Gikas Heads School Board

The Pampa School Board unanimously elected John Gikas as president in the board's reorganization meeting today.

Other board officers elected were Dr. R. M. Hampton, vice president, and John Spearman, secretary.

Before any business was transacted, H. Creel Grady Jr., outgoing president, administered the oath of office to new board members Warren Hasse and Jimmy Thompson.

Gikas' name was submitted in nomination by Spearman. It was seconded by Hasse. There were no other nominations and the vote was unanimous.

Outgoing president Grady then turned the meeting over to the new president.

Gikas' first action as president was to ask for nominations for vice president.

Thompson nominated Dr. Hampton for vice president and it was seconded by Hasse. The vote for Hampton was unanimous.

Spearman then nominated Thompson for secretary. Thompson declined the nomination and asked that his name be withdrawn. He stated he had no objection to serving but that he would prefer not to because of additional duties he would have during the coming year.

Thompson recently was elected president of the Rotary Club. Thompson nominated Spearman for the secretarial post

Talks Are Expected To Start In Warsaw Within Next Week

Full Scale Peace Negotiations Goal

By STEWART HENSLEY

WASHINGTON (UPI) — American and North Vietnamese representatives probably will meet in Warsaw within a week to see if they can work out a basis for full scale peace negotiations, U.S. sources said today.

They confirmed a Moscow report that Hanoi had suggested the Polish capital as the site for initial "contacts" between U.S. roving Ambassador W. Averell Harriman and a North Vietnamese envoy of equal rank and said indications were the United States would agree to Warsaw as the location.

Officials said Harriman will have two or three advisers on military and political affairs. One of them will be Cyrus R. Vance, former deputy defense secretary who has undertaken a number of troubleshooting roles for President Johnson since designing his Pentagon position.

Hanoi's proposal to hold the meeting in Warsaw came as a surprise to the Johnson administration. When it advised Hanoi on Tuesday that it would prefer a location other than Phnom Penh, Cambodia—North Vietnam's initial choice—the United States suggested four alternative sites in Asia. These were Rangoon, Burma; New Delhi, India; Jakarta, Indonesia; and Vientiane, Laos.

Washington confined its alternative suggestions to Asia because of Hanoi's indications it wanted a meeting site relatively close to home.

The United States was hardly in a position to turn down the proposal for Warsaw since Johnson and other officials repeatedly have said a U.S. representative would go anywhere at anytime if Hanoi would produce a representative with which to talk.

The American objections to Phnom Penh were based primarily on the fact that the United States has no diplomatic relations with Cambodia and therefore no secure embassy-based communications from that point. Warsaw is adequate from that standpoint.

While U.S. sources were reasonably confident the meeting would begin in Warsaw, they were extremely cautious as to what might come from these first "contacts." Hanoi has said they would simply be for the purpose of letting Harriman "specify" exactly when the United States would end all air attacks, naval bombardment

US Forces Take Over Viet Area

By JACK WALSH

SAIGON (UPI) — American forces today swept triumphantly through South Vietnam's northwest corner with Communist tanks and troops scurrying for cover.

U.S. Army forces pushed past the Lang Vei Green Beret camp that they lost Feb. 6 in their first battle with Communist tanks and which they recaptured Wednesday in their latest fight with the Russian-made armor. Air power knocked out one of the fleeing Communist tanks Wednesday.

American spokesmen also said that last week, despite President Johnson's push for peace talks with North Vietnam, combat brought the second highest weekly U.S. casualty toll of the war. The toll included 279 Americans killed, bringing to 5,057 the number of U.S. servicemen killed in Vietnam action this year.

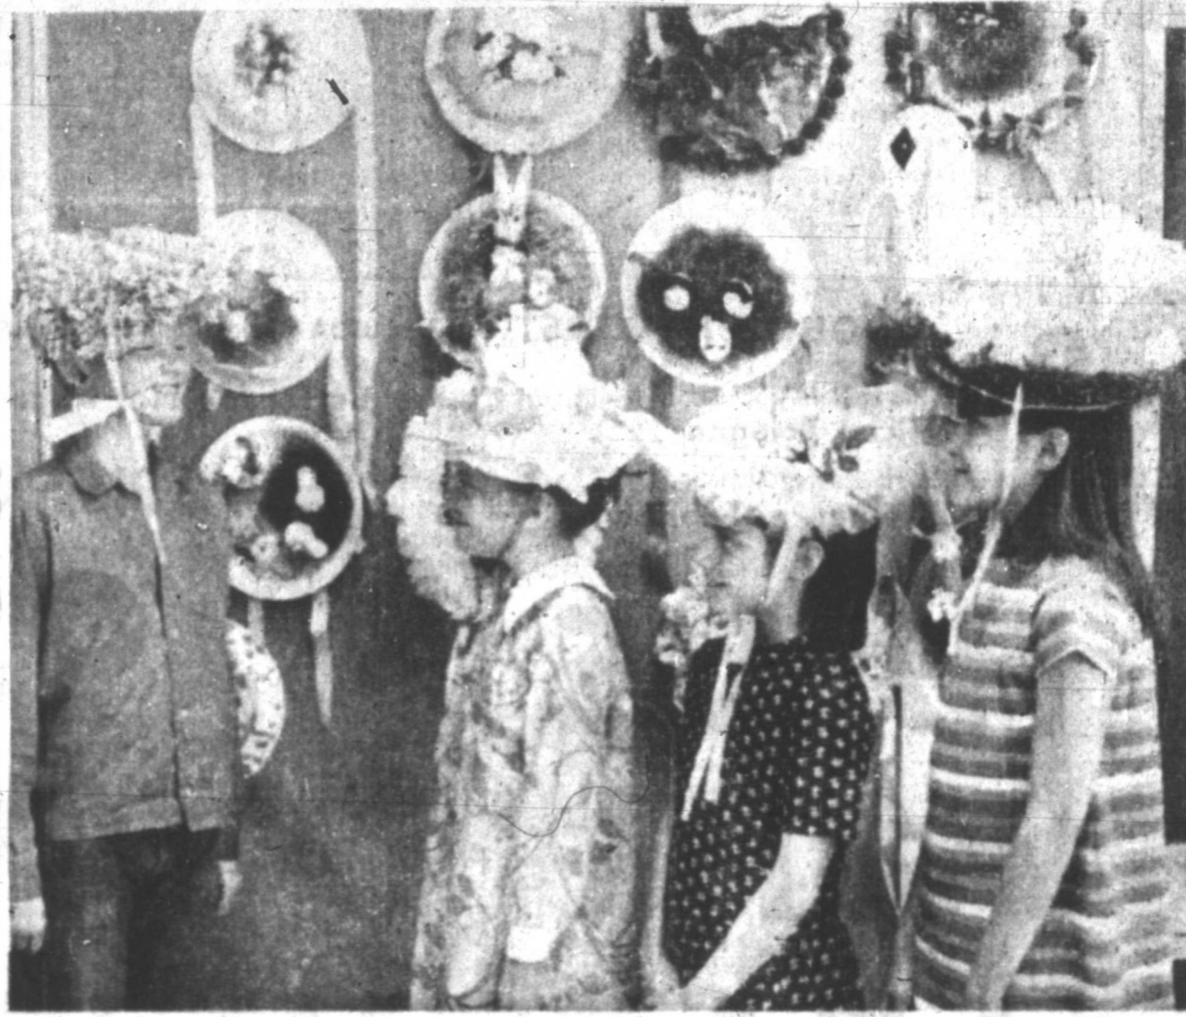

Second Highest Toll
Last week 3,190 Americans suffered combat wounds. The week's total of 3,469 killed and wounded was second only to the previous week's figure of 4,216 as the highest of the war.

Military spokesmen said the South Vietnamese forces last week suffered 407 men killed and 1,479 wounded plus 14 missing in action. The allied forces killed 2,251 Communists last week, raising the number of Viet Cong and North Vietnamese troops killed in 1968 in South Vietnam to 71,291.

Many of the American casualties last week came in the 20,000-man allied drive that drove a North Vietnamese force of 16,000 to 20,000 men from the Khe Sanh. The Communists, contrary to many predictions—including Hanoi's, did not stand and fight. The Reds fled south and west, into Laos, and were being chased south by the Americans who reported meeting little resistance.

Helicopter Crash
In other developments, two U.S. Marine helicopters collided and crashed in the northwest corner battle area, killing four men aboard them. In the same area, the U.S. northern border fort of Khe Sanh—its 11-week Communist siege lifted by the

24,500 Due Induction

Immediate Callup Of Reserves Announced

WASHINGTON (UPI) — 549,500. That was the new level Defense Secretary Clark M. Clifford announced today the immediate call-up of about 24,500 Army, Navy and Air Force reservists. Some 10,000 of them will be sent to South Vietnam.

Clifford made the announcement at his first formal news conference since becoming Pentagon chief on March 1.

