Opposing Sides Ready for Talks

PARIS (UPI)—North Vietnam and the Viet Cong agreed Wednesday to participate in expanded talks on Vietnam with the United States and South Vietnam. Their assent in the wake of Saigon's agreement to attend assured an early start to the historic Paris negotiations—possibly next week.

In Saigon, President Nguyen Van Thieu announced South Vietnam's delegation would be directed by flamboyant Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky, and said Saigon's negotiators would attend the first regular meeting of the expanded Paris talks within the next 10 days.

But Thieu urged the South Vietnamese to "fight harder than ever before" and warned that the Communist strategy would be one of "fighting while talking."

Spokesmen in Paris for the Hanoi delegation and that of the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front (NLF) announced separately they would take part in the negotiations but each strongly denounced the Washington announcement that the United States and Saigon would not consider the talks as a four-party conference.

Back Stage Contacts
A spokesman for Xuan Thuy, the North Vietnamese minister of state and delegation chief, told UPI his delegation will take part in the conference. He said the date of the opening would be discussed shortly between Hanoi and American delegations in back-stage contacts.

The Hanoi spokesman served notice, however, that his delegation would demand immediate recognition of the Viet Cong as an equal partner, and he attacked the apparent intention of Washington and Saigon to consider the talks as a two-way, "your side-our side" parity between the Communist and allied negotiators.

Earlier Wednesday Viet Cong spokesmen told a Paris news conference the National Liberation Front would take part in the talks, but would challenge Saigon's claim to be the legal spokesman for the South Vietnamese people.

Equal Partner
Duong Dinh Thao, the Viet Cong spokesman and No. 2 in the NLF delegation, said his delegation would attend the talks as "an equal partner," and would reject allied attempts to ignore the Viet Cong presence.

Allied officials said the decision by Hanoi and the Viet Cong to participate in the talks made it possible for the

Seeking Ratification For Nuclear Treaty

By HELEN THOMAS
SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UPI)—President Johnson Wednesday was considering calling the senate into special session to ratify the nuclear non-proliferation treaty, despite misgivings by senate leaders over President-elect Richard M. Nixon's position.

In Washington, senate leaders were known to feel a special session would do more harm than good unless Nixon is strongly in favor of it.

But Asst. Press Secretary Tom Johnson said at the Texas White House that Johnson is fearful any delay in U.S. ratification will encourage other nations to stall.

The press spokesman emphasized that no decision has been made. But he said the President was canvassing senate leaders on the matter.

A two-thirds vote of the senate would be required for ratification. Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield has indicated a preference to hold off treaty consideration until early after the new Congress convenes Jan. 3.

The presidential press spokesman said Johnson is sounding out his leaders on whether a special session should be called and whether the necessary vote could be mustered.

Others May Delay
President considers the non-proliferation treaty a most important matter and he is fearful that the delay in the Senate may encourage delay by other nations," said the spokesman.

In the rush of adjournment last October, the Senate put off consideration on the treaty. The Russian invasion of Czechoslovakia also put a damper on the United Nations document and prompted Nixon to call for a postponement of ratification.

Disappointed, Johnson said last fall, he might call a special session but first would check it out with his lieutenants on Capitol Hill and world leaders.

Johnson years ago to see positive steps toward disarmament before he leaves office Jan. 20. On that score he would welcome a summit meeting with Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin to discuss further mutual de-escalation of the offensive and defense nuclear arms race.

There are recurring reports that a top-level diplomatic concclave with Kosygin still is a possibility, perhaps in Vienna. Affirmative action by the

Allied Force Tackles Red Island Stronghold

SAIGON (UPI)—An allied task force landed by an armada of more than 80 vessels blockaded a Communist island stronghold deep in the Mekong

Delta Wednesday in what military spokesmen said was the biggest such operation of the war.

Military spokesmen said more than 1,000 South Vietnamese infantrymen were moved ashore from the allied vessels that set up the blockade around a 20-mile string of islands in the key supply routes for Communist forces operating around Saigon.

U.S. and government spokesmen said the landing fleet—U.S. Navy patrol boats and armed Vietnamese junks—was to block the wedge-shaped island group and prevent Communist troops from escaping through the net of invading infantrymen.

Effectiveness of the operation, however, was threatened by a tropical storm that was bearing down on Vietnamese lowlands.

Fringe winds and heavy rains began pelting the delta region late Wednesday. Military weather forecasters predicted the storm called Nina, downgraded from typhoon status, would move inland with winds of up to 50 miles an hour on Thanksgiving afternoon.

No new incidents were reported Wednesday inside the tinderbox Demilitarized Zone but U.S. Marines operating just to the south of the DMZ uncovered a huge Communist bunker complex stretching over 500 square yards.

The Marines reported finding at least 50 "live-in" bunkers, projection tunnels—called spider holes—a mess hall, 100 rounds of 60mm. mortar shells and quantities of medicine, field equipment and cooking utensils.

Thieu Names Ky To Act as Head For Delegation

SAIGON (UPI)—President Nguyen Van Thieu Wednesday announced the appointment of Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky "to control, guide and supervise" South Vietnam's delegation to the expanded Vietnam War talks in Paris.

He said South Vietnam would be on hand for the first regular meeting within the next 10 days.

Ky, the flamboyant former air marshal, is South Vietnam's leading hawk. Observers said his appointment apparently indicated Saigon would maintain a hardline policy in its dealings with the Communists.

Thieu made the announcement in a brief television address from Saigon in which he urged the South Vietnamese to "fight harder than ever before."

Thieu spoke to the nation shortly after the Saigon government announced it was ending its 23-day boycott of the Paris talks.

He said the South Vietnamese delegation would be in Paris for the next regular session of the

Relatives Protest Mine Sealing

MANNINGTON, W. Va. (UPI)—Relatives of 78 miners trapped one week in a burning explosion-torn coal mine pleaded Wednesday with officials not to seal the mine if only on the chance one of the trapped men may be alive.

"Even if just one man comes out, it would be worthwhile," Tony Megna, a brother of a trapped miner, said.

Megna was among relatives presenting their pleas at a news briefing on conditions in the Mannington No. 9 mine, hit by more than 20 fire-spawning explosions since before dawn last Wednesday when an initial blast trapped 99 men underground. Twenty-one escaped or were rescued hours after the first explosion.

After the news briefing, federal and state mines officials Consolidation Coal Co., owner of the mine, and the United Mine Workers (UMW) met to decide what to do next.

The officials said two steps were under consideration, including the use of foam and the sealing of all mine openings to put out the underground blaze.

A spokesman said the only way to put out the flames was to "close off all oxygen to the fire."

"Why seal the mine if there is no danger to anyone except the men down there?" Megna asked, referring to the fact officials Tuesday said they would not send rescue teams into the mine "under any circumstances."

Two teams made brief probes into the mine Sunday—the only such exploration by rescue teams since the men were trapped.

Megna's sister, Mrs. Robert W. Friend of Parkersburg, W. Va., said, "They teach the men to barricade themselves, to stay put, and now they want to abandon them without making contact."

Megna, a high school principal at Plain City, Ohio, cited the spectacular rescue of 21 miners last May from a flooded mine at Hominy Falls, W. Va., after they had been trapped deep underground six to 10 days and given up for dead.

He called on the officials to authorize the drilling of more bore holes into the mine's seven miles of tunnels to listen for signs of life and test the underground air.

"The mine here covers a vast area but they plan only to drill 10 holes," Megna said. "At Hominy Falls, a very small mine, they drilled nine holes. People said they didn't have a chance at Hominy Falls, but they did."

Company officials said air samples brought up through five completed bore holes drilled to different levels showed a "very high" content of carbon monoxide and highly volatile methane gas.

Because of the danger posed by these gases, officials had decided the only way a rescue could be effected—if any trapped men were alive—was by drilling a 21-inch shaft 800 feet to 900 feet straight down into the mine.

No decision has been made on whether to drill such a shaft.

Residents Enjoy Quiet Observance Of Thanksgiving

Pampans were expected to enjoy a quiet Thanksgiving holiday today with the traditional family reunions and roast turkey, dressing and all the trimmings in the spotlight.

All city, county, state and federal offices are closed today and all through the weekend. Most Pampa business establishments are closed today and will resume normal operations tomorrow.

There will be no residential mail deliveries today.

Police and fire departments and the sheriff's office will remain open throughout the holiday.

Special Thanksgiving meals have been prepared for city and county jail prisoners.

All public and private schools in Pampa are closed today and will resume classes Monday. Colleges and universities are also closed and many students are home for the holiday week-end vacation.

Pampa's two banks and the savings and loan company are closed today.

All downtown and Coronado Center merchants are closed today but will be open for business tomorrow. Pampa's banks and the savings and loan company will also open tomorrow, as will most other local businesses and firms.

Cabot and Celanese closed all plants and offices today. Some of the firms' business and managerial offices will remain closed tomorrow but all plants will resume operations Friday.

Some churches scheduled special Thanksgiving Day observances.

Much of the afternoon entertainment today is expected to be provided by the traditional Thanksgiving Day football game between Texas and Texas A&M. That game will start at 2 p.m. and be broadcast and telecast on major television and radio networks.

The weather is expected to be slightly chilly but warming. The high is expected to climb to the mid-50s after an overnight low in the mid-20s.

Billie Sol Estes Asks Johnson To Provide Pardon

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Billie Sol Estes, currently serving a 15-year federal prison term for swindling, has asked President Johnson to commute his sentence.

Estes, in the Sandstone, Minn., federal prison, since March, 1965, would be eligible for parole in January of 1970.

The Justice Department said the Texan's petition was received at the office of the pardon attorney on July 29 and is currently under consideration. A department spokesman said he was unable to tell when the appeal would be acted upon because of a large backlog of cases.

He said the pardon attorney would make a recommendation to the White House. President Johnson would have to act personally on the case.

In the early 1960's, Estes built a large financial empire in Texas on a multi-million-dollar syndicate. He was convicted of using the mails to defraud.

"Boy Wonder" Estes, once called a "boy wonder of agriculture financing" and long active in church work and civic affairs, built his financial empire from his rambling ranch home in Pecos, Tex. He got rich by borrowing money and using anhydrous ammonia fertilizer tanks as collateral. It was later learned that most of

Black Panther Eldridge Cleaver Hunted for Violation of Parole

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Black Panther Eldridge Cleaver Wednesday became a fugitive by ignoring a date for his return to prison as a parole violator.

An arrest order was issued by the California Adult Authority for the Negro militant who has spent most of his adult life behind bars. From his cellblock, he detailed his sordid assault, drug and sex crimes in a book, "Soul on Ice."

Cleaver was scheduled to turn himself in at 9 a.m. but only his wife and attorney showed up before the officials who supervise parole cases. After waiting an hour and a half, authorities issued an arrest bulletin.

Cleaver, 33, was ordered back to custody for violating parole granted two years ago. He had served nine years of a 13-year sentence for assault to commit rape, assault to commit murder and assault with a deadly weapon.

A few minutes before the scheduled surrender, Cleaver's attractive wife, Kathleen, and his attorney, Charles Garry, pushed through a state building corridor jammed with about 100 newsmen.

"I have not talked to him since Sunday and I have not seen him since last Thursday," reported Garry, counsel for Black Panther founder Huey Newton, who is serving a prison sentence for slaying a policeman.

Although Cleaver lost an appeal to Justice Thurgood Marshall, the first Negro on the U.S. Supreme Court, Garry said he would ask the entire court to review his case. Marshall on Tuesday rejected without comment Cleaver's plea for a stay pending an appeal.

Parole for Cleaver was revoked after he was arrested April 6 during a shoot-out between Oakland police and Black Panthers. Cleaver was wounded and another Panther, Bobby Hutton, 17, was killed.

In June, however, Cleaver's release was ordered by a Superior Court judge on grounds his confinement was politically motivated. Cleaver resumed his job as senior editor at Ramparts Magazine, campaigned sporadically for the presidency, and lectured for fees up to $1,000 an appearance.

Cost of Living Shows Increase

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The cost of living registered the biggest monthly advance in October in six years, the government reported Wednesday. The heaviest price increases were in clothing, food and automobiles.

Thieu said Ky would not directly participate in the talks—his rank would be too high for the ambassadorial level of the meetings—but would act as overall director from behind the scenes.

Diplomatic sources said Saigon would send a delegation of about 100 members, including military, political and technical advisers, as well as representatives of the national assembly and religious and political groups.

Rotarians Hear Amarillo Speaker On Boys Ranch

Some 348 boys, including 14 Pampa youths, are residents of Cal Farley's Boys Ranch, according to Virgil Patterson, of Amarillo.

Patterson, who is chairman of the board of Amarillo's First National Bank as well as president of Boys Ranch, spoke before the Pampa Rotary Club yesterday in the Coronado Inn.

The speaker gave case histories of boys at the ranch and said the majority of the youngsters are neglected children from broken homes.

