In Czech Cities ...

Soviet Armored Grip Is Relaxing

By JAMES O. JACKSON
PRAGUE (UPI)—The Soviet bloc today began relaxing its armored grip on Czechoslovak cities after 13 days of occupation.

The Czechoslovak government, slightly revamped, resumed some functions suspended since the Aug. 20 invasion. A new life of making-do got under way.

There were many firsts in Prague and other large towns, including the sounds of music and laughter.

Young people who jeered Russian tank crews a week ago flocked to dancing cafes in Prague for the first time in two weeks.

Two East German Divisions Leave

PRAGUE (UPI)—The two East German divisions that crunched into Czechoslovakia Aug. 20 with the Soviet bloc invasion have been quietly withdrawn from the country — the first invading troops to leave — Western military forces said today.

Bratislava airport opened today to commercial traffic. Prague's Ruzyně airport, where Soviet transports landed the tanks that seized the capital, was expected to be back in business tonight.

Policeman Is Still Hospitalized After Chicago Rioting

CHICAGO (UPI)—The last of more than 300 persons hurt in battles between police and demonstrators here last week remained hospitalized today, awaiting plastic surgery for facial injuries.

All other injured during the Democratic National Convention, including nearly 120 policemen, were treated at hospitals and released. Most were not seriously hurt.

The one remaining was a young policeman, hit in the face with a brick.

All of the 583 persons arrested during the battles were free on bond, authorities said.

70 Die In State During Holiday

By United Press International
Violence of various kinds killed at least 70 persons in Texas over the Labor Day weekend, possibly setting a record.

A United Press-International count which started at 6 p.m. Friday showed at least 45 traffic deaths, nine homicides, eight drownings, two fire deaths and six deaths from other causes. The count ended at midnight Monday.

The 45 traffic fatalities put Texas one behind Michigan and Illinois for the dubious distinction of having more persons killed in traffic than in any other state, but was still one short of the 46 deaths predicted by the Texas Department of Public Safety.

Most of the fatal accidents in the state during the holiday period involved one or two fatalities, but four persons were killed Sunday in a four-vehicle crash on U.S. 281 near Pleasanton.

A tanker truck jackknifed on a rain-slicked curve and careened into the oncoming lane, stacking up three cars.

Woodrow Herzog Jr., 23; his 2-year-old daughter Deena; both of Marion; Geneva Day of San Antonio and Edwin Bergstrom, 40, of San Antonio were killed in that accident.

Prague, Pilsen and other sizeable towns, reported Soviet troops have withdrawn to suburban bivouacs. Trees and shrubbery hid them from the sight of travelers.

Tanks and armor remain visible in Prague itself but they are parked in side streets. Jeeps more and more replace tank and armored car patrols.

Tank guns no longer bristle at the foot of King Wenceslas statue in the main square.

Party First Secretary Alexander Dubcek indicated Sunday such a withdrawal from the cities would be phase one of what he referred to as a three-stage withdrawal. His administration was that Czechoslovak citizens would have to suspend all sabotage and fall completely in line as the price.

SEoul (UPI)—South Korean troops clashed twice with North Korean intruders along the border demilitarized zone Monday and today and killed three of them, military officials said. One South Korean soldier was wounded in the incidents.

MARGATE, England (UPI)—Teen-age hoodlums invaded several southern coastal resorts on motorbikes Monday, battled police, smashed shop windows and threw bottles at passing cars.

Holiday Death Toll Is Record

By United Press International
More persons than ever before died on the nation's highways this Labor Day holiday.

The count continued early today, long after the 78-hour holiday officially ended at midnight, surpassing the high toll of the last two years and meeting the grim predictions of auto safety authorities.

Late reports of traffic accidents boosted the toll to 666, surpassing the 1966 record of 636. The 1967 toll was 608.

The National Safety Council had estimated that between 575 to 675 would die on the highways during the holiday, which began at 6 p.m. Friday.

"It's pretty horrible," a safety council spokesman said. "And it's within the range we estimated."

At 8 a.m. EDT, United Press International counted a total of 818 deaths during the long, last holiday of summer.

The breakdown:

Traffic	666
Drownings	72
Planes	18
Miscellaneous	85
Total	878

Illinois led in traffic deaths with 47. Michigan had 46, Texas and California 45 each, Pennsylvania 31, Ohio 30 and New York 28.

The worst accident occurred Sunday near Jamestown, N.D., when eight teen-agers were killed in a two-car crash.

The safety council spokesman said unless more people are to understand the tragedy of such statistics, the forecast for future holidays on the highway was indeed grim.

"Under the old formula, you add more cars, more drivers, more roads, more miles, more congestion, more hazards and more death," he said.

BRAZZAVILLE (UPI)—Army leaders who overthrew Congo Republic President Alphonse Massamba-Dabat for the second time in a month debated today what to do with him.

Heavily armed paratroopers guarded the presidential palace where Massamba-Dabat, 47-year-old former teacher, was kept under house arrest to prevent a rescue attempt by Bakongo tribesmen.

Aftermath Of Earthquakes In Iran

Bodies Are Bulldozed Into Mass Graves

By JOSEPH MAZANDI
TEHRAN (UPI)—Bodies in white Moslem shrouds were shoved into mass graves by snorting bulldozers. Fierce was the afternoon sun.

Wailing children appealed to Allah for the return of their loved ones, dead in the red earth rubble of a single room home. Icy was the black desert night.

And still the mangled ground trembled. The toll in the world's worst killer earthquake since 1939 today rose past 20,000 dead and 50,000 injured. More than 100,000 persons lacked homes.

Ceausescu is worried that possible Warsaw Pact maneuvers on Romanian soil might encourage separatist tendencies among Romania's ethnic minorities, the sources said.

Terrorists Strike Saigon Building

By ALVIN B. WEBB Jr.
SAIGON (UPI)—Two motorcycle-riding terrorists, striking on the anniversary of South Vietnam's 1967 presidential elections, today hurled a grenade into the gateway entrance to a U.S. AID building in Saigon.

Six persons were wounded, all Vietnamese. Earlier reports that at least two were killed proved to be erroneous.

The grenade exploded in front of the U.S. Agency for International Development building at the height of the afternoon rush hour on Saigon's Le Van Duyet thoroughfare.

One year ago today, Nguyen Van Thieu and Nguyen Cao Ky were elected president and vice president in South Vietnam's nationwide presidential elections.

At least three of the six wounded were seriously hurt—a Vietnamese guard, a national policeman and a woman UPI correspondent Kate Webb reported from the scene. The wounded guard said he fired shots into the air to try to stop the men. They escaped.

Police said they believed the incident was the work of the Viet Cong. The grenade landed in a gateway in the wall surrounding the U.S. Agency for International Development building. Several dozen American and Vietnamese employees were inside.

Witnesses said the two terrorists sped away on their motorcycle. National policemen and South Vietnamese soldiers quickly blocked off a six-block area around the building but there was no trace of the two men.

