Antiwar Vets Ordered To Leave N.Y. Statue

NEW YORK (AP) — A federal judge ordered 16 antiwar veterans today to remove their barricades from inside the Statue of Liberty, the national monument they have held since Sunday night to protest continuation of fighting in Vietnam.

Judge Lawrence W. Pierce barred the veterans from continuing their occupation, effective the moment their lawyers arrived on Liberty Island in New York Bay to inform them of his ruling.

Pierce's decision came after government lawyers argued that they could not "bargain away the right of other people to visit the statue," which they called "a symbol for mankind."

NEW YORK (AP) — Sixteen antiwar veterans bowed to a federal order today and opened the doors of the Statue of Liberty after holding the national monument since Sunday night.

The veterans walked out of the pedestal after their lawyers brought word to Liberty Island that Judge Lawrence W. Pierce had barred further occupation of the statue, which the group seized to dramatize their opposition to continued fighting in Vietnam.

The government also contended that damage possibly was being done to the statue because the veterans have gained access to locked parts of the 305-foot-high monument. "Since they have no keys, we can only surmise they gained access by knocking down the doors or some other way," said Asst. U.S. Atty. Alan B. Morrison.

A lawyer for the veterans countered, however, that he talked with the group Monday and was assured that the government's surmise that damage was occurring "is without foundation."

The group rejected Monday evening a government compromise offer that would have reopened the historic monument to sightseers while allowing the veterans to remain on Liberty Island and continue their protest.

Flying an American flag upside down as a symbol of distress, the veterans reiterated their position that they would not leave until their demand that the protest be publicized to U.S. troops was met.

Similar antiwar protests were carried out Monday at the Betsy Ross House in Philadelphia and at a ward in a hospital at Travis Air Force Base in California.

Members of the VVAW have been encamped at Valley Forge, Pa., since last week. Spokesmen claimed that the New York and Philadelphia protests were launched from there.

Twenty-three men and two women occupied the tiny Philadelphia home where Betsy Ross fashioned the first American flag. They left peacefully when police broke in 45 minutes later.

At Travis, 18 Army enlisted men just back from Vietnam took over the floor of an observation ward for 10 hours to protest their enforced treatment for what the military said was opium use.

In New York, the 12-acre Liberty Island was closed to sightseeing boats which connect it with the tip of lower Manhattan. About 2,000 persons a day normally visit the landmark at this time of year.

The National Park Service, which has jurisdiction over the island, brought about 20 special policemen in from Washington but they were taken off the island at nightfall.

In seeking a federal court eviction order, the park service noted that hundreds of Christmas week sightseers were being blocked from visiting the statue.

U.S. District Court Judge Lawrence W. Pierce asked attorneys for the veterans if they would agree to a government offer to allow them to remain on the island if they evacuated the statue.

When they refused, he ordered the defendants to show cause why they should not open the doors to the statue, remove the barricades and remove themselves except during normal visiting hours.

Lindsay Seeks Presidential Nomination

MIAMI Fla. (AP) — Mayor John V. Lindsay of New York, a Republican until last August, announced today that he seeks the Democratic presidential nomination.

"I have decided to seek the presidency," he said, "and I will begin that effort in the Florida primary." The Florida primary is March 14.

Lindsay attacked the Nixon administration for ignoring the needs of ordinary people in the nation and the world, calling the White House now "a clubhouse for privileged power at home and the parade ground for juntas and generals from around the world."

He said in a prepared statement that Washington "is a capital closed to the ordinary citizen, but open to bankrupt corporate giants, foreign dictators and to those wealthy enough to buy privileged protection with campaign cash."

Lindsay, 50, said he chose Miami to announce because its economic and cultural diversity make it a testing ground for the principles he will run on.

Following his appearances in the state, Lindsay was to fly to Wisconsin, where he will announce his plans Wednesday for the April 4 primary there.

The mayor, who during much of his term of office in New York has fashioned himself as a spokesman for the nation's rapidly growing urban populace, said he will "speak for the America that Washington has ignored."

He added that "six years of running the second biggest government in America—six years of a fight for survival—has convinced me that our communities and neighborhoods will have a chance only when Washington looks beyond its sheltered walls."

Lindsay said the process will begin only with "a willingness to face the truth."

Seven U.S. Choppers Downed By Vietcong

Vet In Time For Holiday At His Home

Spec. 4 Dennis Elliott, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Elliott of 1137 Sierra was discharged from the U.S. Army just in time Friday for Christmas at home.

Dennis hitch-hiked home from Amarillo 12:30 a.m. on Christmas without informing his family of his arrival in advance.

Dennis's mother relayed her discovery of him beside the Christmas tree as the "best Christmas present I have ever had."

Spec. 4 Elliott spent 12 months of his Army tour in Vietnam, almost a month in Cambodia, 18 months in Germany and the rest State-side.

He is a 1968 graduate of Pampa High School. He also attended one semester at West Texas University at Canyon before joining the Army.

He was a member of the U.S. Nishan team while in Germany, where the U.S. met Great Britain, Iran and Paraguay in marksman competition.

Dennis will enroll in the University of Houston next September. Until then he will live with his family. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Elliott and brother and sisters Gary, Judy and Sherry.

BEST GIFT OF ALL—There could be no greater gift than to find your long-absent son under the Christmas tree on Christmas morning. Shown here is Mrs. Charles Elliott re-enacting the greeting to her son Dennis who came home unexpectedly, stole into the house and took his place under the tree with the other presents. Upon discovery Christmas morning, there was much joy with the realization he was home from the Army for good.

Warm-up Expected Tomorrow

A cold front slipped into the Panhandle yesterday and sent the mercury below the 30-degree mark last night.

The overnight low in the city was 29 degrees and the high this afternoon was expected to stay below the 50-degree mark. It was only 34 at 10 a.m.

The new cold wave was not expected to bring severe winter weather. In fact, a slight warm-up is expected tomorrow and to continue through the remainder of the week.

No moisture was in sight, the forecasters said, and a rather pleasant weekend is in the offing unless there are unexpected developments weatherwise.

The cooler weather returned to the state today after several days of unseasonably warm temperatures which broke winter high temperature records in the Panhandle and several sections of the state.

Vanguard of the new frontal system was a band of showers and lower temperatures which moved across North Central and Northeast Texas while the rest of the state was draped in fog and cloud, awaiting the new system.

Temperatures before dawn dropped to more normal levels with 30 and 40-degree readings common in North and Northeast Texas. West Texas and other sections had readings in the 50s and 60s.

The National Weather Service forecast showers throughout the day for Northeast Texas while the remainder of the state was to have cloudy skies and minor reductions in temperatures from the past several days.

Scientists Eye Influenza Epidemic

WASHINGTON (AP) — With an eye on the calendar as well as the microscope, scientists are working to blunt the next thrust of a worldwide influenza epidemic.

Major epidemics of the disease sweep the world about every decade, making the late 1970s the next danger period. And the danger is real. The "Asian Flu" epidemic of 1957-1958 and the "Hong Kong Flu" seige of 1968 brought widespread sickness and death in some countries.

Demos Mount Attacks Against Bombing Raids

WASHINGTON (AP) — Attacks by congressional Democrats are mounting against stepped-up bombing raids over North Vietnam while Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird says the new strikes were prompted by violations of a 1968 understanding with Hanoi.

Laird refused at a year-end news conference Monday to rule out more strikes against North Vietnam and Radio Hanoi reported that fresh waves of American bombers hit various targets for the third straight day today.

The defense chief described the attacks by a reported force of 350 planes as being of limited duration. He said they will not slow down the U.S. troop-withdrawal rate.

With the U.S. troop level in Vietnam down to 160,000, Laird said: "The primary emphasis is on protecting the remaining American forces that are in Vietnam today."

But Democratic presidential hopeful Sen. George McGovern said the "shocking escalation... sinks us deeper into the quagmire of Indochina and, more important, makes it certain none of our prisoners will be released."

"While Bob Hope acts as an emissary of President Nixon in seeking release of our prisoners, the Air Force acts as the true Nixon instrument in guaranteeing that the number of POWs will be increased," the South Dakota senator said in a statement issued from his presidential campaign headquarters.

Laird said the bombing was spurred by five violations of the 1968 understanding with the North Vietnamese that led to a halt of heavy U.S. air raids over North Vietnam. The bombing halt was ordered by former President Lyndon B. Johnson.

