EXTRAORDINARY
SESSION TO BE HELD MONDAY

COMMITTEE CONVINCED
CONCILIATION IS IMPOSSIBLE

BY JOSEPH E. SHARKEY
(Copyright, 1936, By The Associated Press)
GENEVA, April 17.—The League of Nations committee of 13 agreed today that attempts to effect a conciliation in the Italo-Ethiopian war have failed.

It is this committee which, for months past, has tried to effect peace in East Africa through diplomatic channels.

Its decision came after the Ethiopian delegation had rejected modified peace proposals submitted by Premier Mussolini of Italy.

The committee decided to convolve the league council to extraordinary sessions next Monday to discuss the Italo-Ethiopian conflict in the presence of the representatives of the two belligerents.

(While Italy is a member of the council and Ethiopia is not, on several previous occasions during the Italo-Ethiopian controversy, both nations have been represented at council sessions. However, the Italian delegates usually have withdrawn when the Ethiopians entered.)

Early in the day, France had appealed to the Italian government to consent to a cessation of hostilities in order to permit peace negotiations.

Several members of the committee of 13, arriving for that body's meeting, said that in view of Ethiopia's rejection, there seemed to be nothing to do except declare that conciliation efforts had collapsed.

The league announced, as the commission went into session shortly after 4 p. m., that it had received a cablegram direct from Addis Ababa in which the Ethiopian government declared the capital had been attacked by Italian airplanes which fired on the city with machine guns.

Records Tumble
In Track-Field
Meet Prelims

Two old records tumbled this morning as preliminaries in the District 2 Interscholastic league track and field meet got under way at Harvester field. With only 13 teams entered, competition was keener than in past meets.

Ford, Wheeler's big field threat, hoisted the shot a few inches past the 45-foot mark to break the record of 41 feet 2 inches set by J. R. Green of Pampa last year.

Harrellson of Booker bettered the broad jump record by 2 1/2 inches when he leaped 20 feet 2 1/2 inches. The old record was held by Holton of Spearman.

As expected, James of Hedley controlled the 100-yard and 200-yard dashes. The little speedster, who lacks form and pounds the turf when he runs, had a 20-yard lead on one time in qualifying for the 220-yard event. He also romped away in the short distance, coasting at the end in slow time.

The hurdles were more closely contested with Pampa, White Deer and Mobeetie showing strength.

Ayer and Hartman of Pampa, paced the javelin throwers. Harrellson and Hartman had a stiff tussle in the discus with the Booker boys having the advantage by inches.

Finals were set for 2:30 o'clock this afternoon.

Plainview Calves
Bring Big Prices

KANSAS CITY, April 17 (AP)—The 930-pound champion calf of the Plainview, Texas, fat stock show sold here today for $125 per hundred pounds.

Doss Buntin, 20 owner of the calf and one of a group of Plainview 4-H club boys who shipped their stock show animals to the Kansas City market, said he planned to pay college expenses with the money he received from the sale of the champion and 14 other steers he sold today.

The reserve champion calf from Plainview brought $11.50 per hundred for its owner, Wayne Hopper, a 10-year-old orphan. He lives with an uncle, O. O. McClain. The reserve champion weighed 730 pounds.

The 140 cattle and 99 sheep shipped here from Plainview brought prices slightly better than the regular market, Kansas City livestock exchange officials said.

The champion lamb of the Plainview show was sold by Jack McGarr for $13.50 per hundred pounds.

I Saw . . .

The little bugs going to town in a big way in the district meet this morning. Magic City defeated Booker in the tennis doubles and lost to Panhandle in the singles, both in the girls division.

W. R. Postma, Mack Graham, John Mullen and A. L. Patrick, all enthusiastic Scouters, leaving for Oklahoma City where they will see that city's famed Scout virus in the Coliseum, which annually attracts about 20,000 spectators. The Pampanos will probably use some of the ideas in the local Centennial Scout program.

SENATE IMPEACHES U. S. JUDGE

As Roosevelt Fired Opening Gun of Campaign

"I say do something . . . and if it does not work, do something else!" was the ringing keynote on which President Roosevelt opened his campaign for re-election in a speech before 20,000 young democrats in Baltimore. At the left he is pictured exhorting his audience to support of his social reform program, and is pointed out by the circle in the general view.

BITTER GUILTY ON 7TH VOTE OF SENATORS

JURIST CONVICTED OF BRINGING COURT INTO SCANDAL

WASHINGTON, April 17. (AP)—Federal Judge Halsey L. Ritter of Florida was convicted by the Senate today on a House impeachment charge that he had brought his court "into scandal and disrepute."

The verdict automatically removed the 66-year old jurist from the bench.

Conviction came on the seventh and last ballot when the vote was 55 for conviction to 28 against, exactly two-thirds of those voting, which was required under the constitution.

On the first six articles Ritter was acquitted, although on the first charge—that Ritter allowed an excessive fee of $75,000 to A. L. Rankin, former law partner, in a receivership case and "corruptly" accepted $4,500 from Rankin afterward—the vote was 55 to 29, needing only a single switch to change the result.

Ritter had sat with arms folded across his chest during the seven roll-calls to which senators answered "guilty" or "not guilty."

The last article combined all the previous six in one and charged the actions complained of had brought Ritter's court "into scandal and disrepute."

Senator Austin (R., Va.) immediately challenged the final vote, making a point of order that Ritter could not under the law be convicted of an "omnibus" count when he had been declared innocent of the charges separately.

Austin contended such conviction, if upheld, would be "monstrous." Senator Robinson, the democratic leader, held Austin was not in order when he began a legal argument and Senator Pittman (D., Nev.) who was presiding, upheld Robinson.

Pittman then ruled Austin's point was not well taken and Austin sat down. Pittman said the article charged "general misbehavior" and was a separate count in itself.

Ritter, who sat throughout the voting near the Vice President's rostrum, apparently was unmoved by the decision.

Ritter, a native of Indiana who practiced law in Denver for 30 years before going to Florida 11 years ago, was charged with conspiracy to foment a receivership suit, granting exorbitant fees in the case, unlawfully accepting $4,500 from A. L. Rankin, a former law partner, and other offenses.

Ritter walked slowly from the chamber. Removing a wrapper from a cigar he said:

"I have nothing to say. God, you can see why I have nothing to say. I'm going back to Florida."

MONACO PRINCE GIVES TIP THAT CAUSES ARREST

Paris Held in Paris For Theft of Securities

PARIS, April 17 (AP)—Two cousins, both of whom said they didn't know what it was all about, were held today by the Paris police on a charge of being connected with the theft of $1,507,938 in securities Jan. 28, 1935, from a New York bank runner.

The cousins gave their names as Bernard Klein, 39, a Hungarian, and Jacob Schwartz, 34, Czech.

Parisian police officials said they had been trailing the two men for weeks and that they had recovered $440,000 in United States treasury certificates from them.

(A spokesman for Police Commissioner Lewis J. Valentine of New York said the "tip" which led to the arrest of the two suspects came from a beautiful woman with a villa in Monte Carlo and from the Prince of Monaco.)

Parisian police authorities said they were seeking possible accomplices and that their prisoners would be held "temporarily" pending a request from the United States for their extradition from France.

AGED DOCTOR DIES
MINERAL WELLS, April 17. (AP)—Dr. James Holland McCorkle, who would have been 80 years old Monday, died in a hospital here today of pneumonia.

ANGORA GOAT TURNED DOWN AT EXHIBITS

'Duke Of Nueces' Shouts His Anger And Contempt At Centennial Minder.

DALLAS, April 17. (AP)—W. S. Spangler, director of the Centennial livestock exhibits, said today West Texas goat raisers need have no fear their prized Angora goats would be barred from the exposition. He said a special Angora exhibit would be held from Oct. 29 to Nov. 6, and in addition there would be a mohair show throughout the exposition.

SAN ANGELO, April 17. (AP)—Duke Taylor of Vance, Edwards county, almost chewed the telephone wires today when informed by the San Angelo Standard-Times that news stories had said the Angora goat was not to be included in the live stock exhibits at the Texas Centennial at Dallas.

The fast-talking "Duke of the Nueces canyon," a breeder of registered Angora goats, living in the section which produced John Nance Garner, vice-president of the United States, asserted that the Texas Centennial should adopt the goat as its official mascot.

"It's good enough for the Midshipmen at Annapolis, it leads the future admirals of the navy to football victories. We should give it due recognition in Texas," he shouted.

He said the goat is "the noblest" of livestock, that it is the king of the range money-makers and that it is time that people ceased laughing at him. He said: "I'll be glad to go to Dallas and show them a goat. His manners are so good that he would be well-behaved in a ballroom." The goat country of Texas is that part of the state the position of which caused the Mexican war, said Mr. Taylor and his tone of voice, he said, should indicate that there "might be war in the camp of the Centennial if the paper made publicity boys don't find something else to laugh at."

WASHINGTON, April 17. (AP)—The federal Texas Centennial commission met behind closed doors today to approve expenditure of more than $1,000,000 of the $30,000,000 appropriation for the 1936 Texas Centennial Exposition.

The members were apparently agreed on the matter of spending $385,000 in Harris county, $250,000 in Fort Worth and $50,000 at Goliad but spent considerable time deciding whether $385,000 allocated for San Antonio would be spent for a stadium or for historical purposes.

Rep. Maverick, Jesse Jones, reconstruction corporation chairman, and Chulien F. Thomas, commissioner general for the exposition, were among those to express their views on the Centennial controversy.

Water Shortage Threat Dispelled As Well Flows

Water flowed at the rate of 600 gallons a minute from city well No. 3 this morning, dispelling threat of a water shortage while two of the city's three wells were shut down for pump repairs.

Parts which had to be ordered from California for Well No. 3 arrived yesterday afternoon at 2, and were installed by midnight, City Manager C. L. Stine said. After pump repairs in this well were completed, well No. 2 also broke down and pumping for the city's entire demand rested on one well.

Residents were asked to cut their water consumption by one-third for a few days and to refrain from watering lawns and trees until the repairs were made. The supply is now adequate for all demands, Mr. Stine said.

I Heard . . .

Bob Wheeler, coach at Wheeler high school and one of the best magicians in the country, groaning every time he moved this morning as he conducted his team in the track and field meet. Bob was showing some of his football prospects how to tackle yesterday afternoon and one of them dropped him like a brick. When he came to he found out he had a fracture of the right arm below the elbow, a dislocated shoulder and wrist, and torn ligaments. There was joy, however, in the fact that he has a tough football team coming up next season.

ALLOWABLE IS DECREASED BY OIL OFFICIALS

PANHANDLE PRODUCTION IS SET AT 60,800 BARRELS OF OIL

AUSTIN, April 17. (AP)—The railroad commission today set Texas' oil allowable for May at 1,853,955 barrels daily, compared with 1,147,690 barrels April 1 and 1,173,767 barrels April 15.

The new allowable was in effect a reduction for despite the high allowable reported April 15, E. O. Thompson, chairman, said production was within and at times below that mark. One day last week, he said, production was only 1,135,000 barrels.

The bureau of mines recommended production of 1,132,500 barrels daily and withdrawal of 6,500 barrels from storage to meet an estimated market demand of 1,139,000 barrels daily next month. Its estimate for this month was 1,122,800 barrels.

East Texas production was cut from 2.85 to 2.78 per cent of the average hourly potential, estimated to reduce the output from approximately 447,000 barrels currently to 440,000 barrels on May 1.

V. E. Cottingham, the commission's engineer, recommended the reduction because of a bottomhole pressure decline.

The Rodessa allowable was set at 1,750 barrels, compared to 1,200 barrels April 1.

Allowables for other districts May 1 and April 1, respectively, were, in barrels:

East central, 52,761 and 49,750; southwest Texas, 149,963 and 143,263; Gulf coast, 185,312 and 179,034; West central, 53,206 and 53,087; West Texas, 158,563 and 153,408; north Texas, 60,000 and 60,000; Ford county, 500 and 500; Panhandle, 60,800 and 60,800; Moore county, 1,500 and 1,500 and Osborne area, 1,000 and 1,000.

