E. Pakistan Surrenders To India

U.N. Expected To Take Action In Indopak Issue

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Reports early today that the surrender of Pakistani forces in East Pakistan was imminent were believed to improve chances that the U.N. Security Council would finally adopt a resolution calling for a cease-fire and troop withdrawal in the India-Pakistan war.

Five proposed resolutions were before the council, and a vote was expected before the end of the day.

Britain and France, the Soviet Union and Syria introduced resolutions Wednesday night, alongside Italian-Japanese and Polish proposals put in Monday and Tuesday.

When the council adjourned shortly after midnight Wednesday, none of the resolutions was believed to have much chance of adoption. But the later word of the collapse of Pakistani resistance in Dacca was believed to lessen the prospects of the Russians vetoing the British-French resolution.

The resolution had two major provisions, calling for: 1. An immediate and durable cease-fire until operations of disengagement leading to withdrawal have taken place.

2. A comprehensive political settlement in accordance with the wishes of the people concerned as declared through their elected and acknowledged representatives.

Sir Colin Crowe of Britain explained that this latter provision referred to the representatives elected in the 1970 elections, meaning the Awami League members whose independence movement President Agha Mohammed Yahya Khan's army has been trying to crush since last March.

It was in support of the Awami leaders, now organized as the government of Bangla Desh, or the Bengali Nation, that India went to war 12 days ago.

The Syrian and Soviet resolutions also included provisions for a cease-fire and some sort of action toward a political settlement.

China adopted a hands-off policy in private talks on the resolutions and indicated it would have nothing to do with any of them, but observers felt that the tone of the Chinese comments was sufficiently mild to indicate that they would not veto the British-French resolution, even though China's Pakistani allies were certain to oppose the call for a political settlement with the Bangla Desh movement.

New Delhi Orders Ceasefire In West

DACCA (AP) — Lt. Gen. A. A. K. "Tiger" Niazi, the East Pakistani commander, who boasted he would "fight to the end," surrendered today to a conquering Indian army, ending 24 years of Pakistani rule in the province.

Niazi formally surrendered on behalf of his 80,000 officers and men to Lt. Gen. J.S. Aurora, commander of Indian troops in the Eastern theater. Shooting still sounded in the background as, in fading light, crowds surrounded a table set up in front of Dacca Race Track. Niazi, looking grim-faced, signed the terms of surrender.

Hundreds of Bengalis shouting "zindabad" (long live) were held back by Indian troops who cordoned off the race course.

Niazi was near tears as he moved away, surrounded by cheering Bangla Desh people. Aurora, a turbaned Sikh, was hoisted on the shoulders of a slogan-chanting crowd as dusk fell.

Shouts of "Joi Bangla—victory to Bengal"—fusillades of shots and cheers of thousands of Bengalis greeted Indian paratroopers as they entered Dacca today.

Bengalis mobbed the first jeeps that swept into the city, hugging and kissing burly Sikh paratroopers.

They threw garlands of marigolds and bunches of red fragipani. Indian and Pakistani troops intermingled in the city and except for a few incidents the Pakistani army accepted surrender stoically.

Gen. J. F. R. Jacob, who lunched with Niazi, said casualties on both sides were heavy.

The green and black Bangla Desh flag sprouted from buildings and cars around the city.

The entry of the Indians into Dacca climaxed a 13-day campaign in East Pakistan which was characterized by bitter defensive fighting by Pakistani garrisons which were heavily outnumbered and outgunned.

Indian commanders said their superior air and artillery power demoralized the Pakistanis, who had "fought like maniacs," according to one paratrooper colonel.

The Indian army triumphed on its eastern front today with the unconditional surrender of Pakistan's army in East Pakistan. Then the Indian government ordered its troops on the western front to stop fighting Friday night in a unilateral cease-fire.

The Indian Cabinet's decision to call a pause in the Kashmir area was made in the face of a declaration by Pakistan's president that he would carry on the war with India until the "occupied areas are taken back."

In announcing the Indian government's decision, an official spokesman said: "We have repeatedly declared that India has no territorial ambition."

"Now that Pakistani armed forces have surrendered in Bangla Desh, and Bangla Desh now is free, it is pointless in our view to continue the present conflict. "Therefore, in order to stop bloodshed and unnecessary loss of life, we have ordered our armed forces to cease-fire everywhere on the western front, with effect from 2000 hours Indian standard time on Friday, Dec. 17, 1971."

"It is our earnest hope that there will be a corresponding immediate response from the government of Pakistan."

The time given is 8 p.m. local time, equivalent to 9:30 a.m. EST.

The eastern and western fronts are separated by about 1,000 miles, as are East and West Pakistan.

In East Pakistan, Indian soldiers marched victoriously into Dacca and Prime Minister Indira Gandhi told her people: "Dacca is now the free capital of a free country." It has been the provincial capital of the East wing of Pakistan.

Mrs. Gandhi declared refugees who had fled from East Pakistan to India were already returning to the area which India calls Bangla Desh, or Bengali nation.

Statewide Oil Allowable Up For January

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The Texas Railroad Commission set the statewide oil allowable for January today at 67.5 percent of potential, the second monthly increase in a row after a string of seven monthly declines.

The new allowable will permit maximum production of 3,510,035 barrels of oil a day next month, with 3,318,990 this month under a 63 per cent market demand factor.

Written nominations for Texas crude oil in January totaled 3,150,340 barrels a day, an increase of 95,941 from December.

Actual production next month is estimated at 3,148,94 barrels a day.

Four of the 14 major purchasers asked for more oil next month than in December, eight wanted the same amount and two asked for less oil in January than this month.

The statewide allowable had skidded from 82.1 per cent last May to 62.5 per cent in November before the commission pushed it up one-half of one per cent for December. Today's order added another 4.5 percentage points.

Nominations of major buyers of Texas crude oil for December, in barrels per day, with any changes in the parentheses:

- Amoco 420,000
- Atlantic Richfield 155,000
- Chevron-Western Div. 65,505 (down 5,545)
- Cities Service 100,000
- Continental 27,000
- Diamond Shamrock 33,000 (down 4,000)

Nativity Scenes To Be Lighted Tonight At Park

Many Pampans were expected to be in Central Park tonight for the annual lighting of the Christmas Nativity Scenes.

The traditional ceremony began 24 years ago through joint efforts of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce and local artists and craftsmen.

That first display in 1947 consisted of one scene. Since then additional scenes have been added to complete the story of the Nativity.

Longtime Pampa residents return each year for the yuletide program in the Park and newcomers will be especially interested in tonight's ceremony.

John Connally Resumes Drive To Rearrange Money Affairs

By DONALD SANDERS
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Likened to a Texas steamroller after his last appearance on the world financial stage, John B. Connally resumes his trail boss job Friday in the U.S. drive to rearrange international monetary affairs.

Connally left foreign colleagues to off-the-record mutterings about Texas cowboys after his bravura performance at a meeting of financial leaders early this month.

In a surprise move, the Treasury secretary let it become abundantly evident in sessions at Rome's Palazzo Corsini that the United States was willing to undertake the previously unthinkable: devalue the dollar.

President Nixon's announcement Tuesday of his willingness to do so had been clearly foreshadowed by Connally dealings.

Connally, a Lyndon Baines Johnson protege in the often rough and tumble school of Texas politics, "would be better sticking to his guns and lasso," said one European governmental source after the Rome meeting.

"If Connally hadn't acted like a Texas steamroller in Rome," said another, "the Europeans probably wouldn't have formed a common front as quickly as they did."

Whether the Europeans have indeed formed a common front before U.S. monetary moves may become known Friday when the finance ministers and central bankers from the Group of 10, the world's richest industrial nations, assemble here to tackle again the knotty problems of world finance.

For Connally, the meeting is another step in a career that has included being governor of Texas, secretary of the Navy for John F. Kennedy and attorney for the enterprises of the late super-rich oilman, Sid Richardson.

Since he took office a year ago, Connally has been highly visible on the domestic economic front, as Nixon's officially designated chief economic spokesman and No. 1 Democrat on the administration team.

But among those concerned with international finance, he has been equally visible.

At Rome, Connally had one advantage aside from his own poker-player talent as a negotiator. He was chairman of the sessions.

So, when the negotiators got around to the nitty gritty of how many pounds or marks or francs or lire or yen the dollar should be worth, he abruptly suggested that they recess, to assemble again in Washington on Dec. 17 and reconcile matters.

The core of the world-financial problem is that the dollar is not worth what it once was.

This means that compact German and Italian autos, French perfumes, Japanese electronics and optical equipment and textiles enjoy a competitive advantage over U.S. produced items, both in this country and in world trade.

Devalue the dollar, and foreign products, will cost more to import. U.S. goods will then be more competitive abroad, and the costs of American tourism will increase correspondingly.

Foreign manufacturers bitterly resent the surcharge, and in Rome the United States pledged to drop it if a satisfactory currency realignment is negotiated.

Medical Charges Regulated By Federal Price Commission

WASHINGTON (AP) — If your doctor now charges $15 for an office call, he can tack on another 37½ cents, but not a penny more unless the government approves it.

A hospital which charges $50 a day for a room can add $3, but no more unless the government says it's okay.

The Price Commission handed the medical profession these guidelines Wednesday in what is believed to be government's first attempt to regulate medical costs across the board in the United States.

The American Medical Association, which has consistently fought government regulation, had no immediate comment pending a review of the guidelines by AMA officials. An AMA spokesman, Dayton Moore, said his preliminary research turned up no past effort at such widespread government regulation of medical costs.

The commission guidelines, issued in implementation of President Nixon's Phase 2 economic program, limit increases in doctors' fees to 2.5 per cent a year and in hospital charges to 6 per cent a year.

To raise prices even to those cutoff points, medical professionals must prove their expenses have gone up. And, to raise prices above those ceilings, they must request specific government approval.

Doctors, hospitals and others in the health-care field may not raise prices to give themselves larger profits, the commission ruled.

The commission plan, however, would permit health-care costs to rise twice as fast as other costs.

Chairman C. Jackson Grayson Jr. said the commission hopes to halve the 12.9-per cent rate of inflation in medical costs, while its goal for the economy as a whole is to keep price increases to a maximum 2.5-per cent average.

"We were concerned with not reducing the quality of health care in the country," Grayson said. "That was very important to us."

The guidelines split the medical field into two divisions, institutional and non-institutional providers, and set up different regulations for them.

In the first category, which includes hospitals and other institutions, prices may be raised only to reflect allowable costs, offset by productivity increases.

But prices may not be raised to reflect higher labor costs of more than 5.5 per cent, the Pay Board ceiling for permissible wage increases.

Contract Let For Loop 171

A contract for highway construction in the Pampa area has been awarded by the Texas Highway Commission.

Gilvin-Terrill, Inc. of Amarillo was awarded a contract for grading, structures, flexible base, lime treated subgrade, two course surface treatment and hot mix asphaltic concrete pavement on 4.2 miles of Loop 171 in Gray County. Low bid was $1,328,354.80.

The project extends from U.S. Highway 60 east of Pampa, northwestward to State Highway 70. T. R. Kelley of Pampa is the Highway Department engineer in charge of the project which will take an estimated 200 working days.

Capacity Crowd Due At Football Banquet

DARRELL ROYAL, banquet speaker

A capacity audience will be on hand in Robert E. Lee Junior High Cafeteria at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow for the Pampa High School annual football banquet.

Highlights will include an address by University of Texas Head Football Coach Darrell Royal, selection of the 1971 football queen and the Fighting Heart Award to a member of the 1971 District 3-AAAA championship team.

Coach Royal, the banquet speaker, has just piloted his University of Texas Longhorns to its fourth consecutive Southwest Conference championship and a record fourth straight Cotton Bowl appearance on New Year's Day. Texas, under Coach Royal, has won eight SWC titles in 15 years.

