CONGRESS PASSES TAX BILL AND ADJOURNS

TEX'S TOPICS

TOPICS is expecting mail this week from one-time associates in California. Prior to departure from the sunshine state we expressed a personal opinion that it would be a load off the mind to know that earthquake territory was being left behind.

Earthquake night in the Panhandle was momentous for C. H. Walker, Pampa's new postmaster, come July 1. It will be easy for Mr. Walker to remember his confirmation by the senate. Within the period of one hour he received notification of that fact, Joe Louis went out like a light, and the earth heaved and groaned.

Which reminds us that it is time for public apology No. 1. We said something here Friday about what was going to happen to Max Schmeling. It was our warped opinion that Der Maxie would be chopped down in a round or two. For that we humbly beg his and your pardons. Your promise that from here on we will not step over into the sports editor's territory.

One doesn't have to pay for everything that is to be seen at the Centennial in Fort Worth. For instance, roving activity of an old frontier town is being recreated on a pioneer village street called Sunset Trail. There you will find the little old church, saloon, bank, blacksmith shop, two-story hotel, town hall and pool hall of a frontier town.

This re-creation is being done up right. Inside these picturesque structures will be dignified collections of historical relics, paintings, Indian paraphernalia, old hats and presses that once put out the frontier news and bandit reward notices.

Outside in the street will be the raw, lusty goings-on of the wildest town east or west of the Pecos. Bands will ride in daily to hold up the bank and make a getaway into the frontier centennial crowd.

Old hand presses will grind out reward notices, to give somebody a chance to capture the villain and lead him to the sheriff's office and claim the reward. Here's a chance to relive the raw life of a frontier town on Sunset Trail.

Mrs. Chick Hickman, secretary to the county judge, was a bit disappointed because she didn't get the benefit of Friday night's shock. Mrs. Hickman was riding in an automobile with her husband and some friends at the time and missed the full effects.

Business note: The Pampa Credit association has just received a report from the research division of its national unit that collections and credit sales continue to increase in Texas. Panhandle communities report an approximate 13 per cent increase in credit sales due to recent rains and oil field and soil erosion activities.

Today's trivial topic: A woman residing in Durham, England, is reported to wear size 21 shoes.

A Pampa resident wishes to get the exact definition of "an average man." There is no exact definition. Some years ago Robert S. and Helen Merrell Lynd made a study of the residents in a town in one of the central states. They called this study "Middletown." If a copy of this book is available it will give a fairly good idea of what might be termed "the average man."

The government reports more than 500 broadcasting stations in the United States, not counting those that lean over back fences.

District court activity against drunken drivers gives rise to the thought that the peak in traffic hazards is a road hog full of corn.

TODAY'S BIBLE THOUGHT: The Art of Feasibility—I have learned, in whatsoever state I am, therewith to be content. I know how to be abased, and I know how to abound.—Philippians 4:11, 12.

CRASH FATAL: DENTON, June 20 (AP)—One person was killed and six were injured, one seriously, in an automobile-truck collision near here tonight. Jerry Ashworth, 19, was instantly killed when the car in which she was riding with Fred Kingsbury, 24, crashed into the rear end of a truck on the Dallas highway. Kingsbury was not badly injured.

Recent Fires in Pampa Probed by State Official

A visitor in Pampa last week was Jas. Byrne, state arson investigator. Assisted by Fire Chief Ben White, County Attorney Sherman White and District Attorney Lewis Goodrich, Mr. Byrne investigated recent fires in Pampa.

Before leaving yesterday, Mr. Byrne told the NEWS that all future fires of a suspicious nature would be investigated by Chief Goodrich and his investigators. White himself. He would not reveal them here.

The department made a run to the rear of Frick Reid Supply company on Atchinson avenue early yesterday afternoon. They found trash burning. No damage resulted.

Today Supposed To Be Father's Day

Father is supposed to have his inning today. In many places Father's Day is being observed with special attention such as is given Mother's Day earlier in the year.

Special mention is made in the churches, and in many homes family gatherings to honor fathers are held.

COAL CONTROL PLAN KILLED IN FILIBUSTER

SENATOR HOLT GIVES UP AND SENATE QUILTS

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL Associated Press Staff Writer WASHINGTON, June 21 (Sunday) (AP)—The 74th Congress, which topped off the administration's program yesterday by finally approving the trouble-studded tax bill, adjourned sine die early today after a determined—but listless—filibuster had spent itself.

Just before midnight youthful Senator Holt (D-W. Va.) one of those who had been filibustering against the Guffey-Vinson coal control bill with a sharp attack on John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, gave up and the senate quickly adjourned.

The house which had been standing by while the senate sought to break the bonds of the filibuster, followed suit at 12:39 a. m. E. S. T., and the second Roosevelt congress ground to an end.

Galleries were packed with gay crowds, eager to be present when the big show on capitol hill was finally ended. Time and again they had to be warned by presiding officers to restrain themselves.

In the closing rush not only was the Guffey-Vinson bill, designed to replace the outlawed original Guffey coal control act, filibustered to death, but the controversial food and drug bill was killed when the house refused to agree to the conference report.

Having turned the tax bill—estimated to produce $800,000,000 in new revenue—over to President Roosevelt in mid-afternoon, the house and senate sat down to hold a wake with the Guffey-Vinson bill, sentenced to death by the filibuster.

One last minute flurry broke into the unusual calm which hung over the two chambers, ordinarily so turbulent on adjournment night.

It was an attempt by backers of the coal bill, watching it ground under the filibuster, to hold congress in session for a day or so more.

Wearied by the prolonged session, the senate shouted the effort down. During an interruption for a bit of actual work, the senate approved several nominations and then shot through the Walsh-Healey bill to require government contractors to comply with wage and hour standards. The bill went to the White House when house amendments were accepted without a trace of opposition.

The only other major action in the waning hours of the congress was senate rejection of 34 to 17, of a last-minute push for the Fraser-Lemke bill, which would have permitted the printing of $3,000,000,000 of the money to refinance farm debts.

Senator Frazier (R-ND) sought to attach it as an amendment to the coal bill.

The crowded galleries were treated in both senate and house to interjections.

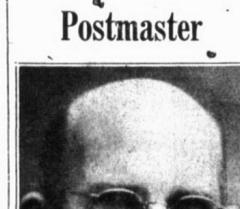

War Sanctions Against Italy Lifted by U. S.

WASHINGTON, June 20 (AP)—President Roosevelt today lifted the arms and financial embargoes and other war restrictions invoked by the United States against Italy and Ethiopia under the neutrality act.

Officially recognizing the end of hostilities between the invading Italian conquerors and Emperor Haile Selassie's tribesmen, the chief executive proclaimed the termination of all American restrictive measures applied when he recognized a state of war existed.

WATER SHUT OFF HERE FOR HOUR Earthquake Shakes Panhandle Section

C. H. WALKER By appointment of President Roosevelt and confirmation by the senate, C. H. (Hub) Walker, pictured above, will be Pampa's new postmaster. He will take over his new duties on July 1, succeeding David E. Cecil, an appointee of Herbert Hoover in 1931 and of the senate in 1932.

AMARILLO, June 20 (AP)—Earthquake shocks were felt over a broad area of the Texas and Oklahoma Panhandles last night, alarming the populace but apparently causing no property damage.

Dishes were rattled in homes and one man, George Bishop, an oil worker at Whittener, reported the quake knocked him down. The first shock was felt at 2:25 p. m. in Amarillo, Pampa, Berger, Panhandle, Whittener and Claude, considerably more distinct than one experienced by the same area several years ago.

In the Oklahoma Panhandle, turgently at Guymon and nearby towns at about the same time, D. O. Bissell, Guymon meteorologist, said the quake was the first there in 22 years.

Residents of Pampa and the Panhandle Saturday took cognizance of earthquake possibilities following the double tremor which shook the city and north plains area Friday night.

The first shock was felt here at 9:23 p. m. and was followed by another and more severe jolt two minutes later at 9:25 p. m. While many reported they did not notice the first one, the second tremor rattled residential homes and downtown buildings.

First belief was that there had been an explosion in the oil fields. A hurried telephone check of the area soon revealed that the disturbance had not originated there.

Phones to the Pampa News were clogged almost immediately with calls from persons inquiring about the shock. It soon was learned that the disturbance was widespread, having been felt in Amarillo, Canadian, Canyon, LeFors.

Although the earth tremor was the most severe ever to visit the Panhandle district, little damage was reported. No one was injured.

In Pampa the cornice at the northwest and southwest corners of the city hall was damaged. Small fissures appeared in the corners last week but Saturday morning they had widened several inches.

Five rows of brick below the cornice were also split under the quake. The contractor, who erected the building was notified when the break was found. He said there was no danger of the corner section falling. It will be removed and the damage repaired this week. Damage at the northwest corner was not as great.

Patrons of the theaters were startled and some started to leave.

People You Know (BY A. F.) We sat on a sandy bar in the sand of song birds sing day and night in a jungle of cotton wood trees, where the tracks of antelope and deer are denser than the hoof-prints of cattle, where the jay bird, the mocking bird, the mourning dove, the wood pecker, unite in pouring forth a din of musical sounds that bewilder and startle the ears of the plainsman.

Then the sand under us shivered and a low rumble of distant thunder was heard. Five minutes later the earth under us rocked and heaved and fear loomed large in a dozen boy's eyes, and the rumble became an almost explosive. (They said that section of Hutchinson county was near the epicentre of the earthquake.)

CRACKS IN CORNERS OF CITY HALL ARE WIDENED

C. H. WALKER APPOINTMENT IS CONFIRMED

Change in Postmasters To Take Place July 1, End Of The Fiscal Year

The appointment of C. H. Walker as postmaster of Pampa was confirmed by the senate Friday night according to a telegram received yesterday from Senator Morris Sheppard. Mr. Walker's appointment was approved by President Roosevelt on Tuesday of last week.

The new postmaster has been a resident of Pampa for eight years during which time he has operated the Pampa Office Supply company. He moved here from Dalhart where his record was one of civic and community service.

During his residence in Dalhart, Mr. Walker served as president of the Dalhart chamber of commerce during 1914-15; headed all liberty loan campaigns in Dallam county; Dallam county president of Red Cross; president Colorado-Gulf highway association (Denver to Galveston) 1921-24; first president Dalhart Lions club; member 33rd Texas legislature 1913; postmaster Dalhart 1913-22.

Continuing his civic activity in Pampa, Mr. Walker became president of the Pampa Board of City Development and chamber of commerce in 1931; president Pampa Lions club 1931; District governor Lions club of West Texas, 1932; president Gray county welfare board 1932-33; head of NRA in Pampa and Gray county at request of General Hugh Johnson; voted Pampa's outstanding citizen in 1933; now chairman of the Gray county parole board.

