India's Largest City Hit By Enemy Planes

Pakistani jets attacked Bombay, India's largest city, United News of India reported today.

It said the attack came just after nightfall. Earlier in the day, India recognized the Bangla Desh rebels as the legal government of East Pakistan and claimed victory in a major tank battle on West Pakistan's border.

Bombay, a city of 5.6 million, is on India's west coast about 500 miles south of West Pakistan.

United News of India said Indian anti-aircraft guns and coastal batteries opened fire as the Pakistani planes approached Bombay.

The dispatch, apparently filed to New Delhi while the attack was under way, gave no idea of the extent of the raid.

Air raid warnings sounded over western India after sundown as Indian radar picked up sightings of what appeared to be a massive air strike, New Delhi dispatches reported.

In another development, Pakistan broke diplomatic relations with India in retaliation to its recognition of Bangla Desh.

A spokesman for India's Foreign Ministry in New Delhi said earlier the Indian government had no plans to sever diplomatic ties with Pakistan.

India has supported the Bangla Desh rebels since March and has gained backing for this stand from the Soviet Union.

There was no immediate word from Moscow on whether the Soviet Union would follow India in recognizing the rebels. Premier Alexei N. Kosygin said Sunday the question of Kremlin recognition had not been considered.

The Soviet news agency Tass carried a New Delhi dispatch reporting that India had done so and noted that Prime Minister Indira Gandhi had told her Parliament that recognition signifies an important turning point in the history of national liberation movements.

The Pakistanis claimed their forces had made a general advance in all sectors along the border between India and West Pakistan and had crossed the Tavi River in the Jammu sector of Kashmir.

Pakistan reported earlier that it had seized 20 Indian border posts in Kashmir.

Cuyler. Purpose of taking applications is to discover the extent of Christmas needs here and to prevent duplication with other organizations. Aside from gifts such as Green's, money for children's toys come from response to the Salvation Army's letter appeal for funds and the Christmas kettles.

Santa Day Parade Set Tomorrow

Pampa's annual Santa Day Parade will be staged tomorrow just as it was scheduled for last Thursday when a snowstorm caused it to be postponed.

The parade line-up and division schedules will be the same as originally planned with the formation taking place at 2:30 p.m. at S. Cuyler and Craven streets. The parade will move at 3 p.m. north on Cuyler to Francis, west on Francis to Ward, north on Ward to Hobart and north on Hobart to Coronado Center where it will disband.

Pampa schools will be dismissed early in the afternoon. All three Pampa school bands will march and there will be commercial and non-commercial floats, bicycle, motorcycle and mini-bike sections and a pet division.

Judges will award prizes for each division.

The highlight of the parade will be the appearances of Santa Claus riding one of the city's fire trucks.

Old Santa also will be at the Santa House downtown before the parade to distribute candy to children and at Santa House in Coronado Center to greet the kiddies after the parade.

The weatherman has promised a fair and warmer day for the Santa Day observance and Pampa is expected to be crowded with local residents and visitors from surrounding towns and communities.

The city devised the program in June to increase the present minimum rate from $3 to $3.30 and the first step rate in the amount of 17,000 gallons from 50 cents per thousand gallons to 60 cents per thousand, effective Oct. 1.

Because of the President's price-wage freeze the rate was not put into effect.

In the city's letter to IRS on Nov. 22 the city manager stated operation of Pampa's new surface water system will be a new function of city government and would increase operational costs.

The city asked that "in view of the fact this adjustment is critical to the function of the new system, a statement from your office as to the acceptability of the new rate under the Phase II program is needed as soon as possible."

Wofford said the telephone message was in answer to the letter and IRS stated that the plan was acceptable.

"But," said the city manager, "we want to have it in writing before we go ahead and present the plan to the City Commission for action."

Pampa Gets Green Light For Water Rate Increase

By TEX DEWEESSE

The City of Pampa has been given the green light to proceed with its proposed water rate increase.

City Manager Mack Wofford said today he received the go-ahead word in a weekend telephone call from the Internal Revenue Service price stabilization division in Dallas.

The city manager said, however, he planned to call the IRS today and ask for written confirmation of the telephone message.

The city manager had written to IRS Nov. 22 advising them of Pampa's plan for a water rate adjustment.

The city devised the program in June to increase the present minimum rate from $3 to $3.30 and the first step rate in the amount of 17,000 gallons from 50 cents per thousand gallons to 60 cents per thousand, effective Oct. 1.

Because of the President's price-wage freeze the rate was not put into effect.

In the city's letter to IRS on Nov. 22 the city manager stated operation of Pampa's new surface water system will be a new function of city government and would increase operational costs.

The city asked that "in view of the fact this adjustment is critical to the function of the new system, a statement from your office as to the acceptability of the new rate under the Phase II program is needed as soon as possible."

Wofford said the telephone message was in answer to the letter and IRS stated that the plan was acceptable.

"But," said the city manager, "we want to have it in writing before we go ahead and present the plan to the City Commission for action."

S. Korea Proclaims State Of Emergency

SEOUL (AP)—The South Korean government proclaimed a state of emergency today, charging war preparations by North Korea.

President Chung Hee Park declared South Korea must "reposture" its defense arrangements in view of Communist China's admission to the United Nations and uncertainty over the level of future American support.

A government proclamation informed South Koreans their constitutional freedoms may be restricted and "social unrest that risks the national security will not be tolerated."

The major opposition party, the New Democrats, took issue with Park. A party spokesman said the president's aim appeared to be the security of his government rather than the security of the nation. If the situation was serious enough to warrant emergency measures, the spokesman added, it should have been discussed in the National Assembly.

Park said North Korea has increased infiltration of armed agents to South Korea and has carried out a massive military buildup of more than 2.5 million troops, including a regular military force of 500,000 men, a militia of 1.4 million and 700,000 Red youth guards.

He noted that Communist China as a U.N. member is supporting North Korea's demands for dissolution of the United Nations Command in Korea and the U.N. Commission for the Unification and Rehabilitation of Korea.

"We must foresee thorny trails that might come in the path of our national security," he said.

As for South Korea's major ally, Park said: "The United States is running into a difficult position to allow us to depend on or ask for the same level of support for our national security as before."

producers during that crop year would be hiked by at least 25 per cent.

In addition, it is expected that Rep. Paul Findley, R-Ill., will try to attach a $20,000 limit on all farm-subsidy payments.

Under the base bill for a national food bank, the secretary of agriculture would buy wheat and feed grain at prices not exceeding the average

Russ Launch New Attacks On Red China

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union, apparently stung by China's actions at the United Nations, has loosed a new series of attacks on Mao Tse Tung's brand of communism.

The latest effort was a 3,000-word Pravda article in which Communist party philosopher Pyotr Fedoseyev argued that "Maoism is suffering defeat after defeat and its ultimate collapse is historically inevitable."

In an unusual move, the official news agency Tass repeated the gist of the Sunday article, stressing that "anti-imperialist forces," subverting the national liberation movement and "conducting a policy of conciliation with imperialistic forces on an anti-Soviet basis."

This marks a revival of anti-Mao articles in the Soviet press following a period of relative quiet just prior to China's entry to the United Nations.

price for the previous five years.

These reserve supplies could be released only when market prices for wheat and feed grains were 120 per cent above the previous five-year average price received by farmers—or to relieve economic distress, provide disaster help, assist in a civil-defense emergency, or feed livestock in an emergency.

