Argentina Puts Down Coup Try Without A Shot

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — Without a shot fired, nearly 10,000 loyal troops put down on Saturday an attempt by army rebels to overthrow the seven-month-old government of Gen. Alejandro Lanusse and upset his plans for elections.
 A rebel force of 1,200 gave up after holding out for 19 hours in the Pampa city of Azul, 150 miles south of here. Lanusse had sent his troops to put down "this sordid ... antipopular and totalitarian uprising ... with whatever means necessary."
 Col. Manuel Alejandro Garcia, the rebel chief, surrendered to Gen. Joaquin Aguilar Pinedo moments after the general, commanding the government task force, entered Azul.
 The coup attempt was staged Friday by the army garrisons at Azul and Olavarría, a few miles from Azul.
 Rebel communiques insisted that garrisons elsewhere in this nation of 24 million also were in revolt. But it was evident that the navy, the air force and the rest of the army remained loyal.

 In a broadcast Friday Lanusse told the nation the rebels were rightists, "hidden behind a false mask of nationalism." He said they sought a dictatorship and wanted to "cheat the people" out of the general elections Lanusse has promised for March 1973, to return the country to civilian rule.
 The rebels seized Radio Azul and broadcast communiques which described the revolt as a "crusade of liberation."
 They called for a return to the "original principles" of the 1966 revolution which put the military in power, ending civilian rule. Lanusse, 52, is the third general to rule Argentina since 1966. But faced with labor unrest, guerrilla violence and an economic recession, he has legalized political parties and scheduled the election.

Ex-Sky Marshal Blasts Program And Treatment

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — A former sky marshal who quit the anti-hijack program says the marshals are easily spotted by passengers and occasionally bumped by airlines in favor of paying customers.
 Hugh M. Vandervoort, 27, said the program was "a real disappointment ... boring and low priority."
 In an interview with the Baltimore Sun, Vandervoort, claimed the potential deterrent factor of the program is severely hampered by the ease with which the officers can be distinguished from ordinary passengers.
 "It's obvious to anybody with any brains at all who we are," Vandervoort said. "We sit next to the stairwell, one on each side. We never drink. And we are treated with obvious deference by the stewardess and other airlines personnel."
 The stairwell reference was to Boeing 747 jumbo jets, but he refused to identify the flights to which marshals usually are assigned. "I don't think that would be fair to the program," Vandervoort said.
 Vandervoort's superior at Friendship International Airport near Baltimore, John B. Ulk, refused to comment.
 Gen. Benjamin O. Davis, assistant U.S. secretary of transportation, told the Sun that marshals have prevented "a large number of possible hijackers" from boarding airplanes and credited the program for a 70 per cent drop in hijacking attempts during 1971.
 Davis declined to cite specific figures on the number of hijackings believed prevented by sky marshals.
 Vandervoort said he quit last month after about half a year on the job, mostly at Kennedy Airport in New York, because "if you speak up about the conditions in the program, this upsets the authorities quite a bit."
 "Frankly, you're told that if you don't like the program you can quit. So I quit."
 Asked whether other marshals shared his discontent, Vandervoort replied, "You bet

Jet Hijacked To Cuba By Detroit Ex-Convict

HOSING DOWN POOL OF GASOLINE — A 50-year-old Panhandle man narrowly escaped a burning death when he lay in a pool of fuel from his overturned pickup seven miles east of Pampa Friday afternoon at the junction of Highways 60 and 152. It took workers at the scene some 10 minutes to free Robert Bedenk from the crushed cab. He is still in serious condition.

Plane Carrying 47 Persons Still In Red Capital

DETROIT (AP) — An ex-convict who was being questioned because he looked suspicious pulled a gun on an Eastern Air Lines passenger agent Saturday and hijacked a plane to Cuba with 47 persons aboard.
 Ninety-eight passengers and a crew of seven had been scheduled to take off from Detroit Metro Airport on Eastern's Flight 953 en route to Miami and San Juan, P.R., but only 39 passengers had boarded the Boeing 727 when the hijacker commandeered the plane.
 Wayne County Sheriff William Lucas identified the hijacker as Richard Frederick Dixon, 31, a native of nearby Pontiac, who was paroled last August after serving five years of a federal sentence for larceny from the Diamond Crystal Salt Co. credit union in St. Clair, Mich. The sheriff said the hijacker described himself to the pilot as "a left-wing extremist."
 Eastern officials identified the pilot of the plane as Capt. W. E. Buchanan. Buchanan was the pilot of a plane hijacked July 24, 1961—the second commercial U.S. plane hijacked to Havana.
 Harry Felker, Eastern's manager of passenger sales, said the hijacker purchased a one-way ticket to Miami about 9 a.m. under the name of "R. Johnson," the same name used in an aborted American Airlines hijacking attempt at Detroit Metropolitan Airport last month.
 The sheriff said no connection had been discovered between Saturday's hijacking and the attempt last month in which a former college psychology instructor, Barbara Pliskow, 37, Detroit, who used the name "R. Johnson," was charged with federal skyjacking.
 In that attempt, police said, the would-be hijacker was attempting to win the release of three Black Panthers from jail.
 The sheriff said Dixon was identified as the hijacker by passengers who failed to get aboard the plane, the ticket agent and a sky marshal.
 Felker said the hijacking occurred just before the hijacker had reached the metal detection device at the entrance of the boarding passageway.
 Because he appeared nervous and "fit the pattern of a hijacker," Felker said, the man was asked to step out of line and produce more information.
 It was then that he pulled the gun—a .38-caliber revolver, Felker said.
 William Marcus, a Detroit resident who had gone to the airport to see his father-in-law off to visit relatives in Florida, said he heard the gunman say, "Get out of my way, I'm going on the plane." Marcus said an airlines employe immediately slammed shut the door to the boarding ramp.
 Capt. Buchanan radioed to Eastern's control center that the gunman "had a cocked revolver and had it at the head of a stewardess," Felker said.
 Felker said the hijacked plane landed at Havana at 1:30 p.m. EDT.

Sen. Byrd Considered For High Court Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Robert C. Byrd of West Virginia, assistant Democratic Senate leader, is being considered by the White House for nomination to the Supreme Court, a high administration source said Saturday.
 "His name is at the White House and at the Justice Department," the official told a reporter. "He's one of a number being considered."
 There are two vacancies on the high court and so far no names have emerged as likely Nixon favorites since Rep. Richard H. Poff, R-Va., took his name out of consideration a week ago. However, some published reports Saturday said Byrd is definitely the President's choice for one of the two spots.
 The administration source called those reports "way, way too strong."
 He said others are also being considered, including some women.
 Reached at Morgantown, W. Va., Byrd said he would have "absolutely, no comment" on reports that he is being considered.
 Byrd, 53, is a conservative who often sides with the administration and against the majority of Democrats in Senate battles.
 Byrd is in the first of his third six-year Senate term. He won re-election last year with 70 per cent of the West Virginia vote.

Other exhibits include the auto show, women's Building features, plus the 19th annual Pan American International Livestock Exposition and dozens of others.
 Theme of this year's 16-day fair is Expo-Trans-Port.
 Over 400 buyers were on hand Saturday at the Pan American livestock show which, for the first time, featured a foreigner judging the Angus cattle division. He is Dr. Flavio Tellechea of Rio de Janeiro, a Brazilian rancher.
 A popular attraction at Saturday's opening was the New Dimensions Pavilion which featured a moon rover used by astronauts in training for last summer's travel on the moon.
 A free horse show, music events, circus and dancing acts were among activities planned Saturday night.
 Parking in and around the fair grounds was only a dream for the vast majority of those who attended. Long walks from isolated parking places were more in keeping with reality.

ON BIG D WEEKEND

Throngs Have Tough Choice: 'Horns-Sooners Or The Fair

DALLAS (AP) — Texas and Oklahoma football fans spent more time hitting the bottle than each other as Dallas went through a weekend of revelry that police described as "more festive than destructive."
 Of the 544 persons arrested between 10 p.m. Friday and 6 a.m. Saturday, the sheriff's department reported that 305 were still behind bars at 2 p.m. when the Sooners kicked off the Longhorns at the Cotton Bowl.
 St. Michael Hall said all those jailed who held tickets to the annual football classic were released by noon Saturday and should have made the game.
 Twenty-four persons arrested for driving while intoxicated.
 "From all the reports I've had, it was one of the quietest we've ever had," said Assistant Chief Paul G. McGaghren Saturday.
 "There were some arrests, but a great number of them were in outlying areas, and did not reflect the atmosphere downtown."
 The thousands who thronged Saturday to the 86th annual opening of the State Fair of Texas were drawn between the Oklahoma-Texas football classic and hundreds of exhibits and shows here.

Thousands of visitors, particularly the young, swept into the "million dollar Midway" packed with old time carnival attractions and sideshows.
 Other exhibits include the auto show, women's Building features, plus the 19th annual Pan American International Livestock Exposition and dozens of others.

ILA Head Trying To Shut Down All Texas Ports

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Thomas Gleason, president of the striking International Longshoremen's Association, is to meet with West Gulf longshoremen here today in an attempt to get Texas union men to join in a nationwide strike.
 Gleason said he will shut down all Texas ports.
 West Gulf longshoremen at most Texas ports have refused to join in the strike of dock workers on both the East and West Coasts. Ralph Massey, president of the International Longshoremen's Association's South Atlantic and Gulf Coast District, sent a telegram last Thursday ordering the West Gulf locals to join the strike.
 Gleason told reporters in New York Friday he would not say whether he was preparing to seize the rebel locals, suspend their officers and establish trusteeship.
 "I don't fight my internal battles in the papers," Gleason said. The ILA head said the strike is "perfect elsewhere."
 Dock workers at Beaumont and Orange have apparently responded to an order to join the strike. Activity at Port Arthur was reported mixed. All other Texas ports were open for business.

Injured Man Still Listed As Serious

A 50-year-old Panhandle man lay pinned in his overturned pickup in a pool of gasoline Friday afternoon until Pampa firemen could wash the fuel away and other workers at the scene could free him.
 Robert J. Bedenk, Bush Apartments, Panhandle, was taken to Highland General Hospital for treatment before being transferred to the Veterans Administration Hospital, Amarillo, where he is still in serious condition.
 According to investigating officers, Bedenk was traveling west on Highway 152 when he apparently lost control of the vehicle on the approach curve to U.S. 69. The pickup went off the road into a ditch, struck a culvert, turned over one and a half times coming to rest on the crushed cab back on the highway.
 The driver was the only occupant of the small truck.

