4 U.S. Phantoms Downed By Reds

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese anti-aircraft defenses shot down four American Phantom fighter-bombers along the border with northern Laos, the U.S. Command announced Monday. It was North Vietnam's biggest success in the air war in more than three years.

Two of the eight crewmen aboard the F4 Phantoms were rescued in a massive search operation by scores of planes. The other six Americans are listed as missing.

The U.S. Command said heavy rains and high winds hampered the search over the mountainous jungles 240 miles north of the demilitarized zone.

The Phantom was engaged by North Vietnam's Soviet-built MIG jets.

"At least one MIG was sighted in the same area where the planes went down," said one spokesman, Maj. Robert O'Brien. "All of a sudden one of our planes was not there. Indications are that it mixed it up with a MIG, but we have nothing to confirm it. The crew of that plane was not recovered."

The command said the fourth F4 was downed by anti-aircraft artillery fire.

There were no indications that surface-to-air missiles were fired, spokesmen said.

The losses raised to six the number of planes shot down along the border in the past 10 days. Two jets were downed by surface-to-air missiles Dec. 10 and Dec. 17. Three of the four crewmen were rescued and one was listed as missing.

O'Brien said the three planes shot down Saturday were the biggest one-day loss since Dec. 17, 1967, when three aircraft were shot down over North Vietnam.

According to the command's records, MIG interceptors have downed 49 American aircraft during the war.

The United States is expected to step up its attacks on North Vietnamese airfields and anti-aircraft batteries if North Vietnam's MIG fleet of more than 200 planes returns to action after a two-year hiatus, and if SAM attacks increase against U.S. planes bombing the Ho Chi Minh Trail in Laos and supporting Laotian government forces.

The United States in the past has retaliated with massive raids of 200 planes or more. Heavy U.S. aerial reconnaissance activity already is being carried out over North Vietnam's air bases.

CANNED FOOD FOR CHRISTMAS—Student committee chairmen at all of Pampa's elementary schools are busy today collecting the cans of food donated by the school children, a project undertaken jointly with the Salvation Army. Shown counting and packing the food at Woodrow Wilson School are, in

Cuts In Taxes To Put More Cash Into American Pockets

WASHINGTON (AP) — Cuts in federal income taxes that take effect Jan. 1 will put more cash into the pockets of most Americans.

Families with just one wage earner will benefit the most, but there's good news for almost all taxpayers.

Some of the decrease in federal deductions from paychecks may be offset by higher state and local taxes. There's also an increase in the income tax for Social Security taxes, though the 5.2 percent rate of deduction probably will remain the same.

The ceiling goes from $7,800 this year to $9,000 in 1972, meaning deductions will continue for a longer time next year.

But the changes in federal tax exemptions and allowances should boost American spending power to levels never seen before, according to Internal Revenue Service officials.

A general 92nd Congress has sped up the impact of tax-reform laws passed in 1969 and raised the standard exemption for individuals and their dependents from $675 in 1971 to $750 in 1972. That means the IRS will count on bigger personal exemptions next year and so will take out a smaller chunk of each paycheck.

Then there's the standard deduction for taxpayers who choose to claim an estimate of items like medical expenses, moving costs and local and state taxes, rather than taking the trouble to figure them out item by item.

Next year's standard deduction will be 15 per cent or $2,000, whichever is lower, compared with 13 per cent or $1,500 this year.

Poor people also get a break. The government is in the third stage of an effort to lift the federal tax burden from their backs. A special low-income standard deduction built into the tax tables goes up from $1,050 in 1971 to $1,300 in 1972.

IRS officials say there is a potential snag developing for married taxpayers with one wage earner in the house, because of an attempt to find a more equitable tax rate for single persons.

Here's what happened.

The IRS this year tried to assure that single people would not pay more than 20 per cent above the tax paid by couples in the same income bracket. It succeeded, but in the process took out too little money from singles' paychecks and for similar reasons from those of husbands and wives who both work, leaving both categories with hefty tax bills to pay in April.

Congress reacted by passing a law allowing higher deduction rates across the board next year. It won't help in April, but to offset the effect on families with a single wage earner, the IRS urges they claim one more exemption than really exists for tax year 1972.

That way, the IRS says the taxpayer in such a household won't reduce his spending power during the year by having more deducted from his check than is necessary.

Here are a few examples of how the new deduction rates will affect taxpayers at various income levels in 1972:

A man who earns $8,000 annually, while his wife stays at home taking care of their two children, had $15.70 deducted from his weekly paycheck in 1971. In 1972, if he claims the additional exemption, $11 will be deducted. If he doesn't, $13.30 will be taken out.

A man earning $12,000 annually in similar status, had $31.60 taken out of his weekly check in 1971. If he claims the special allowance in 1972, the amount deducted will be $23.80. If he does not, $26.50 will be taken out weekly.

Texan Offers To Give Kidney To Save Girl

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A former postman from Texas has offered to give one of his kidneys to a Southern California girl, although her doctor says chances of such a successful transplant operation are remote.

Roy Donaldson, 61, said he was moved by a television newscast Friday which said 15-year-old Rose Marie Raymond of Tarzana might die in a few weeks of kidney failure unless her kidneys could be replaced or helped by a dialysis machine.

"I can't afford to give her a kidney machine, but I can give her a kidney," Donaldson said after making the offer Sunday.

"I can't afford to pay for the operation either," he said. "But I have two kidneys and I don't need but one."

Most stores and service establishments will be closed Saturday. They will remain open until usual closing hours Friday, Christmas Eve.

Teen-Age Girl Hospitalized For Wrist Cut

An 18-year old Pampa woman was treated at Highland General Hospital following an alleged suicide attempt. According to the police report, she received seven stitches to close a cut on her left wrist.

Companions told officers she was upset after talking with the man she had been dating. Later, at the home of one of those with her, she went into the bathroom and inflicted the wrist wound, according to the account they gave police.

Nixon And Heath Meet In Bermuda

HAMILTON, Bermuda (AP) — Prime Minister Edward Heath planned to urge President Nixon at their two-day meeting starting today to join in a crash program of international relief for the war-stricken millions of East Pakistan.

Authoritative sources said the British leader was certain American aid on a multimillion-dollar scale is essential for two reasons:

—With their food dwindling and their communications shattered the Bengalis need help direly.

—The United States must move fast to reverse the consequences of having backed the regime of President Agha Mohammed Yahya Khan.

Heath is ready to pledge full British participation in an emergency program, a high-ranking British source reported. France, West Germany and other West European nations are expected to join in to reduce Indian reliance on the Soviet Union for relief.

Nixon's meeting with Heath is the third in a series he has arranged with allied leaders in advance of his journeys to Peking and Moscow. The President's aim is to reassure America's allies their interests will not be jeopardized by his talks with the Chinese and Russians. But Heath means to use the occasion for a study in depth of the future course of interallied relations in a fast-changing world.

