German Frontier Rolled Back To 1937 Boundry

Occupation Zones Fixed, Undefined

WASHINGTON, June 5 (AP) — Germany's frontiers were rolled back to the boundaries of Dec. 31, 1937 today in a joint occupation statement by the Allied powers.

The statement, setting up occupation zones for the United States, Great Britain, France and Russia, recreates the German nation as it was before Hitler's annexation of Austria and Czechoslovakia. The declaration was made simultaneously in Washington, Moscow, London and Paris.

With Germany's unconditional surrender, the statement said, there no longer is any central government or authority there "capable of accepting responsibility for the maintenance of order, the administration of the country and compliance with the requirements of the victorious powers."

"It is in these circumstances necessary, without prejudice to any subsequent decisions that may be taken respecting Germany," the pronouncement went on, "to make provision for the cessation of any further hostilities on the part of the German armed forces, for the maintenance of order in Germany and for the administration of the country, and to announce the immediate requirements with which Germany must comply."

Four occupational zones were set up and allotted to the victorious Allied powers as follows:

- An eastern zone to the Soviet Union.
- A northern zone to the United Kingdom.
- A southwestern zone to the United States.
- A western zone to France.

In addition, an area of "Greater Berlin" was created, to be administered by an inter-Allied governing authority with representatives of each of the four powers.

None of the zones was further defined in the statement.

"The governments of the four powers hereby announce," one of the series of four statements on the occupation said, "that it is their intention to consult with the governments of other United Nations in connection with the exercise of this (occupation) authority."

Marines Battle To Gain Okinawa Airport Control

Half Of Naha Field Is Taken

By HAMILTON W. FARON
GUAM, June 5 (AP) — American Marines fought for complete control of the last Japanese-held airfield on Okinawa today in the wake of a surprise amphibious landing which put strong American forces on three sides of the enemy's Oroku peninsula garrison.

Tough paratroopers and marine raiders of the Sixth division overran half of the big Naha airfield yesterday as they plunged ahead from the southern shore of Naha Bay, on the island's west coast.

Other Tenth army troops slashed ahead in the central and eastern areas, reaching the southern coast and registering advances up to three miles, a record for the campaign.

Admiral Chester W. Nimitz in a hearty message of "well done," to the officers and men of Lt. Gen. Simon Bolivar Buckner's Tenth army, foresaw the conclusion of the Okinawa campaign within the next "three or four days" if they "can maintain their highspeed maneuvers."

Supplies were parachuted to battle line troops as the clinging mud, which for days slowed troop advances, continued to hold supply vehicles in its grip.

Japanese propagandists viewed their garrison's lethal position with alarm and Tokyo's newspapers agreed "unmistakable signs point to the enemy's intention to invade the Japanese mainland."

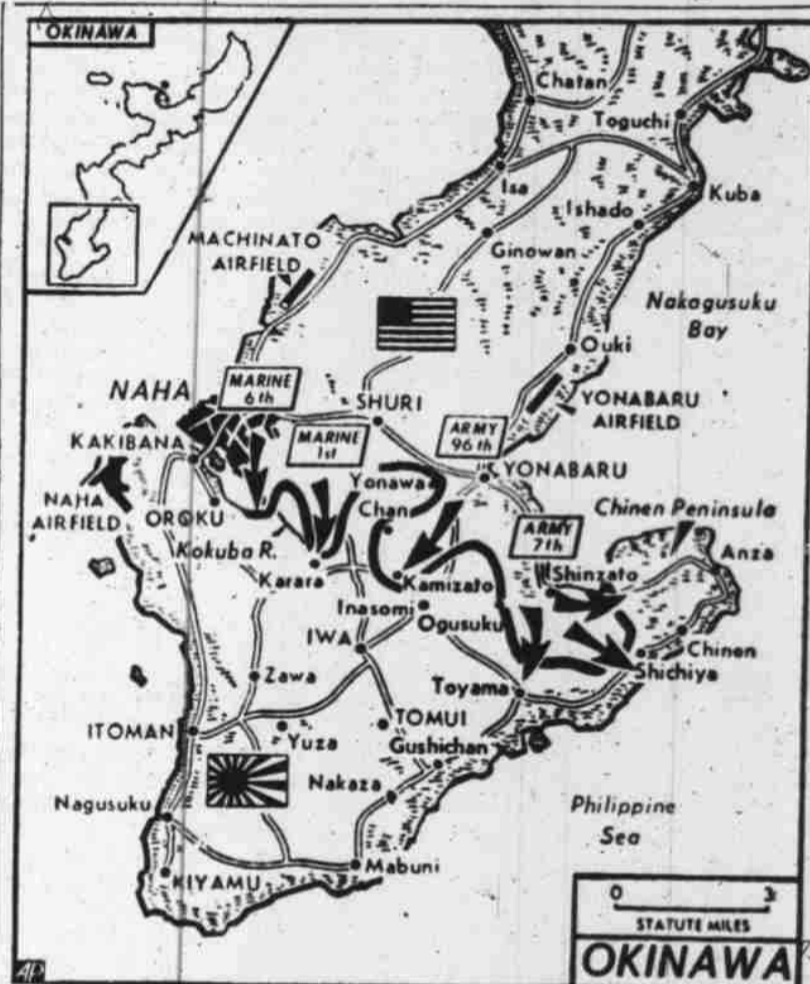

Japanese Domei news agency warned the loss of the island would lead to increased air attacks, both from Okinawa-based planes and by Superfortresses.

Surprisingly light opposition was encountered by Maj. Gen. Lemuel Shepherd's Fourth regiment as it plunged ahead from a 1,800 yard beachhead to attack Naha airfield, best of the Japanese-built dromes on the island.

In American hands, the airfield—has at least three long runways—will serve as a potential base for bomber strikes against Japan proper, 325 miles to the north.

Admiral Nimitz reported the marines already had constructed bridges to Onoyama island, in the center of Naha harbor, and were moving reinforcements and supplies across to strengthen the new position along a 1,200-yard beachhead on the southern shore.

There were indications that a fairly large group of Japanese troops was intact near the southern end of Naha airfield, for the marines encountered considerable mortar and automatic weapon fire. They also ran into anti-personnel and land mines.

Superforts Hit Kobe

Industrial City Mass Of Flames

By ROBBIN COONS
GUAM, June 5 (AP)—Approximately 450 Superfortresses battled through snow, fog, thunderheads, accurate anti-aircraft fire and fairly strong fighter opposition today to transform the industrial and transportation center of Kobe into a mass of smoke and flame.

The B-29s, flying through weather so bad they had to make the trip without fighter escort, found perfect weather over Japan's largest port city and spent an hour setting it afire with 3,000 tons of incendiary bombs in a blazing first anniversary celebration of the initial Superfort raid.

