S. Viets Seize Strategic Roads

By JACK WALSH
SAIGON (UPI)—About 2,000 South Vietnamese troops today seized the strategic crossroads of the two main Communist supply routes in the A Shau Valley.

Advance Guard In Washington For 'Poor People'

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Rev. Ralph Abernathy led an advance guard of the poor people's crusade to Capitol Hill today and demanded that Congress create a minimum of 2 million new jobs for the hard-core unemployed.

"Existing programs for creating jobs simply are not working," Abernathy told the Senate Antipoverty subcommittee. "We need those jobs badly. We need them now. We need to have money in our pockets, to be able to hold up our heads. We must not, we cannot, we will not continue this way," he said.

Woman Released Unharmed After Being Held 3 Days for Ransom

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Authorities today sought a husky man who kidnaped a wealthy woman, held her for three days under "gruesome" threats and then released her without picking up a ransom of $250,000 in small bills.

The abduction of Mrs. Margaret E. Louis, 61, from her swank home in Lafayette across the bay from San Francisco last Tuesday evening was revealed Monday by Dist. Atty. John Nejedly of Contra Costa County. She was released unharmed in San Francisco's Gold Gate Park Friday night. But the kidnaper never picked up the ransom, lying in a zippered bag by a statue overlooking the Pacific Ocean two miles away.

came in partnership with the U.S. Army force sweeping the valley for 11 days in an attempt to wipe out the North Vietnamese supply line feeding Communist forces in South Vietnam's northern provinces.

Allied intelligence had reported up to 10,000 North Vietnamese in the misty valley of jungle. The Communists, building their A Shau bastion for two years without challenge, used radar-directed antiaircraft fire against the first American assault.

But Gibson said the South Vietnamese capturing the intersection had met little resistance. The division commander, Brig. Gen. Ngo Quang Truong, selected the best troops of his unit which won high American praise for its fighting during the guerrillas' February invasion of Hue.

According to South Vietnamese spokesmen, tough government Black Panther troops caught and killed at least 153 guerrillas Monday just five miles northeast of Hue, the former imperial city 400 miles north of Saigon. Hue lies 15 miles east of the A Shau. The Panthers reported "light" losses themselves.

U.S. Marines and South Vietnamese troops battled 1,200 North Vietnamese spotted moving Monday on a highway two miles from the Leatherneck base of Dong Ha, just under the North Vietnam border. They battled five hours. U.S. spokesmen said 130 Communists were killed.

Near Saigon, 58 Viet Cong were killed in three fights. But most of the fighting came in the northern frontier where Red armies had men for two years filtered up from the A Shau.

Jerusalem Parade By Israelis Sparks Crisis In United Nations

Rocky In President Campaign

ALBANY, N.Y. (UPI)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller told his supporters today he will challenge Richard M. Nixon for the Republican presidential nomination because he is convinced "the party wishes to have such a choice."

A telegram from Rockefeller released by Vermonters for Rockefeller in Montpelier, Vt., confirmed that the New York governor would announce his candidacy at an 11 a.m. EDT press conference here. Rockefeller made passes at the GOP candidacy in 1960 and 1964 and failed.

Rockefeller's telegram said his purpose in challenging frontrunner Nixon "is to give our party a choice of candidates and of programs."

"I have become convinced that the party wishes to have such a choice," his message said. "I have become convinced that I can present it within a framework of party unity. This I pledge to do."

"I shall campaign as vigorously as I know how on the grave issues facing our country with a view to our coming out of the convention strong and united behind a candidate and a program that can win in November and restore in Washington the responsible Republican leadership that time so urgently requires."

"As against a divided opposition, victory is within our grasp."

The governor's decision to seek the nomination was reached last week after a series of meetings with political advisers and backers. It came too late to plunge Rockefeller into any of the rough and tumble primary campaigning.

The 59-year-old governor has said many times he would like to be president but thought GOP leaders who controlled most of the convention delegates were against him. That was the statement he made March 21 when he said he was available but not an active candidate. Many things have happened since then.

Sen. Thurston B. Morton, one of Rockefeller's most active backers, said the New York governor had misjudged party feelings. He said the leaders of the convention should offer the people a choice of candidates and if Rockefeller became an active seeker of the nomination he could become the winner.

Ike Is Getting Diagnostic Tests After Complaint of Chest Pain

By JACK V. FOX

MARCH AFB, Calif. (UPI)—Former President Dwight Eisenhower today underwent diagnostic tests in the hospital of this Air Force base, where he was whisked by helicopter from his desert home after complaining of "some chest discomfort."

An Air Force spokesman said doctors would not make any announcement on Eisenhower's condition until sometime later in the day.

Shortly after the 77-year-old war hero and former President was carried into the hospital on a stretcher at dusk Monday, one of his aides made a brief announcement that "the doctors feel it is best for a period of medical observation and bed rest."

Asked whether Eisenhower, who twice has recovered from heart attacks, had suffered a third, the aide snapped: "I didn't say anything of the sort."

He disclosed that Eisenhower played a round of golf Monday morning and "complained of some chest discomfort in the afternoon, long after the golf."

A visit by King Olav V of Norway to Eisenhower's home at Eldorado Country Club in Indian Wells, Calif., scheduled for Monday afternoon was canceled.

About 6:45 p.m., PDT (9:45 p.m. EDT), two helicopters, they were airborne, carrying from the air base landed at the Eisenhower the 34 miles to the country club. Ten minutes later five-story, 200-bed hospital.

Patient Dies After Transplant Of Heart

PARIS (UPI)—The world's seventh heart transplant patient died today at La Pitie Hospital.

Death came to Clovis Roblain, a 66-year-old grandfather and French truck driver, 51 hours after he received the heart of a 23-year-old auto accident victim.

Dr. Maurice Mercadier, chief surgeon at the hospital, said Roblain's new heart continued to function well to the end. Roblain died of secondary causes due to low resistance, the physician said.

The death left only one of seven persons whom have undergone heart transplant operations alive. He is Dr. Philip Blaiberg, 58-year-old South African dentist, who underwent a transplant operation Jan. 2 at Cape Town.

Blaiberg, a patient of pioneer transplant surgeon Dr. Christian Barnard, has been released from the hospital and is doing well.

Of the six earlier heart transplants, three were performed in the United States, two in South Africa and one in India.

Mercadier said the immediate cause of death was poor blood circulation to Roblain's brain.

An hour after the operation, Roblain's circulation nearly stopped and doctors feared at the time the patient had suffered severe brain damage.

Roblain received the heart in a nine-hour operation Saturday night and Sunday morning at the sprawling hospital which is one of the oldest in Paris. Dr. Christian Cabrol performed the surgery.

The donor was Michel Gyp-paz, a metal worker, who died Saturday night of brain injuries suffered in a Thursday automobile accident.

Jewish Plans Are In Defiance Of Council

By United Press International

U.N. diplomats predicted the next few days would be their most crucial period since the June Mideast war because of Israel's plans to hold a military parade in Jerusalem's Arab sector in defiance of a Security Council ban.

Other indications of a brimming crisis were an unexpected and unexplained trip to London by Jordan's King Hussein and a fiery speech by President Gamal Abdel Nasser of Egypt promising that Israel will "pay the price" for the parade. In a broadcast speech Nasser said another war with Israel was "inevitable."

