

Army Training Bill Is Voted To Senate Floor

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5 (AP)—The military committee voted 12 to 8 today to send to the senate floor the Burke-Wadsworth compulsory military training bill requiring the registration of approximately 13,000,000 men from the ages of 21 to 30, inclusive.

Committee approval cleared the way for senate consideration this week of the measure, which bore the personal endorsement of Secretary of War Stimson and was recorded by the budget bureau as being in accordance with President Roosevelt's program.

Considerable opposition to the bill was foreshadowed in the senate, despite the fact that only three votes were recorded against it in committee. Senator Downey (D-Calif.), who was present at today's committee meeting, did not vote.

Senators Johnson (D-Colo.), Thomas (R-Idaho) and Lundeen (FL-Minn) voted "no," Lundeen voting by proxy. Machinery for registrations could be set in motion if and when the bill becomes law, but President Roosevelt could not order any draftees into service before congress appropriated money for their training.

Army officials have said they hoped to call 400,000 men for service by October, if the bill is enacted. The bill contained a provision permitting men from 18 to 35, inclusive, to enlist voluntarily in the army for one-year training as an alternative to conscription.

The committee acted shortly before the senate began work on a related issue—presidential authority to call the national guard into active training. Senators recorded in favor of the bill were Sheppard (D-Tex.), Reynolds (D-NC), Thomas (D-Utah), Minton (D-Ind), Lee (D-Okla.), Hill (D-Ala.), Chandler (D-Ky), Smathers (D-NJ), Austin (R-Vt.), Schwartz (D-Wyo), Gurney (R-SD), and Holman (R-Ore).

Later, committee attaches announced that Senator Bridges (R-NH), absent, asked to be recorded in favor of voting for the bill. Senator Slattery (D-Ill.), also absent, was not recorded as voting. The committee amended the measure, at the suggestion of Senator Austin, to provide that members of any army or naval reserve corps should be accorded the same treatment as conscripts in obtaining reemployment after service.

It rejected, by a seven to four vote, a proposal sponsored by the war department that divinity students be exempted from compulsory service. Opponents of conscription talked of trying to amend the national guard bill to provide a system of voluntary one-year enlistments in the army. This, they contended, would be an effective substitute for compulsory training.

Basically, few objections were voiced in advance to empowering the president to order out the guard and the officers' reserve corps for a year's intensive drill. Senator McNary of Oregon, the Republican leader, predicted the measure would be approved without material change. Senator Burke (D-Neb), co-author of the conscription bill, was confident with administration support evident that it would pass the senate with no more than 20 opposing votes.

A senate appropriations subcommittee, meanwhile, began consideration of the house-approved $4,900,000,000 defense bill. Jap Ambassador To File Third Protest In London

LONDON, Aug. 5 (AP)—Satoru Makihara, one of two prominent Japanese business men arrested in London last Friday, was released tonight.

LONDON, Aug. 5 (AP)—A Japanese embassy spokesman declared today that the embassy considered unsatisfactory Britain's explanation of the arrest of two prominent Japanese business men in London.

Ambassador Mamoru Shigemitsu meanwhile was busy preparing a third protest for submission to the British foreign office. In addition to Satoru Makihara and Shunroku Tanabe, London representatives respectively of the powerful Mitsubishi and Mitsui interests who were arrested Friday night, it was understood the protest would include other Japanese detained throughout the empire.

Prior to the ambassador's new conference with Foreign Secretary Lord Halifax, the Japanese consul visited Makihara and Tanabe.

Four Japanese, two of whom have been ordered deported, are being held in London. A Hong-kong merchant, taken into custody Saturday, made the number arrested throughout the empire total nine.

British police in Rangoon said the three arrested there under defense regulations were Ichiro Orihata and Naoto Kokubu, each the owner of a company bearing his name, and Tadao Oba, a trade agent.

The British foreign office announced today that Japan had reported release of three more of the Britons seized in Japan and Korea in what Tokyo officials described as a drive against an "espionage network." Seven still are detained.

The British offered as at least partial substantiation for authoritative denials they arrests are in retaliation for the Japanese drive, the disclosure that the two Japanese ordered deported were placed under arrest almost two weeks before the Japanese drive began.

The two ordered deported were reported by Japanese to be Takayuki Eguchi, employe of the Bank of Commerce, and Mrs. Milly Yoshii, German-born wife of a Japanese painter.

FD Calls For Gov't Unity

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5 (AP)—President Roosevelt called today for unity between federal and state governments in strengthening national defense and uncovering subversive activities.

"And the common defense should be through the normal channels of local, state and national law enforcement," he said in a message to the federal-state conference on law enforcement problems arising from the preparedness program.

"The untrained policeman is as ineffective as the untrained soldier. The amateur detective soon becomes a fussy and malicious busy-body.

"We must be vigilant, always on guard, and swift to act. But we must also be wise and cool-headed, and must not express our activities in the cruel stupidities of the vigilante. There is where the fifth column form the line."

Attorney General Jackson read the president's letter to governors, attorneys general and other state officials here for the conference. The meeting is designed to promote closer cooperation in guarding against spies, saboteurs and fifth column activities.

A report made public in advance by J. Edgar Hoover said that the FBI investigated 16,885 defense cases during the year ended June 30, against 1,651 in the previous year and 250 in 1938.

RIVAL PARTIES COMPLETE SET-UPS FOR CAMPAIGNS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5 (AP)—Three months before the November election, democrats and republicans are just completing their organizations for one of the shortest presidential campaigns in recent American history.

Both parties are planning to crowd into 10 or 11 weeks the oratory and doorbell ringing to which they previously devoted upwards of four months. Early indications, however, are that the contest will not be lacking in intensity.

Even as the republicans finished the framework of their campaign set-up this weekend, their general counsel, Henry F. Fletcher and Attorney General Jackson, clashed over an interpretation of Hatch act limits to political contributions. Fletcher made public an opinion contending that the act's $5,000 maximum on personal campaign gifts covered only contributions to a party's national committee or its senatorial or congressional committees.

