Indian Army Reported Attacking E. Pakistan

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Pakistan radio broadcast said today India "has launched an all-out offensive against East Pakistan" without a formal declaration of war.

The Pakistan government broadcast in English from Karachi was monitored here. It said "the Indian army has concentrated all its might in the Jessore area where the attack has been launched by nine Indian infantry divisions, four Indian mountain divisions and two Indian tank regiments.

"Fierce fighting continued in Jessore throughout the night and the early hours of the morning," the broadcast said.

The Pakistan government broadcast claimed the offensive followed increasing attacks, minor and major skirmishes and a buildup of more than 12 Indian infantry divisions around East Pakistan in recent months.

The United States, the Soviet Union and Communist China all have urged restraint by India and Pakistan.

U.S. officials said they were aware of a major clash about two brigades of Indian army forces, but had nothing to confirm that anything more than a border incident had taken place.

There was no inclination by these officials to believe that India had committed large forces to the encounter. Most of India's mountain divisions are concentrated in the north, official sources pointed out.

A Pakistan army source in Dacca reported Sunday night that Pakistan had "blunted a major offensive" by two Indian army brigades.

Jessore, today's reported target is a principal military cantonment south and west of the Ganges River in East Pakistan.

Dr. Butz's Nomination Confirmed

WASHINGTON (AP) — By a surprisingly narrow 8 to 6 margin the Senate Agriculture Committee today approved President Nixon's nomination of Earl Butz to be secretary of agriculture.

The committee's approval was conditioned, however, on a requirement that Butz put all his agribusiness stocks in a blind trust and sell them within 90 days.

Referring to Butz's ownership of more than $100,000 of stock in Talstorn-Purina, Stokley Van-Camps and Intertional Minerals and Chemicals, the committee said no further agribusiness stock is to be purchased by Butz if he is confirmed as secretary by the Senate.

Butz, the 62-year-old Purdue University dean, raised great controversy in three days of hearings because of his alleged advocacy in the past of agribusiness interested over family farms and his scornful remarks about environmentalists and President Nixon's welfare program.

The narrow vote made virtually certain a fight on the Senate floor over the nomination.

Butz served under the controversial Ezra Taft Benson during the 1950s, a period in which he made speeches advising farmers to "adapt or die" when faced by technological change on the farms.

The 102-hour period covered by the estimate begins at 6 p.m. Wednesday and ends at midnight Sunday.

During the same period, 27,000 to 32,000 persons might be injured in highway crashes, the council said.

The council, which makes no count of its own of fatalities and injuries, said there were 651 fatalities during the 1970 Thanksgiving holiday weekend. The Associated Press count for the period was 646. The highest Thanksgiving weekend toll recorded by The AP was 764 in 1968.

Coronado Inn Manager On Job

W.G. Dunn, recently named manager of the Coronado Inn, assumed duties at the hotel today.

Dunn comes to Pampa from Dallas where he was manager of the La Quinta Motor Hotel.

The new manager and his wife are former residents of the Panhandle, having been associated in the drug business at Canadian and Claude before entering the hotel management field.

KING HONORS BOEHM

BRUSSELS (AP) — King Baudouin of Belgium has given conductor Karl Boehm the insignia of General Officer of the Order of King Leopold II for his contributions to Belgian musical life.

Frans van Meehelen, minister for cultural affairs, said that without Boehm's participation, the Festival of Flanders would never have achieved its present international significance.

High Court Bans Sex Discrimination

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court ruled unanimously today that "arbitrary" discrimination against women is unconstitutional.

Chief Justice Warren E. Burger spoke for the court as it struck down an Idaho law that gave men preference over women in administering estates.

The ruling was the first ever by the high court to ban sex discrimination under the "equal protection" clause of the 14th Amendment.

The House of Representatives has approved a constitutional amendment guaranteeing women equal rights. The ruling came as a Senate Judiciary Subcommittee was about to hold a session on the proposed amendment. The effect of the decision on the amendment was not immediately clear.

In the past, the court has used the same provision of the 14th Amendment to protect Negroes against discrimination. The clause was the basis for decisions beginning in 1954 that prohibited racial segregation in the public schools.

The 14th Amendment was ratified in 1868. Section 1 includes the admonition that "no state shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States... nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws."

In the Idaho case, Mrs. Sally Reed, an Ada County woman, had been denied under state law appointment as administratrix of her son's estate. The father, Cecil Reed, had filed a petition for appointment. Both parents, who were separated sometime before their son Richard's death, were equally entitled to administer the estate.

However, under Idaho law, a man is given preference over a woman when they are on equal footing in estate proceedings.

Also, under the law, growers who also are engaged in the processing of beets for other farmers are required to pay "fair and reasonable" prices for sugarbeets they buy for refining.

'MOMMY SAID GO STRAIGHT TO SCHOOL!'—This time-honored admonition is never more strictly obeyed than when a puddle lies as a shining jewel in the otherwise drab path to class and these Pampa youngsters are no exception. They are Melissa Crossman, 6, 100 Kingsmill and Keith Osbin, 7, 407 Lefors. The puddle is on Hazel near Woodrow Wilson school. ("Mommy, the photographer made me do it!") Overnight rainfall at Pampa measured .07 inches at 6:30 a.m. and the system promises to stay for a while possibly breaking up late Wednesday. At 11 a.m. today a mixture of snow and sleet was falling at Lefors but was not staying on the ground. Area rainfall was bordered by Lubbock, Amarillo and Wichita Falls. The state low was 35 at Dalhart where it went no higher than 52 Sunday.

Black Members Of Congress Calling National Convention

WASHINGTON (AP) — Clenched black-power fists shot into the air and smiles broke out all over the room when black members of the House of Representatives announced they were calling a national black political convention.

It will be a historic first, people kept saying. Never before in the 352-year history of black America, slave or free, has there been such a convention. The Saturday night announcement raised two questions.

—Would this turn out to be the first step toward formation of a national black political party?

—Was the cooperation that has begun between mainstream black politicians and the blacknationalist community in the urban centers finally being extended to a national level?

The convening document specifically included "the nationalist community" in a group set up to meet before Christmas to work out convention mechanics. Two other categories were mentioned, "local elected officials" and "community organization leaders." The House members said the convention will be in April or May.

One member of the subcommittee that wrote the call was poet-playwright Imamu Baraka, the politically active Newark black nationalist formerly known as LeRoi Jones.

The convention call climaxed two days of open workshops and "closed strategy sessions for about 200 black elected officials and political activists."

The closing speeches, which stopped just short of calling for a black nation, seemed to contrast sharply with those at the beginning, which dwelt on the need to build coalitions with other minorities, poor whites, women and the young.

But a number of black political strategists who spent much of the two days locked in private debate, argued that the differences were more apparent than real.

In his keynote address Rep. Louis Stokes, D-Ohio, spoke of coalition politics.

"We must create an all-out strategy to improve the quality of life for minorities wherever they may live," he said, adding that any "national black agenda" should provide "a united, single approach around the issues that bear upon black, brown, red, poor and disadvantaged people in this country."

Similar themes were repeated many times in workshops on health and housing, child care and political strategy. But others offered variations.

"We must put the interests of our group before the interests of others," said Rep. William Clay, D-Mo. And Texas State Sen. Barbara Jordan, noting that "the old coalitions began to fall apart in the 60s," said any new coalitions "will be different in form, different in style, but will relate to us and our blackness."

That first day ended with a four-hour, closed strategy session at which tempers ran high, according to those coming out of the guarded meeting room slowly shaking their heads.

One big unresolved issue, they said, was whether the meeting should endorse Rep. Shirley Chisholm's bid for the Democratic presidential nomination.

By Saturday evening, the rhetoric of coalition politics had been dropped in favor of the rhetoric of black politics.

10-Year-Old Girl Raped And Slain

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Why didn't at least one of 100 or more motorists stop to assist a 10-year-old girl who stood along a busy expressway, partially clad and pleading for help?

Police in Monroe County sought the answer today, as they looked for clues in the rape and strangulation death of Carmen Colon.

To help find the killer, Rochester's two newspapers and other groups have offered rewards totaling more than $4,000 for information leading to the arrest of the girl's slayer.

The Democrat & Chronicle and the Times-Union said they received more than a dozen calls Sunday, but few seemed related to the case. Some came from motorists who said they saw the girl or a "suspicious" man on Interstate 490 last Tuesday.

Police said the girl disappeared that day while on a shopping errand for her mother. They theorized the child was kidnaped, escaped and ran along the highway hoping for help.

Her body was found by two teen-agers on Thursday along a rural road in suburban Riga. A medical examiner said she had been raped and strangled.

Motorists who contacted police after the girl's body was found and reported seeing the child along the superhighway said traffic was heavy and moving at upwards of 60 miles an hour. Some said they could not have stopped to aid her because of the traffic.

620 Might Die On Highways During Holiday

CHICAGO (AP) — Between 620 and 720 persons might be killed on the nation's highways over the long Thanksgiving weekend, the National Safety Council estimates.

The 102-hour period covered by the estimate begins at 6 p.m. Wednesday and ends at midnight Sunday.

During the same period, 27,000 to 32,000 persons might be injured in highway crashes, the council said.

S. Viets Attack Reds With U.S. Air Support

SAIGON (AP) — Thousands of South Vietnamese troops under an umbrella of U.S. air power launched a new offensive today against North Vietnamese supply lines in eastern Cambodia.

No ground fighting was reported, but officers in the field claimed that air strikes killed 40 of the enemy near Chrum.

The thrust north of Highway 7 about 90 miles northwest of Saigon is aimed at rear staging areas of three enemy divisions operating on several fronts in Cambodia from the border to the outskirts of Phnom Penh.

Field commanders said they hoped to reduce the threat of attacks on South Vietnamese bases on Highway 7 and to divert North Vietnamese forces battling Cambodian troops close to Phnom Penh.

Associated Press correspondent George Esper reported from the forward headquarters at Tay Ninh that an armored column spearheaded the initial push by more than 5,000 South Vietnamese troops who had been massed inside Cambodia in the past week. This number is expected to increase as the offensive progresses.

Esper said scores of U.S. helicopters and advisers poured into Tay Ninh, 55 miles northwest of Saigon, to support the operation.

South Vietnam has had troops inside Cambodia since April 1970, when they crossed the border to attack enemy bases that had previously been immune to attack. U.S. troops went to help in May and were pulled out two months later.

South Vietnamese forces have remained in eastern Cambodia ever since, sticking mostly to their base camps in the border region. They suffered a severe defeat last May when North Vietnamese regulars pushed them out of Snuol with heavy losses.

Local Packers Unaffected By Clovis Day Off

The one-day work stoppage at the Swift and Co. meat packing plant at Clovis, N.M. is expected to have no effect locally.

Officials at B & B Packing Co., 1423 S. Barnes, stated it would have no bearing whatever on their operation. Management of Western Beef Packing Inc. (on East Frederic was unavailable for comment.

Some 157 union employees at the Clovis plant took today off in protest of their inability to collect retroactive raises following the freeze lift. A local union official at the plant said the stoppage was not a strike and there would be no picket lines.

Instead of a strike it was referred to as "a day of dedication and concern."

highway 22 in South Vietnam. The North Vietnamese failed to overrun any bases and were chased back into Cambodia last month with heavy casualties from U.S. air strikes.

Since then the Communists have concentrated their pressure on Phnom Penh and on the 20,000 Cambodian troops that have been operating northeast of their capital.

The U.S. Command meanwhile reported one of its deepest bombing strikes inside North Vietnam this year.

Pampa Seeks Word To Clarify Freeze

By TEX DEWEESE
City Manager Mack Wofford today sent a letter to the Internal Revenue Service regional office in Dallas asking for clarification of rules governing Phase II of the President's Wage-Price Freeze as they affect municipal operations.

The city has in its budget planning for the current fiscal year a proposed increase in water rates.

The proposal would hike the first two steps in the water rate schedule.

The proposed rate increase would mean an increase on the minimum charge from $3 to $3.30 for the first 3,000 gallons of water used and an increase from 50 cents to 60 cents a gallon for the next 17,000 gallons.

This amounts to a ten per cent increase on the first two steps of the city water rate. Other steps would remain the same.

The two proposed increases would affect most residential water consumers, the city manager said.

