President Opposed To Naming Of A Food Czar

Price Rollback Must Come Or Wage Ceiling To Crack

WASHINGTON, June 25 (AP)—President Philip Murray served notice on congressional committee today that unless an effective roll-back and subsidy program are operating by July 15, organized labor would be compelled to demand that the hold-the-line order against inflation and the "Little Steel" wage formula be scrapped.

President Vetoes Anti-Strike Bill; Senate Overrides

WASHINGTON, June 25 (AP)—President Roosevelt vetoed today the Connally-Smith-Harness anti-strike bill. The chief executive said in a message to the senate that the measure had entirely praiseworthy purpose but that he was convinced it would in some cases produce strikes "in vital war plants which otherwise would not occur."

WASHINGTON, June 25 (AP)—President Roosevelt said today he would not recognize or accept an October 31 deadline set by the United Mine Workers for continued coal production in government-operated mines.

The chief executive told a press conference he was merely trying to see that coal was mined and that this had to be done some way. He added that many of us get away from the fact we are at war and the life of a nation is very much at stake.

The War Labor Board went to War Mobilization Director James F. Byrnes with a stern request that the government compel the United Mine Workers to comply fully with the board's order or that punishment be imposed.

Board members told Byrnes that the country's largest corporations, U. S. steel (in the federal shipbuilding case) and General Motors, complied with the WLB orders, however reluctantly, but that in the coal case only the operators have been penalized.

Full compliance would mean the signing of a two-year contract containing a pledge not to strike for the duration of the war. The contract handed down by the board would permit resending of the wage clauses in the interim but otherwise it is the 1941-43 Appalachian agreement plus some concessions such as higher vacation payments, and free tools and equipment.

WLB members said penalties against the miners were not intended but that the union, as such, should be brought to book for defiance. The penalties might take the form of a suspension of the dues check-off or freezing of the UMW treasury.

NEW YORK, June 25 (AP)—Two seats on the New York Cotton Exchange changed hands yesterday, at $6,500 and $6,400 respectively, it was announced today.

WOODEN SHIPS CHUNGKING, June 25 (AP)—The Japanese, to counteract serious shipping losses, are building large numbers of wooden ships to handle their coastal trade with occupied territories, a Chinese army spokesman said today.

Officers From Chile Inspect Air School

Three high ranking Chilean army officers continued their inspection of training and operation methods of the Big Spring Bomber School here Friday, going on a bombing mission.

In the group were Col. R. G. Bisquerit, in charge of plane operations; Lieut-Col. F. I. Saransua, director of primary and basic training in Chile, and Lieut. Col. F. J. Latorre, in charge of tactical and advanced training.

The officers arrived here Wednesday by plane and were making thorough study of the big bombardier school here. It was reported unofficially that this was their first visit to a bombardier school.

Impressed by their inspection, they apparently held highest regard for their North American friends. These were the first foreign officers reported to have inspected the Big Spring school, and their visit assumed added importance since ordinarily high officers in other armies send subordinates to United States schools for indoctrination and training. This time, those in charge of operations came themselves.

Bombs Start Fires At Japanese Base

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, June 25 (AP)—Five hundred pound bombs dropped from Mitchell medium bombers blew up buildings and started huge fires yesterday at the Japanese base of Salamaua, New Guinea.

Pipelines From Permian Basin Are Recommended By Jester

DALLAS, June 25 (AP)—Chairman Beauform H. Jester of the Texas Railroad Commission today will recommend construction of two additional pipelines from the Permian Basin area in West Texas, a general increase of 35 cents a barrel for crude, and a gradual increase in Texas oil production to the Petroleum sub-committee of the house naval affairs committee.

The principal witness in the final hearing, Jester released his recommendations in advance of his testimony.

Inflation Is Sole Issue, He Asserts

Executive Speaks Out Against Upward Price Spiral

WASHINGTON, June 25 (AP)—President Roosevelt spoke out again today against the setting up of a so-called food czar and said that the question at issue is whether we are for inflation or against it.

He told a press conference that congress could take the path toward inflation if it wanted to, but that if it did the responsibility would rest 100 per cent on the legislators.

Suggestions that someone be given complete authority over all phases of the food program he characterized as close to a red herring. The real question, he said, is whether prices are to be kept down and whether we want to go into an inflationary spiral or not.

Some people on Capitol Hill, the president asserted, think the easiest way to use up surplus buying power is to let prices go sky high. And, speaking in a sarcastic manner, he said he had heard some one on the radio suggest the same thing.

This latter person, Mr. Roosevelt said, asserted the richer people would be able to pay higher prices and the poor would suffer but that surplus buying power would be eliminated.

Mr. Roosevelt agreed that the poorer people certainly would suffer under such conditions. Describing what he meant by an inflationary spiral in response to a question, the chief executive said that the cost of food is about a third of a family's income, and with larger wages, everybody is eating more now at greatly increased prices.

People with the largest financial gains, he said, still have a surplus of funds even after buying their war bond quotas, and if prices keep going up a lot of people, most of them relatively small wage earners, will have to spend a great deal more for food.

Then they will demand more pay and probably get it, he said, which would mean production costs and costs to farmers would go up. That would lead to requests for higher wages, he said, and then cost to farmers would rise again and so on.

The president entered a denial when asked about reports that food Administrator Chester Davis had submitted his resignation because he felt he has inadequate powers.

Crop Measurement About 30 Percent

Measuring of the crop lands of Howard county for compliance is about 30 per cent, M. Weaver, administrative assistant, said Friday on the basis of reports at the county ACA office.

The county and community committees were holding a joint session Friday morning, but Weaver characterized it as routine. Most of the business had to deal with signature of necessary forms and papers.

Bombings At New Peak

ALL OF COSDEN MEN GO FREE

DALLAS, June 25 (AP)—A federal court jury today exonerated the Cosden Petroleum corporation, its president and pipeline superintendent of conspiracy to violate the Connally hot oil act.

The verdict of innocent came shortly after noon for President Raymond L. Tollett, Superintendent R. Weldon Thompson, and M. M. Hines, an employe.

The jury took the case yesterday morning, after hearing testimony on the alleged movement of "hot oil" in interstate commerce. Hot oil is oil produced in excess of Texas railroad commission quotas.

King George Back At Home

AN RAF BASE IN BRITAIN, June 25 (AP)—King George VI returned to his homeland today from an extraordinary tour of the North African battlefields, his big four-engine bomber landing at this base just after 6 a. m.

The king, deeply tanned and smiling, was the first to step from the plane. An RAF guard of honor or presented arms and Air Marshal Sir Charles Portal, chief of the British air staff, stepped forward to greet the monarch.

After inspecting the honor guard, King George was driven to the RAF mess.

The big bomber, escorted by ten Spitfires, landed an hour ahead of schedule because of an unexpectedly strong tail wind. A short time later Winston Churchill's automobile speeded up and the prime minister alighted smiling.

The smile disappeared when he was told he was late. Scowling slightly, he was driven to the RAF mess to join the king.

He Knows Firsthand About Coal Shortage

WASHINGTON, June 25 (AP)—Interior Secretary Ickes revealed today that he doesn't have to study reports to his solid fuels office to learn that there's a growing shortage of coal.

He told reporters wistfully today that although he's the boss of the government-operated coal mines he hasn't been able to get delivery on some anthracite he ordered more than a month ago for his poultry farm at nearby Olney, Md.

Gen. Forrest May Have Used 'Chute

LONDON, June 25 (AP)—Eight parachutes were seen to open from the bomber in which Brig. Gen. Nathan Bedford Forrest was riding as an observer when it was shot down in an air battle over Kiel, Germany, on June 13, U. S. Eighth air force headquarters announced today.

Reservists Leave For Army Service

Three enlisted reservists left Friday morning for Fort Sill, Okla., to begin their military careers, the Howard county selective service board reported.

They were Loy Stovall House, Joe George Carter, Jr., and Evile E. Felton. Ralph Eugene (Peppy) Blount, previously accepted for aviation cadet training, left for Lubbock to complete his enlistment.

