Solons Call For Hurry-Up Development Of New Strategic Bomber

War Orphan's Plight Gets Response Here

By WANDA MAE HUFF
News Staff Writer

Because a Pampa serviceman in Vietnam is concerned about "the barefooted and barebottomed orphans" near his base, and has requested help from home, several Pampans have started a unique project called "Bundles for Babies."

The project originated after Lt. Shaun Hills, son of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Hills, north of city, wrote a letter home requesting his family help the Vietnam orphanage.

"Since he is a local boy, we thought we would try to make this a Pampa project and give the whole city a chance to back him up," Lt. Hills' mother said.

Mrs. Hills is contacting representatives of Truteens, Pampa High School Key Club, Jaycees, Beta Sigma Phi, Kiwanis, Rotary and Lions clubs, and local churches.

"We need new and used clothing and foods that will ship well, such as dry milk, dry fruits and vegetables and rice," she said.

Mrs. Hills added, "It is possible we can get transportation from the Amarillo Air Force Base, but if we can't, I have learned there are other federal facilities available for projects like this. The need is so great, we hope Pampans will respond."

If Pampans are wondering why they should be concerned and why they should "respond" to such a request for help, Lt. Hills' letter may provide some answers:

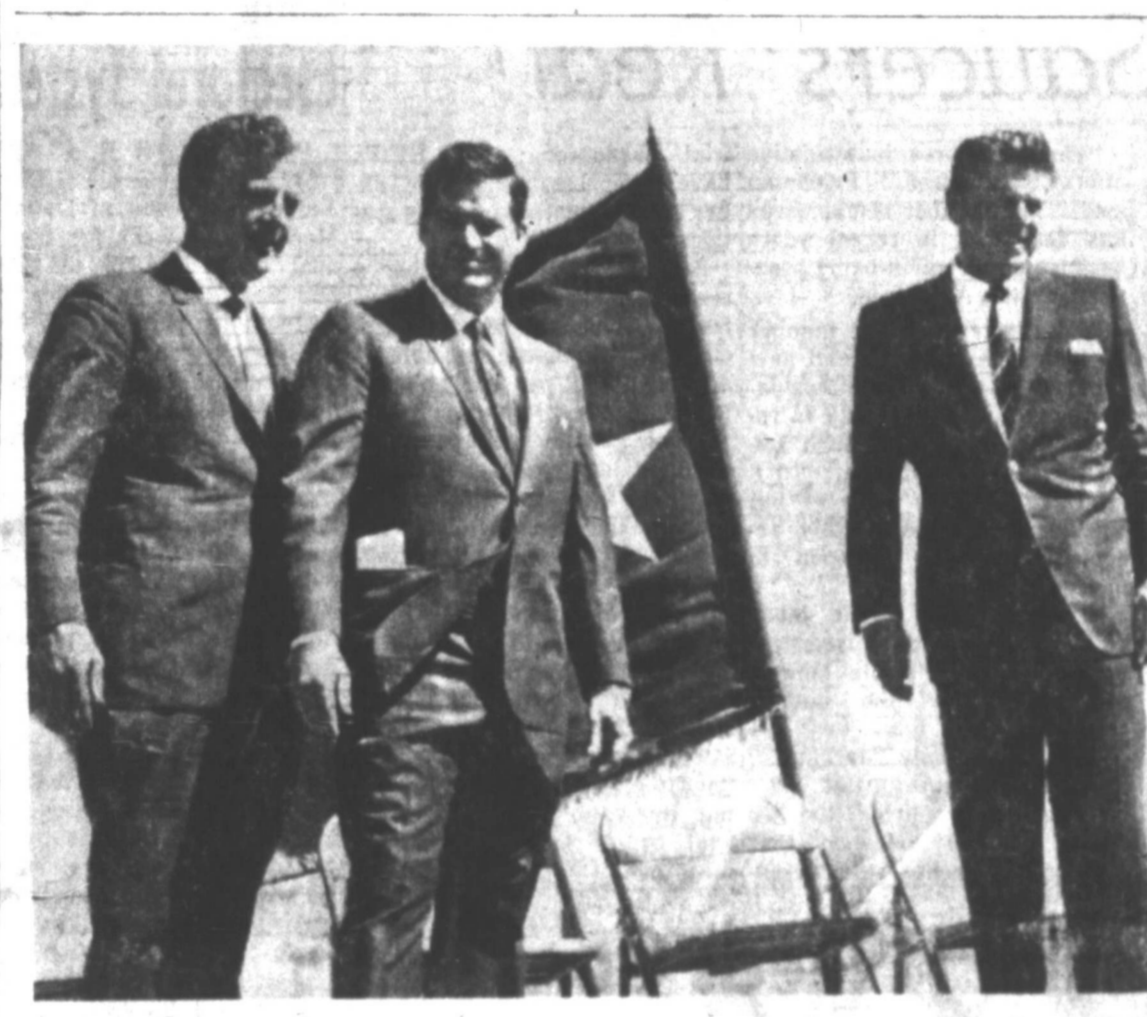

"Hi, People. . . Just time for a note. Everything here is going along at an astoundingly fast rate. I don't see how the V.C. stand up. We have choppers, gunships, fighters, bombers, artillery, and overwhelming fire power, plus all the resupply we want.

"We chase these people literally night and day, yet they are still there. We've destroyed their villages, taken their rice, and still they're there. These people aren't the Viet Cong, they are North Vietnamese regulars who pretend to be V. Cong, and don't let anyone tell you different.

"The people over here live like pigs, and their villages smell the same. I want to die every time I see one of these small kids covered with sores and crying for some kind of comfort. When I stop to think of the reasons behind all this, it boils down to one thing — Communism, plain and deadly.

"We have an orphanage near us with all sorts of little ones running around barefooted and barebottomed. Send all you can get for infants and those up to six years. They need everything from diapers up, because the (See ORPHANS, Page 3)

Humiliating Setback To LBJ On Fortas Expected

WATCHING THE CROWD that turned out at the Berger airport for a rally yesterday afternoon to greet several Republicans are, from left, Paul Eggers, candidate for Texas governor; Bob Price, U.S. Representative from the 18th Congressional District; and California Gov. Ronald Reagan. Reagan stopped at the airport to speak in behalf of Eggers, Price and other state and area Republican candidates.

Senate May Refuse To Consider Matter

By ROY McGHEE
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Barring a dramatic turnaround, the Senate seemed certain to deliver a humiliating setback to President Johnson Tuesday by refusing even to consider his nomination of Associate Justice Abe Fortas to be Chief Justice.

Johnson got a clear signal from Capitol Hill Friday that the nomination was in far worse trouble than it first appeared to be. Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, the Republican leader from Illinois, announced he would not vote to stop a filibuster against the nomination. Dirksen, up until then, had been considered one of Fortas' staunchest supporters.

Some lawmakers said they thought Johnson was considering withdrawing the nomination, rather than face the possibility of becoming the second President in history to have a nominee for chief justice rejected by the Senate.

Vote Tuesday

Unless the nomination is withdrawn, the Senate will vote on a cloture motion to stop the Fortas filibuster at 1 p.m. EDT Tuesday. Cloture is a parliamentary device to halt debate, requiring a two-thirds majority.

A coalition of Republicans and Conservative Southern Democrats were confident they could defeat the motion.

Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., Saturday stuck by his count of at least 36 senators who will vote "no" on cloture. The number would be enough to continue the filibuster, thus blocking Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield's move to have the nomination considered.

But Griffin and others predicted that the Dirksen prediction would increase the number of those voting against cloture. They say it is possible Mansfield may not even be able to muster a simple majority for his motion—51 if all 100 senators are present.

Mansfield earlier said he would file a second petition to shut off debate if the first one failed. But there were doubts he would do so if the first try was beaten badly.

Surprise Move

The filibuster against Fortas began last Wednesday after Mansfield, in a surprise move, called up the nomination at the close of Tuesday's session.

Then, on Friday:

—Sen. Clifford P. Hansen, R-Wyo., called on Johnson to withdraw the nomination and for Fortas to resign from the court.

—Dirksen announced he would not vote for cloture.

—Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., in an angry and impassioned speech, blasted Fortas for his opinions in obscenity cases.

Shortcomings Of F-111 Are, Said 'Obvious'

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate preparedness investigating subcommittee Saturday called for hurry-up development of a new strategic bomber to supplement the "obvious and admitted shortcomings" of the trouble-plagued F111.

The subcommittee sided with the Joint Chiefs of Staff, whose recommendation for "the immediate development and production of the Advanced Manned Strategic Aircraft (AMSA)" was over-ruled by former Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara.

Even if the decision to start on development of the new plane were made now, the plane would not be operational until 1976, the subcommittee said.

By that time, it said, America's strategic bomber force would consist of 251 B52s and 253 F111s.

The F111, known as the TFX during its development, went into operation earlier this year but has been grounded following the crash of 10 of the approximately 100 planes which (See F-111, Page 3)

Commies Rocket Saigon

By BERT W. OKULEY
SAIGON (UPI)—A single 122 millimeter rocket crashed into downtown Saigon early Sunday morning in a new Communist attack on the South Vietnamese capital that wounded at least two policemen. A bomb exploded Saturday afternoon near an American post exchange.

Far to the north, southwest of Da Nang, defenders of a Green Beret complex withstood infantry charges and artillery barrages before dawn Saturday as U.S. B52 jets blasted a nearby ridgeline forming part of a Communist infiltration route.

The rocket hurtling into Saigon exploded within 30 feet of the 2nd Police Precinct headquarters two blocks from the central market place. The blast blew out windows in the area.

The six-foot-long rocket, packing 15 pounds of TNT, can be fired from launching sites eight miles away at speeds of 800 miles an hour.

The missile was apparently fired from sparsely populated regions across the Saigon River.

The heavy action around the Thuong Duc Special Force camp and a nearby outpost 30 miles southwest of Da Nang, South Vietnam's second largest city, raged before dawn in the fourth consecutive day of Communist assaults on Green Beret installations.

The U.S. Command reported nearly 300 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong killed in abortive Communist attempts which began last Wednesday to seize Special Forces camps at Katum and Thien Ngoc along the Cambodian border, 60 to 70 miles northwest of Saigon.

Initial reports on the Thuong Duc fighting about 350 miles northeast of Saigon made no mention of Communist losses, but allied casualties were described as "very light."

Communist gunners in the area shot down a U.S. Army OH-13 "Birdog" spotter plane Friday, but its two occupants were rescued.

The fighting early Saturday began when a large Communist force sent 82 mm mortar and 57 mm recoilless rifle fire into the Thuong Duc camp.

Simultaneously, other Communist troops charged a nearby post and tried to overrun it. U.S. spokesmen said defenders hurled back every thrust.

