WASHINGTON (UPI) — Declaring that the nation's economy is moving "too fast for safety," President Johnson appealed today to labor and management to join in a major effort to curb wage and price increases.

In his annual economic report to Congress, the Chief Executive announced creation of a Cabinet-level committee to work with business and labor for agreement on "general standards" for wages and prices.

Johnson was careful to avoid any hint of a return to his long-dormant wage-price "guidelines," but sources close to his Council of Economic Advisers conceded that, although 1968 was not the year, business and labor eventually would have to cooperate with the government on some modified form of guideposts if the nation is ever to reverse the wage-price spiral.

As expected, the President made another strong pitch for prompt congressional approval of his year-old request for a tax increase.

He also urged Congress to authorize expanded trade with Russia and the Communist countries of Eastern Europe and to free gold reserves now partially hoarding the dollar at home. He reaffirmed his determination to reduce the nation's balance of payments deficit and asked Americans again to restrict their travels in the next two years to the Western Hemisphere.

Johnson warned that if management and labor did not "behave prudently in setting prices and wages," the nation's economic stability would be threatened for years to come.

"I must again urge—in the strongest terms I know—that unions and business firms must exercise the most rigorous restraint in their wage and price determinations in 1968," he said.

"To that end, the new cabinet committee will attempt to reach some consensus (with business and labor leaders) on appropriate general standards to guide private price and wage decisions."

Another duty for the panel will be to study industries that, through inefficiency or out of date technology, contribute to inflation, and to recommend changes in government spending practices that might have an inflationary influence.

Beyond that, the new committee's duties seemed vague.

The Council of Economic Advisers, in a report forwarded to Congress by the President, did say, however, that the rate of price increases during 1968 could be slowed only if union wage settlements averaged "appreciably lower" than the 5.5 per cent average of last year.

No one would say how much lower that should be, but the council did say it was "unrealistic" to expect labor to accept a wage increase that would be wiped out by the 3 per cent rise in consumer prices last year.

Thus it appeared the administration's plan this election year was to press gently for wage increases somewhere between 3 per cent and 5.5 per cent, with anything less than the higher figure a happy surprise.

Hospital Board Appeals For McLean Price Hike

The Highland General Hospital Board recommended this morning to the commissioners court that fees for services at the McLean Hospital be increased to help overcome a $2,000-a-month deficit.

Wes Langham, Highland General Hospital administrator, and E. L. (Smiley) Henderson testified that the administrator and board have "done everything we can to cut expenses—we can't do any more—but we are still running in the red at McLean."

Langham said the main cause of losses at the hospital was a lack of patients.

"We have a staff of 19 there and there have been times when we've had only one patient in the hospital."

Another board member, O. U. Blankenship of McLean, said that many people in McLean go to Shamrock or Pampa because of a lack of doctors at the hospital.

But he said he felt "that we need the hospital in McLean because Pampa and Shamrock are both too far away."

Blankenship said, "I think if we just had a new doctor there we could pay our way."

Both Highland General Hospital and the McLean Hospital are run by the county. The McLean Hospital is administered under the auspices of Highland General.

The commissioners court said it would take the matter under advisement.

In other business, the commissioners opened bids for a new two-ton truck for Pct. 1. Harold Barrett Ford submitted the low bid of $2,147, with trade-in of an older model truck.

The commissioners also approved the hiring of Jesse Ray Hoerman as the new assistant county agricultural agent, and discussed easements and rights-of-way.

LBJ May Ask New Powers to Handle Pueblo Problem

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson may ask Congress for new powers to deal with problems raised by North Korea's seizure of the Pueblo and for more military aid for South Korea.

These possibilities were raised Wednesday as Johnson and top aides briefed a bipartisan congressional group on the ship incident and the countrywide Viet Cong offensive in South Vietnam.

Reports from the meeting did not specify what new powers Johnson might seek or how much additional military aid might be proposed for South Korea.

No progress toward recovering the intelligence ship and its 83-man crew from the Communists was reported. White House press secretary George Christian said the only notable development was the establishment Tuesday of contact with the North Korean regime.

Commenting on a two-hour meeting of Johnson and his Cabinet, Christian said it was agreed "diplomatic channels offered the best hope of regaining the crew and the ship and of avoiding large-scale conflict."

There was no word whether the reported death of an injured Pueblo crewman had been confirmed.

At the United Nations, Afro-Asian members of the Security Council sounded out the United States on the possibility of a meeting with North Korea at Geneva or elsewhere outside the U.N. framework.

But O'Brien said Surgeon General William H. Stewart said the placards would be placed on the mail trucks anyway, although there would be a slight delay.

Bound for the University of Arkansas next year, Anna is an alto in the PHS A Cappella choir which is presenting "Brigadoon" Feb. 28-29 and March 1 at the high school.

Poster Set for Mail Trucks Over Protest

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Postal and health officials are going ahead with plans to put antimoking posters on U.S. mail trucks despite charges of "brainwash" and "scare tactics" by a tobacco state Senator.

Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., Wednesday complained to President Johnson about the plan.

"It is not the function of the federal government to attempt to brainwash the American people concerning their personal habits in respect to smoking or anything else," he told the President in a telegram.

Ervin called on Secretary John W. Gardner of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, and Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien to cancel the plan. He also made a Senate speech denouncing recent Federal Trade Commission (FTC) studies which listed tar and nicotine content of 59 brands of cigarettes.

But O'Brien said Surgeon General William H. Stewart said the placards would be placed on the mail trucks anyway, although there would be a slight delay.

New Charges Ready In Liquor Board Probe

By United Press International
The Texas Liquor Control Board controversy expanded Wednesday as a Dallas prosecutor said he was about ready to file new charges and a Breckenridge legislator asked for a legislative investigation of the TLCB.

Dallas Dist. Atty. Henry Wade said his office was near filing more charges concerned with irregularities in liquor law enforcement. He said, "They are not liquor board employees but something related to it."

State Rep. Burke Musgrove of Breckenridge Wednesday asked for a statewide investigation of the TLCB, "with the legislature doing the investigating."

Musgrove said he had wired House Speaker Ben Barnes asking him to organize the House investigating committee to investigate the liquor board.

Had Some Complaints
He said many of his constituents in the liquor business have complained about Tom W. (Pinky) Roden, a man who has a number of liquor interests in West Texas.

Westmoreland Says Worst Yet To Come

SAIGON (UPI) — Allied planes bombed three Viet Cong pockets of resistance in Saigon today and the worst appeared over in the capital. But heavy fighting erupted in scores of towns and cities along a 600-mile front and Hanoi boasted it had seized the initiative in the war.

Gen. William C. Westmoreland, commander of the U.S. forces in Vietnam, warned the worst is yet to come. He said the battle of the cities is only a guerrilla prelude to a Communist "go-for-broke" offensive aimed at capturing South Vietnam's two northern provinces.

The three-day-old Viet Cong general offensive, aided even in Saigon by North Vietnamese regulars, made this the costliest week of the war. Allied troops put 6,821 Communist troops out of action, killing 4,959 and capturing 1,862.

In addition to thousands of civilians killed or maimed the allied forces suffered 2,253 casualties—555 killed and 1,698 wounded. The Americans lost 232 dead and 929 wounded according to preliminary estimates. It was clear the week's toll would be the highest in Vietnam history.

U.S. spokesmen said only eight major pockets of resistance remained in Saigon but fierce fighting continued there with some civilians cut down in deadly crossfire. On the outskirts, tough South Vietnamese marines and paratroopers were mopping up remnants of a Viet Cong invasion force at Tan Son Nhut airbase.

The mop-up operation brought the disclosure the Viet Cong had captured Vietnamese armored command headquarters a mile northeast of Tan Son Nhut and had occupied a corner of the Vietnamese armed forces general staff headquarters fortress adjacent to the base. The Vietnamese marines drove them out with blazing machine-guns.

As U.S. troops and Marines fought bloody battles for towns and villages in the northern areas of South Vietnam and in the Central Highlands the North Vietnamese army newspaper Nhan Dan—official voice of the Communist military—boasted it had seized the offensive.

A broadcast by Hanoi radio said the local population had risen up to aid the National Liberation Front in many areas including Hue and that "the South Vietnamese people and their armed liberation forces are firmly holding the initiative in their hands."

The report added to belief the offensive had been planned by North Vietnamese Defense Minister Vo Nguyen Giap, a master of guerrilla warfare who defeated the French and whose guerrilla tactics were reported pirated by Mao Tse-tung in mopping up remnants of a Viet Cong invasion force at Tan Son Nhut airbase.

Nixon, As Expected, Says He'll Enter Race

NEW YORK (UPI)—Richard M. Nixon today confirmed the general expectation. He will try again for the presidency.

The 55-year-old former vice president, who lost the presidency of the United States by a thimbleful of votes to John F. Kennedy in 1960, announced he would become a candidate for the Republican nomination this year, traveling the primary route.

"For these critical years, America needs new leadership," he said in a letter to the voters of New Hampshire announcing his candidacy in that state's nation-leading Republican presidential primary. He mentioned no other primary but he already has scheduled speeches in Wisconsin.

The statement was sent out from the office of bright young Nixon men recently set up here and known to political commentators as the "brain factory" or "brain trust." It signaled the formal putting aside of the $200,000-a-year law practice and life of private family contentment he has led since moving to New York after his 1962 defeat by Gov. Edmund G. Brown for the California governorship.

The Nixon for President Committee said the letter had been sent to "Republican, Democratic and independent voters of New Hampshire."

