Murder Suspect Is Arrested By Wheeler Sheriff

WHEELER (Sp) — Wheeler County Sheriff Bus Dorman apprehended a man wanted for murder in Oklahoma about 10 p.m. last night in Allison.

Sheriff Dorman apprehended Hershel Stanford, 44, of Raymond, Okla., and held him until 1:30 a.m. today, when he was taken back to Cheyenne, Okla.

Stanford was wanted for questioning in the death of Sheldon Carry, 19. According to information he received, Sheriff Dorman said Stanford apparently got in a fight with Carry near a bar about 8:45 p.m. last night. Carry was found dead shortly after.

Sheriff Dorman had received notice about the car the suspect was driving. He noticed it in Allison and apprehended Stanford.

Stanford received a hearing last night in Wheeler, with Sheriff Dorman, Justice of the Peace Dick Guynes and District Judge Grainger McIlhenny present.

Sen. McCarthy Sees Possible First Ballot Win By Hubert

By United Press International
Sen. Eugene McCarthy says Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey can win the Democratic presidential nomination on the first ballot unless Gov. Lester Maddox of Georgia enters the race and erodes Humphrey support in the South.

However, McCarthy backers in Washington said Tuesday the Minnesota senator would get as many as 800 first ballot votes and his campaign manager, Blair Clark, said "we are convinced Vice President Humphrey is far short of anything like a majority (1,312) on the first ballot."

McCarthy, speaking in St. Louis, termed that estimate "realistic" and said he still hoped to defeat Humphrey for the nomination. But he indicated that his strength plus that of Sen. George McGovern of South Dakota would not be enough to stop Humphrey without the added presence of Maddox, leading a "third force" at the convention.

"It's generally settled on the first ballot if there are only two candidates," said the Minnesota

Democrat. "If Maddox comes on and picks up some of the Southern votes that are now committed to Humphrey, it would complicate it."

McGovern, campaigning Tuesday in New York City, said his candidacy would increase the "peace delegation" at the convention starting Aug. 28. Like McCarthy, he is a dove on the Vietnam War. McGovern met with John Burns, New York state Democratic chairman, who said afterward that it was "awfully hard to tell" if McGovern would receive support from any members of the New York delegation.

In other political developments:

Humphrey — The vice president, unaware reporters were present told a group of 23 outstanding college students Tuesday that the nation's young people are engaging in "escapism" in their concentration on the Vietnam War. He also accused Richard M. Nixon of "mighty good demagoguery" in his speech accepting the GOP presidential nomination.

Nixon — The Republican presidential nominee talked by telephone from San Diego, Calif., with New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller and New York City Mayor John Lindsay. A Nixon aide said both men agreed to support the GOP ticket "enthusiastically" although he declined to say whether that meant they would campaign actively.

'Regularly Scheduled Drills' Set By Guard During Democrat Convention

By SHERRY CONOHAN
CHICAGO (UPI)—About 800 National Guardsmen will be on "regularly scheduled drills" each night of the Democratic National Convention.

Security arrangements for the convention, which opens here in 12 days, provide for these troops to stop drilling near the International Amphitheater, and move into the streets if there are severe racial or antiwar disorders.

Opponents to the Vietnam War predict 30,000 to 40,000 protesters may come to Chicago during the Democratic convention and various groups of hippies, yuppies, and black militants could swell the assembly of dissidents to 100,000, according to some estimate.

In 1956, the last time the Democrats held their nominating convention here, security arrangements were far less stringent than those planned this year.

"The social conditions in the United States are different today than they were in 1956," said Capt. John Kelly, coordinator of security for the Chicago Police Department. Kelly and a federal agent, and guard contingent of local police officers have met daily for the past week to complete the

US Working To Get Food To The Starving In Biafra

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The United States is taking high level diplomatic soundings at Geneva in the hope that a workable formula can be devised to speed large amounts of food to starving Biafrans.

State Department officials disclosed today that Dr. August Lindt of the International Committee of the Red Cross is playing a key role in the discussions.

Lindt, Switzerland's ambassador to Moscow, is serving as Red Cross relief coordinator and has just returned from a mission to Biafra, Nigeria and Addis Ababa, where representatives of secessionist Biafra are holding peace talks with mother country Nigeria.

The United States Monday night dispatched a special representative to Geneva. Ambassador C. Robert Moore, to confer with Lindt on ways to

At The Paris Peace Talks U.S. Tells North Vietnam To 'Get Down To Business'

Tropical Storm Slows Vietnam Bombing Raids

By JACK WALSH
SAIGON (UPI)—Tropical storm Rose, packing 70-mile-per-hour winds, blunted America's bombing of North Vietnam Tuesday, spokesmen said today.

Thirty raids were flown, the lowest number excluding holiday cessations since May 27, 1966.

Military spokesmen here said the storm churned the Gulf of Tonkin so badly that the three U.S. Navy aircraft carriers on "Yankee Station" were unable to launch or recover aircraft.

American pilots have averaged more than 100 missions daily over North Vietnam since March 31 when President Johnson placed all but the southern panhandle off limits to encourage peace talks.

The storm, centered on the panhandle coast, curtailed air strikes again today, spokesmen said. But no reports of the number of strikes flown will be available until Thursday.

In South Vietnam, meantime, American troops battled another Communist flareup Tuesday in the heaviest fighting in four months around Saigon. Allied troops killed 181 Communists in two days of Mekong Delta battling, headquarters said.

Tropical storm Rose had no effect on B52 raids against Viet Cong infiltration routes in South Vietnam Tuesday and today.

Two days of rice paddy fighting on Saigon's southern fringe left at least 17 Americans dead Tuesday and indicated once again the Communists were lingering around the capital poised to strike.

Fresh intelligence reports from Communist prisoners said a nationwide Communist offensive may begin between Aug. 20 and 25, the days preceding the Democratic National Convention.

The biggest single battle raged anew 20 miles southwest of Saigon Tuesday. Fighting by the light of parachute flares, U.S. 9th Division soldiers said they had killed 104 Viet Cong out of a 400-man battalion since Monday.

The latest five-hour fight roared with dive-bombing American warplanes, U.S. artillery and helicopter gunships. At least 17 Americans are dead and 27 wounded in the fighting, spokesmen said.

In the other two battles Monday, American soldiers killed 33 Viet Cong 16 miles south of Saigon without a loss and South Vietnamese troops killed 44 Communists while taking light casualties themselves, war-communications said.

Gen. Creighton W. Abrams' command sent three waves of B52 bombers against Communist infiltration routes from Cambodia north of Saigon Tuesday and today, spokesmen said.

The bombers dropped nearly 900,000 pounds of explosives on Communist base camps and troops just north of where U.S. and South Vietnamese troops killed 10 Viet Cong 30 miles northwest of Saigon.

In addition, the soldiers captured 12 Communist suspects and seized a cache containing 535 mortar and rocket rounds and about 5,000 automatic rifle bullets, the announcement said.

Harriman Asks More Frequent Meetings

BULLETIN
PARIS (UPI)—U.S. and North Vietnamese negotiators met for four hours today but failed to make any progress in breaking the three-month long deadlock in the Vietnam War talks. W. Averell Harriman, chief U.S. negotiator, said he didn't see "any straws in the wind."

By LOREN JENKINS
PARIS (UPI)—The United States today called on North Vietnam to "get down to serious business" and suggested more frequent meetings in the Paris talks on the Vietnam War.

W. Averell Harriman, chief U.S. negotiator, made the appeal and suggestion at the 17th session of the deadlocked talks.

"For our part we are willing to meet here as frequently as needed to bring peace," Harriman told the North Vietnamese delegation. Currently, the two sides hold one session a week.

He called on the Hanoi regime "to talk in realistic terms, put aside slogans and propaganda," and "get down to serious business."

Before going in for the session, Harriman cited the return of a top Hanoi diplomat and told newsmen it might be "useful." Other diplomats talked cautiously of progress soon.

But there was no indication of a break in the deadlock which has bogged down the talks since they opened in May.

Most of Harriman's statement today was a review of the U.S. position advanced during the previous sessions.

His call for more frequent meetings, however, was the first since a June agreement to hold one weekly meeting—on Wednesday.

Observers interpreted the U.S. call for more sessions as another indication the talks might be entering a more productive phase.

According to diplomatic sources and observers, optimism now centers on the United States moving closer to a (See HARRIMAN, Page 3)

DR. ROBERT V. WALKER

'Cancer Problem' To Be Discussed Before Lions Club

The president of the Texas Division of the American Cancer Society, Dr. Robert V. Walker, of Dallas, is scheduled to address the Pampa Lions Club tomorrow at 12 noon at the First Methodist Church.

His topic will be "The Cancer Problem."

Cancer is the No. 2 killer in the United States. More than 300,000 people die of the disease each year, accounting for about one out of every six deaths in this country.

Dr. Walker attended Texas A&M University and he received the doctor of dental surgery degree from Baylor University in 1947. After practicing general dentistry in Waco for four years, he served in the Army. He later pursued graduate training at the University of Pennsylvania and residency training at Parkland Hospital in Dallas.

The speaker's field of practice is oral surgery. He presently serves as chairman of the Division of Oral Surgery at both Southwestern Medical School and at Parkland Hospital.

Dr. Walker is a Diplomate and a member of the board of directors of the American Board of Oral Surgery. He is also an associate editor of the Journal of Oral Surgery and the author of numerous scientific articles.

