Attack On Dollar Hits London Bullion Market

By HARRY HOBBS
LONDON (UPI)—The record rush to buy gold reached panic proportions today in a growing attack on the dollar. Some dealers in Europe's major markets were forced to close their doors to stem the uncontrolled flood of orders. The gold bug hit heavily around the world. In Paris, the buying drove the price of gold to record heights and buyers were reported in panic. Dealers in Hong Kong called buyers frenzied. Sales on some markets were double the record sales of Wednesday as speculators bought frantically in belief the United States would be forced to increase the price from the $35 an ounce at which it is kept. This would devalue the dollar.

Four out of five dealers in the Zurich gold market closed shortly after noon when they physically could not keep up with the inundation of orders. Some of the five London bullion firms were forced to do the same a few hours later.

How many tons of gold changed hands today on the London market was impossible to tell since it is a tightly kept secret. Best estimates were that it may have topped a record 200 tons—well above the estimated 100 to 150 tons that were exchanged in the gold rush in December, one of three that has followed devaluation of the British pound sterling from $2.80 to $2.40.

The backwash of the gold rush sent the pound dipping today to a new low against the dollar—$2.3900.

The speculators ranged from governments to banks as well as the oil rich Middle East sheikhs and the French peasants who count their wealth in the gold they stuff up chimneys or into mattresses. They scented big profits in the gold rush.

Gold sale figures are never announced here. But experts estimated from 50 to 100 tons were bought in the first hour of trading, compared with 150 to 200 tons in all of Wednesday's frenzied buying.

Gold opened at $35.19 an ounce, one-eighth of a cent above Wednesday's close.

In the big December rush on gold, experts estimated that 100 to 150 tons were sold.

Report upon report Wednesday added fuel to the already frantic demands of speculators rushing to buy as much gold as they could. Experts said the main factor in the gold rush—the third since Britain devalued the pound four months ago—was growing skepticism of the ability of the United States to keep the price of gold at $35 an ounce.

The speculators clearly doubted that Washington could keep that commitment.

"Faith in the dollar has definitely gone," a Zurich financier, who asked not to be identified, said Wednesday. "The gravediggers are on the stage now."

Large buying orders from abroad flooded the Swiss exchanges and brokers in the five big Swiss trading banks refused to answer the telephone during the afternoon wave of ordering.

The world's largest gold market in London, sold 150 to 200 tons of gold. Dealers said this was probably the largest turnover this year.

Prof Will Give 'No-Fault' Plan In Car Insurance

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A University of Illinois law professor outlines to Senate investigators today a proposal for a new "no-fault" concept in auto insurance.

Prof. Jeffrey O'Connell and his partner, Harvard Prof. Robert E. Keeton, devised the plan to meet criticism of the current liability system used in the multibillion-dollar industry.

O'Connell was to present the scheme to a Senate commerce subcommittee holding hearings on a bill to authorize the Transportation Department to conduct a two-year study of the industry, which has become the target of a rising tide of criticism ranging from arbitrary cancellations to high premiums.

Under the Keeton-O'Connell plan the present "blame principle" would be scrapped and a "no-fault" system adopted similar to that in use for accident and health insurance.

The plan would work this way. An insurance company would pay a client his losses up to $10,000 regardless of who was to blame for accident; if a victim claimed losses in excess of $10,000 he could still take his case to court.

The idea behind the plan is to cut into the mountain of auto accident damage suits clogging the nation's courts and to insure that an accident victim gets some immediate compensation.

Space Agency To Dilute Oxygen With Nitrogen In Apollo Capsule

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The space agency said today it will dilute oxygen with nitrogen in the pre-launch cabin atmosphere for the first Apollo manned flight in order to reduce the chance of fire.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA), confirming previous unofficial reports, said the launch pad atmosphere will consist of 60 per cent oxygen and 40 per cent inert nitrogen.

Fire that broke out in an Apollo spacecraft filled with pure oxygen at 16 pounds per square inch killed three astronauts in a launch pad exercise on Jan. 27, 1967. The fire, which necessitated many and costly design changes, delayed the start of Apollo manned flight missions by more than a year and a half.

NASA said the change from pure oxygen will apply only to the cabin atmosphere during ground operations before launch. It requires no change in the existing spacecraft control system which supplies pure oxygen, under reduced pressure, in flight.

The first three-man Apollo flight, originally set for February, 1967, is now scheduled for some time next fall. The astronauts will be Walter Schirra, Don Eisele, and Walt Cunningham.

Apollo pilots will continue to breathe pure oxygen in their space suits before and during launch. The space suit pressure will be slightly higher than that in the cabin to prevent contamination by the oxygen-nitrogen mix.

This is important because, under the reduced cabin pressures used in the vacuum of space, astronauts might suffer from the decompression malady known as bends suffered by sea divers who absorb nitrogen into their bodies.

After the Apollo cabin goes into orbit, the spacecraft environmental control system will gradually replace the 60-40 atmospheric mix with pure oxygen. This will take four to six days to complete.

Carr Claims He And Yarborough In Lead

By United Press International
Gov. Preston Smith predicted he would be the next governor of Texas Wednesday.

Waggoner Carr said, polls showed he and Don Yarborough had 50 per cent of the gubernatorial vote between them.

Eugene Locke moved into the national political arena Wednesday, calling for a special meeting of the State Democratic Executive Committee to reaffirm its dedication to President Johnson in view of a possible challenge by Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

In Henderson, Smith wound up an East Texas campaign tour saying, "I will now make a flat prediction that I, Preston Smith, will be the next governor of Texas."

Carr, speaking in Austin, said polls showed he was leading the race for governor while one of the biggest spending candidates, whom he did not identify, have less than 3 per cent of the vote each.

Smith predicted he would win because, "Texans will recognize the need for experienced, qualified leadership."

In a letter to Texas Democratic chairman Will Davis, Eugene Locke said, "I formally request that the State Democratic Executive Committee convene immediately for the express purpose of voicing their confidence in our president in this time of partisan attack."

"I ask every Democrat in Texas to join me in reaffirming our dedication to the principles and efforts of a great leader, a great Texan, a great American—Lyndon B. Johnson," Locke said.

Davis said, "I don't think it makes a hill of beans whether Kennedy runs or not as far as Texas is concerned."

In McKinney, Don Yarborough said if elected governor he would establish regional offices in Texas to bring his administration "closer to the people."

"I am not going to forget the people out there and I will not forget they are entitled to every consideration and service from their governor," he said.

Edward Whittenburg said in Austin none of the other candidates had answered his challenge.

Man Injured In Car-Train Crash

Benjamin F. Cates, 73, of 738 Reid St., was listed in good condition at Highland General Hospital today after his car collided with a slow-moving Santa Fe switch engine shortly before 2:30 p.m. yesterday at the Stark-weather St. crossing.

Cates suffered from shock and minor cuts and abrasions. Impact of the collision carried Cates' 1963 model auto 81 feet. Cates was in the auto all the time.

A witness reportedly said signals at the crossing were not working at the time of the collision.

Kennedy Considers Running

Political Pot Boiling

By United Press International
Sen. Robert F. Kennedy began a serious assessment of his presidential prospects today amid indications Democratic party regulars will not stampede to his cause.

The New York Democrat's announcement Wednesday that he was "reassessing the possibility" of running against President Johnson caught party notables by surprise, and in guarded comments they indicated they would wait until things fell before making commitments.