Greek Port Of Salonika Is Attacked

Great Swarms Of US Planes Batters Sardinia

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, June 25 (AP)—U. S. Ninth air force Liberators struck for the first time yesterday at the historic Greek port of Salonika from Middle East bases while about 300 American bombers and fighters of the Northwest African command battered communications of Sardinia, 700 miles to the west, it was announced today.

Cairo communiques said more than 50 Liberators, attacking in two waves with more than 250,000 pounds of high explosives, scored direct hits on three hangars at the axis-occupied Seda airdrome of Salonika, leaving all of them in flames. Pilots saw explosives burst among administration buildings and on the field and dispersal areas.

"At least three enemy aircraft were destroyed on the ground and oil fires were started," one Middle East bulletin said. "None of our aircraft is missing from these and other operations."

The attack upon Salonika, a possible objective of any Balkan invasion, involved a round trip of more than 1,000 miles across the Mediterranean.

Enemy air fields, docks, shipping and an important railway junction of Sardinia were hammered by U. S. squadrons of Lieut. Gen. Carl A. Spaatz' air forces after RAF Wellingtons attacked Catania, in Sicily, the preceding night.

These raiders shot down 30 of the many enemy fighters encountered and an RAF Beau-fighter bagged another to make the score 12. The Allies lost nine planes.

Malta air squadrons also were active. A Valletta communique announced that RAF planes attacking industrial installations at Pozzallo, Sicily, yesterday, and similar targets at Augusta, Sicily, last night.

Spitfires were credited with destroying a Messerschmitt 210 off the Italian island.

B-35 Mitchells led the American onslaught against Sardinia, hitting two supply ships at Golfo Aranci, northeastern port, and severely damaging the docks. Another formation of Mitchells blasted the Vinarioris air field, also in the northwest part of the island.

B-26 Marauders made a successful attack on the railway junction at Chiviani in north central Sardinia, and P-40 Warhawks swept over the southern portion of the island and left two small ships afloat.

Warhawks also destroyed a number of grounded aircraft at the Capoterra air field and attacked the rail junction at La Maddalena, near Cagliari.

The Wellington raid Wednesday night was directed primarily against the railway yards and industrial areas of Catania.

Maybe OPA Should Put A Ceiling On Gifts To Beggars

DALLAS, June 25 (AP)—War and Congress have brought an unprecedented boom to beggars. So says the self-styled Dean of Beggars, Pat Riley, who "ain't worked a day since Tatt was president."

Coasting into town yesterday from St. Louis with the latest economic picture of his profession, Riley—with 35 years of begging behind him—observed: "Times was never better. People in these war plant towns got dough they never had before and they give a lot of it away."

"And it's a funny thing. Every time Congress ups the income tax it's like manna from the beyond to me. Don't know why unless it's because some guys think if they give it to bums in my bracket they can deduct."

Crackdown On Extra Driving Is Being Felt

Warning that the local tire and gasoline panels are going to crack down on unnecessary and reckless driving was seen Friday in the announcement that two A cards have been picked up this week.

These were revoked due to reckless driving practices, a member of the gasoline panel explained. In addition, particular attention is due to be paid to the holders of supplemental cards. Both gas and tire panel members agreed on this in joint session Thursday.

To impress those who are granted "special" allotments of gasoline with the seriousness of the tire situation, the Howard county board has affixed a statement to the application which declares as follows: "I, the undersigned, make this statement to the OPA, same to be attached to and become a part of my application for special gasoline. I state that I cannot use public transportation for the purpose outlined in my special application for the following reasons: I also understand that should I ruin a tire on the trip for which this application is made, I am not eligible to replace it."

This statement has been adopted as a model by the district rationing officials and sent to 70 counties throughout the area.

Big Rush Looming For Auto Stamps

An inevitable and terrific rush for automobile use tax stamps is in the making. Postmaster Nat Shick warned Friday.

Sales of the stamps through Friday noon were estimated at possibly 500. This was roughly little less than a tenth of the number due to be sold if vehicles in operation now remain in operation after June 30, when current stamps expire.

The cost is $5 per vehicle and there are no forms to fill out at the general delivery or parcel post windows, where the stamps are offered. One person may buy for several others, and Shick urged that this be done in as many instances as possible.

Summer Store Hours Studied

The matter of summer closing hours for Big Spring retail stores is under discussion, but no definite agreement has come out of it. The Retail Merchants association said some establishments planned schedule changes for the months of July and August, and that hours from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. on weekdays and from 9 a. m. to 8 p. m. on Saturdays had been mentioned. Some stores definitely want that schedule.

Others, it was reported, preferred not to close so early. A meeting of the merchants committee of the chamber of commerce has been called for Monday at 3 p. m. to discuss the matter. Elmo Wasson is chairman of the group.

Nazi Industry Again Dealt Heavy Blows

RAF Loses 33 Bombers In Latest Raid On Wuppertal

LONDON, June 25 (AP)—A large force of United States heavy bombers, flying without fighter escort, attacked targets of northwest Germany today and 18 of the craft are missing, headquarters of the eighth air force announced.

The RAF carried its offensive against the Ruhr to a new peak last night by returning to the bomb-battered city of Wuppertal in great strength and making a concentrated attack on important chemical and textile manufacturing plants there.

Thirty-three bombers failed to return from the night's operations, which included assaults on other targets in the Ruhr and laying mines in enemy waters.

The attack was concentrated on the industrial area of Elberfeld, the western section of Wuppertal. "The attack was nearly as heavy as that recently made on Barmen, the eastern half of Wuppertal, and from preliminary reports great damage appears to have been done," a communique declared.

Heavy defensive activity was reported by the fliers who returned from the area, which Hitler has packed with anti-aircraft guns, searchlight batteries and fighter planes in an effort to stave off the battering being given his heavy industries in the region.

The German communique said "losses among the populations of the towns attacked are heavy." The communique, broadcast by Berlin and recorded by the Associated Press, said several towns were hit, "in particular Wuppertal-Elberfeld and Remscheid." Remscheid, near Wuppertal, is a center of the German tool industry and has important railway repair shops.

The Barmen area of Wuppertal got a heavy saturation attack May 29 when 1,500 tons or more of bombs were laid on the sprawling industrial area which occupies both sides of the Wupper River.

Wuppertal was formed in 1929 by an amalgamation of the towns of Elberfeld and Barmen and had a population of more than 400,000. Chief targets at Elberfeld are the L. G. Farbenindustrie Chemical works, the Jaeger plants that turn out roller bearings, and a number of textile factories.

In the May 29 attack the RAF also lost 33 bombers but was believed virtually to have wiped out the Barmen section.

Last night's raid marked the fifth consecutive night the RAF has struck either Germany or Italy—with the most paralyzing blows falling on the vital Ruhr area.

It was the sixth night of a powerful offensive which began with the assault on the Schneider munitions works at Le Creusot, 170 miles southeast of Paris, last Saturday night.

The offensive has included the first great daylight assault by United States bombers on the Ruhr, an assault which set ablaze the important German synthetic rubber plant at Huls.

In the six-day period 153 Allied bombers had been lost.

Surprise For Cordill—It was a Father's Day gift, a superb for Capt. Ole Cordill, former Rice Institute football star, who was featured in a recent dispatch from Africa after bringing in a B-35 Martin Marauder with a wing end missing, a ten-inch hole in another, a gearswear wrecked and all the surface covering on the fuselage gone. Lieut. Ole, Jr., and Mrs. Cordill are doing nicely at a Houston hospital.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
NEW YORK, June 25. (AP)—Milo Candini, the American league's leading pitcher (won 7 lost 0), hasn't much more chance of being picked for the all star game at Philly July 13 than Hank Borowy had last year when he had the same sort of record. . . . Story is that not even Candini's manager, Ossie Bluege, named him on his ballot. . . . and, speaking of all-stars, the Washington Redskins may be in for a surprise when they play the college all-star footballers at Chicago, Aug. 25. . . . So far Arch Ward has announced only real college players, but the team likely will include such prominent ex-pros as Steve Lach, Soony Canedo, Frank Mamlock and Rudy Muech. . . . Add utter confusion department: Alorter, winner of the Arlington Park premier stakes at Washington Park yesterday, also won the Lincoln Fields Joliet stakes at Hawthorne. And pretty soon it will be Empire City at Jamaica and Saratoga at Belmont.