German Activity In French Ports Keeps Britons Alert

Successes In Night Attacks Are Reported

LONDON, Aug. 5. (AP)—Increasing Nazi activity at French channel ports, reported by British bombers returning from raids deep into Germany, kept England on the alert today as tides and weather combined to offer Adolf Hitler more favorable conditions for his long-promised blitzkrieg.

Authoritative sources indicated the Royal Air Force, attempting to smash any invasion before it could be launched, was hurling more and more planes into nightly attacks on German industrial centers, troop concentrations and channel bases.

The air ministry reported, meanwhile, three Messerschmitt fighters were shot down this morning as Spitfire pilots continued to carry the war into the Nazi camp.

Two of the Messerschmitts were shot down on the far side of the English channel, within range of German anti-aircraft guns, by a squadron of nine Spitfires, the air ministry said.

"Almost at the same time, another Spitfire squadron shot down a third Messerschmitt 109 fighter on the English side of the channel," an official description of the battle added.

The British reported the loss of one plane. "It was four miles north of Calais that the first squadron of Spitfires met the enemy," the account said. "There were five of the enemy patrolling, as they thought, in comfortable security."

"The squadron leader began the attack. He fired a burst into one of the Messerschmitts as it dived to escape. He saw it hit the sea. So did a fellow pilot.

The air ministry said the same squadron leader in today's battle "did well" in the Dover air clash July 29, when he accounted for one Nazi bomber and one fighter.

Some 20 German planes were engaged in the scrap on this side of the channel, in which one Nazi craft was downed. The British pilots said that within four minutes they had cleared the skies of Germans.

New Leaders The government, meanwhile, moved to strengthen Britain's defenses by placing the home guard—now 1,500,000 strong—under new leadership, replacing with younger officers a handful of elderly generals whose ideas of war were described as "highly antiquated."

At the same time the civilian population surrendered its traditional August bank holiday to speed the work of producing munitions and vital war supplies.

Saturday night and Sunday morning German raiders bombed the Thames Estuary, Wales and eastern Scotland, but no casualties were reported.

Royal Air Force pilots told of machine-gunning German troop concentrations at the French port of Abbeville, of bombing truck convoys and an armored train and blasting barges near Gravelyne and Dunkerque.