Mr. Walker has been a resident of the Panhandle since 1909, coming from Tennessee, state of his birth. Before moving to Dalhart he was a school superintendent.

The change in postmasters will take place on July 1, the end of the fiscal year.

D. E. Cecil, retiring postmaster, received a recess appointment in July 1931 and his senate appointment in January 1932. Mr. Cecil has not announced future plans.

Truck-Car Crash Kills 4 Persons

EL CAMPO, June 20 (AP)—A truck-automobile crash four miles west of here today killed four persons and seriously injured a like number.

The dead were: Adolph Wegenhoff, 52, Rock Island stockman, and his 5-month-old son, Miss Valda Holstein, 17, Wegenhoff's stepdaughter, and Hillmer Dunlavy, 28, of Columbus, a barber.

Mrs. Wegenhoff received a broken leg and arm, and was injured internally, doctors said. J. H. Ledinger of San Antonio, and J. P. Handcock and Charles Kuder of Houston, were seriously hurt.

Their automobile met the truck driven by Ledinger head on. Death to the four was instantaneous.

WELLS DO NOT PUMP WATER FAST ENOUGH

FLUID IS PUMPED INTO TANKS DURING SHUT-DOWN

Pampa was without water, as far as faucets were concerned, for an hour in all last night while pumps at two of the three city wells shot the life-giving fluid into two empty supply tanks.

The third well, known as well No. 1 to city employees, was pumping no water. It became incapacitated early Saturday morning, and employees were working day and night to repair it.

The water was turned off about an hour beginning about 9 o'clock last night. The shut-down during a first period lasted about 15 minutes and about 40 minutes a second time.

The two city wells left pumping after No. 1 failed to function were unable to supply the demand. Pampans used more than 2,000,000 gallons in less than 20 hours. The lines were closed so that water could be pumped into the tanks in case of fire. Water lines to a possible area could be opened, and all others closed.

City officials urged residents to use water sparingly today so that the reserve could be built up. They reported that a normal amount of water was in the lines at 11 p. m.

Mayor W. A. Bratton and Fire Chief Ben White were worried. They conceded that the situation was serious before the tanks were filled. Shutting off the water was an emergency measure.

The trouble at well No. 1 was not immediately diagnosed. The effect of the earthquake in producing the disability was discussed.

John Studer Is Candidate for County Attorney

John F. Studer yesterday authorized the NEWS to announce his candidacy for the office of county attorney of Gray county, subject to the action of the Democratic primary July 25.

John is a democrat, born and raised at Canadian, lived there until January 1, 1924 when he moved to Pampa. He has been in the continuous practice of law here since that time. He formerly served as county attorney and has experience that will enable him to perform the duties of the office. He plans to hold the expenses of the office to a minimum, saving tax money. He served as an aviator in the Army during the World war.

Police Chief of Corsicana Dies

CORSICANA, June 20. (AP)—Will S. Knight, 60, police chief of this city for 32 years, died today after a brief illness.

He served nearly 40 years as a peace officer and estimated he had handled more than 5,000 men and women with criminal records.

Chief Knight came with the department here in 1904. Two years later he became chief. In 1909 he was city marshal of Blooming Grove and prior to that time he had been a deputy sheriff of Navarro county. He was born in Leon, county and lived there during childhood.

Reappointed chief of police this year, Knight readily pointed to a record of never receiving a dis-senting vote from a member of the city commission.

He was president of the Texas Chiefs of Police and City Marshals' association in 1911 and held other important posts in this and national peace officers' organizations.

DEMOS BEGIN TO CROWD UP PHILADELPHIA

'UNION PARTY' CAUSES MUCH COMMENT IN PARTY RANKS

By JOHN F. CHESTER Associated Press Staff Writer PHILADELPHIA, June 20 (AP)

Talking harmony and even unanimity. Democratic leaders tonight began in Philadelphia for next week's national convention—but prospects nevertheless heightened for at least one floor fight and much behind-the-scenes maneuvering.

It was disputed by none that the forces of Franklin D. Roosevelt and John Nance Garner were in strong control; party chiefs reiterated that they would be the only names placed before the convention.

Beneath this solid front, however, ran a swelling discussion of how far the struggle over abandoning or retaining the two-thirds vote rule would extend. Few thought the Roosevelt managers could be halted, when the moment comes, in their desire to install a majority rule. There was increasing talk also of platform drafting, and particularly of the shaping of a money plank. Closed-door argument was considered certain.

A strong undercurrent of private talk circled likewise about the newly created "union party" of Representative Lemke of North Dakota and the Rev. Charles E. Coughlin of Detroit, but, publicly at least, the Democratic spokesmen either declined to comment on repeated predictions of a Roosevelt sweep. Nevertheless, it was known that in private they were weighing carefully the effects of the Lemke move.

Little of all this appeared on the surface as the ever increasing Democratic lions took over the city. More bunting and flags appeared on the streets. More "Welcome Democrats" signs were displayed. More hammers pounded as last-minute expansions were made. More police sirens shrieked as members of the party high command were escorted about the city. The convention tempo was set high.

Broadly-beaming, James A. Farley, chairman of the national committee, pronounced to a circle of newspapermen that a $2,000,000 campaign fund would be sufficient to re-elect Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Garner. Half, or nearly half of it, he said, would be realized from what he described as 5,000 "nominate rallies" gathered when the President delivers his acceptance speech next Saturday night.

A "short" platform—running around 2,000 words as compared to the 1,600 of 1932 and the 3,000-word Republican declaration from Cleveland; no minority report upon it; no names before the convention beside those of Roosevelt and Garner; and victory in November—these were other of Farley's press conference predictions.

But even Farley conceded that there was likely to be some "floor debate" over the two-thirds rule. Opposition to abandoning it has been outspoken in the south. Farley would not answer a question as to whether the Roosevelt forces might abandon their drive for a rule-by-majority vote if the fight grew into a slam-bang affair.

The background of the two-thirds rule is an historic one. Its genesis was in the "solid south," where powerful figures first pushed it across so that the northern and western states—far outnumbering them—could not dictate without effective opposition the choice of a presidential and vice-presidential candidate.

Under it, just as the name implies, two thirds of the voting delegates must cast their ballots for one man before he becomes the convention's choice. The rule, adopted anew by each convention after it meets, has led to the prolonged democratic convention deadlocks.

The question of a possible plank advocating a constitutional amendment to legalize specifically state wage and hour legislation also went unanswered by Farley. Some close to him, however, shook their heads in the negative.

It was taken as certain here that the 1932 democratic money plank would be reworded. It was written by Senator Carter Glass of Virginia.

At Cleveland last week, the Republican platform drafters lifted it also entirely. The plank's keynote was "sound money."

WHAT THEY EARNED NEW YORK, June 20. (AP)—Max Schmeling and Joe Louis each received $140,915.14 for their 12-round heavyweight fight at the Yankee stadium Friday night. Official figures announced today reveal the actual paid attendance was 39,872 and the gross receipts $399,872.01 of which $647,372.01 came in at the gate while the remainder—$52,500—was paid for the radio and moving picture rights.

BALDWIN TAKES STUMP AGAINST WAR PENALTIES

Defends Removal of Sanctions in Speeches

LONDON, June 20 (AP)—British leaders battled tonight over the question of sanctions as Prime Minister Baldwin took the stump in Scotland to defend his government's action in advocating their removal from Italy.

The government chief declared military strength was needed for collective security and said: "Let advocates of collective security who are unwilling to provide a single volunteer for our forces or a single shell for aircraft think of that. If war should come by collective security every nation will be in it up to the neck."

"I believe the horrors of another modern war in Europe might lead to a revolt of the people against all leaders. You might find Europe in a state of completely barbarous anarchy from end to end."

"Let us not underestimate the risks of sanctions and collective security." Pleading for support of the government's rearmament program, Baldwin said: "If risks have to be taken, if we ever have to fight again, see that our own people at all events have the best there is to fight with in quality and quantity."

The government's about face on the question of sanctions drew sharp attacks from various quarters, including the labor party, the liberal party, and the League of Nations union.

Before a conservative rally at Wishaw, Scotland, Baldwin explained that an oil embargo during the Italo-Ethiopian war was impracticable because of the United States' attitude.

He suggested it would be well to get the United States and other non-members to join the League of Nations in order to prevent aggressions.

Baldwin referred to a socialist charge that sanctions had failed because an oil embargo was not included in the action against Italy and declared: "The plain reason why an oil sanction was not imposed was that an enormous quantity of oil comes from a country which is not in the League of Nations and which we had no reason to believe would prohibit the export of oil."

"If we had Japan, the United States and Germany in the League, collective security could be worked tomorrow."

RODEO TO USE 250 HEAD OF STOCK JULY 4

14TH WESTERN EVENT WILL BE HELD AT CANADIAN

CANADIAN, June 20—There will be approximately 250 head of livestock consisting of horses, cows, calves, Brahma steers, and Mexican bulldogging steers rounded up for the 14th annual Anvil Park rodeo, held here July 2-4.

Marion McLain of Sun City, Kansas, who is the arena boss this year guarantees that this year's show will be faster and more thrilling than ever. With six fast bucking chutes, steers and broncs are literally going to be poured out.

The rodeo committee has been selecting stock for the last month in order that it have the right type. It has to go to Old Mexico for the bulldogging steers, and South Texas for the Brahma riding steers. The entire Panhandle is chairman and member of the state committee from the 31st senatorial district, is one of the four delegates from the 18th congressional district.

combed for bucking horses at all seasons of the year. Twenty five head of long horned Mexican steers come right out of Old Mexico and will be on hand for the 'dogging' contest. The Brahma calves are going to be plenty fast and many of the hungry loops of the cowboys are going to be leaky before this event is over.

Brahma calves are used in the calf roping contest, and raised right on the ranch where the rodeo is held.

The directors of the show own the bucking horses and have scouts in the field the year round selecting the proper type. About one out of ten is accepted of those submitted. These horses have to come up to rigid requirements to make good at the Anvil Park rodeo.

There will be horses and then some. Just a few words about some of this horse flesh. "Crazy Boy" is probably the oldest bronc of this entire lot. He hasn't been in the game long, but has a good many cowboys to his credit that have "bit the dust."

"Burl K," "Davis Y," "Black Bottom," "Tony Warfare," and others usually give a good account of themselves. The management has been since 1922 collecting these bucking horses, some of which make good, and others that have to be "weeded out" from the string from time to time. They are looking for the toughest horses available. The average weight of this herd will be from 1,000 to 1200 pounds. In looking over this string you might think that they are saddle horses, but you will change your mind when they "unwind." These bucking horses have less work to do than probably any other type of horse. They come out of a chute four or five times each year, and the remainder of the time are cared for similar to a race horse, or fine gaited horse.

