

America's Five Weathervane Counties Pointing to a Nixon Victory

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Five counties in the United States, out of a total of 3,072, have voted with the winner in every presidential election this century. How are they leaning this year? Here is a team report from UPI newsmen in each area.)

By LOUIS CASSELS
America's five weathervane counties are pointing toward a Nixon victory.

But they aren't too definite about it. The wind seems to have shifted toward Hubert Humphrey recently, and the outcome could be close.

The so-called weathervane counties have voted with the winner in every presidential election in this century. Scattered widely across the nation, they are Coos and Stratford Counties, New Hampshire; Palo Alto County, Iowa; Laramie County, Wyoming, and Crook County, Oregon.

Here are on-the-spot reports from UPI correspondents on how the election seems to be going in each of these counties:

Coos County, New Hampshire
Looks fairly safe for Richard M. Nixon. A straw poll conducted by the Manchester Union Leader showed Nixon with a 2-1 lead over Humphrey in the final week of the campaign. However, state Democratic Chairman William Craig claims that Humphrey is making a strong late surge and "it's getting closer and closer all the time."

Stratford County, New Hampshire
"Nixon right now would carry Stratford, but it would be mighty darn close," says Wayne Chick, an astute political reporter who covers the county for Foster's Daily Democrat in Dover, N.H. A sidewalk poll conducted Wednesday in Stratford's principal city, Rochester, showed Nixon and Humphrey running neck to neck.

Palo Alto County, Iowa
Most political observers rate Nixon slightly ahead, but add that it looks like a close contest. Humphrey has gained ground in the past 10 days, picking up support from some supporters of Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy who previously had boycotted the campaign. A straw poll conducted this week by the Emmetsburg Democrat-Reporter gave Nixon 79 per cent, Humphrey 46.2 per cent, George C. Wallace 5.9 per cent of the vote in the county.

Laramie County, Wyoming
Republican Chairman Ed Morrison claims Nixon will carry the county easily. But Democratic chairman Larry Schieck insists that "it's going to be close." Schieck contends Humphrey will carry the county "if we get out a large vote."

says Doran. "Nixon still has a small lead, but not like it was before."

Crook County, Oregon
Ron Bessonette, editor of the county's weekly newspaper, the Central Oregonian, sees Nixon winning "pretty strongly—but no landslide." He thinks Humphrey has lately made some inroads on Nixon's strength, but "it would be a real upset if Humphrey won."

Every election year, a mock balloting is held at the high school in Prineville, the county seat. Over the years, returns from the student voting have proved an excellent barometer of how the county's adults will vote. This year, Prineville high cast 238 votes for Nixon, 147 for Humphrey, 34 for George C. Wallace.

"Man must be left free to discriminate and to exercise his freedom of choice. This freedom is a virtue and not a vice. And freedom of choice sows the seeds of peace rather than of conflict."

Israel, Jordan Near Explosion

By WILLIAM SUNDERLAND

United Press International
Israeli and Jordanian troops battled with machine guns today at three points across the Jordan River and exchanged rocket fire in a fourth encounter. Each side accused the other of firing first.

In Amman, the Jordanians said they suffered no casualties in an incident near Um-Ash-Shurat near the Dead Sea and at the settlement of Ashdow-Yaavoc in the Jordan Valley.

In Jerusalem, Israeli military sources said Jordanian troops also fired bazookas at an Israeli patrol in the Beisan Valley. They said Israeli forces fired back. The Israelis and Jordanians also exchanged fire in a third incident near the Allenby bridge on the Jordan River without casualties to either side.

In Cairo, the newspaper Al-Ahram said today the Middle East situation "again is approaching an explosion point" and accused U.N. ceasefire observers of helping Israel's "aggressive policies."

In Jerusalem, the Israeli cabinet met to discuss Foreign Minister Abba Eban's plans in virtually deadlocked Middle East peace negotiations. In London, diplomats said the Soviet Union may try to force reopening of the Suez Canal, shut since the June 5-10, 1967 Middle East war.

Al-Ahram, a semi-official newspaper which often reflects the thinking of the government of President Gamal Abdel Nasser, said:

"The obvious truth is that the Middle East situation is again approaching an explosion point due to Israel's insistence on her aggressive policies and refusal to accept a peaceful settlement based on the (U.N.) Security Council's resolution (of Nov. 22, 1967)."

In London, Communist diplomats said the Soviets want the Suez Canal reopened badly enough that they might force the issue.

The Soviets need the canal to get supplies to North Vietnam more easily and as an outlet to the Indian Ocean. Egypt has said it will not reopen the canal unless Israel withdraws from the Sinai Peninsula and other occupied Arab territories. Israeli troops line most of the canal's east bank.

Western diplomats have speculated on the motives behind the Soviets' steadily increasing Naval build-up in the Mediterranean.

Bombing Halt Expected By Foreign Diplomats

Top News In Brief

SAIGON (UPI)—The Cypriot freighter Agenor today was reported breaking up and sinking in the South China Sea 90 miles southeast of Saigon. A U.S. Coast Guard cutter rescued its 17-man crew Wednesday.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Police Chief Thomas J. Cahill of San Francisco announced Wednesday that the public support of the nation's 330,000 law enforcement officers in the face of growing crime and violence. "We are a thin blue line," Cahill told 100 officers graduating from the FBI National Academy. "We cannot hold this line alone."

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Lucinda Desha Robb, president Johnson's granddaughter, probably will be nicknamed "Cinda," according to Mrs. Johnson. The First Lady made the disclosure Wednesday as she left the White House to visit daughter Lynda Robb and the baby at Bethesda Naval Hospital.

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Soviet Union today launched the 250th in its series of unmanned Cosmos satellites, Tass said. It came less than a day after the Russians' latest manned ship returned safely from a four-day orbit of the earth. The official Soviet news agency said Cosmos 250 will "continue exploration of outer space." It said, "Equipment on board the satellite functions normally."

NEW YORK (UPI)—Richard M. Nixon might win by a landslide but in any case will win by a margin wide enough to keep the decision out of the House of Representatives, the "predictions, guesses and hunches" of 482 members of the American Society of Newspaper Editors showed today.

The bulletin, the society's publication, said reports from the editors show the Republican candidate should win over Hubert H. Humphrey and George C. Wallace.

NEW YORK (UPI)—Members of the striking United Federation of Teachers (UFT) met today to reject a plan offered by the state education commissioner to end their 25-day walkout in the nation's largest school system.

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—George Wallace is fond of saying he's the only presidential candidate with courage enough to hold rallies in the largest arenas available and take the chance of being embarrassed by empty seats. Wednesday night this courage took him to Philadelphia's dazzling new Spectrum, which holds 17,000. Only 5,000 Wallace Partisans showed up.

BOBBING FOR APPLES is one of the activities children, and adults, engage in at Halloween time. Participating in this fun at a carnival last night were from left, Jeanette Ketchum, 8; Mark Eastham, 7; and Vickie Ketchum, 12. The girls are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Ketchum, and Mark is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Eastham. The carnival was held at the Pampa chapel of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.

Action May Develop Before US Elections

By LOREN JENKINS

PARIS (UPI)—Diplomats watched Washington today for a sign President Johnson will halt the bombing of North Vietnam before Tuesday's U.S. general elections and open the door to full scale peace talks.

North Vietnam's representatives to the Paris negotiations made it clear the next move in diplomatic attempts to settle the Vietnam war is up to the United States.

"I clearly believe that if President Johnson really wants a peaceful solution to the Vietnam problem he still has the opportunity before the bombing and expand the negotiations," Hanoi delegation chief Xuan Thuy said Wednesday.

The statement followed an inconclusive bargaining session between U.S. and North Vietnamese diplomats Wednesday. Thuy's remarks heightened speculation the two sides were on the verge of a tentative settlement which would halt the bombing and expand the present bilateral talks into a full scale conference.

"If the United States ceases the bombing, the peaceful solution on the Vietnam problem will come about," Thuy said. "If they do not it will be delayed."

In Tokyo, Naraichi Fujiyama, director general of the Japanese foreign ministry's public information bureau, said there could be a bombing halt before the U.S. presidential election. He said he based his statement on information received from Japanese embassies around the world.

Thuy's comments reinforced reports Hanoi has answered a secret U.S. offer for breaking the deadlock. The fact a full bombing pause had not yet been declared led to the belief Hanoi's answer was qualified.

Today President Nguyen Van Thieu of South Vietnam, speaking at a ceremony near Saigon, said North Vietnam has not shown enough "goodwill" to allow a bombing halt. He said his government had not appointed an official delegation for possible peace talks.

Identified Parts Of USS Scorpion Found at Azores

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Objects identified as parts of the hull of the USS Scorpion, the American nuclear submarine missing for five months, have been located about 400 miles southwest of the Azores in more than 10,000 feet of water, the Navy announced today.

The Scorpion, with 99 men aboard, failed to arrive at her home port in Norfolk, Va., as scheduled on May 27 after an Atlantic crossing.

Adm. Thomas H. Moorer, chief of naval operations, said reports that parts of the hull had been found came Wednesday night from a U.S. Navy oceanographic research ship, the Mizar.

"Mizar reports that the submarine's location has been confirmed by means of remotely controlled underwater photography," Moorer said.

The Mizar, together with a survey ship the Bowditch and the submarine rescue ship Sunbird, had been among the key vessels assigned to search for the missing sub southwest of the Azores.

Candidates Predicting Victory

By United Press International

Richard M. Nixon says he is making this pledge. Hubert H. Humphrey wants to be thrown into the House as the vice president can "wheel and deal" his way into the White House. Humphrey expressed confidence he will beat Nixon.

Nixon challenged the Democratic nominee Wednesday to support whichever candidate gets the biggest popular vote if no one gets an electoral vote majority and the election goes to the House.

Predicting a winning margin of 3 to 5 million votes, Nixon said, "I stand ready to pledge to support for president the man who receives the most votes for that office, whoever that man may be. I call upon Hubert Humphrey to join with election if loyal supporters keep working as they have in recent days. Earlier, in New York City, Humphrey campaigned in the garment district and other areas, confidently proclaiming the tide had turned in his favor.

In other developments: George C. Wallace—the former Alabama governor's third party campaign met new heckling Wednesday night in Philadelphia. There were no fights, as there were the night before in Detroit, but Wallace aide meanwhile said Humphrey supporters and hecklers exchanged angry shouts during his appearance at a one-third filled Spectrum Sports Arena.

Spiro T. Agnew—Agnew, also faced with hecklers, shouted down peace demonstrators in Baltimore that he was "absolutely sure" he would win the election if loyal supporters keep working as they have in recent days. Earlier, in New York City, Humphrey campaigned in the garment district and other areas, confidently proclaiming the tide had turned in his favor.

Gnus Bring News to Zoo

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—It all started when the gnus broke the news at the San Francisco Zoo.

That was when mama and papa gnu had a new gnu, born Monday.

A few hours later a mother peccary—a wild swine—gave birth to twins.

The next day a spotted leopard had a baby.

On Wednesday a llama delivered a woolly, 30-pound offspring.

Hijacked Plane Heads into U.S. for Change

BROWNSVILLE (UPI)—A small band of federal and local officials waited at the airport for the hijacked airliner to touch down. Havana, Cuba? No. Brownsville, it.

The hijacker twisted the usual script and forced a Mexican airliner with 32 persons aboard to fly to the United States Wednesday—instead of from it.

