Senate Expected To OK GI Pullout Amendment

WASHINGTON (AP) — For the second time in less than four months the Senate is set to approve a call for total U.S. withdrawal from Indochina in a specified period—this time, six months.

Nixon administration supporters conceded in advance of a vote today they would be unable to stop Senate approval of Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield's withdrawal amendment. It's being attached to a $2-billion military procurement bill.

They expect, however, the House will reject such a measure as it has before. And they said Senate-House conferees probably will water down a Mansfield amendment, as they had when one was offered on the draft-extension bill.

Before tackling the withdrawal issue, the Senate votes on a move by Sen. Thomas F. Eagleton, D-Mo., to delete $36.3 million added by the Senate Armed Services Committee to 27.5 million approved for the Main Battle Tank program.

Also due for debate was an effort by Sen. J.W. Fulbright, D-Ark., to delete a provision breaking the United Nations embargo on trade with Rhodesia. An earlier effort failed.

Wednesday, administration forces easily defeated attempts to cut back two of the Pentagon's most-criticized weapons projects, the Navy F14 fighter plane and the safeguard anti-ballistic-missile system.

By a vote of 61 to 28, the Senate shot down Sen. William Proxmire's amendment to cut $801.6 million for production of 48 F14s. Proxmire, D-Wis., contended the existing F4 fighter, with slight modifications, could perform better than the F14.

Then by a lopsided count of 64 to 21, the Senate swept aside this year's effort to limit the ABM. A number of leading arms-control advocates announced acceptance of the administration's contention the ABM is needed as a bargaining chip for the U.S.-Soviet strategic arms limitation talks (SALT).

Pampa Outlines Fire Prevention Week Observance

October 3 — 9 has been designated as Fire Prevention Week throughout Texas and the United States and is being sponsored locally by the Fire Prevention Committee of the Chamber of Commerce in cooperation with the Pampa fire department.

Floyd Sackett, chairman of the Fire Prevention Committee, today announced a full week's program of activities designed to make the public aware of the importance of fire prevention. The following committees have been designated to be in charge of various aspects of the program:

Finance Committee — Warren Fatheree, H.W. Waters, and Kirk Duncan.

Publicity Committee — R.B. Cooke, Henry Gruben, and Mrs. Theama Bray.

Poster distribution is being handled by Fire Chief Finance Dyer, Paul Payne and J.C. Randall, of the public school system. This group will have charge of the distribution of all posters and hand-out materials through the school system and various civic club organizations.

Films for school use are being coordinated through the principals of the various schools of the city, where a year-around fire prevention program is being used.

Jack Nichols is the coordinator of civic club announcements, which will feature hand-out materials and a quiz. (See Pampa Page 2)

Hospital Budget Among Items Set For Commission

A discussion of the 1972 hospital budget, already approved by the hospital board, will be one of six items on the agenda of commissioners court Friday.

The regular first-of-the-month session will also consider authorization to borrow funds from the county depository at four per cent interest to pay salaries and bills. This would be repaid from October tax collections.

Ambulance service for the McLean area will be discussed, too, when the session begins at 10 a.m. in the county court rooms.

Walkout Likely After Midnight

NEW YORK (AP) — The AFL-CIO International Longshoremen's Association and New York shipping firms were deadlocked today in a contract extension dispute that could result in a midnight strike by 45,000 East and Gulf Coast dock workers.

West Coast ports have been closed for 90 days by the striking International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union. An ILA walkout would mean that every deep water port in the country was shut down for dry cargo shipments.

At issue is a guaranteed annual wage provision in the current ILA contract. The New York Shipping Association has pledged to halt the guaranteed payments when the contract expires at midnight. The ILA says it won't work without them.

Representatives of other East and Gulf Coast ports from Maine to Texas have announced their intention of joining any New York harbor strike.

President Nixon said last Sunday that he would "automatically" invoke the Taft-Hartley Act provision for an 80-day "cooling off" period if the ILA struck while the West Coast port tieup was still on.

James J. Dickman, chief negotiator for the NYSA, said Wednesday the shippers would "strenuously fight a Taft-Hartley injunction in the courts" because it would have the effect of continuing the guaranteed wage clause.

ILA President Thomas Gleason said the union executive council decided Wednesday to continue working for the duration of President Nixon's wage-price freeze "providing the terms of the contract are unchanged." The freeze ends Nov. 13.

In effect, a Taft-Hartley injunction would give the ILA the contract extension it seeks and allow it to negotiate a new pact after the President has announced the limitations of Phase 2 of his economic program.

The Nixon administration today entered a labor dispute that could shut down the nation's remaining deep sea ports with a dock strike at midnight on the East and Gulf coasts.

Negotiations covering 80,000 coal miners are moving toward a midnight contract-expiration deadline tonight with no hint of a settlement and indications of possible strikes.

"Some of those miners have a history of jumping the gun," said one source of the walkout possibility in some of the 20 coal-producing states.

"They're meeting," was the only official word of the talks between the United Mine Workers and the Bituminous Coal Operators Association.

BUSINESS INDEX

Sales Tax Collection Up First Six Months

City sales tax collections for the first half of 1971 indicate Pampans were spending more money and business was better than during the same period one year ago.

Money collected from the one-cent tax for the second quarter of the year, April through June, totaled $63,224.76. That was an increase of $6,892.86 over the same three-month period last year.

Total collection for the first six months of the current year was $157,311.29, an increase of $18,658.64 over the 1970 six-month total of $138,254.65.

Collections for the entire year of 1970, the first full calendar year of the sales tax in Pampa, amounted to $303,475.10.

If collections for the last six months of 1971 continue on the same increase ratio, the year's total is expected to run to between $325,000 or $350,000.

"It's obvious Pampans were spending more money and giving a boost to the city's economy," said City Secretary S.M. Chittenden who released the figures today.

Pampa's check for the second quarter sales tax receipts was received Monday, Chittenden said.

Rogers, Gromyko Plan To Sign Accords On Modernizing Hotline

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States and the Soviet Union arranged to sign today two disarmament side agreements amid avowed hope for more progress this fall toward a superpower missile-curb accord.

Secretary of State William P. Rogers and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko planned to sign agreements on modernizing the Washington-Moscow hot line and avoiding accidental nuclear war.

