Upholds Lower Court Ruling That Declared Act Invalid

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The entire railroad retirement act affecting more than 1,000,000 employees was held unconstitutional Monday by the Supreme Court.

The decision, read by Justice Roberts, upheld a lower court ruling which declared the act invalid.

The court's ruling was directed especially at the section of the act which made it apply to all employees of interstate carrier, including employees not directly engaged in interstate commerce.

Justice Roberts said invalid features of the act could not be separated and it was necessary to declare the whole act invalid.

He said the law, in addition, was not regulation of interstate commerce, and it was invalid also for that reason.

ATLANTA, Mo., (AP)—United States Senator Bronson M. Cutting, New Mexico, and three other persons were killed before dawn Monday in the crash of a twin-motored Transcontinental Western airplane.

The dead: SENATOR CUTTING, HARVEY BOLTTON, KENNETH GREESON, copilot.

An unidentified woman. Nine injured were taken to the Samaritan hospital at Macon, fifteen miles from the scene of the crash. East-bound non-stop from Albuquerque, the big monoplane found the Kansas City airport wrapped in fog and smoke. After circling vainly for twenty minutes, Bolton was ordered to try to reach an emergency landing field in Kirksville, Mo.

Fuel became exhausted fifteen miles from the field and the ship crashed on a farm.

The dead woman was believed to be Miss Jeanne Anne Hillias, 20, Kansas City.

The injured. Richard Wallace, prominent motion picture director, Hollywood.

Mr. and Mrs. William Kaplan, Hollywood. Kaplan is assistant producer of a film company.

Paul Wing, Hollywood, father of the film actress, Toby Wing.

Mrs. D. L. Mesker, Kansas City, wife of a TWA pilot.

Those from Hollywood were members of a motion picture production unit en-bounded to make a film at Annapolis.

All the injured were in a serious condition except Kaplan.

In Washington, the senate adjourned out of respect to Cutting.

H. C. Chambers, radio operator at American Airlines station in Big Spring, was well-acquainted with Kenneth Greeson, co-pilot on the ill-fated, TWA liner. Greeson was an upper classman of Chambers' at Kelly Field, when both were taking flying instructions in the army training school. Greeson graduated in February, 1931, while Chambers finished the following July. "Greeson has been with TWA for some time," Chambers said. "He was an experienced pilot."

Lee Hubby, manager of Hotel Settles, formerly of Clovis, New Mexico, knew Senator Cutting quite well. He was shocked to hear of his untimely death. "Senator Cutting lived in Santa Fe, New Mexico," said Hubby, "and was well-liked and prominent in New Mexico affairs."

Sheriff Tells Men To Surrender, But They Run Out Of Bank Firing

BRYSON, Jack County, (UP)—Officers killed one robber and wounded another Monday, as they ran from the First State bank, firing wildly.

Ring of a telephone frightened the pair as they started to rob the bank. They were alone in the bank at the time.

Sheriff Guy Morgan had telephoned to tell the robbers the bank was surrounded and to surrender.

The robbers cut the telephone wires and ran out shooting.

Neither was identified immediately.

The slain man had seventeen bullet wounds. The other was shot in the leg.

The robbers came to Bryson Sunday night in an automobile hotel at Olney and engaged a room. When the proprietor, D. G. Hughes, saw them leave before dawn he notified the sheriff, who saw flashlights in the bank and surrounded it.

The slain man was identified as Austin Hawkins, 33, Gregg county bootlegger, paroled from the Texas prison. The wounded man refused to reveal his identity.

Washington

Maneuvers By RAY TUCKER

Whenever a Morgenthau and a Mellon clash, even though through the medium of counsel speaking not so suavely before a semi-judicial body like the board of tax appeals, suspicious people are certain to cry "politics."

They are in full political cry now. Everybody born before the New Deal realizes that the government is desperately anxious to win its suit for additional taxes against the man who directed Republican financial politics for a decade. It would make an excellent talking point. So the political factors must overshadow the legal in the public mind.

The government's tactics strengthen that impression. Its original attempt to indict the former Secretary of the Treasury, its move to submit apparently privileged correspondence and Secretary Morgenthau's demand that the case be tried on the basis of "common business honesty," appear to be extra-legal moves. Meanwhile, with the skillful Frank Hogan picturing his client as a modern Maccenaw, Mr. Mellon is outmaneuvering the New Dealers. Hogan, who successfully defended Doheny, is doing a swell job of rehabilitation.