NUNNS ACQUIRE NEWSPAPER IN LEXINGTON, KY.

Blue Grass Journal Is Bought From Breckinridge

Announcement was made last night in Lexington, Ky., of the purchase by J. L. Nunn of Amarillo and his son, Gilmore Nunn of Pampa, of the Lexington Herald, a morning daily newspaper and one of the state's largest publications.

The Herald was purchased from the estate of the late Dasha Breckinridge, who died about 15 months ago. Breckinridge was a noted publisher and a member of a family long prominent in American business and politics.

The Herald covers the famous blue grass region of Kentucky. Lexington also is the site of the state university and other schools. It is the old home community of the Nunn family, hence their desire to own a paper there.

Gilmore Nunn, general manager of the Pampa Daily NEWS, in a telephone conversation to Pampa last night said he would continue to live in Pampa, although his duties—which include direction of radio stations as far west as Albuquerque, N. M.—will require periodical trips to these properties.

Mr. Nunn said the Pampa Daily NEWS was in no way involved in the Kentucky deal and that no changes were to be made in the Pampa staff.

He said that for about 12 years the Lexington Herald had been ably managed by Thos. R. Underwood, who will continue to direct it. However, J. L. Nunn will bear the title of president of The Herald corporation and Gilmore Nunn that of general manager and publisher.

Mr. Nunn went to Kentucky by plane early this week to join his father, who had been there some time. He will return late Sunday to Pampa to resume his work here.

ALLRED AT DECATUR
DECATUR, April 17. (AP)—Gov. James V. Allred came here today for an afternoon speech at Decatur's Centennial celebration. The celebration opened this morning with a large array of Wise county agricultural and commercial exhibits shown. The greatest crowd Decatur has ever attracted came to town. The "queen of Wise county" will be crowned at a ceremony tonight. Schools of the county participated by exhibiting samples of their work.

WORDS
O. E. H.
Wholesome things mean

Plan now to attend the Panhandle Centennial celebration at Pampa June 2, 3, 4, and 5, with which is combined a Pioneer's Roundup and Oil Men's Reunion. It is a GREATER celebration for the whole Panhandle.

Twinkles

Fields are we humans, admits the West Foster grouch. Halle Selasie is losing, so the average person now doesn't care what happens to him. And he won't get any vaudeville offers.

So women walk like ducks, we read. Well, as a dry-lander we always thought ducks interesting in their gait.

Another unsolved traffic problem: The radio waves.

You've got to be a governor, evidently, to become an honorary Texas Ranger. But to be a Rangerette you've got to pass a sterner test.

Federations are, we concede, a low form of humanity. But not as low as drunken motorists.

Musing of the moment: Some folks are like this Bermuda grass—slow to "come out" but hard to kill and surprisingly ornamental when given a chance. Maybe we're old fashioned, but these doct birds make us long for the home-picked whole variety.

Brevitators

DET PEEVES ARE aired at most meetings while the faithful are waiting for tardy persons to arrive. Three peeves developed at a mixed meeting this week. No. 1 was the water rate, which those present agreed was too high to permit beautification on the scale desired this Centennial year. No. 2 was that Pampa is unsightly down town on windy days because of blowing papers and dirt. It was added that paper containers are not adequate and that city trucks which remove the paper allow for escape of trash. No. 3 was that the central park appeared to be lacking in care. On this last point, we have from city authorities that "the park will be far prettier this summer than last."

There is one point which defies agreement concerning parks. Some citizens think parks are made for appearance only, and that the grass is the best covering. Others look upon parks as playgrounds and believe Bermuda grass should be planted, though it is far less attractive. It can be agreed that Pampa needs more playgrounds and more equipment for the children's play.

MANY PERSONS are disappointed that Pampa has not beautified the entrances to the city in time for the Centennial crowds. Such beautification is difficult. Highway engineers saw locally only one possibility—on highway 33 at the east entrance. The city park-fairground site has possibilities, especially along the "draw." Considerable time and money will be required to make a showing. Water is not yet available. Tree-planting time is almost gone.

Eventually the city fairground park will be a beauty spot, with a scenic entrance. And likely there will be a new addition to the City of Pampa opposite the park, with a scenic entrance matching that of the park. The park will be bordered with trees. A lake will occupy a part of the west end. Scenic drives will be built. There will be play grounds. But not immediately.

IT WAS disappointing when WPA developed so slowly that the fairground will be of little use this year, or at least before fall. It is a fact beyond dispute that work on the fairground is wholly unpredictable. The WPA rolls are being slashed month by month, retarding work and making progress on additional units doubtful. The City in good faith purchased land and submitted projects amounting to a total which absorbed, as requested, the local labor load. A beautiful layout of fairground buildings was envisioned and reduced to blueprints.

We do not say that eventually WPA will not keep its agreements and finish the buildings, subject to the City's assuming a share of the material cost. We do say that the policy of reducing the number of workers seems contrary to this assumption. And as to the Pampa-Borger highway, the same contradictions appear to exist.

OF GRAVE concern to this community is the labor situation. Readjustments in the gas industry and cutting of WPA rolls must result in one of two things: 1. Jobless men must diligently seek and find

SHOOTING NOT SUICIDE SAYS GIRL'S PARENT

POLICE CLAIM SOCIETY GIRL KILLED HERSELF

NORRISTOWN, Pa., April 17. (AP)—Joseph Holmes, Jr., socially prominent manufacturer, flatly disavores today with a police verdict that a fatal shooting of his daughter Nancy, 13, was "suicide."

The body of the attractive child, pupil of a fashionable "Fidel school" was found last night by her mother in a bedroom of their Meadowcroft home. A bullet wound pierced her head.

Chief of Police Patrick McKee of Abington said "there is no doubt this is a case of suicide."

W. R. Rushong, coroner of Montgomery county, withheld a death certificate until his investigation was made today, but said, "It looks like suicide."

A brother, Joseph Haines, 3d, suggested she might have been playing pirate at the time the shot was fired.

The grief-stricken father, his wife in a state of collapse and under physician's care, said "there is no question but this is purely accidental. My little girl was one of the happiest of children."

Lying near the girl's body was a pistol. Her father said the gun was one bullet in it.

Coroner Rushong said there were six bullets, one of them discharged. The father said the gun was his, that it had been in a drawer in his room "for years."

In a waste paper basket were found, the coroner said, two pictures of the dead girl. The head of each had been cut out and torn into bits.

Another brother, George, 18, apparently was the last person to talk with the dead girl. She paused at the door of her room about 15 minutes before the fatal shot was believed to have been fired.

She asked, "how much iodine does it take to kill a person?"

She told him he wanted it "to put on my toes." She had sufficed he said, a slight foot injury at school.

Pneumonia Fatal To F. E. Lundy

Francis E. Lundy, 23, a resident of Pampa for the last four months, died last night in a local hospital, victim of pneumonia. Mr. Lundy was employed at the J. C. Penney store here, coming from Plainview. He is survived by his wife and mother, Mrs. H. V. Full of Plainview. The body was sent to Plainview this morning by the G. C. Malone Funeral home. Funeral arrangements had not been completed at that time.

SCOUT NEWS

Regular meeting of Boy Scout Troop 89 was held last night in the First Methodist church basement with 80 members and one visiting Scout, "Speedy" Foster, attending. After a short business meeting the troop drilled with two ex-service men in charges. The troop then went to the Scout room and watched a fire-building demonstration by Franklin Baer's camporal team.

Roger McCormell, troop committee chairman, was a visitor, and he was introduced by the scoutmaster. Mr. McCormell complimented the troop on their industry and enthusiasm and said that he hoped and believed the troop would continue to grow in scouting. Later, the troop practiced on the various camporal contest events, and discussed troop hiking and camping plans.

Those present included the following: Travis Lively, Jr., Franklin Baer, Carl Brown, Harry McMahon, Doyle Childs, Bert Isbell, Edward Wilkins, Poozy Green, Jack Crout, Ed Terrell, R. G. Candler, Ray Boyles, Jack Smith, Jimmie Sanders, Pat Patterson, Howard Jensen, Soren Jensen, Roy Lee Jones, Francis Schwand, Buddy Wilson, Max Roland, Raymond Harrison, Everett Westbrook, James Archer, Bill Coons, J. FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST

501 N. Frost St. "Doctrine of Atonement" is the subject of the lesson-sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, April 19.

The Golden Text is: "The preaching of the cross is to them that perish foolishness; but unto us which are saved it is the power of God" (I Corinthians 1:18).

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "Therefore we are always confident, knowing that, whilst we are at home in the body, we are absent from the Lord. We are confident, I say, and willing rather to be absent from the body, and to be present with the Lord" (II Corinthians 5:6, 8).

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Become conscious for a single moment that life and intelligence are purely spiritual—neither in nor of matter—and the body will then utter no complaints. If suffering from a belief in sickness, you will find yourself suddenly well. Like our Master, we must depart from material sense into the spiritual sense of being" (pages 14 and 41).

Sunday, 11 a. m. Sunday school 9:30 a. m. Wednesday, 8 p. m. Reading room open Tuesday and Wednesday from 4 p. m. The public is cordially invited to attend our services.

Home in Ashes, Trudge 500 Miles

It's a long, long way to Little Rock, Ark.—500 miles in fact—from Red Oak, Ia., but this family, leaving its home in charred ruins, is making the best of the arduous trip. After a blaze had destroyed nearly all their possessions, Mr. and Mrs. Elias Berrick huddled into this makeshift cart their three children, Violet, 2; Roy, 5; and Baby Theodore, hidden by blankets, and started the long hike to the Little Rock home of Berrick's parents, sleeping at night by the roadside. They are pictured here near Lickman Mills, Mo.

Charge Attempt To Bribe Juror In Baby Drama

KAHOMA, Mo., April 17. (AP)—St. Louis' "gift from God" baby drama, which folded up suddenly in its road performance here yesterday, appeared today to be due for a quick revival.

Prosecuting Attorney G. R. Briedemann of Clark county announced charges would be filed against all persons found to be implicated in an alleged attempt to tamper with the jury before which Mrs. Nellie Tipton Muench and three others were being tried on conspiracy charges.

The prosecutor's statement was made after Circuit Judge Walter A. Higbee announced there had been "proof" of jury tampering and declared a mistrial.

Jury Charles Long testified that Harry Spangler, Clark county engineer, had approached him with an offer of $100 to deadlock the jury, and quoted Spangler as saying he represented Joseph L. Gutting, one of the defense attorneys.

Gutting, who asserted he had not talked to Spangler about the case, vehemently denied any attempt to bribe. Spangler told Judge Higbee

MEETING SCHEDULED

MARSHALL, April 17 (AP)—The Texas Democratic Executive committee will meet in Fort Worth April 23 to decide where the forthcoming state convention will be held.

In announcing the committee meeting, Chairman Myron G. Blacklock said election laws pertaining to the convention would be discussed but that no other business would be transacted. He said the meeting would be brief. Waco, Ft. Worth, San Antonio, Houston and Austin are seeking the convention.

The European sport of "bagwood" has been introduced at the University of San Francisco.

Kansas State Teachers college at Emporia has started work on a $60,000 athletic stadium.

He had talked to Long twice outside the courtroom but denied having approached the juror about the case or offered a bribe.

Mrs. Muench, her husband, Dr. Ludwig O. Muench; Mrs. Helen Berroyer, and Attorney Wilfred Jones were charged with conspiracy to obtain unlawful possession of a child.

During the trial Mrs. Grace Thomason testified Mrs. Muench had wanted to obtain a baby to dupe a physician friend out of money by making him believe he was his father.

The prosecutor's statement was made after Circuit Judge Walter A. Higbee announced there had been "proof" of jury tampering and declared a mistrial.

Jury Charles Long testified that Harry Spangler, Clark county engineer, had approached him with an offer of $100 to deadlock the jury, and quoted Spangler as saying he represented Joseph L. Gutting, one of the defense attorneys.

