BEAUMONT (UPI)—The Department of Health, Education and Welfare said Wednesday it had ordered all federal funds for new school programs halted at the South Park Independent School District because of non-compliance with desegregation laws.

CLEVELAND (UPI)—Surgeons at the Cleveland clinic transplanted the heart and kidneys of a 25-year-old woman into three patients Wednesday. The recipients were in satisfactory condition.

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—The Texas Liquor Control Board gets a new leader today and while only routine business was scheduled for the meeting, there was a possibility the three-man board would make a decision on a permanent administrator.

Ablene oilman and attorney Tom Gordon was to take the oath as chairman of the board, replacing retiring W. D. Noel of Odessa.

Nixon Greeted By Chicagoans

By United Press International
Richard Milhaus Nixon accepted adulation on the spot where, a week ago, the Democrats had seen blood, and, eight years ago, Nixon had lost the presidency.

"This is the greatest reception we ever had in Chicago," the Republican presidential nominee said as he opened his campaign in Chicago.

Nixon was hailed by huge crowds estimated at as many as 600,000 persons in the same city where a week earlier, during the Democratic National Convention, police and antiwar demonstrators and others clashed.

The Chicago police, who a week ago were the target of international criticism for brutality, Wednesday went out of their way to be courteous. There were no incidents, except for two men dressed in Ku Klux Klan type robes who were hustled away shortly before Nixon's arrival.

Nixon's campaign kickoff was featured by a show of unity. Senators Edward W. Brooke, Mass., and Thurston Morton, Ky., both supporters of New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, accompanied Nixon on his ticker-tape reception through the business district of Chicago. In other political developments: Hubert H. Humphrey—Lawrence F. O'Brien, vice president Humphrey's chief campaign strategist, said President Johnson "has made it crystal clear he is going to be active" in Humphrey's presidential campaign this fall. Off-Duty Police Attack Negroes

By THOMAS POWERS
NEW YORK (UPI)—Shouting "white power" and "George Wallace for president," a group of 200 off-duty policemen pulled their blackjacks and attacked a group of Negroes, members of the militant Black Panthers, Wednesday in a hallway of the Brooklyn Criminal Courts building.

One of the Black Panthers and a white girl accompanying them suffered scalp wounds in the scuffle. There were no arrests.

Mayor John V. Lindsay ordered Police Commissioner Howard R. Leary to conduct a full investigation into the incident and report to him today. A spokesman for the mayor said there would be no comment on the incident until after the report had been read.

Authorities Investigate
The Brooklyn district attorney also ordered an investigation and said charges would be filed, if warranted.

The off-duty policemen, members of an unofficial organization known as the law enforcement group, had gathered outside the sixth-floor courtroom of Judge George Rader where a hearing for three Black Panthers was scheduled.

The three are charged with assaulting a policeman Aug. 21. The incident began when a group of 12 other Black Panthers and some companions emerged from an elevator and confronted the off-duty policemen, who were dressed in civilian clothes.

One of the off-duty policemen, wearing a "George Wallace for president" button, approached one of the Panthers and asked "Where's your Wallace button?" A shoving match began, and the group of off-duty policemen attacked the Panthers, who were wearing their traditional black berets and necklaces of machine gun bullets in leather straps.

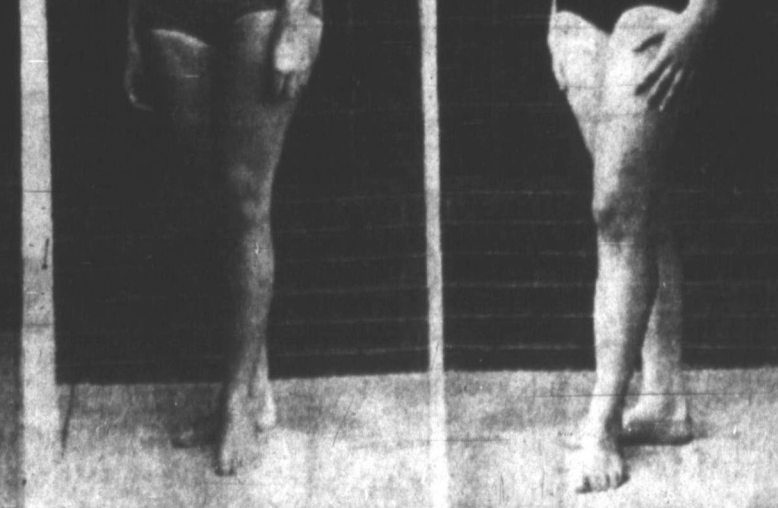

Tigers vs. Panthers
Witnesses said the off-duty policemen were chanting, "We're the white tigers. White tigers eat Black Panthers."

Uniformed police pushed between the two groups and shoved the Negroes and their companions back into the elevator. The police then escorted the Panthers out of the building and the neighborhood, waiting with them until they were safely in taxis.

The New York Times said in an editorial today that the incident "Reflects a dangerously spreading sentiment among policemen here and elsewhere that because they enforce the law they are, somehow, personally above the law."

Officials Study City Sales Tax

Pampa city officials are studying the one-per cent city sales tax proposal but it is not likely to come before the people for a vote before 1969 or 1970.

This was the indication today by City Manager Charles Hill. Several Panhandle cities have been pushing Amarillo to bring the sales tax to a vote, but the Amarillo City Commission voted Tuesday not to put it to a vote this year.

Hill said Pampa had not been one of the cities pressing Amarillo, but it was likely Pampa would take no action either way until after Amarillo voters are asked to accept or reject the sales tax.

"We are studying our service charges," Hill said, "and will be attempting to determine the cost of providing water, sewer and sanitation services to compare it with the amount of revenue received from them.

"Eventually, as the need grows, we will have to determine how to raise additional revenue to meet municipal operation either through increased service charges, taxation or a sales tax."

The sales tax issue was due to come up for debate among city officials attending a regional meeting of the Texas Municipal League tonight at the Coronado Inn in Amarillo.

A Pampa delegation of department heads and city commissioners, headed by City Manager Hill, was scheduled to leave for Amarillo late this afternoon to attend the dinner session scheduled for 6:30 p.m.

The one-per cent city sales tax was authorized in 1967 on a local option basis by the Texas Legislature. It has been adopted by many cities over the state and Panhandle cities have been looking into it lately as a means of raising additional operating revenue.

Fake Bomb Is Found At Airport In Jaffa

By ELIAV SIMON

JAFFA, Israel (UPI)—Israeli police found a fake bomb at Lydda International Airport today, panicking some passengers already nervous over terrorist bombing in Tel Aviv.

Police said the fake bomb was planted in a waste basket in the same manner as were three bombs that went off near Tel Aviv's Central Bus Station Wednesday. One person was killed and 49 injured.

Officials at the heavily guarded airport said the device taken from the waste basket was "no bomb. In fact, it was a fake."

The Israeli government reinforced police in Jaffa with soldiers and civil defense workers to try to prevent more anti-Arab rioting in anger over the bus station bombings.

Hundreds of Israelis, angered by the bombings, overturned automobiles and attacked any Arabs they could find in Jaffa, an ancient port city where Arab and Jew had lived in peace since the creation of Israel 20 years ago.

At least 10 Arabs and an Israeli policeman were injured. Police blocked all roads leading to Tel Aviv and surrounded the central market place in Jaffa to protect Arab residents.

The Tel Aviv explosions marked the first time since the June 5-10, 1967 Middle East war that terrorists had managed to bomb the city center.

Many Arabs barely escaped the screaming mobs in Jaffa. Police stopped many Arab motorists and took them into protective custody.

In Tel Aviv, police questioned 50 Arabs as suspects in the bombings.

In Cairo, the newspaper Al Gomhouria said Egyptian Foreign Minister Maymoud Riad told the Arab foreign minister's conference that the peace mission of Gunnar V. Jarring to the United Nations has failed.

"All indications point to the mission's failure," columnist Mohammed Anis quoted Riad as saying.