Kennedy aides said his decision might come by early next week, and it appeared unlikely many fellow Democratic politicians would be able to sort out by then the complexities of a three-day contest involving an incumbent President and the already well-established campaign of peace candidate Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn.

The concern most often voiced by leading Democrats was the possibility a Kennedy candidacy might split the party and assure a Republican victory in November.

McCarthy said "It doesn't make any difference to me" what Kennedy does, and that he could not "conceive of any circumstances where I would drop out in favor of Senator Kennedy before the convention."

It was understood Johnson was sticking by a determination to avoid campaigning in the presidential primaries despite Kennedy's prospective candidacy and McCarthy's strong showing in the New Hampshire primary Tuesday.

On the Republican side, New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller said a Kennedy candidacy "would probably split the Democratic party wide open" but he was not surprised at the possibility.

Like Kennedy, Rockefeller has promised to announce his plans for the presidential race by March 22, the deadline for entering or withdrawing from the Oregon primary.

Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon meantime headed for Wisconsin, where he is on the April 2 GOP primary ballot with Gov. Ronald Reagan of California and former Gov. Harold Stassen of Minnesota.

Raids Called Answer To Cong Offensive

By JACK WALSH

SAIGON (UPI)—American jets struck North Vietnam Wednesday the heaviest blow in more than a month, bombing 10 major targets in the Hanoi-Haiphong area alone, U.S. spokesmen said today.

At the same time they said 500 American servicemen were killed in action last week, making the past month the costliest of the war for the United States in terms of lives lost. The figures showed the number of U.S. combat deaths in Vietnam has passed 20,000.

The spokesman said American pilots flew 94 missions against North Vietnam Wednesday with one raid striking inside the city limits of the port of Haiphong.

An informed military source told UPI the raids were an allied reply to the Viet Cong invasion of South Vietnamese cities last month and to Hanoi's failure to recognize as a peace feeler the U.S. bombing pause around Hanoi and Haiphong in late December and early January.

In South Vietnam, Communist forces ambushed two U.S. Army truck convoys. Today, nine miles northeast of Saigon, guerrillas killed one GI and wounded three in an attack on 11 military and 19 civilian vehicles which suffered "light" damage, spokesmen said.

But in the Central Highlands late Wednesday, a North Vietnamese ambush on Highway 41 between the allied bastions of Pleiku and Kontum caught 30 trucks at the end of a 140-vehicle American supply convoy.

Communist rocket and machine gun fire killed 12 Americans and wounded eight as well as damaging 30 trucks, spokesmen said. Government troops and U.S. aircraft struck at the ambushers, killing at least 48 North Vietnamese who had hit the 4th Infantry Division convoy.

Early today, U.S. Air Force B-52 Stratofortresses twice bombed the 16,000 North Vietnamese reported by American intelligence to be ringing Khe Sanh, the Marine fort that is the western anchor of the allied anti-invasion line near the North-South Vietnam border.

Valley of Death
Hanoi, in a rare propaganda mention of the embattled fort, broadcast a threat that the 6,000 Marines of Khe Sanh are doomed.

Hanoi Radio, broadcasting the threat, said, "Khe Sanh—Valley of Death for U.S. puppets...The days of Khe Sanh are numbered..."

There was no sign, however, that the expected big push by the two North Vietnamese divisions at Khe Sanh had begun.

Last week's toll of 500 Americans killed was the third week U.S. forces have suffered at least 500 men killed since the Communists opened their Tet offensive Jan. 30, an unprecedented three-week toll.

Serious Crime In US Is Up Again

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Serious crime in the United States increased 16 per cent in 1967 over 1966 with the sharpest climb in large cities, the FBI said today in a preliminary report.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said arrests of adults, which had declined slightly in 1966, were up 3 per cent and there was a rising volume of arrests for disorderly conduct.

Pitts, who will be 19 on Sunday, reportedly nonchalantly walked into his parents' home in Borger shortly before 10 p.m. last night.

He was reported to have been in good physical condition by Hutchinson County sheriff's officials.

The youth said he had been to New York, though many doubted the authenticity of that story. Pitts was reported to have had less than $5 on him when he disappeared.

to "disclose all sources and amounts of income for the past three years."

"If the candidates have something to hide, then let them remain silent. If they do not, then let them tell the people that their private and public affairs are beyond possible criticism," Whittenburg said.

In other political action, State Sen. Grady Hazlewood of Canyon accused Lt. Gov. Preston Smith of making "deliberate misstatements of fact" about Smith's actions in the legislature this year.

Hazlewood referred to statements attributed to Smith, published in newspaper interviews in Amarillo and Canyon, concerning the creation of a separate board of regents for West Texas State University and a new medical school in Houston.

Smith said he was not responsible for the failure of either of those measures, but Hazlewood said Smith opposed both bills.

Hazlewood said the West Texas State bill was passed only because Sen. A. M. Aikin occupied the chair one day and recognized him. He said the bill was quickly passed when it was introduced.

There were two or three bills creating medical schools last session, all of which were blocked by the lieutenant governor because the legislature would not create one at Texas Tech at the same time, Hazlewood said.

State Rep. Don Gladden, a candidate for lieutenant governor, said in Odessa the single biggest issue in the campaign is whether Texas will have an independent Senate or one controlled by lobbyists.

Gladden said that during Barnes' two terms as speaker of the House, a lobby had gotten entrenched in the Legislature. Barnes is also running for lieutenant governor.

Total U.S. casualties—killed, wounded and missing—during the war was set at 140,958, the spokesman said. The total missing or captured was 1,087. Figures released earlier this week set South Vietnamese government casualties for the same period at 418 killed and 1,199 wounded.

Communist losses were put at 4,335 dead, raising the total reported Viet Cong and North Vietnamese deaths for the war to 310,557.

The summary also said 163 Vietnamese civilians were killed during the week, 378 were wounded and 157 were abducted.

'Economics' Is Subject For Lawyers

E. L. "Max" Hamilton, assistant executive director of the State Bar of Texas in Austin, will speak to the Gray County Bar Association at 11 a.m. Saturday in the Starlight Room of Coronado Inn.

Hamilton will discuss results, implications and conclusions drawn from the 1967 Economic Survey conducted by the State Bar. He is expected to offer suggestions as to how Texas lawyers can elevate themselves to a sounder economic position.

Lawyers from across the northeastern Panhandle area have been invited to attend the meeting, which will be followed by a luncheon at 12 noon. Harold L. Comer, vice president of the Gray County Bar Association, will preside and introduce Hamilton.

and 10:30 p.m. that Friday night. They said they failed to become concerned when Pitts failed to show up at a local drive-in restaurant to get a ride back to Borger. They said they assumed he had gotten a ride with some other youths.

Pitts was last seen at the farm of Curt Morris, who lives nine miles south of Pampa on Texas Highway 70.

He reportedly went to the house around 8 a.m. Saturday morning, March 2, and asked to use the telephone, saying his car had broken down. He left and was last seen hitch-hiking by Morris and his wife.

Truitt Wren of Pampa, an employee of Pioneer Natural Gas Co., later identified a hitch-hiker he had picked up as being Pitts.

Wren said he gave the youth a ride for a short distance and last saw him near the intersection of Texas 70 and Farm-to-Market Road 749.

The youth was not seen since that time. Sheriff's officials from Gray and Hutchinson counties feared the youth might have been caught in the open and perished from exposure to weather in the area where he was last seen.