While the fighting was under (See SAIGON, Page 3)

Politicians Prowl Panhandle In Search Of Nov. 5th Support

By LARRY HOLLIS
Pampa News Staff Writer

Politicians and political candidates invaded the Panhandle region yesterday for speeches and rallies as voters begin to look toward the Nov. 5 general election date.

California Gov. Ronald Reagan visited the Panhandle again as he stopped off in Berger to speak at a rally for four Republican candidates. Reagan arrived at the airport about 1:45 p.m. and left about 2:30 p.m. for California.

Rep. Bob Price visited several Panhandle towns yesterday for dedications and fairs, while his opponent, Dick Brown of Dalhart, visited the area on the second of a series of bus tours.

Reagan spoke in support of Paul Eggers, candidate for Texas governor; Rep. Bob Price, seeking re-election to Congress; E. G. Schuhart II, Dalhart, candidate for state agriculture commissioner; and Frank McCown, Dumas, candidate for state representative.

Addressing a crowd of several hundred who turned out at the airport, Reagan urged a return of government to the "common man." He said too much of the government has been turned over to the professional politicians.

Reagan urged the election of the four candidates as a step toward the restoration of good government in Texas.

Reagan has made several stops with Eggers as part of the Republicans' national campaign plans to elect Republicans to office. Earlier Saturday Reagan spoke at a rally for Eggers at Dallas Love Field.

Brown, Democratic candidate for Congress from the 18th Congressional District, visited Pampa about 11:30 a.m. Saturday in the second of a series of Voter (See POLITICIANS, Page 3)

MIAMI (UPI)—Richard M. Nixon, under Democratic assault on land, sea and air at his nearby Key Biscayne retreat, pledged Saturday to revise the Social Security system and increase payments to the elderly.

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—Texas Mexican-Americans, disappointed because Democrats didn't nominate a liberal for governor, may vote Republican in November, but will return to the Democratic fold after the election, one leader predicts.

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI)—American Independent Party presidential candidate George C. Wallace spent Saturday working on his platform, which a spokesman said probably would be disclosed next week.

PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI)—Vice President Hubert Humphrey asked his Republican rival Saturday to "stop playing games" on the Vietnam War and reveal his plan for peace if he has one.

NEW YORK (UPI)—Former U.N. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg indicated Saturday he would try to play a leading role in healing the breach between the Humphrey and McCarthy factions of the quarrelling Democratic party.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson Saturday praised the quality of federal government workers and took a public swipe at presidential candidate George Wallace's favorite campaign promise to take all those "bureaucrats' briefcases and throw them into the Potomac."

NEW YORK (UPI)—Talks to end New York City's racially fraught school strike collapsed in failure early Saturday and the head of the United Federation of Teachers (UFT) predicted the walkout, which enters its fourth week Monday, will be "a real longie."

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Russians soon will write zip code numbers on their letters. A Soviet postal official has appeared on television to demonstrate the new system, to begin after a new mechanized post office opens in Moscow.

Labor Admits Its Error In Economics

BLACKPOOL, England (UPI)—Britain's governing Labor party confessed publicly Saturday it was wrong when it thought it could find a quick cure for the nation's ailing economy.

But, in a 4,000 word manifesto to be presented to the party's annual conference here next week, it said Labor's mistake when it took power in 1964 was in assessing the extent of the weaknesses of the British economy and the time needed to put them right.

"Our analysis and our solutions were correct," it claimed.

Among future measures it forecast was a "soak the rich" wealth tax on big fortunes. It gave no details. But political sources said the proposal might involve a three per cent tax on all fortunes above $48,000.

The Labor party's 67th annual conference opens Monday at this bustling northern England beach resort—a sort of British Atlantic City. About 1,200 delegates representing party workers, rank-and-file party members and the trade unions were attending.

Prime Minister Harold Wilson was scheduled to deliver the main keynote speech Tuesday morning and a second speech designed to rally party morale at the end of the conference.

The convention was being held at a time when Labor party fortunes have been on the decline.

During the past year Labor has lost eight out of 15 parliamentary by-elections (special elections) and taken a severe beating in local government elections.

NEW YORK (UPI)—The moon if some time in the future the country should decide that is what it wants.

No such decision is in sight. In the early years Congress poured ever larger appropriations into the NASA budget. The peak was a $5.25 billion money bill in 1965. At that time officials forecast a leveling off for the long future at $6-to-$7 billion a year.

They reckoned without the Vietnam War and domestic poverty programs. This year NASA will be thankful if it gets as much as $3.85 billion. An industry work force of more than 400,000 built up by NASA contracts is being cut in half.

When NASA administrator James E. Webb announced Sept. 16 that he was retiring Oct. 7, at least a year before the first planned landing of Apollo astronauts on the moon, Soviet postal official has appeared on television to demonstrate the new system, to begin after a new mechanized post office opens in Moscow.

Czechs Try To Save Regime Of Dubcek

By JAMES O. JACKSON
PRAGUE (UPI)—The Czechoslovak Communist party Saturday opened a drive all the way down to its smallest cells to save the reform regime of party leader Alexander Dubcek from a Kremlin-ordered purge.

Resolutions were passed by the grassroots party membership throughout this Soviet-occupied nation clearly warning Moscow that Czechoslovaks would not stand for any puppet rulers imposed by Russia.

"We will not recognize as our representatives anybody who has not been elected by regular free elections or appointed by the unrestricted free decision of the president of our republic," said a resolution from the party cell of a pharmaceutical plant.

Party sources said word from the Prague leadership was being passed down to lower levels of the party that the Soviets were seeking to topple the reform leadership one man at a time, beginning with National Assembly President Josef Smrkovsky. The Soviets were said to consider him the most immediately dangerous leader because of his outspoken opposition to the Aug. 2-21 invasion by Soviet-led Warsaw Pact troops and because of his popularity, second only to that of Dubcek.

NASA Cites Accomplishments

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The space agency, its resources dwindling, issued a stiff-upper-lip birthday statement Saturday that said it has equipped the nation for far greater ventures out yonder than either Congress or the public seems willing now to underwrite.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA), created by an act of Congress, was born Oct. 1, 1958, and endowed with a budget of $330.9 million. Its assignment was to explore space with men and instruments for "peaceful purposes and the benefit of all mankind."

On its 10th anniversary, after a decade of gigantic effort, NASA can honestly say that:

Despite the original shock of Russia's pace-setting Sputniks and despite subsequent disappointments and tragedies, it has furnished the United States "with the capability for man to explore space far beyond the immediate goal of landing on

Groom School Bonds Are Sold

GROOM (Spl) — Sale of the recently-voted $2,000,000 school bonds was announced recently by the Groom School Board of trustees. Southwest Securities Corporation of Austin was the successful bidder among four companies submitting bids for the bonds.

The bid by Southwest Securities Corporation was at an interest rate of 4.6179174 for the 20-year bond issue. Other bids were by Eastman-Dillon Co., 4.9; Bittman and Co. 4.99; and Underwood, Levy, House, 4.94.

Plans at present are for the bonds to be delivered about the middle of October and it is hoped to have construction begin about the same time on the new additions and other improvements to the Groom School bldg.

Southwest Securities Corporation is headed by Bob Wade of Austin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Wade of Groom.

WOMEN'S SWIM TIME — Another class that has really grown in the past few weeks is the swim and exercise time for women. This class meets on Monday and Fridays from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. Exercising is at 9:30 and swimming at 10. An added feature is the opportunity to like a steam bath in our cabinet. Women interested should come on those meeting dates.

VOLLEY BALL RESULTS

The first full week of volleyball competition has just been concluded and it looks like the old stand-bys of La Bonita and Yellow Cab in the women's league and the terror of the men's league, Bell Pontiac, will be the teams to beat.

In women's competition this week we found La Bonita victor over the First National Bank High School Girls team 7-0 and 7-0 while Yellow Cab kept pace with a 7-0 and 7-0 win over the Coaches Wives.

In men's competition First Baptist Church tripped Skelly Production 15-6, 5-15 and 15-6; Bell Pontiac won over Furr's 15-12 and 15-10 while the Skelly Oilers out-tipped the Jaycees 12-15, 15-9 and 15-9.

MEMBERSHIPS — Participation at the Center is by membership or payment of a daily fee. The daily fee is 35 cents for children under 12; 50 cents for 12 and up while adults are charged 75 cents.

There are two types of membership plans. One, the individual plan, is for those at least 8 years of age or older. This sells for $8 per year or $5 for six months. The other plan is our family one. This is for all members of the immediate family and sells for $20 per year or $12 for six months.

J. R. Meaker Is GOP Chairman In Carson County

PANHANDLE (Spl) — In a recent Carson County Republican Executive Committee meeting, Julius R. Meaker Jr., was elected county chairman to complete the unexpired term of the late H. J. "Friday" Hughes.

Meaker has been active in Republican politics since 1961, and has worked in many capacities in the county. He was Carson County Campaign chairman for Jack Cox in 1962, for Goldwater in 1964, for John Tower in 1966 and has served as county finance and precinct one chairman.

A graduate of White Deer High School, he attended North Texas State University, Denton, and is farming southeast of Panhandle. He's married to the former Helen Bonner, and is the father of three daughters; Jo Dell, a freshman at West Texas State University, Canyon, and Lynn and Carey of the home. He served in the U.S. Army in World War II.

He is a member of the First Baptist Church of Panhandle and president of the Carson County Farm Bureau.

Lodge Leader In Visit To Cities

A. L. Weathered, 2134 Chestnut, Grand Chancellor of Texas Knights of Pythias Lodges, made an official visit to Lamesa Lodge No. 485 last Monday and met with members of Frontier Lodge No. 43, Big Springs, on Tuesday night.

He plans to attend a District No. 9 meeting of the Pythian Sisters to be held in Paducah Saturday. Also attending the District meeting from Pampa will be Mrs. Lucille Weathered, Grand Manager, Mrs. Pearl Barnard, and Mrs. Maggie Smith, all members of Pampa Temple No. 41.

Mr. and Mrs. Weathered will go from Paducah to Greenville to attend a Home Board meeting of the Texas Pythian Retirement Home to be held in Sunday. They are both members of the Home Board.

South Is A Difficult Area For Humphrey

Campaign '68
The South
By LEWIS LORD

ATLANTA (UPI)—This is a difficult—but not completely hopeless—year to be a Democratic candidate for president in what once was the solidly Democratic South.

Hubert H. Humphrey, who enjoyed substantial Southern support at the Democratic National Convention, presently is running a poor third with the Dixie Electorate. Few Southerners who backed him in Chicago are speaking out for him now.

In every Southern state he trails George C. Wallace and Richard M. Nixon. His one hope—and in a few Southern states a sound hope—is that the Wallace-Nixon vote will split so sharply that he can capture Dixie electoral votes with a slim plurality.

