'Poor People' March In Nation's Capital Today

More Attacks Predicted

Marines At Khe Sanh Kill 317 Communists

By JACK WALSH
SAIGON (UPI) — The blood of 317 North Vietnam troops smeared the jungle slopes around the outposts of the northern frontier Marine fort of Khe Sanh today. The signs were that the Communists would be back—possibly all summer long.

Leathernecks killed 131 of the attackers Tuesday, in the same spot and in the same manner that they killed 186 others in a first North Vietnam attempt to overrun the outposts Saturday. Marine losses Tuesday were 11 men killed and 30 wounded. Saturday they suffered 16 dead and 61 wounded. American intelligence sources predicted these were only battles in the special war around Khe Sanh. Elements of two North Vietnam divisions failed to take Khe Sanh in months of attacks earlier this year. But the Marine bastion is the key to the northwestern corner of South Vietnam.

According to the U.S. sources, American commanders were so sure of more trouble that at least one Marine unit which had been scheduled to pull back today was being kept in place indefinitely. The outposts are atop hills that guard the plateau on which Khe Sanh sits. Tuesday, as on Saturday, the North Vietnamese began with a heavy mortar barrage, then they surged at the Leathernecks' barbed wire defenses. The Marines opened up with machine guns and mortars. U.S. airplanes and artillery joined the deadly rain of death. The North Vietnamese stopped and then they fell back. They were expected to regroup for another try. The Marines of Khe Sanh waited.

Hanoi Again Says 'No' to US Plea For Secret Talks

PARIS (UPI) — The United States said today it wants no "privileged position" in Vietnam. It called again for secret negotiations designed to get the stalled Paris talks going but Hanoi's chief envoy Xuan Thuy rejected the plea.

U.S. Ambassador W. Averell Harriman went into the meeting to ask Hanoi to return to the 1954 Geneva Far Eastern peace agreements in an effort to end the war in Vietnam through formal talks. That would include restoration of the Demilitarized Zone. Harriman and Thuy met today for 3 hours and 50 minutes in the ninth session of the talks that opened May 13. After the meeting Harriman said he had no progress to show. In fact, they agreed to meet only once a week, on Wednesdays, unless some special circumstances arose.

Boston Sheriff Wants Staff To Go Weaponless

BOSTON (UPI) — The Suffolk County sheriff has ordered his deputies to lay down their arms. He said he hopes to create "the prototype of a peacekeeping force which relies on anything but weapons."

Guardsmen, Police Are Called To Duty

By HENRY LEIFERMANN
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Thousands of Americans who shared Dr. Martin Luther King's last dream joined his widow today for the climactic march of the Poor People's Campaign.

Barefoot and wearing dirty dungarees, residents of Resurrection City linked arms with buttoned-down government workers at the Washington monument for the march to the Lincoln Memorial.

Harvest Season To Get Underway Soon in County

A total of 110 loads of wheat have been hauled to the Groom Wheat Growers elevator in the Grandview community south of Pampa, but other areas in Gray County report only light harvests so far.

Texas Governor John Connally Attracts Veep Attention At Meet

CHARLESTON, S.C. (UPI) — Texas Gov. John Connally, the man mentioned most often by the other southern governors as a vice presidential prospect, convinced most people at the Southern Governors Conference that he doesn't want the job.

stood there was plenty of vice presidential talk at the conference, but he said he heard little of it himself. Connally's role at the conference was that of a conscientious chief executive and an elder statesman of the conference — not a campaigner.

Third, the Connally personality is at its best in a situation like a governors conference. His good looks and charm attract attention at social events. Women whisper to each other about him. His wife Nellie charms the women with her vivaciousness. He is articulate in the discussions at formal conference meetings, and the other governors obviously respect the opinions he voices in private conversations.

Senate Group Is Ready To Okay Gun Legislation

By STEVEN GERSTEL
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate Judiciary Committee was set today to pull a dramatic reversal and approve the Johnson administration's proposed ban on the mail order sale of rifles and shotguns.

He took a large contingent of Texas newsmen with him to the conference, but he made very little news. Except for one 10-minute meeting with the Texas press, Connally held no news conferences. Connally was in his seat when the meetings started and stayed there no matter how boring the speeches. Many of the other governors arrived late, left early, and showed more interest in being interviewed by the press than in listening to the official sessions.

Thus, despite Connally's repeated statements that he is not interested in the vice presidential nomination, he emerged from the conference a strong contender, at least from the southern point of view. In fact, the consensus of cloakroom opinion at the conference was that Connally is the only Southerner who has a chance. Some even went so far as to say that Connally's only rival is Sen. Edward Kennedy.

McCarthy Backer Wins In New York

ALBANY, N.Y. (UPI) — A peace candidate backing Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy for president upset the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy's choice and an avowed backer of Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey to win New York state's Democratic senatorial nomination.

But Connally attracted attention nevertheless. First, the size of his entourage—24 people—impressed the others at the conference. Second, other governors repeatedly named Connally as a prospective running mate for Vice President Hubert Humphrey.

McCarthy said he had "confidence in the integrity" of Boggs, but "I do think that a person with more balanced views on the war policy would have been a better choice. He has clearly declared himself an extreme hawk."

McCarthy Says LBJ 'Stacking' Convention Staff

By United Press International
President Johnson was the center of a dispute in Democratic ranks today, with Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy's camp accusing him of packing the national convention staff with key backers of Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and the administration.

keynote the late August convention. House Democratic leader Carl Albert of Oklahoma to chair it, and House Democratic whip Hale Boggs of Louisiana to head the platform committee. The choices, McCarthy aide Stephen A. Mitchell said, mean "it's obvious that President Johnson is back in the saddle and leads the national committee like a mule under halter."

president, and Mitchell noted that Boggs and Albert see Johnson every Tuesday when Democratic congressional leaders breakfast with him at the White House. Mitchell said he had "confidence in the integrity" of Boggs, but "I do think that a person with more balanced views on the war policy would have been a better choice. He has clearly declared himself an extreme hawk."

British Lawmakers Vow To Abolish House Of Lords

By JOHN J. MEEHAN
LONDON (UPI) — Angry members of the House of Commons today vowed they would abolish the House of Lords for its defiance in rejecting Britain's long-sought world trade ban against Rhodesia.

At least 70 members of the majority Labor party joined a campaign to silence forever the peers' weak voice in British affairs, so weak the trade ban rejection will be ineffective. That number falls far short of the votes necessary to pass such an abolition, however. Of Commons' 630 seats Labor holds 349 and parliamentary sources said the Labor leader in the lower house, Fred Peart, would block anything as drastic as dissolution of the House of Lords.

Commons—to ban all trade with Rhodesia. The former African colony declared itself independent of Britain three years ago in a dispute over government plans to give Rhodesia's black majority full voting rights. Some Labor party leaders said the narrow vote in the Conservative-packed House of Lords was a moral victory for Labor, and it was apparent the Lords would try again to stop the trade ban's passage.

Meet Set Tomorrow On Plan For Pampa

The first in a series of meetings to formulate and project a new Comprehensive Plan for Pampa is scheduled at a special meeting of the city commission at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in City Hall.