Most Members Of House Oppose Special Session

AUSTIN (AP) — "A majority of House members are opposed" to a special session at this time, says Gov. Preston Smith.
 Smith and his aides conducted a poll of House members Thursday and Friday after members of the "Dirty 30" asked him to call a special session so they could vote to remove House Speaker Gus Mutscher from the speakership. The dissidents gave Smith a list of 41 members they said wanted a special session.
 Mutscher is under bribery indictments connected with the stock fraud scandal.
 The "Dirty 30" is a coalition of Republican and liberal Democrats who opposed Mutscher in the 1971 legislature.
 Smith said he would not call a special session, but his announcement failed to give the figures on his poll.
 Asked why the figures were left out, a Smith aide said: "Because the governor told me not to put them in it."
 Smith said he did not consider it to be an emergency situation. "Certainly at a time when we are attempting to save the taxpayers' money, the $500,000 to $800,000 that a 30-day special session would cost the people of Texas has to be an important consideration."
 "Furthermore, we know we are going to have a special session, but the time is not yet proper, so why have two sessions back to back?" Smith said.
 A special session must be held before the beginning of the 1973 fiscal year—Sept. 1, 1972-73—to write an appropriation bill.
 The legislature wrote a two-year appropriation bill last year but Smith vetoed the second year appropriations.

Neb. Couple Found Shot To Death; Robbery May Be Motive Of Killing

DALHART — Oscar L. Holm, 70, and his wife, Martha, 69, Omaha, Neb., were found dead from gunshot wounds Friday afternoon at a roadside park 25 miles southwest on U.S. 54.
 The couple was discovered by Dr. E.J. McCreight, retired Logan, N. Mex., physician about 2:30 p.m. He proceeded to Nara Vista where he notified New Mexico state police. New Mexico state police officer Fred Caldwell was first on the scene with Hartley County (Texas) Sheriff Joe Thomas and Texas state troopers soon after.
 The pair had been shot through the left side of the body with the .30 caliber bullets exiting through the right rib cage indicating the killer must have been standing at the left door of the vehicle.
 Apparently robbery was the motive, for only money was missing from the couple's possessions.

Fort Worth Couple Killed In Plane Crash

NEW BRAUNFELS, Tex. (AP) — A couple from a Fort Worth suburb was killed when their private plane hit a tree, skinned over two tents and a parked car at a recreation center and crashed 18 miles north of this South Central Texas town.
 Mr. and Mrs. Bob Tucker, both 38, of Haltom City, died Friday when their single-engine Cessna 172 crashed near Canyon lake.
 Tucker was the body shop manager for Helm-Lary Ford Inc.
 Wreckage from the plane was scattered over a 300-foot area.

Board No. 52 Says Three Men To Be Inducted Nov. 16

Selective Service Board No. 52 in Pampa has received a call for three men to be inducted into the Armed Forces on Nov. 16.

Board No. 52 serves Gray, Roberts, Donley and Wheeler counties.

The local board will deliver 39 men to Amarillo for pre-induction physical examination Tuesday.

A draft call of 568 men for the remainder of 1971 has been announced for Texas by Col. Melvin N. Glantz, state director.

Glantz said none will be ordered for induction in October, 362 in November, and 195 in December, all from the extended or first priority groups.

Glantz said he had been advised by the Director, Dr. Curtis Tarr, that the RSN cutoff for 1971 would be number 125 for men in the first priority group. Tara advised that all men in a class available for service who have been found qualified mentally, physically and morally with 1971 RSN's of 125 or below can expect to receive an induction order.

If men in the first priority group with RSN's up to 125 are not ordered for induction in 1971, they will be placed in the extended-priority group and will be inducted in the first three months of 1972 ahead of men in the 1972-year group (born in 1952).

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Hardy says that sea water is a boon to his church! See if you agree with his ideas. The Food and Drug Administration has fended with me for 16 years over the new biochemical approach to deficiency ailments. But the FDA bureaucrats are fast losing ground. Beware of medical dictocrats!

CASE R-584: Hartly A., aged 42, is a "sea water" fan. "Dr. Crane," he added, "your articles about the trace chemicals in ocean water have benefited our church."

For 7 members who formerly couldn't kneel at the altar for the Communion Service, now do so with ease. And it is apparently due to their use of water from our Great Salt Lake here in Utah! For they had been victims of crippling arthritis for years, yet within 4 to 6 months, their joints loosened up. Our Great Salt Lake is several times more concentrated than the ocean's water, but contains the same water-soluble trace chemicals.

TRACE CHEMICALS
On March 18th, Dr. F.H. Nielsen added nickel to the vital to good health.

Dr. Nielsen is a Research Chemist in our U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Of the 44 water-soluble chemical elements in ocean water, those scientists have already proved that 20 are essential to mankind's health.

And they also indicate that 5 more are indispensable to the human body.

Steadily, our researchers are thus finding that more and more of those 44 are vital to good health.

Yet when I expounded this trace chemical theory in my "Worry Clinic" back in 1955, the Food and Drug Administration regarded it as "quackery."

The head of the FDA even faintly me by saying "There is nothing of any medical value in the sea."

That astirning statement is going to choke the FDA!

For laymen, as well as medical scientists, knew even in 1955 what iodized salt was doing to curb simple goiter.

And in 1955 we medics were prescribing a combination vitamin-mineral ampule that contained as high as a dozen trace chemicals.

Remember, God Almighty designed us so that all 44 of those water soluble chemicals are circulating in our blood. So there must have been a reason for God isn't inefficient. Meanwhile, medical scientists were admitting that many human ailments were apparently due to "some chemical deficiency."

Among these deficiency ailments were gray hair, baldness, asthma, eczema, psoriasis, epilepsy, diabetes and even cancer.

Most researchers have been vainly trying to find some fancy (and expensive) drug to curb cancer.

Meanwhile, they have largely ignored the deficiencies of internal body hormones (such as Dr. A.C. Ivy's Carceolon).

And they ignore the simple "horse sense" logic of trying to feed the bodily glands those chemicals out of which they can manufacture their own antidotes (hormones) to prevent various deficiency ailments.

"Dr. Crane," many educated folks inquire, "why should medicine be so hostile to health foods and sea water chemicals?"

Well, the latter require no costly prescription!

Patients can even procure the sea water merely by wading out at the beaches of the oceans.

Dallas' Neiman-Marcus Offers Survival Machine For Commuter Freeways For Yuletide

By GODFREY ANDERSON
Associated Press Writer

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Christmas is coming and Neiman-Marcus, the specialty store which does the gift thinking for its wealthiest customers, offers a survival machine for commuter freeways for the Yule season.

Cost? A mere $845,300.

The store calls it the Total Transportation Security Environment. It really is more like a tank equipped with every safety device known to man and some new ones.

The well-heeled executive will ride in a luxurious stateroom built inside the futuristic vehicle, while his chauffeur, seated high above in a cockpit covered by a see-through bubble, maneuvers him through the traffic.

Special features include a closed circuit dual-lens infrared scanning camera, infra-red and telephoto periscopes, radar, dual-exhaust anti-pollution device, highway signal markers.

Then there are signals reading "too close" and "stop," and loudspeakers to warn off other motorists who dare to get too close.

It will also have a "ulti-level terrain stabilizer," safety air bumpers, padded safety bumpers and rubber baby buggy bumpers.

Neiman-Marcus offers no guarantee that any state highway department will license such a vehicle, but it does assure the prospective purchaser that "only one traffic tank will be built to insure it not meeting one of its own kind."

If a traffic tank is not your line, the Neiman-Marcus Christmas Book is crammed with other ideas.

How about His and Her authenticated mummy cases from ancient Egypt, both approximately 2,000 years old and both vacant, for $16,000?

For those who want to turn back the hands of time, Neiman-Marcus suggests the backward-running clock for $75.

For those ahead of their time, there's alunar watch by Helbros, a $700 all-electric time-piece engineered to reflect the passing of time on our moon. Described as "an advanced gift for any moon-struck earthman, it comes in a limited edition."

Other seasonal thoughts: A $125 rose colored rear-vision mirror for the car. Makes the past look rosier.

The 1929 World Almanac, republished by McGraw Hill at $7.95, to stir nostalgic memories of 1928 when Hoover succeeded Coolidge, Lindbergh was the national hero, and the first talking picture was shown.

Anyone prepared to lay out $42,800 can take a more costly stroll down memory lane by glimpsing the social life as it used to be lived in New York City. It begins with a special performance of "No, No, Nanette" at the 48th Street Theater for the gift recipient and 1,243 friends on New Year's Day 1973. After the show, the famed theater's rafters will rock with a gala party for cast and guests.

And finally, since Christmas is for the kids as well, what about $495 for an inflatable 16-foot whale, a "safe crawl-into vinyl coated nylon behemoth, complete with blower to keep him fat?"

For kids who dig dirt—even wealthy kids do—there's a set of six packets of Texas Seeds guaranteed to grow into Texas-sized fruits and vegetables like Medicine Ball Family size muskmelon, King size corn, Dixie giant watermelon, and Blue Ribbon super giant squash. For only $5.

Last year's big item in the Christmas Book was an ark, completely stocked with 92 mammals, 10 reptiles, 26 birds, 14 freshwater fish and 36 insects. Apparently the $588,274 price tag was too much for animal lovers. Neiman-Marcus got nary a nibble.

Demand For Steel In Latin America Set For 10 Years

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Demand for steel in Latin America will reach 27 million tons in 1973 and 40 million tons by 1980, the Latin American Iron and Steel Institute was told Thursday.

Per capita steel consumption in the area 20 years ago was 25 kilograms and has risen to 60 kilograms, but is still well below the world average of 150 kilograms per capita, Marcio A. Pereira of the ILAFA general offices in Santiago, Chile, said.

To help meet the demand Latin America has proven iron reserves estimated at 6,000 mil-

Radio and Television

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — After a month of stag sleuthing, NBC's "Ironside" acquired a new female aide Tuesday night. She is officer Fran Belding, daughter of a slain police captain and a pretty emotional type for a lady cop.

A pretty brunette, fresh out of police academy, she arrived on the scene doing a little off-duty investigating about the murder of her father, suspected of working with the gamblers. Miss Baur's initial contribution consisted of some maladroit detective work and demonstrating hysterical animosity toward Chief Ironside.

In truth, however, the "Ironside" series has done nicely this season without staff representation. It has beaten ABC's "Mod Squad" in both Nielsen ratings so far.

Former Aide Says He Is To Blame, In One Sense, For JFK's Fatal Trip

DALLAS (AP) — An author who was an aide to the late President John F. Kennedy says that he is to blame, in one sense, for the circumstances that led to JFK's assassination. "If I had fought hard enough for what I knew was best, he'd be alive today," claims Jerry Bruno, who made a recent return visit to Dallas. Bruno is author of "The Advance Man," the fatal journey to Dallas in November, 1963. Bruno was Kennedy's advance man, a position he would later hold under Kennedy's younger brother, Bobby.

Bruno says that he sought to schedule JFK's speech in Fair Park, which is adjacent to one of Dallas' declining neighborhoods. "John Connally wanted to be the center of the show at the Trade Mart where all the fat cats would attend and where he could show them that he had the ear of the President," Bruno contended in an interview.

