Countdown Going Smooth For Apollo

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI)—The countdown for America's first manned spaceflight in almost two years, an 11-day test of the U.S. moonship, is proceeding toward a Friday blastoff at one of the smoothest rates on record. The launch-eve schedule today called for the three-man Apollo 7 crew to hold a final review of their mission with top space agency officials. Blastoff of the huge Saturn 1B rocket carrying the spaceship is set for 10 a.m., CDT Friday. Command pilot Walter Schirra, on the verge of his third and final voyage into space, was so cool he spent Wednesday dovelighting on a private preserve 60 miles from the spaceport. Schirra went with a party of 30 persons, a troop movement which evidently unnerved the do's, for only about a dozen were bagged—none by the astronaut. His crewmen, Donn Eisele and Walter Cunningham, stayed in their luxurious quarters at the space center, poring over details of the planned 163-orbit flight. Neither Cunningham nor Eisele has been into space before. Schirra, one of the two original astronauts still active, has been up twice. He announced recently that he probably would retire after the voyage of Apollo 7. "People in this trade look tired," he said, "and you get tired. I refuse to get tired, so I work hard on taking time off. And I've noticed I have to work harder to get time off. "Normally," he said, "at this time of year in the summer I'd be deeply tanned."

George Shouts 'Conspiracy!'

By MIKE FEINSILBER EVANSVILLE, Ind. (UPI)—George C. Wallace says there's a big conspiracy designed to keep him out of the White House. It involves George Gallup and Louis Harris, Richard M. Nixon and Nelson Rockefeller, the Ford and Rockefeller Foundations and other "eastern monied interests"—and the first cry of "foul" in Wallace's presidential campaign. All this, the former governor's aides acknowledge, because Wallace got advance wind of next week's Gallup poll. It is said to show a downtrend in his popularity, which had climbed steadily to the point where he was the presidential choice of one fifth of voting Americans. Quiet on LeMay In response to a report Wallace said he would send his vice presidential running mate, retired Air Force Gen. Curtis LeMay, to Vietnam Oct. 15-19, a top Wallace aide, William Jones, said, "I do not know anything about it."

Wallace's first hint of a conspiracy against him came Wednesday in Scranton, Pa., where he spoke in the courthouse square while Lackawanna County public officials, standing behind the windows of the courthouse, gravely pondered his appeal. "Now the polls are going to show me going down," Wallace said. "Well, the polls are for Mr. Nixon and we ought to have a congressional investigation of these polls."

That was all at the time But as his campaign plane flew westward toward Albany, N.Y., he began stripping the veils from his conspiracy charge. He added the word, "rigged." "That's right, in my opinion, they are rigged," he said to reporters aboard his plane. "Mr. Nixon gave it away up in Michigan, when he said that George Wallace would start to go down," Wallace said. He said Nixon would not have said that without advance knowledge of poll results and he would not have had advance knowledge if he weren't in collaboration with the pollsters. Enter Rockefeller: Did not Rockefeller, Wallace asked a reporter, try to use polls in his fight with Nixon for the Republican nomination. Was he not now on Nixon's side and still—by implication—in control of the polls? If, as Wallace predicts, next week's polls show a slump in his popularity, it will come immediately following his designation of LeMay as his running mate a week ago today. LeMay's unwillingness to rule out nuclear warfare in Vietnam may have hurt Wallace.

Launch operations Manager Paul Donnelly said Wednesday the countdown for the start of the mission was running two to three hours ahead of schedule. Of all the 16 Saturn rockets launched in the Apollo program thus far—none of which has been named—the countdown on Apollo 7 "is one of the cleanest we've ever had."

Senate Leaders Brace For Marathon Debate

HOW THE LADDER works is explained to youngsters at Horace Mann grade school Thursday by the Pampa Fire Department. The department is putting on demonstrations at all Pampa schools during fire prevention week.

GOP Vows Extension On Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate braced today for a marathon session on televised presidential debates, an issue that deadlocked the House for 27 exasperating hours Tuesday and Wednesday. Senate Republicans vowed to compel "extended debate" on the bill, which would suspend federal "equal time" regulations so networks could offer free time for debates among the three major presidential candidates without including lesser party candidates. Sen. John Pastore, D-R.I., said it was "quite apparent to me that the Republicans don't want this bill and the reason is that Nixon doesn't want it."

This was the same line House Democrats took in attempting to break a Republican procedural filibuster on the bill. They charged Richard M. Nixon, the GOP presidential candidate, had put House Republicans up to their stalling tactics because as the frontrunner he stood to lose rather than gain from a face to face encounter with Democratic candidate Hubert H. Humphrey. The Senate has already passed a version of the bill that would clear the way for Nixon-Humphrey debates. However, the House version under consideration in the Senate today, goes farther, specifying George C. Wallace must be included. Nixon has said he would willingly appear with Humphrey alone but would not participate in a three-way debate with third-party candidate Wallace. A Nixon spokesman reiterated this stand shortly after the House finally approved its version, 280 to 35, Wednesday afternoon. "Mr. Nixon believes in the two-party system, but will not get involved in any Pier 6 brawl which would result from a three-man debate," said Nixon aide John Mitchell. House action came after the longest nonstop session recorded since 1854 when the House met continuously for two days and two nights before nullifying the Missouri Compromise on the slavery issue. All 182 House Democrats present Wednesday voted for the bill, along with 98 Republicans. Thirty-five Republicans voted no.

Dallas Police Call In Extras For Big Weekend

DALLAS (UPI)—State police reinforcements have been called to lighten the load of a weekend highlighted by the arrival of Richard M. Nixon tonight and the annual Texas-Oklahoma University football game Saturday. HHH Needs 2 Bonuses

Debates, McCarthy Friendship

NEW YORK (UPI)—Before the presidential elections, Hubert H. Humphrey wants and probably needs two bonuses: Face-to-face debates with Richard M. Nixon and an endorsement of his estranged pal, Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy. Neither, at the moment, are within his grasp but Humphrey, the eternal optimist, refuses to abandon hope something will happen before Nov. 5. Wherever he goes, Humphrey keeps pleading for televised debates with Nixon—offering to pay all the costs even though the Democratic coffers are empty. And he patiently waits for McCarthy, his long-time friend and old political ally, to join hands again. Wouldn't Hurt Humphrey claims a McCarthy endorsement really would not have that much of an impact on his campaign, but at the same time he wistfully looks for the support of the titular leader of the antiwar and dissident youth. Humphrey scheduled a typically busy day today in New York City including a rally, two motorcades, and a speech to the apparel industries committee. But the public events cloaked private meetings designed to raise money for the last four weeks of the campaign—cash the vice president badly needs. Humphrey flew into New York Wednesday afternoon, heartened by the turnout in Boston of hundreds of college students—former backers of McCarthy, Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, and New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller—who enthusiastically pledged a new allegiance. No Great Overtures If Humphrey's spirits were boosted in Boston, they must have been dampened in New York City. The antiwar demonstrators, absent in great numbers for more than a week, were around, but police and their horses kept them out of the vice president's sight. Nor did Humphrey's speech to a Liberal party dinner Wednesday night arouse any great ovations. It magnified McCarthy's refusal to endorse Humphrey and, even before he reached New York City, Humphrey told reporters "We'd like to have Gene's help. "He's an old and good friend and I'm a little sad he doesn't feel his way clear to do it now. But that's the way the ball bounces and there's still a long way to go." Speaking to the Liberals and formally accepting the party's nomination in New York state, Humphrey pledged that under his administration "America will take the lead in negotiating a halt to the nuclear arms race before it halts humanity."

21 Injured In Bus-Train Collision

CALVIN, Okla. (UPI)—A freight train rammed a Memphis-to-Oklahoma City bus at the edge of Calvin Wednesday and 21 persons aboard the bus were injured, one seriously. Seventeen persons were hospitalized overnight, one each in Oklahoma City and Seminole, Okla., and 15 at Holdenville, Okla. Pvt. James R. Brown, 25, of Chadbourne, N.C., was reported in serious condition in an Oklahoma City hospital today. He was believed the most seriously hurt of the passengers.