Wofford estimated the increase, if allowed by the Pay Board or Price Commission, would amount to approximately $80,000 annually.

It would be used primarily to pay increased costs of operating Pampa's new automated surface water well system when the new water treatment plant becomes operative.

The city also is seeking information from IRS on what can be done about a proposed 5 per cent budget increase in salaries for some 107 of Pampa's approximately 200 city workers who have reached the top bracket in the city's current pay plan and have not received any wage increases for one, two or more years.

Today's action in seeking the clarification from IRS was taken following a directive from the Texas Municipal League staff advising TML member cities to address any questions about Phase II of the Freeze to the IRS regional office.

Connally Rips Meany For Actions

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Treasury John Connally, accusing AFL-CIO President George Meany of arrogant and boorish behavior toward President Nixon, renewed today his charge that Meany is out of step with rank-and-file workers.

Connally, in a nationally broadcast news conference, referred to the cool reception Nixon received at the AFL-CIO convention in Miami Beach Friday. AFL-CIO spokesmen have since said that White House reports of an intentional snub by Meany were exaggerated.

"In my humble opinion the actions of Mr. Meany in Miami last week reflected an arrogance and a boorishness and a discourtesy that ill become a leader of the labor movement in the United States," said Connally, chief economic spokesman for the administration.

"We cannot permit one man, to out himself above the interest of the working people of this country. We cannot permit one man, for whatever reason, to undermine and undercut the progress that's being made to stabilize the economy."

Connally's sharp words toward Meany reflect a relationship that has now come full circle. Meany attacked Nixon's announcement of a wage-price-rent freeze Aug. 15.

Connally said the labor leader was out of step with rank and file union members, a remark that reportedly had Meany fuming for days.

Later, when Meany reportedly was balking at taking part in post-freeze stabilization efforts, Connally said at another nationally televised news conference that he hoped Meany would take part. Connally's latest remarks renew his old charge that Meany is out of touch with union members.

Connally said he thinks it "inconceivable" that the AFL-CIO members of the Pay Board will refuse to cooperate with stabilization efforts.

White House Tries To Defeat Antipoverty Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — A White House-led lobbying effort to defeat a multibillion-dollar antipoverty bill has been launched in the House in hopes of sparing President Nixon the choice of signing or vetoing it.

The bill, a compromise between separate versions already passed by the House and Senate, contains a provision for a new child-care program which has aroused intense opposition from conservatives.

However, it has equally strong support from civil-rights, labor and women's organizations, and Nixon will be in trouble with one side or the other no matter what he does.

State Solon Blasts Insurance Industry

DALLAS (AP)—A blast at the insurance industry was taken Sunday by state Sen. Mike McKool, a frequent and vocal critic of what he calls the "rotten mess" in Texas' insurance business. McKool said the insurance industry has chosen to write only "the peaches and cream" provisions of various policies. "I have known for some time the industry was neglecting the public interest in arbitrarily and unreasonably refusing to write and in canceling policies in order to make record profits. A member of the industry sent me a copy of the guidelines repeatedly circulated by one of the leading Texas companies. In an enclosed letter this anonymous sender says: "Although I have been associated with the insurance industry for many years and naturally opposed to some of your comments about the companies doing business in Texas, I must reluctantly agree that "my people" are now creating an unjust situation for the citizens of our state. To my amazement the greatest prevaricators seem to be our own Texas domiciled companies. An example is the attached directive being repeatedly circulated by (named insurance company). As I am still doing some business with these people, I must remain anonymous, at least for the present time, but if the attached will be of any benefit to you, to restore reasonableness to the industry, use it as you may see fit." According to McKool, the guidelines, among other things, prescribe the following: renewal and new policies must have minimum limits of $25,000-$50,000 bodily injury. (State law only requires $10,000-$20,000); will not write policy without liability coverage; will not write accidental death and disability, encouraged to write comprehensive on a deductible basis, agent cannot write, without company's final approval, a policy where owner: (a) has one "at-fault" accident or (b) has one moving violation and one "not-at-fault" accident; (c) resides in areas of high crime; (d) is a restaurant, theater or hotel employee, waitress, professional athlete or entertainer; (e) drives over 26,000 miles per year; (f) has car more than 10 years old; (g) is unmarried, age 29 and over, no more than two moving violations in last 3 years and no accidents in last five years. "Such unreasonable and arbitrary guidelines have added in bringing about the 'rotten mess' in the automobile insurance industry.

28 Texans Die In Violence Over Weekend

Violence took 28 lives in Texas during the weekend, and 21 of the victims died in traffic accidents. The toll was recorded between 6 p.m. Friday and midnight Sunday.

In one of the worst crashes, four motorists were killed Sunday in a six-car pileup at Arcola, near Rosenberg in South Texas. They were Casinero Sosa and his wife Olivia, both 57, of Rosenberg; Jessie L. Jones, 36, of Rosharon and Richard Vella, 4, of Rosenberg.

These were among the other victims: John R. Truelove of Huntsville was killed Sunday when his car ran off Texas 19 near Huntsville.

A car-train crash Sunday night in Forest Hills, a Fort Worth suburb, killed Walton L. Wilson, 44, and his wife Bobbie. Officers said both were deaf mutes. Their daughter, Sherry Warren, 9, was injured critically.

Robert G. Clark, 56, of Dallas, a Bell Helicopter Co. engineer, died early Sunday when his car hit a culvert on U.S. 175 near Mabank, in Kaufman County.

Police said Bufkin Meyers, 49, was shot and killed Sunday afternoon in Dallas after arguing with a woman who refused to let him watch a football game on television. They reported Curtis B. Wadley, 51 was wounded seriously while demanding that Meyers surrender an extension cord used to plug in a TV set.

'Hot Check Seminar' Set For Wednesday

A "Hot Check Seminar" will be held Wednesday at 10 a.m. in the Gray County Courtroom, County Attorney John W. Warner announced today.

"We will discuss some of the latest cases from the Court of Criminal Appeals, ideas on preventing the taking of bad checks, requirements for establishing a 'hot' check and ways we can work together to reduce the loss on bad checks during the Christmas Season," Warner said.

"Not every bad check is a 'hot' check," Warner explained. "Sometimes we even have 'hot' checks which cannot be proved to be so under the requirements set out by the Legislature and the Court of Criminal Appeals." Similar seminars were held by Warner in Pampa and Lefors two years ago and resulted in a decrease in 'hot' check cases. The meeting is open to all interested members of the public.

Humphrey Accuses President Of Provoking Confrontation

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Hubert Humphrey, D-Minn., has accused President Nixon of going to the AFL-CIO convention with "a set script to provoke confrontation."

Nixon told labor delegates Friday that he will make his economic program work with or without the support of organized labor.

Humphrey sent AFL-CIO President George Meany a telegram, which he asked to be read to the convention today.

Richard Nixon came to this convention not to seek cooperation but rather with a set script to provoke confrontation, not to correct inequities, but to accentuate differences, not to explain to the convention and the American people his economic program, but rather to demand obedience to executive edict," Humphrey said.

Sen. Edmund Muskie, asked about the icy reception given Nixon at the convention, said that nearly everyone on the campaign trail faces unpleasant situations and "I'm not surprised when they happen. This is the age of confrontation in politics; it's the way things are these days."

In another political development, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., said: "I think it's going to be difficult to beat the President under any circumstances."

He said in a Time magazine interview that the task will be tougher if Nixon succeeds in ending the war, solving economic problems and reaching an arms limitation agreement with the Soviets.

2 Area Men Arrested For Holding Firearms

Leland E. Hartman, 38, and Edwin Mark McCloskey, 26, both of Wheeler, were arrested early Sunday morning by Pampa, officers and booked for possession of prohibited weapons. Hartman was also cited for suspected driving while intoxicated, according to police.

Officers entered the case when Mrs. Hartman called police station reporting the men had firearms and she feared for her life. Spotting their car traveling at a high rate of speed with Hartman driving, officers arrested them and took them to the police station.

Two pistols, a .25 and a .38 caliber, were retrieved at the station. Hartman admitted ownership of the .38 and McCloskey the .25. Both weapons were loaded and ready to fire when taken, the report stated. The pair will be turned over to the district attorney for prosecution.

Other police activity included a 13-year-old girl found asleep beside Travis school early Sunday morning by a paper boy making his rounds, minors in possession of intoxicants and harrassing residents in the west part of town and the average number of theft complaints.

Concert Program

The Cavalcade of Bands with four big names in the music world will be one of the top attractions of the Pampa Community Concert Association's 1972-73 season. Band leaders Bob Crosby, Freddie Martin and Gene Krupa, along with vocalist Margaret Whiting, will come to Pampa next season with the Cavalcade of Bands Company of 25 musicians.

The Cavalcade of BVands was one of three attractions selected at a Sunday meeting of the concert association's board of directors with Marguerite Maddox, Columbia Artists representative.

Two other attractions for next season will be William Walker, leading baritone of the Metropolitan Opera Company, and Fruia, the spectacular Yugoslavian Dance Company, composed of 36 artists.

A fourth attraction for the 1972-73 concert season will be announced later, according to Mrs. Raymond Harrah, association president. The board decided membership dues for admittance to all four attractions will remain at $10 for adults and $5 for students. The annual membership drive will be held next March.

Dowdy, veteran House Democrat from Athens, Texas, is accused in an eight-count indictment returned by a Baltimore federal grand jury in 1970 of accepting a bribe of $25,000 in return for his help in seeking to block the Justice Department probe of the now defunct Monarch Construction Corp. of Silver Spring.

In testimony last week, Nathan H. Cohen, former president of the firm, described a telephone conversation in which he told Dowdy "I got something for you." Cohen also testified he arranged to pay the $25,000 to Dowdy and other witnesses for the government described how the money was acquired, counted packed into the briefcase and delivered at an Atlanta, Ga., airport in September, 1965.

The Monarch firm grossed more than $2.5 million in three years of specialized business in which aluminum siding was installed on row houses in inner city Washington neighborhoods.

A federal grand jury in Washington investigated the firm's affairs about complaints that it used fraud to get low income home owners to sign home improvements contracts. Cohen and others agreed to cooperate with the government in return for immunity from prosecution.

Dowdy's Trial Reconvenes

BALTIMORE (AP)—Rep. John Dowdy's federal trial on charges he accepted a $25,000 bribe in 1965 to influence a Justice Department probe of a Maryland home repair firm doing business in Washington, D.C., reconvenes today.

The trial before Judge Roszel Thomsen was recessed Wednesday so the judge could handle another matter scheduled earlier.

The government may finish its case this week, prosecution sources stated.

Hunters Unhurt As Plane Dives

CANADIAN — A single-engine plane occupied by two deer hunters nose-dived upon takeoff from a muddy wheat field Sunday about 20 miles northwest of here.

Piloted by Claude Byron Hunton of Childress, the plane was forced to land when the oil pressure began to drop.

Neither Hunton nor passenger Gene Miller, 24, of Oklahoma City were injured when their landing gear gave way as they attempted to take off from the field at the McMordie Ranch.

OBITUARIES

CHARLIE BROWN — Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Tuesday in St. James Baptist Church of Shamrock for Charlie Brown, 87, of Pampa, who died at 3:30 p.m. Saturday in Highland General Hospital.

Rev. J.E. Smith, pastor, will officiate, and burial will be in Bowers Cemetery. Born in Calcutta, India, Jan. 15, 1884, he came to this country in 1919. He moved to Pampa from Wheeler County in 1966. He was a gardener.

He is survived by two stepsons, Frank Polk of Shamrock and Coleman Polk of Lubbock, and two stepdaughters, Mrs. Maggie Wright of Shamrock and Mrs. Ruthie Mae Simmons of Coffeetown, Kans.

HAROLD A. BARNES

Harold A. Barnes, 54, of Washington, D.C., brother of Mrs. Floyd Imel of Pampa, was dead on arrival at a Washington hospital at 6:30 a.m. today. Services will be held in Greensburg, Kans.

A frequent Pampa visitor, he was in Pampa in October. Born in Greensburg, Kan., he finished high school there and served in the European theater during World War II. Following the war, he has worked with the government in Washington in the transportation department. He was a member of the Christian Church.

