JUDGE CITES HIGH COURT'S PRIOR RULINGS

1935 PENSION STATUTE FOUND INVALID BY JUSTICE

WASHINGTON, June 26. (AP)—Justice Jennings Bailey of the District of Columbia Supreme Court today declared the government's 1935 railroad retirement plan was unconstitutional.

He ruled that both the rail pension law and its companion tax measure were "inseparable parts" of a single scheme, unconstitutional under prior rulings of the Supreme Court.

The ruling was made in a suit filed by class one railroads and other railway enterprises to prevent the legislation from becoming effective July 1.

This injunction suit was brought by 1931 first class carriers and 289 lesser enterprises. They attacked both the retirement act and its companion revenue measure, which sought to lay a 3 1/2 per cent tax on rail wages and an equal levy on company payrolls.

Both of these statutes were enacted last year after the Supreme Court invalidated the 1934 retirement law, which included both tax and pension provisions.

The 1935 retirement act was designed to set up a permanent pension system for railway workers over 65 years old. First annuity payments under it were scheduled to be made July 1.

The revenue act authorized taxes for one year only. It called for total contributions of $120,000,000 from both railroads and employees. The carriers were to make their first quarterly payment of $15,000,000 on June 30.

In hearings leading up to today's decision, Jacob Aronson, members of a committee of railroad lawyers, contended the two laws were "a thinly disguised substitute for a wholly invalid 1934 law." He also argued that the tax act violated the fifth amendment of the constitution by singling out "a particular group of employers to bear an arbitrary and crushing burden."

Charles M. Hay and Walter Poliak, special assistants to the attorney general, contended the retirement plan would relieve unemployment and improve railway efficiency by removing older men from the service.

He quoted a Supreme Court decision which said: "A federal statute passed under the taxing power may be so arbitrary and capricious as to fall before the due process clause of the fifth amendment of the constitution."

"Such would seem to be the character of this tax, were the court confined in its consideration to the taxing act itself," Justice Bailey commented.

J. B. Glenn, acting chief actuary of the railroad retirement board, told reporters that board would make no attempt to carry out provisions of the retirement act pending a ruling by a higher court.

"We don't know yet whether Justice Bailey's decision means that we will have to close up our office at an rate our hands are tied for the time being."

The pension measure provided for the payment of about $27,000,000 in annuities during the year beginning July 1. Only about 25 individuals actually had been approved by the retirement board to receive pensions at the start, however, officials contending the railroads had hampered preparations by failure to supply necessary information.

TEX'S TOPICS

A tour through Sheriff Earl Talley's Gray county Bertillon and bureau of identification department in the court house, arouses one to the realization of marked progress along the lines of tracking down criminals in the last couple of decades.

With criminology bringing in to play the latest marvels of the scientific laboratories and the most modern of business methods—all linked with the finger-print method and photographic skill—life is constantly becoming harder for the criminal.

Science's part in helping law enforcement agencies to track down criminals has been invaluable in solving many recent cases which would have baffled the most alert detectives a decade ago.

It has been a long jump from the old bloodhounds to the new and modern instruments of crime detection, which have been the deciding factors in "breaking" many a sensational case which was, to all appearances, "the perfect crime."

Behind the man-hunts—the glamorous side of police work—there is today an immense statistical and clerical background of facts. The maintenance of pictures, fingerprints and complete criminal records of thousands of gangsters, hoodlums and racketeers, in such order that they may furnish almost instant leads when a new crime is committed is one of the most important of all police activities.

One marvel, too, at the modern means of police communication, made available by radio. As months and years pass it is becoming vastly more difficult for criminals to "get away with" their crimes.

And, so, as Sheriff Talley showed us around through his comparatively young bureau of criminal records, we couldn't help reflect upon the strides that have been taken in the business of criminal chasing. One can think of no better place where rapid strides should be taken.

The man who fell off the flying trapeze says he read in the paper where a Denver man was sleeping standing up for four years.

Sounds like it might have something to do with the housing situation in Pampa. Either that or sooner or later the man's wife must give up eating crackers in bed.

Jinx still is following Archer Fullingim of the city desk. That strange-looking person you may have seen clad only in shorts and hiking the highway back into town Wednesday was none other than "I Saw."

He had a bit of tough luck on a fishing trip to Charlie Thomas' ranch, north of here. Seems as though A. F. parked his car on the bank of the tank lake and in some manner it got loose, and headed lakeward.

Fullingim made a mad dash and attempted to hold the car back with the result that it ran him down, pushed him into the lake and squatted atop him on the mud bottom.

"I Saw" managed to extricate himself after much sputtering and apprehension by his two fishing companions. He lost a shoe. The Thomas tractor managed to get the car out of the lake. A. F. See COLUMN, Page 3

People You Know

Trembling old men arrive at the courthouse early of a morning and stay there most of the day. Some walking shakily with the aid of a cane, others peering out of dim or blind eyes. Any time of the day you can find them sitting on the benches in the corridors, talking about the government, the Townsend plan, old age pensions, politics. They have their own places on the benches and insist on sitting on them. Yesterday one of the old men was reading to another. Soon a small crowd had gathered around. The reader raised his voice but most of the eyes were on another old fellow who was fast asleep and snoring.

Verdict For City Returned By Jury

9 INDICTMENTS RETURNED BY GRAND JURORS

FIVE WILL BE TRIED ON DRIVING CHARGES

Six arrests had been made today on nine of the indictments returned day before yesterday by the county grand jury.

Of the six cases, five of the defendants will face trial in district court during the week of July 13 on charges of driving an automobile upon the public highway while intoxicated.

Those apprehended on the drunk driving counts are Ben Dumas, A. H. Keyton, Wade H. Handy, O. P. Martin, and T. P. Kelly.

One arrest was made by the sheriff's office yesterday on a forged instrument.

Frank L. Baker, oil worker, is charged in the indictment on two separate counts of forgery and passing a forged instrument.

In the indictment it was alleged that Baker last April forged and passed two checks for $8 each at the First National Bank in Pampa.

The counts cite that the defendant forged the name of C. H. Cristia in each instance. The checks allegedly were made out for services performed.

One new petition was on file in district court today, I. J. Branson versus The Consolidated Underwriters, a compensation case.

The compensation trial of J. P. Perkins versus The Texas Indemnity Co. was in its fourth day in district court today with indications that it will run through Friday.

Next criminal jury week is scheduled to open Monday, July 13. Next week, according to court attaches, will be devoted exclusively to the hearing of civil jury cases.

MURDER TRIAL POSTPONED

CHILDRESS, June 26. (AP)—The murder trial of Mrs. Buena Mae Richardson, scheduled to start in district court here today, was postponed until July 13 by Judge A. J. Fires. Illness of a court stenographer caused the continuance. The woman was charged with knifing Brown Warren here last August. She was convicted last January and given a 15-year sentence but was granted a new trial.

Mark Long Sues for $500 In County Court

After deliberating for more than six hours a jury in county court returned a verdict in favor of The City of Pampa late last night in the case of Mark Long, of Pampa, who sought to collect $500 damages from the city.

Mr. Long had asked the amount for damages he claimed had been done to his property through improper drainage facilities. The city, he claimed, was negligent and therefore responsible for the damage.

The trial, which opened Monday, occupied the court for four days and the case went to the jury at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

It was the consensus of the jury, after deliberating until 11:30 last night, that the city was not responsible for the damage on the Long property, and it held that damages as sought should not be paid.

Women Strikers Knocked Down in Santone Rioting

SAN ANTONIO, June 26. (AP)—Six women strikers were struck down and one striker was knocked unconscious by city policemen this morning when a group of thirty strikers and sympathizers rushed a police line at the Dorothy Frocks company, Navarro and Market Sts.

Fifteen policemen had formed a line to admit workers into the factory.

Police said a group of thirty women strikers and sympathizers rushed the police line in an attempt to get to the workers entering the factory.

Police struck six women to the ground.

One woman rolled over her head striking the curbing. A policeman picked her up, revived her and took her to city jail where she was booked for disturbing the peace.

Police said none of the workers was touched by the strikers.

Wheeler Pioneer Is Shot to Death

WHEELER, June 26.—J. M. Porter, 78, resident of Wheeler county since 1889, died at 7:30 this morning of a gunshot wound. The funeral will be conducted at the Methodist church here tomorrow at 4 o'clock, and burial will be in Wheeler cemetery.

Mrs. Porter and Miss Viola Jones, who lives in the Porter home, were in the house at the time of the shooting. They said Mr. Porter suddenly took a pistol, went to the porch and shot himself.

Survivors are the widow and three children, Mrs. Cora Hall and Glen Porter of Wheeler, and Mrs. Caperton of Shamrock; a brother, Green Porter of Wheeler; a sister, Mrs. Bridewell, and five grandchildren.

Employed on the old Shelton ranch when he first came to the county, Mr. Porter later managed his own ranch. He had been living in the town of Wheeler for a number of years.

MACK NOMINATES FOR

FIRST SPEECH IS DESTROYED BY PRESIDENT

ROOSEVELT PENS NEW ACCEPTANCE TALK AT CAPITAL

WASHINGTON, June 26. (AP)—President Roosevelt said today that he had destroyed the original draft of the renomination acceptance speech he will deliver tomorrow night at Franklin field, Philadelphia.

He decided that he did not like it and began drafting another version.

Laughing and telling stories for nearly half an hour at his press conference, the President said he had been up very late last night working and that after midnight had telephoned Senator Wagner in Philadelphia to congratulate him on his speech before the democratic convention.

The President said he thought the senator read the platform beautifully.

PHILADELPHIA, June 26. (AP)—Picturing President Roosevelt as an inspired leader in war of humanity "against greed," Judge John E. Mack of New York today placed the President's name before the democratic convention for renomination.

Mack, an old friend and neighbor of the Roosevelts, spoke only 20 minutes, pointing his address toward the climactic statement: "With our decks cleared for battle, with justice and right and progress with us, we are ready for more action under the inspired leadership of that great American whose name gives us our candidate for president. No longer a citizen of merely one state, but a son of all the 48 states, Franklin D. Roosevelt."

Mack, a gray-haired man who also was the Roosevelt nominator in 1922, spoke briefly with warm praise issues. He asserted that "the cries of anger and the vicious attacks" against the New Deal emanate from "the who themselves brought about the great depression."

