Israel Raids Egypt Deep

By United Press International
Israeli commandos stabbed deep into the heart of Egypt today and blew up a power station and two Nile River bridges below the Aswan Dam. The Egyptian high command reported an Israeli air strike in the same area.
In the deepest penetration of the war the commandos destroyed a power station in the Nagi Hamadi area and blew up the bridges at Qena and Naj Hammdai in a clear warning to the Aswan Dam itself was no longer safe.
The raids were certain to heat up the Middle East undeclared war but Cairo said only a lone Israeli aircraft flew into Egyptian territory in the Nagi Hamadi area and bombed two civilian targets, killing one civilian and injuring two more.
It was not clear whether the Cairo was attributing the daring commando raids to an airstrike.
Retaliation Raids
Israel said the raids were carried out in retaliation for Egyptian strikes across the Suez Canal into the occupied Sinai Peninsula. Egypt had warned earlier it would strike hard at any Israeli military activity in the occupied area.
It was the most daring Israeli raid in the 20 years of strife between Arab and Jew and appeared an Israeli warning to Egypt that the Aswan high dam, the pride of the United Arab Republic, was within Israeli striking distance. The dam was built with massive Soviet aid.
The Israelis said the power station which supplies electric-

Johnson Stops Bombing Of North Vietnam Sites

Politicians Vary in Reactions

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Among politicians, reaction to President Johnson's new probe for peace in Vietnam ran from unabashed enthusiasm to a charge by one Republican that it was done for "political purposes."

Harriman to Demand 'Political Solution'

PARIS (UPI) — U.S. Ambassador W. Averell Harriman said today he will demand a political solution to the Vietnam War that will let the South Vietnamese people determine their own future.
Firing the opening shot of the new diplomatic war with Hanoi, Harriman said the United States wants a solution worked out in future peace talks that will be in accord with the wishes of South Vietnam.
In a statement to the French and foreign television networks Harriman warned that the second phase of the U.S.-North Vietnamese talks will be tough going.
"A cease-fire is a final step," he said. "As the President indicated, he expects the other side to join in a de-escalation of the war and eventually stop the fighting."

Hanoi Statement Pending
The Hanoi delegation announced it would also outline its position at a news conference later today. Diplomatic sources said the Hanoi group also would announce it sought a cease-fire.
Harriman said the second phase of the Paris talks will have "simple objectives, but which are difficult to attain"—a political solution "which would allow the people of South Vietnam to determine their own future."
This meant a plebiscite for South Vietnam which Hanoi and the National Liberation Front, or Viet Cong, have resolutely opposed. The restated U.S. demand is expected to raise an enormous obstacle in future peace talks.
One of the main reasons for the failure of the 1954 Geneva Conference which ended the French Indochina War was the Communist opposition to any international policing of free elections.
Harriman expressed hope the South Vietnamese government will be present at Wednesday's opening session of the full-scale talks. He said Saigon may not be represented Wednesday because it may need some time for organizing its Paris mission.
Prepares Paris Mission
Saigon was known to be lukewarm toward President Johnson's bombing halt and a spokesman said today the United States "acted alone" in stopping the bombing. However the South Vietnamese government announced Thursday it would send a group of technicians and other experts to Paris.
Diplomats said the United States and North Vietnam already have begun work on arrangements for the talks—formally to open in their new form next Wednesday, the day after the U.S. Presidential election. The immediate tasks included writing an agenda and arranging the seating of the two new conference teams.
Under terms announced Thursday night in President Johnson's bomb halt speech, the South Vietnam government and the National Liberation Front (NLF), political arm of the Viet Cong, are to join the six-month-old sessions between the Americans and the North Vietnamese.
The 28 U.S.-North Vietnamese formal sessions plus an unknown number of secret meetings here led to the bombing halt and the seating of the two rivals for power in South Vietnam.
Wednesday's meeting will mark the first time since the abortive 1954 Geneva accords

Action Is Risky But Conducive to Talks

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson stopped the bombing of North Vietnam today. He gave the Communists what they wanted in exchange for "prompt, productive, serious and intensive" peace talks with South Vietnam and the Viet Cong at the table with the ground war scaled down in the south.
Johnson ordered the bombardment ended at 7 a.m. CST today and said that expanded peace talks in Paris would start next Wednesday.
The President warned Americans in a nationwide broadcast Thursday evening, just five days before the presidential election, that the war would go on, and the step he took was risky.
But he said the time had arrived to test North Vietnam's good faith with a total bombing halt and "to try to ascertain if an early peace is possible."
While American politicians tried to assess the impact of Johnson's move on the election, world reaction was hopeful and grateful. However, the South Vietnamese government of President Nguyen Van Thieu responded coolly, saying Johnson acted "unilaterally."
First Test
The first test of Johnson's dramatic initiative—the first breakthrough of the Paris negotiations which began May 15 after the Chief Executive sharply curbed the bombing of North Vietnam to draw the Communists into negotiations—will come Wednesday.
Then, the National Liberation Front, the political arm of the

Pilots Fly Mission Before Bomb Halt

SAIGON (UPI)—U.S. pilots today flew final pre-bombing halt missions against North Vietnamese cities been so guerrillas battered Saigon and Hue with rockets a few hours after the bombing cessation was announced.
The Air Force, Navy and Marine fliers raised to nearly 100,000 the number of air strikes against North Vietnam since U.S. planes began hitting 2 million tons of explosives before halting today in a move toward peace talks.
In South Vietnam, at least 30 persons were killed and 91 wounded in rocket attacks on Saigon, the former imperial capital of Hue and the city of My Tho in the Mekong Delta.

Students Elect Richard Nixon In Mock Balloting

Pampa High School students voting in a mock election one week ago today, favored GOP candidate Richard Nixon over George Wallace, American Party candidate, and Hubert Humphrey, Democrat.
Humphrey ran a poor third in the school straw vote. Nixon received 417 of the 768 votes cast. Wallace was second with 234 and Humphrey third with 71 votes.
Only 56 per cent of the 1,313 students enrolled at the school voted in the election.
In the race for Texas governor, Paul Eggers, Republican, "won" over Lt. Gov. Preston Smith, Democrat, by a vote of 566 to 200.
Republican Rep. Bob Price "defeated" Democrat Dick Brown of Hartley, 705 to 48, in the 18th Congressional District race.
Results of the mock election were held up for a week and released in today's issue of The Little Harvester, the high school newspaper.

Saigon Reluctantly Approves President's 'Unilateral' Move

SAIGON (UPI) — The Saigon government said today it "did not oppose" the Vietnam bombing halt but saw no material reason for it. The half-hearted approval came a full 11 hours after President Johnson announced the halt in Washington.
One official communique said at noon (10 p.m. CST Thursday) "this morning...the United States unilaterally took the decision to stop the bombing over the entire territory of North Vietnam." The word "unilateral" indicated President Nguyen Van Thieu did not approve of the halt.
(In Washington, U.S. officials cautioned against attaching too much significance to public comments by South Vietnamese leaders. For example, they stressed that Thieu had given his agreement to a total bombing halt no matter what he was inclined to say for domestic political reasons.

Washington officials also stressed that North Vietnam probably would call the bombing halt "unconditional"—as it has demanded—although President Johnson made it clear that if the Communists took military advantage, bombing might resume. On the other hand, the United States was avoiding calling the bombing halt "conditional" for diplomatic reasons.
Informed sources said U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker met with Thieu through most of the night in an effort to win some show of unity and that the "unilateral" statement followed.
The latest communique at 8:20 p.m. (6:20 a.m. CST) showed only mild success.
It said the United States and Saigon exchanged ideas on a possible bombing halt but that the Saigon government "did not see any adequate material reasons to decide in common with the government of the United States on this."
It said the Saigon government pointed out the dangers of North Vietnam possibly taking advantage of the bombing halt and that "all preventive measures" have been taken in order to face this danger.
"In the tradition of a love for peace, the government of the Republic of Vietnam does not oppose the bombing halt," the communique said, "and it will follow the situation in order to see whether North Vietnam will reciprocate by de-escalating the war in a practical way."
The communique stressed the "unity" between Washington and Saigon although there obviously were serious differences.
"We believe the unity and determination of the Republic of Vietnam will be a great asset in the process of achieving a lasting peace."

Children to Receive Free Dose of Measles Vaccine

Parents of children age 1-10 have been urged to take their children to either Baker Elementary School or Pampa Junior High School Sunday for free vaccination against measles.
The vaccination program, conducted by members of the Pampa Medical Society, will be held from 1-5 p.m. at the two schools.
The drive is similar to one conducted several years ago to help eliminate polio.
A survey made recently through cooperation of the school nurses indicated that only two-thirds of the children in Pampa had received the vaccine.
According to medical authority, measles is not just a childhood disease. Almost 400 deaths from measles occur each year in the U.S. And one out of six children who have measles suffers from some type of complication such as pneumonia, ear trouble or encephalitis.
All school children have been issued a registration form and pre-schoolers should get one of the forms from today's News. Forms appear in today's News on page 2. All children must be accompanied by an adult.
Vaccine is being supplied by the State Health Department and will be administered by competent medical authorities. Only one dose of the vaccine is necessary and should give lifetime immunity, according to medical authorities.
The measles vaccination drive is being sponsored by the Pampa Medical Society. Dr. Edward S. Williams is chairman of the committee, which also includes Dr. Raymond Laycock and Dr. R. M. Hampton.
The Pampa Medical Auxiliary and the members of the high school Para-Medical Club have also participated in the drive.
Parents from Lefors, White Deer and Skellytown are invited to bring their children to one of the two schools for vaccination Sunday.

Club to Name Adult Leader

The tenth annual Key Club Leadership Banquet will be held at 7 p.m. Saturday in the high school cafeteria.
Congressman Bob Price will be guest speaker.
Highlight of the affair will be the naming of recipient of the "Adult Leader of the Year" award. Past recipients include Cameron Marsh, Mrs. Elaine Ledbetter, Warren Hasse, John Warner and James Massa.
"The purpose of this banquet is to recognize and honor school and community leaders," according to Key Club president Joe Daniel.
The banquet will culminate Key Club Week which has been observed here and across the nation the past week.
The Key Club is a service club for high school youths patterned after the parent organization, Kiwanis.

