STORMS LEVEL CITIES, MANY ARE MISSING

HUNDREDS INJURED IN MISSISSIPPI AND GEORGIA

TUPELO, Miss., April 6.—Tupelo's list of identified dead from last night's 100-mile-an-hour tornado passed the 125 mark today...

TUPELO, Miss., April 6.—The south's worst tornado weather in five years claimed 200 lives in four states today.

Mayor J. P. Nanny estimated that at least 100 persons were killed in the Tupelo area and that 500 to 1,000 others were injured in the storm that struck with devastating swiftness last night.

Several other towns in Arkansas, Mississippi, Alabama and Tennessee were struck by the twisting winds.

The dead by communities included: Tupelo, Miss., 82; Coffeyville, Miss., 4; Fayetteville, Tenn., 1; Elkwood, Ala., 3; Booneville, Miss., 4; Gainesville, Ga., 48; Anderson, S. C., 1; Red Bay, Ala., 5; Columbia, Tenn., area 6.

The storm centered its greatest fury on this "little TVA" city of 10,000, the first town to utilize Muscle Shoals power.

Fire added to the horror of the twister in Tupelo.

With water pressure gone, power lines and gas connections twisted awry, firemen struggled against heavy odds to hold the flames of shattered dwellings in check while rescue workers toiled through the ruin, seeking the dead and injured.

BY RICHARD McMURRAY. GAINESVILLE, Ga., April 6.—Gainesville's business district was devastated today by a tornado and fire which trapped workers just after they had reported for duty, killing at least 48 persons and perhaps 100.

A section of the city 2 1/2 miles long and one-half mile wide was laid in ruins.

Fifty of the dead were trapped in a hardware store and perished in flames that followed the storm.

City fireman G. M. Loggins estimated from 80 to 100 persons were...

FIRE DESTROYS 72-ROOM FREY HOTEL

Leveling buildings in an area three blocks wide and two miles long, a tornado that ripped thru five southern states, killing at least 10, took its heaviest toll in Cordele, Ga.

FIREMEN KEEP FLAMES FROM OTHER HOUSES

DAMAGE ESTIMATED AT $30,000; WIND IS MENACE

Pampa firemen battled flames, smoke, and a chilling wind for more than 10 hours last night as the Frey hotel at the corner of Tyng and South Railroad street was destroyed by fire of unknown origin.

The alarm was received at the station at 8:15 o'clock. One of the large trucks was sent on the call. Upon arrival at the hotel, the driver saw that the entire south half of the building was a mass of flames.

Both machines remained at the fire until after 1 o'clock, when the blaze was considered under control. One truck was then sent back to the station, the other remained and firemen threw water on the smoldering ruins until nearly 7:30 o'clock this morning.

Creosote Blazes Recalled. Nearly four years ago Pampa had its worst fire. Conditions were similar to those that occurred today.

Last night firemen fought to save nearby houses when they found the hotel building past saving. With the temperature standing at 27 degrees above zero and a 30-mile-an-hour wind coming out of the north, firemen poured five streams of water on the burning building.

Water Used. Several buckets could save the hotel building, Chief Clyde Gold and his men poured thousands of gallons of water on nearby buildings and on the rear of the hotel building, nearest the lumber yard.

Power Line Cut. Southwestern Public Service company employees braved fire and cold to cut a high line of hose wires at the rear of the hotel. They were drenched by flying spray, whipped in their direction by the high wind.

Five members of the fire department received "duckings" as they...

High Court Holds Against U. S. In Securities Case

By JAMES W. DOUTHAT. Associated Press Staff Writer. WASHINGTON, April 6.—The securities commission lost today in the supreme court its long effort to compel J. Edward Jones, New York dealer in oil stocks, to testify concerning a proposed issue of securities.

The 6 to 3 decision, delivered by Justice Sutherland, did not pass on the constitutionality of the 1933 "truth in securities" act.

Justice Cardozo, Brandeis and Stone dissented.

The legislation—enacted as a result of disclosures by the senate stock market investigation—had been challenged by Jones as unconstitutional.

He defied the commission in its long effort to compel him to testify concerning a proposed $100,000 issue of securities.

The government disputed this, asserting that "securities are subjects of commerce" and "prohibition against the interstate transportation of unregistered securities is..."

