Arias Is Canal Zone 'Guest'

US Becomes Factor In The Panama Struggle

By United Press International
A junta source told American newsmen the national guard will smash any opposition mounted by Arias and said the United States will have to accept the military regime "sooner or later."

Arias, a "guest" in the U.S.-run Canal Zone since his 11-day-old government was toppled Friday night, was calling on supporters to stage a general strike and street battles today against the junta. "Rise up in arms," he said Sunday night.

There was no immediate sign of major anti-junta action.

A junta spokesman said sniper fire in Panama City skum areas, Arias' political strongholds, killed two national guardsmen Sunday night. He said two civilians suffered wounds.

All political factions watched for American reaction. High diplomatic sources said Washington, which already has suspended relations with the junta, may break them completely within 48 hours to show its disapproval of the military takeover.

The junta source expressed confidence Washington would decide it had to do business with the colonels installed Sunday, Jose Maria Pinilla, who wore a red white and blue presidential sash, and Bolivar Urrutia.

"Remember," he said. "You have to negotiate with us over the Panama Canal. This (junta) government will not tolerate North American paternalism."

The junta source also said the two colonels may protest to (See PANAMA, Page 3)

Stratoforts Retaliate

Rockets Hit S. Viet City

By JACK WALSH

SAIGON (UPI)—For the first time the Communists today bombarded a city with 140mm rockets, hitting Quang Ngai City with 13 of the Soviet-made missiles. U.S. planes struck back, dropping a million pounds of bombs on Red positions near the city.

American military spokesmen said the rockets, each carrying a 39-pound warhead, smashed three houses in the provincial capital 330 miles north of Saigon. At least four persons were killed and 12 wounded.

U.S. B52 Stratofortresses in turn dropped 500 tons of bombs on Communist troop concentrations between the city and the outlying Ha Thanh Green Beret camp, object of recent guerrilla strikes.

While striking Quang Ngai City, the Communists fired four more of the 140mm rockets into a South Vietnamese army regimental base a mile and a half west of the city. The shelling wounded four civilians and destroyed a warehouse.

Limited Rocket Use
The Communists previously used the 140mm rockets only against military bases in northern sections of South Vietnam.

U.S. American Division troops in Quang Ngai province today ended a six-day drive named Logan Field. American spokesmen said 14 guerrillas had been killed. U.S. losses included 13 men killed and 66 wounded.

During the rocket strikes, the guerrillas also raided the Binh Son refugee camp in the same province. They burned a Roman Catholic Church and a Buddhist Pagoda. Further north, U.S. jet fighter-bombers Sunday flew 135 missions against North Vietnam's southern panhandle. Pilots said they hit 28 supply boats, 14 trucks, four bridges and three warehouses.

River Battle
To the south, U.S. land, sea and air forces today battled a Viet Cong unit caught on a river bank, American spokesmen said.

They said at least 24 Communists—and no Americans—had been killed in the fighting 30 miles below the capital.

The fighting has raged since Sunday when a 9th Infantry Division patrol spotted the guerrillas and drove them across rice paddies.

U.S. Army helicopter gunships and Navy patrol boats converged on the tributary of the Mekong River, hitting the Viet Cong from one side as the infantrymen attacked from the other.

The battling marked an allied drive against the guerrilla bands moving around the capital, attacking small posts. U.S. B52 Stratofortresses Sunday dropped 450 tons of bombs on Viet Cong attack routes 25, 31 and 40 miles north of Saigon.

South Vietnamese troops killed another 40 Viet Cong and captured 12 more in a Sunday fight 92 miles below Saigon.

Far north of Saigon, in the An Hoa Valley, South Vietnamese Army troops chased the remnants of an 8,000-man North Vietnamese division retreating from the American Special Forces camp at Thuong Duc.

The camp had been under siege for 15 days. The North Vietnamese before dawn Sunday tried two final assaults against the mushrooming allied force mustered in the Thuong Duc area.

The allies killed more than 40 Communists before the North Vietnamese began falling back. "I believe there is now no longer any danger to the Thuong Duc camp," a U.S. official told UPI correspondent Ray Wilkinson in the battle area.

American spokesmen said at least 400 North Vietnamese died in the campaign around Thuong Duc. Allied losses included 22 Americans and 27 South Vietnamese killed.

Apollo Crew Makes TV Appearance From Space

Earthbound Viewers See Life In Orbit

By AL ROSSITER JR.
UPI Space Writer

SPACE CENTER, Houston (UPI)—The Apollo 7 astronauts, waving, smiling and flashing hand-lettered signs, today gave earthbound television viewers America's first "live" glimpse of life in orbit.

A camera small enough to fit in a shoe box showed a surprisingly clear picture of Don Eisele moving around in the center seat of America's first orbiting moonship, and Walter Schirra and Walt Cunningham on either side.

Schirra was clearly visible in the left hand seat and a portion of Cunningham was visible as Apollo 7 swept over the southern tier of the United States on the end of its 45th orbit.

The astronauts, entering the fourth day of their 11-day orbital shakedown run, showed none of the reluctance to star in the nation's first orbiting television show that led them to cancel a telecast Saturday.

Their movements, as seen by the slow-scanning camera, appeared slow, as though they were floating underwater.

The astronauts lettered up a couple of signs, one reading: "Keep those cards and letters coming in, folks," and another sending greetings from the "lovely Apollo astronauts."

Eisele, grinning broadly, was seen holding the first sign as a one-minute period of blankness cleared from the screen and the picture came in, as crew chief Donald K. Slayton told them from the ground, "loud and clear."

After zeroing in on the pilots, the camera was pointed out a spacecraft window clearly showing the clouds and part of the Gulf of Mexico coastline. The 16-ton ship was over New Orleans at the time.

The astronauts made the TV transmission after clearing up a ghost-like flaw that knocked out part of Apollo's electrical system briefly early in the morning. The problem appeared licked at mid-morning. If the shortage continued the pilots would have been forced down prematurely.

Instead, they received routine clearance to fly into the fourth day of their demanding mission. An unconditional success would clear the next Apollo team for a possible Christmas-time flight into lunar orbit.

Controllers believed the power collapse was caused by a momentary electrical overload. Their remedy was to turn off fans in one of the moonship's oxygen tanks.

The problem developed shortly after midnight when the spacecraft's two alternating current (AC) distribution systems failed. Systems specialist Cunningham quickly flicked a switch to reactivate them.

The failure triggered the ship's master alarm warning system which lights a bright red light on the astronauts' control panel and sounds a buzzer in their headsets.

Causes Concern
"We sound casual now," said commander Schirra in reporting the difficulty to ground control. "We were not then."

Ground controllers, meanwhile, went ahead with the flight plan and directed the astronauts to prepare for the nation's first "live" television broadcast from an orbiting spaceship.

Cunningham said he was ready for "show business" even though he guessed, "I'll have to get dressed for it." Cunningham and the other astronauts had again Sunday taken off their heavy 54-pound space suits and donned their lighter white coveralls to work in.

Eisele noted that the telecast was scheduled for 10:41 a.m. EDT, about the same time Apollo 7 was to participate in a

Top News In Brief

NEW YORK (UPI)—The United Federation of Teachers today went on strike against the nation's largest school system for the third time this school year in defiance of the mayor, the school board and the courts.

Albert Shanker, president of the 55,000 member UFT, called the union teachers out at 8 a.m. "The strike is on," he said. "I think it will last a long time."

AUSTIN (UPI)—The entire Austin police force has been ticketed today and ordered to appear at an appreciation picnic Monday night.

Chamber of Commerce officials presented the complimentary tickets to city policemen and their families for the fish fry in Zilker Park.