Mao Tse-Tung Gains Victory

HONG KONG (UPI)—The Central Committee of the Chinese Communist party has fired President Liu Shao-chi and stripped him of all his party posts, Peking radio said today.
Mao Tse-tung presided over the meeting that gave him victory in his Cultural Revolution.
There remains the formality of a vote by the rubberstamp 9th National Party congress which is to be convened "at a suitable time." But the Central Committee is the ruler of China under Chairman Mao and its word is law.
The announcement which referred to Liu as a "renegade, traitor and scab" hinted at future punishment for the man whose defiance of Mao brought on one of the bloodiest power struggles in history in a nation that has known little else throughout its centuries.
It said the Central Committee in a meeting Oct. 13-31 voted unanimously to "expel Liu Shao-chi from the party once and for all, to dismiss him from all posts both inside and outside the party and to continue to settle accounts with him and his accomplices for their crimes in betraying the party and the country." The charges added up to treason.

Liu has been under house arrest in Peking for some time, probably since the first indication of his fall from favor on National Day celebrations Oct. 1, 1966. He has not been seen in public since.
For months since the original denunciation and the struggle for power led by Mao and Gen. Lin Biao, he has been humiliated and disgraced regularly as "China's Khrushchev" and the top powerholder following the "capitalist road." Today for the first time he was denounced by name.
A communique issued after the committee session said the committee membership "expressed its deepest revolutionary indignation at Liu Shao-chi's counter-revolutionary crimes." The charges were so serious they could foretell a possible public show trial and even execution.
"The report confirms with full supporting evidence that Liu Shao-chi, the No. 1 party person in authority taking the capitalist road, is a renegade, traitor and scab hiding in the party and is a lackey of imperialism, modern revisionism and the Kuomintang reactionaries who has committed innumerable crimes," the broadcast said.
It said the decision "is a tremendous victory for Mao Tse-tung's thought and for the great proletarian cultural revolution."

Amendments Designed To Help Cities

Editors: The following is the last of a four-part series on the 14 proposed constitutional amendments on the Nov. 5 ballot.

AUSTIN (UPI) — Texans will vote Nov. 5 on four proposed constitutional amendments affecting local governments, one of them designed to help Texas cities attract industry.

Amendment No. 12 would permit cities and counties to issue revenue bonds and use the proceeds to buy land and equipment for industrial plants.

A city or county could buy or build an industrial plant, lease it to a private company, and use the lease payments to repay the bonds.

Forty-four states, including New Mexico, Oklahoma, Louisiana and Arkansas, have similar industrial bond programs. However, the federal government recently made these bond programs considerably less attractive by removing their tax-exempt status.

Exemption Removed
Then the legislature proposed amendment No. 12, interest on industrial developments bonds was tax exempt, making their interest rates attractive. But Congress this summer voted to remove that exemption for most industrial bonds.

Many chambers of commerce support amendment No. 12, but the Texas Municipal League, made up of city officials, opposes it on grounds the industrial bonds would compete with

PRESIDENT'S PRAISE

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson praised the U.S. Olympic team Wednesday saying "In victory and defeat you brought new honor to our country. America in in your debt."

The President added "Your countrymen deeply appreciate the sacrifices you made to win such prestigious place in the greatest of all sports events."

One person in 46 in the United States was disabled in home accidents in 1967, says the National Safety Council.

have refused to stretch the exemption laws to unreasonable lengths. If they did, creditors would be that much slower to extend credit in the first place.

Accordingly, under an exemption of "tools of the trade," a barber was allowed to keep his scissors and combs — but not his chewing gum machine; an undertaker his candelabrum but not his office safe.

Exemptions should be liberally construed," said one court, "but should not be applied as an instrument of fraud or imposition upon creditors."

The Family Lawyer

Shirt Off Your Back?

To the beleaguered debtor, his creditors may seem ready to snatch away all his worldly belongings. Armed with a judgment against him, they may indeed be able to seize his available assets in satisfaction of their claims.

However, there is a nest egg of possessions which — by law — is exempt from this dire fate. The debtor, at least if he has not waived his rights, may hold onto these possessions no matter what.

One purpose of these exemptions is to protect the debtor from "losing the shirt off his back" — that is, from losing the simple necessities of life. He's not to be pushed to the brink of either starvation or indecent exposure.

Another purpose is to let him keep what he needs to carry on as a breadwinner, so that he and his family will not become public charges.

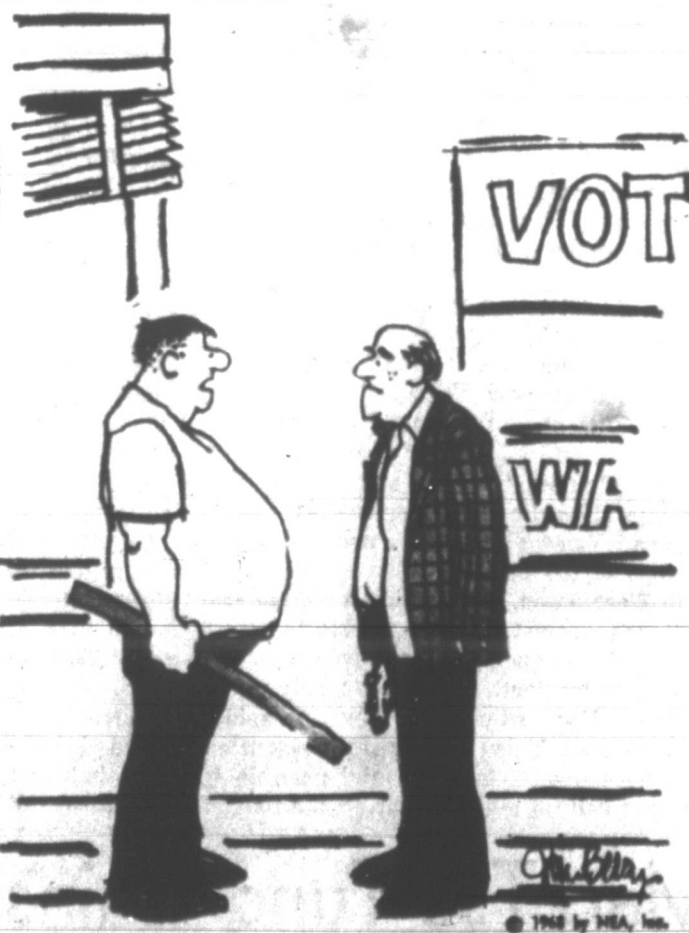

Which items are exempt? There are a lot of odd items in the individual state laws, such as surreys and spinning wheels. But the most common are the family homestead, furniture, clothing, tools of the trade, insurance benefits, and wages — within widely varying limits.

In interpreting these laws, the courts usually give the debtor the benefit of the doubt, since exemptions are intended mainly for his and his family's welfare.

Thus, under an exemption of "household furniture," courts have protected not only chairs and tables but also a family piano. Under an exemption of "wearing apparel," courts have protected not only an extra suit of clothes but also a wrist watch.

On the other hand, courts

NES to Tabulate National Voting

NEW YORK (UPI) — The News Election Service (NES) will again tabulate election results this year from all 50 states to furnish television, radio and newspapers a single, accurate set of returns.

NES was the first used in the 1964 election.

The service is paid for and administered through a five-man board of managers representing the three major broadcasting networks, the American Broadcasting Co., Columbia Broadcasting System and National Broadcasting Co., along with United Press International and the Associated Press.

NES compiles thousands of precinct reports into totals for president, senate, governor and U.S. representative in every state, and each of the 433 congressional districts which has a contest.

Local Club Slatas A Turkey Shoot

A turkey shoot to help finance the "L.A. '68" project will be held Sunday by the Top O' Texans Citizens Band Radio Club at the Pampa Gun and Skeet Club, east of the city near the rodeo grounds.

The event will start at 10 a.m. and last "until we either run out of turkeys—which is not likely—or everybody has had a go at shooting," president Perry Nichols said.

A concession stand will be operated at the range, with sandwiches and soft drinks being available. Free coffee will be dispensed.

● Saigon (Continued From Page 1) Vietnam and the allies will force North Vietnam to see soon that its invasion of South Vietnam cannot succeed," the communique said.

"With the support of the allies, which has been reconfirmed by the allies, the government of the Republic of Vietnam will continue to drive the invaders out of the South on one hand and on the other hand pursue its rural construction program, develop the economy and reinforce security." The earlier communique said.

Price Opens Final Push of Campaign For Re-election

Congressman Bob Price will open his final campaign activities at noon Saturday when he speaks before a partisan group of Republicans and campaign workers in the Colonial Cafeteria at Amarillo's Wolflin Village.

The Saturday luncheon, a Dutch-treat affair for party workers and candidates from the area, is open to the general public. The Congressman is expected to speak at 12:30 p.m.

Price is scheduled to be in Amarillo beginning early Saturday after attending a GOP rally in Lubbock Friday afternoon featuring the party's presidential nominee, Richard Nixon.

Tomorrow night the congressman will speak at the annual awards banquet for the Pampa High School Key Club, scheduled for 7 p.m. The remainder of Saturday will be devoted to meetings with groups in the Amarillo area.

Sunday's schedule includes attendance at affairs in White Deer and Borger.

On Monday Price will speak to the membership of the Panhandle District of the National Federation of Independent Business, Inc. at the Amarillo YWCA at noon.

He is scheduled to spend a part of the day Monday in his Amarillo office to take care of case work and other congressional matters and in campaigning in the Amarillo area.

Tuesday, election day, the congressman will cast his ballot in his home precinct at the Gray County Courthouse here in Pampa, and will make a few campaign visits in Pampa and Amarillo.