In the holy city of Jerusalem itself U.N. troubleshooter Gunnar Jarring conferred with Israeli officials, apparently seeking some way to bring together Jordan and Israel for talks on solving their differences.

In the United Nations Security Council members held strategy sessions today to prepare for two critically important meetings on the Middle East Wednesday and Thursday.

The Israeli ambassador, Joseph Tekoah, said the Israeli independence day parade Thursday will take place despite the Security Council ban.

"The Jewish people have waited for this for 2,000 years," he said.

The unanimous council vote on the ban Saturday urged Israel "to refrain" from staging the parade which will include a display of tanks, armor and warplanes through the formerly Arab-held sector of Jerusalem captured in the June 5-10 war.

King Hussein flew to London Monday on a visit that took officials by surprise. The semi-official Middle East news agency reported from Amman that Hussein would be visiting with European officials for about two weeks. The tour recalled one by Hussein last year when he went to Washington and to major European capitals seeking arms and political support.

Nasser said in a nationwide broadcast Monday "No matter what resolutions are adopted by the United Nations, the battle will come inevitably whether we want it or not."

But the Egyptian president warned that the nation should guard against being drawn into battle before it is ready "and before we are absolutely confident we are fit for battle and have remedied our deficiencies . . ."

In Columbia University's 'Sit-In' . . .

Club-Swinging Police Eject Students

By RICHARD A. ROSSI
NEW YORK (UPI)—About 350 policemen swinging nightsticks today ejected more than 500 screaming, yelling students from five buildings on the Columbia University campus where they had staged a week's sit-in to protest university policy.

About 100 students were treated and released at two hospitals, most of them for head injuries. Spokesmen for the demonstrators charged police with brutality.

A first aid station was set up in Philosophy Hall and about 40 injured were treated there, according to a university staff member.

ing and were held at nearby precincts for appearances today in criminal court.

Shoving Students
The police were met at the doors by pushing and shoving students shouting: "We shall not be moved!" But the buildings were cleared within two hours of the policemen's arrival on the campus at 2:20 a.m. EDT at the request of the university's board of trustees.

Of the 500 protesters, about 100 were Negroes and about 7 were women. Some were led from the buildings handcuffed and bleeding. The tinkle of glass and the banging of doors could be heard outside as police swept through the buildings.

from the campus where classes had not been held since Friday. The students seized the buildings last Tuesday.

Grayson Kirk, university president, told a news conference today the university had ordered the police action "with utmost regret."

Kirk said the university had been nearly paralyzed for six days and the rebellious students had "declined to accept any reasonable basis for a settlement."

"If Columbia had been prepared to accede to the students' demands for amnesty from all disciplinary action resulting from their illegal conduct," Kirk said, "we would have dealt a near fatal blow not only to this institution but to the whole of American education." University officials said workers would attempt to restore the campus and the buildings to their "normal conditions" and that a few classes had been scheduled tentatively for this afternoon.

Files Rifled
Kirk, whose office was in one of the buildings occupied, said his files had been rifled, along with those of the university provost.

The rebellious students' demand for amnesty was the primary reason they refused to leave the buildings after the university acted on one of their original demands.

The students, led by the militantly leftist students for a Democratic Society (SDS), took over the buildings in protest against the university's construction of a gymnasium in a park long used by Negroes in nearby Harlem.

The university halted construction on the park at least temporarily, after the student take-over. The protesters said the gym would deprive the Negroes of a recreation area.

Decision Due On Board Interviews

Pampa school board members will decide tonight whether additional applicants will be interviewed for the school superintendent's job.

Board President John Gikas said the man scheduled for an interview tonight called this morning and asked that his name be removed from the list.

The board has interviewed seven prospects so far, Gikas stated. There were 30 names on the original list submitted by Dr. Kenneth Laycock of West Texas State University who was employed by the board to screen applicants.

"It is hoped we can reach a decision tonight," Gikas said, "whether to consider additional applicants or attempt to select a superintendent from the seven prospects already interviewed."

Negro Minister Calls For Crime Prevention Here

By BILL MARTIN
Daily News Staff Writer

Last week Rev. Louis Calvin Browning came to Pampa from Borger, one of many stops on his crusade for Youth Crime Prevention.

Founded in 1958, his headquarters is located at 109 So. Judkins, Fort Worth. Rev. Browning is on his one man crusade against rioting, concentrating primarily on the youth of America.

His stop last evening here drew many of the younger negro population, whom he chatted with and passed out what seemed to this writer as "enough candy to fill a candy store."

The candy was passed out after trips down streets at a slow speed, honking, calling to the youngsters, and waving strands of suckers out the window, beckoning to the youth to follow me. Come down by the park.

Needless to say, they followed. Seeing him driving down the street, he seemed to be

Warner Speaks Before Teachers

Corporation Court Judge John W. Warner spoke before the Gray County Teachers Association last night.

Warner said he felt the key to reducing the nation's crime rate lay with the teenagers of the land.

"If a teenager is treated fairly the first time he ever appears in court and if he develops an appreciation and understanding and respect for the law he is much less likely to become a problem violator."

Warner will speak before the Woodrow Wilson Elementary School's Sixth Grade Wednesday afternoon.

Policeman Resigns

S. B. Patterson, a Pampa police patrolman for the past nine years, has resigned effective May 1, Police Chief Jim Conner has announced.

Patterson, who lives at 904 Varnon Drive, reportedly resigned for reasons of "age and protection of health," according to Chief Conner.

some sort of Pied Piper, with all the kids following after him.

His talk to the youngsters concerned the prevention of crime and a non-violent approach to racial problems.

THE INDIVIDUALIST AT KIDDER, PEABODY

SHOULD HE HANDLE YOUR INVESTMENTS?

YES, IF YOU CAN TAKE NO FOR AN ANSWER.

He's no "yes man," so he'll disagree with you when he believes he's right. If you're an individualist you'll agree this is the intelligent way to do business.

Our registered representatives have been carefully selected. And then carefully trained by Kidder, Peabody management. We give them no formula, because no two investors, no two situations, are alike. But each is encouraged to incorporate the back-up of our wide range of financial activity with his own experience and judgment, and to bring this wealth of investment skill and knowledge to bear on recommendations for individual accounts. Here's what we mean:

Kidder is a major underwriter. In the last five years we managed or participated in 1350 corporate financings totaling over 25 billion dollars. This involvement tells us a lot about a lot of top corporations—and their management. Further, during this time we negotiated more private financings than any other firm, finding new capital for growth-minded companies.

Kidder also ranks among the top half-dozen investment firms in the specialized fields of municipal finance, tax-exempt bonds, preferred stocks, and block sales.

This same professionalism applies to mutual funds, international financing, Euro-dollar securities, mergers and acquisitions, investment advisory service—and, most importantly, to the research department that supports these operations.

What do our customers derive from all this activity? We believe some of the best investment thinking today.

If you agree that the scope of the Kidder organization can improve your opportunities for making more accurate judgments and more profitable investment decisions, talk to one of our individualists. Tell him yes, you can take no for an answer.

'Shoot-Out' in CoC Drive Is Tomorrow

The final "shoot-out" of the Chamber of Commerce membership round-up will be held at 10 a.m. tomorrow in the Chamber office.

Sixty volunteer "wranglers" under trail boss Roy Sparkman, chairman of the drive, are working toward a goal of $42,000.