After the signing ceremony at the State Department, the two

Thieu's Political Foes Renew Call For Voters' Boycott Of Election

SAIGON (AP) — Political foes of President Nguyen Van Thieu renewed a call today for a voters' boycott of Sunday's one-man presidential election and prepared for a "people's congress" to unite opposition factions.

Members of South Vietnam's Senate, in a two-hour debate, accused Thieu of "oppressing the press" by confiscating anti-government newspapers. They called on Thieu to order a special lower house session to write a new election law.

Police, meanwhile, arrested eight students possessing gasoline firebombs in a Saigon market place and sent reinforcements to several markets where reports indicated student activity might increase.

The arrests brought to 74 the number of persons taken into custody in three days of anti-Thieu protests in the capital.

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Treasury John B. Connally said today the United States will be prepared to remove its 10 per cent import surcharge if other governments "make tangible progress" in coming weeks to dismantle their trade barriers and permit the establishment of realistic currency exchange rates.

But Connally's address to the annual meeting of the 118-nation International Monetary Fund discouraged proposals from the major trading nations that the American dollar be devalued directly in terms of gold.

Pontiff Opens World Synod Of Bishops

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI opened the third World Synod of Bishops today by concelebrating a colorful Mass in the Sistine Chapel. He was joined by Josef Cardinal Mindszenty, the Hungarian primate just given amnesty for a life term in prison.

The synod, to last a month, will deal with the issues of a crisis-ridden priesthood and the Church's role in combating social injustices.

Early soundings among bishop delegates indicate a strong conservative trend on the question of priestly celibacy, the most controversial part of the priesthood discussion. Even such liberal figures as England's John Cardinal Heenan and Canada's Bishop Alexander Carter have displayed great caution in discussing a possible change to a married clergy.

'Super Spy Oleg' Identified As Soviet Trade Official

LONDON (AP) — The Foreign Office reported today that the Soviet KGB agent who defected to England was a member of the Soviet Trade Commission in London. It named him as Oleg Lyalin, 34.

His defection placed into the hands of the British documents that have led the government to issue orders for the expulsion of 90 Soviets based in London and the barring of 15 others from returning.

A Foreign Office spokesman said Lyalin is the man supposed to have appeared in court this morning on a drunken driving charge placed against him a month ago.

The London Daily Express said in a story published before the Foreign Office report that it had learned the name of the defector through the pending court case, but his name in court records was given as Lialine.

Asked if the newspaper report identifying the defector was correct, the spokesman said only that the KGB official named by the Foreign Office last week "is a man named Oleg Lyalin and he was an officer of the Soviet trade delegation."

The traffic case came up this morning at Great Marborough St. Court. But the defendant failed to appear. The courtroom was jammed because of the Daily Express story.

Court attaches and police who were present in unusual strength declined all comment.

None would discuss even the theory that Lyalin is under a British intelligence and Foreign Office umbrella that would satisfy the court and lead to shelving of the drunk-driving charge.

Voter Registration Drives Underway On Campuses Across Nation

By LOUISE COOK
Associated Press Writer

The student government at Colorado State University rented two school buses for $50 and ferried students to the courthouse in nearby Fort Collins for voter registration.

"We had expected about 300 students to use the buses," said Ron Heard, the coordinator of the drive, "but somewhere between 500 and 525 registered on that day."

Voter registration drives are getting under way on campuses all across the country this fall with nearly 5 million students among the 11.4 million newly enfranchised young people between the ages of 18 and 21.

An Associated Press survey showed the drives are meeting with mixed response: Spokesmen at some schools, such as Colorado State, reported turnouts larger than expected; others said there was little interest in registration; still others said it was too early to tell.

The registration drives took varying forms—voting booths on campus, editorials in student newspapers, appearances by local and national politicians and campaigns by specially formed student groups.

The National Association of Student Governments, the Council of Undergraduate Deans and the Washington University Student Union are sponsoring jointly a meeting Nov. 19-21 that's billed as a national convention "to initiate student voter registration."

Helen Page, president of the Student Union, said about 2,000 student government leaders from throughout the country were expected to attend the meeting at Washington University in St. Louis.

The Nebraska League of Young Voters and the student government at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln plan a Nov. 15 voter registration drive among college students in the state.

"We hope to register between 10,000 and 13,000 newly enfranchised voters who are now eligible, but not yet registered," said Mike Nelson, acting co-chairman of the young voters league.

A week-long voter registration drive began Monday at the University of Maryland's College Park campus. The registration center was in the student union and was manned by registrars from the state board of elections.

Clifton Wharton and football Coach Duffy Daugherty and on-campus registration facilities.

John Juel, editor of the campus paper, State News, said he doubted whether the registration drive would come up with 5,000 new student voters, although he repeatedly had written articles urging his classmates to register and vote.

More liberal policies are in effect elsewhere. Will E. Alton, elections director of Allegheny County, Pa., said he had been allowing students to register all summer from their dormitory address, even though a state ruling to that effect wasn't made until mid-September.

A registration drive on high school and college campuses in the county resulted in 43,247 new voters. A one-day voter registration rally in Pittsburgh Sept. 9 turned up 2,740 new voters, most of whom were young people, according to election officials.

Many voter registration drives include appearances by prominent local and national politicians, Pete Perriera, director of activities at the University of Nevada at Reno, said, "There are lots of political activities planned by the Young Democrats and the Young Republicans. We have several speakers lined up, including Sen. (Mark) Hatfield of Oregon (a Republican) and we're working to get some others, including (Sen. Edmund S.) Muskie, (D-Maine).

"There might be some criticism that we're leaning to the liberal and moderate side, but our speakers are picked for their current image, popularity and relevance to the campus

Gus Mutscher Declares He Has No Plan To Resign As Speaker

AUSTIN (AP) — Speaker Gus Mutscher, under indictment on bribery charges, declared today he did not plan to resign as speaker or give up any of his duties.

Mutscher was questioned by reporters as he arrived 20 minutes late for a meeting of the five-member legislative redistricting board, of which he is a member.

"Is it true that you have decided not to resign as speaker or turn your duties over to someone else?" Mutscher was asked.

"Well, I think that is correct," Mutscher replied. "I was late because the district attorney's office had told his lawyers to have him at the courthouse this morning for arraignment. When they arrived, Mutscher said, 'The district attorney informed the judge and my counsel that he was not ready for action.'"