From the great financial interests of the high-powered salaried men induced foreign countries unduly to plunge themselves into debt and unload their bonds on trusting American investors—bonds many of which are now in default and practically worthless.

From the same great financial interests the "extraneous" campaign upon company for the purpose of rocking the investing public by watered stock and cheating the consuming public by inflated rates.

See Handwriting
These men, he said, "at the outset led in the action for the ouster of our leader." But now: "These classes of privilege have seen the handwriting on the wall. They know that under this administration the power and influence over government which their wealth had given them is now gone."

Then, approaching the dramatic moment of shouting the President's name, he said: "We are ready for the issue. We have ended starvation, bread lines, soup kitchens and have brought this country through the greatest depression ever known."

As Liberty Bell Chimed in on Welcome

In a ceremony audible throughout the country, the Liberty Bell that tolled the news of the Declaration of Independence's signing was rung again to herald

nor Bibb Graves of Alabama strives to catch the last faint vibrations of its chime. The crack in the bell is plainly visible.

SMITHITES LOSE TEETH IN FIGHT AT CONVENTION

Republicans Blamed For Plot; Blood Gushes

PHILADELPHIA, June 26. (AP)—Missing teeth and skinned knuckles told the story today of a demonstration for Al Smith at the New Deal Democratic convention.

The incident, which temporarily interrupted the convention proceedings, was attributed by David L. Lawrence, democratic state chairman of Pennsylvania, to a republican plot. He said the demonstrators were republican "hoodlums."

"Things were going smoothly last night, speakers were extolling President Roosevelt—when suddenly 30 youths in a gallery away up near the ceiling unfurled banners."

"We are Al Smith democrats," they proclaimed. "We want Al." An angry mutter ran through the crowd, necks craned.

The youths shouted and raised a din with noise makers. Then fists began to fly amid shouts of "throw them out."

"Young democrats," swarmed up the stairs to the balcony, with police brandishing night sticks at their heads.

A cane struck Leland Webb, of Upper Merion, Pa., member of a young democratic club, as he led the charge against the "Smithites." He charged on and wrested a banner from its bearer.

Some one punched a banner waver in the mouth and blood flowed. The demonstrators retreated, were hemmed in by police, and then were rushed hither and skelter down to the basement, as the crowd boomed and cheered.

After a brief stay there, the door was opened, and the demonstrators ordered to "scram." They did so.

Meador Brings In First 1936 Wheat

66 Bushels Bring 11 Cents Over Mar- ket Price

The first load of 1936 wheat was delivered in Pampa yesterday afternoon by P. M. Meador of the Heaton community. Mr. Meador brought 66 bushels to the Martin-Lane Elevator and received $1 a bushel, or a premium of 11 cents over the market price, according to elevator officials.

Meador also delivered two loads of new cut wheat to the Great West Mill and Elevator company at Heaton where he received 85 cents a bushel and a premium of $5 a load.

The wheat tested 60 and was graded No. 1. Mr. Meador told elevator men that the yield was between 8 and 10 bushels to the acre. The heads were fairly full and the grain solid.

Dr. Wryns and hot weather the last two weeks have done considerable damage to the crop in this section. Heads have not filled and grain in places has shriveled. Hall east of Pampa a few weeks ago also cut the crop far below normal.

County Agent Ralph Thomas, elevator operators and farmers interviewed are agreed that the yield in the Pampa territory this year will be about 500,000 bushels or one-third normal. The average or normal crop is estimated at a little more than 1,500,000 bushels.

General cutting in this section is not expected to get under way before the latter part of next week. Green patches where water stood in fields are numerous in all sections.

Fire Chief Asks Safe, Sane July Fourth or Else

Chief of Police Art Hurst is starting early this year in his efforts to make the Fourth of July a safe and sane one in Pampa. He is asking parents to help him by instructing their children not to shoot off fireworks in the business section, around hospitals, or in city parks.

"There is a city ordinance which prohibits the use of fireworks within the city limits. Chief Hurst does not want to force people to leave the city to put on their fireworks displays, but it will be necessary if children insist on shooting fireworks in the areas named above."

CENTENNIAL ON TO ITS SECOND MILLION TODAY

Millionth Person Is Given Party at Dallas

DALLAS, June 26. (AP)—The Texas Centennial exposition went after its second million today.

At 5:33 p. m. yesterday Fred S. Bengt, unemployed mechanic from Norman, Okla., walked through the exposition turnstiles, along with the scores of other visitors bent on taking in the big show.

Bengt was flustered and mystified when exposition attendants grabbed him by the arms and hustled him toward a group of men and women.

General Manager W. A. Webb stepped from the group and congratulated the Oklahoman as the millionth person to walk through the Centennial's gates. The visitor was taken on a tour of the grounds in a rickshaw. Exposition officials mapped out a full evening for him, including a meeting with the application star on the midway. Since the depression "got him," Bengt has been farming.

At midnight the total attendance for the 20 days since the show's opening was 1,007,210. The average was better than 50,000 a day.

During the day delegations from Oklahoma, Muskogee and McAlester, Okla., and Gainesville, Tex., were given the spotlight in special programs.

LATE NEWS

CHICAGO, June 26. (AP)—John De Witt, New York investment banker, announced today he had purchased all stockholdings of Swift and company for approximately $10,000,000 for transfer ultimately to the United Stockyards corporation.

PLAINVIEW, June 26. (AP)—Grady Shipp, former secretary of the Plainview chamber of commerce and board of city development, was indicted by the grand jury of the 64th district court here today on an embezzlement charge. The indictment alleged he embezzled $24,481 of Panhandle Plains Dairy association funds. The offense allegedly was committed in June, 1935. Shipp at present is secretary of the Longview chamber of commerce.

AX SLAYER CLAIMS SELF-DEFENSE

AUSTIN, June 26. (AP)—Ernest Herwig, rangy 41-year-old Hill county farmer, today repeated his admission that he hacked his wife to small pieces to death with an ax Wednesday night, but insisted that he did it in "self defense."

Herwig, member of an old Blanco county family, answered questions freely as he talked with a newspaperman in the Travis county jail, where he had been brought for safekeeping. Two charges of murder have been filed against him at Johnson City.

"Yes, I done it," he said. "I done it in self defense and to protect my two little girls."

Herwig claimed that he and his wife engaged in a vigorous struggle before he killed her. He charged that she threw stones at him, hit him with an iron bar and picked up the ax.

The farmer said the last argument with his wife began when Mrs. Herwig started talking about "my oldest girl."

The little boy aided his mother in the altercation, Herwig said, and "cussed me and threatened to kill me."

Country Club Members Enjoy Golf Foursomes And Dinner

Summer Series For Members Planned At Course

Summer amusement is being found by Country club members in a series of "Scotch foursomes," the second of which was enjoyed yesterday evening and followed with a fried chicken dinner and informal party at the club house.

Similar entertainment is planned every two weeks. All members who wish to participate in the games are asked to leave their names with Mr. or Mrs. Del Love at the club house, so arrangements can be made for all.

Play in the mixed foursomes is over nine holes, and partners alternate shots. Results yesterday were as follows:

Mrs. Mack Graham and Charlie Thut defeated Mrs. Gus Howard and Melvin Watkins 4 up.

Mrs. R. S. Lawrence and Mack Graham defeated Mrs. Lynn Boyd and Dr. H. H. Hicks 3 up.

Mrs. Frank Carter and Lynn Boyd defeated Mrs. W. V. Jarratt and R. J. Hagan 3 and 2.

Mrs. Hicks and Mark Heath defeated Mrs. Thut and W. V. Jarratt 2 and 1.

Mrs. Love and Frank Carter defeated Mrs. Heath and Gus Howard 4 and 2.

Dinner was served to the players and Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Gribbon, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Fatheree, Mrs. Hagan, and Mr. Love.

BOSTON SELECTED

DALLAS, June 26. (AP)—The National Association of Retail Grocers has selected Boston for its 1937 convention city. In closing sessions yesterday the organization elected Charles Smith, Dayton, O., president; Garritt Vander Hooping, Grand Rapids, Mich., vice president, and J. Schuyler Crawford, Wichita, Kan., treasurer.

TRIAL NEARS END

CUEIRO, June 26. (AP)—The trial of Vince Boss, young Houstonian pictured as thinking he was a big-time gangster, drew near a close today as rebuttal testimony continued. Boss is on trial for beating E. W. Albert, Brenham cheese salesman, to death on a roadside near Houston.

Mrs. J. E. Gerber, of Spearman, daughter of Justice of the Peace E. F. Young, was brought to Pampa-Jarratt hospital yesterday afternoon for a major operation.

STORY OF TRIP TO NATION'S CAPITAL IS TOLD H. D. CLUBS DURING ALL-DAY MEETINGS

MERTEN AND HOPKINS CLUBS GIVEN CAKE DEMONSTRATIONS

"No prejudice, misunderstanding, or political differences marred the friendly and informal atmosphere of the international meeting of County Women of the World. That was the outstanding impression received at the meeting," said Miss Ruby Adams, county home demonstration agent, in telling Merten club of her trip yesterday.

Miss Adams gave a vivid description of her trip to this world conference at Washington, D. C. during the last week of May and first week of June. She reported during an all-day session of the club in the home of Mrs. J. C. Browning.

After luncheon was served, and during the mixing of a jelly roll, Miss Adams stressed the fact that texture of the cake depends much on proper beating of the egg yolks. They should be beaten until they are lemon colored and thick before sugar is added, she said.

During the business hour the following members answered roll call: Mmes. W. O. Kelley, C. B. Haney, M. Rake, C. O. Bridges, Frank Bailey, E. M. Hope, H. B. Knapp, and Browning.

SHORT COURSE TRIP PLANNED AT HOPKINS

When cooking fillings that contain flour or cornstarch, cook long enough that the small starchy particles will be cooked thoroughly to avoid an unpleasant flavor, Miss Ruby Adams, county home demonstration agent, told Hopkins club women at a meeting Tuesday.

Mrs. Ralph Manley was hostess and the demonstration was on jelly using sponge cake mixture and a lemon filling.

