Liquor Board Head Is 'Fired'

AUSTIN (UPI) — John W. Crank, Texas Liquor Control Board supervisor of investigations, was suspended Thursday by the board. Crank said he was fired after he turned in his resignation.

The TLQB said in a brief, five-line statement Crank was relieved of his duties "by the members of the board, as a result of the investigation of the affairs of this agency."

"Mr. Crank has been under investigation for several months and his activities had been curtailed pending the outcome of the investigation," the unsigned statement said.

Crank, an 18-year veteran of the liquor agency, said later in Austin he received a telegram from TLQB administrator Coke Stevenson Jr. saying he was fired more than an hour after he handed Stevenson a letter of resignation. He said Stevenson told him he would not accept the resignation.

He said his scope in the agency had been "very limited" for the past year.

"I was supervisor of investigations for the entire state, but was allowed to go into only four cities in an official capacity—

Austin, Dallas, Houston and Waco," Crank said.

"My staff was small, and I'm no longer able to make assignments to them without first clearing it with somebody else—either Stevenson or Aubrey Cartledge (assistant chief of enforcement)," Crank said.

The suspension was the latest in a long line of developments in a statewide probe of the activities of the liquor control agency.

The Baptist General Convention of Texas criticized the enforcement of liquor laws last fall, and a handbill was circulated in Dallas and Austin after that which said there were irregularities in the conduct of the agency.

Crank was the eighth person fired by the TLQB since an intensive investigation started after the handbill was circulated.

Crank said he was resigning effective Mar. 7, which would include a month's vacation time he said he was due. But the TLQB announcement indicated his suspension was effective immediately.

He had held his supervisor's (See BOARD, Page 3)

Mexican Plane Leaves To Bring Back Americans

MEXICO CITY (UPI)—A Mexican government plane reportedly left for Havana Thursday—five days early—to make the first regularly scheduled flight to bring out U.S. citizens held on the Communist island.

The DC6, with room for 65 passengers, is operated by the Mexican Federal Communications Department.

The Mexican Foreign Office announced only Monday that Fidel Castro had agreed to allow the repatriation to the United States of an estimated 2,900 U.S. citizens and their families still held on Cuba.

But the first flight was not scheduled until Feb. 7, according to the announcement by Mexican Foreign Secretary Antonio Carrillo Flores.

The flights are scheduled to bring the refugees from Havana to Matamoros, Mexico, just across the Rio Grande from Brownsville, Tex.

The U.S. has been trying for years to secure the release of the Americans and their families, almost all Cuban-Americans with family and business ties on the island who did not leave during the general exodus of Americans after the Castro takeover.

Mexico, the only Latin American nation with diplomatic relations with Cuba, took up the case for the U.S. Castro agreed to regular flights by Mexican government planes, with one plane load allowed to leave during the first week of every month.

On that basis, it will take over three and one half years to get them all out.

Book of Rules Says You Have To Open Door

Friends reported today that Norman Henry, local manager for Pioneer Natural Gas Co., still had not discovered a way to back a car out of a garage without opening the garage door.

It happened yesterday morning, Henry got into his car inside the garage, started the engine, put it in reverse—and wham! Preoccupied with other thoughts, he had forgotten to roll up the door.

Right after that, he found he could back out or enter the garage without bothering about the door. It just wasn't there anymore.

Gorilla in Ohio Makes History

COLUMBUS, Ohio, (UPI)—History was again made at the Columbus zoo Thursday when the first gorilla ever born in captivity became a mother.

It was the first second-generation gorilla ever born in captivity.

But the big question was yet to be answered—is it a boy or a girl?

Zoo keepers had second thoughts about entering the cage.

The mother, Colo, was born here in December, 1956. Zoo Director Dr. James Savoy said the first two weeks were critical in determining if the baby gorilla would live.

KENNY HEBERT DAY — Mayor Jim Nation signs a proclamation declaring Monday, Feb. 5 as Kenny Hebert Day in Pampa. Witnesses are, left, Warren Hasse, chairman for the event's publicity committee, and Ray Thompson, chairman of the Sports Committee. Hebert will receive a plaque, naming him the outstanding Panhandle baseball player of the year, which Hasse accepted for him last Sunday at the Panhandle Sports Hall of Fame ceremonies at Amarillo. The plaque will be presented at the Chamber of Commerce luncheon next Monday. The luncheon is expected to be sold out by the afternoon. (See Story, Page 9)

Yarborough Asks Flood Protection Project Funds

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., went before a Senate public works subcommittee Thursday to plead for more than $24 million worth of flood protection projects.

Yarborough asked the subcommittee to recommend congressional authorization of the $23,612,000 Aquilla Reservoir near Hillsboro in the Brazos River basin and for an extension of the Texas City Hurricane Protection Project to La Marque and Hitchcock. This would cost an estimated $10.9 million.

Yarborough testified that the Aquilla project would benefit the region north of Waco with water supply, recreation and fish and wildlife habitat.

"As for flood control, there have been nine major floods on Aquilla Creek from 1949 until 1962, with average annual damages of $118,700. The use of the reservoir for water supply is desperately needed by the communities of West and Hillsboro. In addition, the Aquilla Reservoir will be of assistance in solving water supply problems in the entire area consisting of Hill, McLennan and Falls Counties," the senator said.

Reviewing the economics of this project, Yarborough said annual benefits of the Aquilla project were estimated to total $1,506,100—$725,200 in flood control benefits, $158,000 in water supply and $622,900 in fish and wildlife enhancement. Local interests would pay $4,119,000 of the construction cost, leaving a federal share of $19,493,000.

LBJ Won't Stop Bombs Unless Viets Reciprocate

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson is firmly opposed to stopping the bombing of North Vietnam without solid evidence of enemy reciprocation.

And as for "offers" from Hanoi to enter into negotiations, the President says he will not "buy a pig in a poke and let the Communists lead us down a road that we don't know where we are going."

Stripped of diplomatic nuances and using frequently colloquial terms, Johnson appeared to sum up this country's basic position on Vietnam as he chatted in a lengthy filmed discussion with George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO and the Committee on Political Education (COPE).

Their conversation was filmed at the White House Jan. 15. A transcript was released today by the White House before the film is shown for the first time Saturday to a COPE conference in New Orleans. The essential purpose of the film is to generate support for COPE's campaign for political year contributions and to kick off a voter registration drive.

The President, along with Secretary of State Dean Rusk and more recently defense secretary-designate Clark M. Clifford, has made a number of statements about the government's stand on Vietnam, bombing and the prospect of negotiations.

Johnson Thursday, at a White House ceremony, seemed to take a tougher line on bombing than in his State of the Union message Jan. 17 or his Sept. 29, 1967, speech which contained what became widely known as the San Antonio formula.

His conversation with Meany appeared to take an even blunter approach, although Press Secretary George Christian told reporters there was (See LBJ, Page 3)

Hog Saw Shadow—As If You Didn't Know

GOBLER'S KNOB, Punxsutawney, Pa. (UPI)—Keep shovels handy and don't store winter clothing or snow tires yet—the nation is in for six more weeks of troublesome snow and frigid temperatures.

A small, furry creature, nature's living barometer, emerged from his burrow at 7:29 a.m. today, perched on a large stump near his lair and saw his shadow to portend another six weeks of winter's gloom.

That he could see his shadow was, of course, obvious to residents in Pampa.

Today was Groundhog Day in the small western Pennsylvania community of Punxsutawney, nestled in the foothills of the Allegheny Mountains which boasts of being the world's weather capital.

According to tradition, the little animal, sometimes called the woodchuck or whistle pig crawls from his lair each Feb. 2 to take a look at his shadow. If he sees his shadow, the story goes, it will be six weeks before galoshes and tire chains can be stashed away. No shadow—spring is just around the corner.

In hushed silence following a ceremony by the Punxsutawney Groundhog Club and its entourage of members garbed in frock coats, striped pants and high silk hats, the seer of seers poked his nose from his burrow and predicted 42 more days of icy blasts and snow.

The weather prophet, who has been forecasting the weather for more than 85 years, wasted no time in returning to his den for six more weeks of slumber.

Talks to Start Soon But Results Uncertain

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States hopes to hold talks shortly with the Communist North Koreans which could lead to the release of the 83 crew members of the hijacked USS Pueblo.

State Department spokesman Robert J. McCloskey said Thursday that the United States had accepted a suggestion by a ranking North Korean Communist, Kim Kwang Hyop, that the Pueblo incident be discussed within the framework of the military armistice commission at Panmunjom or possibly some other agreed upon setting.

Authoritative U.S. sources said they expected U.S.-North Korean talks may begin soon but they declined to predict their exact outcome.

Judging by past precedents—they are at least two—it appeared that the United States probably stands to gain the release of the crewmen but not the intelligence ship.

Settle For Crew

The sources stressed that the United States would not give up its claim to the ship but they conceded that in view of the political situation at home, the United States would probably settle for the release at this time of the crew members alone.