The top three crews will be given incentive prizes of (1) a week-end at the George Cree ranch, (2) a fly-in to a Dallas Cowboys football game, (3) and an evening in Amarillo including tickets to a baseball game and a free dinner.

Special prizes will also be given the top wrangler and "drag-rider" team.

The current front-running team is "The Rockin' Ol' Timers."

Tim Duke Wins Oratory Contest

A Pampa youth will represent the Optimist Clubs of Zone D in the North Texas District Oratorical Contest May 19-20 in Arlington.

Tim Duke, 15, son of the Rev. and Mrs. J. W. Duke, won over seven other boys in the zone competition Sunday held at the Southwestern Public Service Co. Center in Amarillo.

Second place went to Lee Kendle, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. N. Kendle, Amarillo, who represented the Palo Duro Optimist Club.

Third place went to Don Guthrie, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. N. Guthrie, Amarillo, from the Amarillo Optimist Club.

The theme of the orations was "The Golden Opportunities of Youth." The top winners of the international contest, set for June 16-20, will receive scholarships.

Job Fair Is Slated For Teenagers

By DARRELL MACK
HOUSTON (UPI) — About 4,000 teen-agers are going to a fair May 15-16, but they won't find any clowns. That's because clowns are strictly unwanted at this kind of fair.

It's a job fair, the only one of its kind in the world, according to its sponsors headed by Mayor Louie Welch. The other sponsors run the gamut from the anti-poverty organizations to the fashionable Junior League.

The participants include almost everyone from the corner Mexican-American grocery store on the east side to Humble Oil Co., the nation's largest oil company.

Many Jobs Offered

These companies so far have offered 1,670 summer jobs and more are still being offered. The pay ranges from $1 to $3.50 an hour and all will be given to disadvantaged youth.

So far, this fair appears to be as much of a lark as any county fair. But it isn't.

More than 2,200 poverty-stricken young people have applied for the jobs and the total is expected to reach at least 4,000 by the time the fair opens, according to Dr. Blair Justice of the mayor's office.

"The last thing I'd say would be that everyone would get a job," Dr. Justice said.

Some 1,200 hired

Last year, 5,200 youth applied and 1,300 were hired. Many of them claimed they had meaningless jobs and quit. But the fair got started late and was thrown together in 10 days.

"We did it last July on the basis of all summer jobs being filled, and still some disadvantaged youth needing jobs, so employers created jobs to put money in the youths' pockets," Dr. Justice said.

With more preparation this year, the sponsors expect to provide meaningful jobs and eliminate some of the other problems such as transportation. Representatives of the bus lines will be available to advise an applicant if he can get from his house to his job on time.

Seminar For CLU's Held

The West Texas CLU Seminar was held recently in the Administration Bldg. at West Texas State University. The presiding officer was Jim Morris, C. L. U., president of the Amarillo Chapter of CLU. The group was welcomed by Dr. James Cornette, President of WTSU and Dr. Zeke Marchant, head of the Insurance Department of the Business School at WTSU.

The program included Robert J. Piro, an attorney from Houston, and Gerald J. Randall, CLU, Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Co. Each man spoke on a phase of life insurance as related to estate planning.

One hundred and fifty men from the Amarillo and Lubbock area attended the all-day meeting. Those from Pampa attending included Kirk Duncan, Ray Duncan, Joe Cree, Bill Fraser, Joe Dickey, Jerry Davis, Myron thell Gibson and E. L. Hen-Marx, CLU, Walter Colwell, Anderson, CLU.

In 1965 an earthquake in the Pacific northwest killed six persons and caused more than $12-million in damages.

In this country juvenile crime is increasing seven times faster than our population. In Gray County more cases have been filed in our juvenile court during the first four months of 1968 than were filed during the entire year of 1967. The County Attorney is the prosecuting officer in the juvenile court. His decisions concerning a juvenile in trouble will affect greatly the juvenile's future. John W. Warner has been working with juvenile problems for five years as Pampa's Corporation Court Judge. This is valuable background for a County Attorney to have. Vote John W. Warner for County Attorney on May 4.

Congress In Wrong Mood Few Results Seen For 'Poor People'

By GEORGE MARDER
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The poor people are marching on Washington like an irresistible force. They are headed for an immovable object—Congress.

At the moment, the nation's lawmakers are not in the mood to give the marchers anything they ask. They are hardly in the mood even to listen, if what is wanted will cost more money. What the poor people want would cost additional billions.

Because of that mood, President Johnson abandoned the idea of a special plea to Congress for programs which would help restore peace and tranquility to the nation, plagued with sporadic racial disorders in the ghettos.

At the height of the disorders which erupted following the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., the President arranged for Congress to hold a special joint meeting and receive new plans for programs aimed at rebuilding the cities. This first was delayed, then cancelled. Now the plans are filed and forgotten for a very important reason: The White House decided that it was the peak of futility to send new programs up before old ones were approved. And the old ones are in trouble.

The burning issue in Congress as the poor people march on Washington is not where do we go from here in the way of new help in the war against poverty, but where does the government cut spending in order to break the logjam for a proposed tax increase.

The way things are shaping up, President Johnson will have to promise to cut appropriations by about $10 billion, with a spending cut of about $6-billion or more, in order to get Congress to move on the 10 per cent income tax surcharge he feels is urgently needed.

That would almost inevitably mean some limitation in spending on programs which deal with the crises in the cities.

U.S. CURRENCY AND COIN IN CIRCULATION

During fiscal 1967 and the first six months of 1968, U.S. coin production was limited to composite or clad-type coins. The growth in total number of coins produced in the 18-month period slackened substantially—an indication that the shortage had been alleviated. The smooth change-over from silver to clad coins has proved the value of money is not determined by gold or silver, but rather if money can adequately perform the economic functions for which it is designed.

NEW YORK (UPI)—Paine, Webber, Jackson & Curtis comments that the stock market has confirmed that peace would be "superlatively bullish," but investors should still be prepared for "ups and downs." Naturally, the firm said. "A settlement will not come overnight, and the stock market will reflect the highs and lows of negotiations. But because President Johnson's proposal represents a basic change in policy the market will probably not return to 1968 lows even if peace prospects are substantially dimmed."

Wisenberger Investment Report offers that the "impact on the stock market of the dramatic shift in sentiment does not appear to have been fully exhausted although a more fragmentary market performance may now emerge." The Analyst adds that "Monetary factors, will continue a negative consideration in the absence of a tax increase."

The Alexander Hamilton Institute feels that tax increases are almost certain to be enacted this year and will be effective in reducing spendable income. The analyst recommends that investors generally avoid major manufacturing corporations where labor costs are rapidly escalating.

Julie Andrews Not Necessarily Sweet Thing The Public Thinks

By VERNON SCOTT
HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Julie Andrews is the boxoffice queen of the world and unquestionably the brightest movie star currently glittering on the screen. In all she has made seven movies in six years. But three of those were record shattering, ringtailed supercolossal smash hits: "Mary Poppins," "Thoroughly Modern Millie" and "Sound of Music." "Poppins" is the biggest money making movie in the history of Disney Studios.

"Modern Millie" is the largest grossing film that Universal has ever made. "Music" has earned $110 million, more than any picture made.

At the center of this awesome success story stands a rather plain English girl with honest, straightforward blue eyes (a delightful cornflower blue to be sure), a difficult nose and a figure that will not make the world forget Brigitte Bardot.

She has a charming singing voice, dances passably and can act with considerable talent when called upon.