HAILE, ROUTED, FLEES BEFORE ITALIAN ARMY

Road to Addis Ababa Is Now Open To Invaders

By EDWARD J. NEIL. Copyright, 1936, By The Associated Press. ASMARA, Eritrea, April 6. Native Askari of Italy's northern army, after capturing the important town of Quaram, pressed on in pursuit of Emperor Haile Selassie, fleeing army today, trailing rapidly down the road to Dessale.

Italian militarists said there was no longer any attempt at rear-guard action by the natives, and expressed belief that the Ethiopian ammunition was exhausted.

The Eritrean Askari were the first to enter Quaram, marching without resistance yesterday into that famous town, former field headquarters of Emperor Haile Selassie and starting point of the open motor road directly to Addis Ababa.

White troops from Italy's first army corps occupied the town later while the Eritreans headed straight on the 100-mile road to Dessale. Haile Selassie was believed to be either at Dessale or back in Addis Ababa, like all his northern generals, in defeat.

Italians estimated that the Ethiopians might have suffered as many as 10,000 casualties during the breaking up of the best of Emperor Haile Selassie's armies. The fascist dead and wounded were described only as "comparatively small."

Lineman Tells Of Tornado As It Hit Tupelo

City Is Completely Wrecked In 15 Minutes

By WILLIAM REED. Copyright, 1936, By The Associated Press. TUPELO, Miss., April 6.—I was repairing a telephone line in the western part of town last night and saw the sky in the west filling with black masses of clouds.

It was a little after 8 o'clock. Then all at once these clouds were turned into a huge black funnel with a small top on the ground. I knew what it meant and I ducked for shelter.

That cloud, or funnel, traveled fast and although it was quite dark I could see big objects lifted off the ground and sent whirling upward and around. It was a terrifying thing to watch. It struck Tupelo squarely in the middle and seemed to be coming directly from the west.

It tore into the houses in the western part of the city and shattered them like they were bits of candy or piles of leaves. Wreckage and debris was flying around the air. It continued its course straight through the center of the...

DALLAS, April 6.—Three men forced a dozen employees to stand with bowed heads while they robbed the Borden Milk Products company of $6,000 here today.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—The Supreme Court deferred today for at least one week a final decision on constitutionality of the Guffey coal act.

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 6.—Firing his third straight sub-par round, "Lighthorse Harry" Cooper of Chicago, the pace-setter, negotiated the third round today in 71, one under par, and posted a 54 hole total of 210 in the $5,000 Augusta national golf tournament.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., April 6.—Sheriff Virgil A. Rucker of Saline county announced today the capture of Asa "Ace" Pendleton, notorious southwest Missouri break-out judge at Admore, Okla. Rucker said Pendleton admitted his identity and agreed to waive extradition.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—Making his first move to comply with Senate Vandenberg's reiterated demands for publicity on large AAA benefit payments, Secretary Wallace published today a report showing they ranged up to $1,067,665, the sum paid to one Florida sugar corporation.

Wallace deplored the larger payments, but blamed them on new deal conditions. Because of "crushing effects" of low prices which "squeezed out" many small farmers, he said, central of much farm land had "fallen into the hands of corporations, absentee owners and larger operators." The AAA, he held, "arrested this alarming development."

In making his partial report, Wallace withheld the names of all recipients, with three exceptions. He disclosed, that the largest cotton rental benefit, $123,747 for 1934 went to a Mississippi company headed by Oscar Johnston, an AAA official. Among the largest cotton payment recipients in 1933 were the Mississippi state penitentiary which received $43,200 for controlling production on its cotton acreage; and $25,500 to the Arkansas state prison.

Johnston the report said, is manager of the federal cotton pool and has been with AAA since June 1933. At that time, Wallace stressed, his connection with the private concern was made a matter of public record. Besides the 1934 payment to the company, a 1933 check for $54,200 went jointly to it and the farm credit administration, to which it was indebted. Because of the disclosure, the federal share of the check was later signed over to FCA.

Among other large payments reported under various crop control programs were $961,064 to a Puerto Rican corporation, $862,460 to a Hawaiian producer, $32,237 to a California beet sugar producer, $65,965 to a Colorado beet sugar grower, and $150,000 to the large...

U. S. DESTROYER IN PURSUIT OF ARMS VESSELS

Speeds Thru Panama Canal In 38 Minutes

CRISTOBAL, C. Z., April 6.—The U. S. destroyer Manley, after an apparent record passage of the Panama Canal, raced north through the Caribbean sea today in pursuit of vessels suspected of smuggling ammunition to Honduran revolutionists.

Starting from Balboa, at the Pacific end of the canal, the destroyer sped through emergency lockages in four hours, 38 minutes. This was believed to establish an all-time record for a canal crossing, the transit usually requiring about seven hours.