The two precedents involve a United Nations helicopter piloted by two Americans which strayed into North Korea May 17, 1963, and a South Korean airliner hijacked by North Korean agents and forced to fly with its American pilots to North Korea in February 1958.

In both cases, crew members and passengers were released after tedious negotiations at the military armistice commission or a somewhat less formal confrontation in Korea.

But in both cases, the North Koreans refused to give up the helicopter or the airliner.

Furthermore, in the case of the helicopter the North Koreans demanded and received both a written and an oral apology from a senior U.N. representative to the armistice commission.

At any future U.S.-North Korean talks on the Pueblo, the North Koreans are almost certain to insist that the United States admit its ship ventured into North Korean waters with hostile intent, that it produce an apology, and that it promise to punish the authorities who authorized such a mission.

FEARFUL PRICE PAID

Allied Leaders Say Cong Invasion Fails

SAIGON (UPI)—Allied leaders said today the five-day-old Viet Cong invasion of the cities had failed, but the Communists still held Saigon in a state of siege and guerrillas holding the heart of Hue beat back attacks by Vietnamese and U.S. Marines with heavy losses.

The Communists were paying a fearful price as U.S. and government forces struck in the cities with divebombers and tanks and rolled artillery into Saigon to use against a V.C. stronghold near the home of Gen. William C. Westmoreland.

Allied spokesmen said that in the first four days of the battle of the cities the Communists lost 10,593 killed, 3,076 suspects captured and 2,000 weapons seized. They said 917 allied troops were killed and 2,817 wounded—including 281 American dead and 1,195 wounded.

Untold thousands of civilians were killed or wounded in the Viet Cong offensive that swept into every major city along a 600-mile line from Quang Tri near the Demilitarized Zone to the Mekong Delta. President Nguyen Van Thieu put the Saigon toll alone at 1,282 civilians killed or wounded.

A U.S. military communique said the thousands of invaders "are rapidly being driven out" of the cities. Thieu, in a nationwide broadcast said the Red offensive had failed. U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker went on the radio to deny Viet Cong claims the United States is willing to make a deal with the Communists and get out.

The heaviest fighting was reported from Hue where UPI correspondent Richard V. Oliver said Viet Cong units entrenched in the ancient imperial capital beat off South Vietnamese and U.S. Marines for the third consecutive day and pinned down one Marine force near the Perfume River.

The Americans stormed across a bridge and into the Communist-held area but were driven back by mortar and machinegun fire from the citadel, the fortress in the center of the city. They were pinned down in a six square block area, braced for an expected counterattack tonight.

The situation was so serious that the 1 Corps commander in Da Nang ordered five bombers against the city, but Oliver said there were so many refugees in the city the planes used only their rockets and machine guns against known V.C. strongpoints.

The Americans and South Vietnamese were reported to have killed 200 guerrillas but a Marine officer said the Americans had suffered 25 per cent casualties (killed and wounded) among the forces flown in by helicopter for the assault.

Vietnamese A1 Skyraiders used as dive bombers struck again today on the outskirts of Saigon. Two major fights raged between South Vietnamese Rangers and VC holed up in houses near the Westmoreland residence and at the An Quang pagoda in the Chinese quarter of Cholon.

Elvis Becomes Father of Girl

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI) — Elvis Presley changed his tune to rockabye baby today.

The entertainer was the proud daddy of a 6-pound, 15-ounce girl, Lisa Marie Presley, born late Thursday to Priscilla Presley, the singer's wife of nine months.

A spokesman at Baptist Hospital said Mrs. Presley and the brown-haired baby were "doing just fine." Presley, secluded in a room somewhere in the hospital, was said to be "elated."

Army Confusion Leaves Soldier Home 10 Months

FT. MCLELLAN, Ala. (UPI) — The Army said Thursday an Alabama soldier volunteered for Vietnam service and then spent 10 months at home awaiting a "port call" that never came.

What did finally appear at the Sheffield, Ala., door of Pfc. Berly A. Moore, 22, were military policemen. They picked up the soldier Tuesday and confined him for 24 hours. Then he was transferred to Headquarters Company at Ft. McClellan.

Moore will stay there while the Army tries to puzzle out the snafu which caused him to send a stream of letters and telegrams asking—in vain—about his departure date for Vietnam while he stayed at home for 10 months. During that time, he married and worked with his father, a plumber.

Lt. Col. Lane Carlson, information officer here, said Moore's documents "seem to back up" his story of a soldier who wanted to fight for his country, but ran into a "missing link" in Army red tape.

As related by Carlson and Moore's relatives, this is his tale of frustration:

Moore enlisted March 15, 1966, and went in August to Germany. He volunteered there for duty in Vietnam and returned home last March 28 with orders to await a "port call" for shipment to Vietnam.

Moore's orders, said he would get the call within 30 days.

When it didn't come by the end of April, Moore contacted the Florence, Ala., recruiting office. He was told he was not in an absent without leave (AWOL) status, but that he should telegraph for instructions from Oakland Army Base, Calif.

A telegram sent at the end of May and a letter sent in early June brought no reply. He wrote again in December, and this time Oakland said a port call could not be issued for him because it had no records of his orders.

He was told to write to the Army Support Services at Ft. Benjamin Harrison, Ind. He did so on Jan. 19, and, as a result, the adjutant general's office had him picked up by the MPs.

AT&T Seeks Rise In Charges For All Leased Wires

WASHINGTON (UPI) — American Telephone & Telegraph Co. wants to increase its leased wire charges to the radio and television industry and other bulk communications users by from 20 per cent to nearly 100 per cent.

In a notice filed Thursday with the Federal Communications Commission (FCC), which must approve the hikes, AT&T said revenues generated by this class of service "should be higher in relation to the costs of providing these services."

The company said current rates would be continued for noncommercial educational radio and television "because of unresolved questions as to special rates for educational broadcasting."

There was no chance the increases would go into effect April 1 as proposed by the company, however. Broadcasters, airlines, news services, truckers and bulk users oppose the move and the FCC is expected to grant a delay for them to be heard.

At issue are rates for AT&T's so-called telpak system under which a customer may lease a package of telephone wires and then use them for whatever purpose he desires—telephone circuits, teletype services or picture transmission, for example.

An AT&T spokesman estimated the increases would cost the broadcast industry about $17 million more a year while the added charges to all other users combined would be about $45 million annually.

Overall, the new rates would yield AT&T about $295 million a year from the services compared with about $233 million at present.

The three major networks—NBC, CBS and ABC—all have indicated they will fight the proposed increases, carrying the issue to the courts if the FCC eventually should approve the new rates.

DEAR ABBY: What do you make of a man who buries his wife on a Friday and asks you for a date for the following Wednesday? I accepted, thinking he needed someone to console him, but I got the surprise of my life. He acted like a sailor on shore leave after 8 months on a ship.

His wife and I were very good friends and I realize that she had been sick for a year, but I can't see any excuse for the rush this man was in to make up for lost time. When he asked me out for the next night I told him I didn't think we should be seen in public together because people might talk, so he's been parking himself over here every night telling me how lonesome he is, and how much he needs "female companionship."

Abby, I'm a widow and I am lonesome; too, but I'm not THAT lonesome. How long do you think I should wait before I let him court me? I know lots of women in this town who would be glad to have him.

ENCINO WIDOW
DEAR WIDOW: The man shows a shocking lack of respect for the memory of his wife. Put him on ice for about a year. He could use some cooling off.

DEAR ABBY: I am 26, very happily married and have two adorable children, but I have one big sorrow in my life. I have always been as flat-chested as a 10-year-old boy.

I suppose now that I'm married it really shouldn't bother me so much, but it does. Abby, I have always felt so cheated. No one will ever know how I envied girls with voluptuous bosoms.

I've always worn padded bras, but now I hear there are silicone "shots" available that will fill a girl out like a miracle. They say most girls who work in topless clubs get these shots regularly. What kind of doctor gives them? Please answer this in your column because my husband sometimes gets the mail before I do, and if he knew this still bothered me so much he'd have a fit.

NAMELESS IN MILWAUKEE
DEAR NAMELESS: I have been advised that silicone (for breast injections) has not been approved by the Food and Drug Administration, so to seek such shots (assuming they were available) could be taking a foolish risk. In this regard, I advise you to do nothing without first talking it over with your husband. He just may like you the way you are.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "IN A BIND" IN WATERLOO: A man who joins his wife in getting "mad" at a whole family because his wife had an argument with one of the members, shows his stupidity—not his loyalty.

How has the world been treating you? Unload your problems on Dear Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif., 90069. For a personal, unpublished reply, enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: You have the chance to contact a very unusual man of influence and to get from him some very desirable data or support that you can use in the days ahead. But for those benefits it is necessary that you are alert and sympathetic to modern and up-to-date ideas and ways of accomplishing things.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) — Don't be so reticent about going out with people who admire you and want to entertain you royally. Be generous with your time and help the nicest girl you can think of. Show that you really care.

