL stock by those persons.

Texas Teachers To Get Long-Awaited Pay Raise

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas teachers will get their long-awaited pay raises for work done beginning with Nov. 15. But increases retroactive to Sept. 1 are still up in the air.

That's the word from the Texas Education Agency.

Pay raises scheduled for Sept. 1 were blocked by the President's wage-price freeze.

Education Commissioner J. W. Edgar wrote to all Texas school administrators Wednesday, telling them the raises were allowed under President Nixon's Phase II wage-price controls.

Many teachers probably won't see the money, however, until December because of the time lag involved in making up payrolls and issuing checks for state school aid money.

"It's up to the school districts. Some of them might even do it this month," said P. E. Hutchinson, head of the Texas Education Agency's Finance Division.

Hutchinson said the agency is still waiting for word from the cost of living council on whether raises can be paid retroactive to Sept. 1, the day they would have taken effect had it not been for the freeze.

Congressional committees have voted to require that frozen pay raises be made retroactive, but no final action has been taken.

Edgar said in his letter to school administrators that they could pay longevity and merit raises in addition to automatic raises under a teacher pay plan voted by the 1969 legislature.

"In addition compensation benefits approved by local boards such as travel expenses and supplements for insurance premiums may be put into effect," Edgar said.

NAVAJOS RANGE WIDE WINDOW ROCK, Ariz. (AP) — The elevation on the Navajo Reservation in Arizona, New Mexico and Utah ranges from 4,500 feet to 10,416 feet.

The reservation consists of nearly 16 million acres of land, or about 25,000 square miles, an area almost the size of Vermont, New Hampshire and Massachusetts combined.

PT Group Adopts Six Resolutions On School Busing

DALLAS (AP) — The Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers passed six resolutions all aimed at revising school busing procedures in a session that lasted almost until midnight Thursday.

The approved resolutions: Opposition to "indiscriminate busing of children away from nearer neighborhood schools, simply to achieve a balance in the ethnic structure of the student population."

Call for study and reappraisal of the federal court system.

Opposition to "any type of coercion from any federal agency which attempts to consolidate independent school districts within this state against their own free will."

Call for President Nixon to declare "a limited national emergency" forbidding enforcement of all court orders on school busing until a constitutional amendment can be passed.

Barnes Says His Popularity Hurt By Link To Stock Case

DALLAS (AP) — Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes, actively campaigning for governor, says he is attempting to meet head-on the issue of his name being linked by influence to the stock-bank scandals.

"I've been planting questions about it with many audiences because I've wanted to answer questions about it," Barnes said in an interview in Dallas while campaigning, organizing and seeking campaign funds.

Barnes, denying, as he always has, any connection with the scandals, admits his popularity has been hurt by the revelations of deals.

None of the extensive testimony and affidavits has named Barnes as part of the deals whereby certain politicians were allowed quick profits in stocks.

"I've had to work extra hard because of the adverse publicity," Barnes said. "People have a tendency not to distinguish between Barnes and the others, so I had to make speeches, answer questions and look people in the eye to let them know I didn't have anything to hide."

Added Barnes, "When comes to campaigning, I believe there is only one way to run—wide open scared."

Barnes said he plans to spend a week in East Texas. "I'm going to get in a car and just drive," he said. "I'm not going to have any speeches. I'm going to the courthouses, the filling stations, and the general stores and just shake hands."

Although the primaries are five months from now, Barnes is booked up more than a month ahead and sometimes makes three and four talks a day.

Space Experts Predict Astronaut Could Walk On Red Planet In 1982

By PAUL RECER
AP Aerospace Writer
SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Many space experts believe it will still be two or three decades before man lands on Mars, despite successful probes of the red planet.

"It's so far forward in the future it tends to lose a bit of credibility," says Dr. Dennis E. Fielder, a member of the advanced planning team at the Manned Spacecraft Center.

Space experts have made a rough profile, based on current technology, of what a Mars mission would be like, but the schedule of such a voyage depends largely on the rate of funding for the space agency and the direction of the space program.

Under a crash program, with unconstrained spending, said Fielder, an American could walk the surface of Mars as early as 1982 to 1985.

"It's a 'can-do' type of mission by then, but there would be a lot of hazard," he said.

A more conservative, but still rapid, approach would put men on Mars in the late 1980s, but this would still "penalize" the other programs in the space agency, Fielder said.

More likely, he said, man will go to Mars in a stair-step fashion, climbing upward on the technology developed from less ambitious goals.

Current thoughts on a mission to Mars call for a spaceship the size of a battleship—about 400 feet long—to be assembled in earth orbit. The main ship would include three nuclear engines that would drive the vessel away from the earth and set it streaking with steady pulsing thrusts toward Mars.

On board, a crew of 12 would live in a self-regenerating ecological system. They would process waste water for reuse. Their air would be cleaned and breathed again and again.

Food might be grown on board, with plants helping to supply oxygen for the crew.

After a voyage of more than 200 days, the craft would orbit Mars, and a landing craft would descend to the surface, Fielder said.

The landing crew would be prepared to stay several weeks or months.

Using techniques from the Apollo moon program, the landing crew would launch off Mars, rejoin the mother ship and rocket homeward.

After another crossing of more than 200 days, the Mars voyagers would arrive back at an earth orbit. They then would ride a shuttle down to their home planet.

Such a trip would take about 2½ years, says Fielder.

Much of the technology needed exists now only on paper.

There would be a need for workable, dependable nuclear rockets. They are already under study and some models have been tested.

Techniques for a regenerating living system would have to be developed.

A re-usable spacecraft, the so-called shuttle, is now being designed and is a major program for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration late in this decade.

Much more must be learned also about how well man can live in space for many months. The human body undergoes rigorous changes when exposed for long periods to absence of gravity. Because of this, should a Mars spacecraft be designed to spin and thus create an artificial gravity? Or can man adjust to long-term weightlessness?

The next step toward answering these questions will be the Skylab program, now set for 1973. Astronauts in that program will spend up to 56 days in space and doctors will make minute studies of bodily changes.

But even before the final hardware can be designed for a manned Mars mission, much still must be learned about Mars from missions such as Mariner 9.

"I've always regarded all of the unmanned planetary explorations as precursors to manned exploration," says Fielder. "Every mission that flies contributes to an eventual manned mission."

Two unmanned Soviet probes, Mars 2 and 3, may attempt a landing on Mars this month, some experts have speculated.

Both crafts weigh more than five tons, compared to 2,220 pounds of Mariner 9. The rockets and propellants needed to land could account for the extra weight of the Russian craft.

Business Mirror

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — A man who has devoted decades to building and rebuilding the world's economies—which means to him the lives of people—is retiring soon "with a definite sense of failure."

"I have been unable," said Paul G. Hoffman, 80, "to make people realize the relationship between development and peace."

Hoffman is the man who administered the Marshall Plan that rebuilt postwar Europe and who more recently has headed economic assistance for the U.N. Development Program.

Viewed traditionally, Hoffman's self-assessment can hardly be accepted. Besides his humanitarian work among still other achievements, he was head of the Studebaker Corp. and president of the Ford Foundation.

Moreover, he has authored books and won honorary degrees. He has been an adviser to politicians and diplomats, a constant influence on world affairs, a developer of great men, dreams and deeds.

With such accomplishments on his record, an interviewer thought that Hoffman certainly must torment himself with very high standards or the realization that the jobs to be done are of even more immense importance. It appeared to be both.

The term "foreign aid," he said, has confused the thinking of America Aid given to other nations in developing their economies is never selfish, he explained, because it is the basis of better lives, trade—and peace.

"Poor people aren't good customers," he said, paraphrasing Arthur Lewis, a development economist and associate at the United Nations.

"If we could wave a wand and raise the productivity of 20 million people," Hoffman said, "the advanced country would be beseeched with orders." He explained his view in terms of postwar Europe under the Marshall Plan.

"The money we invested under that plan was one of the best investments we ever made," he said. "Anything done to bring back Europe was in the United States' interest."

"I was constantly asked if Europeans were grateful. I had to reply to Congress and others that some were embarrassingly grateful, others less so and some hostile." But he said this was unimportant because as a taxpayer he believed the program was in the interest of the United States.

