A grasshopper story, reprinted from the LeFors News, tickled our funny bone the other day and now comes a local yarn that takes the cake.

County Auditor R. C. Wilson called attention of office visitors and passerby to a grasshopper which tried to escape from the heat by parking on the outer rim of the whirling electric fan in the auditor's office.

The hopper enjoyed the cooling breeze for nearly 20 minutes, before finally deciding that it was too hot to go on with life, anyway, and then jumped into the spinning blades, tired of it all.

When a grasshopper goes crazy with the heat and shoves off from earthy existence by hurling his body into blades of electric fan, it's a hoppin' piece of Page One news.

And the Man Who Fell From the Flying Trapeze thinks that it wasn't the heat that drove the hopper dizzy—more than likely, he suggests, if you wandered off into seared countryside to find that you were a grassless grasshopper, you'd go balmy, too.

Western mirages still prove unusual to this casual observer. Driving through these western highways, shaded by telephone poles, we still marvel at seeing, just ahead, a river full of water—only to come upon the bridge and find the river as dry as last week's bread.

However, some of them have some nice sands. As the little boy said, if we had an ocean we'd go down to the ocean and play on the beach if we had a beach.

We've never been particularly oceanic, however. Some of them seem to have been built too close to the shore. You just can't depend on an ocean.

Once we lay down on a beach along the Pacific and fell sound asleep under a great beach parasol. Next thing we knew, a man came up, tapped us on the shoulder and said if we didn't move back, we'd find ourselves in the middle of the ocean on account of the tide, or something.

You can't even trust an ocean, nowadays. You go to sleep alongside one and first thing you know it'll sneak up and spill all over you.

Today's burning question: What's the use of saving your money for a rainy day—when there is no rainy day?

What's become of the old-fashioned Pampa girl who used to wear one of those tight-fitted things—a ma-tailor—her hair all up in the middle and left some to bulge over?

Well, she has a daughter who appears at the swimming pool and summer spots in a one-piece open-backed bathing suit that proves conclusively mother's sacrifice for beauty's sake was completely in vain, to say nothing of being wholly unnecessary.

We mentioned yesterday how Siler Faulkner, the Democratic ace, ran house the other night, looking for a cool spot to light. This proves man is a creature of habit. Man is sensitive to high temperatures, particularly when it's time to go to sleep.

On hot nights, he resolves to hunt a new sleeping place because the place of the night before was too hot. If he's been sleeping

JUDGE ORDERS MISTRIAL IN DAMAGE SUIT

Testimony of Witness Is Prejudicial, All Agree

Trial of the damage action of Larry Ray, of Electra, Tex., against the Panhandle Stages, Inc., to collect $30,735 for injuries allegedly sustained in a bus accident last December, ended abruptly in district court this forenoon when Judge W. R. Ewing declared a mistrial.

The judge's action was taken after both sides had agreed that testimony of a witness yesterday afternoon was highly prejudicial and not admissible in the case.

Defense counsel moved first for the mistrial and this morning attorneys for the plaintiff joined in the motion.

As a result the case remains on the docket and can be called for trial at a future term of court, Judge Ewing stated.

The trial had opened Monday and was in its second day when the development arose which resulted in ending the trial and dismissal of the jury.

Voters 21 Years Old Affected In Austin Decision

Certificates Can Be Obtained at Any Time

Gray county election officials this afternoon were expecting written confirmation of an oral ruling issued yesterday by the state Attorney General at Austin dealing with the eligibility of voters who have just become 21 years of age.

The ruling, applying only to the 1936 elections, sets forth that in cities of 10,000 or more such persons must have an exemption certificate, but this certificate can be obtained at any time before they vote.

The ruling states further: "In cities of 5,000 or more and less than 10,000, an exemption certificate must have been secured by Jan. 31, 1936, if such persons became of age before Feb. 1, 1936. Article 2968A, which made this requirement, became effective Oct. 1, 1935.

"In cities of 5,000 or more and less than 10,000, all persons who became of age since Jan. 31, may vote without any exemption certificate, and are only required to make an affidavit of their age, if their right to vote is challenged. This ruling was made because of a ruling of a previous administration in constructing the statutes, with reference to exemption certificates, which held that it was necessary that a person be 21 years old before Feb. 1 in order to secure an exemption certificate, and that unless an exemption certificate was secured he could not

Big Election Party To Be Held At NEWS On Saturday Night

EXTRAS TO BE ISSUED; TREND TO BE SHOWN

LOUD-SPEAKER SYSTEM WILL GIVE RESULTS OF PRIMARY

This is your invitation to the Pampa Daily NEWS election returns party to be held at the NEWS office Saturday night.

Arrangements have been made to receive local, county, district and state returns and to broadcast this information through loud-speakers which will be erected on the N. Somerville side of the NEWS office. The street will be roped off by police.

A microphone will be set up in the editorial rooms and announcers from KPND, The Daily News radio station, will relay the information as it comes from the various polling places. Because KPND goes off the air at 8 p. m. returns will not go out by radio.

Bob MacKenzie, of KPND, is arranging for radio entertainment to amuse the election party audience during lulls in the returns.

Arrangements also have been made with the office of the county Democratic executive chairman to speed the counting of votes so that results in the various local contests may be known as early as possible.

The Daily NEWS election party will start at 7 p. m. when the polls close. First returns should be available shortly thereafter.

In addition to the local results, guests at the NEWS party will receive state returns as compiled by the Texas Election Bureau, of which this newspaper is a member.

In addition to providing the loud-speaker party, the NEWS will issue an election extra at 9 p. m. Saturday which will carry virtually complete local returns and a comprehensive report of district and state returns which will indicate the voting trends.

The regular Sunday edition of the NEWS will carry complete news of Saturday's primary.

First results of voting throughout the state will not be available at the NEWS office until after 8 o'clock Saturday night.

Absentee Voting Record Of County Is Broken; 426 Cast

'INSURRECTION' TRIAL REFUSED BY JOHN LEWIS

Miners and AFL Are Near Parting—Ouster Due

WASHINGTON, July 22 (AP)—John L. Lewis and the American Federation of Labor were declared to be near a parting of the ways today as their two-year old battle over methods of organizing mass production workers reached its most critical stage.

Angry, Lewis served notice on the A. F. of L. executive council last night that members of his committee for industrial organization would not obey a council summons to stand trial for "insurrection."

This led labor leaders generally to predict today that the council would vote at its next meeting, beginning Aug. 3, to suspend Lewis' United Mine Workers and 11 affiliated unions.

This move would cost the federation one third of its membership and one third of its dues. But both the Lewis group and the craft union faction that dominates the A. F. of L. council were so determined that their respective policies should prevail that labor leaders generally felt any move toward reconciliation just now would be futile.

Lewis and his associates in the committee for industrial organization believe that all the workers in each large mass production industry should be organized into one union.

The craft faction, whose spokesman is William Green, thinks that industrial unions are satisfactory for most mass production workers, but that many highly skilled employes should belong to various craft unions.

In notifying Green that its members would not show up for the rebellion trial, the Lewis committee challenged the council's right under the A. F. of L. constitution to try and suspend member unions, then added:

"The vague charges of rebellion and fomenting insurrection are based wholly upon the work of the C. I. O. (committee for industrial organization) in organizing the

15 Per Cent of Vote Expected Cast Already

All records for absentee voting were broken in Gray county today as County Clerk Charlie Thut revealed 426 ballots had been cast when the deadline fell last midnight.

The figure, he stated, is almost 15 per cent of the total vote expected in the county at the first primary election Saturday.

Highest previous figure for absentee ballots in Gray county was 354 in 1934, Thut said.

Today was the last day for presiding election judges to obtain a list of voters, if not already in their possession, for use in Saturday's primary.

Absentee votes tomorrow will be turned over to the presiding judges so that they may be included in the general count of ballots.

Election supplies will be delivered to the various city and county precinct officials on Friday.

Officials stated today that all arrangements for the primary today were nearing the final stages of completion.

DOUGLASS WILL SPEAK IN CITY THIS EVENING

Candidate Delivers Addresses Over This Area

Curtis Douglass, Panhandle attorney, will bring his final election drive to Pampa tonight when he is scheduled as the principal speaker at a political rally to be held on the court house lawn at 8:30 o'clock.

Douglass, seeking the post of state senator from the 31st senatorial district, is making Pampa one of the high spots in the closing days of his campaign.

He will come here from LeFors where he was scheduled to give an address at 4:30 p. m. today. Yesterday he spoke at Allison, McLean, Alameda and Mobeetie.

A feature of the campaign for Thursday and Friday will be a motor caravan through the Panhandle, visiting dozens of communities in behalf of Douglass. Thursday night he will address a rally in Borger.

