'NO TIME TO LOSE'

LBJ Asks Billions For Decaying Cities

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—President Johnson called on Congress today to pass a multi-billion-dollar massive program to meet the crisis of America's decaying cities, with the admonition, "There is no time to lose."

The Chief Executive transmitted his blueprint of proposals for a 10-year program for 6 million new housing units, rent supplements, model cities and planning for mass transit systems, from the Texas White House to Congress when it met for a brief session to celebrate George Washington's birthday.

In his message, Johnson said he was recommending appropriations to the tune of $2.18 billion for the anti-poverty program.

He also took the opportunity to urge Congress again to pass the 10 per cent "anti-inflation" income tax increase he recommended more than a year ago. Although it was blocked again in Congress this week, Johnson again urged enactment of the fair housing or so-called "open housing" legislation. As a starter, he asked lawmakers to approve a program to provide 300,000 housing starts in fiscal 1969 for the poor, the elderly, the handicapped, the displaced and for families with moderate incomes.

In addition, his program provided for a start on 75,000 public housing units.

He urged appropriation of $65 million for the rent supplement program for fiscal 1969 and $1 billion in funds for the model cities program during the same period.

"Today, America's cities are in crisis," Johnson said.

"This clear and urgent warning rises from the decay of decades—and is amplified by the harsh realities of the present."

He said the movement of thousands from America's rural heartland into the cities has brought them instead of opportunity "a mirage of poverty, unemployment—and human misery."

Fulbright Maintains Doubts On Incidents

By JOHN HALL
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. J. William Fulbright doubts that two U.S. destroyers were attacked in the Gulf of Tonkin on the night of Aug. 4, 1964, but he acknowledges he will never be able to prove it.

After two days of bitter public exchanges with Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara, Fulbright made it clear Wednesday the Senate Foreign Relations Committee intends to pursue its investigation of the fatal naval incident.

Fulbright, chairman of the committee, said he planned to make public next week a censored version of McNamara's testimony Tuesday on the Tonkin incident. He said the facts produced by that hearing would show that the administration could not be certain whether the Tonkin attack occurred.

"It obviously will be impossible for us to prove it," Fulbright told newsmen. "But it is up to them (the administration) to make a convincing case."

A Fulbright charge that McNamara had suppressed information strongly suggesting such a conclusion was declared "totally without foundation" by the Defense Department Wednesday night.

In a statement, the department said it was urging the committee to make public as soon as possible McNamara's testimony, "subject only to editing to protect intelligence collection..." It said action would be taken at the Pentagon "to expedite security clearance of the transcript."

The Gulf of Tonkin incident led to the U.S. decision to bomb

North Vietnam in retaliation. It also produced a congressional resolution, passed overwhelmingly, giving President Johnson the power to take "whatever steps are necessary" to end North Vietnamese aggression.

Fulbright, among others, now claims that the President has used that resolution to widen the war far beyond Congress' original intent.

Three and a half years later Fulbright's investigation of the incident has produced only three major facts that he and McNamara can agree on:

—That the two U.S. vessels involved, the Maddox and the Turner Joy, were equipped with electronic devices and were in the Gulf of Tonkin on an intelligence mission.

Rumors Outspeed Jackie Kennedy

S. AGATHE, Que. (UPI)—Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy flew here by jet Wednesday but not fast enough to outspeed persistent rumors she intended to marry former British ambassador to the United States, Lord Harlech, possibly today.

The former First Lady came to this skiing resort with her two children, John Jr., and Caroline, for a four-day holiday as the guest of the Jules Timmins family, owners of Timmins Aviation. They said she would return to New York Sunday night.

Earlier, in New York, Mrs. Kennedy's secretary denied a Women's Wear Daily report that quoted "very reliable sources" as saying Mrs. Kennedy and Lord Harlech would be married later today.

The secretary, Nancy Tuckerman, said the report published in a brief front page item "is absolutely not true."

"Mrs. Kennedy is not getting married," she added.

In London today, Lord Harlech, who served as ambassador in Washington during the Kennedy administration, denied the marriage rumors.

"There is no truth at all in the rumors," he said at his home. "I am not seeing Mrs. Kennedy in the near future; there is no question of an engagement or anything like that."

Rumors of a pending marriage between the two began when Lord Harlech accompanied Mrs. Kennedy to Cambodia last November. Since then he has spent much of his time in the United States lecturing and on business trips.

ACCIDENT — A two-car collision on Texas highway 152 seven miles west of Pampa sent Jack Elmore, Skellytown, to Highland General Hospital, where he was treated and released. State Highway Patrol issued hazardous driving conditions effective through tonight, for the Panhandle.

City Sanitation Force Gets Well, Returns to Work

The 21 employees in the city sanitation department who reported off "sick" Monday returned to their jobs this morning.

City Manager Jim White said all of the men were back at work today with the exception of one who was on vacation when the mass "illness" hit.

The men met an 8:30 a.m. deadline that had been set by the city for returning to work or producing doctors' certificates to show the nature of their illness.

Among those who returned to the job was Billy G. Hoover, assistant superintendent in the department, who stated yesterday the men had stayed home because they were "sick" about not getting a salary increase along with police department employees. The police raise, amounting to $20 a month, went into effect last Friday.

Hoover said yesterday that a policeman's starting salary was $42 a month, compared with a minimum of $318 for sanitation department workers who, he stated, were refused a wage increase.

MORE SNOW

Man Dies After Car Skids, Crushes Him

A second snowstorm in two days resulted in an unusual accident that cost the life of Lloyd Thomas, 52, a service station attendant, 1185 Vernon Drive, who was crushed between two automobiles at mid-forenoon today at the Post Office Texaco Service Station, 117 S. Ballard.

Lloyd Thomas, 52, of 1185 Vernon Drive, died of his injuries, in Highland General Hospital at 10:45 a.m. today.

Police said Thomas was filling an automobile with gasoline when another car pulled into the station, skidded and crushed him between the two cars. The accident occurred shortly after 10 a.m.

Snowfall was expected to end tonight after a second siege of frosty weather blasted into the Panhandle last night, dumping more snow on more than an inch accumulated yesterday and causing hazardous driving conditions.

One Pampa man died as a result of the weather, and a Skellytown man was injured in another accident attributed to the weather.

U.S. Embassy In Moscow Never Bombing Target

By RICHARD C. LONGWORTH
MOSCOW (UPI)—The U.S. Embassy is a bomb-thrower's dream standing only a yard off the sidewalk behind a low steel fence. But in demonstrations carefully controlled by Moscow police, it never has been bombed.

The Kremlin charged Wednesday that its Washington embassy was bombed because American officials refused to protect it properly. A note delivered to the U.S. Embassy demanded "strict punishment of those guilty and the immediate adoption of effective measures to ensure the security" of the building and staff.

The American Embassy has been hit 10 times in the last 15 years. Mass protests, yes. Stones and inkwells thrown on cue, yes. But bombs, no.

Soviet protests are disciplined affairs, scheduled in advance and orchestrated carefully. They end on schedule. Brevolent policemen are there to make sure they stay on schedule.

PLANE RETURNS TO US

'Cowboy' Hijacks Airliner and Forces Unscheduled Flight to Cuba with Gun

By CHARLES E. TAYLOR
MIAMI (UPI)—A shabbily-dressed "cowboy" claiming he faced the electric chair, commandeered a Chicago-to-Miami jetliner carrying 109 persons Wednesday and forced it to land in Cuba. The airliner returned to the United States after a three-hour delay in Havana.