"Unfortunately," he said, "we can only take about one boy out of 22 requests."

"We try to make the ranch as much like home as possible," Patterson said, adding that "all

Chamber president George Cree, Jr. said that a work session of committee chairmen and directors will be held in the Coronado Inn on Dec. 5. Purpose of the meeting will be to discuss new ideas for inclusion in the 1969 Program of Work. The public is invited to attend.

Warren Hasse stated that project "L.A. 66", the fund-raising drive for the Pampa High School band and mixed choir's trip to Los Angeles, is going along well. The group will perform at halftime of the Los Angeles Rams-Baltimore Colts pro football game on Dec. 15. Cost for sponsoring one student is $35.

The next membership meeting is scheduled for Monday, Dec. 16, in the Coronado Inn.

expanded negotiation to open as early as next week.
Preliminary negotiations between Washington and Hanoi which began in mid-May had been held in a regular weekly session every Wednesday, until the end of November when President Johnson proclaimed a bombing halt over North Vietnam to pave the way for expanded negotiations.
The broadened conference was originally scheduled to get under way Nov. 6 but had to be postponed because of the long boycott by Saigon, which objected to meeting with an equal Viet Cong delegation.
Saigon's agreement to attend the Paris talks followed U.S. reassurance that the United States opposed the imposition of any coalition government with the Communists in South Vietnam and a promise that Saigon would play a "leading role" in discussions concerning political settlements.

sign of a slackening in the upward spiral.
The consumer price index rose six-tenths of 1 per cent during October—up to 122.9 per cent of the 1957-59 base period. This means it cost $12.29 last month to buy the same goods and services that cost $10 a decade ago, or $23.39 to buy what cost $10 in 1939.
The monthly gain was the largest since an identical advance was scored in September, 1962. It brought the 10-month gain for this year to 4 percent, which is higher than any full-year advance since the 5.9 per cent gain in the Korean War year of 1951. There was a 3.7 per cent increase in all of 1967.

Chase said the cost of living increase for all of 1968 was likely to be 4.5 per cent.
The report said prices for automobiles, food and clothing led the advance, but that physicians' fees, hospital care and dental cost also climbed.
Much of the clothing increases were in women's winter coats and dresses and men's winter suits. Over-all, clothing costs last month rose nine-tenths of 1 per cent to a level 6.5 per cent over October, 1967.
Retail food prices had been expected to decline, but they rose instead by three-tenths of 1 per cent. Leading the gain were prices of eggs, dairy products, meat, lettuce and tomatoes.
With the introduction of 1969 models, the report said, car prices rose an average of $112.15, up 4.5 per cent over the previous month. This compared with a 1.7 per cent gain registered in October last year.
Health care costs—doctors' and dentists' fees and hospital services—rose eight-tenths of 1 per cent, the report said.

When Estes first asked for a new trial on the federal fraud conviction that he appealed to President Johnson, it was before U.S. Dist. Judge Leon Brewster in El Paso.
Brewster turned down his initial plea and said:

Neighbor's Doghouse
To Fido, the new doghouse was a veritable palace. But to the couple next door, it was an eyesore. Finally they hailed Fido's owner into court.
"Every deed on this block has a restriction against putting more than one building on a lot," they told the judge. "This doghouse may be small, but it is still a building. It is a permanent structure, built out of concrete blocks."
This argument convinced the judge, and Fido's home had to go.
Deed restrictions, which are a common feature of new housing developments, are a lawful means of preserving property values. Generally speaking, the courts will enforce them in reasonable accordance with this basic purpose.
Thus, under a restriction against extra buildings on one lot, the court will usually rule against any structure that has a roof and walls. Even a tent or a "building" where it applied to the fence, the ban on "buildings" might not have been used as a dwelling.
But a tennis court was held not covered by such a restriction. Since it had neither roof nor walls, the judge decided it simply wasn't substantial enough for other property owners to complain about.
Of course, whenever a specific question comes up, the exact wording of the deed is crucial. For example, the restriction would have a broader scope if it referred to "structure" rather than "building."
In one case neighbors complained about a picket fence erected on a strip of land that was supposed to be kept free of "structures of any kind." The court held that, while a ban on "buildings" might not have applied to the fence, the ban on "structures" did indeed. It is for this reason that the person thinking of buying a home ought to understand the language of the restrictions in his deed. Then he will know in advance, under what circumstances the neighbors can tell him "Thou shalt not."

Turkey Left-Overs Need Gourmet Recipe for Post Thanksgiving Menu

OAKBROOK, Ill. (Sp) — The day after Thanksgiving presents many a busy homemaker with the inevitable question: What am I going to do with all that good roast turkey?

The best alternative comes in the form of Turkey For A King, a mildly spiced creamed turkey combination with a gourmet touch. A subtle curry flavor in the white sauce complements the olives, mushrooms and tender chunks of turkey meat.

Today's turkeys are especially bred for broad breasts of tender white meat. These yield more turkey per pound of bird than ever before. Improvements appear all the time. Now this year is the new deep-basting method developed by a trusted turkey processor. The meat is juicier and more tender because juices are placed in the meat where hand-basting could never reach.

To conquer the storage problem, freeze pre-measured turkey in 2 cup packages. Use pliable freezer wrap and squeeze out all of the air before sealing. Be sure to label the packages with product name and date frozen and use within two months. Freeze stuffing separately and use within a month. With your freezer stocked, the turkey is ready at a moment's notice. Then when the family clamors for more of that good turkey, please your husband and children with big chunks of tender turkey meat in a special sauce served on a toasted English muffin.

You will find this family pleaser takes only 10 minutes to make. What a satisfying way to solve the questions of how to store and use up the roast turkey and how to satisfy a hungry family.

TURKEY FOR A KING

TINY PUMPKIN TARTS — A Thanksgiving table set for pint size members of the family features a centerpiece of edible cornucopias. Dessert is pumpkin swirls with ice cream and piled in tiny crusts of crushed Old Fashion Ginger Snaps.

AN EDIBLE AUTUMN CENTERPIECE

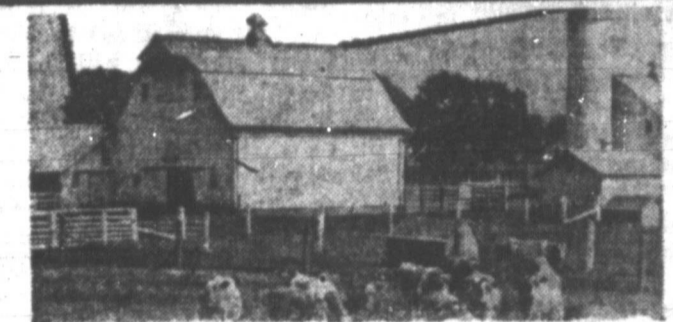

To make this edible Fall centerpiece for Thanksgiving or any autumn holiday season, insert rolled sugar cones in styro-foam. Fill in base with dried flowers and wheat. Fill cones with assorted nuts, meats, chopped dates and peanut butter crunchies, or other candies.

For pumpkin flavored tarts with crumb crust and tasty filling, blend together first three ingredients, 15 ginger snaps, finely rolled into crumbs, two tablespoons sugar and one-fourth cup butter or margarine, melted.

Divide mixture into 6 paper lined cupcake cups, press firmly against sides and bottom with a teaspoon. Place in freezer while preparing filling.

For filling, blend 1/4 cup pumpkin, two tablespoons light brown sugar, firmly packed, 1/2 teaspoon grated orange rind. Partially stir into 1/2 pint vanilla ice cream, slightly softened for swirled effect. Spoon into prepared cupcake cups, freeze 3 to 4 hours and garnish with 1/2 ounce candy corn curls. Makes six tarts.

A thought for the day: Cervantes said, "There is no sauce in the world like hunger."

SPEED READING COURSE SET FOR PAMPA

Arrangements have been made to conduct a 27 hour SPEED READING course, to be taught in PAMPA, in night classes. The spokesman said, "The course is guaranteed to triple the reading speed of anyone, with an improvement in comprehension." He also said, "The guarantee, however, is a bare minimum, because the average person will increase TEN TIMES FASTER with a marked improvement in comprehension." The average person today reads about 250 words per minute and has about a 50 per cent comprehension level and after taking this course can expect to read 2,000 to 2,500 words per minute, with an 80 per cent comprehension level. This means after taking this course a person should be able to read any book, of average length, in 45 minutes to an hour and understand and enjoy it better than ever. Those who enroll in this course will be required to attend ONE CLASS PER WEEK for nine weeks and will receive a diploma upon completion.
 For those who may be interested in further details about the course or how to enroll, a series of one hour orientation lectures have been scheduled. A person may attend one of these orientations without any obligation to enroll in the course. At these meetings the course will be explained in detail including the class schedule, and the special introductory tuition which will be offered, this time only. These free orientation meetings will be conducted in the "EMERALD ROOM" of the CORONADO INN, 1110 N. Hobart, Pampa, Tex. The Emerald Room is on the ground floor near the lobby. They will be conducted at the following times: MONDAY, DEC. 2, at 6:30 and 8:30 p.m., TUESDAY, DEC. 3, at 6:30 and 8:30 p.m. and for the late comers — WEDNESDAY, DEC. 4, at 7:30 p.m. This course offered by ACCELERATED EDUCATION SCHOOLS, with locations in Dallas, Ft. Worth, Denton, Amarillo, and other cities, was created by Dr. Wade E. Cutler, of Dallas, a Ph. D. in Physiology. It has been offered to Texans for the past five years with over 5,000 graduates, including 150 in Amarillo. There is no obligation by attending one of these meetings so if you are a college bound high school student or a college student or a professional person with more to read than you can handle, be sure to come to one of the above meetings and find out about this fabulous course. Classes will definitely be limited to 18 students and class places will be filled on a first come, first served basis. Classes will start very soon. (Adv.)

Upton Sinclair Aimed at Public Heart

BOUND BROOK, N.J. (UPI) — Upton Beall Sinclair, who raged with a muckraker's pen against evil and tried to steer the world toward utopia "with sweat and blood and groans and tears," is dead at 90.
 The teetotaling son of a liquor salesman who started with cheap dime novels and ended by winning the Pulitzer Prize for literature, died in his sleep Monday night in the New Jersey nursing home he entered 10 months ago.
 The fiery former socialist tried to reform society in more than 80 novels, plays, essays and political pamphlets. He aimed high and often hit low. "I aimed at the public's heart and by accident I hit it in the stomach," said a 28-year-old Sinclair in 1906 about his most famous novel, "The Jungle."
 That book, which earned him a place among the great writers of 20th Century literature, was intended to create sympathy for the workingman, but aroused public anger at the quality of processed meat, and thus helped set health standards for much of the food and drugs consumed by Americans.
 Jack London, Sinclair's friend and fellow writer, said the novel was written "with sweat and blood and groans and tears." It gave him fame and fortune. The fame lasted, the fortune didn't.
 In his autobiography, "American Outpost," Sinclair recalled that at 15 he was a Sunday school teacher, but a year later was exposed to the seamy world of saloons and bawdy houses. Born Sept. 20, 1878, in Baltimore to a once proud southern family left poor by the Civil War, Sinclair was taken at the age of 4 to the lower east side of New York City.
 His deeply religious mother tutored him at home. He sailed through four years at Columbia University, paying his bills by battling out dime novels and dreaming of becoming a poet.
 In 1900, he married the first of his three wives, Meta Fuller. The couple had one son, David, then, after they wasted a fortune earned from "The Jungle," she divorced him in 1911.
 Two years later, Sinclair married Mary Craig Kimbrough, daughter of a wealthy Mississippi judge. She died in 1961 at the age of 78. Six months later, a "horribly lonely" Sinclair married Mary Elizabeth Willis of Milwaukee. He was 83, she 79.
 One of the novels, "Dragon's Teeth," won him the Pulitzer Prize for literature in 1943. His writings were translated into 60 languages and distributed in 55 countries.
 PLOT SMASHED
 LIMA, Peru (UPI)—Police have smashed a nationwide communist plot to bomb movie houses that show the John Wayne film "The Green Berets" about the Vietnam war, the government said Tuesday.
 A thought for the day: President George Washington said, "The basis of our political system is the right of the people to make and alter their constitutions of government."

Vandalism Costing Chicagoans A Million Dollars for Schools

By SUSAN S. STEVENS
CHICAGO (UPI)—Vandalism to school windows is costing Chicago one new school a year. Nearly $1 million will be spent replacing broken school windows this year, John R. Borling, director of the Board of Education's Bureau of Plant Operation and Maintenance said. "We could build a nice school with that million dollars."

One of the worst recent cases of vandalism in the schools occurred in the Hess Upper Grade Center on Chicago's West Side. Youths who broke into the school Nov. 17 caused about $5,000 damage. More than half the damage estimate is for 29 broken wire-mesh windows which cost $90 apiece. Hess already had 1,422 boarded up windows as of Nov. 1, according to Thomas E. Small, chief custodian at the school.