The explosion came as Saigon was beginning to relax after a

'State Of Disaster' Is Declared After Berkeley Rioting

BERKELEY, Calif. (UPI)—City officials declared a state of civil disaster Monday night and sent beefed up squads of helmeted police to patrol a volatile eight-block section adjoining the University of California.

The state of emergency was announced before nightfall in an attempt to prevent a third night of sporadic violence on a four-block stretch of Telegraph Avenue, where 55 persons have been arrested since Friday night.

Two dozen persons were picked up Monday for a variety of reasons by four-man teams of police operating on sidewalks and cruising in cars. Seven of the 24 were juveniles. Charges, including loitering, narcotics, carrying a concealed weapon, disturbing the peace and malicious mischief.

No major incidents were reported.

The troubled four-block stretch of Telegraph Avenue, a haven for young radicals, hippies and teenyboppers, has been wracked by gunfire, dynamiting and arson attempts since a Friday night rally degenerated into a traffic-blocking confrontation with police.

A police sergeant was shot in the thigh as officers cleared the streets early Saturday. He remained hospitalized in satisfactory condition.

SAO PAULO, Brazil (UPI)—Authorities battled against time to avert famine, epidemics and drought.

Rescue workers tearing through some of the worst-hit regions of the 1,300-square-mile disaster area zone in northeastern Iran said they had recovered more than 20,000 bodies by late Monday.

Mass Burials
Government officials in Tehran confirmed the reports but officially announced a death figure of 12,000—the number already buried.

Those In Insane Asylums Have Higher Voting Percentage, Make Fewer Mistakes
SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—People in insane asylums vote virtually the same way as everybody else, the American Psychological Association was told today.

The only differences seem to be that a higher percentage troubles to vote and a smaller percentage invalidates his ballot by some mistake.

These were the conclusions of two students of inmates of Bronx State Hospital, New York, by Dr. Morris Klein of Albert Einstein College of Medicine.

Klein explains these phenomena by noting mental patients usually are incompetent only in some phases of activity, not all.

He said no good reason exists for laws in some states which disenfranchise persons adjudged mentally ill.

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Donald Craig Elliott, 14, who has been sleepwalking since he was 3, got up from his bunk, looked in the refrigerator then walked out the door.

It would have been a normal occurrence except Craig was in a camper-pickup truck traveling 50 miles an hour on the San Diego freeway.

An examination at General Hospital early Monday showed the teen-ager suffered only cuts and bruises, to the relief of his mother, Mrs. Wanda Elliott of Costa Mesa, Calif.

A California highway patrol car was about 400 feet behind the camper when Craig walked out the door. The driver saw the boy fall, stopped and pulled him into the car.

The boy's sister, Sharon, 21, was asleep in the upper bunk and awakened when she heard her brother moving around.

"I thought he was getting something from the refrigerator. When he walked out on the freeway instead, I screamed and grabbed the intercom to the truck cab to tell my folks."

Mrs. Elliott says she is going to take her son to a doctor this week to attempt to cure Craig's somnambulatory strolls. "One way or another, it's got to stop," she said.

2nd Such Tragedy Within Four Days

ISTANBUL, Turkey (UPI)—A severe earthquake hit northwestern Turkey today, wrecking villages and spreading panic across a 300-mile stretch of country. Authorities said they feared a major disaster — the second earthquake disaster within four days.

Earthquakes in Iran killed an estimated 20,000 persons Saturday and Sunday. That area of devastation was in northeastern Iran near the borders of Soviet Russia and hundreds of miles east of today's Turkish earthquake.

Officials in Istanbul said they feared a heavy death toll. They said by 2 p.m. (7 a.m. EDT) 10 persons were known dead and 200 injured in and around the village of Bartin, near the Black Sea coast. This is 180 miles east of Istanbul and 130 miles north of Ankara.

The Turkish quake hit at 10:22 a.m. (4:22 a.m. EDT). Its intensity and duration were not immediately reported. The University of California seismograph in Berkeley, Calif., reported a shock registering 6.7 on the Richter Scale at about that time.

The stricken Turkish area stretched from east of Bartin, apparently the worst hit village, along the Black Sea coastal region to Canakkale, near the Dardanelles Strait. Istanbul also felt the shock, but no damage was reported in the city.

Other small towns hit included Sinop, Bolu and Samsun.

In Bartin, more than a third of the houses collapsed, and there was widespread damage in other areas, officials said. They expressed fears scores were trapped in wrecked houses although many persons would be outside working in the fields at time of the temblor.

The government immediately started a huge rescue operation.

The death toll in Iran's weekend quake was the highest since Dec. 27, 1939, when 23,000 persons were killed in Turkey.

Reports from Tehran said bodies in white Moslem shrouds were being buried in mass graves while children appealed to Allah for the return of their loved ones.

Social Security Questions Answers

Q. I was only 94 when my husband died last year, so I do not yet receive monthly widow's benefits. Am I entitled to any benefits under the new law?

A. Only if you are unable to work because of a severe disability. This disability may be a physical or mental impairment that prevents a person from engaging in any gainful work. The condition must be expected to last at least a year.

Q. My wife died last year. I received the lump sum death payment on her account, but I was told that no benefit could be paid to our two small children because my wife had not worked in recent years on a covered social security job. I was the sole source of support for the family when she died. Can the children qualify for benefits under the new law?

A. Yes, since she was fully insured under social security at the time of her death, benefits may now be payable to the children, even though your wife had not worked during the years just before her death.

Q. Is there an increase in the social security tax this year?

A. No. The rate remains the same - 4.4 per cent, for employer and employee, and 6.4 per cent for self-employed persons. However, the maximum amount of taxable earnings has been increased from $6800 to $7800 a year beginning with 1968.

Q. I understand that a person can earn more now and still receive social security benefits. What is the change?

A. A beneficiary may now earn $1690 a year and still receive all his social security checks. If total earnings exceed $1690, $1.00 will be withheld from the monthly benefits for each $2.00 of earnings between $1690 and $2880. However, regardless of total earnings in a year, no benefit can be withheld for any month in which wage earnings are $140 or less, or significant services are not performed in self-employment. As in the past, no benefits will be withheld for any month in which a person is 72 or older, regardless of earnings.

Q. I have a rather large doctor bill for 1967 which I have been unable to pay in full. Do I have to pay all of it before I can file a claim for reimbursement?

A. No. A recent change in the law provides that you can file a claim based on an itemized bill even if it has not been paid.

The Family Lawyer

When Ed's car was stolen from a repair shop, he demanded damages for the loss. In a court hearing, he accused the management of negligence for leaving the car in a vacant lot, unattended, with the key in the ignition. But the company replied:

"We have a sign on our wall reading 'NOT RESPONSIBLE FOR THEFT.' That means exactly what it says."

Nevertheless, in spite of the sign, the court upheld Ed's claim. The judge said that, as a matter of public policy, the law usually will not let a garage escape liability for its own carelessness.

In other words, the law does not always accept signs at face value. Other factors may be taken into account in deciding of a sign's legal efficacy.

Thus, not only public policy but also the legibility and the position of a sign may affect its value. In one case the manufacturer of a powerful cleaning fluid was held liable for a customer's injury because the warning on the label was so small, and so obscure, that it was easily overlooked.

