Says Both Back War

McCarthy Hits Nixon, Hubert

By United Press International
Labeling Richard M. Nixon and Hubert Humphrey the "earliest and strongest supporters" of the Vietnam War, Sen. Eugene McCarthy has called for an end of national leadership by "those who would not settle that war."

"The American people deserve more in 1968 than a choice between the positions of the earliest and strongest supporters of the war," McCarthy told nearly 20,000 of his partisans Thursday night at a rally in New York City.

"We cannot continue to be prisoners of those who would not settle this war," he added in a speech beamed by closed circuit television to mass rallies in 22 other cities.

The Minnesota Democrat said there "is no hope for change with the Republican party" because Nixon, its nominee for president, "has been urging us to intervene in Vietnam since phrey, his chief rival for the phrey, his chief rival for the Democratic presidential nomination, had endorsed U.S. involvement in Vietnam since 1955.

McCarthy said the war was responsible for America's inability to meet pressing demands at home and "unless we can end this war, we will be unable to give proper attention" to domestic needs.

McCarthy did not criticize Sen. George S. McGovern of South Dakota, who, like himself, has taken a dovish position on the war in his bid for the Democratic presidential nomination. McGovern said Thursday in Washington his late entry into the race was prompted solely by a desire to strengthen the party's antiwar forces. He added that he had little hope of winning and that he would not accept the vice presidential nomination.

In other political developments: Nixon--The Republican presidential candidate's campaign appeared to stumble over Negro reaction to his vice presidential running mate, Gov. Spiro

Agnew of Maryland. J. Earl Dearing, a Negro prosecutor from Louisville, Ky., who is helping Nixon define a position on crime said Agnew must take immediate steps to improve his image with Negro voters and added he was not certain he would support the Nixon-Agnew ticket.

Resignation Announced
Agnes--The Maryland governor Thursday announced the resignation of the one Negro on his personal staff and then quickly appointed another to replace him.

Humphrey--The vice president, speaking today in Minneapolis to a meeting of the United Federation of Postal Clerks, said Richard Nixon is running on "a platform of empty promises" (See MCCARTHY, Page 3)

Navy Successfully Tests New Poseidon Sea-Based Missile

DEMO CONVENTION SITE -- For the sixth time in their last 10 national conventions, the Democrats are meeting in Chicago's International Amphitheatre in the Arena section of the above building. The political scene continues to warm, with Sen. Eugene McCarthy today calling Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and GOP standard-bearer Richard M. Nixon "look-alikes" in their policy toward the Vietnam War.

Troops Push Near N. Vietnam

By JACK WALSH
SAIGON (UPI)--A South Vietnamese force spearheaded by U.S. Marine tanks killed 215 Communist troops in fierce fighting which swept to the river border of North Vietnam, midway in the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ), U.S. military spokesmen reported today.

U.S. Marines killed another 56 Communists in three other clashes just below the DMZ, also on Thursday.

The drive to the Ben Hai River border, midway across the six-mile-wide demilitarized zone separating the Vietnams, triggered the bloodiest fighting in two months, since the Communists stopped their shelling of Saigon and fighting tapered off.

Spokesmen said it was the first time in five weeks allied soldiers have chased Communist soldiers into the buffer zone. This time, they routed an estimated 400 North Vietnamese pushing into South Vietnam, field reports said.

Follows Strikes
Aug. 23. The budget will be formally submitted to the city commission on Aug. 27. A public HEARING IS SLATED FOR Sept. 10. Final adoption of the budget legislation will be no later than Sept. 24 the city manager stated.

The drive by Leatherneck tanks and South Vietnamese infantry followed American B52 strikes into the DMZ and into North Vietnam's southern edge. Three waves of the Stratofortis hit Communist troops gathering for an expected invasion offensive.

In three other battles just below the DMZ, U.S. headquarters said other Marines killed 56 North Vietnamese soldiers while suffering nine men wounded themselves.

The biggest battle began early Thursday when the tanks and troops, alerted to the movement of a big North Vietnamese unit just above the outpost at Gio Linh, set off in pursuit.

Spearheaded by 20 tanks and 12 armored personnel carriers spewing cannon fire and machine gun bullets into the Red ranks at almost point-blank range, the infantrymen overran the Communist position.

Drive to River
"At least 100 bunkers with North Vietnamese troops inside them were destroyed," a U.S. adviser said.

The allied spearhead took and South Vietnam. But official border between North possibly to avoid diplomatic fuss, the tanks moved no closer than 100 yards to the water. An armada of 10 dive bombers and six helicopters swarmed over the demilitarized North Vietnamese unit fleeing the tank drive.

Spokesmen listed South Vietnamese casualties at four killed and 50 wounded in the 7 1/2-hour fight. U.S. losses were not given, but one U.S. Marine tank was destroyed by a Communist antitank rocket.

The battle raged as U.S. secretary of Defense Clark Clifford told a Thursday news conference in Washington the Communists are regrouping and retreating to push across the demilitarized zone for a new offensive.

American pilots, slashing at North Vietnam's panhandle supply lines to cut off the main line of northern military supplies Thursday, Hanh claimed its antiaircraft system downed one plane. The U.S. command announced no losses.

Police Want To Tell 'Big Dave' He Didn't Kill Anyone
By PRESTON KIRK
HOUSTON (UPI) -- Police would like to tell "Big Dave" Thraikill that he can live the rest of his life with a clear conscience. But nobody knows where he is.

Thraikill, 36, was last seen five months ago walking dependently towards Salvation Army headquarters in Houston, looking for a free meal and a place to sleep.

He was convinced he had accidentally caused a fire that killed eight persons in a shabby rooming house. Thraikill had gone to sleep in the rooming house the night of March 6, still holding a lit cigarette, and when he awoke, the building was in flames.

After questioning by police, the blaze was ruled an accident. But Thursday, Donald Robert Drennen, 51, confessed he had set the fire to kill his girl friend.

Thraikill Missing
Now the authorities are looking for Thraikill to relieve him of the burden he need carry no longer. The fire was Houston's worst in terms of fatalities in 25 years. "Big Dave," a nickname that does not really fit since he stands only 5-foot-7, was out of work with a bad back, but earned some money around the rooming house doing odd jobs and babysitting.

He had returned that night from a tavern and was watching television before going to sleep.

"The last of the late show was on," he said the day after the fire. "I generally always finish a meal with a smoke. I laid across the bed, and when I woke everything was on fire."

He tried to awaken as many people as he could, and his efforts saved the lives of three persons.

Nothing Left
"It will bother me the rest of my life," he said as the pall of smoke still hung over the burned out building. "There is nothing in this city for me."

He then began walking with the three men he saved toward the Salvation Army.

Drennen told arson investigator Mickey Manos that he had quarreled with the woman he had been living with because she had been bringing men to his apartment.

He said he poured gasoline along the hallways on the first and second floor and then set it afire. He said he could understand how fire investigators could speculate that the fire began in the vicinity of Thraikill's room since he had accidentally poured more gasoline in front of his door than anywhere else in the building.

Speaker Points To An 'Enormous' Cancer Problem

By LARRY HOLLIS
Pampa News Staff Writer

"The cancer problem is enormous," stated Dr. Robert V. Walker, president of the Texas Division of the American Cancer Society, at the noon meeting of the Lions Club yesterday.

"It's a common thing to think that cancer will hit the other person," the Dallas dentist said. Dr. Walker pointed out that cancer touches one out of every four persons. With the current treatments available, the cure rate is still only one in three.

"A cure could be achieved better if the cancer is detected early enough and if the treatment is begun early," Dr. Walker said. Early detection and early treatment could almost double the present cure rate.

The American Cancer Society stresses the need for regular checkups to detect cancer in the early stages. The Cancer Crusade, in addition to gaining money needed for research, helps to bring attention to the need for these annual checkups, Dr. Walker explained.

At present the ACS concentrates on three types of cancer -- that of the breast, of the uterus, and of the colon and rectum. These three types cause 65 to 70 per cent of all cancer deaths, according to Dr. Walker.