Friday night he winds up the campaign in Amarillo at a rally and is also scheduled to speak on a joint radio hook-up over stations KPND, Pampa, and KONG, Amarillo from 8 to 8:45 p. m. Friday.

COMET'S TAIL NOT LIKELY TO DAMAGE EARTH

Halley's Comet Hit Earth in 1910—No Damage

(Editor's note: This is the second of four stories on the nature and paths of comets.)

BY HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE.
BOSTON, July 22 (AP)—The chances that the tail of a comet such as the two now visible—will sidewise the earth are large, but astronomers have not yet seen a tail which might hurt the earth in such a collision.

The last time a comet's tail struck the earth was in May, 1910. It was the tail of Halley's comet—and a very big tail many million miles long, a dull red glow in the sky, seen for many weeks before it hit, and observed with some apprehension by laymen.

Astronomers were certain in advance that the tail of a comet such as the two now visible—will sidewise the earth are large, but astronomers have not yet seen a tail which might hurt the earth in such a collision.

Crinoline Caress of Kalmars is the Great Dane watch dog of Mrs. Violet Gher, called simply "Violet" by all who know her. Caress bites only persons who need it. Children on the "Hill" love to play with her; Caress loves children to the point of obsession, but the big black and white spotted dog recognizes and hates evil-doers.

For instance, the other night—Clutching a long steel, hooked bar in his hand, the burglar noiselessly, cautiously, inched his bulk thru the half-closed door of the Gher garage, under the apartment on Mary Ellen Caress at the end of her chain which was fastened to the door, was lying in a favorite hole 20 feet away, near the sidewalk. She barked, sprang to the door, trapping the intruder. The burglar chose between the dog and capture. He lashed out with the bar. It tore a long hole in Caress' side. Again he failed. Blood shot from another wound. Then the burglar fled. Caress strained at the end of her tether, and barked. Soon Violet and Vic returned. Vic led Caress to her pen, and she did not whimper. They did not notice the wounds until the next day, and many a stitch was taken to close them.

After Violet called the police next morning, they told her that someone had phoned in a complaint about her barking Caress.

VFW Picnic To Be Held Sunday

Members of the Pampa chapter, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and their families will picnic Sunday at the Texas company lease on the Saunders ranch east of LeFors. Departure will be from the American Legion hut on West Foster avenue at 11 o'clock. Transportation will be available for those without cars.

A basket lunch will be served by the wives of members. Veterans in session last night named Hamp Waddell, Jake Garman and L. S. Hall a committee to furnish refreshments. The entertainment will be in charge of Paul Hill and Charlie Maisel.

Local VFW members will "divide" tonight, one group going to Borger to a social meeting of the Borger chapter and another group driving to Amarillo to attend a special initiatory and social gathering.

ROAD JOB TO BEGIN AUG. 1

Construction of grade and drainage on the Pampa-Borger highway in Carson county will begin on August 1, according to A. A. Meredith of Amarillo, WPA supervisor of this district in a letter to the Pampa Board of City Development today. Harry Hines, chairman of the Texas Highway commission, confirmed the starting date in a letter received this morning.

At least 25 Gray county men will be used on the job. However, this county will be furnished transportation to and from the point of work, which has not been definitely agreed upon. It is believed that the first part of the program will begin from the end of the paving in Gray county, seven miles west of Pampa.

Other workers on the project will be supplied from Carson county with maybe a few from Hutchinson county. Grade and drainage work is now in progress at the Borger end of the road. Work on that particular stretch will be closed, if necessary, in order that the total number of workers needed for efficient operation by the highway department in Carson county may be assigned to that portion of the work. Mr. Meredith reported in his communication.

Two-Millionth Visitor Feted At Centennial

DALLAS, July 22 (AP)—An average of more than 43,000 visitors each day since the opening June 6 has put the Texas Centennial well on the way to its third million.

A blue-eyed co-ed from the University of California at Los Angeles, Miss Luella Lee Weaver, stepped through the gates yesterday afternoon and became the two-millionth visitor. As such, she was presented a pass two feet by one foot in size giving her entire by every show on the grounds.

At midnight the attendance climbed to 2,014,920, the day's total being 34,824.

Extra workers busied themselves removing the last traces of the storm which struck the exposition Monday night.

Today was dedicated to Weslaco. A band concert by Weslaco high school musicians was on the program. Also honored was the Southwestern and Oklahoma Nurserymen's association.

ALLRED NEW ON HIGHWAYS IS CRITICIZED

WILL GAIN CONTROL OF COMMISSION IF REELECTED

By HARRELL E. LEE
AUSTIN, July 22 (AP)—Aside from old age pensions and taxes, numerous other issues or proposals have been injected into the first primary campaign for the democratic nomination for governor which will come to a close Saturday.

Of these, one of the most discussed is the attitude of Gov. Alfred Wood toward the state highway department. If Alfred is re-elected, he will gain control of the highly important highway commission next January. If he is defeated, each of the three highway commissioners will have been appointed by a different governor.

Allred's opponents contend that he already has started putting the highway department into politics by making a large number of promises of road construction in event he is elected for a second term. The order in which roads are to be built should be by the governor, they assert. They claim that it would take many years to build all the roads that Gov. Alfred has promised.

Some of the friends of Gov. Alfred, however, contend that the order in which roads are to be built should be by the governor, they assert. They claim that it would take many years to build all the roads that Gov. Alfred has promised.

The slow-up, apparent in outlets in states where agricultural areas has affected large agricultural areas and curtailed business in commercial centers adjacent thereto, was not regarded as particularly serious. It was offset by the continued unprecedented consumption which has characterized the entire summer season. The vacation period was in full swing with thousands of gallons of motor fuel necessary daily to keep the motoring public speeding to and from vacation spots.

Refiners remained in a cheerful frame of mind. One company reported its surplus gasoline was oversold to jobbers for a solid year in advance. At least three other big marketing companies reported the biggest business in the history of their organizations.

A drop of 1,325,000 barrels in stocks of domestic and foreign crude on hand, reported by the bureau of mines was regarded as a favorable sign by observers who have feared that heavy production, despite the huge demand, might lead the industry into the slack winter season with top-heavy surplus.

Much of the industry's interest swung toward the next meeting of the interstate compact commission at Dallas July 31. Paramount considerations of that conference will be ways and means of getting thru measures in the next congress and state legislatures to keep the compact in force.

The weekly field reports showed a further decline in the number of wells started or completed in the mid-continent, a condition which was expected to be a great aid in the curtailment of production. Prices for crude oil and refined products remained steady and unchanged.

URGENT RETAINING RULE
AUSTIN, July 22 (AP)—The Stanolind Oil company today urged retention of a 10-acre spacing program in the McCamey, Upton county, oil field.

At a Railroad Commission hearing, testimony was given that M. D. Bryant, an operator, contemplated drilling three wells on a 20-acre tract. Bryant was not represented. E. A. Whitson of Fort Worth testified as to physical conditions in the area, asserting more than 350 wells had been drilled under a "gentleman's agreement" on a 10-acre spacing.

This is the smallest unit that should be permitted, he said. M. D. McCabe of San Angelo testified that over the last ten years the field had been fairly well drilled up on any other basis of drilling would upset the whole program.

"We started a pattern of one well to 10 acres on our lease and would hate to see it changed," he said. "Our neighbors have done the same."

Alfred bases his request for a second term on his record in office. Among the acts during his administration which he has listed as accomplishments are defeat of the federal oil control movement and the sales tax, cooperation with the federal government in the recovery program, creation of a state re-employment service, enactment of a chain store tax, establishment of a state police system, enactment of a drivers license law and establishment of a merit system of clemency.

NEGRO KILLED TO 'HAVE SOME FUN'
DETROIT, July 22 (AP)—Five Black Legionnaires, accused of killing an unoffending Negro a year ago "to have some fun," faced arraignment today on murder and kidnaping charges.

The first, almost incredible account of the shooting of the Negro came from Dayton Dean, confessor of Black Legion deeds of violence whose sanity has been questioned in court.

SILER FAULKNER TO SPEAK AT THOMPSON RALLY TOMORROW

With the program broadcast over KGNC and a state-wide hookup, Amarillo on Thursday night will stage a huge rally for Col. Ernest O. Thompson, seeking re-election to the Texas Railroad Commission. The rally will be held on the auditorium grounds and will begin at 8 o'clock.

Before the speaking begins there will be a 45-minute concert by the 142nd infantry band and there will be free lemonade served on the ground, Bill O'Brien, Panhandle campaign manager, announced yesterday.

"It is to be an old fashioned welcome for an outstanding Panhandle citizen," O'Brien said. "There will be no long speeches. Thompson supporters from various Panhandle counties will talk briefly before Col. Thompson is introduced, but the entire speaking program will not last more than an hour."