But that doesn't mean the public can disregard signs with impunity. For the most part, signs do serve an important purpose by putting people "on notice" — and are indeed entitled to be obeyed. Certainly if you disregard the "WET PAINT" sign on a park bench, you do so at your own peril.

In fact, it is possible that you might have to obey a sign that you cannot even see.

An estimated $53 in change was taken from Roberta's Flower Shop, 217 N. Ballard, it was reported to Pampa police today.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I have been going with Mac, a divorced man for about 2 years and he wants to marry me. I think the world of him, but he has the world's worst children. They are two boys, 15 and 17. Right now they are sitting in the city jail. They have been in trouble with the law more times than I can count. Believe me, the way they turned out wasn't his fault. He tried to raise them right but their mother let them run wild.

My question: I work for the city and if I marry this man I will naturally have to take his name. Well, his sons have had their names in the paper so much that the name is ruined and I am ashamed of it. Maybe I'm wrong to feel this way, but I have to look out for myself. Any suggestions? UP A TREE

DEAR UP: Discuss it with Mac. He may not feel the same as you about it. A man (or boy) can "ruin" only his OWN reputation, and while he may have sullied the name he bears, right-thinking people don't condemn the whole family for the offenses of one.

DEAR ABBY: I've been trying to disregard this problem for some time, but it keeps nagging at me, so please print your answer soon.

Three years ago, a neighbor boy, who was 10 at the time, tried to molest our little 4-year-old daughter. Luckily it turned out to be nothing serious. However, other neighbors have told me that this boy has since been in the same kind of trouble with other young children.

The boy is 13 now, and he has been hanging around the home of some new neighbors who have a 4-year-old boy. I keep wondering if I should tell this little boy's mother about our experience. My husband says NO, I shouldn't get involved.

It worries me, Abby. If something happened to that little 4-year-old kid I'd feel responsible. What should I do?

WORRIED
DEAR WORRIED: If the parents of the 13-year-old boy appear to be intelligent, responsible people, tell them to keep their eye on their son for recurring signs of his old trouble. If they don't, tip off the new neighbors. You are already morally involved.

DEAR ABBY: I am a man of 60, married 37 years, no children and I have never written to a columnist before, but we had an experience I think should be published.

Saturday our lawn needed mowing, the garage needed cleaning, and I wanted to watch the ball game.

My wife saw four teen-age boys walking aimlessly past our house, so she called to them, told them our lawn needed mowing, and asked if they were interested in earning a little money. They almost mobbed her. One grabbed the mower, the other the rake, another the grass shears. The fourth went around the house, found the hose, washed down the garage and driveway, swept out the excess water, colled the hose neatly, and put it back where he found it. Then he started pulling weeds.

There was no arguing or bickering. They rotated all the jobs and when they were finished, our lawn looked the best ever.

My point is this: If more people would hire these boys to do odd jobs, and give them a chance to earn a little pocket money, it would give them a little confidence and dignity. I think you would then see a sharp decline in juvenile delinquency and vandalism. There are always little jobs they can do and it wouldn't cost much.

Just give the kids a chance to prove themselves, and you will be pleasantly surprised.

B&PW Members Attend Sing-Along

PLASTIC BLOCKS
The new plastic blocks are safer for babies than the old wooden blocks and easier to keep clean. A rainy day is a good time to douse them in soap and water. Or, just toss them in with baby in the bathtub. He will have fun playing and they will get clean at the same time.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY...
he, or she, will be one of those very charming young people who will be somewhat shy so be sure you compliment and encourage your fine progeny; to develop business of action, give spiritual and ethical training early; The fine artist could be the chart, or the teacher, even the good and conscientious lawyer.

Nip the Waist, Flare the Hem for Autumn

By HELEN HENNESSY
(NEA) Womens Editor

NEW YORK — (NEA) — The body is back for Fall '68. Not the straight up and down, skinny little girl body. This time it's all curves, movements and softness.

You'll see it in texture shape and color in the New York fall collections. It's a look that proclaims the more womanly woman. From the fitted bodice, defined waist, to the wider, flirty hem, fashion is fluid.

And individuality is back, too. You no longer need be part of "the pack." Separates can be mixed with flair to create the right look. It's a do-it-yourself season that gives you back your own personality.

inches, the maxi 11 inches from the floor.

Sleeves and cuffs make news: There are long skinny sleeves, bouffant sleeves gathered tightly at the cuffs, bell sleeves, diagonal cuts with a medieval flavor and giant, turned-back gauntlets accented with velvet or leather.

The plain neckline is out. If it is not plunged, scarved or bowed, forget it if you like being part of the fashionable crowd.

The ensemble is hard on the heels of the separates-look as a fall favorite for both day and evening.

Coats mainly follow the narrow top, flare hem shaping and there are many midis. Capes are back, too.

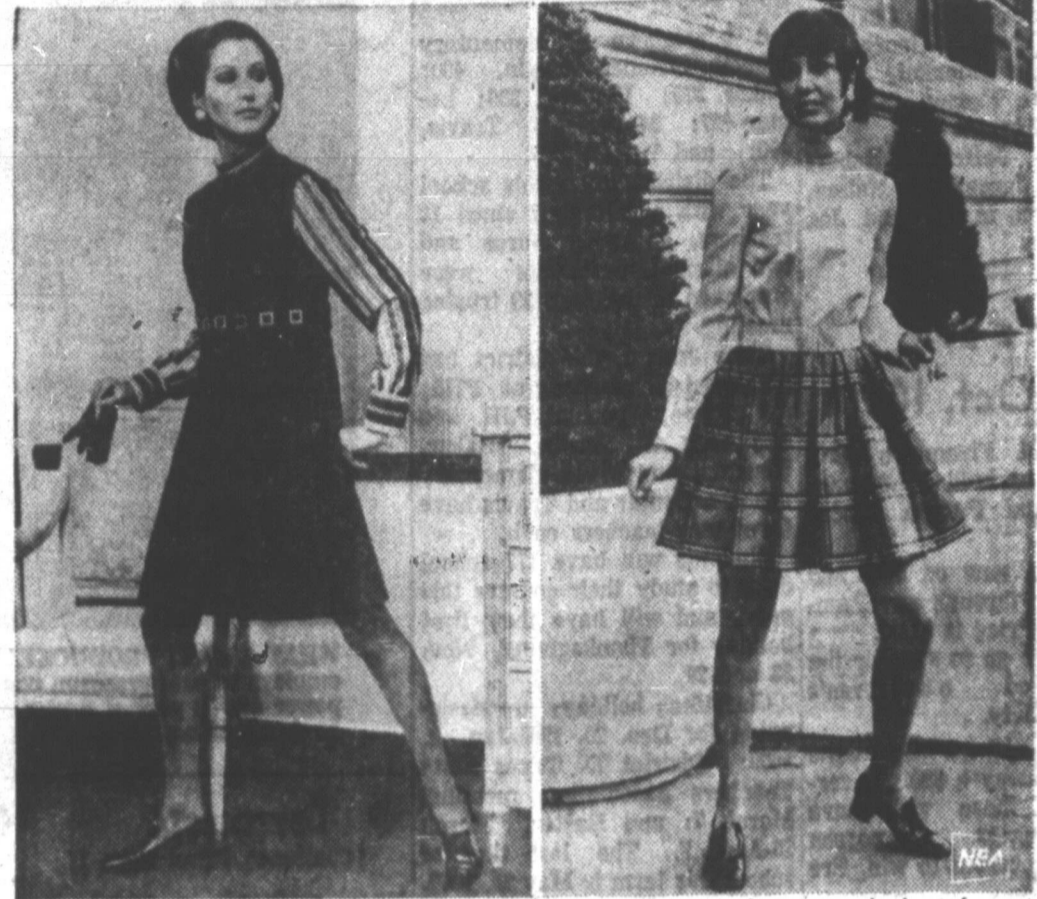

Jackets move in two directions. Long jackets are either very fitted or tunic-shaped. The short-jacket story is the return of the bolero.