State Candidates To Get Lift

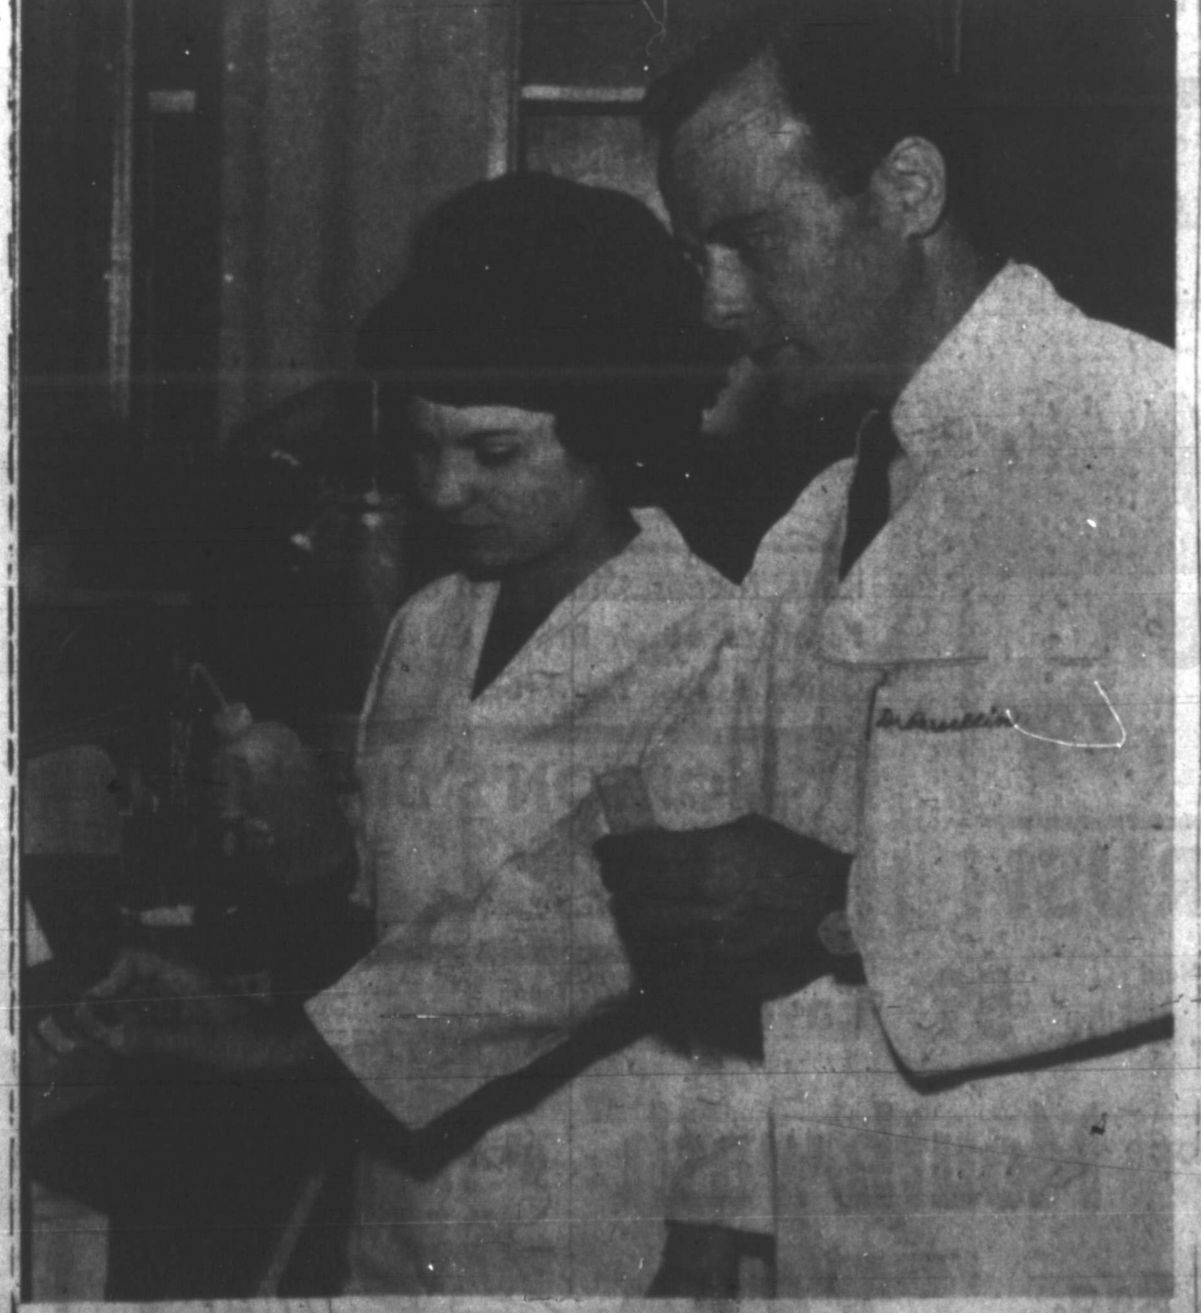

By United Press International National figures began moving in on Texas politics Wednesday in preliminary footwork for the contest to capture the state's 25 electoral votes in November. Republican presidential nominee Richard M. Nixon will arrive in Dallas late today for a public rally Friday noon and then a state-wide broadcast from a Dallas radio station Friday night. The rally Friday will be at Moody Coliseum on the Southern Methodist University campus. Allan Shivers, president of the United States Chamber of Commerce and former Democratic governor of Texas, endorsed Republican Richard Nixon for the presidency saying the man, "Offers our only real hope for preserving fiscal integrity and responsibility in the administration of this country's government." Shivers, who bolted the Democratic party in 1962 and 1966, said he would head a national committee of "Democrats for Nixon-Agnew," but will support all Democratic candidates for statewide office. Eggers in Houston In Houston, Republican gubernatorial candidate Paul Eggers said Shivers' endorsement of Nixon was proof that Texas Democrats "absolutely reject Hubert Humphrey." A Nixon spokesman in Chicago said private polls showed some slippage in Humphrey strength in the state. California Gov. Ronald Reagan, who heard the announcement with Eggers in Houston, said, "The tide is beginning to roll."

In Austin Democratic Sen. Ralph W. Yarborough, chairman of Texas Citizens for Humphrey-Muskie, was beating the drum for the pair. Yarborough called for Texas Democrats to launch a grass-roots do-it-yourself campaign. "Ahead of Time" Mrs. Frances Humphrey Howard, on a week-long tour of Texas, said during an Austin stop she found, "a great deal of enthusiasm" for her brother Hubert. She called him, "a man who has always been ahead of his time." In Washington Dr. H. Clifton McCleskey, professor of government at the University of Texas in Austin, was named chairman of a newly formed committee of Texas professors for Humphrey-Muskie. McCleskey is considered a leading academic authority on Texas politics. His appointment was announced by the national Citizens for Humphrey-Muskie organization. In other politics, Lt. Gov. Preston Smith said a recently completed job training experiment in the lower Rio Grande Valley proved of "tremendous benefit to the unskilled and unemployed workers in the Valley." He said the program, sponsored by the federal government and conducted by a Dallas company, successfully trained 684 Valley men, mostly Mexican-Americans, before the federal government discontinued it. Says Lack Authority Aft. Gen. Crawford Martin, under fire from his Republican opponent Sprosser Wynn for alleged failure to enforce criminal laws, said he has "practically no authority for criminal investigation or prosecution." But he is giving his full support, "to local law enforcement agencies in a continuing fight against crime." Texas Sen. John Tower, a Republican, told the Republican Breakfast Club in Houston Wednesday Nixon would out Humphrey to ribbons in a nationwide television debate. "I don't think he is afraid to debate in a face to face confrontation," Tower said. "He would cut Humphrey to ribbons." Reagan, also in Houston said a debate between Nixon and Humphrey would help Humphrey "in drawing audiences, and I sure don't see Dick Nixon helping him."

Area Teachers Begin Series Of In-Service Training Meets

Pampa area teachers started a series of social studies in-service programs Wednesday and today attended a workshop on educational media. Both sessions were held in Carver Educational Services Center.

Mrs. Flora Phillips, elementary specialist for PESO (Panhandle Educational Services Organization) conducted the social studies workshop for 12 teachers each from Pampa and Borger.

