

Oil Executive Talks About Goal Of Maintaining Energy Supplies

By MAX B. SKELTON
AP Oil Writer

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The chief executive officer of Sun Oil Co. says effective stimulation of the development of domestic energy resources requires that oil and gas prices be permitted to respond to market forces.

"I am well aware this is a bitter pill to swallow, for higher energy prices have serious implications for current public efforts to achieve other priority goals," says Robert G. Dunlop. The Philadelphia executive acknowledges there is no question but that higher oil and gas prices will make the control of inflation much more difficult in the short run.

"But in the long run there is literally no alternative, if we are serious about the goal of maintaining domestic energy supplies sufficient to meet essential needs in emergencies," Dunlop said.

He added that although higher prices are not a complete solution the real price of crude oil has been declining since 1948 in the face of sharply rising costs.

"Expressed in 1958 dollars, the price was down from $3.27 a barrel in 1948 to $2.35 last year, a reduction of 28 per cent," Dunlop said.

He added that the nation's failure to recognize that capital and cost considerations are at the base of the energy supply problem has led to some very damaging public decision making in the past and could lead to even more harmful decision in the future.

He said federal efforts since 1954 to control interstate natural gas sale prices are an outstanding example of counterproductive interference with the market.

"The substitution of administrative regulation for market forces in gas pricing has severely curtailed the development of new reserves and has led to a grim supply outlook for the future," he said.

National Petroleum Council studies have indicated potential gas demand will rise to 38.9 trillion cubic feet in 1985 while supply declines to 21.5 trillion, leaving a deficit of 17.4 trillion cubic feet.

Dunlop expressed hope future actions by the price commis-

Court Rejects Marriage Plea By Homosexuals

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) —

The Minnesota Supreme Court Friday, rejected a plea by two homosexual men seeking a marriage license, declaring that marriage is a unique male-female arrangement "as old as the book of Genesis."

The court's unanimous ruling rejected the claims by Richard John Baker and James Michael McConnell, both 29, who argued that nothing in state law prohibited a same-sex marriage.

The pair claims to be married anyway, using a license obtained at Mankato, Minn. Their Supreme Court case involved refusal by the Hennepin County clerk to issue a license in May 1970.

Baker is president of the student association at the University of Minnesota. McConnell is a librarian.

In its ruling, the high court said a ban on same-sex marriage does not violate any provision of the U.S. Constitution, as claimed by the two.

"The institution of marriage as a union of man and woman, uniquely involving the procreation and rearing of children within a family,

Texas Railroad Commission Cuts Oil Allowable For Seventh Month

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The

Texas Railroad Commission chipped another seven-tenths of one per cent from the statewide oil allowable today, setting the production factor for November at 62.5 per cent of potential.

It was the seventh consecutive monthly reduction in the allowable. The allowable has been cut 19.6 percentage points since April.

The November allowable will permit maximum production of 3,275,749 barrels a day, compared with 3,305,129 barrels daily this month under a 63.2 per cent factor.

Three of 14 major buyers of Texas crude oil asked for less oil in November than October. II wanted the same amount and none requested more oil next month.

Written nominations of all purchasers totaled 3,069,319 barrels daily in November, a decrease of 62,675 barrels daily from this month.

Continental Oil Co., however, reduced its nomination by 10,000 barrels a day at the commission hearing. The U.S. Bureau of Mines forecast of November demand for Texas crude totaled 3,420,000 barrels a day, an increase of 90,000 from October.

Senate Cuts Military Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — The

Senate Foreign Relations Committee has voted to end all assistance to Pakistan and earmark special funds for Israel while slicing 20 per cent from this year's military assistance program.

The powerful panel, nearing completion of its work on President Nixon's $3.5-billion foreign-aid requests, put off final work on the authorization measure until next week.

The committee voted Thursday to cut U.S. military aid to other nations from $705 million to $565 million from several efforts failed to reduce the military program even further.

Amtrak Makes Little Change Of Management

WASHINGTON (AP) — One year after the birth of Amtrak and five months after the government-supported corporation took responsibility for operating the nation's passenger trains little is changed.

Trains that were good under direct railroad management remain so. Those that were bad are still bad.

Amtrak has spent $125,000 on an emblem, hired 100 office workers, bought 1,200 used railroad cars, let the railroads continue running the trains, and gone deeply into the red.

It is, perhaps, too early to expect much more from an organization that inherited a dying rail-passenger system, and stands to lose somewhere between $110 million and $120 million this year.

But an Associated Press study of Amtrak's structure and on-board inspection of the trains found much evidence to support the views of Amtrak critics:

—The railroads retain ownership of the tracks and give priority to their own freight trains.

On a recent trip the Sunset Limited from Los Angeles to New Orleans sat on sidings a total of four hours to allow freights to pass and spent another hour and 10 minutes pushing a freight which had broken down.

Freedom Newspapers Inc. Head Received By Greek Vice President

Harry Hoiles, president of Freedom Newspapers, Inc., and editor and publisher of the Colorado Springs Gazette Telegraph, was welcomed to Athens on his current trip to Greece by Second Vice President Nikolaos Makarezos of Greece, through the offices of John Michopoulos of Colorado Springs and formerly of Greece.

Makarezos, formerly the Coordination Minister, is credited with being responsible for with being responsible for the economic policies which resulted in the "Economic Miracle" of the economic upsurge in Greece.

Hoiles reported there is a tremendous amount of new building going on now in Greece and considerable foreign investment.

Makarezos was one of the three main figures who created the military takeover of Greece on April 21, 1967, to counter the threat of a leftist takeover. He was a high ranking officer at the time.

Michopoulos, who introduced Hoiles to the Greek official and who showed Mr. and Mrs. Hoiles the sights of Athens, is operator of the Michelle's restaurant in Colorado Springs.

A former Greek Air Force officer, he was a correspondent in the Middle East during World War II and then in Greece during the struggle against communist plotters.

President Sets Up Wage Board, Price Commission

By MIKE WATERS
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon formally created the Pay Board and Price Commission which will carry out his new economic stabilization program once the current wage-price freeze expires.

The White House made public an executive order in which Nixon spelled out the responsibilities of the powerful new bodies.

In addition it released orders by Secretary of the Treasury John B. Connally, acting as chairman of the Cost of Living Council, delegating specific authority from the council to the commission and the board.

Connally wrote: "... The Pay Board, acting through its chairman, shall establish criteria, standards, and implementation procedures designed to stabilize wages and salaries within the general economic stabilization goals and coverage determination developed by the council."

Donald Rumsfeld, presidential counselor and director of the Cost of Living Council, told reporters he expected Nixon to appoint members of the Pay Board and Price Commission "in the next several days."

While the Phase 2 machinery moved closer to reality, AFL-CIO president George Meany was already predicting problems in holding prices down. Scoffing at voluntary price controls, he called for an army of housewives to catch cheaters.

AUSTIN (AP) — The president of the Austin chapter of Zero Population Growth says a recent study of urban growth has persuaded him that Austin already is too big.

The 124-page study of the effects of population growth on a city, released by Zero Population Growth, concluded that "from the taxpayer's point of view," the ideal size for a city is about 100,000 inhabitants, said Austin chapter President Jack Jewett.

Scientist Believes Moon May Have Liquid Water

By PAUL RECER
AP, Aerospace Writer

HOUSTON (AP) — A scientific instrument left on the moon by Apollo astronauts has detected evidence of subsurface pools of water, a Rice University scientist said Friday.

Dr. John W. Freeman, a space scientist at Rice and a principal investigator for an Apollo lunar instrument, said in a news conference, "There is a new possibility of liquid water somewhere on the moon."

Freeman said his experiments, called the supra-thermal ion detector, have discovered evidence of water vapor, which the scientist said apparently is venting from an underground source.

Freeman said the instrument measures the quantity and type of gases which occur around the lunar surface.

On March 7, he said, the Apollo 12 and Apollo 14 ion detector instruments reported data which indicated the presence of water vapor which Freeman characterized as something like steam.

"We have found water vapor we believe to be from natural sources," he said. The scientist added that the vent source of the vapor cannot be determined and that it could come from any point on the moon.