Jarring, Swedish ambassador to the Soviet Union, has been traveling between his Cyprus headquarters and Middle Eastern capitals for the past 10 months as a U.N. representative seeking a peaceful solution in the Middle East.

In the United Nations, Security Council members deliberated privately on what to do about an Israeli complaint that (See ISRAELI, Page 3)

Scotland Yard UnCOVERS Plot By Extremists

LONDON (UPI)—Scotland Yard has uncovered a plot by armed extremists to seize government buildings and the U.S. and Russian embassies during an anti-Vietnam war rally Oct. 27, the London Times said today.

The report said the extremists were made up of American students and "draft dodgers" in Britain who were backed by "foreign capital."

The Times and the Evening News said the extremists had gathered firearms and Molotov cocktails to disrupt communications.

It quotes senior Scotland Yard officials as saying the plot posed a situation "potentially as violent" as the student rioting in Paris the past spring.

Scotland Yard officially declined to comment on the reports.

The Times said the extremists planned to try to take over the American and Soviet embassies, the Australian high commission, the British ministry of defense and No. 10 Downing Street, Prime Minister Harold Wilson's official residence.

The Times said simultaneous demonstrations were planned in France, Germany and Italy.

City Pounds Provide Most Research Dogs

By JO ANN HITMAN

BATON ROUGE, La. (UPI)—Pet owners, not "dog-nappers," indirectly supply commercial research laboratories and universities with hundreds of animals every year.

Dr. Bruce Graham, president of Gulf South Research Institute, which uses animals to study human disease, estimated there are probably less than half a dozen suppliers of research specimens in the country that get their stock by stealing pets.

Gulf South is now in the process of instituting a major program at New Iberia to supply and train research animals. Most of them will be primates, but the institute believes in the value of "home bred" dogs too.

"Especially in a long term experiment," said Graham, the lab bred animal is better. It's a known quantity. You lose control if you go to the pound for a dog.

"Most of the dogs used as lab animals come from the city pounds," said Graham. "People get pets and then get tired of them and give them to the pound or don't care for them and let them stray from home. The pounds get so many dogs they have to destroy most of them. They kill them by reduction of pressure. This means the animal suffocates. At any rate, thousands die this way every day in the United States."

The crowded pounds become a logical source of supply for universities and drug companies with limited funds. They can go to a pound and take a dog off the city's hands for about five dollars. A laboratory-bred beagle puppy, however, costs between $60 and $100, according to Graham.

Many factors enter into the cost of a specially bred research animal. In general, laboratories operate under strict federal government regulations requiring monthly inspection to make sure the research animals are being cared for properly.

"A laboratory bred dog," said Graham, "is housed in a U.S.D.A. inspected kennel. The kennel has a special air conditioning system better than the kind most humans have."

"We have to have handlers to raise the dogs, and labor is expensive. Feed and shots also figure into that $60 dollar minimum."

The dogs get all the shots any pet would. In fact, Graham said, they are "practically perfect animals."

"The inferior ones are destroyed," he said. "They're not good for research unless we're looking for a certain weakness such as a birth defect or a metabolic disease. Most of these characteristics are gotten by inbreeding to produce special lines that tend toward them," he said.

"I think the universities would breed their own experimental animals if they could. It takes space they just don't have."

"What we'd like," said Graham, "is for such organizations to contract us to conduct their experiments for them. We could do the work in the country with animals we've raised ourselves. We're doing this now for some

Northern drug companies." "And doing our own breeding has a beneficial effect on the number of pets that might ac-

Lunar 'Ambulance' Is Wierd-Looking Craft

SPACE CENTER, Houston (UPI)—With four legs and a body pierced by a large tunnel, the little craft looked like a hunk of modern art. Actually it was the full-size model of one company's plan for a combination lunar taxi and moon ambulance.

The white, yellow and gray vehicle of the future was shown Tuesday by TRW Systems Group, a major aerospace contractor.

Engineers at the TRW complex in Houston designed the model flyer in response to a request from the Space Agency. TRW was one of four companies that submitted bids for serious study of the one-man craft's design and was the first to unveil its proposed plans.

William F. Rector, TRW technical director for manned space systems, said his company had been working on plans for such a craft more than a year. He said a primary design aim for the eight-foot-high vehicle was simplicity.

The moon flyer's four spindly legs-of-pipe supported a box-shaped body that is little more than a metal shell. An astronaut flying the craft would stand atop this box, encased in pipe guard rails, and would face just two instruments.

One would be a handle to steer the craft. The other would be a control handle for the rocket engine. The astronaut would use his eyes for navigation and his space suit radio for communication.

Fuel tanks fit the sides of the flyer's box body. The tunnel piercing the body from front to back could hold geological tool boxes for moon exploration. For ambulance duties the tools would come out and a litter would go in the tunnel.

Rector said the little craft would "fly to heights of several thousand feet and at speeds of 100-150 miles per hour. It could travel as far as eight miles... or hover like a helicopter."

"In contrast," Rector said, "astronauts on foot are limited to a mile (from the place where their Apollo lands). Such a device would allow astronauts to explore more of the moon's surface than would be possible on foot."

If the moon taxi-ambulance is ever built, it will be used for moon exploration trips in the 1970s.

Educators Are Recent Guests Of Cabot Operations In Pampa Area

Recent guests of Cabot operations in the Pampa vicinity have been Dr. Edward T. Thode from New Mexico State University and Dr. T. T. Castonguay from the University of New Mexico, heads of the Chemical Engineering Departments of their respective schools.

With Dr. Castonguay were Cliff Buswell and Mrs. Sybil McDonald, technical assistants. Tours for both department heads were conducted by E. E. Willis, Machinery Division Assistant Chief Industrial Engineer, N. Dudley Steele, Director of Research and Development, and John Horn, R. & D. Pilot Plant Administrator. Owen F. Gee, Pampa Plant Superintendent, and F. D. Heckman, Engineering Division Administrative Assistant.

Dr. Thode visited with Ramon Khona, who has an M. S. degree in Chemical Engineering from New Mexico State and is now a Chemical Engineer for Cabot's Research and Development Department, and Jack Potter, a summer employee there who will graduate from New Mexico State next year. Gerald Simpson and Thomas H. Rodgers, Chemical Engineers at R. & D. and University of New Mexico graduate, and Bob Fullen, a summer employee from that school engaged in a research project at Pampa Plant, enjoyed visiting with Dr. Castonguay.

Television Networks Blasted For Their Coverage Of Chicago Events

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Democratic National Convention's security arrangements "a disaster and a disgrace," has touched off an emotional debate in Congress with Mayor Richard J. Daley of Chicago caught in the crossfire.

Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., began the debate in the Senate by questioning whether there was a "deliberate conspiracy" among major networks to distort Chicago police tactics and the character of Daley.

"I find it hard to believe that such completely bad coverage could be an accident," Long told the Senate.

replied by terming Daley's security arrangements "a disaster and a disgrace."

"It was reminiscent of the Gestapo and NKVD (Russian secret police)," Young said.

In the House Rep. Roman C. Pucinski, D-Ill., charged that the three television networks "badly misinformed" the public in their coverage of battles between police and hippies.

Pucinski said the networks failed to show the provocations that led to police beating street demonstrators. He said he would reveal the "full story of the provocations" to the House later.

United Fund Program For Rotarians

Five Pampans, representing four agencies, presented a United Fund information program before the Pampa Rotary Club yesterday in the Coronado Inn.

United Fund president David Tucker, who said that this year's goal is $84,200, introduced Mrs. Libby Shotwell, who spoke on behalf of the Red Cross, Frank Culberson, representing the Adobe Walls Council of Boy Scouts, Mrs. Dot Stowers, Girl Scout leader, and Kirk Duncan, head of the local Salvation Army board.

In other business, a new member, Charles "Chuck" Zlomke, was introduced to the club by Fred Neslage. Zlomke is district superintendent for Cities Service Oil Co.