The hijacker, identified by a Delta Air Lines spokesman as "S. Wilson," who boarded Flight 843 in Tampa, was escorted off the big DCB in Havana by two soldiers armed with machine-guns. That was the last the Americans saw of him. It was not known whether he asked for political asylum.

The man, wearing a cowboy hat, a cowboy shirt, blue jeans and sneakers, burst into the cockpit of the airliner 15 minutes after it took off from Tampa and pressed a gun into the temple of a stewardess.

"He said, 'we're going to Cuba,'" said Mrs. Joe Bleil of Chicago, the stewardess. "He said he didn't care who he killed or shot up. He said, 'I'm facing an electric chair sentence anyway and I have nothing to lose.'" Mrs. Bleil said.

Cuban authorities released the airliner after providing the crew and passengers with lemonade, coffee and cigarettes and passing out pictures of Cuban Premier Fidel Castro and slain guerrilla leader Ernesto (Che) Guevara.

"It was great," exclaimed professional golfer Barbara

Romack when the plane landed in Miami Wednesday night. "I got more publicity out of this than when I won the Women's Open."

It was, in terms of passengers involved, the biggest hijacking in aviation history and the first successful abduction of an American jetliner since three were forced to land in Cuba in 1961.

The hijacker was one of 19 first class passengers boarding the plane in Tampa.

Minutes later, he followed Mrs. Bleil through the cockpit door.

"This fellow came up behind me with a gun," she said. "He pointed it at the right side of my head and said, 'we're going to Cuba.'"

Entering the cockpit, the gunman took off his hat, grabbed the radio earphones from Capt. J. D. Gainey, of Grassy Key, Fla., the pilot, and put them on his own head.

"He had the gun aimed at all of us," said Gainey. "There was no thought of disarming him—he was much too wrought up." Gainey told his passengers over the plane's intercom system to "keep calm, there's a man aboard who wants to go to Havana."

Most of the passengers remained calm, but tense. A little girl cried, a college coed giggled.

"Everyone was quite cool about it," said Ed Cushing of Hollywood, Fla.

American Flag Flies Signaling Cong Out

SAIGON (UPI)—U.S. Marines fighting foot by blood-soaked foot today captured a Viet Cong watch tower on the southeastern corner of Hue's old Imperial City and ran up the American flag in a signal that the end was near for the diehard Communist defenders.

The Leathernecks—reinforcements who arrived by helicopter Wednesday—charged this final 150 yards through the suicidal Viet Cong defenders on the heels of bombing runs that bathed their last enemy holdout area in flaming napalm and the smoke of 500 pound bombs.

"The echo of the bombs was still ringing in this place when they radioed back that they had the tower," a Marine spokesman reported.

The advance in this bloodiest battle of the Vietnam war was costly. The fighting at Hue also added to last week's record figure of 543 Americans killed in action—18,239 since the United States entered Vietnam. Communist losses for the week were estimated at 36,000.

A Marine spokesman estimated today that no more than 200 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese troops remained alive in the walled Imperial City that once housed the Annamese kings of long ago.

The Imperial City is a fortress within a fortress. Marines already had broken its southeast corner, the lower right hand square of which can be likened to a gigantic tick-tack-toe layout. The Imperial

City is the lower center square and the Marines captured the corner watch tower today.

The outer wall of The Citadel is on the Perfume River and Marines today surged west through the southeast corner and captured the Nguyen Hoang Bridge linking for the first time the allied forces fighting on both sides of the Perfume River.

UPI correspondent Richard V. Oliver, in Hue with the Marines, said the Viet Cong flag still flew over the innermost redoubt.

According to allied spokesmen, more than 3,000 Communists and 100 Marines have been killed in Hue. U.S. spokesmen today announced that the fight for the northern city and battling around Saigon killed a record 543 Americans last week.

They also reported that 2,547 American servicemen were wounded last week, 1,347 of them needing hospital treatment. A total of 1,389 U.S. servicemen were killed in the past three weeks.

In other action, U.S. Army troops battled Communist forces apparently moving against Saigon again.

Federal Agents Look For Leads in Bombing

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Police and federal agents, under White House orders to conduct a vigorous investigation, searched today for leads in the pre-dawn bombing of the Soviet Embassy here Wednesday. Officials said there have been no arrests.

The explosion, which heavily damaged a ground floor office in the turn-of-the-century building but caused no injuries, grew into something of an international incident as charges and denials were exchanged between the Soviet and U.S. governments.

The Soviets took the official position in a protest note that "protection of the Embassy was inadequate." The perpetrators of the bombing must be found and punished and the damage must be made good by the American government.

U.S. officials rejected the charge that the building was underprotected, but promised to make every effort to find those responsible. It "took note of the demand for compensation, indicating it probably could be paid."

Unofficially, the Soviets went farther. The Soviet news agency Tass said the bombing "could have been committed only with the connivance of American authorities" who, despite warnings, "had not taken proper measures to protect the embassy."

White House Press Secretary George Christian labeled the Tass accusations "utterly ridiculous," and a State Department spokesman called them "nonsense."

The State Department expressed official regret over the incident and offered Soviet Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin U.S. assistance.

President Johnson said in a statement he was "relieved that no one was injured... even though considerable damage was done."

Wilson Files For School Board Job

Elmer D. Wilson, 1360 Williston, a former member of the Pampa School Board, today filed his candidacy for one of the two school board vacancies to be filled at the April 6 Pampa Independent School District election.

Wilson, in the oil well servicing business, served a three-year term on the board from 1959 through 1962. He is married and has two children in Sam Houston elementary school.

The former board member was the second candidate to file for one of the two posts in the upcoming election. The first was Tom Dunham, a Pampa real estate man.

The election will be to fill school board seats now held by Creel Grady Jr., board president who is completing his second three-year term, and Jimmy Thompson, Pampa attorney, appointed Jan. 11 to fill the short unexpired term of Gene Steel, resigned. As of noon today neither Thompson nor Grady had filed for re-election.

Deadline for filing will be March 6. Absentee balloting will be from March 18 through April 2.

Meetings Canceled

The Gray County Democratic and Republican Club meetings scheduled for tonight have been cancelled. Spokesman said the meetings would be scheduled for a later date.

Emory Davis of Pampa, council advancement chairman, is in charge of banquet arrangements.

Thirty-one Eagle Scouts from the 15-county area of the Adobe Walls Council will be honored at the banquet.

Eagle Scouts from the Pampa area are Robbie R. Anderson, Lewis E. Andrews, Raymond K. Bonner, Mark N. Buzzard, Robt. A. Davis, Mark E. Gething, Patrick T. Homer, William C. Kempa, Charles W. Lanehart, Jr., B. Lee Loshier, Robert A. Marx, and Fred E. (Gene) Thompson.

Justice of Peace Holds Wedding For Pampa Burglar

George Laclair, 30, assessed a five-year sentence last Friday in 31st Judicial District Court for an Oct. 1966 burglary here, was married yesterday in the office of Justice of the Peace Nat Lunsford to Jimmie Mae Nall, 44, of Amarillo.

The single-ring civil ceremony was performed in Lunsford's office. Witnesses were Gray County Sheriff's Deputies D. L. Day and Bill Board.

Lunsford performed the ceremony free of charge "for a wedding present," he said.

Laclair is awaiting extradition to the state penitentiary to begin serving the sentence assessed here, which is to run concurrently with a three-year sentence assessed in Potter County for a similar offense.