The first in a series, the TABA in-service educational program will be taught alternately twice monthly in Pampa and Borger until April, 1969.

"The only month we skip is December," Mrs. Phillips said. "The program is named after Hilda Taba, who directed it originally in California where it started. She died last summer, and her staff continues her work."

The in-service training is for teachers to study the inductive, or discovery approach to teaching social studies. PESO, which includes Pampa, is one of nine media centers in Texas which is using this approach to teaching social studies. Texas has 29 media centers, established by an act of the state legislature, she said.

The educational media workshop for teaching skills conducted today is one of a series which was developed to train Pampa teachers to use educational media, Mrs. Marjorie Gaut, elementary education coordinator here, said.

Teachers worked three hours today making teaching materials with the media machines, a dry mounter, laminator, and an opaque projector to make transparencies.

"Teachers in grades one through 12 used the machines today. We will soon have a resource center of our own with some of these media machines set up in Carver Center," Mrs. Gaut said.

Gas Meters Being Tapped

At least two gas meters used in measuring the flow of gas from oil fields in Gray County have been tapped for mercury, according to the Gray County sheriff's office.

The thefts were reported by the Phillips Petroleum Company and occurred in fields southeast of the city.

Each of the meters contains about eight pounds of mercury, which is valued at about $10 a pound.

A spokesman for Phillips said the company would not know the full extent of its losses until late next week. He said that charts kept by the meters are not due to be changed for about a week.

Two Are Sentenced In County Court

Two men appeared for sentencing before Interim County Judge Harold Comer yesterday after pleading nolo contendere to the charges.

Jack Griffith, charged with aggravated assault upon a police officer, was fined $25 and costs.

Luther Earl Byford, also of Pampa, charged with driving while intoxicated, had his probation revoked, was fined $50 and costs, and sentenced to three days in jail.

Warner Speaks To Students

Corporation Court Judge John W. Warner spoke to members of the Youth For Respect of America organization at Pampa High School this morning.

The group is inviting candidates for public office to speak. Warner, the Democratic candidate for County Attorney, spoke on "The Privileges and Responsibilities of Youth."

"We live in a 'hurry-up age,'" Warner told the group. "Everyone wants to have the privileges of adults as soon as possible. However, there is a price tag that goes with these privileges—responsibility."

Warner cited the teen-age juries and the Pampa Youth Council, Inc. as examples where youth have gotten privileges because they demonstrated responsibility.

Mrs. Bob Price, Republican candidate for re-election to Congress,

Mrs. Eggers will arrive at Amarillo airport at 1:05 p.m. and will be driven directly to Pampa, according to Earl Champion, Gray County Eggers-for-Governor campaign chairman.

A coffee will be held Sunday afternoon in Mrs. Eggers honor at the home of Mrs. Warren Fatheree, 1132 Charles. Mrs. Fatheree is GOP district committeewoman.

Amarillo Deputy Still Suspended

AMARILLO (UPI)—An Amarillo deputy sheriff was under suspension for an indefinite period Wednesday and accused of brutality during the arrest of a man and his wife.

Sheriff Paul Gaither said Tuesday Frank Gilley, 32, is suspended until his case is cleared through a grand jury.

Harold Dean Robertson, 38, and his wife Marie, 29, of Amarillo had complained they were jailed and falsely accused of being drunk and disorderly in an incident Sept. 22. Robertson contended Gilley used undue force in the arrest.

Sturgeon Calls For Return Of Citizens' Safety

"Now is the time to begin the long road back to the point where our citizen and his property are safe from the threat of injury and destruction by criminals." Ben Sturgeon, Pampa attorney, told members of the Pampa Rotary Club yesterday at their weekly meeting in Coronado Inn.

After discussing the recent riots and disrespect for law and order in America, Sturgeon turned to some of the fundamental beliefs that have pre-valled in the United States since the founding of the country.
"Government can give you nothing but what it takes from someone else. A government big enough to give everything you want is big enough to take everything you have, including your freedom," Sturgeon told the Rotarians.

"There are many things that need to be done today, but these things will not be started until someone, or some one of you, stand up and say clearly, 'Let it begin with me.' How long has it been since you have written a letter to your senator or congressman or governor?
Individualism will work, but only if we, as individuals, will work," Sturgeon concluded.

NGPL Employees Are Honored At Awards Banquet

Area employees of Natural Gas Pipeline Company of America were honored at a banquet last night in the Coronado Inn Starlight Room.

The occasion was the company's annual Service Awards Banquet at which employees with five-year multiples of service are given special recognition.
All company employees in the area and their wives were guests at the dinner.
As the highlight of this year's program, Miss Candace Schroeder, public relations representative of NGL, presented "The Magic Suitcase" which includes samples of the more than 26, 000 natural-gas-based products on the market. Since the start of the program earlier this year, "The Magic Suitcase" has been shown to more than 25,000 persons.

Topping the list of this year's awards with 20 years service was Leroy P. Cantrell, compressor department, White Deer. Fifteen-year awards were presented to Frederick M.
Dunn, Pampa superintendent of area booster stations, including the station at Quindano, and to James K. Kirkwood,
compressor department, White Deer. Each of the awardees received a commemorative pin.
George R. Brindl, district superintendent of the gas measurement, Fritch, served as a master of ceremonies for the evening. Musical entertainment was provided by organist Jerry Whitten.

Fund Drive
Collections Up

The local United Good Neighbor Campaign raised its total collections slightly again this morning, with a grand total reported of $88,224.84. This is just short of 70 percent of the total goal of $94,200 set for the campaign which has just a week to run.

United Fund officials feel that the afternoon check-in today will put them past the 70 percent mark, but indicated that there are still many cards that have not been worked and people that have not been contacted. The emphasis is still on "Fair Share Giving."

Pampa Police
Probe Burglaries

Two burglaries were reported to Pampa police yesterday afternoon.

Perry Nichols of 1001 E.
Browning told police that $112 was taken from his residence sometime between 1 a.m. and 7 a.m. yesterday. Police said someone entered the house through an open rear door, ransacked desk drawers and closets, then found a wallet in a clothes closet and removed the money. An estimated $240 in jewelry has been stolen from the same residence since Christmas, according to police records.

The other burglary occurred at St. Matthew's Episcopal Church, 727 W. Browning, where 2 1/2 gallons of wine valued at $8.75 was taken. Police said the burglar entered through an unlocked door and then forced the lock on the door to the closet where the wine was kept.

Alert patrolman Dorman Lewis stopped a small foreign-made car here yesterday morning after he noticed the auto had no license plates. A check of the occupants revealed they were runaways from Illinois.
The pair, a 17-year-old girl and a 16-year-old boy, said they had traveled all the way from Downers Grove, Ill., to Pampa before they were stopped for not having license plates. The runaways were to be picked up by their parents sometime today.

Hartley, candidate for Congress

Television In Review

By RICK DU BROW
HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Initial television ratings by both the national and the 30-market surveys claim that NBC-TV's touted "Julia" series and CBS-TV's Doris Day show are off to fast freshman starts.

Both new entries finished in the top 10 programs of the recently-issued national rankings, along with the semi-new "Mayberry R.F.D." CBS-TV's offshoot of the Andy Griffith show.

Since "Julia," which stars Negro actress Diahann Carroll, began a week before Miss Day, it can claim a slight edge in consistency at this early date. The rating covered only Miss Day's premiere.

In the national ratings, Miss Day's series came in sixth, while "Julia" finished 10th. Curiously, though, a perusal of all the various early ratings—those emphasizing New York or the 30 key markets or the national statistics—indicates that "Julia" seems to have a more firm basis of all-around viewing participation.

All-over Appeal
 "Julia," for instance, has consistently come in with impressive statistics in all the surveys taken, whereas Miss Day—as an example—has not been doing particularly well in New York. Although she did show up strongly in the 30-market survey, the national ratings prove again that Miss Day's basic appeal is in the grass roots.

Miss Carroll's show, on the other hand, was considered pretty sure fire stuff in urban areas because of the Negro-white relationships. But its apparent all-around reception—in outlying areas as well—has surprised some.

Only two other new series finished in the top 20 shows of the first national survey of new program competition. They are CBS-TV's "The Good Guys," a slapstick outing with Bob Denver and Herb Edelman, and "The Ghost and Mrs. Muir," an NBC-TV offering with Hope Lange and Edward Mulhare.