"In 1968, your responsibility is greater than ever," he wrote. "The nation is in grave difficulties, around the world and here at home. The choices we face are larger than any differences between the parties. They are beyond politics. Peace and freedom in the world, and peace and progress here at home, will depend on the decisions of the next president of the United States.

command headquarters a mile northeast of Tan Son Nhut and had occupied a corner of the Vietnamese armed forces general staff headquarters fortress adjacent to the base. The Vietnamese marines drove them out with blazing machine-guns.

As U.S. troops and Marines fought bloody battles for towns and villages in the northern areas of South Vietnam and in the Central Highlands the North Vietnamese army newspaper Nhan Dan—official voice of the Communist military—boasted it had seized the offensive.

America needs new leadership. "During 14 years in Washington, I learned the awesome nature of the great decisions a president faces. During the past eight years I have had a chance to reflect on the lessons of a public office, to measure the nation's tasks and its problems from a fresh perspective."

"And I believe I have found, some answers. I have decided, therefore, to enter the Republican presidential primary in New Hampshire."

A Gallup poll released Wednesday indicated most Republican voters still prefer Nixon. It showed him with a 3-2 lead over Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York and a 3-1 lead over Gov. George Romney of Michigan.

The announcement launched Nixon, 55, on his eighth campaign for public office in 22 years. He won the first six but lost the race for the presidency in 1960 by the slimmest popular vote margin in 76 years.

In the first-in-the-nation New Hampshire Republican presidential primary March 12, he will challenge Romney, who has termed himself the underdog but who has been active in a campaign to erase that status.

Nixon Goes Into Campaign With Trunk Full of IOUs

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Richard M. Nixon goes into the 1968 presidential campaign with a trunk full of IOUs from Republicans across the country.

Most of them like him, but many still want proof he is the strongest vote-getter the GOP can put up against President Johnson next November.

He is now the favorite to win the presidential nomination at the Republican national convention next August. But he is not the sure thing he was eight years ago when he was Dwight D. Eisenhower's heir apparent.

Having lost the presidency in 1960 and the California governorship in 1962, Nixon first must show he is not a loser.

He can try to accomplish this by winning presidential primaries—against Michigan Gov. George Romney in New Hampshire March 12, and against Romney and California Gov. Ronald Reagan in Wisconsin April 2, Nebraska May 14 and Oregon May 28.

Reagan purportedly will be entered in three of the key primaries only for legalistic reasons related to his favorite son candidacy in California. But there are reports that a formidable campaign may be mounted for him in Oregon.

As long as Reagan, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York and other possibilities are on the sidelines, Nixon's only major active opponent is Romney.

After his reelection triumph in 1966, Romney began sprinting downhill. He says he has reversed the downward trend in New Hampshire. Some Republicans reply that he had fallen so far that there was no place to go but up.

Nixon victories over Romney in the primaries would help him toward the nomination without proving much. None of the key primaries this year are in the heavily populated industrial states where he was weak in 1960.

Based on his eight years as vice president, Nixon will campaign as the candidate with experience. He speaks with an air of authority on national issues—especially on foreign policy—to voters nervous about the war in Vietnam and the possibility of nuclear war.

He also has a functioning campaign organization, organized eight months ago, with headquarters in both Washington and New York. He already has named state chairmen in 25 states. More than any other leading Republican, he is acquainted with GOP office holders and functionaries from county chairmen to national party leaders.

Four other prospects were interviewed Sunday.

Reports circulated Wednesday that Bill Waters, the board's attorney and J. C. Hinsley, counsel for ousted school superintendent, Dr. John Damron would try to work out a settlement prior to Damron's appeal hearing before J. W. Edgar, state commissioner of education.

Neither Waters nor Grady would confirm or deny the report of a possible settlement. When questioned about the report of a possible settlement out of court, Waters said, "I can't comment on it at all. I have talked to Mr. Hinsley, but this is privileged, a matter attorneys never talk about."

Dr. Damron appeared at the Pampa Junior High School where last night's closed meeting was held. He did not attend the meeting and left the main floor hall of the building after about 30 minutes. He was out of the city today on business.

Reportedly there was no discussion of the Damron case at the board meeting, which news reporters were not privileged to attend.

Washington Report

By BOB PRICE Staff Writer, 1968

A brighter aspect of the war in Vietnam is the support U.S. forces have from allies who have no doubts about the reasons for our — and their — involvement and the consequences of a pull-out or defeat.

One of the crack outfits we visited during a tour of South Vietnam bases and installations was a Republic of Korea infantry unit at Nha Trang. They were one of the best looking and best disciplined units we saw. Their officers gave us a briefing on their mission and assigned area of responsibility.

Another striking force is a new group of unified troops from several countries known as the American Forces. Represented in this unit are men from Australia, New Zealand, the Philippines, Korea, Thailand and South Vietnam. They are an efficient and highly mobile outfit, well trained and well led.

In fact, the morale of the men we visited everywhere in South Vietnam, Thailand and on the carrier Oriskany was superb. The only serious complaint we heard was about anti-war demonstrations and the peace-riots back home.

At a hospital in Saigon we visited with several Texas boys who were recuperating from wounds. Their chief concern seemed to be for their buddies still in combat and all of them were anxious to rejoin their units. Among these was Pfc. Kit Braga of Plainview who was doing well and expected to return to duty soon.

Other Panhandle boys I had the opportunity to visit with were Pfc. Don Manning of Amarillo who is in an infantry company; Leon Martin of Hereford on the USS Oriskany; Allen Thomas of Tulla who also was on the Oriskany; and Spec. 4 Guy Cloud of Pampa, an artilleryman.

While on the aircraft carrier, we were briefed by some of the lighter pilots and saw movies and slides taken during their attacks in the Hanoi and Haiphong areas. We also sat in on a pilot briefing on strike missions over North Vietnam and saw the bomb laden planes catapulted from the carrier.

In spite of the hazards of these strikes and the losses we have suffered, our Navy, Marine and Air Force pilots who carry out these missions display little concern for the dangers they face. Flying these speedy and sophisticated aircraft, particularly from carriers, requires the highest degree of training, coordination and nerve.

In Thailand, we visited an Air Force fighter squadron which also hits the Hanoi-Haiphong area and enemy supply routes. Their missions usually involve refueling in the air, a precise and intricate maneuver.

One of the amazing accomplishments of the entire Vietnam operation is the speed with which air bases, entire harbors, roads and other installations have been built. The supply problem has apparently been solved. We heard no complaints about shortages of any equipment or material and men even in forward combat areas have at least one hot meal a day.

Gen. Westmoreland and other commanders we saw seem optimistic about the progress of the war in spite of its slowness. And I certainly feel more confident of our progress after the visit and believe we have the best trained, best equipped and most efficient men we have ever had in all branches of our armed forces — men who are dedicated to their country and a cause in which they believe.

Our report to the chairman of the House Agriculture Committee on the Food for Peace program and the various other U.S. Agricultural assistance programs in South Vietnam and Thailand is now being prepared and there will be more on that later.

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI) Perhaps you have been wondering why I am so late filing my analysis of the fiscal 1969 federal budget, which was made public last Monday noon.

The reason is that I have been working under a handicap. It was my assignment to analyze the bright spots in the budget. Which is easily done. The problem was finding any bright spots to analyze.

I wore all the tread off my pretty brown eyes before I finally located a couple. Having analyzed them, it is now my pleasure to report that the government's fiscal condition is not as bad as a quick reading of the budget might indicate.

Note Debt Figure
For instance, you may have read that the national debt will reach the $298 billion level during the next fiscal year. And that may have given you (bleep bleep) headache No. 1,302.

Actually, the size of the debt depends on how you look at it. Viewed as money, it will be $8 billion bigger. Viewed topographically, it is the highest peak in the Western Hemisphere and second worldwide only to Mt. Everest.

But I found one graph which shows that the national debt is declining. Viewed as a percentage of the Gross National Product, it will be down 6 points from the 1965 figure. Feel better?

The other bright spot can be found in the section on government employment. Here we note that the estimated number of civilian workers in the executive branch will be 2,967,000—a 55,000-person increase.

No Hasty Conclusions
From these figures, you might spring to the conclusion that the federal bureaucracy is growing apace.

But once again the Budget Bureau, which studied under Einstein, is able to prove that all things are relative. (see footnote.)

When viewed as a percentage of all governmental employees—federal, state and local—the next year it will be down eight-tenths of one per cent. Thus we see that with the national debt declining in one respect and the federal bureaucracy shrinking in one respect, the new budget has some encouraging aspects. If the trend continues, we may soon get a tax increase.

Lie Detector Test Is Sought For Revealer of Plot Story

SAN ANGELO, Tex. (UPI) — The police chief said Wednesday the man who told of a plot to kill Arkansas Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller is willing to take a lie detector test and Arkansas authorities should not drop the matter.

"I will say this—I don't know what they have uncovered in Arkansas, but the man KZakar Garoogian is willing to take a lie detector test any time and anywhere," Police Chief Melvin James said.

Garoogian told police he had been approached by some men who wanted him to take part in a plot to assassinate Rockefeller. "It is up to the authorities up there in Arkansas now," James said.

The police chief said he was not at liberty to say whether anything had arisen to corroborate Garoogian's contentions.

Garoogian is to go on trial soon in San Angelo on a burglary charge.

Nursery Appeals For Furnishings

Mrs. Carneil Thompson, supervisor of the Bertha Redd Community Day Nursery at 401 Oklahoma St. has issued an appeal for cribs, crib mattresses, sheets and other furnishings for the recently founded nursery.

Mrs. Thompson, a former teacher who was named to the post several weeks ago, said the main need was for cribs and sheets.

