Hanoi Demands Bombing Halt Clearance 'Assured' For Flight to Moon

By RICHARD HUGHES — United Press International Hanoi radio today ignored reports of an American offer to de-escalate the Vietnam War, and broadcast a demand for the unconditional halt of U.S. bombing of North Vietnam. Diplomatic observers in Saigon and elsewhere said it was the first time North Vietnam's demand since Hanoi acknowledged it was studying a U.S. offer said to include a bombing halt.

He also said the withdrawal from North Vietnamese waters of the U.S. battleship New Jersey further raised speculation in the South Vietnam capital of a peace drive. The New Jersey had been busy since arriving in Far East waters last month pounding the North Vietnam coast with its 16-inch guns. U.S. Navy sources indicated the ship's movements were only dictated by military operations, not diplomacy.

By AL ROSSITER JR. UPI Space Writer — SPACE CENTER, Houston (UPI) — Apollo 7's three astronauts rode back to earth in a pink cloud of fire today, triumphantly ending the "perfect" 11-day spaceflight that shattered the barriers between man and the moon.

Nearly an hour later, unshaken by the topsy-turvy landing of a frantic 15-minute search through fog and rain to find them, the astronauts stepped onto the deck of the carrier Essex, headed for a quick medical checkup, shaves and a steak-and-eggs breakfast. "It's great to be back," said Schirra. Doctors reported the astronauts were unharmed by the effect of re-entry and the colds that plagued them throughout the flight.

Arias Flees Zone For Washington

PANAMA CITY (UPI)—Deposed President Arnulfo Arias of Panama left his refuge in the American-controlled Panama Canal Zone Monday night and flew in a U.S. government plane to Washington, American spokesmen said today.

Spokesmen for the Panama Canal Co. said Arias left because "this would help prevent bloodshed in Panama." The Panamanian national guard toppled Arias' 11-day-old regime Oct. 11 and the president fled into the Canal zone.

The Canal Company said Arias flew in a U.S. government plane, "since there is no commercial air service in the Canal Zone and no charter aircraft was immediately available."

The spokesman said Arias "chose to fly to Washington after having been in the Canal Zone 10 days. It said three of his closest aides went with him—Presidency Minister Hildebrando Nicosia, Humberto Calamari and Jacobo Salas.

Muskie Handles Another Protest

BOSTON (UPI)—The young woman in the green dress would not let Edmund S. Muskie finish reading his speech about what the United States should do after the Vietnam War. She wanted him to talk about what the country should do now.

"What about Vietnam! What about Vietnam!" shouted Ellen Miller of Cambridge, Mass., as she squatted on the floor of the Boston College gymnasium where the Democratic vice presidential nominee addressed Monday night some 5,000 students.

Today, the Maine senator stumps in Stamford, New Haven and New Britain, Conn. "When I finish my message you may come up here and give your message," the tall Muskie said to her, leaning over a lectern on the stage. The girl carried a sign declaring her support of a presidential ticket of Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., and Michigan Rep. John Conyers.

But Miss Miller, who said she was in her 20s, persisted, encouraged by several youths who were with her. "Well, you'd better come, young lady. I can't continue," he said. His unique way of handling hecklers by letting them have their say began Sept. 25 at Williamsburg, Pa.

She introduced herself and said that concessions should be made to Hanoi by the United States so that the Vietnam War could be ended.

Muskie said the nation's commitment to South Vietnam goes back to 1954. "I do not find it easy to abandon such a commitment," he said. "An abandonment will affect our credibility around the world."

He said, however, he favored a bombing halt.

Top News In Brief

PRAGUE (UPI)—Polish troops today joined Hungarian forces in withdrawing from sections of Czechoslovakia they helped occupy in the Aug. 20-21 Warsaw Pact bloc invasion, the Russian press said.

In Moscow, the Soviet army newspaper Red Star said both Hungarian and Polish troops had started to leave Czechoslovakia. It gave no indication Soviet troops had started to depart.

TOKYO (UPI)—Thousands of rock-throwing students seized Tokyo's busiest railroad station and set it on fire today in an anti-American demonstration. Police arrested nearly 1,000 persons in rioting throughout the nation.

FORT WORTH (UPI)—Mrs. Margaret Medders, who at one time sat atop the pinnacle of high society in Texas before crumbling in bankruptcy, pleaded guilty in district court Monday to a charge of giving a worthless check.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Supreme Court Justice Hugo L. Black Monday refused to postpone the transfer to Southeast Asia of 105 National Guardsmen from Louisville, Ky., now at Fort Hood, Tex.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson will hold a news conference this week, with the day and time still to be decided. The White House said there would be no announcement on the Vietnam situation.

By United Press International After a night of rain over much of the state a cold front moved rapidly across the Panhandle and North Central Texas today.

Thunderstorms which developed ahead of a previous front Monday night dumped rain across the northern and central portions of the state.

American Party To Take Protest To Commission

AMARILLO (UPI)—W. M. Anderson, American party committeeman, was expected to go before the Amarillo city commission today to continue his protest of the removal of George Wallace for President posters from three city buses.

The posters were removed from buses after threats of a boycott and violence were rumored. Anderson said the removal of the signs was a breach of a contract the party had with the city, but Asst. City Manager Leeland Nelson said the city's contract was with a Peoria, Ill., advertising firm and that signs were still carried by 18 buses under the specifications of the contract.

Communist Artillery Smashes Hospital

By JACK WALSH SAIGON (UPI)—Communist artillery today smashed a U.S. Marine base children's hospital, killing at least six persons including three patients.

UPI correspondent Perry Young, at the Leatherneck base of Dong Ha just below the North-South Vietnam border Demilitarized Zone (DMZ), said at least 25 shells exploded around the headquarters of the Marine 3rd Division.

Young said the South Vietnamese children's hospital, caring for the smallest refugees from North Vietnamese invasion action, took direct hits. Donations from individual Marines had built the hospital.

Besides the three children killed, an unknown number of additional patients suffered wounds, he said.

Young said three Americans were killed and at least 15 wounded in the Reds' first attack in weeks against the biggest of U.S. bases below the DMZ.

Just above the DMZ, an 11th day of monsoon rains blunted an attack by hundreds of U.S. jets against North Vietnam's southern panhandle, military spokesmen said today. One plane was downed.

The spokesmen said the storms muddled the panhandle supply road and so limited Communist traffic that U.S. pilots on 114 missions reported hitting only two trucks in Monday's raiding.

Each mission involved three to five fighter-bombers. Besides the two trucks, the jets hit six boats and four bridges—far below the usual score for the American airmen.

Plane, Pilot Lost A Navy A4 Skyhawk jet fell to unknown causes, spokesmen said, 5 miles southeast of Vinh. The pilot was listed as missing. It was the 10th U.S. plane lost (See COMMIE, Page 3)

Jackie, Husband To Reside In New York After Journey

By SHEILA WALSH SKORPIOS, Greece, (UPI)—Aristotle and Jacqueline Onassis will go to New York "in about two weeks" to take up residence, the mother of the bride said today.

Candidates Bear Down On Law, Order Issues

By United Press International The final two weeks of the presidential campaign opened today with the candidates bearing down on the law and order issue.

In Cincinnati, GOP hopeful Richard M. Nixon stepped up the pace Monday with a direct attack on Democratic opponent Hubert H. Humphrey.

The vice president, Nixon said, gave "aid and comfort to rioters and looters" two years ago in saying he could himself "lead a mighty good revolt" if he lived in slum conditions.

"A vote for Hubert Humphrey is a vote to continue a lackadaisical, do-nothing attitude toward the crime crisis in America," Nixon said.

"It is a vote for policies that have left us with a crime rate that will redouble crime in America by the end of 1972," Humphrey, campaigning in a neighborhood of Hassidic Jews in Brooklyn, told a street crowd that "if I am president, I will do everything within the power of that office to obtain the law and order that this community deserves."

Crime had so alarmed the community where Humphrey spoke that its leaders formed their own police patrols.

Third-party candidate George C. Wallace threw away a prepared speech on farm problems when scuffling broke out at a Moline, Ill., rally, and instead gave an emphatic reading of his customary speech on law and order.

He drew a cheer from some 7,000 screaming partisans in the Wharton Field House when he repeated a favorite line that of the late President John F. Kennedy. The weatherman predicted partly cloudy weather and some showers, better than the storms that rocked the Christmas, moored since the couple wed Sunday on this Onassis island.

Possibly more meaningful to the bride was the Roman Catholic Church's punishment of her for marrying a divorced man.

According to New York reports, not even a pre-marriage visit by the former first lady to a beloved cardinal soothed the church of her faith.

Price Discusses Wheat Policy In Perryton Talk

PERRYTON (Sp) — Congressman Bob Price in a town hall meeting in Perryton this morning told a group of farmers and agriculture people that "cheap American wheat is no answer to this country's desire to increase exports."

"In fact, it is our cheap wheat that has frightened foreign countries into a system of prohibitive variable levies which keeps our wheat from entering their markets," the Congressman said.

Price, who is seeking reelection in the Nov. 5 general election, used prices received by Panhandle farmers and the cost of wheat to Dutch processors between April 1963 and April 1968 as the basis for his remarks.

"The Panhandle farmer now gets 86 cents a bushel less than he did in 1963," the candidate said. "But the Dutch processor pays 26 cents a bushel more (obviously the falling price of wheat in the United States was not passed on to the Dutch buyer."

"Much of the foreign price increase was due to the variable levies on wheat imposed by the European Common Market countries. This levy increased 36 cents between 1963 and 1968 and falling prices on the American commodity markets do not stimulate exports, but instead force other nations to freeze our efforts to protect their own producers," the congressman said.

Matson Shows His Appreciation To Youngsters

Randy Matson, Pampa's contestant in the International Olympics at Mexico City, is recognized and honored by every age, including second grade students at Sam Houston Elementary School.

Because Matson is an ex-student of Sam Houston School, students of M. A. Petty Boswell's second grade wanted to show him how proud they were of his achievement.

