Plan now to attend the Panhandle Centennial celebration at Pampa June 2, 3, 4, and 5, with which is combined a Pioneer's Roundup and Oil Men's Reunion. It is a GREATER celebration for the whole Panhandle.

Twinkles They're air-cooling the Texas Centennial buildings. But the midways will make all Panhandle folk hasten back to the cool plains.

Those who think we have hot weather will ridicule the above paragraph—until after they visit the Dallas hot-walks.

Almost eligible to be classified as "public enemies" will be the Pampans who fail to catch the Panhandle Centennial spirit early next month. The celebration is really going to be "something."

Governor Allred may be "neglecting the old folks," but what we're asking is that he not neglect our Centennial celebration.

Some neighbors would never get acquainted were it not for middle-class kids, dogs, or chickens.

Musing of the moment: Comes spring, with baseball. And memories of that first hit. And those first red Sox. And that first baseball suit, even if it was homemade. And the thrill of getting big enough to hold down first base on a town team, bruised fingers notwithstanding. Nice to watch, baseball is really a game to play.

Brevitorials STRANGE IT IS, but often true, that home town folks are among the last to become enthusiastic over a celebration.

AND YOU CAN take it from WORDS that this celebration has extraordinary possibilities. The oldtimers are cooperating throughout the Panhandle in a way which means a big crowd, many relics on display, a fine roundup, and a splendid tribute to the widows of pioneers.

PERSONALITIES always add interest. Defying criticism that he "goes" too much, Governor James V. Allred has telegraphed his positive intention to be in Pampa during the Centennial. Coming just before the state exposition opens, the Pampa-Panhandle celebration will attract statewide attention.

THE RAINS are hitting the pessimists in vital spots. But no smart pessimist expects anything but rain in late April and the first half of May. This is not second-guessing; it is the law of averages which we noted about a month ago in this column. We lacked but one factor needed this year for a good wheat crop: Snow. We had a nice fall from a wheat standpoint. We needed a snow in December and one in February. These, and not rains, ordinarily make the wheat crop grow and stay in the ground. April and May rains are usually sufficient to

MOB LYNCHES NEGRO BEFORE TRIAL OPENS

AGED JUDGE DETERRED MOB IN FORMER ATTEMPT

ROYSTON, Ga., April 28 (AP)—Lint Shaw, negro farmer once saved from lynching through the pleas of an aged judge, was shot to death by a mob of forty men, eight hours before he was to go to trial on a charge of attempted criminal assault.

His body was found at dawn, today, tied to a pine tree in a creek bottom near Colbert, Ga., his home.

Pierced by shotgun, pistol and rifle bullets, he died at the scene where two white girls reported he attempted to attack them after their motor car broke down on April 10.

Two bullet wounds the negro received after stabbing two officers in resisting arrest had not yet healed.

The mob, climaxing a series of demonstrations against the 45-year-old negro which once required the intervention of National Guardsmen, broke into Royston's one-story jail about midnight, cornered night Chief of Police W. A. Dickerson and smashed a lock on the prisoner's cell.

"I couldn't see exactly what happened," Dickerson said. "They just told me they wanted the negro. He didn't say a word when they dragged him out."

Plowmen, cotton ropes used for guiding work animals in the fields, were cut up to tie the negro to the tree.

The jail here was the third in which Shaw had been held since he was identified by the girls as the man who pursued them with a knife and threw one into a valley. The assault was frightened away by their screams.

First he was taken to jail at Danielsville, Ga. Enroute he stabbed the officers and was shot twice in return.

A mob of 100 men formed there and battered some bricks from the jail in an attempt to reach him.

Superior Judge Berry T. Moseley, 74, left a sick bed to warn the throng against a lynching, and deterred the leaders until a National Guard unit rushed to that city from Fort Ord emergency duty at Gainesville, Ga., took the negro in custody.

"Stop violating the law by breaking into jail," warned the judge.

King Dies

King Fuad I of Egypt, 68-year-old friend of the British, died today after a long illness.

Crown Prince Farouk, 16 years old and now attending school in England, will come to the throne under a regency until his 18th birthday.

The regency will be composed of three men whose names were written by King Fuad on a sheet of paper then sealed in an envelope to be opened by the proper authorities.

Premier Ali Pasha Maher, in making the official announcement of his sovereign's passing, said death came at 1 p. m. local time (7 a. m. Eastern Standard time).

Believed Better The news came as a shock to the population of Cairo following earlier reports that the monarch had rallied after a better night.

Only this morning, the king had called his premier and other officials to the palace and insisted on transacting state business, but clear when plans were made for Crown Prince Farouk's departure from England tomorrow.

Fuad, who celebrated his 68th birthday anniversary March 26, had been in indifferent health many months. He had never fully recovered from his serious illness of 1934 when numerous foreign specialists were summoned to the summer palace at Montazah.

At that time, palace sources endeavored to spread the report that the short, thick-set, fair complexioned king was merely suffering from weakness following a mild attack of influenza.

It now is believed he then was a victim of a severe attack of pleurisy which weakened his heart.

EGYPT'S KING DIES; REGENCY WILL GOVERN

FRIEND OF BRITAIN IS DEAD; SITUATION COMPLICATED

CAIRO, Egypt, April 28 (AP)—King Fuad I of Egypt, 68-year-old friend of the British, died today after a long illness.

The illness was aggravated over the week-end when a gangrenous condition developed in his throat, preventing him from taking nourishment.

Crown Prince Farouk, 16 years old and now attending school in England, will come to the throne under a regency until his 18th birthday.

The regency will be composed of three men whose names were written by King Fuad on a sheet of paper then sealed in an envelope to be opened by the proper authorities.

Premier Ali Pasha Maher, in making the official announcement of his sovereign's passing, said death came at 1 p. m. local time (7 a. m. Eastern Standard time).

The troubled political situation in Cairo, including the revival of the Wafd party rioting, leading up to recent street fighting, the interplay of British and Italian opinion, and the emphasis on military questions made it more difficult for the Egyptian monarch to throw off the lingering effects of his 1934 illness.

DEATH SCENES DESCRIBED BY GIRL'S FATHER

CHILD BEGGED NOT TO BE GIVEN DOSE OF MEDICINE

GREENVILLE, April 28 (AP)—How little Dorothy McCasland begged, as she lay dying, not to be given another dose of rest medicine, her mother gave her, was told in court today by W. W. (Dexter) McCasland, father of the child.

The family lived in the town of Commerce, a short distance from Greenville, McCasland, and the two men Mrs. Velma Patterson married after divorcing him all were sent to prison for violating the liquor laws.

Each day she asked me to go to the cemetery with her," McCasland continued. "She would walk up to the grave and say: 'Well, they haven't dug her up yet. Each day she would make a dash on the grave, she would ask me if I thought she would collect the insurance. She said she was broke.'"

McCasland testified after Walter Thurman of Commerce, member of the present grand jury, and Deputy Sheriff V. L. Delaney, were called as state witnesses.

They testified concerning the examination of Dorothy's body and the delivery of the viscera and cavity fluid to Dr. Landon C. Moore of Dallas, chemist.

McCasland was the first husband of three-married Velma Patterson on trial for her life on a charge of poisoning Dorothy, 12.

Child Expected Death. "Don't ever give me another dose."

People You Know

The two friends, steady, young came walking across the street, not arm in arm, but eye in eye, soul in soul. One shining with vitality, good health, fine spirits. The other, weakened, lean from illness. Said the man who saw them always together:

"Huh, the last time I heard of you, you were dyne of pneumonia." He thought that would back up the boy but it didn't.

To Visit City

Wynn S. Good, service officer of the American Legion, will be among the prominent veterans here for the district convention May 2 and 3.