MAX SCHMELING TO FIGHT BRADDOCK FOR WORLD'S TITLE IN SEPTEMBER

CHAMPION NOW PERCHED ATOP WEIGHT CLASS

LOUIS IS 'SUCKER FOR A RIGHT HAND PUNCH'

NEW YORK, June 20, (AP)—Leaving unsettled for the time being the question as to whether Joe Louis, the Brown Bomber, was more shell-shocked today than the survivors of the 99.9 per cent wrong club, the fistic world surveyed the results of the unhealed created by Max Schmeling's smashing 12-round knockout victory.

Between alibis and headaches it was determined:

- (1) That Schmeling will fight Champion James J. Braddock for the world's heavyweight title, probably the last week in September at the Yankee stadium.
(2) That it's still uncertain whether Madison Square Garden, with Braddock under contract, will wage a promotion battle with Mike Jacobs, who signed Schmeling, or whether the rivals will patch up their difference and jointly conduct the match.
(3) That Schmeling will return to Germany via the Zeppelin airliner, Hindenburg, leaving here next Tuesday night, to receive the plaudits of his countrymen and see the Olympic games in early August before returning to the United States.
(4) That Braddock, with his judgment of Louis and the negro's vulnerability sustained, stood at the head of the heavyweight class without any apologies being offered for him, for the first time since he knocked the crown off the curly head of Max Baer a year ago.
(5) That Louis, despite the shocking unexpectedness of his downfall, is by no means "through" and will start a come-back campaign, possibly by August, with a view to fighting his way back into the championship picture by 1937.
(6) That the sports-writing fraternity, while ungrudging in its tribute to Schmeling for his great fight and freely admitting the error of under-estimating the German's come-back prowess, stuck by its guns with a chorus of "if we had to do it all over again, we would still pick Louis."

Champion Schmeling And Beaten Favorite

Both appearing lean and fit for the big battle that was postponed on account of rain, Max Schmeling (left), and the sensational colored heavyweight, Joe Louis, face each other at the weigh-in ceremonies at the Hippodrome in New York City. Schmeling weighed 192, while Louis tipped the scales at 196.

Games To Be Played Today At LeFors, Phillips, Borger

Six Teams Will Be Active in Junior Baseball Loop

Still undefeated after their closest shave of the season, the Little Road Runners will invade LeFors' park at 3 o'clock this afternoon, braced for a struggle with Mc's Pirates who lost 10 to 8 to the Pee-wees last Sunday in their first game of the season. The Danciger boys inflicted the first defeat of the season upon the Borger Christians who had previously walloped the Pee-wees and Phillips. The score was 5 to 3 and might have been much closer but for errors made by the Borgans in the first inning. The Little Road Runners, however, did not play errorless ball. A Pampa outfielder let a circuit clout by Robertson get through him. That was the only homer of the game. Other games in the Junior baseball league will see the Pee-wees tangling again with Phillips 66 youngsters on the Phillips diamond, and the engaging the Christians on the Borger diamond. The Hoover team will try to climb out of the cellar. The Pee-wees hope to smack the 66 crew again, but are certain to find stiff opposition. Every team in the league has shown more improvement lately than the Pee-wees who are expected to snap out of it this afternoon if their full lineup is at work in regular positions.

In the Friday night game at Borger, the Little Road Runners scored two on Borger errors in the first inning after two men went out. Borger came back in the second to push one across. The clubs battled on even terms until the fifth when Danciger scored 2 more runs in clean hits. Borger came back in the last of the fifth and scored one on a homer by Robertson, pitcher.

PARKER VS. RIGGS CHICAGO, June 20, (AP)—Frankie Parker of Milwaukee, a former titleholder and the nation's seventh ranking player, will match strokes Sunday with Robert Riggs of Los Angeles for the National Clay courts tennis singles championship. Parker swept through the semi-finals today by whipping John McDiarmid of the University of Chicago, 4-6, 6-4, 6-2, 6-2.

Paul Addington of Miami was admitted to Pampa-Jarratt hospital Friday night. In his pre-battle statements which got such scant attention beforehand. "From the pictures I knew Louis could be hit with a right-cross or a short right delivered from a crouch," repeated Max. "So dot's what I concentrated on. I was not sure just how much I could take from Joe's left but I was willing to gamble. "Why should I be afraid, anyway? All dot talk was so silly dot I heard or read. No matter vot happens, no fighter who makes fighting his business should be afraid. Did you ever hear dot Corbett, Fitzsimmons, Jeffries or Dempsey was afraid before fighting? I should be selling cake, instead of fighting, if I feared Louis or anyone else."

CRACK AMARILLO SOFTBALL TEAM WILL PLAY HERE TODAY

One of Amarillo's crack playground ball teams, the Texaco Oilers will be in Pampa for two games this afternoon. The games will be played on the King Oil diamond a mile west on the Borger highway. Opening game will be at 2:30 o'clock. No admission will be charged. The Amarilloans will play their fellow workmen, the Texas Oilers of Pampa, in the opening game. The nightcap attraction will see the King Oilers meeting the Amarillo ten. King and Texas are pressing for the lead in the Pampa playground ball league. The Amarillo team is in second place in the Amarillo league. Playground ball is fast becoming a popular sport in and around Pampa. Large crowds are attending all games. Today's doubleheader is expected to set a new record for attendance.

Sluggers Bury Canadian 21-9

A five run rally in the sixth inning started the Pampa Sluggers on their way to a 21 to 9 victory over the Canadian Lassies Friday night in Canadian. Canadian's girl stars jumped into a 9 to 7 lead in the first three innings and held it until the sixth when Billy Schroeder, Pampa shortstop, cleared the bases with a home run. DeAun Heiskell pitched air tight ball for the Sluggers after the second inning. Martin, lefthanded catcher, and Gee were behind the bat. Sarrett went the distance for Canadian with Williams her battery mate. Williams hit for the circuit in the second inning. Schroeder led the Pampa scoring with four runs. Ruby Eldridge, other short stop, followed with three counters.

On Thursday evening at Magnolia park, the Sluggers will meet the newly organized Jolly Ten team, composed of players from Sun, Wilcox and Gulf camps. Sluggers officials are still on the trail of the Christians or any other man's team that will play them.

Centennial Bids For Prize Fight

NEW YORK, June 20, (AP)—The Texas Centennial put in a bid for the heavyweight title fight between champion James J. Braddock and Max Schmeling today when William Hitzelberger, chairman of the athletic committee, conferred with Mike Jacobs of the Twentieth Century club and Jimmy Johnston of Madison Square Garden. Hitzelberger told the two promoters that the Texas Centennial would like to hold the fight at Dallas in September. After listening to the Texas representatives, Jacobs and Johnston said they would take the matter under advisement if given a guarantee of a million dollar gate, net.

Road Runners Take Rubber Came From Eason Club 10-7

Seven-Run Lead In First Innings Slips Away

Manager Sam Hale and his high-stepping Road Runners subdued the mighty Eason Oilers of Enid, Okla., Friday night to take three out of the five games played this season. It was a free-hitting struggle which finally went to the birds, 10 to 7.

Sloan, Enid's center fielder, tried to pull his team out of its slump with four hits and four runs in four official trips to the plate. Sloan collected a home run in the second, doubles in the third and seventh, and a single in the ninth. He walked on his other time at bat. Bates, left fielder, also contributed freely with a home run and two singles on five times at bat.

The Road Runners gave Carl Stewart a seven run lead in the first two innings but he allowed it to slip away to three runs by the sixth. Another Road Runner rally in the seventh gave the birds two more runs but Stewart weakened again in the ninth. With two runs in and a man on base, Gray went to the mound. He allowed the first man to single but forced Horton, hitting for the pitcher, to dribble in front of the box for an easy out.

Besppectated Andy Bednar tried to make a come-back against the birds but four hits, a walk and an error in the first inning cost him four runs. With three runs across and a man on base in the second, Lefty John Clowers went to the hill. The ancient portender allowed only two singles until the seventh when McNabb's singled, a home run by Cox and McLarry's single cost him a game. Clowers, King, a fast ball right-hander, ended the game, holding the birds hitless.

Bailey, Hale and Summers continued to wield a potent bat for the Road Runners. Bailey and Hale each contributed triples and singles in the first two innings. Summers a hitting slump to crash his fourth homer of the season over the left field fence.

Enid's murderers row of Patton, Neil and Willingham was completely subdued when Willingham went hitless. Willingham fanning twice. Neil hit a pair of singles to bring his total for the six games played in the Panhandle to six. Stewart's curves were breaking crazily at the right time. He whiffed seven batters.

Floyd Lisle had field day behind the plate. He took three sky-riding fouls from the bats of Patton, Neil and Willingham, two of them in the fifth.

Best play of the night went to Gilchrist and Neil when the Enid shortstop made a sensational pick-up of Hale's hot grounder and Neil pulled a wonderful recovery of the wide, low throw. It was announced, unofficially, at the game that Ted Pettigrew, scout for the Oklahoma City Indians, offered Al Summers, Road Runner second baseman, a fancy contract if he would join the Indians immediately. Summers would make no statement but close friends said that the favorite of Pampa fans would remain with the Road Runners.

To Play Phillips On Wednesday night the Road Runners will meet Phillips of LeFors in a ladies' night game here. A woman will be admitted free when accompanied by a male escort. On Friday night the birds will go to Amarillo for a game with the Phillips Parrots, and on Saturday night and Sunday afternoon the Road Runners will play return games in Duncan, Okla., with the Halliburton Cementers.

SKELLY OILERS HELD TO 6-4 SCORE BY VOSS; KING WINS

The Skelly Oilers, leading the Pampa playground ball league, had another close shave Friday night when Voss Cleaners held them to a 6 to 4 score. The Oilers have been defeated once this season and lost two games through forfeits. Other teams brought fourth information that the Oilers were defeated three times last season instead of being undefeated as previously reported. Other league wins went to King Oil with a 4 to 2 victory over Cities Service; Texas company with a 10 to 3 win from the Baptists; Phillips 10 from the Methodists; and Coltoxa with a forfeit from the Methodists. The usual argument featured the Skelly-Voss Cleaners game. Umpiring difficulties arose and a protest that Mayo Skelly pitcher was using an illegal delivery was entered. The game was not protested, however. Mayo and Hays divided mound work for Skelly with Ray behind the plate. Sheridan and Patrick hurried for Voss Cleaners with Morrison behind the bat.

King Oil had to come from behind to defeat Cities Service. Poe hurled winning ball, with his teammates hitting in the clutches. Wagner caught the game. Halbig and Word was the battery for Cities Service. Texas Company swamped the Baptists, 10 to 3, with Stancel besting Glazebrook.

The Christians got only one hit off J. Dewey and LaPrade. Geppel and Gravlee tried to stop the oilmen but were ineffective. R. Dewey was behind the plate for Phillips and King and Evans receiving for the Christians.

