pal Water Authority by the United States Bureau of Reclamation in ceremonies yesterday.

Leon Hill, regional director of the U.S. Bureau of Reclamation, presented George W. Finger of Borger, president of CRMWA, with a symbolic master key to the dam and other installations.

"This key," Hill said, "denotes that the project has been turned completely over to the water authority."

The formal ceremony was held at 1:30 p.m. yesterday at the water authority's administrative building. The CRMWA actually assumed control July 1, with John C. Williams, secretary-treasurer, taking over the managerial duties.

Hill gave a brief history of the project, which was authorized by the U.S. Congress in 1949. Amarillo was first interested in the project, he said, and then other cities joined in developing the project.

After people of the various member cities voted approval of the project 30 to 1 in November, 1960, the CRMWA contracted with the Department of Interior to build the project, including the dam, reservoir and aqueduct and pipeline facilities.

During the ceremony, Hill introduced Lawrence Hagy, former mayor of Amarillo and an early booster of the project, and Mrs. A. A. Meredith, wife of the late executive secretary of CRMWA for whom the lake was named. He also introduced C. O. (Spike) Crane, project construction engineer.

Finger presented plaques of appreciation to Hill, Crane and Fred Gray, field solicitor for the Bureau of Reclamation.

Mrs. Meredith said, "It's a happy day for all of us. It's an event and a project the Panhandle can be proud of. . . it's a dream come true."

Hill noted the project had run into a lot of difficulties and skepticism.

"The project had its troubles," he said. "Many people thought it was a waste of time and would never work. But there it is," he said, pointing to the lake.

About 50 officials, directors and guests from the 11 member cities attended the ceremony. Before the ceremony, they went on a two-hour boat tour of Lake Meredith and had lunch at the marina.

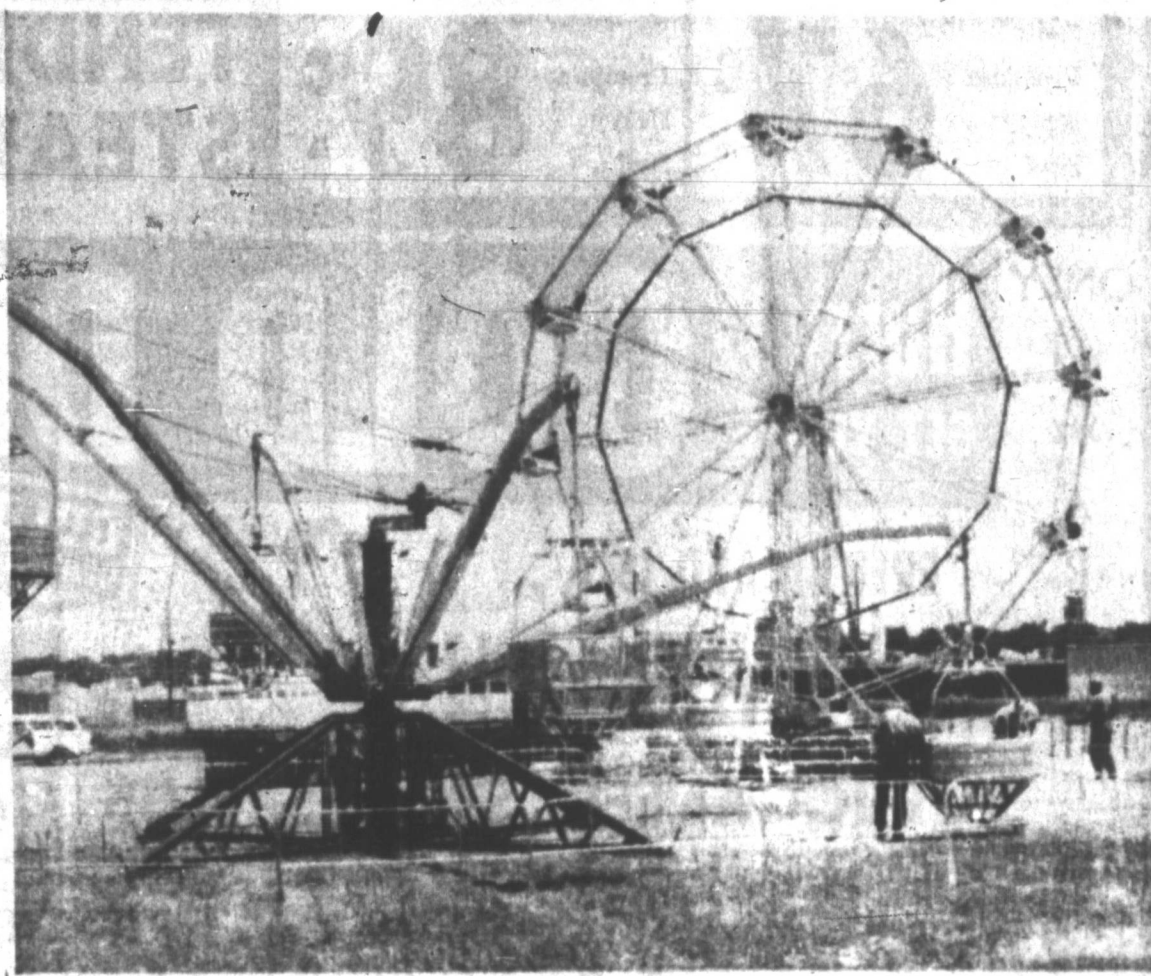

Pampa sent a seven-man delegation to Lake Meredith. Attending the event were Fred

Marines Stubbornly Defending Hill 689; 300 Communists Killed

By JACK WALSH
SAIGON (UPI)—The U.S. Marine defenders of Hill 689 said today they had killed 300 Communist attackers on the height two miles west of Khe Sanh where the North Vietnamese have claimed a victory.

The toll ran to 530 the number of Communists killed near the Demilitarized zone (DMZ) this week.

In the latest clash on the slopes of the hill which rises more than 2,000 feet above sea level the Marines on Monday killed 70 North Vietnamese attacking under cover of small arms and mortar fire and vowed they would stay there until they kill the rest of the attack force.

It was the same hill that the North Vietnamese delegation to the Paris Vietnam talks reported had been "surrounded" in a series of Communist victories in (See MARINES, Page 3)

Final Units In Street Improvement Program Are Released For Paving

The final 23 units were released by City Council today in Pampa's overall street improvement program started last summer.

Release of today's units to the contractor marks the final phase of the city's $2-million residential street paving program authorized in a voter-approved bond issue in March of 1966. The city's share of the program okayed in the bond issue was $950,000. The balance is paid by property assessments on the streets paved.

A total of slightly more than 200 city blocks will have been improved when this summer's paving program is completed. Last summer's first phase paving project included 146 city blocks and approximately 70 blocks are on this summer's program for a total of 216.

The final 23 units in the bond issue paving program released today were:

Boyd from the alley east of Wells to Sumner, Jordan from Warren to Hazel, Montagu from Russell to Cuyler, Buckler from alley west of Frost to Frost, Wheeler from Canadian to Miami, Wheeler from Miami to Tignor, Locust from Finley to Henry, Campbell from Barnes to Finley.

Problems Of Peace And War Next Topic

SAN ANTONIO (UPI)—President Johnson, elated by a successful weekend summit meeting and by greetings from wildly cheering crowds as he hedge-hopped his way home through Central America, relaxed today at his Texas ranch before flying to Washington tonight.

But around him preparations began for another trip, this one to the Pacific to talk the problems of war and peace with South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu.

Johnson stopped at the LBJ ranch for a brief respite after an exhilarating 5,900 mile safari topping off a visit to San Salvador.

The President gave the presidents of Nicaragua, Costa Rica, Honduras and Guatemala a ride home on the presidential jet and made ceremonial calls at their countries' airports.

Thousands showed up at the guarded airports to welcome Johnson with homemade signs, American flags, and festive music.

In business at home the President today planned to send the Senate a message from the ranch, urging early ratification of the United Nations treaty to ban the spread of nuclear weapons.

Rusk To Testify
Johnson's message coincided with an appearance by Secretary of State Dean Rusk before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Johnson signed the treaty July 1 and made a dramatic announcement of forthcoming exchanges with the Soviet Union on limitation and curbing of offensive and defensive rockets.

The Texas White House also said arrangements were being made with the Thieu Government to set a place and time for the Pacific meeting.

Honolulu, American Samoa and Manila have been mentioned as possible sites. The two presidents were expected to meet within the next two weeks.

The White House aides were letting the announcements come from Saigon, but Johnson apparently had been getting ready for the meeting for some time. (See TALKS, Page 3)

Gang Killing Is Suspected In Death of Texan

GRANBURY, Tex. (UPI)—A body found in a field Friday was identified as that of James Allen Smith, 33, an ex-convict and there were signs that he was "executed" on the spot after a gangland trial.

Tarrant County Dist. Atty. Frank Coffey and Ranger G. W. Burks confirmed that Smith had been working with the state in an effort to break up a gang led by Mark Flanagan, a former war hero turned hoodlum.

Hood County Sheriff Frank Scarbrough said the body was "almost a skeleton." It was discovered by a Fort Worth woman who saw two chairs in a cedar, brake and made for them to rest.

Coffey said it appeared that Smith's executioners had left the chairs behind and that high weeds were cleared "as if they were holding a little court session." Smith was shot between the eyes.