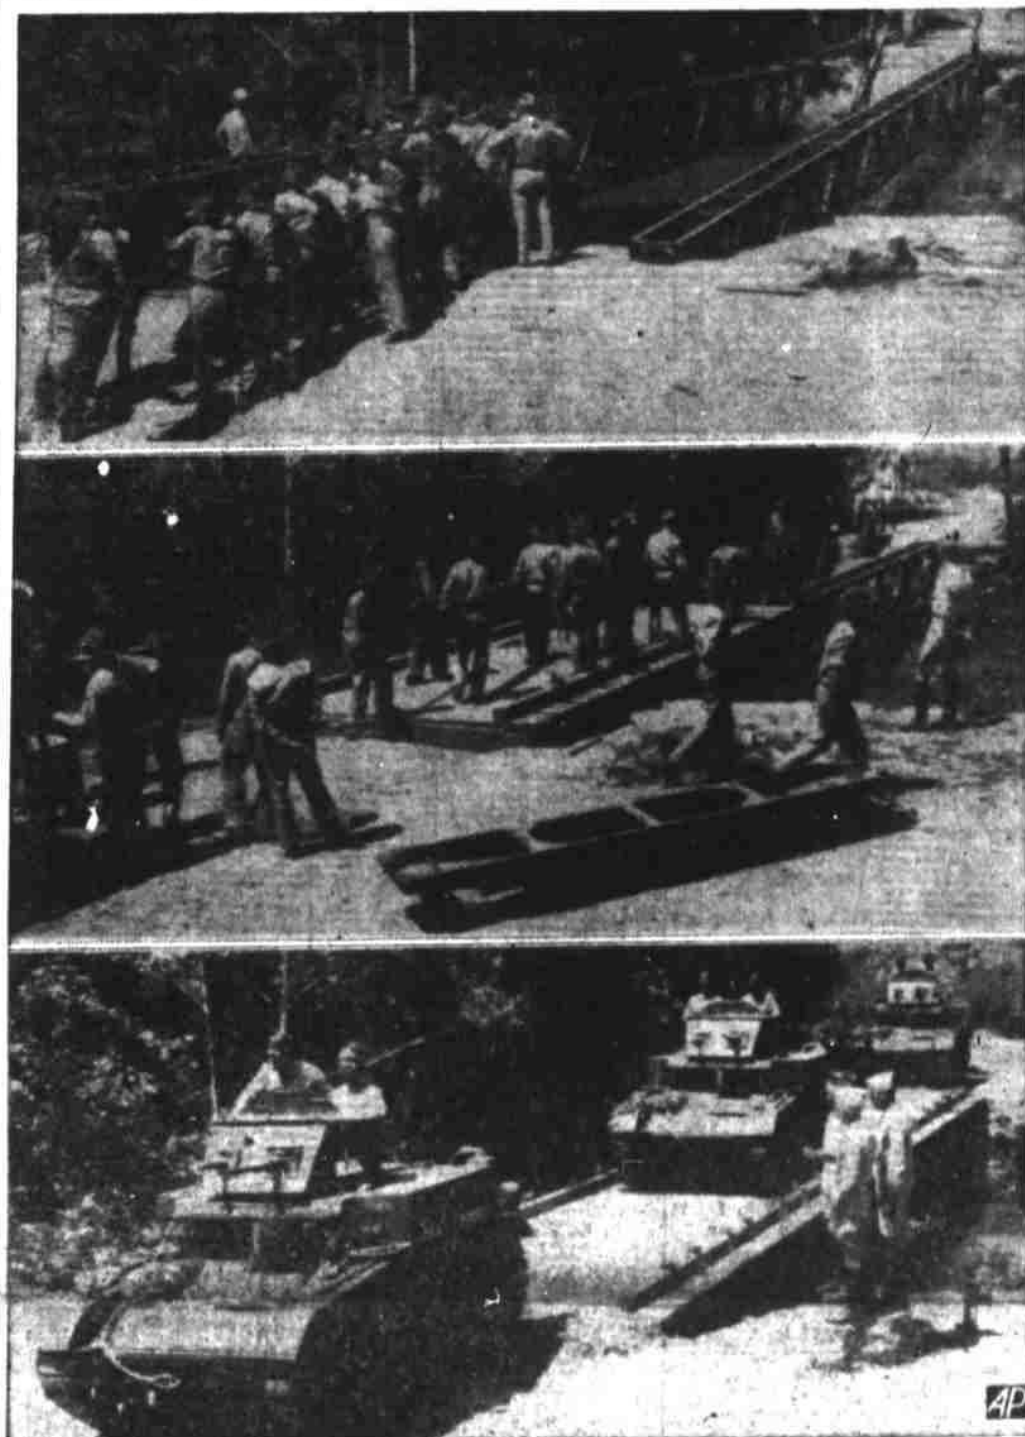

An air ministry communique said German raiders bombed the vital synthetic oil plants in the German industrial area.

The admiralty announced the loss of the armed freighter Cape Finisterre in a tangle Friday with four German planes, one of which was shot down.

Queen Elizabeth observed her 40th birthday yesterday, spending a quiet day in the country with King George and Princess Elizabeth and Margaret Rose.

Thirty Cars Are Pledged For Initial Rodeo Booster Trip

Weather Break Is Indicated

Big Spring and part of West Texas hoped Monday for a break in the weather and looked anxiously for showers to save withering crops.

During Monday morning sprinkles from light clouds brought 0.1 of an inch moisture. However, the weather continued hot. Sunday produced another scorcher, the thermometer topping 99 degrees. At 6:30 a. m. the mercury column was barely under 80 degrees.

Over the state there was hints the elements were cooking up a diversion in the way of thunderstorms, a cool wave and a Gulf storm.

West Texas, where temperatures have been hot enough, almost, to barbecue some of the steers abundant in the region, may feel by tonight the soothing effects of a cool wave sliding off the Rockies. Likewise, the weather bureau predicted, there may be thunderstorms over the region.

Off the Gulf coast, meanwhile, a storm kicked up the sea. Though it apparently will go inland east of Texas, its effects may be felt elsewhere. East Texas may get a few thunderstorms.

However, today's maximums were expected to rise to the simmering levels of the weekend. Seymour with 109, Memphis with 108 and Uvalde and Laredo with 107 were the warmest in Texas. In most places the temperature was at or over 100. After 103 degree weather Sunday, Ballinger reported about the lowest morning reading of 84 degrees.

Approximately 30 cars had been lined up at noon Monday for the first of four booster trips Tuesday for the seventh annual Big Spring Cowboy Reunion and Rodeo, Aug. 14-15.

C. L. Howe and Tom Bradshaw, in charge of the trip, appealed for others to join in the caravan which will set the pattern for others scheduled on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. The initial trip, which will swing to the east and north, is being sponsored by the Lions club.

Wednesday the Kiwanis club, with L. M. Brooks in charge, will take out for the west and south. Thursday the American Business club motorcade goes to the northwest and the Rotary concludes the series Friday with a trip south and east.

MORE THAN 20 BILLIONS MAY BE VOTED FOR-GOV'T COSTS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5 (AP)—The budget bureau, adding up pyramid defense outlays, round today that pending appropriations and contract authorizations may push the congress' spending total above $20,000,000,000. This figure would not only be the largest in peacetime history, but would be more than double the amount actually spent in the last fiscal year. Statisticians found that congress already has appropriated $13,254,052,124 and has authorized contracts for an additional $1,060,487,000. These funds cover all regular governmental costs, as well as special defense items. Main pending items are an appropriation estimate of $2,287,184,800 and a contract authorization request of $2,732,900,000, both in the latest defense bill. Altogether, completed and pending expenditures projects total $19,523,783,000. Extra funds to pay for extraordinary training of the national guard and for conscription would be required if congress approves these military measures. They probably would put the total over See BILLIONS, Pg. 6, C. 8

E. C. NIX FINAL ROUND VICTIM, 2 AND 1

COLORADO CITY, Aug. 5 (AP)—Dick Martin, triumphed over E. C. Nix, Colorado City, 2 and 1, in the finals of the Colorado City invitational golf tournament here Sunday afternoon after winning his way into the last round by defeating Shirley Robbins, Big Spring, 4 and 3.

Nix ousted Obie Bristow, also of Big Spring, 6 and 5, for the right to face Martin in the finals.

Martin shot even par golf at Robbins to win. The Big Springer was one down through nine and Martin increased that advantage early after the turn.

Bristow, tournament medalist, was off his game and never had a chance with Nix.

SHIRLEY ROBBINS, manager of the Big Spring country club, lost out in the semi-final round of the Colorado City invitational golf tournament Sunday morning to Dick Martin, Dallas, 4 and 3.

DEFEATS MRS. SHOWS, 2 UP, IN FINALS

MIDLAND, Aug. 5.—Mrs. Alice Phillips, long driving Big Spring star, cut quite a figure in the Midland women's invitation golf tournament, which ended here Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Phillips defeated Mrs. C. E. Shows, Odessa, two up over 36 holes for the title after winning medalist honors over the first 27 holes of play. Earlier in the meeting she had won the long driving contest and was runner-up in the two-ball foursome, a handicap affair.

Mrs. Shows and the Big Spring woman had tied for medalist honors Thursday and agreed to decide that honor over the first 18 holes of play Sunday morning. They were tied with 9's at the end of 18 holes. Alice turned in a 45 on the next nine to win the laurels, however.

Mrs. Shows put on a stiff rally on the last eight holes after going four down but simply did not have the shots to turn the tide.