Another type of cancer that causes serious trouble is lung cancer. The cure rate is only five per cent.

"Smoking causes the predominant amount of these deaths from lung cancer," Dr. Walker said. The lung cancer rate for women has risen greatly in the last 20 years, due to increased smoking by women, Dr. Walker noted.

"Just cutting out smoking will materially cut the number of lung cancer cases," he stressed.

He stated it is too late to expect most adults who smoke to give up the habit. Realizing this, the ACS aims its program at children, to prevent them from taking up smoking.

"Interdependency is very important in regard to cancer," Dr. Walker said.

People help by urging others to have checkups, by giving money, by doing research. Dr. Walker said.

Carries Decoys

WASHINGTON (UPI)--The Army has decided as an economy measure to close 23 of its Nike-Hercules missile sites, the nation's main defense against manned bombers, it was learned today.

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)--President Johnson, less than two weeks away from his 60th birthday, has been given a clean bill of health by his doctors.

Johnson's personal physician, George Burkley, said Thursday that on the basis of X-rays taken this week he feels "there's been no significant change in the President's physical condition since the 1966 X-rays."

'Minuteman' Flight Is Also Slated Today

By AL ROSSITER JR.
UPI Space Writer

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI)--The Navy successfully tested its new Poseidon sea-based missile today in the first of double, Air Force-Navy nuclear bomb carrier launchings. While the Navy fired first in an unusual day of activity, the Air Force began a countdown for the afternoon maiden test flight of its Minuteman 3 ICBM.

Both rockets were designed to carry clusters of nuclear bombs to increase the nation's nuclear deterrent striking power five to 10 fold in the 1970s.

The bullet-shaped Poseidon took off from a land pad at 6:30 a.m. EDT and six minutes later the Navy said the test was a "complete success."

Four hours later, the countdown started for the launch of the new Minuteman 3 at 4:30 p.m. EDT from a nearby underground silo. It reportedly was carrying a test version of the multiple warhead package designed to shower bombs on targets hundreds of miles apart.

The Poseidon is expected to be the keystone of the nation's striking force in the next decade. The new Minuteman is programmed to replace many of the 1,000 older models now deployed.

The Poseidon left its launch site with a spurt of orange flame and darted skyward on a column of multi-colored smoke. It bore its dummy warhead toward an Atlantic target area 1,200 miles away.

"It's going to be a tough act to follow," said Maj. Gen. David Jones, commander of the Air Force Eastern Test Range. He was referring to the launch of the Minuteman on the heels of the Poseidon success.

When it was speeding high over the ocean, the Poseidon created a spectacular spiraling effect that awed veteran missile watchers for miles around. Informed sources later reported that this was caused by braking rockets that separated the missile's two stages.

The multi-bomb payload to be carried by both missiles represents a major development in nuclear warfare. It will give the United States the basis for a significant jump ahead in the arms race.

WASHINGTON (UPI)--The Federal Reserve Board's action lowering the discount rate Thursday was a vote of confidence that the economy's inflationary trends will be dampened by the recently enacted tax increase-spending cut package.

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI)--A black power rally, which prompted fear of a second night of racial disorder in the city's predominantly Negro West End, ended without major incident Thursday night while policemen working in 12-hour shifts patrolled the area.

MANILA (UPI)--Anti-American demonstrators tried to break through police lines around the U.S. Embassy today under a barrage of flaming torches but were repulsed. Police fired several warning shots into the air and charged with swinging clubs.

For 'Encouraging Death And Disease'

Surgeon General Hits Tobacco Industry

By MIKE FEINSLBER
WASHINGTON (UPI) -- The Surgeon General's Task Force for Smoking and Health today accused the tobacco industry of "encouraging death and disease" through an expensive public relations campaign to discredit "evidence that smoking is a health hazard."

The Tobacco Institute called the task force's report "a shockingly intemperate defamation of an industry which has led the way in medical research to seek answers in the cigarette controversy."

The 10-member task force made the charge in a report recommending new steps to encourage people to quit smoking and to discourage youngsters from taking up the habit. It reported that the anti-smoking campaigns were beginning to take effect.

One Million Quit
It said one million smokers are quitting every year and one-fourth of all American men and one-fifth of all women who have ever smoked have now quit.

But it said the tobacco industry has mounted a campaign to counter those trends.

"The task force believes that one of the reasons why cigarette consumption has remained high, why cigarette brands with high tar and nicotine levels remain large sellers and why death and morbidity rates associated with smoking continue to increase is the inability or unwillingness of the cigarette industry to face up to the health hazards, or even to admit they exist," the task force said.

The Tobacco Institute, which represents the tobacco industry, said the report "overlooks completely the fact that the industry pioneered organized and scientific study of the question when it established the Council for Tobacco Research-USA in 1954, long before any other public or private agency even attempted to provide anything but statistics and speculation."

Doctors to Set Examples

Among the task force recommendations: --Doctors and other "health professionals" to set an example, should never smoke in the presence of patients or young.

--Vendors of cigarettes on streets and should "remove government property should ashtrays, post "no smoking" push sales of low tar and signs and display appropriate literature in their offices.

--Wives should form groups to discuss ways to help husbands quit smoking.

His new book, "Washington Quadrille," states that the Mercer Rutherfurd considered divorce in 1917 but Mrs. Roosevelt decided "not to step aside" for the beautiful Miss Mercer. He quotes a number of Roosevelt and Mercer relatives to support his story.

After Mrs. Roosevelt discovered that Mrs. Rutherfurd had been at her husband's deathbed, she ordered all the family belongings packed and was out of the White House in five days, with not a "glance back," Daniels writes.

Tells Story
Daniels, editor of the Raleigh (N.C.) News and Observer and onetime administrative assistant and press secretary to Roosevelt, said he decided "it is time for the story to be told."

That fact that Mrs. Rutherfurd, who died three years after Roosevelt, was sitting with Roosevelt when he suffered his fatal stroke in Warm Springs, Ga. in 1945, was never made known officially. Mrs. Roosevelt did not learn of it until after she flew in from Washington for the death watch. Mrs. Rutherfurd had already left.

"There's hell to pay," Daniels quoted White House Press Secretary Steve Early as telling another staff member. "Mrs. Roosevelt knows that Lucy Rutherfurd was here."

Leaves Immediately
The First Lady made direct inquiries, Daniels wrote, "had Lucy Mercer come to the White House in the times when she had been away? The truth could not be denied. Eleanor's resentment could not be dissembled. She announced she was getting

If it comes from a Hdwe. store we have it, Lewis Hdwe. (Adv.)

This 'Cowboy Town' Boasts Authenticity

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UPI) — The cowboy wore a black hat. Two six-shooters dangled at his side. And his western-cut suit and handlebar mustache gave him the air of a city slicker, as he entered Cantina Begotes to order a drink or shoot the bull with the boys.

A scene from the old West? Not at all.

The year was 1968 and Wyatt Earp and Doc Holiday were on Boot Hill.

But Bob Dale was in the Cantina, one of the main attractions at the old San Antonio Western Village off Highway 90 east of San Antonio.

Dale, a cartoonist for the San Antonio Express, has a deep interest in Western folklore and authenticity.

Designed a Village

So much, in fact, that one day he went to his easel in the Express newsroom and designed a western village to be built from old boards, nails and ironworks from an old housing area torn down for HemisFair.

Now completed, the village attracts those who yearn to return to the old West.

"There stands a little bit of yesterday," Dale said, his long grey hair brushed back over his ears as he gestured toward a rickety, unpainted replica of a western flophouse.

"It is as authentic as they come—square nails and all," he said.

The town also has a western wear store, trading post and a shooting gallery.

No Jukebox

"Cantina Begotes sells draft beer and hamburgers and soft drinks, and the cantina is mercifully lacking a jukebox," Dale said. "Instead, old western ballads and gunfighter songs are piped into the place.