Marvin Springer, Dallas consultant engineer on city planning employed by the city in April of 1967, will meet with the commission to explain the first of ten steps that he says need to be taken to draw up a new planning and zoning ordinance for Pampa. Members of the city planning and zoning board have been invited to study the plan with the commission at each meeting in the series.

The first session Thursday night will center on a population and economic base study. Others invited to the initial meeting include Luke McClelland, chairman of the city traffic commission; Frank M. Cutbertson, chairman of a long-range facilities development committee; Gordon Lyons, chairman of the drainage study committee, and County Judge Sherman R. Lenning. The city has entered into contract to pay Springer $33,500 for the complete Master Plan survey.

The survey is broken into ten categories by the planners. The ten plan classifications and the cost of each follow: Population and economic base study, $3,000; Land use survey and plan, $4,000; Base map revision and expansion, $1,500; Thoroughfare plan, $3,500; Zoning regulations and revisions, $3,750; community facilities plan, $4,500; housing study and neighborhood improvement plan, $3,500; administrative study and report on subdivision standards, $2,750; capital improvements programming report, $2,500, and final comprehensive plan report, $4,500.

The first three meetings will be held at two-week intervals and then monthly meetings will be held until all ten phases of the program have been studied, Springer said. The planning consultant told the city commission at its May 23 meeting that the sets should be ready for a public hearing by Labor Day this year and be in the complete stage of development by March or April of 1969. The purpose of the series of meetings, Springer stated, will be to consider new tools for the revision of Pampa's zoning ordinance, bring it up to date and a project for the future.

A similar planning survey which was to have projected Pampa's growth until 1980 was discarded by the city commission under the administration of Mayor Gene Sidwell seven or eight years ago. A majority of the commissioners at that time objected to federal participation in the planning. The plan was dropped after $15,000 to $20,000 had been spent on it.

Oil Allowable Upped For July

AUSTIN (UPI) — The Texas Railroad Commission today raised the state oil allowable for July by 65,146 barrels daily over the June figure. The commission set the July allowable at 46.4 per cent of potential as demands increase by 30,218 barrels a day over June. The July allowable amounts to 3,055,344 barrels a day, compared with 3,485,366 barrels daily in June. The allowable is exactly the same as the production sought by major purchasers.

Discussion On Tax Bill Due Today

AUSTIN (UPI) — Texas legislators, who decided Tuesday how much the state should spend in fiscal 1969, begin work today on finding money to support the expenditures.

The House will take up either today or Thursday a $127.2 million tax bill proposed by Gov. John Connally and sponsored in the House by Dallas Rep. Ben Atwell. The measure, which got committee approval Tuesday, would not provide enough revenue to balance either the House or Senate version of the 1969 spending bill.

The House version calls for $132.5 million in new taxes, while the Senate bill would require $138.2 million.

AFS Students Due In Pampa Tuesday

An international bus filled with 34 American Field Service students from 17 countries will arrive here Tuesday. Its passengers have spent a year as members of families and as students of local high schools in communities across the United States.

Activities planned for the teenage visitors in the three days here include a tour of feed lots, picnic at the Franklin Ranch, and a barbecue and dance.

Bus No. 14 is one of 75 touring buses enroute to Washington, D.C. where 3,000 AFS students will have their final meeting before returning to their native lands.

Billy Davis is chairman of the bus stop visit and will work with 34 Pampa families who will host the visitors in their homes.

Tickets to the barbecue for June 26 will be available at Malone Pharmacy until 5 p.m. Tuesday.

The AFS is a privately sponsored, nonprofit organization for promotion of understanding between people. It works through an international scholarship program which selects United States and overseas students 16 to 18 years old to educate them in the community life of another country.

shelling of Saigon." They ignored the offers and charged that Harriman had "failed to show good will" and "created obstacles" that prevent the talks from progressing.

"If the United States wants to carry on the war, the Vietnamese people are determined to defeat its warlike aggression," they said.

Harriman said the purpose of today's proposals was to reestablish peace through withdrawal of forces behind the 17th Parallel and reestablishment of the DMZ.

"We have no objection to the reunification of Vietnam, which both sides want," he said. "But it must be done by the free expression of the peoples of both sides without use of force by either side."

He would not comment as to whether his recent warnings to them might have reduced the shelling of Saigon—hit today with two shells for the first time in two nights.

strongly that they should carry guns," he said.

But, he added, "Frankly I don't believe that weapons are necessary. That doesn't mean we'll never carry guns. There might be just that rare instance when we'll want to."

"Our men will still be able to shoot and shoot straight. And they will spend enough time on the shooting range to be sure they can."

But, he added, he wants to "reassure the public that really great police work is possible without weaponry and that the best police forces find that most of their time is devoted to preventive medicines."

Trials Delayed In Court Here

A continuance was granted yesterday by Judge Grainger W. McIlhenny in 31st Judicial District Court here in the civil case of George King vs. J. S. Skelly, doing business as Skelly Fuel Co.

New trial date has been set for Aug. 12.

Judge McIlhenny granted the motion for continuance after the defense had asked for additional time for preparation.

A postponement of the criminal trial of Jim Lee Bradshaw, originally slated for Thursday, also was announced. Judge McIlhenny granted the postponement because of commitments of Bradshaw's counselor, John Lee of Kermitt.

District Attorney Bill Waters announced that a grand jury would be impaneled Friday morning to return or dismiss indictments on several persons charged with felony offenses.

harvesting would be done in about 10 to 14 days. Two grain elevators in Kingsmill reported harvested wheat was brought in for the first time yesterday. Yields ranged from 15 to 20 bushels per acre.

Moisture content on many of the harvests was reported to be fairly heavy, ranging up to 13.5 per cent. But grain elevator operators said they expected this to be no major problem.

Cash Stolen In Burglary at Bar

An undetermined amount of money was taken in the burglary of the Royal Bar, 534 S. Cuyler, sometime last night of this morning, according to police. Investigation was still continuing at press time.

In other police department news, Mrs. Frank Kelley of 1715 Christine reported vandals broke out windows in her auto, causing an estimated $15 damage.

A customer at a local service station reported an argument with an attendant over a $10 bill. The man said he put it on the counter to pay for gasoline he had purchased, but the wind blew it off. Police said the service station attendant refused to believe the man's story, however, and said he found the bill on the floor and was not going to give it to the customer.

Family fights erupted at a local restaurant and at a residence on Varnon Dr., a woman complained that her son was "drunk and cursing and hollering and acting crazy," and an 11-year-old girl complained to police that her uncle had "whipped" her when "he didn't have any right to."

● March

"They don't deserve to see us acting this groovy. They just want to push us to burn down our houses." But never mind. We're going to come to bat this afternoon."

The march director, Sterling Tucker, was elated over the turnout. "This is great," he said. "This group is just like the '63 march—the same kind of people."

At least 27 House members and 13 senators had notified march headquarters late this morning that they would be making the short trip to the Lincoln Memorial. March officials expected more lawmakers to join later in the demonstration.

One of the many scheduled speakers at the memorial ceremony was the Mexican-American militant, Reies Lopez Tijerina of Albuquerque, N.M. He said in a prepared address that there is an "organized criminal conspiracy against my people."

"I accuse the U.S.A. of violating all the human rights of the people of the Southwest," he said. "Now and forever I say that unless the United States honors its word in relation to the life and welfare of these 15 million Spanish-American and Indian people we will organize, we will fight, we will ask the whole world for help and support."