Dr. Joe R. Donaldson is in charge of tomorrow's program.

Pilot Delivers Supplies To The Biafrans

MALMO, Sweden (UPI)—A veteran Swedish pilot has broken an air blockade and flown 11 tons of relief supplies through anti-aircraft fire to surrounded Nigerian rebels, an airline spokesman said today.

The spokesman said Capt. Carl Gustav von Rosen made the flight Monday in the first such relief mission since American pilots gave up last week because of the anti-aircraft fire.

He carried food and medicine to residents of Nigeria's breakaway eastern region, an area they call Biafra.

Von Rosen piloted a Red Cross ambulance plane during the Italian-Ethiopian war 30 years ago and was the first Swedish pilot in U.N. forces in the Congo.

A spokesman for Transair said Von Rosen flew a DC7B, a four-engine American-made propeller transport, from the Portuguese island of Sao Tome to the rebels and back out.

He had been chartered just to fly the supplies from Europe to Sao Tome for the West German group named Caritas. Seeing supplies stranded on the island, he volunteered for the final lap, the spokesman said.

"He collected all information available about anti-aircraft installations and radar stations and also was told Nigeria has Russian-built MIG planes piloted by Egyptians," the spokesman said.

In Prague Commie 'Crack Down'

By JAMES O. JACKSON
PRAGUE (UPI)—Communist authorities today cracked down on Prague's new "free speech corner," ordering the soapbox orators to move from a spot near to a central children's store to a remote site near secret police headquarters.

The City Council ordered the move. The Communist party ruling presidium backed up the council and criticized the soapbox orators for demanding abolition of the Peoples' Militia.

The presidium issued a communique condemning the "irresponsible way" in which persons discussed politics at the corner. For the past three weeks 100 to 1,000 persons gathered nightly at the corner to discuss politics and sign petitions.

It was the first presidium action following talks between Czechoslovakian party leaders and East German party leader Walter Ulbricht. In the talks at Karlovy Vary, Ulbricht gave reluctant public approval to the democratic reforms engineered by Czechoslovak Communist leaders the past six months.

The presidium communique said some of the persons at the corner have been "disturbing the peace and order" and "molesting citizens under the pretext of joining in their discussion."

Warnings of Provocations
It said "attempts at political provocations" might spring from the situation "created by the behavior of these irresponsible groups."

The council decree moved the site from the park next to the children's store, a spot called Detsky Dum, to another park called Letna Plain. The new site is the spot where a gigantic statue of Soviet tyrant Josef Stalin once stood and is in the shadow of the once-feared Interior Ministry Building where the secret police are based.

Widespread Teacher Strikes Are Hinted

By GENE BERNHARDT
WASHINGTON (UPI)—School bells may go unheeded by thousands of teachers and pupils across the nation next month.

According to the two giant teachers unions, the National Education Association and the American Federation of Teachers, present conditions portended as many as 400 elementary and high school teachers strikes this school year, more than three times the record 126 walkouts of last year.

Spokesmen for the two groups said there is "a strong possibility" of strikes at the opening of school next month in St. Louis, Philadelphia, East St. Louis, Ill., New Orleans and Wilmington, Del.

In addition, the NEA said 35 suburban area schools in Michigan, mainly near Detroit, face the same strike threat along with isolated rural districts in Colorado, Oklahoma, Idaho, New Hampshire and South Dakota.

May Reach 400
"We anticipate there will be about 50 strikes when school starts with another 300 to 350 spread throughout the rest of the school year," the NEA spokesman said.

Neither the AFT or NEA could estimate the number of teachers and students affected except to say it would run into the tens of thousands.

Sixteen states have, since 1959, written laws giving teachers some form of collective bargaining.

The NEA, with its 1.2 million members, said nearly 80 per cent, or 643,268 teachers, have won bargaining recognition contracts from local school boards and the AFT, with 164,000 members, said 100,000 of its members are under a contract arrangement.

The AFT, which is affiliated with the AFL-CIO, has a policy of "no contract, no work" which touched off scores of last year's strikes. The NEA is not affiliated with other labor groups.

NEA Gets Tough
As restless young teachers started signing up in growing numbers with the more aggressive AFT, the NEA started taking a tough stand, calling its members out on strike in record numbers last year.

The NEA formerly relied on sanctions which, merely urged teachers not to work in certain school districts or even an entire state.

The most publicized factor in a teacher strike is the salary issue, but both the NEA and (See WIDESPREAD, Page 3)

Television In Review

By ROBERT MUSEL
NEW YORK (UPI) — The kindly, bespectacled gentleman seated on the aisle watched the stewardess sashay back and forth, as male passengers are went to do, and then said: "How would you like to be a model?"

The stewardess had heard it all before. Withering him with a glance that took in his graying hair, she said: "Don't you think you ought to get a new line?"
Paul Levitan might have explained but why entertain the other traveler further? He went back to his newspaper and the stewardess will learn later that she turned down a chance to compete in the "Model of the Year Pageant" on CBS-TV Sept. 14.
Levitan, director of special events for CBS and producer of the pageant, lends an eye himself now and then to his professional scouts who this year covered 55 cities and 10,000 miles in search of girls with what they call "The Look"—the talent to dramatize a fashion in a single photograph.

A Rare Quality
It's a rare quality and highly perishable. Levitan says it rarely lasts beyond the age of 23. Some remain in public notice after that but more as personalities than as competitive models.
The Model of the Year

Pageant was televised for the first time last year, caught on immediately and this year goes out as a 90-minute program for 220 stations. Levitan, who was the original TV producer of such shows as "Miss America," "Miss Universe" and the "Miss Teenage America Coronation" presumably knows whereof he speaks when he says it is here to stay.
"Unlike other pageants these girls are specifically chosen because they photograph well," he explained, "and consequently are the most photogenic batch on TV. This year we've got new lenses that will catch even the subtlest skin tones. The girls are tall as well as beautiful and intelligent—they have to take a written examination, you know—and the public reacted to three qualities last as it did to the styles they wore from bikinis to ball gowns.

First Fashion Preview
"We commissioned fashions from leading American designers so the show is in effect, the first nationwide preview of their fall and advance resort wear."
Levitan looks for girls from 5 feet 6 and 110 pounds to five feet ten and 125 pounds and from 18 to 23 years old. They can be models who have had not more than one national magazine exposure. But the right height, appearance and flair are the important qualities. The famous British model, he not previous experience. Last year there were 15 finalists and so many attractive girls had to be eliminated that this year there will be 30 finalists, the pick of 15,000 to 20,000 girls screened during the year.

The model seekers will go anywhere anytime to look at a likely candidate. One tracked down a report of a lovely girl dining at the elegant Forum Restaurant who was said to look a bit like Jean Shrimpton, the famous British model. He found that it was Miss Shrimpton.

When he isn't thinking about models Levitan wonders about his Miss Teenage America Coronation program. The contestants are 13 to 17 years old. But teenagers these days are so mature Levitan has to take into consideration the possibility that one of these days a teen-age winner will actually look older than Miss Universe or, for that matter, the Model of the Year!

BERLIN (UPI)—East Berlin police have shot down 47 persons trying to escape over the Berlin Wall in the past year, the East German government said today. New statistics issued on the eve of the seventh anniversary of the erection of the wall said 2,507 other persons were arrested trying to escape.

Tornadoes Spotted As Storms Continue

Two tornadoes were spotted during severe thunderstorms in the Texas Panhandle area yesterday evening, but no damage was reported.

Rainfall varied widely throughout the area as it has for the past five days. Parts of Pampa recorded no moisture yesterday, but other portions, particularly in the north, reported up to .15-inch.

A tornado was sighted about 6 p.m. about 20 miles northwest of Miami. Another was reported north of Skellytown about 6:30 p.m. Neither caused any damage.

The U.S. Weather Bureau issued a tornado alert for Carson, Roberts, Hemphill, Hutchinson and Gray counties at 6:30 p.m. yesterday. The alert was in effect for only an hour.

Rainfall amounts included Fritch, 50 inch; Skellytown, 25; Wellington, an inch; Wheeler, .25; Borger .35 and Darrouze, 1.40.

DBA Launches Annual Drive To Add Members

The Downtown Business Association of Pampa, Inc., kicked off its annual membership drive at 3 p.m. yesterday with a meeting at Citizens' Bank and Trust Co.

Association members will call on downtown businesses during the next week to encourage them to join the association, according to Ray Duncan, president.

Directors are serving as team captains. Jim Morris is in charge of the overall drive.

The drive is already off to a good start," Duncan said. "We usually have 110 members. Already, 70 of them have renewed their membership."

Teams will check-in three times in the next week to report their progress. The check-in dates are Aug. 15, Aug. 19 and Aug. 21, all at 10:30 a.m. at Citizens' Bank and Trust Co., Duncan said.

Members will pay dues, which vary from one business to another, he added.

The association carries out a year-round program of coordinated advertising and promotions for downtown merchants. The members aim to improve parking and parking lots for downtown shopping and initiated the two-hour free parking currently in effect. Other projects include redevelopment and beautification of the downtown area.

Other association officers are Bill Monroe, secretary-treasurer; Norman Fritzier, chairman of the retail division; and Kirk Duncan, chairman of the property owners division.