CAPRICORN (Jan. 22 to Feb. 19) — Be sure you get in touch with others who are more so in ways than you are and make this Saturday a harmonious one at home. Avoid persons and things that have caused dissatisfaction in the past. Be wise.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 to Feb. 18) — Be sure you get in touch with others who are vital to your well being and increase good will you now enjoy. Be sure you do something that will make your mate much happier. Buy that new washing machine.

PISCES (Feb. 19 to Mar. 20) — If you want to increase abundance, as you need to, it is best to discuss the matter with him first. Get their O.K. and ideas. Study buildings well. Make sure that you have a better building system.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he, or she, will be one of those dynamic youngsters who has a certain idea that could help humanity tremendously early in life. Give encouragement to your progeny instead of trying to change ideas or expect him, or her, to follow the general trend. Don't stifle your progeny. A quantum is here and college is a must.

WALL-TO-WALL CARPETING is spreading throughout the house. Man-made fibers, especially, make it more feasible for kitchen use. Smaller kitchens look larger with such carpeting. This illusion is one reason why many homemakers prefer wall-to-wall carpeting in living and bedrooms. Carpet is easily cut (top left) and tucked by fairly inexperienced homemaker for a new look in the kitchen.

Carpet Can Cover All Active Rooms

By AILEEN SNOODY

NEW YORK (NEA) — Carpet manufacturers have been trying to sell the idea of carpeting bathrooms, recreation rooms and kitchens for more than 10 years.

It has been difficult for most homemakers to accept the use of fabric on the floor as practical, especially in a room where food and liquid spills are a way of life and the traffic is heavier than at the Main Street stoplight.

Inroads have been made, though. Contributing to the use of carpeting in areas once considered only for tile, wood, linoleum or other washable materials is the variety of synthetic fibers. Because of the fiber's structure the carpets resist moisture, dirt, dust and most household stains.

A small kitchen takes on a completely new atmosphere when carpeted in vibrant red, green, blue, gold or beige, depending upon one's taste. Geometric or floral designs or a checkerboard effect are possible, too.

A small-kitchen can be a do-it-yourself project. Stylists have learned these important facets of carpeting a kitchen:

—They discovered it is always better to have a little extra carpet than too little. Measure carefully and add extra inches for the area that jut out.

—Clean floor thoroughly first and roll out carpet.

—Place double-faced carpet tape on the floor at the exact places where the carpet is to be installed. Start with one side, carefully put down carpet and press down firmly.

—Cut off additional inches around cabinets, appliances and at doors for an even appearance.

To avoid damaging the floor, place a piece of board or plywood under the rug while cutting.

—Avoid tripping on corners or at the doors by nailing these spots with carpet tacks.

—Wedge corners into place by pushing the carpet down with a screwdriver.

Any woman who feels she is not sharp with figures or the mechanics of laying carpet has a good excuse to ask a fellow for help.

'No-Color' Look Dominates Spring

By SHEILA WALSH
ROME (UPI)—The pale look dominated the Italian spring summer high fashion collections today.

The Roman ideal woman will be wearing mostly white next season with a dash of beige for days she feels daring.

Federico Forquet, who numbers socialites and Queen Anne Marie of Greece among his clients, went all out for the pallid look in the day clothes of the collection he presented to international buyers on the third day of the shows.

Forquet kept his hemlines inches above the knee. Curves and intricate panels were basic to Forquet's silhouette.

Some of his handsomest spring coats had flared panels down the front, giving them a poncho look. Others fastened at the side to give the coats a surplice look.

Forquet varied the basic shift dress with some outfits with clearly marked natural waistlines and swinging flared skirts.

Designer Valentino, who presented his collection Sunday night, banned both color and evening pajamas.

McNamara Says US and USSR May Avoid War

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara has raised some new prospects that the United States and Russia may avoid a costly arms race involving antiballistic missiles (ABM).

In his annual statement to Congress Thursday on the overall defense picture, McNamara reported two U.S. intelligence assessments of the Soviet Union, which could be highly significant if they remain true.

—He said a majority of the U.S. intelligence community no longer believes Russia's "Tallinn" defense system has "any significant" antiballistic missile capability. Instead, he said, it appears designed against bombers and air breathing missiles operating within the atmosphere.

—He said the Soviet Union "Galosh" ABM system is being built "at a moderate pace" around Moscow but "no effort has been made during the last year to expand that system or extend it to other cities."

The Tallinn system, named for a city in Soviet Estonia through which it passes, is being built across the northwest approaches to the Soviet Union and in other areas of the country. There has long been division among U.S. intelligence officials on whether it would become a defense against bombers or missiles.

McNamara said Galosh "could provide a limited defense of the Moscow area" (but) could be seriously degraded by sophisticated penetration aids."

On Sept. 18, in announcing the United States will build a $5 billion ABM against possible light nuclear attack from Red China into the 1970s, McNamara warned Congress and the American people against allowing the "mad momentum" of military spending to "expand the anti-China system into a $40 billion defense against Russia."

He said such an ABM defense would be futile because the Soviets could always add more offense and overwhelm it.

Should the Soviets persist in expanding what now appears to be a light and modest AM deployment into a massive one," McNamara said, "we will be forced to take additional steps."

Ships To Stay In Suez Canal Until Crisis Ends

CAIRO (UPI)—The 15 foreign ships locked in the Suez Canal by sunken wrecks will stay there until the Middle East crisis is at an end, the Cairo newspaper Al-Ahram said today.

The newspaper, which often speaks for the government, said Egyptian efforts to clear the canal and free the ships have been postponed and will not be resumed even if Israel promised not to interfere with clearing operations.

To resume clearing after such an assurance, the newspaper said, would be an admission that Israel had a voice in canal affairs.

An Arab-Israeli dispute over which parts of the waterway may be cleared erupted into a two-hour artillery duel Tuesday along 25 miles of the canal. The shooting began when Israeli troops fired on Egyptian launches trying to conduct survey operations in the northern end of the canal.

The Israelis contended that only the southern end should be cleared to permit the departure of the trapped ships.

Sixth Graders Will Be In PHS Practice

Sixth grade band students of all seven elementary schools will rehearse with Pampa High School band students and four band directors from 8-9:30 a.m. Saturday in the PHS band room.

"We will rehearse with these advanced elementary band students every Saturday in February and one in March. They will perform with us in the Mid-Winter concert March 5, at Robert E. Lee Junior High School," Harris Brinson, PHS band director, said.

Band directors assisting Brinson will be Joe DiCosimo, Robert E. Lee Junior High School; Cecil Darby, Pampa Junior High School; and Charles Meech, an elementary school band director.

Meech directs for four schools, Austin, Woodrow Wil-

US Ship Hits Russian Ship

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A U.S. destroyer had a "minor collision" with a Russian merchant ship in the Sea of Japan, the Defense Department said today. No injuries were reported.

The Pentagon said the USS Rowan collided with the Soviet merchant vessel Vistobokov at 1:53 p.m. EST Wednesday 45 miles off Pohang, South Korea.

The American destroyer reported a three-foot hole was torn in its hull above the water line. The Russian ship signaled "damage to my stern two meters in length."

The Defense Department said the $500-ton Rowan was on an easterly course when the accident occurred and had the right of way over the Vistobokov, which was on a southerly heading.

The Rowan, commanded by Cmdr. Loren I. Moore of Wheat Ridge, Colo., is 350 feet long and has a crew of 250 men. The Vistobokov is 511 feet long and displaces 10,000 tons.

Mansfield Calls For President To Re-assess

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield today called on the Johnson administration to "reassess the whole picture" of U.S. involvement in Vietnam.

"On the basis of the past three days, we must take a new look and a harder look at the situation in Vietnam," he said. "We must reassess the whole picture."

Mansfield said "A lot of things are going to have to be gone into," including the Viet Cong's ability to carry out coordinated nationwide raids in South Vietnam despite the fact allied commanders had advance warning.

The Montana senator's comments to reporters followed release Thursday of a gloomy assessment of the war by Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara in his eighth and final annual report to Congress.

Formidable Enemy Force

The departing secretary said that after 2½ years of major U.S. involvement, Viet Cong and North Vietnamese forces still pose a formidable military problem in South Vietnam.

And despite military, economic and political progress, he said, a nation-building spirit essential for South Vietnam to stand on its own feet has not evolved in the people.

Judge Explains Hospital Deficit

Gray County Judge S. R. Lenning Jr. explained this morning that the Highland General Hospital Board did not recommend that fees at the McLean Hospital be increased to help overcome a $2,000 a month deficit.

McLean Hospital is one of two county hospitals and is administered under the auspices of Highland General Hospital, the other county hospital.

There was some discussion about raising fees to overcome this operating deficit, but board members E. L. (Smiley) Henderson and O. R. Elankenship recommended that the county be directly responsible for paying the deficit.