Wallace Leading

Wallace, who had a big Southern following long before he stood in the doorway of the about-to-be-integrated University of Alabama, looks like the leading candidate in nearly every state of the old Confederacy.

The former Alabama governor already has walked away with the bumper sticker battle. Many Southern businessmen display Nixon stickers on their sedans but they can't match the farmers and workers boasting Wallace messages on pickup trucks. A Humphrey sticker is a rare sight in the South.

Barry Goldwater was the first GOP candidate for president to make an all-out appeal for Southern support, and he carried the Deep South. Nixon is repeating that effort, complete with a vow to let local school boards handle desegregation problems, and his support is substantial.

WTCC Supporting Five Amendments On Texas Ballot

West Texas voters were urged today to support five of the constitutional amendments which will be voted upon in November. The State Affairs committee of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce in session in Abilene last Tuesday unanimously supported five of the fourteen and took no position on the other nine amendments.

Foremost in the discussion was the approval of the amendment which will permit governmental bodies (cities and counties) to issue industrial revenue bonds for the expansion and development of industry in Texas. This amendment is number 12 on the ballot.

Also given approval by the committee were amendments which set the salary for legislators at $8,400 per year, provide for the exemption from ad valorem taxes on air-water pollution equipment required by law, elimination of the State ad valorem tax after 1968 except for the 10 cents allocated for buildings for certain colleges and universities, and the exemption from State ad valorem taxes on goods stored in transit.

Reuben Senterfitt, San Saba of the House of Representatives, is chairman of the State Affairs committee. He stated at the meeting that the approval of only five of the amendments should not be construed to mean that the committee was opposed to the others.

"Some of the other amendments are local in nature, some are to correct inequities in the existing constitution and some are of such a nature that the business people of West Texas should exercise their individual choices."

It was pointed out that Texas should be in the same competitive position as other States insofar as industrial revenue bonds are concerned although current Internal Revenue Service rulings limit their use.

JUDO COURSE SET — The Pampa Youth and Community Center will offer a judo course for men and boys starting at 7:30 p.m. Monday. The course, for those eight and older, will be a year-round class (meeting on Monday and Thursday nights). A free orientation is set for 3 p.m. today, to be led by Tim Jo, shown here, of the Amarillo School of Judo. A judo exhibition and question-and-answer session will be held. The course is free to Center members with memberships available.

Many Southerners who like Wallace will vote for Nixon because they don't believe Wallace can win. Nixon's Southern aides keep stressing that either Nixon or Humphrey will be the next president and a vote for Wallace, they say, will help Humphrey.

Democratic leaders acknowledge privately that Humphrey would have no chance in the South in a race against only Wallace or only Nixon.

"You put all three of them together and you've got a different story," says a high Democratic office-holder in one state.

"Nixon and Wallace are going to split the conservative vote over here," he explains. "Then you count the Democrats who aren't saying much but are scared to death of Wallace, Humphrey or only Nixon. They are going to keep their mouths shut and vote for Humphrey on election day. You add that to the Negroes who are going to Humphrey, and the vice president has a pretty good chance of carrying the state with perhaps a 35 per cent plurality."

It's this kind of arithmetic that is Humphrey's only hope in several Southern states.

Panhandle Water District News

By FELIX W. RYALS.
Columbus discovered America in 1492, yet 150 years went by before a city in the New World had a water supply. In 1542 Boston built an aqueduct to bring water in from springs, thus becoming the first city in what is now the United States to have a water supply system. To New London, Conn., goes the honor of having the oldest existing waterpowered grist mill. It was built in 1545 and still stands on the original site as a historical monument. By 1799, the last year of George Washington's administration, some 15 U.S. cities had water supplies with wooden pipes running beneath the streets. The year 1800 saw the first experiments tried with cast iron pipes as conduits for water. The experiments were highly successful and resulted in the early replacement of the wooden pipe.

Although many American cities had water systems by 1800, many people still had to lift water with a well sweep or windlass. The well sweep was a throwback to the Egyptians of the 3000 B.C. era. Considering the small background of experience of adult Americans in the 1800s, some of their inventions were marvelous. In the year 1800—Benjamin Franklin's time—Philadelphia became the first city in America to use steam engines to pump water. The bottled spring water, now being sold in Pampa and Amarillo, is a throwback to the decade before Texas won its independence from Mexico. During the period from 1820 to 1840 many people still purchased spring water from horse drawn barrel carts. In 1840, fire departments with their horse drawn steam pumps generated as much excitement among the populace as the orbit of John Glenn into space did several years ago.

In 1842 New York City completed its first aqueduct to bring water from the Croton River, 30 miles away. Compare this to the aqueduct from Lake Meredith to Lubbock, a distance of approximately 160 miles. By 1890, nearly 2,000 U.S. cities had water supply systems. Complications arose in a hurry since few cities had purification plants. Epidemics resulted in thousands of deaths. The epidemics were traced to typhoid and other disease germs found in the water supplies. These epidemics resulted in hundreds of cities building purification plants. During the period of 1890 to 1914, chlorine was introduced and brought the epidemics to an end. By 1900 electric power was rapidly replacing steam power for pumping water. By 1960, giant turbine and centrifugal pumps supplies the water needed by cities. Behind today's countless faucets lies centuries of struggle and invention to bring us the convenient supply of pure fresh water that we enjoy today, whether we live in the city or the country. Truly it is the woman of today "who never had it so good". No young wife today is aware of the back-breaking toil of their grandmothers. When I was a small child I heard my mother sing verses of old folk songs that I still remember, some 46 years later. When I think of the toil put forth in "toting" water alone, I hear the refrain coming back from my childhood. "The hardest of fortunes is upon womankind, they are always controlled, they are always confined — Controlled by their parents until they are wives, then placed to their husbands the rest of their lives". Truly, then, today's young wife with faucet running hot and cold water "never had it so good", especially when you throw in the hot water heater, dishwasher, washing machine and dryer, for extra measure. Much credit must be given to our pioneer grandmothers for helping to make America the great country we have today.

1967 Volume of Farm Production Is Four Per Cent Above 1966

COLLEGE STATION — The total volume of farm output in the United States in 1967 was a record four per cent above 1966 and 18 per cent above the 1957-59 average.

Production increased for cattle, calves and hogs but was lower for sheep and lambs, reports C. A. Parker, Texas A&M University Extension economist. Poultry and egg production was at a new high with record output of eggs, broilers and turkeys. Dairy products remained at about the same level as in 1966.

Cotton production was the smallest since 1895 and only half of 1961-65 average. Record corn and sorghum grain output pushed the feed grain total to a new high. Food grain production increased 14 per cent above 1966. Oil crops continued to increase, primarily because of a rise in soybean output.

Labor used on farms in the United States totaled 7.4 billion man-hours in 1967. This, explains the economist, was lower than any previous year and 1.4 per cent less than in 1966. Farm output per man-hour in 1967 rose more than 6 per cent from the year earlier.

The increase in livestock production per man-hour was greater than for crops. Fewer farm workers in 1967 supplied food and other farm products to an increased domestic population. Each farm worker in 1967 supplied 42 domestic and foreign consumers with their needed agricultural products. The total volume of inputs in 1967 was nearly two per cent larger than in 1966, says Parker.

Soil Conservation Zone 5 Election Set For Oct. 10

Oct. 10 has been set as the date when Zone 5 voters in the Gray County Soil Conservation District will elect a farmer or rancher to serve as supervisor and representative on the Soil Conservation District Board for the next five years.

The zone includes the northeast portion of Gray County, including Pampa.

Time and place for the balloting is Oct. 10 at 7:30 p.m. in the county annex (agriculture) building, according to County Agricultural Agent Foster Whaley.

A qualified voter is a Zone 5 landowner who is over 21 years of age. Wives of eligible landowners can also vote.

Whaley pointed out that soil conservation districts are subdivisions of the state of Texas and by law are charged with the responsibility of carrying out a soil and water conservation program in their district.

Robert Sallor, who lives southeast of Pampa, is the present supervisor for Zone 5.

Rains Across State, Slow Up Harvests, But Boost Pastures

COLLEGE STATION (UPI)— Officially fall is here and its arrival touched off widespread rains, some heavy, and considerable turbulence in some areas.

The moisture slowed or stopped crop harvesting but supplied a boost for pastures and ranges and the planting of small grains, the Texas Agricultural Extension Service said Friday.

The rains were ended Wednesday as the latest cold front moved across the state. The maturity of the South Plains cotton crop, especially in the northern counties of the area, continued to be slowed by rains and cool temperatures and spots were damaged by hail, the service said.

The Central Texas cotton harvest which has reached the 40 percent complete mark in Williamson County is being delayed by rains and wet fields. The same is true in most sections in the eastern half of the state, the service noted. The corn harvest is also being delayed while most of the grain sorghum has been harvested in these areas, the service said.

Wheat planting in the Panhandle ranges from 50 to almost 100 percent complete and is continuing. Small grain planting is running a bit ahead of last year's record statewide, the service said.

Groom Young Farmers Get 'Outstanding' Award From Area FFA

GROOM — The Groom chapter of Young Farmers was the recipient of the "Outstanding New Chapter" award presented at the Area I FFA convention of the held in Plain view Sept. 14.

The award is given annually to a new Young Farmers chapter—"FFA's 'big brother'" —that has accomplished the most civic and community benefiting projects and had the most leadership and educational development during the year.

Pampa Breeder Enters Bulls In Test Program

A Pampa Hereford breeder is among cattle raisers from five states who have consigned bulls to the annual performance test program at Panhandle State College in Goodwell, Okla.

Emmett LeFors, whose ranch is northeast of Pampa, has consigned 10 registered Hereford bulls to the testing program.

Official weigh-in for the bulls consigned to the program will be held Oct. 4-5 with weigh-out date set for Feb. 21-22.

A total of 27 cattlemen from Texas, Kansas, Colorado, New Mexico and Oklahoma have placed 139 bulls on the program.

Frank Grantham Named Manager of Groom Elevator

GROOM — Frank Grantham of Pampa has been named manager of the Wheeler-Evans Grain, Inc. elevators in Groom, and assumed his duties this week.

Grantham has been associated with the grain business for the past 18 years, having worked for Fisher Grain Company in Woodward and Gage, Okla., before moving to Pampa in 1962. He has been employed with Fisher Grain Company since his arrival in Texas.

A native of Gage, Okla., Grantham is an elder in the First Christian Church of Pampa and a member of the Pampa Lions Club.

Grantham and his wife Sylvia live at 1629 N. Dwight in Pampa.