Only the Methodists manager arrived for the game with Coltoxa.

Backers of the Pampa Sluggers, girls' playground ball team, will make an effort to send the team to the regional tournament to be held in Wichita Falls on July 4, 5 and 6. The team winning the regional event will enter the State tournament in Austin.

Contributions for the trip will be accepted in a drive which will be started tomorrow by team members. The Sluggers is the outstanding team in this section. Howard Buckingham is manager of the team with Jack Kretzinger its coach.

The girls have been practicing daily for two weeks. On Friday night they played before more than 500 fans, in Canadian, winning their game, 21 to 9.

TEXAN SECOND TO OWENS IN RACE CLASSIC

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA WINS FIRST AT CHICAGO

BY CHARLES DUNKLEY
Associated Press Sport Writer
CHICAGO, June 20. (AP)—Sweeping over a field studded with prospective Olympic stars, athletes from the University of Southern California ran rampant in the national collegiate track and field championships at Stagg Field today, in which four world records were eclipsed in the two days of competition.

The Trojans, scoring in 14 of the 16 events, amassed a total of 104 1-3 points to annex their second successive championship. Ohio State, led by the sensational negro star, Jesse Owens, who won four events himself for 40 points, was second with 73 points. Indiana was third with 42 and Stanford fourth with 32.

Thirty-three teams gathered points in the meet, which produced the most sensational performances since its inauguration 15 years ago. Ten thousand spectators witnessed the thrilling races and field events.

The winners of the first two places on each event, plus others whose performances warrant, will compete in the finals at New York next month when the team to represent Uncle Sam in the Olympic games next August will be chosen.

A new world's record went up in the discus when Ken Carpenter, of Southern California threw the platter 173 feet, more than a foot better than the mark of 171 feet 11 3/4 inches set by Harald Anderson of Sweden in 1934.

National collegiate records were established in the 1500-meter run, the javelin and the pole vault.

Alton Terry, of Hardin-Simmons

Abilene, Texas, champion of the Texas and Drake relays, tossed the spear 226 feet 2 3/4 inches to break his own American mark of 222 feet 8 1/2 inches established in the Drake relays this year. The N. C. A. A. record is 221 feet 3 1/8 inches made by Charles Congloff of Pittsburgh last year.

The sky-sailing "twins" from Southern California, Earl Meadows and Bill Sefton, zoomed up in the air in a tie to clear the bar in the pole vault at a height of 14 feet 1 3/4 inches, to beat the N. C. A. A. record of 14 feet 1 1/8 inches, which they jointly set last year.

Archie San Romani, Kansas State Teachers College, Emporia, Kan., romped to victory in the 1800 meters run in 3:53, erasing the mark set by Glenn Cunningham of Kansas in 1932. The race produced the early surprise for it resulted in the defeat of Don Lash, sensational Indiana distance star, who a week ago ran the fastest two miles a human being has ever accomplished outdoors, 8:58.3. He finished a poor third, with San Romani beating Charles Pennsake, of Wisconsin by 25 yards.

Lash, however, came back in his role as the iron man, and ran away with the grueling 5,000 meter run. He lapped the field, and closed with a great burst of speed to win the event in 14 minutes 58.5 seconds.

Discus throw—won by Kenneth Carpenter, Southern California (173 feet); second, Philip Levy, Stanford (170 feet 11 1/4 inches); third, Paul Halleck, Ohio University (167 feet); fourth, J. C. Petty, Rice (161 feet 1 1/2 inches).

200 meter dash—won by Jesse Owens, Ohio State; second, Harvey Wallender, Texas; third, Foy Draper, Southern California; time 21.3 seconds.

100 meter dash—won by Jesse Owens, Ohio State; second, Foy Draper, Southern California; third, Sam Stoller, Michigan; fourth, George Boone, Southern California; fifth, Charles Tolley, Southern California; sixth, Harvey Wallender, Texas, time 10.2 seconds.

The final point standings included: Rice 16; Texas 11-3; Hardin-Simmons 10.

Statuary Beautifies Exposition

ROUGH RIDERS BEAT EL ROJO TEAM 3-2 IN THRILLER HERE

Scoring two goals in the third chucker and one in the fourth, the Pampa Rough Riders, recently organized polo team, staved off a rally by El Rojo of Plainview to win yesterday's game, 3 to 2. The same two teams will meet again at 5:15 o'clock this evening on the local field, a half mile west of Harvester field on North Hobart street.

The Rough Riders reached peak form in yesterday's game with the veterans of Plainview, playing for the first time with their own line-up. In past games, the Reds had strengthened with players from the Plainview Blues. El Rojo was without Bub Humphries, who received a broken finger in practice last week. In his place at No. 1 was Verne Bradley who played a bang-up game.

Button Stephenson of the Plainview Blues lost his title of "riding fool" yesterday when Jack Cooper of the Rough Riders displayed some of the outstanding horsemanship seen here this year. Cooper also played a wonderful defensive game and helped himself to a goal besides. Dr. M. C. Overton, captain of the Pampans, and Bill Harwell were in peak form, riding off players and hitting long, looping drives down the field. Joe Bowers also gave a good riding exhibition.

J. B. Wheeler, diminutive Plainview No. 3, was a demon on horseback. He was all over the field, hitting and checking and riding off players. His brother, Jigger, 17, weighs well over 200 pounds. He was another star of the game. He was well taken care of by Harwell after the opening chucker was half gone, however. Blackie Norris, hard riding veteran, and Bradley rounded out the quartet.

Bowers, Overton, Burrow and Cooper started for the Rough Riders. Harwell relieved Bowers. George Garrett replaced Overton and Otto Stender relieved Burrows during the game.

Bradley sent one between the posts at the whistle ending the first chucker. Neither team was able to register in the second stanza as the players battled up and down the field with brilliant thrusts for goals.

TEXAS FRAUD AND FORGERIES ARE CHARGED

CONNALLY DISCREDITS INFORMATION IN REBUTTAL

WASHINGTON, June 20 (AP)—An old-time political feud was stirred up in the senate tonight by an assertion—immediately disputed—from Senator Steiwer of Oregon, the keynoter at the Republican convention, that there had been "wholesale fraud" and "forgeries by the thousands" in the administration of the AAA in Texas.

Senator Connally (D., Tex.) shot back that Steiwer's information had been nolle prossed after an ed and discredited former employe' of the AAA.

Senator Bilbo (D., Miss.) said the former employe, identified by Steiwer as P. W. Pryor, had been indicted in Missouri for embezzlement. Steiwer then said the charge had been nolle prossed after an investigation by the department of justice.

During the heated exchanges, Connally asserted that Steiwer knew his informant "had been indicted but didn't reveal it to the Senate until the cockscrewing operations of the Senator from Mississippi."

Questioned closely by Senator Black (D., Ala.), Steiwer said he had sent Pryor to Texas to make an investigation and the expenses would be paid by a "Mr. Judge."

Pryor was brought to him, he said, by "Mr. Sam Jones, identified with the Republican national committee."

A number of affidavits were placed in the record by Steiwer. Connally said Steiwer admitted the "things of which he complains involve no fraud against the federal government" but the relations between the landlord and tenant.

Connally pressed for additional information about Judge but Steiwer said he did not know his present connection.

In making his charges, Steiwer said: "The money expended under the soil conservation act is bound to be wasted in large part. It will not reach the farmers who deserve it. The proof of this statement is found in the administration of the AAA.

"Illustrations of the substantial failure of the AAA to confer benefits upon those who are actual producers of agricultural products are reflected in a recent study of administrative irregularities in the State of Texas.

"This investigation, conducted partly by the AAA and partly by private agencies, discloses wholesale fraud and misrepresentation—also widespread conspiracies to plunder the government and especially local people against the share croppers and defenseless farmers. It discloses forgeries by the thousands and numerous crimes consisting of theft of papers and obtaining of money under false pretenses. It discloses, moreover, that a large percentage of frauds were practiced on negroes and un-informed white tenant farmers, but some of the frauds were against the government."

Labor Bill Is Sent to FDR

WASHINGTON, June 20 (AP)—Congress tonight sent to President Roosevelt a bill to place hours, wage and other labor limitations on persons who sell goods to the government.

The measure, already approved by the house, received Senate sanction by voice vote. Known as the Walsh-Healey bill, the measure would stipulate that for contractors selling materials to the government in amounts of more than $10,000 the following labor conditions apply:

A 40 hour week and eight hour day at wages prevailing in the affected area; a prohibition against sweat shops, home work and convict labor. Males under 16 and females under 18 could not be employed.

Announcement was made Saturday of the sale of the Eces and Thomas men's furnishings store, 111 N. Cuyler, to S. S. Gantz and William Frasier, of Pampa. The store name will be changed and announced at a later date.

mittee had not reported late last night. The resolutions committee, J. E. Bonner, Amarillo, chairman, J. B. Hoefner, Hedley, and Ralph Marsh, Canyon, drafted thanks to the Pampa chamber of commerce, the Pampa Independent school district, the press and radio, the Pampa summer band under direction of Winston Savage, to all music companies, quartets and others on the program, and the citizenship of Pampa for cooperation in holding the convention.

Officials of the convention are especially anxious that all singers and those who like to hear good singing attend the morning and afternoon sessions today, Taylor said.

The Pampa summer band, directed by Winstan Savage, played a brief concert at the opening session of the convention Saturday evening.

The committee from the chamber of commerce who handled local arrangements for the convention was composed of Tom Aldridge, Chas. Burton, and L. L. McColl.

Central Park, just a few blocks north of the auditorium will be available for basket or picnic lunches, Taylor has announced. Anyone wishing to follow the usual custom of bringing basket lunches may take their party to the park for lunch today.

termitent bursts of political fireworks. The most brilliant display was touched off by Senator Steiwer (R-O) with a sizzling charge of "fraud" and "forgeries" in the administration of the AAA in Texas. Democrats leaped up with counter-charges that the Oregonian's informant had been discharged and discredited by the AAA.

As the hour of midnight was reached in the house, the hands of the clock were turned back.

BROOKS TALKS

HUNTER ON TOUR

Coast Guard stations along the Texas coast showed the lowest barometer reading was at Port O'Connor, 29.76 at 7 p. m. Port O'Connor is on Magnolia Bay, approximately 80 miles northeast of Corpus Christi. The reading represented a fall of six hundredths since 5 p. m. There was a northeast wind blowing about ten miles per hour, the sky was cloudy and the gulf was running heavy swells.

The survey, collected at Galveston Coast Guard headquarters, showed the reading at Velasco station, north of Saluria, 29.82 and at Aransas station, south of Saluria, 29.85.

