RANGER CHIEF WON'T RESIGN SAYS ALLRED

McCORMICK WILL HOLD POSITION WITH FORCE

AUSTIN, April 9. (AP)—Governor James V. Allred said today that J. W. McCormick would not resign as senior captain of the Texas Rangers.

D. D. Baker of Seguin resigned yesterday and Captain McCormick was reported contemplating resignation as a result of differences over policies, including elevation of L. G. Phares to the directorship of the public safety department.

Governor Allred said McCormick had reconsidered and promised "to do anything I want done." They are warm personal friends. The governor said, however, that Baker, despite an urgent plea, had decided definitely to step out.

"I talked to Captain McCormick this morning and I am sure that he will not resign," Allred said. "He promised to think it all over and do what I want done."

McCormick succeeded Capt. Tom Hickman as chief of the Rangers several months ago.

Governor Allred said he probably would appoint a successor to Baker at an early date, in accordance with his policy of making appointments and calling elections promptly.

"I will accept Baker's resignation with the deepest regret," Governor Allred said. "He is a fine man and was an excellent commissioner."

The governor said he knew nothing of "protests" against Phares by the Texas sheriffs' association. He said some sheriffs had asked a delay in the appointment of Phares.

Twinkles

Tuning in on brain waves may be possible, but in some groups it wouldn't be advisable unless you like static.

Winning or losing as they tackle a tough schedule next fall, we predict that those scrapping little 1936 Harvesters are going to make up a popular outfit.

Maybe Uncle Sam wants to conserve all our soil as burying ground for future auto crash victims.

A local doctor has advised a member of The NEWS staff to decline all banquet invitations for six months. We're thinking of adding that doctor to our personal medical staff.

Was it a coincidence or were June brides delaying their weddings all those years to let the dusters end before housekeeping began?

Musing of the moment: Mister Herbert Hoover complains that one must change his speeches for each and every occasion. We hadn't noticed that Mr. Hoover had changed his tune any lately. "Good old days" are days so long ago that you can't remember any of the bad features about them.

Brevitorials

A DOG IN HIS proper place is a happy dog and a useful friend. It is through no evil intent that a dog buries bones in flower gardens—any other soft spot would serve as well.

In replacing several armed guards with watch dogs the other day, Thomas F. Manville, Jr., asbestos heir, remarked that dogs did not drink hard liquor and they awoken easily. He might have added that they are loyal and incorruptible that they play no favorites in meeting strangers, that their tempers are more uniformly pleasant than those of humans. Dogs are keen judges of humans. They have wonderful memories. . . . But out of their pieces their fine qualities are corrupted—by humans.

Are Pampans convention-minded? This month brings a procession of meetings which extend through the first three days in May—P. T. A., Young Democrats, American Legion and Auxiliary members. Housing and reception problems will require public cooperation. And remember, when you go to a convention, you're in a gala mood and you expect the host city to indicate that it is happy to have the convention.

IF EVIDENCE is wanted that political appointment of favorites, with little regard for efficiency, make for chaos, the relief administration in the Panhandle district affords a very good example, with the WPA not uninvolved. But while WPA has a tremendous job, the relief problem has been narrowed and there is no excuse for the maze of "red tape" which surrounds every act. That appointments were political cannot be denied. Political leaders in nearly every county were consulted before appointments were made. Some of the most efficient employees were discharged as the personnel was reduced. Personalities were not lacking.

The example here this week occurred in the face of a state ruling which would have made it unnecessary if observed by the Amarillo office. For 38 days, a number of WPA employees had received only $7 checks. They and their families were hungry. They were too hungry to work. Federal surplus commodities were in storage here and should have been distributed. They were not. A responsible official in the Amarillo office acknowledged that the state regulation concerned had been misplaced. Such conduct of public business rightfully disgraces the citizens who learn of it.

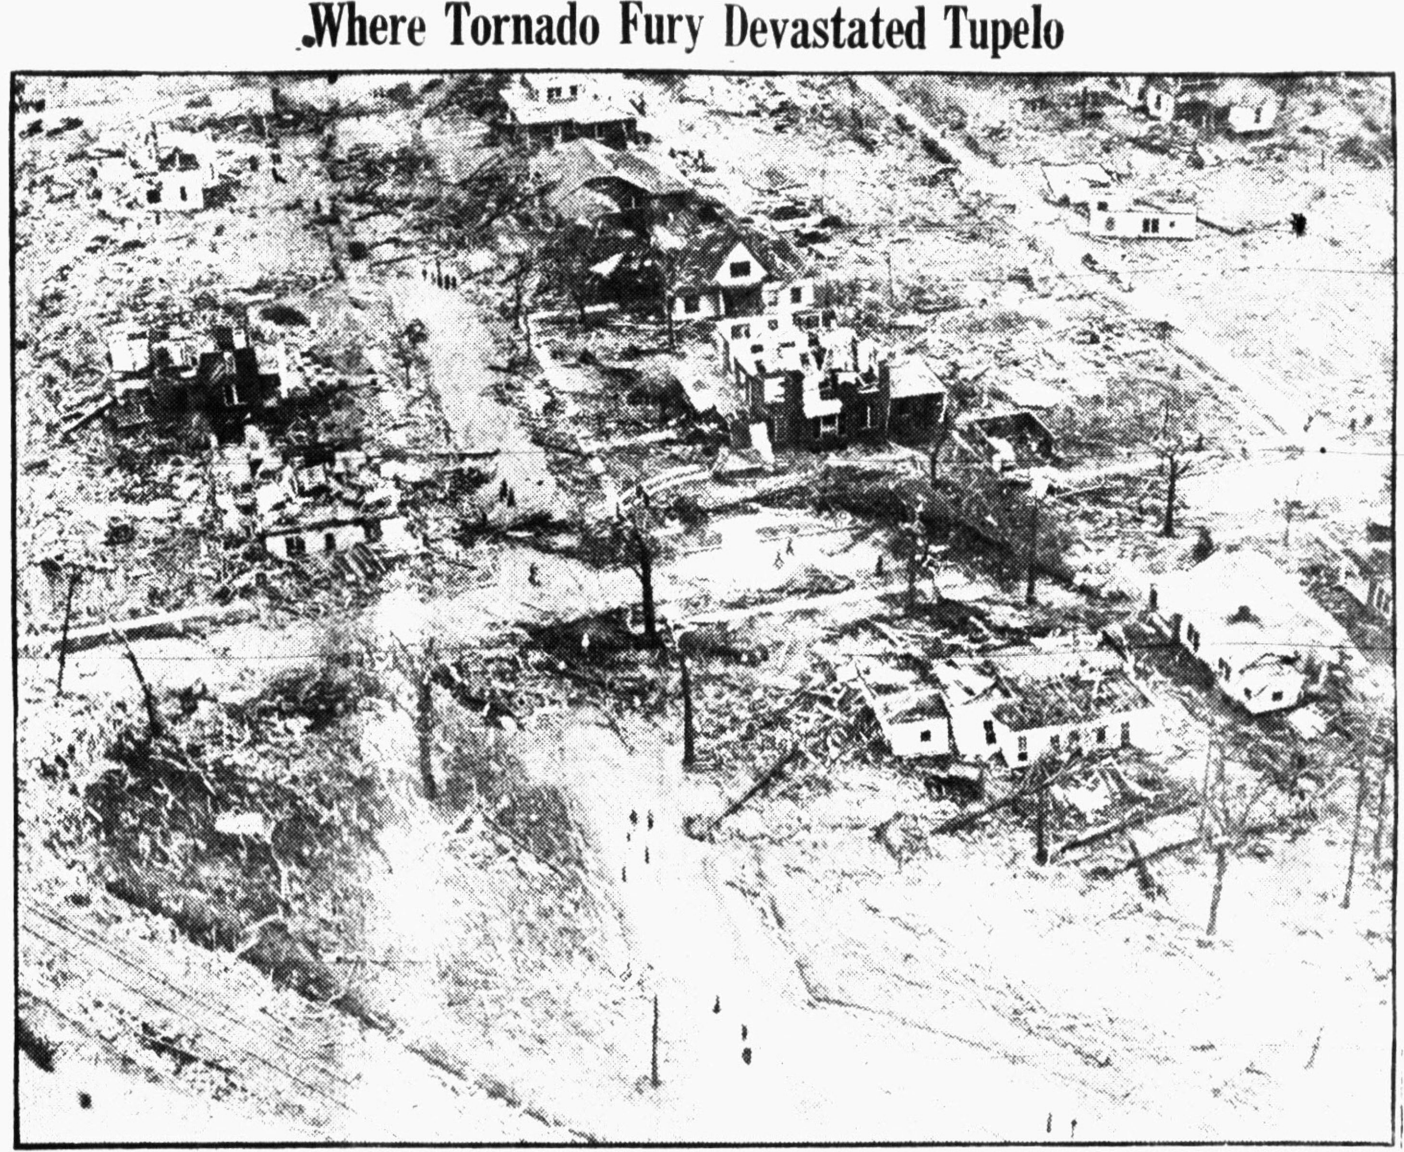

BUSINESS IS better even if signs of permanent recovery are somewhat absent. . . . Typical of the better days, spring clothing is brighter in hue than for several years. It could, in fact, hardly be brighter. While grey rides high on the fashion crest, it is accompanied by such tones as tulip yellow, and carrot shades. . . . And lacquered nails glisten more than jewels—even if gentlemen do not like the rage.

Where Tornado Fury Devastated Tupelo

A picture of awful desolation was this quiet residential section of Tupelo, Miss., which suffered the brunt of the fury of the tornado that hewed a path of ruin and death through the city of 7500 and passed on across the south to kill more than 400 people. This air-view shows houses unroofed and wrecked, trees unrooted and piled in tangled heaps and huge timbers scattered like straws in streets and on residential lots. More than 150 died in Tupelo and property damage was estimated at $5,000,000.

Eden Says 259 Tons Have Been Sent To Ethiopia

By JOSEPH E. SHARKEY (Copyright, 1936, by The Associated Press)

GENEVA, April 9.—The committee of thirteen of the League of Nations decided to send a supreme appeal to Italy and Ethiopia to abstain from the use of poison gas in the East African war.

The decision, made upon the recommendation of British foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, was approved without passing upon allegations that Italy has already used gas in her Ethiopian invasion.

The committee action urges the governments to observe the provisions of the anti-gas convention and followed an appeal by Eden to Italy not to use poison gas against Ethiopia.

He made his appeal shortly after French ministers informed him that if Germany should continue its violation of treaties through erecting fortifications along the Rhine, France reserved the right to take any steps she felt the situation justified.

In a meeting of the league council's committee of 13, which includes every member of the council except Italy, Eden also demanded an immediate investigation to determine the truth of allegations that the Italian forces in Ethiopia are using asphyxiating gases.

The British cabinet minister suggested that, in order to make the league's attitude impartial, both Italy and Ethiopia give pledges not to resort to the use of gas, which is prohibited in warfare under international treaties.

In the course of his speech, Eden remarked that when armies in the field or aviators used poison gas it was always with the approval of their high command, thereby insinuating that Premier Mussolini's general staff authorized the use of gas.