Returning pilots described the results as excellent. They guessed damage would exceed the nearly seven square miles burned out of Yokohama in the May 29 strike at Nippon's second largest port.

About 40 Japanese fighters, some of them fairly aggressive, were sent up to intercept the tight bomber formations, and a few flew above the B-29s to drop phosphorus bombs. But they couldn't keep the daylight attackers from coming in dead on their target in the third fire strike at Japan's sixth largest city.

Six hours after the last bomber turned away Japanese broadcasts conceded that fires were only "gradually being extinguished."

Tokyo said fire bombs also set blazes in Mikagemachi and Ashiya industrial towns respectively two and six miles east of Kobe on the rail lines running along Osaka Bay to the city of Osaka, last previous B-29 target.

The Domei news agency, quoting a joint army-navy communiqué issued in Kobe, claimed 56 Superfortresses were shot down, and 144 "heavily damaged." Seven Japanese interceptors were listed as lost, "including those that carried out body-crashing attacks."

Superfortresses centered their incendiaries on a heavily industrialized square mile area of eastern Kobe, including the cities two main railway stations, the extensive Kobe steel works, shipyards and major docks. This is approximately adjacent to nearly nine square miles in the center of the city burned out in previous strikes.

The trip to Kobe was made through "the roughest weather we've encountered on 13 missions," said Lt. John McLaughlin, Valley Stream, Long Island, N. Y. "We ran into thunderheads, snow, a couple of weather fronts, but just as we reached the Japanese coast we broke out of the weather."

Chinese Move To Envelop Liuchow

CHUNGKING, June 5 (AP)—The Chinese high command said today Chinese forces were executing an enveloping movement against Japanese forces at Liuchow, former site of a U.S. 14th Air Force base, and Ishan, 43 miles to the west.

Severe fighting was reported in the suburbs of Szelo on the highway to French Indo-China, 70 miles southwest of Liuchow.

The high command announced the recapture of Kwelhsien, important port on the West river in southwestern Kwansai province, 95 miles south-south-east of Liuchow.

From Kwelhsien, the high command said, one column was moving down the West river while a second stabbed northward toward Muson, about 55 miles south-southeast of Liuchow.

In the coastal province of Fukien, the high command said, Japanese remnants are being pursued northeast of Fochow.

A semi-official Chinese dispatch said today that Chinese forces had occupied Siapu, 75 miles northeast of Fochow, and added that Japanese forces were fleeing northward along the highway leading to Wenchow, 220 miles south of Shanghai.

Siapu was originally captured by a small enemy relief force which the Japanese landed on the Fukien coast in support of enemy troops withdrawing northward from the Fochow region along the highway to Wenchow.

An official Chinese announcement said Chinese forces in Kwansai province had reached a point 21 miles southwest of Liuchow, site of a former U.S. air base which was captured by the Japanese last November. This represented a seven-mile advance in 24 hours. But the Japanese were reported standing firm near Ishan, 43 miles west of Liuchow.

An American communiqué announced that planes of the U.S. 14th Air Force continued attacks on enemy positions in the Liuchow area.

Bank Holiday Slows Buying

Due to a bank holiday, bond sales took a slump yesterday with sales totaling only $3,383, headquarters announced Tuesday, but reminders were made that the banks will be open again today and bond salesmen ready to write up any bond purchases that are made.

Howard county still lacks $221,162 in its goal to purchase a B-29 bomber and as chairman pointed out, a little more than half of the big ship is not enough. Once the goal of 585,000 is reached, the citizens of Howard county can look forward to having their own super bomber in on the kill in the Pacific war.

Chairmen urged that everyone purchase extra bonds between now and Friday in order that the county can say "over the top" the evening of the infantry show to be held at the Steer Football Stadium.

Two other firms with out-of-town offices making bond pledges credited to the county include the Texas and Pacific Coal and Oil company, $2,500 and the Southwestern Greyhound company, $5,000.

Conservation Checks

Four additional soil conservation checks, amounting to $466.84, have been mailed to farmers in Howard county. Checks, mailed from the state office, were for soil conservation practices carried out under the 1944 program and bring total reimbursements to $141,013.44.

More Tires Available For June Allotments

WASHINGTON, June 5 (AP)—The War Production Board today made available an additional 500,000 passenger car tires for June, increasing the month's total to 2,500,000.

This brought to 10,000,000 the number of passenger car tires made available for replacement use during the first half of the year.

Only B and C ration holders are eligible for new tires.

The WPB also released an additional 25,000 medium truck tires for distribution in June.

Show Demonstrates War Not Over Yet

A display of weapons and tactics such as few are privileged to view is scheduled for Friday at 8:30 p. m. at the Steer stadium for all Howard county citizens who have purchased extra E bonds since April 1st.

The show, which will include a 40-man fighting unit, a 28-piece band, and a group of officers in charge is being staged in interests of the Mighty Seventh War Loan drive. The unit will demonstrate how our soldiers in the Pacific must fight for their lives every hour of every day in blood letting battles such as that of Iwo Jima and Okinawa.

The unit will first demonstrate the locating of enemy pillbox and then joined with enough men to make up a platoon will show how the pillbox is attacked with flame throwers, hand grenades, and bazookas. Simulated "casualties" will be rescued by first aid men and helped to safety while the battle rages. The climax of an hour of suspense will be charging of the pillbox over a human bridge built by the soldiers.

Preceding the infantry battle at the stadium will be a display of weapons to be used which will be held on the east side of the court-house. Soldiers in charge will explain the weapons and their uses for spectators. The exhibit is to be held from 3 p. m. to 6:30 p. m. Every citizen is urged to attend the infantry show in order that he can understand the fury of the war in the Pacific and the now trite statement that "the war is far from over."

Pump Failure Cramps Water Production

Failure of a pump in one of the city's water producing fields Tuesday induced the administration to ask public indulgence in conserving water.

Due to record demands, which have stood consistently above 3,500,000 gallons daily, pumping facilities have been operated at capacity. City Manager B. J. McDaniel explained. Loss of the unit in section 33 cuts the production by more than 150,000 gallons daily until a replacement can be made.

Meanwhile, half of the daily consumption continues to come from the new field in northern Glasscock county. The static water levels there are holding and even gaining at around 1,700,000 gallons a day. City officials are investigating the addition of wells in this area to supplement production.

The number of wells (seven) and pumping equipment added last year was regulated by the War Production Board, based on 1943 consumption. However, consumption has been up over that base by more than 20 per cent.

Since pumps have operated at capacity and any other mechanical failure might aggravate the situation, city officials asked that water not be wasted.

