Study Shows Texas Needs $150 Million New Revenue For '72-73

By LEE JONES
Associated Press Writer
AUSTIN (AP)—With one special legislative session gone, politicians are grasping for any ray of hope about the big problem of the next one—taxes.

They found some encouragement in a Texas Research League report Friday that said they might not have to raise as much new revenue this summer as they had thought.

But nobody was talking about how they wanted to raise whatever amount of money is needed to balance the state budget for the fiscal year starting Sept. 1.

"I haven't got a new tax chairman yet," was Speaker Rayford Price's dodge.

"Let's wait and let Gov. (Preston) Smith recommend them, that's his constitutional role," said Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes.

Smith made the session necessary last June when he vetoed the second half of a two-year general appropriations bill.

He said at the time, using an argument favored by Barnes, that a smaller tax bill might be needed if action on the second year of the bill was delayed.

The Research League report justified Smith's position, saying the latest tax estimate by Comptroller Robert S. Calvert showed $95 million more would be available for appropriation than Calvert had forecast last summer.

In addition, the league said, "It now appears that $150 million in new revenue will be needed to finance the second year of the 1972-73 biennium."

"That is a lot of money and a serious problem, but a lot less grim than the dire predictions of $300 million that have been attributed to state budget officials in recent months."

The league, directed and financed by industrialists and businessmen, recalled Smith's hope that his veto might inspire legislators to economize.

Jim Oliver, Smith's budget director, said several alternative budgets are being prepared for Smith to consider. One of them, Oliver said, includes a reduced state budget that could be passed without imposing new taxes.

At a joint news conference Friday, Barnes—who is running against Smith for governor in the Democratic primary—and Price also picked up the belittling issue.

They said they felt the league's $150 million estimate of new taxes "can be trimmed even further."

"We will direct the Legislative Budget Board staff to put the pencil to agency requirements with that purpose in mind. Projects which can be delayed without harming or retarding programs and services will be cut," Price and Barnes said.

Copies of the statement were passed out by one of the public relations men directing Barnes' campaign for governor.

Barnes held out some hope that congress might pass a welfare reform bill that would shunt about $30 million of Texas welfare costs to the federal government this summer, cutting tax needs even more.

But he later said he did not know whether the bill actually appropriated funds to take over state welfare costs or was merely an authorization.

If tax needs go to $100 million or less for the 1973 fiscal year, Barnes said he "would rule out a sales tax increase."

Christendom Celebrates Resurrection Of Christ

Pampa Marking Easter With Varied Activities

Warmer temperatures were expected today as Pampans prepared to observe the Easter holiday with church services, Easter egg hunts and other activities.

Church services were to begin early today as the Tru-Teens girls service club sponsored the sixth annual community-wide Easter Sunrise services in Aspen Park at 6:30 a.m.

The various churches throughout the city prepared to conduct special services of 20 present special programs and to have special activities in celebration of the resurrection of Jesus Christ.

Children looked forward to the appearance of the Easter bunny with his basket of eggs and other goodies.

The expected warm weather should make the traditional egg

GEORGE MCCARROLL Wins Post Of Board

George McCarroll, Celanese executive, edged out Pampa businessman Paul Simmons by 10 votes to capture the lone position open on the Pampa school board.

A total of 1,771 votes were cast Saturday voters numbered 1,375 while 396 absentee ballots were counted.

McCarroll, operations manager at Celanese, garnered 620 votes with 610 going to Simmons. The Rev. Sam Hulsey, a local pastor, was close behind them with 572. The Rev. Raymond Van Amber, another pastor, trailed with 29.

All four were avowed conservatives fiscally and none were lacking in qualifications. This pointed to sheer force of "electioneering" as the deciding factor.

Dr. Raymond Hampton had declined to run again after a number of years of service on the board. The post is strictly one of community service since there is no remuneration whatever involved.

McCarroll will officially take his seat on the panel at the regular April meeting.

Pilgrims Jamming Holy Land Church

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Christendom is celebrating the feast that anchors its faith Sunday in joyous religious rites, family gatherings and Easter holiday trips.

The bells of Rome's 500 churches pealed out at midnight to announce Christ's resurrection. The clang of the 10-ton campanone, the master bell on St. Peter's Basilica, led off the chorus of rejoicing.

Tens of thousands of Italians and foreign pilgrims packed Rome's churches for midnight Masses. Pope Paul VI began the feast for Roman Catholics with an Easter Vigil Mass a few hours earlier in the magnificence of the basilica.

More than a thousand pilgrims jammed Jerusalem's most sacred church at dawn to witness a Holy Saturday ceremony—the lighting of new fire to signal the Resurrection and its message of salvation for Christians.

The Roman Catholic services ended with High Mass sung by the patriarch before the door of the Byzantine tomb where tradition says Christ rose from the dead.

Observances continued throughout the day at the Church of the Holy Sepulchre and other Jerusalem holy places, including the garden tomb where some Protestants believe the Resurrection took place.

Officials said more than 20,000 visitors were in Jerusalem for the feast.

As the Western Holy Week drew to a climax, the Eastern Holy Week was just getting under way. For Eastern churches, such as the Armenian, Coptic, Greek and Syrian Orthodox and Russian churches, Easter falls next Sunday.

The weekend's religious celebrations held a special meaning for the parade of West Berliners crossing the Berlin wall into East Berlin and East Germany for the first Easter visits in six years.

Holy Saturday was another day of fear in Northern Ireland. The province remained torn by the bitter antagonisms separating the two Irish branches of the Christian faith.

Britons drove out of London in such numbers that authorities reported a seven-mile traffic jam on one highway. But the morning rush slowed as a wide belt of rain crossed the country.

Holiday makers seeking to flee the rain packed British airports for flights to friendlier climates.

Millions of Spaniards also fled their cities and headed for resorts at the beach or in the mountains. Those who stayed behind looked forward to traditional Easter Sunday bullfights and theater premieres.

Frenchmen, particularly Parisians, also headed for the country.

In the United States, President Nixon moved his family to Camp David, Md., for a holiday weekend which was scheduled to include Sunday morning at church in the Maryland mountain country where the camp is located.

In New York, possible show-ers were forecast for the annual Easter Parade on Fifth

Holiday-Minded Youths Converging On Resort

PORT ISABEL, Tex. (AP)—South Padre Island was one huge traffic jam Saturday as thousands of college students congregated for the Easter holiday weekend.

Observers said there was no doubt that this year's crowd will surpass last year's record of 65,000 in this area near Brownsville.

Isla Blanca Park at the southern end of the island was jammed with tents of every description, size and color.

Traffic at times was jammed across the Queen Isabella Causeway into Port Isabel. Many of the young people were walking up and down the single road between the causeway and the surfing contest, adding to the jam.

Many more tents were erected than in past years, including some less than two feet from the pavement. Rock music blared, students shouted at one another, but many chose the solitude of stretching out in the warm sun.

Many were coated with white suntan lotion. Others evidently didn't need the lotion—soothing ointment was the only thing that would help their sunburned bodies.

Portuguese man-of-war bites were being treated at the rate of about six per hour at a mobile medical unit set up by Baptist organizations. The mobile stations are manned by Baptist Student Union members from Texas college campuses.

Dr. James Brock of Valley Mills near Waco, and Dr. Kerfoot Walker of Tyler were on duty at the Baptist medical unit.

A spokesman for the Cameron County Parks Department said the young people mostly were well behaved.

Port Isabel police arrested 14 persons on various charges in involving drug abuse Friday night and early Saturday morning.

Reds Stage Major Offensive Against South Viet's Bases

SAIGON (AP)—Pouring across the demilitarized zone, powerful North Vietnamese forces struck South Vietnamese bases Saturday in the bloodiest fighting since the Tet offensive in 1968. Government forces were driven from four more bases.

U.S. air forces impatiently awaited the lifting of heavy clouds to launch massive air strikes in North Vietnam, informants reported. Two U.S. guided-missile destroyers were blasting enemy targets in the buffer zone, seeking out heavy guns with a 16-mile range that have been shelling the bases.

By dusk, the North Vietnamese were reported to have pushed to within five miles of Quang Tri, the provincial capital, and were within recoilless-rifle range of the Quang Tri headquarters base of the South Vietnamese 3rd Infantry Division two miles to the northwest.

The North Vietnamese drive, now labeled an offensive, appeared designed to seize Quang Tri and perhaps the whole province. It obviously was designed to defeat the South Vietnamese and set back the Vietnamization campaign.

The South Vietnamese now have abandoned 10 bases and outposts since the North Vietnamese opened their attack Thursday. Field reports said more than 8,000 rounds of long-range artillery, rockets and mortar shells had rained on South Vietnamese bases and towns in the past three days.

Bases abandoned Saturday were the major one at Nui Bah Ho, Elliott, Alpha 2 and Charlie 2 strung along the demilitarized zone. The South Vietnamese retreated Friday from Camp Fuller, Khe Gio, Sarge and Alpha 4 and the outpost at Nui Bah Ho East, which was overrun Camp Holcomb was abandoned Thursday.

At least three of the remaining six bases, Mai Loc, Pedro and Charlie 1, were in peril at last reports at nightfall. Marines in Mai Loc were reported running desperately low on ammunition.

The other three bases left were Camp Carroll and the big combat bases at Dong Ha and Quang Tri. The Quang Tri base was being hit by about 20 long-range artillery shells an hour in the afternoon.

Lt. Gen. Hoang Xuan Lam, the commander in the north, estimated that about 30,000 North Vietnamese had plunged into the battle after crossing the so-called demilitarized zone, which is supposed to be neutral territory dividing Viet-nam.

In a statement issued in Saigon, he said three North Vietnamese divisions, three artillery regiments and antiaircraft units equipped with surface-to-air missiles had crossed the zone in the past three days and his forces were engaged in several bloody battles.

To meet the North Vietnamese, Lam has the South Vietnamese 3rd Infantry Division, whose strength is not disclosed

Chaplain Acquitted Of Charge

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—Chaplain Andrew F. Jensen, acquitted by a Navy court martial of a charge of misconduct by adultery, said Saturday his only interest now was "to put this behind me" and continue as a Navy officer.

In Philadelphia, Victor Tupiza, director of communications for the American Baptist Convention Home Missions Society, demanded that the Navy make restitution to Jensen for $12,000 in legal fees and give assurances that such a court martial would not happen again.

Jensen's adultery court martial was the first of its kind in U.S. Navy history.

The 43-year-old minister holds the rank of commander and was recommended for promotion to captain at the time Mary Ann Curran, 24, and Lora Gudbranson, 38, signed complaints against him Aug. 11, 1971.

McGovern, HHH Appear In Front In Tuesday's Wisconsin Primary

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP)—George McGovern and Hubert H. Humphrey appear to be in front, and Edmund S. Muskie is in trouble, as Wisconsin voters prepare to settle their crowded Democratic presidential primary Tuesday.

In the waning days of the campaign, the momentum seemed to be shifting to South Dakota's Sen. McGovern as he challenged Muskie, the field and Humphrey, who has been ranked as the favorite.

At stake were 67 votes at the Democratic National Convention and a big political lift for the candidate who could capture a statewide victory.

Muskie, the former Democratic front runner now battling to stay with the top primary contenders, acknowledged that both McGovern and Humphrey "have a leg up on me here."

The senator from Maine sought to play down the impact of the season's fourth primary.

"I don't think any one primary, including Wisconsin's, is going to be that important," he said. "My target is 51 per cent of the delegates at the convention next July."

But that target can't be achieved by losing primaries.

McGovern forecast victory.

"I'm confident we're going to win, and we're going to win all the way," he said.

Humphrey campaigned like a leader, without a word of criticism for his rivals but with promise after promise to help the farmer, the taxpayer the elderly, the jobless.

"I caution my fellow Democrats to remember that we have an election to win," said Humphrey. "We shouldn't beat up on each other."

Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace roamed the state beating up on all the other entrants, drawing overflow crowds to his rallies, contending that his rivals started copying him on issues such as tax reduction and reform after he won the Florida primary March 14.

"I raised the issue first, and now all the rest of them are running over themselves wanting to reduce your taxes," Wallace told his crowds. "And they ought to reduce them because they put 'em on you."

The Wallace thing is the real sleeper in this whole election," said John F. English, a top Muskie strategist. "Who he takes the vote away from becomes very important."

English acknowledged Wallace probably would cut into the Muskie vote, particularly in

Spring's The Thing In Pampa Dollar Day Monday

Congressman Announces Meetings In Panhandle

Congressman Bob Price Saturday announced his schedule of meetings and appearances set for the Congressional Easter recess.

In keeping with a tradition he has followed since his election to the House of Representatives, Price emphasized that the many get-acquainted meetings he has scheduled are non-partisan and completely open to the public.

Starting Tuesday the congressman will be in Wichita Falls for four meetings. On Wednesday he will speak to high school students in Seymour and address the Seymour Lions Club at noon. Wednesday night he will be back in Wichita Falls.

Thursday, April 6, Price will attend a Town Hall meeting in Spearman at 9 a.m. and speak at a Rotary Club noonday luncheon in Perryton.

Meetings in Booker, Darrrouzett, Follett and Higgins are scheduled Thursday afternoon and evening.

He will hold a news conference in his Amarillo office at 9:30 a.m. Friday and meet with Amarillo College students at 11 a.m.

Friday afternoon meetings are set for Kress and Tula and he returns to Amarillo for the West Texas State University Honor Society Ball at 7 p.m. in the Chef Luis Restaurant.

A Town Hall meeting will be held in Miami at 9:30 a.m. next Saturday and at noon Price will attend a barbecue luncheon in Canadian.

The congressman will wind up his Easter recess visits with a 3 p.m. Saturday meeting in Wheeler and a 7:30 p.m. Jaycee banquet in Gruver Saturday night.

Area Youths Get Probation Terms

PERRYTON — Gary Kline and Tim Norris received five-year probation terms each in an appearance in 84th judicial district court here Wednesday.

The two pleaded guilty to burglary charges stemming from a break-in last year at Sanford Pharmacy, where a large quantity of drugs had been taken.