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (UPI)—The 14-year-old daughter of Gov. John H. Chafee remained unconscious and held on to life with the help of a respirator and heart stimulation today after she was kicked in the face by a horse.

BUFFALO, N.Y. (UPI)—About 100,000 persons in this city of Polish sons lined the streets Sunday to cheer the candidate with Polish ancestors, Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, and there wasn't a protestor among them.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Gen. Curtis E. LeMay has called for expanding bombing of North Vietnam and U.S. action to close the port of Haiphong. He urged the actions Sunday as a form of "arm twisting" to spur peace negotiations between the United States and North Vietnam in Paris.

KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. (UPI)—If there is a Republican administration in January, one man will dominate the foreign policy of the United States—Richard M. Nixon. And that policy will be based on American military might and strong ties with Western Europe.

"Foreign policy is my strong suit," said the GOP presidential candidate in a broadcast interview (KRLD, Dallas), the text of which was released Sunday.

By United Press International
Hubert H. Humphrey continued to press his presidential opponents today to meet him in a national television debate.

His top campaign aide meanwhile charged "secret negotiations" were under way that could give Richard M. Nixon the electoral votes of third party candidate George C. Wallace in the event of a three-way deadlock.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Spiro T. Agnew says Richard M. Nixon should not allow Hubert H. Humphrey to use a nationwide television debate as a "springboard" to catch the frontrunning Republican presidential candidate.

MOSCOW (UPI)—Premier Oldrich Cernik of Czechoslovakia arrived today. He was expected to sign a treaty legalizing Soviet invasion of his nation and calling for withdrawal of most of the occupation forces this month.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The nation's news media were urged today to refuse to print or broadcast any new political charges raised within five days of the Nov. 5 election unless replies also are included.

'Flying Saucer' Report Is Made By Pampans

By JEFF HOLLADAY
Pampa News Staff Writer

A Pampa man and his son told the Pampa News today that they had seen what appeared to be a flying saucer early this morning at their ranch on McClellan Creek near Alareed.

Glenn Studebaker, 54, of 853 S. Banks, said he spotted the object about 5:15 this morning as he was performing chores on his ranch six miles north of Alareed.

"I didn't believe in flying saucers, but I sure saw one this morning," Studebaker said.

He said he drove to the ranch and arrived there shortly after 5 o'clock when he saw what appeared to be a large blue light.

"I was down in sort of a valley rounding up some calves when this blue light caught my attention."

"I got interested because I didn't think anybody around there had a blue light like that and it looked too big to be a meteor or anything like that."

"So I wheeled my pickup on to higher ground and watched...

"When I first saw this thing, it was blue, but it later turned green and pretty soon it would turn red..."

"It would flutter around in one spot and then it would move off to the right at a tremendous rate of speed... then it would come back at terrific speed."

"Each time it moved to either side it would spurt little streaks of light from the back... and when it came back it would just kind of flutter in that one central spot for a while."

"It never seemed to move up or down much, just sideways."

"My son (John Studebaker) came down a little later after I had been watching for awhile, and we both sat there and watched it till it got light."

"It looked like to me that it was around Clarendon, since I was looking due south."

"There wasn't any way for me to tell how big this thing was, but it was a lot bigger than a star and I know it wasn't a meteor..."

House Prepares To End Session

WASHINGTON (UPI)—For the 90th Congress, the magic number is 217—the number of House members needed to wind everything up. Speaker John W. McCormack hoped to muster that many today.

Jeopardizing his chances was a dissident group of liberals, headed by Rep. James O'Hara, D-Mich., who planned to stay away in protest of the Senate's failure to take up a House-passed bill setting ground rules for televised debates by the presidential candidates.

McCormack called an afternoon vote by the House on the congressional adjournment resolution the Senate passed Friday. But at least 217 members must be present before the vote can be taken—should anyone raise the issue, and someone certainly will.

House Republican leaders, anxious to be done with the Democratic controlled 90th Congress, joined in McCormack's telephone and telegram drive to get absent members back on the floor, hopefully to offset the threatened absence of O'Hara's dissidents.

ACCUSE U.S.
TABEN, South Yemen (UPI)—The president of South Yemen Sunday charged the United States with supporting what he called Saudi Arabia's "aggressive designs" against his nation. President Qahlan As-Shaabi also condemned "American aggression" in Vietnam.

Along US-Mexican Border

Screwworms Making Comeback

MEXICO CITY (UPI)—The screwworm fly cattle parasite, almost licked by a joint U.S.-Mexican campaign, has bounded back in alarming numbers over the past two months and is increasing along the Mexican border at a record clip.

The bi-national committee fighting the plague issued an urgent call to all ranchers Sunday to redouble protective measures.

The pest is increasing at the fastest rate since the campaign began in 1962, the committee said. The number of infestations has jumped alarmingly, and many areas, totally free of screwworms for some time have been reinfested.

In the Texas border states of Chihuahua, Coahuila, Nuevo

Leon and Tamaulipas, the number of cases rose to 1,773 last month, compared to 540 in September last year. In Sonora, which borders on Arizona, the cases increased from 86 last September to 784 in the same month this year.

The number of cases north of the border, where the pest was virtually extinguished a year ago, is also rising. The committee warned, with 1,558 cases reported in Texas last month, 27 in New Mexico and 66 in Arizona.

The committee asked ranchers not to castrate, brand or otherwise mutilate cattle in the months to come. The parasites breed in open wounds. All range wounds, such as those caused by barbed wire, should be immediately treated with strong insecticide, the committee said, and all suspicious infections reported to agricultural authorities immediately.

Special care should be taken in importing cattle from areas where the pest is still found in great numbers, such as southern Mexico, the announcement said, warning that mature flies can travel over 180 miles.

To meet the growing threat the committee dropped 348.5 million sterilized male flies over the border area in September. The flies, sterilized by radiation at a plant in McAllen, Tex., mate with "wild" females, and prevent them from reproducing.

'Peace Talks' In 6th Month; Reds Still Adamant

PARIS (UPI)—The Vietnam War talks entered their sixth month today with North Vietnam accusing President Johnson of "refusing to give up a policy of aggression."

Nguyen Thanh Le, Hanoi's spokesman at the talks, made the charge at a news conference. He renewed the Communist demand for an unconditional bombing halt of North Vietnam, giving little hope for progress in the 26th negotiating session Wednesday.

Le said Hanoi would not give in to Americans demands for mutual de-escalation on the battlefield as a way to break the Paris deadlock and bring about full peace talks. The preliminary talks began in May.

"President Johnson, in his Oct. 10 statement, has said that he had great hopes that the Paris conversations will ultimately yield an agreement," Le said.

"Yet the President is trying to shift the responsibility on our alleged intransigence. But the fact is that he wants to maintain a position of strength and has not yet given up his policy of aggression."

"If President Johnson wants peace he must unconditionally stop all bombings, pull out all American troops, recognize the National Liberation Front (NLF), then open peace talks with the NLF."

It was the first official Hanoi comment on last week's statement by the President who, in a radio address in support of presidential candidate Hubert H. Humphrey, again urged North Vietnam to show a flexible negotiating stand.

The talks opened in May, aimed at cooling down the Vietnam war enough to begin a full peace conference. Diplomats on each side have reported no progress.

"There has appeared no progress in the Paris talks since its start and this is because the United States has been stubbornly rejecting the unconditional halt to bombing which is the only solution for proceeding the talks," said the North Vietnam Communist party newspaper Nhan Dan today in an editorial broadcast from Hanoi.

Davis Appointed County Chairman For Bob Price

Billy B. Davis, Pampa businessman-stockman, has been appointed Gray County Bob Price for Congress chairman.

