For Humphrey

Democrats See Win Possibility

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Democratic political professionals have advised Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey that, polls to the contrary, he still has a chance of swinging the presidential election in the four weeks of campaigning remaining.

A document prepared by the Democratic National Committee finds the presidential race much closer than generally believed. It concludes that Humphrey could very well upset Richard M. Nixon.

The sizeup is the way Humphrey's top political advisers say they see the presidential race as it goes into the home stretch. If it is based on a rosy outlook, the professionals will be kidding themselves—and perhaps their candidate.

The in-house document discounts as misleading the national public opinion polls which indicate a Nixon landslide in the making.

The document reports that the national polls, by averaging out sampling of sentiment, show Humphrey behind in an entire region and fail to take into account wide swings from state to state.

The Democratic professionals acknowledge that Humphrey is "quite far behind" in some states and regions—notably the South and West. But it claims the polls give a distorted picture because the extent to which Humphrey will lose certain states will have no effect on the electoral vote.

For example: A candidate can lose a state by a wide margin and win another state narrowly with the electoral effect the same. But to average out the votes could mistakenly give both states to one candidate.

On the basis of statewide polls—all but one commissioned by the Democratic National Committee starting two weeks after the Chicago convention—the Humphrey political advisers see the current electoral college strength of the three presidential candidates as:

Humphrey—201.

Nixon—159.

George C. Wallace—92.

A total of 270 electoral votes is needed for election.

The document says the Democratic-sponsored polls are "close" to independent poll results.

The document frankly acknowledges that there is a "strong conservative trend" in the nation today. But it reminds Humphrey that Nixon and Wallace are splitting the conservative vote.

Frenchman Gets '68 Peace Prize

OSLO (UPI)—The 1968 Nobel Peace Prize was awarded today to French legal expert Rene Cassin.

Cassin was awarded the prize for his work in writing the United Nations Declaration on Human Rights.

It was the first peace prize since 1955 and carried a monetary award of $70,000. The Nobel Peace Prize Committee decided not to award a prize for the year 1967, and the $64,000 for that year will be added to the general Nobel fund.

Cassin, 81, who was born in Bayonne in southern France, was a member of the committee which in 1946 formulated the Human Rights Declaration together with the late Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Marine Column Attacked

By ALVIN B. WEBB Jr.
SAIGON (UPI)—North Vietnamese soldiers swarmed out of the jungle near Thuong Duc before dawn today and tried to overrun a column of 300 U.S. Marines pushing toward a threatened American Green Beret camp.

UPI correspondent Nat Gibson said the Marines turned back the Communist attack and killed three guerrillas. They expected to find more bodies later, Marines described their

U.S. sources told Gibson the Communists had pulled away from the Green Beret camp guarding the infiltration corridor toward Da Nang, South Vietnam's second largest city. But the Reds shelled the camp Tuesday and shot down a plane. (See MARINE, Page 3)

Government Wants In On World Series Baseball Pool In Denver

DENVER (UPI)—A 25-year-old civilian employe at the U.S. Air Reserve Personnel Center complained Tuesday that the government was trying to muscle in on his world series baseball pool.

James Calhoun, a records clerk at the center, said he was ordered to stop operating his daily baseball pool or else give 10 per cent of the action to the combined federal campaign.

He said he was told he would face prosecution by the U.S. Attorney's Office for gambling on government property if he didn't.

Matson To Get Pampa's Backing

World champion shot putter Randy Matson will make his first 1968 official Olympic throw Monday and he'll know that plenty of Pampans are wishing him well.

Chamber of Commerce manager E.O. Wedgeworth said Tuesday that the chamber will send Matson a telegram Saturday wishing him luck.

Wedgeworth said that any person desiring to send a telegram should do so by Saturday so he will receive it in time.

House Behind Closed Doors To Discuss Television Debates

Top News In Brief

SAIGON (UPI)—President Nguyen Van Thieu today enforced a special police and troop alert throughout Saigon to head off possible threats to his government by factions opposing the return from exile of Gen. Duong Van "Big" Minh.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The First Lady's press secretary, referring to herself as "a mere pinfeather on a lame duck," says President Johnson is so relaxed these days that he's leaving the White House lights on.

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Richard M. Nixon is courting the dissident Democrats who lost with Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy. In doing so, the Republican presidential nominee is concentrating primarily on "the swingers" and raising the tempo of his campaign.

NEW YORK (UPI)—A new poll of presidential prospects indicated today Hubert H. Humphrey has taken a lead over Richard M. Nixon among voters who watched or read about Humphrey's television statement that he would consider a bombing halt over North Vietnam.

BOSTON (UPI)—Hubert H. Humphrey, calling for an end to ghetto riots, today promised to maintain highly trained National Guard troops on constant alert to quell slum violence.

"Rioting in American cities must stop," Humphrey said in a tough-talk speech which ridiculed the anticrime campaigns of his opponents for the presidency, Richard M. Nixon and George C. Wallace.

Price Signs Fair Practices Code

Congressman Bob Price last week joined the chairmen of both major political parties in signing the Code of Fair Campaign Practices and pledged to observe its principles.

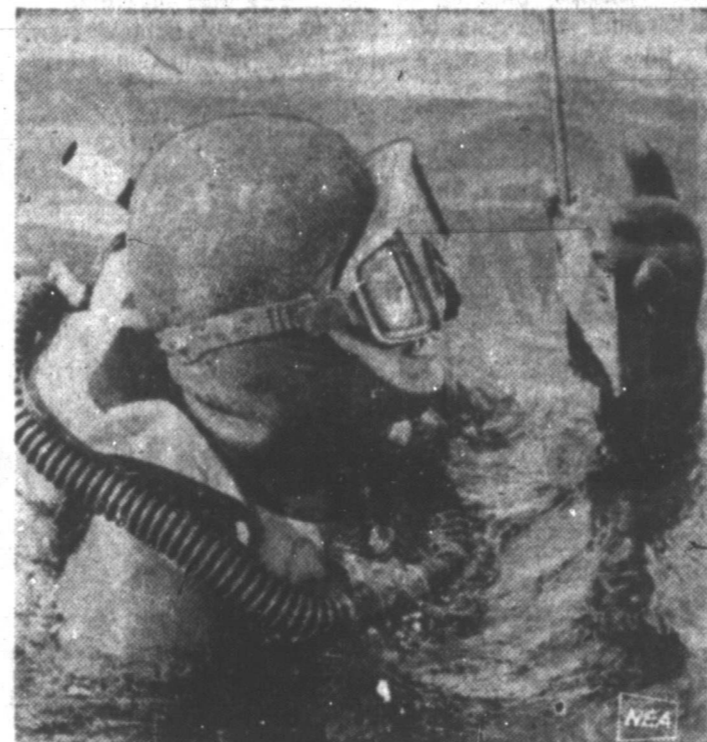

The Code of Fair Campaign Practices contains seven basic principles, all designed to insure fair play in politics. One of them condemns the "use of personal vilification, character defamation, whispering campaign, libel, slander, or scurrilous attacks on any candidate or his personal or family life."

Price said the Code also includes a pledge to discuss the issues "as I see them, presenting my record and policies with frankness, and criticizing without fear or favor the record and policies of my opponent and his party which merit such criticism."

Price also said the Code includes a pledge to condemn any appeal to prejudice based on race, creed, or national origin as well as the use of any campaign material which misrepresents, distorts or otherwise falsifies the facts regarding any candidate.

Price further stated, "I am running for a purpose, not against any person or any group."

Apollo Seven Moving To The Launch Pad

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI)—As proof of America's moon drive speedup, engineers today primed Apollo 7 for Friday's launch and prepared to move Apollo 8 to another launch pad for a possible flight to the moon in December.

The Apollo 8 mooncraft and its giant Saturn 5 rocket were set to rise on a mammoth turtle-like tractor from the Saturn's assembly building to its ocean-side launch pad three miles away.

If He Will End The Bombing

N. Viet Say LBJ Can End The War

PARIS (UPI)—North Vietnam said today a peaceful solution to the Vietnam War could be found during President Johnson's remaining days in office if he orders a complete halt in U.S. air raids against the North.

Wui Xuan Thuy, the chief Hanoi negotiator, said at today's 25th negotiating session that an end to the air strikes "enough time and power" to initiate a peaceful solution by ending the bombing.

US Reaffirms...

No Halt In Bombing

PARIS (UPI)—The United States today reaffirmed it will not halt bombing North Vietnam until Hanoi agrees to a reciprocal act of de-escalating the Vietnam War.

"There has been no change in the American position. There has been no change whatsoever on their (Hanoi's) part," said W. Averell Harriman, U.S. chief delegate to talks here with North Vietnam.

His statement to newsmen dampened speculation in Paris that President Johnson might order a complete halt to the bombardment of North Vietnam to help Vice President Hubert

Heart Transplant Duo's Condition Listed As Good

HOUSTON (UPI)—Two Houston heart transplants in Methodist Hospital were in excellent condition Tuesday, but a third heart transplant, Verne L. Martin, entered his second week of unconsciousness.