DBA Launches Annual Drive To Add Members

The Downtown Business Association of Pampa, Inc., kicked off its annual membership drive at 3 p.m. yesterday with a meeting at Citizens' Bank and Trust Co.

Association members will call on downtown businesses during the next week to encourage them to join the association, according to Ray Duncan, president.

Directors are serving as team captains. Jim Morris is in charge of the overall drive.

The drive is already off to a good start," Duncan said. "We usually have 110 members. Already, 70 of them have renewed their membership."

Teams will check-in three times in the next week to report their progress. The check-in dates are Aug. 15, Aug. 19 and Aug. 21, all at 10:30 a.m. at Citizens' Bank and Trust Co., Duncan said.

Members will pay dues, which vary from one business to another, he added.

Four Commemorative Stamps Due in 1969

Postmaster General W. Marvin Watson today kicked off the 1969 commemorative postage stamp program by announcing four stamps for issuance next year, according to Pampa Postmaster R. W. McPhillips.

These stamps will celebrate: the 150th anniversary of Alabama statehood, California's 200th anniversary of settlement, one hundred years of intercollegiate football, and the 11th International Botanical Congress.

It has been policy to issue about fifteen commemorative stamps a year, McPhillips stated.

complete halt to bombing North Vietnam and on North Vietnam cutting down is ground war in South Vietnam.

Speculation Grows

The presence in Paris of two men trigger more talk of progress soon. Le Duc Tho, seventh ranking member of the North Vietnamese Communist party Politburo, returned Tuesday after a seven-week absence. Diplomats said he may have brought fresh orders from Hanoi.

Also in Paris was U.S. Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield, D-Mont. He came Saturday from a visit to Moscow and Prague and was flying to Bucharest today.

In Paris, Mansfield met Harriman and French Premier Maurice Couve de Murville, the non-participating host to the Vietnam talks. Reports persisted Mansfield may have come to Paris in search of a Washington-Hanoi formula for ending bombing of North Vietnam in exchange for a halt to Red offensives in the south.

Chance of Halt

One American source here said there is a "50-50 chance that President Johnson will halt the bombing by the end of the month."

Johnson March 31 limited U.S. bombing of North Vietnam to the Communist nation's southern panhandle military supply lines.

In Washington, high American officials today said there is no truth in unconfirmed reports the President is now preparing to end the bombing completely. These officials said Johnson as yet has no assurance from Hanoi that such a halt would not put in further danger allied forces in South Vietnam.

Few diplomatic observers here said they are optimistic enough to believe that a bombing half-ground war de-escalation agreement could come by month's end.

But they said the general feeling is one of progress in the offing.

Man Is Sentenced

Leonard Richard Peters, 23, of Bomarton, Texas, charged with driving while intoxicated after being arrested Monday night, appeared yesterday for sentencing before County Judge S. R. Lenning Jr. after pleading guilty. He was fined $50 and costs, sentenced to three days in jail, and given a six months probation.

King has petitioned the court for $75,000 damages, alleging that he suffered injuries and loss of earning power when a vehicle driven by a Skelly Fuel Company employe collided with his own. The suit charges that the Skelly employe was negligent and driving on the wrong side of the road at the time of the accident.

Judge Grainger McIlhany is presiding over the trials.

Fire Damages House

A 4:55 a.m. blaze was reported today by the fire department. The fire at 318 E. Albert St. caused heavy damage to the interior of the house. Cause of the fire is unknown, fire officials said.

Held For Assault

Bond was set at $500 yesterday by Justice of the Peace E. L. Anderson against Anderson Allen Ratliff of Pampa, charged with aggravated assault.

$7,000 Personal Injury Verdict Awarded By Jury

An 11-man, one-woman petty jury awarded Donald J. and Marion George $7,000 yesterday in a personal injury suit heard here in 31st Judicial District Court.

The jury reached the decision at 7:25 p.m. yesterday after deliberating on the special charges issued by the court two hours earlier.

The civil suit was filed by the Georges against Rena F. and F. B. Van Shoubrouek. All of the parties are from Gray County.

The Georges were seeking $19,000 actual damages and $5,000 exemplary damages for injuries allegedly sustained in a car accident near here on Oct. 30, 1967. The suit alleged that Mrs. George was injured when her car collided with one driven by Mrs. Van Shoubrouek.

The court convened again today to hear another civil suit, George King vs. J. S. Skelly, doing business as Skelly Fuel Co. Both parties are from Gray County.

King has petitioned the court for $75,000 damages, alleging that he suffered injuries and loss of earning power when a vehicle driven by a Skelly Fuel Company employe collided with his own. The suit charges that the Skelly employe was negligent and driving on the wrong side of the road at the time of the accident.

Judge Grainger McIlhany is presiding over the trials.

Mrs. Inez Carter Is Removed To Intensive Care Unit

Mrs. Inez Carter, 1716 Charles, injured yesterday morning in a car accident, was listed in fair condition shortly before noon today at St. Anthony's Hospital in Amarillo.

She was moved to the intensive care unit late yesterday afternoon for closer observation, a hospital spokesman said. The extent of her injuries were not known, but she reportedly had a possible skull fracture.

Mrs. Frank Carter, north of Pampa, also injured in the accident, was listed in satisfactory condition today at Worley Hospital in Pampa.

The accident occurred about 8:30 a.m. five miles southeast of Pampa, when the car driven by Mrs. Frank Carter went out of control on a rain-slick caliche road and landed in a ravine.

AFT said that is only one reason and in some cases not the major reason for a strike. "Teachers want a voice in the operation of the school system where they believe youngsters are not getting the level of education they deserve," said an NEA spokesman.

"The whole militant tone of society today, with the civil rights and peace protests, is reflected in teaching," he said. "They're protesting against outdated, even condemned buildings and against operating big city schools under a system that was devised years ago to serve rural needs."

The AFT identified two basic causes for strikes.

"Teachers want the right to bargain collectively and they want a work contract just as any other American worker represented by a union has," a spokesman said.

Steve Grady Is Nominated As 'Texan of Month'

Steve Grady, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Grady Jr., 2421 Duncan, has been nominated as Young Texan of the Month by the Pampa Optimist Club. Nominations are made monthly to honor deserving young men.

Grady, a 1968 graduate of Pampa High School, maintained an "A" average in high school and was elected to the National Honor Society.

In high school, Grady was a member of Key Club for three years and served as president for his senior year. He was Senior Class favorite and a runner-up for boy Pin-Up. He was president of his homeroom during his sophomore and junior years and vice-president his senior year.

At Robert E. Lee Junior High School, Grady was president of his homeroom for two years and served as vice-mayor his freshman year.

He played Pee Wee basketball his fifth and sixth grade years. He also played on a youth league baseball "farm team" for one year. For three years Grady played on youth league teams and was selected for the All-Stars at age 12. He played one year of "Babe Ruth" league baseball.

At Lee Junior High, he made the golf team for two years. He lettered in golf for three

Police Blotter

One burglary and several disturbances were reported to police yesterday and early today.

The burglary occurred at Parker's Blossom Shop, 220 N. Ward, where an undetermined amount of money was taken. James Franks, 36, of 1105 Neel Rd., was arrested by police early today on a charge of disturbing the peace. The man told police that he was "just mad" and "meant no harm."

A disturbance was also reported in the 100 block of S. Starkweather but a truce had been reached by the time police arrived.

Malicious mischief was reported by Yellow Cab Company owner James Lewis, who told police that two tires on one of his vehicles had been slashed.

Grady is a member of First Baptist Church, where he is an honorary member of the Dad's Every Man's Bible Class. In past summers he has worked at the Pampa Country Club. This summer he is employed with Copan Corporation. Grady plans to study tax law at Baylor University.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a mother who will not let her 16-year-old daughter do volunteer work in a local hospital, because she figures if the girls wants to work for nothing, there is plenty of work for her to do around the house?

Abby, that mother is mine, and I don't think she has the right to tell me whether or not I can work for nothing.

I want to do something worthwhile with my time, and I know I would like hospital work. Besides, hospitals NEED volunteer help. It's not like I don't do anything around the house, either. I do, but I think I should be able to do what I want to do in my spare time, don't you? Please put your answer in the paper so my mother can see it.

WANTS TO WORK
DEAR WANTS: I agree that young people who want to do volunteer work should not be discouraged. But I think your problem is that you and your mother need a clearer understanding as to what your home duties are and how much "spare" time you have. Once that is cleared up, I think you should be allowed to do as much volunteer work as you wish.

DEAR ABBY: Please print this for the benefit of the 16-year-old girl who inquired about the advisability of opening a joint bank account with her "fiance."

A few years ago I was planning marriage with a "very sweet girl." To insure our future financial security, we opened a joint savings account, to which we both made regular deposits from our respective paychecks.

I was called into service, and during my absence my "sweet girl" drew all the money out of our account in order to marry another guy.

When a person is in love, he can't believe it could happen to HIM, but since it happened to ME, I hope you will advise all young lovers to save the "joint" business until they are joined together legally in marriage.

DEAR ABBY: I am only 13, but I would like to express my feelings in regard to the widow who was mad because she got a bill for her husband's operation after he had died on the operating table.

My father is a surgeon and sometimes he stands under those hot lights and sweats for anywhere to 3 to 12 hours at a time, and if she doesn't think that's hard work she is out of her ever loving mind. There have been days when my father had an emergency after another and he didn't get more than 3 hours sleep in 2 days. I am not even mentioning the strain on him when he knows he has a person's life in his hands.

