CHIEFTAIN WAS A PATIENT IN CHURCH CLINIC

IS TRANSFERRED FROM HOSPITAL TO JAIL

AMOIY, China, June 15 (AP)—Pirates attacked the American hospital here tonight but were beaten off after a machine gun battle in which five men were killed.

Those slain were three pirates and two policemen.

The hospital itself was not damaged and none of the attacks was injured.

The institution belongs to the Board of Missions of the Reformed Church of America with headquarters in New York.

Dr. C. H. Holleman of Chicago, superintendent of the hospital, and Miss Jean Neinhiss of Holland, Mich., chief nurse, had been expecting the pirate attack.

For several days Ti Chui Hop, chief of a notorious band of outlaws operating in the district by land and sea, had been a patient in the hospital.

He had been wounded in a gun battle with the police of Amoy.

A police guard was thrown around the building.

The attack was made tonight from the sea. The outlaws, armed with pistols and machine guns, sailed a pirate junk up to the shore on which the hospital is built.

When the junk reached shallow water, the attackers swarmed over the side and stormed across the sand.

The police, waiting in ambush, opened fire with machine guns. The pirates fought back but were unable to break through the police lines.

After their sharp fight, the outlaws turned back and escaped in their junk.

The wounded chieftain, Ti, was immediately transferred from the hospital to jail.

BULLET KILLS ASSOCIATE OF THOS. EDISON

NOTED INVENTOR AND ENGINEER SLAIN MYSTERIOUSLY

EAST ORANGE, N. J., June 15 (AP)—D. McParlan Moore, 67, noted inventor and engineer, was slain today by a single bullet after a mysterious dispute in the early morning rain on the lawn of his home on Park Avenue.

A neighbor, Mrs. Mary W. Taber, heard the argument, Moore's voice and that of another man rising in heated tones, she told police. Then two shots rang out, and she looked from her window to see the retired inventor's figure sprawled on the wet grass near the Moore garage.

Termining Moore's death "murder" after investigation, homicide squad detectives found themselves baffled by the absence of motives. Robbery was not the motive, detectives were agreed, for Moore's wallet with $21 in it was untouched. Initial inquiries, they said, failed to disclose he had any enemies.

Moore's daughter, Beatrice, 25, with whom he lived, provided detectives with what they considered a promising lead in the case. She said a man she did not know came to the house last night about 9 p. m. and asked to see her father. When told the inventor had retired for the night, he left without disclosing his identity or mission.

The detectives theorized that the slayer was a person who knew Moore well and was acquainted with his habits of early rising and walking about his garden about daybreak. The most important clue discovered in the search of the Moore property was a sharply defined footprint in the garden and detectives said they thought it had been made by the fleeing slayer.

As detectives reconstructed the crime, Moore left his house shortly before 6 a. m. (EDT) to go to his garage, planning to drive to Bethlehem, Pa., to attend a funeral. That he did not intend to start out immediately was deduced from the fact that he had prepared his own breakfast and left it waiting in the kitchen.

Powder marks on the slain inventor's head were proof, investigators said, that the fatal bullet had been fired on the lawn. The Moore home is in the better residential section of East Orange.

A former associate of the late Thomas A. Edison, Moore devised the important gaseous conduction lamp and other inventions in the electrical, radio and television field. He held more than a hundred patents.

Douglas Enters Court Action to Back Candidacy

AUSTIN, June 15 (AP)—The first court contest by a candidate for state office this year was brought today by John O. Douglas of Houston, seeking to run against Attorney General William McCraw.

Douglas filed a motion with the supreme court asking permission to bring a suit for mandamus which would compel Vann Kennedy, secretary of the Democratic executive committee, and Myron Blacklock, chairman, to certify his name as a candidate.

The committee recently refused to certify Douglas, ruling he had not complied with legal requirements for filing.

Arrangements were made to send the body to Kerens for burial tomorrow.

PAMPA MAN IS HURT IN AUTO CRASH SUNDAY

VERNON HOBBS TAKEN TO HOSPITAL; SKULL IS FRACTURED

Vernon Hobbs, operator of the General Supply company here received a brain concussion, frontal fracture of the skull, fractured ribs and body bruises, when his car and an oil truck collided at the intersection of Cuyler and Brown streets early Sunday.

His condition today was reported favorable at Worley hospital where he was taken following the accident.

According to officers of the sheriff's department, Hobbs was driving south on Cuyler street. The truck, owned by the Universal Oil company, Panhandle, was going east. Irby Davidson of Panhandle was driver of the truck. He was not injured. Officers said Hobbs was blinded by lights of an approaching car and failed to see the truck start across the street.

Hobbs' car struck the big truck in front of the rear wheels. He was thrown forcibly against the windshield. The car overturned and was damaged.

No one was injured in a crash at the intersection of Highways 33 and 88 yesterday morning about 8 o'clock. Both cars were damaged, however. The accident was unavoidable, drivers of the cars told police. One car was being driven north on Highway 88 by John T. Simms. The other car, proceeding east on Highway 33, was driven by Clem Woods.

Indians Stop in Pampa En Route To Reservation

Pampa was temporarily in the hands of the Arapaho Indians this morning when about 40 Arapaho bucks squaws and papooses, stopped here for breakfast.

The Indians were on their way to the Arapaho reservation near Arapahoe, Okla. They had been in California as part of a winter wild west show.

The contingent was traveling in a special Santa Fe car which was switched from the main line to the Clinton and Oklahoma Western. The coach was attached to the battery car, leaving here at 7:30 o'clock this morning.

Chief Bill Penney was in charge of the party. He said his people were glad to get back home to their native Oklahoma hills after the heat of the California winter. Most of the visitors were dressed in American fashion. A few carried blankets. Most of the men wore long hair, braided which hung down their backs. The children were carried in their mothers' arms and not in back cradles. English was spoken by most of the Indians.

'Nobody Knows' Alf, Says Norris

WASHINGTON, June 15 (AP)—New support for President Roosevelt came today from Senator Norris, Nebraska's independent republican who calls Governor Alf M. Landon a man "nobody knows."

Expressing his opinion in a broadcast last night, the veteran senator reiterated his stand behind the president, whom he supported four years ago, and criticized the republican national convention selection of a presidential nominee.

"These eminent gentlemen behind the smoke screen at Cleveland nominated a man for president whose greatest asset is that nobody knows him and nobody knows what he stands for," said Norris.

Plane Pilot Dies to Save Passengers

This is all that was left of a huge plane which caught fire Friday afternoon when it was 7,500 feet above the earth carrying, besides a pilot and a co-pilot, Jesse Jones, Houston capitalist and head of RFA (the set), and Ex-Governor of Texas.

W. P. Hobby and Mrs. Hobby, and D. J. Toomey of Washington, Jones' secretary. The pilots, Ed Hefley of Shreveport and Eugene Schacher, Houston, brought the flaming craft to earth near Ferris, Texas, soon after it took off from Dallas, Texas. Schacher, co-pilot, died Saturday afternoon of his burns. Mr. and Mrs. Hobby and Toomey escaped with cuts and bruises. Hefley is seriously burned. The picture of Jones was made Friday morning as he came to Dallas with President Roosevelt and his party for the Texas Centennial celebration.

ALLRED WILL OPEN CAMPAIGN AT WAXAHACHIE

Drive for Votes to Last Only One Month

AUSTIN, June 15 (AP)—Governor James V. Allred announced today he would formally open his campaign for re-election with an address at Waxahachie on the night of June 30.

He will close at Wichita Falls, his home on the night of July 24 preceding the election the next day.

"I intend to give an account of my stewardship after the national democratic convention at Philadelphia," he said.

At Philadelphia the governor will place the name of Vice President John N. Garner in nomination for re-election. He is a delegate-at-large from Texas.

Other candidates for the governorship have been active for several weeks. They are Senator Roy Sanderford of Belton, R. W. Fischer of Tyler, Tom F. Hunter of Wichita Falls and P. Pierce Brooks of Dallas.

Lists for candidates in the primary July 25 were closed Saturday. The last day county office seekers could file for places on the ballot. The deadline for state officers was June 1.

John O. Douglas, whose filing for Attorney General was rejected by the state democratic executive committee, said at his Houston home that he was filing a mandamus petition in the supreme court in an effort to get his name on the ticket.

People You Know

(BY A. F.)

Pampa people were talking yesterday of seeing the President at Dallas. "He was so close I could have touched him. Once you see him you can understand why everybody is so crazy about him," said Mickey Ledrick and Rex Rose who took in the Centennial. "We had to pay 25 cents for hamburgers," stormed Rex. "And 15 cents for a coke," blustered Mickey. "We saw a woman whose skin was just like snake hide. The Centennial has got the Century of Progress beat a mile," said Mickey. "That's what everybody who has been to both says. . . . You have to ride a street car to the grounds. . . . I've been hearing bells clanging for a week. I could not keep Rex out of the negro section where I'd find him resting. . . . The white section would be crowded. Three times I had to drag him out of the negro section!"

FIVE SIGNED PAPER AIMED AT CRUSADER

DIPPED MATCH IN OWN BLOOD TO DEVISE DEATH PLOT

DETROIT, June 15 (AP)—Dayton Dean, Black Legion gunman, told from the witness stand today of signing with four other men a "blood pact" to slay Arthur L. Kingsley, Highland Park editor, who was fighting the terrorist organization in his community newspaper.

Dean was a witness at the preliminary examination of eleven men charged with conspiracy to murder Kingsley.