The town has its own church, a bank complete with fixtures from an old San Antonio bank a horse-drawn hearse which dates to the 1860's, a fancy but frontier-style opera house featuring cancan girls and silent movies starring Tom Mix, and other early western movie heroes.

The church was imported, put together with square nails, and features an old pump organ.

And no western town is complete without a Wells Fargo stagecoach and a ghostly cemetery.

"We have got it now," Dale said. "This town has every thing."

Owner Looks Authentic

Even the owner looks authentic. Dale always wears a black string tie and high-heeled boots and a high-crowned drover's hat highlighted by a snakeskin band. His participation in various western shows has made him a personality.

Dale organized the Dirty Dozen, the first fast-draw club in San Antonio, now featured as a side attraction at HemisFair. They are also a part of daily western shows in front of the Yellow Dog Hotel, having such true-to-life names as Willie the Weasel, El Tigre, Pig Face and Sage Brush.

Dale's project came up with building after building: Digger O'Gool's Undertaking Parlor, Cheap John's General Merchandise Store and the Alamo Torsorial Parlor, plus the Golden Stallion, a country-western dance hall with an adjoining steak house and club.

Gets Married

Willie (the Weasel) Schultz of the Dirty Dozen was so overcome by the authenticity of the church that he married Karen Flannery there three months ago.

The witnesses were El Tigre, Pig Face and Snake (as Dale is known), all of whom stood solemnly with gun scabbards properly emptied and mustaches drooping reverently.

And Dale's black hat was placed over his heart.

Television In Review

NEW YORK (UPI)—When Sandor Vanocur of NBC-TV commented at the Republican National Convention that the GOP appeared to be kissing off the Negro vote there were protests to the network that he had forced personal opinion into what should have been objective coverage.

Reuben Frank, president of the NBC news division, believes Vanocur, an experienced reporter, was absolutely right to state a conclusion he had reached by adding up the facts. But this is a presidential year and with political feeling and awareness running high Frank expects other complaints of partiality before a new tenant gets the White House lease.

In some countries it is fairly common practice to inject personal or government bias into TV news coverage. American networks are as vigilantly against this as the great news agencies have always been. In Frank's view, however, a qualified reporter is entitled to make an analytical comment even though there is a risk some viewers might confuse it with an editorial observation.

"It's a matter of professional discipline," he said in an interview. "No one on NBC is ever allowed to grind an axe personally. He may come to a wrong conclusion but he is stating a considered opinion based on actual events. Not everyone may see it that way. People who agree with you regard you as objective. Those who disagree with you feel you are biased."

Sharp Edge

Vanocur's summation of the GOP convention setup and its small handful of Negro delegates was one of the crisp analyses by the NBC reporters at Miami Beach that gave a sharp edge to its coverage and helped it gather the largest audience of convention viewers. Frank said the same team would function in much the same way at the Democratic National Convention at Chicago Aug. 26.

Chet Huntley and David Brinkley will be in the booth above the convention floor with Vanocur, Frank McGee, Edwin Newman and John Chancellor

"FIT THE CRIME?"

To make the punishment fit the crime may have been enough of a goal, a century ago, for the comic opera team of Gilbert and Sullivan.

But not for modern criminologists. Today's goal, as the United States Supreme Court put it, is to make the punishment fit the offender and not merely the crime.

Consider two robbers. One is a veteran safe cracker, wise in the ways of Crime, and the other is a teenage purse snatcher, nervously trying to be tough.

Both offenders are guilty of the same crime: robbery. Yet there are obvious reasons for not treating them alike. They are different not only in the degree of their evil but also in the chance of saving them from a life of crime.

When the time comes to pronounce sentence, the judge naturally wants to take such differences into account. But he may not have any leeway. Very often a single, standard penalty is prescribed in advance by the legislature.

What happens then? There are these possibilities:

The judge may be forced to impose a sentence that he feels is unwise; or

He may get around the law maybe by arbitrarily reducing the charge, maybe even by finding the offender not guilty at all.

In either case, as the unhappy result of a "prefabricated" sentence, justice is not done.

The problem was highlighted recently in a special report on sentencing, by an advisory committee of the American Bar Association.

The committee's report, part of a massive ABA study of criminal justice, urged a speedy end to too-rigid penalties frozen into law.

True, it is up to the legislature as spokesman for the public to set our basic standards for the punishment of wrongdoing.

The above is a public service feature of the American Bar Association and the State Bar of Texas. Written by Will Bernard.

"School bells" are ringing again. The familiar yellow school buses will soon be back on the highways. The Sergeant reminds all drivers of the state law regulating traffic in regard to school buses. "The driver of a vehicle upon a highway outside of the limits of any incorporated city or town upon meeting or overtaking from either direction any school bus which has stopped on the highway for the purpose of receiving or discharging any school children shall stop the vehicle immediately before passing the school bus, but may then proceed past such school bus at a speed which is prudent, not exceeding ten (10) miles per hour, and with due caution for the safety of such children."

The Sergeant also stated that a training school for 120 new patrolmen with the Texas Department of Public Safety will start August 27 and a later training school during the month of October.

To qualify for employment in the uniformed services of the DPS, a man must be between the ages of 20 and 35, not less than 5 feet 8 inches tall, have a high school education or its equivalent, be in sound physical condition and be a citizen of the United States.

All interested young men who can meet these qualifications are urged to contact the nearest DPS patrolman or DPS office for complete details concerning the position of a patrolman, training and benefits.

Scientists To Study 'Soul'

A lesson-sermon entitled "Soul" will be given at the First Church of Christ, Scientist, at the 11 a.m. service Sunday. Golden Text from Psalms includes, "The Lord God is a sun and shield; the Lord will give grace and glory; no good thing will be withheld from them that walk uprightly." One of the related passages to be read from the denominational textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, is: "Knowing that Soul and its attributes were forever manifested through man, the Master healed the sick, gave sight to the blind, hearing to the deaf, feet to the lame, thus bringing to light the scientific action of the divine Mind on human minds and bodies and giving a better understanding of Soul and salvation. Jesus healed sickness and sin by one and the same metaphysical process." He presented a program of folk

Battle Priest Speaks To Soldiers in Field

By DAVID LAMB
A SHAU VALLEY, Vietnam (UPI)—Father John Reschof stood behind four stacked ammunition cases which served as an altar and told a dozen shirtless, dirty GIs about the transfiguration of Jesus. The Roman Catholic priest, who is airlifted to 20 isolated artillery batteries each week to say Mass, spoke quietly and paused at regular intervals so the sound of exploding 155 mm howitzer shells would not interrupt too much. The priest and 12 men stood around the altar, holding worn prayer books, high atop an unnamed hill in the Communist-infested A Shau Valley and tried not to flinch when the artillery hit nearby. In the valley below, 2,000 Allied paratroopers carried on with the Vietnam War. The priest looked at his flock. There was mud on their faces, dirt matted in their hair and the sweat beaded and glistened on their shirtless bodies. The men had only a few minutes before they must return to the valley below and the fighting. Reschof, an Army captain from Seattle, Wash., glanced at an explosion nearby and spoke a little faster. Reschof described how Jesus walked up to Mt. Tabor and was transfigured before the eyes of his apostles Peter, James and John. "The mountain Christ climbed was much like this," Reschof said. "He did not arrive on a helicopter, but let us think of him coming up this mountain to us." The sun filtered through the rain clouds and struck the golden ciborium on the ammunition cases that made an altar, and the 12 men followed Father Reschof's recitation of the Lord's Prayer in unison.