One of the first matters he planned to take up with Nixon is how the Western powers can salvage what they can from the ruins of Indian-American relations.

After lunch together, Nixon and Heath were to meet through the afternoon with only two aides alongside them: Henry Kissinger, Nixon's adviser on national security affairs, and the British Cabinet secretary, Sir Burke Trend.

Thieu Announces 24-Hour Ceasefire During Christmas

SAIGON (AP) — President Nguyen Van Thieu tonight announced 24-hour cease-fires for allied forces in South Vietnam for Christmas, New Year's and the Tet celebration of the lunar new year in mid-February.

Thieu coupled his announcement with an appeal to the Communists on the occasion of Christmas to "end the fighting immediately and completely" throughout Indochina so that prompt and serious discussions could be held to restore peace.

The Viet Cong announced nearly three weeks ago that its forces would observe cease-fires of three days each for Christmas and New Year's and four days for Tet.

Four Things Top School Board Agenda

There are only four salient features readily apparent on the agenda for the regular meeting of the school board: suspension of a 15-year old junior high student, life-time pass policy, an oral report on salary adjustments and the superintendent's contract agreement.

The latter was placed on the agenda by board directive following an executive session.

Policy to be recommended regarding issuance of lifetime passes to school functions will make those serving 10 years or more when reach compulsory retirement age eligible, whether certified or uncertified personnel. The other category of eligibles will be those certified persons teaching a minimum of 20 years in the system who elect to retire from active service.

Other scheduled business is of a routine nature.

Economy Is No. 1 Problem Of Nation

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — A Gallup Poll says the nation's economy is the No. 1 problem in the minds of the American people.

A recent poll showed 41 per cent of the 1,503 responses listing the economy as the most pressing problem facing the country.

The poll was the second in which more persons expressed concern with the status of the economy than with the Vietnam war. The war issue had led similar polls for six years.

Those interviewed in the November poll were responding to the question: "What do you think is the most important problem facing this country today?"

The survey also showed that 32 per cent of those interviewed considered the Democratic party better able to deal with the country's major problems, 22 per cent favored the Republicans, 36 per cent felt there was no difference between the two, and 10 per cent had no opinion. In the earlier poll, 35 per cent had favored the Democrats while 18 per cent favored the GOP.

Fire Guts 3-Story Area Home

A three story brick home only a year old suffered heavy damage Sunday morning before Wheeler and Shamrock volunteer firemen brought the blaze under control.

Bennie Westmoreland, his wife and their three children were in church when a man passing by noticed smoke coming from the house and turned in the alarm. This was at 11:05 a.m. Firefighters had the fire under control by 12:50.

While no cause has as yet been ascertained, the fire apparently started in the kitchen. That unit together with the living room and dining area were termed a total loss.

The Westmoreland home is located some three miles south of Wheeler on U.S. 83 highway.

Woman's Bones Found In Amarillo Examined

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP) — Authorities sought to determine today whether bones found in a pasture west of Amarillo were those of a Lubbock woman who disappeared Sept. 28.

They ordered a dental check to see if the skeleton was that of Elizabeth Steffans Perryman, a waitress who vanished after calling a taxicab to take her home from the cafe where she worked in Lubbock.

"We know it's a homicide," Potter County Sheriff Paul Gaither said.

Officers found the woman had been shot in the head at least twice and possibly once more in the back. Two slugs were recovered.

L. A. Bernard summoned the sheriff after coming across a skull Sunday. It lay about 225 yards north of Ranch Road 1061 at a spot nine miles west of town. Other

American Dollar Strengthened In Europe Market

LONDON (AP) — The American dollar strengthened in European currency dealings today as foreign exchange operators studied implications of the Washington accord ending four months of monetary and trade uncertainty.

American stocks improved sharply in the stock exchanges and prices of Eurodollar bonds soared.

Foreign exchanges were closed in most countries but the dollar was strong in bank-to-bank dealings.

Matching improvement of the dollar, free gold weakened in bullion markets, reflecting the end of uncertainty with the realignment of currency.

and made public Friday, showed Kennedy left a gross estate of $1,606,438, of which more than half went for debts and expenses.

The total estate included a house, furnishings and other personal property in Hyannisport, Mass., valued at $111,500.

S. Viets Withdrawing From Enemy Sanctuaries

By HOLGER JENSEN Associated Press Writer
TAY NINH, Vietnam (AP) — South Vietnamese forces are pulling back from enemy sanctuaries in eastern Cambodia for what high-ranking military sources call a "mobile third phase" of their cross-border offensive. The informants confirmed that a 6,000-man government task force withdrew Saturday from the Chup rubber plantation, abandoning positions in the ruined towns of Chup and Suong. This shortened South Vietnamese supply lines by 10 miles on Cambodia's Highway 7.

We are consolidating at well defended positions closer to the border for mobile strike tactics," said one field commander.

Critics of the month-old operation say the withdrawal indicates the South Vietnamese are reluctant to fight. They note a tendency of Saigon's ground troops to avoid known enemy concentrations and let supporting bombers do the work.

But high-ranking officers here contend that Lt. Gen. Nguyen Van Minh, overall commander of the operation, is just being careful not to overextend his supply lines and risk having some of his troops cut off. This happened to the South Vietnamese at Snoul earlier this year, resulting in a bad defeat with 400 casualties and heavy equipment losses.

Field commanders assert that whatever else it has accomplished, the multidivision offensive is keeping Communist-led forces well inside Cambodia and away from South Vietnam's Tay Ninh Province and the northwestern approaches to Saigon.

The South Vietnamese drive was launched to pursue the weakened Communist 5th and 7th divisions into their rubber plantation sanctuaries.

no recourse if you disagree about the amount of payment. Reply: False. All current no-fault remedies if an insured is dissatisfied. But, when BLUE EARTH, Minn. (AP) — The wandering moose who left the wilds of northern Minnesota several weeks ago and meandered south is within 12 miles of Iowa, state conservation officers report.

The moose, which had been following the Minnesota River and was reported in the New Ulm area about a month ago, is now in the Walnut Lake area of Minnesota along U.S. 16 near Blue Earth.

expenses are paid and lost income replaced, there's little room for disagreement. 4. Statement: no-fault will put an end to suits for "pain and suffering." Reply: True and false. Suits are allowed but limited to cases of serious injury or large dollar losses. Under the current system, it's the people with minor losses, not those with serious losses, who are benefitting.

A state Corrections Department study rates two-thirds of Kentucky's county jails as either poor or very poor. Only 6 per cent were ranked as good.

Business Mirror

By JOHN CUNIFF AP Business Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — An all-time inevitable result of a lot of talk is a lot of confusion, and such is the current state of knowledge with regard to no-fault automobile insurance.

Despite the talk, only one state has a plan in action. In Massachusetts, regardless of who is at fault in an accident, the insured's company makes the payments for liability claims up to $2000 out of court.