He is expected to be at his central campaign headquarters in Pampa during the early evening hours of election day with a visit to the Amarillo Republican headquarters later in the evening before retiring to his home in Pampa.

Obituaries

MRS. ANNIE CUNNINGHAM Mrs. Annie Cunningham, 80, long time resident of White Deer, died Thursday in Northwest Texas Hospital after a lengthy illness.

Survivors are one son, Oscar Cunningham, Amarillo, and three grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 2:30 p.m. Saturday in White Deer First Baptist Church with burial in White Deer Cemetery.

Rev. Shad Rue, pastor of Paramount Baptist Church of Amarillo, will officiate.

CLYDE M. SARGENT Clyde M. Sargent, 54, was found dead near the Wichita Falls Hospital Thursday. He had wandered from the hospital Oct. 11 and was found near the hospital gate.

He was born May 29, 1914, at Healdton, Okla., and moved to Pampa in 1929 from Burk Burnett. He lived here until 1952 when he moved to Wichita Falls.

Survivors are two sons, Jimmy Ray Sargent, and Bobby Don Sargent, both of Borger; two sisters, Mrs. Bertie Baker, Stinnett, and Mrs. J. C. Stephens, Pampa; three brothers, Jasper Sargent, Maysville, Calif.; John Sargent, Monahans, and L. G. Sargent, Pampa.

Funeral services will be held at 9 a.m. Saturday in Duenkel Funeral Home Chapel with Rev. Joe Ashbacher, Church of God of Prophecy, Borger, officiating. The body will be taken to Burk Burnett for graveside services at 2 p.m. Saturday.

Record Absentee Ballots Are Cast

Polish Sausage Dinner Slated In White Deer

WHITE DEER (Spl) — Members of the parish of the Sacred Heart Church will hold the annual Polish sausage dinner Sunday in the Parish Hall, located two blocks north of the Main Street intersection.

An estimated 3,000 pounds of Polish sausage will be prepared for the event along with numerous homemade pies.

Serving times for the meals will be from noon to 2 p.m. and from 5 to 8 p.m. Tickets are available in advance from members of the parish or from the White Deer News Office.

Approximately 1700 people attended the dinner last year.

4-H to Present Awards Banquet

The Gray County 4-H organization will hold its annual awards banquet at 7:30 tomorrow night at Gelanese's Pamel Hall.

Awards will include the naming of the Gold Star Boy and Gold Star Girl, the highest achievement 4-H's may obtain on the county level.

Other achievement awards will be for outstanding work on projects such as swine, beef cattle, clothing, nutrition, baking, and participation on various 4-H Club teams.

Speaker for the evening will be Corporation Court Judge John W. Warner.

Refreshments will be served at the conclusion of the program.

All county 4-H members and their parents have been urged to attend by the two 4-H sponsors, assistant county agent Jesse Hoermann and assistant home demonstration agent Jeannie Ford.

record of 1,013, according to County Clerk Charlie Thut.

Absentee and presidential balloting for new state residents ended today at 5 p.m.

Warner To Address DAR

Corporation Court Judge John W. Warner will speak to the monthly noon meeting of the Daughters of the American Revolution Saturday at Furr's Cafeteria.

Warner's subject will be "An Ounce of Prevention." He will discuss the growing crime rate and the positive steps being taken in this area to prevent future offenses.

Warner has served as Pampa's Corporation Court Judge for five years. He has received national as well as local recognition for his work with youthful traffic offenders.

He has also instituted highly successful probation programs for youth charged with criminal offenses.

Need Car Wash? Visit Debaters

Pampa High School debate team members were hard at it this afternoon washing cars to pay their way to the Miami Beach Forensic Festival Dec. 26-29.

They started at 2 o'clock and will continue the wash jobs through tonight, until they run out of cars.

So, if your car is dirty, take it to the mechanized car wash at Foster and West this evening and have it cleaned for only $1. Facilities at the station have been donated for the project.

Police Looking For 'Red' Forgery Suspect

Pampa police and several Pampa merchants were looking today for a man believed to be an Indian, five feet, 10 inches tall with a slender build.

The man passed approximately $80 worth of forged cashier's checks at motels and other businesses, using the name Dale Shae.

The checks were reportedly stolen from Shae, along with a suitcase in Oklahoma.

settling the French-Indochina war that diplomats of Hanoi and Saigon have faced each other across a negotiating table.

The diplomats said the negotiators probably will run into the toughest of issues—the thing that led to the collapse of the Geneva agreements. That is deciding under what conditions South and North Vietnam ought to be reunited.

The diplomatic observers said they believe the two sides may agree on a long, long transition period before attempting any reunification.

But, after months of deadlock here, the diplomatic mood was cheered by Johnson's announcement.

County Studies Improvements Of Airfield, Bridge

Gene Barber, project engineer for construction and improvements at Perry LeFors Airfield, told Gray County commissioners today that the project is expected to be completed the first part of December.

Barber said, "we've got the lights up, we've completed the runway and extension and we already have jets landing every couple of days, and we should be through with the taxiway by the first part of next month."

In other business, the commissioners took care of routine budgetary matters, set Dec. 2 as the day they would take bids for a new county bridge, and set a tentative date of Nov. 13 as the date for a public hearing on the budget for the coming year.

The bridge is to be constructed on a county road three miles east of the County Club to replace the one which collapsed this summer under the weight of a trailer truck.

The new structure is expected to be 80-90 feet long. No estimate of costs were available but costs are expected to range between $15-25,000 depending on the type of bridge, cost of preliminary work and approaches and other factors.

CELIBACY RETAINED

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—A Vatican spokesman said Thursday no change is anticipated by the Roman Catholic Church on the celibacy of priests.

They believe the two sides may agree on a long, long transition period before attempting any reunification.

But, after months of deadlock here, the diplomatic mood was cheered by Johnson's announcement.

Blakemore Listed In Poor Condition

J. B. Blakemore, 41, 325 N. Sumner, was listed in poor condition in High Plains Baptist Hospital in Amarillo today.

According to Texas Highway Patrolman Ken Evans, Blakemore was apparently riding a motor scooter about one and one-half miles southwest of Pampa on a county road when the road dead-ended.

Eyans said the motorcycle apparently hit a small ditch and Blakemore was thrown from the vehicle.

The accident was witnessed by a man who lives close to the scene and he rendered first aid and called an ambulance.

Blakemore was first taken to Highland General Hospital and later transferred to High Plains by Carmichael-Whitley Ambulance service.

Price to Speak To Businessmen

Congressman Bob Price will speak at a Panhandle-wide luncheon meeting of the National Federation of Independent Businessmen on Monday at the Y.W.C.A. in Amarillo.

Wallace L. Bruce, Pampa chairman of the NFIB, said the congressman will speak on "Problems Facing Today's Businessman."

The federation, an organization which includes small businessmen throughout the nation, has more than 1,000 members in the Texas Panhandle, Bruce stated.

The meeting, he added, will be open to all businessmen and other interested persons.

Your Horoscope JEANE DIXON

Saturday Nov. 2, 1968

Your birthday today: You will find the coming year a paradox: Higher income seems to bring a less comfortable life. Earnings may come so readily that you do not enjoy the gains. The only way to build a balance is to become aware of the spiritual values in life. Today's natives tend to dramatize their lives.

ARIES (Mar. 21-Apr. 19): Practicality is the favored quality today. As long as people see the direction of your efforts, you have cooperation. Romantic interests thrive!

TAURUS (Apr. 20-May 20): Peacemaking efforts and fresh insight into your own inner conflicts both gain through intelligent reasoning. Plans flow normally. Visit friends who are ill.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): It's hard to stay on the job, but get your chores done (before you turn loose to play). Games, gossip are all very interesting. Stay on a high level of good fun.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): This should be a pleasant, normal Saturday for your enjoyment. Your hobbies are there for your active interest. Take time for meditation as to the broader patterns of your life.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Go shopping for things of beauty and comfort. Cater to the needs of children and loved ones. Something of a carnival atmosphere prevails, so enjoy it with your pleasant companions.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Some arrangement can be agreed on now to make your situation more tenable or more profitable. The day should be free of pressures; use it to plan ahead. Pursue romantic interests in the evening.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Catching up on shopping and errands turns out to be more of a lighthearted adventure than a chore. Go out of your way to make use of any peacemaking opportunity.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): The spirit of the day is up to you. Your energy and how you direct it regulate things around you. While relaxing give some thought to your health. Romance can be advanced this evening.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): The main pressure on you is the competition for your time among children, your hobbies, sports, and just plain loafing. Romantic ventures are favored too.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Gather your energies and organize work that fulfills your sense of beauty. The people surrounding you are willing to help. It's a very comfortable day, if you will let it be.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Any work at all is suddenly tedious. Enjoy the weekend let-up from pressures. However, needn't over-extend to fit your impulses, either.

PISCES (Feb. 19-Mar. 20): Pursue your own interests (in your own fashion). There are so many things you have wanted to follow up but haven't gotten around to. Today you will find people who can be very helpful.

Look for a modern version of Jacob's coat on the fall scene. Multi-colored stripes, running horizontally, color the scene in coats with small, standup collars, double-breasted or single-breasted closings.

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I can't understand my brother. He and I were brought up in the same house with the same mother and father, but we are as different as night and day. Dad drank a little, and he and Mom did their share of fighting, but I can't say we had a "bad" home life.

My brother is married to a woman who treats him like a dog. They don't even live like man and wife. He sleeps in the BASEMENT and she sleeps upstairs. She keeps putting him down and he doesn't even try to defend himself. What on earth is the matter with that poor excuse for a man?

ROCHESTER
DEAR ROCHESTER: If your brother sleeps in the basement without a murmur, maybe he likes it. Or maybe he doesn't care where he sleeps as long as it's not with his wife.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a woman who has a 13-year-old daughter, and then goes ahead and has another baby? Don't you think a 35-year-old woman is a little too old to be having a baby?

When I come home from school I have a lot of things to do, including homework, so I don't see why I have to give up my time to watch a baby.