Persons wishing to donate cribs, mattresses or other equipment to the nursery may either bring it to 401 Oklahoma Street or telephone Rev. Monroe Woods Jr. at MO 5-5623 or Lester Wood at MO 4-7741.

The nursery, which was incorporated during December, replaced the now-defunct Carver Negro Day Nursery.

Board of directors for the nursery are Rev. Woods, chairman, Lester Wood of the State Welfare Department, vice-chairman, and Harold Comer, secretary-treasurer. Other board members are Mrs. Bertha Redd, donor of the land and building for the nursery,

Pampa Rotary Club Sends Project Requirements

Pampa Rotary Club, sponsor of the First International Student Art Exchange program, has sent the project's requirements to Pampa teachers who will select student work to send overseas.

Rev. Sam B. Hulsey, chairman of the Rotarians' project, said club members here had mailed 73 letters to Rotary Clubs in several other countries and had received four letters on the project.

"Two, one in Kowloon, in Hong Kong and one in Hokkaido, Japan, were favorable. The other two were not," he stated.

"The date of our student art show will depend on how much and when we receive the art from other countries," Father Hulsey said.

Participants in the show may be ages 4 to 18 years old, and may work in several media.

and Mrs. Francis Fathree, president of the Pampa Junior Service League.

Media suggested include prepared with water colors, wax crayon, colored chalk, poster paints, block printing, pencil, ink, charcoal, cut paper, cloth, thin plastics, paper mache with flat surfaces, modeling paste, tapestries, textiles, creative stitching, hooked yarn, oils, acrylics, string, tempera and other media that can be mailed.

"Life in our part of the world would be interesting, but we want the children to feel as free as possible in the themes they select. The work in Pampa should be turned in to the International Student Art Exchange Committee by the last of March," Father Hulsey said.

John R. Reeve Jr., is co-chairman of the Rotary Club's committee here.

Four Pampa art teachers working with the project are Mrs. Tom Snow, St. Matthew Day School and St. Vincent de Paul Catholic School; Mrs. W.F. Skewes, Stephen F. Austin Ele-

Some Expenses Tax Deductible

By RAY DE CRANE
NEA Publications

By the nature of their employment some workers have out-of-pocket expenses during the year in connection with their job that are properly deductible on their income tax returns. If such expenses are reimbursed to you through an expense account and you account to your employer you have a stand-off—nothing to report and nothing to deduct.

But if your expenses are not covered by your employer or if your reimbursement is only in part, this is the opportunity to get full credit. Some of these items are properly claimed as "business expenses" on your return and others may be claimed only as "miscellaneous deductions" if you are itemizing deductions on your return. The distinction depends upon your work and whether you were reimbursed.

So-called outside salesmen, those whose principal job is selling on the road and away from the office—may deduct as business expenses all of their ordinary and necessary business expenses for which they were not reimbursed.

This might include all auto expenses; taxi charges; railroad, plane and steamship fares; cost of lodging and meals while away from home at least overnight; tips; baggage charges; laundry expense while in a travel status; secretarial help; telephone and telegraph charges; gifts to customers and prospects up to a yearly limit of $25 each, and all ordinary and necessary entertainment expenses.

If you do not qualify as an outside salesman you can claim as a Part III business deduction on your return only your necessary transportation and travel expenses. All other unreimbursed expenses must be claimed as a miscellaneous deduction if you itemize deductions on your return.

Instead of breaking down your auto expenses to determine your deduction you may claim a flat deduction of 10 cents for each of the first 15,000 business miles driven and seven cents for each mile thereafter.

A moving expense deduction may be claimed if you were transferred to another city by your employer or moved because you changed jobs. You must have expenses for which you were not reimbursed and failure to move would have meant an additional 20 miles or more each way in getting to work.

(NEXT: Listing dividends; charitable contributions.)

ROLL-UPS—Combine 1/2 cup dry bread crumbs, 1 tablespoon chopped parsley, 1 tablespoon chopped onion, 1/4 teaspoon curry powder, 1/4 teaspoon salt and 1 tablespoon melted butter. Measure 1 cup pie-sliced apples and chop. Add to crumb mixture. Spoon evenly on top of six fillets. Roll up and secure with toothpicks. Place in a shallow baking dish and brush with 2 tablespoons melted butter. Bake in a moderate (375 degree F.) for 40 minutes or until fish is done.

SAUCE—While roll-ups are baking, saute 1 tablespoon onion in 2 tablespoons butter. Add 1 teaspoon curry powder and remaining pie-sliced apples and saute 2 or 3 minutes until apples are well seasoned. Remove apples from saucepan. Melt 1 tablespoon butter in saucepan. Add 1 tablespoon flour and 1/2 teaspoon salt. Gradually stir in 1 cup milk. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly until thickened. Return apples to saucepan along with 1 tablespoon parsley; heat, serve over fillets. Makes 6 servings.

DEVILED SCALLOPS AND CRAB

4 tablespoons butter
1 package (12-ounce) frozen scallops, defrosted — or 1 lb. fresh scallops
1-8 cup flour
2 cups milk
1/4 cup finely chopped pimiento
2 tablespoons worcestershire sauce
1 tablespoon mustard
1 teaspoon salt and 1 teaspoon dry mustard

1/2 teaspoon tabasco
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1 package (6 or 8-ounce) frozen cooked crab meat or 1 can (7 1/2-ounce) crab
4 hard-cooked eggs, chopped
1/2 cup soft bread crumbs
2 tablespoons melted butter.

Melt butter in a heavy pan; cook defrosted scallops in butter until done. Remove scallops and set aside. Stir flour into butter and add milk; heat, stirring constantly with wire whip until mixture boils and thickens. Remove from heat and add pimiento and seasonings. Stir in scallops, crab and chopped eggs and pour into a well-buttered 1 1/2 quart casserole or in individual casseroles. Sprinkle with bread crumbs mixed with melted butter. Bake at 450 degrees for 20 minutes. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

PUFFY INSTANT POTATO SQUARES

1/4 cup chopped green pepper
1/4 cup chopped green onion
2 tablespoons butter
Mashed potatoes for 4
1-5 cup milk
4 eggs, separated
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/2 cup shredded cheese

Cook green pepper and green onion in butter until tender but not brown. Prepare potatoes for 4 servings, adding 1-3 cup more milk. Beat in egg yolks, one at a time. Add cooked pepper and onion, add salt and pepper. Beat egg whites until stiff. Fold potato mixture into beaten egg whites. Pour into a 10x6x1 1/2 inch baking dish. Bake at 350 degrees for 35 minutes or until done. Quickly sprinkle shredded cheese over the top. Cut into squares and serve immediately. Makes 6 servings.

While the puff bakes to a golden brown, you can prepare a frozen creamed vegetable or canned vegetables with a cream soup to serve as a sauce. Partner this delicious vegetable casserole with pan-fried or broiled canned luncheon meat, franks or hamburgers. Serve crisp pickle sticks, olives and pear slices and your meal is complete.

Cook's Tour

By JEANNE LESEM

UPI Food Editor
NEW YORK — A dessert that is even more American than an apple pie is angel food cake.

The American Institute of Baking says the first angel food cake was made in the Gay Nineties by a St. Louis restaurateur, S. Sides. The Institute says Sides managed to keep his recipe secret for a while and even had a lively export business shipping cakes to Europe.

Curious bakers soon found that Sides' special secret powder was only cream of tartar, a widely available product, and they, too, began making the new kind of cake. Now it is a standard, in ring and loaf shapes, at bakeries and markets.

Following are two recipes from the Institute's test kitchens for fancy desserts based on bakers' angel food cakes:

Crunchy orange angel cake can be made as far ahead of serving time as six hours, then covered loosely and refrigerated. Blend until smooth 1 (8-ounce) package of cream cheese with 1/2 cup of prepared sour cream, 1 drop of red food color and 2 drops of yellow food color. Mix in 2 tablespoons of grated orange rind and chill until mixture is of spreading consistency.

Peel, section and seed 1 large orange. Reserve five whole sections for garnish and cut the remainder into bite size pieces; add them to 1 cup of the cheese mixture, along with 1 cup of crushed peanut brittle.

Since 1 (12-ounce) loaf angel food cake horizontally into three equal-size pieces. Reassemble it by spreading the cheese, fruit and nut mixture between the layers; frost top and sides with the plain cheese mixture. Garnish with whole orange sections and 2 tablespoons of salted peanut u.s. Makes 10-12 servings.

Leftover angel food cake becomes a fancy dessert when you toast and serve it with this fruited topping. Mix 2 tablespoons of lemon juice with 1 cup of chopped unpeeled apples so that all cut surfaces are coated. Fold 1 cup of confectioners' sugar, the drained apples and 1 cup of washed fresh blueberries into 1/2 cup of heavy cream, whipped. If desired, 1 (10-ounce) package of frozen whole blueberries or raspberries or strawberry halves may be substituted for the fresh blueberries. Any frozen fruit should be thawed and well drained before using in this recipe. Makes 6 servings.

Wanda Mae Huff, Women's Editor

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Please tell Sammy, the painter, that a painter is not the only man whose work enables him to classify the various type of aggressive housewives.

I am a clergyman, and believe it or not, I have as many opportunities as the painter.

I no longer call on women at their homes unless I take my wife with me. (She sits in another room, but it's good insurance against lusty ladies who would make improper overtures.)

And if a woman comes to my office in a mini-skirt, my secretary has instructions to follow her in and place a large shawl over the visitor's knees. And when my secretary departs, per my orders, she leaves the door wide open.