Eden declared it was known that since the beginning of hostilities, Italy had shipped 259 tons of poison gas through the Suez canal.

A sub-committee of jurists, selected yesterday to investigate the gas charges, reported to the committee of 13 that any competent organ of the league, particularly the council, has the power to inquire as to whether belligerents are violating the convention prohibiting the use of gas.

The jurists also stated the signatories of the anti-gas convention must have the right to inquire as to what extent the convention is being followed.

In this connection, it was remarked that the United States signed the 1925 treaty prohibiting the use of poison gas.

Plates Confiscated; Both Held For Trial; Claim War Order Was Violated.

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 9.—Two newspaper photographers were arrested in Oklahoma by E. W. Marland's oil war today as they attempted to take pictures of process servers leaving a conference with the governor at which Marland refused service of a district court order.

Exposed plates in the cameras of Loren Williams and Alpha O. Hart were confiscated and they were held under arrest in the office of Adjutant General Charles F. Barrett for "summons" court trial.

The arrests were the first in the fight between Marland and city officials over the state's right to drill its own land for oil.

Barrett said Williams and Hart would be charged with "violation of a military order." He said summary court would be held probably this afternoon, with some member of his staff in charge.

Barrett said either a reprimand or a fine could be imposed. Hart is employed by the Oklahoma City Times and Williams by the Oklahoma City News.

Shortly after Sheriff Stanley Rogers and Deputy Dan Keen, acting as process servers, had finished their conference with Marland, Keen was called back into the governor's office by Attorney General Mac K. Williamson and left the notice that a suit had been filed in district court seeking to prevent the state from drilling under military protection 5 wells near the mansion and statehouse.

Mother Declares She Will Appeal to Mrs. FDR

NEW YORK, April 9. (AP)—Mrs. Lillian Mae Bartholomew, seeking to regain her 10-year-old actor son Freddie, expressed today a hope that the claims of mother-love will win her his custody.

"I am anxious to see Freddie and take him into my arms again," she said. "No one can love a child like his mother."

Mrs. Bartholomew, who arrived yesterday from England, said she would ask the courts of California to rescind the guardianship of Freddie given to his aunt, Miss Millcent Bartholomew.

If the courts refuse, the mother said she would appeal to Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt.

"I understand the president's wife will understand me because she is a mother, too," she said.

In Hollywood, Felix Cunningham, attorney for the aunt, gave little encouragement for the mother's hopes.

"Most assuredly, Miss Bartholomew will resist by every legal effort any effort to take Freddie away from her," he said.

Freddie earns a reputed salary of $1250 a week, but Mrs. Bartholomew said she had to borrow money for third-class passage. Her husband, a wounded war veteran holds a minor government job and receives a $90-a-month pension, she said.

Although they believe they deserve at least a small share of his income, their love is their main motive in wanting him back, she said.

Mrs. Bartholomew, who is 35, said neither she nor her husband wants to interfere with Freddie's film career.

JAPANESE CLAIM THEY WERE ON THEIR OWN LAND

TOKIO, April 9. (AP)—The Harbin, Manchoukoo, correspondent of the Domei (Japanese) news agency reported tonight that a Japanese lieutenant had been killed in a new clash with Russian soldiers near Suifu.

Five Japanese soldiers were reported missing after the skirmish.

The lieutenant with a small command was patrolling the hilly country east of Suifu, according to Domei, when they encountered 14 Russian soldiers.

It was stated that the Russians were on Manchoukoo territory.

The encounter occurred at noon today.

Apparently, both sides started shooting at approximately the same time.

Jefferson Day Dance Will Be Held on Monday

Jefferson Day Dance Will Be Held on Monday

Like many other cities of the nation, Pampa will have a Jefferson day dance Monday evening, April 3.

The Pampa Young Democrat club has announced such a dance, to be held at the Schneider hotel beginning at 9:30 o'clock. Admission will be $2 a couple.

The dance is one of a number of activities in connection with the West Texas district convention of Young Democrat clubs to be held here May 2.

Young Democrats will arrive simultaneously with the district American Legion members and Auxiliary members. The veterans organizations will meet May 2 and 3, with hundreds attending. The two groups will bring one of the largest crowds ever assembled here for conventions.

J. F. Kickbusch of Borger, school tax collector there, was in Pampa today.

Drunk Woman With Skunk Is Arrested

Drunk Woman With Skunk Is Arrested

AUSTIN, April 9. (AP)—A drunk woman and a skunk combined to cause temporary suspension of the city jail's no-pet rule.

Adopting a strict hands-off policy, officers arrested the woman as she sat in a car with a small black and white animal tightly clutched in her arms. It was a skunk.

No amount of persuasion could induce her to part with it. The police sergeant finally ordered the pet confined with the woman.

Much to the officers' relief, the skunk died during the night and the no-pet rule was reinstated today.

Dust and Three Other Plays Will Be Given Tonight

Dust and Three Other Plays Will Be Given Tonight

"Dust" Pampa's one-act contest play will be presented at the city hall auditorium this evening in competition with Panhandle, Miami, and Magic City. The two best plays from this group will be entered in the finals tomorrow evening against the two chosen from a quartet presented this afternoon.

Showing this afternoon were plays from Borger, Letha Lake, Canadian, and Peyton high schools. Evening programs will start at 8 o'clock today and tomorrow.

The public is invited to see the drama contests, with no admission charge. However, those who arrive after the curtain is raised will be detained until the end of the play in progress, so the actors will not be disturbed by movement in the audience.

In the cast of "Dust" are Mary Adams, Arvo Goddard, and Dickie Kennedy. Ben Clain, high school dramatics teacher, is director of the drama which he wrote in collaboration with Archer Fullington. One Pampa audience has seen the dust-bowl tragedy at a benefit performance sponsored by High School Parent-Teacher association this week.

Boy Is Forced To Drink Whiskey, Dies; 2 Jailed

HUNTSVILLE, Ark., April 9. (AP)—Two youths were jailed here today accused of the "whiskey slaying" of a 6-year-old boy.

Sheriff Virgil Weathers named the prisoners as Russell Beavers, 19, and Dennis Davidson, 17, both of Newton county, and said they were arrested on complaint of Inman Estep of Kingman, father of the dead boy.

Sheriff Weathers quoted Estep as saying his son died a few hours after telling his parents he had been lured from the Estep home and forced to drink about a half pint of moonshine whiskey.

The youths denied guilt and will be given a preliminary hearing Friday.

U. S. Is Seen as a Possible Future Enemy of France

LYON, France, April 9. (AP)—Edouard Herriot expressed the fear today that France's refusal to pay her war debts to the United States had lost her forever the possibility of American aid against Germany.

The former premier, who was overthrown by the chamber of deputies in 1932 for holding out for the payment, declared that President Roosevelt told him at the White House in 1933 that he would be "happy to aid France in all international affairs" if only France had agreed to "pay something" on the debt.

"Now," declared Herriot, "the Americans are on another planet. They refuse to aid us."

He expressed fear that President Roosevelt will have been, perhaps, the last American president who is favorable to France.

Said Herriot, "Who knows whether we will not see in the White House one day some German-American?"

The former premier said Mr. Roosevelt told him to make a gesture.

But Herriot added: "I was in an impossible position before the American public, which is composed not only of employers but of workmen and employees."

FRENCH HOLD OUT AGAINST RHINE FORTS

RESERVES RIGHT TO TAKE UNUSUAL STEPS

By JOSEPH E. SHARKEY. (Copyright, 1936, By The Associated Press.)

GENEVA, April 9.—French ministers have informed British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden that if Germany, continuing its violation of treaties, erects fortifications along the Rhine, France reserves the right to take any steps the situation may justify.

The French pointed out that building of fortifications in the Rhine-land zone, already remilitarized by the French in defiance of the Versailles treaty and Locarno pact would be another direct violation of the Versailles agreement which ended the World war.

What new steps France might consider were not disclosed, but Foreign Minister Pierre-Etienne Flandin's attitude made it clear that France attached greatest importance to the question of fortifications.

The French stand was disclosed while the League of Nations, seeking to avert any Italo-Ethiopian settlement enforced by fascist arms and alleged gas attacks, pressed both belligerents for definite statements of their terms for peace negotiations.

The French indicated that German erection of fortifications on France's eastern frontier would certainly be likely to render extremely difficult the negotiations for a new security system in Europe.

Flandin and Joseph Paul-Boncour, French minister of state, also told Eden they were placing no time limit on the period of their negotiations with Germany.

They said they were willing to go forward with general conversations for a "new deal" in Europe, reserving France's rights, however, concerning the Rhine-land situation.

Wolde Mariam, Ethiopian minister to Paris, called on Eden and said Ethiopia was ready to talk peace with Italy, but only under the auspices of the league and within the spirit and the frame-work of the league covenant.

"Ethiopia absolutely refuses to negotiate alone with Italian plenipotentiaries," Mariam told Eden.

The Ethiopian minister then visited Salvador de Mardagara of Spain chairman of the league's conciliation committee of 13, and repeated what he had told Eden.

Life Span Would Be Lengthened in Rockefeller Plan

I THACA, N. Y., April 9.—A grant of $42,500 by the Rockefeller Foundation for a six year study of ways to lengthen the life span of men and animals was announced today by President Livingston Farrand of Cornell university.

The riddles of the last half of adult life are the Cornell objectives. They are a new angle of attack on the problem of longevity. Science heretofore has concentrated mainly on youth, and first half of life.

Direct evidence, found in the laboratory on animal nutrition of the New York State College of Agriculture at Cornell, of unexpected diet effects on longevity in the latter half of life is responsible for this new investigation.

The study is under direction of Dr. L. A. Maynard, Dr. C. M. McCay, and Dr. S. A. Asdell. The work is described as "Study of the inter-relationship between the diet and the biochemical changes that take place during the last half of life."

"The purpose of this study," the outline of the work states, "will be the development of diets to retard the changes in the animal body that come with old age and senility in order to extend the useful fraction of life span of man and domestic animals."

BERMUDA WOMAN, PATRON OF MUSEUM, PLEASED BY WAY IT IS DEVELOPED LATELY

CANYON, April 9.—"I think your museum is extremely interesting and I think it wonderful the way you have taken care of everything," said Miss Susan J. Allen of Bermuda when she visited the Panhandle Plains Historical Society museum yesterday for the first time. Miss Allen has come to Canyon to attend the annual meeting of the Historical Society and will be guest of honor at the banquet Friday night, April 10.

"I have loved the southwest for a long time," said Miss Allen, "and can't remember when I first got the idea to come to Oklahoma and New Mexico and see the Indians on their reservation."

It was in 1911 that Miss Allen first began her collection of Indian materials on a winter tour with her sister and parents in Florida and California. She was so interested in Indian handicraft that her father bought 12 large fine Indian baskets at one time for her at an Indian benefit sale in San Francisco. On their return trip to New Jersey and Pennsylvania they stopped at all the Indian centers and added to her collection. In Albuquerque she acquired a blanket that was then more than 100 years old. This blanket now hangs in the local museum with five others which she has donated.