Seized In Dallas
Flanagan, 45, was seized in Dallas last March along with $10,000 worth of stolen gems. Smith was arrested the same day. Coffey said Smith supplied the information that made possible Flanagan's arrest.

Gunman Finally Gives Up; Bride, Child Released

By CHARLES BERNARD
SYDNEY, Australia (UPI)—A young gunman who kept 70 police at bay for eight days today surrendered, marching from the siege house with the teen-aged bride and baby he held hostage. Wallace "Wally" Mellish announced he wants to fight in Vietnam.

"They should have left him in the asylum," said Wally's mother.

But Police Chief Norman Allan of New South Wales smiled as he led Mellish, 23, his shotgun bride Beryl, 19, and 12-week-old Leslie across a lawn cut by riot squad foxholes. Allan had been criticized for agreeing—under the gunman's threat of mass murder—to witness Wally's marriage to Beryl and supplying him with an armor piercing M16 automatic rifle.

The chief's tactics of pacifying Mellish paid off when Wally telephoned Sydney Radio Station WSM and broadcast that he would surrender if given a medical examination at the Australian army recruiting office.

Promises Broken
Wally had promised at the outset of the siege—he chased away two warrant servers—to surrender if allowed to marry Beryl. Allan had agreed and then Wally demanded 90 minutes with his bride and Allan had again agreed. Then Wally demanded a one-night honeymoon in the siege cottage and Allan agreed. But, although the chief had supplied Coca-Cola and chocolate cookies for the wedding and himself as witness, the gunman still refused to surrender.

When Allan went back into the house to plead for surrender, Wally demanded and got the M16 rifle plus 200 bullets and threatened once more to shoot himself, Beryl and Leslie. The siege continued.

Shouted Wally: "If you throw tear gas in here I'll kill Beryl and the baby and I'll take a few of you mug coppers with me before I go."

But today Allan agreed to the medical examination. After all, police psychiatrists had wanted another chance at Mellish, a car thief they had treated during his many jailings for burglary and theft. A minister and Detective Superintendent (See HOSTAGE, Page 3)

Pampa Will Sell Lake Water To City Of Lubbock For The Year

City commissioners today approved the recommendation of City Manager Charles V. Hill that Pampa sell to the City of Lubbock the major portion of its 1968 allocation of water from the Canadian River Municipal Water Authority.

The contract involves sale of some 659 million gallons from Pampa's 700 million gallon allocation for the year.

Pampa has a firm need for 41 million gallons of the allotment, the city manager said. There also is a possibility, he stated, that an additional 50 million gallons might be necessary for Pampa's use for supplying untreated water to commercial firms.

The contract calls for the sale of the water to Lubbock at the operation and maintenance cost of 3.26 cents per 1,000 gallons in a lump sum payment of approximately $21,000.

Under the contract, the City of Pampa retains the option that a contingency allocation of 50 million gallons be made available for resale back to Pampa at the same rate cost any time prior to Sept. 1, 1968.

It is also set up in the contract that should there be any additional charge by the CRMWA for use of the water, the City of Lubbock will bear the expense.

City Manager Hill said the Lubbock City Council approved the contract for purchase of the water at a meeting on June 13. Lubbock expects to begin taking the water immediately.

Pampa's water treatment plant is not expected to be in operation to receive water from the CRMWA Authority for domestic consumption until the fall of 1969.

Talks

Thieu, who cancelled a state visit to Washington in favor of the Pacific summit, said there were many problems, including the Paris peace talks, and the stepped-up Communist offensive in Vietnam, that called for an exchange of views between the presidents.

Johnson, tanned and jovial, was all smiles as he finished up his Central American tour. The people turned out in droves to see Johnson. It was the first time a president of the United States had visited several of the countries, and national holidays were proclaimed in some for Johnson's appearance.

All stops Johnson stressed hopes for regional economic and political unity among Central American states.

Don Ferguson went into the house. And out came Mellish, Beryl and baby.

Finally Surrenders Beryl carried Leslie, a gurgling boy. Ferguson laid his arms on the couple's shoulders.

The saga of Beryl and Wally was not over.

It appeared certain the gunman would do little fighting in Vietnam. Jail appeared a likelier fate.

Police said Beryl, a convicted prostitute, faced charges of failing to pay $50 in fines for vice convictions. Detectives also asked her what side she was on during the siege.

During the siege she had said on the telephone that she feared for her life and that of Leslie. But police said she apparently kept watch while Mellish kidnapped.

She aired Leslie on the veranda of the house, within a hop, skip and jump of easy escape—yet did not attempt to flee.

Beryl told Allan she still loves Wally.

"The marriage was valid and legal and I asked Beryl again today about her feelings in the matter and she told me it was a sincere act on her part in entering into this marriage," the police chief said.

Allan drove the couple to police headquarters and said Beryl is free to go home to her parents. Mr. and Mrs. Mick Muddle. Beryl wiped her eyes.

The police chief said army officials would allow Wally to apply for volunteer service tonight.

"I told him it was up to them whether he would get in or not," Allan said.

Allan said Wally would be taken from his army test to a psychiatric center for treatment.

Marines

The heavy fighting there coincided with an outbreak of fighting in the Saigon area where the Viet Cong carried out a series of small scale attacks in which they set fire to an oil and chemical storage area, and in the Mekong Delta where they used nausea gas.

The air war went up another notch and spokesman reported U.S. fighter-bombers flew 140 missions against North Vietnam on Monday, concentrating on supply areas just north of the fighting zone. One F4 Phantom was shot down but its two-man crew was rescued by helicopter.

We are going to move off this hill but not until we have defeated the North Vietnamese," said Maj. Gen. Raymond Davis, commander of the 3rd Marine Division which has about 1,000 men atop hill 689.

UPI correspondent Raymond Wilkinson, with the Leathernecks on the jungle mountain just below North Vietnam, reported one charge brought Communist troops surging through the Marine barbed wire.

"The gooks jumped into our trench lines. But we took some antitank weapons and blew them out," Lt. Larry Perry of Dallas, Tex., told Wilkinson. "We set up a hasty defense position and beat them back. But we killed at least 16 in our own trenches."

Hill 689—named for its height in meters (2,230 feet)—overlooks Khe Sanh, the fort which the Marines abandoned five days ago in order to give themselves more maneuverability. The North Vietnamese surged toward the hill 689 outpost, apparently sensing an easy capture of the American outpost they had never been able to budge.

Davis had about 200 Marines atop the height. He sent in about 800 more men. The North Vietnamese began a mortar and rocket barrage and charged. Since Friday they have been charging and the Marines have been cutting them down.

The battle of hill 689 formed one part of a brawl spread along just below the North-South Vietnam Demilitarized Zone (DMZ). Demonstrating their greater mobility, Marine forces were sweeping the area, blocking Communist infiltration routes and killing another 230 Red troops.

In other developments: —In the Saigon area, where allied commanders have predicted a major Communist assault, U.S. troops killed 21 guerrillas Monday. B52 Stratofortresses continued pounding Viet Cong positions. U.S. Navy patrol boats sank three guerrilla supply sampans.

County Board Of Equalization Is In Session

The Gray County Commissioners court convened as a board of equalization at 10 a.m. today for hearings on tax assessment appeals and will meet again at the same time tomorrow.

Individuals and representatives of business and oil firms are expected to make appeals today and tomorrow.

Their number is undetermined, but "It looks like we're going to be busy both days," a spokesman said.

Thompson and Clinton Evans, the city's representatives on the CRMWA board of directors; Mayor Jim Nation, City Manager Charles Hill and city commissioners Hugh Burdette, Joe Taylor and Clyde Carruth.

After the formal ceremony, the board of directors held a business meeting.

Participating cities of the project include Amarillo, Borger, Pampa, Plainview, Lubbock, Slaton, Tahoka, O'Donnell, Lamesa, Brownfield and Levelland.

All member cities except Pampa and Plainview have been using water from the lake. Pampa is having the water piped to the west city limits, but currently is not using the water. A $750,000 water treatment plant will be constructed after final plans and specifications are completed.

Repayment of the $85 million for the project by the member cities will extend over a 50-year period. First payment falls due next year.

Pampa's first annual payment, due Sept. 1, 1969, will be $130,050. The payments will increase annually for the first 19 years until they reach $223,570 in 1989. Total payments, including interest, will be $10,240,830.

Hill said many skeptics believed the dam would not work and the lake would never hold much water. At present, the 25-mile-long lake has an average depth of 82 feet and contains about 375,000 acres surface area.

Russian Missiles In Mongolia Could Strike American Bases

By K. C. THALER

LONDON (UPI) The Russians have set up missile bases in Outer Mongolia within striking range of Red Chinese nuclear centers and U.S. bases in Korea, Japan and Okinawa, defense reports said today.

The rocket site—some of them on wheels—have been installed quietly with the consent of the pro-Moscow regime in Outer Mongolia.

Outer Mongolia signed a 20-year defense agreement with the Soviets two years ago. The pact was aimed against Communist China, to deter Peking from moves against the Mongolians.

Earlier military reports said the Soviets already had moved troops and armored units into the vast Mongolia plain. The new report said the missiles are poking skyward in the nation's remote eastern areas.

