Military Junta Is Set Up In Panama After Early Morning Coup

In 'Eyeball-To-Eyeball Combat'

Reds Attack S. Viet Force

By ALVIN B. WEBB
 SAIGON (UPI)—South Vietnamese troops in a relief force heading toward the Green Beret camp at Thuong Duc fought 2,000 North Vietnamese regulars Saturday in combat described as "eyeball to eyeball." The battle raged into the night at hand grenade range. Allied spokesmen reported at least 54 North Vietnamese killed in the big fight two miles from Thuong Duc, an outpost 25 miles southwest of Da Nang which sits astride a main Communist infiltration route. South Vietnamese losses were four killed and 14 wounded, spokesmen said.

Second Battle
 It was the second battle of the day in the Thuong Duc area.

Top News In Brief

ARLINGTON, Tex. (UPI)—Republican gubernatorial candidate Paul Eggers will kick off the final week of Presidential Forum 1068 at the University of Texas at Arlington Monday.

Other speakers during the week will include U.S. Rep. Gerald Ford of Michigan, House minority leader; NBC newsmen Sander Vanocur, State Department representative David Mark, U.S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough, and U.S. Reps. Jim Collins of Dallas and Eob Price of Pampa.

HOUSTON (UPI)—William C. Carroll, the world's 36th heart transplant recipient and the first by Dr. Michael DeBakey, underwent surgery to correct a duodenal ulcer Saturday at Methodist Hospital.

LONDON (UPI)—Beatle John Lennon and his girl friend, artist Yoko Ono, appear naked in a photograph on the cover of their new record album, "The Virgin."

SANTA ISABEL, Equatorial Guinea (UPI)—Spain's Equatorial Guinea Saturday became Africa's 38th country to attain independence since World War II.

President Francisco Macias Nguema and Spanish Minister of Information Manuel Fraga Iribarne, acting as foreign minister, signed a document providing for the transfer of power.

PRAGUE (UPI)—The Russians Saturday announced plans for publishing a Prague newspaper aimed at countering anti-Soviet feeling in Czechoslovakia. Many Czechoslovaks reacted angrily to the idea, saying the newspaper was merely another illegal propaganda act to be used by the Soviets as a tool in discrediting Czechoslovakia's progressive movement.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield said Saturday that if the prospects improve, he would not object to a special post-session Senate session to consider the nuclear non-proliferation treaty.

The Senate finished its work Friday without considering the treaty despite President Johnson's warning that he might summon senators back to ratify the pact.

Before dawn, a North Vietnamese force stormed a night defensive position manned by U.S. Marines five miles north of the camp, killing eight Americans and wounding 20 before being driven off. The Marines reported killing 31 North Vietnamese.

Monsoon rain turned the Thuong Duc area into a quagmire as the 4,000-man allied relief force tried to reach the camp and crush the Communist threat to it. Loss of Thuong Duc would open the way to the possibility of a major Communist offensive on Da Nang, South Vietnam's second largest city and the site of a major U.S. air base.

U.S. commanders said rain, thick clouds and fog produced by the winter monsoon can be expected to affect military operations in South Vietnam's northern quarter and the panhandle area of North Vietnam for the next five months.

Raids Curtailed
 Poor flying weather curtailed American air raids against the panhandle Friday, but the U.S. Navy battleship New Jersey was unhampered by the weather.

The New Jersey, only battleship in action in the world, made its northernmost run and opened up with its big 16-inch guns against a North Vietnamese truck convoy in the panhandle. The New Jersey began its first firing missions against North Vietnam on Sept. 30.

In other developments, scattered fighting erupted Friday west of Saigon and in the Mekong Delta where the shifting monsoons were letting up. Troops of the U.S. 9th Infantry Division reported killing at least 41 Communists Friday with the help of helicopter gunships southwest of Saigon near Rach Kien. Five Americans were killed.

Near Trang Dang, 28 miles northwest of Saigon, men of the U.S. 25th Infantry Division which ran into a Communist force Thursday reported killing 26 Reds Friday at a cost of six Americans killed and 16 wounded.

Apollo 7 In Rendezvous With Discarded Rocket

AT HEADQUARTERS OPENING — Local Republican candidates gathered around congressional candidate Bob Price at Saturday's opening of Gray County Republican headquarters here. Left to right are Buddy Cockrell for county commissioner in Pct. 1, George Cree Jr., GOP county chairman; Price; Ben Sturgeon for county attorney; Homer Gibson for justice of peace in Pct. 2; and James Lewis for constable. Price Helps To Open G.O.P. Headquarters

Congressman Bob Price came home from Washington Saturday to join with local candidates in the official opening of Gray County Republican campaign headquarters here at 127 N. Cuyler.

Price made a flying trip from Canadian to assist in the opening and took off 45 minutes later for an appearance at the Cotton Festival in Hedley where he spoke at 2:30 p.m. From Hedley the congressman went to Stratford where he addressed a Farm Bureau meeting last night.

Price was to return to Pampa to be on hand at a coffee for Mrs. Paul Eggers, wife of the Republican candidate for governor, at 4 p.m. today in the home of Mrs. Clyde Fatheree. The congressman was due to leave for Amarillo late this afternoon to fly back to Washington in order to be in attendance at Monday's session of the house of Representatives.

Re-Hearing Set For Wednesday In Vessels Case

By JEFF HOLLADAY
 Pampa News Staff Writer
 A re-hearing on the Tom R. Vessels rape case is slated for Wednesday in the Court of Criminal Appeals in Austin — the state's highest appellate court for criminal matters.

The re-hearing was granted by the court after Dist. Attorney Bill Waters appealed a July 24 decision which granted Vessels' appeal for re-hearing, set aside affirmation of his conviction and remanded the case.

Vessels was convicted in district court here in October, 1966, for the rape of a Pampa housewife and assessed a death sentence.

In reversing an earlier affirmation, the court said in its July 24 ruling:

"A further study of the record convinces us that this individual was denied the effective assistance of counsel."

The court's remanding order means that the case would again be sent to district court here, although a change of venue would likely move the case elsewhere.

Vessels, now 32, is presently serving a three-year sentence in the state penitentiary in Huntsville for the attempted rape of a Randall County woman.

Meeting On 'Pampa Plan' Slated

Another in the series of meetings to review proposals on the Pampa comprehensive plan is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the Palm Room of City Hall. City Manager Charles Hill announced Saturday.

Marvin Springer of Dallas, planning consultant employed by the city, will conduct the session called to discuss proposed zoning standards which have been incorporated into a city ordinance.

The zoning standards book includes a statement setting forth the purpose of the zoning ordinance which reads as follows:

"Zoning regulations and districts as herein established have been made in accordance with a comprehensive plan for the purpose of promoting the health, safety, morals and general welfare of the city."

They have been designed to lessen congestion in the streets, secure safety from fire,

For 3rd Time, President Is Ousted

By WILLIAM GORISHEK
 PANAMA CITY (UPI)—Two national guard colonels Saturday established a military junta to rule Panama following an early morning coup while troops set up sand-bagged machine gun nests at several key intersections.

In the Canal Zone, only two miles from the presidential palace, President Arnulfo Arias met with his cabinet and issued a statement saying he would soon be back in office.

Third Ouster
 The coup was the third time in his storied political career Arias had been ousted as president of Panama. He had just taken office 12 days ago.

The National Guard announced that a two-man junta of Col. Bolivar Urrutia and Col. Jose Maria Infiesta would take control of the country.

Troops in full battle dress fanned out through the capital and ordered passersby on the street to "move along or 'go indoors.'" The capital remained calm but Panamanians feared rioting would erupt after sunset.

Traffic was sparse but restricted in only three areas of the capital—around the presidential palace, Arias private (See PANAMA, Page 3)

Mock Space 'Rescue' Completed By Crew

By EDWARD K. DELONG
 UPI Space Writer
 SPACE CENTER, Houston (UPI) — The crew of Apollo 7, using a mighty rocket that "really socks it to you," raced Saturday to a successful mock rescue of moon explorers stranded in space.

"That's a real kick in the fanny," called ailing Apollo 7 commander Walter Schirra as the three-man spacecraft's big rocket slammed them toward a rendezvous with the burned-out second stage of their Saturn 1 booster — representing a drifting lunar lander.

Apollo 7, steering visually, pulled to within 70 feet of the wildly tumbling rocket stage at 5:03 p.m. EDT in the "beautiful" second day of the mission. The maneuver, most intricate and spectacular test planned for the 11-day, 163-orbit flight, went off perfectly.

Fights Cold
 But Schirra was still fighting the first head cold in space. He said he would follow his doctor's orders radioed from earth "until we land, run out (of medicine) or feel better."

So critical was the rendezvous to hopes for a Christmas flight around the moon that Schirra refused to switch on the television camera aboard Apollo 7.

"I refused to foul up our time lines that way," he snapped to his boss, astronaut chief Donald Slayton. Later Schirra agreed to turn on the cameras on Monday morning to give earth viewers a glimpse of Schirra and his crewmen, Donn Eisele and Walt Cunningham.

After completing the 20-minute rendezvous, Schirra reported one window of the spacecraft fogged over and three others developing heavy film, although the fifth was "beautiful."

They were covered with mysterious "space dust" and (See MOCK, Page 3)

Terrorists In Brazil Kill US Soldier

SAO PAULO, Brazil (UPI)—A U.S. Army officer was machine-gunned to death as his son watched today by two terrorists who scattered leaflets denouncing the "criminal" war in Vietnam before escaping.

The officer was identified by U.S. military authorities as Capt. Charles W. Chandler of Arcadia, La. The US Consulate said Chandler was the father of four children, including one born in Brazil where he was studying the Portuguese language under a private grant.

Chandler was shot down outside his home in the residential suburb of A Sumare as he was walking to his car. Police said his nine-year-old son saw his father cut down by the assassins who fled in a white Volkswagen with no license plates.

The consulate said anti-Vietnam War pamphlets were found scattered around Chandler's body, reading: "Revolutionary justice executes Vietnam War criminals and warns all followers that one day they will pay their debts to the revolutionary court."

A consulate spokesman said Chandler was not attached to any U.S. military advisory group in Brazil but was studying Portuguese under a retired Army general. The spokesman said Chandler hoped to teach the language to cadets at West Point.

Police said Chandler was hit by six bullets. State and federal police and Brazilian army agents were investigating the slaying.

MANILA (UPI) — Philippine National Police Saturday held the skipper of a sunken inter-island ferry for possible criminal charges as an air-sea search was pressed for more survivors.

Navy authorities said about 100 passengers of the ferry were missing. At least 286 persons were rescued. The Philippine News Service said 16 bodies were recovered.

Prairie Trails & Pioneer Tales

By TRACY D. CAREY
Chairman, Gray County Historical Survey Committee — Box 676

PAMPA BEAUTY SPOTS
One of the most enjoyable features about living in Gray County and especially in Pampa is the abundance of beautiful yards, gardens, and parks which are to be found in all quadrants of the area. . . . four of these are so outstanding, they deserve special mention. . . . to drive along Starkweather St. and see the stately clumps of PAMPAS GRASS growing in the beautiful patio setting of the CENTRAL BAPTIST CHURCH is an inspiring scene, and we can understand how impressed GEORGE TYNG, who gave PAMPA its name, must have been when he first saw these unusual plants growing in abundance on the PAMPAS OF ARGENTINA where he lived before he came here in the late 1800's. . . . to see the tall shaggy tressed stalks waving in the wind makes us appreciate the effort of Pampa's GARDEN CLUBS to promote wider cultivation of the plant which has been adopted as Pampa's official flower. . . . we understand that LOY STUDEBAKER, former Pampa now Head of the Department of Horticulture of the TULSA CITY PARKS, was greatly responsible for arousing local interest in PAMPAS GRASS.

Of the thousands of trees in the city there are two outstanding and inspiring examples. . . . located at the northeast corner of the PAMPA HOTEL is a white-poplar FOUR and ONE-HALF STORIES TALL. . . . planted by the late ALEX SCHNEIDER when the SCHNEIDER HOTEL opened in 1927 the tree is nearly as tall as the hotel itself. . . . Perhaps no other tree or shrub has been more cursed and discussed in the Panhandle as has been the lowly CHINESE ELM. . . . we recall one pioneer lady stating, "the Chinese didn't have to send any secret weapon successfully conquer us, all they had to do was send those damned Chinese Elms". . . . MRS. H. H. BOYNTON, who has one of the most attractive gardens in Pampa at her residence, 1005 Hobart St., has a complete different story to tell. . . . back in the 1930's when the dust storm and droughts were so bad throughout the southwest it was very difficult to get anything to grow. . . . THE GARDEN CLUB of Pampa in 1936 initiated the project of giving a young tree to each 1st grade pupil. . . . there was a choice of either a cherry tree or an elm. . . . the BOYNTON'S daughter, BETTY ANE (now MRS. FRANK RANDSEN of GOLDEN, CO.) a student at HORACE ANN SCHOOL, was presented with a young Chinese Elm by the principal, MISS JOSEPHINE THOMAS. . . . MRS. BOYNTON recalls that the tree was planted in March of 1936 and soon had a few leaves at the top. . . . the growth was precarious and next to disastrous, when one of the horses plowing the garden bent over and bit the top off the little elm. . . . this caused the tree to spread out at the bottom and today it is one of the few trees we have ever seen to have SEVEN LARGE BRANCHES. . . . in tree-lore a seven-branched tree is a sacred tree and this one is so regarded by the BOYNTONS and their friends. . . . According to the BOYNTONS 60-70 per cent of the food supply of a tree comes from the leaves. . . . since it is a practice here to prune the limbs rather severely, this destroys the food supply and the elms then put out feeder roots near the ground surface. . . . this causes interference with sidewalks and sewer lines. . . . the BOYNTON ELM, however, has never been topped nor has it ever interfered with the sewer lines which pass within two feet of the tree. . . . so the secret seems to be to give an elm plenty of room and loving care if you want to have a garden masterpiece like the BOYNTON ELM.

One of the most heavily traveled Prairie Trails is Hobart Street here in Pampa, and if you have wondered who is responsible for all the majestic grandeur of the Dahlia Bed in front of 325 N. Hobart the honors go to A. D. ROBINSON. . . . something outstanding is always blooming there and in season his red and purple CLEMATIS is a burst of color. . . . ELECTION NEWS 1922
J. R. MITCHELL of SAN PEDRO, CALIF., has given us a copy of the March 10, 1922 PAMPA WEEKLY NEWS containing an interesting story of one candidate's troubles. . . . "A candidate for office in a certain Georgia county is said to have filed the following itemized account of the expenses in the campaign:
Lost 1,349 hours of sleep thinking about the election. . . . lost two front teeth and a lot of hair in a personal encounter with an opponent. . . . donated one beef, four shoals and five sheep to a country barbecue. . . . gave away two pairs of suspenders, four calico dresses, $5 in cash and thirteen baby rattles. . . . kissed 126 babies. . . . kindled 14 fires, put up four stoves, walked 4,076 miles. . . . shook hands with 9,506 persons. . . . told 10,101 lies, and talked enough to make in print 1,000 volumes. . . . attended

16 revival meetings and was baptized four times by immersion and twice some other way. . . . contributed $50 to foreign missions, courted nine grass widows, got dog bit 29 times, and was defeated. . . . 1922 POTPOURRI
The neighborhood news items for the week of March 10, 1922 state: FRED YOUNG, who is attending law school at the State University, was here this week on a short visit with home folks and friends. . . . DAVE DAVIS had some harness stolen last week, and the same returned to him the following night. . . . strange, but true. . . . L. E. (LES) SALTZMAN, former proprietor of the Pampa Garage is now connected with the ROSE MOTOR CO. . . . Guard your stomach, it is the foundation of health and disease—the world's most famous stomach medicine is TANLAC. . . . PAMPA DRUG COMPANY. . . . MISS BIRDIE SHORT has returned from Wichita, Kans., where she has been attending business college. . . . COPELAND BROTHERS show is holding forth at the CRESCENT THEATRE this week. . . . they have been here several times before and have a good troupe. . . . Our efficient nightwatchman, E. B. BALDWIN recently came in to tell an egg story that puts all the rest in the shade. . . . he says they had a banty hen at their place that was raised a pet and when selecting a nest she located in the kitchen wood box, so MRS. BALDWIN was able to keep pretty close tab on her. One day she laid one egg and the next day, two. Not to be outdone on her fine record, she laid three eggs on the next day—and then flopped over and died. . . . Our HIGH SCHOOL enrollment this year is 135 over last year's 125, the total enrollment for the year is near 500. . . . REV. JASPER BOGUE, district evangelist for the Christian churches was in Pampa the first of the week. . . . Everybody who tries TANLAC has something good to say about it. . . . Among those reported on the sick list this week are: MRS. J. C. VICARS, A. GORENFLO, the ROY MOORE FAMILY, CHESTER HUNKAPILLAR, O. M. ANDERSON, DR. A. COLE, MRS. H. R. WHATLEY, MRS. P. J. MERRILL, MRS. E. L. ELDRIDGE, and the eldest son of R. H. CRUMP. . . . Some Pampans are tough, one man advertises he is so tough, he can walk a barbed wire fence barefooted, with a wildcat under each arm, looking for a rattlesnake to jump on—AMARILLO BETTER WATCH OUT!