Dusan Vlaco, 16, of Elemir, Yugoslavia, and Bernard E. Pfohl, 57, of Jacksonville, Fla., have been out of bed periodically, and spend their time watching television, reading and visiting with their relatives, a hospital spokesman said.

Vlaco received the heart of Dolphus Wingate of Houston Sept. 18. Pfohl, an engineer, received the heart of Robert Gordon Muir, 46, of Baytown, Tex., Sept. 19. Muir died of a self-inflicted bullet wound. Martin, a 46-year-old Mesa, (See HEART, page 3)

Doors Are Locked In Effort To End Delay

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Deadlocked in round-the-clock session since noon Tuesday, the House of Representatives today finally got to the troublesome question of whether to permit televised debates by the major presidential candidates.

House Republicans, however, threatened to continue their delaying tactics on procedural matters to hold off consideration of the measure, which has the support of the Democratic leadership.

In an unprecedented move this morning, speaker John W. McCormack ordered the House chamber doors locked in retaliation to the Republican tactic of calling time-consuming quorum and roll calls during the night.

One Republican member broke out of the locked chamber but was forced to return.

The reading of the lengthy journal was completed at 7:45 a.m., some 20 hours after the clerk began reading it shortly after noon on Tuesday.

McCormack then ordered the doors unlocked and the House began to move on the controversial "equal time" bill, which left the House subject to more delaying tactics by the Republicans.

The doors were locked at 6 a.m. EDT.

Rep. Robert Taft, R-Ohio, announced he was not going to let himself be locked in. When a door was unlocked to allow another member to visit the men's room—under escort—Taft bolted. He scuffled briefly with sergeant at arms Zeke W. Johnson Jr., and another door attendant.

Planting himself in the corridor, Taft challenged Johnson to arrest him.

McCormack sent word to Johnson to inform Taft he was in violation of House rules, but not to arrest him. Violating the rules may be punishable by censure of the House.

Taft returned to the floor and was greeted with wild applause. (See HOUSE, Page 3)

Arabs Silent On Israeli Plan For Mideast Peace

UNITED NATIONS (UPI)—Arab leaders today gave the silent treatment to Israel's nine-point plan for peace in the Middle East.

Any of the 13 Arab League nations were entitled to the "right to reply" to the Israeli plan, presented Tuesday in the U.N. General Assembly.

None of the Arab countries requested the right.

The Israeli plan detailed in assembly debate by Foreign Minister Abba Eban would give Israeli diplomatic recognition by Arab nations, something the Arabs have always refused.

"The 1967 war must be the last of the wars in the Middle East," Eban told the assembly. Every Arab foreign minister and delegation chief except the Saudi Arabian delegate walked out before Eban took the rostrum.

The main points of the Israeli peace plan were:

—Direct Arab-Israeli agreement on a "just and lasting peace" with contractual agreement on "secure and recognized borders." Eban did not specify what the new territorial arrangements would be.

—Equal and free passage for Israeli ships through the Suez Canal and the Gulf of Aqaba along with the ships of Egypt.

Five Russians Being Tried For Czech Invasion Demonstrations

MOSCOW (UPI)—Shouting "fascist" and "swine" about 100 persons today scuffled with police blocking the door to a court trying five Russians for demonstrating against the Soviet bloc invasion of Czechoslovakia.

The street violence erupted in the heart of Moscow after the police tried to halt the signing of a petition protesting the public being barred from the trial.

Among the five defendants was Dr. Pavel Litvinov, 38-year-old grandson of the late Soviet foreign minister and ambassador to the United States and London, Maxim Litvinov. The five were arrested Aug. 25 moments after unfurling in Red Square, banners with such phrases as "Hands off Czechoslovakia."

In the street outside the courthouse, retired Maj. Gen. Piotr Grigorenko set down a small table and began collecting signatures on the petition, witnesses said. They said a volunteer policeman wearing the red scarf and black beret of his post grabbed and began ripping the paper.

Someone grabbed the policeman's arms. The scuffling began. The policeman and his assistant were sent crashing

LeMay: 'I'm Peace-Loving Guy'

By RANDOLPH PENDLETON
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Retired Gen. Curtis LeMay, contemplating the storm stirred up by his remarks about nuclear weapons, remarked plaintively, "I'm a peace-loving guy."

The former Air Force chief of staff, in an interview with United Press International after his first week of campaigning as the running mate of presidential candidate George Wallace, brought up the subject of nuclear weapons himself.

He said he felt his remarks had been misunderstood and he wanted to set the record straight.

In a news conference at Pittsburgh Thursday in which his vice-presidential candidacy was announced, LeMay complained of a national "phobia" about nuclear weapons and added "I think to most military men a nuclear weapon is just another weapon in arsenal."

In explaining his statements and trying to quiet the controversy, LeMay told UPI that because of the many factors involved and the necessity of keeping the enemy in doubt, it was impossible to say exactly under what conditions nuclear weapons would be used but "I don't want to use them in Vietnam."

"If you're in a poker game with a bunch of card sharps and you tell them you never bluff and you never draw to an inside straight, I guarantee you're not going to do very well in that poker game," he said.

He then drew another analogy. "When someone molests you on the streets—as happens increasingly these days—when do you use your fists? When he takes your tie? When he takes your wallet? When he breaks your arm? When he breaks your leg? When he takes your life? It's a hard decision to make."

One answer to the question of when the nuclear bomb should be used is "at the last possible moment to insure the survival of the country," LeMay said. But the 61-year-old general refused to say this was the only answer, since he said, "circumstances can change."

"We've got a stockpile of nuclear weapons," he said. "They're under command of the commander-in-chief. The President has the responsibility for the defense of the country and he has to make up his mind." LeMay and Wallace could hardly offer a greater contrast in campaign styles as they toured the Midwest and Northeast last week.

Wallace, the polished political performer, stepped to the front of the stage to acknowledge welcoming ovations, blowing kisses and saluting the crowd.

LeMay, the rough-hewn, gray-haired soldier, lingered in the background extending his arm in an awkward wave and forcing a self-conscious smile.

Public speaking, LeMay says, "is not my favorite sport."

Nonetheless he said he felt it was his duty to enter politics in an effort "to change the trends in this country."

Asked what trends he meant, he replied, "I'm worried about the same things everybody else is—Vietnam, the money problem, crime, anarchy. I think the majority of citizens want something positive done about this."

He then added another problem: "who has been thinking about the poor GI?" he asked. "Who's going to speak for them?"

LeMay, who plans to begin campaigning on his own soon, said he was pleased with what he had seen his first week with Wallace.

"I've sort of gotten a liberal education," he said, repeating a joke he has used in brief

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Generally speaking, stockbrokers are high class fellows. A bit oversexed perhaps, but nice.

My own broker is Charlie Ogle, a member of the Wall Street firm of Ziegfeld & Minsky. He has a seat on the stock exchange, otherwise known as "bald head row."

I couldn't ask for a better investment counselor than Charlie. Especially when he has his mind on stocks.

The other day I called up Charlie to get the latest quotations on three of my holdings.

"Forty-three, twenty-five, thirty-seven," he said.

Something in the way he said "possibly the note of wonder-remarks at rallies. But he said he was "surprised at the size of the crowds and the enthusiasm, so I'm pretty optimistic."

In 1963, William Gladstone, British chancellor of the Exchequer, predicted that the American Confederacy would remain separated from the northern United States permanently.

In 1916, the most staggering defeat in football history occurred when Georgia Tech trounced Cumberland College, 222 to 0.

keep hearing a low whistling noise."

"Sorry, I was looking out the window again."

"What's happening out there?"

"There's a big crowd in the street and everyone is pushing and shoving and trying to climb on somebody else's shoulders."

"Sounds like a panic."

"Yeah, I think I had better get down there where I can get a closer look."

As I was saying, stockbrokers basically are decent fellows. But how you gonna keep 'em down at Down-Jones after they've seen Francine?

ment in his voice—made me suspicious.

I said, "Did you see those figures on the ticker?"

"No, I saw them through the window."

"Are they over the counter?"

"If they are anywhere near the counter they are over it," Charlie said.

By this time I was really suspicious, I said, "Have you got asthma or some other respiratory trouble, Charlie? You seem to be breathing heavily."

"I'll be okay as soon as I move away from the window," he said.

"All right, then, let's get down to business. Do you think the market is going to be dominated by the bulls or the bears?"

"Right now it looks like the wolves are in control," Charlie said "Woooooeeeeee."