Tijerina, whose contingent had several run-ins with Negroes of the campaign, said the Mexican-Americans will remain in Washington with the Poor People's Campaign "until we finish our mission."

Said Tijerina: "Poor people of the world let us unite, let us reason together against the enemy of life and human respect."

The White House was closed to public tours today, apparently as a precautionary security step during the march.

The White House police and park police had extra security details posted around the executive mansion, Pennsylvania Avenue, from 16th to 17th Street, which fronts the White House, was blocked off to pedestrians.

Otherwise, it was business as usual for President Johnson, with a bill-signing, a secret national Security Council meeting and his regular weekly luncheon with senior diplomatic and military advisors.

A thought for the day: Plato once said, "Of all the animals, the boy is the most unmanageable."

Her husband preceded her in death.

Survivors are two daughters, Mrs. Melvin Watkins, Pampa, and Mrs. J. E. Keogh, Denver, Colo.; two sons, Jack Foster, and Don Foster, both of Pampa; and 10 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Funeral services are pending with Carmichael-Whitely Funeral Directors.

New Enco Bulk Agent Is Named

George Oakes, who has about 30 years of experience in the wholesale gasoline business, has been named as new bulk agent for Enco here.

Oakes, a former resident of Pampa, moved back to Pampa from Amarillo to work for Elmer Wilson, Sr., whom he succeeds here as Enco bulk agent.

The agent deals principally in gasoline, lubricants, oil field solvents and diesel fuel. He and his wife are residing at 212 Lynn.

Settlement In Freak Accident Case Reported

The widow of Lloyd Thomas, killed in a freak accident during a snowstorm in Pampa last February, was awarded $35,000 in an agreement reached here yesterday in 31st Judicial District Court.

Terms of the settlement were reached by lawyers for Mrs. Thomas and Troy Denton of Seminole, driver of the auto which struck Thomas.

"The accident occurred at about 10 a.m. Feb. 22 as Thomas was servicing an auto with gasoline at the Post Office Service Station, 117 S. Ballard. The car driven by Denton pulled into the service station, skidded and crushed Thomas between the two autos. The accident occurred during a snowfall with temperatures in the lower 20s.

Thomas died later that day at Highland General Hospital. He was 52.

Auto, Motorbike Reported Stolen

W. L. Norton, 2100 Hamilton, reported today the theft of 1967 automobile. The car had been left in front of the Norton residence overnight, according to a police report. A bicycle was left at the scene. License number of the auto was EPL-202.

Theft of a motorcycle was reported to police this morning by W. E. Combs Jr., 2316 Rosewood. The theft was thought to have occurred sometime last night or early this morning. The motorcycle is a 1967 Hodaka, license number X3823.

Auto Stolen Here Found in Illinois

A 1967 auto owned by Mrs. Lyle O. Gage of 303 N. Starkweather, stolen two weeks ago while it was parked in a Pampa residential area, has been found wrecked near Thompson, Ill., according to Asst. Police Chief George Wallace.

Three suspects are being held by Clinton, Iowa, police but no further information is currently available, Wallace said.

The 1967 Buick Special was stolen June 5 between 10:45 and 11:42 p.m. as it was parked in front of 1922 Grape St.

The theft coincided with disappearance of a suspect who tried to run over Patrolman Dorman Lewis after he had been stopped for reckless driving.

The suspect abandoned the stolen car he was driving after a high-speed chase and was later the subject of a widespread manhunt in Pampa. He eluded escape, however, and is thought to have stolen the auto owned by Mrs. Gage to make his get away.

Cougars Open NCAA Golf Title Defense

LAS CRUCES, N.M. (UPI)—Defending champion Houston opens defense of its NCAA golf title today over the cactus and mesquite dotted New Mexico State course.

The University of Florida and Arizona State University are given the best chances of ending the Cougars' supremacy in collegiate golf. Houston has won the team title the past four years and for 11 of the last 13 years.

Houston's Hal Underwood is cast as the early favorite in the individual race, although results from Tuesday's East-West matches show there are plenty of golfers capable of walking off with the crown.

The West won its fifth straight championship by sweeping eight of the 13 low-ball matches.

Michael Davis of Oregon and Jimmy Clayton of North Texas State combined for the day's top performance, teaming to fire a seven-under-par 64.

11 Reported Killed In Peruvian Quake

LIMA, Peru (UPI)—A severe earthquake in Peru's northern Amazon basin region early today was reported to have killed at least 11 persons and injured 100 others at Moyobamba, capital of San Martin Department (province).

The report came from the chief telegrapher in that city in a dispatch to his main office in Lima. He said the city of 15,000 inhabitants suffered "enormous damage."

FORMER SLAVE Sylvester Magee celebrated his 127th birthday in Gulfport, Miss., Magee, who remembers being sold on the slave market in 1851, fought on the Union side during the Civil War. His 1841 birth in Carpet, N.C., is backed by Department of History and Archives in Jackson, Miss.

THE LIGHTER SIDE Carpenter and Donkey

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The late Sam Rayburn used to say, "Any jackass can kick a barn down, but it takes a carpenter to build one."

Sometimes I have a feeling that old Sam may have been trying to tell us something. I'm not certain the following is what he had in mind, but I offer it anyway as one of the fables for our times:

The Carpenter and the Donkey
Once in the distant land of Pilgrims Pride a carpenter and a donkey lived together in a barn.

One day the donkey approached the carpenter and said, "There's a big knothole in the north side of the barn. It's letting in a lot of cold air. Since you built the barn, you should be the one to repair it."

"Fine," the carpenter said. "I'll get to work on it right away."

As the carpenter took out his tools and began measuring the knothole preparatory to cutting a plug to fit it, the donkey said, "It will take you all day to get it done that way."

Whereupon the donkey raised his hind legs and gave a powerful kick, which knocked down the entire north side of the barn.

"That should take care of it," the donkey said.

"You certainly got rid of the knothole, all right," the carpenter said.

The next day as the carpenter was preparing to rebuild the north side of the barn, the donkey reported he had found a loose board in the south side.

"I'll nail it back as soon as I finish here," the carpenter said. "Action now!" the donkey said, and proceeded to kick down the south side of the barn.

"Do you ever have a feeling you may be over-solving the problem?" the carpenter asked.

"Well, at least the loose board is gone," the donkey replied.

When on the following day the donkey noticed that the east side of the barn was out of plumb, he didn't bother to consult the carpenter, who obviously was still hung up on yesterday's problems.

Instead, he gave it a mighty kick, at which point the roof collapsed, pinning the donkey and the carpenter underneath.

"Now look at the mess you've gotten us into," the donkey said. "I warned you to hurry up with those repairs."

Moral: There is more than one way to fix a barn.

Watermelons Rotting For Lack Of Trucks

FALFURRIAS, Tex. (UPI) — South Texas watermelon growers have reported crops are rotting in the fields for the lack of trucks to carry the harvest to market. Some estimates in dollar loss have run as high as $2 million.

"There are at least 500 truckloads of melons in Falfurrias that aren't going anywhere and will probably rot," said Harlan Reames of the Gerald Mann Produce Co.

The same trouble has been reported in Dilley, Pearsall and Stockdale.