A wide-spread manhunt in the area failed to turn up any evidence that Pitts had ever been there.

Pitts reportedly told a Hutchinson County sheriff's official last night that he had hitch-hiked until he got to U.S. 66 and from there had made his way to New York.

Tapes Stolen From Autos

Two Pampans reported the theft of stereo tapes from their autos last night.

According to Pampa police reports, both thefts were reported shortly before 9 p.m.

Ronnie Choat of 501 Sloan St. reported the theft of four stereo tapes valued at $25 from his car while it was parked at 111 E. Harvester St., and Mrs. W. B. Johnson of 1421 Williston St. reported that nine tapes valued at $63 were taken from her son's car while it was parked near church on Christine St.

Washington Report

Bob Price

BOB PRICE

By BOB PRICE
The unfulfilled promises of the Great Society should now be paid off with more promises according to the recently released report of the President's National Advisory Commission on Civil Disorders.

Eliminating the underlying causes of riots the Commission said, involves changes in private attitudes as well as government programs that "will require unprecedented levels of funding performance."

A letter addressed to each member by one of the most respected and influential members of Congress, Representative George H. Mahan, Lubbock, and Chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, quickly followed the report.

Mahan's letter said: "In an effort to lend some focus to the fiscal implications and dimensions of the recommendations in the report of the President's Commission on Civil Disorders (Riots), released over the past weekend, I inserted in the RECORD of last Thursday, a summary of statistics on Federal aid to the poor, Federal aid to urban areas and certain other pertinent data."

In the RECORD, Mahan noted that he had not voted for or supported all of the programs he listed: In fiscal year 1960, the last full year of President Eisenhower's Administration, the Federal government provided aid to the poor of some $9.5 billion.

In fiscal year 1963, the last full year of President Kennedy's Administration, the Federal government provided some $12.5 billion in aid to the poor.

The Family Lawyer

MODEST WITNESS

Scene: a court of law.
Situation: a man is on trial for making an obscene telephone call to a young woman.

Problem: must the young woman, when she takes the witness stand, repeat — word for word — what she was told on the telephone?

It can be embarrassing indeed. As one judge put it, she might have to say words "that any refined girl would blush to repeat to her most intimate friends."

Yet, the problem of modesty cannot be avoided if justice is to be done. In a case of criminal assault, the woman may be asked to describe what happened. In a case of accidental injury, a woman may be asked to reveal a part of her body not ordinarily exposed to public view.

Generally speaking, the law tries to respect a woman's modesty — not as a matter of gallantry but as a matter of encouraging women to take the witness stand in the first place.

They will "testify with less reluctance," a court noted, "if relieved from the inhibitions imposed by the presence of a curiosity impelled audience."

How can the modest witness be protected? The most common method is to clear the courtroom while she is giving the embarrassing testimony. Another method, in case of bodily injury, is to have a doctor testify to the details — if necessary, with the aid of photographs.

A third possibility, when obscene language is involved, is to let the woman write the words down instead of speaking them out loud.

Unhappily, none of these methods is a perfect solution to the modesty problem. Clearing the courtroom raises questions of whether the accused person is getting the "public trial" guaranteed to him by the Constitution. Testimony by a doctor is useful in only a limited class of cases.

As for writing words down, that reduces the jury's ability to discern whether or not the witness is telling the truth.

Because of these conflicting considerations, the law has usually avoided laying down any hard-and-fast rules. Instead, the trial judge is given broad discretion. After all, he is in the best position to decide, which procedure, under the particular circumstances, makes the most sense.

For the current fiscal year 1968 we have already provided, in aid to the poor, some $24.6 billion, and the President, in his budget for fiscal year 1969, has requested funds for various aid to the poor totaling about $27,700,000,000. These are Federal funds only and do not include billions more in State and local funds.

At about the same time, a Special Committee of the Michigan House of Representatives issued their report on the "Examination of the War on Poverty" in Detroit. That Democratic-controlled Committee said: "One of the most serious frauds one can commit upon the poor is to promise something you do not or cannot deliver." They termed the entire program a fraud.

While government programs can never abolish all poverty, this is not to say that the government should stop realistic efforts to help the poor. Some government programs, in particular those stressing education, can in the long run, help overcome poverty and reduce unrest that has led to riots.

But the doors of opportunity have been closed to no one, and there is no doubt that vast numbers of Negroes raise themselves from poverty every year. The government may be able to assist but those who pull themselves from poverty will do it mostly by their own efforts.

The President's Commission made little mention of the progress that has been made. In fact U.S. Commissioner of Education Harold Howe cautioned that we have "more critics and mourners than we need," and not enough who assert the signs of progress. "Our social problems stem not from total failure but from partial success," he added.

Vice President Humphrey also pointed out the obvious lack of credit or acknowledgement in the report of the remarkable progress that has been made over the past 20 years. But the President's press Secretary said

Research Institute Brews Cancer Cure

DALLAS (UPI)—The Wadley Research Institute and Blood Bank, far from giving up after an embarrassing experience last year with the anti-cancer agent, L-asparaginase, is trying to make L-asparaginase in whole-sie lots with equipment from a brewery.

L-asparaginase is an enzyme, made in a complicated process from bacteria found in the lower intestines. It depletes an amino acid indispensable for tumor cell growth but not required by normal cells and seemingly starves cancer.

Last year, J. K. Wadley of Texarkana, the oil man who endowed the institute and blood bank, announced at his birthday dinner that L-asparaginase, in an experiment at the institute, Humphrey was expressing his conclusions — not those of the Administration. The growing acceptance of assumptions that riots are inevitable until conditions that cause them can be improved can only add to a rising tide of domestic violence — violence that is not inevitable and must be stopped.

had caused a remission of leukemia in Frankie Hayes, 9.

The case gained a lot of publicity, but subsequently leukemia cells turned up again in the boy's bloodstream and he died. Physicians in charge of the institute were censured by a committee in the county medical society and told not to talk to reporters.

Wadley Institute doors do not discuss L-asparaginase with reporters, but Dr. Joseph M. Hill, director of the Institute, and five colleagues, discussed in the Journal of the American Medical Association Frankie's case and two other experiments on human beings with L-asparaginase.

"L-asparaginase therapy, as illustrated in these cases of acute leukemia, has given striking results despite initial problems of purity and limited supply of the enzyme," their article in The Journal said.

Merits Discussed
After discussing the merits of L-asparaginase, the article concludes: "Despite the attractiveness of the concept, and the promise of these initial observations, it will not be possible to give a true evaluation of the therapeutic implications of this treatment until extensive investigations and accumulation of great clinical experience has been accomplished."

Wadley Institute got the L-asparaginase and bought the manufacturer's entire output.

All the L-asparaginase the New Jersey manufacturer made was not much, but the government parceled it out to Sloan-Kettering Institute, which is experimenting with it.

Since Frankie's death last June 25, doctors at the Wadley Institute have been experimenting with animals and trying to learn how to make L-asparaginase in large quantities. The New Jersey manufacturer did not share his production secrets. The Miller Brewing Co. recently gave the Wadley Institute more than $1 million worth of stainless steel tanks, pumps and pipes which it took out of a brewery it bought in Fort Worth.

The Wadley Institute is using some of the equipment from the beer company in its headquarters near Baylor Medical Center and some at the Leland Fikes Research Center in experiments to find out how to make large quantities of L-asparaginase.

Three new spreads on petal bread.