Survivors, other than Mrs. Imel, include three brothers, Chet Barnes of Hugoton, Kans., Harry Barnes of Garden City, Kans., and James Barnes of Elizabethtown, Kans.

3 Michigan Fires Claim 19 Persons

ASSOCIATED PRESS — Nineteen people were killed in three early morning fires Sunday in Michigan, California and Alaska. Authorities said the Michigan blaze was the work of an arsonist.

Fifteen of the victims were children. Two men, a woman and four of her five children died in the fire in Pontiac, Mich. Authorities said someone had kicked open the front door of the two-level, two-family dwelling and scattered combustible fluid just inside. The liquid also was spread on a wooden porch, they said.

"There are no suspects, but it appears we have seven murders on our hands," said Pontiac Police Sgt. Herbert Cooley.

The victims were found in bedrooms in one side of the house. The occupants of the other side of the duplex apparently were not at home when the fire broke out shortly after midnight.

The victims were identified as Albert Henderson, 26, John Brown, 20, Mrs. Freddie Mae Colsey, 35, her 3-year-old son Melica and three daughters, Cindy, 6, Rosalie, 9, and Dorothy, 16.

A fifth child, 12-year-old Linda Fae, escaped by leaping from her second-story bedroom window.

Killed when fire swept house trailer in Fairbanks, Alaska, were a 26-year-old woman, three of her children and three nieces and nephews whom she was babysitting. The children ranged in age from one to nine.

Authorities said the fire, believed caused by a defective electric heater, raged through the 8 by 30 foot trailer parked in a remote area near Fairbanks International Airport.

The victims were Mrs. Cecilia Galvan, Cheryl Galvan, 1, Wesley Galvan, 2, Chris Galvan, 5, Dale Brewer, 7, Peggy Brewer, 8, and Dorothy Brewer, 9.

In California, five children aged three to 13, were killed when flames destroyed their one-story farmhouse near Blythe.

Dear Abby

Handwriting 'analysis' upsets her

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I recently wrote a short note to a woman I know slightly, asking for some information on her solicitations for symphony subscriptions.

A few days later, I received a two paged "analysis" of my handwriting, and I have been fuming ever since!

In the first place, I don't know whether this woman has had any special training, or if she's an amateur who analyzes handwriting for a hobby, but some of her "observations" were downright insulting!

Example: "Your love life leaves much to be desired, but it could be greatly improved if you would get over some of your old-fashioned, puritanical ideas."

Also, "You are much too timid. Stand up to your husband when you think he is wrong. He will respect you for it."

Abby, if you have any suggestions on how to handle this, I would appreciate it. I want nothing more to do with this woman. STILL FUMING

DEAR FUMING: TYPE a note to her and tell her that YOU have "analyzed" HER handwriting, and have concluded that she would have more friends if she'd quit "analyzing" handwriting.

DEAR ABBY: All my life I've been afraid of dogs. Not just big dogs. I am afraid of the smallest dog. I can't help it. Dogs have always terrified me.

My sister and her husband invited my husband and me to visit them for a weekend, and since they know how much I fear dogs, I thought surely they would lock up their dog, but they didn't.

When we got there and I saw their dog roaming around the house I became hysterical and caused a terrible scene. I screamed and carried on, and ran upstairs and locked myself in the bathroom.

My husband came up shortly afterwards and said, "We will go home now." And we did.

Abby, I feel so terrible over this. When my sister and her husband have visited us, they always tied their dog to a pole outside or locked him in the basement to keep him away from me.

Please tell me if I should write and apologize for the way I acted. I am 66 years old. HEARTSICK

DEAR HEARTSICK: If it will make you feel any better, write and apologize. But in my view, they owe YOU an apology for having exposed you to their dog knowing how you fear dogs.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have boys, 15 months and three months. We were overwhelmed with joy when our first child was born. We had prayed for a boy, and we got one.

Before I knew it, I was carrying our second child. The problem is the second boy is completely opposite from our first. He cries all the time for no apparent reason, and we can't keep him on any kind of schedule.

I sometimes find myself regretting we ever had him. We both desperately wanted a little girl, and I don't seem able to love him as I do the older boy.

I keep thinking the most horrible thoughts, like secretly wishing something would happen to him, so we wouldn't be bothered with him anymore. Yet, I know if something were to happen to him I'd never be able to forgive myself because of my secret thoughts.

My husband doesn't know how I feel. Nobody does. Do you think I ought to see a doctor? CONFUSED AND FEELING GUILTY

DEAR CONFUSED: I certainly do. And I urge you to see him quickly.

CONFIDENTIAL TO L. L.: The proof of the pudding is not always in the eating. It's whether the diner comes back for seconds. A lot of mediocre puddings have been consumed because there was nothing else on the menu.

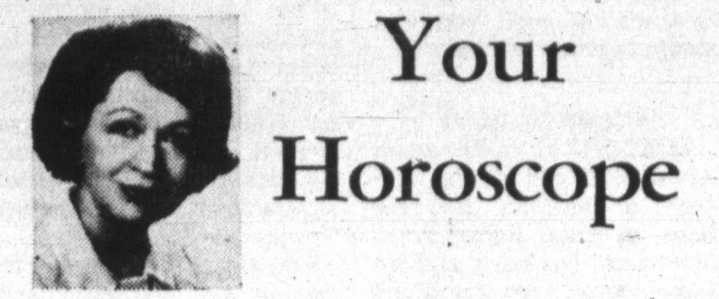

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

For Abby's new booklet, "What Teen-Agers Want to Know," send $1 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069.

The Pampa Daily News Woman's Page

Your Horoscope

By Jeane Dixon

TUESDAY, NOV. 23
Your birthday today: System, mental discipline are a more definite part of your life this year. There is a tendency to go it alone, on all levels. The recurrent question: Where does it fit? become routine in your daily activity. Today's natives deal in precision, exactitude, no matter what their fields may be.

Aries [March 21-April 19]: Impulse spending is the heavy temptation. Look around to see how many more examples or copies exist, refine your specifications a bit.

Taurus [April 20-May 20]: Some of your tensions and concerns smooth out into calm self-assurance, more in line with what you're sure you want. Wait for clarity on other matters.

Gemini [May 21-June 20]: Even where you're hearing strong or harsh words, seek the undercurrent on communion, avoid a casual break.

Cancer [June 21-July 22]: Just when you begin to assume that your friends and relatives are in agreement, you find it isn't necessarily so—and getting further apart. Find out why.

Leo [July 23-Aug. 22]: New arrangements come nearer by the day. Get your thinking cap on and begin preliminary search for more satisfying communication and co-operation.

Virgo [Aug. 23-Sept. 22]: Much that seemed too good to be true turns out to be merely that. Salvage what common sense tells you is useful.

Libra [Sept. 23-Oct. 22]: Taking on more than you can conveniently handle is the simplest thing to do today.

Scorpio [Oct. 23-Nov. 21]: You can't have your way all the time on every point without inspiring resentment. Now you may see the phenomena more clearly and can be constructive about it.

Sagittarius [Nov. 22-Dec. 21]: Protection of others, particularly against their own folly, is not your most likely specialty.

Capricorn [Dec. 22-Jan. 19]: Recent ventures should yield better results with continued care and tidying up. Collect what you've loaned or what's due you.

Aquarius [Jan. 20-Feb. 18]: Seek inner serenity at all costs today. Present a placid surface.

Pisces [Feb. 19-March 20]: There's a chance of joining forces with formidable proficiency in your work. Romantic attraction also builds and should be encouraged.

Combined Conditions Spoiled Soup

CAMDEN, N.J. (AP)—The Campbell Soup Co. reported today it found the source of bacteria in some of its Texas-produced chicken vegetable soup last summer and has taken corrective steps to prevent its recurrence. The company blamed the incident for a big drop in business.

W.B. Murphy, Campbell president, said "This was our first—and we are determined that it will be our last—experience of this kind."

Murphy told shareholders Campbell profits, for the first quarter of fiscal 1972 ended last Oct. 31, declined 34.8 per cent over a year ago.

He reported income of $10.3 million, compared to earnings of $15.8 million in 1971.

Botulism was discovered in August in a batch of soup produced at Campbell's Paris, Tex., plant. It resulted in a recall of thousands of cans and started a company check at once of the production process.

Murphy said Campbell conducted over 300 controlled tests, and was able to duplicate the spoilage, noting that it occurred by "several unusual conditions happening simultaneously—above-average viscosity of the can contents, over-fill of the can and incomplete hydration of the dry ingredients, coupled with a new process designed to produce a better product."

"The process at Paris was changed immediately after the spoilage was detected to coincide with the successful process used at the other plants," Murphy said.

Dr. Willis Irvin, head of a team of federal inspectors who conducted a probe of the Paris plant said, "No one of these conditions (those cited by Murphy) caused the spoilage—it was a combination of several."

"What they are saying is these could have been factors resulting in an under-processed product. "But we still cannot pinpoint the cause."

Murphy said no one became ill, and that the spoilage was limited "to relatively few cans which were picked up promptly by the company in trade channels."

However, Murphy noted his concern and its affect on the firm, now in its 103rd year.

"In our business it is not enough that 99.99 per cent of our production be wholesome," he declared. "The requirement is 100 per cent without fail. This is why we reacted so promptly."

Murphy estimated the spoilage episode "cost us approximately $5 million net, or 15 per cent per share, considering the recall costs, extra freight, lost business due to out-of-stock conditions, inventory inspections, excessive overtime pay, etcetera."

He predicted a turnaround in business.

"We are rapidly increasing our ability to fill all orders," he said. "November sales thus far are well up."

Campbell's Paris plant is one of five operated by the company.

Tickets Go On Sale For Children's Play

Every child in this area who likes to visit the land of Make Believe should see Aladdin rub that wonderful old magic lamp and watch the big Genie appear to grant his every wish.

This will be one of the dramatic scenes in the National Children's Theatre production of "Aladdin And His Wonderful Lamp" when the Pampa Fine Arts Association bring the touring company for a theatrical treat to Pampa High School auditorium on Thurs., Dec. 2 for a 4:30 p.m. performance following the Santa Day Parade.

"Aladdin And His Wonderful Lamp" is the first production of three plays that will come to Pampa as a series of entertainment for the young folk in their most formative years.

"Iroquois Captive" is a peep into the historical past of America, the story being based upon fact, the Indians and Red Coats; and, the captive white child, when re-united with her mother, makes a dramatic scene that children always remember.

This play will be presented in the High School Auditorium Thurs., Feb. 24, 1972, at 4 p.m.

The last play of the season, "Heidi," beloved legend of life in the Swiss Alps, is scheduled in the High School auditorium on Thurs., May 4, at 4 p.m.

"Heidi is the newest production from the National Children's Theatre repertory. The staging in the Swiss Alps and in the lovely home of Clara give beautiful background for the story of love and faith experienced by Heidi.

PTS Study Course Slated For Tuesday

The Parent Family Life Education committee of the Parent-Teacher Association City Council will present the last of five sessions of its current study course at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday in Carver Center.

The topic to be studied is special education in Pampa schools, learning and language disabilities, pilot program, 1971-72.

Instructors will be Mrs. Stan Friend and Mrs. Joe Duncan.

How come, when a wreck occurs, the traffic light was green in both directions?

PTA members who have attended at least four of the five sessions will receive a study course certificate.

$120,000 For Island

LONDON (AP)—The small island of Erraid off the west coast of Scotland, once the home of writer Robert Louis Stevenson, has been sold for more than $120,000. The island covers 600 acres.

Stevenson, famous for such masterpieces as Treasure Island and The Strange Case of Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde, died in 1894.

Constant Care Required For Christmas Flowers

COLLEGE STATION—Fall is the ideal time for home gardeners and housewives to begin preparing Christmas cactus and poinsettia plants for holiday blooming, says Everett Janne, landscape horticulturist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Extra care is required each day or the poinsettia and Christmas cactus may fail to bloom for the holiday season.

Both plants should get as much sunlight as possible during the day, but they also need long, cool nights. At night, the plants should not be exposed to any artificial lighting; this will upset their delicate flowering-control mechanisms. At least 12 hours of continuous darkness are required to start the flowering process, Janne points out.

Night temperatures of at least 60 degrees F., are ideal for both plants, but the Christmas cactus can grow at temperatures as low as 55 degrees. During the day, ordinary household temperatures are satisfactory.