Mize caught up with Joe at the home run mark before he started slugging 'em for the navy. . . . Figure this one out—on the same day that Babe Ruth proclaimed the Major Leagues won't finish the season because the club owners are losing too much dough, the Giants and Dodgers finished their first round with a total paid attendance of 65,463 for five games.

Western Conference Lets The Bars Down For All Athletes

CHICAGO, June 25. SWORD OF HONOR
LONDON, June 25. (AP)—Tom Beasley, 83, England's oldest sword-maker, has been commissioned to make the two-handed, four-foot blade which King George VI will present to Stalingrad as a token of the British people's admiration for that Volga city's resistance to the German siege.

Pearl Harbor, one of the salvaged items was a set of golf clubs found in the cabin of Lieut. Comdr. E. Hahn. . . . They were sent to Hahn's mother in Newark, N. Officers of the company promptly wrote to Hahn, asking if he'd trade the clubs for the finest set made in the plant, and recently this note came back: "Thank you very much. I now have an added incentive to bring the war to a speedy, successful conclusion." . . . And the $64 question is what will the commander say the first time he fubs a shot with those new clubs?

Segura And Cochell Meet In Semifinal

EVANSTON, Ill., June 25. (AP)—The match that would have been a crowd "natural" for tomorrow's singles final in the National Collegiate Athletic association tennis championships is on the program today billed simply as the upper bracket semi-final—Francisco (Pancho) Segura of Miami versus Earl Cochell of Southern California.

While the meet's No. 2 and No. 5 seeded players, Tom Brown, Jr. of California and James Evert of Notre Dame, tangled in the tower bracket windup all the attention was focused on this upper section clash. Segura, 22-year-old native of Ecuador, has captivated the crowd with his dazzling, jerky style of two-handed swinging. Cochell, 21 and a worker in a California shipyard during last year's meet, is a friendly, scrappy lad.

Brown, No. 2 seeded player, dropped three of his first four games to Bob Kimbrell of Southern California yesterday before taking that set, 6-3, and the second, 6-1. Evert went three sets with determined Earl Bartlett of Tulane before winning, 6-4, 3-6, 6-4. Segura stopped Wayne Anderson of Tulane, 6-3, 6-3, in the quarter-finals, while Cochell was beating Bob Odman of Washington, 6-4, 6-1.

The doubles competition also reached the semi-final stage as Bartlett and Anderson registered the first real upset of the tournament. Beating second seeded Vincent Fotre and Ben Press of U. C. L. A., 6-2, 6-2, they meet Brown and Harry Buttimer of California today.

Not Even The Army Loves An Umpire

SAN ANTONIO, June 25. (AP)—Mike Williamson, former Texas league umpire, enters the service next month and is casually wondering where he will be stationed after Dodd Field here.

"Trouble is," he grinned, "practically every army camp in this section is probably waiting for me with open arms—or rather, open guardhouses. I've umpired at practically all of them."

Dodgers Lose Ground; Cards Win Again

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer
Trout Banks Sewell, a strawberry blond from the deep south, was one of the National league leaders in defeats last year, but this season has a chance to lead it in victories.

To date "rip" has won nine games, going the route in every one, and has been beaten twice—once by one run and another time when his Pittsburgh Pirates were shut out.

This is a record matched by no other pitcher in the senior circuit and seems to prove that at the age of 25, when most pitchers have gone over the hill, Sewell is still climbing. He had his first chance with a major league club in 1932 with the Detroit Tigers, worked 11 innings in five games and gave up fifteen runs.

In 1940 his record was 16-5, last year 14-17 and this year he could write his own ticket if he could choose the number of times he would get to face the Chicago Cubs.

Thus far he has beaten them five times, including 2-1 yesterday, without a setback. This is one of the principal reasons the Pirates are a strong third in the National league, four games back of Brooklyn.

The Dodgers were set down by the New York Giants 3-1 after winning the first five games of a six-game series and lost ground not only to the encroaching Pirates but also to the first place St. Louis Cardinals, who crushed the Cincinnati Reds 5-1 in a morning game.

The Phillies battered the Boston Braves with 16 hits to win a 12-5 decision and split their six-game series, with St. Johnson taking credit for his seventh victory. In the American league the two top clubs, New York and Washington, were idle but their leading rivals both were beaten. The Philadelphia Athletics overpowered the Boston Red Sox 5-3, riling all their runs in their last three turns at bat, and the Detroit Tigers whipped the Cleveland Indians 7-4. Virgil Trucks pitched the route in the latter game and also made three-of-the Tigers' twelve hits.

The Chicago White Sox and St. Louis Browns divided a double-header with Vern Stephens hitting a single with the bases loaded in the tenth inning of the opener to give the Browns an 8-7 victory and the Sox retaining with a 9-2 verdict in the nightcap. The two games produced 48 hits and three in each contest were made by Chicago's rookie star, Guy Curry, who extended his batting streak to 20 games.

Warren, Keeling In Badminton Semi-Finals

Maj. Gerald Keeling and Col. Robert W. Warren will square off in a feature match of the semi-final round of the officers badminton tournament at the Big Spring Bombardier School.

In the other end of the next to last round, Lieut. Smith will meet the winner of the L. Freeman and Capt. Hubler match.

Maj. Keeling won his way up by defeating Capt. Helkilla and the Lieut. Auerback, who had beaten Capt. Vunk, in the third round. Col. Warren advanced by defeating Lieut. Patterson and Lieut. Bloomberg, who had trimmed Maj. Willis. Lieut. Smith defeated Lieut. Cashman and then took out WO Jarrett, who had handled Lieut. Foulkes.

Turf Club Operates Again In N. Guinea

AN ADVANCED ALLIED BASE, SOMEWHERE IN NEW GUINEA, (AP)—The Bobodura Turf club has opened its racing season on battlefields where the Japanese were driven out of Papua six months before.

The turf club uses equipment made in Japan, and British horses from Malaysia. Australians conducted the first trotting program recently, using sulkes made of wheels from Japanese bicycles captured in the battle of Buna, and sent from wrecked Japanese planes.

Their horses are fine British ponies which the Japanese captured in Malaysia and brought to New Guinea for use in the Buna area.

Maintenance Out To Upset Strong 365th

Things may rock along pretty much the same in the Big Spring Bombardier School enlisted men's softball league today with the outside chance that the North Maintenance could upset the 365th steam roller.

Nothing that resembles a bearing on the race is at stake in the 359th and Mess Co. game, although the 2052nd Ordnance will be striving to hold its tie for second place when it battles the So. Maintenance, which is fighting to raise out of the mire.

In Wednesday games the 365th pressured the 1047th Guard for an 8-2 victory while the 78th moved into a tie for second by defeating 2052nd Ordnance in an extra inning affair, 5-4.

S/Sgt. Filinn Dunham allowed the Guard only four blows and struck out three men to give the 365th its third win of the second half. Millard had a field day, not only sparking by his work at third, but in slamming out a homer in the second and getting two other hits. Gunter, however, matched his total with three hits. Dunham tallied twice for 365th. McAnear had two of the Guard hits and Malibo and Howell scored the runs. Ten men left on base hurt the Guard cause.

Davis, pinch hitting in the seventh, connected for a dramatic homer that tied up the ball for the 78th, which went on to win in the next frame when Ramsey scored on Sonnensheim's double. It was the third win in four starts for the 78th and the first loss in three starts for Ordnance.

Taylor and Hauer had two hits each for Ordnance and Halder, pitcher, aided his cause by adding a homer in the third with two aboard. Timko and Weinstein led the 78th with two blows each and Ramsey scored three of the five runs.

Halder pitched seven hit ball for Ordnance—a feat matched by Golts and Howell for the 78th—but he was erratic, for while he struck out four, he also walked three. R H E

Plenty Of Game In Texas, If You Can Get Ammunition

AUSTIN, June 25. (AP)—The average Texas hunter, who needs at least eight shots to kill a deer and two dozen to dunk a duck, feels better about the prospects for next fall.