Mr. Good is a native Texan, born in Alpine, Brewster county. During the world war he was in the navy, serving on a submarine chaser. He has been a Legionnaire since the organization was founded, as a member of posts at Balmoria, Pecos, Corsicana, and Austin.

Veterans and members of the Auxiliary will begin arriving Saturday afternoon when a 4 and 8 parade will be held. In the evening, a "wreck" will be staged for boys at the high school auditorium.

A breakfast for commanders will be held Sunday morning, a joint public program at 10 a. m. in the city auditorium, and separate sessions at the city hall at 2 p. m.

PAMPA-BORGER ROAD APPROVED AT WPA OFFICE

Estimates on the Pampa-Borger highway project have been prepared for the state highway department, relatively approved by the Works Progress administration district office in Amarillo, and forwarded to the state WPA office in San Antonio.

If approved in San Antonio, the project proposals will be sent to Washington for final sanction. When that final approval is obtained, the highway department will be ready to start grading on the road providing relief labor is available at the security wage which is involved in this NRWK project.

This news came from H. H. Allen, assistant state highway engineer, to the Pampa Board of City Development.

In recent conversations county officials of Gray, Carson, and Hutchinson have been told that the labor supply can be spared, principally in the counties of Hutchinson and Carson.

Sid Young of Houston, former Pampian, spent the week-end with friends in Pampa.

WHITE HOUSE APPROVAL IS GIVEN SPEECH

C-C PRESIDENT ASKS COOPERATION OF GOVERNMENT

WASHINGTON, April 28 (AP)—Secretary Roper today proposed a 10-point program through which he said business can absorb more of the jobs.

The administration spokesman addressed the convention of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States. His speech was regarded by his audience as bearing White House approval.

The commerce secretary said "business should utilize every possible channel of approach that will result in the most effective cooperation between business and government."

Immediately preceding Roper, Harper Sibley, chamber president, called for a cooperative alliance between government and business to cure the unemployment malady.

Roper's 10-point program: 1. "Business should survey its own needs and its own conditions from the viewpoint of employing as many persons as current improvements and future programs demand."

"The chamber announced yesterday it would survey the country to see how many jobs are available and how to fill them."

"As improvements in productive efficiency are secured, business should pass on to the consumer the benefits of the lower costs of production which result."

"Business should form and launch industrial committees to study in a comprehensive way technical unemployment and methods for speeding up the transfer into other fields of earning capacity of workers replaced by machines."

"Business should stimulate the durable goods industries by early action that will provide for capital goods and machinery replacements to obsolescence, depreciation, and other causes."

"Business should develop effective and wisely engineered home building programs, privately financed and managed and adapted to local needs to foster better American home standards."

"Business should launch more aggressive endeavors to expand our foreign trade all along the line and especially in cooperation with the administration's reciprocal-trade agreement program."

"Business should have a research program, conducted by industry and business, for the purpose of informing business on a long term useful public works plan looking to the coordination of proper national, state, local, and private endeavors."

"Business should make intensive research study of the relationships that should be maintained with respect to the production of wages, and hours of labor and the necessary methods and mechanics to be utilized in maintaining this balanced relationship."

"Business must recognize and apply its best endeavors to a fundamental educational program involving methods and efforts to get the states and subdivisions to re-assume their social responsibilities as soon as possible, to study economy in government and the prompt application of self respect and mutual responsibility in the individuals, and in the groups and organizations of our citizens."

"Business should utilize every possible channel of approach that will result in the most effective cooperation between business and government."

In his address Sibley said the resources are at hand to put the jobless to work.

LATE NEWS

WHARTON, Texas, April 28 (AP)—Four persons were killed by tornadoes which twisted through Wharton today, accompanied by hail and rains. Young Brooks, 31, and his wife, negroes, of Egypt, Wharton county, were crushed when a brief twister buried their house 100 feet and buried them in the wreckage.

AUSTIN, April 28 (AP)—University of Texas regents today planned nearly $1,000,000 of new building construction this spring at the main university here and the medical branch at Galveston. With rejection of bids for a $200,000 crippled children's hospital at Galveston, regents indicated new bids would be called May 30 along with proposals for a $250,000 negro hospital there.

GREENVILLE, Tex., April 28 (AP)—W. W. (Dexter) McCasland testified today that he bought a poison (arsenic) for his former wife, Mrs. Velma Patterson, less than six weeks before their daughter, Dorothy, died, allegedly from poison administered by the woman.

WASHINGTON, April 28 (AP)—The House today gave tentative approval to the heart of the new tax bill—a system of rates to apply to corporation incomes graduated according to proportions on earnings withheld from distribution to stockholders.

Crowell Protest Against 'Dust' Is Denied By League

The use of the record was protested by Mrs. Graves, director of the Crowell play. "The Severed Cord," at the regional. "Dust" won in the finals with four out of five first places, and Dickie Kennedy and Mary Adams were selected as the best boy and girl actors in the region. Arvo Goddard, the third acting member of the Pampa cast, was highly praised for his work in the "dust-bowl" drama.

Director Ben Gull and his cast of six, including the three back-stage managers, Rex Rose, D. C. Turner and Melvin Qualls, will leave tomorrow for Austin. They will stop en route at Fort Worth to present the play, written by Mr. Gull and Archer Fullington, at Texas Wesleyan college.

The cast has high hopes of winning the stage championship for Pampa the second time in three years.

Record No Violation Of Rules, Says Bedichek

The League has spoken and "Dust" will go to the state interscholastic final at Austin this week-end.

This morning, Roy Bedichek, director of the Interscholastic League, Austin, wired Pampa high school that the use of a phonograph record to reproduce imitations of bawling cattle by high school students was not a violation of the rules.

The telegram stated: "Our opinion that the use of a phonograph record in way described by Mr. Lockhart is not a violation of our rules." W. E. Lockhart, regional interscholastic league director asked Mr. Bedichek "just how much and what kind of upstage notes is permissible in the one-act play contest."

Building Will Begin At Once At Race Track

Construction of a grandstand, pens, and chutes at the new race track in the fairground park just east of Pampa will start almost immediately.

Fox, Rig & Lumber company is low bidder for furnishing materials. WPA labor will do the work.

The heavy rain greatly aided grading, which soon will be completed at the track. It was not of great help in post-hole digging, since the moisture penetrated only about 4 inches. About 10 days will be needed for digging the holes. Four-by-fours will be used for the railing fence.

Rodeo Equipment To Be Constructed Immediately

Two curbers have been built on the new city property. Some work is being torn down to make way for improvements.

Water is not yet available at the fairground, hence tree-planting cannot yet begin. Water will likely be hauled to the rodeo in tanks during the Centennial celebration June 2, 3, 4, and 5.

The city commission last night discussed purchase of a street-sweeper, but did not complete the deal.

Young Democrats' Program Finished

The Pampa Young Democratic club has sent to press the program for the West Texas district convention next Saturday, May 2.

President of West Texas clubs will begin gathering here on Friday evening, when the Pampa group will give a dinner in their honor. Wm. B. Putral of Amarillo will be presented at this dinner, at which the convention of the following day will be discussed.

The meeting will be held in the district courtroom at 7:30 o'clock.

Mr. O. L. Defur of Los Angeles is a visitor this week in the home of her brother, O. W. Ferguson.

Liens Holders Demand Higher Fees Be Charged

Pampans and the NEWS today complained in the general protest over raising fees for entering the Palo Duro park near Canyon.

Effective May 1, the parks board has raised the fee to 35 cents for car and driver, 20 cents for each additional adult, and 10 cents for each child. This would make the cost prohibitive for large families and many families who have little recreation and who especially need the park facilities.

