

Strigent Economy Forces Some Public Schools To Shut Doors

By MALCOLM N. CARTER
Associated Press Writer

Inflation and an increasing reluctance by taxpayers to approve new levies have forced some of the nation's public schools to close and many others to effect stringent economies.

Some schools in Ohio, Missouri, Wisconsin, California and Washington have shut their doors until the new year brings renewed revenue. Officials in West Warwick, R.I., Philadelphia and New York City have warned that their schools may also close.

From Montana to Massachusetts, public schools have resorted to double sessions, elimination of extracurricular activities, teacher layoffs and greatly reduced services.

Mayors of major cities and villages have pleaded with state authorities for sustained or additional aid to keep schools open, but the states say their resources have long been drained.

In Chicago, the Board of Education voted Monday to keep schools open for the remainder of 1971 by borrowing against the 1972 budget.

The board said it would seek new funds—additional state or federal aid—to avoid closing schools early at the end of the current academic year. Its anticipated deficit is $26 million.

The board had previously announced plans to close schools for 12 days—from Dec. 8 until Jan. 3—to effect a saving of $1.9 million a day in operating expenses and salaries.

Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie of Illinois has refused to authorize additional state aid for Chicago schools until the city and Cook County made recommended cuts in welfare spending.

In Kansas City, voters decide today on a 54-cent increase in 1971 personal and property taxes for schools and libraries, which Kansas City School District officials say is necessary to prevent further cutbacks in services and to make some improvements.

The rate now is $3.75 per $100 assessed valuation.

City officials estimate the increase would raise some $4.3 million, of which $2.24 million would go for salary increases of up to 8 per cent for most of the school district's 5,500 employees.

Kansas City voters rejected a 90-cent increase in August. In many states, maintenance and school construction have halted altogether.

Most educators interviewed in a nationwide survey by The Associated Press attributed their financial woes to inflation, excessive reliance on property taxes for revenue and the mounting reluctance of voters to approve construction bond issues or to increase their own tax bite.

"This isn't a very stingy town," said Laurence J. O'Connor, schools superintendent of West Warwick, R.I. "The time has passed for excuses and clouding the issue. It's simply, 'Do the people want the schools to stay open?'"

In California, the state Supreme Court ruled Aug. 30 that the present local property tax system of financing schools discriminates unconstitutionally against students in districts with little taxable property wealth.

Edwin H. Harper, the state's associate superintendent of public instruction, said he hopes the legislature will devise a new system that will provide a "considerable influx" of new money.

"I think it's a long, tough road ahead," he said. "It won't happen in any one year. Education has a real tough job to convince the public and the legislators of the need."

Harper said 47 per cent of the state's tax increase proposals failed in 1970-71, in contrast to 31 per cent in 1967-68.

Elsewhere, officials in such states as Ohio, Oregon and Maine have been urging a departure from property to direct income tax financing.

In New York City, the president of the board of education urged the state not to impose expected aid cuts at the risk of early school closings.

The system, operating on a $1.7 billion budget that includes anticipated state and federal aid, has already eliminated 5,000 teaching positions, reduced remedial services, curtailed summer instructional and recreational programs and slashed adult education programs.

The Philadelphia Board of Education has threatened to close schools on May 10 unless it gets an estimated $35 million in state and city funds. The board cut varsity sports and all extracurricular activities and barred the schools to the public after hours last September because of the deficiency. There is also a freeze on new construction.

In Montana, not only has the number of athletic teams been reduced, but interschool travel has been eliminated.

The West Warwick system has eliminated all teacher aides, dropped two teachers, left eight teaching positions unfilled and frozen all but contracted purchasing.

If the voters reject a special $195,922 appropriation later this month, O'Connor said, the system's 5,000 students will be out of school on March 1.

Santa Day Parade Draw Big Crowds

Pampa streets were lined with local and out-of-town visitors this afternoon as the annual Santa Day parade prepared to move at 3 p.m. from its starting point, at Craven and S. Cuyler.

Before the parade got under way, Santa Claus was distributing candy to children at Santa House downtown.

He was to ride in the parade and then greet children again at Coronado Center where the parade was to disband.

Out-of-town judges were on hand to look over floats and parade entries and award prizes to first, second and third place winners in each of the pageant's four divisions.

The parade today originally was scheduled for last Thursday but had to be postponed because of a heavy snowstorm.

Today's sunny weather afforded better conditions for the paraders although some thawing ice on the streets was expected to make the going a bit rough for marchers on foot.

Schools were dismissed early this afternoon and Pampa's senior and junior high school bands were featured in the parade, an annual event sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce.

Man Freed From N.J. Death Row

HACKENSACK, N.J. (AP)—Edgar H. Smith Jr., free from Death Row after admitting the 1957 slaying of a teen-age girl, said, "It was a difficult choice, but I wanted to be free."

Smith, who was on Death Row longer than any American prisoner, said he felt he might have let some of his supporters down by changing his plea from innocent.

"I considered all that. But I also considered that I had been in jail for 14 years and 9 months. I looked at what I had been through. It was not likely I'd gain my freedom in the near future," he said.

Smith was freed Monday night after Superior Court Judge Morris Pashman accepted his plea of no defense in the bludgeoning of Victoria Zielinski, a 15-year-old high school student. The girl's body was found in a gravel pit in Bergen County on March 4, 1957. The plea was by agreement with the state to avoid a new trial.

Judge Pashman set sentence at 25 to 30 years, then gave Smith credit for time served, suspended the remainder of the sentence and put Smith on probation.

Smith, now 38, was convicted of murder in May 1957 and was sentenced to the electric chair. The conviction was overturned last June by a federal appeals court judge, who ruled that Smith's confession in 1957 had been coerced and was unconstitutional. A new trial was scheduled.

Smith had escaped death 19 times by appeals and while in prison he wrote a best-selling book, "Brief Against Death."

Under questioning by Pashman Monday, Smith confessed to the crime.

"Mr. Smith," the judge asked in the hushed courtroom, "did you and you alone kill Victoria Zielinski?"

"I did," Smith replied in a barely audible voice.

Sweeping Victories Claimed By Indians

ASSOCIATED PRESS

India claimed sweeping victories in East Pakistan today, saying the Pakistani army was in retreat. It called for the Pakistanis to surrender there. But in the west India admitted setbacks in Kashmir.

The Indians reported they abandoned Chamb, in western Kashmir 30 miles from the major Indian city of Jammu and the troops "are reorganizing." They conceded that fighting was heavy on that front.

But in East Pakistan, the Indians claimed that Pakistani army was cut off by air and sea. Gen. Sam Manekshaw, chief of staff, told the 80,000 Pakistani fighting there: "Time is running out. Lay down your arms before it is too late."