War Bonds in Action

A medical aid man shows how war bonds go into action as a part of the "Here's Your Infantry" show at 8:30 p. m. Friday at Steer stadium. E bond purchases are entitled to show tickets. S/Sgt. George H. Harrison, Toledo, Ohio, administers aid to T/Sgt. Virgil C. Thompson, Decatur, Ill. while S/Sgt. Joseph B. Reddor, Poplar, Mont. crawls up through smoke. All hold many decorations for wounds and valor.

City Court Cases

Seven drunks appeared in city court Tuesday morning. One vagrant was picked up and two women were arrested on charges of assault.

Part of Italian Fleet Ceded to Soviets, Says Churchill

LONDON, June 5 (AP) — Prime Minister Churchill disclosed today that Britain met Russian demands for part of the Italian fleet by turning over eight former American destroyers among other ships.

The United States also turned over some ships, mostly merchantmen, but also including the U.S. Cruiser Milwaukee, Churchill told commons.

The Russians, he said, raised the question of the disposition of the Italian navy immediately after Italy's surrender. They asked for one battleship, one cruiser, eight destroyers, four submarines, and 40,000 tons of merchant shipping.

The agreement to turn ships over to Russia was reached at Tehran, he said.

Since Italian ships were built mostly for temperate waters of the Mediterranean, Churchill continued, it was decided that they would continue in service in the Allied cause, and an equivalent number of British warships and merchantmen would be delivered to the Red navy on temporary loan. Churchill said this was the action taken.

"Half of the merchant ships and all the warships with the exception of the United States Cruiser Milwaukee were provided by the British government."

"The British warships handed over were the battleship Royal Sovereign, eight former American destroyers, and four modern submarines."

"Further, a destroyer was made available to provide spare parts."

Churchill said he assumed "full personal responsibility" for the transaction.

He did not make clear just what the U.S. contribution was outside of the cruiser Milwaukee, but it was presumed the Americans supplied half of the 40,000 tons of merchant shipping the Russians sought.

The disposition of the Italian fleet will be left to the peace conference, Churchill said.

Solons Adjourn 49th Session

AUSTIN, June 5 (AP) — Seconds before the general session of the Legislature reached its final adjournment time at noon today final approval was given submission of a constitutional amendment creating a land sale plan for veterans.

Senate and House clocks were turned back before the adjournment hour but only to permit completion of mechanical work such as enrolling of measures passed in the waning minutes.

Thus the main business of the 148-day-old session was at an end.

The approval of the joint resolution submitting in November 1946, a constitutional amendment on the Veteran's Land Sale plan was a race against time.

The final version of the resolution drafted by a conference committee, reached either branch only minutes before noon.

The house adopted it by a vote of 118 to 1 and the senate approved it, 28 to 1.

If approved by the electorate it will permit the state to issue bonds for purchase of lands which would be sold on convenient terms to veterans. The bonds may be purchased by the permanent school fund, a feature which brought final agreement. At one time the proposal was that the permanent school fund purchase the land. School interests objected to this feature.

The report was adopted after both branches finally approved another report on a bill appropriating $28,000,000 for rural school aid, a measure which had held the house and senate in deadlock for several days.

Submission of a constitutional amendment to prevent diversion of road user tax funds was assured when the senate in its closing minutes adopted a conference committee report on the measure which the house accepted yesterday.

House adoption of the rural aid appropriation bill was by a unanimous vote soon after speaker Claud Gilmer informed house membership that the clock would be stopped at noon to permit consideration after that time of conference committee reports.

Thus the main business of the 148-day-old session was at an end.

Churchill declared Britain had "absolutely no ambitions of any kind in the Levant states."

"We sought no territory there and no kind of advantage that was not given to any of the other nations of the world," he said.

The prime minister declared he favored only Britain, the United States and France negotiating the French-Levant dispute.

De Gaulle had suggested a five-power parley with Russia and China sitting in, but Churchill declared "this would certainly cause a great deal of delay and would require very careful consideration on many grounds."

The prime minister said that while Britain recognized France's "special position" in those states, that did not mean "we have undertaken to enforce that special position."

"We shall put no obstacle to it, either at the council table or in any other way, but our commitments and duties also extend throughout the Middle East," he said.

DeGaulle Charge Is Disputed By Churchill

LONDON, June 5 (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill today disputed Gen. De Gaulle's charge that Britain had stirred up trouble in Syria and declared that Britain was ready to withdraw all her troops the moment a treaty was effected between France and the Levant states.

Churchill declared Britain had "absolutely no ambitions of any kind in the Levant states."

"We sought no territory there and no kind of advantage that was not given to any of the other nations of the world," he said.

The prime minister declared he favored only Britain, the United States and France negotiating the French-Levant dispute.

Suicide Menace Being Reduced

WASHINGTON, June 5 (AP) — Vice Admiral Marc A. Mitscher, commander of the fast carrier task force in the Okinawa operations, said today the Japanese suicide plane menace was "daily being reduced."

And, he told a news conference, "the indications are it will be further reduced."

Mitscher, here for conferences at the navy department, said that "actually in all the time I have been out there (the Pacific) only ten per cent of the planes get through our air defenses."

"Of that ten per cent, 90 per cent are shot down, and the remaining 10 per cent, or one per cent of the original total, are effective," he said.

Mitscher asserted the highly touted Japanese suicide bombing technique actually is just dive bombing, except that they sacrifice a man with their plane.

He conceded, however, that the suicide technique is more accurate than ordinary dive bombing.

Youth To Be Charged

A 15-year-old juvenile who skipped town after allegedly taking an automobile owned by E. F. Hanson on May 21, was in custody of county law officials Tuesday, J. B. Bruton, juvenile probation officer, said Tuesday that charges had been filed against the youth, who was picked up Monday.

Bible Studies And Business Sessions Held By First Baptist Church Circles

At circle meetings of the First Baptist church Monday afternoon, members held Bible studies or business sessions.

Mrs. G. H. Hayward was hostess to the Maybelle Taylor circle when the mission book, "Pray Ye" was studied. Mrs. O. D. Turner presided at a short business session.

On the program were Mrs. T. A. Nicholson, Mrs. W. W. Edwards, and Mrs. Leola Williams. Refreshments were served to Mrs. Leonard Coker, Mrs. Nicholson, Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Edwards, Mrs. Turner and Mrs. Hayward.

Dr. Shurley And Miss Loos Marry In Philadelphia

Marriage rites were performed in Philadelphia, Pa., for Helen Lee Loos, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Henry H. Loos of Bay City, Texas, and Dr. Jay T. Shurley, son of Ira Shurley of Sonora, Texas, and Mrs. Jewell Capansky of Hugo, Colo. Saturday at the historic Arch Street Methodist church.

Matron of honor was Dr. Mary Elizabeth Eckhardt and best man was Dr. Gus F. Eckhardt, both of El Paso and formerly of San Angelo. The double ring ceremony was read by Dr. Alexander K. Smith, pastor of the church.