Two Texas Prisoners Killed In Breakout Try

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Three prisoners—two from Texas—and a police major died during an attempted breakout of the Mexico City prison.

Two of the dead prisoners were identified as Medardo Pena Anaya and Sigfredo Pena Anaya of McAllen. They were serving 35 years for murder. The third was identified as Pablo Alvarado, charged with guerilla activities.

Killed also during the Saturday night incident was Major Ricardo Vital Hernandez, director of security inside the prison.

Juan Lopez Mejia, another prisoner, was wounded in shooting after four prisoners grabbed the director, Gen. Francisco Arcuate Franco.

Franco told the Associated Press he was watching television with a group of inmates when the Pena Anaya brothers and Lopez Mejia grabbed him by the hair and threatened him with a knife and pistol. He suffered a small cut on his forehead.

"They took me and security chief Lt. Col. Edilberto Gil Cardenas into another small room and they sent to Colonel to bring Alvarado," he said.

"They told me that nothing would happen to us. They said they would take me as hostage. They blindfolded me."

Powell Sure To Get OK From Senate

WASHINGTON (AP)—Lewis F. Powell Jr. is sure to get Senate approval today, perhaps by unanimous vote, to succeed the late Hugo L. Black on the Supreme Court.

The real controversy, over the nomination of Asst. Atty. Gen. William H. Rehnquist to the court, lies ahead.

Republican Leader Hugh Scott said the Senate will confirm him, too, and forecast an overwhelming vote.

But timing of that vote is another question.

UN Assembly May Be Asked To Intercede In India-Pakistan War

By WILLIAM N. OATIS
Associated Press Writer
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The United States and other nations are considering asking the U.N. General Assembly to intercede in the India-Pakistan war following two Soviet vetoes of Security Council resolutions calling for a cease-fire and withdrawal of the opposing forces.

The 106th and 107th vetoes cast by the Russians in U.N. history came in weekend meetings at which Chinese Ambassador Huang Hua charged Soviet Ambassador

Jacob A. Malik with filibustering to give India time to advance into Pakistan and Malik called Huang "an imperialist jester."

The council scheduled another meeting this afternoon to take up another resolution calling for a cease-fire but no withdrawal. But as of Sunday night, the U.S. government had instructed Ambassador George Bush not to vote for anything that omitted the call for withdrawal of forces.

The assembly's 1965 "Uniting for Peace" resolution provides for an emergency session on the vote of any nine of the 15 council members whenever a veto prevents the council's acting in the interest of peace.

Somali Ambassador Abdulkahim Abby Farah said African, Asian and Latin American members of the council were considering this course in the belief that a big majority in the assembly would vote for a cease-fire and withdrawal.

Bush, asked whether he would go to the assembly with the issue, replied, "I would say it's a live option."

"We're keeping all our options open."

Bush had just come from the council meeting at which a Soviet veto killed an eight-nation resolution calling on India and Pakistan for an immediate cease-fire and withdrawal and also calling for an early political solution in East Pakistan.

The vote was the same as on a U.S. cease-fire and withdrawal motion early Sunday; 11 for, the Soviet Union and Poland opposed and Britain and France abstaining. Both resolutions failed because the Soviet vote constituted a veto.

Between those two votes, the council rejected a Soviet resolution in effect putting the blame for the situation on Pakistan. It called for "a political settlement in East Pakistan which would inevitably result in a cessation of hostilities" and demanded that Pakistani forces in East Pakistan "cease all acts of violence," meaning that they stop all action against the Bengali rebels.

The vote on that one was the Soviet Union and Poland in favor, China opposed and the other 12 council members abstaining.

China withdrew another resolution terming India the aggressor and calling for a cease-fire and withdrawal.

Explaining why he had voted against the Soviet resolution, the Chinese delegate said it constituted "direct interference in the internal affairs of a member state."

The present armed aggression by India against Pakistan," he declared, "is carried out under the connivance, support and shielding of the Soviet Union."

He charged that the recent Soviet-Indian treaty of friendship and cooperation was actually a military alliance encouraging Indian subversion of Pakistan and that the Soviet Union had signed it to make India dependent and thus spread Soviet influence through the subcontinent to the Indian Ocean.

Huang said the Soviet Union had followed the same course in the Middle East—and "everyone will recall the Soviet aggression against Czechoslovakia in 1968."

Malik accused Huang of "spewing his customary slander against the Soviet Union."

He accused the Chinese Communists of "social treachery," and Huang in reply spoke of "Soviet traitors."

The Soviet ambassador, calling Huang an "imperialist jester," said:

"The Chinese delegate has put on an excellent show for those who are happy with the disintegration of the relations between China and the Soviet Union."

Mysterious Disease Hits Cattle In La.

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — A mysterious disease has stricken large numbers of cattle in northeast Louisiana and animal health authorities are trying to find its source.

Dr. F. B. Wheeler, state veterinarian, said scientists are almost certain the disease is caused by cattle eating a fungus close to the roots of grass. The fungus affects the nervous system and causes the cattle to stagger and lose their coordination. If infected animals are not removed from the grazing land, the malady is fatal.

Taking the cattle off the grass and putting them in feed lots would stop the spread of the disease, Wheeler said, but this is costly.

He said cases have been reported for two or three weeks. The exact number was not known, he said, but the infestation is extensive.

Cases of the disease, unnamed as far as state authorities know, have been reported in Louisiana and Oklahoma, Wheeler said.

He said cattle have been grazing long because of a recent drought which slowed the growth of vegetation.

2 Pampa Men Nabbed On Suspicion Of Arson

Pampa police officers arrested two Pampa men on suspicion of arson shortly after a "molotov cocktail" was thrown at the 1968 model auto of Floyd Steel, 932 Fisher.

Steel supplied officers with a description of the 1962 model car from which a whiskey bottle full of gasoline stuffed with a wick from an undershirt was tossed.

According to the police report, Warren Blackmon, 25, 209 Sunset Drive and Steve Paul David, 19, 329 S. Dwight were taken into custody a short time later at Blackmon's residence. There officers found a matching undershirt with a portion torn out.

Investigating officers reported the men denied being out of the house for some time but the motor of the vehicle described was warm and another policeman on patrol verified seeing the car just a few minutes prior to their arrest.

The case will be turned over to the district attorney. Considerable damage was done to the rear quarter of Steel's car.

George Hammerschmidt, 318 W. Foster, reported damage to his car by a hit-and-run driver while it was parked at a local department store. He supplied police with a tag number of the offending vehicle but they found no one at home. The investigation continues.

Ronald Eugene Simmons, 418 Hill, was booked on the police blotter Sunday night on suspicion of driving while intoxicated.

Answers To Questions On Economic Controls

WASHINGTON (AP) — Here, in question-and-answer form, are explanations of Price Commission and Cost of Living Council economic regulations as issued by the Economic Stabilization Program of the Internal Revenue Service.

Q: May a firm with a loss in its base period raise its prices to create a projected profit?

A: The general rules of the Price Commission make no provision for a firm in a loss position during the base period, but the Price Commission will consider any such situation and determine whether it justifies special relief. In addition, more specific guidelines will soon be issued.

Q: Do the economic controls apply to college tuition charges?

A: Yes, tuition, as well as room and board, is covered.

Q: Must a company which is a prenotifying firm also submit quarterly reports to the Price Commission?

A: Yes.

Q: May individual health insurance premiums be raised if based on a formula in a contract in effect prior to the imposition of economic controls where the formula reflects only charged conditions of risk (e.g. number of claims)?