In his work at the United Nations he has further developed two major theories:

The notion that the world must be viewed as one economy, developing and trading for the good of citizens of all countries, aware that what helps one human helps all humans.

Bounty Hunters 'Still With Us'

DALLAS (AP) — They call them "recovery men" now. But if you're a Texan of long standing, your father or grandfather recalls when they called them bounty hunters.

And they're still with us, though times have changed.

Seventy years ago or more, a bounty hunter may have worn a derby, a watch fob and a derringer. And a reward poster in his hip pocket.

Today, most of them are called private detectives but the job is still the same—catch wanted men with a price on their heads.

Police and sheriff's deputies recently made the arrest of Richard G. Smith at Dallas after a wild chase across town. But seven other men will share the $10,000 reward offered by a bail bond company.

Attracted by the familiar smell of money, they had been nipping at Smith's heels for days until he was finally forced to run and expose himself.

The Trammel Co. had posted Smith's $50,000 bond. And when he failed to show up for trial they stood to lose.

Houston Trammel first posted a $2,000 reward, then upped it to $5,000. It finally went to $10,000 and the bounty hunters came out of the woodwork.

"When you put up that much, you get a lot of people moving," he said. "And finally we got him (Smith) moving." Trammel said.

Trammel mailed out 5,000 reward posters to private eyes and law enforcement officers all over the country.

TV And Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP)—In these days of Women's Liberation, an American folk heroine is going to get some image burnishing.
 Walter Cronkite's CBS series for young people, "You Are There" will re-create on Saturday the trial of Susan B. Anthony, a post-Civil War crusader for women's rights.
 Over the years, pioneers of the women's suffrage movement have been treated in many quarters as figures of fun. Amelia Bloomer, a contemporary of Miss Anthony, had a garment named after her and was the central figure in a Broadway musical comedy. Miss Anthony, despite honors including a memorial postage stamp and some biographies, has emerged in the public mind as a tight-lipped spinster zealot.
 CBS producer Burton Benjamin hopes to change that impression. He has cast a talented Broadway actress, Colleen Dewhurst, as Susan B. Anthony in a drama about her 1873 trial in New York State for the crime of voting. Miss Dewhurst, former wife of actor George C. Scott and the mother of his two sons, is full of warmth, fire and rich earthy humor.

 "I am all for a lot of the things that today's women are fighting for," the actress said. "But I do think the fight should be quiet and determined. Susan B. Anthony was not seeking personal publicity—and I'm afraid some of the militant women now are guilty of that. She just wanted justice—the right of women to vote. She was not remotely interested in putting down men."

to join the club. Swimmers are needed in all age groups to complete relay teams so that the Dolphins can enter relay teams in the competitive meets.

In swimming competitively you will be swimming in your own age group and will not be in an open class. Girls as well as boys are grouped according to age. All interested swimmers are urged to contact George Smith or Jackie Marlar at the Center or call 665-1965 and then come out for practice.

CALICO CAPERS SQUARE DANCES — An interesting activity that takes place at the Center is square dancing for adults. On Saturday nights the Calico Capers Square Dance Club meets from 8-11 p.m. to dance and have fun. They have a well organized club and would welcome any newcomers or just plain visitors to join them.

The Capers always have a guest caller to run the show and most of the time is a well-known caller. They have been giving lessons only recently and will hold their graduation dance for the new members on Tuesday night Nov. 23 from 8-11 p.m.

JUDO CLASSES — The Center is the meeting place for our own judo club and is open to girls and boys who are interested in judo. Boys should be 8 years of age or older and girls 12 years of age or older. Parents are also invited to participate with their children. Each participant should be a Center member and will be required to pay a mat fee of 50 cents each month.

The instructor is Paul Moot a very qualified judo expert who has studied in Japan. Classes begin at 7:00 p.m. and last until 8:30 p.m. If you are interested in joining the club, why not come by on Monday or Thursday nights and talk to the instructor. He will explain the details of getting into the club.

SWIM LESSONS — The new schedule for the rest of 1971 and the months of January thru April has been finalized and is listed below. Parents should check this schedule and VOLEYBALL RESULTS — First Baptist Church No. 1 reigned as volleyball champions of the Spring league and Central Bapt. took second place by virtue of victories Thurs. night. First Bapt. No. 1 took First Bapt. No. 2 15-0 and 15-0 while Central Baptist bumped Sharp's Motorcycle Sales 15-0 and 15-0. Final standings found: First Baptist No. 18-2, Central Baptist 7-3, Sharp's Motorcycle Sales 6-4, First Bapt. No. 2 5-5, First National Bank 4-6 and Pampa News 0-10.

DOLPHIN SWIM CLUB — The Center has a competitive swim club for those who are interested in swimming against other swimmers of comparable age. The Dolphins are presently meeting each open day at 6:00 p.m. to workout and would invite any boy or girl who is a swimmer

WOMEN'S EXERCISE CLASS — The Center offers to the women a private exercise and swim class on Monday and Friday mornings. This is for women only, sorry no children are allowed. However, we do have a baby sitting service for those who have children at home. You may bring your children for 25 cents for the exercise class or 50 cents for all morning.

The exercise classes meet in the gym promptly at 9:30 a.m. and there is an instructor that leads you through a recorded session. At 10:10 a.m. you are invited to an informal swim time until 11:30 a.m. No swim lessons are given. To participate in either or both of these classes you need only be or become a member of the Center. The Weekly Message of Inspiration

First Methodist Church
 Rev. Lloyd V. Hamilton

We are approaching one of our traditional national holidays. Perhaps it's the only holiday that is set aside to celebrate our emotions. My best Thanksgiving story happened just a few years ago as I was visiting in a hospital. A lady had been in the hospital for a long period of time. She did not belong to our church but since she was from the high plains of Texas, I felt it my privilege and responsibility to go by and encourage her a bit. On one of my visits I met her husband. He was the personification of affluency. The ring on his finger did not come from a 5 & 10 cent store. His western suit was tailored and his boots were not from some common ordinary western store. His type of dress would just have to demand a big fine ranch home and a large automobile. I asked him what he did. He said he was a strip farmer. This was a new term for me and I asked him what strip farming meant. He said he had a strip of wheat, a strip of cattle, and a strip of oil and that explained his dress.

I was so impressed by his story that I rushed to tell one of my good friends about the strip farmer. He asked me a very pointed question, "is he proud or grateful?" I suppose this is a very vital question. Most of us are looking for a lot of turkey with all the trimmings. We'll make a great football game either in person or on colored television and have a great family gathering. But the question still remains, "are we proud or are we grateful?"

INACTIVE SCANNER
 HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP)
 Three thieves smashed a plate glass window at Loew's Hollywood Theater and stole a $10,000 radar night scanner which was on display as part of an exhibit in connection with the film, "The Anderson Tapes."
 Within two hours police caught two of the suspects. The third suspect and the scanner are still missing. Ironically, the radar scanner is used by companies to prevent night burglaries.

Dear Abby

Son bars forgiving wife's return to dad

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My husband of 33 years, whom I have always adored, was unfaithful to me. I caught him, and there was no way out for him. He begged me to forgive him, said the woman meant nothing to him and he would never see her again, but I was so hurt and numb and heartsick I went to my son and daughter-in-law's home [where I am now living] and told them all about what had happened.

I have thought everything over, and realize that since this has never happened before, my husband deserves another chance. But my son has forbidden his father to come near me, them, or their children.

I spoke with my minister and he agrees I should go back to my husband. How can I? My son tells me he will have no respect for me if I go back. So now I must make a choice. Can you advise me?

DEAR ABBY: Go back to your husband. And tell your son that one who cannot forgive destroys the bridge over which he one day may need to pass.

DEAR ABBY: There are bachelors living in this apartment building. They are not hippies, they are churchgoing men, yet there seems to be plenty of free love going on. They bring girls here day and night without any apparent shame, changing girls every few weeks. Even the children know something shady is going on.

With all this hanky-panky going on I can understand why the young people have become so disgusted with the older generation. I think these men should be asked to move. I would like your opinion.

DEAR OVER: What people do behind their own closed doors is not the business of neighbors. As long as they do not disturb their neighbors, I see no reason for them to be asked to move. Besides, you would have a hard time proving that your suspicions were correct.

DEAR ABBY: Paul [he's my husband] has a best friend who is slowly driving me crazy. We've known this guy for about four years now, but about a year ago, he became divorced, and that's when the trouble started.

