Fire Chief Finace Dyer said the low limbs were especially hazardous to fire truck drivers.

School Board Hires Five New Teachers

By WANDA HUFF
Pampa News Staff Writer

Pampa School Board today approved one teacher resignation and employment of five others to make a complete staff for Pampa schools.

After the board meeting, the first in Carver Educational Services Center, the board toured the center's facilities and stopped for entertainment—to listen to a recording of the "Harper Valley P.T.A." The record is a "take-off" on Parent-Teacher Association meetings. Dr. James F. Malone, superintendent, said.

The board accepted Bill Brown's resignation as physical education teacher at Lamar Elementary School, and employed one high school teacher, one at Lee Junior High School and three elementary school teachers.

Donald Cole was employed to teach Pampa High School auto mechanics with a background of 24 years experience in owning and operating an automobile shop. His employment was approved by the Texas Education Agency, Dr. Malone said.

Mrs. Stanley Friend was employed as teacher at Sam Houston Elementary School and to work partially as a special education coordinator.

Mrs. Friend has a B. A. from Hiram College, Hiram, Ohio.

The new fourth grade teacher at Baker Elementary School is Mrs. John Holloway, who has a B. S. degree from Texas Tech, with a major in elementary education and minor in history.

Mrs. Price Smith will teach PESO (Panhandle Educational Services Association) reading classes and speech therapy at Austin Elementary School.

Mrs. Roy Sparkman, the new science teacher for Lee Junior High School, has a masters in education from North Texas State University, with a major in elementary and secondary education and minor in chemistry and English, with 13 years teaching experience.

The board also submitted in the school record the 1968-79 budget of $3,342,111 which was approved Aug. 29 in an open public meeting.

In his superintendent's report Dr. Malone suggested all board members attend the 1968 annual convention of Texas Association of School Administrators and Texas Association of School Board in Austin Sept. 29 and 30. The board agreed to go, primarily to hear the governor's committee report on education in Texas.

It was also announced the board, teachers, and administrators and their wives are invited to the annual reception for school personnel at 6:30 p.m. Sept. 23 in Central Park. The annual social is sponsored by Pampa Chamber of Commerce. Dr. Malone also stated the official accreditation visit to Pampa (See SCHOOL, Page 3)

By Political Groups 5 State Conventions Are Slated in Texas

By DAVID ANDERSON
United Press International

Angry political splinter groups threaten to steal the show from the traditional parties this weekend when the state political conventions open.

This year there will be five conventions. Normally there are only two—the Democrats and Republicans.

Disgruntled supporters of Sen. Eugene McCarthy plan to form a new party, called "the New Party," Saturday in Austin. They plan a write-in campaign for McCarthy.

Another group of liberals, determined to stay within the Democratic party, also will meet in Austin Saturday to plan a long-range effort to win control of the party.

American Party

And George Wallace's American Party, which has all of the other groups worried, will hold its convention in Dallas Tuesday.

The regular Democratic convention will be Tuesday in Austin, with preliminaries beginning Monday.

The Republican convention will be in Fort Worth, with platform hearings to begin Saturday in preparation for the convention Tuesday.

GOP Vice Presidential Nominee Spiro T. Agnew is scheduled to speak to the Republicans and Wallace is expected to speak at the American Party convention.

The Democrats did not invite their national candidates. The party's gubernatorial candidate traditionally runs the show at the September convention, and the nominee, Lt. Gov. Preston Smith, is avoiding any association with the national ticket, although he says he supports it.

More Entertainment

State Democratic Chairman Will D. Davis said there will be more entertainment than speech-making at the Democratic convention.

Smith has said he wants the party's state platform to be based on the results of a questionnaire he sent to all delegates and wants it to be (See TEXAS, Page 3)

Commissioners Reject Plan

By JEFF HOLLADAY
Pampa News Staff Writer

County commissioners today rejected a motion proposed by County Judge S. R. Lenning Jr. that they undertake a study to "determine the economic and practical aspects of combining all county-owned equipment and all county personnel into one centralized location."

The motion was made by Judge Lenning and seconded by Commissioner Joe K. Clarke, but commissioners Clyde Organ, James McCracken and Truitt Johnson voted against the proposal.

McCracken, Johnson and Organ said they felt consolidation would "curtail service and be more expensive in the long run."

Earlier, Judge Lenning had said in an interview with the Pampa News that Gray County could save an estimated $150,000 a year by consolidating its present four county precinct bars into one coordinated unit.

He declared that the present system of buying enough equipment and machinery for each precinct's needs "results in needless duplication and waste."

"Instead of buying more equipment, I believe we ought to use what we have more efficiently," he said.

Judge Lenning pointed out that under the present system, each precinct must have sufficient machinery and equipment to handle practically all of its responsibilities within that precinct.

But he said that consolidation would allow the county to have one machinery and equipment pool used by all the four precincts.

Judge Lenning had previously indicated he would resolve the issue in a special county referendum election if the commissioners refused to approve the consolidation plan.

Lenning said he hopes to initiate a salary increase and a pension plan for county employees if the county barn consolidation plan is approved.

The judge said that all three plans are a "necessity for progressive county government."

He said it was "especially important that county employees get a pay raise because of the upcoming social security tax increase." He has tentatively (See REJECT, Page 3)

Idle City Funds Earn Dividends For Pampa

Anticipated interest earnings on Pampa city funds invested while not in use during the fiscal year ending Sept. 30 this year will total approximately $141,243, according to a report compiled by City Secretary Stanley M. Chittenden.

Attention to the increased savings to taxpayers also was pointed out today in City Manager Charles Hill's monthly report to Mayor Jim Nation and city commissioners.

Chittenden's report shows that in the last three years interest on temporarily idle city funds has amounted to $312,700. All of the investments were made in bank certificates of deposit or U. S. Treasury Bills.

An additional report by the U. S. Finance Officers Association, in which Chittenden represents Pampa as a member, states that the Pampa city secretary has kept 99 per cent of all idle funds invested.

City Manager Hill stated that "in comparison to the $141,000 earned in 1968, approximately $83,000 was earned in 1967, some $49,000 in 1966 and $38,000 in 1965."

The report continued: "Approximately $25,000 of the total interest earned for the 1967-68 fiscal year resulted from the investment of General Fund monies in short-term notes. All funds not spent from the 1968 bond program realized an interest earning of some $96,000 during the same period.

"The remaining interest earnings came from those funds which are required to be placed in the interest and sinking fund but are not required to be spent until the latter portion of the year. This resulted in $20,000 earnings from that fund."

The city manager had a word of praise for the city secretary who also is the city's treasurer.

"By keeping these funds working in this manner, the taxpayers receive more services at less cost," Hill said.

Three Children's Plays Scheduled By Pampa Fine Arts Association

The Pampa Fine Arts Association has announced that it will sponsor three children's plays during this school year, all performances to be held in the Robert E. Lee Junior High Auditorium.

Mrs. Elbert (Jewell) Walker, chairman of the organization's theatre arts division, said the plays will be produced by the National Children's Theatre of New York and Dallas and performed by professional adult actors. The plays are designed especially to appeal to pre-school-age children up through the sixth grade.

A season ticket to all three plays will cost $1.50. Ticket sales will start about the middle of November. Mrs. Walker said.

The three plays include "Toby

Tyler," one of the best-loved pieces in classic literature for the young; "Sleeping Beauty," the long-time favorite of youngsters; and "Dick Whittington and His Cat," about one of the most famous legends in English history.

Parents will be invited to attend the plays with their children with ticket prices to be the same for adults as for children. Single-admission tickets for either children or adults will cost 75 cents at the door, only if seats are available.

Each play will last approximately one hour and 15 minutes with no intermission. The time for the performances will be announced later.

The shows will be staged Dec. 4, "Toby Tyler"; Feb. 19, 1969, "Sleeping Beauty"; and April 23, 1969, "Dick Whittington and His Cat."

But Will Campaign For Him Barnes Rejects Humphrey Campaign Post

AUSTIN (UPI)—Ben Barnes, Texas House speaker running for lieutenant governor, said Wednesday he declined Vice President Hubert Humphrey's invitation to manage his Texas presidential campaign.

But Barnes said he would campaign for Humphrey.

Barnes said at a news conference, formally opening his state campaign, he told Humphrey he was "concerned" about the Democratic Party's national ticket chances in Texas.

Humphrey's request was made Tuesday while he campaigned in Houston.

"I told him that due to the fact that I am a candidate for office myself, I felt it was not in his best interest or in my best interest for me to be his statewide campaign manager," Barnes said. "He agreed."

Barnes was the highest ranking state Democrat to appear with Humphrey.

Gov. John Connally did not go to Houston, and gubernatorial candidate Lt. Gov. Preston Smith was in Houston Tuesday night and Wednesday but did not appear with Humphrey.

Barnes said Humphrey asked him if there were any significant changes in Connally's absence, and Barnes "told him 'No, there was not.'"

Barnes said he had no indication that Connally was not going to support the national ticket.

The governor's office said Connally was busy with "personal matters" he could not get out of, but declined to say where he was. Connally was not in Austin.

Barnes said his own campaign would be "vigorous," with emphasis on metropolitan areas.

"I am hopeful that my efforts in the cities will be helpful to all the Democratic candidates," he said. "I think the metropolitan areas are where the Democrats face the greatest difficulty this year."