Jim Guleke of Amarillo will be chairman of the meeting and the following representatives from various Panhandle cities will report briefly on what their sections "think about Ernest and how they are going to support him at the polls on Saturday." Speakers include Siler Faulkner, Pampa; Dr. O. H. Loyd, Vega; A. Broadhurst, Spearman; Fred Chamberlain, Clarendon; Noel McDade, Dumas; Judge H. E. Hoover, Canadian; W. C. Dinwiddie, Tulla; Judge J. D. Hamlin, Farwell; Jack Allen, Perryton; Judge R. A. DeFoe, Channing; Frank Talum, Dalhart, and Jim Hill, Hereford.

Loud speakers will be installed on the grounds and Col. Thompson will wind up his campaign for the office of State Railroad Commissioner with a 45-minute speech over Radio Station KGNC from the city auditorium grounds from 9:15 to 10 p. m. The public is urged to attend.

WASHINGTON, July 22 (AP)—As Topeka blossomed out in its finest bunting today for Governor Alf M. Landon's acceptance speech tomorrow night, Republican lieutenants continued to predict a sweep, and a Democratic campaigner, Governor Paul V. McNutt of Indiana, declared "ill-omened elements of our society" are back of Landon.

The Kansas governor's speech, to be delivered about 8:30 p. m. (CST) after the notification ceremonies, will cover a wide range of subjects, advisers said.

One of them indicated that in addition to probable emphasis on farm relief, unemployment, federal spending and taxation, and the constitution, Landon will outline his opinions on governmental attitudes toward organized labor.

Speaking in Indianapolis last night for the Democratic national committee, Governor McNutt declared that the personality ascribed to Landon by his managers "inevitably suggests an individual particularly susceptible to the influences of stronger minds and more ruthless wills."

"Just who are the people to whom he is willing to be obligated in the unlikely event of his election?" McNutt asked. "Can they be other than the group of which the Du Pont Liberty League is characteristic, and William Randolph Hearst, whose first visit to and endorsement of Governor Landon has been justly described as the kiss of death."

WIDE RANGE OF SUBJECTS WILL BE COVERED

WASHINGTON, July 22 (AP)—As Topeka blossomed out in its finest bunting today for Governor Alf M. Landon's acceptance speech tomorrow night, Republican lieutenants continued to predict a sweep, and a Democratic campaigner, Governor Paul V. "Can they be other than the group of which the Du Pont Liberty League is characteristic, and William Randolph Hearst, whose first visit to and endorsement of Governor Landon has been justly described as the kiss of death."

A statement that the Republicans' chances of gaining a majority in the House of Representatives are in crossing daily came from Rep. Chester C. Bolton of Ohio, in launching the party's drive for western congressional seats.

"Practically all the territory we lost in 1932 and 1934 is leaning strongly republican," Bolton said at Chicago.

With 114 seats needed to recapture the House, he said, the task is not impossible, in fact the chances are good with the present swing away from President Roosevelt.

Among other political developments was the arrival of Rev. Gerald L. K. Smith in Louisiana to circulate petitions in behalf of the third party candidacy of Rep. Lemke of North Dakota.

Porter was given a judgment of $900 on his original claim for compensation for injuries.

PART OF CARGO FOUND

TAMPA, Fla., July 22 (AP)—Hope of finding alive the 22 persons aboard the British motorship Nunoca faded today with the discovery of trace of ship's cargo nearly 100 miles from the missing vessel's course.

Coast guardsmen found a charred piece of timber fastened to an oil drum which they said strengthened the belief that the Nunoca was shattered by an explosion.

Lester and Four Boys Leave for FFA Convention

Pampa will be represented at the state Future Farmers of America convention in Stephenville by J. L. Lester, sponsor of the Pampa chapter, and Elzey Vanderberg, Jack Allison, Bob Mann and A. C. Cox Jr. The party left this morning by car.

Elzey Vanderberg goes as official representative of the Panhandle-Plains area with expenses paid by the state FFA organization. The other three boys will play in the official FFA band at the convention. One hundred of the best musicians will be selected to play at the Texas Centennial in Dallas on July 30. The selected 100 band boys will also attend the national FFA convention to be held in Kansas City, Mo., at a date to be set.

Pampa has the largest FFA organization in the nation with 166 active members. State and national recognition will be given Pampa at the coming conventions.

Professor Lester has been named chairman of the state committee to work out a detailed "Life at Home" agricultural program and also chairman of the Area 1 committee on the revision of the state curricula and teaching program over the period from 1936 to 1940. This committee will set up in detail what the program should include and what should be left out.

Because invitations have been extended to Parent-Teacher members, men's and women's civic clubs, and school board members, special sessions have been designated for them. On Monday afternoon, the opening session, Parent-Teacher members and club women will be special guests. School board members unable to attend the opening session are especially invited to attend the session Tuesday evening, which will probably be held on the lawn at the back of the administration building, when Dr. Wood and Mr. Teeter will both address the conference. Supt. K. E. Oberholzer of Lubbock city schools will preside over this meeting.

Between 1,500 and 1,800 are expected to attend the conference.

RULE INVALID

AUSTIN, July 22 (AP)—The Supreme Court ruled that a Railroad Commission order attempting to grant permits to drill the sixth, seventh, and eighth oil wells in a tract of 8.61 acres in Gregg county under a rule 37 exception was invalid because proper notice and hearing was not afforded interested parties.

Latest Thing for Piles Gets Results Right Now

According to records of many cases during the past ten years, an improved treatment called Drysoorb (USReg) solves the painful trouble Piles and its serious drain on vitality. Drysoorb is a refined, odorless lotion, and unlike old remedies is greaseless, so that the tissues take it up at once, and relief quickly follows. It may now be obtained from Drysoorb Co., 100-B, St. Louis, Mo., or from the ORETTYNE DRUG STORE, Pampa.

Oil Production UP

TULSA, Okla., July 22 (AP)—The Oil and Gas Journal reported today that the production of crude oil in the United States increased 31,884 barrels daily during the week ending July 18 to a total of 2,949,459 barrels daily.

In Oklahoma the output increased 12,650 barrels to a daily total of 539,175 barrels. In the East Texas field there was an increase of 493 barrels to 431,750 barrels daily.

Production for the total state of Texas was 1,148,249 barrels daily, an increase of 5,470 barrels daily. Louisiana's production decreased a matter of 2,164 barrels to a total daily output of 229,359 barrels and in California the decrease was 1,300 barrels daily to a total of 584,800.

An increase of 6,475 barrels daily in Kansas brought the average daily to 161,250.

Eastern fields including Michigan increased 1,175 barrels daily to a total daily production of 142,425.

Rocky Mountain area production was down 510 barrels daily to a total of 87,480 barrels.

Former Chief of Police Accused in Hamm Snatch

ST. PAUL, Minn., July 22 (AP)—Defense counsel in the kidnaping trial of John P. (Jack) Peifer tendered former Police Chief Tom Brown an opportunity to deny from the witness stand testimony linking his name with the gang which kidnaped Brewer William Hamm Jr.

In the hands of United States marshals was a subpoena, issued yesterday at request of Peifer's attorney, calling for Brown's appearance as a witness. Marshals said it would be served whenever he returned from his summer home at a northern Minnesota lake.

Brown left the city after suspension from his post as head of the police station automobile detail. Byron Bolton, confessed member of the gang, testified the mobsters set aside $25,000 of the $100,000 ransom proceeds for Brown for tipping off police activities during the search for the kidnapers.

Peifer's attorneys said their client would testify. They hinted he would deny any connection with the abductors. Bolton declared Peifer, a former St. Paul night club owner, received $35,000, of which $25,000 was earmarked for Brown.

DEATH WALKS THE HIGHWAY

The gods of recklessness are devouring thousands of lives each month on American highways—and there is no limit to their appetite.

During the recent Fourth of July week-end, close to 500 people met accidental deaths—the largest number for that period since 1931.

But the great tragedy is that accidents are not inevitable. Nine out of ten are preventable, and easily preventable.

Death walks the highway. He strides through our homes. He is an unseen visitor at every place of amusement.

LEGALIZED BLACKMAIL

The breach-of-promise racket seems to be attaining almost complete "recovery" these days, coincident with a general upturn in business.

At least the number of cases is rapidly increasing, indicating that the shakedown is paying out pretty well.

To that end some effort is being made to outlaw such action.

In any event it's clear that here's a racket that shouldn't go unrestricted.

DAILY WASHINGTON LETTER

By Rodney Dutcher

WASHINGTON—Progressive leaders, dominated by a delegation from the U. S. Senate, hope to get together one of these days and announce a progressive league which will support Roosevelt for re-election this year.

The meeting is somewhat over-due, however, and the best guess as to the reason for that has to do with the traditional inability of some progressive prima donnas to play on a team.

Senators Robert M. LaFollette of Wisconsin, George W. Norris of Nebraska, Hiram Johnson of California, and Henrik Shipstead of Minnesota are the leading spirits in the movement.