When Royal takes his Longhorns to Dallas Jan. 1 to meet Penn State it will be the 12th bowl appearance in his 15 years at UT.

The 47-year-old Royal is the only man ever to twice be named Coach of the Year by his fellow coaches when he shared the award after the 1970 season. He won the same award in 1963.

Included in Royal's phenomenal coaching record is a 12-3 won-lost-bulge over his alma mater, Oklahoma.

Royal and his wife, Edith, are parents of three children and also have three grandchildren.

U.S.-France Cold War Receding To Considerable Degree

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent
Cold War West, the little power-politics contest between two long-time friends and allies, seems to have receded to a considerable degree.

President Nixon's Azores visit with President Georges Pompidou of France indicated a warmer and more fruitful relationship between Paris and Washington than was possible when Charles de Gaulle ruled.

For nearly 200 years, despite occasional tiffs, France and the United States considered one another fast friends. They were allies in two 20th century wars and that left a backlog of mutual esteem.

The Paris-Washington cold war began after De Gaulle became head of a Fifth Republic tailored to his liking, with strong authority in presidential hands. De Gaulle resented the United States as a competitor for authority and influence in European economics and politics. He regarded the U.S. dollar as an instrument of "economic colonization" in France and Western Europe.

A high point of his offensive to eject U.S. influence from Europe came in 1965 with an attack on the dollar. The French-American cold war extended to conflict over the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, Vietnam, the Middle East, China and attitudes toward the Soviet Union.

Aware that France was no

match for U.S. power, De Gaulle used economics as a political weapon, seeking to hit the Americans where it would hurt a lot—in the gold reserve basket.

France, like most of Western Europe newly prosperous because of the U.S. aid that rebuilt the war-shattered continent, had plenty of dollars from such sources as U.S. military expenses in France, tourists and U.S. business investment.

Using this wherewithal, De Gaulle decreed on New Year's Day, 1965, that France would convert into gold $300 million of its $1.3 billion hoard of dollars, in addition to the $500 million or so cashed regularly on an annual basis. It wasn't the amount so much as the obvious intent that hurt. The move threatened to undermine world confidence in the dollar, and President Lyndon B. Johnson took swift steps to reduce the amount of gold the United States had to hold, by law, to back the dollar.

Along with the economic attack, De Gaulle steered France's foreign policy toward a collision course with Washington. In 1966 he pulled France out of the military side of NATO. U.S. troops were obliged to leave France, abandoning what they could not take with them, which included nearly $1 billion worth of immovable installations.

By 1968 it was French policy to "discern" that the Soviet-Western cold war was over, that Moscow had pulled in its expansionist horns and there was nothing more for the West to fear.

When Georges Pompidou, a Gaullist, succeeded his resplendent chief in May 1969 the United States had cause to wonder if a hostile French policy might be long-lasting.

One of Richard M. Nixon's first major diplomatic forays as President had included a visit to France, only two months before De Gaulle would retire from office. The visit seemed to have had important impact.

The fact that Nixon put Pompidou at the top of the list of European leaders he chose to meet at the summit in advance of his prospective Peking and Moscow visits further suggested that the United States thought highly

Medical Charges Regulated By Federal Price Commission

WASHINGTON (AP) — If your doctor now charges $15 for an office call, he can tack on another 37½ cents, but not a penny more unless the government approves it.

A hospital which charges $50 for a room for an add $3, but no more unless the government says it's okay.

The Price Commission handed the medical profession those guidelines Wednesday in what is believed to be government's first attempt to regulate medical costs across the board in the United States.

The American Medical Association, which has consistently fought government regulation, had no immediate comment pending a review of the guidelines by AMA officials. An AMA spokesman, Dayton Moore, said his preliminary research turned up no past effort at such widespread government regulation of medical costs.

To raise prices even to those cutoff points, medical professionals must prove their expenses have gone up. And, to raise prices above those ceilings, they must request specific government approval.

Doctors, hospitals and others in the health-care field may not raise prices to give themselves larger profits, the commission ruled.

The commission plan, however, would permit health-care costs to rise twice as fast as other costs.

Chairman C. Jackson Grayson Jr. said the commission hopes to halve the 12.9-per cent rate of inflation in medical costs, while its goal for the economy as a whole is to keep price increases to a maximum 2.5-per cent average.

The fact that Nixon put Pompidou at the top of the list of European leaders he chose to meet at the summit in advance of his prospective Peking and Moscow visits further suggested that the United States thought highly of French friendship. In turn it probably heightened the Nixon standing in France.

The Azores agreement, at least on the surface, seemed to clear away much of the negative French reaction to Nixon's Aug. 15 "new economic policy" bombshell.

France thereafter had rejected U.S. pressure to revalue the franc upward, while in turn it pressured the United States to devalue the dollar.

Differences between the French and Americans seem to have narrowed. France has welcomed Nixon's initiative in mending relations with China. Paris never tires of pointing out that De Gaulle decided as long ago as 1964 to recognize Peking, at a time when such a move was highly unpopular.

De Gaulle resented the United States as a competitor for authority and influence in European economics and politics. He regarded the U.S. dollar as an instrument of "economic colonization" in France and Western Europe.

A high point of his offensive to eject U.S. influence from Europe came in 1965 with an attack on the dollar. The French-American cold war extended to conflict over the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, Vietnam, the Middle East, China and attitudes toward the Soviet Union.

Aware that France was no

match for U.S. power, De Gaulle used economics as a political weapon, seeking to hit the Americans where it would hurt a lot—in the gold reserve basket.

France, like most of Western Europe newly prosperous because of the U.S. aid that rebuilt the war-shattered continent, had plenty of dollars from such sources as U.S. military expenses in France, tourists and U.S. business investment.

Using this wherewithal, De Gaulle decreed on New Year's Day, 1965, that France would convert into gold $300 million of its $1.3 billion hoard of dollars, in addition to the $500 million or so cashed regularly on an annual basis. It wasn't the amount so much as the obvious intent that hurt. The move threatened to undermine world confidence in the dollar, and President Lyndon B. Johnson took swift steps to reduce the amount of gold the United States had to hold, by law, to back the dollar.

Along with the economic attack, De Gaulle steered France's foreign policy toward a collision course with Washington. In 1966 he pulled France out of the military side of NATO. U.S. troops were obliged to leave France, abandoning what they could not take with them, which included nearly $1 billion worth of immovable installations.

By 1968 it was French policy to "discern" that the Soviet-Western cold war was over, that Moscow had pulled in its expansionist horns and there was nothing more for the West to fear.

When Georges Pompidou, a Gaullist, succeeded his resplendent chief in May 1969 the United States had cause to wonder if a hostile French policy might be long-lasting.

One of Richard M. Nixon's first major diplomatic forays as President had included a visit to France, only two months before De Gaulle would retire from office. The visit seemed to have had important impact.

Capacity Crowd Due At Football Banquet

DARRELL ROYAL, banquet speaker

A capacity audience will be on hand in Robert E. Lee Junior High Cafeteria at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow for the Pampa High School annual football banquet.

Highlights will include an address by University of Texas Head Football Coach Darrell Royal, selection of the 1971 football queen and the Fighting Heart Award to a member of the 1971 District 3-AAA championship team.

There will be three candidates for the football queen honor. They are Becky Galey, Jane Price and Becky Taylor. The queen will be selected by members of the football team.

Pampa's popular banquet emcee, Municipal Judge Don Lane, will preside over the evening's ceremonies.

Pampa Schools To Close Dec. 21 For 14-Day Holiday

Students of both the Pampa public school system and St. Vincent's Catholic school will dismiss for the Christmas-New Year's holidays on Dec. 21.

St. Vincent's will dismiss following a special assembly at 2 p.m. Dec. 21. Students will return to classes Jan. 4, 1972. Teachers at St. Vincent's will report one day earlier.

Classes will reconvene for Pampa public school students Jan. 3, 1972, according to the office of Dr. James Malone, superintendent.

CB Radio Club Donates Fund To Local Club

The Pampa Optimist Club's Boys' Work Fund is $517.32 cents richer today, after being presented a check in that amount by the Top O' Texas CB Radio Club. The check represents one-half of the CB Club's proceeds from its November Jamboree.

Making the presentation to Optimist President Robert Jones were M.D. Hood, radio club president, and Jim Miser, immediate past president.

The money will help support the Optimist Club activities with the youth of Pampa, president Jones explained.

Correction

To clarify a report of Dec. 6, Steve Paul David, 19, 329 Dwight, was not arrested on suspicion of a crime as erroneously interpreted from a police incident report of the investigation.

The error was brought about by the report that he was present at the home of the man later charged with the crime under investigation when local officers went there for preliminary interrogation. Complete investigation that led to action against the other man fully exonerated David. The News regrets the error.

Clothes Taken From Laundry Recovered

Police recovered clothes taken from a do-it-yourself type laundry on Sloan St. after they received report of the loss from David Caldwell, 709 Jordan.

Caldwell told officers he and his wife put their laundry in a machine at the laundry then decided to wait at home two blocks away. On their return, the clothes were missing.

Working with their description of persons at the laundry at the time and information supplied by the owner of the business, the clothes were recovered.

Caldwell told officers he plans to press charges.

Former Pampa Man Perishes In Car Collision

A former Pampa man, Bobby Louis McKelvey, 29, Clovis, N.M., died in a head-on collision of the pickup he was driving and a car bearing an Oklahoma couple, also killed instantly in the crash.

Mathew Sandberg, 72 and his wife, Neida, 70, Cherokee, Okla., were traveling north on U.S. 70 with near-perfect road and weather conditions. McKelvey's vehicle apparently swerved into the other lane and the impact was so squarely head-on it seemed planned.

Traffic was halted on the busy two lane artery more than an hour while workmen extricated the bodies, according to the investigating officer's report.

McKelvey, who had moved to Clovis from Pampa some time ago, was in the process of moving to Silver City, N.M. when the accident occurred.

Lobbyist Reported To Have Won Bill Passage While Negotiating Loans To Mutscher, Aide

HOUSTON (AP) — The Houston Post reports in a copyrighted story that lobbyist James C. Day won final passage of a controversial vending commission bill last May while negotiating for a $60,000 loan to House Speaker Gus Mutscher's top aide.

The Post article, in today's editions, said the $60,000 loan for speaker's aide Rush McGinty was from a private Galveston bank, W. L. Moody & Co. (unincorporated), where Day is a member of the executive committee. The bank is owned by Shearn Moody Jr.

Moody's multiple business interests and the Texas

Vending Association are major clients of Day, the Post article said.

Two Moody-backed bills related to placing state and local government deposits in private banks also were passed during the twilight hours of the legislating session while Day was negotiating for the McGinty loan, according to the newspaper's story.

The Post said a months-long investigation revealed that in addition to the $60,000 loan to McGinty, which was guaranteed by Mutscher, Moody's private bank loaned Mutscher $30,000 in 1970.

The bill passed despite vigorous opposition. Reps.

Jim Nugent of Kerrville and Dewitt Hale of Corpus Christi, each with specific objections to the Day measure, kept it tied up in the House Rules Committee, of which Nugent is chairman and Hale is a member.

In the final hours of the session, however, Rep. Carl Parker, the bill's sponsor, was given a chance by Mutscher to seek suspension of the House rules and bring the measure directly before the full membership.

The Post article quoted Parker as saying he had serious objections to the Day-drafted bill he introduced. Parker said Day's efforts favored big-time operators in the entertainment vending machine industry while his Williams of Dallas, past president of the vending association, handpicked the three industry members, naming Williams chairman. Two of the three non-industry members Smith named had business ties with the industry members picked by Williams, the Post said.