The deficits are currently handled by Highland General Hospital, which has always operated in the "black."

Money needed for the administration of Highland General Hospital comes out of the general county operating fund, Judge Lenning explained, but Highland General officials felt that if the county would be directly responsible for deficits at McLean Hospital, bookkeeping procedures for Highland (which administers McLean Hospital) would be greatly simplified.

Crank did say he knew of no "concrete evidence of any payoffs" in the TLCB.

"no inconsistency" in the President's statements from last Sept. 29.

Furthermore, Christian saw no inconsistency between Johnson's various policy statements and those of Rusk and Clifford.

In his conversation with Meany, Johnson said:

"We are not going to let any of our nations who are bound to us by treaties and alliances be gobbled up by any would-be conqueror, any would-be dictator, while we stand by under an umbrella. Now, if they want to talk peace and if they are willing to agree to self-determination in South Vietnam, we are willing to meet them at the conference table tomorrow."

"We said in San Antonio (to North Vietnam), we will stop our bombing now if you will come and have a prompt discussion and a productive discussion in good faith. You can make all the proposals you want to. We will make our proposals. We will exchange views."

"But they have not accepted that proposal."

"Now, I don't know how much further I can go. I don't think it would be in the interest of this nation for us to stop our bombing, only to have them continue theirs. A bomb dropped from a bicycle can kill as many people as a bomb dropped from a plane."

A Watchful Newspaper
EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS
TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license, nor anarchy, it is control and sovereignty of oneself. No more, no less, it is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

In Behalf of the Old Man

Principal among the complaints of today's rebellious youth is the lament, "We don't like the world (our seniors) have given us, and we're going to make some corrections." There isn't one among the seniors who wouldn't say, "Good luck, Buster. But just be sure your cure isn't worse than the disease." Except that the Old Man remembers when he was young, too—and so recently that he wonders whatever happened to those years that seem to have been stolen from him by something or someone other than Time — and rebellious; knew right was right and wrong was wrong and precisely where the difference lay. He knows something else, however, that youth doesn't acknowledge, and that is that the world is made up of people, not saints.

It's about time we paused, in our worship of Youth, and said a word in behalf of the Old Man. To begin with, without him, youth wouldn't be smirking and reveling in its youngness and enjoying the luxury of telling the old folks how wrong they are. Instead, Youth would be grubbing to stay alive and to latch on to some of the creature comforts it presently enjoys in such great abundance. Somebody has to produce and it's the above-30 part of the population that's doing the most of it, and exceptionally well—never have so few produced so much for so many.

Like Low-Down Misery, Man

Doctors say the current curious custom of college students wearing no socks with their shoes is causing them real foot trouble—blisters, infections and misery. No mention has been made of what is happening to hippies who wear no socks with their sandals. But it's just possible the foot problem in Flower Land may be more serious in the long run than it is on campus.

With college boys, going sockless is probably just a passing fad. But to your dedicated hippie, it's a trademark, and practically a basic requirement for getting on camera in protests and demonstrations, or even for a magazine photo feature.

No hippie with any real pride in his appearance can afford to be seen in public wearing socks with his sandals and beard and beads. No socks (are?) is a but has no need to be destroyed first), wealth, freedom and one enormous luxury that is severely forbidden other (for example, Communist societies).

It may sound unbelievable, but no crusty old mossback of a political conservative said that. Would you believe it was a visitor to the United States last year—a visitor from behind the Iron Curtain? "In the history of mankind, youth has never been conspicuously clever, has always thought itself much more interesting than it really was. But today's youth is stupider than ever, because it makes adolescence an ideal, a way of life, and attributes to it rights, privileges and virtues (of both brain and soul) that are purely fictitious."

Very strong words, but apropos of the times and since they come from a visitor, and one from Poland at that, perhaps since it is fashionable to admire things that aren't American—they are more effective. The writer was Leopold Tyrmand of Warsaw, whose article was entitled "American Diary" in the Nov. 11 issue of The New Yorker Magazine. Oh, yes, and that "one enormous luxury" American youth enjoy "that is severely forbidden other (for example, Communist societies)": What did he say that was? He said it was "namely, permission to be contemptuous of one's elders." Young people never had it so good, thanks to their elders. Perhaps the biggest mistake the old folks made was making it too good.

Wit and Whimsy

Doctor—Are you bothered by things dancing before your eyes at night?
Tired Business Man—Not a bit. In fact, I like it very much. Customer, complaining about the poor service being given him in an Oriental restaurant, was blandly told, "Solly, but three of our waitresses are at home with American flu."

A man said that his mother-in-law was suffering from an inferiority complex.

Straight Talk

By TOM ANDERSON

Same Old Song in '68?

In 1968 the Communist takeover of America and the world will continue and more and more Americans will be forced to make a choice and take a stand. As our freedoms vanish, it becomes ever more difficult for the cowards and collaborators to laugh it off. As Samuel Butler said: "A sense of humor keen enough to show a man his own absurdities will keep him from the commission of all sins, or nearly all, save those that are worth committing."

"Just because Britannia waded the rules again and devalued the pound, why worry about the dollar?" our socialists ask. Lyndon can always give the paper mill another turn, of course. Which reminds me of a story Abraham Lincoln used to tell:

While going down the Mississippi on a steamboat, Lincoln heard the captain holler to a seller of wood standing on the bank: "Is that your wood?" "Certainly." "You want to sell it?" "Yes." "For cash?" "Yes." "Will you take wildcat currency?" "Certainly."

"Well, how will you take it?" "Cord for cord." The cost of practically everything you buy and do will go up this year, except telephone rates. To "head off runaway inflation" it is possible President Johnson may put price and wage and profit controls into effect, just like other dictatorships do. The mills of Lyndon grind exceedingly fast but they grind exceedingly fine. Thus, we face not only "black power," but black markets.

The three biggest lies told by Americans will continue to be: 1.—"I just put a check in the mail to you this morning." 2.—"I believe in equality and I do not believe in discrimination because of race, creed or color."

3.—"Sure I'm a Democrat, but I didn't vote for the . . ." The election campaign will be the most violent we have ever undergone. Many Americans, heretofore uncommitted, will become involved. But when it comes to financial contributions, most will stop at nothing.

George Romney, a thing of beauty and a jaw forever, will clutter up the boob tube for several months and then withdraw from the Presidential race in favor of Joe-else-but-Nelson Rockefeller. Romney can compress the most words into the smallest ideas of any man since Dwight Eisenhower.

If there is a force choice between Johnson and Rockefeller, and if Wallace fails to beat them, some freedom-hunting Americans will move to South Africa and Australia.

Of course, some women think freedom is when they take their corset off, and most men and women will continue to do what most people have always done: go along with the majority, right or wrong. Conform, regardless. In the midnight of our intoxication few will consider the inevitable hangover. Like most alcoholics we will have to hit bottom—and then we'll discover whether we have what it takes to come back or whether we've passed the point of no return.

The things which the American people are most unhappy about are crime, revolution in the streets, inflation and the Vietnam war. All will get worse. But there are many things to be thankful for. Like the driver who was overtaken by a motorcycle cop with siren screaming, "Stop!" he shouted, "Your wife fell out of the car about a mile back."

"Thank heaven!" replied the motorist. "I thought I had gone deaf!"

A thought for the day: French scientist Blaise Pascal said, "between us and hell or heaven there is nothing but life, which of all things is the frailest."

It's Just One World But We Still Must Remain at Home

By OSCAR W. COOLEY
Assoc. Prof. of Economics
Ohio Northern Univ.

President Johnson has asked all Americans to refrain from traveling outside the United States for the next two years. This, he says, will keep $500,000,000 here that would otherwise be spent abroad and will lower the balance-of-payments deficit accordingly.

For 25 years, we have been told, especially by Mr. Johnson's party, that this is "one world," that all men are brothers, and that the United States must not isolate herself but work together with all willing nations to establish global peace, plenty and prosperity.

Now suddenly the tune changes. We must all become isolationists. We must stop calling on our neighbors, stay at home, and keep our money at home. If we don't, Washington threatens, it will tax us so much per head as we take off for abroad.

Further, we must not send money abroad to be invested, supplying new capital there where it is in great demand. For several years our firms have been urged to restrict their foreign investment voluntarily. Now a firm will be fined if it does not cut its investment in western Europe to 35 per cent of normal.

Many countries want American capital greatly and are willing to pay higher rates of interest for it than prevail here. Others, like Switzerland, are used to entertaining our tourists; scenery is the chief product they have to sell. These countries will be badly hurt by the new restrictions.

Meanwhile, President Johnson wants Americans to go on exporting goods at an even greater rate than in the past. He wants our yearly exports to increase by 500 to 750 millions. How does he expect us to sell MORE goods to a world from which we at the same time buy LESS investments, services and goods?