Davis, who has been active in civic work here for many years accepted the appointment Saturday.

"We all know where Bob Price stands on the important issues facing this country, such as Vietnam, crime in the streets and effective and efficient importation of water into the Panhandle," Davis said.

Davis referred to Price as one of the most conscientious U.S. representatives in making the wishes of the people of his district, the 18th, heard on the floor of the U.S. House of Representatives in Washington.

"He has a 96 percent attendance record, in seeing that his job in Congress is done," Davis said.

Davis graduated from Pampa High School and attended New Mexico Military Institute before joining the Army Air Corps in World War II and flew B-24s in Italy.

Davis is past commander of the American Legion, past president of the Panhandle Producers and Royalty Owners Association and a director of the Texas Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association.

He is a member of the Top O' Texas Rodeo Association, active in Boy Scout work and is an appointed member of the Texas Agricultural Water Committee.

said this morning that it had received no reports of unidentified flying objects, and an official at the Donley County sheriff's office in Clarendon said he had received no reports.

"Of course," he said, "there weren't too many people up at that hour and we have received reports before of unidentified flying objects in this area—so, we can't just discount the possibility."

Obituaries

LARAMIE SCOTT WALKER Graveside rites for Laramie Scott Walker, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Walker, of Pampa, will be held at 4 p.m. Tuesday in Dumas Cemetery, directed by Carmichael-Whitley Funeral Directors of Pampa.

Charles Ritchie, minister of Oak Street Church of Christ, Dumas, will officiate. The infant was born in Highland General Hospital at 10:12 p.m. Friday, and died Sunday in the hospital.

Survivors are his parents; two sisters, Cotena and Jacqueline, both of the home; paternal grandmother, Mrs. Catherine Walker, Amarillo and maternal grandfather, S.B. Powell, Wichita Falls.

Commissioners Take Action On Routine Matters

County commissioners met at 10 a.m. today and took care of routine matters. They approved the welfare report, the treasurer's report, the bond made by special County Judge Harold Comer, approved the appointment of Mrs. R.W. McPhillips as election judge for Pct. 12, and approved the payment of $11,094 to Pioneer Natural Gas Company for utility adjustment on Farm-to-Market Road 749.

The road is being widened, necessitating Pioneer to move several of its pipelines. Tracy Cary, chairman of the Gray County Historical Survey Committee, appeared before the commission to request money from the general fund to provide monuments, markers and medallions for county historical sites. No action was taken on the request.

Commissioner Joe K. Clarke presided at the meeting. All other commissioners attended except Clyde Organ of Pct. 2, who was unable to be present.

Policeman Solves Thefts

Pampa police officer S. L. Brown proved over the weekend that hard work does pay off. Brown was called to investigate the burglary of a house and not only solved it, but also another burglary that happened in August of this year.

Mrs. Nellie Hibbs, 914 S. Nelson, reported to police her residence had been burglarized and a white-gold pocket watch, $15 worth of dimes and pennies, three $1 bills and 8 books of trading stamps had been taken.

Brown quizzed neighbors of the woman and found that a 15-year-old boy had been seen in the vicinity about the time of the burglary.

The officer talked to the boy, who admitted the burglary and also admitted taking a coin collection belonging to Pampa postmaster R. W. McPhillips in August.

The coin collection was valued at over $150.

More Mercury Thefts Reported

Twelve mercury thefts have been reported to the Gray County sheriff's office so far by Phillips Petroleum Company. The first thefts were reported early Thursday morning, but more continue to be reported as the graphs in the meters are changed.

A spokesman for Phillips said Monday the company would not know the full extent of its losses until late this week. He explained that the measuring charts attached to the regulating meters are not due to be changed for almost a week.

The thefts occurred south and west of Pampa.

Brown States Voter Van Tour For Saturday

AMARILLO — Dick Brown, candidate for congress from the 18th District stated today that he will visit nine Panhandle cities with the fifth of a series of Voter Van Tours in his "Take the Campaign to the People" program on Saturday, Oct. 19.

A chartered bus which will carry the Democratic candidate, his family, friends, a band and colorfully attired campaign workers will schedule stops at Borger, 10:30 a.m.; Stinett, 11:30 a.m.; Spearman, 12:30 p.m.; Perryton, 1:30 p.m.; Stratford, 3 p.m.; Dalhart, 4 p.m.; Hertzley, 5 p.m.; Channing, 5:30 p.m. and Dumas, 6:30 p.m.

During the brief stops, the Voter Van Riders will present music, brief speeches and distribute campaign material.

"We hope to visit with as many people as possible and we invite everyone who is interested in sending a positive voice for the Panhandle to Congress to join us as we visit this section of our district," Brown said, adding that he intended to take the Voter Van to every one of the 28 counties comprising the 18th district.

GOP Candidates' Wives Touring Panhandle Today

Wives of state and national Republican candidates for election Nov. 5 are touring the Panhandle area today and Tuesday in behalf of their husbands' election bids.

Mrs. Bob Price, wife of the U.S. representative from the 18th District, and Mrs. Paul Eggers, wife of the Texas Republican gubernatorial candidate, are accompanied by Mrs. Warren Fatheree, district committeewoman, on their Panhandle area tour.

Steps included today were Tulsa, Dimmitt, Muleshoe, Friona and Hereford. After attending a luncheon in Canyon Tuesday, the campaigners are expected to return to the Pampa area Tuesday evening.

Price, who visited the Panhandle briefly this weekend, was on hand Saturday for the opening of GOP headquarters, 127 N. Cuyler. He returned to Washington Sunday afternoon because of the extended congressional session.

Rep. Price is supposed to be the speaker at 7 p.m. Tuesday at the Carson County Republican Party banquet in the County Barn in Panhandle. If congress doesn't adjourn in time, we'll have to get another speaker," Jim Campbell, district committeeman, said.

Others scheduled to attend the Carson County banquet are Millard Neptune, Houston, candidate for land commissioner, and Tom Christian, candidate for state representative 75th legislative district, Campbell said.

Mrs. Price and the three Price children are living in Pampa this Fall where the children are enrolled in school.

Sullins Gets Knight Honor

Knights of Columbus, Frank Keim Council 2767, awarded the Knight of the Year plaque to C. L. "Dick" Sullins during the annual Columbus Day Banquet Saturday at the Columbus Club.

Rev. William Brennan, C.M. pastor of St. Vincent de Paul Church and chaplain of Frank Keim Council, awarded the annual plaque.

C. M. Blymiller was also honored for his service. A charter member of Frank Keim Council 2767, he has been a Knight of Columbus member since 1936.

Iggy Prater, general program chairman, was master of ceremonies. Others participating were Grand Knight Chuck Albus and Paul Eakin, council activity chairman, who directed banquet arrangements for the 90 members, wives and guests who attended.

Out-of-town guests were Max Myers of Borger, district deputy, and Mrs. Myers; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Berenti of Borger, and Grand Knight and Mrs. Ralph Grimmer of Borger.

Rev. Francis J. Hynes, assistant pastor of St. Vincent de Paul Church, was a council guest.

United Campaign In Final Week

The Pampa United Good Neighbor Campaign enters the home stretch today as the final week of the drive began.

Some money was turned in over the weekend, Jerry Sims, general chairman, said, but it has not been audited. The present total remains at $58,991.34, checked in through last Thursday.

Good Neighbor Campaigners are hoping for a good check-in at 10 a.m. tomorrow at Coronado Inn, Sims said. This meeting and the one at 4 p.m. tomorrow are expected to bring in at least another $10,000.

There are still a great number of cards that have not been worked. Fund leaders ask that these be worked as quickly and as thoroughly as possible, Sims explained.