Laird cited the recent shelling of South Vietnamese cities including Saigon; violations of the demilitarized zone; a lack of progress in the Paris peace negotiations; attacks on U.S. reconnaissance planes over North Vietnam and Laos; and more attacks on all types of U.S. planes this month than he said had occurred in any one month since 1968.

North Vietnam has never acknowledged the existence of the 1968 agreement. Laird refused to name targets or elaborate on the bombing. Instead, he said "erroneous statements" by Hanoi in the last 36 hours show the enemy is "obviously confused." He did say all targets hit were military and promised to give complete information after the bombing stops. His silence was motivated by a desire to protect U.S. pilots on the bombing operations, he said.

In Philadelphia, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., signed a statement calling for the setting of a date for total withdrawal of all U.S. forces from Vietnam, cessation of all bombing and removal of U.S. support for the present Saigon government.

The former vice president signed the statement after his speech before the American Association for the Advancement of Science was disrupted by a group of jeering antiwar, anti-Humphrey young people.

Rep. Lester L. Wolff, D-N.Y., who heads a Democratic study group on "Vietnam oversight," said Nixon should address the nation on the air war.

"The American public has the right to know not only of the winding up as well," he said.

Wolff and Rep. Les Aspin, D-Wis., said they would call for a full congressional investigation of the air war when Congress reconvenes next month.

Heavy bombing of the North, Aspin said, will "prevent serious negotiations, keep POWs separated from their families and prolong the war."

Nixon And Brandt Open Summit Talks

By KENNETH J. FREED Associated Press Writer KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. (AP) — Blessed with balmy temperatures and a warm diplomatic climate, President Nixon and West German Chancellor Willy Brandt today open a summit conference expected to produce words to match the weather but no dramatic developments.

With U.S.-German relations very cordial and world economic tensions eased, the Brandt-Nixon talks are said by officials from both countries to be focused on exchanging views on general, global matters.

Nixon and Brandt plan to meet this afternoon and at a private dinner tonight, while Secretary of State William P. Rogers confers with his German counterpart, Foreign Minister Walter Scheel.

The talks on all levels primarily will be exchanges of views of East-West relations. The role of the western alliance in the changing international scene and Brandt's idea of establishing some formal link between the United States and the European Common Market.

Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler indicated the soft nature of the conference, the first to involve a foreign leader at Key Biscayne, when he told reporters Monday they "should not expect any dramatic developments... no specific agreements."

He said some trade and world economic problems would be discussed but it was apparent this would be a relatively small matter because the Bonn government earlier canceled the participation by its economic and finance minister, Karl Schiller.

New Civic Auditorium Advisory Group Named

Four Pampans were named by city commissioners today to serve on a citizens advisory committee to develop operational guidelines for the M.K. Brown Memorial Auditorium.

A fifth member of the group will be added later, according to City Manager Mack Wofford.

Those appointed today were E.L. Green Jr., chairman; Mrs. George B. Cree Jr., Tex DeWeese and William Loving.

Wofford said the committee would serve only in an advisory capacity to city officials in working out plans for auditorium management.

Other business at the council's final meeting of 1971 this forenoon included: Adoption of a resolution giving the city legal authority to enforce a city ordinance governing removal of dilapidated buildings in the city.

Setting of Jan. 25 to receive bids for the purchase of two additional alert sirens.

Approval of 1972 fire protection contracts with Gray and Roberts Counties and the City of Lefors. Under the new contracts a charge of $175 per run will be made. This is up from $150 per run under the 1971 contracts.

The commission also received only one bid for the removal of an old garage building at the site of the new civic auditorium. A recommendation will be made at the next council meeting. City Manager Wofford said.

U.S. And Russia To Exchange Medical And Biological Data

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — The United States and Russia will start exchanging medical and biological data gleaned from space flights and will talk about exchanging scientists, the Manned Spacecraft Center said Monday.

The agreement recommends that co-chairmen of a joint working group explore the possibility of an exchange of one or two scientists to work in laboratories during biomedical research programs in the two nations.

Details of the agreement were worked out in a meeting in Moscow Oct. 9-13. The October meeting resulted from a Jan. 21 space cooperation agreement between the National Aeronautics and Space Administration and the Soviet Academy of Sciences.

The co-chairmen of the working group are Dr. Charles A. Berry, former chief physician for the U.S. astronaut team and now NASA's director of life sciences, and Dr. N. N. Gurnvsky of the USSR Ministry of Health and a member of the Soviet Academy.

The Monday announcement said the October session included an examination of selected biomedical data and an exchange of reports on the Soviet Soyuz and the U.S. Apollo programs.

"In the interest of expanded and more regular exchange of space biomedical data the working group recommended that meetings be held at least once a year or more frequently should the need arise," the announcement said.

The joint working group recommended that the next meeting be held in May, 1972, in the United States to consider in addition to flight data methods of predicting the state of the human organism during and after space flights, methods of pre and post-flight medical observations of flight crew members.

'Victims Of Crime Act' Ready For Senate Okay

WASHINGTON (AP) — With strong bipartisan backing, a proposal is being readied for Senate action that would pay federal cash to victims of violent crime.

The "Victims of Crime Act of 1972" would establish a three-member board to compensate innocent victims of violent crimes, or their survivors, with up to $50,000 for medical bills, loss of earning power and funeral expenses. Compensation would depend on financial need.

The bill would apply primarily to crimes committed in the District of Columbia, on national parks and forests, Indian reservations and on airplanes and ships.

But beyond this, and more far-reaching, is a provision under which the federal government would pay 75 per cent of the cost of compensation programs established by the states in accord with federal standards. Sponsors hope this would spur all states to have such programs within five or six years. Seven states already have.

The bill would also:

- Subsidize life and disability insurance for policemen, firemen and prison guards, and provide a $50,000 federal death benefit for persons in those fields killed in line of duty.
- Establish antitrust-type court remedies for business victims of organized crime, permitting the federal government to intervene on behalf of victims in civil suits.

Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., who has steered all of the major anticrime bills through the Senate in recent years, introduced the legislation shortly before Congress adjourned.

He said it consolidated the essential features of several measures on which his Senate Judiciary subcommittee on criminal laws and procedures has held hearings.

Joining McClellan in sponsoring the bill are the Senate leaders of both parties, Democrat Mike Mansfield of Montana and Republican Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania; Judiciary Committee Chairman Sen. James O. Eastland, D-Miss., and the committee's ranking minority member, Sen. Roman L. Hruska of Nebraska.

So far, the administration has hesitated in supporting compensation for violent crime victims, saying it is still studying the idea. But some sponsors say they believe the administration eventually will back the bill.

Long-Distance Phone Call Rate Hikes 2 Per Cent

DALLAS (AP) — It will cost more to call the same long distance points in Texas beginning Wednesday.

Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. officials said Monday that adjustment of long-distance rates announced last July but which had been deferred by the government's wage-price freeze, has been approved by the Price Commission.

The increases will mean about two per cent more revenues for Southwestern Bell on intrastate calls. The new rates reflect reduced charges on direct-distance dialing calls and increased charges on calls where operator assistance is required.

R. D. Schodde, vice president of Texas operations for SWB, said the company will also put into effect new rate periods—day, evening, night and weekend—for direct distance dialed calls.

Schodde said the new DDD rates will not apply to collect calls, credit card calls, calls charged to a third number or calls made from pay telephones.

FLB To Cut Interest On Variable Rate Loans

J.E. Gunn, manager of the Federal Land Bank Association of Pampa, announced today the Federal Land Bank of Houston will reduce the interest billing rate on variable rate loans to 7 per cent.

This reduction will be effective Jan. 1, 1972, on all variable rate loans and effects more than 177 million dollars in loan volume to more than 5,000 Texas farmers and ranchers," Gunn said.

The variable rate loan plan, introduced by the Houston Bank in July, 1969, lets the interest rate "float" over the variations in the money market. It is the third time in the past year that the billing rate has been reduced.

Continued improvement in the money market has made the reduction possible and is in line with the Bank's policy of providing farmers and ranchers of Texas credit at the lowest possible cost consistent Monday.

He and other officials told a news conference they expect conventional mortgage interest rates to stabilize at present levels, or even decline a bit.

Laird: Draft Call May Be Deferred For 3 Months

WASHINGTON (AP) — Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird said it may not be necessary to draft anyone for the next three months if the new $3-billion-plus military pay raise generates enough volunteers.

"It is too early to give you a projection for draft calls throughout calendar year 1972 because of the impact of the tremendous pay increases that have been granted," Laird told a news conference Monday.

Congressional orders to trim the Army's strength by more than 70,000 men in the next six months to get it down to 892,000 also will have a bearing on draft calls, the defense chief said.