To get the issue clear, one must bear in mind that the sum of all transactions that cause out-payments from the United States equals the sum of all transactions which create in-payments. To the extent that the out-payments exceed the in-payments, there is a deficit in the balance of payments. If, on the other hand, the in-payments exceed the out-payments, there is a surplus.

The deficit simply means a debt, on net balance, owed by people and firms in this country to people and firms in other countries. A surplus means the opposite.

In a normal, free-market economy, a deficit in the payments adjusts itself automatically. Creditors in other countries, unwilling to extend further credit, raise their prices or impose costlier terms, causing debtors in this country to buy less from them but sell more to them, until the debt is reduced. In short, a nation of people like one person, can buy "on the cuff" only so long. At some point they begin to strain their credit and have to buy less, allowing their sales to catch up. Why does not the present payments deficit of the United States adjust itself automatically? Simply because our world is not a normal, free-market economy. Its rulers do not let it be.

Back in 1934, the U.S. Government ruled that $1 must exchange for 1.35 ounce of gold. After World War II, the United States along with the other western nations agreed that the money unit of each nation must exchange for a fixed amount of U.S. money. Thus, international exchange was put in a straitjacket, called the fixed exchange-rate system.

Under this system, for years the pound sterling, or British money unit, was fixed at $2.80, the franc at about .20, the mark at .25, etc. They were supposed to remain at these values for ever, and in this way the value of each money was supposed to be stabilized.

But a value cannot be stabilized just by passing a law. The value of a money depends on the supply of it and the demand for it, and in each country the supply and demand of money changes continually.

In each country since the war the supply of money has increased (due to deliberate government policy) more than the demand, and hence the value, or purchasing power, has fallen. There has been inflation.

And this inflation has been greater in some countries than in others. For example, it has been greater in Britain than in the U.S. The pound fell in its power to purchase British goods, and hence in its power to purchase dollars with which to purchase similar goods in the U.S. So, on November 18, the British finally were forced to acknowledge this fall and to admit that the pound was worth only $2.40 instead of $2.80.

How did they know $2.40 was the correct value? They didn't. That was just a guess. Very likely they will have to guess again, soon. Which illustrates the fact that in a "planned economy" the planners never KNOW what a certain price should be. They have to guess. And yet they argue that planning—that is, operating through a government, tax system—is superior to the free-market price system, in which the correct prices are arrived at automatically!

The system of fixed exchange rates has never operated well. Always some nations have had to worry over deficits in their balances of payments. Usually they have imposed tyrannical and absurd controls on their citizens, like ours on foreign investment and travel to balance their deficits. Often these are insufficient, and so they devalue.

Far from making the promise of "one world" come true, the present money system is splitting the world up into monetary kingdoms, each intent upon making economic war on the others.

Last week I erroneously stated it would take all the gold at Fort Knox and $80 million be-

Articles for this column are preferred to be 7-9 words or less in length. However, longer articles may be printed. All letters must be addressed to the Editor.

Speaking in New Orleans on July 17, 1966, Vice President Hubert Humphrey advocated cutting out hundreds of local governments and merging them into fewer governing bodies. He held that county lines are obsolete and should be redrawn as the Nation is "now moving toward a whole new concept of federalism and new programs must be tailored to fit the particular problems we are attacking." (AP 7-18-66).

Throughout the U.S., city and county governments are being pressured to accept the new form of government called "Metropolitanism." "Metro" calls for merging of cities with counties into one governmental unit, and later, states with states to form several giant regions, in direct violation of the Constitutional provision that each state shall have a republican, or check and balance type of government. Moreover, Metro abolishes many elective offices. In some states where the system has been adopted the County Manager has been someone imported from another state whom the people did not elect and cannot fire. So why do the proponents of this scheme start out by calling it "home rule"? To fool us, that's why!

In recent weeks every state in the Nation has, at Federal Government instigation, set up a "regional development and planning program," ostensibly to "involve local, state and federal governments in jointly planning and developing those activities that would accelerate the economic development process." Anybody knows that such involvement with the Federal Government will definitely not accelerate the economic development of the free enterprise system. To claim that it would is like saying the Federal "guidelines" strengthen the autonomy of local school boards. Any federal program of handing out money has strings and conditions and controls. This time the socializers are after our sovereign states.

Now the U.S. Chamber of Commerce has gotten into the act, stragely. It has distributed a booklet entitled "Modernizing State Government" in which members nationwide are urged to use their influence in changing their state constitutions because "outmoded organization and structure of most state government obstruct effective state and local action." Members are asked to "authorize, encourage and help develop flexible and responsive local governments."

"Responsive" to what? The federal government? God forbid!

Significantly the booklet asks: "Does the state authorize and encourage local governments to coordinate on area-wide planning, assume governmental responsibilities, pay the interest on our national debt for one year. I should have said all the gold at Fort Knox and one billion besides O.W.C.

The Doctor Says:

By DR. WAYNE BRANDSTADT

Amount Taken, Not Form, Cause of Alcohol Damage

Q—Is drinking cold beer on an empty stomach harmful? Is it harmful to drink three or four beers in a short time? Can one become an alcoholic drinking that much every day and would it damage the brain?

A—Drinking beer in moderation on an empty stomach is not harmful except that rapid chilling of the digestive tract aggravates colitis. If three or four beers are taken in rapid succession, some degree of intoxication will result. If repeated daily over several years, alcoholism and brain damage are likely.

Q—If whisky and beer are so damaging to our systems, would the damage be less if we changed to wine?

A—The damage done by alcohol depends on the amount of alcohol consumed in a given period—not on the form in which it is taken.

Q—What are the dangers of drinking too much whisky?

A—The short-term danger is intoxication and the long-term danger is damage to the heart, liver, brain and digestive system.

Q—If you drink a fifth or a quart of Bloody Marys in two days, will it cause you to gain weight? My husband is a singer and he says if Dean Martin can drink so much, why can't he?

A—Whether a person who drinks gains weight depends on the total calories he gets in both his food and drink. Alcohol will put weight on the body to the extent of the calories contained in the drinks taken. The legendary drinking of various entertainers is greatly exaggerated. No busy entertainer can fulfill his many commitments and drink to excess.

Q—My husband had 3/4ths of his stomach removed seven years ago and is doing fine. Is it harmful for him to drink alcoholic beverages?

A—Whether your husband can safely drink after partial removal of his stomach would depend on the reason for his operation, the condition of his liver and other factors.

Q—Are dry wines beneficial to a person who is past 50? Would drinking three or four glasses of wine a day cause hypertension? A—Whether a wine is "dry" or "sweet" is not as important as whether it is a table wine (about 10 per cent alcohol) or a fortified wine (about 20 per cent alcohol). Some persons who are past 50 are benefited by taking a small amount of alcohol in the evening to help them relax. This would tend to prevent, rather than cause, high blood pressure.

Q—Does alcohol affect the kidneys or the prostate?

A—It has no direct effect on these organs.

H. L. Hunt Writes

GULLIBILITY

The greatest showman of all time, P. T. Barnum, said that a fool is born every minute. What he meant by "fool" was the man who either does not have or does not take the time to analyze various deceptions thrown at him by experts in skullduggery.

Leftists have capitalized on this for years. They constantly infiltrate freedomist organizations with expert deceptions. Often these experts remain undercover for long periods, establishing themselves as leaders in the cause of freedom. Some for the right, waiting for the perfect time to lead their followers to the left.

One very sly technique is to make vitriolic attacks on other leading freedomists. When confronted with evidence of his shift to the left, the deceptionist broadens his attack, and adopts the strategy of satirical comedy. He may proclaim derisively that he is "actually a foreign agent," making a joke of the whole episode. He would have you laugh at those who pointed the finger of truth his way. Having restored confidence in his followers, he continues to slink, cleverly, poison their minds with his venom. Before long he has led his followers down the path to the left.

Freedomists must constantly be on guard against the deceivers. Otherwise, they will find themselves in the camp of darkness, a slave to the expert and the tyrants who rule with the iron fist. George Washington said, "Place none but Americans on guard tonight." Let us be certain they are true to the cause of freedom.

I see where the King-size beds are crowding normal beds out of the market. Everybody is ordering King Size, Queen Size and King Extras — one silly millimeter longer for inflated egos.

The Bedding association says they are selling 40 per cent more big beds. It won't be long before the scientists will have to get to work on some bigger bedbugs so they can find the people.

The young couples won't think of anything other than Kings or Queens. Does that mean springs — or offspring?

They say that 20 per cent of the men are 6-ft. tall and they are stacking them higher all the time. In the last few years men have got 7 lbs. heavier and women 11 lbs. heavier. If they are going to prevent a starboard list they will have to invent a 4 lb. cantilever.

The Extra long King is 76x84 inches. Its for people who walk in their sleep.