FORSAN PIPELINERS SWAMP MIDLAND COLTS, 23 TO 14

Midland Uses Four Pitchers

Pap Payne Hurls Fine Game; Given Poor Support

MIDLAND, (Sp.)—Cosden Pipeliners from Forsan ran over the Midland Colts here Sunday, 23 to 14.

A parade of four Midland pitchers failed to stem the tide and all of the visitors managed to tally.

Pap Payne, on the mound for the Pipeliners, pitched a good game but was given ragged support.

Morgan, Forsan third baseman, scored four runs.

The visitors collected 19 hits and Midland 15.

However Hurt scoffs at the idea Allen is an unorthodox hurler.

Not a Natural Speeder

Allen is not a sprinter. In fact, he has never, to my knowledge, run an open 100 yards under 10.5 seconds.

Allen spends more time in stretching and tumbling exercises than he does in actual running and hurdling.

The most unusual thing about his form is the fact that he is able to extend both arms far forward and still retain his balance as he clears the hurdle.

Allen twice ran the 120-yard high in 14.3 seconds—only one-tenth over the world record established by Percy Beard at Lincoln, Neb., July 4, 1931.

It is quite possible that with all conditions favorable Sam may some time set a new world record in this event.

Coach Hurd, who is going to Southern Methodist next year after winning eight straight conference track titles during his 12-year stewardship of Bison football and track.

At the Texas relays this spring, he reached the peak of perfection.

SCARLET GLEAM, ANOTHER GORGEOUS NASTURTIUM

This Vivid Orange-Scarlet All-America Winner Is Larger, More Double and More Fragrant Than Golden Gleam

Scarlet Gleam Nasturtium

When flower gardening began to spread following the war, nasturtiums seemed to lose ground in public favor. No doubt there was shift to other subjects by gardeners who wanted something new.

The same impulse is now causing thousands to try nasturtiums again, because of the great success achieved first by the fragrant double yellow variety Golden Gleam and now by its hybrid, most prominent of which is the variety Scarlet Gleam.

Scarlet Gleam is a red Golden Gleam, having the same form and fragrance, with a vivid orange-scarlet coloring. If anything, its fragrance is greater and its foliage is larger and more uniformly double than its parent. Its foliage is similar to Golden Gleam, and it has the same trailing habit.

While nasturtiums are tropical flowers, native in Peru, and they prefer soil which is relatively dry and not too rich, at the same time they do not like extreme hot weather. So remember to give them a location where they may have some protection from the midday sun, if possible; and do not let them go too long without water, if you want plenty of their beautiful flowers.

Scarlet Gleam was awarded a gold medal in the All-America trials for 1935. At the same time a mixed strain of Golden Gleam hybrids won an award of merit. In this mixture are several different colors and combinations, of fragrant double nasturtiums, some of which you may like better than Scarlet Gleam.

At the same time, with public attention again fixed on the nasturtium family, this once popular clan may again gain leadership in garden decoration. There are many excellent varieties of colors and of both dwarf and climbing habits, which are available for garden use.

Local Bridge Team Loses In Abilene

Defeated By Narrow Margin By Abilene Winners In Finals

The Big Spring team lost in the final play-off in the West Texas Bridge tournament at Abilene Sunday by one and a half matched points. The Robert Wagners, Mrs. E. O. Ellington and Mrs. A. Williams played the team finals. An Abilene team won.

Two local teams matched their bridge skill against ten other West Texas teams. They were Mrs. Ellington's team in which she played with Miss Fern Wells, Miss Elouise Haley and Mrs. Harvey Williams and Mrs. Williams team, in which she played with the Wagners and Mrs. Robert Parks.

Mrs. Williams' team came out second high in the finals and, Mrs. Ellington's third high. Mrs. Williams wants to express her appreciation of both teams publicly. It was a splendid showing for next year's West Texas the way through, and she is extremely proud of the town record.

Book Review Planned For Thursday Engages Interest Of Socialites, Book-Lovers

During the fall in parties bridal and otherwise society maids and matrons are looking forward to a different type of entertainment this week—the book review to be given by the Junior Hyperion club Thursday afternoon at the Bertles hotel.

Mrs. Ira Thurman is reviewing the book, "Nijinsky," repeating the review she gave the members of the club earlier in the winter. Nijinsky, the well-informed know is a Russian dancer who is said to have had no equal before him and has yet no worthy successor. He is living today in a sanatorium in Switzerland hopefully insane.