Country Club Names Head

Dr. Joe R. Donaldson was elected 1968 president of the Pampa Country Club at the organization's annual stockholders meeting Tuesday evening. O. M. Prigmore is the outgoing president.

Other officers elected were E. A. Myatt, vice-president and S. Gene Hall, secretary-treasurer. Directors elected to three year terms were Bill Atkinson, Donaldson and Myatt.

Holdover directors include R. A. Eaker, Fred Neslage, Bill Power, Prigmore, Vernon Watkins and Elmer D. Wilson.

School Board Delays Meet

An executive meeting of the Pampa school board, originally set for 9 a. m. today, has been re-scheduled for 9 a. m. Saturday.

Dr. Kenneth Laycock, dean of education at West Texas State University who was to have conferred with board members, had to cancel his trip to Pampa because of hazardous driving conditions brought on by today's snowstorm.

H. Creel Grady, board president, said yesterday a series of meetings has been scheduled for interviews with applicants for the post of Pampa school superintendent.

Dr. Laycock has been employed by the board to assist as a consultant in screening applicants for the job.

Church Schedules Pancake Supper

The 13th annual Pancake Supper will be held Tuesday in St. Matthew's Episcopal Church Parish House, 727 West Brown, from 5 to 7:30 p. m. Chairmen are Mr. and Mrs. Clem Followell.

Tickets will be $1 each. Preschoolers will be admitted free with an accompanying adult. Tickets may be purchased at the door or at the church office.

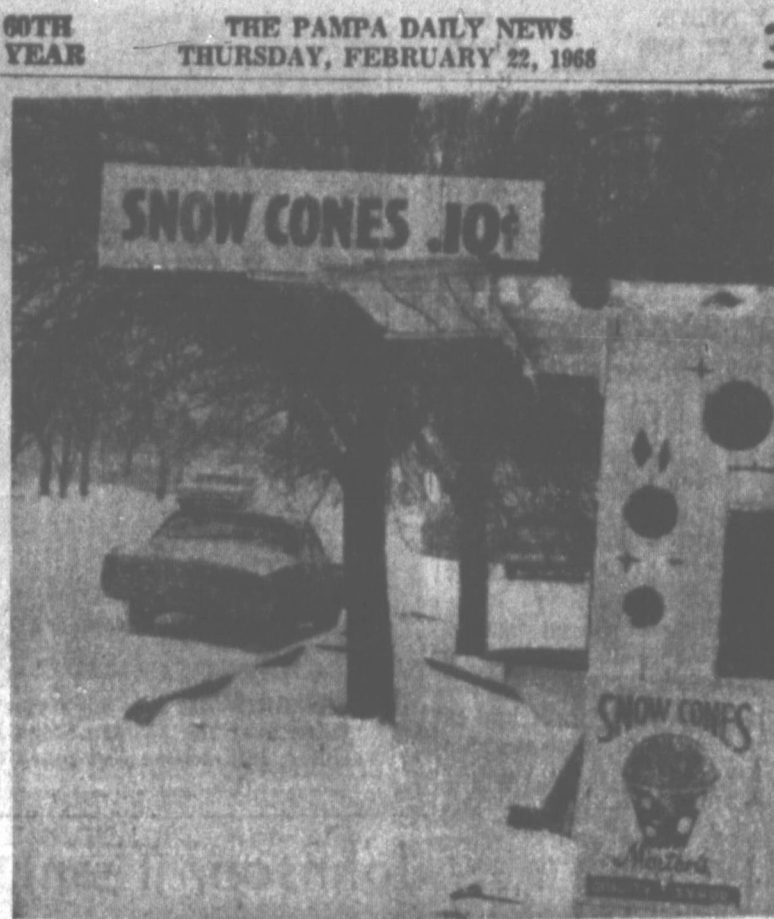

Shrove Tuesday, the Tuesday before Ash Wednesday, is the English equivalent of the French "Mardi Gras" and the Italian "Fat Tuesday."

The English custom of eating pancakes on this day arise from the economy of using up the eggs and fat which were once forbidden articles of diet during Lent.

This Tuesday, the last day before Lent begins, is sometimes called Pancake Tuesday or Pancake Day as well as Shrove Tuesday.

The word "shrove" comes from "to shrive" or hear confessions, further explained by a translation made of the "Ecclesiastical Institutes" in 1000 A.D. by Abbot Aelfric which said that in the week before Lent everyone should confess his deeds to a confessor who shall so shrive him "... as he then may hear by his deeds what he is to do (by way of penance)."

Committee chairmen for the supper are procurement, Dan Michael; tickets, Mrs. Robert Fugate; decorations, Mrs. J. R. Reeve; publicity, Mrs. S. K. Moot; bacon, John Thomas; coffee, Mrs. Walter Holland; syrup, Mrs. Jack Cooper; mix, Mrs. Fred Richmond; servers, Mrs. Joe Daniel; flippers, Ab Conway; clean up, Paul Hinton and Jack Curtis.

Bit of Tin Roof Saves Photographer's Life

By CHARLES EGGLESTON
SAIGON (UPI)—A big flat piece of tin roofing saved my life Tuesday. That and playing dead when two Viet Cong came within 20 feet of where I had been knocked unconscious by a Viet Cong antitank rocket.

It started when I got word that two Vietnamese Ranger battalions had an estimated enemy platoon, about 30 men, pinned down in a cemetery on the western outskirts of Saigon. It looked like a cinch assignment—a few pictures and back home in time for supper.

Two Companies

The Viet Cong force, however, turned out to be at least two heavily-armed infantry companies backed by a heavy weapons support unit—100 men or more. They were looking for a fight and the Rangers, spearheaded by air strikes, were more than willing to oblige.

I latched on to a Ranger platoon trying to infiltrate into the cemetery where Charlie (the Viet Cong) was hiding among the tombs. We shot across an empty space and slammed against the wall surrounding the graveyard, then started moving forward.

There was lots of shooting, but none of it seemed to be directed at us at first.

The platoon leader eased out from behind the wall first and I followed. We immediately began drawing fire from Charlie.

I dove for a nearby thatch shed and then the world exploded.

I came to, perhaps 15 minutes later piled up against one of the alley walls with a piece of tin roofing in top of me. There still was plenty of shooting and nothing was moving in the alley.

Saw VC

Then I saw them—two VC slipping through the tombstones and around the wall. I tried to get photographs of them as they approached but did not dare to lift the tin sheet or my camera. (The photographs showed nothing but the ground.)

They got to within 20 feet of me and I lay perfectly still—hardly daring to breathe. There is a big thing here about looting bodies. I was afraid they would see my cameras and try to take them.

The minutes passed slowly and I suddenly heard a voice speaking in Vietnamese on the other side of the wall. It had to be the Viet Cong because our men were nowhere in sight. I was scared and there wasn't any place to hide.

The shed wasn't in the allied any longer. It had taken a direct hit from a E40 rocket, which is capable of knocking out a tank. There was shredded thatch all over the ground around me.

Another 30 minutes dragged by and then heavy firing broke out. I spotted some Arvins (Rangers) moving into a ditch about 100 yards away and didn't waste any time getting to them.

LOW BRIDGE? No, high river. A barge barely clears the Pont de L'Alma, a Paris bridge over the swollen Seine River. Parisians keep an eye on the statue of a Zouave soldier, left, whose feet mark the danger point for the river's level.

Johnson, Thant Give No Sign of Peace

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson and Secretary General U Thant of the United Nations conferred for an hour today at the White House, but gave no sign there was any fresh hope of bringing peace to Vietnam.