Miss Allen has two Indian collections—one private collection and a collection for an Indian school in New York. For many years she collected and sold material, particularly baskets, for the benefit of Indian children in this state. She has long had a special interest in the welfare of Indians and in 1913 and 1915 attended senate and house committee meetings on Indian welfare and recreation management at Washington, D. C.

Miss Allen is no newcomer in this region, having found this country quite extensively in 1917 and again in 1930. She has visited friends on the Circle of Galligan ranch near San Antonio. At this time she also made a long stay in Texas where she met Harold Eugene and became very interested in his paintings and of the southern desert land.

"I have collected things ever since I was big enough to walk around with my brother," says Miss Allen. Before she could run fast enough to catch butterflies and moths she collected wooly worms and caterpillars by the canful when they fell off the walnut trees at her childhood home in New Jersey. The board on which she and her brother

Texan May Run In Penn Relays

PHILADELPHIA, April 9. (AP)—The 100-meter sprint feature of this year's University of Pennsylvania relay carnival begins to shape up as an unofficial collegiate title get-together among the crack sprinters from the country's campuses. Penn relays officials announced today that already four of the stand-out sprinters, headed by Jesse Owens of Ohio State and Eugene Peacock of Temple, have entered, and that entries are expected from two of the fastest dash men in the south and southwest. Art Thomas, Pittsburgh's intercollegiate indoor sprint champion, and Jack Dalton, of Navy, are the two already in. Harvey Wallender, Texas' 9.9-second man, has said he'll be on hand if things can be arranged, and Herman Neuggass, Tulane's Olympic possibility, is expected. The sprint event at this year's relays, April 24 and 25, has been changed from an open to an invitation race.

Yawkey Is Far From Broke, He Assures Owners

NEW YORK, April 9. (AP)—If it's not asking too much, Tom Yawkey, millionaire owner of the Boston Red Sox, would like to spend his money as he pleases without too much criticism from the other owners in the American league.

Yawkey doesn't want to make anything of this. He merely wants it made clear that "with the exception of the deal for Joe Cronin every other ball player has been grossly exaggerated; and even if they hadn't it would be my own private concern." It is generally accepted that Yawkey has spent $3,500,000 on the club since 1932.

"Everybody's worrying about my going broke," Yawkey said. "And while I appreciate their interest, I don't think there's much of a chance of that. I'm not kicking about paying and unless I completely upset the balance of power in the league I don't think this adverse criticism is justified."

Yawkey admitted that "two or three officials of other clubs in the league" had complained about the price of the Red Sox. From now on Yawkey hopes to be able to bolster the Red Sox without having to rely too much on his fortune. He said that the club was planning to take on additional working agreements with other clubs whenever they came up. Ernie, who is in charge of this work for the club, can effect satisfactory deals.

COURT SESSION HELD ON ROAD BY MOONLIGHT

Motor Vehicle Crash Is Reenacted by Judge

LAKE CHARLES, La., April 9. (AP)—An automobile accident, fatal to Orrin Aultman of New Orleans at 1:30 a. m. on Jan. 20, 1935, was reenacted early today in a moonlight court session on the old Spanish trail at the exact hour and site with Judge Thomas F. Porter, presiding over a damage suit case, as one of the actors.

Staging of the circumstances of the accident was ordered by the court in order to obtain first hand information on existing conditions at the time of the accident.

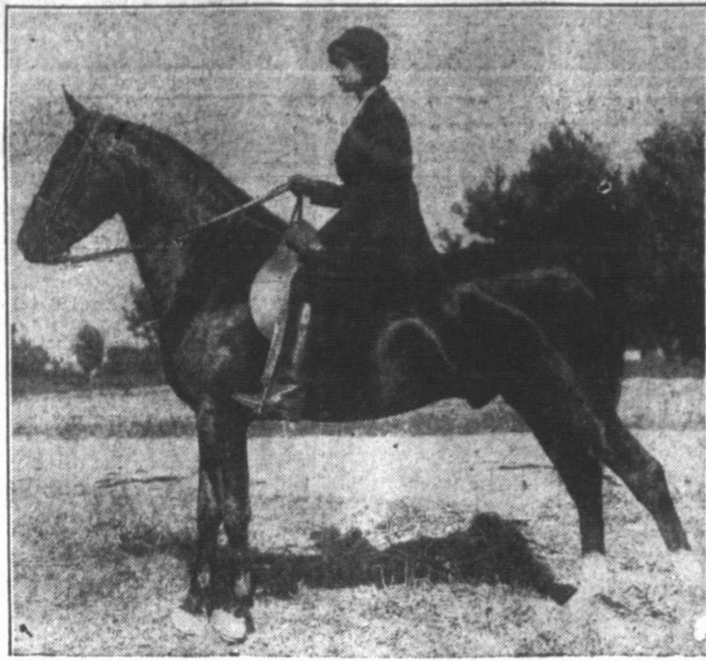

No testimony was taken at the scene, but Judge Porter drove a car of the make which Aultman used when his machine crashed with a truck belonging to the Union City Transfer company of Beaumont, Texas.

A truck was parked across the highway in what was claimed to be the position of the Union City truck and Judge Porter took the wheel of the "Aultman" car and followed the course outlined in the suit.

A moonlight night was chosen for the judge to carry out the experiment, as it had been stated that the moon was shining on the night of the accident.

Judge Porter slid the car up to the truck, stopped and then conferred with court attaches and

Mrs. Ruth Aultman, widow of the crash victim, is suing the Beaumont company for $12,500 damages. In a previous trial of the suit Judge Porter denied the plaintiff judgment, but granted a motion for a new trial.

Oil Dome May Build Dome for State Capitol

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 9. (AP)—An oil dome may build a state capitol dome if Gov. E. W. Marland's "background" drilling campaign hits pay dirt.

The Oklahoma statehouse never has had a dome, although the first plans called for one.

Governor Marland, who defied city zoning to sponsor wells on state tracts within a stone's throw of capitol, estimated the revenue would be about $2,000,000 a year if the wells were as good as others nearby.

The governor and his troops remain in complete control of the capitol "military oil zone" victors in the first skirmish with a representative of the district court.

"We got a good guardhouse with plenty of men to arrest anyone who tries to serve papers in a suit to restrain the state from drilling oil wells on its property," the governor told sheriff Stanley Rogers.

The sheriff and his deputies retreated quickly. Rogers was attempting to serve notice on Marland that the city had filed suit for a state court order to halt five wells now going down on state property.

PAMPA TOPICS OF OUR CITY

Invited to Canyon. Gray county children are invited to a district singing meet at Canyon May 1. It was announced today by W. B. Weathered, county superintendent. The singing will be from 10 a. m. to noon. This county has been given a quota of 250 children. The date is the same as the Gray county massed concert of children at Harvester park, although the local event will be held in the evening.

Willis Resigns. Local governmental officials have been informed of the resignation of R. W. Willis, supervisor of the division of operations for WPA in district 16. He is being replaced by M. W. Kimbrough, assistant director of WPA under A. A. Meredith, director, at Amarillo. It was understood that Mr. Willis was going to San Antonio.

Return from Funeral. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hall have returned from Iowa Park, where they attended the funeral last Thursday of Mr. Hall's father, R. M. Hall. The elder Mr. Hall died Wednesday after an illness of three years. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hall were at his bedside when death came.

Easter Visitors. Sara and Martha Lee Shell, daughters of the Rev. and Mrs. L. Burney Shell, returned yesterday from a visit with their grandparents

Grand Jury to Begin Probe of Wendel Charges

TRENTON, N. J., April 9. (AP)—Prosecutor Erwin E. Marshall of Mercer county announced he would subpoena "about twenty" persons today for the county grand jury's investigation of circumstances surrounding Paul H. Wendel's retracted "confession" of the kidnap-death of Charles A. Lindbergh, Jr.

In Brooklyn, District Attorney W. F. X. Geoghan pushing a parallel inquiry, reported he may have located the house where Wendel said he was tortured into signing the confession, which he later repudiated.

The house, Geoghan said, is in the Sheepshead bay section of Brooklyn at Plainview. Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Norton accompanied them here, and will spend Easter in the Shell home. They are parents of Mrs. Shell.

Belt Stolen. Police were asked this morning to be on the lookout for a large belt, stolen from a Phillips Petroleum company well near Skellytown. The belt was 104 feet long, 12 inches wide and of seven-ply material.

Working Hard. The single occupant of the city jail is working out his fine and he is working hard. This morning he started a cleanup campaign and to judge by the dust and noise coming from the jail, it is going to be clean despite the duster.

answers Wendel's description, as a rear window looks out on an incinerator such as Wendel described. Gustav Lockwood, a state motor vehicle inspector, whose automobile figured in the Wendel case, received a subpoena last night from the prosecutor's office to appear before the Mercer county grand jury.

Marshall would not name any other to be called before the grand jury, but it was understood the list included Ellis H. Parker, chief of Burlington county detectives, Mrs. Anna Bading, his secretary, and Walter Ycos, her brother.

Negro Who Burned Capital Is Dead. AUSTIN, April 9. (AP)—Henry McBride, negro who indirectly caused construction of Texas' massive granite capital is dead.

McBride, for 40 years a porter in the attorney general's department, died yesterday. Funeral arrangements were pending.

The negro, according to legend he never denied, stuffed an excessive amount of waste paper into a heating stove in the old capital, located on the present site of the huge state house. While he swept in another room, paper and sparks fell to the floor. The resultant conflagration could not be controlled by early firemen.

Destruction of the capital forced the state to build another one, the present structure.

Dave Dodge made a business trip to Magic City yesterday.

Wolf Will Insist On Salary Raise At N. Carolina

FORT WORTH, April 9 (AP)—Raymond "Bear" Wolf said today he would not consider a proposition to become the University of North Carolina's head football coach unless the salary, mentioned in conferences at Chapel Hills Monday, was substantially increased.

The Texas Christian university athletic director and football line coach said "I'll have to raise the ante a lot or I can't be interested. I'm too well satisfied at T. C. U. to make the change for the small difference in salary mentioned in our discussions."

Wolf made it clear that North Carolina did not make him a formal and definite offer, but Athletic Director R. A. Fetzer did mention the probable amount that would be available to Wolf if he were selected.

OIL NEWS AND NOTES

Stills Reports NEW YORK, April 9 (AP)—Reports received from refining companies during the past week indicated that the estimated daily potential refining capacity, and which was operated at 72.0 per cent of potential, indicated that the industry as a whole ran to stills, 2,900,000 barrels of crude oil daily, the American Petroleum Institute said today.

The daily average for the previous week based upon refineries representing 89.6 per cent of the total capacity and which operated at 74.1 per cent of their capacity was 2,765,000 barrels.

Finished and unfinished gasoline stocks at refineries, terminals, in transit and in pipe lines totaled 73,310,000 barrels as of the end of the week, compared with 73,012,000 barrels as of the end of the previous week.