Club president Jimmy Thompson reminded members of the annual inter-city meeting to be held in Lubbock on Sept. 10. Rotary International president Kiyoshi Togasaki, of Tokyo, Japan, will be the guest speaker.

'Pinewood Derby' Is Held By 6 Neighboring Local Boys

A Pinewood Derby race concluded summer fun activities for six neighboring Pampa youths recently. Ranging in age from 7 to 13 years and living in the vicinity of 19th and Chestnut St., the boys used their own ingenuity in shaping, sanding, painting and decorating their cars. Voting in "democratic" fashion, they made their own rules, used scrap lumber, built a racing track and grandstand, made score cards for judging and printed invitations to their families to "The Great Race." Fathers of the boys judged the event. Prizes were given to Doug Givhan for the best de-

Fire May Have Been Set By Children

For the second time in less than two weeks, firemen answered a call at 8:30 p.m. yesterday to a vacant apartment complex at 418 N. West St. to extinguish a fire. Damage was light and confined to one room. Firemen theorized that the fire was set by children playing in the room.

George C. Wallace—The former Alabama governor's name was certified Wednesday for the Nov. 5 general election ballot in Missouri. Wallace himself campaigned for votes in Miami Beach, the site of the Republican National Convention last month. His supporters, meanwhile, petitioned the Ohio Supreme Court to put his name on the presidential ballot in Ohio.

Polls—The latest Gallup Poll showed President Johnson's popularity dropping to only 35 per cent, a record low. Another poll by Sindlinger & Co. showed the Democratic party has lost considerable strength since last spring while the Republicans have remained virtually constant. The poll showed that a sizeable number of people who formerly considered themselves Democrats now label themselves independents.

Civil Cases Are Tentatively Set Here On Monday

A jury list has been compiled and summonses for duty are being mailed to 72 persons in preparation for three civil cases tentatively slated on the docket when 31st Judicial District Court convenes here Monday.

On the docket are the civil cases of Jack Yarbrough vs. Texaco, Inc., et al. and Bobby W. Glascock vs. Wayne Archer and Bill Lowe. One divorce case is also scheduled. Yarbrough, a Gray County resident, has petitioned the court for $15,000 damages, alleging that a fire which destroyed his truck in July, 1965, was caused by the negligence of a Texaco driver who spilled gasoline in an area where Yarbrough's truck was parked for repairs. The gasoline was ignited, Yarbrough's suit says, and the subsequent fire destroyed the truck.

Bobby Glascock of Potter County has filed suit against a Missouri trucker and his employee for an accident that occurred near Alanreed in October, 1967. Glascock contends that the truck driver's negligence caused the truck to crash into his auto, injuring Glascock's two minor children. Glascock has petitioned the court for $18,000 damages.

While here, however, Gerik jumped bond and was not apprehended until early February. He was arrested by FBI agents in California and returned to the La Tuna penitentiary in Arizona to serve out his federal sentence.

Gerik has now been transferred here and will stand trial for the burglaries. He has also been charged with forgery and passing in Hutchinson County.

Two Divisions Of United Fund Are Seeking 'Fair Share' Contributions

(See Picture, Page One.) Mark Buzzard, Captain Bill Atkinson and team members of the Pampa United Fund kicked off its portion of the annual campaign yesterday and is getting good results so far, UF representatives said this morning. Floyd Watson is chairman of the division. The Captains and their workers of the Commercial and Industrial Division met this morning with Division Chairman Clinton Evans at a Kickoff Coffee held at Tex Evans Buick. Team Captains and their workers who received assignments this morning include Captain Jim Stallings and his crew, Bill Downs, Ken Shearer, W. C. Bass, Bill Robinson and 500.

Separate Menus Used By Schools

Pampa schools will not have centralized menus this year but will permit each school to write its own. Dr. James F. Malone, school superintendent, has announced. "Each school will post its menus for the week in all rooms and on school bulletin boards. We won't have centralized menus until we can have centralized purchasing and storing of food items, but as yet, we're not certain when that will be," Dr. Malone said.

Theft Reported

An estimated $3 was taken from a furniture store at 1215 W. Wilks, police reported yesterday. The burglary is thought to have occurred Tuesday night or Wednesday morning. Police said the burglars apparently were two young boys. Entry was gained by breaking out a side window. In other police news, a car theft was reported early this morning but the report was unfounded, an investigating officer said. The auto was later found in the possession of the wife of the man who reported the theft.

Arrests Due For Parking Violators Who Don't 'Pay Up'

Warrants are being prepared for those who have failed to pay overtime parking tickets, it was announced today by Corporation Court Judge John W. Warner. The warrants will be served next week for those who fail to respond, he said.

Television In Review

By RICK DU BROW
HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Television's 1968-69 season gets rolling this weekend with the first of many specials that will lead to the outpouring of new night-time series around the middle of the month.

On Saturday, NBC-TV will present the annual Miss America Pageant from Atlantic City, with Bert Parks and Bess Myerson again the cohosts. The same night, the network has an hour called "Johnny Carson Discovers Cypress Gardens," in which the comedian takes part in a broadcast of water sports, demonstrations and entertainment taped in Florida Saturday morning. NBC-TV offers a highly-publicized new children's series, a weekly show called "Kellogg Presents the Banana Splits Adventure Hour," which is said to downgrade the violence usually associated with weekend daytime programs for youngsters. A half-hour preview of this series will be seen on NBC-TV in prime time Friday night.

Elizabeth Taylor Narrates Sunday night, ABC-TV has an hour documentary called "Around the World of Mike Todd," in which the late, fabulous showman is recalled by his actress-widow Elizabeth Taylor, and also by Art Buchwald, Jack E. Leonard, Gypsy Rose Lee, Ethel Merman, Lowell Thomas, Toots Shor and others.

Monday, ABC-TV presents "What Gap?," a half-hour of comedy sketches in which Wally Cox tries to bridge the generation difference. And, as a matter of curiosity—in a test film for a series that didn't get on—viewers can see Dustin Hoffman, of "The Graduate," as a district attorney in a CBS-TV hour titled "Higher and Higher, Attorneys at Law."

Thereafter, the specials continue to come thick, fast and daily. On Tuesday, CBS-TV has an hour documentary, "The Football Scholars," about the wooing of high school athletes into college. Next Wednesday, CBS-TV presents "From Chekhov, With Love," a 90-minute biographical drama of the Russian writer, starring Sir John Gielgud, Dame Peggy Ashcroft, Wendy Hiller and Dorothy Tutin.

Political Drama
On Thursday Sept. 12, NBC-TV airs a Rod Serling drama, "Certain Honorable Men," with Van Heflin as a congressman whose judgement is under fire by his young prodigy (Peter Fonda). And on Sept. 13, the same network offers the first hour of an occasional documentary series, "White Paper: The Ordeal of the American City."

On Sept. 14, CBS-TV presents the 90-minute "Model of the Year Pageant" and on Sept. 15, the new season works up a full head of steam. CBS-TV unveils two highly-anticipated hour specials—"Barbara Strands: A Happening in Central Park," a one-woman concert; and "Lombardi," a profile of coach, Vince Lombardi, NBC-TV, meanwhile, has two series debut: The Phyllis Diller variety hour and "The New Adventures of Huckleberry Finn," a 30-minute entry for children.

The Lighter Side
By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Democratic National Convention has been over and done with for about a week now and, incredible as it may seem, people are still talking about it. I call this incredible because a political convention is not ordinarily an event that lingers in the memory. The average time it takes to forget a convention has never been calculated, but 12 hours probably is a good guess.

On the morning after a convention ends it is not uncommon for one delegate to approach another delegate and say, "do you happen to recall who it was that we nominated last night?"

Nearly everyone, however, retains some vivid, or gory, recollection of last week's Chicago taffy-pull. The scene that sticks most persistently in my mind was a television interview.

Refers to Children
An owl-eyed floor man for one of the networks had on camera a delegate who was babbling rather hysterically about the way Chicago police were treating "the children" downtown.

At first I was puzzled by his comments. Then I realized he was referring to the demonstrators who were creating a disturbance near the Conrad Hilton Hotel.