The prospect of a draft-free first quarter indicates the Nixon administration may be able to fill its military manpower needs in an election year with the smallest draft in more than 20 years.

Tower Believes He Will Be Reelected

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John G. Tower says his re-election may be assured if President Nixon is re-elected next year, but a Nixon defeat won't necessarily defeat Tower.

The conservative Republican from Texas noted that in the past year he has staked out some notable positions clearly separate from those of Nixon.

So, if Nixon is in trouble, Tower said in an interview, the senator still has a good chance of returning to Washington because some of the positions he has taken in the last year are more popular with Texas voters than Nixon's.

Among the issues on which Tower has disagreed with Nixon are:

- The President's overtures to Communist China, including his support of a two-China policy in the United Nations and his forthcoming trip to Peking. Tower, a staunch supporter of Nationalist China, was openly critical of these approaches. The Texas said, however, that "the President's initiatives on foreign policy have been generally acceptable."

"I think a great deal depends on the economy," Tower said, and he supports the President's new economic policies.

"The freeze did work," he said. "Wholesale prices, unemployment and interest rates went down." But he added that unemployment may affect the 1972 elections.

"The unemployment rate should come down below 5 per cent. I think this is possible."

Tower said the Phase 2 controls "are going to be used fairly selectively" and should curb the remaining inflation. "I think we'll know by early February or March about the postfreeze effectiveness," he said.

Police Have Routine 24 Hour Blotter

Police activity in the city over the past 24 hours was the sum total of a number of routine checks and complaints ranging from a lost bridle to the theft of chairs from behind a local furniture firm.

An open door at a south Pampa service station led to a circuitous search for the person to lock it. A Lefors woman lost her billfold.

A hit-and-run accident in the 400 block of Lowry yielded no clues. The left rear of a 1969 Buick Skylark suffered damage but the offending vehicle evidently did not. There was no glass or other wreckage.

The service station owner was found and nothing was missing; the bride was practically worthless according to the owner and the billfold had no money, just a driver's license.

This leaves police with the case of the battered Buick.

Pass the salt and then leave

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: The letter from the woman who was annoyed with her gentleman friend because he always salted his food before even tasting it, reminded me of something I once read about Thomas Edison.

Edison would always invite a prospective employe over for dinner. The first course would be soup, and if the fellow salted his soup without tasting it first, Edison wouldn't hire him.

DEAR JOE: Heaven only knows how many good men Edison passed up by prejudging a man because he prejudged the soup.

DEAR ABBY: I was glad to read about George who always seasons his food with plenty of salt and pepper before even tasting it, because I do the same thing.

I have been criticized often for this, but, Abby, I don't just "guess" that the food will need more salt. I KNOW it will.

You see, I am one of those people who can't taste any seasoning unless there is a whole lot of it. And if the food had as much salt in it as I liked, nobody else would be able to eat it.

I just happen to like a lot of salt. Now, I take a token taste first, and then pour on the salt to suit myself. That way I keep everybody happy.

DEAR PASS: I don't want to alarm you, but I am told that a craving for salt is nature's way of telling you that you need to have a thoro physical checkup.

DEAR ABBY: We are parents of a child who is not doing well at school. We think we might be part of the problem and have been considering speaking with the school psychologist.

A neighbor told us that the school principal would insist on sitting in on all the conferences, and the psychologist could not keep confidential any personal, family problems that might come out during these conferences. Private help is out of the question right now, as we cannot afford it. Any suggestions?

DEAR SUBURBANITES: Go to school and get your information directly from the school psychologist. I can't believe what your neighbor told you is true.

DEAR ABBY: This is for the person who never misses a chance to brag about his ancestors. If he goes back to his great-great grandfather, ask him what he knows about the other seven. Then remind him that there is as much in his blood from each of these 15 people as there is from the one he boasts of; not more than seven per cent of his heritage can be from any one of them.

If he is so foolish as to go back to his great-great-great there are 32 people involved, and if he goes back to the Mayflower, if that lineup didn't include some bums, prostitutes or horse thieves, his case would be the exception.

"Honor thy father and thy mother." But it's risky to go very far beyond them.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send $1 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069.

Your Horoscope

By Jeane Dixon

WEDNESDAY, DEC. 29

Your birthday today: Your natural tendency now, at any age, is to spend a year seeking some way of getting over the hindrances and limitations of your life situation. Today's natives are inclined to be very orderly in thought, skilled in mental self-disciplines.

Aries (March 21-April 19): Come to terms with the fine details of accumulating routines you've been putting off. Get on with duty.

Taurus (April 20-May 20): Even trivial incidents today may be seen later as turning points, watershed boundaries. Be on deck early.

Gemini (May 21-June 20): There's enough pressure already without your adding to it. Let people and their projects come to you, relax where you may.

Cancer (June 21-July 22): Do your year-end chores now—you'll have less time tomorrow, even less later. You also find stimulus for quite a nostalgic review.

Leo (July 23-Aug. 22): Seek a rise in status, project a sunshine personality. After a full day's work, entertain or find a good party this evening.

Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): You're way ahead with moderate celebrations today; take tomorrow off altogether, as much as circumstances permit.

Libra (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Look about you with an eye for the new and unexpected. It's quite all right to revise plans at the last minute.

Scorpio (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Fast talk and wishful thinking is tempting at the moment. You'll be glad you stuck with what you know and have checked out. Give yourself a break where possible.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Expecting no great miracle helps bring out the small wonders of human dignity and spiritual growth.

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Float lightly thru cross-currents for better results. Avoid taking sides as long as you can. Evening hours suggest serious study, reflection.

Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): The harder you push at present the slower things turn. Let go; allow other people the time to readjust and settle in serenity.

Pisces (Feb. 19-March 20): You'll find everybody has a scheme for investment on spending. Collect what you may of anything due you and hold onto it.

Mink Remains Ageless Vision

NEW YORK (ED) — Show us a woman whose fantasy fails to include a vision of herself swathed in furs and we'll show you a lucky lady who was gifted with a mink last year.

It's not a matter of age, either. With many captured-in-the-wild furs out of favor, on all kinds of ecological grounds, younger women, in increasing numbers, appreciate the special virtues of ranch-bred mink.

And the couturiers in fur are reflecting the youth movement in a range of styles that add un-stuffy dash to mink's traditional virtues of longwearing warmth without weight. Some of the year's best looks get away from the clichés of dark-darker-darkest— into the light and lively palette of Emba natural mink shades. It's pure and simple fashion flattery, without endangering any species — except, perhaps, susceptible male admirers.

Betty Canary

We have just indulged in that great American pastime known as Cleaning Out the Car.

I know some families set aside a certain Friday afternoon for such activities but, at our house, we're not so systematic.

Usually the day is chosen at random—usually it's the day after I've wedged one heel in an empty milkshake carton and the other heel into an old watermelon rind.

Sometimes the day is chosen, necessarily, because I've been so ridiculous as to put my gloves in the glove compartment. You'd think I would have learned by now.

Learned that I'll probably never see them again, sunken, as they are, into a quagmire of torn maps, broken plastic spoons and squashed packages of catsup and salt from the drive-in.

Anyway, it all begins with my calling cheerfully, "Come, dears! Time to clean out the car!" (No, those aren't my exact words but the kids get the idea.)

Personally, I view cleaning out a car as a real challenge as well as a journey into the unknown. Where else can you practice your most intricate Yoga exercises, get a migraine and find the shoes your son outgrew three months ago all at the same time?

Polly's Pointers

DEAR POLLY: My Pet Peeve is with manufacturers who do not preshrink the fabric before they make sheets. Once my contour sheets are washed, they are impossible to get back over the mattress corners unless one is a strong man in the circus. This forcing soon causes the corners to tear and at $4 a sheet a tear is really expensive.—FRANCIS

Polly's Problem

DEAR POLLY—My new china cabinet has grilles over the glass in the doors and I would like to know of an easy way to clean the glass behind such grilles.—ANNE

DEAR POLLY: We had Virginia's problem of musty-tasting ice cubes in our ice-making refrigerator and solved it by combining two tricks. We lined the bottom and sides of our plastic ice cube bin with aluminum foil which seems to keep the musty taste out of the cubes themselves. We also put a couple slices of bread and a few charcoal briquets by the ice bin to absorb the odors within the refrigerator. With this dual method we have had no further trouble. BARB and JANE

DEAR POLLY: Virginia might try washing her ice cube trays with a solution of baking soda and water to eliminate the musty odor. Also, keep a piece of charcoal or a dish of vanilla in the box near the ice and she should not have any more trouble. MRS. M.S.