He had his training in the school of the Russian imperial school of Ballet in St. Petersburg, the most splendid in the world. It was said of him that he had a gift for remaining in the air longer than the best dancer. The French have a word for it—ballon, which means that form of lightness that constitutes the ability to stay poised in the air for certain lengths of time. He came of four generations of dancers and to dance was his sole interest in life.

The tragedy of this great dancer's life is related by his wife who tells of his abnormal relations with the man who was the leader and director of the Russian ballet. She fell in love with him and was determined to separate him from the evil influence of the director.

The biography makes it appear on many grounds, the most excellent account of the training of Russian dancers, who remained unknown except by reputation until the time of Nijinsky, when their director took them outside the Russian boundaries into Paris. From there they gradually traveled all over the civilized world.

It is also a romantic story of the life of a dancer and the love of the woman who let no seeming insurmountable obstacle keep her from following him and seeking to save him from his fate.

Last year the present Russian ballet traveled into Texas and appeared in Dallas. Nijinsky's successor, Massine, was the star performer. This book is a good grounding for Americans who are not well informed on that phase of the fine arts. Mrs. Thurman will give her review at 8 o'clock at the Bertles hotel in the bride room. The club is limiting its tickets to 100 for this review.

Sign-posts

IMAGINE YOURSELF on an unfamiliar highway at night in the country. You want to go to Allison. You come to a forked road. No signs! Which way? You turn left and come to a cross-road. No signs. You turn right. You come to a town. It proves to be Liberty. You go back to the fork and turn left. A mile or so farther on you come to another cross-road. A sign pointing right says "Allison three miles."

But for that sign-post you might have traveled miles—spent hours, and come short of your destination.

Imagine yourself in need of hosiery, clothing, breakfast foods or anything else, and this newspaper without advertisements!

Advertisements are sign-post. They are information. They save you from wandering aimlessly from store to store. They keep you advised of the newest products; of the latest values. They save you time, and put greater buying power in your dollars. They assure you of quality and service in merchandise, for only honest goods honestly advertised can stand the spotlight of publicity.

Men Can Wear White Linens Now

ON WESTERN TRAINS... BECAUSE Air-Conditioned... "FRESH AS THE BREATH OF SPRING," While YOU TRAVEL, When YOU ARRIVE

No form of transportation has been improved so much in the last 25 years as travel by train on Western Railroads. From small wooden coaches, with kerosene lamps to all-steel cars, cushioned on deep shock-absorbing springs, electric lights, hot and cold running water, sanitary toilets, spacious washrooms and smoking compartments, palatial sleeping cars, immaculate dining cars with excellent meals at ordinary restaurant prices—all this has taken place in 25 years.

And now Western Railroads offer air-conditioning on wheels. They have air-conditioned all principal trains west and north of Chicago, St. Louis, Memphis and New Orleans. Regardless of the weather—be it hot or cold, wet or dry—perfect weather begins for you the moment you board an air-conditioned train. Temperature and air-moisture (humidity) are always ideal. No dust, dirt, odors or noises can bother you, for air-conditioning eliminates them all. Air-conditioned cars are so clean men can wear white linens, women can wear their daintiest summer dresses.

Don't be satisfied traveling any other way for air-conditioning costs you not one penny extra.

Lower Fares and Sleeping Car Charges Western Railroads have also pioneered in reducing the cost of travel by train. They have cut the basic fare to as low as 2c per mile round trip for sleeping car travel and corresponding low rates for coaches and chair cars. Sleeping car charges are one-third lower. Your dollar certainly goes farther on western trains.

On many trains you will find luxurious new type coaches and chair cars—with deep, adjustable seats, individual light control, cozy smoking compartments, fine washrooms, and refreshment service from the dining car at most reasonable prices.

See Nearest Railroad Ticket Agent No matter where you want to go—or when—the Western Railroads are ready to serve you for both business or pleasure travel. Chapter 40
GOOD ADVICE

"Well, I see that James has become a model husband, trained and housebroken," Judge Holcomb remarked angrily to Miss Julia next spring, a week or so before he died. It was the last time he ever talked to Miss Julia of his erstwhile prodigy.

The old man passed away in his sleep very quietly just before James' thirty-third birthday. James missed him more, had leaned on him more, than perhaps either had realized. Although in his last year the Judge had been silent rather than an active partner he was always there to advise James.