The park is not completed. It was the policy of D. E. Colp, parks board chairman, during his lifetime to hold the entrance fees down until the park was completed.

The liens holders are demanding that the higher fees be charged.

Lodge and other facilities will be patronized later by the more wealthy people, but these buildings are not finished.

Centennial Train 'Takes' Nashville

NASHVILLE, Tenn., April 28 (AP)—Led by Gov. James V. Allred, 100 Texans spent two hours in Nashville today on their trip through 16 states and the District of Columbia to boost the Texas Centennial exposition that opens June 6.

Gov. Allred, in an address, expressed the "heartfelt appreciation of Texas people for the matchless leadership of Sam Houston, the statesmanship of George W. Childress, author of the Texas declaration of independence, and the undying valor of Davy Crockett, Jim Bowie, and James W. Fannin and other immortal Tennesseans who laid their lives as willing sacrifices upon the altar of Texas freedom."

"Texans can never repay the debt she owes to Tennessee."

Gov. McAllister had breakfast with the visitors. Their next stop is Louisville, where they will arrive this afternoon.

HE CAN PLEASE GARNER

A year ago, when a great army of Texas farmers took part in a "national farmers march" on Washington, there was a big "All-Texas" banquet at the capital's swank Hotel Mayflower. Practically every member of the Texas congressional delegation was there—including the two senators—and together, with other Texans in high places, sat at various tables with farmers from their home districts.

Missing, however, was good-natured John Nance Garner, the nation's No. 1 Texan, and many were disappointed.

Missing next month when another group of visiting Texans will banquet in the capital also will be John Nance Garner. Even the "power of the press," for next month's party is sponsored by the Texas Press association, will not notice old Cactus Jack from his hotel at night.

Really, we don't blame him. John Garner has been in public office for a long time. For many years he had to go out at night and he was forced to attend hundreds of banquets that he didn't want to attend. Now he has reached the second highest rung—from which he can go no higher save by divine providence—John Garner can do as he sees fit. And he's doing it!

So Lubbock and South Plains candidates, who soon will enter into an era of pie suppers, box suppers, chicken fries and what-not, may look at John Garner and see what awaits them when they, too, reach the top.

In politics, like in anything else, the fellow who "gets there"—and who has to go to all ends to do it—has something besides glory when the job is done. He can enjoy at least a period of "doing as he darn pleases!"—Lubbock Journal.

THE FUTURE OF RELIEF

There are unemployment problems in times of prosperity as well as in depressions. And, having shouldered the work problem in a depression, Uncle Sam will be asked to continue the relief through the better years ahead. It is being realized at last that prosperity can return despite unemployment.

What to do with these "permanently" unemployed is the question. If the government abandons them now, we will see the return of food riots, soup lines, panhandling, petty thievery, starvation, misery. England set up a permanent policy and called it the dole. We have gravitated toward a policy of public works, which is more expensive but withal more satisfactory than the dole.

They hold to a vain hope who think that private industry can soon employ the hundreds of thousands of misfits and untrained men who are too far from the soil and knowledge of the soil to earn the living that nature intended.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON—After modestly hiding its head under a bushel for many years, one of the great American industries is being dragged out into the light so that credit may be had where credit is due.

This is the business of industrial espionage, which experts of the National Labor Relations Board say has an army of somewhere between 10,000 and 135,000 men and women whose method of earning a living is to spy on and squeal on those who ostensibly are their fellow workers.

Anyone who likes to read detective stories ought to get a careful of the headlines being conducted by Senator LaFollette. Day after day they are producing fascinating real life stories.

Amazingly enough, some of the "fool pigeons" themselves, now more or less reformed, have come on the witness stand to tell how they infiltrated into the ranks of employes and made reports to agencies which subsequently reported to the boss.

Their stories make it easier to understand why the American Federation of Labor has made such a sorry failure of its attempts to organize workers. The labor spy enters a factory or mine and ingratiates himself with employes. He reports the names of any he hears talking union organization and the type likely to use their jobs forthwith.

Sometimes he goes to a union official and helps double-cross his "comrades" from the very inside. The detective agency assigns him a number and gives him elaborate instructions for making such reports, so he won't be caught. Usually there are other spies to check up on him.

Occasionally the spy is caught and sometimes promises to work for the union and double-cross his employer if the union men refrain from beating him up.

Marky go into the business because it's the only work they can get. Judging from the evidence, most employers who engage spies are satisfied if they can learn who the key men are in any movement to unionize their employes and to fire these key men forthwith. But others, evidence indicates, have the union men beaten by agency thugs as a method of discouragement.

City officials have joined labor leaders in charging that agencies supplying spies and strikebreakers often deliberately create framed pictures in the minds of employes. Assistant Solicitor M. Herbert Sims testified that in a recent roundup of strikebreakers in Philadelphia, 49 of 50 arrested were found to have criminal records.

He charged that detective agencies often schemed to keep employes and employes from getting together, lest their profits be lost.

Numerous attempts to "frame" union organizers by female operatives have been described to LaFollette, who hopes to obtain a full Senate investigation of labor spying and civil liberties violations.

Q. Should people rush out of buildings during an earthquake? M. G.

A. University of Montana bulletin says that it is best not to leave a building during a shock. Most of the falling brick from solid brick walls fall out. In the brick veneer on frame construction, the veneer always falls out. A large number of people have been injured by rushing out of doors during the quake in time to be struck down by the walls of the building they just left.

Q. Please give some information about the new interior building in Washington, D. C. E. R.

A. The cost of the building is estimated at $12,000,000. Two city blocks of 5/2 acres, extending from C to E streets, and from 18th to 19th streets, N. W., are covered by the structure. It is 575 feet long by 283 feet wide and will be seven floors in height, with an eighth floor above the central unit, and a basement. Every room is an outside room. There are two miles of corridors, exclusive of which the net usable area is approximately 700,000 square feet. The gross area is 1,000,000 square feet.

Q. What were the Alabama Claims? A. F. D.

A. They were claims of the United States against Great Britain for losses inflicted on shipping by the Alabama, Shenandoah, and other Confederate vessels, fitted out in British ports during the Civil War. The United States claimed $19,021,423 in direct losses and many times that amount in indirect losses. The matter was arbitrated in 1871, and in the following year the Geneva Tribunal awarded the United States an indemnity of $15,500,000 in gold. This was paid by Great Britain in 1873.

Q. Who published the Old Cap Collier Library? I. C.

A. This dime-novel series was published by the house of Munro during the latter part of the 19th Century.

Q. How did Exchange Alley in New Orleans get its name? O. P.

A. "Old New Orleans" by Stanley Arthur says: "The flat marble-faced building on the righthand side of Royal street was the famous Merchants' Exchange during the golden boom days of New Orleans. Erected in 1835-36 at a cost of $100,000 from designs by Charles Bingley Dakin, the building, as it does now, fronted on both Royal street and the Ruelle or alley in the rear. This thoroughfare was created in 1831 and as the exchange was planned to have two entrances, the alley was named Passage de la Bourse or Exchange Passage."

Q. Why was the Roman Colosseum so called? V. T.

A. It is said to have been named from the colossal statue of Nero which stood nearby rather than its own great size.

Q. Are Falstaff and Fastlofe the same Shakespearean character? C. R.

A. They are not. Sir John Falstaff is a wit who appears in Merry Wives of Windsor and in Henry IV. Sir John Fastlofe is the lieutenant general of the Duke of Bedford in Henry VI.

Q. What is the cost to the government of a set of dies for a commemorative coin? W. P. R.

A. The office of the Director of the Mint says that associations which get out commemorative coins pay for the dies and for the design. The dies usually cost $300. The cost of the design varies. The only cost to the government is the supply of coins.