The site of the speech was to be the Trade Mart. On the motorcade route to the trade mart, the Warren Commission Report maintains that Lee Harvey Oswald killed Kennedy and wounded Connally, then Texas governor.

A decision to have the speech at Fair Park could have altered the motorcade route away from the Texas School Book Depository the perch that Oswald allegedly used.

"At the fair grounds we could have loaded it with low-income people, the average people, who John Kennedy thrived on," says Bruno.

"Bruno said his return this year to Dallas for a college political forum 'in many ways, brings back the memories of bitterness.' He said Dallas symbolizes 'the things I don't stand for.'"

Bruno says he will work for presidential possibilities Sen. Edmund Muskie or New York Mayor John Lindsay, but not as an advance man. "I've predicted that Lindsay will beat Nixon and so far he's doing everything I said he should do," he says.

Harvesters Belt Canyon, 40-12

SCRAMBLING FOR THE PIGSKIN—Bodies are piled high as Eagles and Harvesters alike scramble for the fumbled football. Players shown are: Eagles' Bob Counseller 72, Roy Markham 75, and David Wilkinson 62, Harvesters' Terry Braddock 62, Johnny Roth 24, and Dale Ammons 15. Ammons came up with the ball after the mix up in the Canyon Eagles vs. Pampa Harvesters game Friday night in WTSU's Buff Bowl. The Eagles were overcome by the powerful Pampans by a score of 40-12 in the Canyon Homecoming contest.

Pampa's Offensive Unit Clears Path To Victory

By RICKY WRIGHT
Staff Writer

The Canyon Eagles Homecoming turned almost fatal as the Harvesters made them look like ducks, with a tally of 40-12.

The wind was knocked out of Canyon's sails as junior halfback Richard McCampbell took the ball on the Pampa 15 and just kept on peddling to cross the goal line on the first play of the game. Dale Ammons followed McCampbell's 85 yard dash with the kicked conversion to put Pampa in a 7-0 lead in the first few minutes of play.

The "scramble king" Dale Ammons came alive for the first time this year. In several instances he turned on the old, storied, moves to leave the Eagles with empty hands and ruffled feathers. In the first quarter Ammons bounced 24 yards for the second touchdown of the game virtually untouched. McCampbell followed his scoring dance with the extra point kick to get the score at 14-0 for the first quarter.

The second quarter held no TDs for the Eagles and three for the hustling Harvesters. Senior halfback Garvin McCarrell, determined not to be downed, fought his way to pay dirt from 25 yards out. For the conversion Ammons stepped back to pass, but it was incomplete, making the score 20-0. Later McCarrell found a hole made for him by the Harvester line that was clear all the way to the goal line. McCarrell dashed through the gap 15 yards to taste the sweetness of the score for his second time. Following the play was the extra point conversion kicked by Richard McCampbell, changing the score to 27-0.

Cornerback Randy Stephens got his chance at a TD as he intercepted a Chuck Wright pass and scampered 43 yards to score. The tally was marked at 34-0 at half time, as the conversion was good.

Pampa didn't score during the third period of play, but Canyon finally got on the board against Pampa's second squad, as Eagle Rio Edmondson popped one in from six yards out. The extra point attempt was an unsuccessful run, changing the score to 34-6. The tally was changed again before the time period was up as Edmondson fell over the line from one yard out. Edmondson was tripped up by Harmon Staus, who made a diving attempt to stop the Canyon player. The conversion play once again was no good and the score was set at 34-12 for the remaining time of that period of play.

In the fourth quarter there was only one touchdown scored and fate would have it that it went to the Harvesters as halfback Rick Scrimshire set to play, because they are subject to be on the first squad any time some one is injured, or needs a breather."

"We only ran about 6 different plays because it wasn't necessary to run more. Mc Campbell had five carries for 120 yards, Ammons carried nine times for a 9-yard average per carry, McCarrell carried nine times for 117 yards, and Roth averaged 4.6 yards per carry," said Lee.

"In the second half I left the second string defense in until about the last five minutes of play. At that time I replaced them with the first squad.

Primarily the breakdowns in the game were on the second squad." Lee added as he went on to say, "Canyon stayed in there and scrapped real well when they could have quit."

When asked why they had so much better a passing game, he replied, "First off they threw a lot more than we did and the thing that hurts us the most is we just couldn't connect. We threw a lot in the second half but didn't too well."

The leading defensive player was Alvin Ferguson with 12 tackles and assists, next was Randy Stephens having 11 tackles and assists. Dale Ammons had 9, and Knalson hung

"Our backfield did a fine job as McCampbell had 120 total yards rushing, Ammons with 130 rushing and passing, McCarroll with 117, and Roth averaging 4.6 yards per carry and did a fine job of blocking," he went on to add "Linebacker that did an outstanding job were Tibby Rogers, Terry Braddock, and Alvin Ferguson."

"Garvin McCarroll has improved to play about three times as well as he had been doing earlier. He is playing better now, than he ever has in his life."

OU Blast Texas, 48-27

By DENNE FREEMAN
Associated Press Writer

DALLAS (AP) — Shrimp-sized Greb Pruitt, a 176-pound meteor blazed for three touchdowns and over 200 yards rushing Saturday to give the 8th-ranked Oklahoma Sooners a 48-27 victory over 3rd-ranked Texas in a brutal sledgehammer war of wishbone offenses. The five-foot-nine Pruitt, a junior from Houston, dashed through and around the Longhorn flanks virtually unmolested as he piled up 219 yards rushing in 21 sorties. Pruitt pranced to touchdowns on runs of 1, 4 and 20 yards as undefeated Oklahoma used the ground thundering wishbone-T offense made famous by Texas for an awesome 425 yards on the ground.

It was Texas' first defeat of the year against three losses and the first time the Longhorns had lost to the Sooners since 1966.

It was the most points scored against Longhorn coach Darrell Royal since he came to Texas and was the most yardage ever yielded by his team.

Oklahoma piled up a 31-21 halftime lead after Texas took brief leads of 7-0 and 14-7 in the early going. Reserve quarterback Donnie Wigginton sped to touchdowns on runs of 5, and yards and halfback Jim Bertelsen pulled three yards for another touchdown as Texas hung tough against the determined Sooners.

But Roy Bell ran three yards for a touchdown for the Sooners and John Carroll kicked a 26-yard field goal with one second left to give Oklahoma a big time lead.

Quarterback Jack Mildren of the Sooners scored on runs of 7, and one yard in the second half and Carroll kicked a 27-yard field goal.

The only Texas score was on a 15-yard run by Bertelsen.

Orioles' Rettenmund Cracks Three-Run Homer For Victory

BALTIMORE (AP) — Merv Rettenmund, frequently overshadowed by a cast of Baltimore superstars, cracked a decisive three-run homer and left-hander Dave McNally settled down to pitch a three-hitter as the Orioles began defense of their world championship by defeating Pittsburgh 5-3 Saturday.

Frank Robinson and Don Buford also homered in a display of Baltimore power but Rettenmund's shot of controversy Dock Ellis, brought the Orioles from behind in the third inning for a 4-3 lead they never surrendered.

McNally, meanwhile, extended the Orioles' season-ending winning streak to 15 games covering 11 regular-season games, three playoffs and this World Series opener by methodically mowing down the Pirates' power hitters.

Shaken for three unearned runs in the second inning when the usually flawless fielding Orioles made two errors, McNally was touched for his third and final hit in the third inning, then retired 19 men in order before Manny Sanguillen reached base on an error in the ninth inning.

McNally, who is facetiously called "Dave McLucky" by his Oriole teammates because they have frequently taken him off the hook after a slow start, needed their help again after the Pirates had given Ellis a 3-0 lead in the second inning.

But the bubble gum-chewing Ellis, who has been troubled by a sore elbow, was able to last only 2 1/3 innings before manager Danny Murtaugh had to call for relief.

Frank Robinson got the Orioles started when he led off the second inning by tagging a 1-1 pitch into the left-field bleachers for only his second hit in 13 postseason at-bats.

Ellis, a 19-game winner during the regular season, escaped further trouble until the third when shortstop Mark Belanger led off with a single.

After striking out McNally, Ellis gave up a single to Buford and that brought up Rettenmund, the 5-foot-10, 195-pound outfielder who was the club's leading hitter during the regular season but remained overshadowed on a club with Boog Powell, Frank Robinson and Brooks Robinson.

This time, however, it was Rettenmund's show, and he picked a 2-1 pitch to drive over the Baltimore bullpen and into the left-field bleachers for his three-run homer.

'Backup' Quarterback Dominates Professional Football Plays

By BRUCE LOWITT
Associated Press Sports Writer

In this year of the "backup" quarterback, two more passers will get the call today in National Football League play.

Already this season, Al Wood, all of the New York Jets has taken over for Joe Namath, Bill Kilmer of Washington has succeeded Sonny Jurgensen and Scott Hunter has replaced Green Bay's Bart Starr, all due to injuries.

Now it's up to Ken Anderson and Kent Nix to show their stuff.

Anderson, a rookie, will start for Cincinnati in place of Virgil Carter, the American Conference's leading passer, when the Bengals host Miami.

And Nix, the spark in a pair of last-gasp Chicago victories, will take over for Jack Concanon as the Bears take on visiting New Orleans.

Other games today find Pittsburgh at Cleveland, Houston at Washington, Green Bay at Detroit, Minnesota at Philadelphia, Denver at Oakland, San Diego at Kansas City, Los Angeles at San Francisco, Baltimore at Buffalo, St. Louis at Atlanta, and the New York Jets at New England.

In Monday night's nationally televised (ABC, 9 p.m., EDT) game, the New York Giants are at Dallas.

The Bengals' preseason pick by many to win the American Conference Central title, were dealt a blow when Carter suffered a shoulder injury last weekend.

Anderson finished his game against Green Bay, hitting nine of 16 passes for 93 yards and a touchdown.

Nix, usually saved for fourth-quarter heroics, had to come in early against Los Angeles a week ago when Concanon injured a knee seriously enough to require surgery. Nix wound up completing only five of 23 passes for 60 yards.

The Dolphins will send their Bob Griese-to-Paul Warfield passing team and the running tandem of Larry Csonka and Jim Kick against Cincinnati while the Saints will count on Archie Manning to connect with the AFC's leading receiver, Dan Abramowicz, against the Bears.

The Steelers and Browns are battling for the AFC Central lead and Pittsburgh, with Terry Bradshaw throwing to Ron Shanklin and Dave Smith or handing off to John Fuqua, is aiming for its first victory since 1964 in Cleveland, which counters with rushers Leroy Kelly and Bo Scott.

The Redskins go for four in a row—an achievement they haven't registered at the start of a season in 28 years against the winless Oilers.

The Packers, who couldn't score in two games against the Lions a year ago, are counting on rookie John Brockington, the AFC's No. 2 ground gainer. Detroit will be without Mel Farr, sidelined by a dislocated shoulder.