Dr. and Mrs. Shurley, who became acquainted while both were undergraduate students at the University of Texas, are spending a short honeymoon in New York City, before returning to Philadelphia, where Dr. Shurley is completing post-graduate work in the field of psychiatry. He serves on the faculties of the Jefferson Medical College of Philadelphia and the Philadelphia School of Occupational Therapy. Dr. Shurley is also on the staffs of the Jefferson and the Philadelphia General hospitals, and the Pennsylvania hospital. The couple is at home at 111 North 49th street.

Dr. Shurley was a resident of Big Spring for a while and was employed by Cunningham and Phillips drug store. He has numerous relatives residing here.

Enrollment High For Bible Schools

High enrollments were reported by the First Methodist and First Baptist vacation Bible school Tuesday morning.

Ernest Hook, superintendent of the Baptist school, said that 201 pupils were present with an enrollment of 186. Each child must attend two days before they are regularly enrolled.

Mrs. H. N. Robinson, assistant principal, gave the total of the First Methodist school at 53 pupils present.

Mr. and Mrs. James A. Croeland and son, James Chumley, of New Orleans, La., are spending a two week vacation with Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Lee.

Rescue Attempt Is Near Disaster

A rescue attempt turned out almost disastrously for Robert C. Delbridge and six other men from a PCE recently in rough seas in the northern Pacific.

In a letter, dated May 30, Delbridge said "we had a little excitement last week..." He told how the PCE had put out its whaleboat in an attempt to rescue the crew from a downed PBV plane. Unable to pick up the plane crew because of the high seas, the boat put back to the ship.

As it came along side and was being hauled aboard, it smashed against the plates. Delbridge and two others were hurled into the sea and four clung desperately to rigging trying to avoid being smashed with each roll of the ship.

Although waves were running at 15 feet, Delbridge swam on his back in the icy water that kills in 15 minutes and two others calmly paddled about giving instructions for their own rescue. In three minutes, all seven were safely aboard the PCE.

Only Two Clubs Sell Bonds Because Of Monday Holiday

Because of a holiday Monday, only two clubs sold bonds at the Ritz theatre and the State theatre. Betty Glenn and Gladys Smith represented the B. & P. W. club at the Ritz and members of the Philathea Sunday school class were at the State.

A business meeting presided over by Mrs. J. B. Mull was held by the Presbyterian Auxiliary Monday afternoon at the church.

Mrs. G. A. Barnett, secretary of religious education, reported that Loan Wear has been sent by the Auxiliary as a representative at the Young People's conference in Kererville beginning today until June 15. Announcement was also made that the Auxiliary Officer's Training school will be held July 2 with Mrs. R. V. Middleton as instructor instead of Mrs. Sam Baker.

Mrs. J. C. Lane gave the devotional on "Let God Have His Own Way in Our Lives," taken from the 15th chapter of John. The group sang "Have Thine Own Way Lord," accompanied at the piano by Mrs. R. V. Middleton.

It was announced that the auxiliary meetings will continue through the summer months each Monday at 3:15 p. m. Plans are underway to have the Bible study on the third Monday in June instead of the fourth Monday.

Those present were Mrs. Dalton Mitchell, Mrs. T. S. Currie, Mrs. Mull, Mrs. Barnett, Mrs. Lane and Mrs. Middleton.

Sgt. A. E. Walker In Top Guard Unit

Sgt. A. E. Walker, Jr., is anticipating quite a long stay in Germany.

His unit, the 508th division, has been selected to become the SHAEF headquarters personal guards as a result of instructions from Gen. Eisenhower that one of the top-notch units be selected for this purpose. Sgt. Walker is in company E.

While he would just as soon come home, he said in a letter to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Walker, Sr., 404 Washington, he nevertheless is looking forward to his experience.

From Frankfurt, where he will be garrisoned, he reasoned he can see a good part of Europe and besides "I can pick up a couple of languages" and have a chance to "see the 'big boys' who come through here." He facetiously referred to his unit as the "Palace Guards."

Germans Came Near Capturing Hodges

NEW YORK, June 5 (AP)—Gen. Courtney H. Hodges narrowly escaped capture by the Germans last December in Nazi Field Marshal Von Rundstedt's Ardennes breakthrough, Hal Boyle, Associated Press war correspondent, has reported.

He said that on Dec. 18, 1944, Gen. Hodges was at Spa, Belgium, when three German columns rolled up to within three miles of his headquarters.

Hodges immediately sent his staff—except for essential operating personnel—back to Liege and threw in his last reserves against the German tide.

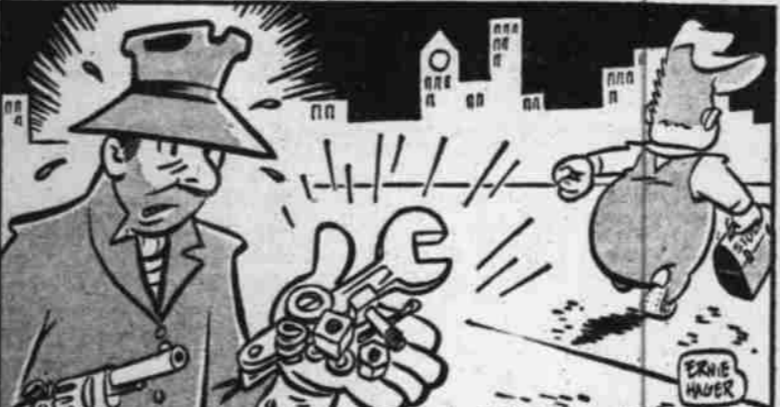

At 9:30 that night, he received a report of the arrival of Maj. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgeway's 82nd airborne division. An hour later Hodges moved east to Chaudfontaine, just east of Liege—saved as Ridgeway's forces went into the breach.

Forty-Ninth Legislature Is "School-Conscious" Session

By PAUL BOLTON Herald Austin Correspondent

The 49th Texas legislature may well go down in legislative history as the "school-conscious" session of the legislature.

From the very early days of the legislature when a substantial boost in rural school teacher salaries was voted, down to the closing days when the house chomped at the bit because the biggest "rural aid" bill in history wasn't big enough, school legislation has dominated the 49th legislature.

Not only did the teachers get pay raises; so did the county superintendents.

The two big tax bills of the session were school tax bills.

The "school" session started with the emergency appropriation to increase the pay of "rural" teachers. Rural isn't the right word because even then it included teachers with as many as 500 students in their schools. It was a boost from a base pay of $900 to a base pay of $1,215. Now some schools to 1,250 can qualify and effects one-third of the state's pupils.

This emergency appropriation was carried forward in the regular "rural aid" or more accurately designated "equalization" law. Under this law, teachers with 10 years of experience and a master's degree can get $1,458. The former top was $1,125.