I can see where this baby-sitting bit is going to get worse in time, because I know my mother, and she is not about to hire a baby-sitter when she can get me to sit for nothing.

Is there anything I can do about this?

STUCK
DEAR STUCK: To answer your first question. A woman who is young enough to bear a child is not "too old" to have one. As for your second question: A girl who doesn't know how old she has to be to "leave home" is too young to try it.

DEAR ABBY: I have been a diabetic for years. Lately it was discovered that I also have high blood pressure. My doctor put me on a salt-free diet and now there are many things I am not allowed to eat.

When my wife and I are invited to the home of a friend, would I be out of line to tell the hostess about my restricted diet? My wife says if she has to put a hostess to any extra work she would rather stay home.

MANNY
DEAR MANNY: I see nothing wrong in mentioning this to your hostess in advance. If she really wants your company she would not consider it an imposition to go to a little extra effort for a guest who's on a restricted diet.

DEAR ABBY: Do you think a business man should hire relatives when he needs more help in the place? We are going to start calling this place "The Family Circle." A few of us have been here a long time, and it used to be that the new employees were folks like ourselves, but lately every time the boss hires someone new, it's cousin Joe or nephew Nate. We "outsiders" don't appreciate being outnumbered by relatives of the boss. We'd like your comments.

OUTNUMBERED
DEAR OUTNUMBERED: Whom a business man hires in his place of business is his own business.

Everybody has a problem. What is yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif., 90069 and inclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Russian Men Offer Equality In Laws

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

MOSCOW (UPI)—Russian law provides equal pay for equal work and equal opportunity in all careers for women right alongside the men.

But as often is true in the United States, what the book says and how it is followed frequently are at variance.

As one woman high in the career hierarchy put it: "The nature of man does not change. Certainly there is some of their feeling of superiority."

Speaking was Prof. Nina Vladimirovna Orlova, a doctor of law, and a vice chairman of the Soviet Women's Committee (SWC). SWC is a powerful organization of 40 million women representing membership in professional organizations, trade unions and those on state and collective farms.

Honorary president of the SWC is Valentina Tereshkova, the first woman space traveler, who orbited the globe in 1963 and later married Andrian Nikolayev, another of the U.S.S.R.'s pioneers.

"Any career is open to women, except in professions where a woman's health must be considered," said Mrs. Orlova.

At one time, immediately after World War II, it was natural that women would turn to careers. The war left Russia with 5 million war dead.

"In my generation, there were 20 million more women than men," said the law professor. "Now the ratio is balancing out. About 55 per cent of our total population is female. Among the young, it is more nearly 50-50."

Prof. Orlova told me the women's committee was founded in World War II "to work against Fascist Germany and to contact women in all parts of the world who resisted Fascism."

In 1945, groups representing women from many parts of the world met in Paris and "decided the struggle of women of many countries, especially those at war, is much the same—the problems of working

POLLY'S POINTERS
By POLLY CRAMER
Odd Pieces of Ribbon
Make New Bedspread

DEAR POLLY - A reader wanted to know how she could use up a lot of ribbons. My mother used to make bedspreads out of odd pieces. She washed and pressed them if necessary, so they were fresh and new-looking. Sew enough strips together to make the length of the bed or the length the spread should be. The ribbons might be all the same color or mixed colors. After enough of these strips of the proper length are sewed together to make the width you want, make a border to go all around the edges. The border should be made of two widths of ribbons. They are most effective made of two colors that appear in the ribbons used for the main body of the spread.
-MRS. C.W.N.

Polly's Problem
DEAR POLLY - Surely some of the Polly Pointers readers have been confronted with a problem similar to mine. How can one tactfully cope with a neighbor who borrows chronically; one who neglects to return a pizza pan, portable sewing machine or hoe until I go to retrieve it? Or, if they do make a return, it will be a stick of margarine for the stick of butter that was borrowed.
-NELL

DEAR POLLY - My grandchildren used to play with my sofa pillows and they would get pretty dirty. I made some that the children know they can drag around to their hearts' content. Sew two large washcloths together and fill them with old clear nylons. You have pillows that can be thrown into the washer and will dry in a jiffy. My daughter has made some, too, so I hope other mothers with small tots will try this and save their good sofa pillows.
-ROSE

DEAR POLLY - I used to have trouble measuring the correct amount of fabric softer to take to the laundromat. We buy it in gallon containers. Now I simply use one of the baby's bottles as a measuring cup that I take right with me.

Presidential Race Shaping Up in California

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (UPI)—The race toward the White House that started with the bitter cold of the New Hampshire primary last March is drawing to a close in the glitter of sunny, unpredictable California.

And like a saga of the Old West, the 1968 presidential campaigns of Democrat Hubert H. Humphrey and Republican Richard M. Nixon reach the end of the trail on the shores of the Pacific. Then it is gold-rich. Now it's vote-rich.

Both candidates plan to spend the final days of the campaign.

There are 12 million registered motor vehicles in California. The state flower of California is the Golden poppy.

George Wallace, whose organization is divided in the state, isn't expected to get more than 10 per cent of the votes.

If the key is organization, Nixon is in the best shape. His campaign is led by Lt. Gov. Robert H. Finch with the full cooperation of Reagan, who has been darting from state-to-state and around California asking the voters to elect Republicans "from the White House to the statehouse."

Unruh Backs Humphrey

But State Assembly Speaker Jess M. Unruh, one of the most politically potent Democrats in the state, has been campaigning for legislative seats — and against the Johnson administration.

Unruh, who led the state delegation to the Democratic National Convention, finally gave a full endorsement to Humphrey only two weeks before the election.

It was Unruh who organized the state for John F. Kennedy in 1960—and came within a whisker of defeating Nixon on his home ground. But there are no signs that he's doing the same for Humphrey.

Before their final drives, Humphrey had spent nine days in the state campaigning and Nixon had spent seven, not counting a vacation he took after the national convention.

The first coins minted in the Western Hemisphere were made in Mexico City in the 1530s, says the National Geographic.

Zion Lutheran Will Observe Reformation Date

Zion Lutheran Church will observe the 451st anniversary of the Reformation in worship service Sunday. The Rev. M. G. Herring, pastor, will deliver the Reformation sermon, "The Gospel and God's People," based on 1 Peter 2:9.

The beginning of the Protestant Reformation dates from Oct. 31, 1517, when Martin Luther posted his 95 Theses in Wittenburg. One of the theses was, "The true treasure of the church is the most holy Gospel of the glory and grace of God."

The public is invited to attend the special Reformation services.

GUEST SPEAKER

Jimmy Doyle Helms, former Pampa minister now serving in Amarillo, will speak to the Pampa Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses Sunday at 10 a.m. on the subject "Divine Covenants Result in Blessings For Man."

The public is invited to this and all such Bible discourses

Lamar Full Gospel Assembly To Begin Revival Services

The Rev. Luther Turner, world-known evangelist, will begin revival services at 7 p.m. Sunday at Lamar Full Gospel Assembly, Bond and S. Sumner Sts.

The Vanguard, a gospel singing group from Tulsa, Okla., will perform Sunday at the annual homecoming of the church. They will perform at 9:45 a.m., 11 a.m. and 1 p.m.

Members of the group are David Ingles, manager and lead singer; Jim Tolever, bass; Claude Zumwalt, baritone, and Paul Craft, tenor.

A fellowship dinner will be held at noon Sunday.

Rev. Turner was one of the speakers at the Sixth World Pentecostal Conference in For Man."

The public is invited to this and all such Bible discourses

Helsinki, Finland. He recently completed a world evangelistic tour.

Through the years, he has helped to establish 29 churches throughout the country.

Christian Scientists Set Sunday Services

"Let Israel hope in the Lord: for with the Lord there is mercy, and with him is plenitudo redemptionis."

This verse from Psalm 130 is part of a Bible lesson-sermon entitled "Everlasting Punishment" to be read at the 11 a.m. service Sunday at First Church of Christ, Scientist.

A related selection from the denominational textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, will also be used.

Rev. Dan Cameron To Continue Series At Worship Services

Rev. Dan B. Cameron, pastor of the First Baptist Church, will be in the pulpit for both services of worship Sunday. He will continue the series of sermons on "After Dark" for the 11 a.m. worship, using "Bad Dreams After Dark" for his sermon subject.

The pastor will continue the series of sermons on "Earthen Vessels" in the 7 p.m. worship, speaking from the topic "The Man Who Was An Angelic Devil" with the text taken from Numbers 23:10. Mrs. Roy Korgay, soprano, will sing a solo for the special music.

First Presbyterian To Have Theme Of Stewardship Sunday

The First Presbyterian Church begins the first of two Stewardship Emphasis Sundays at both worship services this Sunday, at 8:30 and 11 a.m.

Members of the congregations will be asked to submit pledges for the 1969 program year during the services.

In connection with the theme of stewardship, a Stewardship Emphasis family night supper will be held at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday night.

Clergy's Political Involvement This Year Less Than '60, '64

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press International

Involvement of religious leaders in the presidential election campaign has been far less this year than it was in 1960 and 1964.

In 1960, John F. Kennedy's Roman Catholic faith became one of the most emotional issues of the campaign. The "religious issue" was whether Americans could trust a Catholic to run their country without taking orders from the Vatican.

Kennedy became the first Catholic President and his conduct in office so allayed Protestant fears that the religious question was not even raised this year when the Democrats nominated another Catholic, Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, for vice president.

Discussion Now Active In Who Will Be The President's Pastor

By DAVID POLING

Everyone is now playing the cabinet-picking game. For next President Nixon.

Already there are three or four choices for each job and a public discussion on whether Nelson Rockefeller would be best as head of the Treasury or the Defense Department. Since they both lose money, anything that he can do will be an improvement.

First Christian Will Move To New Location

Worship services for the First Christian Church will begin in the old church building at Kingsmill St. at 10:30 a.m. Sunday. There will be a pause in the service to observe Communion.

After the sacrament of bread has been received by the congregation, every one will follow the elders, deacons, ministers and choir to the new church building at 18th and Nelson.