Tempered glass, two kinds of glass substitutes and wire guards are being tested to see if they will stop the destruction, Borling said. Forty-nine fulltime glaziers are at work on a seven-month backlog of requests to replace broken windows in the city's public schools. Large panes of glass, when shattered, are being replaced with smaller panes, Borling said. "We could do away with windows in schools but we already have 600 schools with them," he said.

Peak Reached?
"Some place along the line, it has to stop. I hope we've reached the peak now," Borling said that a committee on community relations is trying to halt the vandalism by working with residents around schools to develop interest in the facilities and alertness in acknowledging vandalism.

Youths who broke into Hess also ripped open lockers, forced doors, ransacked desks and scattered papers and supplies throughout the school. Some schools have been smeared with paint, others set on fire or their fixtures smashed.

"Hess was not the worst," Borling said. He declined to identify schools more badly damaged because he believed the schools might be subjected to a new siege by vandals.

Borling said residents of the Hess school community reported the vandalism to police. He attributed the action to "tens of thousands" of cards with the telephone numbers of the police department and the school board's security office which have been distributed to Chicagoans.

No "personal involvement" is necessary by telephoning police or guards to alert them to damage, Borling said. "A change in attitudes" can solve the problems, he emphasized. Officials of one school that was greatly damaged went to the community for help. Detective systems have been installed in a number of schools to alert police and frighten would stop the vandalism," alarms are wired directly to police headquarters, Borling said, and "people have given us full cooperation in responding to these calls." The school board employs 180 watchmen. Some of the alarms ring loudly in the school for eight minutes to scare off potential vandals, Borling said. "When the kids hear the clamor and then run outside and see a yellow light flashing on top of the building, they know someone is coming."

Automatic sprinkler systems geared to extinguish blazes caused by arson or accident have been piped to ceilings of a number of the older schools. Smoke detector systems which alert firemen have been added to a number of newer schools. "But the protection is geared to the available funds," Borling said. "And it's the taxpayers—directly the parents of the kids that are doing it—that foot the bill."

Cross Burned on Houston Lawn

HOUSTON, Tex. (UPI)—A six-foot wooden cross was burned Tuesday night on the lawn of a white University of Houston administrator having Negroes to dinner.

Edwin Bennett, 46, and administrator in the student life division, said Jessie Brown, a student and part time newsman for KPRC radio-television, and his date, Ann Morgan, both Negroes, were having dinner when one of Bennett's four children called attention to a fire on the lawn.

"We have had black people before at our home," Bennett said. "This area (upper middle class) is not used to having a roof and walls. Even a tent people in it. Our kids have gotten static from time to time. I am rather disheartened. I don't like the effect it has on our children. The children come in crying saying students call them 'nigger lovers,'" Bennett said.

"It is pretty scary to see such a thing in your front yard," added.

West University police said the cross was wrapped with rags soaked in a flammable liquid.

Bennett's duties at Houston include liaison for the campus clergy, 14-15 professional churchmen, and work with student organizations to help them develop their leadership potentials.

Neighbors said they saw four or five teen-agers in the area before the burning cross was discovered.

A thought for the day: American Army commander William Sherman said, "I am tired and sick of war. Its glory is all moonshine. It is only those who nether fired a shot nor heard the shrieks and groans of the wounded who cry aloud for blood, more vengeance, more desolation. (War is hell)."

Youths who broke into Hess also ripped open lockers, forced doors, ransacked desks and scattered papers and supplies throughout the school. Some schools have been smeared with paint, others set on fire or their fixtures smashed.

"Hess was not the worst," Borling said. He declined to identify schools more badly damaged because he believed the schools might be subjected to a new siege by vandals.

Borling said residents of the Hess school community reported the vandalism to police. He attributed the action to "tens of thousands" of cards with the telephone numbers of the police department and the school board's security office which have been distributed to Chicagoans.

No "personal involvement" is necessary by telephoning police or guards to alert them to damage, Borling said. "A change in attitudes" can solve the problems, he emphasized. Officials of one school that was

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Pete the penguin, a native of ice and snow who came north to become the mascot of the Pittsburgh Penguins of the National Hockey League, died over the weekend of pneumonia.

In 1963 President John Kennedy was assassinated in Dallas. A short time later, Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson was sworn in as Chief Executive. Lee Harvey Oswald, charged with the assassination, was fatally shot two days later by Jack Ruby.

ZOO'S WHO around the world has some new additions. Triplets born to "Juanita," a 4-year-old cheetah, make a charming family study at England's Whipsnade Zoo. In Portland, Ore., a 220-pound elephant became the seventh of its species to be born in the United States. Rated as a first for an inland aquarium was the birth of two thorn-backed rays in Cleveland, Ohio. One was slightly misformed, but otherwise healthy. Two recent offspring of "Rajah," son of the first white tiger ever captured, brought to 26 the number of white tigers now living in captivity. Most reside in the New Delhi (India) Zoo.

OLD STORY

DETROIT (UPI)—A Wayne State scientist says there may be something to the idea of social drinking—at least among the elderly.

Dr. Robert J. Kastenbaum reported that a study of elderly sessions at Cushing Hospital in Massachusetts showed, "group involvement was significantly greater with wine than with grape juice."

A hippopotamus can stay under water for 30 minutes, if necessary.

A time for simple gratitude and joy!

On this Thanksgiving Day, let us pause to give thought, thanks and praise to the source of all that is good, rich and peace-giving; and to be joyful for our nation's freedom and plenty.

Plants Beginning to Use Central Heating

By BILL MULLINS
United Press International

There is a growing trend among gas utility firms to build central heating and cooling plants for large areas.

The basic reason for the plants is the continuing search by the gas firms to find ways of using peak load capacity that normally would be idle in the warmer months.

There are eight such plants now operating but four of them are not operated by gas firms. The Hartford (Conn.) Gas Co. pioneered the movement in 1962 when it began operation of a central heating and cooling plant to serve an urban renewal project and several large existing buildings. It expanded the plant in 1963 and 1965.

Houston Natural Gas Corp. put its first central plant into operation in 1964. It is now building what may become the world's largest central heating and cooling plant to serve the Texas Medical Center in Houston.

Washington Gas Light Co. is operating a plant for a group of high rise buildings in the nation's capital and Northern Natural Gas Co. has put a plant into operation for downtown Omaha, Neb.

The other firms operating plants, which are not gas utilities, are Uni-Plant Cor. and Central Plants, Inc., both of California; the San Antonio, Tex., water board; and the Central Energy Corp., of Houston.

These eight firms have invested over $50 million in plants, equipment and piping.

William J. Bailey, president of Carrier Air Conditioning Co., which has supplied water chilling machines for all eight of these plants; says he knows of central plants now in the planning stages that could easily double the total investment figure.

The investment figure will get a healthy boost from Oklahoma Natural Gas Co., which plans to build a $10 million central heating and cooling plant for downtown Tulsa, Okla.

ONG also reports it has assigned a five-man team to study 10 to 15 other possible sites for central plants in its service area.

Father Doubts Son Deserted Due to Vietnam

AMARILLO, Tex. (UPI) — Victor B. Vitarelle of Amarillo, father of an American soldier who was among 11 American servicemen granted asylum in Sweden Tuesday said he didn't believe his son deserted because of the Vietnam War.

"Greg has always been gung ho for the service," Vitarelle said. "I just can't believe he deserted due to the war. There must be some other reason, but I can't think of what it would be."

Sgt. Gregory Vitarelle of Long Island, N.Y. volunteered for the service after graduation from an Amarillo High School in 1965.

Vitarelle said his son was to marry a Houston woman Dec. 24. He said the soldier was stationed in Heilborn, Germany and was not even in Vietnam.

"I haven't heard anything from Greg recently, and I don't know if he and his girl had a fight or not," Vitarelle said.

"However, I feel something along that line is more likely than his doing it because of the Vietnam War. However, I just don't know for sure."

The plant ONG will build is typical of a gas utility's approach to the central plant concept.

Its central plant will burn natural gas to produce steam from water. The steam will be sent out as the heating medium and it will be used to run turbines that drive refrigeration compressors when cool air is needed.

But despite their newness in the commercial world, central plants are not a brand new approach. The first true central plant was put into use in 1940 by Southern Methodist University in Dallas.

Other universities followed SMU's example and now scores of colleges and universities in the United States and Canada have such plants.

But the gas utilities needed time, careful engineering and the assurance of customers before they put such systems into commercial use.

The Hartford Gas Co. proved the central plant as a profitable business when it built the first one on the fringe of downtown Hartford.

The plant opened in 1962 and supplied chilled water and steam through pipes buried under 3.600 feet of Hartford streets.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

Pumpernickel got its name according to one story, when Napoleon took a respite from fighting and commandeered food for himself and his horse Nicole from nearby peasants. The French emperor received some dark, whole rye bread, looked at it contemptuously and exclaimed "Bon pour Nicole!" The World Almanac, however, says that pumpernickel was named for the German baker who first made it.

ing capacity grew to 11,000 tons in 1965 increased capacity to 15,000 tons for service to 14 major customers.

"Bring Us Together" banner over the bandstand and the majority of couples on the ballroom floor are doing the boogaloo.

Citizens will start asking themselves, "If Nixon can't bring the dancers together at his own inaugural ball, what chance will he have with Nguyen Van Thieu?"

One thing that may work in his favor is the fact that inaugural balls traditionally are overcrowded.

At the couples aren't dancing together, they at least won't be able to get very far apart. There will be an illusion of

You, Your Child and School

By DAVID NYDICK

Parents have been made extremely aware of the need to seek psychological treatment for children. Although many situations call for this, every problem is not a symptom of an emotional disorder. Many difficulties can be corrected by guidance and good judgment.

Fred, a third grader, was punching and kicking Larry, his classmate. This incident grew from a simple shove. Fred lost his temper. He had a great deal of trouble controlling it. The teacher had to pull the boys apart physically. For the next few minutes Fred remained wild. He would not listen to reason. He only wanted to hit Larry. When he finally settled down, he was ashamed and genuinely sorry for what had happened.

Unfortunately, similar incidents were occurring more frequently during the past few weeks. This pattern of behavior caused the teacher much concern. She had a chat with the principal. Perhaps together they could help Fred. The aim was to develop a friendship. Fred was invited to stop in at the office whenever he felt uneasy or lost his temper.

With the next explosive incident, Fred hesitated to see the principal. The teacher brought him to the office. The principal did not press the issue. Fred did not want to discuss what had happened. Eventually, after several more incidents and visits Fred started talking about his problems. This was promising. During the next month, his temper outbursts were less and less frequent. He had found another outlet.

togetherness even when they are dancing separately.

If Nixon so chose, he could manage the ball in such a way as to insure compliance with the "Bring Us Together" theme. He could, for instance, limit the invitation list to guess over the age of 60.

After a few turns around the floor, dancers of that age usually are forced to get together for mutual support.

Or he could order the bands to play nothing but Viennese waltzes all evening.

However, Nixon has promised to conduct an "open administration," so I doubt he would resort to stratagems of that sort.

The success of this approach has several implications for working with children. The key is to provide an escape which does not destroy a child's pride. A child often faces situations which he does not know how to handle. He becomes frustrated. The result may be a temper tantrum or some other undesirable action.

Parents should recognize that children have many things to learn. Dealing with difficult situations is one of them. Young children often use their fists to settle arguments. As they grow older this method becomes less and less acceptable. Unfortunately, society is faced by many individuals who have not developed correct social behavior. The growth of understanding and ability to handle unpleasant situations is achieved through experience and guidance.

There is already a generation gap in this country and he wouldn't want to be accused of creating a tempogap as well.

A president, it is said, can best lead by example. When Nixon and his wife take the floor, they can exemplify the theme of the ball by dancing cheek-to-cheek.

That will help get his administration off on the right foot. Provided, of course, he doesn't step on her left one.

Parents should recognize that children have many things to learn. Dealing with difficult situations is one of them. Young children often use their fists to settle arguments. As they grow older this method becomes less and less acceptable. Unfortunately, society is faced by many individuals who have not developed correct social behavior. The growth of understanding and ability to handle unpleasant situations is achieved through experience and guidance.

Parents and others concerned with the child's development should use the many available opportunities to achieve acceptable social behavior. When children respond improperly, they need understanding and direction. Remove the dead end types of situations. Show them that there are other ways to deal with these problems. This will eliminate the frustration and need for reacting explosively.

Problems of this nature might be symptoms of mere difficult problems. A child should respond favorably to the suggested approach in a reasonably short time. In cases of poor response assistance should be sought.

AID SUSPENDED
MANILA (UPI)—The U.S. Embassy today confirmed reports that the American Agency for International Development (AID) has suspended part of its Food For Peace program to the Philippines because of "irregularities." Philippine newspapers said huge quantities of food was found rotting in warehouses but the U.S. spokesmen denied it.