Officials arrested a 20-year-old Mexican identified as Juan Francisco Garcia Zurita, a native of Veracruz, who said he wanted "to leave Mexico."

A Cameron County official said late Wednesday the man was being held in jail for federal authorities, but no specific charges had been filed.

The airliner, a C46 Servicios Aereos Especiales, S. A. (SAESA), was a few minutes out of Tampico, Mexico, when a man armed with a Luger-type pistol told a stewardess to fly to Brownsville on the southern tip of Texas.

The plane was headed for Reynosa, Mexico. The stewardess, Anna Maria Navarrete of Mexico City, said she asked the man if he was trying to get to Cuba but he said no.

Change of Heart
The FBI said Zurita, about 5 feet 7 inches tall, frail and neatly dressed in a dark suit, would only say he "had a change of heart and wanted to give himself up." He was the first man off the plane when it landed and immediately was surrounded by 30 FBI agents, U.S. Customs agents, U.S. marshals, sheriff's deputies and Brownsville policemen, apparently forewarned by the air port at Reynosa.

"If he was seeking asylum, I don't know anybody he's asked for it," an FBI agent said. "What his final destination was I don't know. One thing for sure he wanted to leave Mexico."

But if U.S. officials decide not to press charges, he will have to go back. The U.S. marshal's office at Brownsville said the U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service would hold a hearing on Zurita. If Justice Department authorities do not press charges, he will be returned to Mexico.

Flight Rescheduled
The spokesman said Zurita gave the stewardess a note to the pilot, Capt. Jesus Rosales Chavez of Mexico City, ordering the plane to "go to Brownsville and refuel. Further orders will be given at that time," FBI agent Clay Zachary said.

Antonio O. Martinez, of Reynosa, a passenger, said he saw the man hand a note to a hostess after the plane cleared the Tampico airport.

He said he was sitting beside the suspect and noticed two pigeons flying out of the plane. (See HIJACKED, Page 3)

PIF Recommends Amendments For Voter Approval The Pampa Industrial Foundation board of directors at a meeting this morning voted to recommend the approval of Amendments No. 7 and No. 12 in next Tuesday's election.

Aubrey Steele, foundation president, said the board was asking approval of Amendment 7 which would gradually eliminate state ad valorem taxes on property, except the tax which supports building funds for institutions of higher learning.

The state ad valorem tax real and personal property is now 47 cents on each $100 valuation. The amendment would eliminate 37 cents of this tax and allow the state to continue to collect a 10 cent tax for certain state colleges and universities.

Amendment No. 12, which the PIF also endorsed for approval, would give the State Legislature power to authorize counties cities and towns to issue revenue bonds for industrial development purposes.

Steele pointed out that 44 out of 50 states now have such arrangements and if the amendment is approved it would put Texas in a more competitive situation in attracting new industry.

Included in the 44 states are all of the states contiguous to Texas borders. Steele stated.

Record Balloting For Absentees Seen by County Tomorrow is the last day for voting absentee or in the limited presidential balloting. County Clerk Charlie Thut reminded voters today.

Thut said business was "landslide" today, with over 900 ballots being cast before noon. Many of the absentee voters being recorded are from ballots being returned by mail from servicemen. Thut said.

A record 1013 absentee voters were cast in 1964 and Thut foresees this year's total exceeding that figure.

Persons intending to vote have been asked to bring their registration certificates with them. Thut said. However, affidavits of loss may be made if the certificate has been lost or misplaced.

Today was the last day for transferring registration for those persons who have moved from one voting precinct to another since May 5. Thut also reminded voters.

However, persons living in any town of less than 10,000 population are not required to transfer their registration and may vote in the precinct of their present residence. Thut said.

Local Delegates to Attend State Historical Meeting

Members of Texas' 254 Historical Survey Committees will gather in the Alamo city of San Antonio this weekend for the 1968 annual meeting of the Texas Historical Foundation and the Texas State Historical Survey Committee.

Sessions will be held in the Quinter Hotel under the direction of Truett Latimer, executive director of the State Historical Survey Committee, with headquarters in Austin.

Representing Gray County will be Tracy D. Cary, chairman of the Gray County Historical Survey Committee and Mrs. Fred Thompson, committeewoman, who is curator of the M.K. Brown Museum in the White Deer Land Building, currently undergoing renovation.

Cary and Mrs. Thompson also serve on the Tourist Development Committee of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce and will arrange a display of Gray County's historic sites, business, civic and industrial institutions at the meeting.

A large scrapbook of the Survey Committee's activities, county history, reports, projects etc. has already been sent ahead to the adjudication personnel who will select the best entry from 254 counties and will award as first prize a $400 Swedish aluminum historical marker to the winning county.

Dr. Dorman Winfrey, executive director of the Texas State Library, will be a featured speaker at the meeting addressing the group on "Setting up a History Collection in a Local Library," which is the current program of the Field Service Division of the State Library—the development of a comprehensive collection of local and family history in all county seat libraries in Texas.

Wayne Bell, architectural restoration consultant of the Texas State Committee, will speak on "The National Historic Preservation Act." R. Henderson Shuffler, director of the Institute of Texas Cultures will speak on the history and future of the project at the Friday evening dinner to be held at

Savings Bonds Total Reaches 62 Per Cent

George B. Cree Jr., chairman of the Gray County Savings Bonds Committee, reported today that sales of United States Savings Bonds and Freedom Shares in Gray county totaled $34,124 during September. Sales during the first nine months totaled $310,418 and this is 62 per cent of the 1968 sales goal.

September sales in Texas totaled $13,508,678 and the January-September sales were $134,729,099 — an increase of 6.3 per cent over sales during the same period of 1967.

Price Discusses Water Supplies

A sufficient supplemental water supply must be forthcoming at the earliest possible time if the Panhandle farmer is to continue to fulfill his part of supplying the world's agriculture needs.

Congressman Bob Price made this statement during an early morning meeting with farmers, civic leaders, and businessmen in Muleshoe today.

Price said the study of water importation, from the Mississippi River to the Panhandle in West Texas appears to be a start in the right direction.

"However," Price stated, "the need is so pressing that we must consider every possible plan."

In alleviating the water shortage or projected water shortage facing the farmer, we must spend our money wisely," the congressman said.

"Such groups as Water, Inc. have been most effective in promoting common sense approaches to this water problem, because they express the views of the people of the Panhandle who are aware of the total need and because they are conscious of the fact that any project must be economically feasible and must furnish water at a cost the Panhandle can afford," he added.

"During the last Congress, Sen. John Tower and I sponsored a bill which cleared the House calling for the funding of a study to explore the possibility of bringing water to the Panhandle from the Missouri River," Price said.

The congressman said plans for the importation of water represented nothing new and that both the Egyptians and Roman civilization used this method to good advantage.

"However," Price said, "if the farmer of this area is to be able to afford to irrigate his crops, something must be done to ease the profit-stealing cost-price squeeze the inflated economy has created for the farmer and agriculture in general. One-third of the U.S. labor force is directly dependent on agriculture."

Finally, crime and riots throughout the country could be controlled through an attorney general who would enforce the laws of the land, provide additional training for policemen, and undertake the revitalization of our penal system, Price concluded.

St. Petersburg, Fla. Wednesday night. Throwing away a prepared speech on Social Security, the GOP vice presidential candidate charged the Johnson-Humphrey administration with "encouraging this kind of dissent" as 100 hecklers badgered him.

Curtis E. LeMay—Wallace's running mate accused the news media of distorting his views on nuclear weapons, saying he did not advocate their use in Vietnam. He said he saw "no use" in the employment of nuclear weapons there and said the media were trying to transform him into a "monster."

Edmund S. Muskie—Muskie, speaking to about 2,500 supporters in a 10,000-seat arena in Lexington, Ky., accused Nixon of making the same charges against Humphrey that he made against John F. Kennedy in 1960. "The country knew Richard Nixon in 1960," Muskie said "and he hasn't changed a bit."

Glen Day to Visit Amarillo Pythians

Glen H. Day, District No. 13, District Deputy Grand Chancellor of Knights of Pythias Lodges, will make an official visit to Amarillo Lodge No. 479 at 8 p.m. today.

He will also invite members of Amarillo Lodge to the district meeting to be held in Pampa Nov. 5.

Several Knights from Pampa Lodge No. 480 will accompany Knight Day to Amarillo. All Knights going to Amarillo are asked to be at Pythian Lodge hall by 6:45 p.m. today.

Price Addresses Pampa Rotaries

Congressman Bob Price listed the Viet Nam War, our fiscal policy, and crime and riots in the streets, as the three major problems facing this nation, in a talk before the Pampa Rotary Club yesterday in the Coronado Inn.

In contending that we must continue to be the world leader in the fight against communism, Price said that all-out effort should be made to win the war in Viet Nam, which he described as a political, economic conflict.

In order to maintain a sane fiscal policy, the speaker noted that we must curb inflation as well as federal spending.

Finally, crime and riots throughout the country could be controlled through an attorney general who would enforce the laws of the land, provide additional training for policemen, and undertake the revitalization of our penal system, Price concluded.

Guide Names Best Haunted Places For Ghost Hunting in British Isles

By MARIS ROSS
 LONDON (UPI)— American tourists come to see the sights of Britain in summer. In winter they ought to go ghost hunting. So suggests John Harries, author of a handy guide for anyone in search of spectral stagecoaches, headless horsemen, phantom hounds and other such phenomena. In "The Ghost Hunter's Road Book" Harries maps and lists a host of hauntings for the tourist to investigate — at his own risk. A glimpse of the Black Hound along an ancient earthwork named the Devil's Ditch in Eastern England is supposed to presage death within a year or madness in a month or two. The hound has, by repute, luminous eyes as large and red as the rear lights of an automobile.

Nance is a much kinder ghost and truckers along the A64 main road near York in Northern England swear by her. They hold she glides along as a lithe young girl when the cloying mists of the area come down and acts as a guide for drivers who trust her, leading the way at the edge of the headlights' glare. These are the Lands of the Dead, with folk memories amassing legends and rumors extending perhaps for 5,000 years back from the rational, materialistic 20th century. Fascinated Harries told UPI he thought of the idea of a ghost guide while covering thousands of miles in Britain to write a travel book for American tourists. In chatting to them in hotel lounges, he found them fascinated by ghosts. "Ghosts seem to mean as much as 'Queen Elizabeth slept here," he said. "They regard Britain as a country full of history and go for the historical things, the stately homes, the Tower of London. Inevitably if the place has any historic interest, it will have a ghost." Harries has personally never seen a ghost. The Tower of London has several, including one of Queen Anne Boleyn, and a black brute of a bear which walks through walls and is presumed to be a relic of a menagerie which existed at the Tower in the 14th century. London's best known modern ghost, says Harries, is the man in gray at the Theater Royal, Drury Lane. His appearance in the upper circle before the opening of a new show is taken as an omen of success. He is supposed to have been seen just

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am 38, have never been married, but have had seven living illegitimate children, from 4 to 20 years old. One died. I have been in and out of the state mental hospital for 12 years. Sometimes I feel real good, and then I get to feeling so depressed I think I can't face another day. When they discharge me from the mental hospital, I am sent to the county home because no family will claim me. I have nothing, and nowhere else to go. I feel so low and downcast and can not get it out of my head that God is punishing me for my past sins. I never miss your articles in the paper. You are my only friend. Can you help me, Dear Abby?

DEAR FEELING: Illness, be it physical or mental, is not punishment for past "sins." One who suffers from depression is no more to blame than one who suffers from cancer, tuberculosis or diabetes, so get that idea out of your head. We have all "sinned" along the way in various degrees. Don't look back. Look forward. God bless.