At 8 p. m. the barometer at Brownsville stood at 29.81 and it was raining intermittently. A 14 mile per hour northwest wind was blowing. At Sabine Pass, early in the night, the barometer stood at 29.88 and warnings had been issued to beach cottage dwellers to evacuate them because of abnormally high tides.

At Corpus Christi, warnings were issued to residents of islands and low coastal places. J. P. McAuliffe, local weather observer, said that the disturbance, attended by driving rains and winds of gale force, would strike somewhere in the Corpus vicinity within the next 24 hours if its present trend continued.

NO. 4 — (Continued From Page 1)

In panic. Order was restored. Fans at Road Runner park, where the Pampa-Danciger Road Runners and the Eason Oilers of Enid, Okla., were playing, were unaware that anything unusual had happened until near the end of the game when a report was received from town.

The Road Runners were in the midst of a scoring spree and fans were yelling and stomping their feet. At the exact time the shock hit here, one of the ball shaggers on top of the grandstand fell through a board in the roof. He caught himself, but not until the grandstand had quivered, more from the quake than from the fall, it is believed now.

Several Pampa residents reported dishes rattled in cupboards and some said pictures swayed on the wall. While most people said they just felt a quiver, some reported hearing a rumble.

ALL CANDIDATES PAY ELECTION FEES SATURDAY

Absentee Voters May Cast Ballots on July 5

With a comparatively few exceptions in minor offices, all candidates for county office had paid ballot fees when the deadline passed at Saturday midnight, it was reported from the office of Siler Faulkner, democratic county chairman.

Mr. Faulkner said that fees sent by mail, bearing a postmark before last midnight, would be honored.

Candidates are required by law to pay the fee to cover the cost of placing their names on the ballot at the primary election.

The primary committee, appointed by the county executive committee, will meet Monday to make up the official ballot for the general primary.

June 25 will be the first day for filing campaign expenses for the first primary, and the last day for the county judge to cause to be published, by posting, notice of election at each precinct. The last day for filing election expense accounts will be June 30.

It was also announced Saturday that July 5 will be the final day for voters who have moved from one county to another in the state to have exemption certificates re-issued for use in the primary. This date also will mark the first on which absentee voters may cast their ballots.

Tax on Carbon Black Favored By Candidate

MARLIN, June 20 (AP)—F. W. Fischer said in a gubernatorial campaign speech here tonight that geologists and petroleum engineers believe Texas' vast deposits of minerals will last for several decades.

"If this be true, and the state obtains most of a proposed natural resources tax from outside sources and saves for its resident tax payers this much money annually, it is hard to visualize the marvelous improvement that will occur in Texas during that time," the Tyler attorney said. "The debts and obligations of the state are so great now that we need that revenue."

Fischer gave figures intended to show that his proposed natural resources tax could be levied and not disturb the Texas market. He said oil and gas taxes are "must too low now, and carbon black is entirely free of tax."

"By a fair tax on these natural resources, Texas will realize over $100,000,000 annually," Fischer said. "With this money the old-age pensions can be paid; ad valorem taxes abolished; the school funds augmented and the gasoline tax reduced from four to two cents per gallon."

Lenke Is Third Party Candidate

BISMARCK, N. D., June 20 (AP)—North Dakota's bitterly fought primary campaign—counted to produce a record turnout of voters Wednesday—too on added importance today from Rep. William Lenke's projection into the presidential race as a "third party" candidate.

Lenke is unopposed for renomination on the republican ticket but the size of his vote will be watched as an indication of his following at home. He has the support of both factions of the potent nonpartisan league.

Chief interest within this drought harassed state centers on the contest for leadership of the 21 year old league and the republican nomination for governor ship between

Gov. Walter Welford and former Gov. William Langer. On the democratic side John Moses regular indorsee, is opposed for the gubernatorial nomination by Ole H. Olson, former acting governor who is endorsed by a "progressive" group, and James F. Morrow.

They Hope To Be 'At Home' in White House

SALAD MAY FILL ANY COURSE IN THE SUMMER LUNCHEON TO ADD HIGH FLAVOR AND COLOR

Department of Home Economics Texas State College for Women DENTON, June 20.—Originally a salad was a leafy vegetable dressed with an oil and acid and seasoned. It was often garnished with fruit, meat, shellfish or cheese. Later this has changed so that often the original garnish becomes the salad and the original green salad becomes the garnish. In fact, salads now may be so selected that they may be served as appetizer, main course, or even to take the place of dessert. Salads must be of pleasing color and texture combinations. They should contain something crisp, they should be rather highly flavored, and if possible should contain contrasting flavors and contrasting colors. Materials should not be made to appear scrappy by using too many kinds or by cutting too finely. MEAT FOR DAY: Wheat, crisp bacon, buttered toast, coffee. LUNCHEON: Creamed chipped beef, creamed peas, rice, croquettes spinach salad, bread and butter, watermelon, iced tea. POTATO SALAD: Dice cold boiled potatoes into 1-2 inch cubes. To each cup of potato add 1-2 cup of chopped cucumber or sliced radishes, one teaspoon onion juice, two tablespoons bacon fat, and one tablespoon of vinegar. Season with salt and pepper; garnish with minced parsley. SPINACH SALAD: 2 c. shredded raw spinach, 1-2 c. chopped hard cooked eggs, 1 T. minced green pepper, 1 c. onion juice. Marinate with a French dressing made with 3 T. lemon juice and 2 T. salad oil seasoned with salt and pepper. Garnish with radish circles, celery, or pimento cut in fancy shapes. Serve on a lettuce leaf. LUNCHEON: Molded veal salad, sliced tomatoes, lyonnaise potatoes, brown bread, ice box cookies, iced chocolate. EVEN DINNER: Baked fish, stuffed tomatoes, baked potatoes, Parkhouse ribs, apricot salad, mocha cream, sponge cake, coffee. MOULDED VEEF SALAD: 1 c. left over veal dice, 1-3 c. fresh tomatoes, 2 t. gelatine, 3-4 c. hot broth, 3-4 c. cut celery, 1-2 t. minced onion, 1-4 c. cold water, salt and pepper. Soak gelatine in cold water, dissolve in hot broth, add salt and pepper. When cool, add other ingredients and mold. Serve with mayonnaise dressing. APRICOT SALAD: 1 c. apricot juice, juice of one lemon, 1 1/2 T. gelatin, 1-2 c. water, 1-4 c. sugar. Soak gelatine in cold water, dissolve in hot apricot juice; add sugar and when cold add lemon juice and chill. When thick place in molds that have been lined with celery curls and over this quarters of apricots. Chill and serve in lettuce leaves with mayonnaise dressing.

OPPORTUNITIES IN TEXAS

We heartily agree with the opinion of Secretary of Commerce Daniel C. Roper, that Texas is in an adolescent period, and the opportunities in it, are almost unlimited.

Recently, Mr. Roper discussed the state at length, first explaining that, contrary to some belief, he had been within its borders a number of times.

"Texas is adolescent," he said, "It is just beginning a great endeavor and the people who will have a part in its future are to be congratulated.

"I came to Texas to express my great interest in it and in the magnificent work you are doing in holding a Centennial celebration the like of which has never been attempted by other states."

An important benefit of the Centennial which many might overlook, was the necessity such an undertaking enforced for a coordinated study of the state and development of means of coordinating the citizenship.

Every section ought to be interested in the Centennial and the only way to understand it is to go and see it.

Mr. Roper expressed surprise at the speed with which the exposition at Dallas had been gotten underway in such a short time after money for the work was made available.

It could all easily be explained to Mr. Roper in the simple statement that it's just the way Texas does things.

And while on the subject it may be well to add that this spirit which is gripping the entire state, probably has no greater emphasis than is to be found right here in the Panhandle and in Pampa.

Newcomers to the city and to the area marvel at the aggressiveness to be found in all quarters and at the progressive, forward-looking attitude that is everywhere in evidence.

It is good to know how Mr. Roper feels about Texas, but if he really wants the bug to bite him hard—most certainly he'll have to come to the Panhandle and, particularly, to Pampa.

DR. WILLIAM C. MITCHELL

Last rites were held Saturday forenoon for Dr. William C. Mitchell, one of Pampa's most beloved citizens who died early Friday in an Amarillo hospital.

In his passing, Pampa has lost a respected citizen and a true friend. Dr. Mitchell was a progressive, civic-minded resident whose interests always were centered in the things that were good for Pampa.

The city can ill afford to lose a man of his splendid character. All Pampa mourns his death and the sympathy of the community goes out to those near and dear to him in their bereavement.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

WASHINGTON—The Republicans turned out a somewhat dreary platform at Cleveland and everyone now waits to see what the Democrats will produce at Philadelphia.

Roosevelt, however, will dictate his own party's platform. He is a sufficiently shrewd politician to use a few planks to shoot holes in any generalities and inconsistencies in the opposition platform, taking full advantage of the fact that the Republicans did their shooting first.

The president may decide to crack at the states' rights shibboleth which the G. O. P. has now taken unto itself, despite the fact that it was for many decades Democratic property, while the party of Lincoln and McKinley leaned more toward a Hamiltonian doctrine of strong centralized authority.

He would have to tread softly, because there is still great popular belief in such shibboleths, as the Republicans well realize.

But there is also plenty of evidence concerning situations where it has been shown difficult or impossible, regardless of constitutional and supreme court limitations, to get states to pass desirable social, humanitarian, or labor legislation because it would put them or certain of their citizens at a competitive disadvantage with states which did not so legislate.

Unemployed insurance, for instance, lagged when left to the states, because opponents could always say that the necessary payroll tax would drive industries elsewhere.

The Republican platform proposes to encourage adoption by the states of honest and practical measures for meeting the problems of unemployment insurance.

Support for the adoption of state laws and interstate compacts to abolish sweatshops and child labor and protect women and children with respect to maximum hours, minimum wages, and working conditions, as promised by the Cleveland platform, is another case in point.

The sweatshop operator's habit of crossing state lines to areas where state-imposed labor standards are low is notorious. An employer would be better off under a federal minimum wage law than if operating under a state wage law while his competitor 50 miles away paid as low wages as he liked.

Interstate compacts designed to put all employers on an even basis sound nice. Their formation is cumbersome and the more states you try to get into one, the more the task tends toward impossibility.

Landon recognized these facts when he telegraphed the convention that in case minimum wage laws were impossible through means suggested by the platform, he would be for a constitutional amendment.

He did not suggest confining power for this legislation to the states, because he recognized the need of at least some provision for effective federal participation.

Handing relief back to the states is another matter, although it has some of the same aspects, because it has been demonstrated that some states are unable or unwilling to provide adequate relief for citizens.

Modern situation: 'So you were out with the boys, eh! Explain this blonde hair on your hood!'

A case of "bridge-wrist" has shown up abroad. It is a new one to us, though we had heard of "bridge ankle."