Foreign News Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst
est Germany is tired of being the whipping boy for the Soviet Union. It also is tired of the arrogance of President Charles de Gaulle of France. . . . West Germany is tired of Georg Kiesinger demonstrated as much in two recent speeches. He described as "simply grotesque" Soviet charges that Bonn's East European policy was aimed against Moscow. He further served notice on De Gaulle that West Germany would not act as France's servant within the European Common Market. . . . He suggested tartly to the Russians that they might do better to seek some common ground in which the two might "even work together."

The West Germans have decided they must live with De Gaulle awhile, even though the meeting between De Gaulle and Kiesinger a fortnight ago was more formal than friendly. . . . Especially irritating to the West Germans was a De Gaulle suggestion that they might have tried to go too far too fast in attempting to mind their relations with the smaller Warsaw Pact nations. . . . The implication was that the Germans thus has aroused Soviet suspicions which were climaxed by the invasion of Czechoslovakia. . . . In the power of the veto De Gaulle has discovered the greatest weapon against Britain since the Napoleonic era, and he used it again in Bonn, flatly refusing a suggestion that Britain's economy had recovered sufficiently so that preliminary steps might be undertaken for her eventual entry into the Common Market. . . . Of the market's six members, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands, Luxembourg, France and West Germany, only West Germany is strong enough to challenge De Gaulle. . . . But to do so might bring down the whole economic structure of Western Europe, a risk the Germans are not yet willing to take. . . . So for the moment, they swallowed their pride. . . . Despite the fact that Kiesinger's irritation showed through—"our Eastern policy was open and clear for everyone"—his challenge to the Russians was a positive one. . . . It meant that, despite the Czechoslovak crisis, Germany intended to seek a dialogue with the East.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—Hornblower — Weeks-Hemphill, Noyes says that as result of present buoyant consumer attitudes, the economy may not show visible signs of cooling off over the next two to three months, with the result there may be further improvement in investment sentiment. It makes the observation that the shorter-term trend beyond the early weeks of 1969 may be "significantly influenced" by policies of the new administration, which could be tempted to let existing restrictive policies have their impact early in the new President's term, thus paving the way for "a sound basis of longer-term economic growth without the penalty of excessive price inflation."

Scheinman Timing Forecasts notes that the experts have been suggesting a presidential victory for Richard M. Nixon as reason for the market's recent upsurge "but current blowoff action . . . faces the prospect of tight money under Nixon." The analyst observes that Nixon has come out in favor of other "deflationary measures" which "while possibly good for the country over the longer term, may be bearish for the stock market over the shorter term."

Flor, Bolland — Smyth says it expects many stocks to return to "more realistic levels" in the coming weeks, pointing out that in November we should start receiving the first figures on performance of American business during the summer. The company anticipates that earnings of many companies should "produce anguish" among market buying enthusiasts and "their reaction could provide a test for the market."

Nixon Tells What He Will Do As President

By LOUIS CASSELS
WITH NIXON CAMPAIGN (UPI)—When he is elected president—in his mind there is no longer any "if" about it—Richard M. Nixon says he will devote all of his formidable energy to ending the war in Vietnam. . . . He believes it can be done in less than a year, perhaps in five or six months. But he will make no campaign promises that effect because he knows that if the new president is publicly committed to stopping the war by a certain date the enemy can exact concessions in the peace negotiations merely by stalling for time.

Nixon's off-the-platform views about Vietnam, the current election campaign and several other topics were communicated to this reporter during a long and relaxed conversation aboard his campaign plane, the Tricia, as he made a jet-age barnstorming tour of the Deep South. . . . Notes Changing Situation
The Republican presidential candidate has no magic formula, no secret plan, for bringing the war to an honorable end. He intends to employ whatever diplomatic strategy seems most likely to yield results in the circumstances prevailing at the time. His reluctance to talk now about such specific measures as a bombing halt, while doubtless prompted in part by political prudence, also reflects his conviction that circumstances may change so greatly before the new administration takes over next January, that it is foolish to make a strategy commitment now. . . . Nixon will give top priority to ending the war because he is satisfied that there can be no real progress toward solution of this country's urgent domestic and international problems until its costly, divisive involvement in Vietnam is honorably liquidated. . . . But in private conversation, as in public speeches, he bears down hard on the word "honorably." We cannot simply pull out of Vietnam, he says, however tempting that easy out may appear. He is determined to hold out for a viable peace settlement that can avert the need of a new American intervention with a few years. . . . Relaxed, Rested Campaigner

Nixon was relaxed and amiable throughout our talk in his private compartment of the chartered jet. For a man in the middle of a gruelling election campaign, he seemed remarkably rested and free of tension. . . . This poise is something he's worked hard to achieve—it's part of the "new Nixon"—but it also stems from his confidence that he has this election won. He is so certain of victory that he doesn't talk like a candidate, even in private. He talks like a president-elect.

Student Council To Make Bid For President

The Pampa High School Student Council has submitted its name to the Texas Association of Student Councils as a candidate for state president for the year 1969-70.

Student body President John Karr stated the position would be sought by the entire school at the state convention. In the event Pampa wins the election, the local student body would then select the person who would hold the office. On Oct. 19, 28 members of the high school student council will go to Amarillo to attend the Top-of-Texas District Convention, where they will solicit the endorsement of the district for their candidacy concerning the state office.

The TASC state convention will be held in Amarillo next spring, when the statewide elections will be conducted.

The Pampa High School Student Council is made up of all home-room representatives and class officers. The Executive Council consists of the president, vice president, secretary, treasurer, parliamentarian, chaplain, and historian. Faculty sponsors are James B. Hulett and Mrs. Terry Chamberlain. The group meets each Tuesday morning in the high school study hall.

Damages Are Sought Following Collision

Thomas E. Martin of Potter County has filed suit in 31st Judicial District Court here against Allen Turnispseed of Gray County for damages he alleges he suffered in a crash August 22 on Texas 70 five miles north of Pampa.

Martin has asked for $935 in damages plus $312 attorney's fees.

The plaintiff alleges that Turnispseed's negligence was the direct cause of the collision which caused $935 damage to his auto.

Martin says in his suit that as he was driving south on Texas 70 on August 12, he attempted to pass a truck driven by Turnispseed. He alleges Turnispseed swerved into his path without warning as he was attempting to pass the truck, thus causing the accident.

Banquet To Honor Duke

Pampa Optimists will honor Tim Duke, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Duke, 121 N. Starkweather, with a special banquet at 7 p.m. Monday in the Starlight Room at Coronado Inn.

Willis Mitchell of Denton, governor of Zone D of Optimists International, will attend the banquet to present Duke with the $1,000 scholarship he won at the 50th annual Optimist Club International convention in Louisville, Ky., June 16-20.

Duke placed second in the oratorical contest after competing against 40 other youths from Canada and the United States. Duke advanced to the finals after winning local, zone and district contests.

Duke, a junior at Pampa High School, has delivered his speech, "The Golden Opportunities of Youth," to various civic organizations in the area. He also addressed the state Republican convention in Corpus Christi in June.

A member of Key Club, Duke is currently serving as lieutenant governor of Division Six of Key Clubs.

Optimists and their wives will attend the banquet, along with special guests. Jack Robinson, local president, will emcee.

Warner To Present Charter To Scouts

Pampa Attorney John W. Warner, district commissioner for the Santa Fe District, Adobe Walls Council, Boy Scouts America, will present the troop charter to Troop One in Panhandle Tuesday.

The Boy Scout Troop is sponsored by the Panhandle Lions Club, which will host the charter presentation. Warner will speak on "You, Your Boys and Scouting," giving reasons why adults should work with Boy Scouts.

Warner also reported that a Cub Scout Pack is being reorganized in Panhandle with an organizational meeting slated for Oct. 29th. The P-TA in Panhandle will sponsor the Cub Scouts. A goal of 75 members of the Scout Pack has been set, Warner said.

Suit Filed Against Insurance Company

Bob Horton and W.A. Gipson, owners of Bob and Gip's Barber Shop, 2010 N. Hobart, have filed suit in 31st Judicial District Court here against Allstate Insurance Company.

They have asked for a judgment of $2,375 which they claim the insurance company agreed to pay for liability coverage. They have also asked for the cost of the suit and general relief.

The plaintiffs contend that Allstate agreed to pay the $2,375 as liability insurance after a motorcycle was driven into the building on June 28 and caught fire in the barber shop.

They claim, however, that despite promises of payment, the insurance company has yet failed to pay the promised sum.

Suit Filed By Pampa Couple

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Robertson of Pampa have filed suit in 31st Judicial District Court here against Larry Eugene King of Donley County and asked for $2,000 damages.

The plaintiffs contend that the defendant's negligence was the cause of an accident which occurred March 17 in Pampa. They allege that King was driving at an excessive rate of speed and following too closely, and that as a result he struck the auto driven by Mrs. Robertson in the rear.

The suit contends that Mrs. Robertson suffered injuries to her back and neck as a result of the collision, reducing her ability to cope with household demands.

Comer Sentences Two Pampans

Two Pampans appeared for sentencing Friday before Interim County Judge Harold Comer after waiving their rights to a trial by jury.

J. L. Moore, charged with driving while intoxicated, pleaded nolo contendere and was fined $50 and costs, sentenced to three days in jail and given a six months probation.

Dolores Follis, charged with theft by false pretext, pleaded guilty and was sentenced to 90 days in county jail.

Thefts Reported

Pampa police were having a fairly quiet weekend Saturday night, except for the report of two stolen tool boxes and two stolen bicycles.

Bennett McCathern, 304 Lowry, reported the tool box was missing from his pickup. He estimated the box contained from $150 to $200 worth of tools.

Carl Cotham, 307 E. Browning, reported a small tool box containing about $50 worth of hand tools was stolen from his pickup sometime Friday.

The two stolen bicycles were reported by Mrs. B. Ferris, 145 E. Denver, valued at $40, and by Mark Curtis, 1300 Mary Ellen, valued at $90.

Vernon Bell Says:

Texas contains 254 county units, but more than 3,000 tax districts engage in collection and administration of the property tax. Each tax district operates under its own unique system of rules and regulations creating absurd burdens for the taxpayer. Isn't there a more sensible way?

After flying near the 14-ton rocket stage for 20 minutes, Apollo 7 moved away with a gentle burst of its small rockets. The second stage of the Saturn 1B rocket, which lifted the spacecraft off earth Friday, is expected to fall back into the atmosphere and burn up in about a week.

The National Guard permitted only one newspaper to publish Saturday morning and set up armed guards around the buildings of two other newspapers, refusing to allow workers to leave.

A guard statement was published in the one newspaper allowed to print, El Mundo, which said the National Guard "has control of all detachments of the Republic, (and) that all officials, classes and troops have joined the movement and that complete calm reigns throughout the country."

It further said all constitutional guarantees would return following the departure of "ambitious and uncontrolled politicians, apparently referring to the Arias government."

(In the Canal Zone, the U.S. government warned all American military and civilian personnel in Panama to be prepared to evacuate the country to the Canal Zone, a territory under the administration of the United States.)

Pool Table, TV Set Donated To GI's In Pampa Project

John W. Warner, chairman of a Pampa Jaycee committee which is gathering recreational items to be sent to soldiers in Vietnam, reported Saturday that a pool table and a television set had been donated to the project.

The pool table was donated by Mrs. Charles (Jean) Duenkel, Warner said. The TV set, a used one, will be utilized along with other used sets which are being sought to build perhaps one or two "good" sets to send, Warner said.

The project was started when Pampa soldier Donald Dunn, a forward observer with the First Cavalry (Air Mobil) returned from a year's tour of duty in Vietnam and told a group of Pampans he thought the gifts would be much appreciated by the men in the field.

Fund Officials Getting Results

With just one week to go in this year's United Good Neighbor Campaign, United Fund officials indicate that they are pleased with the return from those people who have already been contacted, but concerned over the number of cards and prospects that have not been worked.

The grand total of contributions through Friday's check-in amounted to $58,961.34 which is just barely 70 percent of the goal of $84,200. The Commercial and Industrial Division is out in front both dollarwise and on a percentage basis, with $23,307.72 turned in. Not far behind is the Advance Gifts Division with $21,179.12.

The General Division now has turned in $6,239.00, while Public Employees, Professional and National Firms follow with $3,482.50, $3,181.00 and $152.00 respectively. The drive is due to come to a close on the 15th, and there's lots of work to be done between now and then.

According to Fund officials there are over 300 cards and prospect packets that have either not been worked or not turned in to date.

These packets contain many more prospects for Fair Share Giving and represent a great deal of money which is needed by the United Good Neighbor Campaign. Asked for comment drive leaders simply said "work those cards, then turn them in. There'll be check-ins at 10:00 a.m. and 4:00 p.m. both Tuesday and Thursday of next week."

Postmaster In Reminder On Mailing Dates

Postmaster R. W. McPhillips Jr. Saturday issued a reminder list of mailing dates for Christmas gifts and parcels for delivery to members of the armed forces abroad.

The postmaster noted that special attention will again be placed on the delivery of mail to servicemen in Vietnam and the surrounding area, and encouraged the use of complete addresses. He stated that addresses must be legible, and should be prepared by typewriter or pen and ink. THE APO and FPO numbers are the same as the ZIP Code numbers and must be shown on all mail.

McPhillips said final deadlines are suggested by the Post Office Department to make sure all mail will be delivered on time. The deadlines for Christmas mail to all members of the armed forces abroad are:

1. Surface transportation — Nov. 9.
2. SAM — (Space Available Parcel Airlift) — Nov. 23.
3. PAL — (Parcel Airlift) — Nov. 30.
4. Airmail — Dec. 11.

"If the public mails on or before these suggested deadlines," McPhillips explained, "there will not be a last-minute jam in the mail stream that might cause disappointment to some member of our armed forces overseas."

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — As technology gallops relentlessly forward, many of the skills that man has acquired over the years are becoming obsolete.

Buttonhooking, for example, has been declining rapidly. Twenty years from now there probably won't be a skilled buttonhooker left in the country.

The same is true of ice cream freezer turning, fountain pen filling, inner tube patching and numerous other skills that helped make this nation great.

Several governmental and private programs have been set up to help people acquire new skills, but for the most part they are inadequate and unsatisfactory.

What is often overlooked is the human element—the fact that once a person reaches middle age he simply can't adjust overnight to new ways of doing things.

No new skill he might learn is likely to give him the same sense of pride and achievement. For the rest of his life he will to some extent be a social misfit.

I was touched the other day by a letter that I received from Terence McHale of the Flint (Mich.) Journal. He is a typical victim of the technological onrush.