Clearing Cristobal, the Manley turned into the Caribbean, headed for the waters about the Central American republic of Honduras.

Rear Admiral G. J. Meyers, commander of the special service squadron, detailed the destroyer to Honduras waters, one of his aides, announced, to capture the alleged ammunition carriers.

The Colon headquarters of the United States navy reported it received information that the vessels involved were operating out of Gulf ports.

Mercury Drops To 18 Degrees

Spring battled with winter on the plains yesterday, raising the dust and bringing flurries of snow, while the temperature dropped to 18 degrees last night.

West of here, it was reported out of Boger, the snow was blinding at times.

Sunday was somewhat foggy at dawn. Soon heavy dust clouds began dropping the brownish silt on the plains. A north wind drove the dirt into houses and made breathing difficult for most of the day. The temperature dropped to 26 degrees before dusk.

Dust settled considerably after the snow began, while the wind grew steadily colder.

Calm, clear, and bright was the brisk dawn today. And while tornado winds swept other sections, the forecast for the Panhandle today was partly cloudy and with rising temperature.

Mrs. H. E. Boves underwent an emergency operation at Pampa-Jarvis hospital last night. Her condition this morning was favorable.

POWER RATES HERE REDUCED FOR 9TH TIME

ELECTRIC RATES WILL APPLY ON MAY 1

Pampa users of electricity have received another substantial reduction in rates. The new rates go into effect immediately and will apply on bills rendered on May 1, according to announcement made today by James M. Collins, manager of the Southwestern Public Service company.

This is the ninth reduction in electric rates made by the company since it purchased the Pampa electric system in 1925. Mr. Collins stated: "The top lighting rate at that time was 20 cents per kilowatt hour. Persistent reductions throughout the entire period have brought the top lighting rate down to 7 cents. Pampa electric rates, both top and average, are now only slightly more than one-third of what they were in 1925."

The new rates are as follows: Residential Lighting and Refrigeration. First 50 KWH per month 6¢ per KWH. Next 50 KWH per month 6¢ per KWH. Next 50 KWH per month 6¢ per KWH. Remainder 6¢ per KWH.

Residential General Lighting. First 50 KWH per month 6¢ per KWH. Next 50 KWH per month 6¢ per KWH. Next 50 KWH per month 6¢ per KWH. Remainder 6¢ per KWH.

Commercial Lighting. First 100 KWH per month 6¢ per KWH. Next 100 KWH per month 6¢ per KWH. Next 100 KWH per month 6¢ per KWH. Remainder 6¢ per KWH.

General Power. First 100 KWH per month 6¢ per KWH. Next 100 KWH per month 6¢ per KWH. Next 100 KWH per month 6¢ per KWH. Remainder 6¢ per KWH.

The monthly minimum charge is $1.00 per household or 5¢ per KWH.

The policy followed by the company in repeatedly reducing its rates over a period of years, including the depression years, has attracted favorable comment.

Savings under the new rate range up to 20 per cent in some brackets.

COMEDY TO BE PRESENTED BY SCHOOL GROUP

Two Plays, including 'Dust' Open Here Tonight

Comedy and tragic, if hopeful reality will furnish entertainment on the stage at the city auditorium tonight and tomorrow night when the all-school play commonly called "The Dust" is presented.

The play, "Dust" will be presented for the benefit of the P-T-A fund. The performance will start at 8 o'clock.

The comedy, directed by Miss Kathleen Milam, details the experiences of a wall-flower who became a popular party when she learned a thing or three that she should have known all along. The play has been in rehearsal for weeks, and the cast is particularly lively. It was said.

As for "Dust," Pampans will understand every line, every situation. Admission will be 25 cents for adults and 25 cents for students.

Court Upholds Prison Sentence In 'Legs Murder'

JACKSON, Miss., April 6.—(AP)—Ouida Keeton must serve a sentence of life imprisonment for the "butcher murder" of her mother.

Miss Daisy Keeton, the Mississippi Supreme Court ruled today. She was taken into custody by Sheriff Charles Thompson at Laurel this morning, having been at liberty under bond pending the outcome of her appeal to the high court.

The court handed down an en banc decision, with two justices dissenting.

W. M. Carter, Laurel business man, also sentenced to life imprisonment for the slaying by a Jones county jury, was granted a new trial a few weeks ago when the supreme court reversed the conviction.