"We each cut our hands or arms and then Hepper (Roy Hepper, defendant who waived examination) gave us a match which we dipped into the blood and signed our names on a piece of paper," Dean testified.

"Hepper said Kingsley was to be taken care of because he stood in the way of Markland's re-election," Dean referred to H. Ray Markland, who was defeated for re-election as mayor of Highland Park in 1934 and who subsequently was on the staff of Prosecutor Duncan C. McCrea here until his suspension June 6. He is one of the defendants in the conspiracy case.

Present at the signing of the pact in the fall of 1933, Dean testified, were Hepper, Albert Schneider, Alvis Clark and Frank Rice. All of whom except Hepper were automobile factory employes.

The common pleas court room was packed as Dean, who caused a sensation at the examination of himself and 14 others about a fortnight ago on charges of murdering Charles A. Poole by volunteering the story of that slaying in detail, related his account of the death plot against the editor.

The actual details of the plot against Kingsley were not discussed at the signing of the blood pact, Dean said, but on the way back "Colonel Hepper told us he would let us know what the plans were and what our orders were."

At a meeting in a fraternal hall a few days later, he testified, "Hepper called me over. Clark and Frye (Clarence C. Frye, another of the defendants) were with him. He said 'you will take orders from these two men and myself and you are to do exactly what they tell you. If you don't do the job you are supposed to do they will take care of you.'"

"What job were you supposed to do?" McCrea asked.

"Kill Arthur Kingsley," Dean replied.

Dean testified that earlier "two men handed me an automatic revolver. They told me Arthur Lupp (admitted state commander of the Black Legion and one of the defendants) sent the gun to me to get Kingsley off of lying in wait for Kingsley on several occasions but said the plot against the editor was abandoned after Markland's defeat at the polls.

Labor Relations Board Is Denied Regulation Right

NEW ORLEANS, June 15 (AP)—The United fifth circuit court of appeals today denied the right of the national labor relations board to regulate the relation of employer and employe in production or manufacture.

The court, in a unanimous opinion, denied the petition of the labor relations board to enforce an order of the board which would require the Jones and Laughlin Steel corporation, organized under the laws of Pennsylvania, to reinstate certain employes who claimed they had been dismissed because of organized labor activities at the company's plant at Aliquippa, Pa.

Negro Held for Attacking White Girl at Hearne

FRANKLIN, June 15 (AP)—A negro ex-convict, once sent to prison for murder, was held for safe-keeping in jail today on a charge of criminally attacking a 13-year-old white girl at Hearne.

The 63-year-old negro, Joe Jones, narrowly escaped death while being brought to the county jail here. An attempt to take him from arresting officers failed. Later, officers said, a sister of the 13-year-old girl attempted to shoot Jones. An officer knocked the gun from her hand and the shot went wild.

Jones was transferred secretly from jail here to another jail, the name of which was not revealed. Officers said Jones was charged with the murder of his wife and a man in Ellis county in 1922. He was convicted and given a 20-year prison sentence, but was released from the penitentiary in October, 1934. Sheriff H. P. Hill said Jones made a statement in connection with the alleged attack on the Hearne girl. Details were not revealed.

Dr. A. R. Sawyer is in Rowell, N. M., this week attending a dental association meeting. He will return Thursday morning.

TEX'S TOPICS

BY TEX DE WEESE

Readers, no doubt, are entitled to a look at a likeness of the conductor of TEX'S TOPICS—successor to WORDS.

If that isn't justification enough, at least it supplies an excuse for reproduction of the photograph you find here today.

It serves up a rough idea of an 195-pounder, introduced by Olin Hinkle at a week-end civic banquet as resembling somewhat the noted leader of a radio dance band.

You will be allowed just one guess. However, enough of that. Rather, we should be getting into the meat of the usual Monday column dish in which you are accustomed to being served, with the rare and well-done efforts of other editors.

Speaking of ladies and gentlemen, as the saying goes, H. Q. Funkinschider, has this to say in The Claude NEWS:

"A gentleman, it has been said, is a chap who always takes off his hat before striking a lady. Accordingly, one presumes, a lady is a woman who always takes off her glove before slapping a gentleman!"

Pain-In-The-Neck Zloncheck and his antics of recent weeks are a matter of public record now, but we are inclined to go along with Clyde W. Warwick in The Canyon NEWS, who says:

The tragic thing about the performances of a silly ass like "Congressman" Zloncheck is that many thoughtless people will look upon him as an example of those in public office. Many a hardworking, respectable member of Congress will suffer in the elections unless this bird is thrown into the asylum or jail until he cools off.

Life is just filled with little mysteries. For instance, you can see just how puzzling it is to D. A. Davis, of The McLean NEWS. He writes:

I am having an awful time finding a place to keep my golf clubs, balls and tees, and I can't see why the corner in the parlor is not a good enough place for my golf bag and why the dresser top is not a good place for the balls and tees. And I can't see why a few empty tobacco cans will hurt anything on

PATTON WILL GO TO TRIAL FOR SLAYINGS

CHARGED WITH KILLING FOUR MEMBERS OF ONE FAMILY

ATHEENS, June 15 (AP)—George Patton, 35-year-old gray-haired farmer, was called to trial today on a charge of murder in connection with the mass slaying of the four-member J. W. McGehee family almost four years ago.

Patton was under indictment in the deaths of Mr. and Mrs. McGehee. His trial will be on the charge of slaying Mrs. Carrie McGehee.

In November, 1932, the McGehee couple and their two children, Doyle, 4-year-old boy, and 2-year-old Bobbie, a girl, disappeared. A nationwide search was instituted which bore no fruit.

Four months later Sheriff Jess Sweeten arrested Patton, took him to Dallas and questioned him at length. The farmer denied any connection with the case and was released.

With Dan Hines, Texas Ranger, Sheriff Sweeten went to Patton's farm early in March of this year and again arrested him. The suspect was carried to Tyler where he told many conflicting stories. Finally he made a statement implicating himself and took officers to a spot on his farm where human bones were unearthed.

Patton was taken to Dallas for safekeeping. Here he told more stories, all conflicting, regarding the slayings. At present he claims two men forced him to kill McGehee and the men killed McGehee's wife and children.

The defense was expected to plead insanity and also to demand identification of the bones as those of the quartet the state claims was murdered.

Richard Sigler of the defense staff said no change of venue would be asked.

District Attorney Tom Pickett said he would demand the death penalty.

A special venire of 100 men was called. Judge John A. Rawlins of Dallas will hear the case in the absence of Judge Ben Dent, excused.

'Alfalfa Bill' Approves GOP Platform Planks

TOPEKA, Kas., June 15 (AP)—W. H. (Alfalfa Bill) Murray, former democratic governor of Oklahoma, at a conference with Governor Alf M. Landon today, declared the republican platform embodied democratic principles and affirmed "I am interested in principles—not candidates."

Murray arrived at the governor's office shortly before 9 o'clock this morning for a "purely social visit—no political significance."

Questioned by reporters, he declined to say in so many words that he would support Landon, republican presidential nominee.

"I am not interested just now in partisan politics," he said. "I am interested in principles and I am going to make a lot of speeches on principles."

"It will be a dirty campaign of course. I'm trying to avoid that—I don't like a fight and newsmen laughed, recalling his militant administration as governor of Oklahoma, his Red river bridge "war" and the martial shutdown of the Oklahoma City oil field.

Will Broadcast Solar Eclipse

NEW YORK, June 15 (AP)—Besides the battle of fists between Heavyweights Joe Louis and Max Schmeling, a conflict of the planets is to be up for description on the NBC channels Thursday night. It's a solar eclipse to be visible in Siberia.

Part of the broadcast scene is to be Alaska, with Dr. Donald Menzel, director of the Harvard-M. I. T. eclipse expedition and others discussing what they see in the sky. The broadcast starts at 9:35 CST, a few minutes before totality and will last until after the moon starts moving out of the way of the sun.

Fans Begin Vote On League Teams For 'Dream Game'

DALLAS, June 15 (AP)—Balloting started today on all-star teams to represent the northern and southern division clubs of the Texas league in a "dream game" to be played here at Steer stadium July 25.

Here is a list of pitchers from whom five must be chosen for each section:

North: Dallas—Fullerton, Baker, Glinto, Parker, Jonnard, Stiles, Armbrust, Frasier, Fort Worth—Shealey, Johnson, Greer, Shoffner, Wilse, Ginn, Tulsa—Kimball, Stein, Milstead, Selway, Thomas, Wasco, Pickrel, Oklahoma City—Stiely, Brillheart, Marleau, Whitworth, Klaerner, Buxton, and Newkirk.

South: Beaumont—Gill, Twardy, Ware, Cook, Pitman, Coffman, McLaughlin, Galveston—Cole, Gibbs, Jakucki, Richmond, Davis, Bennett, Paul, Houston—Cvengros, Smith, Shearer, Ross, Stevenson, Moore, Copeland, San Antonio—Walkup, Abe Miller, W. Miller, Hillin, Muncie, Mills, Fletcher.

Fans will find it difficult to select pitchers, for frenzied batting in the league thus far has resulted in more throwing than pitching. Good pitchers may have an adverse record on paper true with both Al Sealy and Fred Johnson, with Fort Worth's losing club. Walkup of San Antonio has won but one of four starts—but all were well pitched.

Fullerton of Tulsa, with 10 games and Kimball of Dallas, who has won his only five starts, are leading on the matter of league percentages.