I don't know how big the children are where he comes from, but some of the ones I saw scuffling with the cops could have played middle linebacker for the Green Bay Packers, including a few of the girl children.

Nevertheless, I find myself in agreement with charges that the police mishandled the situation.

Mayor Daley's constabulary apparently was not aware that he was dealing with children, and consequently employed the wrong tactics.

Consult Dr. Spock
Instead of following the riot manual, the police should have consulted Dr. Spock's book on infant and child care. That would have prevented the violence that ensued.

Every parent knows you can't control a child by whacking him with a billyclub. The trick is to communicate with him on his own level.

SAUSAGE, GROUND BEEF, LIVER
... packed with nutrition, easy to eat

Students Grade Pizza with 'A'

Pizza time is top "pop" time for the young set and why not? It's got the flavor that sends them. It's easy to eat.

Mothers might also happily realize this pizza also presents a good nutritional story: meat, cheese and tomato with a bread base. That makes a lot of good food for a popular snack.

School lunch managers realize this already for pizza is one of the foods featured in school lunch programs which will be celebrated Oct. 13-19.

In the case of Pizza Livizza, they've boosted the nutritional value of a good food even more by adding ground liver to flavorful pork sausage and always popular ground beef. This recipe, adapted and tested from the large quantity recipe, has been rated delicious.

Difficult to make? Not at all, if hot roll mix goes into the base and the liver is cooked after the sausage and beef, then ground.

Make it for a snack but remember it can come to dinner, too, with a big salad, beverage and a fruit-filled dessert.

PIZZA LIVIZZA

1/2 pound sliced liver
1/2 pound pork sausage
1 pound ground beef
2 1/2 teaspoons leaf oregano
1 1/2 tablespoons prepared mustard
3 cans (8 ounces each) tomato sauce
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 package (13 3/4 ounces) roll mix
1 cut (4 ounces) Mozzarella or American cheese, grated
Remove any skin (membrane) from liver. Crumble and cook pork sausage until lightly browned about 10 minutes. Add ground beef and continue cooking 10 minutes, stirring occasionally. Remove sausage and beef mixture from pan. Save drippings. Cook liver in 2 tablespoons of drippings until lightly browned, about 5 minutes. Grind liver. Combine oregano, prepared mustard and tomato sauce. Mix well. Combine sausage, ground beef, liver salt and 3 tablespoons tomato sauce mixture. Mix lightly. Prepare packaged roll mix according to directions for pizza dough. Divide rough in two portions.

Place each portion in a 15 1/2" by 10 1/2" by 1" pan. Pat dough on bottom and sides of pans. Divide meat mixture in half, crumbling half over dough and sauce in each pan. Spread 1/2 cup tomato sauce mixture over dough in each pan. Divide remaining tomato sauce pouring half over meat in each pan. Sprinkle 1/2 cup grated cheese on top of meat and sauce in each pan. Bake in a hot oven (450 degree F.) 20 minutes. 8 servings (two pieces 3 3/4 by 5 1/4 inches each).

Sweet, Brush-On Sauce Glorifies Grilled Ham Kabob Menu

Vary the outdoor menu just as you would the indoor one if you want to keep the charm of your cookout constant. There's nothing quite like variety for keeping grate and grill interesting. And don't underestimate the suspense value of Hm-mm-m-wonder how this recipe's going to taste?" Next time a party's planned for a cookout, do something completely different. A get-together with a Hawaiian theme may be new in your crowd, serving foods that carry it out. It's easy to decorate the backyard with lanterns and ferns.

Pineapple shells or coconuts might be used to hold candles on the table. Have the guests come in comfortable clothing, the ladies in colorful print dresses while the men can wear casual shirts, Beach sandals and straw hats will also add to the atmosphere.

MEAL-ON-A-STICK

Smoked ham for these kabobs can be cubed by the retailer or the homemaker. If she wishes to do it yourself, the homemaker might purchase a whole ham of either the "fully cooked" or "cook-before-eating" type. In either case the time range given in the recipe would be enough for cooking the ham on kabobs.

If a whole ham is purchased, it could be cut in half with either the butt or shank half used for cubes of ham. A center slice or two may be reserved for a single meal while the half not used for kabobs can be roasted for still another meal.

Fresh pineapple, pared and cored, is featured with the ham-on-a-stick. The sauce used for brushing is sweeter than barbecue sauces and with the ham and pineapple flavors produces an appealing combination.

ALOHA HAM KABOBS
2 pounds smoked ham, cut into 1 1/2 inch cubes
2 tablespoons brown sugar
1/4 teaspoon ground ginger
2 tablespoons soy sauce
1/4 cup apricot nectar
1 medium-sized pineapple
4 12-to 16-inch metal skewer

Combine brown sugar and ginger. Add soy sauce and apricot nectar and mix well. Cut two 1-inch slices from center of pineapple. Pare slices and cut each into 6 wedges. Remove core from each wedge. Alternate 4 ham cubes and 3 pineapple wedges on each skewer. Place on grill over glowing coals.

Home Fashions Favor Convenience

Furniture is becoming as convenient as frozen foods or permanently pressed clothing. Easy maintenance and multi-purpose function are being built into furniture to make the most of available space and cut down on cleaning time, without sacrificing style or comfort.

For small apartments or homes, there are chairs, sofas and love-seats that open up into double or super-size beds.

An even simpler solution to the need for extra sleeping space is the fashionable daybed. Piled high with pillows, daybeds serve equally well for sleeping or sitting.

For reading in bed, there are headboards conveniently complete with high intensity reading lamps.

Or, what about an environmental reading chair?

Woman Honored At Baby Shower

A come and go baby shower was given recently for Mrs. Rita Arthur by Mrs. Bessie Franklin and Mrs. Margaret Arthur at Mrs. Franklin's home 850 E. Kingsmill.

Guests included Mrs. Barbara Franklin, Sharon Hood, Billy Yahne, Beulah Gaylor, Avis Price, Ila Arthur, Penny Newman, Myrtle Trotter, Kaye Martin, and Joe Brown.

Gifts were sent by Miss Seester Sullivan, Mrs. Bill Youngberg, Doris Harrod, Ethyl Arthur, Floy Arthur, Jo Hoggart, Wanda Heath, Aline Winegart, Jewell Spence, Ira McCamey, and O.E. Tidwell, and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Organ.

This chair combines lighting, shelves, trays and a lazy Susan to hold books, for self-contained comfort.

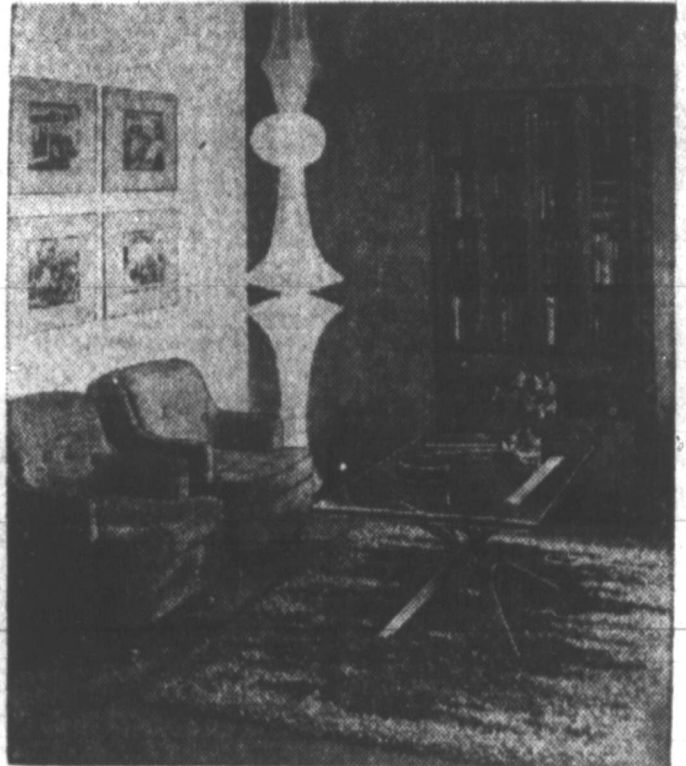

Those who prefer music can do their listening from a stereo recliner — a reclining chair with its own built-in stereo system.