Cracked gasoline production by companies owning 95.9 per cent of the potential cracking capacity of all cracking units of the industry was an average of 580,000 barrels daily for the week, compared with 590,000 barrels daily for the previous week.

Spacing Rule Upheld AUSTIN, April 8 (AP)—The third court of civil appeals today again upheld well spacing regulations of the railroad commission in the East Texas field.

The decision upheld a district court judgment refusing to disturb a commission order denying the Magnolia Petroleum company permission to drill an eleventh well on the O. G. Grissom lease.

The company claimed it had a right to the well to prevent drainage of its property by adjacent leases and also to develop the holding to the average density of the field.

"The right of each leaseholder extends no further than the opportunity to extract his fair share of the oil, measured by a reasonable approximation of the amount of oil under his lease-hold," the opinion said.

"This right is satisfied when drainage from his lease is offset by drainage by his wells from adjacent leases."

The present spacing rule is one well to 10 acres. To allow the Magnolia to drill to a basis of one well to seven acres would result in drilling by other leaseholders, the court said, exceptions would raise the average density again, and the spacing rule would be abrogated.

"Whatever merit there may be said to be in the opinion that it is not practicable to apply it with absolute uniformity to an entire field without abrogating either the spacing rule or exceptions thereto."

Hitler Afraid of Red Air Attack, British Claim LONDON, April 9 (AP)—The British government published a white paper today disclosing Reichsfuehrer Hitler's fear that Berlin might easily be reduced to a heap of ashes by a Russian air attack.

The white paper, outlining Anglo-German-French diplomatic discussions for securing European peace from June 1934, to March, 1936, showed that Der Fuehrer expressed that view to Sir Eric Phipps in Berlin Dec. 16, when the British ambassador pressed him to start conversations for an air pact.

Previously the Reichsfuehrer had stated a pact for air force limitations must be held in abeyance because of the Italo-Ethiopian uncertainties.

Phipps, reporting to Sir Samuel Hoare, then foreign secretary, said Hitler referred to "Russia's enormous military strength on land and in the air."

Der Fuehrer said Berlin might easily in a few hours be reduced to a heap of ashes by a Russian air attack before the league or any other body would even have begun to discuss the question of how to deal with it."

Postmaster D. E. Cecil is confined to his home with a severe cold.

Today Is Date With A 'Perfect Square'

EDMONTON, Alta., April 9 (AP)—Today, April 9, is a day of importance to persons with a mathematical mind, because it is a date with a "perfect square," George W. Robertson, of the University of Alberta, reports.

Robertson, after due study, submits the following: 1936 is 44 squared, April is the fourth month which is two squared, nine in three squared, April 9 is the 100th day of the year, which is 10 squared.

This combination will not occur again for 180 years.

MISS JACKSON IS BRIDE OF MR. FAMARRIS IN HOME WEDDING

COUPLE PLAN TO MAKE HOME IN HOBBS, N. M.

MARRIAGE IS READ IN HOME OF BRIDE'S SISTER

The marriage of Miss Theima Jackson and Walter Famarris of Hobbs, N. M., was solemnized at 10 o'clock last evening in the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Roy L. Snyder. The Rev. W. C. House of First Methodist church read the ring ceremony.

Several friends of the couple were present. Miss Jackson wore a suit of pastel blue with pink accessories, and carried pink roses and carnations. The rooms were decorated with pink and blue flowers.

The couple left for a short trip. They are expected to return to Pampa the last of this week, then go to Hobbs to make their home.

Miss Jackson, daughter of W. E. Jackson of Wheeler, has resided in Pampa the past three years and has been employed as bookkeeper at Worley hospital. She has been an active member of the Business and Professional Women's club, serving on the executive board this year.

Mr. Famarris was formerly with the Humble Oil company here, but has been in the New Mexico oil fields for several months.

Speech Winners At Horace Mann School Announced

Entrants from Horace Mann school in story telling and declamation contests were selected recently after elimination from the various rooms.

Thelma DeVore was winner in the Junior declamation event for girls, while Hubert Stark and James Brown placed high for boys.

In story telling, Vada Lee Alden and Maurice Lockhart placed first in the first grade, Martha McDonald in the second grade, and Joyce Hunter in the third grade.

Centennial Revue Practice Starts

First rehearsals for the Centennial revue to be presented by the Vincent studio this month are scheduled for Tuesday afternoon. Other practices are scheduled for Monday and Tuesday of next week.

The Centennial revue is an annual program given by pupils of the studio for the pleasure of old timers in Pampa and vicinity. Pioneers who have been in the Panhandle 25 years or more are admitted free.

Clap and tap dancing will be featured on the program this year. It is announced by Kathryn Vincent Steele, studio director.

Mrs. Bell Kirby of Kingsmill was admitted to Worley hospital last night.

STRENGTHEN THE BLADDER

MAKE THIS 25c TEST

Drink lots of boiled or distilled water. If irritation causes getting up nights, frequent desire, scanty flow, burning, or backache. You know what hard water does to a teakettle. Drive out excess acids and deposits with "Buckley" leaves, juniper oil, etc. made into green tablets called Buckets, the bladder lax. Works on the bladder similar to castor oil on the bowels. In four days, if not pleased, any druggist will refund your 25c.—City Drug Store, Fathered Drug Co. adv.

Study of Texas Is Reflected in Package Library

AUSTIN, April 9.—Indicative of a generally aroused interest throughout the state in learning about all things pertaining to Texas, the University of Texas package loan library doubled its circulation of material on Texas topics during the six months' period from September through February as compared with the corresponding six months of last year, according to Miss LeNora Dimmitt, chief of the bureau. The bureau's total circulation during this six months' period, was 29,985, an increase of 1,633 packages over the six months from September, 1934, to February, 1935.

Of the subjects covered in these package libraries, literature leads by a large margin, 4,995 dealing with some phase of this subject, while history, mainly current history, runs second with 3,322 packages.

Circulation of materials on Texas totaled 3,425 packages and included the following: Texas industries, resources, etc., 198 packages; education in Texas 158; politics and government, 89; Texas folklore, 247; Texas Centennial, 356; Texas Art, 732; Texas music, 306; Texas literature, 914; Texas biography, 381; Texas history and description, 1,521; miscellaneous, 246. Last year a total of 2,739 packages or approximately half as many as this year, were distributed on Texas subjects during the six months included in this report.

Some of the most popular Texas topics were the following: Mineral resources of Texas; history of education in Texas; manufacturing in Texas; state flowers; state parks; cowboy songs; Texas sculpture; Elizabeth Ney, sculptor; Mary Bonner; Texas; etcher; historic homes; Texas; composers; two Texas composers—Fox and Guiton; Mirabeau Lamar, Father of Education; Texas Centennial; some Texas poets; Edwin Lanham's "The Wind Blew West"; school programs for San Jacinto day; Rio Grande valley; Palo Duro canyon; San Antonio and other historic Texas towns; proposed restoration of Fort Davis; life of David Crockett; Marjorie Neal and other Texas women in public positions; history of Harris county; and San Jose mission.

Club Learns to Make Angel Food

The proper method of making angel food cake was demonstrated to Kingsmill Home Demonstration club by Miss Ruby Adams, in the home of Mrs. Lewis H. Davis this week. Special stress was placed on sifting and measuring the ingredients and mixing and baking the cake.

During the recreational hour, following the business session, a reading by Mrs. C. T. Nicholson was especially enjoyed, as was also the group singing with Mrs. Louis Behrends at the piano.

Members present were Meses. Joe F. Brown, Laura Brown, C. F. Bastion, Otto Brinkman, A. E. Walberg, Chester Nicholson, N. B. Cude, Earl Ossey, Carl Wagner, Anna Brooks, O. A. Wagner, Geo. L. Roberts, O. G. Smith, C. T. Nicholson, Louis Behrends, O. T. Bunch and Freda Baer with Meses. T. B. Rogers, R. S. Walker and Elizabeth Gill as visitors.

REHEARSAL OF CLUB'S OPERA IS CONDUCTED

DELEGATES PREPARE TO ATTEND STATE CONVENTION

A complete rehearsal of the light opera, Romance of Kashmir, was held for the first time yesterday afternoon by the Treble Clef club which will present the opera during music week. Mrs. Philip Wolfe is director.

Costumes for the production have been ordered, members of that committee reported, and advance preparation are being made for the starting sale of tickets, and other details. The opera, written especially for women's voices, will be the most ambitious program attempted by the club here.

Representatives from the club will attend the state convention of federated music clubs in Fort Worth next week. Mrs. Dave Dodge, chosen as alternate, will be the official representative. Mrs. J. W. Garman, president, will also attend the meeting, as will Mrs. Wolfe, who is president-elect of seventh district federation and a member of the state board.

Mrs. Wolfe plans to leave Sunday. She will serve on the nominating committee for state officers, and will sing Thursday evening in a massed chorus to be heard at First Methodist church of Fort Worth in a special convention program.

Audience Fills Church to Hear Revival Sermon

Harrish Methodist chapel was filled last evening with worshippers who heard the Rev. Lance Webb, minister, preach one of a series of pro-Easter sermons. This evening he has announced as his subject, Easter and My Unanswered Prayers.

A vocal duet by Louis Hunter and E. L. Campbell will be a part of the service this evening also.

An Easter lily will be given to the person who has brought the most friends to the service. Last evening Mrs. Jeff Beard received the flower when 20 persons in the audience indicated that she had invited them to be present.

Services are being conducted each evening this week except Saturday, with the public cordially invited by pastor and members.

Texas Panhandle Weather Watched For Flood Signs

WASHINGTON, April 9 (AP)—The weather bureau watched a disturbance over the Texas Panhandle today for answer to the question: "Will there be a major flood in the lower Mississippi?"

"At the present time there is no indication of such a flood, but the situation bears watching," the bureau said.

Unless the disturbance should cause heavy rains and consequent high stages on the Red and Arkansas rivers, it was added, heavy damage is not likely below Vicksburg, Miss.

Dr. W. Purviance is slowly recovering from an illness which has confined him to his home for nearly a week. He had less pain this morning and appeared on the road to recovery.

Sun-Back Dress With Shirt Blouse

Makes This Dress Lead A Double Life

By ELLEN WORTH

Such a darling little dress is this for a young girl in aqua-blue crepe silk.

It has a shirt blouse and beneath a dress with sun-back with plaits in the skirt. These are all qualities much beloved by youth.

You can wear it right now to town. When summer comes, wear it without the shirt blouse.

If you want it definitely for summer, it's jaunty in white linen with the shirt in navy blue with white linen collar and cuffs.

You can use the pattern again for a separate blouse or a sun-back dress.

Style No. 1715 is designed for sizes 11, 13, 15 and 17 years. Size 15 requires 3 1/2 yards of 39-inch material with 1/2 yard of contrasting and 3/4 yard of 25-inch material for camisole.

Our Illustrated Home Dressmaking Spring Book will enable you to have smart clothes and more of them for less money. Each step in the making of a dress is shown with illustrated diagrams. Send for your copy today.