DEAR ABBY: My husband works an 8-hour day, but when he comes home in the evening he is the neighborhood handyman. (Mostly without pay.)

Abby, I am fed up. There is plenty for him to do around his own house, but the minute he gets home, one of the neighbors grabs him. Since my husband does not seem to have the backbone to tell them off, should I do it for him?

WELLSVILLE: When a man permits himself to become the "neighborhood handyman" (and without pay yet!) he must enjoy the role. Do not tell anyone off. Just grab him first.

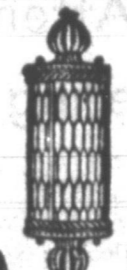

DEAR ABBY: I am a 17-year-old girl whose widowed mother (46) has recently married a widower a few years older than herself. She and her new husband are so wrapped up in each other that I feel I have lost a mother instead of gaining a father. My stepfather's 16-year-old son feels the same way—only in reverse. We have told our "parents" how we feel, and they say their psychologist told them that "a remarried couple should be the center of a circle with their children forming a less significant circle around the center." He advised them to put themselves strictly first, because in his words, "over-con-

Your Horoscope
JEANE DIXON

FOR FRIDAY, NOV. 1, 1968
 Your birthday today: You are beset with the need to end unfinished matters this coming year. Conventional advice is not acceptable to you; your own feelings take precedence. Today's natives are affectionate, sometimes fickle — hermits at heart.

ARIES (Mar. 21-Apr. 19): A strenuous ten days lie ahead for you. Unusual quirks can cause dismay. Use your inventive talents, seek new solutions. Competition is vigorous.

TAURUS (Apr. 20-May 20): The tone of the coming weeks is set today. Lawsuits are not favored at this time. If you can manage to work on your own, by all means do so. Well-meaning friends clutter the path.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Focus your critical eye on work rather than on your friends; they may not take it so well. Be moderate; it pays. Meditate a bit tonight.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Today marks the slow start of three weeks of adventure in romance! Everything you do today must be watched carefully. Do not expect immediate results.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Begin this quiet and sober month with a resolve; thrift! Your stewardship of other people's affairs may slow up your day.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Your concern over money should not be permitted to dominate your day. Instead, find ways to cope with misunderstanding or the opposition from friends; ask why (and how).

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Be the one who is calm and peaceful. If others seem a bit tense, remember they have not been so lucky as you. Give a little, meet them halfway.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): This weekend begins a three-week venture into a more creative approach to life. Concentrate on your private activities. Discussions concerning older people cause delays.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): This is one of those days when there seems entirely too much to do. Do the most important things first, get as far as you can into the work. (Avoid arguments.)

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Discussion burns up a lot of time and energy... with little results. Postpone money deals until next week. Meditate tonight rather than getting involved in parties.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Nothing special today beyond restless discontent with things as they are. This coming month requires conscious thrift since your natural impulse will be to scatter money needlessly.

PISCES (Feb. 19-Mar. 20): Today your intentions are not understood by anybody closely related to you. Proceed calmly with care about details, and you will succeed, in due time.

before the long runs of "Oklahoma," "South Pacific," "The King and I" and "My Fair Lady."

According to legend, he was an 18th century nobleman who was infatuated with an actress. Her lover became jealous and had him killed inside the theater.

The man in gray is harmless but not so the ghost of Fred Archer, a 19th century jockey who won 20 top races and could not abide rivals. His white, formless ghost is claimed to have frightened a number of horses on Newmarket race track, making them fall or swerve.

Even Britain's astronomers at the Royal Greenwich Observatory are supposed to work in a haunted house, 15th century Herstmonceux Castle in Southern England to which the Observatory moved in 1946.

The Herstmonceux ghost is a drummer, more often heard than seen. One version says he was a devoted servant of the founder of Herstmonceux, Sir Roger de Fiennes.

THIS YEAR, the caped crime fighter will be the Halloween identity for boys aged 10 and under. Cover all bases with this Mr. X short circle cape, which reverses to show another identity—his choice of Superman, Batman, or even the Great Pumpkin.

Meet Mr. X On Halloween Night

By JOANNE SCHREIBER
Is it Batman? Is it Superman? No. It's Mr. X — the most daring, most determined, most debonaire of all the cape-and-mask gang.

He works alone for trick-or-treat, identified only by his short, swirling cape, buttoned back at the corners and flashing the Mr. X symbol boldly across the back. Mom made it for him of dark green polished cotton lined in yellow, using these simple directions from a sewing machine co.

The materials needed are 1 1/4 yards each of 36-inch fabric in contrasting colors; thread to match; 3 buttons of each color, and a piece of wrapping paper for a pattern.

To make pattern, cut a piece of paper 20 inches by 40 inches. Fold in half to make a square 20 inches by 20 inches. Using a string-and-pencil compass, mark a quarter-circle with the center at the folded corner and the arc measuring 20 inches or the full side measurement of the paper. Mark a smaller 2-inch arc in the corner in the same manner. Cut on curved lines and open fold. You should now have a half-circle 40 inches wide with a four-inch half-circle cutout in the center.

Lay pattern on fabric as shown in diagram, to cut both sections of full circle cape. Repeat with contrasting fabric.

With right sides of fabric together, stitch center back seams to form full circle, leaving front seam open. Make only 1/4-inch seam allowance. Press open. Repeat for reverse side of cape.

Make appropriate insignia of felt or cotton — Mr. X, Superman, or whatever is currently in favor with the hobgoblin set. If desired, the cape may be made reversible with different motifs on each side.

After making insignia, stitch to center back of outside cape. Stitch second insignia to center back of lining. Place inside and outside capes together, right sides of fabric facing. Match seams and edges. Stitch around all edges, taking 1/4-inch seams and turn cape right side out. Turn in seam allowance of opening edge and slipstitch together. Press all edges. Top-stitch if desired.

Make a loop on one neck edge; sew a button on each side of opposite edge to form fastening. If button-back front is desired, make buttonholes in front corner, fold back and mark position for button. Attach buttons to both inside and outside of cape.

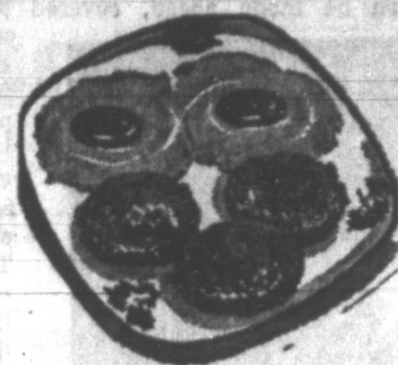

To complete the costume, equip Mr. X with a polo shirt and leotards, boots and gloves, if demanded.

The cape may, of course, be made from almost any fabric, including terry cloth, felt or vinyl, as well as cotton. If you wish to cut pennies by using old fabric which you already have, use a shower curtain, bedspread or tablecloth and be sure it is in fairly good condition. A worn sheet, for example, will be too far gone the most important ingredient to be worth the sewing effort, of crime-fighting, it's bound to and since a cape seems to be see a lot of action.

Pumpkin Faced Buffet Platter Sets Halloween Party Spirit

"Put on a happy face" for your Halloween party with this pumpkin faced buffet platter. You will set a festive mood with this unusual way of arranging a variety of luncheon meats.

Spook Party Platter

It's easy to do. Just alternate the meats to form a circular face and use the cheese and peperoni slices for the eyes, nose and mouth. This quick idea can be made ahead, covered and stored in the refrigerator until guests arrive.

To design the face, go creative and try the many new and different combinations possible with table ready meats. They come in a variety of colors, shapes, textures and flavors. Choose your favorite light colored, mild flavored luncheon meats such as P and P loaf, New England brand sausage, and bologna and the darker colored, spicier dry sausages like cooked salami and sliced peperoni. These, along with the processed American cheese used for the face and hat, give a nice variety for sandwich making.

Accompany your meat platter with hot mulled cider and assorted breads and crackers. You're sure to please your guests when they can create their own sandwiches from their favorite luncheon meats.

Offering Witches Broomstick Cake May Prevent Their Wicked Tricks

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food Editor

Apples and Halloween seem to go together in most people's minds. So try this broomstick cake and please all your visiting witches.

HALLOWEEN BROOMSTICK CAKE
2 tbsps. butter
3/4 cup brown sugar
4 or 5 Winesap, Jonathan or Delicious apples
1/2 cup chopped nuts
1/2 cup butter
1/2 cup sugar
1 beaten egg
1 cup light molasses
2 1/2 cups all-purpose flour
1 1/2 tsp. soda
1 tsp. cinnamon
1 tsp. ginger
3/4 tsp. cloves
1 tsp. salt
1 cup hot water

1/2-inch thick slices. Arrange slices over sugar mixture, and sprinkle nuts over all. Place pan on bottom shelf of oven set at 350 degrees to begin cooking apples while making the gingerbread. Cream together butter and sugar. Add the egg, molasses and mix well. Sift the dry ingredients and stir into creamed mixture until smooth. Stir in hot water, mixing to make a thin batter. Pour batter over the apples, return the pan to oven. Bake 35 minutes. Remove from oven, loosen the cake around edges and let stand 5 minutes before turning out on serving tray. Let cool a little before serving. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

Cranberry Filling Halloween Cake Decorates Party

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food Editor

Halloween is fun time. And, of course, as everyone knows, witches and black cats have the most fun.

But there's fun for everyone in a special Halloween cake with cranberry filling and pumpkin yellow frosting. Witches and cats decorate the top.

CRANBERRY HALLOWEEN CAKE
(Makes 1 1/2-lb. cake)
1 large package yellow or white cake mix
Grated rind of 1 orange
2 cups fresh cranberries, rinsed and drained
1/3 cup orange juice
1/4 cup granulated sugar
1 package (14 ounces) creamy white frosting mix
Red and yellow food coloring
Cat, pumpkin, witch and haunted house cut-outs

Halloween Opens Pumpkin Pie Season

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food Editor

Halloween officially opens the luscious pumpkin pie season. Whether you make it from the pumpkin salvaged from the jack-o'-lantern or from frozen or canned pumpkin, now is the time to begin enjoying it.

Almost every good cook has her own favorite recipe. Some like lots of spices, others prefer the flavor of pumpkin to dominate. But here is a new variation. Peanut butter is one of the ingredients. Try it. The youngsters will certainly approve. So, we guess, will all the rest of the family.

PEANUT BUTTER PUMPKIN PIE
1 1/2 cups firmly packed brown sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon ginger
1/4 teaspoon ground cloves
1 1/2 cups cooked or canned pumpkin

1/2 cups creamy or chunk-style peanut butter
3 eggs
1 cup dark corn syrup
1 cup light cream
1 unbaked 9-inch pastry shell with high-fluted edge...

Mix together brown sugar, cinnamon, salt, ginger and clove in mixing bowl. Stir in pumpkin, then peanut butter. Add eggs; beat slightly. Stir in corn syrup and cream. Pour into unbaked pastry shell, pouring in last portion after pie has been placed on oven rack. Bake in 350-degree oven 1 hour or until set 2 inches in from edge. Serve with whipped cream, if desired.

Egg supplies are ample but prices are a bit higher. But if you don't know which size is the best buy, here's a rule of thumb from Gwendolyn Clyatt, Extension consumer marketing specialist. Buy the large size eggs if the difference in price is less than seven cents a dozen.