A: Yes, premium increases based on a formula in a pre-existing contract which reflects only charged conditions of risk may be applied normally.

Q: If a corporate parent and its subsidiaries are located in different IRS districts, where should requests for rulings or information be filed?

A: All inquiries, ruling requests, etc. should go to the IRS district director in the district where the parent corporation is located.

Q: Service charges such as utility, parking meter and bridge tolls were subject to Phase I while licenses and fines such as vehicle licenses and parking tickets were exempt. Does the same situation apply to Phase 2?

A: Yes. Unless specifically altered by regulation or published rulings, policy rulings issued by the Cost of Living Council and interpretations issued by the Office of Emergency Preparedness continue to be applicable after Nov. 13, 1971.

Offshore Areas May Hold 20% Of World Oil Reserves

BILOXI, Miss. (AP) — A geologist said today more than half of the world's oil supplies must come from offshore sources within 20 years.

Burr Tetteletton of Oklahoma City said offshore areas now supply 17 per cent of world production and hold 20 per cent of world reserves.

The senior Gulf Coast geologist for Sohio Petroleum Co. said the industry must move forward with offshore explorations despite what he termed unwarranted criticism resulting from four or five offshore oil platform accidents.

In a report placed before the engineering and research committees of the Interstate Oil Compact Commission, Tetteletton said 10,500 wells have been drilled off Louisiana and 950 off California.

"Only 26 of them have been temporarily out of control, most of them gas with no pollution, and that's a pretty good record," he said.

Tetteletton said such a record proves that the Santa Barbara oil spill of 1969 in California and three later accidents off Louisiana do not justify nor rate a fear that every well drilled from now on offshore will be a blowout.

"It is estimated the offshore investment during the next 10 years should be $29 billion," he said.

Although known offshore reserves total only 20 per cent of the world's total, the comparative lack of exploration in those areas leads oil industry officials to believe the eventual offshore reserves exceed 50 per cent of the world total.

At a preliminary session Sunday, independent oil operators voted to ask President Nixon's Price Commission to authorize higher prices for crude oil.

Dear Abby

'Resigned' provokes reader response

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: The letter signed "RESIGNED" interested me, but your very clever non-answer interested me even more. "Resigned" said her husband batted zero in the love department, "but when a woman can't change a situation, she had better learn to live with it. And that's what I'm doing. Outside of being no Romeo, he's a good, sober, hard-working man, which is a lot more than some women have." And she signed herself "RESIGNED". Your answer: "As long as you remain 'resigned' you'll have no problem."

Now, I ask you, Dear Abby, what if she doesn't remain resigned?

DEAR ONCE: Either the woman's frustrations overwhelm her, and in order to get some attention she becomes a neurotic with some very real symptoms. Headaches, backaches, "nerves", pill-popping, martinis, to name a few.

Or she finds herself a romance on the side, and the only thing that bothers her is her conscience—occasionally. But rather than take her problem to a professional, who might be able to improve her relationship with her husband, she keeps telling herself it's hopeless, because she really likes the situation as it is, and if her husband should "recover", she won't be able to justify her playing around.

And by the way, this works the same with the husband who justifies his playing around because his wife is "cold". There are no "cold" people, just those who don't know how to kindle the fire and keep it going.

DEAR ABBY: This is a letter to "Resigned" and to all her spiritual sisters who find themselves in a sexually unfulfilling marriage, and who nobly tell themselves, "When a wife can't change a situation, she had better learn to live with it. After all, he is a sober, hard-working man, and for security and the children's sake, etc., etc."

That was me 20 years ago. I also made the best of a marriage with a dull, unresponsive husband, and I suppressed everything I felt inside, and even convinced myself that I was in control and was doing the right thing.

Now I am 45, my children are grown, and all the frustrations I've suppressed for years have suddenly broken thru. I suddenly realize that I've probably done my husband a great injustice by assuring him that everything was "fine", and I was perfectly happy with things the way they were. For in a way, he was cheated, too. I don't know yet how this will turn out, but the realization that I've compromised my life away is almost unbearable.

I have no advice for all the "Resigneds" of the world, except perhaps to say that right now you are dealing with surface feelings, and one day you'll have to face your inner feelings honestly. And my God, how it hurts! JUST "ME"

DEAR ABBY: In all the years I have been reading "DEAR ABBY," I think the letter signed "RESIGNED" is the most intelligent I have ever read in your column.

Here is a woman who had a cross to bear, and she bore it. No woman has everything. That woman's husband did not give her the sexual satisfaction she would have liked, but she reviewed his other attributes, and was grateful for them. That woman was a saint!

We would be amazed at some of the things we can do without if we have to. Sign me BEEN THERE

DEAR BEEN: I agree, if a woman MUST do without something, she shows maturity and intelligence in accepting her lot with grace and being grateful for that which she has to compensate. But in this enlightened age while some women MUST live without sexual fulfillment, many do not. They just think they do.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

For Abby's new booklet, "What Teen-Agers Want to Know," send $1 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069.

BETTY CANARY

BY BETTY CANARY
A woman's life, I have always believed, is simply a matter of coping with things she never expected.

Her life includes having a son ask, "Do lizards sweat, mon?"

It's having another son, after collecting her at a bridge party, ask, "Where do dreamboats?"

It's at the beauty shop with her hair shampooed but not rinsed when a water main in town bursts. And going on to a business appointment with a scarf tied over stiff, sticky curls.

It's planning a turkey dinner for 12 and discovering her daughter forgot to turn on the oven.

Or catching her wig on a dart board as she makes a grand entrance at a party.

A woman is always efficient about declaring a death traumatic insecurity of wondering what to wear to a party. When everything is in, nothing is out.

Choose your after-five wardrobe this year on the basis of these questions: Is this the most flattering style for me as a person? If your legs aren't your best point, skip hotpants for the ankle-length skirts. Is the fabric easy-care and non-crush? (Polyesters like Quintess free you from the ironing board and dry cleaners and keep you freshly unwrinkled through a long evening.)

Is it May color? This is the year to indulge your penchant for the most becoming shades. Keep in mind that the fashion rule is "no rules." Here are some suggestions for what to wear at different occasions in the evening:

DINNER PARTY with conservative friends—A dressy pantsuit is as classic as the little black dress was yesterday. No matter how stodgy the group, you won't feel too avant garde in evening pants.

COCKTAILS WITH swinging young friends—Full length dresses no longer mean formal or at-home wear. Instead they are casual and relaxed and the newest look around for after-five parties.

RESTAURANT DINING—For city evenings with husband or clients there's still nothing to replace a dress and matching coat. You'll be protected from too chilly air conditioning or fall breezes while striking an always appropriate fashion note.

Consult the Fashion Coordinator included in each Young Original Pattern for color, fabric and accessory suggestions.

Your Horoscope

By Jeane Dixon

TUESDAY, DEC. 7
Your birthday today: This can be your breakthrough year in which all things come to you according to the originality and urgency of your effort at self-improvement. Today's natives often change trades, need encouragement in choosing and staying with a vocation.

Aries [March 21-April 19]: You're more of a bystander thruout today's turmoil. Do what you can with whatever is within your own reach; enjoy the spectacle.

Taurus [April 20-May 20]: Be alert for news, changes relating to your prospects. Think twice, wait for intuition rather than react prematurely.