Gutting, who asserted he had not talked to Spangler about the case, vehemently denied any attempt to bribe. Spangler told Judge Higbee

FRANCE SENDS PEACE APPEAL TO MUSSOLINI

DUCE NOT TO CHANGE ESSENTIALS OF PLAN

BY JOSEPH E. SHARKEY (Copyright, 1936, By The Associated Press)

GENEVA, April 17.—France addressed a supreme appeal to Premier Mussolini today to consent to a cessation of hostilities in order to improve prospects for peace negotiations between Italy and Ethiopia.

French Minister of State Joseph Paul-Boncour earnestly told Baron Pompeo Aloisi, II Duca's Geneva spokesman that an Italian concession of this nature—even if it meant only an armistice for a limited period—would have a most helpful effect upon world opinion and contribute to easing the tense situation.

Baron Aloisi, in response to the French appeal, promised to telephone Rome.

Baron Aloisi told Paul-Boncour that Premier Mussolini was ready to make concessions of form in his peace program, to meet the wishes of the League of Nations and Great Britain, but that II Duca would find it difficult to change essentials of his plans.

While the Italian and French representatives conferred, Salvador De Madariaga of Spain, chairman of the league's conciliation committee of 13, and Joseph A. C. Avenor, secretary-general of the league, met members of the Ethiopian delegation.

League sources forecast that the Italian modification would be judged insufficient by the Ethiopians, headed by Woldemar Mikram, Emperor Haile Selassie's minister to Paris and delegate to the league.

The Italian amendment gave the league the right to keep constantly in touch with the proposed direct peace negotiations and to send an observer, presumably to make a communication at any time to the plenipotentiaries who might undertake the discussions.

BOOKER GIRLS BEAT PAMPANS TO RETAIN DISTRICT VOLLEY BALL TITLE

CRACK CLUB IS UNDEFEATED IN DISTRICT MEET

WHITE DEER, BORGER ARE BEATEN BY VICTORS

A crack girls' volley ball team from Booker, representing Lipscomb county, went undefeated through District 2 interscholastic league play yesterday to retain their title as district champions. Led by Vivian Hughes, playing the No. 1 position on the team, Booker opened the day of play by defeating White Deer. Then Booker fell and finally Pampa. Booker won two straight games from the Pampa girls, 15-9 and 15-7, to retain the title they won last year when the same player started. The team showed accurate shooting, fast return of the ball and deadly accuracy in placing shots. Booker's team was composed of Vivian Hughes, Fay and Willa Rose, Rish, Lenora Hughes and Jones. Pampa lined up with Yelma Fayle Seeds, Opal Pinnell, Mary McCollum, Jackie Bragg, Sarah Pafford and Bernice Adcock. Tournament results: Booker defeated White Deer. Borger won from McLean. Pampa defeated LeFors. Clarendon drew a bye. Booker won from Borger. Pampa beat Clarendon. Booker defeated Pampa.

The Pampa-Danciger Road Runners will appear in natty new uniforms on Sunday afternoon when they play the Huber Blackfaces of Borger in the second game of the season at Road Runner park. Game time will be 3 o'clock with admission 25 cents for women and 40 cents for men. Teams officials will not put out the dope on the new suits. They will be of the same color but of different design and decorated differently than last season's uniforms. They will not be issued until before game time Sunday. Twenty-four new boxes will also be available for the game. They will be sold for the season at $12 a box. Persons interested in securing one of the new boxes, located in front of the present row, should get in touch with Harold Miller, business manager, at the Danciger Refineries or by telephoning 1020 during the day or 952 after 6 o'clock. Manager Sam Hale put his charges through a long, stiff workout yesterday afternoon. The infield worked more smoothly than at any time and the gardeners had their eye on the ball all the way. The split of the team was never better and hustle was the keynote. The pitchers have been working hard and are fast getting into condition. Some arms have disappeared and batters are finding it exceedingly hard to hit the ball squarely. As big Grover Seitz remarked yesterday, "It's getting hard to hit a round object with a round instrument, squarely." Huber will come to Pampa loaded for bear. The manager and players are making no secret about their intentions of avenging all the defeats handed them last season by the fast-stepping Road Runners. Most of the Blackfaces are known to Pampa fans who will be on hand to see if the boys from Borger can carry out their threats.

PENN PARES RELAYS PROGRAM; PLACES PREMIUM ON QUALITY

BEAUMONT, April 17 (AP)—The Perricone boys, slated for infield duty with the Beaumont Exporters in 1948, were launched on their baseball careers today with their world behind them. Six-year-old A. B. C. and D. the world's only living male quadruplets, made their debut in a blaze of glory that produced as much noise as the thunder that broke up the boys' first attendance at a professional baseball game in the eighth inning. "We're going to tell mama all about this," said the boys as 7,000 fans watched them leave the park yesterday. The whole business was next in to perfect—except for the San Antonio Missions. The home team won, 8 to 0. A. B. C. and D. so excited they forgot their popcorn and pop, thrilled as their favorite player and pal, Geo. Gill, held the Missions to one hit. The boys went wild when Roy Culbreth cracked a couple of circuit drives. All that came after the youngsters, in their flaming red uniforms and with bells and bats in hand, had put on their own act before the Governor of Texas, other state officials, a park full of fans and Mr. Phillip Perricone, the father. As drum and bugle corps organizations furnished the noise, the quads put on a fancy infield exhibition that brought applause from the stands and put hope in the hearts of the fans. The chest of Rube Stuart swelled. The Exporter club owner looked into the future. So firm is Rube in his belief the Perricone boys will be a million-dollar "watch charm" in-field combination, he has arranged to offer the boys every possible opportunity to learn the game. "They will be my infield stars in 1948," Rube declared. That suits neither Perricone, who was unable to attend the game because of the recent death of her mother. "I want the boys to be good ball players," she said, "and I'm going to give them plenty of encouragement at home."

PHILADELPHIA, April 17 (AP)—The University of Pennsylvania is welding the big broom with a view to making a shorter, more entertaining affair of the forty-second renewal of its classic relays carnival, April 24-25. Several events which cluttered up and prolonged the program the last few years are being swept into the discard. Restrictions are placed on other events in order that only the cream of the cinder-path crop shall be assembled in Franklin Field's big concrete horseshoe for the relays week-end. Penn started the modern baton-passing business with a dual meet back in the '90s, and the Quaker carnival grew to such proportions that in recent years there have been 3,000 athletes entered for competitions that stretch over a 2-day span. So big and unwieldy did the affair become, that relays officials decided something had to be done—and they did it, meantime, however, retaining all the big headline attractions. Sprint Field Reduced. Chief among the alterations is a switch in the 100-meter sprint feature from an open, come-one, come-all event to invitation competition, restricted to six or a dozen of college's "fastest humans." In the past, the "snort" dash has drawn upwards of 75 sprinters from all over the country, and required a series of heats, semi-finals and a final to produce a champion. A dash snail race had a job on its hands, passing all those preliminary tests. This year, the event will require only two heats and a final, or possibly only a final, and will see the "tops" among Olympic sprint possibilities in action, headed by Ohio State's Jesse Owens and Temple's Eulace Peacock. Elimination of the 110-meter hurdles, for 37 years a fixture, was decided upon because the timber-toppers can show their stuff in the shuttle hurdle relay, and the program has another individual hurdle race—the 400-meter Olympic event. To keep "any Tom, Dick or Harry" out of the lineup for some of the other major attractions, relay heads have inviolable restrictions deemed to make things a lot faster, and cut out the annoying overcrowding characteristic of recent years. No one can get into the broad jump entry list unless he can show he has done 22 feet or better in the past. Prep and high school quarter-mile relay hopefuls will have had to turn in times of 45 seconds or better. Summary, the interscholastic meet is restricted to teams which can do it in 3 minutes, 30 seconds; the interscholastic 2-mile, in 8:30; the prep school mile, in 4:32; and the high school mile in the same time. With these changes, along with the elimination of two Class "B" high school races, and a couple of local schoolboy competitions, the program this year is cut to 67 events from the 82 of last year, resulting, says Penn, in "better relay games for competitors and spectators alike."

State Seeks to Break up Vehicle License Racket

Fascists Kill 3 Leftists in Funeral Parade

AUSTIN, April 17 (AP)—The Department of Public Safety today awaited a decision of the court of criminal appeals in a test case before starting an intensive drive to force registration of motor vehicles in the county of the owner's residence. Homer Garrison Jr., assistant director of the department said that in some places out-of-county registrations had developed into a racket in which the state was losing thousands of dollars annually. Without citing a specific instance, Garrison said the department had information that in some counties officials offered vehicle owners discounts to attract additional registrations. "Discounts, he said, ranged as high as 15 per cent, with one case in which the county knocked off about 66 per cent on the registration of a fleet of trucks. "The racket reached considerable proportions a few years ago and we whipped it back," he said. "At that time the legislature passed a law that took care of the situation for a while but it seems to be developing again." Garrison said the legislature inserted a special section in the registration law to curb activities of road materials salesmen who conspired with county officials to add them in increasing registration of out-of-county vehicles in return for purchases with the extra receipts. The officials would agree, Garrison said, to offer a discount and the salesman would direct vehicle owners to the county.

OIL NEWS AND NOTES

Oil News and Notes

GASSER IS BURNING
BRAUMONT, April 17. (AP)—Fire fighters said today at least three days would be required to extinguish the Glenn H. McCarthy Longe No. 2 gasser which caught fire as it blew in near here early this morning.

A force of ten men under I. C. Showalter was clearing the way to the 150-foot flame, the roar of which could be heard for 10 miles. The blaze reduced to molten metal within a few minutes a $50,000 steel derrick.

Showalter said efforts would be made to pump water and a mud substance into the flame so workmen could reach the "blowout preventer," a valve within the well, and shut off the terrific pressure.

Workers, all of whom miraculously escaped uninjured, said they were drilling when the gasser blew in with a concussion which rocked houses in Beaumont, 10 miles away, at 1:30 a. m. They said the gas caught fire from a spark.

Attempts were made to bring in the well at 5,500 feet by forcing gas from an adjoining well into the hole, but failed. Operators then decided to go further. They were at a depth of about 5,000 feet when the gas pocket was struck.

The Longe No. 2 was an offset to the Longe No. 1, completed recently as a gasser in the new Amelia oil field.

The force of firefighters working today was employed by the H. L. Patton company of Houston.

A representative of the M. M. Kindley company, of Houston telephoned that a crew of five men from his own concern was flying to the well from Oklahoma today.

Owners of the well did not announce to whom the extinguishing contract had been let.

Witness Excused From Questioning By Lobby Probers

WASHINGTON, April 17. (AP)—The Senate lobby committee today excused from further testimony Kurt Grunwald, of the Farmers Independence council, who yesterday refused to answer questions.

Grunwald appeared at today's hearing in response to instructions from Chairman Black (D-La.).

Black called for Grunwald as soon as the session opened and said: "Mr. Grunwald, you are excused, you can go and get your expenses." "You mean you are through with me?" Grunwald asked.

"Yes, you are excused," Black repeated.

Grunwald yesterday bluntly refused to name persons he had contacted for the council in a fight against the new deal's AAA. The committee then had adjourned to consider whether he should be cited to the senate for contempt—a move apparently rejected.

After dismissing Grunwald, Black called to the stand David F. Sibley of Boston, assistant treasurer of the Sentinels of the Republic.

Road Building Measure Given Okay in House

WASHINGTON, April 17. (AP)—A $440,000,000 road building measure, including provisions for farm-to-market lanes and grade crossing elimination, was halfway along its legislative course today and awaited Senate action.

The program was approved by the House yesterday without opposition. The bill would extend the Hayden-Carwright act for 1936 and 1937 and authorize amounts the federal government may spend for two fiscal years ending June 30, 1939.

New features are authorization for the expenditure of $25,000,000 each year for farm-to-market roads and $50,000,000 each year for the grade crossing work. States must match the farm road expenditures.