My advice to that woman is to pay the bill and shut up her big mouth. I am sure the doctor did everything he could to save her husband, and anyway, maybe it was the Lord's will that he died.

Abby, I hope you won't think I am unrespectful in the language I used in this letter, but I am pretty heated up over this. No one realizes how hard most doctors work.

A DOCTOR'S DAUGHTER

LACE VIES WITH CHIFFON
For party-type dresses this year, lace vies with chiffon. Like all current fashions, lace has a young naive look. Either it is slim, short and flounced, or it spreads out from the figure like the shade of a boudoir lamp and is just as fancy. Black is always the smartest but don't neglect pastels. If you're the more daring, drop the lace dress over a body stocking.

PECAN MILDEW
Due to the continuing rains and humid weather, mildew is causing concern among Texas pecan growers. Jerral Johnson, Extension plant pathologist, says the disease is easily recognized by the white, powdery growth which partially or completely cover the developing nuts. Local county agents, he adds, can supply information on its control.

Family Campers for 'Horses Make 'Wild West' Days Fade into Sunset

By JIM CROSSLEY
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
Things will be more luxurious than ever on the highways and in the forests this summer.

This is an inescapable conclusion after a safari through several bedazzling acres of recreational vehicles at the Fifth National Recreational Vehicle Exposition in Cleveland, Ohio.

About 5,000 dealers in this equipment from all over the United States and Canada make it to this show. Manufacturers lay out in fantastic rows what their designers have dreamed up in the past 12 months to tame the discomforts of the wilderness.

Got a couple of horses you'd like to take along on vacation? There is a trailer with compact living quarters up front and a two-stall compartment in the rear.

Like to sit on an evening watching the sunset? A tall tailgate lets down in the rear of another model to reveal a glass patio door arrangement across the entire width. The tailgate has stubby legs and becomes a porch. You slide open the doors and lap up the view.

Those were only two of the tasty tidbits.

There were more than 700 vehicles on this fantastic campsite. In addition, the wares of 90 makes of accessories were on display—everything from miniature furnaces and air conditioners to power generators and tiny scooters to give mobility while in camp.

The recreational vehicle field is maturing, as it should. In 1966 it was over the $500 million mark. A million and a half families were using the products. In 1970, the industry is geared up to make 663,000 units.

From the multitude of odd designs of the past have come these four general styles of mobile camping equipment:

CAMPING TRAILERS—Fold-down, luxury tents of all sizes, on wheels. Compact while being pulled. All the built-in necessities and surprisingly roomy when the roof is raised and plastic or canvas sides are in place.

TRUCK CAMPERS—These are jacked up and placed on truck beds. Of all sizes and conditions of luxury. Everything built in as compactly as in boat cabins.

TRAVEL TRAILERS—They are little cottages which are pulled behind the car or tow vehicle. Bedrooms and bathrooms are standard. They're small-sized versions of the mobile home, something else again, which are more home than mobile and not included in this show. Anything over 35 by 8 feet is a mobile home.

MOTOR HOMES—This is the ultimate, a true land yacht. Self-powered on a truck or bus chassis and operated from a skipper's "bridge" up front. Living room, dining area, galley, bathroom and sleeping quarters arrayed behind.

There is one other fast-growing type of vehicle, called variously a camp wagon, a family wagon or camp van. This is a large station wagon or small van with side-opening doors that reveal a natty arrangement of cooking-eating-sleeping facilities to provide additional sleeping bunks. Smaller ones can be used weekdays as a family station wagon, then rearranged for weekend recreational ramblings.

These are the basic designs and each manufacturer takes it from there, adding fold-out spaces, beautifying with luxury drapes, upholstery and rugs, compounding comforts.

This year, television aerials in domes budded from many of the roofs. Heralding another trend, the cooking equipment of one trailer was removable to give the owner the alternative of an outdoor barbecue. Cooking outside? That may be going a step too far.

Astrological Forecast

By CARROLL RICHTER

(FOR THURSDAY, AUG. 15)
GENERAL TENDENCIES: You are wise to take no chances with the material aspects of your life now and try to save and economize instead of spending lavishly for what you really do not need. A deceptive condition can put you on the wrong track which could take you some time to get back to normal and build a new credit.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Making improvements to any real estate you may possess is wise just now. Think up new ideas for adding to present income as well. Have your paid-up insurance, taxes, etc. Be more prompt orderly.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Do you think you can get results you want from others by being forceful? My charm and kindness will do the trick much better. You can solve those problems very nicely now, so get busy instead of worrying about them.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Use your intuition and you get those practical affairs out of the way ideally and in a very short time. Refraining about assisting one in real trouble could be something you would regret later. Do it.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 22) You must go after your most intimate wishes yourself now instead of looking to help to get them from you. Avoid the social tonight. Such affairs are apt to be very disappointing, anyway.

LEO (July 23 to Aug. 23) Avoid doing anything that would endanger your reputation at this time or you would certainly regret it later on. Show consideration for others and you gain prestige. Why live unappetizingly? Cheer others and you do this for yourself.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23) You had better wait until another time before you pursue those new ideas you have or you could meet with much disappointment. Some letter you receive from a partner could be disturbing. Think positively, constructively.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23) Making certain to carry through with whatever kind of promise you have made to another is imperative, otherwise you get it in the neck later. Don't concern your partner either or you could get the kind of treatment you don't like. Be fair.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 23) Although you and partners have debatable points to go over, you had better do it amicably and avoid contentious remarks. Act in a circumspect way with everyone. Do not leave yourself wide open for harmful criticism.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov 24 to Dec. 23) You must realize by now that any type of work is subject to error and annoyance here and there, so be patient. Be poised no matter what. Using rough manners with co-workers only makes for trouble.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 24 to Jan. 20) Be more willing to be of service to one who has proven to be a good friend. Instead of some overly glamorous person who is ineffectual. Don't neglect the lighter side of your life. However, follow the proven there, too.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Stop working all those little angles with others and be adult with them. Do your work in minute and careful manner. Why are you procrastinating where duty to kin

Altrusa Members Select Delegates For Fall Meeting

The Altrusa Club of Pampa met for its regular noon meeting in the Starlight Room of the Coronado Inn Monday and elected delegates to the district nine fall conference.

Mrs. M. Q. Wilson, president, presided and lead the club in the Altrusa Blessing and pledge of allegiance to the flag.

Delegates elected to attend the District Nine, Altrusa International Inc., Fall Conference in October were Mrs. M.Q. Wilson and Mrs. C. C. Fitzgerald. Mrs. G. H. Anderson and Mrs. Elma Vanderberg were named as alternates.

Mrs. M. S. McDaniel sang a solo "How Beautiful Upon the Mountains," accompanied by the piano by Mrs. Fidelia Yoder.

Miss Wanda Huff, editor of the Women's Page of The Pampa Daily News, was initiated as a new member by Mrs. G. H. Anderson, Altrusa information chairman and her committee members, Mrs. George B. Cree Jr., Mrs. Clay Coston, M. S. Prince, Mrs. Russell Kennedy and Mrs. Lorene O. Locke.

Mrs. Floyd Yeager announced she is moving to Tucson, Ariz. with her husband, where they would be living temporarily.

Thirty-five members were present and one visitor, Mrs. Mary Kate Savage of Dallas, who is visiting in the home of her sister, Mrs. Lillian Snow.

Airplane Passengers May Find Rides In The Future 'As Smooth As Silk'

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (UPI) — Airplane passengers of the future may not have to fasten their seat belts in air turbulence, scientists at Texas A&M University said today.

The researchers, with a three-year $600,000 Defense Department grant, are studying the physical changes aircraft undergo during turbulence, in an effort to develop a system for airplanes similar to shock absorbers for automobiles.

"Our one objective," said Dr. Richard E. Thomas, aerospace engineering professor who heads the project, "is the evolution of a shock absorber or gust alleviation system to detect when an airplane is going to fly through gusts."

Passengers Won't Know
"We will be able to change the aerodynamic characteristics to avoid the gusts," Thomas said. "The airplane will be able to go through a storm and the passengers will not know they are there."

Researchers must understand and interpret what happens to an airplane's wings when it flies through turbulence before a gust alleviation system can be developed, Thomas said.

Clear-air turbulence, blamed for several crashes, puts great stress on an aircraft, he said, and cause "metal fatigue," a term used to describe the minute cracks in a craft's structure.

Sturgeon Urges Adults To Lead Way For Youth

Ben Sturgeon, Pampa attorney, told the Pampa Optimist Club members that the youth should be influenced by the adults to take a lead in demanding a return to law and order and an enforcement of the laws of the country.

Speaking before the regular meeting of the Optimist Club at the Black Gold Restaurant, Sturgeon complimented the Optimist Club for its fine youth programs as an outstanding example of citizens working for the betterment of society.

"Across the country, many of our citizens witness rape, murder, arson, burglary, and instead of stepping forward and becoming involved in the administrative process, which is such a vital part in justice, they shrink back into the shadows. They do not want to become involved. As hard as it is today, under the laws of our land, to secure a conviction of the serious crimes in our community, how can our citizens fail to do their duty and step forward?" Sturgeon declared.