Cries for Renewal Jar Church Council

By DAVID POLING
UPPSALA, Sweden (NEA)—The World Council of Churches will never again be a quiet ecumenical gathering where elderly theologians have pleasant discussions waiting for afternoon tea. The delegates—preceded by the King of Sweden, the President of Zambia, and the Archbishop of Canterbury—hardly had been seated in the cathedral of this university city, when the voices of protest were heard. A student leader said that young people "could no longer honor the trappings of grandeur." Christianity, for the Now Generation of young believers, has very little to do with ancient chants, flowing robes and concert choirs. "Instead of priests swinging incense, they want the church to be incensed with the horror of war, the reign of violence and the hovering cloud of poverty. Their image of Jesus Christ is one of servant, not king, at home in the huts of the poor, not the halls of princes. Fortunately, the youth and the leadership of the World Council are often on the same wavelength. They differ on the time schedule. Films, slides, posters and color displays by Sister Corita, the American artist-nun, exploded all over Uppsala. The council staff "turned on" the youth and many of the delegates with its Cafe Chantant. It roared nightly with folk rock, protest songs, teach-ins and debates. British Broadcasting Co. provided an evening of controversy and inspiration with its documentary film, "Christ and Disorder." It focused on the failures of the church in many parts of the world—its divisions, bewildering liturgy, reactionary policies and frequent blunders. Yet it dared to highlight the locations of genuine advance (Africa) and new experiments in rural assistance (India). Again, the film makers were asking the same question as the youth: Can the church practice what it has preached for 2,000 years? The most highly charged evening of the 14-day assembly was the appearance of the internationally famous and controversial American folk singer, Pete Seeger. He presented a program of folk

College Students Disenchanted With Science, The Word 'God'

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press International
College students are becoming disenchanted with science as a solution to the world's ills. They are increasingly concerned with spiritual values. They acknowledge the need for some kind of faith—in the sense of a belief-system not susceptible to proof—to give meaning to life. They have a strong sense of "wonderment and mystery" and are eager to learn more about meditation and contemplation. But they are apt to tune you right but if you start talking about God. These observations about the mind-set of today's young intellectuals come from Dr. Michael Novak, a Catholic philosopher who teaches at Stanford University. They are recorded in the Center Magazine, published by the Center for the Study of Democratic Institutions at Santa Barbara, Calif. Novak finds his students—especially the brighter ones—quite receptive to the idea there is a higher reality than the physical world perceived by the senses. "When you talk about meditation or contemplation, the classroom comes alive, the students listen to every word...students know very well what you are talking about." Word 'God' Ruined "But the word 'God' has been ruined for them by the way politicians have used it, and by the way some churchmen use it. It's like the word 'love.' So you have to go around by indirection when you're talking about God." Novak rarely encounters the rigorous materialism which caused an earlier generation of college students to look askance at all talk of spiritual values and to place their faith in science for betterment of the human condition. "Today's students see through the 'myth of the useful' in fact the pervasive utilitarianism contemporary science...they re-

British Catholics Continue Outcry On Birth Control

CAMBRIDGE, England (UPI)—The Roman Catholic chaplain of Cambridge University today joined the mounting outcry among British Catholics against Pope Paul's ban on birth control. Father Richard Inledon, 39, said he decided to speak out against the ban to show solidarity with Father Paul Weir, 31, of St. Cecilia's Church in North Chiem, an outlying London suburb. Father Inledon told newsmen he was at one time a curate of St. Cecilia's Church. He said, although he knew Father Weir, their opposition to the Pope's ruling was in no way a "getting together." "Having heard of Father Weir's feelings, I felt I could not protect myself by lying low," Father Inledon said. "I had to make my thoughts clear by expressing similar views."

WORD MADE FLESH

Jesus Christ is the grace of God! Grace was God coming! It was God coming in the form of a Son. Over and over Jesus said, "I have come!" There was a chasm between us and God; created by universal disobedience and widened and deepened by the stream of iniquity. God bridged that great gulf in His Son. We had been without God but now He became, "God with us." In order to do this the Living Word which was with God and was God had to become flesh and dwell among us. He had to come into the world and the only way he could come was as word become flesh. This is the only way God can penetrate the world; is for men of flesh to become one with Him through His Son.

There was a "before he came" and an "after he came." So it is in our lives. If we are to fulfill our mission we must start as he did. The Word of God must become flesh—our flesh. He did not merely quote passages or read scripture, although sometimes he did both, but He translated the word into life. The word became virile, vital and vigorous. It lived and moved and had being. So, in a sense, we are a miniature Christ. He was "the Anointed One" but we are the anointed ones." That is what "Christian" means. When he was baptized He was anointed and acknowledged as God's Son, when we are baptized we are anointed and acknowledged as God's sons.

As "little Christs" we can never become the bridge from earth to heaven. We can only be the approaches to that bridge. We must not dramatize our role, for we are not acting a part, but being a partner with Him. We must be in the world as He was in the World. "It is enough that the servant becomes as his Lord" (Matthew 10:25).

Woman's Page

Wanda Mae Huff, Women's Editor

Convenience and ease of maintenance are the features which characterize this plan for a woman's hobby center. The storage wall provides organized space for equipment and materials for such various pursuits as sewing and other handicrafts. When the table is folded up against the wall, pegboard drop panel which supports it, serves as a convenient bulletin board. The flooring of embossed berkshire vinyl asbestos tile does not require waxing to keep it beautiful. Sweeping or vacuuming are all the care necessary. This versatile work area can become a woman's office separate from family activities.

Housewife Turns Kitchen Aids Into Cosmetics

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK (UPI)—Doing K.P. paid off handsomely for Margarita Wagner.

Her kitchen duty, however, was in the family cooking arena where her mother used to mash avocado and use the pulp and oil as a "facial" for herself and her daughter. Or, occasionally the bottle of milk came out of the refrigerator and faces got the bath that Cleopatra loved for beauty's sake.

It was only natural, then, that when Miss Wagner went into cosmetics manufacture she should use some of the familiar products to feed the epidermis as well as the innards.

"At last," she said, "you can eat the product that goes on the face."

Miss Wagner is proud of what she calls the purity of beauty aids which use among other items soybean, olive and almond oils, and oils and juices extracted from fruits and vegetables including that avocado. Only a non-alcoholic preservative is added.

This woman, who calls herself a naturopath, is her own best representative for her cosmetics claim.

Darned if there's a deep line in face or neck, no sagging chin (her firm jaw line comes from face exercises), no wrinkled hands and elbows.

Her age? She won't tell—"years aren't important. We all start to age from the time we're born." But you can pretty well guesstimate when you hear that she has a son of 33 and three grandchildren. Her first husband is deceased and she now is the wife of Walter Drew, who is an executive with her Los Angeles-based firm.

Miss Wagner was born in New Orleans, the daughter of a surgeon, and studied at Sophie Newcomb College, where she majored in physical education. Her original intention was to become a pharmacist, but those were the years of the Great Depression and instead she took a sales and promotion job with the cosmetics firm of Harriet Hubbard Ayer.

She also began to read into and research the world of cosmetics, the role of foods in health and beauty—"I was preaching vitamins when a lot of people couldn't even spell the word."

In the 1940's, after jobs with the Elizabeth Arden and Jacqueline Cochran cosmetics firms, she struck out on her own.

When she began manufacture of a line that consists of most standard beauty aids, she put pharmacists instead of chemists at the head of product research and development. And she began to lecture cross-country on some of her health and beauty theories.

WEAR AND TOSS AWAY

Paper dresses have gained popularity among the young set. They call it the "fun dress" and it's so inexpensive. What's more no laundry problems. . . . you simply throw it away!

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): First study what should be done at home to make it look more charming, clean, comfortable; see that kid approve, too. Then walk together happily. Put yourself of that controversial subject that takes away from harmony. too. Why not get into that

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: This probably won't make your column, but for the sake of all men who have fat wives, I hope it does.

My wife is 5 feet 3 and tips the scale at 200 pounds, but as long as she is happy, so am I.

Our children adore her, I worship her and friends love her. She is a wonderful cook and housekeeper and she always dresses neat and smells fresh and clean. She's never nervous and grouchy like most women who are always on some crazy starvation diet. To me, she is perfect and I tell her so. I could not be more anxious to get home to her every evening if she looked like Sophia Loren. Sign me. . . .

He's not a bum. He is a well-educated young man from a good family.

I beg you, please see that your son consults a doctor, clergyman, school guidance counselor, or any mental health center, but do it now. Later may be too late.