Gov. Smith turned over staff handling of the commission appointments to Robert Bullock, a longtime friend and a confirmed recent borrower of funds from Day. This was at a time while Bullock was seeking the $25,000 per year executive directorship of the new vending commission. He gave up that quest when Smith made him secretary of state Sept. 1 but he is said to be still interested in the job.

Day and Bullock served together in the House during the late 1950s and have been friends since, the story said. Both have been commissioned by the Department of Public Safety as members of the 300-man "Special Texas Rangers" force.

The Texas vending industry hit the headlines in 1968 when a House committee probe disclosed that a few huge vending operators were gradually taking over a substantial portion of the taverns in the state's major cities.

The committee feared a centrally controlled network of bars was being put together that could be used as an organized outlet of crime. This house committee faded away without publishing a final report, instead turning its still-secret findings over to the Texas Department of Public Safety.

State Rep. James Clark of Dallas authorized a reform bill during the 1969 session but the vending industry was successful in turning that around to its own benefit, the Post said.

Congress Approves Bill On Joblessness

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress sent to President Nixon Wednesday night a bill providing for an extra 13 weeks of unemployment compensation benefits to jobless persons in states where the unemployment rate exceeds 6.5 per cent.

An estimated 538,000 persons will benefit from the measure.

The House passed the compromise version 194-149 and the Senate cleared it by voice vote.

Sponsors said the measure would be worth about $274 million to 538,000 persons in about 12 states.

Officials said they were unable immediately to identify states that would be eligible.

Bottle Missing

Sometime over the past weekend, a butane bottle and regulator was taken from a travel trailer at Superior Sales, 860 W. Foster, according to the police blotter.

The owner of the business described the bottle as white but could furnish no clues or other details.

Police are investigating.

Ex-Governor Of Illinois Indicted On Charges Of Bribery, Fraud

WASHINGTON (AP) — Otto Kerner, Jr., federal appeals court judge and former Illinois governor, was indicted by a federal grand jury today on charges of bribery, mail fraud, tax evasion, perjury and conspiracy as a result of race track stock transactions while he was governor.

Three appointees to Kerner's administration, which ran from 1961 to 1968, and a Chicago businesswoman also were named in the 15-count indictment handed down in U.S. District Court in Chicago.

Kerner, a Democrat, and the others were accused of conspiring to obtain about $356,000 worth of race track stocks for $7,158. The grand jury said the money was used as a bribe to influence Kerner's administration of horse racing in Illinois.

The specific charges against the 63-year-old Kerner, who sits on the Seventh U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in Chicago, are that he evaded $84,129 in federal income taxes and made false statements to an Internal Revenue Service Agent.

Kerner is only the fourth federal judge ever to be indicted by a grand jury.

Hijacker Gets 4 Years

LA PLATA, Argentina (AP) — The federal prosecutor asked today that Robert Lee Jackson of Townsend, Fla., be sentenced to four years in prison for the hijacking of a Braniff jetliner last July.

He also recommended a two-year sentence for Jackson's Guatemalan girl friend, Lyndia Lucrecia Sanchez.

Judge Alfredo Maci took the case under consideration after Jackson's court-appointed attorney, Dr. Carlos Herrera, made a brief plea for clemency for the defendants.

Jackson, 36, and Miss Sanchez, 23, surrendered to Argentine police July 4 after a record 7,500-mile hike of a Boeing 707 in Mexico that included stops in Monterrey, Mexico; Lima, Peru, and Rio de Janeiro, Brazil.

The aircraft was hijacked on a flight from Acapulco to San Antonio, Tex. While over San Antonio, the hijacker forced the pilot to fly to Monterrey, where the 101 passengers and three married stewardesses were allowed to deplane.

When the big jet landed at Buenos Aires, Jackson demanded that it be refueled for a flight to Algeria but police surrounded the plane and refused to let it take off. After waiting through much of the night Jackson gave up.

Price Agency Sets Limit On Doctor's Fee Increase

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Price Commission ruled today that doctors may not increase their fees more than an average of 2.5 per cent, and hospitals not more than 6 per cent without specific approval.

The commission said that, in any case, price increases by doctors, hospitals and other providers of health services must be justified by allowable increases in costs.

At the same time, the commission deferred announcing new rules for non-commercial rents until some time next week.

It also ruled that, as an interim measure designed to give temporary relief to small business firms, firms with less than $1 million in sales in their last fiscal year may increase prices to realize a profit of up to 3 per cent.

Previously, the commission said firms of any size could not raise prices, even if justified by cost increases, in such a way as to raise their pretax margin of profit on sales. This rule was seen as a burden to firms that were losing money or which had unusually low profits.

In ruling on health costs, the commission said it had accepted the recommendations of a 21-member committee.

Nixon May Sign Bill On Alaska Land Claims

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon is expected to sign into law a bill to give Alaska natives $962.5 million and 40 million acres in settlement of their aboriginal land claims.

The bill, sent to the White House by Congress Tuesday, is a compromise worked out by a Senate-House conference committee, and is almost as liberal as one proposed by the administration.

The administration had recommended $1 billion and 40 million acres to settle the claims of the 55,000 Eskimos, Aleuts and Indians.

The claims to most of the vast Alaska land mass are based on ancestral use and occupancy and have been recognized since the U.S. purchased Alaska from Russia for $7.2 million in 1867.

The conference report, a compromise of bills passed earlier by the Senate and the House, sailed through the House, 307 to 60, and passed the Senate quickly by voice vote.

This climaxed 20 years of consideration by congressional committees of land-claim settlement proposals. They began with a few million dollars and a few million acres.

Federal Quarantine Imposed On Cattle In 34 Texas Counties

WASHINGTON (AP)—A federal quarantine has been imposed on cattle in 34 Texas counties in an effort to curb outbreaks of scabies, a disease caused by tiny mites which burrow into the skin of animals, the Agriculture Department announced today.

Only seven of the counties are known to have cattle scabies at the present time, but officials said a decision was made to include the others, all in the Northern Panhandle of the state, as an added precaution.

Secretary of Agriculture Earl L. Butz said his department is counting on farmers and ranchers in the quarantine areas for cooperation in halting the disease outbreak.

"I recognize that the quarantine is an inconvenience to cattlemen shipping animals to market," Butz said in a statement. "But I assure them that we will do everything to make sure cattle will move through trade channels as quickly and as safely as possible."

The federal quarantines actually took effect on Tuesday, the department said. The public announcement here was delayed because of final clearance red tape, a spokesman said.

Under quarantine rules, cattle from herds known to be infested will not be allowed from the premises until they are checked and certified by state or federal livestock inspectors as being free of the disease.

Also, cattle exposed to scabies will not be allowed for shipment until they are dipped at least once to kill possible mite infestation.

Cattle found with mites or scabies must be dipped twice at intervals of 10 to 14 days before shipment.

The rules will permit shipment of infested cattle directly to slaughter houses if they are first inspected and then shipped in sealed vehicles.

Officials cautioned

stockmen that if dipping solutions contained the insecticide toxaphene the cattle must be held at least 28 days after the final dipping before being slaughtered as a precaution against tainting meat with chemical residues.

Through last Monday some 17 outbreaks of scabies had been reported. Those involved cattle in Oklahoma, Kansas, Nebraska and New Mexico in addition to Texas, the department said.

"Federal quarantines are not now being issued in other states because their outbreaks to date have proved to be isolated or traceable to shipments from the quarantine area," the department said.

The seven counties in the Texas quarantine where scabies actually has been reported are: Childress, Collingsworth, Dallam, Deaf Smith, Donley, Moore, and Motley.

Other counties also designated for federal quarantine are: Armstrong, Bailey, Briscoe, Carson, Castro, Cottle, Floyd, Foard, Gray, Hale, Hall, Hemphill, Hansford, Hartley, Hardeman, Hutchinson, NEW YORK (AP)—Arthur Hiller, film director of "Love Story" and "Plaza Suite," will produce and direct the movie version of "Man of La Mancha"

Lamb, Lipscomb, Ochiltree, Oldham, Farmer, Potter, Randall, Roberts, Sherman, Swisher, and Wheeler.

DOGS AID POLICE

DALLAS (AP)—The Dallas Police Department is making a study to determine if it should use more police dogs.

"We use the dogs to search buildings where suspected burglars may be hiding, in area searches for fugitives, to sniff for marijuana, and other duties," said Police Chief Frank Dyson. "If we can determine an adaptability, we'd like to use them to sniff out explosives, also."

The department presently employs nine dogs.

Judge Declares Mistrial In Case Of Houston Man

EDINBURG, Tex. (AP)—Dist. Judge Tillman Smith declared a mistrial Wednesday in the case of Charles V. Harrelson of Houston.

The judge's order came after about 13 hours of jury deliberation.

Dist. Atty. Oscar McInnis agreed when defense lawyer Percy Foreman filed a motion for a mistrial.

McInnis, talking with newsmen later, said, "I am disappointed that the jury couldn't reach a verdict."

"I assure you we will try him again in some other county," he said.

McInnis said he thought he would ask the court to move the trial to another county because of the publicity surrounding the Harrelson trial and another trial connected with the case.

"We're ready to go through with this again if we have to," Mrs. Sam Degelia Sr., the victim's mother, said.

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP)—Despite an attempt to hold the state payroll down by a semi-freeze on hiring, the number of state employees is climbing back to 30,000 again after two years.

Certain Welfare Regulations Overturned

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — An agreed judgment overturning certain state welfare regulations involving abandoned children has been entered here by U.S. Dist. Court Judge John Wood Jr. Thrown out were regulations that cut off aid to abandoned children living with relatives who refuse to file criminal charges against the parents. Wood held that two sections of the state welfare department's financial services handbook governing Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC) violated federal regulations.

1972 Seen To Be The Year Of Slogan In Texas Politics

By GARTH JONES
Associated Press Writer
There are a lot of uncertainties and improbabilities in the 1972 election year but one thing is definite: It will be the year of the slogan.

The backbone of political reform for Texas, "advertisements the Texas Republican Party, which also calls itself the Texas Go Party." Their symbol is a stampeding elephant.

"We can do in Seventy-Two," is the battle cry of Texas Democrats, who use as their symbol a slightly pudgy, dancing "smiling star"—whatever that means. Under the counter they pass out big lapel buttons reading

"You Know Who is Through in '72" with a caricature of you know which president.

With the major political parties leading the way the candidates are following their sloganeers close behind.

"We must turn the page of the calendar to a new day for Texas," says Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes, Democratic candidate for governor.

"I will not quit or give up until the job is done and done well," says Gov. Preston Smith, who wants a third term and sees nothing wrong with his first two terms.

Texas has no more room for "accidental government," says Dolph Briscoe, another Democratic candidate for governor. "We must have completely new leadership at the top."

Briscoe has a campaign attraction that, so far, none of the others have copied. He is the only one to wear boots. "A man ought to have a good pair of boots on before he tries to wade in and straighten things out," says the South Texas rancher and banker.

Sen. Henry Grover, Houston, only announced candidate for governor among Republicans, follows his party's line and says: "Texans are fed up and thoroughly disgusted because of the current scandal in Austin. They will make a clean sweep at the next election."

The U. S. Senate race for 1972 is giving off a much quieter tone presently for two reasons: Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., has not formally announced for re-election and Ralph Yarborough, who got unseated by Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, D-Tex., has not made up his mind if he will run for Senate or governor or retire.

Tower's campaign tactics are deep, dark secrets but one of the slogans discussed so far is: "A vote for Tower is a vote for Texas."

Barefoot Sanders, the only announced Democratic opponent to Tower, says: "Tex is are entitled to better and more constructive representation in the Senate than the present Republican senator is giving."