DEAR POLLY—Perhaps Virginia does not know about the refrigerator deodorizers that can be bought just for the purpose of eliminating musty odors from her refrigerator. Also, three or four pieces of charcoal could be wrapped in very thin material, such as cheesecloth, and placed there.—LETA

DEAR POLLY—I keep a sack tacked to one of my closet doors and a pad and pencil just above it. During my daily routine, as I find items to be given away to charity groups, I drop them in the bag, write what it is on the list and the price. When a call comes, I know what is in the bag, always have something ready and do not waste time having to search for things. This also saves on housecleaning time as my closets are not nearly so messy and full of things to be discarded. Always ask for a tax slip as most organizations do not leave them unless requested and the IRS requires a signed slip for anything deductible.—W.H.

You will receive a dollar if Polly uses your favorite homemaking idea. Pet Peeve, Polly's Problem or solution to a problem. Write Polly in care of Pampa Daily News.

GUARDS THE FOOD

WASHINGTON (AP) — Whenever President Nixon attends an official dinner in the nation's capitol, Arnold K. Clark is in the kitchen to protect the President's health. Clark, 42, is Washington's field service chief of the Bureau of Food and Drugs and part of his job is checking everything from sauce to silverware at a Presidential banquet.

"My job includes making sure that the proper sanitary methods are adopted to insure the protection of the President's health. And my men and I—there are usually four or five of us—are extremely cautious in this regard. And we have available techniques and equipment for analyzing food on the spot for any sort of contaminant," says Clark.

Business Mirror

NEW YORK (AP) — The sourest reaction to the Washington money agreements has come forth from Dr. Franz Pick, the barbed, Austrian-born currency expert who thinks the money world is one big conspiracy to rook the people.

Yet Pick is not a crank—he is a highly respected and highly paid economist. He serves as consultant to many companies, advising them on ways to keep their overseas currency safe from expropriation, needless taxes or devaluation. It is just that he had little faith in government bonds and an unlimited faith in gold.

Quite a few observers, although they don't go as far as Pick, agree that he is not far wrong in some of his dicta.

Two Texas Counties Import Most Water

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Chambers and Jefferson counties, producers of much of the state's petroleum, petrochemicals, natural gas and sulphur, import most of their fresh ground water from neighboring counties, says the Texas Water Development Board.

There is a lot of slightly to moderately salty water near the ground surface in the two-county area on the upper Gulf Coast, but only small amounts of fresh water in natural underground reservoirs underlying the counties, the board said in a report.

The report was written by J. B. Wesselman of the U.S. Geological Survey, with one section contributed by Saul Aronow of the Geology Department of Lamar University. It is based on a cooperative study between the Water Development Board and the Geological Survey that began in September 1965.

About 18.6 million gallons per day of ground water was used in the study area in that year. Of that, 10 million gallons per day was produced from wells in adjacent Hardin and Orange counties.

The largest undeveloped source of fresh ground water is under Galveston Bay in Chambers County. Small additional supplies of ground water can be developed in the two counties, but increased use of ground water on a large scale most likely will require further importation from neighboring counties, the report said.

Water levels have generally declined in both counties, with the largest decline—about 150 feet in an area adjacent to Baytown in Harris County—due to pumping in Harris County.

BEING A GOOD NEIGHBOR—Harry Gordon, Top O' Texas State Farm Insurance Agent for 24 years, is practicing the company policy of "Like a good neighbor State Farm is there." Drop in on Harry and see what kind of deal he can make on life, auto or homeowner insurance.

State Farm Pays Large Dividends

Yes, State Farm is still paying big car insurance dividends. Eligible Texas policy holders are now receiving a big 20-per cent dividend on expiring six-month policies. One of the many reasons why more Texans insure their cars with State Farm than with any other company.

State Farm Mutual insures over 12 million automobiles and is the largest auto underwriter in the United States and bringing this closer to home, is the largest in Texas.

Many people think that State Farm Mutual is an auto insurance company only. Pampans can find State Farm Homeowners policies, disability income policies, life and boat along with many others right in town.

State Farm proud of being number one in the sale of Homeowners policies throughout the nation State Farm can give you all the protection needed for home and its contents and they are paying 10 per cent of dividends on eligible Homeowner policies.

What happens when you're offered $16,000 for your $22,400 pile of ashes? You take it if you haven't increased your home insurance to keep pace with inflation.

Remember when you bought your house. The real estate man probably told you it was a smart investment, because it would increase in value over the years.

He was right, inflation has kept pushing up the value of your home along with the cost of replacing it. It hasn't, however, pushed up the value of your home insurance policy. In other words, your home may be seriously under insured.

Whoever interested in such insurance is urged to contact Harry Gordon, and talk to him about the State Farm Homeowners Policy with new inflation coverage. It is a special coverage that increases your home insurance to keep pace with rising costs.

And remember State Farm is paying 10 per cent of dividend on eligible Homeowner policies.

SAFETY, RETIREMENT HONORS—Herman A. Hanks, right, received double recognition at a recent banquet for an outstanding safety record as foreman and as a retiree with 38 years of service with Mobil Oil Corp. G.C. Rutherford, Mobil production superintendent, presents Hanks with his retirement plaque and diamond pin.

Mobil Foreman Honored At Retirement Banquet

Herman A. Hanks, Production Foreman of Mobil Oil Corporation's Canadian area, was honored at a combination retirement and safety dinner at the Harvester Bar-B-Que on Thursday, Dec. 16. G.C. Rutherford, production superintendent, presented Mr. Hanks with a retirement plaque and a retirement emblem marking 38 years service with Mobil.

The safety-minded Canadian area, under the supervision of H.A. Hanks, has completed another year without an on-the-job accident. This boosts their record to eight years with only one minor accident.

Approximately 50 people attended the dinner to honor

Hanks. They included his sons, H.A. Jr., Lubbock, Jack, Amarillo and daughters, Mary Lou Hogan, Midland and June Day and her husband, Glenn and son, Carroll, Spearman.

During his years of service, Hanks has also received Mobil merit awards for 35 years of safe operation of a vehicle.

The father of four children, he has served his church (Baptist) as deacon and has been active in civic work accepting various responsibilities in adult organizations and youth promotional activities.

Mr. and Mrs. Hanks will make their home permanently at 410 Red Deer

Elmer wants to add 3 years to his lifespan! And that is entirely possible by the strategy outlined below. God endowed us with 2 1/2 BILLION heart beats at birth. It is possible to stretch them out past the age of 80 or consume them before 50. Take heed!

CASE S-555: Elmer P., aged 30, is a math teacher.

"Dr. Crane," he began, "how can we cut down on the amount of sleep we require?"

"For example, at 8 hours slumber per day, I figure I have already spent 10 years in bed.

"Why that's one-third of my life already!"

"And many people say they demand 9 or 10 hours of sleep."

"I figure that if I could loaf off just one hour of required slumber per night, that would offer me 3 more years of waking time on this earth!"

"But how could I do it without injuring my health?"

SLEEP AND LONGEVITY
The main purpose of sleep apparently is to rest your faithful heart.

Remember it never gets a vacation of a month or week or day or even one minute! It's only relaxation is the split-second intervals between its 72 beats per minute.

If you race your heart via overeating, tobacco, emotional tension and worries, it may race along at 80 or 90 beats per minute!

So it then works harder, but gets even less split-second vacation time!

At birth, God Almighty allots us approximately 2 1/2 BILLION heartbeats.

That little electrical pacemaker that God imbeds in the sino-auricular node is good for that many impulses.

Sleep helps prolong the life of that electrical pacemaker for your pulse rate then declines from 72 to maybe 68 or even 60 in some folks.

But its bedtime rate depends in part on whether we place an extra amount of work on the heart before bedtime.

For example, if you overeat, your demand for sleep will be extended.

When I diet, I thus find that I waken as refreshed from 8 hours of slumber as 1 normally do from 9 hours. Any drugs or chemicals as from smoking, likewise make the heart work longer.

The smoking of just one cigarette will thus speed up the heart rate by as much as 20 beats per minute!

And this accelerated pace may continue for 20 minutes AFTER you have ceased smoking.

But the eyestrain from TV or excessive reading may also produce a visual fatigue that makes you drowsy.

Before going to bed, slap hot water on your closed eyes; then repeat with cold water.

A brief nap during the day is valuable.