Following a review of many of the trends of violence in the country, Sturgeon stated, "There are professional attorneys all across our country who are diligently working to reverse the trend taken by our Supreme Court, and to again return the rights of citizens to be secure in their property and person, to its correct position on our scales of justice."

As turbulence takes its toll, Thomas said, the airplane's resistance weakens and ride becomes bumpier. Gusts not only jostle passengers but also affect the pilot's performance, Thomas said.

"We do not understand why," Thomas said. "Federal Aviation Administration research shows his performance is degraded because of jostling about. It must be his psycho-physiological makeup. Tests show home pilots have greater resistance."

Thomas said the lift characteristics of the wing will eventually be modified to enable the airplane to fly through turbulence with a minimal response.

Angles Changes

He said the lift is greater in turbulence. The angle of attack of the wing changes and the plane moves up, causing a stress on the structure, and all its occupants.

"There have been many tests conducted to determine the gross characteristics of the interaction of the airplane and the atmosphere," Thomas said, "but none has sought to determine the detailed changes in the flow field."

To determine this, aerospace students are using a giant wind tunnel equipped with a special gust generator, the only university-owned tunnel of its kind. Thomas said students and professors will create rough turbulence inside the tunnel and make tests until the cause of "metal fatigue" is found.

Prove on Paper
The aerospace engineer said when the proper technological solutions are developed, they will be proven on paper.

"Then we will take them out in the real world, put them on an airplane and see how they work," Thomas explained.

said the device that would measure the nature of the turbulence must be more sensitive than radar.

"The kind of research we are hoping to do has broad implications, he said. "We hope to tell you the loads and pressures on rotary aircraft."

Central American Who Walked Here Is Missing

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (UPI)—Mrs. Hortencia Rivas, the woman who said she walked with her five children to the United States from Central America, is on the move again and police want to know where she has walked to this time.

Officers had allowed Mrs. Rivas to remain in the U.S. as long as she stayed on a ranch near Santa Fe on which she was employed.

But Mrs. Rivas is missing from the ranch, and is the subject of a statewide search.

Mrs. Rivas, of San Salvador, had been allowed to stay on the ranch owned by Mr. and Mrs. Lalo Enriquez while efforts were made to have her legally admitted to the U.S.

State police said they had orders to pick up the woman and said the order had come from immigration chief Mariano Islas of Albuquerque.

Orioles Move Within Six Games Of Detroit

By VITO STELLINO
UPI Sports Writer

Don Buford doesn't care what position he plays as long as he plays it in the World Series. Buford, a parttime second baseman for the Baltimore Orioles in Hank Bauer's regime, has played centerfield, left field, third base and second base since Earl Weaver took over as manager at the All-Star break. But regardless of where he's playing in the field, he's the Oriole lead batter and he's been leading the club's second half drive in pursuit of the Detroit Tigers. Buford drove in the last three runs with a two-run single that snapped a 3-3 tie and a solo homer Tuesday night as the Orioles stopped Oakland 6-5. It moved them within six games of the Tigers, who were blanked 1-0 by Cleveland.

The Orioles, who were 10½ games out at the All-Star break, have played 25-11 ball since their last 16. The Tigers, who've won 12 of their last 16, aren't exactly folding but the Orioles are keeping the pressure on.

Sonny Siebert stopped the Tigers, pitching a three-hitter. Larry Brown drove in the only run of the game off loser Pat Dobson in the second inning with a bases loaded single after Tony Horton singled. Duke Sims doubled and Max Alvis' was given an intentional walk.

In other American League action, Boston edged Chicago 4-3. New York nipped California 3-2 and Minnesota drubbed Washington 8-4.

In the National League, Chicago blasted St. Louis 10-3. San Francisco nipped Pittsburgh 3-2. New York blanked Los Angeles 2-0. Cincinnati edged Atlanta 9-8 in 10 innings and Houston blanked Philadelphia 5-0 but lost the second game 4-2.

Rico Petrocelli drove in his third run of the game with a sacrifice fly in the eighth inning that snapped a 3-3 deadlock and gave Boston the triumph over the White Sox. Petrocelli also and doubled in a run in the fourth.

Jim Holt hit a two-run double to climax a five-run fourth inning rally and carry the Twins past the Senators. Tom Hall, who went the first 7 3-3 innings, picked up his first major league victory.

New York took advantage of five walks in the first inning to score three runs—two on a single by Andy Kosco—to beat California.

Ruth's Final Three Homers Recalled

By RUDY CERNKOVIC
PITTSBURGH (UPI)—Friday

marks the 20th anniversary of the death of Babe Ruth, who hit the last three home runs of his fantastic career at Forbes Field here.

"I'll never forget those wallops," said Pie Traynor who was the manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates when Babe cracked his 712th, 713th and 714th homers on May 25, 1935. "Just before the game," Pie said, "the Babe told me he wasn't feeling well. He said his legs were not what they used to be. He had just passed his 40th birthday."

A Pittsburgh sports writer ambled to Traynor just before the teams took the field. "Don't worry about the Babe giving you any trouble," he told Traynor. "He and I were out on the town until 5 o'clock this morning."

One On
The Boston Braves had a man on base when the Babe came to bat in the first inning. He blasted a homer off Red Lucas.

When Ruth came to bat in the third inning he faced reliever Guy Bush again with a man on. The count was 3-2 and the next ball sailed into the right field stands. Ruth singled in the fifth. The bases were empty when he batted in the seventh. "I remember it was a 3-1 inning on. The wild Amarillo-Arkansas slugfest also featured the home run ball with a three-run homer by Bill Wolf putting the game out of reach.

San Antonio's three runs all came in the fourth inning, with two of them supplied by Verne Benson's home run.

enough, you're bound to come out on top."

Ruth died on Aug. 16, 1948 of throat cancer.

Branch Rickey eulogized Ruth because of his great influence on youth.

"He has created an expectation of hero worship on the part of the youth of this country," Rickey said, "and it was a most fortunate thing that Ruth kept faith with the boyhood of America because they loved him."

Aussie, African Join Tennis Field

NEWPORT, R.I. (UPI)—John
Newcombe of Australia and Cliff Drysdale of South Africa joined the competition today for the second round of the Newport Casino round robin professional tennis tournament.

Newcombe and Drysdale missed Tuesday's first round after being detained in Europe for another tournament. The entire tourney was delayed from Monday's scheduled opening because most of the pros were competing in Germany.

Butch Buchholz of St. Louis and Nicki Pille of Yugoslavia, each gained impressive double victories in Tuesday's first round.

Buchholz opened with a win over France's Pierre Barthes, 21-18, 21-18, and then went on to defeat Roger Taylor of Britain, 21-8, 21-15.

All scoring is under the Van Allen Simplified Scoring System (VAISS).

Pille won his first match over Marty Riessen of Evanston, Ill., 21-20, 18-21, 21-15, and swamped Barry Mackay of Dayton, Ohio, 21-12, 21-14.

Shreveport Defeats El Paso With Homers

By United Press International
SHREVEPORT (UPI)—Friday

The home run bug bit El Paso Tuesday night and nibbled away at the Sun Kings narrow lead in the Texas League's Western Division.

El Paso saw its lead over Albuquerque dwindle to only a game after a 7-2 wallop at the hands of Shreveport, which broke open a tie game with two home runs in the fourth inning.

Albuquerque edged a half game closer to the Sun Kings when its game with Dallas-Fort Worth was postponed by a heavy rainstorm.

In other action, Arkansas stayed 2-1-2 games out in front of Shreveport in the Eastern Division with an 11-5 victory over Amarillo and San Antonio edged Memphis 3-2.

El Paso and Shreveport were tied going into the fourth inning, but a solo home run by Hal Breeden and a two-run blast by pitcher Robert Castiglione paved the way.

Castiglione allowed El Paso only three hits in shutting the Sun Kings out from the fourth inning on.

The wild Amarillo-Arkansas slugfest also featured the home run ball with a three-run homer by Bill Wolf putting the game out of reach.

San Antonio's three runs all came in the fourth inning, with two of them supplied by Verne Benson's home run.

Cubs Win Seven In Row Over Cards

By FRED DOWN
UPI Sports Writer

The progress report on the Chicago Cubs today is so far, so good but so what.

The Cubs have caused a flurry of excitement around the National League by beating the first-place Cardinals 7-3 Monday and 10-3 Tuesday in the first two games of a four-game series. They have beaten the Cardinals seven straight times and everybody knows Manager Leo Durocher was the Little Shepherd of the New York Giants' 1951 "miracle drive" to the pennant.

But hard-headed realists insist the Age of Miracles ended on Oct. 3, 1951 when Dobby Thomson hit "The Homer" and that the Cubs' real opponent is the law of averages. That law is considered in baseball circles as unlikely to be overcome as the law of gravity.

The Cubs roughed up the world champions Tuesday with a 13-hit attack capped by a five-run eighth-inning rally that turned the game into a romp. Ron Santo tied the score with a two-run double in the third inning and gave the Cubs a 5-3 lead with a two-run homer in the seventh.

The Cincinnati Reds beat the Atlanta Braves 9-8 in 10 innings, the San Francisco Giants defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates 3-0, the Philadelphia Phillies topped the Houston Astros 4-2 after a 5-0 loss and the New York Mets, downed the Los Angeles Dodgers 2-0 in other National League games.