July 18 Meeting With Consultant Slated By City

The next meeting of Pampa's city commission with Marvin Springer, Dallas consultant engineer on city planning, is set for 7:30 p.m. Thursday, July 18, City Manager Charles Hill reminded councilmen at their regular meeting today.

Springer held his first conference with the commission and other city officials on June 20 when projections on city growth development were outlined.

At the meeting next week, Springer plans to discuss the first in a series of meetings on zoning and revision of ordinances.

They could strike industrial and nuclear centers of Communist China's north. Missiles sited on Soviet territory already have Red China's nuclear centers in Sinkiang Province under cover, the reports said.

The U.S. bases within range of the Mongolian-sited rockets lie about 1,500 miles away. Most of them already were covered. The accent appeared clearly on Red China in this latest muscling of the Soviet ballistic shield.

Peking has been charging for a year that the Russians were reinforcing their border with Communist China.

Earlier estimates by defense experts said Russians had arrayed about 45 divisions between the Urals and the Chinese frontier.

There have been unconfirmed reports that six Soviet divisions are stationed on Mongolian soil—one was said to be an armored division. The Russians also were said to have sent in advisers to train and reorganize Mongolian forces.

Warrents Issued In Check Cases

Three felony warrents have been issued by the Gray County sheriff's office, all of them involving worthless checks.

The warrents have been issued for Linda Shannon Stoye, charged with writing a worthless check for over $200 to Addington's Western Store; for Peggy Parker Barnhill, charged with forging and passing a check for $109 to pay for a menagerie of pets purchased at Nick's Pet Shop; and Mrs. Ronald Holt of Wheeler, charged with swindling with a worthless check in the amount of $133 to Culbertson-Stowers.

Ordinance On 'Junk' Cars Is Being Enforced

Enforcement of Pampa's new city ordinance on getting "junk" cars removed from city streets is being carried out successfully, City Manager Charles Hill told city councilmen today.

"So far we have contacted about 70 persons with notices that the cars must be removed," Hill said, "and 54 of them have been removed."

The majority of them were removed by owners, Hill stated, and only five or six had to be hauled away by police.

Promotion For Rodeo Started

Advertising for the Top O' Texas Rodeo, scheduled here July 24-27, kicked off this morning with a breakfast at the

Lampighter Restaurant and was to continue throughout the day with poster distribution in area towns and distribution of tickets to local merchants.

Four groups fanned out over the Top O' Texas area after the breakfast to distribute the posters and advertise the annual event—and each included a pretty girl or girls from the Leather N' Lace Riding Club.

Groups headed by Glenn Cox and Mack Hiatt will distribute tickets today to Pampa merchants in an effort to defray the cost of advertising the rodeo.

The Top O' Texas Rodeo Assn. has bought its own street advertising this year and will not be calling on local merchants for poster sales as has been done in the past. Rex McAnelly, president of the association, said he emphasized that ticket sales would help defray the cost of the advertising and the association would not have to impose on businessmen after this year's effort.

Thieu, who cancelled a state visit to Washington in favor of the Pacific summit, said there were many problems, including the Paris peace talks and the stepped up Communist offensive in Vietnam, that called for an exchange of views between the presidents.

Johnson, tanned and jovial, was all smiles as he finished up his Central American tour.
The people turned out in droves to see Johnson. It was the first time a president of the United States had visited several of the countries, and national holidays were proclaimed in some for Johnson's appearance.

Don Ferguson went into the house. And out came Mellish, Beryl and baby.

Finally Surrenders
Beryl carried Leslie, a gurgling boy. Ferguson laid his arms on the couple's shoulders.

The saga of Beryl and Wally was not over.

It appeared certain the gunman would do little fighting in Vietnam. Jail appeared a likelier fate.

Police said Beryl, a convicted prostitute, faced charges of failing to pay $50 in fines for vice convictions. Detectives also asked her what side she was on during the siege.

During the siege she had said on the telephone that she feared for her life and that of Leslie. But police said she apparently kept watch while Mellish captained.

She aired Leslie on the veranda of the house, within a hop, skip and jump of easy escape—yet did not attempt to flee.

Beryl told Allan she still loves Wally.

"The marriage was valid and legal and I asked Beryl again today about her feelings in the matter and she told me it was a sincere act on her part in entering into this marriage," the police chief said.

Allan drove the couple to police headquarters and said Beryl is free to go home to her parents. Mr. and Mrs. Mick Muddle. Beryl wiped her eyes.

The police chief said army officials would allow Wally to apply for volunteer service tonight.

"I told him it was up to them whether he would get in or not," Allan said.

Allan said Wally would be taken from his army test to a psychiatric center for treatment.

Marines
The area.

The heavy fighting there coincided with an outbreak of fighting in the Saigon area where the Viet Cong carried out a series of small scale attacks in which they set fire to an oil and chemical storage area, and in the Mekong Delta where they used nausea gas.

The air war went up another notch and spokesman reported U.S. fighter-bombers flew 140 missions against North Vietnam on Monday, concentrating on supply areas just north of the fighting zone. One F4 Phantom was shot down but its two-man crew was rescued by helicopter.

We are going to move off this hill but not until we have defeated the North Vietnamese," said Maj. Gen. Raymond Davis, commander of the 3rd Marine Division which has about 1,000 men atop hill 689.

UPI correspondent Raymond Wilkinson, with the Leathernecks on the jungle mountain just below North Vietnam, reported one charge brought Communist troops surging through the Marine barbed wire.

"The gooks jumped into our trench lines. But we took some antitank weapons and blew them out," Lt. Larry Perry of Dallas, Tex., told Wilkinson.

"We set up a hasty defense position and beat them back. But we killed at least 16 in our own trenches."

Hill 689—named for its height in meters (2,230 feet)—overlooks Khe Sanh, the fort which the Marines abandoned five days ago in order to give themselves more maneuverability. The North Vietnamese surged toward the hill 689 outpost, apparently sensing an easy capture of the American outpost they had never been able to budge.

Davis had about 200 Marines atop the height. He sent in about 800 more men. The North Vietnamese began a mortar and rocket barrage and charged. Since Friday they have been charging and the Marines have been cutting them down.

The battle of hill 689 formed one part of a brawl spread along just below the North-South Vietnam Demilitarized Zone (DMZ). Demonstrating their greater mobility, Marine forces were sweeping the area, blocking Communist infiltration routes and killing another 230 Red troops.

In other developments:
In the Saigon area, where allied commanders have predicted a major Communist assault, U.S. troops killed 21 guerrillas Monday. B52 Stratofortresses continued pounding Viet Cong positions. U.S. Navy patrol boats sank three guerrilla supply sampans.

After the formal ceremony, the board of directors held a business meeting.

Participating cities of the project include Amarillo, Borger, Pampa, Plainview, Lubbock, Slaton, Tahoka, O'Donnell, Lamesa, Brownfield and Levelland.

All member cities except Pampa and Plainview have been using water from the lake. Pampa is having the water piped to the west city limits, but currently is not using the water. A $750,000 water treatment plant will be constructed after final plans and specifications are completed.

Repayment of the $85 million for the project by the member cities will extend over a 50-year period. First payment falls due next year.

Pampa's first annual payment, due Sept. 1, 1969, will be $130,050. The payments will increase annually for the first 19 years until they reach $223,570 in 1989. Total payments, including interest, will be $10,240,830.

Hill said many skeptics believed the dam would not work and the lake would never hold much water. At present, the 25-mile-long lake has an average depth of 82 feet and contains about 375,000 acres surface area.

Russian Missiles In Mongolia Could Strike American Bases

By K. C. THALER
LONDON (UPI) The Russians have set up missile bases in Outer Mongolia within striking range of Red Chinese nuclear centers and U.S. bases in Korea, Japan and Okinawa, defense reports said today.

The rocket site—some of them on wheels—have been installed quietly with the consent of the pro-Moscow regime in Outer Mongolia.

Outer Mongolia signed a 20-year defense agreement with the Soviets two years ago. The pact was aimed against Communist China, to deter Peking from moves against the Mongolians.

Earlier military reports said the Soviets already had moved troops and armored units into the vast Mongolia plain. The new report said the missiles are poking skyward in the nation's remote eastern areas.

They could strike industrial and nuclear centers of Communist China's north. Missiles sited on Soviet territory already have Red China's nuclear centers in Sinkiang Province under cover, the reports said.

The U.S. bases within range of the Mongolian-sited rockets lie about 1,500 miles away. Most of them already were covered. The accent appeared clearly on Red China in this latest muscling of the Soviet ballistic shield.

Peking has been charging for a year that the Russians were reinforcing their border with Communist China.

Earlier estimates by defense experts said Russians had arrayed about 45 divisions between the Ural and the Chinese frontier.

There have been unconfirmed reports that six Soviet divisions are stationed on Mongolian soil—one was said to be an armored division. The Russians also were said to have sent in advisers to train and reorganize Mongolian forces.

Warrents Issued In Check Cases

Three felony warrants have been issued by the Gray County sheriff's office, all of them involving worthless checks.

The warrants have been issued for Linda Shannon Stoye, charged with writing a worthless check for over $200 to Addington's Western Store, for Peggy Parker Barnhill, charged with forging and passing a check for $109 to pay for a menagerie of pets purchased at Nick's Pet Shop; and Mrs. Ronald Holt of Wheeler, charged with swindling with a worthless check in the amount of $133 to Culbertson-Stowers.