Barnes said he told Humphrey that former Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace would get many normally Democratic votes in Texas.

"I told him he couldn't assume that the strength Wallace seems to have today are votes that normally would go Republican," Barnes said.

Barnes, who urged Humphrey previously at least twice to take a strong stand on law and order, said that if such a position were not taken Democrats "are going to lose many votes not only to George Wallace (See BARNES, Page 3)

Soviet Army Is Leaving Czech Cities

Humphrey Campaign Gets Snub

By United Press International

Hubert H. Humphrey's presidential campaign, which so far has stirred only a tepid response in his stumping across the country, is drawing an equally unenthusiastic response from top Democrats in some key states despite his personal appearances in those areas.

He moved into Louisiana with his catch-up campaign Wednesday and once again was snubbed by the top party leader in the state where he was visiting.

Gov. John McKeithen failed to greet him on his arrival at New Orleans and fewer than a dozen supporters showed up at the airport. Earlier, Texas Gov. John Connally had ignored the vice president's trip to Houston and California's powerful House Speaker Jesse Unruh snubbed him the day before.

Meanwhile, Humphrey's campaign was the target for boisterous antiwar protests. Humphrey was almost drowned out by the shout of antiwar demonstrators in Flint, Mich. Wednesday as he pleaded for the right to free speech and peaceful assembly.

N. Koreans Report 'Conference' By Crew

By ALBERT E. KAFF
TOKYO (UPI)—The commander of the USS Pueblo told a news conference in North Korea today the United States should accept responsibility for his ship spying in Communist waters.

The North Korea Central News Agency broadcast monitored in Tokyo said U.S. Navy Cmdr. Lloyd Mark Bucher admitted the Pueblo was on a spying mission in North Korean waters when Communist "Captain Bucher said that the United States government which ordered the soldiers to conduct espionage activities has moral responsibility and added that the eight months since their detention was a period long enough to take measures for their repatriation," the broadcast said.

First Appearance

North Korea said Bucher and 20 of his 82 crewmen appeared before newsmen and officials from 13 Asian, European and African nations, their first announced public appearance before anyone other than North Korean newsmen.

Communist propaganda organs such as the Soviet news agency Tass and the Polish news agency Pab carried accounts of the news conference, emphasizing the spy angle.

The Communist broadcast renewed the call for the United States to apologize for the intrusion as a first step for the release of the ship and its crew. It said the sailors were living "very well, thanks to the leniency" of North Korea.

The agency said Bucher "stressed that many of the crewmen, as men of 20 years old or so, knowing no bitterness and sweets of life, have less responsibility, but the United States government should accept its responsibility.

"He stressed that he sincerely wished their situation would come to a happy end."

Bucher's remarks concerning the United States accepting responsibility came at the end of the news conference, North Korea said. It broadcast its version of the meeting in two parts six hours apart.

Admits Mission

Reds Are Trapped In Hamlet

By JACK WALSH
SAIGON (UPI)—South Vietnamese infantrymen and jet fighters today drove the bulk of a 1,000-man Communist force out of Tay Ninh City suburbs and then fought a vicious battle with 150 guerrillas trapped in one hamlet.

UPI correspondent Nat Gibson reported from Tay Ninh, the Cambodian border city 50 miles northwest of Saigon under attack since early Wednesday, that remnants of the Communist force were pinned inside Thai Thong hamlet on the southern edge of the city.

Gibson said South Vietnamese troops and U.S. infantry poured withering cross-fire into the trapped Communist positions while U.S. jet fighters and artillery pounded the hamlet from overhead.

Communist troops ambushed an allied convoy 10 miles south of Tay Ninh, killing one American soldier and wounding five. U.S. spokesmen said the Americans killed 14 Viet Cong in the attack.

In Saigon U.S. headquarters reported American battlefield deaths in Vietnam decreased sharply last week—from 408 the previous week to 195. The number of GIs wounded fell from 2,513 to 1,400.

The sharp drop-off in casualties reflected a low level of hostilities throughout South Vietnam last week. Typhoon Bess brought the war to a standstill in the usually volatile northern war zone.

Red Losses Down

Communist losses dropped accordingly. U.S. spokesmen said 1,864 guerrillas were slain last week, compared with 5,292 the week before that.

South Vietnamese headquarters said 375 government soldiers died and 1,081 suffered wounds last week.

At the same time, the announcement said that U.S. troop strength in Vietnam had dropped by 2,000 last week to 535,000. Many of these were men on leave and sent to hospitals in the United States for treatment of wounds, the spokesmen said.

UPI correspondent Nat Gibson reported from Tay Ninh that South Vietnamese troops (See REDS, Page 1)

1968 CONGRESSMAN
1968 DISTRICT, TEXAS

In the aftermath of reaction to the demonstrations, disorder and violence during the two National Conventions, the Washington Star carried a front page story of a Texas Negro couple that was like an April shower after the stench of hippy dissension in Chicago and riots in Miami.

David and Beatrice Neal of Moody, have over the past 38 years raised some 50 youngsters—only one was their own—on their 78 acre Central Texas farm. These were homeless children, some whose mothers just couldn't take care of them, several orphans, and others who were court wards from broken homes.

Garnett D. Horner of the Star staff visited the Neals and says that by government definition, the family would be close to the poverty line, "but you'd never guess it from their approach to life." These adopted children, the story continued, learned of warm friendly love, of such old-fashioned virtues as always to be honest— with themselves as well as with others. And they've learned to work for what they expect to get in the world.

Neal has a simple credo—"I've found out through life that if a fellow is trying to do the right thing he'll get by."

Now 68 years old, Neal is proud of the fact that he never has accepted a dime from any official agency to help raise what he calls his "pickup" children.

Eleven of them are at home now. They range in age from 4-year-old Lawrence to 18-year-old Quince — nicknamed "Bubber" — the one child the Neals ever had of their own.

A visitor is impressed at once at seeing so many kids so well-mannered, so well disciplined and at the same time so full of life.

Sitting in a rocker on her shady porch, Mrs. Neal tells how she is about to take in another youngster—a five-month-old boy whose mother has to work and can't take care of him.

"It would be kind of nice to have a baby around the house," she grins.

This Negro couple exhibits no race consciousness— neither false humility nor "black power" militancy.

"I don't care nothing about what color no kid is, or anybody else," says Neal.

"I do what I can for them. I was raised that way."

He has harsh words for anyone who doesn't want to work for a living. "You take lots of people—I can name you 50 right now, offhand. They'll go somewhere and get a job for 20 days, and then sit and draw compensation. And that's what is ruined the world."

The Neals' house is a patchwork affair. Many years ago Neal started it as a two-room house. But as he and his wife picked up children, he add-

Lettuce 'Cigarettes' Again On Market

DALLAS (UPI) — Bravo Smokes, Inc., producer of lettuce cigarettes, says that the word is now "Triumph," a new name for the non-nicotine "smoking product."

Bedford S. Wynne, general manager of Bravo Smokes, announced the new cigarettes went on the market today in South Texas and will reach other areas when production capacity at the Dallas plant is expanded in two to three months.

Bravo Smokes was organized in 1965. Wynne said the product has been changed to develop its taste and odor more like cigarettes "yet 100 per cent nicotine free."

ed to it. "Nothing fancy," concedes Neal. "But it's a home."

Neal is working now— for about $1.50 an hour—at a grain elevator about a mile up the road. In the Fall, he says he will work at the cotton gin. Then he will make the rounds of stock shows in Central Texas, caring for horses.

The Neals raise most of their own food on their 78-acre Central Texas farm. Each spring they raise up to 500 frying chickens. They raise and slaughter their own beef and pork. They have two milk cows and a garden in which they grow their own vegetables.

So in the face of the sickening immaturity displayed by the "new-left" dissenters and the angry urging to insurrection by the black militants, the story of the Neals lights a new ray of hope for the rule of reason in America.

Up From the Deep

To bring deep-water fish to the surface alive is a problem because fish, like men, actually get the "bends" from being brought up too fast. California's Marineland of the Pacific found a solution through the use of a decompression chamber. Specimens taken at depths below 300 feet have been brought up successfully. At right, crewmen swing the fish decompression chamber over the side for lowering to the ocean floor where divers, below, fill it with rare denizens of the deep. After filling, chamber is sealed and hoisted aboard ship where fish will be programmed according to standard Navy decompression table for men. Fish are removed from chamber, bottom right, after they have been brought gradually to surface pressure.

Burglaries, Shoplifting Are Reported

Three burglaries, car vandalism, a "family night" and a shoplifting case dominated local police news today.

Three businesses were broken into sometime between 5:30 p.m. yesterday and 7 a.m. today. Nothing was apparently taken from any of the businesses.

Rudy's Automotive Repair, at 823 W. Kingsmill, and Killian's Garage, 115 N. Ward, were both entered "after an unknown person removed a rear window at both places. Warner's Janitor Supply, 112 N. Ward, was entered after an unknown person sprung the lock on the front door.

Police have theorized the same person is responsible for all three burglaries.

Charles Chafin, 533 Doyle, reported his daughter's car was vandalized sometime yesterday while it was parked on a vacant lot at Harvester and Charles.

Someone removed the radio knobs, cut a hole in the rear seat, pulled up the carpet on the rear floor board, broke out the right tail light and pulled off the plug wires. Police estimated the damage at $15.