Despite the war, Radio Pakistan announced that President Agha Mohammed Yahya Khan had asked two prominent politicians to form a civilian government. No date was set. Nurul Amin, a rightist from East Pakistan, was offered the post of prime minister with former Foreign Minister Zulfikar Ali Bhutto, leader of the leftist People's party, as deputy prime minister.

Pakistani forces are also putting heavy pressure on the Indians in the Punch area to the north of Chamb, the spokesman reported. "Their main activity has been in those two sectors of Jammu and Kashmir," he said, "and they have repeatedly tried to capture Punch."

However, the spokesman in Rawalpindi claimed Pakistani forces are fighting "on Indian soil in all sectors on the western front." He said the Indians were putting up resistance in areas outside Kashmir but did not pinpoint these.

Monday night spokesmen in Rawalpindi claimed the capture of Mandiala, in the Chamb sector, and advances around Punch, India, meanwhile, claimed its troops had destroyed 96 Pakistani tanks on the western front.

An Indian spokesman admitted the loss of Mandiala but claimed that the Pakistanis were thrown back in the Punch sector near Mendhar.

The spokesman added that the purpose of the Pakistani attack in the Chamb sector was to cut the New Delhi-Kashmir highway, which parallels the border for nearly 30 miles and runs through the Chamb area.

An Indian military spokesman in Calcutta claimed that Indian troops smashed their way through the defenses of the important East Pakistani garrison town of Jessore today and were fighting to clear it of Pakistani troops.

"The hard outer core of Pakistan's defenses in the East has been smashed, and our progress now should be much more rapid," said Maj. Gen. F. R. Jacob, the chief of staff for India's Eastern Command.

Jacob said the Indians have occupied Jessore airfield and were battling to clear the Indian cantonment about four miles outside the town. Jessore is about 20 miles from East Pakistan's western border and is believed to be defended by about 5,000

Pakistani troops and a local militia. Indian spokesmen claimed the capture of Feni, cutting the road and railway between Dacca, the East Pakistani capital, and Chittagong, the chief port.

Soviet Space Capsule Lands On Red Planet

MOSCOW (AP) — An unmanned Soviet space capsule has become the first manmade vehicle to land safely on Mars, Tass reported today.

The capsule soft-landed last Thursday by parachute from the Mars 3 satellite and radioed signals to earth via the mother ship, the Soviet news agency said.

It said Mars 3, launched in May, reached its destination after a flight of 188 days. Earlier probes by the Soviet Union and the United States either missed the planet, went into orbits around it, or failed to land safely.

Mars 3 transmitted radio signals from the descent craft to earth between Dec. 2 and Dec. 5, Tass said.

PIF Picks Nominees

Stockholders of the Pampa Industrial Foundation met in annual session at the Coronado Inn this forenoon and approved a slate of ten names to go on the ballot from which five directors will be elected to serve three-year terms.

The ballots, to be mailed to PIF members Dec. 15, will present these names: Frank Culberson, Fred Neslage, E. L. Green Jr., Harold Barrett, Floyd E. Imel, Leslie H. Hart, John Fritsch, Arthur Aftergut, Glen Tarpley and Ray Kuhn.

Following the election of the five new directors a board meeting will be held early in January to elect officers for the coming year. Current officers are George B. Cree Jr., president; Aubrey Steele, vice president, and E.O. Wedgeworth, secretary.

Mercury Will Dip To 20s

As an aftermath of today's sunshine and warmer weather, a cold front will move in late tonight accompanied by freezing rain that will turn to snow by Wednesday morning.

That was the word at noon today from the U.S. Weather Service at Amarillo.

The forecasters said following a high near 60 degrees this afternoon, the cold wave would send the mercury down into the low-20s before tomorrow morning.

The freezing rain, they said, will come late tonight and then turn to snow early Wednesday with intermittent snow all day and possibly continuing into Thursday with greater amounts.

The Weather Service said that they were not prepared at the noon hour to predict the amount of snow accumulation.

They did say, however, that the possibility for precipitation was 30 percent for tonight and 70 per cent for Wednesday.

The forecast calls for westerly winds of 15 to 25 miles an hour tonight turning to northerly tomorrow morning.

Wheeler Church Guttled By Blaze

WHEELER — Flames ignited by failure of electrical wiring due to overload from Christmas lighting gutted the First United Methodist Church building here in the pre-dawn hours this morning.

According to the pastor, the Rev. Ron Dunn, the people of the church had, for the past five years, strung lights on a tree growing in the church yard at Christmas. This year the lighting was carried out in the same manner with the same number of lights but somewhere in the circuit an overload occurred causing the fire.

The brick walls are still standing, according to Rev. Dunn and appear to be structurally sound but the entire roof will have to be replaced. It did not cave in but was weakened by the course of the flames.

The minister said there was no way to assess the damage monetarily at this hour but the pews and other furniture were ruined and he felt both the piano and organ were beyond repair. The instruments were rescued from the blazing structure but they had been subjected to considerable water damage.

Asked about services while his congregation was without a sanctuary, Rev. Dunn said the pastor of the First Baptist Church, the Rev. Keith McCormick, had invited the Methodists to worship with the Baptist congregation. Further, he said Rev. McCormick had suggested, subject to the approval of both congregations, to alternate in the pulpit during the period of joint worship.

Rev. Dunn has been pastor of the United Methodist Church here two years.

Pearl Harbor Survivors Mark 30th Anniversary

HONOLULU (AP) — Some 2,500 members of the Pearl Harbor Survivors Association are gathered today on the 30th anniversary of the attack which propelled the United States into World War II.

They will attend services at the site of the Japanese attack, as other ceremonies are held around the nation to honor the 2,409 Americans killed at Pearl Harbor Dec. 7, 1941.

Adm. Bernard A. Clarey, commander of the U.S. Pacific fleet, speaks at a sunrise service starting at 7:55 a.m. Hawaii time, the hour the attack began.

Sen. Daniel K. Inouye of Hawaii, an American of Japanese descent who was decorated for valor in Europe during World War II, speaks at sunset memorial services being held at the white memorial constructed atop the sunken battleship Arizona.

The services at the Arizona memorial were requested by the survivors association, which is holding its annual convention.

The Arizona is a watery tomb for the 1,102 men who were trapped in the battlewagon when she went to the bottom.

Parts of the ship can still be seen below the surface of the clear water and occasionally oil from the Arizona bubbles to the surface.

The start of another memorial is also scheduled today. It will mark the site of the sunken aircraft carrier gunnery ship Utah and the 54 crewmen who went down with her.

John Berlier of Indianapolis, secretary-treasurer of the survivors association, said 85 chapters across the nation have scheduled observances of Pearl Harbor Day today.

Worry Clinic

By - George W. Crane, Ph. D., M. D.