Ouida, formerly secretary to Carter, charged that he shot and killed her mother and forced her to aid in dismemberment and disposal of the body. The case, known as the "Legs Murder" because only the legs and lower torso of the body were recovered, attracted wide attention.

the Weather

WEST TEXAS: Partly cloudy, not so cold in the Panhandle, frost tonight; Tuesday partly cloudy, rising temperature.

A CALL TO CIVIC DUTY! (Editorial)

Civic-minded Pampans have a date with Duty tomorrow.

Time: 8 a. m. to 7 p. m. Place: City hall.

The occasion is the municipal city election. A mayor and two commissioners will be chosen for 2-year terms. Five prominent men are offered for these three places.

The fact that there has been virtually no pre-election campaign should not cause a short ballot town. The least that a good citizen can afford to do is to VOTE. Many organizations have as one of their projects that of encouraging everyone to vote on all public questions. BE SURE TO VOTE TOMORROW.

EASTER MEANINGS

What does Easter mean to you? If you visit many cities, you will see that to many people it means a chance to wear the glad new clothes, and see lovely ladies and proud looking men walk the streets as if they were kings and queens. If one is specially interested in women's costumes, it must be extremely difficult to keep one's mind on the minister's eloquence, with all this marvelous chance to see which way the cat of style is going to jump.

You will find some folks occupying the church seats who rarely attend at other times. Where formerly the minister's voice may have echoed through forbiddingly empty pews, now you may have to stand. Did these folks come to hear the singers touch their high notes, the thunderous peal of the organ, the philosophy of the minister? Or was it just the desire to follow the crowd? The minister would like to know. He tries hard to make every other service equally good.

In many churches, Easter is a pageant of light and color, beautiful as a display, even if one did not understand a word said or sung. The singers have been rehearsing their melodies for many a day. The world's masters of music have produced imperishable harmonies for this occasion, which lift the soul above the cares of daily life. The flower decorations fill the church with color and fragrance, while bright faces and colorful garments make a picture long to be remembered.

The Christian church did not institute this occasion merely to make a colorful spectacle. Those who only see the surface aspects miss something. There is a thought under that glitter that reaches down to the depth of our natures. It tells us that this life is not all, and that for those who seek it, there is something better beyond—Childress Index.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON.—The Senate Munitions Committee winding up its spectacular career with a series of reports, will recommend and offer a bill for government ownership of munitions plants.

Existing production facilities for primary munitions could be taken over for about $65,000,000, the committee's experts estimate. That would cover naval shipbuilding, machine guns and other arms, shells and projectiles, armor plate, and at least one airplane factory.

The reports will include a general survey of the munitions industry and its operations, a report on the costs of munitions manufacture—including shipbuilding—and one on the adequacy or inadequacy of existing neutrality legislation.

Proposals for nationalization of the munitions industry will be bitterly fought by munitions makers, the army and navy, and passage of the bill for that purpose which the committee will present is doubtful.

The opposition will claim that nationalization would cripple the country in event of war—although this hardly seems true of battle ships. Their building requires long periods and they must be ready before hostilities.

Tests of public sentiment, however, have shown enormous interest in the munitions problem and strong support for government production.

The correspondents' corps here has been inclined to laugh at the Townsend plan in times past, but more recently it has concluded that the committee investigating the OARP plan is also good for plenty of laughs.

Poorly prepared, the committee rushed into the investigation under Chairman C. Jasper Bell of Missouri because so many congressmen were eager to get ammunition against the Townsendites in time for the primary fights.

In the first couple of days the spirit revealed that R. E. Clements, "brains" of the organization work and co-founder of the movement, had been paid $12,585 in 1935—not very much for a big-time Washington lobbyist—and that OARP had collected almost a million dollars.

But the sessions in general were very boring indeed, partially due to the fact that so many repetitive and apparently unimportant questions were asked the dapper, suave Clements and partly to the ease with which the committee managed to get itself huddled up without even trying.

Mr. Jimmy Sullivan, the assistant city prosecutor of Kansas City, acting as committee counsel, contributed heavily to the boredom. He spoke in a theatrical, melodramatic drawl and gave Clements several opportunities to rephrase Sullivan's question so they would be clear.

The committee took one on the chin when Sullivan, for the 10th or 11th time, quizzed Clements on a story in the Townsend Weekly which was based on a congressman's charge on the floor that investigators had adopted "back-alley tactics."

"I presume," Clements remarked, "that the Townsend Weekly placed too much reliance on the authenticity of the Congressional Record."