As to fabrics, plaids, tartans, worsteds, Shetlands, Meltons, camel's hair and fleece are tops on the daytime scene.

NEW APPROACH

A Middletown, Ohio, hospital is trying out a new approach to laundry day. They put dirty clothes in a special bag which is made of detergent and water-softening ingredients. The whole bag dissolves in 140 degrees to release its soil-removal power. Won't it be great when this is available for home use?

CHARCOAL FLANNEL in a neat and narrow jumper with front panel pleat from Hannah Troy by Murray Nieman for fall has striped wool jersey blouse peeking out at the neck and boasting full, long shirtsleeves (left). Silky dream of a dress (right) has long torso bodice, high-throated and long-sleeved top that bounces out into a round skirt of purple plaid.

BELTING FALL

Belts are really back! They are linked, chained and dripping with tassels, bells, colored beads. They can be inch wide circles around the waist, or they can enclose the midriff with a fanciful cage.

NO TARNISH BUILD-UP

There is no need to worry about a build-up of the new tarnish-preventing sprays. They clean off when you polish next time.

Income Tax Questions, Answers

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q—I read where a retired policeman gets an extra $1,200 deduction on his federal income tax. Is that right?

A—There is no special tax exemption for policemen. However, there are provisions for all retired persons who receive pensions that retired policemen may benefit from.

A pension may or may not be taxable depending on whether a person has contributed to its cost. If the pension plan is of a type where the pensioner's cost is recoverable in the first three years, the pension is tax-free until this cost is fully recovered. After that, the pension is taxable income.

Another provision benefiting policemen and other retired persons is the retirement income credit. When certain conditions are met, this provision allows a taxpayer to reduce his income tax by up to 15 percent of his retirement income.

Details on these provisions are given in IRS Document No. 5018, Retirement Income and Credit. Send a post card to your District Director for a free copy.

Q—I'm being called in for an audit of my return. Do I have to bring the person who helped me fill it out?

A—No, this is not necessary. A major concern in any examination of a return is that the items listed can be supported by the necessary records. A tax advisor is not needed to help a taxpayer provide this substantiation. However, there is no reason why you can't bring your advisor if you wish.

Q—I've been told that there is a tax advantage in having shares of stock registered in both the husband's and the wife's name. Is that right?

A—No. The community property law in Texas makes dividend income community income regardless of which spouse owns the stock. Therefore, each could receive up to $100 in dividends in tax free, instead of only $100 to the spouse owning the stock as in other states.

Q—I get $25 a week from my ex-husband to support my boy. Who gets to claim him for tax purposes?

A—Since your ex-husband provides more than $1,200 support during the year he would generally be entitled to claim the dependency exemption, unless you provide more than half the child's total support.

For the rules on claiming a child of divorced or separated Director and ask for a free copy of Document No. 5043, Personal Exemptions and Dependents.

Q—My boss is sending me to one of our branch plants to do a survey of employe attitudes. My expenses are going to be paid while I'm there but if I come home weekends, that will have to come out of my own pocket. Will I be able to deduct the cost of my weekend trips home on my tax return?

A—If your assignment is temporary you will be able to deduct the cost of returning home weekends. However, you may not deduct more for this weekend travel than you would have spent for room and board if you had stayed at your temporary assignment. Your travel costs in getting

HOSPITALS AND YOU

By Wes Langham

"How much is a hospital worth?" asks Wes Langham, Administrator of Highland General Hospital. "Like a trip to the moon, it's priceless," he said. Langham added, in a hospital one finds the dignity of birth and death—and so many happenings in between. For all ages and all people there is a most urgent need for services available only in a hospital.

"There's the beginning of life when the doctor spans the first breath of life from the newborn baby. And what exacting care this baby receives from devoted nurses. When he wants something, he just howls for it and he gets it!

"What new young mother will ever forget that first trip to the hospital when her friends came to see the new arrival in his crib. At this time the hospital takes on an almost sacred air the miracle of the creation of life.

"The youth approaches school age and is very likely to visit a hospital at this time, probably to give up his tonsils. Not even the promise of all the ice cream he can eat makes this trip very enjoyable. However, he learns at this young age that is the hospital—even though he is sick—attentive, gentle nurses and kindly, understanding doctors will soon make him feel better.

"The young boy develops almost overnight into a game-happy teenager. Here again it is very likely that he will be visiting a hospital. A foot broken on the basketball court needs mending or a nose broken in that last varsity football game needs medical attention.

"The young boy now has grown into a mature young man. What a red-letter day—to be 21! Now he can vote, he can marry, he can be independent of his parents, he can choose his own way of life, his own career. But here too, the young adult may have need for the services of the hospital. A serious car accident, an injury on his own job, an appendectomy.

"All too soon the man approaches middle age. The pressures of raising his family and working hard for their security and happiness have taken their toll. One day at the office he collapses. A quick trip to the hospital and the emergency care may save his life.

"And so finally, the man goes on to reach the golden age, the twilight time of life. He looks back and thinks that life has been pretty good. Even with all troubles, sorrows and disappointments he probably wouldn't have it any other way.

"Now perhaps, for the last time he may have to visit a familiar place again, the hospital. He knows that he will receive tender care and that everything humanly possible will be done for him. Even the minister will be brought in to comfort him.

"Yes, from the newborn baby to the elderly gentleman, no other institution will ever be so needed or so appreciated by a family," Langham said.

Farquhar Wins Third Top of Texas Amateur Crown

BUSTER CARTER, Pampa, placed fourth in the Top O' Texas golf tournament. Carter had a 291.

Ellis Fires Eagle For Second Place

John Farquhar, veteran Amarillo golfer, won an unprecedented third Top of Texas amateur crown at the Pampa Country club course Monday.

Farquhar, champion in 1963 and 1965, shot a 142 for 36 holes in play Monday for a total of 284, an even par score.

Winning a playoff for second was Richard Ellis, Pampa, who fired an eagle on the first hole after regular play to win over Steve LeCron, Amarillo.

In fourth place was Buster Carter, Pampa, with 291.