The state is crawling with game. Down on the coast millions of ducks are gobbling up the rice as fast as the farmers raise it. They are so well fed lots of them didn't even bother to migrate north. Deer are getting to be a nuisance.

Next Bombing Olympics To Be At Angelo

SAN ANGELO, June 25. (AP)—The third all-American bombing olympics will be held July 4 at San Angelo Army Air Field, Colonel George M. Palmer, commanding officer, said today.

The olympics will bring together the pick of the bombardiers from the eight bombardier training schools for a test to select the most accurate bombardier from among the senior classes of the schools.

The schools themselves compete for the pickle barrel trophy which is awarded following each contest. The competing schools are the following in Texas: San Angelo Army Air Field, Big Spring Army Air Field, Childress Army Air Field, and Midland Army Air Field. From New Mexico will come representatives from Kirtland Field at Albuquerque, Roswell Army Air Field and Deming Army Air Field. Victorville Army Air Field will send a team from California.

The first olympics was held at Childress, Texas, May 22. The second took place at Roswell, New Mexico, June 15. Bombardiers from Deming won at Childress and at Roswell the team from Midland was victorious by a slight margin over Roswell.

FEWER DRAFT DODGERS
NEW YORK, June 25. (AP)—Draft law violations so far during the war, says E. E. Conroy, chief of the New York FBI office, show a 62 per cent drop as compared with World War I figures.

in the hill country; turkeys are raising a big fuss in every peean bottom from the Brasos to the Big Grande; game department experts feel sure there is an over-population of all upland birds.

Until this week, hunters faced all that with a shortage of ammunition. Now they are happier because Washington has announced that plans are being made to provide bullets for civilian hunters on a basis of need.

Still unanswered is the question of who is going to decide who is a good shot.

It's pretty hard for a man in the field to judge which way and how fast a white-tail will jump. Some of these cedar brake Texas deer are so fat that when you aim at an end, you frequently hit the other, if at all. You can find plenty of one-shot one-buck dead-eyes who slip a few extra cartridges into their pants just to be sure.

These are some of the things the government is going to have to figure on when they decide who needs how many shots, for what.

Or take a duck. One of those $17 ducks that game department statisticians are talking about. You're sitting in a blind, your hands are cold, your feet are cold, the wind is blowing cold rain in your face and down your neck. In wings one of these valued Mallards, 90 miles an hour. Blam, blam, blam. No duck. Repeat several times and you'll find that $1.00 of the $17 per duck book-kept as ammunition expense is conservative, and most hunters are better at shooting than killing.

But the need-basis business will do one thing. It will put a stop to a lot of lying. Every hunter you meet next fall will be crying about what a lousy shot he is.

Cultivate the Good Things . . .

Two choice after-dinner smokes . . . one to honor the boss' birthday . . . the other to celebrate the janitor's service record.

It's the kind of a deed that takes but a moment to perform . . . but because of it the heart of a fellow-man is filled with a warm, pleasant feeling that lasts throughout the day.

That's the interesting thing about appreciation—a little goes so far. A moment's thoughtfulness brings hours of mutual pleasure. A small investment in kindness pays big dividends in deep, rich satisfaction.

Cultivate the good things. Enjoy and treasure them . . . and be sure to include among them the friendly cheer and cool refreshment of grand-taste Grand Prize. A beverage of moderation . . . Grand Prize is one of the pleasures that add much to the joy of living.

Phillips 66

Research begins . . .
not in a test tube . . .
but in the mind of a man.

Since Phillips Petroleum Company has the world's largest proven gas reserves, it was natural that the minds of hundreds of Phillips research men should early turn to the problem of new and better things from petroleum gases as well as from petroleum.

The resulting development, in the early 1930's, of POLYMERIZATION enabled the use of light petroleum hydrocarbons (gases) which until then had been regarded as by-products of little value. Soon, several years before Pearl Harbor, they became feed stock for the production of 100 octane gasoline.

Still other Phillips pioneering processes, alkylation, HF alkylation, and cycloversion permitted the production of 100-plus octane aviation gasoline, a significant contribution to extra airplane horsepower.

If these statements are perhaps too technical to be readily understood by the average motorist, you can nevertheless be certain that they are well understood by our enemies, by Nazi and Jap pilots who encounter our great bombers and fighters powered by American super-fuels.

Phillips was one of the first, and remains one of the largest manufacturers of high octane aviation fuels. Thus we see how the peacetime study and work of Phillips scientists is of great value in our all-out war on the Axis. Similarly, when victory comes, today's accelerated Phillips wartime research program should bring to the American motorist new and greater gasolines for his post-war car.

Lufkin Foundry Gets E Award

LUFKIN, June 25. (AP)—The Lufkin Foundry and Machine Company today held the coveted army-navy production award—the 24th local plant in the St. Louis ordnance district to receive the emblem.

Col. Merle H. Davis, chief of the district, made the presentation last night to President W. C. Trout of the company in ceremonies before several thousand persons in the high school stadium.

Rear Admiral P. W. Foote, inspector of naval material for the Houston district, presented E pins to representative employees of the plant.

Col. Davis emphasized the fact that less than two per cent of all war industries in the country had received the award.

A gun carriage manufactured by the Lufkin company is a joint British and American standardization, he said, many changes in design were required to meet current needs and to conserve critical materials, he explained, adding:

"Literally dozens of these changes came about from suggestions of the engineers and production men of this company."

Vows Read In Chapel At Post

Miss Betty Bishop, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Bishop of Charles City, Iowa, and Lieut. V. E. Mason, son of Mrs. E. H. Mason of Charles City, Iowa, were married Thursday evening at 6 o'clock in the post chapel at the Big Spring Bombardier School.

The double ring candlelight service was read by Chaplain James L. Patterson before an altar decorated with floor baskets of shell pink gladioli, white stock and other spring flowers. Tapers in stanting candelabra marked the place where the wedding party stood and lined the chancel rail.

The bride, given in marriage by Lieut. Daniel Mertz, was attired in an ice blue ensemble with white picture hat and other white accessories. Her flowers were white roses, gladioli and blue cornflowers arranged into a shoulder corsage.

Mrs. Ray Mann, matron of honor, wore a beige afternoon frock with black accessories and her corsage was of pink carnations and shasta daisies.

As pre-nuptial music, Lieut. Orville Moore sang "Oh Promise Me" and "I Love You Truly." The bridegroom who received his commission as a second lieutenant at graduation exercises Thursday, was attended by Lieut. Ray Mann.

After the ceremony the couple left the chapel under an arch of rifles, the eight guards were officers, classmates of the bridegroom.

Following the ceremony, members of the wedding party and out-of-town relatives attended a wedding dinner which was held at the Settles Hotel. A three tiered cake, topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom centered the table.

Out of town guests who attended the wedding were the bride's mother, Mrs. William R. Bishop of Charles City, Iowa, Mrs. E. H. Mason, mother of the bridegroom and Mrs. Vern Stratton of Charles City, and Mrs. Ethel Criswell of Falls.

Condemnation Of Oil Holdings Recommended

WASHINGTON, June 25. (AP)—The justice department recommended in a report made public today that the government acquire by condemnation proceedings the Standard Oil Company of California's $146,000,000 interest in the Elk Hills, Calif., petroleum reserves.

The report, prepared by Assistant Attorney General Norman M. Littell, was presented to the house public lands committee investigating the cancelled oil contract with the Navy department.

Littell's report said what he has testified: that the contract went "beyond" the Teapot Dome leases of the 20's.

Navy Secretary Knox abrogated the contract, which called for mutual development of a pooling of oil reserves, after the justice department ruled it "illegal and invalid."

Then, Knox said, condemnation proceedings probably were the best alternative. Littell's report termed the contract "a masterpiece of equivocation" that was "illegal and invalid" not only under the oil conservation act of 1935, but also under the war powers act. Its terms, he said, called for a pooling of approximately 35,175 acres owned by owned by Standard Oil with approximately 35,175 acres owned by the government, without taking into consideration that water seepage into Standards share had impaired the value of the company's holdings.