Wesley Ray VanSickle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Ray VanSickle, 1328 N. Starkweather, was delegated Monday to deliver the students' envelope of recognition—letters to Matson and their cartoon drawings of him competing in the shot put for which he won a gold medal. "Matson gave Wesley an Olympic pin from Mexico City to show his appreciation for the letters and cartoons," Mrs. VanSickle said.

Reservations are being taken for a bar-b-que being held in conjunction with Pampa High School homecoming Friday. The bar-b-que is scheduled for 4-6 p.m. Friday in the High School cafeteria and is being sponsored by the Harvester Club of Pampa.

The public is invited to the Mr. and Mrs. Billy Ray VanSickle, 1328 N. Starkweather, taken until 4 p.m. Wednesday at the counselors office at the high school.

Registration for ex-students will be held at 3 p.m. Friday in the school cafeteria and Pampa will host Caprock in the annual homecoming football game Friday night.

Tickets for the bar-b-que are $1.75 per person.

Foreign News Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst
Even if current optimism over the possibility of an early start to Mideast peace talks is borne out, they may come too late for King Hussein of Jordan.

The optimism is based on reports that both Hussein and President Gamal Abdel Nasser sent their foreign ministers to the United Nations General Assembly meeting with orders to seek indirect negotiations with Israel for a political settlement of the June, 1967, Jordanian emissaries, already are said to have contacted the Israelis.

Of all the Arab losers, young Hussein, last of the Hashemite kings who once ruled both Jordan and Iraq, lost the most—38 per cent of Jordan's productive capacity and 85 per cent of her tourist income. The next thing that could be lost is his throne.

Illustrating how precarious is Hussein's position have been recent dispatches from both Amman, the Jordanian capital, and Cairo.

These dispatches have told of mounting tension between the government and the Palestinian commandos who use Jordan as a base for their raids into Israel. Far from seeking peace, these groups seek the military extinction of Israel.

Cairo dispatches suggest that government efforts to contain these groups have failed and instead that the government has been forced into an agreement to lift all restrictions upon them in exchange for a promise that they will not interfere in Jordanian politics.

This like the Russians saying they will not interfere with the internal affairs of Czechoslovakia despite the fact their troops remain on Czech soil.

The commandos are divided into three main groups:

The Palestine Liberation Army which claims 12,000 men, of whom 3,000 are believed to be attached to the armies of Egypt, Syria and Iraq.

Al Fatah, military wing of Al Fatah, claims 15,000 men.

The Front for the Liberation of Palestine which has about 2,000 men.

Conceivably, these groups not only could torpedo peace talks but could topple Hussein himself.

Navy Imposes Restrictions In Vietnam

DA NANG, Vietnam (UPI)—The U.S. Navy recently imposed restrictions on American servicemen in the Da Nang area because of racial incidents, a military spokesman said.

The spokesman said the restrictions were imposed Oct. 12-13 following two confrontations that weekend between whites and Negroes and after a Negro enlisted man opened fire with a pistol and a shot from the gun killed a Negro guard.

The shooting was not necessarily the result of a racial dispute, the spokesman said.

The restrictions banned sale of alcoholic beverages at all naval installations, limited use of facilities at the Navy's Camp Tien Sha to naval support personnel and allowed only authorized Navy men access to the China Beach rest and recuperation center.

The Navy said a group of Negroes disarmed and beat two Navy guards and that nine Negro Marines and soldiers were arrested a few hours later.

The following day a group of Negroes returned from a meeting and were confronted by a white sailor who shouted obscenities at them, the spokesman said. The spokesman said the sailor waved a chain and "threatened to kill" one of the Negroes.

The spokesman said the Negroes disarmed the white sailor at gunpoint.

Cmdr. Linus Wesman, 36, commander of enlisted men at the I Corps Naval Support Activity, said a Negro sailor was thrown out of an enlisted men's club three times the night of Oct. 13 because of boisterous behavior. He said the man went to his duty station, took a 45-caliber pistol and disarmed two Shore Patrolmen who tried to disarm him. He fired several shots outside the base mess hall.

Wesman said a Negro guard stationed in a watch tower nearby was found dead a few hours later. He said he had been killed by a bullet that entered his back.

Jackie

Aides said they expected them back in New York in two weeks. Mrs. Onassis' two children left for home Monday along with the other kin and friends who attended the wedding.

The children, with their aunts Mrs. Peter Lawford and Mrs. Stephen Smith, were flying from Athens to New York aboard an American commercial airliner. Mrs. Onassis' sister, Princess Lee Radziwill, her husband and children, were flying home to London on one of Onassis' Olympic Airways planes.

In Vatican City, Msgr. Fausto Vallaine, chief Roman Catholic Church spokesman, said Monday Mrs. Onassis violated church law by marrying a divorced man. The couple wed in a Greek Orthodox Church service in the faith of the bridegroom.

The monsignor said Mrs. Onassis has been cut off from receiving the sacraments of the church. He said it was not excommunication. She may enter and pray in Catholic churches.

But the former First Lady of America, a lifelong Catholic, may not take communion. She cannot receive absolution from a priest in confession. One church official said her marriage made the former Jacqueline Kennedy a "public sinner."

In New York, social circles said Mrs. Onassis had tried to solve the religious difficulties before flying to Greece for the wedding. They said she visited Boston's Cardinal Richard James Cushing, a close friend of her late husband, herself and their families. She sought his advice on the Onassis marriage, the reports said.

Police Probe Theft of TV

Pampa police were investigating today the weekend theft of a television set from one of the rooms in the Coronado Inn.

Inn manager Jim O'Connor reported the theft to police and according to police the set was believed to have been taken sometime over the weekend. The set was valued at $245.

Commie

It went down during a temporary truce around Vinh, arranged to allow the United States the "goodwill" gesture of sending home in a whaleboat the last 14 North Vietnamese prisoners it held.

The 36-hour truce designed to encourage Hanoi to release at least some of the more than 300 Americans held prisoner in North Vietnam ended today.

In South Vietnam, U.S. spokesmen reported what they called a 10-day lull in major ground fighting. They set the last major battle as the Red retreat from around the Thuong Duc Green Beret camp in the northern coastal plains Oct. 13. But blood spilled in scattered battling.

U.S. Casualties Low

South Korean marines killed 15 Communists who attacked an allied post Monday night near Hoi An, 350 miles up the coast from Saigon. U.S. troops killed 11 more in a battle early today near Pan Thiel, 95 miles east of Saigon. U.S. paratroopers killed another 10 Communists near Hue, 400 miles north. Total U.S. casualties included one man killed and five others wounded.

In the Mekong Delta below Saigon, a guerrilla attack today killed three South Vietnamese militiamen.

In the past 24 hours U.S. B52 Stratofortresses flew seven missions against Red positions throughout South Vietnam, hitting mainly camps near the Cambodian border and 40 to 60 miles northwest of Saigon.

In Washington, UPI correspondent Donald H. May said U.S. military intelligence reported that captured guerrilla documents and questioning of prisoners indicated the Viet Cong may be massing for a major attack against Saigon.

American military spokesmen said another reason for the relative lull in major fighting may be the vast quantity of Red arms and food seized by the allies this year.

MRS. HAZEL FLEWELLING

CANADIAN (Sp) — Mrs. Hazel Celeste Flewelling, 75, born April 15, 1893, at Kosta, Iowa, died Sunday here in Hemphill County Memorial Hospital.

Funeral services were held at 2 p.m. today in First Christian Church with the pastor, Rev. W. F. Turnage, officiating. Burial was in Canadian Cemetery directed by Stickley Funeral Home.

She was the widow of the late W. W. Flewelling, who died April 18. She was married in Indian Territory in 1905 two years before Oklahoma received statehood. They farmed near Crawford, Okla., and operated a grocery store there.

They moved to Glazier in Hemphill County and operated a grocery store there 35 years before moving to Canadian in 1933, where they operated a grocery store until 1941. They operated a store and rooming house in Cedar Rapids, Iowa and returned to Canadian about 10 years ago.

Survivors are one son, Guy Flewelling, Canadian, one daughter, Mrs. Daisy Miller, San Francisco, Calif.; one brother, Bert Porter, Canadian; one sister, Mrs. Bessie Bridgett, Neosho, Mo.; 12 grandchildren.

David Fatheree Says: Paul Eggers wants to strengthen and streamline state government. He believes that efforts must be made to determine where agency functions are duplicated and overlap. Texas government is big business and demands a business man's concept of operation. We can no longer afford the "political plum" approach of the professional politicians.

Candidates

Other developments: Spiro T. Agnew—Nixon's running-mate hammered at Humphrey and law order in Texas appearances. Addressing a rally at Corpus Christi, he said Humphrey "is too dangerous for us at the present time, because he stands ready to tolerate disruption of our laws."

Edmund S. Muskie—Campaigning in Boston, the Democratic vice presidential candidate said the country must be prepared to invest resources released when the Vietnam War ends in such fields as education, housing and public safety. "We had an opportunity to do all these things in the 1950s after the Korean conflict," Muskie said, "but Mr. Nixon's administration missed the boat and we are suffering for it today."

Curtis E. LeMay—Wallace's ticket-mate told a Washington news conference he found Communist forces are taking advantage of American bombing limitations to pour war supplies into South Vietnam at an unprecedented rate. He said he learned on his just completed four-day tour of South Vietnam that "the vital facilities destroyed by our previous (air) attacks have been repaired, replaced and in many instances, enlarged."

Polls—Pollster Louis Harris reported Muskie is the voter's choice for vice president over Agnew by a margin of 41 to 24 per cent, with LeMay getting 14 per cent and 21 per cent undecided. The sampling was made Oct. 8-10. The Harris report showed Humphrey trailing Nixon 40 to 35 per cent with Wallace getting 18 per cent and 7 per cent undecided. The Gallup interviews, conducted Oct. 3-12, showed Nixon down percentage point since Sept. 27, 30, and Humphrey up 2 percentage points. Wallace was unchanged.

They had six great-grandchildren.

She was a member of First Christian Church and Order of Eastern Star here.

MRS. MAE THOMAS

Mrs. Mae D. Thomas, 70, born Sept. 12, 1898, in Plano, died at 10 a.m. today in Highland General Hospital.

