U.S. Troops Kill 138 In Battle At Border

20 Killed As Bus, Car Hit

By MYRAM BORDERS
BAKER, Calif. (UPI)—Twenty persons were burned to death Thursday when a Las Vegas bound Greyhound bus was struck head on by what may have been a suicide car. Twelve persons survived.

"It must have been a suicide," said Lt. Jim Perkins of the California Highway Patrol.

The car, believed to have been driven by Michael Barry, an unemployed cook, was traveling about 70 miles an hour on the wrong side of Interstate 15, a main artery linking Los Angeles and Las Vegas, when it crashed into the bus three miles east of here on a stretch called the Baker Grade.

It was the worst of many bloody accidents on the 18-mile climb from Baker at 900 feet to 4,000-foot Halloran Summit.

bodies were wrapped in plastic sheets and loaded in panel trucks destined for mortuaries in Barstow.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation was asked to aid in the identification and a representative of the United States Transportation Department from San Francisco was on the scene.

The 12 survivors were treated at Barstow Community Hospital. None was injured critically.

James Almer, a Pacific Telephone Co. employee, said he saw the accident. He was driving east in the right lane of the highway ahead of the bus. Suddenly, he saw the car coming toward him in the left lane.

He frantically tried to signal the driver to stop. Then, he watched helplessly in his rear view mirror as the car passed him and raced toward the bus.

"It looked like the bus tried to miss him by going to the median," Almer said. "Dirt was flying then and all I could see was a big flash of flame, dirt flying and smoke. I went back toward the bus. It was completely in flames. I went for help right away."

Past Caught Up

DALLAS (UPI)—A south Dallas man told police this week he was robbed of $130 in an alley.

He was taken to the police station for additional questioning about the robbery.

Police decided to run a routine check while he was there, found that he owed about $175 in traffic fines, and jailed him for overdue traffic tickets.

70,000 Communists Are Poised For Push

By EUGENE V. RISHER
SAIGON (UPI) — Allied troops and American fighter bombers inflicted two sharp defeats on Communist forces along the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ) Thursday and today as a new U.S. military command took charge to meet a threatened 70,000-man Red offensive.

U.S. Marines and South Vietnamese troops killed at least 138 Communists Thursday in smashing a North Vietnamese battalion (350-400 men) two miles northeast of the Marine base of Dong Ha and were tracking down remnants of the force.

At Khe Sanh, further to the west, U.S. fighter-bombers caught a full company (up to 150 men) in the open and killed scores of them with bombs, rockets and cannon fire. When

Solons Demand Their Approval Of Troop Use

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Senate critics of President Johnson's Vietnam policy demand that he consult Congress before sending any more combat troops into the war.

Led by Democratic leader Mike Mansfield, Mont. Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., and Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., Senate doves interrupted the civil rights debate Thursday to launch an often emotional attack on further escalation of the Vietnam conflict.

The three-hour debate began when Fulbright, one of Johnson's most persistent critics, said Congress should be consulted on any further troop buildup because the 1964 Tonkin Gulf resolution, which the President uses to justify his conduct of the war, "like any contract based on misrepresentation, is null and void."

Darrouzett Team Falls in Austin

AUSTIN (SpI) — Darrouzett fell behind early against Friswood by 9-0 and never took the advantage away from the Mustangs, who now have a seat in the finals, in a semi-final game in the state Class B basketball Tournament here this morning before 5,000 fans.

The final score was 65-55.

Darrouzett plays the loser of the Kennard — Lueders-Avoca game. That game, for third place in the state tournament in Class B, will be played tonight at 8:20. Kennard will probably win the game with Lueders-Avoca and thus place the latter against the Longhorns tonight, observers said.

Coach Don Johnson said, "We got too far behind and were playing catch-up all through the game."

With three minutes to go the Longhorns had to foul to stay close and Arthur Kahn, who finished the evening with 23, hit six of seven at the line in that final three minutes to sew it up for the Mustangs. Joe Collingsworth hit 20 for Darrouzett and could easily make the All-Tournament team in Class B, Johnson added.

Russian Gals In 'Emancipation' From Factories

MOSCOW (UPI)—Russian women left their coveralls in the closet today and abandoned, for 24 hours, their traditional demand to be treated just like one of the boys.

Today was Soviet Women's Day, a combination Valentines and Mothers Day established to honor the country's lady comrades and give them a day off from the factory.

As on Mothers Day in the United States, the Soviet celebration entitled women to breakfast in bed and gifts of candy and the strong perfume favored by Russian women.

Thrown out with last week's newspapers were published complaints that Soviet women were caught in a two-way bind. The articles charged that women had been "emancipated" to do heavy work along with the men, but still were expected to handle household chores when they got home at night.

Other articles this year complained that official "sluggishness" had left women with too few day nurseries, inadequate food delivery services and no diaper services.

For today, however, the complaints were forgotten and the Kremlin sang its praises of the country's large female work force. The Communist party leaders declared that 63 per cent of the Soviet economists and veterinarians were women, and they held 72 per cent of the teaching jobs.

One-third of Russia's engineers are women, the party said, compared with only one per cent in the United States.

'Yankee Doodle Dixie' Lions Minstrel To Open Doors Tonight

Pampa has its own flag wavers and amateur talent. Both will be "on the boards" at 8 p.m. today and Saturday as the Lions Club presents its 31st annual Minstrel Show in Pampa Junior High School Auditorium.

The show, "Yankee Doodle Dixie," is a combination of "Yankee and southern" singers, dancers and non-professional comedians.

Theme for this year's musical was determined by a Lions Club committee directed by Dr. Howard Greenlee. With the help of a Pampa painter, George Klercase, the American flag colors of red, white and blue will be spread across the junior high stage as a backdrop for Pampa's black-faced singers.

The production crew includes Charlie Duengel, Glenn Cox, Earl McConnell, Weldon Stewart, Bob Monzingo, Dr. N. L. Nicholl, Lee Harrah, Dude Bal-trope, Jim Casey, John Horn, and several assistants, wives and children of Lions Club members.

Max Presnell has directed the Lions' Minstrel show eight years and the chorus 10 years. Last year the club netted $4,000 after expenses, he said.

Proceeds are used for several Lions Club projects, including assisting the Crippled Children's Center and the Rehabilitation Center for the Blind in Kerrville, buying eyeglasses for needy children, sponsoring a Boy Scout troop and a baseball team, and assisting the Hi-Plains Eye Bank.

Reserve tickets are sold at Richard Drug. General admission tickets will be available at the door and are sold by Lions Club members. Tickets are $1 for adults, 50 cents for children, and 50 cents for reserve seats.

"Pinky" Shultz, one of seven End Men for the 60-voice chorus, will be interlocutor for the show.