Lots of folks are ordering beds in different shapes too. They are getting some in the shapes of hearts, rounds and teardrops. I think I'll manufacture one in the shape of a bottle for people who are half-shot at sunrise.

functions performed by special districts, merge with and or annex other areas, contract with each other for the performance of functions, AND CONSOLIDATE INTO AREA-WIDE GOVERNMENT if citizens desire?"

Our usually astute businessmen had better not be taken in by this one; and mayors, aldermen, sheriffs, tax assessors and other officials had better look to the preservation of their elective offices. When these are gone our form of government is gone.

Hookups Are Added At Rate of 5 Daily

Pampa Cable TV will join in the second annual observance of National Cable TV Week, Feb. 4-10, according to an announcement today by Al Williams, local manager.

Williams reported that cable television is having a remarkable growth in Pampa with a current total of more than 1,800 city-wide customers, and new installations being made at the rate of about five per day.

The local CATV efforts to add a Los Angeles station to its Pampa channels are being delayed by legal barriers tied up with the Federal Communications Commission. The local company also is negotiating for an independent Dallas-Fort Worth station hook-up, Williams said.

Ten million Americans in more than 2,700 communities, Williams stated, now depend on CATV systems for their television reception — a service that began 18 years ago as a makeshift means of enabling small town residents to enjoy the new medium of television.

Too far from the few stations then in existence, or balked by mountainous terrain, hundreds of communities were deprived of adequate service. Then, a new method began to spring up for providing clear, strong TV signals to even the most isolated towns.

Sensitive antennas at specially selected sites, picked up the signals and fed them through a network of cable to individual homes. This became known as "community" or "cable" television — or simply, CATV.

The first known CATV system was one that functioned experimentally at Astoria, Ore., in 1949. The first commercial system began the next year in Lansford, Pa. Soon there were others, a handful at first, and then more and more.

Wallace Backers Demand To Get Name on Ballot

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — Despite obstacles thrown up by the legislature, Texas backers of George Wallace are determined to get the former Alabama governor's name on the ballot as a third-party presidential candidate in President Johnson's home state.

The American Party "was formed at the request of Gov. Wallace's staff," according to its chairman, Weaver Moore of Houston. The party this month opened a state headquarters in Austin and Moore said he has lined up county chairmen "in all the bigger cities."

"We're going to be on the ballot come heaven or hell or high water," Moore said.

He said the American Party believes Wallace offers the only answer to "the Bobby Bakers, Billie Sol Estes and Walter Jenkins, the rioting and the looting." Election of a Republican president "would be merely more of the same thing," he said.

Wallace has a problem in getting on the ballot because the legislature last year made it more difficult for minor parties to qualify.

Until last year, minor parties could get on the ballot simply by holding conventions in 20 of the larger counties. A convention could be one person, and sometimes was.

This year minor parties cannot get on the ballot unless they can produce almost 15,000 party members at precinct convention or on sworn petitions.

Moore said the American Party will use both approaches. "We will go every route permitted by law," he said. "There will be precinct conventions in every county we can organize."

He expects Democratic state officials will try to put more obstacles in Wallace's path by ruling that the American Party cannot begin collecting signatures until after the Democratic party runoff election June 2. That would give the party only 28 days to circulate their petitions.

Home Ownership Value Is Apparent at Time of Taxes

By RAY DE CRANE
NEA Publications

The value of home ownership is readily apparent at income tax time. All those interest payments made on your mortgage during 1967 and all the real estate tax payments made last year are fully deductible on your tax return.

In addition to interest paid on a mortgage, you may deduct all interest paid on home improvements loans, personal loans from banks and credit unions, auto purchase loans and installment purchases.

Not all the service charge on installment loans is deductible. To arrive at the hidden interest charge, total all your monthly balances for the year, divide the total by 12 to learn the average unpaid balance and multiply that figure by 6 per cent. This will give you the maximum interest you may list as a deduction.

Where payments are made over a period longer than a full year then only the proportionate interest paid in 1967 is deductible. For example, a 36-month auto loan will have the total amount of interest added to the original balance. If you made six payments on the loan last year you may claim only one-sixth of the total interest charged.

Charts included in the instructions and tax forms mailed to you by Internal Revenue will show you the amount of sales tax and gas tax you may deduct.

The sales tax charts are for individual states and the allowance depends upon total income and the number in your family. If you purchased an automobile last year, the actual tax on the car may be added to your chart allowance.

Should you have purchased furniture, appliances and competing for a new home last year and can prove sales tax payments beyond the chart allowance, claim the full amount but be prepared to prove your claim.

The gasoline tax charts for your state (contained in your IRS manual) will show the gas tax allowance dependent upon the number of miles driven last year.

Remember that real estate taxes are deductible only when paid. Reserves for real estate taxes collected by your bank together with your mortgage payments are not deductible as such. They become deductible when the bank makes the payment.

These taxes are NOT DEDUCTIBLE: cigarette and tobacco taxes, alcoholic beverage taxes, poll taxes, and auto and driver's license fees.

(NEXT: Don't overlook the "Other Deductions.")

To order your copy of a booklet on taxes, send your name, address and 50 cents to "Cut Your Own Taxes," in care of the Pampa Daily News, Dept. 790, box 489, Radio City Station, New York, N. Y. 10019.

JOHANNESBURG (UPI) — Mrs. Hilda White, 33, died Wednesday, 10 days after undergoing South Africa's first double heart valve transplant operation.

A nursing home that announced her death said the condition of the mother of five had deteriorated during the 48 hours before she died.

A team of doctors from Johannesburg General Hospital and the University of Witwatersrand replaced the mitral and aortic valves of Mrs. White's heart with spares from the Johannesburg tissue bank.

Eight of the delicate operations have been performed in New Zealand in the past three months and six of those patients have survived.

Nixon was preferred by 42 per cent of those polled, compared with 27 per cent for Rockefeller, 12 per cent for Romney and 8 per cent for Gov. Ronald Reagan of California.

Hells Angels Say They Killed 'Fat, Greasy' Man

BATON ROUGE, La. (UPI)—Four self-proclaimed members of California's Hells Angels, who said they slit a man's throat and dumped his body in a Texas field because he was "fat and greasy," were held here today as fugitives.

Det. Bobby Gill said the Hunt County sheriff's office at Greenville, Tex. had found the body of a man with a tattoo "Joe" in a ditch off Highway 69. He said the body had been badly beaten and stabbed in the stomach, neck and upper chest.

Gill said the four would be held until the man was identified. He said then Texas authorities would probably file murder charges against them.

"There is no doubt in my mind that the body is the safe one the four told us about," said Gill.

The Weekly Message Of Inspiration

Rev. Earl Maddux
Fellowship Baptist Church
PETER
Luke 22.54-62

In spite of the fact that Peter had been forewarned about the temptation he would face with regard to acknowledging his connection with Jesus, he did not find strength in himself when the moment arrived to stand up and be counted. See the steps in his downfall.

- I. HIS SELF CONFIDENCE.
1. "Lord I am ready to go with thee both in prison and to death."
(v33) Peter soon found that the spirit was willing but the flesh was weak and found that the enemy of our souls is ever ready to devour.
  - II. HIS SHACKLING FEAR
"Peter followed afar off" (v54) Here was Peter's opportunity to go with Jesus "Into prison" But fear gripped his heart and he could only watch at a distance. Fear of what men think and say is keeping many from a close walk with Jesus today;
  - III. HIS SCORNFUL COMPANY
Peter sat down with them. (v55)
To sit down in the company of those who scoff and reject the Saviour is a dangerous act because one will soon be confronted with the question, "Are you one of His disciples?"
  - IV HIS SHAMEFUL DENIAL
"And he denied him saying, I know him not" (v.57). Peter had been warned that his denial would be three-fold and when he heard the cock crow he caught a glimpse of the Saviour's "look" reminding him of the words of warning given to him. In that there was compassion and compelling power it brought Peter to himself.
  - V. HIS SINCERE REPENTANCE
"He went out and wept bitterly" (v. 62)
Peter remember! He thought about the relationship he had enjoyed with the Christ — the One of Whom he had said, "To whom can we go? Thou hast the words of eternal life." He wanted that relationship restored and he found the secret was, "If we confess our sins He is faithful and just to forgive us our sins."
- A look at the Savior's will awaken memory in the heart of any backslider and it is then up to that individual to act — to repent as did Peter — if he wants to regain the place of fellowship and blessing with the Lord.

GREEN BAY, Wis. (UPI)—Even an iron man like Vince Lombardi has a soft spot. "Well, gentlemen," he said, in a voice choked with emotion. "That's it." With that he ended the Lombardi era of the Packers as far as it relates to their activities on the field. Then he stepped from in front of a crowd of about 120 newsmen, television cameras and microphones—no longer coach of the team he had lifted from despair to successive Super Bowl championships the past two seasons. He left the spotlight on Phil Bengtson, a longtime aid who often worked anonymously in Lombardi's shadow as Green Bay became "Title Town U.S.A." Bengtson was now the coach. Lombardi, who came to Green Bay more than nine years ago when the franchise was floundering and in danger of being lost, will stay on, however, in his other job as general manager. He said the jobs had become too complicated and too time-consuming to be handled by one man.