Wilma asks some questions that should interest all literate Americans: For words have distinctive "personalities," depending largely on the kind of company they have kept! Speakers, writers and even super mart customers should profit from Wilma's request.

CASE 5-538: Wilma T., aged 22, works in an advertising agency.

"Dr. Crane," she began, "I studied from your textbook while I was at college.

"And I remember you stressed the importance of 'feeling tone' in the use of words.

"Could you explain that more fully and also tell me why such trade names as 'Kodak' were created?"

FEELING TONE

Feeling tone refers to the harmonious "image" that you wish to create regarding your product or even your personality.

In the latter regard, it is also well to heed the adage represented by the letters L-A-W, which refer to "Looks," "Actions" and "Words."

If a girl is dressed attractively but then acts vulgarly, she may also employ a cultured vocabulary but violates the "A" in that formula.

Again, she may look stunning and act properly but if she uses profanity, then there is a jarring or discordant effect.

So your "Looks, Actions and Words" need to harmonize or you will arouse doubt and suspicion.

Words derive their distinctive "feeling tone" depending largely on their previous use and the company they keep.

As a rule, ignorant, uncouth people indulge in an excess of four-letter words, whereas college graduates tend to employ a polysyllabic vocabulary.

In past years, many uneducated folks would thus eagerly seize upon any big words they heard and try to use them repeatedly, even though they didn't fully understand their meaning.

For by use of such polysyllables, they thought they were raising their cultural standing in the eyes of their associates.

Note this classical example from my college textbook of the violation of "feeling tone":

"She was a skinny maiden."

That word "skinny" suggests a freckle-faced sandlot youngster on a baseball club.

But "maiden" has a poetical connotation, so "skinny maiden" strikes a jarring note.

"She was slender maiden" would be more appropriate.

"He was a skinny kid" would likewise not be so jarring to the ears for "kid" tends to fit into that sandlot baseball picture.

Regarding the name "Kodak," it was composed of two nonsense syllables to produce a word not in the dictionary.

For further advice, send for my booklet "The New Psychology of Advertising and Selling," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 25 cents. (Always write to Dr. Crane, Hopkins Bldg. Mellot, Indiana, 47958 enclosing a long stamped addressed envelope and 25 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

Son's roommate switch puzzles parents

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My son, a college sophomore, moved into an apartment with a fellow we knew. Suddenly, he changed roommates. Only he exchanged the fellow for a girl! Now, it seems we have acquired a common-law "daughter-in-law."

Undoubtedly, this is a problem many parents are facing today. There is no talk of marriage in the immediate future. They say, "After graduation, maybe, if we still feel the same about each other then."

However, what are the practical aspects of the situation? Must we treat her like a daughter-in-law, inviting her to all family occasions? Our son is on a very tight budget, which necessitates our sending him busfare for visits home. Do we have to send HER busfare so she can come home with him?

He is only 19, and not really ready for marriage, yet he seems to have acquired all the benefits of marriage without any of its responsibilities. Our financial contribution cannot be increased. The girl is paying her share, as a "roommate."

If you think this is a subject of interest we would appreciate comments from other readers involved in a similar situation.

PUZZLED MOTHER: TYLER, TEXAS

DEAR PUZZLED: Nowhere in your letter do you express any disapproval of your 19-year-old son's living with his girl friend. Your only concern seems to be financial. Since your son can't afford to support a wife, and you can't afford to subsidize him, you are not obligated to give his current "roommate" all the considerations of a daughter-in-law.

DEAR ABBY: When I read your "PARENT'S PRAYER," I wanted to throw up!

What the world needs today is not a prayer for parents asking for help in being better parents, but a prayer for KIDS asking for help in being better children.

A GRANDMA IN CHICAGO

DEAR GRANDMA: Don't go away. Please read the following:

DEAR ABBY: I just loved your "PARENT'S PRAYER." I think you ought to print it at least once a year. It would be especially appropriate around New Year's, when resolutions are being made. Thank you! S. C. M.: COLUMBUS, O.

DEAR ABBY: Please excuse this sloppy writing, but I'll be 87 years old next April and my "headlights" are rather dim.

Shame on that man who calls his wife of 40 years his "1909 model," and says a man should trade his wife in for a newer model like he does his automobile.

His cylinder head is warped, his valves are leaking, his pistons are slapping and his crankshaft is out of alignment, and I'll bet he's having trouble keeping his tires pumped up.

I married an "1884 model" in 1909, and I have never seen a later model that looked as good to me. In fact, she's far more precious to me today than she was when I married her.

G. H. SAUNDERS, CONCORD, GA.

DEAR ABBY: I don't imagine you have finished counting the votes you asked your readers to send in concerning a letter which you found extremely difficult to answer. But will you please give us a clue as to which side is ahead?

IMPATIENT IN MONTANA

DEAR IMPATIENT: The "DON'T GO'S" are ahead. But it's no landslide. I'm hoping to have the results for publication next week.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90089. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

Women Observe Week Of Prayer

GROOM (Special) — The Baptist Women observed "Week of Prayer" by meeting each morning this week. The theme for the "Week of Prayer" is "Expect From God, Attempt for God." Mrs. Bertha Knight served as prayer program leader.

Those attending the first two meetings were Mrs. D.A. Watson, Don Ritter, Rudolph Tucker, Oma Lee Davis, Ruby Milton, Melvin Asberry, John Glines, Ermine Bray, Viola Harrell, Bill Burgin and Sue Whatley.

GO MODERN—Give a trash compactor for Christmas. This unusual gift can be free-standing or built-in to crush can, break bottles, pulverize plastics, maul milk carton and break beef bones. This design holds approximately one-week's accumulation of garbage and trash for a family of four and comes with measured deodorant spray, and choice of front panel inserts to fit decor. Meanwhile, time watchers will appreciate (inset left) a weather resistant and cordless inside-out clock. In a more classic Christmas vein is a limited edition plate, (top) entitled, "We Three Kings."

Your Horoscope

By Jeanne Dixon

WEDNESDAY, DEC. 8 promptly at a reasonable time for a complete change of mood and activity.

Libra [Sept. 23-Oct. 22]: Don't play games with legal technicalities. Later hours bring an abrupt flip of circumstances.

Scorpio [Oct. 23-Nov. 21]: There is little point in arguing over how best to do anything. A very short period of trial would show whether you're right.

Sagittarius [Nov. 22-Dec. 21]: Concentrate all energies onto the most practical courses now. Even some of those may look a little "out" by evening.

Capricorn [Dec. 22-Jan. 19]: An expense beyond your budget seems required, but rather inconvenient for a while to come.

Aquarius [Jan. 20-Feb. 18]: Expand your interests and participation in what's happening. Good luck may be going for you but you need to declare your principles too.