This friend is here every weekend for dinner, and afterwards he and Paul go out on the town and I am left behind like Cinderella to clean up the mess.

Paul knows how I feel about this and so does his friend, but still they continue. I haven't been out alone with my husband for months and I am getting fed up. Every time I mention it, Paul gets angry.

Tonight this friend had the nerve to bring his shirts along and ask me to iron them!

Am I being a nag like Paul says, or do you think I have a right to be upset?

DEAR ALONE: You have a right to be upset. Remind your husband that he has a wife, and if he wants to go out on the town he should tell his bachelor buddy to get a girl and the four of you will go out together. And unless you put a stop to Paul's routine right now, you will find yourself alone more and liking it less. [P. S. If you ironed the shirts, you need more help than I can give you in a letter.]

CONFIDENTIAL TO BARBARA: I think you should tell Sandy that if she is serious about wanting all the girls in her wedding party to be blonds, she should select blonds. Tell her, too, you will gladly stand up for her, but you won't "dye" for her. And what's wrong with a wig?

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

Hate to write letters? Send $1 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069, for Abby's booklet, "How to Write Letters for All Occasions."

SUNDAY, NOV. 21

Your birthday today: Successful applications of skills just mastered make for a lively, prosperous year.

Move with the times from one project directly to another, taking on no more than one major line of action at a given period. Today's natives possess high ideals and enlist much energy in realizing perfection.

Aries [March 21-April 19]: In the midst of today's endless discussions you have more than one chance to make your wants and needs known in ways that people may answer later in diverse fashions.

Taurus [April 20-May 20]: Take the necessary steps for making peace; pick up the pieces to go on with what's available. Your loved ones and their serenity are most important.

Gemini [May 21-June 20]: It is likely you've made too many promises to too many people. Resolve conflicts, contradiction by pointblank choices; clear the air while you can.

Cancer [June 21-July 22]: Romantic interest peps up your whole approach to life today. The near-at-hand tends to be the central fact of life.

Leo [July 23-Aug. 22]: Placate anybody you've upset—including yourself. Reflect on real needs and calmly ask for them.

Virgo [Aug. 23-Sept. 22]: You want things and conditions which this Sunday simply doesn't provide. Let some wishful thinking and convenience go, make do with what you have.

Libra [Sept. 23-Oct. 22]: Sometimes turning the other cheek is the thing to do. In today's circumstances it isn't likely to be so. React promptly.

Scorpio [Oct. 23-Nov. 21]: Bring your resources to bear LEADS AT JUILLIARD NEW YORK (AP)—Alfred Wallenstein will join the Juilliard School as head of the orchestral department next fall.

Wallenstein was principal cellist of the Chicago Symphony, 1922-27. In 1927 Toscanini made him principal cellist of the New York Philharmonic.

Wallenstein was music director and conductor of the Los Angeles Philharmonic from 1943 to 1956. Recently he has been guest conducting.

BEATS A DEADLINE LOS ANGELES (AP)—Three Dog Night delivered the master tape of its next album, "Harmony," half an hour before its deadline and ABC-Dunhill paid a $200,000 bonus.

As the time approached, the group's managers transported the tape from the mastering lab to the label via armored truck. The last recording session ended at 4:30 a.m., the tape spent 12 hours in the mastering lab and the truck arrived at the company's office at 4:36 p.m. It had to be there by 5.

BETTY CANARY

By BETTY CANARY

A friend said, "There was a time when I had more answers than questions." Which, translated, means, there was a time when she didn't have children.

The unanswerable questions gain on you when the first baby is about four hours old. A mother begins by asking herself easy ones, such as, "Why does he squeak so funny?" and soon goes on to stuff like, "How can I think he's darling when he's stuffing boiled eggs into his ears that way?"

It isn't long, however, until her questions not only grow shorter but deteriorate in quality. In no time at all a mother is asking only, "Why, Why, WHY?" At the same time, her children begin asking questions. As mothers' answers grow ever more complicated, children tend to simplify theirs.

Soon, in fact, they narrow down to two answers: (A) "I was only trying to help!" and (B) "I needed it for a school project."

To test your ability as a parent, match the above answers with the following questions.

1—Have you seen this week's Saturday Review?

2—But why did you cut up mother's pantyhose?

3—I know I said you could charge at the drugstore. Let's take it slowly once again. Explain carefully. Why did you buy 46 bottles of rubber cement?

4—How did these marshmallows get in the OVEN?

5—Yes, dear, I did say I was going to hem the dining room curtains, but...sob...

Uncollected grass clippings can become a haven for insects and disease in lawns.

The prospective bridegroom, a 1967 graduate of Pampa High School, is a senior student at WTU, where he is a member of Lambda Chi Alpha social fraternity.

Phi Epsilon Beta Slates Holiday Social Events

Members of Phi Epsilon Beta chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met recently in the home of Mr. Bob Lowrance, 953 Barnard.

The opening ritual was led by Mrs. Wilbur Walls, president. Mrs. John Charles Cooley, corresponding secretary, read a letter from a sister chapter inviting the women to their Christmas bazaar.

Mrs. Richard Dorman, pledge chairman, announced the pledge ritual will be held at 7:30 p.m. Dec. 7, in the Reddy Room of Southwestern Public Service company.

The social committee reported the November social will be a Thanksgiving dinner, to which husbands of members are invited.

Mrs. Walls reminded members to bring canned goods to the dinner to be packed to give to a needy family for Thanksgiving. Members voted to purchase a turkey for the basket.

For a new service project, Mrs. Walls suggested members send Christmas cards and letters to the "shut-in" BSP members listed in the November sorority magazine. Each member took the names of four persons with whom to correspond.

Mrs. Randy Haralson, ways and means chairman, announced the cookbook sale was a success. Members voted to sell candy for their next money-making project.

New pledges drew names for their "secret sisters."

For the program, Mrs. John Charles Cooley and Mrs. Tommy Jochetz gave a test to determine if the members were "liberated women." A discussion on "women's lib" followed the test.

For the social period, the table was decorated with a Thanksgiving centerpiece. Warm grape punch and Pilgrim-decorated cupcakes were served. Hostesses were Mrs. Richard Dorman and Mrs. Bob Lowrance.

Pledges attending were Mmes. Gene Drake, Danny Daugherty, Phil Altman and Lloyd Larkin.

Members present were Mmes. John Charles Cooley, Richard Dorman, Tommy Jochetz, Vernance Lowrance, Wilbur Walls, and Miss Judith Kitto.

Scouting Program Explained

Mrs. Richard Stowers, assisted by Mrs. J.B. Maguire, spoke on the values of Girl Scouting at the general meeting of the Junior Service League, Inc., at the Pampa Country Club.

Mrs. Stowers emphasized the foundation elements of Scouting, and presented movies of two Brownie Revels, attended by girls in the Quivira Council's District II, which includes, Pampa, McLean, Miami, Canadian and Higgins.

The films included activities showing both fun and knowledge, as well as the values gained in Scouting.

Mrs. Stowers pointed out that the Brownies being able to have a "revel" was due to Senior Girl Scouts being able to take the Responsibility of providing a good time for them thus pointing out the progression in willingness and ability to accept responsibility that is provided by the program.

Your Horoscope

By Jeane Dixon

MONDAY, NOV. 22
Your birthday today: De-veloping responsibility and the will to carry it come nat-urally in response to your work and prayer in the year ahead. Those born up to 6:30 a. m. E. S. T. this year are scorpios; those born after are Sagittarians. In other years the hour differs. To-day's natives are enterpris-ing explorers with a keen sense of time.

Aries [March 21-April 19]: Pay as little attention to out-side distractions as you can. It's a heavy week of great need to get moving coherent-ly and on schedule.

Taurus [April 20-May 20]: Think about presenting a good surface, back the thought with prayer and se-verity. There is much to do and excellent results should follow.

Gemini [May 21-June 20]: Circumstances throw togeth-er quite diverse people who for the moment share a sin-gle view of a common need.

Cancer [June 21-July 22]: Life picks up something of a social whirl, in which nearly everybody lets slip some of his secret wishes. An old mystery may come to resolu-tion.

Leo [July 23-Aug. 22]: As-semble a team for a group effort on a job or chore that's beyond your usual reach. Community programs are favored.