Ordinance On 'Junk' Cars Is Being Enforced

Enforcement of Pampa's new city ordinance on getting "junk" cars removed from city streets is being carried out successfully. City Manager Charles Hill told city councilmen today.

"So far we have contacted about 70 persons with notices that the cars must be removed," Hill said, "and 54 of them have been removed."

The majority of them were removed by owners. Hill stated, and only five or six had to be hauled away by police.

July 18 Meeting With Consultant Slated By City

The next meeting of Pampa's city commission with Marvin Springer, Dallas consultant engineer on city planning, is set for 7:30 p.m. Thursday, July 18. City Manager Charles Hill reminded councilmen at their regular meeting today.

Springer held his first conference with the commission and other city officials on June 20 when projections on city growth development were outlined.

At the meeting next week, Springer plans to discuss the first in a series of meetings on zoning and revision of ordinances.

Woman Hurt In Mishap Monday

Mrs. Naomi June Ray, 42, of Star Rt. 2, Pampa, was listed in fair condition today at Highland General Hospital after she was accidentally pinned between two cars on the parking lot of a department store on Perryton Pkwy. yesterday.

According to police, Mrs. Ray walked by a parked car on the lot and was pinned against it when another car, driven by Joseph Lutz, 1307 N. Russell, pulled in next to the parked car.

No charges have been filed. The accident happened at 5:30 p.m. yesterday.

Break-Ins Are Reported Here

Police reported two break-ins yesterday, the first this morning at Horace Mann and Woodrow Wilson schools.

The burglars took slightly over a dollar from a vending machine at Horace Mann and about $5 from a vending machine at Woodrow Wilson school. No vandalism was reported, police say.

Several trophies were also taken from Woodrow Wilson.

In other police news, Mrs. B. M. McCaskill of 1701 Dogwood reported the theft of a number of credit cards from her husband's car Saturday night or Sunday morning while it was parked near Highland General Hospital. Taken were six petroleum credit cards issued to Nalco Chemical Co. of Sugarland, Tex.

$500 Bond Set

Charges of driving while intoxicated were filed today against Charles B. Martin, 32, of 609 E. Brunow. After he was stopped last night following traffic violations, Bond was set at $500 by Justice of the Peace E. L. Anderson.

Promotion For Rodeo Started

Advertising for the Top O' Texas Rodeo, scheduled here July 24-27, kicked off this morning with a breakfast at the

Lampighter Restaurant and was to continue throughout the day with poster distribution in area towns and distribution of tickets to local merchants.

Four groups fanned out over the Top O' Texas area after the breakfast to distribute the posters and advertise the annual event—and each included a pretty girl or girls from the Leather N' Lace Riding Club.

Groups headed by Glenn Cox and Mack Hiatt will distribute tickets today to Pampa merchants in an effort to defray the cost of advertising the rodeo.

The Top O' Texas Rodeo Assn. has bought its own street advertising this year and will not be calling on local merchants for poster sales as has been done in the past. Rex McAnely, president of the association, said He emphasized that ticket sales would help defray the cost of the advertising and the association would not have to impose on businessmen after this year's effort.

Conceal Sunburn With Lightweight Make-Up Layers

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (Sp1)—If you began one of your precious vacation days by staying in the sun a little too long (or worse, a not too long) and then discovered a romantic evening of dinner and dancing on your schedule, could you transform your complexion from sunburned-to-moonglow-pale in time for cocktails?

A noted beauty authority has this helpful, vacation savings suggestion. To conceal a sunburn use two lightweight layers of makeup rather than one heavy coating. Begin your make-up by covering your entire face with a light application of fluid makeup to "cool" the red of your sunburn. Use a damp sponge to apply this base gently and sparingly. When you have finished blending, the effect should be a pale veil of color. Set the base by gently patting the face over all with a thick pad of cleansing tissues to remove any excess moisture or oil.

Then, over this light color base, apply a pressed powder makeup in a flattering shade dark enough to effectively cover both sunburn and the liquid make-up.

At this point, you are ready to accent your eyes and lips in the usual manner.

Naturally, when it is time to remove your makeup, you will want to pamper your unusually sensitive skin by very gently "creaming" off your cosmetics with cleansing cream.

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am a divorced woman, mid-forties, attractive (so I'm told), and my hobby is boating.

Let me explain, I am not madly man-hunting as I have a pretty good social life, although I have no one special at the moment.

My problem is a joker whose boat is tied up next to mine in the marina. He is in his early fifties, very attractive, and also divorced. He does a lot of entertaining on his boat. He is always very friendly when he sees me, but the only time I ever hear from him is when he wants to BORROW something. (He's borrowed everything from fishing gear to a fifth of vodka.) He always pays me back, but this is what bugs me:

He asked if he could borrow my boat for a night as he was entertaining a "lady" and wanted to try out my new navigation equipment! Now, what would YOU have told him?

SUNDAY SAILOR
DEAR SAILOR: I would have boxed his compass and told him to get lost.

DEAR ABBY: All my life my parents have raised me to be courteous and to respect my elders. This is getting harder every day. I will give you an example.

Last week I went to a baseball game with two of my friends. They left their seats in the stadium for a few moments, and while they were gone a man about my father's age started to move in and signaled another man to come join him. I told him those seats belonged to my friends—who would be back any moment. He said he would "move" when my friends returned.

Well, when my friends came back, this man refused to move. I reminded him that he had given his word but he said, "Listen, kid, I'm 30 years older than you. You kids go find other seats."

Not wanting to start trouble, my friends left and sat somewhere else.

Now why are kids expected to show respect and be courteous to adults when adults act like this to us?

TEEN-AGER
DEAR TEEN-AGER: Teen-agers complain (and justifiably so) that they are individuals and don't want to be judged by teen-agers who behave in a discreditable manner. The same goes for adults. The men were rude and inconsiderate, but they fortunately do not represent ALL adults. Be fair.

DEAR ABBY: When my husband died eight months ago, a very nice looking man attended the funeral. He said he had been a very good friend of my husband. I never saw the man before, but he could not have been nicer to me. He kept calling on me to keep me company in my sorrow, and I invited him over for Sunday meals and so on. I will leave out a lot of details because they are rather personal, but here is what I want to get across:

It turned out that this man had never known my husband! He makes a practice of reading the newspapers to find out where funerals are, how old the deceased was, where he lived, the number of children, and some of the lodges he belonged to, etc. Then he calls on the widow to get acquainted, saying he had been a good friend of her husband.

If I hadn't accidentally found out that he did this to other widows, I might have gotten more seriously involved than I did. And it would have cost me a lot of money, too. Please print this as a warning to other unsuspecting widows.

Movers Suggest Home Owners Not Ship Flammable Materials

CHICAGO, Ill. (Sp1)—Moving can be an emotional experience, but be sure it doesn't become an explosive one as well, cautions a moving company.

Many items which are put to frequent use around the home become dangerous when shipped in a moving van and will be refused by most household goods movers.

In a closed van, solidly loaded and superheated by sun and highway heat, such common items as cleaning fluid, hair spray, charcoal lighter fluid, lacquer, paint removers, some paints and some insect repellents to name a few will generate vapors which can reach explosive proportions.

Power mowers and other tools or appliances using liquid fuel are also a source of danger. Such units are usually equipped with small fuel tanks having a vented safety cap. As the moving van becomes warmer, what fuel may be in the tanks also becomes warmer, generating enough pressure to force vapors past the vent. These, too, need only a spark to explode.

The answer? Check with your moving agent when the move is in the planning stage. He may advise not shipping certain articles, draining the fuel tanks in others. But in all cases an ounce of prevention may prevent a pound of ashes.

Chinese Nuclear Missiles May Be Targeted On US Cities By '72

By RICHARD M. HARNETT
STANFORD, Calif. (UPI)—By 1972 Communist China will be deploying nuclear armed missiles targeted on U.S. cities, a detailed study for the government indicates.

Paradoxically, this nuclear war capability might reduce the chances of a confrontation, according to the report, prepared by a group of leading China experts.

A draft of the unpublished report has been circulated among government officials and was made available to UPI Sunday. It was prepared by a 13-member team of researchers at the Hoover Institution on War, Revolution and Peace at Stanford University for the U.S. Arms Control and Disarmament Agency.

All-Negro Cast Set For Movie Being Filmed

By YERNON SCOTT
HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Traditionally motion pictures with all Negro casts have not been outstandingly successful.

"Porgy and Bess," "Cabin in the Sky," "Green Pastures" and others have had spotty records, although performances were outstanding in some cases. Had the casts been white they might have fared considerably better.

Times, however, have changed. It is conceivable that a well-made, forceful drama with an all-black cast might be a boxoffice blockbuster today.

This is the gamble being taken right now by director Jules Dassin and his story of a black militant group in "Up Tight."

Dassin—who directed "Never on Sunday" and "Topkapi"—could bomb. And he knows it.

"Naturally, I want to make a picture that is artistically acceptable and economically successful," Dassin said during a lunch break in the film.

"The purpose of making a picture is to have people see it. The problem here is that if you make a film of this nature and it does fail it discourages other such projects... But I've got to try."

Dassin, a gray-haired, middle-aged man with a sonorous voice, is the husband of actress Melina Mercouri.