Pisces [Feb. 19-March 20]: Your ideals deserve the wholehearted, continued and least complicated fashion definite effort to bring them toward reality.

Baylor Tallies Cage Victory Over Tigers

By Associated Press
The Texas Tech Red Raiders soundly whipped another strong intersectional foe Monday night while the Texas Aggies fell from unbeaten grace and Rice collected its first victory in Southwest Conference basketball action against non-conference foes.

The Red Raiders wrapped up their third victory without a loss in a sound 90-70 thrashing of Oklahoma before a cheering throng of 7,830 fans in Lubbock.

The Aggies, who out-rebounded Tulsa 42-45, lost 90-79 to the Golden Hurricane as the visitors connected on a sizzling 56.9 per cent of their shots from the field.

By STEVE BOHLANDER Sports Editor

The Pampa Harvesters will be meeting the Plainview Bulldogs tonight in Plainview for a grudge battle. Last year the Bulldogs knocked the Harvesters out of their bid for the State Crown by defeating them in the Bi-District playoffs.

This year is a different story according to coach Robert McPherson. "We have a stronger team this year. Our inexperience of last year is gone and we don't have as many mistakes to overcome as were present with the new players."

"The team is truly working as a team and each and everyone of the boys are putting out a full 100 per cent. Our biggest victory of the season was defeating Arlington Heights from the Fort Worth area."

The Harvesters have gathered in a perfect six and zero season thus far and are gunning for the lucky seven.

Big guns on the Harvester squad include Mike Edgar, Richard Bunton and Donnie Cain. Bunton singled the nets for 38 points against Woodward, Oklahoma, to help the Harvesters win the annual Top O' Texas Tournament.

Edgar has been leading the team on rebounds and Cain, until recently put out with a back injury, had been playing good basketball both on offense and defense.

The team is still plagued with early season turnovers but McPherson expects this to correct with more playing time.

Tip off time for tonight's game is at 8 p.m. for the Varsity squad with the JV team starting play at 6:30 p.m. The Shockers are playing under new coach Ronnie Hearne this year and are racking up an impressive season. The JV team finished second out of eight teams in the Borger Junior Varsity Invitational Basketball Tournament held over the week-end.

According to Hearne, "The team really tried hard to win the tourney but it is hard for a group of inexperienced sophomores to knock out a bunch of juniors. Almost all of the teams entered with the exception of the Borger Sophomore team was made up of Juniors. I am happy with the boys performance but still disappointed with losing the tourney."

"We should improve as the season continues and pick up the pieces for a series of wins."

ONCE UPON A TIME, Alex Karras, above, was a determined young Detroit Lion defensive lineman who turned into the No. 71 feared by NFL quarterbacks, including George Mira, fleeing Karras at right. Now Karras, unceremoniously released by the Lions after 12 seasons, has gone into show biz, where he does such things as trying to dodge a blitz by actress Belle Mitchell, far right, in this igloo scene from TV's "Love, American Style."

Dawson And Taylor Steal Show From Howard Cosell

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Len Dawson and Otis Taylor have upstaged the guys in the television booth again on the National Football League's Monday night television series.

The Kansas City Chiefs' passing combination pulled out all the stops in a 26-17 victory over the San Francisco 49ers in their latest prime time show.

With a victory over the Oakland Raiders next Sunday, Coach Hank Stram's Chiefs would clinch a division title and an invitation to the playoffs, which they missed last year when they were defending Super Bowl champion.

"It was very important for us to be on the attack and to stay on the attack. Our pass blocking was terrific," said Stram after Monday night's game which dealt a double blow to pro football fans in the San Francisco Bay Area.

Nothing seems to sharpen the Chiefs' passing attack like the Monday night time slot.

Dawson completed 16 of 29 passes for 263 yards against the 49ers. One of the passes went to Taylor for 46 yards and a touchdown, and the big wide receiver scored another touchdown on a 25-yard run off an end-around play.

Earlier this year, the Chiefs beat Pittsburgh 38-16 on a Monday night as Dawson threw for 290 yards and three touchdowns, including two to Taylor.

Last year Dawson fired four scoring passes in a 44-24 Monday night rout of Baltimore.

Some of the fans who came early to Candlestick Park to beat the rush hour traffic, hung out signs greeting the American Broadcasting Company's announcing team. One said, "Howard Cosell, Superstar."

But Dawson and Taylor stole the show.

"I thought we played a good game," said 49ers quarterback John Brodie. "We didn't play poorly. They're just a good team... as good as any team we've played."

Brodie passed for 229 yards and threw a 25-yard touchdown pass to Ted Kwalick. But he only threw the only interception of the night, which led to one of Jan Stenerud's four field goals for the Chiefs.

Kansas City, now 8-3-1, moved ahead of Oakland, 7-3-2, in the American Football Conference West after sharing the lead for about 30 hours with the Raiders. The Chiefs are alone on top now for the first time this year.

The 49ers, 7-5, fell behind Los Angeles, 7-4-1. There are two weeks left in the season and they don't get another crack at the Rams.

"It's not over," said Coach Dick Nolan, whose team was one of the preseason favorites for a 1972 Super Bowl berth after surprising the NFL with a 10-3-1 record last season.

The young San Francisco team will have to beat another NFC West contender, the Atlanta Falcons who stand 6-5-1, and then hope that Washington can upset the Rams in the last Monday night game of the NFL season.

The biggest disappointment was the amount of time we gave Dawson to throw, particularly in the first half," Nolan said after his team lost its first regular season game to an AFC club.

Dawson rolled up 198 yards passing in the first half. The touchdown pass to Taylor, on a first down play, came in the second period when the Chiefs totaled 16 points.

The touchdown to Taylor put the Chiefs ahead to stay, 10-3. Defender Johnny Fuller, who might have stopped the play from going all the way, slipped and fell as he made a move toward Taylor and the ball.

The 49ers' secondary ran into more bad luck in the last period, on a 30-yard pass play that set up Stenerud's final field goal after a Vic Washington touchdown fur for the 49ers made the score 23-17.

Dawson aimed down the middle for Taylor and overthrew him. But a San Francisco player deflected the ball into the hands of Chief rookie Elmo Wright downfield for the big gain.

Stenerud, whose longest field goal of the night was from 54 yards out, kicked an eight-yarder to give the Chiefs their final three points midway in the last quarter.

The defeat was the third in the last four weeks for the 49ers.

Orange Bowl To Host Top Two College Teams

By ASSOCIATED PRESS
If you thought the Nebraska-Oklahoma game Thanksgiving Day decided who was the No. 1 college football team of 1971, well, think again.

Nebraska did finish in the top slot in The Associated Press' final poll of the regular season, announced Monday. But Alabama, 11-0, came in second, and the Crimson Tide has a chance to take over the No. 1 spot New Year's Night, when they battle Nebraska in the Orange Bowl.