By PRESTON GROVER WASHINGTON—The power measuring stock idea, which started with TVA, has involved Pacific northwest senators in a merry battle over a bill to govern rates on the Bonneville project on the lower Columbia river.

Moreover, during ultimate compromise talk, the administration took a hand and attached a rider to establish a new power policy. Under this policy the federal power commission would take over wholesale rate regulation of not only Bonneville, but of TVA, Grand Coulee, Fort Peck, Mont., Boulder Canyon dam, Casper-Alcova, Wya., and the St. Lawrence project, if ever it is undertaken.

The plan is to put it through this session, if disputes can be pacified.

AROUND HOLLYWOOD

Test director at a major film studio, Mr. Busquet has ushered many of today's stars through that first all-important meeting with camera and "mike." He sits in today for Robbin Coons.

By HAROLD S. BUSQUET HOLLYWOOD—When a studio offers to make a screen test of you, what happens? This is a question often asked me and here is the answer:

First, an expert make-up artist studies your features. Very deftly he applies a little shading here, perhaps a highlight there. Soon your best features are brought out.

Say you are a girl, he will also supervise the hair dresser, being sure your hair is arranged in the most becoming style for your face. This of course, is a very important item.

Next you go to the wardrobe, where an attractive gown, one best suited to your figure is selected. After this you are taken to a stage and on to a set, from which possibly Norma or Joan Crawford or Rosalind Russell has just departed.

You Get The Best Often the same cameraman who photographed these stars will direct the electricians in setting the lights to photograph you—and you can see yourself on the screen, as is eager as you for a successful test.

The next day (if you have photographed well) we choose a suitable scene and get a seasoned film actor to work with you. Rehearsals begin in my office. If you show promise of playing a good scene, we arrange for a sound test the following day, thus giving you a chance to sleep over it.

Of course if you don't show up well in rehearsals, we postpone the test—indefinitely.

Most a Bit Nervous When you are on the set, made-up and properly gowned for your acting test, we rehearse the scene once more, mostly for camera angles and the sound technicians, and to help you at ease. Most people are apt to become a little nervous.

When you are ready to take your place under the lights, we make the scene several times, then order only the best "takes" printed. Later, in a tiny projection room, you can see yourself on the screen, as do the studio executives.

If they decide you are a good investment, that your personality is interesting and your ability promising, you will be placed under contract.

WASTEFUL GENERATION By BROOKE PETERS CHURCH An adage of our grandparents' time was "Make your head sweat your heels." It has its uses in training children.

Sam went up and down stairs five separate times on a series of tasks which he could have accomplished in one trip, had he thought ahead and organized his plans.

Most children make similar mistakes, and many parents, by their own lack of thought, encourage the habit. Mrs. X sends Mary to the corner for a spoon of thread. When Mary comes home, her mother remembers that she needs some sewing thread, and Mrs. X makes a second trip to the corner. Scarcely is she back at her interrupted play, when Mrs. X asks her to take a message to a neighbor.

All the errands could have been done on the one trip, had Mrs. X thought ahead. It was difficult for Mary to give up three times as much of her play time as was necessary. Worse still, however, was the example the mother set of lack of co-ordination.

Children can be taught early to plan ahead, and to make lists of errands to be run and purchases to be made. If, however, their mothers exhibit no great organization, they are slow to see the advantage of careful planning and are apt to grow up with very little regard for the value of time and physical or mechanical energy.

Is Tom ever made to stop and think that an extra jaunt to town with the car to get the paper he forgot the first time, triples the cost of the paper?

People speak of the "wasted generation" terms of pity. They often fail to see that it is also a wasteful generation. Money they are learning to do without by force of circumstance, but time and energy they still pour out like water.

Canny Campaigner to Make Race Against Senator

BOISE, Idaho, June 20. (AP)—C. Ben Ross, Idaho's lean ex-cowboy governor, announced today for the democratic nomination for the United States senate seat William E. Borah has held 30 years.

Thus a Ross-Borah battle in the general election—a conflict looked forward to since Ross long ago hinted of senatorial ambitions—became a possibility.

Senator Borah told Idaho republicans Thursday he would be "willing" to run again. Ross will have at least one other opponent in the August 11 primary—Leslie Aker, prominent Boise attorney. Some friends of Borah hope to obtain a clear field for him if he comes out definitely. There are other republican aspirants in the picture now.

OTHER NATIONS FOLLOW U. S. LEAD IN ASSISTING FARMERS

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 20—

The production of food being the most important concern in the world, nearly all countries have undertaken some measure of agricultural assistance. The United States unquestionably has gone farther than any other nation, with its expenditures of hundreds of millions through the Agricultural Adjustment Administration and its various control measures. Other nations have not been backward, however, and the farmer is a favored claimant of public attention and public assistance, direct or indirect.

In the United Kingdom, for example, the desire to aid the farmer was one of the controlling factors in prompting that country to abandon its traditional free trade policy. Import tariffs were levied against farm products. One is not inclined to think of the United Kingdom as an agricultural country. Aside the United States, it looks like the only country to produce for so many millions. Yet it is a thousand miles from Land's End to John o' Groat's and the acres are fertile.

Prices of farm products collapsed in 1930 in the British Isles just as they did in the United States and elsewhere. British farmers were in great distress. The government was faced by the dilemma of bettering the farmers' condition and yet holding food prices low enough to avoid too much distress among the industrial population and the then numerous unemployed. The Ottawa Agreements, reached at a conference in 1932, sought to help the condition of farmers throughout the British Empire. These agreements provided for imperial preference. This meant that the numerous members of the British family of nations such as Canada, Australia, South Africa, and so on would admit each other's products at lower tariff rates than those at which the products of foreign countries were admitted. The protective tariff, on the one hand, kept home markets from too severe foreign invasion while the imperial preference provided for exporting dominions a favored outlet.

The United Kingdom has undertaken some schemes very similar to those adopted in the United States. The British Agricultural Marketing Act was passed in 1931, two years before the AAA was set up here and it is understood, the designers of the AAA imported the British ideas. The act empowers farmers to form organizations for the fixing of prices and for the control of production in the interest of sustained prices. A recalcitrant minority may be forced to accept majority plans under the act. Coupled with this is the provision which empowers the government to place quotas on imports of agricultural products.

Price Guarantees
Further, outright subsidies have been granted. The first one goes back to 1925 and was in behalf of sugar beet growers. The subsidy was not paid to the growers direct but to the beet sugar factories on condition that they pay the farmers a prescribed minimum for their beets. Then there is a subsidy in the form of a guaranteed price to wheat farmers. A price of $1.32 a bushel was fixed. If the market brings that it costs the government nothing, but if the open market price falls, the government makes up the difference. A limit of 50,000,000 bushels on which the price is guaranteed is fixed. This has the effect of restraining over-sowing.

Similarly, the government guaranteed a price of 10 to 12 cents a gallon to milk producers. Also a subsidy of $1.10 a hundred-weight on live cattle and $2.06 on carcasses sold within the United Kingdom was voted. The amount of these subsidies will be turned to the government through import tariffs on livestock and meats from foreign countries.

The Dominion of Canada for many years has done everything it could to encourage the farmer. The subsidies which the federal government has given are various and bountiful. The butter scheme is illustrative. A butter price is fixed as standard for the Commonwealth. It is above the world price. But Australia makes more butter than she consumes, so the farmer is faced with a lower price for his export. The government makes up the difference and pays him the home price. It is a notable circumstance that although nearly every other product has some aid or comfort, wool—which is far and away the most important Australian farm product—is left to shift for itself.

The Union of South Africa has followed the subsidy plan as to practically all agricultural products. It has a protective tariff on most such products designed to keep the home market for South African producers. Normally a wheat importing nation, the Union, in an effort to encourage home production, has provided a measure whereby, when it appears enough wheat has been grown to meet home needs, all imports may be excluded.

In New Zealand, principal efforts have been directed toward marketing aids. Meats, fruits, cheese, and hides are principal exports and there is close semi-official control. A law provides for producers' control boards which handle the marketing. While the control is thus in the hands of the producers themselves, they have the backing for their rulings of the government.

In practically all of the schemes through these British dominions, there are provisions for the lending of advances on farm products to producers.

Most of the farm-aid plans have come into existence as special measures to meet the emergency of the depression years. Some of the plans have set terms. It is expected that there will be a withdrawal of some of the operations when conditions become normal but it is likely that the best-working machinery, especially as to marketing, will be indefinitely retained.

There are import tariffs against competing goods and then there are various subsidies and bounties. The butter scheme is illustrative. A butter price is fixed as standard for the Commonwealth. It is above the world price. But Australia makes more butter than she consumes, so the farmer is faced with a lower price for his export. Scanning New Books

By JOHN SELBY
A year or two ago the writer missed a train at Grand Central station in New York, and to kill time wandered into the art gallery. The place looked strange, at first.

The walls were covered with scrawls, some of them most amusing, some less so. It developed that the scrawls were being shown under the heading of drawings, that they were the work of a neighborhood group in Wyoming, N. J., and that the moving spirit of the group was a man named Van Dearing Perrine.

Mr. Perrine has a peculiar theory about teaching art to children. He is quite unconcerned with the technical side, at least in the beginning. He found that his little neighbors like to sit around and put their impressions on paper, and he encouraged them to do it. Gradually talents began enlarging, and the help these needed was forthcoming.

But always the matter of untrammelled self-expression came first. It is first in the handsome little book Mr. Perrine has written about his children's classes, and their work. Being an almost completely untutored layman in matters of art and art instruction, the writer is not qualified to judge the value of Mr. Perrine's method, but few parents (for example) will read "Let the Child Draw" (Stokes) without seeing in some of the illustrations the same sort of raw material their own children have.

- 1 V-8 ENGINE PERFORMANCE WITH ECONOMY
 - 2 SUPER-SAFETY MECHANICAL BRAKES
 - 3 WELDED STEEL BODY—STEEL STRUCTURE AS WELL AS SURFACE
 - 4 SAFETY GLASS ALL AROUND AT NO EXTRA CHARGE

NO MATTER how you classify your expenditures for car up-keep—it's your total expenditure that counts. How much "dollar mileage" is your car giving you?

Dollars do go farther in the Ford V-8. Modern improved carburetion gives you unusual gasoline mileage with brilliant V-8 performance. Most owners of today's Ford change oil only at 2000-mile intervals and never add a drop between changes. And after the first few thousand miles you know what Ford V-8 "dollar mileage" really means.

It gives you more miles per dollar because it gives you all-round economy—low first cost, low up-keep cost, low depreciation and long life—as well as low gasoline and oil consumption. All these help to make the Ford V-8 the most economical car.

Chapter 38
HOPE TALKS

Dear Dirk, the letter began in Rupert's swift, erratic hand. Life's a roundabout road, and we don't know where we're going, but whatever the end, there's many a short-cut.