PEEWEE'S PREP FOR DECISIVE CLASH SUNDAY

TO FACE LITTLE ROAD RUNNERS IN THEIR OPENER

Those versatile Magnolia Pee-wees couldn't wait for their disarming to dry off yesterday, so anxious are they to get in top shape for their important clash with the Little Road Runners Sunday. Time and place of the clash has not been determined but it has been suggested the game precede the regular Road Runners game and that seems to be a good idea.

Some of the Pee-wees were out yesterday afternoon throwing the horseshoe. Coach Roy Marshall had Catcher Doyle Auids receiving for Claude Heiskell, and the mentor said that Claude would more than likely be called to the mound in the near future. An intensive workout by the whole team is scheduled today.

Most of the Pee-wees sat in the stands Sunday and saw the Little Road Runners rub out Phillips 66 boys 25 to 0 in seven innings. They speculated often whether they could hit the offerings of Paul Montgomery who was poison to the 66 youngsters. They watched an infield that is every bit as snappy as their own. They saw the Road Runners commit only two errors in their first practice game. They and fans as well wondered whether the Little Road Runners could hit the pitches of their own hurler, Amos Reed.

The Danciger boys will have the advantage of size and years on the Pee-wees, but they will not be more experienced. Every member of the Little Road Runners is as big as the biggest Pee-wee. Manager Joe Parkinson called candidates for his team and around 40 reported. He selected the 12 best players of the lot. He got Fred McGabe, Bob Bailey, Harold Nicholson, A. C. Miller, Leon Crane, Mace Keyser, Ferrel Heard, Jack Cunningham, Carl Moland, Denver Huber, Brownie Boyington, Montgomery. All boys with powerful "wings" and with a keen love for baseball. It was the best team Manager Parkinson could assemble within the 17-year age limit.

It was different with the Pee-wees. The starting lineup has been playing together two years. The Magnolia team was a "closed" organization from the start. Sponsor Howard Buckingham did not bid for possibly better players. There was no call for candidates. It is possible that some of the present Little Road Runners would have tried out for Pee-wee positions if they had had an opportunity.

The Pee-wees felt their lineup couldn't be improved upon by calling for candidates. They are willing to win or lose on their two-year-old club. The lead-off batter is Grover Lee Heiskell, otherwise known as "Pee-wee" who is the most consistent hitter on the team. He plays in the field. He is 13. Doyle Auids is probably a better catcher than the Road Runner back-stop. He can hit better than he did last year. The big sticks in the Pee-wee lineup are Billy Morow, shortstop; Claude Heiskell, first base; Grover Foster, left-field; Dale Mills, third base. On second base is Howard Buckingham, Jr., who plays far better in the field than he hits at the plate. Amos Reed is a fair batter, as is Glenn Dill.

Jockey Suspended On Fouling Count

AUSTIN, April 28 (AP)—The Texas Racing commission today suspended Jockey J. Longden for 10 days on a complaint of fouling in the $10,000 Centennial exhibition handicap in the closing day at Arlington Downs. Longden was astride Rushaway. He was charged with fouling Time Supply, which finished fourth but was given show place when Rushaway was disqualified.

The commission said the suspension, effective until May 5, was upon recommendation of track stewards. The commission received applications for licenses for 8-day meets at the Tri-State fair, Amarillo, May 6 to 16, inclusive, and Midland fair, Inc., Midland, May 23-30, inclusive. Both tracks reported improvements. The Midland track announced $1,000 added handicap purse would be offered May 30, marking the largest purse offered by a so-called "half-mile" track in Texas since legalization of pari-mutuel wagering.

TED HUSING WEDS HARRISON, N. Y., April 28 (AP)—Ted Husing, radio announcer, and Miss Frances Sizer, 23-year-old motion picture actress, were married last night by Justice of the Peace Leo Minizer in Town Hall. Town Clerk William A. Wilding, who issued the license, was the only witness. Husing is 34. His first marriage, to Helen Giffords, ended in divorce. Miss Sizer is the daughter of John H. and Mrs. Bella Roe Sizer.

Big Race of Year To Be Held Saturday Afternoon

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 28, (AP)—Buzzing with horse talk this blue grass turf capital today awaited the 62nd running of the Kentucky Derby.

Four days hence the pick of the three-year olds will answer the bugle call at Churchill Downs for the country's greatest turf classic. Upwards of 50,000 fans from every section of the country are expected to pack the quarter-mile long grandstand from rafter to rafter.

Multi-colored banners, strung across the business streets, gaily dressed windows and the columns of the press quietly reminded one of this derby week. But there was no hysteria. To the visiting laymen, Louisville was taking this derby in stride. Underneath all this seemingly unconcerned appearance, however, there was a restlessness, which, if true, runs true to form, will burst loose with a roar Friday and Saturday, when the multitude, including thousands of Kentucky colonels and admirals, descend on the city. Some 17,000 colonels and admirals were restored to good standing yesterday by acting governor James E. Wise. Hotel clerks carried their straggling look as they sought to find ways to crowd a few more into space, long since reserved. Transportation companies prepared to handle one of the largest crowds in the history of the classic. Business men beamed with delight at the prospects of increased revenue while scores of committees scurried here and there, making last minute preparations for the official opening of derby week tomorrow night.

The downs itself will not assume a festive atmosphere until the day before the race. Today its straggling stands, reaching from the head of the home stretch to the other end, were bare and forsaken, except in spots where a few thousand gathered to watch several of the leading derby candidates match wits in the one mile of "trial."

Across the track in the green-painted barns, there was a different story. Here could be found activity as the horsemen, from the trainers down to the swipes, went about the task of preparing the three-year olds for the big race. Here and there could be found a group of exercise boys or jockeys discussing only one subject—the derby. Almost without exception they picked J. E. Widener's Brevity as the horse to beat over the one and one-quarter miles.

INDIANS LEAD IN AMERICAN WITH 8 WINS

CINCINNATI REDS NOSE OUT CUBS 5 TO 4 IN 10 INNINGS

BY ANDY CLARKE, Associated Press Sports Writer.

American league managers are scanning the record of the Cleveland Indians these days and finding therein little solace for the road that lies ahead. The Indians currently are leading the pack with 8 wins in 11 starts this season. However it isn't the number of victories but the way they scored them that impresses the old hands of baseball campaigning. Steve O'Neil has moulded a cohesive band of ball players who will fight you down the line until the last ball has been pitched and the last blow struck. The Indians have been thumping the horseshoe with vigor and their pitching gets better as the season moves along.

Mel Harder, Oral Hildebrand, Johnny Allen, Lloyd Brown, and George Blaeholder all have been showing plenty of stuff and if Willis Hudlin takes a new lease on life the Indians will have a pitching staff that may make the fans forget about the Tigers, the Red Sox, the Yankees and the rest. Harold Trosky, the fence buster; Earl Averill, Joe Vosmik, and Bruce Campbell seem capable of taking care of the heavy batting chores.

Blaeholder came into his own in his first start of the season yesterday when he held the St. Louis Browns to seven hits and won his game 2-1, but it was Campbell's homer in the seventh that provided the winning run. It was the only game played in the American league, the only other major league contest being played in the National circuit where the Cincinnati Reds nosed out the Cubs 5-4 in 10 innings. Ernie Lombardi's double with two gone in the last of the tenth started the Reds on the road to victory. Tommy Thevenow met one of Lon Warneke's slants for a single and the game was over.