But, while some states haven't even considered no-fault, a dozen others have at least studied them and four—Illinois, Delaware, Oregon and Florida—join Massachusetts with plans of their own by the first of the year.

Moreover, Congress is interested in the concept, which is designed to speed payments, end long law suits and eliminate "windfall" profits from "plain and suffering" claims. To clarify some of the highlights, Aetna Life & Casualty has presented a list of some commonly held attitudes about no-fault. Aetna back such plans, and to that extent its viewpoint may represent advocacy rather than neutrality.

1. Statement: No-fault means there really will be no waiting for claim payments. Reply: True. Under no-fault, payments are made automatically by a victim's own insurance company as expenses come up.

2. Statement: Under no-fault, accident victims cannot sue for injuries. Reply: True, to a point. Under the better laws you can't sue for minor injuries or financial loss—nor is there a need to sue medical and repair bills and lost income are taken care of immediately by your insurer. However, all no-fault laws permit suits for serious injury or major monetary loss.

John F. Kennedy Center Closes Its Doors To Nonpaying Vistors

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pinched for maintenance funds, the John F. Kennedy Center has closed its doors to nonpaying visitors, even as the management expresses confidence that most of the other problems that have dogged it since opening day have been solved.

Those problems have been many and varied, and are blamed primarily on construction delays and the sheer bigness of the task of opening three new performing halls with seating capacity of more than 6,200.

In its first month of operation, the big national cultural center was the target of hundreds of complaints: insufficient telephone lines, long delays and arguments at the box office, long lines at the restaurants, no information booths and parking snafus.

On two occasions The Washington Post filled its letters-to-the-editor columns with irate missives about the Kennedy Center. Now those have virtually vanished.

"The box office is no problem," General Director William C. Blair Jr. said in an interview. "The only complaints we get now are about the air conditioning or the heat, which are still being balanced."

The center closed its doors to tourists after Congress rejected its request for $1.5 million to support its memorial functions as the capital's memorial to President John F. Kennedy.

Half a million persons have toured the center since it opened its doors to the public in July. It has become the city's second-most popular tourist attraction, exceeded only by the Washington Monument.

In announcing a week ago that the center would close its doors to tourists effective last weekend, Chairman Roger L. Stevens of the Board of Trustees also called off plans for a series of 12 free Christmas programs.

Two days ago, however, the center announced that the performances had been reinstated "because of the generosity of an anonymous benefactor." The announcement added that the decision to suspend tours remains in effect.

A factor in that decision, although Blair maintains it was not the major one, is vandalism. Visitors have denuded crystal chandeliers in the elevators, snipped off pieces of carpeting, removed fixtures from washbasins. A television camera was stolen from a backstage area.

A move in Congress to grant the $1.5 million request this year ran afoul of a technicality—no basic authorization for such an expenditure had been passed.

The Senate voted 55 to 23 on Dec. 3 to suspend its rules and add the money to a pending appropriations bill, but the House balked.

Worry Clinic

By - George W. Crane, Ph. D., M. D.

Rev. Kavich understands the clever "stoop to conquer" strategy. Husbands, employees and especially salesmen need to become expert thereat! For a compliment that is offered begrudgingly, rates far above 100 per cent. So study the art of "H-R" (Human Relations) and win friends faster.

CASE S-549: Rev. J. D. Kavich invited me to occupy his pulpit at Indianapolis. And at the pitch-in dinner following the service, I also gave an hour's talk on "Marriage and Family Problems."

"Dr. Crane," Rev. Kavich remarked as we said farewell, "why don't you write a column on 'How to Disagree With Your Wife and Still Be Happily Married?'"

"H-R" STRATEGY

Millions of happy husbands have learned that art, so it merits widespread dissemination.

For most Americans have never been officially taught the "H-R" (Human Relations) strategy of how to win friends via tactful disagreement.

Remember, a compliment that is given grudgingly rates higher than a casual bit of praise, easily stated.

Smart husbands (and employees) may thus deliberately disagree with their companions.

The latter may then advance some very convincing arguments in defense of their point of view.

Reluctantly begin to nod your head and then begrudgingly admit: "Well, I guess you're right. You have won me over."

This is doubly inflating to the ego of your wife or other argumentative comrade.

And it is especially effective on the boss!

For it indirectly illustrates Christ's remark about the shepherd who left the 99 sheep that were safe in the sheepfold, in order to search for Sheep No. 100, who was lost.

Clergymen also gloat more over converting the "lost sinner" than over the 99 faithful, lifelong church members who have supported the church and kept moral idealism flourishing while that "lost sinner" was painting the town red.

William R. Hearst, Sr., the great empire-builder in 20th Century journalism, thus urged me to "needle" readers, including fat, stodgy wives.

"Then they'll write redhot letters to my editors," he added, "which we shall print."

"And that controversy will prove to be the most popular page in our entire newspaper."

Alas, many young journalism graduates fail to understand this astute strategy that Mr. Hearst and other able journalistic pioneers used to build up the great newspapers of today.

For you can often convert them into sales and build greater good will.

Rev. Kravich is a clever Applied Psychologist who understands this effective strategy.

So send for my booklet "The New Psychology of Advertising and Selling," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 25 cents. (Always write to Dr. Crane, Hopkins Bldg., Mellot, Indiana, 47958, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 25 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

People In The News

EDINBURGH, Scotland (AP) — Prince Philip, the husband of Queen Elizabeth II, says even the experts don't know enough about pollution to figure a solution.

Speaking to the Edinburgh University medical group on Friday, Philip, who is Duke of Edinburgh and chancellor of the university, said there is a lack of evidence about just how treatment of effluents and water supply affect local communities.

"Even the experts do not know enough to be able to advise people what should be done," he said.

HAMILTON, Bermuda

(AP) — British Prime Minister Edward Heath has arrived in Bermuda for a conference next week with President Nixon.

Heath stopped en route in Ottawa Friday where he said he and Canadian Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau discussed "major world problems."

CONCORD, N.H. (AP) — G. v. Walter Peterson, a Republican, has endorsed President Nixon for re-election and says he will aid the President's campaign in New Hampshire in any way requested.

WASHINGTON (AP) — David Packard, former deputy secretary of defense, and his wife are giving stock worth more than $2 million to Wolf Trap Farm Park for the Performing Arts.

Mrs. Packard told a news conference Friday she hopes the gift will be used for special purposes, creative activities and innovative programs, but details are still to be worked out.

The gift is part of $18.8 million in stock holdings the Packards are giving to charitable causes. The total represents the increase in value of the electronics firm shares.

What's Texas doing this weekend?

On the average, every man, woman and child will use three gallons of oil on Saturday, another three on Sunday. So will every other American.

The United States uses 600 million gallons of oil every day. Oil and natural gas supply 75 percent of all our energy needs.

A country that runs on oil can't afford to run short.