"There must be something wrong with this connection. I

Meantime the 34th procedural roll call since Tuesday noon was in progress, a delaying tactic comparable to the Senate filibuster. Besides ordering the lock-up, McCormack ordered the sergeant at arms to notify the 111 absent members to return to the chamber immediately.
This would include congressmen who are campaigning in their home districts.
McCormack acted after the Democratic majority in the House shouted approval of a motion invoking a rule authorizing the lock-up. Veteran members said the rule had never been used before to their knowledge.
The rule provided that members answering the next quorum call be locked in the chamber until action on the pending legislation is completed.
The legislation would suspend the equal-time provision of current communications law so television networks could offer free time for Humphrey, Richard M. Nixon and George Wallace to debate without having to do the same for lesser presidential candidates.
Humphrey joined House Democrats in charging Republican congressmen with stymieing action on the bill to protect Nixon, who has side-stepped repeated challenges from Humphrey to debate on television.
Republicans replied their filibuster was aimed at forcing action on congressional and election reform bills buried in the Rules Committee and had nothing to do with Nixon.

SIC Stockholders Vote to Increase Common Shares
AMARILLO (Spl) — In a special meeting yesterday Southwestern Investment Co. stockholders voted to increase the authorized common shares from 1,300,000 shares to 2,500,000 shares. The additional authorized shares will be available for use in connection with possible future financings, acquisitions and other corporate purposes.
R. Earl O'Keefe, chairman of the board, announced consolidated net earnings for the year ended August 31, 1968, subject to final audit, of $1,061,170, compared to $1,656,513 for the preceding year. After deducting preferred stock dividends, earnings for the current year were $1.40 per common share compared to $1.24 on a per share basis. This is a high for the company. Adjusted earnings (recognizing the increase in insurance in force in the life insurance subsidiaries and the changes in equity in unearned casualty premium reserves) were $1.59 per share, compared to $1.25 per share for the previous year. The adjusted book value per share for Aug. 31, 1968, was $19.43 and the reported book value per share was $14.36.

Cold Front Drops Temperatures, Brings Storms
A Pacific cold front plummeted through the Panhandle late last night, touching off some thunderstorms with high winds and hail, causing temperatures to plunge.
A thunderstorm with high winds and a brilliant lightning display hit Pampa shortly before midnight and dropped 28 inches of rain.
Tornado warnings were issued for areas of the Panhandle yesterday evening. A tornado was reported about 30 miles south of Perryton, but no damage was reported. Three inches of rain was recorded in the area.
Canadian received an inch of moisture, with Perryton reporting a trace. Most of the storm activity was in the eastern portion of the Panhandle.
Heavy rain, strong winds and hail were reported in the South Plains region. Hail three and one-half inches in diameter was reported in Ralls, near Lubbock.
Temperatures were expected to be 10 to 20 degrees lower behind the front as it moves southward. Temperatures were ranging in the 40s and 50s early today in the Panhandle. Pampa had failed to reach 50 shortly before noon.

the Vietnam problem, a settlement that would be beneficial to the Vietnamese people and the American people and world peace.
The Hanoi delegate said that "since the very beginning of these conversations, had President Johnson responded to our reasonable and sensible proposals, the Paris conversations would not have lasted as long as five months without any progress."
Harriman rejected the Hanoi accusations. He put the blame for the stalemate on North Vietnam, and pleaded again for a reciprocal deescalation of the war by the Communists.
They coupled his call for a complete and unconditional bombing halt with a warning that a failure to meet his demand will mean more fighting in Vietnam.
"If the United States only gives lip service to peace, while in fact refusing to embark on the path of peace, and pursuing its war of aggression, the Vietnamese people will resolutely fight in accordance with the President Ho Chi Minh's appeal," he said.
In his 10-page statement, the Hanoi delegate repeated the usual charges that the United States was an aggressor and that the Saigon government was a "handful of rotten lackeys."
Before the session started Harriman scotched reports that his deputy, Cyrus R. Vance, had brought new instructions from the President after a week of consultations in Washington.
Asked whether there has been any change in the U.S. position, Harriman said, "none whatsoever."
"We have been very plain," Harriman said, "that it is the other side that is holding up negotiations."
"We have made offer after offer. They have stood firmly and stubbornly on the position that they took when we first met in early May."

Comer Now Gray Judge
Harold Comer, named yesterday by the Gray County Bar Association to be interim judge, was sworn in at a ceremony around 1:30 yesterday afternoon in the county clerk's office after posting a $5,000 bond required of public officials.
Comer was named to the post after County Judge S.R. Lenning Jr., who has been hospitalized and is expected to be in convalescence for about a month, requested that the bar association name a special judge to handle routine matters while he was gone.
Texas statutes provide that a bar association may name an interim official if the elected official is unable to carry out his duties.
Comer was busy today carrying out the routine business of the county judge, including talks with Juvenile Officer Bill Leonard and handling several criminal cases.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Ron and I have been married for four years. We have three small children, and I think I'm pregnant again.

Ron expects me to wash his hair, manicure his nails (fingers and toes), pick up his dirty clothes, keep the car washed and in running order, and no matter how tired I am, I have to stay up until he's ready to go to bed.

He also expects me to get up before he does so his breakfast will be on the table as soon as he opens his eyes.

I loved him when I married him, but I'm not so sure any more. I think you have the picture. What I want to know is how do you get a man who expects so much to settle for less?

"HAD IT" IN CHICAGO

DEAR HAD IT: Don't throw the whole book at him at once. Let him have it a page at a time. Start by telling Ron he's expecting too much. And for a wife who's not "sure" of her "love," you're expecting too often.

DEAR ABBY: My 16-year-old daughter has lots of cute young girl friends who come to our house often. I don't mind that, in fact I enjoy having them, but my husband enjoys it too much.

He puts the records on, and asks them to dance. He is overly familiar with them, squeezing them, hugging them, and even trying to kiss them. He tries to get them to sit on his lap, and in general he makes an old fool out of himself.

Not wanting to hurt his feelings, they go along with it, but I can see how pained they are when he tries to pull one of them down on his lap.

Should I tell these girls to discourage him? Or should I tell this old jackass to act his age?

DISGUSTED

DEAR DISGUSTED: — Why not cover all the bases, and do both?

DEAR ABBY: This morning a young woman came to my

Your Horoscope

JEANE DIXON

Your birthday today: The coming year promises many opportunities in increased earnings. Your intuitive powers tend to expand according to your needs. Today's natives often possess personal magnetism that brings them easy public notice.

ARIES (Mar. 21-Apr. 19): It's a lively day in all departments. Beginning with the mental pursuits, get right out and use your own particular abilities.

TAURUS (Apr. 30 - May 20): Return to normal today. Get an early start; put in a full day. If something has to be done for the first time put it off. (Until tomorrow.)

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Concentrate on activities in progress rather than new plans. Push right ahead despite the tendency of others to take things easy.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): If you have the choice, this is a day to stay in the background. You can get a lot more done outside the glare of public attention. Pick up the pieces and rearrange them for the future.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Use the chance to catch up with details. Personal relationships level out. Find a small party tonight. Prepare for a rush tomorrow.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Important changes are to be put off! The energetic presentation of these plans is more strongly favored tomorrow.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): A some what quiet day gives you more chance to think what you are doing with your life, and what you may want to do for a future. There is no law that says you have to stay put; quite the contrary.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Planning, rather than action, is the byword for the day. Check out accounts, so you know precisely where you are. Find quiet corner and catch up on serious reading.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) Nobody is going to help you do much of anything today. Get out and do something with your sports or pastimes. Your studies are important tonight.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Use the lightness of the day to clear your calendar of left-over items. Tidy up for the change of course which is coming soon.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18):

The program theme for the annual Desk and Derrick Industry Appreciation meeting Thursday will be "Progress, Prosperity and People."

B. D. Chandler, industrial relations director of Phillips Petroleum Co., Odessa, will be guest speaker for the annual bosses' night program.

Chandler, a native of Adair County, Oklahoma, lived on farm land allotted to the Cherokee Indians after their march over the "Trail of Tears," in the mid-19th century. Himself a three-eighths Cherokee, he attended the Chilocco Indian School.

Employed in the oil fields since 1942, he started in the business as a laborer in a maintenance gang and advanced to his position as industrial relations director for the Southwest Region of Phillips.

A member of Toastmasters International, he has served in all offices and won an area speech contest. For two years he was captain of the Odessa Chamber of Commerce membership committee, the Rangers.

C. C. Mitchell, editor of "Whirlpool," a Pool Co., publication, and industry appreciation speaker for 1967, will introduce Chandler.

Rho Eta Chapter Has County Fair For Rush Party

Rho Eta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sponsored a rush party in the Little Red School House recently with a "County Fair" theme. Booths were set up for serving food.

Charlie Thompson assisted by Dwan Blakemore called bingo numbers and distributed play money to winners. Prizes were given to the man and woman with the most money.

Those attending were Messrs. and Mrs. Tommy Hill, Jack Zuerker, Richard Serrurier, Buddy Williams, Milton Cotter, James Lee, Charles Snider, Warren Chisum, Bill Morehead, Jim Cunningham, Dwan Blakemore, Ronald Beard, Charlie Thompson, Jesse Hoermann, Robert Benysek, Mrs. Sue Miller, and the sponsor, Mrs. Majunta Hills.