Matt Dietz, a shipper from Dilley, said he has about 600 acres worth of watermelons ready to be picked up in his area, but cannot do so.

He said several things had piled up all at once to create the shortage of trucks.

Dietz said one cause was the Texas Railroad Commission crackdown on the use of trucks that do not have the proper permits. He also said the Rio Grande Valley harvest was late this year and out-of-state truckers who had to hang around for two weeks before picking up a load are not anxious to return to Texas.

Fierce competition for trucks with the current grain harvest also drew its share of the blame.

"You need some cool weather to stretch out our season," said Dietz. "If the hot season continues then the melons will ripen in a hurry and we have had it."

Lawsuit Against Five Oil Firms Gets Underway

OKLAHOMA CITY (UPI) — Oklahoma and Kansas asphalt suppliers conspired to fix prices, divide territory among themselves and keep out competition, the state has alleged at the start of its $21 million lawsuit against five oil companies.

Defense attorneys immediately denied any wrongdoing by their client companies, and said the state itself was to blame for any identical bidding or division of territory among suppliers.

A jury of 10 men and 2 women, and two male alternate jurors, was selected to hear the federal court lawsuit in which the state alleged the five firms conspired to submit identical bids and sell road oil to the state at rigged prices from 1961 to 1965.

Defendants are Phillips Petroleum Co., Kerr-McGee Oil Industries Inc., Sunray DX Oil Co., Riffe Petroleum Co. and Inland Asphalt Inc., all Oklahoma firms.

Named as "co-conspirators" in Oklahoma were Allied Materials Corp., Apco Oil Corp., Monarch Refineries and Wilshire Oil Co. of Texas. Named as "co-conspirators" in Kansas were Skelly Oil Co., Mobil Oil Co., American Petrofina, Derby Refining Co. and Consumers Cooperative.

Defense attorneys will end their opening statements Tuesday before the state begins presentation of its case.

U. S. Dist. Judge Luther Eubanks said the trial could possibly take more than a month. He cautioned jurors not to discuss the case with anyone, and to report anyone who tried to talk with them about it.

Eubanks Monday overruled a defense motion for a delay. The defense said a "drum fire of inflammable and prejudicial" news stories had influenced prospective jurors.

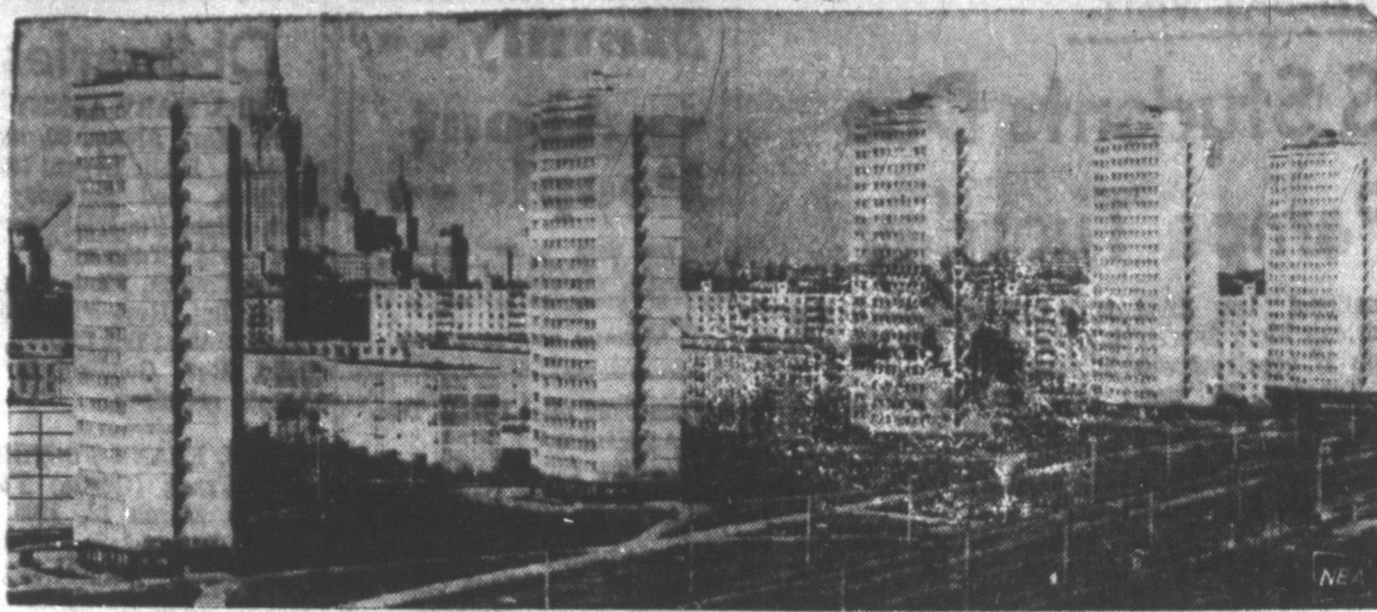

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—Reynolds Co. says it is "frightened" by the heavy market turnover of recent sessions, adding that it "defies both fundamental and technical analysis." The company points out that some veteran observers feel such activity "can only lead to a crash." The investment adviser, however, says it doesn't necessarily agree with this analysis but adds this is a good time for investors to "reexamine their objectives and make sure their portfolios are in sound condition."

Harris, Upham & Co. says inflationary fears plus the ready supply of money probably will continue to act as a short-term buffer to any corrective action voices the opinion that speculative action has now reached its peak, thus buyers of low-quality issues "need be wary."

C. B. Richard, Ellis & Co. says the high volume indicates the public is participating in the stock market to a much greater degree than ever before.

Foreign News Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOM

UPI Foreign News Analyst
It was almost precisely at this same date 20 years ago that the Soviet Union subjected West Berlin to its first great postwar crisis by imposing the Berlin blockade—to which the Western allies replied with the greatest airlift in history.

In the intervening years, West Berlin has lived through other times of crisis as the Soviets and their East German satellites sought twin objectives—Western recognition of the East German regime and the economic strangulation of West Berlin.

On Nov. 27, 1962, there was Nikita S. Khrushchev's ultimatum that within six months he would turn over full authority to the East German government, including control of the vital canal and highway access routes to West Berlin.

A Breed Apart
But the tough West Berliners, a breed apart, took their vacations in West Germany early so as to be home again in time for the deadline.

A tough American general who was prepared to blast his way through any attempted East German blockade if necessary, summed up their feelings this way to this correspondent:

"The West Berliners are apprehensive but unafraid." But the May 27 deadline came and went and Khrushchev backed down.

On Aug. 13, 1961, came the Berlin Wall and West Berlin lost 60,000 workers from its labor

Better Housing
Housewives went back to work, the West German government offered special tax incentives to industry and to workers better housing than in the rest of Germany.

Nonetheless, through the years, West Berlin has suffered a general erosion.

Ten years ago it already was becoming a city of the old. Fifteen per cent of its population was more than 60 years old. Today the figure is over 20 per cent.

Through the years, it annually lost 15,000 to 20,000 of its workers responding to offers from the more relaxed atmosphere of Munich, Dusseldorf or Frankfurt. Last year 5,000 workers left the city.

When the Communists erected the Berlin Wall in 1961 it was a clear violation of four-power agreements but before the Western allies could react it already was an accomplished fact.