Before lunch, she reported on her recent trip to Washington, D. C., where she attended the world conference of rural women. The ideas she secured from association with farm women from all over the world, what they are doing and how they do it, were very impressive to the club.

A short business meeting finished the club meeting. Definite arrangements were made for delegates to the farm short course at A. & M. college next month.

Members present were Mmes. G. Pinnell, E. F. Vanderburg, Thomas Kirby, C. P. Couts, Mary Mackie, Opal Franklin, Jim Hopkins, Robert Brown, and Manley; Misses Owen-dolyn Couts, Opal Pinnell, Toy Lee Bird, Pave Davis and Adams.

The club will meet on July 14 with Mrs. Franklin.

Mrs. Carl Zyback and children of Canadian, did not accompany Carl to California, but are visiting in Mobeetie.

CALLES STILL FINDS WAY INTO MEXICO NEWSPAPER HEADLINES

MEXICO CITY, June 25. (AP)—A year has passed since Plutarco Elias Calles' decade-long reign as Mexico's "strong man" ended, but his name still echoes through the land.

Whether the butt of politicians' attacks, the object of editorial abuse, the alleged purveyor of arms and ammunition to rebels or the reported battle cry of outlaw bands swooping down upon isolated schoolhouses, Calles almost daily finds his way into newspaper headlines here.

Uniformly, official quarters maintain his activities in the United States, whence President Lazaro Cardenas dramatically exiled him two months ago, are without importance.

Here on leave, Ambassador to Washington Francisco Castillo Najera said.

"Calles' stay in the United States means no danger for the stability of Gen. Cardenas' government, because, since he crossed the frontier, competent authorities were notified it would be considered little pleasing if he were permitted to engage in seditious activity."

A few days later Emilio Portes Gil, president of the National Revolutionary party, returning from a vacation across the Rio Grande said it was indeed true Calles and others expelled with him were carrying on "seditious activities."

"They are without importance," he added, "because neither the United States government nor the press of that country takes them into consideration or pays them any attention."

In summing up the work of the year since Cardenas, backed by the newly formed "left wing" in Congress, by labor and the army, declared himself his own man and thus broke the backbone of Calles' power, independent commentators agreed the country had come along nicely.

"They cited these evidences:

1. The "marathon of strikes" which Calles deplored in his historic statement of June 11, 1935, has largely slacked off with labor, apparently convinced of Cardenas' intention to "do right by it." It is more conciliatory in his attitude.
2. Business, by every index, is better this June than last and apparently on the upgrade.
3. Agitation over the religious question, with the government's almost imperceptible easing off in its enforcement of anti-church legislation, has dwindled to occasional isolated raids on country schoolhouses.
4. A great program of public works envisaged in Cardenas' "six-year plan" is being completed ahead of schedule and labor employed in building highways, railroads, irrigation dams and the like has reduced unemployment to almost nothing.
5. So secure does the year-old "left wing" feel in its control of Congress that Senator Ernesto Soto Reyes, president of the upper house group, in an address on the anniversary of its formation could blame himself and fellow congressmen for the nation's political ills of past years.

The conservative, independent newspaper Excelsior, declaring "the political and economic conditions of the nation have improved in the last 12 months," nevertheless cited these "difficulties" as needing the government's attention.

1. The insistence on socialist education, thus denying "the authority and the right of each" father to educate his sons by his own standards.
2. "Persistence of the anti-religious policy, which offends and hurts the great majority of the (country's) inhabitants," and the parallel laws nationalizing all church properties.
3. "The systematic attitude of the Supreme Court in certain matters (an obvious reference to the court's consistent pro-labor decisions in industrial disputes), which has made the first tribunal of the land lose its prestige and its credit."

Turn About Seems Fair Play

Mike Hogan, husky SMU footballer who runs a ricksha at the Texas Centennial Exposition in Dallas, seems quite content to have his passengers, Juanita and Ouida Watters, twins from Shreveport, La., doing the "toting" down the Midway for a change.

It's the first course, more than likely, that will set the final course of the summer dinner party.

Hot weather appetites need to be spurred by foods with delicate, appealing flavors, and the hostess who has invited guests for breakfast, luncheon or dinner should give especial care to the opening of the meal.

Chilled and glistening jellied bouillon, iced fruits or fruit juices, fish and vegetable cocktails are first favorites among hot weather appetizers.

Keep Dishes Cold

If the iced melon or fruit cocktail can be served in a well of ice, so much the better. However if this form of service is not convenient, see that the food remains on ice until just before serving. The dishes in which the frosty mixture is to be served also should be thoroughly chilled.

Fruit is refreshing in almost any form. A dozen richly colored, perfect cherries on a small white plate with a few green leaves for color contrast makes an individual serving few can resist.

Jellied consommé is delicate for hot summer noons or evenings. Highly seasoned, it stimulates the appetite much as a hot soup does. Since very cold foods have a tendency to dull the sense of taste, extra salt and pepper are needed for an iced consommé.

Jellied tomato bouillon has a tart piquancy. It should be quivering firm, but not stiff enough to hold its shape. A jelly that is too stiff is far from appetizing.

Gelatin for Thickening

Instead of standing for long hours over a hot stove, cooking down meat stock into jellies, the modern housewife uses gelatin as a thickening agent for bouillins and consommés. Canned soups and bouillon cubes also simplify preparation of these dishes.

A precaution to keep in mind in planning menus, either in summer or winter, is that flavors should be repeated. If the meal starts with tomato juice or jellied tomato bouillon, do not serve a tomato

When the first course consists of fruit, the salad should be of vegetables and the dessert a pudding or ice cream. A jellied tart for dessert would have little appeal following a jellied first course.

However, by planning carefully, you can take full advantage of the variety of fruits and vegetables available to offer your guests varied and interesting meals. It is wise to follow the grocer's advice and select each fruit and vegetable at the height of its season, when its flavor is best.

A macedoine of fruit is made with several varieties, prepared in tart, fruit-flavored jelly and poured so that each layer hardens separately. The molded brick is then cut in slices to serve.

Tomorrow's Menu

BREAKFAST: Baked apples, cereal, cream, minced ham on toast, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON: Iced bouillon, Melba toast, macaroni baked with cheese and tomatoes, brown bread, berries with sugar and cream, milk, tea.

DINNER: Macedoine of fruit, toned shoulder of lamb stuffed and roasted, broiled tomatoes, stuffed pepper ring salad, chocolate cup cake filled with mint ice cream, milk, coffee.

BITTER FOE OF CALLES ASSASSINATED IN MEXICO CITY CAFE

ACCOMPLISHED EXPPELLING OF EX-DICTATOR

ACCUSED PRESIDENT OF COMPLICITY IN BOMBING

MEXICO CITY, June 26. (AP)—Six bullets from an assassin's gun ended the political career of Manuel Favio Altamirano, 44, candidate for governor of Veracruz, in a crowded cafe early today.

While Altamirano, a federal deputy, sat with his wife, an unidentified man walked into the establishment, pointed a gun at him, and fired a pistol shot into his body.

The sniper walked out of the cafe, got into a waiting automobile and escaped.

A prominent politician and leading radical, Altamirano recently accused General Plutarco Elias Calles, former president, of complicity in bombing of a passenger train. Later he suggested exile of Calles and the former "Iron Man of Mexico" was expelled from the country.

Police began an immediate search for the assassin.

MARKET BRIEFS

NEW YORK, June 26. (AP)—A late rally in the rails shook the stock market out of its lethargy for a few moments today.

Buyers quickly changed their minds, however, and the list backed up to the irregular range it had followed throughout, the greater part of the session. Transfers were around 900,000 shares.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, June 26. (AP)—Despite assertions that no amount of rain would revive wheat in many sections of the Dakotas, wheat values plunged 2 1/2 cents lower here late today.

Minneapolis wheat quotations gave way 2 1/2 cents in some cases. The all important factor was apparent likelihood of a definite break-up of drought northwest.

What closed shaky, 1 1/2-2 1/2 cents under yesterday's finish July 93 1/2-5/8, Sept. 94 1/4-5/8, corn unchanged to 1 cent lower, Sept. 64 1/2-5/8, oats 1/2-1/4 down, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 5 cents.

Kiwanis Clubs Hear Reports At Convention

WASHINGTON, June 26. (AP)—Annual reports of the committees on boys and girls work and child welfare work were heard today at the closing session of the 20th annual convention of Kiwanis International.

Training of youths in the handicrafts and promoting hobby shows, music, drama, literature and painting are suggested activities. Agencies such as the Y. M. C. A., Junior Red Cross, Girl and Boy Scouts will be used in broad social programs for citizenship education, naturalization work for the foreign born, adult education, night schools and the providing of recreational facilities.

In the Texas-Oklahoma Kiwanis district the boys and girls work committee include: Guy E. McCaskey of Pampa; Rev. E. F. Deutch of Bay City, and O. A. Manske of Brownsville.

In vocational guidance work each Kiwanian is to aid students interested in his business or profession. Character training, back-to-school movement, health education and planned use of leisure are included in community-wide program for 1936.

Child welfare work includes medical and dental service among school children, orthopedic clinics, supervised playgrounds and juvenile court assistance. It is urged that all character building agencies and schools be used by Kiwanians in an effort to obtain parole for delinquents who are first offenders. Sam L. Mills of Dallas, chairman of the underprivileged child committee, will help in promoting these efforts in the Texas-Oklahoma district.

'Elmer' on Sadler Stage

"Elmer," entertainer at radio station KPND, will make a personal appearance on the stage at tonight's performance of the Harley Sadler shows.

"Elmer," who is Cecil Hunter in private life, is popularly known with KPND audiences as an imitator.

Personals

The Rev. L. Burney Shell returned to Pampa after spending 10 days in Temple with Mrs. Shell, who received medical treatment there. He took her to Plainview, where she is to visit several days with her parents before returning. Their daughters are in Plainview, also.

Jack Sutherland of Wichita, Kas., is spending the week-end at his home here.

Mrs. Claude Powell and Miss Bernice Kelley of Spencer, W. Va., are visiting here with their brothers, Harold and Bill Kelley.

Arle Carpenter of LeFors was a Pampa visitor this morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Tribble of White Deer were in Pampa Thursday evening.

Orville Franklin Coons of Pampa transacted business in White Deer yesterday.