For those who claim situation comedies were on their way to extinction, it should be noted that all five of the new series that placed in the top 20 are situation comedies.

The other new shows finishing in the top 40—which is more or less video's elite circle—were "Here Come the Brides," an ABC-TV western adventure-comedy; "The Mod Squad," an ABC-TV youth-oriented police series; "Land of the Giants," a science-fiction program, also on ABC-TV; "The Outsider," an NBC-TV private eye epic; and "Lancer," a CBS-TV western. "Lancer" did better in the national ratings than in those focusing on city markets.

The freshman series most definitely in trouble are NBC-TV's "The New Adventures of Huckleberry Finn," a children's outing that placed 86th among 89 rated shows; ABC-TV's Don Rickles program, which came in 83rd; and NBC-TV's Phyllis Diller comedy hour, which ranked 72nd. "The Ugliest Girl in Town" and "That's Life," both on ABC-TV, didn't fare well nationally either; but "That's Life," a weekly musical, indicates more pull in the cities.

Over at NBC-TV, meanwhile, the much-touted "The Name of the Game" thus far is below ratings expectations, getting squeezed by CBS-TV's "Gomer Pyle" and Friday night movies.

NEW YORK (UPI)—Shearson, Hammill & Co. says that from now to election day the stock market will be in "a sort of grace period and investors can give full vent to their imaginations." The analyst says any consolidation period probably will be brief, and maintains that with so much celebrating having been done "in advance" investors should have "little left to do after the expected Republican victory, and the rest of 1968 might not provide such clear sailing."

E. F. Hutton & Co. says some slowdown or temporary halt to the market's upward surge still seems about due. The company says that despite the market's "habit" of moving beyond projected objectives in either direction, "it still does not continue in one direction indefinitely without intervening pauses."

Appetites Identify Cold Winter Weather With Squash, Roasted, Stuffed Pork Chops

Of all the meats identified with winter, none is more closely associated with cold weather than pork.

Stuffed pork chops may be served to usher in the first crisp day or reserved for company dinner on a busy night. They are good any time and may be baked a number of ways.

Your butcher would gladly put a stuffing pocket in double-cut chops. But it's probably easier and more economical to select single chops and skewer them side by side with the stuffing in between.

By starting with one of the cellophane packaged mixes — herb seasoned, corn bread or cube stuffing — and adding your own personal touches, you can come up with a slightly different taste treat every time. The recipe below uses apples and raisins with the herb seasoned cube stuffing.

Acorn squash could be baked at the same oven temperature as the chops and filled with glazed onions just before serving.

Coleslaw salad would provide a tangy flavor contrast. For dessert try the new pineapple cheese strudel, now in the freezer compartment of most stores.

STUFFED PORK CHOPS
 8 loin pork chops
 1 package (7 ozs.) herb seasoned cube stuffing
 1 cup water
 1/4 lb. butter or margarine
 1 1/2 cups unpeeled, diced apples
 1/2 cup seedless raisins
 1/2 teaspoon sage
 Brown chops lightly in hot fat. Remove from skillet and drain excess fat. Add water and butter to drippings in skillet. Stir in stuffing, fruit and sage. Place a chop, fat edge up, at end of baking pan. Alternate chops and stuffing. Skewer together. Bake at 325 degrees for one hour, or until done. Serves 6 to 8.

 with
GLAZED ONIONS
 4 acorn squash
 1 lb. small white onions
 6 tablespoons butter
 2 tablespoons sugar
 Wash squash; cut in half; remove seeds. Bake cut side down in 325 degree oven 30 minutes; turn and continue baking for 30 minutes.
 Meantime, cook small white onions in water to cover until tender; drain. Melt butter and sugar in heavy skillet; add onions and cook over low heat 15 minutes or until golden brown, stirring occasionally. Serve in baked squash. Serves 8.

STRUDEL
 with
TROPICAL TOPPING
 2 packages (13 ozs.) frozen pineapple cheese strudel
 1/2 pint sour cream
 2 tablespoons light brown sugar
 1/2 cup crushed pineapple, drained
 Bake strudels according to package directions. Stir brown sugar into sour cream; fold in pineapple. Pile lightly into serving bowl; sprinkle with nutmeg. (Serves 8).

To get the most from the apples you buy, keep them cool, suggests the Consumer and Marketing Service. They keep best at 30 to 32 degrees. Store apples in your refrigerator until you use them. Apples may lose some of the nutrients as well as their crispness at room temperatures.

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST
 WASHINGTON (UPI) — Not naming any names, but candidates for high offices seem to be making an unusually large number of blunders this year. Some of them have spent most of the campaign straightening out ill-advised utterances of one sort or another.

Would you like to know how a candidate goes about rectifying a faux pas? Very well, I shall enlighten you.

Basically, he does the same thing you do when your furnace goes on the blink or your washing machine starts making a honking noise. He calls a repairman.

One of the oldest firms specializing in this type of work is the Handy Dandy Boo Boo Repair Co., owned and managed by Pierre Gaffe.

On the chance that you might find it interesting, I made a visit to his shop this week and asked Gaffe to explain how it operates.

"If it is only a minor boo boo our repairmen can usually fix it on the spot with one of our portable misquoters," he said.

"After we have worked on it, the candidate who made the boo boo can claim he was misquoted. Normally, it only takes a couple of hours to turn a boo boo into a misquotation.

"This depends, of course, on how many people heard the boo boo and whether somebody got it down on a tape recorder.

"If it's a sticky job we may have to use a context lifter. Anytime you hear a candidate claim his boo boo was lifted out of context, chances are one of our repairmen did it."

I said, "What happens if a candidate makes a major boo boo?"

"In that case we have to bring it into the shop and put it on the backtracker," Gaffe replied. "The backtracker has a moderating statement dispenser that enables a candidate to back completely away from to boo boo.

"On the really tough jobs we may also have to use an obfuscator, which fuzzes over the boo boo."

Carson Historical Committee Sets Friday Ceremonies

PANHANDLE (Sp) — The Carson County Historical Survey Committee will hold a ground breaking ceremony here Friday in Memorial Park, site of the Square House Museum. The service will open at 2:30 p.m.

The occasion will be to start the work on building "The Little Red Barn", made possible by the contribution of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Henry Finch of Dalhart. The building will house the covered wagon, buggy, farm and ranch implements and similar pioneer equipment in the care of the county historical society.

Finch, a partner of Finch, Lord and Nelson, founding fathers of the City of Panhandle, is well known throughout the area as a banker, rancher, philanthropist and community builder. Mr. and Mrs. Finch will be in Panhandle for the ceremony. Judge J. E. Southwood, associated with the firm and the one who remained in Panhandle to complete the establishment of Panhandle as county seat of Carson County, will be represented at the ground breaking by his widow who is a resident of Carson County. The Jolly Brothers who assisted Mr. Finch with his cattle and other ranching activities will be represented by several members of their families now living in the area.

Rev. Jim Boswell of the Panhandle United Methodist Church will offer prayer. Mayor Richard Earl Nunn will accept the gift for the city of Panhandle, in the absence of County Judge Clarence C. Williams and the county commissioners who are in Austin this week. H. M. Nichols, Carson County Civil Defense Director, will accept the Finch gift for Carson County. Ralph E. Randal will serve as master of ceremonies.

The builder of the Red Barn, John Cotter, will start construction at once and will have it completed in time for the dedication Saturday, Nov. 16, which is also the date set for the annual barbecue for the Carson County Historical Survey Committee.

Civil Disorders Follow Historic American Pattern

By LOUIS CASSELS
 WASHINGTON (UPI)—Since the founding of the Republic, outsiders have been trying to crash their way into the power structure of America, while insiders tried to bar their way.

This has resulted time and again in violence and civil disorders. The outsiders have won every such conflict eventually, and then have become insiders trying to keep others out.

This analysis of the social history of the United States was offered Tuesday to the United Press International editors and publishers conference by Dr. John P. Spiegel, director of the Lemberg Center for the Study of Violence, Brandeis University, Waltham, Mass.

Dr. Spiegel said the U.S. government as originally constituted was a "quite limited democracy" which excluded all persons except white, Anglo-Saxon, middle class, adult Protestants.