The next big school subject—two bills with one objective—was to change the method of state per capita aid. Per capita aid is in addition to aid under the equalization law. The first bill fixes a new formula of arriving at the "needs" of the schools; the second bill authorizes the Automatic Tax Board to fix a tax rate which will bring in enough money to pay the total needed.

The formula is this: Take a base pay of $150 per month; multiply that by approximately 45,000 teachers (there are a few more than that); and then multiply by six months, the constitutional minimum for school terms. The total in dollars: $40,200,000. That's to determine teaching costs. To this, add one-third as other costs, for a total of $53,600,000. To get the "per capita"—the amount each school shall get for each child of school age—divide that total by the number of scholastics—approximately 1,500,000. Thus next year the per capita will be about $35.70, compared with the current $29.

Then the tax board is told, in effect, to fix the ad valorem tax rate at a point which, with other school funds, will bring in sufficient to pay that. Hence it's considered a certain thing that the ad valorem rate this year will be boosted to the maximum of 35 cents on the $100 valuation for state purposes. That likely won't bring in enough, but it's all there is.

Up until a few days ago, it was rumored the governor might veto the bill by Rae Files still to authorize all independent and common school districts to boost their tax rates locally to $1.50 on the $100. Previously the top had been $1. Miss Files' bill left the house as a local bill, applying to Waxahachie only.

It came back a general bill affecting every school district except where they had some special law. But now the lady legislator reports that the governor has promised to file the bill, without signature. In general, it will allow local school districts to up their local revenues 50 per cent.

Counties have to take up the $600 flat increase voted to county superintendents—their pay doesn't come out of state funds. This applies to all excepting the four larger counties of Texas, and excepting those counties which have special laws fixing pay.

How far the equalization fund—which James E. Ferguson dreamed up some decades ago as a means of putting education in rural districts more nearly on a parity with urban schools—is expanded with its $28,000,000 appropriation is a subject for a separate study.

The man behind most of this legislation is Charles Tennyson, former school teacher and legislator from Wichita Falls, now representative of the Texas State Teachers Association. Tennyson has figured up that about a third of the bills introduced were school bills of a general nature. He was not primarily interested in the county superintendents pay raise, but certainly did not oppose it—the county superintendents' had their own lobby.

Tennyson undoubtedly could be labeled as among the most successful—and lowest-paid—lobbyists before the 49th legislature.

WITH LIBERATION ARMY—Pfc. Dick Patrick with the Seventh army in Germany recently wrote home that his unit liberated a prisoner of war camp. "They respect military power and we have it," the soldier wrote. "It is a comforting sight to watch our planes roar over for hours." His sister, Mrs. W. E. Buckner, lives in Big Spring.

DAYTON, O., June 5 (AP)—Thousand-plane B-29 raids that may dump as much as 10,000 tons of bombs upon Japan in a single strike, are in stone for the Japanese well before the end of the year, the army promised today.

In a message timed to mark the first anniversary of the initial B-29 combat mission—a raid upon Bangkok, Thailand—just a year ago today, Brig. Gen. Orval R. Cook, chief of the air technical service command's procurement Division, reported that the Superforts are rolling off production lines at a rate that will double their current strength in the Pacific before the year is out.

Let's Go - PUT THE BIG DRIVE OVER!

- ★ The Seventh War Loan is an "all out" call to victory.
- ★ No American can falter. No American can afford not to answer this vital call.
- ★ Victory comes high. Every day it is delayed costs us dearly in American blood and lives.
- ★ Last year there were two War Bond Drives by this time. The Seventh is doubly big because it's two drives in one.
- ★ That's why this is the most urgent war loan of the war. No matter how many bonds you bought in the past, you must buy more in this great Seventh.
- ★ If you have any income, from any source—whether from work, land or capital—you have a personal quota to make in the 7th. Look for it in the box to the right.
- ★ We must all buy bonds in proportion. Let's meet our quota—let's exceed it if we can.

Deacon Bill's Weakness May Pay Big Dividends

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
Deacon Bill McKechnie's weakness for "washed up" discards of the major league stock pile is paying big dividends in the Cincinnati Reds' current eight-game win streak, longest active string in the big show.

Give wily Bill a veteran pitcher who has been around and it's 2 to 1 he'll pop up as a winner in a Redjig uniform.
Joe Bowman is the latest example of the McKechnie touch. The 35-year-old righthander was tossed on the bone pile by the Athletics, Giants, Phillies, Pirates and Red Sox before Cincinnati picked him up by the waiver route a week ago.

In his first start for McKechnie, Bowman whipped Brooklyn, in the first game of Sunday's clean sweep. Walter (Boom Boom) Beck also qualifies for the class with two recent victories over the Phillies. Cincinnati also signed 44-year-old Hod Lisenbee who started two decades ago.

Now that Bucky Walters has snapped out of it and reeled off three wins in his last four outings and Ed Heusser, another pickup from the big league ash can two years ago, has regained his early-season magic, McKechnie has his club on the upgrade.

The Cincinnati fans, who have been so allergic to turnstile that hardly 100,000 have paid, including $1,000 opening day, have been slow to accept the 1945 McKechnie version. They haven't warmed up yet but the win streak is bound to rekindle the spark, even if the pennant bug is absent.

With the majors resuming operations today after a day of inactivity, the Reds' victory string is endangered by the onrushing Pittsburgh Pirates who boast the best intersectional record in baseball.

Counting the two east vs. west series, including a home series in each town, the Buccos have won 18 and lost 7, tops in the National and better than the St. Louis Browns' American high of 13-9 against the Red Sox, A's, Yanks and Senators at home and abroad.

All four eastern clubs failed to break even in the west of the National league and only Pittsburgh had been able to do the job when they toured the Atlantic seaboard.

NEW YORK, June 5 (AP)—Senator Happy Chandler told New York scribes yesterday that the baseball commissionership was "the only job I ever wanted—and I didn't ask for it." . . . That probably makes him the only guy who ever went around making campaign speeches just for the heck of it.

When the parachute school baseball team in the Fort Benning, Ga., infantry school league needed another pitcher, the players finally tried that old army advice—they took their troubles to their chaplain, the Rev. Richard Moran, who promptly replied: "Til pitch."

Eisenhower Goes To Council Meet

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, Allied Expeditionary Force, Paris, June 5 (AP)—Gen. Eisenhower left his Frankfurt-on-Main headquarters in Germany today for Berlin, where he will meet with Allied occupation commanders representing Great Britain, Russia and the provisional French government.

Eisenhower's trip is being made as "commander-in-chief of the forces of occupation," a SHAEF announcement said.

This is his first official task in that post and the first time he has served in any capacity other than that of supreme commander of the Allied armies in the west since his forces stormed the Normandy beaches a year ago tomorrow.