Raymond Rambo, 17-year-old Berkeley, Calif., schoolboy, is still cheerful after a year in a respirator, or "iron lung," in his fight against infantile paralysis. He has lived continuously in the "lung" longer than any other patient. Note the glass overhead through which he reads a book. (Associated Press Photo)

James realized the to wn had lost faith in him. prompt to laugh him out of an absurd enthusiasm or spur him from his now too frequent sloth. "You lost your case today because you talked too much," the Judge once cautioned James. "You had it won hands down on two or three occasions, but you were revving in the sound of your own voice and kept at it until you talked yourself and your client out of victory. Never forget that talk is cheap . . . the cheapest thing in the world. Lincoln's best speech was written on the back of an envelope." James never again talked himself out of a case.

But the Judge was not always strictly fair from it. When James won a case or put up a good fight the Judge was the first to slap him on the back and say the heartwarming things he most wanted to hear. It did not matter so much

CHEERFUL AFTER YEAR IN 'LUNG'

Raymond Rambo, 17-year-old Berkeley, Calif., schoolboy, is still cheerful after a year in a respirator, or "iron lung," in his fight against infantile paralysis. He has lived continuously in the "lung" longer than any other patient. Note the glass overhead through which he reads a book. (Associated Press Photo)

James had been strongly pro-Ally. He believed that he had won her under false pretenses and he never blamed her for ceasing to love him after she found him out. He wondered at intervals, reading the papers, whether Jane, if they had lived in a city would not have asked him for a divorce. 'ot knows she could have it for the asking. He had no desire to keep her tied to him.

In the last ten or fifteen years there have been few kind words wasted on the Great war that was to end all wars. But at least there is to be said in its favor—the war ended an intolerable situation between Jane and James Stimson. From the invasion of Belgium

James went overseas a captain in a regiment composed largely of men from his own state, Missouri and Oklahoma. He fought at St. Mihiel, fought through the Argonne, swore, sweated, hunted cooties, laughed, worked and did his damndest, along with two million other Americans. His war record was good, though not particularly brilliant. He was noted, unfortunately, more for the fluency of his language, under stress than for any feats of unusual daring.

The things their captain could think to say on occasions were matters of great pride to James' company. But Captain Stimson was really only at his best when he was fighting. He always went over the top wearing under his breath. He was making the air blue around him when he was wounded during a nasty struggle over a machine gun in the Argonne and almost shocked the war-hardened nurses while coming out of the ether.

His wound was not a particularly serious one, but he walked ever after with a slight limp. . . . And war for a long while proud enough of that limp to burst.

James returned home a major and rode a prancing charger in front of his men when they marched in the big parade St. Louis arranged as their home coming. A million people lined the streets and gave them welcome.

SCHOOL BAND FROM FORSAN

Under the direction of M. L. Blackwelder, the Forsan school band has shown rapid progress this year. In addition to developing talent, every member of the band has been uniformed. On several occasions the band has been heard here, and Saturday they competed in the band contest at Lubbock.

had a political cast, regardless of the official desire to prosecute them as impersonal, legal affairs. Despite able preparation and distinguished counsel, it has been defeated in its attacks upon pre-New Deal figures in the fields of finance, utilities and bootlegging.

Several of the scout troops here have been playing softball against each other. They have arranged a sort of make-shift league. A few teams are not competing but may do so following the Round Up.

During the week Girl Scouts of Troop No. 1 celebrated their first birthday. Girl Scouting is growing here by leaps and bounds, and that's very encouraging.

Thursday, May 25—The Girl Scouts of Troop No. 1 had their regular meeting in their corners. Jean Jackson and Claire Lou Nummy were invested as girl scouts, having passed their tenderfoot tests.

Eight scouts, three visitors and one official met Thursday night to practice on the Round Up which is to be held the last of next week. Most of the scouts that were to attend probably went to the show as Thursday was bank night.

Troop No. 5—The meeting took up at 7:30 Thursday night with the scoutmaster in charge. Announcements of the Round Up were made by the scoutmaster. Then the patrols were dismissed for their patrol meetings.

tion of the coal industry will be rocked to sleep in the congressional laboratory. Although it is favored by some operators and sponsored by the United Mine Workers it is too controversial for consideration at this time.

The president hopes to solve the coal industry's problems of over-production through his new NRA bill. This provides for non-competitive regulation by code of coal, oil and mineral industries affected with a public interest.

Notes— "Four billions is a hell of a lot to spend to get re-elected," said a chief of staff at a dinner at the Commodore. Labor troubles just now tend to make it more difficult to pass unemployment insurance legislation based on a payroll tax.