Other charges in connection with the case are to remain pending, contingent upon Kline and Norris obeying the terms of their probation on the burglary charges.

Both signed waivers of grand jury indictment, possible under new state law, and both entered guilty pleas

Primary Vote Registration Deadline Set

Voters planning to cast ballots in the May 6 primary must register no later than Wednesday.

Officials are concerned lest voters are confused by the new Texas voter registration law and miss their opportunity in the upcoming primary. The recently enacted statute allows persons to register at any time during the year. However, such registration is not valid for an election until a full 30 days after the application is received at the county tax assessor-collector's office.

This intervening time is necessary to prepare voter rolls.

Persons who have moved from the precinct in which they registered to another precinct may vote in the old precinct for 30 days. After that time their certificate of registration should be presented in the new precinct. It will be validated in five days.

However, the chief concern is with those persons who think the new law allows them to register right up to voting day. While there is no longer an annual cut-off date, there is a "per-election" deadline. Once again: for the May 6 primary—that is Wednesday.

Pampa High To Present One-Act Play Thursday

The Pampa High School drama department will present an evening of one-act plays, beginning at 7 p.m. Thursday, in the school auditorium.

The three plays to be presented are "Riders to the Sea," with Cara Thomas as student director; "Sorry Wrong Number," with Sara Walker as student director; and "The Little Foxes," with Mrs. Rochelle Lacy as Faculty director.

"Riders to the Sea" concerns an old Irish woman and her acceptance of tragedy as the seas take her final son. The presentation is an image of unchanging human experience.

Cast members include: Maurya-Sara Walker; Cathleen-Vickie Miller; Nora-Kathleen Fitzgerald; Bartley-Jerry Sims. Villagers are Terri Malone, Mary Williams, Kim Campbell, David Burns, Glen Davis, and Lloydene Melton.

"Sorry Wrong Number" is a suspense story. It involves an invalid woman who overhears a murder plot on the telephone but is unable to prevent it. This play builds to surprising climax.

Cast members include Mrs. Stevenson-Cindy Gill, first man-Rip Thomas, first operator-Marsha Walters; Western-Union man-Don Alexander; George-Kevin Walls; Duffy-Rick Powers; Woman-Pat Greenwood; second operator-Kathleen Fitzgerald; third operator-Marsha Walters; chief operator-Gayla Rigsby; Information-Pam Vandever.

"The Little Foxes" is a character study in greed and ambition. The play centers around Regina Hubbard Giddens and her brothers and their plot to establish a cotton mill. This play was previously taken to the ENMU Drama Festival in Portales, where Retha Jordan won an Excellent Acting Award.

"The Little Foxes" will be presented for UIL District One-Act Play Contest in Canyon, April 7.

Police Query Calif. Youths

Ronald William Murrah, 19, Mead, Calif. and Donald Edwin Hughes, 20, Grand Terrace, Calif. stand charged with possession of intoxicating beverages while Pampa police await further report from California of any record or any "hold" on the pair.

Officer Roland McGill on patrol was stopped at the intersection of Brown and Cuyler when a vehicle pulled up beside him and the occupants started laughing and pointing at the police unit.

He stopped them on South Cuyler "to see what was so funny" and found Murrah with an expired California drivers license.

At the police station officers decided there was something funny about the drivers license, according to their report, and intensified their questioning. Murrah admitted it was not his and gave his true identity.

He and Hughes were booked for "minors in possession" while Pampa police await answer to their teletype from California.

Two fifths of alcoholic beverage were taken from their vehicle, according to the official account, and it was locked up on the ramp at headquarters.

County Residents Asked To Support Easter Seal

A last-minute appeal for support of the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults and its program of services to the handicapped was issued Saturday by Paul Keim, Easter Seal representative in Gray County.

The Easter Seal Society provided treatment and services for over 22,000 physically handicapped children and adults in Texas last year, Keim said, and the program needs to be expanded.

The Society is carrying out a continuing program to seek out the disabled who are doing without services and see that they receive the help they need. As Easter Seal Representative, Keim is the person to contact for services from the Society.

The Easter Seal Society of Texas helps support 19 treatment facilities in Texas where crippled children and adults are treated, regardless of their ability to pay. Physical, occupational and speech therapy are offered to help the handicapped overcome disabilities. A complete referral program to ensure equal rehabilitation services to every person in Texas is included in Easter Seal Society services.

The Easter Seal Appeal will close today, April 2, and full support should be given the Easter Seal Society by every citizen of Gray County, Keim added.

Store Burglarized

A person or persons broke into the ice machine at Ward's Minit Mart, 2100 Perryton Parkway Friday night and took three bags of ice.

The owner of the store estimated damage to the machine at approximately $35.

There was no other apparent damage or loss.

Revival Continues

Bethel Assembly of God Church, revival is still in progress until April 9, services begin at 7:30 nightly, except Saturday.

Special singing is featured at each service. Evangelist Ruth Reece has been preaching anointed messages each evening this past week.

Pastor Van Amber, the Evangelist, and all the fine people of Bethel welcome all who come.

Gray County Court Holds Brief Meet

Members of the Gray County Commissioners Court made short shrift of the business at hand Saturday morning. One of the shortest agendas of recent record called only for payment of bills and salaries.

Commissioner Joe Clarke, Lefors, presided over the session in the absence of Judge Don Cain.

LVNA Division 2 To Meet Tuesday

The Licensed Vocational Nurses Association, Division 2, which includes Pampa and Groom, will meet at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the Conference Room of Highland General Hospital.

Dr. Richard Falkenstein of Pampa will speak on diabetes.

All LVN's and students are urged to attend. Anyone with diabetes, or caring for a diabetic patient, is invited to attend.

Speaker Price Names Chairman Of House Unit

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Rep. Bill Finck, a lanky, country-talking San Antonio cigar manufacturer and attorney, was named chairman of the powerful House Appropriations Committee by new speaker Rayford Price.

Finck succeeds Rep. Bill Healy of Paducah, who has been the gruff-voiced heavy-handed chairman of the committee since 1963, plus another term in the 1970s.

Healy, 59, resigned last Monday night because, he said, he had become a campaign issue in the speaker's race between Price and Rep. DeWitt Hale of Corpus Christi. Healy backed Hale.

RUSSEL G. ALLEN
Funeral services will be held at 11 a.m. Monday in St. Matthew's Episcopal Church for Russel G. Allen, 71, first Southwest Division manager of Cabot Corporation in Pampa, who died Thursday afternoon in Austin.

Rev. Sam B. Hulsey of the St. Matthew's Episcopal Church will officiate, and burial will be in Fairview Cemetery.

The body will lie in state at Duengel Funeral Home until the time of services. The family requests that any memorials be sent to a favorite charity.

Born Oct. 4, 1901, in Crawfordville, Ind. he came to Pampa in 1927 with Cabot. He became general manager for the Southwest Division in 1930, holding that post until 1943, when he was transferred to Cabot's main offices in Boston as an executive vice president and director in charge of production and sales for Godfrey L. Cabot Inc. and its various subsidiaries. He moved to Austin following his retirement in 1962.

He was married to Margaret Buckler, daughter of the late C.E. Buckler, Oct. 20, 1925, in Pampa.

Survivors include his wife, four daughters, Mrs. James Smiley of Dallas, Mrs. Mary Cox of Arlington, and Misses Judith and Virginia Allen, both of Austin, one son, Russel G. Allen Jr. of Amarillo.

Palbearers will be R.A. Baker, Rex Rose, C.R. Hoover, E.L. Green Jr., Don Conley, W.L. Loving, Ralph Prock and Bert Arney.

Honorary palbearers will be William J. Smith, E.J. Dunigan Jr., L.R. Miller, Clinton Henry, Fred Hobart, Dr. H.H. Hicks, Dr. R.M. Bellamy, Johnny Watson, Jack Moyer, L.W. Cabot, Boyd Britton, John Bradley, John Andrews and Duke Cochran.

MRS. NETTIE REAMES
Funeral arrangements are pending with Carmichael-Whitley Funeral Directors for Mrs. Nettie Mae Reames, 66, who died at 3:45 p.m. Saturday in Highland General Hospital.

A resident of Sayre, Okla., she had lived in Borger from 1943 until 1967, when she moved to Hugo, Okla. She moved to Sayre in 1969.

Survivors include one sister, Mrs. Minnie Clark of Tahlequah, Okla., two grandchildren and one niece.

ALLAN HEARD
Funeral services were held Saturday in Tula for Allan S. Heard, 67, of Panhandle, who died Thursday morning in the Methodist Hospital, Houston, after undergoing surgery Wednesday.

He was owner of Heard and Jones Drug in Pampa, Borger, Amarillo and Tula. Born in Gainesville, Ga., he had lived in Tula since 1928.

A 32nd degree Mason, he was active in Tula civic affairs and a member of the National Association of Retail Druggists and the National Pharmacy Association.

He is survived by his wife, one son, two brothers, one sister and four grandchildren.

Army's Civilian KP Plan Attacked By Lawmakers

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army's plan to do away with KP in the "new volunteer Army" by hiring civilians for the job has run into fire from some key congressmen. They say the money could be better spent elsewhere.

A House Appropriations Committee spokesman says several members have expressed doubts over the Army's request for $99 million in next year's budget to make permanent its experiment of replacing soldiers with civilian kitchen policemen, or KPs.

This has been one of the Army's key selling points in its campaign to recruit an all-volunteer force.

The committee spokesman said some members feel "that's a lot of money and a big departure from the way the Army has always done business."

In hearings with top Army leaders over the past several weeks, the spokesman said, some committee members questioned whether the money could be spent "on cancer research or even a new tank."

Other members, some of whom pulled KP in their Army days, suggested the troops might be better off keeping busy by peeling potatoes and washing dishes "than smoking marijuana," the spokesman said.

In response, the Army has gathered ammunition from its top field commanders for a counterattack to impress upon the committee the importance of the KP-replacement program to boost troop morale.

Gen. Michael S. Davison, the Army's commander in Europe, says keeping KP as part of a GI's duty "would be to undercut on a promise and to renege progress toward the modern volunteer Army."

The general said that by hiring civilians in Europe the Army has been able to return 3,500 soldiers to their primary duty. "This equates to more than four mechanized infantry battalions," he said.

Gen. Ralph Haines, commander of the Continental Army Command, called KP the most "onerous and counter-productive task."

Gubernatorial Candidates Have Varied Views On Brief Session

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Gubernatorial candidates have voiced widely divergent opinions on Texas' brief special legislative session.

While Gov. Preston Smith, who is running for re-election, was saying he was proud of the reasonable and businesslike fashion in which the lawmakers functioned, Republican candidate Dave Reagan was charging that the legislators missed their chance.

In Fort Worth, another Democratic candidate for governor, Dolph Briscoe was urging the creation of a rapid transit system for the Dallas-Fort Worth area.

For another candidate, Rep. Frances Farenthold meanwhile called Briscoe a stand-in for still another contender for the Democratic nomination for governor, Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes.

Gov. Smith said it was "indeed fortunate for the people of Texas that the legislature has been so responsive to these emergency situations and has for the most part avoided letting the primary campaigns enter the legislative chambers."

Reagan, on the other hand, took the legislature to task because he said its members failed to discuss an ethics code and missed an opportunity to be of service.

There is a cloud over Texas, Reagan said. "Temporary and artificial truces made for political reasons, may keep the boat from rocking now, but not for long."

Mrs. Farenthold stepped out of her role as legislator and charged that Briscoe was really "a stand-in for Barnes."

The Corpus Christi representative said that "if the lieutenant governor falters because people are fed up with the scandal in their state government, they've got Briscoe on the sidelines. There is no difference between these two men—the only difference is in image."

Briscoe said the state should help finance a rapid transit system linking Fort Worth, Dallas and their regional airport. He noted that the U.S. Department of Transportation has offered to pay two-thirds of the cost of building the experimental air-cushion system, estimated to cost more than $100 million.

"I think the state has a responsibility in helping develop a system of rapid transit," he said.

Senators Assail DBS For Ineffective Drugs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senators say a General Accounting Office report sharply critical of federal vaccine regulation bolsters their case for an independent consumer protection agency.

If there had been an independent consumer advocate, I doubt that an agency such as the Division of Biologics Standards could have continued to allow millions of doses of watered-down influenza vaccine to be released for public use year after year," Sen. Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn., said Thursday.

Ribicoff released a GAO report saying DBS let 32 ineffective vaccines stay on the market for at least 10 years.

GAO also said DBS, part of the Health, Education and Welfare Department's National Institutes of Health, released flu vaccines for three years even though its tests showed their potency to be as low as less than 1 per cent of standards.

Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-

Ill., accused DBS of "callous disregard for the public health and safety."

THE CIRCUS IS COMING—The Pampa Jaycees will sponsor the Carson & Barnes Circus in Pampa Thursday, April 13, with shows slated for 4:30 p.m. and 8 p.m., west of Coronado Inn. Patrons may come early to view the wild animals. Tickets may be obtained from Jaycees, or at Tarpley Music Company, First National Bank or Montgomery Wards. Proceeds will go toward the Jaycee youth programs and the new park to plan to develop. Ed Rowntree, president, explaining the club gets a greater percentage on advance ticket sales, urged people to buy their tickets early. Above is one of the five herds of elephants to be featured in the five-ring circus.