Excluded from the power structure originally were all Indians, Orientals, Negroes, Southern Europeans, Middle Easterners, working people and poor people, Catholics, Jews, and young people.

"The history of civil disorder in our country has been the drama of one or another of these excluded groups attempting to break into the democratic power structure," he said.

Dr. Spiegel said the outsiders trying to get in "have won every battle despite temporary setbacks."

It's the Law in Texas

Slow Motion Divorce
Not long ago a man filed suit for divorce on the ground that his wife had committed adultery — 20 years earlier. But his case was dismissed because of too much procrastination. The court, noting the difficulties of finding out what really happened that long ago, commented: "A husband cannot wait to make his charges until the years dim the proofs to the contrary."

Like most lawsuits, a divorce suit too long delayed may be barred automatically by a state's statute of limitations. But even if there is no automatic bar, courts are usually skeptical of divorce suits in which the complaining spouse has a postponed action for an excessive period of time.

One reason, mentioned above is the problem of evidence—of dredging facts out of a distant past. Another reason is the feeling that a grievance, if acted upon so slowly, could not have been too serious in the first place.

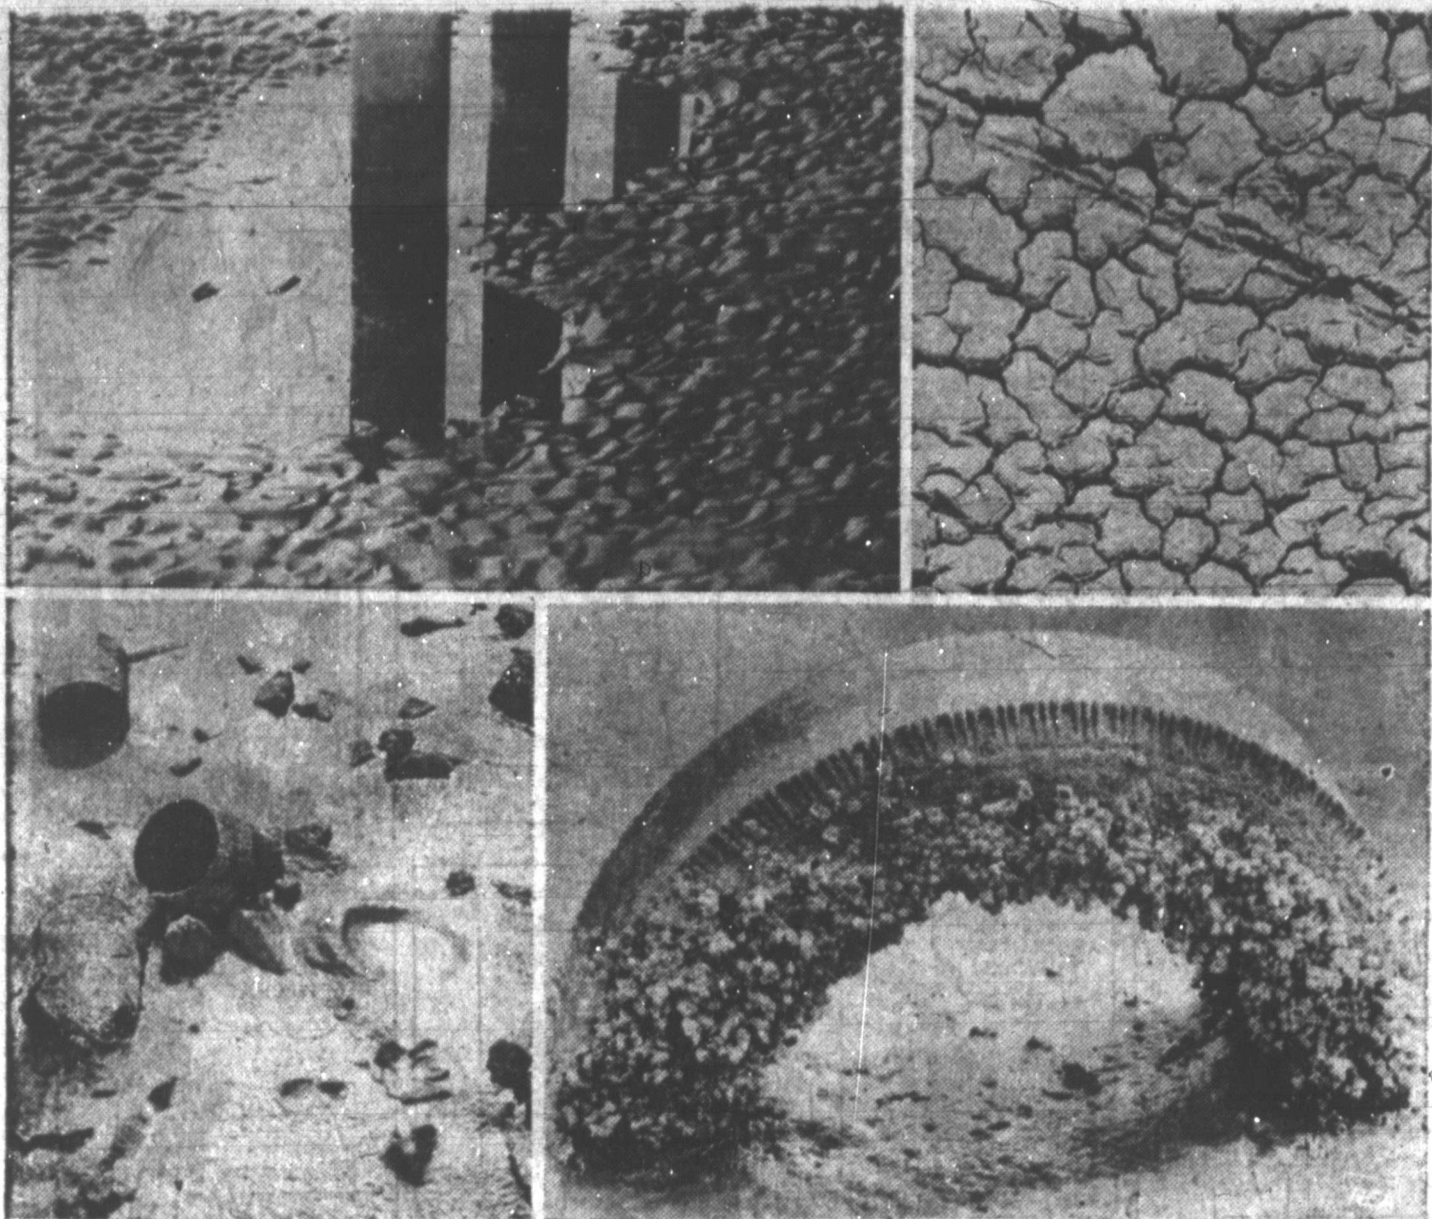

Thus a woman failed to convince the court that two blows by her husband, inflicted 40 year before, had ruined her marriage. "There must be some limit to judicial credulity," said the judge. "We think it has been reached here."

Nevertheless, there may well be a legitimate reason for delay. For example, a man who put off a divorce suit for a number of years after learning of his wife's infidelity, gave an excuse that satisfied the court: he wanted to spare his young children from scandal as long as he could.

In another case a husband was held justified in waiting gallantly, before suing for divorce, while his wife recovered from a severe illness.

Perhaps the best reason for delay is that the wronged spouse continues to have hope that the marriage may yet be preserved. Thus, a court found no fault with a man who waited seven years—in recurring hope of a reconciliation—before finally seeking a divorce on grounds of marital cruelty. The court felt it would be unfair to blame him for wanting what the law itself encourages: the saving of the marriage.

AN ARTIST'S EYE sees beauty everywhere, even in the mud flats of San Francisco Bay, where the mud is sometimes five feet deep. Photographer John Arms, adept at recording textures, made these pictures along the bay's northern shore. In some places the ooze is granular like packed, wet sand; in others, it is sun-dried and cracked like broken crockery. Often, tin cans and old tires litter the area but these, too, can take on an aura of beauty when viewed with an artist's eye.

Humphrey In The Middle In Massachusetts

By RICHARD GROSS
BOSTON (UPI) — Backlash from the left and right has squeezed Hubert H. Humphrey into the middle in Massachusetts and threatens his chances of capturing a traditionally Democratic state from Richard M. Nixon.

