

Knott Man Shot To Death At Tourist Camp

People Must Support Government, Stop Blaming It For Trifles, Says Senator Woodward In Speech Here

Congratulations to the Big Spring Hospital Corporation upon the third anniversary of the formal opening of that splendid institution.

With 516 producing wells, the Howard-Glasscock county oil field will be allowed this month to sell only 16,000 to 17,000 barrels of oil per day, according to reports of Friday from reliable sources.

Sixty days ago the prices of crude began to climb. The flat price for local production went from 25 to 26 cents per barrel. Almost immediately a major company began cutting their nominations in West Texas, particularly the Howard-Glasscock county area.

While they punch holes in quick succession in East Texas and run all production the law will allow—if not more—they cry and go into spasms over threat of over-production from a West Texas field that is pretty well settled and offers no threat of flush production at all.

Every time a minor producer, that is a company not connected with the Standard, spuds in a well the majors begin plans to choke him off.

Right now a completely new gauge of all production in this field is being made by the railroad commission for the purpose of setting a new field potential. It goes without saying that the potential will be far less than that now set up.

When that new potential has been fixed this field will be pinched a lot more.

When crude was bringing 35 cents this field was allowed 20,000 barrels. Now, at 65 cents, it is cut to 16,000 barrels.

The law says the railroad commission, after hearing producers, shall fix the daily allowable and that pipe lines, being common carriers, must take this allowable production at the accepted price per barrel.

But, the law just as well be wiped off the statute books.

The actual amount of oil the pipe lines take is governed solely by the companies themselves, not by the state through its duly enacted laws.

The reason why the Howard-Glasscock county field is pinched to 16,000 barrels is that pipe lines elected to take only that amount. The railroad commission will set the allowable at the figure nominated by the pipe lines and not at a figure set by the commission on its own motion.

Amount of crude in storage, demand for refined products and prices being received for gasoline do not call for pinching a field no larger in production than this one.

If some of the minors bowed the courts to make the pipe lines their necks, drilled wells, went to take their production, don't you ever think the majors would hesitate a minute to do some drilling themselves. In other words, Howard and Glasscock counties would get in on its part of the activity in the producing end of the oil business.

The producers in this field have played ball for a long, long time without any serious kicking about it. It appears to us the time is about to arrive when somebody must get hard and refuse to play right field all the time. Why not do a little pinching?

First Baby Of Month Honored

Joint Banquet Program Of Service Clubs Is Colorful

Governments are strong in proportion to the support given them by the people, declared Walter C. Woodward, of Coleman, veteran member of the state senate, in an address here Thursday evening before a joint banquet of the Rotary and Kiwanis clubs of Big Spring.

"A government such as ours is a money-spending, not a money-making institution," said Senator Woodward. "If it requires two billions to balance the budget the tax required is no greater than is that which was required if there is a surplus of two billions in the treasury. The tax is the same either way you take it."

"What would founders of our government say if they could see our attitude today toward that government?" asked the speaker.

"We as a people have gotten into the habit of looking to the government to support us rather than supporting the government," he continued.

Finding Fault. "The average man finds fault with the government, state and national, over trifles and without knowing the facts. The average man is honest in his belief that burden of taxation is pauperizing the people," the senator said, and continued, in part, as follows:

"The average man pays no direct tax to the federal government except, perhaps, a small income tax. His tax is an indirect one paid by someone else and carried forward to him in the price of merchandise he purchases."

"One party urges a tariff for revenue should be levied high enough to make up the difference between cost of producing a product here and of delivering it from some other place. The other party urges tariff levy high enough to support the government, economically administered."

"The state tax is direct but, after all, it is not your real burden. The average man feels the legislature has voted a burden upon him."

"I am one who believes expense of government should be cut but if that is cut to a conservative figure your state tax would not be cut."