Millions rush to see her pictures because the public sees in Julie Andrews the idealized female. Pure, good, sweet, virtuous, amusing, intelligent and altogether adorable.

That, at least, is what they think she is.

Now a millionairess, Julie has embarked on two pictures which may change her image: "Star," the biography of Gertrude Lawrence, and "Darling Lili," a World War I comedy.

In the latter Julie will appear in a shower scene and do a striptease.

But rather than change her image of virginal innocence, audiences are liable to interpret her performances as a sweet young thing caught up in unfortunate circumstances.

If an actress is beloved today, it is Julie Andrews.

Yet she is not and has not been a sweet young thing. Nor has she ever pretended to be. Julie is in the midst of a divorce and is having a love affair with Blake Edwards who is directing "Lili."

Julie is the mother of a five year old daughter, Emma Kate, and is a normal adult, mature female with all the attendant faults, foibles and charms of her sex.

Julie Puzzled
 She is as puzzled by her pure-as-the-driven-snow image as anyone. But Julie doesn't knock it.

"I don't mind the complimentary image as long as I don't believe in it myself. Otherwise, I wouldn't venture out of the house," she said during a lunch break at Paramount Studios.

One of the amazing things about Julie is that her bombs do not linger in the minds of even her critics—"The Americanization of Emily" and "Hawaii."

When they are mentioned, "bad scripts. Not Julie's fault, people dismiss them saying, 'bad scripts. Not Julie's fault.' She was good, but the picture wasn't."

Millionaires On Increase In America

NEW YORK (UPI)—The rich are getting richer and the number of Americans with more than $100 million has tripled in the past decade, it was reported today.

A survey conducted by Fortune Magazine listed oilman J. Paul Getty, 75, and financier Howard Hughes, 62, as the richest Americans, both worth as much as $1.3 billion.

An article by Arthur N. Louis said 45 Americans were identified in 1957 as having more than $100 million but that 66 now have fortunes worth more than $150 million.

Six other Americans are said to have fortunes of at least $50 million each. They are oilman H.L. Hunt; Dr. Edwin H. Land, inventor of the Polaroid camera; shipowner Daniel K. Ludwig; and Alisa Mellon Bruce, Paul Mellon and Richard King Mellon.

New York Governor Nelson A. Rockefeller and his four brothers—David, Laurence, John D. 3rd and Winthrop—all are listed in the $200 million to $300 million category along with Joseph P. Kennedy, 79, father of the late President.

Social Security Law on Disability Has Change

The 1967 Amendments to the social security law made several changes pertaining to the payment of disability benefits, according to Howard L. Weatherly, manager of the Pampa social security office.

Weatherly said one of the changes pertains to the younger worker. To get disability under the old law, the worker needed social security credits for at least 5 of the 10 years before becoming disabled. Now, if a worker becomes disabled before reaching age 24 he needs only 1½ years of coverage in the 3 year period just before the disability began. If the disabled worker becomes disabled between the ages of 24 and 31 social security credit is needed for only half the time between age 12 and the time the worker becomes disabled.

The definition of disability remains the same. Weatherly stated. To be considered disabled the worker must be unable to engage in any "substantial gainful work" because of a physical or mental impairment which has lasted or is expected to last for 12 months or longer.

The first month for which payments could be made under more more reury of this year. If you became disabled before age 31, contact your social security office even if your previous claim was denied because you did not have enough work credits.

For further information contact the local Social Security Office, 400 W. Kingsmill.

Reapportionment Is Likely For Four Precincts In Gray County

By JEFF HOLLADAY
Daily News Staff Writer

Reapportionment seems likely to be a future reality for Gray County's four precincts.

The U.S. Supreme Court's recent decision in the case of Midland County, Texas, vs. Hank Avery, set the stage for a possible reshuffling of the four precincts in the County Pampa citizens residing in precinct two, now far out number all three of the other precincts combined.

Using the equal protection clause of the 14th Amendment the court held that the one-man, one-vote ruling should apply to city and county, as well as state legislatures.

The ruling followed a similar one-man, one-vote reapportionment dictate issued four years ago for state legislatures.

The court, in its majority opinion rendered April 1, said that voters residing in oversized districts are denied their constitutional rights to participate in government on an equal basis with other districts.

The upshot was that precincts in a county should be in such a manner as to have substantially equal populations.

(Gray County's four precincts have the following number of voters: Pct. 1—666; Pct. 2—11,906; Pct. 3—211; Pct. 4—1,007)

Admitting that the commissioners court's legislative functions were negligible, the court nevertheless held that the "court does have power to make a large number of decisions having a broad range of impact on all the citizens of the county" and should therefore be under the equal protection clause.

The court cited the conclusion of the Texas Supreme Court that the work actually done by the commissioners court "disproportionately concerns the rural areas" and then illustrated the point thusly:

"The taxes imposed by the court fall equally on all property in the county. Indeed, it may not be mere coincidence that a body apportioned with three of its four voting members chosen by residents of the rural area surrounding the city (midland) devotes most of its attention to the problems of that area, while paying for its expenditures with a tax imposed equally on city residents and those who live outside the city."

A possible alternative to reapportionment is the election of commissioners on a county-wide basis, while retaining present precinct boundaries. The Supreme Court recently upheld such a plan.

LAW DAY USA MAY 1
 "Only A Lawful Society Can Build A Better Society"
Why We Have Law Day USA

Law Day USA, annually celebrated on the first day of May, is an educational patriotic observance established by Congress and by official proclamation of the President of the United States. The theme for law day USA for 1968 is "No man is above the law, and no man is below it." (Theodore Roosevelt). The purpose of law day is to bring to public attention the rights and duties of citizenship. As responsible Americans it is our duty not only to uphold the law, but to assist law enforcement agencies in performing their duties. . . . to testify in court . . . and to respect the rights of others. The joint resolution adopted by the 87th Congress calls on Americans to rededicate themselves to "the ideals of equality and justice under law in their relations with each other as well as with other nations. "To this end, thousands of programs will be held throughout on and near May 1, in schools, courthouses, churches and organizations of all kinds. The three fold objectives of Law Day USA are: To foster a deeper respect for law by teaching how laws serve all citizens to encourage responsible citizenship by demonstrating the individual obligations. To emphasize the basic value of the rule of law in the United States as contrasted with the rule of force under communism.

Derby Time Trials Scheduled Today

By RAY AVRES
UPI Sports Writer
LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI)—Four expected Kentucky Derby starters warmed up for Saturday's running of the Kentucky Derby at Churchill Downs today in the 41st running of the $16,500 Derby trial.

Six other 3-year-olds also were entered in the mile race which has pinpointed six previous Kentucky Derby winners, but whether they too will start in the rose run depended how they fared in the trial.

Elmendorf Farm's Verbatim, a triple stakes winner this season, and Montgomery Fischer's Proper Proof, winner of the California Derby, headed one of the largest fields in the history of the trial.

Both are among the 16 probable Kentucky Derby starters as were Craigwood Stable's Jig Time and Frank C. Sullivan's The Vega, who also will run in the trial.

Rounding out the field for the mile-test were: Port Digger, Sailor's Song, Big Bend, Duntrou, Keelo and Fun Makers. Their owners or trainers have indicated they have no intention of starting these 3-year-olds in the Kentucky Derby unless they reveal remarkable improvement in the trial.