The Cornhuskers, the defending national champions who whipped Hawaii 45-3 Saturday night to finish the 1971 season 12-0, received 48 first place votes and 1,086 points, just 14 short of a perfect score, from the panel of 55 sports writers and broadcasters participating in the poll.

Alabama, runner-up with 954 points, got four first place votes, and fourth-ranked Michigan got the remaining three. Oklahoma, 10-1, which did not receive any first place ballots, finished third with 880 points, while Michigan, 11-0, had 797 points.

Penn State, trounced by Tennessee 31-11 Saturday, dropped from fifth last week to 10th this week. No. 5

Princeton Coach Happy About Tar Heel Defeat

AP Sports Writer
Princeton Coach Pete Carril wants more time to savor his team's stunning victory over third-ranked North Carolina before venturing a prediction of how the Tigers will fare in this season's Ivy League basketball race.

"Just let me enjoy this one," said Carril Monday night when asked about Princeton's Ivy League chances after the Tigers had shocked last season's National Invitation Tournament champions 89-73.

"A great win... a great win," he added.

"Princeton played a marvelous game," said North Carolina Coach Dean Smith. "We didn't expect their center or forwards to hustle as well as they did, and their guards were tremendous."

The underdog Tigers, 2-1, used a tenacious man-to-man defense in handing the Tar Heels their first setback in three games. They forged a 36-34 halftime lead and were clinging to a 58-57 advantage with six minutes gone in the second half, before taking command by outscoring North Carolina 16-4 in the next seven minutes for a commanding 74-61 margin.

Sophomore center Andy Rimmel paced the Tigers with 23 points, while the junior backcourt duo of Ted Manakas and Brian Taylor collected 21 and 16 points, respectively.

Bob McAdoo and Bobby Jones each scored 20 points for the Tar Heels. Jones fouled out with seven minutes left.

North Carolina was not the only member of the Associated Press' Top 20 to lose. Houston, ranked 12th, was upended by ambitious Southwestern Louisiana 97-88, and 20th-rated North Carolina State was surprised by West Virginia 87-75.

Meanwhile, Ohio State, No. 4, downed Utah State 71-60. Kentucky, ranked seventh, beat Kansas State 71-64. Jacksonville, rated eighth, trimmed Tennessee Tech 86-72 in an opening round game of the Civitan Tournament at Jacksonville after Florida State, tied for 18th place, routed Stetson 90-54.

Villanova, the other team tied for 18th, defeated Oregon 78-73, and Arizona State, No. 17, whipped Santa Barbara 91-71.

Southwestern Louisiana, playing a major college schedule this season for the first time, got 41 points from Dwight Lamar, last season's small college scoring champion, in upsetting Houston. Lamar connected on 14 field goals and 13 of 16 free throws in helping Southwestern raise its record to 2-1.

West Virginia, winning for the third time in three starts, forced 34 North Carolina State turnovers with a pressing man-to-man defense. Will Robinson's 31 points and Levi Phillips' 20 paced the Mountaineers, who rallied from a 52-45 second-half deficit.

Tom Burleson, North Carolina State's 7-foot-4 sophomore center, was limited to 12 points and 12 rebounds before fouling out with eight minutes remaining.

Sophomore Dan Gerhard and seven-foot Luke Witte each scored 20 points in leading unbeaten Ohio State to its third victory. Fred Taylor, Ohio State coach, was particularly pleased with his team's defense.

"Utah State was averaging 84 shots a game," explained Taylor.

"They got only 54 against us

Pre-Season Poll Picks UCLA No. 1

AP Sports Writer
UCLA, NCAA basketball champions in each of the past five seasons, overpowered its first two opponents of the 1971-72 season and retained its No. 1 spot in the weekly Associated Press poll of sports writers and broadcasters across the nation.

The Bruins, who overpowered the Citadel 105-49 Friday night and pounded Iowa 106-72 Saturday night, received 24 of a possible 44 first place votes and 803 points overall to retain the first place ranking they held in the preseason poll.

Marquette, also an easy winner in its first two outings, jumped from fourth to second, getting seven first place votes and 739 points. North Carolina, despite overwhelming Rice 127-69 in its only start, dropped from second to third with 724 points, although the Tar Heels did garner nine first place votes.

Ohio State, which topped Georgia Tech 63-55 and Oregon 68-57 over the weekend, climbed a notch from fifth to fourth, with 505 points and three first place votes. Maryland, an impressive winner over Brown and George Washington in its first two outings, also moved up one spot to fifth, with 476 points and the remaining first place vote.

Long Beach State, 2-0, jumped from eighth to sixth with 392 points, while Kentucky, also 2-0, climbed from 10th to seventh with 350 points.

Rounding out the Top Ten were No. 8 Jacksonville, 11th last week, No. 9 Michigan,

Lee Trevino Shrugged Off Disney Golf Loss

Associated Press Golf Writer
ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — Lee Trevino shrugged off the loss of pro golf's leading money winning title to Jack Nicklaus.

"He deserves to win it," Trevino said Monday after Nicklaus had vaulted past him with a $30,000 victory in the Walt Disney World Open—each player's final event of the year.

"He's a better player. Just look at the record. He hasn't played in half as many tournaments as I have. Winning that kind of money in what, 18 or 19 tournaments? That's strong, man, strong."

Nicklaus, in front all the way, shot a final round four-underpar 68 for a 273 total and an almost-routine three-stroke victory in the rain-delayed tournament Monday.

Trevino, who established himself as the game's new folk hero with his lightning sweep of the American, British and Canadian Opens this summer, held a lead of some $15,000 going into this tournament.

But he complained of being "punchy, mentally tired, just beat" and could finish no better than tied for 21st. He won $1,425 for a 231.201.97 total, still far better than Nicklaus' 1967 record of $211,566.66.

Arnold Palmer, who had his best money year ever at the age of 42, had a tie for third in the Disney and posted a money total of $209,603.77—more than Ben Hogan won in a career but third on the list this season.

Nicklaus, Trevino and Palmer all are through for the year. All are skipping the Bahamas Islands Open starting Thursday.

"Not a bad year's work," the 31-year-old Nicklaus grinning after pushing his earnings for the season to almost one-quarter of a million dollars.

Little Deane Beman finished second in the new Disney and never led. He had a final 69 for 275.

Palmer and rookie Lanny Wadkins were next at 278. Palmer with a closing 70 and Wadkins with a 71.

Nicklaus, now winner of 34 regular American tour events, took a three-putt bogey on the fourth hole and put his proach in a trap on the next hole. He blasted out to six feet and made the par putt.

"It was a real key putt," Nicklaus said. "If I'd made another bogey there, well, it would have been tough. Making that putt kind of turned me around."