Specialty acts include six soloists. Sheriff Rufe Jordan, Mrs. Glenn Cox, Miss Mary Gerik, Ken Freeman, Mrs. Forrest Hills and John Hansard.

Group performers are The Catalinas, The Miami Stomper Band and a quartet, the Squeaky Door Four.

Miss Teresa Mercer and Miss Cheri Beckham have a twirlers' routine with The Catalinas. (See MINSTREL, Page 3)

Negotiators In Copper Strike In Continued Talks

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Negotiators for the nation's "big four" copper companies and striking unions were holding another round of talks today under heavy pressure from the White House to end the 238-day strike.

There were no apparent signs of progress however as the negotiations entered their fifth consecutive day next door to the White House.

Negotiators for 26 striking unions and the struck companies—Kennecott, Phelps-Dodge, Anaconda and American Smelting and Refining—have been meeting since Monday in the Executive Office building.

The hangup apparently still centers on demands by unions for a company-wide contract. The companies insist that each union must negotiate its own settlement.

Identity Not Certain Highway Patrolmen Said Driver of Car Was Not Positively Identified

Highway patrolmen said the driver of the car was not positively identified. However, Beatrice Dabney, manager of a restaurant in Baker, said she saw Barry get into the car involved in the crash and drive away about 3:45 p.m. PST—10 minutes before the holocaust.

Barry, 38, was fired Thursday as a cook at the restaurant after being employed for eight days. Mrs. Dabney said he had been despondent before he was fired, apparently over a divorce.

Walter Terry, deputy coroner for San Bernardino County, said he would go through the garbled wreckage again and attempt to recover any items which might help identify the victims.

Terry and some 40 men—who sifted through the wreckage for more than five hours—worked until after midnight removing the charred bodies, some intact and some dismembered. The

Jordanian Troops Open Up With Automatic Weapons Fire At Israelis

By United Press International
Jordanian troops fired automatic weapons at a truck south of Lake Tiberius Thursday night and wounded two Israeli soldiers and their girlfriends, Israeli military officials said today.

"They said one of the soldiers was in serious condition but his life was not considered in danger."

The military officials said Israeli army troops opened up with heavy fire to silence the Jordanian positions that shot at the truck nearly two miles from Ma'agan on the road to El Hamma, which is in territory that belonged to Syria before Israel occupied it during the June 5-10 war.

Students Disrupt Carolina Legislature

COLUMBIA, S. C. (UPI) — Militant Negro students swarmed into the halls of the legislature shouting angry demands Thursday. They left when Gov. Robert McNair declined a mass meeting with protesters.

"Where is General Sherman now that we need him," shouted one of the demonstrators leaving the state house after the protest over the slaying of three Negro students by police in a recent clash at a Negro college in Orangeburg.

"We're going to have all-out war to get McNair and the people like him out of office with ballot boxes and anything else," said protest leader Wayne Curtis. "If we get to where nothing else works, we'll resort to violence."

McNair sent word to demonstrators outside his office door that he had met only the day before with a delegation of students from South Carolina State College at Orangeburg, but would meet with a small delegation of the protesters.

Most of The Cast Is Missing In The Civil Rights Suspense Drama

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate's suspense drama titled civil rights is playing with much of the cast missing.

Hour by hour, it became increasingly difficult this week to get at least half the members into the chamber to listen to the debate remaining. More often than not, less than a dozen senators were on hand.

There were repeated roll calls to get a quorum of 51. At times, there were only two or three in the chamber. There were more spectators, but in the gallery too there usually were a good many empty seats.

It is a strange spectacle.

The Senate is approaching a vote which for drama few Hollywood productions could match. Before it are the issues of the rights of man, and property rights, and racial discrimination — issues which tore this nation apart in a Civil War.

In the background are matters of high drama—presidential politics and presidential ambitions. The White House has twisted elbows raw to get to this point in the civil rights debate, at last nearing a showdown vote after six weeks of filibuster.

One Republican leader warned last week that his party must get more Negro votes to hope to win the November election. And former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, who in seeking the presidency, has telephoned, while on the campaign trail to keep up to date on how it goes.

In the wings awaiting the outcome are the Rev. Dr.

Hubert Wants To Know Nixon's Formula For Viet Nam

By United Press International
Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey today challenged Republican presidential candidate Richard M. Nixon to tell the nation now how he proposes to carry out his pledge to end the Vietnam War if elected president.

"I think we have a right to ask: If you know how to end the war and bring peace to the Pacific, Mr. candidate, let the American people hear your formula now," Humphrey said

'Dog Days' Here For Local Police

Dog troubles continue to plague the city.

Early Wednesday morning a prankster saw a chain apart at the city dog pound, enabling about 20 dogs to escape. They were later rounded up and put back in the pound.

One dog, however, may have the dubious honor of being the first dog ever to be thrown in the city jail.

The owner of the Lamplighter Restaurant complained to police that the dog came into the establishment every time someone opened the door.

Two city policemen put the dog in the city jail until his master could be located. He was later released to the custody of his owner and no charges were filed.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am 30 years old, not married, and I work to support myself. I'm not bad looking and live a fairly normal, happy life, but I'm beginning to wonder if maybe I'm foolish to work the way I do. What I'm trying to say is, I have a girl friend who works part-time — like maybe two days a week. She has had four husbands and she's single again. She has boy friends for everything. One pays her rent, another lets her drive his car, another painted and papered her whole house and she bragged all she gave him was lunches and a few daughterly kisses.

She sees the rent-payer on week-ends, and she also has a truck driver staying with her off and on when he's in town. I do not know how she gets away with it. Shouldn't someone tell these chumps the score?

HER FRIEND

DEAR FRIEND: Don't worry about the chumps. Some men don't care what the score is as long as they're in the game.

DEAR ABBY: I have been dating a boy I'll call Bill for three years. I am 21 and Bill is 23. He has talked about getting married after I graduate from college, but I am not sure he is the one for me, and I have told him so. (I date other boys, too.)

My problem is every gift Bill gives me points toward marriage. For Christmas he gave me service for six in a very nice set of dishes. For Valentine day, he gave me service for 12 in some expensive stainless steel silverware. And for my birthday he gave me an electric blanket.

I don't have a hope chest, Abby, but Bill seems to be buying things to fill one up. He is not rich, and these gifts are expensive. I don't want to lead him on. If our relationship totally dies, do I have to return these gifts?

COUNTING ON YOU

DEAR COUNTING: No, Bill is trying to "condition" you to think in terms of marriage (to him), but a gift is a gift, and the only gift you must return if the relationship "totally dies" is a ring. So don't let him force one on you, until you're sure he's "the one."

DEAR ABBY: Your advice to "Engaged," whose fiancé "just likes the girls," was sound. You told her to get used to it, or get rid of him.