Freeman's findings are opposite to the reports of geologists who have studied rocks brought from the moon. A number of geologists have said that the chemistry of lunar rocks which have been studied does not indicate that there is any water on the moon.

Former Dropout

WACO, Tex. (AP) — Dr. Zack Bobo Jr., an Arlington physician, is a self-taught pharmacist. He was a "dropout" at Baylor University, then became one of its most successful graduates.

He played on a championship Baylor soccer team, was a football substitute and was "benched" by the baseball coach for hitting a home run. Despite a lifetime in medicine, he's never gotten far from the farm. He says he is tight in money matters yet he has just presented Baylor with a sizeable tract of some of the most valuable land in the booming Fort Worth-Dallas metropolitan complex.

Baylor will sell the land and use the income of the proceeds for the "Dr. and Mrs. Zack Bobo Jr. Scholarship Fund." It will provide full scholarships for deserving students from Arlington, Mansfield (Mrs. Bobo's birthplace) and Rhame, the Wise County town where Bobo was born.

We were surprised by one of our Pampa servicemen coming to see us. S-Sgt. Otto L. Johnson is stationed in Honolulu and was here visiting his father and mother with his wife and three children. We are always glad to see our servicemen and hear of their progress in the service.

Floyd Sackett, youth chairman, urged all schools who were not at the Principal-Teacher-Sponsor breakfast Oct. 6 to come by the Red Cross office and get supplies for enrollment. Enrollment week will be Nov. 8 through 12.

Mrs. Don George, chapter chairman presided and reports from standing committees were given. Mrs. Neil Carter, water safety instructor, was given a patch for completing her 50 mile swim. Mrs. Marlar was monitor for Mrs. Ruth Carter and for Mrs. Neil Carter. She told the board this program was only 10 years old in red Cross and was good for moral and physical purposes as the persons would swim 1/4 of a mile at each time. These girls have been swimming only 5 months to complete their 50 miles swim.

Mrs. George told board members of the mother and baby care class completed last week with Mrs. Travis Winegart teaching. Ten couples completed the course.

John S. Skelly urged the board to each member pay their part to the Pampa United Fund. Skelly told of the work of Red Cross with the use of such funds.

Ray Fisher, first aid chairman, told the board that next month the board would be shown a film strip of "Breath of Life" and urged all members to be present.

Miss Leila Clifford urged all hospital volunteers to attend the coffee Saturday morning at First United Methodist Church parlor in the educational building. Mrs. James Trusty,

To Free Ours Sons and Daughters from the Children of God Organization.

Children of God, sometimes called "Jesus freaks," form colonies, live cooperatively, and spend much of their time in singing and praying. The movement has spread over much of the nation.

Louis Ingersoll, known by the biblical name of Abel, countered the pickets in a Dallas interview by claiming the parents' charges are slanderous.

Ingersoll said the children of the parents who picketed the federal building will be flown to Dallas so they can give their version.

"Some parents have given us a lot of trouble," Ingersoll said. "They just don't understand what their child is doing. Young people want to live by the Bible and parents can't understand that."

Ingersoll claimed to have photographs showing parents "dragging their daughter to their car." He also accused one parent of "kidnapping and drugging" a daughter to get her away from the children of God.

Rambur said he "lost" his daughter, Kay, 22, to the Children of God last July.

When he found where she was, he went to the sect's ranch at Mingsus, Tex., midway between Abilene and Fort Worth and talked with her.

She agreed to return home, he said, but when he drove his car to the gate, sect members locked it in his face and the girl started screaming: "If I go out that gate, I'll die."

Rambur said his daughter stayed and, so far as he knows, is now in New York.

"I don't know what hold they have on the kids," he said of the Children of God leaders. "I believe it's some kind of mass hypnosis or witchcraft."

A Dallas oil company executive, who asked not be identified, said his 20-year-old daughter joined the sect in March. He was unable to find out where she is now.

He charged that the Children of God use "Chinese brainwashing tactics and ... Mass hypnosis."

Rambur called the Children of God "a $1 million racket." He said his organization of parents had "exposed" it in California and intended to do the same in Texas.

He alleged that disciples of the Children of God are "kidnaped, hypnotized, drugged and taught to overthrow the government and organized religion."

A press release signed by Mrs. Ida Mallak, chairman of the committee, says the Children of God frequent beaches and college campuses in search of recruits who are mostly from middle and upper class families.

After some hymn singing to guitar accompaniment, there is what Mrs. Mallak calls "very unique eye usage."

"Some type of hypnotic state takes place and the youth automatically deserts all-home, family, car, friends etc.—and is carried off in a bus or van to a place where they undergo extensive brainwashing sessions," the release states.

"The youth are taught to hate their parents, schools, churches and the government."

"They are kept behind locked doors in a slave-like atmosphere and the place is guarded at all times. The youth are told if they leave the building they will die."

Parents who have located and visited their children say they have "a zombie-like appearance and talk as if reciting from memory some text learned," the release alleges.

Most of the Children of God remaining in Texas are believed now concentrated in Houston, although there is a community of about 150 persons in Dallas.

Until the beginning of this month a colony of 400 lived at the Texas Soul Clinic on a 400-acre ranch at Mingsus, near Thubert in West Texas.

They were evicted on orders of the Rev. J. Fred Jordan, a Los Angeles television producer who owned the place, and most went to San Diego or Seattle.

Open Weather Accelerates Harvest In Much Of Texas

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — With open weather and improved field conditions, harvest moved at an accelerated pace in much of Texas last week, reports Dr. John E. Hutchison, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Combines started work in grain sorghum fields on the High Plains. Farmers reported yield prospects good. Soybean harvesting also got underway. The cotton crop is now making good progress.

Small grain planting continues with excellent moisture conditions in most areas, noted Hutchison. Early planted grain and fall pastures and ranges are providing excellent grazing. Armyworms are continuing to damage some of the early small grain crop.

Pecans are maturing and beginning to fill in eastern portions, with yield prospects ranging from light to good. The peanut harvest is progressing well in most areas with average to good yields expected.

District agricultural agents report the following conditions in their respective districts:

PANHANDLE: Soil moisture is generally adequate over the entire area. Although some wheat had to be replanted, most wheat seeding is about complete. The grain sorghum harvest is getting under way while the corn harvest continues. Onions, carrots and lettuce are being harvested in Parmer and Deaf Smith counties.

SOUTH PLAINS: Recent warm, sunny weather is boosting the cotton crop with some early fields beginning to open. Some boll rot is present in rank cotton in southern portions. The grain sorghum harvest is getting into full swing as fields dry. Some soybean harvesting is also in progress. Small grains are making excellent progress with early planting still under way.

ROLLING PLAINS: Rains continued to fall over much of the district, dumping up to four inches of moisture. Field work is still hampered by wetness in some counties. Some cotton is being harvested and boll weevil and boll worm damage continues to be heavy. Small grain planting is about 64 percent completed with army worms present in much of the early crop. Some spraying is in progress. The peanut harvest is starting in Motley and Stonewall counties.

NORTH CENTRAL: Open weather has brought the cotton harvest back into full swing in most parts of the district. Some low spots in fields are still too wet to harvest. Small grain planting continues as weather permits. Pastures, ranges and livestock are in good condition and stock water is plentiful.

NORTHEAST: Wheat and oats are making good progress but armyworms continue to be active and causing some damage. Sorghums are being harvested for silage and some peanut harvesting is under way. The sweet potato harvest continues in full swing. Fall gardens are progressing well with some planting still being done. Mature pecans are falling and the crop looks good. Pastures and ranges are in good condition and are furnishing adequate grazing. Livestock are fat and marketing have increased the past week.

FAR WEST: Cool, wet weather has slowed the maturity of cotton and grain sorghum. Some cotton harvesting is under way. Ranges continue to improve due to excellent soil moisture conditions and small grains are making rapid growth. Fall calving is beginning and ranchers continue to ship calves and lambs to market.

WEST CENTRAL: Rains of up to four inches fell over the district, hampering the peanut maturity. The cotton is growing and late in fruiting and is being damaged by boll weevils. Consequently, low yields are in prospect. Early planted small grains are making good progress but wet fields have delayed further planting. Most ranges are putting on lush growth and are providing excellent grazing.