New York Bachelor Father Strongly Against Abortion

By MARCIA CHAMBERS
Associated Press Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — An editorial in the law school newspaper calls him a sexist.

His law students jokingly refer to him as a bachelor-father to thousands of unborn babies.

A pregnant mother awaiting an abortion in a Queens hospital declares she, and not he, is the real guardian of her unborn baby and she will say so in court.

The man is Robert M. Byrn, a teacher of criminal law at Fordham University, who two weeks ago was appointed legal guardian of all fetuses in the fourth to 24th week of gestation whose mothers are awaiting abortions in the city's 18 municipal hospitals.

Byrn 40, contends that the 18 month-old New York State abortion law violates the 14th Amendment because "it deprives a person of life... without due process of law."

His goal is to return the law to its status before July 1, 1970, when abortions were allowed only to save the life of the mother.

A judge is expected to decide sometime next week whether to stop abortions temporarily while litigation continues.

The judge also has been asked to vacate Byrn's guardianship.

Meantime, "the friend of the fetus," as his attorney Tom Ford calls Byrn, manages to

Court Holds Structure Of Foundation Invalid

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP) — At least three members of the Moody Foundation indicate they plan to appeal a ruling by a district court judge that the present structure of the giant foundation is invalid.

State District Court Judge L.D. Godard ruled last week that the only legally qualified persons entitled to serve on the board are Mrs. Mary Moody Northern and Robert Lee Moody.

Serving as trustees have been Mrs. Northern, Robert Lee Moody, Shearn Moody Jr., William L. Moody IV, all of Galveston; Paul R. Haas of Corpus Christi, and S. Marcus overcome critical barbs, threatening phone calls and letters with a sense of humor and a smile.

"Being unmarried has some pizzazz, about it, huh," Byrn, a husky 6-footer, said Friday. Then his smile faded as he added, "My responsibility as the father of the fetus would not be less awesome if I were married."

"That I am a Catholic and a bachelor is irrelevant," Byrn said.

"I am concerned as a lawyer, as an advocate who believes that the law should protect life in society. If we abandon that concept, then the whole community is in danger of breaking down... Burdensomeness is not a characteristic of unborn children. It is a characteristic, unfortunately, of many in our society. Of the elderly."

"If we say how are we going to get rid of them, then we are on the road to euthanasia, to saying only those who contribute to society have the right to live."

Byrn, who has been leading an anti-abortion crusade in New York since 1963, describes himself as "an activist and perhaps nonconformist."

Since high school he has been taught by Jesuits at Fordham.

"My teachers showed me a certain activism and worldly wisdom and were wary of people associated with Houston.

The two Houston board members indicated they would appeal as did David T. Searis, an attorney for Haas, who has been serving as board chairman of the Foundation.

Shearn Moody had filed the suit seeking an injunction against a move to increase the number of Moody Foundation trustees from seven to nine. The suit also had questioned the legality of Haas, Greer and Lykes as trustees.

The judge said he felt the Trust Instrument did not give the Foundation trustees any power to expand or reduce the number of trustees, but only to fill vacancies.

popular causes just for the sake of popularity... that's what influenced my thinking."

Byrn wrote the minority report for the state commission that studied abortion prior to the new law and is also the chairman of the Metropolitan Right to Life Committee.

To the Queens mother about to challenge his suit with one of her own, he said, "If a parent's interest is adverse to that of the infant, then the parent cannot be a guardian. There is nothing more adverse than for a parent to decide to kill her infant."

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Monday, Dec. 20, the 35th day of 1971. There are 11 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1813, The U.S. Congress established a system of internal revenue.

On this date: In 1790, the first successful cotton mill in the United States began operating at Pawtucket, R.I.

In 1803, a flag-raising ceremony at New Orleans marked the official transfer of the Louisiana Purchase from France to the United States.

In 1820, the State of Missouri levied a tax of $1 a year against bachelors between the ages of 21 and 50.

In 1860, South Carolina became the first state to secede from the Union.

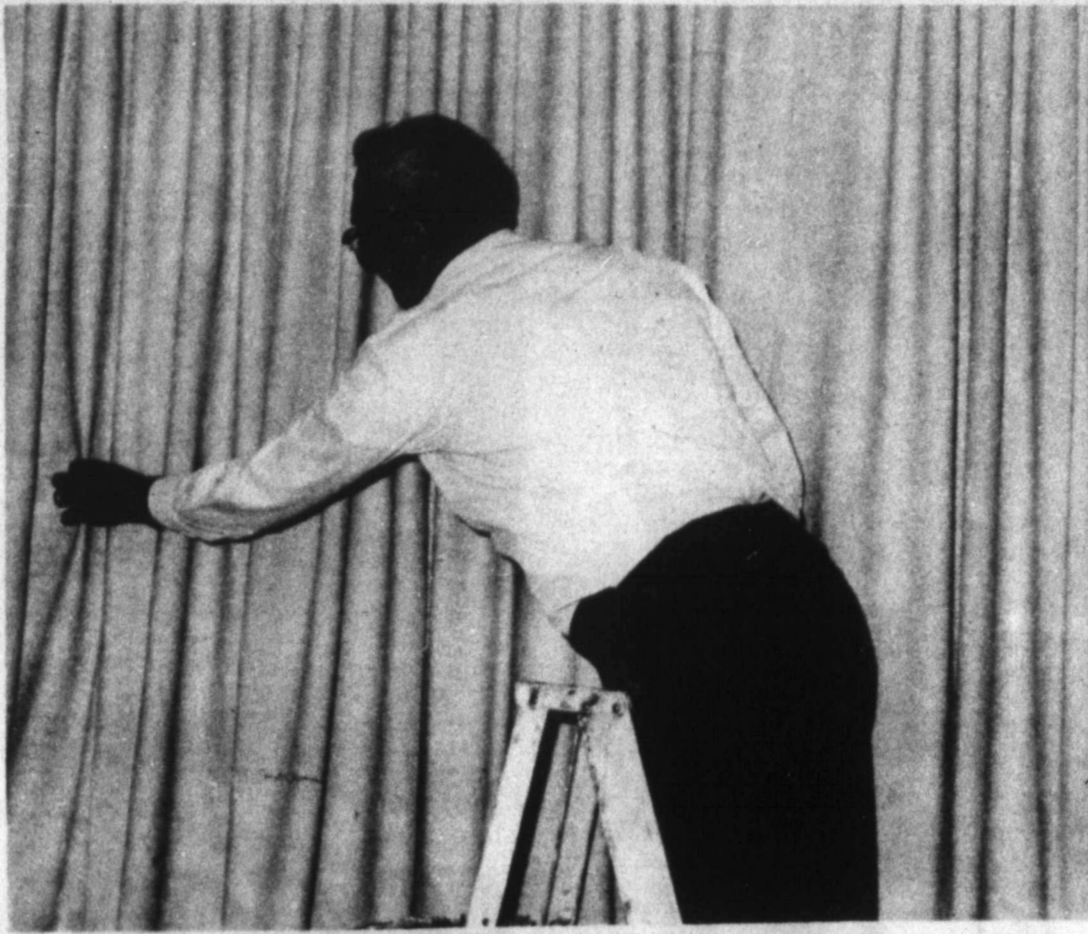

In 1864, during the Civil War, Union troops under Gen. William T. Sherman occupied Savannah, Ga.