Virgo [Aug. 23-Sept. 22]: Basic trends and patterns are hidden beneath today's crosscurrents. Follow your intuition and concentrate on things that lead to your goals.

Libra [Sept. 23-Oct. 22]: You'll find an excellent use for every resource you con-serve today. Impulse buying is not quite the thing to do.

Scorpio [Oct. 23-Nov. 21]: Outside interests seem at-tractive, should be pursued far enough to learn their probable value. But do not neglect your regular career.

Sagittarius [Nov. 22-Dec. 21]: Think thru your infor-mation and reports again be-fore presenting them. A flaw noticed too late could be avoided or corrected.

Capricorn [Dec. 22-Jan. 19]: Be direct and to the point when you offer your opinions today. Leave no room for misunderstanding.

Aquarius [Jan. 20-Feb. 18]: Waste neither time nor space. Start early, plan care-fully, stay on schedule. Make it a full day to avoid carry-over.

Pisces [Feb. 19-March 20]: Your activities generate bet-ter earnings, which seem to be already spent or prom-ised, so you're not so very far ahead yet.

Mrs. Kong Han Speaks To Women On Indonesia

Mrs. B. Kong Han of White Deer was guest speaker at the recent meeting of Twentieth Century Allegro in the home of Mrs. G.E. Lunsford, 2132 Lynn.

Mrs. Han was introduced by Mrs. Philip McCarley. She explained that Mrs. Han, a Chinese Indonesian, is the wife of a Presbyterian minister, Dr. B. Kong Han. They have been in America for the past eight months where Dr. Han has been working with the First Presbyterian Church of Pampa.

The Han family is moving to Clearwater, Fla., soon, where Dr. Han will assume his duties as minister of a church in that city.

Mrs. Han explained that Indonesia is made up of some 3,000 islands. However, there are only four large islands, and, of these, Java is the most important.

The Chinese are a minority group in Indonesia, she stated. Therefore, they are subject to much discrimination. Even though a minority, many of the Chinese are quite successful. Mrs. Han said she believed this was because they had to work harder to succeed.

She compared the parsimony of her family with that of more affluent American families and concluded that most American children do not feel a need to struggle for either affection or material things because they are provided with so much of both.

Mrs. Han, who received much of her education in Europe, said that America cuts itself off from other cultures. For example, she pointed out that Dutch schools teach French, German and English. Americans are lacking in this, she explained.

Next meeting will be a Christmas party at 1:30 p.m. Dec. 5, in the home of Mrs. Dwane Luke, 2508 Aspen.

Members present were Mmes. A.W. Bassett, D.W. Boddy, Kay Fancher, Kenneth Giggly, Dwane Luke, Robert D. Mack, John R. Reeve, R.E. Reid, W.R. Whitsett and Allan Wise.

Search For Truth

The fact that there are about 30 times as many fulltime astrologers as there are astronomers in this country speaks volumes about the human race and its progress.

To believe that being born under the sign of a certain star, and that this fact alone affects nearly everything you do each day of your life, is the easy way to let your future take care of itself.

The hopeful sign, however, is that for every 30 fulltime astrologers we have one person devoting his energies to trying to solve the mysteries of our solar system — to learn the truth about where we are and what's around us.

Instead of picking out a certain star and telling an individual that he has this advantage or that disadvantage today, to beware of an argument with his boss or his wife, to hesitate about making an investment that hadn't occurred to him, or to look cheerful and be happy, the astronomer wonders if there is life on other planets. He also looks for materials which might physically and logically guide his judgment.

For instance, he gathers all the physical knowledge he can about the universe and concludes that our world probably was spun off our own sun about five billion years ago. Then, he reasons, the world probably wasn't alone in being shaken off the sun, there must be other planets too. So he studies distances and climatic conditions, tests gas and dust in space, checks meteorites and decides that the world probably is not a fluke of nature. So there must be other planets.

Could they sustain life as the world does? He learns that dust and gas in space are loaded with molecules that are by-products of chemical processes which produce amino acids, an essential step toward life as we know it.

They are a kind of building block that precedes the making of proteins like insulin or blood hemoglobin. Amino acids, in themselves, have not been discovered as yet in interstellar space, but an intense search is under way to find them.

Dr. George H. Herbig, professor of astronomy and astrophysics at the University of California, Santa Cruz, explains that space is "permeated almost everywhere with the molecular constituents of life."

This material was formed along with the planets, all in one blast of frenzied chemical activity in the vicinity of the new born star, and then, with much of the unconsolidated gas, dust and wreckage, afterwards left floating free in space.

Chemical analyses of the most primitive meteorites, and incidentally, of material brought back from the surface of the moon, show the existence of amino acids which must have been formed at the beginning of it all, five billion years ago.

I am proud that our society sees fit at all to support a science that offers essentially no concrete return, but only that unexplainable kind of satisfaction and fulfillment that comes when one begins to see how something marvelous was put together, and how it all works.

Our search for truth is an impelling force.

Listening, Ralph?

Have Ralph Nader and his merry consumerists heard about this?

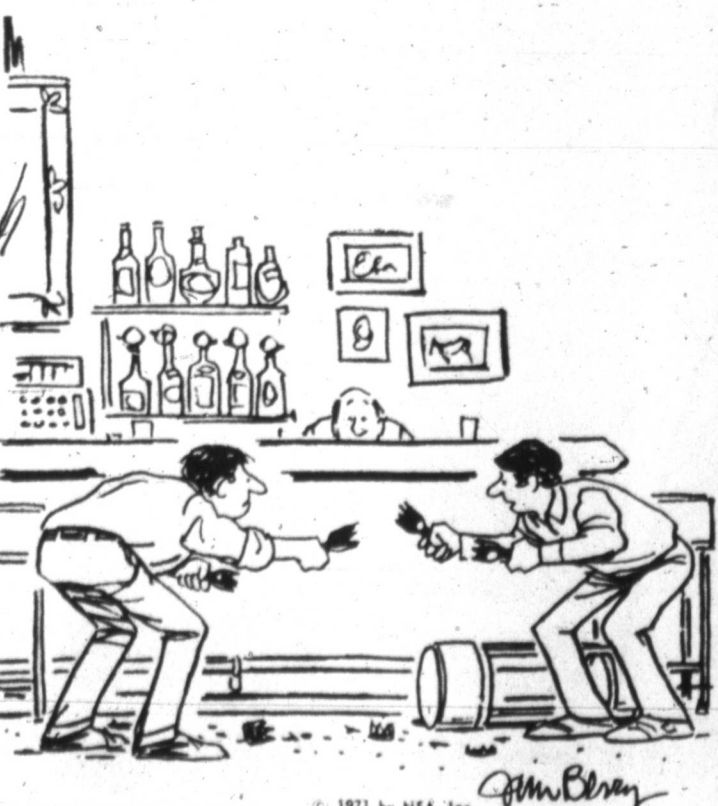

A federal grand jury has indicted 40 Agriculture Department meat inspectors on charges they took bribes from officials of three Boston-area packing companies to give their products better grades than they deserved.

Involved were no paltry sums: one inspector allegedly took between $54,500 and $70,000 in bribes. Scanlon's "radical" magazine that opened and folded last year, once published an amusing series on pay-offs between health inspectors and New York City eateries. We get the idea that Scanlon's "expose" revealed nothing as compared to the wrongdoing in Boston.

Worldly fame is but a breath of wind that blows now this way, and now that, and changes name as it changes in direction.

Your Health

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.
Dear Dr. Lamb—My doctor has prescribed female hormones for an enlarged prostate gland. I have been on this medication about three years now. It has helped my ailment quite a lot, but it has reduced my sexual desire and has caused impotency.

Do you advise small doses of male hormones given carefully? Could it be my adrenal glands are not functioning? Is there any medication that would help my impotency?

Dear Reader — There is no doubt about the fact that female hormones will neutralize the effects of male hormones and will help in some cases of enlarged prostate. To be effective, though, the amount required will indeed cause impotency, and lack of sexual desire. Taking male hormones would simply defeat the purpose of the female hormones.

If all you have is simply enlargement of the prostate gland and not some other complication, then you very likely could have the problem corrected by surgery. That would mean you wouldn't have to take the female hormone any more. The enlarged prostate is simply bored out to make a larger passage way so normal urination can occur.