WATER CONFERENCE
Texas A&M University's 13th annual Water for Texas Conference will be held Nov. 25-26. Theme of the conference will be "Meeting Texas Water Needs" and all sessions will be held in the Memorial Student Center.

BRUSH CONTROL
Individual plant treatment methods using basal pour of kerosene or 2,4,5-T mixed in diesel oil should be applied when the soil is dry enough to allow penetration of the material to the bud zone, reports Extension range specialists.

Agriculturally Speaking

By FOSTER WHALEY
County Agricultural Agent

We would like to congratulate two outstanding 4-H Club youngsters for district-wide accomplishment. Elaine Webb, Gray Co. 4-H girl from the Laketon community was named Better Bake Queen of the 1968 Tri-State Fair. John Spearman, a member of the Pampa Sundowner's 4-H Club took fourth place with a sample of his wheat. Jeannie Ford, assistant home demonstration agent and Jesse Hoermann, assistant county agent are to be congratulated for their leadership with these youngsters.

Swine
A quarterly meeting of the Top-O-Texas Pork Producers Association was held in the Agricultural Building last Thursday evening with producers from as far off as Spearman present.

Sam Thomas, agricultural representative with Southwestern Public Service, gave a colored slide presentation showing different types of facilities for hogs. These facilities were located all over the Panhandle and South Plains.

Look for the swine movement to get underway here in the Panhandle just like the cattle feeding business. Sam Thomas has had a great deal to do with creating interest in the cattle feeding business. He's now doing a great deal to get the hog business going. Elmer McLaughlin, Laketon, has been very instrumental in organizing the pork producers over the Panhandle.

We are working out plans with Elmer and other selected swine producers in the county to hold a short course on swine production in the county later date.

It might surprise many of you to know of the sophistication that has been introduced to the swine business in this area. Managers of 150-200 sow units are college graduates. They get annual salaries of $10,000 or more. Most of the swine are produced under a total confinement situation.

The well-known TV personality, Jimmy Dean, has one of the most elaborate units in the nation near Plainview. A packing plant is a part of this complex.

One commercial outfit in Borger produces a portable unit that is capable of handling 25 feeder pigs to the finishing stage. The unit is completely self-contained and can be hooked up to existing water and electrical outlets in a matter of minutes after it has been set down. Complete financing is featured on the unit. It's called Pork-A-Pig. The unit is approximately 30 inches off the ground. The pigs are on a slatted floor. All you do when you get ready to clean the hog house is latch on to it with your tractor and pull it away from the droppings.

The feeder pigs are never on the ground after they are placed in this device. Swine producers in east Texas and Louisiana are now producing a large volume of feeder pigs. We think you might just see a large movement of feeder pigs to this area like the feeder calf shipments that come from that area.

There are many farmers struggling to survive the revolution that is taking place in agriculture in the Panhandle today. Many view the opportunities in agriculture as very dim while others say opportunities are greater today than ever before. If the family-type farmer is to stay in business, we must intensify our operation in some way. In my opinion, swine offers the greatest potential for those with limited capital to a large extent in the swine business.

A cattle feeder will have as much as $240 invested in 1,000-pound steer and make no more

MISS HAMNER COMES HOME

At noon Monday, a great and gentle soul was laid to rest on a little knoll northwest of Claude. . . MISS LAURA V. HAMNER had named it "Meadowlark Hill" in a poem she wrote several years ago, and it was there a large group of friends, neighbors, and pupils of former days gathered to honor her memory. . . Just six days before her passing in Alabama, MISS HAMNER wrote to a friend in Claude relating the circumstances which had brought her to Claude as Postmistress many years before, and how disappointed she had been at first contemplating the expected boredom of living in a small country town again after teaching in Dallas.

Soon, however, she was outside the postoffice chatting and visiting with her patrons and the townsfolk, and these personalities and visits she jotted down as her "street corner musings" in little notebooks, . . . as the years scampared by she filled over forty such notebooks. . . these, together with her biographies, poems, articles, etc. are now available for research and study at Panhandle-Plains Museum.

REV. JAMES TODD, formerly minister of the First Christian Church here and who also served as Justice of the Peace in Pampa, related in his memorial address that only a few months ago, MISS LAURA at the age of 97 had paid a visit to the bustling downtown Dallas Public Library archives to do research for a book on the life of the Superintendent of Schools with whom she had taught as a young teacher at Bryan. . . when he became Superintendent at Dallas MISS HAMNER was the only teacher from Bryan he requested to come along. . . (her reputation for excellence in anything she undertook had already been established) he had been an outstanding educator and an inspiration to her, and now she wanted to record his life for others to know.

Adding to the long list of her already published works, she had recently completed another book. . . "SOMEBODY MIGHT COME" . . . which was the story of her mother's life, and the warm spirit of hospitality that had always pervaded the Hamner home . . . an extra plate was always set on the table at meal time. . . "for somebody might come", and sure enough there were few meals at that table when several guests did not share the delicious cuisine MRS. HAMNER had provided.

We will long remember the absorbing tales MISS LAURA spun each Sunday morning on the radio. . . "We now present MISS LAURA V. HAMNER, who knows and loves the Panhandle" the announcer would say, then another fabulous pioneer adventure would unfold. . . MISS LAURA went all over the United States gathering and relating the Panhandle story. . . in the summer of 1960 while on my way to a genealogical seminar in Washington, D. C., I stopped in Memphis, Tenn. to do a bit of research at Cossitt library, and while there, telephoned MRS. L. D. BEJACH, president of the Memphis Genealogical Society. . . the first thing she said was, "MISS LAURA V. HAMNER from Amarillo, Texas, was just here and she told us that you have a growing genealogical society at Pampa interested in Tennessee history. . . good for you!"

Outside the church following Monday's service, MRS. DOROTHY NORDYKE, who writes the column "TRAILING FAMILY TREES" in the Amarillo Daily News, commented to me on the upsurge of interest in family and local history all over the Golden Spread, much of it due to MISS LAURA's efforts to arouse interest in this field. We hope sincerely that "MEADOWLARK HILL" will soon be recognized by the State Historical Survey Committee with an official monument, for MISS LAURA now sleeps there.

In response to our urgent request for any copies of early Gray County newspapers before 1924 to be loaned to the GRAY COUNTY HISTORICAL SURVEY COMMITTEE, we have received the PAMPA WEEKLY NEWS dated Friday, March 13, 1908 from MRS. LYNN BOYD, and we extend her our special thanks. . . 1908 was an election year, and WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN was to be nominated by the Nebraska Democratic Convention at Denver in July. . . MRS. MARGARET LOVELL, 102 years old and a resident of HILLSBORO astounded her neighbors by walking from her home to WHITNEY, a distance of five miles. . . the flag bearing the star of OKLAHOMA was used in Washington for the first time TUESDAY. . . Say, Sam! These biscuits are just simply fine. Yes, I buy BELLE OF HIGGINS FLOUR at WHATLEY & SKAGGS. . . MRS. JOHN LEAZENBY says PAMPA'S ART STUDIO is now ready to make photographs at the new photo gallery. . . ORREN W. HARRAH says "Deposit your whiskers at HARRAH'S TONSORIAL PARLOR, satisfaction guaranteed or your whiskers refunded! . . . Navel or belly button hernia, is not unusual in babies and usually it corrects itself in a few months to a year. It is the only kind of hernia which can self-correct. The doctor sometimes just tapes a coin, or a similar flat object over the hernia.

In grandmother's time, every baby usually wore a belly band for this purpose, but now medical opinion has discarded this therapy as having little value. Infrequently, surgery may be required for a navel hernia but the operation is simple. Your physician will tell you if one is necessary.

'Ghost Vote' By Some Legislators Charged

EDITORS NOTE: The author of the following dispatch heads UPI's House staff and is the reporter who uncovered the practice of ghost voting which it describes.

By FRANK ELEAZER
WASHINGTON (UPI)—House leaders have uncovered and stamped out a ghost-voting practice by which some lawmakers apparently have been able to be recorded as voting yes or no without being present.

More frequently, and almost as bad in the eyes of the leadership, some members have been listed as present on quorum calls although actually in their offices or back in their home states.

House clerk W. Pat Jennings, a former House member himself, is investigating the extent of the "finagling" and is trying to find out exactly how it was done. Both Democrats and Republicans have been among the relatively few beneficiaries of the system.

Blame Honest Error
Jennings and other key figures are inclined, officially, at least, to minimize the extent of the practice and in most cases to blame honest error. They point out that House roll calls are noisy, difficult, and sometimes subject to mistakes. Jennings said that whatever this inquiry discloses the by-product will be installation of an electronic tally system to guarantee accurate counts, both on substantive votes and on roll calls for the purpose of establishing that a quorum—or majority—of members is present.

A more immediate possible byproduct of the inquiry, in the view of some sources following the matter closely, was the failure of the House Monday to obtain a quorum for the first time in almost two years.

When only 188 of the needed 217 members (a majority of the current membership of 432) answered their names, the House was forced to adjourn. Some sources speculated that prior to the cleanup enough "ghosts" might have been recorded to make a quorum.

Process In Question
Nobody suggested that members had been answering for absent colleagues since any such practice would be too easily noted. Obviously the discrepancies were involved in the mechanics of taking and recording the votes in question.

Record votes in the House are appeared certain that no major votes on controversial bills have been counted erroneously. For one thing, all important votes are recorded independently by the press as the roll is called, and any discrepancy would tend to be noted.

But most House roll calls are routine. Discrepancies began coming to light on some of these after a newsmen sought to call a member who had just been recorded as being present and voting. It turned out the member was out of town.

GIVING A SALUTE to Jerry Sims, general drive chairman for the Pampa United Fund, for his efforts are three Scouts, representing the Adobe Walls Council. From left are Curt Beck, son of Mr. and Mrs. Curt Beck, Cub Scout; Laird Ellis, son of Mr. and Mrs. William L. Ellis, Boy Scout; and Randy Maness, son of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Maness, Explorer.

THE PAMPA WELFARE INDEX tries to prevent the duplication of various welfare and social work through the coordination of distribution of supplies. The organization this year to date has given away 133 articles of furniture and 414 articles of clothing. At present, more donations of furniture are needed. Helping to unload some furniture at the storehouse at the Plainsman's Motel are, from left, E. M. Stafford, Mrs. Eula Thornhill, Mrs. Lillie Stafford and Mrs. Gladys Mayo.

THE MILK FUND was organized shortly after World War II to help supplement the diet of hungry children. The Salvation Army, Red Cross and County Welfare Office investigate cases to determine the need. Preparing to deliver some dairy products to a needy child is Bill Smith, employe of Plains Creamery.

Twelve agencies will benefit from the donations given for the Pampa United Fund during the campaign, with a deadline of Oct. 18 set for collecting the goal of $84,300.