The cards that are still out contain several major contributors, at least one of which means several thousand dollars to the campaign.

Money collected during the drive will support the 12 member agencies.

These are the Salvation Army, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, U.S.O., Pampa Welfare Index, Pampa Milk Fund, Red Cross, Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation, Texas Mental Health Assn., Texas Medical Research Foundation, Amarillo Cerebral Palsy Treatment Center and United Community Funds of America.

Almost 100 per cent of Pampa's United Good Neighbor Funds are spent here in Pampa, Sims said.

Warner To Speak To Sorority

John W. Warner will speak to Beta Sigma Phi Sorority at 8 tonight in the City's Hospitality Room on the subject of "Enjoying Polio Speaking."

A Dale Carnegie instructor, Warner has trained more than 500 people in public speaking. He is a Pampa attorney and Pampa's Corporation Court Judge.

In May Warner took top honors in the state "Speak-up Jaycee Contest." In June he was named among the top six Jaycee speakers in the nation-out of 300,000 United States Jaycees in national competition.

Holding Dentures No Secret... Firm

LOS ANGELES, Calif. — Authorities of a western drug firm say there is no secret to holding dentures tight. All it takes is perimeter suction. Trouble is, most products today haven't got it. Bite 'N' Hold, a new product now available, has perimeter suction. "It feels different," observed first users, "a secure sensation like having real teeth, and it lasts months."

Your Horoscope
JEANE DIXON

Tuesday, October 15, 1968
Your birthday today: This will be the year of conquest! Obstacles will arise, but the effort required will bring forth latent strength. The temptation is to involve yourself in too much at once. Today's natives thrive on physical activity.

ARIES (Mar. 21-Apr. 19): There are conflicting forces at work. Until you find the balance between them, it is better not to commit yourself to any contract. Expect associates to disagree among themselves.

TAURUS (Apr. 20-May 20): Your courage rises in response to challenge. Older people, parents, the formalized structure of our world seems to be opposed to your view. This could be, at any age, a consequence of your own strong stirring.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Carry on with a cheerful face and line of talk, whatever else you do. The disappointments of the day do pass. A placid facade is priceless today.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Your natural caution stands you in good stead in a fretful community. The conservative note is best. Quit early and devote time to studies in the evening.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Relatives require gentle handling. Old issues, particularly those sponsored by older people, are very much alive. Pay attention to the rules in working with tools and in driving.

GETTING UP NIGHTS MAKES MANY FEEL OLD

Dear Abby
By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am a 44-year-old bachelor. I'm perfectly normal, enjoy the company of women occasionally, but I am not looking for any matrimonial involvements. I live alone in a modest bungalow and enjoy my privacy.

My problem is a very aggressive divorcee who moved in next door. She's not bad looking but she comes on awfully strong. She is a rip-roaring Republican from way back and a big Nixon booster. She started in the usual neighborly manner. If she sees a light in my place she runs over, bringing prepared meals and an armful of Nixon literature for me to read. She's even offered to cook for me, and do my ironing, but I'm not about to fall into that trap. When she's not talking about Nixon, she's talking about marriage.

Last week I had it, so I moved my refrigerator, stove, and TV down to the basement so she won't know if I'm home, so now she telephones me! What should I do?

NOT INTERESTED

DEAR NOT: Tell her you're going to vote for Hubert and move back upstairs.

DEAR ABBY: I live in a town where recently a couple who had been married 10 years got a divorce. They weren't divorced 2 months when they decided to get married (to each other) again.

Now I'm all in favor of people getting back together, but I think it should be done quietly. This couple had a big church wedding with a best man, bridesmaids, and the whole works. They even had a picture and write-up in the newspaper, and when they took off for their honeymoon, their car was all decorated with "Just Married" signs.

I think this is real asinine. People are laughing behind their backs. A friend of mine says she doesn't see anything wrong with it. To settle an argument, what is your opinion?

HOLBROOK

DEAR HOLBROOK: The sign on the honeymoon car should have read: "Just Remarried." That's my opinion.

DEAR ABBY: I can sympathize with the lady who nearly fainted when her little 4-year-old wanted to buy some "SEX APPEAL" at the tooth paste counter.

Color television commercials are even worse. My 2-year-old granddaughter walked right into the TV set and tried and tried to take a donut off the plate.

I spent an hour driving around all over town to find some fresh donuts for her.

Another time she saw someone with a bruised eye and said, "O, you'd rather fight than switch."

NO NAME IN TAFT, CAL.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 10-year-old boy, and I don't have anybody to play with. I asked my mother to get me a brother or even a sister, but she told me not to bother her.

I told her I would be satisfied with a dog, but she said a dog is too much trouble. I had a rabbit once, but it died.

Is there some way I can get my mother to let me have a dog?

LENNY

DEAR LENNY: If your mother's only objection to a dog is the "trouble," write out an "agreement," stating you will take the dog for walks regularly, see that it's fed, and do everything you can to relieve your mother of the work of owning and training a dog. Then sign it. It's worth a try.

KEEP FILTERS CLEAN
Since the function of air-conditioner filters is to catch dust, dirt and pollen, they must be kept clean. Removable foam filters should be washed often in soap or detergent, then rinsed, squeezed out and returned to place.

Sun May Fade Wash
Locate clothesline in a shady area if possible. This will help prevent colors from sun fading. Hang colored things inside out to keep them from fading too much.

Harvesters Test Amarillo Friday

By RON CROSS Sports Editor

There'll be no rest for the weary this week when the Pampa Harvesters continue north zone play against powerful Amarillo in Dick Bivens Stadium at 7:30 Friday night.

The Harvesters, who fell to their fourth straight defeat in five outings, 42-0, to Monterey

Saturday, will still be without the services of at least four regulars.

Only senior Roddy Porter has a chance to come off the hurt list and play against the Sandies and it might be better to stay hurt.

The Sandies are tied with Monterey for the north zone lead, both at 1-0 and both are 4-1 for the season. Amarillo knocked off No. 1 ranked Tascosa two weeks ago.

Friday night they found the going a bit rougher at Berger but managed to subdue the improved Bulldogs, 27-21.

There is one other zone contest slated Friday, at Plainview where the Bulldogs (5-0) host Tascosa (4-1) in a south zone game. Lubbock and Monterey play a non-zone battle Friday also.

Two Saturday games are on tap, both 7:30 p.m. affairs. Caprock hosts Berger in a north zone attraction and Coronado hosts unbeaten Palo Duro in a south zone game.

Pampa coach Swede Lee felt a little better after he viewed the film of the Pampa-Monterey mismatch, especially with the defensive unit.

"Usually you look worse on film than you do in a game but we found some defensive players that did a good job," Lee said.

Singled out for praise was Nolan Welborn, Ray Tindall, Deney Johnson, Mark Watkins and Eddie Hopkins, on both offense and defense.

Welborn played in his first game at linebacker and the hustling 147 pounder came up with two fumble recoveries, seven unassisted tackles and 17 assists.

"Nolan did a remarkable job considering it was his first game and he was giving away at least 50 pounds to every man," Lee said.

Tindall, also a linebacker, was in on 16 tackles while Johnson intercepted a pass and had five unassisted tackles and 11 assists.

"Watkins has improved every game and did a good job for us Saturday," Lee said, adding, "Hopkins did a good job on both offense and defense and put out a good effort."

The Harvesters worked today on learning Amarillo's offense and defense and figure out some way to put a stopper on the pass-happy Sandies.

"Mainly we'll have a usual Monday workout, learning Amarillo and then we'll start to work again on fundamentals," Lee said.

Lee was unhappy with the Pampa offense, especially the blocking of the offensive line.