East Germany's newly announced decision to require visas of West Germans traveling by land to isolated West Berlin and to raise taxes on goods being shipped to and from West Berlin also have been denounced as invalid.

Nevertheless, they already are being put into effect.

Personal Income Up
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Personal income of Americans rose by $4 billion in May to a seasonally adjusted yearly rate of $674 billion.

The Commerce Department, reporting this Monday, said the annual income rate so far this year is running 8 per cent above the same period last year.

Some people plant tomatoes in the spring

Others plant carrots, or onions, or cucumbers, or asparagus, or lettuce. But there's one thing you can plant now that will create a variety of tastes. A gas barbecue grill.

We have several varieties. Any one lets you harvest a delicious meal any time of the year. Its perfect heat control and permanent briquettes give you year 'round cooking pleasure without the mess of a charcoal fire.

For best results, we recommend early planting. This will guarantee larger yields because you can start your harvest immediately.

New lower prices on the '68 models are in effect through July 31st. Prices start at $77.50 cash (includes installation and tax) or as little as $2.50 a month, whichever you prefer. After that, it will only cost a few cents per month for us to feed it.

Call us. We'll plant a gas barbecue grill in your yard.

That is, if you have a taste for the outdoors.

Buy a PATIO PAIR (one gas light and one gas barbecue grill) and save $28.00. Prices start at $103.70 (includes installation and tax) or $4.00 a month.

DEAR ABBY: I applied to a well-known school of drama because I have always wanted to be an actor. I am a high school senior and have done only amateur things, but people who are supposed to know talent have said I had great potential.

To make a long story short, I was accepted. Naturally, I was overjoyed, but here is the catch. Now my parents won't let me go. They knew I applied, but they did not say anything. Now they say they did not raise any objections when I applied because they didn't think I had a chance. My parents say that "acting" is no profession. They would rather see me be a doctor or a lawyer.

My teachers and friends say that I would be foolish to pass up this opportunity, but what about my parents? Your answer will help me decide.

LOVES TO ACT
DEAR LOVES: If you are unable to pursue your education in drama without your parents' consent (and more important, their financial help) it would appear your "decision" has already been made for you, unless, of course, you choose to defy them and try to make it on your own. "Acting" is a fine profession, but requires more determination, patience, and "luck" than most, so don't blame your parents for their attitude. On the other hand, parents who will help their children only in careers which they themselves select, do their children a disservice.

DEAR ABBY: I have a screwball neighbor who goes on periodic "toots." He rings my doorbell with his own bottle in hand and I have to invite him in, shut off my favorite television program and listen to his alcoholic babbling. Then his wife telephones and asks me to send him home, after which she slams down the receiver as though it's MY fault that her husband came over here.

Please confess to me, Abby, when women are mad at their husbands aren't they mad at ALL men?

STU IN OAKLAND
DEAR STU: I can't speak for "all women." No one woman can. But if this screwball neighbor of yours presents a problem, it's easily solved. When he is on a "toot," and rings your bell, say, "Not tonight, Buddy Boy," and send him home.

DEAR ABBY: I just read in your column where some man told his wife he was not leaving her anything because he did not want some other man spending his money.

After 15 years in the insurance business, I have run across my share of these characters. In the first place they usually do not have enough life insurance for Sweetie Pie to buy a ticket to the state line. I am always surprised when the husband thinks it's HIS money. Seems to me, both of them have worked for it.

I wonder if the husband remembers just who kept the house, made the meals, diapered the kids, walked the dog, drove him home when he was drunk, and listened to him cry about how his boss did not appreciate him.

Very truly yours,
— MT. VERNON, ILL.

MERIT AWARD WINNER — Mrs. George Quible, 1918 N. Native Pampa Wins Merit Award For Painting of 'Wildcat Oil Well'

By WANDA MAE HUFF
Women's News Editor

An oil painting by Mrs. George Quible, 1918 N. Russell, recently received one of 20 merit awards in an amateur art show in Hooker, Okla. Sponsored by Hooker Chamber of Commerce and Hooker Art Club, the Oklahoma Panhandle and Regional Art Show had 420 entries from a five-state area.

Peter Hurd, nationally known Southwestern landscape artist, judged the contest, which was the first Mrs. Quible has entered. Hurd is the San Patricio, N.M., artist who painted President Johnson's portrait.

A Pampa native, Mrs. Quible took art lessons about 1930-1933, but hadn't painted anything until about 2 1/2 years ago.

"I was 16 when I quit taking lessons. I guess I discovered boys had other interests. After our daughter Susan was married, 2 1/2 years ago, I started painting again and have done about two dozen since then," Mrs. Quible said.

Mrs. Quible's prize-winning painting, "Wildcat," is an oil painting of an extinct wooden derrick, cable tool rig. Like many of her paintings, it shows her preference for painting skies, cloud formations and wide open spaces.

Astrological Forecast

By CARROLL RIGHTER

THURSDAY, JUNE 6
GENERAL TENDENCIES: This is a very unusual and peculiar type of day and it is the time for you to wind up all kinds of mental and intellectual decisions and to start the practical and material details by which such courses can be put into active expression on a very earthy basis. Look at property, and improve it.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Come to the right decision as to those persons you really want to have as allies in days ahead and contact them. Get out and buy those articles that will improve the appearance of your surroundings. Avoid extravagance.

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20) Come right out with whatever it is you have on your mind with others, but don't become too forceful. You are energetic now and can get just about whatever you want. Use it in a clever, sensible way.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) See what results you have really been getting from dealing with experts recently, whether in personal or business affairs. Concentration on private aims can bring them within your orbit very soon. Stop being so stubborn.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Showing closest friends that you are really a pal and meeting with those around you mutual operations more successful is wise. Some new friend gives you the private support you want. Let him know how keen he is.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 23) A blue talk with that higher-up who can assist you in gaining personal hopes will bring the right results in a.m. Are you really sure you know what your true ambitions are? If so, discuss them freely with others.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23) You just made new contacts who can be very instrumental in helping you gain your most personal aims and ambitions. Listen to advice given you by those around you. Follow those that are the best, most practical.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Your ally wants to be king-pin and it behooves you now to show some will power, but do it tactfully. Expect some kind of subtle trick. Then you come to a real understanding and all is fine.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Persevere in a very determined fashion if you want to get that work done properly now, and you find that others will have more respect for you. Associates give a helping hand. Then all is completed quickly and well.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) If you hurry and get your work done that is vital, you can then step out for fun, you want so badly. You are highly creative and have an opportunity to express this side of your nature. Stop being so morose.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You just have to get busy at the detail work around your house. If you want things there to be really charming and harmonious. Have a smile on your face when you talk to close ties. Your attitude makes a big difference.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Contacting persons who are able to make the future much more pleasant and more affluent for you is your best bet today. Then offer some shopping trip, visit, keeping a professional appointment, etc. Don't stay up so late to P.M.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he, or she, will be a clever youngster who knows just how to talk to others and win the argument through sheer magnetism and knowledge of true facts. There is an early desire to make a good deal of money, so a formal education is necessary, and the future can be most successful. Find the forte here scientifically.

File Instructions
It's a good idea to have a special file box for the washing instruction tags that come with clothing, curtains, draperies, blankets and slip covers.