The speaker told reporters he did not plan to walk out on my duties.

"I'm innocent and I hope the judicial process is given a fair opportunity to work," he asserted.

Police Report Recovery Of Suspected Drug

Acting on confidential information, Pampa police officers reported confiscation of suspected marijuana from the home of a 17-year old Pampa youth and from a 'stash' south of town.

The father of the boy was contacted and officers reported they confronted the youth who admitted possessing the drug and surrendered a portion of the suspected substance from the closet in his room.

According to the police report of the incident, any further action will be up to the grand jury. The youth was released to his father.

Seeking the reported stash, one half 'lid' of suspected marijuana was taken and tagged. The police report said the 'person(s) responsible for having the stash of marijuana will not consider doing it again' and considered the case cleared and closed.

Other police activity over the past 24 hours was concerned with the routine run of complaints included a cat suspected of rabies and juveniles throwing rocks at houses in a residential district.

The newly formed Committee Against Dictatorship, consisting of leading political and religious figures, and the militant An Quang Buddhist faction, issued communiques urging voters to boycott the election and to repudiate the results.

The committee, headed by Hoa Hao sect politician Trinh Quoc Khanh, called on "all classes of people to unify in struggle against Nguyen Van Thieu, the dictator." It announced plans to hold a "people's congress" Friday to unify the opposition to the election.

The committee said it expects 2,000 delegates from throughout South Vietnam to attend the meeting at Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky's government guest house.

SHERMAN TO SPEAK County Farm Bureau Sets Policy Meeting

Max Sherman, senator from district 31, will address the annual convention of the Gray County Farm Bureau Saturday night concerning pending agriculture and livestock legislation.

The Gray County organization is a part of the Texas Farm Bureau which, in turn, is a member of the National Farm Bureau Federation, a powerful voice for agriculture in the halls of congress and the nation's press. The policies it espouses and promotes have their beginnings in county conclaves such as Saturday's meeting.

RANSOM PAID Mexican Government Hunts For Kidnapers

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The government launched a search for the kidnapers of wealthy industrialist Julio Hirschfeld Almada.

Hirschfeld, 32, also the nation's aviation director, was released Wednesday night after nearly 60 hours in the hands of nearly 60 hours in the hands of his abductors. He arrived at his home shortly after 10 p.m. in a taxicab. His family paid a $240,000 ransom.

An hour after he regained his freedom, Hirschfeld met with President Luis Echeverria, close friend, in the presidential palace. The president had ordered police to keep a safe distance from the Hirschfeld family during negotiations with the kidnapers.

Ginger Hits N.C., Causing Damage To Coast Areas

MOREHEAD CITY, N.C. (AP) — Hurricane Ginger pounded the North Carolina coast today with 90 mile winds, knocking out utilities, smashing windows and flooding low areas.

The center of the hurricane, longest on record, was stalled about 30 miles southeast of Morehead City and was due to hit the mainland later in the day. "It is not a vicious storm yet," the weatherman said.

Hundreds of island and coastal residents huddled in Red Cross shelters set up in schools, churches and National Guard armories.

The 90 mile wind gusts were recorded at Atlantic Beach, across Bogue Sound from Morehead City. The hurricane sent huge waves crashing over the boardwalk even at low tides.

A Civil Defense official said about half of the 1,500 residents in the Atlantic Beach area were evacuated to shelters.

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Esther's comment shows the great social value of your newspaper in checking divorce, as well as family unhappiness. For superb newspapers follow the second part of that sage advice which Confucius uttered. Even Uncle Sam and our Welfare Agencies might well mull it over. True education promotes self-reliance!

CASE R-375: Esther V., aged 20, is a college senior. "Dr. Crane," she began, "I've recently joined your famous 'Compliment Club' and it has been wonderful in gaining me new friends.

"So I shall now give you a personal compliment that may surprise you!

"My mother divorced my father when I was 4 years old. She then moved back to live with my maternal grandparents. And their hometown paper carried your 'Worry Clinic.' So she began reading it faithfully and sent for several of your educational booklets. Soon she decided she was really more guilty than my father for the breakup of their home. So she sent him a letter of apology.

He wrote back and within 6 months they were remarried, thus making my homelife much happier!

"Dr. Crane, I thought you'd like to have this specific instance of the way a newspaper can prevent social maladjustment and family unhappiness!"

This compliment is really an illustration of a famous statement made by Confucius.

"If you give a hungry man a fish," Confucius warned, "you feed him for a day.

"But if you teach him how to fish, you feed him for 100 years!"

At the risk of patting myself on the back, may I remind you readers that several sparkling "advice" columns now offer clever answers and witty wisecracks to your serious domestic problems.

But that is figuratively offering a hungry man a fish!

In this scientific column we try to show you the background factors that produce divorce or delinquency, school dropouts, alcoholism, etc.

Thus, we analyze the entire situation, thereby teaching you how to avoid such pitfalls throughout the rest of your life.

So this "Worry Clinic" symbolizes the advice of Confucius about "teaching the hungry man how to fish."

Indeed, that is also the basic aim of our public and parochial schools.

As well as churches, newspapers, and even the medical profession.

We human beings are supposed to grow self-reliant so we can cope with the wide variety of experiences we shall face throughout a long lifespan.

Dentistry thus teaches kiddies how to brush their teeth and ward off decay via orange juice, milk, fresh vegetables, etc.

Medicine is likewise supposed to teach you how to be healed, so you will not be running to your physician all the time for your daily or weekly medical "fish."

Alas, modern Americans are becoming too dependent on their M.D., whom they often enshrine as a little god and almost worship uncritically!

That's why "hospitalitis" is our national epidemic and why hospitals are jammed with patients, 50 percent of whom should not be there at all!

In early days, people stood on their own feet and used their "horse sense," instead of being herded by propagandists or faddists into sheeplike stampede for miniskirts, pornographic movies, use of drugs, or even Socialized Medicine!

This column has helped give you deeper insights, so it has banished much of woman's age-old dread of the menopause.

It has explained the "Ponce de Leon" complex in men past 40; has exposed the different sexual ratio between men vs. women; has explained why fever is one of your greatest medical aids, etc., etc.

And the letter-service has sent millions of helpful educational booklets into homes to "teach you how to fish."