NEW YORK By JAMES McMULLIN Split— The spread of the Toledo strike to Chevrolet and Fisher Body plants in Cincinnati and Cleveland is chiefly significant as a further revolt of direct actionists in labor ranks against Bill Green's pacifist policy.

Stubborn— Rex Tugwell, heading the Rural Resettlement Division of the $4,000,000,000 adventure, may be able to lay dust. But he can't place people and shove them around the countryside. He will have to change human nature first.

Hazards— The president's belated announcement about his plan for allocating funds for local projects has upset members of the Mayors' conference. It leaves them less eager to ask for federal money for bridges, sewers, slum clearance projects, etc.

Answer— Silver revaluation is being discussed in high quarters as a possible cure for several administrative headaches. At the present official value of $1.29 an ounce the treasury owns $1,500,000,000 worth of the metal. That means the government's silver holdings would have to be virtually doubled to $2,896,000,000 in order to bring silver reserves up to the 1 to 5 ratio to gold prescribed by congress.

therwood, Nona Lee Short, M. L. Blackwelder, director. Fourth row—Eloise Kent, Doris Alkire, Melba J. White, Meloyne Dolan, Marie Sipes, Virlean Caldwell, Hollie Parker, Raymond Moreland, James Underwood, Billie Williams, Kenneth Butler, Calvin Rude. Front row—Jack Barber, Ingegn Wilson, James Madding. Those who are in the band but not in the picture are Clayton Ferguson, Tommy Holmway, Marshall Scuday, and Rayford Liles.

Courage— The American Taxpayers League is conducting a quiet recruiting campaign among top-flight financiers and business executives. The league is shooting for total abolition of income and inheritance taxes—no less—and would substitute a general sales tax plus rigid government economy.

Accustomed— Bankers note a distinct increase in the number of $5 greenbacks in circulation—genuine greenbacks of Civil War origin. Cynics remark that the government must be trying to get people accustomed to using this type of currency—so they won't be so shocked if more come off the presses.

District No. 3 Headquarters Of Game, Fish Protective Association Will Be Established In Abilene Next 6 Months

Headquarters for District No. 3 of the Game and Fish Protective Association of Texas will be established in Abilene for the next six months, J. Frank Elder, state president, announced today.

Elder said he would work out of Abilene for a few weeks organizing other chapters in the district. He planned to leave here Monday evening or Tuesday morning.

Officers names were J. E. Higginson, Abilene, president and C. J. Jones, Abilene, secretary. Board of directors and committees will be named by the president.

Spooks— Some municipal bond dealers are all worked up about the transfer of the investment banking code authority—under which they operate—from NRA to the Securities Commission. The type of securities they handle is exempted by law from the provisions of the Securities Act—including registration requirements—and they're terribly afraid the commission won't know it.

Leadership— The Republican pep meetings in Boston left the party's backstage New York supporters cold. They can't figure the country getting all excited about the grief of New England's textile industry—nor do they see much sense in reviving the protective tariff as the party's headline issue.

Accustomed— Bankers note a distinct increase in the number of $5 greenbacks in circulation—genuine greenbacks of Civil War origin. Cynics remark that the government must be trying to get people accustomed to using this type of currency—so they won't be so shocked if more come off the presses.

Last Rites Held For Mrs. Lester's Father

Funeral services for B. C. Clemmer, 75, pioneer Callahan county settler and mother of Mrs. Harry Lester, were held from the Clyde Methodist church Sunday afternoon.

He came to the county first in 1878 and moved to Clyde in 1901. For fifty years a member of the Methodist church, he was one of the founders of the Clyde church.

Officers names were J. E. Higginson, Abilene, president and C. J. Jones, Abilene, secretary. Board of directors and committees will be named by the president.

Employable Farm Families Not To Receive Any Form Of State Relief

Sentenced for Fake

George Robert Gabor, 29 (above) was convicted and sentenced to 18 months' imprisonment in federal court in Kansas City for falsely representing himself as a government employee. Gabor received permission to act as his own counsel at his trial. (Associated Press Photo)

AUSTIN—Effective immediately, county relief administrators no longer will be permitted to extend any form of relief from general relief funds to any employable farm family. It was announced by Adam H. Johnson, state director of the Texas Relief Commission. "A farm family," Mr. Johnson explained, "is one residing outside the limits of incorporated or unincorporated towns, villages and cities and who depend upon farming operations for the major portion of their income. It is not intended to include in this group families who live on small plots of land which are sufficient only to produce a part of their sustenance requirements and upon which they can not produce a commercial crop."