CENTRAL: Recent rains continued to be unfavorable to both the cotton and peanut crops. 75 per cent harvested in the Blackland counties while 10 to 30 per cent of the peanut crop is in-

Extended rainy weather has peanut crop with damage resulting from pod rot, southern blight and leaf spot. Most small grains are making good progress except for some damage from armyworms.

EAST: Small grain planting continues with the early planted crop receiving considerable armyworm damage. Peanuts being harvested with the crop being of good quality. Some fall gardens are in production while others are still being planted. Maturing pecans continue to fall. Stock water is still low in many parts of the district and pastures and ranges continue in average condition. The calf market is strong.

SOUTHEAST AND UPPER GULF COAST: Recent rains have lowered cotton quality and have delayed harvest. From 70 to 100 per cent of the crop is in while the corn crop is from 40 to 100 per cent harvested. The grain sorghum harvest is complete. Some soybean harvesting is beginning but dry weather is needed to mature the crop. Cutting of the second rice crop is now in progress. Armyworms are attacking some small grain and mosquitoes are attacking livestock.

SOUTH CENTRAL: Dry weather is generally needed to complete harvest operations. Cotton harvest ranges from 30 to 100 per cent complete and the corn crop is 75 to 100 per cent harvested. The peanut harvest is complete in some counties with yields fair to good. Some pecans are being harvested with light yields. Small grain planting has been delayed by wet fields. Armyworms are infesting some of the early planted crops as well as pastures.

SOUTHWEST: Rainfall ranged from three to six inches the past week, leaving soil moisture adequate to surplus over most of the district. Harvesting of corn and grain sorghum is nearing completion while the harvesting of cucumbers and bell peppers is getting underway in several counties. Dry weather is needed to plant small grains and to harvest the fall peanut crop.

SOUTH: Showers continued to contribute to the already surplus soil moisture condition. Many fields of fall vegetables were lost or damaged from recent heavy rains. Citrus are in good condition and are sizing fruit well. Pastures are making good growth but armyworms are widespread and causing some damage. Mosquitoes infestations are heavy and continue to be a nuisance to livestock and people.

NEW YORK (AP) — With the first World Series night game in history occupying NBC's prime time Wednesday it might have been an occasion for the other two networks to slip in some repeats.

Along with the "Miss America Pageant," Bob Hope's Christmas show and the Super Bowl football game, baseball's daytime World Series games on weekends are inevitably the most popular programs of the year. Now, with a night game, the fourth Pittsburgh-Baltimore confrontation should rack up dramatic Nielsen ratings. They may have NBC saying wait till next year when all weekday World Series games will be played after dark.

As the Pirates were winning 4-3 and catching up with the Orioles in games 2-2, there was time to note that the artificial lighting resulted in better-defined television pictures than those lit by daylight during the other three games.

Viewers who did steal away from baseball found that "The Carol Burnett Show" having one of its better outings.

Anyone Interested In Singing Urged To Form Quartet

For more than 20 years there has been an Amarillo Chapter of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America, Inc. (S.P.E.B.S.Q.S.A.). Yet area-wide participation has never developed as it has in other states and districts.

On Friday, Oct. 22, at 7:30 p.m. in the new Amarillo National Bank Building basement, every Panhandle community will have the opportunity of helping to organize a new male chorus. It will feature 4-part, unaccompanied harmony. A pitchpipe is the only "instrument" needed.

Richard Ochs of Amarillo, one of the organizers, said anyone interested could find three other men to form a quartet (tenor, lead or melody, baritone, bass), form a car pool and use driving time to practice their songs in "close" harmony. However, a quartet is not a requirement and any man who loves to sing is invited to the Oct. 22 meeting. Additional information may be obtained by contacting Richard Ochs, 3927 Kileen, Amarillo.

Profiles Of Prospective Nominees For Supreme Court's 2 Vacancies

WASHINGTON (AP) — Here are thumbnail sketches of the six persons President Nixon has asked the American Bar Association to investigate as prospects for the two nominations to the Supreme Court he will submit to the Senate next week.

Mildred Loree Lillie
A native of Ida Grove, Iowa, and a 1938 law graduate of the University of California at Berkeley, Mildred Loree Lillie is a state court of appeals judge for the 2nd Appellate District in Southern California.

She was appointed an assistant U.S. attorney in 1942, then later won appointments to Municipal Court, to the California Superior Court and as presiding judge of the Domestic Relations Court of Los Angeles, the first woman to hold the post.

Her first husband, Cameron Lillie, died and Judge Lillie, 56, is now married to A. V. Falcone, a lawyer. They live near Beverly Hills, Calif. She has no children.

Charles Clark
President Nixon named Charles Clark, 46, to the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals two years ago. A native of Jackson, Miss., Clark served as a naval officer in both World War II and the Korean War and practiced law in Jackson for 15 years prior to his judicial appointment.

He first gained prominence in 1962 when as a state attorney he defended Gov. Ross Barnett against federal contempt charges arising from the state's fight to keep James Meredith from enrolling as the first Negro student at the University of Mississippi.

Married to the former Emily Russell of Jackson and the father of seven children, Clark is considered a racial moderate by civil rights attorneys in Mississippi.

Herschel H. Friday
A Little Rock, Ark., attorney, Herschel H. Friday has represented the Little Rock school board since the 1957 school segregation crisis, arguing the city's position before the Supreme Court on a number of occasions.

When the Supreme Court handed prayers in public schools, Friday advised the school board to adhere to the decision, which he said was constitutionally correct.

Considered a moderate on school integration, the Lockesburg, Ark., native holds a law degree from the University of Arkansas. Friday, 49, is married to the former Nancy Elizabeth Hammett. They have two sons and a daughter.

Judge Sylvia Bacon was appointed seven months ago to the Superior Court of the District of Columbia. She is considered a strong advocate of law and order, with a legal background primarily in criminal prosecution.

A graduate of the Harvard Law School, she helped write the District of Columbia's crime bill—with its "no knock" search and preventive detention provisions—as an aide in the Justice Department.

A former assistant U.S. attorney, she recently urged that courts call a moratorium on hearing civil cases in order to clear court calendars of criminal cases. A native of Watertown, S.D., Judge Bacon is 40.

Robert C. Byrd
Robert C. Byrd, Democratic majority whip in the U.S. Senate, is a member of the Senate Judiciary Committee, which must pass on President Nixon's appointees to the Supreme Court.

The West Virginia Democrat, a native of North Wilkesboro, N.C., voted for the two Nixon appointees to the Supreme Court rejected by the Senate, Judges Clement F. Haynsworth Jr. and G. Harrold Carswell.

Byrd, 53, obtained a law degree from American University but never practiced law. He was once an organizer for the Ku Klux Klan but later denounced the organization. Considered a conservative, he is married and has two daughters.

Paul H. Roney
A resident of St. Petersburg, Fla., since 1925, Paul H. Roney was appointed as a judge on the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in November 1970 by President Nixon.

A graduate of Harvard Law School and former president of the St. Petersburg Council on Human Relations, Roney is the founder of the law firm of Roney, Umer, Woodworth and Jacobs.

He has argued for judicial reform, saying a system created 200 years ago for 12 states and 2 million people is now inadequate for a nation of 50 states and 200 million people. Roney, 50, is married and the father of three children.

Last Week In Business

By DAVID BURKE
AP Business Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Organized labor threw its support behind phase 2 of President Nixon's economic program the past week but Treasury Secretary John Connally said he still saw signs of uneasiness in the public.

The AFL-CIO and other labor groups said they would cooperate with the program after Nixon promised autonomy to the pay board that will be handling proposed wage increases.

When Phase 2 was first announced, administration officials had indicated that pay board decisions would be subject to veto by the Cost of Living Council to be composed of government officials.

Connally said he was "struck by a basic lack of confidence—a basic spirit of gloom" about the U.S. being on the verge of economic protectionism.

Regarding domestic wage-price controls, Connally complained that too many people "immediately raise a specter" because they don't know every single answer.