In bygone years, it was the man who aggressively pursued the woman, but today, most women are far bolder than men.

I am a grandfather, in my early sixties, and not particularly handsome, but some of the propositions I have had from married sexpots would not be believed, even by you, my Dear Lady, who must have heard everything.

NO NAME, PLEASE
DEAR ABBY: Re. Your advice to the mother who was afraid to leave her children with Grandma because Grandma was such a poor driver: You suggested that she make Grandma promise not to take the children in the car with her before leaving them. I suspect that even if Grandma were to make such a promise she wouldn't keep it. Besides, may I point out that if Grandma is as poor a driver as the mother said she was, it matters little whether she has the children in the car with her, or if they happen to be in the car with which Grandma has an accident.

I would suggest that the mother write to the Driver's License Bureau at her State capitol, reporting Grandma's inability to drive. Grandma will then be asked to take a physical examination as well as a written examination which includes questions with regard to judgment and traffic laws. If Grandma passes these tests, then she is just as qualified to drive an automobile as anyone. If she fails, the reporter will have performed a public service by removing one more menace from the roads.

In case you are wondering why I am so familiar with this procedure, I reported my Grandpa in this manner, and now Grandpa doesn't drive anymore.

DID THE RIGHT THING
DEAR DID: This "procedure" may apply in your state, but I doubt if it applies in all—although I think it should.

DEAR ABBY: Is there something wrong with me? People tell me I'm cute and have a good personality. I can get almost any boy I want, but the only boy I want is one who belongs to somebody else.

I know it isn't right, Abby, but that's the way it is. I have lost lots of girl friends by taking their boy friends away from them, but I can't help it.

BORN FLIRT
DEAR FLIRT: You don't say how old you are, but if you are under 16, you may plead immaturity.

Hopefully, you'll soon realize that it's not the boy you want at all, it's the challenge. Teen age dating is a highly competitive game. But the "Prize" when won on a competitive basis may turn out to be a loss instead of a victory, so grow up, and be a little more selective.

Hep Cat Club Sponsors Presentation

Hep Cat Club members sponsored 16 girls in a formal presentation recently in the Coronado Inn Starlight Room. Kim Jones was named best pledge, and Sharon Kidd, sweetheart.

About 250 members and guests attended as each pledge was presented with a long stemmed rose. Honorees were given a dozen red roses and presented beneath an archway of lemon leaves and red roses.

Pledges honored were Jan Zuerker, Rhonda Taylor, Sue Bell, Diane Heiskell, Teresa Huston, Regina Ladd, Joan Maxey, Kathy Parsley, Kim Jones, Carolyn Hopkins, Becky Taylor, Laura Wells, Becky Giddens, and Karen Carey.

Club sponsors are Mrs. Jack Gray, Mrs. B. T. Brown and Mrs. Tom B. Dunn. Others

Area TOPS Club Crowns Royalty

SKELLYTOWN (Spl) —Skellytown Simmers TOPS Club met recently in the I.O.O.F. Hall with the club's new leader, Mrs. Evelyn Probst, presiding. Mrs. Sadie Lane was crowned queen of the week and received the first fruit basket, for her loss of nine pounds.

Mrs. Donna Moreland received a TOPS pin as runner-up for December. Mrs. Odell Hasler was crowned 1967 queen for a 45 pound loss and was awarded a silver rhinestone tiara.

It was announced an area rally day and the birthday of TOPS Club in Stinnett will be held Feb. 10. A luncheon in the school cafeteria here is planned. Members will make name tags for the area rally day.

Members and guests registered in a guest book made by Mrs. Lane and Mrs. Dorothy Horner.

The club reported a loss of 333 pounds or an average of 14 pounds per member for the year. First runner-up was Mrs. Probst with a loss of 41½ pounds, and second runner up was Mrs. Lane with a 33½ pound loss.

The salad supper was served from a table covered with a red cloth and centerpiece of artificial fruit in a cherry wood bowl. Red tapers and brass hurricane lamps with cut glass chimneys were placed beside the centerpiece.

Others present were Mmes Opal Gray, Larry Marlar, Jo Beigle, Edna Hale and Billie Stephenson.

Astrological Forecast

By CAROL L. RIGTER

Friday, February 1
ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) — You want to establish a new set of conditions but there are certain stumbling blocks in your way that need clearing up first. Avoid the social, tight no's, since there could be passionate disappointments following. Keep busy at practical affairs.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) — Be more alert instead of trying to change radically any condition about you. You could get into further hot water. You have troubles of your own, so don't waste time with those of others. Take it easy.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) — It is better to avoid going out with friends today, but if you must, be very diplomatic. You are undecided just what your desires are and could make some big mistakes. Get yourself under better control.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) — Avoid doing anything that could ruin your reputation or incur the wrath of a higher-up or it could lead to much loss for you. Use that fine courtesy, intelligence with which you are blessed. Be wise.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) — Be careful you don't jump into those fascinating new outfits, courses that could prove to be just a mirage. Be sure you follow through with every rule and law that applies to you directly. Do not get into trouble.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 21) — You must be more serious about monetary matters now or you can get in Dutch with partners who depend on you. Sacrifice a bit with loved one. This leads to far better understanding later.

LIBRA (Sept. 22 to Oct. 22) — Stop trying to highlight those differences between you and associates, or there could be a sad severance of connections. See where you may be in the wrong, and make amends. Give the other person the benefit of the doubt.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) — Why depend so much on others to do the duties that are really your own territory? Get busy and accomplish a good deal. Co-workers could be in a sad mood. Do your utmost to cheer them up.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) — Be careful you do not neglect handling some very important job in your desire to get out and have a good time. Being serious pays big dividends now. Evening is best for recreation you like.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) — Vital you do whatever makes your life at home more harmonious and that you get the O.K. of kin in some business or personal outlet you are planning. Be generous with little gifts. Show your affection.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) — If you plan to take a trip or get in touch with others who are close or at a distance, make sure you know what you are going to do or say. Avoid accidents, wrong words. Don't ally yourself with persons you know little about.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) — You must have a larger income now, so first get busy and rid yourself of unnecessary expense. Then study into new outlets that are promising. Wait until tomorrow before acting on them.

ULTRA FEMININE

ESTROGENIC HORMONE CREAM with PROGESTERONE

This is the face cream guaranteed to help you look younger in 30 days... or your money back.

ULTRA FEMININE is the only hormone face cream formulated with Estrogen and Progesterone. These are the natural female hormones that your body produces in ever-diminishing quantities as you grow older.

A BEAUTY COMEBACK! When Helena Rubinstein's medically tested Ultra Feminine supplies these hormones to a mature skin, skin cells can hold maximum moisture. Oil glands produce at a more youthful rate.

This simply means that lines and wrinkles due to moisture loss are reduced. The skin is soft and dewy, and a younger look may be attained.

Formentera is wanted in the massacre of 17 persons with a huge bolo Sunday in the Leyte province village. Police had no motive for the killings and said Formentera was "mentally ill."

Senate Report Charges Space Agency With Evasiveness

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Senate report charged today that evasiveness by government space officials compounded by "overconfidence and complacency" contributed to the Apollo spacecraft fire which took the lives of three U.S. astronauts a year ago.

The Senate Space Committee sternly criticized the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) for failing to advise Congress of pre-fire problems with North American Aviation, the prime contractor for the Apollo.

Individually, Sens. Walter F. Mondale, D-Minn., Edward W. Brooke, R-Mass., and Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., filed even harsher separate reports.

The fire at Cape Kennedy during a simulated test check of the space craft Jan. 27, 1967, caused the deaths of astronauts Virgil I. Grissom, Edward H. White and Roger B. Chaffee.

Mondale noted a report to alleged production shortcomings in late 1965, but said that Congress was not given the information.

Said Mondale: "NASA's performance—the evasiveness, the lack of candor, the patronizing attitude exhibited toward Congress, the refusal to respond fully and forthrightly to legitimate congressional inquiries, and the solicitous concern for corporate sensitivities at a time of national tragedy—can only produce a loss of congressional and public confidence in NASA programs. Ad neither NASA nor the nation can afford such a loss."

Rebels Coming To Town Friday

The undefeated Tascosa Rebels come to town tomorrow night to battle the first half District 3-4A basketball champion Pampa Harvesters in a crucial contest in Harvester Field House at 8 p.m.

Tascosa stands atop the standings for the second round with an unblemished 4-0 record. The Pampans have a 3-1 mark.

If Pampa can stop the Rebels tomorrow night and then go on to defeat the final four games, the championship and a bi-district play-off date will be sewed up.

If the second round standings wind up with a tie between Pampa and anybody else, the Harvesters win the district crown by virtue of the first half title.

Of course, if someone else besides Pampa wins the second round, then a play-off game will be slated.

The Shockers meet the Rebel "B" Team at 6:15 p.m. tomorrow before the varsity.

Other games in District 3-4A Friday night include: Amarillo at Monterey; Lubbock at Borger; Palo Duro at Coronado and Caprock at Plainview.

From The Morgue

One year ago today: Feb. 1, 1967

- Pampa cagers rested after clipping Caprock, 57-54, last night. Pampa's win was its twentieth of the season against six losses. Steve Williams hit 19, George Bailey had 13 and Bo Lang 12.
- SMU took the SWC lead away from TCU with a 60-58 win in Dallas last night.
- Mickey Mantle signed his 1967 contract for $100,000.