For her sake, I hope she gets rid of him. That type man never changes. I have been married for 19 years to a man who also "just liked the girls." He is 60 now, and he likes them as much now as he did then. And the younger they are, the better he likes them.

As you have probably guessed, he has made a fool of himself more than once. I need not go into the humiliation and heartache I have endured all these years. If I had it to do over again, I wouldn't.

HIS WIFE

CONFIDENTIAL TO FORT WORTH WILLY: If you've made up your mind, go ahead and good luck to you. But remember, no man ever works as hard for his money as the man who marries for it.

Council of Clubs Discusses Tribute For Servicemen

The Council of Clubs met for its regular program Thursday in the City Club Room with president, Mrs. Virginia McDonald presiding.

Correspondence and minutes were read by the secretary, Fidella Yoder.

The need for more money for Red Cross to be used for overseas service men was presented by Mrs. Libby Shotwell. This is directed by the national Red Cross organization.

Mrs. Shotwell also recommended the council ask the mayor Jim Nation to see that the flag is lowered in case of the death of any Pampa service man.

Several other reports and announcements were given, after which Kay Fancher and Jim O'Conner presented the importance of stressing Pampa as a convention city.

They stressed the advantage these conventions are to the city's economy and urged clubs to obtain the film which the Chamber of Commerce has prepared to show to their members.

Since O'Conner was unable to take the film to the council meeting, he asked the council to have its next meeting at the Coronado Inn. Members voted to accept his recommendation for the group to see the film.

Martin Luther King and his followers, planning a "poor man's march on Washington," with evident racial overtones.

There has been plenty of suspense—and more is to come. After three failures, there came the successful cloture move. The gag rule was invoked with no margin to spare, 65 to 32, the exact two-thirds majority of those voting.

One more cloture vote is still required and chances are it will also go down to the wire. But first, a batch of amendments still remain to be disposed of out of a total of almost 80 proposed.

criticism of the report of Johnson's anti-riot commission for "its tendency to lay the blame for the riots on everyone except the rioters."

"There are injustices. There are inequities. But these mounting threats of violence come when there has never been less cause for violence, and never less excuse for rebellion."

"Never have we been so close to the achievement of a just and abundant society, in which the age-old wants of man are met and the age-old grievances of the disinherited set right."

Hyman Net Optimistic

Lester S. Hyman, chairman of the Massachusetts Democratic State Committee, meantime said he would launch a campaign to teach voters how to write in Johnson's name in the April 30 primary. But he was not optimistic about his chances of success.

"Sometimes you lose a battle but you've got to win the war," he said. Hyman was disappointed earlier in the week when Johnson decided not to run or have a stand-in run for him in the primary.

Search Resumed for Eight Killed

QUANTICO, Va. (UPI) — Searchers resumed their search today for seven Marines and a sailor believed dead after their canoe capsized Wednesday while on a training exercise on the Potomac River. A ninth body has been recovered.

Marine officials said "hopes are dim" for finding the men alive in the water. If they managed to reach land "we believe we would have had some contact by now," they said.

The men were paddling across the Potomac and back, a total of about four miles, when their canoe capsized.

"I just don't know what happened," Marine Lt. Col. T. E. Mattimore said today. "It was just a regular training exercise. I certainly didn't expect this."

The Palm Beach Post

A Watchful Newspaper
EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS
TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Palm Beach Post is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license, nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself. No more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

Press Invited Restrictions

Newspaper editors and publishers and broadcasters around the country are concerned, rightly, about the American Bar Association's attempt to censor the news of criminal trials. The adoption of the so-called Reardon report by the ABA is the first step toward a major denial of the peoples right to know what is going on in one of their most powerful (tax-supported) institutions—the courts.

The Reardon report will mean nothing unless it is adopted by the various state bar associations, which have the power of life and death over their members and the judicial councils of the states, which exercise dictatorial control over the judges in the courts.

If the rules are adopted, the bar and bench will be put in the business of censoring news. Courts would have the power of contempt proceedings to hold over lawyers, public officials, police and newsmen who do not submit to the gag and strait-jacket treatment.

In addition to infringing the freedom of the public to know what is going on, the restrictions invite cover-ups of incompetence and corruption, since the public would be virtually blindfolded from what goes on in preliminary hearings.

We believe newsmen are rightly concerned at this new attempt to infringe their freedom and the freedom of their readers. But, we have noticed, some of the most vocal of the opponents of this restriction have been strangely silent at other restrictions. In fact, some

Big Jump From a Billion

The record proposed federal budget, calling for a total outlay of 186 billion dollars, has brought some cries of alarm and will surely be the object of political attack in this presidential election year. Yet the outcry touched off by the disclosure of this staggering sum was notable for its comparative mildness. America has grown used to astronomical budgets.

The point can be demonstrated by going back a ways in history. The present budget is not raising nearly as much clamor as that aroused in 1890, when President Harrison's administration announced that it was spending the phenomenal sum of one billion dollars in a single year. The resultant hue and cry was still only when Speaker Thomas B. Reed of the House of Representatives took it upon himself to set matters in perspective thus: "This is a billion dollar country."

Within a single lifetime, that first billion-per-year total has increased nearly two hundred-fold. This cannot be put down wholly, nor even mainly,

Straight Talk

By TOM ANDERSON

In the coming fiscal year starting July 1, your Federal Government will spend the fantastic sum of $186 billion, $77 billion of which is for so-called "defense." That's more for defense than we spent at the height of World War II.

Our non-defense spending has skyrocketed every year since the Kennedy-Johnson Socialist Society made the scene. Our debt is now greater than that of all the nations of the world combined.

Included in the "necessary" non-defense spending is $211,000 a year for Secret Service coverage of Mrs. John F. Kennedy and children. Would you want the children to be without the very best babysitting service while their multimillionaire mini-skirted mother flies, skis, suns and plays across the world's skies and byways, and visits such people as Prince Sihanouk of Cambodia, one of our prime pro-Communist, anti-American beneficiaries of your foreign aid?

The federal thieves took $9.2 million from you to build a fish aquarium for the District of Columbia (is that "Home Rule"?); $13.9 million for a federal art appreciation program. (Lots of us feel that we can appreciate art without spending anything and couldn't appreciate Lady Bird at any price.) They've squandered $5 million of your money for archeological excavation at the Smithsonian Institute — The diggings where the great Society holds some of its drunken brawls, while Spender Bird admonishes American housewives to be more careful with their shopping.

A typical U.S. city worker's family, the Bureau of Labor Statistics has advised us, needs $9,000 yearly income to achieve a "moderate living standard." This estimate will serve as a yardstick to "collective bargaining" in establishing wage levels for such things as public assistance, college scholarships and determining poverty levels.