Avoid placing the poinsettia in a draft, cautions Janne. Sudden excessive changes in temperature can cause the leaves to drop. Supply sufficient water so that the soil is always moist. During active growth, feed poinsettias regularly, preferably with diluted solutions of soluble fertilizers.

Newer types of poinsettias are commercially available in varying shades of pink as well as white and the traditional red.

Fancy footwork is not to be seen on the football field compared to the view of politicians dodging ends in the wake of the elections.

daughter, Mrs. Mavis Converse, visited last week in Cyril, Mangum, Duncan and Lawton, all in Oklahoma. They report the scenery on Mt. Scott was beautiful. Jess Hatcher is home from the hospital and thanks the senior citizens who visited him.
 Mrs. Lydia Storkman and Mrs. Ruby Ship visited in New Mexico last week end.
 M.A. Jewell spent a no-luck day fishing in Lake Meredith. Hostesses for Thursday afternoon were members of the Altar Society of St. Vincent de Paul Catholic Church. They were Mrs. Reta Simpson, chairman; and Mrs. Sophia Blymiller, Martha Hinton, Sadie Maul, Helen Sharp, Lois

Urbanczyk, Cecelia Gayden and Betty Johnson.
 Sponsoring Altrusans present were Mrs. Lora Dunn, chairman; and Mrs. Louise Sewell, Geneva Tidwell, Gertrude Barber, Olive Hills, Mary McDaniel, Lena Pearl Hobbs; and Miss J. Flanagan.
 Next Thursday being Thanksgiving Day, the senior citizens will not meet. Next meeting will be Dec. 2, the birthday Thursday. The Christmas party will be Dec. 9.
 The senior citizens wish to express sincere gratitude to our sponsors, the Altrusa Club, and all the clubs, lodges, schools. Sunday School classes and anyone else who has contributed in any way

Mail Order Proposal In Offing

COLLEGE STATION — A trade-regulation to protect consumers from delayed delivery of mail order purchases has been proposed by the Federal Trade Commission, says Bonnie Fowler, Extension home management specialist.
 Under the proposed regulation, a mail order seller will be required to ship merchandise within 21 days after receiving payment for an order, or else promptly refund the money, she explains. In addition, all mail order catalogs or leaflets will have to have the following statement clearly disclosed: "Federal regulation requires that merchandise must be shipped within 21 days or all money must be refunded."

 However, under the proposed rule, the seller has two alternatives, Mrs. Fowler reports. If he discloses the estimated shipping time in his catalogs and mail order leaflets or obtains the buyer's written consent to a specified delay, he does not have to either ship or refund money within 21 days.
 In these cases, the seller still must ship within the mutually agreed time, instead of the 21-day limit, or refund the consumer's money.
 The FTC plans to hold hearings on the proposed rule on January 24 and 25, 1972, considering circumstances which lead to a failure to ship merchandise or refunding money within the specified period.

 "This is an opportunity for consumers to be heard," the specialist reminds.
 Consumers who have had experiences related to the proposal may submit written comments to the Assistant Director for Rules and Guides, Bureau of Consumer Protection.
 Too many have one aim in life—driving.

The Pampa Daily News

A Watchful Newspaper

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS
TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

Our Capsule Policy

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces can he develop to his utmost capability.

The News believes each and every person would get more satisfaction in the long run if he were permitted to spend what he earns on a volunteer basis rather than having part of it distributed involuntarily.

Aid Or Isolationism?

We hope our readers will be a bit more thoughtful in consideration of the effects of the killing of foreign aid by the U.S. Senate.

If indeed the position holds up against pressure which already is coming from the White House, what are the dire consequences?

Proponents of foreign aid moan that the U.S. is entering a new phase of "isolationism," and they warn, correctly, that isolationism is an inferior idea.

It is effective psychology if listeners can be made to believe that their options have been reduced to a simple "either/or" decision. If it is either foreign aid or isolationism, politicians can drum up winning support for restoring the "give away" fiasco.

But those who make such claims should be challenged at every turn. A nation is an isolationist if it does business with no foreign country. The degree of isolationism is tied to the degree of foreign trade. The United States was "isolated" from Communist China when trade with that nation was not permitted. Our nation is isolated from Rhodesia because our politicians foolishly have gone along with a United Nations sanction against that peaceful country.

The "give away" proponents would have the American people believe that only foreign aid can prevent isolationism.

We ask what ever happened to the good old fashioned idea of trade and bargaining? Nations over the world place huge, crippling restrictions on imports from American industry.

The duty charged on American made automobiles, for example, makes it impossible for most people in South American countries to buy from Detroit. The same is true in Israel and most every other foreign country. But we are somehow supposed to accept the idea that foreign competitors should be able to send their goods into the U.S. without penalty while American goods suffers at the other end, and the only way American goods can escape that is through a program which in effect provides the goods "free" to the foreign government with the price tag collected by American tax payers.

That well may keep the U.S. away from the isolation label, but the price is continuing inflation and increasing the burden for Americans.

We suggest that American industry can out-produce any nation in the world, and can provide goods and services at a price competitive with most any other society. Certain changes would be necessary however. American unions must change from a philosophy of less work for more money; and a policy of free trade with all nations should be adopted.

In such an atmosphere, the producer who does the best for less will survive. The consumers of the world will receive more of the material things they desire at less cost.

Further, the tax payer, not only of the United States but the tax payers of nations over the world will be spared the burden of supporting costly border controls, customs checks and embargo enforcement.

Of course this would deal a crippling blow to politicians, and we do not expect any quick rush to the idea of free trade.

But at least the News readers will have some ammunition with which to reply to those who argue "foreign aid or isolationism."

Don't let them make you believe these are your only options.

Nixonism In The U.S.

Complaints against Nixonism are coming from all income groups.

A housewife, who is supposed to "benefit" by price lids, told us the wage control could cost her and her husband their new home. They had bought just before the freeze in expectation that a $25 per week raise promised by the company would be coming through.

From the other direction, the National Federation of Independent Business, Inc. writes that action by Congress to raise the minimum wage from the present $1.60 per hour to $2 would sabotage Phase II of the administration's economic control plan.

A minority group complains that the wage control locks the less fortunate members of society into a low income class and prevents "vertical movement" by minority individuals.

To date, a scarcity of goods has not set in. But inevitably that is the classic result of all control plans. When shortages do begin to appear, you may reasonably anticipate that a black market will shortly follow. Then comes official surveillance, then bribery of the surveillants, then power cliques within the surveillance structure. When financial gain comes easiest from corruption, the honest profit-seeker is placed at a disadvantage. That is the condition to which Nixonism is reducing this country.

The Nation's Press

IS IT 1964?

Last month the House approved (203-181) the terrifying new "child development" program which had already cleared the Senate. Conservative Republican Congressman Philip Crane (Illinois), Edward Derwinski (Illinois), Durward Hall (Missouri), John Schmitz (California), and 13 of their colleagues battled in company with 46 Conservative Democrats to prevent this establishment of federal child-care subsidies and a complete federal service to provide "mental, physical and social examination, diagnosis, identification and treatment" of America's children. The law even provides for federal "Child Advocates" to take "such actions as may be appropriate" with regard to any American child — including removal from the parental home.

Representative James A. Haley (D-Florida) says this program would immediately affect thirty-two per cent of American's families, and notes that "the Communist masters of Russia have found this type of controlled child development to be useful. They think little of isolating the fledgling from the influence of parents. They mold the child's mind in the earliest years. The child is taught to think as the state thinks." The Florida Congressman bears down on the fact that in the "land of the free" there is no need for "the government to set up a program which will enable to develop the child — the mind of the child — in the mold of what the government bureaucrats think the child ought to think."

Men have been writing checks for more than 2,700 years.

All Together---HEAVE!

Question Box

QUESTION: It is my understanding that the United Nations Charter was patterned after the Communist constitution of Russia and that it was approved by our United States Senate on July 28, 1945, at 5:14 p.m. by a vote of 89 to 2—the two senators who voted against it having been the only ones who read it. Would you kindly give the names of the two senators who voted against the charter and any information on the United States people who planned the United Nations? —Mrs. E.G.

ANSWER: It is true that there is some similarity between the Russian constitution and the United Nations Charter. There also is some similarity between both documents and the U.S. Constitution. Robert LeFevre, president of Rampart College, has made an exhaustive study of the Russian and American constitutions, which demonstrates the similarities. It all goes to demonstrate that constitutions and charters are no protection if the politicians in power choose to use them for their own purposes.

The principal difference between the U.S. Constitution and the U.N. Charter is the Bill of Rights, a list of prohibitions against government intervention into the lives of the citizens.

The Congressional Record of Aug. 5, 1963, states about the U.N. Charter that "it was ratified by the Senate of the United States on July 28, 1945, almost without debate, and few had bothered to read it. The vote was affirmative 89, negative 2. William Langer of North Dakota and Henrik Shipstead of Minnesota cast the only negative votes. Senator Hiram Johnson of California sent word that if he could be present, he would vote nay, but he was ill."

It would be difficult to name all the United States people who planned the United Nations. Obviously, there were a great many sincere people who believed the U.N. was a way to achieve peace. It is significant that Alger Hiss is credited with being the principal American representative in planning the U.N. organizing conference in San Francisco. Hiss later was convicted of lying about his communist associations.

The banana is native to tropical regions of Asia, Africa and the Caribbean Sea area. They are a very valuable food, especially as a source of quick energy, because they contain more calories than any other fresh fruit. The World Almanac says, "They yield about 460 calories per pound, which is comparable to a similar quantity of corn or potatoes."

The only spider in the United States whose bite is dangerous to man is the female black widow. Though a black widow's venom is proportionately more potent than a rattlesnake's, The World Almanac notes that only a few deaths result from the more than 1,000 bites reported yearly in the United States.

Clearing House

Editor: Since writing some complimentary remarks about Lake Meredith water, I have had some very good lacings from people who still contend it is better than our well water.

After studying over the matter, it has been determined just what that lake water needs. It needs to be FORTIFIED and who is better to fortify it than old Fort, himself.

You can't pick up a package of very many products from your grocery store, these days, and fail to find they are "FORTIFIED."

Back in days of yore, we used to skim the cream off of our home-grown milk and we called it "blue john." Now we pay a larger price for such milk because it is fortified.

True, many articles seem just as they always did, but the labels declare that they are fortified. So that solves all our problems. If anyone has some old limp paper currency, just bring it by and old Fort will fortify it for a small percentage.

Quick Quiz

Q—Who owns the land on which Rockefeller Center in New York City stands?
A—Columbia University.

Q—Can asteroids be seen without a telescope?
A—Only one asteroid, Vesta, is technically within naked-eye visibility.

Q—Who is the author of the "Timothy Titcomb Letters"?
A—Josiah Gilbert Holland. They are a commentary on the manners and customs of the American author's times.

Q—Why is it always silent on the moon?
A—Because there is not enough atmosphere to carry sound waves.

Q—Which is the world's largest lizard?
A—The Komodo monitor of Indonesia, which may reach a length of 10 to 11 feet.

Q—Which country in the world has the most frontiers?
A—The U.S.S.R., with 13.

Q—Do shipworms' burrows ever meet?
A—No. The animal seems to be aware of the nearness of another burrow and turns aside to avoid it.

Q—Why does a golf ball have "dimples"?
A—The thin, rubberlike cover has "dimples" to increase the ball's distance and accuracy in flight.

Q—In what city did the popular tradition of the "coffee break" originate?
A—In New Orleans, La., about 40 years ago. From New Orleans the custom spread rapidly all over the nation.

Your Health

Dear Dr. Lamb — Please write something about a blood condition where the blood is too thick. The doctor told me it registered 51, whatever that means. I feel weak, no energy, can't sleep, and just the least exertion and I am wet with perspiration, from head to foot. Is there any cure? Some tell me I will have to have blood drawn to give relief.

Dear Reader—Blood is a fluid which contains blood cells normally suspended in it. The fluid part is called plasma.

The cells are mostly the red blood cells used for the transport of oxygen to tissues and removal of accumulated excess carbon dioxide. There are smaller amounts of white blood cells to fight infection and other elements.