A high percentage of men who have had these operations can return to having normal sexual relations after they have recovered.

Since you are disturbed about your impotency, why don't you discuss the possibility of surgery with your doctor?

Dear Dr. Lamb—I would like your opinion on dogs living with infants (house dogs).

Is it harmful for a Yorkshire-Terrier, that has continual lick, unless she is pushed aside, to be with a crawling, helpless baby?

Dear Reader — Probably not nearly so dangerous as exposure to other children. The truth is that animals often do not have the same diseases as humans and humans cannot catch most of the diseases animals have. This is why it is so difficult to study some human diseases in animals. Distemper, for example, in dogs has no counterpart in humans. Of course, there are a few exceptions, such as rabies from unvaccinated sick animals and cat scratch fever.

Depending upon the pet's habits the child may be exposed to some dirt and unsanitary elements that are more offensive to the sensibilities than to health. But from another child the baby can get common colds, an endless variety of contagious diseases and, not infrequently, pin worms. A child who never has the pin worms is often a child without friends. Humans don't get worms from dogs or cats.

A pet of the right kind can be a great source of joy for babies and children. The danger is usually to the pet, not the children.

Cuba and Chile: Both on the Road to Broke

By ROBERTS ALLEN

House Special Rule Forced By Foreign Aid Opposition

WASHINGTON — Reason for that special rule for the House to consider the resolution temporarily continuing the foreign aid program was the flat refusal of opposition leaders to granting unanimous consent.

Rep. George Mahon, D-Texas, chairman of the Appropriations Committee, drew an instantaneous turnaround when he talked to Rep. H. R. Gross, R-Iowa, veteran "watchdog of the Treasury" and longtime foe of large-scale foreign aid spending.

"I certainly will not agree to unanimous consent for consideration of a continuing resolution," declared Gross bluntly. "The Senate's defeat of the foreign aid authorization bill is one of the best things they ever did over there. I am irrevocably against trying to revive this stupendously costly boondoggle. We should have gotten rid of it long ago, and now that it has finally been rejected, I am for keeping it that way."

That conclusively ended Mahon's efforts to get clearance for bringing the multi-billion-dollar continuing resolution before the House without first having to go to the Rules Committee to obtain a special rule.

In the Senate, in preparation for the fateful battle over this resolution, Sen. John McClellan (D-Ark.) chairman of the Government Operations Committee and long an advocate of abolishing foreign aid, made a new series of charges against it.

He produced statistics showing that, since 1946, the U.S. gave more than $46.640 billion in various aid to 69 of the 76 countries that voted to seat Peking and expel Taiwan from the United Nations.

Also that $2.3 billion of the more than $3.2 billion authorized in the measure unexpectedly killed by the Senate was destined to go to 58 of the nations that voted against the U.S. in the historic UN struggle. Foremost among the beneficiaries of U.S. aid that voted with the opposition are:

- Belgium $1,742 million;
- Britain $7,057 million;
- Ceylon $155 million;
- Chile $1,021 million;
- Czechoslovakia $189 million;
- Denmark $873.3 million;
- Egypt $745 million;
- Ecuador $265 million;
- Ethiopia $360 million;
- France $7,059 billion;
- Ghana $206 million;
- Iran $1,784 billion;
- Italy $5,224 billion;
- Libya $221.6 million;
- Mexico $260 million;
- Morocco $660 million;
- Netherlands $2,023 billion;
- Nigeria $340 million;
- Norway $1,127 million;
- Peru

$435 million; Portugal $437 million; Rumania $407 million; Turkey $5,427 billion; Yugoslavia $2,483 billion.

Foreign aid as an instrument of international diplomacy is a complete failure," says McClellan, "and we should stop it. We have an urgent need here at home for all the money this program proposes to give away to foreign countries and the sooner we stop it the better it will be for our country."

Citing the fact that, in addition to the $138.4 billion the U.S. has spent in foreign aid since 1946, the country is also paying more than $74.4 billion in interest costs on these funds, McClellan contended the domestic economic crisis demands the concentration of all resources and efforts to solve it.

Partly because of the indiscriminate and stupendous international giveaway program, the veteran legislator asserted, "America is now facing its most serious economic crisis since the great depression. More than 5 million Americans are out of work. Our rate of productivity has slipped lower than any other major industrial country in the world. Our corporate profits are at their lowest level since the 1940s."

"And it is ironic that America's lavish giveaway program has succeeded in achieving the very opposite results intended. They have not brought about peace; they have not brought about international monetary stability; and they have not strengthened our economy at home or our trading posture abroad."

"We have not won the friendship or the gratitude of many of the countries we have so generously assisted. Just the reverse has occurred. Our indiscriminate giveaways have adversely affected our economy and left the dollar, our gold reserve and balance of payments in their weakest, most precarious position of the century. They have antagonized our allies and created ill-will and hostility. They have been abused and misused."

"In a word, they have been for the most part a dismal failure and it's time we put an end to such destructive spending."

White Deer Wins Bi-District

Bucks Moving Toward Title

By STEVE BOHLANDER Sports Editor

The White Deer Bucks have captured the Bi-District Title for the second year running, with a 48 to 7 win over Memphis Friday night on the Buck's home turf.

The Cyclones shocked the Bucks with an early first period score on a pass from Mike Browning to Larry Don Johnson that covered 26 yards. The Bucks weren't holding still as they promptly came back with a one-yard run by Kim Slagle. Hoskins booted the extra point for the Bucks to tie the score 7 to 7 at the end of the first period of play.

Memphis had lost earlier in the season to the Bucks 43 to 8 and had their hopes of being the upset factor in the AP Poll where White Deer stands number two to downstate Sonora.

Defense was the key factor as the Bucks used their front four more than once to stymie the Cyclone attack and throw them for losses. The bright shining star for Memphis in the defeat came at the heels of Louis Davis, a 150-lb. senior, who, in my eyes, could be a blue-chipper in anyone's scout book.

Davis repeatedly slipped through the Buck defense to gain yardage for a lost cause. He entered the game with over 2,700 yards rushing in his high school career. Not bad when you consider only 40 of these came during his sophomore year.

The Bucks are number one in White Deer and in the State according to all of the fans after the massacre. The players commented on the sidelines during the game saying, "We aren't going to let last year happen again. This is our year to win."

Last year the Bucks won Bi-District honors only to let a fired-up Petersburg team steal away with the Regional Title in a game played at Hereford. (A bad name in Pampa).

There were no cloudbursts of glory from the White Deer team as all of the players gave a full effort as a team. A key part of this team was Terry Rhoads who intercepted two wayward Memphis passes to set up touchdown drives by the Bucks.

The Bucks looked below par the first half but seemed to come to life in the second with their scoring coming in the final stanza of play.

Pat Hudgins put in another night of hard play for the state ranked team as he sprinted for a 60-yard punt return touchdown and caught two Hoskins passes for TD's.

Hoskins has, perhaps the best control of the tight situation pass patterns in the Panhandle. He never seems to be off target as the ball threads its way between defensive players hands to the intended receiver.

Entire City Stirred at Harvester's Loss

Pampa fans were faced with a heart breaker yesterday afternoon in Dick Bivins Stadium as the Hereford Whitefaces once Harvester defeated, stampeded the Pampans 28-20.

The beginning of the game looked similar to that of last week's, but the ending was somewhat different.

In the first quarter, Hereford scored after Dale Ammons was caught behind the line of scrimmage while chasing a wild snap. Two plays later, Whiteface tailback Wesley High (25) found himself in the Harvester end zone. Dale Hollingsworth kicked the extra point conversion making the score 7-0.

In the second quarter, after failing to score, Pampa attempted a field goal which fell short. Hereford, however, scored with a 41-yard pass from Keith Kitchens to end Bruce Barrett. The tally moved to 13-0 as the extra point failed.

Hope was renewed once again for the Harvesters after a 76-yard drive. Halfback Richard McCampbell returned to miss the point after kick setting the hope-filled score at 13-6.

Hereford returned just seven plays after the Pampa kick off to stay Harvester chances as Whiteface fullback Danny Harris fell one and a half yards across the goal line. The extra point attempt was good and the Harvesters found themselves 14 points behind at the half.