Gary Player Takes Piccadilly Tourney

VIRGINIA WATER, England (AP) — Gary Player, South African golf star, cured his hook Saturday, putted like a master and defeated Jack Nicklaus of the United States 5 and 4 to win the Piccadilly World Match Play Championship for the fourth time.

Nicklaus was one-hole up at the halfway stage of the 36-hole final over Wentworth's 6,997-yard, par 74 course.

But the American star threw the match away with a series of putting errors at the start of the afternoon round. On the first four holes he three-putted three times.

"I was just pathetic with the putter," Nicklaus said. "That was what decided the match. And Gary played very well."

Player, slightly below his best when play began in the early morning fog, improved as the day went on. He finished 11 strokes under par for the 32 holes played.

As the match ended on the 32nd hole, a stand at the side of the fairway collapsed and about a dozen people were sent tumbling.

Three of them were taken to a hospital with leg injuries. Player won first prize of 20,400. He previously won the title in 1965, 1966 and 1968.

Nicklaus, the defending champion, received a second prize of $10,920. He shot a seven-underpar 67 in the morning—the best round of a tournament in which eight stars competed on a head-to-head basis.

The two men halved the first 11 holes with monotonous regularity, then Nicklaus took a 2-up lead by winning the 12th and 13th, but Player birdied the 14th and 15th and was even again.

Nicklaus canned an awkward 2-foot putt for a birdie at the 16th and regained the lead.

The match swung suddenly in Player's favor at the start of the afternoon. While Nicklaus lapsed with his putting, the little South African had three birdies in the first four holes.

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Wisconsin mounted a 21-7 first half lead on three touchdowns by Rufus "Roadrunner" Ferguson; then held off an Indiana comeback for a 35-29 Big Ten football victory Saturday.

MISSISSIPPI SPITS JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Georgia's 10th-ranked Bulldogs shredded the Mississippi defenses with hard-running sophomores Andy Johnson and Jimmy Poulos Saturday to smash the Rebels 38-7 in a south-eastern Conference football battle.

Area Football Roundup Finds Canadian Ahead

High School football in the Panhandle is gathering more and more fans every time the teams enter the grid-iron.

Such was the case Friday night as the Canadian Wildcats romped and stomped past the Wheeler Mustangs 10 to nothing.

Wheeler was favored going into the game but was given a rude awakening when the Cats held up to their best assaults.

The Canadian scores came after a 40-yard series of plays and on a 45-yard field goal.

In other action over the weekend, McLean passed the Groom Tigers 41 to 6.

Injury riddled Groom suffered defeat as the powerful McLean Tigers led by Tommy Donovan screamed passed Groom with a mounting tally of 41-6.

Donovan totaled 97 yards rushing and 112 yards passing. George Danner was leading scorer for the Tigers as he took three TDs across the goal line.

Looking to the south the White Deer Bucks fell pell-mell over the Claude Mustangs as the blue-footed group rallied for a 54 to nothing shutout effort.

Panhandle fell to Quanah 21 to 12 after the Indians overcame an early Panthers 7-0 lead. The black cats from Panhandle did strike first and last blood as they were the first and last to score in the hard fought battle.

The Letors Pirates tripped Erick, Okla. 13 to 6 after losing a heartbreaker last week. The Pirates will be giving more than one district school headaches when conference play begins.

The Perryton Rangers capped a Liberal threat early in the game with a 54 to 15 rout in a game played at Perryton Friday night.

DOWN, BUT STILL REACHING OUT—Canadian Wildcat Steve Carter plunges forward to gain a first down against the Wheeler Mustangs in Friday's 10 to nothing victory. The Mustang offense rushes in a late in the assist as the Wildcats took the important victory. (Staff Photo)

AAU Proposes Athlete's Charter As Prelude To Code Modernization

LAKE PLACID, N.Y. (AP) — John B. Kelly Jr., president of the Amateur Athletic Union proposed Saturday the drafting of an "athlete's Magna Carta" as a prelude to modernization of the "thoroughly outmoded amateur code."

In remarks prepared for the annual AAU banquet here, Kelly said "as many as two-thirds of the athletes signing the Olympic oath are committing perjury."

What we have not bothered to reflect upon what does not seem to have even concerned us is the extent to which we damage the character of a young competitor when we validate the lies, cheating and deceit he practices in trying to abide by a thoroughly outmoded amateur code," the four-time Olympic rowing competitor said.

"Instead of teaching the great lessons of sports, honesty, integrity and fair play, we are teaching the worst. It is worse than hypocrisy, it is dishonorable, disreputable and disgusting."

A real cowboy and Indian affair came into being under the hands of Ranger Tom Slaughter. Slaughter ran over the Redskins for two PDs on the ground and added two more touchdowns through the air. Six conversions were made good by Slaughter kicks.

The fighting Irish lived up to their reputation Friday night by defeating the Guyton Tigers 33 to 8.

The Irish rolled the pigskin across the goal line in every quarter before the luckless Tigers could post their lone 8-point effort.

Appeal Causes Barring Of Calif. From Pacific 8

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Pacific-8 Conference has barred the University of California from 1971 conference football standings and any voice in selecting the 1972 Rose Bowl contestant until Cal's appeal against NCAA probationary status is decided.

The decision by the Pac-8 presidents and chancellors came Friday on a conference call. They announced afterward that if Cal's appeal is successful its conference games will be officially recognized. The announcement came on the eve of UC's conference opener today in Berkeley against Oregon State.

The Miami Warriors whooped all the way home after leaving the Patton Springs football squad holding a heavy load as they received a scalping of 66-12 favor of Miami.

The halftime score was 50-0 and Miami head coach Harold McCreary replaced the first squad with the second for the last half of the game.

Craig Baily made the first touchdown for the Warriors from 10 yards followed by the conversion run by Joe Bill Suehs. Next was David Faulkner on a quarterback keeper from 5 yards out with no conversion, followed by Craig Baily taking one over from the 20-yard line accompanied by Bill Gordon on the conversion.

Joe Bill Suehs was next to score from 5 yards out with Faulkner on the conversion. Later Baily put in a 5-yarder with no conversion.

David Faulkner connected with Joe Lunsford for another score and the conversion was put in by Faulkner.

In the second half John Ramsey skipped over the line from 20 yards out. The conversion failed.

Later Ramsey scored again on a 40-yard dash to pay dirt followed by the conversion taken over by Chuck Cox.

Cox got a TD under his belt also as he hopped over from 3 yards out. The conversion failed.

The two touchdowns Patton Springs did receive, were made against the second team," commented head coach Harold McCreary.

TORONTO (AP) — R. Howland Webster, one of five bidders seeking to purchase San Diego's National League baseball franchise, says he will get an answer on his offer next week from C. Arnholt Smith, Padres co-owner.

"However, I would not be surprised if they decide to stick it out another year," Webster said Friday night.

Webster, chairman of the board of The Toronto Globe and Mail, said he had made two bids for the Padres in recent months, but he did not reveal the amount of either offer. His first offer was made during the summer, but was rejected. He then was invited to submit another bid.

E.J. "Buzzy" Bavasi, the Padres press agent and other co-owner, admitted Friday that his organization had received five offers to purchase the club.

But Bavasi indicated that he and Smith would prefer to keep the club in San Diego.

San Diego, which has finished last in the West Division in each of its three seasons in the National League, was the only NL club to attract fewer than one million home spectators during the 1971 season. The Padres drew only 540,000.

In 1969, their first season, they attracted 513,000. Attendance in 1970 was 644,000.

If Toronto eventually gains a franchise, it would be the second Canadian city with a major league baseball team. The Montreal Expos joined the NL's East Division in 1969, the same year San Diego gained admittance to the league.

Penn State Drubs Army, 42-0 With 5 TD's In 11 Minutes

UNIVERSITY ARK, Pa. (AP) — Penn State thwarted most of the first half by a rash of mistakes, scored five touchdowns in 11 minutes, three by fancy-stepping Lydell Mitchell, enroute to a 42-0 college football victory over Army Saturday.

The Nittany Lions, 4-0, and ranked ninth in the nation, began the onslaught with eight seconds left in the first half when John Hofmager hit Scott Skarzynski with a 14-yard touchdown pass that made the halftime score 7-0.

The floodgates opened on the third play of the third quarter when Mitchell, who gained 161 yards on 22 carries, raced 40 yards up the middle for a touchdown.

After a blocked punt by John Skourtan, Penn State scored again on a nine-yard run by Mitchell.

A series later, reserve quarterback Steve Joseph hit tight end Bob Parsons with a 62-yard touchdown pass. Then Mitchell scored again at 11:08 of the period on an 11-yard touchdown pass from Joachim.

Army, now 2-2, turned Penn State back five straight times deep in toe Cadets' territory in the first half, with the help of two interceptions off John Hofmager passes, a fumble at the Army two and a goal line stand.

Penn State's final score came in the fourth quarter on a 6-yard pass from Jack Koniszewski to Chuck Merd.

BANGS DISEASE REPORT

Although Texans brag a lot about being first in a lot of areas, we can't brag about being the first state to clean up Brucellosis or Bangs disease. There seems to be no question that we will be the last of the fifty states to obtain a Modified Free status in a recent report I received. I learned that only nineteen counties in the U.S. as of last April 30, 1971 still had not obtained a Modified Brucellosis Free Status. Three of these were in South Dakota and the other sixteen were in Texas. A Modified Brucellosis Free Status means that not more than one per cent of the cattle and not more than five per cent of the herds in a county or state were found infected during the qualification period.

A Certified Free Status indicates that no brucellosis was present in final test of herds in counties and states. As of April 30, 1971 there were 1,618 counties in the U.S. that had obtained this status. If it takes Texas as long to obtain a Certified Status as it did a Modified Status, we will make this accomplishment by the turn of the next century.

The incidence of undulant fever in man has dropped in direct proportion to progress of the cattle testing program in the U.S. For instance, in 1947 when this program got underway there were close to six thousand, four hundred cases of undulant fever in man. These were not Modified Brucellosis Free States. In 1970 there were only two hundred twenty-four cases reported in the U.S. In 1970 fifty-eight per cent of the cases studied were individuals working in packing plants.

Panhandle Water

By FELIX W. RYALS

A poll was taken last month by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce on a selective list of items confronting West Texas. Water was the top vote getter. Those members of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce who voted in the poll came from every economic endeavor in the West Texas area.

During the past week, Governor Preston Smith accepted the resignation of Leslie Neal as a member of the all important Texas Water Rights Commission and immediately made a recess appointment of his old friend, Dorsey Hardeman of San Angelo, to the position. Many are predicting that it may be harder for Governor Smith to get him confirmed by the Texas Senate than it is for President Nixon to get a Southerner confirmed to the Supreme Court. Hardeman's term would run to February 1, 1975.