Sports Roundup

NEW YORK, April 28, (AP)—They couldn't pull the wool over the eyes of the San Diego newspapers. They came right out and tagged the proposal to shift the Schmeling-Louis fight to the coast as a "cheap publicity stunt." Said it did the town more harm than good. Tom Sweeney says in the Worcester (Mass.) Gazette that those New York scribes who want to bet Joe Di Maggio will not play 50 games for the Yanks this year can find plenty of takers in Worcester.

Col. Matt Winn, boss of the Kentucky derby, visited New York recently and had dinner in Jack Dempsey's spot. The tunnel liked the way Bill Charlton, head barkeep, served ten up and invited Bill to see the derby. Yesterday Bill got a letter enclosing railroad tickets, an order for hotel accommodations and clubhouse passes. He'll be right there when the bugle blows Saturday.

Ray Carlin, manager of Frankie Kluck, is around again after several tough months in a hospital. Now they're calling the Red Sox the Yawkeybits. Detroit fans are riding Mickey Cochrane. A large part of the turf mob is converging on Detroit for the Narragansett opening Saturday. More than 400 life-time passes to all major league ball parks have been sent to old ball players. All Flatbush is raving about Ben Geraghty, former Villanova star, at shortstop.

TENNIS COACHES WILL BE ON WATCH FOR TALENT SATURDAY

AUSTIN, April 28, (AP)—Tennis coaches will carefully scrutinize high school court stars at Saturday's University of Texas Interscholastic League finals in search of talent for collegiate competition and the chances were the survey would be richly rewarded.

A search of the record discloses that many of the Interscholastic League tennis stars have rocketed to national and international fame, list including Berkeley Bell, former intercollegiate champion and a high ranking player before he recently turned professional, Bruce Barnes, Earl Taylor, Karl Kamrath and George and Russell Ball of El Paso. Bell was a member of the doubles team that won the state schoolboy title in 1924. He later captained the University of Texas team and won the National Intercollegiate singles crown in 1929. In 1926, Barnes and Earl Taylor won over stiff competition to take the high school doubles championship and four years later this same combination won the Southwest conference championship. Barnes also teamed with Bell in 1929 to take the doubles title. Kamrath and Taylor were school-

Oklahoma City Indians Lead Texas League After Victory

Fort Worth Defeated 11th Straight Time

The Oklahoma City Indians, Texas League champions last year, led the loop league today for the first time this season.

Headed for the top spot for several days, the champions made the final rung last night by defeating the cellar-holding Fort Worth Cats, 10 to 5, at Fort Worth, while Beaumont was downing Houston, 5 to 3, at Houston to drop the Buffaloes into second place. San Antonio defeated Galveston, 11 to 6, and the Dallas Steers were forced to go 10 innings before stopping the Tulsa Oilers, 10 to 6.

The Fort Worth loss was the 11th in a row for the Cats. The Indians took advantage of practically all the 14 hits they got off Wiltse and Shoffner. Although the Cats collected 11 blows off Klaerner and Whit-they failed to make them count.

The Houston Buffs had been riding on top of the heap since the season opened, although they had found hard sledding the last two days. The win was the third in a row for Beaumont over the Buffs. The Exporters made all their scores in a fourth inning rally.

Mills, Talley and Hillin divided time on the mound to hold the Galveston Bucs to five hits in a ragged game at San Antonio. San Antonio errors and walks let the Bucs make one more run than they did hits.

The Dallas Steers' victory over Tulsa left them undefeated at home. The Steers had to work for it, however. The contest was nip and tuck all the way and was deadlocked in the eighth. A scoreless ninth followed and the Steers managed to get one in the extra frame.

Mrs. Fred McCarty underwent a minor operation at Pampa-Jarratt hospital this morning.

Frogs Trounce Aggies 11 to 5

(By The Associated Press) The Texas Aggies close on the heels of the University of Texas Longhorns for the Southwest conference baseball title was slowed somewhat by the deceptive hurling of Aubrey Linne, Texas Christian ace.

Using an under-hand delivery, Linne limited the Aggies to 3 hits to give the Christians an 11 to 5 victory yesterday at Fort Worth. In nearly all other games this season the Aggies had experienced little trouble at bat.

The Rice Owls turned in a good job of batting to beat the Southern Methodist Mustangs, 10 to 6, at Dallas. The Owls bunched 9 of their 17 hits off Gilker in two innings. Wiggenser held the Ponies to 12 blows.

MISS JAMESON AND CHANDLER ARE FAVORITES

MATCH PLAY STARTS IN WOMEN'S GOLF TOURNAMENT

By FELIX R. M'KNIGHT
As-Associated Press Sports Writer
SAN ANTONIO, April 28. (AP)—Two old links rivals, Mrs. Dan Chandler of Dallas and Miss Betty Jameson of San Antonio, took favored positions as match play started today in the 20th annual Texas Women's Golf association tourney.

They renewed their friendly feud in the qualifying round yesterday over the San Antonio Country club course with Mrs. Chandler coming off best by two strokes with her well-played 79.

The luck of the draw and their medal scores placed Mrs. Chandler and Miss Jameson in opposite brackets and the railbirds picked them to weather stiff opposition and meet in the 36-hole match Saturday.

Quarter finalist in the National Amateur tourney last year, Mrs. Chandler meets Mrs. Tate, San Antonio tourney veteran, in her first round match.

Miss Jameson, who registered from the Austin Country club but attends high school here, rallied gamely on the final nine holes but missed her chance to tie Mrs. Chandler's 79 by three putting in home green. She had 42-39-81.

The big surprise of the medal round was the play of Mrs. W. W. Negley, San Antonio. Never better than 86 in her life and playing for the first time in nearly three weeks, Mrs. Negley easily draped herself in the "dark horse" clothing by shooting 39-42-81.

Steady playing gave Mrs. Jack Lapham of San Antonio, five times state champion, 43-43-86, while Miss Marie Levi of Dallas, up-and-coming young star, equalled the round.

Mrs. R. E. Winger, the Fort Worth veteran, shot 46-42-88; Mrs. E. J. Roe of San Antonio, 44-45-89; Miss Helen Warren of Dallas, 44-44-88 and Mrs. Otto Armstrong of El Paso, many times southwestern champion, 47-44-91.

All of the favorites had comparatively easy opposition in the first round but the match between Miss Jane Hopkins, Dallas youngest, and Mrs. C. M. McCullough, Amarillo veteran, was expected to produce the best golf of the day.

The board of governors selected Texarkana as the 1937 tourney site and voted to allow two municipal players from each city and town to compete next year. They would be selected in elimination tournaments and would be permitted to have their entries on file with the board prior to April 1, 1937. The winner and runner-up of the state munny tournament will automatically become eligible.

Mrs. Sydney Hurst of Dallas was elected association president. Mrs. E. J. Roe of San Antonio, vice president, and Miss Hilda Urbantke of Austin, secretary.

Chapter XXVIII
Toby went with Jay Hillier to see "Here Comes the Queen." The play was gay and amusing and brilliantly staged. The star was a radiant and graceful dancer—a dynamic little creature who looked scarcely older than Toby herself. She sang almost as well as she danced and her costumes were dazzlingly lovely. Toby said, over her shoulder to Hillier, "She's beautiful, isn't she?"

He agreed. Toby, intent on the scene behind the footlights, was not aware in the country. "You make it sound attractive," he said, "yet I imagine there are hundreds of girls who have all those things who would be glad to change places with you."

"Then they'd be making a mistake," he said. "I have a country place." Hillier's tone was sober. "It's in Connecticut. I don't seem to be able to spend much time there."

In New York, she knew, he lived at a hotel in the very elegant hotel where everything he could possibly want was supplied him. "I should think you'd like being in the country," Toby told him.