Tom Kirby of Jericho was a Pampa visitor yesterday.

Alanreed, June 25—Funeral services were conducted yesterday for John T. Davis, 80, who died at the family home here Tuesday. He had resided in Alanreed since 1902.

Surviving Mr. Davis are his wife, six daughters, Mrs. Johnnie Huff, Plemons, Mrs. W. D. Gardner, Erick, Okla., Mrs. Nona McDonald, Pampa, Mrs. J. W. McKendree, Vega, Mrs. Noah Reed, Miami and Mrs. Hugh Reed, Mobeetie, one son, H. W. Davis of Alanreed.

both production and distribution in major lines of business resisted the usual seasonal influences this week and showed little recession of consequence from the previous week, Dun & Bradstreet reported today.

More generous fall commitments contributed to the expansion of wholesale volume, offsetting the light reorders for summer goods, while the pace of most heavy industries was maintained or exceeded, the agency reported in its weekly review of business. In the consumer division a more definite uptrend was evident.

Electric output, bituminous coal production, steel ingot production, and crude oil output were among the basic lines making a good show of stability, while freight car loadings advanced enough over the previous week to come to the year's top level, the review stated. Bank clearings were moderately lower but the margin over a year ago widened.

Retail distribution broadened despite adverse weather and drought in some sections. With the exception of some lines of women's wear, practically all items shared in the improvement, the report showed.

PAMPA TOPICS OF OUR CITY

Enjoy Fishing Trip
Five Pampans today still are talking of the fishing trip they took last week-end when they were the guests of Kirby Williams at Gravel Lake, near Chillicothe.

Members of the party were District Judge W. R. Ewing, District Clerk Frank Hill, Dr. C. H. Schulkey, Meeks Dodson, and W. R. Frazee.

Kirby, called "the perfect host" by the Pampans, is a brother-in-law of Dr. Schulkey.

The fishing party left Pampa on Saturday noon and returned Sunday night with a goodly catch of bass.

Court Notes

W. W. Adams, Wheeler county commissioner, was a visitor in Pampa today to transact business in district court.

Mr. Wheeler was here in the interest of four indigent Wheeler county children whose mother is ill and who have been deserted by their father.

Following conferences with District Judge W. R. Ewing and County Attorney Sherman White, efforts were to be made to place the children in homes. The children range in ages from four to 10 years.

Increasing National Prosperity

We are moving forward. "The credit for all this improvement is due to our leader, his splendid cabinet and the splendid congress which backed him to the last ditch. He is willing to take responsibility. He fears not those who are dissatisfied, nor do we fear criticism. The great masses of the people of the United States are well aware of our condition in 1936, and of our condition in 1935."

Horse Races To Be Held in City August 19 to 29

Date of Pampa's first big time horse race meet has been set for August 19 to 29, inclusive, by the Texas Racing Association, it was learned here yesterday. Some doubt has been expressed as to whether the local track and barns can be completed by that date, however.

Form Pampa, the horses would go to Borger for a meet set for September 2 to 12, inclusive. Date of the Amarillo event has been set for September 16 to 26, inclusive.

Pampa joined the Texas Racing Association at a meeting held in San Antonio in February. Eight of the smaller cities with tracks became members. Date of meets in each city was left up to the association. Gilmore N. Nunn was named Pampa representative. He has since left the city and a successor has not been appointed.

The city commission has asked the board of city development to name a committee to work out details and determine whether the race meet can be held this fall. B. C. D. directors are scheduled to meet Tuesday night to discuss the problem.

Already enlisted under a party platform promising amendment of the constitution, "if necessary" to meet national problems, shouting ranks of Democratic convention delegates joined in an hour-long marching demonstration as Judge John E. Mack of New York presented the name of Roosevelt formally for renomination.

The actual nominating vote was not expected until about midnight daylight time. No other name was presented. Over fifty governors and party leaders from every state lined up behind Judge Mack to second his tribute to the president as a friend of "the masses."

Both from the rostrum and in the howling Roosevelt demonstration on the floor the convention took shots at Governor Alf M. Landon of Kansas, the republican nominee.

A waving Kansas banner in the parade of celebrating delegates depicted the record of the Kansas on budget-balancing, attributing it mainly to federal relief funds.

JAYCEES MAKE TENTATIVE PLANS TO HOLD ANNUAL BASEBALL TOURNAMENT

COMMITTEE IS APPOINTED TO DRAFT PLANS

THREE-CITY SCHEME IS TO BE STUDIED BY BODY

Pampa will have a baseball tournament this year. It was decided at a meeting of directors and the baseball committee of commerce last night in the city hall.

The baseball committee was empowered to make plans and present them back to the directors. Among the decisions to be reached by the committee will be whether a guarantee for first place will be made or not, date of the tournament, amount of game prize, and other details.

At a meeting at noon today, the baseball committee voted to contact Amarillo and Borger Jaycees with the idea of staging a three-way tournament. The plan calls for a large guarantee for first place team. A game would be played in each city every night during the tournament with a championship series at the close.

Cities would split guarantee, expenses, and profits, three ways. Jaycee organizations in Borger and Amarillo will be contacted tonight by the committee, headed by Jack Dunn with Bob Knox, Harold Miller, Harry E. Hoare, Allen Hodges, Garnet Reeves and Dan McGrew as members.

Several baseball fans, not members of the Junior chamber of commerce, attended the meeting last night. They favored continuation of the tournament even though only Panhandle teams entered.

STEER HURLER WHIPS BUFFS IN 10-9 TILT

DALLAS BOOSTS LEAD OVER BEAUMONT SHIPPERS

(By The Associated Press)

Today's games.
Houston at Dallas.

Galveston at Fort Worth and San Antonio at Oklahoma City. (All night games.)

The Dallas Steers tasting the sweets of victory again, turned the show over to Jim Mosolf last night and let him almost single-handedly whip the Houston Buffaloes, 10 to 9.

The big rightfielder hit three singles and two doubles, brought home two runs and scored three times—including the tally that brought victory in the tenth inning.

The game also was a dragsy, three-run affair that saw seven pitchers, three for Dallas, parade to the mound. The victory put the Steers farther ahead of the Beaumont club, which yielded the leadership to Dallas Wednesday.

Scotchman Takes Lead in British Open Tournament

HOVLAKE, Eng., June 26. (AP)—Jim Adams, a 25-year old Scotchman who took the high road to England and turned professional, marched into the lead in the second round of the British open golf championship with a total of 144.

He shot a 73, one under par, today. He was second place yesterday with a 71.

He took the lead away from Henry Cotton, Alf Padgham, and Dick Burton, all Britons, who had posted totals of 145 earlier in the day. Cotton and Padgham had 72 today and Burton 71.

Gene Sarazen, the only American not posted, played the first nine holes in 37.

British Women Beat U. S. Aces

WIMBLEDON, Eng., June 26. (AP)—Betty Nuthall and Mrs. Allister of England today defeated the favored American Wightman cup combination, Carolin Babcock of Los Angeles and Mrs. John Van Ryn of Philadelphia, 6-4, 3-6, 6-3, in the first round of the all-England tennis championships.

H. W. (Bunny) Austin of England gained the quarter-finals of the men's singles with a 6-4, 6-1, victory over Andre Martin Legay of France. After dropping four love games in the first set, Austin turned in an impressive performance.

Champ Sees Max's Right to Title Fight

"So that's what exploded the Brown Bomber legend?" Jimmy Braddock (left) world heavyweight champion, marvels as Max Schmeling clinches the good right fist that upset Joe Louis. The next time Braddock and Schmeling, pictured at a luncheon in New York, meet they likely will be in the ring. They are scheduled to square off in a title bout at New York in September.

Baer-Braddock Battle For Centennial Is Being Pushed

Maxie Claims Hands Can Whip Champ Now

DALLAS, June 26. (AP)—Promotion heads of the Texas Centennial talked turkey today in molding together a proposition that would lure heavyweight Champion James J. Braddock and Maxie Baer here for a September title fight.

They had the word of Ancil Hoffman, Baer's manager, that he would give the exposition much thought if Braddock could be obtained and Hoffman added he would personally post the $200,000 guarantee for Braddock himself.

Talk between Hoffman and Frank Watson, exposition promotion director, reached the stage where Watson promised to enlarge the huge Cotton Bowl stadium to seat 70,000 fans. Both agreed a $25 top price would prevail if the fight is landed.

Hoffman, before leaving for Oklahoma City, said he was prepared to leave by plane for New York on a moment's notice to confer with James J. Johnson of Madison Square Garden, holder of Braddock's contract. The Garden has until August 1 to either smoke a peace pipe with Mike Jacobs, Twentieth Century promoter, and line up the Max Schmeling-Braddock fight, or find an opponent for Braddock.

Hoffman is certain Baer will land the Braddock fight if Jacobs and Johnson can't agree.

Maxie, meanwhile, shows you his mended hands and insists he's on his way back to the heavyweight throne.

"That guy Braddock thought I was playing for keeps when he took that title from me. Well, I just loaned it to him. My hands are getting better now and I'll knock him kicken' the next time we meet."

Hoffman said, and Maxie agreed, that Baer's main trouble has been removed—contract worries. Hoffman revealed Baer once had 75 per cent of his contract signed away but that recent court action left Hoffman his only manager, with a 33-1-3 per cent cut on Maxie's winnings.

SPORT SLANTS

From "Tinker to Evers to Chance"—the old infield trio of the Chicago Cubs, like scores of other famed combinations of past years, is scattered all over the nation.

After a filing at managing minor league clubs, Joe Tinker now operates a tap-room in Miami, Fla. Johnny Evers is general manager of the Albany International league club. Frank Chance lives in Tucson, Ariz.

Their active days past, former professional baseball stars, dating from the 70's and 80's up through the 1920's, are to be found, some wealthy and some poor, in hamlets and large cities throughout the country.

Old Homer Wagner of the Pittsburgh Pirates, generally regarded as in a class by himself among shortstops, is a Pirate coach and operates a sporting goods store in Pittsburgh.

Chief Bender, who won fame as a hurler for the Philadelphia Athletics in Philadelphia, Eddie Cocotte, whose pitching career with the Chicago White Sox was cut short when he was outlawed from baseball for his connection with the "Black Sox" scandal of 1919, works for a Detroit motor company.