Tyranny's Timetable

In the interest of history, we suggest parents clip this editorial and preserve it for their children.

We are persuaded now that a timetable for the complete replacement of American freedom by a dictatorship can be diagrammed with reasonable accuracy. We do not mean a camouflaged dictatorship, but an open, brazen establishment of rule by supreme edict.

When the Nixon years are reviewed by future historians, he will be characterized as the architect of the "New America." He will not actually establish the new order completely, but his trail-blazing actions will mark the path for his successor who may be the last duly elected President of the U.S.

Mr. Nixon has already fearlessly shown that the American President may disregard the traditions of his party and his country. He may repudiate his promises, and by executive order replace the freedom by control boards whose members received not a single vote from American tax payers.

And he has proven it can be done with scarcely a whimper from the people.

The major obstacle remaining is the powerful labor union bosses who see their own demise in the new scheme of things. But minor concessions will be made to this power base until Mr. Nixon is secure in his second term.

The myth of "success" which will be ballyhooed effectively during the second Nixon term, will bring other "phases" and it will be effectively shown that labor unions, as such, will be obsolete.

With the complete reorganization of the Federal government, a new kind of Presidential cabinet will provide a bureaucracy to establish not only wage and price limits, but job placements with Federal work cards directing who shall work at what job and when and where, after all, why should there be two people seeking the same job?

Individual determination will be "proven" wasteful and not in the national interest. This program will start among the unemployed, move into the common labor pool and progress eventually to the professions including doctors and lawyers. Lawyers will be the last to go.

Two Heart Transplant Patients File Report

BY PAUL HARVEY
Two heart transplant patients say today they're "grateful," but they "would not go through it again."
And simultaneously, coincidentally, I hear from a friend who's been to the edge of death and back and he's powerful glad to be back.
What's the difference?
In Sydney, Australia, a substitute heart was installed in a tiny baby boy at the age of 27 hours. That was last April. Today he's out and about, weighs 17 pounds and revisits the hospital only for checkups.

But Herbert Batholomew has had two—and says he would not go through it again.
A Commerce City, Colo., truck driver at 50 has had two heart transplants. Says he appreciates being alive. But the drugs they needed to retard rejection caused cataracts on both his eyes. He can't get insured, can't get a job, still must receive regular doses of drugs.
So, though he's grateful to be alive, he says if this heart fails he would not want another.

H. L. Hunt Writes

THE U.S. AND CHILE
As Chile's Marxist president Salvador Allende continues to move his country toward a total Communist state, our government should re-examine its policies toward that nation.
Evidence is overwhelming that a Communist regime is exactly what Allende is creating. Industries are confiscated without compensation, the press is censored, and Cuban Communists hold key posts in the educational system. Allende is erecting port facilities in Valparaiso with Soviet money, and has recently received a $50 million credit for purchasing modern arms from the Communist bloc.
Even leftist ex-President Eduardo Frei has declared: "...the Communist party is imposing its own law and applying tactics it has always used in countries which it has reduced to slavery."
There is still opposition to Allende within Chile, and he has not yet completely solidified his control. Many observers believe that the correct actions by the United States could make the difference between Communist entrenchment and a chance for freedom for the Chilean people.
In a recent article in Human Events, Paul Bethel, executive director of the Citizens Committee for a Free Cuba, urged the U.S. to consider breaking diplomatic relations with Chile and working to have that regime expelled from the Organization of American States. Such actions would indicate to the Chilean people that our government was on their side against tyranny and that we would support efforts to remove Allende from office.
Such a course of events would be in the best interests of all the free people of Latin America and of the U.S., whose security is threatened by the establishment of a second Communist state in the Western Hemisphere.

Your Health

Dear Dr. Lamb — I have always looked askance at cosmetics containing hormones, as I thought applying them outside couldn't make any difference.
I have been using a prescribed hormone vaginal cream which really makes a difference. Now I am wondering if the face, too, can absorb hormones. I am in my late 50s, so naturally would welcome any help I am not, however, eager to enrich a cosmetic manufacturer for psychological help.

Dear Reader — Yes, many of the things applied to the skin are actually absorbed by the body. A good example is a nitroglycerin ointment, when rubbed over the chest it will relieve angina pain.

Now that doesn't mean that you will get what you hope for from hormone creams for your face. It depends entirely on what you want. If it wrinkles you wish to get rid of you will most likely be disappointed.

The cream that serves as a base for the hormones usually acts as a moisturizer — that is it helps prevent drying or loss of water from the deeper layers of the skin. This is sometimes helpful, usually in skin showing aging. This is not due to the hormones, however. If a person used a cream with enough hormone to cause a significant effect on the skin it could also cause problems by its total effect on the body.

The hormone cream you have been using actually relieves the shortage of female hormone and is useful for that purpose. This however is quite different than the usual aging of the skin which you are probably concerned about.

Dear Dr. Lamb — It is necessary for my children to take 50,000 units of vitamin A because of a severe lack of it in their systems since they were very young. However, during the winter months I have given them vitamin C to ward off colds. Now someone tells me that I am defeating my purpose because the one vitamin counteracts and avoids the other. Is this true? If so, how can we benefit in both areas without nullifying one or the other.

Dear Reader — That is the least of your worries. There is absolutely no nullifying effect of either vitamin on the other. I must point out, however, that excess amounts of vitamin A can be harmful. Many doctors feel that continued doses in excess of 25,000 units daily are ill-advised and may cause vitamin A toxicity. The American Medical Assn.'s 1971 Drug Evaluation also states that there is no evidence of any additional benefits from doses in excess of 25,000 units daily. Other than short term treatment for vitamin A deficiency, the regular dose is 5,000 units daily or less.

Meany Isolated? Tough Talk Not Backed by Union Chiefs

WASHINGTON, —AFL-CIO president George Meany is publicly talking a lot tougher than he is acting privately regarding President Nixon's Phase II and foreign policies—and with good reason.

Powerful union chiefs are firmly disagreeing with Meany, and telling him so.

They are making it flatly clear there will be no mass labor walkout from the Pay Board—notwithstanding Meany's threatening growls and fulminations.

If in the now unlikely event he does bolt, in one of these explosive temper tantrums, it is definite that at least several of the five union Pay Board members will refuse to go along.

Teamster president Frank Fitzsimmons already has made that unmistakable plain to Meany and the others.

There have been no rows or wrangles in the backstage discussions. They have been friendly and amicable. At the same time the dissenting union leaders left no doubt they disapproved of Meany's high-handed and bully-boy antics in castigating Phase II before it began operating and condemning the President's plans to go to Peking and Moscow.