Ismael Valenzuela will ride Verbatim, who has won the Bahamas, a division of the Bay Shore, and the Gotham Stakes. The dark bay son of Speak John was favored at 6-5 in the trial for which he was entered for his final Kentucky Derby prep instead of being reserved for a long workout.

However, Valenzuela will ride Forward Pass in the Derby. That leaves Verbatim without a rider for the race. Efforts to land Johnny Rotz failed when Rotz was assigned Dr. Fager for Saturday's Roseben Handicap at Aqueduct.

Proper Proof was a strong second choice at 8-5 with Johnny Sellers scheduled to ride. The two top horses each carry 122 pounds in the mile race, four pounds less and a quarter mile shorter than Saturday's requirements in the 94th Kentucky Derby.

Calumet Farm's Forward Pass, winner of the Hibiscus, the Everglades, the Florida Derby and the Blue Grass Stakes, was the early favorite for the Kentucky Derby.

Celtics Rated Favorites Over Los Angeles Lakers

BOSTON (UPI)—The Boston Celtics will set a record for longevity when they entertain the Los Angeles Lakers in game five of their National Basketball Association championship playoff series at Boston Garden tonight.

The Celtics, deadlocked with the Western Division champion Lakers at two victories apiece in the title finals, are performing for the 18th time in the NBA playoffs, breaking their own record of 17 playoff games in a single season.

While the odds-makers established the 10-time champion Celtics as slight favorites in the fifth game, the current Boston-Los Angeles showdown still was expected to go the seven-game distance with the sixth meeting slated for Los Angeles on Thursday night.

The clubs announced a change in the date for the seventh game if it is needed, shifting it from an original Saturday night Garden date to Sunday afternoon to take advantage of a hastily-arranged national telecast.

Both teams checked back into Boston Monday after flights from the coast to report they were in good physical condition. That pronouncement was particularly important to the Lakers since scoring star Jerry West had injured an ankle in the final seconds after leading his team to a series-tying 118-105 win at Los Angeles Sunday night.

Late word on West, who netted 38 points in the fourth meeting between the two clubs, was that he was expected to take his regular starting role in tonight's fifth game.

Cincinnati Bombs Houston, 17-2

By United Press International
Don Sutton made it a homecoming celebration for the Los Angeles Dodgers Monday night—but the St. Louis Cardinals couldn't enjoy the party.

Ajton was back managing the Dodgers for the first time this season since being hospitalized for the removal of kidney stones while Sutton was making his first start of the season after spending time at Spokane because his spring training was delayed by Army duty.

The Cardinals came into the game with the best record in baseball this spring but couldn't spoil the homecoming.

Sutton, impressive in a first showing, had a no-hitter for four innings and a shutout going into the seventh when he was knocked as the Cards scored their two runs on Curt Flood's two run double. But Jim Brewer came on to preserve Sutton's first victory of the season by holding the Cards hitless the final 2-1-3 innings.

True Dodger Style

The Dodgers, to make things perfect, even got their three runs in typical Dodger style. In the third inning, Sutton singled off loser Mike Torrez' glove, advanced on Torrez' wild throw on a fielder's choice and an infield out and scored on Ron Fairly's single.

In the fourth inning, a single, two walks, a sacrifice fly and an infield hit were enough for the two deciding runs.

In the other National League games, Atlanta blasted second place San Francisco 7-2, Cincinnati bombarded Houston 17-2 and Pittsburgh nipped Chicago 7-4.

Pampa Baseball Nine Invades Amarillo Today

Righthander Al Clabaugh was slated to toe the rubber for the Pampa high school baseball team when the Harvesters traveled to Amarillo for a return match with Tascosa this afternoon. Game time was set for 4 p.m.

In their first meeting here at Pampa, Tascosa won, 8-4, in an official game called at the end of five innings because of rain.

Shortstop Alvin Achord, one of the top hitters for Pampa, was not in today's contest. He has been declared ineligible according to baseball coach Bobby Stephens.

John Jenkins, first baseman, currently leads the baseball squad in hitting closely followed by Achord and Eddie Hopkins, catcher.

The Harvesters, fresh from a 9-0 win over Lubbock Estacado in their last outing, climbed out of the cellar in District 9-AAAA as a result of their one-sided win Saturday.

Ex-Frisco Cage Coach Joins Los Angeles Stars

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Bill Sharman, the ex-Boston Celtic star who coached the National Basketball Association's San Francisco Warriors the past two seasons, has joined the American Basketball Association.

Sharman, 40, Monday was named coach of the new Los Angeles Stars. The announcement came three days after he quit the Warriors.

"I'm happy to come back to my home town," the former University of Southern California standout said at a news conference.

Sharman's contract was described by General Manager Jim Hartly of the Stars as "multi-year." He reportedly received $40,000 at San Francisco this past season and his Stars' contract reportedly called for more than that.

The Stars are the successors of the Anaheim Amigos and will play next season in the Los Angeles Sports Arena, the former home of the NBA Los Angeles Lakers. The Lakers moved during this season into the Forum at nearby Inglewood.

Spring Football Drills Begin As Over 100 Players Workout

Over one hundred football players reported for spring training under the watchful eye of former Oklahoma University defensive coach Swede Lee at Harvester stadium Monday afternoon.

First Contest Set Under Dome

NEW YORK (UPI)—The first championship professional football game ever played in the Astrodome, Houston's indoor sports palace, will serve as the initial attraction of the 1968 American Football League season.

The Pampa high school football team began 18 intensive days of practice highlighted by the intra-squad game scheduled Saturday night, May 18, at Harvester stadium.

Lee, who was defensive football coach at Oklahoma in 1967, will direct one-a-day drills until May 18 when fans may attend the featured intra-squad game.

Lee, new athletic director, takes over a football team which has failed to have a winning season in more than a decade. The Green and Gold had a record of 0-10 last year.

Lee, 31, formerly coached at Cincinnati University (in the Missouri Valley conference) and played offensive guard and line-backer for the University of Texas football team 1955 through 1957. He was a senior in 1959, the year Darrel Royal took over the coaching reins at Texas University. His first two years at Texas were under Ed Price in 1955 and 1956.

Lee emphasized that fans may attend the football practices which begin at 3:30 in the afternoon.

at San Diego on Monday night, Sept. 9.

Both will be televised by NBC.

The Oakland Raiders, who defeated the Oilers in the AFL championship game last December, drew a first-week bye along with New York, Miami and Denver. Oakland will play its first game at Buffalo, New York will be at Kansas City and Denver will open at Cincinnati on Sunday, Sept. 15, following a Saturday night engagement between Miami and Houston in the Orange Bowl.

The league schedule, expanded to 70 games because of the addition of the Cincinnati Bengals, calls for an opening encounter between the Oilers' and Kansas City Chiefs on Friday night, Sept. 6, in the $3,000-seat Astrodome.

The game will be nationally televised by the National Broadcasting Company (NBC).

It will mark the league's first regular season game indoors. Houston, which will play several pre-season games on the controversial astro turf, formerly played its games in Rice Stadium.

Two other games, including the debut of the Bengals under Coach Paul Brown, are scheduled for the first week. Boston will be at Buffalo on Sunday, Sept. 8, and Cincinnati will open

The schedule, which runs 15 weeks, terminates on Dec. 15. The AFL championship game will be held on Sunday, Dec. 29, in the home city of the Eastern Division titlist.