Gemini [May 21-June 20]: Make the most direct use of today's opportunities, they don't remain long and the requirements may be different soon. You have a great deal going for you.

Cancer [June 21-July 22]: It might seem nothing is getting done during endless discussions. Just keep your cool head and enjoy the discourse. Subtle gains show later.

Leo [July 23-Aug. 22]: A tall story is likely all you get when you reclaim your own; some things have to be written off, others collected later.

Virgo [Aug. 23-Sept. 22]: Being tactful isn't enough—get out of the middle, let your spirit skirmish beyond your sight and sound to suit themselves.

Libra [Sept. 23-Oct. 22]: An impulsive move may ploy you right into the center of a situation where you have to think carefully to extricate yourself.

Scorpio [Oct. 23-Nov. 21]: Your budget plans deserve some stubborn defense today. There's very little useful future in buying merely to impress neighbors.

Sagittarius [Nov. 22-Dec. 21]: Ascertain just what is being asked of you and whether you can do it reasonably—if so, do a good job and charge a full wage.

Capricorn [Dec. 22-Jan. 19]: Friends, relatives, brethren we have around us forever. The big issue is learning how best to deal with them over the longer period.

Aquarius [Jan. 20-Feb. 18]: Presenting your own special formula brings praise, particularly if you've set the preliminary steps well.

Pisces [Feb. 19-March 21]: Neither objectives nor objections should change now in your view of life. Hold on a while longer.

Baby To Live In Germ-Free Isolator

HOUSTON (AP)—David is a baby boy just 11 weeks old who faces living the first two years of his life in a germ-free isolator, cut off from the outside air which would bring him death.

David suffers from a severe immunological defect and his body won't produce the antibodies which could fight the germs which inhabit the world.

Doctors at Texas Children's Hospital in the Texas Medical Center revealed Friday the birth of David, only the second to be delivered under steril conditions and placed in a germ-free isolator in the United States and only the sixth such in the world.

Anyone who handles the baby wears plastic gloves attached to ports in the side of the isolator. All of his food, clothing and other items are sterilized in a cylinder which can be attached to a supply isolator adjoining the unit.

Doctors say that David will have to stay in the germ-free atmosphere for two years before his body can develop its own defenses.

"We are studying the physiological implications very closely," one of the doctors said. "How is the child ever to know the plastic gloves are not mother's hands?"

"As long as the attitude of the person taking care of him is loving, he is not going to know whether it is human skin or latex. It feels about the same," the doctor said.

The parents, various doctors and nurses involved in the case all hold, cuddle and talk with David.

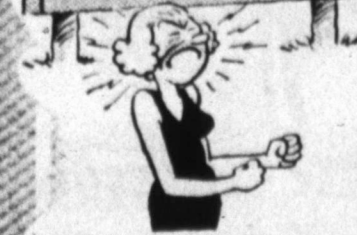

"He is even kissed through the plastic barrier," one doctor said.

The other American baby placed in a germ-free isolator did not have the serious immunological disorder however, it was discovered after precautions were made.

Because David's inability to fight infections is hereditary and because his parents had already lost an older brother at age seven months to the same disorder precautions were made. The family asked that their names not be released.

Big Shuffle Of Legislative District Boundaries Predicted

By GARTH JONES
Associated Press Writer

Anyone who thinks high court decisions, expected shortly will settle Texas' redistricting problems better take another look at the situation.

State government experts are already predicting there will be another big shuffle of legislative and congressional district boundaries after the next nationwide census in 1980.

During the 1960s most redistricting problems came from the tremendous population growth of the state as a whole—a 16.9 per cent gain for Texas compared with the national gain of 14.2 per cent.

In 1981, the first legislature to get a chance to act on the 1980 census figures, the big problem will be our constantly shifting big city populations with their masses of apartment dwellers who move frequently and erratically.

Congressional redistricting more or less sets the pace for legislative redistricting because the larger congressional districts, now totaling 24, provide the first division of the state with boundaries of state senatorial and representative districts coming later.

A recent publication by Wesley Chumlea, associate professor of political science at Stephen F. Austin State University in Nacogdoches, provides an excellent discussion of the history of congressional redistricting and its future prospects.

Chumlea points out that "the silent gerrymander, the simple failure to redistrict following a decennial census" is nothing new. The legislature waited until 1917 to redistrict congressional boundaries following the 1910 census, resulting in two congressmen-at-large elected statewide instead of by assigned districts. The next redistricting did not take place until 1933, based on the 1930 census, and this lasted until 1957, from 1950 to 1957 Texas has another congressman-at-large.

Business Mirror

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—The boss might be the person who sits back in a big chair and says, "Please take a letter Miss Jones," but he may really not be the person who runs things. Miss Jones might.

Secretary power, that is to say, is often a very subtle thing, exerted gently but with fierce determination. It is artful, skillful and refined. Cunning too? Well maybe, but that's very touchy territory.

Foresaking for the moment these qualities, Mrs. Angeline Krout of Glen Burnie, Md. decided a few days ago that perhaps it was time the boss received a blunt reminder of his role and duties, and so she came up with a list. "Resolutions For Bosses."

Mrs. Krout, a gracious, youthful looking mother of a daughter over 21, and president of the National Secretaries Association, suggests that Mr. Boss take a pad, copy the following instructions, and then observe them.

1. If I get in earlier than you, I shall keep my hands off the mail even though it is addressed to me. If I do, I'll keep it in order for you to see and log so that you may properly handle correspondence.

2. I shall always tell you where I am going during business hours, or at least where you can say I am going, and approximately when I may be expected back.

3. I shall not write all over originals that need only minor corrections which can be done on the typewriter without a complete retyping job.

4. I shall not accuse you of being emotional and illogical when you are trying to suggest a more expeditious, efficient way to accomplish something.

5. I shall not have you place a long distance call and then disappear.

6. I shall not squirrel away papers or give them to a colleague and then suggest you have misfiled them.

7. If I need you to work overtime, I shall not pussyfoot around, but will give you as much notice as possible.

"Certainly these are legitimate demands," said an attentive listener who was dutifully taking notes. "Surely you, male or female, should object to these little reminders."

8. I shall let you have full access to the business contents of my brief case, before and after business trips.

Hold on there, Mrs. Krout, just what do you mean by that? "Nothing other than when he comes back he should let his secretary retrieve the files he took with him," replied Mrs. Krout.

Although Texas' population shot up 16.9 per cent in the 1960s, there were 16 other states that higher growth rates. And 98 per cent of Texas population increase in the 1960s took place in the state's metropolitan areas, with 85 per cent of the increase coming from Dallas, Fort Worth, Houston and San Antonio.

"Whether Texas gains an additional House seat in 1981 or not, it will still need to rearrange its congressional districts so they will adequately reflect its mobile, increasingly metropolitan population," Chumlea says.

Associated Press Writer
HONG KONG (AP)—North Vietnam for 10 months has not broadcast a nonpolitical message from an American prisoner of war to relatives in the United States.

With Christmas drawing near, there has been no indication that the flow of prisoner yuletide greetings heard over Radio Hanoi for the past three years will be repeated this year.

The halt to prisoner broadcasts—with the exception of occasional captured Americans—coincides with U.S. complaints at the Paris peace talks that prisoners in North Vietnam are not being allowed to send normal flow of mail home.

Nonpolitical messages from captured American pilots held in North Vietnam had been broadcast more or less regularly since they were first heard here in the 1968 Christmas season. Most were simply greetings and messages of reassurance to wives, children, parents, sweethearts and friends.