"I know we were outweighed, but still we didn't block well at all, so we'll just have to keep working on the fundamentals until we can do it right," the coach said.

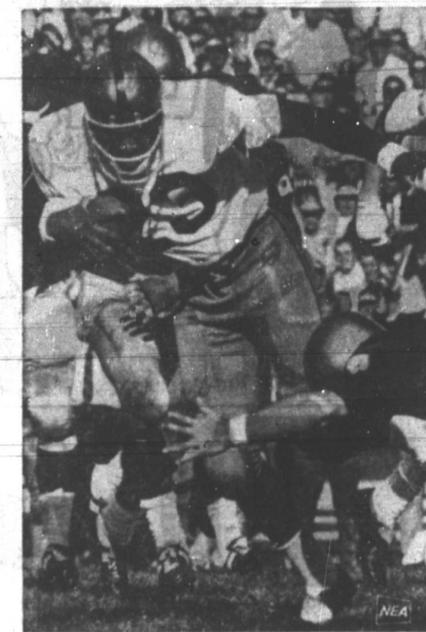

Pampa has been hurt and hurt bad with the offensive loss of quarterback Gary Parrish, wingback John Jenkins, tackle Ted Knight, back Randy Cantrell and Porter.

End Jay Johnson alternated with junior Ross Holman at quarterback Saturday and did a credible job and fullback Hal Clabaugh moved to wingback with junior Wyatt Earp filling in at end.

Lee said Monday that he still planned to go with the same offensive lineup, that is, unless the team doctors get more patients this week.

ANOTHER GOOD Saturday found Southern Cal's O. J. Simpson, left, scoring three touchdowns to pace the Trojans past Stanford while Purdue's Leroy Keys was bottled up and the Boilermakers lost to Ohio State.

Randy Sets Meet Record

MEXICO CITY (UPI)—The Olympic 100-meter dash championship is supposed to be the personal property of Uncle Sam—but it could happen today that a Cuban will turn out to be the "world's fastest human."

The United States, which is expected to reap a big harvest of gold medals in track and field in the Olympics now at last under way here, confidently anticipates its first championships of the Olympiad in the men's shot put. Randy Matson the Pampa, Tex., strongman set an Olympic record in Sunday's trial and is heavily favored to win today.

But what about the 100 meters?

Charlie Greene of Seattle, Wash., twice equaled the world record of 10.0 seconds in Sunday's trial heats. That should make him a favorite to breeze through Monday's semifinal and final.

Hermes Ramirez of Cuba also equalled the world record by winning his second trial. And two other Cubans, Pablo Montes Casanova and the veteran Enrique Figueroa, also won through the first two heats and join Ramirez in mounting the greatest single-nation threat to U.S. sprint domination in modern times. Add in the fact that Jim Hines of Oakland, Calif., and 30-year-old Mel Pender of San Pedro, Calif., both did no better than second in their second trials, and you could have a formula for a U.S. sprint defeat.

Uncle Sam's trackmen have failed to win the 100 meters only once in the last seven Olympic games.

Matson had been off form in recent months, but Sunday he stepped up to the line for his first put of the shot in the trials and flipped it 67 feet, 10 1/4 inches to break the Olympic record by 1 1/4 inches.

Three other track and field finals are on today's program, but the United States rates only outside medal possibilities in each. They are the women's long jump, in which Heidemarie Rosendahl of Germany is favored; the women's javelin, in which Barbara Friedrich of Spring Lake Heights, N.J., is given an outside chance of a medal; and the 20-kilometer walk, a wide-open race with the edge possibly going to Vladimir Goubnichy of Russia.

Arkansas Tests Steers In SWC League Game

Arkansas and Texas, who have been staging ding-dong dandies on the football field the past half dozen years, tear into each other again at Austin Saturday night and, as usual, the outcome will have a big bearing on the Southwest Conference race.

Texas snapped a three-game Arkansas winning streak a year ago with a 21-12 victory and had won 7-3 and 17-13 in 1962-63. In between, the Hogs had won 14-13, 27-24 and 12-7 thrillers.

This time, Arkansas goes into the big game, already a sellout, with a perfect 4-0 season record, and, more important, a 2-0 league record after shipping TCU 17-7 and Baylor 35-19. Texas, on the other hand, is 2-1-1 and 0-1, the latter a stunning 31-22 upset to Texas Tech, but comes into the game with the momentum of a great come-from-behind 26-20 conquest of Oklahoma.

Texas desperately needs to ride that momentum to victory or else all but bow out of contention for the title it was general player defectors raised a quizzical eyebrow or two.

After that Tech loss, coach Darrell Royal shifted quarterback Bill Bradley to a part-time split end and installed junior James Street at the signal calling post. It was Street who piloted the Horns 85 yards in two minutes to beat the clock and Oklahoma last Saturday.

Arkansas, with a solid quarterback, was picked as a darkhorse and only then if soph Bill Montgomery came through. Montgomery has come through. Improving with each game, a nod now has assumed the leadership coach Frank Broyles desperately needed.

While Arkansas and Texas slug it out at Austin, Southern Methodist's pallid Patin' Ponies will try to keep their 1-0 league record unmarred at home against Rice and the defending champion Texas Aggies try to bounce back into the picture at home to Texas Christian.

Texas Tech, which joined Arkansas at 2-0 with a 21-16 defeat of A&M last week, winds up its outside schedule at neutral Jackson, Miss.

Houston, WT In Mourning

Hitherto unbeaten Houston, the nation's 10th-ranked team, and West Texas State, are in a state of mourning. Their untarnished records underwent serious erosion Saturday night.

Houston's Cougars, apparently taking Oklahoma State too lightly and playing without injured Paul Gipson, fell 21-17 to the Sooner State Cowboys, while West Texas found out what life is like when Mercury Morris is in a deep freeze and lost 42-21 to Memphis State.

The Cougars lost four of their 10 fumbles and the last one set off the winning Oklahoma State drive after Terry Leiwke had kicked them out front 17-14 with a 28-yard field goal.

Morris, who had gained 884 yards in his first four games, was completely bottled up by Memphis State's defense and the Tigers exploded for 28 points in the last quarter to win.

Meanwhile, Austin College remained the only unbeaten independent team with a 14-7 win over Sewanee for its fifth in a row. Texas-El Paso lost its third in a row, 22-21 to Long Beach State, North Texas bounced back to whip Northern Michigan 17-3.

The Pampa Daily News

A Watchful Newspaper

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license, nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself. No more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

U Thant's Perfidy

Never in the history of our country has this nation suffered a diplomatic insult of the proportions accomplished by UN Secretary General U Thant last Sept. 23.

On that date, as the 22d session of the UN General Assembly was concluding its business, and the 23d session ready to convene the following day, the Secretary General held a news conference. In the course of that meeting with the world press, he openly invited some member nation to introduce a resolution in the UN condemning the United States. Here is the draft resolution he suggested:

"The General Assembly, deeply concerned at the war in Vietnam, convinced that essential first steps should be taken to move the conflict from the battlefield to the conference table, so as to lead to meaningful and positive steps toward a peaceful settlement of the problem, Requests that the bombing of North Vietnam—that is, the Democratic Republic of Vietnam—should cease."

Proclaiming that he was trying to reflect the "conscience of humanity," the Secretary General thereupon defended the Soviet occupation of Czechoslovakia with the assertion that "there is a kind of implicit contractual relationship among Warsaw Pact countries for collective security."

Is there no such "implicit contractual relationship" among the SEATO nations? The implications of the U Thant proposal are clear. He has purposely intruded into the election process in the United States. He has sought to have this nation morally condemned in a world forum even as contending candidates are going to the voters with their pleas for support. In a country already torn by dissent and irresponsible demonstrations, he has given aid and comfort to the factions which adhere to the enemy in Hanoi and Peking and Moscow.