The nursery will be at the new church. Everyone is asked to leave their babies there before coming to the old church, unless they desire them to be with them during the service.

Rev. J. W. Duke will deliver the message for the morning worship hour. He will be joined by the Rev. Carlton S. Downing at the lectern. The choir will perform under the direction of Miss Rosemary Lawlor, accompanied by Mrs. John Gill at the organ and Jerry Whitten at the piano.

Eugene Soaks For Humphrey

By JACK V. FOX
LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, campaigning finally for Vice President Hubert Humphrey, opened up on Richard M. Nixon as a man who in the presidency might not be able to tell "the pale horse of death from the white horse victory."

McCarthy spoke Wednesday night at a get-out-the-vote rally sponsored by Los Angeles Negro ministers and urged Californians to do everything they could to elect Humphrey President.

The senator advised his still-enthusiastic supporters not to give him their write-in votes as a sentimental gesture in a state whose 40 electoral votes could provide the margin of victory.

McCarthy said he had told the Humphrey people that one mistake they had made was spending so much time running against "the old Nixon."

"The new Nixon is bad enough," he said.

McCarthy said the American nuclear arsenal was sufficient to kill all the people in the Soviet Union three times over and that the Soviet stockpile was sufficient to kill all the people in the world.

Turning to the war in Vietnam, McCarthy said his own presidential bid had at least one success in bringing the American people to ask "hard moral questions" about U.S. involvement.

"I believe the vice president is a man who can be relied upon to tell the difference between the pale horse of death and the white horse of victory," McCarthy said.

"I am not sure Mr. Nixon can make that distinction."

There were about 1,000 persons—80 per cent Negro—in the 1,400-seat Trinity Baptist Church where McCarthy spoke.

dress, she told newsmen, "I am very happy."

What about newspaper reports she and Onassis will fly to New York shortly to start a round-the-world trip?

"We plan to fly back to Skorpios on Friday," she said. "We plan to stay there as long as the weather permits. If the weather is good and we enjoy it why leave?"

Jackie Holds Conference

ATHENS (UPI) —The newsmen had waited hours on the new Mrs. Aristotle Onassis' first news conference and some had become impatient. But when she finally arrived Jackie's smile made everything all right.

"I like everything in Greece," she said. The press found itself charmed into a friendly group.

At first, Mrs. Onassis did not want to meet newsmen at all. She dashed from the airport without even a "no comment."

But after her arrival from Skorpios, the island that has been her home since her marriage to Onassis 12 days ago, her sister-in-law, Mrs. Artemi Aarofalidi, coaxed her into the garden where reporters waited.

Mrs. Onassis smiled warmly. Dressed in a grey flannel

A Watchful Newspaper

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license, nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself. No more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

How Times Have Changed

Times have changed, sure enough. Back in the early 1830s a young Baptist clergyman was asked to translate or compose verses for a song book. And the song book was to be used in the schools! It wouldn't be very likely to happen today. Oct. 21 marked the birthday of that young clergyman, Samuel Francis Smith, and the words he wrote are the words of "America." As he himself said of his task, "I glanced at the German words, and seeing that they were patriotic, I instantly felt the impulse to write a patriotic hymn of my own to the same tune." Part of his "Poems of Home and Country," first appeared in Lowell Mason's "The Choir." Hailing liberty, sought by early settlers of this country, it won rapid popularity, "never needing the support of political action, but maintained by force of sentiment."

Smith's hymn, counting the blessings of liberty, heralding the "land of the free," and enjoying his fellowmen to "let freedom ring" would hardly be the content of a ballad by some militant folk song writer today. Demanding one's blessings from others, particularly from some level of government with no pocketbook of its own, seems to be the fashion.

There appears to be less and less desire for liberty, but increasing talk of being "liberal." No. 1 always cries for No. 2 to be "liberal" for No. 1's benefit, or even No. 3's. Mounting demands by government for substance from the debate of its citizens for the debatable "good" of other citizens is merely reverting to the very slavery of excessive government which early Americans were trying to escape in other lands. Where individuals are forgotten, whether it be from personal lack of charity or from collective coercion, liberty is lost.

It is time that all Americans study intently the meaning of liberty. When each American lets freedom ring by keeping his hands and his guns off other Americans' backs, he will be restoring here the "sweet land of liberty." And the symbol of the Statue of Liberty, which was dedicated in 1886, will have real meaning, for like it, each citizen will be holding high the torch of freedom. Let every American's actions be laudatory — not predatory.

The Bombing Halt Announcement

Apparently the North Vietnamese communists are allowed to know more about the real intent of the United States government than are the citizens of this once free land. The News recently published a UPI story which stated that "Hanoi is intent on waiting out the (U.S.) election and inauguration without modifying its demands for an unconditional halt to the bombing of North Vietnam." Well, the North Vietnamese kept their promise and won their point as they surely knew they would. A senior Saigon official announced that the United States had proposed a total bombing halt. South Vietnamese in Paris said that they too had been led to believe that we intended to stop bombing completely. An American spokesman for the peace talks declined comment as to whether or not there had been any secret American-North Vietnamese contacts recently. Last week LBJ told the three major candidates for the presidency in a conference telephone call that there had been no change in the situation regarding the total halt of United States bombing of North Vietnam. However, LBJ reversed himself the next day. Official Washington sources confirmed that the president would announce a complete halt to the bombing of North Vietnam. It is to be noted that this disclosure was made only after rumors of it were running rampant on three continents. We can only guess, that since the rest of the world and the Viet Cong already knew that Johnson was going to back down, he felt he ought to let the American people in on his hypocrisy.

That is what the President did in his announcement last night. No one should really be too surprised, for politicians will play politics, even if it means the cost of thousands of American and Vietnamese lives. Saigon and Hanoi knew in advance that a lame duck wobbles and wavers even more when under political pressure.

Marijuana: A Dangerous Drug

For quite awhile now, the use of marijuana has been touted in some circles as a harmless diversion that can provide a stimulating new experience.

It is appropriate at this time to remind those who still cling to this misconception that the American Medical Association and the National Research Council have stripped marijuana of its aura of "respectability" and shown it for what it is—a dangerous drug.

In a recent statement, the two groups, among the most qualified authorities on the subject, emphasized that just because marijuana is not physically addicting does not mean it is not dangerous.

For one thing, those who use it repeatedly can become psychologically dependent — preoccupied with smoking "pot." This can lead to neglect of personal hygiene and of productive tasks and eventually to becoming a burden on society. It can also lead to taking other drugs and to psychiatric problems.

What about those who use marijuana only sporadically?

Unlike the typical drinker of alcohol, the typical smoker of marijuana uses the drug for the express purpose of becoming intoxicated. He does not take one or two puffs. He keeps right on dragging until he's "high" and at that point, he's every bit as dangerous as a drunk in social situations like driving a car.

Getting high — whether on alcohol, pot, LSD, or "speed" — is an attempt to dodge the responsibility of coming to grips with reality. The real world may not be a pretty one to some, but it's the only one we have and evasive flights into the treacherous fantasy world of drug euphoria will do nothing to make it better.

Ground Rules for Writing "By-Line: Ernest Hemingway," by William White, selected Hemingway articles and dispatches of four decades, is a fine collection, the reporter's side of a fictioneer.

As I leafed through it, remembering there had once been a very young reporter named Hemingway who nobody had heard of, ghostly voices intruded — newspaper editors, now forgotten... but not, I'm relatively sure, by Hemingway.

Good editors, mediocre editors, all the craftsmen in the area between rare genius and non-existent ineptness — truly inept editors die with the first edition — and thinking of them, Hemingway came alive, the young reporter caught up in the same flashing paradoxical ferment of callowness and confidence that all young reporters must or should be.

First stories in this collection are a few of Hemingway's early newspaper features, around 1920 and I thought of the voices he must have heard after each all-important first paragraph, in newspapering called the lead or "lede."

I know he heard all the words of all the editors and was shaped by them, in his stories like these.

HIGH-ART IN TORONTO "Have you a coming Corot, a modern Millet, a potential Paul Potter or a Toronto Titian temporarily adding whatever the new art adds to your home?"

And from under a green eyeshade:

"...Look kid, I'll let it go, we're on deadline, but who the hell knows from Corot? Don't confuse the reader, say what the hell you mean, lay off the strained alliteration — Toronto Titian, sheesh! Try to remember to slam it home fast and..."

CHANCE FOR FREE SHAVE (Toronto Star)

"The land of the free and the home of the brave is the modest phrase used by certain citizens of the republic to the south of us to designate the country they live in. They may be brave—but there is nothing free. Free lunch passed some time ago and on attempting to join the Free Masons you are informed it will cost you seventy-five dollars."

And with the hot aura of the noontime bourbon:

"HEMINGWAY! What the hell is this? A story about you getting a shave at the barber's college or the cost of living index? This looks like a rewrite of the Star Spangled Banner — here's your lede way down here where you finally start saying, 'A visit to the barber college requires the cold, naked, valor of the man who walks clear-eyed to death.' Gimme four takes like that and in the future warm up on your own time!"

KILLINGS, $400 UP

"Chicago — Gunmen from the United States are being imported to do killings in Ireland. That is an established fact from Associated Press dispatches."

And from cold eyes behind a cornucop pipe: "...Earn't you want to sit down here at the desk a minute? I see you're ferreting out facts from the AP here, eh O.K., but look — now the next scoop you come up with, say from the World Almanac, you might want to remember: Things are imported to where you're at and exported to where you ain't. Now, admittedly, inasmuch as you're in Toronto writing under a Chicago dateline about Ireland this can get a bit tricky." But...

"BULL FIGHTING IS NOT A SPORT — IT IS A TRAGEDY."

"In Pamplona, a white-walled, sun-baked town high up in the hills of Navarre, is held in the first two weeks of July each year the World's Series of bull fighting." And with the big black pencil drumming on the desk: "...pretty good stuff way down in the story about the bulls and all like that, but would you please, please read your lede sentence again. You not only backed into that sentence, Ern, you somehow turned it inside out. Look, nevertheless, you got a sort of flair here somewhere, would you like to fill in over in sports and maybe cover hockey while Zeke's sobbing up. Good experience, a lot of the best writers in the world were sports writers."