In 1922, 14 republics of Russia formed the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics.

Ten years ago: The U.N. General Assembly voted to ask the World Court for an opinion on the refusal of France, the Soviet Union and other countries to pay special assessments.

Five years ago: U.S. officials said an anti-aircraft missile fired from North Vietnam landed in the midst of a North Vietnamese fishing fleet.

One year ago: Wladyslaw Gomulka resigned as head of the Communist party in Poland after a week of rioting over food prices.

FROM BOTTOM TO TOP -- That is the way the money goes. Mrs. Joe Autry, standing, and Mrs. J. E. Gibson are arranging Christmas items in the gift shop operated by the Highland General Hospital auxiliary in the lobby. Proceeds from the gift shop and from television rentals are currently being used to provide new curtains for 42 rooms at a cost of $3,000. L. A. Barber is hanging the curtains.

Hospital Auxiliary 'Doing Its Thing'

The old white drapes of many years are going; in their place new curtains color-keyed to the decor of the patient rooms are adding cheer.

Adding cheer -- in the vernacular, that is the Highland General Hospital auxiliary "doing its thing." So far, very few corners of Gray county's halls of healing have escaped the touch of auxiliary members.

Under their touch and planning, a drab basement room became a colorful conference room -- a place steeped in luxury and pride at no cost to county coffers and very little to the auxiliary whose members have become affectionately known as "the finaglers."

Another of their touches are the pictures hanging in the lobby, waiting rooms and other points. These are by local artists and are always noticed because they are changed at least once each month -- sometimes sooner when pleased "looker" cannot resist buying.

The chief sources of revenue for these selfless ladies are, in themselves, a blessing: television rentals and the gift shop located in the lobby. Of course all efforts of the auxiliary are non-profit since funds are put right back into the hospital.

Unlike most exclusive little gift shops it resembles, the one at Highland General provides name-brand merchandise in a wide and beautiful selection making it possible for those who have forgotten, in their concern for a hospitalized loved one, or who have sudden inspiration to give without paying an exorbitant price for convenience and selection.

Mrs. Charles White is president of the auxiliary. Mrs. Carito Nance is of volunteers. Mrs. Homer Johnson is in charge of the hanging and changing of the pictures. -- And the number of ladies working with them is becoming legion.

Her 'prize' husband is no winner

By Abigail Van Buren
 (© 1971 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.)
DEAR ABBY: I'm not telling you this to boast, but just to give you some idea of my situation.
 I am 25, my figure is 37-25-36 and I have won several beauty contests. Two years ago I married what everyone (including myself) thought was a prize. He was 30, college educated, good job, rosy future, etc.
 Well, this "prize" has made love to me exactly five times since Jan. 1, 1970! [Twice he came right out and told me it was to shut me up!]
 I have tried everything, including greeting him at the door in a seductive see-thru negligee. And he says, "Hi. What's for supper?"
 I told him he should see a doctor, and he said I should see one to find out why I am never satisfied! Am I abnormal or is he? Any suggestions?
"PRACTICALLY UNTOUCHED IN TULSA"

DEAR PRACTICALLY: If he refuses to see a doctor, see a lawyer.

DEAR ABBY: I am enclosing a copy of a letter I've written to all of my three grown children who are married and have families. They all live out of town, and their idea of a grand summer vacation is to come with their children (each has two), and spend it with us.

I am 62. My husband is 68. We have a lovely modern three-bedroom home with a swimming pool.
 This last summer has been hectic. Each family came and stayed two weeks. In some cases their visits overlapped, so we had more than one family here at a time.

My husband and I couldn't sleep nights as they stayed up late watching TV or playing cards and laughing and talking with friends, until 2 a. m.

My husband and I always get up at 7:30 a. m., and couldn't turn on our radio, sprinkling system, dishwasher, or carry out our routine chores as our guests wanted to sleep until noon. (These are only a few of the inconveniences, I am not even mentioning the extra work.)

By the end of this summer we were nervous wrecks. I broke out in a rash and had headaches. I would appreciate knowing if you think I should send the enclosed letter to our children. And if you have any suggestions, please send them along.
 MRS. NO NAME

MY DEAR CHILDREN: I have just had a long talk with my doctor. He tells me that my rash and nervous condition are due to the strain of having so much company last summer. He says I absolutely must inform my family that their visits must not last more than a week. And I can have only one set of guests at a time.

Dad also gets upset and exhausted from too much commotion and excitement. And we are getting older and have to take it easier now.

We love you and the grandchildren, and we hope you will understand.
 Our love,
 MOTHER AND DAD

DEAR MRS. NO NAME: Yours is a legitimate (and not uncommon) problem and your approach to it is sensitive and fair. If the response to it is understanding and friendly, your "children" have matured. If it is not, they haven't quite grown up yet, so send the letter and stick to your guns.

DEAR ABBY: You suggested that people who didn't know where to register to vote should call the Democratic or Republican party headquarters.

Please! There is a better place to call. The County Board of Elections. They are listed in the telephone directory under the name of the county where one resides.—(signed) RUTH AT THE COUNTY BOARD OF ELECTIONS

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

COOKING GAME

Game meat adds variety to meals and is high in nutritive value, report Extension home economics specialists. The meat is an excellent source of high-quality proteins, fats, minerals, iron, copper, phosphorus and B vitamins.

Fresh and properly handled game meat can be made tender and palatable when cooked by dry or moist heat. But the success of cooked game is determined before the animal is brought home. If a hunter properly cares for the game after it is killed, the homemaker can prepare a savory and nutritious meal.

Neckties can be made of practically any fabric, including polyesters, solids, rayon, surah, chantung, challis and the new knits. Try a bonded black lace tie for evening, a velvet tie for holidays, suede, kid or vinyl ties for casual events even metallic or glitter ties for costume parties.

MINISKIRT TRAGEDY
COLOMBO, Ceylon (AP)—A figure-hugging miniskirt was blamed in coroner's court for the death of a 19-year-old girl. The girl was getting on a train when her tight skirt interfered with the freedom of her leg movements. She suffered a heavy fall and died from her injuries.

YEAR OF THE NECKTIE—This Christmas, neckties, the all-time favorite, may be the most-sewed of all gifts. The variety is unlimited, such as a perky bow tie, a handsome ascot or a standard four-in-hand, decorated imaginatively with trims or embroidery.