He said the Army is calling about 20,000 men in 76 National Guard and Army reserve units. The Navy is calling up approximately 1,000 men in two reserve units. These men will be available for rotation between Southeast Asia and the United States.

The Air Force is calling about 3,500 men in 10 Air National Guard and Air Force reserve units. About a third of these will be sent to Southeast Asia under current plans.

Clifford said the length of service for all of these men will not exceed 24 months. He said notifications were already being sent to all units involved. Each man will have a minimum of 30 days' notice before reporting.

The additional men being sent to Vietnam, Clifford said, will bring the total of American troops serving there to 549,500.

Clifford said he did not believe that the new call-up would adversely affect current peace feelers or give Hanoi the impression that the United States was escalating the war.

Clifford said it is President Johnson's "intention at this time" not to increase U.S. forces in Vietnam beyond

Gray County's Commission OK's Motions

Discussion on reapportionment was deferred until the next meeting of the county commissioners court this morning because of a full slate of other business.

Civil Rights Bill On LBJ's Desk

By ANN WOOD
WASHINGTON (UPI)—An unprecedented civil rights bill forbidding discrimination in most of the nation's housing—given virtually no chance just a few months ago—was on President Johnson's desk today awaiting his signature to become law.

In an emotional session, the House Wednesday sent the bill to the White House on a 250-171 vote in a quick response to the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., and the violence that has wracked the nation in the past week. A cheer went up as the bill passed.

Despite the glee in Capitol Hill and among administration officials, the House action drew a frigid reaction from several of the country's most important Negro leaders.

"This is a great stride toward freedom of white America, but it is barely a step forward for black America," said the Rev. Ralph D. Abernathy, heir to King's leadership of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference.

"New York has had this type of bill for 10 years and we still have the ghetto."

Mississippi civil rights leader Charles Evers, said his reaction was "negative." "Hundreds of laws are on the books and none of them are being enforced," the NAACP official said. "Until they are ready to enforce the ones already passed, why adopt any more?"

The most crucial test came before final passage, when the House nailed in the Senate-passed language of the bill by rejecting, 229-195, a move aimed at detouring it to a conference committee for modifications. Democrats and Republicans split on both votes.

President Johnson called the bill, "a victory for every American."

The bill will outlaw racial discrimination in the sale or rental of 80 per cent of the nation's homes and apartments by 1970. For this year, it will mainly cover federally owned or financed housing already covered by an executive order issued by President Kennedy in 1962.

Protection Asked For Landscaping At Lamar School

A plea was issued today to parents and children in the Lamar Elementary School area to help protect new landscaping around the school.

Mrs. Helen Warren, south of city, district Parent-Teacher Association vice president, said today that vandals had destroyed for the second time, landscaping at the school, installed by volunteer labor performed primarily by parents of the school children.

A committee formed through the school had planted trees and shrubbery around the school yard, some donated and some purchased by individuals, and had completed the job before last weekend. During the weekend, the vandals struck, cutting off the trees at the ground and pulling the shrubs up, roots and all.

The determined group of "landscapers" went back to work and replanted the greenery, replacing that which was too damaged for replanting.

But their work was in vain... the vandals hit again last night and dumped the uprooted shrubbery at the school door.

School children and adults alike were considerably disturbed this morning and there were even some tears shed, Mrs. Warren said.

She repeated her plea late this morning for parents and youngsters in the area to help prevent the same type of destruction.

Kansas City Is Hit By Negro Violence

By United Press International
A business block went up in flames in a Negro section of Kansas City, Mo., Wednesday night and five Negroes were killed as snipers exchanged gunfire with police and National Guardsmen until dawn today.

But the violence that followed the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King a week ago dwindled in most other places in the nation.

The five Negroes, including father and teen-age son, shot to death on Kansas City's East Side Wednesday night, raised the two-day death count there to six. At least nine others were injured and nearly 400 persons were arrested.

Chicago, Baltimore, and Washington, scenes of some of the worst violence, were returning to normal although more than 15,000 federal troops were still on duty in the three cities.

'Pool People's March' In Washington Planned For May By SCLC Group

ATLANTA (UPI)—The Southern Christian Leadership Conference will conduct a "poor people's" march on Washington next month despite the murder of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., organizer of the crusade. King's widow Coretta, who will participate in the demonstration, Wednesday was named to the SCLC board of directors.

Plans now call for Mrs. King to participate in a delayed march on the nation's capital. The crusade her husband conceived was to have begun April 22, but now will be held in mid-May.

Mrs. King and Harry Belafonte, the Negro singer, were named to the board of the SCLC. Board Chairman J.W. Lowery also announced that Dr. Ralph Abernathy, King's chief assistant, was routinely elected to succeed the slain civil rights leader as SCLC president.

Abernathy said the march will begin by the middle of next month. Its route will take it through Memphis, Tenn., where King was assassinated a week ago by a white sniper.

The curious streamed past King's crypt in a southeast

Atlanta cemetery Wednesday, despite a dreary, day-long rain.

He was buried Tuesday afternoon after elaborate funeral services and a funeral procession of more than 150,000 persons.

Abernathy said the "poor people's campaign" will continue to attack "the systems which oppress and abuse poor people, demanding not mere crumbs or a bite of an apple but a full meal, the whole apple of equality, economic security, and a decent way of life to which we are entitled, and which the sick society has denied."

It was hoped that the "discussions" which American officials acknowledge must be held in this connection would bring the assurance President Johnson has said he must have that the Communists will not take advantage of any bombing cessation to increase their military operations and infiltration of the south. The Moscow report that North Vietnam had suggested Warsaw for the initial contacts came in a dispatch by the Soviet news agency Tass from Hanoi. The story said some "authoritative circles" in Hanoi felt the United States balked at Phnom Penh because it wanted to delay the contacts and called attention to Johnson's past statements that American officials were ready to go anywhere in the interests of peace.

After trustees completed board reorganization, Spearman moved that a note of appreciation be written into the minutes "thanking H. Creel Grady for his sincere and hard work on behalf of the board and school district." Grady's last statement before leaving the board room was "thank you gentlemen, goodbye and good luck." The trustees were given four more questions today by Henry Johnson, representative of the Carver Community, but the board decided not to try answering the questions until a superintendent is selected. In his meeting with the board, Johnson read a statement to the board and said representatives of the Community Service League wanted to meet with the board in its next regular meeting May 9. In his statement, Johnson said, "Since your last meeting we have been corresponding with H. E. W. (Health, Education and Welfare) officials in Washington. It's our understanding the responsibility to adopt and implement effective desegregation plans is placed upon the individual school district did in fact seem inadequate of the secretary of HEW. He added, "Their responsibility is to aid in an advisory capacity where local efforts were inadequate. We gather then, that the efforts of this district did in fact seem inadequate." Johnson also said "it appears HEW has a clearer insight into social problems restricting desegregation actions than the board has, or cares to admit. HEW seems to agree with you the use of capital expenditures might not be wise now but for a different reason than the one you gave. "HEW also demands the most rapid, orderly and direct route be taken to meet responsibilities in eliminating a dual school system. It's evident to us, the most rapid and direct route would be to close Carver. We are only sorry that we have accepted up to now a facility that could so easily be shut down because of inadequacy. Only on this point, we know that closing Carver is a necessary fact that we must accept," Johnson said. After thanking the board for "being patient" while the Carver community investigated the situation, Johnson said "We hope you will understand it is the numerous past years of second-hand treatment that has made us suspicious of actions taken in the interest of education, supposedly on behalf of all the children of the school district." Questions Johnson submitted to the board to be "answered at your convenience, hopefully by the scheduled board meeting in May," were: "What plans are being made for re-locating Carver students and teachers? What procedure was used, or will be used, in determining the schools to be attended by Carver students? Will the decision on re-locating students be made public before the 1968 Fall enrollment instructions are issued in late August? What plans are being made for use of the Carver School building?" John Spearman, board member, stated he did "not think these were questions to be answered by the board, but were administrative questions." The board agreed, and also stated that it would not be able to answer the questions until a superintendent is selected. The board also approved employment of Mrs. Esther Yingling and Mrs. Mary Helen Ellis to replace Raymond Lewallen and Mrs. Beth Manning who have resigned as Robert E. Lee Junior High School teachers. The board voted to pay $600 for painting the Optimist Club baseball park fence since Pampa schools use the park for senior high baseball. Newt Secret, Optimist Club representative, made the request, and stated the club would provide labor to eliminate labor cost.