The list of Communist atrocities which the Secretary General can countenance without reproach is endless. It circles the globe, from China and Tibet and Korea and South Vietnam to Hungary, the USSR itself, and reaches into our own hemisphere just 90 miles from our shores.

U Thant is a shrewd operative. He has given aid and comfort to the spokesmen of the extreme left in the United States, knowing that the most immediate beneficiaries will be the spokesmen of the extreme right who will exploit his dereliction. He is not a solicitor of peace. He is a provocateur—and an enemy of peace.

Just how seriously do you think Hanoi's representative in Paris will talk about a peaceful settlement of the Vietnam war while waiting for U Thant's resolution to be voted upon?

One Thousand Programs

In the 13 years since the second Hoover Commission made its final report, the number of federal civilian employees has grown by half-a-million, the Federal budget has doubled, domestic spending has increased by 170 percent, and the number of Federal programs has grown by leaps and bounds.

No one, anywhere, knows exactly how many federal programs there are. No where is there a central repository where meaningful information on all operating Federal programs can be found. Congress itself does not have available sufficient information to determine whether or not those programs are effective, or if new ones are needed.

Similarly the executive branch does not have available enough information to determine whether there is overlap, duplication or lack of coordination. As many as 10 Cabinet-level departments and 15 agencies have programs devoted essentially to the same area of activity. More than 470 programs on education are operated by 25 different departments and agencies. At least 211 operating programs for college and graduate students are operated by 35 departments and agencies.

Some 117 programs concerning natural resources are spread among 12 departments and agencies. There are 112 programs providing assistance to the poor, 43 programs that relate to child health and welfare, and 74 that relate to economic and business development.

What is known is that there are at least 1,000 programs costing $20 billion a year. These are facts developed by Representative William V. Roth, Jr. and his staff, over a period of eight months. He reported the results of the study in the Congressional Record for June 25 and July 16. Now we know why we have taxes, and more taxes, taxes on taxes, and surtaxes.

Congressman Roth, a Republican from Delaware, has introduced a "Program Information Act" requiring the President to present annually to Congress a compendium of federal assistance programs. And he strongly urges an "Executive Reorganization and Management Act," creating a modern Hoover-type commission. Both proposals have been cosponsored by more than one-fourth of the House membership, and have the unanimous approval of the Governors attending the July conference.

Maybe these would accomplish something. But remembering the "love's labor's lost" which attended the two Hoover Commissions, we would like to see the Congress start tightening the purse-strings.

The Moral Decline

Thinking back, it is now apparent that those who have been talking for so long about a general moral breakdown have been increasing in number at a rapid rate.

It used to be that anyone who spoke of a decline in morals set himself apart by doing so. He was listened to if his place and role were such as to demand respect, or he was tolerated, but few paid much heed.

Suddenly, if one will look about and listen, he will find that those concerned about the state of morality in the world are not just the preacher to whom people listen for a while each weekend, or the writer of letter to the editor.

Great numbers of persons are worried, and morality is the subject of daily unembarrassed conversation.

It is almost fashionable to talk about morals.

And it is good politics, too. Rare is the public figure who does not call for moral strengthening or rebirth throughout our nation.

Even the pollsters have been caught up in the concern. And they have found that most persons think morals are worsening with each passing year, not just in America but everywhere.

To be sure, there still are many who believe that people are just as "good" as ever and maybe better. And there are some others, the grayites or blurouts, who find that morality is some kind of relative thing which changes with the times and the attitudes.

But it seems that the majority of people do now think that morality is on a rapid decline and are worried about it.

If so, that realization might be called Step One. The trouble is that lack of

Sensing The News By THURMAN SENSING

The Fruit of Coercion

Among the finest fruits of the earth are the luscious grapes grown in the valleys of California. Eaten as dessert or made into wines that have become immensely successful in recent years, they are understandably popular. Moreover, the grapes, or the wine made from them, are the basis of a valuable agricultural industry. Sales of the grapes and of the wine provide tax revenue to the federal government and the states.

Unfortunately, this agricultural industry is threatened by a radical union boycott that would turn the delicious grapes into grapes of wrath. A small, militant union—the United Farm Workers Organizing Committee (AFL-CIO), which represents no more than one or two per cent of the farm workers in California, is carrying out a nationwide boycott campaign directed at the California grapes.

The union is waging a propaganda battle aimed at portraying the grape-pickers as victims of capitalist exploitation. Cesar Chavez, head of the union, has enlisted some predictable allies, including the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee—the Stokely Carmichael-H. Rap Brown outfit, along with the notorious Students for Democratic Society. Various "liberal" groups have been duped into providing financial assistance to the union effort. The Office of Economic Opportunity, in a typical piece of political interference, has devoted $268,000 to the Chavez cause.

The boycott has met with a certain amount of success. Two knee-jerk "liberal" mayors—Cavanaugh of Detroit and Lindsay of New York—have cancelled orders their municipalities placed for California grapes. Various AFL-CIO unions have persuaded food chains in New York City not to stock California grapes. Persuaded is the polite way of putting it. One grower, in a complaint filed with the National Labor Relations Board, used the words "coerced and restrained" to describe the union dealings with the food chains.

The situation is scandalous in several respects. It is outrageous, for instance, that a union effort on one coast can produce a boycott at the opposite end of the country. This long arm of coercion should give all good citizens cause for concern.

Secondly, the United Farm Workers Organizing Committee simply isn't a grape-pickers union. The American Farm Bureau Federation reports that "virtually none of the workers employed in the production and harvesting of grapes for fresh market are union members."

Indeed, there is another group—the Agricultural Workers Freedom To Work Organization—that is on record as opposing the harassment of grape-pickers by the Chavez group. It is tragic that the church and civil liberties groups that have become involved in the boycott have not examined the nature of the complaint made by the Chavez organization. Despite claims of exploitation, the facts are that the grape-pickers are getting a good wage for the kind of work they do. Sen. Eugene McCarthy, who has inserted himself into the dispute, charged that the grape-pickers receive $1.40 an hour with no fringe benefits.

The California Senate Fact-Finding Committee HAS the facts. It has reported that the average wage paid pickers exceeded this figure by 30 or 40 cents. In addition, said the Senate committee, "there are numerous fringe benefits." And according to the U.S. Department of Agriculture, the farm workers of California earn hourly wages that average 42 per cent above farm workers in New York State!

The truth is that the Chavez organization is on a quest for power. Radical elements in the nation believe that agriculture is an area of major opportunity insofar as agitation and strife are concerned. They envision frequent use of boycotts, morals is something which nearly everyone sees exclusively in others.

Overcoming that odd notion could be a good Step Two. Step Three—without which One and Two will accomplish nothing—will be the realization that morality consists of respect for property; property in life, property in mind, property in body and property in goods and other things. In short, morality is present where theft is absent.

Wouldn't It Be Simpler, Hubert—?

A LOOK AT THE BOOK

By DR. BOB JONES

Pontius Pilate was not a vicious man. He was a coward. He lacked the courage of his convictions. He lacked the strength of character to defy public opinion. He was afraid to risk his political position by doing what he knew was right.

As a judge he found Christ innocent of the charges brought against Him. He said, "I find no fault in this man" (Luke 23:4). Law and conscience demanded that He be released, but the leaders of Israel were determined to have His blood and "Pilate gave sentence that it should be as they required" (Luke 23:24). Pilate preferred to see this "just man" slain rather than risk the enmity of the Jewish leaders. He was afraid of what they might say to Caesar and feared that their lies might cost him his position as governor of Judea.