Sports Roundup

NEW YORK, June 15 (AP)—Mr. Van Lingle Mungo wakes up this blue morning to find himself squarely behind the eight ball. His one-man strike did what is known along Broadway as the old flopper.

Not only is the temperamental South Carolinian in bad with his teammates because of those blasts about pay support, but his first division club, have called off. They are a bit leary of taking on an athlete disloyal enough to walk out on another club.

Be it said to the credit of the Dodgers, they didn't yield an inch. And when Mungo found the Giants had lost interest, he was glad enough to go back. He asked for it and he got it—right in the well known neck.

Shorts: Demoran Rayne, pitching for a club in the Evangeline league, tossed a perfect game for 9 2/3 innings. Harry Cooper knows just how the kid felt.

Why has nobody grabbed "Nim" Newberry, who only batted 482 for Oklahoma City university last season? That is busting the apple in any league.

North Carolina State got even with Duke when Hunk Anderson beat Wallace Wade at golf the other day. Those who have heard him say it's a good thing Joe Louis can fight better than he plays the harmonica.

SPORT SLANTS

by Pap

The "Princeton mile" that has boosted the nation's youngest and most exclusive big time invitation track carnival into the limelight since its record-breaking inaugural in 1934 is a headliner on the 7-event program scheduled for old Nassau's Palmer Stadium on June 13.

Two of the individual headlines of both previous mile races and the man who used to be their reliable also-ran companion, are in the select field this year at Princeton's track carnival.

These are Glenn Cunningham, who electrified the cinder-path enthusiasts by running the mile in world record time of 4:06.7 at Princeton in 1934; William Robert Bonthron, former Princeton ace, who finished second in both 1934 and 1935; and Gene Venzke of Pennsylvania, who is no longer a certain victim of the formerly favored pair.

Each of this fleet trio holds at least one world record in the middle distances.

Another Surprise? The story of the Princeton mile is a strange one—full of surprises—and the 1936 race, in the light of the so-called upsets attending the last winter races at the mile, promises to be another one of those sensational developments of track history.

The top-ranked trio composed of Venzke, Cunningham and Bonthron have done plenty to popularize the mile and to keep it in the forefront of the track parade these last few years.

Venzke, for the first time, finds himself in the unfamiliar position of favorite in this young classic of the cinder paths, the principal reasons being that he trimmed Cunningham in every real test on the last winter program with new-found speed and that Bonthron has been out of competition a full year.

The Pennsylvanian, faster than he ever was as the "boy" wonder of 1932, set the indoor 1500-meter mark down to 3:49.9 on the 1936 winter boards and was the sensation of the season. Cunningham beat him only once in a farcial slow mile in which they practically walked, each refusing to take the lead.

Lost to Lovelock Bonthron's last appearance in competition was in the 1935 Princeton meet, when he ran second with Cunningham third—to Jack Lovelock of New Zealand and England. The 1936 race, with its surprising results, was slow compared to Cunningham's record mile, but the experts agreed that the Anzac ace could have beaten his rivals and gotten down closer to Cunningham's mark if they had pushed him. In other words, Love-lock could have beaten the Americans, going away, at any pace. While Cunningham and Venzke were pounding the boards, and the Olympic coaches were worrying over their strenuous winter work, Bonthron was training quietly remaining out of competition and pointing for this one race—and a shot at the Olympic team, no doubt.

It is impossible to get a good line on what Bonthron's comeback attempt may amount to after a year devoted to accountancy in New York, marriage, and routine running practice. Bonny carried on a great racing feud with Cunningham in 1934. Glenn beat Bill on his home cinders, but by the time the year was out, Bonny had beaten Cunningham three times and lost to him only twice. Each drove the other to a world record, Cunningham getting the mile mark and Bonny the 1500-meter.

Now they both look to Venzke at the man to beat.

Joe Louis Would Box Bare-Handed

LAKEWOOD, N. J., June 15 (AP)—To Joe Louis all the hullabaloo Joe Jacobs, Max Schmeling's manager, has been raising over the amount of bandage and tape the Brown Bomber will be allowed to use on his hands when he clashes with Schmeling Thursday is just so much noise.

Advised that Jacobs, who had previously said he would like to see the bandages adjusted after the fighters enter the ring, intended to take up the matter of the amount's used, Louis indicated it didn't make any difference to him.

The commission allows me only six feet of bandage and two feet of tape. That's all I had on in the Baer fight and my hands were swollen afterward," he said. "Maybe they ought to let us use more. But why all the yelling? I'll fight bare-handed if they like that."

After battling his sparmates Sunday, Louis planned a rest today. Tomorrow he is slated for a final workout, including some boxing.

District Softball Meets To Be Held

FORT WORTH, Texas, June 15 (AP)—A working agreement was reached between the Texas branch of the amateur soft ball association and the Texas amateur athletic federation here today at a meeting of Harold White, commissioner of the A. S. A., and Roger Stokes, president of the T. A. A. F.

The A. S. A. under the sponsorship of the Fort Worth Star Telegram, will hold district meets in 16 cities of that state, then the state tournament here, the latter event on Sept. 4, 5, 6, and 7.

Stokes and White agreed that in some instances, the tournaments of the two organizations would be held simultaneously.

YESTERDAY'S STARS (By The Associated Press) Frank Demaree, Cubs—Batted in all runs with two homers in 3-1 win over Bees.

Lee Stine, Reds—Limited Brooklyn to four hits for 5-1 win. Hal Schmuacher, Giants—Pitched five-hit ball to end Pirates' seven-game winning streak.

Bob Johnson, Athletics—Hit home with bases loaded as Indians were defeated 6-6.

Dizzy Dean, Cardinals—Stopped Phillies in relief pitching assignment with only 24 hours rest.

Rams of Pampa Continue Their Winning Streak

The Pampa Rams went merrily on their winning streak yesterday afternoon with a 15 to 2 win from Western Carbon. Kretzmeier led the Ram attack with three runs and three hits. Brown, Dillman, Clemmons and Harvey each crossed the plate twice.

George Dillman started the game for the Rams. He gave way to "Lefty" Harvey in the fifth. The two Ram hurlers fanned 12 batters. Roy Kretzmeier was behind the plate.

Milan, Western hurler, pitched good ball. Weak support cost him several runs, however. Milan fanned 5 Ram batters. Turner was behind the bat for the carbon workers.

On next Sunday the Rams will play Texas Elf on the Ram diamond, west of Harvester field. Game time will be 2:30 o'clock.

Schmeling Ready For Louis Fight

NAPANOCH, N. Y., June 15 (AP)—Regardless of all other angles, the doctor says Max Schmeling is ready for next Thursday's battle with Joe Louis at the Yankee stadium.

Before yesterday's workout Max was examined by Dr. William Walker, State Athletic Commission physician. His blood pressure was found to be 123 over 62. His pulse rate, 64 at normal, rose to 75 after exercise but returned to normal in 20 seconds. He weighed 194 1/2 pounds, just a little over the weight he expects to reach Thursday.

Physically he is in marvelous condition. I found him in better shape than for any of his other fights," was Dr. Walker's pronouncement.

NEGRO IS HELD. FRANKLIN, June 15 (AP)—Officers held a 63-year old negro in an undisclosed jail here today as they claimed he had confessed that he had criminally assaulted a 14-year old white girl of Hearne, Tex. Sheriff H. P. Hill said Joe Jones, the aged negro charged with the assault, had confessed Jones was spirited away from Franklin to an unannounced jail Friday night as a precautionary measure.

PRESIDENT TO SEE HARVARD-YALE CLASSIC

F. D. JR. IS A SUB-VARSITY OARSMAN AT COLLEGE

ABOARD ROOSEVELT TRAIN EN ROUTE TO WASHINGTON, June 15 (AP)—President Roosevelt traveled back to the nation's capital today leaving a trail of a dozen speeches in six western states, several of them on subjects of which more is expected to be heard in the coming campaign.

Awaiting him at the end of his 1,000-mile journey was a tax-embolled Congress seeking ways to agree and adjourn before the democratic national convention, and the all-important task of framing his Philadelphia acceptance speech.

Notably tired but apparently holding up well from his arduous speech-making in broiling suns and miles of parading, parents, and dedications, the chief executive looked to go to New Haven, Conn., for the Harvard-Yale boat race next Friday.

Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. is a student and sub-varsity oarsman at Harvard, his father's university.

The President terminated his speaking tour yesterday morning at Vincennes, Ind., where he dedicated a memorial to George Rogers Clark, savior of the northwest in the revolutionary war, with a speech stressing freedom of religion, a rearming against "new devices of crime and cupidity" and conservation of natural resources.

Back on his train the President issued a formal statement saying he had gone to the shrine "individually, as one of many millions of Americans whose lives have been influenced for the good by Abraham Lincoln."

"Here," he said, "we can renew our pledge of fidelity to the faith which Lincoln held in the common man—the faith so simply expressed when he said:

"As I would not be a slave, so I would not be a master. This expresses my idea of democracy. Whatever differs from this, to the extent of the difference, is no democracy."

LeFors Coltexo Turns in 14-6 Win Over Pampa

Coltexo of LeFors subdued the Pampa-Busby Indians with a barrage of base hits yesterday afternoon at LeFors. The final score was 14 to 6.

Ables and Clemmons, a pair of right handers, divided the hurling duties for Coltexo with Jake Leggett behind the bat. Carroll and Trenary, a pair of portersiders, were unable to hurl the Indians to a win. Kelly was behind the bat.