The Taste Better
In using canned foods, spice them with a little "imagination." Canned peas, for instance, taste better with the addition of onions and butter.

"I guess being born here has something to do with it. I like the wide-open spaces, and like to get as much distance into the paintings as I can. I don't do any still lifes and have only done three portraits, my husband, Susan and myself," she said.

Other landscapes she has done were in Monument Valley, Ariz. and another of a thunderstorm over a mountain in the Big Bend Country.

"My husband is an ex-cable tool driller. 'Wildcat' was painted for him. Since he had to have every nut, bolt, and board in place, it has more detail than most of my paintings.

"Since these old wooden derricks and cable tool rigs are extinct, we used old snapshots, his memory and trial and error. 'Wildcat' is an oil field name for a well off to itself in unproven territory. This looks like it's way off, so that's how it was named," she said.

1948 PHS Class Schedules Reunion

Members of the Class of 1948 of Pampa High School will sponsor reunion meetings Sunday, with members expected from the immediate Pampa area and out-of-state. This will be the 20th reunion of the class members.

A coffee and "reminiscence session" will be held from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. Sunday at the Pampa Club of the Coronado Inn. A picnic is scheduled for 2 p.m. at Central Park. An alternate meeting place will be used in case of rain.

Several members recently met for a planning session of the coffee. Attending were Meses Betty Prigmore Cooper, Wadene Thomas Nicholson, Jolynn Jones Davis, Norma Parks Veazey, Lilith Martin Brainard, Hilda Burden Duncan, Mary Lou Mazey Duenkel, Mary Kretzmeier Adair, Ida Ruth Taylor Price and Ann McNamara DiCosimo.

Psychologist Rates 80 Men, Women On Sensitivity to Four Basic Tastes

By JOANNE OMAG

AMHERST, Mass. — If your wife's coffee tastes like vinegar, it may actually be your taste, not the coffee, that's at fault.

Dr. Ernest Dzenolett of the University of Massachusetts psychology department says his tests show 78.5 per cent of American males must be classified "insensitive" to the four basic tastes — sweet, salty, sour and bitter — and that 28 per cent of them are completely unable to distinguish between sour things (vinegar) and bitter things (coffee).

You'd probably know the two apart anyway. "Actual flavor is a combination of taste, odor, temperature and maybe even the way it feels," says Dr. Dzenolett. We tested with odorless chemical solutions to eliminate those variables.

Subjects for the first two tests were 40 female and 40 male students at UM, all non-smokers and none taking any medication. The samples were diluted but recognizable solutions of quinine (bitter), hydrochloric acid (sour), sucrose (sweet), and table salt.

Each of the four basic tastes was presented seven times in random order for a three-to-four second sampling, with the subject to report afterward which taste it was.

Four out of seven right on any given taste earned a "sensitive" rating for that taste. Only 15 females and nine males scored sensitive on all four tastes — 37.5 per cent for women and 22.5 per cent for men. The rest were insensitive on one or more tastes, especially sour and bitter.

We thought labeling might be a problem," said Dr. Dzen-olet. In a second test, 20 males and 20 females were told that a given solution was salty, sweet, sour or bitter, the first time around. In subsequent tests, however, 28 per cent of the males and 10 per cent of the females still confused sour and bitter.

"They couldn't seem to learn the difference," Dr. Dzenolett reported. "This would seem to indicate that the difficulty must be physiological in origin, rather like partial or total color-blindness. In other words, it is in the genes and not in the taste buds."

So if your wife complains that you never notice anything about her culinary efforts, comfort her with the thought that the trouble is probably in your chromosomes and not in her cooking.

Baylor Coed Gives Competition To Dior and Oleg Cassini

WACO (UPI) — Oleg Cassini and Christian Dior have been getting some stiff competition from a Baylor coed this summer.

What began as a class assignment for Patti Carruth of Shawnee, Okla., ended as a class assignment with campus demand.

Dr. J. E. Smith had assigned his composition and design course students to compose a design for cloth.

Miss Carruth did an intricate grouping of giraffes. She cut the design into a double coating of shellac covering heavy-duty Japanese silk, which was stretched tightly over a simple wooden frame she had built.

Two-Week Job

The designing and cutting processes took about two weeks, and when complete, she was able to paint over the silk screen. The naked part of the silk would allow the ink or paint to pass through leaving a design on the cloth.

Since the frame was the width of a bolt of cloth, but only eight inches long, the silk screen process had to be repeated many times. Constant printing resulted in a material which looked like one continuous print of jumbled giraffes.

Two coeds came to the aid of Miss Carruth who found she could not fold by herself the printed cloth, which stretched along tables for as much as 25 yards.

Two Coeds Benefit

Result: Two coeds soon had for exactly $4.71 each—two original cotton hostess pant-dresses, that probably would have cost $15 to $25 retail.

Word-of-mouth — a woman's prerogative—spread the achievement to the far corners of the campus and demand for designs soon exceeded supply.

Some male students even asked Miss Carruth to print designs on cloth—especially bur-lap—for wall hangings in dormitory room and apartments.

Waco may not become the fashion center of the world, but if unrest in France continues, Dior and Cassini could feel the pinch of competition from the only eight inches long, the silk

GROUNDING

LONDON (UPI)—Police at London's Heathrow Airport took no chances and detained 15-year-old Stephen Wilkins when he saw him near the overseas passenger traffic building. Stephen twice earlier this year stowed away in planes that took him to America.

FEAR INFLUENCE

MADISON, Wis. (UPI)—A replica of the Liberty Bell that has been at the Wisconsin Girls Detention Center at Orem, Wis., since 1950 should be taken away before the girls notice it, state Sen. Ernest C. Keppeler said Tuesday.

"All it may do is inspire the inmates to escape," he said.

BANQUET

LE VIGAN, France (UPI)—A city council in this southern French city today found a "lycopodium giganteum" weighing 10 pounds and measuring 18 inches across in his garden.

Although the "lycopodium giganteum" is supposed to be edible, Frenchmen in this area have decided they do not trust wild mushrooms and would rather save it for posterity.

WRONG END

HONOLULU (UPI) — Allen Salisbury, 23, was fined $25 Tuesday for violating a new state law that says the operator of a motorcycle must have a safety helmet, securely fastened with a chin strap.

Circuit Court Judge Tom Okino ignored Salisbury's argument that he had a helmet securely fastened with a chin strap—to his knee.

No One Can Decide How High, Low Skirts Should Go

By GAY VAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI)—New York fashion designers seem to feel that the way to settle the great debate on course of the hemline is to ignore it. Maybe it'll go 'way.

Or, as in the case of Jacques Tiffreau, just dismiss it with the comment, "Skirt length doesn't mean a damn."

But nobody on Seventh Avenue, the heart of New York's ready-to-wear industry, is chattering about one skirt length. The message is, the choice is up to you, from above the knee—the predominant daytime length still—to anywhere in between, with the midis and the maxis showing throughout collections, particularly in coats and capes.

The Long and Short

The long and short of it is perhaps best summed up by designer Tiffreau's statement to buyers during the firm's (Tiffreau & Busch) shows last week. "It's not how long you make it, it's how you make it long," he proclaimed in a takeoff on a cigarette commercial, then went ahead to show above-knee dresses for day topped with maxis, or just below mid-calf coats. The dresses, sleeveless and slim cut, came in either wools, suedes or kids, their long coaks in assorted wools.