She had lived the past three years with her daughter, Mrs. Bill McDonald, 2134 N. Nelson. She moved here from Ardmore, Okla.

She was a member of the Church of Christ, and in Ardmore she was a member and past noble grand of Rebekah Lodge.

Survivors are the daughter, Mrs. McDonald; three sisters, Mrs. C. E. Brewer, Duncan, Okla.; Mrs. R. E. Hottel, Davis, Okla.; and Mrs. Ollie McCoy, Stratford, Okla.; one brother, Jim Dulworth, Pauls Valley, Okla.; four grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Funeral services are pending with Carmichael-Whaley Funeral Home.

Price Stresses Need for Water

Speaking at town hall meetings in Friona, Bovina and Dimitt Monday, Congressman Bob Price of Pampa hammered away at the need for a sound water import plan for the Panhandle as soon as possible.

The congressman, a member of the House Agriculture Committee, and seeking reelection, urged prudent spending on feasible projects.

"For the Panhandle farmer to continue to carry his share in providing more and better products for the American consumer and to feed the hungry millions of the world, we must solve now what has already become, in some areas, and what will become in other areas, a most critical problem—a sufficient water supply," Price said.

"We cannot afford to squander our money on fancy ideas when we desperately need to use money realistically."

"Let's spend our money on feasible projects where it counts," he said, "such as in the effort to import Mississippi River water into the Panhandle and West Texas or on the possible importation of Missouri water here, as outlined in a bill sponsored by myself and Senator John Tower and which cleared the House." Price said.

"The importation plan is nothing new, really. The Egyptians and the Romans did it to good advantage. While there are a number of problems which must be solved and a complete study made, transfer of surplus water seems a sensible and realistic approach to our problem," he said.

A 19-piece Navy band, awaiting them on the Essex, thundered through a two-minute rendition of "Ancora Aweigh," "Air Force March" and "California, Here I Come"—for the civilian Cunningham—and had just swung into "Everything's Coming Up Roses" when the astronauts went for the medical checkups.

Two hours after Apollo 7 hit the Atlantic, a hoist swung it aboard the Essex.

It was the third, and probably final, space voyage for the 45-year-old Schirra, commander of Apollo 7 who plans retirement from flight. It was the first trip for Eisele, 33, the navigator, and Cunningham, 36, the systems engineer.

UGN Campaign Totals $72,270

The United Good Neighbor Campaign took a good sized leap in the right direction this morning as the total to date increased to $72,269.78.

This sum reflects money and pledges actually turned in and does not indicate approximately $10,000 which drive leaders feel assured of at this time.

Drive Chairman Jerry Sims said at this morning's check-in, "As I have stated before there is one large contributor whose donation, along with that of their employees, is imperative to the success of the United Good Neighbor Campaign."

"We now have been told that the firm's solicitation is going well and that they feel they will be able to give us totals this week."

Sims went on to say that with this contribution figured in our totals, "we now need to concentrate on the remaining outstanding prospect cards in order to bring in about $2400. There are still enough cards out to more than make this total if they are properly worked."

Sims repeated his earlier pleas to work the cards and ask for "Fair Share Giving" in order that we might finish up the campaign successfully.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My son is 6 feet, 2 inches, and weighs 220 pounds. He's married to a 95-pound, five-foot wildcat who has sent him to the hospital twice since they've been married, and it hasn't been a year yet.

The first time, she laid his head open with a coffee pot and the doc took 22 stitches in his skull.

The next time she hit him with a bridge lamp and broke his nose.

The big dummy refuses to bring charges against her. He won't raise a hand against her. He says he "loves" her. Is he crazy or is she?

How can I get him to either defend himself or lock up this maniac. I'm afraid she'll kill him.

HIS MOTHER:

DEAR MOTHER: They could both be a little "crazy," but if your son sticks around and takes this kind of punishment hands down, he's crazier than she is.

DEAR ABBY: When two couples go out to dinner together it is considered "cheap" to ask for separate checks?

Nick and I have gone out with another couple and unless separate checks are asked for in advance, we split the check in half, which is very unfair because (1) I can't drink. (2) We never order the most expensive dinner on the menu like the other couple (3) Our share of the tip shouldn't be divided 50-50 either, because we don't spend as much.

Nick and I talk to each about this after we get home, but we feel sheepish and never do anything about it. Do you think we should?

"SHEEPISH"

DEAR SHEEPISH: Yes. And if you don't you are not only sheepish - you're foolish.

DEAR ABBY: I'm sick of reading about dirty old men. How about dirty old women?

I am a bachelor, 65 years of age, and I can tell you that a man who isn't in a wheel chair isn't safe alone anymore. I went on a cruise for relaxation and the women nearly ran me crazy. I had 60-year-old women propositioning me for early dates, late dates, and the late, late dates. I got all sort of gifts, and one old dame even offered me MONEY! Not only that, but a 24-year-old kid passed me a note, "What are you saving it for Dad? The prom?" I even had them trying to break into my room at night. Maybe I'm old fashioned, but I still like to do the asking.

 JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (UPI)—Joseph Palmer, U.S. undersecretary of state for African affairs, arrived Monday night for a visit to South Africa that will see him confer with Prime Minister John Vorster and Foreign Minister Dr. Hilgard Muller.

New Movie Rating System Established

NEW YORK — For the first time in the history of the American motion picture industry, a program, involving all essential voluntary national film rating elements of the industry, was announced recently at a press conference by Jack Valenti, president of the Motion Picture Association of America; Julian S. Rifkin, president of the National Association of Theatre Owners; and Munlo Podhorzer, a member of the governmental Film Importers and Distributors of America.

M—Suggested for mature audiences — adults and mature young people (parental discretion advised): This category includes motion pictures that in the opinion of the Code and Rating Administration, because of their theme, content and treatment, might require more mature judgment by viewers, and about which parents should exercise their discretion.
 R—Restricted — Persons under 16 not admitted, unless accompanied by parent or adult guardian: This category includes motion pictures that in the opinion of the Code and Rating Administration, because of their theme, content or treatment, should not be presented to persons under 16 unless accompanied by a parent or adult guardian.
 G—Suggested for general audiences: This category includes motion pictures that in the opinion of the Code and Rating Administration would be acceptable for all audiences, without consideration of age.

 (a) Submitted to the Code and Rating Administration, which is the opinion of the Code and Rating Administration, are rated X because of the treatment of sex, violence, crime or profanity. Pictures rated X by the Code and Rating Administration don't qualify for the Code Seal.
 (b) Not submitted to the Code and Rating Administration. Non-members of the MPAA, if they choose not to submit their pictures to the Code and Rating Administration, shall self-apply the X rating.
 Pictures rated X shall not be presented to persons under 16. Exhibitors may apply a higher age limit if in their judgment it is required by local circumstances.
 Speaking for the theatremen across the country, Rifkin said, "Because of the wide spectrum of film entertainment being offered today, we have joined with the Motion Picture Association of America and the International Film Importers and Distributors of America in creating a voluntary film rating program, designed to alleviate confusion as to what movies are suitable for young people.

 "Theatre owners across the nation," continued Rifkin, "have agreed to support the rating system, not only in theory, but at the boxoffice where they will enforce the age restrictions which accompany certain ratings."
 Exhibitors participating in the film rating program have agreed to support it, voluntarily, in the following specific ways:
 —Play only those motion pictures that have a rating.
 —Exhibit only those trailers of forthcoming pictures which are suitable for the audience viewing the trailer.
 —Apply the severest audience rating for admission in the case of double features where two

Television In Review

By RICK DU BROW
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Pat Paulsen's presidential campaign recently featured an 89-cent-a-plate dinner at a Beverly Hills cafeteria. Not long after that, the restaurant went out of business. No one is suggesting the events are connected, or that the same thing might happen to the country if he's elected, but facts are facts.
 At any rate, it's been a stirring campaign. And Sunday night, Paulsen's modest quest, which began when he was just another national saviour on the Smothers Brothers series—and spread like wildfire to Anaheim—was the subject of an hour CBS-TV documentary. When it was over, one thing was clear: If he is not elected, it is only because he peaked too early.
 With Henry Fonda tracing Paulsen's career from his humble beginnings as just another sex symbol in the state of Washington, the documentary made clear how, indeed, anyone can become president. The entire campaign was reviewed, from whistlestop tours to visits to business and industry, to addressing legislatures and other political gatherings, and including Paulsen's fiery video editorials.
 The cameras were there as the candidate explained with heartfelt feelings to a state legislature that he had campaigned in "the great American tradition"—that he had lied about his intention to run and had been consistently vague on the issues.
 He officially denied running. He also told a national convention that he accepted its nomination. He said he had nothing to do with clubs springing up for him which was the most notable rejection since Groucho Marx once said he wouldn't join any club that would accept him as a member.
 In one passionate statement, Paulsen noted that the depression was over for most persons long ago, and therefore wondered: "Why does the state of Washington have to continue to sell apples?"
 There were segments from some of Paulsen's historic television editorials on the draft, sex education in schools, urban sanitation, divorce laws and video censorship. In upholding this last item, he said frankly: "The Bill of Rights says nothing about the freedom of hearing."
 Wherever he went on his cross-country tours to deny he was running for president, Paulsen assured reporters in each city that their town was where he intended to settle some day. The impact was powerful. People may say they are going to vote for Nixon or Humphrey or Wallace, but when they are alone in the privacy of the balloting booths, with no pollsters to placate and only their consciences to answer, you never know.

U.S. Peace Bids Cause Investors To Push Stocks

NEW YORK (UPI)—Investors awaiting confirmation or denial of rumors of a new U.S. peace bid in Vietnam continued to push stocks higher Monday, although weakness cropped up in the blue chips.
 Shortly before noon, the UPI stock market indicator, measuring all stocks traded, was up 0.23 per cent on 1,418 issues topped declines 675 to 460. The Dow Jones industrial average, which reflects movement in the blue chips, eased.
 Supporting influences included the healthy rise in personal income in September as well as another round of bright third quarter corporate earnings statement.
 Also encouraging was the third successive weekly jump in steel orders last week, plus some price hikes by U.S. Steel. As a result, most steel issues generally moved ahead. Jones & Laughlin, however, was an exception, losing a small fraction.
 Ford led the mostly higher motors while Du Pont topped the firmer chemicals. It gained more than 1.
 In the oils, Atlantic Richfield moved into higher ground following announcement of improved third quarter net income. Pennzoil also advanced, but Sinclair weakened.