Former Governor Of Arizona Dies

FLAGSTAFF, Ariz., June 25. (AP)—John C. Phillips, governor of Arizona from 1929 to 1931, died in the Flagstaff hospital at 2:45 a. m. today after suffering a heart attack while fishing at nearby Lake Mary Thursday afternoon.

Phillips, one of two republicans ever elected governor of Arizona, held the distinction of being the first to defeat the late Geo. W. P. Hunt, democrat, who held the governorship seven times.

He had lived in Arizona 45 years, coming here from Illinois. He was 72 years old. Shortly after noon yesterday, while fishing with a friend, M. L. Thornburg of Phoenix, Phillips was stricken suddenly. He lapsed into a coma about 4 p. m. and died without regaining consciousness.

Besides Mrs. Phillips he is survived by one son, Ralph, a member of the former governor's law firm and two daughters, Mrs. E. C. Reddic and Mrs. Elizabeth Quillen, all of Phoenix. All were at the bedside.

Naval Aviation Cadet Keith B. Cass, son of Mrs. E. J. Cass, 2409 Rannels, has been transferred to the naval air station at Pensacola, Fla., upon completion of primary flight training at the naval air station, Lambert Field, St. Louis, Mo.

How America Bombs The Axis Beating Back An Invasion Fleet

(Fifth in a series on attack methods of bombers of the U. S. Army Air Forces.)
AF Features

Heavy four-motored bombers will be the first to strike an enemy fleet approaching American territory, but unless there is a great number of such planes, they are not likely to turn back the foe alone.

Planes are thrown at the enemy from as many directions as possible. This causes him to divide his defensive fire, reducing losses, and also makes it harder for him to maneuver to safety.

Heavy and medium bombers make level attacks from various heights, taking advantage of any cover such as cloud banks and sun come in with torpedoes, launching the "tin fish" from distances of 2,000 to 4,000 yards.

Other medium and light bombers use skip bombing. They drop their bombs in a string from such a low altitude that the projectiles strike the water while still horizontal, bouncing along into the target as flat rocks skip across a pond. Their last bombs might be dropped directly onto the ship.

These planes pull up over the target itself, sometimes no higher than the mast tops, maybe getting in a machine gun burst for good measure. The bombs have delayed action fuses so the attackers will not be caught in their own explosions.

Torpedo and skip bombers approach the targets from the direction of the sun or moon if possible. Smoke screens laid by planes or surface vessels might help to cover their approach.

Meanwhile, dive bombers are probably in on the party. Because they offer such targets for anti-aircraft fire in their straight dives, these planes are used almost exclusively by the Navy against fleet targets while their accuracy is necessary despite the high risk.

A vessel under attack is thus forced to divide his guns along planes flying at high or medium levels, or both; others diving from different angles, and still others approaching from various angles and directions along the surface.

THE WAR TODAY: Japanese Know They're To Be Bombed

(While Dewitt Mackenzie is on vacation, this daily column is being written by Max Hill, former chief of the Associated Press bureau in Tokyo.)

By MAX HILL

Japan's military masters are too realistic to make the same foolish pledges to their people that the Germans once made about devastating air raids. Once Hitler's satellites boldly promised that German cities never would be bombed. They know better now.

But Tomokuni Hori, a rough and tumble Japanese who was educated in California and knows the fallacy of duping the common

Oil Shortage Ahead, Says Secy. Knox

WASHINGTON, June 25 (AP)—Navy Secretary Knox told the house naval committee today that this nation faced a shortage of vital crude oil, with the "likelihood" that it would become serious late this year and "most certainly early next year."

His statement came as he opened an explanation of his part in the now-cancelled contract between the navy department and the Standard Oil Company of California for joint development of the rich Elk Hills petroleum reserve, second largest in the world.

Knox asserted it was of the "first importance" that we have an adequate reserve, and added that national policy dictates that we expand our reserve outside the continental United States, "in every way possible."

He said that the situation at Elk Hills offered three choices: purchase of Standard's property, condemnation through court proceedings, or an agreement for its joint development.

He said that the navy department had "tried" the first of the three, purchase, but said that the company wanted $210,000,000 for its interest, a figure which he described as "excessive."

Of condemnation, he said, it would involve posting with the courts a sum representing the navy department's estimate of the value of Standard's interest during the proceedings. He said that the navy department would not do this, but that it would be "in view of the huge demand on the taxpayers as a result of the war," he felt that it would be unwise to tie up the money.

Knox declared that the "choice we made"—a joint agreement—was made on the grounds that it satisfied the present need for oil and avoided posting large sums of money.

Italy To Be Pounded As No Other Country Ever Was, Says AP Man

BOSTON, June 25 (AP)—A prediction that America and British airmen will give Italy a "hammering" such as no country has ever received before came today from Edward Kennedy, veteran Associated Press foreign correspondent, after a tour of war coverage unparalleled in the middle eastern and North African theatres.

Kennedy holds a record as the only newspaperman who covered the Middle Eastern and North African wars from the time the first shot was fired by Italy in 1940 until the last German surrendered after Tunis and Bizerte fell. He gave his views after returning on his first vacation since before the war.

"Conditions are perfect for giving the Italians a terrific pasting from the air," he said. "The skies are blue, with few clouds and no fog, that the amazing American bombight is operating with uncanny accuracy. Distances are short, enemy resistance is light and Allied casualties are comparatively few. The United States air forces already have done a job of bombing that has been unequalled in this war."

"In my opinion, the African campaign was not a second front. It was a first front, for it kept the Mediterranean open, exposed the Axis' Achilles heel—Italy—to attack, and established a shelf of aggression 2,500 miles long from which a death blow can be launched at the Axis. A large, well-trained force is ready and they have terrific supplies."

T-Card Holders Must Re-Apply Before July 1

Operators of trucks, pick-ups and other commercial vehicles must reapply for gasoline ration stamps before July 1, the OPA ration office reminded Friday.

This applies regardless of any dates now carried by holders of T cards.

Sonora Murphy, chief clerk of the board, said that it would be necessary for each applicant to bring his or her ODT certificate when making application.

Other records, such as tire inspections, should also be in order. T card holders must have their tires inspected every six months or every 5,000 miles, which ever comes first.

Those who fail to get renewals by July 1 cannot operate their vehicles from that date until they do secure the new "T-T" card. Since there is almost certain to be a last minute rush, those delaying may be tied up unavoidably, Miss Murphy pointed out.

As for other card holders, it was pointed out the inspection dates call for one every six months on the basic A card, one every four months on B cards and one every three months on C cards.

Applications for renewal of A cards will be distributed to service stations on and after July 1 and applicants may secure them at those points then, said Miss Murphy.

Walter A. Woods, Jr., 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter A. Woods, Sr., Stanton, has been promoted from private to rank of corporal at the Garden City (Kan.) Army Flying Field, according to an announcement by his commanding officer, Col. Jergen B. Olson. Cpl. Woods is a clerk in special services.

Mr. and Mrs. James Currie, whose son, Lieut. Robert P. Currie, was included in a special citation for extraordinary achievement in the Burma theatre, have received word that he is now in the mountain section of India recuperating from months of work in the low, torrid climate. Flying has been temporarily suspended due to the monsoon period.

J. M. Choate, who has a longer tenure on the city police force than any other officer, is quite a gardener. At his place at the southern edge of town he has a fine garden plot, including about half an acre planted to corn. Friday he was pulling his first ears and was working hard to fill orders for nearly 50 dozen roasting ears.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Tidwell have just returned from Hutchinson, Kas where they visited their son, James, who is in training as a naval aviation cadet. They said he was in fine spirits and doing well in his work. Grain crops between here and Hutchinson appear to be excellent, said Tidwell.

A negro who celebrated June 14th to the extent he apparently thought the curb in front of the Crawford hotel was his boudoir drew fines and costs totaling around $70 Thursday. He was picked up last Saturday night by the constable's department.