Among the matters to be decided in Berlin, the announcement said, will be details of control authority and the location of the seat of the Allied control council.

The purpose of the meeting is to sign a quadripartite declaration regarding the defeat of Germany and the assumption of supreme authority with respect to the German occupation by the United States, the United Kingdom, the U.S.S.R. and the provisional French government," the SHAEF announcement declared.

Chandler Spikes Resignation Talk

NEW YORK, June 5 (AP)—Senator A. B. "Happy" Chandler has squelched sub rosa reports that he would resign as commissioner of baseball.

"I expect to be commissioner for life," he told New York baseball writers at a dinner in his honor last night. "That will set at rest talk of any successor for me."

"But," he said, "I want you to know that when the time comes for me to make a decision you will find that I know the meaning of the word 'no' as well as 'yes.' If I deserve criticism, give it to me, but I am sure everyone will agree that I should have a fair chance and will not impose on my good disposition."

"I need the help of everyone who loves baseball. As I understand it I represent the people and I mean to render decisions fairly and justly on the basis of the facts presented to me. The club owners represent themselves."

Amazing Pep For Men 40, 60 or More

If life apparently has lost its zest, you again may be able to enjoy life as you did in your youth. If added years have slowed down your vim, vitality and youthful pleasures, here is an inexpensive method that may change your whole outlook on life. Just ask your druggist for Casella stimulating tablets (either 45 or 200, the 200 size costs much less per dose). Take as directed on label and feel the thrill of living again. Don't feel old and worn out at 40, 60 or more. Take these tablets regularly until you feel that you have regained the pleasure of living you once enjoyed. Why be discouraged? Why not try Casella tablets and regain the verve and zest of a much younger man? Women too, will find Casella tablets beneficial.

Work Stoppage In Shreveport Settled

SHREVEPORT, La., June 5 (AP)—A work stoppage of bus drivers, which halted service out of Shreveport over the Tri-State Transit company lines for eight hours yesterday, was settled late in the day and the drivers returned to work.

The lines were operating normal service today to points in Louisiana, Texas and Arkansas. Company officials said the temporary stoppage was due to a misunderstanding over the allotment of new buses.

Wearily we roll along . . . But we'll keep on rolling

Many a worker, who once stepped on his own starter, today counts himself lucky when nobody steps on his toes in a jam-packed 'bus or trolley. Accustomed to shorter hours, he is surprised at his strength and skill to perform the more difficult tasks of a wartime day. It is his ambition to produce and produce and produce and thus hasten the day when our valiant youth will work by his side again.

Yes, everybody has been more weary in wartime than ever before, not forgetting that patient Mother who is first on the job before breakfast. And, who of us isn't determined to carry on to total victory? If America hadn't had the spirit to pull together, if we hadn't sharpened our wits, if we hadn't surprised ourselves with our own sinew and self-reliance, we might feel uneasy over whatever trials may lie ahead. As it is, we can be grateful for our war-found capacities which will help the young folks get started in the sort of a world they want.

We Might Participate

So many appeals are made during these days for blood donors to help build up the supply of life-saving plasma that one wonders why a direct appeal has never reached this particular area.

At one time when inquiry was made about the possibility of securing blood donors here, officials in charge of this work frankly discouraged it. Reason, they said, was that enough was coming from the metropolitan centers to preclude the necessity of getting into the hinterlands away from the donor centers.

But there are such things as mobile units and some communities in this area have had them. If the need for plasma is as great as we are led to believe, then there should be a possibility of Big Spring and Howard county participating.

This is a worthy project for some service club, if, of course, the idea of performing a real service is not too revolutionary.

Rightful Denunciation

President Truman's exhortation of tax evaders and black market operators, padding their pockets with ill-gotten gains while sons of Americans were fighting and dying in battle, will be applauded by service men and civilians alike. The president's re-education was the wholesome attitude shared by every honorable, patriotic citizen in or out of uniform.

The harshest indictment that can be returned against the American home front in this war has been the widespread indulgence in the greatest prosperity and spending boom in history, built upon the blood, sweat and tears of other Americans. Legitimate operations, however, have been circumscribed within such bounds as Congress and the Administration invoked, and restraints have been applied upon wages, prices, profits and distribution. What has been legal and what has been right have not necessarily been in conformity.

The tax evader has dodged his share of the burden of war financing, and black market operators have sorely dislocated equitable distribution of rationed necessities.

Patrons of the black market are parties to a crime. Such patrons will not be prosecuted, but they nevertheless are confronted with the forthright stand taken by the President, who spoke as a war veteran, honorable citizen and a man of character who is gifted with a clear sense of what is right and what is wrong. His wholesome indignation should

Today And Tomorrow—

Beacon Light From History

By WALTER LIPP MANN

The position of England in 1815 after the Battle of Waterloo was enough like our own today to be worth attentive study. England belonged to an alliance of four with the reactionary nor with the revolutionary forces. Deliberately and consciously Castlereagh chose for England that role in Europe which the great French writer, Montesquieu, had called puissance mediatrice—the mediating power.

Napoleon's attempt to conquer Europe; the problem of her foreign ministers in the five or six immediate post-war years, was how to keep the alliance together in order, as Castlereagh put it, to bring back the world to peaceful habits.

the disorders and hysterias of the post-war years and to usher in that long peace which for about a hundred years was unbroken by any great and universal war.

Then, as now, there was a tendency for the victorious great power alliance to break up into hostile combinations. The Russia of the Czar Alexander and the Austria of Count Metternich were the two chief contenders. The situation was complicated further by the fact that all of Europe was in the grip of a vehement conflict between revolutionary Jacobinism and legitimacy.

It is not to be confused with isolationism. Castlereagh and his successor Canning did not wash their hands of Europe. On the contrary, they participated actively in all important European questions. But in participating they followed a line of policy which was their own, seeking to pacify the turbulence by refusing to become the supporters of any one of the particular causes, in the field of power politics or of ideology, which were disturbing and dividing Europe.

A foreign minister who was less clear-sighted than Castlereagh, less prompt and firm in his judgment, could easily have bungled the whole business. The Cambridge history of British foreign policy tells us that in 1815, in the weeks immediately after Waterloo and the Congress of Vienna, the enigmatic attitude of the Czar, not towards the question of Turkey only, kept the European chancelleries in a flutter of excitement and apprehension. . . . he preached unctuously the gospel of fraternity and mutual trust; but his agents were meanwhile carrying on dark intrigues in every court and country in Europe; and it is not surprising that Austria . . . he seemed, to quote Baron Vincent, to be disguising under the language of Evangelical self-abnegation schemes of far-reaching ambition."