Hardeman has been executive director of the Commission. Neal had become ill while in Missouri last month and upon his return sent in his resignation. Hardeman, an attorney and former State senator, came to the Water Rights Commission in 1969 as executive director. A quirk in interpretation of the wage-freeze order makes it possible for Hardeman to be the highest-paid commissioner, since his salary will rise from $22,500 to $24,000, because his is a "promotion," while Chairman Otho Dent and Commissioner Joe Carter are "frozen" at $22,500 and did not get the raise to $24,000 which the Legislature had authorized for September 1.

TEXAS WATER LAW EXPLAINED

An impressive presentation on Texas water law, programs and progress was made by the National Water Commission Tuesday at Lakeway. The 7-member commission, originally appointed by President Johnson, had hearing as a part of its look at United States water matters, leading toward recommendations to Congress for a national water policy. The Commission then went to Lubbock for a look at the High Plains, and its need for imported water to maintain its agricultural economy. Chairman Buck Dinsley of the Water Development Board commented that perhaps the hearing should have been at Monahans, rather than on the shore of Lake Travis, so the Commission would get a better idea of Texas' drought problems. Chairman Charles Luce of New York called it the best presentation the commission had seen. Water Rights Commission Chairman Dent urged the Commission to call on Congress to give a higher priority to water resource development. He said the head is appearing far faster than the projects, as water development falls to the bottom of the scale of national attention. Water Quality Board Chairman Gordon Fulcher was critical of the Environmental Protection Agency and its guidelines, saying a grant was refused his home town of Atlanta because a line ran down a highway and might benefit commercial users. He called it "choking up over some guideline."

RIVER AUTHORITY OUTLINED

The unusual river-authority set-up in Texas was explained by seven river authority managers, David Brune, Fred Pfeiffer, R. H. Vahrenkamp, John Simmons, W. F. Weed, Sim Gideon and Walter Wells, and the National Water Commission was interested to hear of this type of organization, working both on water conservation, pollution-control and other facets of water. They were also interested in the work of the Gulf Coast Water Development Association as a regional approach to water and environmental problems. Wells and Pfeiffer explained what they are doing regionally.

Sugar-Beet Growth Researcher Named

AMARILLO — Dr. Steven Winter has been named to conduct studies in sugar beet production at the USDA Southwestern Great Plains Research Center, Bushland.

The move was effective Oct. 1, according to Dr. Kenneth B. Porter, professor in charge of the facility. He explained that Winter will work with expanded sugar-beet research during the 1972 crop year.

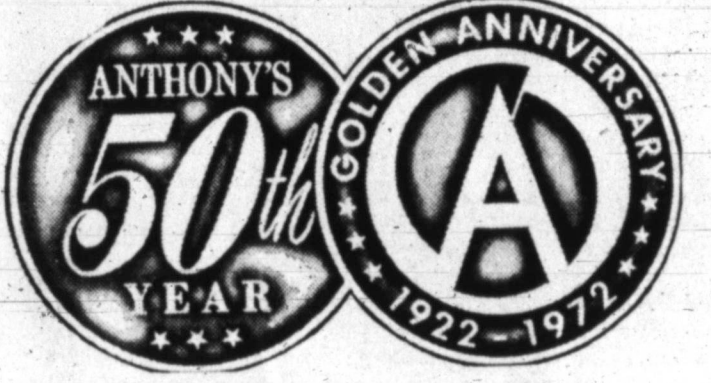

Winter is a native of Illinois, and received B.S. and M.S. degrees from the University of Illinois. He was awarded a Ph.D. from Purdue University in June. His training has been in crop ecology and production, and plant nutrition. While at both universities, Winter was a research assistant.

"He conducted research at Illinois and Purdue on the relationship of light, temperature, and leaf angle as it affects photosynthesis and grain yield in field corn," Porter commented.

Current research on sugar beets at Bushland includes weed control studies by Dr. Allen F. Wiese.

Suicide Prevention, Crisis Information Explained For Allegro Club Members

Suicide Prevention and crisis information were discussed by Don Lusher at a recent meeting of the Twentieth Century Allegro in the home of Mrs. Philip McCarley.

This program is around-the-clock service available to anyone with a critical problem, Lusher told the women.

At the present time in Pampa, an average of five calls per day are received, he said. Since its inception, incomplete calls, such as wrong numbers and hang-ups, have decreased from 50 percent to 20 percent he explained.

"Many times these are people who get cold feet and hang up," Lusher stated.

A significant number of calls are coming from incipient drug users, he pointed out. These calls are from the junior high and senior high age groups, with "hard-core" users almost never calling for help.

Lusher said that, as a result of the crisis information program, Genesis House for emotionally disturbed girls, has been founded in Pampa. Present plans are to provide for five girls in residence during a prolonged period, and two girls on a temporary basis. A clinical psychologist gives counseling to each girl twice a week, he said. When possible, the girl's family is counseled, also.

Lusher told the women the estimated budget for operation of Genesis House during this next year is $22,000, with $6,000 of this amount already raised by the First Presbyterian Church of Pampa. The Amarillo Mental Health and Retardation Board will match the funds raised to finance this pilot program for Panhandle areas and outside Amarillo, he explained.

Members attending were Mmes. A. W. Bassett, D. W. Boddy, Kenneth Giggy, G. E. Lunsford, Robert D Mack, John R. Reeve, Jr., Bill Rice and W. R. Whitsell.

Rho Eta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi was recently host to a Superstition Party for couples in PamCel Hall. By Abigail Van Claren

DEAR ABBY: Five months ago I split up with a man who had been living with me for over a year. I paid the rent and groceries and practically supported him. He ran up tremendous bills and took money from my purse. He wrote bad checks which I made good. In general, I acted like a fool and let him run me $10,000 into debt before I realized I had had enough.

I asked him to leave, and then discovered he had taken my credit card, and charged over $500 before he returned it. Now all my savings are gone and I had to take an extra job to pay off the bills he stuck me with. As I am still indebted to this credit card company they revoked my card and threatened legal action against me, but agreed to drop it if I will sign an affidavit of forgery against this man. I loved him for years and hate to do it. His salary is already attached and others are standing in line to sue him.

If I sign the affidavit it would cost him his job and he'd go to prison. I know he deserves it, but I'm sorry for him. What would you do?

OLDEB, BUT WISER
DEAR OLDEB: If "others" are standing in line, he will get what he deserves whether you sign the affidavit or not. So if you're sorry for him, let "George" do it.

DEAR ABBY: While going thru the receiving line at a wedding I recently attended, I introduced myself to the mother of the bride because I had never met her before. Then I said, "Congratulations!" She burst into laughter, which attracted the attention of others around us, and loudly exclaimed, "Don't congratulate ME! I've been married for 23 years. Tell that to the newlyweds." I was very much embarrassed, but said nothing. Abby, I have always thought it was proper to congratulate the families of the bride and groom. Was I wrong?

ROCHESTER, MICHIGAN
DEAR ROCH: You were right. One offers congratulations to the bridegroom, best wishes to the bride, and prayers for the kinfolk.

DEAR ABBY: A mother complained because her mother-in-law came to her grandson's birthday party bringing a present for the birthday child and another one - exactly like it for his little brother, so the brother wouldn't feel left out.

I think the custom of giving presents to someone on his birthday is foolish. The one celebrating his birthday should give the presents.

My wife is a school teacher, and suggests that the child who is having the birthday bring treats to the other children!

I have always made a contribution to some charitable organization on MY birthday just to thank God for giving me another year.

J.J. OTTO: WAUKEGAN, ILL.
DEAR MR. O.: Beautiful idea!

CONFIDENTIAL TO WASHINGTONIAN: I don't know how many illegitimate births "The Pill" has prevented, but today I heard from THREE pregnant 13-year-olds!

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send $1 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069.

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Mayor Terry Schrunk said Tuesday that Portland may not be able to afford visits by presidential candidates in 1972.

Schrunk told a City Council conference the 24-hour visit of President Nixon Sept. 25 cost the city $12,000 for police overtime pay.

"If the federal government expects all presidential candidates to be protected," Schrunk said, "it is going to have to provide money to the cities for protective services."

"The city simply cannot afford this kind of expense," he said.

In the afternoon, the group visited the White Deer Lands Museum, where Mrs. Jimmie Thompson told of the history of the community; and Carver Center where Dr. James F. SETTLING IN — It's always exciting to arrive at camp and to greet old friends made during summer camp and at other camporees. Shown stowing their gear at the Girl Scout Cadette Camporee at Camp Cibola last weekend are, left to right, Ebbie Horton, Sara Riehart, Marilyn Ballard and Vicki Luke, all of Pampa.

Femininity Important To Business Woman

By JURATE KAZICKAS
Associated Press Writer

MIAMI (AP) — The first female vice-president of a major airline says she likes men in business to be dynamic, but that women should be soft-spoken and undemanding. "If we stay feminine, and are not totally aggressive, we'll be successful in business," says Mrs. Edwina Gilbert, a stewardess for Eastern Airlines 15 years ago and now the highest-ranking woman executive in domestic airlines.

Her job as division vice president -In-Flight Services includes supervising 7 Eastern bases and 3200 flight attendants, 3050 of them women. Mrs. Gilbert replaces a man and reportedly will be earning his same salary, an undisclosed figure more than $25,000. Mrs. Gilbert says she never had any ambitions to be an executive and that she never experienced any discrimination in her career as manager of a training school. "Eastern has always had women in management. The criterion for promotion is competency and talent, not sex."

But she does admit that perhaps the current movement towards women's rights may have influenced Eastern to add her name recently to the 68 male Vice Presidents currently on their board.

The soft-spoken 38-year-old Mrs. Gilbert lives in Coral Gables with her husband, Frank, a computer company president. They have no children.

"My husband was delighted with my promotion. He has always encouraged me to stay busy and get involved, quite possibly so I'll keep my feet out of his business," said Mrs. Gilbert.

She works a minimum 10 hour day and often on weekends. She has no hobbies, preferring to spend what free time she has with her husband. He frequently joins her when she is out of town for business.

Though Eastern stewardesses were one of the first to adopt "mini-pants" as uniforms, Mrs. Gilbert says she'd never wear them herself, to the office, and prefers dresses to pantsuits most of the time.

When asked about her future ambitions, Mrs. Gilbert replied with a little laugh. "Oh, one step at a time."

The Pampa High School drama department needs Victorian-style items for its fall production of Arsenic and Old Lace.

Items needed are a hat tree, a six-place setting of table silver, a floor lamp, three fake guns, three pair of handcuffs, 3 rubber blackjacks, and three night sticks.

Anyone having any of these items the department could use may contact Gayla Riggsby, 55271, or Mrs. Calvin Lacy, 92409.

Ecology Projects Highlight Cadette Girl Scout Camporee

Cadette Girl Scouts and their leaders, about 200 strong, braved rain and wind last weekend to hold the Quivira Council's annual Cadette Camporee, at Camp Cibola, near Clarendon.