(Always write to Dr. Crane Hopkins Bldg. Mellot, Indiana 47958 enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 25 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

SKI AMERICAN

by Robel Straubhaar

12---Basic Christie

by ROBEL STRAUBHAAR
 Director, Crested Butte (Colo.) Ski School

The christie is the basic maneuver which leads the skier to parallel skiing. To perform the basic christie we start with a snowplow turn. This time, however, as we pass the fall line on the inside ski of the turn is brought parallel with the other and steering with both feet is done to finish the turn.

At first start with a straight snowplow. Let the skis glide and then weight one ski by tipping your upper body over the weighted ski. At the same time bring the unweighted ski parallel, or next to the first ski. Now weight the tails of both skis by lowering yourself towards the back, and turning both feet towards the hill. You will find yourself stopping abruptly. You have now done the basic christie.

When you complete the basic christie you will have automatically combined the snowplow, sidestepping, transferred weight and traverse all into one maneuver.

Harvies Extend Winning Record

The Hustling Pampa Harvesters are walking away to the New Year with a long string of victories and an impressive 13 win, one loss season record after defeating the San Angelo Bobcats yesterday afternoon 69 to 51 in the Hardin Simmons Cowboy Club Basketball Tournament.

The Pampans dominated the whole game both offensively and defensively with Richard Bunton taking top honors as high point man with 21 points. Bunton also took eleven rebounds away from the Bobcats to aid in the Harvester Attack.

The Harvesters were favored going into the tournament and after leading the Cats 34 to 18 at the half and 63 to 29 at the end of the third quarter all of Hardin Simmons understood why.

Coach Robert McPherson pulled his starting lineup late in the third period and matched his reserves against the San Angelo rivals. The

Kapp Can Spiral Snowballs Good

LOS ANGELES (AP) — It snows on Mt. Shasta even more than it does in Minnesota around playoff time, but that doesn't stop quarterback Joe Kapp from keeping his throwing arm limber.

"I'm getting a pretty good spiral with the snowballs, said Kapp by telephone from his movie set. "But you throw too many spirals and you get intercepted."

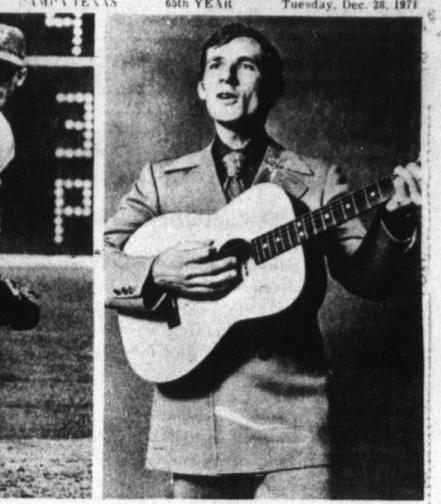

Kapp, two years ago voted the outstanding player in professional football, is taking time off from his bar in Vancouver, B.C. to shoot his first movie. Meanwhile, his lawyer is wrangling with the National Football League over the legality of his non-standard contract—technically known as a Memorandum of Agreement—with the New England Patriots.

by linebackers I'm bumping into avalanches," he said. "Today I was cut going through a window. I'm getting my contact that way."

A spokesman for Warner Brothers, co-producer of the film with NBC, said "Climb an Angry Mountain," with Fess Parker and Stella Stevens, was the plot for a proposed series. Kapp said he found the acting a challenge and "an honest day's work."

But he added, "I still consider myself a football player, although Mr. Rozelle doesn't."

Passed up by NFL teams after he led California to the Rose Bowl in 1958, Kapp starred in the Canadian Football League, then moved to Minnesota where he piloted the Vikings to the 1969 NFL championship. Though critics compared his passes to wounded birds, Kapp was named the league's Most Valuable Player.

BUD HARRELSON, the New York Mets' All-Star shortstop, left, has branched out into show business, singing country-and-western songs in New York area clubs.

Rebel Major Motivates South To 7-6 Victory

MIAMI (AP) — Bobby Majors of Tennessee "found it hard to get motivated" in Monday night's Shrine North-South football game. Then, he went out and won it for the Rebels.

Majors' fame with the Vols was gained as an All-American safetyman, a premier kick returner and as one of the country's finest punters.

"Bobby can beat you a lot of ways," said Tennessee Coach Bill Battle, who bossed the South team. "Now he found a new one."

Florida runner Tommy Durrance cracked one yard for a fourth period touchdown that tied the all-star game at 6-6 and Battle looked around to find that his placekicker, Bill Bushong of Kentucky, was injured.

When in doubt, Battle calls on Majors.

The 190-pound speedster, without the benefit of a flat-toed kicking shoe, went in and booted the extra point that gave the South a 7-6 victory, its first in the Shrine event since 1965.

Bobby's older brother, Johnny, was the North coach. The onetime Vol All-American tailback was as shocked as anyone to see his baby brother deciding the game with a PAT kick.

"John didn't know I could placekick," said the current Tennessee star. "It was the first time since high school, but it worked out okay."

Majors said he felt getting prepared for next month's Senior Bowl would be easier "since you can win $1,000 a man there."

The North turned a Rebel fumble into a touchdown that stood up until the final seven minutes. Northwestern's Maurie Daigneau passed one yard to Bob Richardson of Iowa State to make it 6-0.

Unitas Credits Defense For NFL Playoff Berth

HOUSTON (AP) — Johnny Unitas, quarterback of the Baltimore Colts, said Monday night the Colts are in the National Football League playoffs because of their defense.

"It's been a defensive season for us," Unitas said. "The offense hasn't been as consistent as you'd like it to be."

Unitas was here to accept the Touchdown Club Award, given for his outstanding contributions to football.

The Colts defeated Cleveland 20-3 Sunday to advance to the American Football Conference championship game against Miami Sunday and Unitas said there would be no guess work against the Dolphins just because Miami coach Don Shula formerly headed the Colts.

"No, I can't read his mind," Unitas said. "We'll just study their form and try to figure out what they'll be doing."

"It's just going to be a matter of execution."

New York Jets head coach Weeb Ewbank was the featured speaker at the banquet. He said he favors the Baltimore defensive line and linebacking corps in the Sunday game.

"It will go the way the ball bounces," Ewbank said. "Baltimore's defensive front four are bigger and stranger. The offensive lines are even."

But he said Miami has the edge on pass catching. "There's no better receiver than Paul Warfield."

The Colts had been criticized for losing to the New England Patriots and finishing second in Miami in the AFC's Eastern Division. The second place finish meant the Colts played Cleveland instead of Kansas City in the first round of the playoffs last weekend.

"Anybody who would say we threw that game is ridiculous," Unitas said. "We just didn't execute properly in that game and they did. It's as simple as that."

The sixth annual dinner also saw the Houston Post give awards to University of Texas quarterback Donnie Wigginton, outstanding offensive player in the Southwest Conference, and outstanding defensive player awards to Randy Brabban of Texas and Robert Popelka of SMU; and the Houston Chronicle award to Houston running back Robert Newhouse as the outstanding football player in Texas.

Fiesta Bowl Ended Early For Florida

TEMPE, Ariz. (AP) — Larry Jones, in his first year as head coach of the Florida State University football team, would have been happier if Monday's Fiesta Bowl had ended 34 seconds sooner.

"I don't feel that there's a loser in a game like this," Jones commented following the post-season inaugural game, which his Seminoles lost 45-38 to the Arizona State University Sun Devils. "It's really too bad that the game didn't end in a tie."

Atlanta and Portland were tied at halftime but Herm Gilliam of the Hawks scored 11 of his 17 points in the third period to help his team pull away. Gilliam, subbing for the ailing Pete Maravich, hit two field goals late in the period to give the Hawks a four-point lead and the Blazers never threatened thereafter.

Lou Hudson, the scoring leader with 31 points, led a fourthquarter flurry as the Hawks built their lead to 25 points. Geoff Petrie paced the losers with 23.

Billy Cunningham, Bob Rule and Kevin Loughery led the way as Philadelphia ended a six-game losing streak and extended Buffalo's string of losses to the same number.

Penn State Witch Is A Linebacker

By Ralph Bernstein
 Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS (AP) — You've probably heard it said many times that when you talk to someone, look them in the eye. Forget it, if you're talking to Penn State's inside linebacker Gary Gray. He may put you to sleep.

Gray, who led the Penn State team in tackles the last two seasons, is an amateur hypnotist. He practices on his teammates.

"It helps relieve them of pain or fatigue," explains the 210 pound Gray.

Can he work it on an opposing player, say a Texas Longhorn blocker in the Penn State-Texas Cotton Bowl game Jan. 1?