Five years ago today: Feb. 1, 1962

- Randy Matson, the strong arm wonder of the Panhandle, threw the shot 53-1 in a brief practice yesterday. The Pampa high schooler was tossing the 16-pound shot and not the 12-pounder which is regulation for schoolboys. That heave would win many college meets. Matson holds both state records in the shot put (64-7) and the discus (186-6 1/2).
- Kenny Hebert turned down an invitation to attend a track meet with Matson Saturday to run the hurdles because he has not had a chance to practice on the event any this year because he has been playing basketball.
- Keith Swanson paced Pampa to its 25th victory of the season over the Lubbock West-erners, 66-65, in the Coliseum. It was the twentieth consecutive victory of the season for the Harvesters and made them 10-0 in district. Swanson had 23 for Pampa and Matson had 14.
- Pentti Nikula of Finland set a pole vaulting record by soaring to a once-unbelievable 16-8 1/2. The leap came exactly one year after John Uelses of the United States topped the 16-foot barrier — a first in history.
- Arnold Palmer entered the Colonial National Invitation Golf Tournament.

To Play Or Not To Play?

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—To play or not to play. That's the question for Jimmy Brown, the actor-football player.

Brown, whose career as a National Football League running back had been filled with frustration with the Philadelphia Eagles, got a chance for a new starring role when he was traded to the Baltimore Colts for punt and kickoff returner Alvin Haymond.

The Colts, who only lost one game all last season, need a running back of Brown's caliber and he could be a smashing success with them.

But Brown, who may be following the footsteps of former Cleveland star Jimmy Brown, also has a budding singing and acting career and he's been talking of retiring from football to devote all his talents to show business.

With a chance to star on a new team, and a good one, Brown may be persuaded to stay.

Rosburg, Collins Lead Hope Golf

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (UPI)—The top pros on golf's money circuit face an easier task today on an easier course in the second round of the 90-hole, $122,000 Bob Hope Desert Classic.

Two veterans who have not recently shared in the big money led 136 pros after Wednesday's opening session.

Bob Rosburg, with a 33-34, and Bill Collins, at 34-33, were five-under-par at 67 over the Indian Wells course that is considered the easiest of four layouts used in this five-day marathon.

Lee Trevino, a young pro playing out of Horizon City, Tex., and seeking his first tournament win, was in the runnerup spot with a 35-33—68. The classic is played over Indian Wells, La Quinta, Bermuda Dunes and Eldorado—winter home of former President Eisenhower. All courses are 36-36—72 and the winner's target is $20,000.

Billy Casper, winner of last week's Los Angeles Open, was 33-37—70 at the toughest course, La Quinta, and considered himself well off to be two under. Arnold Palmer, runnerup at Los Angeles, had 37-35—72 over the same spread and said of his round, "They're all tough the way I'm striking." Both play the easier Eldorado course today.

Bunched at 69 were Monty Kaser, Ted Jakalena, Chuck Coody, Bobby Nichols, Dan Keefe, Miller Barber, Johnny Powell, Ed Furgol and Paul Harney. A group of 12 pros were with Casper at 70 and another 15 at 71. At even par along with Palmer were 15 play-for-pay golfers.

French Skier Threatens To Be One-Man Sweep

GRENOBLE, France (UPI)—A tall, ruggedly handsome skier by the name of Jean Claude Killy threatens a one-man sweep of Olympic alpine events—at least that's what the experts thought last year.

But now, with the Olympics only a week away, the blond Frenchman is a big question mark. The 24-year-old glamor boy of French athletes says pressures apart from skiing may affect his performance. He is involved in a complicated paternity suit with an Austrian hairdresser, who claims he is the father of her 5-year-old daughter.

While the press has had a heyday with the story, it has been rough on a man trying to get into peak form for the world's toughest competition. And, if last year's performance is any standard, his skiing has shown it.

In 1967 competition he took everything in sight—which brought on the predictions the 1968 Olympics would be a one-man show. But this year Killy failed to win both the Lauberhorn in Switzerland and the Hahnenkamm Trophy in Kitzbuehel, Austria—the two big pre-Olympic events.

Last week Killy decided he had enough and suddenly pulled out of the races at nearby Megeve, claiming he was "not in the mood" for skiing. When he will come to Grenoble to train for the alpine events at nearby Chamrousse remains to be seen.

The fact remains that he is the best skier in the world today and if he hits the top of his form there is nobody who can touch him.

America's best hope to take a medal is Billy Kidd from Stowe, Vt., who took the silver medal in the slalom in the 1964 Innsbruck Olympics. He has had some bad luck since then, breaking his leg badly in world championship training in 1966, keeping him out of action for 18 months.

But he seems to have regained his form and the 24-year-old University of Colorado student won one leg of the twin giant slalom in Megeve last week.

America's next best bet is Jimmy Heuga of Tahoe City, Calif., who placed just behind Kidd in the 1964 Olympic slalom to earn a bronze medal.

Hines, 31 Other Texans Picked in Football Draft

NEW YORK (UPI)—Jim Hines of Texas Southern University, co-holder of the world's 100-yard dash record along with Bob Hayes, was grabbed by the Miami Dolphins Wednesday during the second day of the combined pro football draft.

Hines was one of 14 Texans picked during the sixth through the eleventh rounds of the draft Wednesday, making 32 Texans picked since the draft began Tuesday morning.

Hines, who has run the 100 in 9.1, had indicated to Joe Thomas, the Dolphins' director of player personnel, he would pass up this year's Olympics for the chance to play at Miami. He was picked in the sixth round.

The pros continued to show a liking for members of the University of Texas at El Paso roster. UTEP tackle Thurman Randle was picked in the sixth round by the Philadelphia Eagles.

Four North Texas State Eagles were also picked. Defensive tackle Henry Holland was drafted by Atlanta in the ninth round, center Lindon Endsley was picked by Kansas City in the eighth round, tackle Ed Brantley went to Cincinnati in the eighth round and flanker James Russell was also drafted by Cincinnati during the tenth round.

Other Texans picked included tackle Howard Fest from Texas, selected by Cincinnati in the sixth round; running back Jim Hagle of Southern Methodist, picked by Atlanta in the sixth round; defensive back Tom Pa-

Vince Announces Future Tonight

GREEN BAY, Wis. (UPI)—Vince Lombardi, who made winning a way of life with the Green Bay Packers, will let the world know tonight whether he will come back as coach next fall.

Lombardi, whose contract with the world professional football champions runs through 1973 season, has called a dinner-ness conference at which he is scheduled to make an announcement of interest "pertaining to my future."

And, in most quarters, the betting is that he will step down as coach, stay with the Packers as general manager and name defensive aide Phil Bengtson as new head coach.

Track Meet Is in Trouble

NEW YORK (UPI)—The boycott of the New York Athletic Club's indoor track and field meet seems to be such a success that it threatens to cripple the meet.

The latest team to pull out of the meet Wednesday night was Villanova, traditionally one of the strongest teams in the East. The meet is scheduled for the new Madison Square Garden on Feb. 16.

Houston Run Out of Gym

HOUSTON (UPI)—The University of Houston basketball team is No. 1 in the nation, but they're not No. 1 in their own practice gymnasium.

The Cougars have been run out of Jepsen Gymnasium and Delmar Field House, their two practice gyms, by girls volleyball teams and junior high school and junior varsity basketball teams.

The reason is both gyms belong to the Houston public schools and the University of Houston only rents them when they are available.

Coach Guy Lewis likes to practice his team from 3 to 5:30 p.m. daily, but about half the time a volleyball or basketball game is scheduled at 4:30 or 4:45.

players it has, should be shooting 70 per cent.

"The players can't stay after practice and shoot free throws," Lewis said. "And the gyms have only baskets at each end. They don't have any practice goals along the side which the players could use."

"At the end of practice, we have about six guys at each end taking turns and hurrying to get through so we get out on time," he said.

None of the Cougars can come to the gym and work out on his own if he is in a slump because the gym is either in use or closed. But slumps haven't been a problem yet for the unbeaten Cougars.

The no-gym situation has been a factor in recruiting. Lewis has circumvented it somewhat by showing prospective athletes a model of the university's proposed gym and sports arena. Gary Phillips, a former Cougar star, said he remembered when Lewis showed him a model, back in 1957. But the days of using the model are over.

Ground was broken last spring and the school's $7 million sports complex, which includes two gymnasiums, will be ready in a year.

The Sports Patrol

By STEVE SNIDER
UPI Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UPI)—"Big Brother" is watching over the athletic Youth of America as never before in history.

Any youngster, anywhere, with any sort of marketable talent in baseball, football, basketball, golf or tennis can be sure "Big Brother" in the big leagues knows all about him.

The continuing explosion in pro sports has produced a vast increase in scouting. The football people even run the kids through a computer to assess their physical talents and potential.

"We measure everything except the size of their hearts," said Allie Sherman of New York's football Giants. And he can't be sure some rival club hasn't done that, too.

Last weekend in New York, major league baseball earmarked 290 high school and college free agents for possible future pro careers.

Most of them are unknowns outside their home towns. Most of us never even heard of some of those home towns.

But "Big Brother" in the big leagues knows. Out of similar drafts have come such bright new stars as Tom Seaver of the New York Mets, Gary Nolan of the Cincinnati Reds, Rich Nye of the Chicago Cubs.

This week, the once warring pro football leagues mercilessly parceled out last year's college seniors, letting them know which team they would have to play for if, indeed, they were to be allowed to play at all.

The merger took all the fun out of the annual draft and much of the money, too, for the top stars.

But what the merger also did was to provide a total of 26 more or less financially healthy football teams that in the long run will include more jobs at higher pay for all hands.

Computer scouting turned up a few football surprises in the first round and long before Heisman Trophy winner Gary Beban had his name called by the Los Angeles Rams as no. 30 on the list.