The state's Humphrey organization is trying to unearth the vice president from the combined weight of Nixon popularity, dissident Democrats who do not believe Humphrey a substitute for Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy and growing support for George C. Wallace among blue collar workers, police and firemen.

With only a month left in the 1968 presidential campaign, the state Humphrey group headed by Alexander J. Cella of Lexington, is beset with financial woes that have delayed mustering the kind of campaign heavy artillery only money can provide.

The Democrats sadly admit—and the Republicans cheerfully submit—it is a tussle between Humphrey and Nixon for the state's 14 electoral votes. The coin keeps spinning for Wallace, with an odds-on chance he will be the spoiler for Humphrey.

The third party presidential bidder is considered likely to garner 15 to 20 per cent of the ballots cast in a state with more than 2.6 million registered voters. More than a million each are Democrats and independents.

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: What is wrong with a wonderful, extremely well educated, good looking woman of 40 who becomes engaged, then proceeds to tell me, her future husband, all about her previous love affairs in detail?

The next surprise she handed me was that although she is "in love" with me, she has not been able to discard a collection of pictures of her ex-boyfriends, and when I insisted that she throw them away she suggested breaking our engagement.

All of this was done with the full permission and approval of her psychiatrist who felt it would be "good" for her to tell me whatever came into her mind.

FINISHED AND DISGUSTED
DEAR FINISHED: Surely you must realize that the woman is in therapy and is attempting to face her problems squarely in an effort to resolve them. Her confessions were not very pretty, I agree, but her past adventures were probably causing her to feel guilty and unworthy, hence the truth session. If she is truly "wonderful," have a talk with her doctor for a better understanding of the situation.

DEAR ABBY: My wife and I have been married for 14 years. She quit working when we got married because we had a family soon after. Now that the children are in school, she's taken a part-time job. This is what bothers me. In the past, all our money was placed into a joint account for both of us.

Now that she's working, she puts her earnings into a separate account for herself. She says she wants a "nest egg." Why should a wife need a nest egg? I don't have any such separate funds. Maybe you can understand a woman's reasoning. It eludes me.

DON'T GET IT
DEAR DON'T: Don't assume that because a wife wants a "nest egg" she is going to fly the coop. Those nest eggs which frugal wives stash away in sugar bowls are usually used to buy gifts for husbands and kids.

DEAR ABBY: I would like your opinion which I respect highly. I have been going steady with a boy for two years. Ira is 20 and I am 17. My parents have a summer home at the shore, and on weekends Ira has been our houseguest.

One day after playing ball Ira asked me to wash his socks out. It is true, he was my guest, but I think that a 20-year-old intelligent boy should be able to wash his own socks out. I told him "no," and we didn't have an argument or anything like that, but a few weeks later his parents brought it up to me in jest.

Was I wrong not to have washed his socks out?
IRA'S GIRL
DEAR GIRL: No, Ira needs a lesson in manners, and if he does not know how to launder his socks, it's time he pulled 'em up and learned.

CONFIDENTIAL TO BARBARA, whose husband tickles the bottom of her feet until she is in tears: If I were in your shoes, I'd keep 'em on (Yes, in bed, too.)

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif., 90069 and inclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Proceeds from the sale will be used to assist women with their education.

YOUR HOROSCOPE

By JEANE DIXON

Your birthday today: The next year should bring you renewed surges of activity. This year should be devoted to simplifying your life and focusing your attention. Superficial relations and habits should be discarded. Today's natives are never satisfied short of mastery in their fields.

ARIES (Mar. 21-Apr. 19): Your selling abilities are near their peak today, particularly in the disposal of white elephants. Local travels and communications are favored. Use the evening for promotion of yourself.

TAURUS (Apr. 20-May 20): Look into the needs of those who help you; you may find a surprise! Consult with at least one professional adviser today. And visualize a target for the near future.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Enlist the help of people who have more influence than you can organize. Review your progress briefly early in the evening, then put your attention onto your home.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): You find that some people wish to keep negotiations out of view today. Adjust to cooperate with this. Arrangements with welfare and charitable establishments are favored now.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Organize get-togethers of all the people who may be in a position to aid you. If you have business with the government, this is a fine day to handle it!

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Assistance is available in almost any direction. Select your line of action according to what is of most importance to you; go full speed ahead.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): You just wish to sit back when the sailing is smooth. Push yourself to make some strong moves! Present your personal ideas!

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Now is the time for attempting to collect anything that is owing to you. If you are active in politics, this is a big day in your campaign.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): The group effort is favored today. Gather your team. Everybody has something to contribute. First think over what you have achieved, then during the evening, gather with others to plan further.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Health may take a great part of your attention on this day. Whatever you do is likely to attract eyes which don't usually notice. Put yourself into the work wholeheartedly.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): If you can stick fairly close to your main base, your day ought to be highly productive. You may learn something of great value to your (future) activities just by listening carefully.

PISCES (Feb. 19-Mar. 20): Press for improvement of your home situation, not just property but the human relations that are more important. Seek approval and support of people with local influence.

To season a skillet that has been burned or is sticking, simmer over low heat with salt and a small amount of salad dressing.

High School FHA Starts Year with Party

Future Homemakers of America is a national organization of pupils who study homemaking in junior and senior high schools and work together for better and happier homes.

The program in Texas is sponsored by the Home, and Family Life Education Division, Vocational Education, of the State Department of Education. Homemaking teachers in high schools serve as advisers of local FHA chapters.

The Pampa Chapter of Future Homemakers of America started the school year early.

Pampa FHA officers were elected at the end of school last year. Officers are: Peggy Lynch, president; Juanita Miller, first vice-president; De Inscore, second vice-president; Alice Martin and Esther Pinon, third vice-presidents; Margaret Brewer, fourth vice-president; Kathy Barnes, fifth vice-president; Sharon McCarley secretary; Pat Cox, treasurer; Barbara Farnsworth, parliamentarian; and Charlet Courts, historian.

At the first business meeting plans were made for projects to earn money to go to the area convention in Lubbock next April.

Wedding customs of the United States and other countries were explained at one of the program meetings.

Old members served breakfast and then led new members in games and exercises at the initiation breakfast recently.

Installation of new members was held at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at the high school. Four degrees were conferred, the first degrees earned by members of the Pampa Chapter. Junior degrees went to Charlet Courts and Juanita Miller. These will be Junior Degrees, Chapter Degrees were conferred upon Juanita Miller and De Inscore.

Purdue, Sooners Get Nod In Saturday's Top Tilts

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—There are some guys who can do it all, do it easily and do it anywhere. Bob Gibson and Lou Brock are the same breed and so are Purdue's Leroy Keyes and Southern California's O.J. Simpson. All they have to do is take their hat and coat off and they're ready. Just give 'em the ball.

This one should be Purdue all the way.

"I like Purdue, too," says

Tim McCarver

Cardinal catcher Tim McCarver, who gave you a winner in Notre Dame last week, "With 13 points, though, I'll take Ohio State."

O.J. Simpson and company also are on the road for their game with Stanford. They should win, too. By a bigger margin than Purdue.

I know all about that fine California defense, but I like Army to beat the Bears, Nebraska to tip over Kansas and Iowa to surprise Indiana.

The East Syracuse over Pittsburgh—Cover your eyes.

The Midwest Michigan over Michigan State—Wolves have too much beef.

Notre Dame over Northwestern—Tim McCarver says the Irish can't miss.

Illinois over Minnesota—Dal Maxvill says McCarver should keep his mind on baseball.

And Air Force over Navy, Missouri over Colorado, Kansas State over Iowa State, Wisconsin over Utah State, Miami (O.) over Marshall, Colorado State over Wichita State, Cincinnati over Tampa, Western Michigan over Kent State and Toledo over Bowling Green.

The South Miami over LSU—A case of

Gibson, Lolich Go In Seventh

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—Denny McLain finally "demolished" the St. Louis Cardinals—with the help of Jim Northrup, Al Kaline and assorted Detroit Tigers—so the World Series went to the final seventh game today.

It could be the standout clash of an otherwise undistinguished series, since it will match the only starting pitchers in the event who have not been beaten at least once.