James Parker, 809 E. 3rd, a native of Georgia and a long time resident of Colorado City before he moved here a few years ago, has a picture of Alexander H. Stephens, famed little giant of Georgia politics, which he treasures highly. It was given to him while he was a lad watching his father boss unloading at a dock point. The statesman got off the boat and took Parker in his arms and then presented him with a picture of himself. Parker loves to tell how the Georgian once got back at an opponent in congress. The opponent catgated Stephens and remarked that he was so small that "I could eat him in one bite." When his time came, the Georgian replied: "My opponent has said that he could eat me in one bite. If he did this, he would then have more brains in his belly than he ever had in his head."

Washington. The men technically in control of the Federal Oil Agencies actually don't run the show.

Since "this country is most becoming the world's greatest bureaucracy," it's about time for Congress to assert itself and prove that the tail is not still wagging the dog," Herbert told the 60 oil representatives.

Rivers stressed that "There are too many agencies dipping into the oil situation." The petroleum administration for war, he said, was created by executive order and is independent of Congress except for appropriations.

From Nichols the sub-committee received a recommendation for a new pipeline from West Texas to the St. Louis area which he said would relieve the burden on the big inch line.

Warning that Texas cannot continue to produce the 38.4 per cent of the nation's production called for in July, Nichols asked the congressmen "if Congress knows that the greater proportion of crude oil used in our war effort today is being drawn from reserves discovered 10 to 15 years ago."

Reds Get Five German Planes

LONDON, June 25 (AP)—Five German planes out of a formation of nine fighter-escorted bombers were shot out of the sky late yesterday near Lischansk, on the Donets river bend southeast of Kharkov, and two German reconnoitering forces were smashed by a Soviet ambush in the same area, the Russian noon communique said today.

The bombers' objective was a Russian airbase, said the war bulletin as recorded by the Soviet radio monitor here.

WHAT HAPPENED TO FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

AFTER SEVEN WEEKS of intensive work, laboratory researchers have discovered the reason why certain batches of Fletcher's Castoria caused nausea.

Methods of preventing a recurrence of the trouble are now known and manufacture is being resumed.

No Fletcher's Castoria has been made during this seven-week period, and at its beginning the makers issued a nationwide warning to consumers and retailers not to use or sell the product and to return all stocks for destruction.

The U. S. Food and Drug Administration has been kept informed of all these developments.

Q. What caused the trouble?

A. The sugar content of Fletcher's Castoria was reduced to conserve sugar under wartime conditions. A year ago, Castoria was made with this reduced sugar content and was up to standard in every respect. This year, in March, we again started production with reduced sugar.

However, at that time a chemical change—harmless in itself—occurred in the characteristics of the water used in making Castoria. But this change, in combination with the reduced sugar, increased the degree and rate of normal fermentation. The more rapid fermentation retarded normal re-oxidation during the aging process, resulting in a product which caused nausea.

Q. Why didn't normal tests show that something was wrong?

A. The changes which occurred were so elusive that they could not be detected by the regular testing procedures—procedures which had kept Castoria a respected product for more than seventy-five years. In fact, even after the nauseating effect was discovered in actual use, it took weeks of laboratory research to identify the factors that were causing the trouble.

Q. What are the makers doing to prevent a recurrence of the trouble?

A. Now that the cause is known, procedures have been put in effect which will assure normal re-oxidation of the product. Additional safeguards have been set up. New laboratory controls have been installed. New biological and chemical tests will be applied to every batch of Fletcher's Castoria. Each bottle will be stamped with a plainly visible control number, in verification of these tests.

Q. Is Fletcher's Castoria now on sale?

A. No. Manufacture has been resumed, but because of the time required for manufacture and distribution it may be about two months before Castoria will again be on sale at your retailer's. When it is, you will be notified in your local newspaper.

Q. Will the package be the same?

A. No. The Fletcher's Castoria now being made will bear a distinctive green band. This green band is for your protection in case any old Castoria has not been returned.

Editorial - - States Responsible For The Loss Of Their Rights

Washington—Rep. White Goes Heavily Into The Record

By JACK STINNETT
WASHINGTON—I've been wondering how long Rep. Compton J. White (D-Idaho) was going to be allowed to go along unchallenged. It has come at last. Rep. Pete Jarman (D-Ala.), chairman of the House committee on Printing, and vice-chairman of the Joint (House and Senate committee) on Printing, has let it be known that "something just has to be done" to curb Mr. White's verbosity in the Appendix of the Congressional Record as well as take a half-hitch on all members who are inclined these warlike days to "clutter up the Record with drivel."

For many weeks Congressman White has been running a "serial" in the Record—under the title, "Money, The Most Important Issue In The World Today." The first 30-odd installments comprised reports of one Senator Cockerill's speeches in the Congressional Record about 50 or 60 years ago. (Cost to the taxpayer, somewhere in the neighborhood of $3,000.) When last heard of, Congressman White had launched off on a reprint of "the fight that took place 100 years ago between President Andrew Jackson and the money powers."

There is no accusation here that Mr. White's insertions in the Record are "drivel." Mr. White has a cause. It's silver. In the light of World War II requirements, the silver question could very well take a little airing, but regardless of the merits of Mr. White's "serial," there is behind it one of the amusing stories of Congressional Record procedure today.

Four or five years ago, a lame duck Congressman approached Representative Jarman with a voluminous manuscript. He wanted it printed as a public document. Jarman estimated its cost and promised to put it before the Joint Committee on Printing. There was a rule at that time that before any member of Congress could reprint more than two pages of other than his own speeches in the Record, he would have to obtain estimates from the Public Printer. He questioned.

Then Mr. White conceived the idea of the "serial." His installments run just about two pages a day and he's perfectly within the rules of the Joint Printing Committee—that is, he is today. The Joint Committee has a meeting coming up soon. General Mr. Jarman thinks it's a pretty good joke on the committee—but not one that will bear repeating.

private or individual enterprise, was the theme song of the convention. But it is interesting to note some of the highlights of the argument. The governors decided almost to a man that the federal government was going to spend an ocean of money in postwar construction and suchlike. But—and this will kill you—they also decided that the individual states should largely control the expenditure of this money. In this case, state's rights consist in management of the federal government's cash outlay, the main point being that what the federal government contributes, state politicians should spend.

Governor Dewey of New York put in his ten cents' worth with a pretty sensible observation. He said that if the states want anything done they should do it themselves, as far as possible. But this revolutionary view got no

Capital Comment -- War Just Naturally Messes Up Everything

By George Stimpson
Heard Washington Correspondent

To hear some people talk, the bureaucrats and New Dealers, like the builders of the tower of Babel, are trying to pyramid the executive structure in Washington until it is high enough so they can step directly into heaven. The lunch given at the Capital by Jesse Jones for Gov. Coke Stevenson turned out to be quite an affair. The governor, as you know, stopped off in Washington a few hours on his way to Newport News in Virginia to be present at the launching of the new cruiser Houston. At the lunch Mayor Otis Massey of Houston sat to the left of Mr. Jones. Senators Tom Connolly and W. Lee O'Daniel, Speaker Sam Rayburn and virtually all members of the house delegation from Texas were there. I sat between Ewing Thomson, of El Paso, and cousin that estimate from the Public Printer for all over two pages, but they would have to announce that estimate from the floor. Since it takes only one objection from a fellow member of either House to block "extension of remarks" in the Record, it is apparent that no more $1,500 insertions were going to get in without at least being questioned.

You see some comical things if you are observing. The other day I went down to our Press Building cafeteria to get lunch at on odd hour. Nobody was being served at the moment except an elderly lady. As she passed along the counter she deliberately made up herself a fat salad by raiding half a dozen salads, a pickle from this one, a radish from that one, a boiled egg from another, and so on. None of the attendants noticed what she was up to and the cashier charged her only the price for a regular salad, although she had wrecked nearly every other salad in the joint. There's no Texas angle to this story.