No 'Joy' Much Fervor, Serve Hope in HHHI Sprint

ROBERT ALLEN

JOHN GOLDSMITH

En route with Humphrey — Vice President, Hubert H. Humphrey has come a long way from the "politics of joy," but his Democratic presidential campaign is beginning to move up at last.

The question is, of course: Has the movement come too late to overtake Republican candidate Richard M. Nixon?

The final answer to that question may lie in a variety of circumstances which are beyond Humphrey's control. He is campaigning, however, as if he could single-handedly even the odds, before Election Day, by an act of personal stamina and will.

It was to have been a "unity" campaign which Humphrey announced last spring, a presidential campaign suffused with the "politics of joy." Democratic party unity was already frayed, however, and it was completely torn by the turbulent Democratic National Convention.

Toil quickly replaced joy as Humphrey's campaign hall-mark. Long ago the Vice President began to go all-out. He's running for President just as hard as he can.

He is crisscrossing the country, making six to eight appearances in each 14 to 18-hour day. He is hoarse by noon. He is tired, of course, and almost always he talks too long. When he concludes, with an underdog's plaintive plea for support, his voice breaks like a bad hariton's.

If the simple joy has gone out of all this, a good deal of humor remains. Humphrey wryly explained his own plight to a group of Los Angeles clergymen last week.

"It's a little like trying to give eight good sermons a day," he said, "and, in the meantime, trying to take up the collection and keep the church open."

POLITICAL EVANGELISM — There really is something of the evangelist's sermons in Humphrey's electioneering, as the campaign nears its end.

Basically, he is selling the record — his own record as a champion of liberal causes and the record of Democratic administrations since Franklin Roosevelt. A single speech may call all the turns from the first Social Security bill through Headstart and the nuclear non-proliferation treaty.

There is a fervor to the salesmanship, however, when Humphrey promises top priority to ending the war in Vietnam. He tells his audiences that he can trust him, and he looks hopefully to the day when the world will enjoy an atmosphere of "common trust."

There is a fervor, too, in the candidate's attacks on his two opponents. One of them, he says, is a "crude demagogue," while the other's "more subtle." Nothing is subtle about Humphrey's comments on Nixon's record and that of Independent party candidate George C. Wallace. He is also sharply critical of vice presidential candidates Spiro Agnew and Curtis

LeMay, and that gives him an opportunity, in almost every speech, to praise Sen. Edmund Muskie, his own running mate.

On occasion it can all be quite effective, but often it is not. What starts as fervor becomes, after a while, just a high noise level. As Humphrey wears on, some audiences wear out.

FORTUNES RISING — Whatever the short-range effects of Humphrey's campaigning, there seems to be no question but that his fortunes are now improving. Humphrey's aides say there is no doubt about it, and the polls seem to agree.

Money, one of the continuing problems of the early campaign weeks, is beginning to come in too. That suggests a new and more optimistic appraisal of Humphrey's election chances by the smart-money contributors who want to be sure to be on the side of a possible winner.

Some of Humphrey's most significant recent gains have been organizational. In some areas local party leaders, dormant until very recently, have put the faithful to work on behalf of the Humphrey-Muskie ticket.

In appearances last week, in New York, California and Texas, Humphrey helped achieve that result by catalyzing moves toward reestablishing party unity. Also helping along the way were Kenneth O'Donnell, long time friend and associate of the Kennedys, and Joseph Rauh, ADA stalwart who was a pre-convention supporter of Sen. Eugene McCarthy.

Again, however, is it all happening too late?

Humphrey's top strategists say privately that they are not sure. They say they don't know how much of a lead must be erased by next Tuesday.

The Humphrey camp has claimed, ever since the political conventions, that the national polls were exaggerating the Nixon lead. If that is true top aides think Nixon can still be caught.

Desperately, Humphrey himself will keep on trying.

Editor:

I have been listening to radio, watching television and reading the press the last few days. I have concluded that the citizens of the United States have been taking, and will take until Nov. 5, the greatest brain-washing the nation has ever seen. Great volumes of oratory have been expounded, as to the wonderful inflated prosperity we are enjoying.

The candidates seem to think the way to solve our problems is to spend more, borrow more and raise taxes. Very little is said about balancing the budget, paying off the bonded government debt. This nation has grown to the richest nation in the world, with the greatest public debt of all — 360 billion. What built this greatness? Hard work, profits of private industry, cheap interest and reasonable taxes, and a dollar being worth a dollar. One of the duties of the President of the United States is to conserve the natural resources, coin money and regulate the value thereof. In the past the presidents have done a good job shrinking the dollar.

True, it wasn't easy to build this greatness. Hardships beset us, but we lived within our means. A large percent of the people prospered, some broke even but lived, and a small percent had to tighten their belts, conserve and work a little harder. Then came the theory of extended credit, borrow, spend and pay later. The U.S. Treasury found it easy to come up each year with a deficit of ten to fifteen billion dollars. All that was necessary was to ask congress to raise the debt limit so they could borrow more money to take care of its "I Owe You's." There was a time when balancing the budget was a must; now it is considered not necessary.

A lot has been said about how to pull the country out of this inflated mess. The candidates have tried in their feeble way to tell how they would do it. First, they would end the Vietnam war. How — without a victory? There is no substitute for victory. Wars are won and lasting peace is obtained by victory.

It's my opinion that Congress should bury the hatchet, resort to reason, forget partisan lines, work hard to renovate the whole written that way was to place the justices in a position where, as impartial, naturally, as a man who is appointed for life.

Since all judges appointed by the federal government have a life tenure, that is a great safety valve against those members of the National Labor Relations Board who are appointed for five-year terms and therefore are not likely to be financial and judicial systems, separate the wheat from the chaff, stop the graft, stop the holes in the pork barrel, shorten the arms of the congressmen that raid the pork barrel every year, cut the number of government bureaus in half, shut down the gravy train, put the lobbyists and the contract chiselers to work on an honest job.

This would stir up a stink. They would put up a scream of protest. Just like a bull calf weaned from his mother. He raises hell for a while, because of his loss of easy living. This reconstruction will have to be put on slowly. By squeezing the water out of appropriations, enough money could be saved to balance the budget, and stimulate industrial expansion to make more jobs for the returning soldiers after the war is over, remember it is going to mean for all of us, sacrifice and hard work and love of God and Country to rebuild United States' integrity. Suppose we try less cussing and more conserving in government and at home.

Editor:
I've just read "A feeling exists among Humphrey voters that the Democratic party has done more to produce prosperity". However, those voters are ignoring these unreliable stimulants:

1. Our fourth war under Democrats is providing much of the stimulus. But it cost U.S. 25,000 war dead.

2. War work and the thousands of potential workers in Vietnam, Korea, etc., is the reason unemployment is down.

3. Mainly under Democrats, spending billions of borrowed money created some prosperity. $25 billion was borrowed last year making it the 29th year in 36 that U.S. spent more than we paid in taxes.

4. Since 1952, our debt increased from $20 billion to $260 billion.

5. Franklin D. Roosevelt warned that such stimulants cannot continue forever. In 1932 he said "Any nation, like any family can for a short time spend more than it earns, but a continuation of that habit will lead to the pauperhouse".

A more realistic prosperity, in my opinion, is created by inventions of things (computers, labor-saving machinery, etc.) and industries (electronic, petrochemical, synthetics, etc.) that did not exist before. Look how prosperity increased in the South from oil, natural gas, paper and cotton mills, petrochemicals, etc.

Editor:
That date which is so important to each of us and to our national welfare is fast approaching — November 3. I do hope that every qualified citizen will accept his responsibility and go to the polls and vote. It's our privilege, our duty, our sacred right. If we continue to neglect to exercise this right, we stand in danger of losing it.

Ever since men have had popular government — even back as far as the Ancient Greeks — they have clashed over their politics, but I believe this is good. Progress seems to be stimulated by struggle and opposition, and for this reason I believe a two party system of government in our state would be a healthy, American way of life.

Hat you ever noticed that in all of God's plan for us here on this earth, He seems to have tried to show us that it is good to have duality — man as opposed to woman, day versus night, winter followed by summer, spring and fall, generation and death. It is God's plan that Life be organized on a twofold system, so why does it not follow that a two party political system would be far better than a one party system.

Let's encourage everyone to get out to vote — which ever party they favor, but Vote in the election!

Shockers Sock-it-to Caprock Sophs, 73-6

By RON CROSS Sports Editor

The Pampa Shockers decided to end their seven game losing streak Thursday and they did it in no uncertain terms too.

The Shockers blew Caprock all over the field with quarterback Doug Thompson, halfback Ricky Harris and end Donnie Wilbon running and passing the Longhorns crazy.

Thompson passed for three touchdowns and ran three others, while Harris tallied three times also and Wilbon scored once and caught 84 yards worth of passes for a 73-6 Pampa victory.

The 73 points is the most a Pampa Shocker team ever scored. In fact, if you added all their scores from the other seven games they just barely add more than the scores scored Thursday.

The 145 pound Thompson, who has been hurt off and on during the season, had his best day as a football player.

The sturdy sophomore hit on nine of 14 passes for 183 yards. He also led his team in rushing with 83 yards on the ground in 13 carries.

He scored on runs of 14, 20 and 19 yards and ran 35 yards on another play.

Harris, who gained 39 yards on 14 totes, scored on runs of 2, 2, 2 yards.

Wilbon caught five passes for 84 yards, including 16, 42 and 11 yards.

Pampa coaches didn't spare the manpower with every boy on the club getting into the action. Coaches used 10 players in the backfield and they responded with 254 yards on the ground.

The Shockers ran up a 19-0 first period lead and padded it to 32-0 at halftime. They scored but once in the third period but rambled in for five, fourth quarter scores.