Irvin-Gall Solomon, 18, 622 S. Somerville, was charged yesterday with shoplifting. According to the police report, the charge was filed by Duckwall's in Coronado Center. Total value of the items said taken was $10.16.

She was arraigned before Justice of the Peace E. L. Anderson. Bond was set at $500.

Police were called to a local lounge last night to investigate a fight. When the investigating officers arrived, they discovered a man trying to push his sister out of the lounge.

According to another woman, the same man had earlier hit her husband. The husband had left; he was later picked up for driving without a driver's license. The woman also reported someone had pulled the wires on her car.

She told police the whole affair was "an old family fight." No charges were filed.

Dog Honored For Saving Boy's Life

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Ringo, a mongrel dog from Eulless, Tex., was honored as "America's Dog Hero of the Year" Wednesday night for saving the life of a young boy.

The Ken-L Ration gold medal was slipped around Ringo's neck by Air Force Maj. Gen. P. York in ceremonies following a banquet at the Century Plaza Hotel.

The mixed-breed animal was led to the podium by the boy whose life he saved, Randy Saleh.

Randy was 2½ last April 30 when he slipped away from his home with Ringo, his constant companion. A two-hour search of the area failed to turn up a trace of the boy and his dog.

A mile away on a winding stretch of highway, motorists were brought to a halt by a fierce dog who appeared in the roadway in front of them.

After each car halted, Ringo raced back around a blind curve to where Randy was playing in the roadway. Finally, a line of 40 cars was backed up and one of the drivers walked to the head of the line to investigate. Ignoring warnings of "mad dog ahead," he rounded the curve to find Randy playing in the center of the road guarded by the dog. When the man picked up Randy and carried him to the shoulder of the road, the dog allowed the line of cars to proceed.

Underwriters Set Outing For Retarded

Members of the Top O' Texas Life Underwriters Association will take a bus load of mentally retarded children to Palo Duro Canyon Saturday for an all-day outing and picnic.

Garland Davis, vice president of the organization, said the bus will be loading at 8 a.m. Saturday at Coronado Center. He added that efforts had been made to contact the parents of all qualified children in the community but that anyone who was not contacted would be welcome to bring their children to Coronado Center Saturday and send them along on the trip.

The Underwriters' association, made up of members from Pampa, Borger and surrounding towns, has made the outing for the retarded children an annual event. A bus load from Borger is also expected to attend the outing.

Crusade Is Underway At Local Church

Crusade services are being conducted this week at Central Baptist Church by Dr. C. A. Roberts, professor of philosophy and religion at Stephen F. Austin State College. Services will continue through Sunday.

Henry Crawford, recording artist and former minister of music at Central Baptist, is conducting the music program. Crawford and the Crusade Choir are presenting special music in each service.

Dr. Roberts in 1967 was president of the Pastor's Conference of the Southern Baptist Convention, a group of 35,000 ministers representing 11 million Southern Baptists.

He has been the principal speaker at both national assemblies of Southern Baptists at Gorieta Baptist Assembly and Ridgecrest Baptist Assembly. He has conducted a number of preaching engagements in foreign countries, including Brazil and Japan.

Dr. Roberts is the author of several books and publications, including "Letters on Christian Living," "This Way to the Cross," "A Life Worth Living," and Sunday School literature.

Well equipped and staffed nurseries are open for every service, according to T. O. Upshaw, pastor.

He also said the entire crew had confessed to this effect, the broadcast said.

The Communists did not disclose where the press conference was held, although the broadcast was from Pyongyang, the North Korean capital. The commentator said he was reporting from "on the spot."

North Korean gunboats seized the Pueblo off North Korea Jan. 23, killing one U.S. Navy sailor in the process.

The Pyongyang report said representatives of the American newspaper Guardian attended the news conference. The newspaper was not otherwise identified.

Speculation peaked early this week the Communists were ready to release the Pueblo crew once the United States apologized for the alleged intrusion into North Korean waters.

But then U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk said more than an apology was involved, and hopes dimmed for the release of the men.

PATROL BORDER WARSAW (UPI)—The chairman of the Polish Trade Unions said Tuesday, Warsaw Pact troops must be garrisoned along the Czechoslovakian border with West Germany for the security of Czechoslovakia and peace in Europe.

Man Talked Out Of Plane 'Skynapping'

MONTREAL (UPI)—Ten minutes out of Saint John, N.B., Charles Laverne Beasley pointed his .22 revolver at airline stewardess Beverly Atkinson and said: "Take me to your pilot." The stewardess, who never lost her poise, did as she was told, pausing only long enough to ask the man to "kindly take the gun out of my neck."

Once inside the cockpit of the Air Canada four-engine turboprop Viscount, the six-foot two-inch Negro asked that he be flown to Cuba or be given sanctuary in Canada. He said the CIA in the United States wanted him for "black power" activities.

Actually, he is wanted in Texas for a bank robbery at Ladonia.

Beasley, of Dallas, never made it to Cuba Wednesday. The pilot, Capt. R. G. Hollett of Toronto, told him the plane would have to land in Montreal to refuel.

On the ground at Montreal, Royal Canadian Mounted Police (RCMP) officials were able to convince the 22-year-old Texan that his request for political asylum would be granted if it was found to be justified under Canadian law.

Beasley agreed to surrender and peacefully handed his revolver over to Hollett who had been reassuring him that he would be better off in the hands of Canadian officials rather than Cubans.

Today, Beasley faced a variety of criminal charges stemming from his abortive attempt to bring off Canada's first known airline hijacking.

Woman Is Injured In Auto Mishap

Mrs. Clara Louise Blonkvist, 612 N. Somerville, was listed in good condition today at Highland General Hospital with injuries received in an accident shortly before noon yesterday.

According to the police report, the car driven by Mrs. Blonkvist was traveling north on Charles when it was struck by a pickup driven by Rodney Earl Darden, 725 W. Wilks, going west on Harvester.

The pickup reportedly struck the car on the right front and fender. The car was knocked upon the curb into a stop sign. The car had $550 damage; the pickup, $350.

Darden was charged with exceeding a safe and prudent speed in a school zone.

"Captain Lloyd Mark Bucher said that the Pueblo, as an armed spy ship of U.S. imperialism, had full technical equipment for espionage activities and intruded several times into the territorial waters of the Democratic People's Republic of Korea to commit espionage activities," the news agency said.

The opening statement attributed to Bucher was no different than those made in earlier Communist broadcasts of statements and letters attributed to the Pueblo crewmen.

"He also said the entire crew had confessed to this effect," the broadcast said.

The Communists did not disclose where the press conference was held, although the broadcast was from Pyongyang, the North Korean capital. The commentator said he was reporting from "on the spot."

Reds

(Continued From Page 1) met little resistance in their final push through hamlets and residential blocks south, east and west of the city held about 30 hours by the Communists.

Allied spokesmen believed most of the estimated 1,000 Communists who grabbed the suburban areas in a lightning-fast maneuver Wednesday morning had faded back toward their lairs across the border. Two battles were reported today at allied outposts between the city and the border.

Hide with Refugees Allied spokesmen also suspected some of the Communists dropped their arms and sneaked into a Cao Dai religious temple to mingle with refugees. A search was left to the Cao Dai priests.

In the Aug. 17-19 guerrilla assault at Tay Ninh, the Reds also tried to enter the temple and many were captured by the armed Cao Dai. The Communists lost more than 1,000 dead in the August fighting.

American officials in Saigon also reported today that a further decline in the U.S. commitment was expected in the weekly tally, which will include the departure of 700 men of the 27th Marine Regimental Landing Team this week for Hawaii and California.

The latest casualty figures showed 27,704 Americans have been killed and 173,189 wounded in Vietnam since Jan. 1, 1961. A total of 392,585 Communists have died in the same time.

Area School Okays Bid For Project

WHITE DEER (Sp.)—At the last business meeting of the local board, a bid of $15,436 was accepted from Panhandle Engineering & Contractors of Amarillo to build two new tennis courts complete with fence and lights for White Deer-Skellytown High School.

The school board accepted bids from four contractors ranging in price from near $16,000 to over $18,000.

Construction of the tennis courts is to begin immediately and is to be completed within eight weeks. The new courts will be located on the corner of the high school campus at 8th Ave. and Williston St.

The old courts will remain in use, as much as possible, Supt. Dorman Thomas stated.

Other business transacted by the board Tuesday included accepting the resignation of Mrs. Jean Allen, secretary of Skellytown Elementary School.

Mrs. Allen resigned to accept a position with Cabot Corp. of Pampa.

Supt. Thomas and John Banks, principal of Skellytown school, are currently in the process of selecting another secretary from a list of applicants.

Court Is Pushing Collections From Parking Violators

In his monthly report to the City Commission today, City Manager Charles Hill stated that less than 2 per cent of all overtime parking violations presently are being paid before becoming delinquent.

As a result, the city manager stated, Corporation Court is issuing warrants for violators who have not paid the $1 penalty and promises further action to insure compliance with the law.

The city manager's report also stated that more than 50 per cent of citizens contacted concerning abandoned motor vehicles on private property have removed them voluntarily.

The city will continue its program in this direction, Hill said, and it will also include vehicles standing abandoned on public rights-of-way.

The report points out that during the past month more than 30 new signs, painted in bright orange, have been installed by the city in Pampa school zones. He stated that city crews have painted and lined all school crossings.