NO NAME,
NO CITY, PLEASE

SATISFIED

DEAR SATISFIED: If you are satisfied, fine. But is your wife's doctor satisfied? Ask any insurance expert how many years of life one can deduct from each 10 pounds of overweight. Vanity isn't everything, I agree. But if you want that wonderful wife around to "worship" in your old age, give her some food—for thought.

DEAR ABBY: What would you do if a friend said to you, "I heard something just terrible about you yesterday, but I can't tell you what it was or who told me because I promised I would NOT tell!"

HURT
DEAR HURT: I'd send that person a "get well" card.

DEAR ABBY: This letter is for parents who believe their son is window peeping: My fiancé has been in that sort of trouble for the past 10 years. He said he did it at first for kicks. Then it became a habit. There followed a series of arrests and jail sentences. He is presently awaiting action on a more serious but directly related offense.

For the 2 years I've known him I had assumed he was "cured" and had not been in trouble. I was wrong. You can't imagine the heartbreak and shock I suffered when they arrested him the last time.

I say, phooey! I quit college and worked for 8 years in order to put my husband through medical school. Then he met a cute little nurse! He left me and took his "increased earning capacity and professional status boost" with him.

The Pampa Daily News

A Watchful Newspaper

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license, nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself. No more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

But The People Are Opposed

Day after day and night after night, television and motion pictures spread a fantastic array of the good things in life before Americans, both rich and poor.

The poor, of course, cannot afford the expensive gadgets and other non-essentials they are exposed to, but that doesn't keep them from wanting to participate in the good life, human nature being what it is.

Some people believe that one of the reasons for the current wave of strife and discontent is that people have been led to expect too much material gains too soon. The situation is further aggravated by political promises that cannot be kept, promises of government spending on all manner of programs a debt-burdened nation obviously cannot undertake.

Whatever the reasons, a great many people, as typified by the so-called poor peoples campaign, are bluntly demanding a larger cut of the economic pie without too great a regard as to how they get it. Responsible business leaders, high government officials and economists, far from turning their backs on these demands, are seeking workable means of providing a measure of economic well being to everyone irrespective of whether they add to the productivity of the nation.

This is a tall order, but some believe it can be accomplished within the framework of a capitalistic, free enterprise system. They believe it can be done without destroying the incentives that have produced the great abundance of the U.S. which, under our existing system, has created a higher standard of living for more people than was ever achieved before in recorded history.

"Conservative" economist Milton Friedman of the University of Chicago has long advocated what he calls a negative income tax under which the government would supplement the incomes of persons when their earnings fell below a certain point rather than subject them to an income tax. Friedman believes this form of guaranteed income would eliminate the needs for costly welfare programs.

The most dramatic support for some form of a guaranteed income came recently when more than 1,000 academic economists endorsed the idea in a public statement. Many other economists declined to support the statement, because it made no attempt to appraise the dollars and cents cost to taxpayers. Estimates of the cost of the various income supplement or guaranteed income plans that have been proposed range from $11 billion a year to $26 billion a year.

Any guaranteed income plan, no matter how well thought out and regardless of the degree of political and economic state-ship behind its advocacy, will very likely encounter an uncertain reception where it counts most. A majority of the electorate may not accept it. A recent Gallup Poll shows nationally a majority of Americans oppose the idea of a guaranteed minimum income, with 36 per cent in favor and 58 per cent against such a plan. It is especially significant 77 per cent of the white and 86 per cent of the nonwhite population would support a plan guaranteeing everyone enough work to earn a minimum income.

As one competent observer has said of a universal guaranteed income, "The only ones really against it are the people." A high official of the AFL-CIO said: "Support for this kind of a plan just doesn't exist and couldn't exist in a work-oriented culture." A "liberal" Democratic member of Congress agrees with the labor leaders opinion in these words with reference to his constituency, a "... great majority of my people, as of now, are against it. They think of it as just another handout, another way of avoiding work."

The American people always have been noted for their generosity, but there is no getting around the fact that today the American family, the wage earner, the businessman, the working housewife, all of us are highly aware of the burdensome and growing costs of government. Whether the people of the U.S. will accept the added tax burden which guaranteed income plans would require appears at the moment highly debatable.

You Write It

Sometimes a news story is an eloquent editorial. A reader has sent a clip from The Register, of Santa Ana, California, which published a Copley News Service feature about Mrs. Rose Bucher, wife of the commanding officer of the USS Pueblo.

The heroine of the story is Jean Hemphill. She is the wife of Lt. Cmdr. Alan Hemphill, a close friend of Cmdr. Bucher since 1962 when Bucher served as Hemphill's executive officer aboard a submarine.

The Hemphills took Mrs. Bucher into their home, for comfort and companionship. At Mrs. Bucher's request they sorted her mail and monitored her phone calls. That brief background will permit you to appreciate to the fullest what Mrs. Hemphill told an audience recently:

"The State Department has announced that the President wrote to Mrs. Bucher immediately," she relates. "That is not correct."

"After one month with no communication at all, Mrs. Bucher initiated correspondence with the President, and received a letter in return."

"In February it was announced that the captured men would be tried as spies. Alarmed that this would mean execution, Mrs. Bucher placed a phone call to the President. She could only speak to a White House aide.

"In June, when Mrs. Bucher called the State Department for information, a representative of the department said to her, 'I don't know why I am bothering with you! You are harassing me!'"

"That was the treatment given to the wife of a Navy Commander, a woman almost out of her mind with shock and anxiety..."

"If a fifth-rate, outlaw nation can so humble our country, the greatest on earth, then what nation cannot try to do the same? What Navy ship can feel secure?"

"Half of the captured men from the Pueblo are under 21 years of age. They are boys. Their parents and brothers and sisters are suffering right along with Rose Bucher, and with me and my husband..."

Thus speaks Jean Hemphill. And the man at the State Department says, "I don't know why I am bothering with you! You are harassing me."

Your reaction to that is today's editorial.

Ideas Pay Off All Around

Playing it smart on company time paid off in the form of a $5 million melon that was sliced up by some 700,000 members of the nation's work force last year.

That was $6 million more than the prize in 1966, reports the National Association of Suggestion Systems.

Of a total of 2,899,607 suggestions submitted by employees of the 10,300 plants or agencies reporting, 723,887 were adopted.

Campus Drug Problem Is Given Study

By RAY CROMLEY

Washington Correspondent WASHINGTON (NEA)—It has been well-publicized that a number of American colleges and universities seem unable to control the use of dope on their campuses.

It is not so well-known that other schools have quietly taken steps, first, to enforce the law and, second, to educate their students as to the medical and health hazards in the use of marijuana, LSD and other dangerous drugs.

This column will outline one such set of rules, recently compiled, which was sent out to students with information discussing the medical, psychological and legal aspects of drug use and describing services available through the college's health centers "Should drug-use problems arise."

It would seem that the common-sense approach taken by this school, Cal Tech, and some others might well be emulated nationwide.

In part, this is an attempt by the college to make available to its students accurate and reliable information on which each student can, on his own, exercise his responsibility intelligently.

The college says it believes it can help its students grow in wisdom, maturity and responsibility through educational means. It assumes that most of its students are mature enough to assume a very considerable degree of responsibility for their own actions.

But these rules are also a recognition that the college is a part of the community and therefore cannot condone law-breaking or the sheltering of students who break the law.

The booklet points out that students are expected to obey the law whether or not they agree with its provisions.

The rules provide that any student administering LSD or on LSD-like drug to anyone else without the latter's knowledge, or knowingly permits others to do so, will be subject to severe penalty, up to and including dismissal from the college. This punishment will be entirely apart from any legal penalty which a student might incur.

There is to be no use of college property for the manufacture or processing of marijuana, LSD or any other drug whose manufacture or processing is restricted by law. Violators will be subject to severe penalties, up to and including dismissal from the college, and may also be reported to appropriate law-enforcement authorities.

Illegal drugs are not to be used on campus property and no supplies of illegal drugs are to be taken on the campus for any purpose.