On the stock market, prices fell most of the week. Analysts attributed the downturn to investor uneasiness over Phase 2. The economy began to feel the spreading effects of the coal and dock strikes as thousands of railroad workers were laid off. Rail officials said more furloughs were likely if the two walkouts, entering their third week, dragged out.

In other labor news, the government reported that unemployment rose 1.1 per cent to 6.7 per cent last month from the previous month. Connally called the jobless rate "still too high" and said that Nixon's economic program would provide up to a million more jobs.

Advocates of the economic front, like the corporate earnings reports started to appear, saving the picture a far better sized. Washington Electric Corp., for example, reported a record $44.4 million for the period, up 51 per cent from strike-depressed results of a year earlier.

Eastman Kodak Co. reported a 9 per cent jump in net to $125.7 million, compared with $115.4 million a year earlier.

However, RCA posted a $21.1 million loss, deciding to swallow in one single quarter the entire cost of backing out of the computer business. It wrote off a net of some $250 million from third quarter earnings, in what was probably the largest write-off ever taken by a corporation.

People In The News

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — A total of 181,821 women—most of them white, under the age of 25 and residents of another state—obtained abortions in New York during the first year of the state's liberalized abortion law.

Three out of four of these abortions were performed during the woman's first three months of pregnancy.

And it appeared that more unmarried than married women had abortions, although complete data could not be provided, the state Health Department reported Thursday in its "tentative conclusions" about induced abortions between July 1, 1970, and June 30, 1971.

The department said 98,064 of two abortions were performed on women who live outside the state. They came from all the contiguous 48 states except Utah and New Mexico.

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Gov. Jimmy Carter says school board members who are loyal to private schools have almost destroyed the public education system in several counties.

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

When Martha died, Mrs. Crane sent flowers! For we should never strip idealism from our greatest Graduation Ceremony here on Earth, which is death. Beware of atheistic materialism that imitates Judas, who focussed on bellies instead of souls! Jesus said, "Man does not live by bread alone." Flowers are thus soul food!

CASE R-590: Martha M., aged 59, recently passed away.

She had been a bulwark of the village in which she lived, for she taught a teen-age Sunday School class for 30 years.

Mrs. Crane and I had known her all this time and had admired her splendid moral influence on youth.

But her New York City son had run a notice in the local newspaper for friends to "Please Omit Flowers."

Instead, he urged that such money be given to the Cancer Society.

Mrs. Crane and I sent our flowers!

For the Cancer Society raises about $40 million annually, yet cancer still slays 1,000 every day in the U.S.A.

And most people seldom give money to the Cancer Funds even if they are urged not to send funeral flowers.

Remember, flowers render a spiritual influence on the living, so they should NEVER be omitted from funerals!

"Flowers," said Henry Ward Beecher, "are the sweetest things God ever made and forgot to put a soul into."

They thus serve as fragrant non-verbal expressions of deep sympathy.

Like a squeeze of the hand or a pat on the shoulder of the grieving relatives, flowers belong in that unique realm of human communication that doesn't depend on spoken language.

"But, Dr. Crane," many people will exclaim, "isn't it a financial waste to squander money on floral wreaths and cut flowers for a funeral?"

"The departed loved ones can't see or smell them, anyway, so why not salvage that money for the poor?"

Judas Iscariot said this same thing to Jesus when the expensive ointment was poured over Him.

And Jesus tartly scolded Judas, saying:

"The poor ye have with you always."

Then Christ mentioned that the woman's fragrant sacrifice would be mentioned to her credit till the end of time!

Besides, why grumble so much about $10 for flowers? You cigarette addicts squander more than that amount every month on your fags!

And they produce cancer, emphysema, coronary attacks and strokes of apoplexy, thus shortening your lives by 5 to 7 years!

Besides, how do you know the departed loved ones can't see those flowers?

Muscular Dystrophy March Set Monday Here And Across Nation

MUSCULAR DYSTROPHY 2-36

One of the largest volunteer armies ever assembled will move against a common enemy at Pampa and thousands of other communities* across America. The enemy is muscular dystrophy — a crippling, often fatal disease, which affects more than 250,000 Americans, most of them children.

Mrs. Joe Miller, 415 N. Sumner, campaign chairman for the 1971 March Against Muscular Dystrophy, announced that more than 200 volunteers will be participating in the door-to-door effort here scheduled Monday night.

Funds raised by the March will be used to support patient and community service programs and worldwide research program sponsored by MDAA which sponsors research projects in 12 countries on four continents as well as throughout the U.S. Mrs. Miller noted. Wherever promising scientific investigation involving dystrophy or any of the related neuromuscular disorders with which the Association is concerned is being conducted, it stands ready to support it.

The Association also provides a wide range of vital services to its patients. It provides — at no cost — orthopedic devices such as wheelchairs, braces, crutches; transportation to and from schools and medical appointments; and summer camps and other recreational activities.

At each unit of MDAA's nationwide network of 95 clinics, patients receive, free of charge, diagnostic and follow-up examinations, physical therapy, genetic and social service counseling and flu shots.

Eight patients in the Pampa area are served by the MDAA-sponsored clinic at Lubbock.

Texas Christian Raps Texas A&M 14 To 3

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Bill Sadler, who looked for a couple of plays like the goat of the year, smashed over for two Texas Christian touchdowns in the second quarter Saturday to break the game open as TCU beat Texas A&M 14-3.

Sophomore Sadler fumbled the ball away on the Texas Christian 30, then lost it to the Aggies on the A&M seven when the Frogs seemed headed for a sure score.

The next time TCU had the ball the 197-lb Houston halfback crunched over right tackle for six yards and his first varsity touchdown.

On the Horned Frogs' next possession, Sadler took a pitch out from Steve Judy operating TCU's Wishbone-T, and scattered to his right for a seven-yard touchdown with only eight seconds remaining in the half.

Southern Methodist Soaks Rice 16 To 10 In Houston

HOUSTON (AP) — Sophomore halfback Avlin Maxson ran 46 yards for one touchdown and Pat Curry returned a punt 54 yards for another Saturday night to carry Southern Methodist to a 16-10 Southwest Conference football victory over Rice in a mistake-filled contest.

Curry snagged a Mark Williams punt in the first quarter, broke to the outside and raced down the sideline to give the Mustangs a 7-3 halftime lead.

Rice's only scoring in the first half was a 22-yard field goal by Williams with three seconds left in the half.

Rice linebacker John Kelly helped the Owls take their only lead in the game early in the third quarter when he intercepted a pass from Gary Hammond and returned it 28 yards. A 15-yard penalty put the ball at the SMU 27.

Texas Tech Smacks Boston College 14-6

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP) — Texas Tech shrugged off a stormy dispute between coach and fan and shaded Boston College 14-6 Saturday night in an inter-sectional football duel.

Charley Napper and Joe Barnes, key figures in a boozing incident that ignited a weeklong controversy, drew lusty applause as the Red Raiders severed the Eagles' winning streak at four.

quarterback, shared the limelight with teammate Marc Dove, whose 19-yard punt return set up Barnes' scoring run.

The Eagles rode Rap Rippman's passing and the sledge hammer running of Tom Bougus to their lone touchdown, which came on a five-yard gallop by Bougus with 3:51 left in the game.

Napper guided the Raiders 35 yards for a touchdown late in the first half and Barnes streaked 26 yards to score in the final period.

Miles Langehenning scored the first Tech touchdown from the one after Napper hunched Tech into position with passes of seven and nine yards to Harry Case and a 12-yarder to Doug McCutchen.

Napper, a senior, and Barnes, his sophomore understudy at

Under the coaching of Bob Langford and staff, the McLean Tigers mauled the Claude Mustangs with the first 1971 Tiger shut-out, 34-0.

Ronnie Brown was the first to score as in the first quarter he sprinted 16 yards to pay dirt.

Brown tasted pay dirt once again in the second quarter from 20 yards. George Danner showed up with an intercepted pass and a 55 yard touchdown.

In the third period of play George Danner displayed his talents once again as he danced through enemy territory for a 60-yard score.

Tommy Donovan placed his mark in the game in the late half of the third period of play with a two-yard run. Only two of the extra point conversion attempts were made good and the score settled to a sleek 34-0.