Messages over Radio Hanoi that were antiwar in tone date to 1967 and possibly earlier.

The messages, both nonpolitical and antiwar, came from only a small percentage of the 339 prisoners North Vietnam acknowledges it is holding.

They were included in an English-language Radio Hanoi program aimed at American troops in South Vietnam.

The last nonpolitical broadcast by an American prisoner to be heard here was Feb. 11. A Marine 1st lieutenant, Paul Gordon Brown, Newton, Mass., sent birthday greetings to a "Dorothy Roberts," whom he called "my snowbound goddess." The address given was for an elementary school in West Germany, apparently a school for U.S. Army dependents.

A few days before that, on Jan. 30, Maj. Roger Dean Ingvalson, wished his wife, Jackie, of Sanford, Maine, a happy wedding anniversary.

Since then no genuine family messages have been heard over Radio Hanoi.

There was one message May 3, attributed to Marine Lt. Col. Edison Wainwright Miller, broadcast on the occasion of Mothers Day to his mother, whose name sounded like Mrs. Margaret Miller Collett of Clinton, Iowa. This, however, was antiwar throughout.

Miller and Navy Cmdr. Walter Eugene Wilber, of Virginia Beach, Va., were identified as the senders of joint antiwar broadcasts July 4, Aug. 3 and Nov. 4.

These were the only other messages ostensibly coming from American captives in North Vietnam.

There was a spate of antiwar broadcasts beginning apparently held in South Vietnam by the Viet Cong. These taped messages, provided by the Viet Cong's Liberation Radio, are still heard several times a month over Radio Hanoi.

Last year there were 16 separate Christmas messages from U.S. pilots shot down over North Vietnam.

The only reference to Christmas this year has been an announcement over the North Vietnamese radio that prisoners may receive gift parcels weighing up to 11 pounds as they did last year.

Vietnamese Command announced Sunday a new sweep in eastern Cambodia along the main highway linking Saigon and Phnom Penh.

In the air war, the U.S. Command reported that American jets escorting B52 bombers attacked three radar sites inside North Vietnam.

The new operation in Cambodia got under way last Wednesday southeast of the Mekong River ferry crossing town of Neak Luong and along Highway 1, a South Vietnamese communique said.

announced until Sunday because no contact with Communist-led forces was made until Saturday night.

In that contact, the communique said, South Vietnamese rangers killed three enemy soldiers and captured one prisoner without taking any casualties. The action took place 9½ miles south of Kompong Trabek, the Saigon Command reported. The 27 apparently had been killed by air and artillery strikes.

The U.S. Command in Saigon announced two more B52 bomber raids in South Vietnam's central highlands eastern and southern Cambodia and in the Mekong Delta region of South Vietnam.

In the new operation south of Highway 1, South Vietnamese rangers and tank units found bodies of 27 enemy soldiers Saturday seven miles southeast of Kompong Trabek, the Saigon Command reported. The 27 apparently had been killed by air and artillery strikes.

The U.S. Command in Saigon announced two more B52 bomber raids in South Vietnam's central highlands storage areas on North Vietnamese infiltration routes two miles west of the Cambodian border.

The American air attacks on radar sites inside North Vietnam were made by jets escorting bombers on raids against the Ho Chi Minh trail the command said.

Bulldogs Next On Pampa Schedule

The Pampa Harvesters will be meeting the Plainview Bulldogs tomorrow night in Plainview for what promises to be a knock-down dragnet revenge battle. The Bulldogs were the team responsible for Pampa losing its Bi-District bid last year and the Harvesters are going to prove they are the better team in 1971-72.

Pampa is carting a six win no loss skin with them to Plainview and had impressive victories over Breckenridge, South Garland and Fort Worth Arlington Heights earlier this season. Time to prove the stars right is 8 p.m. in Bulldog Fieldhouse for the Hustlin Harvesters.

According to head coach Robert McPherson, "We have real good chances to go all the way this year as the team is giving a 100 per cent effort in all of our games."

Looking at the crystal ball may find his prediction true as

White Deer Bucks Off And Running To State

The White Deer Bucks are gunning for Sonora this Saturday at 2 p.m. in Stamford after handing the Albany Lions an 18 to nothing defeat in quarter final action Saturday night.

The Bucks used their outstanding defense to contain the Lions to a mere 137 yards rushing. The Lions and Bucks entered the Quarterfinal play with perfect 12-0 season marks.

The Bucks opened the scoring in Saturday's game with a 16 yard pass play from quarterback Ricky Hoskins to Jerry Urbanczyk in the second quarter to give them a half-time lead of six to nothing.

The deepest penetration Albany could manage was to the White Deer 29 yard line with this coming before the half. The Bucks suffered physical losses in their clash with New Deal and according to coach J.T. Hill, "I think we came out in better shape against Albany than New Deal. Mike Trantham received a cut across his nose just before the half and had to have five stitches during halftime.

"One eye was almost swollen shut but he still played in all but a couple of downs.

"I think the whole team, everyone, just played great. The key to our victory was our defense and Urbanczyk did a great job both ways."

Hill continued, "Hoskins played with his bad thumb and did a fine job defensively and Thurman kept coming up with the big plays."

Kim Slagle romped around the left end for the final score of the game after he had made gains of six, twelve, four and seventeen yards on the TD March. Slagle had a total of 20 rushes for 105 yards against the Lions.

White Deer completed three of nine passes and Albany had 4 for sixteen. The Bucks led in first downs 15 to 8 and were penalized six times for 47 yards. The Lions lost 30 yards on six penalties.

The Bucks will be squaring off against Sonora this coming Saturday afternoon at 2 p.m. in Stamford for the Semifinal clash. The last time the Bucks played Sonora was in 1966 when the south Texas team captured the state crown after defeating White Deer 35 to 14 in quarter final play.

Los Angeles running back Willie Ellison started things off in grand style against New Orleans Sunday.

The five-year veteran raced 80 yards for a touchdown early in the first quarter and then rushed 247 yards in 26 carries for a National Football League record.

"It took a lot of extra effort and stamina. It's the happiest day of my life," the 200-pound Ellison said after the Rams upended New Orleans 45-28.

Ellison's performance stole attention from a 105-yard kickoff return by Travis Williams and three touchdown tosses by Roman Gabriel.

He broke the standard of 243 yards set by Cookie Gilchrist of Buffalo against the New York Jets on Dec. 8, 1963 in the American Football League and the mark of 237 yards established twice by former Cleveland standout Jim Brown.

"Just about everybody told me at halftime that I would get the record," he said. "The line did a tremendous job of blocking and Gabriel did a great job of selecting plays against the New Orleans defense."

In other contests Sunday, San Diego upset Minnesota 30-14. New England stunned Miami 34-13. Philadelphia edged Detroit 23-20. Cleveland nipped Cincinnati 31-27. Atlanta defeated Oakland 24-13. Houston swamped Pittsburgh 29-3. Washington crushed the New York Giants 6-3. Green Bay and St. Louis battled to a 16-16 tie and Baltimore blanked Buffalo 24-0.

In Saturday's game, Dallas swarmed over the New York Jets 52-10.

The San Francisco 49ers entertained the Kansas City Chiefs in Monday night's nationally televised game.

The Dolphins' setback spoiled their bid to clinch the American Conference's East Division title and moved them into a showdown with the Colts.

Minnesota's unexpected loss stopped them from sewing up the National Conference's Central Division crown.