BRIDGE-DINNER HONORS COUPLE AT DEPARTURE

Mr. and Mrs. Meyers' Friends Entertain Yesterday

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Meyers, who are leaving to make their home in Montana, were complimented when a group of friends entertained at the G. R. Solum home last evening.

A covered dish dinner was served, then bridge was enjoyed. Mrs. Meyers made high score and Mrs. Tom Morris low for women. H. L. Wallace high and C. C. Cockerill low for men.

Present for the informal evening were Messrs. and Meses. Meyers, Roy Dyon, G. R. Solum, George Aude, Weldon Wilson, Doug Wilson, H. O. Simmons, J. G. Teeters, Claude McGowan, Cockerill, Morris, and Wallace.

Handkerchiefs were presented to the honoree as remembrances from the friends present.

Time Savers in Kitchen Studied

SKELLYTOWN, April 9.—Time savers in the kitchen were discussed on the program of Sunshine Home Demonstration club Tuesday at the home of Mrs. E. R. Hawkins. Miss Dalton Burleson, home demonstration agent, was in charge.

Little things count for time savers as much as big things, Miss Burleson said, and arranging a place for everything saves the most time.

The club welcomed as a visitor Mrs. Grou of Panhandle, who invited members to a tea and book shower for the benefit of the library at Panhandle on April 30.

Refreshments were served to the Messrs. and Meses. W. S. Boyd, A. B. Corley, E. E. Crawford, W. W. Hughes, E. R. Hawkins, J. C. Kennedy, L. Feigenspan, Murphy, and Miss Burleson. The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. E. Hatchell on April 21.

Vicious White Slave Ring Is Smashed, Claim

NEW YORK, April 9. (AP)—A series of raids on political clubs has broken up one of the most vicious white slave rings in New York City, police officials claimed today.

At least 500 women were caught by the syndicate in the last few years, the unidentified informant reported to Police Commissioner Lewis J. Valentine.

Woman Wed Eight Times Testifies In Baby Hoax

KAHOKA, Mo., April 9. (AP)—The defense in cross-examination assailed the reputation of Mrs. Grace Caroline Thomason today in an effort to discredit her charge of a $250,000 hoax in St. Louis famous "gift from God" baby case.

The attractive blond, still a young woman despite her eight marriages—three of them to one man—had testified Mrs. Nellie Tipton Muench, one-time St. Louis society matron, procured a baby to swindle Dr. Marsh Fitzman out of $250,000 by making him believe he was the father of the child.

Speaking composedly and laughing frequently at the questions, Mrs. Thomason admitted knowing, but denied associations with, 14 men, including two St. Louis gangsters, named by defense counsel.

Her bizarre story of the motive for taking the child of Anna Ware, unwed servant girl, was given yesterday in the trial of Mrs. Muench, her husband, Dr. Ludwig O. Muench, and two co-defendants on a charge of obtaining the baby without permission of the juvenile court.

It contrasted with an opinion of the St. Louis court of appeals, which restored the baby to Miss Ware last December, that Mrs. Muench had got it to obtain money from a jury which later tried and acquitted her on a charge of complicity in a kidnaping.

MARKET BRIEFS

NEW YORK, April 9. (AP)—Profit takers clipped the tops off a number of recent stock market leaders today, but many rallies and specialties more than held their own.

It was a typically quiet pre-holiday session. Selling dwindled in the final half hour as support appeared for the carriers. The close was irregular. Transfers approximated 1,750,000 shares.

Wheat closed unsettled, 3/4-1/2 under yesterday's finish, May 94 1/2-5/8.

King Hands Out Maundy Pennies In Westminster

LONDON, April 9. (AP)—King Edward today paid out shining specially-minted coins to 142 persons at special red and white purses carried in Westminster Abbey.

The ceremony commemorating the age-old ceremony of Maundy Thursday. The ceremony was symbolic of the washing of the feet of the disciples of Jesus Christ at the last supper.

The money was doled out from special red and white purses carried on a golden salver which is among the historic relics at the Tower of London.

The new monarch was the second British ruler in 200 years to take part personally in the ancient ceremony. His father, the late King George, went with Queen Mary to hand out "Maundy pennies" at the abbey in 1934.

Edward passed coins to 71 old men and 71 women, all specially chosen for the occasion. The number of recipients traditionally corresponds to the number of years of the king's age.

Each man first received 45 shillings and each woman 35. Then the king gave to each a red purse containing £2 10s ($32.50) and a white purse containing 71 pence of Maundy money.

Mayor Herrera still is a refugee in the military garrison but last night he ventured home to see his family.

Last Sunday Gov. Canseco named Pedro Lavín of Ciudad Victoria to succeed Guajardo, Lavín is in charge of the Nuevo Laredo city government now, with a new set of city officers under him.

Gov. Canseco came to Nuevo Laredo to investigate the riot at the city hall last week.

Professors Will Analyze New Deal

WASHINGTON, April 9. (AP)—The republican national committee has engaged 50 professors and other experts to make a complete analysis of what the new deal has done to the country in three years.

Henry P. Fletcher, national chairman, announced the organization of this group at a press conference today.

Dr. O. G. Saxon of Yale university, who wears two academic keys on his watch chain and who studied under Professor Felix Frankfurter at Harvard, heads the new "research" division. Frankfurter has been a leading new deal adviser.

BUDGE VS. REYES

HOUSTON, April 9. (AP)—Don Budge, 20-year-old tennis star from Oakland, Calif., today drew Esteban Reyes, Mexico's No. 1 man, as his first opponent in the United States-Mexico Davis Cup matches opening here tomorrow.

Bryan "Bilsy" Grant of Atlanta will meet 18-year-old Daniel Hernandez, who defeated Reyes in a recent tournament at Mexico City. On Sunday, Budge will play Hernandez and Grant will meet Reyes.

$5,000 Bonds Are Set for Garton

FORT STOCKTON, April 9. (AP)—Bonds of $5,000 each in two murder charges were set here today for Wilburn Garton, Corpus Christi liquor dealer, in connection with the slaying of his former wife, Mrs. Letta Bell Garton and her daughter, Joyce Lynn Roberts, six years ago.

Garton waived examining trial before County Judge C. E. Caselier. His attorney, Thomas B. Ridgell of Dallas, said he expected to have the bonds posted this afternoon.

The bodies of the woman and girl were found in the Pecos river by a Mexican fisherman, Feb. 21, 1930. Sheriff W. P. Rooney and Deputy Walter Stapp who arrested Garton in Corpus Christi Monday, said they had been holding him in the Ozona jail since Tuesday.

They said Garton made no statement except that he saw the slain pair alive prior to leaving on a trip to Oklahoma from Wink a short time before their disappearance.

Ridgell said he would leave for Wink today to make an investigation there.

TO CLAIM EFFECTS

TRENTON, N. J., April 9. (AP)—State prison authorities said today Mrs. Bruno Richard Hauptmann, widow of the man executed for the Lindbergh baby slaying, would visit the prison some time today, presumably to claim his letters and other effects.

Hauptmann, they said, left clothing, correspondence and some money, the proceeds of his dollar checks sent him by seekers of his autograph.

Liner's Captain Reports Radical 'Russian Cheka'

NEW YORK, April 9. (AP)—Captain Cullen, master of the Dollar Liner President Garfield, was in port today with a story of trouble with members of the crew and "a radical spy system, a veritable Russian-cheka," which he said held sway on his ship.

Cullen said he refused to bring two members of the "black gang," or engine room crew, any further than Genoa on the ship's round-the-world cruise, "and left another man behind for insubordination. A fourth member of the crew, he said, was put ashore in Italy and sent to a channel port for passage to New York on another liner."

Cullen said he dropped the fourth member of the crew to protect him from radical enemies aboard the ship.

New York officials of the line had no comment concerning Cullen's statement. Passengers said there had been no disorder on the voyage, but some expressed indignation at the strike of stewards at Genoa after Cullen placed two firemen in the brig.

Cullen said that when he locked up the two men following attacks on fellow crew members, the entire crew except 44 Chinese in the steward's department, walked off the ship.

Wife Accused in Plot to Wreck Florida Train

PENSACOLA, Fla., April 9. (AP)—The arrest of four persons during investigation of the strange story of a train to wreck loaded passenger train to kill the engineer, brought R. W. Vann, 70, the railroader, hurrying today to the defense of his wife, one of those held.

"My wife is innocent," asserted Sheriff H. E. Gandy, who held the woman, said she held the sworn statements of two negroes that Mrs. Vann planned the engineer's death to obtain $3,000 life insurance and freedom to marry a younger man.

Sheriff Gandy said there were 25 passengers and a crew of eight on Vann's Louisville and Nashville railroad train when the attempt was made to wreck it at a curve near here.

The plot failed, Gandy asserted, because spikes were removed from the inside rail at the curve and the train was supported by the undisturbed outer rail, where most of the weight rested.

The negroes were held with Mrs. Vann and a man listed as Earl Travis of Castleberry, Ala., on charges of conspiracy to commit a felony. County Solicitor Richard Merritt said more serious charges were being prepared.

Gandy linked Travis, a carpenter, with Mrs. Vann as her intended husband.

CAFÉ OWNER DIES

DOUGLAS, Ariz., April 9. (AP)—Mrs. Alice Gatiliff, owner of Historic Curio cafe and friend and advisor of numerous Mexican statesmen, died here today. She was fatally burned in the explosion of a fuel can at Agua Prieta, Son., across the international boundary, yesterday.

Boxing Show To Be Held Friday Night at McLean

M'LEAN, April 9.—Boxers from McLean, Wheeler, Mobeetie, Briscoe and Shamrock high schools will meet in a tournament in the McLean gymnasium Friday night at 7:30 o'clock.

Proceeds will go toward buying football equipment for a junior team. The events will be sponsored by the athletic association. Invitations have been sent to other schools in this section, asking them to send boxers to compete.

There will be fights in all divisions, flyweight to heavyweight.

Texarkana Pastor To Oppose Patman

TEXARKANA, April 9. (AP)—The Rev. David M. Phillips, local minister and congressional aspirant, today announced his resignation as minister of the Rose Hill Baptist church.

"The resignation was offered so I can launch an intensive campaign," he said. A successor was not selected.

Phillips announced his intention early this week of opposing Congressman Wright Patman. He said he favored collective representation sound currency, a comprehensive educational structure in the United States, and legislation benefiting farmers, wage earners and legitimate business.

Colorado Governor Dubbed Honorary Ranger by Allred

DENVER, April 9. (AP)—The gray hat of the "ten-gallon" variety—the gift of one cowboy governor to another—rested on the head of Gov. Ed C. Johnson of Colorado today.

The hat was an emblem of honorary membership in the Texas rangers conferred upon the Colorado executive by George Waverly Briggs of Dallas on behalf of Gov. James V. Allred of Texas.

Gov. Johnson designated August 1 as "Colorado day" at the Texas Centennial exposition at Dallas. The day will be the sixtieth anniversary of Colorado's admission to statehood.

WPA DENIES CHARGES

HARRISBURG, Pa., April 9. (AP)—The state WPA denied today charges by Stephen Rauschenbush, chairman of the Pennsylvania Security League, that political material was distributed in workers' pay envelopes. Officials declined to discuss Rauschenbush's allegations.