The city manager said the decrease in city employ turnover in the last two months has reduced the average annual trend of 5.3 full time employees per month to approximately 4.6.

"However," Hill said, "should the present turnover rate continue, more than 50 full time employees will have left the city services, or one out of every four city employees would have left during the year."

Texas

The Republicans plan a detailed platform, and have scheduled hearings Saturday, Sunday and possibly Monday.

The American Party faces an internal squabble over John Birch Society influence within the party.

Several American Party leaders, including state chairman Bard Logan, are members of the Birch Society, and several area leaders have split with the state organization in protest of the Birch influence.

Joining Coalitions The "New Party" group, organized by Don Allford of Austin, and the dissenting liberal Democrats both seek to put together coalitions of Negroes, Mexican-Americans and anti-establishment Angles.

The "new party group" is made up almost entirely of former McCarthy workers. The dissenting Democrats are the group that walked out of the June state convention in Dallas and unsuccessfully challenged the Democratic regulars at the national convention. There is considerable overlap between the two groups.

Saturday's meetings could help determine which of these groups will become the dominant voice of Texas liberals.

While not predicting the outcome of future games, Coach Lee said that local fans could help the Harvesters cause by showing their loyalty, being of strong heart and displaying sportsmanship.

He also praised the newly-created Harvesters Booster Club which now has more than 800 members.

In other business, Travis Lively Sr. introduced a new member, Rex McAnelly, who is manager of the Moody Farms Feed Lot.

The 6-cent stamp will be issued with first day ceremonies Oct. 24 at Cleveland, Ohio.

Two wood ducks are shown in flight on the five-color stamp. The stamp recognizes the accomplishments of Ducks Unlimited, an organization that has spent nearly $15 million for waterfowl conservation. Scattered across the prairies are some 800 Ducks Unlimited projects involving roughly a million and a half acres. These are heavily populated with waterfowl.

Add Imagination, Variety to Menus With Nutritious Convenience Foods

NEW YORK (Sp) — How does a harassed homemaker prepare nutritious meals quickly and efficiently that have eye appeal and taste appeal too? The easiest way is to select a menu from the wide variety of convenience foods available in food stores and rely on dairy products to furnish flavor, and imagination to add flair.

Cheese and Chicken Shortcake can be put together quickly with such foods on hand as a canned chicken a la king, frozen waffles, and mellow brick cheese.

The dish itself is put together in layers. Hot waffles come first, then a layer of creamy brick cheese, and a generous spooning of chicken a la king. Repeat with a second waffle if you like to make a stacked sandwich.

CHEESE AND CHICKEN SHORTCAKE
4 Servings
2 cans (10 1/2 oz. each) chicken a la king
1/2 teaspoon instant minced onion.
8 frozen waffles
8 slices brick cheese, at room temperature
Pimiento

In a saucepan combine chicken and onion; heat over low heat to serving temperature. Meanwhile heat waffles according to package directions. Top each waffle with slice of cheese. To assemble shortcakes; place a cheese topped waffle on each plate and spoon on chicken; add second waffle and additional chicken. Garnish with pimiento strips.

This beef pot pie recipe calls for old standbys like canned beef stew, frozen mixed vegetables and pie crust mix. Cheddar cheese gives a new taste twist to the pie crust and to the stew, too.

Half the cheese is blended directly into the crust. The other half tops the stew and frozen vegetable combination to keep the filling moist and add yet more of its own sharp taste.

QUICK BEEF POT PIES
6 Tart pans of shallow casserole

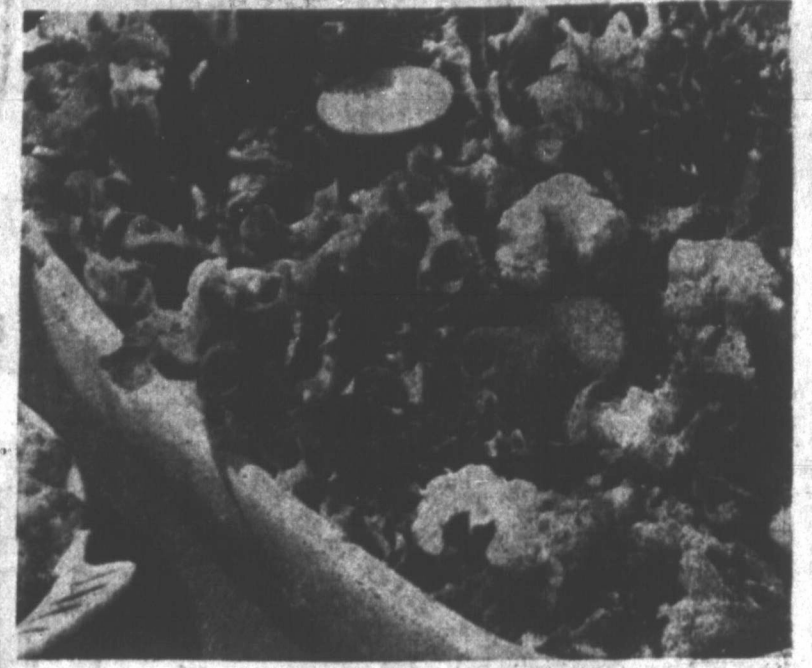

7-ounce
1 package pie crust mix
1 cup (4 oz.) shredded Cheddar cheese
1 can (1 1/2 lbs.) beef stew
1 package (10 oz.) frozen mixed vegetables, thawed
SPEEDY STROGANOFF
1 pound ground beef
1 can (10 1/2 oz.) condensed cream of vegetable soup
1 cup dairy sour cream
1 can (4 oz.) sliced mushrooms drained
Cooked buttered noodles or rice.

In a skillet brown ground beef, pour off excess drippings. In a bowl combine soup and sour cream; blend thoroughly. Add soup mixture and mushrooms to ground beef; heat to serving temperature. Serve immediately on noodles or rice.

The Story Of Ben Barnes Is A Story Of Success In Politics

By ROLAND LINDSEY
AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—They laughed when Ben Barnes said he wanted to run for the legislature. That was nine years ago, and Barnes was a 21-year-old farm boy, eager but awkward.

"I probably wouldn't have run if they hadn't laughed," Barnes said.

He did run, and he ran hard. He and his wife Martha—his childhood sweetheart—passed out 65,000 campaign cards in four West Texas counties around Brownwood, and he won.

At 26 he was elected speaker. Now, at 30, he is the Democratic nominee for lieutenant governor, and more: he is the emerging leader of the Lyndon Johnson-John Connally wing of the Texas Democratic party; he is a confidant of Vice President Hubert Humphrey; he is chairman of the National Legislative Conference.

His next goal is likely to be either the U. S. Senate or the governor's office.

Right Time
It is the success story of modern Texas politics, but the explanation Barnes gives is one that applies to every successful Texas politician—"intuition, luck, and being at the right place at the right time."

And youth.

"I came along at a time when no other young person was on the scene," Barnes said. "My age has been an asset rather than a liability."

In 1962 Barnes was serving in a special legislative session called by Gov. Price Daniel, who was seeking re-election, but Barnes' intuition told him John Connally was the man to watch. He sponsored a reception for Connally, and that led to a friendship which lifted Barnes out of obscurity.

Barnes was lucky—Connally was elected—and in 1963 he was in the right place at the right time: he became one of Connally's chief legislative allies.

In 1965, Barnes was in the right place again. Connally let Barnes know in advance of his plan to appoint Speaker Byron Tunnell to the Railroad Commission, and by the time the appointment was announced, Barnes had the speaker's race in the bag.

Barnes' closeness to Connally earned him the nickname "John's Boy Ben."

Burning Bush
But in two terms as house speaker, Barnes earned another nickname on his own: "The Burning Bush," a reference to the biblical bush from which Moses received his instructions from God.

He controlled the house so completely that hardly anything ever happened there except on instructions from "The Burning Bush."

Barnes always had the support of all but a handful of the 150 house members. "I never really had a close vote when I really wanted something passed," he said. "I was lucky as hell when I laid down that gavel."

It has been said that Barnes is not a true leader, but a genius at creating an impression of leadership.

"It doesn't matter what you're doing in politics as much as it matters that people think you know what you're doing," he said.

Vague Philosophy
His political philosophy is vague. "As a legislator, my voting record was considered conservative; now I think my views could be called progressive. Ten years ago I probably would have been called a liberal."

"I just want to make the states accept their responsibility. If that's liberal, then I don't mind the label."

He has not been noted for taking courageous stands on controversial issues, but he did vote with integrationists during his first legislative term despite strong segregationist sentiment in his district at that time.

"The rival key to successful survival in politics is to work on the problems and not worry about the labels," he said.

Non-Committal
Barnes is non-committal about his future. "I have no goals in mind," he said. "I never dreamed of holding high office or had any visions about being governor. I think the best thing I can do is try to be the best lieutenant governor I can be and let things take care of themselves."

But Barnes is a very young man and he does not intend to be lieutenant governor forever. "Even if you're lieutenant governor for 10 years, what have you done other than preside over the Senate?" he asks.

National office is not in Barnes' mind right now—the time is not right. "It'll be at least 15 or 20 years before anyone of any real national prominence emerges from Texas again," Barnes said.

By then the time might be right—and Ben Barnes will still be a relatively young man.