Coltexo's scoring rampage was headed by Leggett and White with home runs.

LEDFORD ALLOWS ONLY FIVE HITS AS HE SHUTS OUT EASON OILERS 3-0

ROAD RUNNERS AND ENID TO PLAY TONIGHT

GORDON NELL DOESN'T PLAY UNTIL 9TH THEN HITS Five base hits, four singles and a double, were all the powerful Eason Oilers of Enid, Okla., could collect off Big Game Ledford yesterday afternoon when the Pampa-Dancier Road Runners won a 3 to 0 game from the Urbanites. The same clubs will meet tonight. The count now stands 2 to 1 in favor of the Road Runners. Sunday, Ledford outpitched bespectacled Andy Bednar who registered a 5 to 0 defeat on the birds in the opening game in Enid. The Road Runners came back to win the nightcap, 3 to 2, behind Sam Gray's five-hit hurling.

The Oilers were slightly weakened yesterday by the absence of Gordon Nell, big first baseman who used to sport a Road Runner uniform. Nell underwent a tonsillectomy a week ago but a hemorrhage Saturday night kept him out of the game until the ninth inning when he hit for Ryba. The big fellow lashed out a single to put a runner on third base. The Road Runners pulled to the front in the first inning. McShabb, first hitter, was an easy out. Summers singled on the first pitch and Seitz duplicated. Manager Hale popped up to first. Don Bailey rattled the boards with a double to score Summers and Seitz. Lisle was safe on an error but was forced at second by Cox. Bailey started off the sixth inning with a single. Lisle was ordered to sacrifice but got a hit when his bunt dropped between Manager Urban, Sloan and Bednar. No one covered first and in the mix-up, Bailey raced all the way. Cox went out on the fly. Williamson to Sloan. The Enid third baseman took Cox's hot grounder on top of the bag but failed to tag Bailey who slid back to third. McLarry hit to short and Gilchrist tried for Bailey at home but the first outfielder beat the throw to the plate. Ledford was in trouble in the seventh when Patton and Williamson singled in succession and advanced on a wild pitch after one man had been retired. Ledford struck out Bates on the bases and sent Seitz to pull the lefthander out of a hole. The Oilers collected a pair of hits in the ninth when Williamson beat out an infield hit and Nell singled to left center field, after two were out. Hale made a great stop and throw on Bates' grounder and the game was over. Ben McLarry played a great game at short for the Road Runners. He accepted seven hard chances without an error. In the sixth he robbed Urban of a hit when he bent behind third to pick up a hot grounder and beat the crowd with a fly ball throw. Bailey and Lisle collected two hits each to lead the Road Runner attack. Bailey's double scored two runs. McLarry also hit for two bases.

High Williamson, formerly a Sioux City star, was the Oilers' best man. He hit four assists at third and collected a pair of singles. Bates and Patton robbed the birds of a couple of hits on nice outfield plays. An added attraction was the appearance of the King troupe, father and daughter, Little Marie, King, 8, thrilled the crowd with feats of strength, balance and acrobatics. The child is one of the outstanding acrobatic performers in the country. Mrs. King will appear with her husband and daughter tonight. A new public address system was used for the first time this season. Names of players and interesting highlights in their careers were given as they came to bat. Music was furnished between innings.

Table with columns: Player, AB, R, H, O, A, E. Includes totals for Road Runners and Eason Oilers.

Summary: Runners behind in 3. Bailey, McLarry, Bednar. Double play—Williamson to Sloan to Williamson. Sacrifice hit—Seitz, Cox. Hit by pitched ball—by Bednar (Hale). Struck out—by Ledford 5. Bednar 3. Bases on balls—off Ledford 2. Bednar 2. Wild pitches—Ledford, Bednar. Time of game—1:30. Umpires—Hutton and Tate. The Pampa-Dancier Road Runners and the Eason Oilers of Enid, Okla., will meet tonight at Road Runner park. Game time will

Sunoco Defeats Wheat Growers

The Sunoco Sluggers handed the Laketon Wheat Growers their second defeat of the season yesterday afternoon by a score of 8 to 5. It was the second time this year that an eight run barrage defeated the home club. Nichols hurried great ball to hold the Wheat Growers to five runs. His battery mate was Hargis. "Silent Al" West was on the mound for Laketon but his usual zip was missing and his support cracked in spots.

Texas Elf Wins Over Shell Nine

Texas Elf subdued Shell 13 to 7, yesterday afternoon when Thelsen and Silvers turned in nice pitching performances for the carbon workers. Vernon was behind the plate. Osborne went the route for Shell, with Stokes behind the plate. Osborne was hit in the pinches for most of the Texas Elf runs. Paced the Texas Elf attack with a triple and single. The carbon boys made their 13 hits account for 13 runs. Shell got only six hits, all singles.

be 8:30 o'clock. At the same hour on Friday night the teams will meet again. Big Game Ledford hurried sensational ball to defeat the Oilers, 3 to 0, yesterday afternoon. The big pitcher allowed only five hits. Only 13 batters faced him in the first four innings. He pitched himself out of trouble in the sixth and again in the ninth, the only two times Enid threatened to score. With the win behind them and the Enid jinx broken, Les Daney will try to subdue the visitors again tonight. Daney was the victim of a 5 to 0 defeat in Enid a week ago. Either Perry, curvball artist, or Clowers, veteran lefthander, will be on the mound tonight. Manager Nick Urban announced after yesterday's loss. Gordon Nell, big first baseman and his power with the stick is expected to give the Oilers plenty of trouble. Nell underwent an operation on his throat last week and his physician would not allow him to play in yesterday's bruiling sun. Nell did get in the game as a pinch hitter in the ninth and singled to left center. Perry lost a heart-breaking 3 to 2 game to Sam Gray in Enid a week ago. He begged Manager Urban to let him have a chance at the Birds under artificial light. Clowers is the lefthander imported by the Road Runners for the Junior chamber of commerce tournament here last season. The King troupe of acrobats will again be presented between the fifth and sixth innings tonight. Little Marie, 8, stole the hearts of Pampa-landers yesterday afternoon with feats of strength and balance.

PAMPA GOLFERS LOSE MATCH TO SHAMROCK 15-9

MONTH-OLD DRUBBING AVENGED IN SUNDAY COMPETITION

With blood in their eyes, 24 Shamrock golfers teed off with a like number of Pampans yesterday afternoon over the Shamrock Country club course. When the result was tabulated, Shamrock had won 15 matches to 9 for Pampa and had avenged a 16 to 9 drubbing handed them in Pampa a month ago. The first 10 Pampa golfers to tee off tasted defeat from the slinks of Shamrock players who have been practicing daily in preparation for the invasion of the one team that had beaten them in several years. The Shamrock players displayed sensational golf to easily down the over-confident Pampans. C. Hoffman, who holds the course record at the Shamrock country club, came within one stroke of beating his old mark when he defeated Del Love. The veteran carded a 30 on the front nine holes, and was one under par on the last nine when the game ended. Hoffman registered six birdies on the first nine holes. On the third green, Love holed out from two yards off the green and Hoffman holed out on top of Love's ball from a yard off the green. Hoffman repeated the hole-out stunt from three yards off the green on the next hole. Love shot par golf all the way. F. Mitcham, who defeated John Austin, turned in a card which showed six under par for the 15 holes played. Melvin Watkins also faced an inspired golfer in J. Douglas who carded five birdies on the first six holes. Grover Austin, Pampa city champion, lost to a sub-par player when he met W. S. Pendleton.

The lower end of the Pampa "batting order" came through with several spectacular wins. E. Hunter lost to Ruy Morgan, 6 and 5. J. N. Cox lost to C. McGinnis, 1 down. J. Handley defeated Haskell Maguire, 1 up. J. Henry lost to Pockets Flynn, 2 down. B. Boston won from F. Womack, 7 and 6. D. Hall lost to G. Clemmons, 3 and 2. B. Skidmore defeated R. Ogden, 1 up. E. Bechtel defeated Jim Hatfield, 1 up on 20 holes. E. Griffin lost to Marvin Harris, 2 down. L. B. Hines beat Mike Hanna, 1 up. H. Pendleton lost to B. Pickett, 5 and 2. D. Reynolds lost to Hol Wagner, 4 and 2. Bill George lost to Tom Darby, 3 and 2.

Another Penick Tennis Student Wins Tournament

WACO, June 15. (AP)—Lindsay Franklin, Topeka, Kan., youth, has entered his bid as the next tennis ace to reflect credit upon the tutelage of Prof. D. A. Penick of the University of Texas, maker of champions.

