California Has Severe Earthquake

LOS ANGELES —(P)— All Southern California was rocked yesterday by a severe earthquake apparently concentrated much of its force near Palm Springs and towering Mt. Jacinto, 70 miles east of here.

At California Institute of Technology, Pasadena, Dr. Charles F. Richter timed the quake's official onset at 4:43.42 p.m. (PDT) and said its magnitute was 6 3-4 on a seismological scale which rates the world's most severe quakes at 8 1-2. The disastrous Beach quake of 1933 was 6 1-4 but occurred in a much more populous area.

The CalTech scientist put the apparent center at 100 miles southeast of Pasadena, roughly between the desert cities of Indio and Twenty-Nine Palms. Indio reported no damage.

Palm Springs police reported the rear of a furniture store collapsed in "the first of three quakes at 4:45 p.m., 5 p.m. and (See EARTHQUAKE, Page 8)

American Democracy Versus French Democracy
The word democracy, of course s a very loose word. It has two ifferent meanings, one leads to he freedom of the individual, and the other meaning leads to oppression and tyrannny for the individual. I never came across a clearer explanation of the original mean-ing of our idea of democratic government than the one in an article in the November issue of Plain Talk called "Democracy and the Republic" by Edna Lonigan.

I quote "Many who believe in the American form of government keep insisting we are a not a democracy. Thus we are asked to abandon a shining symbol of what our country stands for to the enemies of that faith. "The idea of democracy is too great an idea, it is too deeply embedded in our traditions, for us to would destroy freedom. We have little time left in which to seek the America, and make it once again a symbol of hope for the world." Then she goes on and explains how the framers of our Constitution attempted to set up laws or rules and divisions to protect the ucation has charged Mr. O'Konsat with buying a weekly newspaper in bis home state, then using his home state, then using dozing tyrant who somehow had his Congressional payroll to help pay for the paper and also to compensate the former owner for running it.

We don't know, of course, whether the charges against either congressman are true. Nor do we know how far this whole business may go. But if political charge and counter-charge are to be in the wing of this side of Frank Munsey. He was, moreover, a boozing, bull-busines, bull-busines, believing that we osenehow had us young sprouts on coolie wages believing that we were consecuted to the cause of labor. This emotion which we took for idealism turned to cynicism in every man I knew except Ed Meeman, when we found it, was only a growler, after all, and empty at this side of Frank Munsey. He was, moreover, a boozing, bull-before anyone heard of F. D. Roosevelt.

A double-jointed editorial policy. Anyway was writing the real editorial policy. Anyway was writing the real policy and the customers thought before anyone heard of F. D. Roosevel low the would-be leaders for a slogan or the promise of bread. That seems to be exactly what has been taking place during the last two decades. The country is accepting majority rule.

The author goes ahead and ex-plains the framers idea of democracy. We quote: "It is not correct to say American democracy means 'government of the people' or 'majority rule' unless those phrases are carefully qualified. Much confusion arises from the fact that the word 'government' applies to two quite different meanings. It may refer to the whole political organization of the people of a nation, or merely to the executive apparatus (the state). We in America have a political system which is free, because we have a government apparatus which is limited, so that even the majority cannot use it to control the rest.

"The correct statement is that in the American Republic the ma-jority elects the officials but the officers do not rule. They adminisduties carefully defined in the Constitution. We can change our officials, because they cannot get power enough, if they obey the Constitution, to control us. "We teach government courses

There is little question that Churchill has properly described the emerging outlines of the new British state. The socialist majority spokesman, Minister of Supply Strauss, did not dispute the matter, "This great reform," he said of the steel bill, "removes from the private sector of our economy to the public the industry which is the citadel of British capitalism." He added that it transterred to the state "power to dominate the economic life of this dominate the economic country."

That is sufficiently frank, and indeed, there was nothing else that could be said about the govern-ment's intention. In an England where one nationalized industry after another offers a dismal rec-ord of performance, the steel industry under private ownership and operation has been conspicuof Lefors were Mobeeue pusiness visitors Saturday.

The bill before parliament not only will nationalize the country's major steel mills but will expropriate all of their subsidiaries, some for the first time into manufactur ing in competition with private concerns within the same indusconcerns within the same indus-tries. The state will find itself making safety pins, printer's ink, and tennis rackets, as well as nuts, bolts, wheels, and axles.

That the government has at least some concern for American opinion is shown by the omission of motor manufacturers from the scope of the bill. It is believed that this exception was to avoid em-barrassment with the United Stat-es which would have been occasioned if the British Ford plant the only automobile plant in Britain producing its own steel, had been expropriated

Mr. Churchill might have made more out of his argument, if more people in the United States were speaking for the enterprise system, with a program of regimen-tation and control of his own, was not rebuked by the electorate, but on the contrary was encouraged to move toward the position of the British Labor party, which, as Churchill notes, is more and more closely approximating the system of soviet Russia.

Bird lovers had hoped for an increase. Instead, three disappeared, to be replaced by three mmature ones.

Such a remnant of flocks that once moved along the Mississippi Valley flyways in vast armies provides too small a margin against oblivion. They must increase, the experts feel, or dwindle to nothing. Then the majestic black and white birds, standing five feet high, will be seen no longer, and their shouting cry heard no more.

An agent of the national Audubon Society, Robert P. Allen, went to Texas to make the count. Last summer, and the summer before that, he and Robert H. Smith of the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service, flew to the Arctic on the trail of the whoopers. They searched the Great Slave Lake region and the Anderson River country for their nesting grounds. No luck. They had hoped to find out how to protect them better against natural enemies and natives.

In more civilized territory, the whooper is protected by game laws but there always is a chance that some hunter will pot shot one. In fact, the Audubon Society reports, one did in Nebraska this year, and ate it.