DOUBLE DUTY glasses promise to be a boon to wearers of prescription eyeglasses who carry an extra pair with dark lenses for outdoor use. These darken and clear automatically, over and over again, according to changes in light conditions. The new glasses, a development of Corning Glass Works, are darkened by ultraviolet light and are not affected by ordinary incandescent lighting.

Frustrated Bandit Returns Money

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (UPI)—A young bandit confronted by the angry daughter of his elderly victim reportedly became so flustered that he not only returned his loot but his own wallet, an additional $1.00 and what is believed to be a photograph of himself.

The young man had forced his way into the home of Mrs. George Laughlin, 76, who gave him the small amount of cash she had under the threat of death. The bandit fled just before Mrs. Laughlin's daughter, Mrs. Mary Telp, arrived.

When Mrs. Telp heard the holdup story, she became so enraged she set off after the bandit in her car and caught up with him a short way down the road. She hopped out of the car and demanded the money. The young man handed it over, along with his wallet with his picture and his money, and fled.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—Harris, Upham & Co. finds the summer rally "the fifth smallest in 70 years," but adds that the market "still has the month of September left to prove itself."

It will have some significance if the market can move above its July high during September because our studies show that, the longer the summer rallies last, the more confidence there is in the year-end outlook, the firm said.

Bache & Co. found some bullish enthusiasm generated by the possibility that a few recent cuts in prime rates of commercial banks may become more widespread.

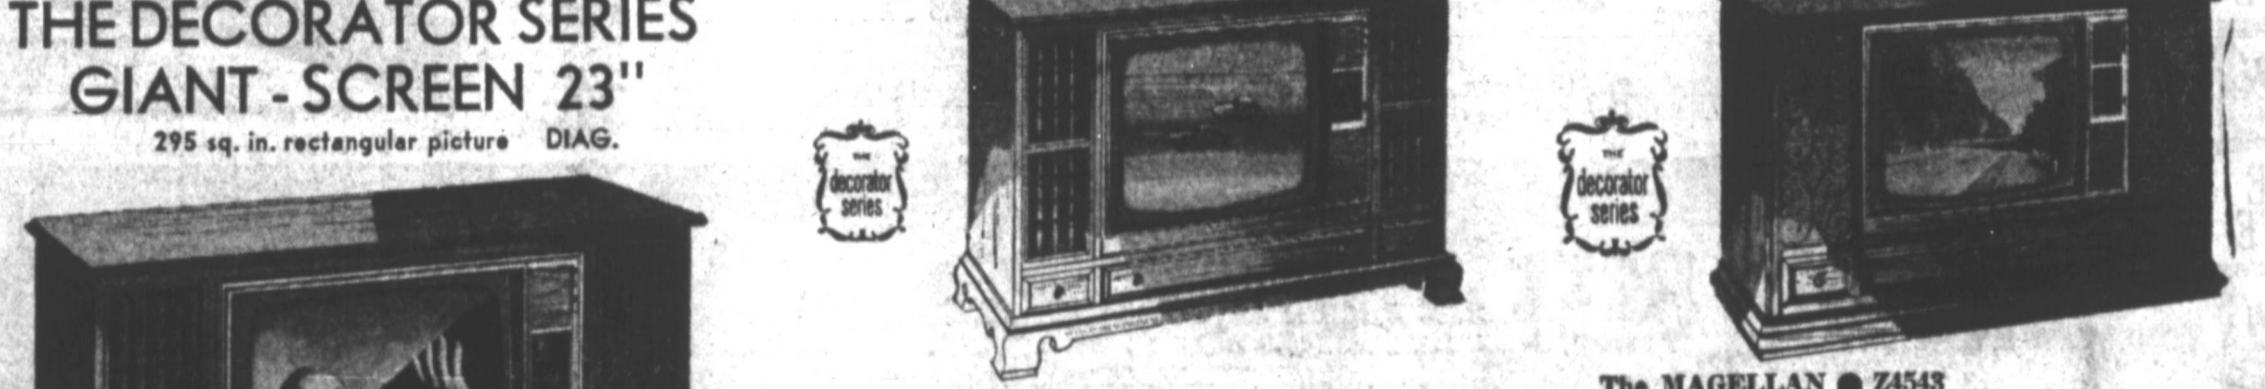

"From a fundamental standpoint, the market's message seems to revolve around the proposition that if economic conditions are not going to soften as severely as envisioned early this Summer, then some upward adjustment must be made," the firm said.

E.F. Hutton & Co. sees no sign as yet that "the current advancing phase is over" and maintains that the market "cannot be expected to move ahead on a daily basis."

You, Your Child and School

By DAVID NYDICK

Children first entering school have a whole new world before them. They are wildly curious and ready to discover many new activities, friends, etc. This is truly a growth time. Parents will be fascinated by the enthusiasm of their child's stories and conversations about their many new experiences.

Parents have been the center of the child's life up to this point. Their new job is to help the child widen his world. There will be a need for a great deal of support. This age child may be somewhat confused. He wants independence but he is not sure he wants to leave the security of being a baby. The parents should not be surprised if he wants to act self sufficient in front of others and demands help when others are not present. You can be most helpful by going along with his desires. He will need your reassurance especially at times when he fails to accomplish a task by himself. Let him know that all attempts do not have to be successful. He needn't be embarrassed or frustrated.

It is important for parents to realize their child's activities, difficulties, and attitudes are similar to other children of the same age. A five or six year old who has a toilet lapse is not unusual as long as the occurrence does not develop a regular pattern. What about temper tantrums, tears, and thumb sucking? Teachers can tell parents that these occur with many of their students even in the third grade. They happen less and less as the children develop and grow.

There are many pamphlets and books available from government and commercial sources which describe normal actions at various ages. Parents who have doubts should read these. Remember to be cautious. No child should be expected to conform to the exact standards of the average child described in these writings.

Safety is a major concern for children of this age. The inevitable bruises and scratches cannot be avoided. A broken bone is fairly common. Proper care after the accident should be stressed.

Careful and repeated instructions about crossing streets, bicycle riding, and other potentially dangerous activities are helpful but not the entire answer. In the heat of playing ball, children will dart out into the street. A fenced playground or other safe area are the best answers.

Some department stores around the country are betting that the itchy-bitsy mini skirt is out. Coeds aren't about to fall for many mid-calf lengths, but their skirts may be inching down slightly toward the knee.

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My mother died 2 years ago, and my father got married again last May. He married a very nice woman and I like her a whole lot, but Abby, I just can't call her "Mamma." I have tried, but when I do it makes me feel so bad I have to go away somewhere and cry alone. I loved my own mother so much, no one will ever be able to take her place. I have three younger brothers, and when I hear them call Daddy's new wife "Mamma," it hurts me so bad inside.

I don't have anything against this lady, but I just can't call her "Mamma." What should I do?

SAD 12-YEAR-OLD DEAR TWELVE: Your Daddy's new wife doesn't expect you to love her as you did your own mother, nor does she want you to "hurt inside." So just don't make comparisons, and don't feel guilty if you can't call her "Mamma." This woman has come into your home to make your Daddy happy and to help him raise his children. She must be a wonderful woman. Give her a chance.

DEAR ABBY: After a long, unhappy marriage which ended in divorce, I married a widower. He is a very successful small town merchant who is very much admired in his community and church. We are very happy, but there is my problem: I find that my husband pockets a part of each day's cash sales to avoid paying so much income tax.

How serious an offense is this, and what can happen to him if he is caught? I dare not ask anyone but you. Please answer in the paper and tell me what to do. I love him.

WORRIED DEAR WORRIED: This is a very serious offense, and if caught, he can be fined and sent to prison. So if you love this crook, tell him to keep his duke out of the cash register.

O. E. S. Chapter 65 To Serve Seniors

Pampa chapter No. 65, O.E.S. met recently in the Masonic Hall for a regular meeting. Mrs. Lorena McNaughton, Worthy matron, introduced John Shearer Miami, and Mrs. Mildred Pierce of Pampa. They are members of the Grand Chapter Committees "Founders' Day" and "Time and Talent."

A memorial tribute in song was given by the Worthy Matron Prelate Mrs. Cora Frazee. Mrs. Nadine Overstreet sang a memorial song accompanied by Mrs. Lucille Attaway.

John Shearer spoke on the Eastern Star home for the elderly located at Arlington and discussed past accomplishments and future projects of OES chapters to aid the home.

He stated projects are to provide a special room for crafts, provide a large deep fry for hot foods and to add sewing rooms in the home.

"The aim was to provide physical, mental, spiritual, and social therapy for the members of the Home in order to provide them with a happier life," he said.

Sewing Machine Needles Stitch More Home-Mades

Fabric departments are where the action is this fall, as more and more women are discovering the joys of creating their own wardrobes. More flattering styles and colors, better fit and economy are factors behind the upswing in home sewing.

If you haven't already joined the move to the sewing machine, now is a good time to get with it. Piecegoods in fashion-right colors, imaginative designs and textures are offered in a wider array than ever. And new pattern sizing makes perfect fit easy to achieve.

Here from the National Cotton Council are some fashion trends to help you plan your fall wardrobe:

Soft femininity is an important look, characterized by ruffles, tucking, or pleats. It's easy to achieve with a new offering in piecegoods: cotton fabrics with matching trims in the form of ready-made ruffling, smocking, etc.