Dr. Penick, who developed Wilmer Allison and Berkeley Bell, has rounded Franklin into excellent form. Today the University of Texas No. 1 player holds the Southwest conference singles title, the state singles title and is co-holder of the state doubles title among other honors. After trimming his university fellow, Gordon Pease of San Antonio, in the state finals of the singles division here Saturday, Franklin teamed with another university player, Edgar Weller of Austin, to defeat a pair of sturdy, wily veterans in the doubles final match yesterday. John Barr and J. B. Adoue, Jr., both of Dallas, fell after four sets, 6-1, 6-2, 3-6, 6-4. The boys' singles championship went to Joe Adams of Waco, who

Fairly Close Games Played in Junior League

Phillips' colorfully-uniformed youngsters and the peppy Peepees yesterday afternoon spanked their respective foes in the Junior baseball league. Phillips made what was for them a sort of race-track at Hoover where they whipped the loop ceiling-dwellers, 6 to 2. The Magnolia Peepees established an early lead and never relinquished it as they sent home Mc LeFors boys a sadder but wiser group. It was obvious Mc LeFors had a good team potentially, but they had not had enough practice. The Peepees won the affair 10 to 8, despite a necessary shift in players that might have turned out badly. In the second inning Aulds, Magnolia catcher, was given credit after a finger nail was badly jammed and torn. The bleeding finger kept him from finishing the game, and he may not be able to play Sunday. The accident came just after he smacked a single in the first inning when he and McDonald Mills, Foster, Claude Heiskell all scored after hitting safely. Coach Roy Marshall barely had enough players to finish the game, especially when Roberts who held the visitors fairly well was literally knocked out of the box in the seventh when Mc's boys scored five runs off a flock of doubles and triples by Pinkerton, Walsh, Simmons, McDonald and Carruth. Simmons, lengthy right-hander, went the whole route for the visitors and led in the hitting with a homer, a double and a single. Grover clout did not count because he failed to touch a bag in his wild lunge around the bases. The Cox Brothers Star. The Cox brothers started for Phillips. Norman Cox allowed three hits, walked three and struck out 2. Right of the 66 crew were left on bases. Norman hit a triple, a double and a single. Seth Cox made five trips to the plate and garnered three singles and a sacrifice. Hall chalked up two hits. Though errors were committed in the game but not enough to make it tiresome. One Phillips boy made four miscues and about the same number were made by the Hoover boys. Phillips batters collected 10 hits off Maddox and Cole who shared the pitching duty. Grover pitched six and left 10 on bases. E. W. Hogan led the hitting for Hoover by getting two of the three hits made. A Lewis got the other.

The lineup: Phillips—F. Vanderberg 2b, S. Cox 1b, C. Phillips 3b, C. Phillips 4b, E. Vanderberg, Hall rf, Haughton 3b, Isabel lf. Hoover—E. W. Hogan lb, H. Lewis ss, Turcotte c, Colvin 2b, R. Hogan lf, Kitchens rf, Johnson rf, A. Lewis 3b, Maddox cf, and Cole cf and P. Ottobalis were Colvin and Haughton.

Score by innings: Phillips 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 Hoover 0 10 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 The score-books show Phillips has improved more than any team in the league. They gave the Little Rock Runners a beating and a reception a week ago, compared with their season-opener when the Dancier boys plucked them 25 to 0 in seven innings. LeFors Is Potent. Give LeFors a couple of weeks of steady practice and it is believed they will make good balls with anything in the league. Yesterday, they showed potential power but no team can win that consistently drops fly balls, fails to touch bases and a number of other things that lack of practice brings. Yesterday was not only the first time the boys played together but their first practice of the season. The lineups: Peepees—G. Heiskell ss, Buckingham 2b, McDonald lf, C. Heiskell 1b and c, Mills p and 3b, Foster lf, Tidwell cf, Aulds c, Dull cf-lb, Roberts 2b-p. LeFors—Barnett c, Pinkerton, Walsh, Simmons p, Twigg, McDonald, Carruth, Archer, Cuchesi. Other LeFors hits were made by Twigg, Archer, while Dull and Grover Heiskell also hit for the Peepees. Grover played the shortstop position without a bobble, handling chances galore. The game, despite LeFors' greenness, was not featured by errors. Both sides made a few but they were negligible. Next Friday night the Little Road Runners will play the Berger Christians under the lights. Next Sunday the Dancier boys will go to LeFors, the Peepees will go to Phillips and Hoover will go to Berger to play the Christians.

Chapman Traded For Jake Powell

NEW YORK, June 15. (AP)—To keep the accent on power in their drive down the pennant stretch, the Yankees are giving up Ben Chapman, batting disappointment of the lineup, for Alvin (Jake) Powell, the Washington Senators' fly-chaser. Getting under the trading deadline by a day, the Yanks announced the deal yesterday as a straight player swap, figuring Powell's heavier hitting and base stealing prowess will more than make up for Chapman's throwing arm and speed. He defeated Buddy Gatewood, also of Waco, Miss Mildred Crowe, Shreveport, La., took the women's singles honors by default from Miss Lawrence Stages of Waco, who was taken ill.

LASH RACE IS TERMED BEST OF THIS YEAR

SMASHES RECORD SET BY GREAT PAAVO NURMI

BY ALAN GOULD. Associated Press Sports Editor. NEW YORK, June 15 (AP)—Amid the rapidly accumulating evidence that Uncle Sam's athletes will set a dizzy pace for all rivals in the Berlin Olympics, Don Lash's world record-smashing two-mile steeplechase today is not only the year's greatest foot-racing performance, but one of the most remarkable of all time. The 22-year-old Indiana collegian not only surpassed one of the great Paavo Nurmi's supposedly impregnable marks by running the distance in 8 minutes, 58.3 seconds on Princeton's rain-swept track last Saturday, but he became the first American ever to gain world renown over the two-mile route. For the first time in foot-racing history, the United States now can claim all world records for the standard linear-measured events ranging from 100 yards to two miles, with Lash joining the record-breaking company of Frank Wykoff and Jesse Owens in the sprints. Ben Eastman at the 440 and 880-yard distances, and Glenn Cunningham in the mile. Simultaneously, Lash's victory projected America's hopes of conquest, the first time in the Olympic 3,000 meters, an event in which Finland's supremacy has long been asserted. Four years ago a lanky Oregonian, Ralph Hill, came within a stride of carrying America to triumph, at Los Angeles, Lash, on the basis of his electric development under the coaching of E. C. (Billy) Hayes, appears thoroughly capable of picking up where Hill left off and showing his heels to the world's best distance runners this August. Plans for a municipal airport at Buenos Aires to cost about $2,700,000 have been presented to the Argentine minister of public works.

SCHUMACHER'S BIG FEET GET SHARE OF CREDIT FOR TITLE

DALLAS June 15 (AP)—This, briefly, concerns the tale of two rather large feet. . . two pedal extremities that plodded a long, rocky road before they planted themselves in the velvet. . . Don Schumacher, stubby-care-free Dallas youngster, qualifies. . . you might say—in a big way. . . for years he has shuffled over many courses, grinning while his friends chided him about the length and breadth of his feet. Don, as Texas' new amateur golf champion cares little about the chiding. He arrived with the gallery on feet that ached after being pinched in the broiling sun by a new pair of shoes, Schumacher buried Bill Skeeters, former S. M. U. grid star, 8 and 6, in the finals Sunday at San Antonio. Back in 1932, Don started attracting attention by breezing to the finals of the state junior tour-

Chicago Cubs Win Eleventh Straight As Dizzy Triumphs

Cardinals' Lead Not Cut Down Even A Fraction

BY SID FEDER. Associated Press Sports Writer. When batting night hooks up with pitching strength on the same baseball combination, fireworks are the general result. That's the answer to the current pell-mell parade of those climbing Chicago Cubs, now riding high, wide, and handsome on top of an 11-game winning streak, longest run in the big leagues this season. The big question mark now is: Can they continue, away from Wrigley field, as they've done at home? They start the eastern swing tomorrow, and thereby probably hang their hope for catching up with the pace-setting St. Louis Cardinals by July 4. The long, successful home stand ended yesterday with Frank Demaree's two homers accounting for all the runs as the Boston Bees fell 3-2 and Lon Warneke chalked up his third win of the victory streak. His second straight 7-1 batter in five days. The triumph, however, didn't cut down the St. Louis 3 1/2-game lead even a fraction. The Gas House Gang hooked up in a wild slugging spree with the Phillies and came out on top 13-10, as Dizzy Dean, going to work with only 24 hours rest, went in as a relief pitcher to end the game. The two leaders pulled away from the third-place Pirates, as the New York Giants snapped their own 3-game losing streak and the Bucs' 7-straight winning run at the same time, with Hal Schumacher turning in a 5-hit performance for a 3-0 program. The Cincinnati Reds climbed to a 5-0 average for the campaign by trimming the Dodgers, 5-1, on the strength of Lee Stange's 4-hit hurling job. With the Yanks-Tigers and St. Louis-Boston battles rained out, the American league saw the Athletics knock the Indians into fourth place with an 8-4 victory, advancing Detroit to third, while Vernon Kennedy's tight pitching gave the White Sox a 6-4 margin over the Senators.