Irish Open Play With Decisive 49 To 30 Victory

By JOYCE GRAGG Shamrock Sports Writer

The fighting Irish from Shamrock defeated the Wellington Skyrockets 49 to 30 in a conference opener Friday night in Shamrock.

The game opened with Lynn Ramsey taking a Skyrocket kickoff on the 20 and running back to the Irish 30 for a ten yard gain. On the first play from scrimmage Wellington recovered a fumble and punched it over six plays later to draw first blood. Three minutes had passed when the Rockets scored.

It took Shamrock only a minute and a half after the six play mark to equal the score on a 40 yard pass play from Lynn Ramsey to Randy Reeder, senior end, setting up a TD.

Sophomore Ronnie Gragg carried the ball for the Irish to the Wellington 10. Gragg kept up the momentum by going in on a 10 yard pass play from Ramsey. Tarbett belted the extra point to make the score 7-6.

After that it was Green all the way with Gragg going in for two TD's in the second quarter. A 29 sweep around left end and a 46 yard run up the middle. Tarbett attempted both extra points. Ramsey and Reeder teamed up for a 25 and an 18 yard TD pass combination.

At half-time the Irish led 41 to 14. In the third quarter Wellington placed another mark on the board on a 10 yard run by Danny Carter. The Irish had opened the quarter with a 6 yard TD pass play from Ramsey to Reeder.

The remaining scores were made against the Shamrock B-squad by the Skyrockets.

The last Shamrock score of the game came on a run up the middle with Ramsey hitting Gragg for the two point conversion.

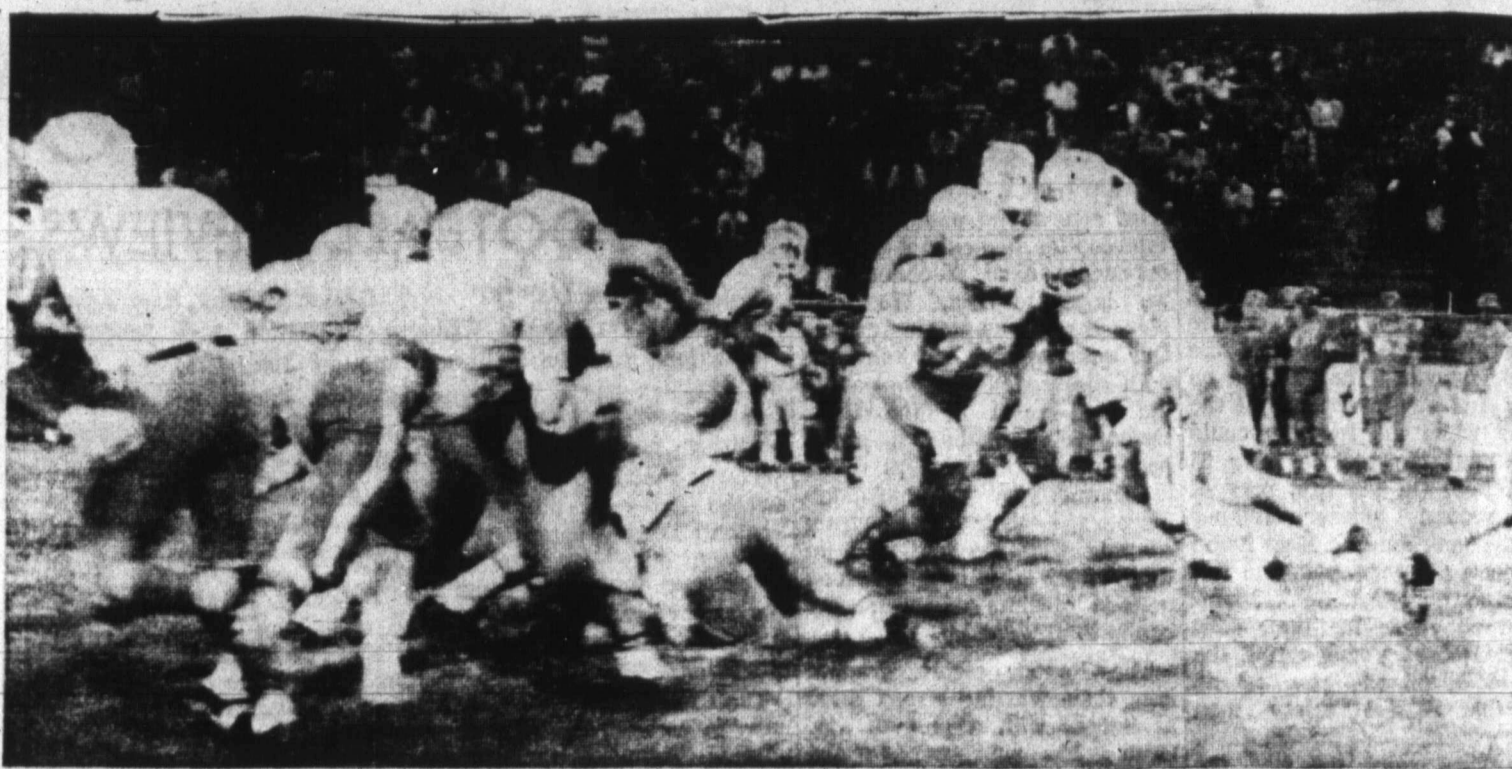

Ramsey completed 9 of 13 passes for the night with Gragg having 169 yards in 11 carries. The Irish defense was led by Paul Brashars and Roy Cantrell, middle guard and defensive end.

lot better compared to the last few games," said head coach Bob Langford as he went on to say, "Also, the running game showed considerable improvement."

A few of the outstanding players named by Langford were Tony Henley, sophomore fullback, George Danner junior fullback, Joe Riley sophomore split end, Tommy Donovan senior quarterback, and Ronnie Brown halfback.

"We had to throw more than we had expected because of their defense," commented Langford.

Next week the Tigers will challenge the Silverton team in an expected hard-fought battle, as Langford said, "Memphis beat them pretty badly, but it is not wise to underestimate them. Marvin Self is a big, strong boy and can perform well out of the wishbone T."

Jetster Crashes Killing Three At IHRA Drag Races In Dallas

LEWISVILLE, Tex. (AP) — A television newsman and two employees of the International Hot Rod Association died Saturday when a car that had just reached a speed of 296 miles per hour veered through a guard rail after blowing a tire.

Ar Arfons, driver of the jet-engine vehicle, was reported uninjured. He was taken to a hospital for observation.

Killed were Gene Thomas, 30, host of a news and variety show on WFAA-TV, Dallas; Robert John Kelsey, 20; of Tyler and Sean Tense of Farmers Branch. Kelsey and Tense were employed by the IHRA.

The accident occurred at Dallas International Speedway here, about 21 miles north of Dallas.

Thomas, whose real name was Thomas Eugene Allred, was riding with Arfons in order to do a feature for his morning variety show. He was sitting opposite the driver on one side of the engine.

Other newsmen from the television station said Arfons was taking the car on a demonstration run in which the car reached a speed of 296 miles per hour.

Although there were several thousand spectators, none was in the area where the car went through the rail.

Bill Dale of Bristol, Tenn., a spokesman for the IHRA, said Arfons was "almost through the quarter mile and started slowing down."

"It looked as though when he pulled the chute, the left rear tire blew. It looked like it all happened at the same time. There was a car fire," Dale continued, "but there was no explosion."

The car came to rest in a ditch. Named the Super Cyclops, the vehicle was driven to a new land speed record of 293.15 m.p.h. two weeks ago at Lakeland, Fla.

Arfons was slated to attempt 300 m.p.h. at the Dallas speedway and then retire from dragster racing, Dale said. Denton County Sheriff Sam Voss said immediately after the accident that Arfons "was up and walking."

"I don't know how, but he is," said Dale.

Miami Has Open Date Til Friday

The Miami Warriors sweated through an open date this last week, and began preparation for Tarpin Oklahoma's squad, which will be played next Saturday night.

"I feel really confident in our ability to win. I believe we can play with bigger people, in fact we have been," commented Miami head coach Harold McCreary, as he went on to say, "I think we have a pretty good chance at district, maybe even State."

"Tarpin has a tough team though, and we will have our hands full," continued McCreary, as he said, "They have only been beaten once by Walsh Colorado."