Apparently the whooper is just too big to live in safety. Two other "biggest" birds also are on the danger list.

By BILLY SIXTY SCORING: Keeping score in bowling might seem complicated and a little mysterious at first, but when it is all layed out in front of you it isn't hard. There are two key facts to remember. First, a strike, marked the little box with an X counts 10 just as a spare does, which is marked a 20 Second important thing to remember is the 10 you get for a strike, you add ber of pins accounted for by the next ONE ball. A strike is scored when you all the pins down with one ball and a spare, when it takes two balls to flatten them. When a strike is made, the pins knocked down with the next TWO balls in the next frame are added. If a spare is made, score in the strike frame totals 10 plus 10 or 20 (see illustration). And if nine pins are removed with two shots, the score is marked 19 plus 9-28, in the second frame box (see

The pins knocked down with the succeeding FIRST ball are counted on a spare (see illustration C), and in case of a second ly made to the first frame total, as you can see. Illustration D shows that in the case of three straight strikes, each strike counts and the score is 30 in the first frame. Here you may be confused: What to with the two strikes still on the board. All you do is add to the "double" (two strikes) the pins knocked down—let us say you spilled nine on the first succeeding ball (fourth frame) giving you 10 plus 10 plus 9—29 (see second frame of illustration D) and you have a count of 59

With a single strike then re-maining in the third frame, scoring reverts again to the marking shown in illustration A and B. To complete scoring, these markings are used: Split (o); split made (o with slant superimposed on it); cherry chop (c), and a foul (F). In the case of a foul, all pinfall is nullified and the

Yes, for years it has been widely known

This is because Hudson—and Hudson

TALKING TURKEY-It's time to talk turkey-but even more important it is time to think about that stuffing of your bird. Here is the real inside on any golden brown bird, and I'm not in the pun business, either ... Whatever your favorite stuffing—good old fashoned onion or sophisticated oyster—it is a wise idea to make an extra supply. Here are a couple of suggestions that will make any dressing better ... Start with bread that's three or four days old, and for really successful dressing, trim off the crusts. Here's a gourmet's hint. If you come from the part of the country where cornbread is a favorite, substitute coarse cornbread crumbs for the dried bread cubes. For a fluffy, crumbly stuffing no liquid is needed. All the moisture comes as it steams and cooks in the bird. For a moister stuffing, a little liquid is added.

EVERYBODY is talking about tickets for the Cotton Bowl game ... and speaking of games, the SMU-TCU game attracted lots of Pampans: the Jack Osbornes, the Tem Lindseys, the W. E. Ballards, the Aubrey Joneses, Roy McMillen, Aaron Meek, the former Louise Willis who was so popular at Sam Houston School when there a couple of years ago ... (Louise married the prominent Deskins Wells) ... also saw Ida Mae Harris, but can't recall her last name ... one thing about Pampans, you catch their spirit even if it is 400 miles away from home.

BLIZZARD NOTES: (which, contrary to the trend of things grow warmer as they grow older)-Blizzard Weekend (Nov. 27-28) caused lots of anxiety for people coming home from Borger and Amarillo ... and also for the ones who were waiting ... and also for those who were trying to go home from Pampa ... that wonderful cattle car brought in about 50 stranded people from Panhandle ... among them being Mrs. Raymond Harrah, and Raymond, Jr., Jim Storms, Hazel Nation, Mrs. Wade Thomasson, Wadine Thomasson's two sisters, Mrs. Herman Foster, Mrs. H. C. Wilson, Mrs. Booth and lots of others . . . reports from these travelers were that Rev. James Todd was certainly a lot of help in Panhandle, providing pillows and beds, and some other comforts for those who needed comfort and comfortING ... there were as many people out helping the stranded as there were people stranded ... Pampans swung into the swing of things all right. I know of people who immediately contacted the radio station and the police station to volunteer help for those who were caught in the storm. There's a lot of community spirit here, just like there is in other Panhandle communities.

WE CAN SELL NOW ---

I've just had a long talk with the Williams Heirs who own the nice comfortable home out at 820 North Frost Street they want to sell and they want to sell right now-in fact were going to self it regardless of what the price might be of course you know as well as I that anything will sell right quick if the price is right-well the price is right on this one—in fact if you are interested in this house, and want to buy, we will consider any reasonable offer—the location could'nt be beat—its just a stones throw from the Sam Houston School-and its in walking distance from town-its a 2 bedroom home, and one of the bedrooms is extra large—in fact this one bedroom is Jarger than any two ordinary bedrooms in the average house—the living room has a large fireplace—nice dining room & the kitchen is really big with plenty of good cabinet space-another feature of this home is the big hall between the bedrooms and bath-it has the best of hardwood flooring, and it also has a dandy enclosed service porch—the lot is perfectly level-well landscaped,, with a beautiful back yard that is fenced, nice large garage with concrete floor-the Williams were actually offered 9500 dollars in cash for this home last spring, but could'nt sell-we'll take a whole lot less for this place now due to circumstances beyond our control-make an offeryou might be the lucky one.

About 20 pounds of high grade imported New Mexican speckled mountain grown Pinto Beans-1949 cropthese beans were acquired on my recent trip to Hot Springs, New Mexico-they're delicious when served with hot chilli-priced for Dollar Day only at 10 cents per pound, and you take them all—(not recommended for Xmas Gifts).

Extra Special—this large 5 room FHA home located just off of Duncan on Louisiana Street - Immediate possession—FHA loan of around 6400.00—payments are 53.01 monthly-will sell owners equity for 1250.00, Dollar Day only—this would make some one a whale of a Xmas present.