75,000 EXPECTED TO WATCH BIG KILL ON THURSDAY NIGHT

DALLAS LOSES TWO STRAIGHT TO BEAUMONT

NEW YORK, June 15 (AP)—Joe Louis, a 22-year-old coffee colored boy from Detroit who has made the fight fans shell out money in million dollar chunks to see him fight even when they felt sure he couldn't lose, is expected to do it again at the Yankee stadium Thursday night. "The Dark Destroyer" a professional for less than two years, is scheduled to face Mex Schmeling of Germany, former world heavyweight champion, in a 15-round bout at the Yankee stadium with 75,000 or more persons paying a million dollars or close to it to see the fight. And, strangely enough, few if any of them expect to witness anything but a quick knockout victory for Louis. That was the case when Joe fought Primo Carnera last summer and when he fought Max Baer before a throng that paid just a little less than a million. He was expected to score a quick knockout each time and he did it, stopping Carnera in six rounds and Baer in four. Yet so great has been the drawing power of this young negro who came out of the Midwest to restore to boxing its "big money" days that no one has complained of the brevity of his battles. The attitude of the fans was neatly summed up by one of Joe's Harlem admirers, overheard as he left the stadium after the Carnera fight: "Ah paid twenty dollars to see him, and ah'm satisfied; puffedly satisfied." Promoter Mike Jacobs, whose rise has been almost as spectacular as that of Louis, offers assurance there will be more satisfied fans Thursday. Receipts already have passed the $450,000 mark and Mike claims the first real million dollar gate since the second Gene Tunney-Jack Dempsey clash which set the all-time high of $2,568,000 at Chicago in 1927. Jacobs foresees the possibility of a capacity crowd of 85,000 in the stadium and the Woodson bowl which will be constructed on the field to give the fans a clear view of proceedings. Sale of radio rights will add a comfortable sum to this amount. The pre-battle ballyhoo has stressed Schmeling's courage, his experience, and his cleverness, neglecting the famous line about his being the man who won the title sitting down and lost it standing up. While there's no doubt about those qualities in the German, he still does not appear to be a match for Louis, a deadly puncher and a superb boxer. In the second game, the Steers were coasting with a five-run lead in the final inning when Beaumont broke loose with a vicious barrage that netted them six runs and the margin of victory. The luckless Houston Buffs, bumped about roughly since they were dislodged from their place at the top of the league some weeks ago, dropped the series opener to Oklahoma City's Indians, 3 to 2, and were thereby pushed into fifth place out of the first division. Dick Whitworth held the Buffs to six blows. Fort Worth took San Antonio into camp, 7 to 4, with the aid of three doubles, a triple and three San Antonio errors. Galveston's Buccaneers made more runs than they had in any single game this year when they scored 10 to Tulsa's 6. The Pirates enjoyed a 13-hit rampage.

EXPORTERS BURNING UP TEXAS LEAGUE IN RECENT GAMES

(By The Associated Press) Where they play today: Oklahoma City at Houston (night), Dallas at Beaumont (day), Tulsa at Galveston (night), Fort Worth at San Antonio (night). The Dallas Steers, who were winning games with such regularity several weeks ago that it appeared they would run away with the Texas League bunting, are holding for dear life to their lead over the other clubs today. The Mauling Mavericks—the appellations it seems, has lost its significance of late—have dropped three games in a row as Beaumont's fast-stepping Exporters, who are burning up the league, have won as many consecutive games. Beaumont dropped the Steers twice yesterday, 3 to 1, and 7 to 6, to cut the Dallas nine's advantage over them to but two games. The murderers' row of Dallas was putty in the hands of "Slack" Coffman of the shippers in the first game. Coffman allowed but four hits as Beaumont collected 11 off Sal Glatto, a Dallas mainstay. In the second game, the Steers were coasting with a five-run lead in the final inning when Beaumont broke loose with a vicious barrage that netted them six runs and the margin of victory. The luckless Houston Buffs, bumped about roughly since they were dislodged from their place at the top of the league some weeks ago, dropped the series opener to Oklahoma City's Indians, 3 to 2, and were thereby pushed into fifth place out of the first division. Dick Whitworth held the Buffs to six blows. Fort Worth took San Antonio into camp, 7 to 4, with the aid of three doubles, a triple and three San Antonio errors. Galveston's Buccaneers made more runs than they had in any single game this year when they scored 10 to Tulsa's 6. The Pirates enjoyed a 13-hit rampage. NEW TRIAL DENIED MINEOLA, June 15 (AP)—Judge Walter G. Russell has denied Wilburn Samuels' motion for a new trial on a charge of murdering Edward (Punch) Padgett, former Mineola high school football star. . . Samuels recently was convicted of murder. Judge Russell formally sentenced Samuels to life imprisonment.

TEXAS SOCIAL SECURITY

As one item of its social security program, the State of Texas has aided more than 1,100 crippled children during the period from last September to June 1.

The aid, which included hospitalization, the supplying of braces and other medical and surgical attention, was made possible largely through state coordination with the national social security program and the matching of state funds with federal funds.

So efficiently has the Crippled Children's division of the Texas Department of Vocational Education been administered that no crippled child entitled to aid now need wait longer than 48 hours before receiving attention.

The Old Age Assistance program, which begins functioning July 1 with payment of the first assistance checks, is considered one of the most important items in the Texas social security program but in all the talk about Old Age Assistance we should not lose sight of these other extremely important items in vocational rehabilitation work, both for crippled children and disabled adults.

Up until the last legislature, the department had never had a state appropriation sufficient to meet the appropriation which was made by the Federal Board of Vocational Education in Washington. The latest legislature increased the amount to train disabled civilians in the State of Texas from $31,500 to $47,500.

In other words, up until the last legislature approximately $16,000 which Texas was entitled to was not being received. It has been of very material help today, helping the disabled citizens in Texas become self supporting. Hundreds of disabled adults are in training today for a remunerative occupation.

Crippled children in Texas are today receiving $266,000, which ranks Texas as one of the leading states in handling crippled children.

TEMPORARILY DANGEROUS

No doubt scientists and traffic officials and road builders will eventually figure out ways to eliminate a large proportion of automobile accidents and deaths.

But that day make come too late for you. Unless safety efforts begin to produce results, there'll probably be around a million automobile injuries and 36,000 automobile deaths a year in America for some time to come.

Education of drivers and traffic regulations and improved street lighting and better law enforcement can no doubt cut these figures down two-thirds some time. But you may not be here to enjoy this increased safety.

In the meantime, you've got to take care of yourself and family. You'd better be your own safety expert.

The first things the experts do is to study figures. They look for the danger spots and the danger hours, and give particular attention to such spots and hours.

You should drive always like a person on a street marked "Temporarily Dangerous." Most of our streets and roads will some day be two-thirds safer than they are now. In the meantime, proceed with caution, as statistics on automobile accidents show many deaths and injuries occur when people least expect danger.

Maxie Baer now is an orchestra leader. He wasn't so hot in the ring, but perhaps he'll have a better baton average.

Maybe the Wisconsin professor, who has a horror of venturing far from his home ought to pay that debt and get it over with.

First step in event of automobile or clan trouble: Look under the hood.

Sulphur Gas Is Found in Zurich Test In Mexico

A strong flow of sulphur gas was encountered Monday night in the Zurich test well 30 miles southwest of Clayton. The gas-bearing formation was from 1200 to 1225 feet from the surface.

Reports from the well say the formations are conforming closely to those in the Texas oil fields. It was found necessary to case out this sulphur gas and efforts were made to loosen the 12 1/2-inch casing, which had been set at the 1,010-foot level. However, it was frozen tight and efforts to dislodge it were abandoned.

Several truck loads of 10-inch casing have arrived at the well and preparations are being made to begin running this 10-inch casing today.

This well is being drilled by the Olson Drilling company and the Superior Oil and Gas company on acreage blocked by the Quaker State Oil company. The company has its home office in Pampa and is principally owned by Pampa citizens--Union County Leader, Clayton, New Mexico.

BLACK TERROR OVER ITALY EMBITTERS HELPLESS FOLK

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN.
WASHINGTON, June 15.—"Should I run in the streets and cry my bitterness? That will not help me, for when I open my mouth, before even the people have heard me, there will be hands put over my mouth to silence me."

This despairing lament, made by an elderly Italian, may be regarded as a description of what the life of the people in Italy has become under Fascism. Whether the urgent complaint concerns political coercion, forced labor at starvation wages, or military conscription, it may not be uttered save under pain of imprisonment or, perhaps, death.

The words spoken above were spoken by an old man in Milan, on the fourteenth anniversary of the Fascist seizure of power. After having had work steadily since before the coming of Fascism, he was discharged without warning and told that never again could he have a job. It appears that his son who had been drafted for the war to civilize Ethiopia had deserted. He made good his escape over the border of Yugoslavia and was beyond the punishing Fascist arm. But his old father remained in Italy and was punished. But, should he complain, or attempt to complain, he would be brutally hushed by the Fascist police, in some manner, done away with.

John La Spivak, declared by Burton Rascoe, the critic, to be the best reporter in the United States, recently returned from a tour of European countries and has presented his experiences and findings in a book, Europe Under the Terror, which presents a picture of medievalism of which Americans have little conception, in spite of what already has leaked through the iron lid of censorship. Mr. Spivak has made it clear that the regular correspondents in Italy and other suppressed countries, send their American, English, and other foreign newspapers only the side of the picture which the official regime wants sent. This is the side of the picture seen by Mr. Spivak. These correspondents know a good deal but they are afraid that should they communicate their knowledge they would be pitched out of Italy—if they were lucky enough to escape a more drastic treatment. In order to remain, they must conform and send the type of news which is required of them.

La Madama Smiles.
The foreigner may be escorted over the border, but the Italian has no such avenue of escape. Should he desire to do so, it is not permitted. He is dealt with summarily at home. Should one criticize any least action of the Fascist regime, it is in hideous danger. Members of families have schooled themselves not to express their opinions or repeat what they have seen even among themselves. What are called the bats are always about, and when the slightest criticism reaches official ears—La Madama, as they say, smiles.

Bats, as most people know, penetrate into the darkest corners and also move on absolutely silent wings. One dare not talk to himself even though he believes he is in solitude. The reference to La Madama is appallingly historical. There was once a Lucrezia Borgia, daughter of that great princely house which gave princes, dukes, cardinals, and popes to the Roman and other worlds. When La Madama Borgia so much as disliked the cut of one's hair, she had a way of inviting one to share a glass of wine. Refusal was impossible and, as one drank, La Madama smiled—for the wine was poisoned! Secretly, furtively, millions of Italians today refer to the modern smile of the modern Madama—Fascism.