One Became Governor

A former president of the National league, John K. Tener, is a Pittsburgh business man. Tener, star on the old Chicago White Stockings, was once governor of Pennsylvania. The three-fingered wonder-pitcher, Mordecai Brown, runs a filling station in Terre Haute, Ind. And Shoeless Joe Jackson, one of the greatest natural hitters the game has ever known, lives in Georgia.

When great infielders are mentioned, Larry Lajoie's name always comes up. Larry divides his time between Cleveland and Florida. He works for a brass company, Grover Cleveland Alexander, the hurling hero of many major battles who wound up with the House of David team, lives in St. Paul, Neb. One of the employes of Allegheny (Pittsburgh) county in Morris, a roommate of Billy Sunday in the 80's when both were Pittsburgh Pirates, Kid Elberfeld, peppy shortstop of the 90's, lives in Badsden, Ala. The Kid has opened several baseball "schools" for youngsters in the south.

Bill Lange, one of the speediest of outfielders in the 90's, is in the real estate business in San Francisco. Jerry Nops, a fine moundman of early professional baseball, operates a bar in Camden, N. J. Jack Glasscock, shortstop of the 80's and 90's, whose run broke the winning streak of Pop Anson's Colts at 21 straight in 1880, lives in Wheeling, W. Va.

Many Farmers

Old Jay Young, whose feats on the mound won him fame during the 80's and 90's and who carried on well into the twentieth century, farms near Peoli, O. Young, generally included in any list of all-time pitching greats, also has clerked in a 5-and-10 store.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

(By The Associated Press)

Gus Mancuso, Giants—His three-run homer in ninth broke up game with Pirates.

Schoolboy Rowe, Tigers—Let Athletics down with two hits in 13-1 victory.

Jimmy Foxx, Red Sox—Hammered out two homers in a 9-4 defeat of Indians.

Dolph Camilli, Phillies, and Virgil Davis, Cardinals—Former hit two homers and Davis drove in three runs with four-bagger as doubleheader was split.

Sharkey Whips Phil Brubaker

BOSTON, June 26. (AP)—Jack Sharkey, the man of a thousand feistic moods, projected himself back into the heavyweight picture today as the result of a close but convincing ten-round victory over young Phil Brubaker, California's latest contribution to the boxing wars.

Sharkey got up off the floor at Fenway park last night, gave the 22-year old Brubaker an artistic boxing lesson, and promptly served notice that he's serious about making a comeback, three years after dropping the world championship to Primo Carnera.

The upshot of this contribution to the diaz developments in the fight industry is that Sharkey probably will collide with Max Baer, now likewise on the comeback trail, in New York this summer.

ROAD RUNNERS PLAY TONIGHT IN AMARILLO

PARROTS' INFIELDER IS SERIOUSLY HURT IN FALL

The Phillips Parrots of Amarillo will be without their first baseman, Cordwood Davis, when they take the field against the Pampa-Daniger Road Runners tonight at Metro park in Amarillo. Davis fell from a loading rack at Borger yesterday and was seriously injured.

Last reports received here stated that Davis had a fractured leg, several broken ribs, and possible internal injuries. He is in a Borger hospital.

On first tonight against the Pampa birds will be Thomas, versatile utility player. The slender Amarilloan played first base on the first appearance of the Parrots here and he furred in a fine game. He is an exceptionally fast fielder and is dangerous at the plate.

Luke Coburn, righthanded fire ball artist, has begged Manager Frank Mulrooney to let him take the mound tonight. His wish will probably be answered and the birds will have to face the former Coltexo star, Joe Surface, who used to batter for the outfield, will be behind the bat.

Manager Sam Hale has been silent about his hurling selection. His full corps will be ready, however. Although Ledford and Dancy worked against Phillips of LeFors Wednesday night, neither hurried enough to keep him from doing duty tonight. Carl Stewart, Sam Gray and George Bulla will also be on the list as possible selections for starting duties.

The Road Runners hold three wins over the Parrots this season. The first game, played here, went to the birds 9 to 4, with Ledford besting Haddock, Tillery and Coburn. In a return game in Amarillo, Stewart, Bulla and Dancy divided the mound work to down the Parrots, 7 to 5. Dacus, Carraway and Hawkins worked for Amarillo. During the Panhandle Centennial here, the Road Runners took a 7 to 2 game from the Amarilloans. Stewart went the distance for the locals, besting Carraway, Amarillo's lean left-handed veteran.

On Saturday night and Sunday afternoon the Road Runners will be in Duncan, Okla., playing return games with the Halliburton Cementers of that city.

The Road Runners will play a holiday game in Borger on July 4.

Cubs Win Doubleheader As Cardinals Split Twin Bill

Chicago Within Half Game of League Leaders

By SID FEDER Associated Press Sports Writer

Anything can happen in this game of baseball, and particularly where the bewildering Brooklyn Beattles of Casey Stengel are concerned.

If you don't believe it, picture this set-up: A pitcher equalling major league strikeout record by fanning seven in a row, whiffing a total of 11 men in the course of the battle, allowing only seven hits—and then losing the ball game.

That happened to Van Lingle Mungo yesterday as he dropped a 5-4 decision to the Cincinnati Reds in the opener of a twin bill, all because the Dodgers couldn't hit behind him. The Reds also annexed the nightcap, 5-1.

The lowly Phillies shelled Dizzy Dean off the mound in four innings, winning the opener of their twin bill 13-4, only to have the Cardinals take the nightcap by the same count.

The Chicago Cubs took the first game of their doubleheader with the Bees, 1-0, although allowed three hits and pulled up to a bare half game from the league leading Cards by capturing the nightcap as well, 8-4.

The New York Giants climbed into third place over Pittsburgh Pirates with a 5-4 triumph on the strength of Gus Mancuso's three-run homer in the ninth.

In the American league the New York Yankees nosed out the White Sox 7-6. The Senators clubbed the St. Louis Browns 12-5, the Boston Red Sox, paced by Jimmy Fox's 20th and 21st homers, slugged the Indians, 9-4, and the Detroit Tigers bombarded the Athletics 13-1.

ROAD RUNNERS AND MAG BOYS PLAY SUNDAY

GAME WILL START AT 2 O'CLOCK AT PARK

The Little Road Runners will be out to win their third victory of the season from the Magnolia Peewees Sunday at 2 o'clock when the two Junior baseball league teams clash at Road Runner park in the first game of a doubleheader. Whittenburg will field another club against the Danciger boys.

The Little Road Runners, winners of the first half of the league, have defeated the Magnolias twice previously, and they are confident they can win the trick again. Paul Montgomery whose fast ball has been sufficient to tame all other teams in the league, will probably be on the mound for Danciger with John Cunningham catching. Amos Reed, who is expected to beat down mighty Sunday will take the mound for the Peewees with Doyle Aulds behind the bat.

An admission of 10 cents per person will be charged spectators. Proceeds will be used to buy equipment. Fans who believe that the Mags don't have a chance but better come, because it is not improbable that the Peewees may become the Max Schmeling of the circuit.

Next Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock at Road Runner park the Berger Christians will play the fledglings in a league game that was moved up to grant a request of Manager C. M. Spurlock of Borger who stated that two of his best players would leave town soon and he wanted to play the Road Runners before they left.

On Sunday, the now-hustling Hoover club will go to Fort Worth to play Mc's Pirates, and Manager John Shannon's 66 team will go from Phillips camp to Borger to get revenge for a recent defeat at the hands of the Christians.

CATS BUY PITCHER

FOR WORTH, June 26. (AP)—Pitcher Orville Armbrust was acquired here today by the Galveston Buccaneers from Dallas. Manager Jake Atz of the BuCs announced the deal but gave no details. Armbrust, a 25-year old right hander, is the eighth hurler on the Galveston staff. He has been in the Southern association the last three years.

GOODMAN LEADING

WICHITA, Kas., June 26. (AP)—Johnny Goodman, of Omaha, the defending champion, was three up on Fred Dold of Wichita at the end of the morning round of their 26-hole quarter-final match in the trans-Mississippi golf tournament at the Wichita Country club today.

The other three high-ranking amateurs in the running were Johnny Dawson, Chicago, runner-up to Goodman in the trans-Mississippi last year; Walter Emery, Oklahoma City, who came near upsetting Little in the 1935 national amateur; and Jack Manger of Dallas, Oddy enough, the pairings set each of these against a tournament dark horse, as follows: Goodman against Fred Dold, Wichita; Dawson against slender Maurice Hankinson, a putting wizard from Oklahoma City; Emery against O'Hara Weis, Dallas, and Manger against George Matson, Wichita.

Four Familiar Names in Meet

WICHITA, Kas., June 26. (AP)—Four familiar names in the realm of golf took up the challenge of a quartet of comparative newcomers today in quarter-final matches of the men's trans-Mississippi tournament.

Topping the list of the better knowns was Johnny Goodman, Omaha's former national open champion, shooting for his fourth "trans" title with a record of even par on his first three matches.

The other three high-ranking amateurs in the running were Johnny Dawson, Chicago, runner-up to Goodman in the trans-Mississippi last year; Walter Emery, Oklahoma City, who came near upsetting Little in the 1935 national amateur; and Jack Manger of Dallas, Oddy enough, the pairings set each of these against a tournament dark horse, as follows: Goodman against Fred Dold, Wichita; Dawson against slender Maurice Hankinson, a putting wizard from Oklahoma City; Emery against O'Hara Weis, Dallas, and Manger against George Matson, Wichita.

STATE WITNESS IN SNAKE SLAYING TRIAL COLLAPSES TWICE

HORROR TALE RECOUNTED BY EYE-WITNESS

BARBER LAUGHS WHEN EX-SAILOR GOES OUT OF ROOM

LOS ANGELES, June 26. (AP)—Charles Hope, hard-bitten ex-sailor, faced cross-examination today on his story of the death of Mrs. Mary James—a horror tale he had great difficulty in narrating.

Hope testified in the wife murder trial of Robert S. James, barber, that he helped carry the body of Mrs. James into the back yard and toss it in a fish pond after James subjected her to snake-bite and drowned her in a bathtub.

Twice he broke down on the stand, the last time yesterday, and as he was led from the courtroom, the defendant James laughed loudly.