WHAT STARTED out as a game of ticktackoe apparently got out of hand when Elizabeth Chachere, 20, and Douglas Snyder, 11, couldn't hold back their artistic talents. The youngsters were transported into another world as they covered the Snyder driveway in Larkspur, Calif., with cartoons and slogans.

AUTO WINNERS
SALEM, Ind. (UPI)—The driving team of Roy Wathen and Jerry Norris of Louisville won the 250-mile Arca Late Model Stock Car race Sunday, covering the distance in 3 hours, 28 minutes, 38.35 seconds.
 Of the 37 cars that started the 500-lap test, only 13 finished.

UPSET VICTORY
NEW YORK (UPI)—County Down upset New York 17-12 Sunday in the second game of the Irish Football Cup world championships at Gaelic Park to win the title.
 Paddy Dougherty paced County Down's attack with eight points.

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI)—One of this year's presidential candidates frequently enlivens his campaign speeches with disparaging references to "pseudo-intellectuals."

Surprisingly, these attacks have thus far gone unanswered. You would think that the pseudo-intellectuals would be springing forward to defend themselves. But I have yet to hear even so much as a peep out of them.

One reason may be that pseudo-intellectuals are reluctant to admit they are pseudo-intellectuals. If so, there certainly is no reason for feeling that way. Pseudo-intellectualism is nothing to be ashamed of.

I don't mind saying that some of my best friends are pseudo-intellectuals. In fact, I come from a long line of pseudo-intellectuals myself.

Modesty forbids me to classify myself as one. But I do identify with them and feel I should say a few words in their behalf.

It seems to me that if a candidate insists on attacking some group, he should go after the real intellectuals instead of picking on the pseudos.

Genuine intellectuals are vulnerable on a number of points, but you rarely hear a presidential candidate attacking them.

I suspect the reason for that is that deep down in their secret heart of hearts presidential candidates think of themselves as being genuine intellectuals.

Failure of the pseudo-intellectuals to rise to their own defense may also stem from the fact that they are terribly disorganized. Or at least unorganized. Hence they have no formal spokesman.

They should get together immediately and establish a national association of pseudo-intellectuals to look after their interests.

The next time they are attacked, the association could put out a press release denying the charges. And perhaps demand equal time on television.

More important, the association could undertake a public relations campaign to build up the image of pseudo-intellectuals and enlarge their influence in public affairs.

If properly mobilized, the pseudo-intellectual vote might become a decisive factor in the election.

As its first step, the association could order some buttons with "pseudo-intellectual power" imprinted upon them.

Then it could print some signs reading: "I may be pseudo but I ain't quasi."

Vatican Awaiting Decision On Jacqueline's Wedding

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—The Vatican Monday greeted Jacqueline Kennedy's marriage to Aristotle Onassis with official and disapproving silence but with private hopes that it could "show understanding."

The issue centered on whether Onassis, a member of the Greek Orthodox Church, received a church annulment of his previous marriage to Athina Livanos before he married Mrs. Kennedy, a Roman Catholic.

(The Greek Archdiocese in New York said Saturday Onassis and his former wife had divorced in New York on April 19, 1961, which permitted Onassis and his former wife to remarry legally in the eyes of the Greek Orthodox Church. Whether the Roman Catholic church recognized this ecclesiastical divorce as an annulment remained in doubt.)

In any event, the Roman Catholic Church does not recognize the quickie civil divorce Onassis' first wife got in Alabama and unless there was an annulment by the Greek church, his first marriage remains valid in the eyes of the Vatican.

Vatican officials said privately they hoped to get information which would enable them to reach a decision.

The Vatican silence showed obvious displeasure in this union of one of the world's most famous women and the Greek multimillionaire. The wedding did not receive a line in the Vatican newspaper Osservatore Romano.

Unofficially, a high Vatican source said:

"The church would like to be in a position to show understanding. If we were informed, for instance, that Mr. Onassis' first marriage has been annulled by the Greek Orthodox Church, the situation would be much easier. But I don't think anyone here has the facts."

Ecclesiastical sources said the Greek Orthodox Archbishop of North and South America had endorsed the Onassis divorce, which Mrs. Onassis received on grounds of mental cruelty.

Assuming there was a Greek Orthodox annulment, the marriage of Mrs. Kennedy to Onassis at a Greek rather than Roman Catholic ceremony would be considered valid in the eyes of the Vatican, although it disapproves of Catholics marrying outside their own church.

Experts on canon law said if there was no annulment of the first marriage has been annulled, Mrs. Kennedy null and void and she would be automatically excommunicated and cut off from the rites and sacraments of the church she was raised in.

WHY MOTHERS GET GRAY

Supreme Court to Consider Rival Newspapers Operations

By CHARLOTTE G. MOULTON
WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Supreme Court has agreed to rule this term whether rival newspapers in the same community may combine their printing and commercial operations without violating antitrust laws.

A test case involving two Tucson, Ariz., newspapers was accepted for hearing, with a decision to be handed down later in the session.

In another action, the court let stand a Federal Communications Commission (FCC) order which will limit the pre-sunrise broadcasting of more than 2,000 AM radio stations.

The court refused to review a lower court decision upholding FCC regulations barring the largely rural stations from operating at a power of more than 500 watts before 6 o'clock in the morning.

The court also:

- Ordered a Federal Appeals Court to reexamine its ruling setting aside the rape-murder conviction of Marin Frank Crawford, a North Carolina Negro. The lower court reversed his conviction on grounds that 34 of 75 prospective jurors were disqualified solely because they had scruples against the death penalty.
- Agreed to examine a case involving additional regulatory power exerted by the Food and Drug Administration over the field of antibiotics manufacturing.

The newspaper antitrust case involved an appeal of the Arizona Daily Star and Tucson

Daily Citizen, both of Tucson, from a ruling by Chief U.S. District Judge James A. Walsh. Forty-four other newspapers in 22 cities have agreements of the same general description as the Daily Star and the Daily Citizen.

A 1940 agreement between the Tucson papers proposed the merger of their production, circulation, business and advertising functions. The idea, they told the Supreme Court, saved a falling paper—the Citizen—and saved an independent news and editorial voice for the community.

'Golden People' Waiting Delayed Demise of Ugliers

By VERNON SCOTT
UPI Hollywood Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—In this glum era of gilding the anti-hero, worshipping the unwashed and relating to the ugly, there remain golden people among the hung-up performers in Hollywood.

They are rare these days, to be sure, at a time when the movie pendulum is swinging away from frothy make-believe to the opposite extreme of fetid make-believe.

Eventually, audiences will respond again to pretty people. One prerequisite of the type is physical attractiveness; another is charm. Luck and talent also are preconditions.

These were the elements that made stars of Clark Gable, Ty Power, Gary Cooper, Betty Grable, Bob Taylor, Lana Turner and Grace Kelly.

Out Of Focus
Then came the ugliers, actors the movie-going public is supposed to identify with. This presupposes we all look, dress and behave like a nation of psychopaths.

It is a slanted, out-of-focus picture.

Two of the golden people, with whom most sane individuals would rather identify, are Ryan O'Neal and Leigh Taylor-Young, who happen to be married to one another and play man and wife in Bill Dozier's "The Big Bounce."

They met on the television series, "Peyton Place," and for what it's worth, they reek of the Establishment, and ominous knell when the loser has become the symbol of all that is good in movies.

The O'Neals never starved in New York City, worked in underground film or studied at the knee of Lee Strasberg.

Come Up Hard Way
Both are blond and appear to appreciate the uses of soap, shampoo and vocabularies free of four-letter words. Doubtless they have lost jobs because of these short-comings.

Ryan and Leigh have come up the hard way. They broke no laws, spent no time in jail and refused to suffer just for the sake of it.

O'Neal is the son of a prosperous family. His mother, Patricia Callaghan, is a former actress. His father is Charles O'Neal, novelist and screenwriter.

Leigh, who attended Northwestern University, is the daughter of a vice-president of the Burroughs Corp. Her mother is a patron of the At Institute of Detroit.

They are presentable young new parents.

The remarkable aspect of the O'Neals is that they are a minority in Hollywood today. They are presentable young people who are talented and attractive. It took perceptiveness on Dozier's part to hire them when he could have signed any number of cretins who pass these days for typical young Americans.

Quirks In The News

By United Press International
TRIAL RUN
FORT WRIGHT, Ky. (UPI)—Richard M. Nixon was well content to put up at the Presidential Inn during his brief stay here. He probably wouldn't have minded even if the establishment had retained its old name—The White House Inn.

POOR PLANNING
CHICAGO (UPI)—Well, you can't win them all.

North Park College, riding high a week ago Saturday with a 104-to-32 victory over North Central College, was brought down with a crash this weekend by Illinois Wesleyan. The score was 34 to 7.

HEAVY BUSSING
GREAT GONERBY, England (UPI)—The local council has decided to take the benches out of the village bus shelter because it has become too popular as a teenage necking spot.

"People waiting for busses were refusing to go in because they were embarrassed," a spokesman said.

NATURE'S DESIGN
NORTH MUSKHAM, England (UPI)—It's not unusual for houses to have ivy-covered walls. But on the inside?

A sprig of ivy sprouted through Gertrude Bourne's ivy-patterned wallpaper a few weeks ago, and now quite a healthy growth is spreading up the wall. No one can figure out how the ivy got there or how it survives.

"I've got used to it by now," Mrs. Bourne says.