Your Horoscope

By Joanne Dixon

TUESDAY, DEC. 21

Your birthday today: Early in the coming year your personal power and earnings tend to increase. You should not assume this to be a plateau or a permanent holding but the proper succession for a grand turnabout late in the year. Today's natives have a great deal of skill in commerce and expend much energy seeking outlets.

Aries [March 21-April 19]: Budget-trimming time is here, perhaps from having overdone some sentimental projects lately.

Taurus [April 20-May 21]: Stop, look, review your figures before you plunge ahead with yesterday's schemes. You may have so many bits of routine to attend to that it's hard to see the whole picture.

Gemini [May 21-June 20]: Clean the decks in all directions now. Campaigns for tidiness are in order. Catch up with delayed correspondence.

Cancer [June 21-July 22]: Vigorous, clear-cut expression is your most promising line. Keep your volume down and your subject exceedingly simple.

Leo [July 23-Aug. 22]: You are closer to a final or maximum point than anybody realizes. Be there with all you can muster from readily available resources.

Virgo [Aug. 23-Sept. 22]: Take all things in stride, with a completely blank poker-face, including the million to one coincidence. See the humor or the drama in events.

Libra [Sept. 23-Oct. 22]: Despite resolves, you find excitement or provocation stirs you into definite action today. Make it directly related to its causes.

Scorpio [Oct. 23-Nov. 21]: Now is the time to fill empty spaces in your vision of what the future may become as you mold it with day to day choices.

Sagittarius [Nov. 22-Dec. 21]: Aid and encouragement appear from quarters you'd never expect, at odd moments when you weren't asking. No examining a gift-horse's dentures.

Capricorn [Dec. 22-Jan. 19]: Bringing in fresh people alleviates many conditions, forces some revision of your own overly personal attitudes.

Aquarius [Jan. 20-Feb. 18]: Mails bring odds and ends of nostalgic appeal, perhaps welcome news from somebody you haven't seen in a very long time.

Pisces [Feb. 19-March 20]: Know what you want before you start, pursue it vigorously, whatever it may be.

Christmas Lights Give Year-Round Pleasure

By AILEEN SNODDY
Lights for Christmas decorating can be a year-round source of a more cheerful mood in the home.

Standard light bulbs, varying in size, shape, color, surface texture and light output, enable the family Christmas decorating expert to come up with a distinctive setup. After the holidays the bulbs and cords are used for other daily lighting purposes.

Five suggestions for decorative lighting treatments for the holiday come from John K. Michel, consultant engineer for Duro-Test Corp., Light bulb specialists.

In place of conventional strings of tiny colored lights on trees, Michel suggests Globelite shapes of incandescent bulbs for a more unusual treatment. These are completely round, in sizes from 2 1/4 to 5 inches and come in clear, red, blue, green, yellow and glitter finish.

Use such light bulbs with a plastic vinyl-electrical cord, called a zip-cord or speed-cord, with safety rating and with special sockets for a do-it-yourself string of lights.

After the holidays, he notes, use them for chandeliers, wall sconces, overhead ceiling fixtures in halls or playrooms or with some of the new decorator models of bare-bulb table lamps which eliminate the lampshade and focus attention on the decorative bulb.

Another suggestion is to attach a string of fluorescent bulbs to wreaths hung from the door or wall. These give the effect of a gaslight flame but are available in white, red, green, blue, yellow or gold. They come in various wattages but Michel recommends the 5-watt size for this purpose.

Casting hexes seems to be the latest thing in defense in the NBA. Chet Walker (25) of the Chicago Bulls, above, finds himself the victim of a spell being tried by the Buffalo Braves' Cornell Warner. Meanwhile Herm Gilliam of the Atlanta Hawks, driving at right, runs smack into a double whammy from the Boston Celtics' Steve Kuberski and Don Chaney.

Ninth Ranked Tennessee Meets Arkansas Tonight

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — "Their defense is not just good, it's outstanding," said Coach Frank Broyles of Arkansas on the eve of his Razorbacks' Liberty Bowl confrontation with ninth-ranked Tennessee tonight. "I don't recall seeing a defense with so much speed all across the board," Broyles said. "They don't stay blocked long."

Tennessee's drive to a 9-2 season that included a smashing 31-11 victory over previously undefeated Penn State was keyed to a big-play defense led by All-America safety Bobby Majors and linebackers Jackie Walker and Ray Nettles, each packing All-Southeastern Conference credentials. The battle between the rugged Vol defenders and the explosive Porker attack is slated for a 9 p.m. (EST) kickoff before a sellout crowd of 50,100 in Memorial Stadium and a national television audience (ABC).

Bookmakers have pegged the game as the closest of the postseason struggles, establishing Tennessee as a one-point favorite to extend its winning streak to seven games. The 18th-ranked Razorbacks, runner-up in the Southwest Conference, will provide Tennessee one of its toughest tests this year. Quarterback Joe Ferguson, one of the nation's leading passers, piled up more than 2,000 yards in the air while a trio of running backs tacked on another 1,000—Dicky Morton 831, Mike Saint 501 and Jon Richardson 483. Tennessee experienced offensive problems early in the season but began to stabilize behind fourth unit quarterback Jim Maxwell, a senior who hasn't tasted defeat since taking command six games ago.

49er's Vs. Washington In Sunday NFL Action

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
A year ago, the Detroit Lions kept Los Angeles out of the National Football League playoffs by winning their final regular season game. This time they did it by losing.

The San Francisco 49ers edged the Lions 31-27 Sunday on John Brodie's 10-yard touchdown scramble with 10 minutes to play. That gave the 49ers the National Conference's Western Division crown and relegated the Rams, whose 23-14 triumph over Pittsburgh already was on the scoreboard, to another meaningless second-place finish.

Last season, the Rams beat the Giants in New York on the final day to stay alive, only to have the 49ers defeat Oakland and win the West while the Lions whipped Green Bay for the best second-place record in the NFC and the conference's wild card playoff spot.

Elsewhere, the Miami Dolphins trounced Green Bay 27-6 and won the AFC Eastern Division title by one-half game over Baltimore when the Colts bowed to New England 21-17. The Dallas Cowboys won the NFC Eastern crown Saturday by routing St. Louis 31-12.

Schoolboy Roundup

The Texas schoolboy football state title games were perhaps the most closely contested in history with San Antonio Lee, Plano, Jacksboro and Sonora and Barbers Hill reaping the glory and their opponents the heartaches.

San Antonio Lee's quarterback Tommy Kramer was the last-second hero as the Volunteers edged Wichita Falls 28-27 for the Class AAAA title. Kramer threw a 29-yard touchdown pass with less than three minutes left and the kicked the winning point. He returns again in 1972. The victory was revenge for a 28-20 loss to the Coyotes in the 1969 title game and was Lee's first championship.