Spreads to Serve on Petal Bread

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food Editor

We received three cans of spread—chicken, deviled ham and liverwurst. Then we decided to try serving them, all at the same time, with petal bread, made from hot roll mix. But we mixed each of the spreads with special ingredients, then served each in a separate container.

PETAL BREAD

- 1 pkg. hot roll mix
- 1 egg
- 1/2 cup melted butter
- (One).
- 1 1/2-oz. can Deviled Ham
- 1/4 cup chili sauce
- 1/4 tsp. oregano

(Two).

1 1/4-oz. can chicken spread

1/4 cup sour cream

1/4 tsp. poultry seasoning

(Three).

1 1/4-oz. can liverwurst spread

1/4 cup sour cream

2 tsp. prepared mustard

Prepare roll mix according to package instructions using 1 egg; allow to rise once. Punch dough down, knead until satiny. Roll into 18x12-inch rectangle.

cut into about 30 diamonds with 3-inch cutter. Dip each piece in melted butter to coat both sides. Place in 3 overlapping layers in large ungreased tube baking pan. Cover, let rise until double in bulk. Bake at 400 degrees about 25 minutes. While bread rises prepare spreads: (One). Deviled ham with chili sauce and oregano. (Two). Chicken spread with sour cream and poultry seasoning. (Three). Liverwurst spread with sour cream and prepared mustard.

St. Paddy's Treat Baked Corned Beef

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food Editor

Young people like foods that can be eaten without sitting down or requiring utensils. That is why party foods should be the kind you pick up, eat and return for more. Such as, for example, these St. Paddy's corned beef tarts for St. Patrick's Day celebration.

ST. PADDY PATS

- 3 cups sifted flour
- 1 1/2 teaspoons salt
- 1/4 cup corn oil
- 4 1/4 tablespoons cold water

Mix flour and salt in mixing bowl. Blend in corn oil with a fork. Sprinkle all water on top; mix well. Press firmly into ball with hands. If dough is slightly dry; mix in one to two tablespoons more corn oil. Wipe tabletop with damp cloth and place on it a piece of aluminum foil 12 inches square. Divide pastry in half and work with half at a time. Place half of dough on foil. Flatten slightly, cover with waxed paper and roll out with rolling pin to cover foil completely. With knife, mark off 25 (2 3/4-inch) squares. Cut through dough and foil with scissors. Turn up sides and pinch corners to form a 1 1/4-inch square shell 1/2-inch deep. Fill shells and place on baking sheet. Bake in 450-degree oven 20 to 25 minutes, or until pastries are lightly browned around edges. Top each pat with a dab of chili sauce while hot, if you like. Makes 25 tarts.

(Filling):

Mix 1 (15 1/2-oz.) can corned beef hash with 1/2-envelope golden onion soup mix. Add 1 to 2 tablespoons water, as necessary, to adjust consistency. Fill shells, mounding slightly.

Food Buying Guide

WASHINGTON (UPI) — U.S. DA's Consumer and Marketing Service reports that weekend shoppers should find excellent displays of meat and poultry and ample stocks of some fresh vegetables and fruit in food stores and supermarkets.

The leaders in the field of abundant meats will be broiler-fryer chickens and turkeys. Good supplies of pork and pork products should also be available and these include bacon, ham, and chops. Beef cuts are again in excellent supply, including roasts and steaks, and ground and corned beef. North Pacific halibut steaks, ocean perch fillets, and canned tuna are fish buys to watch for, according to the U.S. Department of Interior.

Cabbage, celery, lettuce, and potatoes are the most abundantly available vegetables. Fruits in the abundant class are bananas and oranges; in some areas, apples and grapefruit may be abundant also.

LIFE—and death—go on for the South Vietnamese. Frontline Officers In Vietnam Expect War To Climax Soon

Vietnam Assessment:

"It will be either them or us in the next few weeks."
—High ranking Marine officer below the DMZ

By PHIL NEWSOM

UPI Foreign News Analyst
The United States is fighting to come from behind in Vietnam where frontline officers believe the war could come to a climax in a matter of weeks.

At the moment, both the military and diplomatic initiative clearly lies with the North Vietnamese and the Viet Cong. They will decide when and where to fight and when and where to negotiate.

It is a many sided war whose front lines extend from the besieged Marine fortress at Khe Sanh below the Vietnam Demilitarized Zone to the U.S. home front where debate is carried on in the supercharged atmosphere of a presidential election year. Here are some unpleasant truths:

Sense Victory
—The Communists sense victory. The previous low point of the war came in the early spring of 1965. Three years later the situation cannot be said to have deteriorated back to that same low. But last fall's battle of Dak To in the Highlands and the New Year offensive against the cities clearly demonstrated that the initiative now lies with the Communists. They have new, sophisticated weapons and are willing to take enormous losses. This determination has shown no indication of faltering.

—With the military and diplomatic initiative in Communist hands, the United States also has only limited influence over its South Vietnamese Allies who feel the U.S. commitment is so deep it cannot afford to abandon them.

—The pacification program without which there can be no victory in Vietnam is in a shambles and no one will predict when it will get going again. Nor has there been an assessment made of the damage done when South Vietnamese forces abandoned the countryside to fight in the cities. Only a few units have returned to the pacification assignment.

—As a result of the Communists' offensive, Gen. William C. Westmoreland has said he will need more troops, above the 525,000 previously authorized. In public these demands have been fairly modest. Other assessments have placed the number he will need at between 2,000,000 and 3,000,000 men.

Marshal Nguyen Cao Ky have been promising to increase their own 600,000-man army by 60,000. These troops so far have not materialized.

—The president and vice president also have promised to clean up official corruption in South Vietnam's 43 provinces. It has been estimated that up to three-quarters of the province chiefs should be replaced. So

Rats Show Youngsters Right Diet

FORT WORTH (UPI) — Sister Mary Consolata, principal of St. Andrews Catholic (grade) School, is using white rats to show her pupils what happens when they eat a steady diet of soft drinks, potato chips and cookies.

Sister Consolata put two white rats on the diet she saw many of the pupils eating. She put six rats on the diet her pupils seemed not to want — a balanced school lunch.

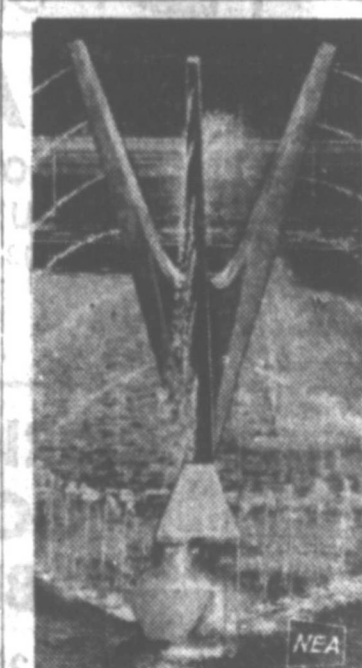

The rats weighed 50 grams each when the experiment started. The six eating the balanced diet now weigh 135 grams each; are playful, calm and sleep well.

The two rats on the snack diet are nervous, highly excitable and sleep little.

Sister Consolata's 503 pupils are getting the message.

far there has been no real action, except for the naming of new commanders for II Corps covering central South Vietnam and IV Corps in the Mekong Delta.

—Former Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara, in a generally gloomy report to Congress cited last fall's Vietnamese elections as about the only "encouraging progress" of recent months.