As one man said to Mr. Spivak in answer to his question as to what happened when La Madama smiled: "Prison. Dungeons. Maybe worse. Here in Rome, people in the street, professors, scientists—La Madama smiled on them. No one knows what happened to them. One day you go for a walk. Your wife waits at home with the macaroni and the veal, but you do not come. She waits all night and in the morning rushes to the police, but the police, ah, they know nothing. No. Nothing. A bat has heard him whisper and La Madama smiled." He probably is being tortured.

If you are traveling on a railway train, it is unsafe to inquire of a porter whether the train is on time. That is an inference that, under the Fascist regime, a train could be anything else but on time. To make such an inquiry is to invite the smile of La Madama.

When Mr. Spivak, after considerable difficulty, obtained an appointment with the president of the special tribunal for the defense of the state, Stepano Stassanova, he was taken to a palace on the banks of old Father Tiber. There he was ushered through dark carpeted passages where bats and blackbirds lurked behind the arras at every step. He went through a succession of vestibules with doors opening before him and closing behind, as in some weird nightmare, Dracula fantasy, or Luna Park sideshow. At length he stood before the President and was told, in effect, that Italy was happy and tranquil, that there were no labor strikes, that the nation was prosperous, and that Fascism was an unmitigated blessing.

Then Mr. Spivak interviewed another President—Tullio Cianetti, president of the Confederation of Labor, whose elegantly manicured hands had never done work. From him Spivak received an explanation of a number of things. He was told that wages of labor had been reduced because Italy must prosper and that, unless wages were kept down, the employers could not make profits and profits were necessary to the welfare of the Fascist state.

Escape Is Difficult.
It was explained to him that it was, perhaps, necessary for 14-year-old children to work because several in a family must work (if jobs could be found) if a subsistence were to be earned. To be sure, formerly the minimum working age had been 12

Chapter 33
ENIGMA
Dirk did not hear Devine go out. He had dismissed him in a measure with Mary's report that Hope would be glad to see him. Next morning, before having breakfast, he inquired of Timothy if Mr. Devine had spent the night, learned that he had not, and made further inquiries of Mary.

Mary's report was rather rose-colored. Mrs. Joris was much better since her father's visit. But he had been obliged to go back last night.

Dirk, still skeptical, knowing Mary's gift of credence, said: "Does she really seem better?" "But she does, sir," Mary answered brightly, and with traces of amazement at what she had to announce. "She was playing her guitar this morning." An emphatic nod as Dirk stared. "And singing, sir," she added.

"This was too much. 'I'm going in to see her,' said Dirk.

"Not now, sir," pleaded Mary. "I don't mean now. I mean every afternoon. I expect to be home early."

Dirk stood thinking, and Mary asked: "Did you telephone Miss Isabel, sir? She called up again last night."

"I shall," Dirk said.

"And do you know how Mister Rupert is, and if there's any chance of his being home soon?" Mrs. Joris asked this morning.

"No, I don't," Dirk answered. "Perhaps I'll know today, when Mr. Sanford Joris comes back. Say to Mrs. Joris that I'll be in to see her. This afternoon, about three o'clock."

Hope was up when Dirk came in. She sat in the big gilt and tapestry chair, mending a stocking. Her hair was smooth, the bruise-like shadows beneath her eyes were not so dark, and there was a trace of rouge on lips and cheek.

She wore the same pale yellow dress with the fur about the throat. Not far away the electric stove poured warmth from its fire-colored bowl, glowing like a great tropical flower.

"Too much?" she asked, indicating the stove.

And Dirk who had come in tingling with cold and full of fresh air, replied that he would get used to it. Mary, however, turned off the stove, and no one objected.

Chapter 33
ENIGMA
Dirk took the chair beside Hope's. "Running up to Albany early tomorrow morning," he explained. "Be gone all day, and had to know about this sudden improvement. . . . You are better," he added, having looked her over.

The Rev. Devine, he had discovered, was actually on the way back home, having checked out of the Pennsylvania and taken a train shortly after midnight. That his visit had done Hope good, there was no question.

"So you forgive me for wiring him," he said, as if she had followed his thoughts. "For wanting to share my responsibility."

"All's well that ends well," she answered, as if she had indeed followed his thought. "Got my cigarettes?"

He laid them on the table beside her—between the darning egg and a little pin-cushion full of needles and shaped like a tomato. He lighted the cigaret she had extracted, and picked up the pin-cushion.

She watched him examine it. Presently she laughed.

"You're funny," she said.

"Funny?" asked Dirk. He was smiling, too. Her laughter was infectious.

"Curious," she explained. "There is not anything you miss."

"Oh, yes, there is. Lots."

"Well, perhaps there is. But I didn't think you knew it. That cushion, now. You look at it, and you see how worn it is, and all the needles. And you conclude, 'What a domestic female she is. This is all very well, but your premise is wrong. The cushion is Mary's.'"

"I see," Dirk said, and put the cushion down. "I shouldn't have to start from worn premises, however, if you would confide in me. If you would tell me, that is, just what sort of girl you really are."

His smile might have robbed the statement of any significance. She returned his smile.

"Confide in you? But why not?" She leaned toward him. "I don't even own a needle," she whispered. "And here's the way I darn. Well," as he stared. "What do you think of it?"

"I'd say," testified Dirk, "that you ride better than you sew."

"Horses," she admitted. "Yes, I know horses."

"You must miss them," he said. "We'll go for some rides when you get well."

"No," shaking her head. "I don't miss them. . . . Did Isabel get you?"

The leap from horses to Isabel was sudden, but Dirk made it.

"I called her this morning," he said. "The message was for you as well as for me. She wanted to remind me of a dance tonight, and to ask me to bring you. I suppose you got the invitation. The Vincents dance."

"I suppose so. I haven't opened any mail of that sort. Is Isabel your social conscience?"

"She is, rather. I'm apt to forget things. Joe Vincent is one of Isabel's good friends. It's his sister's debut. Do you feel like going?"

"Do you?" she asked. "With Rupert so ill?"

"Rupert's better," Dirk answered. "He wouldn't want you to stay in on small account."

"She crushed out her cigaret. 'I'm glad he's better. But I couldn't go.'"

"You don't want to go, do you?"

"I do want to. I've got a new dress. Want to see it?"

Mary had gone out some time before Hope rose and going to the old kas, took from it a town of diaphanous yolk, splashed with little gold stars. She spread it on the bed, looking down at it, standing with clasped hands, an attitude, it seemed to Dirk, of worship.

"I could get drunk on clothes," she said.

A slip of paper had fallen from the dress, an open bill whose figures Dirk could not help seeing as he picked it up. They surprised him, being small indeed.

"I didn't get it," she explained, "at the shop Rupert sent me to. Their label costs too much. I got only one dress there. . . . The one I wore to Elinor's dinner. This one is just as pretty, don't you think?"

"Pretty," Dirk said sincerely.

"And here are the slippers that look as if they were made of green-gold beetles' wings. And Rupert said he was going to get me some big bracelets of hammered gold. They sounded savage and wonderful, like the ones Isabel wore that night at Adelaide's, when you danced with her so much. But I guess he forgot that."

Dirk said impulsively: "I'll get you some savage bracelets."

BASS BREAKS HUNGER STRIKE AT CENTENNIAL

Catfish and Perch Also Attract Spectators

BY DAVID A. CHEAVENS, Associated Press Staff Writer.
DALLAS, June 15 (AP)—A near-record size bass whose overshot underjaw and glaring, yellow eyes bespeak in almost inestimable true-ness, had broken a two-week hunger strike in the aquarium at the Texas Centennial today and was angrily striking at streamers of raw beef after an appetizer of seven crawdads.

Sac to say for the longing angler, the full measure of this fish's viciousness may never be taken by cane pole or fly rod, for he is safe from minnow-hidden hooks and artificial lures behind an inch of plate glass. It is reasonable to speculate that this will always be true, for Grand-daddy Large Mouth was born and bred in a government hatchery and probably will fill his allotted span of years behind a show to tantalize active fishermen who itch to test his mettle.

Proving the nervous temperament and capricious nature of the large-mouth bass, this fellow refused to eat for two weeks after he was plopped into the aquarium. But yesterday, Pierre A. Fontaine, director of the exhibit, dropped seven large crawdads into the pool as a meal for the assembled bass but the big-shot peevishly ate them all, irritable as a thunderstorm, he drove the other fish into a corner and put on a fine show for the public.

This bass weighs seven pounds. Two others in the tank weigh a little over six. The books say the largest ever taken in Texas hit something over ten, and in Florida waters they frequently attain a weight of 14 to 18 pounds.

Another aquarium attraction, especially for the colored contingents is a 25-pound Lake Wichita Falls mud-cat which generally lies stolidly on the gravel bottom of his tank, viewing spectators without alarm thru his pig-like eyes. He moves only at feeding time, when he displays unexpected agility in getting there first. His competition is a vicious, sword-billed alligator gar, bane of Texas game fishermen.

Texas' only native tropical fish, the dainty and whimsical Rio Grande perch, is another headliner at the aquarium. These fish are peculiar to the waters near the Rio

Mystery Car Is Found at Roswell

ROSWELL, N. M., June 15 (AP)—A mystery automobile, half sunken in silt and mud at the bottom of a 125-foot lake north of here, lent impetus today to a search for the bodies of four mid-west tourists whose disappearance is still enshrouded in darkness as on the day they were discovered missing more than a year ago.