Tiffreau's firm is one of the more than 110 individual designers or manufacturers participating in the next several days of fall and winter fashion shows for visiting reporters. By the time the shows end June 28, the reporters will have seen a total picture of the new in all phases of ready-to-wear.

Boots, even embroidered to match short formals, showed in major fall collections.

Favorite Colors

Camel and gray is a favorite color pairing throughout fall collections. Donald Brooks uses it in suits, coat-dress combinations, or in coat dresses. And the all-gray comes on strongly with firms like Chester Weinberg's.

The leather industry must be humming a happy tune. Tmre's leather for trim, leather to make entire dresses for casual daytime wear. And people like Tiffreau pair skeds tops in brilliant colors with black or bronzed satin for floor length evening dresses.

The designer putting the label on the outside of the garment continues. Weinberg showed simple, basic suits or dresses in toned-down shades with wide, back-flowing scarves in brilliant hues. The print spelled out: "CHESTER" in bold letters.

Television In Review

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — By chance, I recently came across stories in my files that I had done on Alfred Hitchcock, Gary Cooper and Carl Sandburg—the subject of violent entertainment.

All these stories were done in the early 1960s, and in view of the current furor over violence in television and movies, provoked by the killing of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, it may be interesting to consider these views of almost a decade ago.

Hitchcock said in an interview that the public was the real villain that caused so much violence on television.

"After all," he said, "when parents buy their children cowboy costumes, they almost always include guns, don't they? Who allows children to carry a gun? Parents, that's who."

He added: "It's a deep-rooted matter in America. People are only more aware of violence now because it comes into homes via TV."

Notes Western Violence

"Westerns are the main source of violence," he said, adding with a bit of a put-on, "They make me squeamish."

Gary Cooper, in the last few months of his life, spent much of his wavering strength in attacks on the movie and video versions of his beloved "real West."

It became a passion with him—as if he wanted to get on record before passing on, this greatest of all Western heroes. He gave out a spate of interviews on the subject to newspapers and magazines.

"The public has been given a completely false concept of the real West by movies and television," he said. "To him, the West he knew as a child on a ranch in Helena, Mont., was an important, romantic period where killers were 'mere details' and the 'plain-working people were the real story.'"

He said: "I don't want those people or their period to be forgotten or lied about. The real West gave America what you could call our King Arthurian period."

Fears Father Image

Cooper wanted to make a historical western. He felt he was partly to blame for creating a "father image" sheriff, and he feared this kind of figure led to thoughts of dictatorship.

He said: "Kids around the world are growing up thinking one man will always ride into town to fight their battles while the rest of the community sits on its collective hands."

Sandburg, meanwhile, felt in 1960 that Hollywood had failed to capture the spirit of America. He said: "Most of the writers are cynical about this country. They're cynical about life. They have a way of inclining towards evil as predominant."

Practice Set For Wednesday

Three-time champion Jack Williams, Plainview, joins defending champion, Bill Holstead of Wichita Falls, in the large field for the 43rd annual West Texas Men's golf tournament scheduled at Pampa Country Club, June 16-23.

Williams won first place in the event in 1953, 1957 and 1963. Practice rounds are scheduled today and the tournament officially starts on Thursday.

Holstead, who won the tournament at Midland, heads the field for this year's 72-hole medal play event.

Head professional Warren Hart of the Pampa Country Club has announced that the deadline for entries is 12 noon today. The tournament ends Sunday on the par 71, 6,010-yard course.

Other than championship, all flights will play 36 holes of match play and the final 18 holes medal play.

Leading favorites for the title this year include Miles Childers, John Farquhar and Marvin Dick Jr., all of Amarillo.

Max Hickey, Pampa; Jerry Hricar, Shamrock and Jimmy Lynn, Spearman.

Other championship flight entries are Dick Back, McLean; Jerry Don Barrier, Fort Worth; David E. Brown, Fort Worth; Mike Castles, Wichita Falls; Arnold Chambers, Andrews.

Buster Carter, Pampa; William R. Coffey, Fort Worth; Champ Davis, Shamrock; Eddie Duenkel, Pampa; Gary Frankfield, Fort Worth; Bobby French, Odessa; Don Gaudin, Weatherford.

Bill Hart, Muleshoe; Tom Jenkins, Wichita Falls; Mike Jones, Odessa; Bob Loewald, Pampa; Hugo Loewenstern, Amarillo; Ken Newell, Fort Worth.

Palo Duro, Pampa Play

The Pampa American Legion baseball team will try to win its third straight home game when the Rebels host the Palo Duro Dons here tonight.

Game time is 8 p.m. at Optimist Park.

It will be the fourth district contest for the Rebels, who have now a 2-1 record and are tied for third place in the north zone standings.

Undeclared Berger is idle tonight. Tascosa meets Caprock. Canyon hosts Tulla. Amarillo hosts Spearman.

Al Gomez, considered the mainstay of the Pampa Rebel mound staff, has been selected by coach Lloyd Summers as his starting pitcher. Gomez has one of Pampa's two victories although he has not been used as a starter this season.

The practice game between Claremont and Pampa was canceled. It was scheduled for Tuesday night.

WOMEN COMPETE

NEW YORK (UPI) — Catherine Lacoste of France defends her title against a pair of four-time champions in the 16th United States Women's Golf Open at Fleetwood, Pa., July 4-7.

A record field of 112 players, including multi-titled Mickey Wright and Betsy Rawls, attempt to keep the championship in the United States this year as the pros compete for $25,000 in prize money.

JOYNER SIGNS

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI) — Former Indiana University star Butch Joyner has signed to play basketball with the Indiana Pacers.

The signing was announced Monday evening. Joyner was drafted by the Cincinnati Royals of the National Basketball Association, and Pacer Coach Mike Storen has said he was particularly pleased to have "won another battle against the NBA."

Phils Win 2 Contests; Allen Gets 2 Homers

By FRED DOWN
UPI Sports Writer

Richie Allen celebrated the birth of a son Tuesday morning and a few hours later may have celebrated the rebirth of his own career.

That, at least, is what the 2,184 fans at Philadelphia's Connie Mack Stadium must have thought Tuesday night when they gave a thunderous ovation to the fifth star who had been the target of hometown boos all season. Allen himself was so surprised that he tipped his cap in acknowledgment for the first time in his career.

All Allen had done was smash five hits, including a pair of homers, and reach base nine times in as many tries as the Phillies romped over the San Francisco Giants 1-2 and 3-1 and jumped from fifth to third place in the National League.

The spurge raised Allen's batting average from .280 to .301.

Pittsburgh Pirates edged the Los Angeles Dodgers 3-2 in 10 innings and the Cincinnati Reds defeated the Atlanta Braves 7-5 in other NL games.

In the American League, the Detroit Tigers beat the Boston Red Sox 2-1, the Minnesota Twins outslugged the Washington Senators 9-5, the Cleveland Indians topped the Chicago White Sox 4-1, the Baltimore Orioles nipped the Oakland Athletics 3-2 and California Angels defeated the New York Yankees 3-1.

Bribles Scores Win
Bobby Tolson, subbing for the injured Roger Maris, hit his first homer of the season for the Cardinals as Nelson Bribles pitched an eight-hitter for his eighth victory.