With some troops arriving Friday evening and the rest settling in Saturday morning, the camporee officially opened with a flag ceremony at 10 a.m.

Morning assignments were given to each troop for ecology projects, which included building steps at various locations on the campsite, other soil erosion projects and picking up debris along the area roadways.

Highlight of the afternoon was all-camp "splash-time" in the camp's swimming pool with Mrs. Jerry Carter and Mrs. Wayne Jones, both of Pampa and Mrs. Larry Nash, of Berger, serving as lifeguards.

A campfire program, during which each troop presented a skit, followed the evening campfire flag ceremony, with camporee director, serving as master of ceremonies. The campfire closed with a candlelight ceremony at which the girls and adults re-dedicated themselves to the principles and ideals of Girl Scouting.

For the camporee, each troop set up its own campsite, provided its own equipment and supplies, cooking each meal over a campfire. Troops attended from the council's entire 10-county area.

Camp closed following the church services Sunday morning, with Rev. Melton Joehetz of Clarendon, Methodist minister, officiating.

Troops carrying special responsibilities for the camporee events were morning flag ceremony Troop 3, Pampa evening flag ceremony, Troop 87-75, Pampa; building campfire, Troop 141 of Berger; campfire ceremony, Troop 4, Pampa; and church, Troop 124 of Berger.

Mrs. White Explains Projects, Plans Of Hospital Auxiliary At Meeting

Miss Vermell Meador, director of nursing services at Highland General Hospital, presented the program on her experiences and observations of her recent trip to Japan at the meeting of the Hospital auxiliary in the home of Mrs. E. B. Wilkerson.

A summation of the year's activities, new services, goals achieved and new goals was presented by Mrs. C. M. White, president.

"During this past year, the auxiliary has continued to staff the services of admissions, information, laboratory, surgery and X-ray, and complimentary nursery photos for new mothers," she told the women.

New services initiated include assisting in the medical records and physical therapy departments, cataloging the new library, forming an art committee to arrange for displays in the lobby, she related.

A junior auxiliary program with 30 members, has been established, she pointed out.

Since last September, projects completed include installation of a flag pole and walkway, purchase of a photo-therapy lamp for the nursery; three convertible chairs for the intensive Care unit waiting room, information desk and chairs for the main lobby, and book shelves for the new library.

Now in progress, Mrs. Smith said, is the furnishing of new draperies for 40 patient rooms.

"Service through Awareness of Public Relations" is the 1971 theme for the Texas Association of Hospital Auxiliaries, she told the women.

Mrs. White explained that public relations is important to every auxiliary through patient contact, association with hospital staff and personnel, and member cooperation and support.

"Hopefully, as we look back and ahead, we can see a broader dimension is being added to our public relations function," she concluded.

"Through services and projects, a measure of assurance, comfort and even cheeriness is being offered to patient and visitor alike."

SUNDAY, OCT. 18

Your birthday today: This year before you—chores—being organized—and scheduled in large-scale groups, or doing something simple all by yourself. Whether you specialize or go it alone, there is excitement, much to learn, extreme adjustment to achieve. Today's natives always have strong motivations to achieve victory, usually great hope for public recognition as well.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): This Sunday you are quite visible to all you do. Today's issues demand work at all. You're motivated—be swinging with questions, latent controversy.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Final outcomes do not change much, but short-range plans are readily used. Be prepared to improvise or go along with a quick switch.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): At best it's a mixed Sunday with a good chance that somebody taking you up on what he thought you said will land you in a moment of indecision or contradictory circumstances.

CANCER (June 21-July 20): A premiere on thinking things over is higher than usual. Your own situation can be deepened, made more enjoyable with a new analysis and action to follow up.

LEO (July 21-Aug. 20): People places, people who've been there, didn't get things long but friends all offer tall stories. Make notes, ask questions.

VIRGO (Aug. 21-Sept. 20): Surprise, great or small, promises to overtake you. Where you're neglected, detail on long-standing matters, the impact may be considerable.

LIBRA (Sept. 21-Oct. 20): The choice may be between extra room and in company or lots of company is not enough—your delay in starting could land you in the least wanted spot.

SCORPIO (Oct. 21-Nov. 20): It's a great day so long as you stay earthy. What you're said, temptation is to operate your own.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 21-Dec. 20): Make an occasion of serious, peaceful enjoyment of the simplest living. Your favorite pastimes are plenty of evidence to operate your own.

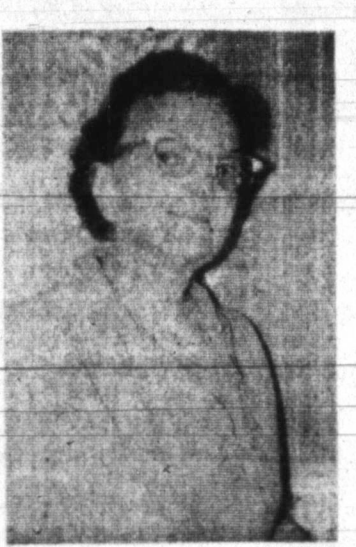

CAPRICORN (Dec. 21-Jan. 19): For once a late start is desirable. Do what you must after it's clear you have to explain nothing that is irrelevant.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Try a novel recreation, particularly anything with moderate physical exercise. You may be neglecting health protection.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): A survey located for you assets and resources you hadn't expected to find. This everything-in-one as fast as you get out of it.

Worthy matrons eventually settle in some specialty and seek full mastery of it.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Trust your intuition, ignore distractions, physical competition, interference. Focus steadily on social contacts and progress.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Avoid extremes; have no hesitation at changing plans and schedules to get around last-minute conditions. Some ideas turn out unrealistic and bound to fail.

LEO (July 21-Aug. 20): Your special abilities, technical experience stand you in good stead for momentary earnings. Today's bargains are well-stocked, however.

VIRGO (Aug. 21-Sept. 20): Bring in only what you know you need avoiding excess. Self-expression on the spur of the moment is the key to the key to happiness today.

LIBRA (Sept. 21-Oct. 20): It's up to you what you will achieve. Your motivation and hard work create your tools and attract materials with which to build.

SCORPIO (Oct. 21-Nov. 20): Problems double so it's a moderate day of reasonable progress with a couple hours of duty. Home life in the evening.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 21-Dec. 20): Clarity of view and purpose permits you to stride forward into an energetic phase. Today the striving and your daily progress — there's a run of it!

CAPRICORN (Dec. 21-Jan. 19): Your journey may turn out longer than planned or provide better results than expected. House yourself to make more changes feasible.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): The past comes back to you in pleasant nostalgia; perhaps old scores to settle, perhaps people trying to stir long-range dissension.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Bargains are to be approached with skepticism and an expert's opinion. If it's still a bargain, stretch a bit to take advantage of it.

A deal was closed Friday in which Fred Neslage and Ed Myatt became co-owners of the Pampa Motor Co., Inc. formerly Bell Pontiac.

Neslage and Myatt bought the interest formerly owned by David Bell.

They also signed with General Motors as sales outlet for Pontiac automobiles and GMC trucks and with American Motors Co. as local dealers for Ambassador, Javelin, Matador, Hornet and Gremlin cars.

The new owners announced the local dealership is being refurbished and new automatic shop equipment is being installed.

DALLAS (AP) — Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, "D-Tex.," is capable of becoming "the greatest senator in the U. S. Senate," former President Lyndon B. Johnson declared Thursday night.

Both men spoke at a $100-a-plate dinner attended by 1,800 persons. Sponsors said it was given to help retire Bentsen campaign debts of $100,000 to $200,000 left from his successful 1970 race against former Sen. Ralph Yarborough.

Johnson described Bentsen as "bright, dynamic and able," adding, "I think he's got what it takes."

Bentsen told the dinner crowd that he is on guard against "Potomac fever." He said, "I'm not going to catch that disease if I can help it. I want to assure you of this: My roots will remain here, in my native state of Texas."

Talking to executives of the Dallas News earlier, Bentsen said a bill he introduced the day before would put constraints on what he described as "exclusionary evidence" — causing courts not to consider the weight of the evidence against the size of a crime.

"As a result of this," the senator said, "we have too many criminals stepping through these loopholes and walking to freedom when they should be put in jail."

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Another bastion of female privacy has fallen to the drive for equality of the sexes.

Atty. Gen. J. Shane Creamer ruled Thursday that beauty parlors in Pennsylvania may not refuse to cut or style the hair of male patrons.

Creamer said his opinion was based on an amendment to the Pennsylvania Constitution which prohibits discrimination on account of sex. He said a woman's sex has never kept her from having her hair cut or shaped by a barber.

TEEN DANCES — The Center has changed its schedule toward the weekly teen dance on Friday nights to having them after the home football and basketball games and on holiday weekends. This was made necessary because of the decline in participation at the dances. It would seem that the teen dancing is not as popular as it once was.

The next dance will be after the Harvesters home football game on October 22 when the Bustey, Brown, Band will play from 9-12 p.m. Homecoming festivities will be held at the Youth Center this year on Nov. 5 when Palo Duro comes to town. The homecoming dance will be from 9-12 p.m. and Wolfgang will play. Only high school and college age students will be admitted to the homecoming dance.

BASKETBALL LEAGUES — The Center is trying to start publicly early this year on the basketball season in hopes that we might be able to organize a youth league or church league along with the regular league. The youth league would be for Jr. and Sr. high age students and could be sponsored by a church, organization, club or just an independent group. If you have a youth group who is interested, please contact the Center Director, George Smith, and give him this information.

The regular organizational meeting for the men's league will be held on Nov. 8 at 7:00 p.m. Teams from Pampa, Borger, and any other surrounding area are invited to join in and participate. League play will begin on or about Dec. 1. Entry fee will be $50 plus the referee's fees which is $5.00 a game per team.

WOMEN'S EXERCISE CLASS — The Center offers to the women a private exercise and swim class on Monday and Friday mornings. The exercise classes meet in the gym at 9:30 and the instructor leads in a recorded session. At 10:10 a.m. you are invited to an informal swim time until 11:30. No swim lessons are given.

There is a baby sitting service available for mothers who have children at home. The charge per child for the full 2 hours is only 50 cents or only 25 cents for the exercise class. To participate you need only be a Center member which is $8 per year.

MEMBERSHIPS — For the information of those new in Pampa, the Center is a community building and is a non-profit organization. Revenue to run the Center is derived from a membership dues and contributions from several clubs, organizations and individuals. Absolutely no tax money from our city, state or federal governments is used or has ever been used here.

Our participation is through a membership plan either limited or unlimited. Our regular membership is called the limited plan and this entitles you to full use of the gym, swimming pool and recreation hall. An individual membership is only $5 for six months or $8 per year. A family membership which includes all members of the immediate family is $12 for six months or $20 per year.