Constitutional Taxes. "You pay 35 cents on the $100 valuation for support of state educational institutions. No man has ever yet suggested that tax should be reduced even a half-cent. You pay a sum sufficient to enable the state to pay back to you $17.50 per capita for schools and to make possible payment of $6,000,000 in special aid to rural schools. This fund now is larger than it ever has been. You pay to the state money for purchase of school books. Then you pay 7 cents per $100 valuation for pensions to confederate veterans and their widows. This 35 cent levy and the 7 cent levy are constitutional. They can not be changed by the legislature."

"Then you have a 32-cent ad valorem tax for support of the state in all respects, such as eleemosynary institutions, the penitentiary, schools for the blind, deaf and dumb."

"If expense of the state government were reduced five millions (which can not be done) it would amount to one dollar per person per year and if you further reduce government expense, of which you hear so much, the burden would not be lessened."

Propaganda. "There is much propaganda today from special interests which seek reduction in government costs not so much for any benefit the people might derive but to reduce taxes on their own products. 'The burden' is not a state burden. In some counties the local tax is as much as ten times higher than the state tax. There are counties that levy a tax to retire road, drainage, irrigation, courthouse bonds and bonds of other types. Cities and towns levy taxes to retire school, street paving, street light, municipal building, jail bonds. In my home county, Coleman, the total of city, school, state and county tax is $4.70 per $100 and of all that sum the legislature is responsible for only 32 cents. The same proportion will apply to your county and city, although your county and city tax rates are no so high as those of many."

"In my town the people have been begging the national government for 50 years to build them a new postoffice. Thirty days ago that building was opened at a cost of $100,000 to the government. We are responsible for that expenditure. We want other things from the national government and they all call for expenditure of money."

Biggest Problem. "While we are finding fault with the government over mere trifles we are overlooking the biggest problem and the greatest investment we have—our children. It is a sad situation, the degree to which parents have lost control of their child. Recognizing the strengths and weakness of men we know they can do for themselves what they can not do for themselves. Man can not control his own emotions, his thoughts, or even his conduct. "But man, by harnessing the OKLAHOMA CITY, (AP)—Three women were drowned and unverified reports of other deaths were the aftermath of a sudden flood sweeping Oklahoma City early Friday.

Fourth Violent Death In This Vicinity Within Week

J. H. Smith, 30, of Anott community, was shot dead at a tourist camp on the west highway at 12:30 a. m. Friday.

H. C. Copeland, manager of the camp, surrendered to county officers and was released under bond of $2,500 on a charge of murder to await action of the September grand jury.

Deputy Sheriffs Andrew Merrick and Bob Wolf were on their way from their homes to the camp when Smith was killed. They had been called by telephone by a relative of Mr. Copeland, residing in the headquarters house of the tourist camp with the Copeland family.

Asked To Hurry. The telephone call urged officers to hurry, that a man whom the occupants did not know was trying to get into the house after having been refused admittance.

Copeland, who came here about two months ago and was managing the camp for Joe Flock, the owner, said Smith came to the place about midnight and asked to be allowed to come in. Copeland refused, saying he did not know the man.

When he fired a shotgun the man was kicking the door and using loud language, said Copeland to officers.

SPORTS ON PARADE

By CURTIS BISHOP

The proposed meeting of the various managers supposedly anxious yesterday evening was an inglorious failure. There was no one on hand but Lex James, and though Mr. James is a very fine man indeed and can do lots of things he cannot have four teams to enter in a baseball league. In fact we doubt very much if he will have one good one, but he declares that he will. Mr. James also says that he is one of the few left-handed batters in captivity that can hit left-handed pitching. Yesterday this writer made two golf predictions. We said that Gus Moreland of Dallas would win the River Crest Invitational. Earl D. Irons of Arlington promptly eliminated Moreland 3 up and 2. We picked Mrs. Dave Gant of Memphis, Tenn., to win the Southern golf tournament, and Mrs. Gant was immediately beaten by Mrs. Walter Beyer of Tulsa, Oklahoma, 4 up and 3 to play. We had said previously that Shirley Robbins and Charles Qualls would lick Frank Rose and E. C. Nix. They did not. They did not even come very close to it. Sometimes we wish we were dead.