About mid-way through the third period of play, Whiteface quarterback Kitchens used the already successful pass to Barrett to tally again from 11 yards out. The kick failed.

The Dale Ammons-Mike Reddell combination came through as Pampa was not cut down. Ammons connected with Reddell for a 34-yard pass cashing in for the second Harvester score. The point after attempt was an Ammons run, but several Whitefaces were waiting for him and the attempt failed.

The Harvesters were forced to take a punted ball on the 8-yard line. The first play was busted and the fumbled ball became a touchback against the home team. The score read 28-12 and it remained for the rest of the third quarter.

In the fourth quarter Pampa scored as Ammons found Reddell open in the end zone, which was good for six points. Harvesters added two more points to the tally as Ammons ran in the extra point conversion.

The score was 28-20 and the Harvesters worked into field-goal range but the attempted kick was tipped by a Whiteface and it rolled uselessly into the end zone.

If the Harvesters had tied the Whitefaces, Hereford would still have won the Bi-District title. If a tie is made in a contest other than regular season, the game is not replayed nor is it allowed to continue into a sudden death situation. The winner is determined by the number of penetrations and first downs.

Lee accredited the loss mainly to the kicking game. "The whole loss in a nutshell was ironically because of one of our previously stronger divisions of football, the kicking game," commented Lee.

It is just one of those things. The players played hard to get to this game and it can't be denied, we have won the district championship for Pampa," said Swede Lee.

The football banquet is scheduled for December 17 and featured speaker for the occasion will be Darrell Royal, head coach of the University of Texas.

The Booster Club will begin ticket sales for this annual event Tuesday night.

Arkansas Pigs Plow Over Tech

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) —Walter Nelson and Mike Saint, second teamers most of the season, combined their talents Saturday to give bowlbound Arkansas a 15-0 victory over Texas Tech in the regular season finale for both teams.

The victory assured the Razorbacks of no less than a second place finish in the Southwest Conference. Arkansas 5-1-1 in the conference and Texas is 5-1 with one game remaining against Texas A&M on Thanksgiving.

The Razorbacks will play Tennessee in the Dec. 20

Liberty Bowl at Memphis if Texas beats A&M.

Nelson relieved Joe Ferguson, the conference's passing and total offense leader in the second quarter and guided the Razorbacks the rest of the way. Ferguson bruised his right shoulder last week against SMU. Nelson scored Arkansas' only touchdown when he caught Tech's defenders too close to the line of scrimmage and raced 23 yards.

Saint, who was moved to fullback for the SMU game, helped the Razorbacks control the ball on the ground, gaining 160 yards on 29 carries.

EVER HAD ONE OF THOSE DAYS?

Scene Set For Mightiest Clash Of College Foes

By RON JENKINS

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — It's almost curtain time for what may be the football drama of the decade—the titanic struggle between No. 1 Nebraska and second-ranked Oklahoma.

Sportswriters from across the nation began arriving here over the weekend to record the forthcoming saga which unfolds Thanksgiving Day before a national television audience.

Only a few times in college gridiron history has such a confrontation come about. In recent times, the only showdowns to come close were the Texas-Arkansas meeting in 1966 and the 1960 collision between Notre Dame and Michigan State. Before that, there was the 1946 meeting between the Irish and Army in New York.

The inoperables and the "ifs" of the 2:30 p.m. (EST) kickoff in Owen Stadium have left the Cornhusker and Sooner fans in a frenzy and the prognosticators in a quandary.

Almost everyone agrees the margin of victory will be thin, as was the case in the comparable gridiron classics, two of which ended in ties. Texas rallied to edge Arkansas, 14-13. Notre Dame and Army deadlocked 0-0, and 20 years later the Irish managed a 10-10 tie with Michigan State.

are rich in football tradition and have zipped through perilous schedules undefeated. The current champion—Nebraska—is the best defensive team in the nation. The challenger—Oklahoma—is the most prolific offensive unit in college history. The conference championship and the national title are at stake.

Both teams will likely have bowl bids in their pockets when they hit the Tartan Turf Thursday, but the talk in Nebraska and Oklahoma has all been concentrated on the "Thanksgiving Bowl" since early in the season.

After the Sooners crushed Southern California and Texas, bumper stickers proclaiming "OU We're No. 1" cropped up on nearly every automobile in the state.

In Nebraska, where Coach Bob Devaney has quietly built possibly the greatest dynasty of this era, the proud Cornhusker fans looked toward the showdown with confidence.

Devaney and Oklahoma Coach Chuck Fairbanks spoke often in worried tones about their squads having a let-down, fearing an inferior team might spoil their chances for the "dream game."

But no team proved a match for the two gridiron titans, not even highly-ranked Colorado which absorbed a 45-17 defeat at the hands of the Sooners and was swept aside by Nebraska, 31-7.

Oklahoma. With the game just four days away, most observers are giving the Cornhuskers a slight edge, but they are hedging.

Several key questions that will determine the game's outcome can only be answered by the players on the field. Some of them are:

Can the Nebraska defense, indeed, break the magnificent Sooner wishbone? Can Nebraska's pro-type offense control the football against a berated but improving Sooner defense? Will the Cornhuskers finesse and power overcome the superior speed of Oklahoma?

Speed and incredible execution of the Wishbone have been the main reasons Oklahoma has rushed for an NCAA record of 4,817 yards, eclipsing the record held by the 1956 OU team with ease.

The Cornhuskers lead the nation in defense against Miami Warriors To Face Gore.

The Miami Warriors will meet Gore in Childress for the Class-B, Bi-District playoff Friday November 26. Gore powered over Harold 55 to 28 to gain the right to match wits with the 8-man squad from the Panhandle.

Kickoff time for the game will be 7 p.m.

India sells more than 17,000 tons of coffee a year to Russia, PoFand, Hungary and Roumania.

scoring 6.4 points per contest—and have allowed opponents only 171.7 total yards per game.

Nebraska is no slouch on offense, either. Quarterback Jerry Tagge directs a balanced formation attack which has an average of 440.8 yards each game. OU is averaging 563.2 yards.

Houston Cracks Hurricanes 27-6

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Astro-Bluebonnet Bowl-bound University of Houston cracked a stout Miami defense with two touchdowns each, by Tommy Moizek and Robert Newhouse Saturday night to give the 17-ranked Cougars a 27-6 victory over the Hurricanes.

The Hurricanes, 4-5 for the season, played rugged defense against the Cougars, stopping drives at the 6, 13, and 35-yard lines in the first half.

But the Hurricane offense lost four of seven fumbles, had one pass intercepted, and the Cougars turned three of the miscues into touchdowns.

Houston, which will play 10th-ranked Colorado New Year's Eve in the Astro-Bluebonnet Bowl, also played good defense.

Houston defenders, headed by defensive ends Burch Brezina and Bill Stohler, sacked Miami quarterbacks seven times for 50 yards in losses.

NOW I LAY ME DOWN TO SLEEP—Prayers seem to be on the mind of White Deer player Jerry Urbanczyk as two Memphis players close in for the kill. The Bucks captured their Bi-District Title race by defeating the Memphis Cyclones 48 to 7 Friday night in White Deer. (Staff Photo)

Harvesters Win Two

The Hustlin' Harvesters won a tight decision over the Garland Owls 55 to 54 Saturday night at Garland High School. Leading the Harvesters in their attack on the 8 A AAAA school was Donnie Cain, senior with 16 points. Mike Edgar and Freddy Wilson were next in the scoring lineup with 8 points apiece.

Richard Bunton, a standout returning letterman on the 1971 Harvesters squad tallied seven points with Bill Simon and Gary Haynes with six points apiece. Marsh Gambin finished up the scoring for the Harvesters with four points.

West Texas Falls 32-28

The West Texas State, Buffaloes ended their season on a sour note by falling in the final minutes to the Drake Bulldogs 32 to 28 at Buffalo Stadium.

The Buffs held a 21 to 15 edge at the half but the Dogs pulled ahead in the final stanza of play. The Buffs enjoyed a brief lead on a 70-yard bomb only to have the Bulldogs erase their chances of winning their last 1971 outing.

Underdogs To Nebraska Red Oklahoma Sooners Computer

NORTH PLATTE, Neb. (AP) — Nebraska 31, Oklahoma 21.