Frank P. Walsh of New York will be very active in the movement. Whether Mayor Fiorello LaGuardia of New York will tie up with it isn't yet known.

Aside from the re-election of Roosevelt, the chief matter in the minds of these men is the campaign of 1940.

Expecting Roosevelt to win again this year, they naturally are thinking secondarily about whom they'll want to succeed him.

Such contentions are said to be afflicting Senator Burton K. Wheeler of Montana, outstanding Democratic progressive in the Senate.

And the rumor is that he is unhappy over the fact that LaFollette, former independent Republican, who now carries the banner of his own Wisconsin Progressive Party, is to head the progressive league.

Whether or not Wheeler's attitude has held up the progressive gathering—as some reports say—it doesn't appear that the Montana senator has yet made plans for any heavy campaign activity.

Democratic leaders who are worrying over party prospects in Minnesota, the Dakotas, Montana, and Nebraska on the basis of recent polls believe Wheeler can do as much as anyone toward carrying those states.

With Congress, the president, most department heads and both party chairmen all far away, organized labor has the field in Washington—which is still the nation's best sounding board, even in the hot old summer time.

For example, on a single day when there was no counter-attraction except the naval spy case, Washington correspondents covered a speech by John L. Lewis, at a National Press Club luncheon, the explanation by Labor's Non-Partisan League of its campaign plans, an announcement by President Bill Green of the A. F. of L. that the 12 unions of the Committee for Industrial Organization would be brought up for trial Aug. 3.

Keeping them to the ground is necessary, politically, which perhaps explains why both the Democratic donkey and the G. O. P. elephant have big ears.

If news gets out that a drouth makes lawn mowing chore unnecessary and water scarce for the Saturday night bath, small boys will be for it.

A Michigan resort executive suggests that, to attract tourists, residents keep the state green. And resort men out of the red.

HOUSE OF SHADOWS

by Ida R. Gleason © 1936 NEA Service, Inc.

Chapter VIII. As Claire, thoroughly alarmed, listened to the tapping noise, other ears besides hers also noted the sounds.

Painfully he fished the cigarette lighter from his pocket and flashed on the feeble ray of light. The dim walls of another tunnel met his gaze, branching off from the shaft down which he had fallen.

For what seemed an interminable distance, he fumbled his way in the darkness to save his lighter. All sense of direction was lost in the blackness, but the footing seemed solid and fairly dry, and the air was still fresh, as though other shafts cut in from above.

What was it? Were his nerves beginning to crack from the horrible darkness? Pat shook himself free from his dark thoughts and pressed forward.

Presently he was coming into another, larger part of the mine. The place was quite dry and by carefully selecting fragments of wood Pat soon had a bundle of torch material which would last for some time.

At last he came to a blank wall. Pat drove the pick into the wall to test its solidity. Immediately and so loudly that it made him jump, an answering sound came from beyond.

For an hour by his watch (which, miraculously, had escaped injury) Pat dug away at the tunnel's end.

Meanwhile, Claire had run upstairs to Bob Steele's room. Bob was still lying there, motionless, and Hannah, wearing a large white apron, was sitting by the bedside.

Pat dug away at the tunnel's end. The girl motioned Hannah to come with her into Lyman Fosdick's room. "Listen! Do you hear anything?" She held up her hand.

"Sure I do," Hannah answered away from the room. Sewing machines can be closed when not in use.

Until women take the precautions in the home that they demand of schools and factories, accidents to the very young will continue to be frequent.

True to her prediction, Dallas' tall figure could be seen swinging off the main road and coming toward the house. Hannah watched him a minute from the porch, then, as though she had come to a sudden decision, she walked quickly to the aspen grove, broke off a small stick from one of the trees, and went on to his cabin.

Opening the door of the cabin, she stepped behind it, unfastening her big apron. In a few minutes the man's footsteps crunched on the gravel outside. Then he stood framed in the open door. As he turned to close it, with an astonishingly quick movement, Hannah's apron was thrown over his head.

At the same time, Hannah's large foot tripped him. The next instant he was on the floor with the woman's muscular weight on his head.

Something hard prodded his chest as Hannah commanded sternly: "Lay still now, or you'll wish you had better do as I say!"

"Okay. Dan's voice sounded smothered. "Only, for gosh sake, get up."

responsible for the screen's latest color photography invention. Two young inventors, Robert Hoyt and Leon Ungar, are almost ready for commercial use of their process for photographing motion pictures in color—a method they claim is far simpler than any now in use.

Originally, Hoyt explains, the pair was interested in experiments toward presenting three-dimensional pictures.

"Then one day," says Hoyt, at 31 a former talent agent and director-producer of western pictures, "I read in the paper about a fellow who, shot in the head, and had his eyesight saved by surgeons. He could see perfectly, except that he was now totally color-blind. I started reading up on the subject, and learned of the importance to color vision of the liquid in the eyeball.

Copy Human Eye. "What happened, I think—although I can't pretend to have any exact scientific knowledge on the subject—was that the surgeons could repair the man's optic nerves but were unable to restore that liquid and hence could not restore his color sense.

"Anyway, it gave us an idea. We had been working in our three-dimensional film experiments, on a scheme to duplicate the human optical system mechanically. That, in fact, is what our process for color attempts to do.

"The camera is our human skull; the lens is the eyeball, communicating what it sees to the film, which may be compared to our braincells. Binocular Camera.

"The human skull contains two eyes, which accounts for natural vision. Why not give the camera equal benefits through use of two lenses?

"And that," says Hoyt, "is what we did. Two eyes, or lenses, each specially built with liquids in a vacuum like the human eyeball, give us our color." One lens is red, the other green, and through their light combinations, the inventors claim, all colors are obtained.

"It is the only process," Hoyt declares, "that photographs color. The others get color in the printing."

Main advantage of the new process, as the inventors see it, is their claim that it uses ordinary black-and-white film and ordinary cameras, the only special attachment required being the two-eyed lenses.

LITTLE ROAD RUNNERS AND PEEWEES TO RESUME DEADLY RIVALRY FRIDAY

JUNIORS WILL PLAY AT FOUR O'CLOCK HERE

ANOTHER INSTALLMENT IN BITTER FEUD COMING UP

The bitterest baseball feud that has developed in the Panhandle in many a day will be resumed at Road Runner park at 4 o'clock Friday afternoon when the Magnolia Peewees and the Little Road Runners will square off for another whack at each other.

The Danciger Juniors' only retort to the threats issued by the belligerent Peewees: "You'll never beat us! You came closer to it last time than you ever did or ever will! We're going to skunk you this time!" The Peewees reply, "Yeah! That's what you said last time!"

"Last time" the Peewees led their larger opponents from the second to the last of the ninth inning when a series of errors was responsible for five runs. The final score was 13 to 8 for the Danciger crew. The Mags' last-inning hard luck continued at Berger two weeks later when they lost a 9 to 8 decision to the Christians after leading throughout the contest.

Both the Peewees and the Little Road Runners should be playing at their best Friday. The team that doesn't crack will win the game. Either Keg Rafferty or Amos Reed will take the mound for the Peewees, with Rafferty the slight favorite to do the hurling because he limited the usually booming bats of the fledglings to six hits the last time he faced them. Reed was knocked out of the box the last time he threw balls at the bug chasers.

Twirling for the Danciger lads will in all probability be Paul Montgomery, who turned in a no-hit masterpiece at the beginning of the season. The Peewees touched him for 12 hits the last time he threw balls and strikes at them. A. C. Miller will be on the bench to relieve him if he stumbles. Montgomery has been pitching at his best the last two weeks and the Peewees may have a harder time hitting him than previously.

The Peewees should be a better club than ever now. Billy Morrow, shortstop and one of the best hitters on the club, has returned and is playing with the team. However, the Peewees were forced to play 10 innings Sunday against Phillips before they nosed out the 66 Juniors, 5 to 4. Their ability to get hits was missing for the day. A few days before the Little Road Runners beat Phillips by a score of runs, and it looked easy, and it was the closest game yet played between Phillips and the Peewees.

The Little Road Runners showed great hitting power in skunking McLean last week 16 to 0 in seven innings.

The Danciger lads have lost only one game this year. They were routed and crushed 15 to 5 on an off-day by the Christians at Road Runner park several weeks ago. The Peewees have lost only to the fledglings and the Christians who are undefeated in the second half of the season.

Bob Ray of Los Angeles nominated Walter (Rebel) Stephenson as the most traveled major leaguer this season. Stephenson went from his home in North Carolina to join the Cubs at Catalina Island, Calif. With the Cubs he took the exhibition tour to Florida and then up to Chicago. He got as far as Boston during the National league campaign before being sent to join the Los Angeles club. He made the trip to Portland and Seattle with the Angels. Now that Gabby Hartnett needs help, the Cubs have recalled Stephenson. Can anybody tie that one for jumping about?