The group included top ranking experts on the military, political and economic affairs of Red China. Dr. Yuan-li Wu, author of a number of books on the Chinese economy, was the project director.

A "high feasibility scenario" was drawn portraying the likely course of events in China between now and 1976. Highlights of the picture include:

—A new attempt at a "great leap forward" beginning in 1969 and ending in 1972 in a "shambles."

—The downfall of Mao Tse-tung in 1972 and a switch to milder, bureaucratic government.

—Concentration on building intercontinental missiles armed with "dirty" nuclear warheads. Little progress in air and ground forces.

—Development of a fleet of submarines that could be posted with nuclear missiles off Hawaii and the U.S. mainland.

—Willingness by China's leaders to enter into arms control agreements that do not limit her own nuclear plans.

—Continuing support of worldwide wars of "national liberation" and continued hostility toward the United States and the Soviet Union.

The experts said the capability of waging nuclear war against U.S. cities will persuade the Chinese that they are safe from attack. Thus, they may be willing to agree to some arms control steps such as a "no first use" pact with neighboring countries.

California Field Mice Eating Crops

CASTROVILLE, Calif. (UPI)—The $6 million crop of this "artichoke capital of the world" is being rapidly devoured by an army of field mice, according to farmers in the area.

Farmers and agriculture officials are sponsoring "kill a mouse" day next Saturday and are importing fine oats, which they will spike with poison and set out to tempt the mice to their doom.

Efforts to flood the fields have failed. The mice run up the stalks of the leafy plants and munch on artichokes until the water recedes.

Television In Review

By RICK DU BROW
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Pity the poor man who has to stay home during the day for one reason or another, and tries to watch network television. Daytime video is definitely not a man's world. In fact, except for a handful of shows—and local movies—he wonders exactly whose world it is. Any fellow who finds his wife watching most of these programs is liable to start asking himself: "Is this the girl I married?"

Probably the best general daytime network hours—not counting the weekend public affairs entries—are NBC-TV's "Today" show and ABC-TV's Dick Cavett program, a daily 90 minutes of talk and entertainment. And some of the soap operas, despite the lack of humor, are very professionally done, and frequently more realistic than the heralded prime-time outings. But look at the rest:

Game Shows Back
In the 1968-69 season, ABC-TV will follow the morning Cavett show with reruns of "Bewitched" and such incredible game series as "Treasure Isle," "Dream House," "The Newlywed Game" and "The Dating Game." In addition, there will be the soap operas "General Hospital" and "One Life to Live," and the daytime mystery, "Dark Shadows."

CBS-TV, meanwhile, will go into the morning with reruns of the Lucille Ball series, "The Beverly Hillbillies," "The Andy Griffith show" and "The Dick Van Dyke" situation comedy. The afternoons of CBS-TV rely heavily on the soapers that carried the network's daytime ratings for so long, among them "Love of Life," "Search for Tomorrow," "As the World Turns," "The Guiding Light," "Secret Storm," "Edge of Night" and the newcomer "Love is a Many-Splendored Thing." After, all these comes the stone-age humor of "Art Linkletter's House Party."

Senior Loop Is Favored

By ED FITE
UPI Sports Writer
HOUSTON (UPI)—Pitching, speed, experience and defense along with a steady winning habit all will be on the National League's side tonight when the senior circuit goes after its sixth major league All-Star triumph in a row over the American League.

And, if those factors weren't enough to awe the American League's power-conscious squad, there's also the tamerity which the completely unfamiliar plastic turfed Astrodome instills in players getting their first tests of trying to handle ground balls or liners to the outfield.

The sheer power at the command of American League Manager Dick Williams of the Boston Red Sox keeps the odds fairly close, but despite such all-the-way threats as Carl Yastrzemski of the Red Sox, lowering Frank Howard of Washington, Willie Horton of Detroit and Harmon Killebrew of the Minnesota Twins the nationals are favorites.

Strong-Pitching Support
The big reason is wrapped up in the mound prowess packed into the National League staff, including starter Don Drysdale (10-4) of the Los Angeles Dodgers, Bob Gibson (11-5) of the champion St. Louis Cardinals and Juan Marichal (15-4) of the San Francisco Giants, who boast 352 strikeouts and 15 shutouts between them.

The fact that this 39th edition of the mid-summer classic will be played indoors for the first time ever with a prime-time audience watching on television (NBC-TV at 8:15 p.m. EDT) gives these pitchers even more of an edge and belittles the hopes of the junior leaguers, who trail 20-17 in all-time standings with one tie.

The American League's plate power, packed into Yastrzemski, Howard, Horton and Killebrew, have shelled their own league pitching for 72 home runs and 175 runs batted in—but the Astrodome is noted as a power hitter's frustration center and the pinch hitter's paradise. And, with the slow-foot Howard and Horton manning the outside outfield patrols the National Leaguers may be able to stretch singles into doubles and convert a budding rally into a full bloom run explosion.

The American League can't hope to match the national on the mound, even if the staff had been as rested as the opposition.

Tiant Will Start
Starter Luis Tiant of Cleveland (14-5) has had only two days rest and the remainder of the staff worked over the weekend. Tiant says he probably will not work more than the first two innings although All-Star rules usually call for three-inning sprints for all starters.

Williams says he probably will relieve Tiant, who boasts 157 strikeouts this season, with John Odom of Oakland (7-5) because the latter has had more rest than the others and also because Nationals Manager Red Schoendienst of the Cards has all right-handed hitters, except Willie McCovey of the Giants, in the starting lineup.

Argentinian Defends British Open Title
CARNOSTUIE, Scotland (UPI)—Roberto DeVicenzo, golfing's good-will ambassador from Argentina, opens defense of his British Open championship Wednesday, ready to beat back the challenge of favorite Jack Nicklaus.

DeVicenzo, the popular 45-year-old Latin whose travels also take him on the U.S. professional tour, has stamped himself as a strong contender to repeat by blistering the 7,252-yard, par 72 Carnoustie course with consecutive sub-par rounds.

The South American golfer shot a six-under-par 66 in Monday's practice round. It was his second straight strong round. He carded a 65 Sunday to tie the South Africa's Bobby Cole for the nine nations title.

Despite DeVicenzo's pair of hot rounds, Nicklaus, leading money winner on the U.S. tour last year, remained a 9-2 favorite.

Nicklaus also played a practice round Monday but did not keep score. The American refused to discuss his round.

Arnold Palmer, Billy Casper and Gay Brewer, winner of the 1968 Master's, the meet in which DeVicenzo made an error on his scorecard and muffed a possible chance for the crown, all shot practice rounds in the 70s.

All-Stars Play In Classy Park
HOUSTON (UPI)—The Astrodome, the most expensive stadium in baseball history, will provide a theater-type atmosphere for Tuesday night's major league all-star game.

The dome, completed in 1965, cost $31.6 million. It is located in the middle of a 260-acre plot and has parking space for 30,000 cars.

The two most outstanding factors of the dome to the fans will be its air conditioning and its upholstered seats, all 45,000 of them. The 6,000 tons of air conditioning, which cost $4.5 million and sends 250,000 cubic feet of fresh air through its vents each minute, keeps the temperature constant at 72 degrees.

These are some of the outstanding features the fan will find at the Astrodome: a 400-foot long scoreboard which allows the picture of each player to be shown as he comes to bat; the astroturf, artificial grass which covers the field; an electrical show which erupts when the home team hits a home run.

It is equipped with wide ramps and escalators which can empty the entire stands in nine minutes.

It's an all-star stadium for an all-star game.

All-Star Game Notes, News

HOUSTON (UPI)—All-Star news and notes:
Red Schoendienst said Willie Mays told him, "Hell, I can play left field."

Schoendienst replied, "I said yes and you can play center field too."

"Curt Flood said one of his greatest thrills won't come true," Schoendienst said. "He was looking forward to Mays' taking his place."

Shortstop Jim Fregosi of the Los Angeles Angels on the Astroturf: "It's beautiful. I just hope they don't hit any ground balls at me."

Brooks Robinson of the Baltimore Orioles, the best fielding third baseman since Ty Traynor, said he does not judge a ball-park by the condition of the infield, but by the hitting background. He said he liked the Dome.

NL starter Don Drysdale of the Los Angeles Dodgers on a conversation with former teammate Frank Howard, the scourge of the American League: "I just told him he better not hit it back through the middle."

Howard, asked if he had trouble fielding on the Astroturf, replied: "No more so than I normally do."

AL manager Dick Williams, when he introduced Howard as his right fielder at a luncheon, said: "Good Luck, Frank, I'm with you." Judge Roy Hofheinz, owner of the Houston Astros and host for the game, threw a $10,000 party in the Astrodome Monday night for 600 newsmen and baseball executives attending the game.

Cardinal pitcher Bob Gibson, wearing a Nehru jacket and a big medallion, hanging from a gold chain around his neck, was the only baseball player spotted.

AL pitcher Luis Tiant of the Cleveland Indians, said this will be the most important start of his life.

Mickey Mantle of the New York Yankees will be used only as a pinch hitter, according to Williams. Mantle hit the first homer in the Astrodome in a 1965 exhibition.

Williams said the closest he ever had come to an All-Star game previously was in 1958 in Baltimore when manager Paul Richards asked him if he

Ex-Aggie Tackle Retires As Pro
LONG BEACH, Calif. (UPI)—Former Texas A&M football star Dan McIlhany is retiring from professional football, Los Angeles Rams coach George Allen announced Monday.