Other variations on the multi-purpose theme include a high-low table which converts from cocktail height to dining level, a dining table which folds down to stack size, and, of course, the inexpensive cubes and wall shelves built to hold everything from books to record collections.

Keeping these space savers — and all furniture — in the best of condition no longer requires constant vigilance. Furniture manufacturers are laminating wooden surfaces to make them scratch-proof.

Hard-to-abuse materials, such as marble, glass and plastics, are increasingly used for table tops. Almost all upholstery fabrics are treated to withstand spills and stains, and then there is latex foam cushioning that never needs plumping.

Reading corner — right for relaxing or conversation too — centers around a multicolor, textured area rug, atop velvet broadloom carpeting. Occasional chairs have big casters for mobility.

Astrological Forecast

(FOR FRIDAY, SEPT. 8)

GENERAL TRENDS: A basic influence now in effect — the Sun conjunct Jupiter — brings much of benefit and value in whatever you do with new beginning and dealing with those in powerful position, especially where health, apparel, service, employment, personnel and dietary conditions are concerned. Judgment should be good now.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) — A good day to arrange your labors and activities for the days ahead so that all goes very much better for you. Do something about improving your health also. Be more dynamic, vital and really enjoy your life.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) — You can really have a delightful time at the recreation you most like and enjoy, and rid yourself of tensions and timidity. Be with persons you like most, particularly closest ties. Don't stay out too late tonight however.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) — Focus your attention on family matters today and see to it that all at home is most orderly and clean. Get rid of those things that are obsolete. Give them to one who will appreciate them, if still usable.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) — A day to visit about with good and close pals and have the kind of delightful time you like at fine restaurants, etc. First do those duties quickly that must be done and then off to fun and frolic.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) — A fine day for handling monetary matters and consulting with experts, getting their ideas. Add to present assets soon — add something about getting property improved. Stop putting up with leaky faucets.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 21) — Others will be flattered if you tell them what they can do for you so do just that today. Dress in fine style, but not gaudy. Do what ever you can to assist them, also, and have fine report.

LIBRA (Sept. 22 to Oct. 21) — Studying situations that apply to you exclusively is your best bet now, so get busy and do not confide in others. You can have happy time with male, if you are charming with him, of her. Be very considerate.

SCORPIO (Oct. 22 to Nov. 21) — A day to be with congenials as much as you can and get the future mapped out more satisfactorily. First be sure you have activities for the coming new week nicely worked out. Then go-go!

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) — Ideal day to get those obligations out of the way that are impossible during the busy work week. So get an early start in the bustling world of activity. Bigwig underpays you better and gives a boost forward.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) — Getting a good start early that little trip you have planned is wise so that you avoid heavy traffic. Good results can come of this. Get the data you want from these new acquaintances but be diplomatic about it.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) — If you enjoy yourself, you find that all those financial affairs can be settled nicely today. Center efforts on additional present assets and cutting down on expenses. Pay any debts you may have.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) — You can now have those talks with associates and get them to follow through on your most practical ideas. Show that you value their loyalty. A little soft soap can go a very long way — use it.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he, or she, will be one of those delightful young people who needs to be protected along where activities are concerned to avoid developing an inferiority complex. Have the right sort of books and people around early in life, since this person is not dirty... that's a birthmark."

DEAR ABBY: I have a birthmark on my neck which I can do nothing about. It used to be a strawberry red, but now it's gotten brownish, but it's just as noticeable.

I have used cosmetics to cover it, but powders and creams come off on my clothing, so I finally said, "To heck with that!"

I have been to all kinds of doctors and they all say, "It cannot be removed," and a skin graft would be too extensive, and it might leave scars which would be even worse.

I know you can't help me, Abby, but if you print this, perhaps it will stop a few people from staring at me in wonderment or coming right out and asking me the incredibly rude question, "Is your neck dirty?"

IN DOUBT

DEAR IN: Your mother's condition is nobody's business but hers. But a widow who plans to appear at her son's wedding in her 8th month, had better be prepared to answer a few questions. (And so should you.)

DEAR ABBY: My daughter is soon to be married to a very nice young man and here is the problem: His mother is having a "Jack and Jill" shower for my daughter and her son, and she is going around selling tickets to anyone who will buy one for $3.50! I am flabbergasted, to say the least.

How do we get out of this ridiculous situation? I know it is not proper for the parents of the bride or groom to host a shower, but this business of selling tickets is dreadful, and we want no part of it. Any suggestions?

EMBARRASSED
DEAR EMBARRASSED: Tell the mother of the groom (with all the kindness you can muster) that you appreciate her good intentions, but to forget the shower lest people get the impression that she's motivated by the loot.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "READING UP OUR UNITED CRUSADE": If you want to get a job done, give it to a successful business man. He's sure to have a competent secretary. He'll ask her to do it.

DECORATING WITH SHADES
New "duplex" window shades come in a variety of colors and patterns to accent interiors. On the reverse side, they're white, for a more uniform exterior view.

THIS SHOWS CURRENT BUSINESS COMPARED WITH THE SAME TIME FOR THE PREVIOUS THIRTEEN YEARS

Business Summary And Outlook

By The Babson Staff
The rate of business activity rose noticeably during August. The Babson Composite Business Index dipped to a level of 155.8 for the month, compared with 156.6 for July; but held well above a year ago. The July reading was revised upward as steel and autos maximized output before the steel strike deadline. Fortunately, the labor crisis was settled amicably. Hence, in August the steel industry trimmed output to commence work on the huge inventory that had been built up against a possible tie-up. Also, the automobile industry summited in August, due primarily to model-year changeovers. Since this is an annual event, it is taken into consideration in computing the seasonally adjusted industrial production figure. However, to the extent that auto output during the spring and early summer was kept above seasonal rates, the drop in new car output in August was of more than seasonal intensity. Other sectors of the industrial scene were little changed compared with recent months. Output of aircraft, military goods,

Area Masonic Lodge Honored

Carson Lodge 1167 in Panama will receive an award during a Masonic workshop meeting to be held Monday at the Masonic Lodge Hall in White Deer. Carson Lodge 1167 will be honored during the meeting for outstanding attendance during the Spring series of Masonic Workshops, a project of the Grand Lodge of Texas which is aimed at improving the quality of Lodge officers. The Workshop being held in White Deer will also have officers of Claude, Groom, White Deer and Skellytown Lodges attending. James W. Cabe of Canyon, of the eight county Masonic Workshop Area E-6, will present the award and conduct the meeting. He said the Workshop is a part of the semiannual program held for officers of the 972 Lodges in Texas. The Masonic Lodge is the largest fraternal group in the state, with membership of nearly 250,000. The group is noted for its charitable activities.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—"With the exception of a sudden breakthrough in peace negotiations, it is hard to guess what factors might come along to jolt the market out of its lethargy," Shearson, Hammill notes. "It seems doubtful that anything much will emerge from the Presidential campaign to rekindle the fires of bullishness. No candidate can make much political hay out of an economy that is neither especially sluggish nor in a runaway boom, or a stock market that shows neither despair nor exuberance."