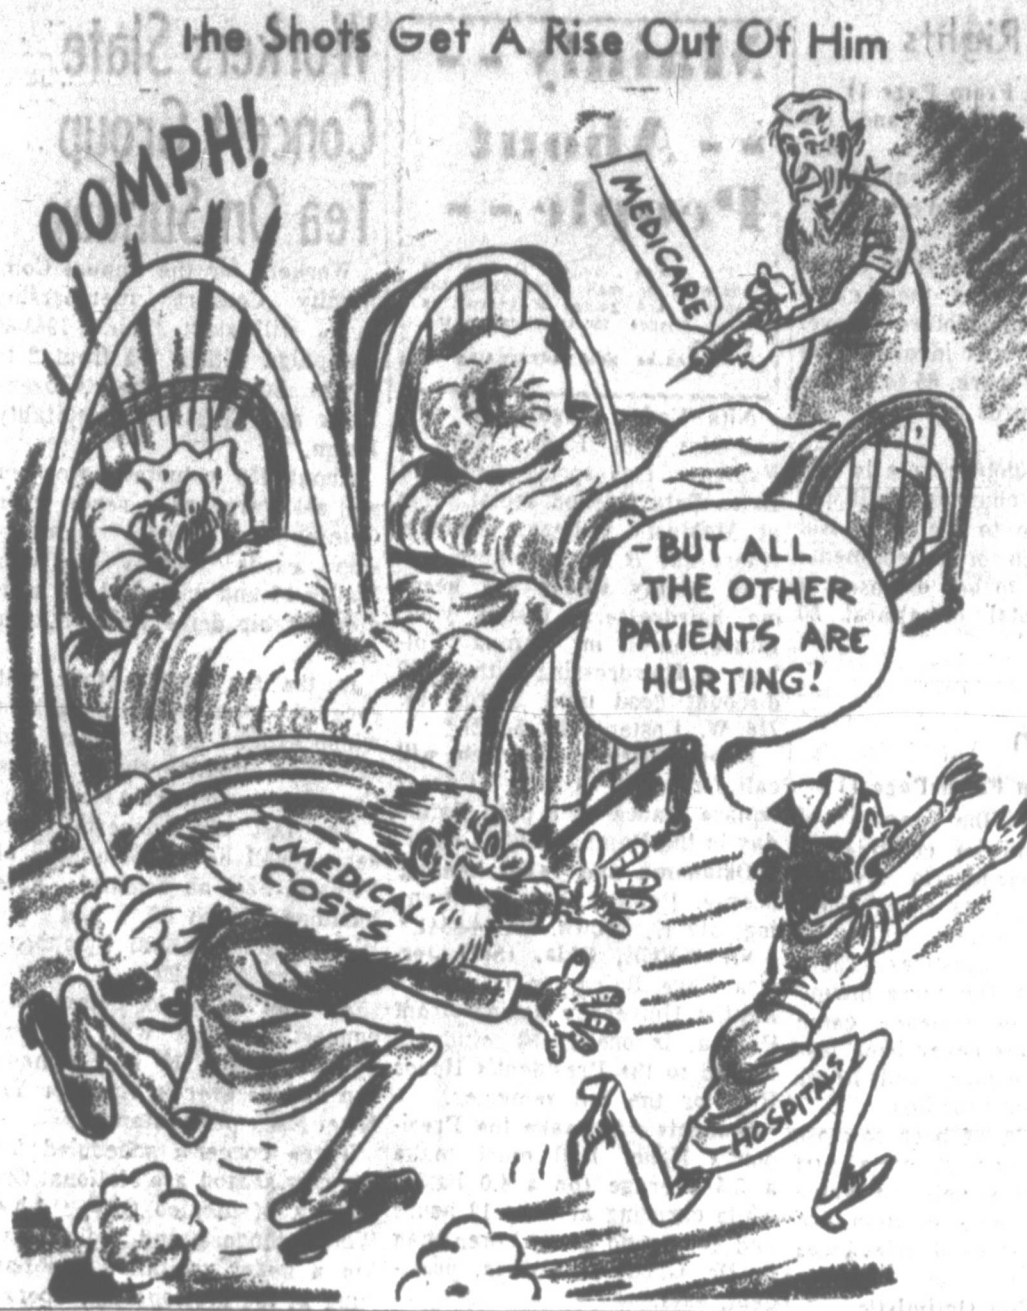

This is another way of saying that the government will increase its theft from those with more than $9,000 incomes to give to those with less than $9,000. To each according to his vote. Thus our march toward Communism continues. Thus are the seeds of Revolution nourished. A new Boston Tea Party, a new Civil War, looms ever nearer.

A recently released UN study laments the failure of government efforts to regulate the economics of West European nations. The study points out that in order for governments to effectively regulate all salaries, governments must also establish "just and efficient distribution of earnings, and price controls."

The President is seriously considering a declaration of a national emergency, to be followed by a call-up of the reserves, and the imposition of wartime controls (price, rent, wages, etc.). Eleanor Roosevelt's cousin-husband, Franklin: "Debt doesn't mean anything, we owe it to ourselves." (So the more we owe ourselves, the richer we are, naturally!) And when we all become one under the United Nations, what difference will debt make? We will indeed owe it to ourselves, and so it will be wiped out— presto! Those who buy that doctrine are as foolish as those who buy hair restorers from bald barbers.

Misleading for profit is fraud. And "fraud is the greater crime than theft," as Jonathan Swift said once. "Honesty has no defense against superior cunning." Even the wool President Johnson is pulling over our eyes is half rayon. But, if course, one doesn't become a millionaire while on the public payroll by being honest. The dollar will doubtless never fall as low as Johnson has stooped to get it. A goodly percentage of our senators, congressmen, governors, mayors and ward-healers are also no good. We get what we deserve.

Most Americans refuse to get involved in saving our free Republic and the freedom of the world. Most Americans won't join any patriotic or anti-Communist organization. They prefer an organization like the woman's club where one member is designated to stay away from each meeting so she can give those attending something to talk about. —American Way Features.

Branch Head Bill Says:

by BILL KENNEDY

If I could hang onto my good humors it'd tickle me. But the way it is, it makes me aggravated sometimes the way them folks that is supposed to be reportin to us on what is a happenin is always a tryin to peddle their influences instead of doin it.

We got two clippings in our capital of Montgomery—both by the same ownerships. I ben told—one for the morning crowd and one for the night bunch. And we got two in our big city of Birmingham, which is another one-owner establishment. I reckon—because the same advertisements is always in both the morning version and the night version. And I suspect that the same thang holds true in Mobile.

And we got the NBC's and the CBS's and all the rest, barking on the booby box out of them same towns. Each local bunch has a "editorial director" which has all them others to help him make up his mind which way he wants to egg folks on everyday with "editorials" that is even more one-sided than the news stories.