Jim Wynn homered in the seventh inning to give Denny Lemaster his sixth win for the Astros in the first game and Bob Watson drove in the winning run in the seventh inning of the second game with a sacrifice fly. Speed-baller Nolan Ryan struck out 12 but lost the first game for the Mets and Don Cardwell suffered his eighth loss against one win in the second game.

Matty Alou singled home Maury Willis with two on and one out in the 10th inning to give the Pirates their victory after Willie Stargell tied the score at 2-2 with a homer in the eighth. Willis' single, opening the 10th, stretched his hitting streak to 16 games.

Mack Jones' long fly bounced out of Tito Francona's glove into the left field stands for a two-run ninth inning homer that gave the Reds' Ted Abernathy his second win and tagged Claude Raymond of the Braves with the loss.

New Manager Guides Houston Over Mets

By VITO STELLINO
UPI Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UPI) — Loquacious Harry Walker is now in a spot that even he may not be able to talk his way out of this season.

The non-stop talker and baseball theorist Tuesday came back into the managerial ranks as the pilot of the Houston Astros.

Walker, who was fired as manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates last July 18 and signed four days later as Houston batting coach, was named to succeed Grady Hatton—a move that had been rumored ever since Walker became a coach.

Walker took over a club which had lost six straight, 14 out of 16 and was firmly entrenched in last place.

The Astros, who've always had the knack of playing well against the New York Mets, gave Walker a warm welcome by sweeping a doubleheader from the Mets, 3-2 and 9-5.

But the club is still 4 1/2 games out of ninth place and the prospect isn't too bright they'll get that high. The Astros have yet to finish in the basement since they joined the league in 1962.

Walker is now faced with the task of trying to pep up the Astro batting attack—a problem he couldn't solve as batting coach. The team is the worst hitting club in the league this season.

One guy Walker got through to

Tuesday night was Bob Watson, who came up to the plate with runners on first and third and one out and the score tied 5-5 in the seventh inning of the second game.

"I told him not to worry about pulling the ball for a hit. I told him not to go for a bad pitch and strike out but to get a good pitch and hit it straight good pitch and d hit it straight away. He did exactly what I asked him to."

McCathern Edges FWA In 8th

Big Randy Cain singled home Chuck Quarles with the winning run in the eighth inning to give McCathern a 7-8 victory over FWA in the American League Monday night.

McCathern thus took over first place in the American League standings and replaced FWA, the looser, in the first place position.

Righthanders Lowell Bridges and Chuck Quarles hurled for the winners. Quarles, who relieved Bridges in the third inning, was the winning hurler.

Cain's single rolled to the right field fence and was the deciding hit in the contest.

McCathern now has a league record of 9-2. FWA now is 8-3. John McGuire, manager of McCathern, described the play.

MCCORD RETIRES
DETROIT (UPI)—Darris McCord, a defensive end for the Detroit Lions for the past 3 years, Tuesday announced his retirement from professional football.

McCord, 35, said he was quitting to devote more time to his business ventures in Tennessee and Michigan.

of both teams as "very good play and a hard fought contest."

BELGRADE (UPI) — The United States Olympic basketball team suffered an embarrassing loss to Yugoslavia Tuesday, dropping the first game of its Yugoslavian tour, 87-79.

Mike Silliman, former West Point star, topped the U.S. scorers with 15 points while former junior college standout Spencer Haywood had 14.

Oil Tankers About As Large As Practical

By FRED LANKARD
United Press International
Some observers are predicting that the growth in size of oil tankers has just about reached its practical limit.

Figures recently reported by the Oil and Gas Journal state that of the 294 tankers on order at the first of the year, 115 of them fell in the 200,000-ton-or-larger class. Another estimate is that by 1972 the world tanker fleet will boast 150 vessels in the 200,000 to 300,000 dead weight ton (dwt) range.

The demand for the super tankers, and the questions concerning their development, mushroomed last year when the Arab-Israeli war shut down the Suez Canal, a prime petroleum transportation route.

With the canal still closed the emphasis has been on larger ships to carry more oil on the longer trip around South Africa's Cape of Good Hope.

Forecasters say 1968 will see an average 4.2 million barrels of oil per day moved around the Cape, a figure eight times greater than the volume in 1966 when the canal was in service.

While there are persistent forecasts of mammoth tankers eventually reaching 800,000 or even 1,000,000 ton proportions, many experts feel 250,000 to 30,000 (dwt) will be the stopping point.

In any event, the problems presented by such gigantic vessels will probably stall their actual production and operation for years to come.

Those problems include engineering, port facilities, related onshore investments, pollution, government restrictions and insurance rates.

The Journal quotes an oil company executive attending the recent American Petroleum Institute's tanker conference as pointing out that a large tanker can cost as much as the refinery it supplies.

Another executive at the meeting noted that overbuilding the big tankers could depress the charter market for smaller ships and added, "The economic advantages of, say, the 300,000, 400,000 or 500,000-tonner as against the 200,000 tonner is fairly marginal."

Other key problems, insurance rates and pollution, were brought into sharp focus last year when the 118,000-ton Torrey Canyon broke up and released thousands of tons of oil onto the English coastline.

Rates for the huge ships have not been established but as a spokesman for the American hull underwriters put it, "the spread of risk steadily diminishes; the concentration of risk steadily climbs."

On the other hand it is argued that the use of large ships, relative to the volume of oil handled, would reduce tanker traffic and cut the risk of a collision.

It was also argued that "one 200,000-tonner will do the work of four 50,000-tonners, but will certainly not incur four times the navigational risk."

THE DRAMATIC VISTA of the Sierra Nevada range is the backdrop for a golfing wonderland set on the banks of mile-and-a-half-high Lake Tahoe, straddling California and Nevada. The Edgewood Tahoe course is also carved out of some of the most expensive...

Bachelor Wages Campaign To Be Allowed To Make His Own Wine

By PHILIP H. BERG
ST. LOUIS, Mo., (UPI)—Millard S. Cohen is a 29-year-old bachelor who likes to make strawberry wine. According to the federal government, the combination is bad chemistry.

For nearly a year Cohen has sought permission to make five gallons of strawberry wine in his bachelor apartment in the West End of St. Louis. When the Treasury Department refused, Cohen asked for an explanation, and 31 letters passed between them.

Cohen's fascination with wine-making began with a correspondence course. The interest mushroomed until he purchased the necessary instruments to mix, brew and measure the alcoholic and sugar contents of the wine.

"Then, to make it perfectly legal," he said, "I sent in an application to the Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Division of the Treasury Department for authorization to make five gallons of strawberry wine."

The department replied that Cohen was "not qualified." The letter said, "The information discloses that you are not the head of a family and therefore you are not authorized to produce wine for family use." It is legal for the head of a family to make up to 200 gallons of wine annually tax free, provided the wine is not sold and is consumed only by family members.

Cohen wrote several congressmen about the problem and, upon learning that the law would be difficult to amend to include bachelors, changed his tactics. He applied for tax forms as a bonded winery.

Equipment
Asked to describe his "crushing and pressing equipment," Cohen wrote, "Fingers ten and hands two, at the end of the arms of the applicant."

Now, after 31 letters, Cohen