In his younger years, by dint of patience, hard work and concentration, he mastered the art of opening beer kegs without sending a geyser of foam gushing over the landscape.

It was a rare accomplishment and resulted in a flood of invitations to events where there was a keg of beer to be tapped.

Then, not long ago, his world collapsed around him. He was invited to a party at which the host rolled out a new type of keg.

Not only was McHale, the spryless tapsman, unable to demonstrate his skill before an appreciative audience. It was far more humiliating than that.

The keg was opened by the host's 6-year-old son. And not a drop was lost.

"I slinked out the back door, a broken man, and have been avoiding my friends ever since," McHale wrote.

My heart goes out to McHale, but I have no comfort to offer.

Being a man who devoted much of his youth to learning to strike wooden matches on the seat of his trousers, I was crushed by technology years ago.

Center Wrap-Up

George Smith, Director
Pampa Youth and Community Center

TEEN DANCES — It looked like old times last Friday night after the football game as over 400 teenagers tramped through the gate to dance.

All the young people enjoyed themselves and we are looking to see even bigger crowds here. There is some speculation that the Homecoming dance may be at the Youth Center.

We would certainly enjoy seeing all the former students and visiting with them on Oct. 25 after the Caprock game.

The Center is now using mostly local home town bands and with the aid of their parents and our own employees we can better chaperon the dances.

There is always some 10-12 parents present and two off-duty policemen. You parents are all invited to come by and visit with us during any of the dances.

Dances are from 8-11 p.m. when the Harvesters are playing out of town while other nights when the Harvesters play in town we go from 9:30 to 11:30. The present schedule is: Oct. 18 The Simple Life; Oct. 25 Mojos; Nov. 1 Tyme; and Nov. 8 Mojos.

SWIM LESSONS — There are few vacancies in the current swim lesson program, but some enrollments are available for future dates.

The swim lesson plan is set-up on the Red Cross schedule of beginners, advanced beginners, intermediates, swimmers, Jr. and Sr. lifesaving and one added class called polywogs.

These lessons are given on a 2 1/2 week basis or 10 meeting dates. Lessons are one hour in length and two classes meet every day from 4-5 and 5-6 p.m.

All classes are taught by our own Red Cross Water Safety Ins. Jackie Marlar. Enrollment is open to anyone and everyone with Center members enrolled free and non-members $4 each.

The schedule is:
Oct. 21-Nov. 6
4-5 p.m.—Beginners
5-6 p.m.—Intermediates
Dec. 2-18
4-5 p.m.—Beginners
5-6 p.m.—Swimmers

Dec. 2-18

5-6 p.m.—Adv. Beginners

JUDO CLASSES — The Center has added a new class recently in the form of judo. This class meets on Monday and Thursdays from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. and is open to men and boys who are 8 years of age or older.

A special invitation is extended to fathers and sons.

All classes are under the auspices of the AAU Judo association and are taught by Mr. Sam Moot and Paul Moot. If you are interested in participating, you need only be a Center member with memberships available. You may join the class by coming to a meeting and enrolling.

WOMEN'S SWIM TIME—The Center has a day time activity scheduled just for the women. This is exercise and swim. On Monday and Friday mornings from 9:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. women are invited to come to exercise by records and to follow up with a swim.

An added attraction is the steam cabinet which is optional with the individual. You may come and participate in either or both of these activities.

To join the classes you simply need to be a Center member and come at the scheduled hour to participate. All classes are informal and you may come and go as you please.

VOLLEY BALL RESULTS—La Bonita girls and Bell Pontiac men took over the leadership in their respective divisions this past week. Both teams are undefeated for the year.

Highlights and Sidelights From Your State Capitol

By VERN SANFORD

Texas Press Association

AUSTIN, Tex.—Drinking drivers run a new risk of being nabbed through a tell-tale scientific breath analysis device going into use in Texas.

Col. Wilson E. (Pat) Speir, Department of Public Safety Director, announced that 90 new "breathalyzers" have been purchased by the DPS and 450 highway patrolmen trained to operate them. Device will test a suspect's breath to determine the percentage of alcohol in the bloodstream.

Instruments, simple to operate and read, will be placed in 80 of the state's most-populous counties, at fixed locations and used under strictly-controlled scientific conditions.

Suspects who consent to the test will blow into a tube and the percentage of alcohol in their blood will register on indicators. About 15 minutes' waiting time is allowed before testing begins and actual test takes only five minutes. Experts report a direct relationship between alcohol content in blood and breath.

Drinking, according to DPS statistics, figures in 40 to 50 per cent of Texas' traffic deaths—perhaps more than 1,600 of last year's 3,367 highway fatalities. Over the nation, use of alcohol leads to annual traffic death toll of 25,000 and 800,000 vehicle accidents—the largest single factor in fatal crashes.

A driver with 0.15 per cent blood alcohol content by weight is 25 times more likely to be involved in a wreck than a non-drinking driver, average person achieves that danger point after consuming five ounces of 100 proof alcohol an hour without eating, DPS chemists figure. Consumption leading to intoxication, of course, varies with weight, time between drinks and amount of food eaten.

Tests will "clear" drivers suspected of being drunk who are actually driving erratically due to other reasons.

"It is hoped the DPS breathalyzer project will hit hard at the problem and help reduce the traffic death rate in Texas," Colonel Speir said.

COURTS SPEAK — Tragedies, race horses and wild elephants provided grist for the State Supreme Court's mill as it ground out more than 130 cases following a summer recess. High court decided that:

A Houston widow whose husband was killed by mistake while entering the wrong house cannot collect accidental death benefits.

Damage suit filed by a widow following the death of her husband in an auto wreck can be maintained although it did not meet the filing deadline.

Damage award payable to the estate of a Bowie County boy run over by a car should be upheld.

Employee of a Waco department store is entitled to $50,000 damages due to an escalator accident.

Rio Grande Valley circus owner can collect damages from an animal dealer who delivered him a wild female elephant instead of a tame one as ordered.

The race horse, Benedicte, who won $90,000 was not covered by a $5,000 Lloyds of London insurance policy when he died.

A Harris County mother who went to India to study Yoga should not regain custody of her two sons from their grandparents who took them in after a 1963 divorce.

A lower court verdict ordering Pinehurst to pay a water company $29,000 under a contract should be reversed.

A Henderson County real estate man's claim that he was denied proper commission on the sale of a ranch for a Boy Scout camp is entitled to review.

City of Roma's claim to a share of revenues from the border toll bridge operated by Starr County should be retried.

BLUE-LAW TEST — State Supreme Court has agreed to hear an appeal from local officials stymied in their attempts to enforce the state's newest and most far-reaching Blue Law.

Article 286a of the Penal Code prohibits the sale of certain listed items—covering just about everything — on consecutive Saturdays and Sundays, which requires retailers to choose between the two days.

However, Gibson's Discount Center of Midland got around it by leasing its store and stock to another corporation.

Midland County 142nd District Court agreed with Gibson's that the Blue Law violates the state and national constitutions, and the local officials appealed. The case is set for hearing before the high court on November 6.

SALES TAX GOES UP — Texans started shelling out another penny for state sales taxes on October 2. That made it three per cent statewide — and 4 per cent in those cities which levy local option sales taxes.

Extra one per cent for the state was voted by the legislature in special session last June. Session also approved a one-per-cent jump in car sales tax and a 50 cent hike in the franchise tax. Revenue estimates are about $175 million in new state revenue during the next 11 months. Legislature in 1969 may have to raise $300-million or more in additional money.

APPOINTMENTS — House Speaker Ben Earnes appointed the five public members to the Governor's Committee on Physical Fitness, which was created by the Legislature in June to study the problem and make recommendations.

Members are: Tom Stolhand-ske, San Antonio attorney and former All-American football player at UT; Mrs. Joe Long of Austin, holder of a doctorate in physical education; Dr. Stanley Burnham, physical-education professor at UT - Austin; Dr. Kenneth Cooper, U. S. Air Force Medical Corp major at San Antonio; and Dr. Jay Stanford professor of internal medicine at the UT Southwestern Medical School at Dallas.

BILINGUAL EDUCATION

—Texas Education Agency is utilizing the experience of visiting teachers from Mexico to improve the bilingual-education program it administers.

Teachers, all from Nuevo Leon, will spend the current school year in Texas teaching Spanish to already Spanish-speaking children in the pre-school and elementary grades.

"This program," a TEA official said, "is an attempt to enhance our bilingual teaching and to involve ourselves in international programs. Also, we want to see how well Mexican-national teachers can work in our public schools."

HOSPITAL PLAN OPEN TO STUDY — New 1969 state plan for construction and modernization of hospitals and related medical facilities now is available for public review at State Department of Health office.

Plan is the basic document which the State Board of Health uses to make its recommendations for federal Hill-Burton grants.

Sixty-nine applicants are applying for $28,825,66 under the federal matching fund program for hospital aid next year.

RIOT LOSS PLAN REVIEWED — Plan of insurance companies to spread riot losses got State Board of Insurance review but was sent back for re-drafting following new federal rules.

It must be approved by October 29 to qualify companies operating in Texas for federal reinsurance under new housing act. Plan will have to be acceptable to U. S. Department of Housing and Urban Development.

SHORT SNORTS

Odessa Attorney W. O. Shafer is new president of the Texas Association of Defense Counsel, Jack Heddon of San Antonio is president-elect and Max N. Osborn of Midland secretary-treasurer.

Marvin Griffin will remain on the Texas ballot as "stand in" vice-presidential candidate of the American Party, although Gov. George Wallace now has selected Gen. Curtis LeMay as his running mate.

Texas' increasing screwworm problem has resulted in the release of 298,966,000 sterile

Raw Surface Water Is Not Safe To Drink

It is no longer considered safe to drink raw surface water from either lakes or streams. Civilization, with its potential contamination, has invaded even the wilderness areas.

When traveling distances from approved public water supplies, it is wise to have a filled Thermos or canteen. For an emergency use, two drops of Tincture of Iodine in a pint of water, left to stand for a half hour before drinking is safe. Easier to use is a product we carry called Halazone. One tablet purifies a pint of water. Explorers use them.

Davis Has Demos Backing

By DAVID ANDERSON

AUSTIN (UPI) — Will D. Davis has just about everything it takes to succeed in politics except political ambition. He is young (37 and personable. When he stepped down last month after three years as state Democratic chairman, delegates to the state convention gave him a standing ovation. Gov John Connally called him "one of the ablest young men I have ever known."

Baylor, as an assistant attorney general, as a campaigner in 1960 for the Kennedy-Johnson ticket and in 1962 for Connally, as party secretary and chairman, and now as co-chairman of Humphrey's Texas campaign.

No Office Interest

But Davis claims he has no interest in running for office. "I crossed that bridge in 1956," he said. "I was working for the attorney general and my wife was working, and we were struggling along."

Texans Cheer Nixon In Dallas

By United Press International

Richard Nixon arrived in Texas late Thursday to a cheering crowd of about one thousand persons. The Republican presidential candidate will hold a noon rally today in SMU's Moody Coliseum and speak tonight on a live, regionally televised program in a Dallas studio.

Coinciding with Nixon's Texas visit, the Houston Post gave the top Republican its endorsement.

The paper said, "Richard Nixon is the man most likely to chart the proper course and the man most likely to lead us upon it effectively."

"His election would be less divisive than that of the other two candidates, thus he would have a base on which to build. His experience in government, his democratic leadership ability and his stewardship over a united political party give him the tools from which to build."

Meanwhile state Democrats were planning a meeting "to review the challenges facing the Texas Democratic party."

The meeting will be held Oct. 21 in Dallas and will be the first meeting of the new committee chosen last month at a state convention.

Most of the Democratic state candidates will be present. The governor's race saw Republican Paul Eggers at a Fort Worth reception congratulating University of Texas administrators for the creation of a program for helping students solve personal problems.

Eggers said, "Such an independent public advocate would be helpful to all citizens in dealing with bureaucratic mistakes and abuses of power."

He had advocated extending the program to broader usage in the state. He said the public advocate would be a watchdog for the bureaucracy.

His opponent Democrat Preston Smith told Mexican-Americans in Corpus Christi he would follow an open door policy in listening to their problems.

Smith said this had been his policy for 18 years as a legislator and lieutenant governor.

In other races and issues Doug DeCruitt, Republican candidate for lieutenant governor, urged more bilingual education in the state. He was in Corpus Christi and was expected to join Nixon in Dallas today.

Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin, was in Tyler talking about his department's investigation of consumer frauds. Martin planned to wind up his East Texas tour today with a luncheon in Longview.

Republican Rep. Eob Price of Pampa released a letter Thursday saying he might try to repeal the Foreign Trade Act.

campaign. If any bitterness remained, it didn't show.

No Criticism

"I have always been a great supporter of Gov. Connally and I accept whatever position that puts me in," Davis said. "But I have never criticized Sen. Yarborough and as far as I know, I have never done anything harmful to his career."

Davis' attitude toward Humphrey has changed remarkably in the last few years. Like most conservative Texas Democrats, up to 1964 he thought of Humphrey only as "that liberal who ran the south out of the Democratic party in 1948."

He began to change his mind during the 1964 campaign at a meeting between Humphrey and influential businessmen.

Lions Bearded

"He came in and bearded the lions right in their den," Davis said. "He was tremendously impressive. He said a senator from Minnesota has a different vantage point than a senator from Texas on things like oil and gas and offshore drilling but that when you move up to a national vantage point you begin to think about all the people."

Last year Davis helped arrange a series of meetings in which Humphrey made similar overtures to Texas businessmen.

When Johnson withdrew from the presidential race this year, Davis was the first Texas party leader to speak favorably of Humphrey.

"I have changed my mind about the vice president in the last few years," Davis said. "He's not such a bad fellow."

But Davis does not excite the animosity of the liberal wing of the Texas Democratic party as much as Connally does. In Chicago last summer, Sen. Ralph Yarborough and other Texas liberals bitterly condemned Davis for defending Connally's regular delegation to the national convention. But a month later Davis was in the same room with Yarborough and his followers mapping strategy for the Humphrey

AFS to Discuss Student Program

A meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. Monday in Room 106 at Pampa High School to acquaint all interested students and their parents with the Americans Abroad program and to meet all American Field Service members-at-large. Mrs. E. M. Henderson, AFS president, announced.

Eligible students whose schedules permit may attend their second semester in the Southern Hemisphere, where schools open in February, or attend the summer program, Mrs. Henderson said.

Mrs. Jo Hiatt will show slides she took this summer while in Venezuela as an American Abroad student.

SALAZAR IMPROVES

LISBON (UPI)—Former Premier Antonio de Oliveira Salazar, 79, today was reported to have "dominated" the circulatory collapse which caused a relapse, the latest medical bulletin issued Thursday night said.

The bulletin said the prognosis on the former statesman was "reserved."

Salazar suffered a massive stroke then went into a coma Sept. 16.

Income Tax Questions, Answers

EDITOR'S NOTE — This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the Pampa office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q—I paid my estimated tax in September and now you send me another bill for the same amount. What should I do?

A—Write your regional service center telling them you paid your third quarter installment. Be sure to return your bill when you write and indicate the approximate date of your payment and where it was sent.

Q—I work in the college dining hall and return for my meal. Will I have to declare the value of these meals as income?

A—The general rule is that the fair market value of room and board received as compensation for work is counted as taxable income. If this plus any other income you have amounts to $600 or more for the year you will have to file a tax return. Remember that if your earnings were less than $600 and any Federal income tax was withheld, a return must be filed to obtain a refund.

Q—My husband always handles our tax matters but he is in Vietnam. What should I do if I have a tax problem?

A—Telephone your local IRS office. They will give you all the help they can.

Q—What should I do about my withholding to be sure I get a refund next year? I just started my first full-time job.

A—Do not claim an exemption for yourself on the withholding certificate you fill out for your employer. This will result in more being taken out of your paycheck. Note that if you do not claim all the exemptions you are entitled to for withholding purposes you have not forfeited your right to claim them at a later date.