Linebacker Fred Carr of University of Texas at El Paso figured to go fairly high but even he was flabbergasted at being pulled fifth—and by the Packers.

Green Bay also turned up offensive guard Ell Lueck of Arizona as No. 28 in the first round and you have to wonder about an offensive guard from Arizona who goes ahead of a Heisman Trophy winner.

"Big Brother" obviously knows something. It's even more obvious when "Big Brother" in this case is Vince Lombardi, master of the Packers.

In pro basketball, the two rival leagues still have separate drafts and hence more fun or confusion as the case may be. But not many good ones get away.

In pro golf, the man seeks the job but the PGA is the "Big Brother" in this field and it keeps watching.

Marty Fleckman, Ron Cerrudo, Bob Murphy, Jim Grant and Bob Dickson, all members of last year's amateur Walker Cup team, have turned professional hoping for a share of that loot on the pro circuit.

Veteran amateur Dean Beaman deserted the ranks a year ago.

The tennis picture is somewhat cloudy on the matter of "open" tournaments but scouts for the U.S. Lawn Tennis Association always are on the prowl for new prospects for the big time.

And there are two pro leagues operating this year to siphon off the best players in the future—if "open" tennis fails.

Ski Tournament Slated Sunday

The annual Eskimo Water Ski Tournament will be held Sunday at 1 p.m. near Vista Point at Lake Meredith.

The Borger Boat and Ski Club is the sponsor. Registration will be held from 10 a.m. until noon. Clubs expected to enter the contests for team trophy are those from Amarillo, Pampa, Lubbock and Borger.

Exhibition ski events will appear on the program. Kite flying and barefoot water skiing will be demonstrated by members of the Borger water sports club.

There will be no admission charge for the sports events which will be held near the Fortress Cove Marina on Lake Meredith.

Chargers Draft Two Buffaloes

CANYON — San Diego's Chargers picked up a pair of West Texas State footballers in Wednesday's pro football drafting.

The American Football League club picked Jimmy Campbell in the 14th round and grabbed Dan Andrews in the 17th round.

Campbell, former Odessa Ector end, was drafted as a linebacker. The 6-3, 219-pounder played defensive tackle at WT-SU. The Charger coach who talked to Jim shortly after he was named by that team said he was the first linebacker to be drafted by the Chargers.

Andrews, 6-2, 220-pounder from Los Angeles, was drafted as a tight end, the same position he played for the Buffaloes.

PETERS INJURED

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—Center Garry Peters of the Philadelphia Flyers will be out of action for the rest of the season because of an eye injury suffered Dec. 24 in a game against New York.

Bud Polle, general manager of the National Hockey League club, called the loss "a very serious blow" to the title hopes of the Flyers, who lead the Western Division.

Feud Discussion Slated Today

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Sports Arbitration Board, Senate sponsored and headed by labor mediator Theodore Kheel, makes its recommendations today to settle the feud between the Amateur Athletic Union (AAU) and the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) over the control of amateur athletics in the United States.

The recommendations will be announced at 2 p.m. CST when Kheel submits his report to Vice President Hubert Humphrey.

The nation's track and field performers, who will carry the American prestige into the Olympic Games at Mexico City this September, are the key issue in the dispute.

A source close to the Kheel panel said of the long detailed report: "It is binding and this is

Everybody Is Somebody

The unforgettable experience of our lives is that everybody is somebody.

In the malaise of world problems, it's the individual who makes life worthwhile. Your friends, a cheerful and sincere "hello", the trusting smile of a child, stopping your car to give an elderly or crippled person time to cross the street.

These we understand. And appreciate. These we understand. And appreciate.

What most of us feel but don't understand is the changing tempo that feeds us on statistics, stuffs us on figures, tells us to lean on Uncle Sam. We've been accustomed to doing for ourselves, enjoy the feeling of accomplishment when we have worked at it.

We're gored with surveys, told that Gallup's latest shows Nixon might give Johnson a close race. We're supposed to believe in mass statistics, but the mass leaves us cold. So does Johnson's concern. There's no such thing as the average person. How are you going to build a middle road for him?

Most of us are so mesmerized by millions and billions and even trillions that they do not mean anything anymore. How many people understand that a $30 billion deficit means another $150 in indebtedness for each member of his family? That the wonderland of our fantastic national debt of $362 billions of dollars means that a family of five has an unseen financial shadow of a $9,000 mortgage hanging over its head?

All of these figures can be confusing. They make us wonder if we're not being tricked into believing some sort of a super politician will perform some magic, a kind of a group magic that somehow removes shadows. But we cannot quite believe it will remove debts. That hasn't been our individual experience.

Collectivism dehumanizes us, makes big figures out of us, and in the end deceives us. Which brings us back to the fact that everybody is somebody. After all isn't that what the Carpenter reared at Nazareth told us?

Strange Contradiction

A Communist is protected in his defense job, but a non-union worker isn't.

This strange contradiction arises from the recent Supreme Court decision overruling the 1950 Subversive Activities Control Act. It permits Communists to work in defense plants, if they are dues-paying union members.

But there's a large group of patriotic Americans who prize their independence to the extent they resent having to pay union dues to work in defense plants. The Supreme Court may get around to considering this disparity of interpretations of the U.S. Constitution. It ruled in the Robel case that a person's association with a group — no matter how questionable the group — is not cause to penalize with loss of a job.

Which raises the question: Isn't the reverse true — does a man have to agree to belong to a union group before he can be considered for a job?

The courts now have on docket two court challenges to compulsory unionism, one in California, the other in Oklahoma. Strange as it may seem, the ruling allowing Communists in defense plants advances a line of thinking which, if fair, may return the right to work to millions of loyal Americans.

Fun Now, Pay Later

This is our idea of a real philanthropist.

An anonymous alumnus of Wofford College in Spartanburg, S. C., has set up a loan fund to make sure that no one goes through the college "without having any fun."

The donor got the idea for the fund when he was a senior at Wofford, way back in 1939 and could not raise the money to rent a tuxedo or buy his girl a corsage for a school dance.

According to the story of the National Observer, all upperclassmen, if they have passing grades and are deemed "worthy and reliable" by college administrators, can borrow up to $50 interest-free to finance dates, fraternity parties, hi-fi equipment or just about anything that will give them enjoyment.

The only stipulation is that they must certify that the money won't be squandered on such things as school fees, room and board or books. The loans are repayable in four months, with a $1 administrative charge.

Reds Get Clues To US Codes

By RAY CROMLEY
Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA) — From an intelligence standpoint, North Korea's capture of the USS Pueblo is a very serious matter, indeed.

If some of the Pueblo's sensitive equipment was captured intact or not fully destroyed, this incident could mean a quite unfortunate breach of U.S. security.

Naval intelligence collection ships carry sensitive coding and decoding equipment. They also carry sophisticated communications and radar equipment that could be of considerable interest to an unfriendly foreign power.

Probably the Pueblo carried a destruct button which, when pressed, was programmed to destroy the coding and decoding equipment and other gadgetry not supposed to fall into the hands of enemy forces.

It is hoped that the security officer on the Pueblo pressed this destruct button. Certainly he had ample warning of what was to happen and more than enough time to act.

But experience has shown that destruct buttons do not always work as scheduled. Take, for instance, the case of the pilot Powers, whose U-2 intelligence plane was shot down over the Soviet Union. There was a destruct button in that plane, but for some reason or another it did not work as it was supposed to.

It has been found that destruct explosions — even when they operate — destroy only a part of the equipment, but do not obliterate it completely.

In such cases, experts in coding equipment are able to reconstruct parts of the machine from the pieces left. From these reconstructed parts, the code men are able to determine to some extent how the coding equipment operates. They may learn enough to determine something about the codes used.

Usually, in fact, after the explosion there's something for specialists to work on.

Therefore, as a matter of routine, all U.S. codes that might be compromised by the capture of the Pueblo will be changed immediately.

But this won't retract coded messages the U.S. signal men have sent out in the Far East in the recent past.

Information gathered from the parts and pieces of the coding equipment aboard the Pueblo could give the Soviet Union some codes used by the United States in Asia in the recent past. Assuming the Communist intelligence nets have kept tape recordings of all coded classified U.S. messages sent in the area during this period, the Pueblo capture could possibly enable the Russians (after considerable research, to be sure) to decipher and read parts of these secret communications.

This assumes that the North Koreans, currently on Moscow's side in the Sino-Soviet split, will give the Russians immediate access to the Pueblo. Soviet possession and study of pieces of coding gadgetry from the U.S. ship would not automatically enable the Red specialists to read future U.S. coded messages.

But a careful study of the charred after-explosion material from the Pueblo could help the Communist experts to better understand current U.S. coding and decoding techniques. It could, therefore, put the Soviet Union a step forward in their attempts to break future U.S. codes.

Anybody For Re-Runs

(Anderson, Ind., Herald)
Columnist Paul Harvey said the other day that he actually likes television re-runs. He mentioned some of the shows he'd like to see again. Among them:

1. The Presidential press conference of December, 1965, in which LBJ promised to reduce the number of federal employees.
2. The scene in Enola, Okla., on Sept. 25, 1964, when LBJ campaigning for re-election, of course — said, "We don't want our boys to do the fighting for Asian boys — to get tied down in a land war in Asia."
3. The newsreel of August, 1965, where President Johnson urged young people to protest,

Uncle Sam is making a big thing out of a proposed 150-mile-an-hour train that will run between Boston and Washington, D.C. That's nothing because the French have a wheel-less train that has been clocked at 215 mph in a special test run.