Tied for fifth were Jim Young, Hereford; Bob Giese, Amarillo; Bill Harvey, Greensboro, N. C. and Marvin Dick Jr., Amarillo. All had 292s.

Ninth was Jackie Coffey, Borger, with 293. Tenth was Bobby Caldwell, Amarillo, with 294.

A total of 11 golfers from Amarillo were in the championship flight of 22 finishing the meet. Bob Sanders, Amarillo, was medalist in the event with a one-under-par 70 at the end of the first day's activities on Saturday. He failed to finish among the top ten, however, at the end of the tournament Monday.

Marvin Dick Jr., ex-University of Houston golfer, led at the end of 36 holes Sunday. Farquhar had been in contention during each round of the tournament, coming in one-stroke behind on both days of the event.

The tournament was blessed by excellent golf weather all four days, including the first day of practice on Friday.

Thirty-six hole totals Monday with the first two digits representing the final 18 holes and the final score, the total of 72 holes of golf in the championship flight.

Murphy Rallies For Golf Victory

By FRED MCMANE
UPI Sports Writer

CLIFTON, N.J. (UPI)—Young Bob Murphy, with a little bit of that Irish luck, is becoming quite adept at the makin' of the green.

The 25-year-old golfing whiz from Florida, a rookie on the pro tour this year, staged a brilliant come-from-behind victory Monday in the $150,000 Thunderbird Classic to pocket a $30,000 paycheck and become the richest first-year player in history.

But he needed some of that Irish luck to do it. Murphy had a two-stroke lead over Bob Lunn and was only a 50-yard wedge shot from the green on the 18th hole when a violent thunderstorm erupted and forced officials to suspend play with only two threesomes still on the course.

Finally, the rain subsided and after careful examination of the course play was resumed.

Murphy finished his round with a birdie on the final hole—his sixth of the day—and ended with an 11-under par 277 and a three-stroke triumph over Lunn and Australia's Bruce Crampton. But had the round been postponed, the entire field would have had to play again today and Murphy might have been out 30 grand.

"I love it, I love it," the likeable Murphy said after his closing round of 68 had given him his second straight victory on the tour. "Everything's happening right. It must be my time on earth."

Murphy won the Philadelphia Classic in his last outing after rain almost forced a day's postponement there, too. He has now earned $94,745.00 on the tour this year, breaking the previous high for a rookie of $41,868.95 by Jack Nicklaus in 1962.

While things went extremely well for Murphy, things went completely haywire for South Africa's Gary Player, who began Monday's round with a two-stroke lead over Murphy. Player, who putted magnificently in the first three rounds, went sour with his putter and bogeyed five holes to finish with a 76 that placed him in a tie for fifth with Nicklaus and Dan Sikes at five-under-par 283. Homero Blancas finished all alone in fourth place with six-under par 282.

Texas Horse Wins World's Richest Race

By PETE HERRERA
RUIDOSO, N.M. (UPI)—Racehorse owner Donald G. Strole of Abilene, Tex., was $160,372.80 richer today than he was Monday before his Three Oh's dashed 400 yards to win the All-American Futurity at Ruidoso Downs.

In the richest horse race in the world, Three Oh's covered up a bad start and ran the 400 yards in a record-breaking 20.06 seconds.

Other horses getting a major share of the $401,473.80 total purse were Lady Bug's Moon and Top Bug.

Three Oh's paid $8.20, $3.80 and $3.40. Lady Bug's Moon paid $4.20 and $3.60 and Top Bug paid $6.60.

Strole said he was "nervous" about the colt when he bought it a year ago.

"We felt it had the least number of mistakes in past performances," said Strole, explaining why he picked Three Oh's for the dash.

Three Oh's jockey Jerry Nicodemus was apparently nervous about the horse at the first of the race too.

"He broke awfully bad," Nicodemus said. "He had his head up in the air. But I got him back in without having to hit him. I only had to hit him twice near the wire."

Gibson Posts Shutout, 1-0

By AL DALY
UPI Sports Writer

How did Bob Gibson, the National League's premier hurler, and the St. Louis Cardinals, coasting along towards their second consecutive pennant, celebrate the powerful righthander's 20th victory? By cracking a few jokes.

Gibson blanked the Cincinnati Reds Monday night 1-0 for his 12th shutout of the season as Julian Javier socked a 10th inning home run off Ted Abernathy.

After the game, in what has to be the most carefree clubhouse in baseball, Card outfielder Bobby Tolson suggested that Gibson should get consideration for one of Baseball's awards.

"You should win the come-back of the year award," grinned Tolson. "You only won 13 games last year."

Gibson, who suffered a broken leg on a line drive hit by Roberto Clemente in 1967, was on the disabled list from July 15 to Sept. 4. His 13 victories last year was the lowest season total for the 32-year-old hurler since 1961 when he also collected 12 wins.

Jack Clancy, one of the Miami receivers who helped beat Philadelphia, underwent surgery Monday for a ruptured ligament in his knee and will be lost to the Dolphins for the season.

Two NFL trades were announced Monday. The Green Bay Packers acquired defensive end Leo Carroll and a future draft choice from the Atlanta Falcons for veteran receiver Bob Long and rookie running back Doug Goodwin.

The Cleveland Browns traded flanker Cliff McNeill to the San Francisco Forty-Niners for an undisclosed high draft choice and asked waivers on defensive end Gene Jackson of UTEP.

John Huarte, whom the New York Jets collected as a bonus baby out of Notre Dame and then discarded in favor of Joe Namath, connected on a 42-yard scoring pass to Ben Hawkins for Philadelphia's other touchdown.

The Eagles also scored in the other possible standard methods as Rick Dunsan kicked field goals of 12 and 46 yards and defensive end Mel Tom tackled Boston quarterback Mike Tallfero behind the goal line for a safety.

Tallfero, also escaping from the shadow of Namath, collaborated on one of Boston's three touchdowns as he passed 19 yards to Jim Whelan. The Pats posted their other scores on rookie quarterback Tom Sherman's 23-yard pass to Aaron Marsh and defensive back John Charles' runback of 63 yards with an intercepted Hill pass.

Philadelphia lost a previous interleague game to Miami 23-7 and took a 52-10 shellacking from Minnesota and a 20-3 pasting from Detroit. Boston dropped its record to 2-3 having previously beaten Miami 19-17.

Detroit split with Oakland dropping the first 4-0 and winning the second 4-3 in 10 innings. Minnesota beat Boston 5-1 and Cleveland beat California 4-2.

Don Lock's sixth inning single scored Doug Clemens with a winning run in the Phils first game victory. Clemens also drove in two runs to give reliever John Booser the second victory.

In the nightcap, Mike Ryan drove in two runs with his double and his first National League home run to give the Phillies the doubleheader sweep.

Veale Wins
Bob Veale limited the Astros to three hits and Donn Clendenon hit a bases-loaded triple in the Pirates first game triumph. Chris Cannizzaro singled in Bill Mazeroski from third base with the winning run in the second game. Bruce Dal Canton hurled the final two innings to gain his first triumph of the season.

The second game was tied 2-2 with the Braves leading in the top of the seventh inning.