Training Centers Will Test Artificial Kidney

DALLAS (UPI)—The day is near when a person with a formerly fatal, chronic kidney ailment can take a device home with him that will do his kidney's work and keep him alive indefinitely, the director of a medical training unit said today.

The device is a dialysis machine, or "artificial kidney." Supported by a $200,000 U.S. Public Health Service grant, several of the devices will be installed in the new "kidney dialysis training center" in Woodlawn Hospital.

A similar center has been set up in the University of Texas Medical Branch at Galveston's John Sealy Hospital.

The Dallas center already has its first patient, a 33-year-old married man with chronic renal disease.

Father of Three
He is Charles Preston, a married man with three children. Preston has chronic nephritis and his condition was worsening quickly when he got to Woodlawn. He is hooked up to his kidney machine twice a week, 10 hours at a time. He and his wife are learning to operate the machine themselves.

Eventually, he and the approximately 38 patients who will have learned a good bit of self help from the center in the next four years will be living at home, using a machine instead of kidneys.

"With chronic renal disease, not too many years ago, that was the death knell as far as a person was concerned," Herman Walker, administrative assistant in charge of the center at Woodlawn, said. "Now, with this dialysis machine and the transplants, we can carry people along a very long time."

Here is how the training center works: a patient with a serious kidney disease is chosen by a group of doctors to be one to use the kidney machine. Tubes are introduced into an artery and a vein. Then, when the patient needs it, the machine is hooked up to the tubes.

Machine at Home
The goal is to have patients with the machine at home, able to hook the tubes up to the machine at will, two or three times a week for some 10 hours at a time. It could be done while the patient sleeps.

The whole thing is still an experiment, Walker said. It must be proven feasible and reliable and patients must be proven able to learn the techniques well enough to set up the process for themselves.

The kidney device grew out of one tried some years ago and

HARRIS ILL

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—The fight between unbeaten Gypsy Joe Harris and Manuel Gonzalez, scheduled for March 20, has been postponed indefinitely because of an illness to Harris.

Harris, who has won 24 fights in a row, came down with a severe upper respiratory infection and tonsillitis, according to promoter Herman Taylor.

To do with a patient's health other than the kidney condition. The patients are chosen who would contribute meaningfully to the experiment and who are good risks; that is, who do not have cancer or some other serious illness aside from the kidney disorder.

If the experiment works out and use of the machine is perfected, the day will come when the criteria for choice can be expanded to an unlimited degree. The Woodlawn and Galveston programs are some steps to that goal.

Quivira Council Observes National Week of Scouting

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This week is National Girl Scout Week. In observance of the week and in recognition of Pampa area Girl Scouts, The News is publishing the fourth and final article in its series of characteristics of Girl Scouts. John McCausland, public relations chairman of Quivira Girl Scout Council, announced the week's observance.)

Action and not just words... that's a philosophy this newspaper has long endorsed. And it's the philosophy that has guided Girl Scouts throughout their 55 years.

Today Girl Scouts are underlining this philosophy with action that is important to every American. They are intensifying their efforts to find members and leaders: not just in middle class suburbia, but in hard core poverty areas. Their hope is to build bridges of friendship through Girl Scouting, between the inner and outer cities of this nation.

It's possible the communication gap separating these two areas of American society may be bridged better by young people than by adults. The reason is today's youth try to recognize essential values, and to reject superficial differences that separate people.

The Girl Scout effort deserves commendation for in this 56th year of their existence, they are proving a greater force for good than ever. It is hoped their example is followed by all Americans.

George W. Scott
To Serve Council
Of Girl Scouts

Mrs. Richard Stowers, president of Quivira Girl Scout Council, announced George W. Scott has been appointed a member of the Board of Directors to fill an unexpired term of C. P. Buckler.

Scott is a former school board member, past president of Rotary Club, on the board of trustees for First Methodist Church,

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am 21 and my husband is 23 and we recently bought our own home. We also have a small baby. Adjoining it is a two-room efficiency apartment that we rent out to a 41-year-old bachelor. He is nice and polite and all, but here is my problem:

Last month I found out that this man has a suitcase full of girlie-type movies, a projector, and screen. I am sorry to admit it, but I snooped around in his apartment when I went in to close his windows on a rainy day. Anyway, my husband's company is sending him away for four months to take a course, and I'm afraid this man might try something, knowing my husband will be gone. I know that a man who looks at those movies isn't necessarily a sex fiend, but I'm worried, anyway. My husband says if he hasn't tried anything so far, he probably won't.

This man has never given us any trouble. He's quiet, keeps his place clean, and pays his rent promptly. He has no lease, so I'm wondering if we should get rid of him or not? If you tell me to get rid of him, what excuse shall I use?

DEAR ABBY: Two months ago my husband received a birthday card from his secretary who thinks he is just wonderful. He has been carrying that a board member of the Salvation Army, a director in the Community Hotel, chairman of the Draft Board, and chairman of the Tax Equalization Board for Pampa.

card around in his pocket ever since he got it. He changes it from one suit-coat pocket to the next whenever he changes his suit.

Now why would a man want to carry around an ordinary birthday card everywhere he goes? Why can't he throw it away like the others he received? This one he didn't show me. Why?

DEAR PUZZLED: If he did not show it to you, perhaps it isn't "ordinary." Why don't you clear up the big mystery and ask him?

DEAR ABBY: I am a widow with two daughters. One is married and lives 700 miles away, and the other (I'll call her "Mary") is 16, and lives with me. Mary and I have always had an ideal relationship. She's sweet, pretty, a good student, and she's never given me a moment's worry.

About six months ago, an elderly cousin of mine told Mary that I had an illegitimate child when I was 17, and now Mary can't forgive my sin. She says our relationship has been a "lie" inasmuch as she thought I was as "good" as I always wanted her to be. When I try to tell her that I made a mistake for which I have deeply paid, she walks into her room and closes the door.

Mary attends church regularly, is a candy-striper at the local hospital, and she goes with nice people. She's everything a mother would want her daughter to be. But now she wants to go live with her married sister and finish school there. She wants nothing from me except to be left alone. How can I get thru to her, Abby? I am dying of a broken heart.

A MOTHER
DEAR MOTHER: In time, of course, your immature daughter will grow up and realize that her cruel and unforgiving attitude is also a "sin." Perhaps (if you wish to confide in him) your pastor can get thru to Mary. Or, I will be glad to write to her directly, if you send me her name and address. Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, Box 69709, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069 - and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Honor Co-Eds May Supply Thrones

By PATRICIA MCCORMACK
NEW YORK (UPI) — Hey there, bachelors.

If an honor-grade college coed rings your third finger, left hand this Leap Year, climb on a pink cloud.

Never mind if she rings it with a dough-nut instead of gold. Her intentions are what matter.

A survey of a teeny-tiny cross-section of such coeds, participants in the last National College Queen Pageant, shows that most expect husbands to be treated like a king. Consider:

—More than half never expect hubby to fix his own breakfast, toss salads or fix breakfast for the family on weekends.

—Some said they'll expect husband to help with dishes occasionally, but more said they never intend to expose those masculine hands to dishwater.

Other Chores

—Clearing the table is another chore the beauties with brains won't ask husband to do very often.

—And only two said they'd expect their romeo to help with food shopping all the time.

Foodfront chores contestants would assign to their husbands are strictly masculine ones and include—taking charge of the charcoal fire at cookouts.