"I might, if there were someone there to make it seem like home. Most of the time it doesn't seem worth the bother to make the trip out there. Getting old, I guess—"

Hillier had often made references to his age. He did it jokingly, yet Toby felt that the fact that the year was creeping on disturbed him. She didn't know how old he was. At first she had thought of him as definitely middle-aged, but now that she knew him better he seemed younger. He was leanly-built, athletic. She knew he liked sports, though it seemed to have little time for them. He might be 40 or he might be closer to 50. That, of course, was old to Toby.

It was a day or so after that drive into the country that Harriet found Len Logan's column in the evening newspaper and showed it to Toby. The columnist had written:

"What soap manufacturer whose initials are 'J. H.' is being seen about the hot spots these spring evenings with the oh-so-prettiest young thing whose picture appears in the soap advertisements? Although the report has been denied, friends hint that the couple will middle-aisle it within a few weeks." Harriet put down the newspaper with a flourish. "Well," she said, "what about it?"

"It's easy enough to know who Logan means. What about it? If there's going to be a wedding I'd like to know about it."

Toby took the newspaper and read it for herself. "Oh!" she said, "why do they print such things! It's dreadful—they haven't any right—"

"Maybe not, but what I want to know is, is it true?" "Of course it's not true—that is, if you think it's about—"

"I know who it's about all right. How many soap manufacturers do you think there are in New York whose initials are 'J. H.'?" "But it's not true, Harriet. And it spoils things so. Mr. Hillier's been awfully nice to me, but we're just friends. There's nothing more to it than that. I think it's dreadful for anyone to try to make out that there is. I wish this hadn't happened!" "Don't worry about it," Harriet said easily. "I just wanted to get it straight—"

Rangers Probe Center Killing

CENTER, April 28 (AP)—Ranger Dan Hings was here today investigating the slaying of Morrie Childs, former Shelby county treasurer, shot while brushing his teeth in the bathroom of his home here last Thursday night.

Two men were held in jail for investigation and officers had questioned a woman, but no charges had been filed.

Investigators said they found powder burns on the screen of the bathroom window, indicating the shot which killed Childs, 35, was fired at close range. The bullet penetrated behind his ear. It was fired from a small-caliber pistol.

The crowd of curious persons which gathered around the house after the shooting obliterated any footprints which might have been left by the assassin.

Justice of the Peace John Caroll returned a coroner's verdict of murder.

The two suspects in jail were reported seen in Center the day of the shooting. One of them lives at Jefferson and the other at Deadwood. Sheriff J. B. Hamble said he expected other arrests would be made soon.

Road Runners Are Looking For Team To Play Sunday

Hitting To Be Given Emphasis in Practice

The Road Runners are looking for a game for Sunday afternoon. They want strong opposition, Manager Sam Hale believing that the stiffer the competition in the spring the better the team in the end.

After two straight losses the disposition of the boys hasn't improved. The horsehide is scheduled to get some tough mauling between now and the next game, which will be against the House of David on the night of May 8 unless a game can be scheduled for Sunday.

Defensively, the club has been shaping up fine. Offensively, the situation has been different. Manager Hale will spend the rest of this week making his pitchers throw everything on the list at the batters who will be given all the hitting practice they want.

During spring training the hitters want to battle for all the time at the plate. This spring the Road Runners will get their wish. They will be allowed to stay at the plate until they get tired or until they get their eye on the ball. It is base hits that pay off and since the opening game the Road Runners have not been getting the necessary base knocks.

Sam Scaling, last year with the Road Runners, will be here with the House of David. Sam will be in left field and will be hitting in fifth position. He replaces "Joe Brown" Deck in the lineup. The other new man with the Davids will be Bill Steinecke, a catcher, who used to be with the Detroit Tigers.

The rest of the team will be composed of players who participated in games here during the last three years. The famous pepper game will be staged again this year.

Ranger Captain R. H. McCormick was due here tonight to work with Hines and local officers.

SENATOR CLAIMS POOR PEOPLE ARE FORCED TO EAT DOG MEAT

WASHINGTON, April 28 (AP)—Asailing what he termed the administration's doctrine of "scarcity," Senator Dickinson (R., Ia.) told the Senate today many Americans were "living on food unfit for even dogs to eat."

Pleading for enforcement of the pure food laws, Dickinson in a lengthy prepared address, referred to President Roosevelt's statement in his Atlanta speech November 25 last that the American today was living on a "third class diet" because of lack of purchasing power to eat more and better food, and added:

"Destroying millions of hogs forced millions of people to go hungry; abandoning millions of acres of grain put prices for decent American food out of reach for millions of decent American families!"

"As the logical and inevitable consequence of his deliberate and wicked waste, for the first time, we have Americans living on food unfit for even dogs to eat! And I mean that statement literally."

Dickinson, who has been mentioned for the republican presidential nomination, spoke at the outset to only three Senators, one republican and two democrats.

The Iowa declared the annual production of dog meat amounted to 500,000,000 cans annually with a retail value of $40,000,000.

He said the production has increased by leaps and bounds and could be attributed by agriculture department inspectors to only one thing—that it is being used for "human beings."

JONES AND HOPKINS
WASHINGTON, April 28 (AP)—The Works Progress administration today had the benefit of Bobby Jones' knowledge of how golf courses should be constructed. The former champion discussed the construction of courses at length yesterday with Administrator Harry L. Hopkins. The WPA has built or improved some 600 courses during the last year.

Scores at Skeet Range Are Good

Several good scores were registered at the Pampa Skeet Club range on Sunday afternoon. Shooting conditions were fairly favorable although the sky was overcast.

Collie George led the way with a 48 out of a possible 50. Jerry Rogers and Roy Wilmesmeier each registered 46's and Tom Perkins scored a 45. Billy Davis, 15-year-old son of a Mrs. Mel B. Davis, made the veterans perk up when he scored a 41. Young Davis started shooting last fall.

Several newcomers were welcomed at the range and scores by them were high for novices. Among those participating were B. W. Rose, W. M. Castleberry, M. D. Oden, Harry Bell, and Bill Kelley.

The range, located a mile east of the city limits on U. S. Highway 60, will be open every Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The public is invited to shoot on the range.

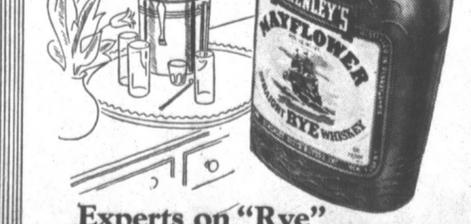

Toby heard these questions and others again and again. She answered as well as she could and she tried to be enthusiastic when Harriet talked of Clyde and their plans.

That was the hardest. Toby still distrusted Clyde Sabin. She hated to think Harriet was going to marry him, and there wasn't a thing in the world that she could do about it. She couldn't say, "Har-

FIVE GIRLS GO TO RALLY HELD IN SAN ANGELO

Home-Making Meet Is Three-Day Affair

Five girls, Dorothy Burton, Clara Marie Hartell, Mattie Brown, Mary Price, and Rosemary Hampton, accompanied by Mrs. J. B. Massa participated last week in the three-day Home-Making rally conducted at San Angelo by the Home-Making Division of the state department of education and state schools co-operating. The rally started Thursday and continued through Saturday. More than 1500 girls attended.

The local contestants took part in both clothing and foods contests. Dorothy Burton modeled her tailored dress; Mary Price modeled her special occasion dress; Rosemary Hampton selected accessories for clothing; Clara Marie Hartell took part in the selection of materials and finishing for tailored dresses; and Mattie Brown participated in the planning of luncheon and appetizers and in the personal appearance and selection of clothing contest.