Mrs. Phillips succeeds Mrs. Fran Hicks also of Big Spring, as champion. Mrs. Hicks did not compete this year.

Mrs. Harry Staicup, Big Spring, captured first flight honors with a two up victory over Mrs. Sonny Harrkridger, Midland. She also won the putting contest.

Mrs. Estelle Bristow, Big Spring, won first flight consolation laurels while Serena Tate, Big Spring, was the winner in the foursome two-ball play.

Rebs To Make Supreme Bid

By The Associated Press

The Dallas Rebels have a good chance to gain ground on the Oklahoma City Indians this week in their battle for fourth place in the Texas League and a berth in the Shaugnessy play-off.

Before returning to Oklahoma, the Indians must meet the pace-setting Houston Buffs and the runner-up San Antonio Missions. The Rebels will be jousting with third-place Beaumont and sixth-place Shreveport.

Dallas almost picked up a game on the Redmen last night but finally dropped the second half of a doubleheader to San Antonio, 3 to 2. The Rebels took the first game, 7 to 1.

Oklahoma City beat Beaumont 5 to 1 in the first game of a bargain bill, but won the nightcap, 4 to 1.

Houston swept a doubleheader with the skidding Tulsa Oilers, adding to young Howard Pollet's long victory string with an 8 to 1 win in the first, and rallying for a 2-1 decision in the second.

Fort Worth's seven-run uprising in the seventh frame gave them an 8-7 victory after Shreveport had copped the opener, 10 to 4.

HAGEN AGREES TO TEST WITH THE AMATEURS

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 5 (AP)—Mr. Golf himself, Walter Hagen, came out today with an endorsement of the plan to send his Ryder cup professional against the 10 best amateurs in the land—but he insisted that the amateur team named for this suggested charity match be named by the United States Golf association.

"I think the idea of a Ryder cup amateur battle is a great one," said Hagen, perennial captain of the Ryder cup forces.

"In view of the cancellation of the International Ryder cup matches and the Walker cup matches, which were to have been played this month, I think a professional-amateur duel would do much toward keeping alive the idea of international competition."

Barton, who pitched part of the way, collected five safeties, including two doubles, in six tries while Savage hit safely four times in five attempts. Two of Savage's drives went for two bases.

Pete Presley had a home run inside the park for the Devils.

W. D. Berry toiled on the hill for the Devils after Barton checked the job.

The Danielmen hopped away to a five run lead in the first inning, fell behind in the third, then rallied for eight runs in the fourth to all but settle the issue.

Guldahl Wins At Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 5 (AP)—Little Ben Hogan failed to win a championship on professional golf's midwest summer program, but the little star picked up enough money to maintain easily his lead among the year's big money winners of the game.

Hogan, who finished in a tie for fourth place yesterday in the final championship of the Midwest Professional Golfers association schedule, the Milwaukee open, has won $9,405 since January 1. His fourth place tie earned him $375 as big Ralph Guldahl of Chicago walked off with first money of $1,300 on a great finish—a final round of 68 for a 72-hole total of 268.

Jimmy Demaret, Houston, Tex., is second on the money-winning list with $8,477.

SOX READY FOR TEST AGAINST THE LEADERS

CHICAGO, Aug. 5 (AP)—This is the week the hard-bitten Chicago White Sox have set aside for a bit of giant-killing.

The unprovable but aggressive chaggers of Jimmy Dykes are never so happy as when knocking off some of their highly-touted American League rivals—and that's about the best thing they do.

Beginning today the Sox engage second place Cleveland in four games in three days and follow up with five games in three days against league leading Detroit. Sandwiched in between is a night exhibition game at Waterloo, Ia., Thursday.

The Sox, put together by Dykes in bargain basement transactions, have been playing superior baseball the past few weeks, climbing from far below the 500 mark to fourth place. Now they have their sights trained on third, two full games away, but won't admit to any higher hopes.

"Say, all we're trying to do is stay in first division," barks Dykes. "Nobody thinks we should even be in fourth place. Everybody tells us we haven't any business in first division."

But somehow these boys don't believe it. They're really got the spirit. We're taking each team just as we come of it."

The Sports Parade

—By Hank Hart—

The publicity department of Southern Methodist university has forwarded this corner a pamphlet of football information about Mustang prospects for the 1940 season.

In part it says:

"PROSPECTS—Coach Matty Bell has 22 of his 1939 lettermen, who lost only to Texas A&M, Notre Dame and Arkansas, returning for the 1940 campaign. Eight lettermen were lost by graduation, five of which were starters. Of the 22 returning lettermen, four are guards, three are tackles, five are ends, one is a center, and nine are backs. In addition, Coach Bell has 14 last year's squadmen and 20 sophomores to round out his 1940 roster. The Mustangs and Baylor finished in a second place tie last year in conference behind the undefeated Aggies. The Aggies, with very few losses, are the standout choice to repeat in 1940 but Baylor, SMU and Texas are definitely contenders. The SMU attack will be built around Ray Mallouf, senior triple threat tailback and Preston (Presto) Johnson, sensational sophomore fullback of the 1939 season. If reserves come through in several positions, the 1940 Mustangs could be a great team.

Granted Charter

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—The Frontier Junior Rifle club, Big Spring, has been granted a charter by the National Rifle association, the national governing body of the sport of target shooting, according to an announcement made today at the headquarters of the association here. The club has a charter membership of eighteen.

The officers are: Billie Mims, president; Richard Gaubie, executive officer; Halcy Scott, secretary, and Bingley C. Barron, instructor.

This club will adhere to the national organization's rules and instructions, which have served to give rifle shooting competition the best safety record of any sportsman's sport. It is one of 1,500 active rifle and pistol shooting clubs affiliated with the National Rifle association.

OILERS TO BE FAVORED OVER THE TIREMEN

The Major-City softball league crown the McGeehee Stationmen were in 1939 will be at stake tonight when Standard's Oilers and the Phillips Tiremen square off in the first bout of best-two-of-three game series.