And it's no secret that Sanders hopes to garner votes from the down-to-earth name of "Barefoot," not to mention the fact he was once declared "Freckles champion" of the Texas State Fair.

Yarborough's supporters in several parts of the state have distributed bumper stickers that say: "Yarborough for Texas." That will be appropriate if he runs for Senate or governor.

Another undeclared possible candidate, Gordon McLendon, wealthy Dallas businessman and broadcaster, has billboards in the Dallas area reading: "Gordon McLendon. He's the Man." That can be taken as a boost either for his broadcasting properties, or in case he decides to run for Senate. McLendon lost a bitter primary battle to Yarborough

Odessa businessman Bill Jones has one of the most unique slogans of the year:

"Friends, we pay for it, let's have a voice in it."

FOR HOLIDAY WHIRL—Flatten very thin-sliced premium white bread with a rolling pin, spread with tasty fillings, roll and refrigerate or freeze. Each slice cuts into six bite-sized Whirl-Arounds, tailor-made for easy holiday entertaining.

Try Easy Whirl-Arounds For Simple Entertaining

No, you needn't be an expert caterer to create those fancy, finger-sized party sandwiches you've always admired at other peoples' parties but never attempted in your own kitchen. All you need is a fresh loaf of very thin-sliced premium white bread and some of your favorite sandwich fillings and toppers.

Cut the crusts from the bread and gently roll each slice a bit flatter with a rolling pin. This will make the bread easier to roll up, jelly roll fashion. Spread with softened butter or margarine and a filling.

We especially like the filling made with cream cheese, crushed pineapple and shredded chipped beef. You might also try mixtures of mayonnaise, liverwurst and pickle relish or cream cheese, finely chopped pimientostuffed olives and mustard. Or, blend softened cream cheese with chopped candied ginger or make a filling of cheese spread—a good sharp cheddar is best—mixed with butter and bits of cooked, crumbled bacon. There is really no end of possibilities. Just be certain to spread your bread with butter; this will prevent the fillings from soaking into the bread. Roll each slice, wrap in saran or foil and refrigerate for several hours. Once chilled, you can cut each log into six, bite-sized pieces or serve them as is. Garnish with a sprig of water cress or a strip of pimiento if you wish.

Very thin-sliced premium white bread boasts all the flavor and goodness of regular white bread, makes dainty sandwich-making easy, but best of all, is low in calories to boot! All the bread in six Whirl-Arounds adds up to fewer than 50 calories. There's something psychological about eating six party sandwiches. Somehow, if you're a woman, you feel you've had your fill. If you're a man, you can eat a dozen without feeling guilty!

Very thin-sliced premium white bread may also be cut into various shapes with cookie cutters and topped with cheese and luncheon meats cut to the same design. This will give you a pleasing variety for your buffet table.

They may be wrapped in foil or saran and refrigerated or even frozen. This takes some of the last-minute frenzy out of the holiday whirl.

AUTO SHOW SET

NEW YORK (AP)—The 16th International Automobile Show will be held in the New York Coliseum next April 1-9, show president Charles Snitow has announced.

Snitow says the New York area accounted for almost 25 per cent of the total U.S. car market for imported cars in 1970. The total sales were 138,496 imports. New York's five boroughs produced 31,921 sales while 106,675 imports were sold in the northern New Jersey suburbs, Long Island, Rockland and Westchester counties of New York, and Fairfield County in Connecticut.

1 cup softened cream cheese or whipped cream cheese
¾ cup chipped beef, shredded
¼ cup crushed drained

Trim crusts from bread and lightly flatten each slice with a rolling pin. Spread each with butter or margarine. Combine cream cheese, chipped beef and pineapple. Spread over each slice, roll up jelly roll fashion. Cover with plastic wrap and chill. Cut each roll into 6 pieces. Makes 48 petite sandwiches.

Holiday Rib Roast

By AILEEN CLAIRE
NEA Food Editor

This is a beef-eating country. What better way to celebrate the holidays than to have a feast of a Standing Rib Roast?

HOLIDAY STANDING RIB
Place beef fat side up on rack in shallow pan. Insert meat thermometer so tip will be in center. Roast in 325-degree oven to desired degree of doneness. Let roast stand 20 minutes in warm place before carving. It will continue to cook after taken from oven and internal temperature will rise a few degrees.

Rare 18 to 20 minutes per pound, 130 degrees, internal temperature.

Medium rare 22 minutes per pound, 140 degrees, internal temperature.

Well done 27 minutes per pound, 160 degrees internal temperature.

To carve, place beef on side and cut across grain toward ribs.

TOMATO ROSES

Select large, round, firm, red-skinned tomatoes. Cut slice around stem end, separating it from pulp but leaving attached to skin at one end. Cut skin from tomato in continuous 1-inch wide band, being careful not to break. Starting at free end of skin, roll band around, shaping into rose and assemble on base slice.

HORSERADISH SAUCE

Fold 3 tablespoons drained prepared horseradish into ½-cup whipping cream, whipped. Add ½-teaspoon salt. Sprinkle with chopped parsley. Makes 1 cup.

New Pate Mix Variety Of Spices For Rare Holiday Treat

By AILEEN CLAIRE

Tasty morsels always are a part of the holidays. A Liverwurst Terrine or pate deserves a special place on the cocktail table.

LIVERWURST TERRINE

1 tablespoon butter
½ cup finely chopped uncooked veal
1 tablespoon minced shallot or green onion
¼ teaspoon garlic powder
1 tablespoon flour
¼ teaspoon allspice
1 tablespoon cream, light
¼ teaspoon lemon juice
1 tablespoon brandy or brandy flavoring

1 egg

2 (4¼ ounce) cans liverwurst spread
4 strips bacon

Melt butter in skillet. Add shallot and veal, cook over low heat for three minutes. Do not brown. Stir in garlic powder, flour, and allspice. Mix in cream and lemon juice. Put this mixture into a bowl and stir in brandy, egg and liverwurst spread. Mix well. Line a two-cup loaf pan with strips of bacon (uncooked). Pack in the liverwurst spread mixture and lay bacon strip on top. Cover with foil. Stand the loaf pan in a larger pan and pour in water to half the height of the loaf pan. Cook for 1½ hours at 325 degrees.

When cooked, place a heavy plate on top to press the pate. When cool, refrigerate for several hours. Serve in thin slices with hot buttered toast. Makes two cups liverwurst pate.

One of the best holiday cookies we've ever eaten is a rolled cookie that's spiced delightfully. White pepper goes in along with cinnamon, cloves and ginger!

These cookies, said to hail from Norway, are thin and crisp. They take time to roll out, but if you like to work with your hands, you'll consider that fun. And when you taste them, you're bound to

Serve Potato Cheese Puffs

Chives and cheese add excellent flavor contrast.

2½ pounds potatoes, 5 large or 8 med
¾ cup milk
2 eggs, separated
1½ teaspoons salt
Tabasco sauce to taste
¼ teaspoon baking powder
2 tablespoons chopped fresh chives
1 package (6 ounces) cheddar cheese cubes

Pare potatoes and cut into 1½-inch pieces. Cover with water and boil until tender—about 25 minutes; drain. With electric mixer, beat at high speed until light and fluffy. Gradually beat in milk and egg yolks. Add salt, tabasco, baking powder and chives; mix well. Beat egg whites until stiff; fold in. Fold in cheese. Turn into a 9-inch pie plate and pile high in center. Bake in preheated 375-degree oven for 30 minutes. Makes 8 servings.

consider your time well spent

ROLLED SPICE COOKIES

2½ cups unsifted flour
½ teaspoon baking soda
¾ teaspoon cinnamon
¾ teaspoon cloves
½ teaspoon ginger
¼ teaspoon white pepper
½ cup sugar
½ cup dark corn syrup
½ cup (¼-pound stick) butter or margarine
1 egg

On wax paper thoroughly stir together the flour, soda, cinnamon, cloves, ginger and pepper.

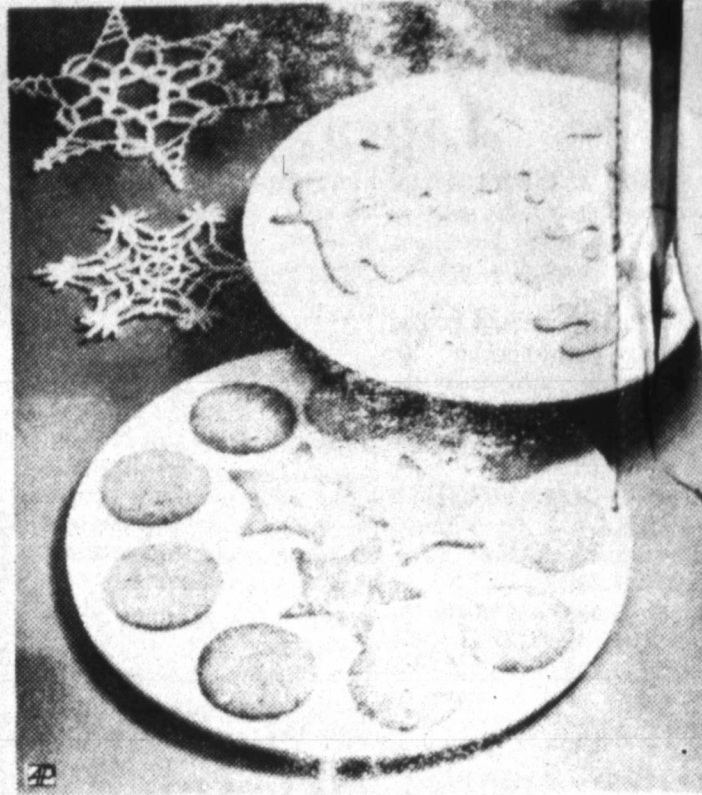

In a 1-quart saucepan stir together the sugar, corn syrup and butter; over medium heat bring to a boil, stirring occasionally. Cool to room temperature. Beat in egg. Stir in flour mixture, mixing well. Chill dough, covered, overnight.

Divide dough into 4 portions. Work with one portion at a time and keep remaining portions in the refrigerator.

On a floured pastry cloth, with a floured stockinet-covered rolling pin, roll out one portion of the dough as thin as possible—less than one-sixteenth inch thick. With floured cookie cutters, cut into various shapes. Place 1-inch apart on greased cookie sheets.

Bake in a preheated 350-degree oven until lightly browned—5 to 6 minutes.

Yield will depend on size of cutters, but if a 3-inch cutter is used there will be about 10 dozen cookies.

HOLIDAY FARE—Rolled spiced cookies can be cut in shapes to suit your own fancy. The spices include white pepper, cinnamon, cloves and ginger.

1 cup sugar
Juice of ½ small lemon

Wash apples and quarter without peeling or coring; remove blossom ends and any stems. Turn into a large saucepot, add water and cook covered over low heat, stirring occasionally, until apples are soft—15 to 20 minutes. Put through a food mill. Add sugar and lemon juice and stir until sugar is dissolved. Serve warm or chilled. Store in refrigerator. Makes about 1½ quarts.

Mainly About Groom

Mrs. GEORGE BRITTEN — Mrs. Othelle Driskill, Oklahoma City, formerly a Groom resident, is visiting friends here for a few days.

Margaret West Hardin, appeared in the play, "You're A Good Man, Charlie Brown," presented by the Clarendon Drama Club at Theatre 66 in Amarillo Friday evening.

Among those from Groom attending the P. G. C. Convention at Amarillo last week were Mr. and Mrs. Donald Ritter, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Major, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Burgin, Mr. and Mrs. Raphael Britten, Mr. and Mrs. Ruben Baggerman, Mr. and Mrs. Wayland Ackers, Mr. and Mrs. Keith Davis and Mr. and Mrs. Dean Burger.