Things That You May Want To Know

WASHINGTON (AP) — You can sell Kentucky fried chicken in Japan, but not if the chickens come from Kentucky. Or anywhere else in the world. All foreign chickens have skin diseases, the Japanese customs inspector explains politely. About the only thing you can do is Kentucky-fry Japanese chicken that cost more than imported ones. In France you cannot sell a tractor that runs faster than 17 miles an hour. In Germany, 13 miles an hour. In the Netherlands, 10 miles an hour. In each country the domestic manufacturer has the advantage; he doesn't have to spend money modifying his product. You can ship fresh fruit from America to the European Common Market, but don't be surprised if it never gets landed. The inspector may be ill or off duty when your cargo arrives. The fruit spoils on the ship. You can sell a big U.S.-made computer in Japan, but you'll have to pay a special tax which adds to your price. The tax goes into a fund to develop bigger and better Japanese computers. As an American steel producer, you have lost a sizable chunk of your market to Japan. Can you sell your steel in Japan? Not even for a dollar a ton, if you gave green stamps to boot, says a U.S. steel union leader. But don't think that only foreign countries maintain such obstacles to trade. The list of U.S. barriers of which foreigners complain is as long as any country's. Secretary of Commerce Peter G. Peterson acknowledges, "the catalogue of American restrictive practices is also long and growing." Overall, American officials consider the so-called nontariff barriers, called NTBs, a greater handicap to international trade expansion and economic cooperation than tariff walls, and a much more difficult problem to solve than the restructuring of the world's monetary system. The United States is insisting that negotiations on NTBs get equal priority with the deliberations on monetary reform to which the Group of Ten richest nations committed themselves in last December's Smithsonian Agreement in Washington. The White House hopes for initial talks this year leading to the start of multilateral, brass-tacks negotiations in 1973. The negotiations could take 10 to 20 years, experts say. Reforms would take effect in stages along the way. Secretary of the Treasury John B. Connally signaled in

Michigan Law Program Has Feminine Approach

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — The long arm of the law in Ann Arbor may be feminine, carry a gun and be capable of delivering a judo chop to a wrongdoer. That is the result of a police program under which uniformed, armed women police officers walk street patrols or ride in police cruisers. "So far as I know, there are only two or three places in the United States—including Oakland, Calif.—which make similar use of policewomen," said Police Chief Walter Krasny. Krasny noted that many police departments assign women as parking meter maids or in the policewomen's division, but he added, "I think our program of using the women in actual police work, along with men, is unusual and it has paid dividends in cutting down on crime." Krasny said the three policewomen on Ann Arbor's force completed the regular 256-hour basic training course required of all officers and got an additional training in police procedures. The women are equipped with small hand guns like our detectives carry and they wear them in a regular pistol holster. Krasny said, "A couple of the girls also took lessons in judo before they started their regular assignments." The city's 100 patrolmen have accepted the idea of patrolwomen working in the precincts with them and answering calls, he said. "We don't shield the patrolwomen from anything but we do try to minimize the chances of them being put in danger as the first unit at a bank holdup alarm or something like that—instead, they are more apt to draw assignment as a backup unit." "We have found that the patrolwomen are especially useful in cases dealing with young people and with cutting down on shoplifting and petty thefts." Krasny said that when the city budget permits, he plans to hire more women for his street patrol force. "These patrolwomen have done everything that they have been asked to do and I am all for them."

San Antonio MAST Project Proves Successful

By RICHARD BEENE
 Associated Press Writer
 SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Army Capt. Ronald Woodward, whose Vietnam experience serves him well as head of a military helicopter ambulance program, fished through a file of praise for what some call the "rescue birds."

He produced a letter from a rural doctor whose patient had suffered a severe stroke and needed immediate care at a San Antonio hospital.

"I am firmly convinced that if he had been removed to San Antonio by ground ambulance or private car, he would not have survived the trip," the doctor's letter read.

But within minutes after the doctor contacted MAST—Military Assistance to Safety and Traffic—the patient was whisked by Army helicopter to a local hospital.

"Without the prompt aid of MAST, I doubt seriously that he would have survived," the doctor said.

Aimed primarily at civilians, the MAST program began as an experiment here on July 15, 1970.

Since then, more than 500 patients have been flown to medical care for treatment of cases ranging from snakebite to injuries sustained in traffic accidents.

After the project proved successful here, it was introduced in four other states—Ft. Carson, Colo., Ft. Lewis, Wash., Luke Air Force Base, Ariz., and Mountain Home AFB, Idaho.

The government now has decided to make the program permanent and expand it to 14 more states.

Capt. Woodward, 34, recently assigned as MAST project officer here, says he has received nothing but praise and cooperation in the 100-mile radius that the program covers.

Sometimes the praise is entirely unexpected, such as the time Woodward spoke on MAST to a group at Cuero, Tex. He was handed a note signed by a woman who said a MAST helicopter flew through rain to transport her to San Antonio after she was seriously injured in a traffic accident.

"I want to thank you and your crew who made this daring effort to help save my life," the woman said.

At Floresville about 30 miles southeast of here, MAST helicopters are a common sight.

"The community feels much safer now in living at a distance from a major city," said Sister Laverne Mettlich, administrator of Floresville Memorial Hospital.

"Even though we don't have a medical center here, we do have access to them through the MAST program."

One of the best features of the MAST service is that it comes free of charge, Sister Laverne said. "So many people say this is one thing the federal government is doing for us. At last it's getting some of its funds back to the people, and not charging them for it."

MAST was designed to help reduce the death rate on the nation's highways, putting to use the lessons of helicopter ambulance experience in Vietnam.

"In at least three of our serious wrecks, they've saved the lives of individuals because of the quick transfer," Sister Laverne said.

On occasion, MAST has rushed medicine and antidotes to rural hospitals. One team flew a vital piece of surgical equipment to the Floresville hospital when surgeons found theirs was missing.

Many infants suffering from breathing difficulties and other problems have been flown to emergency care here.

"They will do almost anything for us if there's a need," Sister Laverne said.

MAST is headquartered at the 507th Medical Co. (Air Ambulance) here at Ft. Sam Houston.

One four-man crew is on standby 24 hours a day, with a helicopter ready to take off on a moment's notice. A backup crew is on call, ready to use one of the other 11 helicopters assigned to the 507th if the prime crew is on a mission.

"There is no additional expense to the government or the taxpayer," Woodward said. "By regulation, our aviators are required to fly a specific number of hours each year. So the MAST mission provides us with a realistic situation while using our normal training time."

WASHINGTON (AP) — Kangaroos are big business in Australia.

About 1 1/2 million are killed yearly in a $23 million plus market, reports the National Geographic Society.

The roos are turned into cans of pet food, athletic shoes and high-fashion boots. Their fur covers toy koala bears and hat bands. Kangaroo tail soup delights gourmets.

Sheepmen in Australia insist kangaroos compete with sheep for the sparse bush and grass.

MIGHTY HUNTER?—Several centuries ago, maybe, but today he is Tom McCoy, representative for a yo-yo manufacturer, traveling throughout the U.S. demonstrating 14 million persons have purchased the little jumping spoons. McCoy was here Friday performing his virtuosity for a bevy of school youngsters in front of a local business firm, selling his firm's product. He is doing the "star"-formed by the white twine between his hands while he still controls the "butterfly" yo-yo. (Staff Photo)

Talented 'Envoy' Of Yo-Yo Maker Makes Demonstration Debut Here

By Ray Baxter
 The brown figure crouched motionless on the tree limb partially hidden by the green foliage—the rest of him blending with the brown of the tree. An animal scurries along a forest path beneath him. A round object drops from his hand, misses the animal which flees. The round weapon flies BACK UP INTO HIS HAND!

Again an animal moves on the trail and again the round weapon descends, makes a loop around the beast's neck and it is lifted into the air where it kicks until its captor drops from his perch and kills it dressing out the meat for his family.

That was a thousand years ago in an island kingdom that is now the Philippines. The round "club-on-a-vine" did not weather the centuries as did some other primitive weapons but—it has made a "killing" in the toy-and leisure market for a Wisconsin manufacturer of the springing spoons called yo-yos.

Some 14 million of the playful plumb-bobs were bought last year—in four different models, yet—according to Tom McCoy, a m b a s s a d o r with port-folio-on-a-string for the toy maker.

McCoy, a native of Westfield, N.J., graduated from the University of Wisconsin with a degree in accounting. On the west coast seeking a job, he ran into the same vacuum as a number of engineers and other "sheepskin" owners.

Virtuosity with the yo-yo was one of his many accomplishments as relaxation from the grind of college studies. A chance visit with a company demonstrator led to a similar deal for the young accountant. He has been touring California and Texas four months and is in no-wise ready to trade his job for a stack of ledgers and a green eyeshade.

In Pampa, he was the Pied Piper of Twine gathering a throng of youngsters about him to watch him perform.

McCoy uses the "butterfly" model yo-yo. Others marketed by his company are variations of the traditional oval spool: beginner, special, imperial and one that glows in the dark.

String is special and very important—so much so that McCoy thought once of setting up to twist and market the twine required by the bouncing buttons. Wood, the original material, has been supplanted by plastic in the plants of major makers.

At precisely the same season that school officials are trying regulate the zinging strings, yo-yos in the hands of adults are replacing the "rubbing rock" and the morning martini.

Who knows? A skilled spool bobber and handy tree may be the answer to the jackrabbit problem.

Two Food Chains In Texas Predict Meat Price Drop

HOUSTON (AP) — Two Houston area chain outlets, Kroger and Piggly Wiggly, predicted Friday their meat prices will decline within the next few weeks.

A spokesman for another 57 store chain, Weingarten's, said its meat prices have been lowered over the last two weeks because more animals are being brought to market.

Grand Union, an East Coast operator, froze its fresh meat prices Thursday after food store executives had met Wednesday with Treasury Secretary John Connally.

A Kroger spokesman said the chain hopes to announce beef price cuts for its 30 stores in the Houston area early next week.

A Piggly Wiggly spokesman said specials to be advertised for the chain's seven Houston stores will show some items down as much as 20 or 30 cents a pound. He predicted round steak now priced at special rates of $1.39 to $1.45 a pound will drop to 1.09 or 1.19 within two weeks.

The Weingarten spokesman said the current 79 cents per pound cost of a square cut shoulder roast is 10 cents below the price of two weeks ago.

Kennedy Center Re-Opens With Less Souvenir Items

WASHINGTON (AP) — After being closed to tourists for the past 3½ months, the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts welcomes them again today minus some prime attractions for souvenir hunters.

Security is being stepped up. But center officials insist that vandalism, which marred the opening months of the national cultural center on the bank of the Potomac River, was not the major reason for its closing last Dec. 11.

A few attractions, like the chandeliers in the elevators, have been removed. They proved particularly tempting to visitors for their souvenir value, even though they are made of cheap glass unlike some of the valuable crystal fixtures

"DOGGONE, is this any way to run an airport?" this luggage-encased cutie probably thinks after waiting an hour like this at the new Frankfurt-Main air terminal in West Germany.

elsewhere in the huge marble structure.

There were other losses to souvenir hunters: knobs from washbasins, pieces of drapery and of carpeting.

The National Park Police, with responsibility for security in the center, says it will augment its force in the grand foyer and in other public areas of the building.

When Chairman Roger L. Stevens of the center's board of trustees announced the closing last December, he ascribed the decision primarily to inaction by Congress on his request for funds to support memorial aspects of the building.

Stevens argued that it was unfair to ask the center's box-office patrons to support the John F. Kennedy memorial aspects, when such monuments and Lincoln Memorial are maintained by tax funds.

Congress has not yet voted the $1.5 million he asked for this purpose, but approval within the next few months seems assured. The Nixon administration is backing the center's request.

As the center reopens, there will not be fully guided tours.

"Visitors will have access to all public areas and the theaters, rehearsal and performance schedules permitting," said the center's director of public affairs, Edward Mattio. "Volunteers will be available to answer visitors' questions and give information about the center."

Worry Clinic

By George W. Crane, Ph. D., M.D.

Norma is at the crossroads. Now is when she can insure her future marriage against divorce! And also be sure of a good paying position from just one year of the most practical college education in America. So heed Ben Franklin's advice: CASE T-543: Norma G., aged 17, will soon be out of high school.

"Dr. Crane," she began, "I am not sure what I wish to pick as my career."
"But naturally I'd like to be happily married some day."
"My parents don't have much money but they could probably pay my expenses for one year of college."

"And they want to go on with my education, but I wonder if it would be worth the money to get only one year at college."
"What would you recommend for girls like me?"

HEED BEN FRANKLIN
"An investment in knowledge," said Benjamin Franklin, "always pays the best dividends."

And the most profitable one-year college education you can now obtain in America is to enroll in a good Business School.

For such colleges offer you a splendid one-year (and also a two-year) diploma.

That diploma is based on your study of Business Law, Applied Psychology, Business Letter Writing, Bookkeeping, Accounting, operation of modern office computer machines, and also a course in Charm.

The latter involves how to dress and speak and be most cordial over the telephone, etc.

Most of those courses you can't get even from 4 years on the Liberal Arts campus!

Remember, there are also 8 positions awaiting every girl graduate of the one-year diploma course at a business School.

And 6 jobs competing to win every male graduate!

But such students also obtain better preparation for happy marriage than you can derive from the usual 4-year Liberal Arts colleges.

For such girls can operate their homes on a budget, since they are expert at accounting.

They can even prepare their husbands' income tax reports!

And type his letters; advise him on Business Law, and win him more friends or office promotions by their "Charm" course training.

Besides, after they graduate from even that one-year diploma course at a first rate Business School, they can obtain excellent paying positions.

And thus finance any desired Liberal Arts education thereafter by taking night classes at the extension branch of their state university.

Mrs. Crane received that one-year Business College training.

Actually, I have benefited more from her practical help than from all her courses at Northwestern, Indiana and Columbia Universities!

(And I'm not joking! For she typed the manuscripts for my college textbooks.)

She prepares my income tax reports.

She is a superb bookkeeper and can take shorthand, though now I usually dictate by means of a machine, from which she can transcribe my letters.

(Always write to Dr. Crane, Hopkins Blg. Mellot, Indiana 47508, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 25 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

Oil Reserves Decline For 5th Consecutive Year

By MAX B. SKELTON
AP Oil Writer
HOUSTON (AP) — Florida and Oklahoma provided two of the few bright spots in the new estimates of proved United States crude oil and natural gas reserves.

Excluding Alaska, domestic oil reserves declined a fifth consecutive year in 1971 and proved gas reserves declined a fourth straight year.

The new estimates released by the American Petroleum Institute and the American Gas Association list only four states as increasing their crude reserves last year and only 10 of the 25 producing states as increasing their gas reserves.

Continued development of an impressive discovery in its panhandle area enabled Florida to move from a No. 17 ranking to the No. 13 position among oil reserves states.