The Girl Scouting Program is in full swing. Committees for camping, public relations and program met during September to discuss future plans.

An orientation meeting for adults new to the Girl Scout program was held recently at the Girl Scout Little House. Attending were Mmes. Ray Mills, Eugene Stubbs, Gene Leigh, Tom Darby, Doris Tackett, C. J. Welch, Claude Ferrel, Clent Stewart and Harold Burris. Mrs. T. M. Whiteley conducted this training.

Neighborhood Service Team training is scheduled for Oct. 14 and 17, 9:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. at the Girl Scout Little House. A sack lunch is requested for neighborhood chairmen, troop organizers and troop consultants. Those attending are requested to bring a sack lunch.

Group Leadership Training is planned Oct. 22, 24, and 29 from 9:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the Girl Scout Little House. A sack lunch is requested. Troop leaders, assistants, committee members or anyone not having had this training are requested to attend. Registration before Oct. 14 is necessary. This course will be cancelled if less than eight are registered by this date.

Registration for this course, as for all others, may be made by phone, Girl Scout office MO 4-6862 or Quivira Girl Scout Council, Box 459, Pampa.

Oct. 18 is the deadline for registration for a craft course to be given by Mrs. Del Davis. This session is scheduled for Nov. 15 at the Girl Scout Little House. A salad luncheon is planned for the event. A maximum number of 20 with pre-registration is necessary to allow Mrs. Davis enough time to prepare needed supplies.

A Brownie Holiday is scheduled for 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., Oct. 19 at Camp Mel Davis. Each Brownie will have a day of Scouting fun planned and organized by Senior Troop 2, Mrs. J. P. Brumley, advisor, said.

A Do-It-Yourself Cadette Camporee is planned for October to promote more and better Cadette Troop camping in the council, according to Mrs. Cecil Smyth, Camporee director.

Lots of haberdashery for fall has been borrowed from the boys and spiced up with the thirties flavor.

Episcopal Women Attend Luncheon To Hear Speaker

The women of St. Matthews Episcopal Church met for a luncheon meeting recently at Furr's Cafeteria. Mrs. J. R. Porter, Shamrock, speaker, presented a program on world relief, and discussed areas she had visited.
She has recently been appointed by the bishop to the Bishop's Committee for World Relief. She reminded the women of the Episcopal Laywomen's conference at the Conference Center north of Amarillo this weekend.
Pampan attending the conference are Mrs. Ruth Huff, Mrs. Eddie Huston and Mrs. Edythe Jackson.
Not surprisingly, the models chosen by Paris couturiers are becoming much curvier than the traditional skin and bones stereotype high fashion mannequin. The flat chested look became passé almost overnight when Yves St. Laurent introduced the see-through top last season and a new crop of curvier models was ready this time for more transparent looks and daring necklines.

Federalism Due Czechs

By JAMES O. JACKSON
PRAGUE (UPI) — Czechoslovakia is one word, but it is not one nation. There lies a problem the Russians are exploiting.

It is made up of Czechs and Slovaks, two proud national cultures with different languages and strong rivalries that have plagued Czechoslovakia since its birth 50 years ago.

The old problem of Czech-Slovak relations has cropped up again as a key issue in the struggle between Czechoslovakia and its Soviet occupiers.

The Kremlin has indicated that it intends to use the planned federalization of the country as a means of gaining firmer control over both Czechs and Slovaks.

On Oct. 28, after half a century of political ferment, the Slovaks will realize their old dream of cultural independence. Federalization, one of the reforms promised by the leader Alexander Dubcek, is scheduled to go into effect that day, the anniversary of the country's founding. Under the system, the two national language groups will each have their own national administrative systems—from Interior Ministry to dog catcher—plus an umbrella organization similar to the federal government of the United States.

How strong the federal leadership will be is yet to be administrative systems—from have a hand in making the decision.

Actually, the Slovaks have had many of their own administration organizations for years, but now they are successfully demanding that the Czechs create their own.

In past years, the Czechs, living in the prosperous lands of Bohemia and Moravia, dominated the country's culture and economy and the national bureaucracy was, in fact, the Czech bureaucracy.

The Soviets will have a chance to influence the formation of the Czech side of the new Communist party and governmental structure, much of which must be organized from scratch.

Organize Czech Party
The first target is the Communist party in Czech-speaking Bohemia and Moravia. The ideological makeup of the new Czech party leadership will largely be determined by how they are chosen.

The Czechs are seeking to elect a new central committee at a party congress to be summoned in mid-October. The congress delegates have been elected since the fall of Antonin Novotny's Stalinist regime, and the liberal delegates would out all the hard-lining central committee members.

The Kremlin, on the other hand, is insisting that the Czech party's central committee be made up of the Bohemian and Moravian members of the present national central committee. The many Novotny-era holdovers still firmly entrenched in the central committee would give the Czech party leadership a heavily conservative, pro-Soviet tinge.

1965 WAS A GOOD YEAR for swans, but not for people, as the Thames rose up and came to within six inches of flooding London at the rate of 550 million gallons of water an hour. This picture was taken at Putney, not far from London.

Nixon Ahead In Indiana

By BOYD GILL
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI)—There are two forgotten men in the Indiana election campaign—Lyndon B. Johnson and Hubert H. Humphrey.

Richard M. Nixon appears to be so far ahead in the quest for Indiana's 13 electoral votes that the Democrats have put their bets on keeping Birch Bayh in the Senate and another Democrat in the governor's office.

Some polls show George C. Wallace running so close to Humphrey he could pass him and place No. 2 in Indiana.

Bayh and Lt. Gov. Robert L. Rock, who won the state convention nomination for governor by a two-vote margin, are going it alone. Humphrey gets scant mention.

Humphrey has not helped himself among Hoosiers. Nixon has been in the state at least once since his nomination; Humphrey has not.

The Republicans have a problem of their own—apathy. So certain are the GOP leaders—from the grassroots on up—that Nixon is a shoo-in to carry Indiana, they are finding it difficult to work up a head of steam.

Nixon carried Indiana against John F. Kennedy in 1960, by more than 222,000 votes, his best margin in any state. Johnson won over Barry Goldwater four years later by 260,000.

Many polls—even those made public by the GOP leadership—have Bayh fairly comfortably ahead of Republican state Rep.

William Rickelshaus of Indiana polls.

The polls show a close contest between Rock and Secretary of State Edgar D. Whitcomb, a handsome attorney who survived an eight-hour nighttime swim from the Japanese prison on Corregidor during World War II.

As for Wallace, some polls show his third party candidacy 1 or 2 percentage points ahead of Humphrey, down around the 20 per cent mark, while Nixon is up above 40.

In 1917, the War Department announced it would build 20,000 planes to fight Germany—a move most Americans felt was a waste of money.

Humphrey Leads In Minnesota

By WILLIAM FOX
MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (UPI)—Hubert H. Humphrey has beaten and badgered Minnesota Republicans for 20 years, but this year old enemies have high hopes of getting their own back.

At this point, Humphrey appears to have a narrow but growing lead in his home state. But officials of both parties have said privately the race could go either way with the followers of Minnesota's Eugene J. McCarthy perhaps playing a decisive role.

Republicans wrote off Minnesota as Humphrey's early in the campaign and seemed almost shocked to find Richard M. Nixon leading by 5 points in a September poll.

Nixon had not been scheduled to campaign in Minnesota. But he was quickly persuaded to make an appearance at a Minneapolis rally.

Some political observers give Nixon at least a 50-50 chance of carrying the state. They point out he lost Minnesota in 1960 by only 20,000 votes.

But even Republicans admit it will be tough to beat Humphrey in this state unless, as one party seer said, his national campaign "goes all to pieces."

A Minneapolis Tribune poll, which showed Nixon ahead in September, had Humphrey leading by one point in a later survey. A Democratic-sponsored poll showed Humphrey ahead 49-33 at mid-September.

Warren Spannaus, state chairman of the Democratic-Farmer-

Labor Party (DFL), said the vice president would carry the state by 100,000 votes.

George Thiss, Minnesota's GOP chairman, said Nixon has "an extremely good chance in Minnesota, much better than we thought we would with Humphrey on the ticket."

The key could well be how much help Humphrey gets from devotees of his old friend Sen. McCarthy.

McCarthy forced took over three congressional districts in the Twin Cities area last spring and party regulars had all they could do to keep them from overwhelming the state organization.

The Vietnam War continues to be a big issue in Minnesota, especially among Democrats.

A few McCarthy leaders announced qualified support for Humphrey after he said he would be willing to stop bombing North Vietnam.

Spannaus said more and more McCarthy people were falling in line behind Humphrey. "We expect to get all but a few of the extremists who we knew we could never get anyway," he said.