There are still plenty of Pilates in politics and in every other business of life as well. They would like to do what they know to be right, but they are afraid to take position contrary to popular opinion. They think more of their own popularity than they do of justice. There are parents who permit their children to do things which are against their own conscience because other young people are doing these things, and because the parents lack the courage to be firm with their own children. There are teachers who compromise their convictions rather than offend some members of the school board. There are preachers who fail to preach against sin because they are afraid of stepping on the toe of some prominent member of the church.

We need nothing so much as firm conviction and the courage to stand by it. According to tradition, Pilate lost his position as governor of Judea after the crucifixion of Christ. He was recalled to Rome and sent into exile, where he died. Sacrificing his convictions, he sacrificed the respect of all men who knew from the Bible the story of his cowardice. The man who compromises always loses the respect of those whose love and favor he seeks to gain.

We repeat what the coveting commandment says: "Thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's house, thy neighbor's wife, his maid servant, or his ox, or his ass or his field, or anything that is thy neighbor's."

By forbidding coveting, the commandment recognizes that all acts begin in the mind and the heart. If one did not covet what belongs to his neighbor, he would not steal nor murder, nor do any unjust thing. By forbidding coveting and stealing and murder, the commandment recognizes that ownership of property is important and good. Of course, ownership includes ownership of one's self, one's ideas, and the right to make decisions and control his own actions. Ownership means management or control.

If people couldn't control or manage their own property, they wouldn't have any incentive to produce in order to acquire more property. All the good things of life—music, art, literature, the comforts of modern living—would not be produced for other people to purchase and enjoy if the producer did not want to produce and exchange for other property. If he cannot acquire more property and control his own property, he has no incentive to produce anything. If he were completely deprived of the ability to control his own property he would completely cease producing.

So the creative success of all depends upon all people honoring the commandment against covetousness. When we respect the property of others we develop a climate in which others and ourselves can and will create and produce the things that benefit all men. If people lived in harmony with the coveting commandment, we'd be much healthier, happier, more intelligent, more friendly, more kindly and more prosperous.

QUESTION: Can one be creatively successful if he fails to realize that justice and morality, as stated in the coveting commandment, cannot be separated or abridged from created success?

ANSWER: If one means by creatively successful, success in producing material and cultural goods and services that are of benefit to the producer and all mankind as distinguished from success in criminal or destructive activities which benefit no one, we would have to agree that such creative success cannot be separated from justice and morality, and that one of the best guides to justice and morality that man has formulated is the commandment against covetousness.

We repeat what the coveting commandment says: "Thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's house, thy neighbor's wife, his maid servant, or his ox, or his ass or his field, or anything that is thy neighbor's."

By forbidding coveting, the commandment recognizes that all acts begin in the mind and the heart. If one did not covet what belongs to his neighbor, he would not steal nor murder, nor do any unjust thing. By forbidding coveting and stealing and murder, the commandment recognizes that ownership of property is important and good. Branch Head Bill Says:

by BILL KENNEDY

WITH THE WALLACE CAMPAIGN—Being of a suspicious nature and knowing by instinct—"by just looking at 'em"—that some daily newspaper editors and some broadcast commentators and some columnists will lie to you . . . And having already proved it to my own satisfaction several times by being where they didn't say something happened when it did . . . And having heard and seen a lot about what they said was happening—when it wasn't . . . And too often hearing and seeing nothing at all about goings on with the Wallace Campaign . . . I decided to go along with George for awhile and find out what was going on.

Now I'm ready to tell you, they really don't "tell it like it is!"

They don't tell it that Wallace is overflowing auditoriums, halls and arenas that have never been filled for any kind of a political gathering.

On this trip we stopped in states where folks call themselves Southerners, Westerners and Midwesterners; if Harris and Gallop want to place some bets on the accuracy of their polls they can make the same bet on all kinds of odds in the states where they've said the Wallace percentage was in the teens . . . And in states where they can get even money that the American Party will carry the state.

For example, they said Wallace was running around 15 per cent in the Midwest—after he had 18 per cent of the registered voters in Ohio on petitions. And at Wallace gatherings where he asked for a show of hands of people who did not sign a petition, more than half said they didn't.

They don't tell it like it is about the crowds or the response Wallace gets. At one mid-morning meeting in a town in Missouri (Cape Girardeau) they had a grand-stand that seated 3,500 people and had added bleachers on each side that would seat another 1,000 each—and some were standing. To me that adds up to 5,500—odd. But back on the plane I heard one daily newspaper reporter say, "I'm gonna give him a thousand."

They tell you about "confrontation," none of which I witnessed, unless you want to call it a "confrontation" we saw in Kansas City. There were about 100 peaceful demonstrators across the street from the hotel—where more than 1,000 paid $25 a plate to have supper with Wallace—and a few boos at the American Royal Arena later. Seventeen thousand (you heard there were ten thousand) stood and cheered as policemen ushered these last out of the hall—for their own protection. (They also didn't tell about the 15,000 who paid $10 a ticket to welcome him home to Montgomery the following night.)

Unless "poor old Hubert" can heal his party-inflicted wounds—which seems more and more unlikely—the horse race is Wallace and Nixon.

Cartoonist Al Capp told a n Alabama audience recently that for every noisy supporter of George Wallace—the one who goes about telling everybody he is for him—he figures there are three more who are saying nothing, but who plan to vote for Wallace. If he is correct, Wallace will win. Even the pollsters note that there are more "silent" voters this time than in other election years. The way these silent and "undecided" voters decide in the last days of the campaign can decide the election.

They don't count the pieces of mail at Wallace Headquarters in Montgomery anymore—they measure it by the truck loads—one volunteer worker in the mail room told me, "Over 90 per cent of the letters have money in them." They don't always get the money counted after a day of fund-raising affairs either—they measure this by the suitcases and pillowcases full.

Yes sir! The race is on.

PAUL HARVEY NEWS

Uncle Sam's Spoiled Brats

Uncle Sam represents you and me—all of us—collectively.

Surely, as if he were a real "uncle," he wants only the best for us.

Surely, therefore, he must now be asking himself, "What did I do wrong?"

Kentucky tobacco growers pay $30 a day wages for unskilled tobacco harvesters.

Every harvest morning growers' trucks drive up to the unemployment office in Lexington, Ky., offering long lines of unemployed welfare recipients $30 for six hours work. Very few accept.

Most insist "that's not my line of work," and thus they legally perpetuate their parasitic existence.

How many such persons might—denied a handout—be motivated to become productive and eventually prosperous—there is no way to know.

But this we can measure: welfare roles continue to increase twice as fast as our population is increasing.

In New York City, 14,000 additional welfare recipients are added to the roles each month.

Welfare recipients have organized themselves into pressure groups demanding increase handouts. There is in New York a Citywide Co-ordination Committee of Welfare Groups seeking "to co-ordinate efforts of all the groups."

Nationally, there is the "National Welfare Rights Organization," which is tantamount to a union through which welfare recipients can channel some of their welfare dollars to paid lobbyists in Washington where they can demand more of your money. This NWRO claims to represent 200 affiliated groups in 35 states. Members flood welfare offices with applications for more aid and stage rallies, picket lines and fect the lives and property of the people living in that area and to suppress looting and rioting.

Switzerland is one of the most orderly, law-abiding, communities in the world. Every male citizen is required to own a rifle and to keep it in good condition at all times. He has received a minimum amount of training and can be mobilized at a moment's notice to keep the peace.

A similar plan might be useful in our country. At least it should be carefully investigated and evaluated.

sit-ins when they don't get "what we are entitled to."