Other features authorized under the measure for each of the two years: Regular federal aid highways to be matched by states, $125,000,000; forest trails, $10,000,000; public lands roads $2,500,000; national parks and monuments roads, $7,500,000.

Production was well within allowables, he added, for "we consistently produce two per cent less than we allow." An example, he said, was production of 1,135,000 barrels one day last week, much below the allowed amount.

"That is about what the bureau of mines says the demand is," Thompson said, in justifying present schedules and prompting relief in some quarters the May allowable would not differ greatly from the April order.

While East Texas crude purchasers sought 487,000 barrels daily, compared with production of about 447,000 barrels, V. E. Cottingham, the commission's chief engineer, recommended a reduction to 440,000 barrels.

Bottomhole pressure in 34 test wells dropped 4.77 pounds from March 12 to April 12, Cottingham testified, or 346 pounds per 1,000 barrels of production on an average allowable of 44,384 barrels.

An order cutting the per well allowable in Corpus Christi from 150 and 100 barrels daily was rescinded and a hearing set April 28 here on that and the neighboring Clarkwood field.

Rodessa Field Explained
DALLAS, April 17. (AP)—Action of Federal Judge Randolph Bryant at Sherman today in dismissing an application for an injunction to force the Federal Tender board No. 1 to allow movement of Rodessa crude through East Texas pipelines was seen by officials of the East Texas Pipeline company, one of the complainants, tonight as a guarantee for future movement of Rodessa oil through their lines.

Freeman Burford of Dallas, operator of the companies who brought the action, asserted Judge Bryant dismissed the bill without prejudice on the ground that admission of the tender board that it had no jurisdiction over oil moving thru the pipeline had afforded the plaintiffs all the relief asked in their suit.

"Federal Tender board No. 1 at Kilgore admitted that it had no odd jobs to maintain themselves or some source of relief must be found. A combination of both is likely. But it cannot longer be assumed by workers that Uncle Sam is going to furnish jobs to all who apply. Old age pensions will help some, the county will help some unemployed, but the men able to work must once more consider their own initiative as their first resource. Texas relief is expected to end July 1. There will be no relief office here after that date unless one is set up by local enterprise.

Witness Excused From Questioning By Lobby Probers

WASHINGTON, April 17. (AP)—The Senate lobby committee today excused from further testimony Kurt Grunwald, of the Farmers Independence council, who yesterday refused to answer questions.

Grunwald appeared at today's hearing in response to instructions from Chairman Black (D-La.).

Black called for Grunwald as soon as the session opened and said: "Mr. Grunwald, you are excused, you can go and get your expenses." "You mean you are through with me?" Grunwald asked.

"Yes, you are excused," Black repeated.

Grunwald yesterday bluntly refused to name persons he had contacted for the council in a fight against the new deal's AAA. The committee then had adjourned to consider whether he should be cited to the senate for contempt—a move apparently rejected.

After dismissing Grunwald, Black called to the stand David F. Sibley of Boston, assistant treasurer of the Sentinels of the Republic.

These Little Jacketed Sports Frocks

Can have Tremendous Chic and Do Double Duty

By ELLEN WORTH

Mode has all manner of whims concerning little jackets this season.

Today's model makes a point of sharp contrast in a riot of stripes from pale pink to shrimp pink to rough cotton. The frock is pink and of course, can be worn alone if preferred. You'll note in the small sketch, it is really a very charming affair.

For tennis, it is delightful to have the dress in white and to make the accompanying jacket in a lightweight woolen to don after play.

Style No. 1747 is designed for sizes 14, 16, 18 years, 36, 38 and 40-inches bust. Size 16 requires 3 1/4 yards of 35-inch material with 1 1/2 yards of 35-inch material for jacket.

Our Illustrated Home Dressmaking Spring Book will enable you to have smart clothes and more of them for less money. Each step in the making of a dress is shown with illustrated diagrams. Send for your copy today.

KILLED IN CRASH
BERLIN, April 17. (AP)—The German air ministry announced today three men were killed and two seriously injured in the crash Thursday night of a German trimotored military plane near Biel, Switzerland. The Communiqué explained the plane, on a training cruise, got over Swiss territory by mistake through a fault they developed in its directional apparatus.

Frank McHugh of Hollywood has little superstitious friends. But he stays in bed every time Friday falls on the thirteenth.

Air Crash Heroine Happy Again

With heroine's honors showered on her, Miss Nellie Granger is shown here in the first picture taken of her since the crash near Uintown, Pa., of the plane on which she was hostess, it dying and only two others besides Miss Granger escaping alive. At the left is John E. Walker, vice president in charge of traffic of TWA lines, and at the right is Mayor Meyer Ellenstein of Newark, N. J., whose wife the hostess dragged from the wreckage. As a reward for her heroism, Miss Granger has been promoted to be hostess of the TWA crack Los Angeles-New York liner.

Hollywood Sights And Sounds

BY ROBBIN COONS.
HOLLYWOOD—They keep on making pictures:

Blue-eyed Joan Bennett, the heroine of "Big Brown Eyes," is busy on a customer in the big hotel lobby scene of which a barber shop is a part. Joan is a mainstay, one of a dozen at the tables. Joan's mystery is Cary Grant, a New York detective and Joan's sweetheart.

Fifteen barbers are busy too. A couple of real ones are among the actors. They are using their own tools. The actors have been given blunt scissors and razors to the on-fellowactors in the chairs.

Raoul Walsh is directing. Joan, it seems, is jealous. She doesn't know that Cary's visits to a wealthy woman in the hotel are on business.

Joan and Cary go into their act and Joan lambasts Cary with her basket of tools. Tools fly. Walsh cuts, suggests that Joan hit him harder in the next take. "He won't mind," he says.

Grant makes no comment, but rubs his head and an Eger.

Joe E. Brown and an Eger.

Joe E. Brown at last is making "The Earthworm Tractor." The set today is outdoors, a small-town railway station. The tractor, bright with yellow paint, stands on the platform. Joe E. dapper in a checked suit, and Guy Kibbee and June Travis are waiting for the "set-up" to be completed.

Sitting on the tractor is Kibbee stand-in, slick and polished. Kibbee himself is dusty and much less neat.

It is a farming comedy, but the talk is baseball. There is a crate of eggs nearby. Joe E. an egg in hand, suddenly winds up his pitching arm and lets fly. The egg whizzes past Kibbee's stance, smashes on a box-car beyond, and everybody roars.

Court Scene.
"We, the jury, find the defendant not guilty."

The courtroom is in uproar, spectators applaud, news cameras flash. The defendant, the defendant kisses her attorney, Alan Mowbray, while the prosecutor, George Brent, denounces the jurors and tells them they have "freed a murderer." The judge orders Brent's arrest.

"Now we'll shoot it," says Director Willis Van Dyke after this rehearsal in "The Case Against Mrs. Ames." He cautions: "But remember, George, don't be quite so bitter when you're calling Miss Carroll a murderer."

You're going to fall in love with her before the picture's over.

Cameras are mounted on cranes in the extreme rear of the courtroom to travel down over the heads of the "spectators." The set is too big for microphone booms to operate. Sound men, squatting on overhead runways, "listen" for sound and dialogue with mikes on long poles.

Hopkins to Oust Relief Officials

WASHINGTON, April 17. (AP)—A half dozen more officials of WPA in Washington state were slated today for dismissal by Harry Hopkins on charges that "political skulduggery" mingled with relief in the state.

Declaring he would not stand for "political activity" in relief, Hopkins yesterday announced the removal of George H. Gannon, Washington administrator. Hopkins said unnamed persons had collected $3,000 to $4,000 in campaign contributions from the WPA staff and that he held Gannon responsible because he was "running the show."

Gannon, described by Hopkins as a democrat, said in a letter: "I don't know exactly what it is all about." George E. Starr, democratic state chairman, said he knew nothing about the alleged solicitation of funds, while Republican State Chairman W. Emerson expressed the belief Gannon had nothing to do with such solicitation.

Gannon, former state senator and banker, recently tendered his resignation as state administrator, but it was not due to become effective until June 1.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN Helps Constipation

Read this enthusiastic, voluntary letter: "Just a line to let you know how much I appreciate Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. I was troubled with constipation. I asked my doctor what to do. He said to eat bran."

"I tried other brands but they weren't so good, so I tried Kellogg's ALL-BRAN, and it is just wonderful. It makes delicious muffins, toast."—Miss Agnes Hanson, 450 N. Cicero Ave., Chicago, Ill.

ALL-BRAN provides mild "bulk"—missing in the average meal. This delicious cereal also furnishes vitamin B and iron.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN absorbs moisture, and gently exercises and cleanses the system. It is often more effective than that found in fruits and vegetables, as it does not break down within the body. ALL-BRAN also supplies vitamin B and iron.

Isn't this natural food pleasanter than patent medicines? Just eat two tablespoons daily. If not relieved, see your doctor.

Sold by all grocers. ALL-BRAN is much more effective than part-bran products. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

*Constipation due to insufficient "bulk" in meals.

Lesson in Cake Making Precedes Club's Business

Club's Business

Preparing ingredients for an angel food cake, Miss Ruby Adams, county home demonstration agent, gave pointers to Hopkins club members at the home of Mrs. Mary Mackie Tuesday afternoon.

When the egg whites are whipped to a froth, it is time to add cream of tartar for the most successful cake, Miss Adams said. A delicate brown crust is sufficient to make the cake appetizing, so no frosting is needed, she continued.

The business session featured definite plans for assistance in a luncheon during the district P-TA convention next week. Plans were made also for a lunch stand conducted by the club at the Hopkins school carnival the second week in May.

Refreshments were served to two visitors, Mrs. Ella Terry and Mrs. Marion Husted, and the members, Mrs. G. Pinnell, Ralph Manley, E. F. Vanderburg, Jim Hopkins, C. E. Coates, J. O. Campbell, S. J. Fleming, John Thompson, R. I. Davis, Turner Kirby, Opal Franklin, Ruby Day, Robert Brown, Mackie, Misses Faye Davis and Adams.

GARNER WEASELS IN LETTER TO BITTER FOE OF THE PRESIDENT

WASHINGTON, April 17 (AP)—Senate lobby investigators said today an exchange of letters between Vice President Garner and John Kirby, chairman of the southern committee to uphold the constitution, had been put into the committee's files.

The letters were subpoenaed from Kirby, whose anti-new deal organization has been under investigation since Kirby, under date of July 5, 1935, wrote Garner:

"Personal,
"My Dear John:
"How long are you going to tolerate the apoplexy of the Roosevelt administration to the cardinal principles of the democratic party and the notorious contempt for the plain terms of the constitution?
"Your friend,
"JOHN KIRBY."

Garner, under date of July 9, replied:

"Dear Henry Kirby:
"Your favor is just called to my attention.
"You can't do everything you want to and I can't do half what I would like to do. You don't control everybody you would like to and I am in a similar fix. I think that answers your question.
"With regards and wishing you health and happiness
"Sincerely,
"JNO. N. GARNER."

Garner said today he had no comment on the letters.

New Manager of BCD Arrives for Brief Visit Here

Garnett Reeves, new manager of the Pampa Board of City Development, arrived in the city yesterday for a brief visit. He was accompanied by Mrs. Reeves and their son. The new official comes from Lubbock where he has been active in chamber of commerce work for many years.

The new executive accompanied George Briggs, retiring manager, on a hunt for a house. Later he attended a meeting of directors of the Junior chamber of commerce and of committees chairman of the Panhandle Centennial celebration.

This morning Mr. Reeves began getting acquainted with Pampans. The more he saw of the city and talked with its citizens, the more enthusiastic he became. He will arrive here about May 1.

"Pampa has a different atmosphere," Mr. Reeves declared. "The people radiate confidence and good will and a fellow can't feel depressed in their midst."

Wheat Prices up 3 Cents a Bushel

CHICAGO, April 17 (AP)—Broad buying of wheat futures today forced prices up almost three cents a bushel to the highest level in more than a month.