Selective Service Answers

EDITOR'S NOTE: Below are questions now being asked at draft boards. The answers are by Colonel Morris S. Schwartz, State Selective Service director, 200 W. 9th St., Austin, Texas 78701. He will welcome your questions.

Q—I served in the Australian Navy before coming to the United States. Will I be drafted after I register?

A—Australia is a country certified by the Department of State as being associated with the United States in mutual defense activities. If your service was for at least 18 months with the Australian Navy, you should get in touch with your country's diplomatic mission in Washington, or the nearest consular office of your country. The diplomatic or consular office, after verifying your naval service, will send a certificate, as evidence of your service, to your draft board. In this way you establish your eligibility for classification in class IV-A as a man who has completed armed forces service.

Q—Will you please tell me who decides on how many men are to be drafted?

A—The Department of Defense. When the decision is made, the Secretary of Defense sends to the Director of Selective Service a call for a specified number of men required for induction into the armed forces in a particular month. Normally this is done 60 days prior to the effective date.

Q—How did my state director of Selective Service get his job?

A—He was recommended by your governor and appointed by the President.

Q—Must he be a military man to get this job?

A—No. He can be a civilian.

Area Legion Post Holds Meeting

WHITE DEER (Spl) — Harlan Anderson American Legion Post of White Deer held its monthly meeting recently, electing new officers and voting to sponsor an American Legion Baseball team next summer.

Elected were commander, C. O. Williams; adjutant, M. D. Waddill; service officer, James Britten; finance, Joel Sewell; chaplain, Thomas V. Bates; sergeant at arms, F. H. Slagle; historian, S. D. Grayson; publicity chairman, Don D. Davis.

All eligible veterans are urged to contact Post Adjutant M. D. Waddill to renew membership or join the Post. An all-out effort will be made to increase the membership.

For a number of years White Deer and Skellytown have sponsored Little League baseball programs. There are many youngsters in the area who have graduated from the Little League age group.

The local post is moving ahead with plans to appoint a baseball chairman at its November meeting to get a program started.

In other business the Post discussed plans for a community building. A meeting is being set up in the near future to ask all interested citizens to attend and look over plans for such a building greatly needed for the White Deer area.

White Deer School Board Discusses Tax

WHITE DEER (Spl) — White Deer School Board met recently with Mark Waddill, tax assessor, and band director, Jim Halle, attending.

Two major items of business were transacted. The first was the approval of the 1968 school tax roll in the amount of assessed value of $37,551,060.

The bid from the Frunant Uniforms, Inc., was accepted to purchase 80 new band uniforms (complete) at $66.56 each.

ESCAPE ARTIST

One of the most notorious escape artists of all time was John Sheppard, an early 19th century English criminal. Crowds paid to see him in the prison. When he was finally hanged at Tyburn, the execution was viewed by 200,000 persons, according to Encyclopedia Britannica.

OF Advertising Start with an Audit

Advertising is a serious investment... Art, engraving, typography and copy are costly. All are planned carefully to attract readers who are prospects for the merchandise or service. No business can afford to waste any part of this investment in any medium that cannot guarantee definite circulation and readership. "Waste basket circulation" in post offices, and so called throw-aways that usually travel to the incinerator are of little or no value to the advertiser.

Highlights and Sidelights From Your State Capitol

By VERN SANFORD,
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN — Lawyers and news-media panel jointly formed a special committee to establish guidelines to protect the right of the free press in covering arrests and trials while at the same time guaranteeing fair treatment of accused persons.

This combination state-bar and news-media panel includes representatives of the State Bar of Texas, Texas Press Association, Texas Daily Newspaper Association, Texas Association of Broadcasters, AP and UPI Managing Editors Associations and Sigma Delta Chi professional journalism fraternity.

Committee is the outgrowth of controversial recommendations made by the Reardon Advisory Committee on Fair Trial and Free Press (American Bar Association). Reardon Committee suggested tight restrictions by courts and law enforcement agencies on information to news media concerning arrests and pending criminal cases. American Bar adopted the restrictions, then urged state and local groups to make them effective.

Purpose of state committee, said Texas Bar President Ralph W. Erite of San Antonio, is to promote a better understanding between the Bar and news media, particularly in their efforts to support the constitutional guarantees of freedom of the press and the right of a fair, impartial and public trial.

Erite said guidelines will be established for both lawyers and newsmen in release of information related to criminal proceedings.

Bar representatives will include a prosecutor, a defense attorney, a general practitioner and one of the bar's judicial section which is made up of trial and appellate judges.

ABA already has formed a national committee on "guidelines for arrest and trial coverage."

Bar directors also okayed a 13-point legislative program for 1969. One important item is an act to reform the bail bond system. Others high on the list call for revision in statutes governing marriage, annulment and divorce, the Marital Property Act of 1967, and an amendment to the State Bar Act to suspend an attorney convicted of a felony. Conviction would disbar the attorney. The bill reform act is to do away with the present system which generally forces a person charged with a crime to pay a bondsman a fee.

THE ATTORNEY GENERAL SPEAKS — Contractors and repairmen learned with relief that they will not have to absorb the sales tax on materials they use in their work.

Comptroller Robert S. Calvert had held that changes in the sales tax law required them to absorb the tax. But Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin held that the Legislature did not mean to do that, so the repairmen will continue to collect sales taxes from their customers on parts Initial terms of members of the Judicial Qualifications Commission terminate Nov. 19, 1967, 1969 and 1971, respectively.

Special temporary agricultural permit for truck movement of farm commodities does not permit transportation of equipment such as combines.

ANTI-TEEN DRINKING PROGRAM PUSHED — Liquor Control Board has launched an educational program to curb drinking by teenagers.

Acting Administrator O. N. Humphreys Jr. said the main objective is to show youngsters problems a single violation of liquor laws can cause them. LCB statistics show 10,672 violations involving minors and 10,184 convictions in the first eight months of the year.

LCB proposes distribution of literature explaining liquor laws to parents and teenagers; lectures in churches, schools and clubs; distribution of informational films and a new reporting system to keep tabs on liquor law violations involving minors (as a guide to areas where education needs to be concentrated).

A single violation, Humphreys warned, can mar the record of a youth for life.

PARKS AND WILDLIFE — Expenditure this year of $1.9 million under the $75 million park bond development program has the approval of the Parks and Wildlife Commission.

Bulk of initial expenditure will go to purchasing and developing Dinosaur Tracks State Park near Glen Rose in Somervell County and other parks within two hours driving time of Houston.

Commission adopted a policy requiring its own formal approval of any land purchased by P-W department for state use.

Commission also amended the Tropical Fish or Fish Eggs Importation Proclamation to include the Asian "walking catfish". Fish has been noticed in some pet stores, but isn't popular because it leaves the tank and kills other fish. Amendment calls for a permit to sell or import the aggressive fish to prevent its spread to Texas waterways because of its menace to other fish.

COURTS SPEAK

Supreme Court has scheduled arguments for Dec. 4 in a suit challenging the Fort Worth school district's authority to curb high school fraternity and sorority membership. Lower courts have upheld the school districts.

High court refused a motion for rehearing by the Houston Legal Foundation in a suit brought by four lawyers who claim it is economically harmful to attorneys. Foundation was set up under Economic Opportunity Act. High court has held lawyers should be permitted to maintain suit.

Motion to reconsider holding that cities are immune from most damage suits was rejected by court.

Court of Criminal Appeals ordered Clifford Darrell Carrell released from death row for retrial (in view of a U.S. Supreme Court finding) in the scalding death of a two-year-old girl.

APPOINTMENTS — Gov. John Connally named nine state agency members and 12 representatives of local governments to a new state council to plan and coordinate law enforcement activities to implement provisions of the federal omnibus crime control and safe streets act of 1968.

Local representatives include Secretary of State Roy Barrera and Sheriff W. B. Hauck of San Antonio; Dallas Police Chief Charles Batchelor Jr.; Eagle Pass Mayor Art Flores; McAllen District Judge Fidencio Guerra; Fort Worth City Councilman Dr. Edward W. Guinn; Al Henry of the Houston Mayor's staff; Nueces County Judge Noah Kennedy Jr. of Corpus Christi; Laredo Mayor J. C. Martin; Gatesville District Judge Truman Roberts; Amarillo City Councilman O'Brien

Thompson and Houston District Attorney Carol Vance.

State representatives include Attorney General Martin Wallace Beasley of the Commission on Law Enforcement Officer Standards and Education; Prison System head Dr. George Beto; Adjutant General Thomas S. Bishop; Mental Health Commissioner Dr. John Kinross-Wright; Department of Public Safety Director Col. Wilson E. Speir; Sam Houston State College President Dr. Arleigh Templeton and Texas Youth Council Director Dr. James Turman.

State Rep. Bill Clayton of Springlake has been named to Interstate Conference on Water Problems.

Austin, Mustangs Next For Pampa

Fishin' Roundup

By MELVIN CLARK

The walleye are moving at Lake Meredith. Last week we had a report of a four pound one being caught on a bomber, and another fisherman was catching them on a green hellbender. One man from Pampa who refused to be quoted, said he caught 13 crappie at the heated crappie house at Lake Meredith. This will be a good place to go fishing on a cold winter day.

J. M. Ione, and Anita Thompson, 1204 Garland, were fishing Lake Vinson in Oklahoma again and they came up with 162 blue gill on files, one, 3 pound bass and three, 2 pound bass on Hula poppers.

J. M. caught the bass at the break of day in his intertube floater. He described this early morning fishing as a bit nippy.

Sunday, a week ago, was one of the nicest afternoons as to weather we have had in a long time for fishing.

Dennis Dehn, 322 N. Wynn, and Johnny McPherson, 512 Naida, were trolling Lake Marvin in Dennis' small two-man boat with an electric trolling motor. They had several strikes but the only one that counted was Dennis' 2 1/2 pound bass, which he caught on a lazy Ike lure.

I also observed Ted McDonald, 613 Red Deer, fishing

Sporting a six-game losing streak and with upset on their minds the Pampa Harvesters will be in Lubbock Friday to play Coronado in a non-zone District 3-4A contest.

"If we can stop No. 34, then we've got a good chance to win it," coach Swede Lee said.

No. 34 is the Mustang's Jerry Austin, a 185 pound tailback who ranks third in the conference in rushing and first in south zone.

Austin has rushed for 824 yards on 170 carries and has scored 14 times to lead the district in this department.

But running isn't all the Mustangs will do. They can also pass and have done so successfully.

Quarterback Connie Cox, a 165 pound senior, has connected on 50 per cent of his throws (18-36) for 219 yards and six touchdowns.

He prefers to throw to wingback Mark Burn, a speedy 145 pound senior. Burn has caught 13 passes for 173 yards and rates near the top in the league.

Cox will also throw to tight end Dan Clayton, a 6-4, 220 pound senior. Clayton has caught four of Cox's tosses for 28 yards.

The other man in the backfield for Coronado is fullback Jim Reese, 185 pound senior who excels on defense.

Linewise Coronado is big, strong and fast.

Joining Clayton at end is 185 pound junior Tom Robinson. Lewis McMahan (215) and Steve Canup (185) are the tackles and Barry Hart (180) and Mat Burn (16) are guards. Gary Dyess, 185 pound junior plays center.

While Pampa is 1-6 for the season and 0-3 in north zone play the Mustangs have had an enjoyable season standing 4-1-2 and 1-1-1 in south zone action.

Coach Lee said he had not been pleased with Harvester practice sessions this week and indicated he planned to use a lot of players against Coronado.