Midland and Colorado has been transferred to the Colorado course. The Midland links is still under water, and no doubt Messrs. Jackson, Day, and Thomas will drop another one-sided decision to Bob Scott and Co. this week-end. After all a little practice is necessary in any form of sport. Our suggestion is that the Midlandites abandon golf and turn to water polo. You're welcome.

A chap named Jolley, who participated for the Chicago White Sox last year and who batted for an average of .318, slammed out four home runs in one game Tuesday to tie all known record for circuit slugging in a single contest. Gene Ely, who isn't any bigger than we are, hit three home runs in a single inning in Waco in the summer of 1930.

In spite of such an auspicious beginning Adams was not batting .300 by midseason. Manly, Setz, Baumgarten, Antista, Adams, White, Ross, Hellums, and another outfielder made up the Cowboy outfielders for the year.

Local Stars At Texas U.

Among the Texas University students who received degrees of Master of Arts this term was a former Big Spring boy, George Russell Sparenberg, son of Mrs. Geo. Sparenberg, of Austin.

George Russell left Big Spring when he was about 11 with his parents to make Austin his home. He obtained his A. B. from the University of Texas, majoring in petroleum geology. For several years he has been connected with the Shell Corporation.

George finished his work for his Master's in January. He has been doing post graduate work since then.

Charles Spatenberg, the oldest son, also obtained his A. B. degree from this university. Last year he was made auditor of the university and now makes his home in Austin.

Among the few who will receive two degrees at once is Miss Helen Creath, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Creath. She will receive her degree of B. A. with history her major. She will also receive the degree of B. S. with education as her major.

In addition to carrying the work necessary for obtaining these two degrees, Helen, an unusually well-rounded student, has also done much extra-curricular work this past year. She was honored by being chosen as one of three undergraduates eligible for the Garrison History Club, a club composed of graduates and faculty members. She was sent to College Station in March as a delegate from the Texas Bible Chair and General Christian Church, to a student volunteer conference of the South Texas Un-

Dodgers And Braves Split

Wilson Hits Sixth Homer In First Rookie Again Hurls Victory

BROOKLYN — The Dodgers and the Braves each displayed one first-rank pitching performance and each won a game in Wednesday's double header. Brooklyn captured the opener 4-1 behind the five hit pitching of Danny Vance and young Bob Brown; the Dodger nemesis, replied with a four hit game and a 5-1 triumph for the Braves.

Hack Wilson provided the big blow of the first game with his sixth home run of the season and followed it by touching Brown for his seventh circuit drive in the ninth inning of the second clash to prevent a shutout.

Despite the split, the Dodgers took fourth place in the standing, a single point ahead of the defeated Pittsburgh Pirates.

Brown, the 29-year old rookie who has beaten Brooklyn four times in making a record of five straight National league victories, again was almost untouchable, while Van Mungo was in constant trouble although he fanned six men in three innings.

MRS. MCDOWELL ENTERTAINS

Mrs. L. S. McDowell was hostess to three tables of bridge Thursday afternoon on her lawn. The still, cool day, the shades of the big cedar on the hostess' lovely lawn and the movement of the game made the party a very attractive one. A delicious luncheon was served to the players after the close of the games but no scores were kept.

WHY HILLS BROS COFFEE IS THE MOST ECONOMICAL COFFEE TO BUY

If you are sincerely interested in quality and economy, you will read these facts about the largest selling brand of coffee between the Pacific Coast and Chicago.

Millions, who are as careful about their household budgets as they are about the goodness of the coffee they buy, have made the discovery that Hills Bros. Coffee is the most economical.

That is one reason why more people, from Chicago to the Pacific, buy more Hills Bros. Coffee than any other brand.