Quarterback John Hadl led his team 63 yards in seven plays to set up the go-ahead touchdown as the Chargers barreled from behind to reel off 20 points in the final quarter. With the Steelers' upset over the Lions, Minnesota could have secured Central Division laurels by winning.

Allison Profits From Rainy Days

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — Bobby Allison, stock car racing's No. 2 money winner, was the only driver to profit from a rainy weekend in Texas.

That is, if you don't count a youthful newcomer from Mexico City named Juan Izquierdo.

Nebraska's 45-3 victory over Hawaii Saturday night virtually assured that the Cornhuskers and Alabama will be singing a national championship title song in the Orange Bowl on New Year's Night and left Michigan humming a not-so-jauzy arrangement of California, Here I Come.

Do the unbeaten but fourth-ranked Wolverines have much of a shot at the No. 1 ranking, even if they trounce Stanford in the Rose Bowl? Coach Bo Schembechler says their chances are "not very good."

"We've accomplished all our goals in winning the Big Ten championship," Schembechler says. "We'd like to win the national championship, but I don't think we can. Even if Nebraska and Alabama tied in the Orange Bowl, I doubt we'd get it."

Besides the undeniable fact that 12-Nebraska is ranked first and 11-0 Alabama No. 2, there is another team—once-beaten Oklahoma—just ahead of Michigan.

The third-ranked Sooners did nothing to diminish their stature with a 58-14 walloping of Oklahoma State as the regular college football campaign came to a close.

Penn State wasn't so lucky. The fifth-ranked Nittany Lions, bound for the Cotton Bowl and a date with Texas, suffered a 31-11 humiliation at

Chiefs Meet 49ers For First Time

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — John Brodie and Len Dawson, veteran quarterbacks whose teams are fighting for playoff berths, meet in tonight's crucial National Football League game.

The nationally televised contest brings Brodie's San Francisco 49ers and Dawson's Kansas City Chiefs together for the first time.

The 49ers, 7-4-0, need a victory to stay ahead of Los Angeles, 7-4-1 and winners Sunday over New Orleans. Meanwhile, Kansas City needs a victory to move ahead of Oakland in the AFC West. The Raiders, 7-3-2, lost to Atlanta Sunday and Kansas City is 7-3-1.

Brodie, who has thrown 21 interceptions this season compared to 10 all of last year, has taken much of the blame for the 49ers' four frustrating losses.

But Chiefs Coach Hank Stram calls the 36-year-old passer, last year's Most Valuable Player in the NFL, "one of the great quarterbacks in the business."

And the 49ers' receiving team of Gene Washington, Dick Witcher and Ted Kwalick has an edge in experience on the Chiefs' trio of starters, Stram says.

"But remember, I'm talking only of experience," the coach adds.

Otis Taylor, with 40 receptions for 861 yards, is one of the NFL's top pass catchers and the other Chiefs' wide receiver, rookie Elmo Wright, is starting to show the form that made him an All-American at the University of Houston.

The Chiefs have been off since Thanksgiving Day, when their defensive backfield was humiliated in a 32-21 loss to Detroit. Their pass defense is 12th in the AFC, but has come up with 21 interceptions.

San Francisco's defense ranks second to Dallas in the NFC. And the 49ers have out-

The Crime Problem

A national magazine recently pictured the travail of residents of the country's biggest city, showing how they have been forced literally to imprison themselves in their apartments behind barred windows and double- or triple- or quadruple-locked doors.

Even so, most of them have experienced break-ins despite their most elaborate precautions.

At about the same time, a newspaper in the same city described the problems of the residents of one fashionable street in the East 70s—specifically, the problem of finding parking spaces for their cars, as well as finding the cars themselves if they were left unwatched for any length of time.

New York, fortunately, is unlike any other place in the country. Yet the crime problem its citizens must contend with, while larger than that of any other city simply because New York is larger, is the same kind of crime problem more and more Americans are beginning to worry about and to know first-hand, even in small towns like Pampa.

And there is a very startling truth which can be read between the lines in both these articles:

The Right To Know?

Hundreds of foreign scientific journals are routinely "sanitized" by Kremlin censors.

So charges Russian biochemist Z. A. Medvedev in "The Medvedev Papers," a book published in Britain and soon to be printed in this country.

A prime example is "Science," the magazine of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

The censors clip out articles, he says, or paste an advertisement over undesirable portions of the text. They purge the table of Office yule parties are wonderful. It's the one time folks who got mad at each other during the last one get on speaking terms again.

Cashiers in the stores are, at this season, known as "jingle belles."

We're thinking of putting out a line of prespotted neckwear, so sloppy types won't be ashamed when they splash the new yuletide.

We have this nightmare, see we're loaded with yule packages and can't get out of a revolving door.

Just as there must be two dishonest people for any confidence game to work—the con man and his greedy victim—those who pillage apartments or steal cars or hijack trucks or rob stuck with their goods, which they really have no use for, were there not someone willing to buy their merchandise at an attractive discount.

For instance, one of the car owners in the newspaper article had two hubcaps stolen. He was advised to let it be known that he was in the market for two replacements, and he would have done so except that he was afraid that thieves would steal his two remaining hubcaps and try to sell them back to him.

Unlike confidence-game crime, however, there is usually a third party involved in robbery and burglary—the fence, who is the middleman between the criminal and the supposedly honest citizen.

Throw in crooked cops, incompetent judges and revolving-door prisons and you have the ingredients of what is called the "crime problem."

How much simpler it would be if all we had to worry about were the criminals.

contents of offensive titles (but often forget to delete them from the quarterly index).

Sometimes entire issues are interestingly, the bulk of the censored material is not about science but if found in the magazine's "News and Comment" section, whose articles are often highly critical of U.S. government policy.

These are censored, Medvedev reasons, because the Soviet authorities don't want their scientists to know how green the grass is on the other side of the Iron Curtain. In Russia, he says, scientists are kept ignorant of the government science budget and are not allowed to discuss it.

Russian scientists are not without power, however. The Kremlin tried to silence Medvedev by diagnosing him as a schizophrenic and putting him in a mental institution, but his imprisonment brought such an outcry from other scientists that he was released.

Japan Combing World In Search For Trade

TOKYO (NEA)—Japan is encountering major roadblocks in Europe and Asia (particularly China) as it looks for trade opportunities to offset diminished prospects in the huge American market.

The Japanese would dearly love to have a larger slice of the lucrative market. At present, Europe takes about 6 per cent of Japan's exports, while the United States takes 30 per cent. It is not widely known, but U.S. Treasury Secretary Connally promised Prime Minister Sato in their recent private talks here that he would do what he could to open Europe up a bit more to Japanese goods.

The government in Tokyo would like to pin something on that hope but finds it hard to do so.

Officials here can't forget the cool reception European leaders gave a 20-man team of Japanese business spokesmen a short time ago. The team was from Keidanren, Japan's potent and prestigious federation of economic organizations.

Their stated purpose was to persuade the European nations that Japan, though hurt by new restrictions on trade with America, would not try to flood Europe with a new tide of its exports. To their considerable dismay, the visiting Japanese were not believed.

Britain's celebrated Economist reported (and Japan's press noted):

Most of the leading European participants looked on the two-week tour as a gambit to persuade the Common Market to sign a trade agreement freeing goods from trade quotas without any safeguard clauses.