Arfons was slotted to attempt 300 m.p.h. at the Dallas speedway and then retire from dragster racing, Dale said. Denton County Sheriff Sam Voss said immediately after the accident that Arfons "was up and walking."

"I don't know how, but he is," said Dale.

Canadian Wildcats Romp Past Stratford

The Canadian Wildcats continue their winning ways after defeating Stratford 29 to nothing.

Archie Trimble balanced the Wildcat attack by jumping in and scoring the first two Canadian marks. Another score was called back due to an illegal procedure penalty but this didn't seem to bother the Cats as they tallied 21 first downs, against the weaker Stratford team's six.

In the second half a fumble recovery by the Wildcats set up another TD. In the next series of plays Canadian held Stratford and Steve Carter booted a 42-yard field goal to give the Canadian team a greater edge.

A touchdown in the third period came off the running of Carter. A safety by Mack Purcell and Russell Ashley was the big event of the 29-0 stomping as the Canadian men caught the Stratford quarterback in his own end zone.

The final Canadian score came on a 31-yard run by Larry Booker. According to coach Jack Hawthorne, "We need to improve on our consistency. We are looking to a spotty season by this I mean we play in spots well and other times, WELL?"

Canadian will be meeting Gruver this coming Friday in what promises to be a real tough battle.

REBELS — The Tascosa Rebels latched the Palo Duro Dons 7-0 in a Saturday game at Dick Bevins Stadium.

LWG CHAMP — Anst Holier of Opelousas, a physical education teacher, is Louisiana Women's Golf champion for the third time.

I recall one particular incident where after the girls had vainly tried to quell the boozing, a man directly behind me (incidentally - a 'civic' leader in this town and quite active in his church and civic club), was being unduly loud.

I finally sharply reminded him of the girls' request only to have him tell me, in no gentlemanly way that he had paid for that seat that night and he could do as he pleased!

However, in time he and his friend moved to another section. Later I was told by the other man that they had to move - THE YELLER! was so mad he wanted to slap me!

I also recall a football incident where one man after boozing, yelled "Come On, Girls!" He hushed finally after I offered to go to the field and present him and men of his choosing to play in place of our Harvesters. Funny he, too, moved.

SPORT EDITOR: It may well be time to confront the sports of Pampa that a technical foul can be assessed the home team if crowd activity becomes uncontrollable. Also, any foul language or boozing as mentioned in Mrs. Wells letter can result in the same penalty.

If any one person cannot control themselves in public they should be banned from public entertainment. Especially where the youth of Pampa are concerned. Poor sportsmanship is like worn out shoes...very few people have uses for them!

PAMPA DAILY NEWS: Hooray! At last an article against boozing in Pampa (and Elsewhere). I've fought this for years. I've lost count of the times I've sat at basketball games here watching the lovely little cheer leaders doing their best to hush the boozing. The trouble was - it wasn't the kids out the Dumas safety man to turn Beck loose for the dash. The extra point try was not successful, leaving the score 12 to 6. Following a punt, the Reapers put another score on the board with a pass play. Halfback Billy Wilton found split end Robert Young all alone in the end zone and hit him with a 25 yard scoring strike. The Reapers attempted to pass for the 2 point conversion, but failed. With the score tied, disaster struck the Reapers on the kick-off. The Dumas Imps returned the ball 75 yards up the right sideline for a score. The extra point failed, leaving Dumas in front by 18 to 12.

With time running out in the half, Reaper quarterback Mike Taylor sprinted out to pass, found no receivers, and ran 43 yards through a broken field for the Reapers third touchdown of the second period. The extra point attempt by Mark Baird was good and the Reapers led at the half by 19 to 18.

Reaper eighth grade coach Floyd Hood was moderately happy with his team's play. "For the first time this year we got our offense untracked early in the game. Until now, our defense has been holding our opponents off while our offense got going. Today our offense got moving early while the defense played only fair."

Reaper coach Don Drinnon commented about the game: "We played a very inconsistent game against Dumas. We were good in spots and poor in others. Our offense put three touchdowns on the board, but we gave up a touchdown on a punt return and another on an interception. We cannot give our opponents easy touchdowns if we hope to win. We were pleased with our passing attack. Our quarterbacks and halfbacks both threw well and we caught the ball most of the time."

PRO FOOTBALL PREVIEWS

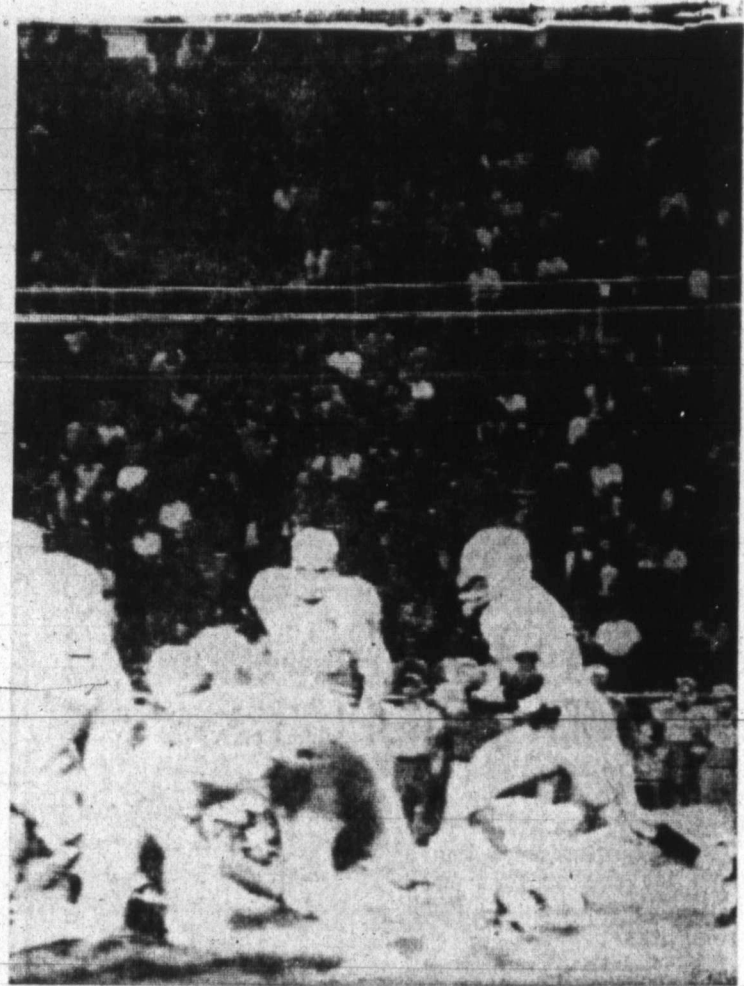

By BRUCE LOWITT
Associated Press Sports Writer

How long will the Baltimore Colts stand? Those questions could be answered today as the National Football League enters its fifth weekend with the Baltimore Colts—New York Giants and St. Louis Cardinals—Washington Redskins games as the prime attractions.

The Colts haven't been scored upon in six quarters and haven't allowed a touchdown in eight. In fact, they've permitted a measly 17 points through four games—two of them shutouts. At the same time, they've rolled up 101 points, tied with Oakland for the top output in the American Conference. Now they visit the erratic Giants, who have allowed more points—110 than nearly anyone else in the NFC and have lost vital cogs in their attack due to injuries to running backs Ron Johnson and Tucker Fredrickson.

The 'Skins, meanwhile, are riding high in the NFC East, having won their first four games to equal the start they made in the 1943 season. Now they've set their sights on the seven in a row they captured at the outset of the 1940 season, when they made it to the NFL championship game. But they'll be facing a tenacious pack of Cards, aiming to avenge their 24-17 opening-game loss to Washington. With the exception of a slight thigh injury to St. Louis running back MacArthur Lane, which will not keep him out of the game, both teams are virtually injury-free.