MEDICAL COSTS YOU CAN DEDUCT

Filing his income tax return Johnny's father took a deduction for the cost of the boy's clarinet lessons. When the government challenged this item, the father explained:

"Johnny has a severe bite problem, and his orthodontist said playing the clarinet would be a great help. Therefore I consider these lessons a medical expense."

After a court test, this argument was upheld and the deduction accepted.

The case illustrates that "medical expenses," which are allowed (with in limits) as a tax deduction, may take in a wide variety of costs. Deductions have been permitted for everything from the upkeep of a seeing eye dog to a wig prescribed for the mental health of a girl who had lost her hair.

But the expense must be closely related to a specific medical problem — not just vaguely "good for you."

Accordingly, deductions have been denied for diaper service, tooth paste, and bottled water. In each case, although there was a healthful aspect to the expenditure, no particular ailment was involved.

Nor can you deduct expenses in which the medical benefit is merely secondary to the non-medical benefit.

Tickets Now On Sale For 'Show Boat'

Tickets are now on sale for the upcoming musical "Show Boat," to be presented by the Pampa High School Concert Choir Nov. 21, 22 and 23.

This year's musical will be presented "in the round," according to Bill Davis, director. An orchestra composed of string players from the Amarillo Symphony and members of the Pampa Harvester Band will provide music accompaniment.

Proceeds from the production will help the band and choir go to California in December to perform at the halftime at the football game between the Los Angeles Rams and the Baltimore Colts.

Tickets may be purchased from any choir member or band member. Reserved seats are $2.25 and general admission $1.25.

ESCAPE CHINA

HONG KONG (UPI)—Fifty-five Communist Chinese escaped the mainland in a fishing junk, police said. They said they were questioned 5 Hong Kong men who sailed to the Communist Chinese coast to help the mainland Chinese escape.

Thus a deduction was denied for a telephone which had been installed in a sick woman's home. True, the telephone did enable her to summon her doctor in an emergency. But it was also available for everyday household use.

What about travel? An ailing taxpayer who took a trip to Florida, just to perk up his morale, was held not entitled to deduct his expenses. The court ruled that the tax laws were not intended to subsidize vacations taken simply to make a taxpayer feel more cheerful.

On the other hand, a man was allowed to deduct the money he spent getting to and from meetings of Alcoholics Anonymous. Noting that he had joined the organization on the advice of a doctor, the court commented:

"Membership was necessary for the treatment of a disease."

Horns Edge OU In Closing Seconds

DALLAS UPI—The Texas Longhorn surged 85 yards against the clock Saturday and sent bullish sophomore Steve Worster crashing seven yards for the winning points with just 39 seconds to play to pull out a 26-20 victory over arch-rival Oklahoma.

Worster crashing seven yards wiped out a spectacular performance by Oklahoma's Bob Warmack. Warmack had thrown 12 and 34-yard touchdown passes to Steve Zebel and Eddie Hinton and romped 15 yards for another to pull the Sooners from apparent defeat and erase the stigma caused by having the ball stolen from him and from being caught for a safety. Texas had used the 29, 40 and

53-yard field goals of sophomore Happy Feller, a two-yard smash by Worster and the safety to pile up a 19-14 lead until Warmack finally got the Sooner attack clicking to go ahead with eight minutes to go. Texas had three tries after that but the penalty curtailed one and an interception by Oklahoma's Bruce Stensrud cut short another. Then, with 2:37 left, Texas got an Oklahoma punt on its own 15. Street hit Comer for 17 yards in 17 carries, had to outspurt three Sooners to the goal line for the winning points as he hit right tackle, bounced off and cut for the outside. He carried two Sooners on his back the final five yards. Until Worster, Street and Comer came to the fore, Texas defensive tackle Loyd Wainscott had appeared to be the shining light for the Texans, who now hold a 40-21-2 edge in the series away.

Worster, who ran for 121 yards in 17 carries, had to outspurt three Sooners to the goal line for the winning points as he hit right tackle, bounced off and cut for the outside. He carried two Sooners on his back the final five yards. Until Worster, Street and Comer came to the fore, Texas defensive tackle Loyd Wainscott had appeared to be the shining light for the Texans, who now hold a 40-21-2 edge in the series away.

Wainscott had stolen the ball from Warmack to set up Worster's first touchdown and he was the Longhorn who had smeared Warmack in the end zone for the safety. Worster was not the game's leading ground gainer, however. That honor went to sport Steve Owens, who gouged out 127 yards for the Sooners. Warmack hit 14 of 25 passes for 186 yards to Street's 10 of 16 for 144 yards, but the Tex quarterback, starting only his second game as a preplanned for three-year starter Bill Eradley, hit his key ones in clutch. Army Surprises California, 10-7

WEST POINT, N. Y. (UPI)—Quarterback Steve Lindell threw a 62-yard scoring bomb to end Gary Stille with 2:4 remaining Saturday to pull aroused Army from the brink of defeat to a 10-7 victory over favored California.

The Cadets, napping a two-game losing streak while handing the Golden Bears their first loss of the season, moved 77 yards in four plays for the score that snatched victory from the visitors.

Steele, who this season began to wear contact lenses because of the many passes he dropped last year, took in Lindell's pass on the California 23 and fought his way to the goal as Bear defenders tried to force him out of bounds.

California, making its first visit to Michie Stadium, had taken a 7-3 lead with 4:07 left when fullback John McGaffie plunged over from one yard out as the Bears moved 44 yards after recovering an Army fumble.

Auburn Rallies Past Surprising Clemson

CLEMSON, S. C. (UPI)—Quarterback Loran Carter broke the ice with a third period touchdown against a stout Clemson defense Saturday and engineered a rally that brought Auburn a 21-10 victory.

Carter, whose first half passing problems had left Auburn behind 3-0 at halftime, worked his way from the Clemson 47 with passes to wingback Connie Frederick and then ran in from the four-yard line midway in the third period.

Florida Explodes For 24-3 Victory Tulane-Florida

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (UPI)—Ninth-ranked Florida, held to three points in the first three quarters by winless Tulane, exploded for three touchdowns Saturday to win its fourth game 24-3.

The Gators, who held Tulane three inches from a touchdown in the final quarter, scored on a 43-yard pass play from quarterback Jackie Eckdahl to end Jim Yarbrough and short runs by running back Tommy Christian and Larry Smith.

Raiders Swat Ags, 21-16

COLLEGE STATION, TEX. (UPI)—Texas Tech, with a fourth quarter bucklog of two touchdowns engineered by quarterback Joe Matulich, Saturday night fought off a last-ditch Texas A & M rally to topple the defending Southwest Conference champs, 21-16, and grab a share of the league lead.

Fullback Jackie Stewart scored twice for Tech and Matulich passed seven yards to Charles Evans for the clincher. The Aggies, who kept Tech in a hole the entire third period on the strength of Steve O'Neal's punting, scored with 3:43 left to pass from quarterback Edd Hargett at the Tech 45 and Eddy Windom recovered for the Raiders.

The Aggies drove to the Tech 36 with 1:29 left in the game, but Hargett was hit hard as he attempted a pass and fumbled the ball away with 29 seconds remaining. Tech killed the clock on one running play and re-vented a last-second defeat which started the Aggies on the road to the conference championship last season. A&M took the lead in the first period when Charlie Riggs booted a 38-yard field goal after Dave Elmendorf recovered a ball which popped out of Tech safety Larry Alford's arms at the Tech 39. Tech drove 62 yards in the second period for a score, and took a 7-3 halftime lead on Stewart's three-yard plunge. The Aggies roared back in the third quarter, with reserve back Johnny Sheffield scooting 19 yards to send A&M ahead with 6:29 left in the quarter. Tech drove 80 and 59 yards for its fourth-quarter scores. Stewart scored from the two on his third play of the final period and five minutes later

Matulich found Evans alone in the Aggie end zone for the winning touchdown. O'Neal punted out of bounds inside the Tech two on two straight tries in the third period, limiting Tech's offensive efforts to short yardage s t a b s into the line and punts. When the Raiders got breathing room, Matulich cranked up the Tech passing game and handed A&M its third loss of the season. Stewart led all rushers in the game, picking up 79 yards on 16

The Aggies' offensive machine was thwarted in the first period. Larry Stegents when both Hargett and tailback narrow the gap to 21-16, but lost a scoring opportunity when Tommy Maxwell fumbled a Larry Stegents were injured. Hargett returned to action in the second half, but Stegents set out the rest of the game with an injured shoulder.

Levias Sparks SMU To 21-14 Win Over TCU

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UPI)—Jerry Levias, fleet Southern Methodist flanker who leads the down the sideline 39 yards with a fourth-quarter punt return seconds later, when Bubbs Thornton took the kickoff and ran 71 yards back to the Southern Methodist 21. But SMU stopped the TCU hopes by foiling three straight passes and preserved the victory. Aside from the 5-10, 179-yard Levias' 89-yard run, SMU scored on a 33-yard pass from the nation's passing leader, hmore Chuck Hixson, to touch-Mike Richardson, and on field goals of 21 and 43 yards by Bicky Lesser. TCU got touchdowns on Ted Fay's 37-yard pass play to Lincy Cole, and on Norman Bulaich's 18-yard run. SMU had fought from behind to tie the 14-14 in the third quarter then stopped a TCU series of downs at the TCU 38 early in the fourth quarter. With 11:49 left in the game, TCU's Mike Levias took the ball and headed for the middle. He screamed to a halt short of a knot of would-be takers, changed direction to the outside and just ran around everybody, down the right sidelines to the end zone, where he did a little jig and smashed the ball to the ground in glee. TCU's secondary had blunted the SMU passing circus which usually found Hixson trying for Levias or Mike Richardson. And the TCU Horned Frogs closed the door in the second quarter on SMU's running, pushing it to a minus-16 yards. For the game, Hixson had 24 completions of 4k pass attempts, for 300 yards and lost Fay tossed 13 complete of 35 tries, good for 211 yards. Richardson and Levias shared catching chores, with eight catches and 159 yards for Richardson and nine catches for 95 yards for Levias.

Buffaloes Fall In Last Half To Memphis St.

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI)—Junior quarterback Ricky Thurow and sophomore wingback John Manger ran for two touchdowns each Saturday night Tigers to a 42-21 victory over the West Texas State. A 16-yard sprint by Thurow, a 30-yard pass interception return by Steve Jaggard and Manger's runs or six and two yards respectively gave Memphis State a 28-point final period. Thurow opened the scoring with a 26-yard run 10 minutes into the first period. It was his first appearance in the game and came after Memphis State recovered a West Texas fumble on the Buffaloes' 26-yard line. Danny Pierce, alternating with Thurow at quarterback, scored early in the third period on a six-yard run. West Texas quarterback Roy Winter accounted for all three Buffalo touchdowns with passes of 10, 15 and 53 yards. The first tally came with three seconds remaining in the half and sent the two clubs to the dressing rooms in a 7-7 deadlock. With a little less than five minutes remaining in the game, Winter passed to flanker Gary Clark from 15 yards out, and, as the gun sounded, he hit national rushing leader Eugene Mercury Morris on a 53-yard bomb. Clarence Redic converted three times. For Morris, the touchdown scoring pass was his only moment of glory in a game that saw him fumble once—the first period fumble that opened the way for Memphis State's first touchdown—and throw a long pass that landed in the open arms of Memphis State defender Jerry Todd. It was the first loss in five outings for the Buffaloes. For Memphis state, after season opening losses to Southeastern Conference powers Mississippi and Tennessee, it was its second win.

OSU Upsets Houston, 21-17, On Late Surge

HOUSTON (UPI)—Wayne Hallmark, a 5 foot, 8 inch Oklahoma State halfback, Saturday night blasted two yards through the middle of Houston's through the middle of Houston's massive line with 58 seconds left to score his seconds touchdown of the game and 21-17. Hallmark, who scored OSU's first touchdown in the first quarter on a three yard run and caught a two-point conversion pass to tie the game at 14-14, went back into the game after Houston had held on three other blasts from the four-yard line. Houston's Terry Leiwke appeared to have saved the go-blasts from the four-yard line a 28-yard field goal with eight minutes remaining to make it 17-14. But after Houston's 10th fumble of the night, the Cowboys marched 70 yards with quarterback Ronnie Johnson hitting short passes to Tom Dearing and Hearman Eben in the winning drive. Houston's offense, without the rushing of the injured Paul Gipson, seldom looked like the nation's top yardage producer. Jim Strong, filling in for Gipson, scored on a nine-yard run and quarterback Ken Bailey passed two yards to Elmo Wright for the other Cougar touchdown. Cowboy defensive back John Gates intercepted three Bailey passes, one leading to Oklahoma State's first touchdown, Hallmark and Gates both are commoted by linebacker Wade Phillips after he intercepted a try to lateral the ball to another Cougar and Bud Deerin-water gathered in for the Cowboys. Houston now is 2-1-1 while Oklahoma State's record, which includes losses to Texas and Arkansas, is 1-2.

Pitt Blitzed By Syracuse, 50-17

SYRACUSE (UPI)—Safetyman Cliff Ensley's 53-yard touchdown with an interception halted an aerial blitz by Dave Naven Saturday and Syracuse's crumpling ground attack poured it on for the rest of the game to wall-off Pittsburgh 50-17 for the Orange's third straight victory. Ensley picked off a pass by Havern with Syracuse leading 17-14 in the second period and ran it into the end zone to give the Orange a 24-14 lead and turn the tide of the game. Syracuse had taken an early 17-0 lead but Havern threw touchdown passes of 67 yards to Skip Orszulik and nine yards to George Medick to cut the lead to three points. It appeared that Havern, whose passes gained 346 yards during the game, was going to pass the Orange dizzy until Ensley's interception and touchdown run enabled Syracuse to go off the field with a 24-17 half-time lead.

Hogs Blast Baylor In SWC Tilt

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (UPI)—The Razorbacks jumped out to a 21-0 lead before Baylor came roaring back to within two points of the Razorbacks with eight minutes, 26 seconds left in the fourth quarter. Fullback Pinker Palmer led the determined Baylor comeback by rushing for 120 yards on 30 carries in the game. Palmer's 30 carries broke his own Baylor record of 27 carries in a single game. Baylor quarterback Steve Stuart helped Baylor's comeback by passing for 200 yards, after taking over for starter Alvin Flynn midway in the second quarter. Stuart hit on 14 of 23 passes. Arkansas scored the first time it had the ball, marching 62 yards in 10 plays with tailback Bill Burnett blasting over from the one-yard line for the score in the first quarter. The Razorbacks came back to score on their next possession on Montgomery's one-yard run and then scored again on a 79-yard punt return by Gary Adams minutes into the second period. Baylor's first score came with 3:58 remaining in the half, on a one-yard run by Palmer. Monterrey Rips Pampa

By RON CROSS Sports Editor LUBBOCK — Pampa gets as frustrated playing Monterey as Oklahoma does Texas and the Harvesters failed for the 13th time in as many tries Saturday as the Plainsmen ran to an easy 42-0 victory. The loss dropped Pampa's record to 1-4 for the season and 0-1 in north zone play. Monterey went to 4-1 for the year and 1-0 in zone competition. The Plainsmen scored just about when they wanted to, and they wanted to three times in the first quarter, once in the second and twice in the third. For New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—Recent developments have given New Orleans a bright sporting outlook for the future. They include the amazing growth of the Greater New Orleans Golf Tournament, which has mushroomed from a $500 to a $100,000 event; the arrival of the NFL Saints and the ABA Buccaneers, and moves toward a 70,000-seat domed stadium. Perennial All-Star DETROIT (UPI)—Gordie Howe of the Detroit Red Wings has been named to the National Hockey League's all-star team 19 times during his 22-year pro hockey career.

Stephens Sparkles For Northwestern State

The University of Kansas football team has lost a promising fullback but gained a coach instead.

Steve Luker, a 200 pound junior, was told by doctors he would have to pass up football and is now coaching the Jayhawk freshmen.