South Central Region Educational Laboratory to Lose Federal Funds

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UPI)—Monday is $710,000. The u.s. office of Education in Washington said Monday it plans to quit funding the South Central Region Educational Laboratory, a series of programs in six states designed to improve the educational opportunities of children from poor families.

It is "quite likely" the programs will have to be shut down if federal funds are suspended, Floyd Delon, assistant director of SCREL, said Monday at Little Rock. SCREL officials will discuss a "phase out" budget of approximately $300,000 with the office of education in Washington Wednesday that would carry the program until May 31, 1969. SCREL's operating budget for the fiscal year that would end

Monday is $710,000. Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller of Arkansas wired Wilbur J. Cohen, Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare Monday afternoon asking that the "phase out" decision be reconsidered.

Norman J. Boyan, associate commissioner for research in the Office of Education, said the funding was being stopped "in light of the limited funds made available."

Delon said the five or six least expensive programs, with one exception were the programs that were being eliminated. There are 26 regional labs around the country.

The laboratories are charged as nonprofit corporations, seek nongovernment financing, and are operated as nonprofit corporations.

This region which includes Arkansas and Mississippi as well as parts of Louisiana, Oklahoma, Kansas and Missouri is just beginning to accomplish significant steps in early education. The loss of the laboratory whose focus is on early education will remove a valuable resource at a time when we need it the most. I know that much thought has gone into your decision, but I don't believe that we can afford to lose the good things the laboratory has done. I further believe that the progress the laboratory has started should be continued."

Highlights and Sidelights From the State Capitol

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association
AUSTIN — Lt. Gov. Preston Smith is making arrangements to take office as governor on Jan. 21.

He already has selected some of his official family. Jim Oliver of the Legislative Budget Board, which Smith now heads, will become director of the executive budget office. Oliver is working on the budget which the new governor will recommend to the Legislature.

Jerry Hall, chief of the Capitol Bureau for Newspapers, Inc. — the Austin, Waco, Port Arthur and Austin dailies — will become Smith's press secretary. Certain to have a top job, either as secretary of state or as chief administrative assistant, will be Harold Dudley, who managed Smith's campaigns.

SCHOOL — New members of the Legislature came to Austin for two days to learn the ropes about the legislative process.

Speaker-to-be Gus Mutscher of Brenham, with the help of the Legislative Council, arranged the orientation sessions. Freshman legislators will thus have an insight into how the legislative process works when they start the 140-day session on Jan. 14.

Turn-over in the legislature this year was low. Only 30 new members were named to the 150-member House, and only three new senators among the 31-member Senate. Two of the senators have been in the Legislature before, so there are only 31 in all who have not had legislative service.

POVERTY — With 28.8 per cent of the Texas families having incomes under $3,000, well above the national average of 21.4 per cent, Gov. John Connally feels that Texas should continue to make every effort to find and cure the cause of poverty.

In his report on operations of the Texas Office of Economic Opportunity, the governor said that $113,038,642 in Federal money was allocated to anti-poverty programs in Texas during the year ending Aug. 31. Grants ranged from the $18,055,846 used to operate the three Job Corps centers at San Marcos, McKinney and New Waverly to the $2,333.33 allocated to 94 colleges to provide campus jobs for 28,073 college students who needed jobs to stay in school.

COURTS SPEAK
On Jan. 8 the State Supreme Court will review an Amarillo man's suit against a TV station which identified him as a robbery suspect after he had been released as blameless by police.

Lower courts held for the station. High court will hear arguments Jan. 15 in a suit wherein Ford Motor Company is charged as negligent in manufacturing a brake assembly on a new Ford truck that hit an Amarillo couple's car.

Trinity River Authority was loser in its effort to enforce a condemnation award for property it sought in San Jacinto County. Supreme Court overruled the application for mandamus.

Another loser was a Lubbock man trying to collect damages for arm cuts suffered when he accidentally rammed a fist through a liquor store glass door. Supreme Court declined to reverse the Tyler court of civil appeals rejection of a jury award of $2,524. High court refused to order District Judge Woodrow Laughlin of Alice to throw out pre-trial findings of a retired special judge in a South Texas couple's suit against an Alice hospital.

Secretary of State Roy Barerra recommended that Gov. Connally deny a request for an extradition warrant for Paul Amos Sandblom, one-time Corpus Christi financier, paroled to Arizona after serving a federal prison sentence for selling securities without a license. Barerra argued that the state has no right to prosecute Sandblom further on state charges.

OIL YEAR BRIGHT — For the fourth straight month the Railroad Commission left the allowable unchanged at 41.3 per cent of potential, permitting a December maximum production of 3,027,29-9 barrels daily.

December pattern will average out the year at 44.9 per cent of potential which (by the old standard) means 164.3 million flowing days — highest since the 171-days of production during the 1956-57 Suez crisis.

Five of 14 major Texas crude oil buyers asked bigger allowable, three less and six the same.

LAND BOOM — Buyers a plenty showed up at the Veterans Land Board's sealed-bid sale at which 233 repossessed tracts were offered to high bidders.

Total number of bids was 896, and the Board accepted the high bids on all the tracts except four. One 74-acre farm in Guadalupe County drew 90 bidders. High man was Marion A. Coulter, who bid $22,502.

Board even managed to sell a 350-acre tract in Maverick County on which no bids were received the first four times it was offered. It was one of the "black deals" from the veterans land scandals of the 1950's, and this time it drew 19 bidders.

WELFARE — Social workers for the State Department of Welfare soon will begin to spend their time trying to help solve the problems of people on welfare, instead of checking on their income.

A new policy was announced by State Welfare Commissioner Burton Hackney, after the U.S.

Department of Health, Education and Welfare decided to try the new system nationwide.

Persons applying for federal-state grants because they are needy will merely fill out a declaration form, and they will be accepted.

Hackney said states that have tried this system, and then tested it by spot-checking, have found that very few people give untruthful information.

So the time of the highly-trained social welfare workers can be spent trying to arrange job training or other programs to help get recipients off the welfare rolls. In the past, much of their time has been spent in a "policeman's role" checking to make sure that those who get old-age assistance, aid to dependent children, aid to the needy blind or totally disabled, didn't have hidden sources of income.

Medical certification from a doctor still will be required on those claiming benefits as being totally disabled.

A pilot program has been under way in the Austin, Nacogdoches and Houston areas. It will be expanded statewide by July 1.

APPOINTMENTS — Governor James F. Parker chief justice of the Ninth Court of Civil Appeals in Beaumont and picked Beaumont attorney Quentin Keith as an associate justice on the same court.

Glenn Biggs, former Abilene businessman, has been named president of National Western Life Ins. Co. of Austin and chairman of the board of Mid-West National Life Ins. Co. of Tennessee. Biggs served for two years as executive assistant to House Speaker Ben Barnes.

TELESCOPE DEDICATED — Ceremonies were held by the University of Texas Tues. (Nov. 25) for the new 107-inch telescope at UT's McDonald Observatory on Mount Locke near Marfa in West Texas.

Built for the University by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration and the National Science Foundation, the huge telescope is expected to play an important role for NASA in investigating atmospheres of Mars and other planets.

You, Your Child And School

By DAVID NYDICK
UPI Education Specialist

Many ordinary incidents may cause concern to a parent. He or she is not sure how to react. Should the situation be ignored? Should sympathy be shown? Let's look at a few incidents described by readers of this column.

Question: My daughter, Jane, who is twelve years old, rushed out of the house to go to the movies with her friends. A few minutes later she came back crying. Her friends didn't wait. She went up to her room and closed the door. I knew what was wrong and wanted to help. I knocked on her door but was told to go away and leave her alone. I was very upset but didn't know what to do. What do you advise in these situations?

Answer: Jane wants to be by herself. She'll soon get over her upset feeling. She's trying to act grown up. Let her. Eventually she'll come down and will want to tell you the whole story. That's the time to show understanding. She may not want to discuss the problem at all. Don't push her.

Question: My daughter, Rose, who is nine years old, became very angry with her best friend. They had a terrible argument. Rose told me not to invite her friend to her birthday party. Her friend's mother called me with a similar story and we were both very upset. We wanted to straighten out the argument. Our husbands told us to keep out of it and let the girls resolve their own problems. What do you think?

Answer: Your husbands have given good advice. Your daughters will probably be friends within the next 24 hours. Children do not usually maintain angry feelings very long. It is best that they work out the problem alone. If parents interfere, they may make the situation worse.

Question: Our son takes advantage of us. He gets what he wants by exhibiting a bad temper. He cries and screams until we give in to his demands. He never acts this way with others. He is a model of good conduct outside our home. What can we do to correct this terrible situation?

Answer: Your son takes advantage of you because you let him. He had learned that a show of temper will get him his way. His lack of respect for you is simply because you are too lenient.

Develop a firm and reasonable set of standards. Make sure your son understands them. Then make sure he follows the rules. Do not submit to his tantrums. A calm, strong atmosphere will work wonders with this problem.

Quirks In The News

By United Press International GRAVE UNDERTAKING
ST. LOUIS (UPI) — The thieves who broke into the Falcon Chemical Co. stole 83 gallons of fluid they will have a tough time using.

Everett Purnell, owner of the firm, said the bottles contained embalming fluid.

LOVE THAT MAN
DENVER (UPI)—Gov. John A. Love of Colorado was asked Tuesday if he thinks next year's state legislators should consider measures to control pornography.

"I don't think it would tend to corrupt them too much," he said.

SMOKED OUT
NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI)—A young bandit got through the robbery but the getaway got him.

Police said the gunman held up a branch of the Commerce Union Bank Tuesday and escaped with a bag of loot. But police found the getaway car and the stolen money 20 minutes later south of town.

A bank cashier said he put a smoke bomb in the bag with the money.

TRY, TRY AGAIN
REDBOURNE, England (UPI)—Housewife Betty Vickery, 34, failed her driver's test Tuesday but she says she'll try again.

Examiner Alan Rushton said she followed incorrect procedure, was poor at maneuvering and did not look around before moving her bulky vehicle.

Mrs. Vickery took the test stop the steamroller her husband gave her two years ago as a birthday present.

Foreign News Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst
A quarter of a million troops enabled the Soviets to impress their will upon Czechoslovakia but they still have not been able to reduce the Czech people to the gray and faceless mask that is the Soviet concept of monolithic communism.

When 60,000 Czech students filed peacefully from their classrooms last week-end after a 76-hour sit-in, they proclaimed they had created a "new revolutionary unity."

It was a unity that scarcely needed to be proclaimed. Hospitals had donated milk in their support.

Bakeries had supplied bread. Prague railway workers warned that not a train would move in or out of Prague should the authorities attempt to deal with the sit-in by force.

As the students' wound up their sit-in artists, intellectuals and scientists met to draw up a resolution declaring that there were certain frontiers of freedom that never could be abandoned in science, art, journalism or even in politics.

And as the Czech leadership gradually abandoned its reforms under Soviet pressures, it continued also a measure of defiance.

On the eve of the 50th anniversary of the foundation of the Republic in late October wreaths were placed in the name of President Ludvik Svoboda on the graves of Eduard Benes and Thomas G. Masaryk, architects of a free Czechoslovakia as it emerged in 1918.

Censorship of the press, radio and television, ordered reinstated by the Russians, remained a sometime thing. Journalists drew the censors from their own ranks and plotted new ways to circumvent the Russian edicts.

This was revolt Czech style not the Hungarian style which ended in a bloodbath in Budapest and the exile of thousands, but one of sabotage and slow attrition.

They could wait it out in the belief they already had accomplished their purpose or they could move with force as they did in Hungary, creating further embarrassment and disruption to international Communism.

By creating an "executive committee" within the Czech party's ruling presidium they had reduced the power of liberal Communist leader Alexander Dubcek and increased the power of the old hardliners in the person of Deputy Premier Lubomir Strougal, former interior minister in the regime of ousted President Antonin Novotny.