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of The Pampa Daily News, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 2 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

LITTLE NUDITY, LITTLE SEX 'Duel In The Sun,' Both Praised And Damned, Returns To Screen

EDITOR'S NOTE: "Duel in the Sun," a tradition-shattering western movie that was both damned and praised when it premiered in 1947, returns to the screen in Texas this week. Sam Pendergrast, a former Hollywood writer, a former fine arts critic for the Abilene Reporter News and now editor of The Corsicana Daily Sun, recently sat in on a screening of the revived picture. He finds the movie still stirring fare.

By SAM PENDERGRAST, Corsicana Daily Sun Writer, CORSICANA, Tex. (AP) — "Duel in the Sun," the David O. Selznick western starring Jennifer Jones and Gregory Peck premiered April 28, 1947 in Amarillo, will open in seven Texas cities following its second premiere today in Amarillo.

Perhaps the most notable aspect of the 24-year-old "western classic" discovered—or re-discovered—by film critics given advance screenings this week is the fact that "Duel..." ranks with the best of the modern "adult westerns" both in quality and in the blood-and-sex quotient epitomized by "The Wild Bunch" in recent years.

Premiered long before the film rating system, "Duel..." has a little nudity, a little sex and a surprising amount of blood—enough of each to justify many parents' attitude that it may be too strong for impressionable youngsters.

There are two brief swimming hole scenes in which Miss Jones displays a small patch of flesh between her shoulder blades. There is a seduction scene in which a good hard kiss and a lot of Dimitri Tiomkin drums suggest more sensuality than most recent explicit sex scenes on film. And there are at least two uses of stage blood that, despite mid-Forties restraint, are as strikingly suggestive of violence as most of the recent blood baths.

And the final sequence of mutual destruction between the two lovers is as exorcistically dramatic as anything in western film since...

The acting, except for a few ultra-historic episodes for Miss Jones and former silent star Lillian Gish, is as convincing as, or more so than, the current product, and the technical effects and editing give the work powerful claim to the classification of "the first of the modern westerns."

In fact, few films in memory have boasted such an array of dramatic talent as Lionel Barrymore in the role of a salty pioneer. Walter Huston as a silver-tongued "sin-chaser," Joseph Cotten as the moralistic older brother, Miss Jones as the elemental half-breed orphan catalyst, and Peck in what might be called the first of the Paul Newman specialists—a "Hud"-type character with more magnetism than principle.

Negro actress "Butterfly" McQueen is a charming blabber-mouth maid; Harry Carey is a wise and troubled neighbor; and Charles Bickford is a stolid ranch foreman in a bit part rounding out a cast in which there is not a single non-dimensional principal.

Doctor Shortage
OCEAN CITY, Md. (AP) — Two dozen pretty young women have been hired to interview vacationers in an effort to ease the city's overburdened medical facilities.

There are only five physicians here among a summer-time population of 100,000.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Donny Osmond, a 14-year-old singer with the Osmond Brothers group, is recovering from an emergency appendectomy, spokesmen say.

Donny's parents took him to a West Los Angeles hospital Monday night. Coincidentally, the surgeon was Dr. Irving Newman, the father of another popular young musician, Randy Newman.

Texan Voters Will Have Say In '72
On Three State Supreme Court Jobs

By GARTH JONES
Associated Press Writer
Texas voters in 1972 will have some of the same decisions to make that President Nixon has now in choosing two new members of the U. S. Supreme Court.

The first case brought before the Supreme Court was in 1840, an appeal from Brazoria County where the owner of a horse tried to recover $350 from an innkeeper who confiscated the animal to pay for tavern charges.

In 1972, voters will have a say on three justice jobs although two of the candidates are already on the court.

Associate Justice Joe Greenhill is asking to be promoted to chief justice of the court, taking the place of Chief Justice Robert W. Calvert, who is not seeking re-election after his present term ends Jan. 1, 1973.

Associate Justice Price Daniel, former governor who appointed Greenhill to the court in 1957, will be seeking his first elective term as a Supreme court justice following his appointment last December by Gov. Preston Smith to fill an unexpired term.

The third state Supreme Court seat to be filled by voters in November, 1972, is the vacancy created when Greenhill decided to run for Calvert's place. The only announced candidate for this associate justiceship is Judge Sam D. Johnson of the Houston Court of Criminal Appeals, an appointee of Smith.

Present state Supreme Court justices whose terms last through 1974 are Justices Zollie Steakley, who was appointed to the court by Daniel in 1961; Thomas M. Reavely, the youngest member of the court who was appointed by former Gov. John B. Connally in August, 1968 and Sears McGee, elected in November, 1968, a former Houston district judge.

Justices with terms ending after 1976 are Ruel C. Walker the justice with more service than any other after Calvert leaves, having been appointed in 1954; A.J. Pope, elected in 1964 from the San Antonio Court of Civil Appeals, and James G. Denton, elected in 1970 from the Amarillo Court of Civil Appeals.

Although the Supreme Court was originally established in 1840, while Texas was still a Republic, its present makeup is comparatively youthful. Outside of the retiring chief justice, members' ages range mostly in the late 50s and the early 60s.

Currently six of the justices have joined the court in the past decade, four of them in the last two years.

All of the present members are Democrats and although there has been a gradual move toward the moderate or middle-of-the-road political stand, the court is still generally conservative. "We are gradually changing with the state," said a justice who did not want to be quoted by name. "And Texas is still pretty conservative."

The biggest current problem of the court is referee the squabble between the Senate and the House, the Republicans and the Democrats, the city slickers and the country boys, and plenty of added participants in legislative redistricting.

Whatever the redistricting board or the legislature does about reshuffling districts of senators and representatives likely will come before the state Supreme Court again as the highest appellate court in the state.

People In The News

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. Richard M. Nixon says this year's fashions are prettier than last year and it's easier to buy clothes. In fact, she says, she's done all her fall shopping already.

Mrs. Nixon said she did most of her shopping on a trip to New York in July.

Clad in a periwinkle-blue wool dress by Adele Simpson, Mrs. Nixon repeated her preference for a knee-length hemline. "If you are all cut off you can't tell what a fashion is like. You have to keep watching your knees."

NEW YORK (AP) — Charles W. Yost, former U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, has been named chairman of the National Advertising Review Board, an industry group that will serve as a "court of appeals" for complaints of misleading or untruthful advertising.

The board's 50 members include people from advertising agencies, advertisers and the public. Yost described himself Tuesday as representing the consumer.