The Chicago Cubs have rehired their entire coaching staff for next season, Pete Reiser, Joe Becker, Verlon (Rube) Walker and Joe Amalfitano.

Yeah, Leo (Nice guys finish last) Durocher is back again as manager. 1969 might be the year the Cubs make the big push.

Charlie Leigh, rookie kickoff specialist for the Cleveland Browns, never played a game of college football.

He went from high school ball to the Continental League and finally to the Browns.

And speaking of the Continental League it is growing and growing. Remember when Amarillo wrestler Dory Funk tried to start a team in that city? The league this season is enjoying much success and Amarillo is missing out.

Amarillo's new hockey team should draw well from the area. If you've never seen a hockey game, go. There is no sport any rougher, has as much action or is as exciting as ice hockey.

Donny Anderson, formerly of Stinnett and Texas Tech and now of the Green Bay Packers is starting a new sideline.

"Donny Anderson's Raiderland," a convention center, restaurant and motel is scheduled to open in May in Lubbock.

One of the features is a swimming pool, shaped like a football helmet.

There are disadvantages to being a barefoot punter, after all. Tom Calloway of Texas El Paso was asked how it felt being a barefoot punter.

His answer: "It hurts." Private Joe Louis Jr., son of the former heavyweight champion, is attending U.S. Army Signal School at Fort Gordon.

He is not a boxer. "That's one thing my father didn't want me to be," he said.

Worth to the Las Colinas Country club in Dallas. Dates are still August 11-16. the opening of the football season is always pleasant for Louisiana State coach Charlie McClendon.

13-12, in this year's opener, it marked the seventh straight year the Tigers have opened with a win.

The Central Hockey league opens its sixth season Sunday and the Wranglers of Amarillo open against the toughest opponent they could hope for, Omaha.

Omaha is picked to win their division title then take the whole cake. But watch out for Oklahoma City's Blazers, who have the league's stingiest goal-back in Russ Gillow.

We haven't found out yet what is happened to L. D. Rowden at Houston University. Rowden, who led district 3-AAAA in scoring in 1966 led the Cougar frosh in rushing and scoring last year but is not listed in the varsity depth chart this year. Several Pampan's are playing regularly for the Cougars, Jim Arthur, Glen Lewis, at defensive tackle and Ted Heiskell at fullback behind Gipson.

Apparently Ted has shaken off any knee problems. He has carried the ball nine times for 46 yards.

No doubt there is money to be made on the rodeo circuit. Larry Mahan of Salem, Ore., who has graced the Top O' Texas Rodeo for two years, has won $39,229 in prize money this year.

Also having a good year in roping is Buddy Cockrell of Panhandle who is second in that event.

The National Finals rodeo is scheduled for Oklahoma City's State Fair Arena later this month.

And there's no place like home. It's good to be back and I hope you think so too.

Former Harvester quarterback, almost, Larry Stephens is still shaking off injuries and is the star performer for Northwestern State at Alva, Okla.

Larry has scored once, kicked a field goal, six extra points and passed for two touchdowns. All this with a bad back and knee, which doctors told him not to play on but he is anyway.

Another former Harvester, James Matney is the kickoff man for Northwestern and still another ex from the 1966 team, Gary McCarrell, has been red-shirted and he's glad for he'll see mre playing time next year.

Purdue Upset By Ohio State

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI)—Seventh ranked Ohio State, magnificent on defense throughout the game, stunned top rated Purdue 13-0 and stopped the offensive magic of All-American Leroy Keyes before a wildly cheering record crowd of 84,834 here Saturday.

The Buckeye's alert secondary turned two pass interceptions into third quarter touchdowns in the biggest upset of the young college football season.

The win gave Ohio State an inside track for the Big Ten title and a trip to the Rose Bowl.

Defensive back Ted Provost broke a scoreless deadlock early in the third period when he picked off a pass by Purdue quarterback Mike Phipps and sprinted 35 yards for a touchdown.

A few minutes later the defense turned the trick again when sophomore middle guard Jim Stillwagon intercepted another pass by Phipps on the Purdue 26. Five plays later quarterback Bill Long, filling in for injured sophomore starter Rex Kern, tried to pass but could not find a receiver, then ran 14 yards for the score.

Jim Roman, brought into the game to handle the place kicking chores after OSU missed three field goals, added the extra point.

Purdue's deepest penetration was to the Ohio State seven in the fourth period but that drive failed when second string quarterback Don Kiepert had a pass intended for Keyes batted down at the goal line.

The Boilermakers twice drove to the Ohio State 14 during a tense and scoreless first half but both drives ended on a pair of missed field goal tries.

Missouri Edges Colorado, 27-14

COLUMBIA, Mo. (UPI)—Missouri punished Colorado with a devastating ground game Saturday, but needed key pass interceptions by Butch Davis and Dennis Poppe to preserve a 27-14 Big Eight football victory.

The Tigers exploded to a 14-0 lead only to see 66 and 80-yard touchdowns passes by quarterback Bobby Anderson keep the Buffs in contention until the final period.

Davis' interception in the fourth quarter, his second of the game, set up Missouri's game-clinching touchdown and Poppe's pick off in the third period set up a 30-yard field goal by Henry Brown.

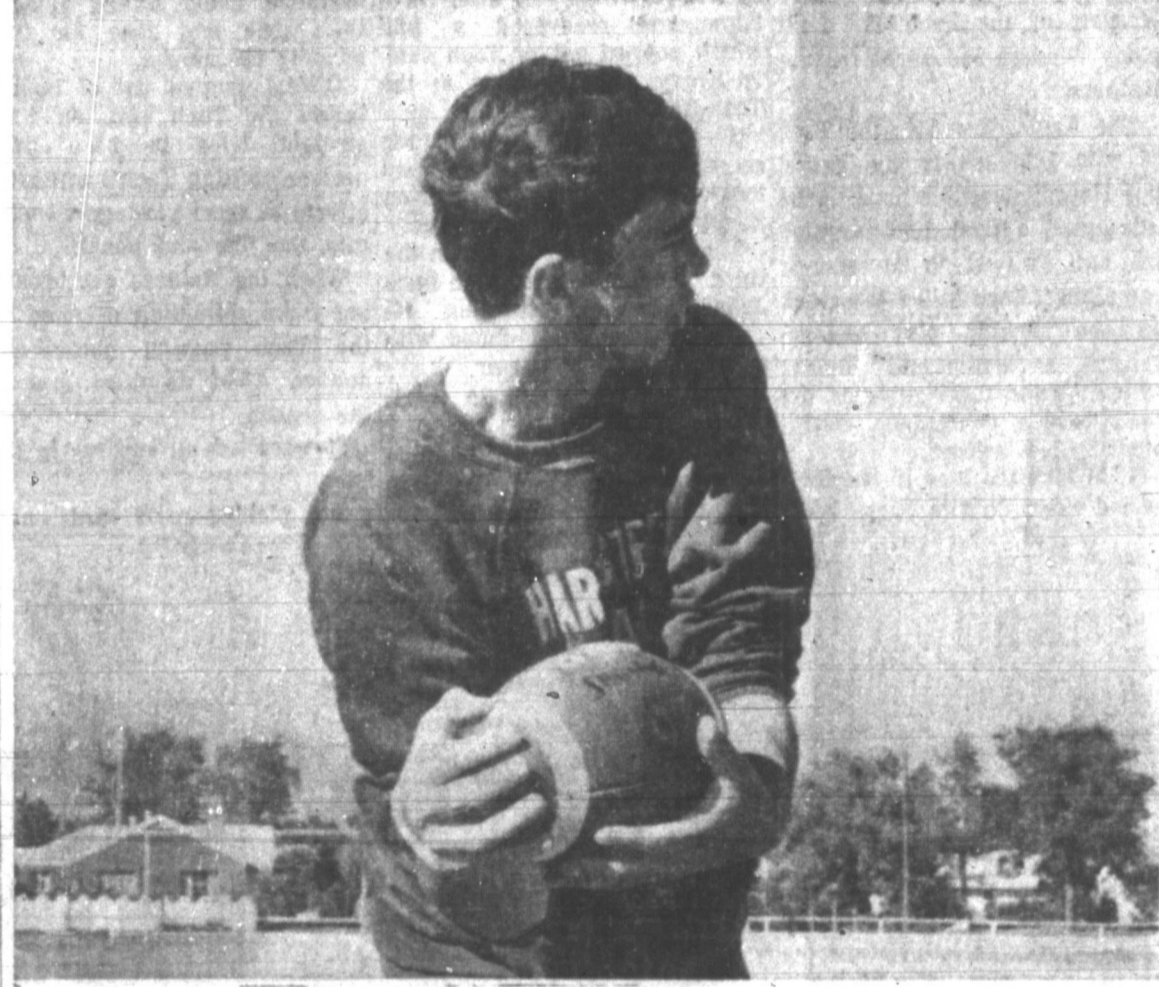

The victory was Missouri's third in four games and left the Tigers 1-0 in the conference. Colorado now is 2-2 for the season and 1-1 in the league.

Missouri, totaling 421 yards rushing, drove 48 and 86 yards in opening a quick two-touchdown edge. Tailback Jon Staggers' two-yard sweep on a fourth down capped a 9-play drive midway through the first period and sophomore fullback James Harrison dived a yard for MU's second score on the first play of the second period.

Colorado, which had run only six plays from scrimmage in the first quarter, struck quickly following the Tigers' second touchdown. Anderson hit slotback Mike Pruett on a 66-yard strike down the middle, capping a 2-play, 71-yard drive.

Brown kicked a 35-yard field goal on Missouri's next position and the Tigers led 17-7 at the half even though they ran 60 plays from scrimmage to Colorado's 16 in the first 20 minutes.

Kansas Nips Nebraska On 4th Quarter Surge

LINCOLN, Neb. (UPI)—Kansas quarterback Bobby Douglass scored two touchdowns late in the fourth quarter Saturday to give fourth-ranked Kansas a 23-13 win over sixth-ranked Nebraska.

Douglass ran 10 yards for his final score with 1:11 to play. This came just three minutes after he had put the Jayhawks ahead on a one-yard plunge.

Douglass' second touchdown capped a 26-yard drive set up when Nebraska elected to go for two yards on a fourth down with a little more than two minutes left in the game and the Cornhuskers railing 16-13.

Donnie Shanklin scored the other Kansas touchdown on a one-yard dive in the third period. The Jayhawks picked up their two points when Nebraska quarterback Ernie Sigler scored an intentional safety in the third period after Nebraska faced a fourth down situation its own six. Nebraska led 6-0 at the time.

Both of Nebraska's touchdowns came on runs by halfback JOE Orduna.

Orduna went over from the one-yard line in the fourth period for his second score. The other Husker touchdown came after Orduna recovered a fumble during play.

The game was witnessed by 67,118 persons, a Big Eight Conference record.

Kansas was averaging 51 points going into the contest but mounted only one serious threat in the first half. Nebraska stopped that drive on the Cornhusker 10.

USC Squeaks By Stanford, 27-24

STANFORD, Calif. (UPI)—J. Simpson, virtually unstoppable, scored his customary three touchdowns Saturday and Ron Ayala provided a decisive field goal to give undefeated Southern California a 27-24 squeaker over Stanford.

It was a tough loss for the Indians whose sophomore quarterback sensation, Jim Plunkett, clicked on 14 of 30 passes for 246 yards.

Plunkett scored a touchdown from 10 yards out and hit on a 27-yard scoring pass to Jack Lasater.

Stanford's other scores came on a 51-yard run by Bubba Brown and a 38-yard field goal by Steve Horowitz. The latter connected in the final 40 seconds of the first half to tie the score 10-10 after missing three attempted field goals in the first period.

After Ayala converted to tie the contest at 24-24, Southern Call's Jim Gunn smeared Plunkett for an 8-yard loss to the Indian 12.

Vols Hit Late To Trip Tech

ATLANTA (UPI)—The Tennessee Vols, held in check until the fading minutes of the first half, capitalized on two fumble recoveries by Nick Showalter Saturday and rode the passes of Bubba Wyche to a 24-7 victory over Georgia Tech.

Notre Dame Raps Northwestern, 27-7

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (UPI)—Terry Hanratty, who is supposed to pass Notre Dame to victory, ran instead Saturday in a 27-7 romp over Northwestern.

The Irish quarterback ran for one touchdown on a seven-yard sprint and actually picked up more yardage with his legs than with his arm as he ramrodded Notre Dame to its third win in four starts.

Hanratty used his golden arm to pass for one touchdown, a 10-yarder to Coley O'Brien—a quarterback also playing the role of halfback. But he passed only 16 times and carried the ball himself 12 times, whipping into the Wildcat end zone from seven yards out and ripping off two more runs of 18 yards each.

In all, Hanratty accounted for 70 yards on the ground and hit his favorite passing target, Jim Seymour, for a total of 23 yards. The Irish Ace's passing yardage added up to a comparably meager 55 yards and two of his passes were picked off by the ing game most of the time and halfback Bob Gladioux scored twice on runs of seven and two yards.

The Irish attempted only five and neither side could score. Notre Dame packed their final 20 points into the final 17 minutes of the game. Northwestern got its lone score in the samexobod on a 1-yard plunge by Chico Kurzawski after sophomore quarterback Dave Shelbourne completed three of six passes for 46 yards in a 61-yard march.

It was the fourth straight loss without a win for Northwestern, all in games against teams ranked in the top 20 nationally.

Johnny Unitas is ready to play again but the Baltimore Colts aren't having any and Earl Morrill will be under the gun when the Baltimore Colts meet San Francisco's 49ers today in National Football League action.

Elsewhere around the league. Milwaukee County Stadium host Green Bay Packers host Los Angeles Rams, the New York Giants travel to Atlanta, Dallas host Philadelphia, a team they 25-13 two weeks ago, New Orleans hosts Minnesota, Cleveland and St. Louis Play in Cleveland, Chicago hosts Detroit and Washington plays at Pittsburgh.

In the American Football League Sunday Oakland is 9½ point favorite over San Diego, Kansas City is an overwhelming favorite over young Cincinnati, the Jets are rated 20 points better than Denver and Houston is a slim choice over Boston.

Philadelphia may be a bit luckier against Dallas this time around. The Eagles will have a first rate quarterback in Norm Snead, who sat out the first three weeks with a broken leg.

Dallas has lost all-purpose back Dan Reeves for the season with a knee injury. The Cowboys still have too much for Philadelphia but the score should be closer this time.

Although the Lions destroyed the Bears in their last meeting, 42-0, they should get a stiffer test Sunday at Wrigley Field.

Chicago will be without the services of quarterbacks Jack Conannon and Rudy Bukich and lists Gale Sayers, Ron Bull and Dick Butkus as probables.

Panhandle Water District News

By FELIX W. RYALS

We take it for granted that our water comes from rain without ever wondering how the water — since it is heavier than air — got into the sky in the first place. Have you ever watched the clouds flying over in separate layers early in the morning or late afternoon with the ray of the sun peeping through and heard someone exclaim: "Look the sun is drawing water up into the sky."

Rain water on falling to the earth soaks into porous layers of earth until it reaches a water proof layer of earth such as the red clay beds found in West Texas, forming the base of our Ogallala formation.

Until the water reaches a waterproof layer it keeps settling until it reaches a level we call the "Water Table."

In some areas the base of the water table is exposed as the area of the Panhandle where the Canadian River is located around Fritch, Sanford, and Borger. Exposures of the water table in various places forms springs, creeks, lakes, swamps and artesian wells. Spring Creek between Skellytown and Borger gets its name from spring that feed the creek in the area.

Where the rain soaks into underground formations in areas of high altitude such as the area above Austin which is located in a valley, we sometimes find artesian wells. Wells drilled in a valley, above an underground layer of water that has its source in the higher elevation, will flow without the use of a pump because of the pressure from the higher elevated area.

The Water Conservation Districts are given the legal responsibility of protecting our underground water from surface pollution.