They know that the quality of coffee determines the flavor. They know that the strength of coffee determines the number of good cups you can make. Flavor without strength is expensive. Strength without flavor is unsatisfying.

Only the highest quality selected coffees are used at the Hills Bros. plant. These coffees plus perfect roasting, grinding and packing, give Hills Bros. Coffee its full-bodied strength and rich, delicious flavor.

Why Hills Bros. Coffee goes further

This abundance of flavor is the reason Hills Bros. Coffee goes further. It is why Hills Bros. offers the greatest value. Indeed, Hills Bros. Coffee gives you such unusual goodness that your first cup is a notable and remembered occasion.

The U. S. Customs Districts' records of coffee imports offer substantial proof of the unusual quality found in Hills Bros. Coffee. These records show that the per pound value of coffee received in the San Francisco Customs District in 1931 was 30 per cent higher than New York's importations and 50 per cent higher than New Orleans'. Hills Bros.' plant is located in San Francisco. The enormous quantities of high-grade coffee used by Hills Bros. are responsible for the quality showing of this port in the United States records.

The high quality and flavor of Hills Bros. Coffee account for its popularity throughout major area of United States

Back in the eighties, A. H. and R. W. Hills paved the way for their product to become the most popular coffee from the Pacific Coast to Chicago. They concluded that a worth-while coffee business could be built only by selling the finest quality of coffee. For fifty-four years, the attention of every individual in the Hills Bros. organization has been centered on the production of quality.

Quality in coffee cannot be seen with the eye nor measured in the laboratory. It can be determined only by tasting and smelling—how it tastes in the cup. Seven men devote their entire time to the blending of Hills Bros. Coffee. None of these men has less than nine years of experience; one has been blending and testing coffee for fifty-four years. The buying of good green coffees is the whole story. These testers know how to take the finest of green coffees from every country of the world that grows good coffee and blend them into one harmonious whole, and secure the same result year in, year out.

Hills Bros. took the guess out of roasting their coffee

It is interesting that almost every step in the coffee business seems of equal importance. First, to market good coffee, you must buy high-grade green coffee. And even though the green coffees are good, they must be properly blended. Yet, the finest blend cannot be developed to full flavor by poor roasting.

The common method of roasting coffee is in batches of several hundred pounds, but Hills Bros. roast in small quantities by their exclusive process—"Controlled Roasting". It is precise. Every berry receives the same even roast—just the roast required to develop the delightful goodness that nature makes possible. The process never varies, neither does the flavor. People who appreciate the same fine flavor in their coffee, meal after meal, continually praise this feature of Hills Bros. Coffee.

Quality insured and safeguarded by grinding and packing

Through scientific tests, Hills Bros. have determined the degree of granulation that will give the most satisfactory results in making coffee. The grinding is done by machines which, like Controlled Roasting, embody certain exclusive principles developed by Hills Bros. If you make coffee in a Drip Pot, Percolator, Urn, or even in a saucepan, the granulation of Hills Bros. Coffee will give perfect results.

In July, 1900, Hills Bros. originated the vacuum process of packing coffee. The vacuum process is the only method that fully preserves coffee freshness—the air is removed from the can and kept out. And remember, there is no magic about a vacuum can, it will not make poor coffee good but it will keep good coffee fresh.

A month's trial will be a revelation in value received

Drink Hills Bros. Coffee! Every steaming, fragrant cup will be a thrill to your taste. You will enjoy a flavor and satisfaction such as you never dreamed of. Compared with Hills Bros.' flavor and quality, any other coffee would cost you more.

Here is the coffee of coffees. The choicest berries of the world's crop, expertly blended, perfectly roasted, ground to the correct degree and packed in vacuum to keep fresh always. Order Hills Bros. today. Ask for it by name and look for the Arab trade-mark on the can. Hills Bros., San Francisco, California.

"You're so sweet, Cherry," he whispered, catching her close again. The words might have been a prayer.