Boat Ramps Construction Is Approved

Several Panhandle projects are included in the 1968 Boat Ramp Program of the Texas Highway Commission. The program calls for the construction of 58 projects in 42 counties. Funds for construction and maintenance of the ramps comes from boat registration fees with future maintenance expected to cost $28.6 thousand per year. Projects include construction of a boat ramp, parking area and access road at Rita Bianca Lake which is four-tenths mile south of FM 281, near Dalhart; construction of a boat ramp, parking area and access road on Baylor Lake, one-half mile west

Television In Review 'Understanding' Is Goal

By RICK DU BROW HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Even as Martin Luther King's funeral was covered extensively Tuesday on television, CBS-TV announced a prime time series aimed at creating better understanding in black-white relations. The network said that starting July 2, it will present a seven program series entitled "Of Black America," tracing the "history of the Negro and relating it to his place in the United States today." There will be six one-hour programs and one half-hour broadcast. The air dates, in addition to July 2, are July 9, 16, 23 and 30, and Aug. 13 and 20.

Richard S. Salant president of CBS News, said that with television's great reach, the network hopes the series "can make some contribution in starting to fill the gaps both for Negroes and for whites."

It is good that CBS-TV has the series in proper perspective, for it is indeed hardly more than a start, although a significant one. And the job that television can do in helping provide better community relations is important to every American, regardless of race.

Television, the most cautious of all the media because of its basic function—to sell products—is light years behind in the job it is uniquely equipped to lead: bringing immediate, visual, face-to-face and dramatic understanding of the race problem, at least trying to.

Urges Continuation For example, one would think that after this summer series, the networks could spare several of their inane situation comedy or violent action series in order to bring the nation regular weekly programming facing this problem. "Of Black America" is a start, but "Of Black and White America" is surely in order too.

According to Salant, "Of Black America" will be presented in a magazine format.

Backstairs At The White House

By MERRIMAN SMITH UPI White House Reporter WASHINGTON (UPI)—Backstairs at the White House: it was possible from behind White House fences to get fleeting glimpses of what was happening to America's image abroad during violence that swept many cities after the death of Dr. Martin Luther King.

There was an urgent telephone call to the White House Sunday from London. One of America's better known columnists, Rowland Evans, was flying over the Atlantic aboard a commercial airliner bound for Washington.

Safe Conduct The Airline's London office wanted to arrange, through the good offices of the White House, "safe conduct" for Evans from Dulles International Airport in suburban Virginia to the columnist's home in the fashionable Georgetown section of Washington.

The conclusion at this end of the overseas call was that the British airline people, in concern for a passenger, thought Washington had been turned into one large battleground.

Actually, the route from Dulles to Georgetown was far from—the area of the nation's capital where the disorders were centered. But the impression abroad must have been that the entire town was in flames.

Worried African diplomats telephoned both the White House and State Department for advice on what to do during the worst of the Washington violence.

The Advice The advice was to stay away from the trouble area and conform with the curfew, although police and soldiers probably would not have been too stringent in curfew enforcement for vehicles bearing diplomatic license plates.

There has been no rioting close to the White House, although there was some looting only two blocks from 1600 Pennsylvania Ave.

PRIVATE DRIVE EPHRATA, Wash. (UPI)—Sterling Whitener found himself the surprised owner today of a stretch of superhighway, complete with an overpass and part of a cloverleaf.

Superior Court Judge Felix Rea ruled that Whitener owns the portion of Interstate 90 that passes over land acquired from him because the state failed to fulfill its promise to build a driveway.

It isn't clear whether Whitener is entitled to collect tolls from passing cars.

Fresh strawberry and cheese pie for Easter.

Strawberry Cheese Pie Salutes April Holiday Dessert Appetite

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food Editor

Although fresh strawberries nowadays are available all year round (prices change, of course), the peak season is from April through June. That makes a glamorous fresh strawberry cheese pie a natural for the Spring-Easter festivities.

Strawberries are rich in vitamin C. Served unadorned to be dipped in powdered sugar, they are always a welcome dish. Welcome, too, in many fruit cups, desserts and in jams. But for the gala Easter feast try this pie.

STRAWBERRY CHEESE PIE

1 envelope unflavored gelatin
1 cup cold water
1 container (8-ounces) cottage cheese
1 package (8-ounces) cream cheese, softened
1/4 cup milk
1 tablespoon fresh lemon juice
1/2 cup sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
9-inch baked pastry shell
1 pint strawberries, washed and hulled
1/4 cup chopped pecans
1 tablespoon light corn syrup

Soften gelatin in cold water. Dissolve over boiling water; reserve. Sieve cottage cheese into bowl. Add cream cheese; beat with electric mixer until well-blended. Gradually add milk; beat well. Mix in lemon juice, sugar, salt and dissolved gelatin. Pour half of mixture into pastry shell; chill 15 minutes. Reserve half of berries for top. Slice remaining berries and arrange over cheese layer in pastry shell. Sprinkle pecans over berries. Carefully pour remaining cheese mixture over berries. Chill about 1 hour or until set. Halve remaining berries and arrange in a double border on top. Brush berries with corn syrup. Chill until serving time. Makes one 9-inch pie.

Serve Appetizer Of Crab Specialty

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food Editor

Easter dinner calls for something graceful and delicate and out of the ordinary. That's why we think you will enjoy these crab meat timbales and shrimp remoulade, both specialties of Brennan's Restaurant in New Orleans.

CRAB MEAT TIMBALES

1 chopped pimento
4 chopped anchovies
1/2 cup mayonnaise
3 tablespoons unflavored gelatin
1 cup wine vinegar
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 can crab meat (or equivalent in fresh crab)

Dissolve gelatin in cup with vinegar. In a bowl, mix together mayonnaise, chopped pimento and anchovies. Season with salt and pepper. Add crab meat and then add mixture of gelatin and vinegar. Mix well. Place in small cups or molds. Refrigerate for at least an hour. Unmold on lettuce to serve.

Puffed Zucchini, New Easter Dish

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Nutrition Editor

Zucchini's are those small, very narrow green squashes so loved by the Italians — and more and more by Americans. How about trying them in some form for your Easter dinner?

This recipe produces a light and tender dish, almost like a soufflé. Goes perfectly with your Easter roast.

PUFFED-UP ZUCCHINI

4 cups chopped zucchini
1 cup chopped onion
1/4 cup water
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/8 teaspoon pepper
1 tablespoon grated horseradish
1 egg, slightly beaten
1 cup coarse cracker crumbs
3 tablespoons butter or margarine

Combine zucchini and onion in saucepan. Add water, cover and cook until tender, about 15 minutes. Drain well. Mash zucchini, onion; add butter, salt, pepper and horseradish. Cool. Add egg and mix thoroughly. Pour into greased 1-quart bak-

Rack of lamb for Easter dinner.

With Easier Techniques, Try Roast Rack of Lamb

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food Editor

For Easter dinner, a roast rack of lamb makes a good dish. We pretested one at the Four Seasons in New York, a deluxe and world-famous restaurant.

But as they have many skilled chefs and highly trained assistants, their method of preparation is a bit too sophisticated for the average home. Therefore, we have simplified their method for use in the home kitchen, but the general tone and appearance are the same.

ROAST RACK OF LAMB PERILLEE

2 (3 1/2-lb. each) racks of lamb
1/2 cup instant minced onion
1/2 teaspoon instant minced garlic
2 carrots, diced
2 cups white wine
2 teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon thyme leaves
1/2 teaspoon ground black pepper
2 bay leaves, crumbled

6 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 cup fine dry bread crumbs
1/2 cup parsley flakes
1 tablespoon instant minced onion

Protect ends of bones by covering with aluminum foil. Place lamb on rack in roasting pan. Roast for 20 minutes in a preheated 450-degree oven. Meanwhile, combine instant onion and garlic with 1/4-cup water. Let stand for 10 minutes for onion and garlic to soften. Add carrots and spoon into pan around rack along with 2 cups of water and wine. Combine salt, thyme, pepper and bay leaves; sprinkle over meat. Reduce heat to 350 degrees; roast 1 hour longer, basting with pan juices. Melt butter in a saucepan. Mix in bread crumbs, parsley flakes and instant onion; cook until crumbs are golden. Sprinkle over lamb 10 minutes before cooking time is up. Six servings.

For Easter Dinner, Cook Spring Lamb

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food Editor

Spring lamb is always popular for Easter. But in many parts of the country a handsome baked ham seems to be the favorite choice of many. Particularly so when ham is a bargain.

As most people today seem to prefer the ready-to-cook hams, read carefully the instructions on cooking printed on the wrapper. As to glazes, there are many. We think this one made of a light corn syrup and orange marmalade particularly pleasant.

Mustard with ham, of course.

ing dish. Top with crumbs that have been browned in the 3 extra tablespoons of butter or margarine. Bake in moderate (350-degree) oven 30 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

But for a change, try this fluffy mustard sauce made with whipped cream, mayonnaise, Tabasco and as much prepared mustard as your taste indicates. But keep it relatively strong. It's mustard sauce basically, remember.

GLAZE FOR EASTER HAM

1/2 cup dark corn syrup
1/2 cup orange marmalade

Mix corn syrup and orange marmalade. Brush on ham during the last 30 minutes of baking. Makes 1 cup glaze or enough for 1 (12 to 14-pound) ham.