They asked Joe Gould, manager of Jimmy Braddock, at the boxing commission the other day if he could deposit a guarantee check of $5,000. Joe answered "sure." Then he whispered to newspaper men: "If they had asked me a year and a half ago I would have had to ask them to reduce it to $5 and we would have had to hock something to raise that."

SEATS HURLS 2ND SHUTOUT FOR HOUSTON

DALLAS LOSES AGAIN AS BUFFS FORGE AHEAD

(By The Associated Press)
Today's games:
Galveston at Dallas.
Fort Worth at Houston.
Oklahoma City at San Antonio.
Tulsa at Beaumont.

The Houston Buffs surged along today in their drive to overhaul the pace-setting Dallas Steers, now only two games out in front.

Young Tom Seats hurled his second straight shutout for Houston, setting down Fort Worth's seventh-place Panthers 8-0. The Buff Southpaw whiffed nine and was in complete control except for one inning.

The Buffs found the range against Reid, getting eight hits.

The Steers, meanwhile, found the punch gone from their bats. Galveston's Joe Gibbs prevented them from counting in the pinches, although granting seven hits.

The score was 3 to 2. Curt Fullerton pitched well for Dallas but two of the four passes he issued went for tallies.

Left-handed Howard Mills was wild occasionally but gave Oklahoma City only three hits as San Antonio won, 4-2. Mills, in great form most of the game, fanned 11 men, holding his siskout total to 35 for the last three games he has pitched.

Beaumont strengthened its hold on third place by dealing out a 7-10-2 defeat to Tulsa. Slick Coffman pitched his tenth season victory. He granted eight hits. Lefty Miltstead, who gave up ten hits, robbed his mound opponent of a shut out by lifting one over the fence in the seventh with one on.

TEXAS' FIRST TITULAR BOUT TO BE TONIGHT

BABY MANUEL TO BOX PETEY SARRON AT DALLAS

By FELIX R. M'KNIGHT
Associated Press Sports Writer
DALLAS, July 22 (AP)—Little Pete Sarron, former Birmingham newboy who spent 14 years in bagging the featherweight championship, puts up his ten-weeks-old title before dangerous Baby Manuel, Cuban southpaw, in Texas' first titular bout here tonight.

Odds were no better than 7-5 on the barrel-chested Alabama Syrian after Manuel, in training here for weeks, stopped banging sparring partners over the premises with wicked left uppercuts to the body.

Sarron, however, said he would lay aside his usual windmill tactics which bring in points and attempt to stow away the Cuban with a newly-developed right cross which left his sparring mates sleepy in his final workout Monday.

Sarron, quiet-talking veteran of 28 whose name first made the papers when he punched his way to an Olympic team berth in 1924, has seven years in age to give away to his youthful, hard-punching foe. He believes, however, that he can handle Manuel in the same effective manner he did in a Miami ring 18 months ago when he won a clear-cut decision.

Wiser, he claims, since that scrap, Manuel planned a daring, two-fist-ed attack in his shot for the title. He doubted he could win the title in the full 15 rounds, so he laid plans for a knock-out before the twelfth heat. He has a "liver blow," perfected years ago by Lew Tendler and Tommy Gibbons, which he says will serve as a preface to a right cross to the head that will end the fight.

Both were inside the weight limit of 126 pounds last night and were expected to have no trouble in the meeting that requirement at the weighing-in.

On the comeback road after two years with a bad ankle, Tony Herrera, the El Paso welterweight, will fight a six-round semi-windup bout with a west coast sensation, Tiny Kline of Los Angeles, protege of aging Jim Jeffries.

Prospects for a sellout crowd were bright as Promoter Dick Griffin and his office force predicted a $12,000 gate for the state's first titular bout. Sarron will receive 35 per cent and Manuel, 12 1/2.

Bennie Bickers, local referee, was selected by managers of the two fighters, Deputy Boxing Commissioners and Promoter Griffin after a two-day wrangle. Only one judge had been named, however, Bob O'Donnell, veteran fight fan, being named to one of the two ballot jobs.

Blackwell Nine Will Be in City Saturday, Sunday

Pampa and Panhandle baseball fans will not only have the opportunity of seeing the crack Blackwell Oilers of Shawnee, Okla., in action over the week-end, but they will see the Eason Oilers of Enid, Okla., again.

On Saturday night, at 8:30 o'clock and on Sunday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, the Pampa-Danciger Road Runners will meet the Blackwell Oilers, managed by that former professional star, Ucal Clanton. The Eason Oilers, with four former Road Runner players in the lineup, will be here for a game at 8:30 o'clock Monday night.

All three teams will go to the Denver Post tournament where they will play against such teams as the House of David, Monarchs, White Elephants, Denver Ice, Hollywood, Calif., and a host of other nationally famous nines.

The two visiting teams will enroute to the Denver tournament and will be at full strength. The Road Runners will pick up some of their new players enroute to Denver. A few will be here for the three-game series, however.

Manager Sam Hale and Business Manager Harold Miller are not putting anything out on their added power. Their only statements are that when the players arrive they will be announced. A surprise is in store for both fans and opposing teams in the tournament if plans now under way are successfully completed.

With the Eason Oilers when they play here Monday will be Gordon Neil, Dallas Patton, Tank Horton and Gene Ledford, former Road Runner players.

The Blackwell lineup was to reach Pampa today. Manager Clanton has secured a couple of new players for the trip and they will be listed with a west coast sensation, Tiny Kline of Los Angeles, protege of aging Jim Jeffries.

Prospects for a sellout crowd were bright as Promoter Dick Griffin and his office force predicted a $12,000 gate for the state's first titular bout. Sarron will receive 35 per cent and Manuel, 12 1/2.

THREE TEAMS UNBEATEN IN BALL LEAGUE

CHRISTIANS, PHILLIPS AND SKELLY KEEP ON WINNING

The Christians, Phillips and Skelly continued their winning march in the second half of the Pampa Playground ball league yesterday evening when they won close games. Cities Service and King Oil were the other winners.

Manager Ed Johnson and his high stepping Christians took a 6 to 1 game from the Baptists with Gravelee hurling good ball to best Glazebrook.

LaPrade hurled Phillips to another victory, shutting out Voss Cleaners, 3 to 0. Patrick was also "right" but went down before the Phillips batters who took advantage of every break in the game.

Skelly won a 4 to 0 game from Coltex with Hays on the mound, opposed by Witherspoon.

King Oil, back in the running again, took a 14 to 2 game from Cabot with Riley leading the way. Poe went the distance for the winners, opposed by Cole and McDaniel.

Texas company took a country licking from Cities Service when half their players failed to arrive. The score was 19 to 3. Stancil and Atkins hurled for the Oilmen. Campbell went the distance for the winners.

The league standing, including games played yesterday:

Team	W	L	Pct.
Christians	4	0	1.000
Phillips	4	0	1.000
Skelly	3	0	1.000
King Oil	3	2	.600
Voss Cleaners	2	2	.500
Cities Service	2	3	.400
Coltex	2	3	.400
Baptists	1	3	.250
Texas Co.	1	4	.200
Cabot	0	5	.000

Schedule for Friday evening:
Coltex at Texas Co.
Cities Service at Cabot Co.
Voss Cleaners at Christians.
Phillips at Baptists.
Skelly Oil at King Oil.

Dizzy And Hubbell Hook Up In Masterpiece; Giants Win

Dean Hurls Best But Allows Two Homers

BY SID FEDER.
Associated Press Sports Writer.

Just about once every year, Carl (Screwball) Hubbell and Dizzy (The Great) Dean hook up in a baseball masterpiece.

"The Hub" came out on top in a tight duel with the "Great One" yesterday, with whatever breaks there were going against Dean to make their rivalry over the last three seasons all-even at two wins and two losses for each.

"Old Diz" undoubtedly pitched the better ball game yesterday. He gave up only five hits to the Giants over 10 innings, while his mates were getting to Hubbell for nine. He struck out half a dozen batters and walked only two. Hubbell fanned but three and passed five.

But Dizzy made the mistake of serving a home run ball more than Hubbell. The Giants, won two home runs to one. Dick Bartell's round-tripper in the tenth broke up the game, after earlier four-batters by Gus Mancuso and Pepper Martin had tied it all up.

The batting hero, however, wasn't either of the homer-hitters, for Ducky Medwick stole the show by tying the National league record for consecutive hits. He made seven in a row Sunday, and added three more yesterday to deadlock the mark at ten. He failed in an effort to tie Tris Speaker's major league mark by grounding out his next time up.

The Cardinals' loss put them two full games back of the National league-leading Chicago Cubs, who barely turned back a late Brooklyn King Oil 5-3. The Pirates managed to remain in third place by clubbing the Phillies 17-6, after coming from behind a 5-0 deficit. The Cincinnati Reds handed the Bees their third straight setback, as Benny Frey bested Ban Cantwell, 3-2, in a mound struggle.