The White House issued a brief statement after the meeting saying Johnson and Thant, just back from conferences with a number of other world leaders on Vietnam, "had a friendly exchange of views on a number of matters, including Vietnam."

There was no advance expectation that the meeting would produce any significant developments.

After the White House session, Thant went to the State Department for a "working lunch" with Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Arthur J. Goldberg, U.S. ambassador to the U.N.

The White House statement said Thant "conveyed to the President his impressions regarding the prospects of peace in Vietnam in light of recent

State of Texas Needs Millions In Tax Increase

SAN ANTONIO (UPI)—House Speaker Ben Barnes said Wednesday new taxes amounting to about $115 million will be needed for fiscal year 1969 in Texas.

He said the total might be even lower if the special legislative budget session is not held until June.

Barnes' estimate of needed revenue is more than $40 million lower than the latest legislative budget board estimate, and is about $55 to $70 million less than estimated a year ago. Barnes said this means that if the legislature had not accepted Gov. John Connally's one-year budget proposal, "Citizens of Texas would have been taxed about $60 million more than necessary."

He said this points up the need for annual sessions of the legislature.

discussions in various capitals of the world. The President reaffirmed our continuing desire to achieve a peaceful settlement and the continued validity of the San Antonio Formula."

Foreign Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst
The United States apparently has decided it must get along with the Greek military regime whether it likes it or not.

The first step in this direction came late in January when, after many months of hesitation, U.S. Ambassador Phillips Talbot received instructions to make an official call on Foreign Minister Panayotis Pipinellis.

Relations between the two countries had been on an informal basis since the failure of King Constantine's efforts to overthrow the ruling junta last Dec. 14 and his subsequent flight to Rome.

There also have been suggestions that the United States is about to lift the embargo on heavy arms shipments to Greece it imposed after last April's coup.

A visit to the port of Piraeus last week by the U.S. aircraft carrier Franklin D. Roosevelt and the entertainment of junta leaders on board carried the further suggestion that the two governments were about to renew their previous close relations as allies under NATO. The two moves lead to the inference that the United States sees no early hope for return of constitutional government to Greece and, on the basis of military requirements, is accepting a situation it clearly does not like.

As for King Constantine, informed sources in Athens expect the junta soon to take punitive measures against him. The young king, who rejected the junta's conditions for his return, has been forced to move out of the Greek embassy in Rome and into a hotel.

Junta members are convinced the king is plotting against them, and there is speculation they may cut off or reduce his $500,000 annual allowance.

At any rate, the sources say the chances of his return are becoming increasingly remote.

This and the junta's obvious determination to remain in office until it develops what it calls a "new Greek mentality" and a new relationship between citizen and state obviously do not bode well for a return to democracy in the nation where it began.

Dallas Bridge Players Seek Champion Team

By PRESTON MCGRAW
DALLAS (UPI)—Six top bridge players, dropping other interests, have moved into the same area of Dallas where they play together 60 hours a week with the aim of developing a U. S. bridge system and becoming a world championship team.

The six are Robert Wolff, 35, formerly of San Antonio; Ira G. Corn Jr., 46, and James Jacoby, 34, both of Dallas; William Eisenberg, 30, formerly of New York; Robert Goldman, 29, formerly of Philadelphia, and Michael Lawrence, 27, formerly of Berkeley, Calif.

"Jacoby (son of the famous bridge player Oswald Jacoby) Corn and I were originators of the idea," Wolff said. "We just got started the first of February."

"The idea too a while to develop. We carefully selected the people involved with the idea that temperament and being able to adjust to circumstances were more important than sheer ability."

Playing Many Hours
"At this stage we are like almost anyone else. But we are playing and discussing 10 hours a day, six days a week. We play from 10 or 11 a.m. to midnight with appropriate breaks."

The team calls itself the "U. S. Aces," despite its newness, the team recently won the Mexican National championship. After the Mexican National, the U. S. aces beat a team of current and former members of the Mexican Olympic team and won easily.

Playing in the central States Regional Tournament in Chicago, the U. S. Aces finished fifth in a field of 72 teams.

Wolff believes the U. S. Aces can develop a system within six to nine months and after a year concentrate on a "winning syndrome." The team has a projected three-year schedule.

Many Good Players
Wolff said this country has 300 bridge players who are as good as the six or eight members of the Italian team, which has won the world bridge championship eight of the last 10 years.

Aid Head Denies Kickbacks From Belgian Contractor

WASHINGTON (UPI)—William Gaud, U.S. foreign aid chief, denied that four aid agency employees received kickbacks from a Belgian contractor.

Testifying at a congressional hearing, Gaud rejected as untrue some published reports that he said implied a $250,000 claim the Agency for International Development (AID) has filed against J. & M. Andriaensens of Antwerp resulted from kickbacks to AID employees.

"This is not so," Gaud told a House government operations

Better Pay Eases Police Staff Problems

By PRESTON MCGRAW
United Press International
Some of Texas' biggest city police departments report that recruiting problems have eased in the past few months and the reason is better pay.

These departments do not include San Antonio. Thirty-one San Antonio policemen went to Houston in a bus the other day and applied for jobs there because they could not get a raise at home.

"Recruiting in Houston is coming along pretty good," Police Chief Herman Short says. "We are recruiting now with a fair measure of success."

Houston police salaries were raised 23 per cent last December. A rookie policeman gets $500 a month when he starts in the academy. Within six months, he gets a $50-a-month raise. With five years' service, his pay is $675 a month.

Fort Worth Better "We have had trouble in the past," says Deputy Chief E. L. Giles of the Fort Worth police force. "But since we got a raise in October, we have pre-ty well filled our classes. "The city council yesterday gave us an extra 50 men and we expect to have that quota filled soon. With the salary scale we now have, we can compete with industry. In fact, of the last five people we hired, three were from industry."

Recruits in Fort Worth start at $500 a month and when they become policemen they get $550.

"We are getting a few but are still a few under," says Capt. Frank Dyson of the Dallas police department. "We got a pay raise last October of 5 per cent."

Start at $500
Recruits start in Dallas at $500 a month, then after six months, $520, and after a year $542.

Money, however, is not everything, the Killeen police department pays its rookies $375 a month to start and they can go up to $430. The Killeen police department has had a retirement system only since Jan. 1. But an empty spot in the Killeen police department does not stay open long. "I think maybe a lot of it has to do with working conditions," says desk officer Cordus Jackson. "Pay, of course, could be higher, but we have air-conditioned automobiles, with power brakes and power steering."

Must Have Desire
Lt. J. C. Murdock of the Grand Prairie police department says there is another factor besides pay in being a policeman. A man has to want to be a cop.

The Grand Prairie police department has an authorized strength of 40 men and is down two. A rookie in Grand Prairie gets $439 and periodic raises every six months until he reaches a top of $503.

All cities report crime increases. Short says the rises in Houston have not been in effect long enough to determine whether they will lower the crime rate. In any event, the crime rate in Houston continues to climb.

In Fort Worth, major crime went up 18 per cent from 1966 to 1967.

"I am sure lack of staff has had some effect on our crime rate," says Giles. "We couldn't cover the city adequately with the men we had then."

"I don't know whether putting out more men would solve the increase in crime," says Dyson. "But I know it certainly would help."

Major crime was up 15.64 per cent in Dallas between 1966 and 1967.

Jackson estimates that crime is up 10 per cent between 1966 and 1967. Grand Prairie may have one of the best records in the state in that respect. In 1966, there were 1860 major offenses in Grand Prairie — murder, rape, car theft, theft over $50, aggravated assault.