Quotes From The News

WASHINGTON—David Dellinger, a leader in the antiwar demonstrations at the Democratic National Convention in Chicago, commenting on a hearing by the House Committee on Un-American Activities Committee (HUAC) on the demonstrations:

"We will continue to advance in the streets, in the courts—despite such kangaroo hearings as we see here in the HUAC Committee."

WASHINGTON—Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., who led the fight to block Senate approval of Abe Fortas as chief justice, commenting on the withdrawal of Fortas' name:

"A chief justice should have widespread support among the people and within the Senate. In view of the obvious deep division and controversy, it is a wise decision."

In 1960, Soviet Premier Khrushchev wrecked a Paris summit meeting by saying he would not meet with President Eisenhower unless the Chief Executive admitted American spy flights over Russia were acts of aggression.

In 1965, Pope Paul made a historic 14-hour visit to New York City to plead for world peace before the United Nations.

In 1935, Italian dictator Benito Mussolini launched an attack on Ethiopia.

Ray Thompson Says;

I believe the Governor of the State of Texas should be elected for a four year term instead of the present two years. Then limit the office to two consecutive terms. As it now stands our Governor spends too much time and money running for the office over two years.

Foreign News Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

During a little more than five years in office, urbane and imaginative President Fernando Belaunde Terry of Peru was a man who thought "big."

Big in terms of a $215 million highway opening up the jungles east of the Andes, of huge hydro-electric projects, of irrigation to more than quadruple Peru's arable land.

It was the "little" things that finally got him, mounting world market for fishmeal, rising unemployment and finally a long-standing dispute over oil which nationalists charged sold out Peruvian interests.

At 2:30 in the morning of Oct. 3, the Peruvian military roused him from his bed and sent him off to exile in Argentina. And another freely elected Latin American president had failed to finish out his term.

The agreement which toppled Belaunde concerned the $180 million International Petroleum Company, a subsidiary of Standard Oil of New Jersey, and a dispute going back to the last century.

Peruvian nationalists long had demanded expropriation of the company. Two months ago, Belaunde reached agreement for the return of the rich Brearinas oil fields. But the nationalists exploded when it was learned the agreement also cancelled a $50 million claim on back taxes and granted new exploration and development rights.

The oil dispute, however, only supplied the excuse for action by military leaders impatient with the progress of Peru's latest experiment in democracy.

Problems Unsolved

An opposition congress intent only upon discrediting Belaunde had played politics with the country's future. Problems involving vitally needed agricultural, industrial and tax reforms remained unsolved.

Peru, blessed with great natural riches and family fortunes of more than $100 million not uncommon, still had a per capita income of only about $300 annually.

To maintain the nation's prosperity, the government relied upon public works and short term loans which finally pushed the national debt to $200 million.

HOW'S BUSINESS?

Mobile Homes Fill Vital Housing Need

By The Babson Staff

One of the bright spots in the current economic picture is the surge in the production and sale of mobile homes. Indeed, this is one of the faster growing sectors of the economy. This is reflected in the extremely high regard in which investors have held the stock of publicly owned mobile home producers during the past year or so. These issues have appreciated in market value by remarkable percentages.

Currently, the mobile homes producers are turning out units at an all-time-high rate, and no slackening of the record pace is anticipated for some time to come. During first half of 1968, nearly 145,000 such homes were shipped by manufacturers. This was a fat 33 per cent increase over the corresponding 1967 figure. Since output of mobile homes was climbing sharply during the second half of 1967, and since producers are now operating close to capacity, production during the second half of 1968 is not likely to show as sizable a gain as in the first half, on a year-to-year comparison. But for all of 1967 shipments should surpass the 240,370 units total for full-year 1967.

The growing importance of the mobile homes industry is demonstrated by the fact that total shipments for the first six months of 1968 were equivalent to about 25 per cent of all single family housing starts. This is quite significant, even though single family residential units do not include apartments or other multiple-unit dwellings.

There are, of course, also ancillary benefits to the boom in the mobile homes field. Mobile mobile homes parks are springing up, and demand for appliances and furnishings for them represents a source of added business for the home accessories field.

The mobile homes industry is not new. It has been growing slowly during the past several decades. But in recent years its growth has accelerated. The

QUAKES HIT
TOKYO (UPI)—Three earthquakes rocked Japan today but no damage or injuries were reported.

The Central Meteorological Agency said the quakes shook the nation from Hokkaido to the north of Kyushu in the south and extended to parts of the Ryukyu Islands which includes Okinawa. The agency said the quakes registered 3 on a scale of 10.

In 1938, Dr. Eduard Benes resigned as president of Czechoslovakia under pressure of a German ultimatum.

prime impetus has come from factors such as the high cost and stringent supply of mortgage money, inflated real estate prices, weighty taxes, and the shortage of conventional housing.

Rain Could Play Havoc With Series

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Mayo Smith must make the right call on a critical decision today to keep his Detroit Tigers in contention when they go up against the St. Louis Cardinals in the sixth—and what could be the final—World Series contest. Smith has to decide whether to start twice-beaten Denny McLain, injured Earl Wilson or heretofore ineffective Jot Sparma in the key game, the one the Tigers have to win to avoid elimination by the Cardinals, who lead 3-2 in victories heading into the contest.

Red Schoendienst, the Cards' manager, has relatively few worries. He will rely on Ray Washburn, who was credited with one of the Cardinal victories, although he lasted only 5 1-3 innings in the third game Saturday, giving up three hits and three runs before Joe Hoerner relieved and saved the game.

Smith will make his pitching choice after the Tigers report at Busch Stadium and after McLain and Wilson report to him on their physical condition. McLain, whipped twice by the Cardinals' mound star, Bob Gibson, had a shot of cortisone in his troublesome right shoulder, and if he can throw naturally, he could be the surprise selection.

Wilson, beaten by Washburn Saturday, pulled a leg muscle in the defeat and while he has thrown some since then, he wasn't sure he would be ready to go.

Should both McLain and Wilson be sidelined by injury, Smith has no choice except to go with Sparma, who boasts a 27.00 earned run average for the series in a single brief appearance during which he gave up two runs, one earned, in 1-3 of an inning.

The Cardinals were an unsurprising 3 to 2 favorite to win today regardless of Smith's pitching choice and a 9 to 2 pick to take the series.

Brown NFL Top Scorer

NEW YORK (UPI)—Halfback Earl Brown of the Minnesota Vikings is giving a pair of kicking specialists a run for their money in the race for the National Football League's scoring championship.

Weekly NFL statistics released today showed Brown leading the scorers with 48 points. Kicking specialist Pete Gogolak of the New York Giants was runnerup with 40 points while her kicker, Mike Clark of Dallas, was third with 33.

Both Gogolak and Clark accumulated their entire scoring output by field goals or conversions.

Brown retained the scoring lead with a pair of touchdowns in last Sunday's 24-10 win over Detroit.

Fran Tarkenton of the New York Giants replaced Don Meredith of Dallas as the league's top passer. Tarkenton has 46 completions in 80 attempts for a 57.5 completion average and 803 yards.

Gayle Sayers of the Chicago Bears retained his status as the league's top ball carrier, with 361 yards in 58 attempts for a 6.2 yard average.

First Half Scoring Big Problem For Harvesters

JAY JOHNSON

By RON CROSS Sports Editor

When Pampa hooks up with once beaten Monterey at Lubbock Saturday the Harvesters will first be trying to score and second trying to figure out a way to score in the first half. To say that Pampa hasn't been a first half team through its four games would be an understatement.

The Harvesters have tallied only 33 points and all have been in the final two quarters, six in the third period and 27 in the final stanza.

The first and third periods appear to be the ones where defensesmen have their troubles. Opponents have scored 32 points in the first period and 27 in the third against Pampa, adding 23 in the second quarter and only 16 in the final stanza.

Lee released his players grades for the Plainview game, which saw the Harvesters take it on the chin, 30-0.

Johnson received the highest grade on both offense and defense. Jay was graded at 82 on offense and 81 on defense.

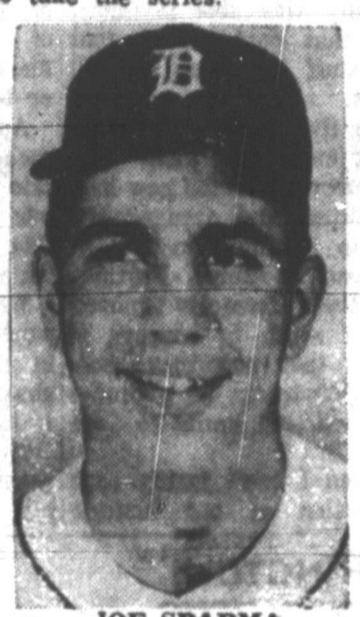

End Dan Carlton, who leads Pampa in scoring with 12 points, received a 75 on defense while Mike Stephens and Roddy Porter were awarded 77's on offense. John Stokes and Dan Craig also scored in the 70's with Stokes receiving a 74 and Craig a 72.