Lyndon (Chubby) Black, who has been working on a job training program near Columbus, Tenn., recently visited relatives in Groom. Chubby has recently been transferred to Hereford.

Groom High School has seven students in the All-Region Band. They are as follows: John Crowell, first chair trumpet; Lenora Burgin, first chair baritone saxophone; Patty Britten, fourth chair alto saxophone; Gayla Homer, third chair tenor saxophone; Martha Kuehler, fourth chair clarinet; Laurel Krizan, thirteenth chair clarinet; and Debbie Britten, second chair contrabass clarinet.

Mrs. Tassie Dorsey, who recently returned from a visit with her daughter, Mrs. Tommy Finney and family, Longmont, Colo., left this week to visit another daughter, Arbella Himebaugh at Phoenix, Ariz.

G. A. Scott, C. L. Wieberg and Paul Wagner made a business trip to Old Mexico recently.

Danny Ashfeed has returned to Castle AFB, Merced, Calif., after a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Ashford, Jerry and Patty.

Contributions Urged By Lions For Girlstown

The Lions Clubs of District 2-T1, which covers most of the Panhandle from Childress, west and north, are still in need of assistance with their Girlstown Christmas Fund, according to Gene Martindale and Dick Kastein, presidents of the two Pampa clubs.

Object of the fund is to purchase a new coat and a pair of shoes for each of the 165 girls at the Berger and Whiteface Girlstowns. It is estimated that it will take $40 per girl to accomplish this.

Honorary co-chairmen are Lee Webb of KFDA-TV, Judy Davis, KVII-TV, and Royce Botterford of KGNC Radio and TV.

Contributions may be sent to Girlstown Christmas Fund, P.O. Box 2723, Amarillo, 79105, according to Martindale and Kastein.

Detective Cited For Contempt

DALLAS (AP) — A private detective convicted of wiretapping telephones of former top aides of Dallas oil millionaire H. L. Hunt has been cited for contempt of court for refusing to testify before a grand jury engaged in a renewed federal investigation of the case.

U.S. District Court Judge Robert M. Hill gave John Joseph Kelly, 27, of Houston, until Jan. 11 to decide whether he will testify or face an 18-month jail sentence for contempt.

Kelly and a second detective, Patrick McCann, have been sentenced to three years in prison in the case.

Hill also advised Kelly to consider hiring a new lawyer after his attorney, Charles Tessmer, was accused of having a "conflict of interest" in the case.

Kelly and McCann were sentenced Sept. 9 after they were found guilty by a federal grand jury of wiretapping the homes of four former Hunt aides. Kelly has appealed the conviction and is free on bond.

Miss Texas Pageant Set For San Antonio

SAN ANTONIO-The Miss Texas Universe Beauty Pageant has established headquarters in San Antonio, marking the first time the event has had a permanent home.

Nicki Stallman, vice president of the statewide beauty contest, said the 1972 pageant will be held at the Theater of Performing Arts on the grounds of Hemis Fair Plaza.

In previous years, the Miss Texas Universe Pageant has been held in various cities. With the opening of headquarters in the Gunter Hotel, however, local pageant directors now have a permanently staffed office to work through in planning the various contests which feed the statewide event.

Miss Stallman, a beauty queen in her own right, is executive director of the Pageant. She has served as director-choreographer of Miss Texas Universe since 1969, and is now directly involved with working with local franchisees.

"Early indications are that we will have one of the greatest pageants in Texas history," Miss Stallman said. "Enthusiasm on the local level has been tremendous. I feel there will be at least 60 beauties competing for the state crown."

The winner of the Miss Texas Universe title will compete in the Miss USA Pageant, which in 1972 will be held in Puerto Rico. From there, Miss USA competes for Miss Universe.

Texas is well-represented with the now reigning Miss Texas Universe, Brenda Box of Amarillo. Brenda is first runnerup to the Miss USA title and is appearing not only across Texas with her state title, but nationally for Miss USA.

SS Death Benefits Explained

People are sometimes puzzled about the social security lump-sum death benefit because it isn't clear to them who gets it and why the amount can vary, according to Howard Weatherly, social security manager in Pampa.

"The death payment is usually made to the widow or widower of a deceased worker who was insured under social security," Weatherly said. "But if there is no widow or widower who was living in the same household with the worker at the time of death, the payment may be made, under certain conditions, directly to the funeral home or to the person who paid the funeral expenses."

The amount of the social security death benefit is three times what the deceased worker would have received as a monthly retirement benefit at 65—with a maximum of $255. The amount can vary from $211.20 to $255. The average is about $242.

The death payment is paid only when a worker who was insured under social security dies, according to Weatherly. It isn't payable if a dependent of an insured worker dies—unless the dependent himself had worked long enough under social security to be insured on his own record. For example, he explained, a retired couple receives monthly social security benefits on the husband's record. The wife never worked under social security. If the husband died, a lump-sum death payment would be made to his wife because he was insured under social security.

If the wife died, a payment would not be made. She had received retirement benefits on her husband's record, but she was not herself insured under social security.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A painting which shows George Washington inspecting construction of the White House in 1798 is the cover for the presidential Christmas card this year.

The painting is the work of Pennsylvania artist N. C. Wyeth.

Inside, the red, white and blue cards mailed from the White House on Monday bear the engraved inscription:

from our family for a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year The President and Mrs. Nixon.

LONDON (AP) — The House of Commons has more than doubled Queen Elizabeth's annual allowance and boosted the pay of Queen Mother Elizabeth and Princess Margaret, over violent objections by Labor party members.

Queen Elizabeth's allowance goes from $1.2 million to $2.5 million, the queen mother's from $175,000 to $237,500 and Princess Margaret's from $37,500 to $87,500.

Laborite William Hamilton concentrated his attack during the debate Tuesday on Princess Margaret and the queen mother.

Referring to the princess, Hamilton said, "Why, oh why, are we giving this expensive, kept woman that kind of salary increase for doing what she is doing?"

He also questioned the size of the queen mother's entourage, 33, noting that it included both ladies of the bedchamber and woman of the bedchamber.

"What the blazes do they all do?" Hamilton asked.

Conservatives accused Hamilton of making a "vile attack" on royal personages.

WASHINGTON (AP) — An AFL-CIO spokesman says President George Meany has returned to his home after two weeks in the hospital and hopes to return to his desk after the holidays.

"The doctor describes his condition as fine."

Foundation Causes

New York — America's philanthropic foundations have assets totaling $25.2 billion and make grants at the rate of $4 million a day — or $1.5 billion a year.

The figures are from a new $15 book, the Foundation Directory which lists and describes 5,454 foundations and reports on their grants.

Although Americans regard foundations as the big contributors to worthy causes, (the publishers) found that foundations account for only about 9 per cent of the national total annual private philanthropy.

Glossing over the writer's rather loose use of the word "philanthropic," it is probably true (sadly so) that many truly regard America's thousands of "non-profit" foundations as simply "big contributors to worthy causes." Some are, that is true. But it also is true, we think, that if Americans were aware of the causes supported by such untaxed giants as the Ford Foundation and Rockefeller Foundation, all public awe and regard for these weird creatures of the corporate lawyer would end overnight.

It should be that tomorrow's historians look back upon these troubled times and finally trace back what devious and financed the destruction of freedom and the national spirit in the United States, we believe the finger will point at a handful of politicians and their powerful masters. The leftward "philanthropic foundations."

To attack these monsters is something akin to driving nails with your fist. Attacks upon the foundations are viewed by many as hysteric ravings and if the public doesn't dress down the accuser, you can be sure a chorus of sympathetic politicians, editorial writers and news commentators will.

If you do not know about the foundations, your education should begin with the biggest of them all, the Ford Foundation, created in 1945 by industrialist Henry Ford but subverted at the year of his death to finance the most far-out, far-left "causes" yet seen in the United States. Entrenched in its taxless shelter, endowed by billions of dollars that create a self-perpetuating, endless flow of new capital, the Ford Foundation is neck-deep in such "causes" as The American Friends Service Committee, SIECUS, the incredible Center for Study of Democratic Institutions, the Fund for the Republic, and that hub of worldwide social revolution, the Council on Foreign Relations.

The latest list of Ford Foundation causes includes 42 similar organizations, none of which could ever be accused of giving comfort to the freedom of man from the spectre of world government tyranny.

It causes us to shudder to know the Ford, Rockefeller, Carnegie and Sloan Foundations among countless others, can muster out $4 million a day for the causes they so admire. If you wonder what their money is buying, look around you. What is being formed in their world.

I SHALL LIGHT A CANDLE OF UNDERSTANDING... WHICH SHALL NOT BE PUT OUT.

RAY CROMLEY U.S. Loses Allies By Not 'Hating'

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON (NEA)—The India-Pakistan war demonstrates again the difficulty this or any country has in attempting to bring about peace, a cease-fire or even truce negotiations in the uneasy regions of the world.

The decline in U.S. influence in this instance, and the gains being achieved by Russia and mainland China in the subcontinent, quite terribly illustrate how effective it has become to "hate" the "right" country and back the "right" nation in order to win friends and gain power in South Asia, the Middle East and Africa.

If India triumphs, the consensus here is that it will become the dominant state in South Asia. The Soviet Union, as India's sponsor and friend, will come into new influence and prestige throughout the region. At the same time Peking, as Pakistan's patron, will gain a base for expanding its own activities.

Reports indicate the United States is losing the friendship of India because this country is not willing to vigorously "hate" Pakistan and back India in the war.

Instead, the United States shut off arms to India as well as Pakistan to make matters worse. The United States brought the matter to the United Nations after New Delhi had warned bluntly against such unfriendliness.

The Soviet Union, by contrast, was willing to condemn Pakistan unmercifully. Moscow was willing to back India with arms and fight Delhi's case all-out in the United Nations.

Analysts say the United States is also losing the friendship, trust and respect of Pakistan because this country is not willing to "hate" India. Our chief sin was that in the India-Pakistan war of 1965-66 we also shut off arms shipments.

Peking stepped in six years ago, as it is doing now, with arms for use against the Indians.

As one prominent Pakistani told this reporter sometime back on a plane trip to Thailand, "Communist China helped us in our time of need. You deserted us. They, not you, are our real friends."

This despite billions of dollars in U.S. aid to Pakistan and India over the years. Even now the United States is supplying considerable amounts of help for the refugees.

The India-Pakistan war is no isolated example.

Take the Nigerian civil war of the late 1960s. The United States stayed rigorously neutral militarily. We supplied no arms to either side. We offered relief to the victims, a course followed by many nations.

The Soviet Union followed a different course. It supplied the Nigerian government with weapons and a wide variety of assistance. Russian influence thereby gained tremendously in this African country. Western influence declined.

Consider the Middle East. In several Arab lands, the United States is anathema among considerable numbers of the influential because this nation does not "hate" Israel. In Israel, we are accused of being sympathetic to the Arabs.

The Russians, willing to "hate the enemy" and back up their "hate" with large supplies of arms, are gaining influence in the Arab world.

This is no argument for "hate," or for picking sides. The victories cited above may be short-term.

Your Health

By LAWRENCE LAMB, M.D.

Although hypoglycemia, or low blood sugar, can be caused by a tumor of the insulin producing cells or various disorders of the glands or liver the most common symptoms related to low blood sugar are on an entirely different basis. The common variety of "functional hypoglycemia" is often associated with acid stomach, and unwise eating habits.

Underlying this entire mechanism is the normal response of the body to an increased level of glucose sugar in the blood. As the glucose rises the pancreas starts pouring out more insulin, the insulin is to help clear the blood by facilitating the storage of blood sugar as fat or storage of carbohydrates in the muscles. This is the normal action of insulin.