Against this backdrop, Connally's promise to Sato looks frail. At the time, the secretary was said to be "mad at the French" for failing to "up-value" their currency and for insisting we devalue ours. But the U.S. line toward its allies has since softened, and when Sato meets President Nixon at San Clemente in early January he is not likely to hear again the Connally theme of "We'll press on Europe for you."

In the light of mainland China's new acceptance by the world community, Japan is a little more hopeful of improved trade with Peking. It is common to dwell upon the enormous potential trade outlet represented by China's 800 million people. But it has to be remembered that China can't buy too much unless it also has something to sell. And right now China's annual Gross National Product, key gauge on its economic power, is not much more than a third of Japan's (with 100 million people).

In 1971 the outlook for China's total trade with Japan is around $900 million. The Japanese are doing more business than that with Taiwan. That modest volume nevertheless makes Japan the No. 1 trading partner for China, accounting for 20 per cent of Peking's outside commerce.

The Japanese agree with U.S. diplomat George Ball that China is "an industrial primitive." The 2 per cent of Tokyo's exports it takes will have to grow for a decade or

Your Health

Dear Dr. Lamb—In your column, you talked about nitroglycerin tablets, uses and cautions. You stated that it should not be taken if a heart attack is coming on because it then could cause shock and death.

A month ago, my father died of a heart attack. Written on the certificate was myocardial infarction as the cause of death.

My father started feeling poorly on Thursday evening and between that night and Friday night when he died, he took four nitroglycerin tablets.

He had been taking them for a few years, especially for walking. But he ran out and called his doctor and she prescribed them over the phone that night.

Needless to say, I am very upset and realize that those four pills most likely killed him. He might have survived the heart attack as he had previously. But certainly not after four pills.

My question is how do I find out more about this and do you advise me questioning his doctor for incompetency?

I realize I am asking you a delicate question concerning a fellow doctor but I believe there is gross incompetency here and it may happen to another person.

Dear Reader—Your father's doctor probably had good reason to prescribe nitroglycerin. You see, your father was not a person who suddenly started having chest pain and had not been having trouble. That makes a great deal of difference. Obviously, from your letter he had been having angina (chest pains) for several years and had been able to prevent pain when walking and probably relieve pain by taking nitroglycerin tablets. This is quite a different situation than if he had not been having trouble for months or years and then developed chest pain.

Since he had been taking nitroglycerin regularly, your father's doctor quite properly prescribed a refill of his prescription. Now four nitroglycerin tablets over a 24-hour period is not an unusually large dose.

It is doubtful if anything could have been done that would have prevented the loss of your father—since he obviously had fairly severe heart disease of long duration if he had been taking nitro tablets to walk. It is possible that he was lulled into a false sense of security from past relief with nitroglycerin and didn't call his doctor back when he didn't get relief.

My best advice to you would be to go see your father's doctor and discuss the problem with her. You'll feel better. Coronary artery disease causing heart attacks is very unpredictable and sudden death is a frequent complication, even without symptoms. If you are still not satisfied you can ask the county medical society to have their grievance committee look into the problem.

If Dump-Nixon Campaign Fails

By ROBERTS. ALLEN

WASHINGTON—Red China's latest nuclear weapons test is the most foreboding of all.

U.S. scientists and other experts have definitely established that an intercontinental ballistic missile (ICBM) armed with a thermonuclear warhead was tested.

Although the missile did not traverse full ICBM range (6,000 miles), these authorities rate it as an impressive success.

Estimated distance of the tested missile was around 2,000 miles—approximately intermediate range. Red China already has employed medium and intermediate range nuclear-armed missiles, particularly on its northwest Sinkiang border and the Mongolian and Manchurian borders.

On the basis of these established grim realities, U.S. specialists now give Red China the positive capability of perfecting an operational 6,000-mile ICBM by 1973.

That is several years ahead of previous calculations.

With the deployment of a number of thermonuclear-armed ICBMs, Red China will be in a position to strike at virtually every major military and industrial target in Russia by 1973-74.

That sinister capability is just the start.

With Communist China's demonstrated and remarkable speed in developing an industrial target in Russia by missile (a feat the French still haven't accomplished), it is now anticipated they will perfect a nuclear-armed ICBM that can hit U.S. targets by 1975-76.

The chilling significance of these fearful potentialities is intercontinental ballistic of supreme moment to the future of the world—and mankind!

The chilling significance of these fearful potentialities is of supreme moment to the future of the world—and mankind!

Red China, with an iron-disciplined population steadily soaring to one billion, is menacingly demonstrating that it has the capability of terrorizing the world with the threat of nuclear extermination.

Starkly underlining this fearsome prospect is the remarkable rapidity with which China attained a major nuclear role.

It is now the third nuclear power—after the U.S. and Russia.

Red China is distinctly ahead of France, and rapidly forging ahead of Britain.

First nuclear weapons test by the Chinese Communists was in 1964. Since then, there have been 11 others, including the recent ICBM test. In the last five tests, thermonuclear warheads were detonated.

Unfinished Business

Another spectacular "cancellation" is in the offing in Peking.

This time it will be the National Peoples Congress—which was supposed to meet later this month to approve a new constitution and a reorganized Communist party structure and the personnel staffing it.

That important session is now definitely unlikely.

It will be called off, as was the National Day Parade and banquet last September commemorating the Communist capture of power. The unexplained dropping of those affairs was announced, but it's doubtful whether of the Peoples' Congress will be. Most likely it will be quietly shelved, and the fact officially ignored.

Reason for this cancellation is the same as for the September events—The still-unresolved fierce power struggle within the Communist party hierarchy.

As reported in this column last month, this torrid backstage warring has resulted in the mysterious disappearance of a number of former key Peking figures—foremost among them Marshal Lin Biao, defense minister and long-time intimate of Mao Tse-tung. Until Lin vanished, he was Mao's publicly proclaimed heir-apparent.

Also disappearing just as suddenly and mysteriously were a number of top military chiefs and Lin associates—Marshal Huang Yung-sheng, chief of staff; Marshal Li Tso-feng, first political commissar of the navy and deputy chief of staff; General Chiu Hui-tso, head of the General Logistics Department and deputy chief of staff; General Wen Yu-cheng, commander of the Peking garrison and deputy chief of staff; General Yen Chung-chuan, deputy chief of staff, and General Hsu Shih-yu, commander of the East China military region and deputy defense minister. With Lin, all these military leaders were members of the powerful 21-member Politburo of the Communist party. So was Yeh Chun, Lin's wife who also unexplainedly dropped out of sight.

Knowledgeable Iron Curtain sources are privately expressing the opinion that the hectic Chinese power struggle may be nearing an end. That view is largely predicated on the following:

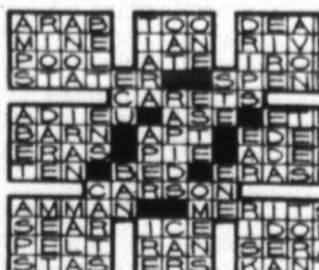

Intimations from Chinese officials that Lin is "dead." There is no information from these sources as to the time, place and nature of his death. But the Chinese are positive in saying Lin died.

No, Gwendolyn, the fellow wishing for snow for Christmas hasn't got a habit he needs to kick.

Colleges Students To Work At 1972 Electoral Politics

CHICAGO (AP) — A conference of 3,000 college students has committed itself to working for the election of youthful delegates to the 1972 political conventions.

Duane Draper, president of the Association of Student Governments, said the action Sunday was a "reaffirmation that young people will work at electoral politics when they see a chance for success."