Companies With Big Debts Will Be Treated Fair

WASHINGTON, April 9. (AP)—House ways and means committee Democrats reported today that they were in definite agreement on giving special treatment to debt ridden corporations under the new tax program.

Also they said, dividends from banks would be subjected to the 4 per cent normal income tax rate. This information was given newsmen after another closed session from which republican committee members were absent.

While the method of handling the problem of corporations that must use portions of their earnings to retire indebtedness has not been worked out fully, Rep. Vinson (D, Ky) said the majority of committee members had decided that such firms should be given some sort of favored handling.

FLETCHER WISECRACK

WASHINGTON, April 9. (AP)—A press conference with Henry P. Fletcher, republican national chairman, was interrupted today when a street organ under Fletcher's fourth floor window started to grind out "The Man on the Flying Trapeze." Fletcher stopped for a moment, then said: "That's what we've got to meet."

One thing they all agree on. Ever been in Singapore?... Constantinople?... Buenos Aires?... Well, Budweiser has. No matter where people have gone, they have been unable to find a beer like Budweiser with its matchless character, bouquet and flavor. People who know beer have made Budweiser the biggest-selling bottled beer in history. For your own enjoyment, include in your circle of friends the beer that has circled the globe! How old is beer? As old as civilization. "Zythum", ancient Egyptian word for "beer", is one of the last words in the dictionary... but everybody who drinks Budweiser knows that Budweiser is the last word in beer. The Mayflower brought Pilgrims—and beer! And how they complained when it was gone! They sent word back to England for more. (See Young's "Chronicles of the Pilgrims"). You need not worry about not getting your Budweiser because Budweiser is everywhere. ANHEUSER-BUSCH ST. LOUIS. Only Budweiser TASTES LIKE BUDWEISER.

Ralph Thomas Is Named Director Of Dairy Show

PLAINVIEW, April 9. (AP)—Prize winners and other animals in the ninth annual Panhandle-plains dairy show were offered at auction today at the final event of the exposition.

Judges and officials of the show, enthusiastic over the quality and number of animals entered, lauded the show as one of the best ever held here.

The association's annual banquet was held last night after judges spent a busy day in selecting winners in the record-breaking Jersey division.

Robert Smith of Lockney was nominated for the presidency and J. W. Heavin of Plainview the vice-presidency of the 1936-37 show. Smith succeeded H. B. Hales of Amarillo.

Directors named to three-year terms included Ralph Thomas of Pampa, Ray Mowery of Lubbock, S. J. Underwood of Hale Center, I. C. Sprague of Tulsa, Mason King of Amarillo, E. A. Pittman of Brownfield, Joe Jennings of Plainview and W. H. Epcurch and Charles Franz of Canyon.

The Northwest Texas Milking Short-horns Breeders' association named a committee to contact leading exposition officials in Texas concerning the organization's exhibits. Officials of the association started a move to obtain better classification for their type of animals at the expositions.

Miles Milhoan of Wildorado was re-elected president and Frank Well of Plainview vice-president of the association.

Substitute Tax Plan Proposed By Ohio Solon

WASHINGTON, April 9. (AP)—House ways and means committee democrats, assembling again today to consider modifications in the $799,000,000 tax program, faced a probable attempt to scrap it in favor of a substitute.

Rep. Lammek (D-Ohio) said he planned to force a vote on his proposal to raise $500,000,000 by a flat 20 to 22 per cent tax on corporation income.

"Business spokesmen in the open hearings before the committee," he said, "stated time after time that they would prefer such a tax to the proposed new corporation tax based on surpluses.

To produce $263,000,000 more and bring his plan nearly up to the money requirements outlined by President Roosevelt, Lammek would repeal the present exemption of normal income tax rate. On that he is in agreement with the committee program.

The Ohioan contended the committee plan would destroy small corporations and impair the credit and stability of large ones.

From taxes on corporation earnings, graduated according to proportions of profits held in reserves and on corporation dividends the committee expects to produce $591,000,000 of additional income for the government.

EXPLANATION

NEW YORK (AP)—George Winslow, 32, walked up to the bench and explained to Magistrate Michael Ford that he had turned in a false fire alarm because "I was dead broke and thought maybe I could get a nickel subway fare from one of the firemen."

"You won't need subway fare for awhile," Magistrate Ford said. "Ten days in the workhouse!"

CHAPTER XII

The girl at the desk looked thoughtful. "Maybe," she said after a moment, "you could borrow a dress."

Toby knew she couldn't. In all New York there was no one from whom she could borrow a white evening dress. And she couldn't possibly buy one. Her purse contained less than $10. She was going to lose the chance she had dreamed of, the chance she had prayed for—because she didn't have a white evening dress. She said, trying to hide her disappointment, "I'll see."

And then the amazing thing happened. The girl in the gray fur coat had been standing with her back toward the other two. She turned now. "Listen, Sally," she said. "I've got a dress she can wear. I'm taller than she is, but we're about the same size otherwise."

"Oh—would you?" Toby's voice was eager.

"You'll probably have to turn up the hem," the girl in the fur coat went on, "but that's easy. I've got slippers to match—I think they'll fit you. What size do you wear?"

"Four-A."

"Then that's all right. Mine are four-B, but nobody will know the difference."

The girl called Sally said, with some uncertainty, "If you're sure the dress will be all right, Harriet—"

"Of course it will be all right! It's the one I wore for those movie camera ads a couple of weeks ago. Don't you remember? It's white satin—with sort of a square neckline and a couple of rhinestone clips—"

Suddenly she looked at her wrist watch. "Heavens! I've got to run or I'll be late." Turning to Toby, she said, "I'm going to be working for about three hours, but after that I'll be home. Can you come over to my apartment—say about 5 o'clock? You can try on the dress and if it needs to be taken in or anything there'll be time to fix it." She gave Toby the address. "If I'm not there," she finished, "wait for me."

"I'll wait," Toby promised. "I don't know how to thank you—"

"Oh, you can do something for me some time," the other said easily. "See you later. Goodbye, Sally." The door closed on the words.

Toby said, "That's terribly nice of her. Why, she'd never even seen me until this morning!"

"Harriet's a good scout," the girl at the desk said. "Let's see—did I tell you the time you're to be at the studio—?"

The house in which Harriet Holm lived was in a row of houses, all much alike, on an east side street boasting, to left and right, much more pretentious dwellings. Toby had no difficulty finding the address. She arrived a few minutes after five, expecting that Harriet would be late. But she was mistaken; the door buzzed, releasing the lock, almost immediately after Toby pressed the bell.

She went inside, climbed the first flight of stairs. Then from above, a head appeared over the banister and a voice called, "I hope you don't mind climbing! It's the top floor—"

Toby went up two more flights. Harriet Holm, clad in a becoming blue negligee, met her at the top step. "Those steps are terrible," she said. "I've climbed them myself so often I'm beginning to feel like a mountain goat! But I keep the place because it's rather nice, once you get up here—"

It was rather nice. The "apartment" was a huge room across the front of the house with three windows looking down on the street. Pale yellow draperies had been drawn back so that none of the afternoon light was lost. There were book shelves, well filled, in the space between the windows. On one side a dark green davenport faced a coffee table on which was a copper tray and vermillion coffee set. In the center of the opposite wall a piece of Chinese embroidery hung. Low, comfortable chairs stood before the windows and a leather footstool was pushed against the wall. There were splashes of color—dull blue, gold, sea green, and henna—in cushions and pictures and bits of pottery.

Toby said, "How lovely!"

"Like the place?" Harriet asked. "Here—let me take your coat. Sit down and make yourself comfortable. You need a rest after that climb—"

But Toby, instead, went to the window and looked out.

"It's the nicest room I've ever been in," she said. "How you must love it here!"

"I do like it," Harriet admitted. "I spent more furnishing the place than I should have, but, thank goodness, it's paid now. Will I suppose you want to see that dress—"

She crossed the room and opened a door. "Here's another reason why I like this place. It's so hard to find an apartment with closet space."

Toby followed, let out a low exclamation. The door opened on a closet that was almost another room. Hanging on bars, closely packed together, were rows and rows of dresses, suits, coats—dresses with full, trailing skirts and dresses that were severely cut; cottons; filmy chiffons; a riding habit; a bright green jacket; swimming suits; tennis dresses; cute little shorts and brilliant-hued sweaters; dresses of blue, yellow, green, silver, maroon, purple, black and white; dresses of prints and plaids and polka dots. Above, piled high on shelves, were cardboard boxes.

"Are they all yours?" Toby exclaimed. "All these dresses?"

Harriet stepped into the closet emerged with a white dress over her arm. "Yes," she said. "You'll find you have to have a lot of clothes if you do much modeling. Of course, lots of these are old. You can't tell when an old dress is going to come in handy, so I never throw anything away. And I manage to pick up quite a few bargains. If you know how to mend and clean things that are a little shop worn, you can do that. The best-looking clothes I have there's a mirror—"

After dresses have been worn in a show they usually let the models buy them for half price. That's how I got this white one—regular $39.50 and it cost me $19.75." She held the dress up before her. "What do you think of it?"

"It's beautiful! But do you think it will fit me?"

"Easy enough to find out," Harriet said. "Try it on."

Off came Toby's own dress, and over her head went the soft folds of satin. Harriet snapped the fasteners, stepped back and eyed the other girl critically. "Well," she said, "you can see for yourself there's a mirror—"

Toby moved to the mirror, stared at the image reflected. "Oh—" she said, and then again, "Oh!" She couldn't believe, for an instant, that the girl in the mirror was herself. The gleaming white satin molded her figure in a manner that was witchery-alluring, demure. It was a dream dress, a dress to make dreams come true. Never in her wildest imaginings, had Toby Ryan supposed she could look like this.

Harriet said softly, "I'll have to sell it to you, Toby. After seeing you in that dress I'd never have the nerve to wear it again myself. It was made for you. Of course it will have to be turned up about an inch, but that's easy. Wait, I'll get the slippers—"

An hour later Toby departed, carrying the borrowed evening dress and slippers in a pastboard box. One hand on the door, she halted. Toby said earnestly, "I'll never forget what you've done for me."

"Well," said the other girl, "if that's true it'll be a record—in this town. But I'm glad we happened to meet this morning, Toby. There's something about you—I don't know what it is—but I think we're going to be friends."

"I hope so."

Toby said goodbye then and hurried down the stairs. She had 20 minutes to reach the studio and Harriet had told her it was important, never, under any circumstances, to be late.

She worked until midnight that night and earned $17.50. Two days later she spent a morning posing as a housewife making a bed. In the afternoon she stood for three hours while a photographer made picture after picture of her feet, clad in smart footwear. At the end of the week Toby's earnings had mounted to $48.30—more than three times what she had earned at Bergman's.

She paid part of her registration fee at the Models' League, bought herself a pair of black pumps and paid Harriet Holm $10 of the $15 they had agreed upon as the price for the white satin dress. She still had more than her old salary left.