The board will judge cases referred to it by the National Advertising Division of the Council of Better Business Bureaus.

Yost said: "Our principle purpose is to avoid bringing matters to public controversy and government intervention. If we are successful, the need for government intervention will be reduced."

Speech On Ecology Highlights Varietas Study Club Meeting

Mrs. W.E. Abernathy presented the program for Varietas Study Club Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Otis Nace. Mrs. L.E. Pennick, club president, led the business meeting.

The title of the afternoon's study was "Conservation" with the sub-title, "Today's Vision - Recognition of Our Ecological Crisis."

Mrs. Aubrey Sprawls, program chairman, introduced Mrs. Abernathy, who spoke on "Our World and How We Abuse It." Basing her data on "Silent Spring" by Rachel Carson, "Since Silent Spring" by Frank Graham Jr., and articles from the National Geographic Magazine, the speaker stated that the present abuse of the air, water, and soil of our planet is the most alarming crisis in the history of the world.

She spoke first on the abuse of air and explained, by examples, how the thin envelope of air above the earth is being polluted.

She said, "Eighty million tons of smoke and other pollution is being poured into the atmosphere of the U.S. every year. Fifty billion cans are thrown into the trash, as are thirty billion glass bottles."

She told of cities where oxygen must be breathed, where streets are closed to cars, and where smog and other pollution has killed great numbers of trees.

Mrs. Abernathy then discussed the pollution of water and stated this life necessity is now in mortal danger.

"Since lakes and rivers are dead or dying in many localities and the oceans can reach their limit some day, the world must clean up its water supply and keep it clean," she pointed out.

The third topic was that of soil pollution. The speaker told her audience that the U.S. paves a million acres of new land each year, destroying the trees and plants which had maintained the ecological balance of the areas. She cited strip mining, acres of trash, factory smoke, and other abuses.

She then discussed the use and misuse of pesticides, explaining that sprays can pollute the air, water, and soil, as well as causing damage to mankind. She gave her audience five admonitions:

- (1.) Be sure to spot spray only; (2.) don't spray unless there is a real need to do so; (3.) Be sure that the spray is non-cumulative; (4.) use no D.D.T. or its derivatives; and (5.) obtain a list of harmful sprays and avoid them.

In closing, Mrs. Abernathy stated that there is hope of stopping our abuse before it is too late.

"Cities are trying to attack the problem, local and national boards are being set up to control pollution, and experiments are being made in many ecological directions, including the cleansing of water. Man is capable of solving the problem - if he will," she maintained.

Following the talk, the membership answered roll call with tips on ecology.

Present at the meeting were Miss Anna Pierce, and Mmes. W.E. Abernathy, W.A. Bohot, W.A. Burden, F.A. Cary, Cecil Dalton, H. Price Dosier, Clyde Ellis, S.C. Evans, J.E. Gibson, Lee Harrah, J.E. Kirckman, R.W. Lane, L.B. Penick, J.R. Spearman, Aubrey Sprawls, Ralph Thomas and Otis Nace.

Sandals Walk On
Sandals are no longer a summertime thing. They're going right on into the fall season. Now they're done in beautiful suedes and all the latest, bright colors: gold, wine, blue, black and white.

The gray flannel suit is back. But this time the woman is wearing it. You'll find that the blazer-styled jacket, wrap-around skirt or flared pants with turtle-neck top is the classic knock-out of the year.

Technicolor
Come out in technicolor this fall. Color juxtaposition adds interest to an outfit. Rust and blue, black and white and purple and green are color combinations sure to get lots of attention.

Printed Flannel
For the little girl look with rosy cheeks and red lips the best dresses are those done in soft cotton with baby printed flannel capturing the childlike image.

Needle Time
Try needlepoint on a watch band. Make it with flowers or arty designs to complement your different outfits.

Your Horoscope

FRIDAY, OCT. 1
YOUR BIRTHDAY TODAY: Adjustment is both necessary and very productive this year. Carry forward an open mind on events and setbacks of the recent past; make use of public enterprises. Expect benefits and responsibility to develop from tending other peoples' resources. Today's natives like to talk and are much given to speculation.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Business dealings tend to be complex. Pushing directly ahead comes naturally over-riding the big temptation.

Taurus (April 20-May 20): One word too many and what you've assembled begins coming apart. The day-off and silence is more like it.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Resistance and finally, practically evaporate now - there's plenty of news to stir curiosity and odd reactions. Once you're into the afternoon you're in clover!

CANCER (June 21-July 21): The tendency is to start the day on the wrong foot and get it all suddenly straightened out fairly late. Reflect on your blessings and good luck.

LEO (July 22-Aug. 22): As full as today is, tomorrow will be fuller, busy with revision of whatever is done now. Stretch it out a bit.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Observation, checking out what you see should be your main interest. Later hours promise lively social or romantic challenges.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Your daily living pattern departs from the habitual. Long hoped-for changes and some surprises come to reality.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Pay heed to advice, moderate your pressure and demands to fit current conditions. You have a turning point coming up shortly.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Social activity blossoms all about. Your own restless mood contributes little for the moment. Relax early.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Curiosity may be inconceivable but certainly offers special answers if diligently pursued. There are so many fresh angles you'll need a couple of days to reset your sights.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Dilemma is normal. For most the choice is between deferred, possibly more ideal solutions and practical adjustment here and now.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Any decisions seem unconsciously designed to trigger ecstatic reactions, generate further crisis. Avoid anger.

Mrs. Aldridge Hosts Lefors Sewing Club
The Lefors Sewing Club met recently in the home of Mrs. Irene Aldridge for an afternoon of handwork and visitation.

Refreshments were served during the social period.

Attending were Mmes. John Lantz, B.D. Vaughn, A.M. Dickerson, W.R. Combs, R.C. Oden, George Fogelman, and Irene Aldridge.

Next meeting will be Thursday, Oct. 14, with Mrs. A.T. Cobb.

New Life For Old Walls: You Can Do-It-Yourself

NEW YORK (ED) — Life around the house is changing. These days, more of us are doing more — ourselves. Maybe it's the economy, or because the jobs we do ourselves are done the way we want, when we want.