The problem is that if the rise in blood sugar is too high the body may overdo the production of insulin and as it clears the blood of excess sugar it does too good a job, causing hypoglycemia. We call this reaction to a high blood sugar a "rebound reaction."

As the blood sugar falls the familiar sensations of fast heart, nervousness, sweating and even mental confusion results. These are the results of the outpouring of adrenalin.

The overproduction of insulin also affects the stomach. It causes the stomach to form more acid, creating hunger and symptoms of acidity. The person with these problems soon learns that the symptoms can be relieved by eating, and usually he eats something sweet.

Curiously enough, the stimulation of the vagus nerve that stimulates the stomach to form acid-pepsin juice also stimulates the body to produce insulin. Thus the person with hyperacidity problems often has overproduction of insulin as an added feature of his illness.

Treatment of the hyperacidity condition, with medicines that block the vagus nerve (and cause dry mouth) also blocks the stimulation to form excess amounts of insulin, thus relieving both the problems of acidity and hypohyemia. Inhibiting the formation of excess pepsin juice and excess insulin eliminates the factors that cause hunger and overeating. The reverse is also true, if excess production of insulin can be prevented it will relieve symptoms of acidity.

Hypoglycemia can cause even more severe symptoms than those induced from the pouring out of adrenalin. The function of the brain cells is dependent upon an adequate level of blood glucose. When the level is too low, there is mental confusion. Insulin shock was once a common treatment in patients with psychiatric problems. At very low levels of blood glucose the patient can even have convulsions.

Is India Getting U.S. Grain Sold To Russia?
By ROBERTS ALLEN

WASHINGTON — Who really is getting the 3 million tons of U.S. grain recently sold to Russia?

Is the U.S.S.R. the actual destination or, in some guise, its close ally India?

Military and intelligence authorities, who were not consulted when this huge grain sale was authorized, are raising this highly moot question in view of two indisputable facts—the close ties between Russia and India and the latter's pressingly urgent need for additional large-scale food supplies.

India is not self-sufficient in food production even in normal times. Of the more than $8 billion in economic aid the U.S. has poured into that country—more than anywhere else in the world—approximately half has been in grain and other food.

In the past several decades when, due to drought and other disasters, millions of Indians faced famine, the U.S. gave and sold (for Indian rupees which, in the form of so-called counterpart funds, remained in that country) immense quantities of wheat and other products. As a result of such aid, the U.S. has more than $1 billion in counterpart funds in India—which will never be recovered and are constantly depreciating due to the steadily declining value of the rupee.

Paraphrasing, it is noteworthy that the Indian government did absolutely nothing to publicize this country's huge famine-averting supplies of food. In direct contrast, a relatively small amount of grain provided by Russia was propagandized to the skies.

Certain to compound India's inherent food deficiency is its crass aggression against Pakistan and seizure of East Pakistan—with its impoverished 75 million people eking out a bare subsistence. The U.S. has given more than $4.5 billion in aid to Pakistan, much of it food for East Pakistan.

Feeding and caring for these hungry and poverty-wracked millions will now devolve on India. It will be up to India to provide their "daily bread."

Where'll It Come From?

This inescapable responsibility will greatly complicate and intensify India's own already difficult food problem.

Prime Minister Indira Gandhi's piously self-righteous government not only will have to make up the "normal" food shortage for its own people, but also take care of the 75 million destitute East Pakistanis being "liberated."

In this dire situation Mrs. Gandhi unquestionably will turn for help to her great good friends in Moscow.

They provided her with the planes, tanks and other combat hardware to attack and better her weaker and smaller neighbor. With U.S. food and other aid cut off, Mrs. Gandhi will seek grain and other food supplies from her staunch Soviet allies.

They can hardly turn her down under the circumstances. The Kremlin actively abetted and supported Delhi throughout its devious and sanctimonious plotting to attack Pakistan. Russia is just as guilty of bald and vicious aggression against Pakistan as India.

This is where the 3 million tons of U.S. grain come in. But Russia, too, has food problems. That's why it sought this grain—chiefly corn, barley and oats. Its last big purchase of wheat was during the Kennedy administration.

The Soviet grain crop this year was not exceptional, certainly not of bumper proportions. Additional quantities are needed to meet increasing feed grain requirements. The imported U.S. grain is presumably for this purpose primarily. Instead of diverting home-grown grain to produce more cattle (meat), the U.S. grain will be used.

But Mrs. Gandhi will be stridently pounding on Kremlin doors in clamorous quest for grain.

Whether they want it or not, the Soviet rulers will have to respond.

The ambitious goals set for expanding Russian meat supplies may have to be curtailed or delayed. But in one way or another unctuous Mrs. Gandhi will get grain.

That's why knowledgeable authorities are convinced that is where the U.S. grain will eventually wind up. Not directly, of course, but circuitously very probably. The grain is being shipped to Russia, and most likely will be used there.

But Soviet grain it will replace will go to India.

And that is where the 3 million tons of U.S. grain, costing upwards of $125 million, will ultimately go—in a typically Eastern roundabout manner.

Some authorities are even betting that, despite this country's indignant condemnation of India's rapacious aggression against Pakistan, Mrs. Gandhi will have the consummate gall to appeal to the U.S. for large food shipments and other supplies for the "starving women and children" of East Pakistan.

It would be just like her—piously calculating and sanctimonious.

Foreign Flashes

French ambassador Charles Lucet is slated to be replaced next spring—probably by Olivier Wormser, a governor of the Banque de France. His wife is noted in Paris for her modish wardrobe and as a top-rung hostess. The Lucets have been relatively restrained in their entertaining in the several years they have been in Washington.

The India-Pakistan war crisis was a real hardship for Secretary of State Rogers. It shattered his weekend. The former New York corporation lawyer is accustomed to taking his ease on weekends, his staff under strict orders not to disturb him "unless absolutely essential."

Who's School Boss?

Perhaps no other institution in our land invites as many bids for dictatorship as the schools. In school matters, the individual's voice, especially a parent's is muted amidst the group demands from teachers, from bureaucrats, from majorities, from minorities, from conservatives, from radicals, and on and on.

So it came as no surprise that another would-be-dictator was heard from this past week. Announcement was made that the American Civil Liberties Union had sent "constitutional guidelines" for government school observances of Christmas holidays.

Aside from the merits or demerits of the issue, it is another instance of dissatisfaction with what tax-supported schools offer and another bid to dictate regulations and impose a particular interpretation upon the state schools.

As one of our readers asked us: "What do we call this government by ACLU?"

Quick Quiz

Q—What historical "first" recently took place in the United States Senate?

A—On July 8, 1971, the Rev. Dr. Wilmina Rowland became the first guest clergywoman in the history of Congress to offer the daily opening prayer.

H. L. Hunt Writes.

SOVIET SPY RING

Movies and television have created an idea in the minds of many people that espionage work is glamorous and exciting, a kind of make-believe world. But the recent uncovering of a Soviet spy ring in Great Britain reminds us that real life espionage is deadly business and that the Communists are playing for keeps.

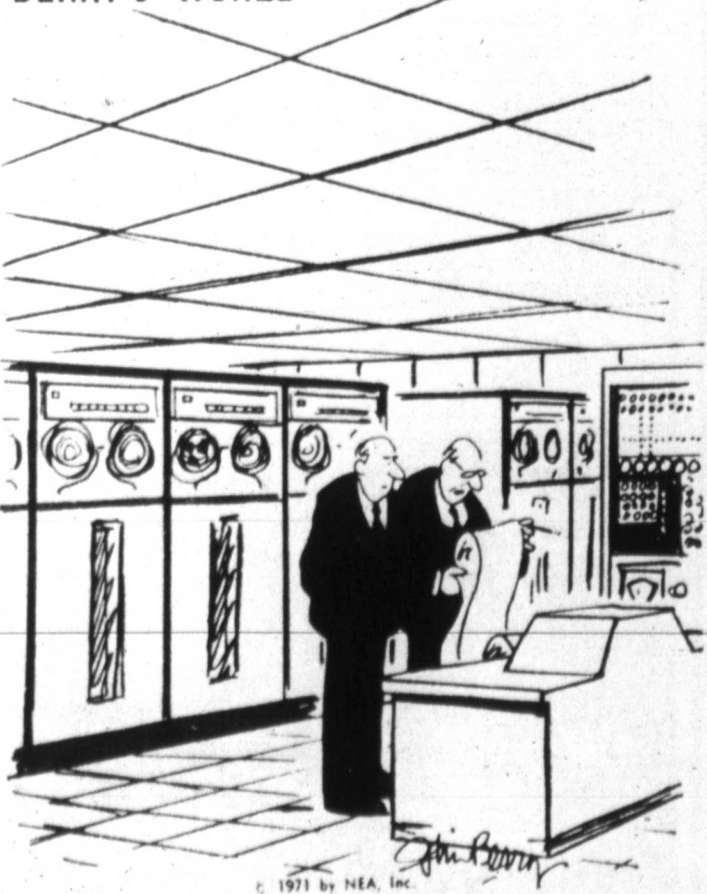

The master spy who defected to the West and revealed the names of the 105 Soviet agents who were then expelled by the British was involved in setting up what is known as a "sleeper network" for sabotage. These agents did not actually commit acts of sabotage, but prepared a whole series of such acts to be initiated at a time when Moscow deemed it opportune. These acts could have caused havoc and chaos throughout Britain for the benefit of the Communists.

Similar activities are no doubt going on in our own country. Hopefully the Soviet defector will be able to reveal the names of some of the agents in the U.S., and our government should then act decisively to remove this threat.

The revelations of this espionage activity reminds us that the Cold War is still very real. In spite of Presidential visits to Peking and Moscow and other efforts at "bridge-building" there can be no doubt that the Communists remain our sworn enemy and will stop at nothing to bring about our defeat.

While our government is pursuing the SALT disarmament talks, an agreement over Berlin and troop reductions in Western Europe, the Soviet Union is seeking to undermine our nation's security. Perhaps our government should reorder its priorities.

Wife questions hubby's criteria for promotions

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My husband is the head of a large corporation. He does not drink hard liquor, but very few people know this because at cocktail parties he takes one drink and pretends to sip it all evening.

Now he watches his junior executives' drinking habits very carefully, and they are promoted or fired accordingly. Anyone who takes more than two drinks is dropped or passed over for promotion no matter how good a job he does.

I feel that my husband should have a talk with the man and give him a chance to cut down. He says: "No, once a drunk, always a drunk." He says it takes guts not to drink in today's society, and he needs men with guts to run the business right. What is your opinion? CONCERNED

DEAR CONCERNED: If everyone who takes more than two drinks is [as your husband states] a "drunk"—there are a lot of drunks effectively running a lot of businesses.

I agree, it takes guts not to drink in today's society, but a man who takes a drink publicly and "pretends" to sip it so no one will know he doesn't drink, is lacking in guts himself. If guts is the issue, the alcoholic who said: "No thanks, I'm an alcoholic," has far more guts than your holier-than-thou abstainer.

DEAR ABBY: I have a very good friend I have known for a long time, and I wouldn't intentionally hurt her for the world. She and her husband are about 15 years older than my husband and I, but we went around together and were all good friends.

The whole mess started when her husband started making advances and trying to paw me. I slapped his face once (real hard) in the kitchen when he tried to get fresh, but that didn't stop him. He came over to my house one night knowing my husband wasn't there. I wouldn't let him in, so he climbed in thru the window, and I ran him off with a broom.

In desperation, I told his wife, and do you know what she said to me? "I know his faults, but I love him anyway. You were very cruel to tell me and I will never forgive you for it!"

Our friendship has cooled off a lot since then, but at least it did put a stop to all his funny business. Was I wrong in telling my friend about her husband?