"Farm families," henceforth, may receive aid only in the form of advances through the rural rehabilitation corporation. County administrators were instructed to recall any work cards issued to rural families for work relief in May and to make advances secured by notes and mortgages, instead. All families affected by this change immediately will become rural rehabilitation families. Mr. Johnson said, and will receive aid in the future from rural subsistence funds in accordance with their needs as established by case-workers. At the same time, administrators will contact all landlords at the earliest possible date to obtain waivers on the landlord's interest in the tenant's share of the crop. This procedure was adopted in order to secure advances which the rural corporation will make to the tenant. "If a client transferred under these regulations receives subsistence advances, executing notes for them, and later it develops that a waiver form can not be obtained from the landlord or other creditor, then the case will be dropped completely from our records," Mr. Johnson declared. "In such instances, the notes taken will be written off as a loss, but the client will receive no further advances after the date on which creditors refuse to execute waivers. Creditors will be notified when these cases are dropped from the records."

Explaining the new regulation, Mr. Johnson said it is in line with the long established method of

In the GARDEN

IF POSSIBLE PLANT SUBSTITUTE HEDGES SIX OR MORE INCHES TO THE NORTH

SUBSTITUTE HEDGES
If frost has damaged hedges, necessitating their being cut back until they are little more than stubs, the barren look of the garden or plot boundaries outlined by the hedge can be remedied by a temporary substitute. Zinnias, dahlias, cockscomb and burning bush or kochia all make excellent substitute hedges. If a tall substitute is needed, try sunflowers. Be sure to plant all these substitute plants sufficiently far away so they will not crowd or shade the permanent hedge.

Boy Bleeder's Life Saved
TOLEDO, (UP)—Clifford Loomis, eight, can't play roughly like other boys for fear he will scratch his skin. If he does, there is danger of bleeding to death, because Cliff, when Clifford bit his tongue accidentally recently, bled from an obscure transient far away so they will not crowd or shade the permanent hedge.

furnishing sharecroppers. "This is what bankers and other creditors always have done," he said. "Our former practice of furnishing the tenant with subsistence needs an outright grant just encouraged creditors to allow the relief administration to finance the making of their crops. This new regulation will help to correct that situation and dignify the aid extended farmers by eliminating the outright relief grant."

Mrs. M. F. Blount has gone to Shreveport, La., where she will visit relatives and friends.

Properly Balanced Health Program Is Advocated By Brown
AUSTIN—"One of the most maligned words in the dictionary is overwork," said Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer. "It is employed as an excuse to avoid unattractive social engagements. It is used to impress others with one's particular importance. It is frequently mentioned as the reason for one's business failures. And it certainly is most unjustly blamed for many bodily ills."
"As a matter of fact overwork is not nearly the hobgoblin it is painted to be. Abstractly speaking, overwork is a very decent term. Behaves itself on most occasions, and does little damage to the lives of most of us. And more likely than not, where lack of health is concerned, overwork has had little to do with it."
Relieves Sluggish Feeling
"Night or day, when you first begin to feel sluggish and need something to straighten out your bowels (to relieve constipation)—take a dose of reliable Theodor's Black-Draught."
"We take Black-Draught for biliousness, constipation and any bad feeling that comes from these conditions," writes Mrs. Luvena Owens of Springer, Okla. "Black-Draught cleans the system and make me feel much better after taking it."
"Freshen up by taking this purely vegetable laxative, if you have a tendency to constipation or sluggishness."

1. GENUINE HYDRAULIC BRAKES
 2. SAFETY-STEEL BODY
 3. WEIGHT RE-DISTRIBUTION
 4. 12% TO 20% LESS GAS & OIL

Look at All Three, ask about these modern Safeguards

CHECK UP CAREFULLY when you go to look at a new car. Remember, first, that only All-Steel is safe enough for your family to ride in. Plymouth's body is of steel... reinforced by steel... frame and body virtually a unit.
And what about brakes? Why not have the best there are? That means Hydraulic Brakes. And Plymouth is still the only leading low-priced car with genuine Hydraulic Brakes.
Then compare the Plymouth's famous "Floating Ride" with the ride of other leading low-priced cars.
Tell your Chrysler, Dodge or De Soto dealer you want to drive a Plymouth. And ask him about the official Chrysler Motors Commercial Credit Plan.