"Just because a boy is starting is no sign he will play the whole game. We've had some people who won't start who've looked good in practice this week," Lee said.

Most of the wounded will be back in the lineup Friday for the Harvesters.

Gary Parrish will start at quarterback, John Jenkins at wingback and Ted Knight will return at his tackle spot.

"There have been a few boys who've shown good effort in practice this week, Lee said. Scotty King, Duncan McCarroll, Don Willis and Chuck Lanehart have given a good effort all week," Lee stated.

King will be shooting for his third straight game of 100 plus yardage. He has gained 220 yards in his last two contests.

Parrish played about 14 downs last week and even less two weeks ago against Amarillo. The senior athlete has been injured since before the season started.

Duncan McCarroll

The Sportsman's One Stop at Sanford reported the following catches: S. L. Stone of Buena Vista caught 258 crappie during his weeks vacation at Lake Meredith. His bait was minnows.

Jim Tolley and Carol Wiseman of Borger caught 17 crappie on the 24th. N. G. Leonard of Borger caught three walleye with weights of 3 1/2, 2 1/2, 2 pounds, using a red and white water dog. Dewey Bond and Bud Fincher of Borger caught 16 crappie on the 22nd. Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Cuntrell, Stinnett, caught two blue cat weighing 3 1/2 pounds each, and one blue cat weighing 9 pounds, and 12 oz. on a trotline with large minnows. Henry Gillard and Slim Williams, Buena Vista, caught one Walleye weighing 3 pounds, and 14 Crappie on the 24th.

Happy fishing, everyone!

Boom Boom Booms Loud Over Penguins

Boom Boom Geoffron found himself in an unusual predicament Wednesday night.

He had just seen the New York Rangers score seven goals in less than 30 minutes to rout the Pittsburgh Penguins, 7-3, but the only words he could utter, in French or English, came out critical of his team's performance.

"We don't hit, we should have hit more," he stated. "Our guys seemed nervous... they're not talking to each other on the ice... nobodys covering... we were pretty lucky to come out of there..."

Geoffron, the new coach of the Rangers, was upset that Pittsburgh jumped off to a 3-0 lead early in the second period, two of the goals coming while New York had a man advantage. But the Rangers fought back, with Bob Nevin and Jean Ratelle each netting two goals, to register their fifth consecutive victory against an expansion team in National Hockey League play this season.

The Montreal Canadiens completed an eight-game road trip while their Forum was being renovated by routing the Toronto Maple Leafs, 5-0. Montreal thus carries a 6-1 record and first place in the Eastern Division as it goes home for the first time this season against Detroit on Saturday.

Rogatien Vachon had a relatively easy time in registering his first shutout of the campaign, turning back 25 Toronto shots, and Jacques Lemaire scored two goals for Montreal.

Bobby Hull had a goal and two assists, his brother Dennis had two assists and Pappin scored once as Chicago beat the Los Angeles Kings, 4-2.

Boston scored twice in the final period to defeat the Minnesota North Stars, 4-2. Eddie Shack broke the deadlock with his fifth goal of the season at 4:45 of the third period and Johnny Bucyk added the clincher in the last minute of play.

NCHUCK LANEHART will be at offensive tackle for Pampa when they meet Coronado in Lubbock Friday night. Lanehart is a 185 pound junior who has "looked good in practice this week," coach Swede Lee said.

Morris Eyes Pro Teams

By MIKE WESTER

CANYON, Tex. (UPI) — Eugene "Mercury" Morris, West Texas State University senior halfback from Pittsburgh, does not have wings on his feet like the best breakaway runner of Greek mythology.

But he flies with the same magical speed, has more unusual moves and has strength that would bring envy to a few other gods of the original Mercury's era.

"He's one of the best runners in the nation," says West Texas State head football coach Joe Kerbel.

"This guy is something else," says Gil Brandt, player personnel director for the Dallas Cowboys of the National Football League. "He's quick, he's fast and he's strong—and he can catch the ball."

Morris, who ranked second among the nation's major college rushers last year and is leading the country this year, has 1,114 yards in seven games so far. He has carried the ball 167 times for a 159-yard gain per game, and a 6.9 yard average gain per carry.

O. J. Simpson, Southern California's top ground gainer, edged Morris for the national rushing title last year but is trailing the West Texas State runner this season. He has only 980 yards through five games.

Morris has scored at least once in the last 12 Buffalo games and is tied with Simpson for the national scoring lead with 14 touchdowns.

Morris is ranked 13th in the nation on a career rushing total yardage of 2,931 yards. He needs only 40 more yards to move into a tie for 10th, and with any kind of a game at all this week he will be among the nation's top 10 ranked career rushers.

As a pass receiver Morris has grabbed 13 aeriels for 199 yards this year. And, against Montana State this year he set the NCAA single-game rushing record of 340 yards on 35 carries.

Morris wants to give professional football a shot after he completes this season and there have been scouts at each game West Texas has played this year.

"A lot of people say I'm too small for pro ball," says the 5-foot-10-inch, 190-pound Morris. "But it's a challenge and I have to satisfy myself."

Scouted by almost all of the pros, Morris is a certain first-round draft choice this year. His high school records were almost as impressive as his college records. In three years, he rushed for more than 2,000 yards and scored 34 touchdowns.

In one game against Pittsburgh's Western Beaver, the high school which produced Joe Namath, Morris carried the ball five times for 285 yards and scored five times.

"I just played the first quarter," Morris recalls. "I scored the first three times I got the ball and four of the five carries totaled 294 yards."

With a career total of 2,931 rushing yards, Morris has set a school record, surpassing Pete Pedro and Bill Cross, who were the last two steps between him and the No. 1 career rusher in the school's history. This year he has also bettered the school single-game rushing record and the single-game per carry record.

No Way To Stop O.J.

By STEVE SNIDER

NEW YORK (UPI)—How do you stop O.J. Simpson?

That's a permanent problem for Southern California's football fans and now a thin line of Heisman Trophy candidates forming behind Simpson must be wondering the same thing.

If someone doesn't stop Simpson pretty soon, he can start asking directions to New York's Downtown Athletic Club. That's where the Heisman memorial award to America's outstanding college football player is presented each December. O.J. seems to have a figurative foot in the door already.

Since footballs and football players do take crazy bounces, the cause is not entirely hopeless for Simpson's chief rivals led by Leroy Keyes of Purdue. Terry Hanratty of Notre Dame, Ted Hendricks of Miami and Chris Gilbert of Texas, who scored well in the balloting a year ago.

UCLA's Gary Beban was the winner with O.J.'s second, Keyes third, Hanratty 10th, Hendricks 13th and Gilbert 14th.

Among the challengers developing this season are Chuck Hixson and Jerry Levas of Southern Methodist, Ron Sellers of Florida State, Jim Seymour of Notre Dame, Paul Gipson of Houston, Bill Eynart of Oregon State, Bobby Douglass of Kansas, Bob Anderson of Colorado and Ron Johnson of Michigan.

All the obvious contenders are backs except defensive end Hendricks and offensive end Seymour. Only two linemen—end Leon Hart of Notre Dame in 1949 and end Larry Kelley of Yale in 1936—have won the trophy since it was inaugurated in 1935.

The task of stopping Simpson either on the field or at the polls is monumental.

The Southern California speedster has scored 14 touchdowns in five games and was picked on the United Press International Backfield of the Week after each performance. In four of those five games, his touchdowns were the only ones scored by the nation's No. 1 team.

O.J. zipped for four touchdowns against Minnesota, three against Northwestern, two against Miami, three against Stanford and two against Washington.

He has averaged 196 yards per game rushing to 159 yards for the national ball-toting leader, Eugene (Mercury) Morris of West Texas State, with 1,114 yards in seven games.

But if you believe in the law of averages, Purdue's versatile Keyes may have a better chance of winning. More players have moved from third in the balloting one year to the top the next year than have moved from second to the top.

Bucks, Tigers Look For District Victories

While White Deer and McLean continue to try to progress, Wheeler, Canadian, Lefors and Miami will try to shake off the effects of last week's losses in district competition Friday night.

The Bucks will be aiming for their fifth straight victory and third conference win without defeat.

McLean (5-2), who upset Wheeler last week, plays host to winless Claude (0-7) in quest of their third league victory without defeat.

Canadian has been having its troubles and the Wildcats have now been bested four straight times, including conference losses to Gruver and Stratford.

To break back into the win column will be a tall order for Canadian since they play Sanford-Fritch in the Eagles home nest.

Sanford-Fritch is 4-2-1 for the season and stands 1-1 in league play, besting Sunray, 30-8 last week.

White Deer plays at Gruver Friday and the Greyhounds offer some very tough competition.

Thus far Gruver has played to a 5-2 season and stand tied with the Bucks for first place in the district.

Those in the know figure the winner of this game will meet either McLean or Clarendon in the first round of the bi-district playoffs.

The Bucks got off to one of their worse starts ever, losing their first three games. They were dropped by Silverton, 21-20; Clarendon, 20-0; and Panhandle, 28-0.

But since the loss to the Panthers the Bucks have come back to bounce McLean, 13-8; Claude, 35-6; Sunray, 35-6 and Stratford, 14-13.

Clarendon is currently the only unbeaten in the Panhandle and the District 2-A championship will probably be decided two weeks hence when McLean and Clarendon meet.

Both are 2-0 but Clarendon still has to face tough Wheeler.

Groom, the District 1-B leader along with Booker has Friday off, but the rest of the teams in the league will be at business as usual.

Lefors (1-3) plays at Textine (1-6) and the Pirates should be 1-1 in league play after Friday night.

RANDY DUE HONOR

COLLEGE STATION (UPI)—Randy Matson, winner of the gold medal at the summer Olympics, will be honored Saturday at halftime of the Texas A&M-University of Arkansas football game. A&M president Earl Rudder will present Matson a plaque in the ceremonies. Matson attended A&M.

Wranglers Lost

By United Press International

The Dallas Black Hawks snapped a five-game losing streak Wednesday night with a 5-3 win over the Amarillo Wranglers but Oklahoma City halted Houston with a last minute goal and tied them 2-2.

In the only other game played in the Central Hockey League during the evening, Omaha and Fort Worth also tied 2-2.

Pros Not Complaining During Start Of Lucky Open

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Not a word of complaint—a most unusual situation—was to be heard today when a field of 144 tied off in the opening round of the $100,000 Lucky International Golf Tournament.

The Lucky was taken off the tour the past two years—mostly because of continuing complaints from the playing pros and a conflict over dates between the sponsors and the PGA.

"We've got our fingers crossed," said Lucky Director Robert C. Cardinal, as the field began the dawn to dusk trudge today around the Harding Park course. "So far we haven't had a single complaint, either about the course or anything else for that matter."

The Lucky is the third from the last stop on the tour this year and as play began Billy Casper led the money winning list with a 1968 bankroll of $183,389. The winner's purse here will amount to $30,000.

Thus, if Casper, who has won four tournaments this year, wins or places in the first five he will all but wrap up the money title.

The Hawaiian Open follows next week and the Cajun Classic closes out the tour, Nov. 21-24.

The $20,000 Caracas Open and the $20,000 West End Classic also are on the schedule. Both are unofficial events, but the money won in both counts just as well as in the official tournaments such as the Lucky.

Casper, who won the Los Angeles Open at the start of the year and has kept on going from there, knows the Harding Park course, as do a flock of others in the 144-man field. But that hardly figures to make a difference because the municipal layout is one of the more changeable courses around where weather—fog and wind—can make the difference.