In the American League, the Cleveland Indians shaded the Detroit Tigers 1-0, the Boston Red Sox nipped the Chicago White Sox 4-3, the Minnesota Twins topped the Washington Senators 8-4. The New York Yankees defeated the California Angels 3-2 and the Baltimore Orioles downed the Oakland Athletics 6-5.

Mack Jones doubled and scored on Tony Perez' single in the 10th inning to give the Reds their victory over the Braves in a game marked by a total of 35 hits.

Young French Star Plans To Capture Twin Golf Events

BIRMINGHAM, Mich. (UPI)—Catherine LaCoste of France has served notice to her American counterparts that she intends to become the first foreigner and only third amateur to win both the U.S. Open and U.S. Women's Amateur golf championships.

The 23-year-old French star Tuesday tied the lowest 36-hole qualifying score on record with a 71-72-143 total to lead 32 qualifiers into match play today in the 68th U.S. Women's Amateur golf championship at the Birmingham Country Club.

Betty Burfeindt, playing in her first national tournament, lopped one stroke from the course record set Monday by Miss LaCoste by coming in with a 70 in the morning round. That qualified her for the match play with a 148, third best in the qualifying.

Second among the qualifiers was Joyce Kazmierki of Detroit. She 1968 Michigan amateur champ, who was runner-up for medalist honors at 147 after shooting par 72 to go with her 75 on Monday.

Mann Widens Lead

CINCINNATI (UPI)—Carol
Mann climbed over the $30,000 mark in official earnings this week and widened her lead over second-place Kathy Whitworth in the Ladies Professional Golf Association (LPGA).

Miss Mann boosted her total to $32,200 with a third-place finish in the $28,500 Concord Women's Open tournament at Kamehaha Lake, N.Y. Miss Whitworth wound up fifth and raised her year's winnings to $29,675.

Shirley Englehorn won the $4,275 first prize in the Concord Open, richest tourney in LPGA history, and made a dramatic jump from 21st place to ninth in the earnings race with $9,139.50.

Oklahoma Mentor To Prime Defense

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (UPI)—
The passing arms of Texas Jack Mildren and Si Southall appeared in fine form Tuesday in preparation for Friday night's 22nd annual Oil Bowl game, causing Oklahoma coach Tom Anthony to place special emphasis on his defensive workouts.

Anthony said following Tuesday's drills that the key to his club's chances for a victory was the defensive secondary and how well it can top the pass-minded Texas quarterbacks.

The Oklahomans also worked long and hard on their ground attack, which Anthony is depending on to help control the ball.

Clinton's Roy Bell and Hobart's Jimmy Calip are expected to do most of the ball carrying for the Oklahoma all-stars.

Mildren, of Abilene Cooper, and Southall, of Brownwood, were both hitting their targets well in the workout. Chief targets for the passers were Roosevelt Manning of Wichita Falls, Washington, Harry Price of Iowa Park and Jon Harrison of Abilene Cooper.

BROWN INJURED

GREEN BAY, Wis. (UPI)—
The Green Bay Packers placed defensive end Bob Brown on the injured list Tuesday and traded rookie center Jay Bachman of Cincinnati to the Los Angeles Rams for a 1969 draft choice.

LIGHT EXCHANGE

KYOTO, Japan (UPI)—Two
Japanese stone lanterns weighing 1,500 pounds each will be shipped to Kyoto's sister city in the United States, Boston, in exchange for two 19th century American gaslights.

LION KILLS MAN

DURBAN, South Africa (UPI)—
Park supervisors found the mangled body Tuesday of a man apparently killed by lions in the Amanzimtoti Zoological Gardens. They said they had no idea how Kevin Broughton, 22, got inside the enclosure, surrounded by a 15-foot-high fence

Golf Professionals Cut Relations With PGA As Negotiations Stop

By STU CAMEN
UPI Sports Writer
NEW YORK (UPI)—Jack Nicklaus, Arnold Palmer and the rest of the pros who make up golf's lucrative $5.6 million tour, have decided to go it alone.

OWLS ADD TWO
PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—Tom Urganik, a former Penn State back, was named freshman football coach at Temple and Bob Marshall returned to his alma mater as line coach of the Owls, the university announced Tuesday.

Urganik played professional ball with Winnipeg of the Canadian League in 1966 and was a member of the Washington Redskins taxi squad in 1965. Marshall played offensive guard and tackle at Temple.

TRADE RONSON
MONTREAL (UPI)—Leonard Ronson, a minor league left winger drafted by the Montreal Canadiens, was sent to the Oakland Seals, in a National Hockey League trade Tuesday, for cash and a player to be named at a later date.

The NHL Stanley Cup champion Canadiens picked up Ronson from San Diego of the Western League in last June's inter-league draft.

Paige Is Grateful For Atlanta Job

By MILTON RICHMAN
UPI Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UPI)—Satchel Paige likes to fool people. He likes to make them think he's hard and tough as a railroad spike when actually he's about as hard and tough as a cupful of custard.

Satch really is a softie when you get to know him. That's the big roadblock, though. He doesn't let many people get to know him. He never stays in one place long enough. He knows the image he projects and the one people have come to expect. So he gives them what they expect. Like when they kid him about being 70, for example. If they think he's 70 it's okay with him. If they think he's 75 that's okay with him, too, even though he knows perfectly well he turned 62 last month.

Has Serious Side
But Ol' Satch has another side, a side he rarely shows. That's his serious side and for a split second he showed it in Atlanta Monday.

He showed it in the Stadium Club at the Braves' ballpark shortly before leaving the park and more than an hour after it had been announced they were signing him as an "adviser" and possible part-time pitcher for the balance of this year and next year so he could qualify for a major league pension.

"They'll never know how much I appreciate this," said that hard, tough Satchel Paige huskily to a guy he has known a long time. "It's a most wonderful thing they did and I will try to pay 'em back both ways."

He meant by pitching and counseling the young hurlers on Atlanta's staff. "Did you ever think something like this would happen to you at this stage of the game?" asked the same guy.

"Never did," said Satch. "When's the last time you pitched?"

"I haven't had a ball in my hand all year," he replied, without sounding worried about it all. "That can't mean nothin' though. When I ended up last year in Portland I was in fair shape."

"Do you think you can help the Braves or are you just going to take up room on the bench?"

Love to Help
"I'd love to help 'em. I mean it. You know me, I take care of myself and don't fool around. When I come, I come to pitch and win."

"How long is it going to take you to get in shape?"

"Not long if I don't sprain something or pull something."

"What have you been doing with yourself lately?"

"Ran for state representative."

"Where?"

"In Kansas City."

"Did you win?"

"Nahh. You know I can't win nothin' there. I got to be a policeman. It kept me busy and I didn't get a chance to practice."

"Think you lost your fast ball?"

"I never lose that. It's still my best pitch."

"How do you feel physically?"

"Pretty good. I'm wearin' glasses now but I don't wear 'em to pitch. I guess you'd say there's quite a difference in me now. I feel pretty young at times, though. Even babies get sick some time."

Bet Against Courtney
"Remember some of those bets with Clint Courtney when you both were with the St. Louis Browns nearly 20 years ago?"

"Well, I've bumped around a lot and I still have a little bit of remembrance. It's not tops, but I remember Courtney, all right. He once bet me I couldn't throw a ball over a chewing gum wrapper seven outta ten times. Just a regular silver chewing gum wrapper laid on the ground that I hadda get the ball over from 60 feet."

"What was the bet?"

"A hundred dollars."

"Who won?"

"I got the ball over the wrapper seven outta ten."

"Things have changed a lot since then. It's a pitchers' game now. What happened to all the hitters?"

"They built it up where they pay 'em for the home run ball. So they all started swingin' for the fences. When they did that they started takin' their eye off the ball. That'll do it."

Needs 158 Days.

Bill Bartholomay, the president of the Braves, got the idea of signing Paige so he can get in his 158 days' pension time.

Bartholomay has been pictured cold potatoes in come quarters but there is nothing at all cold about what he has done for Satchel.

Winless Horse Captures Race At Atlantic City
By United Press International
Gay Sailorette's owner hopes it wasn't just an annual occurrence for the bay filly.

Winless since the Pucker Up Handicap last August, Gay Sailorette made up for 12 months of frustrating visits to the post by capturing the $6,500 feature allowance tests at Atlantic City Tuesday by six lengths. She failed to score in four previous races this year.

George D. Widener's Mount Regina prepped for Monday's $25,000 added Diana Handicap with a half-length triumph over Crystal Palace in the $15,000 feature at Saratoga.

In other features, Aundel won at Arlington, Iverness Drive took the $10,000 added Graduation Stakes at Del Mar, Wesley Ashcraft triumphed at Detroit and Royal Lumping was first at Rockingham.

The Pampa Daily News

A Watchful Newspaper

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license, nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself. No more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

Duetsmark Uber Alles

The Germans are causing trouble for everyone again.

At a time when inflation is a problem in every country, and when nearly every government is thinking about or trying NOT to think about devaluing its currency, German manufacturers are cutting prices and there is even talk of increasing the value of the Deutschmark.

The trouble is with the people themselves. First of all, they have the unpatriotic habit of banking 11 per cent of their income (compared with 7 per cent for Americans).

Government authorities are trying to get the people to 'loosen up and live a little' and to buy more imported goods. In 1967, West Germany had an embarrassingly high trade surplus of $4.2 billion.