Wall Street Chatter

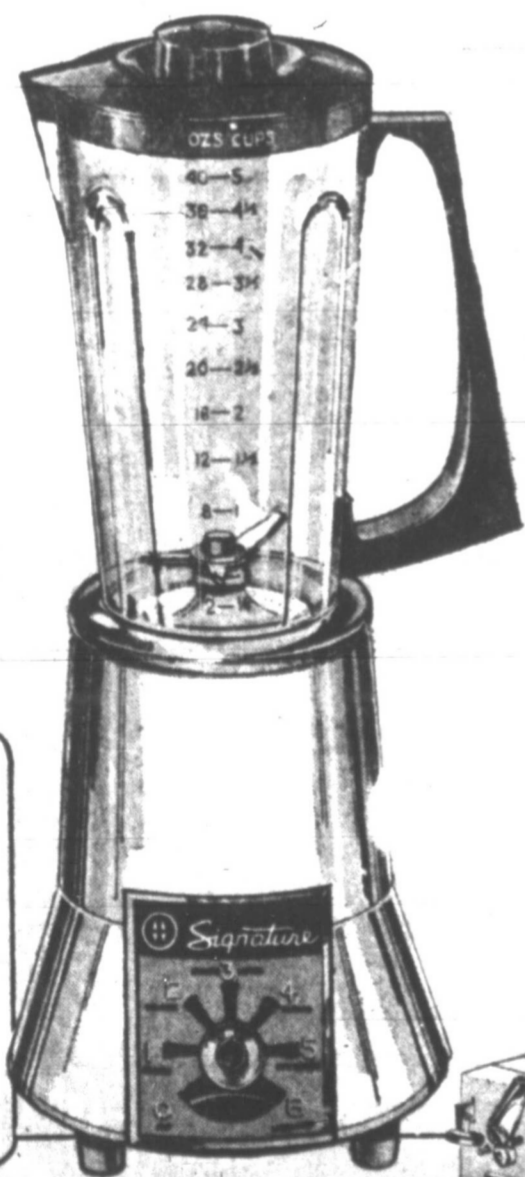

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Alexander Hamilton Institute says it doesn't discount that a market downswing may take place in early December but maintains that the Dow Jones averages will reach new highs by the turn of the year. It suggests to investors to buy quality stocks with good earnings prospects on market dips.

Bache & Co. says some "vulnerability" could develop in the market after the January reinvestment demand has "run its course," particularly since February normally is one of the market's "less vibrant" months. The analyst says it is taking a positive approach for the next few months but would be "alert" for some consolidation after the first quarter of next year.

C.B. Richard, Ellis & Co. says that despite the jittery international monetary situation, it would hold to an "aggressive trading and investment approach" for the near term, stepping into the market on any minor setbacks. The company reiterates that it expects the Dow Jones industrial average to test the 1,000-level before the end of the year.

GENEVA, Switzerland — An influential banker, discussing controls imposed to ease the European financial crisis:

"These are interim measures. They didn't work before and, in the long term, they won't work this time either."

School Superintendent Addresses Teachers' Group on Gifted Child

"We need to employ a program that will give the gifted child a challenge," said Dr. James Malone, superintendent of Pampa Schools, when he spoke recently to Delta Kappa Gamma members.

Speaking on "Critical Analyses of Values", Dr. Malone said that too long we have neglected the gifted, talented child.

"We have been concerned with the child from the ghetto, the educationally deprived child, and the slow learner — and so we should be, but we must not neglect our upper 10 or 12 per cent which comprise the gifted group. These children too should have an opportunity to develop to their fullest potentials and capacities."

"Enriched and accelerated programs have failed to answer for the gifted child. If we are to fulfill this need, the school will have to be different. We need stretch classes, ability groupings, more selectivity of teachers, more time for planning, longer periods of use for buildings, summer programs or four quarters — perhaps an invitational summer school. The child would be allowed to proceed at his own rate of accomplishment," he said.

"We must keep up with the trends in education and understand what is going on in other schools. We must develop a program which will assist the academically talented child and enable him to make use of the tremendously increased body of knowledge now available to students.

"If we are to accomplish this we must be sure of the qualification of the teaching staff, provide adequate time for teaching and planning, but must be sure of the backing of the community, or we can't succeed."

Dr. and Mrs. Malone were introduced by Mrs. Marjorie Gaut, Mary Ann Best read solutions written by fourth grade pupils for an unfinished story concerning a choice of values and entitled the story "What Should Carol Do?"

Others appearing on the program were Yvonne Goss, Myra McLaughlin, and Ruby Gunn. Hazel Poole, president, thanked members for their contributions and gifts to be sent to the State Home for the Mentally Retarded at Abilene.

Hostesses were Janie Bowers, Ruby Trusty, Marion Karr, and Wanda Goff. The next meeting will be a Christmas luncheon at the Coronado Inn.

Skellytown Missionary Society Meets

SKELLYTOWN (Sp1) — The Women's Missionary Society of Skellytown First Baptist Church met for a covered dish luncheon recently at the Fellowship Hall of the church. Invocation was given by Mrs. Bill Thompson. The prayer calendar and special prayer for missionaries was given by Mrs. M.L. Mills.

Mrs. J. C. Jarvis, pro-tem for the president, Mrs. Murle Rogers who was absent, conducted a short business meeting.

Mrs. Bill Price had charge of the program, "Proclaiming the Gospel in other Ways and other Patterns". Mrs. J.C. Jarvis gave the benediction.

Those attending were Mmes. M.L. Mills, J.C. Jarvis, Irvin, Brown, Walt Shair, Lon Trask, Mable Ruth, Bill Campbell, Bill Thompson, John Kenney, Delle Kenney, Delle Grant, Jessie Stevens, Jimmie Davis, Bill Price.

Others attending the luncheon were Messrs. Charlie McCloud, Ralph Fox, Gary Gortmaker, J.C. Jarvis and Bill Price.

Your Horoscope

JEANE DIXON

FRIDAY, NOV. 23
YOUR BIRTHDAY tomorrow: Whatever you've been doing for the last decade has run its course. It's time to change. So-called coincidence has a way of making the old rut untenable. Since your new start is belated, every move is met with resistance, so shove ahead. Tomorrow's natives dare to think the dissident thought.

ARIES (Mar. 21-Apr. 19): If you can hold both your temper and your smile, unexpected turns bring you great opportunity. Move with confidence.

TAURUS (Apr. 20-May 20): Put into action your new ideas, or shortcuts. Life can be (abruptly) easier if you move where you, down deep, want to go. Avoid litters and undue fatigue.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Aggravation is all around. Responding only creates further troubles. Carry on, undisturbed. Most surprises will be uncomfortable but in the long run desirable.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Others are dubious; immunize yourself and follow your sharpening intuition. Gain solid achievement.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Travel is complex, requiring several different missions on a single journey. Aggressive manners do not win with important contracts now.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Fresh ideas are alive, but the money to match them comes later, and only for those who produce results. Have several experiments going, and one may pay off.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Your impatience is visible no matter how you try to cover it. Personal plans are hindered temporarily by causes beyond ready identification.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Temper on your part would tell your competitors where your vulnerable spots are. With humor, abstain from showing annoyance. The opposition is a passing phase.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Fill notebooks with the creative ideas. Conferences are very helpful. Assistance is available (if you ask directly. . .)

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): You have more friends than you realize. . . more likely to come forth if you are striving for all you are worth instead of waiting.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): New people from great distances arrive! Listen carefully, and use your persuasive talents when it's your turn.

PISCES (Feb. 19-Mar. 20): You should refrain from wasteful spending. Aside from this, it is a successful day for anything within reason. Go forth, in good spirits.

FOR DRUG ADDICTION

Catskill Mountain Center Tries New Therapy

By PATRICIA MCCORMACK NEW YORK (UPI)—Former drug addicts on the mend at Daytop Village in Liberty, N.Y., sometimes wear signs that say: "I'm a punk. I curse people behind their backs." "I'm a nut who leaves cigarettes around. Please help me."

When necessary, it's part of the therapy at Daytop—which stands for Drug Addicts Yield to Persuasion.

In the lobby of the center in a converted Catskill Mountain hotel, a sign over the doorway carries this message: "You can't keep it unless you give it away."

Culture Shock
 Newcomers to Daytop are exposed to a kind of culture shock during the first few days at the rehabilitation center. A report in "Image", a publication for doctors, describes it as follows:

"Alternately ignored, scorned, penetratingly questioned, booed, jeered and comforted by residents and staff alike, the prospect, as he is called, will find his initial evasions challenged by confrontation, his lies with brutal honesty, and his hustling with hard labor."

During the process each experienced resident mounts a frontal attack on the old tricks and dodges the prospect used so successfully on the street to keep people away and narcotics near.

The village opened in 1964 but that year the Second Judicial District of New York's Supreme Court received a grant from the National Institute of Mental Health (NIMH).

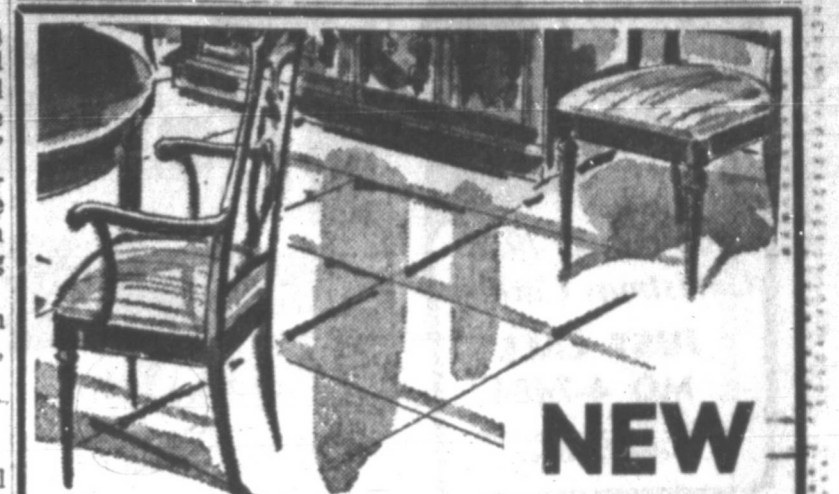

The Purpose
 The purpose: To investigate

halfway house treatment for addicts in the nation's cities. Daytop's success at keeping residents drug free for prolonged periods makes Dr. Daniel Casriel believe that this same approach could be applied successfully to other character disorders where recidivism is high.

"I believe we could open residences similar to those used by the YMCA in small towns all across the country, where the Daytop concept could be used."

David Deitch, executive director, said Daytop is not a life that just offers a recovery from addiction but part of something bigger.

"We emphasize the human connection," he says. "Openness, honesty, confrontation."

MIDDLE AGES — Candy was a rare treat in the Middle Ages and candy-making was a laborious, uncertain process. Critical mixing, melting, cooking, and casting steps were all manual and depended on the skills and dispositions of the operators.

CANDY LABORATORY — Today a small automatic machine in a candy research laboratory turns out more and better candy than the largest manufacturing plant of the Middle Ages. Here a candy expert checks operation of a laboratory enrobing machine. The enrobed encapsulates candy centers in a chocolate coating.

For Firm Neck Muscles
Here's one good way to keep those neck muscles firm. Breathe slowly and deeply. Slowly bring the head forward until the chin rests on the chest. Pause a moment in this position, then slowly raise the head and drop it backward until it rests on the nape of the neck. Repeat these forward and backward movements five times each way to start, increasing to 10 times or more later on.

Ancient Egyptians Started Candy History with Honey

NEW YORK (Spl)—Candy — now—by pounding almonds and pistachoes into a paste and blending this with sugar and egg white. Historians do not bother to mention whether "sugarplums" were actually made with genuine plums, but we know they were enjoyed in England in the 17th century. The English were also responsible for the birth of candymaking as an industry. The occasion was the famous 1851 exhibition, when manufacturers of other countries came, saw, tasted—and duplicated the goodies. Americans, of course, got into the act. By the middle of the 19th century 380 well established small factories were offering a variety of lozenges, stick candy and jubjub paste. This last is obsolete today, but two new confections took its place—the lollipop and chewing gum, and each created its own industrial problem. Lollipops (which were originally known as "suckers") attained wide distribution when a machine for their manufacture came out in 1908. The firm which introduced it, was worried. "It makes almost 21,000,000 lollipops a year. That's more than we can possibly sell," they complained. Shortly after the Curtis brothers concocted the first sample of chewing gum on a Franklin stove, they had a real problem. What to name it? Consequently American jaws began rhythmically moving to a product which was called everything from "Licourice Lulu," and—"Four in Hand" to the patriotic, "American Flag." In the United States today the manufacture of candy is far from "small peanuts." About 80 ingredients go into the various confections made and each year this requires over 1.5 billion pounds of sugar, one billion pounds of corn syrup, one half million pounds of cocoa and chocolate products—and 200 million pounds of peanuts. Some 1200 established companies transform all these confections annually into 4 billion pounds of candy, and a total of 20 pounds per capita, it is predicted, will be consumed within the next 12 months.

De Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: One of your readers asked where the term "Broad" as applied to women come from. I believe I know. It started in Philadelphia during World War I.

When a man who was on Leave and Liberty would inquire as to where to find the "ladies of the night," he was directed to Broad Street. The females there were called "Broad Street Babes." Later it was shortened to "Broad-streeters." Finally it became "Broad."

I do not want to offend the good people of Philadelphia who presently live on Broad Street or the men in service, for that matter, either, but these are the facts.

ANNAPOLIS, MD.

DEAR ABBY: About the word "broad."

It simply means "female." The adjective "preceding" determines whether it's an insult or a compliment.

There are dumb broads, cheap broads, ugly broads, and loud-mouthed broads. Just as there are "high class" broads, beautiful broads, good-hearted broads, and smart broads.

Her figure has nothing to do with it. There are fat broads and skinny broads. The word itself has a special flavor, however, because a person of taste would never ask his minister if that "broad" in the green hat was his wife.