The Cleveland Indians cut the Yankees' American league lead to eight games by nosing out the Red Sox 6-5, while the Yanks were bowing to Al Thomas and the St. Louis Browns, 5-4. The Browns' win enabled them to come out of the American league cellar for the first time this season.

The Chicago White Sox, opening at home after a highly successful road trip, had their eight-game winning streak snapped as the Senators came through -5. The Tigers

August Tennis Meet Planned

LEFORS PLAYS IN AMARILLO THIS EVENING

AMARILLOANS FAVORED AFTER BEATING HUBER

Sluggers Crush Canadian 13-6

A tennis tournament, as part of the Summer Recreation program being conducted by Ben Guill, will begin about August 1, Mr. Guill has announced. Location of registration and rules of the tournament will be posted within a few days.

The tennis courts at Central park have been finished and are in constant demand day and night. They were completed under supervision of the recreation program sponsors, sponsored by the Council of Clubs.

Ten boys, who were unable to secure summer employment, were given work on the tennis courts. Plans are now under way for them to work other courts in the city.

Phillips of LeFors, after losing a hectic game to the Pampa-Danciger Road Runners on Sunday afternoon, will go to Amarillo tonight for a game with the high flying Phillips Parrots of that city. The Amarillo-Phillips crew took a double header from the favored Huber Blackfaces of Berger Sunday afternoon to hike their stock almost beyond reach.

One of the Dilbeck brothers is likely to get the mound job for Manager Ike Lister's LeFors boys tonight. He will be opposed by Luke Coburn, former Coltex of LeFors star, who has been winning more than his share of games lately.

The Dilbecks are both lefthanders and curve ball artists to boot. Rex gave a great exhibition of relief hurling in Amarillo a few weeks ago. Harvey, younger brother, has yet to show his stuff in fast company. He is said to be ready to go and may pitch tonight.

Amarillo fans are expected to crowd Metro park to see Bauer, LeFors' new second baseman, who made a name for himself in football circles with Nebraska university last fall. He is a wonderful defensive player but so far has not starred at the plate.

Mrs. T. C. Robinson and her two children of Corpus Christi are visiting Mrs. Carl Clements this week and next.

ALLRED PLAYS OLD-AGE PENSION SCHEMES OF ALL HIS OPPONENTS

GALVESTON, July 22.—Assistance for the needy versus pensions for the wealthy was discussed here last night by Governor James V. Allred.

"Our present old age assistance law, passed by your legislature after consultation and advice with representatives of the National Social Security Board, provides for assistance payments to the aged needy only," the governor reminded his audience.

"You are promised by my opponents pension payments to everybody over 65, whether they need it or not. I recommended old age pensions to the legislature and the legislature submitted old age assistance to the people. By a vote of four to one the people endorsed old age assistance and directed the setting up of a system under such limitations and restrictions and regulations as may be deemed by the legislature expedient."

"The limitations, restrictions and regulations that the legislature deemed expedient are the basis of our present old age assistance law. It isn't a perfect law, as I said when I signed it and as I have said on numerous other occasions, but it is the best law we could get from two special sessions of the legislature."

"If we waited for the 'perfect law'—the law that would have satisfied everybody—we would probably be waiting yet. As it is, more than 50,000 aged needy citizens of Texas already are receiving their assistance checks and others are being added to the rolls daily."

"Now let's look for a moment at the promises of my opponents, and bear in mind that the fulfillment of those promises hinges on two very unlikely contingencies—first that any of them will be elected and second that the legislature will follow their policies if by some miracle they should be elected."

"Why, do you suppose, they are making such reckless promises? Your own good common sense will tell you that they are attempting to trade promises for votes. It is against the law to trade money for votes and, to my mind, it is just as reprehensible to try to corrupt the electorate with empty promises."

"They want to—or they tell you they want to—give away indiscriminately $60,000,000 of your tax money every year to pay a pension to everybody over 65. Just remember that if such a scheme is adopted it will be your money that is given away, because Uncle Sam won't take any part in such a slipshod and careless way of doing business."

"There will be only a definite sum available to be divided between the rich and the poor. To me it seems a cruel thing to take money from the destitute and infirm and crippled old folks—the needy who are entitled to and who are receiving assistance now—and pay it out to the wealthy and well-to-do who neither need nor want a pension."

Saunders Awarded $3,512 Judgment

A judgment for $3,512.08, plus $999.01 interest, was awarded in by Judge W. R. Ewing in district court yesterday afternoon to J. M. Saunders, plaintiff in a lawsuit to collect the amount from the Pampa Grain Co.

Jury trial was waived and facts of the case were placed before the court. The judgment was granted on a promissory note, allegedly given by the defendant and which fell due in April of 1934.

INCUMBENTS LEAD

HELENA, Mont., July 22. (AP)—Senator James E. Murray and Gov. Almer Holt topped rival candidates for Democratic nominations for the offices they hold with a third of the Montana primary election returns counted. Tabulation of votes in 398 of the state's 1,337 precincts, gave Murray 16,153; Representative Joseph P. Monaghan, 14,919; S. V. Stewart, 4,778; and Walter B. Sands 2,688.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE

Without Colic—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

Laxatives are only makeshifts. A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes these good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up". Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. Stubbornly refuse anything else.

DROUTH RUM IS AS BAD AS 1934 SCOURGE

CORN PRICES RUSH UP FOUR CENTS A BUSHEL

WASHINGTON, July 22. (AP)—Farmers through an immense mid-western area scanned the skies in vain for rain today as the agriculture department published a report describing the drowth's severity as comparable to that of 1934.

Jesse W. Tapp, chairman of the inter-departmental drowth committee, headed for Kansas City to confer with Secretary Wallace today on Federal cattle purchases and financial aid to farmers in blighted sections.

The crop reporting board, in a special report, said the condition of pasture lands on July 15 averaged 44.7 per cent of normal, compared with 48.9 per cent July 1, 1934. The board used pasture lands as the yardstick by which to measure the effect of the hot dry spell on general vegetation.

No definite figures were available on changes after mid-July, but since then the west has suffered some of its hottest days.

"By July 20 the condition probably was down almost to the all-time record low set August 1, 1934," said the board. "In comparison with the drowth at this time in 1934, the present drowth appears to be about as severe in the western corn belt, and as far east as central Pennsylvania and east central New York."

Most of the nation enjoyed relief yesterday from the intense heat suffered for more than a fortnight. Scattered showers broke the dry period in parts of many states, but the vast corn country still awaited rains to save the 1936 crop.

Speculators short of supplies for future delivery, particularly July and September, rushed corn prices up 4 cents a bushel in the Chicago pits yesterday. July corn closed at 91¢ and September at 88¢.

PAIR THE FOR MEDAL HONORS IN GOLF MEET

64 SURVIVORS BEGIN MATCH PLAY FOR TITLE

FARMINGDALE, N. Y., July 22. (AP)—Led by a haberdashery salesman from Washington, a radio policeman and a steel worker from San Francisco and a movie extra from Pasadena, Calif., the 64 survivors of a pair of record breaking qualifying rounds began match play in the National Public Links golf championship today.

Claude Rippy, a slender, willowy golfer with a swing that reminded the gallery of Ray Mangrum, refused to be daunted yesterday by the difficult blue course at Beth Page state park and came home in 70 strokes to the Jimmy Molinari, a husky six-footer who patrols San Francisco streets in a radio car, for the qualifying medal. Each had a 36-hole total of 145.

Two strokes behind them came Charlie Ferrera of San Francisco, twice winner of the "poor man's" golf title, and Fred Abbott, curly haired motion picture performer who won the Southern California open title last winter.

Rippy covered the first nine in 30, six strokes under par. He faltered and came home in 40. That was enough to give him the only sub-par score of the two qualifying rounds and a tie for the medal with Molinari, who carded a par 72. The Washingtonian's 30 was a tournament record for nine holes.

The Seattle quartet of Bill Kin-kella, Warren Campbell, 16-year-old brother of the more famous Scotty, Carl Johnson and Harry Umbreit, scored a 36-hole aggregate of 599 to take the team trophy from San Francisco, which equaled the former team record of 603.

Two 18-hole match play rounds were scheduled for today and two more for tomorrow to reduce the field to eight semi-finalists.

PILGRIM HAS STARRER FOR N. Y. A. C. FOR THIRTY YEARS

(Note: This is third in a series dealing with old time Olympic stars and what they are doing now.)

BY SCOTTY RESTON Associated Press Sports Writer NEW YORK, July 22 (AP)—In the long and fabulous sports history of the New York Athletic club, no man has played a greater part than Paul Pilgrim.