The defense had its day too, and had it not been for two, 15-yard penalties Caprock would have not made the scoreboard.

The Shockers socked up 11 1/2 yards in penalties but recovered five Caprock fumbles and intercepted seven passes for 107 yards.

But Pampa wasn't without its mistakes. They lost the ball four times on fumbles and had one aerial intercepted.

So tough were defensivemen Mickey Sims, Gary Gattis, Jim Casey, Pat Darling, Dewayne in from the one. This came with 4:11 left in the period and it was 6-0.

Just 17 seconds later the Horns had fumbled and Dan Hood and Tommy Hoover recovered.

On the first play from scrimmage Thompson hit Glover with an 18 yard touchdown pass and David Cash kicked the point after to make 13-0.

Thompson, on the first play, hit Wilbon with a pass that it, 13-0.

The Shockers forced the Horns to punt and the ball took a Pampa bounce, going only eight covered 42 yards and the score. Cash kicked good to make it, 26-0.

Pampa scored again with 3:56 left before halftime and traveled 44 yards in just one play. After intercepting a pass, Thompson hit Keith Coyle with a 44 yard bomb for the 32-0 halftime lead.

Terry Stevens made the interception, his first of three, for the evening.

Thompson scored the only third quarter touchdown climaxing a 29-yard, four play drive by rambling the last 20 yards. Cash kicked the point after.

The fireworks really went sky high in the final period.

Gary Gattis blocked a Caprock punt and Pampa scored in two plays from the 16. Thompson lost three yards then rambled in from the 19 on the next play.

The second touchdown came as the result of a Caprock fumble and Harris scored from the two on the first play. Cash's kick made it 52-0.

After Caprock scored the Shockers drove 54 yards in four plays with Casey Cameron going in from the four with 5:55 to go.

A pass interception led to the next Pampa score, this one covered 42 yards in five plays with Harris again diving in from the two. Cash's kick made it 66-0 with 3:28 left.

The final game when the Caprock punter couldn't get the ball over two of his blockers and the Shockers recovered at the Caprock 16.

Six plays later Harris zoomed over the line from two yards away and Darling kicked the 73rd point of a long afternoon.

Steers, Ponies Collide

By United Press International

The Texas Longhorns have vivid memories of their last two encounters with the Southern Methodist Mustangs and all signs point to another memory-maker Saturday afternoon in Austin.

In many ways, the game—one of four Southwest Conference games on the program—stacks up as a possible replica of the 1966 version when SMU went Austin undefeated in league play to meet a Texas team that had a 2-1 record.

Texas led 12-10 going into the final two minutes, but fumbled to SMU and Dennis Partee kicked a 32-yard field goal with .8 seconds left to make it 13-12 and SMU went on to the championship.

A THOMPSON RUN — Shocker quarterback Doug Thompson scores from 19 yards out on one of his three touchdown runs Thursday in the Shockers, 73-6 win over Caprock. Monroe Woods (46) follows him in and referee Eddie Polnac signals the score.

American League's Cy Young Award to McLain

NEW YORK (UPI)—Fast-talking Denny McLain, who claims he'd rather play the organ than baseball but still became the first 30-game winner since Dizzy Dean, Friday became the second youngest pitcher ever to win the Cy Young Award.

McLain, who pitched the Tigers to their first pennant since 1945, was the third player to win the accolade unanimously in the balloting of a panel of 20 members of the Baseball Writers Association of America—two from each of the leagues 10 cities.

McLain follows in the footsteps of Bob Gibson, who won the National League honor unanimously this year and Sandy Koufax, who won it three times unanimously—in 1963, 1965 and 1966.

The Cy Young award, named in honor of the winningest pitcher of all time, was instituted in 1956 to honor the best pitcher of the year. Until 1967, there was only one award but starting last season, there has been one award for each league.

McLain is just 24 and the youngest winner was Dean Chance, who won for the California Angels in 1964 at age 23.

McLain's 31-6 record made him the winningest pitcher since 1931 when Lefty Grove posted a 31-4 mark. The last 30 game winner was Dean, who reached that mark in 1924.

The balloting was done before the World Series. McLain wasn't as effective in the World Series as he was during the regular season, posting a 1-2 mark. He lost twice to Gibson before receiving a cortisone shot in his tired arm and coasting to the sixth game victory, 13-1, behind the heavy-hitting Detroit attack.

Reapers Tie Austin, Lee Dumped

Things didn't turn out too well at all Thursday for Pampa Junior High football teams, with the exception of Pampa ninth.

The Reapers broke a five game losing streak, with a slim squad, and tied Eorger Austin, 6-6.

Pampa eighth saw its record dip to 4-3 and suffered its second straight loss, 26-14 to Austin.

Lee teams, who swept Dumas last week, found Perryton a bit tougher. The ninth lost, 33-6 and Lee eighth took a 40-0 licking.

Both Lee teams played with several regulars, who forgot to get haircuts.

Wednesday Lee seventh won its fifth in a row and ran its season record to 5-2 with a 20-8 win over Perryton.

Several Lee eighth and ninth players were dropped from the squad for failure to get haircuts, a team rule, when the locks get too long.

Perryton beat Lee ninth, 27-14 the first time the teams met, and built up a 21-0 halftime lead Thursday.

Garvin McCarrall scored Lee's only touchdown when he caught a 10-yard pass from quarterback Dale Ammons.

Lee eighth, who blasted Borger Houston, 30-6 last week, was missing several regulars and had its two-game winning streak snapped.

Borger Austin scored first against the Reapers, who lost some players through poor grades, but Wade Archibald scored from two yards out in the final period to gain the tie. The run for the conversion failed.

Doug Smith saved the game for Pampa when he blocked Borger's kick-try for the conversion.

Robert McCampbell scored both Pampa eighth touchdowns and he and Allen Keeton picked up over 200 yards between them.

McCampbell ran two, 20 yard touchdowns and Keeton ran the conversion but Austin pulled away in the final half.

Today Pampa seventh went for its third victory against Austin at Borger. Pampa is 2-1-1 for the season.

Archer, Barber Lead Lucky PGA

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—George Archer and Miller Barber held a shaky one stroke lead over the field today at the start of the second round of play in the $100,000 Lucky Open Golf Tournament, and the man they all had their eye on is Billy Casper.

Archer, who has won $132,726 on the tour this year, and Barber, who has banked $96,609, shot matching five under par 66s in the opening round Thursday and while both were happy with their play the man they watched long after they were in the clubhouse was Casper.

Casper, who leads the money winning race with $183,389 in official earnings and well over $200,000 otherwise, had a slight disadvantage in the opening round because he played late in the day while Archer and Barber went off among the early birds. Casper went out in 34 and came home the same way over the par 36-35-71, 6.77-yard Harding Park course.

"He's always the one to beat," said Archer, who had seven birds and one bogey on his 73-33-66 round.

Archer, who has to pay attention to anyone but my own self," Barber, who has won only three tourney titles since turning pro in 1958. He shot 34-32 for his opening round 66.

While Archer and Barber were worried about Casper, they had a flock of other wolves at their door.

A total of 44 players among the starting field of 144 shot sub-par golf in the opening round.

Pampa-Coronado Clash Tonight

LUBBOCK—The Pampa Harvesters moved into this city "a 100 miles from nowhere" today in hopes of breaking a seven game losing streak.

Pampa (1-7) and the Mustangs (5-1-2) collide in a non-zone battle at 7:30 p.m. Lowery Field.

To win, coach Swede Lee says that the Harvesters will have to stop the running of Coronado's speedy tailback Jerry Austin.

Austin leads the district in scoring with 14 touchdowns and is third in the zone in rushing.

Jayhawks Put String on Line

By United Press International

Kansas, a school which built its athletic reputation on basketball and track and field, tries to improve its new image as a football power Saturday against a highly competent University of Colorado team.

Kansas, unbeaten in six outings, boasting college football's highest scoring machine and off to its best start in 59 years, hosts the Golden Buffaloes in a key Big Eight Conference game which is also the Jayhawker homecoming contest.

The Jayhawks, ranked third in the nation, could move a step nearer their first conference crown in 21 years and get the inside track for an Orange Bowl bid by getting past the Buffs.

The game at Lawrence is one of a number of games across the country involving conference championship contenders and schools with post-season bowl aspirations.

Kansas is listed as a 12 point favorite to down the Buffs, who got their offense into a high gear last week by outscoring Oklahoma 41-27.

Top-ranked Southern California and No. 2 Ohio State, both contenders for the Rose Bowl, take on league opponents, USC, returning to action after a layoff last weekend, is at Oregon and Ohio State entertains potent Michigan State.

USC, with O.J. Simpson ready to roll up yardage and touchdowns again, is a 17 point favorite while Ohio State (5-0) is a seven point pick over Michigan State.

The East's big game takes place at University Park, Pa., where fourth-ranked Penn State hosts Army. The Nittany Lions are favored by 11.

GREAT FAKE — While Caprock chases Pampa's Kenny Thompson (37) quarterback Doug Thompson (15) goes the other way with the ball. Loren Rice (72) waits for a block.

Aussie Takes Lead in Australian Golf

MELBOURNE (UPI)—Billy Dunk of Sydney carried two-stroke lead into today's second round of the Australian PGA golf championship.

Better-known players by the name of Palmer, Nicklaus and Player—hampered by hay fever, and hot winds—were farther off the pace.

Dunk toured the 7,000-yard, par-74 Metropolitan Club course in seven-under-par 67 Thursday. Kel Nagle and Len Woodward, both of Australia, were in the runner-up spot with 69s.

Bucks Face Toughie in Gruver

District action will abound for area schools tonight with eight league games on the schedule.

White Deer and Gruver will battle for the top spot in District 1-A and the winner has a good chance of winning the conference championship.

Both stand 2-0 in the district and Gruver is 2-0 for the season and White Deer, 4-3. The pair play in Gruver.

In other District 1-A games Canadian shoots for its first conference win at San-Fritch and Stratford and Sunray meet in Sunray.