In 1967, Grand Prairie had 1867 major offenses — an increase of seven.

In 1950, Hungary sentenced American businessman Robert Vogler to 15 years on charges of Espionage. Vogler served 17 months, and was released in April of 1951.

LAUNCH LINER
HAMBURG (UPI)—The first ocean-going liner built by West Germans for West Germans since World War II was launched Wednesday by Marie-Luise Kiesinger, wife of the chancellor. The ship is the 23,000-ton Hamburg. It was built at the Howaldtswerke-Deutsche Atlantik Line.

BELT SELLERS BELTED
MOSCOW (UPI)—The Moscow newspaper Pravda said Soviet authorities have smashed a racket ring which manufactured and sold 12,000 prayer-inscribed "God belts" which were guaranteed to chase away the devil. Pravda said one of the racketeers, a policeman, had been jailed pending a trial.

Baked Stuffed Pork Chops

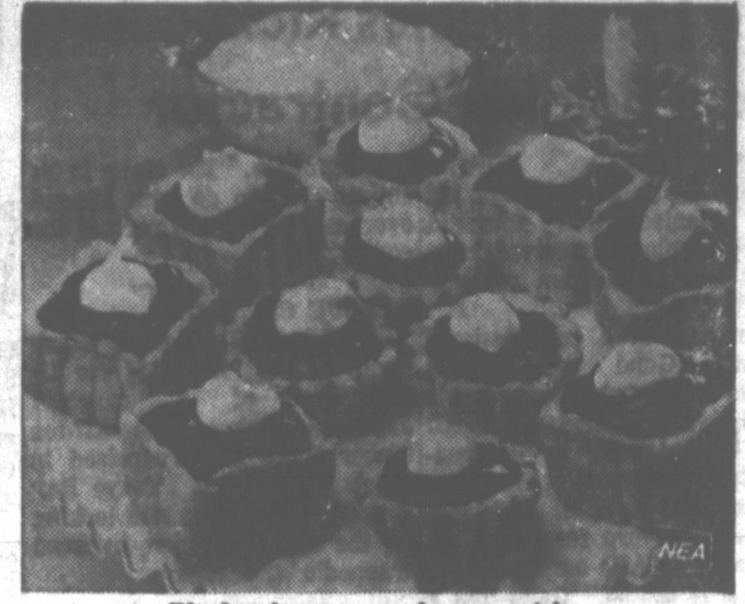

Take 1/2 cup chopped celery and 2 tablespoons onion in one tablespoon butter or margarine until tender. Crumble one inner pack saltines coarsely and combine with 1/2 cup diced, unpeeled apple, 1/4 cup seedless raisins, 1/4 teaspoon sage, 1/2 teaspoon salt and dash of pepper. Fill 4 to 6 pork chops, 1-inch thick, with stuffing. Season with salt and pepper; brown slowly on both sides in remaining tablespoon butter or margarine. Place in a 2-quart casserole; pour 1/2 cup apple juice over chops. Cover and bake at 350 degrees, 1 1/2 hours or until tender. Garnish with crab apples and parsley, if desired. Recipe serves 4 to 6.

LEMON MERINGUE ANGEL CAKE

Prepare white angel cake mix as directed, adding one teaspoon lemon extract and 6 drops yellow coloring to 1 1/4 cup water before adding dry cake mix. Bake as directed in 10-inch cube pan at 350 degrees. In small mixer bowl, beat 5 egg whites and 1/2 teaspoon cream of tartar at highest speed until foamy. Slowly add 2/3 cup sugar, heating meringue continuously until stiff peaks form. Place cake on oven-proof plate or cookie sheet. Frost cooled cake with meringue. Bake at 425 degrees for 4 to 5 minutes, until meringue is golden. Chill an hour before serving. Prepare lemon sauce mix as directed on package and serve over cake slices.

Blueberries, cream cheese pastries.

On Washington's Birthday, Serve Blueberry Pastries

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food Editor
Put a bright red cherry on top of these little blue pastries and you have the perfect treat for George Washington's Birthday. They are easy to make and even easier to eat.

BLUEBERRY-CREAM CHEESE PASTRIES

- 1 cup (2 sticks) butter or margarine
- 2 cups all-purpose flour
- 1 cup (1/2 pt.) sour cream
- 3 eggs, well beaten
- 1 tablespoon sugar
- 2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
- 1 teaspoon vanilla extract
- 1/2 teaspoon almond extract
- 1 pound (two 6-oz. pkgs.) soft cream cheese
- 1 can (1 lb., 6 oz.) blueberry pie filling.

tablespoons of sour cream and stir until dough cleans the bowl. Knead on a lightly floured board. Divide dough into 12 pieces. Press dough with floured fingers into the bottom and sides of twelve 3-inch tart or large muffin pans. Beat remaining sour cream with eggs, sugar, butter, vanilla and almond extracts and cream cheese until smooth. Fill tarts to within 1/2-inch of pastry tops. (Since tart pans vary in size a great deal, some of the cheese mixture may be left over. If so, it can be baked in custard cups as a pudding and topped with blueberries.) Bake in a pre-heated moderate oven (375 degrees) for 20 minutes or until pale brown. Cool in pans. Unmold and spoon blueberry pie filling over top of each tart. Garnish with sweetened whipped cream. Makes twelve 3-inch tarts.

Food Buying Guide

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Week-end shoppers can make their selections from an excellent variety of meat and poultry and adequate displays of fresh fruits and vegetables in food stores and supermarkets, according to USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service.

Broiler-fryer chickens and turkeys again head the list as being the most abundantly available meats. Also on the abundant list are pork chops and roasts, and ham and bacon. Beef roasts and steaks, and ground beef should also be featured as being in good supply. Fish filets and steaks, fish sticks and portions, and canned tuna are fish buys to watch for.

Cabbage, lettuce, and potatoes are the most abundant vegetables. Onions may join them in some areas. Grapefruit and oranges are again the featured fruits in most areas. Apples may be featured in some areas.

Easy To Make

Almond barfi is easy to make. Dissolve 1/2 cup of sugar with 3 tablespoons of water. Boil until syrup spins a thread from a spoon. Remove from heat, add 2 tablespoons of butter and 8 ounces of shelled almonds, blanched and ground. Pour quickly in a thin layer on a greased plate. Flatten and cut into diamond shapes.

Rinse cookware or soak it as you prepare to serve each meal. Food which has hardened is much more difficult to remove. After soaking, use a vegetable brush or plastic scrubber to remove cooked-on food. Loosen burned-on foods by soaking with detergent and water.

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: We are an elderly couple, and childless. We have lots of nieces and nephews who were brought to our small place when they were young. We loved them and kissed away their bruises and always remembered them with nice gifts at Christmastime and birthdays and so on. Now they are grown men and women with families of their own, and we are quite forgotten. We have written them letters, which were all ignored. However we are still on their Christmas card list, although none of them has ever taken the extra five minutes to add a personal line or two.

Well, back in the thirties, the Mrs. and I inherited a little property, which we sold. On the advice of a banker friend we bought IBM and General Motors stock, and as you probably know the investment was a good one. We never lived extravagantly with fancy automobiles or showy homes. Never took expensive vacations as we like it here. We gave to charities, modestly, but never appeared rich because of the many dangers that threaten rich folks. We enjoy simple pleasures like gardening and cozy nights around a fireplace. We have watched the mailbox for years for letters from our "kids," but none have come, save their printed store-bought cards at Christmastime.