The United Fund is a local, non-profit organization formed for community action toward eliminating duplicate fund raising campaigns, and producing the most for voluntary charitable health, welfare and character building services at the lowest possible cost.

The United Fund has a committee which examines the agencies, their budgets and their accomplishments during the past year, together with their plans for the coming year. An allocation is then made for the coming year.

It is the minimum amount which the agency can efficiently operate on in carrying out its approved program.

The 12 agencies benefitting from the local fund drive are the American National Red Cross, Boy Scouts of America, Girl Scouts of America, Texas Association for Mental Health, United Service Organization, Medical Research Foundation of Texas, Pampa Welfare Index, Pampa Milk Fund, Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation, Amarillo Cerebral Palsy

Center, United Community Fund and The Salvation Army. The purposes of the agencies and their share of the collection goal are:

American National Red Cross, $15,600—to be responsible for families in case of disasters, a liaison between the home and the military; to furnish hospital volunteers, conduct water safety and first aid programs and classes in mother and baby care.

Boy Scouts of America, Adobe Walls Council, $22,750—to provide boys with an opportunity to be a Cub, Boy Scout or Explorer; to operate two camps for summer and weekend camping.

HOSPITAL VOLUNTEERS for the American National Red Cross provide volunteer service, such as serving juice and delivering flowers and mail to hospital patients. Mrs. Joe Weaver, left, a new recruit, and Mrs. Lee Harrah, volunteer chairman, aid Mrs. Gertrude Hanna. The volunteers, formerly known as the Gray Ladies, provided over 5,000 hours of volunteer service the past year. Since they were reorganized in 1952, over 80,000 hours have been given.

MAKING GOD'S EYES at the established Girl Scout camp this summer were, from left, Sherry Skidmore, Debbie Kirk, Linda Odom and Marsha Holland. The Girl Scouts of America Quivira Council, with over 600 girls, is one of the organizations benefitting from the Pampa United Fund drive. The girls attempt to explore the world together through work and to achieve the ideals of womanhood.

THE SALVATION ARMY strives to help people help themselves. The Army's objective is to meet the immediate needs of families in desperate circumstances and then to assist them to become self-supporting. The Army official above is visiting a family to see what their needs are. Last year the Salvation Army provided over 21,000 garments of clothing and 950 pairs of shoes to families in the Pampa area.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am 24 years old and in love with a man who is 28. He knows how much I love him because I've told him so. He says he loves me, too, but he is also going with another girl. (She saw him first.) This other girl knows all about him and me, but she does not want to give him up either because she is also in love with him. He says he is trying to make his mind up about which one of us he wants, but he is having a very hard time.

Twice in 6 months I have given him a deadline, but when the time expires, I extend it. I do not seem to be making any headway with him. How do I get him to make up his mind?

"DI!" Tell him that you have made up yours—and you don't want him! If he does not beg you to reconsider, you haven't lost anything. If he does, tell him to come up with the ring or to leave you alone. (And you leave him alone.)

DEAR ABBY: Now I have heard everything! Last summer a cute little newlywed couple moved into the apartment next to ours. They fought all the time, so nobody was surprised when the wife went home to mamma. It seems she took everything but the kitchen sink. All the dishes, silverware, pots, pans, appliances and just about everything that wasn't nailed down.

Now the people in the building are giving the husband a "shower" to set him up in housekeeping. Isn't that the end?

HEARD EVERYTHING
DEAR HEARD: Probably not. About the time you think you've heard everything, you hear something to top it.

DEAR ABBY: I am an adult woman living alone. For the last 3 weeks I have been getting obscene telephone calls. At first when I'd answer the phone, no one would speak, but I could hear heavy breathing. Then this awful outpouring of filthy language started. I hung up, but he called back in half an hour and started in again. Then I took my receiver off the hook until morning.

Whoever it is does not call at a regular time. He has called very early in the morning and very late at night.

Should I call the police? Or should I call the telephone company and request a new number?

FRIGHTENED
DEAR FRIGHTENED: At the first obscene word, or if the caller does not say anything, hang up. You can usually discourage such calls by refusing to be an audience. If the callers persist, report it to the business office of your telephone company. They have ways of tracing such calls.

DEAR ABBY: Please advise girls who are considering writing a "Dear John" letter to a serviceman to at least wait until he is out of the hospital. Our daughter is a nurse overseas, and she says the "Dear John" letters have become a real problem. Very badly wounded men don't even care to get well after having received such letters. Thank you.

NURSE'S MOTHER
CONFIDENTIAL TO "IN LOVE WITH A CON ARTIST": Don't marry him until you are sure he has discontinued his shady operations, and don't let him "con" you into believing that if you marry him now, he'll change "later." Tell him to change NOW, and you'll marry him "later."

Kappa Kappa Iota Attends Meeting In Pampa Library

Gamma Conclave of Kappa Iota met recently in Lovett Memorial Library for reports on summer vacations and the convention in Shreveport, La.

Mrs. J. E. Gunn, president, presided as Mrs. L.B. Penick reported on the national convention which she attended in June.

Members reporting on their vacations displayed evidence of their trips, and included 15 inch rainbow trout, tassels from square dance tops, antique bookends, momentos of banquets, music camps, camp counseling, travels and HemisFair trips.

Two visitors, Mrs. E.V. Ward and Mrs. M.J. Morris, and 23 members attended the meeting. Hostesses were Mmes. Johnson and Dan Johnson.

The serving table was covered in a green linen cloth with Autumn motif used in decorations.

Members will meet again at Oct. 28, in the City Club Room.

Twentieth Century Clubs Sponsor Presidents' Coffee

Jack Jones, assistant director of financial aid for student loans and assistant director of West Texas State University Opportunity Plan, Inc. was guest speaker for the 40th annual Twentieth Century Clubs' Presidents' Coffee recently in Lovett Memorial Library.

Jones substituted for Milton Morris, Opportunity plan director, who was unable to attend. Morris was in Washington D.C. participating in governmental hearings on Texas education. Morris, a member of the state board of education, is a member of Gov. John Connally's Committee for Public School Education and was to report in a hearing on student loans.

Miss Janet Blair, from Borger and a WTSU student, was also a guest. She is attending college on the Opportunity Plan.

Others participating were Mrs. Don Morrison, introductions; Mrs. Jack White and Mrs. Bob Rogers, servers.

Fall colors were used as a theme for the floral centerpiece, bulletin board and poster. About 83 guests attended.

Toastmistress for the coffee was Mrs. Ralph McKinney; Mrs. Ben Sturgeon, invocation and Mrs. John R. Spearman, general chairman.

Other committee chairmen were Mrs. Howard Greenlee, program; Mrs. Weldon Adair, menu; and Mrs. Gene Hall, decorations.

Others participating were Mmes. Olive Fagan, Mary Johnson, Viola Jordan, and Robert Mack, program; Angela Sanford, Lavonne Harmon; Dianna Morris, Pat McCarroll, menu and Dot Stowers, Louise Franklin, Madge Mitchell and Jack Miller, decorations.

Mrs. Raymond Harrah is the only charter member still actively participating in Twentieth Century Club.

Presidents honored were Mmes. David McGahey, Twentieth Century Club; Frank Stofa, Forum; E. E. Shelhamer, Culture; John McCausland, Allegro and Lee Fraser, Cotillion.

MISS TRINA FROST
Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Rogers, 717 N. Christy announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their granddaughter, Miss Trina A. Frost, daughter of Mrs. Peggy Jo Orms, 815 N. Nelson, to Robert W. Ashcraft, Miss Frost is a junior at West Texas State University, Canyon. Her fiance, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Ashcraft of Midland and a 1968 graduate of WTSU with a Masters Degree in Education, is employed in Amarillo. The ceremony will be performed at 3 p.m., Oct. 5, in First Methodist Church Chapel, Pampa.

FOR ALTRUSANS

Bob Carmichael Addresses Club on Retarded Children

Bob Carmichael, past chairman of Gray County Association for Retarded Children, discussed plans for the children in a recent meeting of Pampa Altrusa Club in the Coronado Inn Starlight Room.

Mrs. C. C. Fitzgerald, vice president, presided in the absence of the president, Mrs. M. Q. Wilson.

In explaining what has been accomplished in this area for exceptional children, he said "some aid is being sent from state and national sources to assist with the project and provide several interesting books."

In reviewing the Pampa chapter's progress, Carmichael said they sponsor an annual Thanksgiving dinner, a Christmas party with gifts, refreshments, picnic, and summer camp programs where they participate in boating, archery, swimming, horseback riding and other sports.

"The Day Care Center, operated at the First Presbyterian Church Educational Bldg., has a class daily from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. for pre-school age children. Mrs. Bill Roots, the teacher, has volunteer assistants but needs more to have one each day," Carmichael said.

A class is slated from 9 a.m. to noon Oct. 3 at the church educational building for those interested in being a volunteer aid. Amarillo State Center for Human Development will send two instructors to train volunteers who will receive further training from Mrs. Roots.

The association is planning a day care center for older children later on this Fall. It also helps provide toys and clothing for the Abilene State School for Retarded. About 2,000 children live in the school, he said.

Mrs. Malcolm McDaniel read a letter from Rev. Leonard A. Williams, missionary, giving information for help needed to assist South American girls to continue their education in their own countries.

Mrs. Clay Coston has received a letter from Evelyn Aurellano, Guatemala, which members read during the meeting.

She spent a school year with Mr. and Mrs. McDaniel and was sponsored by Altrusa Club in 1965-66. She is an exchange student in Atlanta, Ga.

Mrs. George B. Cree announced an appreciation luncheon for Mrs. Marti Price, wife of Congressman Bob Price, at the Pampa Country Club at 1 p.m. Oct. 18.

Mrs. Frank Shotwell announced the United Fund Drive in progress.

Two guests, Mrs. Bob Carmichael and Mrs. Jack Sloan, and 36 members attended the meeting.

Xi Beta Chi Has Welcome Ritual For New Member

The Welcome Ritual of Beta Sigma Phi was presented to Mrs. Paul Mitchell, transferee recently by Mrs. James Trusty, President of Xi Beta Chi.

Mrs. Mitchell was escorted by Mrs. George Massie, vice president, into a circle of members and presented the yellow rose of friendship during a candlelit ceremony.

Business meeting was called to order by President, Mrs. James Trusty.

It was reported that Xi-Beta Chi had received the three star rating from International because they were able to "maintain programs to keep all phases of the organization simple, enjoyable and important to the individual members."

Hostesses for the evening were Mmes. Don Carpenter and Jack Vaughn. Various items were on display from the Northwest Texas Area Convention.

Other members present were Mmes. Bill Baten, DeWey Cudney, Wayne Dollar, Ernest Fletcher, T. L. Garner, Dewey McKinney, Norman Ross, Shirley Sanders, James Schaffer, Allan Self, Don Stafford, and Jack Stafford.