A TIME FOR DECISION

A Presidential election, the most important one in our lifetime, is close upon us. With three candidates in the race, Texans are confronted with such a variety of appeals that some confusion is not surprising. We see some of our top state political leaders urging support of Hubert Humphrey on the self-serving appeal of party loyalty. We see fine Texans tempted to support George Wallace because they like his outspoken position on certain issues and are thus swayed by an appeal of sheer emotion. With full respect for the right of every Texan to make a personal decision, this message in behalf of Richard Nixon is offered as

...AN APPEAL TO REASON!

HUBERT HUMPHREY WILL NOT change. He has proved himself consistently anti-Texas for too long! In addition to his famous filibuster against Texas owning its tidelands, he has fought to repeal our right-to-work laws and sought to destroy the oil depletion allowance so vital to our economy. On every issue of world importance his position is contrary to that of most Texans. Humphrey, a founder of the ultra-liberal ADA organization, would gain executive authority for his radical minority viewpoints should he ever become president. Hubert Humphrey cannot be elected by popular vote. In view of his repeated vicious attacks upon George Wallace, what a ghastly miscarriage of intent it would be if Wallace supporters themselves should throw the election into the House of Representatives where every Wallace vote in Texas would automatically go to Humphrey!

GEORGE WALLACE CANNOT be denied his impressive showing in rallying a number of fine people to the call of his third party candidacy. The very least that can be said is that he has successfully dramatized the desires of many people for a change "at the top" in the direction of the affairs of our government. However, the very most his supporters can hope for is to split the popular vote so that our entire electorate will be at the mercy of the Washington politicians who would then elect our president for us. Election of Hubert Humphrey in this manner would be a "change" ... but for worse! The more positive way to vote for change is to consider the many fine merits of Richard Nixon and his program, then vote for Nixon to assure the election of our president by the people instead of by the Congress!

RICHARD NIXON CAN..... AND WILL!

supply dynamic, experienced leadership for an immediate change of direction—at the top—in all our national affairs at home and around the world. Your concerns are his concerns! To name a few at the top of the list and Richard Nixon's solutions:

- NIXON ON LAW AND ORDER is pledged to help improve local police protection, to appoint an Attorney General dedicated to rooting out crime, to restore balance in our courts strengthening peace forces against criminal elements and to cease freeing so many of the guilty on technicalities.
- NIXON ON VIET NAM will call upon his experience as vice-president during eight great Eisenhower years of peace to reform world alliances now in disarray, to redirect our strategy on new global terms. He will end this war and avoid future ones by dealing with adversaries in the only way they respect—through strength, collective security and patience.
- NIXON ON LOCAL GOVERNMENT is pledged to move control of local schools and all other governmental functions which properly belong at the local level closer to the people.
- NIXON ON OTHER PROBLEMS has solid solutions PLUS solid backing of enough members of Congress to implement those solutions.

IF YOU REALLY WANT A CHANGE...
AND IF YOU WANT TO BE SURE
YOU REALLY GET IT... VOTE FOR NIXON/AGNEW

Insurance Companies Announce New Plan for Automobile Liability

WASHINGTON (UPI)—An irresponsible and reckless insurance association representing 160 companies Monday unveiled an auto insurance plan designed to scrap the "who's at fault" payment concept.

According to the American Insurance Association (AIA), accident victims would have their economic losses and medical expenses paid by their own insurance companies. There would be no court litigation or settlement between opposing companies.

Known as the Complete Personal Protection Automobile Insurance Plan, the proposal would cost "up to 45 per cent less than the cost of the present."

Under the present liability insurance system, for the most part, there must be a determination of who is at fault before claims can be paid.

The new plan would be compulsory—that is, a person would have to meet insurance coverage requirements to operate a car. In return, there would be complete immunity from court suits, Jones said.

The proposed system would make no change in automobile collision, fire and theft policies. Immediate opposition came from other insurance companies and groups not connected with the AIA.

The National Association of Independent Insurers (NAII), which says its 480 member companies write more than half the private car insurance in the nation, said the no-fault scheme would shift to each motorist "the entire burden of insuring himself against all his losses—both those caused by himself as well as those caused by other motorists."

State Farm Mutual expressed doubt its 11 million policyholders would want "the cost of accidents shifted from the reckless driver to his victims."

Allstate Insurance said the AIA proposal would mean

"irresponsible and reckless drivers would be held financially blameless."

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

Remember counting the number of cars in a passing freight train and losing count even before mid-passage? Sympathizing with this frustrated desire for knowledge, The World Almanac notes that in 1967 freight trains operated by major railroads averaged 70.5 cars and a caboose, an increase of 22.9 cars over freight trains in 1929. An average of 41.5 cars were loaded and 29 were empty.

Cookbook Supplement To Appear Thursday

An eight-page color supplement with pictorial highlights from one of Texas' oldest business firms will appear in Thursday's Pampa News.

Commemorating the 125th anniversary of Imperial Sugar Company, the supplement traces the history of this cane sugar refiner back to 1843 when the first sugar mill was built near a ford on Oyster Creek. Later this little Brazos Valley Settlement became known as Sugar Land.

In keeping with the firm's 125-year-old tradition of furnishing cookbooks, recipes and cooking information for Texas housewives, four all-time favorite recipes from Imperial's new 125th Anniversary Cookbook are featured in the supplement along with details on ordering the cookbook.

1969 Ford. Wider. Longer. Quieter. Roomier. (Easier to handle.)

These are the things to look for in a great road car. And every day more and more people are finding them in the 1969 Ford.

Wider. The '69 Ford hugs the road with as wide a track as Cadillac.

Longer. The '69 Ford smooths your ride with a longer wheelbase than Chevrolet. Yet it turns in a smaller circle than last year's Ford.

Roomier. We've grouped all the controls in front of the driver, made our front passenger compartment so spacious people are calling it the Front Room.

Quieter. Our '69 LTD is designed to ride even quieter than the LTD that rode quieter than Rolls-Royce.

Record first-month sales of the '69 Ford tell us we've got a good thing going. A test drive will tell you.

The place you've got to go to see what's going on—your Ford Dealer!

Sooners Got Plum in State's Jack Mildren

JUST TO keep you up to date on former Harvester L.D. Rowden has not been redshirted by the Houston Cougars.

L.D., who led District 3-4A in rushing and scoring in 1966 and paced the Houston freshmen in scoring last year, is on the defensive unit.

Another former Harvester, Gary McCarrell, who played in the same backfield with Rowden and Teddy Heiskell, has been redshirted by the Miners at Texas at El Paso.

The fleet Gary is also being studied for a defensive role.

And if you think Oklahoma didn't pick off a plum in Jack Mildren you are, oh, so wrong. The splendid freshman led the Sooners frosh to a 55-20 victory over a very tough Kansas freshman team.

Mildren completed 14 of 20 passes for 316 yards, ran one touchdown and passed for two others.

Harvester basketball coach Sterling Gibson started his squad through workouts last week.

Gibson has quite a crop out, though height will be a problem for Pampa with Jim Hollis, Tom Ivy, Dan Carlton and John Jenkins, the tallest players, all standing at six feet.

The squad will be helped when football season is over and some of the footballers report for practice.

When's the last time you can remember this happening?

PAMPA, AMARILLO. Berger and Channing will be well represented on the Panhandle Aggies basketball squad.

Senior Lanny Lewis, a 6-0 guard, Wayne Fryar and Jerry Cooper from Borger; Roger Skelton of Channing, Jack Tracy and Charles Jones, both of Amarillo, have all been awarded suits.

A now slim (for him) Bu'r Mathis is on the comeback trail. Mathis will meet George Chuvalo in a 12 rounder at Madison Square Garden, Dec. 6

ADOLPH RUPP, Kentucky's long-time basketball coach, is pushing a plan to put the game

And if you're counting on a red hat or red jacket to keep you from getting shot at by mistake it might be well to remember some 140,000 licensed hunters out of seven million are color blind.

Not to mention how many are lousy shots.

Trojans Still Nation's No. 1 College Team

NEW YORK (UPI)—Southern California is still No. 1, but breathing room is getting scarce at the top.

The Trojans were named the top team in college football by the United Press International Board of Coaches for the second consecutive week today, receiving 20 first place votes and 325 points. The total was only 11 more than runnerup Ohio State, as only 100 points separated the first seven ranked teams in the nation.

Kansas (264) moved up to third past idle Penn State (252) while Notre Dame (181) and Tennessee (178) slipped past Purdue (126). Georgia (109) took eighth, Miami (Fla.) was ninth with (36) points and Syracuse (27) edged Missouri for the No. 10 ranking.

Texas, coming back strong after some early troubles, bounced back into the top 20 in the No. 12 slot, followed by California and Arkansas and Michigan, tied for 14th. Louisiana State returned to the top 20 after a week's absence in 16th place while Houston and Southern Methodist, a pair of Southwest powers, tied for 17th. Florida, upset by North Carolina, dropped into a four-way tie for 19th with Texas Tech, Mississippi and Oregon State.

The top-ranked Trojans needed O.J. Simpson's late-game heroics again to salvage a 14-7 victory over a tough Washington team. Ohio State had little trouble routing Northwestern 45-21 while Kansas Manhandled Oklahoma State 49-14.

Unbeaten Penn State was idle while Notre Dame, moving up steadily each week, demolished Illinois 58-8. Tennessee held off Alabama's late bid for an upset to win 10-9 while Purdue, seemingly still suffering from the after effects of its loss to Ohio State, stumbled past Wake Forest 28-27.

Georgia downed Vanderbilt 22-6 while Mia minor, w-1, beat Virginia Tech 14-4. Missouri won its fourth straight since losing its opener to Kentucky, beating Nebraska 16-14 while Texas, which tripped Oklahoma last week, beat Arkansas, another old rival, 39-29.

Royal Eyes Rice Contest

By United Press International University of Texas coach Darrell Royal, whose Longhorns bounced back into Southwest Conference contention Saturday with a 39-29 win over Arkansas, says Robby Shelton and his winless Rice Owls may end the whole thing.

Royal said that history shows that the Longhorns have not been able to stop Shelton. "We have been poorest at defending the options and that's where Robby Shelton excels," Royal said. "With Shelton in there they have a built-in draw play. Anybody who's not impressed with them can just sit down for 30 minutes or so and look at the films and watch that kid zip up and down the field."