FLUFFY MUSTARD SAUCE

1/2 cup real mayonnaise
2 tablespoons prepared mustard, or more to taste

Dash salt
Dash Tabasco sauce
1 cup heavy cream, whipped
Fold mayonnaise, mustard,

FOREIGN NEWS COMMENTARY

It's Hanoi's Decision

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

Vietnamese have found it possible to act against the wishes of the United States, their chief ally and supplier, so that it is Hanoi, independent of either Moscow or Peking, that will decide the time and manner of Vietnam peace talks.

The reasons are the same. When the United States lifted South Vietnam to the same level of importance as West Berlin, the South Vietnamese concluded the United States could not afford to abandon them except under circumstances as to be almost unimaginable.

And when Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin declared the Soviet Union would not permit North Vietnam to lose the war, the North achieved the same leverage over Moscow.

Peking is similarly committed.

One example of Hanoi's determination to conduct its own strategy came last fall when Gen. Vo Nguyen Giap, North Vietnam's defense minister, refused a Soviet request that he delete public acknowledgment of Chinese support from an article he wrote to be published in a Soviet newspaper.

Similarly, Giap ignored Chinese advice to abandon large unit action against American forces and to fall back to a guerrilla strategy.

The war has been expensive to both Moscow and Peking.

During a visit to Russia last fall one of the most frequent complaints heard by this correspondent was what the "American" war in Vietnam was costing the Communist bloc. From the North Vietnamese official press have come complaints of official corruption and sabotage.

The high cost of war is obvious to everyone. But so are the difficulties in the way of stopping it.

Weatherman Says Tornado Death Toll Could Be Sliced

By PATRICK HAND
United Press International

A U.S. Weather Bureau spokesman has predicted the annual death toll in tornadoes could be cut in half if people would only take a minimum of precaution.

Allan Pearson, director of the National Severe Weather Forecast Center at Kansas City, Mo., said severe storm forecasts saved the lives of about 100 persons in his area alone last year.

He predicts a "real push" in the next two to three years to get "people, and especially community groups, involved to create an awareness of tornado precautions that are necessary for survival."

Tornadoes kill an average of 123 persons each year and injure thousands. Twisters are most frequent, although they can strike at any time, during the months of April, May and June in a six-state complex—Arkansas, Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, Missouri and Nebraska—known as "tornado alley."

The tornado season officially opened last Wednesday night when twisters spun out of a series of thunderstorms from Arkansas to Alabama, killing a dozen persons.

"All we're asking," Pearson said, "is for civil groups to join with the Weather Bureau for the benefit of all the people in their community."

Ingredients for a tornado are warm, moist air from the Gulf of Mexico, cold air from the north, dry hot air from the southwest and a low pressure system causing showers or thunderstorms.

The trigger is a jetstream.

The Environmental Science Services Administration (ESSA) reported 1967 as the third worst year in tornado history, with 837 tornadoes and 117 persons killed.

Texas and Missouri ranked 1-2 as tornado states. There were 158 storms in Texas and seven deaths, as compared with Missouri's 70 twisters and eight deaths.

The record 896 tornadoes was reported in 1965.

A Norman, Okla., weather specialist feels more tornadoes may occur this season because of a colder and wetter winter that has just passed.

"There is slight evidence to the effect that following a severe winter there is a more than average outbreak of spring thunderstorms which spawn tornadoes," said Neil Ward, research meteorologist at the National Severe Storm Laboratory.

Texas Woman Says Young Negro Saved Her

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A Negro youth opened the door and got in Mrs. Jennie Grindberg's car last week in the midst of a crowd of rioting Negroes, and she says his presence there probably saved her life.

Mrs. Grindberg, executive secretary of Texas Rep. Earle Cabell of Dallas, said her automobile was surrounded by about 150-200 Negro youths as she drove from the District of Columbia toward her home in Hyattsville, Md.

The crowd of youths milled around the automobile, rocking it, throwing rocks and shouting. "Let's show her. Let's show her," Mrs. Grindberg said. She did not know that only a short time earlier her husband and four children had driven into the same mob and were also harassed before escaping.

She said the youths were screaming profanity and four or five adult women, standing on the sidewalk, encouraged the youths, yelling, "Drag her out. We'll show her."

She said she could hear the shouts of one youth above the roar of the crowd. "Please, please let me come in. Trust me," he said. Mrs. Grindberg said the youth insisted that she not get out. He reached through the window on the driver's side, unlocked the back door and got in, she said.

"When he entered my car, from that point, they left me alone," she said. The crowd tried to get the youth, about 14, to leave the car, "but he wouldn't listen."

"I feel indebted to him for my life," Mrs. Grindberg said.

The Crack Of A Rifle Sparked A Wave Of Destruction

April is the cruellest month, breeding
Lilacs out of dead land, mixing
Memory and desire, stirring
Dull roots with spring rain.
—T.S. Eliot, "The Waste Land"

By MIKE FEINSILBER
WASHINGTON (UPI)—April arrived in America and the United States had had enough of winter.

It had suffered the insult of a questioned dollar, the injury of the Pueblo, the fear of siege at Khe Sanh and the direct diagnosis of the President's National Advisory Commission on Civil Disorders which saw forming "two societies," one white, one black—separate and unequal.

On the last day of March the President went on television, renounced political ambition and was saluted in Congress for sacrifice and statesmanship. And—profoundly surprising—the Communist regime in North Vietnam said the electric word: "Talks."

Then came the crack of a rifle. Martin Luther King was in Memphis, preparing to march again. He had led a march there in support of garbage men, mostly Negroes, who were on strike for union recognition and the dues checkoff. The march had erupted into riot, embarrassing King, who preached that nonviolence was not yet out of season in America.

Fatal Outing
King stepped onto the second floor porch of a Negro hotel in Memphis, the Lorraine. A companion called up from the street that he'd better wear his overcoat; the evening promised to be chilly. King leaned down to hear him say something else.

Across the street, from a bathroom in what was described as "a flophouse," a single bullet from a Remington pump rifle equipped with a telescopic sight was fired, mortally wounding King. The marksman—escaped. King, 39, a Georgia preacher, son of a preacher, the intense advocate of nonviolence, the Nobel Prize Peace winner, "de Lawd" to younger black militants, but chiefly the nation's bridge between the black man in the slum and the white man in power, died in the same hospital emergency room where James Meredith had been treated. Meredith was wounded from ambush while on a one-man march from Memphis to Jackson, Miss., in the summer of 1966.

Within two hours of King's death the President of the United States, who on Sunday had prayed for peace in Vietnam on television, was again on television, soliciting national prayer "for peace and understanding throughout this land."

No Politics
Having paid $250 each, about 2,400 Democrats were eating in the ballroom of the Washington Hilton and it promised to be a heady political evening. The President was to speak and so was Hubert H. Humphrey and the Democrats would listen closely for that careful wisecrack a politician who is not quite ready to announce uses to say: "I'm running, fellows."

Instead, when Humphrey rose he said: "Martin Luther King has been shot and he is dead."
"We are steeped in violence," said Sen. Frank Church of Idaho. "It is the curse of the land."

The sun had not yet set in California when the first stone was thrown and the first stone credit television set was stolen.

The South reacted first. Automobiles were stoned in Birmingham. Police used disabling gas in Raleigh for crowd control. Two policemen were shot in Memphis. A furniture store was looted in Miami.

Trying magic again in the nation's biggest Negro community, Mayor John V. Lindsay left the Broadway show he was attending and walked Harlem's streets. In Greensboro, N.C., Gov. Dan K. Moore called out the National Guard.

In Baltimore, police sent a mobile command station into the heart of the riot area and used it to dispatch radio cars with such speed that they often arrived at the scene of an incident within a minute after the first report to police.

Riot control training programs, inaugurated by many police departments since last summer, also have paid rich dividends. Pittsburgh's special tactical force, which has spent many hours drilling in riot control tactics, has moved into explosive situations with a dash and discipline that would do credit to a crack military unit.

More Riot Training
After the performances of poorly trained guardsmen was sharply criticized in Detroit and Newark last summer, the Army issued new regulations requiring every guard unit to receive 32 hours of instruction in riot control tactics. The training laid heavy emphasis on the need for restraint, particularly in dealing with real or imaginary snipers.

Guardsmen are now told that their objective is to prevent civil disturbances from turning into a type of guerrilla warfare. They are taught how to use tear gas, rather than gunfire, to cope with threatening crowds.

Besides drastically reducing the amount of bloodshed, the new techniques appear to produce less bitterness and racial estrangement. Negro groups protested vehemently against what they called an excessive and indiscriminate use of violence by law enforcement officers in Newark and Detroit. But in Washington the President of the local chapter of the National Association for Advancement of Colored People, H. Carl Moultrie, has publicly praised the police and military.

"They have handled the situation beautifully," he said.