While Casper figures as the "smart money favorite" Eddy Lunz, who won the Memphis Open and Atlanta Classic earlier in the year, George Archer, winner of three tournaments, and Dave Stockton and Bob Murphy, who have taken two apiece, figure prominently. Also, Chi Chi Rodriguez and Bob Dickson.

Tennessee, SMU Get Nod Over UCLA, 'Horns

By MILTON RICHMAN

MEXICO CITY (UPI)—Tommy Prothro, that fine UCLA football coach and phrase-maker, has taken a big load off my mind.

Here I was getting all worked up over America losing its sweetheart in Greece, Bob Gibson being cuffed around in Japan and Russia's "oversight" in failing to print the final Olympic medal standings in its papers when Tommy Prothro saved the day by putting the whole business in proper perspective.

He did it with one simple sentence.

Said Prothro:

"Whether we beat them or not isn't going to be life or death for us."

Whew! He had me worried there for a minute.

I thought if UCLA doesn't beat Tennessee in Knoxville Saturday it would be the end. "I'm glad it won't be."

Prothro says he's more concerned with his three rivals after Tennessee because they're all from his neck of the woods and have a direct bearing on whether the Bruins will wind up in the Rose Bowl. I have a hunch, despite what he says, he wants this one badly. I have another hunch he won't get it.

Along with Tennessee, I like

SMU's Levas-Hixson combine to topple Texas; Florida to snap back and beat Auburn, and Penn's quarterback, Bernie Zborzejn, to put the zinger into Harvard.

The East

Penn State over Army—unless Lynn Moore has another Saturday like the last one.

Notre Dame over Navy—Middies are only looking to get the feel of the place in Philly. For guess whom?

Syracuse over Holy Cross—Another game like last week and the Syracuse coach won't even talk to his players.

And Miami (Fla.) over Pitt, Yale over Dartmouth, Cornell over Columbia, Colgate over Lehigh, West Virginia over Kentucky, Princeton over Brown, Rutgers over Delaware, Connecticut over Boston U., Vermont over Massachusetts, Buffalo over Temple, Rhode Island over New Hampshire, Bucknell over Maine and Lafayette over Gettysburg.

The Midwest

Ohio State over Michigan State—Rex Kern does a good job for the Buckeyes—While he's in one piece.

Kansas over Colorado—Jayhawks are beginning to talk about being No. 1.

Purdue over Illinois—Boiler-maker coach was hit by hepatitis, not Leroy Keyes.

And Missouri over Oklahoma State, Nebraska over Iowa State, Indiana over Wisconsin, Minnesota over Iowa, Michigan over Northwestern, Ohio U. over Western Michigan, Bowling Green over Marshall, Louisville over Kent State, Miami (O.) over Toledo, Ohio Wesleyan over Baldwin-Wallace and Xavier over Dayton.

The South

Georgia over Houston—Vince Dooley has molded the ideal football blend. Strong offense and good defense.

LSU over Mississippi—Tigers still ranked over last year's deadlock.

North Carolina State over Clemson—Clemson has an open house defense. It lets everybody in.

And Alabama over Mississippi State, Georgia Tech over Duke, Virginia Tech over Florida State, Virginia over South Carolina, Vanderbilt over Tulane, Wake Forest over Maryland, Villanova over William and Mary, Richmond over VMI, Furman over East Carolina, Davidson over The Citadel, Southern Mississippi over Louisiana Tech and Tampa over North Michigan.

The Southwest

Baylor over TCU—Bears looking better lately.

Arkansas over Texas A&M—Razorbacks much stronger up front.

Texas Tech over Rice—Owls have no punter.

And Oklahoma over Kansas State, Arizona over Washington State, Arizona State over New Mexico, North Texas State over Cincinnati, West Texas State over New Mexico State, Memphis State over Tulsa, and Abilene Christian over Eastern New Mexico.

The Far West

Southern California over Oregon—Trojans are at peak after a week off.

Oregon State over Stanford—(See SMU, Page 15)

SWC Title Decided Week to Week

By United Press International
The game that was supposed to decide the champion of the Southwest Conference was to be played Thanksgiving Day in Austin when last year's title winner Texas A&M played the team supposed to be the No. 1 challenger for the throne — the Texas Longhorns.

But the Longhorns opened the season by losing to Texas Tech and the Aggies already have lost two games and are virtually eliminated from title contention. And from the ranks of the also-rans has come Southern Methodist, Texas Tech and Arkansas to challenge Texas' and A&M's right to rule.

This has not only confused the SWC race, but has added a new dimension — what the broadcasters and journalists like to call "the game that could decide the Southwest Conference Championship — on a weekly basis.

Last week it was Texas Tech and SMU. This week it is the Mustangs and Texas and if the so-called experts are right, it will continue right up until just before Thanksgiving.

The Longhorns have been installed as the favorite against Chuck Hixon, Jerry Levias and the pass-crazy Mustangs in this week's feature tilt which leads to fascinating speculation.

If Arkansas tops A&M, Tech defeats Rice and Baylor maintains last week's momentum to beat TCU, five of the eight conference teams will still be battling it out for the title — all of them with one conference loss on their record and providing fans with "a game that could decide the conference championship" for the next three weeks.

Following the above hypothesis, Texas will journey to Waco Nov. 9 for an elimination contest with the Baylor Bears while the Mustangs, Arkansas and Tech will be playing teams already eliminated.

Conference has lived by the cliché "Expect the unexpected." About the only sure thing in this conference has been that the pre-season favorite — in this case the Aggies — seldom win the title. But that doesn't mean they still won't have a voice in determining who their successor to the throne might be.

Levias Tops In Receiving

NEW YORK (UPI)—The gag at Southern Methodist University is that Jerry Levias catches footballs like other people catch colds — in crowds.

Levias, the favorite receiver of national passing leader Chuck Hixon, has caught 55 passes, for 771 yards and five touchdowns, according to statistics released today by the National Collegiate Sports Service.

Sammy Milner of Mississippi State ranks second with 46 catches, for 637 yards and two touchdowns and Barry Moore of North Texas State is third with 45 catches for 611 yards and a pair of touchdowns.

Al Worley of Washington intercepted 11 passes in six games and will set a record if he intercepts three passes in his remaining four games. The record of 13 interceptions during a season was set by George Simms of Oregon in 1951.

Bob Jacobs of Wyoming is the leading scorer among kickers with 49 points on 19 extra points and 10 field goals. George Burrell is the punt return leader with 358 yards on 22 returns and Bobby Hall of North Carolina State is the kickoff return leader with 495 yards on 19 returns.

Bufs Invade Jays Nest

By United Press International
Bob Anderson, the best back in the Big Eight for the past two weeks, will run into a trio of challengers this Saturday.

The junior quarterback will lead the stampeding Colorado Buffaloes against third ranked Kansas before a sold out homecoming crowd at Lawrence, Anderson, who became the first player in Big Eight Conference history to be named as the best at his position for two consecutive Saturday's, has been a one man show for Colorado this season. In six games this year, four of which Colorado has won, Anderson has gained 1317 yards and has accounted for 13 touchdowns. He ranks sixth in the nation in total offense.

Last week against a favored Oklahoma team Anderson ran for three touchdowns, scrambled 185 yards on the ground and passed for another 70 yards as the Bufs won, 41-27.

Unbeaten Kansas has three offensive standouts in quarterback Bobby Douglass, and running backs Donnie Shanklin and John Riggins.

Tops In Scoring
The Jayhawks are tops in the country in scoring with a 45.2 average per game. Overall their 34 touchdowns and 2642 yards rank them seventh in the nation in total offense.

The big game in the East this week features fourth ranked Penn State against Army. The Nittany Lions are 5-0 and are coming off a 29-0 blanking of Boston College. The Cadets showed surprising offensive punch last week when they crushed Duke, 57-25. It was the most points an Army team has scored in 10 years. However, Penn State blends a potent offense, led by Charlie Pittman and Ted Kwalick, with a strong defense and should win this one.

The spunky Spartans of Michigan State will be shooting for another upset when they face Ohio State in a key Big Ten confrontation. State, who surprised Notre Dame 21-17 last week, will find it tough to duplicate that feat against the Buckeyes, ranked second behind USC.

have reeled off five straight wins since their opening tilt with Tennessee. Houston, rated 13th in the country, easily defeated Mississippi last Saturday.

Fifth ranked Tennessee tangles with UCLA on the Vols fast artificial running surface. While Tennessee is 4-0 the Bruins have suffered since they trounced Pittsburgh early in the season.

The Bruins will be shooting for another upset when they face Ohio State in a key Big Ten confrontation. State, who surprised Notre Dame 21-17 last week, will find it tough to duplicate that feat against the Buckeyes, ranked second behind USC.

NCAA Council Adjourns

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—Utah State University was placed on probation for an indefinite period Wednesday by the council of the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

The 18-member council adjourned after handing out probationary terms to five schools and reprimanding a sixth. Pan American College was given a year's probationary term, during which the school's athletic teams will not be permitted to compete in any post season bowls or tournaments. The same restrictions apply to Utah State indefinitely. Earlier the council handed down probationary terms for the basketball teams of LaSalle College, St. Bonaventure University, and Florida State. The LaSalle basketball team will be barred from post-season competition for two years while the terms for the other are only for one year.

Receives Reprimand
Northern Michigan was reprimanded for participating in a post-season football game while its application for membership with the NCAA was pending.

The severe punishment given Utah State stemmed from infractions involving a junior college-transfer football player, Arthur Bergstrom, executive assistant to the NCAA council, directed the committee on infractions to study the school's policies and practices to see if further action should be taken.

the southwest battle Texas and SMU clash in an important conference game. The Longhorns, No. 11 in the nation, will try to hand the Mustangs, ranked 14th, their first league setback.

Southern California resumes play this Saturday when they face Oregon. The well rested Trojans with their fabulous running back O.J. Simpson, should chalk up victory number six without much difficulty.

Other important games around the country find Notre Dame at Navy, Purdue entertaining Illinois, Missouri is home to play Oklahoma State, Michigan visiting Northwestern, and California traveling to take on Washington.

BERRY'S WORLD

"What shall we try next—the Humphrey screen, the Nixon sneak or the Wallace bomb?"

PLAYERS WIN HONORS
NACOGDOCHES, Tex. (UPI)—Safety Larry Tullin of Texas A&I was named back of the week in the Lone Star Conference and another defensive man, end Tally Windham took the linesman honors Wednesday.

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license, nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself. No more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

Wallace Asset: Hecklers

Both Vice President Humphrey and Richard Nixon have been having trouble with hecklers, too, but somehow and so far, he has managed to turn them into an asset. All three men are veteran campaigners. All three have had their share of sticks and stones, both literal and figurative. What's the difference that enables Wallace to do what the other two so far have not done?

We commented on this point before and more or less left the answer up in the air because we didn't have enough information. Now comes a newsman traveling with the Wallace campaign party to fill in the blank. The reporter is Robert P. Hay, staff correspondent of the Christian Science Monitor.

Observing a Wallace encounter, Mr. Hay reports: "Tone of the hecklers is definitely angry. Frequently they charge the former Alabama governor with being an American hater. They are increasingly well organized and numerous."

"But the former Alabama governor takes it all with the aplomb of a man who has campaigned for years—who believes hecklers unwittingly get him votes."

"His skillful handling of hecklers, turning their protests into support for himself, contrasts starkly with the effect of beleaguered Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, who appears frustrated and provoked by heckling."