In 1905 he went to the Olympic games at Athens for the N. Y. A. C. and won the 400 and 800 meter runs. No man had ever won these two races the same year and no man yet has equalled the feat. . . Nine years later when he came back to the club seeking a job he was not forgotten.

Pilgrim was made athletic manager of the club in 1915 and he still holds the job.

He's 50 years old now, grey of hair but straight as a javelin. He's a walking track and field record book. He can tell you who won and why and what was the score of practically any meet of importance in the past 20 years.

But Pilgrim is no athlete now. Five years ago a serious appendicitis almost took his life. Today he admits he is afraid to mix in the sports he loves.

He had a chance to go over to the games in Berlin this year but he decided to stay at home.

"When I take a vacation now it won't be at a track meet," he says.

U. S. CONCEDED EVEN CHANCE IN SWIMMING AGAINST JAPS

BY ALAN GOULD Associated Press Sports Editor. ABOARD S. S. MANHATTAN, EN ROUTE TO BERLIN, July 22 (AP)—America's Olympic swimmers, who are planning an intensive two weeks training period at Berlin to tune up their charges for great efforts.

Bob Kiputh, coach of the men's team, told the Associated Press today that the swimmers have "a fifty-fifty chance of regaining the men's team honors lost to Japan in 1932," while Ray Daughters of Seattle, coach of the women swimmers, said, "we have to beat the Dutch to keep the title."

Both the American and Japanese men's teams are stronger than they were four years ago, especially in the 100 meters. News of a record Japanese performance in the 100 meters altered the idea that there was an edge in favor of the Americans, who are placing their main reliance in the 100 yard race.

Otherwise Japan is conceded an advantage in the 1500 meter freestyle and the United States in the backstroke. The remaining events are toss-ups.

Track and field officials meantime were concerned with the condition of their charges and the arrangements of post-Olympic tests. Jesse Owens had another brisk workout yesterday and continued to improve.

TEXAS SPORT NOTES

DALLAS, July 22. (AP)—Strangely, the Texas league's two leading pitchers, and certainly the circuit's most dramatic figures, will be perched in grandstand seats, barking with the rest of the spectators, when the league's all-star game is played here Saturday night.

Introducing Fred (Pip) Marberry and Jackie Reid, a pair of aging hurlers they all counted out too soon.

Marberry, the graying major leaguer who came back to the minors after a dozen years of brilliance, has given the Dallas Steers five victories and no defeats. . . In four of those games he limited the enemy to slightly less than five bingles.

Over at Fort Worth is diminutive Jackie Reid, a perennial bush leaguer who has injected new life into the climbing Panthers. . . Right at 40, Jackie has nailed six victories and one defeat alongside his name since joining the Cats. . . Both Marberry and Reid, who arrived a trifle late for consideration on the all-star team, are young sprouts (records prove it) capable of earning places with the "stars" next year.

Heads of the Texas conference were looking towards the box-office when they passed that ruling allowing freshmen to compete on varsity football teams. . . The finest teams in conference history are expected this year. Schools expected to benefit by the ruling are Abilene Christian, Daniel Baker, Southwestern, St. Edward's and Trinity. . . The other three, Austin, McMurry and Howard Payne, will sport veteran aggregations again this year.

Idle tip: Southwestern to surprise and win the bunting. Little' Jack Mooty, the former Texas Aggie pitching star, is winning ball games for Toronto in the International loop. . . His latest—a two-hitter. . . As usual, Os Eckhardt, the old University of Texas athlete, is leading another league.

— This time the American association. . . Since going to the association from Brooklyn, where he couldn't hit in a pepper game, he has set the league afire.

YESTERDAY'S STARS (By The Associated Press)

Dick Bartell, Giants—His tenth inning homer beat Cardinals 2-1. Al Thomas, Browns—Held Yankees to six hits for 5-4 win. Benny Frey, Reds—Pitched six hit ball for 3-2 decision over Bees.

Hal Trosky, Indians—Hit 25th homer as Red Sox were defeated 6-5. Tommy Bridges and Charley Gehring, Tigers—Former's seven-hit pitching won doubleheader opener, and latter's homer, double, single, drove in three runs in nightcap.

Carl Reynolds, Senators—Hit homer and single to lead way to victory over White Sox. Lloyd Waner, Pirates—Drove in four runs against Phillies with homer and double.

Phil Cavarretta, Cubs—His timely single sent in two runs in 5-3 win over Dodgers.

Heads of the Texas conference were looking towards the box-office when they passed that ruling allowing freshmen to compete on varsity football teams. . . The finest teams in conference history are expected this year. Schools expected to benefit by the ruling are Abilene Christian, Daniel Baker, Southwestern, St. Edward's and Trinity. . . The other three, Austin, McMurry and Howard Payne, will sport veteran aggregations again this year.

Idle tip: Southwestern to surprise and win the bunting. Little' Jack Mooty, the former Texas Aggie pitching star, is winning ball games for Toronto in the International loop. . . His latest—a two-hitter. . . As usual, Os Eckhardt, the old University of Texas athlete, is leading another league.

— This time the American association. . . Since going to the association from Brooklyn, where he couldn't hit in a pepper game, he has set the league afire.

YESTERDAY'S STARS (By The Associated Press)

Dick Bartell, Giants—His tenth inning homer beat Cardinals 2-1. Al Thomas, Browns—Held Yankees to six hits for 5-4 win. Benny Frey, Reds—Pitched six hit ball for 3-2 decision over Bees.

Hal Trosky, Indians—Hit 25th homer as Red Sox were defeated 6-5. Tommy Bridges and Charley Gehring, Tigers—Former's seven-hit pitching won doubleheader opener, and latter's homer, double, single, drove in three runs in nightcap.

Carl Reynolds, Senators—Hit homer and single to lead way to victory over White Sox. Lloyd Waner, Pirates—Drove in four runs against Phillies with homer and double.

Phil Cavarretta, Cubs—His timely single sent in two runs in 5-3 win over Dodgers.

TEXAS SPORT NOTES

DALLAS, July 22. (AP)—Strangely, the Texas league's two leading pitchers, and certainly the circuit's most dramatic figures, will be perched in grandstand seats, barking with the rest of the spectators, when the league's all-star game is played here Saturday night.

Introducing Fred (Pip) Marberry and Jackie Reid, a pair of aging hurlers they all counted out too soon.

Marberry, the graying major leaguer who came back to the minors after a dozen years of brilliance, has given the Dallas Steers five victories and no defeats. . . In four of those games he limited the enemy to slightly less than five bingles.

Over at Fort Worth is diminutive Jackie Reid, a perennial bush leaguer who has injected new life into the climbing Panthers. . . Right at 40, Jackie has nailed six victories and one defeat alongside his name since joining the Cats. . . Both Marberry and Reid, who arrived a trifle late for consideration on the all-star team, are young sprouts (records prove it) capable of earning places with the "stars" next year.

Heads of the Texas conference were looking towards the box-office when they passed that ruling allowing freshmen to compete on varsity football teams. . . The finest teams in conference history are expected this year. Schools expected to benefit by the ruling are Abilene Christian, Daniel Baker, Southwestern, St. Edward's and Trinity. . . CAMPAIGN FOR ALLRED'S SEAT IS LUKE-WARM

OFFICIAL'S OPPONENTS CENTER ATTACK ON EACH OTHER

By The Associated Press
Where the gubernatorial candidates speak today:
Pierce Brooks: Hillsboro, 10:30 a. m., 8 p. m.
F. W. Fischer: Port Arthur 3 p. m., Beaumont 8 p. m.
Tom F. Hunter: Fort Worth 8 p. m.
Roy Sanderford: Denton 2:30 p. m., Hillsboro 8:15 p. m.
James V. Allred: Goose Creek 5 p. m., Houston 8 p. m.

Texas who have heard an underestimated flow of political oratory in past weeks had chances to listen to ten more gubernatorial speeches today.

The five candidates seeking the Democratic nomination for governor had only two days after today to present their cases to the electorate. As the luke-warm campaign neared an end the candidate last night to need to discussions of taxes, old age pensions and the possibility of a thriving textile industry in Texas.

Pierce Brooks, speaking at Fort Worth, urged the further development of Texas Technological college at Lubbock and said he visited the school as the forerunner of textile mills that "are bound to come in numbers to the cotton raising districts of Texas."

He said that as a businessman he also favored establishment of a state real estate and industrial board, the purpose of which would be parallel that of Texas Tech.

F. W. Fischer spoke at Jasper.
He repeated his program for land taxation relief in rural centers thru a tax on natural resource. His speech included a double-barreled attack on Gov. James V. Allred and Roy Sanderford. He said recent statements that Sanderford "seemed to be gaining strength in the closing days of the campaign" was "Allred Propaganda."