Flattering Fashions with Flair Give Women Feminine Wardrobe

By HELEN HENNESSY
NEA Women's Editor
NEW YORK (NEA) — During her nine years in the fashion field Helen Rose has become internationally known. Her designs stand for true elegance, superb craftsmanship and a type of fashion beauty that reminds a woman that she is a woman.

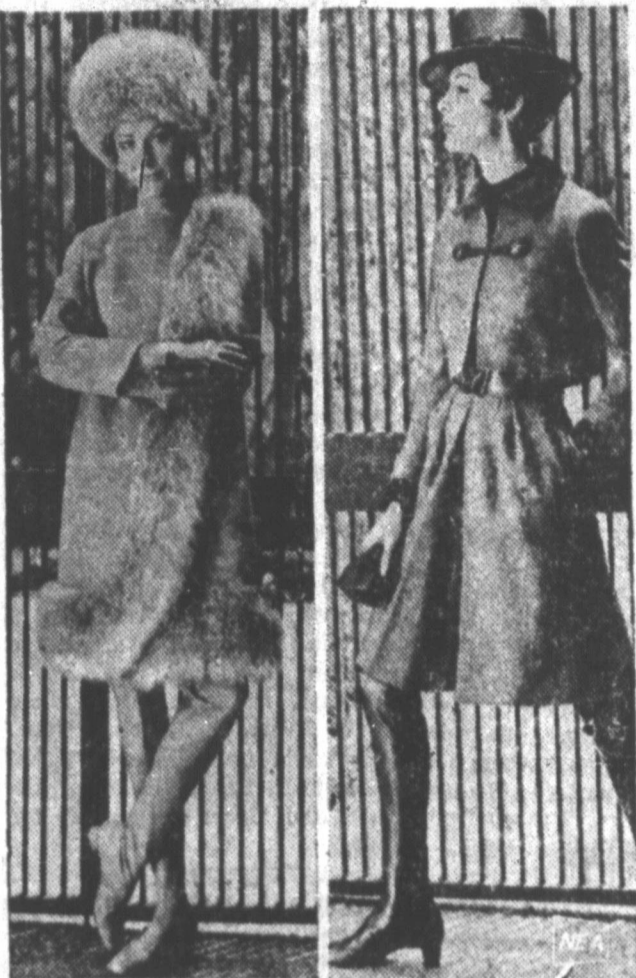

No one understands the female figure better than Miss Rose. This is not surprising when one realizes that she has designed the clothes for 232 MGM films, during which time she designed for every imaginable type of woman, with the plus of having created wardrobes for Elizabeth Taylor, Cyd Charisse, Debbie Reynolds, Lana Turner, Grace Kelly and Dina Merrill. She also has to her credit two Oscars.

The influence of the Spanish look has entered her Fall '68 collection not only for daytime wear but also for evening. In the daytime line there are several short, cropped jackets with dresses that are belted in leather and fabric. Boots and flamenco hats truly complete the look.

In the daytime group there is fur trim on several coat costumes. Miss Rose says "All women love something trimmed with fur. It makes them feel luxurious."

For after-five the deep plunge neckline is successfully carried out in matte jersey, with varied skirts in chiffon, jersey and luxurious bands of white mink. For formal evening attire the ball gown is definitely back in all its beauty. The gowns are done in heavy satin, heavy silk and taffetas. With a number of her after-five and evening clothes, she uses her signature rose, bogus diamond pin. This is a collection to be appreciated by any woman who wants beauty and elegance in her wardrobe.

Two-piece camel dress and coat costume (left) has high-chain belted empire waist. The coat with side wrap and high mandarin neck is banded in lynx. Flamenco inspired costume of red wool (right) has cropped jacket and inverted pleated skirt. The blouse is in matte jersey in black and has a black leather belt.

Service Society Meets at Church
GROOM (Spl) — The Woman's Society of Christian Service held a regular meeting in the Methodist Church parlor, recently with Mrs. Billy McKee, president in charge.

Mrs. Ray Elmore was in charge of the program on "Search for a Meaningful Existence." She was assisted by Mrs. Duane Stamps and Mrs. James Lanier.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Crim Goodlett and Mrs. N. B. Helton, to Meses: Bill McKee, Curtis Schaffer, J. W. Angel, O. P. Blackwell, C. A. Morrow, Cleo Shaffer, E. R. Hess, George Latta, John Eschle, James Lanier, Duane Stamps, Ray Elmore, Turner Kirby, Van Earl Steed, Roy Ritter, and B. H. Cooper.

Varietas Members Review New Traffic Regulations

Mrs. S. C. Evans was speaker for the Varietas Study Club meeting recently in Mrs. Cecil Dalton's home. Mrs. F. A. Cary club president, presided at the business meeting, during which members voted to contribute to Indian welfare and consider periodic sales of used clothing.

Mrs. H. Price Dosier Sr., program chairman, introduced the speaker, giving the day's topic as "Revised Traffic Laws," with the added adage, "Frequent naps prevent old age — especially if taken while driving."

Mrs. Evans spoke on "New Traffic Laws" and based her talk on a Texas Department of Public Safety booklet. She stressed traffic laws are made to prevent accidents and congestion — and that all citizens are bound to learn traffic rules and learn to obey them. She discussed topics of highway courtesy, where to drive

Lefors 4-H Club Selects Officers

LEFORS (Spl) — Lefors 4-H Club members attended their first Fall meeting recently in the Optimist Building with Cindy Youngblood conducting the business.

Miss Regina Lynn Barnett

Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Barnett, 1032 S. Wells, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Miss Regina Lynn Barnett, to Larry Alton Linder son of A. T. Linder, White Deer. Wedding vows will be repeated Nov. 29, in Hobart Baptist Church in Pampa. Miss Barnett graduated from Pampa High School and is employed in a western wear store here. Her fiance, a White Deer High School graduate, is employed by Southwestern Bell Telephone Company in Arlington.

New aerosol spray takes out much of the fuss and mess of carpet care. It's a foam cleaner that sprays directly onto the carpet and instantly loosens and absorbs dirt and soil. It works in conjunction with standard sponge mop, clear rinse water and a vacuum cleaner. It can be used on any colorfast fiber, including wool, cotton, synthetic or blend.

An electronics firm provided a thin-line, swing-away solution to a home decor problem when it invented a decorated designed, wafer type hi-fi speaker system. The manufacturer says it matches in tonal quality most of the bulky, box speakers now deployed around a home. The speakers are about as thick as a picture frame and attractively encased in frame and a cane grill (plastic fabric). The unit can be swung out when playing, swung back against the wall when silent.

Miss Pamela Gaye Gipson

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Gipson, 2213 Williston, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Miss Pamela Gaye Gipson, to Ronald Bailey Moore, grandson of Mrs. H. B. Cain, 522 S. Ballard. Wedding vows will be repeated Oct. 12 in First Baptist Church. Miss Gipson, a Pampa High School junior, is a member of the Distributive Education Club and employed at a Pampa drugstore. Her fiance, a 1966 PHS graduate, is attending Naval Hospital Corpsmen School Great Lake, Ill. A former PHS band member, he was employed in a Pampa grocery store before joining the Navy.

MRS. MICHAEL TRAVIS COLLINS
... nee Janis Kaye Seals

Miss Seals Weds Michael Collins

Miss Janis Kaye Seals repeated wedding vows with Michael Travis Collins in a double-ring ceremony recently in Seminole. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Seals.

Hobbs, N. M., and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. C.R. Seals, 512 N. Lowry. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Collins, Hobbs, N.M. The bride graduated from Pampa High School, attended Texas Tech at Lubbock and is employed by Skelly Oil Co. The bridegroom, a Hobbs High School graduate, attended Oklahoma University, pledged Sigma Chi Fraternity and is employed by a drilling company. He also plans to finish National Guard Training.

COUNTRY LOOK

The country look continues to fascinate the American male, no matter what part of the country, or city, he lives in. The features which characterize this look are a preference for brown and other earth tones; busy fabrics, especially tweeds; and strong patterns, with emphasis on windowpane checks. Special tailoring details include leather buttons, buttoned flap-pockets, belted backs, front and back yokes, lapel tabs. The September issue of "Gentlemen's Quarterly" says so and shows it in pictures. The magazine's fashion sees feel its way into many offices—if the boss isn't dead set against it.

Upsilon Group Studies 'Know Thyself' Topic

"Know Thyself" was the program topic for Beta Sigma Phi's Upsilon meeting recently at the Citizens Bank and Trust Company. Presented by Mrs. Weldon Carter, several definitions of self analysis were given.

A discussion was held on how to know more about yourself and ways to improve upon weaker points. "Know Thyself" has been the injunction of teachers throughout the ages. And still, today, psychologists say the rarest of human abilities is the ability to face one's self squarely, to estimate and evaluate our own personalities, Mrs. Carter said.

Mrs. Carter reported nine members attended a convention in Dumas over the weekend to hear Jack Ross as guest speaker at the luncheon. She also said an official notice from international had been received giving Upsilon Chapter a three-star rating.

After the business meeting, E. C. Jenkins accepted shower gifts in the place of his wife who is in the hospital. Mr. and Mrs. Jenkins are parents of a baby girl.

Hostess for the evening were Mrs. Dale Largent, Mrs. Robert Brogdon and Mrs. Kenneth Hefflin.

The table setting was in the baby shower theme with white, yellow and green colors. The center-piece was fashioned of yellow paper flowers and greenery around a baby bottle with yellow flowers lining the table. The yellow iced cake was decorated with booties. Mints were yellow and green set in mint cups made to look like tiny dia-

Lemmon, in a Sweet Role, Has Chance to Show Many Talents

HOLLYWOOD (N.E.A.)—Times, and morality, have changed. And so "The April Fools" will end differently from "Brief Encounter," a classic of 20-odd years ago which resembles in the skeleton of its plot.

In both pictures, a married man meets a married woman and they have a romantic fling. The lovers of "Brief Encounter" went sadly back to their respective spices (that's the plural of spouse, or should be). But, in "The April Fools," Jack Lemmon and Catherine Deneuve go off together after their brief encounter.

This ending differs, too, from the real life event which happened to Hal Dresner. He wrote "The April Fools," and consequently, he's enthusiastic about the role and the film. There is, you will be relieved to learn, plenty of comedy in "The April Fools," but it is almost incidental to the romance.

Jack is one actor who can fit convincingly back a fourth—comedy, romance, drama. He is, of course, best known for comedy, such as the brilliant "The Odd Couple," with Walter Matthau.

"We've got to do another one together," Jack says. "It's just too bad that 'What Price Glory' was already done. That would be great for us."