Whereupon everybody had a good laugh on the congressmen and Chairman Jasper Bell became incensed and threatened to clear the room.

The committee may reveal much more in its quiz to discover if the Townsend movement is a racket, but its early efforts make it appear that it will get all tangled up in so doing.

Proofreaders, who struggled with Allegheny, Monongahela and Youghiogheny, found it easy to sympathize with other flood victims.

According to George Bernard Shaw, "the people love me," but then, you can hardly blame them for following the splendid example set by Shaw.

A Pennsylvania educator says, "We have a right to look at the physical as well as cultural characteristics of would-be teachers." Yet, but why give pupils ideas?

Results of Tree Belt To Be Felt In 2 More Years

QUANAH, April 6 (AP)—The shelter-belt project started a year ago in Texas must wait two more years before the growing windbreaks are tall enough to check destructive winds in the plain region.

The first rows of little seedlings were planted April 5, 1935, on the children's county farm of J. R. Brannett. The vast erosion-control program contemplates the planting of millions more trees on the wind-swept open plains extending 1,100 miles to the north. In time, soil conservationists hope to have a belt approximately 100 miles wide.

Over 300 and 400 men are busy working on the project in Texas, finding steady employment in an enterprise which has the added benefit of helping the jobless.

Virtually all seedlings used in Texas so far were grown at the Chillicothe nursery in Hardeman county. However, this nursery is being discontinued and others established in Ford and Collingsworth counties.

The 39 counties included in the tree planting are Hardeman, Hemphill, Wheeler, Collingsworth, Hall, Childress, Motley, Cottle, Wilbarger, Dickens, King, Knox, Baylor, Kent, Stonewall, Haskell, Scurry, Fisher and Jones.

Aggies Hope To Hop Into 2nd Place In Loop

(By The Associated Press) College Station, home of the Texas Aggies, today appeared to be the most likely spot for an important Southwest conference baseball doings this week as the farmers prepared for the Texas Christian Horned Frogs' invasion over the week-end. With Texas coasting along in top position, chief interest in the pennant scramble at present revolves about the coming double bill on the Aggies' home lot. The Farmers will be attempting to draw away from the third-place Horned Frogs and crowd the leaders; the Frogs will seek to stay in the thick of things. The Aggies appeared to have the edge. They thumped the Rice Owls, now in last position, twice last week, 21 to 2 and 18 to 3. The Christians took two healthy laings from the University of Texas, 9 to 1 and 14 to 4.

TO APPEAL CASE

AUSTIN, April 6 (AP)—Attorney General William McCraw said today that after further study of the decision in the cases of the Oklahoma and Consolidated Gas companies holding invalid an order of the railroad commission prorating natural gas there seemed nothing to do but appeal. He planned a conference with Senator Clint Small of Amarillo in the town for the university of Texas ex-students reunion, but said he felt sure the best course would be to obtain a direct ruling by the United States Supreme Court.

Southwest Conference Now Struts Atop Sports World

Loop Holds National Titles In Three Sports

BY FELIX R. MCKNIGHT, Associated Press Sports Writer. DALLAS, April 6 (AP)—Atop the collegiate sports world struts the Southwest conference, whose feeble and futile cries for recognition went little past its own boundaries a short six years ago. Husky sons of Texas plains and Arkansas Ozark hills—students of seven schools—grabbed their bootstraps and rocketed from athletic wilderness to national supremacy in an amazingly short time.

They met twice last year, the tiny Allanson winning one in four sets and losing the other in three sets.

MICKEY COCHRANE IS STILL CONFIDENT TIGERS WILL WIN

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 6 (AP)—Mickey Cochrane, a fair saxophone player, a good goifer but a great catcher, isn't worried this spring about the law of averages. "I'm sorry to see that so great a champion as Bob Jones could no some through with the old-time stuff here," said Mickey after spending an idle day here as rain washed out both the exhibition game involving his world champion Detroit Tigers and the finals of the Augusta national golf tournament. "I know they say it's tough to come back and tougher to stay on top, but you can't blame me for thinking the Tigers will win up there. "Maybe it will be harder going for us this year, with at least four other clubs in the American league considerably stronger but I'm not worried at the outlook now. The third pennant was the easiest when I was with the Athletics." It was suggested to Manager Cochrane that the Cleveland Indians, victims of bad breaks for the past two years, figured to benefit from the law of averages and perhaps be "the club to beat." "Who can tell?" answered Mickey. "But you can't expect us to be alarmed when you consider we have beaten the Indians about 31 out of 44 games in the past two years, can you?" If Cochrane has any worries, the concern is the tendency of some of his players, especially pitchers like Schoolboy Rowe and Eiden Aukes to start slowly in the spring. The Tigers have been slow off the mark in each of their past two victories. "Who can tell?" answered Mickey. Sixteen Texas universities and colleges will enter the contest.