May wheat rose to $1.00 a bushel, July to 92 1/2 cents and September to 90 1/2, closing near this level for net gains ranging from 1 1/2 to 2 1/2 cents.

The buying was predicted largely on crop conditions in the southwest where drought is menacing winter wheat. An increasingly tense political situation in Europe described in financial circles as disquieting also had a bullish effect.

Mrs. Bartholomew Plans Re-Union With Child Today

LOS ANGELES, April 17 (AP)—While counsel for her husband made plans to contest little Freddie Bartholomew's guardianship, Mrs. Lillian Bartholomew looked forward today to an early re-union with her son, child movie star.

Mrs. Bartholomew came from England to file objections to Freddie's guardianship, but more recent statements from her attorney indicated her paramount motive was to assure herself that the $1,000-a-week actor is contented and well taken care of.

Attorneys for Miss Mylicent Bartholomew, who has custody of Freddie, her nephew, said she and the 12-year-old boy would return to Los Angeles from a vacation resort by tomorrow.

"Feeling that Mrs. Bartholomew has a right to see her son, but no right to oppose her sister-in-law's guardianship rights, we are arranging, possibly for Saturday, a meeting between the three—Miss Bartholomew, Freddie and Mrs. Bartholomew," said Felix Cunningham, attorney for Miss Bartholomew.

AUSTIN, April 17 (AP)—Elmo Banks, negro, today appealed a death penalty murder conviction in Lynn county in the slaying of Deputy Sheriff F. E. Redwine last March 6. Redwine was shot in the county jail with his own pistol while he was locking up the prisoners for the night. Banks, a prisoner in the jail, was charged with grabbing Redwine's pistol and shooting him three times. He escaped and was recaptured the next day.

The negro race will be recognized at the Texas Centennial Exposition with $100,000 Hall of Negro Life and Culture in which will be portrayed the history and progress of the negro in America. This is the first World's Fair to officially recognize and honor the negroes of America.

Authentic southwestern cowboy and range music will be used in "Cavalcade of Texas" the $150,000 dramatic spectacle to be staged at the Texas Centennial Exposition in Dallas. David Guion, famous Texas composer, arranger of "Home on the Range," will supervise the musical score.

MARKET BRIEFS

NEW YORK, April 17 (AP)—Stocks of the oil companies were favored in today's market, as were scattered specialties, but the buying incentive was lacking in other groups.

Heaviness of the rails and steels was a retarding factor, although selling pressure, generally, was not pronounced. The close was irregular. Transfers were around 1,350,000 shares.

CHICAGO GRAIN
CHICAGO, April 17 (AP)—Top-most prices for wheat since last February resulted today from broad speculative demand based on drought in this country and on increased warlike suggestions abroad.

Toward the end of the day, however, buying ardor was tempered a little because of reports of some rains in western Oklahoma. Export purchases of Canadian wheat today were estimated at 1,250,000 bushels.

Wheat closed firm, 1 1/2-2 1/2 cents above yesterday's finish, May 99 1/4-100, July 91 1/4-92, corn 1 1/4-1 1/2 up, May 62-62 1/2, oats 1 1/2-1 1/2 advanced, and provisions 2 cents to 15 cents down.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON
NEW ORLEANS, April 17 (AP)—Gains averaging three points were shown for cotton futures at the start of trading on the market here today.

After yesterday's decline on favorable weather developments the trade appeared to take on a more constructive view and buying predominated today.

May opened at 11.32, July at 11.00, and Oct. at 10.38 and Jan. at 10.41. Liverpool came in better than due but cables said a quiet market was in progress there.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON
NEW ORLEANS, April 17 (AP)—Gains were cancelled in the case of old crop months during the morning, but distant positions held their advance.

Hedge selling in May and July were responsible for the relative weakness in these options. While rains slackened in Texas and in other areas temperatures were generally cool and the trade was still bearish on the new crop.

May sold at 11.31 during the morning, July at 10.99 and Oct. held 5 points higher at 10.40.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT KNOWN AS FOREMOST COLLECTOR—HIS INTEREST IN SHIPS FAMOUS

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN
News Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 17—During this month some thousands of people will throng through a wing of the Corcoran Gallery of Art at Washington to look upon the collection of prints, paintings, and models, all pertaining to ships, which was gathered over a long period of years by President Franklin D. Roosevelt. The President led the collection to the trustees of the Corcoran for this exhibition.

Began many years ago, the collection has been steadily added until there now are more than 200 items, each one possessing a high intrinsic or association value. It is presumed to be one of the finest collections of the sort in the country.

The models are of exceptional beauty, especially those of the Flying Cloud, the Rainbow and the Flying Cloud show the most delicate workmanship. There is a fine model of the French liner Normandie, but chief interest attaches to the earlier models. For example, there is a remarkable model of the Constitution, Old Ironsides, which was made at the Washington Navy Yard shortly after the War of 1812 and there is another of the bark Mary made by Captain Isaac Delano of Marion, Massachusetts, a forebear of the President, in 1829.

The deep interest which this collection proves Franklin D. Roosevelt has long had in the sea and especially in the fighting ships of the United States from the earliest days, indicates that he was well qualified for the position of Assistant Secretary of the Navy, which he held during the World War, and for the position of Commander-in-Chief of the Navy which he now holds.

It is quite likely that the President would be disappointed in the sort of attention given by the visiting public to his exhibition of maritime pictures and models. Not of the collection at all but placed in one of the galleries are two non-nautical paintings. One is a large portrait of the President and the other an interior showing the President and his family. A very large number of persons who give the main prints, which are the apple of the President's eye, the most cursory survey, cluster around the portraits of the President himself. Their overheard remarks indicate quite clearly that they are not interested in the President's favorite subject at all but are keenly interested in the President.

It is a certainty that an overwhelming majority of the people who are visiting the exhibition are not visiting to see the pictures and the ship models, but because the collection belong to the President of the United States. Indeed, some of the visitors seem not quite able to differentiate between the pictures in the permanent collection of the Corcoran Gallery, hanging in adjacent rooms, and the Roosevelt collection. One man, who looked to be a competent dentist, was noticed to stare at the magnificent canvas of Edwin Abbey depicting the trial of Catherine of Aragon before Henry VIII. The great picture is labeled merely Trial of Queen Catherine. The dentist was overheard to exclaim in surprise to his feminine companion that President Roosevelt would have so big a painting of Queen Catherine of Russia when he had recognized the Soviets!

Filed a Popular Demand
Currier and Ives sensed the demand and employed journeymen artists to dash off in the greatest haste an imaginative picture of the event. Sometimes an eyewitness account could be obtained, sometimes imagination was the sole reliance. But that made not the slightest difference. Indeed, it is likely the lunner untrammelled by facts did a more thrilling job. These prints were prepared and pulled from the presses with the same relative speed that an extra page is issued today. They were sold at low prices in great quantities, not actually as pictures, but as works of art, but essentially as newspapers in the form of a medium which would tell a graphic story even to those unable to read.

Much is heard in these days of the sensationalism of the modern press. Why, modern newspapers are nothing at all compared with the hasty printing of a picture of the Kearsarge sinking the Alabama off Cherbourg or the explosion of the steam frigate Missouri off Gibraltar! The guns belch, the shells burst, the flames leap, high heaven in terrifying manner, doubtless wholly satisfactory to the American readers of the Currier and Ives prints.

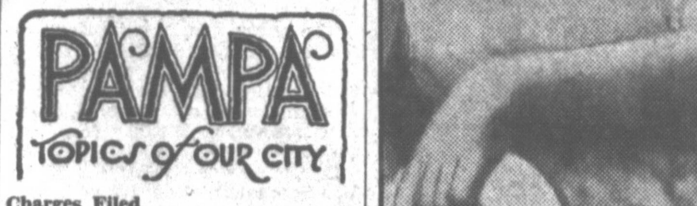

While the military pieces predominate, the prints ranging from the Revolutionary War engagements such as that of the Bon Homme Richard and Serapis thru the Barbary States War, the War of 1812, the Mexican War, the Civil War, Spanish War, and World War, there are many devoted to the more peaceful American merchant marine. There are splended prints showing in all their glory such makers of maritime history as the Rainbow, the first of the clippers, and those other great

More Witnesses Called by Jury In Party Death

CORNICANA, April 17 (AP)—The Navarro county grand jury called more witnesses today in its investigation of the slaying of Noble (Curley) Hataway, radio entertainer who was shot in his apartment Wednesday morning after a night club party.

Mrs. Aila Mae Kent, wife of a prominent Cornicana oil man, was at liberty under $7,500 bond on charges of murder. She refused to make a statement and the investigators had not indicated whether she would be called to testify.

Witnesses said Hataway was shot when he and Mrs. Kent were scuffling for possession of a pistol. Reports said that a short time previous the couple "had words" at a night club.

Charges Filed
Charges of driving while intoxicated were filed yesterday against Buck Harrel, Justice of the Peace E. F. Young set bond at $1,250. The charge read that "on or about April 12 the county of Gray, Buck Harrel unlawfully drove and operated an automobile upon a public road in Gray county when he, the said Buck Harrel, was then and there intoxicated." The complaint was signed by A. B. Johnson, city traffic officer, who arrested Harrel after an eight mile chase.

Fire Extinguished
Excellent work by the fire fighters at the Portland Gasoline company this morning probably saved the plant from serious damage when fire broke out in the pump house. The company firemen used three 40-gallon foamites and extinguished the blaze before the Pampa fire department truck arrived. Fire Chief Gold praised the men for their excellent work.

Deadline May 4
The deadline for filing application to take examination for government positions as senior stenographer, junior stenographer, senior typist and junior typist is May 4. All applications must be in Washington by that date. Applicants from this section will take the examination in Amarillo on a date to be set.

Wendel Bail Is Fixed at $2,000

TRENTON, N. J., April 17 (AP)—Mercer County Judge James S. Turp set $2,000 bail today for the release of Paul H. Wendel to permit him to go to Brooklyn, N. Y., where his abduction is under investigation.

Wendel, who earlier today was formally cleared of murder charges in the kidnaping of Charles A. Lindbergh Jr., remained in Mercer county jail while his attorney prepared to obtain bail.

Brooklyn and New Jersey authorities will go to Flemington this afternoon where they will apply for bail in kidnaping charges preferred by Mrs. Anna Hauptmann in Hunterdon county.

Visitors to the Texas Centennial Exposition opening in Dallas June 6 will be able to ride on reproductions of famous Mississippi steam boats which will be used on one of the lagoons.

International Sunday School Lesson

General Topic:—God, the Forgiving Father. Scripture Lesson:—Luke 15:11-24. Time, A. D. 30; place, Perea.

11. And he said, A certain man had two sons: 12. And the younger of them said to his father, Father, give me the portion of goods that fall to me. And he divided unto them his living.

13. And not many days after the younger son gathered all together, and took his journey into a far country, and there wasted his substance in riotous living.

14. And when he had spent all, there arose a mighty famine in that land; and he began to be in want.

15. And he went and joined himself to a citizen of that country; and he sent him into his fields to feed swine.

16. And he would fain have filled his belly with the husks that the swine did eat: and no man gave unto him.

17. And when he came to himself, he said, How many hired servants of my father have bread enough and to spare, and I perish with hunger!

18. I will arise and go to my father, and will say unto him, Father, I have sinned against heaven, and before thee.

19. And am no more worthy to be called thy son: make me as one of thy hired servants.

COTTON BESET WITH TWO MAJOR UNCERTAINTIES, SAYS DR. COX

AUSTIN, April 17.—Cotton is now beset with two major uncertainties, Dr. A. B. Cox, director of the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research, said in his latest survey of the cotton industry.

"The most immediate and pressing one is the indigestion of the Government relative to disposing of the 4,500,000 bales it contains through the 12-cent loan and the few hundred thousand bales in the Producers' pool."