Uncle Sam's well-intentioned generosity has spawned a generation of spoiled brats and the longer a baby is on pabulum—the more he cries at the weaning.

Any parent who remembers sweating for what he wanted is instinctively inclined to want things to be easier for his children—but history says of men and nations that ease most often breeds restiveness.

The fathers of our republic knew better than to promise to provide happiness; they guaranteed your right "to pursue happiness"; there's an important difference.

That is your right: to "pursue" it, not to "pursain" it.

Historically, the fact that others had more was an inspiration to Americans to work harder, loaf less, reach higher, improve themselves.

But with Hubert Humphrey now campaigning for a "50 per cent increase in Social Security benefits and more as needed . . ." one wonders.

It is possible, is it really possible that, despite all our enlightenment, politicians can still buy our votes . . . with our money?

The Almanac

Today is Monday, Oct. 14, the 288th day of 1968 with 78 to follow.

The moon is between its last quarter and new phase.

The morning stars are Mars and Jupiter.

The evening stars are Saturn and Venus.

On this day in history: In 1906, King Harold and his English forces were defeated by the Normans at the battle of Hastings.

In 1912, former President Theodore Roosevelt was shot in Milwaukee but refused to have the wound treated until he finished a speech. He recovered.

In 1933, Nazi Germany announced it would withdraw from the League of Nations by the end of 1934.

In 1949, an East German puppet state was set up by Soviet occupation authorities with headquarters in East Berlin.

A thought for the day: Poet Joaquin Miller said: "That man who lives for self alone lives for the meanest mortal known."

Backstairs at the campaign: WASHINGTON (UPI) — Republican Richard M. Nixon's comeback as the current darling of public opinion polls to win the presidency in November is all the more amazing when one realizes just how fleeting political fame can be.

It was only less than a year ago when he was trying for the GOP nomination over the primary route to Gov. George Romney of Michigan was a household word. Yet in Detroit the other day during the third World Series game between the Tigers and St. Louis Cardinals, two of the postcasters reporting the contest over national television happily announced that "Senator Romney" was on hand to root for the home team.

At the time, it seemed like a good idea for Democratic candidate Hubert H. Humphrey to attempt talking with so-called peace demonstrators as they tried to break up some of his recent political meetings, particularly on the Pacific Coast.

But Humphrey had to learn the hard way and his current intention is to ignore these people.

Peace Pickets

From watching the anti-Humphrey peace pickets at close range in San Francisco, Portland and Seattle, one conclusion seems inescapable: the last thing these activists want is conversation with anyone whose opinions, policies or position they oppose. Furthermore, they do not want to allow those with whom they disagree the right to speak.

It was possible to talk with several of the demonstrators who were thrown out of the Seattle auditorium by police for their shouting during Humphrey's speech.

One man was shouting at Humphrey through an electric bullhorn, saying, "Eichmann did not escape—you shall not escape."

After this fellow was thrown forcefully out of the building, a reporter asked him, "that reference to Eichmann—do you mean Humphrey should be executed?"

Fugate's Printing Keeps In Pace

In keeping with their reputation as "Pampa's progressive printers," Fugate's recently installed a large Royal Zenith offset press that will give Pampa business people all the advantages of the large-high speed lithographing equipment usually found only in the larger cities.

This outstanding piece of equipment will produce beautifully-printed sheets at speeds up to 8,500 sheets per hour, thus reducing the time required and greatly increasing the quality.

Fugate Printing has become known as the "modern printers" by supplying hundreds of carefully designed forms and stationery for Pampa and Top O' Texas business firms and organizations.

Fugate's, while specializing in the printing of business forms, also produces many other printed items: Brochures, catalogs, booklets, cards, tags, checks, programs and tickets. . . almost anything printed on paper or cardboard. Each order is given careful, personalized attention to the finest detail.

Bob Fugate, owner, has been known in Pampa for top quality printing and lithographing since 1951, and on this reputation, has expanded to the present large, modern printing plant at 210 North Ward Street.

Another printing service is the availability of the high quality steel die engraving. Those beautifully engraved wedding invitations, informal notes and business cards are available in many styles and prices. The more moderately priced "simulated engraving" is also available for those items.

Fugate's stocks a complete line of office supplies which includes all the popular brand names, Columnar sheets and pads, post and ring binders, filing folders and guides, expanding wallets, typewriter and pencil carbons, typewriter and adding-machine ribbons, mimeograph stencils and ink, duplicator master units and fluid, all kinds of tapes, paper fasteners, stapler and staples, pencils, ball point pens and refills, and hundreds of other items necessary for the efficient operation of any office.

You will also find in stock a good supply of cut and wrapped papers for mimeographing, duplicating and general typing. Many grades and colors are included, as well as legal ruled paper and second sheets.

Fugate's keeps on hand one of the largest assortments of envelope styles and sizes in the area.

In addition to their printing and lithographing service and office supplies, Fugate's offers the best copying service in the area. The "Xerox" method is used to make copies of almost any typed, drawn or printed material. Fugate's has 24 hour service on Xerox work and even "same-day service" at special prices.

Come by and see the friendly folks at Fugate Printing, located at 210 North Ward Street, or call MO 5-3431 for quick, free delivery.

BRAKE SERVICE — Buckingham Auto Service Center offers the finest available brake service. They use the new Star Ventilated Brake system. Shown above is the equipment used and Bill Turner, one of the men who services your needs when you stop at Buckingham's Auto Service Center.

Star Ventilated Brakes Sold At Buckingham Auto Service

When brakes heat up, stopping power goes down, according to Howard Buckingham, and that is why your car needs the new Star Ventilated Brakes for safe, sure stops, especially with winter on its way.

Brakes that stay cooler give top efficiency. Friction is what stops your car, and friction generates heat. The danger is that too much trapped heat can cause your brakes to fade when you need them most. That is why Buckingham Auto Service Center features new Star Ventilated Brakes. They are designed to allow free circulation of air through and around the linings, thus making them cooler for top efficiency. You get smoother, safer stops.

Buckingham reminds you that your car is only as safe as the brakes. Therefore, he suggests that you have them checked soon at Buckingham's Auto Service Center, 1800 N. Hobart, headquarters for Star Ventilated brakes.

Buckingham's Auto Center also features Goodyear tires and Sinclair oil and gas products. They do minor tune-ups. Stop in soon and get acquainted with them.

They honor all credit cards and if a customer has any major company credit card they can qualify for instant credit. They also have convenient budget plans for any purchase. Their phone number is MO 5-2201.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—Goodbody & Co. says that the stock market up to now might have largely reflected "the immediate favorable factors" in view of the "virtually uninterrupted" 80-point advance in the Dow Jones Industrial average since August. The analyst observes that some consolidation of recent gains would appear logical.

W.E. Hutton & Co. says that what the market discounts in advance is unlikely to be celebrated again when it happens, noting that while the income tax surcharge has not harmed the economy "it easily may hurt when people discover what it is doing to them early next year." The company suggests that investors be "less anxious"—not more anxious—"to spend money as prices move higher."

The Alexander Hamilton Institute says the generally expected correction from the two month climb in stock prices will be mild, and when the advance resumes "it will be at a much slower pace." It says resistance to the advance "is likely to develop" as the market approaches its 1966 high.

OLSON TOPS

NEW YORK (UPI)—Sophomore quarterback Steve Olson of the University of Idaho has become this season's first statistical double-leader among the nation's small college football players.

Weekly statistics released today showed Olson leading in total offense and forward passing. He has gained 1166 yards in total offense and 1112 yards passing. Vandal teammate Jerry Hendren tops the pass receivers with 666 yards and five touchdowns.