Saturday's game is a 2 p.m. contest at Lowrey Field.

Mercury Leads Rushing, Scoring

NEW YORK (UPI)—O.J. Simpson will have to run faster than Mercury if he hopes to win the national individual honors this year.

Simpson, the great Southern California halfback and a prime candidate for the Heisman Trophy, is second in both rushing and scoring in major college ranks. The man ahead of him in both departments is Eugene "Mercury" Morris of West Texas State.

Morris, a 5-10, 190-pound senior halfback from Pittsburgh, has rushed for 884 yards in four games and scored 66 points, according to official statistics released today by the National Collegiate Sports Service.

How fast is Mercury? The most any other player ever gained in the first four games of a season was 684 yards by Ollie Matson of San Francisco in 1951. Morris' 221 yards rushing per game is more than the team averages of 86 of the nation's 144 major teams.

Morris, whose best time for the 100-yard dash is 9.7 seconds, picked up 340 yards on the ground in 35 carries last Saturday to break the single game major college record of 326 yards established 20 years ago by Fred Wendt of Texas Mines (now the University of Texas at El Paso).

Simpson, playing one less game than Morris thus far, is second in rushing yardage with 588 and tied for second in scoring with Bob Houmar of Ohio University and Roland Moss of Toledo, all with 54 points.

Chuck Hixson of Southern Methodist is setting his records in the air to lead the nation in forward passing with 1,023 yards. His 83 completions in three games are 15 more than any previous major collegian ever compiled in a season's first three games and his 1,031 total offense yards are 54 more than the previous mark.

Ken Crots of Toledo kicked four extra points against Ohio U. last weekend to break the consecutive placements with 54.

Spike Jones of Georgia leads in punting with an average of 43.9 yards, teammate Jake Scott is first in punt returns (226 yards on 15 carries) and Iowa State's Jeff Allen leads in kickoff returns (314 on 10 attempts).

Wheeler, 'Cats Tangle Friday In Top Contest

Wheeler, gently eyeing a district title and Canadian who's had its ups and downs, square off Friday night in the top attraction among area grid teams.

The Mustangs (3-1) and Wildcats (2-2) play a 7:30 p.m. encounter at Canadian in what should be the best battle of the night.

The two teams have not met a common foe but Wheeler has whipped Lefors, 34-0; Stinnett, 21-0; Groom, 18-13 and was nipped by Wellington, 6-2.

Canadian, meanwhile, lost to Spearman, 27-0 and Clarendon, 53-0. The Wildcats have shackled Booker, 14-13 and Follet, 36-20.

Defense has been the key to victory for Wheeler. The Mustangs have given up just 19 points while tallying 75. Canadian's defense has been touched for 113 points and the 'Cats have scored 50.

In other area action top ranked Perryton travels out-of-state again to take on Liberal, Kan. White Deer hosts Claude, McLean hosts Groom, Eric, Okla. is at Lefors and in eight-man action Miami hosts Esteline.

Unbelievable as it may seem White Deer will be shooting for only its second victory in five outings. It has been so long since the Bucks have had a losing record no one can remember.

White Deer got on the scoreboard win side for the first time last week, edging McLean 13-9.

The Tigers stand 2-2, while the Bucks, Groom and Miami are all 1-3 and Lefors is 0-4.

Shockers, Junior High Teams Play Thursday

Pampa football teams will begin action Thursday and continue through Saturday with all six junior high teams, the Shockers and Harvesters seeing action this week.

The Shockers (0-4) host Lubbock at 4 p.m. and will be trying to break into the win column.

Perryton romped Pampa, 21-13 in the opener, then Berger scored a 14-6 victory, Coronado rocked the Shockers, 28-7 and Amarillo's B team rode to a 31-14 victory.

In junior high action Thursday the Reapers (1-2) journey to Dumas while Pampa eighth (3-0) puts its unbeaten streak on the line by hosting Dumas eighth. Friday Pampa seventh (3-0) hosts the Demons.

Lee ninth (2-1) plays host to Berger Austin Thursday and Lee eighth (0-2) plays Austin at Berger and Friday Lee seventh (1-2) plays Austin at Berger also.

The Reapers downed Canyon, 22-0, then lost to Lee, 14-0 and Berger Houston, 32-12.

Pampa eighth clipped Lee, and Shamrock by identical, 22-6 scored and romped Houston, 44-22. Pampa seventh downed Houston, 22-6 and edged Lee, 9-6.

The Rebels blanked the Reapers, then did likewise to Canyon, 16-0 and lost in their last outing to Perryton, 27-14.

Lee eighth has lost to Pampa Junior High and Perryton by identical, 22-6 scores. Lee seventh was dropped by Pampa Junior High, bowed to Berger Houston, 24-6 and clipped Perryton, 18-0 last week.

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license, nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself. No more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

Growing Crisis in Air Travel

Evidence is growing that while government has been busy extending its authority and reshaping the lives of private citizens, the functions of government itself are becoming hopelessly mired in a web of bureaucracy. The evidence takes several forms. On one hand, vital government services are deteriorating through lack of long-range planning; and on the other hand, the growth of government social programs has apparently burst out of control. Even as these costly programs continue to proliferate, the nation is threatened with a breakdown in another vital governmental service. This time it is in the area of air traffic control. The implications of government failures here are far-ranging. Indeed, moreover, the problem is rapidly extending beyond air traffic control to include such things as airport obsolescence and inadequate terminal facilities.

Perhaps, the present congestion on the airways was beyond the foresight of anyone. Government officials concede that they underestimated the growth in air travel. . . . "Whatever the reasons, a large part of the responsibility for bringing order in the skies, and at the same time, preserving maximum freedom of movement of all air traffic, lies with government. And, it is obvious that the problems of air traffic control and airport congestion must soon be dealt with promptly. Today, the life of the U.S. moves increasingly by air. Disruption of air transport due to inability of controllers to handle traffic means disruption of the economy.

Some steps are being taken to meet the growing crisis in air travel. Congress has appropriated funds for the training of additional traffic controllers, as well as the expansion of training facilities. But, this is only a start and will take time. The head of one of the nation's leading international airlines recently told a meeting of southern Governors that airport facilities and short-haul transportation systems must be completely reorganized if America is to maintain its lead in the aeronautical revolution. He declared that every state and city should have its transportation board to assist with long-range development. And by long range he meant periods of as much as two decades in advance. He pointed out that a big-city airport can be a largely self-liquidating project over a period of years through user charges and concession fees. He called attention to the pressing needs for development of Metrolane buses, new high-speed trains and subways, as well as the building of freeways and monorail systems to cut through the surface clutter of cities.

The urgency of traffic control and airport problems becomes evident when one realizes that in the very near future aircraft three or four times the size of present plans will take to the air and following them will be the supersonic transport. These things are coming as surely as day follows night, and as another airline official remarked, "The city area without proper ground facilities for air transportation will be practically isolated and immobilized in the near future."

It is apparent to many that governmental functions at all levels must be directed toward those areas of service that are vital to the preservation of an orderly society.

What's in a name? We don't know. But names are interesting and a tendency persists to expect greatness from those with great names and talent from those bearing names of noted actors, painters, or other talented individuals. Now the name of Thomas Paine looms prominently on the news scene. Dr. Thomas Paine, who has served as deputy director of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, is to be named acting administrator of the agency. He will follow retiring administrator James E. Webb.

We do not know the present-day Dr. Paine's lineage, but in his new undertaking, he no doubt will do well to heed words voiced by the famed Thomas Paine of American revolutionary days.

He might begin in humility with the former Thomas Paine's remark, "When we are planning for posterity, we ought to remember that virtue is not hereditary." Also in structuring his new job, that "the duty of man is plain and simple, and consists of but two points; his duty to God, which every man must feel; and his duty to his neighbor, to do, as he would be done by."

On matters military, the early American wrote, "I have as little superstition in me as any man living. But my secret opinion has ever been, and still is, that God Almighty will not give up a people to military destruction, or leave them unsupportedly to perish, who had so earnestly and so repeatedly sought to avoid the calamities of war, by every decent method which wisdom could invent."

In consideration of what methods to implement, now in this day of the much criticized boondoggles and moonoggles, Dr. Paine might re-read the other Thomas Paine's words, "We hold the moral obligation of providing for old age, helpless infancy, and poverty, is far superior to that of supplying the invented wants of courtly extravagance."

The Doctor Says:

By DR. W. G. BRANDSTADT Face-Lifting Operation Considered Luxury Item

Q—How much does a face-lifting operation cost? Can only a plastic surgeon do this?

A—This operation is admittedly expensive (roughly $1,000) because it is regarded as something of a luxury item. You would have to learn the exact amount from the surgeon. He will be glad to discuss his fee and hospital costs with you before you make any commitment. It is best to have this type of operation performed by a plastic surgeon.