The authorities would also like workers to be more aggressive in wage negotiations, but the workers won't play ball. By some strange reasoning, they figure that there is no point in getting, say, a 10 per cent wage increase if the cost of living then goes up 10 per cent.

An economist at a union-maintained economist research center in Dusseldorf claims that inflation is a danger that must be avoided at all costs even at the cost of not exercising the right to strike for higher pay. Is this any way to run an economy?

The Germans are definitely a threat again. They're getting too soon schmart.

Farm Bargaining Bill

The following is from a letter written by a Virginia farmer, Edward Durrell of Berryville, to the Washington Post:

"I write to you in response to your June 29th editorial, 'Farm Bargaining Bill' which has to do with H. R. 16014 now before the rules Committee of the House. This bill seeks to make it possible to unionize farm labor. . . .

"I know the long hours that the proprietors and their families work to maintain their farm buildings, machinery, fences and land in a condition to make a profit. They work six days a week and sometimes on Sunday, if the weather is right and the crop ready for harvest. . . .

"It would be extremely difficult, if not impossible, for the average farmer to carry out his farming operations if he had to bear the additional burden of having to deal with unionized labor. He does not have the time, nor the staff, nor the skill to compete on an equal basis with a labor organizer whose sole job is to know every facet of the labor laws and is trained to know how to use each and everyone of these laws to his advantage.

"You can imagine what would happen should there be a work stoppage when a particular feed grain crop was ready to harvest."

Mummy Mystery

Dental researchers from the University of Michigan, X rayed a 3,000-year-old Egyptian mummy long believed to be that of the infant Princess Merneptah of the XXist Dynasty, have discovered that it is really the body of a monkey. Why the animal was substituted for the princess in the royal casket is a mystery.

The long history of mankind is replete with examples of rulers making monkeys of themselves, but this is the first known instance of making a ruler out of a monkey.

Save Your Spikes, Girls

Endure those granny-type shoes the fashion moguls have fastened on you, girls, but take heart—the spiked heel is coming back.

In seven to 10 years, the fashion pendulum will be swinging back to the spike-heel, pointed-toe look, says Boot and Shoe Recorder magazines, reporting on styles the designers are working on for the '70s.

Seven to 10 years?

And Guess Who Pays!

Already repercussions are coming from the steel wage settlement, which at first was hailed so proudly. After all a strike was averted, wasn't it? and the United Steelworkers won its biggest bundle ever, estimated to amount to about 90 cents an hour for its hundreds of thousands of members. Sounds good, eh?

Unfortunately what the wage increase will really amount to is a pay cut for everyone, including steelworkers.

The steel companies are increasing their prices, and President Johnson again has turned loose a blast at them. He was strangely silent as usual, at the big wage increase which brought the price rise. Apparently he believes that all wage increases should be borne by the stockholders who saved their money and invested it in order to create the jobs for the workers, and whose earnings have been slim in recent years. But the prices of steel have been increased, and will result in increasing the cost of the many products containing steel.

Steel users, who had anticipated a strike this year, have stockpiled inventory to get them over the expected shortage. They are expected to reduce orders until they use up their stock pile. This will result in reduced production and reduced employment at steel plants for a while.

Because of higher prices for steel and higher costs of steel products, millions more of workers in all fields of endeavor will want more pay to meet the new rise in the cost of living.

Many of them will get it and their increased wages will ultimately raise the prices of the products and services with which they are involved, thus kicking up the cost of living for everyone—including steelworkers.

Imports of cheaper foreign steel, now cheaper than ever, will increase. One result will be stepped up pressure for quotas on imported steel. Other industries will join the demand for quotas, which could set off a round of international tariff reprisals, these will increase the American consumers' costs.

If there is more unemployment from the higher costs and buyer resistance, there will be demands for greater unemployment compensation, welfare payments and pensions for workers who have lost out and for those on fixed incomes who are left behind by inflation. And guess who pays?

All workers will pay in higher taxes, increased deductions and inflation resulting from the increased government spending and probable reduction of tax receipts.

The majority of American people know now that billion-dollar wage increases cannot be absorbed by stockholders. If a cost increase cannot be recovered by improved output, the cost must be passed on to the consumers including the steelworkers.

The Manion Forum

Who's Responsible For Riots?

Hardly a week goes by these days, it seems, without somebody publishing a new analysis of American race riots. Day after day, week after week, white Americans are informed that the disorder is all their fault. The Negro, so the "accepted" line goes, is justified in his uprisings, because he has been downtrodden by whites for so long.

It is difficult to find another side of this story in the huge mass of words that are currently being written and spoken on the subject. But part of that other side was aired recently over the Manion Forum radio network. The distinguished retired Major General Thomas A. Lane, who is the President of Americans for Constitutional Action, had this to say to a nationwide radio audience a few weeks ago:

"The target cities of these attacks are those in which liberal officials at local and state levels feel dependent on the Negro vote for election. In California, where Governor Reagan has set a no-nonsense policy of enforcing the law against all violators, only minor disturbances occurred. He has set a standard of responsible administration to which the whole country should subscribe.

"After the burning of Baltimore, Governor Spiro T. Agnew, called moderate Negro leaders to a special meeting. He berated them for not opposing the militant revolutionaries, who had incited the riots and burned the city. His was the righteous anger of the man who has worked hard for civil rights and has been betrayed.

"The Governor seemed unaware that his own policies had caused the burning of Baltimore. In his zeal for civil rights, he had helped to spread the familiar lies about a 'century of discrimination' which the black revolutionaries had authored to build a persecution complex in the minds of urban Negroes. He had helped to build the psychosis which would in time be used to justify looting and arson. Of course, he promised to right these imagined wrongs and he hoped thereby to win the gratitude of the Negro voters.

"If the governor had rejected this specious rationalization of Negro poverty, if he had said that in this country every man gets what he earns and no more, if he had backed the so-called Uncle Toms who stood for Negro responsibility, Baltimore might have been spared this ordeal.

"Only the forked tongues of civil rights leaders can preach non-violence while they implant in the minds of Negro citizens a sense of injury which begets violence. Unhappily, they have had the endorsement of public officials, vocal sectors of the clergy and aspiring politicians in spreading the lie about Negro deprivations in America.

"The Johnson consensus has embraced and is spreading a false history of the Negro in America which is demoralizing in its effect. Negro Americans are not the downtrodden victims of discrimination and oppression. They are without question the most advanced representatives of Negro education and Negro skills in the world today. Their wealth and literacy compare with those of the white and yellow nations of the world."

Strong words, these—but our politicians had better listen, to them. How, for instance, does your candidate for Congress feel about this? Whose vote is he seeking—yours or the mob?

Inside Washington

Nixon Promises His Mistakes of '60 Will Not Be Repeated; to Concentrate on Major States

ROBERT ALLEN

WASHINGTON—Republican presidential nominee Richard M. Nixon has privately assured GOP party leaders that widely criticized mistakes of his 1960 campaign against the late John F. Kennedy will not be repeated this time.

Specifically, he has told them he will not shun their advice and he will not waste time and money campaigning in areas of low vote potential. He has, in fact, promised to concentrate heavily on the large states which cast large electoral votes.

The former Vice President reassured some GOP big-wigs on these points at the close of last week's Republican National Convention in Miami Beach, with Nixon taking a post-convention rest in Mission Bay, Cal., the same word is now being spread by campaign aides here.

It was clear to Nixon's aides in Miami Beach that some state and local leaders have not forgotten their complaints about Nixon's 1960 campaign blueprint.

On the contrary, the narrow margin of Nixon's 1960 defeat has left some party leaders believing they know the one mistake which cost Nixon the victory.

Some of them complain that they could not even reach Nixon with important tactical advice in 1960. Many still criticize the pledge which required Nixon to campaign in each of the 50 states. They think he would have won if, for example, he had scrubbed his trip to Alaska (three electoral votes) and spent the time in Illinois (26 electoral votes).

Clearly these complaints were not strong enough to deny Nixon another presidential nomination and another try at the White House. They were, however, a part of the 'loser' image which was a major Nixon handicap in Miami Beach last week.

In addition, Nixon's convention promise that his running mate would be acceptable to southern delegations raised new fears of a 1968 campaign with a heavy southern orientation which would downgrade big northern states.

That is one reason why the reassuring word is being passed to party leaders now. CAMPAIGN PREVIEW—Nixon's comments on his running mate, and his selection of Maryland Gov. Spiro T. Agnew, came after Nixon became involved in a potentially damaging convention tug-of-war.

JOHN GOLDSMITH

ed Miami Beach, that his 1968 campaign should put a heavy concentration on the major states. That is the present plan.

It assumes that Wallace will probably carry at least some of the southern states won by the Republican in 1960 and 1964. It anticipates that the GOP, with an assist from Wallace, can cut into the Democratic margins in the cities and carry more of the big industrial states.

In this strategy, Wallace is expected to draw mostly from the Democrats' vote potential, including the so-called blue collar vote, in large northern urban areas.

Nixon's 1968 campaign is expected to move at a more deliberate pace than the frantic 50-state caravan of 1960. Aides expect two or three major campaign events each day, rather than four, five six—or more, as in 1960.

More use will be made of television to get more mileage out of the smaller number of major campaign appearances.

TV DEBATES—In that connection, Nixon can make no final decision yet on a 1968 version of the much publicized Kennedy-Nixon debates which were also a much criticized phase of Nixon's 1960 campaigning.