The Oilers, victors over the Tiremen in two successive games last week, are heavy favorites to cop the full season's bunting in as soon a time as is possible.

The Tiremen failed to approach their early season form last week. Too, they will be without the services of their star flinger, Lefty Morris, tonight.

E. Cunningham will probably do mound labor for the Phillips crew tonight while the reliable Bobby Savage will work for the Oilers.

The Oilers will probably use Chock Smith behind the dish, Steve Baker at first, W. D. Berry at right short, Johnny Miller at second, Lewis Heugel at left short, and Bob Martin at third and Leonard Morgan, Woodrow Harris and George Neel or V. G. Doyle in the outfield.

Ted Phillips, Tiremen's manager, is expected to send a team composed of Johnny McGee, catcher, Leonard Bostick, first base, Skeets Roberts, right short, Edmon Love, second, Alton Bostick, left short, J. Jones, third, and J. D. Jones, C. Bredwell and John Day-long in the outer works.

The two teams will clash again Tuesday night.

GOOD CROWDS AT REVIVAL

The Church of Christ revival meeting had a splendid beginning Sunday. The church auditorium, 14th and Main Street, was filled for the morning service, and the seats on the church lawn were almost filled for the evening service. Evangelist A. Hugh Clark, of Memphis, Tennessee, is doing the preaching. Last night Mr. Clark spoke on "The Authority of God's Word."

The speaker said in part: "The Bible is God's revelation to man. It contains the will of the Father in heaven. Without it we would not know about God's interest in the human family. Since the Bible contains the words of God, it is, therefore, authoritative. It is the final source of authority, the very criterion in all matters pertaining to Christianity."

"To know God's will there must necessarily be a knowledge of His word. Occasionally one is heard to say: 'I'm a Christian, but I don't know anything about the Bible'; but Jesus said: 'No man can come to me, except the Father which hath sent me draw him; and I will raise him up at the last day. It is written in the prophets, And they shall be all taught of God. Every man therefore that hath heard, and hath learned of the Father, cometh unto me.' (John 6:44-45.) Conversion, therefore, is a process of teaching and learning and doing as well as transformation."

"There must not only be the knowledge of God's word, but a willingness to do it. On the occasion of Christ's appearance to Saul of Tarsus, Saul asked: 'Lord, WHAT will Thou have me to do?' Saul showed a willingness to do the will of the Lord upon learning what it was. In reality he said: 'Lord, I'll not pick around, prefer, and select what I want to do, but upon learning what you want me to do I'll do it.' No individual has the right to select a part of God's word that suits him and practice that part of it. James said: 'For whosoever shall keep the whole law, and yet offend in one point, he is guilty of all.' (James 2:10.)"

Evangelist Clark speaks daily at 7 a. m. in the church auditorium and at 8:15 p. m. on the church lawn. A most cordial welcome awaits you to attend these services.

MISS LANEOS NOTES

By Mary Whaley

If all has gone well, by now, we ought to have been through the Carlsbad Caverns in New Mexico where one of the wonders of the world is to be seen.

Equipped with sweaters, walking shoes and a sense of expectation we were to have gone through the cave today where thousands go every year to wonder and admire the handwork of nature.

We got so tired of people starting to tell us about the cave and then stopping with the remark, "but we just can't describe it, you will have to see it yourself," that we decided to do just that — see for ourselves.

From here, the Cavern, we plan to go on to El Paso where the name of Juarez has intrigued and fascinated ever since we first heard of the place. We have been warned, forewarned, and lectured too, but we figure on going anyway.

To those who foretold dire things happening to two lone females after nightfall, we promised to come home at 11 o'clock in the evening before the bridge closes, but even so, we hope things aren't too tame and disappointing.

After our Juarez episode, if we still have any money and don't have to hitch-hike home, we plan to go by way of the McDonald observatory in order to keep the tour educational and see some man-made wonders.

By now we will probably be eating coffee and doughnuts for our three meals a day but after all we may never get another trip like this one.

Editorial

The argument against conscription falls flat upon its face when viewed from the standpoint of probable future trouble in this troubled world.

The expressed fear that conscription would turn this country into a militaristic bully takes no account of the temperament of the American people.

It would be unfair and untruthful to charge those opposing the draft with pro-Nazi leanings, but this much can be accepted without fear of contradiction.

Washington Daybook

WASHINGTON—Answering the mail orders: J. L. T., Columbus, Ohio You are a little mixed on your dates.

Mrs. R. M., Reading, Pa. Yes, I did notice at the Chicago convention that a lot of delegates cast their votes for Franklin D. ROOSEVELT.

M. L. B., Cincinnati, Ohio You are dead right. The vote (franchise) for the District of Columbia is up against a lot of trouble.

Man About Manhattan

NEW YORK Sherman Billingsley, the genial Oklahoma refugee who is the genial impresario of the Stork club, spends a cent and a half or so to send me a post card describing the wonders of his new air conditioning system.

Air-conditioning is a fine thing. Nevertheless, it would be nice if everybody would get together on it. The trouble is that nearly every establishment has its own separate air conditioning system.

Outdoors, it's 90. You step into the building lobby, unair-conditioned, and it's 80. You walk into the unair-conditioned lobby and the air-conditioned office, and it's 75.

This Associated Press building of ours in Rockefeller Center is just a graveyard of shattered illusions. Downstairs there is a restaurant, and the two leading delegations of regular patrons are the AP men and the glamorous Rockettes.

Hollywood Sights And Sounds

HOLLYWOOD It's difficult to understand why Claire Trevor, on the verge of stardom so many times, never has made it.

What I mean is real stardom, the kind that Irene Dunne, Claudette Colbert and a few others enjoy—the kind that Claire Trevor has earned.

She was there, for sure, after "Stagecoach," but nothing much happened. Before "Stagecoach," her Franancy in "Dead End" raised her from rating as Queen of the B's.