The Pampa Daily News

A Watchful Newspaper
EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS
TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license, nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself. No more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

The Editor Eats Crow

The Pampa News really took it on the chin Monday from some of the cast members of the Red Stocking Revue.

The complaints centered on the review of the show in Sunday's newspaper which stated, in essence, that some of the numbers were too long and over-staged.

The editor accepts complete responsibility. It was his opinion the review would contribute to a still better Red Stocking Revue next year.

We believe sponsors of the show will concede that The Pampa News has given plenty of space, full pages of pictures and many stories to promote the Revue during its four-year history.

The show is put on annually for a good, charitable cause.

The News intends to keep on supporting it.

We believe the apparently organized campaign directed on the writer of the review was unwarranted. We do not believe it was that critical.

The article in our opinion was highly complimentary to those in the cast and criticism related only to the director's lassitude in timing of some of the numbers.

Perhaps a local talent show should never be criticized in any respect. Maybe that's where an error was committed.

If that be the case, consider this a public apology. We are trying to take our whipping like a man—and we promise to back next year's Red Stocking Revue to the hilt. We have the feeling it will be bigger and better than ever.

News With Silver Lining

How long has it been since you've heard any really GOOD news?

Not as long as it seems, perhaps. It may be that many of us are so concerned about serious problems here, there and everywhere that we tend to overlook flashes of sunshine between the clouds.

For instance: The 6,000 American Marines who practically had been written off as doomed at Khe Sanh, met no such fate, but marched out to safety when massive rescue missions of the U. S. Army caused the enemy—seize to be lifted. Think of the joy in the homes of those Marines!

While it's undoubtedly going to be a long, rocky road to peace in Vietnam, the first faltering step HAS been taken.

In a year when nothing seems normal, the baseball season is under way, players and managers are arguing with the umpires, stars are getting the usual astronomical salaries—and not a single team has yet conceded the pennant to another team!

The glorious beauty of Spring is again upon us, world conditions notwithstanding. It's as if Mother Nature were saying, "Do not despair, my children. Bloodshed, distrust and violence can never destroy my gifts to you."

Good news? Of course there is good news. Its therapy requires only the will and ability to recognize and utilize it—and to know if it will always be with us if we only hold the faith.

A Jam Not for Eating

Statisticians predict that by 1970 something like 125 million automobiles, trucks, taxicabs and whatnot will be traveling our streets and highways.

An alarmed amateur mathematician has figured out that if all these vehicles should be on the road at the same time (and he insists it could happen any nice Sunday afternoon), it would be the equivalent of a traffic jam of 223 cars abreast every foot of the way from New York City to Miami, Fla.

Or a merry little swarm of 374 cars abreast all the way from Asheville, N.C., to Miami.

So if you folks in New York City or Asheville, N.C., are planning on driving to Miami, you'd better get going before 1970. (This goes for residents of other cities, too.)

This is a public service announcement.

Our statistician concedes he could be a few cars off in his projections. He says it's those little compacts that throw him.

Ravages of Prosperity

Americans "have had it too good for too long and have gotten soft," said Gen. James H. Doolittle the other day.

"On the average," continued the man who led the daring air raid against Tokyo 26 years ago, "we are not as courageous or as moral as our founding fathers. We are suffering from the ravages of prosperity. As a nation, we are inclined to laziness and immorality."

Another general once delivered a much more stinging criticism of his fellow Americans:

"Such a dearth of public spirit and want of virtue, such stock-jobbing and fertility in all the low arts to obtain advantages of one kind or another... I never saw before and pray God I may never be witness to again... Such a dirty, mercenary spirit pervades the whole, that I should not be at all surprised at any disaster that may happen."

Thus wrote George Washington shortly after taking command of the army besieging Boston in 1775.

Flighty Research

A biologist at the University of Colorado has received a $300 grant to conduct what is described as "a highly specialized study."

The purpose is to determine the "sex appeal" of the crimson markings on the red-wing blackbird.

The value of exhaustive research into human problems and characteristics has, of course, been long-established and it is interesting to know that there are also studies which obviously are strictly for the birds.

Sensing The News

By THERMAN SENSING

No Bowing To Mobs
Even as the "no-win" elements are opposed to the use of massive force to achieve an American victory in Vietnam, they are opposed to the employment of adequate police measures to restore law and order to the cities of America.

Setting forth the "no-win" line on riots, Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark recently told the American Society of Newspaper Editors. "I do not believe that the use of deadly force by law enforcement officers is permissible except in self-defense or when it is necessary to protect the lives of others."

Mr. Clark's statement in effect was a reply to Mayor Richard J. Daley of Chicago who had criticized his own police force for not shooting looters and arsonists. The Mayor issued orders that deadly force be used in future outbreaks of violence.

The Attorney General's weak argument was that shooting of looters could lead to a "very dangerous escalation" of racial violence in the cities. His words must have had a sweet sound to the apostles of street violence whose slogan is "burn, baby, burn." They have had the word from the chief law enforcement officer of the federal government that protecting the lives of looters and arsonists is more important than stopping barbaric outbreaks in America's towns and cities.

In effect saying that the lives of lawbreakers come ahead of defense of property or prevention of disastrous fires, Mr. Clark turns his back on every principle of law and practice of law enforcement. Shooting of looters always has been standard practice in America. Moreover, police are regularly authorized to shoot burglars or other persons who resist arrest or who are fleeing from the scene of a crime and will not stop.

Are the police now to be deprived of that right? Are the police of America to be virtually disarmed? Mr. Clark's statement points to a wholly new attitude regarding crimes against property.

The illogic of Mr. Clark's statement is underscored by the fact that a property owner is fully entitled under the law to use firearms to protect his property. If a homeowner or the owner of a store is legally entitled to shoot a looter or an arsonist, why should a policeman not have that right?

Mr. Clark's statement carries the suggestion of a curious philosophy—the philosophy that property is not important. But ownership of property, in the American system, is a fundamental civil right. A home or a store is the product of an individual's enterprise or the labor and savings of a number of people. Life's struggle has gone into every private dwelling and business in this country. Society can't just say "sorry about that" when a home or store is gutted or burned. Local government must not say to the taxpayer, "The money and effort you have put into your property doesn't really have any value. We have to be concerned that no harm befalls the youngster with the Molotov cocktail or the citizen with an armload of stolen shirts." No, society can't operate on that philosophy and still be civilized.

What deserves defense is, first of all, the law-abiding citizen's life, and then the property of that good citizen. The lawbreaker is entitled to only one thing from a responsible society—punishment for his misdeeds. And to be credible, local government has to be prepared to use adequate force against lawbreakers. In the case of riots, credibility requires the use of deadly force.

As for Mr. Clark's fear of "escalation," that fear is shameful. It is the United States to admit that it is afraid to enforce the law, afraid to take rioters in hand? If that is the case, we are fast approaching a state of chaos in this country. We are virtually admitting that criminal elements have a veto on lawful government. A government that fears to crack down—and crack down hard—on rioters is a government that is about to fall and that is bowing to the dictates of street mobs.

Obviously, government—federal, state or local—must not bow to the mob. If confronted with rising violence, it must meet that violence with lawful force in whatever amount is needed. Otherwise anarchy will prevail. No one's life, let alone his property, will be safe if Atty. Clark's policy prevails.