Q—How long must a person stay in the hospital after a face-lifting operation? Is there any danger involved?

A—The usual stay in the hospital is about a week. There is some danger associated with any operation but barring an infection or some unforeseen complication things should go well.

Q—Is it too late to have a plastic operation on my nose after the age of 50?

A—No, nor after the age of 70 or 90.

Q—What causes Peyronie's disease? Is it true that the only cure for this disease is an operation?

A—The cause of Peyronie's disease or fibrous cavernitis is unknown. In this disease a rigid curvature of the penis occurs and intercourse is painful or impossible. Vitamin E with potassium iodide or potassium para-aminobenzoate by mouth are highly favored in the treatment. The results of operation have not been satisfactory.

Q—A specialist says my husband has Peyronie's disease. He prescribed Potaba but he says there is not much chance for a cure. Will this condition become cancerous?

A—Potaba is a combination of potassium aminobenzoate and pyridoxine. Some authorities believe it to be the best drug for this disease. The condition is not a forerunner of cancer.

Poor old Abe Fortas, buddy-buddy crone of the former Elbee Jay regime, has been painting for the chief justice muleskinners' job. But Sam, you made the pants fooling.

Somebody found out about Fortas getting his former lawyer to pass the fedora for a special kitty that netted $30,000. Then he forked over half of it to Fortas for nine meetings with 17 students. Wow! That's 800 dollars a hour.

This money was collected from only five big tie-coons in the business world. How much do you reckon he could collect if he was to hit up 50 such tie-coons. One of these fellows was a guy named Troy V. Post. He is the pappy of a man who is appealing a conspiracy and fraud conviction through the federal courts. Why, even a congressman don't need a load of wood to fall on him to show what that means.

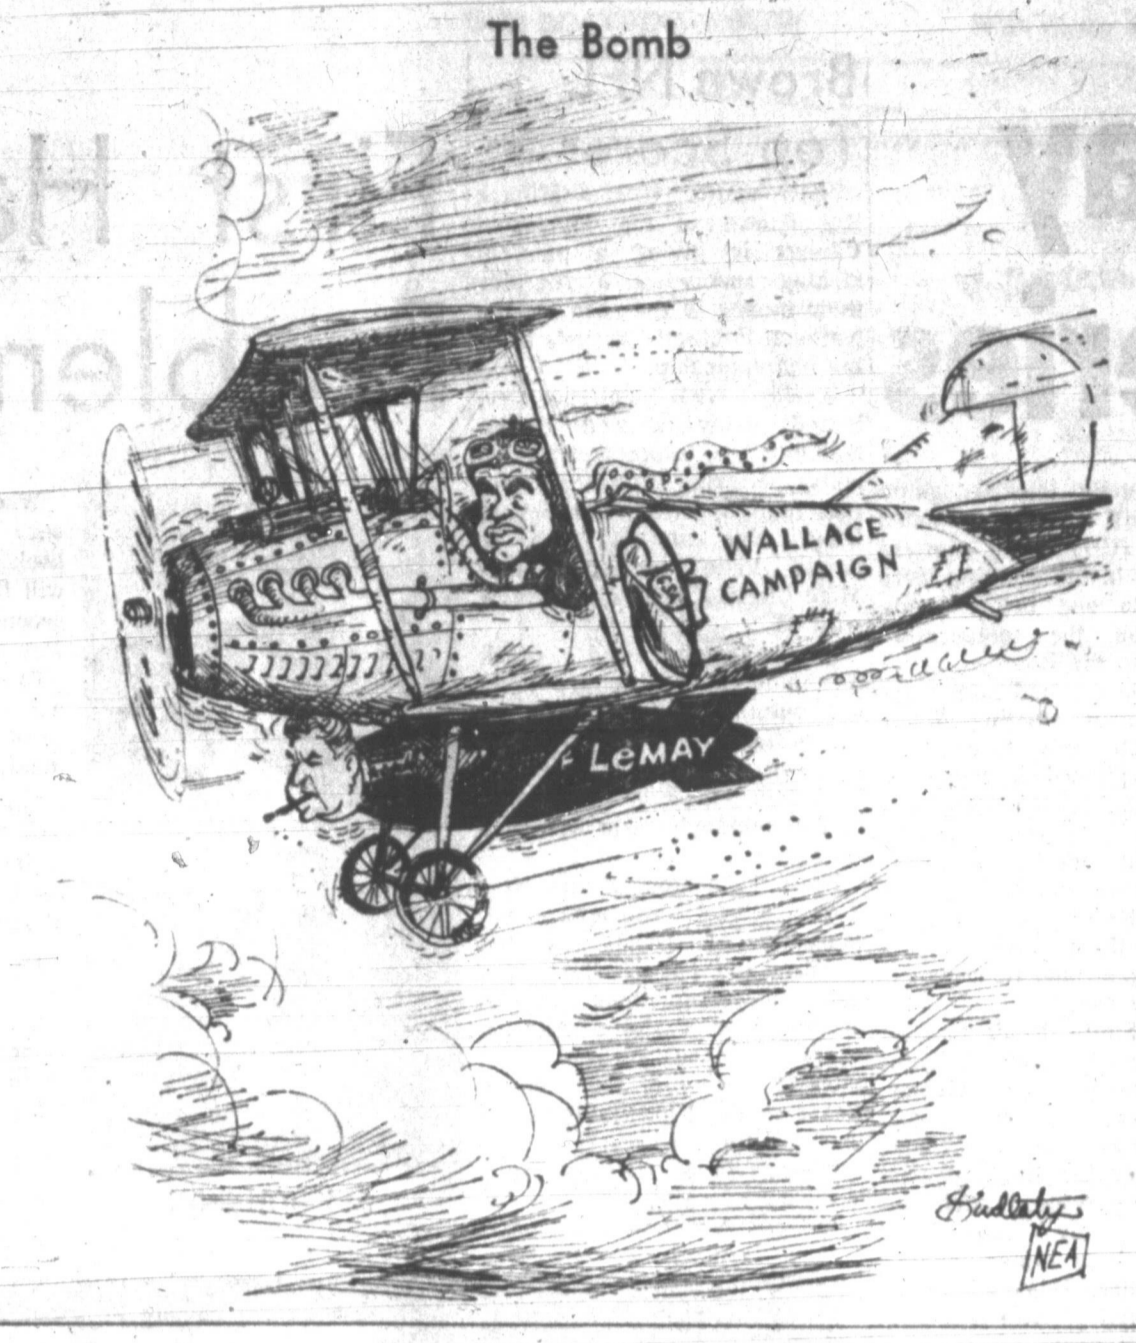

I have got the solution for Abe. If he gets 800 berries a hour for talkin he ought to give the whole supreme court the heave-ho and go on tour. Why, in no time at all he can make more than his $39,501 salary and have time to spare to help his ex-partner pass the hat.

I bet he could milk the businessmen for enough to keep the kitty supplied for years. On the other hand, though, maybe it wouldn't work out that way if Abe wasn't sittin on the seat of justice.

Shopping Around for Favorable Supreme Court Ruling Hit in Douglas's Stays; Congress Action Threatened

ROBERT ALLEN

JOHN GOLDSMITH

WASHINGTON — When the U.S. Supreme Court reconvened this week it was confronted with a new congressional challenge involving a caustic demand for a major procedural reform.

Under irate fire is the practice whereby litigants can shop among the nine justices for a stay on a ruling or order by another government agency.

Chief Justice Earl Warren is on emphatic notice that unless the tribunal itself takes step to curb this power, legislation to forcibly impose corrective measures will be vigorously pressed in Congress.

Representative F. Edward Hebert, D-La., chairman of two House Armed Services subcommittees in charge of National Guard and reserve affairs and the draft, served this notice on Warren in a sternly outspoken letter. Hebert's bare-knuckled warning was prompted by the series of stays granted by Justice William O. Douglas delaying the shipment of reservists to Vietnam.

Douglas is the only Supreme Court member to approve such stays.

In each instance he did this after they had been denied by Chief Justice Warren and Justices Black, Brennan, Harlan and White.

Douglas' stays are clearcut cases of personal bias determining his action.

"The question is not whether the Court will act promptly on Douglas' stays," said Hebert. "I am sure it will, and in my letter to Warren I say that I presume that shortly after the court reconvenes it will act quickly to cancel the unfortunate damage done by Justice Douglas." The moot question is what the Court is going to do about the procedure under which draft dodgers can shop around among the justices for a stay after being turned down by other justices.

"It is the unlimited authority to issue stays that is the problem. And what I want to know is whether the Court itself is going to do something about this or whether Congress will have to step in and enact corrective restraints.

"I make that very clear in my letter to Warren in which I say, 'I would be reluctant to recommend a legislative proscription of this judicial authority.' But I certainly won't hesitate to do so if the Court does not clean its own house. The scandalous situation cannot be allowed to continue uncorrected. There must be no repetition of Douglas' mischievous, arbitrary and capricious action."