Harvesters Host Tascosa Rebels

The team that was picked to finish fourth in District 3-4A—the Tascosa Rebels—are coming to Pampa today to meet the Pampa Harvesters at 8 p.m. at Harvester Field House.

But Tascosa is not in fourth as the pre-season poll prophesied. The Rebels are alone with a 4-0 record leading the district race.

With the league's leading scorer, Jack Pierce who has a 21-point average, the Rebels could take a major step toward the second round title with a defeat of the first round champion Harvesters.

George Bailey is just one little point behind Pierce in scoring (280-279) and it could prove to be some shooting show.

But Pampa has more than one gun as was shown in the victory last Tuesday night over Caprock in which Jimmy Cornutt was high man with 19 points, followed by Bailey with 16 and Bo Lang with 17.

Beau Bond and Johnny Carlos finish out the line up for coach Terry Culey.

If Pampa can beat Tascosa and go on undefeated to tie for the second half title, the Harvesters will win the district title without a play-off.

If Tascosa wins alone there will, of course, be a one game play-off, probably at West Texas State University.

Harvesters' Cage Schedule

Feb. 2—Tascosa A&B	H
Feb. 6—Lubbock ABC	T
Feb. 9—Coronado ABC	H
Feb. 13—Berger ABC	T
Feb. 16—Palo Duro A&B	T

(Feb. 19-24 for playoffs in case of ties.)

Matson's Mark Now Official

NEW YORK (UPI)—Texas A&M's Randy Matson and Texas Southern's Jim Hines were among a group of 18 Americans who Thursday became world record holders as the International Amateur Athletic Union accepted as official some 23 track and field marks set in 1967-68.

Matson, winner of the 1967 Sullivan Award as the top American amateur athlete, was credited with a world's shot put mark of 71-feet-5 and one-half inches.

Hines, scooped up by Miami in this week's pro football draft, won a place in the record books with a 9.1 clocking in the 100-yard dash, first run by Bob Hayes of the Dallas Cowboys, then by Charlie Greene of Nebraska. In the 100-meters, Hines was timed at 10.0, equalling that of co-record-holder Enrique Figueroa.

Zarley, Devlin Take Lead In Bob Hope Golf Classic

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (UPI)—The young pros held their ground against the advancing veterans today as the 90-hole, $122,000 Bob Hope Desert Golf Classic moved into its third round.

Kermit Zarley who this year won his first title, and Bruce Devlin, an Australian who last year fell on difficult times, held a two-stroke lead over the field of 136 pros. Zarley had 70-68-138 and Devlin 71-67-138.

Bobby Nichols with 69-71-140, Gay Brewer at 72-69-141, Eilly Casper carding 70-72-142 and Arnold Palmer at 72-70-142 stayed close to the top and had the two most difficult courses behind them after two rounds. Zarley, 26, won the Kaiser Invitational in January. He admitted, "I played on the two easiest courses," at Indian Wells and Bermuda Dunes.

The easy-stroking Devlin, feeling confident with the tough layouts of La Quinta and Eldorado behind him in this five-day marathon over four courses, was chipper as he considered his four-stroke lead over Casper and Palmer.

"I wouldn't trade my place with anyone right now," said the slightly-built pro who failed to score a win last year.

Dick Lotz made a run at the top spot when he had a 32 on the front nine at La Quinta but he faltered on the back nine and came in with a 38 to go with Wednesday's 70 and a 140 total. With Lotz and Nichols at 140 were Terry Dill, who carded 72-62-140, and Monty Kaser at 69-71-140.

At 141 were first round co-leader Bob Rosburg, Jimmy Powell, Doug Ford, Ted Malalena, Chuck Coody, Lee Trevino, Tom Weiskopf and Brewer.

Palmer and Casper had 11 other pros for company at 142.

insure the co-operation of the Amateur Athletic Union (AAU) and the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) should the two governing bodies not accept as binding the program set forth Thursday by a federal arbitration board.

The two feuding bodies have been given until Feb. 10 to announce their intentions to chairman Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., of the Senate Commerce Committee.

If the board's recommendations were rejected, warned Magnuson, the committee will consider enacting the proposal into law.

"We've got to get ready and field some athletes for the Olympics," he said.

Five Year Program The board's report, which laid down a six-point, five-year track and field peace program, would empower the AAU to sanction all U.S. meets except those limited strictly to American students.

The AAU, however, must accept without question assurances from the NCAA that open competition under its sponsorship is meeting AAU standards. Under these arrangements, both the AAU and the U.S. Track and Field Federation, an arm of the NCAA, will conduct and sanction open meets.

According to the proposed program, the AAU automatically grant its sanction to a meet approved by the USTFF.

The report, judging by reactions of the two organizations, appeared to favor the AAU.

"That's our point," remarked Col. Donald Hull, executive director of the AAU, commenting on the ruling that his organization has the right to sanction open domestic meets.

"That's what we've been fighting for."

Walter Eyers, executive director of the NCAA, was sharply critical of the board's report.

He told Theodore W. Kheel, board chairman, that the recommendations "contained some complete misstatements of fact which reflect unfairly on my organization."

Lanier Lauded As Best Big Man

By United Press International Jack Kraft of Villanova has joined the group of college coaches who say Bob Lanier of unbeat St. Bonaventure is the best big man they've seen this year.

Then again, Kraft and his fellow coaches haven't run into UCLA's Lew Alcindor. But neither has the 6-foot-11, 250-pound Lanier who does with his muscles what Alcindor does with finesse.

The fifth-ranked Bonnies won their 16th straight Wednesday night and did it the hard way, beating Villanova at Philadelphia's Palestra, 66-62, with Lanier providing the scoring and rebounding punch. The loss ended Villanova's nine-game winning streak.

Defensive Measures Fail "Lanier is the best big man I've seen this year," said Kraft, a master defensive tactician who threw zone presses and switching man-to-man defenses at the Bonnies from Orlean, N. Y., who appears to have nailed down an at-large berth in the NCAA championships.

WACO, Tex. (UPI)—Jack Green, one-time head football coach at Vanderbilt University, today was added to the staff of Baylor University coach John Bridgers as chief defensive coach.

Bridgers emphasized that Green, whom he called "one of the finest defensive coaches in the game," was an addition and not a replacement.

Green, who was defensive coach at Kansas last fall, will report in time to work in spring drills with Baylor starting in early March.

He was a guard at West Point in 1944-45 and later served as assistant coach there, at Tulane and Florida during his 20 years of coaching.

The Sports Parade

By MILTON RICHMAN UPI Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UPI)—In the old days, they used sticks and stones to fight a war.

Now they've got it down to a science. They use wires. Western Union type.

That's about the status of the battle between the baseball players and the baseball owners over the minimum salary for major leaguers.

The two sides are firing telegrams at each other. Nothing is set yet. It's all in the hands of Western Union.

If you've heard or read somewhere that the new minimum salary for major leaguers is $10,000 a year instead of $7,000, forget it. It's not so. It may be shortly, but it isn't yet. I know because I checked both parties. They say a couple of wires got crossed somewhere.

The first wire was sent out for the benefit of newspapers, TV and radio stations by John Gaherin, adviser on labor relations to the major league clubs.

Peace, Brothers Speaking for the owners, Gaherin's wire said in essence, "Peace, brothers, we agree to raise the minimum salary from $7,000 to $10,000."

Marvin Miller, executive director of the Players' Association, heard of Gaherin's telegram and fired off one of his own to the various news media. Boiled down to two words, his wire said:

"We accept." Sounds simple, doesn't it? Sounds like everything is hunky-dory, right? Wrong. You don't know how things like this can get dragged out.

Miller now says Gaherin claims he never sent such a wire.

Gaherin says he never said he didn't send the wire and that Miller should come on and get off it.

"In his wire," says Miller of Gaherin, "he said publicly the owners had agreed to the new $10,000 minimum. We accepted that in our wire. Then he turned around and said that their agreement was contingent on our acceptance of their entire package."

Oh yes, they're using packages in this war, too.

Part of the owners' package is that the new $10,000 minimum will apply through 1968 and 1969. The players have a package of their own. They'd like the minimum to be $10,000 this year and raised to $11,000 next year. Also that a player sent back to the minors receive a salary of at least $8,500.

Miller says what the owners did during these negotiations is illegal. He says they said one thing at the bargaining table and told the public another.

Gaherin says the owners did not say what Miller says they did.

"When we agreed to the $10,000 minimum, we specifically said it was part of a package," says Gaherin. "My friend, Dick Moss (attorney for the players' group), says you can't say anything like that in the newspapers. Why not? Why can't we?"