"Every time Hope thinks of Mrs. James' body, he gets ill," said E. E. Cuff, Hope's attorney. "That happens outside the courtroom, too."

Hope's promise to collapse when his testimony touches upon exceptionally gruesome aspects caused postponement of his cross-examination until today.

The former sailor and hamburger stand proprietor has pleaded guilty to first degree murder in connection with the death of Mrs. James, who was the red-haired barber's seventh bride. They were married last July 19 and August 5 her body was found floating in the fish pond.

The state charges James killed her to collect $20,000 insurance.

Hope testified he purchased the rattlesnakes for James.

"She was roped to the breakfast table," Hope said in his version of Mrs. James' snake torture. "Her mouth and eyes were taped."

"Suddenly James grabbed her left leg. He held it over the box. He jerked the top off the box with a quick movement and stuck her foot in. The foot was only down there a little while. I heard a rattle and she writhed and threw herself against the straps. She groaned. 'Then James took her foot out of the box.'"

Hope pitched forward and was led out of the courtroom. When he returned he testified James expressed fear the rattlesnake venom would not prove fatal and the drowning followed.

Zioncheck Case Is Dismissed by Supreme Court

WASHINGTON, June 26. (AP)—Proceedings to determine whether Representative Zioncheck of Washington state is sane were dismissed today by Justice Daniel W. O'Donoghue of the District of Columbia supreme court.

His action was at the request of T. Gillespie Walsh, assistant corporation counsel for the district, who explained the congressman had been admitted to a private hospital at Towson, Md., for an indefinite period of treatment.

Mrs. Ruby Nix Zioncheck, his bride of a few weeks, and Mrs. Anna Nadeau of Seattle, Zioncheck's sister, told the court they had made suitable arrangements for his treatment.

ATTACK BEGUN

HONKONG, June 27 (AP)—(Saturday)—The official Kwantung news agency announced early today the forces of the Nanking central government in Southern Kiang province had begun an attack on Kwantung frontier defenses. Anti-communist forces have been ordered southwest from Szechuen and Kweichow, the report stated.

DRIVER MISSING

PAWTUCKET, R. I. June 26

—The driver of an armored payroll truck containing $19,000 disappeared today from main street and although the truck was found nearby nearly an hour later still locked, the driver was missing. Police said they believed he had been kidnaped.

Pat Hardage of Wichita Falls was visiting in Canadian Saturday.

Dr. M. C. Overton, of Pampa, will spend three weeks vacation on the Red river in New Mexico.

Rudy Vallee To Be in Amarillo On Monday Night

AMARILLO, June 26.—For his first personal appearance in Texas the "Vagabond Lover" is coming here next Monday, June 29. So it will be "heigh-ho" for music lovers and dancers at municipal auditorium and at The Nat. Amarillo's dance palace.

Rudy Vallee and his orchestra were booked for a concert and dance by the Tri-State fair to carry out a long-considered plan by the late Wilbur C. Hawk.

For his Amarillo engagement the celebrated crooner is bringing his full band, including six beautiful girls, the Stewart Sisters, the Three Graces and Judy Starr.

Three special cars, including a baggage coach for instruments and other equipment are required to transport the nation's No. 1 dance and night club band.

Incidentally there is a Texan with the orchestra—Red Stanley, who comes from Waco.

Reservations for the concert, which will begin at 8 o'clock next Monday night, are coming from every section of the Southwest. Miss Lois Black at the News-Globe has charge of advance orders, which may be made by mail or telephone.

AL SMITH NOT TO CHAMPION LONDON CAUSE

IS NOT EXPECTED TO TAKE STUMP FOR REPUBLICAN

NEW YORK, June 26. (AP)—While Alfred E. Smith steadily has refused to discuss publicly his future political plans, persons close to him have disclosed that he does not now have any intention of making campaign speeches in behalf of Governor Alf M. Landon.

The former governor was described as believing he had fulfilled his political duty for the time being in making known his views on the Roosevelt administration and on the course the democratic convention should follow, which were contained in the declaration he and four other anti-new deal democrats made public to the Philadelphia delegates.

For the present, his opposition to President Roosevelt's reelection will not be active, but passive. If he should make any political speeches in the coming months, according to those persons informed of his views, they would be made as an independent democrat who opposes the new deal and its return to power, and they would not champion the election of the Landon-Knox ticket.

These persons believed he would make no acknowledgement of the virtual invitation to speak in the Landon campaign, which came from Chairman John Hamilton of the republican national committee, who said he would be "ticked to death" if Smith would do so.

There were some in the circle close to Smith, however, who believed the 1928 democratic presidential candidate would make no political address and would continue his silence.

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "O give thanks unto the Lord, for he is good: for his mercy endureth for ever... He sent his word, and healed them, and delivered them from their destructions." (Psalms 107:1, 20).
The Lesson-Sermon includes also the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health With Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The principle of divine metaphysics is God; the practice of divine metaphysics is the utilization of the power of Truth over error; its rules demonstrate its Science" (page 111). Sunday 11 a. m.
Sunday school 9:30.
Wednesday 8 p. m. Reading room in church edifice is open Tuesday and Friday 2 to 4 p. m. The public is cordially invited to attend our services and use the reading room.

Chain Store Tax Arguments To Be Heard Next Week

DALLAS, June 26. (AP)—Attorneys today had 750,000 words of testimony and evidence to mull over in preparation for two days of arguments next week in the million-dollar chain store tax suit. Three weeks of presenting testimony and exhibits ended yesterday and Judge Royall R. Watkins recessed the case until next Thursday in order to give counsel time to study the voluminous records. Operators of approximately 1,000 stores in Texas joined in a consolidated suit attacking validity of the state's graduated levies on chain organizations. The tax, plaintiffs contend, is discriminatory. If the tax law were upheld the stores involved in the litigation would pay a total tax of about $1,000,000 a year.
Directors of the Shamrock Chamber of Commerce were guests of Ralph Wood of Shamrock Saturday night at the White House Country club at Canadian.

HUSBAND CONFESSES KILLING WIFE AND SMALL SON WITH AX

ROCKS THROWN AT HIM, SAYS MAN IN JAIL

FINALLY BREAKS DOWN AND CONFESSES CRIME

JOHNSON CITY, June 26. (AP)—Ernest Herwig, 44-year-old member of a pioneer Blanco county family, rested in a jail cell at Austin today while officials studied a statement he said he made admitting he killed his wife and her nine-year-old son, John Roebuck, with an ax.

District Attorney Carlos Ashley said charges had been prepared for filing today. The Blanco county official refused to reveal the detailed contents of the statement.

The bodies of Mrs. Herwig and the boy were found Wednesday night at the Herwig farm home. Ashley and county officials said Herwig's statement asserted he was in fear of his life and that his stepson helped his mother in the fight which ended in the slayings.

For nearly 24 hours Herwig stoutly maintained he was hoeing in the garden near the farm house and did not know how the double slaying occurred. He said he found the bodies in a bedroom and that a telephone had been ripped from the wall.

Ashley said Herwig finally agreed to make a statement after he was told officers were going to take him to the funeral of the dead woman and the child.

"For a minute, he acted like he wanted to go," Ashley said. "Then he said: 'I'd like to talk to you about something.' In a few minutes he was relating his version of the killing."

Sheriff King Caspairs, County Judge James H. Clark, Deputy Sheriffs C. A. Redding and Rip Collins of Austin and other officers said they were present when the statement was given.

Herwig was quoted as stating Mrs. Herwig previously had hurled stones

SCOUT NEWS

The Texas Boy Scout who submits, by July 4, the best 500-word essay on "The Texas Rangers" will be awarded an all-expense visit to the Texas Centennial Exposition, now in progress here. The winning scout will be given $25 in cash, after he arrives in Dallas, to spend as he sees fit. The all-expense tour and the cash prize are offered by King Vidor, native Texan, and director of "The Texas Rangers," a Paramount production based on the book of that name by Prof. Walter Prescott Webb of the University of Texas. A supplemental prize of a de luxe, autographed copy of the book will be presented the winner by Houghton Mifflin Company, New York publishers.

Boy Scouts of Pampa have been invited to enter this contest. James Pich, regional director for the Boy Scouts has supplied all scoutmasters with details of the contest.

Scouts who submit essays may receive assistance from scoutmasters, teachers or their parents. The essays should be mailed to Ranger Contest Editor, Texas Centennial, Dallas, Texas, before midnight on July 4.

55 Bills Signed By The President

WASHINGTON, June 26. (AP)—Legislation against strike-breaking and for expansion of the army air corps topped a list of 55 bills signed into law yesterday by President Roosevelt.

The list of approved measures was made public as the chief executive continued work on the re-nomination acceptance speech he is to deliver Saturday night at Philadelphia.

His signature made it a felony to transport, in interstate or foreign commerce, persons to be employed to obstruct or interfere with the right of peaceful picketing in labor controversies.

Another measure which he signed, authorizing purchase of additional airplanes by the army air corps, is intended to bring the force up to 4,000 fighting planes within five years.

Other approved bills included: A measure for the control of grasshoppers.

A bill restoring pension cuts for a number of veterans in the regular army.

DOUBLE PUNISHMENT

WATSEKA, Ill. (AP)—Gilbert Hilton not only suffered the pain of a bullet wound in the leg, but had to pay $25 for it.

As related in Judge John McCan's court, Hilton brandished a pistol. The gun was discharged, the slug passing through Hilton's leg and ricocheting off his wife's ankle.

The judge held that this was disturbing the peace and assessed a fine.

LETTERS ADDRESSED TO SAM HOUSTON'S SOLDIERS TURN UP

HOUSTON, June 23. (AP)—A packet of six letters intended for soldiers in the San Jacinto campaign which won Texas' independence, has turned up 100 years after it was given to a messenger.

The letters were brought to light in the Bexar Archives of the University of Texas, where the seals were first broken.

Mailed at various points in East Texas, the letters covered a variety of subjects.

The co-archivists, Mrs. Mattie Austin Hatcher and Miss Winnie Allen, have explained the background of the letters.

The packet, it seems, was given to a special messenger en route to the battleground in April, 1836. The messenger was delayed and did not reach San Jacinto until after Gen. Sam Houston's army had whipped Santa Anna's troops and dispersed. The letters were not again heard of until they turned up in the Bexar archives.