Trouble Widespread
Before the day ended, disorder was reported also in Nashville, Tenn., Tallahassee, Charlotte, Winston-Salem, New Bern and Wilmington, N.C., Hartford, Conn., Detroit, Mich., Itta Bena and Jackson Miss., Tampa, Fla., Syracuse, Monticello, Ithaca, and Tarrytown, N.Y., Tuscaloosa, Ala. and Washington D.C.

Friday morning in a Washington slum, at the headquarters of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee, Stokely Carmichael speaking:

"As for Dr. King's murder, I think white America made its biggest mistake when she killed Dr. King last night because when she killed Dr. King last night, she killed the one man of our race that this country's older generations, the militants and the revolutionaries and the masses of black people would still listen to. Even though sometimes he did not agree with them, they would still listen to him."
"When white America killed Dr. King, she opened the eyes of every black man in this country...he was the one man in our race who was trying to teach our people to have love, compassion and mercy for what white people had done. When white America killed Dr. King last night, she declared war on us. There will be no crying and there will be no funeral..."

The Gazetteer of violence added Boston, Mass., Lansing, Mich., Chicago, Baltimore Md., Kan. Albany, Ga., Savannah, Ga., Atlanta, Ga. Lorman Clarksdale, Holly Springs, Greenwood and Oxford, Miss., Denver, Colo., Palo Alto, Calif.,

Berkeley, Calif., Dayton, Ohio, Philadelphia, Pa., New Haven, Conn., Pine Bluff, Ark.

At the White House: President Johnson again went on television:

"Once again, the heart of America is heavy—the spirit of America weeps—for tragedy denies the very meaning of our land. The life of a man who symbolized the freedom and faith of America has been taken. But it is the fiber and fabric of the republic that is being tested. If we are to have the America that we mean to have, all men—of all races, all regions, all religions—must stand their ground to deny violence its victory in this sorrowful time and in all times to come."

Outside the White House that Friday, young Negroes pranced by the steel gates with their booty of stolen radios, defying the guards: "Shoot me, kill me!"

Washington is a city of 485,000 Negroes and 285,000 whites, the government, no model city in America with slums equal to any, a city dependent upon an often indifferent Congress for government, no model city in a place where "model cities" are legislated about.

Now in rancor, one Washington spilled over the other. Fleeing to their town houses and apartment towers in the suburbs, civil servants released from their desks early drove through the city's streets and had to turn on their headlights in daylight to see through the acrid smoke of burning slums.

Troops Guard Capital
For the first time since President Hoover had the bonus marchers chased away 36 years ago, federal troops—ultimately 11,600 of them—occupied

Washington. American troops mustered on the lawn of the White House and machine gun emplacements stood on the front steps of the Capitol.

Downtown store windows were smashed a short stroll from the White House. Ambassadors in the safety of their embassies could hear the scream of sirens and see the glow of slums in flames. What they said of this in their diplomatic dispatches to their own capitals must have made interesting reading.

The White House "situation room" is normally the nerve center of the American government at time of international crisis in the Middle East or Cuba or Budapest. Now it (See RIFLE, Page 11)

Study Club Group Rates Blue Ribbons

Miss Jimmie Lou Waincott, Gray County home demonstration agent, presented the program for Varietas Study Club in the home of Mrs. Otis Nace recently.

Mrs. F. A. Cary, club vice-president, presided. She announced the club won the only blue ribbon given for Class C (towns over 20,000) at the Top of Texas District convention in Borger March 21-22. Varietas Club won five first places and six second places, thus winning its blue-ribbon award. Clubs were graded on types of programs, community service, library service, yearbook, publicity, president's report, and other phases of club work.

The theme was Home Demonstration, with the sub-title, "Keep on your toes — and you won't run down at the heel!" Mrs. Cary presented Miss Waincott, who spoke on "Clothing and You". She presented slides to illustrate her talk, which was a comprehensive discussion of the value of correct clothing.

She stressed clothes should be chosen to give the wearer (1) a sense of belonging to the group in which she lives and works; (2) the self-confidence which every woman needs to maintain her feeling of well-being; and (3) a sense of self-acceptance and individuality which will give her the personal

"The Shakesiest Gun in the West"

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I teach a class in our high school called "Preparation for Living." Four years ago, a student brought an item from your column to class. We discussed it, and later it was posted on the bulletin board. Many students copied it.

Abby, teachers and mothers can talk themselves blue in the face, but no one can get through to young people like "one of their own" who has lived through the experience and learned from it.

The letter I refer to was signed "A SORRY SAILOR" and told the sad story of what can happen when teenagers indulge in sex. I am enclosing that letter with the hope that you will run it again. Thank you.

M.J.E.
DEAR ABBY: Over the years I have often wanted to give you a piece of my mind about your old-fashioned attitude towards sex and teenagers. However, I started dating a girl two years younger than I. We fell head over heels in love. Our parents were friends and were overjoyed. They gave us complete freedom. When I would go to her house, her folks would go to bed early so we could be alone. At first we just cuddled on the couch and watched TV.

It was wonderful. We were together, alone, some times as often as six nights a week. We started necking a little, and then all the time. I started getting a little fresh, and she resisted, but she finally gave in from fear of losing me.

Anyway, one thing led to another, and before we knew it, we had gone too far. We started feeling guilty about what we were doing, but we consoled ourselves that we were "in love," that as soon as she was out of school we'd be married—so what difference did it make? One night we had a terrible argument, and although it had nothing to do with sex, I know it would never have happened if we had behaved ourselves.

Anyway, she hit me and I hit her back. I have never forgiven myself for that and I don't believe I ever will. She went running home, and told her mother EVERYTHING that had happened between us. You can imagine what happened after that.

I was going to college at the time. I couldn't keep my mind on my studies. I just wanted to lie down and die. Finally, I knew I was flunking out, so I quit college and joined the Navy.

I saw her on the street just once before I left for basic training. She cried and told me she still felt the same about me and was sorry for what she had done, but it was too late then. Her parents had refused to let her see me. Four months ago I was in college and I had the girl I loved. We had our whole lives mapped out.

Now I am on an island in the Pacific, thousands of miles from home.

I'd give anything in the world if my girl had stuck by her guns and I hadn't been so persistent. Any girl who thinks she has to put out to keep a guy is crazy. I would have stayed with her if she'd only have let me hold her hand.

But I guess I was like every other boy: Selfish.

I am sorry now, and would give anything for a second chance, but I'll never get it. I love that girl with all my heart and I will love her for the rest of my life.

Please keep telling teens and parents what you have in the past. Parents don't know what can happen when they push their kids into being adults. And kids don't realize they are playing with dynamite when they experiment with sex.

You may use all of this letter, or any part of it, Abby, to help get the point across to young people. It is something that can't be stressed too strongly because the stakes are so high. Just sign me...

Astrological Forecast

By CARROLL RIGHTER

(FOR FRIDAY, APRIL 12)
GENERAL TENDENCIES: Today's coming Full Moon can bring sudden and startling changes in almost anything you are doing, so be on the lookout. To a large number of people, the Full Moon brings a sense of power and gives them a chance to know your standpoint and to help you make them a big success. Be equally helpful to others who are in need.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19): You are desirous of riding yourself of unwanted conditions and replacing with the new and efficient, so do just that today. A partner gives you a challenge. Acceptance will lead to better things.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20): The influence of the Full Moon can now cause you to get much accomplished and to make your surroundings more charming. Use the slightly different methods that have been suggested to you.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21): If you are entertaining and do something helpful for good friends, you now gain their good will and further favors. Show your interest in a very direct way. Stop being so reticent about spending a little money.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21): Showing higher-ups that you are most efficient in your work makes a big impression now. Many situations are ripe for being more positive from highest. Be sure to rise to the situations very admirably.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21): A good day to run around here and there and cementing better relations with everyone, especially your closest friends. Don't hesitate to speak up where some situation is puzzling. Get all cleared up.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22): Study your financial position accurately and see where you can advance and quickly, no matter what category you fall into. Listen to what financial advisors have to suggest. Follow through.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22): You know exactly how to have better rapport with worthwhile persons who can be helpful to you in the future. Be sure to dress nicely, then out to meet new personalities. Also have a charming manner.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21): Take care you do not permit some fast operators to get you to invest unwisely. This is a good day to go after that piece of data that has not been forthcoming before this. Use patience and diplomacy to get right results.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21): Discussing personal matters with a good pal can bring just the right advice, ideas especially regarding some attachment. Join that social club that can bring you pleasure, etc., later on. Be your most charming self.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): You need to divide your attention between some home problem as well as an outside matter. Learn what it is that an influential person expects of you and do your utmost to please. Show that you are a loyal supporter.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): It is far better to cooperate with others now instead of endeavoring to change their plans, as is often your habit. Some romantic opportunity presents itself that can lead in something ideal later on.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): You find that duties have piled up on you during this Full Moon, so detour right into them and leave evening open for romance. Others may pressure you to pay some bill. Do so without further procrastination. IF YOU WERE BORN TODAY, he or she will be one of those interesting people who wave from behind a wonderful peacemaker to the opposite, to being a veritable ball of fire.