CORONA, CAL.

DEAR ABBY: During World War II, the Women Marines were affectionately called "Broad a — Marines" or "Bams." They were also referred to as "Broad." The term was not meant to be derogatory, but it did have something to do with the dimension of the derriere.

USMC (from '42 to '46)

DEAR ABBY: Take it from a rabbi: The word "Broad" comes from the Hebrew "re hovah," which means "the street." When referring to a woman "of the street," she is called a "broad."

Very truly yours,
L. W. (A Rabbi)

DEAR ABBY: I know you

POLLY'S POINTERS

by POLLY CRAMER

Trees Are Unique Gifts For Special Occasions

DEAR POLLY:—I have a very good Pointer for those who worry about what to give for wedding, baby or birthday presents. Give a tree, which you will find is most appreciated. When we were married and moved into our new home, a neighbor gave each of us a flowering peach tree. As each baby arrived she gave us a blue spruce. Today people compliment us on our four wonderful blue spruce trees that honored the arrivals of our youngsters. Now the kiddies climb and play in our flowering peach trees' low branches and the entire family loves our tree-giving neighbor.

BARBARA

DEAR BARBARA:—A tree or some needed shrubbery also makes a lovely memorial gift. I always will remember the thoughtfulness of a friend who had a magnolia tree planted near our church in memory of my husband.

POLLY

Polly's Problem

DEAR POLLY:—Is there some secret to washing and drying cotton knit shirts? Those I buy for my daughter look great at first. After each washing the seams are too much toward the front and the shirts never hang straight at the bottom. The whole thing looks twisted.

Please help me.—MRS. S. J. T.

DEAR POLLY:—Bend the two ends of a wire coat hanger up to make hooks. You have a handy place to hang umbrellas that always are falling down in the closet. Any sharp ends of the wire should be protected with masking tape to prevent any possible damage to clothes hanging nearby.

—HELEN

DEAR POLLY:—As one of your readers recently wrote, I, too, buy laundry detergent in the large economy size and find it inconvenient to handle. To make this easier, I have a one-pound coffee can which I fill from the large box. Did you know that one of the sections (they are marked off in four) holds exactly one cup of soap powder? This really is convenient because you do not have to measure again.

A BOY'S WORLD—may never be quite the same once he has owned a sweater like this hand-knitted orlon pullover with a jacquard pattern. The pullover with its matching cap will earn its owner high marks on his cool weather playground.

Nixon Appoints Staff Members

NEW YORK (UPI)—President-elect Richard M. Nixon Tuesday announced two more appointments to his White House staff.

He named Robert Ellsworth, 42, his national political director during the campaign, as an assistant to the president.

Ellsworth, a congressman from Kansas from 1960 until he was defeated in a bid for a Senate seat in 1966, will be a chief trouble shooter for Nixon with responsibilities in both the foreign and domestic fields.

A Nixon spokesman also announced that Col. James D. A Nixon spokesman also announced the Col. James D. Hughes had been assigned as armed forces aide to Nixon.

Hughes, 48, a West Point graduate and native of Baltimore, N.Y., was the chief military aide to Nixon when he was vice president. He will manage the various military activities supporting the president and White House Staff.

In 1852 the Second French Republic gained recognition when more than 7 million persons voted to back the regime of Emperor Napoleon III.

Merits of Today Judged by Pragmatic Standards

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Out of better by far because one man, possibly, perhaps, we live in a pragmatic age. The merits of things nowadays are judged by the results they produce.

Because pragmatism is so rampant, it is widely believed that idealism died with the age of chivalry. But that isn't true. Idealism is not dead. It is alive and living in Michigan.

I made this discovery a few days ago when I was in Michigan arousing an audience of newspaper editors to a matinee condition with one of my fiery orations.

At a party given to celebrate the end of my address, I met a five of the state who had dedicated his life to an idealistic quest in the true spirit of the melo.

He was searching, he said, for a perfect Martini.

Being something of a pragmatist myself, I didn't immediately realize I was in the presence of a genuine visionary.

"Where have you been looking for it?" I inquired, just to be polite.

"My search has taken me over hills, over dales and along dusty trails," he replied. "I have climbed rocks and crossed streams from the redwood forests to the gulfstream waters."

"That's a long way to go for a drink," I said.

"You don't understand," he said. "It isn't the drink, it's the idea of perfection that I seek."

"I admire your devotion," I said, admiring his devotion, but aren't you being a little bit exotic? Aren't you only tilting at windmills? How do you know that what you are seeking really exists?"

"I know it because I feel it in my heart. Somewhere out there," he said, waving a hand in the general direction of Scatello, Idaho, "is a bar that is capable of mixing the perfect Martini."

"Some day it will all come together—the right gin and the right vermouth blended in the right proportions at the right temperature, humidity and barometric pressure. And I want to be there when it happens."

"It sounds like an impossible dream," I said.

"Maybe so," he said, "but this is my quest: To follow that bar, no matter how hopeless, no matter how far."

"Suppose you never find it? Don't your quest then appear foolhardy?"

"I will know when I'm laid my rest that the world will be a better place."

Students May Use Spanish in School

SAN ANTONIO (UPI)—A San Antonio school superintendent, Harold Hitt, announced Tuesday that students in the independent school district would be allowed to speak Spanish on the school grounds, in halls and classrooms.

"Language spoken in each classroom will be determined by the teacher," Hitt said in a directive to all principals in all schools in the district.

Hitt said all students should be "motivated to improve their proficiency in standard Spanish."

In the past only English was allowed in the schools or on school grounds.

He said teachers may permit responses and conversation in either English or Spanish though some teachers not fluent in the language may require classes to speak only English.

ToT Tourney Teams Strong

If Sterling Gibson and his Harvester cagers didn't have enough trouble with size and inexperience they face by far the toughest field the Top O' Texas tournament has ever offered.

Signed to compete in the Dec. 5-7 affair are Dumas, Canyon, Monohans, Sweetwater, Enid, Elk City and Woodward, Oklas.

All of the teams in this the 14th renewal of a grand tournament are bigger and better and more experienced than ever.

Take Monohans for example. The Lobos will bring four lettermen, three starters and plenty of size with them to the tournament. Monohans top scorer from a season ago returns in 5-11 senior Robert Smith. Smith averaged 12.6 points per game last season.

Back also is Tim Berry the tallest and one of the most talented players in the tourney. Berry, at 6-6 averaged 9.6 points a contest and was an all district selection last year along with Smith.

If this isn't enough the Lobos also have 6-4 junior Eddie Foster, who started half the season and averaged 6.7 points a contest.

Add to this 6-0 letterman John Hill a fourpoint per game player and 6-4 junior Tommy King, 6-2 junior Freddie King and 6-1 junior Terry Duncan.

The Lobos posted a 16-15 record a season ago with a young and inexperienced squad.

You Don't Say...

By RON CROSS

Canyon could just be the surprise of the tournament.

The AAA Eagles returned 15 lettermen, eight of whom have played varsity ball for two seasons and four of whom started full time last season.

Among the starters back is 5-8 Max Bosley, 6-2 Steve Butler, 5-8 Lon Conner and 6-2 Ricky Davis. The Eagles are expecting help from 6-4 junior Ronnie Hager who played some last year and could just shoot his team into the title.

Both Dumas and Sweetwater look good on paper and the Demons lost a 50-49 heartbreaker to Tascosa in the season opener.

Coach Jim Hendrick welcomed back five lettermen, three of which started a season ago.

Seniors Danny Mote, 5-11, David Ruth, 6-4, and Allen

Carson, 6-6 are the returning starters. Bob Thorpe, 6-1 senior and 6-11 Ralph Abell are the other lettermen.

The Demons do have size on the bench too, in 6-6 sophomore Randy Willis and 6-1 Teddy Hale.

Coach Jesse Walker at Sweetwater returned four starters from a team that finished 10-14 last season.

The Bobcats for the most part are small. Harold Williams, a 5-10 senior, Kenneth Monroe, 5-8 senior, Joe Ray Walker, 5-10 senior and 6-4 Aurrey McCain, all started last year.

McCain averaged 18.6 last year and is a two year letterman. Sweetwater can also call on junior Jimmy Teston, 6-4 and 6-3 junior Perry Thompson.

Of the Oklahoma schools Enid looks the best but as Top O'

Texas fans know, you can never count out Elk City.

Enid, a AAA Sonner state club that was 14-9 last year, returns four starters and 10 lettermen.

Starters back are 6-1 Chuck Groves, 5-8 Tim Wright, 6-2 Mike Perks and 6-1 Larry Hughes. Groves, a forward, averaged 13.5 last season, Wright, 4.5; Perks, 7.5 and Hughes, 8.3.

Elk City coach Richard O'Hara, who did quite a bit of scoring for the Elks a few years ago, has eight lettermen back and two starters, including his brother, Ronnie.

The youngest of the O'Hara brothers is a 6-3 senior who has lettered two straight years. Joining him is twoyear letterman Randy Poff, a 6-1 guard.

The past two years the Elks have come into the tournament small and not having seen any action prior to the tournament. They have surprised a lot of teams.

Bob Van Meter of Woodward had only three lettermen and one starter back this season.

Roger Jividen, a 5-2 senior with two cage letters averaged 8.7 points per game last season. The other two lettermen are Phil Claybaugh, a 6-0 senior and 5-7 senior Jerry Burkett.

Pampa has never lost a game in the Top O' Texas and has won all 13 titles.

If pride can do anything look for 'em to make it 14 straight.

Meredith, Clark Lead NFL Scoring, Passing

NEW YORK (UPI) — Don Meredith and Mike Clark of the Dallas Cowboys go into the home stretch of the National Football League season leading more glamorous rivals for individual titles in scoring and passing.

Official statistics released today by the NFL show that Meredith is the circuit's No. 1 passer with 147 completions in 255 attempts for a .576 percentage and 2116 yards. Bart Starr of the Green Bay Packers is second and Earl Morrall of the Baltimore Colts is third. Clark has kicked 43 extra points and 15 field goals for 88 points—four more than scored by Leroy Kelly of the Cleveland Browns on 14 touchdowns. MacPerceval of the Chicago Bears and Don Cockroft of the Browns rank next at 75 points each.

Sul Ross Wins Triple Overtime

By United Press International
David Wolking hit a jump shot with 48 seconds left to break open a mar-ross a 102-100 win over Angelo State in triple overtime.

In other scores around the state, Dallas Baptist eased past Arkansas A&M 82-80, St. Edwards downed Sam Houston 64-63 in over time and Central Oklahoma beat East Texas 89-74.

The Sul Ross-Angelo State game in San Angelo was tied 77-77 at the end of regulation, 83-83 at the end of the first overtime and 92-92 at the end of the second overtime.

Sul Ross' Dick Bockover and Angelo's Richard Preston duelled to a draw for high point honors. Each took 34.

Mike Seal broke through a full court press with half a minute left to give St. Edwards the victory in the last overtime.

John Wells was high point man with 17 points for St. Eds. Dallas Baptist staved off a last minute charge by the Arkansas team and won its second game of the year.

LONG STRETCH — Jim Gallman, 6-6 Pampa junior and 6-1 senior Billy Thomas are battling for berths on the Harvester basketball squad. Pampa opens the season Dec. 3 at Perryton.

SWC Title On Line in Austin Today

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—The University of Texas puts its seven-game winning streak on the line at 2 P.M. today against Texas A&M in a nationally televised Thanksgiving Day scrap matching the conference's all-time leading Fusher and passer.

And by the time the Aggie cadet corps finally sits down and the Longhorns lead Bevo out to pasture, the Southwest Conference championship and the host spot in the Cotton Bowl will have been decided.

A&M has a chance at neither, but an Aggie victory would save the wounds of a disappointing 2-7 season and give the defending SWC champs the satisfaction of defeating arch-rival Texas for the second straight year.

Hargett Only Hope

Old Army will pin its upset hopes on the rocket-launcher arm of quarterback Edd Hargett, who in three years has rewritten Southwest Conference and national passing records.

Texas will counter-attack with the running of Chris Gilbert, the only major college running back in history to gain more than 1,000 yards in three straight seasons.

If the Longhorns can defeat the Aggies—and they've only lost to A&M once in Memorial Stadium since the series began 75 years ago—they will share the conference championship with Arkansas and will meet Tennessee in the Cotton Bowl Classic Jan. 1.

Loss to Second

Should Texas lose, the Horns would still finish second in the league and probably meet Georgia in the Sugar Bowl on New Year's Day.

Coach Gene Stallings' Aggies could finish no higher than fifth in the league regardless of the results of their Turkey-Day outing against Texas.

Hargett ranks fourth nationally among all-time passers in completions, and needs only 12 against Texas to move up to third place.

The Aggie flinger ranks third in all-time total passing yardage and seventh in total offense and also owns the conference records for completions, passing yardage, total offense, total plays, pass attempts, and is tied for the record number of touchdown passes in a career with former great Sammy Baugh.