"I've thought about that," Gray admits. "But it wouldn't work. You have to have time to concentrate on the subject with your voice or your eyes."

How did Gray get into hypnotism?

"I was always sort of curious about the supernatural, magicians, witchcraft, and wanted to investigate," Gray explained. "I read a couple of books, watched a few people hypnotized by a friend who taught me how."

Hypnotism isn't the only extracurricular activity for Gray, a 6-foot senior from Levittown, Pa. He dabbles in psychology, pilots a plane, sells life insurance, studies electrical engineering, and is an excellent duplicate bridge player.

"The way I see things," says Gray, "Life is a bathtub. You fill it with all the experiences you can because when you die—PHEEFT—there goes the plug."

Penn State coach Joe Paterno is counting on Gray as a key man in the defense.

"Gray is a good linebacker," says Paterno. "He's the guy that you don't see making the tackles, but he's making them. That's all I'm going to say about him or the next thing you know he'll

Hayes Only Missed Ball That Far

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
 Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS (AP) — "I just missed it that far."

Bob Hayes held two fingers an inch apart to indicate how close he came to blocking a Minnesota field goal try last Saturday.

The fact Hayes almost blocked the field goal in the 20-12 National Conference victory over Minnesota isn't significant.

The fact he was on the field trying to block it is significant and something San Francisco had best take notice of in Sunday's NFC title rematch in Texas Stadium.

The Dallas Cowboy wide receiver was placed on the outside to give Viking kicker Fred Cox a faster rush. Cox missed two field goal attempts.

"Our outside guys hadn't been putting on much pressure so they asked me if I would try it," Hayes said. "I'll do anything to win. I thought I had one of them blocked."

San Francisco kicker Bruce Gossett can look for some of the same.

Hayes also indicated he may be called on for other duties.

"I don't know for sure, but I may be on the punt return team," said Hayes.

Charlie Waters and Cliff Harris were used to return Cowboys punts this year but Hayes was at the top of the league statistics in the department in 1970.

While Hayes will bear watching by San Francisco on the field goal and punt return teams, he is, of course, Dallas' biggest threat on the bomb from quarterback Roger Staubach.

Nolan Saving His Tricks For Dallas

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — "There are a few things we didn't show off," said San Francisco 49ers Coach Dick Nolan. "Maybe we'll have them ready for Dallas."

Nolan's team, a 24-20 winner over Washington in the opening round of the National Football League playoffs, began practicing today for Sunday's National Conference title game with the Cowboys.

"We weren't hiding things from Dallas. It just looked like it," quarterback John Brodie said. "The only thing that dictated what we did was the weather."

Wind, rain and the slippery synthetic turf at Candlestick Park combined for "the worst conditions I've ever played under," Brodie said after Sunday's victory.

"We wanted to get the wind at our backs, but that would have meant playing from bench to bench," he added.

At the Cowboys' new Texas Stadium, partially covered by a roof, the 49ers shouldn't have to worry about wind.

Noland made one personnel change for the playoff opener by using backup quarterback Steve Spurrier, instead of specialist Jim McCann, to punt. Spurrier will probably be used against Dallas, too.

"It's partly because Steve has more experience. But also because of what we can do with him in there on punt formations," says Nolan,

NBA Roundup

John Havlicek is tough enough for 47 minutes and 59 seconds, but in that final second he's pure murder.

The Boston Celtics' star beat Detroit earlier this season with a basket at the buzzer and Monday night he did it to the Golden State Warriors 99-97 with a long turnaround jump shot as time ran out.

In the only other National Basketball Association game, Philadelphia held off Buffalo 121-112 and Atlanta downed Portland 135-121.

Havlicek tied the score with 16 seconds left on a jump shot and the Warriors worked the bag for the last shot. Cazzie Russell misfired on a 25-footer. Boston's Don Nelson grabbed the rebound and passed to Havlicek, who turned and fired as the buzzer sounded.

Havlicek and Nate Thurmond of the Warriors shared scoring honors with 28 points apiece.

Atlanta and Portland were tied at halftime but Herm Gilliam of the Hawks scored 11 of his 17 points in the third period to help his team pull away. Gilliam, subbing for the ailing Pete Maravich, hit two field goals late in the period to give the Hawks a four-point lead and the Blazers never threatened thereafter.

Lou Hudson, the scoring leader with 31 points, led a fourthquarter flurry as the Hawks built their lead to 25 points. Geoff Petrie paced the losers with 23.

Billy Cunningham, Bob Rule and Kevin Loughery led the way as Philadelphia ended a six-game losing streak and extended Buffalo's string of losses to the same number.

ABA NBA

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Nets, although playing sub-500 ball, are the only team to boast two individual leaders, according to American Basketball Association statistics released today.

Tom Washington is the top marksman, hitting 156 of 271 floor shots for 57.6 per cent, while teammate Bill Melchioni is the No. 1 playmaker, averaging 8.3 assists per game.

The other individual leaders are Virginia's Charlie Scott, scoring at a clip of 35.6 points per game; Kentucky's Artis Gilmore, grabbing 18.9 rebounds per game; Utah's Glen Combs, who has connected on 52 of 121 three-point attempts for 43.0 per cent and Mack Calvin of the Floridians, the top foul shooter with 297 of 337 for 88.1 per cent.

NEW YORK (AP) — The Los Angeles Lakers have won 28 consecutive National Basketball Association games, so you would expect that their total domination would begin showing up in the league's statistics. And that's just what's happening.

Lakers lead three of the five individual statistics races according to figures released today by the NBA.

Big Wilt Chamberlain accounts for two of those individual leads. He is averaging better than 20 rebounds per game and also is tops in field goal percentage at .638.

Teammate Jerry West leads the NBA in assists with a 9.5 average per game.

In scoring, the NBA leader remains Milwaukee's Kareem Jabbar, who is averaging 33.3 points per game. Chicago's Bob Love is second at 27.1 with Gail Goodrich of Los Angeles third with 26.7.

Devaluation: Good, Bad?

The tricky nature of politics and politicians prevents any intelligent forecast of just how President Nixon intends to follow through on his devaluation of the dollar.

During the first half of the year, the U.S. was importing at an annual rate of $9 billion more than it was exporting. Unless the President had done something, that would have caused a balance-of-trade gap triple the deficit of the previous year—if official statistics are reliable. So on Aug. 15, 1971, the President did something. Specifically, he stopped payments in gold for U.S. paper dollars held abroad and he also put a 10 percent surcharge on imports.

The effect of these two moves was to disrupt business over seas. The disruption came about in two ways. First foreign manufacturers were fenced off from part of their markets in this country. Second, foreign commerce became hesitant and doubtful because, when gold convertibility was stopped, businessmen had no convenient way of setting value on what they bought and sold. The effect was disastrous, according to some authorities.

A spokesman for W. E. Hutton & Co., a brokerage firm, pointed out that the Nixon actions of Aug. 15 could create a drift toward global depression. Quoted by United Press International, the spokesman, Lucien Hooper, said Germany, Japan, Holland, France and Italy were hard hit.

"I talked with a German machine tool manufacturer recently," Hooper was quoted, "who told me he hadn't received an order for three months because of the international monetary uncertainty."

The worldwide disruption of commerce had one other consequence that was perhaps pre-calculated by the Nixon Administration. It caused the politicians of other countries to come to the bargaining table with a mood to compromise. Such a compromise foreseeably could result in a lowering of foreign tariffs against some American-made goods, as well as an upward adjustment of stronger currencies. For its part the U.S. could be expected to lift the 10 percent surcharge against foreign goods and to devalue the dollar by raising the legal price of gold.

We do not believe events to date justify any great outflow of optimism. The central bankers of Europe are like the political bankers in this country; they have a great disposition to piddle with paper. When you have people on both sides the water who confuse manmade myth (in the form of paper money) with reality, you are likely to see some rather serious mistakes. On the other hand the announcement of proposed official devaluation is encouraging in that it is a closer approach to the facts of the marketplace. It is a spot of sun in a grey sky.

Runaway, Not Yet

Newspapers, including The News, have been predicting the advent of runaway inflation for a number of years. That dread bugaboo has not yet occurred. That is, although purchasing media have vastly increased, the rate of increase has not been so great as to make it impossible for businessmen to estimate future costs. As a result, producers still are able to carry on.

When, however, so many new dollars are coming into circulation that guessing ahead as to their future value no longer is possible, then production will be affected. When a man no longer knows at which price to buy his raw materials or sell his finished product, he will hesitate to do either. That hesitation is a loss in production.