It was almost, Toby told herself, as though she had stepped into a new world. She felt that she had been going about with her eyes closed. There were so many new things in this strange world—new people, new places, new things to do and to think about. She met other models, photographers, artists, advertising salesmen, art directors. She caught glimpses of the workings of that most complicated of modern businesses, advertising.

It was all absorbing, exciting. Toby worked hard and enjoyed it. Her eyes sparkled more gaily; her smile was brighter. Each morning she woke, eager to see what the day would bring. At night she dropped into bed, tired but content in the knowledge of a day's work done.

And then—just when Toby felt that she had never been so happy—something happened that changed everything.

MAYOR'S HOME BOMBED

BALTIMORE, April 9 (AP)—The home of Mayor Howard W. Jackson was bombed here early today in what was believed to have been a direct attempt on the mayor's life. The explosive, which police said was apparently thrown from a passing automobile, landed on the ground about ten feet from the house. Mayor Jackson was sitting in bed reading when the blast broke out cellar windows and filled his room with acrid fumes. Read the classified ads today.

41 DEATH PENALTY STATES

The movement to abolish capital punishment appears to have lost ground in recent years—possibly because of the spirit of violence engendered by the World War and its aftermath, and also because of widespread uneasiness at organized crime and gangsterism.

Seven states which once abolished capital punishment have restored it, five of them since the World War. These are Arizona, Colorado, Iowa, Kansas, Missouri, Oregon and Tennessee. Bills of the Kansas Legislature restoring the death penalty were vetoed by Governor Woodring in 1931 a proposal to restore it. This leaves only seven states approved by Landon in 1935. Michigan, the first state to abolish capital punishment, defeated by referendum in 1931 a proposal to restore it. This leaves only seven states in which capital punishment is not provided: Michigan, Rhode Island, Wisconsin, Maine, Minnesota, North Dakota and South Dakota. Several of these still prescribe the death penalty for treason or for murderous assault by a life-term convict.

Some states impose the death penalty only for murder. Others add rape or treason, or both. Other crimes punishable by death in certain states are robbery where the threat of death is used, arson, train wrecking, assault by a life prisoner, poisoning, perjury to convict an innocent person of a capital offense, and now kidnapping. Electrocution and hanging are about equally favored as the method of execution. Utah gives the option of shooting, and Arizona, Colorado, Nevada, North Carolina and Wyoming provide lethal gas. The Federal Government uses hanging.

Some of the smaller European and most of the Latin-American nations have abolished capital punishment, and in others it has fallen into disuse. Under the political dictatorships now prevailing in Italy, Germany and the Soviet Union, the death penalty is used for political and even economic offenses.

Comparative statistics on murders in death penalty and non-death-penalty areas are cited both by those who call capital punishment a deterrent to crime and those who insist it is not. Such statistics are probably inconclusive, because the number of murders is affected by many other factors, including that of likelihood of apprehension and promptness of punishment. The pro-capital punishment camp insists that only the severest penalty deters criminals these days. This group complains that life imprisonment is often commuted through political influences. Against the argument that the state has no more right than the individual to kill, it points out that the individual may properly kill to protect himself. The opponents of capital punishment hold that juries are less apt to convict when the irremediable penalty of death may result, instead of the remediable sentence of life imprisonment. This camp believes that most potential murderers do not visualize the punishment at the time of planning or committing their crimes; that they regard execution as preferable to life imprisonment; and that they are deterred more by speed than by severity in the penalty.

President Roosevelt, at a press conference a year ago, said that he personally was opposed to capital punishment, but he conceded that most people probably considered it a deterrent to murder.—Star Telegram.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON.—It isn't considered good form to ask why Congress is going to appropriate more than a billion dollars this year for the army and the navy. And anyone who suggests economy or budget-balancing in that direction is sure to be called un-American and Communistic.

The Senate army bill appropriates $384,699,619 for military purposes and Roosevelt's budget estimates $620,184,077 for the navy.

If you're still impolite enough to ask why, the navy can give you a more definite answer than the army, which seems rather vague as to whom it is going to fight.

The navy is sure that it's going to fight the Japanese sooner or later. That idea is shared by some officials in other quarters. Nobody seems to know how either the Japanese or the American navy could cross the Pacific and wage successful combat so far away from home—but the navy, at least, has a goal.

The army obviously isn't expanding for battle with Canada or Mexico. No one seriously contends that a foreign foe can break through the navy and land troops on our shores.

And you can't get any high army official to admit that the army is being built up—from 118,000 to 150,000 men and hundreds of new planes each year—to invade foreign territory. That's what makes it all so mysterious.

Inside the congressional committees on military affairs, when these matters are up, there's only a vague psychology of war—with an unknown foe in some unknown territory—and a vague fear of the "reds."

Committee sessions seem dominated by the belief of certain members and certain army officers that the nation is menaced by a bolshevik revolution. Copeland of New York, in Senate debate last year, emphasized possibility of "internal trouble" and General MacArthur, chief of staff who drove out the 1932 bonus army, was always stressing preparation for the necessity of American soldiers subduing American citizens.

Army manuals give instructions on how to attack mobs and in recent years troops have been concentrated nearer industrial centers. All this means of course, that the army is preparing against strikes and serious labor troubles. Perhaps because it has nothing better to do.

Instead of building up a small, mobile, mechanized force for quick action in any necessary area, the army sticks to the theory of immediately mobilizing the mass man power of the nation in event of hostilities.

Mobilization plans call for an army of 4,000,000. The peace-time army is scattered over the country now with the idea that it can serve as a skeleton for a vast force and you'd have a hard time pulling it together.

War plans call for an officers' reserve corps and an enlisted men's reserve corps. You'll be interested to know that the former has about 120,000 members and the latter about 6000.

And next year you're likely to discover that the army needs a lot more than $384,000,000.

Police seek thieves who stole 13 cannonballs from a street corner in a Connecticut town. Is there any reason why the underworld, too, can't have a boom?

CAPITOL JIGSAW

By HOWARD C. MARSHALL

AUSTIN, APRIL 8 (AP)—The highway patrol has shown increased activity in arresting speeders since the fatal injury of Gov. Allred's sister, Mrs. Hazel Stokes, near Mineola.

Acting not so much because of the prominence of the victim as because of the publicity resulting and general demand for curbing flagrant highway law violations, the department instructed all employees to file complaints promptly, especially against speeders.

L. C. Phares, director, made an inspection trip through East Texas, and "driving safely and sanely," was passed by only one man whom he arrested and charged with speeding.

Automobiles frequently shoot through the gate at the north entrance of the capitol grounds and fly around the stables at a great rate, despite efforts of watchmen to stop the practice.

A man was jerked out of the path of a speeding automobile the other day brushed himself and remarked: "Someone is going to be killed here some day."

"Oh, cars have good brakes these days; they can stop on a dime," said a friend.

"Well," rejoined the other, "I'd just as lief be run over as have the wheels stop on my chest."

Surprisingly small crowds have been waiting in the antechamber to see Gov. Allred. One afternoon the door stood wide open and not a soul was present.

The condition was in sharp contrast to scenes in earlier days of the Allred administration, and certainly to those a couple of years ago when former Gov. James A. Ferguson, in forceful language, told a horde of office seekers they might as well depart.

One explanation is that Gov. Allred handles visitors more expeditiously than some other governors did. Two or three secretaries constantly administer to their wants and the turnover is rapid.

Rep. Herman Jones of Decatur bobbed into the main capitol elevator recently, a load of law books under an arm.

"Going to school again, Herman?" cried someone.

"Naw," said Jones. "I can't use 'em. Selling 'em."

PONCA CITY, TO PLAY HERE SUNDAY, ARE WESTERN ASSOCIATION CHAMPS

IDEAL DAY IS FORESEEN FOR OPENING GAME

ANGELS WILL ARRIVE TOMORROW FOR BATTLE

Taking this morning's dust storm as a good omen, Danager Road Runner officials continued making arrangements for the opening of the 1936 baseball season on Sunday afternoon, when the Ponca City Angels, Western association champions, come here for a single game with the Road Runners.

The Road Runner bosses figure that Sunday will be an ideal day for the opening, with the dust blowing today, they "take" the day by Sunday and that Old Sol will come out in all his glory for the opening of the baseball season.

Another big year in the national pastime is anticipated. Every box seat has been sold for weeks and fans are still howling. Business Manager Harold Miller has had carpenters measuring up and down the field in an effort to find suitable nooks for more box seats. Findings have not been released.

Sunday's game will be called at 2:30 o'clock. Admission will be 25 cents for women and 40 cents for men. The question of who will call balls and strikes has not been answered and will not be until time of the game.

The Angels will arrive here tomorrow night or Saturday morning. Earl Hamilton, president of the club, and the veteran manager, Mike Gazella, will lead the way. They will bring nine members of last year's team and a bunch of youngsters with them. The team is strong

Four-Way Track Meet Scheduled For 4 Schools

PORT WORTH, April 9 (AP)—Some of the best track and field performers of the southwest sought honors today in a four-way meet of the University of Texas, Baylor, Southern Methodist and Texas Christian teams.

Texas' all-around star team, favored to repeat for the Southwest conference title, featured such performers as Wallender, Reeve and Gummisen in the dashes, Hall in the weights and Thomas in the middle distances.

The Southern Methodist Mustangs counted on Robert Wilson, football star, to win points in the broad jump and Johnny Sprague in the weights.

Kimbro of Baylor, winner of the high hurdles in the conference last year, was considered the man to beat in that event.

Texas Christian counted on Edwin in the shot, Clifford in the broad jump and low hurdles and Clark in the dashes.

BUDGE BEGINS CAMPAIGN TO UNSEAT TEXAN

FACES MEXICO DAVIS CUP PLAYERS AT HOUSTON

HOUSTON, April 9, (AP)—Don Budge, the 20-year-old redhead from California, today regarded the United States-Mexico Davis cup matches as the start of a campaign to unseat Wilmer Allison, the country's No. 1 tennis player.

Budge and Bryan (Biley) Grant of Atlanta will handle the singles assignments in the play, starting at the River Oaks club here tomorrow. The bracketed face Oakland youngster isn't willing to predict that he can conquer the Texas ace this summer, although he broke even with Baron von Cramm and Bunny Austin and scored victories over A. K. Quist of Australia and H. Henkel of Germany last year.

"These courageous young Mexicans constitute the immediate business at hand," he said. "There will be time enough later to map strategy against Crawford, Quist and the others."

"Allison beat me in straight sets in our only meeting last year and he may have the stuff to do it again. I was ranked just below him in 1935, however. I have been working diligently on my game and believe I have ironed out a few flaws."

Allison, captain of the cup team for the Mexican matches, announced his singles assignments after being defeated in both championship matches of the River Oaks tournament. Grant defeated him in the singles, while Budge teamed with Gene Mako to win from Allison and John Van Ryn in the doubles.

The invading Mexicans, badly in need of practice, hoped for fair and warmer weather so that they might take a final workout. They were unable to play yesterday because of wet, wintry weather.