Shelton Explosive Royal said in expectation of Shelton's explosive offensive potential, he is moving super everything Bill Bradley, once a quarterback and split end, to the defense.

Down in Houston, where the game will be played Saturday, the main concern seemed to be over ticket sales.

The Rice athletic department said today that tickets for the Rice-Texas game, usually sold out in advance, are still available.

Royal said that history shows that the Longhorns have not been able to stop Shelton.

"We have been poorest at defending the options and that's where Robby Shelton excels," Royal said.

With Shelton in there they have a built-in draw play. Anybody who's not impressed with them can just sit down for 30 minutes or so and look at the films and watch that kid zip up and down the field."

SMU Duo Leads SWC

By United Press International Southern Methodist's sparkling trio of Chuck Hixson, Mike Richardson and Jerry LeVias continued to dominate the Southwest Conference statistical parade.

Hixson, also the nation's top hand in the same departments, leads the passers with 135 completions in 241 attempts for 1,585 yards and also leads in total offense with 1,590 yards. His nine touchdown passes and 14 touchdowns responsible for also are tops.

Only four other conference passers in history have thrown more completions than Hixson's 135 to date and they didn't reach that figure until late November.

Both starting TCU linebackers, Pat Walker and James Vandierck, are still suffering from ankle injuries and are not expected to participate in the LSU game.

The Arkansas Razorbacks, still stinging over the defeat by Texas, also plan to venture out of the conference Saturday, when they play North Texas State.

Coach Frank Broyles warned his team Monday they would have to be in top shape to beat the Missouri Conference team.

"They have real good speed," Broyles said after a 90 minute workout Monday. "They have good split receivers and a good quarterback. North Texas would do well in the Southwest Conference."

U.S. Lead Big In Gold Medals

MEXICO CITY (UPI)—They're turning into the Olympic home stretch and now the question is: Is the United States building up a medals lead big enough to hold off Russia in the race for the unofficial, but very coveted, team championship.

With five full days of competition left, the race stands this way—the United States, picking up two gold medals in swimming and two in yachting Monday, now leads Russia in gold medals, 28-13, and in total medals, 66-39.

That's a substantial lead but still to come are the finals in several sports in which the Soviets are expected to score heavily.

The United States has not won the overall medals championship in an Olympic Games since the Melbourne Olympics of 1956.

Russia took over the unofficial team title in 1960 at Rome and held it at the Tokyo Olympics in 1964. But this time the United States has improved slightly on its Tokyo showing in track and is reaping its usual harvest in swimming, a sport which includes several new events.

There still are 19 gold medals to be decided in swimming—including three today—and the U.S. should get the lion's share of those. But gymnastics just started Monday, and that's always a Soviet stronghold. And the Russians are expected to score often in Greco-Roman wrestling which starts Wednesday, in boxing, canoeing, fencing and a couple of others.

So it's very much up in the air, and the whole issue could be decided by a narrow margin—perhaps by some athlete who won't make the headlines but toils away in a so-called minor sport and earns a bronze medal.

There were nine medals at stake Monday in swimming and the Yanks won six of them—including gold medals by Doug Russell of Midland, Tex., in the men's 100-meter butterfly and the men's 800-meter relay of John Nelson of Pompano Beach, Fla., Mark Spitz of Santa Clara, Calif., Steve Rerych of Paterson, N.J., and 1964's four-gold medal winner, Don Schollander of Jacksonville, Fla.

Russell upset world record holder Spitz in 55.9 seconds in the finals of the butterfly and Ross Wales of Youngstown, Ohio, made it a sweep by taking the bronze medal. The relay team was clocked in 7:52.3, which was only a few tenths over this world record.

But Lynette Mellements of Australia blocked an American sweep of all three gold medals on Monday's program by taking the women's 100-meter butterfly over Ellie Daniel of Elkins Park, Pa., with Susie Shields of Louisville, Ky., third. The United States won two of the five finals in yachting at luxurious Acapulco, some 250 miles from Mexico City, when Lowell North of San Diego, Calif., captured the Star class competition and George "Bud-shooting by Army Lt. John Friedman of New Orleans skipped the winning boat in silver medal in team dressage in equestrian and a bronze medal for individual dressage in equestrian by Michael Page of Briarcliff, N.Y.

On the job — Harvesters Jay Johnson (with ball) and center Moss Hampton will be on the job for Pampa Friday night when they host Caprock in the annual homecoming game on Harvester Field.

HEISKELL OUT

Offense Is Shaping Up

By RON CROSS Sports Editor

Things weren't quite as bad as they seemed Friday night, at least according to Harvester coach Swede Lee they weren't.

"Defensively we are too aware of making mistakes and not playing recklessly enough," Lee said.

"We are waiting just a count or two too late to go where the runner is and forcing ourselves into mistakes."

Offensively? "Our ground game was satisfactory against Amarillo but several times our blocking broke down on our passes. Also we had receivers open that weren't thrown to."

Only four players received passing grades on offense for the Amarillo game.

Sophomore halfback Chris Caldwell, who saw limited action, received the highest Hopkins grade 86 and Ray Tindell a 75 with 17 tackles and assists.

Then there is Mike Heiskell, who graded 67 and, according to Lee, had his best night of the season.

Two linemen, Chuck Lanehart and Jay Johnson also received passing marks.

Lanehart, the 185 pound sophomore tackle graded a 75 and Johnson, who was back at tight end against Amarillo, received a 60.

Defensively tackles Mark Parrish and Larry Kotara came in for special praise from Lee, who said, "Both played their best game of the season. They did a splendid job."

Watkins, a 185 pound junior, graded 75 and Kotara, a 190 pound junior received a 77.

Watkins made two tackles and assisted on 12 others and Kotara a'so made two, and assisted on 13.

Johnson received a 77 at his defensive end position and Marc Hopkins graded 86 and Ray Tindell a 75 with 17 tackles and assists.

King, who is the Harvesters leading ground gainer, will be shifted to linebacker to replace Heiskell.

Heiskell will play Friday against Caprock in the homecoming game and may see some action at split end, a position he's most familiar with.

Parrish may or may not play. Lee said the senior signal caller would have to make a visit to the doctor this week, and if the okay is given, then play it

Wheeler Host To McLean In Top Game

McLean and Wheeler do battle this week in the area's top game at Wheeler and the Tigers will be hard pressed to stop Donald Rives and David Britt.

Rives and Britt have given the Mustangs enough of a one-two punch to propel them to a 5-1 record, second only to unbeaten Clarendon.

But the Tigers can't be taken lightly since they sport a 4-2 record and stand tied with Wheeler and Clarendon for the District 1-4 lead.

The Tigers had very little trouble disposing of a highly respected Happy team last week 16-8. Happy had allowed only 12 points and had scored 22 before running into the defense minded Tigers.

Rives and Britt have scored 24 points between them (Rives 46 and Britt 36) and Rives is tied with White Deer's Lonnie Lane for area scoring lead.

Lane, who scored three times Friday night, and his teammates will shoot for their second straight conference victory Friday when they entertain Stratford.

A victory would push the Bucks past the 500 mark for the first time this season.

White Deer is 3-3 and Stratford, 2-4, but the Ponies beat Canadian, 23-6, last week to tie the Bucks and Gruber for the district lead, all with 1-0 records.

Canadian (2-4) will step from the frying pan into the fire when they host Gruber (4-2) in a district game Friday night.

In District 2-A, other than the Wheeler-McLean tilt, Clarendon plays at Happy and Claude hosts Silverton.

Groom and Lefors will step into district war Friday night with the Tigers playing at Texline and Lefors playing host to Booker.

Groom (2-4) has the best record of any of the 1-B teams and swamped Turkey, 42-6 last week. Lefors (1-4) had the week off but will find a tough foe in the Bobcats (1-3-2).

Miami will continue action in eight-man football, staying on the road for a game at Guthrie.

Mildren Leads Sooner Frosh

LUBBOCK (UPI)—Oklahoma University freshmen, led by star quarterback Jack Mildren of Abilene, Tex., built up an early lead Monday night to defeat Texas Tech frosh 34-18.

The Tech team made a furious rally in the final period in an effort to catch up and scored all its points—18—in that quarter but the Boomers from Norman were too far ahead.

The Oklahomaans were plagued with fumbles, making five, but led by the brilliant Mildren who hit 16 of 27 passes, they walked away from Tech.

Modest Toomey World's Best All-Around Athlete

MEXICO CITY (UPI)—Decathlon champ Bill Toomey "the world's greatest living athlete," laughs a little at that high-sounding title and advises Hollywood it needn't worry, he's not going to be the next Tarzan. "I'm not the type," says the 29-year-old, crisp-speaking Laguna Beach, Calif., high school teacher, immediately dismissing the prospect he's going to begin swinging through the branches for the cameras and boning up on that old jungle yodel like such other Olympians as Johnny Weissmuller, Buster Crabbe and Glenn Morris did before him. "I can't even climb a tree," went on Toomey, who, when he's not competing, generally wears horn-rimmed eye glasses, a white-turtleneck under his royal blue U.S. blazer and a light blue handkerchief in his breast pocket for just the right touch of dash.

To earn his title, Toomey had to beat everybody in the world in 10 composite events. They were the shotput, pole vault, discus, javelin, long jump, high jump, 100, 400 and 1500-meters runs and the 110-meter high hurdles. Since winning his gold medal Saturday Toomey has done well in another event. It's called keeping both feet on the ground and it's a much tougher proposition than the other 10.

The new decathlon champ for example, volunteers a quick correction whenever anybody refers to him as "the world's greatest athlete." Toomey says "All-around athlete." Toomey sets the record straight. "How about Bob Beamon and his fantastic 29-foot jump? He's 185-pound California resident better than me at that. I think that reference—'The world's greatest living athlete'—is a holdover from the days of Jim Thorpe.

"I never really consider it that way," he says. "I consider chance." He answered. "I'll tell you the best man of the day, you won't necessarily be the best in the world. I came through when I had to." "Are you saying it was purely luck?" someone asked the 6-1, 185-pound California resident who was born in Philadelphia, studied at the Universities of Colorado and Stanford and spent considerable time in New York.