Juan Marichal chalked up his 24th victory while allowing nine hits and four runs as the Giants clobbered four Cub pitchers for 17 hits. Jay Alou collected four hits and four RBI's and Jack Hiatt accounted for two runs with his fourth homer of the year.

In the second game Billy Williams hit his 23rd homer of the season in the bottom of the sixth inning to tie the game 3-1 and it was halted by darkness after nine innings.

RECORD SALE
ST. LOUIS (UPI)—A record sale of 39,331 season tickets perked up the St. Louis Cardinals last week as they prepared for the 1968 National Football League campaign. The total was almost 2,000 over 1966 and represented a rise of 2,899 over last year.

Questioning Court Nominees

The performances of Abe Fortas and Homer Thornberry under questioning of the U.S. Senate—raises a constitutional issue that requires a decision before any further consideration of Supreme Court appointments.

Both Johnson nominees decline to answer questions concerning legal opinions the two have rendered in their official capacity on the bench. Both say the separation of powers between the judicial, executive and legislative branches of the government prevents a judge from being questioned on his decisions by members of another branch of the government. They say this separation of power is a part of the Constitution itself.

Well, they touch on a plausible point. The Constitution does provide for a separation of powers. It also provides for a certain interrelation of powers. One aspect of that interrelation is that the President shall appoint judges with approval of the U.S. Senate. The constitutional independence, on one hand, from constitutional interrelation on the other.

The case for interrelation can be stated quite strongly. First, Fortas and Thornberry stand no different in their application for promotion than any other individual would stand, who seeks the same job. The record of any other person, not connected with the federal judiciary, would certainly be subject to review by the Senate if that body were asked to rule on his appointment to the highest court. By this theory, the records of Fortas and Thornberry do not lie outside the same purview. The fact these records happen to be involved with the federal judiciary is a mere coincidence of employment and affords no basis for sanctuary from discovery. Indeed, to claim sanctuary by virtue of previous occupation is to claim a special privilege on behalf of some applicant that other applicants do not enjoy. In this light, the judicial records of Fortas and Thornberry are exactly the same as though they were any other record. The authors of the Constitution cannot be supposed to have set up a system whereby the U.S. Senate is compelled to act with their eyes shut to information everyone knows is pertinent.

Second, whatever sanctuary Fortas and Thornberry may claim to have had through their service on the bench was by themselves destroyed by their errand-running for the executive branch of the three-branch government. If by some stretch of the mind it can be conceived that the Constitution set apart some chamber of the Republic, some secret place which no one durst examine, Fortas and Thornberry left the door open when they tiptoed over to the White House to see what the Presidential bidding would be. Their behavior invited the examination from which they now claim exemption. You can't argue "invasion of privacy," if you don't draw the blinds.

Which ever viewpoint you take, this much is certain: the issue is constitutional. To proceed with consideration of the appointments as if the obstacle did not exist would be to ignore a fact all parties are agreed on. The realistic procedure is first to debate and to decide the constitutional question of the Senate's rightful power to inquire. When that is settled the merit or demerit of President Johnson's preference will be in order.

'Conservative' Wallace

There's a "conservative" candidate for president who has been critical of federal government spending and federal controls. And a lot of folks who don't like the lack of conservatism in either the Republican or Democratic parties say they are going to vote for George Wallace.

We just happened to notice a couple of tabulations on government finances in the American Farm Bureau Federation's official news letter for Aug. 19. One was from the report of the Treasury Department of federal payments to state and local governments and individuals and private institutions in the various states. It showed that Alabama during 1966 received $143,902,840 in handouts from the federal treasury.

The other table was from the Bureau of the Census, U.S. Department of Commerce showing state revenues from various tax sources, exclusive of motor vehicle fuel and other "selective" taxes. It showed that Alabama collected from its own citizens $242,913,000 in taxes during 1966.

Thus of a total of nearly $387 million in government spending, the state tax payers paid nearly $243 million—36 per cent. The remaining nearly $144 million—37 per cent—came from all of the tax payers of the nation.

Fix Securities Dealers' Rates?

We see where the federal Securities and Exchange Commission is trying to crack down on the stock exchanges because they establish minimum stock brokerage rates for their members.

The New York Stock Exchange says elimination of the minimum charges would undermine the stability of the securities industry and reduce safeguards protecting investors.

Well, we are not in favor of fixing prices, but we wonder what business it is of government to be deciding what prices should be fixed and what should not be fixed. New York Stock Exchange officials point out, according to the Wall Street Journal that the current system was established by Congress in the 1934 Securities Act, and that "no administrative agency" has the authority to override the Congress. However, from the actions of various administrative agencies such as the National Labor Relations Board, we believe the bureaus already have established that they have more power than the Congress which created them.

might well look at the practices of the federal government. By its farm price programs it has been engaged in price fixing for years. The federal government also has adopted tariffs, which in effect fix the prices customers pay. It has so-called fair-trade laws which fix prices. It approves union coercive action in fixing the prices of labor.

There used to be a point of law which required a plaintiff in an action to have "clean hands," when he came to court. Maybe that rule of law should be applied to the government regulators.

HOW GOOD IS A GOVERNMENT PROMISE?

The retirement fund for federal employees is financed by 6.5 per cent of base salary, matched by an equal amount from the employer. The employer is, in this case, you: the taxpayer. Private pension and retirement funds are carefully supervised by government agencies, both state and federal, to assure sound investment policies so that current and future pensioners will receive their monthly pensions based on the pension contract. Not so with the federal pension fund.

The Civil Service Commission has revealed that the unfunded liability of the federal pension fund is up to $53.9 billion. At recent Congressional hearings, according to an Associated Press story from Washington, "witness after witness testified that unless the financing system is revised, the present $19 billion retirement fund will be broke by 1968 and benefits will have to be paid primarily by direct yearly appropriations. . . Government officials say the government's promise in law to pay the benefits is just as good as its promise to pay off on a bond or other federal security."

Any banker who keeps his bank solvent looks carefully at the record of a prospective borrower. Did he keep his promise to pay previous borrowings as stipulated in the note or contract? If not, it's "Sorry, Joe, we can't trust you with our depositor's money."

With the vast sums collected annually from government employees for their pension fund, and the far greater sums collected through social security taxes from non-government employees and their employers, the federal government as a debtor should welcome careful scrutiny of its payment record on previous promissory notes. Unfortunately, it's a sorry record. A private citizen with as bad a record of payment on promises as the federal government's, would probably find the pawn shop his only source of cash. Since 1932, the federal government has reneged on its promises so many times that its creditors should take literally the statement that the government's promise in law to pay the benefits is just as good as its promise to pay off on a bond or other federal security and no better.

The two outstanding examples of the government's willingness to break its promises in recent years are:
(1) The calling in of all gold coins and gold certificates at the beginning of the "New Deal." A $20 gold certificate in 1933 could be exchanged for a $20 gold piece at the U.S. Treasury or at any bank. Two years later, all gold coins and gold certificates were called in to the Treasury and holders of gold were given Federal Reserve notes or other paper currency in exchange. In 1934, the price of gold was fixed at $35 an ounce, 70 per cent higher than when U.S. citizens were forced to exchange gold for paper.