This frank laying-it-on-the-line to Meany is of utmost significance. It strikingly denotes two important inside developments:

(1) Regardless of the ailing 77-year-old one-time plumber's public huffing and puffing, he emphatically does not have the final say on AFL-CIO policies. (2) Top-rung union chiefs already are thinking and maneuvering in terms of who is going to replace Meany.

While guarded in discussing the matter, conjecture among labor insiders is that he will quit after next year's national elections.

What's Behind It
Chief reasons for the backstage disagreement with Meany are widespread and strongly adverse reaction by the general public.

High-handed and autocratic by inclination and remote from contact with public opinion, Meany was either unaware or indifferent to these factors. But high and low officials of individual unions were not.

They were directly in the line of fire and got the brunt of the resentment of both their rank-and-file and the general public.

That explains why Auto Worker president Leonard Woodcock broke sharply with Meany, and sternly declared he had no intention of not accepting appointment to the Pay Board for the very cogent reason that "a lot more can be done working inside than on the outside."

It can be authoritatively reported that at least two nationally known union chiefs bluntly told Meany he had acted "imprudently" and "unwisely."

It can also be reported the AFL-CIO headquarters, in Washington, was deluged with denunciatory letters—a large proportion from rank-and-file union workers. Significantly, there hasn't been a peep out of Meany's staff about this postal castigation.

Illustrative of this indignant condemnation is a letter from Louis R. Delmonico, Wichita, Kans., as follows:

"Mr. Meany's conduct toward President Nixon was reprehensible. It demonstrated rudeness, arrogance and was a calculated insult to both the President and the people of the United States who are represented by the President. It is regrettable that the decent members of labor should suffer because of the stupidity of some union leaders."

Best Seller (?)

Just what Sen. Ted Kennedy's deeds and accomplishments are that call for a biography are assuredly conjectural—but one is in the works.

Publication is set for next spring—possibly in time for his being "drafted" as the Democrats' Presidential standard bearer. While disclaiming being a candidate, he has never said he wouldn't run.

As a subject for a biography, Kennedy presents quite a problem for a writer.

He has actually never done anything of note or moment. Everything has been done for him—from inheriting great wealth to having his Senate seat more or less "bought" for him by his family.

His life story can well be summed up in a few lines.

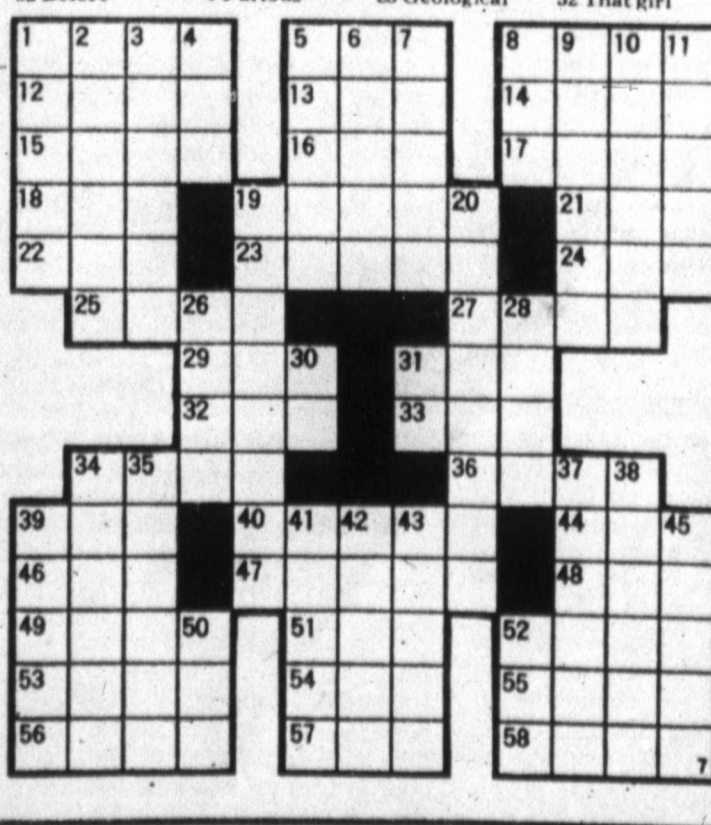

The youngest of nine children, he was raised in luxury and pampered favoritism. As a Harvard undergraduate, he was expelled for cheating in an examination. When barely 30, he was elected to the U.S. Senate, although he had never held public office or done anything to deserve high place.

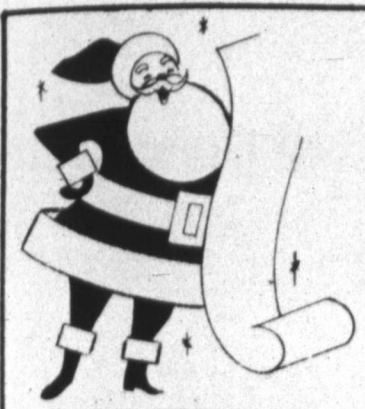

He owed his election solely to the fact that he was a Kennedy that one brother was President of the United States, another was U.S. Attorney General, and his very wealthy family spent at least one million dollars to get him the Democratic nomination and win the election.

As a Senator he has espoused a wide range of causes—although there is no legislation of any moment that bears his name or imprint.

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP)—Iowa State won the first final of the Sixth Annual Big Eight Swimming Relays Friday.

In the one-meter diving competition, Iowa-State swimmer Steve Spikes and Rick McAnally took first place with seven points.

Missouri followed with five; Kansas, four; Nebraska, three; Oklahoma State, two, and Colorado, one. Kansas State does not have an intercollegiate swimming team.

SOELVESBORG, Sweden (AP)—The Chinese National table tennis team suffered its second defeat in row against Sweden when it lost 2-5 Friday night. The winning team included world singles champion Stellan Bengtsson, who also helped Sweden edge China 5-4 last Wednesday.

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—A spokesman at St. Vincent's Hospital says rookie Bill Smith of the Portland Trail Blazers will undergo surgery for torn ligaments in his left knee.

The 7-foot center injured his knee in Tuesday night's National Basketball Association loss to the Phoenix Suns.

BOSTON (AP)—The New England Patriots announced Friday Clarence Scott, defensive safety, was placed on the move list with an ankle injury. Perry Pruett, cornerback, was activated from the taxi squad.

ASHERTON, Tex. (AP)—Asherton High School won its first basketball game after 62 straight losses Friday night by beating Eden 38-20.

The victory gives some hope to the South Texas high school football team, which will start next season with losses in the last 40 games.

PREPARE THE TASTE BUDS—Shelia is finishing an order form put in by a customer as Shorty and Terry wait to prepare the mouth-watering pit-cooked barbecue that has made Harvester Pit known throughout the Panhandle as a place to eat.

Happy Wife Means "Joyous Holidays"

Fast service and good food is a proclamation that is hard to beat.