Freedom of choice. What Amendment is that?

- The 14th Amendment.
- The 18th Amendment.
- The 2nd Amendment.
- The 23rd Amendment.

It's not an amendment. It's not even in the Bill of Rights. But freedom of choice is a right.

Yet some Americans think that a wide choice isn't necessary. That competition has gotten out of hand. That there are too many brands. Too many flavors. Too many colors.

Isn't that an interesting theory?

Wasn't it freedom of choice that made America what it is today? The richest nation in the world.

The richest nation because you can choose between orange or blue or green or yellow or brown or red. Or peppermint or pineapple or vanilla. Or you name it.

That's what freedom of choice is all about. Think about that, next time you shop.

Be choosy.

You've got a right.

Television In Review

By RICK DU BROW
HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Television viewers have surely noticed the excellence of the home screen's anti-cigarette commercials.

But no one thus far has summarized their effectiveness as well as Carroll Carroll, the witty and knowledgeable resident expert on television advertising and commercials for the weekly trade paper, "Variety."

In a superbly informal and incisive article, the kind that "Variety" is famous for, Carroll writes this week:

"The public service anti-cigarette commercials grow better and better while the butts plugs, coming one after the other in rapid succession, grow less and less convincing."

Carroll notes that "the odds are, by agreement, 3-1 in favor of the (tobacco) industry. Three cigarette spots for every warning. How come? Well, when both sides sat down with the FCC and TV management to hammer out a schedule that would allow everybody to make money and save face, an attorney for the FCC, when asked what he thought would be a fair formula for TV to follow in running the anti-cigarette burbs, ad libbed the 3-1 ratio and the industry grabbed it."

Among the effective anti-smoking ads that Carroll cites is the one "that opens (and closes) an a man standing with a cigarette in his hand. He looks at it thoughtfully, then at you, and says, 'Have you ever thought what happens to you when you light a cigarette?' (PAUSE) We have you ever thing you see in the logo for the American Heart Association."

Notes Trivial Approach
Carroll is deadily in singling out the trivial approach of cigarette ads as opposed to the gut-hitting anti-smoking commercials. For example, after observing that "Winston gives you the hot tip that 'it tastes good like a cigarette should,'" the article continues:

"In answer to all this the Cancer Society and Heart Association go right on socking it to you about what goes on your guts while you enjoy a smoke that's one silly millimeter longer, walk a mile for a Camel, or become a chainsmoker because you asked the man next door if he saved Raleigh coupons and he said, 'That's how I got my new wife.'"

It is worth it to get the latest issue of "Variety" just to read the Carroll article—and to pass it around. Carroll is everything a critic should be: intelligent, entertaining, insouciant, a bit of a crusader—and a harpist to be reckoned with.

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI)—When our forefathers brought forth free elections on this continent, they assumed this huge turnout automatically assure would turn out at the polls.

The theory was that, human nature being what it is, very few people would pass up anything free.
As we now know, however, it hasn't worked out that way. The percentage of registered voters who bother to exercise their franchise in any given election will likely be disappointing. Particularly to the losers.

Various civic groups have tried to overcome lassitude in the electorate by conducting "get out the vote" campaigns. To an increasing extent, they are being joined by public-spirited businesses.
While these appeals may account for a modest boost in the vote total, it is apparent that mere persuasion isn't strong enough to wipe out election day languor.
What is needed is something more forceful—short of marching the voters to the polls at gunpoint.

It may be that the Society American Florists has hit upon the answer to the problem. It is sponsoring a program under which poses will be given away to persons who visit the polling booths Nov. 5.
I'm not suggesting the flower power alone can conquer voter apathy. But some kind of give-away program might do it.

The key to motivating people to cast their ballots is to promise them something in return. Something more tangible than campaign promises.
One sure way to enlarge the turnout would be to hand out trading stamps along with the ballots.
Or, in places where voting machines are used, a voter would push the levers and if he happened to hit the right combination the machine would pay off like a slot machine.
But I believe the biggest inducement to voting would be a variation of the gasoline station game.

When a voter registers, he receives a card bearing one half of a portrait of a former U.S. president. When he votes, he receives another card.
If the two cards match to form a complete portrait, the voter wins a prize. Like maybe a pop poster of Millard Fillmore in psychedelic colors.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—E.F. Hutton & Co. notes that the market's decline early this week was the broadest in more than 12 weeks, but that "most issues gave ground grudgingly and losses were generally quite small." Furthermore, the firm points out, the "lack of urgency to sell was shown by the fact that volume was the lowest for any session in over a month." The company believes current market irregularity can be ascribed to "a lack of any positive Vietnam peace developments and some pre-election caution."

Scheinman Timing Forecasts wonders whether the market may not be forecasting a Hubert Humphrey victory. The firm notes that "almost always during the 20th Century a higher stock market before Election Day has resulted in the return to power of the incumbent party." Investors should take seriously into account the strength shown by the Dow Jones Industrials since August at a time when "the glamour-growth contingent steadily continues to deteriorate." The analyst adds "in most cases where the market was strong prior to the election a major break followed within one year."

Thomson & McKinnon observes that the "absence of a breakthrough in Vietnam peace negotiations brought some precautionary selling into the stock market last week, but the steep uptrend in existence for the last 11 weeks remains unbroken." Odd-lot selling, the firm notes, "continues to be unusually heavy and not at all indicative of a top area."

Price Discusses Vietnam Conflict

AMARILLO (Sp1)—Congressman Bob Price told members and guests of the Amarillo Conservative Club this noon that "We must understand that Vietnam is but one isolated conflict between atheistic Communism and freedom and we should let no one think that we will have peace because of a bombing lull or negotiated withdrawal."

"It is unthinkable," he said, "that this country should retreat on any front when so much is at stake. We are committed, as we have always been, to preventing the Communist domination of the world, and the only thing that has kept this country free is its military strength, and those who advise retreat or disarmament as a means of obtaining peace are simply suggesting, whether they mean to or not, that we give up our freedom."

Price said that it is necessary to recognize and understand the conflict in Vietnam for what it is: the continuing struggle in which we have been engaged since the end of World War II. He said the infiltration and invasion of South Vietnam followed the usual communist pattern of intimidation, murder, subversion, terrorism, and coercion under the propaganda umbrella of "liberation from imperialism."

"Freedom or the right of self-determination for the countries Russia took over after World War II, such as Hungary, Latvia, Lithuania, Estonia, Rumania, Poland, East Germany and Czechoslovakia is a mockery of their so-called 'Peoples' Democracy.'"

"We allow these countries to remain captive because we won't move," Price said. "When the freedom loving people of Czechoslovakia rose up recently, we only sent a strong letter of protest."

The Congressman warned that it is time that Americans stopped allowing the world to consider the United States as a rich and gullible nation and to commence to make other nations respect us for what this country stands for.

"We must make it clear," he said, "that our country intends to remain free, and we welcome the help of those who also cherish their freedom, but we have no use for anyone or any country that uses us while aiding the forces that would destroy our freedom."

The Almanac
By United Press International
Today is Friday, Nov. 1, the 306th day of 1968 with 60 to follow.

The moon is between its first quarter and full phase.
The morning stars are Mercury, Mars and Jupiter.
The evening stars are Saturn and Venus.

On this day in history:
In 1864 the Post Office Department introduced the money order system.
In 1918 the Hapsburg monarchy of Austria-Hungary was dissolved. Budapest became the capital of the Hungarian Republic and Vienna the capital of Austria.
In 1961 Premier Castro ruled that international bodies could not check to see if Soviet missiles had been removed from Cuba.

Foreign News Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst
Japan is beginning to worry about the shock to her economy when peace comes to Vietnam.

The war is estimated to have benefited Japan by an estimated $600 million annually in U.S. offshor. procurement during the last few years, and the Japanese are wondering how to replace it.

The worry lends special significance to the resignation of Japanese Foreign Minister Takeo Miki and his decision to challenge the leadership of Prime Minister Eisaku Sato at the Nov. 27 convention of the ruling Liberal-Democratic party.

Miki, a former minister of International Trade and Industry, favors closer ties with the Communist world.

Sato also is expected to be a candidate to lead the party for the next two years.

U.S. Best Customer
Whoever wins it, no basic change is expected in the close alignment with the United States, Japan's best customer and, by treaty and Japan's no-war constitution, its protector.

Nonetheless, as Japan's gross national product has leaped forward by some 10 per cent per year and as it has become the third most powerful industrial nation behind the United States and Russia, competition between the two has produced increasing strains.

President Johnson's March 31 announcement that he would not seek re-election and would devote all his time to a search for peace in Vietnam lent strength within Sato's own party to opponents to Sato's adherence to Washington's stiff line against Red China.

The Soviet Union and Japan in March, 1967, provided for a total trade in that year of $487 million. For Japan it meant a 20 per cent increase in exports to the Soviets.

Exclusive of the Soviet Union, Japan's trade with East European countries in 1966 hit $108 million, 36 per cent higher than 1965.

In August of this year, a Japanese trade mission signed a $100 million trade agreement with Red China.

Food Buying Guide

The following guide to the nation's food buys for the weekend was prepared by the Departments of Agriculture and Interior for United Press International.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—U.S. DA's Consumer and Marketing Service reports that weekend supplies of meat and poultry and good supplies of certain fresh vegetables and fruit in food stores and supermarkets.

Supplies of broiler-fryer chickens and turkeys should be more than adequate to meet the selections of all shoppers. Beef roasts and steaks and ground beef continue in excellent supply. Pork features include nearly all the pork items offered: bacon, Boston butts, chops, ham, roasts, smoked picnics, as well as sausage and spareribs in some areas. Fish buys to watch for are canned pink salmon and fresh fish fillets and steaks, according to the U.S. Department of the Interior.

Fresh vegetables in good supply in all areas are cabbage, carrots, cauliflower, lettuce, onions and potatoes. Apples abundantly available fruits.

H. K. Wilcox produced the first mechanical player piano in Meriden, Conn., in 1895.