Stamp To Honor Leif Erikson

Postmaster General W. Marvin Watson has announced plans to issue a postage stamp honoring Leif Erikson the 11th Century Norse explorer according to Pampa Postmaster R.W. McPhillips Jr. About 1300 Leif Erikson — there are various spellings of his name — discovered a land he called Vinland. Some historians believe he may have been the first European to set foot on the American continent. The 6-cent stamp will be issued October 9 — Leif Erikson Day — with first day ceremonies at Seattle, Washington, where there is a large Scandinavian settlement. Watson also set the dates and first day sale cities for four previously announced stamps. All are 6-cent denominations. The Arkansas River Navigation stamp will be issued October 1 at Little Rock, Ark. The Cherokee Strip stamp will be issued October 15 at Ponca City, Okla. The design will be formally unveiled at ceremonies Sept. 15 at Enid and Ponca City, Okla., with the Postmaster General and Senator A. S. Mike Monroney participating. The Wildlife Conservation Stamp, depicting wood chucks, will be issued on October 24, at Cleveland, Ohio. This stamp salutes the efforts of Ducks Unlimited, an organization dedicated to waterfowl conservation. The Chief Joseph stamp, honoring the American Indian, will be issued on November 4 at Washington, D.C. This stamp will reproduce a portrait of the great Nez perce warrior, painted by Cyrenius Hall, which will hang in the National Portrait Gallery in Washington. Collectors desiring first day cancellation may send addressed envelopes, together with remittance to cover the cost of the stamps to be affixed, to

Social Security Benefits Marked A Record High Locally In February

A record $277,712.00 was paid out in social security cash benefits to 3,659 residents of Gray County for February 1968, according to Howard L. Weatherly, officer-in-charge of the Pampa Social Security Office. "February was the first month in which increased benefit rates provided by the 1967 amendments to the Social Security Act were payable," Weatherly noted. Nationally, monthly benefits to more than 24 million men, women and children exceeded $2 billion. 2.2 million receiving benefits were disabled workers under age 62 and their young dependents. About 3.4 million beneficiaries were young widowed mothers and their children. Weatherly said that a total of about $19 billion has been paid to orphaned children and their mothers since January 1940, when monthly survivors benefits first became payable. Most of the changes in the 1967 Amendments provided for protection for younger people. Children are now eligible for benefits based on the earnings of an insured mother who has died or is entitled to retirement or disability benefits. Previously, the mother needed to have worked for at least one and a half years in the last three before retirement, death or disability. The amount of social security covered work required for payment of disability benefits to workers who become disabled by age 31 has been reduced substantially — for those below 24 to as little as a year and a half. Widows of insured workers can get monthly benefits as early as age 50 if they are unable to work because of severe disability which began not later than 7 years after the death of their husband or after the end of their entitlement to benefits as a widow with a child in her care. In the county, 485 children of retired, deceased or disabled workers received $29,349.00 for the month of February. These payments continue monthly until the child is 18 unless some terminating event occurs. If the child does not marry and continues school full time, the payments do not stop until age 22, Weatherly said.

Meredith May Miss Saturday's Contest

By STU CAMEN
UPI Sports Writer

Four years as No. 2 is long enough for Craig Morton. Morton and Jerry Rhyme have shared the reserve quarterback duties for the Dallas Cowboys behind Don Meredith since both began their National Football League careers in 1964.

Meredith, a nine-year veteran who has led the Cowboys to the NFL's eastern division title the last two seasons, has been plagued by various injuries throughout his playing days, including broken ribs, concussions and a busted nose.

The injuries have been occurring with increasing frequency in recent years, leading Meredith to talk of retiring. The former SMU star allowed how he was contemplating such a move following last year's heartbreaking 21-17 loss to Green Bay in the championship game. But, such talk proved only that with the start of a new campaign.

Another Injury

Now, however, with the opening of the 1966 season only a little more than one week away, Meredith finds himself laid up with a pain in his chest which has been diagnosed as a torn or pulled muscle.

The injury may force Meredith to miss Saturday night's final exhibition game against the Baltimore Colts in the Cotton Bowl and thrust Morton into a starting role.

However, Dallas coach Tom Landry has expressed his reluctance about being too quick in replacing Meredith with Morton.

"You do something to a quarterback when you pull him," Landry said. "It's his game and he expects to win or lose it."

Cardinals Trade Gambrell

The Detroit Lions shored up their offense by acquiring veteran receiver Billy Gambrell from the St. Louis Cardinals in exchange for a high 1966 draft choice. Gambrell, a four-year veteran, caught 28 passes for 178 yards and two touchdowns.

Coach Bill Austin said all but Hebert, who was placed on the waived injured list would remain with the club's taxi unit. Hebert is a former Pampa High School player.

Steelers Cut Ex-Pampa Star

LATROBE, Pa. (UPI)—The Pittsburgh Steelers trimmed four players from their roster Wednesday, including rookie receiver-kicker Ken Hebert of the University of Houston.

Coach Bill Austin said all but Hebert, who was placed on the waived injured list would remain with the club's taxi unit. Hebert is a former Pampa High School player.

last season. The Cardinals also acquired a draft choice from the Pittsburgh Steelers in return for linebacker Dick Capp; the Minnesota Vikings announced that running back Dave Osborn will be sidelined for at least six weeks with a leg injury suffered in a game last month against Denver; and the Atlanta Falcons acquired rookie defensive tackle Dick Cash from the Green Bay Packers for the $100 waiver price.

Veteran Gonzalez Upsets Australian

By STEVE SNIDER
UPI Sports Writer

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (UPI)—It was great, but now the weary old pro must do it all over again today.

Pancho Gonzalez, gaunt but foxy at 40, says his new lightweight aluminum racquet has prolonged his tennis life by at least two years and before a wildly partisan crowd on the center court Wednesday he probably took three years off the life of second-seeded Australian pro Tony Roche with an astonishing straight set upset.

"I spent my first year as a pro getting my ears pinned back by Jack Kramer," Pancho said while savoring his 6-6, 6-4, 6-2 triumph over the 23-year-old Aussie left-hander who finished second in the Wimbledon Open. "Tony's young. He'll get over it."

Gonzalez Faces Challenge

But today, Gonzalez will have to nurse his ancient bones through another big match as he and two other Americans battle for berths in the semi-finals of the $100,000 U.S. Open championship.

Amateurs Clark Graebner of New York and Army Lt. Arthur Ashe of Richmond, Va., surprise semi-finalists at Wimbledon, preceded Pancho into the U.S. quarters with victories on Tuesday and there was an outside chance that pro Dennis Ralston of Bakersfield, Calif., could become the fourth Yank in the last eight.

Ralston was still "alive" but reeling when darkness called a halt to his fourth-rounder against lefty pro Nikki Pilić of Yugoslavia with Pilić leading, 6-2, 2-6, 7-5, 8-6. If Denny wins, it would be in a long play-off today and he will not be asked to play again until Friday.

Next for the 13th-seeded Gonzalez is eighth-seeded Tom Okker of The Netherlands, an amateur who elected to play here for prize money under an international rule affecting foreign players, and holder of 1965 victories over such pros as Rod Laver, Roy Emerson, Lew Hoad, Ralston and Pilić.

Ashe Faces Drysdale

The fifth-seeded Ashe was paired against Cliff Drysdale of South Africa (No. 16), who upset Laver in a shocker Tuesday. Graebner (No. 7) plays fourth-seeded John Newcombe, an Aussie pro who won here as an amateur last year.

Third-seeded pro Ken Rosewall of Australia downed Ron Holmberg of Highland Falls, N.Y., 6-3, 6-3, 2-6, 8-6 and next meets the Pilić-Ralston winner.

In women's singles, Wimbledon champ Billie Jean King of Berkeley, Calif., and Maria Bueno of Brazil gained the semi-finals Wednesday with overtime victories. Second-seeded Ann Jones and sixth-seeded Virginia Wade of England made the semis on Tuesday and battled today for the right to play the King-Bueno winner in the finals.

Matson Takes Final Trial Throw Soon

Randy Matson, who hurled the shot put 66-7 in an Olympic tune-up Saturday, will throw in the Olympic tryout finals on Sept. 10, it was learned from his father here in Pampa today.

Matson, world record holder in the shot put, won his speciality in a high altitude tune-up at South Lake Tahoe, Calif., last week. He admitted he will have to do better in October.

Matson holds the world record of 71-5 1/2.

"It's going to take something like a record performance to win at Mexico City," Matson said.