About 47 per cent of the volume of blood is made up of cells and the rest of fluid. The 51 figure you quote suggests that was the per cent of blood cells in your blood at the time of the measurement.

There are several ways to increase the percentage of cells compared to fluid. One way is loss of body water, from simply not drinking enough fluids over a period of a few days or excess sweating, or even the result of inactivity, particularly bed rest. A couple of days in bed will raise the percentage of cells several points from water loss.

In other people the number of red cells is increased because of some problem or situation. People living at an altitude where there is less oxygen in the air produce more red blood cells. This is the body's way of compensating for less oxygen in the lungs. At very high altitudes natives have blood cell values of 55 percent or more, well in excess of the figure from your test. People who have lung disease that decreases the available oxygen — like that seen in heavy cigarette smokers — have the same response, causing "thick blood." Heart failure and other heart problems sometimes cause this too, usually because of a problem in delivering oxygen by the circulation.

There are people who have thicker blood because the bone marrow produces more cells than it should. These people have a slightly different problem and may have no symptoms of illness or a variety of complaints.

Obviously, treatment depends on what the cause really is. If it is lung disease, the lung disease must be treated. If it is simple loss of water, that needs to be corrected. If the bone marrow is producing too many cells, sometimes medicines are given to control this.

Unless there is some other reason, blood is usually not removed unless the percentage of cells exceeds 55 percent of the blood. Then this is sometimes done. Many people with this disorder, however, live for years without difficulty and year's longer after it becomes necessary to remove blood from time to time.

Jackson Gearing to Challenge Wallace in Alabama Primary?

WASHINGTON — Sen. Henry Jackson, in formally throwing his hat into the Presidential ring, has his sights definitely fixed on five key state primaries—and possibly one other, a surprise!

The crucial five are New Hampshire, March 7; Florida, March 14; Wisconsin, April 4; Oregon, May 23; New Mexico, June 6.

The still-undecided sixth is Alabama, the heretofore unchallenged political domain of Gov. George Wallace. Alabama's May 2 primary elect 37 delegates to the Democratic national convention.

Close campaign lieutenants claim Jackson has received "considerable" encouragement from "influential" Alabamians to go after this sizable Southern bloc. According to these sources, Jackson's Alabama partisans include blacks as well as whites.

Cited as a significant straw in the wind is the Washington state Democrat's recent sharp gibe at Wallace.

Addressing the Florida AFL-CIO in Jacksonville, where the Alabama governor ran strong in 1968, Jackson classically lumped him and New York Mayor John Lindsay in a double-barreled blast.

Referring to Wallace, Jackson said, "Don't waste your votes on splinter candidates. You did that four years ago and look what you got. Voting for a splinter candidate only helps elect the opposition."

Lindsay was scorned as a Johnny-come-lately grabbing for the top spot in one swoop. Said Jackson, "I welcome converts to the party, but we can't expect to be chairman of the board of deacons as a starter. Mr. Lindsay hasn't done very well in his own town, so his qualifications for President are a bit doubtful, to put it mildly."

The Only One
In the five state primaries Jackson definitely intends to enter, he will have one notable distinction and a potentially decisive advantage.

He is the only Democratic aspirant who (1) is not a dove and clamor for immediate withdrawal from Vietnam, and (2) is a staunch and outspoken advocate of maintaining strong U.S. military forces.

Also, Jackson is the foremost Congressional champion of ample military aid to Israel.

Last year, over strenuous State Department opposition, he put through a $500 million credit to enable Israel to purchase F-4 Phantom supersonic fighter jets and other weapons—which the Nixon administration still hasn't released. And this year, Jackson is sponsoring another proposal of that kind—with powerful bipartisan support.

A few days ago, he also literally forced Secretary of State Rogers to pledge that an $85 million economic assistance grant to Israel in the embattled foreign aid bill will not be impounded. In other words, the Administration is committed to make this money available to Israel.

This heretofore undisclosed promise was given after some blunt talk between Jackson and Rogers. The veteran legislator minced no words, and Rogers caved in.

Jackson's resounding backstage victory was formally sealed by Senate Republican leader Hugh Scott (Pa.) who, in Jackson's words, "has conveyed the Administration's commitment that the funds in question will indeed be expended as promptly as possible. These funds will not be impounded or delayed."

As third-ranking member of the Joint Atomic Committee, Jackson has consistently stood for a strong military establishment.

Illustrative of his outspoken views are the following:

"We must give our most urgent attention to the protections of our deterrent forces. We must not lose sight of the fact that all over the world there are men and women whose lives and freedom depend, in the last analysis, on the capacity of the United States to lead the common defense effort of the free world."

"In current discussion of our national priorities there is a tendency to draw a sharp distinction between defense, on one hand, and domestic needs on the other. I reject this view. The term 'domestic' when applied to our priorities is misleading for nothing could be more 'domestic' than the survival of our people or the freedom of this nation to choose its way of life free from outside interference."

"The issue of our priorities is not an either-or proposition. We must not only maintain peace by deterring nuclear war, but we must promote a just and healthy society as well. Success in one of these goals will not help us survive failure in the other."

"When it comes to the security of our country, I am not some kind of hybrid of shifting plumage. I am not a hawk or a dove or an ostrich. And I don't want my country to be a pigeon."

Of all the Democratic Presidential hopefuls, Jackson is the only one who is talking that way—and means it!

"Nutty" Holiday Forecast Given

By GAYNOR MADDOX
What would the festive Thanksgiving and Christmas dinner be without the holiday bowl full of nuts?

What are the nutty prospects for the 1971 holiday season? Very good, experts say. Almonds will be down a shade in production, but not enough to trouble enthusiasts. California is the main source.

According to J.S. Miller, assistant chief of specialty crops of the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Consumer Marketing Service, there are large acreages of newly planted almond trees in the deserts of southern California, which have recently been irrigated by water brought down through the new aqueduct from the north. Anyone who can buy a plot of land in the recently irrigated area plants almond trees. There's going to be a huge new crop in four or five years.

"The almond people are particularly sharp about merchandising their crops, both present and future ones. They spend lots of money on promotion in our country and in Europe and Japan," Miller says.

"The Japanese are beginning to like American foods. So the California Almond Exchange is certainly helping them change their taste—as far as American almonds are concerned."

The walnut crop will be bigger than last year. Prices will not be lower, however. The growers hope for an increase in consumption. California is also the main growing area for the English walnuts.

"The walnut growers don't seem quite so determined as the almond producers. They are also playing the European and Japanese markets, but they don't seem to push so hard. This might be because they have not got the same amount of money as the almond group," Miller says.

"Perhaps the public isn't quite so eager to eat walnuts as they are to crunch almonds. Incidentally, black walnuts, as opposed to English walnuts, are grown mainly in Kentucky and Tennessee. They have hard shells, are stronger in flavor, stain the fingers black and are a small crop."

The pecan crop will also be much larger than last year. They are grown all across the south, but Georgia is the largest producer.

There are two types of pecans: the improved 'paper shell' and the maller pecan with a hard shell which is used widely in collections and baking by commercial firms, Miller explains.

The filbert crop from Oregon will also be particularly large this season. "But filberts are not so well known as the other nuts. They are not well promoted, but the growers are beginning to see the light. Competition," says Miller, "is getting stiff."

"Everyone is interested in more and better nuts, but they must be told about them." (Newspaper Enterprise Ass.)

"Gourmet Treat" Spices Holidays

GOURMET STRAWBERRY BARS

Deliciously rich!
1 cup (2 one-quarter pound sticks) butter
1 cup sugar
2 egg yolks

2 cups unsifted flour, stir to aerate before measuring
1 cup finely chopped walnuts
1/2 cup strawberry jam

Cream butter and sugar; beat in egg yolks. Gradually stir in flour, the walnuts. Pat half the mixture into a buttered 9-inch square cake pan; spread with jam. Shape remaining half of mixture into a 4 1/4-inch square and chill if necessary to have very firm; cut into 14 strips, place strips over jam with edges touching to cover jam completely as possible; smooth edges with a small metal spatula. Bake in a pre-heated 25-degree oven until lightly browned — 55 minutes. With the spatula, loosen edges. Cool in pan and cut into small bars.

GAME HENS—For a small group of six, it is more economical to serve Cornish Game hens. Simple Game hens basted with cranberry-raspberry sauce are winners.

Thanksgiving Game Gives Holiday Flair

By AILEEN CLAIRE
NEA Food Editor

Holiday meals call for a certain flair. It is easy to have tasty, attractive and inexpensive menus for Thanksgiving. Most turkeys are flavorful and go a long way when there are more than 12 people for guests during this special holiday. For a smaller group of six try a very special Cornish game hen recipe which includes basting the birds with a jellied cranberry-raspberry sauce for an extra touch these may be flamed with a dash of brandy in a chafing dish.

GAME HEN CRANBLEE
6 game hens
Salt and pepper

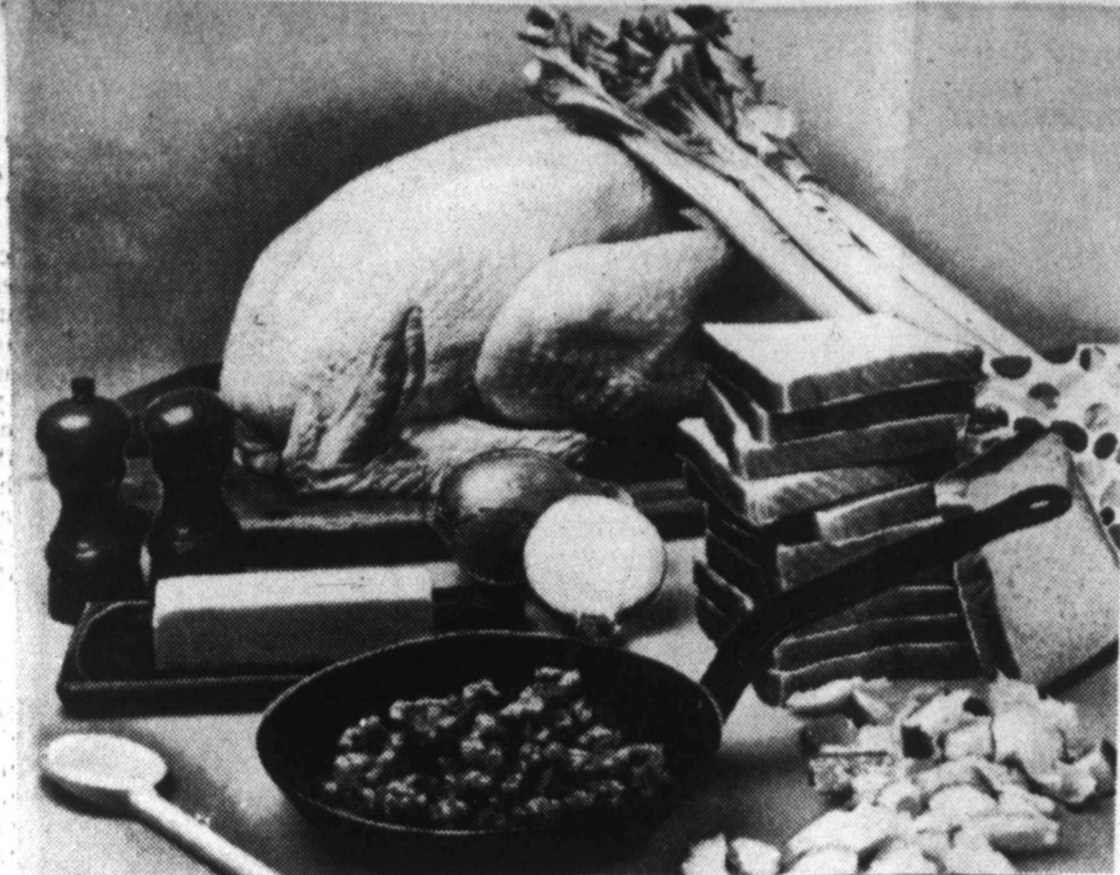

1/4 cup melted butter or margarine
Juice of 1 lemon
1 teaspr. grated lemon rind
1 can (1 pound) jellied cranberry-raspberry sauce, mashed
1/2 cup warm brandy

Sprinkle game hens with salt and pepper. Roast in a preheated 350-degree oven for 45 minutes. Combine butter, lemon juice, rind and cranberry-raspberry sauce. Stir over heat until bubbly. Brush some of the sauce over game hens and roast another 15 minutes. Keep remaining sauce hot to spoon over game hens. Place game hens on a platter. If desired, spoon warm brandy over hens and set aflame. Serve game hens with sauce spooned over them. Makes 6 servings.