Oklahoma was the only member of the Top 12 states to increase its crude reserves with upward revisions for older areas adding 225 million barrels and new field discoveries adding 30 million more. Top ranked Texas was a poor second by finding only 17 million barrels of reserves through new field discoveries.

Florida boosted its reserves from 74 to 204 million barrels. The new estimate is small when compared with 13 billion for Texas but the continuing panhandle area developments place Florida within striking distance of the No. 10 spot among oil reserves states.

Oklahoma retained her No. 5 ranking by boosting her reserves from 1.3 to 1.4 billion barrels, despite having produced 207 million barrels of oil.

Ohio and Michigan were the only other states to increase their crude reserves.

Alaska was the only state recording an increase of more than minor proportions for natural gas, boosting her reserves from 31.1 to 31.3 trillion cubic feet. The increase was minimized, however, by the continued delay of construction of the Trans-Alaska oil pipeline. Curtailed operations also caused Alaska's crude oil reserves estimate to be reduced by 32 million barrels.

Crude reserves for the "lower 48" states declined last year from 28.9 billion to 27.9 billion, the lowest level in 20 years. Including Alaska, the drop was from 39 to 38 billion barrels.

Gas reserves in the "lower 48" dropped from 259.6 to 247.4 trillion cubic feet, the lowest point in 14 years. With Alaska, the drop was from 290 to 278 trillion cubic feet.

In the only change among the top 10 oil states, Mississippi edged ahead of Colorado for the No. 9 spot as both states registered declines.

Florida's capture of the No. 13 ranking dropped North Dakota to No. 14, Utah to No. 15, and Arkansas to No. 17. A small increase enabled Ohio to retain her No. 16 spot.

With both states showing declines, New Mexico edged ahead of Kansas for the No. 5 ranking in natural gas reserves. Small increases enabled Ohio to move from No. 16 to No. 15 and Michigan to climb from No. 18 to No. 16. This dropped Utah from No. 15 to No. 17 and Kentucky from No. 17 to No. 18.

Gas reserves in Texas dropped from 106 to 101 trillion cubic feet while her oil reserves dropped from 13.1 to 13 billion barrels. Louisiana's gas reserves slipped from 82 to 78 trillion cubic feet and her oil reserves dropped from 5.7 to 5.3 billion barrels.

Railroad Commission Official To Speak At Area API Meet

The Texas Panhandle Chapter of the American Petroleum Institute has set Thursday for their next meeting which is to be held at the Pampa Country Club.

The social hour will begin at 6:30 p.m., followed by dinner, and the program at 7:15.

The guest speaker will be Jim Herring, assistant director of field operations of the Railroad Commission of Texas, Austin office.

Herring will speak on "Pollution in Relationship to the Production of Oil and Gas" which will be very informative to all in the Texas Panhandle interested in, or associated with, the production of oil and gas. Herring has been employed by the Commission the past 20 years; therefore, he has become very familiar with this type of pollution problem throughout the state.

All members and guests are encouraged to attend this meeting in order to become more familiar with the pollution

Female Truck Drivers Charge Discrimination

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — Two petite female truck drivers have filed sex discrimination charges after a company ruling that prohibits single women from making long-distance hauls with men drivers.

"Ever since I was a little kid I wanted to drive a big truck," said Virginia Barnes, an attractive 35-year-old brunette. "They gave me a chance and then they took it away from me."

Mrs. Barnes and 48-year-old Pauline Blackburn have filed complaints with the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission against Watkins Motor Lines Inc. of Lakeland.

The women complained after company officials decreed on March 1 that drivers of opposite sexes could not team up on trucks with sleeping quarters unless they were married.

"There is less chance of hanky panky on the road than there would be in the trucking offices," scoffed Mrs.

Blackburn, a pretty divorcee.

"I think I should be able to drive a truck because of my ability, not because I'm married," added Mrs. Barnes, a mother of two who is in the process of divorcing her husband.

Barney R. Brown, vice president of the Lakeland trucking firm, said that the ruling "had nothing to do with discrimination. It creates too much of a problem."

"The policy of Watkins Motor Lines is to have both male and female drivers," he said. "We do allow male drivers to drive together or single, and we do allow female drivers to drive together or single."

Watkin's personnel director Arthur Farr added that the company employs several husband-wife teams.

Mrs. Barnes and Mrs. Blackburn, both under 5-foot-2 and 105 pounds, learned to drive the huge tractor-trailer rigs at a vocational school.

IN NATIONAL WEST Dodgers Picked

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Can Frank Robinson make up the difference of one game that left the Los Angeles Dodgers second best to the San Francisco Giants in the National League's West Division pennant chase? You'd better believe he can.
The Dodgers, who came so very close to catching the fading Giants in the final days of the 1971 season, figure they have the horses to overtake San Francisco this time out. And what's more, some other clubs may pass the Giants too.
LA did some prudent winter shopping, prying Robinson and reliever Pete Richert away from Baltimore for four young prospects. Football Coach George Allen said "The future is now," and the Dodgers obviously believe it.
The Dodgers also came up with Tommy John, a quality left-hander, to add to their pitching rotation. Pitching has always been LA's strong suit and John joins a staff headed by Al Downing, Don Sutton, Claude Osteen and Bill Singer.
With Robinson, Willie Davis and Wes Parker to head the offense, the Dodgers seem solid. Certainly one game better than they were a year ago.
In the East, Pittsburgh's biggest problem seems to be the old rule about only being allowed to play nine guys at a time. They have too many good ones to limit themselves to nine.
The Pirates won the world championship last year with a team that doesn't seem to have any weaknesses. And new Manager Bill Virdon has a fistful of talented youngsters to add to the cast.
Willie Stargell, Roberto Clemente, Bob Robertson and Richie Hebner produce the Pirate runs with plenty of pitching available from Series hero Steve Blass, Nellie Briles, Dock Ellis and others.
Pittsburgh sat out infielder Rennie Stennett for the Series and this young man only batted .353 in 50 games. Then there is rookie outfielder Richie Zisk, who was the training camp standout after a 290 season in the International League last year. But where do you fit them in this championship club?
Behind the Dodgers in the West, Houston seems strongest with several new faces to juice up the attack. San Francisco, a year older, may be due to slip some, perhaps to third. Cincinnati's Big Red Machine still has some kinks to work out while Atlanta and San Diego don't seem likely to cause more than a few ripples.
Joe Torre will have to go some to match his batting championship .363 season for St. Louis but he'll do enough to keep the Cardinals in contention.
The revamped Cubs should edge out New York's light-hitting Mets for third place with Montreal and Philadelphia bringing up the rear.
Houston may very well be the most improved team in baseball this season. And the Astros could overtake the Dodgers if the summer heat wears down

Robinson, who'll be 37 in August. Consider, for example, that of the top four earned run averages in the National League last season, three now work for the Astros. Houston already had No. 3 Don Wilson and No. 4 Ken Forsch. Then they came up with No. 2 Dave Roberts from San Diego in a winter swap.
Roberts' 2.10 ERA was second only to Tom Seaver of the Mets last year and he is considered one of the best young arms in baseball.
The Astros also made an eight-player swap with Cincinnati which brings slugger Lee May and second baseman Tommy Helms to Houston. May's 39 homers last year gives the Astros a power man to go with Jimmy Wynn.
San Francisco came up with Sudden Sam McDowell in a winter deal with Cleveland but it cost them Gaylord Perry. That means they're still a little thin in pitching and that deficiency should shove them down the West ladder.
Age could start creeping up on the Giants too. Ace pitcher Juan Marichal is 33. Injury-prone Willie McCovey is 34 and, of course, Willie Mays will be celebrating his 41st birthday on May 6.
Bobby Bonds and Ken Henderson give the Giants two highly capable outfielders, offensively and defensively, but the picture seems bleak unless San Francisco can find a fountain of youth and some more pitchers.
Cincinnati has decided to switch images, foregoing sock for speed. That's why the Reds went after second baseman Joe Morgan during the winter. But they need a comeback from Bobby Tolson, who may have lost a step or two because of his Achilles tendon operation.
Speaking of comebacks, the Reds are depending on a big one by All Star catcher Johnny Bench, who slipped badly last year. Peppery Pete Rose and Rony Perez, switching from third base to first this year, head the offense with Bench.
The Reds are somewhat thin on infielders with Woody Woodward retired, and the pitching is questionable with much riding on recoveries by Wayne Simpson and Jim Merritt, who suffered through nightmarish seasons in 1971.
Hank Aaron starts his final countdown on the road toward Babe Ruth's home run record and that should add zest to what could become an otherwise bleak season for the Braves.
Ralph Garr's speed and the power potential of rookie of the year Earl Williams and Darrell Evans give Atlanta some promise but the pitching doesn't seem solid enough after knuckler Phil Niekro.
San Diego has a quality pitcher in Clay Kirby and a quality hitter in Nate Colbert, but not enough quality in the other positions to make any kind of a dent.

Muhammad Ali Beats Foster

TOKYO (AP) — An almost unmarked Muhammad Ali said he had "underrated" Mac Foster in the 15-round heavyweight boxing bout that Ali won by a unanimous decision Saturday.
Ali, former world heavyweight champion, had predicted loudly and repeatedly that he would knock out Foster in the fifth round.
"Mac Foster was a better fighter than I had expected," Ali said in his dressing room after the fight. "Foster should be the No. 2 contender in the world heavyweight rankings."
"I think he's one of the few fighters who could last 15 rounds with me. I promise Mac Foster a shot at my title after I regain it from (heavyweight champion) Joe Frazier later this year."
Foster joined Ali in the dressing room and it was all smiles, handshakes and pats on the back between the two fighters, a complete reversal from the oral banter and threats that went on in the days before the fight.
Ali, displaying his usual flashy dancing style, easily out-boxed the former Marine, repeatedly landing with quick left jabs.
Ali, weighing 226 pounds, acted disgusted at the end of the fifth round when he failed to halt Foster, 211. The former champion showed contempt for Foster's punching ability in some of the rounds and allowed his opponent to flail at his mid-section.

and Ted Simmons give St. Louis a well-rounded attack blending speed and power. Rick Wise, acquired from Philadelphia in an even-up swap for Steve Carlton, fits in well with Bob Gibson and Reggie Cleveland and the Cards seem capable of making life interesting for Pittsburgh's loaded Pirates.
Chicago changed some faces, picking up outfielders Rick Monday and Jose Cardenal over the winter as well as journeyman relief pitcher Steve Hamilton.
The most important new Cub, however, may be Coach Hank Aguirre, designated as Manager Leo Durocher's liaison with press and players. If Joe Pepitone, Ron Santo and Billy Williams can supply the runs, and Milt Pappas, Fergy Jenkins and Bill Hands the pitching, the Cubs could make progress. That's assuming, of course, that Aguirre keeps everybody happy.
The Mets hope they've solved their long-standing third base problem with the acquisition of veteran Jim Fregosi. But Fregosi, who never played third before, missed most of spring training with a broken thumb and could have a problem adjusting to the new position.
New York still lacks punch though and the burden of tight games could wear down the Seaver-led pitching staff. Jerry Koosman remains a question mark and relief ace Danny Fingers has arm problems, too.
Cleon Jones and Tommie Agee will produce some runs but not enough to keep the Mets in contention.
Bill Stoneman and Carl Morton head Montreal's pitching staff and Rusty Staub, Bob Bailey, and Ron Fairly will get the Expos their share of runs. But there are too many gaps in the Montreal picture for the Expos to make a great deal of progress.
Philadelphia came up with a quality pitcher in Carlton but it cost the Phillies a quality pitcher in Wise. The Phillies will depend on some new faces like Greg Luzinski, who had 36 homers in the Pacific Coast League last year, to add zip to the offense. But that offense needs an awful lot of zip.
West Division—Los Angeles, Houston, San Francisco, Cincinnati, Atlanta, San Diego.
East Division—Pittsburgh, St. Louis, Chicago, New York, Montreal, Philadelphia.

Masters Tourney Begins Thursday

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — "The Masters," said Jack Nicklaus, "is the beginning of the real golf season."
"Going to the Masters this year means as much to me as when I was trying to win my first of the four victories I've enjoyed there," Arnold Palmer said.
"Billy Casper calls Augusta National Golf Club's classic, "The finest overall tournament in the world and the second most coveted prize behind the U.S. Open."
The Masters opens Thursday, the first prestige event of the golfing year with the U.S. Open, British Open and PGA Championship to follow.
"Winning the Masters meant a great deal to me, especially over the long run," said last year's champion, Charlie Goody, "but I can't say it's made me wealthy. Now, if I could win it twice."
Palmer, 42, tucked away Masters titles in 1958-60-62-64 but he's still as eager as a rookie.
"The Masters is a big part of my life," he said, "and I'm very anxious to win a fifth. You might even say I'm hungry."
South African Gary Player was the 1961 Masters King and is one of only four golfers ever to win all the "Big Four" events, although not in a single year.
"Another Masters victory would mean I'd have a leg on a second sweep," he said, "and that's my greatest golfing ambition."
Nicklaus, a three-time champion, is the only man ever to win the four major tournaments twice.
"The Masters has a special place in my life, but all that stuff about the title being worth a million dollars is a bunch of hooey," said Bob Goalby, 1969 winner. "It's worth that to two players—Nicklaus and Palmer—and, it might be worth it to Lee Trevino, if he wins there."

Pastorini Refuses To Live In Past

HOUSTON (AP) — Quarterback Dan Pastorini doesn't plan to live in the past—especially the immediate past of his rookie season as starting quarterback of the Houston Oilers.
"It's going to be different this year, Pastorini said during a break at the Oilers Rookie camp over the weekend.
"It's all water under the bridge now," the former San Diego State little-American said. "This year everybody is going to think the same. A team can't win unless everybody has the same winning attitude."
Pastorini praised new Oiler head coach Bill Peterson, who is starting his rookie season in the pros. He replaces Ed Hughes, who served only one turbulent year as head coach.
"Coach Pete is a fine man and he has a fine staff," Pastorini said. "They have a lot of enthusiasm and I think it is going to rub off on the players."