The ex-Aggie told Allen he would not report for training at the Ram camp in Long Beach. McIlhany joined the professional ranks about four years ago.

Allen said the loss of McIlhany and another veteran, offensive tackle Bob Nichols, who was inducted into the Army, will seriously hurt the Rams' chances at the National League championship.

Menefee said Monday Wilson is an "A" student and hopes to pursue both basketball and tennis at Baylor.

Olton, Dumas Enter Second Round Play

Gary Haynes put out a fire in the third inning and went on to lead the Pampa Babe Ruth All-Stars to an 8-2 win over Canyon in the feature game of the District 1 Babe Ruth tournament at Optimist park Monday night.

Haynes relieved Lewis Davis in the third inning with the bases loaded. The curve ball specialist promptly forced Bill Taylor to pop to second and end a Canyon threat.

Haynes pitched shutout ball the rest of the way for four innings. He struck out the side in the fourth inning when three Canyon batters went down on swinging strikes.

In all, he registered six strikeouts in 4 1-3 innings.

Pampa scored two runs in the second inning to go ahead, 2-0. Joe Foster hit a double followed by two walks and aided by two wild pitches helped account for the runs.

Canyon tied the contest at 2-2 in the third frame when starting pitcher Lewis Davis walked in two runs. A total of four walks and Jerry Mariner's single were the factors in the two run outburst.

Pampa came back in the third inning to go ahead once again, 5-2. Three hits including a double by Randy Marsh and singles by Lewis Davis and Mickey Sims were the key factors.

Pampa added a single run in the fifth inning and two more in the sixth frame to put the contest on ice.

In the fifth, Haynes helped his own cause by singling in Mickey Sims, who had previously got a single.

Pampa went on a hitting spree in the sixth inning when a total of five hits including Lewis Davis' double allowed two more runs. Getting singles were Doug Thompson, Randy Marsh, Mickey Sims and Larry Yearwood.

Dumas Tops Spearman
Southpaw Bill Hamilton hurled a no-hitter to lead Dumas over Spearman, 11-0, in the afternoon game of the District 1 Babe Ruth tournament Monday.

He faced a total of 23 batters. Eleven hitters went down in a row at the start of the game before Frank Lemons got life on an infield error.

Dumas scored four runs in the first inning, a single tally in the fifth, two more in the sixth and four in the seventh.

Olton 8, Muleshoe 2
Steve Sanderson limited Muleshoe to four hits to lead Olton over Muleshoe, 8-2, in the other night contest in the district 1 Babe Ruth baseball tournament.

Sanderson whiffed nine in the contest.

Olton scored three runs in the second inning when Tony Barton, Donny Wheat and Kent Parish scored runs to go ahead, 3-0.

Muleshoe came back in the

The Pampa Daily News

A Watchful Newspaper
EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS
TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license, nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself. No more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

Partners in Business

We thought we were becoming shock-proof as crisis piled upon crisis and we concentrated on doing our daily chores as usual. Then we chanced upon a report of a speech delivered by Walter Knott, head of the famous Knott's Berry Farm in California; he was speaking to the Commonwealth Club of California, in San Francisco. Here is part of what he said—the shocking part:

"Mrs. Knott and I started as tenant farmers 46 years ago on a piece of land that had never raised enough to pay any income taxes or had never made employment for as many as 10 people. Today it furnishes employment for more than 1,000 and besides all the city taxes, county taxes, state taxes, franchise taxes, and sales taxes we are able to make enough to pay the federal government more than $1 million a year in income taxes. We felt we knew how to run the place and even take a little pride in ownership.

"When the government agent moved into my office for six months I found out that we really did not own the place. We were running it for the government. This man looked into every aspect of our business, spoke to all our employees, and when he found one that was doing any anti-Communist work, such as making talks like I am making today, he told me to take them off the payroll. When I asked if I could not hire whom I pleased, he replied, 'Don't you know that you are in a tax bracket above 70 percent; don't you know that when you spend money on what you call education and we call propaganda, that you are spending 70 cents of our money for every 30 cents of yours. We are not going to have our money spent like that.'

"And he took these people off the payroll and charged them back to me personally. This is one more example which shows that as government gets bigger, controls get tighter and yet freedom was the basis on which our whole system worked. . . .

Over the years, Walter Knott has been one of that breed of businessmen, too rare, who has dared to "put his money where his mouth is." He has sought to preserve for others, and succeeding generations, the freedom which permitted him to labor, save, invest and prosper. Thousands upon thousands of Americans can attest to that; they have visited the patriotic exhibits at the famed Knott's Berry Farm.

"Too late, we may all wake up to find that someone has killed the goose that laid the golden egg. Only paper gold will remain. For whom do you work?"

What's NOT In A Name

It must be obvious to everyone that organization names often fudge. The Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company, for example, does not trade in tea alone. A&P, as it's more popularly known, is a grocery chain. Normally, the misleading labels are harmless. What does it matter if a tea company sells more than tea?

Now and then however, organizational labels do abuse the public. The Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee, for instance, is grossly misnamed. It is not composed of students and it is the reverse of non-violent.

But perhaps the most flagrant abuse of a group name these days is that of the Students for a Democratic Society.

On the face of it, the SDS title is ever so gently proper.

Under the surface, it is a dirty political joke.

Recently, the SDS held a convention of dissatisfaction in East Lansing, Mich., and one of the first orders of business was to bar local newspaper men. This was not too surprising; SDS is stuffed with bushy-haired, petty revolutionary tyrants and such people have historically complained that newspapers are controlled by the opposition.

Management of news is an unacceptable act in any free nation. It sickens hope wherever it is practiced. But it seems particularly vulgar to attempt it in the name of "democratic society."

Clearly, SDS should reward itself.

We suggest: Students against Democracy. That's right, SADI!

Prices And Taxes

We often hear of something being as certain as "death and taxes." In all likelihood, the same may be now said of an increase in the federal income tax. For that matter, there has been no surcease from tax rises of one kind or another in living memory.

It is important to never lose sight of the relationship between taxes and the prices of everything we eat, wear or use. When you drive into a service station to buy gasoline, a good share of the price of that gas is tax. Specifically, the average retail price of gasoline in the U.S. — excluding taxes — increased only 2 per cent in the past 10 years, according to the publication, Oil Facts. In the same period, the federal government's Consumer Price Index for all items rose 15.5 per cent, while state and federal taxes on gasoline increased 20 per cent. These taxes now average 10.72 cents a gallon.

Nowhere is the relationship between taxes and prices more evident than on the gasoline pump of every service station where prices and taxes are clearly posted. The oil industry in reality is a huge tax collection agency for government, and what is true of the oil industry is true to a greater or lesser extent elsewhere.

When critics lambast an industry for high prices, they often refrain from mentioning the part that taxes play. This is something to remember—particularly in the case of an industry like oil whose prices have lagged far behind the inflationary trend.

Credit Card's 'Big Brother'

The voice with a smile has developed an electronic snarl for those who abuse the use of credit cards—a bad habit that costs the sign-now-and-pay-later industry upward of $30 million a year at a conservative estimate.

At least two systems have been developed whereby credit is checked in seconds via a telephone-computer hookup. All major credit card operations are expected to be using one or the other in a matter of months. Basically, both involve presenting a card to a cashier who places two cards of her own in a touch-tone device attached to a special telephone. One card dials the computer of the cardissuing organization; the second identifies the place of business placing the call.

The cashier then dials your credit card number and the amount of the requested charge. The computer gives either a

'Cronyism' and the Court

In nominating Associate Supreme Court Justice Abe Fortas to succeed Earl Warren as Chief Justice and Federal Judge Homer Thornberry of Texas to become an Associate Justice of the nation's highest court, President Johnson has struck at the concept of an independent judiciary.

Under the balance of powers concept written into the Constitution, the Executive and Judicial Branches of the U.S. government are supposed to be independent of one another. But Mr. Johnson, by seating two longtime political cronies on the Supreme Court would exercise and influence on the character of the court decisions long after he left Washington and went back to the ranch.

While not a "lame duck" in a strict sense (as he hasn't been defeated at the polls), Mr. Johnson in a general sense belongs in that political category. He declined to seek reelection because he recognized that he had lost popular support and could not win in November. He obviously intends to be the kingmaker at his party's presidential nomination convention. It seems improper that he also should be a shaper of the Supreme Court for years to come by action in the final months of his office-holding.

With respect to Justice Fortas and Judge Thornberry, it is sufficient to note that they have been close political associates and allies of Mr. Johnson for many years. Mr. Fortas demonstrated great skill in getting Mr. Johnson out of tricky situations, such as the embarrassment that resulted when a top White House aide under the Great Society was involved in a particularly messy morals case. This skill, while useful to politicians, hardly seems to qualify Mr. Fortas for elevation to Chief Justice. Judge Thornberry's principal attribute seems to be loyalty to Mr. Johnson, which is a quality greatly admired in political circles. Again, that quality doesn't mean a man is well suited for the Supreme Court, where he will be helping decide constitutional cases.

In defending Mr. Johnson, some persons have said that other Presidents made last-minute judicial appointments when they were clearly out of favor. This may be so, but it doesn't constitute justification of Mr. Johnson's nominations. Because other Presidents were in contempt of the public will is no cause for accepting such contempt in 1968.