The rate at which dollars come into the marketplace is determined in large measure by the federal deficit. The greater the deficit, the more dollars. In the Congressional Record of Dec. 4, 1971, Sen. Harry Byrd of Virginia introduced figures showing that the annual deficit has increased by three, five, six and seven-fold since 1966. Deficits since 1953 total $188.8 billion.

BRUCE BIOSSAT Humphrey 'Must': The Primary Route

By BRUCE BIOSSAT

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Sen. Hubert Humphrey thinks he can't make a serious 1972 presidential bid unless he proves himself in the primaries the way Richard Nixon chose to do in 1968.

"I think that's the honest way to do it," he said in an interview. "I don't believe I should ask a lot of people to help me if I can't deliver."

In 1968, of course, Humphrey won the Democratic nomination without running the gamut of primaries. He confesses he'd like to avoid them again, but sees no way.

To suggestion that he should hang back and wait for possible stumbles by front-running Sen. Edmund Muskie and some others, a Humphrey aide says:

"If we did that, I don't think there'd be any pieces to pick up."

The comeback strategy in Humphrey's mind today really does have strong parallels with that shaped by the Nixon camp four years ago. Nixon aides said they decided early there was no point in putting a twice-beaten man through campaign ordeal again unless they had a reasonable chance to go all the way. Listen to Hubert:

"I don't need to go out and have this thing again just for the experience. I've got to play for keeps. I've got to win."

Obviously, he has got himself convinced he can do it. Otherwise he wouldn't be on his present high-adrenalin kick. He's a walking smile-button.

Looking out of his plane window at nighttime Pittsburgh, he couldn't resist a status report: "This is an area where we do well."

Tight after Christmas, he'll be in crucial Florida with his bright young manager, Jack Chestnut, checking his prospects for the 81-vote primary set there March 14. His aides think he has to go hard in the big earlies—Florida, and Wisconsin. Humphrey agrees on Wisconsin but still is puzzling over the complex Florida outlook.

Humphrey already has answered favorably one item in the two-part questionnaire he has directed to himself whether he can make a dent with the kind of voting groups he'll need to win.

He thinks he occupies a pretty warm spot with farmers, the old folks, the blue-collar workers, at least a good majority of blacks. He even thinks the edge is off the old hostility rating with the young people who scorned him as Lyndon Johnson's mouthpiece in the bitter days over the Vietnam war.

Polling evidence gives him only partial support on some of these things. But the evidence Hubert likes is the generally warm response he gets from people in the flesh. It seems very real.

What can't be fathomed at this turn is how much of it is going to be converted into primary votes and national convention delegates. A lot of skeptics in his party think the conversion ratio may be low.

Yet if Humphrey is optimistic, he is not giddy. The other part of his questionnaire is: Can I put together the organization I need?

The answer now is a tentative yes. He figures he's in good working shape in California, Texas, Pennsylvania, home-state Minnesota, with prospects evidently building in Wisconsin and Florida.

He knows he and Muskie will be pulling from the same political territory—the middle. He simply thinks it can accommodate them both.

"We two represent a very powerful middle that reaches out to some distance," Humphrey adds.

He says he's "very fond" of the man he chose as his 1968 running mate and will "never ever" say anything derogatory about Muskie. Yet, sensing 1972 is his own last chance, Hubert is going to hit the man from Maine right where he lives—in that middle.

H. L. Hunt Writes

NATURAL ENEMIES

The Soviets and the Chinese are great natural enemies in the communist world. It is not difficult to predict that controversies between the two historical foes will grow heated and bitter as they confront each other in the Security Council and the General Assembly of the U.N.

The salvation of the U.S. would be to permit the Russians and the Chinese to battle with each other over who shall be the dictator of the communist world. U.S. diplomats, influenced by refugees from Germany to whom we gave sanctuary, say the Soviets and the Red Chinese must not be permitted to fight because it might start World War III. It is the nature of dictators to fall out until one kills off his rivals and attains the top.

Concerned citizens will want to study the claims that we should prevent a battle between Soviets and Chinese, or intervene in favor of one side or the other.

The U.S. should not stand in the way of the communists' desire to destroy each other. We don't need to help them with truck-building plants and oil drilling equipment, either. They will only turn them against us in the future.

Your Health

Dear Dr. Lamb—What would cause a young fellow 44 to die of a heart attack called occlusive arteriosclerotic cardiovascular disease? He came home from work and started coughing and died. He had lost about 10 pounds in two weeks before. He smoked cigarettes a lot and drank lots of black coffee and drank milk and ate lots of eggs. Also his diet was poor, lots of hot dogs and hamburgers. My mother passed away with hardening of the arteries at age 66. The doctor says it is hereditary and all of us should see the doctor.

What kind of tests should we ask for because he says it doesn't show on an X ray. There are 10 of us left. He was next to the youngest. He was a newspaper printer.

Dear Reader—You have described a lot of things in your brother's living habits that are associated with a greater frequency of heart attacks. Cigarettes, too much coffee, fat foods and foods high in cholesterol, specifically eggs. I would guess he was overweight if he had been on a diet and lost 10 pounds in two weeks. That also is the wrong way to diet and often does more harm than good. Slow gradual weight reduction is much better.

Being a newspaper printer he probably had a fairly sedentary job and didn't get enough exercise.

I wish there were enough room in the column to tell you all the things you need to know about smoking, diet and exercise as related to preventing heart disease. Since I can't, the best I can recommend is to obtain a copy of my book, "Your Heart and How to Live With It," from the Viking Press, 625 Madison Ave., New York, N.Y. 10022. It was written to try to help people like you who need information on how to prevent heart attacks.

It is true that unless some special X rays are taken after dye is injected into the arteries of the heart, that you can't see the disease on X rays. A good general examination—plus certain chemical tests to tell how the body is handling fat and how much cholesterol is in the body are important. So is an electro-cardiogram to test the electrical function of the heart.

Heart attacks are more common in some families and these people particularly need to follow a program designed to prevent them.

Dear Dr. Lamb—I have diverticulosis and your column has been a great help. I have been taking three tablespoons of molasses plus a dash of sweet cream in a cup of hot water before breakfast for some time. It does seem to help my condition. I have been told lately that molasses has a serious side effect on diverticulosis and on the intestines. Will you please comment on this?

Dear Reader—Enjoy your molasses, it is good for you. It is also a good source of iron in your diet. It won't hurt you at all.

Inside Washington

Jackie's Backing Sought
By Democratic Hopeful
By ROBERTS ALLEN

WASHINGTON—Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy Onassis is being urged to take a flier in politics.

One of the numerous Democratic Presidential candidates would like her to publicly endorse him.

The former First Lady laughingly disclosed this to an old friend at a New York party. She seemed very much amused at the idea of coming out for a White House hopeful.

But she carefully gave no hint as to who appealed for her backing.

Even more intriguing, Mrs. Onassis left dangling in the air what she is doing about it.

Close friends say flatly she will do nothing; that it would "wholly out of character for her to inject herself into a political campaign." They note she took no part in her late husband's electioneering.

Among politicians, conjecture generally centers on Sen. George McGovern as most likely to have sought Mrs. Onassis' endorsement.

It is pointed out that, of all the candidates, he was closest to President Kennedy, was in the forefront of his drive for the 1960 nomination, later was on his White House staff as special assistant and director of the Food for Peace program. Also in his current campaigning, McGovern invariably stresses his long-time Kennedy ties, and in some quarters has been tagged as actually being "front-runner" for Sen. Ted Kennedy, D-Mass.

The New York party was at the onetime El Morocco nightclub, the zebra-striped hangout of fun-seeking socialites, now a so-called private club. The occasion was numerous attended by name personalities, male and female—most of the latter bedecked with diamonds and various other ornamental hardware.

Mrs. Onassis, accompanied by her husband "Ari," was modestly jeweled.

Her red dress was set off with diamond-cluster earclips—and that was all, other than a plain gold band on her left hand.

She seemed gay and relaxed, and enjoying herself. She danced several times with older partners. Ari doesn't dance, but seemed to have no objection to his wife doing so.

Con Artist
Sen. Eugene McCarthy's "it's a kind of an announcement" in Boston as another Democratic candidate for President is really for the birds!

The languid, poetry-spouting Minnesotan isn't actually running for President. What he is truly up to is promoting lecture engagements at fat fees—of from $1,000 to $2,500—mostly at colleges.

Some people write books, climb mountains, fly around the world and do other things to popularize themselves on the far-flung and lucrative lecture circuit. McCarthy's "gimmick" is running for President.