Bob Gibson, the first and fourth game winner, will start for the Cardinals, and left hander Mickey Lolich, the second and fifth game victor, for the Tigers.

Equally important, the weather prospect was favorable with "considerable sunshine" expected along with 60-degree temperatures. Wednesday, for the second time in the series, rain delayed the start of the game for 10 minutes and there was another 40 minute delay in the bottom of the eighth inning.

Rain Delays Game The eighth inning delay chased most of the crowd of 54,692 under the stands or out of the park, and less than 10,000 of them came back to their seats to watch McLain yield St. Louis' only run during the 13-1 lacing on three ninth inning singles.

With the expected good weather conditions, Gibson and Lolich could put on a brilliant pitching display. Gibson boasts a series earned run average of 0.50, yielding 10 hits and one run in 18 innings, while Lolich has a 2.01 ERA on four runs in 18 frames.

Manager Red Schoendienst promptly announced after Wednesday's debacle that his longtime star already marked for retirement, Roger Maris, would start the game, although he usually rides the bench against left handers.

"Maris said he had trouble hitting Lolich in the American League," Schoendienst reported, "but I told him 'forget about that. This is different.'"

Lolich will be the third pitcher in five years to try to win the series in the seventh game after only two days rest, a feat performed by Gibson in 1964 and by Sandy Koufax of the Los Angeles Dodgers in 1965. There was one loser in the same situation, Jim Lonborg of the Boston Red Sox against the Cards last year.

The Cardinals today will have history going with them since it will be their seventh time in a seven-game World Series and never have they lost in such an encounter.

Probably the Tigers' performance Wednesday had as much to do with the speedy departure of the fans as the rain, particularly since the Tigers packed everything into their third inning assault, 15 men at bat and 10 runs to tie two World Series records set in the series' fourth game on Oct. 12, 1929, when the Philadelphia Athletics scored 10 times to wipe out the Chicago Cubs 10-8.

Northrup smashed the 11th grand slam home run in series history to highlight this Tiger onslaught. Kaline delivered a bases-loaded single which scored two runs, and the Cards tied a series record by using four pitchers in the one inning.

Kansas, Nebraska Meet In No. 1 Saturday Game

By United Press International That irresistible force is going to meet the immovable object Saturday and once again "something's got to give."

Fourth ranked Kansas, the national scoring leader—averaging a stratospheric 51 points a game, meets sixth ranked Nebraska, currently sixth in scoring defense, allowing an average of eight points per game.

The Huskers, last year's national champions in total defense, will get an extreme test from Kansas which is averaging over 400 yards a game in total offense.

Donnie Shanklin, who has gained 284 yards in just 17 carries (a phenomenal 16.7 average), spearheads the Jayhawk rushing attack. John Higgins and lefthanded quarterback Bobby Douglas are also strong running threats in a backfield that has averaged 330 yards rushing a game.

Sherwin Jarmon, a converted offensive end, who has made key fumble recoveries in all of Nebraska's three victories and a game-winning interception in their last win against Minnesota is the standout on Husker defense. Jerry Mir- taugh, Dana Stephenson and Jim Hawkins are other key players on a defensive unit that has allowed an average of 91 yards rushing.

In other major games Saturday, top ranked Purdue is a 12 point pick over seventh rated Ohio State, Southern Cal, number two ranked, is a nine point pick over Stanford, undefeated and third ranked Penn State is a 1 1/2 point underdog to UCLA, fifth ranked Notre Dame is a heavy favorite to beat Northwestern, ninth rated Florida is the choice over Tulane and tenth rated Houston, is favored over Oklahoma State. Friday night, eighth place LSU is a point over Miami of Florida.

Kansas, a point favorite over home team Nebraska, last year upset the favored and then undefeated Huskers 40-0.

Broyles Worried Over Hog Drills

By United Press International Frank Broyles will tell you his University of Arkansas Razorbacks just are not looking good on the practice field. That may be so.

But they are looking good enough on the playing field to convince the United Press International board of coaches they should be ranked No. 17 in the nation.

And, they are being talked about more and more as maybe the team to beat in the Southwest Conference.

Still Broyles is glum. The Hogs worked on their offense Wednesday in Fayetteville, Ark., and Broyles said the performance was "probably the poorest since practice started this year." The defense, he said, looked improved over Tuesday "but also has far to go."

"We've not had a good practice this week," he said. "I don't know what it is. It's not the fault of the weather."

Arkansas plays Baylor University this Saturday in Fayetteville.

Broyles has some injuries to worry about, but said they would not hurt the Hogs too much. "We've got good depth," he said.

But he thinks he will have senior tailback David Dickey against the Bears.

"We think he'll play Saturday. He's practiced both days, today without a limp," Broyles said. "The other injured players, except for linebacker Guy Parker and (monsterman) Dennis Berner and (defensive end) Gregg Lackey who broke his leg last Saturday, are all right, we think."

Broyles, facing a team that is 0-3 and headed for its fourth road game in as many starts, said he would not comment on the prospects for victory since it's against his rules.

In Austin, the Texas Longhorns, working out for what is always the major non-conference attraction of the year, the annual game with the University of Oklahoma, practiced in the rain.

Coach Darrell Royal said the Hogs likely would be without end Deryl Comer, nursing an injured knee, against the Sooners this weekend in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas.

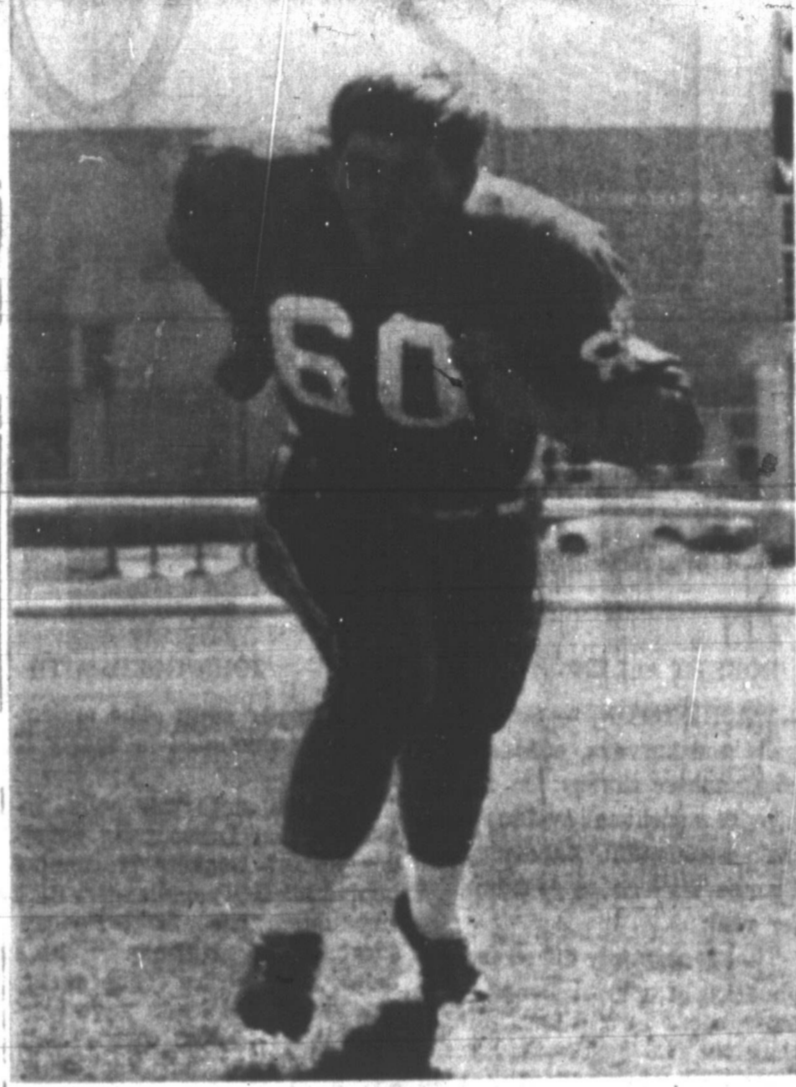

End turned wingback John Jenkins will be out at least a week with a cracked vertebra suffered earlier in the season and defensive tackle Roddy Porter will miss Saturday's game because of a sore arm and kidney.