Top Sooner Scorer Never Started Game

By BILL OSTHOFF

NORMAN, Okla. (UPI)—Steven Owens has never started a football game for the University of Oklahoma. He is ready this year and no one has ever had better credentials.

Despite being a "second-stringer" a year ago, Owens led the conference in rushing and scoring as the Big Eight's sophomore of the year.

"I confess I'm looking forward to being a starter this season," Owens said. "You know when the season started last year I didn't even figure I'd be playing much."

Owens started drills last year as a wingback but by the time the Sooners opened the season he was running behind senior Don Shotts at tailback. "I never really thought much about not starting once the season got under way," he said.

The 6-2, 204-pounder from Miami, Okla., alternated with Shotts on virtually every Sooner offensive series. When the season was over Owens had picked up 806 yards in 190 carries, averaging 4.3 yards a crack, and had scored 12 touchdowns. Shotts finished as the league's second leading ground gainer with 728 yards (4.1) and scored 7 times.

"By alternating, Ron and I were always fresh," Owens said, "even though we averaged almost 20 carries a game. I hope we can have the same arrangement this year and Marcellous Johnson (his sophomore backup) has looked good, real good."

The pressure, he says, is on the tailbacks because they represent 70 per cent of the Oklahoma running plays.

McNally Captures 11th Win In Row

By GREG GALLO
UPI Sports Writer

Pitching is his profession but Dave McNally's hitting is paving the way toward a record-setting performance.

The stylish lefthander won his 11th consecutive game Wednesday, a club record, and smacked his third home run of the year to lead the Baltimore Orioles to a 6-3 victory over the New York Yankees.

McNally, who raised his record to 19-8, looms as a likely candidate to surpass the 20 victories posted by Steve Barber in 1963. No other Oriole pitcher has won more games during a single season. McNally has five more starts to break the mark.

McNally is closing in on the American League mark of 16 straight victories jointly held by Walter Johnson, Joe Wood, Schoolboy Rowe and Lefty Grove.

Homers A Habit

It was the third time that McNally had helped himself with home runs during his two-month victory streak. On July 20 McNally beat Denny McLain and the Detroit Tigers with his maiden homer of the season and his first career grand slam enabled him to defeat the Oakland A's, 8-2, on Aug. 26.

Elsewhere in the American League, Boston trounced Minnesota, 10-2, Chicago beat Washington, 3-0, in 14 innings, Detroit downed Oakland 4-2, and Cleveland beat California, 9-5.

In the National League, Chicago topped San Francisco, 7-6, in the first game but the Giants bounced back to take the second game, 5-4. Los Angeles shut out Philadelphia, 3-0, and Cincinnati defeated St. Louis, 8-3.

McNally, relying mostly on his fast ball, set down New York on 10 hits while striking out seven and not walking a batter.

Eighth Inning Rally

The Red Sox exploded for six runs in the eighth inning as winning pitcher Gary Bell 11-10, singled home a run. All the runs were unearned after Rich Rollins booted Jerry Adair's grounder. Carl Yastrzelski became the American League's leading hitter by rapping out four hits and raising his average to .281. He slammed his 18th homer of the season for Boston's final run.

Tom McCraw squeezed home the winning run in the 14th inning and Luis Aparicio's fifth hit of the game drove in two more as Chicago's Bob Locker won his fifth game in nine decisions. McCraw scored his winning hit off Senator's loser, Dick Bosman, 2-9. Willie Horton delivered a clutch single with the bases loaded in the eighth inning to lead the Tigers to victory and reduce their pennant-winning magic number to 14. John Hiller, with relief help from Pat Dobson, raised his record to 7-5.

The Cleveland Indians banded out 16 hits including three each by Vern Fuller and Lee Maye and Joe Azcue knocked in four runs to enable Luis Tiant to win his 19th game of the season. Tiant left the game with two in the sixth when the Angels rallied for four runs.

The Pampa Daily News A Watchful Newspaper EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

1968 Bad Year For 'Experts' First, the Republicans in Miami Beach nominated the very man the Democrats prayed they would, a "loser" from way back who everybody claimed could be beaten by any Democrat.

Richard Nixon then proceeded to commit his "first major blunder" by choosing as his running mate an unknown quantity named Spiro Agnew, thereby further insuring his defeat—according to the experts.

Next, in Chicago, the Democrats turned around and nominated the man the pollsters say now trails too far behind Nixon to catch up. And if Hubert Humphrey's chance of a running mate was not a major blunder, Edmund Muskie's name is not exactly a household word either.

Americans are thus going to be treated to the spectacle of two men contesting for the presidency, neither of whom can win. It's apparently going to be a case of the movable object meeting the resistible force.

Further, say the experts, the dissonance that wracked the Democratic convention marks the end of that party and the end of the two-party system in America.

This is somewhat surprising, because the experts informed clear blast in 1958, the amazing restorative power of nature has completed its work on the once-devastated atoll and it has been pronounced fit for human habitation once again.

Only 150 natives were taken from Bikini, though a total of about 500 Micronesians regard it as their traditional home. Most people would never have been aware of Bikini, or would long ago have forgotten about it, had not the name been borrowed for a swimsuit that shocked many sensibilities.

Such are our values.

The Manion Forum

By MARILYN MANION

THAT'S WHERE YOUR MONEY GOES

Suppose that you've worked hard all your life, managing to put enough away to provide for your retirement years. Then suppose that, when retirement came, you found that somebody had made off with more than half of your hard-earned savings!

Sad to say, we aren't "jest s'posin'." The money you're painfully saving now may well be worthless when you need it. There's a "somebody" who's eating away at it night and day, and if you don't stop him, it will be your own problem.

The "somebody" is the government, and the eating away process is otherwise known as inflation. And it's happening to your money, as you read these words.

A recent guest on the Manion Forum radio program, Dr. Nicholas Nyaradi, Director of International Studies at Bradley University, warned his radio audience about inflation. He gave some graphic examples, such as this one:

"Let's suppose that an American family decided last January 1 to deposit a thousand dollars in a savings account. By December 31, this same family will go back to the bank, pick up their thousand dollars capital, plus the great big hefty, dividends of 5 per cent per annum. They will go home, their pocket bulging with $1,050, only to discover that the $1,050 from December 31 will buy them only the goods and services which $990 could have bought them a year before.

"Not only will they not be rewarded for the great American virtue of thrift; on the contrary, they will be penalized. Why? Because this year, 1968, will show an inflationary increase of about 5 1/2 per cent in prices.

"Inflation is nothing else but a tax, and it is the most unjust form of all taxes. Why? Because it hits the retired man; it hits the widow; it hits the orphan; it hits perhaps also the white collar worker who cannot increase his salary at the same extent as the spiral of inflationary prices is hitting the sky."

How can we fight this evil? Dr. Nyaradi has this suggestion: "What we really need is a truth-in-packaging bill. Remember that every grandiose project we get from the government is paid for by you and me.

"We should, then, begin now to write letters to our Congressmen and Senators and tell them that before they introduce any kind of a new spending program into Congress, they should also include the name of this truth-in-packaging project—the price tag of the project. If they come up with a wonderful, big program of urban renewal, then they should also say that this will cost you and me an 18 per cent increase in our income taxes. The next time we shall have any super highway or dam program, then Congress should tell us, for this we have to pay 12 per cent in increasing our income taxes. And then, because you and I are sovereign we should be able to decide whether we want this program by paying for it."

Chances are the "Great Society" leaders might not like this idea, because it allows those who foot the bill to decide whether or not they want to do any footing. But, since this is an election year, your Congressman may tend to be more friendly than usual. Try dropping him a line.

"And I Was Beginning to Believe You Were Respectable!"

Pull Up A Chair

The public and private debt of every man, woman and child in the U.S. totals $1.4 trillion, according to the latest count. That is more than 1000 billion. And if you want to know what a billion equals some genius with a slide rule has figured out that $1000 a day saved from the year 1 A.D. would add up to nearly a billion by the year 2600 A.D.