And ever since George Corley Wallace first started running for Governor, ever one of them notion peddlers have been agin evern'ing that he has done—whether it was good, or bad, or jest tolerable. With a whole lots of help from them nationality networks and wires services out of Washington City, they have been busy telling us folks in Alabama how bad a man George Wallace is.

And ever time, up to now, they ain't never been able to git their message across to us voters. It seems like there ain't nobody in Alabama that can catch on to keep telling what that Florida what they keep on a tryin to tell us, except maybe themselves and a few college younguns—and their teachers.

But they don't never give up tryin. When it looks like they ain't got nothin else to go on they bring in some Smart Alec from some of place to tell us folks in Alabama that George ain't no good for us. Take in the last election, they brought ole Beat Neck Bob Kennedy down to the Alabama U. to tell everybody about it—which about that that done was held Wallace in a pine straw vote held by them college chulans.

And now they done started agin. They have done it up brown and poured it in jugs this time! It's not snuff that they hick, Claude Kirck, has to say (the Alabama cast-off that believes in honey-mooning first and marrying later, if they tell it on you). Now they sent for one of our favorite comics drawers and brought him down here to the Alabama U. school house to get him to tell us how bad it is about George Corley Wallace.

IS PACIFISM POISON?

I've been getting a curious reaction for a long time. As a matter of fact, I've been aware of this reaction for many years. It's one of those things that is so ordinary you grow to expect it — yet it's incongruous. It does not make much sense. But, like an old shoe, you grow to expect it and its shortcomings are so familiar they don't seem like shortcomings. Virtually everyone I've talked to, from World War II to the Korean War, through the outbreaks in Berlin and the Middle East, up to and including the war in Vietnam, tells me they're against war and for peace. The degree of intensity varies, of course. Some insist that there are times when you have to make war, but they admit that this is an evil and shouldn't occur. What is desirable is peace, not war. Others simply come out flat-footed in favor of peace.

But the incongruity lies in the fact that virtually none of these folks wants to be thought of as a pacifist. They are for peace, but they shudder with horror at the idea that I might think of them as pacifists. Why is this? I got to talking with one the other night. He was for peace. Indeed, he was vociferously for peace, especially in Vietnam. But he wanted me to understand that he was not a pacifist. No sir. He was just in favor of peace, but he wasn't a pacifist.

Well, what IS a pacifist, if not someone who favors peace? I tried to figure out why this peculiar ideological schism exists. I suppose it is rooted in propaganda, at least in part. Years ago the socialist and communists took the propaganda line that they favored peace and capitalists were warmongers. And I suppose there is something pathetically naive about the fellow who feels embarrassed in this area. What he wants to tell you is that he favors peace, but he's afraid you might think him a red if he said so. So he blushes and stammers and tells you he favors peace, but don't get him mixed up with those blasted pinkos who, as everyone knows, call themselves pacifists!

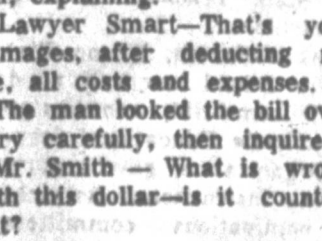

This poor fellow is simply afraid of his own conclusions. Then, of course, there are hippies and the other somewhat offbeat characters who are such exhibitionists and who claim to be pacifists, and this causes some who favor peace to be afraid of being called pacifists because there might be some kind of guilt-by-association in this direction.

So, once more they say they favor peace; that anyone who favors war is an idiot; but for gosh sakes don't call them pacifists!

I've also run across a few people who don't agree with war because all wars are the products of government. But even they don't like to be known as pacifists, because some of them want to be in the position that government is in, and to wage private wars on their own. They simply object when governments wage wars. But if they want to hurt or punish someone, it's because he deserves it. And these folk take the same position about the word pacifist. They'll tell you they favor peace

The Doctor Says:

By DR. WAYNE BRANDSTADT

Diagnosis Doubt
Removed by Biopsy

Q—How does a doctor detect cancer of the lymph nodes? Does it ever affect other parts of the body?

A—Cancer of the lymph nodes is a characteristic of leukemia and Hodgkin's disease. It may also arise from a cancer in another, but often adjacent, organ of the body. When a doctor feels hard, shotty lymph nodes his suspicions are aroused and, if there is any doubt about the diagnosis, a small piece of the lymph node is removed for microscopic examination (biopsy).

Q—Will eating charcoal-broiled steak cause cancer of the stomach?

A—Although some reports have cast suspicion in this direction, no cause-and-effect relationship has been demonstrated. If such a relationship did exist it would come not from the charcoal but from flaming fat drippings. The ignition of such drippings can and should be prevented.

Q—What is a basal cancer?
A—I assume you are referring to basal cell carcinoma. This is a slowly growing skin cancer that is not very malignant. Prompt, complete removal results in a cure.

Q—What are the early symptoms of cancer of the colon? What are the chances of its being cured if it is discovered early?

A—Cancer of the colon usually produces no early symptoms. Early detection is made by means of a routine checkup with the proctoscope and a fluoroscopic study with a barium enema. With improved methods of diagnosis and treatment, the outlook for a cure is getting better every year.

Q—Will cancer show up in X-rays?

A—This would depend on the type and size of the tumor. Because some forms of cancer do not show up directly on X-ray films, a variety of techniques have been devised to reveal a suspected (and sometimes unsuspected) cancer. Many of these depend on contrast media, such as barium concoctions and opaque dyes introduced into the body by mouth, rectum or vein.

Q—I am told that glass fiber and asphalt cause cancer. I'm so worried I'm afraid to walk on asphalt. Please comment.

A—Glass fiber does not produce cancer directly. If a piece became imbedded in the skin and remained there for many months it could set up a chronic irritation which, in turn, might predispose to the formation of a cancer. Daily direct skin contact with pure asphalt might predispose to cancer but walking on hardened asphaltic concrete is no hazard or we would all be dead.

INDIVIDUALITY VS. KNOWLEDGEABILITY

Last week a high school girl refused to recite the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag. The 16 year old Houston student made the astonishing statement: "People don't seem to realize that kids are thinking for themselves now." In her own naive way of portraying her individual liberty she said: "... one of my rights is to protest what I do not think is right." This teenage prophet, in continuing, said: "I didn't want to be a hypocrite and the oath means pledging to fight."

I have always praised young people who are level headed and stand up for what is right. Apparently, she has side-stepped the true meaning of that pledge—a pledge to the flag, but also a pledge to our country. I wonder if she knows its meaning or even its origin. The pledge was originally published on September 8, 1892, in Boston as part of a celebration, in Public Schools, of Columbus Day. On Flag Day of 1924, it was adopted as we know it today—an expression of pride and love for our flag. Old Glory represents our country and therefore

It is a shame that youths do defame our country and it is only proper that we do not defame our flag.