Kennedy Deciding Whether to Use Jacqueline Kennedy in His Indiana Primary Race — or Wait Till California

PAUL SCOTT

FORT WAYNE, — April 29: Senator Robert Kennedy and his political brain trust are nearing a crucial decision on whether to roll out their biggest political gun in this state's May 7 presidential primary.

Their "secret weapon," originally being kept under wraps until the make-or-break California (June 4) primary, is Mrs. John F. Kennedy, widow of the late President.

In a whirlwind stretch drive, Kennedy's aides are mobilizing all the Kennedy womanpower to try to pile up a big victory in this strategic Midwest state.

For the clincher, a series of receptions featuring the Kennedy women are to be held throughout the state this week, including one at which Jacqueline will be the headliner if Bobby approves.

Kennedy lieutenants favoring the former First Lady's political debut for Bobby this week are former White House aides Theodore Sorenson and Kenneth O'Donnell.

Other aides, like former Postmaster General Larry O'Brien are advising against it. O'Brien's group wants Mrs. Kennedy's political charm saved for California's primary race.

They question Jacqueline's ability to sway the more conservative Indiana voters, who picked Richard Nixon over her late husband in 1960.

As for Mrs. Kennedy, close congressional friends say she is willing to do whatever Bobby decides. And they expect that decision today.

Battling Kennedy for the state's 63 delegates are Sen. Eugene McCarthy, Minn., and Gov. Roger Branigin, favorite son candidate, who leans toward Vice President Hubert Humphrey.

THE KENNEDY OPERATION With salaried organizers now in 75 of Indiana's 92 counties, Kennedy's spending in this bitterly-contested primary now to $1.2 million. His paid political announcements—jump at you like machine-gun fire from the state's TV and radio stations.

Although publicly keeping a neutral position in the three-way race, Senator Vance Hartke has privately succumbed to Kennedy's pressure and is now making phone calls urging key Democrats to support and work for the former attorney general.

Other Democrats report attractive financial offers from Kennedy for their supporting efforts. State Democratic Chairman Gordon St. Angelo rejected a Kennedy offer of $40,000 to run his statewide campaign.

LABOR POLITICAL FRONT—In their upcoming meeting in Atlantic City on May 4, the United Automobile Workers convention will pass up endorsing a presidential candidate.

On advice from President Walter Reuther, UAW's executive board will recommend the union remain neutral—until the confused national political picture becomes clearer.

After party conventions in August, however, the 14 member union will endorse a candidate at a "citizenship conference" in early September.

Meanwhile, AFL-CIO officials are passing the word that Negro moderates, not extremists, will get support from their unions.

In a typical appeal Joseph A. Beirne, president of the Communications Workers of America, is urging labor leaders to combat what he terms "the insanity of Stokely Carmichael's call to arms."

Several members of COPE, the political action arm of the AFL-CIO, are boosting Whitney Young, president of the Urban League, as a possible running mate for Vice President Hubert Humphrey. The union group favors Humphrey for the Democratic presidential nomination.

The labor leaders were impressed with Young's little publicized statement that a white person, rather than Negro, may take over the civil rights leadership role of the late Dr. Martin Luther King.

Named recently as a director of the Rockefeller Foundation, Young through the years has kept close ties with Governor Nelson Rockefeller, who is inching his way toward becoming an active candidate for the presidency.

WORLD-WIDE POWER—Under aging but vigorous President George Meany, the AFL-CIO has developed into an organization with great influence throughout the world.

For example, a protest by the union's high command recently led to the release of a Saigon trade union leader.

Vo Van Tai, general-secretary of the Vietnamese Confederation of Labor (CVT), was released after being taken into "protective custody" for leading a strike of utility workers in January.

In blistering memorandums to both U.S. and South Vietnamese authorities, the American union officials vigorously objected to the arrest. The blast immediately freed the South Vietnamese labor leader despite protests by top military officials in the Saigon government. They contend the labor boss favors establishment of a coalition government on South Vietnam, which would include members of the Viet Cong.

SURVIVES FALL

OVERSTRAND, England (UPI)—An 80-year-old widow survived a fall from a seaside cliff more than 100 feet high Sunday. Witnesses said Mrs. Rosamund Bizzarri would have struck concrete pavement head-first had her fall not been broken by a large roll of old wire. She was in "fairly comfortable condition" at a hospital.

WASHINGTON

North Viet Aide Hits Commie Rule

By RAY CROMLEY
Washington Correspondent

VIENTIANE, LAOS (NEA)—Sometimes we overestimate the enemy and underestimate ourselves.

The man was a rising captain in Ho Chi Minh's army, one of a select group taken into Communist party membership and given positions of increasing political responsibility. In his last assignment, he was a political commissar in the Communist-occupied area of Laos.

Yet this Communist captain gave himself up; he had become disillusioned.

This is his story: "I joined the army to fight the French. I hated them. After we drove the French out, we had our own government.

"At the beginning, I believe, we did have a government of the people of North Vietnam. The Communist program sounded good. I believed it and I worked for it. I thought it would change the country.

"But things didn't work the way the Communist leaders said. The French are long gone, but we still have no freedom. It is no longer a people's government. It's ruled by the Communist party leaders and everyone must do what the party orders.

"You have to get party permission for whatever you do what you will work at—whether you become a teacher or whatever.

"If you have a buffalo and you want to sell him, you must sell him as the party directs. The party tells us how much rice we can keep, how much we must turn over to the authorities.

"Even our village elections are dictated by the party. We elect a 'big' as 'lead' from each group of 10 families. But the party picks the candidate. Then each person is asked, 'Would you like him? If you would, say 'yes.' You cannot say 'no.' You have no choice. I never voted 'no.'

"At home in North Vietnam things are getting worse. I went home to visit my family a year and a half ago. The people are only doing their duty. They have no enthusiasm. Today in North Vietnam, in a family when a man is sent to South Vietnam the mother thinks he will never come back.

"I found in my village the people were short of food. My family did not have enough to eat. The people worried about whether they would get something to eat. There are not enough people to work the farms only the old men and the women. The young men are gone into the army and other places. Not enough food is grown. What food there is the party rations.

"My family was afraid of the bombing. In going home I traveled to many places in North Vietnam. I found bombers and the results of bombing everywhere. I could see the people were afraid. Those I talked to made no secret of their fears.

Pine Tree Features

By BUTLER D. SHAFFER

"Support your police State or—Else!"

A short time back I heard a report of a speech given by Hubert Humphrey in which he took to task those persons who were opposing the war in Vietnam. He said that these persons wanted to choose for themselves when they would or would not be willing to go fight, and added: "What gives these people the right to play God?"

Now that is an interesting concept: When a man demands the right to choose whether or not his life is going to be taken from him, he is playing God! What about the politicians—such as Mr. Humphrey who want to decide when other men's lives are going to be taken? What are these men playing?

It is rather sickening to see the rapidity with which this nation is moving toward a total police state. Not only does the government dictate decisions regarding your business, your home, your employment, your children's education, your health, your freedom of movement and even the continued existence of your life; but it is now operating in such a way that your opposition to these decisions is to be made a criminal offense.

The government recently brought "criminal conspiracy" charges against a group of men including Dr. Benjamin Spock for advocating that men refuse military service. They were not charged with tossing bombs or blocking trains or sabotage, but with expressing their beliefs. These men face the threat of long prison sentences for exercising their freedom of speech.