He and other leaders of the meeting, called the Emergency Conference for New Voters, also warned the Democratic party that predominantly liberal young persons will not automatically deliver the vote to the Democrats.

Under the new rules for the Democratic party, Draper said, 300 of the party's 3,000 convention delegates will be young persons.

"The question is whether they will be independent young people or Daley young people," he added referring to Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley, a proponent of organization politics.

"But," Lowenstein said, "if the Democrats think there's an automatic delivery of votes they don't understand what this conference means."

The conference action approved the formation of a National Youth Caucus, which is intended to help students in college communities pack precinct, county and district political caucuses with young persons. If enough are placed on these caucuses, the youthful strategists reason, it will be possible to convince major party leaders they deserve representation in the state delegations.

Art Kaminsky, an aide to Lowenstein and a planner of the conference, said youths in many nonprimary states could indicate their strength at precinct and county levels, then accept an offer to be placed on a candidate's slate of delegates.

"It doesn't really matter if a kid is committed to Muskie or McGovern or whoever so long as the candidate is aware that the youth delegate will be completely independent at the convention on matters such as platform, rules and credentials," Kaminsky said.

People In The News

LONDON (AP) — Queen Elizabeth II, who has asked for a big pay boost because of the rising costs of being a monarch, is now selling apples to help make ends meet.

Newspaper advertisements are urging the British public to visit her 20,000-acre royal estate at Sandringham, Norfolk, and buy her apples for Christmas.

Thirty-pound boxes of the apples are being offered directly to the public for $3.75.

"Christmas Apples," the ad says, "Visit Sandringham and collect your own."

English estates commonly seek additional income by selling produce grown on their land.

The queen, whose private fortune is a secret, would get a new salary of $2.45 million, double her present pay, under a proposal before Parliament.

She is paid an annual public salary out of taxes, in addition to income from her private investments.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Caroline Kennedy attended an opera Sunday at the John F. Kennedy Center named for her late father.

It was her first trip to the recently opened memorial, which neither her mother nor younger brother has visited.

The occasion was a performance of Verdi's "Faust," produced by the Opera Society of Washington.

Caroline, who turned 14 Nov. 27, was accompanied on the journey from New York by Catherine Cunningham, granddaughter of Hobart A. Spalding, president of the Opera Society.

The girls occupied the No. 2 box in the center's opera house with Spalding and Mrs. Hugh D. Auchincloss, Caroline's maternal grandmother.

MIAMI (AP) — Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro's just completed 23-day tour of Chile demonstrated that "the imperialists have not succeeded in their attempts to isolate" the Communist island from Latin America, Havana radio says.

A tired Castro returned to Cuba on Sunday where a festive greeting by several hundred thousand cheering workers, students and housewives awaited the bearded leader.

Morton Says Oil Pipeline Across Alaska Will Not Hurt Environment

WASHINGTON (AP) — Interior Secretary Rogers C.B. Morton says he is convinced, at least so far, that an oil pipeline across Alaska will not endanger the environment and he is inclined to approve the project.

Morton said in an interview, however, that he could not issue construction permits for the pipeline—if that is what the administration finally decides to—until the Interior Department completes a court-required environmental impact statement and satisfies a court injunction blocking federal action.

The statement should be completed by about Jan. 15 for submission to the President's Council on Environmental Quality, said Morton. Then, he said, the Nixon administration would have to decide whether the statement was ready for submission to the U.S. District Court here.

Morton estimated it might take the court another three or four months to review the statement before deciding whether the terms of last year's injunction have been satisfied.

Environmental groups who oppose the pipeline project have said they might appeal lifting of the injunction if they regard the environmental statement as inadequate. Such an appeal, said Morton, could stall the issuance of permits as much as a year longer.

Seven oil companies in partnership with the Alyeska Pipeline Service Co. have applied for Interior Department permits to build the pipeline across federal land in Alaska.

Early last year, when then-Secretary of Interior Walter J. Hickel was on the verge of issuing the permits, the environment groups got the District Court injunction requiring prior preparation of an environmental study.

The study, now nearing completion, had been expected in mid-December, but Morton said its release has been postponed 30 days at the request of Alyeska lawyers.

During a radio interview in Seattle last Thursday, Morton said: "As to the issuance of the permit, it looks as though it will follow very closely behind. I will consult with the President."

In 1945, the monarchy was abolished in Yugoslavia, and King Peter II was deprived of all his vested rights.

In 1963, President Lyndon B. Johnson named a seven-man commission under Chief Justice Earl Warren to investigate the John F. Kennedy assassination.

Ten years ago, a chimpanzee was safely flown in two orbits around the earth in a U.S. Mercury space capsule.

Five years ago, the United Nations General Assembly voted for the 16th time to deny a seat to Communist China.

Worry Clinic

By George W. Crane, Ph. D., M.D.

Prof. Leon asks how to diagnose a bona fide hippie! Pseudo-hippies differ from real hippies! So learn how to tell them apart. And if you young married couples wish to avoid rearing hippie offspring, be sure to follow the advice below. Use those scientific "Rating Scales," too!

CASES-537: Leon J., aged 31 is a college biology professor. "Dr. Crane," he began, "maybe you noticed many hippie students wandering over our campus today. Some of them get liberal monthly allowance checks from home."

"But instead of paying for normal college living quarters (as their parents expect them to do), these hippies rent cheap 'pads,' which you'd call flop houses in Chicago. Then they use the money they save thereby, to buy drugs."

"And we find that the marks they make on college exams are usually low. For our experience with hippies is that they are juvenile and so immature that they lack worthy goals in life."

"Dr. Crane, how do you diagnose modern hippies?" HIPPIE PSYCHOLOGY Many intelligent students wear sideburns and even go without haircuts.

But these are not what we normally call hippies! Instead, they are social "sheep" who simply try to meld with the group fads on campus.

The real hippie is usually of slender, effeminate build, with long hair, juvenile beard, and dirty jeans. He dresses slouchily, not to avoid standing out from the crowd, but actually to gain attention by being different.

So please distinguish clearly between many timid students who affect the hippie appearance in order to avoid being taunted by their classmates.

By contrast, the typical hippie eagerly tries to gain the social spotlight just by looking bizarre.

That's a lazy, grandstander device for getting photographed by newspaper and TV cameramen.

Hippies are thus adopting the usual feminine ploy! For girls routinely wish to attract attention by their hairdo and costume.

Real he-men prefer to rate the spotlight by their accomplishment.

Hippies thus hope to feel important by violating standard customs, a la the iconoclast.

To rate first page notice, as an Einstein, Paderewski or sports star, may require 25 years of diligent work and daily practice.

How many hippies have ever won scholastic honors?

Do they become valedictorians or salutatorians of their graduating class? Do they win varsity letters in sports?

Are they leaders in Science Clubs, the Band or Choral groups where laborious practice is demanded?

Can they play a violin or any musical instrument that requires more than the 30 minutes they now spend learning a few guitar chords to accompany their kindergarten lyrics?

Do former Boy or Girl Scouts become hippies? Why not?

Ever meet an ex-newspaper carrier who was a hippie?

Hippies are usually "spongers" on permissive parents who have too long subsidized their loafing offspring by the unAmerican "allowance" plan, instead of making them work for their spending money.

If you young parents wish to avoid procreating hippie offspring, send for my 200-point "Tests for Parents," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 25 cents.