Want to prepare a small amount of potato salad in a hurry? Simply take a can (1 1/2-pz.) mayonnaise style potato salad and combine with two slices Salami, cut into squares; two hard-cooked eggs, diced; one teaspoon prepared mustard and one tablespoon chopped dill pickle. Chill. Makes two hearty, tasty servings.

If you're fond of sauerkraut, you're sure to like this delightful main dish. Brown four Loin Chops on both sides in a heavy skillet. Add a can (1 lb.) of sauerkraut and cook chops and sauerkraut over low heat until chops are done.

with sauce spooned over them. Makes 6 servings.

THANKSGIVING TURKEY—Vary that all-time favorite, bread stuffing for the turkey, with an old-time idea. The stuffing is made with bread, sausage, onion, celery, butter, salt and pepper.

How To Stuff Turkey

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Bread stuffing for the turkey is an all-time favorite. But there are ways to vary it.

One way, used by old-time cooks, is to flavor the stuffing with pork sausage, adding the usual onion and celery — and lots of butter. We tasted this stuffing at a friend's house and we've been smacking our lips ever since! If your family likes a "dry" stuffing, this recipe may be right up your alley.

OLD-FASHIONED SAUSAGE STUFFING

1 loaf (1 pound, 6 ounces)

sliced white enriched bread
1/2 pound bulk-style pork sausage

1 cup (two 1/4-pound sticks) butter

1 1/2 cups finely chopped onion

1 cup finely chopped celery

1 1/2 teaspoons salt

1/4 teaspoon pepper

With fingers, lightly tear bread slices, including ends, into irregular-shaped pieces, dime size or smaller, letting pieces fall into 2 large shallow roasting or baking pans.

Place pans of crumbs in a preheated 325-degree oven, stirring and turning often, until crumbs are dry — about 30 minutes. (Reverse position of pans midway if necessary.) There should be about 5 quarts dry crumbs.

In a 10-inch deep skillet over moderate heat cook sausage, breaking it up with a fork to form fine crumbs, for about 10 minutes. With a slotted spoon remove sausage to paper toweling to drain. Discard fat in skillet. Wash and dry skillet.

In the clean dry skillet, melt one third cup of the butter. Add 1/2 cup of the onion and one third cup of the celery; cook gently until onion and celery are soft. Add one third of the bread crumbs and cook, tossing lightly with a wide spatula, for about 3 minutes; turn into a large bowl. Continue this process with one third more of the ingredients and then with the final one third of the ingredients, being sure to use even the finest crumbs at the bottom of the pans.

After all the onion, celery and bread mixtures are in the large bowl, add salt, pepper and sausage; toss thoroughly. Makes about 3 quarts (12 cups) stuffing, enough for filling body and neck cavities of a 14 to 16-pound turkey.

Note: If sausage is frozen, thaw before cooking in skillet.

CASHEW NUT STUFFING—Turkey and the holidays are traditional. Try this new, rich cashew nut stuffing for a change of pace. Sauterne wine, cashews and seasonings offer a special treat for family and guests.

Nut Stuffing Is Great

For this holiday season, here is a new, rich cashew nut stuffing. The stuffing is easily prepared and offers a characteristic flavor originating from the sauterne wine, cashews and seasonings. In addition to the turkey and stuffing, broiled apple rings with cranberries make an attractive garnish.

Holiday Dinner Menu

Cashew Nut Stuffing

- Yield 8 cups
- Enough to stuff a 12-pound turkey
- 1/2 cup chopped onion
- 2 cups chopped celery
- One-third cup butter or margarine
- 1/2 cups dry bread cubes (1 1/2" cubes)
- 1 1/2 cups coarsely chopped cashew nuts

- 1 teaspr. salt
- 1 teaspr. sage
- 1/2 teaspr. poultry seasoning
- 1/4 cup water
- 1/4 cup sauterne wine
- 1 egg

Cook onion and celery in butter in skillet until tender. Add mixture to bread cubes and cashews. Mix in seasonings, water, wine and egg. Stuff bird immediately and roast.

JERUSALEM (AP) — Premier Golda Meir will visit Washington soon to meet with President Nixon and other American officials, official sources said.

Local newspapers reported that Mrs. Meir would make the trip in December. But officials said the date had not been fixed.

The newspapers also said Defense Minister Moshe Dayan would delay his visit to the United States because of Mrs. Meir's trip. He was to have made a fund-raising tour next week.

Mrs. Meir is expected to urge the Nixon administration to renew warplane deliveries to Israel.

Worry Clinic

By GEORGE W. CRANE
Ph. D., M.D.

Study Anita's remarks with great care! For after I had lost 7 private secretaries to cultured men who wrote to me via this newspaper column, I invited leading clergy men to start an ethical Scientific Marriage Foundation. All of us Board Members donate our time and prestige of help Cupid! Note the results!

CASE S-525: Anita G., aged 26, is a lovely school teacher.

"Dr. Crane," she began, "in the small town where I started teaching, all the eligible men in my age bracket were already married.

"So I decided to register with your Scientific Marriage Foundation.

"And within 3 months, I had been introduced to a handsome scientific farmer who lived less than 100 miles away.

"The 'Computer Cupid' matched us on 10 basic traits, so we were engaged and have been happily married for 4 years!"

LOVE A LA CARTE
How many of you readers are eligible for marriage? But still unattached? SMF (Scientific Marriage Foundation) may be the precise answer to your desire for happy romance.

"Computer Cupid" is the electronic machine that SMF uses to match compatible couples on 10 basic traits. SMF if the only ecumenical, non-profit Marriage Foundation with leading Catholic, Jewish and Protestant clergymen on its Board.

These include Dr. Norman Vincent Peale, Bishop Gerald Kennedy, Rabbi Samuel M. Silver, Monsignor Henry F. Ward, Dr. Charles Ray Goff and a score of others.

Moreover, 2,500 eminent clergymen of all those faiths also serve as volunteer Counselors, donating 30 minutes for each private interview.

After 15 years of operation, the SMF divorce rate is still less than one per cent among its 10,000 happily married folks.

This contrasts strikingly with the tragic 30 per cent divorce rate for the nation at large.

Hundreds of previously half-orphaned kiddies now bubble over with evident delight to be back in a normal two-parent homelife once more.

For they had lost a daddy or mother by auto wrecks, cancer or other tragic causes, but now are joyful at again knowing they have two devoted parents.

Since the juvenile delinquency rate is much higher among children who lack one or both parents, the SMF is thus superb insurance for reducing crime.

Obviously, the SMF cannot guarantee romance and marriage!

It can only introduce congenial couples of similar interest, religion, ideals and even hobbies.

Besides, there are 5,000,000 more unmarried women above the age of 21 than there are unattached men.

The clergymen Board Members also voted a permanent registration fee of only $25, which is a lifelong contribution.

Some of the commercial introductory organizations in our big cities levy a $250 to $500 fee for only 6 months and legally guarantee women 3 dates.

IQ And Factors

By BRIAN SULLIVAN
AP Science Writer

UPTON, N.Y. (AP) — Blacks and Mexican-Americans score lower on IQ tests because of sociocultural factors, not because of race, a study has shown statistically for the first time, a California sociologist reported Thursday.

Dr. Jane Mercer, an associate professor at the Riverside branch of the University of California, said she was able to demonstrate that the application of seven selected sociocultural factors did away with the average 15-point lead a white group had in the IQ scores.

"When you have accounted for sociocultural differences," Dr. Mercer said, "there is no significant residual variation that could be directly attributable to ethnic groups alone."

The sociologist said IQ tests originally were designed to predict which children would do well in school, but that they have come to be misused in such ways as the diagnosis of mental retardation without considering any other factors.

Some scientists have cited the typical difference in IQ scores between whites and blacks as proof that there is a genetic difference between the races. The most notable advocates of this view are Dr. William Shockley, a Nobel prize winner in physics now at Stanford University, and Dr. Arthur Jensen, an educational psychologist at the Berkeley branch of the University of California.

Dr. Mercer's findings grew out of work she did on children classed as mentally retarded in Riverside. She reported a few months ago that many children were being incorrectly labeled as retarded.

The seven sociocultural factors applied to the scores were: family ideas about achievement, linguistic barriers, participation of the mother in community activities, the child's level of anxiety, his familiarity with testing procedures, whether the child lived in a segregated or nonsegregated neighborhood and the strength of family ties.

PREMIERE IN LONDON
NEW YORK (AP) — After "Nicholas and Alexandra" has its world premiere in London, the Sam Spiegel-Franklin J. Schaffner production will have its American premiere Dec. 13 in New York.

The film stars Michael Jayston and Janet Suzman of Britain's Royal Shakespeare Company in title roles and Tom Baker of England's National Theatre as Rasputin.

JUERGENS AS TITO
BELGRADE (AP) — Kurt Juergens, West German screen actor, will be cast to play Marshal Tito as the Yugoslav guerrilla leader in a movie on partisan warfare in Yugoslavia.

Richard Burton will be cast as Sava Kovacevic, a legendary guerrilla leader, killed during the last war, in a movie in which Irene Pappas, Greek actress, will also play.

The movie, "Sutjeska," will depict the struggle of Tito's partisans against occupying forces in World War II.

Canada--A Restless Neighbor

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

TORONTO (AP) — A feud can damage a neighborhood. A feud can lead, for example, to the appearance of fences where there were none before.

Fences, visible or invisible, are something Canada and the United States have managed to do without through a century of friendship across their long and undefended borders.

Today their relations are not, by any means, at the stage of feud. But it could come to that. The relations that have been a model for the world for 100 years are deteriorating in the wake of newly adopted U.S. economic moves.

The deterioration had set in before that, however. For a long time, much of Canada has felt abused, dominated, neglected, robbed of identity.

The United States,

transfixed by its own monumental problems, seems to many Canadians not to give a hoot about Canada except as a convenience.

The president of the United States himself recently touched an exposed nerve. A month after unveiling his economic policy, President Nixon remarked at a news conference that "Japan is our biggest customer in the world and we are their biggest customer in the world."

The fact is that Canada and the United States are each other's best customers. The twoway flow between them is the greatest trade volume between any two nations in all history.

"The mere thought that the president of the United States should be so poorly advised that he could make such a statement so factually incorrect, worried me about the sort of advice he might be getting on other matters," said Allan Grossman, Ontario provincial minister of trade and development.

The minister has company in this sentiment. Few casual presidential remarks have ranked so in the Canadian breast. To Canadians, it illustrated precisely what has been wrong in Americans' attitude toward their neighbors. Influential people in Canada's business and political world complain that this country is taken for granted by Americans, many of whom are utterly ignorant of the importance of Canada to the United States, ignorant of the scope of the two nation's trade.

So concerned is Ontario's provincial government that it has decided to set up a Washington office—it dislikes to call the effort a lobby.

Just heard about the millionaire who converted his estate into travelers' checks, and took it with him.

Dating Game Over Bowl Games Picked

Associated Press

Now that the bowls have played the dating game, Nebraska and Oklahoma are about to play the rating game with Alabama-Auburn not far behind.

Much of the college football season will revolve around what happens on Thursday in Norman, Okla., and Saturday at Birmingham, Ala. In the former game, top-ranked Nebraska's defending national champions take on runnerup Oklahoma in the Game of the Week, Year, Decade, Century.

Two days later, Nov. 4 Alabama and No. 5 Auburn square off for bragging rights in the South.

All four titans had this weekend off but two other contenders for the national championship kept rolling along. Third-ranked Michigan turned back arch-rival Ohio State 10-7 on Billy Taylor's 21-yard gallop with 2:07 remaining, giving the Wolverines their first perfect regular campaign since 1948. Penn State, rated sixth, got three more touchdowns—nos. 26, 27 and 28—from record-breaking scorer Lydell Mitchell and crushed Pitt 55-18.