Basically, contempt is what's involved. On all sides, there is dissatisfaction with the Johnson administration. There also is profound dissatisfaction with the Warren court and the ultraliberal tack it has taken. In November, the American electorate will go to the polls. A new President will be chosen. The election will determine the outlook of the nation. It is only reasonable that the new President, to be inaugurated next January, be allowed to exercise the right of nomination with respect to vacancies on the Supreme Court. If this procedure were followed, the will of the American people would be more accurately expressed.

Unfortunately, Mr. Johnson, while unwilling to exercise presidential leadership to win the war in Vietnam and end the slaughter of American youth on the battlefield, is eager to continue to do political battle for the Great Society and apparently a radical, activist philosophy on the Supreme Court. He is determined to carry on the Earl Warren tradition of judicial twisting of the Republic by naming Justice Fortas Chief Justice of the United States. In short, Mr. Johnson is carrying out his own version of a court-packing scheme.

The Warren Court has distorted the Constitution and laws of the United States since 1952. It has given criminals a mandate for anti-social action, allowing them to hide behind technicalities. It has deprived the states of authority over education that they traditionally enjoyed. Civil disobedience elements have been given free reign to trample on the rights of the law-abiding majority. Laws to control subversion have been struck down or crippled by action of the Warren Court.

The American people have had enough of the Warren Court. They do not need a Fortas Court that follows in its footsteps. What is needed is a truly independent judiciary that recognizes the limits on federal interferences with the rights of the states and individuals, a Supreme Court that will uphold law and order and deal firmly with challenges to the security of the United States. Nothing in the record of Messrs. Fortas and Thornberry encourages fair-minded citizens to believe that their safe-keeping would result in a safeguarding of the principles on which this Republic was organized. It is understandable, therefore, that some members of the Senate plan to engage in extended debate to block their nomination.

vocal O.K. from its taped voice, or a reason for reusing the charge—"cancelled," "card reported lost or stolen," or, possibly, "counterfeit." The computer voice, not shrinking from getting involved, may even go one step further—giving the cashier instructions on how to stall the bad card risk and call police.

"Will the Real American Boy Please Stand Up?"

Question Box

(We invite questions on economic and the proper functions of government which will not be below anyone.)

QUESTION: Is it possible for any government to live up to what it has legalized? If not, why not?

ANSWER: In the long run it is not possible. The reason is that governments change, and future generations will not carry out the contracts made by their former lawmakers. They are not morally obligated to do so. No one can obligate another to a contract, so the lawmakers of the past cannot obligate anyone in the present, or in the future.

Just as children are not morally obligated to pay the legal debts of their ancestors, so future generations are not morally obliged to carry out the errors and mistakes made by former legislators, city, county, state and federal.

In the short term, of course, men in government and their successors use force to compel the present generation to honor the obligations of the past.

As an example, young people working today must pay into social security whether they wish to or not because legislators 30 or more years ago legalized it. The money collected from them goes to pay those who are now over 65 and receiving benefits. The system is already nearly bankrupt, and one day the young people will refuse to pay, or the debt will be more than they are able to pay, and it will be repudiated. And those who have paid in all their working years and not started to receive benefits will lose all they put into it.

Deficit financing and inflationary policies of governments are attempts to pass on to future generations the debts of today, and through history this has always ended in disaster where those who have the least lose the most since they lose all of the little they have.

Dedicated?

(Goshen Ind., News)
The Organizing Committee of Rockefeller for President, R. Douglas, chairman, 50 W. 44th St., New York N. Y., ran a full page advertisement in the Chicago Tribune.

The ad listed the names of 31 members of the committee, all of whom claim to be Republicans "who are not looking for a candidate for President" but who are "Looking for a President."

All of them may be Republicans but many of them voted four years ago for President Lyndon Johnson when they turned their backs on their party's choice for the G. O. P. nomination, Barry Goldwater. Now those same deserters are ready to dump the obvious 1968 choice of their party's delegates, former Vice President Richard Nixon.

They say they are not "just the eastern liberal party establishment variety" of Republicans. "We're from west, midwest, south, and east" says the ad. Fifteen of them are from the east (seven from New York state alone), three are from the south, three are from the west, and the remaining 10 are from the so-called midwest (north of Kentucky and from Kansas east to the state of Ohio).

The 31-man committee claims "we're all kinds of dedicated Republicans who mean to nominate Nelson Rockefeller for President not because he may be the only man who can win but because he is the man who should."

Some of these same 31 Rockefeller-for-President backers were among the thousands of Republicans who four years ago voted for Lyndon B. Johnson. Since when have dedicated Republicans started voting for nominees of the Democratic party?

Most are ready to quit after a day or two, when they commence to feel the pangs of hunger. The longest hunger strike on record was conducted by nine Irish patriots at Cork Prison in 1920. They fasted for 94 days in protest against British brutality and the Crown's refusal to give Ireland a government of its own choosing. . . . Did you know we once had a female candidate for president? Packed in 1872, when Horace Greeley (Democrat) was opposing U.S. Grant (Republican), then seeking re-election, the Equal Rights Party nominated Victoria Claflin Woodhull, an advocate of women's suffrage. Her running mate for Vice-President was Frederick Douglas, a Negro. And, in that same election, a wing of the Democratic Party refused to accept Greeley as their candidate and nominated Charles O'Connor of New

GLOBAL VIEW

McCarthy At Peace Talks Could Sap U.S. Efforts

By LEON DENNEN
Foreign News Analyst
NEW YORK (NEA) — Is this trip necessary?

Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, Democratic presidential candidate to evaluate and criticize Paris in late July to meet with the North Vietnamese delegates to the peace talks.

"It might be a good thing for me, as a presidential candidate, to speak directly to them," the senator said. "I would like to find out what the possibilities for some kind of settlement or accommodation are."

But what can McCarthy learn "directly" from Xuan Thuy, Hanoi's chief spokesman, that has possibly eluded a seasoned diplomat like W. Averell Harriman, President Johnson's representative in Paris? Or does the senator mean to imply that the American negotiators are not zealous enough in their pursuit of peace?

McCarthy undoubtedly acts from good will and not politics but his intervention in the tortuous negotiations can only make the task of the American diplomats more difficult.

Since he has made it absolutely clear—even before the negotiations were under way—that he favored the formation of a coalition government with the Communists in South Vietnam, his meddling will only encourage Hanoi's pro-Chinese diatribe.

A coalition government which will eventually enable them to seize power in Saigon is precisely what the Communists hope to gain from protracted negotiations. It would be the victory that was denied them on the battlefield.

Though the North Vietnamese demand substantial concessions from the United States, they are unwilling to reciprocate the good faith of President Johnson. They rejected Vice President Hubert Humphrey's appeal for an immediate ceasefire.

They seek, as Johnson warned, "to use the talks to see if the United States could be pressured to stop the bombing completely in the southern panhandle of North Vietnam without any compensatory action on their part."

Skeptical Western observers insisted from the very beginning that Hanoi's original aim in engaging in the talks has been to gain time to repair the damages inflicted by many months of American aerial bombardment. As they see it, the Communists are interested only in regrouping their forces for a new war effort in South Vietnam.

So far the skeptics have been right. New information from Hanoi reveals the existence of a strong pro-Chinese faction within the North Vietnamese leadership.

Led by Truong Chinh, former secretary of the Communist party, this faction seeks to exploit the Paris talks as a facade and diversion while escalating the war.

This does not mean that Truong Chinh, despite Red China's backing, will overwhelm the more moderate forces of Ho Chi Minh and Le Duan which are ostensibly backed by Soviet Russia, in North Vietnam, as in the United States, there is a deep division between doves and hawks.

However, there is hardly any doubt that McCarthy's direct approach at Hanoi—especially in view of his strong advocacy of a coalition government—will be interpreted by the pro-Chinese diatribe as a sign of American weakness.

McCarthy, the most Americans want a speedy end to the tragic conflict in Southeast Asia. It is his right and duty as a senator and presidential candidate to evaluate and criticize Johnson's policies. His flying trip to Paris may even add luster to his image as a man of peace.

But let us have no illusions about the Communists. Now, as always, their aim is to win at the negotiating table what they were unable to attain through terror.

The Doctor Says:

Passage of Kidney Stone

When kidney stones cannot be prevented one of three things may happen: (1) tiny stones may be passed in the urine as urinary gravel; (2) stones that are about the same caliber as the ureter pass down that tube with great difficulty and cause the intense pain known as renal or ureteral colic; or (3) one or more stones become so large in the kidney pelvis that they cannot pass.

Urinary gravel usually causes no trouble. If renal colic occurs, passage of the stone can sometimes be eased by injecting oil into the ureter from below through a ureteral catheter. If a large stone is present in the kidney pelvis, the decision whether to remove it surgically or leave it alone would depend on whether there is any evidence that the stone is causing bleeding, interfering with kidney function or causing great pain and bouts of acute pyelonephritis.

Q—I have been taking psyllium seeds daily as a mild laxative. Could they lodge in my kidneys and form kidney stones?
A—Since there is no direct connection between the kidneys and the digestive tract, the seeds could not lodge in your kidneys.