Pollution may come from a number of sources, such as salt water, barnyards, manure piles and cess pools. Several years ago the Panhandle Water Conservation District had a particularly irritating problem with one rural community that got its water supply from a power driven two inch water well.

Small children in the area periodically came down with stomach disorders. We were able to trace the disorders to the well through collecting water samples and having them tested for coliform organisms. The original test each time showed the presence of positive harmful coliform bacteria.

The well was treated with chlorine and again tested but the coliform organisms had disappeared. At the end of six weeks we again tested the water only to again find the water contaminated. The well was once more treated with success only to follow with contamination a month later. The process was repeated a number of times before a permanent control of pollution was attained. A study of the area revealed that for a number of years raw sewage had emptied into cess pools, which during lengthy dry periods had moved away from the cess pool through deep cracks in the surface of the earth. The polluted sewage had eventually reached the water table near the water well. After all these cracks were extensively treated the source of contamination ended.

As surface water settles into the soil, it carries pollution with it. The soil acts as a partial filter. Not all soils purify or filter. In some soils, pollution can be carried a mile or more; therefore, the farther away you keep sources of pollution from your domestic well the better.

The child, during the growing up period of life, hears his mother talk a lot about hard and soft water. Hard water is difficult to wash with because it contains minerals which cut down the lathering (making of soap suds) ability of soap. This difficulty can be overcome by the use of water "softeners" which remove the harmful minerals which are available which can be used with any water supply system where hard water is a problem. We have all heard of the "Culligan Man".

With ever present threat of atom bomb attacks we must make sure that our underground water is protected from contamination by radioactive poison bomb attack, surface water will be come polluted. The surface water would become contaminated by radioactive poisons. Our well water from our underground reservoir would then become our only safe source of supply.

Observer Sees Nixon With Firm Hold On The Farm Vote

By DAVID SMOTHERS
UPI Senior Editor

CHICAGO (UPI)—Gut in the farm belt, not even the Democrats are wondering much about who will come up with the country vote Nov. 5.

There is a lot of talk, though, about who will wind up second. A check of down on the farm sentiment through a nine-state area indicates Richard M. Nixon can stroll in first with his hands in his pockets.

In most of these states, Hubert H. Humphrey has a good chance of finishing a bad second among the farmers.

But in some parts of the midland expanse known as the farm belt, that's all it is—a good chance. George C. Wallace could pass him in downstate Illinois, Nebraska and Kansas, to name three.

Humphrey is entitled to hope he may be bailed out in his Minnesota homestate, where his old magic still seems to work in the Twin Cities, or in Illinois, where the Chicago Democratic machine remains a match for the downstaters.

Outside the cities, though, even his staunchest supporters fear a farmyard flop. In states where a big city vote is lacking many Democratic candidates appear considerably more concerned with saving their own political skins than Humphrey's.

The vice president is rated a little ahead in Minnesota and, on a rough guess in the absence of statewide polls, more than a little behind in Illinois. Elsewhere in the farm belt, he appears to be running second and sometimes third in Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska, Wisconsin and the Dakotas.

Yet Humphrey is a son of the farm belt, born and raised on the South Dakota prairie, returning constantly to his adopted state of Minnesota. He has probably talked more specifically about farm issues in this campaign than either of the two other candidates. But what he says does not seem to be going over.

The big reason, according to most indications, is that farmers identify Humphrey with the way things are going and they are tired, distrustful, angry and/or fearful of the way things are going.

Research, he adds, has shown that small grains will produce considerably more fall grazing when allowed to reach the above height when compared with plants which had reached only a four inch height when grazing was started.

people's problems—the problems of the cities.

If they want fewer federal regulations of their own economic activities, they also wonder why someone in Washington doesn't do something about race riots, peace marches, hippies, the strident scorn they hear of the values most of them were taught to cherish.

Settle for Nixon

Like the Indiana housewife, many of them appear to have a hankering to let Wallace have a go at settling things but will wind up voting to give Nixon the assignment. Plenty of farm belt voters, however, are quite willing to take Wallace hook, line and sinker.

Down in Illinois' Egypt—the state's southern and economically disadvantaged sector—a poll conducted by the Mount-Carmel Republican Register showed Nixon getting 68.1 per cent of the vote in that Wabash River County, Wallace 24.4, and Humphrey an embarrassing 7.5.

Gray County S&WCD Representatives To Attend State Meet

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Schaeffer, Mr. and Mrs. James Clett, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Carpenter and Sam Bowers will represent the Gray County Soil and Water Conservation District at the 28th annual State-wide meeting of the Texas Soil and Water Conservation District-supervisors to be held in Galveston Tuesday through Thursday.

They will be part of 935 supervisors in Texas representing 187 Soil and Water Conservation Districts.

Don't Graze Fall Forage Too Early, Texas A&M Advises

COLLEGE STATION—Grazing small grain pastures before they have a chance to make needed growth can reduce their value as suppliers of fall forage.

Dr. Neal Pratt, Extension agronomist at Texas A & M University, says oats, barley, wheat and rye which have and are being planted this fall should be from six to eight inches in height before they are grazed.

Research, he adds, has shown that small grains will produce considerably more fall grazing when allowed to reach the above height when compared with plants which had reached only a four inch height when grazing was started.

LONGINGLY LOOKING — Even without the grass, there always seems to be something appealing to livestock on the other side of the fence. These animals, part of a testing program, seem wistful for the other side despite the lack of grass. Animals on the left appear to want to get on the other side of the iron gate, while the animal at left in the near pen seems to want to get in their pen. The animal on the right seems indifferent to where any of them go.

Winter Wheat Still Out-Yields Spring Varieties, Bushland Says

BUSHLAND—Tests at the USDA Southwestern Great Plains Research Center here show winter wheats still outyielding varieties developed for spring planting.

Results this year are similar to those obtained during the past few years, says Dr. Kenneth Porter, professor of agronomy at the Center.

The difference is especially significant in irrigated tests. Red River 68 was the top yielder among spring wheats with 44.6 bushels per acre. Scout, a winter wheat, was tops with a yield of 68.7 bushels per acre. Test weights of all the winter wheats were also greater than those of the spring types.

Test weights were the big difference among the dryland plantings of the two types of wheat. Winter wheats had significantly higher test weights than spring wheats although the top yielder in each group was about 24 bushels per acre.

New day length insensitive spring wheats such as Red River 63, Clano 67, Penjamo and Lerma Rojo were earlier this year and appeared to be better adapted than older spring wheat varieties, points out the agronomist. However, yields and test weights still indicate the superiority of winter wheat.

Day Length insensitive spring wheats begin head formation as soon as temperatures are sufficiently warm, regardless of day length. Older varieties having a long day requirement will start head formation only when their response to these factors, fulfilled. Consequently, old varieties are later maturing.

Heading of both winter and spring wheat is promoted by warmer temperatures and increased day length that occurs in the spring. Varieties differ and as a result, differ in their response to these factors, maturity, explains Porter.

Two inches of rain in January and low maximum temperatures in May favored both winter and spring wheat at the Center, adds the agronomist. The average maximum temperature in May was 74 degrees or six degrees below the long-time average of 80.

Agriculturally Speaking

By FOSTER WHALEY
County Agricultural Agent

Lynn Futch of Pampa, vice president of the Canadian Production Credit Association, has accepted an invitation from county agents of Extension District I to appear on a Beef Cattle Short Course program to be held Nov. 7 in Hereford. He will speak on "Financing Stocker and Feeder Operations." Futch made a similar talk last year to the annual meeting of the PCA of Texas at Houston.

Today, it takes a lot of capital to bring a small net return and our feed lot development in this area has gotten a big boost from credit extended through the local Production Credit Association.

4-H Club News

and
JEANNIE FORD
Asst. HomeDemo Agent

Most people do not know what 4-H is... so we thought we would tell you a little about it.

Activity, achievement and adventure await youth in 4-H Club work. All boys and girls between the ages of 9 and 21 are eligible to be members. This doesn't mean only farm youths.

Four-H Club work is the youth phase of Agricultural Extension Service. County Extension Agents guide 4-H Club members and 4-H leaders and evaluate work done and plan for the future.

There are many opportunities in 4-H that many of our youth are missing.

Fred Vanderburg Jr. will hold his second annual swine show at 7 p.m. Saturday in the sale barn at the Top O' Texas rodeo grounds, and swine breeders from throughout the nation are expected to attend.

Freddie gained nationwide attention two years ago when he sold a prize boar for $10,000—a record sale price at that time.

He has amassed a long line of winning swine over the past two years, including the Grand Champion barrow of all breeds at the 1968 Missouri State Fair, generally considered the most competitive swine show in the U.S.

Vanderburg also had the Reserve Champion senior Poland China Boar at the Missouri State Fair. He has shown the Reserve Champion at the Fort Worth Stock Show, the Grand Champion at the San Antonio Fair Stock Show, the Grand Champion Poland China at the Amarillo Stock Show, and most recently had the Grand Champion boar at the State Fair of Texas.

All of this — and Freddie is still a student at Oklahoma State. We congratulate him for his success.

We would also like to congratulate Bernard McClelland of McLean for the showing of his swine at the State Fair.

SHEEP SHEARING

A young man with just a few minutes' instruction quickly took fleece from a sheep in a recent demonstration at USDA's Beltsville, Maryland, research center. He duplicated a job performed by highly skilled sheep shearers but without clippers. The sheep had been dosed with an experimental chemical previously used mainly in cancer therapy. This innovation was made possible by biologist Dr. Ethel H. Dolnick and colleagues in USDA's Agricultural Research Service.

The Rifle Club is just one of the opportunities we have. Two excellent leaders in this are Tom Veale and W.F. Huff. Under their leadership the club has its first meeting of the new school year Monday night. It will be on Oct. 14 at the Agricultural Building east of Pampa, at 7 p.m. Officers will be elected and plans will be made for the year.

In the rifle program, the 4-H'er will get training in safety, handling the rifle, marksmanship, and will engage in competition on the county, district and state level.

Plans are being completed for the Achievement Rewards Program for Gray County. John Warner, a local attorney, is scheduled to give a talk. The program will be held at Celanese Pamel Hall.

All clubs in the county will have some job in planning the program.

Pampan Explains Day Care Center To Las Pampas Members of DAR

Pampa's Day Care Center for retarded children, conducted three hours a day, five days a week, 12 months a year in the First Presbyterian Church, was the subject of a talk given by Mrs. S. T. Friend recently at the monthly luncheon of Las Pampas Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

The center in the church is a "satellite" of the Amarillo State Center for Human Development, one of two such centers in Texas, the other being in Beaumont. Mrs. Friend, who is now teacher co-ordinator for Special Education in the Pampa Independent School District, last year headed the satellite program. It is now directed by Mrs. E. M. Roota, assisted by volunteer aides.

"No center can cure retardation," Mrs. Friend explained, but by encouraging social and muscular development and increasing the attention span, young children can be made happier and easier to care for in their homes. Some can be prepared for school programs with a goal of being able to make a living for themselves.

She emphasized the importance of this, saying that "institutional care is estimated to cost $1,000,000 during the lifetime of each 10 retarded child and the time will come when the state cannot afford such care for all retarded."

Physical activities to develop large muscles are an important part of the work in the First Presbyterian Church, since psychologists say you can build only as good a structure as there is muscular development to support. Field trips, such as visits to a pet shop, grocery, bank and fire station are included to create a broad base of understanding.

"A second satellite center for older children is now being planned, to stress socialization, finishing tasks, and participation in arts and craft," Mrs. Friend said.

Mrs. J. S. Skelly, national defense committee chairman, read a resolution from the national DAR organization asking that questions in the next United States census be restricted to those pertaining to names, ages, marital status, sex, race number of residents and guests in the home, without extraneous questions.

As being currently planned by the Census Bureau, census takers in 1970 will ask 120 personal questions. Those who refuse to answer are subject to a fine of $100 or 60 days in jail. Questions such as "How much do you earn?" "Do you share your bath with anyone?" and "Which door of your house do you usually enter?" will be included," Mrs. Skelly said.

Mrs. Skelly suggested that all persons who consider this to be an infringement of their right to privacy, as American citizens should send protest letters to their Congressman.

Phi Epsilon Beta Attends Costume Party in Pampa

Phi Epsilon Beta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi held a "cider-sippin'" hillbilly party recently in the home of Mrs. Jim Simpson. The dining room table was covered with a red and white checkered tablecloth. The living room was decorated in black and orange cider jugs.

Members furnished chips and dips. Members of the social committee, Mmes. Jackie Narrell, Jim Simpson, Calvin McConnell and Jerry Wright, furnished soft drinks.

Members and their guests dressed in hillbilly attire for a program of cards and other games.

Members attending were Mmes. Jim Brashears, Gary Clark, Gary Epperson, Charles Hoskins, Don Hufstader, John Lyle, Calvin McConnell, Jackie Narrell, Carroll Russell, Jim Simpson, Harold Taylor, Jerry Wright and Miss Audrey Mol-

Twentieth Century Club Discusses Rummage Sale

The Twentieth Century Club of Pampa met recently in the home of Mrs. Fred Neslage for its first meeting of the 1968-69 club year. The president, Mrs. David McGahey, presided and welcomed three new members, Mrs. Rex Rose, Mrs. W.A. Skoog and Miss Elsie Cunningham.

After Mrs. Paul Harbaugh led club members in pledges to the American and Texas flags, Mrs. W.R. Campbell announced plans for the club's annual rummage sale Oct. 17, 18, and 19, and explained to new members the proceeds were used for a local Pampa student to attend college. President Mrs. McGahey requested Mrs. Fred Neslage, Yearbook Chairman, to give members the year's program theme, orientation and interpretation.

Guests were Mmes. Mike Clark, James McNamara, Grady Savage, Thomas Skinner and Miss Carolyn McClure.

Mrs. Neslage informed the group that the course of study would be "Patriotism-Our Responsibility."

Mrs. Neslage introduced Mrs. Harbaugh who spoke on the literal interpretation of the club collect, composed by Mary Stewart. Mrs. Harbaugh reminded that the collect be interpreted to mean understanding, charity, love, and Godliness toward others.

The definition "Charity is love of man because of love of God" by Webster was used to introduce Mrs. Harbaugh's meditation who said "He who gives from his store of God-given goods possesses the true sense of unlimited giving. It is the intangibles-kindness, gentleness, wisdom, and cheerfulness that need to be shared."

"An example of this was executed by Peter and John when beseeched by a lame beggar for alms, replied, 'Silver and gold have I none, but such as I have' (See TWENTIETH, Page 13)

20th Century Forum Group Studies Texas Government

The Twentieth Century Forum Study Club met with Mrs. Aubrey Steele, 1800 Grape, recently for the program theme for this year, "Texas Under Six Flags."

Mrs. Michael Dunigan presented first the program on the first settlement in Texas.

Ten families from the Canary Islands, a province of Spain, sailed June 19, 1730, for Texas and settled the first civil settlement in Texas at San Fernando de Bajar, Mrs. Dunigan said.

"After many delays and a long march from Veracruz, they arrived at the San Antonio River on March 9, 1731. After surveying the land, each family was given a lot and the necessary tools and animals to become self-sufficient," she said.

"The settlers chose their governing body. The first election in Texas was Aug. 1, 1731. The King of Spain officially recognized the election Oct. 24, 1731.

"Due to lack of initiative by the settlers, though, the settlement failed to prosper or expand. With the decree of the King of Spain to secularize the missions in 1794, the settlement began to lose its identity.

"As a reminder of the first settlement, the San Fernando Cathedral in San Antonio is built on the site of the San Fernando Church," she said.

DEAR ABBY: I'm sure there are other working mothers who share my problem. How do you get a husband to help you a little around the house?

My husband comes home from work, reads the paper, eats dinner, turns on the TV, and sits all evening.

Meanwhile, I have all the household duties, care of the baby, lesson plans, and papers to grade. (I'm a school teacher.)

My husband took the garbage out twice in the three years we have been married, but he complained so much about it, I've quit asking.

Is there any way to change him? Or must I remain a slave?