After "The April Fools," Jack and his wife, Felicia, are planning a long vacation. A trip, possibly to Hawaii—and lots of golf. He took up golf a few years ago, and got hooked (or possibly sliced). "I believe," he says "that necessity governs our actions. Like space exploration—the ability to reach other planets is coming to us just when we need it, because of our own overpopulation. With me, I took up golf just when I needed to. I had so many other things on my mind that I had to have some form of release."

"It's much better to yell at a ball than a producer."

Jack hadn't had a morning call. Which was lucky. It was a smoggy day and the smog makes him "all puffy" so he was able to spend the morning in the steam room and de-puff himself.

Meanwhile, on the set, Catherine Deneuve and Melinda Dillon were doing a scene in a stunning, ultramodern apartment which set decorator Bill Kiernan had whipped up.

Mickey Mouse Celebrates His 40th Birthday

By VERNON SCOTT
UPI HOLLYWOOD Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Mickey Mouse turned 40 years old this week.

It is a milestone in cinema history because the squeaky voiced little guy with the big round ears, white gloved hands and oversized brogans revolutionized cinema entertainment.

Mickey became a symbol of joy to millions of children and adults who tripped to movie theaters as much to see the optimistic little mouse as they did the silent, flickering features of the day.

Actually, Mickey was created in 1927 for a cartoon titled "Plane Crazy," depicting the mouse in a wild airplane ride. At the time his name was Mortimer.

But before the cartoon was released, the movies found their voice. Mortimer became Mickey and made his debut in "Steamboat Willie"—the first sound cartoon in history.

Crude by today's standards, Mickey was an instant hit, although "Steamboat Willie" had little plot and lasted only a couple of minutes.

The short black and white cartoon was premiered at the Colony Theater in New York City on Sept. 19, 1928, and a new star was born.

For that matter an entire industry was launched on the strength of Mickey Mouse. Patrons asked for more films about the little mouse, theater owners besieged the youthful

Amusement Page

Disney to turn out more cartoons to accompany feature films and provide a much-needed break in programs.

In all 130 short subjects were made starring Mickey during a period of 24 years. Forty were in color.

Mickey also appeared in two cartoon features, "Fantasia" in 1940, and "Fun and Fancy Free" in 1947.

Considered the most classic of all Mickey's films was "The Band Concert" in which the mouse, leading a band in the park, encountered a loud, rabble rousing, flute playing duck named Donald.

Donald Makes Scene
Donald Duck, as obnoxious as Mickey was sweet-natured, then went on to overshadow his rodent friend by starring in even more short color cartoons.

It wasn't long before Mickey and Donald dolls were filling toy stores. They received fan mail by the ton—and not all of it in childish scrawls.

Still, it was Mickey's enormous success which gave birth to Disney's unforgettable feature cartoons—"Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs," "Bambi," "Pinocchio," "Dumbo," "Cinderella" and all the others.

Mickey Mouse was a television hit, too, with the long-running "Mickey Mouse Club" for a whole new generation of kids.

Today Mickey Mouse is not seen too often on theater screens nor on television. But down in Disneyland a bigger than-life-size Mickey—a costume with a man named Paul Castle inside—cavorts to the delight and joy of small fry.

Happy birthday, dear Mickey, happy birthday to you ...

B&PW Committee Directs 'Round-Up'

The membership committee, headed by Mrs. J. A. Knox, directed arrangements for the annual "Round-Up Dinner" and program at the September meeting of Pampa Business and Professional Women's Club.

The group presented a skit, "A Profitable Luncheon," on educational aspects and purposes of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs.

Those on the program were Mrs. M. E. Powers, Mrs. Earl Eaton, Mrs. Charles Ford, Mrs. H. F. McDaniel, and Mrs. F. M. Weatherford.

NFB&PW is an international service organization. Its purposes are to promote interests of business and professional women, to create a cooperative spirit among them, to raise standards for women in business and professions and to extend educational opportunities in industrial, scientific and vocational pursuits.

At the covered dish dinner in Mrs. Ellis' home, the serving table was decorated in an autumn motif. One guest, Mrs. Estelle Wheeler, and 25 members attended.

Mrs. Pearl Castka, president, distributed the 1968-69 year books and presided in the business session. Mrs. Noel Thompson announced the district 9 conference in Borger will be Oct. 12-13 directed by Mrs. Leona Headlee, Perryton, district director.

The Borger and Panhandle B&PW Clubs will be co-hostesses for the conference beginning with registration at 1 p.m. Oct. 12 in Borger Motor Hotel.

Mrs. H. F. McDonald reported the class in "Practical Politics" will be held each day at 7:30 p.m. for the next nine weeks. The course is open to all women of the area and not limited to B&PW members.

Mrs. Castka announced the next board of directors meeting will be at 6 p.m. Oct. 1 at Furr's Cafeteria.

Houston School PTA Recognizes 1968-69 Officers

In a recent meeting of Sam Houston Elementary School Parent - Teacher Association new officers were recognized, and the date set for the school's family night.

New officers are Mrs. Jerry Launford, president; Mrs. Wes Langham, vice president; Mrs. Robert Smith, secretary; Mrs. Charles Potter, historian; Mrs. Tommy Eurns, scrapbook chairman; Mrs. Randall Purvis, parliamentarian; and Mrs. N.G. Kadingo and Mrs. C. E. Glasscock, City Council PTA representatives.

Mrs. Jack Clark announced the school's Family Night will be a refreshment hour 6 to 8 p.m. Oct. 25, with parents visiting in their children's rooms after refreshments are served.

Mrs. Sam Condo, radio chairman announced a program on "Children's Emotional Health," will be broadcast on Pampa radio station at 10 a.m. Oct. 4, to explain the study course on children.

Mrs. Claudette Deason won the door prize. Roy Korngay spoke on "Understanding Changing World," and compared the world he knew as a student to the youths world of today.

Sew Fur as Decorative Accessory, Or 'Status' Housewarming Gift

By JOANNE SCHRIEBER

The most luxurious decorative accessory of the season is a pillow of real fur to sew yourself of such glamorous furs as leopard or zebra, sleek kangaroo or giraffe, fluffy fox or opossum, rabbit or broadtail.

A fur pillow is the status housewarming gift. It's in its best element in a ski lodge or country house, though some of the more elegant furs, such as white mink, might star in a boudoir setting. It's an easy gift to make, since fur pillow kits are now available in piece goods departments of the top department stores or may be mail-ordered direct from the manufacturer.

A complete fur world kit will include a pillow, in a variety of sizes from 12 inches square to 24 inches round, a matching swatch of the fur you have selected, a capeskin leather backing with the zipper already stitched in and sewing instructions.

Fur-by-the-yard, to make fur coats and other items, has been available to skilled home seamstresses for more than a year. However, some women are hesitant about cutting into fur. The relatively inexpensive pillow kits will give them a chance to try fur-stitchery.

Actually sewing with fur isn't that different from sewing with cloth. The fur is cut and seamed so that it may be purchased in standard fabric widths, such as 48 inches and 54 inches. It may be ordered in standard yardages. Though anyone sewing on fur priced from $50 to $150 per yard will be careful not to make mistakes, the fur can be ribbed out and restitched. The fur will hide the error.

It's far easier to recover from a fur-stitching mistake than a mistake made on satin.

There's no waste when sewing with fur—a comfort, considering its price-per-yard—because leftover scraps may be made into trimmings, collars, buttons and such.

The pillows may be made on a standard sewing machine, using a standard needle and ordinary mercerized thread.

HERE'S STATUS-STITCHING at its finest: fur pillows, easy to sew at home from kits containing the fur, backing and stuffing. A great way to start sewing with fur. You can go on to make your own fur coat.

Astrological Forecast

By CARROLL RIGHTER

(SUNDAY, SEPT. 29.)

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Whatever benefits come will be in a very unusual and original way today if thought and you would be wise to force nothing and to accept any and all delays in a philosophical mood as there is little to be accomplished by trying to get conditions to break before the right moment when they do, seize quickly.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Avoid taking any risks while out on business, etc., and gain the respect of others through good deeds not mere words. A coworker can be very helpful, but higher-up may criticize instead, or be callous.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Being wise where new ideas are concerned is the only way to get them on the road and be considered of others, tho. Some new content needs to be studied carefully. Don't get in some tense situations, so don't be difficult.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Listening to what an experienced person has to say is wiser than following some intuitive hunch that could be very erroneous. Handle obligations intelligently. Admirer will certainly do your bidding tonight, so don't be difficult.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) You want a big thing from another but this person is just not in the position to grant it, so be fair about a better time. Be clever with a little, don't bludge to bear the full brunt of the letter.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Performing whatever will impress on others that you are thinking of their interests is the best way to carry on today. Forget that aim but it really isn't good for you. Stick to the proven and thorough.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) You want to get out and have fun, which is fine, provided you don't just waste time asking others what you should do. You have some fine talent but don't try to force it on others. Be smart.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23) Some family affairs can cause trouble at your home if you are not tactful—don't be so abrupt or it will be pretty tough, especially for you. Be merciful, say well, be practical. This could be an important day in your life.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 23) Take care on the road and show that you are an A-1 citizen and then talk over social matters with good friends. You are eager to be with good pals. However, don't be foolish about anything.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 24 to Dec. 21) If you listen to what kin have to suggest, you find you can add much to present income therapy. Stop daydreaming and get down to practical matters. You can go forward to far greater things if you play your cards right now.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Before you come to any decision, and — or get some new project started, see what it is that newcomers want to discuss with you. Communicating with others means that you have to be wiser than in the past.

Giant Tankers Are Heading For Kuwait

By BILL MULLENS
United Press International

For those interested in petrochemicals and things nautical, the giant tankers built by Gulf Oil are now on their maiden voyages and doing fine.

Gulf reports the Universe Ireland and Universe Kuwait are enroute from Japan, where they were built, to take on cargoes of crude oil at Kuwait.

Each of the 312,000 deadweight ton tankers is scheduled to take on about 2,400,000 barrels of crude oil at Kuwait, which is a small country adjoining Saudi Arabia.

Gulf hopes to deliver the oil to the new trans-shipment terminal at Bantry Bay, Ireland, during the third and fourth weeks of October.

The huge tankers are the first of six such ships being built for Gulf in an effort to bring Middle Eastern crudes to European, Asiatic and Canadian markets at a lower cost.

Plans call for the tankers to serve terminals at Nova Scotia and Okinawa as well as the giant storage complex at Bantry Bay.

The size of the tankers has presented some problems with harbor facilities. The Universe Ireland, for example, is 1,135 feet long and 174 feet wide with a draft of 79 feet.

These figures translate into a deck with room for two football fields or 62 tennis courts.