"The second uncertainty is the new farm program which has not yet been announced. 'The unfortunate thing about the first of the uncertainties is there is a very tight spot cotton situation because of the very small supply of American cotton outside government hands.'

"The new cotton program under soil conservation will be radically different in purpose if carried out according to purposes stated in the law from the dead Agricultural Adjustment administration because of an amendment added in the House to make parity income the goal of farm relief instead of parity price as the administration had interpreted to AAA. A determined attempt to reach parity income with 1929-1934 will certainly demonstrate the fallacies of the old AAA scarcity program to get parity price. Essentially, parity income can be nothing short of parity price times parity production."

Marvin Hill, 28, tried to hold up a Chicago tavern with a toy pistol and was fatally shot by a patron armed with a real gun.

The PEOPLES COLUMN

Editor, THE NEWS: Since I saw you in November, I joined the Navy and am stationed in the Naval Training station in San Diego, the largest in the world. I spend most of my liberty every week-end to be exact at the California Pacific International Exposition and thought the folks at home might like to know about it.

The Expo is set in Balboa park, which contains several hundred acres so there is plenty of room for beauty. The planting is mostly tropical palms and cactuses trees look especially beautiful when the colored lights play on them at night. There are literally millions of pantries. In fact if they were put in one bed rather than putting in the walks they would extend 400 feet wide and one mile long.

I will surely be pleased to see some Pampa folks enjoy this too. Richard Lonnie Cash.

CAGE STAR DROWNS

STARBUCK, Miss., April 17 (AP)—Authorities investigated today the drowning of Willie B. Barkley, 22, star basketball player of Cottonport, Miss., during an initiation ceremony at Mississippi State college here. Ben Hilburn, a member of the faculty, said Barkley sank in the waters of the horticultural pond last night after he and about 20 others had been ordered to swim across as part of their initiation into the Future Farmers of America.

ATTENTION BROADWAY

TAHLEQUAH, Okla.—Fred Reynolds of Sand Springs, assigned the part of a convict in a high school play, spent a night in jail to acquire atmosphere and mood. It turned the trick. With Reynolds in the role of Jean Valjean, Sand Springs entered Victor Hugo's "The Bishop of Candes" in a scholastic contest. Fresh out of jail, "Jean" was adjudged the best actor in the competition.

WTCC PLAN TO PARTICIPATE IN FRONTIER CENTENNIAL OUTLINED

SAMFORD, April 17 (AP)—A four-point plan for all West Texas participation in Fort Worth's Frontier Centennial celebration opening July 1 was announced today by the West Texas chamber of commerce, sponsoring agency.

To carry the plan directly to the 200 affiliated towns, the WTCC has appointed to its staff by seven doing the following jobs: Jed Rix, D. A. Granberry, J. H. Green and E. I. Drechsel will make contracts for two motion pictures to be exhibited at the frontier celebration on a continuous schedule. They will contract with the towns on three classes of panels to form a part of the all-West Texas district exhibit. They will offer free literature including four-color lithograph folder covers and four-color stamps, and they will arrange for the towns to have their own special days at the show. Granberry and Greene are chamber of commerce secretaries from Spur and Colorado and have been given leave of absence. Rix is assistant WTCC manager. Drechsel was assigned by the Frontier Celebration Control board.

Two movie cameramen, A. L. Osborn of Abilene and W. L. Daniels of Lubbock, will take the town pictures in one, two, three and four reels, according to the contracts made. The pictures will be taken to Abilene or Lubbock for editing and titling by Max Bentley and Charles A. Guy, newspapermen, and T. N. Carwell and B. Davis, chamber of commerce managers. These four are donating their services. Eleventh member of the WTCC's expanded staff is W. T. Strange, Jr., architect and Big Spring chamber of commerce manager. He is drawing sketches of the proposed West Texas exhibits building for submission to the Post-Worlds control board. Contract for the building probably will be let within two weeks. It will include a motion picture theatre to be manned by the West Texas chamber, which also, for a stipulated price, will take the picture, develop, print, and edit and title it.

Athletic control at the University of California is vested in a student council instead of an athletic director, as at many schools.

Texas Building Shrine to Anson Jones at Dallas

DALLAS, April 17. (AP)—Texas is building a permanent shrine to the memory of Anson Jones—in youth a gloomy store clerk in a New York town, fourth president of the Republic of Texas in maturity, and a suicide when the republic became a state in the federal union.

The young man, whose greatest ambition was to be a doctor, became one of the brilliant and tragic figures in the history of Texas. He will celebrate at a $25,000,000 world's fair here June 6 through November 29.

A likeness of Jones will appear in the Hall of Heroes in the $1,200,000 Texas Hall of State along with those of Sam Houston and Stephen F. Austin, a permanent memorial to the men who realized Texas' freedom in 1836.

Jones was 29 when he went to Utica, N. Y., to clerk in his brother's general store after two years of teaching school. He read medicine by candle light when store chores were done and after two years of plodding was granted a license to practice medicine. Subsequently he managed to go through Jefferson Medical college at Philadelphia but when he arrived in Texas in 1826, $17 in cash and about $50 worth of medicines were his only possessions.

At the Battle of San Jacinto he was both surgeon and soldier. During the republic he was Brazoria county's representative in congress, minister to Washington, two terms senator, secretary of state, and finally president.

He opposed bitterly the union of Texas with the United States and soon after the ceremony, February 16, 1846, in which the Stars and Stripes replaced the Lone Star flag, he took his life.

State Tries to Prove Title to Famed Painting

AUSTIN, April 17. (AP)—Employees of the State Historical commission today searched for records to establish the state's title to the historical painting, "The Surrender of Santa Anna," after appearance of a reproduction of an almost identical exhibit carrying the copyright of a Houston resident.

The painting installed in the entrance to the capitol, is regarded as among the best in the state collection. It portrays Santa Anna, "The Napoleon of the West," surrendering to General Sam Houston. The Texas leader is shown lying on a pallet under a tree with a surgeon dressing a wound and is surrounded by famous Texans who participated in the decisive conflict.

Officials were unable to determine origin of the second painting. Fannie M. Wilcox, state librarian, said it might be a photographed reproduction of the state's painting that had been copyrighted. She was inclined to believe the state's painting was the original. Miss Wilcox said she knew at least one copy had been made from it.

The only difference appeared to involve the Texas battle flag. In the state's painting the flag is shown to be a blue star on a white background. The flag does not appear in the other exhibit.

Records of the archives showed the legislature appropriated $4,000 in 1891 to purchase the painting from W. H. Huddle. A history attached to the painting showed it was delivered to the state in 1901. Mrs. W. H. Huddle, widow of the painter, is an art teacher at a state institution and could not be reached for comment.

More than half a million persons visit Charleston, S. C., via automobile each year, according to highway statistics.

DUMPING TRASH IS RESTRICTED

It is rather generally known that trash cannot be dumped along main highways. The law is not so well known as it applies to other public highways. Violations are apparent as one drives along county roads.

Here are the laws involved:

Senate bill No. 103, Chap. 53:

Section 1. That no municipal corporation, private corporation, partnership, joint stock association, syndicate, voluntary association or person shall use or maintain any dumping ground or dump any trash, refuse, debris, or dead animals or permit the same to remain within or nearer than three hundred yards of any public highway of the State of Texas; that no person, firm or corporation, as above named, shall dump or deposit any rubbish, trash, refuse, debris or dead animals within or nearer than three hundred yards of any public highway whether said land belongs to such person, firm or corporation or not; provided, however, that the provisions of this Act shall not affect farmers in the handling of anything necessary in the growing, handling and care of livestock, or the erection, operation and maintenance of any and all such improvements that may be necessary in the handling, thrashing and preparation of any and all agricultural products.

Section 2. Any violation of this Act by any person, firm or private corporation shall subject the offender to a fine of not less than ten dollars nor more than two hundred dollars, and each day of any such violation shall be a separate offense. In event of any threatened or probable violation of this Act by any public corporation, municipality, city, town or village an injunction suit may be brought to prevent any such threatened or probable violation by any county or district attorney, or by any private individual affected or to be affected by any such threatened or probable violation. The enforcement of the remedy by injunction as herein provided shall not prevent the enforcement of the other penalties provided in this Act.

In beautifying towns and homes this Centennial year, West Texans are thinking of the future as well as the present. A letter from Mrs. L. A. Webb of Amarillo, chairman of beautification for the Upper Panhandle, carries the following general suggestions to women's clubs:

"Get all organizations in your city to do a piece of work, letting them provide funds for it in their own way. "Try to get farmers' wives to plant the heavenly blue morning glory along fences. It, unlike the common variety, will not get beyond control. The jack bean and honey suckle could be used to advantage for screening unsightly outhouses on farms.

"To the Chinese elms, add the honey locust, flowering willow, and Russian mulberry. If there should be an elm blight, then we would be without trees until others could grow, and that means a lifetime in the Panhandle almost.

"Plant annuals like petunias, four o'clocks, zinnias, and asters that will bloom in mid-season and on until frost. Plant where some will be seen from the street, for Centennial visitors will not enter many backyards.

"Insist that filling stations remove the snipe signs from their fronts and beautify their grounds—the latter will attract tourist business.

"Do all you can to find some trail or spot of sufficient historic interest to mark. There are 300 2-ton granite markers to be placed by the State at spots definitely known to be historic, but we ourselves must hunt them out."

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON.—The majority and minority opinions of the U. S. Supreme Court in the case of the Securities and Exchange Commission and J. Edward Jones were really very spectacular in their implications.

Search the court's history and you'll find no instance where so many observers felt the court had gone leaning over so many fences to enter a field which had nothing to do with the case before it.

Lawyers and laymen here, friends and enemies of the New Deal alike, think the conservative six-man majority deliberately took the occasion to bowl out by inference Senator Black's lobby committee, which has been on the pan for peering at people's telegrams. It referred to "unlawful searches and seizures," "a roving, inquisitorial investigation," and so on.

The court majority's departure from custom in going so far afield is considered by many to be so unusual as to be amazing. Scarcely less astonishing is the opinion of Justice Cardozo, dissenting with Brandeis and Stone, which accuses the majority of giving "immunity to guilt," encouraging "falsehood and evasion," and "inviting the cunning and unscrupulous to gamble with detection."

The fact that the Securities and Exchange Commission, which had refused to allow Jones to withdraw a registration statement, was object of the majority's lashing charges of arbitrary and unreasonable abuse of power has its amusing as well as its unusual aspects. Heretofore the only charge directed against SEC has been that it had neglected to use its powers, was much too lenient, and favored promoters as against investors by failing to insist on full truth in registration statements.

Wall Street applauded the work of Joe Kennedy as SEC chairman and warmly greeted appointment of his successor, Jim Landis. That's one reason for the common belief here that the court was just letting off steam.

The bitter split between conservative and liberal justices only becomes more intense. Strong fundamental differences of opinion, repeatedly expressed and with increasing acidity, probably do the court's prestige no good.

AAA checks totaling somewhat less than $5000 were sent to one Allan H. Hoover, San Francisco, for a reduction of sugar production.

AAA employees say the recipient was the son of former President Hoover. It is also reported, thus far without official substantiation, that Herbert Hoover himself is interested in a farming corporation which received beet sugar and wheat benefit checks.

"This isn't a good year in which to fight" is the explanation you get for the administration's failure to date to insist on some processing taxes for farm products in the new tax bill. Roosevelt asked for such taxes, at lower than previous rates, but a subcommittee of the House Ways and Means Committee threw them overboard.

The chief factor in the abandonment is the extreme unpopularity of processing taxes among city consumers in many areas.

SITUATION IS NOT HOPELESS CLAIM CHIEFS

ITALIAN BOMBERS FLY OVER CAPITAL OF ETHIOPIA

(Copyright, 1936, By The Associated Press) ADDIS ABABA, April 17.—Tribal chiefs and cabinet ministers of Ethiopia met in a secret session at the imperial palace today as government officials conceded that the situation on the northern front was critical.