So wrote reporter Hay. He then turned his attention to the precise tactics that Wallace uses. He commented:

"It is the Alabamian's style to pause when hecklers begin to chant 'Wallace go home.' We don't want Wallace, or the like. While looking on often with a little smile, his hecklers immediately begin a counterchant: 'We want Wallace, or occasionally, 'Hippies go home.'"

The reporter stated that the hecklers invariably wind up whipping up more pure emotion among the governor's supporters than the candidate himself would have done. Thus, in, put the tray momentarily under a stream of hot water and the cubes fell into the sink. "That," he said, "was intelligence. I had the knowledge that hot water melted ice but did not associate it when confronted with those fast stuck ice cubes."

On Using One's Knowledge

Back in those oh-so-different college days, one psychology professor used to prate upon the stage, throw erasers into the air and entertain his classes with anecdotes. But there was one thing he said that made an impression. He offered an example to show the difference between knowledge and intelligence. In his buddy-buddy way, he told a story on himself relating how the night before he had been getting some ice cubes from a tray for a drink. But the cubes were stuck, so he pounded and resorted to an ice pick with little success until his wife came

This Week magazine recently cited three instances of individuals using their intelligence and having it pay off. All three instances resulted from a hobby, not a work situation. In "From Fun to Fortune," Norman and Madelyn Carlisle report on a fisherman who invented a method of almost sure catches even in "poor" waters at "bad" times, on two sub-teen girls who invented a "Wig-warm" to keep their toasty in cool weather and cool in the heat of summer when they are backyard camping; and on the invention of a mathematically conceived bow used by record-holding archers all over the world.

"It is great knowing about two and about three, but unless a person puts them together, he will never get five. Association of knowledge pays off. As the popular business office poster says, THINK!

Straight Talk

By TOM ANDERSON

In the past two installments of the nation's finest constitutional lawyers, Clarence Manion, has shown more clearly than has anyone before him, we think, the many history-making turns which are possible for the presidential election to take. Will a deadlocked electoral college select a President and Vice President neither of which have been nominated by any political party? The electors have that constitutional right!

"It is conceivable, of course, that in the House of Representatives the vote of 26 states cannot be obtained for any one of the three persons submitted to the House by the electoral college. In that event (U.S. Constitution Amendment XX), the Vice President chosen by the Senate shall act as President until a President shall be chosen by the House; and if the Senate has not chosen a Vice President by January 20, 1969, then Congress has by law provided (U.S. Code Annotated Title 3, Chapter 1, Paragraph 19) that the Speaker of the House of Representatives shall resign as Speaker and serve as President of the U.S. until a President or Vice President is qualified by election in the House or Senate respectively."

"It is possible, of course, that all of this and more may happen to the choice of the next President before his term is scheduled to begin on next January 20, 1969. While the described alternatives are running their full constitutional course, it is always possible that somebody may feel that his civil rights have been violated somewhere along the line of choice, by the obvious disregard of the Supreme Court's 'one-man, one-vote' election formula, and seek to obtain an injunction, quo warranto, or what have you, against any assumption of authority by the new President or acting President as the case may be."

"Don't tell me, please, that there is no judicial precedent for the entertainment of such a lawsuit; there was no precedent for most of the things the Supreme Court has decided and ordered done during the past 15 years. But, fortunately, the entire jurisdiction of all federal courts and all of the appellate jurisdiction of the U.S. Supreme Court, is subject to the will of Congress and can be withdrawn in whole or in part at any time."

"In the meantime, what can you do to impress your wishes and will upon the choice of a new President and Vice President? First of all you should show this column, and its two predecessors, to your congressional and senatorial candidates. What do they intend to do if the choice of a President and Vice President is submitted to the Congress?"

"If George Wallace carries your state and/or your congressional district in the November election and his name goes before the House or Senate, will your congressman or senator vote for Wallace or will he vote for the nominee his political party? That is a fair question. Get an answer to it now."

"Finally, start at once to hunt for the names of the all-important presidential electors in your state for whom you will be voting in the November election. Most of them have already been selected by the two major parties, but in many states their names will not even appear on the ballot. Give each of them a copy of this article (3 parts) and find out what he or she intends to do if no candidate gets a majority of the electors in November."

"Once having accomplished this important mission you may sit back and prepare to enjoy the fireworks."

"Whoever by force or threat of force willfully injures, intimidates or interferes with any person or any class of persons from participating in or enjoying any benefit, service, privilege, facility or activity provided for or administered by the United States shall be subject to fine or imprisonment or both."

"It is obvious," declares Brophy, "that the conduct of business is provided for by the government. And there can be no question that business is taxed, regulated, licensed and controlled by the government, as every merchant can attest. So why is business exempt from protection under the Ramsey Clark interpretation of the Constitution and the statutes?"

No Help For D.C. Merchants In Clark's View Of Federal Law

ROBERT ALLEN

JOHN GOLDSMITH

WASHINGTON — Attorney General Ramsey Clark, whose soft-handed policies and views on law enforcement have become a major election issue, is adding new fuel to the torrid controversy.

To vehement demands for protection for merchants terrorized and robbed by ghetto marauders and killers, Clark maintains that "the right to operate a business is not in and of itself a right secured by the Constitution, and there are no federal statutory provisions securing the right to operate or maintain a business."

In effect, Clark argues that neither the Constitution nor statutes provide a claim for protection to maintain and operate a privately owned business.

This is hotly challenged by Rep. Joel Brophy, R-Va., who raised the protection issue with Clark following a series of robbery-murders of ghetto merchants in the capital.

As proof of his contention, Brophy, an influential member of the House District of Columbia Committee, cites the following:

"The 5th and 14th Amendments of the Constitution which he holds 'provide that no person shall be deprived of life, liberty or property.' This has been interpreted as encompassing within its meaning the entire domain of civil rights."

The Supreme Court has held that corporations and businesses are entitled to protection."

Section 214 of the U.S. Code which provides, "If two or more persons conspire to injure, oppress, threaten, or intimidate any person in the full exercise or enjoyment of any right or privilege secured to him by the Constitution or laws of the United States... they shall be fined not more than $10,000 or imprisoned not more than ten years, or both; and if death results, they shall be subject to imprisonment for any term of years or for life."

"Title 1 of the Civil Rights Act of 1968 which Brophy asserts explicitly states that 'Whoever by force or threat of force willfully injures, intimidates or interferes with any person or any class of persons from participating in or enjoying any benefit, service, privilege, facility or activity provided for or administered by the United States shall be subject to fine or imprisonment or both.'"

"It is obvious," declares Brophy, "that the conduct of business is provided for by the government. And there can be no question that business is taxed, regulated, licensed and controlled by the government, as every merchant can attest. So why is business exempt from protection under the Ramsey Clark interpretation of the Constitution and the statutes?"

"LATE AND DO-NOTHING — Rep. Brophy urgently sought Justice Department prosecution of ghetto marauders following the April riots in the capital. In a forceful letter to Atty. Gen. Clark, Brophy "formally requested an immediate investigation to determine if there exists in the District of Columbia a conspiracy by so-called Black Power groups." He particularly called attention to "anti-semitic actions by representatives of Black Power groups."

Brophy's plea until nearly three months later. On July 22, he finally received a letter from Asst. Atty. Gen. Stephen Pollak, head of the Civil Rights Division, replying for Clark.

In this answer, Pollak asserted that neither the Constitution nor statutes afford business men protection from violence and pillage. As for Title 1 of the Civil Rights Act of 1968, Pollak held that while it specifies penalties for "intimidation on account of race or color of individuals," it does so only "in the exercise of certain enumerated rights such as attending school, utilizing public accommodations and serving on juries."

"This section provides no penalty for intimidation of a businessman," wrote Pollak, "unless he were engaged in one of these enumerated activities, and in addition it were clear that his participation in that particular activity was the reason for the harassment."

This brought an indignant rejoinder from Brophy.

"Perhaps the merchants of the District of Columbia," he said, "will have to register as students at the School for Afro-American Thought or some other Black Power institute, get themselves harassed, and then the Attorney General might step in and protect them on the basis of their being denied equal educational treatment. How ridiculous and supine can you get?"

"There is something very immoral about the present administration of justice by the federal government in the failure to protect the rights of hundreds of terrorized merchants in the District of Columbia. The capital city should be a showcase of even-handed justice and equality under the law. If the rights of one person are denied, then all of us are threatened and our republican concept of government is undermined. Such pussyfooting and hair-splitting cannot be tolerated. It's got to be rooted out."

WASHINGTON:

Ho Forced To Fight Our Way

By RAY CROMLEY

Washington Correspondent WASHINGTON (NEA)—It is just possible Ho Chi Minh has outsmarted himself.

Paradoxically, his undoing may come from the large quantities of very superior weapons Ho persuaded Moscow to send him.

These new weapons force Ho's armies to become dependent on large supply lines, semiconventional troops and conventional troops.

These changes downgrade the role of guerrillas. This, in turn, forces a heavy dependence on food supply lines and food dumps. Conventional troops cannot live off the land efficiently for extended periods.

Large food and material dumps are relatively easy to discover and to destroy. These changes mean too, that few of the troops are native to the area where they are fighting.

As a result, villagers are not attached to Ho's mainline troops with the same degree of personal loyalty which they have in the past given guerrilla units containing numbers of relatives, neighbors and friends.

This lesser loyalty makes it easier for U.S. and South Vietnamese troops to secure information on enemy troop movements, hiding places and supply dumps.

It has been the lack of such information that has made the fighting of the Viet Cong so difficult in the past.

Dependency on large supply dumps limits the mobility of the North Vietnamese troops. The knocking out of a relatively few large dumps can upset an entire campaign in wide areas.

Moreover, the large amounts of food and supplies these "modernized" forces require force Ho's troops to draw back frequently into safe areas in Cambodia, Laos and North Vietnam. Local food stocks cannot maintain them.

The larger supply requirements mean that arms and food must be brought deep into South Vietnam by truck. Trucks are easier to find and hit than man-back or bicycle packers. A partially road-bound constantly talking about that to his Army doctors. But without flatly turning him down, they are discreetly noncommittal.

To Mrs. Eisenhower, however, they are making clear their misgivings about permitting her husband to leave the hospital. They feel that after his seven heart attacks, it is absolutely essential he remain where he can get immediate and maximum medical attention and care.

The specialists have not withheld from her the possibility that another seizure could occur at any time.

For that reason, they are flatly against Eisenhower's traveling anywhere. While the doctors are not saying so, there is an unmistakable implication that he will be confined to Walter Reed indefinitely.

You can literally "float" a loan at a bank in Virginia. Noticing the number of yachts in Chesapeake Bay the bank president decided to go after the nautical business by outfitting a cabin cruiser that would sail around the area accepting deposits, granting loans and offering all other kinds of banking service. The customers are not only pleasure seekers aboard the sleek craft, but also local fishermen and oyster-boat mariners. It's a coincidence that the floating bank is operating in an area once inhabited by pirates and the bank officers have taken note of that fact. If any modern-day pirates get any ideas they are certain to be thwarted. The bank has arranged to have all cash in weighted-canvas sacks at all times. They can be dropped overboard in seconds and later retrieved by divers.

Uncle Sam is the latest to tell us that Christmas is just around the corner. On November 1 the Post Office Dept. will commence selling this year's Christmas stamp. It's a six-color reproduction of a part of "The Annunciation," a famous painting by Jan van Eyck, the 15th century Flemish painter. The original is now owned by the National Gallery of Art in Washington thanks to the generosity of Andrew Mellon in 1937. He bought it from Russia.