It may be that she's too good-natured for real stardom. Right now, she's busy being Mrs. Clark Andrews (she's radio executive) and doing her weekly air show with Don Ameche.

"I've done all the wisecracking secretaries in the book," she puts it. "The role is fairly standardized now, and what can you do with it? Then there are the walk-through-the-pet-terezines.

But that was the way she felt last Christmas when they wanted her for "The Dark Command." If you saw it, you know it wasn't a Trevor part.

contradiction; Nowhere in the world would America's failure to impose conscription be greeted with louder cheers than in the totalitarian countries.

The weaker we are the better they like it. The stronger we are the less they like it. The weaker we are the more likely we are to get pushed around by the aggressor nations.

How real is the threat of war? Ask the victims of aggression—those other peace-loving peoples who were caught flatfooted.

of contention is the big negro vote here (about 40 per cent).

G. K. D., Evanston, Ill.—Probably before this can get into type, there will be an answer to your question and someone will have been named to the position of James A. Farley.

J. F. K., Beckenridge, Texas You got me all wrong, Mr. K. but the fault is mine, and I hope to write soon explaining what has been done about the compulsory military training bill.

O. G., Pawnee, Okla.—I trust by now you have your book on letter writing. By the way, Mr. James F. Grady's campaign (if you could call it that) to make the government departments letter-writing conscious has gained such impetus that the poor man is sort of quadruple-drafted for a third term.

from the neighboring Radio City Music Hall, who every day dazzle thousands of people from all over the country with their precision dancing.

Every day the Rockettes march into the restaurant, looking exactly like any other 50 girls in the world getting through with hard day's work, and everybody asks, "Are those the Rockettes?"

And every day the squads of newspapermen amble into the restaurant, looking pretty much like any other group of men getting through the day's work—although many of them are men who have had adventures all over the globe and whose names are famous.

The only answer I can think of is that the waitresses must have been fooled by that old canard of Len Hiesch, who pictured all reporters in one of his plays as scoundrels, who went around with a pint of whiskey in one pocket, and a copy of the American Mercury in the other.

If some fellow has a patent on cocoonal straw hats with a blue band, he won't have to work again and his grandchildren probably won't either.

Also, an unusual number of girls are abroad on the Manhattan streets without hats, a condition which has concerned the hat people who are high-pressureing with the proposition that "A woman can't look well without a hat."

It didn't need even an actress, when you get down to it. So Claire read it, and said no.

They said, wouldn't she just come to a story conference and talk about it? So she went, determined to be firm, and left with her name on a contract.

There's little that's more discouraging (unless it's being outside pictures entirely) when you want to be in than status as Queen of the B's. Claire flew out from a stage play with a contract for her first role, with George O'Brien in "Life in the Raw."

Given, in days when Claire cared more about the career business, she thought she had an A part. She was dressed for a dinner date when the studio called about this "big opportunity" in an A. She rushed over. The "big opportunity" was a minor role in "Second Honeymoon" with Ty Power and Loretha Young.

Still, she hasn't won what she's earned—Grad-A stardom.

"You sent these right to the magazine," she said curiously. "I thought writers had agents to handle things for them."

"Good agents don't care to be bothered with pulp stories—there isn't enough money in them."

"You've sent these people other things? They know who you are?"

"Oh yes. I sell them a story every month or so."

"What becomes of it if they don't take it?"

"I enclose return postage and they send it back. So then I try someone else."

"How long before they send it back—I mean, if they don't buy it?"

"A couple of weeks, more or less. You've ever lost a manuscript?"

"Sometimes, I suppose. I've never had one lost. But I keep a copy, just in case."

"People are always asking questions like that, but maybe I would have begun to wonder why she pursued the subject to relentlessly if we hadn't reached the post office just then."

"I was vaguely conscious that she kept her gaze riveted on the man's envelope while I inserted return postage, affixed the outer stamps and sealed the envelope."

"It's easy to look back now and say that I was stupid, that I should have known something was up. But what? What possible connection with the mystery could I assign to Sandra's voluntary assistance? She was imposing on me to the extent of asking to share my room at night."

"I'll be glad to help you while you're here," she said seriously. "But I couldn't take any pay."

"I was only joking. I can't afford a secretary—wouldn't know what to do with one. When I graduate to the sticks I'll send for you. You're good."

"I've had experience—I paid my way through dramatic school as secretary to the head."

"Oh, I thought you had an income."

"Not enough. I would have had to break into my capital, and I have better uses for that."

"She was abruptly silent then, in a way that discouraged pursuit of the subject, so I changed it to a recital of the plans the Pennants were making. That seemed a matter of complete indifference to her."

She listened politely, said vaguely, "Whatever they want to do."

Virginia Hanson

She went off to her rooms to dress for dinner as soon as we reached the club.

Gerald Beaufort was sprawled asleep on my studio couch. I stared down at him in exasperation. Was my room turning into a public lounge? I reached down and shook him. He sat up with a muffled snort.

"A Commission?"

"I say, do you have to be so rough?"

"If the bed in your room isn't comfortable I can easily have this one moved there for you," I said politely.

He grinned. "Maiden lady in defense of her modest couch. Frightfully sorry and all that. I came here in great dignity to pay my respects—your own fault for being out. I say, don't tell me I was snoring?"

"Raucously, I heard you clear out in the street."

"It's the weather," he said solemnly. "The heat. Never happens in the winter."

"Why not?"

"Always wear a muffler."

"I groaned. I never thought I'd encounter a form of humor lower than my own! Now how would you like to run along and let me get ready for dinner?"

"I know there was some reason for my being here. You're having dinner with me—you and Julia Pennant. Now don't say no, she said she would if you would. I quite realize I'm a dangerous sort of fellow for a maiden to be exposed to alone. I hardly know my own charm. But the point is, this is not a strictly social formation. I have a commission from the great Adam Drew himself."

"A commission?"