Among the persons appearing on the convention programs were Maxine Kinsel, state president of home economics clubs, Corpus Christi; Mary Peck, state H. E. C. vice-president, Lubbock; and W. E. Copeland, state secretary, Austin; Nell Parnley, state director of music, Austin; and Mrs. Minnie Fisher Cunningham, director of public, Texas A. & M., College Station.

Banquets were given for the girls Friday evening at the two largest hotels in San Angelo. One was given in the ballroom of the Cactus hotel while the other was staged in the rear garden of the St. Angelo hotel. Afterward, a dance was given at the Mayor hotel in honor of the visiting home economics girls.

The local group was driven to San Angelo by Charlie Burton. The return trip was made Sunday.

The Lot of the Vanishing American

Since the advent of European ways and manners in America the Indian, sometimes called the "Vanishing American," has been hard put to it to maintain his place among men. In fact, he has fallen. From the time Columbus first touched North America to the discovery of oil in Oklahoma, the Indian has always had the worst deal, because he cannot adjust himself to the civilization that has been forced upon him. He belongs to another age. The Spanish missionaries made the "first American" work and tried to convert him to Christianity. His natural reaction was to rebel against what he considered French leave of justice.

The Indian had always been friendly until he discovered the ways of the palefaces, and then his friendliness changed to hate, to stolid, cold hostility. But what can one expect? His liberty outraged, he reverted to primitive methods to exterminate his hated foe. But even his most clever devices were not enough. He fought with the bow and arrow, but his more scientific, deadly antagonists used guns. Conquered, he was given cast-off land, on which even to subsist was a near-miracle. But in giving the Indian this barren rocky soil, the federal government reckoned without nature. Black oil spouted through the gold of the sickly, freed wheat fields, and overnight the

CHILDISH GARB IS FEATURE OF 'KID' DAY HERE

Seniors Cast Aside Restraint and Frolic

Pampa seniors lost their dignified air and reverted to their childhood ways Friday on senior "Kid" day. It was not a strange sight to see a 6-foot youngster in rompers riding his scooter down the sidewalks and yelling at the top of his voice.

Stickers were abundant and proved especially popular with the little senior girls. Long curls and knee breeches were much in evidence, as were skull caps and cap pistols.

Senior sponsors entered into the planning of luncheon and appetizers and in the personal appearance and selection of clothing contest.

Among the persons appearing on the convention programs were Maxine Kinsel, state president of home economics clubs, Corpus Christi; Mary Peck, state H. E. C. vice-president, Lubbock; and W. E. MIAMI Mourns Death of Two Pioneer Women

MIAMI, April 28.—Miami lost two of her oldest and most respected pioneer citizens Sunday. Mrs. J. E. Reed, 69, passed away at the home of her son, Noah W. Reed, Sunday afternoon. She is the mother of ten children, eight of whom survive her. Her husband preceded her in death eight years ago. Funeral services were held at the cemetery Monday afternoon with the Rev. James Todd Jr., of Pampa, in charge.

Sunday evening, Mrs. H. L. Powers, 79, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. C. S. Seiber, with whom she has been making her home for the last few years. Mrs. Powers is well known throughout this section having resided here since 1894. She is survived by three daughters, Mrs. C. S. Seiber, Miami; Mrs. N. P. Willis, Pampa; Mrs. Frank Exum, Sr., Shamrock; and one son, L. E. Powers, of Mobeetie. The body was taken to Canadian where funeral services were held today (Tuesday) at the Methodist church. Pastor Haynes and Rev. Fred Dawson, Presbyterian minister, were in charge.

DAR Condemns Peace Movement As Communistic

WASHINGTON, April 28.—The Daughters of the American Revolution today termed the American Student Union part of a "communist controlled" youth movement, praised two other student groups and heard Senator Reynolds (D., N. C.) charge that millions of aliens are usurping American jobs.

In a resolution, the continental congress of the organization said the student union is "the most insidious and well directed unit" in an attack against the American form of government.

The student groups commended were the "Student Americans" and the "Practical Pacifists."

In another resolution the Daughters urged members to purchase only American-made flags.

Reynolds said the DAR's stand for reducing immigration quotas, deporting illegal entrants and alien criminals and registering and fingerprinting aliens, embodies "the very principles which I am trying to get enacted into law."

He complimented the organization for "carrying on in a courageous way in its efforts to restrict immigration."

"There are today arriving in our country thousands upon thousands of more aliens to usurp American jobs," he said.

"Some two million aliens gainfully employed in the United States last year earned approximately $2,100,000,000."

"In view of these startling facts, I am sure that you will agree that we are fortunate in not having more than 12,000,000 unemployed."

"It is estimated that Uncle Sam spends $50,000,000 a year for the education of the children of aliens."

Cross Children May Need Simple Laxative
When children are cross and fussy, give them Feen-a-mint, the delightful, chewing gum laxative. Feen-a-mint begins its pleasant effect as soon as you chew through it. Its stomach-settling mint brings a clean, fresh taste to the mouth. As you chew out the laxative ingredient which is absolutely tasteless, the flow of digestive juices is increased. The laxative is mixed with these juices and carried into the system evenly and gently. Feen-a-mint doesn't gripe, nauseate or cause upset. It passes through the stomach and into the bowels so scientifically that the action is wonderfully easy and thorough. Try the pleasant, refreshing Feen-a-mint way. Doctors prescribe its laxative ingredient for both children and adults. Sold on a money back guarantee. Generous family size package 15c and 25c.

Huge Profits of AT&T in 23-Year Period Outlined

WASHINGTON, April 28 (AP)—Evidence that American Telephone and Telegraph company long-distance operations netted $180,000,000 of profit in excess of a 6 per cent return on investments over a 23-year period was given today to the Communications commission. Testifying at a hearing in the commission's investigation of the big utility, J. A. Kurg, as FCC accountant, introduced exhibits saying that long-distance activities of the A. T. & T. "have been relatively free from regulation." The exhibit said that "a remarkable record of high profit has characterized the long lines operation" of the A. T. & T. For the 23-year period ended last December 31, Kurg said long-line operations netted over $400,000,000. This, he said, "exceeded a 6 per cent return on the average net plant investment by more than $180,000,000," and was "over $145,000,000 above a 7 per cent return on the net plant investments."

Prince Farouk Is 'Perfectly Educated Boy'

LONDON, April 28. (AP)—Egypt's new king is the 16-year-old Crown Prince Farouk, whose teachers have described him as the "perfectly educated boy."

The death of his father, King Fuad I, came on the eve of the prince's planned departure for Cairo from King House, Kingston Hill, where he has been studying for entrance to the Royal Military academy at Woolwich.

The six-foot prince will rule under a regency until he is 18 years old, his father having left a sealed envelope containing his choice for regents.

Good looking, affable, and unusually mature in appearance, Farouk has been carefully educated from childhood in keeping with his father's maxim: "It is nothing to be a prince, but it is something to be useful."

The prince has been a resident of England since last October, living in a large stone mansion with a personal staff. Farouk was not immediately informed of his father's death, pending the receipt of official word from Cairo.

The new king reads widely and is an ardent stamp collector, a good amateur photographer, and a round sportsman. His favorite sports are boxing, swimming and polo.

MARKET BRIEFS

NEW YORK, April 28. (AP)—There were selected recoveries of fractions market, but many of the recent leaders again were in retreat.

Scattered rails and specialties gave the best performance, while the steels, motor and copper were slow to rally. The close was irregular. Transfers were around 2,250,000 shares.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, April 28. (AP)—The market continued to decline during the morning and May sold off to 11.37, July dipped below the 11-cent level to 10.99, while Oct. sold at 10.17 and Dec at 10.19.