Gilbert League's Leader Gilbert, meanwhile, ranks sixth in the nation among all time rushing leaders with 3,146 yards in three seasons. He is also the conference's all-time best rusher, and owns the league marks for yardage and number of carries.

Barry Helps Rip Bucs

By United Press International
The easiest way to start an argument in the American Basketball Association this season is to ask whether Rick Barry of the Oakland Oaks or Connie Hawkins of the Minnesota Pipers is the better player.

"Barry!" shout Oakland supporters and point to the former National Basketball Association star's 34-point per game scoring average.

"Hawkins!" yell Minnesota fans and point to his all-around performance.

Both stars had big games when Barry scored 35 points as the Oaks downed the New Orleans Buccaneers 121-108 at New Orleans and Hawkins scored 30 points in the Pipers' 119-108 triumph over the Kentucky Colonels at Duluth, Minn.

The Oaks' 14th victory in 16 games widened their lead in the Western Division of the ABA to 5 games while the Pipers' eighth win in 12 games gave them a one-game lead in the East.

Doug Moe supported Barry's scoring with 19 points and James Jones led New Orleans with 33. Jim Ligon scored 24 for the Colonels as the Pipers held the high-scoring combination of Louis Dampier and Darel Carrier to a total of 36 points. Lonnie Wright scored 34 points to lead the Denver Rockets to a 115-109 victory over the Dallas Chaps in the other game. Player-coach Cliff Hagan scored 24 for the Chaps.

Aztecs Lead Poll Once Again

NEW YORK (UPI)—San Diego State, champion of small college football for the last two years, leaves the college division ranks as champion again.

The Aztecs, who had to survive a final scare in tying Tennessee State 13-13 last Saturday, complete their season Saturday night against Utah State, a major college. They will go into the game as small college champions for an unprecedented third consecutive year, having been assured of the honor today when the 35-member United Press International Board of Coaches cast 21 first place votes and awarded them 312 points.

The total was enough to edge North Dakota State, which finished second in the final ratings with nine first place votes and 300 points after compiling a perfect 9-0 record.

Chattanooga (9-1) finished third in the ratings with New Mexico Highlands (9-0) fourth and Texas A&I (9-1) fifth. Morgan State was sixth, followed by Troy State, Eastern Kentucky, Adams State and Humboldt State.

Tampa plunged to 11th, absorbing its second consecutive defeat and third of the season, while Willamette took 12. Indiana (Pa.) State was 13th, followed by Arkansas State, Delaware and Weber State.

Western Kentucky slipped to 17th followed by Fresno State and the trio of Kings Point, North Carolina A&T and Florida A&M all tied for 19th.

San Diego State never relinquished the No. 1 ranking during the season. The Aztecs have been named No. 1 since the third week of the 1966 season when they upset then top ranked North Dakota State.

Chips Down For Cowboys And Redskins

DALLAS (UPI)—The way the Dallas Cowboys look at it, the chips will be down today when they entertain the pesky Washington Redskins in a nationally televised Thanksgiving Day late feature in the Cotton Bowl.

The Cowboys, bouncing back from two mid-season setbacks at the hands of the Green Bay Packers and New York Giants, have a 9-2 season record and a two-game lead over the Giants with just three games to play.

But, as far as they and Coach Tom Landry are concerned, a victory is a "must" against a Washington team that, aside from the Packers, has been one of the most frustrating foes on the Dallas schedule.

The importance of the contest also will be recognized at the gate with at least 65,000 of them a third straight sellout by the time for the 5 p.m. CST kickoff.

Any combination of two Dallas victories or one triumph coupled with a New York loss would clinch the Capitol Division title for Dallas and move them into an Eastern Conference playoff with probably the Cleveland Browns for the second year in a row. The Browns could help this potential along considerably Sunday, for they host New York and could knock the Giants out of it if the Cowboys have won Thursday.

But, Landry feels that he cannot depend upon anyone else to help the Cowboys and that they should win on their own merits.

"We can't afford to lose one now or here Dec. 8 against the Pittsburgh Steelers," he said. "We cannot go into New York on the last day (Dec. 15) with a one-game lead and lose."

He was referring to a National Football League rule that says if two teams tie for a division crown, the team which has most recently been in a playoff will be eliminated.

And, the Cowboys have been in the NFL finals the past two years—and lost two heart-rending games to the Green Bay Packers.

Landry said that, barring a reversal by the medics, Don Meredith would return to his starting quarterback role against his old Redskins' rival, Sonny Jurgensen, after sitting out last Sunday's game in Chicago to rest a knee reinjured in the team's 44-24 victory over Washington just 11 days ago in the capital.

Jurgensen, too, is expected to be virtually in top form after a pesky hit-and-miss session with rib injuries. He has always been a thorn in the side of the Dallas secondary. Aside from their last meeting, the last seven Dallas-Washington games have gone down into the final minute or less.

Dallas has never swept two games from Washington in one season, nor have they managed to win any of their last five nationally televised games.

"There always has to be a first time," Landry cracked dryly.

Kentucky, under veteran coach Adolph Rupp, has made a record 16 appearances in the NCAA basketball championship playoffs.

Losing Tough for Brown

PHILADELPHIA, Pa. (NEA)—Robert Brown stands so big and his Fu Manchu mustache droops so insolently, a guy wouldn't think he cares. But Robert Brown cares. He has cared through September, through October and through November, whole months in which the Philadelphia Eagles lost every game they played.

And after this latest loss, Robert Brown entered the tunnel leading to the dressing room of the Eagles, and he stopped. The other players and he trooped through the door. Somber, but unemotional. Not Robert Brown. He stopped at a cement pillar, turned his back and stood with his head down on his tremendous chest. For 10 minutes, he meditated.

Later, when he finally joined the Eagles and unraveled the acres of gauze and foam around his fists, he said, "I don't want to talk about it."

The contradiction is that Robert Brown loves to talk, in a high-pitched cheerful voice that sounds strange coming out of that enormous body. A day later, the natural effervescence had returned and Bob was able to let the words frame his emotions.

"When you lose," he sighed, "the season lasts twice as long. You keep saying, 'This is the week.' Then you go down the drain again. I can't explain it, I don't understand it. It is unreal."

"If we were terrible and lost 50-0, I wouldn't wonder. But we have played good. Three-to-six and stood with his head down on his tremendous chest. For 10 minutes, he meditated.

Later, when he finally joined the Eagles and unraveled the acres of gauze and foam around his fists, he said, "I don't want to talk about it."

What Ralph Neely of the Dallas Cowboys has in as the best offensive lineman in the game, a 300-pound giant pro offensive right tackle. Bob Brown relinquished the honor ahead of the running backs. Because of the knee he is 25 pounds lighter. Mentally, the continual losing of the Eagles is no extra load to carry.

"My attitude," he said, "is this — I'm after something. I have a goal. I want my all-pro recognition again. I go into practice just as eager as I ever did. This is a profession, a business. I am mercenary. You don't want to tell the kids, but you play strictly for money."

So Robert Brown would want you to believe he is impervious to the turmoil that has enveloped the Eagles, with owner Jerry Wolman on the verge of bankruptcy and Eagle fans because he has been a valid-waving "Joe Must Go" banners all-pro. He came into the af coach Joe Kuharich.

Thanksgiving Day Has Changed

Thanksgiving, to coin a phrase, ain't what it used to be.

The Pilgrims stalked and shot their own turkeys. Today, the center of attraction on the groaning board is pre-killed, preplucked and prestuffed, if not precooked. It may even come in a homogenized loaf which, like a record of excerpts from musical masterpieces, has "all the hard parts taken out."

A century ago on Thanksgiving, we are told, the custom was to make an excursion into the country to visit one's grandparents. Today, grandma's house is as likely as not a high-rise apartment building and the children ride an elevator, not a horse-drawn carriage, to get there.

Half a century ago, the only holiday entertainment was what a family could provide for itself in the form of conversation and games and looking at pictures through the stereopticon. Today, television mass feeds our minds just as the modern food processing industry mass feeds our stomachs.

No, Thanksgiving isn't what it used to be. It hasn't been for a long time and it never will be again.

Yet it isn't Thanksgiving that has changed, America has changed, and is changing, but the reasons each generation continues to celebrate this festival are timeless and enduring.

Thanksgiving is, as it always was even before it became an official holiday, the one day in the year when Americans across the land pause from their daily work to gather within the bosom of their own families simply to give thanks.

To give thanks for many things. For big things — like a country that is prosperous and is still pursuing that great experiment called democracy. For little things — like a home, a full table, healthy kids and the wherewithal to maintain them.

And because we give special thanks on this day, we are perhaps more aware than on any other day that there are many, even in our own country, who have much less reason to be grateful. Our hearts go out to them, and like the Pilgrims who invited the Indians to the first Thanksgiving, we would share our happiness with them if we could.

America is changing, more rapidly with every year. If our ancestors from any previous period could come back to see what America is like in 1968, they might feel they had arrived on another planet.

But one thing would tell them they were at home. That one thing is the living spirit of Thanksgiving.

Pilgrims Learned A Lesson

Any schoolboy can tell you that the Thanksgiving celebration is derived from the first Pilgrim feast of thanks.

Forgotten, however, are the reasons why the feast was held, why the Pilgrims first starved and prospered.

We're indebted to American Way Features for this explanation of what the Pilgrims really had to be thankful for:

According to Governor Bradford's own log, the first thing they did upon arriving at Plymouth Rock was "to erect ye first house for common use to receive them and their goods." The "common house" kept all the food and production. All property belonged to the people "in common." In other words, the Pilgrims were practicing the communist idea.

"From each according to his ability, to each according to his need."

But within three months, half of the Pilgrims had already perished. And after two years of starvation and misery, the Pilgrim leaders decided to adopt the seemingly heartless policy of making each man fend for himself.

Henceforth, each family would own its own parcel of land — and no one would be responsible for anyone else. Private property had arrived at Plymouth Rock.

Bradford states: "This had very good success; for it made all hands very industrious, so as much more corn was planted than otherwise would have been. . . . The women now went willingly into ye field, and took their little ones with them to set corn, which before would allege weakness and inability."

Now no one had to resent working for others. Each produced to the limit of his ambition and ability — because what he produced was his!

This is perhaps history's most dramatic contrast between private property and communism. The Pilgrims found,

'Turn the Other Fender'

The National Safety Council quotes the following passage, which appeared in a recently published book, "The Automobile and Christian Morality," by Abbe Hubert Renard of France:

"Ye have heard, 'an eye for an eye, a tooth for a tooth.' Ye have heard it said 'sideswipe for sideswipe, right-of-way refused for right-of-way refused.'

"But I say unto you, 'Turn the other fender.' If someone gets in your way at a green light, let him be first at the next light. And whosoever shall try to pass thee imprudently with a less powerful car slow down to let him do it more easily."

"I say unto you, love your enemies, love those who drive dangerously. They are in peril." Amen.

Brave New World?

While perusing a letter-to-the-editor page of a metropolitan newspaper the other day, this writer came across a missive that commented upon the current drug problem among young people. The letter-writer acknowledged the existence of a multiplicity of factors affecting the addiction dilemma. But, he suggested, all other elements aside, adults who are concerned should seek the underlying cause for drug use. Might that cause not be, he wrote, that we've given the young a world so terrible that they feel the need to escape from the horror of it all?

That interpretation encloses in a nutshell the philosophy that is "in" today. According to its reasoning, crime is caused by poverty, riots by injustice, and delinquents are that way because their parents don't love them. The criminal has not wronged society nearly so much as society has wronged him.

Radical thinkers—including some who vividly impress the younger generation—carry this one step further: Poverty, inequality, and the discontent they breed are caused by Capitalism. Taking their clue from Marx and Lenin, the modern political philosophers charge that, under the free enterprise system, one man's gain is necessarily another man's loss. Until, therefore, gain is prohibited, the losers will not only be poor and miserable, but they will revolt against society.

Somewhere along the line, revolution in America discovered that the "lower classes" of our nation seem highly disinclined towards revolt. They are too busy following the hateful capitalist practice of earning a living and attempting to raise their economic standard. Moreover, such odious by-products of free enterprise as mass-products and household goods have tended to make these "common men" feel fairly comfortable.

And so, having failed to arouse the proletariat, the radical revolutionists tried their luck with a more affluent, privileged group in America—the students. This time their efforts met with success. A good many youngsters have joyfully embraced the idea that, though there is no God, Heaven is just around the corner—that an absolutely perfect future is possible, if only they can manage to destroy the present. The elimination of God is necessary to this line of thinking, because a belief in the Almighty and a hereafter automatically rules out the "perfectibility of man" here on earth.

Maybe it's too much to hope for, but we wish the kids would read a bit of history. Their knowledge of what man has done, and why, of what has happened to civilizations in the past—that knowledge might just save our civilization from destruction.