State police, balked by darkness last night, renewed efforts at removing the machine today. It was discovered yesterday by E. P. Lane, a deep-water diver.

Lane could not tell whether there were bodies in the car. It apparently had been in the lake about a year, he said.

The new aspect of the search brought from Chief E. J. House Jr. of the state police the expression that possibly the car might contain the bodies of Mr. and Mrs. George Heberer, Illinois tourists.

Last seen at Vaughn, N. M., May 22, 1935, their disappearance has threatened to become another of the state's unsolved mysteries.

HOUSTON, June 15 (AP)—Miss Grace Fitzgerald, a practicing lawyer in Dallas for 17 years and now clerk to the referee in bankruptcy at Sherman, was unanimously elected president of the Federation of Texas Business and Professional Women's clubs in the closing session of the 17th annual convention here Saturday.

Other officers are: Miss Anne Moore, Abilene, first president; Miss Anna Cavender, Corsicana, second vice-president; Miss Clara Lee Shewmaker, Pampa, recording secretary; Miss Kate Adele Hill, College Station, corresponding secretary; and Miss Meta Meadow of Fort Worth, treasurer.

John Spear's Candidacy Is Being Opposed

FORT WORTH, June 15 (AP)—The candidacy of John Spear, associate justice of the second court of civil appeals, was contested today in a petition filed before the Tarrant county democratic executive committee.

Spear was appointed after the death of Associate Justice P. A. Martin.

Charles T. Rowland, a candidate for Spear's place, filed the protest and the petition was read by A. C. Heath, his attorney. It alleged that Spear's application, filed May 14, was invalid because it failed to comply with the article requiring that candidates state their place of residence and their voting precinct.

The petition charged that Spear resided in another county and could not vote in Tarrant county. He came here from Denton, Rowland requested a hearing in ten days, but the protest was passed on to the primary committee.

ICY DRINKS CONTRIBUTE TO SUMMER HOSTESS' REPUTATION

BY MARY E. DAGUE. NEARLY everyone who has your reputation as a most charming hostess as mastering the art of serving delicious, cold drinks on hot summer afternoons.

Nothing will so quickly build up your reputation as a most charming hostess as mastering the art of serving delicious, cold drinks on hot summer afternoons.

With some flavoring syrups on hand, you'll never be at a loss when unexpected guests arrive.

And other refreshing hot-day drinks can be made in combination with ice cream.

Lemonade, of course, is an ideal beverage, made with one ripe lemon to each tall glass. Add two or three teaspoons sugar to each glass, fill with cold water and chilled ice, garnish with a sprig of mint or a tiny slice of orange and serve.

Try adding a dash of lemon juice or lime juice to grape juice occasionally for variety's sake.

Dilute somewhat with ice water before serving. Grape fruit juice and pineapple juice, alone or in combination, are exceptionally good with grape juice, too.

Pineapple Juice is Zestful. Pineapple juice, popular as a breakfast beverage, makes a delightfully refreshing cool drink. Try it with a scoop of ice cream.

When you serve ice cream in cold drinks, add it last. A couple table-spoonfuls to each glass is enough. Less sugar is needed, because ice cream is sweet. Ginger ale and root beer are general favorites to serve as ice cream coolers.

Best of garnishes for cold drinks is a sprig of mint. If you have no mint bed, your grover can get it for you. To keep mint cool and crisp, wrap it in a damp, clean cloth and place it near the ice. It will stay fresh for days and the cold doesn't seem to make it lose its fragrant bouquet.

Avoid Watery Beverages. Remember, too, that when you chill a beverage with ice, the ice dilutes the drink. If guests are expected, make your drink and cool on ice until wanted for serving. Then if you do drop an ice cube in for the sake of the tempting tinkle, there will be no danger of serving too watery a beverage.

Also remember to sip cold drinks slowly. Not only do they have a more lasting cooling effect if taken this way, but they are much better for you.

Take care not to make a summer time drink too sweet. A tart drink quenches thirst much better than a sweet one.

Tomorrow's Menu. BREAKFAST: Sliced pineapple, baked ham, eggs fried in bacon fat, graham muffins, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON: Casserole of cauliflower and cheese, fresh fruit salad, toasted muffins, milk, tea.

DINNER: Baked salmon trout, new beans in lemon sauce, lettuce and cucumber salad, rice soufflé, milk, coffee.

Whether you want a dress for active or for spectator sports, here is a delightful pattern.

For the tennis courts, the skirt that buttons slantly up the front is quickly discarded. You'll find a grand game of tennis in the comfortable shorts.

This sports ensemble looks stunning in peach colored pique printed in brown dots, with brown buttons and matching brown leather belt.

FAMED SINGER HOPES TO BE A MOVIE STAR

WILL CELEBRATE 75TH BIRTHDAY ON TUESDAY

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., June 15 (AP)—Madame Ernestine Schumann-Heink beloved for half a century as a grand opera and concert singer, on the eve of her seventy-fifth birthday today is looking forward to a new career, in the movies.

"I no longer have to be the great opera singer," she said. "They are going to let me be my own, mischievous self, in pictures, just like I am at home."

She was her "own, mischievous self" as she celebrated her birthday with a family dinner in her home here yesterday, her sons and daughters and their children about her.

She laughed happily and she wept a little too, remembering the two sons who died in the World War, one of them wearing a German uniform.

"It is almost my happiest birthday," she said, "with all my children about me. Yes, I mean all, because my sons I lost on the battlefield are with me always."

She would like another 20 years in which to make people laugh as a motion picture comedienne, she said recently.

"Still, I pray the good God to give me four or five more years and with that I will be satisfied. It is long enough to do a little bit of good, anyway."

"I have so much sunshine to give and I know I can make people laugh and be happy."

She played a small part in a picture last year and two producers urged a contract upon her. A major studio (M-G-M) is preparing a story for her.

Scanning New Books

When the "Queen Mary" docked the other day, Ethel Munn was supposed to be aboard her, she wasn't, and to date Mrs. Munn's publishers have not informed the world why. Perhaps she is at home watching sales of "Clansmen" (Dutton) mount up. They are mounting up, it is said.

The author of "The Gay Family" has gone back to her Scottish roots for this novel. The heady Highland air makes a direct appeal to Mrs. Munn for she is an out-of-doors sort of person, dividing her interests about half and half between writing and sport. She likes horses, and races them. Her "Johnny Nelson" won the King's Cup in 1932; she still hopes to win the Grand National.

Anyhow, she is telling this time the story of three modern clansmen: Alan, Hamish, and Hector, Stewart of Ardeek. She does a complete background for them, and then quite suddenly shifts them from London, where Alan's apartment is a nest of parlor radicals preaching parlor postulation, to Scotland. There Alan's wife finds the Scottish winter a good excuse for boredom and an affair with Hamish. There also, Hector takes a hand. And there follows a climax which has unexpected features.

Mrs. Munn writes easily and sometimes brilliantly. The emotional values of her new novel are excellently judged and presented. There is color galore and there is action in the strong Scottish manner. Perhaps the reason this reader doesn't like the new book as well as "The Gay Family" is that emotion and action in the strong Scottish manner just don't appeal to him very much.

Thumb nail Reviews. "Strange Glory," by L. H. Myers (Harcourt, Brace); short and beautifully written love story by the author of "The Root and the Flower"; setting, Louisiana; type, subtle yet serious, with some humor.

"X. Jones of Scotland Yard," by Harry Stephen Keeler (Dutton); the solution of Keeler's "The Macraux Case"; it's presented in the same confusing manner—dozzers, telegrams, news stories, and whatnot reproduced verbatim.

"The Modern Angler," by John Alden Knight (Scriner's); a grand book for the fisherman, including an explanation of Mr. Knight's Solarium theory; but he doesn't explain why fishermen wear so many clothes.

"The Story of Instruction: The Beginnings," by Ernest Carroll Moore (Macmillan); the vice-president and provost of the University of California at Los Angeles begins what is obviously to be a series of books on the progress of teaching with a discussion of instruction in Greece and Rome.

Communists Again. "Days of Wrath," by Andre Malraux (Dutton); a communist's experience in a Nazi prison; to get anything out of this short novel you'll have to read it into the text for yourself.

"Day of Immense Sun," by Blair Niles (Bobbs-Merrill); Peru and the Incas, expressed through the medium of a plot which could just as well have been set in New Jersey.

"The Commonwealth of Industry," by Benjamin A. Javits (Harper); Mr. Javits would divorce business and government completely, for the good of both; the idea is regimentation at its most rigorous.

"I Will Lift Up Mine Eyes," by Hubert Skidmore (Doubleday, Doran); a brave but futile fight by "Maw" who distrusts an encroaching industrial civilization; too much thick dialect, but sincere and thoughtful.

ZONE MANHUNT SYSTEM ASKED IN SOUTHWEST

BARROW EXPERIENCE FURNISHED IDEA TO PATROL

AUSTIN, June 15, (P)—Moderated Texas state police today projected a coordinated zone blockade system in five Southwestern states to trap criminals in interstate flights from the law.

Without a precedent in the United States to guide him, Phares learned numerous pitfalls in highway blocking several years ago in the patrol's search for the notorious Clyde Barrow and Bonnie Parker. Lack of organization and cooperation, he said, spoiled attempts to capture the bandit pair through road blockades.