Our best friend is our mailman. On several occasions he has rung our bell, wanting to know if we were all right because he didn't see us stirring inside. Last Christmas he bought me a nice pipe and can of tobacco. And he gave the Mrs. some powder and perfume. We gave him a turkey as he has a good wife and five small children. One day he is going to get a real big surprise. Abby, because in our will we have left

How To Choose Tableware

This is the time of year when newly engaged girls are choosing tableware for their future home. While some may settle on inexpensive china, glass and silver, their future is a "forever" decision — and for both quality and practicality, sterling silver is their first choice. Here are tips from the Sterling Silversmiths Guild on selecting patterns:

• In the early stages of sterling selection, it's wise to see the actual silver itself. Only when sterling's picked up and balanced... its weight tested... can it be "seen" and selected properly. • Ask your sterling retailer to set up, if possible, a six-piece place setting of your final selections in sterling, along with china and glass patterns, to judge the total effect. • Register your pattern choice with the store's bridal gift registry. While sterling flatware is traditionally the gift of the parents of the bride, friends and relatives like to give sterling, too. By checking the bridal registry, they can find out which place and serving pieces you still need.

Theta Delta Chapter, Delta Kappa Gamma Elects Officers, Sets Area Luncheon Date

Mrs. Audie Morgan, Panhandle, was elected president of the Theta Delta Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma Sorority at a meeting in the home of Mrs. John Tatum recently. Serving with Mrs. Morgan for the next biennium will be Mrs. Calvin Murray, Panhandle, first vice president; Mrs. Tatum, second vice president; Miss Mary Dean Dozier, recording secretary; and Miss Thelma Holman, Panhandle, corresponding secretary. These officers will be installed at the May meeting.

Miss Mary Ewing, president, reported invitations had been sent to four other chapters in the Panhandle area to participate in a luncheon meeting, sponsored jointly by Theta Delta and Beta Delta chapters, honoring the state president, Miss Jessie Simm of Denton, March 30, in the Coronado Inn.

These chapters are Gamma Theta, Borger; Gamma Kappa, Childress; Gamma Xi, Dumas; and Eta Alpha, Spearman. Reservations are to be sent to Miss Mary Dean Dozier, chairman of the hostess committee, by March 15. Mrs. L. R. Copeland, Panhandle, chairman of the Scholarship Committee, stated two summer scholarships, sponsored by the chapter, are available to members of Theta Delta and requested that applications be in by April 1. After the business session, Mrs. John Morris, White Deer, gave a thumb-nail sketch of the recent novel, "Thorpe," by Mary Dutton of Borger. The program, "Value Patterns Reflected through Music," was introduced by Mrs. John Vantine, who with Mrs. Austin Riddick, led the group in singing "America, the Beautiful" and several Delta Kappa Gamma songs.

Mrs. Vantine began the panel discussion by stating "music has universal appeal. It mirrors the thinking and feeling of society, it speaks from heart to heart. Every age has its good and bad music; eventually the bad disappears and the good remains."

Mrs. Murray reported results of a survey made among young people regarding their attitudes toward music. Included in this survey were about 50 elementary pupils, with a slightly smaller number each from junior high, senior high, and college students.

From a list of 24 singers of rock and roll to opera, the elementary and junior high students placed Elvis Presley first while senior high school and college students rated the Lettermen, the Supremes, and Andy Williams among their favorites. Elementary and junior high pupils chose as their favorite singer "Snoopy and the Red Baron." "I'm a Believer" rated high among the older public school students, while the college group chose "Somewhere My Love."

students named "Somewhere My Love" and "You'll Never Walk Alone." Mrs. R. R. Riddick discussed "Trends in Modern Music," pointing out modern music, including hard rock, soul music, and psychedelic, is the expression of youth's social anxieties and insecurity, in the face of a threatening world.

Mrs. J. I. Williams, Panhandle, concluded the program with two suggestions as to what can be done to promote better music: first, to present good music in the classroom; and second and most important, to introduce it in the home, to make it a part of the familiar surroundings from early childhood. Refreshments were served to the 28 members present by the hostesses, Mrs. Tatum, Mrs. Henry Gruben, Mrs. Roy Sullivan, and Miss Lella Clifford.

American Business Women Hear Foreign Exchange Student Speak

American Business Women's Association met recently in Furr's Cafeteria, for the monthly dinner meeting with Mrs. T. A. Mastin, president presiding. Mrs. Eugene Richardson, White Deer, the American mother of Anna Elizabeth Kuylensteerna from Avesta, Sweden, introduced the foreign exchange student as the guest speaker.

Anna explained Sweden's system of government as parliamentary with an Upper House and a Lower House. There are five political parties, but the Social Democratic Party is now in power, she said. Sweden is a Christian country and celebrates the birth of Christ on Christmas Eve. A child belongs to the state church until he is 16 years of age. He then may decide for himself which one of the free churches he wishes to join. The main religion is Lutheran, she said. Sweden has one of the largest welfare programs in the world, and taxes are high. The greater majority of the people speaking English," Miss Kuylensteerna said. She summarized the purpose of the American Field Service. During the World War I and II the Field Service transported wounded soldiers from the battlefield to the hospitals. After the war they organized the Foreign Exchange Student program. The first year of this program only 17 students were sent abroad. This year 3,180 students were sent abroad to 60 different countries.

Anna came from a village of 10,000 inhabitants. Her father is a principal in a School of Forestry, and her mother is a housewife. She has two brothers age 19 and 21, and one sister 11 years old. Mrs. Elmo Hudgens gave a vocational speech explaining how she wanted to become a nurse, and how this dream became a reality. She received her training at Groom Memorial Hospital and is a nurse with Highland General Hospital. She read a poem written by Mrs. Dr. Witt at Groom about Maxine Nabors.

Astrological Forecast By CARROLL RIGHTER. FOR FRIDAY, FEB. 22: GENERAL TENDENCIES: This is certainly a day and evening when most everyone is in a carefree frame of mind and you would be wise to do nothing but step any arguments or discussions that could get you into trouble with anyone else. If your companions seem to be itching for a fight, ignore them; they may not know the aspect! ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) - High-spiritedness may appear to be making grave errors, but do not be critical since it could be for the best after all. Be sure you observe every law that applies to you and obey it without unnecessary delay. TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) - Go you should be working in not wise, so get busy instead. Do not get too attached to that overly affectionate person. This roadblock up a multitude of faults, bad ideas. GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) - It would do you no good to try to get out of business, personal or governmental obligations now; you would only get deeper into hot water. Don't follow that persistent hunch. It could lead you into the wrong direction. MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) - Usual allies are feeling irate and could make some trouble for you if you do not meet your obligations to them quickly. Be careful of those who oppose you. Stick to the letter of the law. LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) - Better get at those duties you have promised to perform without talking co-workers over the coals or just going off on some tangent or other. See that you follow your right. Get your health bettered. VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) - Avoid that temptation to leave important work behind so that you can go out for a bit of leisure that isn't even worth the time or trouble. Keep steadfast and then enjoy inexpensive fun. LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) - You must take care you do not lose your temper today or tonight and be sure you are very kind with those dwelling under your roof. Best ideas need further study before putting them in operation. Be wise, don't take any chances. SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) - Much care has to be exercised now if you are to prevent an accident while out driving, and being alert to the other person's moves is wise. Do not use sarcasm with others. Speak kindly and all is fine. SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) - You are in a mood to spend too much for anything for no reason at all, so get wise to yourself early. Better get busy figuring out a better budget. Then you keep your head above water. CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) - Before you take any definite steps in some direction, be sure you think twice and be sure you are on the right track. Steer clear of that individual who causes your head above water. AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) - Use more self-control now even though you think others are abusing you or not giving you a chance to express your finest talents. Take time to be of assistance to another. Then you get the right perspective. FEBRUARY (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) - Better get off alone to the recreation you like, since usual allies are either not available or in the wrong mood. Wait until a better day to repay that social obligation you have. Stop feeling sorry for yourself. IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY, it he or she will be one of those dynamic young people who is always up to something because it is difficult for your progeny to sit still, be happy when nothing is going on. So be sure you give courses that keep your intelligent progeny busy sports that give vent to extra energy. A fine builder, real estate man or woman here. Read The News Classified Ads

Home Only Another Political Battleground for Senator Hart

By MARGUERITE DAVIS WASHINGTON (UPI)—Home is just another political battleground these days for Sen. Philip A. Hart.