If you want to compare the tanker to something familiar, the U.S. nuclear carrier Enterprise is 85,350 deadweight tons.

So special offshore docking facilities will be used at each of the storage and refinery complexes where the big tankers load and unload.

The significance of the tankers was explained by I. G. Davis, Gulf executive vice president.

"Each tanker will have the effect of placing a 30,000 barrel per day Middle East oil field on Europe's doorstep," he said.

"The combined effect will be that of making 200,000 barrels per day of crude oil constantly available to our refineries and markets in Europe and the savings in transportation costs will be such as to make our crude competitive in costs with crude delivered to

Oil Is Discovered Deep In The Gulf

HOBOKEN, N. J. (UPI) — Explorers searching in a new frontier—the sea—have discovered one of the world's biggest oil fields in the bottom of the Gulf of Mexico, many miles from shore.

The "fantastic" find was reported by Dr. Cesare Emiliani of the University of Miami, a member of the scientific staff of the oceanographic survey ship Glomar Challenger. The ship is docked in Hoboken for overhaul.

of the oil field is remarkable because oil deposits have normally been "associated with the sea floor." No one thought there would be oil in the deep-ocean floor," he said.

Offshore Operations To Be Talked At SPE Sessions

Offshore petroleum operations, from the engineering stage to the laying of underwater pipe lines, will be spotlighted during four technical sessions at the 1968 Annual Fall meeting of the Society of Petroleum Engineers of AIME to be held in Houston, today through Wednesday.

The four technical sessions—Ocean Engineering, Offshore Drilling, Offshore Production, and Pipelining—will feature 21 technical papers on all phases of offshore operations.

The sessions will be held in Houston's new Albert Thomas Convention and Exhibit Center.

The Ocean Engineering session (Sept. 30, 9 a.m. to 12 noon) will include two papers dealing with offshore drilling platforms. R. C. Visser, Shell Oil Company, will describe the design, construction and installation of his company's floating offshore platform in Cook Inlet, Alaska. W. B. Barkley, Marine Technology Center of General Dynamics Corporor Solver in Offshore Drilling," by L. James Hayes and Raymond R. Jageman, Hutchinson Manufacturing Company; "Drilling in the Norwegian Part of the North Sea," by Odd Harebek A-S Akers Drilling Company; "Glomar Challenger—Newest Concept in Deep Sea Drilling," by J. R. Graham and J. A. Reed II, Global Marine Inc.; "An Analysis of Uncertainty in Directional Surveying," by John E. Walstrom, R. P. Harvey and A. A. Grown, Chevron Oil Field Research Company; and "Slant Hole Drilling-Offshore Peru," by James C. Storm, Storm Drill-Company.

Two of the papers to be given in the Offshore Production session (Oct. 2, 9 a.m. to 12 noon) deal with new techniques in undersea well completion. T. W. Childers of Humble Oil and Refining Company will describe his company's recent remote completion of an underwater satellite well using pump-down tools. William L. Coburn of the American Machine and Foundry Company will discuss a new acoustic communication for remote control of underwater completion systems.

NEW YORK — Improving the appearance of service stations is the goal of several programs now under way within the oil industry, the magazine Oil Facts reports.

European ports from any oil field yet discovered.

The ships will by-pass the troubled Suez Canal area. Their schedules call for them to travel from Mina al Ahmadi in Kuwait to the terminal at Bantry Bay via the Cape of Good Hope. The tankers will head east to reach Okinawa, where the facilities will serve Japan.

VIET HOUSING gets a lift in the village of Dong Phuoc, near Da Nang. Gunnery Sgt. Leroy Gibson of the First Marine Aircraft Wing talks with a Vietnamese family about its new home. Prior to building the new five-room cement block home with materials provided by Gibson, the family lived in the two-room thatched shack in the foreground. Gibson is responsible for the building of about 50 new houses in the area.

...YES, MANY MORE CUTS FOR BROILING AND ROASTING

Denver Oven Roast

Serve something special — serve a PROTEN Beef Denver Oven Roast. It's so easy to cook — just roast in a slow oven at 325F. degrees to rare, medium or well done. It's tender and delicious because it's PROTEN Beef.

with

Imperial Oven Roast

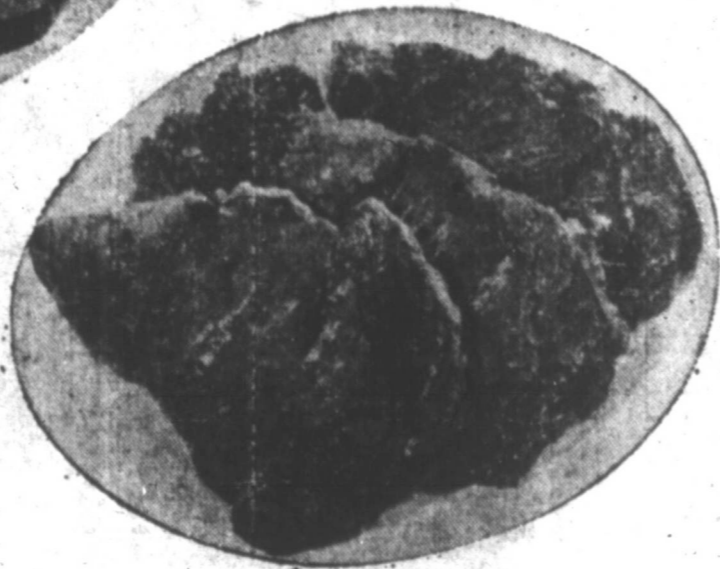

The Imperial Oven Roasts you see in our meat cases are boneless chuck roasts. Because they are PROTEN Beef, these uniformly tender roasts may be oven roasted as you roast a standing rib roast... uncovered, without adding moisture, in a slow 325F. degrees oven. Deliciousness assured!

New names for steaks and roasts, yes... but as soon as you discover the difference... you'll be a PROTEN Beef Lover for life! Furr's PROTEN offers you a variety in broiling beef cuts never before possible. Now, chuck roast can be broiled like the finest standing rib! taking much less cooking time and less heat to do the trick!... that saves you money any way you look at it!

Show on this page are just six of the 'new names' in steaks and roasts. Let Furr's show you others... a Penthouse Roast... Deimonico Broil Steaks or a London Broil... you'll like 'em all!

Key Club Steaks

Newcomers to the charcoal grill and the oven broiler are PROTEN Beef Key Club Broil Steaks. Slow broiled to a rich brown, PROTEN Beef Key Club Broil Steaks tempt the lovers of good beef.

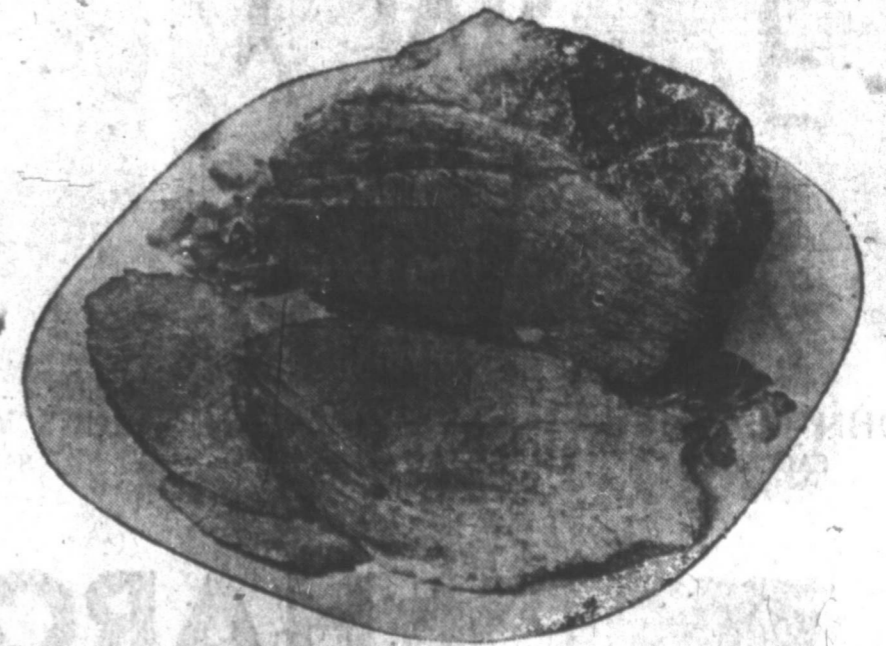

Essex Oven Roast

A PROTEN Beef Essex Oven Roast is the Sunday kind of roast you enjoy best. It's boneless, juicy, lean and delicious. Best of all, it's tender... because it's PROTEN Beef. You'll be proud to serve this easy-to-serve roast.

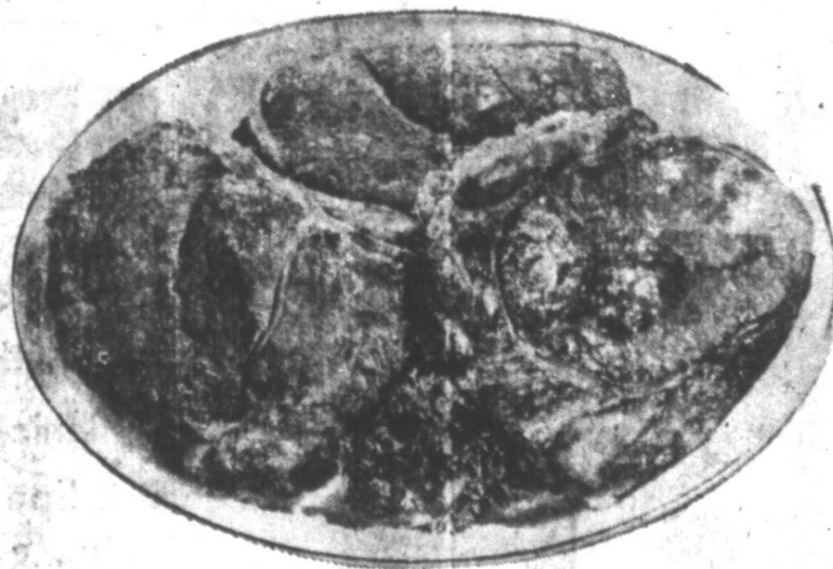

Manhattan Oven Roast

Easy-to-carve and tender-to-serve. This meaty roast has a minimum of fat and maximum of flavor. Roast on a rotisserie or a rack in a shallow open pan in a slow oven, 325F. degrees for the best tasting roast ever.

'SUPER' IS OUR MIDDLE NAME!

Savoy Broil Steaks

These tender, meaty steaks are low in fat and high in proten. Thick cut steaks are excellent for charcoal or ovenbroiling. Thinner steaks are best parbroiled. Cooked either way, Savoy Broil Steaks of PROTEN Beef are tops in good eating.