The Bills and Jets are at the bottom of the AFC in both offense and defense. New York will be starting three-string quarterback Bob Davis in place of Al Woodall in an attempt to wake up its passing game. Buffalo will be trying to score for the first time in three games. The Cowboys, with Calvin Hill out due to a knee injury, will start Walt Garrison and Duane Thomas at the running back spots against the Saints who will probably go with Archie Manning at quarterback despite elbow and ankle problems. Edd Hargett is their backup passer. The Patriots and Dolphins are battling for second place in the AFC East behind the Colts. It figures to be a passing duel between New England's Jim Plunkett and Miami's Bob Griese.

B&PW Club Schedules Events For Business Woman's Week

Pampa Business and Professional Women's Club, Inc., celebrates National Business Women's week beginning today through Saturday.

A full week of activities have been planned, according to the chairman, Mrs. L.B. Robertson.

National Business Women's week was first celebrated in April 1928 with the announced purpose of dramatizing the contribution of women to the business and professional life of the country.

Past National President Lena Madess Phillips wrote for this celebration, "Business Women's Week should strike a response from the heart and effort of every loyal Federation member — Here is a chance to reveal and interpret the values of our club life and work to our neighbors, indeed to all the citizens of our community."

From these early efforts, National Business Women's Week has grown to be a nationwide recognition of business and professional women's contribution as citizens today and of the leadership they are providing in the economic, social, cultural, business and professional life in the United States, Mrs. Robertson said.

Now held during the third full week in October, it is an outstanding public relations event, a stimulus to program interpretation, an aid to membership progress, she pointed out.

One of the highlights of the week for the local club is recognition of the Woman of the Year, a selection made by all members of the club.

The weeks program includes Sunday attending church in a group at the Mary Ellen and Harvester Church of Christ; Monday, Radio program; Tuesday, salad supper in the Flame Room of Pioneer Natural Gas Company, with Miss Elsie Cunningham as chairman, honoring the Woman of the Year and Mrs. Inez Carter, the club mother; Wednesday radio program; Thursday, entertaining the Senior Citizens at the Lovett Memorial Library; Fridays, Luncheon at Furr's Cafeteria, chairman, Mrs. Ruby Crocker; speaker Mrs. Lillian Jordan; Stuarday, 7 a.m. breakfast at Lois Teel's home, 1801 Grape.

Arts And Crafts Festival Scheduled For December

Committees working on plans for the fifth annual Arts and Crafts Festival, sponsored by the Pampa Fine Arts Association, met recently in the home of Mrs. Walter Flynt, festival chairman.

The Arts and Crafts Festival is planned for December 4 and 5. Space will be made available to area artists and craftsmen to exhibit and sell their works of art. The Fine Arts Association sponsors this affair for the encouragement and benefit of artisans in the area.

Mrs. Flynt, chairman, stated, "Because of increasing interest in all forms of art in this area, we hope to make this the biggest and best art fair ever held in Pampa."

Demonstrations in various art fields are being scheduled for the free viewing of festival visitors. A small entry fee of $2 will be charged; each exhibitor to help defray expenses in providing display area. Exhibitors will be asked also to contribute a small item of their specialty, valued of $1 or more, to be placed in a grab box and the items will be sold for a minimal price. Non-exhibitors may contribute to the grab box, also, if they so desire. All items are to be wrapped or placed in a box along with the name of the artist so that the item will be a surprise to the purchaser. This will afford a chance for festival visitors to an original work of art at little cost.

Committees and committee members are Mrs. Walter Flynt, general chairman, with Mrs. Ernest Wilkinson, co-chairman; Jimmy Thompson, building committee, assisted by David Tucker and Don Tinney; Mrs. Don George and Mrs. Dewey Palmittier, demonstrations; Mrs. Ed Wylie, hostess committee; Mrs. Dewey Palmittier, building decorations; Ralph Ford and Jerry Cronister, publicity; Mrs. Delmar Watkins, and Mrs. Bill Dunn, gourmet booth; Mrs. Vernon Hall, programs.

Mrs. Hall, general chairman for the 1970 fair, is serving this year as festival consultant for the general committee.

DEAR ABBY: In all the years I've been married, I've tried to go to bed looking sexy. No curlers or face cream.

Now that men have gone in for long hair my husband has never looked better. But, Abby, going to bed with a man who is wearing a hairnet turns me off. My husband isn't ashamed of it, either. He tells our friends how he "puts his hair up" and wears a hairnet to bed. My husband is very masculine, and I do love him. But until he gets rid of his hairnet our love life is at a standstill.

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N.Y. DEAR SPRINGS: A man who continues a practice which he knows turns his wife off is asking for what he is getting. Nothing! But there are no winners in that game, so you two had better come to terms. And fast.

DEAR ABBY: When a guy takes his date to a club with go-go dancers, is his date supposed to applaud, too?

I enjoy the club, but I feel so stupid applauding some other girl for arousing my date. It seems almost like thanking her for something I couldn't do myself. My date says those girls work hard and they deserve to be applauded by the entire audience. What's your opinion?

NO CLAPPER DEAR NO: Applause is an expression of appreciation. If you appreciate the performance (for whatever reason), applaud.

DEAR ABBY: My husband (I'll call him Tim) is a religious. Religion is to Tim what alcohol is to an alcoholic; with one difference. An alcoholic's symptoms are obvious, and he gets sympathy and understanding from friends, neighbors, etc. The religious's

Mrs. Norman Walberg, program chairman, introduced Mrs. Lee Moore who gave the program on "Hybridizing for the Amateur."

"We may wonder where the new beauties come from which the hybridizers are working so hard to bring out each year," she said. "It is accomplished by cross-pollination of two parent plants and carefully caring for the seed bed, small plants and bringing them into bloom."

Mrs. Moore pointed out that this method is often faster than getting a plantlet in bloom from a fresh-cut leaf.

"This is a most fascinating hobby for the African Violet growers," she concluded.

"It All Began In 1946" was the topic of Mrs. Norman Walberg. She explained that the first big African Violet show was held Oct. 9 and 10, 1946, in Atlanta, Ga., with the expectation of an attendance of 500 to 1,000 persons. When show time came, almost 10,000 people

Miss Geraldine Rampy Gives Speech On Vocational And Special Education

Miss Geraldine Rampy was guest speaker at Varietas Study Club in the home of Mrs. S.C. Evans, with Mrs. L.B. Penick, president, presiding at the business meeting.

Mrs. Penick spoke briefly on Columbus Day and then gave a report on the Top of Texas board meeting, held in Panhandle, Monday. Additional reports were given by Mrs. R. W. Lane, Mrs. Aubrey Sprawls, and Mrs. J.E. Gibson.

The afternoon's study was entitled, "Education," with the sub-title, "The Foundation of Every State is the Education of its Youth."

First speaker was Mrs. J.E. Gibson, who talked on "Federal Aids in Education." She stated that the four basic needs are: (1) communication media such as television and newspapers; (2) continuing education for adults; (3) leadership development; and (4) public education and student aid.

Mrs. Aubrey Sprawls' topic was "Vocational and Special Educational Needs."

"Every child born today should be impressed with the dignity of work," she said. "He should learn to do what he is capable of doing successfully, what he is interested in, and what his education fits him to perform."

She spoke of the graduate courses for adults in most cities, explaining there are four vocational schools in Texas, one being in Amarillo. She said that these schools are well attended, that the courses are varied, that loans are often available, and that students take courses in human relations as well as learning skills.

She discussed the courses available for men and women on welfare, designed to train them to be self-supporting.

"It is interesting to note that 95 percent of those who complete the courses in which they enroll are able to obtain gainful jobs," she pointed out.

She said that there has been a 13-fold increase in the enrollments in vocational schools since 1964. "Youth should be encouraged to go into trade schools and learn skills, if that is where their abilities lie, always learning the dignity of work," she concluded.

Miss Geraldine Rampy, vocational counselor at Pampa High School spoke on the vocational training program in Pampa, which she said is rightly called "career education."

She stated that of the approximately 1200 students in Pampa High School, 600 are presently engaged in career education.

"Since the people of Gray County are only 80 per cent professional, it is hoped that these trained students will be able to increase the percentage of professional Pampans some day," she said. "We train students who plan to attend college as well as those who do not."

She outlined the plan followed in Pampa High School in the career courses offered principally to the junior and senior classes, in which students are required to pass vocational inventory tests, to work with teachers and coordinators and the vocational counselor, after which they are placed in half day jobs in Pampa business firms.