Already out of action was starting quarterback Gary Parrish, monsterman Randy Cantrell and strong side tackle Ted Knight with a badly bruised ankle.

Lee was smiling, but it was a forced one as he wondered, "Where does it all end?"

The Harvester's headman had to do quite a lot of shifting around and still is not certain who will be where in the 2 p.m. Saturday zone encounter with the Plainsmen.

Wednesday Lee had tight end Jay Johnson, junior Ross Holman and senior Dan Craig running at quarterback but was still not certain which of the

Injuries Hit PHS Again

A doctor could make a mint off the Pampa Harvesters this year. Injuries have taken its toll of squad members and shows no sign of letting up.

Just when coach Swede Lee thought the injury bug might be letting up two more players were put on the disabled list Wednesday bringing the total to five, all starters, who will be out of action Saturday against Monterey.

End turned wingback John Jenkins will be out at least a week with a cracked vertebra suffered earlier in the season and defensive tackle Roddy Porter will miss Saturday's game because of a sore arm and kidney.

Already out of action was starting quarterback Gary Parrish, monsterman Randy Cantrell and strong side tackle Ted Knight with a badly bruised ankle.

The Harvester's headman had to do quite a lot of shifting around and still is not certain who will be where in the 2 p.m. Saturday zone encounter with the Plainsmen.

Wednesday Lee had tight end Jay Johnson, junior Ross Holman and senior Dan Craig running at quarterback but was still not certain which of the three would start Saturday.

Fullback Hal Clabaugh was running at Jenkins' spot, along with sophomore Chris Caldwell and Bert Tollison, a junior, and Craig were both being used at fullback.

Junior Mike Stephens is being used at Cantrell's defensive position and Chuck Lanehart, a 185 pound junior was being tried at offensive tackle for Knight.

Lee was also trying junior Larry Kotara in Porter's defensive tackle position.

Lee was uncertain Thursday morning just who would start where and commented, "If I had to pick a starting quarterback today I couldn't. I'd just let one of our offensive coaches do it."

Jenkins, although he hasn't scored for the Harvesters this season has been counted on heavily and has played well since moving from his familiar end position to the wingback spot.

The 6-2, 170 pounder has picked up 61 yards on 15 carries and has caught seven passes for 112 yards in Pampa's four games. He was also being used as safety on defense.

Hardrunning Scotty King has been the most consistent runner for the Harvesters and leads the team in yardage. King has carried 79 times for 295 yards.

Junior Ricky Givens has also done an outstanding job for the team, picking up 62 yards on just six carries. Clabaugh is credited with 46 yards on 13 carries, Caldwell seven yards on three carries and Holman 27 yards on 29 carries.

Holman has been successful on 18 of 44 pass attempts for 407 yards and two touchdowns. His principal receivers have been senior Dan Carlton, out for football after a two-year absence, and Johnson.

Carlton has caught six passes for 185 yards and a touchdown and Johnson five for 110 yards and a score.

The punting chores for Pampa have been in the capable hand of Wyatt Earp and Ricky Frye. Earp has a 40.9 average and Frye a 38.8 average. John Stokes has connected on three of five conversion attempts.

'Shoe' Controversy Ends

MEXICO CITY (UPI)—Embarrassed Mexican officials ended the two-day Olympic "shoe" controversy today and offered protesting athletes a way of getting the shoes they want for the games.

A spokesman for the treasury department, which controls the entry of imports into the country, termed the whole thing "a terrible misunderstanding."

John Carlos and L. Evans, American world record holders, blew the lid on the "big shoe" controversy on Tuesday and went so far as to say they might not compete in the games if they didn't get the shoes they wanted.

Derek Ibbotson, former British mile world record holder and now an aide with his nation's track and field team, took the issue from there and had some 100 athletes from many nations ready to stage a protest demonstration at the airport today in an effort to obtain a release for the shoes in question.

competing in the Olympic Games.

The shipment was held up and still is because the Mexican government had signed an exclusive contract with another West German manufacturer.

The move in effect left nearly half of the track and field athletes with shoes they didn't care to use. The shipment in custody contained orders filed months ago.

Pinson To Join Cardinals in '68?

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—Vada Pinson probably will become the newest member of the St. Louis Cardinals' outfield within the next few days.

Officials of the Cincinnati Reds and Cardinals have been huddling during the entire World Series and have all but closed a post-series deal in which Pinson would come to the Cards for outfielder Bobby Tolan and relief pitcher Wayne Granger.

The Reds revealed sometime ago that the 30-year-old Pinson was available if they could come up with a suitable young pitcher and another outfielder in return.

Dave Bristol, Cincinnati manager, is exceptionally high on the right-handed Granger, who appeared in 34 games for St. Louis this season and also made a brief series appearance in Thursday's sixth contest.

Pinson slumped to 261 in 130 games with Cincinnati this season, showing only 48 runs batted in and five homers, although he hit 20 or more home runs during six other seasons.

He has a lifetime mark of 299 with the Reds and for many years formed a one-two batting punch with Frank Robinson at Crosley Field.

Normally, a centerfielder, Pinson couldn't unseat Curt Flood at that position with the Cards. He would undoubtedly replace rightfielder Roger Maris, who retired after today's final series game.

Bucks May Be Down But Not Out

It has been a long time since people in White Deer haven't been ready to talk football at the drop of a hat, but that's not the case this year.

Ask about the Bucks this season and they stand there and kinda stare off into space and mutter something like, "Well its sure surprising isn't it? Can't remember the last time we had a losing record."

White Deer, long a power in Panhandle football and state circles as well, is faced, for the first time since 1963, with ending the 1968 grid season by losing more games than they've won.

White Deer is faced with this prospect but brother don't count on it.

Football boss Sherrill Bottoms started part-time last year, not given up by a long shot.

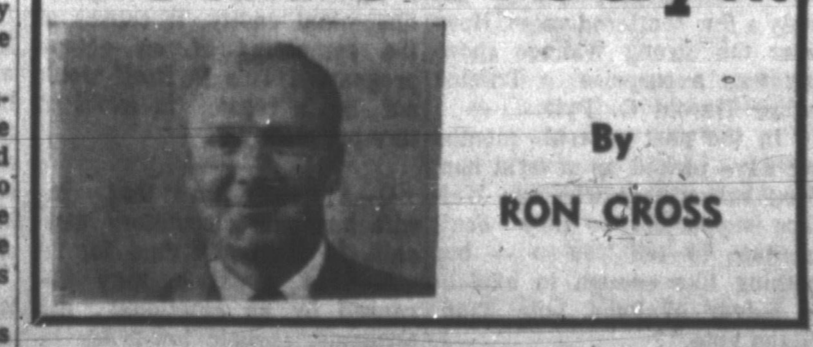

"What's wrong with us?" he asked of the question. "Mainly it's depth, or lack of it. We just don't have any."

"We are starting only five seniors and another is injured. We also have two freshmen and three sophomores starting, so I guess you could say we are a young club, in fact we'll be young next year," Bottoms said.

Bottoms returned five starters from last year's 11-1 club that tied for the district title.

Stan Bush returned as the Bucks quarterback but the 175 pound senior has found the going a bit rougher in 1968. Steve Urbanczyk, a 160-pound end is the only other offensive starter who returned.

Bruce Locke, 175 and John Slagle, 165 pound tackle started on defense for the Bucks in 1967. Locke is starting at fullback.

Two seniors, both of whom started part-time last year,

James Duke and Greg Thomas are both on the White Deer injured list.

Mike Trantham at a tackle and Ricky Hoskins at a defensive halfback position are the two freshmen that Bottoms is hoping to build the Bucks future with.

Ricky Thurman, a 215 pound guard, 145 pound halfback David Guinn and 190 pound guard Stamps are all starting sophomores for the Bucks.

For the past two campaigns under Bottoms White Deer has run up a remarkable 23-1 record always having the good offense and superb defense.

1968 is a different story. The Bucks have tallied just 33 points and the defense has been run over time and time again for 80 points.

But the future looks good, or so Bottoms says.

"We have been improving steadily and last week, for example our defense performed very good against a tough team, Bottoms said.

The Bucks got on the win side last week, nudging a strong McLean Team, 13-0.

"Don't count us out. The way these kids have been improving we have a good chance to finish real strong in the district," Bottoms said.

I'm with him.