Our unlimited plan entitles the owner to the above accommodations and also use of the new health facility. The health facility includes an exercise room with all the latest exercise equipment such as barrell rollers, facial machines, jungle pulley machine, bicycles, weights, vibrator belts, etc., along with 2 handball and racquet ball courts and a sauna room. Women our sauna room produces a dry heat and does not affect the hair in any way. An individual membership here costs $65 for six months or $118 per year. A husband-wife combination plan costs only $90 for six months and $166.00 per year. We do have a six months installment plan and if you are interested you may call the health facility at 665-4381 and inquire in detail about this.

VOLLEYBALL RESULTS — First Baptist Church No. 1 15-8 and 15-5 over 1st National Bank; First Bapts. No. 2 over Central Baptist Church No. 2 and Sharp's Motorcycle Sales over Pampa News 15-0 and 15-0.

NEW YORK (AP) — "Mister Rogers Neighborhood," a series for preschool children on the Public Broadcast Service, has received the endorsement of the American Academy of Pediatrics.

Assets Of Dallas Firm Frozen

AUSTIN (AP) — State Insurance Commissioner Clay Cotten has frozen the assets of a Sherman-based life insurance company in his first action under a new law designed to keep holding companies from raiding the assets of their insurance subsidiaries.

Cotten placed Family Savings Live under supervision of Tom I. McFarling, the insurance department's receiver-liquidator.

A Dec. 6 hearing was set to determine whether the firm is solvent and whether the insurance company and UCS Holding Corp. — which controls it — are complying with the 1971 Texas Holding Company Act.

Cotten's order says he also wants to determine whether the firm has complied with a new state law prohibiting transactions between an insurance company and its officers, directors and major shareholders.

Offshore Drilling Foes Gird For New Battles

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP)—Buoyed by the ban of two new drilling platforms, foes of offshore oil in the Santa Barbara Channel are girding for new battles in the courts and Congress.

Conservation groups and city and county officials here, where an offshore oil well blow-out in January 1969 blackened beaches and created an 800-square-mile oil slick, say they won't rest until an oil-free sanctuary on federal leases is created.

They want a sanctuary inviolate until technology is developed to prevent blowouts and to keep oil from reaching the scenic beaches if an accident occurs.

"Oh heavens no, we're not relaxing. The big battles have just begun," said Louise Sidenberg, who repeatedly has rallied anti-oil forces since the Union Oil Co. blowout dumped hundreds of thousands of gallons of oil into the channel.

Anti-oil forces score an important victory Sept. 20 when Interior Secretary Rogers C.B. Morton, after reportedly consulting President Nixon, denied permits for two more drilling platforms oil companies wanted to erect. The platforms were to join five others already rising above the channel's waters.

Morton said the platforms wouldn't be allowed "because of overriding environmental considerations."

A storm of protest had risen from Santa Barbara and part of California's congressional delegation Sept. 2 when the Interior Department released its final environmental impact statement prepared for the President's Council on Environmental Quality. The statement conceded that erection of the two platforms would harm the resort area's scenic value, but said there was no other way to tap oil deposits and reduce pressure in the reservoir beneath the channel.

And the statement warned that if permits for the platforms were denied, the U.S. government could expect legal action by the oil companies.

Santa Barbarans interpreted this to mean issuance of the permits was imminent. California's two Democratic senators, Alan Cranston and John V. Tunney, made speeches on the Senate floor asking Nixon to intervene, and Rep. Charles M. Teague R-Calif., who represents Santa Barbara, wrote and talked to Morton.

Morton denied the permits, but three days later Texaco, Gulf Oil, Union Oil and Mobil Oil filed suit in U.S. District Court in Los Angeles. They seek to have Morton's decision rescinded and permission to erect the platforms immediately.

EMPLOYEES HONORED — Three employees of Cabot Corporation, machinery division, were honored recently for 25 years of service with the company. The men were presented a service certificate and a watch at a luncheon at the Coronado Inn. Honored were, left to right, Wayne F. "Curley" Mulanax, Edwin A. "Red" Finson, and Virgil Frasher. Herb Hyatt, also receiving a 25 year award, was unable to attend. Hank Donahue, vice president and general manager of the Division is at right.

Skelly Honors Employe for Thirty Years

Aaron E. Ball, engineer at Skelly Oil Company's Kingsmill Gasoline Plant here, will observe his 30th anniversary with the firm October 13, and will be presented a diamond-studded pin as a service award.

Ball began his Skelly career in the manufacturing department as a laborer at the Cunningham, Kansas, Gasoline Plant in 1941. He has held various positions in the Schafer and Crawford Gasolint Plants, and was transferred here in 1965 as a field supervisor.

He has held his present post since 1969.

Ball is a graduate of Cunningham High School and is a member of the First Christian Church here.

He and his wife, Margaret, live at 224 N. Wells here, and have four children, Mrs. James Schommer, Mrs. James Beckie, Donald and Lawrence.

FILM IN LAY LANGUAGE

'Pipeline To Japan' Set For API Meet

John R. Houser, Phillips Petroleum Co. gas sales director for the central and eastern U.S., will be the featured speaker at the Thursday night meeting of the Panhandle Chapter, American Petroleum Institute.

Prior to his address on "Petroleum Energy-Present Crisis" Houser will show a color film "Pipeline to Japan." The picture, narrated by actor Paul Richards, describes the design, construction and operation of liquefied natural gas from the Western Hemisphere.

The film will follow the flow of gas from the Alaskan fields through the LNG liquefaction plant to the special tankers that will transport it to Japan. There it will be regasified and used both for electric power generation and as fuel for millions of Japanese customers.

A 6:30 p.m. social hour precedes the buffet dinner and program at the Pampa County Club.

DALLAS (AP) — The dove may symbolize peace to millions of persons but the widow of a famous bird sculptor thinks the symbol should be a swan.

The mute swan, Mrs. Edward Marshall Boehm said in Dallas recently, has been the inspiration of poets, artists and dancers because of its 'dazzling beauty and tranquil manner.' Doves are "about the most lascivious, selfish, warrior-like birds around," she said.

Mrs. Boehm, whose husband died in 1969, came to Dallas with a lifelike 300-pound porcelain mute swan made in her factory.

John Rowlands, Failure

The kid was a candidate for therapeutic abortion right from the start. You can't exactly say he was illegitimate, because the record isn't that clear. But one thing is sure, the father didn't stick around. He was baptized John Rowlands, lived with his mother's father until the old man died, and then was adopted by his mother's brother. In 1847, when he was six years old, he snuffed out the workhouse.

That was in Wales. The chap was a monster. The kid took his abuse for nine long years. Then when he got big enough, he beat him up and ran away. His father's kin would have nothing to do with him. He tried his hand at teaching with the help of a cousin, but that didn't work out. He ran off to Liverpool where he found an uncle, but he was too poor to live off him. About the only thing left was to go to sea, so he did.

In 1859, when John Rowlands was 18 years old, he hit New Orleans. There he met an older man, H.M. Stanley, who proved to be a friend. He took him in, fed him, gave him a job, even adopted him as a son. That bit of luck didn't last long. The friend died within two years.

In 1861, Rowlands enlisted in the Confederate Army. The very next spring he found himself at Shiloh, was captured by the Yanks, and sent to a Union prison in Chicago. Having a British accent, he was able to talk his way into a release by agreeing to enroll in the Federal artillery. He was discharged in 30 days as unfit. In 1862, he went back to Liverpool dead broke and sick. He returned to his home village of Denbigh in Wales. He staggered up to his mother's door. "Get lost," she told him. Back to the sea again. But the ship wrecked off Spain. In August 1864, he signed up with the U.S. Navy. As his luck would have it, the war ended. There he made the supreme decision. Completely at wit's end before and since, he went into the newspaper business. He crossed the American plains to Salt Lake City and Denver writing about what he saw for the Missouri Democrat. The Compulsory unionism of this group would produce an additional $600 million yearly in dues, and these in turn would have an "incalculable political impact."

We surmise that not all members of the BAA would look forward to incalculable impacts, political or otherwise. If not, those who dissent might take note of where the association is headed. They may in fact be headed for an incalculable impact, and may want to get off before they get it.

Why do whales drive upon the beach? Some 150 false killer whales did just that a year ago in Florida. Towed to sea by boats, they immediately hit the beach again. After a second towing effort, about one-third found their way to deeper water. A thoughtful observer stuck his hand in the water and found it to be abnormally cold.

Remember the notorious Malaysian frog war in November, 1970. That has been reinterpreted. Afterward there were a lot of tadpoles around. Obviously, some newsmen don't know the difference between love and war.

Question Box

EDITOR:

Noticed where L.P. Fort was carping about losing a few gallons of gas, or at least I assume that was what he was trying to convey in his message of Oct. 5, 1971.

I think that a great majority of us adults have at one time or another contributed the customary five gallons he is talking about.

I suggest that he should look on it as part of the community cost of raising children and let it go at that. After all they could do a whole lot worse than swipe a little gas, now, couldn't they?

I have over a period of several years donated quite a few gallons without really thinking too much about it. After all how are you going to stop it? Anyway if the kids got a good time out of it, it wasn't a complete loss.

By the way did you in your entire life never swipe anything?

Mme. Chiang to U.S. to Plead For Taiwan if Health Permits

WASHINGTON — There is a chance Mme. Chiang Kai-shek, wife of the long-time head of Nationalist China, may come to the U.S. to participate in the intensifying opposition to President Nixon's new policy of rapprochement with Red China.

Such a visit is being strongly urged by leaders of the organizations and forces challenging the President's course.

Both Mme. Chiang and her 84-year-old husband reportedly favor the idea.

But there is one critical reservation — her health.

Mme. Chiang is 75 and in delicate health. When she last visited the U.S., in 1966, the announced purpose was for treatment of a "skin ailment." She stayed 14 months, and traveled throughout the country giving a number of talks.

The question of Mme. Chiang's stamina is understood to have been raised with American friends who proposed her coming here.

It was pointed out to them that such a trip, involving extensive traveling and numerous appearances, is certain to be very strenuous and far too much for her strength and endurance. Her husband, the Generalissimo, particularly stressed this factor.

However, the plan is still deemed "under advisement."

For Mme. Chiang, visiting the U.S. would be an old experience. She has been here many times and in various roles.

During World War II when the Nationalist-Chinese were allies of the U.S. in fighting Japan, Mme. Chiang was a guest of the White House. She addressed a joint session of Congress and was warmly acclaimed.

She spent seven months in this country in 1952-53, traveling widely and vigorously advocating the Nationalist cause. The Communist rulers in Peking were then loudly threatening to attack Taiwan, and were actively bombarding Quemoy and Matsu, two Nationalist strongholds near the mainland.

Five years later, Mme. Chiang again returned to the U.S. for a 13-month stay between 1958-59. The Eisenhower administration was then in office and more friendly to the Nationalists than the previous Truman regime. Secretary of State Dulles was particularly cordial, and enunciated a policy of active U.S. support of Taiwan.

Throughout this period, the Taiwan government received more than $1 billion in economic and military aid. Strong U.S. air and naval forces are still stationed there.