It is ashame that youths do not receive instruction about God and country in our schools anymore. This is just one more example, though, of how the Supreme Court has undermined this great nation's heritage. It is said that ignorance is bliss, but ignorance, on the part of our youth, about our heritage and traditions is a grave danger. It is in their hands that this nation will be placed and it is they who will decide whether it will stand or fall.

and non-violence, unless they wish to impose the violence themselves. But they are opposed to the idea of pacifism. "On principle," they say. There is this side of the coin.

The true pacifist believes in settling disputes without employing violence. And there are some who have so little belief in moral behavior and in their own powers, both to persuade others or to protect themselves, that they are fearful that advocacy of peace may leave them defenseless. They really favor peace, they say. But they sure as heck will start shooting if anyone commits a trespass where they know about it. Of course, these folks are simply scared. And they are really the ones who bring on the wars. Because people like this are very fearful and don't really believe in moral behavior anyway, and when they get tired of standing guard over their own properties, they end by employing the government to do it for them.

War is, of course, of great value in perpetuating the state. And those who make the state possible are invariably those frightened people who ask the state to protect them and to keep them at peace by waging war for them.

But for goodness sake, don't call these people pacifists. They favor a government-provided peace. But they expect war anyway and really have no expectation of anything else.

Mrs. Brown—Just remember, that we are here to help others. The boy thought it over and then asked, Bobby—Well then, what are the others here for?

I see where 20 officers of the state department are going to work for the Office of Economic Opportunity. Well, that's a good place for them. They are a wild bunch.

The 20 was appointed by Kool Kat Katzenbach in a little ceremony at the State Department. These are the guys who are cut from the same cloth as the following — they might even be the same ones:

A foreign service officer who furnished 18 documents, some "Secret" to Phillip Jaffe. A security officer in Greece, who failed to report a large number of security violations but was appointed deputy chief of the Division of Evaluations.

The foreign service officer who was twice guilty of serious misconduct in Mexico City and Venezuela, including a liaison with the wife of the ambassador of another nation but whose conduct was condoned.

The security officer who was enticed to the apartment of a woman KGB agent in Russia. He was not disciplined.

There was the security officer who openly consorted with a local Eastern Europe woman. After his wife divorced him he married the woman even though it was a fact that there was information indicating the woman was a foreign agent. He continued as security officer.

The foreign service officer who concealed that he had been a member of the Young Communist league and of the Communist party. He is still employed by the State Department.

The one who admitted sexual misconduct and permitted foreign agents to have access to classified reports at the embassy. He has received normal promotions and is still in the department.

The foreign service officer who forged the endorsement of a fellow employee, a lady, to his application for a loan. He was given an important assignment in the White House.

The foreign service officer who fathered a child out of wedlock — the one who sexually violated his own daughter — and on and on and on.

Office of Opportunity, you need men like these. They are real opportunities.

Religion in America

By LOUIS CASSELS United Press International Many liberal clergymen who backed Democratic presidential candidates in 1960 and 1964 may switch their support to the GOP this year.

The shift is almost certain to occur if Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller is the Republican candidate. It will be less likely—but still a possibility—if Richard M. Nixon wins the GOP nomination. Religious leaders are already discussing the arguments for a party switch. The one which carries most weight with many of them is that a Republican president would be better able to extricate the United States from the Vietnam morass than President Johnson, who is viewed as hemmed in by the need to justify past decisions and policies.

Peace Main Issue The Rev. Dr. Robert McAfee Brown, professor of religion at Stanford University, is typical of a large body of liberal clergymen for whom peace is the one overriding issue of the presidential campaign. "I have come to feel that the top priority for 1968 is the removal of Lyndon Johnson from the presidency, and along with him (Vice President) Hubert Humphrey and (Secretary of State) Dean Rusk," Dr. Brown said recently. "Although he is a close personal friend and great admirer of Sen. Eugene McCarthy, Dr. Brown concurred that McCarthy's campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination has not gotten very far off the ground. "Therefore, he said, opponents of the war must look to the Republican party for an 'alternative' to Johnson's Vietnam policy. "Rocketteller would command the support of millions of uncommitted voters, even though little is known about his stand on Vietnam," he said. Against Nixon, Reagan He said he would be dismayed if the Republican nominated

ATTENDANCE OFF NEW YORK (UPI) —

Average attendance in the Episcopal Church is steadily decreasing, especially in big city areas, according to a recent report of Division of Research and Field Study. The report, carried in The Episcopalian, said baptized membership of the Church increased 2.6 per cent in the years 1963-66. Average attendance at Sunday services in the Church's eight provinces in those years dropped from 48.6 per cent of the baptized membership in 1963 to 44.9 per cent in 1966. The reports said the trend may be partially explained by the decreasing birth rate in the United States since 1957.

Washington Window

WASHINGTON (UPI)—This was a week that shook up victory-scenting Republicans. Barry was back in town.

Not even his chosen instrument for recapturing the White House, Richard M. Nixon, was happy with former Sen. Barry M. Goldwater's assertion of non-support for Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller as a presidential possibility.

cans." Quickly, he assured his listeners that he had never voted for a Democratic president and that "if people (Rockefeller) want to convince me they can change their spots, I can be convinced."

Friends said that meant Barry would support the party's nominee, whomever he is. But at least some damage had been done.

Down The Drain

Even as the defeated 1964 GOP presidential nominee shaded and clarified his first words, both backers and non-backers of Nixon were dismayed. They had a flash vision of 1968 unity—precious to victory—going down the drain.

One ardent Nixon-for-president congressman, a staunch conservative like Goldwater, sent the Arizona a telegram pleading with him to retract his original Phoenix remark that he couldn't accept a Rockefeller candidacy.

Gov. Ronald Reagan of California, a fellow conservative, rejected "bickering and backbiting among Republicans" if they want to win.

Goldwater tried to repair and clarify what he meant when he spoke at Tuesday night's $500-a-plate GOP congressional fund-raising dinner. But like Michigan Gov. George W. Romney at the same affair just a year ago, he bombed out.

Little Response
Struggling to mix humor with political acid, Goldwater didn't get much response when he likened Johnson and Humphrey to Bonnie and Clyde, or when he questioned why President Johnson would send Robert S. McNamara to "wreck" the World Bank after the former Pentagon chief had "spent seven years wrecking the Defense Department."