(2) In 1967, the government announced that silver certificates would be redeemed in silver priced at $1.29 an ounce, until June 24, 1968. Many holders of silver certificates received less than pure silver and some received certificates for later redemption.

During the entire period from the invalidation of gold and the later demonetization of silver, the government inflated the currency, making the substitute for gold and silver worthless each year. Mr. Russell Leffingwell, former assistant secretary of the U.S. Treasury, wrote in April 1934: "It is most unfortunate that valid contracts entered into should have to be interfered with by the act of the government. When, however, a national emergency. . . compelled the government to stop gold payments on its currency, which was redeemable in gold, then it seems that there was nothing for the government to do but to go the whole way." The emergency Mr. Leffingwell referred to resulted from other actions of the government.

Will it be any different in the future? There is plenty of evidence that beneficiaries of government pensions and social security payments have something to worry about.

WASHINGTON:

Czechs Were Lured In The Hope They Would Be Free

By RAY CROMLEY
Washington Correspondent
WASHINGTON (NEA)—The lesson of Czechoslovakia is simple:

Totalitarian propaganda, even when handled by men as expert as the Russians and the old Czech professionals, is not so powerful as the Western philosophy of freedom, however ineptly dispensed.

The Russians have had their way in Czechoslovakia for 20 years. Communists control the government, the army, the police and the schools. This generation was raised on totalitarian precepts.

Yet, in the end, these teachings could only be enforced with Russian armor.

If this reasoning is correct, it offers the United States tremendous opportunities, at costs far less than we are paying in Vietnam. But it illustrates once again that the United States government is not prepared to handle success.

Washington did not know what to do when Hungary erupted, when the East Germans revolted or when Ulbricht built The Wall to prevent his professional men and skilled technicians from leaving.

He faced the same situation in South Vietnam as Brezhnev did in Czechoslovakia, and "solved" it the same way as the Russians by invasion.

And he really went great guns when it came to running all the Yippies out of the park. You couldn't expect him to pass up a chance like that to create trouble and show how big his foot is.

But I think he flummoxed up any chances of getting another convention there because of the way he secured the delegates. He had so much security it took the registered delegates two hours to get into the hall. Then after they got in they walked out.

One delegate tried to carry a newspaper into the convention and they took it away from him. They were bound to suppress the news from both ends. If that bunch of cattle that locked horns in the hall represents the top Democrats of the country, with Daly as one of the head cheeses, then I would sure hate to see them if they won the elections.

There's a new telephonedictation system that may in time make an efficient secretary as obsolete as the covered wagon. The system can serve up to 200 executives who simply dial an assigned phone number and start dictating whenever it's convenient.

The sound of the voice activates a recorder. The subscriber can use the phone number from his office, his home, a pay station or long distance. Typed transcriptions of his dictation can be delivered to him in four hours, or faster if he requests it. One firm that subscribed to the new service soon found it could dispense with 19 secretaries and saved $75,000 a year.

Today's smile: A youngster rushed into a drugstore and yelled: "My father's being chased by a big police dog." The clerk asked excitedly: "What can I do about it?" The youngster replied: "Quick, stupid, but some film in my camera."

A lot of guys go to a lot of trouble to establish records that have little meaning. Take for example Pierre Labric, a French newspaperman, who must have been hard up for a story. Back in 1923 he rode his bicycle down the 347 steps that lead to the first platform of the Eiffel Tower in Paris. His time was three minutes, 17 seconds. To date no one has tried to break his record. It's unlikely anyone will try.

Thoughts while shaving: Penmanship is a lost art these days, but we can remember when at least 15 minutes a day was devoted to learning the Palmer Method. During that period we did exercises that were not much better than doodling and when it was time to take up some other subject everyone, including the teacher, went back to their own way of scribbling.

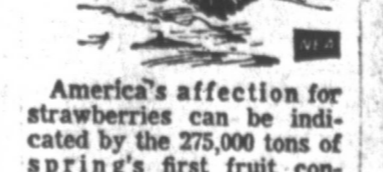

Country Editor speaking: "That old fairy tale about the goose that laid the golden eggs is rapidly losing its impact. Today's youngsters are discovering what Daddy's generation did to the gold standard."

Winton Six, a car that could hit 30 mph. . . The Chicago (Ill.) TRIBUNE reported in a story: "Starting as a Bridewell guard in 1922, he became head of the county jail in 1934." No doubt that has something to do with feeding at the public trough.

Country Editor speaking: "That old fairy tale about the goose that laid the golden eggs is rapidly losing its impact. Today's youngsters are discovering what Daddy's generation did to the gold standard."

America's affection for strawberries can be indicated by the 275,000 tons of spring's first fruit consumed in 1967, the World Almanac says. But a more expressive appreciation of strawberries was Elizabethan Dr. William Butler's pean: "Doubtless God could have made a better berry, but doubtless God never did."

Sensing The News

By THURMAN SENSING

A CEASE FIRE GAMBIT?
Reports in the press that President Johnson may order a cease fire in Vietnam during the Democratic nominating convention or at least before the election in order that he may insure the nomination and election of Hubert Humphrey should be profoundly disturbing to all Americans, irrespective of party affiliation.

For anyone to play politics with the lives of American fighting men in Vietnam would be an outrage that should send a shock wave of indignation through the American people. Yet political ambition and party zeal sometimes take terrible forms. In this case, a cease fire in Vietnam could expose the half million Americans in Vietnam to terrible new dangers. In addition, such an order would make a sham of all that the United States has been trying to do in the Asian struggle.

More than 26,000 Americans have lost their lives in the Vietnam war. In one sense, they already have been betrayed by the Johnson administration, which has refused to push for a victory over the communists and which has cut back on the bombing of North Vietnam while the Reds step up their urban terrorism—including rocket attacks—against Saigon and other South Vietnamese cities.

It is tragic that the American people have had to bear the burdens of a "no win" war policy, as decreed by the White House. Not only has it resulted in a waste of American lives and untold billions of dollars, but the "no win" policy has encouraged defeatists to urge even more humiliating conditions for ending the struggle. Thus Senator Eugene McCarthy (D-Minn.) a know-nothing who ignores all the lessons of past dealings with the communist, favors a coalition government of South Vietnam that would hand that country to the Reds and make the United States the laughing stock of the world. One wonders what parents of servicemen killed in Vietnam think when they read of Senator McCarthy's proposal for a "coalition" regime. They may properly ask: Why did my son give his life in Vietnam?

The families of U.S. servicemen in Vietnam—and the families of those who died fighting there—should now realize that their sons and brothers and fathers were stabbed in the back by weak, fearful men in the White House and the higher

The Almanac

By United Press International
Today is Tuesday, Sept. 3, the 247th day of 1968 with 119 to follow.

The moon is between its first quarter and full phase. The morning star is Mars. The evening stars are Saturn and Venus.

On this day in history:
In 1783 the American Revolutionary War ended officially with the signing of a peace treaty in Paris.