Then the bowl people went to work with open arms and came up with the following lineup:

Fasadena Bowl, Dec. 18 Memphis State, 4-6 vs. either Long Beach State, 8-3 with one game left, or San Jose State, 4-5 with one game left.

Liberty Bowl, Dec. 20—Arkansas, 8-2-1 vs. Tennessee, 7-2 with two games left. However, Arkansas could wind up in the Cotton Bowl if Texas A&M upsets Texas on Thursday.

Tangerine Bowl, Dec. 28—Toledo, 11-0, vs. Richmond, 5-5.

Gator Bowl, Dec. 31—Georgia, 9-1 with one game left, coached by Vince Dooley vs. North Carolina, 9-2, coached by Bill Dooley. Vince's brother.

Astro-Bluebonnet Bowl, Dec. 31—Colorado, 9-2 vs. Houston, 8-2 with one game left.

Cotton Bowl, Jan. 1—Penn State, 10-0 with one game left vs. Texas, 7-2, provided the Longhorns beat Texas A&M in their finale on Thursday.

Rose Bowl, Jan. 1—Michigan, 11-0, vs. Stanford, 8-3.

Elsewhere in the Associated Press Top Ten, seventh-ranked Notre Dame bowed to No. 14 Louisiana State 28-8 as Bert Jones passed for two touchdowns and scored a third. No. 8 Georgia was idle; ninth-rated Arizona State clobbered San Jose State 49-6 as Dan White passed for three touchdowns and Woody Green ran for 175 yards and No. 10 Colorado walloped Air Force 53-17 as Charlie Davis ran for 196 yards and John Tarver added 126.

In the Second Ten, No. 11 Tennessee downed Kentucky 217, No. 12 Texas was idle, No. 13 Toledo flattened Kent State 41-6, No. 15 Southern Cal. battled UCLA to a 7-7 tie, No. 16 Houston whipped Miami, Fla. 27-6; No. 17 Arkansas blanked Texas Tech 15-0; No. 18 Stanford held off California 14-0; Northwestern upset No. 19 Michigan State 28-7 and No. 20 Mississippi was idle.

Cornell and Dartmouth each wound up with a half-share of the Ivy wreath as the Big Red stopped Penn 41-13 and the Big Green discolored Princeton 33-7. Cornell's Ed Marinaro rambled for 230 yards and five touchdowns and added the onseason NCAA rushing record (1,881 yards) to his career mark (4,715).

There were some happy people in Ann Arbor, Mich. One was Taylor, who called the victory "the ultimate" and added, "It took me three years to score against Ohio State."

And there were some unhappy people, too, notably Coach Woody Hayes of the losers.

Six Harvesters were named to the All-District 3-AAAA football team to end their successful 8-2 season under the guidance of 3-AAAA Coach of the Year Robert E. Swede Lee.

Harvester standouts on the top team were Mike Reddell, at split end, Reddell caught 14 passes for 308 yards and two touchdowns during the regular season.

Harmon Staus, Jr., captured the tackle slot for his outstanding offensive play. Pampa's Tibby Rogers was also named to the All-District offensive squad for his performance at guard.

Johnny Roth, Sr., finally received deserved recognition by being named as a running back on the squad.

On defense, Pampa's Dale Ammons was named as one of the backs along with Jody Johnson, Johnson also tipped the balance as the Outstanding Sophomore Of the Year.

Robert E. Swede Lee was named the Coach of the Year for 1971 after guiding the 'Fighting Harvesters' to their best season in 21 years and helping them pick up the district crown.

Cowboys Leading NFL After Downing Reds

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Dallas Cowboys say Sunday's 13-0 National Football League victory over the Washington Redskins was a "big" one.

But they hope there are bigger things in store.

"This was a big win, but I'm not personally satisfied," Dallas quarterback Roger Staubach said after the game.

"The championship is what I want. These games are forgotten if you don't win the championship."

"We're thinking about Thursday," said Dallas Coach Tom Landry, referring to the Cowboys' clash with the Los Angeles Rams. "We're going to have a tough game."

The game's only touchdown came in the opening quarter when Staubach capped an 86-yard drive with a 29-yard scamper.

The former Heisman Trophy winner flooded the right side of the field with receivers, drawing the entire Redskins' secondary with them.

"We had a man open but I got a lot of pressure," Staubach said. "I was just trying for the first down, but then I saw I was wide open. I saw the corner and gave it what speed I had."

The only other scoring in the game came on field goals of 26 and 48 yards by Mike Clark.

"Thirteen points just isn't a great deal by any means unless the defense is playing like ours," Staubach said.

The Redskins' defense was almost as good, except for the scoring drive. Dallas advanced to the Washington side of the field only four times. The Redskins were in Cowboy territory seven times, twice inside the 20.

"What we needed was a big play," said Redskins' quarterback Sonny Jurgensen. "For the last three or four weeks, we just haven't made the big play. That's what the whole thing is about."

The victory boosted Dallas into a half-game lead over Washington in their battle for the National Conference's Eastern Division title.

It marks the first time this season that Washington hasn't at least been tied for the division lead.

"We're still in the race," said Redskins' Coach George Allen. "Our team is going to get strong as our injured players recover."

Billy Kilmer started at quarterback for Washington and received a vote of confidence from Allen.

"I thought Kilmer did a fine job," Allen said. "He was doing the job, but we weren't getting any points. We got behind by 10 points and we had to throw. Sonny (Jurgensen) is the better passer."

"It's been a long time since we've won a football game. But I have a lot of faith and confidence in our football team. Our biggest problem is to get our injured players available."

NBA Roundup

"We did just about everything we could to contain him and I thought we did pretty well," Los Angeles Coach Bill Sharman said of center Kareem Jabbar.

Well, not quite. The Milwaukee superstar poured in 39 points.

But the Lakers had something going for them, too—Wilt Chamberlain's rebounding and a searing fast break led by Gail Goodrich and Jerry West. And when the running ended in Sunday's night's National Basketball Association game, the Lakers owned a 112-105 victory over the Bucks.

In other NBA games, Boston belted Cleveland 128-105. Houston overhauled Golden State 115-96 and Seattle turned back Philadelphia 127-117.

In the only American Basketball Association game, the Floridians overpowered Memphis 103-86.

In Saturday night NBA action, New York beat Baltimore 125-114. Detroit topped Buffalo 105-96. Atlanta whipped Phoenix 115-109. Chicago downed Boston 123-106. Seattle edged Portland 104-100 and Golden State surprised Milwaukee 107-100 and in the ABA, Pittsburgh beat Memphis, 113-103. Kentucky topped Carolina 120-107. Utah nipped Dallas 103-99 and Denver beat the Floridians 117-97.

Los Angeles kept running away from Milwaukee—but the Bucks kept charging back and trailed by only 94-92 midway in the final quarter.

Then the Lakers pulled away for good with West and Jim McMillian canning a pair of baskets apiece to open a 104-96 bulge. Goodrich had 27 points, McMillian 25 and West 22 for Los Angeles while Bob Jandridge added 21 for Milwaukee.

The Celtics held a slim five-point halftime edge, then broke it open by outscoring the Cavaliers 40-22 in the third period with John Havlicek scoring 11 of his game-high 36 points and Dave Cowens eight of his 19 in the big Boston frame. Butch Beard led Cleveland with 21.

Houston rookie Mike Newlin led all scorers in the Rockets' victory with 31 points but it was little Johnny Egan, with nine of his 14 points coming in the final period, that knocked down the Warriors, led by Cazzie Russell's 24 points.

Philadelphia trimmed a 15-point deficit to one with 2:52 to go, then SuperSonics center Don Smith Pumped in 10 of his team-high 26 points to seal Seattle's victory. Billy Cunningham had 32 for the 76ers.

The Floridians, trailing early, broke a 19-19 tie at the start of the second period and never looked back as rookie Willie Long led them past Memphis with 22 points. Larry Cannon had 16 for the Pros.

STRANGE PUNT
How often do you have to punt on fourth down and goal to go? Syracuse University did earlier this season in its game with Northwestern. The Orangemen began the series on the Northwestern nine-yard line but lost 35 yards in three plays and punted from the Wildcat 44 on fourth down.

Johnson Wins Azalea Open

WILMINGTON, N.C. (AP)—"I'll probably break down and cry when I leave here."

George Johnson, a 32-year-old from Atlanta was talking about his reaction to his playoff victory over Ralph Johnston Sunday in the Azalea Open golf tournament.

"Sure, I'm a little excited," said Johnson, only the fourth black to win on the pro golf circuit. "You've got to be a little excited when you win. Winning for the first time, well, man, it's something else."

"I'm excited now, but I'll probably be a lot more excited later."

Johnson, who was in the vending machine business until he joined the pro tour three years ago, picked up $7,000 from the total purse of $35,000 when he ran in a 20-foot birdie putt on the first extra hole to defeat Johnston, a 30-year-old who was just completing his first full year on the tour.

Johnson had a final round 70, one under par on the 6,575-yard Cape Fear Country Club course and Johnston had a fine 66 as they tied at the end of 72 holes at 274.

Veteran Rod Funseth and New York club pro Terry Wilcox were just one stroke back and there was a group of five at 276—Labron Harris, Jim Jamieson, Bobby Mitchell, Herb Hooper and disappointed Jim Colbert.

The veteran Colbert threatened to run away from the field at one stage, taking birdies on seven of eight holes in one string to establish a two-stroke lead.

But he took a triple bogey on the 13th hole to knock himself out of it. He snaphooked his drive into deep rough, hit his second against a tree, punched his third back to the fairway, was shot in four, chipped on and then missed a five-foot putt. He finished with a 69.

Johnston, well back in the field starting the chilly, windy day's play, birdied five of his first six holes and barged into contention. He finished about an hour ahead of Johnson and had to wait nervously while George played his last few holes.

Ralph was away on the par 4 first hole, the first playoff hole, and missed his putt. George made it from 20 feet to become the 16th first-time winner this season.

Ironically, the victory will not put Johnston in the Masters. This year, for the first time, all major tournament winners earn a spot in the classic at Augusta, Ga. And this year, for the first time, the Azalea is not classified as a major tournament. No black golfer has ever played in the Masters.

NO PASSING FANCY
When he introduced evangelist Billy Graham to a press conference, Dallas Cowboys coach Tom Landry remarked, "Billy's lucky. His team has only one quarterback and he knows who it is. And if I had his quarterback, I'd have no problem either."

FRIENDLY ADVICE
 A 75-year-old lady in Oklahoma City has been sending "quarterbacking" advice to the University of Oklahoma's Jack Mildren for three seasons. "I think she's given me 20 different grips that she says would make me throw the ball better," says Mildren, who completed 49 percent of his passes last season. "I still don't think I'm a bad passer but maybe I should drop by and see her. She might have the secret."

WHERE OLLIE IS
 Ollie Matson, whose 12,844 career total yardage is the third best in NFL history, is now a football coach at Los Angeles High School. The school's principal is Norm Schachter, an NFL referee for 18 seasons.

GILMORE IMPRESSES
 Artis Gilmore, the Kentucky Colonels' prize 7-2 rookie, certainly impressed the Baltimore Bullets. Bullet coach Gene Shue said, "He's awesome. He's fantastic." Bullet center Wes Unseld said, "I don't see anything to hold him back." Guard Kevin Loughery said, "He's one of the five best players in pro basketball right now."

Karras Says Drug Use Is Widespread

DETROIT (AP) — Ex-Detroit Lion star Alex Karras says that the use of drugs is widespread in professional football. In a story written for the Monday edition of the Detroit Free Press, Karras said that former football player Dave Meggessey was "mostly right" when he alleged that many, if not most, professional football players use drugs to increase their ability and ignore injuries. "I've taken shots, or novocaine injections, and I've taken pep pills, and so have a lot of other Lions and so do players on almost any team you'd care to name," Karras said. "It's a very common thing. Some players take 'em (pep pills) by the handful before a ballgame." Karras said pep pills were as common as novocaine shots, which were taken to "playover" injuries. He recalled taking shots during much of the 1964 season to ignore a groin injury, and not sleeping "18 hours in a whole week for weeks" because of the pain after the shot wore off the reinjured muscle. While no one ever orders shots or pills, Karras said, pressure from coaches and teammates drives players to take them so as to perform when they are hurt. Karras said the use of drugs went "as far back as I can remember," and said he had "to laugh at the clubs around the league who absolutely deny that this sort of thing exists." Karras played with the Lions from 1958 until his release this fall.