Other results Sunday were Cleveland 20, Washington 13; Kansas City 22, Buffalo 9; Minnesota 27, Chicago 10; Atlanta 24, New Orleans 20; Oakland 21, Denver 13; New York Jets 25, Cincinnati 21; Philadelphia 41, New York Giants 28 and Houston 49, San Diego 33.

Brodie, who earlier threw scoring passes to Dick Witcher, Ken Willard and Gene Washington, pulled San Francisco from behind for the third time with his decisive gallop. He faded to pass, escaped two rushers and scrambled up the middle.

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The sports world pays tribute today to Robert Tyre "Bobby" Jones, the golfing great who died Saturday at the age of 69.

5---Falling Without Injury

By ROBEL STRAUBHAAR
Director, Crested Butte (Colo.) Ski School
Sooner or later, everybody falls in skiing. Most of the time it is sooner. A slow, easy fall can be just as damaging as a high-speed eggbeater.

This allows you to straighten your legs and the body. You will then skid harmlessly over the snow and come to a stop.

From this position it is also relatively easy to get up again. In getting up always keep the skis parallel to the hill and below you. Bend your knees and bring your skis close to your body. The poles should be above you near your thighs and held by one hand on the snow, with the other hand on top of poles. Push your body up by using your ski poles as support. Again fall to the side and back, landing on your backside. Straighten your legs and body. Keep relaxed.

Private services were scheduled this afternoon at Oakland Cemetery with the Rt. Rev. Msgr. John D. Stapleton, who baptized Jones as a Catholic three days before he died, officiating.

Ben Hogan said of Jones, "The man was sick so long and he fought it so successfully that I think we have finally discovered the secret to Jones' success—it was the strength of his mind."

The Pampa Daily News

A Watchful Newspaper

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS
TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

Our Capsule Policy

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces can he develop to his utmost capability.

The News believes each and every person would get more satisfaction in the long run if he were permitted to spend what he earns on a volunteer basis rather than having part of it distributed involuntarily.

The Third Nixon

First, President Nixon was going to Red China in May, 1972. Then the speculation shifted to March. Lastly, the President announced officially the date was to be Feb. 21. The question is, why the change?

Technically, it would seem the best date would have been May since that would have thrown the newspaper headlines and television time closer to the election, preempting to some degree opportunity for a publicity buildup of a Democratic opponent. In other words, if the President can dominate the news prior to election time, he will appear to out-promise any candidate who comes against him.

But Mr. Nixon had another difficulty that complicated his plans. This was a possibility that conservative opinion would have a chance to mobilize against him and mar the fanfare of his spectacular journey. By out-lit-bing the libs, Mr. Nixon can diminish the campaign fervor of the far left. After all, why struggle for what you already have? On the other hand, the President still needs the votes and the workmanship of the non-libs. Thus by placing his Red China trip earlier in the year, Mr. Nixon will still have time between his return and the November election, to rewoo disenchanted conservatives. In the meantime, his May trip to the Soviet Union-less unacceptable to conservatives will help to keep him in the headlines.

Therefore, look for a more "conservative" Nixon when he returns from his ventures behind the Iron and Bamboo Curtains. Selling presidential images is not different from selling soap. You start with the original product, then you add things to it and ballyhoo the "new" product. We already have had the "new Nixon"; we are now waiting for Phase III, the third Nixon.

The Merit Of Teddy

Maybe Teddy would be the best after all for the '72 race. Although he has a charismatic name, not too many even in his own party put any confidence in him. That means he can't do too much damage.

In retrospect, it appears that the politicians who did the most harm are those who tried to do the most good. Notable legislators like Henry Clay and Daniel Webster and notable presidents like Andrew Jackson, Abraham Lincoln and Grover Cleveland built the prestige of their offices. The result was that successors enjoyed a public confidence that was not justified by their sincerity or wisdom.

The mistakes this country makes come largely from the practice of following leaders instead of thinking. We suppose if this logic were carried on down to the local level, one could even find some merit in members of the current board of supervisors in that they don't inspire much confidence.

Surprise! Costs Cut

We hear a lot about "cost overruns" in national defense—that is, a weapon or weapons system costing umpteen million more than originally figured.

It comes as a pleasant surprise to learn there actually are such things as "cost underruns." At least, there is one of this rare species.

The U.S. Air Force has announced that intensive cost reduction efforts by North American Rockwell Corp. in the development of Minuteman III guidance and control systems have resulted in a major cost underrun of $10.5 million. The saving is equivalent to the cost of 3.29 missiles.

This may seem like a drop in the bucket compared to the total multibillion-dollar defense budget. But every $10 million helps.

Soviet Achilles Heel in Mideast

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON (NEA) - Up to now, the Soviet Union has rather successfully promoted its own interests in the world's trouble spots by backing whichever party in a revolution or war was best suited to assist Soviet ambitions.

The Arabs against Israel, and the revolutionaries in Yemen, for access to oil, and for influence in the Mediterranean, Suez, Red Sea and the Persian Gulf.

India against Pakistan for influence in the Indian subcontinent and in the Indian Ocean area to advance Moscow's programs for the encirclement of mainland China.

North Korea against South Korea to open up secure shipping and naval access and exit routes for its Siberian ports, and to bring pressures on Japan.

There are signs that this Soviet policy of working through "client states" or "proxies" may now come a cropper of all places, in the Middle East where Moscow has been particularly successful these past several years. The Russians may have been too clever.

It may seem quixotic to talk of Russian failure in an area where Moscow policymakers seem to hold most of the high cards and seem consistently to take the big poker pots. But buried in a study made for the Pentagon by the Research Analysis Corporation is an analysis of the very difficult problems the Soviet Union now faces in the Persian Gulf-Middle East area, precisely as a result of its successes.

As this analysis notes: "The numerous disputes of the Gulf area present a political quagmire for Soviet policymakers. The British presence kept these conflicts local and prevented the intrusion of larger powers, but the removal of that presence opens the door to any number of conflicts."

"Saudi Arabia opposes the spread of Arab nationalism under the control and direction of Cairo... Moscow could get caught in this crossfire.

Antagonisms between Egypt and Iran over the expansion of Iranian influence in the Persian Gulf "might force the Soviet Union to take sides to the detriment of its relations with one or both states."

The Persian Gulf is "balkanized," fratricidal and tribal rivalries "offer innumerable opportunities for Soviet exploitation and gain. But these opportunities are offset by the fluid nature of the situation and the prospect of becoming involved in small conflicts that would erase any Soviet gains in the area. The greater the degree of involvement of the Soviet Union in the various disputes, the greater the risk of incurring diminishing political returns."

"Whichever chooses the Soviet Union makes, whichever side or sides it chooses in the Persian Gulf, it does so realizing that it stands to undermine its policy in other areas of the Middle East."

The report notes that in 1961 the Soviets "were caught in the middle of the Nasser-Qasim (Egypt-Iraq) feud, and only the untimely disposition of Qasim avoided further problems with Nasser who was disturbed over the Soviet backing of Qasim's regime."