Leota is the only one of the quadruplets interested in dramatic work. She carries the part of a salvation army lassie in the play and is one of the witnesses of the murder at the "L," the climax of the performance. The play, written by Leopold T. Atlas, is a satire on beggars, shopkeepers, clerks, ministers, the American theatre, law enforcement, and the American public in general. Baylor's presentation of the drama will mark the first in the circuit and one among the first in the nation. Prof. Paul Baker, director, announces.

Forty-five members of the Baylor little theatre have been cast in the production, and will leave Waco Wednesday evening for Houston where they will give their first showing that night at the Houston little theatre building.

Coed 'Stag Line' Flirts With Tech's Leap Year Belles

LUBBOCK, April 6.—Tables were turned recently and the co-ed had her flirty when the Press club at Texas Technological college entertained with a Leap Year dance. It was the men's turn to worry about "getting stuck," and they were not above all the feminine tricks of flirting with the stag line.

Six men at the dormitory were called to the front of the dining room at dinner that night to receive corsages which had just been delivered. One kept his "escort" waiting 20 minutes after she had called for him. "Sorry," he said later, "I had to shave after you came."

Co-ed did the "cutting in," and could be heard saying, "You're lovely tonight. What is that perfume you're wearing? It must be your shaving cream." And a young professor of English was the belle of the ball.

'SCRAP IT,' SAYS PATMAN WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP)—The house ways and means committee was urged today by Rep. Patman (D., Texas) to scrap his tax program while the treasury holds gold which might be used as a basis for issuing new currency to meet government expenses. The leader of a house currency expansion bloc told the committee he did not "think it's right, with all this gold idle, to levy any taxes at all."

RAIN PRAYERS DELAYED PRAIRIE CENTER, Colo., April 6 (AP)—The community meeting to pray for moisture scheduled for here yesterday was postponed by inclement weather. A brief period of snow and dust forced leaders to lay the meeting over until next Sunday.

HAUPTMANN'S BODY VIEWED BY SEVEN PERSONS CREMATED TODAY

BROOKLYN, N. Y., April 6 (AP)—While detectives searched parts of Brooklyn today for the house in which Paul H. Wendel said he was forced to "confess" the Lindbergh baby kidnapping, a crematory prepared a simple last rite for the body of Bruno Richard Hauptmann.

Mrs. Anna Hauptmann, widow of the man electrocuted for the kidnap-slaying, planned to take a parting look at his body today before the services, scheduled for 1 p. m.

It was announced the funeral would be conducted by the Rev. D. C. Warner, Seventh Day Adventist pastor in the Bronx, and by the Rev. John Mathieson, Hauptmann's spiritual advisor. Mrs. Hauptmann, and possibly three other persons completed the list of those expected to attend.

After the service—in the sombre chapel of the Fresh Ponds crematory—the arrangements called for the witnesses to see the plain brown casket containing the body rolled into a pre-heated incinerator furnace.

There a forced fire at a temperature of 2,000 degrees centigrade assured that within an hour and a half only a few pounds of ashes would remain.

An undertaker's surgeon had prepared Hauptmann's body so that little was visible of the marks of his death. The body was clad in a dark grey suit, apparently one that the prison gave him. Beneath, were a white shirt and a black and white tie.

The body was taken to the crematory chapel in suburban Maspeth on Long Island yesterday. Later it was viewed by five women friends of Mrs. Hauptmann and two men.

One of the men made a death mask of Hauptmann.

Another woman slung a policeman who turned her away. She was taken to police headquarters and booked on a charge of disorderly conduct.

GAINESVILLE, April 6 (AP)—Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon for James D. Leeper, 73-year-old philanthropist who died of a heart attack early yesterday.

He was survived by his widow; a daughter, Nettie, and a sister, Mrs. John Wilson of Sherman.

Stretz Paid No Fee to Attorney

NEW YORK, April 6 (AP)—Vera Stretz did not pay one cent of attorney's fees to Samuel Leibowitz who won her acquittal on a murder charge, she said today.

He asked her to tell reporters "the truth and no kidding."

"Why, I'm sorry, I wasn't able to pay anything," she finally stammered.