After Christmas shopping Floyd's Kwick Shop 407 N. Cuyler OPEN 7-11 "Your Kwick Food Shopping Headquarters!"

For several hours in the cold of winter, people are chilled and generally in a bad temper. A woman that is in an ill humor is hardly ready to cook a hearty meal. Pampan's need not worry about the lost Christmas spirit as they have the Braddocks at Harvester Pit Bar-B-Q to fall back on. Terry, Jerry and Kay are ready to give the needed friendship and hospitality that can reinstall the yuletide spirit and also fill Pampan's with "the best Barbecue in town." The delicious Bar-B-Q is saturated in a special sauce which is the creation of Kathleen and the late H. L. Braddock. Two special features of Harvester Pit are the fine catering service for parties and picnics and the "Party Room" for wedding rehearsals and company affairs. This special facility seats 120. The catering service includes steaks, sausage, pork chops or custom cooking of any kind. Hours are from 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday through Saturday. Catering is available any day including Sunday. Jerry, Kay and Terry Braddock, along with their staff, Fannie, Nora, Sheila, Nina, Shorty, Pearl and Roselee, invite all out to 1404 N. Banks for Bar-B-Que and friendly surroundings.

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Gov. Louie B. Nunn says new and expanded industry has created 9,000 more jobs in poverty-stricken Eastern Kentucky the past 3½ years.

Tornado Misses Blame

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP) — Civil engineers have issued a final report on the causes of the $135 million in property damages from the Lubbock tornado of May 11, 1970.

Prepared in cooperation with the National Science Foundation, four Texas Tech University engineers said severe damage or total destruction of many structures "could be traced to failure of a structural component which constituted a weak link in the structural system."

The engineers concluded: 1. The storm was intense but disorganized as it formed over the downtown area. It became increasingly better organized and more intense as it moved northeastward from the downtown area. 2. No evidence was observed that would indicate that the highest wind velocity generated near ground level exceeded 200 miles per hour. 3. Most of the damage sustained by structures in Lubbock was caused by winds in the range of 75 to 125 miles per hour. 4. The disorganized pattern of structural damage observed can best be explained by noting variations in the abilities of structures to resist wind forces. This is a more satisfactory explanation than relying on complex meteorological theories which assume dramatically different wind velocities within short distances.

trouble occurs the place to go is Eagle Radiator Shop at 516 W. Foster.

—It is common sense that a specialty shop would do a better job than a regular mechanic shop. Eagle Radiator is a specialty shop.

Don Thompson, owner and operator of Eagle Radiator, is an expert in radiator and heater work. Leon Bullard is a highly trained employee of the shop and together they spell quality work. Eagle Radiator is not limited to just radiator repair alone. They also do work on heaters.

Don't be caught in weather like last week's with a faulty heater, get ready with an Eagle repair job on the old heater.

Eagle Radiator has over 100 used radiators in stock just in case the old one is beyond repair. Also new radiators are available there.

Work is done on radiators for cars, trucks, tractors, oilfield engines—virtually anything that has a radiator on it.

To prove how confident they are in their work, everything they repair or install is fully guaranteed.

The shop has been in operation for over 30 years, so one knows he is paying for experienced work.

Visit Eagle Radiator Shop for the experienced cleaning, repairing and recoring of radiators and heaters at 516 W. Foster if you have repairs in mind or simply a lively conversation with friendly people.

CLIMATE CHANGE

Everyone should have a travel-anywhere outfit. It should be something that will be just right even when traveling from one climate to another. Such as a cardigan sleeveless shirtwaist dress for the warmer weather that comes with a matching jacket that can be put on when you arrive in a colder city.

Gordon's State Farm --All Around Agency

Many people make the mistake of thinking that State Farm Mutual is an auto insurance agency only. It is a mistake. Pampan's can find State Farm Home Owners Policies, disability income policies, life and boat along with many others.

State Farm prides itself on being number one in the sale of Homeowners policies, both in Texas and nationwide. State Farm can give you all the protection you'll probably ever need for your home and its contents and they are paying 10 pct. dividends on eligible Homeowner policies.

What happens when you're offered $16,000 for your $22,400 pile of ashes? You take it if you haven't increased your home insurance to keep pace with inflation.

This is the kind of problem you could face if you bought and insured your home for $16,000 in 1963.

Remember when you bought your house? The real estate man probably told you it was a smart investment, because it would increase in value over the years.

He was right. Inflation has kept pushing up the value of your home along with the cost of replacing it. It hasn't, however, pushed up the value of your home insurance policy. In other words, your home may now be seriously underinsured.

That is why you should contact Harry Gordon your Top O' Texas State Farm agent, and talk to him about the State Farm Homeowners Policy with new inflation coverage. It is a special coverage that increases your home insurance to keep pace with rising costs.

And remember State Farm is paying 10 pct. dividend on eligible Homeowner policies. Like a good neighbor State Farm is there.

State Farm Mutual insures over 12 million automobiles and is the largest auto underwriter in the United States and bringing this closer to home, is the largest in Texas.

Yes, State Farm is still paying big car insurance dividends. Eligible Texas policy holders are now receiving a big 20 pct dividend on expiring six-month policies. One of the many reasons why more Texans insure their cars with State Farm than with any other company.

Why not call on Harry Gordon, your Top O' Texas agent for 24 years? Experience carries a lot of weight in the insurance business and like good neighbors Harry and State Farm are there.

BEING A GOOD NEIGHBOR—Harry Gordon, your Top O' Texas State Farm Mutual Insurance Agent for 24 years, is practicing the company policy of "Like a good neighbor State Farm is there." Drop in on Harry and see what kind of deal he can make you on life, auto or home-owner insurance. You may like the service so well you will take out policies in all three. Many people do.

THE EQUIPMENT AND THE FOLKS—Eagle Radiator is ready to make the worn-out radiator or heater of your automobile ready for use. Satisfaction is guaranteed and that is quite a challenge for a heater repair shop in the winter, but Eagle Radiator is confident they can make it work. It has for 30 years.

Meals Mean Money

WASHINGTON (AP) — It costs about $8,300 to feed a girl from infancy to age 18, and about $8,900 for a boy, according to Agriculture Department estimates.

The department said food costs per child increase as the child grows older. It said the food needs of young boys and girls grow at about the same rate until about 9 years. Then a gap in their eating pattern emerges.

Parents with two elementary school children whose spending for food falls in line with the department's moderate-cost plan are probably spending about $2,100 on food per year, with slightly less than half of this for the children, the department said.

Children are cheaper by the dozen so far as food costs go, a department report says.

In a 6-or-more-person family, you can subtract 10 percent per person as compared to the per-person food costs of a family consisting of a mother, father and two children. Food costs per person in large families are lowered by savings gained through buying.