If violations of this policy occur in the student houses and come to the attention of college authorities, the student involved will be required to move out of the student houses.

Any student who, as a result of using such drugs, acts in ways which are seriously objectionable or harmful to fellow students or other individuals, or who creates serious social-problem situations as a result of such usage, will be subject to disciplinary action on the basis of these actions.

Cal Tech has notified its students bluntly that it cannot and does not intend to interfere with legitimate law-enforcement activities to protect its own students. It has also said that it will begin a broad educational program with regard to drugs.

HOW TO ADDRESS OUR LAWMAKERS

You may want to write your senators and representatives in Washington and Austin. Here are their addresses:

(FEDERAL)
Rep. Bob Price, 1225 Longworth Bldg., Washington, D.C. 20525.
Sen. Ralph Yarborough, Senate Office Bldg., Washington, D.C. 20525.
Sen. John Tower, Senate Office Bldg., Washington, D.C. 20525.

(STATE)
Rep. Grady Haslewood, Canyon Hwy., Amarillo, Texas 79109.
Rep. Malott Abraham, Canadian, Texas, 79014.

award for the suggester.

The association figures that the awards paid through suggestion systems represent about 10 per cent of the overall savings realized by the firms involved. Thus, that $35 million means that business, industry and government benefited to the tune of $350 million.

Average award was $48.32 (up from $46.19 in 1966). But the highest award paid an individual in 1967 was a handsome $18,315.

Does this give you any ideas?

Pull Up A Chair

By FRANK JAY MARKEY

Grambling College in Louisiana may not have the greatest football team in the country, but it sure graduates an excellent crop of football players every year. In fact those turned out by this small southern institution seem to do better as "pros" than those from another ivy-clad hall of learning. At any rate 60 Grambling College alumni have signed up with pro teams in the past 20 years. That's more than the pro ranks have enlisted from any other college. This year, we understand, 22 former Grambling college stars will appear in the ranks of the AFL and NFL. We doubt if any other college can make that claim to fame.

Today's smile: A golf addict's wife said to him: "John, you take your golf too seriously. You are neglecting your business by spending too much time on the course." John replied: "Not at all, my dear. My doctor told me I should take my iron every day."

Next to the Bible the World Almanac holds the record as the best-selling book in the U.S. This year marks the 100th anniversary of the well-known book of facts. Incidentally, when Calvin Coolidge was notified at his father's home in Plymouth, Vt., that President Harding had died, Coolidge's father, a justice of the peace, administered the oath of office to his son as the 30th chief executive using the text of the oath which was printed in that year's edition of the World Almanac.

Thoughts while shaving: Horace Greeley, one of the giants of U.S. journalism, always insisted that the word "news" is plural. Once he telegraphed one of his correspondents asking: "Are there any news on such-and-such a matter?" Back came the wired reply: "Not a new." "We doubt if anyone ever made greater use of the telegraph than the late Florence Zeigfeld. The producer of the famed "Follies" and other Broadway shows never wrote notes or letters. He sent a wire instead. Frequently, he would stand in the back of a theatre and watch the performance on the stage and send wires to the stars of his shows relative to mistakes in their performance. The U.S. and Japan have been experimenting with high-speed public transportation, but now France has gotten into the act. Jean Bertin, a French engineer, has invented a vehicle called the "Aerotrain" which skims on the cushions of air that separate it from a T-gateway made of pre-fabricated reinforced concrete. The experimental models travel at speeds of 125 MPH. Berlin expects that when perfected his invention will carry 100 passengers at speeds of 155 MPH.

Most folks think they live under only three governments—federal, state and local. Actually, it takes seven governments to run the country. In addition to the above-mentioned three there's also the county, school districts and highway and housing authorities. A recent survey shows there are 80,000 separate units of government in the U.S. . . . We have some pretty big labor unions in the U.S., but none of them compare in size with the Metal Workers Union of West Germany. It boasts almost 2 million dues-paying members. The Oklahoma City (Okla.) JOURNAL reported in a story: Another original idea: price $0000. Making America the lowest-priced car with an automatic transmission." Not only an original idea, but a real bargain at that price.

Country Editor speaking: "We wonder how the Pony Express and the wagon train drivers ever made it out West without sun glasses."

The Doctor Says:

By DR. WAYNE BRANDSTADT

Get Physical Checkup Before a Hunting Trip
The hunting season rolls around as regularly as Labor Day and Thanksgiving. The prospective hunter should check not only his equipment but also his own physical condition. Each year more hunting deaths are caused by heart attacks than by accidental gunshot wounds. The victims are almost always men who haven't had a physical checkup since they went before their draft board.

When you report to your doctor for a pre-hunting examination, you should be able to tell him how cold it will get at night and how hot it will be at midday where you are going, how far you are likely to hike through rough country and how much of this will be uphill, and whether you will be hunting mountain goats or other game at a high altitude.

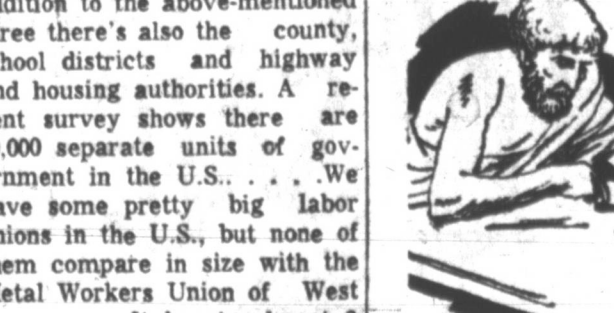

Here are some other valuable tips: You should embark on a physical conditioning program well in advance of your trip. Wear clothing that is lightweight but warm. Brush up on first-aid principles. Eat moderately and, if you must drink, wait until you are back in camp for the evening. Don't hunt alone—this is especially important if your trophy is a deer or other game too heavy for one man to handle. Take as good care of your heart as you do of your gun and you should survive many a hunting season.

Q—I suffer from severe arthritis. I would gladly become a human guinea pig if I could get relief and at the same time benefit mankind. How do I go about this?

A—One of the National Institutes of Health in Bethesda, Md., is devoted to arthritis and metabolic diseases. All of the institutes are searching for new and better ways of treating diseases that come under their purview. A patient may be accepted at one of the institutes only after his private physician has submitted a complete history with the results of all laboratory tests, and then only if the staff of the institute decides that a further study of the case would help the investigations they are making at the time.

For more detailed information about your disease, you might write to the Arthritis Foundation, 1212 Avenue of the Americas, New York, N.Y. 10036.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

Besides the theory on the relation between weight and water displacement, Archimedes is famous for the theory of the lever, says The World Almanac. Archimedes, describing the effectiveness of the lever, supposedly said, "Give me the place to stand, and I will move the world." Even by A.D. 1500, European scientists had made less remarkable advances in physics than had Archimedes, who died in 212 B.C.

PAUL HARVEY NEWS

Is Nixon Out of the Box?

By PAUL HARVEY
Republicans, running terrified from their traumatic experience of 1964, ran so far they came up with a platform saying nothing. A platform "wide enough for everybody" can unify a party, yet leave the electorate uninspired.

And Richard Nixon, with his minority party, depends for victory on an inspired electorate. In recent months he has been careful not to stub his toe, not to give his challengers an opening. As long ago as the Oregon primary he was confident of nomination, says "from then on it was just a matter of not making mistakes."

Too Hawkish, critics would have raised the cry of "warmonger" with which they crucified Barry Goldwater.

Too Dovish, he could have been made by his detractors to sound cowardly, and such a position would have insulted the Dwight Eisenhower image.

It would be personally agonizing and politically suicidal for Nixon publicly to break with like on a key issue.

So the Republican platform was constructed of clichés of offending no one. The Wall Street Journal called it "conservative-liberal."

Now what? In 1960, Nixon came within one Cook County, Ill., ballot box of being elected President—over a very personable opponent. This year's race, however, is complicated by George Wallace who is bringing overflow audiences to their feet applauding when he says, "There's not a dime's worth of difference between the Republicans and the Democrats!"