"Then-you do care?" "But didn't you know? You must have! Oh, Cherry, these last three days have been rotten! I've been worried about you. Kept telephoning but I couldn't get any satisfaction. After a while I began to think maybe you didn't want to talk to me. Couldn't really blame you either. Remember the things your father said."

It was at that moment that the taxi driver decided he had endured enough. For several minutes the cab had been held up by traffic signals. Now the red light was glowing.

"Say," he said in a tone not to be ignored, "where do you people want to go?"

"Anywhere," Dan told him. "Drive-or, drive out through Jefferson Park."

The cab moved forward. Cherry's head nestled comfortably against Dan's shoulder. His arm was about her. Neither realized how time was passing.

The address featured a colorful program. Shine Phillips was toastmaster. The Settles hotel crystal ballroom was beautiful with room decorations and table appointments. A wonderful dinner was served to about 150 persons.

Following Senator Woodward's address Ray Simmons "took charge," posing as Graham McNutt, announcer for Station FLOP, Big Spring, Texas, operating on "643 motorcycles, 300 jolts and two charges of gin."

Gomez Again Defeats Sens

Sewell Walks, Babe Ruth Out Short Hit For Winning Run

PHILADELPHIA — Vernon "Lefty" Gomez, the Yankees' albatross southpaw who had been poison to the Athletics and most of the other American league clubs this season, did it again Thursday.

Gomez won his ninth victory of the season, his sixth in succession and his fourth over the A's by a 5-1 count. He gave eight hits and seven walks but struck out ten rivals to make it an even 70 for the season.

Three runs, off Merritt "Sugar" Cain in the third inning settled the decision but the Yanks went on hitting effectively against his three successors.

The deciding inning opened when Joe Sewell drew a walk and Babe Ruth beat out a short hit.

Philadelphia's only run came in the second inning when McNair the only Athletic who could hit Gomez consistently, tripled and scored on Dykes' long fly.

Joe Sewell, Yankee third baseman, had to leave the game after he had twice crashed into the stands chasing fouls off Al Simmons' bat.

Score by innings:
New York ..... 003 001 100-5
Philadelphia ..... 010 000 000-1

BROWNS & WHITE SOX 3
CHICAGO—St. Louis shelled Al Thomas with two doubles, three singles and a base on balls in the third inning Thursday to score all their runs and defeat the White Sox 4-2. In the series opener, Burns, Ferrell and Meillo accounted for the runs.

The White Sox found Coffman for ten hits but were unable to bunt them except in the fourth when they scored their two runs.

St. Louis ..... 004 000 000-4 8 0
Chicago ..... 000 200 000-2 10 3
Coffman and Ferrell; Thomas, Gregory, Faber and Grube.

SEAS 6-8, RED SOX 4-1
BOSTON — The Washington Senators took a double header from the lowly Red Sox Thursday by scores of 6-4 and 8-1.

Monte Weaver annexed his eighth victory of the season in the opener although he was taken out for a pinch hitter. Fred Marberry finished.

Bob Burke's left-handed slants puzzled the Sox in the second contest, and they never were in the running.

Eva West was hit on the head by a pitched ball in the last frame of the nightcap and was forced to retire.

First game:
Washington ..... 101 012 010-6 14 2
Boston ..... 002 110 000-4 7 4

TODAY and TOMORROW

By WALTER LIPPMANN
The Fall of Bruening

Now that he has fallen, tributes will be paid to Dr. Bruening all over the world, and everywhere there will be great regret that so experienced and upright a statesman is no longer the German spokesman. He is the best liked and most trusted man in Europe. No one else who has been in power has displayed such courage, such mastery in political maneuver, such intellectual grasp and clean devotion. Every personal quality necessary to guide Germany and to bind Europe together again has been his. He has lacked only men of equal stature in other countries with whom he could work.