Even hanging wallpaper—a way to make a big change for small change—is perfectly practical, so much so that more than half the wallcoverings are put up by amateurs. If wallpapering is on your redecorating schedule, you'll find a step-by-step guide useful. These instructions are excerpted from "Wallcoverings Guide", available free from Imperial Wallpaper, Warrensville Center Road, Cleveland, O.

Paper-hanging is simple, once you know how. Measure around the walls first; the Imperial Wallpaper people warn against relying on floor measurements.

Measure height next. Multiply the two figures to get the square feet. One roll will cover 30 square feet; divide by 30 for the number of rolls you need, minus one roll for each door and every two windows.

Before cutting, add three inches at top and bottom (1); it's easier to trim than patch. Apply paste to the top two-thirds of the strip, fold in paste-to-paste, then repeat on the bottom third (2).

Begin at a doorway or in a corner. To insure a straight line, attach a plumb line to a tack at the ceiling, then use a yardstick to draw a starting

New 'Groovy' Collection Features Endless Variety

NEW YORK — (NEA) — There's a new gal in town — RT Jrs., the swingy new division at Russ. Girls today want clothes that are cool and casual and this collection is chockful of groovy separates.

Skirts are great — sexy, short swings, midis or anklelength — in colors that click for fall. And there are dashing tartans, novelty prints, pretty florals.

Pants are always wide whether in chenille or doubleknits. The newest double knit trouser has a highrise, side-buttoned waistband and loose-cuffed legs. It looks just like those great men's trousers of the '40s.

To coordinate with the pants and skirts, that all-time classic, the polo shirt, comes in heather shades of grey, vanilla, beige, green, blue and burgundy. It has a placket front and comes in both long-and-short-sleeved versions.

Dear Abby
By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am a 15-year-old girl who never misses your column. I read those letters about V.D. and have a few questions I want to ask you:

1. In which states can doctors treat minors for V.D. without telling their parents?
2. How old does a person have to be before he is no longer considered a minor?
3. Will you please come right out and describe some of the symptoms of V.D. I have heard that if a sore on the lips or in the mouth, or on the private parts doesn't heal up, it is probably V.D. I've also heard that a person can have other signs of V.D. — like a burning sensation when urinating, or an unusual discharge from private parts, and these signs sometimes go away without treatment, but the disease is still there and keeps on getting worse. Is that true?
4. Can V.D. really cause crippling, blindness and insanity, or are these just stories adults made up to scare kids?
5. Is it true that once a person is treated for V.D. he can never get it again?
6. One last question which I hope you won't think is too dumb to answer. Can a person get V.D. without going all the way?

With questions like these, I can't have a letter from you coming to my house, so will you please answer this in the paper? I am sure there are lots of other kids who would like to know the answers. Thank you very much.

AP Reporter's Recollections Of Cardinal's Agonized Years

Editor's Note:— Endre Marton, Associated Press reporter once imprisoned by the Communists in his native Hungary, knew Joseph Cardinal Mindszenty for many years. Now that the cardinal has left the legation after 15 years, here is Marton's account of some of his experiences with Mindszenty.

By ENDRE MARTON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Joseph Cardinal Mindszenty became a free man Tuesday. During the last 23 years he was free for only four days, in October 1956, when Hungarians revolted against Communist rule.

Release of the cardinal may represent the final dramatic milestone in Mindszenty's life.

Whatever the Vatican's plans might be, it is unlikely that the 79-year-old man ever will play a major role again, either in his country or elsewhere. This reporter was perhaps the only Western newsman who covered the four major postwar phases of Mindszenty's life: he interviewed him while he was still residing in his significant palace in Esztergom, then reported his sensational trial, saw him again when a platoon of soldiers who joined the revolution freed and brought him back to Budapest, and finally talked to him in the shelter of the U.S. legation where Mindszenty sought and found refuge when the Soviets besieged the city to crush the revolt.

He always was the same man, the proud, rigid, almost stubborn prince of the Roman Catholic Church. Hungarians, Catholics and others, more or less agreed right from the beginning that Mindszenty, spiritual leader of about seven million Hungarian Catholics, was not up to his task during the dangerous period of the late 1940's, when the Communists applied crude terror to take over their country. The man, elevated by the Holy See to his high post during the chaotic period of the war, remained a parochial priest in the Esztergom palace, where Hungary's primates had resided for centuries.

Hungary's religious leaders, first of all the Catholics, traditionally played important roles in the country's political life. In this climatic period, when the non-Communists were on the defensive against the ruthless tactics of the Red army-supported Communists, what Hungary needed was a skilled political priest in the primate's palace. Mindszenty was not this kind of a man.

Then Gabor Peter, dreaded head of the Hungarian secret police, personally arrested him the day after Christmas and an indictment accused him of high treason.

The cardinal was convicted and sentenced to life in prison. "I was tortured in body and soul," Mindszenty said on the afternoon of Oct. 30, 1956, when a jubilant crowd escorted him back to the small medieval palace of primates in Budapest.

The eight years in prison did not show on the cardinal. His piercing eyes, slightly stooped posture were the same—but there was a trace of greater understanding, almost mellowness in the man, standing in the small study of his Budapest residence.

Three days later, on Nov. 3, he addressed his countrymen in a radio message. His speech, contrary to Communist accusations, was modest, almost humble.

Dolph Briscoe To Run For Texas Governor

By GARTH JONES
Associated Press Writer
AUSTIN (AP) — Dolph Briscoe announced for governor yesterday and immediately served notice he would make the stock fraud scandal a basis of his campaign against Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes.

Barnes is the only other announced Democratic candidate for governor in the 1972 party primary.

"The public has a right to know why these two banking bills were afforded special treatment in the Senate, the same sort of special treatment they got in the House," the 43-year-old Uvalde rancher and banker told a news conference.

Briscoe said he had no new information to furnish about legislative passage of two banking bills in 1969 that had been asked by Frank Sharp, called the central figure of the stock scandal.

Briscoe also said he did not imply that bribery was involved in Senate passage of the bills.

Girl Jumps Or Falls To Death From UT Building

AUSTIN (AP) — An unidentified girl jumped or fell from the University of Texas Administration Building yesterday the school's news and information office reported.

The girl reportedly was pronounced dead at the scene. It was not learned immediately from what point on the 307-foot tower the fall began.

"She was about 5-foot-6, barefoot and wore pants—bluejeans, I think," a spokesman said. "We don't know if she was a student."