TIRED IN CHEYENNE
DEAR TIRED: There could be something wrong with the way you've been asking him. Or perhaps you communicate a lack of appreciation when he does do something to help. Sit down and explain that you are part of the "earning" team, and you need his help on the home front. But don't whine or nag.

DEAR ABBY: I am 23 and my husband (I'll call him John) is 26. We have one child, a year old, and have been married five years.

Ever since our marriage John has worked for my father who is a successful cattle rancher.

Every morning Daddy calls John and tells him what to do. John never makes any of the decisions. Daddy does. John works about 15 hours a day. He doesn't get any pay, but we get our keep and we know when Daddy goes, everything will be John's and mine. My folks have really been wonderful to us.

The problem: John's father has a used car lot in California and he's invited us to move there, and if we like it, John can buy into the business. John wants to move. So do I, but if we do, my folks will be heartbroken as we'd be taking their only grandchild away. What should we do?

TORN
DEAR TORN: John should be a man and do what he wants to do, and as his wife, you should encourage him to do the manly thing. I'm sorry for your parents, but I'm surrier for you and John if you stay when you really want to go.

DEAR ABBY: My fiance and I are very much in love, but we are of different religious faiths. Not wanting to start off on the wrong foot, we consulted a marriage counselor for pre-marital counseling to discuss the fair way to settle this question of which religion we should follow. He suggested that we both leave the churches in which we were brought up, and together join a third church. In your opinion, will this work?

STILL UNDECIDED
DEAR STILL: Only if you and your fiance have no deep religious convictions.

DEAR ABBY: I am going to be maid of honor at a wedding in a couple of weeks. My problem is that the bride is insisting that I go to her hairdresser and let him do my hair the way she wants it for the wedding. She has one style picked out for ALL the girls in the wedding party, and it's very unbecoming to me.

Abby, I have my own hair-style all picked out and I don't want to go to her hairdresser to have it done to suit her taste. Has the bride the right to dictate hair-styles for the entire wedding party? How should I handle this?

DESPERATE
DEAR DESPERATE: If I were you, I would choose my own hair style. If the bride remains insistent, she should pick a more compliant maid of honor.

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, Box 99706, Los Angeles, Calif., 90069 and inclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

20th Century Culture Club Hears Biographical Review

The Civic Culture Club met recently in the home of Mrs. H. W. Waters. The meeting, with Mrs. A. B. Cross presiding, was opened by giving pledges to the U.S. and Texas flags. Reports were given on the club's rummage sale and items collected for "Bundles for Babies" in South Vietnam.

Mrs. Cross introduced the program on Public Affairs with Mrs. Frank Grantham presenting a talk on "Pathway to Traffic Safety". She began by saying: "In just one 12-month period (1966), more than 52,000 people died as a result of motor vehicle accidents. That within itself is a disturbing fact, but equally disturbing is the fact that the general public doesn't seem to be concerned about it. We read about highway safety, safer cars, and driver education, but in spite of the best efforts of intelligent people and engineers all over the nation to do something about the climbing traffic toll we have not yet reversed the death and accident trend."

JEANE DIXON

SUNDAY, OCT. 13
ARIES (Mar. 21-Apr. 19):— Human relations are gentler today. Social urges are stronger, family ties less tangled. Make full use of the chance to express yourself.
TAURUS (Apr. 20-May 20):— Family business and social activity come alive today. It's a day of abundant family life with the spotlight on children.
GEMINI (May 21-June 20):— The demands on your time lessen somewhat. The doings at home will take your attention off weekday problems. If you're on a diet, you're apt to slip off it.
CANCER (June 21-July 22):— Your imagination is going full blast today. After church go visiting with your friends. The evening is good for creative projects or romance.
LEO (July 23-Aug. 22):— If you let it flow naturally, the whole day can go like one big party. Take your loved ones along with you in the pursuit of fun. People amiably cooperate today.
VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22):— This happy Sunday should remain in your memory as the beginning of many friendships, or perhaps a romance. Get going early.
LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22):— Group recreation is favored today. Take your loved ones along and particularly the younger ones. Make it a day to be pleasantly remembered.
SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21):— Short journeys and new contacts are strongly indicated today. It's a happy day, as people share the need for a spontaneous expression of feelings.
SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21):— Religious inspiration spreads over into social relations; you begin acting out your inner beliefs. Your friends are with you in brotherly fellowship today and for the days ahead.
CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19):— Your plans for today come out rather well. Enjoy the hospitable atmosphere which surrounds you. Meditate in the midst of the day, then go on refreshed.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18):— Despite an under-the-surface worry over health and resources, this Sunday offers relaxation. Join your loved ones for a day of fun and pastimes.
PISCES (Feb. 19-Mar. 20):— Everybody around you seems in a better mood. Join the community in a day-long celebration of good humor. Romantic ventures are favored tonight.

MONDAY, OCT. 14
ARIES (Mar. 21-Apr. 19):— Get on the job bright and early. Watch the bubbles of the day, stay ahead of the game if you can. Take no chances with temptations. Quarrels are easily begun this evening but not so easily dropped.
TAURUS (Apr. 20-May 20):— Your own set of people is with you all the way. Older people's problems may hinder you. Your independence could attract repressive effort from people of greater power. Tread softly.
GEMINI (May 21-June 20):— You will always be glad you kept a straight course on this day, against a surge of strong feelings. Your knack of calling the shot exactly could be hard to live with if you use it destructively.
CANCER (June 21-July 22):— If you can find some way of taking yourself out of the center of attention do it. Creative work may thrive despite all the turmoil. Strangers are not to be considered as more than just that. Withhold judgment until you know more about them.
LEO (July 23-Aug. 22):— The fly in the ointment is your impatience with dealing with relations and neighbors. Take no chances with safety hazards on the job or in driving.
VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22):— There is no grain in the pattern of your day. Details which you normally handle need double-checking. You will be proud of remaining calm while everybody else frets.

MRS. ROBERT W. ASHCRAFT ... nee Trina Frost

Miss Trina Frost Exchanges Vows With Robert Ashcraft in Amarillo

In a candlelit ceremony solemnized the afternoon of Oct. 5, Miss Trina A. Frost became the bride of Robert W. Ashcraft of Amarillo. Rev. Harry Vanderpool, pastor of Polk Street Methodist Church, Amarillo, officiated for the double-ring rites in First Methodist Church Chapel.

The bride is the granddaughter of Mrs. and Mrs. A. N. Rogers, 717 N. Christy, and the daughter of Mrs. Peggy Jo Ormson, 815 N. Nelson. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Ashcraft of Midland.

Vows were repeated before an altar appointed with a large arrangement of blue and white mums, flanked by seven branched candelabra. An anniversary candle, centering the wedding scene, was lighted by the newlyweds following their pledged vows.

BRIDE
 Entering the chapel with her grandfather, who gave her in marriage, the bride wore an A-line formal length gown of peau de soie enhanced by chantilly lace. Her chapel length train which fell from the shoulders, was edged in lace.

A rhinestone tiara held the bride's shoulder-length veil of illusion. She carried a white bride's Bible topped by a cascading arrangement of stephanotis centered by a catelleya orchid.

The bride carried out the tradition of something old, new, borrowed and blue and wore a penny in her shoe.

ATTENDANTS
 Miss Virginia Wiens, college classmate, and maid of honor, was attired in a teal blue floor-length A-line gown. A matching tulle coil and nose gay of white carnations and gladiolus tied with teal blue streamers completed her costume.

Miss Gabrielle Jo Ormson, bride's sister, attended as flower girl. Miss Ormson was dressed similarly to the maid of honor and dropped rose petals from a white straw basket. A teal blue carnation head band accented her dress.

Serving the bridegroom as best man was Randy Harrison of Canyon. Ushers seating the wedding guests and lighting tapers were Benny N. Ormson, brother of the bride, and Terry Crane of Cotton Center.

Mrs. J.E. Gunn, organist, presented a program of traditional nuptial selections and accompanied Mrs. Malcolm McDaniel as she sang: "Because" before the ceremony and "The Wedding Prayer" as the couple knelt on a wrought iron prie dieu following the ceremony.

RECEPTION
 Guests were greeted in First Methodist Church Parlor at a reception held following the wedding rites. Miss Nancy Elsheimer registered guests from a table appointed with a silver candelabra bearing an arrangement of blue and white mums and blue tapers.

The bride's table, covered with a white satin floor-length cloth, was centered with an arrangement of blue and white mums and blue votive tapers.

The three-tiered wedding cake, separated by swan colonnades, trimmed in blue flowers and topped by a miniature bride couple was served by Mrs. Ronnie Atkinson. Miss Marilyn McMillan of Tahoka presided at the punch bowl.

Other members of the house-party included Mrs. G. H. Anderson, Mrs. Kenneth Elsheimer, Mrs. Carl E. Johnson and Mrs. W.M. Johnson.

A graduate of Pampa High the bride is a junior elementary major at West Texas State University, Canyon. The bridegroom, a graduate of Midland High School, received a Master's Degree in mathematics from WTSU in 1968. He is employed in Amarillo where the couple will make their home.

For traveling on a wedding trip, the bride wore a teal blue double-knit dacron dress accented by black accessories and the orchid corsage lifted from her bridal bouquet.

Out-of-town wedding guests included Mr. and Mrs. William Ashcraft of Midland, parents of the bridegroom; Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Webb of Midland; Louis Johnson and Mr. and Mrs. Buster Smith, Robin, John and Helen Ann, all of Lone Grove, Okla.; Miss Teresa E. McMennamy and Miss Nancy Rogers of Canyon.

PRE-NUPITAL EVENTS
 A miscellaneous shower honoring the bride-elect was given Oct. 4, in the home of Mrs. Kenneth Elsheimer, 506 Price Rd. Hostesses included Mrs. Roy Kay, Mrs. G. H. Anderson, Mrs. Jerry Nelson, Mrs. Elsheimer, Mrs. Ronnie Atkinson, and Mrs. V.E. Wagner.

The serving table, covered with a white linen cloth, was appointed with silver candelabra bearing blue tapers and blue and white mums.

The honoree was presented a white orchid corsage. Her grandmother, Mrs. A.N. Rogers, and her mother, Mrs. Peggy Jo Ormson, received corsages of blue carnations. The hostesses and the honoree's sister, Miss Gabrielle Jo Ormson, wore white carnation corsages.

Approximately 80 persons participated in the event.

PJA Council Sponsors Study Course on Children

City Council Parent Teacher Association's Study Course on Children was held recently at Carver Educational Service Center with Mrs. Bob Price introducing Mrs. T.Z. Walker, of the Friendship House in Amarillo.

Mrs. Walker stressed "never give a child an ultimatum, give him a choice," and added "the only other hospital like the Kilgore Children's Psychiatric Center in Amarillo, is in Providence, R.I."

"Fees at the Kilgore Psychiatric Center are based on the parents' ability to pay. There are about 2,800 patients in the Wichita Falls State Hospital. The average patient stays about two years. One person in every 10 has some form of mental or emotional illness and needs psychiatric treatment. The United States has 531 mental hospitals," she said.

The study course speaker Oct. 31 will be Rev. Sam Hulsey. He lived in Fort Worth and attended schools there and at Washington Lee University. He spent a year at Saint Andrews in Scotland and has been minister at St. Matthew's Episcopal Church here two and a half years.

About 50 attended the first study course. Those attending included nurses, ministers, principals and parents.

If you are a do-it-yourself furniture refinisher, some of the solutions used are hard on the hands. It's a good idea to wear vinyl or rubber gloves to protect sensitive hands.

Varietas Study Club Members Hear 2 Speakers on 'Tomorrow's House'

Mrs. Cecil Dalton and Mrs. Luther Pierson presented the program at the recent meeting of Varietas Study Club in the home of Mrs. W.E. Abernathy.

Mrs. F.A. Cary, club president presided at the business meeting. Members boxed their contributions of clothing and canned goods for Indian welfare. Plans were made for the husbands' party to be held Oct. 22.

Mrs. H. Price Dosier Sr. produced the speakers. The program was titled, "Tomorrow's House", with the sub-title, "Houses are built to live in more than to look at."

Mrs. Dalton spoke on the topic

"The Living House". She stressed the inside of a home should reflect the tastes of the occupants.

She said, "A house should be elegant but not ostentatious, revealing both comfort and sophistication. If you are happy with furniture trimmed in fur, with disappearing walls, with long panels of colored glass, you should have them; if they offend you, you should decorate more conservatively."

Mrs. Dalton discussed new fabrics for interiors—and a new outside material which is stronger and lighter in weight than conventional steel for housing.

Describing mobile housing, which now serves as home for one out of every four Americans, having risen 1000 per cent since 1961, she said that, while most mobile homes cost from $3,000 to $12,000, there are also wealthy families, called "Match Box Millionaires", whose movable dwellings are in the luxury class.

Speaking on "Jewels for the Home", Mrs. Pierson told her audience, "Every home has its jewels, which can range from the modest to the magnificent. A home jewel of good craftsmanship gives those in the house the joy of owning a piece of idle beauty, of seeing it again and again, of finding new delight in it as time goes on."

She listed many "jewels" of great value, such as costly antiques, cut glass, jewelry, coins, and imports of many kinds.

Other jewels are utilitarian, such as the telephone, dictionary, pictures, books, appliances, and garden tools. Some jewels are intangible, such as laughter, singing, the enjoyment of flowers, the serving of good food, and religious education," she said.

Present at the meeting were Mrs. W.E. Abernathy, F.A. Cary, Cecil Dalton, H. Price Dosier Sr., Clyde Ellis, S. C. Evans, Lee Harrah, J.E. Kirchner, Luther Kirk, R.W. Lane, Otis Nace, L.B. Penick, Luther Pierson, J.R. Spearman, Aubrey Sprawls, Ralph Thomas, W. A. Wagoner, and Sherman White.

El Progresso Club Sponsors Fall Tea

El Progresso Club members sponsored a fall tea in the Lovett Library recently as Mrs. Dudley Steele gave the guest review.

She reviewed "Will it Make into a Bed" which was written by Lorna Novac of Amarillo.

"This is a humorous saga of a West Texas family who live in a small town such as our own Pampa. The story was in keeping with our course of study for the year, which is our Texas Heritage," Mrs. Steele said.

Mrs. Ben Hamilton presided over the meeting and conducted a short business session.

Mrs. Richard Bray introduced Mrs. Steele. The social committee responsible for the tea table included Mrs. Charles Lanehart, Mrs. Oma Drew, Mrs. Carlton Nance and Mrs. Glen Dawkins.

Those attending were Mrs. Avie E. Bell, Glen Dawkins, Carlton Nance, Leon Daughterty, V.J. Drew, Charles Lanehart, H.B. Hamilton, Lee Moore, Finis Jordan, Louise Sewell, Ida Perkins, Veri Hagaman, William Charlton, J.F. Malone, W. Bray, Naomi Lawson, Kermit Lawson, Arthur Teed, L.E. Harris, A.A. Sturgeon, Bob Chafin, J.F. Curtis, Hupp Clark, O.D. Gaylor, Wanda Hickey, A. Bradley, C.O. Drew, Glen Baker, George Taylor, Paul Horton, Scott Nisbet, O.M. Prigmore, Polly Enloe, Priscilla Downing, Margaret Duke, Mary Helen Boston, Norma Autry, Monta Taylor, Ann Chapman, Mina Smalting, Lula Casey and Mary Waldstad.

GUEST DAY TEA -- Mrs. Ben Hamilton president of El Progresso Club, serves tea for the guest speaker, Mrs. N. Dudley Steele, and two club members, Mrs. V. J. Drew, left and Mrs. Veri Hagaman. Mrs. Steele was guest book reviewer for the club's annual Guest Day Tea recently in Lovett Memorial Library.