TFB President Says Farmer And Ranchers Concerned About Reports On Food Prices

WACO, Tex. (AP) — Texas Farm Bureau president J. T. Woodson says farmers and ranchers are concerned about statements in various news media that food prices are too high.

"We in agriculture are afraid that these inflammatory statements might result in popular demand for price controls on raw farm products," the farm leader said. "If this happens, and we are saddled with controls, the consumer will really have something to worry about."

"Prices for agricultural products are unlikely to get out of hand," Woodson said. "We will respond to any price increase by producing more. The consumer is protected by the competitive enterprise system in agriculture."

"If, on the other hand, price ceilings are imposed on us," Woodson said, "producers will be forced out of agriculture in droves, and the consumer will pay higher prices for his food. The only way we have survived higher production and living costs up to now is through increases in efficiency."

"Only just now are certain segments of our agricultural industry—livestock, for example—beginning to receive decent prices," the farm leader said. "Egg producers are actually selling eggs at or below cost of production. Imagine what it would do to the poultry industry to put a freeze on their current prices."

The farm leader said that farmers and ranchers appreciate some of the statements made in defense of agriculture in recent days. He referred to statements made by President Nixon, Secretary of Agriculture Earl Butz and Secretary of the Treasury John Connally.

"These men are in a position to know the true situation in agriculture," Woodson said. "We thank them for telling it like it is."

President Nixon said in a recent press conference that it is a mistake to blame farmers for the food price increase because they receive only one-third of what consumers pay for food.

"The other two thirds goes to the middlemen," Nixon said, adding that the spread has widened and is too great.

Woodson said the U.S. Department of Agriculture statistics prove that the farmer's gain in efficiency has helped keep food costs in check. He cited the following facts released by USDA:

—In 1970, one U.S. farm worker supplied food and fiber for 47 persons. He supplied 23 persons in the 1957-59 period.

—Retail food prices rose less than three-fourths as much as all other consumer goods in the past decade.

Uncertain Weather Affects Land Planting Preparation

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — Texas weather was uncertain much of the week, with welcome rains in some places and turbulence to others. Farmers looked for moisture in central and western areas to begin planting and help grains.

Planting was rapid during the week in the Blacklands and in South Central and Southwest Texas, said Dr. John Hutchison, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Elsewhere, land preparation was active. A few parts of South Texas are too wet for planting.

Garden planting is active in North Central and East Texas and commercial vegetable plantings are also going in. Potato and onion planting is active on the High Plains. Onions, carrots and cabbage are being harvested in the southwest and at the Rio Grande Valley. Vegetables are making good growth in the Valley, due to recent rains.

Wheat made good growth on the High Plains but elsewhere progress is slow due to lack of rain, noted Hutchison. Wheat and oats are booting in central areas and in the Rolling Plains around Vernon. Alfalfa is making good growth over most of the state and in the far west, the first cutting will begin in about a week.

Peaches, plums and pecans progressed well with the mild spring weather.

Reports from district agents show:

PANHANDLE: Preplant irrigation is underway as planting time for corn and grain sorghum approaches. Planting of onions and potatoes is active in Parmer and Deaf Smith counties. Wheat is making good growth over most of the district but needs rain. Soil moisture is short.

SOUTH PLAINS (Lubbock): Preplant irrigation is in full swing. Potato planting is active, onion planting is nearly complete. Corn planting is rapid due to ideal weather. Alfalfa is making excellent progress under heavy irrigation. Most grains need rain. Livestock are in above average condition.

ROLLING PLAINS (Vernon): A few showers fell but moisture is still short. Grains are in the jointing and booting stage but growth is slow due to drought. Alfalfa growth is fair to good with some damage from alfalfa weevils. Some wheat and alfalfa are being irrigated.

NORTH CENTRAL: Moisture is badly needed for grains. Cotton planting has started. Corn and sorghum planting are at the halfway mark. Pecans are budding and leafing out. Ranges are below average. Livestock are in good condition with feeding still active.

NORTHEAST: Good rains fell over most of the district, helping grains and vegetables. Moisture is still short in a few areas. Grain grazing is active. Peas, sweet potatoes, tomatoes, cucumbers and watermelons are being planted.

FAR WEST: It was another dry week and the need for rain for ranges and crops grew. Preplant irrigation goes on and irrigated barley and vegetables are making good growth. The first alfalfa cutting is about a week away. Feeding continues and sheep shearing is in full swing.

WEST CENTRAL: Some southern counties got rains, but most of the district is dry. Some land is being prepared for cotton and sorghum but most farmers await rain. Vegetable planting is underway. Livestock are in good condition with good calf and lamb crops.

CENTRAL: The shortage of surface moisture is becoming critical. Grains are making little growth and rain is needed before planting can start, in some areas. In the Blacklands, planting of corn and sorghum is nearing completion. Some cotton planting is also underway. Pastures are below average and making little growth.

EAST: Good rains fell in parts of the district but soil moisture is still short. Farmers are about ready to plant cotton. Improved pastures are furnishing good grazing but need rain.

SOUTHEAST: Heavy rains fell in parts of the district, delaying planting. The moisture was just in time for planting in some areas. Cotton planting is just the halfway mark in most counties with corn and sorghum planting more than 75 per cent complete. Seeding of rice ranges from 25 to 40 per cent complete.

Pampa Marks Joyful Easter

Creating Your own is a lot of fun. Fifth grade students at Stephen F. Austin Elementary School, made their own Easter bonnets out of paper plates and anything else that appealed to them. Showing off their creations are, in front, Clark Wilkinson, left, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Wilkinson, Star Route 4, and John Nooncaster, son of Mr. and Mrs. Aubra Nooncaster, 2321 Aspen. In the back, left to right, are Marv Ann King, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George King, 2222 Beech; Amy Tate, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Tate, 2300 Comanche; Robbe Cunningham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Cunningham, 2306 Mary Ellen; and Lou Ann Robertson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude H. Robertson, Star Route 7, Pampa.

From The Upper Room to the communion table... Christians are reminded of the Last Supper as they observe communion services just prior to Easter.

There isn't a female anywhere who feels Easter is complete without a new dress. Modeling her new Easter outfit is Jana Teeters, 6, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence W. Teeters Jr., Lefors.

These things have I spoken unto you, that my joy might remain in you, and that your joy might be full.

This is my commandment, That ye love one another, as I have loved you.

Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends.

Ye are my friends, if ye do whatsoever I command you.

Henceforth I call you not servants; for the servant knoweth not what his lord doeth: but I have called you friends; for all things that I have heard of my Father I have made known unto you.

Ye have not chosen me, but I have chosen you, and ordained you, that ye should go and bring forth fruit, and that your fruit should remain: that whatsoever ye ask of the Father in my name, he may give it you.

These things I command you, that ye love one another

St. John 15

Easter Bonnets are even commemorated in song. Trying to make "the perfect choice" for her new Spring chapeau is Mrs. C. K. Plotner, 2329 Comanche.

Rabbits, chick and ducks are traditional gifts to children as Easter wuhwa in Spring and new life. Playing with their ducks, left to right, are Ann Jeffrey, 10; Tommy Jeffrey, 8; and Jimmy Jeffrey, 11; the children of Mr. and Mrs. James Jeffrey, 1132 Charles.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Johnson, 2505 Charles, announce the engagement of their daughter Sherry Gale, to Lawrence Richards, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Richards, 1129 Juniper. The wedding is scheduled for June 9, in the First Assembly of God Church. The bride-elect, a 1972 mid-term graduate of Pampa High School, is employed by Sarah's in Coronado Center. The prospective bridegroom, a 1971 graduate of Pampa High School, attended West Texas State University, Canyon. He is employed by Moran Drilling Company.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted J. Erickson, 933 Barnard, announce the betrothal of their daughter, Sandra Diane Hedgecock, to Daniel Arthur Hood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack R. Hood, 2336 Duncan. Vows will be exchanged June 24, in the First Christian Church. The bride-elect, a 1971 graduate of Pampa High School, is a secondary education major at Blinn College, Brenham, where she is a member of Phi Theta Kappa, national junior college honor society, and where she is listed on the dean's honor roll. The prospective bridegroom was valedictorian of the 1971 graduating class of Pampa High School. He is a physics major at Texas A&M University, where he is rated as a distinguished student (Dean's list) and where he is a member of Phi Eta Sigma, national freshman scholastic honor fraternity.

Mr. and Mrs. William J. Felter, 1715 Grape, announce the engagement of their daughter, Elizabeth Mary, to Steven Eugene Rainey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin L. Rainey, 601 Powell. The couple plan to marry June 2, in St. Matthew's Episcopal Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Skinner Kyle, 1700 Beech, announce the engagement of their daughter, Kathie, to Jerry Brister, son of Mr. and Mrs. B.D. Brister of Amarillo. The wedding is planned for May 29, in the chapel of the First United Methodist Church. The bride-elect, a 1972 mid-term graduate of Pampa High School, is employed by Shoe Nail Supply. The prospective bridegroom will graduate from Pampa High School in May. He is employed by Charlie's Furniture Store.

Your Horoscope

By Jeane Dixon

SUNDAY APR. 2
Your birthday today: Opens a confusing but fortunate year, in which a lot that happens results from sources and people beyond your reach or control. You are luckier when you spend less time fighting for petty details and more time improving your skills. Emotional ties take sudden turns, provide much to mention later. Today's natives rely on a very active intuition, frequently get involved in more activities than they can handle.

Artes (March 21-April 19): Being alone and self-adequate is enough of a goal for the day. Begin your part in community activity early, get done and out of it promptly.

Taurus (April 20-May 20): Do your share, calmly listen rather than push. There are many details of your own affairs that need attention and correction.

Gemini (May 21-June 20): Home life and steady associates offer the best milieu for satisfaction this Sunday. Pursuit of dramatic adventure, romance is not favored.

Cancer (June 21-July 22): Good intentions create chaos. You and others are unusually sensitive, so have a care what you say.

Leo (July 23-Aug. 22): Expect people to be busy in their own ways, so give time and attention to your own welfare. Do something to better your home situation.

Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Seek quiet, solitude if it is convenient. Nobody has a very smooth surface for the moment. Rest and prayer go together.

Libra (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): What begins as a pleasant Sunday needs care and courtesy to keep it that way. Family, close friends offer surprises. Romance includes paradox.

Scorpio (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Strangers come to attention, offer helpful perspective, perhaps material benefit, but are not to be permitted to divide you and your mate.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): If there's a way to provoke others, you'll find it is in your well-intended efforts. Emotional moves are easily misconstrued.

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Thought for the future should temper your expression. Intellectual pursuits yield dramatic results. Friends are sensitive to subtleties.

Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Discussion goes beyond your chosen subject. Share hobbies or a good show with friends rather than trying to settle issues.

Pisces (Feb. 19-March 20): Concentrate on self-improvement, doing no more than a normal share in leading the community's many activities. Budget-planning includes a bright idea worthy of development.

Your Horoscope

By Jeane Dixon

MONDAY, MARCH 6
Your birthday today: You mobilize both material and psychic resources in short order for the conquest of personal limitations, environmental hindrances. A better way of life is near, and you seem destined to reach it within the next several months. Today's natives pursue knowledge avidly, don't always organize what they learn, but are thrifty in material concerns.

Aries [March 21-April 19]: Think of the future. Routines should be spread out and shared so you can concentrate on the things only you can do.

Taurus [April 20-May 20]: Hold activities to reasonable interludes. By day's end you may have a new viewpoint; be ready to move on to another phase.

Gemini [May 21-June 20]: Diversify it as you will, the day is a bit heavy-going with much to do but little choice of how and when.

Cancer [June 21-July 21]: Pleasant social invitations include many you should accept. A temporary short cut or extra advantage is available in your work.

Leo [July 22-Aug. 22]: There's a fresh venture to try but not single-handed. Later hours promise detailed review, perhaps some wrangling.

Virgo [Aug. 23-Sept. 22]: Accept preoccupied behavior as being merely a momentary mood. Past experience provides clues for dealing with current problems.

Libra [Sept. 23-Oct. 22]: Group finances promise to be complex, require much discussion. No really good way to hurry matters exists, so be patient.

Scorpio [Oct. 23-Nov. 21]: A smooth, pleasant, approach to everybody brings excellent results, perhaps a confidence that resolves in minor mystery.

Sagittarius [Nov. 22-Dec. 21]: You needn't rush anything, or explain before being specifically asked. Move without elaborate preparations or prior announcements.

Capricorn [Dec. 22-Jan. 19]: Answer letters; narrow your choices to the feasible alternatives, seek more information. Material welfare promises improvement.

Aquarius [Jan. 20-Feb. 18]: Take stock of your public image, change it for the better. Leaving behind a bad personal habit helps.

Pisces [Feb. 19-March 20]: Associates are apt to be quite enchanted with their own opinions and projects. Pursue your course without waiting for them.

The Fight Goes On
Since 1945 the American Cancer Society has spent more than $250-million to support cancer research. Many gains have been made. There are still many leads to follow. "We want to wipe out cancer in your lifetime. Your dollars will help," the ACS says.

Kadingo Lingo

By JANE KADINGO
ALTHOUGH MOST OF US may be wearing coats today, it will be great fun to see the women decked out in their Easter finery. Does anyone wear Easter bonnets any more? It used to be a must, in what my children would call "the olden days." So few of us wear hats, today. I wonder if this won't be a forgotten tradition some day. I'll have to admit it—I was one of those who did NOT buy one. In fact, I can't remember the last time I wore a hat!

HAVE YOU EVER tried to describe tater tots to someone who has never seen one? This happened in a local restaurant this week, where my daughter, Anne, aged 12, and I were eating. The waitress was speechless. I tried to help her out, as she pondered an adequate description. The best I could was: "It's a hunk of potato, deep-fried." The "foreigner" was still perplexed. The sad part of this tale is we don't know if he finally ordered some!

YESTERDAY Pampans flocked to the polls—or last week voted absentee before they took off on a holiday jaunt. With the school board election and the up-coming city-commission election on my mind, I became quite interested in an article I read under the dryer in the beauty parlor. (This was one of my better days—I usually go to sleep.)