Wit and Whimsy

While a well-known bishop was visiting a tribe of Indians, the chief invited him to go for a long ride after dinner.

Bishop Lang — Will it be safe for me to lead my baggage here?

Chief Red Wing — Yes. There is not a white man within 40 miles.

Buenos Aires Argentina is the largest city south of the equator.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

Because tomatoes belong to the same family, nightshade, as does the deadly belladonna, they were once thought poisonous by Americans. The World Almanac says, Tomatoes, now second to white potatoes in economic value among U.S. vegetable crops, were not eaten by Americans until after 1825. The Italians, however, ate them as early as 1550, the first Europeans to do so.

What Next For Humphrey? — $6 Million Of Dinners And 1970

ROBERT ALLEN

JOHN GOLDSMITH

WASHINGTON — Vice President Humphrey is being urged by close friends and associates to run, in 1970, for the Senate seat now held by Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy.

A return to the Senate, to which he was first elected in 1948, would require no publicly announced decision now by the Vice President. He's being pressed, however, to set his private sights on the McCarthy seat at once.

The matter of an immediate post-inaugural livelihood for the defeated Democratic presidential candidate is no problem, according to Humphrey intimates. He has, they report, had offers of several attractive full-time jobs and a variety of less demanding chores — corporate directorships, writing assignments, consultant posts and the like.

A decision to run again for the Senate would probably mean accepting some of the latter, part-time offers. Humphrey could then devote most of his time, first, to revitalizing his defeated and debt-ridden party and, then, to campaigning for reelection to the Senate.

In his underwhelming endorsement of Humphrey's candidacy in late October, McCarthy announced that he will not be a candidate "of my party" for reelection to the Senate in 1970. That statement, with its third party overtones, makes McCarthy's plans somewhat uncertain.

Even if McCarthy is out of the picture, however, Humphrey would not be a Senate shoe-in in Minnesota. Two able Republican congressmen, Reps. Clark MacGregor and Albert H. Quie, have been eyeing the McCarthy seat, and either would make a strong GOP candidate.

LIKE, BUT UNLIKE BARRY — If he should return to the Senate after his unsuccessful bid for the White House, Humphrey would be following the route now being taken by Sen. Barry M. Goldwater, R-Ariz., who will take a Senate seat next month after his ill-fated presidential try in 1964. There would be an important difference, however.

Goldwater is returning to the Senate, after four years, in the wake of a presidential campaign in which he played no national role. Humphrey would return to the Senate, after only two years, and prior to a presidential election in which he would almost certainly play a very important role.

Even if he didn't seek the 1972 nomination himself, Humphrey — as an incumbent senator and his party's titular leader — could be very influential in the selection of the Democrat who runs against President Nixon next time.

In addition to planning for his own future, Humphrey must now plan for the future of the beleaguered party organization, The Democratic National Committee will meet in December or January and, if history serves, it will generally approve a number of Humphrey proposals.

Those proposals must be keyed, in the short term, to the off-year congressional elections in 1970. While the "out" party usually expects to make gains in off-year elections, the Democrats will have a special problem this time. Twenty-five Democratic senators face reelection contests in 1970 and only eight Republicans.

PLENTY OF PROBLEMS — Nor are the 1970 elections the only problem on the horizon for Humphrey and the Democrats. Here are a few which must be addressed immediately:

National Chairman Lawrence F. O'Brien was persuaded to take that job at the Chicago convention, but only for the duration of the campaign. He is said to have a six-figure job awaiting him as a sort of super-lobbyist for the television networks.

In Chicago there were statements that Missouri Democratic Chairman Delton Houtchens would inherit the chairmanship from O'Brien. Houtchens failed to carry his state for Humphrey, however, and he does not now seem to meet the hard-pressed party's requirements.

Some Humphrey associates would like to persuade O'Brien all over again, but that will not be easy, according to all reports.

Debt. All in all, Democratic committees and campaign groups will owe between $6 million and $7 million, most of it to individuals who made large loans to the party treasury. It will take a lot of appearances by Humphrey and other party notables, at a lot of $100-a-plate dinners, to pay those bills.

Shadow government. As previously reported here, some Humphrey strategists favor reinstating Adlai Stevenson's Democratic Advisory Council to keep the party's positions before the public. If this is done, it should be done at once.

However, Stevenson's "shadow government" was all but boycotted in 1956 by congressional Democrats, including the then Senate Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson. Party leaders must now decide whether such a council will do more good than harm.

Convention machinery — The national convention voted for commission review of the selection of convention delegates and of other ways to make Democratic national conventions more effective. There has already been factional controversy over the make-up of the reviewing groups.

In the end, this may present the greatest challenge of all to the defeated Democrats — how to submerge animosities among McCarthyites, Humphreyites and crusaders for a Kennedy restoration in time to make a fight of it with the GOP in 1970.

The Doctor Says

By DR. W. G. BRANSTADT

Four Tests Available On Thyroid Function

Q—What is meant by high or low metabolism?

A—Metabolism is the continuing process of breaking down and replacing body tissues. When it occurs at a high or accelerated rate, the usual cause is an overactive thyroid.

Q—To determine the condition of one's thyroid, is it necessary to enter the hospital for a metabolism test?

A—Four tests of thyroid function have almost completely supplanted the old basal metabolic rate. They are the protein-bound iodine level of your blood, the phytomogram, the radioactive iodine uptake and the triiodothyronine uptake. These tests can be done in an outpatient department.

Q—What can be done for an overactive thyroid?

A—Several drugs that suppress thyroid activity are available but they are useful chiefly to get a patient in good physical condition for surgical removal of a part (usually about 1/3) of the thyroid since this operation gives the best chance for lasting (not necessarily permanent) improvement.

Q—Should medication be prescribed following a thyroid operation to prevent recurrence?

A—Not routinely. There is a thin dividing line between the removal of too much or too little of the gland. If too much is removed, thyroid extract must be given and, if too little, a thyroid suppressant is required.

Q—I had an operation for an overactive thyroid in December 1967. I took thyroid pills for awhile, then I stopped. Now I have palpitation, I am always sleepy and my vision is blurred. Could this be because I stopped taking the thyroid pills?

A—If you have a deficiency of thyroid hormone, this might account for your drowsiness. On the other hand, an overactive thyroid might cause your palpitation. Neither extreme is characterized by blurred vision. Why not quit guessing and have your doctor find out what is wrong?

Q—I have a toxic thyroid. Is there any danger of cancer?

A—Toxic thyroid does not predispose to cancer.

Q—After a thyroid operation, is it still possible to get pregnant?

A—Yes, unless there is some other reason for a failure to conceive.

Tchaikovsky considered the "Sixth Symphony" to be his best work.

George Herman (Babe) Ruth was known as the "Sultan of Swat."

TORCH OF FREEDOM

Being Thankful

By MARGUERITE K. HARPER

Thanksgiving Day is a time for us to pause and count our blessings.

Our forefathers, in 1789, found ample time and reason to take a day from their labors to be thankful for all their blessings. There was not an easy life but they felt richly blessed with it.

Now, nearly two hundred years later when we have made terrific scientific and technological progress, when we have innumerable time and energy saving devices, when we have become one of the most affluent nations, our forefathers' affluent descendants are asking "What have we for which to be thankful?"

They see the world as a dismal picture. They are busy with unrest, frustration, and strife. They have untold wealth. But has all this wealth brought them respect, peace, or love for their fellow man? The answer is: No, affluence, though not an evil per se, is not by itself the answer to any of our major problems.

"For what shall it profit a man, if he shall gain the whole world, and lose his own soul?" (Mark 8:36)

If we will try only a moment to meditate, we have much for which to be thankful—our homes, our families, our health, and our friends are priceless blessings. It is nevertheless distressing to observe how, as a nation, we have lost our sense of important values.

Many are discouraged and say, "I wish there were something I could do." There is. An old Chinese proverb says: "Lord, the world is so bad. Make it better—beginning with me." If one wants to change the world he must begin with himself. The least that each of us can do is to live our lives to exemplify the forces that really count such as integrity, willingness to do useful work, and good will toward all mankind.

Any nation is made up of only individual persons. When enough individuals are willing to set an example that they would be proud to have others follow, we and our children will again have a society in which many will be truly thankful on Thanksgiving Day.

A Look at the Book

By DR. BOB JONES

THANKSGIVING

Sometimes it seems that Thanksgiving Day has become primarily a day of football games, a time for big meals and family reunions with the giving of thanks forgot or crowded into the background. But, then, we are inclined to be forgetful of the obligations of thanks to God every day.

Whenever I think of a thankful heart, I remember a very old colored woman down in Alabama whom I used to pass every morning on my way to school. She was bent and feeble from rheumatism. Our greeting was invariably the same. I would say, "Good morning, Auntie, how are you?" She would reply, "Poorly, thank God." At first I was amused. Then it dawned on me that here was a woman who in spite of poverty and age and physical infirmity, was giving thanks always for all things unto God" (Ephesians 5: 20). She was grateful to the Father Who in His mercy and His wisdom saw fit to let her suffer and she accepted the rheumatism as coming from God's hand and, therefore, to be received with thanks. Her face and her voice showed that her spirit was as genuinely thankful as if she were enjoying youth and wealth and ease. After all, she was youthful in spirit, rich in the gift of contentment and gratitude, and at ease and rest in full confidence in the grace of God. She was a woman whom many of us might envy.

I have heard old preachers pray, "We thank Thee, Lord, that it is as well with us as it is." That always seemed to me a rather unoptimistic and negative sort of prayer; and I always wondered if the preacher had not been checking over the things he wanted and did not have, instead of counting his blessing. But it is good to be grateful even that things are not worse; and however harassed and distressed we may be, none of us is ever in a position where things could not be worse.

"Lord, make us thankful for these and all Thy blessings" always seemed to me a poor sort of grace before meals. If we sit down and count our blessings, we will not have to ask God to "make us thankful" but with hearts full of gratitude, we shall earnestly pray that the Lord will accept our thanks for all His mercies poured upon us.

Today is the day my Blouse & Skirt gets her fingers burned on the proud bird with the golden tail. But I am glad and thankful that she knows how to wrangle those pots and pans.

What she does is get a big fan-tailed turkey, fix it up pretty, put it in the oven the night before on low heat, and I lay in the bunk all night, drooling and faunching at the bit as the waves of that sweet-smelling two-footer floats thru the house.

When morning comes the Blouse & Skirt ties me to the bed post, cooks up some scrambled eggs, and spoon-feeds me until I am too full to tackle that roasting brown goodness that she takes out of the oven to test.

She puts a brown paper sack, split up the middle, over the bird after she has whipped up some more dressing to lay alongside him for trimmings and plops him back in the oven whilst I am humming "Tom, Tom."

Then she starts working on turnips, potatoes, pumpkin and mince pies, and puts off till last the job of peeling them perly little white onions that sure does tickle the taste buds to a fare-thee-well.

Today, the guests are friendly, the relatives are happy and I am just floating in Turkey Gorge. After everybody leaves I will lay around like a snake that has swallowed a 50 pound pig and give thanks that I was able to give the Blouse & Skirt the bird and that she was able to handle it.

Bill and Lorene Thompson have been to Matador, where her mother lives, and to Lubbock and down near Breckenridge, to visit their daughters. Charlie and Flora Bell have been taking the baths in Ojo Caliente, New Mexico, and returned much improved and well-rested. While gone they purchased two prints of W. M. Moyer western paintings, one of which Charlie presented to yours truly. It is lovely, with the soft dusty colors of the Southwest made softer yet by a dust cloud hovering over a herd of horses. Wild horses, I wonder? Maybe. I have hunted the wild horses along the salt lakes of New Mexico and while they streaked off, not running orderly as these horses were, the similarity is great. Probably this painting was one of the big horse ranches of Arizona.

Esther Walters of North Faulkner was a farm girl, and a farmer's wife, then later a farmer on her own. Two years ago she sold her farm. But at 66 she is still pretty handy. She has a high wood fence around her big yard. In that yard she grows a fair-sized garden, Kenny and Betty Winters are expecting his parents for Thanksgiving. It's so nice for Rickey Dean and little Debbie, so far away from their grandparents while they are little. Both grandparents and grandchildren are missing so much.

My son had the joy of having his grandmother until he was almost thirty-seven. Not only did he have her near for all those years, but his children too, were able to know her wonderful love for them and her tenderness. We lost her June 19 but how wonderful to have had her near all these many years. We are thankful for this — and that my father is still strong and active and alert, and near to two of his children, ten of his grandchildren and all five great-grandchildren. He and one great-grandson had a hot domino game only last week. And as we sit down to table on Thanksgiving Day, we will pray:

"For this land of peace and plenty, for the fellowship of friends,

For the presence of these loved ones beneath roofs when daylight ends;

For the faith to face the future when our hearts are tight with pain;

For the memory of loved ones Who won't walk these paths again.

For the knowledge we will always receive comfort if we pray—

For these things we thank Thee, Father.

Bless this bread we break today."