In 1878 a woman was employed as a telephone operator for the first time when Miss Emma Nutt took over the switch-board in Boston.

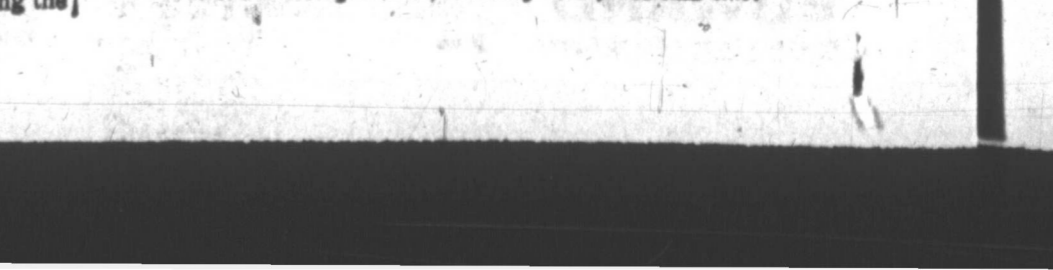

In 1925 the U.S. naval dirigible "Shenandoah", on a trip from Lakehurst N.H., to St. Paul, Minn., was torn to pieces in a storm over Ava, Ohio, killing 14 crewmen.

In 1939 Great Britain declared war on Germany.

In 1943 the allies invaded Italy in World War II.

A thought for the day: British writer, Norman Douglas, once said, "Many a man who thinks he found a home discovers that he merely opened a tavern for his friends."

Rifle Fires Accidentally; Kills Woman

ROLLA, Mo. (UPI)—Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Cook of Newburg, Mo., went squirrel hunting Sunday with their two small children who bought two baby pigs at Elk Prairie.

On the trip home from the outing a .22 rifle in the trunk of the car apparently discharged killing Mrs. Cook.

Her 24-year-old husband quoted her as saying, "Oh, My God, it hurts," as she slumped forward in the front seat.

Cook rushed the 20-year-old woman to Rolla where she was pronounced dead.

The patrol said the pigs were placed in burlap sacks in the trunk along with the rifle.

Apparently one pig came in contact with the rifle and the bullet passed through the back and front seats, striking Mrs. Cook in the back.

Television In Review

By RICK DU BROW
HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Aside from those worn out relics of the bad old days, the circus-like political conventions, television offered other developments during August. None of these developments was as significant as the conventions, but on the other hand none of them will drive you to drink either.

There was, for example, the announcement that Merv Griffin, who has a syndicated talk-and-variety series, will preside over a late-night show of the same sort on CBS-TV in the 1969-70 season. He will thus be in head-on competition with NBC-TV's Johnny Carson and ABC TV's Joey Bishop and the stations that are running short of old late night movies can breathe a little easier. Idle midnight chatter, meanwhile, will increase by about a third.

Parr Appearance Scheduled
A couple of other television talkers were also in the video news. Dick Cavett, whose morning ABC-TV show soothes itself with the critical praise that has to substitute for rather ordinary ratings, was picked up by the network at least through Nov. 29. And Jack Parr, whose television appearances are at a premium these days, was set as a guest for the Sept. 25 season opener of CBS-TV's Jonathan Winters series. No one has ever brought out Winters' best as much as Parr has.

Over at NBC-TV, where three weekly movie nights this season will prove that television is better than ever, the first Saturday film—Sept. 21—was firmed up, and it is a honey: "Becket," with Richard Burton and Peter O'Toole.

Ease Timing
NBC-TV also offered a blow

for common sense in video a play by Rod Serling called "Certain Honorable Men," airing Sept. 12, will run four to eight minutes longer than its scheduled 90 minutes. The idea of loosening television's restrictive conventional time limits is very welcome.

The same network, meanwhile, revealed that the "Hallmark Hall of Fame" series will begin its season Nov. 20 with an original drama by David Mark, "A Punt, A Pass and A Prayer," about a former quarterback, sidelined by an injury, who tries to enter bigtime football again. Hugh O'Brian stars, and Ralph Nelson, who directed the movie "Lilies of the Field," will guide the 90-minute production.

CBS-TV, by the way, will present on Sept. 10 a one-hour documentary called "The Football Scholars," described as tracing "how a pigskin leads to a sheepskin," and focusing on high school athletes being courted to the halls of Ivy.

NOT EXPLOSIVE

Not explosive, they decided, and passed him on in.

10-Year-Old Wants To Be A Movie Star

CORPUS CHRISTI (UPI)—Gary Owens, 10, wants to be a movie star.

He got a taste of the art in August when he was chosen for a bit part in "Midnight Cowboy," a modern-type western being produced in the vicinity of Big Spring.

Initially, his brother, Stanley, 5, was chosen for the part, but wound up as a standby for his cousin, Tom Marlowe Jr., of Big Spring, who appeared in two scenes. The youngsters portrayed the movie's star, John Voight, at the ages of 5 and 9.

Gary's father, Robert L. Owens of Corpus Christi, said the youngster always has wanted to be an actor, and the part in the western only whetted his appetite.

Gary and Stanley landed their roles by accident.

The Owens family was vacationing in Big Spring when they heard about the filming at a downtown location.

Owens took his boys and the family was watching film crews in a scene inside a cafe. Gary climbed a ladder to get a better view through a window. A woman inside saw the boy and winked at him. He winked back. She motioned for him to come inside.

Later, the two emerged and the woman asked Owens to let Gary audition for the 9-year-old part. By then, Mrs. Owens showed up with Stanley and the crew decided they wanted both boys to audition.

Director John Schlesinger said he had looked all over Big Spring for boys to fit the part. He settled on the Owens youngsters, their cousin, and an 8-year-old from Odessa.

London Pushes Panda Romance

LONDON (UPI)—Russia's most welcome visitor to London was insulted.

"He's too fat," said a young girl of An-An, the only male giant panda in the western world. "Much too whiskery," commented a woman. "Nothing near as pretty as Chi-Chi."

Chi-Chi, the London Zoo's female giant panda, was reported in "a furious temper" throughout the day Sunday. Zookeepers were elated with her ire, calling it a healthy sign she might welcome An-An's amorous advances when the chain fence now between them comes down.

All attempts at romance during Chi-Chi's visit to An-An in Moscow two years ago were testily rejected by the London panda, whose name in Chinese means "naughty little girl."

This time zookeepers hope she will be more amenable in her home paddock and conspire with An-An to bring forth the West's first baby giant panda.

Sharks Don't Really Like To Eat Folks

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Shark expert Dr. Shelton Applegate doesn't advise sharks as swimming companions, but he's convinced they don't really like to eat people.

"It's my opinion that most sharks take one bite of human flesh, find they don't like it, and spit it out," Applegate remarked Sunday.

"This is probably the reason that some people survive shark attacks."

Applegate, a curator at the Los Angeles County Museum of Natural History, thinks sharks usually bite swimmers in the belief they are some strange kind of fish.

The sharks that attack humans, he points out, usually are types that feed on such mammals as seals or porpoise, and go after people by mistake.