To the Michigan Democrat's announced support of President Johnson's unannounced candidacy, two voices of his nearest and dearest respond in counterpoint: "Dump Johnson!"

Both wife Jane and 20-year-old daughter, Ann, are working for Minnesota Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, so far the only Democrat to admit he is seeking the presidential nomination.

Not only that, Ann has recruited her brother Jim, 16.

Pitching In

Ann, blonde, petite and miniskirted, is director of the Washington Volunteers for McCarthy. She numbers her brother among 500 supporters who are pitching in to help.

Mrs. Jane Hart is equally and openly opposed to her husband's views. Substituting for him recently for a speech before a women's group, she acknowledged their differences—"bedfellows make strange politics"—then presented her views.

She also has joined Women for Peace demonstrations in front of the White House.

The senator and his staff dissenters argued their convictions in separate interviews—Ann in the 11-room apartment where the local McCarthy volunteers have established their headquarters, complete with an LBJ picture for a dartboard; her parents over coffee in their home nearby.

Hart argued that a "dump Johnson" move would guarantee the election of a Republican president in November.

"My feeling is that Johnson is the least satisfactory person available to the presidency, of anyone in the world," Ann retorted over her shoulder as she helped tape a McCarthy poster to the wall.

Not Much Better

"I see him as ruining our country, destroying the nation and the Democratic party, by involving us in Vietnam. I see the Republicans as not much better, but less dangerous."

President Johnson is an honorable man and wants an end to the war in Vietnam, Hart said, but the consequences in the balance of power preclude immediate abandonment of the U.S. presence.

"If wise old heads can't find the answer, it's time to change," Mrs. Hart countered. "We haven't made the first step away."

She disputed her husband's assertion that the United States has shown restraint in prosecuting the war.

"Continued escalation isn't restraint. We're in the process of wiping out the whole population of Vietnam."

Hart feels that Jane and Ann, and those who share their views, can't see the woods for the trees.

Vietnam will be "a footnote or a cruel chapter in history" before this nation's domestic problems are solved, and the Democratic party as now personified by Johnson has proven its superiority over the GOP in coping with the latter, he said.

Liberal Democrats Slate Meeting on Endorsements

AUSTIN (UPI)—Texas liberal Democrats will meet Friday through Sunday to consider endorsement of candidates for statewide elections, the chairman of the group said today.

Ronald L. Platt said the weekend meeting will also include reports on the TLD's voter registration drive.

Platt said all Democratic candidates for governor and lieutenant governor have been invited to the session.

"Several have indicated they will attend, including several of the moderate-conservative candidates," Platt said.

Preacher Speaks of 'Tribal Rite' In Comparison With US Sports

By IRA BERKOW
NEA Sports Writer
Contemporary man carries with him, like his appendix and his fingernails, vestiges of his tribal and pagan past.—From "The Secular City."

Even the increasing aspect of violence in our various forms of entertainment, from football to films like "Bonnie and Clyde," does not worry me very much. I doubt that it stimulates violence in the streets. Rather, it may serve as an ersatz relief from aggression. Our pent-up anxieties often are released through these vicarious means. You have mentioned several benefits of sports in America, Dr. Cox. But how can it be harmful? day-to-day cares, it becomes one's entire reason for being. And one gets cut off from the real world."

NEW YORK (NEA) — Dr. Harvey Cox, 38, is one of the most radical and highly esteemed theologians in America. His book, "The Secular City," was published in 1965 and met with wide acclaim and controversy. He is associate professor of church and society in the divinity school of Harvard University.

Interviewer: "Dr. Cox, is there any comparison between the often fanatical interest in sports in America and the tribal rites in ancient societies?"

DR. COX: "There is a striking similarity between people today thronging to our immense stadia and the tribal people converging toward their totem. The teams often incarnate the spirit of the whole city or college. And that could be a good thing. It instills civic unity, just as the totem did in pagan societies."

"That's the way it was last summer in Boston with the Red Sox. I don't like baseball. It's too slow. I'd rather watch football because it's faster and has more contact. But everyone in Boston was wild with excitement during the pennant race. I got caught up in it, too. I even went to a game. I had to, or be ridden out of town on a rail."

What function does the sports hero or superstar play in this "totem" relationship?

DR. COX: "He is like the king or chieftain. He is an ersatz figurehead. Someone like Carl Yastrzemski is, for many Red Sox followers, part of the world of semidivine beings, like movie stars or folk musicians. This is good—within limits."

"We need such symbols, if for no other reason than people can identify with something or someone of stature. And maybe forget their own inadequacies and problems in the process."

This new world becomes, for many sports fans, a manageable, compensatory mechanism in which to escape the real, baffling world around them.

Jefferson's 6-9 postman Nat Stephens dumped in 29 points and was aided with 10-point performances from three others Wilson Barrow (6-5), George Rojero (6-0) and Quintance Williams (5-11).

Jefferson now goes into a bi-district game in El Paso Tuesday at 8 p.m. tentatively set for Memorial Coliseum with Odessa Permian who beat Midland Lee by 68-67 in overtime last night.

OAKLAND, Calif. (UPI) — World champion shot putter Randy Matson of Texas A&M and world indoor broad jump record holder Bob Beamon of Texas-El Paso will be among a host of Olympic hopefuls in the field for the AAU Indoor Track and Field meet Friday and Saturday.