The fall was on the northeast corner of the building, the same corner where William R.D. Dunlap, fell to his death from the observation deck last May 4. The observation deck is 231 feet above ground level.

Federal Grand Jury Indicts Eight On Illegal Loans, Other Charges

HOUSTON (AP) — A federal grand jury indicted eight men, including four bank examiners, today on charges connected with the government investigation of the banking-insurance-real estate empire of Frank W. Sharp.

Two of the examiners were federal employees and the other two were state workers. Among those indicted was Ted Bristol, a former examiner for the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. He is accused of accepting a $10,000 loan from Sharp in 1968.

The Justice Department's top criminal lawyer, Asst. Atty. Gen. Will R. Wilson, once Sharp's attorney, has acknowledged purchasing stock for Bristol in an insurance company at Sharp's request.

Wilson, who says he has disassociated himself from any phase of the investigation of Sharp's affairs, has denied any wrongdoing.

The accusations against the eight, contained in four separate indictments, charge misapplication of funds of the Sharpstown State Bank, falsification of bank records and illegal loans of nearly $105,000 to bank examiners.

In addition to Bristol, the indictments named John T. Knight, an assistant FDIC examiner; Texas state bank examiners John B. Hooper and Welton Adler; former Sharpstown bank officials Douglas N. Lane, Herman Nelms and Carl Lundquist; and Houston real estate investor Charles L. Henke.

The Sharpstown bank was owned by Sharp, who pleaded guilty this summer to two violations of security and banking laws. He was fined, placed on probation and granted immunity from further prosecution in return for his testimony before the Houston grand jury.

The indictment says the loan to Bristol was made Feb. 28, 1968, through the Oak Forest Investment Corp., a firm controlled by Sharp.

In a statement made last month to counter what he termed "insinuations that I am or have been involved in illegal activities," Wilson acknowledged arranging for purchase of stock for Bristol during February 1968.

Federal Judge Woodrow Seals issued a bench warrant for all eight men and granted a $5,000 personal recognizance bond in each case.

The indictments are an outgrowth of a Securities and Exchange Commission investigation of loans made by Sharp, who controlled the bank, to key state government figures.

These figures, including Gov. Preston Smith and Texas House Speaker Gus Mutscher, used the loans to buy stock in Sharp's National Bankers Life Insurance Co. They made large, quick profits—$62,500 in the case of the governor.

Sharp wanted banking legislation approved. The legislature passed the bills but Gov. Smith vetoed them.

Mutscher and two of his associates were indicted last Thursday by a county grand jury on charges of bribery.

Wilson said he purchased 1,000 shares of stock in the National Bankers Life Insurance Co. for Teddy Joe Bristol and June Bristol at Sharp's request. He said Sharp paid him for the stock.

Refrigerator Cheese Cake Enriched By Wheat Germ

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

A nutrition-conscious friend of ours always uses wheat germ in the crust when she makes cheese cake. So we decided to follow suit.

If you try this recipe, don't expect the usual solid-type cheese cake. This one is refrigerator style—made with ricotta cheese and gelatin plus the flavorings often used in desserts in Italian cuisine. Its texture is so light and airy that it reminded us of the molded dessert called Spanish Cream.

ITALIAN-STYLE REFRIGERATOR CHEESE CAKE
1 cup vanilla wafer crumbs
1/4 cup wheat germ
1-3rd cup butter, melted
Ricotta Filling
In a small mixing bowl stir together the wafer crumbs, wheat germ and butter. Press on bottom of a 9-inch spring form pan. Add Ricotta Filling. If desired sprinkle with grated semi-sweet chocolate. Refrigerate until firm—about 1/2 hour. Remove sides from pan. Makes 16 servings.

RICOTTA FILLING
4 large eggs, separated
1 cup milk
2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
3/4 cup sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
2 pounds (4 cups) ricotta cheese
2 squares finely chopped semi-sweet chocolate
1/4 cup finely chopped mixed candied fruit
1/4 cup finely chopped blanched almonds
1/4 cup orange juice or orange liqueur
1 teaspoon grated orange rind
1 teaspoon vanilla
In a medium saucepan beat together the egg yolks and milk. In a cup stir together the gelatin, 1/4 cup of the sugar and the salt; add to egg mixture. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until gelatin dissolves and mixture thickens slightly—about 5 minutes. Remove from heat.

Beef Dumplings with Noodles should tempt back-to-school appetites.

Hearty Beef Dumplings With Noodles

By AILEEN CLAIRE
NEA Food Editor
A good, hearty dish that sticks to the ribs of busy school children is Beef Dumplings with Noodles. To most, dumplings mean a leavened dough cooked in liquid. For a switch make beef meatballs, simmer them in beef broth and serve over hot cooked noodles, with a fruit salad and cookies to please even the most finicky eater.

Beef Dumplings With Noodles
4 thick slices white bread
1 cup evaporated milk
2 large onions, chopped
2 pounds ground beef
2 eggs
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
1/4 teaspoon black pepper
1 quart beef broth or stock
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
3 tablespoons flour
1 tablespoon tomato paste
3 tablespoons lemon juice
1/4 cup capers
1/4 cup chopped green onion
Hot cooked noodles
Soak bread in milk in mixing bowl. Add chopped onions, beef, eggs, salt and pepper. Mix thoroughly and shape into 30 small balls. Bring broth to simmering point in large fry pan; gently drop balls into broth. Cover tightly; cook 10 minutes. Remove balls to warm bowl. Melt butter in small saucepan. Blend flour into butter. Add tomato paste, lemon juice, 1 1/2 cups broth and capers. Cook, stirring until sauce thickens. Pour sauce over dumplings. Sprinkle with green onion and serve with noodles. Makes 6 servings.

AFTERNOON COFFEE COVERED APPLE PASTRIES

Similar to the apple pastries sold in many bakeries.
2 3/4 cups sifted flour
2 3/4 cup enriched white cornmeal
2 tablespoons sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
3/4 cup (1 1/2 one-quarter pound sticks) butter or margarine
2 egg yolks
1-3rd cup water
1 tablespoon lemon juice
Apple Filling, see below
Sift together flour, cornmeal, sugar and salt. Cut in butter until particles are fine. Combine egg yolks, water and lemon juice; add to dry ingredients; mix lightly until just combined. Turn out on floured pastry cloth; knead gently a few times; divide dough in half. With a stockinet-covered floured rolling pin roll out one half of dough to line bottom of a 13 by 9 by 2 inch pan. Spoon Apple Filling over dough. Roll out remaining dough for top crust; place over filling; prick surface. Bake in a preheated 375-degree oven 45 to 50 minutes. Cool. If desired, top with confectioners' sugar frosting. Makes 12 servings.