Visit To Taiwan

Several months ago, this column disclosed that inner White House circles were increasingly concerned over growing strains and stresses with Nationalist China as a result of the new Red China policy.

One plan under consideration as a possible placatory measure was a trip to Taiwan by Secretary of State Rogers. He had been there in 1969, and conferred with top Nationalist officials.

A return visit is still a possibility. A high authoritative source told this column, "The matter is on a back burner for the present, but still simmering."

It was explained further developments depend on what happens at the United Nations on the Administration's so-called "Two-China policy" — the admission of Red China and the Nationalists — retaining membership.

A foremost reason advanced for Secretary Rogers going to Taiwan was to forcefully underscore the Administration's unequivocal commitment to existing treaties to defend that island. It was felt this was particularly important following the Senate Foreign Relations Committee's unanimous approval of a proposal repealing the 1955 Congressional resolution empowering the President to employ military forces to defend both Taiwan and Quemoy and Matsu.

That repeal measure, sponsored by Sens. Charles Mathias (R-Md.) and Frank Church (D-Idaho) both leading doves, is still pending. Its prospects of approval by the House are dim.

However, even if passed by Congress, the resolution will in no way affect this country's 1955 defense pact with the Chiang Kai-shek regime.

The Mathias-Church declaration is nothing more than political rhetoric. It has no effective relation to the treaty. The White House went out of its way to stress that with a statement that "adoption of this resolution will in no way affect our commitment to defense of the treaty area or our ability to end it."

Taking a Look

Rep. Thomas Morgan (D-Pa.), veteran chairman of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, is considering holding a series of hearings on the Administration's new China policy. It would be the committee's first study in this field in a number of years. Secretary Rogers and other top officials would be invited to testify.

Purpose of the inquiry would be "strictly informational," says Morgan. "It is essential that both Congress and the American people know exactly what the Administration is doing in this strategically crucial part of the world. Our sole purpose is to ascertain what is going on and why, what the Administration is thinking, planning and aiming to do."

Boomerang Laws

The publication "The American Rifleman" warns that present signs indicate that early action on the gun control issue will be forthcoming in Congress. It outlines the main provisions of one measure which include a requirement for the registration of all firearms, including rifles and shotguns, the gradual outlawing of individual private ownership of handguns entirely and the placing of rifle and shotgun ammunition sales back under the 1968 Gun Control Act, which specified that all ammunition sales must be registered.

In gun controls, as in many other areas of government regulations that have been steadily narrowing the liberties of American citizens, it will be found that one control calls for another. This year, the drive is on against handguns. Next year, "loopholes" in the law will call for stiffer controls over all firearms. Eventually, the goal will become total firearm prohibition. Meanwhile, the criminal mind will be working on new and ingenious ways to pry on a defenseless citizenry. The result will be tragic if the criminal is ever freed of the fear of meeting an armed citizen who has a gun and knows how to use it.

As "The American Rifleman" observes editorially, "What needs controlling is not guns but criminals, a point that some antigun lawmakers persistently miss. And stiffer sentences for gunmen and ambushers seem like the very thing to take them out of circulation." Also, as "The Rifleman" comments, "Certainly anyone who would kill a policeman is not going to register his gun first." Laws that destroy basic rights always boomerang. Outlawing gun ownership would be no exception. — Industrial News Review

Miscalculation At Attica Given Blame For Tragedy

By PAUL HARVEY

Now another quasi-governmental group is going to investigate what happened that dark day at Attica prison. We don't have to wait for the completion of these probes to know one thing: A bluff didn't work.

In that one respect what did, didn't and should have happened in that prison is a microcosm of a world situation where the bluffer had better be prepared to die.

We've enough testimony from guards, inmates and officials at Attica prison to know now that 42 men died from a miscalculation. The cons were bluffing and the authorities called their bluff.

Russell Holme, a prisoner at the time, since released, says the inmates "never thought guns would be fired, just gas."

Other inmates have affirmed that they never expected any weapons, other than gas, would be used against them.

Nor did the rebellious cons intend to use their knives. While they stood behind their hostages with knives at their throats and their faces forced upward so that police in helicopters could see and evaluate the threat, they — at least most of them — did not expect to finish off their captives.

It was a convincing bluff. Hostages were convinced. Most of them who survived expressed surprise.

In any showdown situation there is one inoperable: The effect of fatigue. In this instance, the rotten weather, the unsanitary conditions in the prison yard, tedious problems of guarding hostages and the inevitable loss of sleep would have resulted either in submission or in desperation, in surrender or in a blood bath. You never know whether an ### oxygen-starved brain is going to lead to resignation or to a misleading euphoria.

Inmates with knives are no match for guardsmen with guns and even the diopiest of them know that. Their only chance for a successful insurrection requires taking and threatening hostages — and counting on you to be blinded by tears.

Bad guys have bluffed their way across the pages of history for generations — from Genghis Khan to Hitler — until enough good guys called their bluff, stood their ground, said, "No further!"

And resisting the barbarians some innocents died — in ancient Attica and in modern Attica.

But the law survived.

Skin Stains Occur With Pregnancy

Dear Dr. Lamb — During my last two pregnancies I developed brown stains on my face, on my cheeks and around the lips and eye lids. Cosmetic creams, lotions, etc., don't help. My husband doesn't let me wear makeup (except eye makeup) — Does age have anything to do with the stains?

Dear Reader — You are describing the "mask" of pregnancy which occurs in some women. It is the same pigment that occurs with a suntan but of course it occurs as a mask or in spots — one might say giant freckles. They are not harmful.

Pigmentation of the skin comes from cells deep under the surface cells. The cells of the outer skin continuously migrate outward as new cells are formed. Thus people are continuously shedding. The cells pigmented from suntan gradually scale off and the tan is lost. If the pigment cells keep on "putting" out increased amounts of pigment then the color is retained. This is what happens in the mask of pregnancy and the brown spots will remain for long periods in many cases. Creams and lotions are not likely to get at the source of the pigment deep beneath the surface. They simply cover up the skin and prevent further tanning that brings out the spots. The best treatment is time and avoiding the sun.

Brown spots also occur with increasing age. These are usually over the hands or on the face and are stimulated by years of exposure to sun and wind. There is not much you can do for these either. It is wise to have them looked at by your doctor in case one of them might be a skin cancer. These can be completely cured if they are treated promptly.

Dear Dr. Lamb — I'm writing since my husband reads your column. I've sailed through the menopause without a problem. He still thinks I should be taking hormones. I am in better health now than I've ever been, more attractive. I keep my weight below 130 and am 5 feet 5. He read an article where hormones performed miracles, immediately wrinkles disappeared, a woman is better sexually, etc.

I believe hormones are just for people with problems. I haven't any. Still being whistled at age 54.

Dear Reader — Hormones do a great deal of good for women who need them. They do not, however, prevent wrinkles. These occur because of loss of elasticity and stretching of the skin. There is a tendency to inherit the family skin characteristics. Exposure to sun and wind also create a problem.

If your husband is so sold on hormones tell him to take some himself. It might improve his whistle power.

TRUTH ABOUT CUBA

Recently television station WPBT in Miami prepared a documentary film on the Cuban exiles living in the United States. The film, entitled "This Exile and This Stranger," presents an accurate portrait of these people and the tyranny they fled.

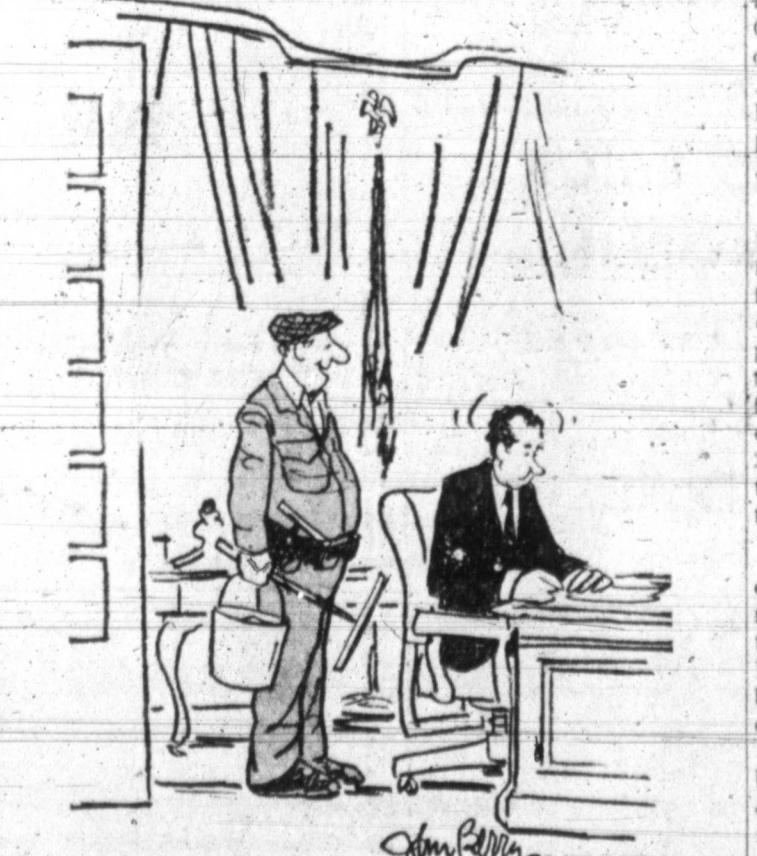

The Cubans left their country because, in the words of one woman interviewed in the film, "there is no freedom of worship... freedom of individual enterprise has been abolished and everything run by the government... even the families... the children... everything."

The film contradicts farleft propaganda which implies that pre-Castro conditions were very bad: "Before Fidel Castro, Cuba, when compared with other Latin American countries was fifth in per capita literacy, fourth in gross national product, third in medicine."

Everyone who leaves Cuba for the United States faces confiscation of all his goods. One family told in the film, how even wedding rings and photographs of the family were taken from them. Many of the families risked their lives to escape. It is estimated that 30,000 Cubans have died attempting to flee Castro's tyranny.

Once in the United States, the exiles have become prosperous, respected citizens. They have transformed slum areas of Miami into neat homes and businesses. Only about two percent of them are unemployed. The documentary film brought out the strong desire of nearly all of the exiles to see their homeland free from Communist domination. This film is a tribute to the courage of the Cuban people and an accurate rendering of the evil of Castro's regime. It deserves wide publicity and distribution.

I recently moved to Pampa from Arlington, Texas where I was the District Manager for American Motors Sales Corporation. I have been in the automobile business, both retail and wholesale, for the past fifteen years and I feel that I can help a customer in every way possible to be completely safe and satisfied with the excellent service and customer relations at Pampa Motor Co., Inc. My family and I, including my 3 1/2 year old twin sons, are very happy to be living in such a clean and friendly city as Pampa. We hope to have the pleasure and the opportunity to meet you in the very near future.