The men in Norway are still smarting from the sting of "woman-power" displayed there in an election a few months ago. Seems the women, with no fanfare, quietly set up a gigantic write-in campaign, in the interests of "women's lib." To the amazement of the Norwegian men, the women were extremely successful in unseating male incumbents, replacing them with women, of course!

This might be interesting, girls. The Norwegian women had it accomplished before the men

Homemakers Hear Reports

SKELLYTOWN (Spl.)—The Skellytown Homemakers Club met in the home of Mrs. Earl Looper.

Mrs. John Simmons, president, led the business meeting. The hostess gift was won by Mrs. Oscar Gould, and the game gift was won by Mrs. Bob Heaton.

Mrs. Miles Pearson reported on the club's visit to Giristown recently, and a report was made on the trip to the Hobby Shop at Clarendon. Mrs. Bob Heaton gave a report of the Heart Fund Coffee, held recently in Skellytown, which netted $43.25. The money was presented to the Heart Fund of Panhandle.

Next meeting will be held April 4, in the home of Mrs. Carolyn Rutherford.

Attending were Mmes. Gertrude Huckins, Oscar Gould, W.S. Berry, Ethel Hunt, John Simmons, Don Easley, Jim Ruth, Margaret Fox Sr., Bob Heaton, Miles Pearson, Bob Lawrence and Carolyn Rutherford.

Cotillion Club Has Meeting

Twentieth Century Cotillion met in the home of Mrs. Al Smith, 1206 Christine.

The program on "Jackie Kennedy Onassis" was given by Mrs. Ralph McKinney.

The business session was conducted by Mrs. Ben Sturgeon, president. The main topic of business concerned last-minute plans for the Antique Show, which was a big success.

Next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Gene Hanks, 2517 Mary Ellen, on April 18, with Milton Morris, coordinator of the Opportunity Plan, present.

Members attending were

Helen McDaniel, Ronald West United In Marriage Thursday

Miss Helen McDaniel and Ronald Eugene West, both of Austin, were united in marriage at 4:30 p.m. Thursday, March 30, in the parlor of the First Baptist Church.

The bride is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Macfield McDaniel, 1121 E. Harvester, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth H. West of Carmichael, Calif.

The Ceremony
Rev. C. Gordon Bayless, interim pastor of the First Baptist Church, officiated for the double-ring ceremony.

Organist was Douglas West of Waco, brother of the bridegroom, who played traditional wedding music. Miss Wanetta Bayless of Austin sang "How Do I Love Thee" by Lippe and "The Wedding Prayer" by Dunlap.

The couple was married before a mantle decorated with an arrangement of spring flowers in a silver bowl, flanked by white tapers in spiral candelabra, entwined with salal foliage.

The Bride
The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white organza, styled with an empire waistline and a detachable Watteau chapel-length train. Venice lace formed a scooped neckline and circled the deep flounce at the hem of the floor-length skirt. The full, sheer Bishop sleeves were edged with matching lace.

Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a pillbox hat, covered with organza and trimmed with

SCHOOL WILL CLOSE

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — St. Benedict's Prep, a nationally known boys' school, will close at the end of the current school year.

Abbot Ambrose J. Clark, the school's 10th president, said a decline in enrollment and an increase in operating deficits had prompted the decision.

The present enrollment is 450 which is less than half the number of students who attended the school a decade ago. The school was founded in 1868.

Venice lace. She carried a nosegay of white roses, stephanotis and baby's breath.

Attendants
Miss Ellen McDaniel of Pampa, twin sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore an aqua, floor-length gown, trimmed with wide multi-colored embroidered lace. The headpiece was a large matching bow, and she carried a nosegay of spring flowers and baby's breath.

Larry West of Carmichael, Calif., brother of the bridegroom, served as best man. Ushers were Sp-5 James McDaniel of Fort McClellan, Ala., and David McDaniel of Pampa, both brothers of the bride.

Mothers

The bride's mother wore a pink Alaskine, floor-length A-line gown, with matching stole fastened in the center front with a large rhinestone button.

The bridegroom's mother was attired in a floor-length gown of turquoise sheer silk organza, accented with scattered white applied flowers, and designed with a high neckline and long Bishop sleeves.

Both wore corsages of white cymbidium orchids.

Reception
Jerry Whitten provided the music for the reception in the Pampa Country Club.

The bride's table was covered with a floor-length white satin cloth, centered with an arrangement of spring flowers in a silver and crystal compote. Silver candelabra flanked the centerpiece.

The bridegroom's table was covered with a floor-length beige cloth, accented by a single brass candelabra to match the brass coffee service.

The four-tiered wedding cake was decorated with fresh, spring flowers to match the centerpiece.

Serving at the bride's table were Miss Jean Franklin of Pampa, who presided at the punch bowl, and Mrs. David McDaniel of Pampa, who served the cake. At the bridegroom's table were Miss Wanetta Bayless of Austin, presiding at the coffee service and Miss Cynthia West of Carmichael, Calif., sister of the bridegroom, who served the cake. Guests were registered by Miss Carolyn McKinley of Pampa.

Others in the houseparty were Miss Linda Garrett of Pampa and Mrs. Ron Pratt of Riverside, Calif., sister of the bridegroom.

For traveling, the bride wore a navy knit ensemble styled with long sleeves and a white collar, topped with a navy and white striped empire jumper-coat. Her accessories were navy blue, and her corsage was of the white roses from her bridal bouquet.

After a short honeymoon, the couple will return to Austin, where both are students at the University of Texas. They will be at home at 1201 Town Creek Drive, Apt. 211, Austin.

Affiliations

The bride, a 1969 graduate of Pampa High School, attended Baylor University, and is now a junior student at the University of Texas, Austin, where she is majoring in French and German. She attended summer sessions at Lycee Kleber, Strasbourg, France, and at the University of Dijon, Dijon, France.

The bridegroom, a 1967 student of LaSierra High School, Carmichael, Calif., attended American River College, Sacramento, Calif., and is now a senior student at the University of Texas, majoring in pharmacy.

Pre-Nuptial Events

A miscellaneous shower was given in Austin by the bride's roommates, Misses Phyllis Tacquard, Cheryl Long and Carolyn Moore.

A sherry party was held in the home of Mrs. Aubrey L. Steele, 1800 Grape, with Mrs. E. S. Williams and Mrs. George Snell Jr. as co-hostesses.

A spice coffee at the Pampa Country Club was hosted by Mrs. J. R. Donaldson, Charles B. Cook, Bob Triplehorn and J. F. Elder.

Mrs. Joe Franklin, 1809 N. Russell, and her daughter, Jean, and Mrs. Gordon Bayless and her daughter, Wanetta, honored the bride-elect with a rice bag party and brunch in the Franklin home.

The rehearsal dinner, hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth H. West of Carmichael, Calif., was held in the Crown and Shield Room at the Coronado Inn.

A buffet supper, following the reception, was served in the home of the bride's parents by

Out-Of-Town Guests
Out-of-town guests included Mrs. Irma P. West of Carmichael, Calif., grandmother of the bridegroom; Mrs. Ron Pratt of Riverside, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. Chester Amend, Bobbie and Susie, of Richardson; Mrs. Elizabeth Crabb, Beth and Buster, of Austin; Mr. and Mrs. James McDaniel of Plainview; and Doug Williams of Lubbock.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray W. Stewart, 942 E. Gordon, announce the engagement of their daughter, Carolyn Gean, to Dan Sidney Steele, son of Mrs. Edgar Steele, Jr., of Graham, and the late Edgar Steele, Jr. Miss Stewart is a 1970 graduate of Graham High School and attended Howard Payne College. She is presently enrolled at West Texas State University, where she is employed by the School of Business. The prospective bridegroom graduated from Graham, High School in 1970. He has attended Texas A&M University and is presently attending WTSU. The couple will be married June 3, in the M.K. Graham Memorial Chapel, First United Methodist Church of Graham.

Bible Class Has Study Meeting

SKELLYTOWN (Spl.)—Tuesday morning Bible Class of the Church of Christ met in the church, with the opening prayer by Mrs. Bennie Woodward. The lesson, "Christian Graces," was taught by Mrs. Alice Bradshaw. Mrs. Roy McKissick closed the meeting with prayer.

Attending were Mrs. D.C. McCarthy, James Douglas, Bill Wood and granddaughter, Tammie, Roy Lynn McClendon and two daughters, Kristi and Kathy, Bennie Woodward, Roy McKissick, Grace Smith and Alice Bradshaw.

appreciation was read from Mrs. Kermit B. Lawson, retiring president of the Top of Texas district of the Texas Federated Women's Clubs.

Mrs. Lane, delegate to the district convention, held in Dumas, reported on the meeting. She explained the president's theme was "Diamond Jubilee of Enrichment," with club reports designated as "many-faceted diamonds." "Diamonds in the Rough" was the title for a panel composed of incoming presidents. "Brilliance of Many Diamonds" was the fine arts program, in which the art exhibit winners and the poet laureate winners were announced.

Mrs. Lane reported the club won a second-place certificate for programs presented on "Beauty Spots of Texas." She told the women the club's educational project, a $300 scholarship for a Pampa High graduating senior, won a second-place award. A first-place certificate in the poet laureate contest was won by Mrs. Lane's entry, "Gray is the Color."

Mrs. Holt Barber presented a program entitled, "Olio of Texas History," a potpourri of anecdotes, incidents of history and current happenings.

She discussed the high-kicking Rangerettes of Kilgore, which she called the first and best of the many girl choruses, adding that it has been in existence for 32 years.

She told of Laredo, the "International Fun City," with its mingling of many cultures, and gave facts about Decatur, Bonham and Odessa.

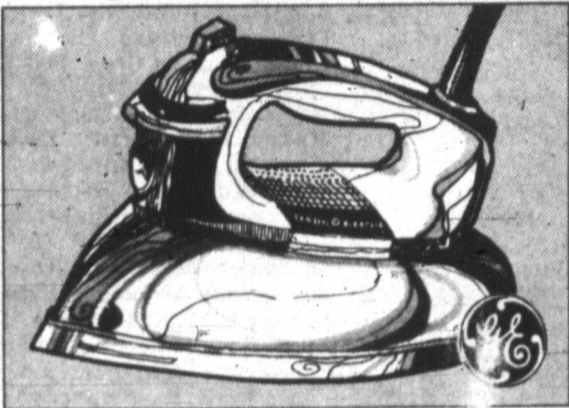

Attending were Mrs. Holt Barber, Larry L. Cross, J. R. Holloway, David E. Holt, Homer D. Johnson, McHenry Lane, Aubrey L. Steele, Frank Stofa, John W. Warner, Floyd Weathersbee and John L. Young.

Mobeetie Tops Chapter Meets

MOBEETIE (Spl.)—The Mobeetie Texas Tops, Chapter 19, held its meeting Monday night in the Lions Hut with six members attending. Roll call was answered by giving ideas on "Something That Appealed to Me." Jello and dream whip were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Wilene Waters, and Mrs. Dorothy Walker.

Own house in shambles, but he's helping others

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I hardly know how to begin, but my husband, the "DO-IT-YOURSELFER," is always helping someone who is either too lazy or too dumb to do things for themselves. They rarely pay him, but he keeps right on doing for others, and refusing to do for us!

We started out remodeling our entire house, plus adding two rooms and a bath. That was two and a half years ago. He laughingly calls it his "five-year-project." I've tried to help him whenever I can, and so have the older children. [We have seven, from 16 down to 14 months old.]

I think if my husband has any spare time, he should finish this house instead of running off to help somebody else, don't you? I am a nervous wreck and need your help.

ALL TORN UP

DEAR TORN: I agree with you. Your husband SHOULD finish your house first, but I'm afraid he wasn't kidding when he "laughingly" called it a five-year-project. My advice to you is to get off his back, and accept the fact that it will take another two and a half years. The damage you do to yourself by fretting and stewing and nagging is more serious than the inconvenience of living the way you are.

DEAR ABBY: My husband, a physician, age 50, has been intimate with a young woman for three years off and on.

This woman is married and has a small child, and her husband is out of the country for long periods at a time.

I regard my husband's actions as an emotional illness, and am striving to give him special love and care now that the girl's husband is back in the country and they live in another state.

The girl is obviously selfish and unstable, and I anticipate that eventually she will lose her husband because of her immoral behavior and return home with her small child. I have felt sorry for her and have protected her name, ever though she clearly stated to me, "I have no morals."

How shall I react when this girl returns to this small town again? We have adult offspring about her age who are as stunned as I over this situation, discovered only last year.

BEWILDERED IN THE SOUTH

DEAR BEWILDERED: You have been more than generous in your attitude thus far, but don't anticipate that which may never happen. Your husband may regain his sanity. And the young woman may never come back.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I recently attended a large catered affair. It was a sit-down dinner. Several courses were offered to him which he didn't want, so in order to let the waiter know, he turned his dishes upside down. He didn't cry for wine, so I did the same with his wine glass.

On the way home we got into a big discussion about it. I said all he had to do was say to the waiter, "No, thank you. I don't care for any."

My husband said it was a lot easier to just turn his dish or glass over. How would you vote?

FLORENCE

DEAR FLORENCE: I'd vote with you. And so would my friend, Amy the etiquette expert.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "ANOTHER MOTHER FOR PEACE": When I published my anti-Viet Nam war opinion, I anticipated mail from readers saying, "Stick to your love stuff, Abby, you're not qualified to comment on our involvement in Southeast Asia."

I did, however receive an equal number of letters, saying, "Right on, Sister!" I appreciate [and read] ALL my mail. Pro and con.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

Hate to write letters? Send $1 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069, for Abby's booklet, "How to Write Letters for All Occasions."

Ex-Pampa Woman Recovers From Alaska Airplane Crash

"Hi! This is Betty Jackson." The voice on the phone was husky but listening friends thought the Pampa visitor had the last "bug" of winter going the rounds.

Actually, they were able to hear the voice of the former Pampa woman through a miracle of modern surgery. It was only weeks ago that Mrs. Jackson's power of speech was completely gone—her voice box torn out in the crash of an airplane she was piloting.