Contents of the letters, in part, were:

"Liberty, April 14th, 1836.

"Dear Brother: . . . I have not time to answer the particulars of your letter at this time, but will only say that we just received a letter here from Burnet informing us that 500 or 600 Mexs. have crossed the Brazos at Fort Bend without opposition and 1,000 is on the march to Brazoria and that they were expecting an attack at Harrisburgh immediately. . . . Affectionately yours, Joseph Bryan."

"Dear Somerville: Some damned rascal has stolen my horse—and I suppose he has gone to the camp—as I have no means of getting there myself—I must beg the favor of you to look out for him and should you find him, contrive some means of either sending him to me or of communicating with me as soon as possible. In haste, Truly, etc. Pat C. Jack."

"Brother Wyatt: I address you a line informing you of the state of affairs here together with your misfortunes, which is the circumstance of your negroes being killed on the Teinity by a Mr. Tarkington who lived there at that time but has since either gone to Liberty or the United States. . . . H. W. Haaks."

"Dear Valentine: . . . I think from the news that we hear in this part that I shall join the army in the course of a few weeks. . . . E. F. Watt."

"Dear Husband (Felix Newman): I embrace this opportunity of letting you know that I am well and hope that these few lines will find you the same. My dear, I wish that you would return to me as quick as you can. I have never heard from you since you left me till last evening I got your letter and I was happy to hear from you. . . . If you don't come home shortly I am afraid that you will never come. . . . Adey, Julia Newman."

Lady Took Cardui During Middle Life

Women who are entering middle life will be interested in the experience of Mrs. L. C. McDonald, of Paragould, Ark., who writes:

"I cannot say anything but good about Cardui. I think it is a grand medicine. I took Cardui during change of life. I was so weak, so nervous, I could hardly go. I just dragged around. I had fainting spells and would just give down. My back and head hurt. I knew I had to take something to give me strength. I read of Cardui. I took about seven bottles. It gave me relief and strength. I am now 60 years past, and can do a pretty good day's work in the house and garden."

"Thousands of women testify Cardui benefited them. If it does not benefit YOU, consult a physician. (Adv.)"

OTHER PEOPLE'S TROUBLES Looking at the mess the other chap is in doesn't help to solve our own problems. Yet Americans, caught between two political conventions and watching life nervously might be tempted to take a glance at Europe and Asia.

Russia, for the moment, is not sparring with Japan over the Mongolian border situation but is asking approval for increasing its Pacific fleet and talking to the United States about renewing its trade treaty.

Q. How many bridges comprise the James River Bridge System? W. L. A. The James River Bridge System embraces three separate bridge structures, connected by eleven miles of concrete approaches. The bridges are the Newport News-James River, across the mouth of James River, 25,271 feet long over open tidal water; the Crittenden, across Chickatauck Creek, 2,395 feet long; and the Nansemond River, across Nansemond River, 3,761 feet long.

Q. Please explain the acquisition of The Purchase in Kentucky. A. W. H. A. What is known as The Purchase in Kentucky is that portion of Kentucky lying between the Tennessee and the Mississippi Rivers, now comprising the counties of McCracken, Marshall, Hickman, Ballard, Fulton, Carlisle, Graves, and Calloway. It was claimed by the Chickasaw Indians in 1818. In October of that year the United States purchased the Chickasaw claims, a portion of which lay in Tennessee. The question of boundary between Tennessee and Kentucky then arose and was fixed by a commission in 1842. Ordinarily, the counties are referred to only as "The Purchase." They are sometimes called the Jackson Purchase because of the activity of Andrew Jackson as commissioner with Isaac Shelby in their purchase.

Q. What was Tintoretto the artist's real name? A. R. A. His real name was Jacopo Robusti, but he was called Tintoretto—little dyer—from his father's trade.

Q. When Washington lived on Market Street in Philadelphia, was his house in the shopping district? T. S. A. At that time the only business house near him was that of Henry Sheaff.

Q. Who wrote the words of the song beginning: If I have wounded any soul today, If I have caused one foot to go astray? J. W. A. The lines are from an Evening Prayer by Charles H. Gabriel.

Q. What was the "Brigade of Richelieu"? C. S. A. This was a society the purpose of which was to give expression to the dramatic ideas of the great Cardinal.

CHICAGO (AP)—Two gunmen abducted Joseph Kuhar, 38, and robbed him of $187. Then, he told the police, one seized his $80 watch and tugged. The watch was attached to a heavy gold chain and the chain to Kuhar's vest. The chain wouldn't give and neither would the vest. The robbers gave up and fled.

More than 1,800,000 admission tickets to the Texas Centennial exposition had been sold prior to the opening Saturday, June 6. This establishes a new all-time record for advance ticket sales to a world fair and is the barometer for the prediction that 12,000,000 persons will pay their way through the turnstiles before the closing on Nov. 29.

MAN ABOUT MANHATTAN

By GEORGE TUCKER NEW YORK—Down 48th street and into the dressing rooms of the Vanderbilt theater:

Leonard Silliman—Before he became a producer he used to be a professional epileptic fit thrower. . . . Gave Henry Fonda his first Broadway assignment. . . . He is the producer of the current revue at the Vanderbilt, "New Faces."

Jean Bellows—You'll like Jean. . . . She is the petite brunette who whisks across stage so adroitly in those filmy—you know. . . . Jean is the daughter of the late George Bellows, the noted artist who came from Ohio. . . . One of Bellows' best-remembered canvases was of the Dempsey-Firpo, brawl, sketched at that highly dramatic moment when Firpo whaled Jack out of the ring. . . . In this one he humorously included his own bald head.

Talks to parents Family Games

By BROOKE PETERS CHURCH Games are fun when Daddy or Mother or both parents play too. To play only with other children sometimes is very dull. There is no adult standard of excellence toward which to strive, and the dull level of mediocrity is not exhilarating. The possibility of exciting one's parents, or at least approaching their skill, gives added zest to any game.

As a general thing parents take too little advantage of the opportunity of meeting the children on their own ground. They will occasionally accompany the youngsters to the movies or to the park, but they take them on picnics and attend scout dinners with them, but they never think of spending an evening playing indoor games with them. They would rather listen to the radio, play bridge, or read a book.

An occasional evening gathered about the fire or the dining room or kitchen table playing with the children would probably prove of value to both old and young. There are dozens of entertaining games to choose from, many of which have the added advantage of being instructive as well as amusing.

Anagrams and kindred games are good for endless occasions, and are the finest vocabulary makers in the world. In one such game a five letter word is chosen, and five headings, such as, makes of cars, authors, musicians, minerals. The contestants must find five examples of each class, each beginning with one of the letters of the original word. There is a time limit set, and the winner is he who has filled in most of the words.

For smaller groups there are checkers, chess and a host of other "board" games which have lived almost from the dawn of time.

Games are democratic. They reduce young and old as well as rich and poor to the same level, and bring parents and children together in an equality which they seldom can achieve elsewhere.

Gypsy Weather BY MARGARET BELL HOUSTON

Chapter 43 SECRET DOOR "Roddie was dazzled," said Hope. "He said, 'Gee, Las, if I didn't know you so well I'd think you were the angel come to get me.' It was like Roddie—joking at such a time."

"He came through all right, and the first thing he did when he left the hospital was come out to see me. No, you didn't know. But I had lots of callers, your friends, and Rupert's. Roddie came on three or four afternoons. . . . I took him up to my room, and showed him the big book on the Joris family—I was reading it then. We worked out a puzzle in it, a puzzle that seemed to be about the tower. You could see some one else had worked on it. There were pencil-marks, and words had been erased. Some of the words were in Latin. I would never have noticed the puzzle, all buried as it was in the fine old print, if I hadn't been reading so carefully."

"We discovered the wall-safe by it, and studying the diagram, found the screw under the wall-safe's floor. There was a small crow-bar under there too, and a big key. It didn't say what they were for. We loved working it out. . . . When we turned the screw the door opened—the secret door. Only I didn't know then it was secret. Roddie had some matches, and we went out into the little hall, and down the stair, and along the passage. When we tried to push up the trap-door we saw what the key was for. There was a lock, and the key fitted it, but we couldn't turn it, couldn't unlock it. It had been locked so long. Roddie said he would come back another time with a flash."

"Of course I knew then I had found the secret stair, that it hadn't been burned. I knew you didn't know about it—that no one knew except the one who had marked and written in the book." "Grandfather," thought Dirk. "It was fun," she added. "It was an adventure Roddie and I were having. I meant to tell you about it as soon as we had finished working it out, but many things happened before that came to pass."

"Roddie brought his flash next time. I held it while he worked with the trap-door. He finally unlocked it, but we couldn't look it again. We unlocked the door, and came up out of Uncle Peter's grave. . . . The lock was under the lion's head. The long bronze plate was the door that fitted so smoothly into the stone. And there was the inscription. . . . It scared us both. Through the cedars we could see men working down on the tracks. It was bright afternoon. We scrambled down the steps as fast as we could, and pulled down the door. We didn't play with the secret any more. When we used that passage again it was not in play."

"I wanted to tell you about it. I wanted most of all because we hadn't been able to lock the trap-door. Any one who knew the secret—any one who guessed it—might get into the house. But by then I was positive you were watching me. I didn't think you'd believe we worked the puzzle out in fun. If you were suspicious of Roddie and me—if you had been told about Roddie—you would believe anything of him, anything wrong."

"It was that night in the library I became sure it was you watching me, having me followed. You came in on me that night right after I had been talking on the phone with Torrobin, telling him that Roddie was not able to ride in the rodeo, that I would get a physician's certificate saying he was not able. Roddie didn't know I was doing this. Roddie wanted to ride."

"Torrobin informed me that he and Roddie needed money. That perhaps Mr. Joris would help them out in that respect. I knew then that he knew I was married. But I knew, too, that if I bought him off now, I would have to do it again. . . . and again. Besides, Roddie was hooked, and meant to ride. I told Torrobin to go ahead. And I called up and got seats for the evening Roddie was to ride."