Flower Society Attends Program

The Pampa Rose Society attended a program recently in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Holly Gray, 1236 Williston, with Mrs. W. L. Campbell, president, presiding.

Mrs. Holly Gray presented a program on "The Importance of Roses in the Life of Man." A color documentary film of Rose-down Plantation and Gardens, St. Francisville, La., was also presented.

Rosedown is a restored plantation empire on the Louisiana Great River Road which symbolizes the golden years of the South at the height of its glory. Like Colonial Williamsburg, this living museum of the Old South is open daily, with hostesses and guides in attendance, Mrs. Gray said.

"The showplace was built in 1835 by Daniel Turnbull, a wealthy planter, for his wife, Martha Barrow Turnbull. The couple shopped in the sophisticated capitals of Europe for treasures and furnishings. In Italy, they purchased Carrara statuary to be placed between the great trees in the oak avenue.

"An experimental horticulturist, Martha Turnbull, developed the gardens of Rosedown in the French landscape style of the 17th century.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Underwood of Houston rescued Rosedown from ruin when they purchased the showplace in 1956 and restored it as it was in the mid 1800's. The film is the story of the 10-year restoration, Mrs. Gray said.

AAUW Hears Writers As March Guest Speakers

Mrs. Otis Nace, who writes under the name of Evelyn Pierce Nace, and Mrs. Skeet Gregory, as writer Bernice Gregory, were guest speakers for the American Association of University Women. Mrs. Gregory is president of the Pen Women's Club.

The two speakers discussed the writing profession. The group was told the author of any period writes what the people of any period want to read. "Escape literature" is published in a small amount. Historical literature tells of the era.

Modern day authors must begin their story at once, and not pause for descriptions. This is included in the dialogue or setting, the speakers said.

Today's writer, if he expects to sell a story, must write realistically. People today like fiction.

Urban Areas To Carry Blunt Of 1985 College Enrollments

AUSTIN (UPI)—Eight Texas counties will have to handle 53 per cent of the college enrollment in 1985 when the number of students have more than doubled, the College Coordinating Board has predicted.

The board said the counties will be Dallas, Tarrant, Harris, Bexar, El Paso, Nueces, Jefferson and Travis.

"It is clear the problem of providing adequate educational opportunity is first and foremost an urban one," the board said. Based on a study of the state's population growth, the board said 1985 enrollment

Parents, Churches Said Lacking In Teaching 'Good Will' To Children

By PATRICIA MCCORMACK
NEW YORK (UPI)—The opposite of prejudice is goodwill. And in the wake of Martin Luther King Jr.'s assassination, from the White House to wherever people bent their heads in sorrow, the state of good will in the United States came up.

It was weighed and found wanting. For parents, who watched their children reacting to events of the last several days with grief akin to that shown when President Kennedy died, there was this question: "Am I raising a child of good will—or one seeded with hate, not only toward Negroes but toward anyone who is different?"

Dr. James M. Eagan, head of the raising children of good will project of the National Conference of Christians and Jews, told me in a recent interview: "In general, youth is less prejudiced than adults."

In good will workshops conducted by Dr. Eagan, young lists will have no meaning unless Congress appropriates more money or other states fail to use all their funds.

The President now dispatched troops to Chicago and Baltimore, Washington at last was peaceful.

A few days before the rifle shot in Memphis, the wheels of bureaucracy had completed one task here and produced a handsome paperbound book, thicker than the Bible, containing the complete text of the report on the President's National Advisory Commission on Civil Disorders.

On page 265 appeared the conclusion, which read:

"It is time now to end the destruction and the violence, not only in the streets of the ghetto but in the lives of people."

White Deer's Bucks with Jimmy Ryals scoring 26 points won the District 1-A track meet in Sunray Tuesday.

Fairbanks said, "The people of Pampa may not realize what an outstanding coach they have in Swede Lee. It's unusual for a high school to have a man of his caliber."

SWIMMING LESSONS
The parents of children in Pampa should take time to enroll their children in the swimming lessons given at the Youth and Community Center. It is vitally important for a child to know how to swim for more than just one reason.

"The most obvious reason is, of course, the ability to save themselves when in deep water. But a child needs to know how to swim so that he or she can be in the 'in crowd', and that is an important aspect of a child's upbringing."

I was a freshman before I took a swimming course. I still can't swim too well, but I can swim now and enjoy it very much. I was really afraid of the water and I was left out of many social outings because I couldn't swim.

It gives a child a big psychological lift to know that he knows how to do something well, whether it can be swimming or running or playing a piano or guitar.

Jack, Arnie Begin Masters Today

By JOHN G. GRIFFIN
UPI Executive Sports Editor
AUGUSTA, Ga. (UPI)—Big guns Jack Nicklaus and Arnold Palmer, firing over lush fairways especially suited to their power, tee off today co-favorites in the 32nd Masters golf championship despite the "problems" both have been having recently.

Jack Nicklaus

The fairways and greens of the 6,980-yard Augusta National course were "unusually lush" because of warm weather and recent rains as a small field of 74 set out on the four-day campaign for the first of the big titles of the 1968 golf season.

Gay Brewer, victor a year ago with an 8-under-par 280, was the nominal head of the field but the Dallas, Tex., star wasn't one of the favorites because he hasn't won a single tournament since that time. Instead, the role of 7-2 favorites fell on Nicklaus and Palmer, the giants who have won the Masters a total of seven of the last 10 years.

Welskopf Contender
Also highly-regarded are young Tom Welskopf, the current official money leader of the pro golf tour with over $68,000 in the bank, and curly-haired Tony Jacklin of England, who two weeks ago became the

Stephens Hopes For Good Friday With Palo Duro

With a five game losing streak hounding them, the Pampa Harvester baseball team takes on the Palo Duro Dons at Pampa's Optimist Club tomorrow at 4 p.m. with Coach Bobby Stephens hoping it will be a Good Friday in more than one way.

Last Saturday the arch-rival Borger Bulldogs whipped the Harvesters, 5-1. Tascosa put it on the Pañanos, 8-4, in a game played earlier in the week. Estacado, Coronado and Caprock all beat the Harvesters before that. Only a pair of wins over highly-ranked Monterey and not-so-highly ranked Lubbock High keeps the Pampa diamond corps from being completely winless in District 3-AAAA.

Palo Duro is a leading contender for the title in the conference. Pampa is just about out of it now. The loss of Alan Woodard on the mound for the Harvesters was a big blow to the come-back hopes of Coach Stephens.

Stephens has been experimenting with his line up but seems to be having little success. Amarillo High comes to play at 1 p.m. Saturday at Optimist Park against PHS.

of the 1968 pro golf tour who have won two tournaments this year. Despite his other honors, Casper, a two-time winner of the U.S. Open, never has finished better than fourth in the Masters and that was eight years ago.

Nicklaus and Palmer would have been rated the favorites anyway, in view of their domination of the Masters, but the grass conditions cinched it, making the course play "extremely long."

Light Hitters Suffer
Tournament Director Cliff Roberts explained that continued warm weather and especially warm nights, plus a new blend of four winter grasses, had combined to produce an "unusually lush condition of the greens and fairways this year." As a result, the light hitters aren't getting any "dividend" roll on the fairways. The only golfers getting any distance are the clouters—and that means chiefly Nicklaus and Palmer.

Nicklaus is burning like a man with a mission. The Ohio strong boy was humiliated in 1967 when he failed to make the cutoff after 36 holes by a single stroke. The defeat forced him to reconstruct his game and, although he came back to win the U.S. Open later in the year, Nicklaus is anxious to wipe out completely the memory of last spring.

Palmer, the only four-time Masters champion, last won here in 1964 and last year finished fourth.

The field will be cut to the low 44 and ties, plus any other

Red Sox Open With Victory

By FRED DOWN
UPI Sports Writer

The Boston Red Sox opened the 1968 American League season the same way they closed the 1967 campaign—with cheers ringing out for slugger Carl Yastrzemski and Manager Dick Williams saying, "I told you so."

The Twins defeated the Chicago White Sox 9-0, the Baltimore Orioles shaded the Oakland Athletics 3-1 and the New York Yankees nipped the California Angels 1-0 in other American League openers.

The Cincinnati Reds drubbed the Chicago Cubs 9-4, the San Francisco Giants defeated the New York Mets 5-4, Houston edged Pittsburgh 5-4, St. Louis beat Atlanta 2-1 and Philadelphia blanked Los Angeles 2-0 in National League openers.