It paid off handsomely in 1968. He got nowhere as a candidate, but did garner a full schedule of juicy lecture dates—which intimates say totaled well over $50,000 in the ensuing 12 months. He also did very well last year—and obviously intends to continue doing so.

So he has again thrown his hat into the Presidential ring—although he is on record as saying after his 1968 fiasco that he would never again run as a Democrat.

But consistency is not among "Clean Gene's" major attributes.

Said a former liberal Congressional colleague, "McCarthy is one of the most charming and attractive con artists in politics. He talks a great line, but has never done anything of any real consequence—and gets away with it. He's a master at it. You've got to hand it to him."

D. C. Shake-Up

One of the top echelons of the national capital's costly municipal government (the most expensive in the country for a city of its size) is headed for a big shake-up.

The bumbling City Council is going to be extensively reshuffled, as follows:

Chairman Gilbert Hahn, former D. C. Republican chairman, will be "kicked upstairs" to a minor ambassadorship. He wants a judgeship, but his prospects don't look promising at this time.

Henry Willard, banker and member of the City Council, will succeed Hahn. A lifelong Republican, Willard's family owned the famed hotel by that name at 14th and Pennsylvania Avenue, several blocks from the White House. Abraham Lincoln stayed there before being inaugurated, as did other president-elects up to Woodrow Wilson.

Bag of Air

Rev. Walter Fautroy, 38-year-old onetime assistant of the late Dr. Martin Luther King, who last spring won the $42,500-a-year Delegate job (chiefly by stressing his close ties with King), may be in for a big surprise when he seeks another term next year.

Marion Barry, who defeated Mrs. Allen, may go after Fautroy's lush plum.

Fautroy supported Barry. At the time Fautroy announced that, local political insiders said it was a canny move to head off a Barry attempt to unseat Fautroy.

If that was the intention, it's not working out that way.

Another F4 Phantom was shot down in the same area, the Ham Rong district of Thanh Hoa province. The Vietnamese language broadcast said, it did not say what happened to its two-man crew.

The North Vietnamese radio reported earlier that five Phantoms were shot down during the heavy American attack Sunday, including two others over Quang Binh province and another over Nghe An province. That broadcast said the pilots were killed or captured.

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — A diagnostic radiologist X-rayed a teenage assault suspect with a method once used to discover the age of Egyptian mummies to assess whether the youth was old enough to stand trial as an adult.

The radiologist testified in Rand Criminal Court that the young African, who appeared to be no more than 16, was actually 19. Johannes Mkonza then stood trial as an adult, was found guilty of assault and theft and sentenced to four years in prison.

CLAREMORE, Okla. (AP) — The Rogers County District Attorney's Office has begun extradition proceedings to return a Webb City, Mo. man here to face charges of shooting with intent to kill a Webb City woman.

Eugene Cook, 47, being held at Webb City, refused Monday to allow authorities to extradite him without having to seek permission from the governor.

Cook is accused of shooting Marie Summers, 49, seven times and leaving her along a Claremore area road. She was reported in satisfactory condition in a Claremore hospital.

Highlights, Sidelights From State Capital

By BILL BOYKIN
Texas Press Association
AUSTIN, Tex. — Gov. Preston Smith is keeping everybody guessing on timing of the important 1972 special legislative session.

The Governor said he will wait "until the last minute" to call the session, primarily for passage of a 1972-73 state appropriations bill, hoping latest revenue estimates will curb the inevitable tax bill.

On the other hand, he said he could not rule out possibility of calling the lawmakers back to Austin smack in the middle of the primary election campaign—between the February 7 filing deadline and the May 6 first primary.

Smith did make clear he is giving little consideration to pleas by some state representatives for an early 1972 session on replacement of Speaker Gus Mutscher. Mutscher's bribery trial is set for February 28 in Abilene.

It is my responsibility to call a special session because of an emergency," said Smith. "Replacing the speaker" is not an emergency of that importance. The speaker has very little to do between sessions, anyway.

The Governor pointed out that a U.S. Supreme Court ruling may invalidate political filing fees and create an emergency demanding a special session early in the year. A lawsuit attacking the old filing fee structure is pending in the Supreme Court. A new suit challenged the 1971 filing fee law last week.

"It is entirely possible we will have to call a special session soon after January 1 if the filing fees are held unconstitutional," Smith commented at a news conference.

July 1 (after the second primary) would be about the latest date for summoning a session that could pass a budget bill by Sept. 1, start of a new fiscal year, Smith calculated.

City Sales Taxes Climb
 More than 420 cities levying local option sales and use taxes received over $40.2 million from the source during the quarter which ended Sept. 30.

Comptroller Robert S. Calvert said the take from the one per cent levy actually was more than $41 million from which was deducted the state's service fee before the money was returned to the cities.

Major cities, of course, received the biggest share of the total. Houston alone got $8.1 million, Dallas $5.7 million and San Antonio $2.6 million.

Ethics Code Challenged
 Secretary of State Bob Bullock has questioned the constitutionality of the code of ethics for state officials and asked for an attorney general's opinion.

Bullock noted the caption of the controversial law does not properly describe a provision requiring financial statements of income sources and investment by elected and appointed officials and state

The Secretary also raised questions about makeup of the 12-member Ethics Commission, pointing out six members are legislators chosen by the House and Senate, even though the constitution prohibits legislators from voting for other lawmakers for offices.

State Aid Extended
 Dallas received more than $2.3 million and Muleshoe $51,168 in state matching fund loans to help pay for new wastewater treatment facilities construction.

Cities were the second and third to benefit under the new state aid program approved by Texas voters last May which created a bond fund from which up to 25 per cent of a project's cost can be advanced by the state. The federal government will contribute 55 per cent of eligible project costs. Conroe received the first such aid—in the amount of $443,000.

The Dallas project involves construction of a new sludge disposal facility at the White Rock wastewater treatment plant. Muleshoe plans a new treatment plant on Blackwater Draw south of the city, the first facility of its kind in the High Plains area.

Mexico Tic Curb Advised
 Texas Industrial Commission has been advised to take a careful look at its new Mexico City office results before it expands foreign trade efforts of the type.

Texas Research League told TIC several other states tried trade offices in other countries during the 1960's but abandoned them as unsuccessful.

TIC inaugurated the Mexico City office Oct. 1 as part of its $150,000 a year international trade effort.

The privately-financed Research League recommended that TIC "carefully evaluate results of the Mexico City office before it becomes a long-term commitment and before any additional foreign offices are opened." First reports from the office indicate prospects for success are bright, TIC indicated.

Appointments
 Charles G. Shandera of Houston was named by Court of Criminal Appeals Presiding Judge John F. Onion Jr. to the Texas Board of Pardons and Paroles, succeeding A.C. Turner.

Gov. Smith named these new members of the state Advisory Hospital Council: Dr. Joseph T. Ainsworth of Houston; Larry B. Smith of Brady and C. Lincoln Williston of Austin. He reappointed O. Ray Hurst of Austin and Edward S. Reese of Gonzales.

Jim Hutcheson of Weatherford was named assistant counsel to the Texas Civil Judicial Council.

Marion R. Zetzman of Smith's Office of Comprehensive Health Planning has been named to the board of directors of the new American Association of Comprehensive Health Planning.

Livestock Facilities On Border Planned

Bids are expected to be taken on two new facilities for use in export of Texas livestock at Eagle Pass and Del Rio.

Texas Department of Agriculture will operate the facilities. Previous bids exceeded cost estimates. Old pens along the border were condemned for livestock use last July by the U.S. Department of Agriculture and Mexican authorities. Agriculture Commissioner John C. White said the facilities are important to a $12.5 million export business.

Traffic Safety Urged
 An all-out "safety blitz" has been signaled by the Governor's office and cooperating agencies to prevent a predicted Christmas-New Year's traffic death toll of 100.

Gov. Smith viewed Department of Public Safety projections with "shock and dismay" but did not dispute them.

"Drive Friendly" material again is being distributed (through news media, and law enforcement officials are urged to crack down on violators.

Penal Code Study Starts
 A committee of the Texas Criminal Defense Lawyers Association last week began a study of the proposed Texas penal code revision.

The revision is the result of six years of research and drafting by a State Bar committee.

Defense lawyers expect to make recommendations to protect individual rights adequately. Prosecutors began a similar study last September through the Texas District and County Attorneys Association.

Short Snorts
 Some of the nation's top educators will participate in a symposium here marking the opening of education papers in the Lyndon B. Johnson Library.