SWC Football

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
 Associated Press Sports Writer
 Penn State will be pulling hard for a Texas victory over the Texas Aggies Thanksgiving Day because the Nittany Lions still feel there's some unsettled business from the 1969 season. You remember the fuss. Texas defeated Arkansas in Big Shootout I with the nation and President Nixon looking on. He proclaimed Texas national champion and the Longhorns grabbed the mythical title with a 21-17 victory over Notre Dame in the Cotton Bowl. Penn State raised cane but the Nittany Lions passed up a chance to play the Longhorns by voting to go to the Orange Bowl. Now Penn State is coming to the Cotton Bowl as the guest team. The host team will go to Texas if it defeats A&M. Should the 'Horns tie or lose, Arkansas will come. Penn State star running back Lydell Mitchell said Penn State would have never voted to go to the Orange Bowl in 1969 "If we had known for sure that we could have played Texas for the undisputed national title. Things like that just happen, but I can tell you the feeling of the team to go to the Cotton Bowl (this year) is as strong as it was to go to the Orange then." Offensive tackle Dave Joyner said "Although Arkansas is a fine football team we really would prefer to play Texas. Texas is a team that has been in the public eye the past few years. We'd like to prove ourselves against them." The Aggie-Texas showdown to decide the Southwest Conference championship also will determine whether Arkansas meets Tennessee in the Liberty Bowl Dec. 20 on prime time national television. Should Texas win, the second-place Razorbacks would play in the Memphis, Tenn. post-season classic. Arkansas defeated Texas Tech 15-0 Saturday to complete its SWC slate at 5-1-1. Texas has suffered one league defeat — at the hands of the Razorbacks. In other SWC games Saturday, SMU clubbed Baylor 20-6. Bert Simmons kicked a 41-yard field goal with 21 seconds left to give TCU a 20-19 victory over luckless Rice, and Houston thrashed Miami 27-6. Aside from the Thanksgiving Day showdown between the fastimproving Aggies and the Longhorns, Baylor is at Rice, TCU is at SMU and Utah is at Houston next Saturday. Texas quarterback Eddie Phillips worked out briefly Saturday for the Longhorns but did not test his sore shoulder. Substitute Donnie Wigginton is considered the likely starter at signal caller for the 'Horns. Texas A&M safety David Hoot says it doesn't really matter which quarterback Texas uses because Wigginton seems about as good as Phillips to me. Penn State scouts will be there with notepads in hand. Joe Paterno, Penn State Coach who gave his team a lecture on state pride before the Nittany Lions crushed Texas Christian 66-14 earlier this year, had this to say about 1969 and 1971 after his team defeated Pittsburgh 55-18 Saturday: "We felt we had to prove ourselves to Big Eight fans in those Orange Bowl games." Paterno said of his 15-14 victory over Kansas in the 1969 Orange Bowl and a 10-3 verdict over Missouri last year. "Now we hope we can show fans in the Southwest that we really can play a little football." Any questions Arkansas or Texas???

Division Titles Change Hands

By BRUCE LOWITT
 Associated Press Sports
 "We're a pretty good football team," said Coach Tom Landry. "We're still in the race," countered George Allen. Landry had just watched his Dallas Cowboys vault into the lead in the National Conference East with a 13-0 victory over Washington, regaining the spot they had been pursuing since being knocked off 20-16 by Allen's Redskins seven weeks ago. But Sunday's triumph wasn't the only thing on Landry's mind. "We're thinking about Thursday," he said. That's when the Cowboys take on the Los Angeles Rams. The game will be an additional Thanksgiving Day feast for National Football League fans, bringing together a pair of divisional leaders. The Rams, harrasing quarterback John Brodie all afternoon and limiting potent San Francisco to a pair of field goals, made it a season sweep over the 49ers with a 17-6 triumph that put them atop the NFC West. In the day's other "big" game—naturally all games in the NFL are big but some are bigger than others—Miami grabbed a bit of breathing room in the American Conference East as Garry Yepremian booted the Dolphins to a 17-14 victory over the Baltimore Colts.

Around the rest of the league, Kansas City kept on Oakland's heels in the AFC West with a 28-10 victory over Denver while the Raiders were squeezing by San Diego 34-33, Detroit stifled Chicago 28-3, Minnesota beat New Orleans 23-10, Pittsburgh beat the New York Giants 17-13, Cleveland crushed New England 27-7, Cincinnati belted Houston 28-13, the New York Jets whipped Buffalo 20-7 and Philadelphia swatted St. Louis 37-20.

In tonight's nationally televised (ABC, 9 p.m. EST) game, the Green Bay Packers invade Atlanta to take on the Falcons. "Thirteen points just isn't a great deal by any means—unless the defense is playing like ours," said Dallas quarterback Roger Staubach, who scored the game's only touchdown on a 29-yard scamper the first time the Cowboys got their hands on the ball. Mike Clark got his foot into it twice for 6 and 48-yard field goals. Brodie threw four interceptions, three of them picked off by Gene Howard. But the other one was the killer, a theft by Jim Nettles who ran it back 29 yards for a touchdown in the final minute of the first half that put the Rams ahead 14-6. Earlier Roman Gabriel had flipped a 13-yard scoring strike to Jack Snow. "We knew we had the ability to control our own fate," said Dolphins Coach Don Shula, who left the Colts in 1970 to take over at Miami. "But by no means are we in." Baltimore has four games—including another one with the Dolphins on Dec. 11—to wipe out Miami's 1½-game lead. The Colts scored first on Don Nottingham's four-yard run in the first period. But in the third, the Dolphins bounced in front as Jim Kiick plunged over from one-yard and Bob Griese hit Marv

Lone Star Roundup

Southwest Texas coach Bill Miller awaited word Sunday on which and if Lone Star Conference co-champion will have a shot at the NIAA national championship. Texas A&I has grabbed the title the last two years. "We definitely want a shot at the playoffs," he said. Howard Payne ran third and Southwest Texas was fourth in last week's NIAA polls. As for Saturday's contest before a capacity crowd of 17,000 in Kingsville Miller said, "Our kids were determined to win that one."

"Both teams were hitting hard," he said. "It was a great game, just like the score indicates. Our defense did a great job, especially the secondary. Ricky West and Jim Stienke (nephew of A&I coach Gil Steinke although the names are spelled differently) had to cover some excellent receivers and did it. They were just great. Duncan was definitely the difference. He completed 12 of 31 passes for 175 yards and had another 30 yards rushing. He engineered the last drive with 1:27 left and covered 60 yards. John Parker caught five passes for 75 yards and had one of his best nights ever," he said.

As for the Javelinas, Miller said: "Man, they're tough up front. We couldn't run at them all." In other games, Angelo 7-3 beat Sul Ross (4-6) 45-14 while S. F. Austin (2-8) defeated Sam Houston (4-7) 10-6 and East Texas (6-5) won 24-10 over Tarleton (3-7).

Lavner Meets Rosewall At High Noon

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Australians Rod Lavner and Ken Rosewall, two of the old-timers on the pro tennis tour, meet at high noon in Dallas Friday in a showdown for the richest prize in pro tennis history—$50,000. And even the loser will be able to leave town in style. He'll get a check for $20,000. Lavner, who has earned more than $1 million since he turned pro in 1962, defeated American Arthur Ashe 6-3, 1-6, 6-3, 6-3 Sunday and Rosewall downed Tom Okker of the Netherlands in straight sets, 6-3, 6-3, 6-1 to earn the finals berth in the World Championship of Tennis playoffs.

Lavner, 33, and Rosewall, 37, couldn't help but remember how times have changed in pro tennis. "I can look back on the game with satisfaction now," Rosewall said. "I was happy when I turned pro and I hoped I would do well."

"I never thought at that time that the pro game would amount to much more than it did then. But years later we felt there might be some chance for the open game because amateurs were getting more and more under the table payments. "I'm just happy to be able to still play good tennis." Rosewall and Lavner certainly won't be strangers when they meet. Lavner estimated the pair have met more than 100 times in competition. "We played each other about 25 times the first year I turned pro," Lavner said.

"If you look at the record, it looks like an uphill fight for me," Rosewall said of his match with Lavner. "It will really depend on how I react to Rod's shots. "He's beaten me a lot and I think it's about time I turned the tables on him."

"I think it will partly depend on how he contends with my serve," Lavner said. "I think I've started serving better." Lavner, who has won $272,717 on the tour this year, recovered from a second set lapse to defeat Ashe for the 12th straight time. Ashe played well at times, breaking Lavner's service twice in winning the second set. Rosewall broke Okker's service three times in the first set and seven times in the match.

Fleming with a 10-yard touchdown pass. Before the period was over, though, it was tied again as Norm Bulcich bulled over from the four. That left it up to Yepremian, whose 20-yard field goal with 6:20 remaining in the game provided Miami with the winning cushion. The Broncos had hoped to give their new head coach, Jerry Smith, a winning debut—but Len Dawson had other ideas. The Chiefs' quarterback threw for three touchdowns and 294 yards. Daryle Lamonica also threw for three for the Raiders, outshining the 321-yard aerial display by the Chargers' John Hadl. "We were good to the last play," said Hadl, who had San Diego on the Oakland fouryard line with 1:11 to play, only to have his potential game-winning pass picked off by the Raiders' Dan Conners. Vikings quarterback Bob Lee, making his first start of the season, and running back Clint Jones each swept in for fouryard touchdowns and Fred Cox kicked three field goals to turn back the Saints. Leroy Kelly was the Browns' workhorse, rambling 113 yards on 23 carries and scoring two touchdowns—one on a pass from Bill Nelsen, the other on a one-yard plunge—to tumble the Patriots. Pete Liske passed for two touchdowns and the Eagles got two more on fumble recoveries to leapfrog over the Cardinals and out of the NFC East cellar.

North Texas State may have a poor season record, but the Eagles finished in a second place tie with Louisville Saturday on the strength of another victory when it counted in the Missouri Valley Conference standings. The Eagles blasted Wichita State 31-10 to bring their MVC record to 3-2. Louisville, the defending champion which also finished its MVC play with a 3-2 mark, was idle. Memphis State has clinched the MVC crown and the Pasadena Bowl berth that goes with it on a 4-1 record. The Tigers lost a non-conference game 28-21 to Kansas State Saturday. In other games, Drake rallied from behind for a 32-28 victory over West Texas and Florida State annihilated Tulsa 45-10. North Texas, which has a paltry 3-7 season mark, whipped the Shockers with salty defense. "All the defense played well," said Eagle Coach Rod Rust. It was only the second game for North Texas in Texas Stadium, home of the Dallas Cowboys, and the Eagles have won them both. They upset Louisville earlier in the year in the first game played in the stadium. About the only suspense left in the MVC football season now is Memphis State's opponent in the Dec. 18 Pasadena Bowl in Rose Bowl Stadium. Cal-State Long Beach appears to have the host Pacific Coast Athletic Association spot sewed up with San Jose State a longshot. In games this week, Tulsa is at Wichita State, West Texas is at Southern Mississippi, Mexico State is at Colorado State and Cincinnati is at Louisville.

NRA Supports Bill

WASHINGTON, D.C.—Passage by the U.S. Senate of a bill imposing a heavy criminal penalty on persons shooting down an aircraft drew full support from the one million member National Rifle Association of America.

Major General Maxwell E. Rich, Executive Vice President of the nation's largest sportsmen's association noted, "Friday's Senate action in approving the House-passed bill is another step toward sensibly conserving our wildlife resources."

General Rich pointed out that the Senate version which prescribes a maximum penalty of one year in prison and a $5,000 fine for using an airplane to hunt or harass "any bird, fish or other animal," varies slightly from the original proposal introduced by Pennsylvania Representative John Saylor and passed by the House of Representatives last May.

The differences will be resolved by a joint Senate-House Committee before the bill is sent to the White House for President Nixon's signature.

"This action by the Congress of the United States," the General added, "follows the sense of NRA's Board of Directors 1970 Resolution condemning the improper use of motorized air, water and land vehicles in the taking or harassing of wildlife or shooting of wildlife from such conveyances and urging passage of legislation prohibiting such acts."