Your Health

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb-How is pernicious anemia diagnosed? Is it always hereditary? Is the only method of diagnosis having the stomach pumped? I know it can be treated if found in time. Please write on this vital subject.

Dear Reader-Pernicious anemia is vitamin B-12 deficiency. The anemia is really only one part of the picture of B-12 deficiency.

The stomach produces a substance (intrinsic factor) that enables the B-12 to be absorbed from the digestive tract. B-12 deficiency usually occurs because the stomach quits producing sufficient amounts of this substance. This condition is accompanied by lack of stomach acid. If a person's stomach contains acid and the intrinsic factor, he does not have pernicious anemia. Hence the contents of the stomach is analyzed to help make a correct diagnosis. The anemia is established by the blood examination.

One out of five patients with pernicious anemia has a family history of the problem.

In addition to causing anemia, B-12 deficiency also damages the nervous system. This can cause numbness, weakness, or difficulty in walking. Some vital cells in the spinal cord may degenerate. The brain may be affected, resulting in dullness, apathy or complete psychosis.

If treatment is delayed too long not all of the nerve damage can be reversed. Early treatment can even reverse mental changes in some cases.

In more advanced cases the tongue may be sore. There are mild symptoms of indigestion, constipation or diarrhea. Because of the anemia the skin becomes pale or may be slightly jaundiced with a lemon yellow tint.

The diagnosis is confirmed by injecting B-12 and observing the improvement in the blood picture. The B-12 must be injected. It can't be taken by mouth or it won't be absorbed.

Dietary deficiencies can be a factor in causing B-12 deficiency, but the absence of the intrinsic factor of the stomach essential to B-12 absorption is the most important problem. Why the stomach quits producing the intrinsic factor is not known. Some studies suggest that this is another example of a person becoming allergic to his own body processes, or autoimmune diseases.

Antibody formation is the mechanism we have to develop immunity. We develop antibodies to measles and are then immune to measles. When antibodies are manufactured to some natural substance in the body, it is an autoimmune disease. A reaction occurs between the antibody and a natural body substance. In this instance, between the antibody and the cells that form the intrinsic substance within the stomach. This is the mechanism for rejection of transplanted organs, such as the heart or kidney.

Greece Reliable Ally, Needs Helping Hand

BY ANTHONY HARRIGAN

ATHENS, Greece - At the end of World War II, when other European countries were enjoying peace and freedom from totalitarian rule, the Greeks were fighting for their national independence against communist forces in their midst. Battles raged in Athens. The Russians had reason to hope that Greece would be conquered from within. Today, the trained eye can detect the lasting effects of mortar shells on the Acropolis. And the long-term effects of that terrible time of civil war are still visible in the life of the Greek nation as it celebrates its 150 years of independence.

One can't comprehend the current political system in Greece - and the external attacks on the Greek government - without an understanding of the experience of the Greeks at the hands of the communist forces. The cost in suffering was worse during the communist guerrilla war than during the brutal Nazi occupation. After 1965, it seemed to many Greeks that the nightmare of the 1940's would be repeated, that a left-leaning parliamentary regime would be a Trojan horse for communist conquest. That's why the Greek army took power on April 21, 1967.

Today, the so-called colonels' regime, headed by Prime Minister George Papadopoulos, is firmly in control of the country. The leftist opposition is in exile or in prison.

It is not easy to place a label on the type of government Greece has today. Left-liberal forces in Europe and the United States describe it as a dictatorship. In my judgment, that isn't an accurate description. I have traveled in dictatorships such as Cuba under Castro and the Dominican Republic under Trujillo. Greece doesn't belong in that category. A considerable measure of political opposition is voiced in private conversation and in the press. The country is free of the trappings of a totalitarian state and other evidence of repression. In short, the current government is peculiarly Greek in character.

The government has embarked on a major attempt at national reconstruction. It intends to stay in power until new institutions are fully established. The government is confident that it has the support of the people, but it won't return to a form of parliamentarism that involved corrupt patronage and factionalism.

I have visited Greece several times since 1962. My previous visits to the country give me a basis for comparison. I am tremendously impressed by the advances in industrialization and the increase in prosperity. Greeks in and out of the cities look well-dressed. There's much new construction. The streets are full of new automobiles and trucks. If there is bitterness or resentment of the government, it isn't apparent in the demeanor of the people. They are hard at work, enjoying life and pleased with the stability.

For many Americans and Europeans, the closing down of parliamentary government is shocking. But Greeks view United States. The In short, Greece is a truly democratic but the creature of powerful factions. Moreover, the ordinary Greek in the years before 1967 had little chance at preferment unless he enjoyed influential connections. The new government has achieved a new measure of democracy of opportunity. It has blunted the patronage system embedded in the national life.

Americans need to look at Greece in the perspective of modern Greek history, the character of the people and in the nature of U.S. interests. Many abrupt changes have taken place in the country's government over the years. Kings have come and gone and been asked back. There have been parliamentary regimes and military regimes. The coup d'etat has become an accepted constitutional device. In 1947, Osbert Lancaster, the British journalist, wrote of Greece: "When a government has exhausted the patience of the country, it is as often as not removed from office not by the ballot box but the coup d'etat, and for many years the technique has remained unchanged."

It would be folly for the United States to intervene in Greece's political processes or to try to injure the current government. The Greek people seem satisfied with the colonels, who are economic-minded rather than martial in outlook. For the first time in decades, the country is being soundly organized and managed. The economic growth rate is second only to that of Japan. Greece is beginning to catch up with the more advanced countries of Western Europe. The country is rich in ties to the United States. Many of the current ministers received part of their education in the United States. The Bank of Greece is determined to retain faith in the U.S. dollar - a rare thing these days.

This doesn't mean the U.S. government or public has to like everything done by the Greek government. But then, what government meets that test? In the main, the new leaders are doing a first-class job for their people, laying the economic foundations for a better life. Furthermore, the colonels don't intend to remain in power forever. They have made clear that they will step down when a new, stable system is devised to replace the old parliamentary system that failed to work in terms of the Greek character and national reality.

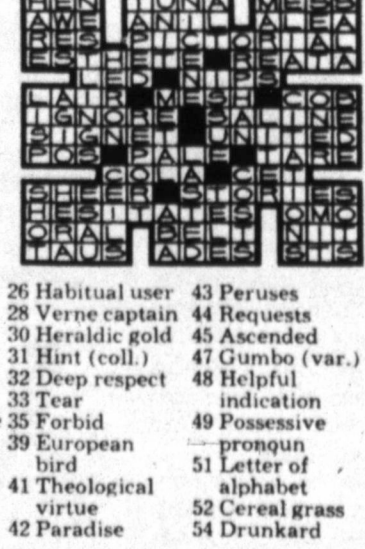

In short, Greece is a reliable ally of the United States and deserves a helping hand instead of political sniping and interference.