Thoughts while shaving: One of the major automobile companies is trying to develop a car that will combine electrical and combustion power, but will have low pollution emission. If successful that can do much to eliminate air pollution which is stifling our cities. Glenn "Pop" Warner, who spent 32 years as football coach at some of the nation's biggest colleges, achieved an enviable record. His teams won more games than those of any other coach in football history. They topped their opponents in 312 games. It couldn't happen today because of restrictions, but back in 1896 Jockey John Daley won 10 consecutive races at the Aqueduct Race Track in New York. He was a sensation to racing fans. Then it was discovered he was only 10 years old. Franklin D. Roosevelt had many "firsts" as chief executive, but one that may never be equaled again is the fact he was the first and only President of the U.S. to become godfather to a member of British royalty. He accepted that honor at the Christening of Prince George of Kent, who was born on July 4, 1942. "Uncle Sam" is costly the Federal government $1.5 billion a year to pay the retirement pay of a retired federal employee. And another $7 billion is earmarked for veterans' benefits. Still another $2 billion is used to pay the pensions of retired military personnel. Whew! There are now less than 1000 drug stores in the U.S. devoted exclusively line of communications limits the localities in which large dumps can be placed.

Now the military war is not the whole war. So Vietnam by any means. South Vietnam military shifts do not guarantee his defeat. They do mean, however, that more and more Ho is playing the military side of the war our way.

The more Ho stresses superior weapons and conventional fighting, the easier it will be for Americans to train South Vietnamese units to take over a greater role in the war. It should not be difficult, for example, to insure that South Vietnamese forces will be able to outgun Ho's Hanoi troops. We have the equipment and the know-how to make effective use of conventional tactics when the enemy chooses to fight that way.

If the present trend continues, in fact, it should be possible to start bringing home some U.S. units before the end of 1969, regardless of what Hanoi does in Paris.

Television In Review

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — The ups and downs of established television series are enough to keep uncertain network executives on a steady diet of tranquilizers.

Take, for example, the remarkably long-lived CBS-TV western, "Gunsmoke." It was hot for years, then almost got bumped off the network schedule—yet now is riding high, wide and handsome again.

Since its switch last season to an early Monday night time slot, "Gunsmoke" has been nothing less than terrific in the ratings. Almost every month to say, it is still a wondrous show.

Avengers Loses Out

Over at ABC-TV, "The Avengers"—a British spy-type series—got a strong, and rather sophisticated, critical reception when it first arrived. The audience was rather selective too. The ratings never were sensational, but, rather respectable.

This season, however, "The Avengers" is getting killed in the ratings because it is opposite "Gunsmoke" and "Rowan and Martin's Laugh-In," not to mention "I Dream of Jeannie."

Furthermore, many of the critics and much of the audience that swooned over the

Quotes From The News

By United Press International

BANGKOK, Thailand—Thanat Khoman, foreign minister of Thailand, commenting on the U.S. and North Vietnamese peace talks in Paris: "At this time, talks about a (bombing) halt are in their final stages. There could be an agreement."

NEW YORK—Albert Shanker, president of the United Federation of Teachers, commenting on talks aimed at ending the city's 24-day teachers' strike: "Not only was there no significant progress, there was no progress period."

WASHINGTON — Samuel J. Archibald, head of the Fair Campaign Practices Committee, comparing election day with Halloween: "That is the witching hour—the time when the ghosts, goblins and smear merchants try their dirty political tricks."

WASHINGTON—Gen. William C. Westmoreland, former U.S. commander in Vietnam, commenting on progress of American forces against the Viet Cong: "The enemy has become the hunted; no longer is he the hunter."

BUS ACCIDENT

SANCHONG, Korea (UPI)—A bus loaded with mourners on their way to a funeral plunged off a mountain road and fell 100 feet into a river Wednesday, killing 44 persons and injuring 34 in Korea's worst highway accident.

A witness said one of the front wheels of the bus slipped off the edge of the roadway and the bus fell into the Namkang River near Sanchong, 155 miles southeast of Seoul.

ARM'S PIPELINE

PARIS (UPI)—The rebellious Eastern Region of Nigeria is getting enough arms from the Republic of Gabon to keep the rebels going for months, a French mercenary said Wednesday.

The mercenary, who asked he not be identified, had just returned from the Eastern region. He said the Eastern Region gets an average of 21 tons of war supplies a day from Libreville, capital of Gabon. He said the arms are mostly French, Czechoslovak, Belgian and American.

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — We hear a lot these days about "urban planning," but there may still be some people who don't know what the term means. So I will try to explain it.

The development of an American city usually follows a fixed pattern. As the city begins to grow and prosper, good jobs become more plentiful.

And as soon as a worker lands one of these jobs, he moves to the suburbs.

The District of Columbia, like many other cities, reached this stage of development some time ago.

Every workday morning about one million affluent commuters claw their way into the district to their places of employment. At eventide, the fender-clanging symphony is played backwards.

Eventually, as the pattern of development continues, the only people living in the city are those with low-paying jobs or no jobs at all.

At this point the downtown area becomes economically depressed and all of the stores, banks and other commercial establishments open branch offices in the suburbs where the money is.

Soon the city is ringed with huge shopping complexes and satellite cities that cater to the needs of the suburbanites.

When that happens, good jobs in the suburbs become more plentiful.

But there aren't enough workers to fill those jobs because most of the suburbanites work in the city.

The District of Columbia, like numerous other cities, also has reached this stage of development, and is now about to enter the next stage.

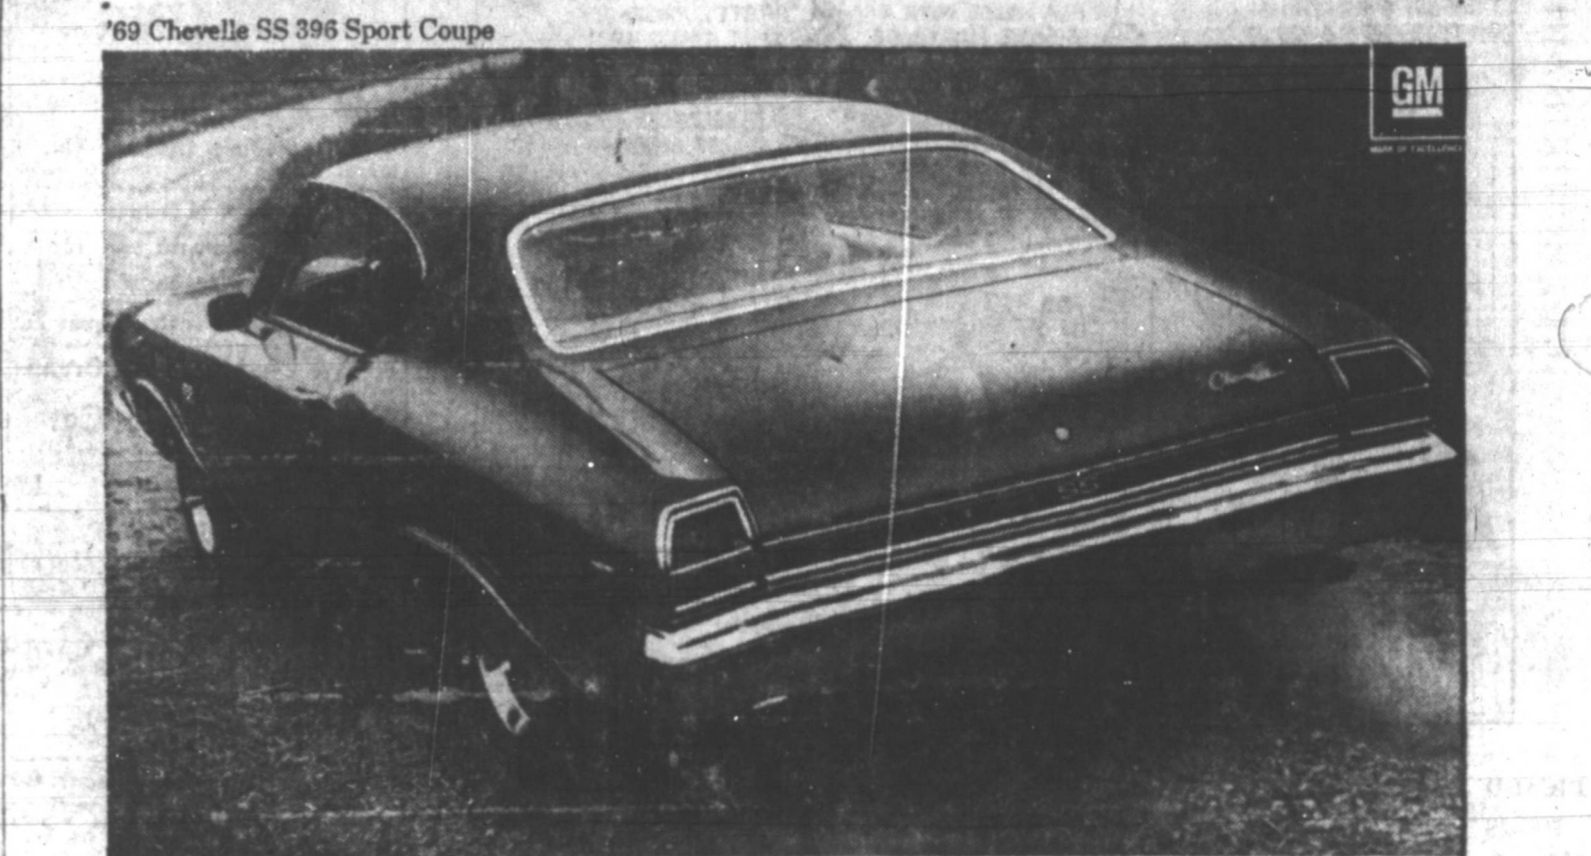

This week the U.S. Department of Transportation put up $670,894 to finance a two-year experiment in reverse commuting.

The idea is to provide better transportation for city-dwellers to enable them to get to and from higher paying jobs in the suburbs.

I think it is logical to assume the program will succeed. Then the city will have reached its ultimate development.

All of the people who live in the suburbs will be driving to work in the city and all of the people who live in the city will be driving to work in the suburbs.

Rather than have one-way rush hour traffic jams, as is now the case, a city will have two-way rush hour traffic jams.

'69 Chevelle SS 396 Sport Coupe

If the '69 Chevelle can't do it, don't try it.

There are mid-size cars that overwhelm you with words, then underwhelm you in performance. Not Chevelle.

It handles precisely. Grips the road forcefully. Moves with authority.

In Chevelle's SS 396 form, you seem to move from here . . . . . to there, like that. One '39 reason is the newly available chambered pipe dual exhaust system. This low restriction system helps develop more usable power and eliminates regular type mufflers.

Couple that with other standard SS items like the exclusive Turbo-Jet 396 V8, fat F70 x 14 tires on new sport wheels with wider 7-inch rims, and power disc brakes.

Now you have the concentrated Chevrolet that some of our engineers say is the nearly perfect machine.

If you're in the mood for SS'ing there's more good news: The Chevelle SS 396 package is available on four models in 1969—convertible, two sport coupes, and a pillared coupe.

See your Chevrolet dealer. Try a Chevelle. Tackle a hill or take on some curves.

You'll be an instant believer.

Putting you first, keeps us first.