Models were local pre-school age, grade school children, teens and women of all ages.

show was done by Mrs. Ernest Weller, Mrs. Amos Britten and Mrs. George Britten. The clubs' 21 members participated in preparing for the style show.

Pampans and other area residents attended.

carving meat, mixing drinks and taking the wife out to dinner on her birthday.

The opinion poll, conducted by Best Foods, a sponsor of the pageant, also showed that today's collegians have practical ideas about wedding presents.

They prefer: Electric carving knife to silver carving set, electric fry pan to tiffany ash tray; electric can opener to a cut-glass decanter; a large wooden salad bowl to a silver tray; a set of barbecue tools to a footed cake plate; money for a good carpet to a check earmarked for the honeymoon.

Plan Diets

Participants said they are in the habit of dieting to lose weight, an indication that as brides they probably won't join the fat of the land.

Of 41 who diet, only 14 use plans given them by a doctor. Most use their own version—ranging from high protein, low carbohydrate ones to "no lunch, no eat."

When dieting they find the hardest foods to give up include desserts, sweets, breads, potatoes, ice cream, chocolate, pie, milk, cookies, soft drinks. Females in this age group have a large sweet tooth. A perusal of items the coeds would like in a package from home included—cookies, crackers, brownies, cheese cake, sour lemon gum, animal crackers.

For really special eating-out occasions, dates of such coeds might try tickling palates with frog legs, globe artichokes, vichyssoise or parsnips.

Most said they never tasted these things.

If you really want to make a hit, bachelors, promise her anything but—give her peanut butter.

The beauties prefer that for between meal eating at college.

Astrological Forecast

By CARROLL RIGHTER

(FOR FRIDAY, MARCH 15)
GENERAL TENDENCIES: You have many ideas what you can do to please others but it is necessary that you first really understand what they want from you, otherwise you are too apt to do for them what you think is best and which they do not want at all and then feel you are imposing your views. So be watchful to really delight others.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19)—Allies in every sphere of your endeavor think you are being too aggressive at their expense, so make sure you change this image. Get into that civic duty with true cleverness. Be more respected.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20)—Make sure you get your house, office in good order, for which you have had little time in the past. A fellow worker may have some rather strange ideas. Don't bother to correct them right now. Await a better time.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21)—Out with congenials to the outside activities that appeal to you all. Be especially generous with romantic ties. Take care you do not take any unnecessary risks in anything of any nature; play it safe.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21)—Getting busy straightening out situations at home can bring the harmony now that you want there. Don't procrastinate any longer. Kin will give you the cooperation you need to gain your finest objectives consequently.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21)—A good day to streamline your daily routine work since others will cooperate with you very willingly. A close tie is having troubles. Listen carefully to them and do whatever you can to assist.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22)—You may be feeling the pinch financially, so start economizing immediately and increasing your income via some added outlet. Regular business expert does not give the right advice. Be more independent.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23)—Concentrating upon what you truly desire in the future is wise, since others could be doing the thinking for you. If out to social affairs be charming with others and avoid trouble. Save some time for reading.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 21)—Spend some time looking into conditions that have had you puzzled for some time. Then prepare yourself for finer arrangements in the days ahead. Try to make yourself as attractive as you can. Make a good impression on others.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21)—Consult with good friends regarding some project that has been pretty difficult for quite awhile. They give right suggestions, support. Forget entertainment until a more propitious time. Be better prepared.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)—Show higher-up that you will certainly observe every rule that applies to you. Find some better system for handling career matters. Get out of that dull routine that has you literally stymied.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)—You have to study further into those ideas you have before you put them in execution and don't dash off to any tangents. See what that new contact has to suggest. This could lead to something very lucrative.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20)—Get your duties handled wisely instead of going out here and there without much planning. Closest tie is too demanding but it would be well to please at this time. You will be glad that you did it later on.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY...
he, or she, will be one of those delightful young people who will please everyone around, but this God-given charm may lead to instability because life is made too easy for him, or her. Teach to study early so that when one interest is all-encompassing, it will be carried out very meticulously and this leads to success.

First things first is a good rule of thumb to use in painting. Begin with the ceiling of the room. Next, walls should be painted beginning at an upper left hand corner and working down to the floor. If you're left-handed, just reverse the order. Woodwork and trim should be painted last.

ABWA Hears Speaker, Plans 'Hand of Friendship' Tea

The American Business Women's Association heard Larry Milner speak on Industrial Development at the monthly dinner meeting this week in Furr's Cafeteria.

Milner is a graduate of the University of Texas where he majored in government. He joined Southwestern Public Service Co. of Amarillo in October, 1966, as manager of Industrial Development. Recently he was appointed as a member of the Small Town Progress Committee of West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

He told the group new industries need desirable areas with sound economical basis in which to locate. Milner explained a town or city may make a larger income in three ways: natural resource dollars, manufacturing dollars and transit income dollars from tourist trade.

He mentioned small towns are the roots of America, and many are in danger of losing their population. Community members should help stimulate growth of their town by attracting new industry, he said.

Milner ended his talk by distributing copies of the Community Builders' Creed.

Mrs. Katherine Webb, formerly of Quinton, Okla., gave the vocational talk. As dietitian at Worley Hospital the past 11 years, she hires personnel, complete diet charts, and purchases kitchen supplies.

Members discussed the Hand of Friendship Tea which is planned from 2 to 4 p.m. Sunday in the Hospitality Room of Citizen's Bank and Trust Co. Guests and prospective members will see a program on benefits of ABWA.

Mrs. Alpha Bradley will present and narrate a style show for tea guests.

Recommendations have been submitted to a committee for the Woman of the Year. The woman who receives this ABWA honor will be announced in the April meeting.

Mrs. Ed Wylie's group won the attendance contest for March. Mrs. Blanche Lyons' name was drawn from the Rocket Fund.

Run and Gun Is Name of Game For Blue Devils

NEW YORK (UPI) — Coach Vic Bubas of Duke, victim of a slowdown which almost canceled the Blue Devils' post-season plans, figures he'll play some run-and-shoot with Oklahoma City tonight in a first-round game of the National Invitation Basketball Tournament at Madison Square Garden.

Duke, ranked No. 1 in the final United Press International ratings, and the favorite in the 31st annual classic, takes the court following the 7 p.m. opener between St. Peter's and Marshall.

The Blue Devils were bounced out of the Atlantic Coast Conference tourney last Friday night when North Carolina State, eventual loser to North Carolina for the title and NCAA tourney bid, played a stalling game and pulled off a 12-10 upset. The NIT committee, however, went for Duke, which finished with a 21-3 record.

Bubas, who received some criticism for refusing to press the stalling State team, says he would do the same thing all over again.

"This isn't a great pressing team," he said. "We're big and we got where we are by tough rebounding and working for the good shot. Anyway, we were ahead with a minute and a half to go and I was sure we'd win it."

Bubas should have no such problems tonight against Oklahoma City, a running, shooting team which ranked fourth in the nation in offense with a 92.7 average. Rich Travis, a 6-foot-1 guard who averaged 30 points a game, sparks the OCU attack.

Duke has much the same team which flopped in last year's NIT when it was eliminated in its first game against Southern Illinois, which went on to capture the NIT championship.

Mike Lewis and Steve Vandenberg, both 6-7, lead the Blue Devils. Lewis paced them in scoring with a 23.4 average. Joe Kennedy, 6-6, rounds out the Blue Devils' front line, while Dave Golden and Ron Wendelin make up the backcourt.