The Jacksons moved to Pampa in 1946 and Warren became affiliated with National Tank Co. shortly after. Later, he purchased Atlas Tank Co. and operated it until a few months before the couple and their three children moved to Anchorage, Alaska.

Jackson operates a company that treats crude oil as it comes from "platforms" in the inlet on which the city of Anchorage lies. After treatment, he pumps the oil some 50 miles to a point where it is placed in tankers and shipped to world points. Clients are a roll call of major oil companies engaged in Alaskan production as well as a number of independents.

Most of the travel between company headquarters and the tank farms and treatment plants is done by air. On one such trip Betty was flying their youngest son, Mike, to a treatment plant when wind currents blew her off course on the approach to the landing strip. It became necessary to "cartwheel" the Cessna 180 to miss some trees.

CATCHING UP!—Former Pampa Betty Jackson spent many moments of a brief visit here talking with friends on the phone, aided by daughter, Nola, with the directory. These are moments of luxury for Betty who has just regained the power of speech after losing her voice box in an Alaskan airplane accident.

(Staff Photo)

In a manner of minutes she was in surgery in the hospital at Anchorage. After initial treatment for injury came the tedious task of building a new voice box. The intervening time was filled with such devices as a code tapping on the telephone when a call found her at home alone. It worked fine for friends but frustration set in when a stranger called and could not interpret the taps.

There is still more surgery ahead involving a revolutionary new technique but the Jacksons feel the worst is over.

This is their second trip back in some six years. They visited an uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Baxter, here; their oldest son, Charles, a student at the University of Oklahoma and other relatives in Missouri. They were accompanied by daughter, Nola.

Red Cross News

By LIBBY SHOTWELL, Executive Secretary ARC

Happy Easter to all of you. If you are traveling on the Highways, be sure to observe the traffic signs and to be careful! We will be in town during the holidays so if there is an emergency, call our home: 665-3814 and we will take care of your problems if possible.

The water safety instructors will go to the YWCA in Amarillo on Jackson St. for their first lesson April 3, 5, and 7 at 7 p.m. Jim Cunningham, coach, will drive his car and the group will meet at the City Hall at 5:30 p.m. Pam Green and Loquita Carter are planning to make the trip with him.

Mrs. Gerald Marlar will leave Pampa soon to make her home in Duncan, Okla. Mrs. Marlar has been our water safety chairman and WSI Trainer for our area. Jackie will certainly be missed in Pampa as she worked at the Pampa Youth Center as well as training our young people to be instructors and aides.

Best wishes to the whole family in their new home.

Cards are being sent out this week to our volunteers in hospital work and you are urged to mail them back to our office so that records can be kept on your work. Our year will soon be over and an accurate account of work done at Highland General Hospital is kept.

William Ledbetter taught his first class for Skelly Oil Co. on multi media first aid this week. Watch for the names next week that received their cards. Mrs. Libby Shotwell met with the group for lunch and later talked to them on our Red Cross organization. Thanks to this interested group of persons for their interest in Red Cross.

Horace Mann Elementary School has completed packing their friendship boxes for the Papago Indians Reservation. The children placed pencils, notebooks, colors, comb, tooth paste and tooth brush, soap, bath rug, scissors, games and gifts for boys and girls in their boxes. Horace Mann children packed 14 boxes. Thanks to all of the children and to Mr. Sam Begert, Principal and to Mrs. Eida Wilson, teacher sponsor for Red Cross.

Check your calendar and make plans to attend the Red Cross annual meeting at the First United Methodist Church May 1 at 7 p.m. Speakers will be a husband and wife team. Mr. and Mrs. James L. Moody, from Childress, Texas and they will speak on Red Cross Volunteers.

A standard first aid multi-media class was taught by Bill Ledbetter Wednesday.

Highland General Hospital Has Sound Administrative System

EDITOR'S NOTE—This is the second in a series of weekly articles, prepared by the public relations department of Highland General Hospital, to acquaint the public with hospital officials, employees, department procedures and the many services offered to the people of Gray County.

By JUDITH KITTO

The clerical and office personnel of any hospital plays an integral part in the patient's stay in that hospital. Highland General Hospital administrators feel the office staff is an excellent representative of good will and concern for patients. This article will introduce Mr. John C. Doe, a hypothetical character who will be used in a series of articles introducing in a patient's eye-view of employees and services of Highland General Hospital.

Upon entering the hospital Mr. Doe is greeted by Mrs. Gertrude Stall. Mrs. Stall has been with the hospital more than ten years and is in charge of admittance and dismissal of patients. Mrs. Stall talks directly with all incoming patients and secures all of the important data needed for admission such as: name, age, next of kin, etc.

At this time Mr. Doe makes arrangements for payment of his bill either by presenting his insurance policies, his

Medicare card (if he is over 65) or by making a cash deposit to insure the hospital will receive payment of his bill. In some cases, if the patient is on state or county welfare, he should present his current Medicaid card or county approval in order to be admitted. After all data has been obtained, Mr. Doe will be taken to his room or to the lab for admitting blood tests. If he had arrived in the afternoon or evening he might have been admitted by Lisa Friend, a VOE student from Pampa High School or other office workers who assist in admittance and dismissal. This is just the beginning of the part the office staff plays in the patient's stay in the hospital. If he had been on Medicare, his insurance papers would have been handled by the hospital's Medicare consultant, Mrs. Reba Percy. Her job as consultant to all Medicare patients is to prepare their insurance papers and to see that correct payment is made to the hospital. The office consultant for Medicaid, Blue Cross and all commercial insurance is Mrs. Florette Burns. An employee of the Hospital for the past seven years, Mrs. Burns will take care of Mr. Doe's insurance forms and secure payment from the insurance companies to the hospital.

Still others are working on John Doe's account. Mrs. Sherry Brewer and Mrs. Mona Roth, who operate the posting machine, are securing the charges during his stay at the hospital and posting them to his personal account.

People In The News

LAGUNA BEACH, Calif. (AP) — In a traditional wedding ceremony that featured contemporary music, Rep. Barry M. Goldwater Jr., was married to Susan Lee Gherman of Newport Beach, Calif.

The 30-minute ceremony at St. Mary's Episcopal church Thursday was conducted by the Rt. Rev. John Joseph Harte, Episcopal bishop of Arizona, before 120 guests.

A last-minute change in churches resulted from a disagreement between the 33-year-old California Republican, son of Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, and the minister of St. James Episcopal church in Newport Beach, where the service was scheduled originally.

Goldwater and Miss Gherman, 25, wanted contemporary as well as traditional music at the ceremony but the Rev. John P. Ashley II would not allow it.

The songs played at the ceremony on electric piano and electric guitars included "We've Only Just Begun," "Love is a Many Splendored Thing," and the Beatles' "Something."

Buying Power Of Texas Up Last Year

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The purchasing power of the average Texan rose 7 1/2 per cent over the past year, the Bureau of Business Research reports.

Personal income was up 11 per cent for January-February this year compared with the figure for those months in 1971. The consumer price index rose only 3 1/2 per cent for the same period.

"Not all consumers enjoyed this increase," the bureau said. "Only those whose bargaining positions enabled them to advance their income at a rate better than 3 1/2 per cent were better off economically."

"Retired persons and others on relatively fixed incomes saw a further erosion of their standards of living, even though the rate of deterioration slowed."

The index of business activity rose to 160.3 per cent of the 1967 level in February, slightly below the 161.7 per cent record in November 1971.

"The construction industry continues to be the brightest part of our lethargic economic recovery," the bureau said. "Boosted by a 29 per cent rise in residential permits and a 46 per cent rise in nonresidential, the index of total building permits in Texas rose 33 per cent in February."

Easter And Mankind

As Easter dawns in Jerusalem, a lone figure crosses a cobbled courtyard to unlock the heavy wooden doors of the holiest shrine in Christendom.

This is the Church of the Holy Sepulchre, first built in A.D. 326. It stands where, in Christian tradition, Christ was slain and buried. Richly ornamented altars and mosaics mark the site of the crucifixion and tomb.

Pilgrims from around the world have long come to worship at this hallowed spot in present-day Jordan.

Various Christian sects have their own chapels in the church. The major portion of the shrine is held by the Greek Orthodox Church, but the Roman Catholic, Armenian, Syrian, and Coptic churches are all represented.

All sects have access to the main chapel above Christ's supposed tomb. The Stone of Unction, hallowed by the tradition that mourners here anointed the body of Christ, has been worn smooth by the countless kisses and tears of worshippers.

Many special ceremonies are celebrated during Holy Week. On Maundy Thursday, Greek and Armenian clergy don ornate vestments for the washing-of-the-feet ceremony. Commemorating the Last Supper, the Greek Patriarch humbly washes the feet of 12 priests.

On Easter Sunday, a silver altar is placed in front of Jesus' tomb, and the sacred story of the Passion is chanted from the Bible.

Since it was erected more than 1,600 years ago, the Church of the Holy Sepulchre has suffered considerable damage from the clashes of belligerent armies and militant faiths in the Holy City.

The original marble-and-gold edifice was built by the 4th-century Emperor Constantine. The magnificent structure was destroyed by invading Persians in 614, later rebuilt on a smaller scale, then burned and demolished by 11th-century Moslems.

The rock-cut tomb was a great prize for the Crusaders. Jerusalem's streets ran with blood in A.D. 1099 as knights wrested the holy shrine from Moslem control. The Crusaders rebuilt the church, but it was gutted by fire in 1890 and battered by an earthquake in 1927.

After the earthquake, British mandate officials shored the interior and facade with steel scaffolding. Even this well-intentioned gesture contributed to the church's decay. Scorching days and chilly nights in Jerusalem made the scaffolding expand and contract, thus loosening the very stones supposedly being reinforced.

General neglect of the Church of the Holy Sepulchre over the centuries may be ending. Recently, the three major sects whose shrines occupy the greater part of the church—Armenian Orthodox, Greek Orthodox, and Roman Catholic—began an ambitious two-million-dollar building program designed to restore Christendom's first shrine to its original beauty.

It seems inconceivable that man—especially Christian man—has shed so much of his fellow man's blood for mere physical possession of this most holy spot in Christendom.

Despite nearly 2,000 years of Christianity, "civilized" man and his governments have not progressed far from the eye-for-an-eye philosophy of the era before Christ.

Tip On City Congestion

Operating on the theory that if you can't lick 'em, join 'em—in this case motorists—the city of Montpellier, France, is testing a unique transportation system aimed at reducing urban congestion.

According to Traffic Safety magazine, the system is called "Transport Individuel Publique," or TIP, and allows drivers to travel about the city in publicly owned automobiles.

It works like this: A motorist pays a fee for an ignition key that will start any of the system's fleet of cars stationed at various locations in the city. Plastic tokens purchased at local stores allow a driver 11 miles of inner-city driving on each token.

Upon reaching his destination, the driver merely drops the car off at a station for another driver to use. Later, he may return home in another TIP car.

The operators of the system claim that one-third of all vehicles could be removed from city streets if traffic were restricted to buses, taxis and TIP cars.

Paul Harvey News Welfare Costs Jump Another 27 Per Cent

By PAUL HARVEY
Some of our country's critics argue that we spend too much money on weapons and technology and not enough on solving our nation's social problems.

For the record, last year, out of every dollar which your government spent, 51 cents went to "social welfare."

Recent remedial legislation has left the impression that something is being done about it—that welfare abuses are being corrected.

But welfare costs jumped another 27 per cent last year and they're still climbing.

What more must we do? When President Nixon asked the Congress for a major overhaul of the welfare program, they gave him a minor tuneup instead.

Maybe it's best he did not get all he asked; that package had become so cotton-pickin' complicated even its authors couldn't understand it.

Anyway, Congress did agree to a requirement that able-bodied welfare recipients—including mothers—should make themselves available for work or work training.

Starting July 1, that will tend to plug one large leak in our fiscal plumbing. There are presently more than 2½ million parents receiving ADC.

This aid to dependent children is at once our nation's most compassionate and most abused effort.

As President Nixon says, further incentives are needed to keep families together, but this is a start at alleviating a sometimes scandalous subsidy for illegitimacy.

Now the President is asking Congress for more than $500 million to help individual states meet soaring welfare costs. Understandably, they are the "big-city states." Eight states will get more than 70 per cent of the total.

Understand, the 51.2 per cent of all government expenditures this fiscal year under the heading of "welfare" was not all relief money to poor people. That astronomical $170.7 billion headed "social welfare" included $5.5 billion aid to education.

There's a point past which even the worthy objective of education is not worth going bankrupt for.

But what politician dares in an election year to remind us that governments, even as people, go broke when they persistently spend beyond their incomes?

What politician dares in 1972 to campaign against education or against charity?

Indeed, most of the incumbent President's challengers are criticizing him for not spending more on schools, housing, medical programs and other aid to the poor.

Over the past five years our nation's GNP (gross national product)—total output of everything—has been growing 7 per cent per year.

Total social welfare expenditures have increased more than 14 per cent per year.

The politician using welfare as vote bait soon will be unable to hide the hook.

Your Health

Popping Joints May Be from Gas

Dear Dr. Lamb — Every time I move a joint it pops and I stay sore and hurting all the time. I have been to see several doctors, but they can't seem to help me. I am 35 years old and a builder who does all kinds of work from laying brick and block to carpentry. I also have muscle spasms which seem to get worse. Do you know of anything that will help me? I will try almost anything. I can't work or anything the way I want to. The pain is terrible, and I go as long as I can without seeing a doctor.

I do not take medicine when I can get by without it. If I have arthritis and muscle spasms is there anything that will do any good? Will this continue to get worse as the years go by?

Dear Reader — The noises made by that joint popping are not necessarily arthritis. Some popping of the joints apparently is related to the accumulation of free gas within the joint space. All of us have a certain amount of gasses dissolved in our body fluids, including oxygen and nitrogen. These gasses are only slightly soluble in liquids and it is easy for some of these gasses to escape and form small bubbles. This sometimes has something to do with the popping of joints. There are other factors too which can cause joint problems. Ordinary joint popping should not cause joint spasm or pain of type you describe.