That's the projected score of the Big Eight clash between the Huskers and the Sooners Thursday as provided by a Nebraska computer.

Computer Utilities of Western Nebraska conducted a program in response to a prediction earlier this week by a Tulsa, Okla., computer that Oklahoma would defeat Nebraska 39-33 on Thanksgiving Day.

James Connor, vice president of the firm, said, "We used anything we could get our hands on which related to both teams in coming up with the prediction."

He said the computer was fed game statistics, comparisons of common opponents, average yardage per game, amount of time played in each game by first string players and other data.

In its 20-minute calculation the computer projected that Nebraska would gain 231 yards passing and 223 yards rushing for a total of 454.

Oklahoma, the computer figured, will get 144 yards passing but 378 yards on the ground for a total of 492 or 38 more than Nebraska.

NTSU Dumps Wichita

IRVING, Tex. (AP) — Defensive back Ken Fontno picked off three Wichita State passes and set up the go-ahead score with a 47-yard punt return at Texas Stadium as North Texas State dumped its Missouri Valley Conference rival 31-10.

Fontno broke open the slug-gish contest in the final period with a blazing return up the middle to the Wichita 15. Three plays later sophomore Charles Johnson skirted in for six yards putting the Eagles on top to stay, 17-10.

The Shockers opened the scoring on a 42-yard field goal by John Potts. Potts missed from 37 yards out, but a delay of game penalty gave him the second chance.

North Texas tied it on a 27-yard shot by Mark Means, and went ahead on a one-yard touchdown run by Fred Woods in the third period.

Wichita came back on a 13-yard scoring scamper by Wayne Haynes. North Texas added some insurance midway through the final quarter when quarterback Rick Shaw scored from the five after Johnson ripped off a 21-yard gainer.

Show replaced James Thorne, a converted running back who started the signal calling for North Texas.

HONOLULU (AP) — "Another such victory and we are ruined," King Pyrrhus said in 280 B.C.

S. Sgt. Eddie Smith knows the feeling. Smith was dismissed this week as coach of the high-flying Schofield Panthers.

The reason? The Panthers haven't lost in seven games, and won by an average of 67 points.

After the first six victories, Smith got the word to hold his young (11-13-year-old) scoring machine in check. The Panthers responded by thrashing their latest opponent 79-0.

Smith received his dismissal letter this week from Col. William J. Farrell, director of community activities at Schofield Barracks Army Base.

The letter read, in part: "The manner in which your Little League football team, the Panthers, has run up scores in league games is detrimental to the objectives of the football program.

Effective 18 November 1971 you are denied participation in USARHAW youth activity programs in any official capacity for the duration of your assignment in Hawaii.

Smith had been told to use a less effective combination of players and to shift his players to new positions in their last game.

That slowed the Panthers a bit. They lost four straight fumbles before getting on the scoreboard.

Parents of Panther players and even a coach in the same league came to Smith's defense, saying that he was being unduly punished for his excellence.

Riverbed Rights Under Observance In Austin

By STEVE BOHLANDER Sports Editor

The rights of the citizens vs. the rights of the rancher-landowner seem to be the biggest area of question in the Texas Panhandle to sportsmen.

In an exclusive interview with Texas Land Commissioner Robert Armstrong the news has unearthed new factors in the question of who does the riverbed belong to, the public or the landowners bordering the river.

According to Armstrong, "The legality of ownership is unique to the Texas Panhandle as what is termed a navigable river is in actuality a dry body of water."

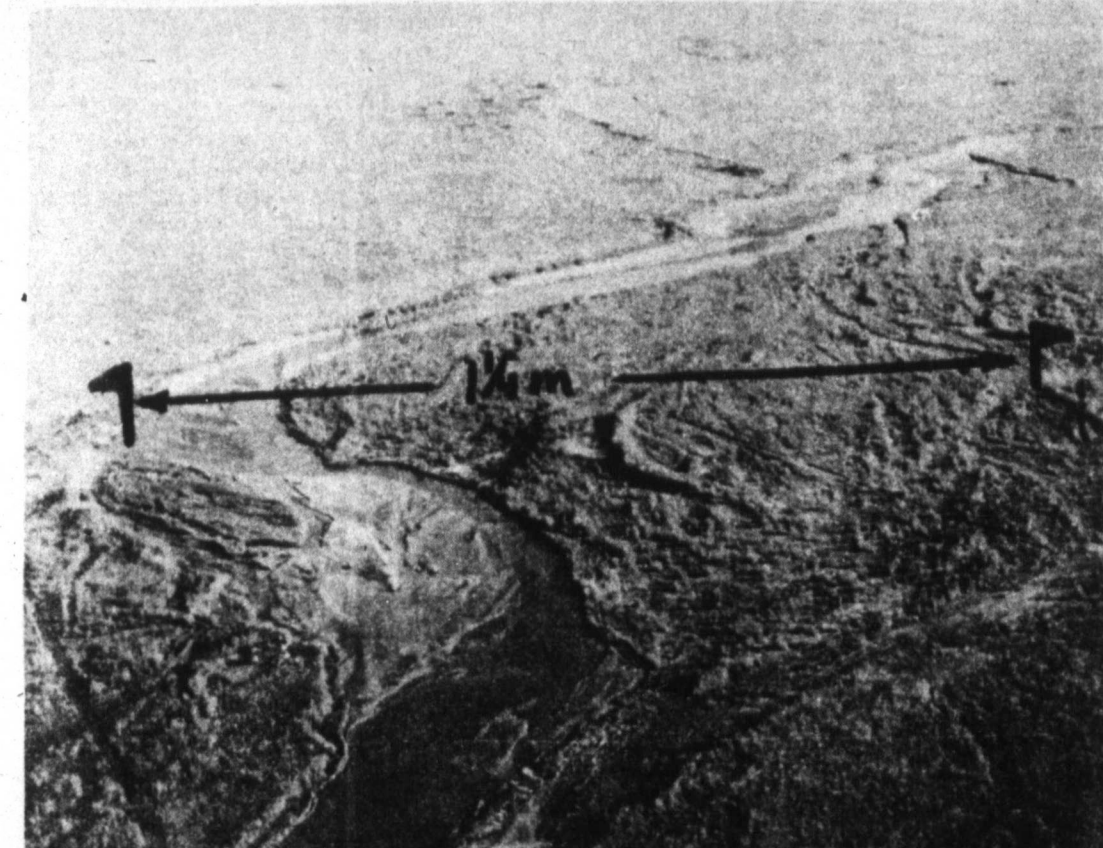

The statutes read: a "graduated ruling shall apply to landowners along rivers. Land shall extend to the cutbank of the normal flow of a river."

Since the building of the Sanford dam the normal flow of the Canadian River has been stopped and the landowners have concluded the floods take them and the dam returns. This is not so. A man-made structure will not over rule the natural flow of boundaries of a waterway.

"It is my understanding," Armstrong continued, "that some landowners have built fences across the Canadian River. This is illegal and I have taken action to have the fences removed. The hunters contend the riverbed is theirs and the landowners have the same claim a clear boundary is needed before either party can lay claim to the riverbed."

It would be best to use the old line of vegetation as boundaries until the State can decide what is to be done.

When asked if there were any immediate plans for the riverbed Armstrong said, "I have mentioned the possibility of making it into a state controlled recreation area. The nearest solution to the problem would allow both, landowners and the public, use of this property.

"While in Amarillo, I (Armstrong) talked to an attorney concerning the fencing problem. I left with the impression he thought I was here only to stir up difficulties between the two factions. I am concerned with the problem because we have now an area of State land under no control. No one in Austin is sure of whom has jurisdiction over the Canadian."

"I do know that some hunters will infringe on landowners. Likewise, landowners will take advantage of some hunters seeking permission to hunt. Our problem with the Canadian is not who is taking advantage of whom, but what makes up the Canadian River.

"The State judges a navigable stream," Armstrong said, "as a body of water 30 feet from cutbank to cutbank. This may sound like a clear-cut definition for the boundaries. However, the Canadian consists of several channels and the points from the outermost channels of normal flow may be a mile and a half apart. The areas in between are considered islands."

"I urge all people using the riverbed, hunters and landowners alike, to use the utmost care in respecting the rights of each other."