"It wasn't luck so much as technique. The first two didn't present so many problems, but technique was something else. I was disappointed with mine in the shot, for example, but I think the quarter (400 meters) saved my life. That was the one that lifted me out of the depths." Toomey is a member of the Southern California Striders, one of the foremost track clubs in the world, located in Los Angeles. He says their philosophy is to "run for fun." It's his philosophy also.

"None of us make any money out of it," he points out. "We simply compete to keep fit and we love what we do. What am I going to do now? I dunno. I think I'm going to give up teaching. That means I'm going to have to find a job. I'd like to do TV commentating. Something to do with sports."

War: Issues That Can't Be Ignored

The Vietnam war while developing into one of the longest and costliest conflicts this nation has ever engaged in, has oddly become the forgotten, or certainly neglected, issue of the 1968 presidential campaign.

This is true despite the fact that it was the widespread dissonance and general unease created by the war that was responsible for the biggest political surprise of a surprising year—President Johnson's decision not to run for a second term.

It remains true despite Vice President Humphrey's recent statement pledging a conditional bombing halt, which can hardly be called a radical departure from the President's own oft-stated policy.

Candidate Richard Nixon sticks to his original position that the war is not a suitable subject for discussion or debate as long as the Paris peace talks continue, though at least one of his supporters has chided him for using the talks as a shield.

Candidate George Wallace facetiously disposes of the whole thing by saying he would leave it up to the generals.

Perhaps it is because the war is such a frustrating dilemma of such long standing that people have, almost unconsciously, put it out of their minds and seized upon the emotionally charged issue of "law and order," which can mean anything anybody wants, it to mean.

Since the disease of the war itself seems incurable, we are concentrating on one of the war-related symptoms that disturbs the domestic tranquillity—the rise of a tide of dissent and rebellion that, in its own frustration, at times skirts the edge of treason.

Those in the minority who know exactly what they would do about the war, the hecklers and harassers who dog the trails of all three candidates, are only serving to confirm the majority in the belief that the rightness or wrongness of our involvement in Vietnam or the strategy we ought to pursue there are secondary to the need to defend such elementary virtues as patriotism, clean speech and respect for authority.

If the silence of the candidates on Vietnam has the approval of the people, and it seems to, it is perhaps because the people sense, even if they don't want to believe it, that none of the three has any better plan for an honorable resolution to the war than the man who now occupies the White House.

But the war is there. It exists. It is killing young Americans by the hundreds every week as it has done for 200 weeks and is draining the nation's wealth by the billions every month as it has done for half a hundred months. Its strain on our own democracy is obvious; what it has accomplished in the way of democracy for the Vietnamese is from the most optimistic view, highly dubious.

The war can be ignored between now and Nov. 5, and between then and Jan. 20. But when the next man sits down at the desk where, as Harry Truman said, the buck stops, what should be the No. 1 issue of the campaign, but isn't, most definitely will be the No. 1 issue the new president—and the nation—will have to face.

Freedom Or Chains

Americans are faced today with a divided world and a divided nation. We are faced with a choice between individual freedom or collective slavery. We might be called the "duped society" or perhaps the "Fragmented society" for we have bought a defective bill of goods. The contents of the purchase are not consistent with the basic concepts of our Republic as they are bought by phony means, and such; but there does not seem to be much room for individualism. The latter is passe and perhaps even treasonous to the one-worldists, but it was individualism that built this nation.

We are being fragmented by emotionalism when we should be uniting under the banner of reason. The old, but still effective technique of divide and conquer is being employed to rob us of our freedom and place us in chains.

We are divided not by the issues themselves, but by the emotional appeal of the issues to the masses. The enemy within is employing every tactic known to divide us into quarrel-faction and they are doing it under the decoy of "true freedom." Freedom is not a collective thing.

It is only as each person exercises his freedom in a responsible nature, that a nation is free. When any of us discard our individual responsibility the cause of freedom is weakened a little. When large numbers discard their responsibilities and turn them over to the government, the nation itself is weakened and eventually enslaved.

You are America and America is only as strong as you are. If you accept subsidies from government, then be prepared to bare your wrists for the inevitable chains of the finalism, totalitarianism. If, on the other hand, you refuse to accept subsidies of any kind, you will know that self-responsibility is the essence of freedom.

Hurdles To Longer Life

If medical scientists could just eliminate all diseases and if safety experts could prevent all accidents, everyone ought to live to be a hundred or two.

It sounds logical, but it does not work out that way, at least, not on paper.

Statisticians with Metropolitan Life have calculated how much life expectancy would be increased if deaths from the major diseases and from accident were reduced by 50 per cent, which does not seem to be an unreasonable or unattainable goal, if a distant one.

The largest increase would come if deaths from heart and blood vessel diseases were halved. But it would range only from three to five years, depending upon whether you are white or nonwhite, male or female and what age group you are in.

Gains in longevity from cutting cancer deaths in half would range from about one-half to 1 1/4 years. The halving of deaths from accidents, including motor vehicle accidents, would increase average life expectancy at birth by more than a half a year but would have little effect at age 65 and over.

For newborns, present average life expectancy remains a shade under the Biblical three-score and 10. If by some miracle deaths from all major causes were cut in half, their lease on life would be extended by a total of about 8 1/2 years.

Not bad, but still somewhat short of Methuselah.

Anyway, as the Good Book teaches, it is not the length but the quality of life that is important.

Harry—Both Smith and Jones proposed to Miss Brown. I wonder which was the lucky one?
Larry—It's too soon to say yet, but she accepted Smith.

We highly recommend "WINGED ROCKETRY" by Major James C. Sparks, USAF (Ret.). This fascinating book retraces the history of rocket planes from the first crude version fired by coolies in ancient China, on to the secret German space bombers and fighters of World War II and to the great barrier-breaking rocket planes of the United States. It then projects into the future, which, combining new aero and astronomical techniques, will be capable of piloted flight into and back from orbit, for global travel, the transportation of cargo and defense. It is published by Dodd Mead.

Today's smile: An airlines stewardess approached a passenger and said: "I don't know how it happened, but we seem to have left your wife behind in the airport terminal." "Thank heavens!" exclaimed the passenger. "I thought I had gone deaf."

An average 40-inch female codfish produces about 3 million eggs a year, which means about 3 million offspring. Obviously, the cod never heard of the Pill.

Today's football heroes look like space men with their helmets festooned with those facial protectors. However, the players in the early days were more rugged. They played without helmets. The protective headgear became a part of the conventional football uniform in 1896, 27 years after the game was first played. It's an odd way to get your vitamins, but a St. Louis college professor recently discovered there's a wealth of Vitamin B-12 in the rain that falls during a thunder-shower. It weighs 175 tons and contains five miles of red neon tubing. Must be something to see when plugging Citroen automobiles, which once adorned the Eiffel Tower in Paris. It could be seen for a distance of 25 miles. Chances are you never heard of Enrico Bastelli, a Russian-born Italian, but he was probably the greatest juggler in the world. He could keep 10 balls or eight dinner plates in the air at one time. No one has ever equaled that feat. Congress recently passed another foreign aid bill. The first one provided $50,000 for the relief of Venezuelans distressed by an earthquake. It was enacted in 1812. More than $2.5 billion in coins were placed in vending machines in this country last year for everything from a gum ball to a hot meal. You're really up on your political history if you can identify the Bucktails. They were the supporters of Martin Van Buren when he ran for President and they became the founders of New York's Tammany Hall. The Boston (Mass.) GLOBE reported a story: "Quartermaster, police said, suffered a bullet wound in the left thigh." Where?

As one of 45 recruiting posters drawn by Flagg, "Uncle Sam" had a great effect on enlistments.

At the start of the campaign, Nixon was "willing to debate Humphrey, but Humphrey only" (possibly figuring that his experience as a TV performer four years ago secured him some advantage). ## Now They Won't Even Talk During The Coffee Break

Branch Head Bill Says:

by BILL KENNEDY

If Dick Nixon keeps on working in his Cabinet assignments instead of campaigning for votes, he may get a "backlash" all his own making in the last days of the campaign.

The "new" Nixon is showing a mite too much confidence and no humility at all. His overconfident, lordly manner is working against him. While it's true voters often "jump on the band wagon" because they like to ride with a winner, it is also a fact that many Americans like to root for the underdog.

"Big Boy" Nixon rides in parades and greets his audiences like he is heading up inauguration ceremonies instead of a vote-getting campaign. Somelistseners and viewers resent that. Who was the candidate who retired early on election day leaving word, "The President-elect does not wish to be disturbed"—only to find himself greatly disturbed the following morning by the startling news that he had been defeated? It could happen again—to two-time loser Nixon.

It is not enough that the Republican candidate refuses to commit himself positively on the major issues of the campaign, that his "time for a change" approach and his "I can do it better" chant are his only appeals. He further leaves the impression that the gut issues are for him to settle after he is President—that he need not share his pearls of wisdom concerning them with the average man. "Don't worry, I'll take care of it for you."

First, he openly stated that he would ignore George Wallace, pretend he didn't exist; but the latest polls changed his mind about that. Now he has joined up with the Democrats (once again) by having his flunkies sling mud at the former Alabama Governor.

The "old" Dick Nixon lost one presidential election by approving all the programs and approaches of the Democrats and harping only on the methods—which he said he could improve. What's "new" is, Nixon is now convinced that more people will buy that garbage. Thousands of misled conservatives and Humphrey haters have obviously bought it to a degree—if the national polls are any indication. But as the race goes into the stretch two things can and might happen:

One, if Wallace keeps gaining and Humphrey keeps slipping, the voters who were willing to accept left-winger Nixon in preference to left-winger Humphrey only because they thought "Wallace doesn't have a chance" may sense a chance to beat both left-wingers.

Two, if Nixon keeps on with his condescending ways, many thousands of those underdog rooters may switch from him to Wallace.