John Terry, Leibowitz' chief assistant, explained that Miss Stretz had spent the $35,000 she said she inherited from her mother several years ago, that her father was a musician of moderate means, and that Leibowitz "had to pay a lot of the costs out of his own pocket."

MILLER WORSE NEW YORK, April 6 (AP)—Marilyn Miller, musical comedy star of "Sally," reported out of danger at the Doctors hospital Saturday, today was said to have "changed for the worse" and is now "in a very critical condition."

Five Soldiers Are Found Dead In Army Plane

FREDERICKSBURG, Pa., April 6 (AP)—In a tangled mass of wreckage—the remains of a once-trip bombing plane—the army today found the charred bodies of five flying soldiers, missing for hours on their return from a week-end hop to Cleveland.

A storm caught the big twin-motored ship as it took off from Pottstown on the last leg of its trip back to Langley Field, Va., last night, buffeted it far off its course, and smashed it against the heavily-timbered Blue mountains, killing its entire crew.

Flames burst from the bomber as it crashed, and kept would-be rescuers from any attempts to save the trapped pilot and his flying companions.

At Langley field today, the names of the victims were given as: Lieut. Stetson Brown, St. Johnsbury, Vt.; Staff Sergeant Ernest Endy, Olney Pa.; Private Arthur Metz, route 1, Chambersburg, Pa.; Private William Yost, McKees Rock, Pa.; Cadet Paul Amspaugh, Cleveland, Ohio.

The fliers apparently were not only beset by rains and storm, but seemed to have been flying blindly through a thick fog, for the craft sheared a 100-foot wide path through the tree-tops before plunging its nose into the side of the steep mountain, 250 feet from its peak.

Committee Will Try to Override Seed Bill Veto

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP)—In two swift, surprise moves, the senate agriculture committee voted today to attempt to override the president's veto of the $50,000,000 seed and seed loan bill, and to demand from Secretary Wallace a report on the AAA benefit payments.

So unexpected was the decision to force a senate vote on the seed loan veto that leaders were chary of public predictions as to the outcome. Privately, it was argued that either the senate or house, would sustain the president.

Thirty-nine days have elapsed since Mr. Roosevelt refused to sign the measure. The same senator that today favored a vote to override had decided weeks ago to let the veto stand. The reversal was attributed to what some senators termed the failure of farmers to obtain loans, despite a $30,000,000 fund promised by the chief executive.

The reporting out of the resolution by Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.), calling upon Secretary Wallace for a report on big benefit payments, also was hinted by some committeemen to involve a reversal.

The agriculture secretary, who at first asserted that the compiling of these figures would tie up the machinery for putting the new soil conservation plan into operation, was reported by committeemen to have come forward in the past few days with a pledge of cooperation in efforts to compile the data.

Allred's youngest sister, and was given a 60-day sentence in the Wood county jail and fined $500. Mrs. Stokes was killed and her husband was injured when their automobile was forced into a culvert by an oil truck 8 miles east of Mincola on March 21.

TITLES TO LAND ON OKLAHOMA-TEXAS BORDER TO BE SETTLED

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP)—The general land office moved today to settle titles to about 5,000 acres of land in the Panhandle counties on the Texas-Oklahoma border by certifying once and for all the exact location of the line.

Mrs. Antoinette Funk, assistant commissioner of the land office, advised Representative Phil Ferguson of Woodward, Okla., that the border had been officially established about 500 feet south of the old Cimarron base-line and that the interior department was ready to settle land titles in a strip 156 miles long and averaging about 475 feet wide.

The land office explained the formal certification of the "true boundary" would not involve a transfer of land from Texas to Oklahoma but would assure the residents of that strip they were living in the Sooner state.

The public land in question for many years was withdrawn by presidential order, April 17, 1934, from settlement; location, taxes or entry, but now the interior department, Mrs. Funk said, feels the residents should be permitted to acquire the land.

Ferguson has joined Senator Wagner (D-N.Y.) in proposing legislation which would permit those residents who have cultivated and "held in good faith" this acreage during the period of uncertainty to acquire as much as 160 acres at $1.25 each.

The bills they introduced also stipulate that where any of the questioned land has been taken to the United States would relinquish title.

A land office representative said the legislation was submitted after a resurvey had determined that an original Clark survey in 1860, establishing the state boundary where it is now, was correct.

FIRE

fell into a fish pond located in the court between two wings of the hotel, and another fell into a basement, chin deep in water, as they tried to get lines to more advantageous positions.