The French train rides on a cushion of air one-tenth of an inch thick along a concrete track that looks in cross-section like an inverted T. The U.S. train, however, will be conventional in appearance and operation whereas the French model will be driven by a turbo-propeller. Both will prove an innovation in railroading.

Today's smile: A family was entertaining a guest at dinner and the mother noticed that her daughter, who had set the table, neglected to give the guest any silver. She said: "Kathy, please get Mr. Smith a knife, fork and spoon." Kathy replied: "He won't need them. You said he eats like a horse."

The Post Office Department is endeavoring to develop a zip code reader in device that will enable parcel post clerks to read zip codes from packages into a computer connected microphone. The computer will identify the spoken numbers and route the package to the proper sorting station by automatic conveyor. That might give some zip to the zip code after all.

Thoughts while shaving: They used to wonder how they could keep them down on the farm, but rural living is just the thing these days with all the city comforts and conveniences. Nearly 80 per cent of the nations' farms have telephones and most of it is dial service. There's also electric lighting and power in even the most remote places. Ever hear of "Femmilan"? Well, it was a paste made by American Indians from cranberries that was used as a poultice for cuts and wounds. The juice of the berry was also used for a red dye. Of course, that was long before anyone discovered that cranberry juice mixed nicely with vodka and left you "breathless". One of the best safety tips we know is that of the American Insurance Association, which advises that whenever you go into a school, theater, church, or other place of public assembly that you locate the nearest exit, just in case you need to know. The AIA says it can save your life. We agree.

The oldest known printed book in the world is a 16-foot Buddhist scroll that was printed in 868 A.D. It's a prize exhibit in the British Museum in London. We have never seen one, but we understand a firm in Dayton, Ohio, manufactures Golden Sahara Automobiles that retail for about $75,000. The Seattle (Washington) TIMES headlined a story: "Folk-Singer Bum Was Bum Folk-Singer Then Back To Being Bum." Maybe being a bum paid better than being a bum folk singer.

HUNT OR TRUTH

By H. L. HUNT

LESS HATE IN '68
One emotion that freedomists should absolutely rule out of their hearts and minds during the New Year in 1968 is hate, including hate for those who seek to destroy freedom. The freedom fight is a joyous and constructive crusade. It has no place for destructive hate.

It is not necessary to look for a selfish motive of the enemy. He may have none. He has a fanatical conviction that his effort will bring about a perfect society in 500 or 1000 years. In the meantime, he wants an all-powerful state. He is thoroughly dedicated to the advancement of this fantasy. The best weapon to use against him is truth, which freedomists have on their side.

Nor is it necessary to spend valuable time arguing with the enemy. The atheist and dictator-minded is likely to be far better trained in debate than the patriotic advocate of freedom. He has been practicing for a long time. A far better course is to try to reach his dupes, who often can be converted if the case for Christianity and freedom is clearly stated and they are left to think it over.

The freedomist should take his stand with clear confidence and

There is another fly in the political ointment. He is G. C. Wallace, a new Bull Moose in the Briar Patch. What he wants to do is upset the apple cart and kick the donkey and goad the elephant. And he is.

He is planning to get on the ballot in 48 states and says he's already got 128 electoral votes in his pocket. Wallace is asking the question, "Can a former truck driver who is married to a former dime-store clerk be elected President?"

Well, this qualifies him for settling truck strikes. And he probably knows a good silver dime when he sees one. I don't figure a President needs to know much of anything else.

Our trouble lately has been too many Presidents who have been buddies with world leaders but didn't know their garbage man.

It might be a relief to get hold of somebody who couldn't tell a bayonet from a pogo stick.

If he didn't savvy how to start wars with all them other little countries I bet they wouldn't start one with us. Why, maybe those big aggressor countries like N. Viet Nam would stop picking on us altogether.

Country Editor speaking: "Vice-President Marshall knew what he was talking about. What this country really needs is a good five-cent cigar."

The Doctor Says:

By DR. WAYNE BRANDSTADT
Calcium Is Lacking In Diet Without Milk
A mother asks how much milk a 2-year-old child should drink every day and whether there are any vitamin tablets her daughter could take in place of milk. A growing child should get three or four full 8-ounce glasses of milk a day. She will get enough of all essential food elements, including vitamins, in a well-balanced diet that does not include any milk, with one exception—calcium. A deficiency of calcium will result in softening of the bones and poor teeth. When a child doesn't like milk as such, she should get it in the form of cheese, ice cream or other foods that are made with milk.

Q—Should my 5-and 9-year-old children see a doctor when sinus trouble first appears or wait two or three weeks to see whether it will go away?
A—There is some sinus involvement with every head cold. If your child has an acute sinusitis in which drainage from a sinus is blocked, he will have fever and severe pain and tenderness in the region of the sinus. For such a condition, he should be seen by a doctor without delay. For a head cold that hangs on for more than three weeks, it is also wise to see your doctor.

Q—Our 14-year-old son takes Dilantin every night. Is this drug habit forming? Does it have any bad side effects?
A—This drug is not habit forming. Persons with epilepsy take it all their lives. If such side effects as drowsiness occur, the dosage may have to be reduced. Stomach upsets are prevented by giving it after meals.

Q—Our 1-year-old son tees in when he walks. Can this be corrected? When would be the best time for this?
A—This condition, pigeon toe, when slight, is an advantage because it favors a high-arched foot and straight legs. If the condition is severe enough to interfere with walking, it should be corrected by inserting a 1/4 to 1/2-inch lift in the outer (lateral) side of the soles of the shoes. This is done when he starts to wear shoes instead of booties.

Q—What is the best treatment for a small child who has a high fever, vomiting and diarrhea?
A—Many acute infectious diseases in children start this way. The first step is to call your pediatrician, who will determine the cause and decide what treatment is needed.

And now, a peek into the mailbox:
DEAR DR. CANNEL: The latest FBI report shows that the crime rate in the nation is still climbing. In the United States today, a man is robbed every 16 minutes. What can be done about this situation?
ANSWER: If you will send the man's name and address to us here at the Institute, we will try to help him with several informative booklets.

DEAR DR. CANNEL: As mayor of a great metropolis, I try to run a stable administration. But despite my best efforts, I find that air and water pollution account for six fatalities per month. How can this problem be solved?
ANSWER: Computer studies here at the Institute show that six fatalities per month is not enough to stabilize a city. You should supplement your air and water pollution program with a deterioration of the public schools, curtailed commuter rail service, and an urban redevelopment program aimed at replacing dwellings with office buildings.

DEAR DR. CANNEL: As part of a fund-raising and membership drive, our PTA is planning to do an organ transplant during graduation week. How can we get this affair televised? Also, do you know anyone who will donate a left lateral incisor?
ANSWER: Yours is a common problem. Simply send two box tops to us here at the Institute for the informative booklet: "Selling the Community on Stability."

DEAR DR. CANNEL: I am engaged to a wonderful Yale junior and plan to marry as soon as his divorce is final. However, my parents insist that I wait until I am graduated from high school. Please tell them it's not necessary to wait.
ANSWER: As regular readers know, the Institute does not advise parents, churches or other stable structures of society.

DEAR DR. CANNEL: No matter how carefully our admissions office screens applicants, the school continues to admit students who dream of glory as revolutionaries. This belligerent nonsense causes a great dislocation, especially during the nap hour and sand box play. What can be done about this situation?
ANSWER: Nothing.

The Almanac

By United Press International
Today is Thursday Feb. 1, the 32nd day of 1968 with 334 to follow.

The moon is between the new phase and first quarter.

The morning star is Venus. The evening stars are Mercury, Mars, Saturn and Jupiter.

On this day in history:
In 1790 the U.S. Supreme Court held its first session, in New York City.

In 1896 Dr. Truman Martin, Buffalo, N.Y., was issued the first insurance policy covering an automobile driver.

In 1963 a Lebanese airliner and a Turkish air transport collided over Ankara, Turkey, killing 95 persons.

In 1966 comedian Buster Keaton died and Patricia Kennedy, sister of the late President John F. Kennedy, divorced actor Peter Lawford.

A thought for the day: American President Thomas Jefferson said, "Delay is preferable to error."

Soon to be (they say): A chlorine scented deodorant, so you'll smell like you have a swimming pool whether you have one or not.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

The World Almanac notes that Dr. Boris Bychenko, a Russian member of the U.N. World Health Organization's Bacteriology Unit, did a world wide study which showed that tetanus kills some 50,000 people a year, more deaths than those from smallpox, rabies, plague, anthrax and polio. Ironically, lockjaw is easy to prevent by vaccination, but once it sets in it usually is fatal.

It is hoped that the security officer on the Pueblo pressed this destruct button. Certainly he had ample warning of what was to happen and more than enough time to act.

But experience has shown that destruct buttons do not always work as scheduled. Take, for instance the case of the pilot Powers, whose U-2 intelligence plane was shot down over the Soviet Union. There was a destruct button in that plane, but for some reason or another it did not work as it was supposed to.

It has been found that destruct explosions — even when they operate — destroy only a part of the equipment, or destroy all the equipment, but do not obliterate it completely. In such cases, experts in coding equipment are able to reconstruct parts of the machine from the pieces left. From these reconstructed parts, the code men are able to determine to some extent how the coding equipment operates. They may learn enough to determine something about the codes used.

Usually, in fact, after the explosion there's something for specialists to work on.

Therefore, as a matter of routine, all U.S. codes that might be compromised by the capture of the Pueblo will be changed immediately.

But this won't retract coded messages the U.S. signal men have sent out in the Far East in the recent past.