Separates with a put-together look are another major style. What makes them newsworthy is the combination of fabrics and colors. For example, choose a bold plaid cotton corduroy or cotton tweed for a swingy skirt. Add a vest of rich cotton velvet and a blouse of soft cotton challis.

In the color spectrum, gray is the leading fashion shade. Combine it with bright colors like red and gold, or try white and cream as mixers. Brown in tones from chocolate to camel is another favorite. For a fashionable combo, use gray corduroy for a full-length coat and printed brown and gray cotton homespun for a coordinated dress.

FEMININE—Wallpaper prints make fall fashion news. Cotton fabric in muted tones of gold and burgundy is the choice for this softly draped day dress with wrap-and-tie sash.

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Cigar Institute of America has published a little booklet entitled "A Married Woman's Guide to the Married Man."

The institute says it did this "in recognition of the fact that while this may be a man's world, women are partly to blame."

What it apparently is trying to achieve is greater tolerance and understanding among wives toward the mystique of cigar smoking.

It tells that cigars incite feminine hostility mainly because of the old saying "A woman is only a woman, but a good cigar is a smoke."

Women regard that as an unflattering comparison and it puts them on the defensive when they are around cigars.

In an effort to undo some of the damage, the institute takes the tack that cigars actually bring married women love and security.

When a married man "surrounds himself with a magic blue cloud" of cigar smoke, he is not drawing odious comparisons. Rather, he is expressing "a primitive, instinctive feeling that all is well."

Symbolically he is saying "The ship is tight. The drawbridge is up. The cave is safe from tigers."

At the same time, he is also being romantic. To his wife he is poetically declaiming, in effect, "I could not love thee, dear, so much—loved I not also my cigar." Or so the booklet says.

I'm sure cigar smokers will look upon the booklet as a public service and I wish that someone would now perform the same service in regard to professional football.

My wife can't seem to understand that when I am watching a game on television, I am actually displaying my affection for her.

Last weekend there was a game on Friday evening, two on Saturday evening and one on Sunday afternoon. When I put up the drawbridge again Monday evening, she swam across the moat.

"You should be glad I'm watching the game," I said. "It means our cave is safe from tigers."

"I would rather have it safe from the Green Bay Packers," she said.

"But I could not love thee, dear, so much—loved I not also the Washington Redskins."

"Then let the Redskins darn your socks," she said.

You see what I mean about the need for a booklet? A good cigar is only tobacco, but football is grounds for divorce.

Hollywood In Review

By VERNON SCOTT
HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Television bigwigs are really beautiful, flawless dunderheads who—if given the faintest opportunity—appear to delight in making idiots of themselves.

Every night they show film clips of the war in Vietnam—violence.

They take cameras into the streets for small race wars—violence.

But the gigantic intellects who run the networks are against violence on television and plan to cut it out where possible. Can you guess where they're starting?

With the spy spoof "Get Smart!"—a comedy show about a bungling agent for control protecting his country from the devious agents of Kaos.

That ought to put the lid on violence around the country.

The show's star, Don Adams, appeared somewhat shell-shocked (non-violently) about the whole thing. He is in favor of cutting down mass television slaughter, but doesn't believe it contributes to murder, mayhem or crime in general.

"I don't think TV violence has any effect on adults," he said during a break in the series which begins its fourth year this season, "but I'm not so sure about the kids."

How does he feel about playing a spy who can't hurt the heavies with anything more violent than a dirty look?

"Well, I don't think we should swing from one extreme to the other," Adams said. "Our show has a huge following of children, and we don't want to expose them to anything too violent. But if we get violent with a comedy point of view I can't see what harm it will do."

'Jitters' On First Day At School Common To Both Young, 'Older'

NEW YORK (UPI)—Johnnie isn't the only one who gets the jitters when he goes off to school.

So do his mother and his aunt and the woman next door.

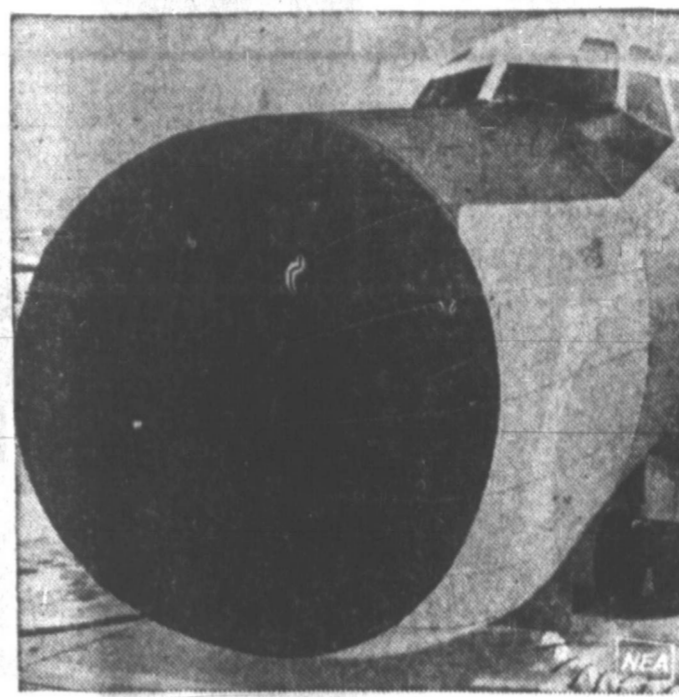

The sinking stomach syndrome is the same, whether a scholar is 5 or 55, reports Mrs. Ruby Sills Miller, who shepherded 150 women back to campus in the last year.

Mrs. Miller directed a 10-week-long preemployment program consponsored by the Camp Fire Girls, Inc., and Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. The purpose: To find if a unique combination of classroom study and field work could produce the "instant administrators" needed to fill the lengthening lists of job services in many community service agencies.

"At the beginning, almost every woman enrolled in the six different courses throughout the country doubted she could make the grade," said Mrs. Miller. "Yet 137 of the original 150 who started finished. Already 61 are working or have decided to continue their studies."

"The rest were not able to start their career hunts until summer vacations were over, so hopefully they will have crystallized their plans by late fall."

NOSE JOB on this Boeing 707 was NASA modification to house antennas used in aircraft-to-spacecraft voice relay and data reception. Eight of the special planes will be used in the Apollo project to put a man on the moon and return him safely to earth.

Indians Edge Twins On Pinch-Hit Single

By GREG GALLO
UPI Sports Writer

All Alvin Dark wanted to do was sacrifice, but things just didn't work out that way. With men on first and second and none out in the 12th inning Wednesday night, Dark let pitcher Vincente Romo try and bunt the runners over. But Romo failed on his two attempts to sacrifice and the Cleveland manager went to his bench. Dark called on the fifth and last of his pinch-hitters, Lou Johnson, who has not started a game since Aug. 30th, delivered a clutch single into left field to score Chico Salmon from second base with the only run of the game as the Indians nipped the Minnesota Twins 1-0.

"We wanted to move the runners up with the bunt but we couldn't," Dark commented after the game. "So, I figured we'd better get a guy who had a chance to drive them in." Johnson was his man. The victory went to Romo who raised his record to 4-3.

Orioles Win Two
In other American League games, Baltimore swept Washington, 6-1, and 4-1, New York defeated Chicago, 7-2, Detroit downed California, 8-2, and Oakland edged Boston, 3-2, in 12 innings.

In the National League, New York shut out Chicago, 1-0, Cincinnati took Houston twice, 5-1, and 11-6, Philadelphia beat Pittsburgh, 8-6, before dropping the second game of the doubleheader, 6-4, Atlanta downed San Francisco, 3-1, and St. Louis nipped Los Angeles, 5-4.

Jim Hardin won his 19th game of the season and Boog Powell and Brooks Robinson each drove in two runs in Baltimore's first game victory. In the nightcap, Dave Johnson slammed a three-run homer in the 10th inning to complete the Oriole sweep.

Score on Errors
The Yankees took advantage of four White Sox errors while scoring seven runs in the sixth inning to give Fritz Peterson his 11th victory of the year. Bill Melton hit his first major league homer for Chicago in the ninth inning.

Willie Horton slugged his 33rd and 34th homers of the season and Bill Freehan chipped in with his 22nd to lead the league-leading Tigers to victory.

Pampa Plays Lee In Football Tonight

The Pampa Junior High School ninth grade team will play Lee Junior High School at 7:30 tonight at Harvester field.

Lefthander John Hiller, 8-5, went all the way for Detroit.

Speedy Al Lewis stole third base and scored the winning run on Bert Campaneris' sacrifice fly in the 12th inning as Jim Lonborg, who gave up only six hits while going the distance, was saddled with his seventh loss against five victories.

Dallas Mentor Says Defense Game Hurting

By ED FITTE
UPI Sports Writer

DALLAS (UPI)—Coach Tom Landry said training camp and pre-season games had not yet accomplished his goal of raising the Dallas Cowboys' defense to No. 1 in the league, but that he was encouraged about the future.

"We felt we had a good defense, but we still were No. 2 or 3 after last season," Landry said Wednesday. "We went to training camp trying to raise that to No. 1."

"We are still not there, but if we continue to improve, I think we might reach it—maybe later this season or by next season at the latest."

As for the offense, he said it is "more diversified, but still not good enough."

Some Good Signs
"It is showing signs of being explosive, however," Landry said.