"No less. Now don't ask questions—you'll know all in good time. We three, you and Julia and I, are going to do a spot of detecting. And that is definitely my last word for now. Be ready in half an hour."

With an impudent grin, he departed.

"And now we girls are going to take down our hair and have a good old gossip," Gerald announced as we sat down to dinner that evening.

Julia laughed so happily that she looked around in smiling sympathy. "You sound like Felicia."

Gerald gave her a reproving glance. "I'm sure I don't know what you mean," he said primly.

"Mrs. Bridewell is one of my dearest friends and speaking of gossip, I've had some lovely intimate chats with her."

Julia leaned forward raptly. "Go on, Geraldine! Do tell us what she said!"

"Well, for instance—did you know that the late lamented Mr. Bridewell was a federal agent who was killed in pursuit of his duty?"

The Timid Soul

And that he was so hated by the criminal element that she moved away from her home and changed her name to escape the threats of his enemies?"

"Go on—she was pulling your leg," Julia scoffed.

Gerald looked crestfallen. "Do you think so? Why must you take the joy out of life like that? She never told me his name—Morse or Morris or something of the kind. And I had such a nice theory all fixed up—"

"Besides, FBI men are always young," Julia went on patronizingly.

"Oh, but you see Felicia isn't old. Her hair turned white because of worry over her husband."

"Geraldine! You wouldn't be a little touched in the head, too, would you? But go on—what else did she tell you? Did she tell you about her little niece who was here for a visit in June?"

"No! And me so fond of the little tot, too. Tell me, was she a dear little dimpled darling with golden curls? Oh, I must ask Felicia about her."

Nearly Blind

"No, Gerald don't. The poor kid is lanky and her hair is like black string. And she wears glasses—she's nearly blind. Felicia had her out at the beach one day—a happy little thing, about six. I talked to her and she told me cheerfully that her Aunt Felicia was going to take her to Chicago the next day to see a new doctor who would make her eyes strong. Felicia told me privately that the Chicago specialist was a sort of last hope they weren't counting too heavily on the results of the examination."

And apparently there was nothing he could do for Felicia never mentioned the subject again, and I didn't like to bring it up. She brought the child back for a few days before she shipped her home, but they didn't come out to the beach again—kept indoors during the day. I saw them out walking one evening, and they both looked pretty subdued. Poor Felicia was like a different person while she was here—read to her, played games with her, never left her side. I wouldn't have thought she had a soft spot, but I guess that kid is it."

"Where does the child live?" Gerald asked, dropping for a moment his idiotic posturing.

"In New York, I think she said. Her brother's child."

"There! That proves it! I told you I had a theory. Ten to one Felicia lived in or near New York herself. Some of those terrible gangsters that you have over here—"

"We're so much more clever about these little things in dear old blighty took it into their heads to bounce off her husband because he knew too much about them, and then they got chills of the post-stremitias for fear he might have told his wife. But, do you see, when they thought of that it was already too late for she had taken a blowout powder—"

"You needn't laugh," he protested after one hilarious interruption. "I really like your colorful speech. What was I saying—Oh yes, so they got busy and traced her, which proved to take some time—how long has she been here, by the way?"

"Since April."

"There you are—April, May, June, July, August—five months. And when they located her, they sent one of their men to bounce her off. So what happens? She really did know something—she saw him first and curica! The blow on the head, the dive into the dark hole!"

"You mean Ivan?" I asked incredulously.

"No less. Probably a lieutenant in some dope ring—"

"No, Geraldine," said Julia, "you go too far. I tremble to think what you've been reading."

"You don't like it?" he demanded anxiously. "Well, I'll see if I can think up another. I rather fancied Felicia—she looks the type who might have bounced many a rolling pin on the pate of the late lamented Mr. Bridewell, G-Man or no, G-Man."

DROWNS IN SAN JACINTO RIVER

HOUSTON, Aug. 5 (U)—After once being saved by a son, George Dupree, 55, drowned in the San Jacinto river yesterday while on a family outing.

Dupree and his daughter, Etta Mae, 16, stepped off into deep water. Mrs. Dupree and her two sons, Ebert, 14, and Gene, 12, rushed to their aid.

Gene saved Etta Mae and Ebert saved his father, at the same time pushing a log to his mother, who could not swim.

Dupree, seeing his wife struggling to stay afloat on the log, lunged back into the river. While Ebert rescued Mrs. Dupree, the husband and father drowned.

Interned German Seaman Proving Costly To Argentine Government

BUENOS AIRES, Aug. 5 (U)—The Nazi seaman who last December scuttled the pocket battleship Graf Spee outside Montevideo harbor and now are interned in Argentina are becoming a costly problem to their hosts.

Under international neutrality law, the Argentine government must pay all unemployed seamen interned in this country their full naval salaries. Already this has cost upward of 200,000 pesos ($125,000), and so far Argentina has had no word from Germany regarding reimbursement.

Besides, the younger of the former Graf Spee crewmen are turning their guardians' hair gray with escapes or attempted escapes.

Four non-commissioned officers were found yesterday wandering near the heights of the Andes mountains, apparently about to run away to Chile.

Others are believed to have succeeded in crossing into Chile to escape the mild captivity which internment represents, while still others have been found in Misiones, the northern Argentine territory where police seizure of an arms cache has been linked to a vague Nazi plot involving Argentina's border with Brazil.

Some 500, or about half those interned, have found employment with German firms in Argentina, thus easing the Argentine government's financial burden. But even they remain a problem because their whereabouts must be known at all times.

Proposed County Budget Calls For $207,699 Expenses, Figure Down

(This is the second and concluding article in a series comparing the proposed county budget—Ed.)

Howard county hopes to collect a total of $207,699 during the fiscal year of 1941, and it plans to run its various affairs on a like amount.

Where the money is coming from, and how estimates of revenues were set up conservatively so as reasonably to produce a reserve, although such is not shown directly, was discussed in a previous budget article.