A Washington candy shop is advertising for a "refined sales lady." From a cynical point of view, war is an interation game of strip poker. "A lot of people are grumbling to me stating that the President and Congress are messing up things, that we are not doing things in the old-fashioned democratic way," writes Congressman Nat Patton, of Crockett, to a constituent. "I promptly answer them back and frankly admit that war is messing up everything and everybody. There is no person from a day old to a 100 years old that war doesn't mess up. There is no material thing on this earth that is not messed up by war, and, frankly, there is nothing about war that is democratic.

long-term contracts. She's to do "Louisiana Hayride" for Columbia, and start her new air show, "Casa Canova," — it'll be "Americana, rather than hillbilly," she says. Why do all these people who ride to fame on the hillbilly highway want to get away, sooner or later? Frances Gifford called it quits with Tarzan and all other forms of jungle life. "No more jungle movies and no more jungle costumes," she said. She would insist on drawing room roles and beautiful duets.

She had made a name in Australian movies when the war curtailed production there, and she decided then was the time. She was packing for the trip when the Japs struck, and she was doubtful that her ship would sail at all. When it did, all but 95 of the passengers had heeded warnings of the dangers involved in the crossing and had cancelled passage. Ann stayed on. The vessel dodged and zigzagged its way to America—but it was a year before Ann reached "America."

Through a friend, scenarist Carl Dudley, who was writing at M-G-M, Ann got inside the studio to apply for a job. In two weeks she was playing, at 23, a 60-year-old woman in a short, "A Woman in the House." It won her a contract, and a year of waiting.

"But it's better to wait longer for something very nice," she says, "than not so long for something disappointing." She's a blonde, has an ingratiating smile, and a slight English accent that has been transformed, from film purposes, into an Irish brogue.

Hollywood Sights and Sounds— Girl Crashes The Films In Face Of War's Trials

By ROBBIN COONS
HOLLYWOOD — Ann Richards is a girl who knows her own mind.

There have been plenty of pretty young things who set out hopefully for Hollywood, determined to make their way on the screen. Ann Richards is the only one I know who would set out from Australia, just after December 7, 1941, and dare a war to stop her. That's what she did.

Ann is the girl who beat out several established beauties for the role opposite Brian Donlevy in King Vidor's "America." She had been on the M-G-M contract list a year, lost with the other "unknowns" in that line-up of talent and beauty, and it didn't make sense that she should pull down a plum. She did, and it still doesn't make sense. Her performance does. With the picture 12 weeks in production, and as many more to go, Ann Richards is already "in."

An American citizen through her late father, an engineer who settled and married in Australia, Ann had long wanted to visit America. She had made a name in Australian movies when the war curtailed production there, and she decided then was the time. She was packing for the trip when the Japs struck, and she was doubtful that her ship would sail at all. When it did, all but 95 of the passengers had heeded warnings of the dangers involved in the crossing and had cancelled passage. Ann stayed on. The vessel dodged and zigzagged its way to America—but it was a year before Ann reached "America."

Through a friend, scenarist Carl Dudley, who was writing at M-G-M, Ann got inside the studio to apply for a job. In two weeks she was playing, at 23, a 60-year-old woman in a short, "A Woman in the House." It won her a contract, and a year of waiting.

"But it's better to wait longer for something very nice," she says, "than not so long for something disappointing." She's a blonde, has an ingratiating smile, and a slight English accent that has been transformed, from film purposes, into an Irish brogue.

THEY CALL IT PACIFIC

Chapter 22
Right up to the day that Bataan surrendered, thousands of our troops clung to the hope that help was on the way. Even when the Japs broke through on the east coast and their airplanes and artillery were pounding the main road and the airfields, and General King was going forward under a white flag to surrender, most of our troops didn't give up. They walked back along the dusty road to Mariveles, now jammed with wrecked or fuelless trucks and jeeps and artillery mounts.

on to their hope to the last day. All they knew, when the end came, was that help had not reached them. They did not know, and would not have believed, that no help was going to be sent. Someone thought it couldn't be done. . . .

Sometime shortly after December 8, perhaps immediately, the decision was reached in Washington that the Philippines could not be reinforced, even with airplanes, and that MacArthur and his men would have to do the best they could with whatever they had on hand.

Some time in January it was decided that even though the Philippines were lost some effort should be made to send medical supplies and ammunition to the forces holding out in Bataan. Maybe if we had been in Washington we would have seen the reasons for that decision.

Anyway, the decision was made and Brigadier General Patrick J. Hurley, former Secretary of War, was called to Washington. The President told Hurley he had a job for him.

Pat took the job and also the funds that the President gave him and got in an airplane and flew across the Pacific. He went to Australia and flew up north to Port Darwin and then over to Java.

Hurley chartered five ships and loaded them with .50-caliber ammunition, hand grenades, 3-inch anti-aircraft shells, aspirin, bandages, quinine and sulfanilamide, and some canned goods. Two of the ships were lost near Darwin Harbor when the Japs staged their first big raid of the war there, catching us by surprise and inflicting heavy damage on a big convoy.

The other three all got through to the Philippines. That meant that all three ships that started, made it. There may have been other ships too, because Secretary Stimson, on the basis of information given to him, announced after the fall of Bataan that for every ship that got through two ships were sunk. . . .

Hurley mounted some .50 caliber guns on his three ships for protection against dive bombers and got American soldiers to man the guns. The ship's crews were given bonuses, but it would be unfair to believe that they made the trip in order to make money. Nobody who saw the ships sail northward thought the crews would live to spend their bonuses.

Those ships made the trip just at the time when huge Japanese expeditionary forces in transports and warships were coming south through Macassar and Molucca Straits.

While those ships were on their way running north to the Philippines, MacArthur had already set up a "blockade-running" organization of his own. That organization functioned because in the first three months of the war there was not any fixed Japanese blockade of the Philippines. Occasionally the Japs sent a warship into Philippine waters.

MacArthur had about a dozen ships which had been engaged in inter island trade before the war bombings. None of them was armed. The largest was the Legaspi, a modern 3,000-ton passenger and freight ship. The others ranged in size down to 70- and 80-foot motor launches, but most of them were fairly roomy with three or four decks.

MacArthur sent one of the ships out through Corregidor's mine fields one night late in January. It was the Don Esteban. Two weeks later, with the Philippine Army's three Q-boats guiding it, it came back into Manila Bay. It had been to Iloilo and it brought back sorely needed supplies; rice and a little fruit and some medicine.

Then MacArthur sent the Legaspi and it got through. Then the Princesa made it.

When the first boats came back it was a tremendous uplift to the morale of the men in Corregidor and Bataan. The reports of what they brought were exaggerated. The arrival of one small ship was enough to cause rumors that our convoy at last, had arrived. Soldiers at the Bataan front refused to believe that only one ship had come in.

Capt. Arthur Wermuth got mad as hell at me one night when I told him the truth—that a group of small ships which had suddenly appeared in the bay between Corregidor and Bataan was not a convoy but some vessels which had been moved from the south side of Corregidor to escape shelling by the Jap guns at Cavite.

MacArthur's blockade-running was getting results, so he sent Major Bird of the Quartermaster Corps down to Cebu to arrange for transshipment of the supplies that he knew were en route from Australia. Bird squeezed himself into the fuselage of a P-40, which is strictly a one-man airplane, and the pilot pulled it off the Cababtorn areas of Europe, Asia and Africa, and but for the patriotic ingenuity of the American people in the same or worst manner. This war, of course, is a dark and gruesome picture, and will wreck the lives of many. It affects the lives of all. There is a brighter side to the picture, however, and you just turn the ledger over and see what our brave men are doing. The boys in the foxholes, on the far-flung battlefronts, are mauling up the Germans, Japs and Italians. The brave men who swarm the azure domes of heaven itself are certainly mauling up the enemies in a grand way. And the sailors on the vast and broad expanses of the ocean are likewise mauling up the Germans, Japs and Italians. Those boys are strong in the strength of the Lord, and they who fight in the people's cause will never stop until the cause is won. So I say to them, I am doing the very best I know, as God gives me the light and the strength to do, and I shall continue that course until victory is won."