He said this propaganda was created in hopes an "eleventh-hour miracle" might place Sanderford in the "un-off." "They want the Ferguson-backed candidate in the run-off because they know Allred can beat him. They don't think the present governor can beat me."

Tom Hunter concentrated his remarks at San Antonio in reviewing his attack on Gov. Allred. "Ignoring the voted edict of the people doesn't seem to bother Jimmie Allred," he said.

He declared Gov. Allred had been indifferent to legislation which would have permitted courts to entrust deserving youth convicted of criminal acts to probation officers.
He charged the Governor tossed aside this method of rehabilitating Texas youth in deference to his political purposes. Hunter said the present parole boards had no fixed authority but were mere "recommenders."

In a radio talk at Wichita Falls,
State Senator Roy Sanderford said he was the only candidate who could defeat Gov. Allred in a runoff primary and that state sentiment demanded Gov. Allred's defeat.

He charged the incumbent with failure to grasp opportunities to serve the state. He said: "The governor has beaten himself. Hunter has not gone far from the starting post and F. W. Fischer has been swimming backwards for the past three weeks." Sanderford's main plank has been adoption of a sales tax to provide revenue for old age pensions.

Gov. Allred carried his defense of current old age assistance administration to Galveston. He said the Texas law provided only for aid to the needy aged, despite which "my opponents are promising pension payments to everybody over 65, whether they need it or not."

The governor said the law was not perfect but that under it 50-000 aged needy citizens were receiving their assistance checks and others were being added daily. He said it was the best law "we could get from two special sessions of the legislature."

ARRIVAL OF PINEDA IN 1519 IS SHOWN SPECTACULARLY AT FETE

DALLAS, July 22.—A battered Spanish galleon limped into the still waters of Corpus Christi Bay four hundred and seventeen years ago this past spring. Her masts were torn away, her sails in ribbons, and her hull showed the terrific battering she had received from the maddened seas.

The commander, Alvarez de Pineda, ordered anchors dropped and boats lowered away. He and his ragged sailors made a landing party, and on the smooth beach in the still half-moon of curved green shore, they raised the gold and crimson standard of Aragon, and lifted their voices in a Te Deum of praise for deliverance from death.

It was the year 1519, spring, and the Holy Thursday of Corpus Christi.
Pineda had sailed from Jamaica months before to seek the Southwest Passage to India. He never found the passage, but he made a map of the coast of Texas which was to bring hundreds of navigators, explorers and adventurers to the Spanish throne, and his commoner bride, Edelmira Sam-pedro of Cuba. Despite Alfon-so's avowal that he never will remarry, he and Senorita Rocar-fort have been seen together frequently in New York, one occasion being recorded above.

House of Shadows

off my neck. I'll come across. You got the drop on me."
For a moment Hannah hesitated.
Tren she got up and pulled the aprons off, holding it over her arm to conceal the aspen stick she carried. "Just keep both hands on this table where I can see 'em." She directed him to a chair at the table nearby.

Dallas looked at her with new respect. "That was mighty neat of you, must say," he complimented her. "Naturally I wasn't expecting to meet up with anyone here."

"No?" Hannah grinned grimly. "A trick I worked once in the early days on a heathen Injun who figured he had run his war path through my ranch house. . . do you want now?"
asked Dallas.

"Where'd you get that silencer that rolled off your roof while you was gone? Does it fit that gun over there?"

"I don't reckon it does," he answered. "I ain't had time to find out. I'm telling you straight, I wasn't the one who used it. I found it in the aspen grove after I loaned the gun."

"Loaned the gun?"
"Yep. Eb borrowed it. Said he wanted to get a hawk that had been bothering his chickens."
Hannah sniffed, disbelievingly.
"And that would be when?"

"The afternoon Miss Fosdick and her friends came up here."
"An' when'd you get it back?"

"Susie brought it back to me early the morning after Miss Fosdick had been fired at, though she never mentioned it at the time. I didn't know what had happened until the men and Eb came to my cabin. They found the gun had been fired, but Eb didn't have any chance to explain then. It was when he went down to the tool house after breakfast, that he told me he hadn't used the gun himself, and I didn't know who had. He'd left it out in the barn so it would be handy and near the chicken coops."

"And you think that sounds like a good alibi?" asked Hannah sar-casmically.

"No," he answered. "I don't. But it's the truth, just the same."
"Do you know where Eb Spratt went?" Hannah watched him closely as she asked the question.

"I only wish I did. I've scoured the village and asked everybody who might have met up with him. If I knew where Eb was, I'd know a lot of other things, too."

"Why don't you ask his sister?"
"Do you think she'd tell—if she knows?" he countered.

"No," Hannah was forced to admit. "But I notice she ain't exactly worrying herself to death over his absence. She told Claire this afternoon he probably had gone off down to the city for something."
"And left a bloody cap behind just as a playful little trick. I sus-pose. Eb wasn't the joking kind."

Mask Permits You to Go on Gassing

The old-fashioned gas mask was a grand science, but it looks as though science has deprived us of this meagre boon of war, for here's a new mask developed in France, that permits you to use the telephone. For those who must talk to be happy, it ends one of the horrors of war.

"I'll say he wasn't," agreed Hannah. "That man never even smiled unless it was surprised out of him."

This apt description of the sour-faced Eb brought a smile to Dan's lips. "Well, nobody can say his sister doesn't appreciate this world," he remarked dryly.

"You ought to know," snapped Hannah.

Dallas let that go by without changing expression, only shrugged his shoulders slightly. After waiting a minute for him to speak, Hannah backed toward the door, evidently satisfied that she could get nothing further from him.

He watched her with a grin.
"Goodbye," he said. "Come again.
Maybe next time we'll both know more than we do now."

For answer Hannah slammed the door behind her and walked away, feeling a little ridiculous. "He bested me, after all," she grumbled aloud.
"I don't know any more than when I started."

As she hurried up the path to the house, Nick Baum came suddenly around the curve of the road.
At sight of her he stopped in astonishment, then quickly came forward.

"Why, I wasn't expecting to see you, Hannah!" He smiled. "Is—is Claire still here, by any good chance?"

"Yes, she is, Mr. Baum," Hannah replied. "And she'll be right glad to see you. Won't you come in?"

She led the way to the front door, and motioned him in hospitably.
Just then Susie came into the hall.
She gave a slight start of surprise at sight of the visitor.

"I'll go tell Miss Fosdick you're here, Mr. Baum. Of course you'll be staying for supper," Hannah said.

"Thanks but I've got to go on to the village this evening," he answered. "Just thought I'd drop in to ask Eb Spratt about a man
I'm going there to see on business.
I know he is acquainted with all the people around this part of the country."

"Nick!" exclaimed Claire from the doorway.

Hannah went upstairs, leaving the young people alone. Tenderly Nick Baum took both the girl's hands in his.

"Haven't you anything to tell me yet, Claire?" he asked, looking deep down into her eyes. "I've missed you so while you've been hiding from me up here."

Frontier Fete At Cowtown To Be Night Show

PORT WORTH, July 22 (AP)—The Frontier Centennial will slip practical-minded into a new shirt of hours today as the kind of amusement enterprise it really was intended to be, a playground after dark.

After trying out a schedule for the first three days, officials observed the difference in sun-dazed daytime visitors and the sudden come-to-life transformation after sundown.

They announced that hereafter the gates will open at 5 p. m. instead of 11 a. m. That doesn't include Saturday, Sundays and holidays, when visitors are welcome from 1
p. m. on.

In its revised state, "Jumbo" will be shown twice nightly—at 7:45 p. m., when children will be admitted for half price, and 10:30 p. m.

Other new show schedules, all moved up a little into later evening

TOWNSEND IS YANKED BACK FOR HEARING

ANOTHER WALK-OUT IS FUTILE AS JUDGE SIGNS ORDER

CLEVELAND, July 22 (AP)—Dr. F.
E. Townsend was on an eastern speaking tour today but he was committed to return here in less than a month to answer more questions in a court battle designed to oust him and other officers of the old age pension movement bearing his name.

The Long Beach, Calif., physician entered his limousine and headed for Erie, Pa., yesterday.

It was three months to the day from the time that he walked out on a House of Representatives committee in Washington. A contempt citation still is hanging fire in connection with that march.

He drove away with Geo. Maines, publicity man for the Rev. Gerald L. K. Smith, and Mrs. Townsend.
In the interim, Benjamin F. Sacharow, attorney conducting the hearing, obtained a contempt of court citation from a notary public and set out with a deputy in a taxicab in pursuit.

The Townsend party got as far as East Cleveland when he was overtaken and returned to a courtroom.
The contempt citation was dismissed by Common Pleas Judge Sam-el E. Kramer on Sacharow's request as the $200-a-month pension plan father settled back and answered another hour's worth of questions about the organization.

Then the hearing was recessed until August 17 to permit the doctor to make his eastern tour.