I thought I'd find one hunting in the woods around Big Moose, but the snow caught me on the way, and I forgot what I'd gone for, and stumbled into safety. That has its humorous side.

Now that I'm home I find I debate the thing. Couldn't make up my mind which is worse, the drudgery of the road, or the mutiny of the short-cut.

I decided to gamble on it. Tonight, my dear Dirk, when we played backgammon, I was Death and you were Life. Death won as you know.

Only you didn't know—so don't let it worry you.

Apologize to Graves. He had a lot of work for nothing. Miss Andrews, too. I never got the other nurse's name, called her Hippo for some reason. Apologize to them all.

I'll do my own apologizing to Hope.

A good girl, Dirk. I've not left her badly off. But look out for her. And be sure you carry on—

It was not signed, and Dirk noticed that Connolly had not observed, that the mark at the close was not a period, but merely a trace of the pen, as it had rested there, inadvertently, or had been about to begin another word, the upward stroke of a "t", perhaps.

"Be sure you carry on the name," Rupert would have written. And Rupert would have signed his name.

His own apologizing to Hope. Had he risen abruptly to apologize to Hope?

Dirk returned the letter to Connolly and Connolly placed it again with his notes.

Rupert was buried on Friday from the little Dutch chapel at Lowrie Wood. Hope was not present. It was generally known that Rupert's wife had not recovered from the shock of his death. Isabel returned from the funeral with Dirk. They sat together beside the library-fire where he had so often sat with Hope.

"How does one come to realize a thing like this?" she asked, and added, "Elinor doesn't know yet. She can't have heard. I'll have a letter waiting for her in Delhi. She mustn't hear it over there—from some one else, I mean."

Dirk agreed, but she felt he had not been listening.

"Does Hope know?" she asked.

"Not yet. She's just as she was that night. You see, she was ill, or had been, . . . when this happened."

"Poor Dirk!" softly from Isabel.

"What a month you've had! Rupert ill, and then Hope. And now this."

Presently she rose, leaned a little closer to him, smoothing his hair.

"I must go, Dirk. No, don't come outside with me. I want you to go upstairs, and I want you to rest. You look . . . You don't look like yourself. Promise me you'll rest."

It was not until the next evening that Dr. Graves permitted Hope to see and talk with Dirk. All day she had begged to see him. Both Graves and Miss Andrews knew that she wished to tell Dirk she was going away.

"How long has it been?" she asked, after their first unhappy greeting. And as Dirk, sitting near her, did not answer, scarcely knowing what she meant, she added:

"No one will tell me anything. But I know that Rupert died. He died that night. How long ago was . . . that night?"

"It was last Wednesday," Dirk told her. "Today is Saturday."

"It seems years. Please tell me about that night."

He said,

"Don't you remember at all?"

"I remember . . . some things. They come back to me. But other things . . . If they happened at all, I can't remember them. Did they ask me questions? You must have sent for the police. Did they ask me questions?"

"No. They physician would not permit you to be questioned. It was not found necessary, anyhow, since the case was so plainly suicide."

She was silent.

"You see," he added, "Rupert left a note."

"A note? . . . May I see it?"

Dirk had the note with him, and gave it to her. She read it through quickly. Gave it back to Dirk.

"So this is what he was writing," she said.

She was quieter now, at ease, as Dirk wanted her to be.

"You saw him writing, Hope?"

"Yes!" with a certain eagerness. "Sitting at his desk, writing."

"And then he came into your room," Dirk stated casually.

She did not answer. It was a statement and she let it pass.

"Was it then he came into your room, Hope?"

"Yes," after a pause. "Of course it was. . . it was after he had written. Why do you ask me that?"

"Because," said Dirk, "I know that Rupert didn't kill himself."

"You think . . . You think I did it?"

"I know now that you didn't."

"Well, then . . . You said a minute ago it was . . ."

"I said it was plainly suicide. . . plainly to those who read his note, who saw the pistol beside his hand. But it was I who put the pistol where they found it. It lay too close to where you had stood. Of course he might have dropped it so, but there was a doubt."

"Close to where I . . . You did that for me? . . . But if you did that for me, why question me?"

"No. I couldn't rest. . . with it like this. You couldn't either. If you knew. It wasn't to question you that I came in here. It was to tell you something that you need to know."

"You see," as she listened white-ly, "I spent today in the tower-room. I got up at daylight. I wanted to see it . . . examine it. . . before they stripped and cleaned it, as I know they must."

"I knew several things. I knew that Rupert hadn't finished his note to me. . . Wait. I want you to listen without speaking. I want you to reserve your strength, for there's something you've got to know, and you've got to know it now . . . No one else realizes that Rupert's note was unfinished. No one knows that I heard two shots that night so close together that they sounded almost like one. "No one else made much of the fact that there were no powder marks on Rupert's clothes. His note cleared everything. They didn't even look for the bullet that had killed him. I looked for it and I found it, buried in the paneling beside the kas. But it was not the bullet from the gun we found."

She had risen. She spoke, white-ly.

"I did it. He came in, and I . . ."

"No. Not unless you are taller than Rupert. Not unless you stood on something."

"Why not?" she cried. "And as for the pistol. . ."

"Hope, dear, pull yourself together and answer me. After Rupert . . . after he was wounded . . . did he cross the room? Did he move at all?"

"No, no. He fell. He fell right where he stood."

"Then," said Dirk, "the other person who was in the room with you both . . . was wounded." He saw her hand tighten on her breast.

"There was blood on the floor," he said.

"Know!" a whisper. "Where Rupert lay?"

"Not only there. Over by the paneling, close to the wall, on the bare, dark floor. You could hardly see it. It seemed to go under the paneling."

"Under the . . . There was no sound. Only her lips moving as she repeated the words.

"There must be a door there," he said. "You must show me."

"What are you going to do?" she whispered. "What are you going to do to him?"

"Find him," said Dirk. "He may be badly hurt. What else is there to do but find him?"

"Yes! Yes, I'll show you."

She had been weak. Now she was strong. She went quickly to the door, turned back to say,

"Have you a flash?"

Dirk went to his room, found a flash-light, and rejoined her in the hall. At the door-of the tower-room she halted, closed her eyes, then with lifted head, went in. Dirk switched on the light.

"The room had been stripped. The rug was gone, the draperies. She caught her breath with what seemed to Dirk relief, and crossing the room, opened the wall safe. Reaching within, she lifted its flooring, and pressed a spring.

Dirk makes a hurried visit downtown, tomorrow.

Mrs. J. F. Schwind and son Francis have returned from Breckenridge where they spent several days visiting friends.

Oil Companies Building Roads

OKLAHOMA CITY, June 20—Oil companies operating in the new Oklahoma City field have improved the roads and streets in the Mansion area as they go with oil saturated sand taken directly from the wells.

The Wilcox sand produced with the oil is hauled from the wells in dump trucks and placed as surfacing on the streets serving the area. The heavy trucks hauling pipe and casing to the well pack the surface into a firm, compact and economical pavement. The result is conservation of resources and conservation of taxpayers road and street assessments.

Mrs. W. W. Merten and son, Walter Merten, of Clay Center, Kan., former Pampa residents, a nephew Donald Merten, and Miss Lizette Siegemeyer, also of Clay Center returned to Kansas yesterday after visiting friends here for several days.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, June 20. (AP)—In strenuous new upturn, wheat today showed a rise of more than 10 cents a bushel this week. Simultaneously corn was up about 7 cents, oats 5 cents and rye about 9 cents.

Evidence that Europe is becoming alarmed over disastrous crop conditions in the American northwest did much to rush all grains today to season fresh top records quotations.

The maximum overnight jump in the Chicago wheat market, 3 1/2 cents, was surpassed both at Minneapolis and Kansas City, especially the latter which went skyward an extreme of 4 1/2 cents, responsive to reports of damage by drought and high temperatures not only to spring crop areas northwest but also to hard winter wheat southwest.

Despite heavy profit-taking sales that at the last shadings gains somewhat, wheat in Chicago closed strong, 2 cents to 3 cents above yesterday's finish, July 93 1/2-94, Sept. 95 1/2-96, Dec. 97-97 1/2, corn 1 1/2-2 1/2 up, July 66 1/2, Sept. 65-65 1/2, Dec. 61 1/2-62, oats 1 1/2-2 advanced, Sept. 30 1/2-31, and rye showing 2 cents to 2 1/2 cents bulge, Sept. 64 1/2. In provisions, the outcome was 20 to 50 cents higher.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, June 20. (AP)—Bought by a heavy trade demand cotton prices ran up from 50 to 75 cents a bale today in active trading.

Every option on the board touched a new high for the season as October closed its previous top price of 11 1/2.

Oct. closed at 11.53, Dec. at 11.48, Jan. at 11.48, and May at 11.51. The July position was not as active as in Friday's trading but moved ahead 50 cents a bale to finish at 12.22. Spots at New Orleans gained 50 cents a bale with middling at 12.42.

KANSAS CITY LIVESTOCK

KANSAS CITY, June 20. (AP)—(USDA)—An improved demand at eastern dressed beef markets reflected itself in the live trade at midwestern points this week, and fed steers and yearlings, after opening on a lower basis, closed firm to higher at several centers. Light yearlings scaling under 900 lbs continued to move to the best advantage. Grass cattle were in increased supply and finished weak to 25 or more lower, grass fat cows as much as 50 off.

Spring lambs and yearlings are steady to unevenly lower than a week ago. The market, however, is materially higher as compared with last Saturday.

Tire Company Opens in City

The Adkinson-Baker Tire company opened a store in Pampa last week from which they will distribute General tires. The new store will be managed by Jack Baker, who was previously in the tire business in Pampa for several years. The new store and filling station is located at 300 West Kingsmill where they will handle the complete line of General tires.

'Happy Days Are Here Again'

INDUSTRY PUTS MONEY BACK IN TEXAS FIELDS

FIGURES DISPROVE ANY OUTSIDE CAPITAL EXPLOITATION

BY H. J. STRUTH, Petroleum Economist

More money has been put into ground in developing Texas oil than has actually been received in sales value for all the oil produced to date. Facts to prove this have just been compiled by The Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association of Texas, and they show that the Texas oil industry has actually spent $5,000,000,000 for oil development, from which the cumulative sales value of all crude produced to date has amounted to about $4,985,000,000.

These facts contradict unsupported statements purporting to show that Texas oil is being exploited by outside capital, the financial returns from which are kept outside of our state borders.