The alarm was turned in by Mrs. J. E. Frey, wife of the owner of the hotel. Mrs. Frey is in Detroit, Mich., on business. Mrs. Frey told Chief Gold that she was in a room on the ground floor when she heard a crackling noise upstairs. She went to the first landing and saw the hallway on the south wing ablaze. It was then the alarm was turned in.

A woman roomer in the front part of the second story heard the noise about the same time. She told firemen that she opened her door and saw the hallway blazing. Unable to get to the stairs, she jumped from a hall window at the front of the building to the porch roof and from there to the ground. She was unhurt, but like most of the other occupants, she lost everything but the clothes she was wearing.

Many Are Losers
The 72-room hotel was full at the time. It consisted of several apartments, with the rest of the building rooms. Most of the occupants were permanent guests which made personal loss greater than at first believed.

The hotel proper was of stucco over frame with a brick and stucco front. It was built eight years ago. The brick annex, which was also destroyed, was erected six years ago. Recently Mr. Frey installed a new heating unit, new bathroom fixtures and did other repair work on the building.

Most of the renters and hotel guests were away at the time the blaze was discovered; otherwise it would have been possible to have saved more of the contents. Those at the hotel, assisted by spectators, removed as much furniture and articles of clothing as possible before heat and flames drove them out of the building.

Proctor in a few of the rear rooms can be salvaged. Younger Cockrell, former city fireman who volunteered his services in fighting the blaze, received a long gash on a leg when a window fell on him while he was assisting in placing a line of hose upstairs. He was taken to Worley hospital, where it was necessary to take five stitches.

Several firemen were suffering from exposure this morning. A few showed symptoms of colds and were being treated. Men on the ends of hose lines reported that they have several explosions, probably caused by collected gas after lines were broken.

Police were notified this morning that thieves took advantage of the fire and confusion to steal articles, including clothing, bedding, lamps, and radios. Two electric refrigerators were reported missing this morning. They may have dropped into the basement, although spectators said they saw the boxes being carried out of the building ahead of the fire.

HENRY GIVEN 50-YEAR TERM FOR SLAYING

4 OTHERS REGARDED AS ACCOMPLICES IN DEATH

EASTLAND, April 6. (AP)—The first of three defendants in the "hanging skeleton" slaying of H. L. McBee, highway worker, faced 50 years imprisonment today.

Raymond Henry, 25-year-old ice man, was assessed the penalty to expiate the crime the state alleged he committed for love of Mrs. McBee, now his wife.

Henry's eyes filled with tears as he heard the verdict returned at 9:20 a. m. yesterday, little more than 12 hours after the jurors received the case, ever presented.

His wife, also charged with murder, sobbed "I know you aren't guilty."

Lynn Smith, 29, is accused as an accessory in the case.

District Attorney Gray Owen, declaring "this is the most sordid crime I have ever prosecuted," charged Henry stabbed McBee at Rising Star May 1, 1933, buried the body exhumed if three weeks later and hung it from a tree to give the appearance of suicide.

Two boys on a rabbit hunt on the O. C. Broughton farm found the skeleton in December a year later.

The defense protested Henry was not at the scene of the slaying and claiming "this is the most sordid crime I have ever prosecuted," charged Henry stabbed McBee at Rising Star May 1, 1933, buried the body exhumed if three weeks later and hung it from a tree to give the appearance of suicide.

Three of the injured died en route to Pontotoc.

A special relief train carrying 12 nurses, an anesthetist, hospital internes and medical equipment arrived in Tupelo early today from Memphis.

The business section of Tupelo was spared the full force of the blow and the Lee county courthouse, the Tupelo Military Institute and churches were turned quickly into morgues for the dead and hospitals for the injured.

Hospital Destroyed
The Tupelo city hospital was destroyed by the storm.

A heavy rain helped firemen to extinguish the storm-blown blazes. The downpour was fortunate because the city's water tank had been blown down.

Tupelo members of battery C, 114th field artillery, were called out to maintain order.

Governor Hugh White ordered Adjutant General A. J. O'Keefe to Tupelo and other units of the national guard from Aberdeen, Amory and Corinth were mobilized.

TVA workmen from Pickwick dam at Corinth and other nearby sections were rushed to Tupelo to aid in relieving the emergency. and that instead they be considered accomplices. Mrs. Henry goes on trial May 18. A fourth defendant, Jack Smith, 40, brother of Lynn Smith, committed suicide in jail by slashing his throat.