In this dangerous confusion the English statesmen quickly saw what was the vital interest of England. It was to hold the alliance together, and this, they realized, would not be done if England became entangled with one ally that she would be embroiled with the role of the mediating power fitted England's position as a country concerned with Europe but not part of it, as a country to keep the toes pointed all the time. "As for taking weight off, that's simple. You just pinch it off. It hurts like the very dickens, but it's the easiest way."

"Do you have some tricks to keep your legs in shape?" I inquired. "Yes, indeed," she said. "For one thing, there's nothing like the old hot and cold water treatment, especially after a day when you feel as if stage two has fallen on you."

"I asked her how it was done and in a flash she was literally pulling my leg. "See—You just pinch your leg and work the flesh downward. Always down; never up." I agreed with her that it was a painful process.

Castlereagh found that British envoys abroad shared this view of his (the Czar's) designs, and the dispatches sent home by them were filled with evidence of Russian machinations—in Italy, in France, Spain, Greece, North Africa, and of course Turkey.

To this tense situation in Europe Castlereagh addressed himself promptly by insisting that to hold the alliance together was more important than those "points of secondary policy" which threatened to destroy it. We Alison Phillips, the distinguished historian of the period, tells us that Castlereagh "understood Metternich's fear and suspicion of Russia, which, to a certain extent, he shared; but he believed that the best way of curbing Alexander's ambitions was, not to attempt to form combinations against him, still less to meet intrigue with counter-intrigue, but to make an honest appeal to the better side of his nature, and perhaps to his vanity, and so, by holding him to the solemn engagements he had entered into at Paris, to keep him securely 'grouped.'"

The Big Spring Herald

Published Sunday morning and weekday afternoons except Saturday by THE BIG SPRING HERALD, Inc. Entered as second class mail matter at the Postoffice at Big Spring, Texas, under act of March 3, 1879.

Castlereagh defined his policy in a letter to the British Minister in Berlin, dated Dec. 28, 1815, and then embodied it a few days later in a circular of instructions to all British ministers abroad, who were to communicate it to the governments to which they were accredited. The tension between Austria and Russia was, he said, a peril to the alliance, and he desired "to guard our missions abroad against

Life's Darkest Moment

With The AEF: Gounod's Royalties Still Re-turn Funds To His Heirs

By GEORGE TUCKER (Substituting for Hal Boyle)

PARIS, June 2 (AP)—Two nieces of the great French composer Charles Francois Gounod ("Faust," "Romeo and Juliet") are waiting quietly for the army to turn the American hospital in Paris back to its civilian controllers so they can resume their careers as volunteer nurses—careers they followed all through the German occupation.

This is the law guaranteeing royalties to heirs 50 years after the death of a writer or composer.

In the ordinary course of events the time limit on "Faust," one of the great money-making operas of all times, would have lapsed by now. But, as Madame Baignieres explained it, France was not France during the German occupation, so the war years have been thrown out and the royalties will continue for some time to come.

Recently the war ran head-on into French copyright laws with the results most interesting to the nieces and to Gounod's 80-year-old daughter, who lives in a cha-teau near Toulouse.

Washington— Decrease Of The Legislative Arm

(Last of Six Articles) By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON — For the first 16 years of this century, government administrative expenditures and the cost of Congress ran almost the same. Since that time, the gap in their expenditures has been widening. In 1940, for every $7 spent on government, only one cent was spent on Congress.

What is important now is that— The remedies suggested are numerous. Many have been the suggestions that if the Congressional committee system is streamlined, the committee chairmen form a legislative cabinet to work with the President's cabinet.

This decrease in the power of Congress has been going on for a long time, but in recent years it has decreased with a rush. That is one important factor that gave rise to the LaFollete-Montgomery committee on reorganization of Congress and to the amazing mass of suggestions piling up for recapturing the constitutional rights of the legislative arm.

Goop Bomb Raises Victory Hopes

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — The inside story of how the army and navy are burning up Japan's main cities, block by block, may now be revealed at least in part.

lend-lease equal to ownership of French stock, or about 52 per cent. Both refused.

The two greatest contributions to the burning of Japan are the B-29 and a new, still somewhat mysterious fire-bomb known as the "goop bomb." Just how the "goop bomb" got its name isn't known. However, it's the most terrible fire spreader in the world. Part of its secret is an oily mush developed by petroleum chemists. This makes the contents of the bombs stick in gulleys and to anything it hits, making it almost impossible for Japanese fire-fighters to scrape it loose.

Note—Now that we are shipping troops and supplies from Europe through Suez to the Pacific war, canal tolls run into millions. British war supplies going through the Panama Canal get free tolls under lend-lease.

This magnesium dust lights up in a searing blaze as soon as it comes in contact with air. Result is the hottest fire ever known.

Not much has been in the papers about it, but a significant lawsuit is now being fought out in New York between the U. S. government and Standard Oil of New Jersey. It involves 2,900 German patents, which the justice department claims were turned over to Standard by the Nazis for safe-keeping during the war. The government has seized them and Standard is suing to get them back.

No Suez Lend-Lease

British insistence that the United States pay tolls on troops and war supplies shipped through the Suez canal continues to rankle in high circles.

The letter, signed by Howard, told the home office how he arranged to take over the Nazi patents and hold them, apparently for of the famous events in the reign of Queen Victoria was Disraeli's bold stroke in borrowing 4,000,000 pounds sterling in the name of the British cabinet to secure a large block of canal stock for the government.

They delivered to me assignments of some 2,900 foreign patents and we did our best to work out complete plans for a modus vivendi which would operate through the term of the war, whether the United States came in or not."

BUFFETED ABOUT, REPORTER GETS INTERVIEW WITH COWBOY STAR

By HELEN WILSON

Buffeted from pillar to post, I finally got my interview with Gene Autrey, cowboy movie star Tuesday morning.

Parked at the side of the service station was a station wagon bearing California license plates but no Autrey. There were tires and luggage in the back, and after hanging around for quite some time I decided I was barking up the wrong tree waiting there for him. A bell hop heading across the street with more fancy toilet luggage about that time told me he was in the hotel.

I asked at the desk if Autrey was registered. Sure enough, so I tried the house phone but no one answered. Back to the station wagon again. I learned he had not left and I went back to twiddle my thumbs in the lobby. I tried the coffee shop twice and came back a third time. By this time the cashier and I were life long friends and she pointed out my man who sat at a table eating breakfast.

There were no fancy white boots and cowboy regalia for with a warrant officer's insignia. He saw me coming and donated that here - comes - an - auto-graph friend expression.

I explained my business and he introduced me to his wife. The Autreys spent the night here while having their automobile serviced, he said. "We ran into a little tire trouble about 10 miles out of town last night."

He expounded at length over tires, synthetic tubes and the tire situation in general. In between I learned that they were enroute from New York to California.

Back at the office I looked at my empty note pad and swollen feet and wondered what the heck to write.