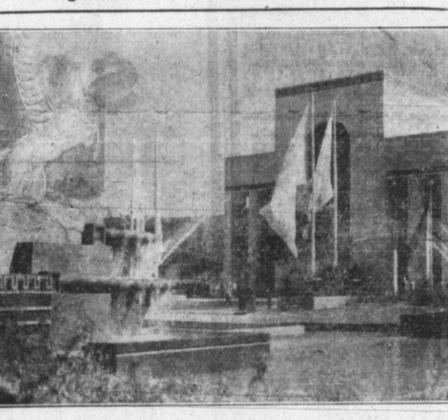

The truth is that the Texas oil industry not only reinvests the money received from sales of crude oil in extending developments to all parts of the state, but has actually spent $15,000,000 more than its total receipts to date in the development of this great Texas industry. These figures show further that for every dollar received from the sale of crude oil, this industry has put back into Texas oil developments one dollar and twelve cents!

This does not mean that the Texas oil industry as a whole is an unprofitable venture. Profits in the oil industry are the ultimate result of combining the various operations incident to its many activities. In the producing branch of the industry, there are many wells that show a loss in their operation, which in some instances may be absorbed by profitable operations in another producing field. It is a principle of conservation of natural resources to continue to produce oil from high-cost "stripper" wells in order to obtain the maximum ultimate recovery of oil in place. This, obviously, benefits many thousands of oil industry employed Texans, whose jobs might be terminated if all unprofitable oil wells were abandoned in favor of new, flush producing wells.

Producing crude oil might have returned substantial profits to the industry if all non-profitable wells had been abandoned and had all money received from the sale of crude oil been stowed away in the vaults of the producer. However, as these facts prove, the oil industry has not hoarded its profits, nor spent them outside of our state borders, but has reinvested all and more money than it received in the statewide development of an industry that has made Texas lead the world in oil as a result of this continual reinvestment of profits in the search for new sources of oil supply. Texas has nearly half of the oil reserves of the United States.

Drilling for oil and gas in Texas has involved a total cost to date of $2,777,000,000, including $96,000,000 spent for gas wells. The net cost of oil wells and dry holes

Exposition's Beauty Impressive

Early visitors call the $25,000,000 Texas Centennial Exposition, now running in Dallas, "the most beautiful World's Fair in history." The photograph shows a section of the Esplanade of State and the $400,000 Hall of Varied Industries. Night lighting along the Esplanade reflecting pool is of indescribable beauty.

drilled to date is $2,691,000,000. Farmers and landowners have received for lease rentals, bonuses and royalties, the stupendous sum of $1,141,000,000. Cumulative expenditures by the Texas oil industry for wages and salaries, materials and supplies, taxes, insurance, interest and overhead have amounted to $1,775,000,000. In addition, many more millions of dollars are represented by investment in properties, plant and equipment. All of this money has extended the benefits of oil development to every section of our state and has materially strengthened its future industrial position and economic welfare.

Fairground Work Resumed Friday

Work on Pampa's No. 1 WPA project, Fairground park, was resumed Friday after being shut down for several days until new plans could be completed.

A new supervisor, W. F. Richards of Amarillo, took charge of the project, replacing Paul Hill who resigned to re-enter business here.

First work will be to finish setting posts around the outside of the race track and placing of braces on the fence. Grading of the inside of the track will also be completed on the first part of the program. Application was made yesterday for $3,800 worth of material for building stables. That amount is still due from WPA. Plans for the stables was mailed yesterday.

Next Oil Pool May Be Opened In Northwest

The next oil pool may be opened on the Zurick Ranch in the south part of Union County which is located in the northeastern part of New Mexico and is in the northwestern direction from Pampa, Borger, and Moore county, Texas, pools.

The Quaker State Oil company, with home offices in Pampa, blocked 40,000 acres covering the south half of the Clapham structure in June and July, 1935. At that time they had in mind bringing in an extension to the Moore county oil and gas pool.

A heavy flow of gas was struck in the Zurick No. 1 being drilled by the Superior Oil and Gas company and the Olson Drilling company of Tulsa, Oklahoma, at a depth of 1,200 feet. It was necessary to gas off before drilling deeper. The company has set 10 inch casing and is now drilling ahead at 1,400 feet. Spreads of acreage around this well has been purchased by the Gulf Oil corporation of Tulsa, Oklahoma;

J. F. McManmon and associates of Enid and Tulsa, Oklahoma; and by Gled Oil company and the Travis Brothers of Tulsa, Oklahoma.

Tarketon Goes To Oil Meetings

L. W. Tarketon left early Saturday morning for Fort Worth and Dallas where he will call on several of the major oil companies in the interest of the Quaker State Oil company which is now drilling the Zurick No. 1 in south Union county, New Mexico.

Mrs. Tarketon and their grandson, Jimmy Lee, accompanied Mr. Tarketon and will visit a few days in Fort Worth with her brother, J. E. Howard and family. Mr. Tarketon expects to return Tuesday or Wednesday.

DIVERSION OF AUTO TAXES IS HIT IN REPORT

MOTORISTS PAYING FOR HIGHWAYS, GET HATCHERIES

WASHINGTON, June 20.—Motorists in 1934 paid one billion dollars in gasoline taxes and license fees in the naive belief they were buying new roads and maintaining old ones. Actually, the Bureau of Public Roads reveals, they bought some very fine fish hatcheries and several first class oyster beds—and a few miles of highway.

More than $140,000,000 of the motorists' supposed investment in highways, according to the Bureau's analysis, were diverted to such projects as fish hatcheries, oyster beds, government buildings, docks and sea walls, the payment of salaries and pensions and the retirement of government debts.

The diverted funds, the Western Petroleum Refiners association reports, deprived motorists of some 28,000 miles of well surfaced, all-weather highways, an average of 580 miles in each state.

The gigantic diversion also deprived farmers of about $200,000,000 in land value since it has been estimated that the improvement of a dirt road with a low-cost, all-year surface adds $21 an acre to the average farm value. Each mile of improved rural road serves about 360 acres so about 10,000,000 acres were deprived of mud relief—at $21 an acre.

In lieu of the highway facilities they expected from their investments, both motorists and farmers are invited to inspect the fish hatcheries and the oyster beds. Gasoline taxes and license fees may be paid en route.

[QUESTIONS THAT ARE ASKED ABOUT BANKING]

"Do Banks want new checking accounts?"

YES, most banks welcome new checking accounts. At least, we know that our bank is glad to have them—for checking accounts constitute one of the most important financial services we render to the people of this community.

A checking account is a valuable service to depositors. Naturally, it costs the bank money to handle every account. These expenses include check books, signature cards, deposit slips, other supplies and necessary time and cost of handling the account. Consequently, the bank expects an adequate balance to be kept in the account in order that its earnings will help to cover its cost. Otherwise, a moderate service charge is ordinarily made.

If you do not have a checking account now we invite you to open one here.

BLONDELL TO PLAY ROLE IN BROWN MOVIE

'HAIR GOES UP AS SKIRTS GO DOWN'

"Sweep your hair up and off your ears for evening," advises Joan Blondell, beautiful young star of "Sons O' Guns," the new Warner Bros. musical film that opens at the LaNora Theatre beginning today.

"Daytime coiffures can be as simple and casual as you like," she goes on to explain. "But when evening comes and you exchange your short sports skirt for a long and formal evening gown, your hair must be re-arranged accordingly. And the very feminine styles that are the darlings of the evening mode at present, the most fitting as well as the most becoming coiffure is one that shows your little pink ears."

"Therefore, the smart thing to do is to have your hair cut and waved in a simple yet adaptable fashion that will allow you to comb it down in a trim, clean-cut line for daytime, yet can, by a few twists of your wrist and adept motions of your hairbrush, be altered into a sophisticated yet utterly feminine hairdress for evening."

To prove her point, Miss Blondell described her own current "hair-do." First, her hair is parted in the middle and the ends are trimmed at a length just below the lobe of her ears on the sides, becoming about an inch longer around the back.

Waves are set on each side just at the temples, running in semi-circular fashions toward the back, and the ends are curled in one tier of smart flat ringlets.

During the day, Miss Blondell combs her hair softly and sleekly down at the sides, allowing the ringlets to lie flat against her ears, the top of her head conforming to the lines of the flat waves.

Then, when evening comes, she combs her hair softly and loosely and backward from her face, so that the waves fall in rather loose effect with a widening impression across the temples. The ends are brushed upward over the ears and back off of their original position, conforming to the set ringlets of the day, they are fluffed into a mass of soft loose curls.

Quite an idea, isn't it? "Sons O' Guns" is a colorful, mirth laden and tenuous romantic comedy of the World War days, dealing only with the bright and hilarious side of doughboy life.

Besides Miss Blondell, the cast includes Joe E. Brown in the steller role, Beverly Roberts, Eric Blore, Craig Reynolds, Winifred Shaw, Joseph King and Robert Barrat.

Big-Mouth Back in Town

JOAN BLONDELL and Joe E. Brown are shown in a "clinch" in "Sons O' Guns" which will open at the La Nera today.

CAVALCADE HAS GALA PREMIER OPENING AT CENTENNIAL SATURDAY

DALLAS, June 20.—"Cavalcade of Texas" the $250,000 dramatic spectacle of Texas history and its gala premier at the Cavalcade Amphitheatre at 8:30 to an invited audience of the Texas Centennial Exposition announced today.

PILOT RISKS LIFE TESTING FILM PLANE

'DEVIL'S SQUADRON' TO BE FEATURE AT REX

Before a new airplane can be taken aloft by an ordinary pilot, it must first be tested in flight for structural defects. A test pilot, daredevil of the skies, must put the ship through its paces, straining it at every possible point so that those who follow him will be able to fly the new plane in safety.

One of the dozen men in the country who are qualified to perform this hazardous feat, is Herb White, a slim, curly-headed Swede. The courageous pilot was a boon to the Columbia studios during the filming of "Devil's Squadron," a drama of the test pilots starring Richard Dix which opens on Sunday at the Rex theatre.

ly called for a certain type of plane—a 1,000 horsepower Northrup Gamma, duplicate of the plane in which Howard Hughes recently broke the trans-continental record—and the only model available was brand new—and untested. In the film, the plane was to be flown by Richard Dix, Gene Morgan, Henry Morrison, Lloyd Nolan and Gordon Jones; but before any of these men, all of whom are relatively good pilots, could step aboard the craft it had to be tested. And White was given the dangerous job.

The plane had to be put through its paces—loops, spins, dives, rolls—in order to test it properly. White knew that if the strain proved too much for the ship—well, he climbed into the cockpit, waved his hand cheerily and gave her the gun.

White and the Northrup Gamma wound up the test with a 9-G power dive from 30,000 feet in the air. The plane screamed down at hundreds of miles per hour—but came through like a major.

Now the movie stars could fly it without undue risk of their lives. Herb White had tested it. The pilot spent the two following days in the hospital, recovering from the effects of the flight.

Karen Morley, Shirley Ross and Billy Burrud play prominent parts in "Devil's Squadron."

Mrs. C. C. Branch of Miami, who has been critically ill in Pampa-Jarratt hospital, is convalescing.