In his letter to Chief Justice Warren, Hebert flatly charges Douglas with issuing one stay in a highly irregular manner.

The case involved a company of Cleveland, Ohio, reservists who had been rebuffed by a federal district and appeals court in their effort to dodge active service. They encountered similar denials when they sought stays from Warren and Justice Hugo Black.

But despite these rejections, Douglas promptly granted a stay when they appealed to him.

The somewhat bizarre circumstances surrounding the issuing of this stay order," Hebert wrote Warren, "in my view, clearly indicate that Justice Douglas was either unmindful of the implication of his actions, or worse, chose to disregard them entirely. . . . The issuance of this stay order and the attendant publicity given it has had a demoralizing effect on not only the many thousands of dedicated and loyal reservists who are serving their country on active duty, but has subjected the entire reserve program to ridicule and embarrassment by inferentially questioning the very essence of its being."

Put Yourself In Shoes Of Today's Young School-agers

Young Americans with the most to lose have the least to say.

Today's school-agers have seen their brothers, friends and sweethearts marched off to places they can't pronounce perhaps to die in wars we don't even intend to win—little wonder they react indignantly.

Some of us are convinced that much of the violence in our own home-town streets is related to the violence in Vietnam. Put yourself in the uncomfortable shoes of today's youngsters; you will feel frustrated, too.

We taught these young people to read and reason. Now we must explain to them why Washington agreed to curtail our already restricted bombing of North Vietnam in order to get the fraudulent, politically-inspired "peace talks" going in Paris.

While the talking has been going on the enemy has used this warfront lull further to improve his positions.

In March, before the increased bombing restrictions, the enemy imported 165,000 tons of war supplies through the harbor of Haiphong. Last month—protected from any bombing north of the 19th parallel—the enemy was able to funnel through that port 660,000 tons of the stuff they need to kill our sons.

In the five months since we made it easier for them the enemy has constructed new harbor facilities and dredged the harbor to facilitate moving in bigger supply ships. Further, where they formerly moved this stuff south in convoys of 15 trucks they now move convoys of 100 trucks at a time—undisturbed, off limits to our airmen.

You and I can't justify such a perversion of our historic cancellation of Douglas' dilatory "peace talk" stays.

Court and urged their immediate Clifford was strongly advised to take this extraordinary step at a closed-door meeting of the committee during which Douglas was scathingly denounced.

Senator John Pastore, D-R.I., branded Douglas' action as a "national scandal."

"I hope you vigorously defend this matter, and get it set as a preference case," Senator John Stennis, D-Miss., ranking member of the committee, told Clifford. "You could do that yourself as the head of the Defense Department. I don't know of anything more devastating than such a direct appeal to the court. I urgently counsel you to seriously consider doing that."

Secretary Clifford disclosed that weighty consideration had been given to seeking an emergency session of the court to overrule Douglas.

"But after much thought," he told the committee, "we finally decided it would be better to wait until the court convenes on Oct. 7. I can assure you we intend to be there and to ask the justices to take up this matter as a question of first instance in order to cancel the stays issued by Justice Douglas. If the court does that, these men will be shipped to Vietnam forthwith."

Kremlin Fear: Czech-Type Freedom Clamor in Russia

By RAY CROMLEY Washington Correspondent WASHINGTON (NEA)

What must keep Russia's rulers awake these days is the nagging worry that what happened in Czechoslovakia could happen in the Soviet Union.

The men who began slowly in Czechoslovakia were and are good Communists. They believe firmly in the principles of Karl Marx, perhaps even more fervently than the men in the Kremlin. Alexander Dubcek, himself, has a long record of loyal, conscientious party membership. President Svoboda fought with the Russian forces in World War II and was considered strongly pro-Russian. His record as a Communist is unblemished.

Things began innocently enough with attempts to mend the faltering economy, to heal the economic slump that threatened to disrupt the country.

It was soon found, as in Russia, that correcting the slump required certain adjustments in the way factories were managed, goods distributed and raw materials allocated. More importantly, economic recovery depended on the elimination of corrupt and incompetent men.

Because of the close relationship between the party, the government and industry, this meant firing inefficient party hacks from their economic industrial posts.

Old-line Communist headman Antonin Novotny went along with this idea. So did his chief deputy. It cost them the support of the "conservatives," who feared for their jobs. Repression of free speech, the arts and the press had already cost these men the support of the "liberal" faction. Thus Novotny and his chief deputy lost their base of support and had to go.

Quarter-Million Cases Pending In The District Courts of Texas

By STEPHEN GARDNER
United Press International
At the end of 1967, there were nearly a quarter-million pending cases in the district courts of Texas alone, Mrs. Marybell Dismuke, executive director of the Texas Civil Judicial Council, said today.
Mrs. Dismuke said there were 227,387 cases pending in the Texas district courts including both criminal and civil suits.
"How many sand particles are on the beach in Galveston?" Dallas assistant Dist. Atty. Bob Stinson said when asked the amount of pending cases on the dockets in Dallas County.
Mrs. Dismuke said many of the pending cases are not piling up because of slowness of the courts.
"A major problem is in getting cases dismissed after litigants have no intention of going through with them," she said.

Sues Five Times
"A district clerk reported one lady has five divorce suits pending against the same man... each time they have a fight she files a suit against him with a different attorney but then they make up and she doesn't follow through. She is still living with the man," Mrs. Dismuke said.
Beyond natural delays "in some of the bigger cities like Houston, Dallas, Fort Worth and San Antonio, we just need more courts," she said.
"The district courts are the one with the big backlogs, especially in divorce and tax cases. Some of these pending cases go back 15 years or more," Mrs. Dismuke said.

At the end of August, Dallas had approximately 38,183 pending cases in the county courts and 20,127 pending cases in the district courts; Fort Worth, 11,591 district cases; Houston 44,857 and 48,000; San Antonio, 12,381 district cases, 21,557 county cases. (Fort Worth county pending cases were not readily available.)
More Courts Needed
Jerry L. Hughes, a Dallas attorney said, "There simply are not enough courts to handle the cases. There is no program to expand the courts along with the expanding cases. It is solely a matter of politics in Texas. The legislature will not respond to the needs of the judicial system. It is just like any other pork-barrel issue. Everyone knows that when schools are overflowing you build more schools. The same principle should be applied to the court system."
"There is a certain amount of natural delay. Lawyers normally want five or six months to prepare their cases, but another reason for the backlog is that attorneys just don't get their cases ready in time," Hughes said.
"If the state courts would have pre-trial conferences, it would help expedite matters," said Terry Gardner, a Fort Worth attorney.
Expensive Waiting
The longer the delay waiting for trial, the better chance there is at being denied a chance at justice. It is especially hard in personal injury suits and works extreme hardships on a man retaining a lawyer while he waits for trial. The interim period is very expensive."

Gardner said prosecutors will push the "political cases" faster than others.
All you need to say is that the judges aren't working," said one Fort Worth county official.

Stops Tormenting Rectal Itch

Exclusive Formula Promptly Stops Itching, Burning and Relieves Pain of Piles In Most Cases

New York, N.Y. (Special): The embarrassing itch caused by hemorrhoids is most torturous. But science has found a special formula with the ability, in most cases—to promptly stop the burning itch, relieve pain and actually shrink hemorrhoids. And all without narcotics or stinging astringents of any kind.
The secret is Preparation H. There is no other hemorrhoid formula like it. Preparation H also lubricates, soothes irritated tissues and helps prevent further infection. In ointment or suppository form.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Alexander Hamilton Institute says it expects the stock market to move forward for the rest of the year, subject to the "usual periods" of profit taking. It foresees the Dow Jones Industrial average easily shooting past the 1,000-level by Christmas, adding that such a surge will be based on "more substantial economic fundamentals" prevailing when the DJ last was in this area almost three years ago.
C.B. Richard, Ellis & Co. notes that the momentum in the Dow Jones industrial average has been increasing and likely will continue for some time, possibly testing the area near the 1,000-level. At the same time, the analyst notes that "massive liquidation" has been taking place in the "high flyers." Consequently, the company advises investors to accumulate good quality stocks and avoid the highfliers.
Reynolds & Co. says it expects "a challenge" of the 1,000 area of the DJ industrials before the end of the year. It suggests that the good performance of this blue chip indicator has resulted from "better than expected" economic news and adds that fears the income tax surcharge will cause a recession "seem to be a thing of the past."

PURCHASE ARMS
MUNICH, Germany (UPI)— Finance Minister Franz Josef Strauss proposed Monday night that West Germany annually buy $250 million in U.S. arms to offset America's balance of payments loss from stationing American troops in Europe. Strauss said stationing of U.S. troops in West Germany was a factor not only of West German security, but for all of Europe.
In 1954, Italy, Yugoslavia, the United States and Britain signed a pact settling the partition of Trieste.
In 1961, it was revealed House Speaker Sam Rayburn had Cancer, from which he later died.