That matter is out of Nixon's hands. Congressional approval for a renewal of the debates is stalled in the House Commerce Committee which will take another look at a Senate-approved authorization on Sept. 11.

Nixon has said he would be willing to debate with Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey if Humphrey is the Democratic nominee for President. Nixon has said, however, that he sees no purpose served by a three-way debate which would also include Wallace.

The Senate-approved bill would not require that Wallace be included in a renewal of the debates which were seen or heard by 115 million people in 1960. Technically, the Senate-approved bill suspends the legal requirement that radio and television broadcasters give equal time to all candidates.

That requirement normally applies to candidates of all minor parties such as the Greenback party, the Tax Cut party and the like.

Some Congressional insiders are predicting that the go-ahead for 1968 TV debates will remain bottled-up in the House Commerce Committee unless the Presidential candidates put forward the pressure through their associates in the Senate and the House. For the present, at least, it does not appear that Nixon is that much interested in renewing the debates which cost him dearly in 1960.

Abe Fortas—Part II

A man whose loyalty to the United States is subject to serious doubts has been named by President Johnson to replace Earl Warren as Chief Justice of the Supreme Court. When Johnson appointed Abe Fortas to the Court in 1965, only three Senators had the morality and courage to oppose his nomination: Thurmond, Williams and Curtis. When Johnson appointed Fortas Chief Justice, a great hue and cry arose—mostly among Republicans—not because Fortas doesn't believe in the Constitution but because he has taken an oath to uphold—but because a lame-duck President appointed him! The crave and cowardly Senate has failed the people again.

Since his appointment to the Supreme Court in 1965, not once has Fortas deviated from the leftist line. Abe Fortas is a Socialist, and possibly a Marxist.

One of America's most patriotic newspapers, The Chicago Tribune, says this about Abe Fortas: "The International Juridical Association, referred to in the editorial below, has been cited in the 'Guide to Subversive Organizations and Publications' of the U. S. Congress as a 'Communist front and an offshoot of the International Labor Defense,' and as an organization which actively defended Communists and consistently followed the Communist Party Line."

"Fortas was listed as one of the officers and national committeemen" of this association, according to the House Committee on Un-American Activities in a 1944 report."

Human Events reported in 1965 that Fortas also was a supporter of the Southern Conference for Human Welfare in 1947, three years after that organization was listed as a Communist front by the House Committee on Un-American Activities. A Senate subcommittee called the SCHW a Marxist operation "serving the Soviet Union and its subservient Communist Party in the United States."

The nominee has had no previous judicial experience, which qualifies him well for the present Supreme Court position.

IN THE INSIDE ON LBJ: Frank L. Kluckhohn states: "Fortas was Owen Lattimore's defense attorney during the McCarthy inquiry into the Institute of Pacific Relations, and according to Lattimore's book, Fortas wrote him to the effect that it may be necessary that you get down in the gutter in which we are now operating as a result of Senator McCarthy's personal attack on you!"

Fortas's efforts convinced Lattimore that "I had a friend, and we believed in each other," but failed to keep Lattimore from being indicted on seven charges of perjury arising from Lattimore's testimony before the Senate Internal Security

Run For Your Life

By PAUL HARVEY

When the Readers' Digest condensed an Air Force booklet on "Aerobics," millions of Americans started running for their lives.

Some of us continue. We may be seen, usually early mornings or late evenings, running through suburban streets in sweat-suits and sneakers, convinced that keeping weight down and circulation up are important both to a fuller life and a longer one.

Our less health-conscious friends chide us as "average athletes," "a bunch of teen-aged old men!"

Personally, I wish there were some less conspicuous way to exercise than running 3 miles a day, but I know of none. In a sedentary occupation, spending fully 8 hours a day at the typewriter, this remains the best way to get the most exercise in the least time.

But where we "health nuts" must tolerate some taunts, I understand the real "muscle-men" take an awful beating.

Wall Street Journal reporter Steven Lovelady probably was led into an interest in physical fitness by his own last name. Recently he interviewed some of the semiprofessional exercisers. He talked to those huge musclemen who've answered a Charles Atlas advertisement or through years of self-taught weightlifting have developed massive measurements.

Guess what? He discovers the big guys still get sand kicked in their face! Apparently nearly everybody likes to show off—including the little fellows built like pipe cleaners. These latter do their strutting by picking on the biggest behemoth in sight.

One muscleman says, "I can't even show myself at the beach anymore!"

Several said a bulging body is a real liability. "You can't buy clothes to fit those deltoids, so the more beautiful we appear on the beach the more goofy we appear in the drawing room."

Most girls apparently are unimpressed by muscles, preferring the skinny Frank Sinatra or Johnny Carson type.

Muscleman Steve Tyrone, who has been years bulging his bulging physique, was invited by a girl to her home. When he got there, she asked him to take off his shirt. When he did, she called in her mama and papa to look and they all had a big laugh—after which she told him to get lost.

But where girls may not be turned on by muscles, some boys are. They are another problem. So unless the muscleman prefers the company of boys, he has to make a wide detour around any neighborhood known to be populated by homosexuals.

What keeps them going? Why do they continue to sweat and strain? Mostly the admiration that body builders have for themselves and for each other. Los Angeles psychiatrist Dr. Joshua Golden thinks most musclemen are trying to compensate for failures in other areas of their lives: "Don't tell me I'm not a man; look, I'm a superman!"

So the some of us who "run for our lives" at least have fewer problems than the weightlifters. Though we, too, have to put up with some devastating derision from our less energetic contemporaries: "Someday we lazy ones will look down into that box and say, 'Doesn't he look healthy!'"

Nation Slips . . . Therapy to Sin

NEW YORK (NEA) — It is probably unpatriotic to mention this just as the presidential campaign is starting. But the plain fact is, it is too late for politics to save the American way of life. The foundation on which this country rests is already crumbling beyond repair. We have it on excellent authority that the day of Freudian psychoanalysis is just about over.

A reporter wandering through the sacrosanct world between the subconscious and the super-ego discovers:

—There is still no proof that the remedy actually works. —Of the 40-odd specialties in the practice of psychiatry (from dream research to drug therapy, analysis attracts the fewest number of new doctors entering the field—a complete turn-around from the situation 20 years ago.

—And besides, even for people who can afford three-to-five visits with the psychoanalyst each week (at an average of $30 per visit), three years on the couch is simply too long nowadays.

And when that couch goes, so goes the foundation on which this country rests. Or at least it seems that way a good bit of the time.

We feel for the old camp ground. For our part, we find it very hard to imagine a way of life without Freudian psychoanalysis. Just thinking about it fills us with the same melancholy we feel for the old camp ground, a home on the range and all the other dear, dead days beyond recall.

And as this is the sort of sentiment of which nostalgic songs are made, we have made a song for this sad occasion:

THE SWEETHEART OF SIGMUND FREUD The cocktail party list is thin With psychoanalysis gone; Most everybody's in the bin With psychoanalysis gone; People go to pieces in Telling therapy from sin With psychoanalysis gone.

Broadway fare is rather lean With psychoanalysis gone, No panels on the TV screen With psychoanalysis gone; No novels on the current scene, No experts in the magazine. . . . No motives left in the machine subcommittee.

Middle-of-the-road groups like the John Birch Society tried to impeach Earl Warren and will doubtless try to get Abe Fortas impeached. Why not also impeach the President who appointed him and the Senators who vote to confirm him? Why attack the monkey instead of the organ grinder?

With psychoanalysis gone.

Current events appear obscure With psychoanalysis gone; Who can see through apture With psychoanalysis gone? Is Nixon repressed or just insecure?

Is Humphrey basically immature? Can Mao's super-ego long endure?

It's hard to know anything for sure With psychoanalysis gone.

Well, now that the Florida folly is at an end the elephants are beginning to trumpet and stomp their feet. They are going to pack a few wallops in their trunks before the donkeys get their bee-haws into the circle.

O, there ain't any question the elephants got plenty to trumpet about. We have got ourselves entangled in the longest foreign war in American history. We have already got over 175 thousand casualties, and a flunky 'peace talk' that don't offer any end to fighting.

Then if you want to look at crime, and riots and general disobedience, why then ain't any limit to how many y figures you could use.

Spending? We have made records there, too. Deficits, debt, taxation at every level and on top of it all inflation and the biggest depreciation of the dollar since WW II.

We are spending more than 12 billion gets a year on the cities. And what kind of cities have we got. They're jungles under the thumbs of guerilla warfare.

So the elephant has got plenty to trumpet about, that's for sure. But I see where Repus say they are going to play footsie with Russia. That is a mistake You can't deal with those fellers. It seems like everybody is doing their best to make the world safe for Communism.

Wit and Whimsy

A Christmas concert was given by a German orchestra for the American Occupation Forces in Germany. The GI in one seat fidgeted and fumed in boredom through Bach, Brahms and Beethoven. Then the orchestra played the melodious strains of Heilige Nacht (Holy Night) and the lad whispered, Private Blank—Gee, what a relief to hear some good old American music.

WORLD ALMANAC
FACTS
Bohemians, the hippies of yesterday, didn't come from Bohemia. The World Almanac says, in 15th-century France, Bohemian meant a vagabond or gypsy because of the mistaken belief that all gypsies came from Bohemia. It wasn't until the 18th century, in Paris, that artists who led unconventional lives were called Bohemians.