Hunting season for deer opened Saturday morning and in a flight from Pampa to Sanford Dam many hunters were seen walking between the channels of the Canadian. Deer were observed grazing the 'islands' throughout the 50-mile stretch of riverbed. Several fences were seen from the air and hunters were crossing those spanning the Canadian River.

"We hope some solution will be worked out between the landowners and the hunters," Armstrong said, "without any violent overtones. Our hands are tied until the Attorney General makes some sort of a decision as to the boundaries of the Canadian River."

Cage Star Traded By Atlanta

ATLANTA, (AP) — Bill Bridges, the Atlanta Hawks' leading rebounder for the past five years, has been traded to Philadelphia for Jim Washington in a straight player transaction.

Washington was the Hawks' No. 1 draft choice in 1965. He went to Chicago in 1966 in the expansion draft and was traded to Philadelphia in 1969. The Hawks announced the trade Friday.

The 6-foot-7, 220 pound Washington was the Hawks' fourth leading scorer last year and averaged 13 points per game. He was the club's second leading rebounder with 747 rebounds.

Bridges had spent his entire NBA career with the Hawks, joining the club in 1962 after playing one year in the old American Basketball League.

He's A Big Man, A Very Big Man

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP) — Santa Barbara City College's opponents face a virtual one-man goal-line stand in Bob "Big Man" Pointer.

He is perhaps the world's biggest football player at 6 feet 3 and 487 pounds. Blocking the mammoth defensive tackle sometimes takes most of an offensive line.

"There's no question all the teams we play are aware of him out there," said Pointer's coach, Bob Dinaberg. "His presence alone poses a lot of problems to offenses because they can't handle him the way they can other big men."

"Not only is he quick for his size, he has great coordination. If he was normal weight, he'd be a superathlete."

Pointer, who has started all but one game this season for the Vaqueros, has good quickness, Dinaberg said. Although he's not fast enough to be an effective pass rusher, Pointer is extremely tough against running plays up the middle.

"He makes the first two steps as quickly as any lineman we have," said Dinaberg. "Obviously, there are certain things smaller players can do that he can't do, but there are things he can do that smaller players can't do."

Following graduation from high school, he attended Mesa Community College for one season before transferring to Santa Barbara City College, where he sat out last season after failing his physical exam.

Pampan To Join Pro Golf Tour

Martin Reeves, assistant golf pro at the Pampa Country Club for the last five years, is going to join the pro golf tour in 1972 starting with the Glen Campbell Open in Los Angeles Jan. 7-10.

Hart Warren, Country Club pro, said Saturday Reeves will leave the Country Club Nov. 30 when local golfers will give him a going-away party at the club.

"It is with regret we lost his services," Warren said. "He has done a wonderful job in Pampa and we're going to give him a royal sendoff with our best wishes."

Following the Glen Campbell Open, Reeves will go on to the Bing Crosby National Pro-Am tournament at Pebble Beach, Calif.

Reeves plans to enter qualifying rounds for a number of invitational tournaments and make the circuit, he said.

Reeves came to Pampa from Hobbs, N.M. where he was New Mexico State junior champion in 1961.

Since coming here he has won the Texas Assistant Pro Championship twice, in 1968 and 1969, and has captured several regional pro-am titles. He has qualified locally for National Open tournaments.

When Reeves takes to the tour circuit he will be carrying the Pampa hometown banner in all of his competition.

Lefors Captures Bi-District Win

The I-B district champions, Lefors, stands as bi-district winner after snow-balling the 2-B Follett Panthers with a tally of 47-24.

Pirates dominated the ball in the first quarter with 21 points scored. Follett hardly had any chance to score as they faced the powerful Pirate defense. Panther Steve Becker managed to kick a 22-yard field goal for the first score of the game.

Pirate David White avenged the field goal with a three-yard run and Mike Robbins booted the conversion. Mike Robbins was the man to watch as he started his game with a 13-yard run for the next Lefors TD. Robbins returned with the point after kick.

Smash Baylor Bears

WACO, Tex. (AP) — Chipper Johnson kicked two field goals and quarterback Gary Hammond connected on two short touchdown passes Saturday to give Southern Methodist a 20-6 Southwest Conference victory over hapless Baylor and the Bears' embattled coach Bill Beall.

It was the 27th loss in 30 games for Beall-coached Baylor teams and even as the game was being played his future at the school was under study by a special committee which will make a recommendation on whether to retain him at the end of the season.

Johnson kicked field goals of 51 and 31 yards and Hammond fired touchdown passes of four and eight yards to Louis Scott in the defense-minded contest.

When Reeves takes to the tour circuit he will be carrying the Pampa hometown banner in all of his competition.

LSU announced its acceptance at the end of three quarters of its game with Notre Dame. LSU led 21-0 when the announcement was made.

Penn State Cotton Bowl Contestant

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The sixth-ranked Nittany Lions of Penn State trounced Pitt 55-18 Saturday, then accepted a bid to the Cotton Bowl.

Penn State, undefeated after 10 games, will meet the Southwest Conference titleholder in the New Year's Day classic.

Sparked by the passing of John Hufnagel and the running of record-breaking Lydell Mitchell, Penn State exploded for four second quarter touchdowns enroute to their 35-0 halftime lead over Pitt.

Mitchell scored three touchdowns on runs of 16, 15 and one yards, giving him 28 touchdowns rushing on the season, a new NCAA record.

Colts Face Griese Kid Stuff

ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Baltimore Colts will try to keep that Griese kid stuff out of their hair in a key National Football League meeting Sunday with the Miami Dolphins.

Along with quarterback Bob Griese, the Colts must also contend with Miami's rampaging runners in this battle for first place in the American Conference East.

"I knew it would come down to our two-game series with Baltimore," said Miami Coach Don Shula. "Usually, things like this must be settled head-to-head."

The Dolphins hold a nervous, half-game advantage over the defending Super Bowl champions and play the Colts again in three weeks at Baltimore.

Griese, who has reached stardom at a relatively young age, has an ace pass-catcher in Paul Warfield and a pair of dashing running backs in Larry Csonka and Jim Kiick. They'll be dealing with Baltimore's bullish defense, the Colts' strongest suit.

The contest is one of three Sunday involving battles for division leads. The Dallas Cowboys visit the Washington Redskins in a match for No. 1 in the National Conference East and the San Francisco 49ers play in the Los Angeles Ram's backyard for the National Conference West lead.

Fritsch Taxied

DALLAS (AP) — The Dallas Cowboys sent their Australian soccer-style place kicker, Toni Fritsch, to the taxi squad yesterday in preparation for the key National Football League game with the Washington Redskins today.

The second quarter read the same story as Lefors Mike Robbins made a 20-yard run and caught a pass for 23 yards to take them both to pay dirt. The Panthers came through as Joe Bob Baker hopped over the line from one yard out. Steve Becker kicked the Panther point after to take the score up to 24-7 favor of Lefors for the half.

In the third period of play Ken Prestidge fell over the line from one yard out for Lefors and Mike Robbins again booted the conversion kick.

The Panthers were held scoreless during this quarter. The fourth showed Follett scoring 14 points to Lefors' six. The ending score gave the championship to Lefors at 47-24.

to give the Mustangs a 3-3 SWC record and 4-6 for the season.

Baylor, which broke a scoreless stream of 11 consecutive fruitless quarters on Godfrey White's one-yard touchdown run in the third quarter, is now 0-6 in SWC play and 1-8 for the season.

The Mustangs so dominated the contest that it was three minutes deep into the second half before puncherless Baylor made a first down.

SMU piled a 10-0 lead at half time on Johnson's 51-yard field goal and a four yard pass from Hammond to Scott.

Johnson kicked his second field goal in the fourth period and Hammond nailed Scott again on a touchdown pass with two minutes left to play.

Baylor completed only two passes in the contest.

Frogs Win

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Steve Judy took Texas Christian on a desperation drive against the clock, and Berl Simmons kicked a 41-yard field goal with 21 seconds left to give the Horned Frogs a 20-10 Southwest Conference victory over Rice.

The Christians moved from their own 20 to the Rice 18 in 12 plays and Simmons' kick swept cleanly through the goalposts.

A sparse crowd of 19,412 cheered wildly as Judy chalked up 25 yards rushing and 122 passing to eclipse Lindy Berry's total offense record of 4,452 yards.

Judy, with one game remaining, now has 4,549 yards.