In addition to this, the government has re-classified the draft status of young men who have opposed the war and—taken part in demonstrations against the war; it has brought spurious charges based upon evasive technicalities—against others who have openly demonstrated against the government's involvement in Vietnam. It has court-martialed men who have dared to place the dictates of their consciences above military decrees!

What is most frightening, however, is the degree to which the average American accepts these gesticulations as "necessary." The statist mentalities of all persuasions—whether of the "frantic left" or the "dumb right"—whoop it up for even stronger crackdowns on these so-called traitors who dare to question the voice of "Authority."

What is equally disturbing is the manner in which these statist-types can conclude that such practices as forced military service, coerced silence, demanding obedience, and unfettered government control, are essential to the maintenance of "freedom." Freedom? For who? To do what?

I am reminded of a book written a number of years ago by Milton Mayer: "They Thought They Were Free." In this book, Mayer tells of his experiences in living and talking with a number of German people who had lived in Nazi Germany. The book's title conveys the essence of what these people thought: They were of the view that they had really enjoyed "freedom" under Adolph Hitler!

So, too, Americans are rapidly accepting the doctrine that "Unquestioning obedience to the state is necessary to maintain freedom" and those who, for one reason or another, demand the right to their own lives and right to their own lives and take the position that their happiness comes before the demands of the state, are looked upon as "playing God."

Clearing House

Articles for this column are preferred to be 700 words or less in length. However, longer articles may be printed. All letters must be legible.

If Texans vote in "Liquor by the Drink," taxpayers other than those killed and injured on the highway will suffer. In other states, California has spent $5.20 in known alcohol related expenses for every $1.00 in liquor tax collected and Massachusetts $3.50 for every $1.00. Death on the highway in Iowa increased 30 per cent in two years. In Texas, this rate of increase would mean 600 more people would be killed each year on the highway and thousands more maimed.

Present crime and violence records in Texas show alcohol involved in 77 per cent of the cases. Its backers claim this bill would cause a 67 per cent rise in the sale of alcoholic beverages and raise 7 1/2 million dollars in taxes. Texas cannot afford this 67 per cent increase in alcohol-related expenses, paying in broken homes, abandoned children, drug addiction, sex crimes, highway violence, murder and required number of law-enforcement personnel who are already in short supply. The facts should be ascertained and faced.

Wanda Mae Huff, Women's Editor

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am a freshman in high school and this problem has been on my mind ever since I can remember. I am NOT Jewish, but a lot of people think I am—or that my father is, but he has been denying it. We have a Jewish-sounding name, and everyone I've ever met with our name is Jewish. To make matters worse my father "looks" Jewish, and so do I.

We live in a "restricted" neighborhood and belong to a country club that has no Jewish members. All my parents' friends know for sure that we aren't Jewish, but lots of kids at school call me a "dirty Jew."

Abby, I have nothing against Jews, and if I WERE a Jew, I would admit it, but I was baptized in the Episcopal church, and I'm a Christian.

My father understands the problem because he has had it all his life, so when I asked him if I could legally change my name when I am 21, he said it was up to me, and he wouldn't object.

Now I am wondering, if I were to change my name for a more Christian one, would people think I changed it because I am really Jewish and want to hide it? What should I do? NOT JEWISH IN GREENWICH

DEAR NOT: There is no reason why a Christian should continue to wear a Jewish label if he feels it's a handicap. Go ahead and change your name if it will make you happier.

DEAR ABBY: My husband is suffering from a terminal disease. His doctor refuses to speculate on how long he will live. His life could end suddenly or he could linger on for many months.

Our only son is to be married in six weeks. The girl's parents plan a large church wedding to be followed by an elaborate reception. Of course my husband will be unable to attend any part of it.

What position should I take? Would it be proper for me to enter into these festivities? Should I stand in the receiving line without him? Or still worse, what should I do if I am widowed?

Pampa Altrusa Club 'Hears Foreign Exchange Students' Reports

The Altrusa Club of Pampa met recently in the Starlight Room of the Coronado Inn. The program, presented by Mrs. Marie Fitzgerald's International Relations Committee, featured Pampa's 1967-68 American Field Service's foreign exchange students.

Mrs. W. C. Epperson, American "Mom," introduced her red-haired, blue eyed Italian son, Mario Zoratti who spoke about his homeland and his impressions of the United States. He said his first impression of this new home came as quite a shock, due to the unaccustomed flatness of the plains. His home is a small town in northeastern Italy, which is located at the foot of a mountain.

With a note of humor liberally sprinkled throughout his speech, he told the 40 women attending that in his country a woman was not allowed to so much as go gossiping across the street without permission from her husband.

"Although the people of Southern Italy are as Americans picture them, dark eyes, complexion and hair and the people of the north are mostly fair and with light hair and eyes. The people of the north," Mario said, "are not so much crazy about the spaghetti, pizza and folk music. If you want to do me a pleasure, you can give me the American hamburger."

Italian children attend school from the age of three through 19 years. They always remain in the same class through the day with teachers of the different subjects coming to the class.

"In school they sometimes stage a Walk-Out. Last year, for instance, students of my high school wanted a new university to be built. After the government complained it could not afford the new college the students walked out and spent the next week roaming the streets, waving signs and flags. Students are very proud of their university," he said.

Mrs. Julian Key, in her introduction of her "adopted" son, Carlos Caballero of Paraguay, said 3,000 foreign students are living in America this year. The American Field Service serves in 60 countries.

Carlos Caballero studied English at night three years before coming to the United States. He smiled as he recalled speaking to his new parents in English in sign language when he first arrived in the East.

Upon arriving in Pampa he found the natives spoke slower than in the East, but with "the very funny accent." He commented at the time to Mrs. Key, "Americans are very friendly," to which she replied, "Yes, Texans are!"

"Paraguay is a small inland country, the climate between 45 degrees and 110 degrees. Since it is so close to the Equator, it never snows," Carlos said. "When you are having Spring as now, my country is having Fall. When you have Winter, we have Summer," Carlos said. He is interested in mathematics and plans to be an atomic engineer.

Elementary students go to school for eight years before entering high school for six years. There is a special preparatory course for those who want to go to the university," Carlos said.

"Paraguay is a young country, as is America," said Carlos. "They won their independence from Spain in 1811. The inhabitants are a quiet people. Our day begins about 4 a.m. and finishes early," he continued.

"Like all other Latin American countries, the father has a great deal of respect. Everyone must do as he says. In America there is more understanding between the fathers and children, which is good," he said. The population is 95 per cent German Catholic. While living in Pampa, Carlos is attending the First Methodist Church with his adopted family.

"My father works for a lumber company and teaches at the university at night. Mother cares for the family and helps run a small store. I have four sisters, two of whom are studying in Argentina.

"At home boys have much more freedom at the age of 12 or 13 than do the boys of the U.S. They think nothing of going out in the evening, in groups of 10, to serenade the girls, and return home anywhere from 2-7 a.m.

Girls never go out with boys in cars; and dates are chaperoned. Boys in my country like to dance with the girl not in front of her," Carlos laughed. "The waltz, tango and cha-cha are favorite dances. American music is well known in Paraguay," he said.

Two years of military service is required and four years for officer training. Carlos has served three years of his training and must complete another year when he returns home, at which time he will become a lieutenant.

Table decorations were on the theme "Friendship around the world."

In the business meeting after the program, May 4 was announced as the date for the Training Seminar in Big Spring.