Foreign Minister Bellatun Guebra Herouy, acting head of the government in the absence of Emperor Haile Selassie, summoned the leaders of the beleaguered nation to the meeting.

Government officials said the situation was serious, in view of advances by the invading Italian armies, but insisted that it was not yet hopeless.

"The government today is more active than ever," one high official told the Associated Press.

The exact location of the general Ethiopian headquarters on the northern front was not disclosed, but Emperor Haile Selassie was known to be in communication with Addis Ababa.

Two Italian bombers flew over the capital during the day and dropped a number of rockets which the populace at first feared were gas bombs.

The planes departed after a half-hour reconnaissance flight, however, dropping no bombs.

The government claimed it holds the upper hand in the Oboon and Ogaden provinces on the southern front.

The emperor's troops are making efforts to stem the Italian advance in the north, and believe they can halt the Italian drive successfully by taking advantage of natural barriers south of Dessay.

The government pointed out also the disadvantages to the invaders of operating during the rainy season.

The reported use of gas by the Italians increased the resentment of the people and made defense more difficult, almost impossible, the government claimed.

CAPITOL CHATTER

BY CHARLES E. SIMONS

AUSTIN, April 17. (AP)—Comment on the case of J. Frank Dobie, University of Texas professor who worked out a $2 fine for a traffic law violation, was varied.

His wife said that, having sworn he would go to jail rather than pay the fine, he would "have to go through with it," and maybe he wouldn't do so much talking next time.

Some attaches of the Centennial historical advisory board with whom Dobie, a member, sharply disagreed over the merits of sundry heroes were deeply interested in the duration of Dobie's incarceration.

Ocie Speer, former member of the Supreme Court commission of appeals and also formerly a civil appeals court judge, was delighted at the appointment of his younger brother, John Speer, to the bench of the Fort Worth Court of Civil Appeals.

The appointment was by Gov. James V. Allred to fill the place caused by the death of Judge P. A. Martin.

"I remember well when John was making $40 a month as a dry goods store clerk in El Paso," the elder Speer said, "and decided he wanted to be a lawyer. So he studied law in my office and when I was appointed to the Court of Civil Appeals I gave him my law library. Now I may have the opportunity of appearing in cases before him."

A California war veteran, asking Gov. Allred's aid in locating a Dixie woman as a wife, propounded questions any candidate would have to answer.

They included: Are you single, divorced or a widow, and, if divorced, was your divorce a biblical one? What church do you belong to? Do you believe in baptism by immersion? Do you dip snuff, smoke, drink or participate in wild parties? How long would you have to know or correspond before marrying? Would you come to California and would you object to a public wedding? What disposition do you have, do you dance? Would you marry a widower with two children and would you be a real mother to the children? How much paint and lipstick do you use?

Apparently the veteran found the person who could qualify, for after his letter had been publicized he thanked the governor for helping him find "the most beautiful woman in the world."

DOUBLE ACTION MOUNDVILLE, W. Va.—Lloyd Sines owes his freedom to the man who sent him to prison. Judge H. C. Kump in 1930 sentenced Sines to 16 years for slaying his brother-in-law, Gov. H. G. Kump, in 1930. Sines signed the order for Sines' parole.

JUDGES DIES PLAINVIEW, April 17. (AP)—R. S. Joiner, 72, judge of the 64th judicial district, died here early today of pneumonia.

Attempts are being made to organize a state association of caddis masters in California.

Chapter XIX

Toby fought back the hateful, the outrageous thought. There was no reason, she told herself, to connect Carol Marsh with Tim's sudden change of mood. Why he scarcely knew Carol. He'd made that plain when Toby had spoken of her long before. Why should she imagine now that it was because Tim had seen Carol and her friends that he was in such a hurry to leave the Seville Club? It was ridiculous. It couldn't be true—

She waited silently while Tim got into his coat. Silently she went ahead of him out to the street. It had been raining and there were little puddles on the sidewalk. The cold, damp air struck her cheeks; it was refreshing.

"Listen, Gorgeous—" Tim was beside her, smiling down at her. "How'd you like to go to Alfredo's—you know, where we went the first night we had dinner together? I'd like some place that isn't as big as a circus tent. Where I can have you to myself. I don't want every man in sight staring at you."

"Oh, Tim, they're why?"

"Weren't they? Maybe you didn't notice it, but I did. It got on my nerves."

"Tim—was that the reason you wanted to leave? Really?"

He was completely good-natured now. "Well," he said, "when a fellow takes a girl out he wants to be able to look at her himself, doesn't he? He doesn't want every other fellow within a mile looking at her as though he couldn't take his eyes away. I thought I'd better get out before I got into a row."

The idea of Tim being drawn into a fight because of her was horrifying to Toby, but with it came a surge of relief. It hadn't been because of Carol Marsh that Tim wanted to leave the Seville Club? Carol hadn't had anything to do with it. It was because of Toby herself—because Tim was so devoted to her, "wanted her to himself," he said.

She raised shining eyes. "I didn't know anyone was staring at me," she said, "but, oh, Tim, I'm glad we came away."

"So'm I. Now, how about Alfredo's?"

"Let's go there. I'd rather go there than any place I know."

So they went to Alfredo's, and sitting at one of the softly lighted tables, dancing to the same music they had danced to before, Toby felt again the magic of that earlier evening. She forgot Carol Marsh; forgot that, even for a moment, she had known the sharp pains of doubt.

Toby said little. It was enough to look up and see Tim beside her, to catch his smile and smile back at him. She thought he looked especially handsome tonight. Though, of course, Tim was always handsome. She listened to everything he said and made suitable answers, but when he was not speaking she seemed to be in a world apart—a world of happiness and beauty and music that went on and on without ending.

Alfredo paused at their table and Tim assured him that everything was as it should be. Toby's heart echoed the words. Oh, yes, indeed. Everything was as it should be. Everything in the whole world!

It was not until they were on their way home that anything happened to change her mood. Then it came very suddenly.

Tim said, "By the way, I won't be seeing you for a day or so. Friend of mine has asked me to drive down to Maryland with him."

He hadn't said, but now he told her. "Early in the morning. I won't see you because you'll be asleep."

"Not for a few days. I'll give you a ring as soon as I get back." She put a hand on his arm. "Oh, Tim, I will miss you!"

"And I'll miss you, Gorgeous. But it's only a few days. Now I'd better be getting along. Go to get up early, you know."

"Tim, take care of yourself."

He laughed. "Of course I will."

"But something might happen."

Her face was serious. "You'll be driving and sometimes there are accidents. Terrible things happen. Oh, you must be careful!"

"Listen, Gorgeous. I'm going to be all right! Now you run along and get your beauty sleep and stop worrying about me. Will you do that?"

"Yes, if you'll promise—"

"All right. I'll promise you I won't be in any accidents. Does that satisfy you?"

He took her in his arms then and kissed her, and for a moment she clung to him. Toby said, "Oh, Tim—" and then smiled brightly. "Oh, you nothing's going to happen. I know you'll come back—soon."

"That's the girl. Good night, Gorgeous."

"Good night, Tim."

After all, it was only for a few days. Tim reminded herself of this several times the following day. She told herself she had been going out too much anyhow, and a rest would be good for her. Besides, there were things that she could do—sewing and mending and the reading she'd been intending to get at and hadn't. But when she started a task she soon found herself doing something else. She was restless, unable to place is it, Tim—where you're going?"

"Down on the Eastern Shore. Just an old home that has been in this fellow's family for years and years. Near some little town—I forget the name of it. He's got some horses there, too. May get to do some riding."

"That will be fine." Toby said it as much to convince herself as Tim. "How long will you be gone?"

"Oh, just a few days." He looked down at her, smiling. "Think you'll miss me?"

"I—might."

"So that's all you've got to say, is it? You might! That's how I stand with you—"

She loved having him rail at her like this. She said, "Well, I expect it will be sort of lonely."

"That's better! Though, I doubt if you mean it. You'll be stepping out with some other fellow—"

"Tim, you know I won't!"

"I know your tricks, young woman. You're not putting a thing over on me—"

It ended with both of them treating it as a joke, which made it easier for Toby. It was so much better not to be serious, not to show how she really felt. At the entrance of the apartment she asked, "When did you say you were leaving, Tim?"

He hadn't said, but now he told her. "Early in the morning. I won't see you because you'll be asleep."

"Not for a few days. I'll give you a ring as soon as I get back." She put a hand on his arm. "Oh, Tim, I will miss you!"

"And I'll miss you, Gorgeous. But it's only a few days. Now I'd better be getting along. Go to get up early, you know."

"Tim, take care of yourself."

Her face was serious. "You'll be driving and sometimes there are accidents. Terrible things happen. Oh, you must be careful!"

"Listen, Gorgeous. I'm going to be all right! Now you run along and get your beauty sleep and stop worrying about me. Will you do that?"

settle down to anything. It was surely perverse fate that for the first time in weeks she had very little work. She didn't feel like going out and calling at studios where she wasn't known. She had a list from the Models' League and there were several on it that she hadn't visited, but she hated to be away from the apartment. She thought possibly some word might come from Tim.

He hadn't said anything about calling her over long distance, but still Toby thought he might. Not that there was any reason for it. Just to assure her that he was all right and would be home soon. Harriet's fiance, Clyde Sablin, often called her when he was out of town.

Part of the time Toby argued with herself that she was sure to hear from Tim. At other times she made excuses for him. Why should he write or call when he was only to be gone a few days? He hadn't been definite about it. She didn't know if "a few days" meant two or three or even four. Surely it couldn't be more than that!

The first day dragged to a close and the second went even more slowly. Harriet, coming in late in the afternoon, saw Toby curled up on the divan, a discarded magazine at her feet.

Harriet knew that Tim was away, though Toby hadn't told her where he'd gone. She thought Harriet might be inclined to criticize if she knew Harriet seemed to think Tim should have a job.

"Hello," Harriet said, taking off her hat and tossing it on a chair. "What's new?"

"Nothing."

"Anyone call me while I was away?"

IL DUCE SEES SUBJUGATION OF ETHIOPIA

PEACE TERMS MAY BE MADE AT CAMP OF GENERAL

BY GEORGE C. JORDAN

ROME, April 17. (AP)—The Italian high command, sources close to the government disclosed today, intended to proceed resolutely to taking Addis Ababa and smashing Haile Selassie's empire, prepared to face any international consequences.

Fascists rejoice at reports that their East African armies were at last "actually on the road" to Addis Ababa, while warning Great Britain not to "provoke Italy" too far.

Persistent reports circulated in well-informed quarters that Gen. Ro'olfo Graziani's southern army had launched a movement on Harar, second city of Ethiopia, accompanied by a daring drive by Marshal Pietro Badoglio's northern forces on the capital.

Military sources said all signs pointed toward a transfer of peace negotiations from Geneva, where Italy was eyeing Britain on the eve of its anticipated final triumph, to the field headquarters of Marshal Badoglio, Fascist commander-in-chief.

Reliable sources asserted drafts of an Italian plan for ruling a conquered Ethiopia already were being studied by the Ministry of Colonies, to dispossess the present dynasty and formally establish Italian dominion over the last unconquered African empire.

The Fascist high command, sources close to the government said, believed capture of Addis Ababa would force Britain to disclose that British rather than League of Nations principles, were behind its opposition to the Italian campaign.

Premier Mussolini's government, these sources indicated, would carry on firmly, nevertheless, despite the outcome of the deliberations of the league's conciliation committee of 13, and the possible undertakings of the sanctions committee of 18.

"No," said Harriet, "I've got news for you. I stopped in at the League office to get that check they've been holding for me."

Toby wasn't much interested, but she waited for Harriet to go on.

"Well—"

"Well, I thought you might like to know that you won't have to worry about your friend, Carol Marsh, for a while. Betty Turnbull was there, talking to Sally and I heard her say that Carol's out of town. She's gone to a house-party in Maryland."

Plainview Boys To Auction Fat Animals Today

KANSAS CITY, April 17. (AP)—Twenty four young Texas cattlemen from the Plainview area today were participating large checks for their work on the range.