Service For Servicemen—

Private Free Hotel Run For Soldiers

By Alice Hoffman
NASHVILLE, Tenn. — You pass a soldier asleep on a park bench or on the floor of a public building and you say, "What a shame. Something ought to be done..."

Last year during the Second Army's middle Tennessee maneuvers J. Werthan, Nashville business man, saw scores of soldiers sleeping that way and thought "Something ought to be done..."

Now Werthan operates what he believes is the only free hotel for servicemen run and financed by an individual.

Located in two three-story colonial brick dwellings and a white frame cottage near the center of Nashville, the 250-room Werthan Servicemen's Center provides first-class hotel service plus home atmosphere.

A U. S. uniform is a stranger's introduction. Soldiers, sailors or Marines can make reservations by mail or telephone. They register as they would at a hotel, select their own rooms, and leave messages at the desk, if they wish, to be called at any hour.

On each floor there are hot and cold showers with ample supplies of bath towels and soap. The hotel also provides fresh linen for each of the 250 beds and a razor with a new blade for every man.

Every day on his way to and from his office Werthan, who is "Joe" to the armed forces, stops in at the center to see how things are going. His wife and volunteers from his bag manufacturing plant assist at the center, which is open 24 hours every day.

Nearly every weekend some 300 soldiers throng the office-lobby, which is flanked on one side by a reception room with pool and ping-pong tables and on the other by a reading-writing room supplied with pens, ink and stationery.

The "Coffee Shoppe" with its modern restaurant counter and high upholstered stools is perhaps the best place to get an expression of opinion from the armed forces on the merits of the free hotel.

Under the influence of free doughnuts and coffee (the OPA cooperates with Werthan) a corporal confided: "Before I found out about this place I used to try at four or five hotels before I could get a room, and even then I didn't always get one. Now I come right out here the minute I get into town. It isn't just that everything here is 'for free.' It seems like home."

The hotel operates on the "honor" system, the only regulation being "no smoking in bedrooms."

"There are MPs on duty at all the other places in town where soldiers stay, but we've never needed any here," Werthan says. "Thank you" letters come from soldiers all over the country—one from overseas.

How much Werthan has spent for the center he says he doesn't know or care. "I don't keep any records," he asserts: "I'm getting more satisfaction out of this thing than anything I've ever done in my life and if I can interest other individuals in doing the same thing, that's all I ask."

Facts About The Pay-As-You-Go Tax Plan

(Last in a Series Issued by the Treasury Department)

Q. Is the withholding tax an additional income tax?
A. No. The withholding tax is an installment or pay-as-you-go method of paying your regular annual income tax.

Q. Does this new tax mean people will not have to pay out money for income tax on next March 15th, 1944?
A. Yes, in case the amount of tax withheld from your wage payment equals or exceeds the amount of income tax liability reported on the annual return.

Q. Does this mean that I won't have to make out an income tax report next March?
A. No. You will be required to file a return on the usual form.

Q. Are there any kinds of workers who are exempt from withholding?
A. Yes, for certain specified classes which include members of the armed forces, agricultural labor, domestic servants, and ministers of the gospel.

Q. How about people with big wages? Are they going to get by with only a 20 percent tax?
A. No. They also have to make quarterly payments of tax in addition to the amount withheld.

Q. How about salaries, bonuses and commissions? Is withholding required?
A. Yes, since "wages" means all remuneration for services by an employee.

Q. How about people with income from stocks, bonds, mortgages, etc.? Who withholds from them?
A. There is no withholding on income from bonds, mortgages, etc., but those receiving such income must make a special return and pay the tax quarterly on such income.

Q. I am paying all I can over and above living expenses now in purchase of War Bonds. How can I keep up these payments and pay the withholding tax?
A. I'm sure that you have been setting aside a part of your pay to meet quarterly installments of your income tax. The withholding tax is merely a "pay-as-you-go" or installment-method of paying your income tax, instead of in a lump sum. It should make it easier for you to buy additional War Bonds.

Car-Use Tax Under Fire

WASHINGTON, June 25, (AP)—Senator Mead (D-NY) today labeled the annual $5 use tax on automobiles, a "pay-as-you-don't-go plan," at least for eastern motorists, and said he would ask the treasury to withhold enforcement until Congress decides whether the levy should be repealed.

The new stickers are supposed to be on the windshields of all cars and trucks operated after next Wednesday, but the postal employees entrusted with their sale have decided that the only way to start them moving would be to ration them, like shoes. In other words, business has not been good.

The value of gasoline ration coupons is smaller in the east than in other parts of the country, and in the seaboard states from Virginia north all pleasure driving is forbidden.

"It looks like a faulty proposition to me," Mead told an interviewer. "It's incongruous. On one hand we're asking people not to use their automobiles, while on the other hand we're taxing their use."

Senator Brewster (R-Me.) called the tax "unjust and unfair" under present conditions and said it was arousing sectional ill-feelings.

Senator Lodge (R-Mass.) said he had received complaints from a number of drivers and would support a repeal move, but Senator Guffey (D-Pa.) said he would vote to keep the tax in effect.

"We need the revenue and we've got to get it where it is," Guffey said. "The man who owns a car can afford to pay a $5 tax. It may not be just, but there is no justice in taxation."

en runway one night and set it down in Cebu two hours later. Bird worked with Colonel Thomas Cook at Cebu.

The supplies from Hurley's got to Corregidor. The Japs sent ships reached Cebu but they never a warship into the Inland Sea and it sank all but about six of MacArthur's small ships that they had missed on their previous raids, including one carrying President Quezon's luggage. The Japs almost got Quezon too, but he slipped through their hands on a PT boat, and got to Mindanao where he boarded an airplane for Australia. One or two of our small ships were captured intact by the Japs while their crews were ashore.

Later, two submarines went to Cebu to try to take some of the supplies to Corregidor, but again it was too late. The Japs by that time had finished their campaigns in Java and Malaya and had come back to mop up the Philippines.

The submarines however, had previously performed several valuable missions in running into Corregidor. In all, at least seven submarines made the trip between late January and early May, when Corregidor finally fell. I'll never forget the arrival of the first sub. Its trip was supposedly secret, but word quickly spread with electrifying effect. It meant that we still had contact with the outside world!

The sub tied up at the south dock on Corregidor and I went down to talk to the sailors. They had been at Pearl Harbor and the reports they gave us were far grimmer than the official announcements of damage. But they had good news too.

"Darwin is lousy with American soldiers," they said. "The harbor is chock-full of ships and they should be heading up this way soon. There are so many troops there that they have to ration beer. Only five thousand bottles are sold every day and our soldiers stand in line for hours to get one. We've got plenty of planes there too."

Other subs came in from time to time. They brought supplies and took out a few fortunate people: Quezon and his family and staff; Sayre and his group, some Navy officers, and a number of Army pilots. One of them also took out $2,000,000 in gold bars belonging to the Philippine Government. The paper money on Corregidor was burned, several million dollars of it, while soldiers and sailors looked on enviously.

Hurley's three ships and those submarines represented the only efforts that the United States made to get aid to the Philippines, except for the bombing raid that MacArthur arranged after he reached Australia. That raid was really a salute to the dead of Bataan who would have still been living if the United States had not decided that the Pacific was a secondary front.

Even months after that last raid MacArthur still did not leave the men or planes or ships in Australia to take the offensive against the Japs. Those materials, as it turned out much later, were going to North Africa.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

Just dropped by to tell you, Frank, I had a fine letter from your son, Joe, this morning. Mighty nice of him to take the time to write me... I know how busy they keep the boys. That's a fine camp he's been transferred to up in New England.

"Yes, Catherine and I had a letter this morning, too. Said he was writing you... he's very fond of you, Judge. Catherine is certainly proud of Joe and proud of the great Army he's a part of."

"She has good reason to be, Frank. Joe is one fine fellow and the Army he's in is the best disciplined, best behaved in our history. Just last night I was reading an article that quoted a report signed by five chaplains in the very camp where Joe is now training. I remember their exact words which were "there is no liquor problem at this Post." And I understand that's true in camp after camp all over the country. And if Catherine would like to see that report, I'll drop it off at the house tomorrow."