'Big Three' Join Forces

ORLANDO, Fla. (UPI)—The famed "Big three" of professional golf—Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus and Gary Player—rejoined forces today.

The explosive trio headlined the field for the $115,000 Florida Citrus Open which began in abnormally cold weather. It was the first time all three have been in the same tournament since late last summer when Player left the tour to return to his South Africa home.

Palmer, looking tan and fit after a week in Puerto Rico and shooting a 66 Wednesday to win the Pro-Am, was an early starter—going out at 8:32 a.m. EST. Player was scheduled out only 32 minutes later but Nicklaus wasn't to swing into action until 1:12 p.m.

Player, in his first competitive round in the U.S. since last August, had a 69 Wednesday's Pro-Am while Nicklaus, who hasn't played up to his usual standards so far this year, had a 72.

The star-studded field contained 142 pros and two amateurs for the four-day run over the tricky, 6,824-yard Rio Pinar golf course. First place is worth $23,000; second, $13,800. The field will be cut to the low 70 scorers (and ties) for the closing two televised rounds Saturday and Sunday.

The field is one of the best so far this year. Only notables absent are former U.S. Open champion Billie Casper who shuns Florida tournaments because of an allergy and Al Geiberger, the No. 3 man on this year's official money list.

But they'll hardly be missed. Among the present are defending champion Julius Boros; Doral champion Gardner Dickinson; masters champion Gay Brewer; colorful Doug Sanders who always does well in Florida where he went to college; PGA champion Don January; George Knudson, the off-beat Canadian who is the only two-time winner so far this year (Phoenix and Tucson); and San Diego winner Tom Weiskopf, the youngster who lost last week's Doral Open by over-clubbing on the final hole.

PRO FOOTBALL MEETING
NEW YORK (UPI)—The National and American Football Leagues will hold a spring meeting in Atlanta beginning Monday, May 13.

Pro football Commissioner Pete Rozelle said the joint meeting probably will extend three or four days.

Houston Goes Against No. 8

By United Press International
Every member of the nation's top 10 will be in action in the regionals this weekend, led by No. 1 Houston and defending NCAA champion UCLA, which is ranked second.

Houston carries the only other unbeaten record with a 29-0 mark as it takes on eighth-ranked Louisville (20-6) in the Midwest regionals at Wichita, Kan. The other contest pairs 14th-ranked Kansas State (19-7) and Texas Christian (14-10).

UCLA, with only a loss to Houston to blemish a 25-1 mark, opposes 12th-ranked New Mexico State (22-5) and seventh-ranked New Mexico (23-3) plays 17th-ranked Santa Clara (21-3) in the West regionals at Albuquerque, N.M.

The final pairings send fifth-ranked Kentucky (21-4) against 10th-ranked Marquette (22-5) and East Tennessee (18-6) against Ohio State (18-7) in the Midwest regionals at Lexington, Ky.

The first-round winners at each site will clash for the regional title on Saturday night with the four survivors going on to Los Angeles to decide the national title March 22-23.

Houston and UCLA, the two heavy favorites for the championship, will meet in the national semi-finals March 22 if both get past this weekend.

The best match of this weekend very well could be between the Bonnies and North Carolina, who had a combined record of 48-3 and finished third and fourth in the national rankings.

Dean Smith, the North Carolina coach, said rebounding probably would prove the key. "We've depended a lot on the second shot this year," he said, adding that strength under the boards made this year's Tar Heel team "the best defensive team I've seen since I've been here."

Key man in this department for the Atlantic Coast Conference champions is 6-11 Rusty Clark, but he'll come across a rugged foe in sophomore Bob Lanier, also 6-11.

UCLA's path to the final four was made considerably easier when New Mexico possibly lost two of its best men for the playoffs. Ron Sanford, the second leading scorer and rebounder, will be unable to start because of a recurring knee injury and 6-6 center Greg Howard is ineligible under NCAA rules.

The Bruins, led by Lew Alcindor, shouldn't have much trouble Friday night against New Mexico State and New Mexico should beat Santa Clara.

Trinity Upsets Evansville In NCAA Tourney

EVANSVILLE, Ind. (UPI)—Unranked Trinity of Texas hit 12 of its first 21 shots and led the rest of the way to upset host Evansville, 93-77, in the final first round game of the NCAA college basketball tourney Wednesday night.

Afternoon games saw ninth ranked Indiana State explode in the second half for a 94-75 romp over 10th ranked Nevada Southern, and Ashland of Ohio dump Cheney State 45-30. In the night's first contest, top seeded Kentucky Wesleyan tripped American International 90-78.

In Thursday's action, Kentucky Wesleyan clashes with Ashland and Indiana State takes on Trinity.

ONE OF THE "Big Three," Jack Nicklaus, U.S. Open winner appears upset after missing a putt recently.

Chisox Deal With Mets May Pay Off

By United Press International
The Chicago White Sox think they may be the strongest team in baseball this year because of the deal they made with the weakest team in the majors.

The deal, made last Dec. 15, sent outfielder Tommie Agee and infielder Al Weis to the New York Mets in exchange for pitchers Jack Fisher and Billy Wynne, catcher, Buddy Booker and outfielder Tommy Davis. Fisher had a 9-18 record and Davis batted .302 for the Sox, whose 61-101 record was the worst in the majors last season.

"I think we would have won the American League pennant if we had Fisher last season," says manager Eddie Stanky, who hoped the ex-Met will be the White Sox' No. 4 starting pitcher this year. "And we know Davis is a confirmed .300-batter."

Fisher, who annoyed the Sox because he pitched at between 210 and 220 pounds during the last four seasons, has slimmed down to about 200 pounds and is one of the many impressive pitchers in the White Sox' camp. And Davis, who played the outfield for the Sox as if he were blind folded, has been doing well defensively in the outfield and at third base for his new team.

Sox Down Bucs
Fisher and Davis starred Wednesday when the White Sox defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates 4-0 for their fourth victory in six exhibition games. Fisher allowed only three hits during the first four innings with Gary Peters, Hoyt Wilhelm and Wilbur Wood completing the shutout while Davis led the White Sox' 13 hit attack with two singles and a double.

Jim Bunning, the nominal leader of the Pirates' staff, gave up two runs and seven hits in the middle three innings and was tagged with the loss.

Sal Eando, who batted .192 in 47 games last season but is regarded as the Oakland Athletics' third baseman of the future, hit two homers for the second straight game in a 4-1 triumph over the New York Yankees. Bando homered with two on in the first inning off Al Downing and connected again in the eighth off Steve Hamilton.

Bob Gibson, Steve Carlton and Nelson Briles, who collaborated in a shutout against the Mets in their first outings of the spring, combined for a seven-hitter in the world champion St. Louis Cardinals' 6-2 win over the Detroit Tigers. Dal Maxvill and Julian Javier made their spring debuts with Maxvill contributing a two-run double

West Texas Coach Makes Some Changes

By United Press International
CANYON — (Sp1) — In a move designed to bolster the defensive unit, West Texas State head football coach Joe Kerbel says he is switching flanker Raymond Brown, split - end Frank Bettencourt Jr., fullback Troy Dunlap and center Mark Sindel to the defense. None were currently running on the first offensive unit, although each was regarded as having first string potential.

"We feel that these changes will give us better all-around team balance," says Kerbel. "Our goal is to put the best 22 players on the starting offensive and defensive units and we believe this is a first step in that direction."