Q—In a recent column you said that kidney trouble does not cause back ache. How can this be true?
A—Since there are no pain nerves in the kidneys themselves, pain in the region of the kidneys is likely to be due to trouble in the back muscles or sacroiliac joint. The excruciating pain associated with kidney stones arises from the ureters. It is true that it starts in the back but it is rarely described as an ache and it radiates down to the groin or thighs.

Q—Is flaxseed good for sore kidneys?
A—No.

Q—What are the symptoms of kidney trouble?
A—There are so many kinds of kidney trouble that no simple answer to this question is possible. In general, abnormal findings in the urine would appear long before any symptoms that the victim himself could detect.

A—My doctor says I have blood in my urine. What could cause this? What do you advise?
A—Blood in the urine is always serious. It may be caused by a tumor, kidney stones, renal tuberculosis, nephritis, poisoning with various drugs, hemophilia and scurvy. The cause must be determined before any treatment can be recommended.

I reckon it won't be long before some 'Special' will produce 'A Fortnight With Fortas.' That will be about all the country can stand once he bends the bench.

Talk about loaded courts — we are going to have one now that is loaded like a 2 dollar pistol — full of misfired cases and misled judgments.

Fortas is going to drag along another old side-arm buddy of Elbe Jay, Homer Thornberry, who has been a thorn in the side of freedom loving people way down deep in the heart of —

The American for Constitutional Action, who rate congressmen "High" for a conservative leaning gives "The Thorn" only 5 percent. He approaches liberal to the point of libel.

"The Thorn" voted that the 17th amendment did not limit itself to "free speech" but extends to marches, demonstrations and assemblies.

Abe the Fort declared unions can picket at private shopping centers and threw out the requirement for communes to register with the government.

So we have been sacked by the head-sacker again and the law is loaded, the bag is loaded, the court is loaded and I might as well get loaded too.

THE LIGHTER SIDE

Middle Name Calling

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI)—One of the nicest things about this year's presidential campaign has been the refusal of the candidates to engage in middle name calling. So far, at least, injection of the middle name issue is not formally barred by the fair campaign practices code to which the Democratic and Republican national committees subscribe.

There appears, however, to be a tacit agreement among contenders in both parties to refrain from dragging an opponent's middle name into the open and exposing it to the harsh glare of publicity.

They apparently recognize that in this era of violence in American life, self-imposed restraint should be exercised to avoid further inflaming the voters' emotions.

Real Statesmanship
This is political statesmanship of the highest order. For few things stir up the electorate more than demagogic middle name calling.

We all remember the campaign of 1960 when certain Democratic orators unflinchingly referred to the GOP candidate as Richard Milhous Nixon, bearing down on the Milhous with mock sonority and stentorianness.

Feelings ran pretty high before that campaign was over. Then, in 1964, the GOP candidate Barry Morris Goldwater, incited his audiences to a fever pitch by reminding them that Hubert Humphrey's middle name was Horatio.

Humphrey, you may recall, was President Lyndon Baines Johnson's running mate on the Democratic ticket at the time.

It was the 1964 campaign that first produced signs of a "middle name backlash." Male voters, many of whom use middle initials to cover up second names that are odd, bizarre, comic or ridiculous, came to resent Goldwater's tactics.

Sympathy Backlash
Thus the Democrats received a large sympathy vote. Republicans could play it safe this year by nominating either Gov. George (Wilken) Romney or Gov. Ronald (Wilson) Reagan. Both have dropped their middle names from "Who's Who."

Nor would the nomination of Sen. Eugene Joseph McCarthy by the Democrats give rise to middle name calling.

But if Nixon and Humphrey are the nominees, the restraint shown thus far might vanish. Much depends on the vice presidential candidates.

Should the GOP pick New York Mayor John Vliet Lindsay, or the Democrats give the nod to Sen. Edmund Sixtus Muskie, the temptation to resort to middle name calling may become irresistible.

MIDEAST CLASH

Woman Found To Be Pregnant Shoots Doctor

TORONTO (UPI)—The woman walked into the hospital Monday and complained of severe abdominal pains.

She was admitted and Dr. Anthony Tripodi began his examination.

When it was over, police said, the doctor told the 30-year-old married woman she was pregnant.

She refused to believe it they said. She blamed the pains on the young doctor.

As he approached the bed to administer a sedative, she pulled out a .32 caliber Brazilian revolver from beneath the sheet and fired six times, police said.

Four slugs hit Dr. Tripodi. He fell, wounded in the abdomen, the right arm and in one ear. He was not critically hurt, hospital officials said.

When another doctor and a nurse rushed into the room after hearing the shots, police said they saw the woman, still squeezing the trigger of the revolver and reaching into her purse for more ammunition.

Four hours later she gave birth to a seven pound girl, hospital officials said.

Authorities said the woman was not charged because she

Farmers Planting More Cotton Than Last Year

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Agriculture Department has reported that farmers have planted 11,051,000 acres of cotton this year, up 17-per cent from last year.

The USDA said Texas will plant an estimated 4,505,000 acres this year, up 545,000 acres from last year's 3,900,000 acres. The department is forbidden by law to make a cotton production estimate until late in the season.

However, if yields should average 500 pounds (one bale) per planted acre, the crop would be 11,051,000 bales. Last year's yields dropped to 447 pounds, 33 pounds below the 1966 level.

Earlier this year the department reported it expected sharply higher acreage for the 1968 crop. In March, indications were that 11.1 million acres would be planted. Acreage was reduced sharply last year, and in 1966 in an effort to cut surplus cotton stocks which reached a record 16.5 million bales two years ago.

The reduced acreage, together with a planting season worse than any on record in many areas, accomplished the goal so well that increased plantings were necessary this year.

Cotton growers last year produced 7,455,000 bales smallest crop in 21 years. Total planted acreage was 9,448,000, the smallest in almost 100 years, and harvested acreage was 7,997,000, the least since 1869. The average yield was 44 pounds below the 1961-65 average.

Included in today's estimates were 68,000 acres planted to extra long staple American-Egyptian cotton. Growers harvested 68,500 acres of this type last year.

Texas has 25,000 acres of American-Egyptian planted this year. New Mexico 14,000, Arizona 29,000 and California 500.

Price Gets 5,000 Letters Opposing New Gun Controls To 100 Approving

I have now received more than 5,000 letters, telegrams and signatures on petitions expressing opposition to any further Federal gun control legislation. I have also received some 100 letters in favor of stiffer controls.

Each of these communications will be answered as soon as possible. In the meantime I have attempted to make my position perfectly clear in opposition to any further gun control legislation. Most, both pro and con, are thoughtful and sincere expressions of the writers' views. Other Congressional offices have also received, a heavy volume of mail although the sentiments expressed in the northern and eastern sections of the country appear to be more evenly divided. I might point out that the recently enacted Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets Act of 1968 contains the following:

1. Prohibits the sale of handguns by mail to out-of-state residents and to minors.
2. Requires all manufacturers, dealers, and importers of firearms to be licensed.
3. Makes it a Federal crime for the following persons to receive, possess or transport firearms in interstate commerce: felons, the mentally incompetent, those discharged from the armed forces other than honorably, U.S. citizens who have renounced their citizenship and aliens illegally in the U.S.
4. Makes it a Federal criminal offense (punishable by a fine up to $5,000 and imprisonment of up to 5 years) for violating any state or local law involving a firearms transaction.

Personally, I feel that proper and strict enforcement of present Federal laws and local and state laws now on the books or new ones that might be enacted are adequate to keep not only pistols but rifles and shotguns as well out of the hands of known criminals, mentally incompetents, minors and the like.

I am convinced that registration of all firearms by law-abiding citizens, the vast majority of whom would never use a gun against another human being except for protection of themselves or their families, would not solve the problem.

No law can prevent a gun from falling into the wrong hands. If the President's proposed firearms bill is passed and made law, we are only closer to that day when law-abiding citizens cannot have a gun in their homes.

We now have two very comprehensive Federal firearms acts on the books. These laws, the Federal Firearms Act, prohibit felons, habitual drunkards, drug addicts and insane people from buying or possessing guns. These two laws also make possession of a gun by an alien illegal. But neither of these laws are being fully enforced by the Federal government. If all the provisions of these laws were enforced, the main problem of firearms—and that, of course, is their use by criminals—would be greatly reduced.

The man who assassinated President Kennedy was a dedicated Communist. The man charged with killing Senator Kennedy is an alien and the man who shot Martin Luther King is an escaped convict. There are Federal and state laws that prohibit any of these three from owning a gun. Could anyone really believe that these three murders would not have been committed if there were a restrictive Federal firearms law—even total prohibition of firearms.

I have no intention of supporting any proposed firearms legislation.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Alexander Hamilton Institute says most speculative price issues now being corrected will provide a more solid base for the next advance. The adviser says any further weakness that develops will be only temporary, adding that a number of key business indicators show evidence of underlying economic strength.

Tessell, Paturick & Ostrau says the minor correction of the past three weeks apparently has just about run its course, adding that a few glamor favorites have displayed a "firming tendency." The company says probabilities favor a partial recovery on the immediate near term and therefore recommends purchases of issues which have shown better than average relative strength.

Paine, Webber, Jackson & Curtis says that with the market approaching a period when the odds favor a seasonal rise, the outlook is for somewhat further improvement over the next few weeks. Later on, however, the company adds, upside progress may become more difficult and stocks could encounter a period of fluctuation lacking in significant progress.