Landry then defended his No. 1 quarterback, Don Meredith, against the boos which boomed from some of the 69,000 fans last week when Meredith was unable to guide the Cowboys to victory over Baltimore.

"I was pleased to see that the writers saw the game as I did," he said in reference to the fact that Meredith moved the club to more than 400 yards offense against the Colts, but saw fumbles and interceptions spoil the victory bid.

"I think Don did an excellent job and was very alert," he said. "If I thought he'd perform this way the next 14 games, I'd have no worries."

Praise for Detroit
But, Landry was worrying about Sunday's season opener against Detroit, which he described as "very tough defensively, a club with a lot of pride, ability and quickness."

"The Lions have as good a defense as Baltimore," he said, "and offensively they just haven't quite jelled with their two new quarterbacks—Bill Munson and rookie Greg Landry."

Georgia should prove to be a rugged opener for Tennessee. The Bulldogs rank as a dark horse for the SEC title and lack only an accomplished quarterback. Their plusses include a strong running game and an outstanding defense, headed by tackle Bill Stanfill and safetyman Jake Scott.

The oddsmakers have made Tennessee a six-point choice, but this is a good time to catch the Volunteers unprepared.

This game, which will take place at Tennessee's Neyland Stadium, will be played on a new type of grass, called Tartan Turf, which is similar to AstroTurf but smoother. It is expected to make the field very

THREE BASEBALL FANS, in the truest sense of the word, made a little home for themselves in the rain-swept stands at Shea Stadium recently. Two of them found refuge under the spreading poncho of the third. The game was finally called in the sixth inning. The three diehards went home when the announcement was made.

College Football Season Opens With Few Games

By FRED McMANE
UPI Sports Writer

The 1968 college football season officially opens Saturday, and that might be too soon for the University of Tennessee.

Coach Doug Dickey's Volunteers, the second-ranked team in the nation last year, open defense of their Southeastern Conference title Saturday against the University of Georgia in the major game of a light collegiate schedule and already a major upset might be in the offing.

Things aren't around Knoxville as they were a year ago. For one thing, the Vols have had only three weeks to prepare for their opener and during that time have had to practically rebuild an offense which was heavily depleted through graduation.

Gone from last year's 9-1 team are quarterback Dewey Warren, running backs Charlie Fulton and Walter Chadwick and All-America center Bob Johnson.

Wyche Signal-Caller
Bubba Wyche, who filled in admirably for the injured Warren at the end of last season, returns and will be the prime offensive weapon. But it looks as if the Vols are going to have to rely heavily on defense to win.

Georgia should prove to be a rugged opener for Tennessee. The Bulldogs rank as a dark horse for the SEC title and lack only an accomplished quarterback. Their plusses include a strong running game and an outstanding defense, headed by tackle Bill Stanfill and safetyman Jake Scott.

The oddsmakers have made Tennessee a six-point choice, but this is a good time to catch the Volunteers unprepared.

This game, which will take place at Tennessee's Neyland Stadium, will be played on a new type of grass, called Tartan Turf, which is similar to AstroTurf but smoother. It is expected to make the field very fast. The only other member of last year's top 10 to see action Saturday will be Wyoming, which was unbeaten and ranked fifth in 1967. The Cowboys travel to Nebraska to play the Cornhuskers and are expected to have their hands full.

Strong Nebraska Offense
Nebraska, which had a 6-4 record last season, is boasting a strong offensive unit with 6-foot 7-quarterback Frank Patrick and fullback Dick Davis leading the way.

Wyoming, on the other hand, is banking heavily on its defensive unit, which the coaching staff claims is every bit as good as last year's which topped the nation in stopping rushes.

The Cornhuskers, a leading candidate to challenge Oklahoma for the Big Eight title, rates a seven-point choice.

One other major conference game Saturday pits North Carolina State against Wake Forest in an Atlantic Coast Conference clash, and this one should be a dandy.

Close Game
Wake Forest claims to have its best team in 10 years with quarterback Freddie Summers, the league's total offense leader last year, heading a list of 35 returning lettermen. North Carolina State has 25 letter winners back including kicker Gerald Warren, who set a major college record with 17 field goals in 1967.

The Wolfpack is a one-point favorite but the Deacons are primed for a big season and should be ready for this one. Two of the nation's leading ball carriers will also see action Saturday. They are West Texas State's Eugene "Mercury" Morris, second ranked nationally in rushing a year ago, and Houston's Paul Gipson, the seventh leading rusher. Morris takes his team into action against Lamar Tech and Gipson goes against Tulane.

In other games, Dayton meets Kent State, Iowa State faces Buffalo, New Mexico takes on Colorado State U., Toledo tangles with Richmond, Utah State entertains New Mexico State, University of Texas at El Paso hosts Santa Barbara and Xavier plays Miami of Ohio.

New Look In Football

New coaches usually mean a different offense, a shifting of player positions and varied crowd reaction. Three area high school football teams will play under new head coaches Friday night. The are Pampa, Groom and Canadian.

The "new look" of the Pampa Harvesters will be seen for the first time when coach Swede Lee's team plays Hereford there. Game time is 8 p.m. Fan interest is at one of its highest levels in years if advance ticket sales and attendance at the Harvester Club meetings mean interest.

Lee came to Pampa as athletic director this year and has created high hopes for a better season among Pampa football fans. Last year, Pampa was 0-10 and scored only 25 points. At Groom, another new coach coach Gordon (Buddy) Stevens will lead his Tigers when Groom and Vega clash at Vega.

At Canadian, James Anglin, after serving as assistant coach, took over the reins of the Wildcats this year. Anglin will have the advantage over his other two new coaches—the Wildcats will play Booker at home where the host is normally rated an advantage.

Another 'Sellout' Coming?

Dr. Walter Judd, an expert on Asian affairs, thinks maybe U. S. negotiators at the Paris peace talks might be risking another "sellout" of pro-West interests.

Dr. Judd worked as a medical missionary in the far East for many years, is a former member of Congress and should know what he's talking about. Writing in the September issue of Reader's Digest, he notes disturbing parallels between the current talks and the 1959 Geneva negotiations which were aimed, as today's are aimed, at bringing peace to the Far East.

The Geneva conferences proved to be disastrous for the west and, Dr. Judd says, the Paris talks could be a repeat performance.

Chief U. S. negotiator at Geneva, was Averell Harriman (he's our man in Paris now), then serving as assistant secretary of state for Far Eastern Affairs. North Vietnamese troops had invaded Laos and set up the communist Pathet Lao government in the northeast. Harriman helped to hammer out agreements "neutralizing" Laos and setting up a coalition government of the land.

But instead of bringing peace, notes Dr. Judd, these agreements proved a "debacle" and not only for Laos; "they opened the way for North Vietnam to consolidate control of the eastern region, including the corridor known as the Ho Chi Minh Trail, which has permitted Hanoi to pour into South Vietnam the troops and supplies that have vastly expanded and prolonged the war."

Defending the agreement, Harriman insisted the Russians would honor it because it was "in their interests" to do so. "He believed this," says Judd, "despite the fact that the Soviet Union was airlifting military supplies to the Pathet Lao even as the talks went on!" Predictably (except by Harriman), Hanoi and its Pathet Lao puppets ignored the agreement completely, with North Vietnam pouring in troops in a buildup which today has brought the total to more than 40,000.

"The coalition calling the tune in Laos today is that between the Vietnam and the Pathet Lao," says Judd.

Once gain such words as "neutrality" and "coalition" are being advanced this time as possible solutions to the Vietnam war. But, argues Dr. Judd, Ho Chi Minh's words alone should enable us to see the folly of such "solutions." For, "no leader since Hitler had more forthrightly declared his goals.

What are those goals? In 1951, Ho proclaimed his intention to "bring about a federation of the states of Vietnam, Laos and Cambodia." And a few years later he made public his plan "to take over all of Indochina by guerrilla infiltration, subversion and revolution," Dr. Judd writes.

To prevent this, Dr. Judd urges, immediate steps are necessary. He says we should set a time limit to the Paris talks, and so inform Hanoi. Afterwards, we should "call off the voluntary restraints we've placed on ourselves."

Moreover, we should make clear our refusal to agree to unilateral troop withdrawal, unconditional halts to bombing, or such fraudulent devices as imposed neutrality and coalition government for South Vietnam.

If Hanoi refuses to meet these terms, says Dr. Judd, and the "inevitable" resumption of the war then occurs, we should concentrate on targets in North Vietnam, Ho's "power base." To save lives, we should warn North Vietnam in advance of all military targets that we plan to attack. Then we should destroy them.

Starvation As A Weapon

From time to time, questions have been raised about American forces' use of herbicides to defoliate jungle and destroy rice crops in South Vietnam. Numerous scientists have expressed concern about the possibility that this practice may be seriously upsetting the balance of nature over large areas.

This is of long-range importance, but another aspect of the matter is cause for greater and more immediate concern. A Minnesota congressman, a member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, has sharpened the focus on this in a letter to Secretary of Defense Clifford. In his letter Rep. Donald M. Fraser poses the fundamental question whether Americans want their military to use starvation as a weapon of war.

"I will be interested to know," he says in his letter to Clifford, "why the Defense Department feels a decreased food supply means less food for the peasants." The letter continues: "The destruction or denial of enemy food supplies in past wars has inflicted suffering on those least involved in the fighting—women, children and the aged. I question whether starvation is the type of weapon Americans want our military to employ."