At the start of the campaign, Nixon was "willing to debate Humphrey, but Humphrey only" (possibly figuring that his experience as a TV performer four years ago secured him some advantage). Now that "poor old Humphrey" has slipped so badly and Nixon forces figure they have won the race, they say their candidate doesn't want to debate either of the other two. ## It's Up To You

By HOWARD KFRSHNER

The Negative Income Tax

The hard work and intelligent efforts of middle class Americans and the tax money they pay are what keeps our country going. Thoughtful citizens are alarmed lest the burden placed upon them will be greater than they can bear.

There is now much talk of a guaranteed income for everyone, whether he works or not. The income a family should have is variously estimated at $3,000 to $5,000. The idea is that if the family income is less than the predetermined amount, the difference will be made up by subsidy from the Federal government. This is sometimes called a "negative income tax."

If one earns more than the fixed amount, he pays the normal income tax. If he earns less, he receives from the Federal government an amount equal to the deficit.

We have seen estimates of the cost of the proposal as low as $11 billion a year, and as high as $25 billion a year. Whatever it might be, we may be sure it will grow. As politicians need votes, they will keep upping the amount of the subsidy just as they keep advancing salaries for themselves, public employees, welfare recipients and Social Security beneficiaries. With a budget balanced only seven times in the past thirty-nine years, with astronomical local, state, Federal and private indebtedness, and with the dollar rapidly losing its purchasing power, how can Americans contemplate a new bottomless pit of expenditures?

Still worse would be the effect upon the people receiving the subsidy. Those earning a little more than the fixed standard would see little reason to work and would increasingly depend upon the government subsidy. More and more people would choose not to work or to work with less diligence. It wouldn't matter, because the government would make up the deficit. The resulting idleness and loss of self-reliance would be the greatest blow yet struck against the development of character and capacity. Few people will work unless they have to. Any scheme which relieves them, in full or in part, of the necessity of working to support themselves will lead to further degeneracy, idleness, drunkenness, vice and crime. It will not put an end to relief, as many will drink and gamble away their free money and then demand more free food and housing from the public.

And you—a sovereign American citizen, voter, taxpayer and producer—can do that something. Enlist your neighbors and friends to demand answers from your candidates on all important questions of public policy. They, too, have the right to know.

One enduring way to do this is to build local Liberty Amendment Committees and establish a continuing campaign to restore constitutional limitations upon political power by knowing, in advance, where political aspirants stand.

No candidate has a right to ask for your vote until that candidate is willing to tell exactly what he proposes to do with the power he seeks.

Each voter should raise this question of principle—and get answers. Each of us should recruit many, many others to make the Liberty Amendment the major issue in Campaign 1968. It is the best way to get action on it in 1969.

The liberty amendment is the best possible yardstick by which the character and intentions of the candidate can be evaluated.

ness, vice and crime. It will not put an end to relief, as many will drink and gamble away their free money and then demand more free food and housing from the public.

The Impact Of Ridicule Now In Insurgent Hands

By RAY CROMLEY

Washington Correspondent. WASHINGTON (NEA)—When Abbie Hoffman of the yippies stands up before the House Un-American Activities Committee and solemnly asks special leave to go to the bathroom, when Jerry Rubin appears naked to the waist bearing a toy M-16 rifle or when Chicago rioters spread the rumor they're dumping LSD into the water supply to send all Democratic convention delegates on a "trip" they're following a "book" insurgents have used for 500 years. Few Americans understand the role ridicule has played in revolts.

The lesson was brought home to this reporter by an old Vietnamese song writer Ho Chi Minh sent into the hamlets of North and South Vietnam in the early 1950's singing and teaching duties that mocked the French with biting effect.

The current revolt against Mao Tse-tung was spearheaded by historical novels which parodied Mao and his government.

Much of the Mother Goose we read as children was written a few hundred years back to ridicule—and destroy—leaders in England's Establishment.

Some scholars insist the buffoonery in Shakespeare's plays was aimed at destroying certain high-placed power groups.

The same techniques were used by Ariwara Narahira in ancient Japan.

Any insurgent knows that to succeed he must destroy, or take over, whatever Establishment he faces. First, he must weaken society's means of exercising power against its police, armies, traditions, courts, schools, legislative bodies. This much is obvious.

If insurgents have the strength, this destruction or take-over can be accomplished by armed force, infiltration or the ballot. Most insurgencies don't have this power.

That's where ridicule comes in.

Ridicule can do terrible things to an institution, make people grow less confident in its worth and its strength. Since citizens then begin to reject it, weak hearted opponents gain the courage to resist.

Part of the task of making man—or an Establishment look pumpkin-headed is to egg him (or it) into reactions that appear silly or "stupid to the public, (or television audiences). Thus the foul language, the use of urine bombs and some of the vague "threats" to assassinate high officials.

A police force everyone laughs at isn't effective. Neither is a candidate or legislative body made to appear bumbling.

People begin to doubt official or Congressional bodies who can't keep a bunch of "kids" in order. It is worse when the "kids" make the whole procedure look like something out of a late-late show comedy.

If ill-fitting dentures are at fault, either relining or re-making may be necessary. But don't try to be your own dentist. You'll only compound your troubles. Drugstore reliners can do more harm than good; they raise the "bite," putting extra pressure on bone, often causing excessive shrinkage of the bridge; surfaces of rebase materials become rough and pitted, irritating underlying gum tissue.

Mrs. Jones (the attendant)—Lady, you have a cylinder missing.

Mrs. Smith—I don't see how that could be. I keep my garage locked all the time.

Teacher—Name one important thing we didn't have 50 years ago.

Student—Me.

Your Dental Health

Persistent Mouth Soreness

DEAR DR. LAWRENCE: I have good teeth but they are not white. Is there anything I can put on to whiten them? I've seen ads for whiteners that claim teeth can be shades whiter. Are they harmful? And do they work? What causes yellow teeth?

ANSWER: Original color of teeth is derived from the depth of yellow in underlying dentin, thickness of enamel and amount of translucency of enamel. Contrasting color of skin adds to "whiteness." All of these are genetic characteristics and we have little control over them.

In later life teeth are stained by vegetable dyes, tobacco, tea and coffee and some drugs. Over these we do have some control.

Whiteners can't change basic color of teeth but they can help remove stain. Best way to whiten teeth is to prevent stain by good oral hygiene and frequent and regular visits to the dentist.

DEAR DR. LAWRENCE: The right side of my jaw has developed a soreness. My dentist blames it on my denture and says I need a new one but I can't afford it. I asked him about relining but he said it wouldn't help, so I relined it myself with a drugstore product. It has helped but I still have some soreness. I've tried various rinses but they don't work. What can you recommend to take the soreness out?

ANSWER: Persistent soreness anywhere in the mouth or jaw can be a danger signal of serious trouble. Persistent "sore spot" should be properly diagnosed and treated without delay.

If soreness is due to a "high spot" on a denture, your dentist can find the exact location with special sensitivity paste and then relieve the area. Quite often simple adjustments can give complete relief.

If ill-fitting dentures are at fault, either relining or re-making may be necessary. But don't try to be your own dentist. You'll only compound your troubles. Drugstore reliners can do more harm than good; they raise the "bite," putting extra pressure on bone, often causing excessive shrinkage of the bridge; surfaces of rebase materials become rough and pitted, irritating underlying gum tissue.

LOOK ALIKES? Long hair and sideburns worn by Pierre Salinger, left, aide to the late President John F. Kennedy and Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, caused some comment on a similarity in hairstyle to that of Bob Keeshan, right, who portrays the "Captain Kangaroo" character on television.

Democrats, Republicans May Divide New England States

By RICHARD GROSS
BOSTON (UPI) — Eight years ago the Democrats and Republicans divided the six New England states evenly. It may happen in 1968.

The more conservative and rural states of Vermont, New Hampshire and Maine went solidly for Richard M. Nixon in 1960 while more industrialized and liberal Massachusetts, Connecticut and Rhode Island gave their support to John F. Kennedy.

The region's 37 electoral votes again may divide in the same fashion Nov. 5, although as it now stands only tiny Rhode Island is counted as a solid plus for Hubert H. Humphrey.

Wallace Impact
Unlike 1960, however, a third party presidential candidate is expected to have a definite impact throughout the region where he is likely to drain from the Republicans in the northern half and to siphon strength from the Democrats in the southern tier.

George C. Wallace is a thorn in the side of both Nixon and Humphrey. In all probability he will pull in the more conservative vote in the rural north, which is traditionally Republican, and will draw from the Democratic strongholds of the industrial centers scattered through the lower half of the region.

The former Alabama governor is expected to grab 15 per cent of the vote in Massachusetts, 10 per cent in Connecticut and 5 per cent in Rhode Island.

Also plaguing the Democrats, but from the other side of the political spectrum, are dissident party members who refuse to drop the memory of Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy and his candidacy prior to his political death at the Chicago convention.

Write-in Ballots
Dissatisfied with all of the presidential choices this year, many of the dissidents are expected either not to vote or to cast write-in ballots for McCarthy.

The Humphrey organization in Massachusetts estimated at least 50,000 persons to be in this no-vote category, and the New Hampshire party organization is so fractured over the Vietnam War it has not been able to muster an effective campaign for the vice president.

The Humphrey-Muskie camp in New England can only put Rhode Island's four electoral votes on the plus side of the ledger but is hoping Massachusetts and Connecticut will swing Democratic.

Maine, although it spawned a senator who became the Democratic vice presidential nominee, Edmund S. Muskie, is believed leaning toward Nixon and in all likelihood will follow its traditional path and go Republican as it did in 1960 when Nixon beat Kennedy by more than 59,000 votes.

GOP Colors
Vermont and New Hampshire virtually are lost to the Democratic cause and are expected to show their true Republican colors the way they did in 1960 by casting their combined seven electoral votes for Nixon.

Start with an Audit

Advertising is a serious investment... art, engraving, typography and copy are costly. All are planned carefully to attract readers who are prospects for the merchandise or service.

No business can afford to waste any part of this investment in any medium that cannot guarantee definite circulation and readership.

"Waste basket circulation" in post offices, and so-called throw-aways that usually travel to the incinerator are of little or no value to the advertiser.