HARVEST BALL FASHIONS -- Five Beta Sigma Phi Sorority members shop for formals to wear to their sorority's annual Harvest Ball Oct. 19 in the Coronado Inn. Mrs. Estelle Britnell, left, shows two dresses to Mrs. George Woods and Mrs. Charles Thompson, right, seated, and Mrs. Thomas Beard, Mrs. John Lyle and Mrs. Ernest B. Fletcher, standing right.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): —There are enough arguments going on. Your poise can help you remain neutral; nor do you need to catch it from both sides trying to mediate prematurely. At home tonight be wary of the same pitfall.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): —Your intuition is the surest guide today. Mixed influences are almost certain. Go right on tidying up, and get done with it.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): — If it is not yourself, it is somebody you care about who is caught up in some dilemma. Stand by while the matter works itself out.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): — Strangers may be of more assistance than the people you've rubbed against before. Be especially considerate with those you care about. Try to remember, your mate may not have been the sole cause of the confusion.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): — Policy changes are not favored! Older people create concern. People with authority do not always use it wisely just now.

PISCES (Feb. 19-Mar. 20): — Unsettled is the word for your environment now. Your best interests lie in close agreement with those accustomed to your needs. Purchasing is tricky.

La Cultura Group Has Guest Speaker

Mrs. Jimmie Hayes was hostess for the recent La Cultura Club meeting as Mrs. Paul Hartin, president, presided, and welcomed Mrs. Charles Arledge as a new member.

Mrs. Malcolm McClelland introduced the guest speaker, R. D. Helms of Spearman. Helms, an attorney, is the Democratic district committee man for the 31st Senatorial district. He discussed state and national politics.

Helms stressed the need for more active political interest by all citizens and presented copies of the Democratic platform for Texas, copies of the minority platform which was presented at the national Democratic convention, and the platform which the convention adopted.

Helms, concerned over television coverage of both conventions, said he thought "too much time was wasted on interviews with people who were asked to speculate on outcomes of the convention, whereas presentation of party platforms were only summarized by commentators."

Members attending were Mrs. Charles Arledge, John Ellis, Lee Foxworthy, W.W. Hampton, Paul Hartin, Jimmie Hayes, Malcolm McClelland, Scott Nisbett and Phil Rapstine.

Judith Raskin To Appear In Concert Here Thursday

Judith Raskin, lovely soprano of the Metropolitan Opera, will appear in the first of the Pampa Community Concert Association's fall and winter concert series Thursday night in the Pampa Junior High School auditorium.

Miss Raskin is hailed as one of those singers who is outstanding in the opera house, on the concert stage and as a lieder recitalist.

Her recent successes at the Metropolitan attest to that. Miss Raskin is an artist who is entirely American-trained. Contrary to the conclusions of many musical buffs, she has proved that a singer does not have to "make it in Europe first."

Asked for the secret of her American success, she says simply, "My teachers. I studied with Anna Hamlin at Smith College and later, fortunately for me, she came to New York. I am still taking lessons from her. I have two and three per week. I attack my roles from several angles. I go to different coaches for French, German and Italian repertory. I learn the foreign languages in which I sing, carefully, using phonetics to acquire the correct sounds. I study acting with my

The Pampa Daily News

A Watchful Newspaper
EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS
TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license, nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself. No more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

Green Turns Purple

Charlie Green is an imaginary but representative, white-collar worker, who is employed by the non-partisan Tax Foundation, Inc., to illustrate what is happening to us, taxwise. The intermittent reports on Charlie Green's well-being are a sobering serial. He is married and the father of two perpetually hungry teen-agers. His salary is $12,000 a year.

He was flabbergasted recently to learn that his annual share of the cost of government was much greater than the yearly cost of food for his family of four. Just ten years ago, Charlie's grocery bill was $1,741. For 1968, it was up 60 percent, to $2,789. But his share of the cost of government had risen in the same ten-year period to $4,060—46 percent more than the cost of food for his family.

Charlie's individual share of the federal budget, as totted up by the Foundation, is as follows: national defense $943, up 38 percent; health, labor and welfare $573, up 130 percent; agricultural $65, up 41 percent; international affairs and finance $63, up 23 percent. Federal government has more than doubled in the 10 years from $15 to $33, while the cost of education had increased 700 percent to $56. Space research and technology had gone from $1 to $59, and housing and community development from $1 to $48. With rising interest rates and deficit piled upon deficit in the national debt, interest had increased 61 percent to $167. That is $668 for Charlie's family of four.

Total federal government spending has more than doubled in the 10-year period, rising from $83 billion to $176 billion. Poor Charlie was earning $7500 a year in 1958 and his direct taxes were only 27 percent of that income in 1968; not calculated are the multitude of hidden taxes which are included in the price of every product. The Tax Foundation figures that Charlie's $4,500 salary increase over the past 10 years amounts to only $1,954 after allowing for increased direct taxes and the inflation which is reflected in a 20 percent increase in the consumer price index.

We presume that Charlie Green turned a deep purple upon learning these facts. And unless you're on welfare or the federal government payroll, you're in the same boat with Charlie, at least until election day.

New Flu Bug Moves Into U.S.

The invader is among us and the battle is likely to be long—all winter long. As expected, Hong Kong flu, a new wrinkle in the virus that periodically lays low multitudes throughout the world, has cropped up in this country and the U.S. Public Health Service warns we may be in for the worst siege since 1957.

We've had miracle drugs for decades, but flu has a longer record as something of a miracle disease. You just can't keep it down. As soon as a vaccine is developed for one strain, new varieties immune to existing treatment pop up and the search for a defense starts all over again. Flu is one of the myriad viruses about which there is some debate in scientific circles. Are they "live" in the commonly accepted sense or merely active chemical structures? Live or not, they are certainly capable of causing havoc, as millions of sufferers annually can testify. The latest strain surfaced during the summer in Hong Kong hence its name, and spread to Japan, Formosa and other Asian points. It apparently hitchhiked across the Pacific with returning servicemen.

For most of us, flu is a nuisance—a few days of running nose, watering eyes and aches all over. In short, the general miseries. But it can be deadly, weakening resistance to other diseases and posing the greatest threat to some highly susceptible people such as victims of lung ailments and pregnant women. In 1957, flu claimed some 19,000 American lives. In the worst epidemic on record, following World War I, an estimated 20 million died throughout the world.

Researchers are already at work on a new vaccine specifically designed for the Hong Kong virus. But it will be several months before it can be developed and distributed to doctors and clinics. By then, the invader is likely to have made heavy inroads in school, plant and office attendance.

Which means that not much is to be gained by rushing out for a shot now. That may be some consolation for those among us who detest the needle almost more than the disease, but not veddy much.

Women Driving Alone

Each report on crime released by the Federal Bureau of Investigation includes statistics showing an increase in the number of assaults on women. These reports do not indicate what percentage of these assaults involve women who are driving alone at night, but the problem is one which troubles women drivers throughout the nation.

It is impractical for anyone to expect all women to refrain from any night driving unless accompanied by a companion, nor is there any insurance against breakdown on lightly travelled roads. The Mississippi Automobile Dealers Association has taken cognizance of this problem and compiled a list of protective measures which can be followed to reduce the danger. The first consideration should be the vehicle. Keep it in the best possible mechanical condition; be sure the gas tank is full; make sure all doors lock properly. Avoid bad neighborhoods and travel on well-lighted streets where possible, even if it means extra driving time. Keep doors locked and windows closed. Do not leave enticing valuables in plain sight on the seat.

Inform someone of your route, destination and expected time of arrival. If the car stalls and won't start, stay put. You'll be safer in a locked car until trustworthy help arrives. If you have a flat tire, drive slowly to a safe place. In an emergency, you can drive on a flat for as many as 15 miles, if you keep slow speed.

If someone unknown to you stops, tell them through closed windows that the police are on their way, and that you'll be patient and wait for them. If a car blocks your path, lean on the horn. If followed, drive to the nearest police, fire or gas station. Do not go directly home, even if home is close by. And if all else fails and you find yourself in trouble, don't panic. Just scream your head off. Make it really loud. Finally, carry a flashlight, so that you can signal passing cars.

Light is a great protector.

Lesson in Economics

When you next hear a government official discussing billion-dollar expenditures, think of watch-maker Arde Bulova's explanation of one billion. He asks an estimate of the number of minutes that have elapsed since the birth of Christ. Answers normally range in the trillions, but the answer is: only a little more than one billion.

The Grand Illusion

Inside Washington

Nixon Backers Find Campaign Too Controlled, Fear Campaign Could Run Out of Steam

WASHINGTON — "Yeah," said Charley, "the polls are wonderful and things look great for us, but it just isn't my kind of campaign."

Knowing Charley to be a lifelong Republican with views comparable to Richard Nixon's, we had assumed that Nixon's campaign was just the kind of conservative, steady-going campaign that we would expect. But it is anything but that. It is a campaign of such tight control and discipline that it has become the subject of a new book, "The Strategy of the Year," by John Goldsmith.

"This time it's all controlled from New York," he said, "and they are terribly afraid of making mistakes up there."

"No one down here has authority to do anything, or authorize anything. I'm doing a little volunteer work, but everything has to be cleared, and there isn't much enthusiasm."

"I think a good campaign exploits the enthusiasm of campaign workers and accepts the risk of a mistake or two. Otherwise, it seems to me, the whole thing can just run out of steam before election day."

For the record, Charley is about 55, an attorney who has worked for GOP lawmakers and was in the government's executive branch during the Eisenhower Administration. He is one of those shadow officials who will probably be in government again, on the second or third administrative echelon, if Nixon wins the presidency.

We withhold a more precise identification because of Charley's parting comment: "Say, you won't quote me, or course! They wouldn't like it if they knew I was down here talking to reporters."

GHOSSED OF '48 — Charlie's comments pretty well define the strategic questions confronting the Nixon high command. Top Nixon aides are, indeed, terribly afraid of making mistakes. Better than anyone else they know how close Nixon came to victory in 1960, and they want to reverse that 1960 verdict.

The Doctor Says:

Red Spots Under-Skin Are Form of Purpura

Q—I am a woman, 47. I have little red spots on my arms and chest that look like blood under my skin. What causes them? Are they anything to worry about?

A—Whether the spots are pinpoint in size or large spots that look like bruises, they are a form of purpura. The causes fall into three groups: (1) Those due to local injury (insect bites, snake bite, sprains, ruptured varicose veins and trauma), (2) capillary damage associated with chemical poisoning, acute infections, allergies or scurvy and (3) blood diseases (thrombocytopenia, anemia, platelet deficiency and treatment with anticoagulants). How serious the condition is will depend on the cause.

Q—What causes one to get black-and-blue marks in various locations without any known injury?

A—Some form of purpura. Q—Is purpura catching? Would vitamin B-12 help to cure it?

A—Although purpura is sometimes a symptom of an infectious disease, the symptom is not catching and in most cases the cause is non-communicable. One cause is pernicious anemia and against this disease vitamin B-12 is very effective. If, however, the cause is scurvy, the treatment would be vitamin C.

Q—What is Henoch-Schoenlein purpura? What is the treatment?

A—Schoenlein purpura is an allergic purpura in which some of the bleeding occurs in the joints. Henoch purpura is an allergic form in which bleeding occurs in the intestinal wall, causing abdominal cramps. These forms of purpura are seen chiefly in children and young adults. Although they behave like allergic diseases, the underlying cause is often hard to find. Specific treatment is possible only if the allergen can be identified. Otherwise, relief of symptoms is all that can be offered.

Q—I have been told that my platelet count is low. Is this serious?

A—Blood platelets are cellular structures that are smaller and more fragile than the corpuscles. Their function is to prevent breaks in the capillaries. When the platelet count (normally about 300,000) drops below 100,000, small capillary hemorrhages occur—thrombocytopenic purpura. In most cases, the underlying cause is unknown. Surgical removal of the spleen is a lifesaving measure. It should be done before any other operation is attempted.

In 1492, Christopher Columbus took possession of land in the Bahamas in the name of Spain. This event is considered the discovery of America.

Wallace Tough Talk Woos Protesters Against Protest

By BRUCE BLOSSAT
Washington Correspondent
WASHINGTON (NEA) — Again and again as he travels the northern campaign circuit, third party presidential candidate George C. Wallace asks his noisy, often big crowds, "What's wrong with telling the people what they want to hear?"

The approving roar from his partisans gives the answer: Nothing at all. And, to judge from the responses of the astonishingly numerous and energetic pro-Wallace citizens who turn up at his rallies, what these particular people want to hear is tough talk—filled with strong-action verbs—against racial rioters, chanting antiwar militants, campus revolutionaries, dissenting professors and outright criminals.

Follow George Wallace for a week and you will hear him suggest that:
 —Hollering antiwar militants be dragged by the hair and "stuck under some jail."
 —Similar noisemakers be "manhandled" if they dare to lie down in front of his automobile when and if he becomes president.

—Professors who advocate victory in Vietnam for Hanoi and the Viet Cong be thrust into jail along with other such protesters, on the ground this is beyond reasonable dissent and constitutes treason.
 —All the "anarchists" — Wallace's broad term covering the whole range of present-day troublemakers—be cast beyond the pale of decent society after the Nov. 5 election. He warns them:

"You had better have your fun now because after Nov. 5 you are through in this country."
 —Thousands of "briefcase-carrying" Washington bureaucrats should be recalled from the field and "their briefcases thrown into the Potomac River."

To underscore the force of Wallace's broad term covering the whole range of present-day troublemakers—be cast beyond the pale of decent society after the Nov. 5 election. He warns them:
 "You had better have your fun now because after Nov. 5 you are through in this country."
 —Thousands of "briefcase-carrying" Washington bureaucrats should be recalled from the field and "their briefcases thrown into the Potomac River."

But so far there is no proof this is happening. Wallace has found a deep chord of response, a way of strumming hard on assorted discontents. He has with him the most vociferous of the protesters against protest. "They could give him an avalanche of votes."

When those at one end of the political spectrum violently assault the establishment center, then rigid, threatening resistance from people at the opposite pole suddenly becomes more respectable and acceptable.

George Wallace, never the muted man of the cautious center, symbolizes the new resistance—and its ever-widening acceptability.

How Words Lose Charisma '67

NEW YORK (NEA) — As we understand the rules, for a word to qualify as the Word-of-the-Year, it must meet three basic requirements:
 The first is that it is in the dictionary. The second requirement is that you still do not know what it means exactly. True enough, some Words-of-the-Year, such as impinge (1949) and serendipity (1956), can only be found in the more expensive dictionaries. But even with cheaper words like dialog (1966) and in (1965), the meaning is not much advanced by definition.

The third requirement for a Word-of-the-Year, of course, is that it is used by the people who tell it like it is. Under the circumstances, the Word-of-1968 is relevant. Picking a random 90-minute sample from our notebook of last week, we can report that: Fred Friendly of the Ford Foundation is concerned with relevant issues, Mark Rudd and his colleagues in the Students for a Democratic Society want relevant courses; Arthur Schlesinger Jr. sees few relevant policies, and Thomas Hoag, chairman of the National Citizens Committee for Public Television has demanded relevant programming.

Just how a word gets started on the route to being the Word-of-the-Year is impossible to say. But all at once it is everywhere, and everything is suddenly ethnic (1964) or subliminal (1957) or alienated (1959). The only visible part of the route is the exit. You can tell that a Word's year is over when it falls into the hands of management (1938) and is merchandised or measured.

Take the Word-of-1958. That was the year of relate, when everybody realized that men were actually relating to women, women were relating to children, children were relating to creative playthings, and so on—seemingly forever. But 12 months later, almost to the day, the Word was no longer ambient (1963). At lunch that day we heard an ad man say about his wife: "She doesn't relate well motherlywise."

Last year's Word, charisma, is done for, too, having fallen into the laboratory. According to a Gallup poll, Richard Nixon has 13 per cent more charisma than Hubert Humphrey who in turn has 4 per

The expression of humiliation to "eat humble pie" dates from 11th-century England, when all ate at one table seated according to rank. The World Almanac says, "When deer was served, the lord ate venison, but the humble folk at the foot of the table got 'umblie pie' or the entrails, including the umblie cord from which 'umblie' comes.