VFW Proposes Peacetime Draft Which Would Not Break Home Ties For Long

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

WASHINGTON, June 5 (AP) — A peacetime draft plan which would provide military training without requiring youths to leave home environment for long periods was proposed to congress today by the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

A substitute for the American Legion - backed proposal for one year of continuous training at the age of 18, the VFW program calls for training in the National Guard or Naval and Marine Reserve Units for a three-year period.

Under the VFW proposal, as explained to the house postwar military policy committee by Omar K. Ketchum, national legislative representative, compulsory military training would be given in a boy's own community without disturbing his home life or his education.

The trainee automatically would become a member of the National Guard or a Naval or Marine Reserve unit at a predetermined age, would participate in weekly drills and training periods at his local armory, and take two weeks of training every summer at a reserve camp.

Ketchum said the VFW would insist in a specific ban against use of trainees in civil emergencies, such as strikes.

He made it plain, too, that his organization would not oppose a straightaway one-year training program if the VFW plan is not accepted, adding that the alternate proposal was advanced to "quiet the fears of those opponents of any type of compulsory military training" by minimizing the displacement of a youth's home life.

"The Veterans of Foreign Wars states emphatically that it is for preparedness to maintain peace by force of arms, if necessary," he said.

Newsman Cited For Contempt

CORPUS CHRISTI, June 5 (AP) — Publisher Conway C. Craig, Editor Bob McCracken and Reporter Tom Mulvaney of the Corpus Christi Caller-Times have been ordered to appear before County Judge Joe D. Browning Friday morning to answer charges that they are guilty of contempt of court.

Judge Browning issued citations last night, basing the charges on published reports of a trial before Browning May 25, 26 and 27 in a suit for forcible entry and detainer.

The citations by Judge Browning said the men were held guilty of contempt and "it is ordered, adjudged and decreed by the court that they be punished by confinement in the county jail of Nueces county, Tex., for three days unless they purge themselves thereof."

Trial of the suit, styled Bush M. Jackson, et al. vs. Joe L. Mayes, et al., reached a climax May 26, when a jury of six men announced they could not find "against their consciences" and twice returned verdicts opposite that instructed by the court.

Judge Browning ordered the jury, on motion of counsel for plaintiff, to return a verdict for Jackson. The jury was locked up until 9 a. m. The next day, finally returning a verdict as instructed with the annotation: "It is understood that this verdict is rendered and recorded with the order of this court against the conscience of the jury."

City Building Talked By Reeder In Address

"Making a City in Which We Would Like to Live" was the subject of a talk given by Roy Reeder at the Tuesday meeting of the Big Spring Rotary club which convened for weekly luncheon at the Settles hotel.

Reeder, in discussing possibilities for post-war improvements, stated the need for more parks, talked of additional parking needs and of improvements in general which would make Big Spring a nicer place in which to live.

James A. Davis, president of the Empire Southern Service, Fort Worth, attended the meeting as a guest.

Colors Rescued From School Flag Pole

At long last the wind-whipped flag, caught in the pulley on the flag pole at the Big Spring high school has been taken down.

Sometime ago the flag became entangled in the pulley which regulates the lanyards, and school officials tried in vain to get someone to bring the flag down. Everyone commented on its crumpled appearance, but no one dared climb the pole.

Monday, a professional steeple-jack, passing through Big Spring, climbed the pole, loosened the flag and had the pole painted in less than an hour.

Pfc. Charles Wesley Deats arrived here Monday evening to spend a 30-day leave with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. C. W. Deats, Sr. After more than a year of combat service aboard the Minneapolis, the young marine was recalled to the states to enter V-12 training. For the past two months he has been going through preparatory work at Camp LeJeune, N. C., and after his leave, he will report to Yale university to begin his special training.

Two Scarlet Fever Cases Are Reported

Two cases of scarlet fever were reported to the city-county health unit during the past few days. One case was in Big Spring and the other was reported from Forsan. Health Nurse Ann Fisher said that this was the first scarlet fever in several weeks, and warned parents to be alert in protecting their children from the disease.

The number of communicable diseases reported last week was down, with only five cases of whooping cough and five measles cases. Three new cases of syphilis and six of gonorrhea came in to the VD clinic last week. There was one case each of tuberculosis, Meningitis and impetigo.

Stationed In Germany

Cpl. Richard L. Cauble is stationed in Kaiserslautern, Germany, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ladd Cauble, have learned. He is in the 15th army—the occupation army. Until recently he had been an automotive mechanic, but he has been assigned to a supply situation.

Politically, Belgium is a constitutional monarchy.

Liquor Control Unit Back Here

District headquarters of the Texas Liquor Control Board have been moved back to Big Spring from Odessa with C. D. McClain, Lubbock, as deputy supervisor.

The office, opened here Monday, was moved back to Big Spring because of its central location for service to 25 counties in West and Southern Texas. Headquarters were maintained here for several years before it was moved to Odessa last year.

Employees include Inspectors, J. T. Morgan, M. M. Hood, L. W. Smith, Dan Root, sub-office inspector at Pecos and Juanita McCullough, secretary.

Frosty Weather Still Grips Northern Area

By The Associated Press

Jack Frost, a.w.o.l. from his icy retreat in the far north, painted an unwelcome, messy streak of white across verdant fields and gardens in parts of the midwest again today.

Cool weather extended from New England westward to the Continental Divide in the eastern Rockies and fruit and garden crops in many sections were damaged and threatened in other areas. The cold extended southward as far as Tennessee and Arkansas.

Weather forecasters in Chicago said there was no immediate relief in prospect for the dislodging of the large mass of cold air which moved in from the Hudson Bay region last week.

Weather Forecast

Dept. of Commerce Weather Bureau

BIG SPRING AND VICINITY: Fair this afternoon tonight and Wednesday. Not much change in temperature.

WEST TEXAS: Generally fair this afternoon, tonight and Wednesday except cloudy with a few widely scattered thundershowers in Panhandle tonight and early Wednesday.

EXTENDED FORECAST: Texas west of Gulf Plains: Temperatures averaging 3-7 degrees above normal, little trend during period. Precipitation light to none occurring as widely scattered thundershowers Thursday and Friday.

Production Halts At Rubber Plant

HOUSTON, June 5 (AP) — Production at the Goodyear Synthetic Rubber Corporation had stopped today and a number of workers were reported off the job at the nearby Butadiene Plant of Sinclair Rubber Inc., as the result of two-man picket lines at the two entrances to the area.

Construction work at the plant of the Kelly - Springfield Tire Company, in the same area, was going at full blast.

No explanation has been given as to the reason for the picket lines. They were established yesterday at both the La Porte road and Galveston road entrances to the area in which the three plants are located, and workers at either plant must cross the lines.