Today's smile: A fellow was hunting with a bird dog and after scrumming in the underbrush the dog came to a point looking at another hunter. The dog's owner looked around and couldn't spot a single dog. He said to the other hunter: "That's odd. My dog never did that before." The other hunter said: "Maybe I can explain. My name is Partridge."

Success isn't always instantaneous, although it frequently appears to be. The first Beatles record released in the U.S. was a flop and so was their second. The main reason for their quick success here, resulted from some reverse thinking on the part of an executive of a major record company. He had been offered them, rejected them, and later had some misgivings about his decision. Although they were considered to be a flop, he gave them a second chance and they zoomed to the heights of popularity. If we recall it was Eddie Cantor who said: "Overnight success usually comes from 20 years of preparation."

OVERCOMING FEAR In an earlier article I discussed the destructiveness of fear and the importance of doing all one can to allay a child's fears. But how can this be done? Humans differ, hence no one formula is suited to everybody. There are various methods of counteracting fears. But a common ingredient is the acquiring of courage, self-confidence, and self-reliance.

Since we tend to fear what we do not understand, the starting point must be to examine the situation until better understanding dispels it. For example, a man who had a pain in his chest was in great fear that it was a heart attack. When his physician explained that the pain was due to a strained muscle, this understanding immediately dispelled his fear. Fears of one sort or another are, unfortunately, rampant among us adults. Many people, for example, have acute fear of wild animals without really understanding them. Merely fearing them will not cause them to go away, nor does this fear, as such, protect us in any way.

The American Way

By D. R. SEGAL

I've never been able to work up much affection for professional Latin Jews, Catholics, Irishmen, veterans or assorted patriots—I mean the kind (put down that rifle, George!) who go around looking for racial insults, avenging piddling slights or even oversights, reading persecution into every rebuff or misunderstanding. Me—I can't dance.

I guess that's why I have never been very cozy with the Lulacs. They consist of what appears to be professional Latin Americans, considerably out of step with the great majority of Latins whom I meet every day. Lulac translates "League of United Latin American Citizens" and I should venture the percentage of Latin American citizens who belong is minuscule. I have received a copy of a complaint addressed to the chairman of the board of a tobacco company protesting, not the deleterious effects of cigarettes, but the content of a TV commercial. You may have seen it. The characters are, obviously, Latin American. The woman is berating her slob of a husband for "never finishing anything—the shelves or the revolution" or anything else. The husband, some kind of banana republic general, finally rouses himself sufficiently to finish the cigarette, but there is little hope, in the final scene, that he and his snoring horse will ever finish the revolution.

The Lulacs find in this "direct insult to men and women who have so bravely and valiantly defended our country in the past or present." There includes a list of great Latin American statesmen such as the left-of-third base congressman from San Antonio, and a few others whose place in history is by no means secure.

I cannot, for the life of me, see that there is the most remote connection between the South American slob in the TV commercial and the young men and women in the armed forces. Does each joke about a stinky Scotsman reflect dishonor on a captain in Vietnam named MacGregor? This doesn't seem to me to be a vicious type of humor. I listened to Myron Cohen, the wonderful dialect comedian, in New York a few years ago, and his predominantly Jewish audience was convulsed as he parodied and mimicked them. I'm glad the Anti-Defamation League didn't shut down the show.

Perhaps it is difficult to draw the line between the wonderful humor which burlesques and the mean sort which degrades. I have heard jokes about the Pope from padres who have the good fortune to know that there is some element of humor in almost everything. Anti-Catholic? I should think not. I'm married into a Scottish family and I've never known them to pass up a good story about the legendary Scottish parsimony.

What is the effect of standing up and saying, "I have been insulted because you made a joke about a fellow who goes to the same church I go to?" My reaction is that if the shoe fits, wear it. I think the fellow who objects too strenuously to some rather innocuous joke tips his hand. It's like the girl who quit going with a guy because he whistled dirty songs.

I have always said that the Beauty Contests was unfair to most women. They have enough contests—but they are always for the slender Suzies. If they was fair they would also have some contests for the shorties. After all, I have seen some beauties in my time that wasn't too tall but they had a trelis that would turn the head on a beer.

Also they should have contests for the short - shorts, and the short-fats, and the short-short-fats, and the fat-shorts and the short-short-fat-fats. I think that on the subject of Beauty every body is entitled to his opinion.

Now you take them sellers over in Yorkshire, England. They have come up with a idea for Beauty contests that is bound to revolutionize the whole she-bang. They arranged a contest where the girls walk by the judges in see-through blouses without wearin bras.

In order that the judges don't get distracted by such unnecessary parts as faces the girls will all wear masks. That way, the judges don't need to dillydally with trifles but can get right down to the serious business of compiling figures. At least, this is a short-cut in the right direction, as far as Beauty Contests go.

A sailor was swabbing the deck when the captain walked by and asked, Captain Blank — What are you doing, my boy?

Dick (the sailor) — I'm washing the floor, sir. Captain Blank — The floor, Lad? This is a ship. You never say floor? You mean deck? Always use the proper nautical terms, like starboard, larboard, and port. And if I ever catch you doing it again, I'll shove you bodily through one of those little round windows over there!

Business is like an automobile — The only way it will run by itself is down hill.

Hal — Do you think there is intelligent life on Mars? Cal — Sure do. You don't see them wasting $30 billion to find out about us.

Jill — Let's sing a romantic song! Joe — OK, let's sing 'Hold That Tiger.'

Jill — That's not a romantic song. Joe — It is to another tiger.

The Doctor Says

By DR. W. G. BRANDSTADT

Allergy Identification Needed for Treatment A mother writes that her daughter, 12, has recurring bouts of allergy. For three years she has been getting desensitization shots but her spells have not decreased. In treating any allergy, the main reliance must be placed on an accurate identification of the offending allergen, then avoiding it if possible. Desensitization usually helps if graduated dilutions of the allergen are used. Failing this, antihistamines must be used as needed for temporary relief.

Q—My son, 10, had a penicillin shot. Four days later he had a severe case of hives. The doctor said it was a delayed reaction to the penicillin. Now every time he goes outdoors when the weather is cold he breaks out in hives. Our pediatrician says he is allergic to cold. Is this possible? Is there any cure for this?

A—Exposure to cold gives many persons watery eyes, a running nose and sneezing, which may or may not be an allergic reaction. In a few persons this reaction may be greatly exaggerated or, like your son, they may develop hives. Such persons are treated by avoiding exposure to cold, large doses of antihistamines and by desensitization through very gradually increased exposures to cold, keeping the exposure just below the amount known to cause a reaction.

Q—Our daughter, 7, suffers from chronic bronchitis and is generally run down. The doctor says that we must make her eat but she eats less each day. She will not eat vegetables or fruit at all. Can you suggest a tonic or other treatment to get her to eat?

A—I doubt that you can make your daughter eat and any attempts to do so will only make her worse. All children do not need the same kind or amount of food and many a child with a feeding problem has straightened out when allowed to choose her own diet without any interference from her parents. As long as she drinks a lot of milk she won't starve. Offer her an ounce or two of orange or tomato juice but don't make a point of her taking it.

The best tonic for your daughter is a happy home atmosphere, some outdoor exercise every day, girls her own age to play with and plenty of restful sleep. If her failure to eat is due to an emotional problem, she may need the help of a child psychologist.

Q—I thought for the day: British actor Cooley Ciber, once said—"Oh how many torments lie in the small circle of a wedding ring."

lem with anyone in whom you have confidence can create the necessary understanding, bolster your courage and confidence, and shatter your fears. Merely contemplating the wonders of nature can give a person a sense of calm and equanimity that will restore faith and destroy fear. Religion has been an excellent antidote for fear down through the ages. Faith in a supreme being instills the strength and courage to go forward rather than to bog down in hopelessness and fear. "Fear thou not for I am with thee: Be not dismayed: for I am thy God: I will strengthen thee; yea, I will help thee..." (Isaiah 41:10) These are all ways by which courage, self-confidence, and self-reliance can be gained. Parents who themselves practice these cures for fear will also be arming their children with protective tools.