Cocoanuts And Peanuts "Miller's got what they want. They have their $10,000 in the package, but they can't reach in and pull out the cocoanuts without getting some of the salted peanuts, too. That's what bothers them.

"And never mind them telling people about the wire they sent us. We sent one, then they sent one, and then we sent another one pointing out we originally had said our offer was part of a general package. With all these wires, all we're doing is making Western Union rich."

Trying to keep abreast of the salary struggle between both sides is taxing at times. You have to keep a sharp lookout and listen closely.

During the baseball meetings in Mexico City, for example, Miller said, "Over six per cent of the players are getting exactly $7,000."

He said 30 players were getting the minimum and a little research established the fact that seven of these 30 were members of the Kansas City A's.

It was further discovered that the seven Kansas City players in question had received bonuses averaging $30,000 for signing with the A's.

Marvin Miller never said that. Many of those 30 players receiving the minimum salary when the 1967 season started, rookies like Gary Sutherland of the Phillies and Gary Nolan of the Reds, had their contracts torn up during the season and were given raises. That means they no longer were being paid the minimum at the end of the year.

Marvin Miller never said that, either.

John Gaherin keeps one or two things to himself, too.

Now you see why these guys keep sending so many wires.

Marshall Beaten By UH

By United Press International

The top-ranked University of Houston toyed with outclassed, helter-skelter Marshall Thursday night in New York City and took its 21st game in a row 102-93.

Houston was paced by an almost effortless 39 points from All-America Elvin Hayes. The Cougars surged to a comfortable lead midway in the first half then coasted to victory in a sloppy game which wasn't as close as the score suggested.

Houston's unbeaten streak is the longest major college record in the nation since the Cougars nipped UCLA earlier this year in Houston's Astro-dome.

In other games involving Texas as teams, 12th ranked New Mexico State downed Hardin-Simmons 95-67 in Las Cruces, N.M.; Tulsa knifed through a pressing defense to down North Texas State University 70-57 in Missouri Valley Conference play in Denton; and Abilene Christian downed visiting Centenary 92-91.

Hardin-Simmons used 16 free throws in the second half to wipe out a 50-37 New Mexico halftime lead and tied the game at 80-80 with just over four minutes left.

But guard Richard Collins pulled the Aggies ahead to five with two field goals and five free throws. Jimmy Collins paced the New Mexico attack with 22 points and Richard Collins added 15.

Walter Haines scored 19 and Bobby Ross added 13 to lead Hardin-Simmons.

Tulsa's big advantage over NTSU was the free throw line where the Hurricane hit 75 per cent of their shots. North Texas, winless in six conference games, stayed with Tulsa for 30 minutes and the lead changed hands 16 times. Rob Washington of Tulsa was the game's top scorer with 23 points and Hamp Hazelton led North Texas with 19. Tulsa is 4-3 in the MVC.

ACC used the 24 points scoring of John Godfrey to pull past the Louisiana team. Bob Lane hit 26 points for the losers.

District Title Goes On Line Here Tomorrow

A championship basketball game for the round robin title of District 1-B between Darrouzett and Higgins will be played at 7:30 p.m. in Harvester Field House tomorrow.

The game was slated because of Higgins' victory over Darrouzett last night in Higgins by 48-45.

Steve Smith paced Higgins with 19. Darrouzett was not hitting at all in the second quarter (0-17) and finished the evening with 23 per cent from the field.

The District 1-B Tournament begins next Monday and Tuesday night the two teams meet again.

Both clubs are 7-1 for district.

Pete Remains Top Scorer

NEW YORK (UPI)—Pete Maravich of Louisiana State continues to lead the nation's major college basketball scorers with a 44.6 per game average that is well ahead of the all-time record of 41.7 set by Frank Selvy of Furman in 1954.

Statistics through games of last Saturday released by the National Collegiate Sports Services, show that Maravich has scored 625 points in his first 14 games. The bureau pointed out that Maravich's 54 points against Vanderbilt Monday night give him an up-to-the-

Pete Remains Top Scorer 1-24 minute 45.3 average and that he must average "only" 36.8 in LSU's final 11 games to top Selvy's record.

Calvin Murphy of Niagara ranks a distant second to Maravich with 562 points in 15 games for 38.8 average and Elvin Hayes of Houston is third with 597 in 18 games for 33.2.

Joe Allen of Bradley is the field goal percentage leader with 161 for 236 and .682; Joe Heiser of Princeton leads in free throw percentage with 74 for 80 for .925 and Garfield Smith of Eastern Kentucky is the No. 1 rebounder with an average of 22.5 a game.

Marvin Miller never said that, either.

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST WASHINGTON (UPI)—Several political pundits report that Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy has made little headway during the first few weeks of his quest for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Thus far they say, he has failed to strike the spark necessary to galvanize a groundswell.

Galvanize a groundswell—how about that, metaphors lovers? This year's political campaign has barely begun and already I'm in mid-season form.

Being only an apprentice mystified by McCarthy's apparent lack of progress. He had impressed me as being one of the most intelligent and personable figures in politics.

Look For Excitement I figured that even if he couldn't swing the nomination, he would at least stir up some excitement.

After reading the other day that the Minnesota's campaign was "sputtering," I sought out a pundit I know to find out wherein the trouble lay.

The pundit took a deep breath of rarefied air, which is the only kind that oracles inhale, and gave me the following:

"The main trouble is, McCarthy has been going around the country making articulate speeches."

I gasped in disbelief. Surely someone with enough political acumen to reach the U.S. Senate would know better than to make articulate speeches.

"And that isn't all," the pundit continued. "He has been presenting his arguments as appeals to reason rather than playing on emotions."

"Great Granny Grunt!" I exclaimed. "No wonder he hasn't been coming across. Anything else?"

Too Many Vramins "Yes. In some of his addresses he has displayed flashes of ironic wit."

I was dumfounded. Even a rank novice wouldn't make that mistake. To the average voter, irony is a remedy for tired blood.

The pundit waited until I had recovered my composure and then dropped the biggest shocker of all. He said McCarthy had occasionally supported his viewpoint "with appropriate quotations from Thucydides."

Furthermore, he has recited poetry by Robert Lowell and... but I had heard enough.

The public simply isn't prepared for a politician who uses appropriate quotations. The novelty is too great.

And Thucydides, of all people. Why Thucydides couldn't even carry his own home precinct.

Highlights & Sidelights From State Capital

By VERN SANFORD Texas Press Association AUSTIN—Political candidates have only a few more days to make up their minds whether they are going to have a share of the action in the slam-bang 1968 races.

Already the governor's column is jammed with impressive Democrats who include former State Rep. Dolph Briscoe Jr., former Atty. Gen. Briscoe is from Uvalde. Carr and Smith are from Lubbock. Hill is from Houston. Locke, McLendon and O'Daniel are from Dallas.

Republicans promise a candidate or two for governor—may be three—in their own primary. Already announced is Dallas Attorney John Trice.

While the spotlight will be on the Democratic governor's race in the May 4 primary, there will be action in the lieutenant governor's contest also where House Speaker Ben Barnes faces opposition from State Rep. Don Gladden of Fort Worth.

Court races have brought forth the following candidates: For Supreme Court (Place 1): District Judge Sears McGee of Houston and Associate Justice Matt Davis of the Texarkana Court of Civil Appeals. Federal regulation is expected this year. AHC, in cooperation with USDA animal health authorities, is working toward total certification.

Commission reported that the scorching epidemic, on the other hand, is well under control. Confirmed cases in Texas as dropped from a total of 63 in Nov. to four in Dec.

Television In Review

Television In Review By RICK DU BROW HOLLYWOOD (UPI) w6abc3 TV's pacesetter sports department will unveil its all-out coverage of the winter Olympics at Grenoble, France, Sunday with a 90-minute color broadcast.

The program, "A Preview of the 1968 Winter Olympics," will be presented at 4 p.m. CST, and will kick off almost 30 hours of ABC-TV reporting of the international sports event—much of it in prime time.

Actually, the opening ceremonies will not be held until Tuesday morning (American time). The network's broadcasts—some of them live—will be concentrated in the 13-day period starting Tuesday. Only the considerable time difference between France and America—and its obvious inconvenience it poses for viewers in this country—is preventing ABC-TV from scheduling more live coverage of the olympics.

Satellite Coverage There will be daily use of the Early Bird satellite, at any rate. Coverage of events will be seen the day they occur. And, except for the bobbleheading, all of the competition will be shown in color.

Of Tuesday's Olympic opening, a picturesque network press release notes: "While Olympic athletes parade through the Grenoble afternoon sunshine in the opening ceremonies of the 10th winter games, Americans will be watching the festivities over their morning coffee and the Japanese will be viewing before retiring for the evening."

"ABC's live, color coverage of the opening ceremonies will travel approximately 15,000 miles from Grenoble to Tokyo via New York City."

In 1945 the 3rd army broke through Nazi Germany's Siegfried line.