They will auction 140 head of fat calves and 100 head of sheep at the Kansas City stock yards as part of their training under W. W. Evans, Hale county farm agent.

The youths spent most of yesterday grooming their animals for the auction this morning under auspices of the stockyards and of the Kansas City Livestock Exchange. Many of the young Texas calves and sheep were prize winners in a recent fat stock show at Plainview.

The boys spent most of yesterday at the stockyards, but found some time to inspect packing plants and last night most of them went to picture shows.

After the auction, the boys and their sponsors, including Evans, J. D. Worley, assistant farm agent and business men, will be luncheon guests of Wilson and company. They will tour the city in the afternoon and at night be dinner guests of the Livestock Exchange and Stockyards company.

Tomorrow night, they will be guests at the Sportsmen's Exposition and Horse show.

Two hundred new stalls will be built at Tanforan racetrack, near San Francisco.

TEXAS IS STILL THE LAND OF MYSTERY, THE LAST FRONTIER

EAGLE PASS, April 17 (AP)—Texas, with a century of history and progress as an independent republic, unit of the Confederacy and member of the federal union, still is the land of mystery, the last frontier.

An almost unpopulated wilderness of mesquite and cactus stretching 102 miles along the Rio Grande between here and Laredo, typifies those elements in the state's geographic and visual medley. Known as the "Indio country," it is a land where bad men hide, smugglers cache their contraband, where rustlers cross the famous river with stolen herds, where coyotes travel in packs and mountain lions awake the night echoes with their screams.

It is a region almost unknown to men of the cities and remote from the tourists who travel the state's fine highways, yet King Philip of Spain granted the area to Antonio Rivas Cache in the sixteenth century. Today, a portion of it is the site of a lonely ranch with barb-wire boundaries reaching many miles to the east and south and fence riders patrol 40 miles of river front.

Antonio Rivas did not trouble to survey the king's largest but accepted it as a mighty place. In the nineteenth century, however, the ranch was defined as an area of 10,448,867 varas, or the equivalent of 150,000 acres, the largest in this region.

At the outbreak of the war with Mexico in 1848, Gen. Zachary Taylor sent Gen. William Duncan and a troop of soldiers through this uncharted wilderness to establish Fort Duncan here. So remote were they from the main line of communication that they were compelled to build what Jake English, an old settler here, says was the first telegraph line in Texas.

The wire was strung on tall pine poles along the muddy Rio Grande from the outpost here to Fort McIntosh at Laredo. The poles were more than 40 feet high "to keep Indians from flinging their lariats over the wire and pulling it down." Col. Bulls and his Seminole Indian scouts, known as "black nigger scouts," had the difficult job of patrolling the telegraph line.

Jake English and Celso Reyes, another old settler, recall the early day use of the line and point out remaining stumps of the big poles. Gen. Robert E. Lee and Jefferson Davis are reputed to have sent messages over this frontier telegraph line.

Famous roads traveled by freight caravans from Texas into Mexico when the two recognized one allegiance may still be traced through the Indio wilderness. One was the notorious Royal King's highway broken out in 1824. It led from Powder Horn on the Gulf to the mission at Goliad, thence to a crossing on the Nueces river two miles above the present town of Cotulla.

From the Nueces it wound past the Loma de Dinero, where a cart of gold, legend says, was buried by besieged pioneers adjacent to the present-day town of Asherton. The road continued from that point to "King's Crossing" on the Rio Grande thence to the mission village of San Juan Bautista, later Presidio Rio Grande and today known as Guerrero, Coahuila.

When called Presidio, the town was famous as the headquarters of Gen. Pedro Winkler and Col. Jose Martinez, who from 1868 to 1873, employed their renegade army to rustle cattle from Texas ranches. Life was held cheaply and the law was the quickest draw.

ABOUT NEW YORK

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—As frequently noted, native New Yorkers are greatly in the minority in this town. Sometimes it is possible to live here for years without actually meeting one.

Owen Orr did better. He only had to wait six months. "When he ambled into the office with those canary-colored spats, that pearl-gray derby, and that cane," Orr recalls, "I knew that at last I was beholding a full-fledged New Yorker."

"He became a frequent caller at our office and after my awe of his statorial elegance wore off I actually got up the courage to speak to him. That broke the ice, and after that we became friends. He was certainly a natty dresser. He had a different pair of spats for every day in the week.

"One day while we were chewing the fat, chatting of this and that, he told me that he was tired of New York—that he needed a vacation. That he was going back home. 'Home?' I ejaculated. 'Aren't you from New York?'"

"That made him laugh and he said, 'Naw, I'm from Cameron, Ma. Didn't you know?'"

"Then that made me laugh because I'm from St. Joseph, Mo., myself and Cameron is just a few miles down the track. He had a lot of fun talking about Missouri and how the hogs used to wallow in the streets."

"Listen," I said, "now that we're friends there's something I want to ask you."

"Go right ahead."

"You won't get sore."

"Certainly not—what's on your mind?"

"Well, then—are you going to wear all those fancy clothes back to Cameron—I mean those spats, that derby, that cane?"

"I should say NOT!" he cried, aghast. "They'd lynch me! As a matter of fact, I'm going down and ask for a round haircut."

This Bock beer has a wallop in the 47th street police station the other day an addled fellow staggered in, with the assistance of a cop, and explained everything to the judge.

"I wasn't making any disturbance," I wasn't. It was like this. I was standing at the bar having a few beakers of beer when, all of a sudden, I saw a rabbit bobbing around the floor.

"Well, I thought I'd catch the rabbit, but every time I lunged it would hop out of reach, and could I help it if I accidentally knocked over a few tables and chairs? Rabbits make you do all sorts of things."

"Wait a minute!" snarled the cop. "What do you mean, rabbit? You're crazy."

Then the magistrate got busy. "Explain this, officer. Wasn't there a rabbit?"

"Judges," hiccupped the Bocked one. "I was coming to that. There really was a rabbit at first, but when I finally trapped it, it turned out to be my derby hat."

The surging crowds on the biggest midway of them all—Times Square—want to be thrilled, and take their fun where they find it. A doughnut making machine, inside the front window of a lunch room, always has its quota of admirers. Pedestrians come to an abrupt halt and watch open-mouthed while the dough is automatically cut, doused in scalding grease, browned on the spot, and floated to the end of a chute.

Salt Lake City, Utah, has spent $3,712 to renew 26-year-old locks in its jail.

Texas' grocery bill for feeding 19,000 inmates of its public institutions was more than $1,000,000 the last fiscal year.

which probably sank into ruins shortly after the coming of the Spanish conquistadors in the 16th century, research workers discovered hundreds of vividly painted murals.

These paintings, depicting with all the American Indian's eye for color and feeling for form the ceremonies and customs of a forgotten age, were found on successive layers of adobe plastering which covered the inner walls of the Kuaua Kiva, or ceremonial house.

Angler's Smile

The biggest one got away, but that smile shows President Roosevelt's satisfaction with his luck during a 1200-mile fishing cruise aboard the converted coast guard cutter Potomac. He's pictured on return to Port Everglades, Fla., rested and fit.

Opening of Road To Mexico City Awaits One Link

WASHINGTON, April 17 (AP)—Constantly increasing inquiries about travel conditions on the highway between Texas and Mexico City were answered today in a form statement from the Mexican embassy.

Although the route from Laredo, to the capital is not completed and the official opening will await the construction of one unfinished link, Mexican authorities here issued the following suggestions to tourists:

Automobile travelers entering Mexico are given permission to keep their cars in the country 90 days, extensions for an equal period may be obtained upon written application to the customs house issuing the original permit.

The permit fee is $3.60, Mexican currency (about 85 cents U. S.) no bond or deposit is required, providing the motorist leaves at the customs house of entry his registration and car ownership papers, which are returned to him when he leaves the country with his automobile.

Officials said when such documentation is lacking, the owner is required to make a cash deposit or bond equal to the amount of import duties on the car.

Motorists should provide themselves with a tourist card, obtainable at any Mexican consulate for a $1 fee. No passport is required from American citizens, but a documentary proof of nationality should be carried.

97 LOANS MADE UVALDE, April 17 (AP)—Ninety-seven loans totalling $48,913 have been approved by the Resettlement administration for clients in Uvalde, Real, Edwards, and Zavala counties, C. W. Weston, rural supervisor states.

MEXICO FARMERS TO BE ARMED AND GIVEN MILITARY TRAINING

MEXICO CITY, April 17 (AP)—Formation of an army reserve to be composed of agrarian elements—the "campesinos" who form a large part of the country's population and who will be armed and given military training—was begun the week of April by the secretariat of war through a special department just established.

The organization work begins while rural districts are being constantly stirred up by clashes between rival agrarian factions, by activities of insurgents and criminal bands, and by attacks on teachers in the official schools.

Part of the duty of the reserve army, it has been announced, will be to protect rural school teachers engaged in spreading the socialistic education doctrines which alone are allowed to be taught in the country.

Instead of disappearing as it has in most of the cities, opposition to the socialistic education program has increased in rural sections the past few weeks. A number of violent incidents have occurred creating one of the most serious problems with which the government of President Lazaro Cardenas has to contend.

Most sanguinary of the disorders was a fight between townspeople and members of an official educational mission Sunday, March 29, at Ciudad Gonzales—the new name for the century old mining town of San Felipe Torres Mochas, in the state of Guanajuato—where sixteen people were killed and at least twenty wounded.

Taking into consideration the possibility of serious repercussions, President Cardenas hurried to Ciudad Gonzales from the neighboring state of Queretaro and made a personal investigation of the cause of the clash.

The result of his findings, which he announced in a speech from the altar of the town church, was that Catholics coming from mass "and urged on by the priests" had "unjustifiably" attacked the teachers with rifles, pistols, stones, and clubs.

After ordering the priests to leave within 24 hours, Cardenas gave an emphatic worded statement of the purposes of the government's socialistic education program, which Catholics oppose on the grounds that it "teaches atheism."

"It is a lie," the president said, "that socialistic education seeks the dissolution of homes and a lie that it perverts children and takes them from their parents. Socialistic education prepares the child so that he will know how, as a man, to fulfill with a fraternal spirit of solidarity his duties toward his class comrades."

Referring to the army reserve and to the arming of peasants, Cardenas said: "We are putting arms into the hands of the masses so they can defend the patrimony which the revolution is giving to them. Acts such as just occurred in this town are the best justification of the policy of the government."

He instructed peasants to count on the army for defense of their class interests and said the army and the reserve would protect school teachers "who are instructing the masses in the fulfillment of their duties without harming in any way their religious beliefs."

The new army reserve, Cardenas has stated, also will be called on to play an important civil role. It will supervise elections and see that "elements favorable to the campesinos" are chosen to municipal offices in order to help the agrarians "to obtain their rights."

In addition, the organization will undertake the task of educating agrarians, a majority of whom are now illiterate and many do not speak or understand more than a few words of Spanish. In general, the army reserve is primarily intended to serve as a rural police force and to work for the organization and education of agrarians. At present there is no thought that the reserve will neces-

Crows in Bell County Start Flight North

TEMPLE, April 17 (AP)—Hundreds of thousands of crows which have started their annual flight northward.

The black scourge which darkens rarely be used for national defense or to supplant the work of the regular army, although such a possibility is not discounted and for that reason the members of the reserve will be given a thorough military training.

the skies of Central Texas at planting time will return next fall after harvest time to clean up the fields and again establish winter headquarters.

Every known device for "scare-crows" has been used by farmers in this area but a moving object, such as a revolving piece of shiny tin, or cloth suspended from a string across the field, seems to have the best results.

A night "crow hunt" in which nearly 200 men enlisted was organized in 1934, but one hunter, either excited or over enthusiastic, fired prematurely into the rookery and the roar of flapping wings which followed threw the party into disorganization, making it both dangerous and ineffective to fire into the nest. Other attempts at organizing a "crow army" have been unsuccessful.