He brought a kind of gasp when, recalling the "lesson of 1964," he said: "Let's not spend our time downgrading Republi-

Pampa to Seek Third Win In Oklahoma Tomorrow

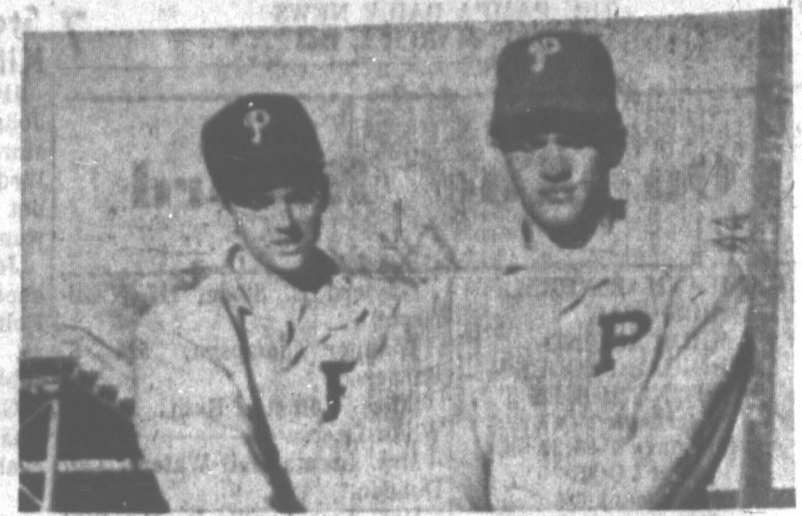

By CURTIS MONTGOMERY Sports Editor
The Pampa Harvesters will be seeking their third and fourth consecutive victories of the season tomorrow in a double-header in Woodward, Okla., beginning at 1 p.m.

Coach Bobby Stephens squad is unbeaten in two outings. The Pampans have drubbed Borger (9-2) and Canyon (11-0) with both games played on the road. The Harvesters have allowed only three hits in the two games. Alan Woodard tossed a one-hitter at Canyon in the opener and Dick Henley hurled a two-hit job against Borger with lefty Woodard coming in to relieve in the last inning.

Henley had a no-hitter going through five. Alvin Achord, Harvester short stop, is now hitting the "ole pill" at the perfect 1.000 with seven for seven. Catcher Steve Summers is batting .571 with four for seven. Dick Henley is batting .333 with two hits in six trips to the plate. First sacker John Jenkins is at .250 with one of four. Second baseman Mike Fortin is .250 also with one of four. Pitcher-outfielder Woodard is .286 with two hits in seven at bats.

Epstein Thinks Before Talking
By MILTON RICHMAN UPI Sports Writer
POMPANO BEACH, Fla. (UPI) — Big Mike Epstein, prime hope of the Washington Senators, worked the question over in his mind a long time. That's his way.

PJH Beats Lee
The Pampa Junior High Girls' volleyball teams wiped out the Lee Junior High teams in both the seventh and eighth grade games yesterday at PHS.

Kim Cooper led the win for the seventh graders. Both teams won in two straight.

Washington and although he made only a modest start the Senators believe he'll still be a superstar.

"You learn from everything," says Mike Epstein now about last year's experience. "Naturally, I'd like to work my record last season but I think everything that happened made me a better ballplayer. A better person, too."

The Senators have three first basemen on their roster. Dick Nen and Bob Chance are the two others. Both swing left-handed like Epstein so that doesn't help their chances. Even if they were right-handed though, both know who has the inside track for the job.

Mike Epstein tries not to let it show.
A year ago, Jim Lomborg was the hardest working ballplayer in the state of Florida; this year it's Mike Epstein.

The work he's been doing here would stagger a horse. He runs and runs and runs, and then runs some more. He does sit-ups, knee bends and push-ups so much he makes you tired looking at him. Then he gets up and runs. He hasn't eaten breakfast or lunch the past five weeks and looks it. He has trimmed down from a rock-like 238 to a steel-like 215.

And still he keeps working.
"I don't feel I'm in position clinched on this club and I hope I feel that way every year I come down to spring training," he says.

"I'm looking forward to this season. The good thing about baseball is that it always provides you with a fresh start. Not that I wouldn't do what I did last year all over again. But that's history now. I appreciate how much this club is depending upon me and I hope to show that that faith isn't misdirected."

Baltimore tried to send Epstein to the minors last May but the 24-year-old rookie refused to go. He said he felt he could play in the big leagues. Also said he'd go home and quit before reporting to the minors. And he did go home.

For nearly two weeks neither side budged. On May 29 Baltimore finally traded him to only three hits in the two games. Alan Woodard tossed a one-hitter at Canyon in the opener and Dick Henley hurled a two-hit job against Borger with lefty Woodard coming in to relieve in the last inning.

Mike Epstein tries not to let it show.
A year ago, Jim Lomborg was the hardest working ballplayer in the state of Florida; this year it's Mike Epstein.

The work he's been doing here would stagger a horse. He runs and runs and runs, and then runs some more. He does sit-ups, knee bends and push-ups so much he makes you tired looking at him. Then he gets up and runs. He hasn't eaten breakfast or lunch the past five weeks and looks it. He has trimmed down from a rock-like 238 to a steel-like 215.

Canadian Short On Track Speed

Track coach Dwain Currie of Canadian High School says his Wildcats will "not have much speed" on the 1968 team to defend their District 1-A title.

Last year's conference champions lost four speedsters to graduation and this year's team will have one, Bob Hill, out because of a knee operation.

The 'Cats open the 1968 campaign tomorrow at the Lefors Relays, with 28 representatives on the team.

Returnees this year include senior Jerry Faulkner, who will be defending his 1967, 800-yard run title, which he won last spring with a time of 2:05.

Terry Robinett, another senior, was second in the pole vault last year at 11-feet even.

Charlie Ortega is a senior weight man who had 44 feet in the shot and 115 feet in the discus as a junior. Bobby Gutierrez, a junior, will be pushing Ortega on distances in the shot and discus.

Johnny Curtis won the district title in the high jump last year as a junior with a 5-8 leap.

Jimmy Nicholson is a senior hurdler and high jumper, who placed in the district meet last spring.

Kevin Koch, junior, will be running in the intermediate hurdles and participating in the sprints after running third in the hurdles last year in conference action.

Currie lost the sprint relay team which captured first place last year in 1-A and most of the mile relay team which came in second. Faulkner is the only returnee from last year's mile relay team.

The Wildcats will be working toward the district meet on April 9 at Sunray with a relatively inexperienced crew, Currie said.

The game is sponsored by the National Association of College Basketball Coaches.

Trinity Tops TCU

By United Press International

Trinity, for the second time in two days, downed Texas Christian 4-2; Texas shut out Texas Lutheran 1-0; and Texas Tech downed Sul Ross 1-0 in baseball action Thursday.

The Tech win came when Jim Montgomery, Red Raider shortstop, singled stole second and went to third on a ground out in the top of the sixth. He then came home with the winning run on a wild pitch.

Pat Cluney homered in the first inning and Frank Kimball led off the fourth with another homerun to spark the Trinity effort.