Information gathered from the parts and pieces of the coding equipment aboard the Pueblo could give the Soviet Union some codes used by the United States in Asia in the recent past. Assuming the Communist intelligence nets have kept tape recordings of all coded classified U.S. messages sent in the area during this period, the Pueblo capture could possibly enable the Russians (after considerable research, to be sure) to decipher and read parts of these secret communications.

This assumes that the North Koreans, currently on Moscow's side, in the Sino-Soviet split, will give the Russians immediate access to the Pueblo. Soviet possession and study of pieces of coding gadgetry from the U.S. ship would not automatically enable the Red specialists to read future U.S. coded messages.

But a careful study of the charred-after-explosion material from the Pueblo could help the Communist experts to better understand current U.S. coding and decoding techniques. It could, therefore, put the Soviet Union a step forward in their attempts to break future U.S. codes.

Anybody For Re-Runs

(Anderson, Ind., Herald)
Columnist Paul Harvey said the other day that he actually likes television re-runs. He mentioned some of the shows he'd like to see again. Among them:

1. The Presidential press conference of December, 1965, in which LBJ promised to reduce the number of federal employees.

2. The scene in Eufala, Okla., on Sept. 25, 1964, when LBJ campaigning for re-election, of course — said, "We don't want our boys to do the fighting for Asian boys — to get tied down in a land war in Asia."

3. The newsworld of August, 1965, where President Johnson urged young people to protest,

Uncle Sam is making a big thing out of a proposed 150-mile-an-hour train that will run between Boston and Washington, D.C. That's nothing because the French have a wheelless train that has been clocked at 215 mph in a special test run. The French train rides on a cushion of air one-tenth of an inch thick along a concrete track that looks in cross-section like an inverted T. The U.S. train, however, will be conventional in appearance and operation whereas the French model will be driven by a turbo-propeller. Both will prove an innovation in railroading.

Today's smile: A family was entertaining a guest at dinner and the mother noticed that her daughter, who had set the table, neglected to give the guest any silver. She said, "Kathy, please get Mr. Smith a knife, fork and spoon." Kathy replied: "He won't need them. You said he eats like a horse."

The Post Office Department is endeavoring to develop a zip code reader in device that will enable parcel post clerks to read zip codes from packages into a computer connected microphone. The computer will identify the spoken numbers and route the package to the proper sorting station by automatic conveyor. That might give some zip to the zip code after all.

Thoughts while shaving: They used to wonder how they could keep them down on the farm, but rural living is just the thing these days with all the city comforts and conveniences. Nearly 80 per cent of the nations' farms have telephones and most of it is dial service. There's also electric lighting and power in even the most remote places. Ever hear of "Pemmican"? Well, it was a paste made by American Indians from cranberries that was used as a poultice for cuts and wounds. The juice of the berry was also used for a red dye. Of course, that was long before anyone discovered that cranberry juice mixed nicely with vodka and left you "breathless". One of the best safety tips we know is that of the American Insurance Association, which advises that whenever you go into a school, theater, church, or other place of public assembly that you locate the nearest exit, just in case you need to know. The AIA says it can save your life. We agree. The oldest known printed book in the world is a 16-foot Buddhist scroll that was printed in 868 A.D. It's a prize exhibit in the British Museum in London. We have never seen one, but we understand a firm in Dayton, Ohio, manufactures Golden Sahara Automobiles that retail for about $75,000. The Seattle (Washington) TIMES headlined a story: "Folk-Singing Bum Was Bum Folk-Singer Then Back To Being Bum." Maybe being a bum paid better than being a bum folk singer.

Country Editor speaking: "Vice-President Marshall knew what he was talking about. What this country really needs is a good five-cent cigar."

HUNT OR TRUTH

LESS HATE IN '68

One emotion that freedomists should absolutely rule out of their hearts and minds during the New Year in 1968 is hate, including hate for those who seek to destroy freedom. The freedom fight is a joyous and constructive crusade. It has no place for destructive hate.

It is not necessary to look for a selfish motive of the enemy. He may have none. He has a fanatical conviction that his effort will bring about a perfect society in 500 or 1000 years. In the meantime, he wants an all-powerful state. He is thoroughly dedicated to the advancement of this fantasy. The best weapon to use against him is truth, which freedomists have on their side.

Nor is it necessary to spend valuable time arguing with the enemy. The atheist and dictator-minded is likely to be far better trained in debate than the patriotic advocate of freedom. He has been practicing for a long time. A far better course is to try to reach his dupes, who often can be converted if the case for Christianity and freedom is clearly stated and they are left to think it over.

The freedomist should take his stand with clear confidence and a certainty of purpose which can be understood by all. The man who is obviously sure of himself and his beliefs finds it far from difficult to persuade others to work with him and share his goals. Expressions of hate bring natural resistance; affirmative expressions on behalf of freedom bring understanding and acceptance. It can be seen which system is best.

Editor:

As America once again grovels before the U.N., pleading for release of the USS Pueblo and crew, we should review some facts concerning this communist-spawned organization. Let us recall that after a brief debate in the Senate, the U. N. Charter became "law of the land", and the only dissenting votes came from the only two senators who had read the Charter.

Let us recall that the U. N. Charter (copied from the Soviet Constitution), was written by two State Dept. Communists — Alger Hiss and Leo Pasvolsky. Peace was offered as an anaesthetic to the free world. While the free world slept, the Reds took over Poland, Rumania, Yugoslavia, East Germany, Hungary and Cuba, to name but a few!

Do you know that, by secret agreement of Hiss and Molotov, the Chief of the U.N. Military Staff (Security Council) is to be permanently a Communist? During the Korean war (same for Vietnam), our boys fought under a Communist in the Security Council of the U.N.

General MacArthur was not allowed to win (sound familiar?), and every plan he made was first relayed to the enemy in North Korea via the U. N. Security Council. When MacArthur tried to warn the American people, he was immediately released from command and called home by then-President Truman. Over 145,000 American boys were maimed and murdered for nothing in the Korean "police action".

It should be obvious that the U. N. does not seek peace, but world empire! This Trojan Horse was promoted by the "invisible government" of the U.S., the Council on Foreign Relations (CFR). This evil enemy is now firmly entrenched in every government office, with headquarters in New York.

If the American people do not face these facts, and take a stand, we will soon be buried, as Khrushchev predicted!

Either we clean out the Reds now, or we will pay and pay in blood, tears and complete loss of freedom and sovereignty.

For several years, Cong. James Utt (Calif.) has offered a bill to get us out of the U.N., and I suggest you write and support this effort immediately. Also contact as many representatives as possible, federal

The Doctor Says:

By DR. WAYNE BRANDSTADT

Calcium Is Lacking In Diet Without Milk

A mother asks how much milk a 2-year-old child should drink every day and whether there are any vitamin tablets her daughter could take in place of milk. A growing child should get three or four full 8-ounce glasses of milk a day. She will get enough of all essential food elements, including vitamins, in a well-balanced diet that does not include any milk, with one exception — calcium. A deficiency of calcium will result in softening of the bones and poor teeth. When a child doesn't like milk as such, she should get it in the form of cheese, ice cream or other foods that are made with milk.

Q—Should my 5-and 9-year-old children see a doctor when sinus trouble first appears or wait two or three weeks to see whether it will go away?

A—There is some sinus involvement with every head cold. If your child has an acute sinusitis in which drainage from a sinus is blocked, he will have fever and severe pain and tenderness in the region of the sinus. For such a condition, he should be seen by a doctor without delay. For a head cold that hangs on for more than three weeks, it is also wise to see your doctor.

Q—Our 14-year-old son takes Dilantin every night. Is this drug habit forming? Does it have any bad side effects?

A—This drug is not habit forming. Persons with epilepsy take it all their lives. If such side effects as drowsiness occur, the dosage may have to be reduced. Stomach upsets are prevented by giving it after meals.

Q—Our 1-year-old son loses in when he walks. Can this be corrected? When would be the best time for this?

A—This condition, pigeon toe, when slight, is an advantage because it favors a high-arched foot and straight legs. If the condition is severe enough to interfere with walking, it should be corrected by inserting a 1/8 to 1/4-inch lift in the outer (lateral) side of the soles of the shoes. This is done when he starts to wear shoes instead of booties.

Q—What is the best treatment for a small child who has a high fever, vomiting and diarrhea?

A—Many acute infectious diseases in children start this way. The first step is to call your pediatrician, who will determine the cause and decide what treatment is needed.

The Almanac

By United Press International
Today is Thursday Feb. 1, the 32nd day of 1968 with 334 to follow.

The moon is between the new phase and first quarter.

The morning star is Venus. The evening stars are Mercury, Mars, Saturn and Jupiter.

On this day in history:
In 1790 the U.S. Supreme Court held its first session, in New York City.

In 1896 Dr. Truman Martin, Buffalo, N.Y., was issued the first insurance policy covering an automobile driver.
In 1963 a Lebanese airliner and a Turkish air transport collided over Ankara, Turkey, killing 95 persons.

In 1966 comedian Buster Keaton died and Patricia Kennedy, sister of the late President John F. Kennedy, divorced actor Peter Lawford.

A thought for the day: American President Thomas Jefferson said, "Delay is preferable to error."

Soon to be (they say): A chlorine scented deodorant, so you'll smell like you have a swimming pool whether you have one or not.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

The World Almanac notes that Dr. Boris Bychenko, a Russian member of the U.N. World Health Organization's Bacteriology Unit, did a world-wide study which showed that tetanus kills some 50,000 people a year. More deaths than those from smallpox, rabies, plague, anthrax and polio. Ironically, lockjaw is easy to prevent by vaccination, but once it sets in it usually is fatal.