From this group, only Brown is a returning letterman. The Dallas sophomore was shifted to defensive safety where his size (6-3, 195) and speed (9.9) should help solidify a position stripped by the graduation of 1967 starters Rick Barrett and Steve Haterius. Brown shared the starting flanker position as a Freshman with Charles Henderson last season and was running behind him after the first four spring practices.

Sindel, an All-America junior college performer at Harnell (Calif.), was moved to defensive tackle, another spot depleted by graduation. The rugged 225 pounder was playing behind Joe Kerbel Jr., a highly improved letterman, at center. The Buffs also have another solid center candidate in freshman Jerry Cryer from Austin.

The other personnel switches saw Eettencourt, a junior squad-mate, move from split-end to cornerback and Dunlap shift from fullback to linebacker. Bettencourt was running behind junior college transfer Jim Barrows, a standout in Saturday's scrimmage, and veteran Dick Flynn at split-end. Dunlap, a freshman from Wichita Falls, Rider was one of four fullback standouts in Saturday's scrimmage. He was running behind veterans Albie (00) Owens, and Duane (The Train) Thomas and promising sophomore candidate Willie Walker.

"After only four days of practice, this movement of personnel does not mean that we are totally dissatisfied with performances of our athletes at these positions," explains Kerbel. "It does mean, however, that we feel the need of additional personnel in training for these positions to give us a broader selection from which to find our first stringers."

and Javier a single and a double to the Cardinals' 11-hit attack.

Savage OK
Adolfo Phillips' third single of the game drove in Ted Savage in the 10th inning and gave the Chicago Cubs a 5-4 decision over the California Angels.

Savage, who was playing in his first game of the spring after suffering a badly lacerated hand in a freak accident 10 days ago, led the Cubs' attack with four singles and stole two bases.

The Cincinnati Reds scored their fifth victory in six exhibition games when they beat the Boston Red Sox 5-3 on Tommy Helms' two-run 10th-inning single. It was the fifth loss in six games for the American League champions.

Woody Fryman, hoping to bounce back from a 3-0 season with the Pirates in 1967, allowed two hits and struck out five in a four-inning stint as the Philadelphia Phillies defeated the Houston Astros 8-0. Catcher Bob Schellenberg, who batted .211 with three homers for Huron in the Northern League last season, hit a grand slam homer for the Phillies. He also homered in his previous time at bat last Sunday.

Wes Parker's three hits led the Los Angeles Dodgers to a 3-2 victory over the Mets behind the six-hit pitching of Claude Osteen, John Duffie and John Bingham. Parker, who has given up his brief experiment of batting right-handed against all pitching, had two singles left-handed and a double right-handed.

Case of Missing Money May Go To Grand Jury

DALLAS (UPI) — The Dallas County grand jury may take up this week criminal complaints about the disappearance of $72,000 in collections for the U. S. Olympic Fund, Dist. Atty. Henry Wade said Wednesday.

Wade's mention of criminal complaints was the first indication that he will seek criminal indictments. The Texas attorney general's office also has inquired about the funds.

A tip to Wade's office that $72,000 in Southwest Olympic collections did not reach the U. S. Olympic Committee in New York set off the investigation. Wade's investigators seized records of Southwest collections.

The signing of the All-District performer was announced this week by Major Marshall Brown, head football coach and athletic director at the Institute.

E Wants Big Dollar Signs

HOUSTON (UPI) — Elvin Hayes, basketball's Player of the Year, said Wednesday $250,000 would be a nice place to open the bidding for his future services.

But Hayes' says if Lew Alcindor, UCLA's All-America, is worth a million, he is too.

"I keep reading $250,000," said the 6-9 forward of the University of Houston Cougars. "If they want to start at that, my asking figure would be much more."

"They were saying Lew is worth a million and this year I'm Player of the Year over him. That puts me in the same bracket, I hope."

Hayes, who was secretly drafted Monday by the Houston Mavericks of the American Basketball Association, indicated money would determine where he puts the ball up.

The Mavs were given first shot at Hayes through partial territorial rights arrangement. Slater Martin, manager of the Mavs, said Monday he made his choice by phone.

Traffic Jam Hits Diamond

By STEVE SNIDER
UPI Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UPI)—There's another traffic jam on baseball's comeback trail.

The list of candidates includes Willie Mays, Juan Marichal, Mickey Mantle, Richie Allen, Bill White, Don Drysdale, John "Boog" Powell, Felipe Alou, Stu Miller and Sammy Ellis, whose return to form could make a big difference in the 1968 pennant races.

It won't take much to tip over the expected Donnybrook in the American League and the National is loaded with hopeful comebackers who could complicate the title defense by the world champion St. Louis Cardinals.

Marichal, Mays and Gaylord Perry all had off years for the San Francisco Giants, a poor second best to the Cardinals in last year's runaway.

Marichal, working on a $100,000 contract, sore-shouldered his way to a 14-10 record after four straight years of amassing 21 or more victories. The high-kicking right hander won his last game against Pittsburgh on Aug. 1 and lost his 10th to Atlanta on Aug. 25. That was it for the year.

Mays had his troubles with illness and injury, producing a sub-standard year with a .263 batting average, 22 home runs and 70 runs batted in. That was a drop of 25 percentage points, 15 homers and 70 rbi's.

Wade's mention of criminal complaints was the first indication that he will seek criminal indictments. The Texas attorney general's office also has inquired about the funds.

Perry, a 21-4 pitcher in 1966, skidded to 15-17.

Allen, White, Chris Short and Woody Fryman are hopeful comebackers with the Phillies.

Allen is an unknown quantity after going out of action last summer with a severe hand injury in an off-field accident. He jammed it through the headlight of a car he was pushing uphill. Richie is Philadelphia's all-time leader in slugging percentage.

White, injured in an off-season accident after the 1966 campaign, failed to make it all the way back last year in which he hit 14 fewer homers and knocked in 70 fewer runs.

Short was a 20-10 pitcher in 1966 but dropped to 9-11. Fryman, 12-9 as a Pittsburgh rookie, went to 3-6 and was traded to the Phillies.

The Los Angeles Dodgers are hoping three top hands can revert to their 1965 form and one other can reach back just to last year.

Drysdale, 13-16 last year, was a 23-12 wheel-dealer in 1965. Jim Grant and Zola Versalles, stars of Minnesota's 1965 pennant drive, now are Dodgers after falling off with the Twins the last two seasons. Reliever Phil Regan, 14-1 in '66, went for 6-9 last year.

Sammy Ellis, 22-10 for Cincinnati in 1965, now is a comeback hope with the California Angels. Sam McDowell and Sonny Siebert are on Cleveland's list.

Felipe Alou, whose average dropped 33 percentage points and his home run production by more than half, heads Atlanta's list which includes Rico Carty, ex-Houston star Sonny Jackson and pitcher Tony Cloninger.

Mantle, now more comfortable at first base after an outfield switch, figures to put his batting average back where it belongs but Tom Tresh of the Yankees still is on the doubtful list after injuries.

Just about everyone on the Baltimore roster is looking for a comeback secret with Powell in the lead. Powell's home run production was off by 21 and he drove in 14 fewer runs than in the Oriole pennant surge of 1966.

Another comeback candidate to consider is Jim Lonborg of Boston, the noted ski slope casualty. Chances of another Red Sox miracle finish may have tumbled down the hill with big Jim.