1 tablespoon sugar
1 cup boiling water
1/2 cup cold water
1 can (8 1/2 ounces) crushed pineapple in heavy syrup
1 egg white
In a medium mixing bowl dissolve gelatin and sugar in boiling water; add cold water. Drain juice from pineapple and add. Chill until slightly thickened; add egg white. Place the bowl of gelatin mixture in a bowl of ice and water and beat until fluffy, thick and double in volume. Fold in drained pineapple. Turn into individual dessert dishes and chill until firm. If desired, serve with custard sauce. Makes 6 servings.

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor
A friend of ours, who grew up in Pennsylvania-Dutch country, has passed along her family recipe for Hot Bacon Salad Dressing. She says, "This goes over just about any kind of greens. No respectable Pennsylvania Dutchman would make cole slaw without it, either."

The interesting feature of the dressing is that it uses bacon fat instead of oil. Vinegar, water, sugar and salt go in, too, and the dressing is thickened with eggs. The dressing must be hot when it is poured over the greens so that it will wilt them. For cole slaw, however, the dressing should be cooled slightly, mixed with shredded cabbage and chilled for several hours before serving.

When we tried the salad dressing recipe in our test kitchen, we poured it over 4 cups of knife-shredded iceberg lettuce. If you prefer to use mixed greens, you might choose romaine, escarole and chicory. The donor of the recipe says, "One of my favorite ways to serve the dressing is to pour it over dandelion greens. But you must gather these in the early spring when they're still tender and not bitter."

HOT BACON SALAD DRESSING
3 slices bacon, diced
2 large eggs
1/4 cup cider vinegar
3/4 cup water
1/4 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
In a heavy aluminum skillet (medium size) fry the bacon until crisp.
In a small mixing bowl beat eggs just enough to combine yolks and whites; add vinegar, water, sugar and salt; that combine. Add to bacon and bacon fat in skillet; cook over moderately low heat, stirring constantly, until thickened; do not boil.

TREADMILL TEST — Dennis Phillips, senior physical education major at Texas Tech University, finds that walking a treadmill on a 24-hour work-rest schedule is harder on the mind than on the body. His effort is part of university research on how man functions on a work schedule longer than the regular eight-hour day.

Is It Physically Harmful For Man To Work 10 Hours Daily Or Longer?

LUBBOCK — Ask a physically fit man to walk a treadmill on a 24-hour work-rest schedule, and he's likely to finish physically fit and bored to exhaustion.

Not a lot of people walk treadmills, but industry and government both are looking at longer work-days with the advantage of longer weekends for workers. The 10-hour work-day with a three-day weekend is gaining popularity with industry. The 12-hour work day with the longer weekend is considered a real possibility for many workers of the future.

At Texas Tech University, researchers are making in depth studies of how the remarkable machine called "man" functions beyond an eight-hour work-day. The treadmill study is part of the research.

"There is the question of efficiency," according to Prof. M.M. Ayoub of the industrial engineering faculty. "There has to be some trade-off. We're using the treadmill experiment to determine what the physiological cost to the individual is in a long work schedule. From this," he said, "we should be able to anticipate what work load is permissible."

Mental fatigue could be as important a factor as physical fatigue. The consequence of fatigue, he pointed out, is that judgment is impaired and mistakes are made.

Dr. A. Eugene Coleman of the physical education faculty is working with Prof. Ayoub. He pointed out that diet is involved in worker efficiency — not only what the individual eats but when he eats and how many calories are taken in prior to work or rest periods.

Work circumstances and the environment are other critical factors.

"Some jobs lend themselves better than others to the 10-hour day," according to Ayoub. A 10-hour work-day may be satisfactory for sedentary jobs with frequent five or 10-minute rest breaks. The 10-hour day works satisfactorily, he said, in jobs made lighter by technology, but "these have an advantage only for people working on the day shift."

Even a 12-hour day schedule may not be too stressing, he said, but it's a different story for the worker on the night schedule. The human system no sooner get used to being active at night than it must shift to the day activity of a family situation. The difference shows up in the worker's loss of sleep and in his digestive system.

"Once you start crossing the line between daytime and nighttime activity," said Ayoub, "the problems are bigger."

Ayoub contends that the most efficient schedule generally is the eight-hour day with an hour lunch break and a short break in each of the four-hour shifts.

Those working at creative jobs usually can work longer than those in non-creative jobs. Creative work often requires extended hours of effort, Ayoub said, but this worker, when he finishes a job, will often rest for a longer period of time than the eight-hour-day worker.

Two different work loads were applied in the treadmill endurance experiments. The first time, subjects were worked at 30 per cent of their maximum aerobic capacity and the second time at 50 per cent of this capacity — defined as the ability of the subjects to take in and use oxygen, an index of their physical fitness.

Arthritis Unit Will Present Public Forum

As part of its public service program the Panhandle Division of the Arthritis Foundation is presenting a Public Forum, "The Management of Arthritis," to be presented by a panel of doctors.

The program will be Tuesday, Oct. 5, at 7:30 p.m. in the YWCA Gymnasium at 1006 S. Jackson in Amarillo. There will be no charge for the program and light refreshments will be served.

The featured speaker will be a noted Texas Rheumatologist, Dr. Homer Goehrs of Austin. Dr. Goehrs is a member of the National Executive Committee and Medical Administrative Committee of the Arthritis Foundation. He will speak on the treatment of Arthritis and the latest research in that field.

Also on the program will be Dr. Kenneth Johnston, Amarillo orthopedic surgeon, who will speak on "Surgery and Arthritis," demonstrating some of the parts used in the rehabilitative surgery for arthritis.

James Kiestler, chief physical therapist at High Plains Baptist Hospital in Amarillo will speak on "The Role of Physical Therapy and the Prevention of Crippling." He will demonstrate exercises and devices beneficial to arthritis.

A question and answer period will follow the program.

The medical community, arthritis and their relatives, and others interested in learning more about the management of arthritis are invited to attend.