"We offer training in two general fields," she explained. "The first is the useful field, in which both boys and girls learn homemaking, productive agriculture, and related programs; the second is the gainful field, in which students learn the methods of making money in the business world. Each employer rates his student employee, and the student receives school credit if his work is satisfactory."

She said that many new courses are planned. She told of the annual spring banquet which the career education students give for their employers, with the entire evening planned by the students.

"Each of our career education programs has definite youth leadership," she pointed out. "We stress the need of young people assuming their rightful responsibility in their work."

Members present were Meses, W. E. Abernathy, W. A. Bohot, W. H. Burden, F. A. Cary, Cecil Dalton, H. Price Doster, Clyde Ellis, N.E. Ellis, S. C. Evans, J.E. Gibson, Lee Harrah, J.E. Kirchner, R. W. Lane, Otis Nace, L.B. Penick, Aubrey Sprawls, Sherman White; and Miss Anna Pierce.

MILK HARVESTING is underway but has slowed due to wet milo. Very few fields have been finished. Yields have been good on most of the milo that has been cut. It will be frost ten to fifteen days on most of the milo. Sucker heads are present in a large portion of the earlier planted milo.

Wheat sowing was completed about one week ago. I've never seen more beautiful stands. Wheat has grown off good with the warm days and cool nights. A week of pretty weather would speed the general rule that wheat planted after Oct. 1st doesn't usually make good pasture in the Fall.

Cattle movement into the Panhandle has slowed the last few days due to wheat sowing and milo harvesting. When these chores are out of the way you will see thousands of new cattle brought into the County and the entire Panhandle.

L.A. Madjox, Beef Cattle Specialist, Extension Service, was by our office recently. We were discussing the many problems facing the stocker calf operators over the area. Our conversation turned to the number one problem - the health of newly shipped in calves. Recently we have observed several bunches of new cattle and well over fifty percent of them required treatment for shipping fever. Antibiotics do an excellent job of straightening out cattle but they are expensive. L.A. and this

Panhandle Water

By FELIX W. RYALS

Many people live in an area for long periods taking it for granted that the business from which they make their livelihood is the mainstay of the economy. The results of a poll taken by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce in September of 1971 came as a shock. A number of items were included in the poll. Water ranked far ahead of such items as education, oil and gas, manufacturing, and transportation. Without water there just won't be these other things.

Water has been the catalytic agent in the accelerated economy of the High Plains of West Texas. We must, somehow, get this message across to the people of east and south Texas.

Several years ago an area newspaper published a drawing representing the underground fresh water area of the Panhandle Ground Water Conservation District. We call this underground reservoir the Ogallala formation. The name given to the underground fresh water formation comes from Ogallala, Nebraska where the first study of the underground water of the Western Great Plains began. All underground fresh water from the Nebraska area south through the High Plains of West Texas is found along above red clay beds. These red clay beds are called triassic and permian. These red beds may be seen exposed along the walls of Palo Duro Canyon, the Canadian River, and the Bear Creek area east of Borger on U.S. Highway 152.

This column has stated a number of times during the past 13 years that the underground Ogallala reservoir is unique in that there is practically no recharge. In plain "man-on-the-street" language, the reservoir is gradually being pumped dry. The central portion of the underground area covered by the Panhandle Ground Water Conservation District will not become dry next year. All of our water authorities indicate that this could occur within 20 years.

The withdrawal of big volumes of underground water in this area began fifteen years ago. The pumpage from the underground reservoir by cities, industry, and agriculture has steadily increased and shows no indication of slowing down. The construction of Sanford Dam on the Canadian River and the Greenbelt Dam on the Salt Fork of the Red River has given some relief.

The great depth to the water formation, the compacted soil, the wind and the sun combine to prevent the occasional precipitation from reaching the underground reservoir.

The U.S. Geological Survey, the Texas Water Development Board, and Texas Tech University have been carrying on recharge experiments for several years in the Lubbock area. The water being used is from Lake Meredith. These experiments are showing some promise of the eventual recharge of portions of the underground reservoir that have been partially depleted.

At long last, some of the big ranch estates along the high slope of the underground reservoir, or bowl, such as the 666 Ranch, have awakened to the fact that even windmill water for cattle has been depleted in some areas. The mire concentrated the pumpage in the center of the reservoir, the faster the water drops down the slope. As the water table declines, the water is pulled away from the shallow edges of the bowl. A good example of this was seen during the year of 1970 when Lake McClellan almost dried up. During that year, there was a scarcity of rain falling on the watershed area of the lake.

Those 73 people from West Texas, Oklahoma, and New Mexico who touted the California Water Project in August of 1971 did not make the trip as a vacation or for health reasons. More than half of the group live in areas of the South Plains where the underground reservoir has already been partially depleted. The other half knew this to be a true situation and had made the trip in an effort to learn how California was solving its water problem.

All tour members learned that the moving of water from a "water excess area" to a "water short area" was very expensive. The group also looked at the alternatives of doing nothing. The eventual cost of doing nothing in California was going to be many times greater.

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — The Ft. Sam Houston Army Emergency-Relief Office received an unexpected but very welcome gift—$100—from a local resident.

Accompanying the check was a letter of explanation, which stated in part:

"... My soldier husband died suddenly of a heart attack while we were stationed in Honolulu and awaiting return to our new station in August 1940.

"The unexpected and unolicited offer was a great financial fortune in those days) and a great morale booster.

"It was given with no strings attached with the understanding

Carpenter Is Re-elected Water Post

Milton Carpenter was re-elected as director, Zone 3, Gray County Soil and Water Conservation District in an election Oct. 11, at the Lefors Community Center. He has served 10 years previously on the Board.

At a Board meeting following the election the following were named officers of the Gray County SWCD for the coming year: Curtis Schaffer, chairman; Robert Sailor, vice-chairman and Milton Carpenter, Secretary. Other members of the board are Sam Bowers and Tony R. Smitherman.

that I would return it if and when I was able to do so.

"I was never dunned for it and now I am happy to pay it back. I'm sure you'll find a place to use it ..."

SWIM LESSONS — The full schedule for swim lessons for the remainder of 1971 is listed below and parents should check this list and sign their children up soon. Classes during the school year are held after school is out in the evenings either from 4:5 to 5:5 p.m. Classes meet only on Monday, Wednesday, Thursday and Fridays for 10 meeting dates. This would make each class last 2½ weeks. The pool is heated and is indoors.

TEEN DANCES — The Center has changed its schedule toward the weekly teen dance on Friday nights. The dances will now be held after home football and basketball games and on weekends when there is no school activity taking place. Participation is not what we need to continue to have a regular dance schedule.

The next dance will be after the Hustler home football game on Oct. 22 when the Buster Brown Band will play from 9-12 p.m. The Center will also have the homecoming dance on Nov. 5 when we hosted Palo Duro. We have arranged a top notch travel band called Resurrection which is much in the line as Baby to play on that night. Only high school and college age students will be admitted to the homecoming dance.

BASKETBALL LEAGUES — The Center is trying to determine if there is enough interest in a youth basketball league this winter. This could be a church team, organization, club or just an independent group. If you have a youth group who is interested, please contact the Center Director, George Smith, and give him this information. The regular league will again be offered this year and LONDON (AP) — Beate Ringer Starr has gone into the furniture business. In collaboration with designer Robin Cruikshank and the British Steel Corp., the musician displayed his wares Monday before a buying public confined to those with money.

The prices at the exhibition at London's fashionable Liberty's department store ranged from $36 dollars for chromium plated weights to $2,976 for a coffee table supported by two Rolls Royce auto radiators.

WOMEN'S EXERCISE CLASS — The Center offers to the women a private exercise and swim class on Monday and Friday mornings. The exercise classes meet in the gym at 9:30 and the instructor leads in a record session. At 10:10 a.m. you are invited to an informal swim time until 11:30. No swim lessons are given.

There is a baby sitting service available for mothers who have children at home. The charge per child for the full 2 hours is only 50 cents or only 25 cents for the exercise class. To participate you need only be a Center member, which is $9 per year or $5 for six months.