If enough voters agree with Wallace, Nixon hasn't a chance. But when the tumult of the voting in Miami had subsided, when the Humpty Dumpty party had been glued back together—albeit, uncomfortably for a few—Nixon's acceptance speech demonstrated considerably more strength of purpose than did the ambiguous party platform.

With eloquence approaching that of a Winston Churchill or a Douglas MacArthur, Nixon described himself as a boy "daring to dream the impossible dream."

He described himself as a man prepared now "to lead our nation from the valley of despair—up the mountain—from where we will see the glory of a new dawn of peace and freedom."

But then he got specific. Then, as we say in the Ozarks, "he shucked right down to the cob."

He dedicated his administration to the cause of the "forgotten American—the nonshouter, the nondemonstrator—the disorganized majority who are good and decent and save and pay taxes and care. . ."

He promised to seek an honorable end to the war in Vietnam and to avoid other such involvements.

He promised law and order at home. To underscore his sincerity on this score, he selected for his running mate a governor who has enforced law and order, who says, "I believe in civil rights for everybody; I am against civil disobedience by anybody."

And on welfare, Nixon promised care for the ill and the elderly, "but for the able-bodied the answer is not more millions on welfare but more millions on jobs."

It sounds as though Nixon is out of the box. It sounds as though the forgotten American really has been remembered. We'll see.

pan and other countries is mounting rapidly. Foreign producers of steel are already underselling our own companies by as much as 20 percent. It is no less than industrial suicide to continue pricing ourselves out of the market. If this process goes on, and there is every reason to believe it will, our exports will not pay for imports and the balance-of-trade deficit will worsen rapidly. For years this deficit has been running from $2 billion to $4 billion a year. It is bound to increase as the cost of production in our country is forced higher and higher by wage settlements that double our highest expectations in improved productive efficiency.

This all points toward wage and price fixing. It is difficult to see how this unhappy outcome can be avoided. In fact, we are nearing the time when men will welcome it as the only way they know to avoid runaway inflation with all its attendant miseries.

It is altogether probable that union leaders foresee an approaching era of wage fixing through government action, and each is striving to outdo the other to be in the most favored position when it comes.

It's Up To You

Industrial Suicide

This year's telephone strike was settled on the basis of an annual increase in wages of approximately 6.5 per cent per year for a period of three years. This is at least double the long-term growth in productivity. Assuming that half of the increase can be overcome by increasing efficiency, the other half is a prime example of wagepush pressure for more inflation.

Until this last year common sense has restrained labor unions from demanding wage increases in excess of expected productivity advances. It was generally realized that wage increases beyond that level would distort the economy, force price increases and the further erosion of the dollar. Now, these facts are still realized, but apparently have been discarded as settlement after settlement has gone to the height of 6 per cent or more.

Last fall's wage increases for automobile workers, more recent increases for postal workers and civil service employees in general, and the still more recent settlement of the copper strike, have all followed what has now become an accepted pattern of wage increases roughly double expected increases in productive efficiency. There is little doubt that the upcoming settlement with steel workers will follow the same pattern. How serious this will be for the steel industry and for America in general may be seen from the fact that we are not only losing our foreign markets for steel, but the importation of steel from Ja-

Ex-College Champ Leads Golf Tourney

HARRISON, N.Y. (UPI)—Bob Murphy, a cherub-faced newcomer to the pro tour, decided if he ever was going to get serious about his golf he couldn't pick a better time than the world's richest tournament.

The former U.S. amateur and collegiate champion, who has been told often enough how much he looks like Jack Nicklaus physically, carried the resemblance even further Thursday when he required only 23 putts and fired a sizzling eight-under-par 64 in the opening round of the $250,000 Westchester Classic.

Murphy's best tournament round ever, which included an eagle and seven birdies, gave him a one-stroke lead over Dan Sikes entering today's second round over the 6,648-yard, par-72 Westchester Country Club course. Sikes set the week's record of 62 in last year's classic.

Art Well, whose game has improved tremendously the last two weeks, held third place at 66 and Nicklaus, the defending champion and winner of two tournaments in the last two weeks, was next at 67.

Enjoying a warm, sunny day and perfect greens, the pros were near their best Thursday as 56 bettered par and another 22 equalled it. It appeared that an even-par 144 would be required to survive the 36-hole cut.

Bracketed at 68 were Gardner Dickinson, Bobby Nichols, Dudley Wyson, Bob Stanton, Bob Charles and Bruce Crampton and among a group of 13 at 69 were U.S. Open champions Lee Trevino, Masters titlist Bob Goaly and Doug Sanders, still seeking his first victory of the year.

Trevino went out in 38, but soared back into contention with a 31 coming in, including an eagle three on the final hole.

Julius Boros, the PGA champion, and Billy Casper, the second-leading money winner this year, were in at 70 with 16 other pros, and Arnold Palmer still not putting well, opened with a 71. Tom Weiskopf, the PGA's leading money-winner

Other games set for today had Nicki Plic of Yugoslavia playing both Newcombe and Roger Taylor of England. Butch Buchholz of St. Louis was to oppose Barry McKay of Dayton, Ohio and Marty Riessen of Evanston, Ill., was matched against Pierre Barthes of France.

The weeklong tournament is being played under the Van Allen simplified scoring system (VASS).

Drysdale, who employs an unorthodox two-handed backhand, downed England's Roger Taylor in his first game Thursday, 21-18 and 21-5. Later he defeated Barthes 21-18, 21-15.

Plic moved into a challenging position when he posted his third straight victory as he beat Barthes, 21-12, 21-14.

McKay, who scored an upset victory earlier in the day over Newcombe in a thrilling 21-20, 20-21, 21-19 game, was himself later upset by Taylor.

Taylor collected his first win of the tourney when he downed the Dayton, Ohio player, 11-21, 21-9, 21-18.

Riessen also staged an upset when he beat Buchholz, 21-15, 21-21, 21-1.

Shannon's Bat Leads Cardinals Over Cubs

By GARY KALE UPI Sports Writer

Mike "The Cannon" Shannon emerged Memorial Day as a threat with men on base and it spelled taps for any club trying to halt the St. Louis Cardinals' surge toward a second straight National League flag.

Prior to that day, Shannon couldn't buy a standing room ticket in the last line of a parade.

Then came a remarkable change. Shannon hit a homer against San Francisco on May 30 and the closely knit ranks at the top of the NL gave way to the quick marching Cardinals.

Shannon Unstoppable Shannon has been virtually unstoppable the last 2½ months, rising to a second place tie in runs batted in with 68 and spearheading St. Louis to a 14-game lead. The Cards opened this latest margin Thursday as Shannon drove in five runs in an 8-0 rout of the second place Chicago Cubs. Four of those runs scored on his first major league grand slam homer.

Only San Francisco's Willie McCovey, with 77 runs batted in, has brought home more men than Shannon. Chicago's slug-ging tandem of Ron Santo and Billy Williams are in a three-way tie with Shannon for runner-up honors.

In an abbreviated NL schedule, other action was limited to Pittsburgh's 2-0 victory over San Francisco and Houston's 32 triumph over Philadelphia.

Boston shut out Chicago 2-0 Minnesota edged Baltimore 2-1 after losing the opener of a twin-nighter 4-3. California beat Washington 3-1 and Oakland nipped New York 4-3 in the only American League games.

Bruce Briles, a 25-year-old righthander having his best season in the majors, won his 16th game as he scattered seven hits and struck out five.

Pittsburgh ruined San Francisco's opportunity to tie Chicago for second place by whitewashing the Giants behind Steve Blass's four-hitter. Donn Clendenon singled home one man during a two-run first inning and the other tally came in on Jim Hart's error.

Jim Wynn hit a two-run homer and Doug Rader doubled home Hector Torres with the winning run as the Astros beat Philadelphia and threaten to bust out of the NL cellar. Houston is only a game behind ninth place Los Angeles.