—BROKEN FRIENDSHIP

DEAR BROKEN: Yes. You did it the hard way. You should have told your husband.

DEAR ABBY: A reader wrote to tell you that he [or she] had read somewhere that when a couple becomes engaged and the boy doesn't give the girl an engagement ring, but buys her a fancy wedding ring instead, she can wear it as her "engagement" ring. The reader asked if that was proper.

You replied, "Not in MY book. A wedding ring should not be worn until AFTER the wedding."

Well, Abby, in Switzerland, when the couple becomes engaged, the boy gives the girl a plain gold wedding ring which she wears on her RIGHT hand. After the wedding she wears the ring on her LEFT hand. Sincerely yours,

MRS. S. W.

DEAR MRS. S. W.: Live and learn! I appreciate your setting me straight. You and I have learned from different "books" . . . each is correct, so when in Rome [or Switzerland] do what the natives do.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

For Abby's new booklet, "What Teen-Agers Want to Know," send $1 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069.

Decorations—Can Be Fatal To Children

Holiday time always brings the usual food excesses with it, and most of us spend January trying to run off what we ate in December. There is one little band of munchers, however, to whom Christmas fare can be tragic—the Christmas CHILDREN.

Nothing appears more eye-catching or appetizing at this season than holly berries and mistletoe which are part of our traditional Christmas decorations. But the Council on Family Health, sponsored as a public service by the manufacturers of medicines, sounds a trumpet of warning about these particular "goodies."

American mistletoe, known to the "in" group of botany as Phoradendron flavescens, contains an alkaloid similar, pharmacologically, to digitalis which is frequently used to treat heart patients. A fatality following ingestion of a tea brewed from American mistletoe berries has been reported by medical authorities.

Mistletoe, fortunately, is placed high over the head of a child, in many cases. Holly berries are not. The berries of this plant are reportedly toxic. Nausea, vomiting and other disorders may occur if holly berries are ingested. Table decorations with holly berries must be policed if children are on hand because they are a natural lure to any child.

Angel hair is another dazzler because it looks so much like cotton candy. A child may confuse one with the other. And, while the shimmer and sheen of icicles and tinsel will make your tree more eye-appealing, they can also cause some bad moments if a child tries to make them part of the Christmas diet. Internal obstructions and choking are only a few of the things that can occur.

IT IS the season to be merry—but it is also the season to be wary. Keep a wide eye on children these frantic days before and during the Christmas holiday—for here is, indeed, a case where an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure.

SOCK IT TO KNITS

It's cold weather and time for knit pants. To avoid the uncomfortable clinging clinging at the knee and thigh, substitute regular, knee socks for panty hose, which might be causing the problem.

Heighten Feeling Of Love With Those Special Gifts

NEW YORK (NEA)—Any time of the year is right for saying "I love you," in a special way to those who are close to you: by gift-giving. But the Christmas season heightens the feeling of love and infuses the giving of gifts with a special pleasure.

For a man, Christmas is the time of year to lavish gifts on the woman in his life. He can be a very special Santa Claus to the woman he loves.

But what should he buy her? The answer is

The answer: Any number of things, especially today, when women's interests are many and varied. Gifts can range from beautifying trinkets to mind-expanding books; from electric frying pans to skis.

Jewelry still makes a woman glow. Watches for daytime and dress-up wear can give your woman the right time of day. Rings, in this era of fashion's "one for every finger" look, make wonderful gifts. With a softer look in style, cameo and other classic pins are great. And pearls to encircle her neck or adorn her dress are an excellent choice. Earrings, too, make a woman know you're thinking of her.

With so many people's concern over endangered species, what better gift than a fake fur coat, wrap, or hat? And mink, of which there is no scarcity, gives a woman's eyes a Kris Kringle twinkle.

Whether your woman is a mini-, midi- or maxi-fancier, boots are part of her wardrobe and make great gifts. Skirt, slacks and sweater separates make welcome additions to any woman's wardrobe. And for ski buffs, equipment, ski outfits and apres ski wear are always hits.

This Week

- 6:30 p.m.—American Legion Auxiliary, Christmas party, Furr's Cafeteria.
- 7:00 p.m.—Weight Watcher's of West Texas, St. Matthew's Parish Hall.
- 7:00 p.m.—Phi Sigma Alpha, Christmas party, with Mrs. Fred L. Symonds, 1939 Evergreen.
- 7:30 p.m.—Woodrow Wilson PTA, school gymnasium.

Dress the woman you love in elegant clothes that only you will see. With loungewear, prettier and more varied than ever this year.

Cosmetic aids, to keep your woman beautiful, are smart gifts. Make-up mirrors, electric curlers (especially for today's curly locks) and wigs (to help her live her busy, active life and still look pretty) are all good gifts.

For an imaginative departure from standard gift-giving, why not make a gift of a visit to a make-up artist to give her a "New Year's" look? Or buy a complete line of skin products she can pamper herself with. For the organic-minded, there are several lines of skin products made solely from fresh fruits, herbs and vegetables that smell and feel delicious and work well.

A woman always loves to see a bottle of her favorite scent under the tree. Or, better yet, find a daring, lovely new scent that you'd like to have her wear. For a gift that benefits not only you and your woman, but others, why not try either Espere or New Flame perfumes, both made by Flame of Hope, with profits going to help the mentally retarded.

The way to your woman's heart may be through her mind. And the way to get there is through books.

Novels, a great nonfiction bestseller or a book of poetry she can curl up with make good presents. A how-to book is always welcome. And one good choice is "Gems for the Taking," a how-to book on how to mine your own gems, written by Mary L. T. Brown and published by Macmillan. Or, if the way to your heart is through your stomach, a self-serving choice would be an exotic cookbook or two.

Desk sets, photo albums, diaries, appointment books, wallets and credit card holders are all great gifts. And key cases are fine stocking stuffers.

To capture the moments you want to remember, what better gift than a camera?

And the littles woman in your life, your daughter or granddaughter, how better to say "Merry Christmas" than with a new party dress or play outfit?

Make this Christmas a special one for her with a little thought, a little planning and much love.

Your Horoscope

By Jeanne Dixon

FRIDAY, DEC. 17
Virgo [Aug. 23-Sept. 22]: Serious issues come to consideration—you may well be on the way to a higher level of personal responsibility.
Libra [Sept. 23-Oct. 22]: There's no likelihood of being able to stay exactly where you are and have nothing happen. Get moving and make your own style waves.
Scorpio [Oct. 23-Nov. 21]: Lay in extra supplies, materials wherever you're sure of specifications and types needed.
Sagittarius [Nov. 22-Dec. 21]: Lengthy discussions open more questions, lead to more problems than you can expect to cope with anytime soon.
Capricorn [Dec. 21-Jan. 19]: Romantic sparks glow brightly just when you'd about decided you'd got past the stage. Be a little shy until you see where you stand.
Aquarius [Jan. 20-Feb. 18]: Your associates are going to pursue what they believe are their own interests today, whether you agree or not.
Pisces [Feb. 19-March 20]: You have extra loose ends to catch up, so many that you may have to reserve later hours for your share of the fun and games.

Taurus [April 20-May 20]: Strive to raise your career one more notch. Use connections wherever you can find them. Show your work within the limits of present conditions, ask for better.
Gemini [May 21-June 20]: Stay more on the surface, be available and helpful. Drastic moves should be put off a bit and better organized.
Cancer [June 21-July 22]: Stick to tried and proved methods; save experimental ideas for less vital ventures.
Leo [July 23-Aug. 22]: Your recent activities should bring returns now, perhaps a grand red-carpet welcome. Share triumph and high expectations.

Shockers Host Area JV Teams

The Pampa Shockers and Sophomore teams will be playing host to six other schools over the weekend for the Pampa Junior Varsity Tournament scheduled for tonight and Saturday.

The tournament starts at 3 p.m. this afternoon with the Pampa sophomores meeting the Plainview Bullpups with Dumas playing the Hereford Sophomores at 4:30 p.m.

Dallas Won't Pull Any Punches Against Cards

DALLAS (AP)—The Dallas Cowboys don't plan to pull any punches even if it does mean a trip to the frozen north.

Cowboy Coach Tom Landry said Dallas will be gungho to win the National Conference's Eastern Division Saturday against the St. Louis Cardinals in a nationally televised game.

A loss or a tie to the Cardinals and a Washington victory over Cleveland Sunday would give Dallas the wild card spot and a playoff trip to the sunny West.

"We want to go out and do a job on St. Louis and we intend to get it done," said Landry, whose team has made the National Football League playoffs for the sixth consecutive year. "We've got to keep our momentum rolling."

The Cowboys have won six consecutive games since Roger Staubach was installed as the No. 1 quarterback with the 'Pokes limping along on a 4-3 record.

Going into the playoffs next week, Landry believes Dallas will be fielding a solid team.

"We have the most explosiveness offensively since 1966 and the defense will play hard when it has to," Landry said.

Dallas leads the NFC in passing and is fourth rushing. The Cowboys are No. 1 against the rush and No. 4 against the pass.

Panhandle Shooters Slate Rifle Match

The Pampa Rifle and Pistol Club will be sponsoring a match Dec. 19 at the Pampa Rifle and Gun Club range located six miles west of the Gibson Store, at 1 p.m.

A three dollar entry fee will be charged for male entries 17 and older and women and junior entries are $150.

Classification for the tournament Class A-Male entries - 17 and older, Class B-Women and Junior entries, Class C-Competitive high power shooters currently shooting in the Expert or Master Class.

Rifles of any caliber may be used, but they must be hunting rifles. Scopes and mounts of any type are permitted. Competitors may use a different rifle at such range. Shooting mats or tarps and slings are permitted. Regular coats can be worn, but not Match number two will be at 200 yards - any position EXCEPT PRONE - two sighting shots - two minutes - five shots for record in three minutes.

Match number three will be at 300 yards - prone - two sighting shots - two minutes - five shots for record in five minutes.

The method of scoring will have each sighting shot fired, target pulled, spotter placed, and target returned to shooting position for shooter observation. Target will then be pulled and pasted. Shooters will fire the five record shots without target being pulled.

Women's Lib Invades Basketball Referees

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP)—Basketball fans and referees alike were doing lots of whistling here Wednesday night.

But the fans were whistling at referee Charlotte Toombs, a 21-year-old Texas Tech University student refereeing her first game as the only female member of the Southwestern Basketball Officials Association.

"I'm a little nervous," the attractive green-eyed brunette said prior to gametime. "I think I'm in pretty good shape, though."

There was no apparent dispute from any of the hundreds of spectators gathered to watch the intramural game at Reese Air Force Base near here.

Charlotte is a junior English major and the only woman member of the 1,000-member or so Texas referee's organization.

Charlotte, a native of Fluvanna, Tex., was granted membership in the organization last month after passing the required examinations.

"But no one would hire her until the word got circulated. 'Now I've got refereeing jobs scheduled into next year,'" she beamed.

All 1-A District

Twelve White Deer players and eight Canadian stars made the 1-A All District squad for 1971.

Included in the poll were two players from Sanford - Fritch, two from Gruver, three from Sunray and two from Stratford.

The Bucks lost their bid for the state finals by failing to Sonora 20 to 19 last Saturday. Canadian met their only defeat of the season at the hands of the state ranked

ABA Roundup

"Artis Gilmore will be to Kentucky what Bill Russell was to Boston," declared Bill Sharman before the start of the season, high praise indeed for the tall rookie from Jacksonville.

But so far, at least, Gilmore has more than lived up to his advance billing.

The 7-foot-2 first-year center, who leads the ABA in rebounding, moved on the offensive Wednesday night, pouring in 34 points as the Kentucky Colonels plastered the Carolina Cougars 137-83, the 44-point spread was the largest victory margin in Colonels history.