"You came in then, and there was a minute—perhaps you remember it—when I was about to tell you everything I was desperate, and I seemed to feel your sympathy, your desire to help me. . . . It was then I saw you watching me—watching me in the little mirror on the mantel. Watching me so. . . . I can't describe it. It was as if you were in ambush, and had almost caught me."

"You were nervous and on edge," Dirk said. "I know. But I knew then—what was true—that it had been you spying on me—not Rupert, not Torrobin."

"Poor Hope! No friend at all—no friend she knew about." "I had Olga and Pipolo. Only they were away. And I still had hopes of winning Rupert. Elinor's dinner showed me that same night. How foolish such hopes were. . . . The rodeo came, and it was agony seeing Roddie ride the animals no one else wanted. Afterwards I went down to the Garden in Roddie's absence, and saw Torrobin. I gave him a thousand dollars of the money Rupert had given me, and he asked me to go away and leave Roddie alone. . . . 'Chowdhury had been caught by them, and Torrobin wanted to make a get-away Torrobin had always said that if he were caught along with Chow, Roddie would go back to Texas. And how?' he said. He was always afraid he would tell about his game with Chowdhury. He was always reminding us of what would happen. He reminded me again that day."

"I had no intention of telling, and I knew that Roddie hadn't. I was happy because he was going away and leave Roddie. Adelaide's party was that night. I remember you said I seemed happy. I was happier than I had been for months. I had visions of a big ship taking Roddie and me away. It would take money, but somehow I would get it."

"And then they got Torrobin. They got him as he was boarding a ship himself. He's in jail. He'll never get out. They've got other things on him—a long record of things."

"I read it in the paper when I got back from Big Moose. I was certain it was Chowdhury who gave him away, for Roddie said he had kept in touch with her. But I was frightened, remembering Torrobin's threat, and I couldn't rest."

I knew, too, that if I bought him off now, I would have to do it again. . . . and again. Besides, Roddie was hooked, and meant to ride. I told Torrobin to go ahead. And I called up and got seats for the evening Roddie was to ride."

"That's what made you ill," said Dirk. "Fear for Roddie."

"I thought I would die. But I knew I had to live. . . . Roddie came that night—down by the secret way. It was a terrible night, snowing hard. That was the night Martin heard him. Roddie didn't want to stay. He said he was safe outside. But he stayed. He saw I would die of fear if he left me. . . . 'We carried bedding from a closet in one of the closed rooms. His pallet just fitted across the narrow passage—but you saw it. We found an old lantern, and a kerosene stove. I used to forage for food for him in the dead of night. And books for him to read. . . . 'Even if Torrobin sent them here—here to Lowrie Wood—no one knew about the passage and the stair. But I still wanted to get away—to go on a ship with Roddie. . . . 'Pipolo was back in town. Pipolo and Olga, Merritt's show had broken up down in Georgia, and they were here, planning to go to Finland and have their own circus. Roddie said they were at Fazzini's. . . . 'I slipped away one night—I knew Martin was watching me by day; by night too, for that matter, for hadn't he heard Roddie—but I went by the front. If I went by the back Roddie would know and go with me, and I felt he mustn't be seen."

More about the visit of the Rev. Mr. Devine comes out tomorrow.

PAMPA OF YESTERYEAR

FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY Mr. and Mrs. Renne Alfred Sr. of Montague county, widely known as the parents of Texas' young attorney general, who is now Gov. James V. Allred, came to Pampa to visit their son, Raymond Allred.

ONE YEAR AGO TODAY An unusual financial campaign, conducted entirely by mail, was started for the support of Boy Scout work in this area and dozens of contributors were received the first day in response to letters written by A. G. Post.

Ladies night brought a large crowd to Road Runner park for a game in which the Pampa team defeated Phillips of Borger, 7 to 2.

LANDON TO SPEND SUMMER ON LUXURIOUS COLORADO RANCH

TO 'SEE FEW' VISITORS AND WORK 'SOME'

DUDE RANCH LOCATED HIGH IN NATIONAL PARK

ESTES PARK, Colo., June 26. (AP)—With a trout stream in which speckled beauties could be seen frisking about almost within casting distance from his front porch, Governor Alf M. Landon of Kansas settled down today to enjoy his first vacation in three years.

The republican presidential nominee arrived yesterday from Topeka, Kan., with his family, and took possession of the beautiful McGraw ranch, isolated high in Rocky Mountain National park. They have leased the 1,200-acre tract of mountains, valleys and ranges for the summer.

Here Governor Landon plans to load in outdoors togs, ride, fish, read, "do some work" and "see a few visitors" until he returns to Topeka July 5 for a special legislative session.

His first visitor scheduled was Philip H. Rose of Ardmore, Penn., editor of "Country Gentleman," who was remaining over from a meeting here of the American Society of Agricultural Engineers.

Except for a quick dash to Topeka for the nomination notification ceremonies July 23, Mrs. Landon expects to remain on the ranch until September with the three children—Peggy, Ann, 19; Nancy, 16, nearly 4, and Jack, 2½—and her mother, Mrs. S. E. Cobb.

The modern and well-furnished ranch houses are on property owned by Mrs. Irene McGraw, the widow of John J. McGraw, a wealthy Philadelphia construction man.

Both the governor and Mrs. Landon like fishing, and Mrs. Landon reputedly baits her own hook.

Although Mrs. Landon has not ridden horseback since a serious operation a little more than a year ago, she is planning to join the governor in exploring mountain trails.

HAVING FINE TIME
ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (AP)—Eastern friends of Dr. John S. Tome, Hanover, Pa., may expect some mail from him any day now. He was found the town he sought.

Handing the chamber of commerce secretary a map with a town encircled he said "I have some letters to write from this place. How do I get there?"

The town was Tome, N. M.

ARE YOU ON THE BORDERLINE OF ACTUAL SICKNESS?

Constipation* Causes Discomfort, May Lead to More Serious Troubles

You may have days, perhaps even weeks, when you feel below par. Not sick enough to go to bed, but certainly not at your best. The trouble may be with your diet. Poorly balanced meals can affect your physical condition.

Meals which lack proper "bulk," for instance, may lead to common constipation. Continued neglect of this condition causes discomfort, may lead to headaches, poor appetite, listlessness.

Guard against common constipation.* Make sure the meals you eat contain plenty of "bulk." Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is a generous source of effective "bulk." Within the body, it absorbs moisture, forms a soft mass, and gently cleanses the system.

Two tablespoonfuls daily, with milk or cream, are usually sufficient. Stubborn cases may require ALL-BRAN either as a cereal, or cooked into muffins, breads, etc. Eat it regularly for regular habits.

ALL-BRAN is guaranteed by the Kellogg Company. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

*Constipation due to insufficient "bulk"

THEORY THAT BUSINESS IS BAD IN ELECTION YEAR TURNS OUT TO BE ANOTHER FAIRY STORY

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN WASHINGTON, D. C. June 26.—As the nation is about to enter the second half of the epochal election year of 1936 a sort of inventory of how much progress has been made back toward recovery is in order. There is excellent evidence to show that the time-worn theory that business always is bad in election years is a folk-myth which belongs to days long past.

Cost of Living The cost of living is a matter of concern to 95 per cent of the people and it is to be noted that the general figure follows the general trend of the others.

Germany Bids for Championship Bout

FRANKFURT-ON-MAIN, Germany, June 26. (AP)—Walter Rothenburg, German sports promoter, today offered Mike Jacobs, the New York promoter, $150,000 for the contract for the proposed heavy weight boxing title bout between champion James J. Braddock and ex-champion Max Schmeling, knock-out conqueror of Joe Louis.

Rothenburg, promoter of the Schmeling-Svein Hamus fight last year, said he intends to stage the title bout in Berlin in the Olympic stadium after the international sports carnival August 1-16.

"Jacobs will do better business transferring the world's heavy weight light to Germany and accepting a flat sum as his share in the deal," declared Rothenburg.

Although officials and Rothenburg declined to admit it, German government officials generally were believed to be backing the plan to stage the bout. It was recalled that Rothenburg was granted permission to deposit $25,000 in the United States for Hamas at a time when Germany's foreign exchange reserves were low.

SOUTH VS. WEST CHICAGO, June 26. (AP)—The national intercollegiate singles tennis championship shaped up today as a battle between the South and Far West. In the only semifinal match on today's program, Ben Dey of Stanford meets Vernon John of Southern California. Tomorrow Ernest Butler of Tulane, seeded on 1, faces Ramsay Potts of North Carolina.

Japanese Denies Troops Menaced Peiping Nationals PEIPING, June 26. (AP)—Foreigners in Peiping must understand the imperial Japanese flag is sacred, Major Takao Imai, assistant military attaché, declared today.

The Japanese officer said a reply to the American ambassador's protest against rude treatment of nationals during a military demonstration Tuesday would be made in a few days.

The flag has special spiritual significance to the Japanese soldiers and must be shown the greatest respect, he asserted.

"Where it goes, they go desperately," he said, adding that he personally did not believe soldiers threatened passers-by with bayonets.

The military officers assured that hereafter the Japanese troops would be "especially careful" to prevent a recurrence of the incidents.

LUKE, Author of the Book Luke was a Gentle, Fair, and lists him among the Gentiles (Col. 4) and he was most probably Greek rather than Roman. It is surmised by some that he was a brother of Titus. If he was a native of Antioch in Syria (and possibly a slave boy in the family of Theophilus) he may have been one of the earliest members of that great church which was the first to preach the gospel to the Greeks and admit them to its membership. Luke was the companion of Paul on his second and third missionary journeys; also at Jerusalem and Caesarea and on the way to Rome, and during his final imprisonment at Rome (as noted in his last letter—2 Timothy) by profession Luke was a physician and he was educated in one of the great medical schools of the time, probably the one near Antioch or the one near Tarsus. He must have aided Paul among the sick at Melitua on his main medical ministry was to Paul himself who needed the continuous attention of a physician

Airplane Ride Inside Exposition

One of the unique features of the Texas Centennial Exposition's exhibits in Dallas is an actual size airplane cockpit with a panoramic view in front which gives the illusion of motion. Leaders of the visitors said practically every store in Gainesville had been closed and even the daily newspaper shut up shop.

The circus, the only one of its kind in the nation, with all performers private citizens and amateurs, was scheduled to run three nights in the Cotton bowl.