Petrocelli's double scored Reggie Smith and Joe Lahoud in the second inning and he singled with the bases filled to drive in another run in the sixth. Yastrzemski's first homer went into the upper right field stands of Tiger Stadium and his second was inside-the-park. Ellsworth allowed nine hits and struck out five as the Red Sox beat former teammate Earl Wilson, a 22-game winner in 1967, for the first time in six meetings.

Homers by Harmon Killebrew and Bob Allison gave Deane Chance all the runs he needed to out-pitch Camilo Pascual before a crowd that included Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey in Washington, C.C. Chance, a 20-game winner last season, struck out eight, walked none and faced only 31 batters.

Siebert Pitches Two-Hitter
Sonny Siebert pitched a two-hitter behind a Cleveland barrage of nine extra base hits which included two homers by Duke Sims and one by Max Alvis. The Indians' 13-hit attack routed 19-game winner Joe Horlen after seven innings.

Boog Powell drove in one run with a sacrifice fly and scored another on Dave Johnson's double in the Orioles' victory. Brooks Robinson accounted for the Orioles' third run with a homer as Tom Phoebus got the victory with late-inning relief help from John O'Donoghue, Moe Drabowsky and Eddie Watt.

Frank Fernandez homered in the second inning and Mel Stottlemyre pitched a four-hitter as the Yankees topped 19-game loser George Brunet.

Who'll Survive The Playoff?

By United Press International

The question is not who's going to win the playoff between the Philadelphia 76ers and Boston Celtics — but who's going to survive it.

The heated rivals resumed their Eastern Division finals series in Boston Wednesday night and the game resembled a backyard brawl.

There were a near fight on the court, three technical fouls, a shattered backboard and an official knocked groggy. And when it was all over, the 76ers had a 115-106 triumph that knotted the best-of-seven series at 1-1. The third game will be played tonight in Philadelphia.

In the Western Division finals Los Angeles topped San Francisco to take a 2-0 lead in their best-of-seven series. The third game will be played tonight in San Francisco.

Larry Siegfried and Hal Greer nearly came to blows at one point and Wilt Chamberlain had shoving sessions with both Bill Russell and Wayne Embry.

Referee Menedy Rudolph was knocked semi-conscious in the second period when he was accidentally hit by Boston's Sam Jones.

Walle Jones led the balanced 76er attack with 24 points. John Havlicek had 22 points for the Celts in the losing cause.

Elgin Baylor and Jerry West — still the great 1-2 combo of the Lakers — scored 36 points each as Los Angeles downed San Francisco.

Pipers, Bucs Win On Road in Play offs

By United Press International

The Pittsburgh Pipers and the New Orleans Buccaneers have both turned a disadvantage into a welcome bonus.

Playing away from home, where victories traditionally are harder to come by, Pittsburgh beat the Minnesota Muskies 107-99 Wednesday night and New Orleans overcame the Dallas Chapparals 110-107.

The triumphs gave the Pipers and Bucs 2-1 edges in their respective best-of-seven divisional finals in the American Basketball Association playoffs.

Connie Hawkins scored 32 points and Chico Vaughn added 28 for the Pipers, who took the lead for good with 1:32 left in the first half on a layup by Vaughn. Les Hunter paced the Muskies with 27 points, but missed eight of 21 foul attempts.

New Orleans had to struggle harder for its victory, moving in front for the final time with only 2:34 remaining in the Jones (23). However, Dallas contest on a short jumper by forward Cincy Powell topped all James Jones that made the scorers with 33 points.

On Saturday night, Pittsburgh score 104-102.

Six players hit in double will be back at Minnesota and figures for the Bucs, who were Dallas will be at New Orleans.

Universal Language

For centuries, men have tinkered with the creation of a universal language. The 19th century in particular saw a whole raft of proposals, including the best known, Esperanto.

Not until our own time, however, have people other than linguists or philosophers been seriously concerned with the idea. As the world shrinks at the same time as knowledge expands, many believe that such a tool of international communication and understanding is becoming an urgent necessity.

In fact, in the opinion of a popular publication for language students, "If the linguists of the world do not choose a universal language soon, science may be forced to choose one on its own."

Developments in medicine and the physical sciences have outstripped the ability of even the most expert researchers to keep up with what's new in their own languages, much less be able to handle the additional problem of getting adequate translations of foreign scientific papers, says an editorial in Quinto Lingo magazine.

Within the next 10 to 20 years, the number of scientific publications in the world is expected to double, which means even more languages to be translated.

Two possibilities are receiving serious consideration, says the magazine. Either English may be adopted as the generally accepted tool of communication (over one-third of the medical articles currently appearing are in English), or an artificial international language may be chosen.

Already, numerous journals and scientific abstracts offer summaries of important articles in Esperanto and Interlingua, the two leading artificial language contenders.

There are pros and cons to both alternatives, and practical obstacles in the way of either. But the fact remains that today, men of different languages are thrown together with increasing frequency, in print and in person. They have more to say to each other and less time to say it in—and hardly any time at all to correct misunderstandings of what they do say.

Straight Talk

By TOM ANDERSON

ATHENS, Greece — As this column reported last week, the people of Greece overwhelmingly prefer what the American "liberal" press calls this Fascist military junta to the decadent, leftist, ineffectual "democracy" which it replaced.

If the people of Greece are not upset about it, why should Sweden and Norway, the New York "Times" and the Washington "Post," Senators Fulbright and Clark, "Meet the Press" and the rest of the "liberal" cabal be upset? What business is it of theirs? Why are the "liberals" always upset over every Communist setback?

Even Dean Acheson (no right-winger he!) has said: "No friend of Greece would wish to see her return to the constitutional government of the two Papandreous under which she was headed for Kerensky-like chaos, and possibly war with Turkey."

France's Hilaire DuBerrier, one of the world's most knowledgeable commentators on the Communist conspiracy, writes the truth about Andreas Papandreou and Greece in "Review of the News." (It is one of the few weekly news magazines I would accept without submitting it to a lie detector test.) DuBerrier writes:

"Andreas Papandreou was a member of the steering committee of the Communists' Fourth International in Greece from 1938 onward. In a printing office owned by his father he published the party paper, 'The Populaire.' When the police arrested him as a Communist, his mother roared to everyone she knew until the authorities were happy to let him go in return for a promise to leave the country, a written paper containing the names of his associates and a condemnation of Communism. These Andreas readily gave. Why not?"

"His first stop, now, was Paris. There young Papandreou obtained a visa for America. He entered Harvard. When Greece was caught up in the war, an order of general mobilization was signed; but Andreas ignored it and was declared a deserter. In 1944 Papandreou pere became Prime Minister of the Free Greeks, and again a mobilization order was issued for Greeks living abroad. Andreas did not reply. Instead, he joined the American Navy and fought a magnificent war at a desk in the Brooklyn Navy Yard, which entitled him to American nationality."

"For a time Andy, as he was now called, taught economics and politics (Papandreou Harvard brand) at the University of California at Berkeley, strengthening his hand by taking an American wife. In 1959 he decided to go home and asked Prime Minister Karamanlis — his father's arch-enemy — for a job in the Bank of Greece. When Karamanlis inquired about his relations with his father, Andreas replied, 'I have confidence in you. I shall be proud to work with you, my father? I haven't sent him a card for eight years.'"

"Andy got the job, at $2,000 a month. According to Greek sources, Berkeley meanwhile kept him on the payroll also. "Greece was headed for anarchy as Andy proceeded to set up in Greece a Berkeley-type United Front. . . He maintained regular contact with key leftist groups was George Papandreou's Center Union Party, 'Center' in this case is as much a misnomer as 'middle-of-the-road,' applied to Senator Fulbright."

And that is the same Papandreou, ladies and gentlemen, who is now being eulogized by our "liberal" publications, on TV "news" forums and on university campuses throughout our country. He now claims that he is not a Communist, but a Trotskyite. That's the same difference as there is between a copperhead and a rattlesnake.

North Korean Military Build-Up Warns of Danger of 'Second Front in Korea'

PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — As the North Vietnamese enter the "fighting while negotiating" phase of the Vietnam war, keep your eyes glued on Korea.

Secret preparations are being made by the North Koreans to open a "second front" in Asia to trap and destroy the 50,000 American troops stationed along the 38th parallel — the armistice line that divides North and South Korea.

Within the past 30 days, U.S. intelligence authorities have carefully documented the aggressive preparations of the North Koreans. Only the Communists' "D" day is uncertain. One group of U.S. intelligence officers is warning that the invasion of South Korea could come as early as May 1 — the traditional Red workers' day or in June on the anniversary of the 1950 invasion.

Other intelligence experts believe the North Koreans will time their attack for the closing days of the coming presidential campaign or during the November to January post-election period while the nation waits to install a new president.

About all the different groups of intelligence officers can now agree on is that the North Koreans are preparing to open a "second front" in 1968. For the past nine months, the Soviets have been pouring their most modern arms and hundreds of additional military advisers into the most tightly controlled Communist country in Asia.