The next big question is where is the money going. Like most any governmental unit, the biggest item is that of salaries and wages. The amount set up for this in 1941 approximates $86,425 for all departments, exclusive of the courts. District and county court will cost the county more than $9,000 in jury fees, reporter costs, bailiff fees, etc. Of course, all this likely will not be spent, but it is budgeted to care for the maximum demand.

During the year the county plans to apply $9,683 on the principal of an outstanding indebtedness of $152,000 and put in $3,517 in interest. The reserve will amount to $5,943, leaving the fund budgeted at $24,155 for the year.

By departments—or funds, as the county operates—the road and bridge division has the greatest demand. It is set up for $81,500. Of this gas and oil will cost $6,000, repairs and parts $7,500, material and supplies $12,000. The total for maintenance and construction is $55,500, which includes the foregoing items and wages, which will be listed later.

For capital outlay the road and bridge fund has $12,000 earmarked for right-of-way, about twice the sum required this year. Equipment purchase was pegged at $15,000.

Set up as a sort of catch all fund, the general fund division provides for many items other than salaries of miscellaneous employees. For instance, $500 is set up for elections, $350 for auditing, $1,000 for insurance, $1,000 for office supplies, $1,200 for trial fees, $250 for medical fees, $2,500 for jail heat, lights, water, etc., $750 for janitor supplies, $500 for jail repairs. The jail has $1,650 coming up for groceries.

Charities call for $3,000 in groceries, $300 for clothing, $1,500 for rent and utilities, $1,500 for medicines, hospitalization and special cases for $1,000, burials for $500 and $1,000 for miscellaneous items.

A total of $500 is proposed for trapping and a similar amount for terrore. $1,000 for automotive equipment, and $10,000 is set aside for transfer into the officers' salary fund.

Under permanent improvements, $1,000 is tagged for landscaping, $2,000 for repairs and $800 for office equipment.

Getting back to the matter of salaries, these are the principal appointments exclusive of the jury fund. County commissioners $7,200; county engineer $3,000; regular wages $17,000 and extra wages (both in road and bridge) $11,000; assistance to commissioners court $1,200; county clerk indexing $100; county auditor $2,000; extra $400; assessor-collector fees $1,000; janitor $1,320, extra $50; vital statistics $100; ex-officio to justice of peace and constable, each $300; case worker $1,200; county health officer $2,400; county agents $2,400; assessor-collector, county clerk, district clerk, sheriff, county judge, county attorney each $3,000; county treasurer $2,000; $6,745 deputies for assessor collector, $3,300 for county clerk deputies; $4,260 for sheriff's deputies.

All these together make up the $207,699, a figure which represents a decline of $3,441 over the current amended budget. Those who wish to make further study before a hearing date to be set later may see a copy of the proposed budget at the office of the county clerk.

Expert To Aid In Red Cross Water Course

Near the conclusion of the swimming and life saving course due to be started by the local Red Cross chapter Thursday at 5 p. m. at the many swimming pool, Roger C. Plaisted, special representative of the American Red Cross, will come here to assist in a course for life saving and swimming instructors.

Plaisted is due to arrive here Aug. 19. Walton Morrison, chapter life saving chairman, announced Morrison urged that all interested in becoming instructors contact him.

Similarly, he suggested that prospective instructors take the regular course starting Thursday, since it is a prerequisite to the instructorship.

"Life saving methods are simple and interesting," said Morrison, "and it is deplorable that more adults do not take the course for the benefits they will receive." He added that while many do not care for awards, they can learn much from the course without taking the examinations. The experience, he continued, may enable a person to save himself or another in event of a water accident.

Billions

the $20,000,000,000 mark.

The revenue ledger of the government also is showing gains, although a huge deficit is taken for granted. Taxes already enacted, including the new defense levies, are expected to bring in this fiscal year (ending June 30, 1941) about $6,387,800,000.

To this may be added a substantial sum from the proposed excess profits tax, now being framed by the house ways and means committee. Yield of this levy has been estimated at from $500,000,000 to $750,000,000 a year.

Not even the budget bureau is able yet to guess what the deficit will be for this fiscal year. The apparent deficit is more than $13,000,000 but the actual one may be only about a fourth as much.

Defense projects have accounted for more than half of the money so far involved in completed or pending measures. The army and navy together are booked for $6,776,804,340 of appropriations, plus $3,445,780,397 of contract authorizations.

Other large appropriation items include relief, $1,157,711,357; interest on the public debt and other treasury expenses, $1,911,329,308; agriculture department and farm programs, $1,025,158,000; federal security agency (mostly social security), $886,693,400; executive and independent offices, $1,121,679,408.

Two Men Named On Assault Charge

Counter charges of assault with intent to murder were filed by the sheriff's department Monday against Raymond Jones and his nephew, C. O. Jones, following an altercation n15 miles north of Big Spring Sunday afternoon.

Raymond Jones was treated at a local hospital for knife wounds about the jaw. C. O. Jones suffered a scalp wound from an alleged lick over the head with the butt of a pistol.

The Wednesday and Thursday entertainment for women is similar to the one for 4-H club girls and sponsors last week when 32 girls and eight women went to Christoval.

Demonstration Camp Planned

Home demonstration club women will leave Wednesday at 9 a. m. for an overnight encampment at Christoval, Lora Farnsworth, county home demonstration agent, reported Monday.

The group, possibly numbering 50, will return Thursday evening. Club women of the county briefly discussed plans for the event at a program and tea hour conducted Friday at the First Presbyterian church.

Several reports on the recent short course and many important addresses made there were heard at the meeting.

Mrs. Walter Barbee discussed the importance of family council upon the success of a child. Installment buying versus cash-credit purchases was analyzed by Mrs. O. R. Smith, while Mrs. B. J. Petty told of the entertainment, exhibits and tours in conjunction with the short course. Mrs. J. L. Baugh talked of agricultural hired hands, Mrs. Edward Simpson reported on the Texas Home Demonstration association meeting, and Mrs. Glenn Cantrell spoke of freezer lockers.