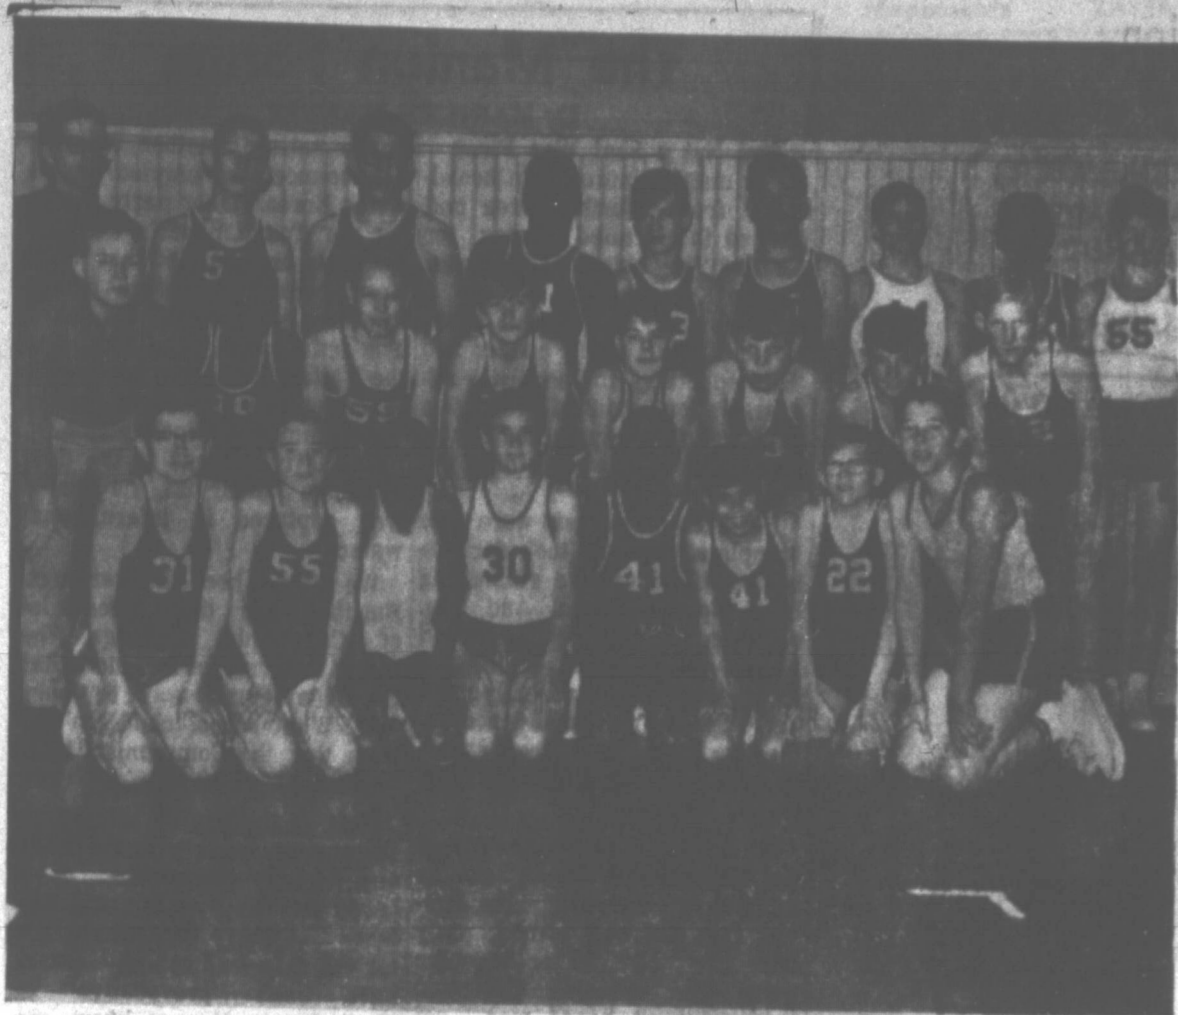

Both will see action Friday night when their specialties are scheduled for the finals.

'Walling's Wonders' Meet ACC Tonight

CANYON (Sp1) — West Texas State's first year basketball coach, Dennis Walling, is a big man, big enough to require a 44 extra long shirt and big enough to shoulder the responsibility of transforming a team which had won but one of 19 games last season into a winner.

That's right, Walling's Buffs are perhaps the "winningest" 500 team in the nation with an 8-8 record. "Walling's Wonders" are riding the crest of a five-game winning streak. What is more, they're even thinking in terms of an NCAA or NIT playoff berth, provided they win their remaining five games.

The order is big. West Texas' remaining schedule reads like the heart of the 1927 New York Yankee batting order. The Buffs host Abilene Christian tonight, University of Texas at El Paso Saturday night and 12th ranked New Mexico State Mon-

Haltom and Bell To Decide Title

By CURTIS MONTGOMERY
Sports Editor

Pampa will play the winner of the game between Haltom and L. D. Bell tomorrow night in Fort Worth in the new Birdville Coliseum, home of the Haltom Buffalos.

The Blue Raiders won the first game of the best of three series with the Buffs taking the second last Friday night making it necessary to play this decider tomorrow night to determine who is going to play the District 3-4A champion Pampa Harvesters.

That bi-district game will be played next Monday or Tuesday at a site to be determined by the flip of a coin, which will probably take place following the game Friday night. Coach Terry Culley and coach Bill Brown will be scouting the game to be reported in the Sunday edition of the Pampa Daily News.

Haltom has three big boys, Gene Perry (6-5), Larry Powell (6-5) and Gary Jackson (6-4). The guards are around 6-0 — Danny Dowle and Bobby Payne.

Pampa coach Terry Culley made the trip to scout the Midland - Lee, Odessa - Permian game. Pampa will face either Permian or Jefferson in the regional championship, if they beat the winner of the Haltom-L.D. Bell game in Fort Worth tomorrow night. The Pampa game with that winner in 4-4A will be played either Monday or Tuesday night at a site to be determined by a toss of the coin.

Pampa worked out today with Culley putting his Harvesters through a normal workout in preparation for the bi-district championship date next week.

The Haltom-L.D. Bell game will be reported in the Sunday Pampa Daily News with an advance story on the bi-district championship game.

Minimum Wage Goes to 10,000

NEW YORK (UPI) — The notion that baseball is a labor of love suffered a severe setback Wednesday as the result of the first labor agreement concluded between major league owners and the Players' Association.

Those 500 players fortunate to make the major leagues will receive a minimum of $10,000 per year, an increase of $3,000, in the most sweeping series of economic improvements involving baseball players in history.

Major leaguers also were to receive increases in meal allowance on the road and in spring training and in miscellaneous training camp allotments, as well as a decrease in the maximum salary deduction allowable.

The agreement, jointly announced by John J. Gaherin, legal advisor to the owners' Players Relations Committee, and Marvin J. Miller, Executive Director of the Players' Association, also included a joint study by both groups for possible alternatives to the controversial reserve clause and a new grievance arbitration procedure.

Several of the points of the agreement, which capped negotiations began last September, were prematurely disclosed last month but Gaherin said they had not yet been ratified at that time.

The contract, which became effective as of last Jan. 1, will run for two years.

In addition to the hike in the minimum wage, players also received these financial benefits:

Matson To Get Sullivan Award

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Randy Matson, the Texas A&M strongman who is the only 70-foot shot putter in history, will receive the Sullivan Award tonight as America's outstanding amateur athlete of 1967.

Matson hold the world shot put record of 71 feet, 5 1/2 inches. He also owns the nation's best discus performance ever of 213-9.

Another trackman, Kansas mile standout Jim Ryun, was given the Sullivan Award for 1966.

Eagles Escape Cellar Fate By 1

By United Press International
North Texas State University beat St. Louis by only one point Wednesday night, but to coach Dan Spika and the rest of the Eagles it must have looked like 100.

The victory was the first this season for NTSU in Missouri Valley play and gave the Eagles a faint hope of escaping the MVC cellar before the year is out.

North Texas had to overcome a six-point deficit in the final 10 minutes, and then hold off a St. Louis counterattack, to get the 65-64 victory.

Leroy Winfield popped in a go-ahead jump shot with a minute left, and then St. Louis promptly threw the ball away. The Eagles stalled out the remaining seconds.

Winfield paced North Texas' first victory in 12 conference outings with 21 points. Eugene Moore led the Billikens with 20. St. Louis is now 6-6 in league play.

The University of Texas at El Paso was not as fortunate as the Eagles, however, losing to New Mexico State in Las Cruces, N.M., 68-63.