For though it appears that he has fallen because of intrigue by the Nationalists—the generals, the old junkers and perhaps the heavy industrialists—what undermined him and thus made the intrigue possible was the failure of France, Britain and the United States to take a single constructive step toward the restoration of international confidence and of the trade and credit which depend upon it. Eleven months have passed since the moratorium was proclaimed and in those eleven months the politicians, particularly in France and the United States, have deluded and protested and have dug themselves into a pit of illusions. As time dragged on the chances of a reasonable solution diminished and the position of Dr. Bruening grew steadily weaker. Eleven months ago a workable adjustment with the forces he represented was possible. But the politicians in Paris and Washington, playing upon the suspicions of their bamboozled constituents, would concede nothing. They gave Dr. Bruening no support and now that he is gone, they will have to deal with men with whom it will be much less easy to deal.

The Bruening Government was a dictatorship which rested upon the army, but enjoyed the consent of moderate German opinion. Although it was dictatorship, it was republican in spirit and pacifist in principle. It aimed at the consolidation of Germany during the economic crisis and at the gradual revision of the Treaty of Versailles by international consent. But in recent months, under the pressure of economic misery and the disappointment resulting from the wooden policies of Paris and Washington, the moderate opinion which tempered the underlying military dictatorship has been whittled away. Of late, it has been evident that Dr. Bruening was rapidly losing the civilian support which he had used so skillfully to hold the army in line.

At the time of the elections it was already beginning to be clear that only the personality of President von Hindenburg remained to moderate the force of nationalist sentiment. The situation was very unstable. For one old man, however great his prestige, could hardly be counted upon, artificially to hold up a government which had ceased to represent either the dominant sentiment of the nation or the real concentration of force within it. That von Hindenburg has now reverted to the views of the class from which he sprang is not astonishing. That is where, for the moment at least, the real power in Germany resides.

It would be idle just now to attempt to forecast the consequences for Europe and the world. There is this much, however, that can be said which is reassuring. It is always an advantage, especially in critical times, to deal with men who are principals, with men who wield the actual power. Dr. Bruening had ceased to be a principal. He had become weakened to a point where, in order to remain in office, he was being compelled to carry out the will of the hidden powers. Now those powers must come forward and plainly reveal their purposes.

What those purposes are the world does not clearly know, but it is a reasonable surmise that they will usher in, a period of reaction within the Reich. Whether this reaction will be as black as the Hitlerites would make it, or whether there impends a more moderate type of reaction which will be strong enough to rob the Nazis of their thunder but not so strong as to throw opinion violently to the extreme Left—these are questions which no one can answer now.

In the field of foreign affairs it is, however, plain that Germany will not agree to pay any more reparations. It has been evident enough for a long time that Germany would not actually pay. The only real question has been whether her non-payment would be temporarily disguised by some new formula which the politicians could use to delude their peoples a little longer. It now looks as if there would be no new formula, and that the time for amiable pretenses has passed.

What else the Nationalists have up their sleeves there is no way of telling. But this much is as clear as anything can be. The one single check that can be applied to their ambitions is a solid cooperation between Paris and London. The German Nationalists will understand and respect that. The question, therefore, is whether London and Paris will have the good sense to see that the stability of Europe depends upon their willingness to scrap the issues which divide them. For if each continues to play its own game, if M. Herriot keeps his mind fixed upon proving that a strong man he is, if the British government lets itself be directed in part by the anti-French prejudices of the City and in part by its traditional theory of a balance of power in Europe, there will be no Franco-British co-operation; and the German Nationalists will have a free hand at keeping every one's nerves on edge.

MANY CASES of Sick Headache are due to Constipation, because when poisons are retained in the system, pains come to warn you that something is wrong.

Remove the cause of the pain when you have headache. If you are constive, take the powdered herb laxative, Theodore's Black-Draught. It will help to drive out the poisons and soon make you feel better.

These tobaccos are blended and cross-blended... "welded" together in such a way as to bring out the best in each kind of tobacco.

CHESTERFIELDS are made right—the right size—to give a cool and smooth smoke. They're mild—yet not flat. They're not oversweet—but sweet enough.