In other ABA games, the Floridians whipped Virginia 119-105, the New York Nets topped Memphis 109-100 and Indiana defeated Dallas 124-110.

Sharman, who teamed with Russell on many of the Celtics championship teams and now coaches the NBA Los Angeles Lakers, was basing his statement on Gilmore's rebounding and defensive ability, his strong points in college when he led Jacksonville from obscurity to the NCAA finals.

Gilmore has done the job of the boards, leading the league with about 20 rebounds per game. And, like Russell, he's been devastating on defense, blocking shots and preventing opponents from driving the lane.

Gilmore's offensive outburst helped Kentucky jump to an 186 lead, a 63-45 halftime spread and a 95-67 margin after three quarters. The Colonels, leaders in the ABA East Division, also got 24 points from 6-8 Dan Issel, last year's center who moved to forward with the coming of Gilmore.

Ron Franz, who missed the last four games due to a liver ailment, came off the bench and scored 10 of his 14 points in the fourth quarter as the Floridians rallied to overtake Virginia. Charlie Scott led the Squires with 23 points and Ira Harge paced the Floridians with 19.

Guard Bill Melchioni scored 25 points and backcourt running mate John Roche added 22 as the Nets defeated the Pros. Bonus rookie Johnny Neumann, who passed up his final two years at Mississippi to turn Pro, made his first start for Memphis and led the club with 21 points.

The Indiana Pacers got six players in double figures as they topped Dallas.

Dick Tiger Dies Of Liver Ailment

ENUGU, Nigeria (AP)—British Empire in 1963.

Born as Richard Ihetu in Amaigbo, Orlu, in the heart of Biafra, he was schooled by Anglican missionaries and spoke with a cultured British accent. When he became world champion he was extremely popular and relatively wealthy in his homeland, then a united Nigeria.

But with the outbreak of fighting between secessionist Biafra and Nigeria, Tiger lost most of the wealth he had accumulated in his homeland. He retired from boxing last July to devote his time to physical training programs for soldiers in Biafra's army.

Tiger, whose death Monday was confirmed Wednesday, won 64 of 81 bouts after turning professional at age 23.

Pampa Favored To Win Tourney

The Pampa Harvesters are on the road again. This time they are traveling to Wichita Falls to compete in the Midwestern University Invitational High School Basketball tournament.

The Harvesters will be attempting to lengthen an extended win streak to 10 games after keeping a perfect record.

The Pampa team edged their last opponents, the Plainview Bulldogs 63 to 61 last Tuesday in Harvester fieldhouse behind the shooting of Mike Edgar and the defensive play of Donnie Cain.

The tournament is slated to be one of the largest schoolboy tourneys in future years with the 16 participating teams broken into two categories with eight squads to a category.

The Gold Bracket will include only class AAAA and class AAA schools, while class AA, A and B teams will duel in the Maroon bracket.

In the Gold bracket first round play the Harvester will meet the Burk Burnett Bulldogs. Pampa, according to the News and Wichita Falls sources are favored to win the tournament.

Other teams entered in the Gold bracket include Wichita Falls Hirschi Huskies, the Childress Bobcats, I.M. Terrell Panthers, Wichita Falls Coyotes, Borger Bulldogs and the Wichita Falls Rider Raiders.

The big Gold Bracket finals are slated for 10:30 p.m. Saturday night.

NFL Stax

NEW YORK (AP)—The leading passer in the National Football League's American Conference is Bob Griese of the Miami Dolphins. And the leading scorer in the AFC is Garo Yepremian of the same Miami Dolphins. So is it any wonder that Miami is one of the team in the NFL's post-season playoffs?

Statistics released by the league today show Griese with a 54.5 per cent average on 132 completions of 242 attempts including 19 touchdowns this season. Yepremian has scored 108 points including 26 of 37 attempted field goals.

Griese's passing game is complimented by the rushing of Larry Csonka, whose 983 yards gained are second only to Denver's Floyd Little, who has gained 1,054. Csonka's running mate, Jim Kiick, has gained 684 yards, eighth best in the conference.

The pass-catching leader is Oakland's Fred Biletnikoff, who's grabbed 59 compared to 53 for Otis Taylor of Kansas City.

In the National Conference, the leading rusher is rookie John Brockington of Green Bay, who soared over the 1,000-yard mark last week and now has 1,032 compared to 977 for Willie Ellison of Los Angeles.

Roger Staubach of Dallas, averaging 8.9 yards gained with every completed pass, is the leader among the conference quarterbacks while Bob Tucker of New York, with 51 catches, is the top receiver, leading San Francisco's Ted Kwalick by two receptions.

Worry Clinic

By - GEORGE W. CRANE, PH.D., M.D.

Note Jim's request for a "smorgasbord" address on personnel psychology as well as marital problems. The latter often reduce office and industrial efficiency! For an employee fearful of a divorce, or anxious about the "generation gap" between his children, works below par!

CASE S-546: Jim W., aged 35, is president of his regional management association. "Dr. Crane," he telephoned, "we'd like for you to address our banquet session next month."

"It is to be the night we entertain our wives, so please show the connection between personnel psychology and happy home relations."

MANAGEMENT STRATEGY: Bravo to management, which spark plugs our superior American industrial system!

Special college courses are now scheduled on Personnel Psychology.

But back in 1924, I pioneered such a course while teaching at George Washington University in our national capital.

However, the polysyllabic axioms in the thick textbook I employed at that time can be abridged greatly.

For example, I recently received a clever little one-page message from the Gary Office Equipment Company.

The title on that sheet of paper was: "A Short Course in Human Relations," as follows:

(1) The 6 most important words: "I admit I made a mistake."

(2) The 5 most important words: "You did a good job."

(3) The 4 most important words: "What is your opinion?"

(4) The 3 most important words: "If you please."

(5) The 2 most important words: "Thank you."

(6) The one most important word: "We."

(7) The least important word: "I."

In a former column I gave you readers a somewhat similar list of motivating words, adapted to sweethearts, salesmen and clergymen, too.

Indeed, in modern industry, a series of splendid lectures in the field of Human Relations can be based on those 7 topics.

Clergymen might well employ them, also, for sermons.

If so, document them liberally with actual cases from your office, store or factory - or church parish.

Use concrete examples, as Christ did in his superb parables.

Some of my brilliant coeds at Northwestern University, who rated scholastic honors and a Phi Beta Kappa key, would actually shed tears in my office.

"Dr. Crane," they would plead, "what is wrong with me that I can't win boy friends?"

"But don't I look as attractive as other girls on campus?"

"And I dress well, use deodorants and exotic perfume!"

"So what is my trouble?"

"Well, these girls were too high-brow!"

"They tried to toot their own..."

Television And Radio News

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) - NBC went all out Tuesday for Christmas.

The network pre-empted its entire schedule, and the viewer who stayed on from the opening broadcast of "The Little Drummer Boy" through "The Coming of Christ" three hours later vicariously ran the gamut of the holiday spirit.

"The Little Drummer Boy" and "The Coming of Christ" both excellent programs, were repeats from other years. The two middle programs were almost as familiar. The annual Christmas shows of Bing Crosby and Andy Williams. Both are, after all these years, television institutions.

Crosby's "The Sounds of Christmas" came along first, looking a lot like a sparkly, family Christmas card. Robert Goulet and Mary Costa were along as singing guests. But what Bing called "The House Band of Casa Crosby" were the real stars of the show-wife Kathryn and children Mary Frances, Nathaniel and Harry.

There were ornate settings with a decorated Christmas tree, frosted window panes and other traditional trimmings, but the hour had a pleasant amateur quality about it.

Andy Williams opened his family hour, which followed, listening to the final strains of Bing's inevitable "White Christmas." Then on came the Williams clan, another trimmed tree, burning candles, snowflakes and even a little skiing and snow shoeing on stage.

Andy's hour actually was a bit more artful and slick than Bing's special. The four Williams brothers had a couple of numbers. There was a short family production of the story of Andre the toymaker who got amnesia on Christmas Eve. This was mostly filler, for the appealing scenes were those with the Williams children and of the family-joined by the Lennon Sisters sitting around a holiday-set table.

BOSTON (AP) - Chief Justice Elijah Adlow of Municipal Court says that if old English laws making it unlawful to be a "vagabond and abroad in the nighttime" were resurrected, crime in the streets might go down.

LBJ Starts Smoking Again

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) - The hectic holidays have driven former President Lyndon Johnson to take up smoking again after a 15-year abstinence.

U.S. Senate majority leader. Why did he start again? "The trials and tribulations of Christmas," Johnson said.

LONDON (AP) - The Whitechapel Bell Foundry, which made America's Liberty Bell, has cast 10 new bells for Westminster Abbey.

Texas Girl With Difficulty In Breathing Gets Donations

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — The life-and-breath plight of a young woman in a hospital here has prompted queries from as far away as Japan, and a stream of donations.

Officials said cash and pledges totaling about $300 have been received for Sandra Bobbit, whose family cannot afford a $1,500 device that may correct her breathing.

Miss Bobbit, 26, suffers from an ailment called "Ondine's Curse," which is nicknamed for a mythological mortal who was cursed with having to breathe consciously.

The medical designation of the condition is primary alveolar hypoventilation. The affliction frequently causes Miss BOBBIT TO STOP BREATHING WHILE SHE IS ASLEEP.

and donations began arriving. Officials said they received many calls, including one from Mrs. John Stoeker of Nacogdoches, Tex., who said she has begun a personal campaign in her city.

"We're just poor people but we want to help," Mrs. Stoeker said.

Officials at Bexar County Hospital, where Miss Bobbit has been under intensive care since late August, said they received a call from a doctor in Japan who is conducting research on a device similar to the one she needs.

The device, developed at the Yale University School of Medicine, stimulates the breathing mechanism, doctors said.

Officials here said Yale can perform the surgery to implant the device without charge, and the Air Force has offered to fly the young woman there. But the grant under which Yale is working does not cover the cost of the device itself, a spokesman said.

Shortly after news accounts circulated Monday, pledges came in from Oklahoma.

KAW CITY, Okla. (AP) — The last train rolled through old Kaw City Friday.

The train stopped for 15 minutes, unusual in itself, to let everyone from school children to old timers take a look and get some pictures. The train hasn't been stopping here lately—there just wasn't anything to pick up or drop off.

Kaw City is being abandoned to make room for the new Kaw Reservoir. July 31 is the date the town will be moved to a new site on higher ground.

John Brown, 80, who rode the first train into Kaw City in 1902, was there.

So was Mrs. W. T. Conklin, 89, who was already here when that train arrived nearly 70 years ago.

AS WE CELEBRATE Christmas birth day within the next few days, soberly and with reverence, we are conscious that all thoughtful hosts wish to provide a good home and environment for their families—limited only by economic abilities—which vary with circumstances.

This Office Provides A Service To Each And Every Family regardless of financial limitations, and we want you to feel free to call us promptly about a HOME you can buy—even before Christmas and do away with those worthless rent receipts.

FOR EXAMPLE, we have a LARGE 1865 square foot north side home in excellent condition already financed on a 6 percent interest rate loan requiring only $1.158 cash equity and the assumption of the existing loan balance of approximately $10,000. MLS 776

THEN THERE IS a nice little 2-bedroom home we have to offer for $500 or more down and owner will carry the remaining balance at 7 percent interest for an approved buyer. Close in to downtown, too. MLS 723

AND OF COURSE this 1160 square foot 2-bedroom home with attached garage in Jarvis S. (Highland) area near Travis elementary and Lee Junior High occupied by a Wener who just married an Okie and will move there soon as you put this little jewel for $3,750 Cash. MLS 773

For Rent 3 bedroom with attached garage. 1132 Sirocco. Call 669-7141 or 669-3317