Several shiploads of tanks and artillery, originally earmarked for North Vietnam, were rerouted in the past six weeks to North Korea. Refugees from the North warn the Communist half of Korea is being shifted from "a stage of partial to full mobilization."

Outraged by the dispatch of 50,000 South Korean troops to South Vietnam, Kim Il Sung, the tough, doctrinaire premier of North Korea, has messaged Hanoi that he will open a "second front" at the "opportune time in 1968."

COUNTERING THE THREAT — The Johnson Administration's reaction to North Korea's preparations for war has so far been very cautious. The president has ordered the biggest buildup in U.S. airports in South Korea since the end of hostilities there in 1953. One hundred U.S. jets have been deployed there, most being sent following the seizure of the intelligence-gathering vessel, the Pueblo.

In addition to this air buildup the Defense Department has begun shipping new military equipment to the South Korean government. The distribution of the first shipments of these weapons by the South Koreans, however, is causing growing concern among several high ranking U.S. military intelligence officers. Instead of being turned over to regular Korean military forces, most of the new American weapons are being given to the new militia being organized under the tight control of Kim Hyung Wuk, the director of South Korea's central intelligence agency and a close friend of President Park Chung Hee.

Wuk, a retired South Korean army brigadier general, notified the U.S. that the organization of the militia began March 1. Hundreds of militia units, he revealed, are being formed in villages and at places of employment.

Significantly, several of these militia units are now deployed below where the two U.S. divisions patrol the Korean Demilitarized Zone. One of those new units includes a platoon at the Blue House, the official mansion of President Park.

In his private conversations with U.S. officials in Korea, President Park has argued that the new militia — or the "second army," as it is being called — is necessary to deal with increasing infiltration from North Korea.

The Doctor Says:

By Dr. Wayne Brandstadt Blood Sugar Level Tests Made on Empty Stomach

Q-What is the normal blood sugar level? Why must the blood be drawn on an empty stomach? If a blood sugar test taken after a meal is 170 and there is no sugar in the urine, does this mean my diabetes is under control?

A-The normal fasting blood sugar range is 80 to 90 milligrams (120 is sometimes given as the absolute upper limit). In most tests, the fasting level is determined because it gives the most consistent and significant results. Since the so-called threshold level, or level at which the blood sugar spills over into the urine, is 180, a level of 170 after a meal would be consistent with a sugar-free urine and would indicate that at the time of the test the diabetes was controlled.

Q-I was told that my blood sugar level is borderline high. Is there anything I should do to prevent diabetes?

A-You do not need insulin or other drugs but you should have your doctor prescribe a diabetic diet based on your weight and caloric needs. This is usually all that is needed in the treatment of mild or borderline diabetes.

Ho Attempting To Bluff His Way Into Real Quick Victory

By RAY 'ROMLEY BANGKOK (NEA) — Ho Chi Minh is attempting to bluff his way into a quick victory over the United States.

His response to President Johnson's initiative amounts to the aggressor asking the defender to unconditionally and unilaterally stop retaliating against the aggressor's invasion before he will even talk about his terms. Yet it is Ho who is invading South Vietnam, Laos and Cambodia. The United States is not invading the north.

A study of captured documents by this reporter indicate that Hanoi is hurting.

The bombing is biting psychologically. It has forced Ho to tighten economic and political controls. Though the economic damage may not be high in dollar value, the air war has increased dissatisfaction and unrest among sizable numbers of North Vietnamese. Hanoi has been forced to adopt tighter sabotage and counterrevolutionary laws.

In a strategy paper written a few months back North Vietnam Defense Minister Giap made it clear one of his current major objectives was to get the bombing halted as a necessary step toward winning the war.

Hanoi is not about to collapse. A few months back Giap wrote out new plans for an extended insurgency. But he is short of manpower. The newest units coming south through Laos are better equipped but shorter on experience.

Ho wants to move in for a quick kill, taking advantage of the strong cleavages he sees in the United States. A Communist notebook captured lately says, "negotiation . . . consists of taking advantage of the enemy's temporary and internal frictions and dissensions."

Stripped of our own wishful thinking, Ho's terms require the United States to agree in advance to accept defeat. A captured document says the peace conference will be conducted in the line of creating an honorable defeat" for the United States.

Ho has proposed only to talk about the unilateral unconditional U.S. cessation of bombing and "all other acts of war" against the North Vietnamese government.

Ho does not say that in return North Vietnam will cut back in any way on his aggression in the south.

In fact, Communist documents say, negotiations will give them a chance to step up the insurgency.

During every bombing pause to date, the North Vietnamese have increased the pace of their southern arms build-up. Photographs have shown huge convoys of arms and equipment rushing to get through the Ho Chi Minh trails before the pause ended.

Communist sources state clearly that if President Johnson accepts Hanoi's terms for negotiation, Ho's agents will use this U. S. agreement to convince Asians that Hanoi has won the war.

Johnson made an important concession in ordering a halt to bombing north of the 20th parallel. A portion of the major invasion routes into northern Laos are north of this line.

Those who now accuse Johnson of misleading the world in his original bombing halt announcement should reread his speech. Johnson referred to a halt in regions containing 90 per cent of the population and a majority of the ground area. North Vietnam is shaped somewhat like the cloud of a nuclear bomb explosion. There is a large bulb on top and a long narrow panhandle below. The bulb contains almost all of its people.

It is precisely in this bulb area that dissatisfaction against Hanoi has been growing. The bombing cessation will ease some of this anti-Hanoi pressure. Roads to Laos and to South Vietnam by way of Laos branch sident Park is known to have a talent for organization and no real close friends in the vast American community in South Korea.

off at a number of points along the panhandle. Reconnaissance photographs show the North Vietnamese are pushing large convoys along these routes for attacks on Laos and South Vietnam. It would thus be impossible for a responsible president of the United States to hold off on bombing these military movements.

There is a way for Hanoi to get a further restriction on bombing. Ho can make some cutbacks himself. Johnson has said that in return he would make a further de-escalation. Communist intelligence has certainly informed Hanoi that once having made that promise, he would have to keep it.

What is wrong in expecting Hanoi to make some gesture, too, so that we have some evidence of sincerity?

What we got working for us now is a proposed national dirt collection center. It is to be set up by pooling all the information of the 20 different government agencies.

That includes the Census, IRS, Military, Soc. Security, etc. They already have 100 million punch cards and 30,000 computer tapes stored about you and me. It is a scheme for hurrying up Orwell's "Big Brother" predictions faster than the 16 years we're supposed to have left.

But the private agencies already have enough about us to hang us all and they don't care who they pass the info out to. They have dossiers on your drinking habits, if you ever cheated on your wife, and whether or not you once rented a motel in the middle of the afternoon.

You don't know what is in your file and you have no chance to challenge its accuracy. It is readily available to anybody including government officials. The proposed dirtbank will also take this info, and unfold your whole life with the push of a button.

Add to this the 80 million fingerprints of the FBI plus a raft of thousands of rumors and grudge reports and you can see you have got no place to hide.

These sponsors of this data bank say that today's American no longer has any right to privacy, in any form.

It ain't so much what they know about me that worries, it's what are they intending to do with it?

We're Unhappy We Know

If Americans have an inalienable right to the pursuit of happiness, it's only fair that the government have the right to find out how close they are to catching it.

Thanks to a study conducted in Puerto Rico by the U.S. Public Health Service, it now has some good ideas. For instance: People who report a higher number of positive feelings rate themselves happier, and are more likely to acknowledge their good spirits.

(In other words, happy people are happy people?)

People with money are happier than people without money. Specifically, people earning $1,000 a year report they are happy

10 per cent of the time; people with $10,000 a year are happy 27 per cent of the time. (At this rate, millionaires are happy 180 per cent of the time?)

Educated people are happier than uneducated people; young people are happier than old people and healthy people are happier than sick people.

(Newly classified I-A graduate students excepted?)

These surprises were discovered in the course of six mental health studies under-taken by the PHSA at a total cost of $249,000, says the National Observer.

(Last question: Who is happier—a government researcher with a six-figure budget or the taxpayers he researches?)

Curb Obscene Phone Calls

Any man cowardly enough to make an anonymous telephone call to a woman and sick enough to frighten her with obscene and threatening language must figure he'll never be caught.

It seems only fair, therefore, to pass along to these callers that the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. has come up with a way to track them down. The recipient of such a call may report it to the telephone company. The AT&T will install an electronic device in the complainant's home. The next time such a call comes in, the recipient pushes a button on the device. The telephone company is alerted and goes in to action.

The call can be traced even if the caller hangs up. . . . Too many say there can't be too many such calls? Surely. . . . Well, the AT&T received an average of 58,000 complaints a month last year. So either a lot of sick, sick men are using the phone, or those who are making such calls are talking overtime.

More power to the AT&T. May it get the right number every time. This is the kind of snooping we can stand!