That was the banana oil. In 10 million years Paul Brown couldn't possibly be happy losing. But he was aware of all the circumstances. Painfully aware.

And now about the accident. Almost won Paul Brown's infant Bengals, playing only their second game ever, a pre-season contest with the Denver Broncos, actually led, 13-12, with five seconds left. Had the Bengals been able to bottle up the Broncos for those last five seconds and won, those who don't know Paul Brown would have labeled it the greatest accident since Jim Lounsbury's last trip down the ski slope. But, it wouldn't have been an accident at all. Those who do know Paul Brown can tell you that.

The quickest way to define the word perfectionist is to watch the way Paul Brown operates some time. He even had a package named after him. They called it CARE. Paul Brown cares about every last detail. His teams don't lose many games. It's all there in the record book.

Nonetheless, his Cincinnati team lost in Denver Saturday night, 15-13, when Bob Humphreys booted a 33-yard field goal for the Broncos five seconds before the end.

The Old Paul Brown, the one who made a dynasty of the Cleveland Browns before he left them six years ago, ordinarily wouldn't have said much after a defeat like that. The New Paul Brown practically bubbled over. For him, anyway.

He had to consider all the circumstances. Some of them were the same Casey Stengel had to consider in those first horrible games played by the New York Mets. The Bengals, it should be pointed out, weren't nearly so horrible, but they still made enough mistakes.

Said Paul Brown: "I'm happy and the first thing I said to them afterwards is that they did a good job. We made progress. We played in good spirits, worked at it hard and found out some things we had to know. It was a pleasant evening for us in spite of the loss. Statistically, we played much better than we did in our first game and that's the object of our program right now."

Perfectionist Coach Almost Upsets Denver Broncos In Exhibition Game

By MILTON RICHMAN UPI Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Old Master hadn't lost his touch. He proved it the other night when he applied a bit of banana oil and walked away without a scratch from what some people would have probably regarded the biggest accident of the year.

The Old Master is Paul Brown and if you don't know that maybe you better turn in your helmet and shoulder pads right now.

Another thing you should know is that Paul Brown never says he's happy. But NEVER. Even when his team wins. On those rare occasions when his team loses, forget it.

The newly-formed Cincinnati Bengals did an unheard of thing last Saturday night for any team handled by Paul Brown. They lost. Paul Brown did something more unheard of. He said he was happy with his team. Yup, even though it lost.

That was the banana oil. In 10 million years Paul Brown couldn't possibly be happy losing. But he was aware of all the circumstances. Painfully aware.

Yankees Lose Despite Homer

By JOE GERGEN UPI Sports Writer

Mickey Mantle poses an immediate threat to Jimmy Foxx while Reggie Jackson looms as a future menace to pitchers everywhere.

Mantle, the aging superstar of the New York Yankees, and Jackson, the youthful outfielder of the Oakland Athletics, are separated by 3,000 miles in space and a generation in time. Yet their names may someday be linked in a list of baseball's great sluggers.

Mantle already has earned his niche, which he hopes to make permanent by passing Foxx for third place on the all-time compilation of career home runs. That shouldn't take long. He is only one shy of Foxx' 534 total after his three-run homer Thursday night against Oakland.

Potential Threat Jackson will have to produce for many years to make his mark but the potential is there. The powerful left-handed hitter slammed his 22nd homer of the season as the A's beat the Yankees 4-3 despite Mantle's blow and moved that much closer to his career goal of 500 major league home runs.

Jackson's output has been remarkable since this is his first full major league season and he is only 22 years old. Mantle, by comparison, whacked 23 homers in his first full season in the AL at the tender age of 20.

In other AL games, the Baltimore Orioles lost a chance to gain ground on the idle Detroit Tigers by splitting a doubleheader with Minnesota, winning the first game 4-3 and losing the nightcap 2-1; Boston blanked Chicago 3-0, and California clipped Washington 3-1.

St. Louis widened its National League lead to 14 games by crushing Chicago 8-0, Pittsburgh defeated San Francisco 3-0 and Houston edged Philadelphia 3-2.

Mantle's 15th Jackson's two-run homer climaxed a four-run fifth inning after Jim Paganioni hit a solo homer, winning pitcher John

Brooks Robinson and Larry Haney hit solo homers for the Orioles in the first game in support of Jim Hardin's six-hit pitching. Haney's blast, his first of the season, touched off a three-run fifth which erased a 3-1 deficit.

Rich Reese scored the winning run from third base on an unsuccessful double play attempt in the eighth inning of the second game as the Twins earned a split.

Gary Bell hurled a four-hit shutout and Carl Yastrzemski singled in two runs in the fifth inning for the Red Sox in the only day game. Ken Harrelson drove in the final Boston run, his 99th of the season, with a seventh-inning single.

Keep It Beautiful

If America hired people for the job, it would take the largest sort of army to keep our country free of litter. But there's no need to hire anyone. It's a job we can do for ourselves. All of us. Every family that spreads a picnic lunch. Every boatman who cruises the lakes and waterways. Every motorist who uses our roads and highways.

It is the pleasure of the U. S. Brewers Association each year to give its fullest support to the Keep America Beautiful Campaign. Remember: Every Litter Bit Hurts. This is our land. Let's treat it right.

National Window

By RAYMOND LAHR

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Any display of party unity usually produces a dull show. The unified, GOP managed to squeeze only a little drama out of their national convention last week.

The Democrats have never been noted for unity, at least before their national conventions, and they may have more trouble this year than ever before in restoring a measure of harmony after their convention.

Seemingly endless rounds of oratory are no substitute for drama to excite the watchers of the picture tube. The Republicans offered little else from their convention hall at Miami Beach.

The more exciting efforts to round up delegates to insure or prevent a first ballot nomination for Richard M. Nixon occurred off-camera.

A. Philip Randolph, 'Mr. Black Labor' Slated To Retire

NEW YORK (UPI)—A. Philip Randolph, never a Pullman porter himself but the first and only president of the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters, will retire from the post next month after 45 years, according to American Labor magazine.

Randolph, 79, is stepping down because of ill health and will announce his decision at the union convention.

Randolph, known in union circles as "Mr. Black Labor," has been a leader in the Negro's fight for working rights and civil rights for half a century.

On that same night, there was a small scale revolt against approval of Nixon's choice, Gov. Spiro T. Agnew of Maryland, for the vice presidential nomination, but it hardly rated as civil war.

Climax of the convention came the night before on the balloting on the nomination for president. Nixon looked like a sure winner, but campaigners for Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York and Gov. Ronald Reagan of California dispensed enough propaganda to leave some nagging doubts until the votes were cast.

Before the balloting, 12 candidates were placed in nomination—nine in addition to the three national contenders. It was after 1 a.m. in the East and many television viewers in the most heavily populated regions of the country had gone to bed before the voting began.

Democratic convention managers are facing a similar problem when they ballot. Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey is far in front now in any delegate count, but Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy of Minnesota and the late-starting Sen. George S. McGovern of South Dakota also are national claimants for the nomination.

In addition, the Democrats may have a dozen favorite son candidates placed in nomination at their convention opening at Chicago Aug. 26. Unless the Democrats start earlier they also may find themselves easting prime time on television.

However they handle the balloting on the nomination, the Democrats are braced for some head-knocking brawls over the seating of delegates and writing the 1968 campaign platform.

A good family row may not be part of a Democratic recipe for victory in 1968. The party splits appear deeper and run in different directions than those in earlier presidential election years.

Overseas Cutback Of U.S. Government Employees Considered

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The State Department and other government agencies are conferring on ways to eliminate 10,000 overseas employees with military personnel a prime target.

State Department officials said Wednesday the cutback would include both U.S. citizens and foreign nationals who are employed by U.S. embassies.

President Johnson announced Tuesday the planned cuts and said they are expected to save $28 million to $32 million a year when effected.

Speculation centered on the Military Advisory Assistance Groups and the staff of military attaches attached to various large American missions abroad as the target of the biggest cuts.

The cuts will not be made on an across-the-board basis but will be carried out selectively from embassy to embassy.