It is not possible from your story to determine exactly what you have, but it is clear to me that you are not seeing a rheumatologist (a specialist in bone and joint problems like arthritis). If you can't find a rheumatologist either call or write to the nearest county medical society and ask them to recommend one near to you.

If you do have rheumatoid arthritis, I think some careful attention should be given to your occupation. You would need to do things that would not overload your joints and laying bricks and blocks doesn't sound to me like the ideal.

At your relatively young age, I think it would be very important for you to make a major effort to determine what your difficulty is. If you have rheumatoid arthritis, you may have to live with it for many years, and how well you do this depends on what type of medical supervision you really have. So let me urge you strongly to be certain that you are being seen by a rheumatologist. Stay with him so he can do something to help your living patterns.

WHAT KIND of shape are you in? What's your physical condition? These questions serve to remind that April is Physical Fitness Month in Texas.

It has been so declared by Gov. Preston Smith (who is physically fit enough to carry on a political fight for re-election.)

A score of supporting agencies and associations, including the Texas High School Coaches Association, are backing the month-long program to raise the physical fitness level for all citizens.

In his proclamation, the governor points out that "today's increased leisure, accompanied by the poor health habits of over-eating, physical inactivity and idleness have contributed to the facts that one-half of America's adults are overweight and 55 per cent of all deaths in the United States relate to disease of the heart and blood vessels, most of which are associated with obesity and physical inactivity."

So, step on those bathroom scales and see how you stack up. If you're not pleased with the story the scales tell, do something about it.

In her renewed plea for city-wide cooperation, the Beautification Committee chairman says:

"We are most anxious that each of you plan an area in your landscape for cushion mums so we might have a mass of color all over our town. Please join us in making Pampa a more beautiful place in which to live."

EQUAL RIGHTS for women is a subject with many angles.

Those petitions from Pampa women that went down to Austin the other day in opposition to Equal Rights legislation put a new light on the "whole thin-n-n-g."

Some women want them. Some don't.

The fair sex opponents here expressed fear the Texas bill would mean they could be drafted into military service and even incarcerated in the same cell-blocks with men jail prisoners.

Those two impending risks, if they ever did become effective, possibly could make army and prison life a lot more palatable for some—and not so tempting for others.

One suspects there are good arguments for and against, but let's not go into them here.

Equal rights or not—there's one thing for sure. The ladies, bless them, never will gain the right to become fathers and men never will gain the right to be vice versa.

WE MENTIONED here last week that the City Beautification Committee of the Chamber of Commerce is vitally interested in making Pampa more beautiful.

The committee is hoping you didn't just read about it and then forget it.

Mrs. Thelma Bray, committee chairman, says members of the group are grateful for Pampa's beautiful parks and that the addition of cushion mums at vantage points along Red Deer Trail has brought much local and area-wide recognition and appreciation.

For that reason, she says, the committee now is emphasizing mass planting of cushion mums this Spring in home grounds, churches, service stations, public buildings and businesses.

The project can be successful only if Pampans in all areas get behind it with full cooperation.

Mrs. Bray says beauty is contagious, and the committee stands ready to assist anyone who needs help in planning the landscaping of grounds adjacent to buildings.

STILL ON the same subject, it's pointed out by the Chamber of Commerce committee that trees grow well in Pampa when given proper care.

There are 36 different varieties of trees growing along Red Deer Trail and 26 varieties in Aspen Park.

April 10 is the birthday of J. Sterling Morton, founder of Arbor Day 100 years ago. The Pampa Garden Club is encouraging mass tree planting on that day—with special emphasis on flowering and ornamental trees.

The Garden Club will lead the way by planting flowering trees on the campus of Stephen F. Austin Elementary School on Arbor Day. The club members will get an assist from the Pampa Rosebuds, Girl Scout Junior Troop 60 and Brownie Troop 69.

THE ANNUAL membership meeting of the Panhandle Heritage Foundation, sponsors of the annual production of "Texas" in the Palo Duro Canyon Amphitheater, will be held Wednesday in the Amarillo Club at Amarillo.

Pampa members of the board are Mrs. Raymond Harrah and Mrs. J.R. Holloway.

The meeting will open with a noon luncheon in the club dining room on the 31st floor of the new Amarillo National Bank Bldg., followed by a tour of the building.

The Foundation has done so much to keep alive the historical legacy of the Texas Panhandle. Wednesday's meeting will be open to all current members and new members are invited. Membership fees start at $5. The luncheon tab will be $2.75.

Incidentally, rehearsals for "Texas" will start May 28 and the production will be staged June 22 through Aug. 26. In its sixth year, the musical drama of early days in the Texas Panhandle is again expected to attract many thousands into the colorful outdoor setting deep inside beautiful Palo Duro canyon.

THE CITY HALL Cat says there is more than usual interest in Tuesday's city commission election.

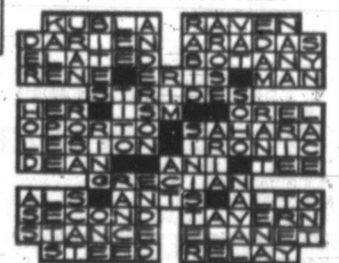

Ward 2 candidate R.D. Wilkerson, with no opposition on the ballot, is expected to slide in easily.

But, the Ward 4 race involving three candidates is wide open. The Cat says anything can happen there and advises the boys in the back room not to give any odds on any of them. Toss a coin, says the Cat, and bet it even-Stephen.

JUDO LESSONS—There has been a change in meeting time for judo due to the school schedule of our instructor. Judo will meet only on Thursday nights from 7-8:30 p.m. No Meeting on Monday because our instructor, Paul Moot, must attend night school.

Judo enrollment is still open to boys 8 years of age or older and girls who are 12 years of age or older. Parents both male and female are invited to participate with the children. Each participant should be a Center member which is $5.00 for 6 months or $8.00 per year. In addition a mat fee of 50 cents per month is charged. If you are interested, please attend the Thursday and only weekly meeting so that full details can be given you by the instructor.

DOLPHIN SWIM TEAM—Boys and girls who are interested in competitive swimming, please draw your attention to this column. The Youth Center is the home of the Dolphins. This is a swim club for boys and girls who know how to swim and like to race. Swimmers from 6-18 are invited to participate. The club is A. A. U. sanctioned and they attend several weekend meets during the school year.

Swimmers are needed in all age groups to complete relay teams so that we can have relay representation at all meets. All interested swimmers are urged to contact coach Nell Carter at 665-8771 or come out for practice. The only requirement is that you be a member of the Youth Center. Workout time is 6-7:00 p.m. on Monday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

WOMEN'S EXERCISE CLASS—The Center has an activity just for you women to trim and slim that figure. On Monday and Friday mornings there is an organized exercise class that meets at 9:30-10:15. An instructor leads that class through a synchronized exercise program by the use of recordings. At 10-15 there is an open swim time until 11:30. No swim lessons are given.

To participate in either or both of these classes you need only be a Center member which is $5.00 for six months or $8.00 per year. A baby sitting service is available at a very nominal cost. You can even join the health club through this plan and have baby sitting service. Come by and visit with us for full details.

MEMBERSHIPS—For the information of those new in Pampa, the Center is a community building and is a non-profit organization. Revenue to run the Center is derived from a membership dues and contributions from several clubs, organizations and individuals. Absolutely no tax money from our city, state or federal governments is used or has ever been used here.

Our participation is through a membership plan either limited or unlimited. Our regular membership is called the limited plan and this entitles you to full use of the gym, swimming pool and recreation hall. An individual membership is only $5 for six months or $8 per year. A family membership which includes all members of the immediate family is $12 for six months or $20 per year. Our unlimited plan entitles the owner to the above accommodations and also use of the new health facility. The health facility includes an exercise room with all the latest exercise equipment such as barrell rollers, facial machines, jungle pulley machine, bicycles, weights, vibrator-belts, etc. along with 2 handball and racquet ball courts and a sauna room. Women our sauna room produces a dry heat and does not affect the hair in anyway. An individual membership here costs $65 for six months or $118 per year. A husband-wife combination plan costs only $80 for six months and $166.00 per year. We do have a six months installment plan and if you are interested you may call the health facility at 665-4381 and inquire in detail about this.

Our Men In Military

JIMMY RIGGS

Marine Cpl. Jimmy D. Riggs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Riggs of 902 E. Francis, has completed two back-to-back training exercises on the beaches and desert of the Marine Corps Base, Camp Pendleton, Calif. where he is assigned to the Seventh M-Marine Regiment's Third Battalion.

His unit stormed ashore from Navy ships against an imaginary enemy on Pendleton's beaches, and when the area was secured moved inland for eight days of realistic desert warfare training. The total operation, designed to keep our Marines in peak combat readiness, lasted 18 days.

RONALD KETCHUM

Army PFC Ronald G. Ketchum, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sanford G. Ketchum, 222 Eshom Street, recently completed one-week of training at the in-country training school near Long Binh, Vietnam.

The school, which is conducted by the 95th military police battalion and is for new members of the 18th military police brigade, consists of 40 hours of classroom instruction and weapons familiarization.

Training includes instruction on the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese; ambushes and booby traps; history of Vietnam; Vietnamese customs and relations; driver's training; drugs; venereal disease; self defense, and the history of the brigade.

Pvt. Ketchum is now serving as a sentry dog handler in the brigade's headquarters detachment, 720th Military Police Battalion near Long Binh, Vietnam.

He entered the army in January 1971, completed basic training at Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo., and was last stationed at Ft. Gordon, Ga.

The pvt., whose wife, Jeannie, lives at 509 Texas Street, is a 1970 graduate of Pampa High School.

DICKIE FORKNER
U.S. Army Sgt. E-5 Dickie

Forkner-son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray W. Forkner, is home on leave after spending 3 years in Oakland, Calif.

In the middle of April, Sgt. Forkner will report to Travis Air Force Base in California for duty in Tague, Korea.

His wife, Jewel, and their daughters, Shelly and Davita, will be staying with her family, Mr. and Mrs. J.W. Hartman Jr., in Velma, Okla., after Sgt. Forkner leaves.

DONALD SMITHEE

Sp-4 Donald W. Smithee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Smithee of 533 S. Ballard has been serving in the Army since May 11, 1971. He took his basic training at Fort Polk, La. While there he also trained to become a clerk-typist. He took L.P.C. (Leadership Preparation Course) and A.I.T.

Smithee left Fort Lewis, Wash., on March 11, 1972 to go to Long Binh, Vietnam. He is now working in the "Drug Abuse Holding Center."

RICHARD GRAY

Airman Richard E. Gray, son of Mr. and Mrs. Berl F. Gray of Panhandle, Tex., has graduated at Sheppard AFB, from the U.S. Air Force aircraft mechanic course conducted by the Air Training Command.

The airman, now trained to maintain and service reciprocating engine aircraft, is being assigned to Shaw AFB, S.C., for duty with a unit of the Tactical Air Command which provides combat units for air support of U.S. ground forces.

Airman Gray is a 1971 graduate of Panhandle High School.

JIMMY HARPER

Navy Fireman Jimmy D. Harper, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim H. Harper, and husband of the former Miss Jackie K. Coombes of 1220 E. Frederic, all of Pampa, sailed into Norfolk, Va., on Thursday, Mar. 16, after six months in the Mediterranean and North Atlantic aboard the aircraft carrier USS Independence.

Lubbock Designated As One Of Three Forecast Centers

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP) — Despite an outdated radar system, Lubbock has been designated as one of three forecast centers in Texas and will be responsible for predicting weather for two cities that are serviced by more sophisticated, more effective equipment.

The announcement of the upgrading of the Lubbock station was made by regional director L. R. Mahar in Fort Worth.

However, the National Weather Service says it has no immediate plans to replace Lubbock's World War II vintage radar responsible for a 17-county area that includes 400,000 persons.

Effective operating range of the radar unit for determining tornadoes, hail and other severe weather in thunderstorms is 50 miles. Only movement and vertical development of thunderstorms can be detected past the 50 miles to a maximum range of 100 miles.

Midland and Amarillo, both serviced by the more effective, highpowered, radar units, will be dependent upon the Lubbock station for forecasting along with other Texas cities such as San Angelo, El Paso, Big Spring and Odessa.

Actual forecasting information will be furnished to the Lubbock station by other weather service offices.

Primary additional duties include preparing public, agricultural and aviation weather forecasts for all Texas areas west of the 100th meridian—a line extending from the eastern boundary of the Texas panhandle southward to near Del Rio.

The radar now in use in Lubbock was taken from a World War II aircraft and modified and installed for weather use in 1954. The $6,000 cost of reworking and installing the device was jointly paid for by the City of Lubbock, the County of Lubbock and the Lubbock Board of City Development. The Weather Service agreed to operate and maintain the unit.

Carl Reber, user services director for the southern region of the service in Fort Worth, said the service had been trying for several years to obtain new radar for Lubbock. He added that the request was reaffirmed last October.

Reber said no funds were available to purchase a radar for planned to use current funds planned to use current funds for a unit; the Weather Service would have to "lay off some people" to do it. He added should Lubbock's radar become inoperative, the Amarillo and Midland stations would overlap Lubbock and could be used in the interim.

However, weathermen in both Amarillo and Midland say they will be unable to tell what is in thunderstorm clouds. "The distance becomes critical at about 80-85 miles," a spokesman at the closer Amarillo station said. "We were not able to see the storm that hit Lubbock."

The storm that hit Lubbock was the May 11, 1970, tornado which killed 26 persons and did more than $250 million damage. More than 2,500 persons were injured. There was no advance warning to the public.

Reber's response about Amarillo and Midland taking up the slack in case of a failure in Lubbock's radar system came after the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal learned of a notice posted at the Lubbock office advising employees not to discuss radar effectiveness or personnel matters with newsmen.

The notice was posted because of an earlier Avalanche-Journal inquiry concerning the matter in which Reber and Harold Frost, meteorologist-in-charge at Lubbock, were contacted.

Currently the primary forecast responsibility for Texas is handled by two centers—Fort Worth and San Antonio. The change establishes a center for the western portion of the state to deal solely with problems of the area.

The memo, posted by Frost, said: "The newspaper has been doing some inquiring about radar and also (pay) grade structure at this office."