Notwithstanding this handicap, Guillermo Arcehiga, the non-playing captain, insisted his boys had a good chance to upset their more experienced opponents in at least one match.

The Centennial pro-amateur golf tournament, set for the Dallas Country club course next Monday, is shaping into an event mindful of the best ball jousts once held in connection with the old Texas open golf tournaments at San Antonio.

Entries indicate most of the southwest's ranking professionals and amateurs along with Henry Picard and Craig Wood will tee off.

Some 30 teams have informed professional George Aubach they will compete. Besides Picard and Wood, such stars as Professionals Jim Demaret of Houston, Tod Menefee of San Antonio, Zell Eaton, Francis Scheider and Floyd Farish of Oklahoma City, Jack and Dick Groat of Fort Worth and Amateurs Jack Munger, Rufus King, Jamie Gough, Don Schumacher and Louis Nowlin of Dallas, Lieut. Ken Rogers of San Antonio, Barney Clark of Houston, the veteran Hapo Massingill of Fort Worth, Dees McDermott of Waco and others will compete.

Hollywood and Brevity Named To Win Derby

NEW YORK, April 9 (AP)—The betting commissioners are quoting J. E. Widener's Brevity at 13 to 5 and holding Hal Price Headley's Hollywood at 4 to 1 to take the Kentucky derby but their trainers declare the odds far too short.

"It's a 3-1 shot you can't name a starter," declared Pete Coyne, who arrived with Brevity at Louisville yesterday.

Hollywood is too short at those odds," said 26-year-old Duval Headley as he watched his uncle's star workout at Belmont Park.

But regardless of the odds, Tom Shaw, eastern bookmaker, reports a heavy play on the two colts, which dominate the future books as few horses have in recent years.

The odds on Brevity were reduced sharply following his victory in the Florida derby, in which he equalled the world record of 1:48 1-5 for a mile and one-eighth. The quotations on Hollywood have declined gradually as reports of his fine condition come from the stable.

LANDON WINS NEW BACKING IN MINNESOTA

12 OF 22 DELEGATES ARE FAVORABLE TO KANSAN

BY LEONARD B. SHUBERT.
WASHINGTON, April 9 (AP)—The Landon-for-President movement hailed renewed evidences of support in a midwest sector today while Senator Borah and Colonel Frank Knox made final plans for Tuesday's Illinois primary—the first man-to-man contest in the pre-convention campaign for the republican presidential nomination.

Governor Alf M. Landon, Kansas republican who has remained silent on the question of candidacy while supporters for many months have been rounding up convention votes for him, yesterday won additional backing in Minnesota.

Sentiment for Landon predominated as seven district conventions picked 14 uncommitted delegates to the republican national convention. The results, along with delegate selections previously made, assured Landon that at least 12 of Minnesota's 22 votes would tend to gravitate toward his camp, though officially unpledged.

Observers in St. Paul indicated that four delegates-at-large, yet to be picked, would be friendly to Landon. Under the unit rule, all of Minnesota's 22 votes thus would go into the Landon column at the convention, at least on the initial ballots.

Besides the delegates friendly to Landon, there also will be some sentiment for Knox and Borah in the state's delegation.

Borah, fresh from a preferential primary victory over an uncommitted slate in Wisconsin, where he captured 21 of the 24 votes, was jubilant as he plunged into a four-day campaign before the Illinois balloting.

Both he and Knox claim Illinois. Knox, who has the endorsement of the state central committee, has just completed a state-wide drive.

Knox last night was given definite assurance of support from eight of the 11 delegates from New Hampshire. Although the delegates were elected last month as unpledged, they were in favor of Knox. After a conference at Concord, they agreed to back him. The other delegates, absent from the meeting, were expected to concur.

With President Roosevelt on his way back toward the capital, the capital looked to him for a possible pronouncement bearing on the coming campaign. The chief executive has a speaking engagement in Baltimore Monday but he has not announced his subject.

Red Cross Aids 100,000 Families In Flood-Stricken Eastern Area

Left—A ton of baby food and blankets for infant flood refugees at Sunbury, Pa., sent by air. Upper right—Saddened by their plight little orphans of the storm sup at Red Cross food station in Pittsburgh. Lower right—Warm clothing was needed in Pittsburgh when zero weather followed floods.

THE appalling floods that swept over eastern states during the middle of March caused the American Red Cross to take under its care more than 100,000 families in thirteen states. Pennsylvania was hardest hit, and in the cities of Pittsburgh and Johnstown the Red Cross either fed, sheltered or clothed 117,000 persons. The suffering was intense, because added to deluges of flood water, came rain, snow and intense cold.

Many cities and towns were cut off for 48 hours or more from communication with the outside world, both in Pennsylvania and in Connecticut. The Red Cross used airplanes to rush medical supplies into afflicted towns, and to drop food supplies from the skies over other places. Trucks with water, medicine, food, clothing were rushed to many towns. Amateur radio operators told the outside world over short wave sets what the true conditions were.

Within a few days the Red Cross had more than 200 relief workers and 200 Red Cross nurses in all of the communities in the thirteen states which had suffered from flood waters.

Admiral Cary T. Grayson, Chairman, notified President Roosevelt, who is President of the Red Cross, that a relief fund of at least $3,000,000 would be needed. President Roosevelt addressed a proclamation to the nation asking for liberal contributions. When double the number of families came under care of the Somewhat larger than this plane is the flying boat being built as the "mother" ship or launching plane for the novel "pick-a-back" combination.

Its designer is Major R. H. Mayo, 45-year-old technical adviser of Imperial Airways, British faith in its possibilities is indicated by the fact that a $475,000 company has been floated to exploit the invention.

Double Plane Range Seen
The "mother" plane, with four 900-horse-power engines, will carry on its back a heavily-laden, long-range seaplane powered with four 350-horsepower engines.

The plan is for them to take off as one eight-engine biplane. When an altitude of approximately 10,000 feet is reached and good forward speed attained, the two machines would continue on its transatlantic voyage alone.

Calculators have been made that the invention should double the range of the seaplane.

Only one "mother" plane will be ready by summer but another "mother" plane to be stationed on the other side of the Atlantic will have to be constructed if the idea is adopted for the transatlantic service.

Former Football Player Insane, Defense Claims

DALLAS, April 9 (AP)—The trial of Dwight Beard, 26-year-old North Carolina escaped convict, charged with slaying John R. Roberts in a holdup here last December, was thrown into confusion today as attorneys called final witnesses.

Contending the former football player was insane, the defense called the accused slayer's mother to the stand. She said her son was normal and good until the fall of 1932 when he went home from North Carolina State college.

"He changed then," the mother said, "and I believe he is of unsound mind."

Mrs. Beard testified that the family had considered placing the defendant in an institution but held back on the hope he might recover.

The mother said her other three children and husband were normal in every way but added that she had an uncle and her husband a sister in the North Carolina hospital for the insane and that a niece died in the institution.

Accused Husband Held in Jail in Ozona for Crime

FORT STOCKTON, April 9 (AP)—Secrecy veiled officers' activities today as they investigated the deaths six years ago of Mrs. Leta Bell Carlton and her daughter, Joyce Lynn Roberts.

It was learned however that Wilbur Carlton former husband of Mrs. Carlton, under charges of murder in the case, had been held at Ozona since Tuesday. He was taken there for questioning by District Attorney Weaver Baker after his arrest in Corpus Christi.

EUROPEAN NATIONS HASTEN TRANSATLANTIC AIR TESTS

By OSCAR LEIDING
LONDON, April 9. (AP)—With Germany's huge new dirigible, the Hindenburg, about to start for America. Great Britain is pushing preparations for her first big step in the commercial air conquest of the North Atlantic.

An all-metal, two-decked flying boat and the unique "pick-a-back" combination of a long-range seaplane and a flying boat designed to carry it into the air for launching, are being made ready for trial flights.

Experimental transatlantic flights, looking toward the cooperative regular service of the United States, Canada, Great Britain and the Irish Free State are planned for the coming summer.

But not until 1938 do British air experts expect the projected regular service of four round-trips weekly to be in operation over what they call "the most valuable but by far the toughest" of the ocean air routes.

'Air University' Busy
While workmen are speeding construction of the British transatlantic planes, a handful of airmen has embarked upon intensive training at the "air university" at Hamble, Southampton Water. Further groups are to take up the same work until 180 men will have been trained for the eventual regular service.

Full details of the new planes have been withheld by the constructors but it is reliably understood that the new flying boat is designed to be faster but lighter than the American clippers, used on transatlantic flights.

Based on available details, a comparison of the British transatlantic boat and the American transatlantic plane shows:

Wing span—British, 114 feet; American, 130 feet.

Overall length—British, 88½ feet; American, 89½ feet.

Height—British, 29 feet; American, 24 feet.

High speed (approx.)—British, 200 m. p. h.; American 180, m. p. h.

Number of motors—British, four; American, four.

Weight fully loaded—British, 17 tons; American, 24 tons.

The British flying boat will be a high-wing monoplane with no external bracing of the wing. Floats fixed to the wing-tips will help preserve stability on rough water.

Short Take-Off Devices
Four engines will be mounted in the leading edge of the wing, two on either side of the hull.

The boat will be entirely of metal, except for fabric covering small portions of the wing and tail.

It will have a number of devices to insure short take-off and landing runs. These will include controllable-pitch propellers and flaps on the trailing edge of the wing to steepen glide and reduce landing speed.

The great overall height is designed to enable the boat to ride out severe storms without serious wobble.

RAUSHENBUSH HITS HOPKINS IN RELIEF ROW

POLITICAL MATERIAL DISTRIBUTED, HE CHARGES

WASHINGTON, April 9. (AP)—Stephen Raushenbush, former chief of the senate munitions committee staff, today accused Harry L. Hopkins of ignoring charges that the Pennsylvania works progress administrator was using relief funds "for political purposes."

Raushenbush said that as chairman of the Pennsylvania security league he had filed charges with Hopkins three weeks ago that Edward N. Jones, state WPA administrator, was distributing political material in the pay envelopes of WPA workers.

Since then Raushenbush said, Hopkins had allowed the practice to continue and had not replied to his protests. He said that unless the federal relief administrator acted he would place the charges before the proposed senate campaign expenditures committee which will have authority to inquire into charges of politics in the administration of relief.

Raushenbush said he had telegraphed Hopkins on March 16 that Jones was distributing a political attack on him (Raushenbush) in the pay envelopes of WPA workers at government expense. Later, he said, he notified Hopkins that the material was still being distributed under Governor Frank and through WPA foremen.

Hopkins is withholding comment on relief matters pending the completion of testimony he is offering in closed session to a house subcommittee considering President Roosevelt's request for $1,500,000,000 for relief for next year.

MOISTURE CONTROL

The most important single attribute of cigarettes, other than the tobacco itself, is moisture content. To its influence we owe the ability to make uniform cigarettes, to control combustion, and to govern quality of smoke. Excessive moisture interferes with proper combustion, and makes cigarette smoke unpalatable. Insufficient moisture permits dry, dusty cigarette smoke to impinge upon the delicate mucous membrane of the smoker.