A detailed weather map showed that Texas had experienced torrential rains overnight and the showers extended northeast through Arkansas and North Louisiana. Some weather stations in Texas reported more than two inches of rain for the past 24 hours.

Concessions to Farms in Dust Bowl Are Sought

WASHINGTON, April 28. (AP)—Pleas for special concessions to farmers living in the southwestern "dust bowl" went ahead at the AAA today despite widespread rains in that area over the week-end.

Officials pointed to sharp decreases in the wheat market as an indication that the week-end rains were highly beneficial to crops.

However, one official said, the rainfall in the "dust bowl" still was far below normal. The moderate decrease of the large producing areas, declining 12,600 barrels for a total of 557,100 barrels daily while East Texas showed a slight increase, 1,146 barrels for a total of 452,424.

The AAA announced Sunday the approval of several special soil conserving practices under the new farm program for use in the drought area, and it was reported that a supplementary announcement would be made soon.

The concessions will permit farmers to receive payments for adopting practices which are not a basis for payment in other areas.

Summer fallow practices, planting in sorghum as a cover crop, restoration of crop lands to native pasture and contour listing or furrowing are among the special practices approved for the drought areas.

Young Mother Runs Foundry, Likes Flowers

SAN ANGELO (AP)—Mrs. B. W. Willis, who is blonde and weighs 115 pounds, thinks she "would raise flowers" if she wasn't the only woman foundry operator in Texas.

She assumed management of her husband's iron works in 1930 when he died but the work wasn't new. "I first learned enough about the office business to take care of things when Mr. Willis was away," the young business woman explains. "Then in 1927 and '28 I went into the shop and learned to operate the machines."

Knows Her Business

Mrs. Willis is not satisfied, however, to manage the business or lend a hand at a machine when necessary. After her husband's death she learned drafting, designing, and organizes the patterns for all ornamental iron work, porch furniture and stair rails that the shop produces.

The Willis shop which covers 9,500 square feet of ground floor space, specializes in custom repair work, custom foundry work and manufacturing.

In addition to repair and foundry work the company manufactures heavy road building equipment, spudders and parts for oil and water wells, manhole covers and many smaller articles.

Black-Draught Good Laxative

Black-Draught has been kept on hand for all the family in the home of Mr. W. A. Lemons, of Independence, Va., since twenty years ago. Mr. Lemons writes that he takes it as a laxative in cases of "headache, dull, tired feeling, biliousness."

"And I take it if I feel uncomfortable after a heavy meal," he adds. "I especially use it for sick headache. It certainly is good."

When a man says "Black-Draught is good," it is probably because he remembers the prompt, refreshing relief it brought in constipation troubles. Its benefits are felt because it is a simple, herb laxative, so natural in composition and action that thousands and thousands of men and women prefer it when a laxative is needed. (Adv.)

carry the wheat into harvest—if there is any wheat. Now what are we saying? It is this: Give us fall rains and winter snows and we'll give you a wheat crop. For you can depend upon May rains as upon no other factor. And you can write it down that the combines will be needed in July of 1936.

We're not afraid of horses and horse flies which will come with the Centennial. We are an excellent judge of what horses "stay off of." Not so good a judge of bucking steers, we just stay off of all of them. Our training was in the school of experience. Our best teachers were fellows with more judgment but—as a result—less experience. Horse flies are not bad either. But we have to think of the result if any "heel flies" come to town and find some of these 1936-model flappers wearing these sandal-like shoes.

WE HAD A nice "reunion" with Jap Todd of Canadian yesterday. We hadn't seen Jap in several years. As a youth we were neighbors with his family, in the ranch sense. We had the same neighbors, some of them first class feudists. A few died by the gun, some through mishaps, others through the uncertainties of this life. More vividly, as the years pass, seem those early years in the Panhandle. . . . Compelled to take it easy for awhile, Jap says he is "living right" and that the rains are falling on his place.

Ethiopian Troops Back in Capital

ADDIS ABABA, April 28. (AP)—Thousands of Ethiopian troops, war-like exhausted and hobbling on bare feet, began to stream in today from the northern front.

Most of them prime fighters of the Wallaga Province army, they presented a sharp contrast to the fiery Wallaga warriors who paraded last November before Emperor Haile Selassie.

Famished and gaunt from lack of food and water, the refugees established their quarters in a large camp outside the capital, by order of Crown Prince Asfa Woson, so that Addis Ababa might maintain its status as an "open town."

Many of them were wounded and were carried on roughly improvised stretchers.

Those not wounded dragged guns picked up from their fallen comrades.

"My father, my brothers and my friends have been killed," some explained.

"We can fight the Italians, but God looked the other way when brother ate brother and gas surrounded us day and night."

The ferrence to "brother" meant treachery by other Ethiopian tribes.

TO ABOLISH RULE

council until he comes of age on his 18th birthday, further complicates matters politically.

The proper handling of the situation by British officials may, it was pointed out by authorities, do much, on the other hand, to reestablish British prestige and further the idea of Anglo-Egyptian cooperation.

In official circles, the situation is regarded as further complicated by the prevailing tenacity in the Mediterranean.

Regents Names Unknown

All Cairo was wondering today when the sealed envelope, containing the names of Egypt's nominees for the regency council of three would be opened. Those eligible for the nomination are princes, former premiers, ministers, former ministers, presidents and former presidents of parliament.

of rest medicine like mother gave me," McCasland quoted Dorothy as saying. "It makes me sick."

McCasland said his daughter uttered the words early the morning of February 17, several hours before she died.

He said she made the statement in response to his questions as to whether she wanted some "rest medicine."

"I know I'm going to die and I don't care," the girl said, according to McCasland. "Little Billie Fae is gone."

Mrs. Patterson, the witness testified, was with him at the child's bedside waiting for the arrival of a physician.

Dorothy begged for a doctor and I asked Mrs. Patterson if we had better call one, but she said, "No, wait until morning."

Mother Came for Him.

McCasland said Mrs. Patterson "came after him" Tuesday, February 11, at the home of his father near Sulphur Springs and he remained at Dorothy's bedside until Friday.

"When I arrived, she was vomiting, complained of burning up, but her hands and feet were cold," he testified. "She improved and I returned to father's home Friday and went back Saturday. She was worse, vomiting, cramping, and begging for water."

At 2 a. m. Monday, McCasland said the child became worse.

"At 1 o'clock I went to town for tobacco, leaving the child asleep and resting well," he continued. "When I returned, her mother and Annie Cooper, the maid, were up and the child was awake complaining."

It was then that the child told her mother she was going to die, complained about the medicine making her sick and begged for a doctor, McCasland testified.

Annie called the doctor at 8 o'clock next morning and said he was there in an hour. When the hour had passed, Dorothy said: "The hour has passed and the doctor hasn't come."

McCasland listed the names of several persons present when the child died and said Dr. Alvin Waller told him:

"If she ever calls me again, I'm going to leave town."

Poison Found.

Dr. Moore reported finding poison in the bodies of Dorothy and a sister, Billie Fae McCasland, 11 after they were exhumed last month.

In 1902 in the same court room he set up a chemical apparatus, poisoned a frog and explained the stages of his analysis to a jury trying a man for poisoning his wife. The defendant was assessed the death penalty.

Virtually all of the state's testimony against the 34-year-old Commerce widow, who pleaded innocence, had centered on the poison angle, the only departure being mention of an insurance policy on the child's life.

C. W. Ambrose, Greenville insurance agent, showed photostatic copies of two insurance policies amounting to $551 on the child's life and of a draft for that amount. The agent said that when he urged Mrs. Patterson to take out more insurance, she answered that "I can't afford it."

The state attempted to show Mrs. Patterson bought poison shortly before the child died early this year and that there had been specula-