The margin of victory came up only five hits in 8 2-3 innings Thursday for the Longhorns.

Kansas City Is No Place for Homers

NEW YORK (UPI) — Home runs may be harder to come by at least three major league parks this season but who's trying?

Oakland is in, men. Kansas City, a graveyard for sluggers, scratched temporarily.

Carl Yastrzemski of the Boston Red Sox, who hit 44 homers en route to the American League's triple crown, didn't get a one at Kansas City. Harmon Killebrew of the Minnesota Twins, who led him in homers, hit exactly two out there in 1967.

Only 57, in fact, were struck in Kansas City's Municipal Stadium all last season on the combined efforts of the 10 clubs.

But wait! The AL power boys get to Oakland, current stop on the ever-westward trek of the Philadelphia-born Athletics.

In the Oakland-Alameda County Stadium the left field fence is 40 feet closer than at Kansas City, left center is 30 feet closer and center field is nearer by 11 feet.

Right field distances are longer than at Kansas City — 18 feet more in right center, five more in right — but the fences all the way around are two feet lower.

How the ball flies in the Oakland atmosphere is anyone's guess but chances are home production, down in both leagues a year ago, should be up at least in the American League.

The Cleveland Indians, Chicago White Sox and San Francisco Giants all tinkered with Park dimensions over the winter, according to distances reported in each league's annual press book.

Cleveland admittedly pushed out its fences to make its good pitching and new speed-style more effective.

It's not much but General Manager Gabe Paul thinks the fence-movers have helpers. Barriers were shoved back by five feet in left center and right center, back by three feet in dead center.

The White Sox show an extra 10 feet in both left and right center while San Francisco shows an extra five feet more of target for Willie Mays in both left and right fields.

The 1968 dimensions listed for the Minnesota Twins reflect earlier changes that shortened left center, center and right center by five feet and added eight feet in right field.

Kansas City, with 57, was baseball's toughest park but not by much. Only 63 were hit indoors in Houston's Astrodome, 71 in Los Angeles and 76 in the White Sox park.

In general, those figures also indicate a lack of power by the home club. The A's, Dodgers, Astros and White Sox weren't exactly fence-busters even on the road.

But Kansas City was a toughie for the best of them and chances are the only guy who'll miss it is Tony Conigliaro of Boston. Tony belted four out there to top all visiting players by 100 per cent.

Rick Monday of the A's, who played half his season there, had only four at home to top the club. He hit 10 more on the road so that'll give you a rough idea of what Kansas City meant to the sluggers.

Borger Gridders Signs Letter

PORTALES (Sp) — A Borger High School football star has signed a letter of intent to enroll and play football next fall at Eastern New Mexico University, according to Howard White, head football coach.

Randy Cornelison, Borger, Texas, signed the letter last week, White indicated. Cornelison was named to the Texas All-District 3 AAAA team, was a member of the All-North Zone team, and was a lineman of the year in the Texas Panhandle.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Cornelison, Borger.

Astros May Use Four-Man Staff

COCOA, Fla. (Sp) — For the first time in their history, the Houston Astros may go to a four-man pitching rotation in 1968.

Six pitchers, evenly divided between lefthanders and righthanders, are in a spring training scrap for the starting jobs. They include lefties Wade Blasingame, Mike Cuellar and Denny Lemaster, plus righthanders Larry Dierker, Dave Giusti and Don Wilson.

Houston previously has used five starting pitchers during each of its six years in the National League, but an unusual schedule during the early part of '68 may change the staff's setup.

"Because of so few double-headers and so many days off early in the season, we're thinking about making the change," Manager Grady Hatton said as he sent his troops through a pre-season workout here.

"Our feeling is that, because of the way the schedule is set up this year, our staff will be more effective in a four-man rotation," the Astros manager added.

Frazier Shows 'Ali-Cat' Lesson

TAMPA, Fla. (UPI)—Joe Frazier taught Cassius Clay a lesson the other night.

He taught him how quickly people forget.

Most of them forgot there ever was a Cassius Clay the moment Joe Frazier chopped down and wrapped up big belted Buster Mathis for the night.

They also forgot Eddie Dooley nearly had been hanged in the public square for sanctioning the bouts as a heavyweight championship fight in the first place. Dooley is New York State athletic commissioner and people said he had pulled a rock for recognizing a two-bit bout.

But the people were wrong. Joe Frazier made it much more than that. And when he finished demolishing Buster Mathis the people forgot they were wrong not so long ago.

They were too excited hailing the new champ now.

Joe Frazier proved conclusively Monday night he's the best around by far.

He's got four states in his back pocket already and he's a cinch to get the other 46.

Ellis Vs. Quarry

Jimmy Ellis will beat Jerry Quarry next month for the benefit of the World Boxing Association, the American Broadcasting Company and all the ships at sea after which Joe Frazier will take care of Jimmy Ellis.

You don't need a computer to figure out that one.

Jimmy Ellis is a good boy and he picked up a lot shagging all those practice shots for Cassius Clay but Joe Frazier is a little too straight and long for him off the tee.

From the way I saw the fight over closed circuit TV at McKay Auditorium here, Frazier earned every penny of the $175,000 he got for taking on Mathis.

He worked hard before the fight even started. He had to or Buster might have picked up all the marbles through sheer hypnosis.

Television In Review

By RICK DU BROW
HOLLYWOOD (P1) — The long-awaited, three-part documentary based on William L. Shirer's book, "The Rise and Fall of the Third Reich," began on ABC-TV Wednesday night with a sense of historic sweep. This first hour will be followed on Friday and Saturday by the other two broadcasts of the trilogy.

The story of Nazi Germany has been attempted many times by television documentarians, but the latest program is in executive producer Mel Stuart a man who can imbue a major video subject with a feel of grand purpose. He has done it with "The Making of the President" television programs.

And for "The Rise and Fall of the Third Reich," his collaboration with the able producer-director Jack Kaufman seems potent.

Much of the material, of course, is familiar, but the monumental research conducted for the three-part broadcast was evident in part Wednesday night in the collection of data from many sources, including interviews from several persons who knew Adolf Hitler.

The program showed how even a civilized nation can be led to disaster when the lie becomes an instrument of government. And it illustrated anew how the nation did indeed support Hitler in his early successes, despite the countless disclaimers later on by Germans who said they really weren't for him, or didn't know what was going on, or were forced to go along with him.

This first hour focused on Hitler's rise to power, and included remarks from Shirer himself. The first-rate script was by Theodore Strauss, and the sharp editing by John Sob. Richard Baschert was the narrator, and Lalo Schifrin composed and conducted the music.

Above all, the hour succeeded in humanizing the undersea drama, and, at the same time, in keeping intently aware of the educational value of the visual material it had accumulated.