Congressman Fraser says, we "hope Secretary Clifford can provide some acceptable answers."

Pull Up A Chair

By FRANK JAY MARKEY

Jimmy McHugh, the song writer, started in the music business by delivering songs put out by Irving Berlin's publishing firm to Boston theaters and dime-store music counters. He was paid $8 a week and one day decided the only way to make any money in the music business was to write songs. His first efforts failed, but he hit the jackpot with "I Can't Give You Anything But Love, Baby." McHugh has more than 100 hits to his credit. All that was brought to mind when we heard a medley of his tunes on the radio. They sounded so refreshing in comparison to the junk being foisted on the public these days by the record business.

Today's smile: A teacher asked one of her pupils: "If your mother gave you a big apple and a small one and asked you to divide it with your brother, which apple would you give him?" The youngster asked: "Do you mean my big brother or my little one?"

Although Lincoln's "Gettysburg Address" is a masterpiece, Honest Abe was not above lifting a phrase from another source. A little research reveals the part which says "government of the people" was taken from a speech of Daniel Webster. And John F. Kennedy's famous words: "Ask not what you can do for your country" will be found in a commencement address given about 50 years earlier by a president of Yale University.

Thoughts while shaving: The New York Thruway is the longest toll super-highway in the country. It stretches 559 miles from New York City north to Albany and then west to Buffalo. Although its correct name is the Governor Thomas E. Dewey Highway hardly anyone ever refers to it that way. . . . And San Francisco's Golden Gate Bridge is not golden, but it is orange. Seems that color of paint withstands the weather there better than any other color and from a distance it does appear to be golden in color. . . . Just discovered tobacco stores are still selling Sweet Caporals. They were very popular when we were young. We also learned they are America's oldest brand of cigarettes, first put on the market in 1870. Back in the good old days "baby sitters" were known simply as "mothers." The litterbug is one of the country's most expensive nuisances. Last year it cost about $25 for every man, woman and child in this country to clean up discarded refuse along the nation's highways. . . . Conrad Hilton might like to know the hotel business got its start in Asia Minor in Biblical times when householders started charging travelers a fee for a night's lodging. . . . If you're seeking a husband become an airline stewardess. That is the quickest route to the altar for a lot of girls. The average length of service for most of them is two years. Marriage is the chief reason they quit. . . . A wise editor told us once good writing usually consists of a series of simple declarative sentences strung together to make a whole that's interesting and informative to the reader. We recently re-read "Les Miserables" and observed that Victor Hugo could never qualify for that editor's definition. One sentence ran 823 words, which is probably the all-time record for verbosity in classical writing. The Anaheim (Calif.) BULLETIN headlined a story: "The Lord Giveth, But Burglars Take Away." Ample proof that it is better to give than to receive.

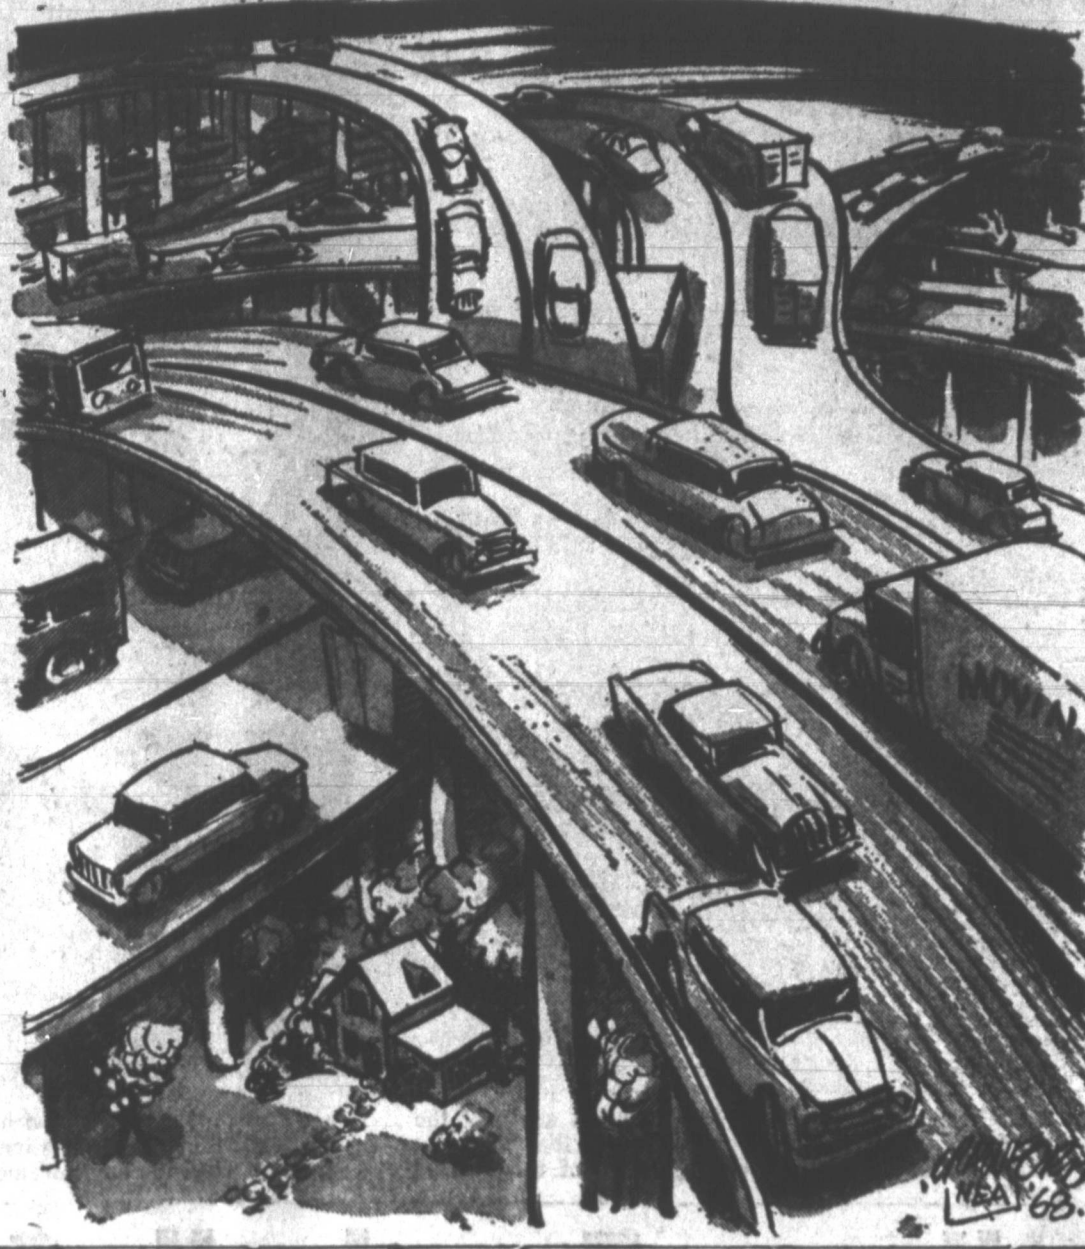

Country Editor speaking: "Bowling is the only pastime where you can roll in the gutter and not be criticized."

Senate Communications Subcommittee, Probing TV Violence, Will Also Scrutinize 'Fairness' of Convention Coverage

ROBERT ALLEN JOHN GOLDSMITH

WASHINGTON — Chicago Mayor Richard Daley can use a Senate hearing as his forum for airing complaints about television coverage of the violent disorders during the Democratic National Convention in his city. A public review of the "fairness doctrine" administered by the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) is now being set up by the Senate Communications Subcommittee. Under that doctrine the FCC requires that broadcasters give fair treatment to all sides of controversial questions.

Commission spokesman and network representatives have been tentatively scheduled to testify at the hearings. However, Subcommittee Chairman John O. Pastore, D-R. I., will not refuse if Mayor Daley asks to present his charges of unfair coverage.

"This man has been widely criticized. I think he should have a chance to make his case," says Pastore. Daley contends that the networks unfairly portrayed the actions of Chicago police in measures and controlling young anti-war protesters who gathered in Chicago. The mayor bluntly rejects charges of police brutality arising from televised clashes between demonstrators and police.

Other aspects of television's convention programming will also figure in the hearings. For example, the subcommittee staff is reviewing allegations by TV columnists that commentators of at least one network, CBS, actively promoted unsuccessful efforts to draft Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., as Democratic presidential nominee.

Under Pastore's leadership the Senate subcommittee has tried to function as a watchdog for television and radio without trespassing on constitutionally protected freedom of expression. The subcommittee hedges over the FCC and, while the networks are not regulated by the commission, each of them is allowed to own five stations, in major markets, which are subject to FCC regulations.

OTHER VIOLENCE — The subcommittee's hearings, as previously reported in this column, were originally aimed at another sort of televised violence—the murder and mayhem portrayed nightly in regular TV programs. That subject will still get attention in the hearings.

The scope of the inquiry was broadened, however, in the wake of the convention controversy, and an unpublished incident played a part in that decision. As a result of the incident, Pastore, himself, became a target for angry complaints about TV convention coverage. The incident occurred at the tag end of the long Wednesday convention session which selected Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey as presidential nominee. As stragglers filed out of the
